TWENTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE

REGULAR SESSION OF 2008

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

FIRST DAY

Wednesday, January 16, 2008

In accordance with the provisions of Section 10, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the House of Representatives of the Legislature of the State of Hawaii, convened in Regular Session of 2008, with the Clerk announcing:

"In 1908, one year after legislation was signed into law establishing a State institution of higher learning, five freshman, five prep students, and thirteen faculty members began regular classes in quarters near Thomas Square.

"One hundred years later, the University of Hawaii is the home of the most diverse student body in the nation, with students striving for excellence in the classroom and in their extracurricular pursuits; and students who are tomorrow's leaders, as evidence by the 37 House Members on the Floor today who are UH alumni, including the Speaker of the House.

"The University of Hawaii is the home of dedicated faculty, lectures and researchers who persevere in efforts to provide students on campuses and community colleges statewide, a more challenging curriculum, which promotes innovation and lifelong learning.

"The University of Hawaii is the home of visionary and forthright leaders and administrators and hardworking staff.

"And finally, the University of Hawaii is home to the some of the most talented, inspiring, beloved student athletes and nationally recognized coaches.

"It is an honor of the Hawaii House of Representatives to celebrate the 100th Centennial anniversary of the University of Hawaii."

The Honorable Calvin K.Y. Say, Speaker of the House of Representatives, then called the House to order at 10:00 o'clock a.m.

The members of the House, guests, and audience rose for the presentation of our Nation's and our State's Colors by the University of Hawaii at Manoa Army and Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps.

Singing of The National Anthem and Hawaii Pono'i was led by the University of Hawaii Chamber Singers, followed by the recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance led by Ms. Christina Stidman, President of the Associated Students of the University of Hawaii, and Mr. Marc Le Pape, President of the Graduate Student Organization.

Mr. Aaron Sala, Ethnomusicology Masters Graduate Student
Ms. Candace Gentry
UH Tahitian Ensemble
UH Hawaiian Chorus, with Conductor Nola Nahulu

The House of Representatives reconvened at 11:17 o'clock a.m.

At this time the Speaker delivered his Opening Day address, stating:

"Mahalo to Mr. Aaron Sala and Ms. Candace Gentry. Mahalo UH Tahitian Ensemble. And mahalo UH Hawaiian Chorus. Thank you all for that electrifying performance.

"Honored guests, Members, ladies and gentlemen, aloha and welcome. The 2008 Session of the Hawaii State Legislature convenes today.

"This morning, I speak to you as just one of the fifty-one members of this legislative body – a father of two sons who represents a district where people continue a mounting struggle with the cost of living. As I listen to these people, I realize how truly they share a deep concern for the future of our great state. We must recognize their thirst for change.

"In a little over ten months, we will face the voters, the people of our districts who have given us their trust. Also we may see the election of the first woman to hold the nation's highest office. And we may also witness the day when a native son of Hawaii is chosen as a leader of the free world. This is not because things are changing, but because we are changing. Imagine a woman who breaks through the "glass ceiling" to take a seat in the Oval Office. On November 4th, we could break that barrier. Imagine a man of color winning a state with under three-percent black population. Two weeks ago, we broke that barrier.

"These events remind us of a hard truth: the forces of change will overwhelm the status quo. The way things are is not the way they will be. You may be surprised to hear me say that because I have sometimes been accused of representing the "old boy's club." People who know me say that, "you really don't." I believe in my heart and with my whole being we can make Hawaii a better place. And to do that, we must embrace change, not as a political slogan, but as a way of life.

"That's why today, I am asking you, as representatives of the people of Hawaii, to help us take charge of our own destiny. It is not my intention to offend anyone here today when I say that we are too complacent, too focused on our own individual concerns, and too accepting of the way things are. Forces beyond our State's control will work against our shared beliefs if we do not act.

"Maybe you don't agree with me. Well, as a wise old Senator once said, "you are entitled to your own opinion, but you are not entitled to your own facts." We all realize we are thousands of miles away from the resources necessary to support the lives of well over a million people. So we must significantly increase our efforts to achieve greater sustainability. Our commitment to that effort will truly help Hawaii take charge of its destiny.

"Less than three months ago, this body was called into Special Session to decide whether the Superferry would sink or float. Dozens of protestors jumped into Nawiliwili harbor to keep the vessel and her passengers from coming ashore. The Governor was booed when she went to Kauai to help settle the dispute. Newspapers around the world were running front-page stories about the trouble.

"Today is not the time to reopen that debate, but it is the time to recognize this is not the way to solve Hawaii's problems. Confrontation may bring temporary satisfaction to a few, but it will never bring long-term solutions for the many.

"The Superferry debate raised for all of us a very important issue, and that particular issue is the right choice for Hawaii to find a balance between our environmental and our economic concerns, and a balance that is sustainable. To take charge of our own destiny, we must recognize that good environmental policy and a sound economy should work together.

"This is the middle road we should find between the unworkable extremes of no development and uncontrollable development. This middle way recognizes that a sustainable economy must first be built within a sustainable environment.

"So let me begin with what I believe is our most pressing environmental and economic concern – our total dependence on imported fossil fuels – fuels that cost us more and more each day.

"The increase in their price shows up in the gas we buy, the electricity we use and the food we eat. Last year at this time, the price of oil was just under $50 a barrel. Earlier this month that price had doubled. Hawaii is not far away from a day when the cost of jet fuel will start to play havoc with our tourist-based economy. And some say it has already started to that effect.

"You can be sure that many of our families are struggling with rising gas prices. Why are we moving so slowly? Most of the energy we need can be created here at home. Are the threats to the status quo and the increasing appetites of real estate developers standing in our way?

"Hawaii's unique environment presents us with an unparalleled opportunity to lead our nation in the development of renewable energies. Consider a few possibilities: Ethanol from sugarcane is more than five times as energy efficient as ethanol produced from corn, and what it does is significantly reduce green house gas emissions.

"I realize there are considerable challenges surrounding the increased production of sugarcane and other bio-fuel crops. Issues of water rights and infrastructure; issues that will require us to change our land use policies. But wouldn't most of us rather gaze at a sugarcane field that helps power our cars, than a field of high-rise condos built for the offshore rich?

"Leeward Oahu, Molokai, Lanai and western Maui have some of the best solar energy resources in the nation. And yet we have hardly begun to tap their potential. The U.S. Department of Energy says Hawaii has wind resources consistent with utility-scale production. Every single one of our islands has potential for generating power from wind. I'm happy to say that Lanai and Maui already have a start, but there is much more to do as far as accelerating the permitting of renewable energy development.

"For my colleagues in Kauai, the wettest spot on Earth and yet we have done almost nothing to develop hydropower as a potential resource. The U.S. Department of Energy estimates that Kauai has hydropower resources equal to about 70-percent of its electricity needs. And wave energy, Cynthia. Wave energy development lies just over the horizon. And we sure have plenty of waves just waiting for that day.

"But let me be honest with you, too many of us in this Chamber cling to the status quo. All of these alternative energies will require big changes: changes in how we view our landscapes, changes in our State support levels, and changes in our willingness to be energy efficient and conserve energy. In the end, achieving better energy efficiency and practicing conservation are the two most immediate ways we can decrease our dependence on outside resources.

"If we could just produce half of Hawaii's energy, we would add at least two billion dollars to the State's economy. And the money stays here, not in a bank somewhere in Texas or the Middle East. It stays here. And this is how we will begin to take charge of our own destiny.

"Members of the House, the plant on your desk is a symbol of what we can do. The charcoal in the pot contains an additive that has been granted a U.S. patent for its unique properties. The charcoal acts to improve soil fertility, and it also has significant potential as an alternative fuel. It is made from green waste and has the potential for wide-scale commercial use.

"The man who developed this technology is here with us today. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Antal, Mike and Ann, distinguished professor of renewable energy resources, from the University of Hawaii School of Ocean and Earth Science and Technology. Also Mr. Goro Uehara, from the University of Hawaii Department of Tropical Plant and Soil Sciences, who is working with Dr. Antal to develop agricultural applications for his patented process. These two men are helping invent our future, and grow a sustainable economy here in Hawaii. Congratulations.

"Members of the House, if Hawaii is to take charge of its own destiny, we must also take a closer look at another change we will need to make. The young adults of this State have virtually no seat at the table where the real decisions are made. For me personally, this is wrong and it works to our disadvantage. What am I talking about? Generation X is now entering into its late thirties and early forties. Members of this generation founded Google, Yahoo, MySpace, and YouTube. Those are billion-dollar tech companies. And should we expect less of those who follow in Generation Y?

"We will never know unless we open up our institutions, our committees and boardrooms, to provide the kind of access to leadership these young people deserve. The decisions we are making now will define their future. It is our duty and responsibility to give them a say in that future.

"On another topic, all of us are saddened by the decision of the University of Hawaii football coach, June Jones, to leave Hawaii. We wish him well. Regrettably, his departure draws attention to a badly neglected problem at the University: the deplorable conditions of many of its facilities. Lack of adequate attention to this problem is leading many of the best faculty members at the University of Hawaii to consider leaving. We cannot allow this to happen.

"Regardless of the tough budget problems we face this year, we must find the money to help the University of Hawaii deal with this crisis. Dave, Virginia, Rose, John, Allen, Jake, I promise you, on behalf of the fifty-one Members of this Chamber, we will do our share.

"Stand and join us now, as a symbol of our commitment to achieve this goal. Please stand, all of you, in recognition of the many outstanding works the University has done and the University has achieved in its first 100 years.

"A Honolulu newspaperman, who I've known very long, known as A.A. Bud Smyser wrote a report entitled, "Hawaii's Future in the Pacific." Let me read you part of what he said:

> Unless growth is carefully paced, increased activity will bring with it the threat of environmental overload – destruction of view planes and beauty; air, water and noise pollution; straining transportation and utility services beyond their capacities; crowding of beaches, parks and other public facilities. These developments in turn, could impose heavy corrective costs on the tax-paying public. Serious overcrowding issues already exist in many parts of Hawaii.

To all of you, Bud Smyser wrote those words, 20 years ago.

"Members of the House, we have crossed the threshold of Bud Smyser's prediction and we must act now to save the Hawaii we know and love. Aloha."

The Chair then recognized Representative Finnegan, the Minority Leader, to present the Minority's response.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Aloha people of Hawaii. Mahalo to all of those who came from UH to entertain us today. I am reminded there is no other place like Hawaii. Welcome to our State Capitol and the Opening Day of our 2008 Legislative Session.

"It is an honor to serve as Minority Leader in the State House of Representatives.

"Let me take you through a journey that brought me here to this moment in time. Seven years ago, Governor Lingle, then the Hawaiian Republican Party Chair, presented a vision for Hawaii's future and hope for those us who felt that the one party government should be challenged. This inspired me to run for office. I believe a thriving democracy lies in a government that operates with at least two political parties. This contributes to a more transparent process and results in better laws representing a greater number of Hawaii's people, and I also believe that within this process, respect can be earned, even when values and views differ.

"Fast forward to 2006. Linda Lingle did what no other Governor in this State has ever done. She won every House district in the State. A stamp of approval for the positive changes and meaningful results achieved during the Governor's first term.

"We are working hard to answer the call of the people of Hawaii to continue to create opportunities and concrete results. Hawaii Republican values such as opportunity, personal responsibility, and accountability are woven throughout our package. These bills address six of our State's most important issues: cost of living, energy independence, safe and sober streets, education, ethics and repair and maintenance of our State facilities. I will be sharing with you just a sampling of the efforts we will be putting forth.

"The first issue is our cost of living. I will be sharing two basic areas which are food and housing. We are focusing our tax relief proposals on the elimination of taxes on food. It is that plain and simple. We want to make it easier for families to put food on the table. For homelessness and housing, we want to see a Hawaii where every individual and family has a roof over their head. The reality is that it will take much more than just compassionate politicians. It will take compassion and an expectation of self-reliance and independence. For it is when we can lend a hand up to the next rung of the ladder, that we will be able to make more room for those who want and need help. Our goal is to take the comprehensive services of the homeless transition centers like Onelauena at Kalaeloa and duplicate them throughout all levels of government housing assistance, such as public housing, Section 8 and affordable rentals. It is about believing and instilling hope in our people to break through the glass ceiling that keeps them from dreaming of home ownership. We want to see these programs working in unison for our people.

"The second issue is energy independence. Our sunshine, tradewinds and ocean attract millions of visitors every year. These same attributes can provide for our energy needs and propel us to the forefront of energy independence in ten years. Driven by the rising cost of oil, the opportunities for renewable energies have never been greater.

"The third issue is safe and sober streets. We are dedicated to passing increased fines and penalties and an ignition interlock program for repeat DUI offenders to change attitudes and behaviors about driving under the influence and pedestrian safety. When it comes to drinking and driving, just don't do it. When it comes to pedestrian safety, no matter who had the right of way, no matter who is at fault, and no matter how much you were in a rush, the consequences are irreversible. The ramifications are forever and if someone dies we all lose.

"The fourth issue is education. One of the missing pieces in public education is the lack of a management audit on the Department of Education. Some will shudder at the thought of a management audit. I asked a prominent business man what a management audit meant to him. He described it in one word: opportunity. It is an opportunity to identify something that your own eyes are unable to see. It is a method for quality improvement. The last time a management audit was done on the Department of Education was a lifetime ago. Well almost a lifetime. I was three years old when the last management audit was performed on the Department of Education. We will continue to support Hawaii's public charter schools because they are good examples of school level decision making. Voyager Public Charter School was faced with a challenge of insufficient class time to accomplish the goals they had set forth for their students. A collaborate effort to add 45 minutes, yes 45 minutes to each of their school days was achieved. This was made possible by the teachers with the hard work of Miss T – that's what they call her, Miss T – and the approval of the HSTA, the Voyager School Board, the parents and spearheaded by their principal. I bring this example forward because this is the kind of flexibility and ownership that I think teachers and principals can appreciate. It is my pleasure to introduce to you, Miss Sue Deuber, Principal of Voyager Charter School. Thank you Sue.

"The next issue is ethics. A new Ethics Committee will be created in the State House with equal representation of both Majority and Minority members. Dan Mollway of the Hawaii State Ethics Commission testified in favor of this. We will also be demanding change of the grant-in-aid process. The way our Legislature awards money to non-profit organizations has recently been questioned. Over the last five years the legislature has appropriated $200 million in grants-in-aid. We support these appropriations; however, we need to have an open book policy to the criteria and guidelines in which these non-profits are chosen to ensure a fair outcome for all non-profits. We invited Professor Danielle Conway Jones, the Director of Hawaii Procurement Institute and a respected expert in this field to assist us with a GIA forum, to explore ways to create good procedures. Hawaii Procurement Institute was conceived with a vision to be a neutral, independent procurement think-tank and educational institution.

"And finally repairs and maintenance of our state facilities has been a long time problem. The members of our championship football team and network commentators pointed out the dilapidated athletic facilities, once again calling attention to the lack of maintenance on our State buildings. We have and will be appropriating millions of dollars to catch up on the long list of repairs and maintenance. But how did we get here in the first place? It has been decades of neglect. We need to look at ways to prevent this from happening again. We owe it to you to plan and prepare for repairs and maintenance of our State facilities with the holistic approach. We will be introducing a bill to do just that.

"We also unanimously support medical tort reform, keeping doctors in Hawaii and the 2010 Constitutional Convention. We call it trusting and believing in the people of Hawaii.

"My words would not be complete without stating my utmost gratitude and respect to the military members and their families. The soldiers, sailors, airmen, and marines of past and present are selfless servants who protect our freedom and our way of life. I know this very well, as my brother is a local boy who retired as a Green Beret in the Army Special Forces and now works with the Youth Challenge program. He is also working toward a teaching degree to help kids in underserved areas. He wants to help at risk kids, the way the military helped him. That's my brother Derek. To the military, we will stand behind you and assist you in your readiness goals.

"The Republican road traveled is a journey of many challenges and silent rewards, but we do it anyway. We speak out on behalf of you, the people of Hawaii and we play a vital role in Hawaii's political landscape.

"Last week my 12-year-old daughter left me a note written on a napkin and it said, "Life is what you make it." Well this session is what we make it. We will make it a session focused on results for the people of this awesome state. Mahalo and God bless."

The Chair then recognized Representative Caldwell, the Majority Leader, who rose and responded:

"Mr. Speaker, distinguished guests, friends and family, members of the House, Aloha. We all came to public office with dreams.

"I was reminded of the importance of this principle about a month ago, when Senator Nadao Yoshinaga visited my office. He does this from time to time with members of the House. From humble beginnings in Wailuku, to a local and national leader in healthcare reform, the Senator has a record that would make any of us here today, any of us elected officials extremely proud. Senator Yoshinaga, would you please stand and be recognized?

"When he visited, we talked for a quite a while. At the end of our conversation, I asked him, "Senator, if you had it to do all over again, would you change anything?" He sat up straight, he leaned forward on our couch and he said, "I would have dreamed bigger." Those words reminded me, and should remind all of us here today, of just how critical it is to take what we believe and apply it to the way we solve problems and approach the future.

"There is a forest of cynicism out there today, and we cannot give in to it. Instead we must deal with it, defy it, and be guided by what is right. Community leaders do this every day. One such person is Nanci Kriedman. She has committed herself to ending domestic violence. Nanci, would you please stand and be recognized? She's up there in the gallery.

"Nanci has involved some of us in the annual Men's March held every October to end violence against women. The theme of last year's march was "dispelling the myth." The message is simple, and that is we must change the way we frame the problem if we are really going to solve it. Violence against women is generally thought of as a women's issue. But it's not. It's a man's issue. It is men who must change to solve the problem. And it is all men who must help by taking responsibility for ending something which is so innately wrong.

"So Nanci's dream begins by calling on men – uncles, coaches, clergy, neighbors – to act as good mentors. We can start early with boys and end the bad behavior before it becomes a habit. Real men will champion the responsibility. Thank you Nanci, for the simple act of redefining problems so we can give birth to new solutions. Thank you.

"We have all heard the quote from the Bible which goes, "Where there is no vision, the people perish." Fortunately, we have community leaders who have vision to spare. Among them is James Koshiba, one of the founders of Kanu Hawaii. James would you please stand and be recognized? James left a very successful consulting firm to lead this dynamic, new organization. Kanu calls on all of us to fulfill our kuleana – our obligation to neighbors in need, our cultural traditions, our children and our environment.

Using creative technology, James and the young leaders who have founded Kanu have added a new twist to activism. Kanu displays, in real-time, data on their website to show us how individual home grown actions really do make a difference and how our commitments add up.

"Yet with all the high level tech, James and Kanu are still grounded in the timeless island values of respect, humility, and aloha that bind us all. Through personal change and social action, Kanu Hawaii is helping us reach those "bigger dreams."

"My daughter and I used Kanu to make our commitments to improve our world. She pledged to conserve water at home, and I pledged to buy from businesses that are good stewards for their community. With Kanu, we rediscover that the call to action comes from each of us. Because that's where real change starts.

"So all around us here today, there are people who are dreaming bigger and acting on behalf of those dreams. And what do each of these leaders have in common? The status quo just isn't good enough. And no, it is not as simple as having the right bumper sticker or motivational poster on your wall. As we all find out at one juncture or another in our lives, values only mean something when they are tested. And the road tests can get pretty tough at times. In the Session ahead, let's ask ourselves: Are we operating from a value system that perpetuates what is best about our island home? Or are we, slice by slice, mortgaging away the future?

"Who are we building for? Not just the brick and mortar infrastructure, but the energy that we produce from the islands, the foods we grow and the industries and jobs we develop. Think about this. According to the National Report Card for States, between the years 2000-2005, Hawaii converted cropland to other uses faster than all but one of our 50 states.

"When is enough, enough? Are we really thinking of the needs of people who will be here when we are long gone? Or is this just something we see on a "Keep the Country, Country" bumper sticker driving around Honolulu?

"And perhaps most importantly for us as elected officials, has it become so easy to take the cheap shot and criticize government, that we are losing the all important combination of affection and guts it takes to really dig in, change government and make it better?

"So let's ask ourselves here today: Is government fit for the future? What are we doing about it? These are real tough questions to answer. Yet all around us – as we've seen today – there is human inspiration.

"Right now I understand we have some celebrating to do out in the Rotunda with our University champions. Our capitol is filled with young people, women and men, who dreamed bigger and delivered. It is alive with the hopes of tomorrow and the will to work for a better future.

"Dream bigger, Senator Yoshinaga? You bet.

"Thank you. And Members, we will work as hard as possible to do the good job that the people of this State deserve. Thank you very much."

The Chair then called upon Mr. Bob Nash, Head Coach of the University of Hawaii at Manoa's Men's Basketball Team to deliver the benediction.

HOUSE COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were received by the Clerk.

STATE CAPITOL
HONOLULU, HAWAII 96813

RECEIVED
2007 DEC 28 P 12: 22
SPEAKER'S OFFICE

The Honorable Calvin K.Y. Say
Speaker of the House
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

Dear Mr. Speaker,

In my October 19, 2007 correspondence to you, I offered to resign from my position as Vice Speaker of the Hawaii House of Representatives. Although you conditionally accepted my offer through a suspension of my appointed duties until the 2008 legislative session, I would like to once more offer my resignation on a permanent basis.

I realize I made a serious error in judgement, and I wish to take full responsibility for my actions. In the intervening time between my last letter and this date, I have pleaded "no contest" to my offense, accepted the judicial consequences of my mistake, and changed my lifestyle and outlook considerably. Now, having begun the process of change in my public and personal lives, I wish to address the impacts that my actions may have on my colleagues and this honorable body.

It is my belief that the House would be best served by my relinquishing my current leadership responsibilities in order to remove any perception of impropriety. I have true respect for this institution, its members, and the role it serves in the government of Hawaii, and I wish to protect its integrity.

I plan to work very hard to regain the trust of my colleagues and my constituents, and my commitment to the House remains strong in whatever position I am assigned.

Thank you for the opportunity to have served in the leadership of the House of Representatives.

Very truly yours,

JON RIKI KARAMATSU
Forty-First District

Chief Clerk
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

Dear Chief Clerk Mau-Shimizu:

As you know, I recently asked Speaker Say to accept my resignation as Vice Speaker on a permanent basis, and he has agreed. I want to take this time to thank you for your support and to express my gratitude for the opportunity to have served within the House leadership.

On Friday, December 21, 2007, I pled "no contest" to driving under the influence and accepted the punishment issued by the court. Even though I have resigned as Vice Speaker, I remain deeply committed to my role as a lawmaker and to serving my community. This experience has been a valuable lesson for me. I take full responsibility for my actions, and I am determined to work hard to become a better legislator and to regain the public's trust.

I look forward to working with you in whatever capacity I am asked to serve in the 2008 legislative session. In addition, I am thankful for those who offered their words of support and encouragement, as well as those who shared their honest opinions on this matter.

I wish you and your staff a happy, healthy, and safe new year!

With Warmest Aloha,

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions (H.R. Nos. 1 through 3) were announced by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

H.R. No. 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION ELECTING THE VICE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE TWENTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE," was jointly offered by Representatives Caldwell and Finnegan.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative Finnegan and carried, H.R. No. 1 was adopted with Representatives Pine and Souki being excused.

At this time, the Chair called upon Representative Chong who rose to be recognized.

H.R. No. 2, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION RELATING TO THE CAUCUS LEADERS AND THE COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE TWENTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE," was jointly offered by Representatives Caldwell and Finnegan.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative Finnegan and carried, H.R. No. 2 was adopted with Representatives Pine and Souki being excused.

H.R. No. 3, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION AMENDING THE RULES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE TWENTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII AND ADOPTING OPERATING PROCEDURES FOR THE HOUSE SELECT COMMITTEE ON STANDARDS OF CONDUCT," was jointly offered by Representatives Caldwell, B. Oshiro and Finnegan.

Representative Caldwell moved that H.R. No. 3 be adopted, seconded by Representative Finnegan.

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm speaking in support of HR No. 3. I want to commend the Interim Task Force that put together these rules. I also want to commend this body for trying to adopt some change in ethics reforms that will reflect a more open and transparent procedure, particularly with the Select Committee on Standards of Conduct.

"In that same vein however, I do hope that as we move forward in the experiment with this Committee that we hold ourselves with high standards and where there is a need for change, we recognize that. It is a test, and it's a great test for this House. So, thank you Mr. Speaker, in support of this Resolution."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in approval of this, in favor of this. These horns outside are distracting me, but they are encouraging me to say something.

"Mr. Speaker, character is what we do when no one else is looking and I think this bill and these rules give us transparency and sheds light on what we are going to do, and I think it's going to be a great benefit. I was very impressed at much of what the task force has done based on the U.S. Senate, which fortunately for the Minority is an equal representation. When it comes to doing what's right, I don't think majority rule should be the rule of thumb.

"So thank you to the task force. Thank you to this body. I think we're going to be better for it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, brief comments of support. Much of this effort comes from all of us. As people remember, we did introduce a bill last Session, H.B. No. 1901, which was very aggressive legislation. And questions were raised. In the end though, it was because of the input we got from many members of our Caucus, both the Majority and Minority Caucuses that resulted with what you see before you today.

"And yes it is a work in progress. It's a great first step. And I think, if you look back over the history of our Legislature from the days of the Territory to when we became a State, I think it's the first time we have seen a free standing Code of Conduct Committee, and we're all to be congratulated. It's no one person. It's all of us working together. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just have short comments, but in strong support of this Resolution. I just wanted to thank everyone on this Floor for working with the body as a whole to get this Committee together. I think it speaks volumes that we do have an equal representation of Majority and Minority members, and I know that it's a big thing for this Committee. Thank you."

Representative Saiki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I also rise in support of this Resolution. I want to thank the taskforce for all of their hard work over the interim. I want to point out a couple of matters. I'm really not into form over substance, but I think that as this process is refined and as the rules are refined, we might want to consider a couple of points.

"One is the appointment authority for this Committee. I think it would not be unfair or unwise to allow the Minority Party to appoint their own members to this Committee. We have already allowed them to do that in other commissions that are of, or handle matters of statewide significance such as our Reapportionment Commission and our Elections Commission where we allow the Minority Party to appoint their own members, to represent their interests on those commissions.

"And the other point I want to raise is that the scope of the Committee may have to be clarified at some point because the amendment to the House Rules limits the scope of jurisdiction of the Committee, basically to violations of HRS Chapter 84 and to other violations of our Standards of Conduct. Yet the internal rules for the Committee open the door to all laws considerably of the State. I think that that discrepancy may give rise to some confusion of the jurisdiction of the Committee. And we may also intrude upon other entities that have jurisdiction over all laws, other than Chapter 84 which is the Ethics Code to investigate those other statutes.

"So notwithstanding those comments, I'm very appreciative of this resolution. Thank you very much."

Representative Meyer rose, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I would like to thank the Majority Leader and the Majority Floor Leader for their leadership in our taskforce. We all worked very well together, but I would like it noted in the record that while the Majority did introduce a very comprehensive bill on ethics, it didn't pass. And the Resolution that was worked on was a Resolution that the Minority introduced late last Session and was the vehicle to get us where we are today.

"But we couldn't have done it without cooperation from both sides, and I think this says a lot for the working relationship we have and shows the public that we want to work under the highest standards possible and this gets us closer to that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.R. No. 3 was adopted with Representatives Pine and Souki being excused.

At this time, Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker. I would like to request a ruling on a blanket potential conflict of interest for Session and Committee hearings. This request would not include any matters which possibly would provide financial benefit. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm the mother of the Chairperson of the Department of Land and Natural Resources, Laura H. Thielen. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, for the Members of the Small Business Caucus, or those who are supporters of small business, just a reminder: The BYOB that's going on – Bring Your Own Bills to Room 423. The signing will proceed for another short period of time. If they haven't brought their bills, hopefully they'll bring their signatures, and we will wrap that up today. Thank you."

Representative Evans: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As the Chair of the Heritage Caucus, I just want to remind my colleagues that in Room 423, we still have an opportunity to sign bills related to heritage and cultural preservation. Again, that's in Room 423, and we have up to 1:00. Thank you."

Representative Lee: "Mr. Speaker I would just like to remind Members that they have until 1:00 to take advantage of the opportunity to sign the Women's Caucus bills.

"On another matter, if I may. Last night there was probably the most horrific example of domestic violence which has ever occurred in my memory. A 30-year-old lady was bludgeoned to death with the butt of a rifle. I am just wondering if we could take a moment to pause in remembrance and think about what we can do in the future to prevent this from happening again."

At this time, the House of Representatives paused for a moment of silent remembrance and reflection.

Representative Caldwell: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have a brief announcement. Yesterday we gathered to celebrate the opening of the Legislature. But we also gathered for another reason and that was for the birthday of one of our members. That person would be upset if I mentioned their name, but I'll give you a brief hint.

"This person exercises like a fiend every morning at Gold's Gym. This person sometimes has a goatee, or most of the time. And every so often he'll wear an earring in his ear. So I don't know if you can guess who that is, but he is one year older. I won't mention his age, and I would like to wish him a very happy birthday and I am glad that he is a member of our Caucus and a member of the House. Thank you."

Speaker Say: "You all know who the person is, right? Ok. I won't mention his name."

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:25 o'clock p.m. on motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Meyer and carried, the House of Representatives adjourned until 12:00 o'clock noon tomorrow, Friday, January 18, 2008. (Representatives Pine and Souki were excused.)

THIRD DAY

Friday, January 18, 2007

The House of Representatives of the Twenty-Fourth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2008, convened at 12:11 o'clock p.m., with Vice Speaker Chong presiding.

The invocation was delivered by Representative Sharon E. Har, after which the Roll was called showing all members present with the exception of Representatives Brower, Ching, Manahan and Takumi, who were excused.

By unanimous consent, reading and approval of the Journal of the House of Representatives of the Second Day was deferred.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 212 and 213) were received and announced by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 212, dated January 18, 2008, transmitting the 2007 DBEDT Annual Report as required under Chapter 201-10, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

Gov. Msg. No. 213, dated January 16, 2008, transmitting the Report Pursuant to Section 334-15, Hawaii Revised Statutes, Requiring the Department of Health to Submit an Annual Report on the Mental Health and Substance Abuse Special Fund.

SENATE COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications from the Senate (Sen. Com. Nos. 1 through 3) were received and announced by the Clerk:

Sen. Com. No. 1, returning H.C.R. No. 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATING TO RECESS DAYS FOR THE REGULAR SESSION OF 2008," which was adopted by the Senate on January 17, 2008.

Sen. Com. No. 2, returning H.C.R. No. 2, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO ADDRESS THE LEGISLATURE ASSEMBLED IN JOINT SESSION," which was adopted by the Senate on January 17, 2008.

Sen. Com. No. 3, transmitting S.C.R. No. 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE TO ISSUE A POSTAL STAMP HONORING THE WORLD WAR II JAPANESE-AMERICAN NISEI SOLDIERS," which was adopted by the Senate on January 17, 2008.

Representative Caldwell moved that S.C.R No. 1 be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of S.C.R. 1. Nisei soldiers of World War II gave ungrudgingly. Their service to our country was not a trade, but an offering. They defended our country even when many of their family members were relocated to intern camps.

"Today, many of our nisei World War II veterans are now in their 80s and 90s. Many have passed away, like my father and my uncle, and many died while defending our country. Our Japanese American soldiers of World War II proved their loyalty through the sacrifices they made in service to the United States.

"Mr. Speaker, the California State Assembly has a similar Concurrent Resolution and it is my understanding that their Chambers will have a Floor vote on said Resolution on Tuesday, January 22, 2008. The Illinois Legislature also has a similar Resolution, but at this time they have not scheduled it for hearing. Thus, if we pass this Resolution today, we'll be the first legislature in the nation to pass such an initiative.

"I humbly ask all Members to support S.C.R. 1. I urge the Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee and the U.S. Postmaster to issue a current postage stamp honoring our nisei World War II veterans, our service men and women. I would also like to commend the Senate President and the good Senator from Kaimuki/Kapahulu for supporting this most important campaign.

"And finally I would like to thank you, Mr. Speaker and leadership for allowing us this opportunity to vote on this most important Resolution to honor our nisei World War II service men and women. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I stand in support. Over 300 nisei women also served in the United States Women's Army Corps and Cadet Nurses Corps. They should also be recognized for their bravery and loyalty to our country during World War II.

"The 100th and 442nd Regimental Combat Team's rescue of the lost battalion was acknowledged to be one of the most prominent battles in the United States Army history. This regiment led a heroic drive through German lines and suffered tremendous casualties in the Vosges Mountains in October 1944. But their drive led to the rescue and freeing of over 200 fellow American soldiers of the 36th Texas Division. The nisei soldiers of World War II earned over 9,000 Purple Hearts, 21 Medals of Honor and a total of nine Presidential Unit citations. I believe Mr. Speaker that they are, if not the most, one of the most decorated units.

"I think it’s time that we recognize the contributions and sacrifices of our nisei World War II veterans and I ask Members to also support the passage of S.C.R. 1."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. May I have the words of the good Representative of Kalihi entered into the record as if they were my own, except for the portion about, 'my father and uncle.' May I have that replaced with, 'many good family friends,'" and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto, rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in favor of this Senate Concurrent Resolution. I had the pleasure of writing a letter to the Citizen's Stamp Advisory Committee on October 9, and for the record I'd like to read the letter with your permission.

To the Members of the Citizen's Stamp Advisory Committee,

As a third generation Japanese American sansei, I strongly believe that we should honor our greatest generation, the nisei of the 100th and 442nd Regimental Combat Team. A United States postal service stamp would be a most fitting tribute to recognize our amazing military achievements.

It was the second generation of Japanese immigrants that fought for their beloved country, the United States of America. They fought for their parents who immigrated to America to find a better life. They fought for those that were placed in internment camps during World War II. They fought for their children so that they could grow up with dignity. They fought for their own place in society and they fought for the honor of their people.

Please support this bright story in the history of the U.S. Army by issuing a commemorative stamp for the brave men of the 100th and 442nd. Thank you also for my children and my grandchildren, each and every one a proud American. Aloha."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, not only is this Resolution worthwhile because it gives honor where honor is due, it's also educational and historical that we remember, and not forget the sacrifices that were made. That we never forget.

"On a personal anecdotal level, I know a stamp will remind people, the young people in particular. I remember when I was in Room 442 in this building. It's now occupied by Representative Rida Cabanilla. Every time I would walk in there, I would remember the 442nd by the room number. And by this stamp, people will remember that sacrifice, and I hope someday Mr. Speaker not only the nisei as a group, but also the picture and profile of one very, very successful nisei, our Dan Inouye will be on one of these stamps. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I am in support. This stamp I believe will continue the legacy of these great soldiers. It would mean a lot to my uncle who was in the 522nd, which was attached to the 100th Battalion. It would also mean a lot to many of the friends I became close to at the Clubhouse, Club 100, especially President Arakaki and a lot of the members still alive today. I have additional remarks for the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in support. A United States postal stamp honoring the World War II Japanese-American Nisei soldiers would be a great tribute to the sacrifice they went through for the sake of future generations. They faced racism in their own country, but despite this, they valiantly fought to protect it.

"My uncle, Roy Okubo was a member of the 522nd Artillery, which was attached to the 442nd Regimental Combat Team. He is the younger brother of my grandma Bessie S. Karamatsu. I am very proud of his service that helped to better our country and world.

"I am a friend of Senator Nadao Yoshinaga who is a member of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team. After his service in World War II, he became a lawyer and elected official, and helped change discriminatory laws in Hawaii. He routinely visits me and we talk about politics, a passion we both share. It is a dream come true for me to have a mentor who was a politician from the 1954 Hawaii Democratic Revolution and a veteran of World War II. We met in 2002 and have been friends ever since.

"Finally, I have friends in the 100th Infantry Battalion such as Robert Arakaki, its current President. I got to know a number of them by volunteering at their events and hanging out with them during lunchtime at Club 100. When I am with them, I am always inspired to shoot for my dreams and do the best I can do.

"I am so honored to have these heroes in my life. I am who I am because of them. We must do all we can to continue their legacy so that their sacrifice is remembered eternally. Having a United States postage stamp honoring them would be a wonderful tribute. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. There have been many reasons stated why this is very important. On a personal note, my grandfather served in the 442nd, and something very interesting is that he was also interned during World War II. He and my grandmother were nisei Japanese Americans in the 1940s on the mainland.

"They both went to Gila River, Arizona and my mom was born in that internment camp. Eventually my grandfather was sent to Washington D.C. and he was among very few Japanese who actually discovered the death camps in Germany because of the branch of military that he was in. So I just really appreciate the strong support we've heard so far from all our Members. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support of this measure. When I used to teach in my district in Maemae Elementary School, we had the pleasure some time ago, this would have been probably ten years ago or more, we had some of the members of the 442nd come. And what we had was a course called, 'Heroes We Honor.'

"And the purpose of the course was to have young people understand that each generation has its challenges, but we have got to step up to those challenges and make the most of it. And sometimes in fact, it's a glorious thing.

"And so I think that the 442nd in particular, and the Go For Broke Foundation which I'm a member of, stands as a symbol of what courage and overcoming adversity can do for not just one generation, but those that come after. And in this time, sometimes we see in our ever-changing modern Hawaii, that maybe things are going so fast, and civility seems to be something we really need to work on, it's this hope that young people can see what those that came before them did and to honor those values. So this is exciting and I'm thankful to those introducers. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.C.R. No. 1, entitled: "URGING THE UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE TO ISSUE A POSTAL STAMP HONORING THE WORLD WAR II JAPANESE-AMERICAN NISEI SOLDIERS," was adopted with Representatives Manahan and Takumi being excused.

The Speaker then presented to the Members of the Twenty-Fourth Legislature and the audience, the Honorable Linda Lingle, Governor of the State of Hawaii.

The Governor then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Good morning fellow residents of Hawai'i, our 'ohana, kama'āina and malihini, keiki and kūpuna, civilian and military, Speaker Say, President Hanabusa, other elected officials, and distinguished guests. Aloha kākou. It is with a humble and grateful heart that I come before you this morning for my sixth State of the State Address.

"My annual report to the people of Hawai'i on the state of our beloved State is one of my most cherished privileges as Governor. It gives me the opportunity to share some of the sense of where we've been, and to focus on where I believe we should be headed, and how we will get there.

"Before I discuss these ideas with you, I want you to know how grateful I am for the trust you have placed in me. As issues arise each day, I am reminded of the very large responsibility that goes along with my job, and I am humbled by it.

"Since my re-election in late 2006, people have continued to ask me and journalists have written about, which office I will run for next. And there have been columns written about whether I might follow the pattern of those Governors who tend to slow down in their second term. My cabinet directors, Lieutenant Governor Aiona and I are not the kind of people who slow down in any endeavor, and we promise you that we will work hard every day for the next three years. In fact, we all share a renewed sense of vigor and commitment as we look to a future full of great promise and potential.

"Ladies and gentlemen, today is the first day of the rest of my Administration. We are devoting ourselves to cementing a clear direction for our State: a direction that encourages personal responsibility, transforms the economy, focuses on energy independence, preserves our cultural and natural resources, and enhances our overall quality of life. My fellow citizens, I have no other ambition than achieving these goals.

"Recent reductions in the projected rate of growth of tax revenues present us with an opportunity to renew our sense of 'ohana and to take greater personal responsibility for Hawai'i's future. Personal responsibility means more than just being responsible for decisions that affect us as individuals. Personal responsibility means that we get involved to help others in need and to create a better Hawai'i. We get involved in our places of worship, our schools and our community. We don't just leave things to someone else. We all share a belief that our family, our 'ohana, numbers many more than just those living in our home.

"Recently, I had the opportunity to spend several hours with a group of women living at a transitional housing facility that helps women on parole, and some who are still incarcerated, to successfully re-enter our community. These women are part of our 'ohana. Despite the sexual abuse many of them have suffered, the years of drug addiction and homelessness, or the number of times they have been arrested, these women have now taken personal responsibility for their own lives. They are an inspiration to me as they struggle to build new lives after years of degradation, disappointment and bad personal choices. They are working valiantly to move past guilt and shame and fear of failure. And, as a part of their program, they are now taking responsibility for others by performing volunteer community service.

"I'd like to introduce you to TJ Mahoney's remarkable director, Ms. Lorraine Robinson, and six of the women from the facility: Fay Medeiros, Masina Fauolo, Ipo Kock-Wah, Gina Ishida, Jackie Bissen and Lynick Ayau. Please stand and be recognized.

"Personal responsibility for the average citizen could mean getting involved enough to report abuse or neglect of a child in your neighborhood. And it means government agencies admitting mistakes and working to fix the system. It means parents teaching their children right from wrong, and showing aloha for our precious land and sea by not abandoning cars along the roads or boats on our reefs. Personal responsibility means driving with aloha, watching out for pedestrians and not letting friends drive drunk. Personal responsibility also means preparing our homes for emergencies, and eating and exercising in ways to maximize our own good health.

"Hawai'i's people historically have shown a remarkable willingness to take responsibility not only for themselves, but for the well-being of others. And yet there are still so many of our larger 'ohana who are struggling – those with mental illness, serious physical disabilities, kūpuna on fixed incomes, victims of abuse, and those trying to overcome a drug or alcohol addiction. Although I join you in wishing that government could help everyone needing help, and fix every problem we face as a community, that just isn't possible. Like you, I believe that government and its taxpayers have the capacity to do great good, but that capacity is not unlimited. So, we must be judicious and prudent in our spending, and we must make decisions that guarantee a sound financial future. Because only a fiscally sound government will be able to maintain an adequate level of needed services over the long-term.

"Less than two weeks ago the Council on Revenues adjusted downward by $59 million the amount of general fund tax revenue available through Fiscal Year 2009. This is in addition to their earlier reductions in May and August of last year. So although the economy remains fairly strong, the bottom line is that since May of last year when the Legislature adopted the biennium budget, tax revenue estimates have declined by $353 million.

"Government will never be able to solve all of society's problems. It is only our shared sense of 'ohana, and the willingness to take personal responsibility for ourselves and others, that will see us through any challenging time, whether the challenge is fiscal, social or a natural disaster. Our State's overall success ultimately rests in the collective hands of our people, not in government acting alone. I am happy with that balance, and confident of its result.

"Elected officials also need to take personal responsibility, not only for our State's long-term fiscal health, but for our economic health as well. This means using our finite financial resources to maintain and expand existing infrastructure. I commend legislators on your support for repair and maintenance of our schools, improvements to the highway system in rapidly growing parts of the State, as well as the modernization plans for our airports and harbors. We have some tough decisions to make together in the weeks and months ahead, and I look forward to collaborating with you on reaching the best decisions. The public expects and deserves nothing less from us. Those decisions include making strategic determinations about which direction we will lead the State in this exciting 21st Century.

"During the past 12 months, I have shared with you a clear vision for the fundamental transformation of our economy away from an economy based too narrowly on land development, to one based on the infinite talent and intellectual capacity of Hawai'i pono'ī, Hawai'i's own people. It is as certain as night follows day that we cannot speculate or sell ourselves into prosperity. Instead, we have to be willing to invest in those education and workforce programs that will prepare people to succeed in an increasingly competitive world.

"It will be an immense challenge to re-orient an economy long based on land, to one that has as its cornerstone the preservation of our cultural and natural resources. But, it is a challenge we can and must meet! We can do it by combining the native Hawaiian cultural values of aloha 'āina and respect for the ocean, with a skilled, well-educated population that believes innovation in all things is the path to success.

"I want to thank all of those in the community who have embraced this new vision of Hawai'i's future. And I want to thank those legislators who have supported this economic transformation by supporting some of our ideas, even though the support was not at the level we requested, and that we need, if we hope to succeed. If the future were to be the same as the past, then our usual practices and pace of action could serve us adequately. But the world's future and Hawai'i's future will be different than our past, so we no longer have the luxury of these past practices and slow, incremental change. We need to make giant strides that bring about significant progress.

"I am convinced that Hawai'i's recent strong economy has allowed us to postpone making difficult, but important decisions, and has perpetuated education and workforce structures that do not fit well in the 21st Century. Experts say that we currently face a period of change as great as when human society went through the Industrial Revolution. In this prediction I believe the experts are probably right. To go from where we are, to where we want to be, may seem daunting, but this is a road we must travel, even if it is a rough ride at times. The only way to reach our preferred future is to stay on this new road.

"The progress we have made in the past 12 months is exciting and encouraging: We have launched a statewide program to increase the global education of Hawai'i's teachers, students and residents. I am pleased to have with us today as my special guest, Madam Wu Chi-Di, Vice Minister of the Chinese Ministry of Education, with whom we hope to have more educational exchanges. We have begun to establish academies in middle and high schools that focus on science, technology, engineering and math. We stress STEM education because it helps equip our graduates with the analytical thinking, problem-solving and teamwork skills necessary for any high-quality job of the 21st Century.

"We have initiated the MELE program at Honolulu Community College to further build the artistic and commercial success of the Hawaiian music industry. I want to thank the Community College System for its leadership on these important initiatives.

"And we partnered with NASA, which will sponsor the FIRST Robotics Challenge at the Stan Sheriff Center in March, where 25 Hawai'i public and private schools will join 13 mainland teams in what is called the "Super Bowl of Smarts." In total, today there are 95 schools statewide that are involved with a hands-on robotics program. I would like to take a moment to recognize some of the students and their advisors who will be among those competing in the Regional FIRST Robotics Challenge in March. These young people and their adult mentors are an inspiration to me in the fearless way they are embracing their future. Their enthusiasm makes me optimistic about our State's future.

"The father of Hawai'i robotics, Art Kimura, and his wife, Rene, are here today along with students and their teachers from Waiākea and Hilo High Schools on the Big Island; Waimea High School on Kaua'i; Baldwin High School on Maui; and Nānākuli, Maryknoll, Punahou, McKinley, St. Louis, Farrington, Moanalua, Kapolei, Waipahu, Hawai'i Baptist Academy, Campbell, 'Iolani, Waialua, Sacred Hearts Academy and Kamehameha High Schools on O'ahu. Please stand and be recognized.

"Our efforts to promote innovation were recognized last year by the National Governors Association when we were chosen as one of six states to receive a grant funded by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and Intel Corporation. While I am somewhat satisfied with our progress, I know there is still so much more we need to do in order to secure a brighter tomorrow for future generations.

"We are proposing to start Creative Academies, modeled after the successful STEM Academies, to nurture and support the many talents of Hawai'i's keiki. These academies would focus on animation, digital media, game development and writing and publishing in elementary through high school.

"And we are asking the Legislature to pass tax deductions of up to $20,000 a year for parents or other family members saving for a child's college education. We propose the creation of a Commission on Higher Education made up of the presidents of Hawai'i's major universities, members of the community, and business leaders. This Commission will give us the opportunity to embrace new ideas and new ways of using federal and State education dollars.

"And again this year we propose that the State Retirement Fund allocate $100 million to invest in the creative ideas and talents of Hawai'i's companies and people. You have my pledge that for as long as I am Governor, I will pursue these and other actions that will lead to the transformation of our economy and a higher standard of living. It is the most profound legacy all of us can leave from our time in public office.

"Another goal I will pursue with great intensity during the next three years is energy independence and security. This is as important as anything else we do for the next three years. Today, Hawai'i is the most oil-dependent state in America, this has to change! It means moving away from our current over-dependence on oil in favor of renewable energy and that we do it more rapidly than some would like and others believe possible. We have accomplished much together since launching our Energy for Tomorrow program in 2006, which was our first real collective attempt to change the energy paradigm.

"I really appreciated the community and industry support for that package, and the Legislature's support was unanimous and bipartisan. There were four legislators in particular who shared my passion for change, and really helped us make the sharp turn from near total oil dependency to a way forward for energy security. I would like to thank Senators English and Hemmings and Representatives Thielen and Morita for their ongoing encouragement and enthusiasm. To further speed our progress toward energy security and a clean energy future, the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism is being reorganized to re-establish an Energy Division.

"Every week my departments are visited by developers of renewable energy projects – from wind to solar, from wave and ocean thermal to biofuel, from algae to even energy from space. We need to take action now to make it easier for these kinds of projects to start up and to succeed in Hawai'i. We will continue to lead by example, both in the kinds of buildings we construct and by encouraging intra-governmental purchases of power so that federal, State and county governments can use our own assets to start producing some of our own energy, and, where appropriate, allow governments to purchase power directly from new, non-utility suppliers.

"Less than two weeks ago, our Airports Division announced an historic plan to develop large solar power arrays at 12 government sites across the State. This project has the potential to reduce Hawai'i's need to import 130,000 barrels of oil per year, and to generate enough power to supply about 9,000 homes per year. This is one of the largest State government solar initiatives in the nation. This and other of our efforts are receiving national attention and support.

"I am pleased today to let you know that next week, the State of Hawai'i and the U.S. Department of Energy will enter into an unprecedented and innovative partnership called the Hawai'i Clean Energy Initiative. This partnership is based on the vision that Hawai'i must accelerate its transformation to a clean energy future by tapping into the latest national and global advancements, and that our abundant natural sources of energy position us to be a model for the world to show what can be accomplished by developing indigenous renewable energy. This partnership will bring both technical assistance and project funding to Hawai'i, and we will be the only state with this type of partnership with the U.S. Department of Energy.

"The subject of partnerships brings me to the final subject I would like to talk with you about today. Earlier, I said that we can't speculate or sell ourselves into prosperity, but I do believe we have an opportunity to purchase a piece of our future. I am proposing that we buy the 850-acre Turtle Bay property on O'ahu's North Shore. I believe this is a once-in-a-generation chance to preserve both a lifestyle for thousands of residents, and a part of Hawai'i that millions the world over have come to love and identify as the real Hawai'i.

"The purchase of this important property will create an opportunity for the community to shape a vision for this part of the North Shore. The refurbished Turtle Bay Hotel and condominiums currently provide needed jobs in the community. Its restaurants provide a welcome place for local families and visitors to enjoy a Sunday brunch or special family meal, and the golf courses host internationally recognized tournaments. We appreciate these contributions to our State, and want them to continue to be successful. But how the balance of these lands can work in harmony with what exists is something that we should decide together as a community.

"I have been inspired by what community leaders and residents on the North Shore have achieved through their efforts to preserve other lands for the public. I have invited some of these community leaders to be with us today. I would like you to meet Larry McElheny, founder and member of the Board of Directors of the North Shore Community Land Trust; Denise Antolini, Director of the Environmental Law Program at the UH Richardson School of Law; and Lea Hong, Hawai'i Director of the Trust for Public Lands. Larry, Denise and Lea, please stand and be recognized for your efforts to protect important lands for future generations.

"I expect there will be more than a few people, including some legislators, who will question my proposal to acquire these lands at the same time we face so many other needs, and at a time of moderating revenue growth. This is a reasonable question to ask, but Larry, Lea, Denise, and thousands of others concerned about what kind of Hawai'i future generations will enjoy, stand ready to help us.

"Our previous successes of preserving Waimea Valley and Pūpūkea-Paumalū and our ability to save Kukui Gardens affordable housing inspires me to believe that the Legislature and I can work with the community to make this happen. I propose that the Legislature, my Administration, and community leaders form a working group to explore options and develop an action plan to make sure that this property stays in public hands.

"I have thought very hard about what I am proposing, and I believe in my heart that this is the right thing to do for those of us living today, and for those who will be born in the decades ahead. And I believe this will be a defining moment for all of us – a moment that communicates to young people that we care more about their future than about our present. So, rather than viewing this proposal as something that will be very difficult or even impossible to achieve, I ask that you view it as the right thing for us to do, and that if we work together we will find a way to make it happen.

"I have thought about at least a dozen ways we could mix and match revenue streams to finance such a purchase. These include, selling off the resort portion of the property to pay down the remaining debt, exchanging other State lands, creatively using tax credits spread out over time, a tax check-off on our income tax returns, private grants, allocating Legacy Land Funds, federal conservation dollars, and a worldwide Internet fundraising campaign to "Save Hawai'i's North Shore."

"I know that there are many other ideas, but the point is that I believe this is both doable and essential to protect our way of life. The North Shore is an important escape valve for O'ahu's increasingly urbanized lifestyle. It is a place we take visitors when we want them to experience the "real" Hawai'i. It is a place that gives us comfort just by being there, even if we don't go there very often. And it is a community of residents who have chosen the North Shore because it provides a slower, more rural way of living. It would be naive for anyone to think this land acquisition will be easy. The land ownership structure is complex and the debt owed is sizeable. Nevertheless, I am committed to these lands remaining in public hands.

"The residents on the North Shore call it "keeping the country, country." I call it fulfilling commitments to future generations, and I ask everyone listening today to join with us in this effort.

"Before I finish this morning, I want to thank the people of Hawai'i once again for the trust you have placed in me, for making me part of your 'ohana, and for inspiring me to take on the great challenges of our day. And finally, I want you to know that I truly love my job. I love being the Governor of Hawai'i, your Governor. It's the best job in the world. The more opportunities I have had to travel to different states and countries, the more obvious it has become to me that the people of Hawai'i are unique in all the world, and that there is no place on earth like these islands.

"Oftentimes, it is music, more than words alone that can best express our true feelings. I would like to end my State of the State Address this year in an unconventional way, but in a way I hope touches your heart. I invite you to listen closely to the words and to feel the music of Kaukahi, who so beautifully captures the essence of how we all feel about our home – Hawai'i.

"Kaukahi is the winner of the 2007 Na Hoku Hanohano Awards for Group of the Year, Song of the Year and Graphic Art for album design. The members of Kaukahi are, Barret Awai on upright base, Dean Wilhelm on guitar and Kawika Kahiapo on electric base. I know that you will enjoy Kaukahi as they perform for you now their Na Hoku Hanohano award-winning song of the year, "Life in These Islands." Ladies and Gentlemen let us all share the words and the music of Kaukahi."

At this time, the members of the House, their guests and audience were entertained by the musical group, Kaukahi.

President Hanabusa then rose and stated:

"Governor Lingle, on behalf of Speaker Say, myself, members of the Senate and House, we thank you for sharing the State of the State. Most importantly we thank you for sharing it with the people of the State of Hawaii.

"I have a message from Speaker Say and that is to you Representative Magaoay, and on behalf of the Senate, Senators Hee and Bunda. The Speaker says, 'Did you get the message? Are you ready?'

"In these really difficult times, and we are facing a difficult economic time for the State, that is going to test all of us – and not only the Governor, the Speaker, myself and members of our respective houses. The Speaker and I are very confident that if anything our Members are going to meet the challenge. And with that Governor, we promise you that your ideas and statements made today will have a full hearing and we are certain that at the end of this Legislative Session that we will do what is in the best interest of the people of the State of Hawaii.

"With that, Governor Lingle, distinguished guests, members of the Senate and the House, I declare this Joint Session adjourned."

At 10:49 o'clock a.m., President Hanabusa declared the Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Twenty-Fourth Legislature adjourned.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2034, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2034, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Mizuno rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Mizuno's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB2034. If the outside temperature is 80 degrees, which is very common for Hawaii, the temperature inside a car under direct sunlight can reach 110 degrees after 5 minutes. When a child's body temperature reaches 106 degrees, it's fatal – that child can die or suffer permanent disability from heat stroke.

"This measure will simply make it a traffic violation, not to be mistaken with a criminal charge, and violators will only be subjected to a fine - similar to our seat belt law.

"However, the violation and fine in this measure will act as a substantial deterrent to parents, caregivers, or anyone responsible for children while driving and ultimately save lives.

"I respectfully ask all Members to support the passage of HB2034. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2034, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNATTENDED CHILDREN IN MOTOR VEHICLES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, an unusual event took place today and I would just announce that it was of impact to all of us in terms of the future of Hawaii. It was the State of Hawaii and the federal Department of Energy, and the Energy Partnership Initiative that was announced this morning in the Governor's Office.

"It could be a historic day in that the energy independence or independence from oil, could hereafter be on the decline because it was announced that in one generation, 70 percent dependence on oil would be obviated. More important is that our own Representatives, Hermina Morita and Cynthia Thielen were very front and center of that. So I just want to put that in the record as a date to be marked for our future and our oil independence. Thank you."

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:11 o'clock p.m. on motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Meyer and carried, the House of Representatives adjourned until 12:00 o'clock noon tomorrow, Tuesday, January 29, 2008.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Meyer and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering a bill on Third Reading on the basis of a modified consent calendar. (Representatives Berg, Sagum and Sonson were excused.)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Caldwell moved that H.B. No. 2688, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Pine rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 2688, the Legislative budget bill.

"We started this session giving high hopes to the people of Hawaii when we created our own ethics Committee. I was proud to be a part of creating that Committee because we sent a message to the people of Hawaii that we will no longer allow people to abuse their positions of power. That is why I am so disappointed with this budget because it goes against the very essence of what we worked so hard for. This budget unfairly and illegally discriminates against those staff members who choose to work in Republican offices by paying them $500 less than those staff members that work in Democrat offices. This very practice violates our own House Rules and code of conduct and the spirit of anti-discrimination and civil rights laws.

"According to the State of Hawaii Financial Accounting and Management Information System, the same bill funding the Legislature and its departments last year had $1.27 million that was not used. All it will take to make things right and pay Republican staff equally is $14,000. This seems so petty to withhold such a small amount and sends a message to the public that this body will punish anyone who dares to let the people of Hawaii know what really is going on in this building.

"Sadly this story evokes a familiar feeling and that is why I must vote against this budget.

"Mr. Speaker, the story of what it was like for the first generation of my Filipino plantation family has been passed down for four generations. They worked long hours in the hot sun every day for little in return. They were treated like indentured servants, slaves, bound by a contract that they were misled to sign.

"Each generation in my family vowed to never become the plantation owners and the lunas that abused their power over my family. They did so by threatening to take food or pay away from my great grandparents and their eight children. They silenced my family with the fear of starvation should they show any sign of protest on how they were treated.

"Many of our forefathers eventually fought this discrimination. They gave up every thing to create this State which gives us the right to a fair wage, and the right to free speech. Some even gave up their lives.

"This is why this budget is so wrong. How could we forget what happened to them and so soon?

"I write these words hoping that one good Democrat will read this and be ashamed of staying silent too having sold out for their $500. I write these words hoping that one good Democrat will finally recognize that they have allowed their team to become the plantation owners all over again. I hope they might actually do something about it."

Representative M. Oshiro rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. Through this bill we will fund the operations of the Legislature, Legislative Reference Bureau, State Auditor, Office of the Ombudsman, and State Ethics Commission. And, as in the past, for obvious reasons, it is one of the first bills to be approved by both the House and Senate.

"It is unfortunate that the Representative of the 43rd District still appears to not want to acknowledge facts. I spent quite a bit of time with her during a recess following the public hearing of this bill in the Finance Committee. I listened to her concerns and provided her with some simple facts. I also spent time this morning in her office to further discuss this bill with her. Certainly I do appreciate her concerns and the sentiment which drives her opposition, but it is my opinion that opposing this bill does not get her any further towards her personal goals. Moreover, I am disappointed as her arguments may be less accurate than they should be and may mislead the public.

"I also understand that Speaker Say and the Chief Clerk met with Minority Leaders, Representatives Meyer and Finnegan, and the Representative of the 43rd District, and the issue of lapsing funds appropriated for and by the Legislature was discussed. It is my understanding that several Minority Members – including the Representative of the 43rd District – insisted that the House of Representatives had $1.2 million unspent at the end of the year.

"This is simply not true. Nothing could be further from the truth.

"The truth is the House of Representatives lapsed $28,331. These are the facts, plain and simple and unclouded by any clever rhetoric.

- The Auditor lapsed $700,000
- The Auditor additionally lapsed $150,000 designated for special studies
- The Auditor also lapsed $70,000 after conducting a financial and operational audit of the Hawaii Youth Correctional Facility
- The Legislative Reference Bureau lapsed $200,000
- The Ombudsman lapsed $83,000
- The Ethics Commission lapsed $3,000

"That's where the $1.2 million comes from. Again, the House of Representatives lapsed $28,331.

"I also know, from speaking with the Representative of the 43rd District, that she is also concerned about the allocation of staff resources, believing them to be unfair. Once again, nothing could be further from the truth.

"I note that the ratio of House Minority Research staff to Republican legislators is about 1:1. On the other hand, the ratio of Majority Staff Office (HMSO) personnel to Democrat legislators is 1:2. Every staff person supporting the Majority, at the outset, has twice the workload of a Minority staff person.

"Moreover, it is HMSO and our individual staff that conducts pre-hearing and post-hearing work, and does the final drafts of all bills and committee reports. The Minority Members and staff need only attend the hearings and their materials are handed to them as they show up.

"As such, any concerns the Representative of the 43rd District has should be brought up with her Minority Leader, who as the Minority Caucus Leader, bound her caucus to the current allocation of resources based on workload and positions sought for the Minority Leader's offices.

"Finally, we all know that recently, a Member of the Minority Caucus in the House switched to the Majority party. There will be a workload decrease for the Minority and a workload increase for the Majority. Yet, the allocation of resources for the Minority Research Office remained unchanged.

"I suggest that the Representative reconsider her opposition and honor the rational and fair decision of her Minority Caucus leaders. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2688, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS TO PROVIDE FOR THE EXPENSES OF THE LEGISLATURE, THE AUDITOR, THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU, AND THE OMBUDSMAN," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Pine voting no, and Representatives Sagum and Sonson being excused.

At 12:27 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that H.B. No. 2688, HD 1, passed Third Reading.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Green, for the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 4-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2016, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2016, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. These grandparents are providing a great service to the State by caring for these children outside of the foster care system. The needs assessment also shows that grandparents who provide care to their grandchildren often suffer emotional, physical, and financial costs, and these grandparents are a vulnerable population. The types of services needed by these grandparents include: support groups, financial assistance; respite; and assistance in dealing with legal issues such as custody. A task force to discuss the specific needs of grandparents raising grandchildren is very necessary.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure."

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution (H.R. No. 53) was announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.R. No. 53, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES TO AGREE TO AN ECONOMY-WIDE REDUCTION IN ITS GREENHOUSE GAS EMISSIONS AND TO COMMIT THE UNITED STATES TO A BINDING INTERNATIONAL TREATY THAT WOULD RESULT IN A SIGNIFICANT AND RAPID GLOBAL REDUCTION IN ATMOSPHERIC GREENHOUSE GAS CONCENTRATION," was jointly offered by Representatives Morita, Awana, Belatti, Berg, Bertram, Brower, Cabanilla, Caldwell, Carroll, Ching, Chong, Green, Hanohano, Har, Ito, Karamatsu, Lee, Luke, Manahan, McKelvey, Mizuno, Nishimoto, M. Oshiro, B. Oshiro, Pine, Rhoads, Saiki, Say, Shimabukuro, Sonson, Souki, Takai, Takumi, Tokioka, Tsuji, Wakai, Waters, Yamane, Yamashita, Chang, Evans, Finnegan, Magaoay, Nakasone, Sagum, Takamine and Thielen.

Representative Morita moved that H.R. No. 53 be adopted, seconded by Representative Carroll.

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this Resolution. Mr. Speaker, it's our country's moral duty to act. The world's leading climate scientists are telling us we have a narrow window to act to avert the most severe impacts of global climate change. Given what we know today about climate change, history will judge us harshly if we choose as a nation, inaction.

"In the 1930s Winston Churchill wrote to those leaders who refused to acknowledge the clear and present danger of the gathering storm in Europe at that time and he wrote: 'The era of procrastination, of half-measures, of soothing and baffling expedients of delays is coming to a close. In its place, we are entering a period of consequences.'

"We are entering a period of consequences with global climate change. It is time for our federal government to take responsibility. So I ask the Members for their support with this Resolution. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This Resolution was brought to me, and I chose not to sign it. I'm not going to vote for this. I am going to vote no, and I would ask permission to insert remarks in the Journal."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HR53 Regarding Greenhouse Gases. The advocates for this Resolution and others like it believe that the science is out on global warming. That there is consensus amongst the scientific community that global warming is mostly man-made. Well, Mr. Speaker, attached are the names of 100 scientists who are skeptical about that theory. They believe, as I do, that global warming is a natural phenomenon that has more to do with the sun's solar activities than man's industrial activity. In fact, some of them believe that the greatest source of greenhouse gas is the world's oceans. And this, along with the sun's solar activity, is having a greater effect on our climate than man-made activity.

"Can science be incorrect? Absolutely! After all, in the early and mid-70s, scientists were warning us about massive global cooling. They told us that we were on the precipice of a new Ice Age. But that didn't happen. In the late 90s, we were warned about the looming disaster of Y2k. The 'experts' told us that there would be massive blackouts, social and financial disaster because of a computer dating glitch that had to be fixed. Well, the 'experts' were wrong. At a minute past midnight January 1, 2000, the world held its breath for a second until we realized that the lights were still on.

"Mr. Speaker, the climate change 'experts' may be wrong again. And if you listen to them, what will it cost us? If we are required to reduce our CO2 emissions to 20% below what they were in 1990, what will happen to our economy and standard of living? Mr. Speaker, that cost will be too high. I urge my colleagues to vote 'no.'

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be voting with reservations on this particular measure. I did not feel that the United States should subject themselves to United Nations' guidelines. I think we should determine our own rate of reducing our carbon footprint. I think it's a necessary direction to go, and I just do not feel that we should give away our self-determination. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. I think the authors should be commended. This is very, very timely in that we have the world's 18 largest and most-developed countries here in Honolulu as we speak. I think the Resolution has some well-taken points except it forgets one thing, and that is the reason why the people are here in town is because this all started in Bali when the President said, 'Let us cut greenhouse gases.'

"Where this Resolution fails is where it says, and it forgets that there are those countries that are not yet developed that will also be able to develop. So there are many millions of people who are dying of hunger or dying of disease of which this Resolution says, 'For we developed countries, let's go for it.' But for those others, who many in this Chamber often decry their poor state of being, and having been a Peace Corps volunteer in the jungles of some of those countries, I know that that is the priority as much as it is for we developed countries.

"Let's not forget the poor. Let's not forget the downtrodden, the hunger, the disease in the world. That’s the reality of climate change, so these other countries can raise their standards. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, I rise in support of this Resolution. I commend the introducers for having the courage to put it forth. And I also urge that we not just urge the President look to reducing greenhouse gases, but individually we need to look to ourselves as well.

"So I ask all of the Members to really think about: Number one, walking and biking, which will help eliminate that. Number two, skip the burger, because the next big contributor are cow farts and burps. That is one of the major sources of greenhouse gases being emitted. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.R. No. 53, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES TO AGREE TO AN ECONOMY-WIDE REDUCTION IN ITS GREENHOUSE GAS EMISSIONS AND TO COMMIT THE UNITED STATES TO A BINDING INTERNATIONAL TREATY THAT WOULD RESULT IN A SIGNIFICANT AND RAPID GLOBAL REDUCTION IN ATMOSPHERIC GREENHOUSE GAS CONCENTRATION" was adopted.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Shimabukuro: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to announce that today at 3:00 in the Auditorium, the Health and Human Services Committee is holding an informational briefing regarding the tragic deaths of Cyrus Belt and Janel Tupuola and the other domestic violence victims that we've had in the State. In addition to having health officials, human service officials, we've invited law enforcement officials.

"I really want to urge any Member, especially the Judiciary Committee, Public Safety Committee members, and anyone else who's interested to come. I know that there's a lot of scheduling conflicts and it’s a tough time. I know that a lot of these questions really do fall more on law enforcement oftentimes, rather than the human service and health area, although we all need to work together.

"So please come. Again it's 3:00 today in the Auditorium regarding Cyrus Belt and Janel Tupuola, and mahalo to the Health Committee for really setting this up. Thank you."

Representative Chong: "Mr. Speaker, I would like to congratulate one of our colleagues from the Hilo/Kurtistown area on another year here with us on his birthday. Happy birthday and many more to come to the gentleman from Hilo and Kurtistown. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji: "Aloha and mahalo."

Representative Berg: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to make two announcements in light of the Representative from Kauai's Resolution. Today and tomorrow, representatives from 16 of the largest greenhouse gas producing countries are meeting in Honolulu at the University to discuss the international agreement addressing global warming pollution and Hawaii's susceptibility to this.

"The Hawaii Blue Line Project is Hawaii students drawing a line on greenhouse gas emissions and are encouraging all of us to join them at the Old Stadium Park from 3:30 to 5:30. The purpose of this project is to demonstrate to the delegates, and to us and media, the seriousness of what can happen to the Waikiki and Moili'ili and McCully area.

"Equally of interest to colleagues is this evening at 7:30 at the University, there is a UH climate change teach-in and this is a fast-paced, interactive forum focusing on climate change predictions and solutions. So if there are still questions that many of us have, this is a good opportunity to go and find out. Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sonson rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of this measure, Standing Committee Report No. 29-08. We have a medical crisis in our State. We're losing our doctors. The medical cost is so high and it's all related to high costs of medical tort insurance for our medical practitioners. I think this is a step toward the right direction because we need to implement a measure to encourage doctors to stay or move to Hawaii.

"It may not be a perfect bill that will address everybody's needs here as you probably know with my colleagues standing and voting no on it. But with respect to the benefit of all the people concerned, of all the citizens of Hawaii and all the ones who are consumers of healthcare, we need to implement something that would decrease the cost of medical coverage, as well as for us to have medical providers. But it’s a necessity in a civilized state, such as ours. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 29-08, in strong support."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the bill, and very simply to say that we have to do something to help keep our doctors here in Hawaii. And if we don't pass tort reform, we should certainly raise the reimbursement for Medicaid care significantly so that our doctors are able to not lose money when they treat our patients. Thank you, very much."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in strong support and may I ask that the words of the Representative of Kahala be entered as my own."

Representative Sonson rose, stating:

"Thank you very much, in strong support. We love our doctors; we want our doctors to stay. This measure will not do that. What we have to do is to make sure that they are paid well, so that we take care of their worries, so that they can live, even in the rural areas where they're mostly needed, in the same kind of lifestyle that they deserve.

"Most of the doctors will congregate where they can make the most money. There are ads in the paper that say, $300,000. All premiums paid for malpractice insurance. We'll provide you with a house. You think that the doctor who can do much better in the city where there's a lot of work will go there? No. Although the doctors do care for their patients and they do care about people that need their valued work out there, they will not do so unless we give them other incentives.

"We love the doctors, we want them to stay in St. Francis, those doctors in St. Francis need our help. And this is not the kind of help that we should offer them and dangle in front of them, and say that this is the reason why you are leaving. The real reason that they are leaving is because they're not getting paid what they are worth. And that's where we should focus. We've passed measures already that will increase the kind of reimbursement that they have at least in the workers' comp arena, which also takes care of doctors that are taking care of claimants in the no-fault arena.

"So that's where we have to go. Let's not put something in this body year after year after year which is very divisive and I think that the more we do this, the more energy we spend on measures such as this, where the problem really does not lie, the less energy we have to devote on finding ways to pay them, to pay the doctors, to make sure that they can live in the kind of lifestyle that they deserve. Thank you, very much."

At 12:17 o'clock p.m., Representative B. Oshiro requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:18 o'clock p.m.

Representative Sonson rose, stating:

"Thank you very much Speaker. I just want to make sure that those who are listening understand that I support the doctors. I do not support this measure. It will not help the doctors. Thank you, very much."

Representative Luke rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, I would contend that we're not really listening to the doctors. They may be listening to us that we're giving them something, but I think it was Rodney Dangerfield who said, 'I don't get no respect.'

"The sense in the medical community is that we are not paying attention to them, we have not given them anything. If anything, we have brought about the controversy by getting their expectations up that we would give them a gesture that would give them some relief, but we've given them nothing. And this is basically a crumb in and of itself; that doctors need to know that there's a political will, that this body wants them to stay in Hawaii. And if we don't do this, we better do another one because that exodus is going to hurt every one of our constituencies, and every one of the children that we have, and everybody who has a disease, a sickness and an ailment who is not going to get it.

"So let's do something. If you don't want to do this one, that's fine, but we better do something."

The Chair then addressed Representative Ward, stating:

"Representative Ward, would you like to address the Chair?"

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"I will not emulate the gentleman. I will address the Chair. I was so taken by his speech as you can see, that he's recalled some of the things that I forgot that he forgot to say.

"So with that Mr. Speaker, we must listen to the doctors. We must do something, because this is a crisis. Not having doctors is like not having food. And with that, I think if we open our ears, our hearts, our minds, and in this case a little bit of a gesture to their pocketbooks, they will listen and they will stay. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll be very brief, and this is in support. This is the tort reform bill, and just so people know what's in it, it does have caps on economic damages, but it also provides a clause of a $3 million exception for catastrophic, disastrous outcomes like we heard described in hearing after hearing. I would though agree that this is a divisive issue. I recognize that there are many issues of course that are going to come up from the Health Committee that were mentioned earlier just here a moment ago about reimbursements and so on and so forth. Tort Reform is a piece of the puzzle. This may not be the approach that people choose. That's fine; there are a couple bills. One includes subsidies for medical malpractice costs.

"I don't have all the answers. I do know though that the good points that were made earlier about reimbursement, which would be coming to the Floor. We have bills, and I'll be very brief on this matter. We have bills that will be heard on the 6th that will require 135 percent of Medicare being reimbursed by HMSA and other insurers. By helping the healthcare system to stay afloat, by paying for HHSC hospitals and their shortfalls, by increasing reimbursements, will go a long way. I think if we take up each of these issues, some may die, some must pass if we're going to solve this problem.

"So please be aware that we have the reimbursement issue being taken care of, the tort reform issue has been considered and we will finally look at scholarships for the rural areas like Chair Sonson is recommending. But thank you for indulging me because I do recognize it's divisive, and I don't know that the answer is definitive, but if we do one or two of these things we're going to help ourselves. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, I rise with support, but with some minor reservations. And that is I just want to make sure for the next Committee, just to highlight, please look at the definition of medical tort. A lot of times it's in the details. I just want to make sure that we don't limit or get too expansive or whatever. So I'm looking forward to the next Committee. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1992, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL LIABILITY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Nishimoto, B. Oshiro, Rhoads, Saiki, Shimabukuro and Sonson voting no, and with Representative Berg being excused.

Representative Cabanilla, for the Committee on International Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 30-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2624, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2624, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTERNATIONAL LEARNING MISSIONS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns, with Representative Berg being excused.

Representative Cabanilla, for the Committee on International Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 31-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2032, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Labor & Public Employment.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2032, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Labor & Public Employment, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand similarly with reservations, except with extreme reservations due to some inaccuracies and unfortunately painting the good country of Uganda in a way that I think, with a little bit of discussion and some written comments, and some discussion with the author, will probably resolve this. Extreme reservations with comments. Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise with extreme reservations.

"Page 1, line 6, claims that the Lord's Resistance Army is supported by the government of Uganda. However, this is not the case. Instead, the Lord's Resistance Army has received both official and unofficial support from the government of Sudan in the past, including the allowance of bases in southern Sudan.

"While Sudan is one of five countries listed by the U.S. State Department as a State Sponsor of Terrorism (along with Cuba, North Korea, Syria and Iran), Uganda remains off the list. In fact, a 2007 report by the State Department says, 'the Ugandans have proved willing to locate, capture and hold terror suspects. The Government of Uganda was actively involved in regional counterterrorism efforts, conferences and workshops, and had a strong regional voice in opposing international terrorism and supporting U.S. counterterrorism initiatives.'

"Page 1, lines 15-16 claim that the Lord's Resistance Army has been designated as Foreign Terrorist Organizations by the Immigration and Nationality Act. However, it is actually designated on the Terrorist Exclusion List by the USA PATRIOT Act of 2001. There are significant differences between the two designations, the former being a threat to U.S. national security, while the latter are prevented from immigrating to the U.S.

"Page 4, line 12, page 5, lines 1-2 imply that the United States Government has declared genocide in Uganda. However, this is not the case. There has been no declaration by Congress or the State Department, declaring genocide in Uganda.

"We should not malign the attempts of a developing country like Uganda as being a rogue nation this resolution suggests."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sonson rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2032, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Labor & Public Employment with Representative Sonson voting no, and with Representative Berg being excused.

Representative Takumi, for the Committee on Education presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 32-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2369, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2369, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE AFTER-SCHOOL PLUS PROGRAM REVOLVING FUND," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Berg being excused.

Representative Morita, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 33-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2508, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2508, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising on Stand. Com. Report 33-08 which is relating to the Deposit Beverage Container Program. I'm in support with strong reservations. This is going to make large stores, I guess like Costco, and it talks about the square footage, that they would have to take the beverage containers back.

"I think the time is here to re-evaluate the whole beverage container program. The City and County of Honolulu is now moving toward curbside pick-up. It will be a bigger pick up and certainly a lot easier for people to recycle than now when they have to go to these different recycling places which close early, they won't take glass today, they've changed their hours. It's a very frustrating procedure and I can see why people would rather take them back to the stores. I don't think the situation with the stores has changed since what it was when we first were looking at this bill. They are into not keeping stock. They have like one or two days of inventory. They don't have a lot of extra space.

"The problem with them taking back the bottles is a sanitation problem, a security problem, and the only thing that you can know certainly is that the price of all food will go up if they are forced to do this. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2508, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPOSIT BEVERAGE CONTAINER PROGRAM," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representative Berg being excused.

Representative Morita, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 34-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3151, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3151, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTRONIC PERMITTING FEES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Berg being excused.

Representatives Herkes and Waters, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce and the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 35-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2145, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2145, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNCLAIMED PROPERTY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Berg being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Lee: "Yes, if we could turn to page E under the Committees on Health and Human Services & Housing agenda. On House Bill 2520 the referral is listed incorrectly. The bill was re-referred and if that could be corrected to Health, Human Services, Labor, and Finance as it was announced on the re-referral sheet two days ago."

Representative Green: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With your indulgence, first an apology. The Health Committee would like to ask for a waiver of the 48-hour notice for the following reason. We would like to add four bills on for tomorrow's agenda.

"The first bill is House Bill 2438 Relating to Cigarettes, permitting the sale of cigarettes and why they're not reducing ignition propensity fire safe. We already heard this measure. There is a technical reason for us to hear it again. It's a triple referral and we just needed the time. The Committee was in support with amendments.

"The others are three short form bills and I did take this up with Minority Leader as well. Three short form bills. One is to deal with hospitals being able to expedite insurance authorization for Medicaid patients so that they can get reimbursed. The other very similarly affects people's ability to get insurance if they don't have it so they can be in long-term care. And the final measure, because of the discussion of Cyrus Belt that's been going on, the Health and Human Services Committees are hoping to take up a measure that will consider improvements in the system in order to provide more safety for children.

"So we look forward to having that active in this Session in Committee so we can all take up the measures. With your indulgence we'd like to hear those four bills. The short form bill numbers are H.B. Nos. 2169, 2170 and 2171. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morita: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The Committees on Energy & Environmental Protection, and Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs will continue its hearing at 2:30 in Room 314."

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support of this measure. Human trafficking is an unfortunate circumstance of human beings in poor living conditions, desperate for a better quality of life. As a result, they are deceived, taken advantage of, and abused in numerous ways. Many of them are immigrants, particularly women and children.

"According to the U.S. Government, approximately 800,000 human beings are trafficked across international borders each year, with millions more being trafficked in their own nations. Of these 800,000, 80% are females, and up to 50% are minors.

"Because of Hawaii's geographical position, human trafficking is occurring in our islands. During November of 2003, a Waipahu man was charged with several counts of human trafficking and forced labor on his pig farm in Nanakuli.

"On January 4th of 2008, two men were sentenced by the federal court in Hawaii for illegally recruiting Chinese women to American Samoa. The women were forced into prostitution by being denied access to their passports, and the pay they were promised.

"It is essential that the Hawaii Anti-Trafficking Task Force receives the extended time period, additional members, and funding necessary for Hawaii to stay involved in this united, national battle against human trafficking."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support of HB 2766 – Relating to Electronic Monitoring.

"Victims obtain Temporary Restraining Orders (TRO) or Protective Orders (PO) as legal means for seeking safety from domestic violence. Statistics show that approximately 75% of women murdered by a partner or former partner had separated from their batterer or told their batterer they planned to leave.

"The intimate nature of these relationships means that the offender is well versed in the victim's routines, and personal and social affiliations, such as family, friends, and membership in organizations. He knows when and where she works, the school where she waits to pick up the children, her telephone numbers, as well as her travel routes to reach home, work or fulfill other responsibilities, needs or preferences. Such knowledge of her daily routines furnishes the abuser with numerous opportunities to harass, talk, intimidate, assault or abuse the victim in violation of protective orders.

"The electronic monitor is a global positioning satellite (GPS) device. Its purpose is to reduce contact between an order violator and the victim. If the order violator enters a court defined exclusion zone, the victim and the police will be notified as to the violator's location.

"Electronic monitoring serves as an additional tool that would assist in protecting victims and their children's safety."

No. 2766, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTRONIC MONITORING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Berg, Herkes and Nakasone being excused.

And basically we're just inviting you out to enjoy some exercise, walking or running on Tuesday. There's the information right there in front of you.

"Throughout the Session, I know it's difficult to carve out that time to do exercise and keep healthy. Representative Caldwell moved that S.C.R No. 49 be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I can understand the need for a public hearing for the ceded land issue in trying to find some finalization. Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak for the measure with some reservations. The reservation I have is that time is of the essence and I believe the responsibility for any hearing should be OHA's responsibility and not the State's responsibility. I know that we are asking OHA to do that so they will ultimately do that.

"I believe the kuliana should be with OHA. It makes me a little skeptical sometimes when we go out and hold hearings, there are some strong negative affects, pluses and minuses, and that should have been done already.

"This is a little late for the hearing. Now it's time for action. They will go out for the hearing. There could be a delay tactic, and all kinds of things can happen to jeopardize the measure which, for the last 30 years or so they've been trying to resolve. This is my concern and my fear. I am not opposed to hearings. I am just concerned as to what may result from these hearings. Thank you, very much."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have some similar concerns and reservations."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with strong reservations on this measure. This is very much like the bill that we passed last year and the Governor vetoed. This establishes that proposed compensation, or changes of compensation for employees in the administrative positions at the University of Hawaii must be disclosed in open meetings.

"I think most of you are familiar with this. We'll see if anything changes on this. But essentially, this bill is a requirement for the Board to disclose six days before a meeting a range of proposed compensation information for certain personnel that will be discussed at the meeting. This was opposed by the Office of Information Practices. This would set a precedent where this is not required of any other department. We'll just see what happens with it along the way. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Report No. 72-08, Relating to the Center for Nursing, with reservations. While I didn't sit in this Committee, just looking at the bill I'm seeing who testified for and against it. The fact that the Hawaii Nurses Association testified against it, their members don't want to keep paying these fees. This bill, the way it's been amended, extends the sunset date for five more years, and it seems to me that perhaps it should extend it for a year. They should try to get the parties together. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker I just want to insert a comment for the edification of the Members. I rise in strong support of this measure. What the Center for Nursing is asking for is a fee of $40 for a renewal of license for every two years. I also want to say that nurses make $42 an hour. So I think they're asking for a minimal fee which is asking for some studies to direct where the profession of nursing should be heading to as far filling the gaps where there are shortages. The fee they're asking for, in my opinion, Mr. Speaker is very minimal."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak in favor of this measure. The fee that is referred to that bill is already being collected and it supports the Center for Nursing which is the arm at the University that does research and data collection. If there is one thing we need in terms of making sure we have an adequate supply of nurses, it's data. The work that the Center for Nursing is doing is actually very, very research oriented. It's documented well, and that's available by the way for anyone to see.

"I think the fee itself, that's already been collected. The question is whether or not we should continue to collect the fee, and that nurses should submit a survey at the time of registration. The survey is actually what provides the information about how many nurses we have in the State, where they're working and other such information. So it's really valuable.

"We do have a severe shortage of nurses in the State. The Nursing Center was a long-term dream of the Hawaii Nurses Association ten years ago. This body worked very hard actually, making sure it became a reality and I'd like to see it be continued. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again I'm with reservations. Maybe with the nurses ten years ago, but it clearly states that the Hawaii Nurses Association was quite insistent that they did not want to continue paying these fees. So for the legislators who feel so strongly about this, they need to sit down with these nurses and see if they can get a little closer together. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. I would like to echo the comments made by the Representative from Mililani. It was about ten years ago when we started looking at this. In fact it wasn't until the strike that occurred just right across the street just a few years ago that I think the healthcare facilities and the nurses realized that the Center for Nursing at the University is critical to ensure the future success of the nursing program. In fact, as she already mentioned, it was at their insistence that we had the Center, and it was on their insistence that we provided a stipulation for the $40 every two years for nurses.

"At the hearing I asked the representative from the Hawaii Nurses Association whether, not having the Center for Nursing is what he's asking. In other words, whether doing away with the fee and subsequently the elimination of the Center for Nursing is what he was asking for. His answer to that was in the affirmative. In other words, he's saying that his Association, and he said it was a very lively debate at their convention. But he's saying that the majority of the nurses, ironically, are not supporting the fee and thereby not supporting the Center. So at the hearing we asked the Hawaii Nurses Association and the representative to meet with their Healthcare Association of Hawaii, as well as the Executive Director for the Center for Nursing to try to resolve this. And that is the reason for the extension of the sunset.

"It would be very unfortunate from my perspective and from ours I believe, as lawmakers to see the Center for Nursing disappear. But it's the perfect opportunity in this case to utilize part of the licensing fee for this profession to pay for a Center that advocates for their profession. So I would hope that the Members who have some concerns or have some objections to this particular measure take a look at the efforts that we've put in the past, and also the efforts we'll continue to work on in the future. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like a ruling on a potential conflict. My husband is a nurse. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti then asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 2134 – Relating to the Center for Nursing, which extends the sunset date for the deposit and disbursement of certain nursing fees into the Compliance Resolution Fund for the credit of the Center for Nursing Special Fund by five years. This extension will ensure that the Center will have adequate time to secure an alternative funding source for its continuance.

"The Hawaii State Center for Nursing has been crucial to State policy in establishing workforce development programs and policies. The fees paid help provide valuable information to the State, which mainly benefits nurses and those in need of nursing data.

"The Hawaii State Center for Nursing provides a positive opportunity for various sectors of the community to come together with a common interest in staffing which supports quality of care, patient safety, and a positive working environment. The Center is uniquely able to focus on complex issues which underlie the nurse shortage include nursing workforce data, recruitment and retention of nurses and faculty, and research on best practices and quality outcomes.

"The Center for Nursing has demonstrated its value in gathering and analyzing data that is essential to creating sustainable solutions specific to Hawaii's nursing workforce shortage. While I understand the arguments made by HNA and acknowledge the apparent imposition upon nurses when renewing licenses, the current funding mechanism is a result of much work and study. I strongly support an extension of the sunset date, provided that the Center will take advantage of the additional time to seek and obtain a long-term funding source. Failure to extend the sunset date would likely result in the end of the Hawaii State Center for Nursing."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2134, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CENTER FOR NURSING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Health with Representative Evans voting no, and with Representatives Har and Thielen being excused.

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you for the opportunity to offer my support for House Bill 2020, which will appropriate funds to the Hawaii Small Business Development Center network at the University of Hawaii at Hilo.

"The mission of the Small Business Development Center is to create sustainable economic development through counseling, training, and research services to small businesses and entrepreneurs. It is critical for our State's economy that our local entrepreneurs are assisted with accessing capital, developing management capabilities, and building financial skills to make their businesses thrive. The services that the Small Business Center provides are of great value, and include in-class workshops, seminars, and online training, and confidential one-on-one counseling by qualified business professionals free of charge.

"Investing in long-term business counseling has many benefits, leading to increased activity in the local economy and greater tax revenues. As co-chair of the House Small Business Caucus, I believe that the Small Business Development Center is of great benefit to our state, and I give it my full support. Thank you for this opportunity to offer my support for this measure."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in opposition to Stand. Com. Report 74-08. What this bill does is it exempts the Board of Regents at the University of Hawaii from the Hawaii Public Procurement Code requirements. I believe that statutory exemptions are contrary to the Hawaii Public Procurement Code. A government agency with the authority to expend funds should be in compliance with the Code. Exempting agencies will jeopardize uniform and consistent protections against waste, fraud and abuse. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On 83-08, I'm rising with some reservations. This bill was amended; originally I think it was for three years, establishing a statute of limitation for three years in the State in order for it to recover overpayments of State salaries.

"Right now there's a two-year limitation statute for employees. If they feel they that haven't been paid appropriately they have two years to try make their case and get what they earned, what they should have earned. The way the laws are now, there's no limitation on the State. What happens is often times salary overpayments are found on the final audits when people are retiring, when they're leaving and then of course they don't have the money. It's a hardship.

"I don't know what the answer is. I think there should be a for the State, because people, if they get paid more than they think they should have, they probably don't say anything. Then as time goes on, they forget all about, or maybe they didn't notice it. Maybe we should have a limitation, but I think three years is not enough time.

"I noticed in Committee that DAGS was against this, and the Department of Labor was against it. But I see both sides of it. I see both sides of it. It really can hit people and they're out the door and they don't have the money and now they've been told they owe this money. So perhaps the State should have a statute of limitations, but because of just the size and the numbers of government workers the statute of limitation should be something like ten years. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. 83-08, I support it because it's only fair. It's unusual to hear the Representative from Laie supporting the government position on something that involves something like this. I think that whatever statute of limitations we do adopt, they should be the same both for government and for the worker.

"The government has an opportunity to go back and get what they need, if there's been an oversight. Vice versa, if the employee feels like they've not got what they were entitled to, they have a right to go back too. The way it stands now is the worker has two years and the government has an indefinite period. I don't see a level of fundamental fairness. That's not fair. If it's two years for the government, it should be two years for the workers as well. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1979, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE SALARIES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Har and Thielen being excused.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"On the last bill on the page sir, 86-08, House Bill 2653. The House Committee on Transportation is moving out a measure to require that helmets must be provided when selling, leasing or even loaning an ATV to a minor. If this becomes law, it will prevent many head and brain injuries to children.

"Last year across the country there were 136,000 injuries and deaths from ATV accidents. Over 40,000 of these injuries occurred in children under 16. Legislators must, at the minimum better protect our children. Enthusiastic testimony arrived from the Keiki Injury Prevention Coalition, Queen's Medical Center Trauma Service, The Brain Injury Association, The Hawaii Medical Association and the Department of Health.

"The Honolulu Police Department supported the intent of the measure, but HPD pointed out it has no jurisdiction over ATVs since they are only allowed on private property. However if the Legislature attached penalties when helmets are not provided to minors, then the law would have some teeth. This bill must traverse some rough terrain; it must go through the Committees on CPC and Judiciary. I might have preferred a more direct route. However ATVs will increase in numbers of popularity, so will deaths and injuries unless we take action. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in strong support of this bill. I was riding one of these all terrain vehicles while on holiday and flipped it over and knocked myself out. I had a helmet on and I could tell you that's the first time in my life I've ever been knocked out. It happened just like in the flash of an eye. I was over and out. And maybe I did have some damage, some people would say, but I was very thankful I had a helmet on.

"I also had a very good friend that came within just inches of losing his life up in Kahaluu. I think it's very important, really this bill to educate people, because it's four wheels people think they're much more secure than they are. They're top heavy. They're very easy to flip over. So this could save a lot of lives. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "Mr. Speaker, thank you for the opportunity to offer my support for House Bill 2939, which will appropriate funds to the Pacific International Space Center for Exploration Systems (PISCES) on the Island of Hawaii.

"PISCES has led to a new curriculum for aerospace studies at the University of Hawaii at Hilo. It has teamed UH researchers with their peers at NASA to enhance our State's aerospace research and development programs, and it will expand opportunities for aerospace studies in our local primary and secondary schools. It is critical for the students of our State that they receive greater opportunities in math and science education. Our aerospace studies students will face increased competition in the global marketplace, and it is critical that we increase the opportunities for these students at our higher education institutions.

"Our State's diverse natural resources, unique geographic terrain, first-class technological infrastructure, and resident scientific and engineering expertise make it an ideal location to develop, grow, and sustain these programs. In turn, these programs will have a positive effect on our community, on the education of our students, and ultimately on our economy. Thus, I believe that PISCES is of great benefit to our State, and I give it my full support. Thank you for this opportunity to offer my support for this measure."

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following concurrent resolution (H.C.R. No. 61) was announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.C.R. No. 61, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION AWARDING THE HAWAII MEDAL OF HONOR TO UNITED STATES MILITARY SERVICE MEMBERS WITH HAWAII CONNECTIONS KILLED IN ACTION WHILE SERVING IN DANGEROUS, VOLATILE, AND UNSTABLE AREAS OF THE WORLD, INCLUDING IRAQ AND AFGHANISTAN," was offered by Representative Say.

Representative Evans moved that H.C.R. No. 61 be adopted, seconded by Representative Takai.

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I just wanted to share a few words, and I wanted to thank the citizens of the State of Hawaii, the Legislature, all the people here at the State Capitol, and our staff that will support all efforts for the upcoming Medal of Honor ceremony that we're going to have here in our Chamber.

"I also want to thank you for welcoming all the families that will travel from around the United States that will come here that day to honor those fallen soldiers that have ties here to Hawaii. Thank you, very much."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to insert written comments in support. Thank you, but just add that the Hawaii Medal of Honor is going to be awarded in this Chamber Mr. Speaker, before a Joint Session of the Legislature. And please take note Members, it will be Tuesday, March 25 at 2:00 p.m. We made some adjustments to the previous years' timing and decided that it was in the best interest of both Houses to move it to 2:00 p.m. March 25, 2008. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in strong support of this measure.

"It has almost been five years since the War on Terrorism began. While there continues to be much debate for and against this war, there is no debate about the tremendous sacrifices made by our service members and their families. Between March 29, 2003 and January 31, 2008, we in Hawaii have lost 219 servicemembers, who have sacrificed their lives while in the line of duty. We lost 31 servicemembers during the past year. To pay a special tribute to these heroes and to their families, we passed House Bill 8 in 2005, which became Act 21. House Bill 8 created the Hawaii Medal of Honor.

"This special medal is awarded on behalf of the people of the State of Hawaii to an individual who has been killed in action while serving our country as part of Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom. Recipients of the Hawaii Medal of Honor include members of the United States Armed Forces, the United States military reserves, and the Hawaii National Guard, who were residents of the State of Hawaii, attended an educational institution in Hawaii, or were stationed in Hawaii by order of the United States Department of Defense.

"The Hawaii Medal of Honor will be awarded to family representatives of these men and women at a ceremony held during a Joint Session of this Legislature on Tuesday, March 25, 2008 at 2 p.m. in this Chamber. Families have been invited from towns like Middlefield, Massachusetts and Kingston Springs, Tennessee to as far as the Philippines and Morocco to attend this ceremony.

"Three years ago while serving on active duty, I had the responsibility of serving as the Casualty Assistance Officer for the family of Sergeant Deyson Cariaga, the Hawaii Army National Guard's only casualty from Hawaii during the recent deployment of the 29th Brigade Combat Team. That duty, the duty as Casualty Assistance Officer, was my most difficult challenge in my entire National Guard career. The Cariaga Family and Mrs. Theresa Inouye, his mother in particular, continue to grieve for their loss. I don't wish what they have experienced and continue to experience on any family. This Resolution and the actions that we have and will take are to honor soldiers, like Sergeant Cariaga, and parents like Theresa Inouye.

"In the past five years, the War against Terrorism has changed our world and our lives in a profound way. Ultimately, it's not about politics, it's not about money, and it's not even about winning. It's all about the families and their loved ones and what these brave men and women sacrificed for our country. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of H.C.R. 61, awarding the Hawaii Medal of Honor to service members with ties to Hawaii.

"In my eyes it is only a small token of our appreciation, but one that we must do. The sacrifices these soldiers and their families make in the name of freedom can never fully be awarded or honored. These are ordinary people with extraordinary values voluntarily offering some of their most precious years in the service of our great country. These Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, Marines and Coast Guardsmen sacrificed their ambitions so our country's men and women can dream and accomplish their own. They distinguish themselves through selfless service and demonstrate extreme courage, gallantry, and valor.

"These Hawaii honorees made the ultimate sacrifice and gave their life for us. We must never forget. Thank you Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.C.R. No. 61 – which awards the Hawaii Medal of Honor to United States Military service members with Hawaii connections killed in action while serving in dangerous, volatile, and unstable areas of the world, including Iraq and Afghanistan. This Resolution, offered by Representative Say, honors and remembers the sacrifice of armed forces heroes with ties to Hawaii who fought and died bravely for the United States of America.

"As a central location of armed forces training and preparation, the State of Hawaii has sent many of its own National Guard and Military Reserves service members and United States Air Force, Army, Marine Corps, and Navy service members to protect Iraqi and Afghan citizens. Many airmen, airwomen, soldiers, marines, and sailors with ties to Hawaii were called to serve in some of the most dangerous areas of Iraq and Afghanistan and came into contact with opposing forces on a daily basis. It was with utmost bravery that many heroes with ties to Hawaii were killed in action, sacrificing their lives to protect the lives of American and foreign citizens.

"The people of the State of Hawaii are enormously grateful for the service provided by these brave men and women and are greatly saddened by the loss of each armed forces member and stand by the surviving family members in support."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.C.R. No. 61, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION AWARDING THE HAWAII MEDAL OF HONOR TO UNITED STATES MILITARY SERVICE MEMBERS WITH HAWAII CONNECTIONS KILLED IN ACTION WHILE SERVING IN DANGEROUS, VOLATILE, AND UNSTABLE AREAS OF THE WORLD, INCLUDING IRAQ AND AFGHANISTAN," was adopted with Representatives Har and Thielen being excused.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. May I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I am a partner in a gas station. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of H.B. 3407, repealing the service station anti-encroachment laws. Gas prices are sky-rocketing and as we work towards reducing the dependency on fossil fuels, we need to take a look at policy changes that will affect the issue now.

"Divorcement or anti-encroachment laws as it is known now, are roadblocks to competition and increase the costs of gasoline distribution. Published economic studies from both the Federal Trade Commission and the National Bureau of Economic Research have found that anti-encroachment laws tend to increase retail prices by as much as 2.6 cents per gallon. This 2.6 cents per gallon of regular unleaded gasoline costs consumers $100,000 annually.

"Without anti-encroachment laws, existing refineries would be allowed to build additional service stations in advantageous locations and new entrants will have a choice of operating their own stations instead of using franchised dealer's stations. The increased competition will reverse the negative effect of regulation, facilitating a fair return on dealers' service stations.

"Repealing anti-encroachment laws was one of several recommendations made in the Stillwater Report and I am glad that we are taking it up.

"The bottom line is with an increase in competition, the potential for reduced retail price increases. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on Stand. Com. No. 116 with written comments regarding how a bill that has come out has stood the notion of the original bill on its head. Courts that were going to be in Kapolei have been reversed to Downtown and vice versa. It's a transportation issue as much as it is legal. Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you for the opportunity to express my opposition to HB3321 HD1, which seeks to establish the Family Court in Kapolei as the location where all divorce, annulment and separation proceedings are to be heard.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill, if enacted, would present numerous difficulties to a variety of the stakeholders in the judicial system, including petitioners, agency representatives, as well as members of the judiciary. As currently crafted, this bill provides a method for any one of the numerous parties involved in divorce proceeding to obstruct and inconvenience other stakeholders by refusing to agree to a change in location. This is also critical for any type of proceeding that involves domestic violence as there are a number of parties involved including social workers, volunteers and case managers.

"Mr. Speaker, I also oppose this bill because I believe it is premature. There have been calls for studies to be conducted to determine if a new 4th circuit is needed. Until this determination has been made, the legislature should not assign the division of the court's responsibilities.

"Thank you for this opportunity to offer my opposition to this measure."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On the same measure, I have some reservations. This is as originally introduced was to allow the parties in a divorce or annulment to select, if they all agreed, they could meet in town rather than go to Kapolei. I think we're trying to make things just reasonable so that people don't have higher legal fees because of having to pay travel time for lawyers if the people all reside in town. Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to briefly say that the reason that we changed the bill to say that the parties, in cases like these, would be heard in Kapolei, unless it stipulates to meeting in town. This is to support the intent of the Judiciary to really to move Family Court to Kapolei. It is also based on a lot of the testimony that was heard last year that said that the majority of the clients were from Leeward or other parts of the island that were more convenient to go to Kapolei. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like a ruling on a potential conflict on Standing Committee Report No. 118-08. My law firm may represent many owner-builders who could potentially be impacted by this legislation. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. 118-08, I have a reservation on this matter. I think this is too much. The title says that it is owner-builder permit disclosure. It's not really disclosure that this bill is asking for. It is mandating owner-builders to use licensed contractors, or subcontractors in altering, improving, demolishing, or repairing any building or structure.

"I think that this measure impedes upon the rights of individuals who want to improve their homes or extend their homes by mandating that subcontractors use it, and it will definitely increase the cost of homes. This is going into the privacy of people's lives in improving themselves. I am voting with extreme reservations. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm also rising with some strong reservations on this measure."

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 120 maybe I should mention I have a conflict since I'm aging. But actually I'm in favor of this measure and I would ask that remarks in favor of this measure be inserted in the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in favor of HB 2195, HD 1, Relating to Aging. I support the efforts of the Legislature to increase funding for care of our elders, and to ensure that the needs of older adults and their family caregivers are maintained.

"The bill appropriates funds designed to increase the reach of necessary services such as adult day care, respite care, assisted transportation, attendant care, case management, chores, home-delivered meals, homemaker, transportation and personal care. These services are expensive for many seniors to access. As such, it enables more elders to maintain their lives at home with their families, without resorting to even more costly residential care homes.

"I support any and all efforts to assist our kupuna, and their beleaguered caregivers and their families."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2195, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to begin by saying that I appreciate all the hard work each Committee Chair has put into this increasingly complex measure. That being said, vehicle ignition interlocks have been acknowledged by all sides of this issue as an important tool in the deterrence of people driving cars under the influence of alcohol. All sides, from prosecutorial to the public defender, from enforcement to administrative, are ready to move ahead and begin sifting through the enormous number of statute revisions and implementation issues that will need to occur for this program to become law.

"While concerns have been raised about implementation and oversight, this is exactly the kind of input that we need to craft an effective, well-thought out, and well-implemented program. With a delayed effective date and a taskforce to address these issues, we who crafted this legislation both recognized the need for further discussion and responded to the urgency that tragedy creates on our crowded highways. I ask you, my colleagues for your support, in moving this important legislation forward. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support or H.B. 3377, which establishes an ignition interlock statute. The ignition interlock system would provide an economical and technically feasible solution to help reduce the rising number of alcohol-related fatalities and injuries. Hawaii is one of only five states without an ignition interlock statute, and only three other states have alcohol-related traffic fatality percentage rates higher than Hawaii. In fact, there were 79 alcohol-related traffic fatalities in 2007. Those 79 deaths represent 49.1% of all Hawaii's traffic fatalities last year.

"States such as New Mexico, West Virginia, and Ohio who have implemented some form of an ignition interlock system have seen significant decreases in relapse rates. With modern safeguards, ignition interlock systems are difficult to circumvent when properly installed and monitored. Measures such as periodically requiring a retest while the car is running or a camera taking a picture of the person blowing into the receptacle, need to be incorporated to prevent possible circumventions.

"The program will give our courts an alternative to full license suspension and it allows offenders to maintain their responsibilities like picking up the kids or driving to work, while reminding them that their behavior has a direct impact on their right to drive.

"H.B. 3377 coincides with part of the Minority Caucus Package for Safe and Sober Streets. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Chair. I'm sorry. I was so excited about speaking on this that I was on the wrong page. I rise in support of Stand. Com. Report No. 124, Relating to School Buses. If I may, I'd like to give a short speech on this because I'm afraid I won't get to give a speech after this.

"For years in Hawaii there's been opposition to this law because of outdated research which was done many years ago. But it is a fact that children do die in seat belt accidents across the United States at an average of 11 per year. And just because no one in Hawaii has died in a school bus crash, it's no reason for us to ignore the facts.

"The American Association of Pediatrics estimate 6,000 to 10,000 children are injured in school bus crashes each year and would have been spared injury if they were wearing lap/shoulder belts. Seat belts would help reduce or prevent injuries in roll-over crashes and side crashes more than mere compartmentalization, the current safety method used for school buses.

"According to the 2007 National Highway Safety Administration Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, shoulder/lap seat belts would make a child safer on large school buses. Many children stand on the bus.

This practice could be eliminated if students were required to wear safety belts. This would also aid the discipline problem.

"Let's not quibble about the costs when it comes to safety. Employing seat belts on school buses is not prohibitively expensive if it's done on a graduated schedule and calling for newly acquired buses to have seat belts first. Prevention is the new cost-saving strategy in healthcare. Would we wait to give a diabetic insulin until he lapsed into coma? Would we prefer spending the money on rehabilitation from brain injury before acting to decrease risks? Of course not.

"Seat belt laws have been passed in New York, New Jersey, Florida, Texas, Kansas and California. Hawaii should follow their lead. How can we insist that children be placed in booster seats, car seats and seat belts in private cars, yet send them off to school beltless. This is a no-brainer. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Lee be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. May I have the comments of the good Representative of Mililani enter the record as if they were my own? As one of the introducers of the bill I'd just like to let the Members know that the impetus of this legislation didn't come from a special interest group or a lobbying firm. It came from countless emails, letters and phone calls from grandparents, parents and even kids themselves who think that we need to look at this issue. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. Enterprise Zones are a valid and proven means to stimulate growth in frontier economies. In recent years the Legislature has sought to provide stimulus through this tool in areas such as Kapolei.

"Kapolei, the "Second-City," also known as the "New City" and relief district for urban pressure, has been given Enterprise Zone status with the intent of nurturing such growth. Though well-intentioned, some of the provisions of the Enterprise Zone designation have proved cumbersome in some instances, and discouraging in others. The current law provides for a mandatory ten percent increase in workforce to qualify for the credit. With our low unemployment rate and extensive background reviews in mind, this bill will allow a three year respite from the workforce increase requirement.

"This bill will give young businesses and satellite offices of established businesses the time they need to get on their feet and find qualified employees. In keeping with the intent of the original legislation, beyond the three initial years a business will be asked to provide proof of workforce increase at a more significant level, namely fifteen percent. As such, this measure will continue to create the jobs Enterprise Zones were designed for while providing businesses with a time incentive to invest in these zones. Thank you Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2739, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE ENTERPRISE ZONES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On page 8, Stand. Com. No. 135. I am in support. I just wanted to point out for the Members of the Finance Committee, and the other Members of this body that the College Savings Program started about six years ago without this particular tax deduction on the front end because we could not afford it back then. We just transitioned from the initial company Delaware Investments to this company called Upromise which uses Vanguard as its financial tool.

"However, in the transition, because we had as a state, almost no leverage, Vanguard now charges each participant $20 a year, whereas Delaware Investments, the prior company that managed the 529 Program, charged nothing. So in the hearing I asked the Budget Director whether she could request Upromise to waive the $20 charge to any current and new member that participates in the 529 program if this bill passes. If this bill passes, what it means to that particular company is a tremendous windfall because many people who are now invested in Fidelity, other Vanguard products outside of Hawaii, TIAA-CREF out of California or New York, will then point the deposits for their kids and grandkids and relatives to our program, because we will be the only one that Hawaii residents can utilize to partake in this tax deduction.

"So I would strongly urge the Members of the Finance Committee and the other Members who are concerned about this to make your concerns known to the Administration and specifically to the Budget Director. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of Standing Committee Report 135-08, Relating to College Savings Programs.

"House Bill 2458, HD1 provides an opportunity for Hawaii families to invest in their children's future by allowing them to claim an annual maximum income tax deduction of $10,000 per individual. This tax deduction is needed to help those families who want their child to go to college and don't want to be penalized by the government for saving for their child.

"The cost of a college education is rising every year. In 2006-2007, the University of Hawaii at Manoa's tuition for a Hawaii resident student was a little over $4300 a year for a full-time student. During the 2008-2009 school year, it will cost almost $6000 to attend the University of Hawaii for one school year. This figure does not include the cost for books, parking, and other fees. In a little over two years, the price to attend college at the University of Hawaii has increased over $1700.

"In Hawaii, many of our families have parents working two or three jobs to make ends meet. We need to give them an opportunity to save so their children will be able to attend school and provide a better future not just for their families, but also for Hawaii."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2458, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COLLEGE SAVINGS PROGRAMS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1062, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Higher Education, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to stand in support on Stand. Com. Report No. 137-08, Relating to Tuition Assistance. I would like to submit written comments and remind Members that this is to help our National Guardsmen. Thank you."

Representative Yamane's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support of this measure. H.B. 1062, HD 1 extends the tuition assistance program for the Hawaii National Guard to include all commissioned and general officers and all National Guard members pursuing graduate degrees.

"This is an excellent opportunity to recognize and reward the selflessness, and sacrifices of our National Guard members. Members of the Hawaii National Guard represent our islands through humanitarian efforts within our State and country, and wartime operations internationally. We must as a legislative body, recognize these 'ambassadors' of our State by assisting our Hawaii National Guard members in achieving their educational goals. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1062, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TUITION ASSISTANCE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Higher Education.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2147, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I did have some strong reservations in regards to S.C.R. 139. This measure actually tries to provide incentives to lessen your time by doing earned time basically. I have some serious concerns as to how that would work out. Basically we need to have incentives that support changed behavior once back in the community. So although I have very strong reservations on this bill, I'd like to see how it might come up in a later form. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Thank you. As Chair of the Public Safety & Military Affairs Committee, I had the opportunity to go to Kentucky and see our female inmates. I spoke to the warden and we had this discussion about Kentucky. They have this earned time program and it was from that discussion that I decided to bring it back and bring it forth to this legislative body to at least have this discussion about the possibility of giving incentives for our inmates to participate in programs that are offered by the Department.

"What one of the testifiers at our hearing said was that when he understood that there might be an earned time program because he actually was in a jail in Thailand for heroin trafficking, and they had earned time program there. He said that because it was an incentive for him to get involved in the program that the first year he was involved in it, it didn't mean anything to him. The second year he was involved, because he had a long sentence, he started paying attention. By the time the third year came around, he actually said it made sense to him what they were trying to teach him in the program. He said if there hadn't been an incentive he would have never even taken the program.

"So he was grateful that there was an incentive because that was the hook. That's what got him in the program and he said eventually he got the message. I don't think this precludes the Hawaii Paroling Authority from considering the record of the inmate and all the other things that go into determining if someone gets a reduced sentence. So I encourage the Judiciary Committee to further this discussion. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I just want to note my reservations. I just really believe that we should be keeping prisoners in prison longer. We started this Session and a baby was thrown off a bridge. And a guy who had 67 arrests who was supposed to have a 20-year sentence killed a women in broad daylight. I just feel like we're kind of going in the wrong direction and we need to get tougher on criminals and not give incentives to get out earlier. But I'll just vote with reservations because I'm on the Judiciary Committee."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. I don't think this measure is to address hardcore criminals. There are criminals, and there are hardcore criminals, and I think there can be reformed criminals. I think that this gives an opportunity for those people to make better of their lives and give them hope. So this is a tool, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Also in strong support. I really have to commend the Public Safety Committee for taking on this issue. We're looking at vast overcrowding of our prisons, and it is going to be addressed just like with our roads – by building more. We really have to look, really, really re-think our drug laws, our laws about keeping people in jail, and really defining who needs to be kept in and who needs to be let out sooner. That's the only way we're going to address the problem."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2147, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PAROLE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representative Thielen voting no.

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, one of the most important ingredients in a strong education is diversity. The Department of Education provides the public with education that is tailored to fit our educational needs, but broad enough to appeal to a wide array of students. Separate from the DOE's paradigm of education, private schools in Hawaii allow parents choice in pedagogy, diversity in education, and oftentimes a more focused approach to education than a larger institution can provide. The Island Pacific Academy was founded in 2003 to implement contemporary research about cognitive development in young minds. The Academy is also proud to focus on values such as community service and personal accountability.

"Diversity is also a large part of strong community building. Island Pacific Academy, though situated in Kapolei, services a varied student population from all along the Leeward coast up into Central O'ahu. Approximately thirty to thirty five percent of these students receive tuition assistance, transcending socio-economic barriers and encouraging larger-scale community building. This bill will issue Special Purpose Revenue Bonds to assist Island Pacific Academy in expanding their student body's programs and opportunities. An additional classroom building and a gymnasium are part of their expansion goals. Additional classes will allow the Academy to serve a larger portion of the community. A gymnasium will allow their athletic programs to be more competitive and offer a wider array of physical education to that energetic age.

"Perhaps most remarkable, Mr. Speaker, is the financial responsibility that this Academy has shown over the last few years. Act 109 of the Regular Session of 2004 authorized $20 million in Special Purpose Revenue Bonds for Island Pacific Academy's educational facilities. As of this year, the Academy has paid down over three quarters of the debt service for the original Act. This demonstrates investor confidence and community support, a support that we in the Legislature should be proud to mirror. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2614, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ISLAND PACIFIC ACADEMY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict of interest in regard to Stand. Com. Report 147-08. I'm currently representing a charter school in an appeal before the Board of Education. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, in strong support of 147-08. Charter schools are really proving themselves, especially in my community, to be the real innovators and the real leaders in experiential types of learning. They need all the help they can get in this approach. If we can't break down the Department of Education, then we can break out and create better ways to do things. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations on Standing Committee Report number 147-08, Relating to Education.

"This bill allows the Board of Education to remove members of the Charter School Review Panel. I am supportive of requiring the Review Panel to abide by the "sunshine" law, but I am worried about the possible controversy that could occur with this legislation. When the Board of Education abruptly removed the Executive Director of the Charter School Administration, the unfounded decision brought even greater distrust between charter schools and the Board of Education.

"I believe this bill is too broad and needs to be revised. As written, the Board of Education can remove a Charter School Review Panel member without cause. This could give the Board of Education the power to remove anybody who does not totally agree with them. This could render the Review Panel as nothing more than a "rubber stamp" panel. We need an independent and strong review panel that will review and monitor charter schools without the fear of being reprimanded by the Board of Education. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to clarify my vote with reservations and offer short comments. With regard to this Charter School bill, I'm not sure as to why the Charter School community did not come out to testify. And so I'm unclear as to whether or not this is a good bill for them or not.

"There are two parts of this bill. One of which is for the Board to be able to take people off the Charter School Panel, and with that I just don't know if that's a good thing for them especially since the Charter School Panel just started up. The second part of the bill is fine with me in regards to sunshine and having them subject to the Sunshine Law. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations on the same measure, Mr. Speaker. I think instead of frightening and making fearful the members of the Charter School Board, we need to encourage them so they don't have to say something and then fear removal. If we sat on this Floor and every time we spoke we could have a vote of confidence, I don't think anybody would be standing up and speaking.

"If we're going to have strong Charter Schools, we need to be innovative and creative and that means speaking out and not fearing that you're going to be removed. I know some people would like them to be removed. In fact maybe the whole Charter School System should be removed in some people's opinion. But they're there, they're working, we need to give them an opportunity, and this is just the kind of a bill that may tend to frighten them rather than encourage them. Thank you."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"On the same measure, in strong support. If the Charter School Commission were there, were working and were getting things done, this bill wouldn't be necessary."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3220, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I am writing in support of House Bill No. 2413 to provide an income tax credit to physicians practicing in medically underserved areas of our State. In order to address the need for medical access to the poor and uninsured in these underserved areas, this bill aims to reduce the burden of high malpractice insurance premiums for physicians who start a new practice and those already practicing in underserved areas.

"In addition to increasing medical reimbursements, mandating direct payment to providers, and funding scholarships for healthcare workers, this measure is an important piece to an overall strategy to solving Hawaii's healthcare crisis.

"Thank you for this opportunity to offer my strong support for House Bill No. 2413."

Representative Green rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to get a ruling on a potential conflict of interest. This bill would give a tax credit on doctors working in medically underserved areas against their medical malpractice. I do work in those areas, but I don't pay medical malpractice because I'm an employee and it wouldn't apply to me specifically. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2413, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INCOME TAXATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising on Stand. Com. Report No. 154-08, with strong reservations. The purpose of this bill is to protect Hawaii's fragile environment by prohibiting the use of polystyrene foam commonly known as Styrofoam as a disposable food service or a product.

"There are so many uses for Styrofoam that are much larger. On all kinds of packing material, there's no restriction on that. This would mostly hit the fast food operations. It would create a huge expense for them. I'm sure they buy all these things in bulk, although I didn't look at when this would kick in, maybe that's been considered. This is such a small thing.

"There was a big article in the paper this weekend about how we're losing the battle. Garbage is not decreasing, and we passed a bottle bill to do something about that when we knew that the bottle bill would only maybe at best, make up about 3 percent of solid waste. These Styrofoam things crush into hardly anything. Again this is sort of a feel-good thing, but I think it could cost the operators who use these things a lot of money. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2495, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE," passed Second Reading and was referred jointly to the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns and the Committee on Agriculture.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2289, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. 157-08 I would like to vote in opposition of this measure. If you look at the bill, it looks like it's a very good bill, however there are some implications on the negative end on this because every year we are reducing long-term care providers and not developing new ones. Part of the reason why we're losing them is because of over-regulation. Creating an Ombudsman is a duplicative service because there are now departments that monitor long-term care.

"What we need to be looking at are ways to improve the payment for long term care as opposed to giving the money to people who can micro-mange them more. We don't have a lot of abuse and neglect of long-term care. I think this is now an agency where providers that are being micro-managed, and creating ways to help them develop themselves, and paying them better is the way we should be going because we're all aging, and there's a great disparity of the number of people needing care and the care providers. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2289, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LONG-TERM CARE OMBUDSMAN," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representative Cabanilla voting no.

Representative Tsuji, for the Committee on Agriculture presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 158-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2451, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Higher Education; and Representative Caldwell moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2451 and H.B. No. 2452, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Higher Education, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to collectively rise in support of these two measures, 158-08 and 159-08. Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of these two measures. These are about education, preservation and also sustainability of taro in Hawaii. These bills are meant to improve our taro farmers' ability to sustain themselves and to expand and improve their long-term success. I stand steadfast and unwavering in strong support of these two measures and I urge my colleagues to do the same. Mahalo."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Report Nos. 158 and 159, I voted with reservations in Committee. I did that because when we heard these bills along with a few others that I wish we were also voting on, but I don't see them here today, we had had some very compelling testimony from some taro farmers. One in particular was from Waipio Valley who came down from the Big Island.

"There had been a taskforce this past summer, pulling everybody together and working I think from the Department of Ag and some people from the University. That testifier made it very clear that they felt that all these bills were premature and they would prefer that nothing be done. They would like to continue the conversation that they were having that they felt was extremely fruitful.

"So I haven't seen any emails. I've seen nothing that would lead me to believe that they have changed their mind. If I find that so, it will certainly take away any reservation that I have. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.B. No. 2451, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Higher Education; and

H.B. No. 2452, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Higher Education.

It originally was a bill that would want to look into customer service of all our different departments, and its been narrowed down to just looking into the customer service levels of Hawaii Public Housing Authority, and that's one department where they clearly know a lot of things are going on. It's wrong and they want to do better, but we just don't provide them more money. So if we just give them more money, and the money that would be used in this bill, we should just give it to them because I'm sure that they'll know what to do with it to improve their customer service. Thanks."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to Stand. Com. Rep. 173-08. This bill would provide workers' compensation coverage for students participating in school-approved, work-based learning programs. They would theoretically be covered whether they're working for a public or a private employer. I believe this will raise the cost of workers' comp to everybody and I don't think it's necessary. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"On that same measure, in strong support. This will provide workers' compensation benefits for those students that you sometimes see in our offices who are volunteering. It's already done in the private side. The private side already allows workers' compensation benefits to those volunteers, the same person, same people, same volunteers. This is just extending it so when you volunteer in government, in public offices, that will be also extended the same coverage.

"I think it is good to protect those volunteers that come to our Legislature and to help us, and also so that they will be able to pay experiences in the Legislature and maybe someday become Governor."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the Clerk cast a vote with strong reservations vote for me on Standing Committee Report No. 206-08. This is relating to transportation and airports.

"Mr. Speaker, what it's going to do is establish the Car Rental Consumer Facility Charge Special Fund and all proceeds from the car rental customer facility charge will be deposited into that. That's going to mean that our local folks and our visitors are going to have another charge tacked onto to their rental bill because of this facility charge.

"The industry was very split on this. This was not something that was supported broadly by all the members of the industry. Enterprise for example, had very strong concerns. There were other concerns that the rental car money would collect and be diverted to projects not related to the facility for which it was charged. In other words, people in Maui might be paying into this and yet the money might go for something to be improved over on Oahu.

"I think we keep hitting the rental car people; the people that rent those cars. We keep hitting them with ad ons, ad ons, ad ons and I don't believe this is a good way to go. Everything else is costing more. We don't want our local folks to have to pay more when they go to the Neighbor Island, and we don't want to price visitors out of our location. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm also rising with some strong reservations on this measure. In Committee, the Department of Transportation had some problems with the bill because it doesn't identify a specific location. I think some of the other rental cars on the Neighbor Islands felt they would have to charge their customers this customer facility charge for a facility that they would not enjoy. It would be built on Oahu. There's just a lot of pukas in this bill; a lot of questions. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I also rise with strong reservations. I had the opportunity to be with the Governor in Japan when we got 'taken to the woodshed' about the Japanese visitor being taken for granted. They pointed to the less expensive, very elaborate resorts in various parts of the world. I'm afraid this is going to play right into their hands from the international visitor point of view.

"From the local car rental, it's going to bump up the cost of living. Do we need to increase the cost of living? In the last five years, water and sewer fees have gone up 41 percent. Gasoline has gone up 87 percent. Electricity: 85 percent. Property taxes: 108 percent. Do we really need to put the cost of cars on top of all that? I don't think so. I mean, maybe we need something like this, but the timing of it is incorrect and the way that it's being approached is divisive. Thank you, Mr. Chair."

Representative Nishimoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. In Committee, and the previous speaker was correct, the industry was split on this. But what they did universally agree on is that we do need a centralized facility. How we get there, there were some differences of opinion.

"This bill is not perfect, but it will continue the discussion. We did need a centralized facility to keep up with other tourist destinations, such as Orlando and Los Angeles. So I support this strongly and I urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3415, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, in strong support for 207-08. This is really addressing an ongoing thing that's been going on for as long as I can remember, probably longer hopefully.

"We have all these rights of ways. If you look at an old map of Maui, there are roads that crisscross that map, the '57 map, that were public roads that allowed folks to get from Kihei to Upcountry in a straight shot that exist right now. They're still there. There's one that goes by Paia called Sunnyside Road. That's another one of these old government roads that could be used to alleviate congestion, as well as provide for corridors for greenways, in-transient corridors, but it's always been left for the Attorney General to determine each one individually and it's a very long and contentious process.

"What this would really do is ease this and make it to the Consumer Affairs Committee, to make it standardized and a very simple type of procedure, to determine who owns the road. We'd be able to connect right now, Makena to Upcountry in this little road that exists and has existed for years, but just nobody has been able to figure out whose it is. So it's high time that we make this an easy and fast thing for the betterment of our communities. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, and may I have the words of the speaker of Kihei entered into the Journal as if they were my own? And just to add a couple quick comments. It takes 15 to 20 years to build any new roads. If we're going to aggressively address traffic mitigation we have to look at these old government roads. This process has been going on, and on, and on forever and we need to identify so we can have repaired and upgraded these roads, be it the county or the State.

"There's also another hidden piece of the equation and that is that many places were people have homes, where they can buy homes, are only serviced by these roads. But because of their jurisdictional disputes, these roads have not been repaired at all and they have become literally, pothole messes that greatly impact people. The repair bills and damage bills to cars are inordinate. The frustration is just overflowing. They want to see something done now and I think this is a good approach. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Today predators use the Internet to befriend, seduce and ultimately harm our children. This measure will enhance the Attorney General's Hawaii Intimate Crime Against Children's Unit with expansive services to proactively combat the cyber crimes by progressively educating our children, adults and teachers.

"This cyber safety initiative will provide customized educational presentations for K to 8th grade and offer community seminars. If we can educate our children, teachers, parents and caregivers through our cyber safety initiative, we will definitely avoid many online dangers for our keiki. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I would like a no vote also on 217 with a brief comment. This is Hawaii. We are the ones who respect everybody. We have sensitivity to culture, language, religion. And this bill unfortunately calls upon some people to go into a Muslim restaurant and ask for pork, if you know the analogy. You don't go into a Catholic hospital and ask for an abortion or other kinds of remedial things.

"What we need here is an understanding that the land under St. Francis is Catholic owned, and there's a contract between the land-owner and the corporation; that they will operate a Catholic hospital. Why is this not an exemption? Year after year, I know it comes up. It's sensitive, it's hard, but I think if we come back to the aloha spirit and sensitivity to other's beliefs, you're never going to have a Muslim eating pork, and you're never going to have a Catholic doing abortion, so why do we do this bill? Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sonson rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to make a few comments in opposition to measure. My opposition is not because I'm a Catholic, and St. Francis is owned by the Catholic Church. But my fear is that because of the fines that will be levied on the respective hospital that will not provide the emergency contraceptive services, and I'm certainly not opposed to that. This particular hospital, the fines may be unbearable, and they may stop their services at some point in time.

"They provide very important services throughout the State and especially in Neighbor Island communities like Hana. They provide dialysis services. They're one of the top in renal health services. If they were to stop providing these specialized services they have, it will hurt the whole community. Not just the church. Not just the hospital.

"So what I am asking is that when this gets to the Finance Committee, if they can look at these questions of the fines and look at some other measure, possibly to convince them to have and to provide the services. If not, provide an exemption. Provide an exemption because they provide too much of the necessary services for us throughout the State. I believe that it's not too much to ask. We've made many exemptions in the past for different kinds of programs. We can make an exemption for this. Thank you very much."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict on this matter. In my law firm, I actually represent Planned Parenthood," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative B. Oshiro continued in support, stating:

"Thank you very much. Given that I'd like to stand and give a few comments in support. Very briefly, I just wanted to counter some of the arguments that have been raised regarding the First Amendment. First and foremost I want to point out that what we have here is a covenant that's running with the land, it's not anybody that's currently operating the facility of St. Francis or as it used to be known as St. Francis, that has a, 'religious belief' that may be infringed upon when it comes to emergency contraceptive. All we have is a covenant that runs with the land. So we're not infringing on anybody's practice.

"But let's get to the next question which is the freedom of religion. If we look at that, we are not by intent burdening their religion. That's just an incidental affect. If we had been doing that with an intentional act toward burdening their religion, that would potentially be subject to strict scrutiny of the highest standard under the freedom of religion analysis. But instead what we have is just an incidental affect.

"When you have an incidental affect that applies to everybody, but they may be swept in, the question is whether you apply strict scrutiny, or the next lower level which is just a heightened scrutiny. If it's a heightened scrutiny, which is as I purport it is, all you have to show is there is a particularly important government goal, and I think protection of sexual assault victims is a very, very important goal and easily meets that test.

"The next prong of that test is whether any exemption would substantially hinder the fulfillment of that goal, and here I would argue that it would. I think providing an exemption would undermine the goal of what we want to provide which is a network so that any sex assault victim can go to any facility and feel that they can get the adequate treatment that they need.

"And for those reasons, I don't feel that the First Amendment analysis, or the freedom of religion analysis is applicable. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to respond, stating:

"Yes, rebuttal please. Of course I'm no attorney, to the learned Floor Leader who I admire for his skills in law, and certainly what he is saying is a lot of truth. But we must remember, when you say it provides a lower standard, I don't understand that, because it does at least provide a covenant that you don't provide those kinds of services. And this covenant then prohibits the hospital from providing the emergency services. That is my fear.

"As we go along, I'll be talking of course to the learned Floor Leader and try to understand a little bit more, that in fact there is some protection because it's a lower standard. But at this point Mr. Speaker, I am fearful that this lower standard will provide a fine and that has a potential of hurting the hospital, when we know that all hospitals are working at a loss. It's going to further exacerbate the problem. So before I get too emotional on this, I'll sit down, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Brief rebuttal to the learned Floor Leader from Aiea. I believe he's overstepping the nature of the contract between the landowner and the provider of the services, or the owner of the hospital. To my understanding there's a contract clause that they will in effect operate under Catholic guidance and principles, the hospital. Saying that there's no nexus between the landowner and the operation of the hospital, I think he's overstepping a big, big factor.

"And if I go back to my original analogy, it's like the landlord was a Muslim who rents to somebody who's going to sell pork. It's just not logical that there is no nexus between the two. So if you see that nexus, that relationship, it's clear that an exemption would just put this aside and all this wrangling and all these constitutional issues would be put to rest. We just have to be sensitive to all the beliefs of others, which we do in every case, in all issues. So why not this one, Mr. Speaker? Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I'm standing in opposition, and I'd like to offer a couple of comments. I was at the hearing of this particular matter, and Members have dealt with this issue over and over in the past Sessions and some of us did support it. I for one have supported an exemption. But the testimony at this particular hearing when this was heard in Judiciary, was revealing in this way.

"First they say there is a protocol that exists. That when there is a report of a sexual assault, that the emergency services like the hospital, the police, those who are first responders adhere to a certain protocol, and that is to ensure that this particular victim of sexual assault goes to a facility that's suited for that particular condition or injury. And by the way, it's the Kapiolani Women's and Children's Hospital.

"When listening to the proponents of the measure very carefully, I understood that we do want to include other kinds of emergencies. For example, somebody that walks into a St. Francis hospital or any hospital, or any emergency room, that somehow if it's revealed during the process of treatment that there is a sexual assault whether it be that particular same incident or previously, that then they would also want the hospital emergency responders to give the same kinds of response. I think that by using the sexual assault victims as a way to gain sympathy in this particular measure I think that's a misrepresentation of actual reality of what's happening out there.

"What is happening out there is that sexual assault victims are being cared for properly with a certain protocol. If we want to advance that agenda however, which is destroy any opposition to abortion, I think that is a separate matter and I think that what's being accomplished, by trying to force a facility who will adhere to their particular religion, or adhere to a contract that limits their ability to accept certain kinds of procedures that is abortion.

"I understood also from the testimony that the Catholic services do provide some counseling. Let me give you an example. According to the testimony there is something from the Catholic church that says that if a question arises whether this person had been a sexual assault victim, the question then is whether or not she would be subjected to a pregnancy test. If a person is subjected to a pregnancy test and it comes out negative, we would allow this pill to be administered. We would not be in opposition to that. However if the person comes out pregnant under this particular test, then we do have other means to provide help by paying for this person's transportation from this clinic to another clinic. I don't see any reason why we could not allow such things to happen.

"Why resort to this when there are other means to achieve the same goal? If we're truly concerned about sexual assault victims, why don't we look at that? But at the same time, do we need to put our thumb on this particular facility and say, 'Yeah, yeah. You're going to have to do it too.' I think that's what's happening here. I think that the facility, St. Francis is a very important facility needed to achieve our goal which is to provide needed medical care. I think that we should also provide help for sexual assault victims in other ways and they can also be of help to that because they agree, they pay for the cost of transportation, they agree to ensure that they will receive the kinds of help that they cannot receive in St. Francis. I don't think this is unreasonable, given that they do have the right and they have a constitutional … I'm almost done."

Representative Nakasone rose to yield his time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Sonson continued, stating:

"I can make my point in less than 30 seconds. I will again urge my colleagues to look at the real reality. It's already been achieved. If we want to help sexual assault victims, it's already been achieved. We do not need to put our thumb on this facility. That is not necessary. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. Many would agree and support healthcare institutions that limit their service to members of their own faith, such as Christian Scientists' sanatoriums, should be allowed to use religious beliefs as a framework for providing services. However, when religion affiliate organizations such as a clinic or a hospital move into a secular purpose, that is providing medical care or social services to the general public, and accepts public funding, that organization should no longer be shielded from the general application of the law.

"There are three reasons why the status quo in Hawaii is not good enough when it comes to emergency care services for rape victims. First the prescribed rape treatment is a protocol, not a law or even a rule or regulation. This protocol is a recommended practice, not a mandate. The protocol can be ignored, withdrawn or weakened in any situation, at any point.

"Second, although the existing rape protocols have been a positive step in improving the care of sexual assault survivors, it stops short of requiring hospitals to provide an emergency contraceptive on site. Hospitals may give the patient a prescription to be filled elsewhere or refer her to another provider. However, sending a traumatized rape victim to a pharmacy or yet to another health facility should not be an acceptable practice, especially when it concerns dispensing a time-sensitive medication.

"Third, according to a 2002 Healthy Mothers, Healthy Babies survey, 90 percent of Hawaii's hospital emergency rooms do not provide emergency contraceptives on site to rape victims. So if a rape victim chooses not to report the rape to the police or call a rape crisis center, but instead goes directly to an emergency room, there is a possibility that all treatment options may not be disclosed. This will increase the chance of an unintended pregnancy and the victim having to face an agonizing decision of what to do next should a pregnancy result from the rape.

"A law is needed to ensure a rape victim has all health options disclosed to her to make an informed decision based on her own personal belief, not the institution, but her own personal belief.

"There's one more point I want to make. This is the ethical and religious directive for Catholic healthcare services to make an exception for rape victims. That directive states: A female who has been raped should be able to defend herself against a potential conception from sexual assault. And there's an article in the September/October 2002 Health Progress, this is the journal of the Catholic Health Association of the United States and written by the Association's Senior Director of Ethics and it explains this exemption. The article states that, 'Catholic teachings allow for the administration of emergency contraception within moral limits. Measures taken to prevent conception in such cases fall outside the general prohibition against contraception because the assailant act is a violation of justice and any semen within a woman's body is considered a continuation of the unjust aggression against which she may willfully defended herself.'

"So I hope these arguments help this body to understand the situation better. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support of the measure. Mr. Speaker according to law enforcement reports, a woman is raped every six minutes. In addition to the already traumatic experience, another issue which is also avoidable is the potential of an unwanted pregnancy. In fact, over 32,000 women become pregnant each year due to sexual assault. Although emergency contraception may provide some relief for the victims of a heinous crime of sexual assault, only a small percentage of women are able to take advantage of it's availability.

"Emergency contraception is an effective, safe FDA approved method to prevent unintended pregnancy, I repeat: to prevent unintended pregnancy. If the person is pregnant, it does not cause termination. It should be easily available in all hospitals if they are the first place victims look to get treatment for sexual assault. The bill mandates that hospitals provide information and emergency contraception to sexual assault victims. While it's impossible to reverse the horrific actions of a sex offender, I believe this will facilitate the process of healing for the victim. How emergency contraception could be denied to the victim of the violent act of rape is really beyond my comprehension. We must be sensitive to the needs of victims and I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 466, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Meyer, Pine, Souki and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Sonson, Takai and Takumi being excused.

And just to point out to Members again, that this was a measure that was taken up and was very contentious at the end of the last Session, and that there are some serious concerns about an audit to target one specific agency.

"One suggestion as it moves forward is maybe, if a concern of this body is with regard to the individuals who are serviced by this agency and other agencies, that the audit be expanded to look at the ways in which the agencies work together and advocate for the children who are the subject of their responsibilities. "Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Just a couple of words in support of this wonderful measure. This measure will ensure that we have fairness in the market in insurance premiums. What's been happening is that these organizations that hire temporary workers and assign them to job sites or other employers where they're going to work, they are not being classified fairly. Essentially a person that could be classified as a secretary would be climbing a roof top and installing some tiles when they are assigned to a construction jobsite.

"This measure is to ensure that for workers' compensation purposes, although these individuals are technically hired by a temporary agency, people like Altres Staffing for example, when they are assigned to ABC Construction they will be reclassified to be a construction worker so that when the premiums are set, it's based upon that employer, not the employer that takes care of the human resources management type of activities. That's all we're doing. We just want to make sure that the market place is fair. Thank you very much."

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1598, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to cast a no vote on 248-08, Relating to Healthcare, and just a couple of comments. This bill gets us closer to what I know on a national level is being debated. And some in this body would like to see as an inevitable universal healthcare. We want everybody to have healthcare. That's why Hawaii has almost as seamless a system, whether you're close or you're far, or you're rich or you're poor. If you really want healthcare, you can get it. But I think this plan is pushing to the extent that it wants the universal healthcare to the extent that the government is going to end up doing what we haven't yet fully realized that the private sector can do.

"And I would only suggest that as we move in this direction with vehemence, or at least some do, that they take caution, that those systems that do exist, everybody will have universal healthcare, but the cost of it is the issue. Having access is easy, but paying for it and then having the ability to tolerate long lines and waiting for services is an entirely different issue. So healthcare yes, but in a way that is systematic. And rather than throw the baby out with the bath, let's work on the present system, and this one kind of points to the inevitable.

"We've already made up our minds and we're creeping up to it. If we having a budget shortage now, and we're concerned about the future, this bill is going to sneak up on us and really surprise us if we don't watch at the speed by which we're going down the slope. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. This system has failed us – the health system has failed us that we currently live with. The reason to pass the universal healthcare bill is for planning purposes – for planning purposes, which is what House Bill 1598 does. It is to prepare us for the inevitability of a failed system. If we read today's paper, West Hawaii Today, and you'll find the same material presented on Saturday in the Star-Bulletin, you'll read the top headline, 'HMSA exempt from $560 million over past 10 years.'

"Our predominant insurer on our backs has benefited from $560 million in taxes from tax exempt status, while our providers which we hear over and over again, are feeling they're not being reimbursed enough. Our hospitals are in a crisis. HHSC is asking us for $25.4 million for right now and over $50 million in the upcoming months for the next budget cycle. We are in crisis. We can't rely on our insurers to take care of the situation any longer, that's why we have to plan. I'm going to continue to bring this up because soon your hospitals are going to close. Soon you're going to see people begging, begging to find a physician, because they can't find them because our current system just isn't cutting it. So when I asked to plan something, I think we should take it seriously.

"I do hope everyone will read this article. I'm going to read only the first paragraph: "Hawaii's largest health insurance provider dodged $560 million in State taxes over the past 10 years. Even as the State safety net hospitals were shorted $30.8 million contributing to their request this Session for an emergency tax paid bailout." Our system's failing us, we better do something fast. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Brief rebuttal. The learned gentleman from the Big Island is correct. Government hospitals are failing. Private hospitals are actually in the black in the State at this particular time, which is pointing out to what inevitably is going to take place when the government takes over the hospital system we're going to get exactly what the gentleman from the Big Island just spoke about. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, I just need to rise in strong support of this measure. I think there's a lot of misinformation and misunderstanding about what's being proposed here. It's not a takeover of the hospitals. It's a takeover of the payment system and that's the problem that we're facing with all these various nonprofits, as well for-profit insurance companies, is that we need to move it over to single-payer system.

"What that does, it just says that we're going to take it over; we're going to make sure that everybody gets paid, but we're going to have to look at some middle person to do that for us. So it actually can encourage private hospitals. Private hospitals can thrive on this, but we need to take the profit and the money that is going to something else before it goes to the hospitals, and correct it and actually control it so that everybody pays into one, it doesn't get all spread out and it actually is much more efficient.

"A single payer system has proved to be a much better buy. It uses money more efficiently. And most importantly, it keeps people from being actually refused services or having services taken out because these companies can do that and say, 'Well, we can't take you because of pre-existing conditions,' and those types of things.

"So we're not even talking about universal in the sense of everybody getting it. We're making sure that everybody does get it and it's not being controlled by HMOs and nonprofits and others like that. But it needs to be just a very simple and easy system to understand, and single payer has proven itself that way. Thank you."

Representative Green rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with regards to the comments that were made earlier, the private hospitals are not in the black. They're horribly in the red. In testimony that was presented to us over and over again this Session in the Health Committee and in informational briefings, that the majority of the hospitals are deeply in the red. We're over $150 million in the red for this coming fiscal year; $150 million in the red. And the projections that came down from the federal government in the last 72 hours show that Queen's Hospital alone will lose an additional $60 million just from Medicare cuts should they go in effect – $60 million additional in the red.

"All of the hospitals, including their chief advocate, Rich Meyers have gone through this with us over and over again, that there is a reimbursement crisis and it's going to necessitate a massive State bailout unless we shift our attention to better reimbursements or a totally new approach. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with comments. I supported this bill in Committee mainly because I look at it as a compromise bill. We as a body, do not want to go into tort reform, medical tort reform, which is in my belief, contributing to a payment crisis because of defensive medicine.

"There's higher cost of medical care because doctors can't order a lot more procedures and tests to protect themselves. On the other hand, we as a body have elected to pay more for Medicaid providers. So what do they do? And I think that universal healthcare to decrease the cost of processing medical care is a solution. It's not a perfect solution, but I think it's something that we as body can chew on and probably favor, for most of us. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to this measure. Just some of the things that came out in testimony were that the Hawaii Medical Association brought up the fact that there is an infinite demand for healthcare. And placing decisions in the hands of our government will not increase the effectiveness of healthcare. It will result in rationing, long delays, denial of necessary, but expensive therapies and procedures, and inhibit the development of new therapies and procedures. The Hawaii Medical Association noted that in wealthier countries, with a single payer system such as Canada, people come to the U.S. for services unavailable in their own country under the single payer system.

"And finally, the Hawaii Association of Health Plans, brought the fact up that financing a single payer system would require an additional 7 to 8 percent payroll taxes on all Hawaii employers. It would also encourage those who are uninsured and suffering from a catastrophic illness or injury on the Mainland to move back to Hawaii to get healthcare. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support. Thank you. By providing universal healthcare to our residents, we will save employers, hospitals and the State money by having the single payer system. Local service would be accessible to everyone and thus would reduce late stage emergency care for those that could not afford medical care. Moreover, universal healthcare will better address our shortage of physicians and nurses by placing the focus on the recruiting and keeping our doctors and nurses in Hawaii with better pay and a managed healthcare system to address local malpractice and frivolous claims. This viable single payer system will fortify healthcare in Hawaii.

"Currently, business owners are paying substantial amounts to provide mandated healthcare coverage for employees. However, a single payer system will reduce costs because it will be managed and regulated by single entity. And the power of purchasing medical supplies, services, and prescription drugs will give us the leverage to seek and obtain larger savings.

"Hawaii is the first state to have such bold legislation when we passed the Healthcare Act of 1974. Today we stand on the cusp of passing bold legislation, of providing universal healthcare for all of our residents. I believe Hawaii is ready for universal healthcare, therefore I ask all Members to support this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I would like a no vote Mr. Speaker, and written comments, as well as some comments now. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In my written comments I'll go through and rebut some things that have been said, but I'd like to also call attention to a couple other measures, other issues in regard to universal healthcare.

"In doing some of the research and looking at some of the other countries, for instance Australia for one; of course we remain open-minded about how to improve healthcare. I asked an Australian, 'So what is it that happens over there, and do you have a medical malpractice liability insurance reform?' And his answer to me was 'Yes we do. We basically have to have it coupled with our universal healthcare.' For those of you who feel that your access to justice might be hindered because of medical tort reform in order to keep prices down, that may be a possibility for this.

"I would also like to say that there's a good percentage of people that buy supplemental insurance when you have universal healthcare. So those of us who are paying high insurance premiums right now, medical insurance premiums, could possibly get maybe less coverage, and on top of that needing to get supplemental insurance to get the same kind of insurance coverage that we're getting now. That could come into play as well.

"And then in response to, 'This is a single payer system. They're not going to be making decisions.' Let's talk about who pays for some of our programs that government operates right now with regard to insurance. That would be Medicare, Medicaid and those types of things. And sometimes you hear from other people in the community that are under these programs, that some of the decisions made for Medicare and Medicaid are some of the most brutal decisions I guess. And is this the kind of federal system or state or government system that we want to entrust all of our insurance to?

"I understand that there are problems right now. I don't think that this is the way to go. In fact there's other opponents, like the Hawaii Medical Association, and like Healthcare Association of Hawaii. These weren't the suggestions, universal healthcare was not a suggestion of the taskforce that we participated in, that we paid money to participate in or created for healthcare. I will finish the rest of my remarks in written comments."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong opposition to H.B. 1598, H.D. 1 establishing an agency to operate a single-payer universal healthcare insurance system. Some argue that a universal healthcare system will save money, make medical service accessible to everyone, and be affordable.

"I submit an article that I wrote for Hawaii Business Magazine.

"Is Hawaii ready for Universal Health Care?" I do not believe that Universal Health Care is good for Hawaii's people. Although other states such as California, Maine and Vermont are considering forms of universal or near universal health care systems, we really need to consider the impacts of a universal system and how it will affect our state. The goals of health care are most commonly affordability, accessibility, and quality. It is extremely difficult to attain all three.

A Universal Health Care system is essentially health insurance for all. There is a misconception that this would mean "free" health insurance coverage. However, in life, nothing is free. Most of the burden will be shouldered by those who currently are employed or have insurance. Stories and data show that countries with universal health care tend to be highly taxed. Ironically, big government decision making often creates the same problems it was supposed to cure. Goals for attaining accessible, affordable, and quality health care tend to fall by the wayside.

Several countries such as Britain, Canada, Australia and Sweden provide universal health care. In these countries, studies show that individuals are unable to find family doctors, have a hard time receiving routine health care, and are placed on waiting lists for medical care. Some Canadians wait up to two months to get a Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI), Computed Tomography (CT), or angiogram. Thirty percent of Australians buy supplemental health insurance. Americans are a litigious society needing reform. In my opinion unrestricted lawsuits will never mix well with a Universal Health Care system.

The further we move away from personal responsibility for your health costs, the farther we get from containing health care costs. Hawaii's pre-paid health care system is not perfect, but I believe a universal health care system is too extreme. Focusing on wellness care and early intervention for insured and those depending on government's safety net, and encouraging more competition in the health insurance industry would yield better results.

"Thank you Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm just going to vote with reservations. I do believe the intent and the desire of this bill is good-hearted. I'm just concerned about the overall impacts on our whole State budget and what it means for other social programs.

"I found the testimony from DCCA very compelling in that they did mention and show that many of the people who are uninsured in Hawaii do qualify currently for some type of government program. The Director recommended that perhaps we should look into improving those programs to include those people who fall through some type of a loophole that doesn't allow them to be insured, instead of dramatically changing our whole healthcare system in Hawaii. I'm still listening, but I'm just not quite convinced it's the right way to go."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in opposition to this measure. I will simply point out that there are many opponents to this measure and testifying against this bill was the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, the Department of Budget and Finance, the Hawaii Medical Association, the Healthcare Association of Hawaii and the Hawaii Association of Health Plans, which are all our health insurance companies. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations. I know I'll be hearing this in the Consumer Protection Committee, but I am concerned about the measure. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support with reservations on 250-08. This bill will require mandatory sentencing, and I just want to say like I did before that it will have an impact on the Department of Public Safety, our jails, and our whole system. I'd like to see a financial impact analysis of that. Thank you."

Representative Bertram rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of H.B. 2334 which establishes mandatory minimum prison terms for certain offenses against pregnant women.

"I reflect back on my two pregnancies and cannot comprehend the thought of losing a child to a violent act. We hear too many stories of pregnant women being punched, kicked, or stabbed and sometimes killed. In California, a judge sentenced Scott Peterson to die by lethal injection for killing his wife Laci and their unborn child. Locally, Tyrone Vesperas is facing charges for stabbing his wife who was nine months pregnant in the stomach and for the death of his son Tyran Vesperas-Saniatan who was 14 years old.

"A child in utero is a life and not to respect it as such is inhumane. As a mother, I've felt my children in my body growing and moving. The relationship between mother and child does not start upon birth, but at the time of knowing and loving your child. For some, it is even before the pregnancy test shows positive.

"Although no one can replace the life of a child, it is comforting to know that we respect it by offering some form of legal justice for his or her lost life. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 267-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3022, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3022, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLE VII, SECTIONS 12 AND 13, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII RELATING TO TAX INCREMENT BONDS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Manahan, McKelvey, Nakasone, Takai, Tokioka and Wakai being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 268-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2823, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2823, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to cast a no vote on Standing Committee Report No. 268, House Bill 2823, relating to capping liability for dam and reservoir owners. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think it's a disincentive for the dam owners and the owners of the waterways. It's a disincentive for them to keep those systems in good repair if we cap their liability. I think it's the wrong thing to do and I wish Members would look at that pretty carefully. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"On Standing Committee Report 268-08, I'd like to register a no vote on that measure. I just wanted to note that the passage of this kind of legislation will have devastating effects on the plaintiffs and victims' families on the Koloko case by removing liability."

Representative Saiki rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to register a vote with reservations on Stand. Com. Report 268 and 269, but I wanted to talk a little bit about 268, Relating to Dam Safety. It's just that in the agriculture area, we're looking for diversified ag. These many dams that are now privately owned, had previously been owned by the plantations are such a resource. If the liability is so great, some of these dams will be filled in and be eliminated because of the cost to the owners to insure themselves and all the claims that might be brought against them. Maybe there should be a cap or something, but we don't want to discourage people from maintaining these dams. If the liability is too high, they'll get rid of them. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Meyer be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Sonson rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to stand in opposition to this dam bill, 268-08. On the surface it's usually very good. It looks like a good idea to limit liability on people that create things for the benefit of society, or the benefit of certain things in our community such as water. By allowing a bill such as this to go forward, or similar bills like this that limit liability on people that conduct things that are ultimately very dangerous, and capturing water is very dangerous.

"The purpose of having a liability upon these individuals who participate in this risky conduct, albeit there is benefit to it, to ensure that they take into consideration the damage that they will do if things fail. That has to be part of the business plan, if this is a business, if this is an entity that does something, that is capturing something that is dangerous to people, then they have to take into consideration what happens. If a dam breaks, it will release tons of water, and this water will have to go somewhere and essentially it may hit homes, farms, cars, you get the picture. These dangers and these risks must be balanced at the outset. If you remove the liability then ultimately you're saying, 'You know, it's not that risky. Go ahead. Make the dam not as strong as it could be, because it's too costly.' No, that's not what we want to promote. We want to promote safety.

"We want to promote activities that will be beneficial to the community and not damaging to the community in the long run as we have seen. If this is in response to what has happened in Kauai, I think this is the wrong way to go. We're sending the wrong message out. So I'm voting no, Mr. Speaker and I urge the Committee that's going to see this next, the Committee of Judiciary, to please take a look at this particular measure. Well, I'd rather they not take a look at the particular measure at all. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2823, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DAM SAFETY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Morita, Saiki, Sonson and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Manahan, McKelvey, Nakasone, Takai, Tokioka and Wakai being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 269-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3016, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3016, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Belatti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I'd like a ruling on a potential conflict, Mr. Speaker, On Stand. Com. 269-08. My law firm is involved in a cause of action against Maui County involving the use of taser weapons," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti continued in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With that, may I also please express some reservations on this measure? I would note that in the Committee Report it states that the Committee finds that electrical or tasers guns are useless in non-lethal alternatives.

"I'd just like to point out that there are some serious concerns globally about the use of tasers. There's that very unfortunate incident in a Canadian airport where an elderly man was killed with the use of a taser. Amnesty International also raises very serious concerns of the use of the taser. So as this bill moves forward, I would just like the Committees to look at that carefully. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3016, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAW ENFORCEMENT," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Manahan, McKelvey, Nakasone, Takai, Tokioka and Wakai being excused.

Representatives Morita and Ito, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection and the Committee on Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 270-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3445, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred jointly to the Committee on Agriculture and the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3445, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred jointly to the Committee on Agriculture and the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Souki rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, I have a potential conflict of interest. This concerns Standing Committee Report 270-08. I'm a member of the board of directors of the company that sells bottled water," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Souki continued in opposition to the measure, stating:

"And correspondingly, I wish to speak against this measure. I shall make it very short because I know it goes on to a further Committee. However this bill will again, increase the cost of doing business in Hawaii. It provides for royalties to the respective companies. It provides for moratoriums. I believe that we need to seriously look at the consequences of this particular bill.

"Now I am not against recycling. I think it's a very good thing. I think that there's other ways to do this other than make to some people profit from this measure. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to speak on the bill relating to bottled water, Stand. Com. 270-08, and join with the Speaker Emeritus with reservations. It seems as though because of the law of the land, that anything under the surface of any piece of the property anywhere in the State belongs to the State, we've expended what otherwise is in the Constitution that all mineral rights belong to the State, whether it's geothermal, whether you have gold in your backyard, you have silver in your backyard, or whatever, oil etc., it belongs to the State. I think we've gone to the extreme now where even the water that you pull out belongs to the State.

"Mr. Speaker, I think this is a good point of deliberation of why in the future, if we want to change this, the Constitutional Convention is where this actually belongs, even though this is the beginning of the discussion. Because it's in the Constitution that everything below the surface belongs to the State of Hawaii. So by right, they're correct.

But by principle, I think it's a bit going above and beyond what we should be doing which is sharing our resources with the people on top of the land. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker I'm rising in opposition to Stand. Com. 270. This bill was amended, but it then created this moratorium on the manufacture, production, processing and sale of bottled water originating from ground water sources in the State. There were a lot of different business entities that testified against the bill. This is an example of us passing a law that would put a lot people out of business, and I don't think that's something that we'd want to do. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"On Standing Committee Report 270-08, Relating to Water, in support. We have to remember that water is a public trust resource that is managed by the State for benefit of Hawaii's people. And basically right now, the bottled water companies take this affordable water, the water that our infrastructure has made affordable, and repackaged it for a profit. So I believe that the State, especially the people, in preserving the resources, are entitled to a royalty for this commodity. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 3445, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WATER," passed Second Reading and was referred jointly to the Committee on Agriculture and the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns with Representatives Meyer and Souki voting no, and with Representatives Manahan, McKelvey, Nakasone, Takai, Tokioka and Wakai being excused.

No. 2862, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WIND ENERGY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Manahan, McKelvey, Nakasone, Takai, Tokioka and Wakai being excused.

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on Stand. Com. Report 272-08. Mr. Speaker, this measure would establish an expedited review and approval process for obtaining State and county permits for the siting, development, construction and operation of renewable energy facilities. I am one who stands in strong support of renewable energy and the building of these facilities, but I am concerned that this measure is not the way to go and I have four simple points to make.

"First, some would characterize the actions surrounding the Superferry as an attempt to get around and expedite the process of approving the Superferry. I don't think that we should be encouraging this kind of practice. If the process was good then, then they're good now.

"Second, the Committee reports that this measure would delegate authorities to the Department of Health for the issuance of air, water and ocean permits for various projects. The Committee Report goes on to say that this transfer would require significant changes to State laws. Excuse me, let me back up. At the federal level the US EPA delegates authority to the Department of Health for the issuance of State permits. What this measure does is run afoul of those federal laws that protect our air and water, by putting the responsibility in the hands of DBEDT's Director as its energy resources coordinator. That's very concerning to me.

"Third, Mr. Speaker, the Committee Report points out that there are other measures moving and are alive to address this issue of siting of renewable energy facilities and I urge that we look at those measures.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, again the issue of empowering the Director of the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism, I would hope that as we move forward that we make sure that we are funding DBEDT as a way to get this issue of helping to facilitate renewable energies. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Belatti be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

No. 273-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2590, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2590, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to register reservations on H.B. 2590, Stand. Com. Rep. 273. Being a member of the Sustainability Task Force and looking at the concerns listed in the Committee Report, I'm going to look forward to sitting on EDB and hearing how those concerns are addressed. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2590, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SUSTAINABILITY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns with Representatives Manahan, McKelvey, Nakasone, Takai, Tokioka and Wakai being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 288 and House Bill 2778, House Draft 1, I would like to explain my reservations. On this particular measure, DBEDT is tasked to study tax credits and DBEDT felt that they were not the right agency to do a study on taxes because they do not have the information. The Tax Department expressed a willingness to do this as they have the information. Also, they were a little concerned about handing over certain records to DBEDT because of privacy considerations.

"So I think it's a good idea to do a study on tax credits, and this is on all the tax credits that we have. But I think it should not be done by DBEDT who did not want to do it. Thank you very much."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Marumoto be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Yamashita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support of the same measure, No. 288. Mr. Speaker this measure is designed to look at the impacts of tax credits and all tax credits. DBEDT is tasked to do that. And as we went through this measure looking for the right agency to do it, whether it be DOTAX or if there are tax credits that benefit the human services, if they were to do a study on the impacts. But we felt that this measure is to look at the impacts socially and economically and DBEDT is probably is the proper place to put this.

"As far as tax information that may be confidential, in testimony they said they are trying to work on ways that they can get the information between the departments without compromise. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "I'd also like to register with reservations on this measure. I just don't think that we should have to have workers' compensation coverage for students while they're interning."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Just a clarification. I guess I am in support, strong or otherwise. Mr. Speaker the purpose of this bill is, and let me give you a real life example. Farrington High School has the Teacher Cadet Program whereby seniors in that high school who aspire to a career in teaching enter this Teacher Cadet Program. And as a part of that program they go out and actually work in schools. Under the current workers' compensation law, if they work at a private pre-school and they get hurt on the job, they're covered under our workers' compensation laws, as well they should be.

"However, there is a loophole. If they happen to teach at a public elementary school, say a kindergarten class, and they get hurt on the job, they are not covered. It seems to me that if a student in this program is working in a private or a public setting and gets injured on the job, they should qualify for workers' compensation.

"This bill merely extends that coverage for worker's compensation, not just in the private setting, but also in the public setting. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Standing Committee Report 298-08, Relating to the Historic Preservation, in strong support. What's troubling about this issue, Mr. Speaker is that we passed this bill in 2003; one of the first times that we have preserved some 11,000 acres of South Kona because of its tremendous historic value. The Governor came to Kona, signed the bill in 2003. The kupuna from Milolii were there. We provided funding for the appraisal of the land so that we could start to negotiate the purchase for a trade of that land, and nothing has happened since 2003.

"We keep extending the life of this bill in the hopes that at some point the Administration will recognize the value of this tremendously historic piece of land, and proceed to acquire it through either land exchange or purchase.

"Mr. Speaker, you've been there. All the members of this body have been there, and we recognize the great value of these 11,000 acres. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, in support for Stand. Com. Report 321. Reducing the offense of promoting intoxicating liquor to a minor from a misdemeanor to a petty misdemeanor will permit more expeditious resolutions of these cases, because these cases will be adjudicated by bench trials instead of jury trials. This is pursuant to our case law, State v. Lindsey. In addition the focus of this bill is on alcohol. This is the number one drug of choice for teens in Hawaii.

"According to the Surgeon General of the United States, underage alcohol consumption is widespread and persistent. It is a public health and safety problem that creates serious personal, social and economic consequences for our keiki, our families and our communities. Underage alcohol is more likely to kill young people than all illegal drugs combined.

"In 2005, underage drinkers consumed 7.2 percent of all alcohol sold in Hawaii, totaling $66 million in sales. In fact, a substantial percentage of our students reported that it's very easy to get alcohol. And these percentages increase with age. For 8th graders, 47.4 percent reported they could get alcohol. For 10th graders, 72.3 percent. And for 12th graders, 81.7 percent of our students had indicated they could get alcohol. Twenty-nine percent of all treatment admissions in the State for alcohol abuse were from youth 12 to 20.

"For those reasons I believe that this measure will act as a strong deterrent because it does provide for a jail sentence for first-time offenders, albeit 24 hours. Nevertheless it's still jail sentence, and it is a deterrent. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

This bill however would subject lessees of public lands to these public employee wage and hour requirements, notwithstanding the fact that the lessee is a private entity operating a private business and using no public money.

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. The benefit of music knows no bounds, but without boundaries a benefit cannot be accurately measured. We continue to extol music's educational and cultural benefit, yet year after year refuse to make it more than a one percent priority in our budget. Numerous studies have shown the calming effect of music on children and adults alike. Recent brain research has suggested auditory stimulus can excite neurons from both hemispheres of the brain. Our ability to discern tones resides primarily in the right brain, the "creative" side. The rhythmic aspect of music is concerned generally with the systematic subdivision of beats, honing our math skills.

"Mr. Speaker, the Honolulu Symphony is but one of our State's repositories of musical knowledge and practical exhibition. Our musicians, though employed in other jobs, do their part to enrich our State for a very small stipend. In recent years, they have sometimes had to go without pay for extended periods of time. Mr. Speaker, this is not only a shame for the beneficiaries, it is a disincentive and indeed an insult to those we charge to provide us with this service.

"Mr. Speaker, in these lean times, this bill is also a model of financial accountability. This bill asks for only the differential needed to cover the budget shortfall. Also inserted is a provision that will void the appropriation given that the shortfall is covered. The second clause in Section two of this bill ensures that the amount appropriated will exactly match the amount needed, keeping the Endowment fiscally responsible. Thank you for the opportunity to speak on this measure."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of H.B. 3243 – which would appropriate $810,000 for fiscal year 2007-2008 to support the Honolulu Symphony and its programs. This appropriation would provide significant and well-deserved aid to one of the state's most important cultural treasures, an organization that has significant impact on the economy, reputation, cultural life, and education in Hawai'i.

"The Honolulu Symphony impacts every facet of life within our community. It enhances the reputation of our State nationally and internationally, and adds to the cultural diversity of our State. The symphony provides a much needed cultural benefit to the people of Hawai'i. We are fortunate to have access to a very high caliber of classical music without having to travel to the Mainland or other countries. The Honolulu Symphony Orchestra is critical to the survival of other cultural institutions in Hawai'i, providing musicians for the Hawai'i Opera Theatre, Ballet Hawai'i, Chamber Music Hawai'i, the Maui Pops, and for numerous touring artists year-round. To have a viable symphony is a credit to and valuable asset of the city.

"The Honolulu Symphony is a vital contributor to music education in our State, through education and community outreach programs and through a well-known partnership with the University of Hawai'i Manoa Music Department. An ailing Symphony would significantly impact music education statewide. As legislators, we have a role and responsibility to the children of Hawai'i to support the development of young talent and to nurture interest in the arts. Support for the Honolulu Symphony is, in part, an investment in the future of the children of Hawai'i. Hawai'i should be proud of this cultural treasure and we as legislators ought to give it the support it needs to continue to provide the state with world-class music."

Representative Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support of this measure.

"As the nation's 12th oldest symphony, and the oldest symphony west of the Rocky Mountains, the national and world recognized Honolulu Symphony plays a significant role in representing Hawaii's diverse and dynamic cultural livelihood; it stands as one of Hawaii's most essential cultural, educational, and entertainment resources.

"By the end of this season the Honolulu Symphony Education program will inspire approximately 20,000 Hawaii youth through over 190 programs in schools on Oahu, Maui, and Hawaii Island.

"Furthermore, the Honolulu Symphony has served as an investment in human capital by attracting world-class professional musicians who choose to reside in and add value to our communities. Symphony musicians impact over 10,000 students through private instruction, classroom teaching, recitals, and master classes. Orchestra musicians privately teach over 900 students in Oahu alone. The Honolulu Symphony also supports hundreds of employees from other organizations such as Hawaii Opera Theatre, Ballet Hawaii, and Chamber Music Hawaii, among many public and private schools.

"For the past ten years, the Honolulu Symphony has received worldwide recognition by attracting the highest caliber of musical artists such as Kenny Loggins, Elvis Costello, Diana Krall, and Burt Bacharach.

"Without the necessary funding, the Honolulu Symphony may lose the ability to serve our islands, and our children with the diverse, quality musical education and art it currently offers."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Standing Committee Report No. 374, this is House Bill 3345, which is relating to boating facilities at Keehi Lagoon. I'd like to cast a no-vote Mr. Speaker, and just brief comments. Mr. Speaker I think that the entity that should pay for that removal is the entity that is cancelling the lease with the company. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes on 374-08, with strong reservations and brief comments. A few years ago this matter came before this body and I really objected to it then. I'm willing to vote with strong reservations in hopes in that maybe I don't understand all the details of the deal.

"When we looked at this situation a few years back, this is a small recreational boat harbor and this particular boat repair shop is for tugboats and very large commercial boats. I know that at Honolulu Harbor the intent is to move all boat repair facilities out to Barber's Point, so it seemed like there was some competition and some advantage to allowing them to be at Keehi Lagoon. That didn't seem to fit into the greater master plan of what was supposed to go into the Lagoon. So I do have strong reservations.

"And the other thing about this is, they say it's going to improve land to try to attract tenants. I thought it was where we put it out to auction, at least that's been DLNR's past practices. Maybe the way to get the highest and best use and get more money would be to put it out to auction. So I just wonder if the deal's been cut and the agreement has been made before we put the State's tax dollars into the property."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On that same measure, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 374, I have strong reservations. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2350, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Saiki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker I rise in opposition to S.C.R. 377. Please cast a no-vote for me. There are three basic reasons for opposing this measure. First the language of the bill was wrong. It states that it was attempting to codify the common law concerning landowner liability. That is not correct, because instead this measure abrogates the common law that has existed in the State for at least the past 50 years.

"The second reason is that this measure will elevate the financial interests of large land owners over and above those of innocent bystanders and over basic concepts of public safety.

"Third, this measure will basically shift the burden when it comes to public safety concerns. One of the large land owners testified at a hearing and stated that if this measure passed it would basically shift the burden of maintaining its property to innocent bystanders and innocent neighbors. The example that was given in testimony was that if the landowner owned a ridgeline that contained a ten-ton boulder that was perched above a downslope neighbor or resident, that the landowner would not take any steps to correct that or to protect the downslope neighbor, but would instead invite that neighbor onto its ridgeline so that the neighbor could remove the ten-ton boulder, him or herself.

"This measure really flies in the face of basic principles of public safety, and I fear that it would be very difficult for us to explain this kind of drastic policy change to the public. Accordingly, I oppose this measure. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Saiki be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

Representative B. Oshiro: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to remind our colleagues and the staff that today is the final day for people to purchase their 'lollipops of love'. It is a fundraiser that's going toward the Hawaii Foodbank. As of today we've sold approximately 950 of these and our goal was actually to sell 1,000. But it need not be a 'lollipop of love'. It can be for any other purpose such as lust or infatuation, or more likely it will be for appreciation.

"But just to let the Members know, we will be keeping an unofficial tally as to which Member gets the most amount of lollipops. So with that having been said, Rep. Nishimoto you need to buy more than just the one that you bought for yourself. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 397, which has to do with the Constitutional Convention, I speak in favor with a couple comments. Mr. Speaker, this is a very important bill in that for 30 years we have not had a Constitutional Convention. I commend the authors for moving ahead of this, and with it.

"But I wanted to draw the attention of the body regarding what was the latest omnibus survey of Hawaii residents in regard to the Constitutional Convention. I believe most of the people want one, except they said there are some limits regarding the cost they are willing to bear. It's said if the cost is $20 million, 75 percent would disapprove it. If the cost was $15 to $19 million, 65 percent would disapprove it. And if it was $10 to $14 million, still Mr. Speaker a majority of people in the State of Hawaii, if this is an accurate assessment of what they've given, 53 percent are opposed to a Constitutional Convention.

"So what am I saying? Why am I standing up? Because if this goes to the Finance Committee, I think it's a message to all the members of the Committee, it's a message to the Members of this body. If it's too expensive, if we do paper ballots rather than Internet voting and other kinds of innovative and creative things that are not so expensive, I think it will go the way that each vote has done in the past where blank votes are no-votes. And if people aren't showing up because of the costs and they stay out of it, it's going to be very difficult.

"So I say this as an encouragement for the Constitutional Convention, but as a caution because of the costs. The people of Hawaii, which are increasingly having the cost of living go up and they feel very frustrated, perhaps they might not be willing to go beyond these, at least $10 to $14 million. Beyond that I think it's beyond sight. So I think we've got to say $5 to $10 million if we're going to get in the ballpark. Thank you very much."

"Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support of Standing Committee Report 406-08 and House Bill 2757, Relating to Hospitals. This bill would establish a program in the Department of Health to make or guarantee loans to hospitals for capital improvements, equipment, supplies, materials, or working capital. If passed, this measure would provide the State with a strategic tool with which it can enable hospitals such as the Hawaii Medical Center (HMC) to respond effectively to Hawaii's need for affordable, high-quality health care to Hawaii's most underserved patients.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure and to pass it through so that the HMC can continue to remain solvent and active in providing care to the rapidly growing destitute patient population."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2757, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOSPITALS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Nakasone, M. Representative Cabanilla rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support of Standing Committee Report 407-08 and House Bill 2757, Relating to Health, which requires the Department of Taxation to defer general excise tax collection for a for-profit hospital group that provides services to an annual patient population consisting of sixty per cent or more uninsured, Medicaid and Medicare patients for hospital operations.

"This deferment is necessary to help keep hospitals like the Hawaii Medical Center solvent during a transitionary period - so they can continue to provide medical services to this underserved population. In return, HMC will be operating like a nonprofit, in that it will not be making any distributions during this deferment period, but instead is committed to investing all its resources in its facilities, operations and services in order to continue to serve this rapidly growing destitute patient population.

"The survival of the HMC is critical, as they service 8,000 in-patients for over 75,000 patient days annually. This does not include the thousands of outpatients that are also served annually and the unique services provided by HMC that other hospitals are not able to absorb. In addition, HMC employs over one thousand employees who contribute hundreds of thousands of dollars in federal and State income taxes that help support the economy of our State.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with a comment on 424, relating to public housing and an allocation of funds to hire three security guards at Mayor Wright housing. This is an important and essential bill for the safety and security of the residents, however my comment Mr. Speaker is that while worthwhile, I'm afraid the bill is symptomatic of how micromanaging we are becoming.

"I know all of our areas have many, many needs, but if we've got to pass a piece of legislation just to get three security guards, either the departments aren't doing their job, or we're having to do their job for them. And I know this is worthwhile, but it seems as though if we really did everything that was needed by everybody in all of our districts in all of the State, we would probably have a full time Legislature, we'd probably be here 24/7 in order to do those things.

"So it's a good bill, but it's symptomatic of the creeping micromanagement that I think this body needs to be aware of. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Standing Committee Report No. 434, relating to land use on the North Kohala coastline, I'd like have a vote cast with reservations, Mr. Speaker. And my reason, Mr. Speaker is that most of the land is under State control and by changing its land use classification, we may be prohibiting the State from doing certain things that would be to the benefit of the community in the conservation district. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support with brief comments. The community has been working many, many years on this part of the coast, on the North Kohala coast and it's makai of the highway.

"Anyone who drives out of Kawaihae up to Hawi knows that it's a narrow strip of land, it's not very deep between the highway and the ocean. What we know is that King Kamehameha, that was his coastline, his birth place is in that area. There are a lot of artifacts, a lot of heritage, and also a lot of culture in that area. I think the community believes this is really an asset that we need to preserve in open space, as well as preserving all the culture that's there. So I ask for everybody's support. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Standing Committee Report No. 441, relating to resort beach restoration, I would like to have a vote with reservations cast for me please. Mr. Speaker, my concern is that this places resort beaches in priority over our other beaches used by our communities throughout the State. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Also with reservations, Mr. Speaker, primarily because so many of these beach restorations, the original restorations in Waikiki actually wiped out the reef that was beautiful there. It was right off the coast and it is now covered in sand. So I'm concerned that a lot of these things aren't being done looking at the whole ecosystem, especially in this year of the reef. So we need to look at not just the beaches, but the reef as well."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in support of Standing Committee Report 441. For about 50 years we've had serious erosion problems in Waikiki. This measure is looking for both public and private sector support. These are the beaches in an area that generates approximately 10 to 12 percent of our economy here.

"So I just am very glad that this is going through. I don't think it is a perfect bill, but its one that I think needs support and more discussion needs to take place if we're going to bring people and keep Waikiki as the capital of the world. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in strong support. Mr. Speaker, this bill will create a subaccount within the current account in the Department of Land and Natural Resources. We made it very clear to the Department that we do not want this to alter their priorities regarding beach restoration.

"Actually what this does is, for Members' clarification, it allows a different type of funding mechanism to allow private, county, as well as a tourism association to team up with government to make needed changes in beaches. This is an opportunity and discussion process which will promote and further develop areas that are being hardest hit through tourism. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Just real quickly. I know it says, 'resort beaches', but many of these beaches are used by public quite extensively and this benefits the public. It definitely benefits the public from surfing, to diving, to just going to the beach on Sunday. The public really uses these beaches. I just hope that Members will look at that. And although the title says, 'resort beaches', I believe that these beaches are a great asset to the public and are used heavily by the public as well. Thank you."

Representative Wakai rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on Stand. Com. Report No. 443, Relating to Dentistry, which is not really relating to dentistry in that it says it will be unlawful to interfere in the practice of dentistry, and it will be unlawful for the practice of dentistry in the commercial or mercantile establishment.

"To boil it down this is an anti-Costco, anti-Wal-Mart, anti- if you will, allowing the people of Hawaii who are drowning under the cost of living to have a chance to perhaps get something a little less expensive. I don't think we should deny the people of Hawaii this service. In the hearing, it was said what if at 3:00 in the morning you need dental surgery? This is not going to take away the practice of dentistry and dental surgeons that already exist to take care of those things. But this is giving the people of Hawaii an option. If Costco or Wal-Mart or whoever wants to bring in dentists, as they have optometrists and others, in order to facilitate and make it easier, as well less expensive, I don't think we should have this anti-trade kind of bill coming across our desk.

"So if this is related to dentistry, I think its anti-Wal-Mart, it's anti-Costco, it's anti-savings to the people of Hawaii. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am standing in support. In Committee, the way we understood this bill was that the other doctors in town who have offices elsewhere other than these big establishments where you can't get in on a 24 hour basis, these doctors are held to be the ones that have to wake up in the middle of the night and pick up other dentists' clients.

"I know that in the dental and medical profession, since they work all day, it's really a big deal for them to be awaked at certain hours in the morning or at night to attend to their patients, which they most definitely will attend to if it's their own patient. They would feel obligated to do that. But I feel there is a lot of hesitation amongst dentists to service patients of other dentists who cannot, because the facilities that they have would not allow them to do so. So I think it is as simple as that, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Very briefly in support. I would reiterate some of those premises. If a dental office is open in a Costco or a Wal-Mart or Kmart and a patient has terrible abscess or something late at night, that patient who is in the practice of the dentist working there will not be able to have their dentist take care of them, and that creates an imbalance in the entire profession of dentistry. That was the premise of the bill.

"It was not an easy call for this bill in Health Committee, but dentists, unlike a lot of other professions, can't send people to the ER for that surgery. And they can't do a house-call because they have to have very expensive equipment that is built into their office. They can't move it. They can't take it to do the surgery. So if we don't come to an accommodation with this bill, what we will be doing is we'll have dentists that are able to perform their discipline only during work hours, but then during the after hours, those who sign up with those dentists won't be getting full services.

"This was an attempt by my reading, from the dental community, to have a really comprehensive approach to their practice. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Just a brief rebuttal. Number one, I don't believe there's a Hippocratic oath that says either in any profession, medical or otherwise, and the good doctor from Kona should know, that if you're not my patient, I'm not going to heal you. I don't think dentists have that sense, mentality or spirit, that if you're not on my rolls therefore I can't handle you. I think that is not a full representation of the service that the dentists give to our community.

"Secondly there's nothing that says that Wal-Mart or Kmart or whoever the 'marts' are, the' big boxes', are not going to have access in the middle of the night. There's not a lock-out that's implied, if and when they ever do put this into gear. So the sense of, 'you're not my client; I can't heal you,' I think is a stretch.

"And then lastly, Mr. Speaker, this is a rare occasion, that in the middle of the night your abscess is going to break out, so we may have 1 in 500,000. But for the masses of people who could benefit from this, that's what I'm talking about. I don't want to speak against those who in the middle of the night need service, but the bill is for the people of Hawaii and I think there are enough safety nets for those who have emergencies in the middle of the night that they will be taken care of. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Green rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I promise to be very short, but I feel the need to rebut the comments made earlier. The nature of the medical relationship, whether it is your dentist or doctor, when you see your primary care physician or your specialist, you have a rapport with them and that's who your best bet to get good treatment is from. If suddenly your dentist is not allowed to see you, or can't see you at night, you're going to get worse treatment because you're going to end up going to some other dentist who doesn't know your anatomy, who doesn't know the bacteria that you're being affected by, that doesn't know the major problem that you're being affected by.

"So this, if the dentists can only see somebody during the daytime, this will result in less good care for people. If somehow we can convince Wal-Mart to open at night, it's a moot point. No one believes that they're going to open up their doors for a dental emergency at 2:30 in the morning or 3:00 in the morning to help some poor guy with a dental abscess or something worse. So that's the point of this bill. But the comments that were made were uninformed about the patient/physician dynamic."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2301, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DENTISTRY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Nakasone, M. Oshiro and Sonson being excused.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2198, HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just in support of 444, House bill 2198, I'd like to insert comments. This is a part of the Joint Legislative Committee of Family Care Giving package of bills so that's important and which we actually discussed this morning in Public Safety related to the children of incarcerated persons. Many of those children are being cared for by grandparents. Thank you."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in support of this measure. Many testifiers appeared during the 2006 interim before the Joint Legislative Committee on Family Caregiving, which I co-chaired, in support of recognizing the numerous hidden grandparents as family caregivers in our communities. Falling outside the scope of the JLCFC, it became apparent this group had been overlooked. The definition of family caregiver was then revised under Act 204 to include this group.

"During the 2007 Interim, the UH Department of Family and Consumer Science prepared the Needs Assessment of Grandparents Raising Grandchildren. This report revealed that over 14,000 grandparents are primary caregivers for more than 33,000 grandchildren, statewide. The grandparents needs assessment also revealed that these grandparents providing care for their grandchildren experience emotional, physical, and financial hardships.

"These grandparents take roles that reach deep in our communities. They play a crucial role in insuring the well being of Hawaii's children. They also save the State approximately $17 million per month by caring for their grandchildren outside the foster care system.

"It is essential for our grandparents, who are taking care of our children, to receive the recognition and support that has been long overdue."

ANNOUNCEMENT

Representative Awana: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to just share with our House Members that following session today, we have a fellowship luncheon in Room 437."

Representative B. Oshiro: "Mr. Speaker, I'd just like to thank everyone for participating in our Hawaii Foodbank fundraiser where we sold approximately over 1,080 lollipops, and raising over $600 for the Hawaii Foodbank. I'd especially like to thank Erica in my office, our legislative intern who coordinated this and did all the hard work.

"And finally, we didn't keep an unofficial tally of who received the most lollipops, but we do have an official tally as to which office actually gave out the most and that is our Majority Leader, Representative Caldwell's office who bought the most lollipops. I'm not sure if that means that he has 'pissed-off' the most amount of people and needs to make up for it, or he is actually just expressing some aloha. But thank you to everyone nonetheless. Thank you."

Representative Takai: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I believe it's the former. I'm just kidding. I just wanted to remind everyone again that at 1:30 in Room 423, Brady is going to be making himself available. And I do have my coin and another example of a coin he made. So if any of you are interested, I'll just keep it up here for a few minutes after session. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker I rise as the only male in the Minority Caucus to thank Representative Ching and all the ladies that have been so kind to me, and for the gifts that Representative Berg has given also as a gesture on Valentine's Day. So happy Valentine's Day to all the ladies and gentlemen. Thank you."

Speaker Say: "Vice Speaker, who do you think I should pick on in asking a question?"

Vice Speaker Chong: "Mr. Speaker, I think the Representative from Pukalani/Makawao is available."

Speaker Say: "Representative Yamashita, will you yield to a question? What was Act 1 today?"

Representative Yamashita: "I'm sorry, Mr. Speaker. I don't know."

Speaker Say: "Act 1 was the Legislative Budget bill that was adopted and signed into law. So for all of you who have your delinquent payments, you can go and see the Clerk's Office and get those done with your allowance."

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. No. 467, Relating to Health, I have a very brief comment in support. Just as a heads up that as many of us stand here on the Floor, that a society is judged by how it treats its most vulnerable. This is where really the 'rubber meets the road', because the most vulnerable, those who have lost their mind and need treatment, this is a bill which comes and then fails because of various concerns in the Judiciary.

"I would just make a plea that these are the people who need medicine. We can't actually share information and medicine with them that gives them back their consciousness, and their sanity and their ability to live again. These people are so vulnerable and right now doctors, psychiatrists can treat them because the medicine that gives them back their reality that they need. And this bill can do it. But every time it gets torpedoed to the Judiciary. So I would plea, if we're going to stand and say that we want the most vulnerable to be protected, this bill is where the 'rubber meets the road'. Thank you very much."

Representative Green rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support, but with strong reservations. The difficulty with this issue is that marijuana, an illegal substance, is legal for the purpose of medication as long as you go through a certification process. I had the chance to speak personally with police officers who work in this area and they have had trouble with patients operating beyond what the current law allows. This starts to widen the gray area of legal and illegal use of marijuana making it difficult to enforce the laws prohibiting illegal use of marijuana.

"I believe that the existing parameters for medical marijuana are liberal and that the amendment to increase the amount of plants per certified user is moving toward legalizing marijuana. I am against legalizing marijuana. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Just to mirror what the Representative from Hawaii Kai was talking about, the vulnerable in our State and the people who need medicine, this is another group of people who need that same protection for the medicine that they need for the various ailments that they have. They're not only trying to get it from the doctors, but once they try to get it, they're vulnerable not only to some thugs, but also from our own law enforcement agencies that are not following State policy.

"So I would like to ask you to really think and look into your hearts for what we've promised these people seven years ago when we made this available to them. Are we going to do that? Or do we take it away? Because right now it's a promise not being fulfilled, and we have to do something to help these folks. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support, but have some reservations. I don't support the requirement of the Auditor conducting a financial and management audit of each commissary located in a Hawaii, correctional facility, as well as commissaries located at out-of-state contracted correctional facilities where Hawaii inmates are confined. I do not like that we are putting emphasis on the commissaries when the Department of Public Safety is willing and is moving toward rectifying some of the complaints that prisoners are making. In the PSM Committee the concern was about having Hawaii products in the commissaries. Another concern was that prices were high. The Department testified that they were committed to changing the way they purchased and sold products and it will most likely bring down prices.

"I think that a requirement to conduct performance audits of private prisons on the mainland that house Hawaii prisoners is a reasonable request. The part of the conversation that is lost in all of the discussion is there are prisoners, I do not know to what extent, confined on the mainland and would rather be in a mainland facility than in a Hawaii facility. There is no doubt that the ideal situation is to have prisoners in Hawaii to give them the best chance for successful reintegration into the community once they have served their sentences. However, the reality for now is that prisoners in a mainland facility cost less, have access to more programs, and relieve overcrowding of Hawaii prisons. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like the Clerk to cast a no vote for me on Stand. Com. 487. As I understand it this bill, House Bill 1972, would establish a traffic advisory AM radio station and appropriate money to do it. Well anyone that listens to Perry and Price in the morning knows that every ten minutes we get our traffic updates and they're done very well. So I don't see why we need to spend taxpayers' money to create a different radio station that people probably won't even tune into because it won't be that interesting. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. Just briefly to educate my colleague on the other side of the island. This is not an innovative approach. In fact, 20 other states already do this. And it's not only traffic, it can be for weather.

"If you recall, two years ago in October when the power went out throughout the entire island, those of us who had radios with batteries or we turned on our car radios and we went to KSSK to listen, what did we hear? We had a canned discussion about the constitutional amendment on the ballot in 2006. That is inappropriate from my perspective. If we had a huge disaster, a catastrophic shutdown on the freeway or some other natural or man-made disaster, I think it's important for people to get up-to-the minute, all-the-time information, whether it's traffic or weather.

"This particular bill provides the opportunity for us to pursue this. It is a work in progress. It is going to take probably a few more sessions to get the bugs out, but I'm very appreciative of the Department of Transportation for their testimony in support of this bill. I've had numerous conversations with the Department of Transportation Services on the City side, and we're all moving forward on this. And I think today the people of this State, people across the world for that matter, expect information on-time and now. This as an opportunity to provide them with that information. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. As Chair of Public Safety, we've been considering the idea of advisory radio stations regionally around the State. I really like this idea of having an advisory radio station because we have visitors from around the world coming here that don't really understand sometimes when there's traffic congestion. It would be nice to see it publicized and be common knowledge that we have a certain radio station that people can turn to to get updated information. This is just the beginning of something I'd like to see for an emergency advisory radio station. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again in support. Those of us on the Windward side without power tuned our radios to Perry and Price … Oh I'm so sorry. I am in support of my own position, but in opposition to the bill. Thank you Mr. Speaker.

"Those of us on the Windward side tuned in to Perry and Price on AM radio and that radio station did an outstanding job during the electric blackout that lasted about over a day. I will say that if the bill goes forward, then maybe we should also put in a way that motorists can announce the potholes to the Mayor of the City & County of Honolulu and the location of the potholes, and those would be publicized on the radio. And then we might find a way for those potholes to be repaired. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. Comments have been offered suggesting that this bill is unnecessary. It has been suggested our citizenry has only to tune into the existing network of radio stations in order to be kept up-to-date on recent traffic developments. Mr. Speaker, I would like to begin by saying that to an extent this is true. Our State's radio stations have taken the initiative in providing current information at reliable times. Unfortunately, these reliable times occur only within the morning and evening rush hour traffic periods. This bill would create a dedicated AM radio station that would inform the public during off-peak hours of traffic accidents and potential delays.

"From a courtesy standpoint, our hardworking population that does not work in a traditional office setting can inform clients and colleagues of their current situation. In addition, in the case of a major accident or police investigation, motorists can take the initiative to avoid the affected area long before the inevitable bottleneck that occurs at the site of the accident.

"Mr. Speaker, information is usually the key to peace of mind. In this case, a comprehensive understanding of why traffic is at a standstill may decrease feelings of frustration, and along these lines, the feeling of anger known as 'road rage.'

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to conclude by saying that this measure is vital for those coming from the Leeward side of the island. With only one route into town, traffic is often backed up miles and miles away from its cause. A dedicated traffic alert system could help motorists plan ahead, make informed decisions on which routes to take, and give peace of mind to those already in the gridlock. For these reasons, I would like to register my strong support for this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support with reservations. This bill is to make public, proposed salaries and/or changes to the excluded employees in administrative positions at the University of Hawaii. A very similar bill was vetoed by Governor Lingle in the past. It is understandable that the University of Hawaii Professional Assembly would want this bill to pass. There were some legitimate concerns raised in their testimony, "In the past five years, the salaries paid to UH administrators have gone up astronomically. This began with the salary paid to then President Dobelle that was two and a half times more than that being paid to President Mortimer. President Dobelle then proceeded to make additional new administrative hires at salary levels that were unprecedented in the history of the UH, and also increased the salaries of continuing executive administrators commensurate with these new salaries."

"The downside to a bill like this one is this very process could affect recruitment and negotiations for the people in these positions. It is important that we have the tools to negotiate for the very best people at the best price. I believe that this bill deserves to move forward because of some of the practices that have been brought to light; however, I am unsure at this time whether or not the risk of recruiting the best and the brightest is worth taking."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support with reservations. Raising the minimum wage suggests that everyone, no matter what kind of performance level you are at, should get a raise. The Chamber of Commerce testimony states that this bill will not improve the quality of life for the minimum wage earners and will actually hurt those who are seeking entry level jobs. Economists uniformly agree that most employees earn far more than minimum wage and that a minimum wage increase actually causes a reduction in the number of entry level jobs because of the increased cost to employers to maintain such jobs.

"The real cost to business includes all of the other employee benefits and taxes that are tied to the employees' wages. This kind of change could contribute to the slow down of our economy. I would hope that we would make positive steps toward improving the economy for all of the people of Hawaii by passing an economic stimulus package like the U.S. President and Congress did on the federal level with tax relief."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also am voting no on 511. At this point there is no adjustment to the tip credit. This was argued extensively the last go around when we raised the minimum wage. Again, there is no accommodation for that.

"I believe that we should do that most definitely because the wait help is getting the bulk of their pay from tips. As we keep raising the minimum wage, we aren't making any adjustment. I think we absolutely need to do that. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to register a strong reservation on Stand. Com. Report No. 512 which is Temporarily Disability Insurance to be paid to caregivers. It doesn't seem that money is coming from the right place. It's not that they are disabled. It's just that they are taking care of someone who's ill. So I'm voting with reservation on that."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On Stand. Com. No. 517, Relating to Education, I am voting with reservations because it's basically a good bill. It aligns our rules for standards for teachers with federal guidelines. It's good, but there is a 'poison' section, well in quotations, that knocks this out from being really good, in that it says that if you are an emergency teacher, we are going to cut you back from being able to teach on an emergency basis from four years down to three years.

"Mr. Speaker, do we not have a teacher shortage? Do we not have a crisis? To cut the emergency teachers back from four to three years just doesn't make any sense. So that's why I have reservations."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. Just for clarification, the only reason we have to change this is because we are conforming State law to the No Child Left Behind law. The No Child Left Behind law requires that to be three years instead of four. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, on 533-08 and 534-08, I just have some brief comments in support. Right now the fine for these kinds of acts, of taking live coral rock, is $500. We have incidents where people are actually going to the beach and conservation districts and taking the coral because it's cheaper to pay the fine than it is to go and buy the rocks in the market place.

"I applaud the Administration, and DLNR for finally getting aggressive and being able to attach the market damage to the violations, so that there's a true disincentive in trying to protect our natural resources. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. No. 538, if you could note my reservations and short comments please. I think we need to be looking for space for our prisons. But one of the testimonies that really rung true for me was that we are going through a reclassification system, and with that we are expected to have a lot of different changes in regards to how we house our prisoners. Therefore this is a little premature and maybe it would help to get that information back so that we can plan better. Thank you"

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, I rise in support. The briefing that we had available to the public and to Members was on the reclassification system, the money that has been spent, and what the consultants have found. It appears that we have somewhere between 25 and 35 percent of our inmates who could be community based or minimum security status.

"I think if you look at the bill, it is very clear that the message we are sending is OCCC was originally built to be community based. In fact it is now turned into minimum security, medium security and mental health. There is one building in particular for mental health, so it's now become a hodgepodge of different classifications. It's actually become pretty unmanageable by the Warden. It appears not to be the very safest facility. I would offer to any of my colleges to come with me to OCCC to take a tour of it so they could understand what's happened.

"If you haven't seen the federal Detention Center and how it is being used for anyone who has less than three years of their sentence to serve; the federal Detention Center is not meant to be a long term facility. It's for the short term. So this bill is moving towards community based, minimum security beds and doing that here in Oahu. And the way we wrote the bill is to look at urban Honolulu which is close to our courts system and also is convenient for transportation. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2685, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SAFETY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Herkes, Manahan, Nakasone, M. Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in strong support of H.B. 2113, which provides a tax credit to taxpayer caregivers who care for qualified care recipients.

"Home and community-based care is becoming increasingly the preferred method of providing long-term care to the frail elderly and disabled who are unable to take care of themselves, partly because institutional care is so costly, but mostly because the elderly and disabled prefer to remain in their own homes. Such care, however, requires willing and able family caregivers who sacrifice much to provide care to their loved ones. Not only must they often forgo their own family's needs to care for another, some even experience financial sacrifice as they are forced to take paid or unpaid leaves of absence and even early retirement.

"By providing a tax credit, H.B. 2113 offers a small gesture to recognize the invaluable service provided by these caregivers. If not for their sacrifices, many more frail elderly and disabled persons would require nursing home care that eventually would cost taxpayers dearly in increased Medicaid and pass-through costs."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support, with reservations. While I understand it is important to support alternative energy, the intent of H.B. 2863, I have concerns over the cost implications and impacts on Hawaii's regulatory authorities generated by this proposal. HB 2863 establishes a consolidated permit process for facilities that have the capacity to produce at least two hundred megawatts of electricity from renewable energy.

"Governor Lingle in her State of the State Address challenged all of us to move Hawaii away from oil dependence and to do so "more rapidly than some would like and others believe possible." As Castle & Cooke point out, ten years is too long to be mired in redundant permitting process, which currently does not have explicit timetables. However, DBEDT cautions that HB 2863 significantly revises Hawaii's regulatory system for the permitting of renewable energy projects. As such, it is imperative that stakeholder agencies identify and fully examine the affected permitting statutes and regulations to ensure adequate understanding of potential impacts of the changes prior to a decision to implement. While I stand in support, I hope that the concerns of DBEDT can be addressed in this measure's next Committee."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm voting no on Stand. Com. No. 555. And I'd like to make brief comments. This bill mandates and penalizes owner-builders when they build, repair, extend or demolish their homes. It mandates owner-builders to use a licensed subcontractor. I see it as an encroachment of private ownership, and an invasion of homeowner's rights. And it circumvents the intent of the owner-builder permit process.

"With the owner-builder permitting process, Mr. Speaker, you are assigned a City and County staff member to come and inspect your building efforts on a weekly or monthly schedule, depending on what stage you are in. But the one that is troubling to me is that even with repair, and extension, and even demolishing their homes, you now have to hire licensed personnel to do it. A lot of our constituents are very talented people Mr. Speaker, who can employ their talents in plumbing or flooring or even demolishing their homes. The introduction of this bill will mandate them to hire a subcontractor when they themselves could build it themselves. So I think we should refrain from invading our people's rights. Thank you."

Representative Sagum's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of SCR 566, HB 2553: Relating to Pawn Brokers and Second Hand Dealers. The intent of this bill is to require pawnbrokers and second hand dealers to change daily record transaction methods from a manual system to an electronic method through the use of the Internet or a computer disk.

"Property crimes are steadily on the rise in Hawaii, and experts generally agree that drug use is the driving force behind the high property crime rate. This is because stolen property can be easily sold for money to support the perpetrators' drug habits.

"A change in the reporting system would certainly help law enforcement by increasing the speed by which information is transferred from pawnshops or second hand dealers to the police department. Police could then cross check stolen items lists to pawnshop or second hand dealers merchandise and give them time to inspect items before they are re-sold. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am voting with reservations. The motivation behind Smart Growth tactics is to employ a scheme that penalizes the motoring public. To lessen vehicle parking spaces in favor of preserving open spaces; to make driving a car as cumbersome as possible; to price out the masses from owning a car with exorbitant registration and fuel fees; to have car owners forfeit their cars by not building more roads making their commute a living nightmare and be manipulated into taking mass transit, are just a few of the ploys being disguised as Smart Growth when in fact such practice is a form of harmful growth.

"Smart Growth is harmful in terms of serving the economy. A successful, vibrant economy is dependent upon how efficiently it permits the flow of getting freight, goods and services besides people and their tools of the trade from point A to point B. Trails and greenway belts do not facilitate these ends. Oahu needs a route for another expressway, not for Smart Growth tactics that preserve open spaces for the ants, termites and weeds to thrive. Smart Growth philosophy is anti-car, anti-home with a yard, and can be compared to a movement that likens humans to live like hamsters in a cage. These high density developments associated with Smart Growth tactics are designed to cram humans into small confines and territory while the insects and weeds are given an enormous amount of land in which to perpetuate.

"I am voting with reservations because Hawaii needs to build more roads and lessen the motoring public's plight in traffic. We have a landscape lane deficient in the number of lane miles it offers its people. On the other hand, we have countless paths, trails and greenway belts. We are not hurting for more trails. We are hurting for more roads. This bill does not help the motorists, but rather competes with the needs of the motoring public and that is why the bill is flawed. The preservation of land to accommodate more roadway lane miles for the future is what this bill should be about. And if any right of ways, routes, or paths should be preserved, it should be for roads and HB3004 does that. This bill, HB3004, should take precedence over HB2527 and until such time it does, our priorities are skewed in the wrong direction."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The bill amends Chapter 205 to allow for mining of sand, rock, gravel and other materials suitable for use and used in construction, and activities ancillary to mining, including processing and storage, within the agricultural districts as a permitted use.

"Rock is vital to our economy because it is an essential component of two basic building materials: concrete and asphalt. All of the islands do not presently have enough operating quarries to meet current demand for basalt aggregate. If we cannot meet the demand from local quarries, we would need to import rock and the cost of that will be two to four times the present cost.

"Therefore, it is essential that we find new means to develop new quarries to meet the local demand and eliminate the need to import rock. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. This measure addresses the oftentimes striking disparity between the State's vision for land use and the county's plan for development. Our job as State lawmakers is to develop policy that is comprehensive and inclusive. It is in our best interests as citizens and lawmakers to collect as much information as humanly possible to make informed, intelligent decisions. I submit that in some instances, no matter how much information we have, we lack the subtle, sometimes imperceptible details that bare facts do not provide. We sometimes do not allow for a sense of history that will help us make these broad, sweeping policy decisions appropriately.

"Land use has statewide impact. As such, it behooves us to produce living policy documents that give a general outline for our vision of its use. To focus our vision, counties develop their general plans to incorporate their intimate knowledge of these areas. The problem is they have to come back to the State to get their plans approved. These plans are already subject to the public hearing process, and these meetings occur with the sector of the public that these plans affect the most.

"Twenty-two years after the enactment of Chapter 205, HRS, the Legislature revisited the land use process. Realizing that counties and small landowners should have a say in the use of their own lands, a process was put in place to expedite petitions requesting reclassification of lands. The Land Use Commission was given the authority to waive petitions pertaining to small parcels fifteen acres and under, and to give such authority to the counties. The intent of this review of land law was to allow counties the ability to carry out development, as this is a function of the counties, and to improve the efficiency of the process. This process also lifted the burden of small parcel decisions from the extremely busy LUC. As we move forward, the Legislature, the public, and the business communities are beginning to realize that a limited amount of land necessitates much larger scale development decisions. It has been twenty-three years since our last review, and this measure will update our laws to effectuate the intent of that 1985 review.

"This measure seeks to expedite the counties' responsibilities to use their lands for the public good in changing economic climates. County general plans are still subject to the public hearing process for approval. By providing an exemption from what is essentially duplicative in the petition process, reclassification can occur in areas where certain economic opportunities such as sugar are no longer feasible. Specific proposed projects are still subject to permitting, and will remain under the watchful eye of the public. I therefore ask you, my colleagues, for your support on this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support with reservations. This bill establishes a Bill of Rights for children of incarcerated parents. I believe in the goals that this bill sets to achieve. In a litigious society such as ours, this bill could come with a belated and huge price tag. The threats of such liabilities need to be remedied because the money spent on lawsuits and awards should be going to services for children.

"The language in this bill gives children of incarcerated parents the right to be "heard", "considered", "well cared for", and "supported". As a non-incarcerated parent, I come across times my children do not feel heard, considered, or supported. It is difficult to have a Bill of Rights for minor children. Sometimes it takes a long time before they understand that the decisions made on their behalf were in their best interest. It would be irresponsible to the taxpayers of Hawaii and these children to pass a bill that exposes us to such lawsuits.

"I want the very best for Hawaii's children. This bill needs work."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please cast a no vote for me on Stand. Com. No. 615 with some comments. Mr. Speaker, this bill is an opportunity to acknowledge, reward and help recruit Adult Corrections Officers and Youth Correction Officers by enhancing their retirement benefits. This is something I want to support, but the other side of the coin is this.

"Last year the Legislature passed a law to establish a policy framework to enable the Employees' Retirements System to eventually eliminate this $5.1 billion unfunded liability. This body put a three year moratorium on retirement benefit enhancement including any reduction of retirement age when there is an unfunded accrued liability. A $4.1 billion unfunded liability threatens retirement benefits for future retirees who we have already made retirement benefit promises to. We cannot continue to make promises without fulfilling the ones we have already made. The Finance Chair and you, Mr. Speaker, have periodically warned us about the Governmental Accounting Standards Boards, the GASB requirements. Thanks to the hard work of our leadership, healthy interest earrings and the State & county employers, what was once a 43 year estimated time to become fully funded is now reduced to approximately 25 years. That's very good.

"So what will this look like in dollar terms? State and county employer's contributions are currently $489 million for this fiscal year. Starting June this year it will be increased by $72 million per year thus totaling $561 million. This is a substantial increase in future expenditures. I believe that this group of workers deserves enhanced retirement benefits, but the moratorium was set in law for a reason. Disregarding it would be schizophrenic and not fiscally responsible to taxpayers or future retirees.

"Past Legislatures have made conscious choices to put our retirement system in disrepair like our school buildings and University facilities. Let's keep out promise to our State and county workers. Look around you and look around the State departments. These workers deserve to have the security of the retirement benefits that they have already been promised. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On that same measure, I vote with reservations. May I have the comments of the previous speaker put into the Journal as if they were my own? And brief additional comments. I also share the opinion of the Attorney General. I believe this bill is unconstitutional due to the defective title. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in strong support. As the Chair of Public Safety & Military Affairs, I felt it was important to have our Committee focus on the subject matter. In terms of the financing, I hope the Chair of Finance really looks at that issue. What we were talking about was that should we be even considering enhancing retirement for the officers. I believe, based on what the responsibilities are and the kinds of stress that they have, that it's worth us considering it.

"Regarding the moratorium, I don't think it's schizophrenic. In fact the moratorium was only for three years. If you heard the testimony from the Director of the Employees' Retirement System you would think we wouldn't give anybody retirement enhancements for 25 years because he said we have an unfunded liability for 25 years out in the future. So at some point in time, if we really want to deal with an unfunded liability issue, let's introduce a bill, address that issue and move it forward because we've got all these State employees and especially our public safety officers that have a lot of responsibility and they protect us.

"I think that could be a separate issue, this unfunded liability. I want Finance to, if they chose not to hear the bill because of that argument then that's fine. But I think the public safety officers, and in our Subject Matter Committee, I think it's very worthy of looking in and promoting the discussion of that, of their retirement benefits. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to register a no vote on 615. I think after we've shorted the retirement Fund for quite a number of years, and we have this large unfunded liability, we have to take this seriously. Every year we've got some reason to want to enhance someone's retirement, or make it so we don't have to work as long. Recent articles have shown that our public workers are in many cases getting paid better than people are in the private sector. And I don't think there is any argument that they have benefits far exceeding anything that the private sector is giving their employees.

"So the question is how much can the taxpayers afford with collective bargaining, we have set up now where we've got rid of the right to strike, and it's arbitrary. Every time the contract comes up, the wage is going to go up. That's why our public workers are getting paid very reasonably. So I think we have a responsibility to make sure that our Retirement Fund doesn't get depleted. Every time you have an enhanced situation like this bill is calling for it's going to cause a shortage in that Fund. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2790, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADULT CORRECTIONS OFFICERS AND YOUTH CORRECTIONS OFFICERS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Finnegan and Meyer voting no, and with Representatives Herkes, Nakasone, M. Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. No. 616, Relating to Depleted Uranium, with reservations and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this body, our body, our minds are supposed to be the center of objectivity, center of reason, calm and I guess, not fear mongering and spooking the people of Hawaii.

"Over 50 years ago, these Davy Crockett weapons used this uranium. Some of the best minds have said that it's like trying to find a 'needle in the haystack' after the fact. With the ways and methodology in the ways and the amount of the resources it would take to really do it properly, it kind of puts us on a wild goose chase. In the meantime, there are people panicking the community, or at least by some of the emails I get. They are really spooked by this kind of stuff.

"And, I know some of it has come out of some parts of the community, and some parties who feel very strongly about this. And it's a platform issue for some. But I think we have to be a bit more calm and a bit more collected about how we deal with these very volatile topics. We've got to find out if there is uranium. We've got to handle those who may have been exposed. But I think we have to be sober and sensitive to the implications as to what we do as a body in this directions. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"On Stand. Com. Report 628-08 please, in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is in regards to the emergency powers of the Governor. Without going into a long speech, basically the Governor's emergency powers are there for a reason. No matter how you try to carve it out or want to have control over what she has control over, we won't make it safe for the people of Hawaii by doing that. We are basically just handcuffing her hands in responding to emergency situations.

"There are many examples that were shared with us in Committee in regards to things that would have not been helped regarding the floods, earthquakes and other natural disasters. So if you take a look at some of the testimony dealing with or were severely impacted by the spring floods of 2006, or the October 15, 2006 Kiholo earthquake. If the Governor had not had the authority to take swift and decisive action the negative impact to agriculture would have been much greater.

"There are all kinds of different types of situations like that. So Mr. Speaker, I'm speaking in opposition to this and I hope we reconsider this 'handcuffing the Governor' bill."

Representative Meyer rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in opposition to House Bill 2664 that would limit the Governor's authority to call an emergency in this State.

"This bill would put our citizens at risk by limiting when the head of state can proclaim a state of emergency. Under this bill, the Governor cannot call an emergency without meeting certain criteria determined not by those experienced in emergency situations, but by this Legislature which is only in session four months a year and clearly wants to limit the Governor's Executive powers.

"In an emergency, the Governor must have the ability to immediately take action and deploy resources that in her mind, and with the advice of experts, comprises the best, safest, and most effective means to address the problems created by a disaster. The existing law does not require the Governor to wait until the public is harmed, but under this bill, the Governor would be legally prohibited from providing any disaster relief or taking pre-emptive actions, including the issuing of a pre-landfall declaration in the face of a hurricane or tsunami threat.

"Requiring strict criteria on when the Governor is able to proclaim a state of emergency is not efficient or realistic. For example, in 2005 heavy rains and flooding created severe damage and landslides in my district. The Governor was able to work with DLNR and Civil Defense to take immediate action to mitigate additional damages. Just a few months ago, there were several areas along Makiki Stream and ditch near Keeaumoku/Wilder Streets and Nehoa Street that sustained storm damage. With this bill, these projects would not be able to get needed funding because they do not meet the criteria for the Governor to proclaim a state of emergency.

"Finally, the Department of Agriculture testified in the Public Safety Committee that if the Governor had not had the authority to take swift and decisive action after the October 15, 2006 earthquake, the impact to our State's agriculture industry would have been much greater than what was initially reported.

"I urge this Legislature to vote no on this bill and not to let partisan politics put our citizens in danger. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Bertram rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, I'm rising in support. I think it's important that we move this bill forward for further discussion. We want to make sure that when the Governor exercises emergency powers, that if you look at the Standing Committee Report, if they can show that it's of harm and damage. I believe this bill that was introduced may have come about out of concerns that maybe emergency powers are becoming a very gray area in what you define 'emergency' as, and what do you define as not an emergency. So I think moving this forward and keeping the discussion alive is very important. We've got a ways to go on this. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. Still in opposition, Mr. Speaker. Just a brief comment. Basically, it is very difficult to put words to try and craft some kind of language as to when the Governor can use her Executive power or declare or exercise emergency powers. And what brings to mind for me is the day I when I was at home and my dad basically fell on the floor. He backed up and fell on the floor. His eyes were open, but he had a stunned look on his face and he wasn't responding. And so I looked at him and I basically called 911. That's what you do when you see someone like that.

"He fell pretty hard. It looked like it was going to cause harm or damage. I cannot see someone telling me that before you call 911, why don't you call a neighbor and see if they see the same thing, too. Or why don't you do some checks and balances before you exercise this ability to go and call 911? Emergency is emergency.

"Now I'm sure that she just doesn't pick up the phone and say, 'Okay we're going to call this an emergency.' That's what is wrong with this bill. You don't allow the flexibility and freedom for the Governor to act in a quick manner. No matter how you try to do that, that's part of what the Executive powers entail. That's part of the Executive powers.

"So I hope we don't move forward in this manner because I don't think it is safe for our State. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, very much. In rebuttal to my good friend, the Chair from Waikaloa. This item should not be a partisan item. When there is an emergency, that power should go to one person. If there is an emergency after the 2008 Session, who is going to be able to make the call and coordinate the efforts to resolve this problem?

"So I believe this bill will take a little more work. It's a work in progress I'm sure. So as it moves along, let's make the correct changes. Our first responsibility is to protect the people of the State of Hawaii. When you take the emergency power away from a person who can protect the people, I believe it is essentially wrong. Thank you, very much."

Representative Evans rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. I just want to make some further comments that the example of someone falling down and calling an ambulance is, that is one example. But I want to also give you another scenario. And that is if someone has a cold and they are not feeling well and they show up at our emergency rooms. I think that if you go to some of our hospitals, what you will find is, if it's not a true emergency, they take them and sit them in a chair, and they send a nurse to work with them. But they have the ability to make a decision when they walk in that room and say, 'You go over there and we'll get a nurse over there', whatever. But here, if you're having a heart attack, asthma attack, we need to get you help right away. So there is discernment. There is decision making.

"My whole point about this bill in supporting it moving forward is just to have this discussion. I don't think it's partisan. People may want to turn it into partisanship, but I think it's like, what is it? Because if you, if the Governor uses her emergency powers, there's a lot of things that change in terms of our laws and what can and can't be done when you reach that point. I don't want to keep our Governor from being able to make that decision. But I think that it doesn't hurt to have that discussion about criteria, and what is discernment in terms of what is an emergency. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm still in strong opposition, but I would like to request that the remarks from the Speaker Emeritus from Maui be entered into the Journal as if they were my own, with the exception of the portion where he talks about it being a work in progress and moving it along. I instead would like to say that I hope the Finance Committee would not give this bill a hearing. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In regards to 630-08 on page 30, if you could note my no vote and allow me written comments. The written comments will reflect the same comments I had on a similar bill earlier."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill is an opportunity to acknowledge, reward, and help recruit police dispatchers by enhancing their retirement benefits. This is something that I want to support, but the other side of the coin is this.

"Last year, the Legislature passed a law to establish a policy framework to enable the Employees' Retirement System to eventually eliminate its $5.1 billion unfunded liability. This body put a three year moratorium on retirement benefit enhancements including any reduction of retirement age when there is an unfunded accrued liability. A $5.1 billion unfunded liability threatens the retirement benefits for future retirees whom we have already made retirement benefit promises to. We cannot continue to make promises without fulfilling the ones we have already made.

"The Finance Chair and Speaker periodically warn us about the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) requirements. Thanks to the hard work of our leadership, healthy interest earnings, and the State and county employers, what once was a 43 year estimated time to become fully funded, is now reduced to approximately 25 years.

"So what will this look like in dollar terms? State and county employers' contributions are currently $489 million for this fiscal year. Starting June of this year it will be increased by $72 million per year thus totaling $561 million. This is a substantial increase in future expenditures.

"I believe that these groups of workers deserve enhanced retirement benefits, but the moratorium was set in law for a reason. Disregarding it is schizophrenic and not fiscally responsible to taxpayers and future retirees.

"Past legislatures have made conscious choices to put our retirement system into disrepair like our school buildings and University facilities. Let's keep our promise to our State and county workers. Look around you, look around the State departments, these hard workers deserve to have the security of the retirement benefits that they have already been promised."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also want to register a no vote on Stand. Com. No. 630. This is the same problem where we are going to change the law and have a group of people receive an enhanced retirement by being able to retire at 25 years rather than 30 without having put in; where they were not in a contributory plan. You have all the problems where those who already retired after the law passes in one year. If we pass the law, they'd all have to decide that they were going into the contributory program. But some will have just one or two years and it's just going to short the Retirement Fund. Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"The homeless crisis and desperate need for affordable housing in Hawaii has received national attention.

"With the price of housing continuing to climb, cities and counties throughout the Nation are establishing inclusionary programs to help provide for the needs of fixed and lower income residents who live or work in their communities.

"Inclusionary Zoning is a zoning ordinance or land use policy which either mandates or encourages developers of housing to include a specified percentage of housing that is affordable to lower and/or moderate income households to insure that an adequate supply of housing for residents of all income levels is provided for the maintenance of a balanced community.

"This bill only enables, not requires, counties to impose inclusionary zoning at the subdivision and permitting stages of development. It was suggested to me by the Kauai County housing department, and was supported by the Hawaii County housing department and Chuck Wathen. Mr. Wathen is a private developer who heads the nonprofit Housing Hawaii. Housing Hawaii is a consortium of private and nonprofit entities focused on increasing affordable housing in Hawaii. Mr. Wathen was acting as an individual in support of this measure, and provided me with a large volume of research supportive of inclusionary zoning. I will be citing much of the research Mr. Wathen provided me in these remarks.

"The bill was opposed by many in the private development community, who cited constitutional "takings" concerns, among other things. I wish to focus my remarks in response to these concerns.

"The authority for local governments to adopt zoning ordinances and other land use policies and regulations such as inclusionary zoning is the "police power." This power emanates from the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, which reserved to the states their inherent powers. The police power entitles communities to take actions and adopt laws and policies that protect the public's health, safety and welfare. See Euclid v. Amber Realty Company, 272 U.S. 365 (1926).

"Hawaii's counties have the authority to establish inclusionary zoning programs under HRS Section 46-4 (a), which states "The powers granted herein shall be liberally construed in favor of the county exercising them."

"Hawaii would be wise to follow the example set by California, which has very successfully implemented inclusionary zoning, and seen a dramatic improvement in the availability of affordable housing. The California Housing Element Manual, written by the California Affordable Housing Law Project of the Public Interest Law Project, was recently updated in February 2007. The Manual states:

"The California Constitution expressly authorizes cities and counties to exercise the police power, providing that either "may make and enforce within its limits all local, police, sanitary, and other ordinances or regulations not in conflict with the general laws." California Constitution, Article XI, section 7. Even before Euclid, the California Supreme Court found that local governments could legitimately employ their police powers to protect the general welfare by enacting zoning ordinances creating residential zones reserved for single-family housing. Miller v. Board of Public Works, 195 Cal. 477 (1925).

Over the years, the courts have held the police power to be quite broad, especially in the context of local land use law. It has been deemed "elastic," expanding to meet ever changing conditions of the modern world. See Euclid at 387, Agins v. City of Tiburon, 447 U.S. 255, 260-63 (1980). The depth and elasticity of the police power provide local governments with broad discretion to determine use and development of the finite supply of land within their borders. Any controls or regulations that are not unreasonable and bear some relationship to the general welfare of the community are permissible unless proscribed by preemptive state or federal laws or by the federal or California constitutions. Inherent in the police power, then, is the power to exclude or condition development. California Housing Element Manual, 2nd Edition [Feb. 2007]–Chapter I 8

The exclusionary aspect of the power has manifested itself over the years in the form of policies and practices that have excluded affordable housing. "Exclusionary zoning" as it came to be called further exacerbated patterns of racial and economic segregation and contributed to a substantial regional imbalance between the location of jobs and housing. Fortunately, the power of local government to exclude affordable housing has been circumscribed somewhat in recent years by judicial and statutory limitations. State courts have taken the lead in the constitutional realm, with the New Jersey Supreme Court holding that the New Jersey Constitution obligated local governments to use their land use powers to affirmatively plan for and make available the reasonable opportunity for low and moderate cost housing to meet the needs of people desiring to live within the community. See Southern Burlington County N.A.A.C.P. v. Township of Mount Laurel, 336 A.2d 713, appeal dismissed and cert. denied, 423 U.S. 808 (1975) (Mount Laurel I).

Following this lead, the California Supreme Court adopted the regional welfare standard in Associated Homebuilders of the Greater East Bay, Inc., v. City of Livermore, 18 Cal. 3d 582 (1976): [If] a restriction significantly affects residents of surrounding communities, the constitutionality of the restriction must be measured by its impact not only upon the welfare of the enacting community, but upon the welfare of the surrounding region. Id. at 601.

The local power to regulate land use has also been limited by statute. Beginning in the 1960's, Congress and state legislatures started to recognize the disastrous effects that unfettered local discretion can have on racial integration, the environment and the provision of affordable housing. Federal and state laws– especially state mandated local planning laws and fair housing laws– placed significant limitations on local power to exclude housing, balancing the need for affordable housing and equal opportunity with the need for local decision making. Generally, these laws not only restrict exclusionary or discriminatory land use policies, but also require communities to affirmatively plan for inclusion of affordable housing.

California has taken the lead nationally, mandating that all local governments adopt a housing element as part of the local general plan, that "makes adequate provision for the housing needs of all economic segments of the community." Cal. Govt. Code §65580 et seq. California's fair housing laws also expressly prohibit discriminatory land use polices (Cal. Govt. Code §12955 et seq.) and discrimination against affordable housing (Cal. Govt. Code §65008). And the state's "anti- NIMBY" law requires local government to approve certain affordable housing developments unless certain rigorous findings are made (Cal. Govt. Code §65589.5)."

"Furthermore, a study from the California Affordable Housing Law Project of the Public Interest Law Project and Western Center on Law and Poverty dated December 2002, "Inclusionary Zoning: Legal Issues and Inclusionary Zoning: Policy Consideration and Best Practices" determined that Inclusionary Zoning is Constitutional. The study states:

"An implementing ordinance that provides clear obligations, standards for compliance and a system for monitoring compliance is a great advantage to local government. It helps ensure that the community will receive the benefit of the inclusionary requirement from all developments by making the inclusionary component part of the locality's zoning laws and development application process. It also will set out the mechanism for the community to verify compliance, including substantiation of the continued affordability of the housing it has produced. . .A land use or zoning regulation enacted as legislation with general applicability to all developments is better protected from a legal attack under the taking clause of the state and federal constitutions than is a general statement as policy that can be applied on an ad hoc basis by local staff/counties." [sic]

"I end quoting the study here.

"Another study entitled "Inclusionary Zoning [sic] California: 30 Years of Innovation," done in 2003 by the California Coalition for Rural Housing and Non-Profit Housing Association of California found that many of the opposition to inclusionary zoning is unfounded:

> Local officials cite a number of factors that complicate or undercut successful implementation of inclusionary programs. The principal obstacle is scarcity of land for development, noted by 59 percent of jurisdictions, followed by developer opposition, noted by 39 percent. Lack of funding and community opposition are obstacles in 31 percent and 19 percent of jurisdictions, respectively. Other respondents cite high land prices and inadequate public works infrastructure as challenges to the development of new affordable housing.
> Developer opposition arises from the perspective that inclusion of affordable housing in market-rate developments is financially prohibitive and/or unfairly shifts costs to moderate- and above moderate-income families via higher sales prices and rents. Moreover, profit-motivated builders argue that they are unfairly forced to shoulder the financial onus for affordable housing provision that should rightly be borne by the public sector in partnership with below-market-rate developers in the business of developing and operating affordable housing.
> In the face of enormous housing needs, expectations are shifting in the contemporary development scene. Accepting the task of building or supporting affordable housing will require for-profit developers to adapt. While it is not surprising that there is resistance, the market arguments that inclusionary policies will stifle construction or dramatically increase market-rate real estate prices have yet gone unproved. During the 1990s, construction rates and permit valuations remained steady or rose in inclusionary jurisdictions, as they did statewide. Anecdotal reports confirm that developers continue to build and that more newly constructed units are affordable as the result of local inclusionary programs.

"Inclusionary Zoning regulations can survive legal attack if they are specific and apply across-the-board. At the same time, the policy should afford the community the ability to provide exemptions for true hardship and alternative means of compliance, along with clear implementation procedures.

"To reach maximum effectiveness and meet the goal of inclusion, policies should require as many on site comparable affordable housing units as possible. This practice leads to sound planning by encouraging income-integrated communities and assisting in the prevention of unfounded stigma often attached to affordable housing.

"Inclusionary Zoning housing elements would include:

- The percentage of units that must be affordable in each income category.
- The duration of the affordability requirements.
- The alternatives to production of units (in lieu of fees, donation of land).
- The date by which the community will adopt an implementing ordinance.
- The intent and purpose of the ordinance.
- Finding demonstrating need for the ordinance.
- Definitions of key terms (income levels, affordability).
- Specific standards for determining compliance.
- Eligibility for exceptions or alternatives.
- Step by step procedures for applying its provisions.
- A system for enforcing and monitoring compliance.
- Specifying by income category the economic segments for who the units must be affordable.

"Thank you for your consideration of this important measure."

"On Stand. Com. Report 656-08, Relating to Taxation. I would like a no vote please with a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, the component of this bill which attempts to build multi-family housing along a fixed guideway is well taken. Except it goes beyond, in my belief at least, it is premature in that it exempts the operator of a fixed guideway system from the GET tax.

"Number one, we are not having a fixed guideway system yet, even though it looks like it's coming. Number two, we don't have an operator. So why are we passing a bill that exempts the operator of a fixed guideway system when we have neither. I'm not sure if there's a subterranean meeting which I've missed, or if there's something that we want really the other one and we put this one. But why this one is in, it gives too much creditability to what otherwise is a very controversial issue with the GET associated to it. So to give an exemption now seems to be a bit premature to say the least. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to offer some comments with reservations as to 667-08. Mr. Speaker, this bill, Relating to Land Use, has as its subject matter, important ag lands. And I think what we saw in the past few weeks was a number of bills that looked at identifying important ag lands. I think that this bill does reflect some very thoughtful writing and crafting of this law, but I am concerned because it might be reworking the compromise that was decided by this legislative body in 2005.

"I'd also like to point out that one of the provisions in House Draft 1 of HB 2807 states and allows that 'in lieu of satisfying a State or county affordable housing assessment in the urban district, a project land owner subject to subsection (b) may fulfill the assessment by providing affordable housing in the rural district.'

"Language like this concerns me because it seems to me that we would want to have affordable housing in the urban area when we talk about mixed use development. We want to see a range of housing in the urban core. And so that kind of language concerns me, and as this moves forward, I hope we look at this more carefully. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have the same strong reservation for Stand. Com. Report 667-08 and 666-08. It appears to me that we keep making efforts to reclassify important ag lands in the name of building affordable homes. But I believe that until we develop stipulations on who are eligible for affordable homes and set requirements and penalties as well for the resale of affordable homes for profit or for speculative buying, we will never be able to produce enough land or enough affordable housing.

"I think we need to look at what we are doing with affordable housing because we are just inviting more trouble as we go along. More affordable housing, more people to Hawaii, and we can't produce more lands for them. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Report 670, Relating to Recreation which will transfer Aloha Stadium to the University of Hawaii, I am speaking in favor with reservations. It looks like somebody has done a lot of work on this bill since it was first introduced and heard. It's not half as wild as it used to be, however I still have reservations. So I will be voting yes, but with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Chang rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Chang's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am rising in support of HB 2429, HD1. This past successful football season brought the spotlight not only on our outstanding team, but also on the deplorable conditions of our athletic facilities.

"The question in the public's mind is, 'Who is responsible?' The UH Administration? The Board of Regents? The Legislature? The Governor? Why was this not brought to their attention earlier instead of waiting until Colt Brennan complained of the lack of soap in the shower room?

"Unfortunately the answer may be all of the above. Do we fault the Board of Regents or UH Administration for earmarking and giving a higher priority for funding much needed repair and maintenance to the upper campus? Education of our students is of course our highest priority. With limited funds to maintain the States highest educational institution, it is no wonder that attention to athletic facilities may have fallen by the way side for so many years.

"This bill is just the start, and as written may not be the answer to funding our athletic departments throughout the University of Hawaii System. But we need to think outside of the box, be innovative and harvest ideas from the private business sector, who will not be handcuffed by government bureaucracy.

"Can this new stadium corporation do a better job of operating, maintaining, managing and generating more income than the present Aloha Stadium Authority? Can this new corporation generate enough net income to transfer to the intercollegiate athletics program of the University? This bill specifies that the Legislature shall use its discretion to determine whether the debt service on the General Obligation Bonds would be reimbursed by the newly created Aloha Stadium Special Fund or paid only with general funds.

"I ask members to give this bill a chance as it moves to the Finance Committee where it will be scrutinized by both the UH System Administration and the Committee. This is another funding source for the University of Hawaii to help level the playing field with other intercollegiate athletic competitors. This bill will also help the core academic mission of the University by making available more funds for the upper campus."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to register strong reservations on Stand. Com. No. 670."

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2455, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against the campaign spending bill which increases corporate contributions. This is Standing Committee Report No. 674.

"Mr. Speaker, let me just read from one of the organizations that testified against this bill. First of all, what the bill will do is raise the amount of the contributions that a corporation can give to a political candidate. The Americans for Democratic Action, the Hawaii Chapter, testified in strong opposition to this bill and I quote, in part:

> For the past two years, Act 205 of the 2005 Legislature has limited corporate contributions to political campaigns. We are aware that the interpretation of this law has not been resolved in the courts and the Legislature's attempting to clarify it. However this bill proposes to do so by drastically increasing the ability of corporations to influence political decision-making for campaign contributions.
> Allowing the deep pockets of corporations to fund candidates greatly dilutes the impact of individuals on the political process. We do not know on what basis a democracy can allow corporations to make campaign contributions at all. The directors or officers in corporations have the same right as all other people to make such contributions as individuals. On that basis should they be given an additional opportunity, one not available to the general public to direct money under their control to political campaigns through their corporation? Doing so gives those officers and directors more opportunity to influence politics than has the average citizen and seriously damages our democracy.

The Americans for Democratic Action Hawaii Chapter also notes that the federal government and 22 states disallow all direct contributions to candidates for office.

"Mr. Speaker this bill moves us backward. A number of us were supporting clean elections, publically funded elections. Those people that said they supported clean elections should be voting no on this bill. It moves us backward, gives corporations undue influence and moves us further away from clean government. So I am voting a strong no."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in support. I just wanted to clarify some of the comments. First and foremost, a corporation is entitled to give corporate contributions in a campaign, and that has already been decided by the United States Supreme Court in the First National Bank of Boston v. Bellotti case 435 U.S. 765 (1978). They've already held that you cannot necessarily prohibit corporations from giving to campaigns because it's part of free speech. So I think that argument falls by the wayside.

"The second argument is whether other jurisdictions such as the federal government and/or other states have allowed a prohibition on direct corporate contributions, and they have done so. Because what the Supreme Court has said is you can do that if you allow them an alternative vehicle and that's done through a non-candidate committee, or as we commonly call them, a PAC. So that is the problem that is before us today.

"What we had when we passed Act 205 [Act 203] in 2005 was an interpretation, unfortunately wrong, by the Campaign Spending Commission, and that was found to be incorrect by the Circuit Court of the 2nd Circuit in their findings of fact and conclusions of law dated July 23, 2007. So they have an unenforceable law and interpretation on the books. They said, 'We can't do anything about it because it's on appeal. We don't know how long that's going to take.' Unfortunately what that does with their interpretation, wrongly so as they have admitted … Well, not that they've admitted, but as already found by the courts. But that prevents corporations from donating at all because it really severely chills their opportunity for speech.

"So I think if we're going to be living by the United States Supreme Court, that case that I already cited, we need to correct this because our own Campaign Spending Commission unfortunately has an erroneous interpretation of the law. Even our own Attorney General has supported our position and said that the Campaign Spending Commission's interpretation of the law is wrong.

"So at this point we have the AG saying they're wrong. We have a court saying they're wrong. And now we're going to be saying they're wrong, because that appears to be the only way that they're going to listen and know what the proper interpretation is. Because while they can have an interpretation, ultimately they are an administrator and executor of the policy, and not the policy-maker. That is something for us to decide. So for those reasons, I stand in support."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Green rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations and if I could make some brief comments. When we initially passed the Act 203 in 2005, one of the driving forces behind the change was the Campaign Spending Commission. And I think the Campaign Spending Commission itself knew what they wanted to accomplish. What precipitated that was an outdated law. I think it was passed in the 80s or decades before which pretty much said, 'If you're a corporation you have to register as a PAC.' So now, in order to try to rectify that change, they said, 'Okay, if you have to be a PAC, now you have to comply with the PAC rules.' So they came up with this idea that it has to be limited to $1,000.

"My reservation is pretty simple: I think there is unclarity in the law. I've always felt that we need to let the core process figure out what exactly the contribution limit and the contribution laws are in the State of Hawaii, and we need to let this go. For us to change the way it is in midstream, we're going to have different laws guiding people who gave prior to this new bill being in effect, post the Tavares decision, or pre-Tavares decision. I think there's a lot of confusion and I think the Campaign Spending Commission right now is going to try to have people comply with Act 203, but until that time, and until there's a final decision by the Supreme Court, I don't think the Legislature should get involved. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am voting with reservations and would like a brief comment to be added into the Journal if I may. Mr. Speaker, the law of the land is that if you're a corporation or a union, you cannot give money to federal candidates. That has been the law of the land for years, notwithstanding what was an aberration of the court case that says that it's doable. It is doable through PACs. That's the law of the land.

"What the Representative of Kailua has said, that we are going backwards if we're going to put corporations and mainstream them into giving as unlimited as individuals do. She should be very clear, one of the first campaign spending bills that was in the early 1900s in limiting corporations, except corporations got around them. And it was only until a couple of decades ago that we actually straightened that out, and now it is clearly only through Political Action Committees that corporations can give. And also, more recently with unions. These two big dynamos were really what was at battle, in the corporate battle for campaign finance. With that Mr. Speaker, I will have other remarks to be submitted for the Journal. Thank you."

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This handbook is a primer on the topic of money in politics with special emphasis on the role of disclosure. "Money in politics" refers to the funds used for electioneering and influencing political processes. "Political finance" is an umbrella term for "party finance" or "campaign finance." In parliamentary systems, which are largely party-driven, party finance is the term of choice. In presidential systems, which are candidate-driven, campaign finance is the term of choice.

The handbook provides an overview of campaign and party finance, examines the role that money plays in the politics of a nation, and describes how countries attempt to regulate the flow of funds into political contests. Its main premise is that disclosure of campaign and political party finance is the cornerstone upon which all other attempts to control money in politics rest. Transparency is a foundational principle for democracy, and key to the legitimacy of every nation's elected officials as well as its electoral and political processes.

The purpose of the handbook is to orient and provide action-related ideas to democracy practitioners, civil society organizations and activists, political leaders, scholars, election authorities, and the international community concerned with the influence of money in politics. In addition to highlighting the risks of money in politics, it summarizes strategies to control the flow, showing that the need for more disclosure and enforcement lies at the heart of reform efforts. It provides a framework for understanding the money in politics landscape in a country and suggests a variety of program options.

This handbook contributes to existing literature in the emerging field of political finance and is the first publication entirely committed to the topic of political financial disclosure. It reflects the findings of a rigorous, systematic survey of disclosure laws in 118 developed and developing countries around the world and examines the global state of transparency.[1] It also provides highlights of the U.S. effort to make political finance fair and transparent.

A. Why Money in Politics is Important

Without money in politics, competitive multi-party democracies could not function, nor could their governments operate. Like a form of free speech, political finance is linked to the health and strength of a democracy. Laws and regulations to control political finance risk stifling the basic right of citizens to provide funding to the candidate or party of their choice.

[1] See Appendix A for the disclosure status of each country surveyed: 23 percent of countries (N=27) surveyed were from Africa; 20 percent from the Asia/Pacific region (N=20); 29 percent were from eastern and western Europe (N=29); with the Caribbean and Latin American countries comprising 26 percent of the surveyed countries, and the United States and Canada representing 2 percent of the surveyed nations. Under USAID sponsorship, the International Foundation for Election Systems (IFES) conducted a survey to determine the state of the art of disclosure in the world. Information on the political finance disclosure laws of 118 countries was collected. This survey provides the most comprehensive comparative examination of disclosure laws to date.

Nevertheless, there are at least four risks associated with money in politics that prompt the effort to control it:

- Uneven playing field—the risk that large sums of money in politics give undue advantage over others and constrains competition
- Unequal access to office—the risk that certain sectors of a population lacking money are prevented from running for office or getting meaningful representation
- Co-opted politicians—the risk that those who donate funds will control the politicians they finance
- Tainted politics—the risk that dirty or illicit money will corrupt the system and undermine the rule of law

These risks threaten both democratic and economic development and many emerging democracies have yet to address them.

B. The Key Role of Disclosure in Controlling Money in Politics

In general, there are six main approaches to controlling money in politics. They are contribution limits, contribution bans, spending limits, campaign time limits, public disclosure, and public financing. Often a combination of approaches are included in a given reform initiative, but there is no agreed upon formula for what constitutes the best mixture of approaches.

What is clear is that limits and prohibitions on money in politics, or political finance, can work only if there are adequate rules for disclosure. Public disclosure is the most basic method of controlling money in politics. It requires two things: (1) that candidates and parties report in detail on receipts and expenditures; and (2) that campaign and party funding reports are available for timely public scrutiny. Founded in transparency and openness, public disclosure lets the public decide what to do with the information disclosed. Disclosure is generally accepted as more neutral than other restraint strategies. Without disclosure, most of the other strategies to control money in politics simply won't work or are not enforceable.

It is, therefore, an important finding of the USAID survey of 118 countries that most nations do not hold their politicians accountable through disclosure requirements. Highlights of survey findings include

- Hidden donors—Very few countries require politicians to reveal sources of campaign funds. Only 32 percent require revealing the names of donors to political parties. This means that in most of the countries, parties and campaigns could be funded by anybody and escape public scrutiny.
- Secrecy—Of the countries surveyed, 23 percent have no disclosure laws whatsoever, thus depriving their publics of any basis for informed discussion. Another 17 percent practice a kind of "hidden" disclosure. They collect some political finance information, but do not release the information to the public.
- Insufficient disclosure—The vast majority of reporting takes the form of aggregate numbers. However, without itemization of contributions or expenditures, reports cannot be audited by electoral commissions or civil society. Countries that require reporting of names of donors to political parties may not require listing the amount of money each donor contributed. Countries that require expenditure reporting may not require identification of vendors and products or services purchased. This inhibits the audit trail and obviates full disclosure.

C. Understanding the Money in Politics Landscape

It is not easy to determine whether—and in what way—money in politics is a problem in a given country. For one thing, a widespread bias towards more suspicion of wrongdoing than empirical studies can refute tends to obscure the analysis process. For another, very few people understand how political finance works, and information is hard to come by. Further, there is no systematic methodology for studying the issue.

To get an analytical handle on these challenges, this handbook offers a framework for strategic assessment. It offers key questions as starting points for data gathering and discussion in a three-stage process:

1. Defining the nature and extent of the problem—This stage guides assessment of the problem within the context of the four principal risks. It helps determine which risks are the most serious, and how risk factors inter-relate. The nature and extent of the problem will dictate the kinds of interventions with the highest potential for success.
2. Identifying key actors and allies—This stage guides assessment of the players who are, or could be, the advocates or champions for money in politics reform. Possible key actors and allies are election commissions, civil society, media, and reform-minded politicians and parties. These groups work on their own and together. It is critical to know who the advocates are or might be, what they can or could do, and what kinds of strategic alliances among them can advance money in politics reform.
3. Identifying the legal framework and practice—This stage guides assessment not only of laws and regulations that are on the books, but also of the realities reflecting compliance and enforcement. It helps identify the nexus between policy and practice as well as the incentives and disincentives the legal infrastructure creates for candidates and parties.

Answers to these questions will better enable democracy practitioners to determine whether there is a need for campaign and party finance reform, with particular attention to disclosure, and if so, whether conditions are sufficiently favorable for promoting reform through disclosure.

D. Assistance Options for Democracy Practitioners

Each country situation is unique, and money in politics programming is still in the developmental stage. Nevertheless, some NGOs, political leaders, media representatives, researchers, and regional and international organizations have implemented a number of initiatives that hold promise for achieving results. External assistance can support these initiatives, singly or in combination. Options include

- Establish and strengthen coalitions and their members. Greater transparency in political finance requires joining the forces of those interested in reform, potentially including civil society organizations, political parties or selected politicians, the media, and election commissioners.

Assistance can focus on increasing advocacy skills for disclosure, introducing innovative techniques for partnering, defining a coalition leadership structure, identifying ways to draw additional strategic partners into the alliance, planning for managing opposition, and other functions that support coalition members individually and collectively.

- Review and enhance the legal framework. Research completed for this handbook found that few nations have adequate disclosure laws and regulations. Programs can provide expertise in reviewing the country's disclosure laws and other relevant legal and regulatory provisions, resulting in detailed recommendations for improvements. They can also assist various constituencies (such as reform-minded legislators, election commissioners, other relevant government agencies, and NGOs) considering options for new and/or revised laws and regulations, and facilitate a group effort to draft them.
- Encourage reform with political parties and leaders. Political parties and leaders can be engines of political finance reform and proponents of public disclosure. There are types of assistance that may be specifically targeted to parties. Identifying reform-minded parties and political leaders is the first step, followed by assistance to help shape a reform agenda that stresses disclosures benefits to both parties, the public, and candidates. Or if disclosure is already in place, helping political parties to build systems and capacities can achieve greater compliance.
- Strengthen enforcement. Public disclosure effectively enforced is the backbone of most approaches to controlling money in politics. Enforcement of public disclosure can be strengthened indirectly by working with coalitions to lobby for better enforcement of laws and regulations, to assist in monitoring disclosure reports, and to encourage the will of enforcers to follow through on their responsibilities. Or enforcement may be strengthened through improving the legal framework, addressing legal barriers to effective public disclosure and/or the institutional weakness of enforcement bodies.
- Link with anti-corruption initiatives. USAID-supported anti-corruption initiatives are increasing worldwide. Many can easily expand to incorporate disclosure. One of the easiest anti-corruption measures that cross over into political finance disclosure is asset disclosure by elected and appointed officials. It is becoming increasingly popular within the context of countering corruption, is reasonably acceptable politically, and relatively easy to implement and verify.
- Support regional organizations. The focus on money in politics is a global phenomenon. Many regional organizations are increasingly concerned with money in politics, especially disclosure, as people addressing the issue learn from each other's experiences and identify opportunities for collaboration. Such organizations as the Association of Central and Eastern European Election Officials (ACEEEO) and the Organization of American States (OAS) are actively pursuing an agenda of campaign finance disclosure through education, research, and technical assistance.

The political history of nations is well known, but their political financial history is just now being written through the study of money in politics, and much more needs to be learned. The state of the art of disclosure has shown that much more needs to be done to be able to account for how much money political parties and candidates in emerging democracies are actually collecting or spending to win elections. Even less is known about where the money comes from.

Disclosure allows the government and the public to keep score on the amounts, sources, and destinations of money in politics. Disclosure reports are to politics what profit and loss statements are to business. Without them, governments and citizens risk never knowing the price tag of their democracy or the identity of the major influences behind it, whether corporate, union, ordinary citizens, special interest groups, drug lords or other criminal elements.

Political finance is a vital issue for democracy, governance, and development. No matter how flawless are a country's elections, how active its civil society, how competitive its political parties, and how responsible its local authorities, the role of money in politics undeniably influences the quality of democracy and governance. Only through greater transparency will one fully understand the extent and nature of this influence.

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2455, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representative Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Morita and Souki being excused.

Representative Waters, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 675-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2602, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2602, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against Standing Committee Report No. 675, which is another campaign spending bill. Thank you. Mr. Speaker there are two provisions in this bill to which I object. I will speak to one of them, and someone else may want to speak to the other.

"In the first section of the bill, subsection 14, it raises the amount from $100 to $250 for the candidate to be required to give the name, address, occupation and employment of the donor. In other words, as the law stands now, if we receive $100.01, we're required by law to give the name, address and occupation of that donor. That is good for the purposes of transparency in political campaigns.

"This bill now raises that amount to $250. That's a significant increase, Mr. Speaker. And it means that donors that give you money, $250 will just be lumped together as a line item. No identification of who they are. No identification of their employer. No transparency in the political arena. Both of these bills, the one before this that we discussed, and this bill, go backwards.

"We've made some good strides toward campaign spending reform. These bills go backward and I just don't see why the Members of this body want to do that. It makes no sense to me. The Clean Elections had a lot of momentum and a lot of support. I can look around at the faces in this room and see those who have been here for a while that stood up and claimed they believed in clean elections. This bill goes backward Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like a no vote with a couple of comments. Mr. Speaker, this bill will encourage a lot of $249 contributions. The last that I knew, House seats probably have $35,000-$50,000 as their upbeat standard amounts. In the national elections, to run for Congress it's about $1 million. And to run for the Senate, it's about $3 million. They have it reporting at $200. So why would we with more manini elections have a higher threshold unless we're trying to hold something or keep something from the public. So $250 I think is stretching it, even if you put it in inflation and other issues. I think we're just 'out of whack' with this one. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. 675-08, I am in opposition. By way of opposition, what I'd like to do is speak to the other portion of the bill that was not raised by the good Representative from the Windward side.

"My question is for a ruling on a potential conflict. I think my candidacy, my campaign will benefit from the increase of using the surplus funds for community service groups, educational groups as a type of way to use our campaign contribution funds. I am asking for a ruling," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I think that this piece is, while I respect that the ruling is 'no conflict', I do believe that this is a conflict for us and that our candidacies, and our campaigns benefit from this law change. I think while organizations in the community are definitely worthy and deserving of our contributions, that money given to us for our campaigns should not be used for this purpose. That is the grounds for my opposition, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2602, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Belatti, Finnegan, Meyer, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Morita and Souki being excused.

annual reception today in Room 329 from 4:30 to 6:00 pm. There will be food so please come."

Representative Ching: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am sorry to announce today to members of the historic preservation community, as well as the overall community that the State of Hawaii has lost one of its greatest community leaders. She was someone who the Executive Director of the Hawaii Public Radio, described as, 'completely without peer.'

"Yesterday morning, Hawaii lost Nancy Bannick, who was the instrumental force behind saving Chinatown, designating it as a historic district, thereby saving it from the wrecking ball in 1973. We honored this special lady on the Floor here, but she was also well-known for being one of the instrumental leaders in saving the Natatorium, practically as it was said here in the Honolulu Advertiser: Single handedly, she was literally the driving force behind many organizations. And frankly, if it had not been for Nancy, perhaps one or two others, I'm not sure, there wouldn't be a Hawaii Public Radio.

"We all know her as a staunch supporter of the Honolulu Symphony. I just wanted to perhaps have a moment of silence and remember things that we sometimes take for granted, would not exist, but for sometimes the efforts of just a few special people. I'd like to ask for a moment of silence, please."

At this time, the House of Representatives stood for a moment of silence in memory of the late Ms. Nancy Bannick.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Waters, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 678-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2034, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2034, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Mizuno rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Mizuno's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of Stand. Com. Report No. 678 (HB2034, HD1).

"If the temperature is 80 degrees (common in Hawaii), the temperature inside a car receiving direct sunlight can reach 110 degrees after 5 minutes. When a child's body temperature reaches 106 degrees, he or she can die or suffer permanent disability from heat stroke. (City Prosecutors Office)

"Compelling is the testimony from Ms. Deona Ryan who provided, in relevant part, "I am testifying for one child that died in Hawaii in 2004, my daughter, Aslyn Ryan. Our little girl, Aslyn, died Feb. 7, 2004, from hyperthermia from prolonged exposure to extreme environmental conditions in a car. I ask that you help honor all the children who have died by prevention."

"A second concern is that a young child (under age of 9) left unattended in a vehicle may be at great risk for injury as he or she may touch the vehicle controls, which may also pose a great risk to others.

"HB2034 follows the same philosophy as giving a ticket to someone who does not wear his or her seat belt. People understand the inherent dangers, but it takes legislation to change such dangerous behavior.

"I ask all members to support this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support and I will insert written comments in the Journal. But I would like to just make one acknowledgement. In my written comments I want to acknowledge the contribution of Karl Rhoads on this issue. Several years ago he brought this issue to my attention and finally it is coming I think, to reality. So I'd like to thank him and to acknowledge the fact that he was really the person who thought of this in the first place. Thank you."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure.

"Many of you are too young to remember when there was no requirement for children to be in car seats or booster seats in a vehicle. In fact, there was a time when mothers held children on their laps or put them in a seat that simply hooked over the front seat—with not even a seatbelt! Over time our understanding of the danger of such practices has changed. How many children died or were seriously injured because of the lack of adequate car seats and safety restraints? Responsible adults today would not even think of having a child unsecured in a vehicle--the public has been educated about the dangers and laws have been made to address that safety concern.

"Just as many then did not understand the seriousness of having a child unrestrained in a vehicle there are many now who do not understand or who do not acknowledge the dangers of leaving children unattended in a vehicle. Leaving a child unattended in a vehicle is unsafe for the child. It is extremely important that the public be made aware of that fact. People need to understand that there can be tragic consequences, including: heat stroke/death, strangulation in a car window, injury from setting a car in motion, or abduction by a stranger.

"In 2007, media reports showed that more than 35 children were known to have died across the nation from injuries sustained by being left alone in a car. These numbers do not include those who were left in a hot car and saved just in time, or those who have suffered but have not died as a result of being left in cars. Far too many children have lost their lives or suffered when it is completely preventable.

"We cannot help but be affected by the heart-wrenching testimony of Deona Ryan, a mother whose only child died in Hawaii in 2004 as the result of being left unattended in a vehicle by a babysitter. One-year-old Aslyn Ryan suffered terribly before her death. Over a period of 48 hours, she had multiple strokes and needed continuous blood transfusions from the bleeding in her intestines, kidneys and nose. She suffered many other hypoxic and hyperthermia-related injuries. She finally lost her struggle to survive leaving grieving parents whose lives have been forever changed by this preventable death.

"This bill's purpose is to protect innocent lives by prohibiting operators and adult passengers of motor vehicles from leaving the vehicle with an unattended child inside for five minutes or more and make such conduct a violation of the statewide traffic code, for which a violator may only be fined. This prohibition will provide one more tool with which the police may take concrete action to protect Hawaii's children. In addition, there is an educational component, which requires the examiner of drivers to test license applicants for knowledge of this offense. The requirements and penalties of leaving a child unattended in a motor vehicle shall be printed on a card, which shall be placed in the glove compartment of every rental motor vehicle offered to the public.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill is an example of how when we are doing the right thing, it comes to be – a similar bill is moving in the Senate and hopefully 2008 will be the year. I would like to thank all the supporters of the bill who have helped it along its many paths and multiple versions. Special thanks to Representative Karl Rhoads who brought this issue to my attention 7 years ago and to the researchers at the Legislative Reference Bureau. I urge my colleagues to support this bill."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2034, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNATTENDED CHILDREN IN MOTOR VEHICLES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes, with Representatives Har, Nakasone, M. Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2254, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Caldwell rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to declare a potential conflict. I'm a director of Territorial Savings. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2254, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BANKS AND FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes, with Representatives Har, Nakasone, M. Oshiro, Sonson, Thielen and Waters being excused.

H.B. No. 2254, HD 2

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2045, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Cabanilla rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of Standing Committee Report 682-08 for House Bill 2045, Relating to Establishing a Global Youth Center. This measure that the Higher Education and International Affairs Committee heard is an extremely worthy call to create a means for our keiki to develop international ties and strong personal skills which will be necessary for success in the mid to late twenty-first century.

"As Planet Earth continues to modernize through the proliferation of mass communications technology, this world grows smaller and smaller each day. Long gone are the days when, if you will pardon my expression, we could each be our own island in this world. Today, we must enable our children to see themselves as part of a global, connected community, and to do that, the Global Youth Center will serve as an important first step. I urge my colleagues to vote in strong support of this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2045, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ESTABLISHING A GLOBAL YOUTH CENTER," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Har, Nakasone, Sonson and Thielen being excused.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am voting with reservations on 705. If we're going to penalize people for urinating and defecating in public, we should at least have enough restrooms for them in Downtown Honolulu. Just a mild reservation."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker responding to some of the previous criticisms, there are public restrooms available in the Chinatown area 24 hours a day at the police station at the corner of Smith and Hotel. During the day it's much easier to find a public restroom, but there are bathrooms open 24 hours a day. I and others have made strenuous efforts over the years to try to ensure that this is not an imposition on people who live in the area.

"The problem is that I and many of my constituents who live in Chinatown Towers have people urinating and defecating on our front steps, on the walls in front of our buildings, at the bus stops, routinely. When I go visit a foreign country I just assume it's illegal to relieve yourself in public. I think that, considering that there are facilities available, this is a perfectly rational and humane bill. Mahalo."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I am in support and I ask that the words of the Representative of Chinatown be incorporated as my own. I'd like to add that this has been a long-standing request of the 'mom and pop' businesses of Chinatown. And it's a health and safety issue as well. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise a second time with a brief retort. Being that this will make permanent what otherwise was part of the law of the land, so to speak. If they're still defecating in the bus stops and the door steps, how is making this permanent going to prevent it? That's the conundrum here."

Representative Meyer rose to respond, stating:

"I guess I need to explain my no vote. It's just that we're not quite making them criminals, but I guess in some ways we are. But the real truth, we're not providing enough adequate places for people to handle these bodily functions. And you know, when nature calls for a lot of people, I mean you're in a real fix. That's something I wouldn't want.

"There are other cities that have handled this in a far better way than we're doing here. In San Francisco, they actually have public bathrooms that you pay to go into for a very nominal amount. I went into one and it wasn't bad. I was certainly happy it was there. There are lots of businesses now that won't let you use their bathroom facilities. This is kind of like, 'What are we thinking?' This is something that people have to do, and many people as they get older have to do it more frequently. So if you're finding this kind of litter around, it says there's a need for something and we're not filling the need."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am standing in support. The only reservation I would have if any on this bill, is that it doesn't go far enough. It should include more of the primary core area of Honolulu. And although we may need to provide more facilities, part of the reason that we haven't constructed more on the City level is because they get destroyed by vandalism and other vagrancies. So I think this is a step in the right direction. We should expand it and then we should look into the possibility of more facilities like these. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. With reservations again, but I'd like to say a few words. As a Neighbor Island legislator, I fly in to the airport and I take the City bus into Downtown. When you get close to Downtown you start noticing the homeless, and you start noticing that we have a problem in Downtown Honolulu.

"My reservation is that I feel that maybe as State legislators we're actually taking on an issue that should be dealt with at the county level. This is really a homerule issue right now. There is truly an issue of homelessness and people on the streets in Downtown that might be defecating and urinating.

"The other side of course is that we have visitors and we invite our visitors to come down to Chinatown and the Capitol historic district. And so you have two groups that obviously are going to have to have their physical needs dealt with and it's truly a problem. I understand why the bill is here. I understand why the previous legislators who support it, support it. But I'm just with reservations because really I think the City and County of Honolulu should be looking at this issue. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1978, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC ORDER," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representative Meyer voting no, and with Representatives Har, Nakasone, Sonson and Thielen being excused.

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote with comments in the Journal as to why this is not good for Hawaii. I believe if people on the other side of the aisle saw how small Hawaii is in a stream of very highly contested primaries really made a difference. This bill would take away that small-state advantage. Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you for the opportunity to offer my opposition to House Bill 3013, which would amend the Hawaii Revised Statutes by enacting an agreement among states to elect the President of the United States by National Popular Vote. House Bill 3013 would cripple our State's role in national politics by undermining the Electoral College. The Electoral College system was purposely created by the Founding Fathers to give smaller states a weighted role in presidential elections. Measures such as this bill appear to be nothing but a knee-jerk reaction to Al Gore losing the Presidency despite winning the popular vote.

"The Electoral College benefits Hawaii in at least two important ways. First, presidential candidates cannot ignore the concerns of small states. We have already seen candidates campaigning in smaller states such as West Virginia, New Hampshire, and Iowa because electoral votes matter. A national vote simply means that Hawaii would be ignored because it represents so little of the national population. Second, a presidential candidate must appeal to many regions of the country in order to win the presidency. No one region of the country possesses a majority of the electoral votes necessary to win, not the West or the South, or the East. A national vote will drive candidates to population centers, and in that case, there are regions which could come to dominate. A national vote disenfranchises Hawaii, and all things being equal, I'd prefer to have our votes count.

"Thank you for this opportunity to offer my opposition to this measure."

Representative Mizuno's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of Stand. Comm. Report No. 709 (HB2138, HD1).

"By 2020 at least one in four individuals is expected to be 60 years or older in Hawaii. Caregiving has become a critical element of our healthcare system and our caregivers are essential to our Kupuna.

"So important are caregivers, that the Director for the State Executive Office on Aging has stated that, "Cargivers are the backbone of our long-term care system. Caregivers in Hawaii should be recognized, supported and valued by the community."

"I should note that both family caregivers and formal caregivers provide care for our disabled and frail elderly population without recognition and many times without compensation.

"Establishing a Caregiver Recognition Day will create public visibility to the value of informal caregiving and increase awareness of the need to support the need of caregivers. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. I live on one of these agricultural subdivisions that is affected by the measure," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey continued in support of the measure, stating:

"Okay, in which case, it's a good bill."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. These gentleman farms are really lifestyle choices. They shouldn't be agriculture, they should be rural. We should make ways to convert them quickly to rural.

"The other problem is that some of the older farmers die off and the families take over these agricultural lots. They don't want to farm, but they don't want to give up that land. So we need to find a way to convert those to rural."

Representative Sagum rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sagum's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations to HB 2355, HD1: Relating to Wells.

"While the intention of the bill to place a moratorium of the issuance of permits for the construction of wells intended to serve agricultural land parcels that are likely to be 'fake farms' or 'gentlemen estates' is honorable, the bill may have unintended consequences since potable wells for all zoning districts are generally drilled on mauka lands which are classified as 'agricultural' or 'conservation.'

"As the Commission on Water Resource Management of the Department of Land and Natural Resources testified, 'This is clearly a land use issue that should not be addressed through the Commission on Water Resource Management and the State Water Code.'

"I too, believe, there are alternative, better ways to address the issue of preventing fake farms or gentlemen estates. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Members of the House, these measures are for Second Reading, and will be placed on the Calendar for Third Reading. For those individual members who are submitting the written comments, there will be no need for you to submit written comments on Third Reading. Does everyone understand that? It's just duplicating the printing of our House Journal with a number of written comments in support or in opposition.

"So for those who have submitted written comments on Second Reading, there is no need to submit them again for Third Reading, but you can stand up and state your reservation once more, or your opposition or support."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. No. 714, with reservations. Just a comment. I may be misinterpreting this, but from what I'm told, this State Park Special Fund is very dependent on the funding that comes into the parks from Kauai, as well as Diamond Head.

"My reservation is that we're moving right now as a body into the funds that come to the park, to stay with the park. But what that's going to do is take the money out of the special funds so Hapuna Beach State Park on the Big Island, which has so much use and abuse because there's so many visitors that go to Hapuna Beach, actually a lot of that money to take care of that park comes out of the special funds. So what this is going to do is remove money from all those other State parks across the State.

"We need to find, as a legislative body, not that I don't support the intent of this, but we have got to find a way to put money in the State Park Fund, and this measure as a matter of fact will remove money from the State Park Fund. So we're going to have to come up with how we're going to provide revenues into the special fund that will affect all those other State parks across the State. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I spoke in Committee and I voted with reservations. I just want to point out that there were some pictures on signs for parking and bikeways, and it was just a sign. My biggest concern is people that are not from Oahu that come and visit, may not understand that.

"What I saw in the sign was that maybe this is where bicyclists like to go down this road. The same could be for historic corridors or scenic drives. It looked like maybe bicycles would be using the road. I didn't realize that they are prohibited to park there. In fact, it wasn't even paved. It looked like it was a shoulder and bikes could ride on the shoulder.

"So I'm just concerned that visitors aren't really going to understand some of our signage for bikeways. They may get ticketed basically because they don't understand."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition on this matter for a few reasons. First of all, I think the fine that is up to $500 is too exorbitant and is too expensive for our citizens.

"Secondly, although the intent of the bill is good, we don't have enough parking for our cars. This will really decrease the amount of parking that we have, especially around our beaches.

"And third, we won't have enough signage to warn people not to park there. I think there's a City ordinance that if you're going to prohibit parking on a certain street, that you have to have signs every so many feet thereof. So in addition to the signage that we have now, we're going to have to add more signs to this.

"I think this measure, even though it's a good measure, I think it's kind of premature because right now we have a lot of bikeways in Ewa Beach and I don't see any people using them. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Cabanilla be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in opposition to H.B. 2847 – Relating to Conditional License Permits, which would allow a conditional license permit to be issued to someone to drive to assist in the care of another person who is unable to drive due to that person's age, disability or medical condition.

"First, this bill allows someone the opportunity to get behind the wheel despite the fact that they have had their driver's license revoked for driving under the influence. There should be consequences for drinking and driving. This bill would erode the law against drinking and driving and may jeopardize public safety.

"Second, a disabled person should only get transportation from someone that has not had their license revoked for driving under the influence. While a disabled person has special needs, this does not change the fact that those needs would best be served by someone that has good judgment, rather than someone with a suspended license for breaking the law.

"Third, this bill places a heavy burden on the Judiciary, because of the large number of applications, hearings and paperwork that will be generated. The Judiciary should be given more time to prepare for changes of this magnitude."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2847, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONDITIONAL LICENSE PERMITS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto and Pine voting no, and with Representatives Har, Nakasone, Sonson, Thielen and Waters being excused.

Representative Manahan rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan's written remarks are as follows:

"The purpose of this bill is to officially commemorate and recognize the contributions of Filipino-Americans to the State and the nation by designating the month of October as Filipino-American History Month.

"The Legislature finds that the writings and teachings of American history have often overlooked the historical role of Asian-Americans, including the role of Filipino-Americans, whose heritage spans a colonial, political, economic, and cultural relationship with the United States. The Legislature also finds that the earliest documented presence of Filipinos in America was in 1587 in California and a settlement on the bayous of Louisiana in 1763, when seamen, later called Manilamen, jumped ship during the Spanish galleon trade era.

"Subsequent waves of migration followed and today Filipino-Americans continue to make a lasting impact on the history and heritage of Hawaii and the United States.

"The Legislature further finds that there have also been critical economic, cultural, social, and other notable contributions by Filipino-Americans to the development of United States history. The Legislature further finds that the prominence of Hawaii's Filipino and Filipino-American population warrants an official commemoration of the history and heritage of Filipino-Americans.

"The State of Hawaii is home to the second largest Filipino Community in the United States and possibly the world. Should this measure pass, we would be the first congress in the nation to pass this landmark legislation, thereby establishing Hawaii's critical role and sense of place within the global Filipino Community.

"The Hawaii Civil Rights Commission, Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu, Philippine Nurses Association Hawaii, Filipino-American Historical Society of Hawaii, Filipino American Citizens League, National Federation of Filipino American Associations, Oahu Filipino Community Council, United Filipino Council of Hawaii, Filipino Coalition for Solidarity, and Nursing Advocates & Mentors, Inc. all supported this bill."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I support House Bill 3343 which designates the month of October as Filipino-American History Month to commemorate the contributions of Filipino-Americans. Not long after our State's Filipino Centennial Celebration, this measure officially recognizes the need to preserve, enhance and promote an appreciation of Filipino heritage and the experiences of Filipino-Americans in Hawaii and the United States."

Representative Magaoay rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Magaoay's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 3343, HD 1. Mr. Speaker, this bill designates the month of October to annually commemorate the contributions of Filipino-Americans to Hawaii and the United States.

"Mr. Speaker, from the "sakadas" who first arrived in 1906, to labor leaders like Pablo Manlapit and Carl Damaso who collaborated with other ethnic unions against oppressive conditions, Filipinos have made a positive and lasting impact upon these islands.

"During times of war, hate crimes, and anti-immigrant sentiments from the halls of our U.S. Congress to the Streets across America, and in the media, Filipino American Heritage Month can counter racism and social injustice with an enrichment of historical facts and universal lessons learned in overcoming adversity. Such are the tools of a civil society. Hawaii's Filipino community is ready to do their share to be good stewards for the common good.

"Designating the month of October as Filipino-American History Month is a worthwhile endeavor and will foster goodwill and critical thinking amongst Hawaii's citizens at all levels of society. Research shows that building the capacity of ethnic pride and diversified competency fosters improved school performance and a productive, versatile labor force. Making education relevant to a child's life is the key to developing a positive identity, an ethical and compassionate character, and a foundation for civic engagement to uphold civil rights for all.

"Mr. Speaker, as Chair for the Filipino Caucus, I strongly urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sagum rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sagum's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 3343, HD1: Relating to Filipino-American History Month.

"The bill proposes to designate October as Filipino-American History month in Hawaii, in order to commemorate the contributions of Filipino-Americans to the history and heritage of Hawaii and the United States of America.

"It is my hope that in one of these months, my grandfather, Roland D. Sagum, will be honored for his contributions as he served as a major in the Honolulu Police Department, a member of the Police Commission and first president of the United Filipino Council of Hawaii and was active in many other civic organizations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in support of H.B. 3343 – Relating to the Commemoration of Filipino-American History Month, which designates the month of October as Filipino-American History Month to annually commemorate the contributions of Filipino-Americans to Hawaii and the United States.

"Filipino-American Month is about contributing lessons learned from Filipino history for the benefit of all. The Filipinos and Filipino Americans of Hawai'i comprise a significant portion of the State's population. Since 1906 they have significantly contributed to Hawai'i's work force, in addition to their committed service in the United States Armed Forces. Designating a month to commemorate their contributions to the socio-economic, historical and cultural welfare of the State will truly contribute to the self-esteem and civic sense of responsibility for Filipinos in our State."

THIRD READING

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 2455, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," was recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Har, Ito, Karamatsu, Magaoay, Nakasone, Sonson and Thielen being excused.

H.B. No. 2602, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 2602, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," was recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Har, Ito, Karamatsu, Magaoay, Nakasone, Sonson and Thielen being excused.

H.B. No. 2486:

Representative Caldwell moved that H.B. No. 2486, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the measure. This bill Mr. Speaker, would require that a private or public owner of a historic building provide archival quality black and white photographs of the building to the Department of Land and Natural Resources, as a condition of receiving a permit or approval to demolish, construct, or otherwise alter that building.

"This bill is important Mr. Speaker, because many new landowners from the Mainland are coming in and after taking over these historical buildings are altering them radically or in certain extreme cases demolishing them for a brand new modern building. While we in Lahaina are fortunate enough to have a national historical designation so that there are safeguards to protect these buildings, in most other areas of Hawaii there are no such considerations. Once these buildings are removed or altered, their historical significance and character are lost forever.

"Many of your children and grandchildren will never know the beauty and significance of these buildings, and even more troubling the architectural designs and influences will never be able to be studied and used by future architects. By having these photos of the buildings we can ensure that future generations will be able to appreciate these fine structures, and more importantly they can be studied and used in modern designs by future architects, thus tying our rich past in with the modern future."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in strong support of HB 2486 which would require photo documentation of historic buildings prior to demolition or alteration.

"While not all historic buildings have the level of significance or integrity that would necessitate complete preservation or restoration of aging buildings, it is important to have a lasting record of Hawai'i's historic buildings. Archival-quality documentation is instrumental for future study, understanding of the context of the site, historical analysis or architectural record. Furthermore, as the Historic Hawai'i Foundation has noted, best practices in preservation have already established the technical specifications that should be used for the photo-documentation and many such photographs are housed with the State Historic Preservation Division."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2486, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Har, Karamatsu, Nakasone, Sonson and Thielen being excused.

H.B. No. 2409:

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 2409, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AUTOMATED TELLER MACHINES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Har, Karamatsu, Nakasone, Sonson and Thielen being excused.

At 1:53 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

"For the many of you who have met him, and I know many of you in this building have, you would know how much of a brilliant man he was. And I know in speaking to Representative Karamatsu last night, he just brought a whole lot of passion into this building. He was here for the last two Opening Days. The Representative from Honolulu, as people would say, and the Representative from Kauai were sharing the story about how even through the difficulties of his cancer, he was always upbeat and very, very willing to share and discuss the issues of this community and this State with all of us.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

At this time, the Chair announced:

"Members, at this time we are on Unfinished Business. Members please note that H.B. No. 3407, HD 1, has been re-referred solely to the Committees on Energy & Environmental Protection and the Committee on Commerce & Consumer Affairs per Committee Referral Sheet No. 30 that has been placed on your desks today. The Committee on Judiciary waived its referral to this measure and therefore it is appropriate for the House to consider action for passage on Third Reading."

SUSPENSION OF RULES

Representative Caldwell moved to suspend the rules to reconsider action previously taken on H.B. No. 3407, HD 1, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro

Representative Meyer rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm assuming that you're going to re-refer it. It's not going to be up for Third Reading?"

The Chair responded, stating:

"It has been re-referred already. So the motion before the House is to suspend the Rules of the House to reconsider previous action."

Representative Meyer: "So we're going to look at it today? We're going to vote on it?"

Speaker Say: "Yes."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the rules were suspended to reconsider action previously taken on H.B. No. 3407, HD 1. (Representatives Awana, Cabanilla, Finnegan, Karamatsu, Nakasone and Saiki were excused.)

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTION TAKEN

Representative Caldwell moved that the House reconsider its action previously taken pursuant to the recommendation contained in Standing Committee Report No. 455-08, recommending referral to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried. (Representatives Awana, Cabanilla, Finnegan and Nakasone were excused.)

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering bills on Third Reading on the basis of a modified consent calendar. (Representatives Awana, Cabanilla, Finnegan and Nakasone were excused.)

H.B. 3407, HD 1:

Representative Caldwell moved that H.B. No. 3407, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in strong support of this. This bill undoes some of the laws that we passed that were really detrimental to competition in service stations. I was very much against these bills over the years, and we just seem to keep adding more layers of regulation. So I'm very pleased to see that this bill has reached this stage and I hope that it will pass. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in favor of this bill – in particular because the section on divorcement will be repealed.

"It was years ago when the Legislature, in an effort to protect small retail gasoline dealers from high volume gas stations in their neighborhood, instituted divorcement. High volume stations such as Aloha Petroleum simply relocated farther away and prospered because of their lower prices.

"The retail gas dealers, once visible on many street corners, have been disappearing from the Hawaiian landscape. Once upon a time they were also a potent political force, but the economics of oil pricing, environmental regulation, and governmental actions have eroded their position.

"Divorcement only delayed the inevitable. In the interest of the consumer, the State should not enact laws that impose a restraint on trade and fetter free enterprise."

Representative Yamashita rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I'm a gas dealer. Thank you, very much," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 3407, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GASOLINE DEALERS," passed Third Reading with Representatives Awana, Cabanilla, Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

At 12:40 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that H.B. No. 3407, HD 1, passed Third Reading.

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support to Standing Committee Report No. 815-08, HB 2614.

"This bill issues a $30 million dollar special purpose revenue bond to Island Pacific Academy, one of Kapolei's newest schools. The funds from this special purpose revenue bond will assist Island Pacific Academy in expanding their student body's programs by allowing construction of additional classrooms and a gymnasium.

"Mr. Speaker, as you know, I am an ardent proponent of our public education system. That being said, however, I also support diversity in our education system which can be achieved by providing parents and students with choices in education. This is where our private schools play an important role. Island Pacific Academy, one of two private schools in Kapolei, provides parents and students with a choice in education because IPA implements in its pedagogy contemporary research about cognitive development in young minds.

"I further support this bill because the student population at IPA is not comprised solely of students from Kapolei but includes students from all over Oahu. Approximately 30-35% of these students receive tuition assistance demonstrating that it is critical to IPA to have a diverse student population, transcending socio-economic barriers.

"As it is becoming more difficult for the State to build public schools in a timely manner due to budgetary constraints, our private schools play an even more important role by picking up the slack for our already overcrowded public schools. Therefore, we need to support our private schools as they provide support to state government.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of SCR No. 815-08, HB 2614."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2614, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ISLAND PACIFIC ACADEMY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative Tsuji rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"The purpose of this bill is to address the coqui frog problem near residential areas by directing the Hawaii Invasive Species Council, in its required plan, to give priority to eradicating coqui frogs that are on state or county land within one mile of residential areas.

"Coqui frogs have had a significant impact on the quality of life for counties around the State, especially Hawaii Island residents. Any opportunity that the State can take to mitigate and control the coqui frog should be supported.

"Over half of Hawai'i's current flora of flowering plants are non-native, and almost ten percent of these represent a serious threat to our native ecosystems. These species are not high profile or even annoying for residents and visitors; however, the threats that they present for us all are very troubling and real. The sheer number of invasive species coupled with our resource based economy results in what the Legislature called in 2003, 'the single greatest threat to Hawai'i's economy and natural environment and to the health and lifestyle of Hawai'i's people.' Hawai'i's 2007 Coqui Frog Management, Research, and Education Plan reports that in 2006 alone, the Legislature allocated more than $1.8 million for the control of coqui frogs and that, 'Multi-agency efforts since 2000 have reduced the populations of Kauai and Oahu and eradication is feasible with current tools and resources.' This amended bill's proposal for the Council to focus its Coqui Frog Eradication Plan on regions that will provide the most immediate, beneficial impact on our citizens is responsible and prudent legislation."

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to Stand. Com. No. 822. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. H.B. No. 3072, HD 2 basically eliminates the Post-Secondary Higher Education Commission from statute.

"I understand the intent of the Administration to develop a collaborative commission to deal with higher education issues as it relates to STEM and other business opportunities. However, this bill does two things that I'm concerned about. The first thing that it does is it basically takes over the Post-Secondary Education Commission and by doing so, I believe you jeopardize some significant federal funds going into the Commission as a pass-through to the University of Hawaii and other institutions of higher education. That is a very big concern of mine and I think we should take a look at this as it moves forward.

"The second concern is that this bill keeps the new Education Commission within HRS 304A. As you are aware Mr. Speaker, HRS 304A is the governing statute for the University of Hawaii. I think it's inappropriate for anything having to do with the Department of Business and Economic Development and Tourism to be located in 304A. If we want to move forward on something like this, I think we should set up a new Commission and it should be within the HRS statutes under the purview of DBEDT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"If I could just speak to Stand. Com. No. 822. I am going to vote yes, but with strong reservations for the many reasons that were just mentioned by the previous speaker."

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2998, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 825-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3386, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3386, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, very much. On Stand. Com. Rep. 825, Relating to Attorneys, I'll be voting no. This bill will change the procedure for determining representation of any court, judicial or legislative office by the Attorney General. Also it will allow a board, commission or agency to retain outside counsel under certain circumstances if the AG declines certain representation based on a conflict of interest.

"I'm really concerned that this bill will open a can of worms, and would take away the rights and powers of the AG's office and bring in outside legal counsel when the Attorney General is the State's legal counsel. Currently, only under very specific or special circumstances are agencies allowed to retain outside counsel and it is only if the Attorney General has no legal staff that has knowledge or expertise in the area of question. I'm afraid that this bill still allows the Judiciary and/or the Legislature to hire and select their own outside counsel and make the AG's office pay for it without providing any additional funding.

"Passing this unfunded mandate will seriously cripple the AG's budget and affect their ability to provide services, which in essence would hurt the entire State as they have hundreds of other cases that they have to take care of. I have many other concerns, but I can't support this and we'll see what happens to it."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3386, HD 1, entitled:

"A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ATTORNEYS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Marumoto, Meyer, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 826-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2686, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2686, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to Stand. Com. No. 826, Relating to Administrative Procedures. Mr. Speaker this bill makes rule-making, which is already a difficult and delayed process in the State of Hawaii, even more difficult than it is. It in effect makes us in our division of labor as policymakers, also rulemakers. And generally speaking we make the laws, the departments make the rules. This bill says, 'We don't like the rules that are being made, therefore come back and talk to us.'

"Some have called this a 'handcuff' bill. Some have called it a 'mother-may-I bill,' I call it the IFL bill. An IFL bill is based on the 'irrational fear of Lingle'. I don't see why we can't let the government go on as it's always been. We make the laws, they make the rules. And if we don't like them, why do we have to pass legislation to do it? So I think this is misplaced policy making. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. I also rise in opposition to this measure, but not on the same reasons as the previous speaker. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. HB No. 2686 is deeply concerning to me for three reasons.

"This bill, first of all creates onerous requirements on agencies. The requirements under the proposed HRS 91-384 would require administrative agencies to request comments from all interested parties. This requirement is unduly burdensome and nearly impossible to accomplish within a reasonable timeframe.

"Second, this bill is also bad because it paralyzes agency rulemaking. Agencies under this bill will be forced to use precious resources to respond to the individual comments of interested parties in addition to the requirement that the issued explanation to everyone generally I presume, as the reason for the decision under the proposed bill. This is unduly burdensome again, and duplicative requirement on the agencies.

"Finally Mr. Speaker, this bill purports to conform to the federal Administrative Procedure Act, but it really doesn't. The federal APA only requires that the agency give interested persons an opportunity to participate in rulemaking through submission of written data. Not this requirement that all affected parties be notified as required under this proposed bill. This bill also includes a requirement that agencies obtain expert opinions through all other agencies with jurisdiction over the area of law that the agency is making its rules over.

"Mr. Speaker, before both Committees that heard this bill, there was strong testimony in opposition and I'd just like to read a sample and share what the concerns of the agencies are. First, DNLR wrote: 'This bill would require proof and substantial evidence in support of a proposed rule.' Again noting its unduly burdensome nature and it says that it would be unnecessarily burdensome to agencies because the affects of rule changes are not always assured. The department in rulemaking relies on the best available information and its authority to create the best management scenario given its mission.

"The Small Business Regulatory Review Board said: 'At this point in time, the Review Board has been unable to confirm or understand if this bill is an equalization to the federal level or if it surpasses federal regulations.' I purport that it surpasses federal regulations and that, as the Small Business Regulatory Review Board expressed: 'If it surpasses the federal level, the concerns of the Board members is that it will significantly stall the rule making process or even bring the process to a halt.'

"And finally I leave you with the testimony of the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission which says that this bill, 'Makes it difficult for agencies with expertise in areas under their jurisdiction to engage in rulemaking pursuant to their statutory authority.' And I want to emphasize this, 'Expose legitimate rule making to numerous legal challenges.' This body is very concerned about the length of time it takes to get rules through agencies. Clearly this bill will stall that process. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. I'd just like to clarify, the purpose of this bill really goes back to the basic purposes of separation of powers. The Legislative branch is the only branch that is in power to make policies. And because of this, this bill is about the delegation of that authority through rulemaking. If we never delegate the power to make rules, then the agencies have no ability to do so. That's purely our discretionary function giving it to them because we trust them. We want them to use their expertise. We want them to be able to run efficiently and effectively. Unfortunately sometimes that does not happen.

"And so what this bill does is, it basically follows what goes on under the NEPA, or the National Environmental Policy Act, which isn't that cumbersome of a process if you understand how that process works. Basically what happens is a draft EIS comes out, people submit their comments and the agency is under an affirmative burden to respond to those comments. That's all that it does and that's all that's mirrored in this bill; a following of what we have under 40CFR, sections 1503.1 to 1503.4. And so I really don't understand why people are saying that this will be bringing rule making to a halt.

"What it does for people that are interested in rulemaking and making sure that the rules comport with the statutory authority won't exceed it or go beyond it or go inconsistent with it, is it gives the opportunity to comment. And the agency, if their proposed rules are within those bounds, should easily be able to respond and say, 'Here's why your comments are invalid. Here's why your concerns aren't being taken care of.' However if people bring forth significant comments and/or concerns that the agency should be taking a look at, and/or the Legislature should be made aware of that the agency is doing, then I think this is another mechanism by which we can ensure there's proper monitoring in this bill's delegated authority we are giving to agencies.

"Again, I need to emphasize that because in the past we've seen rulemaking go on that we don't believe comports with the policies, specifically worker's compensation. We took away the rulemaking authority because it went over and beyond their scope of what we believe the policy is under Chapter 386. And it's for those reasons that I believe we should support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in rebuttal. Thank you, I really appreciate the comments of the speaker before me and I do understand the delegated authorities that we give to agencies. However, using the example that the previous speaker pointed out, if we want to apply that scheme, that rulemaking scheme to the appropriate law, then we would apply it to HEPA, the Hawaii Environmental Protection Act. We would not take an administrative scheme that is meant for the environmental protection laws in our State and apply wholesale to all agencies. That is the problem with this.

"This bill goes too far in terms of how we can rein in, and bring in renegade agencies. Well, the way we do that is by clarifying the laws that give them statutory authority to make rules. We don't go and change the Administrative Procedure Act wholesale without thinking about how it's going to apply to all of the agencies, State and countywide.

"I would also note Mr. Speaker, that there are portions of this bill that go beyond the federal APA that requires the burden of proof for rule change to be placed on the proponent of the rule change. That is a huge step.

"And the final point I would make is just as this body is taking a very careful look at Hawaii Environmental Protection Act, we're asking experts beyond us to look at the National Environmental Protection Act before we can make any wholesale changes to that, to our Hawaii Environmental Protection Act. I would urge this body to do the same thing rather than adopt wholesale a federal Administrative Procedures Act. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Brief rebuttal, Mr. Speaker. For 50 years, almost 50 years, short one year, the system of rulemaking has worked even though all of us in this room who have had constituents say, 'Well why are the rules taking so long?' Clearly there must be an exception as to why we are doing it now after almost 50 years of it working. In this one instance where Director, Mr. Befitel, having stepped over the boundary, I think we're missing the way that we have structured the separation of powers.

"The way that you rein in directors of such out-of-bound behavior is what we have, in terms of checks and balances, with the Senate approval of those appointees. They have to be scrutinized and some of them make it, some of them don't make it. You don't go back and change the whole rulemaking and slow the whole State down because you've got one renegade, or one particular director who you don't agree with.

"So I think we're overreacting, and Mr. Speaker I think it goes back to this new gubernatorial phobia. I don't see any other way to explain it. And that's the irrational fear of Lingle."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to respond, stating:

"Again very briefly in support. The contingent that we've never had any problems is completely false. If anybody looks at the case annotations under Chapter 91, you'll see that there's over two dozen cases that have gone up the appellate court on the interpretation of Chapter 91 because the agencies for all of that time, since this law was enacted in 1961, have not been able to comply.

"I'm sorry that it takes them so long. And I'm sorry that they can't read Chapter 91 and don't know what's required of them. It's not that hard, really. They just need to make sure they're making rules that are within the policy bounds. Unfortunately sometimes they don't. Unfortunately sometimes they don't give the proper notice. Unfortunately at times they promulgate it wrong. And so that's where there are these challenges. So if people out there that are interested in rulemaking want to have the opportunity to participate in the process in a meaningful manner, I think this does so. Thank you, very much."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just in opposition. My concern with this bill is that it may severely limit the Administrations' ability to function in a timely manner. In that way it may jeopardize the State and put it at risk for losing federal funds and other opportunities presented outside the Legislative Session. I want to ask also that the words of the Representative of Makiki be entered as my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. I didn't expect to speak. I thought the measure and the findings would be self-sufficient and self-evident for the reasons of this measure. I'd like the record to put the words of the Representative from Aiea as my own. Mr. Speaker, let me just establish a few points here.

"First of all, this in no way is going to hamper the State government from operating. The sky's not falling. Armageddon is not at hand. What this bill does is basically, it allows the public to participate in a meaningful way in the rulemaking process. It does add to the current law, by tracking the federal Administrative Procedures Act and I think it's necessary when you have a situation where State departments and agencies deviate from the legislative policies articulated in our laws.

"As articulated by the speaker from Aiea, one example that those who were around here in 2004 and 2005 may recall, you saw the workers' compensation debacle that was imposed upon us by one of the departments. But there was also another instance when the Department of Human Services also on their own initiative tried to change some of the rules affecting those in public housing. And I believe the previous Chair of the Health Committee had to address that with the previous Chair of Housing & Human Services several years ago to rein in the particular Department's rulemaking authority.

"Most recently Mr. Speaker, the Department of Health, and all departments know this; we have the ability through emergency powers to enact rules. Just last year after the Governor declared a state of emergency using her Executive powers, the Department of Health came in and overnight set aside the promulgated emergency rules for the feeding of homeless, and set aside over 15 years of public health laws regarding feeding and certified kitchens in one fell pen stroke.

"So it can be done, Mr. Speaker. There's no way we'd jeopardize health and safety and the welfare of the community by the process of this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2686, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 38 ayes to 11 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Ching, Luke, Marumoto, Meyer, Morita, Pine, Thielen, Wakai and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2247, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in very strong support. Mr. Speaker we established the South Kona Wilderness Area in the 2003 Session. That was five years ago. We put $600,000 into the bill for the Administration to do an independent appraisal of the land to try to work on the land exchange with the owner of the land. The governor went to Kona to sign this bill into law. We brought the kupuna from Milolii up to witness this event. The only thing that's happened since then is nothing.

"Our senior Senator is interested in having the federal government acquire these lands, but he needs an independent appraisal. The only appraisal that we've ever received on this land is from the landowner who based his valuation on build out based on the Hokulia development prices, which is absurd. There is strong pressure to develop the lands of South Kona and Ka'u, and we need to preserve those historic lands. Some of you have been down to these South Kona wilderness lands. You know it's not easy to get there. You need a four-wheel drive. But once you get there, the history is just amazing and we have to preserve it.

"Year after year, after year, we have to extend this bill hoping, hoping that at some point, the Administration will acquire these lands, but now she's off wanting to buy Turtle Bay. The Senate wants to buy Coco Palms. We need to preserve these historic lands of South Kona. So I urge Members to at least give us another year to see if we can get something done. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I'm just standing in strong support Mr. Speaker, and I echo the sentiments that these historical places need to be saved because again, as I have said on the Floor, there is no better classroom for our children than these historic sites. And when they do visit these places history comes alive for them. It's an additional tool for reaching our children. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. I am employed by one of the owners of the South Kona Wilderness Area, Mr. Speaker. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support and may I have the words of the Speaker of Liliha as if they were my own? Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2247, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative Shimabukuro rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of this measure, which will allow the Hawaii Community Development Authority to resell reserved housing units with the requirement that the resold units remain affordable in perpetuity.

"I wish to point out that HCDA Director Anthony Ching supported the amendment the House made to require re-sold units to remain affordable in perpetuity.

"The inability to resell reserved housing units potentially prohibits qualified buyers from acquiring a home.

"The buyback restrictions are designed to prevent profits from purchasers of these units, by first offering the unit to Hawaii Community Development Authority, who in-turn can choose to purchase the units and then resell the unit to another qualified reserved housing buyer.

"Mr. Speaker, we must ensure that future generations have affordable housing available to them. Any sacrifice we make today to preserve affordable units in perpetuity will prevent strife for our children and grandchildren who will not be able to compete with millionaires and investors who will quickly buy up Hawaii's precious housing stock if we do not act now to prevent that.

"I urge your support of this important measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Mizuno's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support of Stand. Comm. Report No. 836 (HB2062, HD1).

"This bill will allow those patients in long-term nursing facilities to move back home or in a home- or community-based long-term care setting and the Medicaid funds will be allowed to follow that patient. By allowing Medicaid funds to follow the patient, this will allow more patients who desire to reside in their own home or a residential care home to do so.

"This measure will also address the acute bed shortage of 200 to 275 as mentioned at the House Health Briefing in early January 2008 and reduce the costs to hospitals in the State of $90 million which was also mentioned at the Health Informational Briefing in early January and re-stated in the Honolulu Advertiser in early January 2008. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2062, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LONG-TERM CARE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"QUEST/Medicaid is a crucial source of health coverage for low-income pregnant women and their infants. Research suggests that two months of interconception care is an inadequate amount of time for post-delivery care, which may contribute to adverse perinatal health outcomes for this at-risk population.

"Preconception/interconception care is crucial to improved health outcomes that benefit the women, as well as reducing the costs to society. Unchecked health problems create a cost to the women, as well as the community. Women of childbearing age should receive preconception care services so that they enter pregnancy in optimal health, with the goal of reducing infant and maternal morbidity and mortality.

"The findings of the Hawaii State Department of Health's Pregnancy Risk Assessment Monitoring System (PRAMS), conducted over the past several months, is consistent with national PRAMS data and clearly indicates that women on QUEST/Medicaid are: 3 times less likely to access prenatal care in the first trimester; 1.5 times more likely to have an unintended pregnancy; 3 times more likely to smoke during last trimester; 3-4 times more likely to use illicit drugs during pregnancy; 2 times more likely to suffer post-partum depression; at 3-4 times higher risk of experiencing intimate partner violence while pregnant, 10% more likely to have a low-birth weight or premature infant; and 2 times less likely to have postpartum examinations or to initiate breastfeeding, compared to women with other forms of health insurance. The data confirms that women on QUEST/Medicaid do have higher preconception risk factors, and that risky pregnancy and post-partum health conditions are prevalent as a result.

"HB 2774, HD1 would extend QUEST/Medicaid's coverage for pregnant women to 6 months post-delivery, so that they are allowed time to recover and their health care providers have more time to initiate needed care and complete recommended post-partum services. The added 4 months would also give women a crucial start on preconception care before the next potential pregnancy, as well as help address prevention of an unintended pregnancy. Women on other forms of insurance are not automatically terminated from health care access post-delivery, and this at-risk population needs more time and attention to address these unresolved perinatal health issues. By increasing access to needed care during this crucial period, it is hoped that we can improve adverse health outcomes for this population and address health problems preventively and cost-effectively with our public funds."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2761, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WOMEN'S HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 838-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2511, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2511, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm just standing in support, but with some reservations. This bill, basically, would expand the Rental Assistance program and give priority to applicants who are homeless or living in emergency or transitional shelter.

"I do want to declare a possible conflict. I work in a women's shelter and it would benefit," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Pine continued, stating:

"Just the concern that I have, and I mentioned this in Finance, basically this would give priority to a person that's homeless to go straight to a regular rental outside of the State program. My own concern is, in working with the homeless I've learned so much, and there's several different types of homeless. There are homeless who are mentally ill and who need some time and some medical care before they go straight to a program outside of government care or a counselor's care, and my concern for those particular people to go straight to a rental assistance program project that has no counselors, we may be setting them up for failure.

"The other concern is that there's homeless who have been homeless for a very, very long time and they don't really quite know how it is to be paying rent on a regular basis. So to give those people priority before people who have been in a special program to get them to pay their rent on a regular basis could also set them up for failure.

"So I know this is a great bill with a great purpose, and I just hope as we go along we will give more flexibility to perhaps the counselors that are overseeing some of these residents so we can guarantee their success."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I just want to respond a bit to what was previously said. The Rent Supplement Program is set up so that the person has the onus, like Section 8, to find a rental, and this is with a private landlord. The Rent Supplement Program at this point is about only $230 I believe, in assistance. So this person has to come up with the balance on their own, and has to follow all the normal rules or whatever it is they have to do. If you're talking about someone who's mentally ill, who's drug addicted, chronically homeless, that kind of thing, they probably would not end up in this program.

"I do understand the concerns and I know this could be something we could look at after Crossover. But I also wanted to point out that HPHA was critical of the measure as well, stating that the purpose of this program is really to help the gap group of people who are not the very needy. But Mr. Speaker I would argue that this group of people, these are the people that can be paying the rent on their own for one to two years. That's the current wait time for the rent supplement program.

"I think that we need to make some tough choices here and that given our State's homeless crisis, given our recent ranking as the worst in the nation for the cost of rent in comparison to our income, we really need to look at who we want to help. I know that both groups need a lot of help, but I really think we need to give priority to those who are the most needy. It's the humane thing to do to give people 90 days to find a rental upon being approved. May I also have additional written comments as well? Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in support. Mr. Speaker, this Joint Majority Package bill is beneficial for all in today's housing crisis. When I initially contacted HPHA regarding this idea, they supported the concept because they were not expending their rent supplement funds. When I asked why, HPHA stated that their workers were finding that many applicants were not eligible for various reasons, including not currently living in a qualified rental.

"The waiting list for the rent supplement program is 1 to 2 years. The way the program is currently set up, people on the waiting list must already be in a rental unit in order to qualify for assistance. With such a long and uncertain waiting period, it is a terrible onus to place this requirement upon the low income here in Hawaii. I should remind this body that Hawaii was recently ranked worst in the nation in terms of the cost of rent in comparison to income.

"Critics of this measure argue that it is set up to help a "gap group" of people who are not the very needy. Who is this gap group? We are talking about people who are able to afford paying rent on their own for 1 to 2 years during the long and uncertain waiting period for the rent supplement program. While I am sure this group is needy, I would say their needs pale in comparison to the leagues of homeless who work 2 to 3 minimum wage jobs and cannot begin to afford the rising cost of rent. And I hear from every transitional shelter manager that there is nowhere for their tenants to go because they cannot afford the going rent rates.

"This measure is fair. It will allow HPHA to exhaust the current waiting list of approximately 400 individuals before giving preference to those who are homeless and in transitional shelters. And I would bet that the 90 day grace period to find a rental will no doubt help those on the waiting list who may be homeless or in transition themselves.

"Although HPHA testified that their current $1 million balance will be exhausted with the changes we implemented last year, that is, increasing the amount of the rent supplement and increasing the income limit, about $1 million is appropriated each year for this program.

"Given our current homeless crisis, we have to make tough choices. I think it is unquestionable that if we have to choose between helping those who can afford rent for 1 to 2 years on their own, and those who are homeless and in transitional shelters, we must help those with the greatest need first.

"Please join Dr. Joel Fisher of the UH School of Social Work and OHA in support this critical measure."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support and I ask that the comments made by the Representative from Waianae be entered into the Journal as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2511, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RENTAL ASSISTANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 839-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3161, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3161, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 839, I have a potential conflict of interest. At my law firm I represent HHSC, but nothing in relation to this measure. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Green rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First I'd like to ask for a ruling of a potential conflict of interest. I'm an E.R. physician in rural hospitals of HHSC," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Green continued in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I rise in support of the bill. Just briefly, this is a $14 million emergency appropriation to keep the facilities open and running for the Neighbor Islands. I think it's very important. I'd just like to make a brief comment that it was testified in the Health Committee that over the last four years, under-reimbursement from HMSA results in the $30.8 million shortfall at HHSC. So that $30.8 million shortfall is being made up by taxpayer dollars through the Legislature, which I am very grateful that we're doing this to keep our rural hospitals open for the Neighbor Islands. But I do want to make note that this amounts to corporate welfare on behalf of the Legislature and the taxpayers directly to HMSA because they're not paying their bills. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sagum rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sagum's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 3161, Making an Emergency Appropriation to the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation.

"In my district, Kauai Veterans Memorial Hospital is a vital part of the community, and is a part of the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation. In an emergency, the location of this rural hospital may make a difference between life and death of a patient, as the other nearest hospital is at least a 45 minute drive from the West side.

"I strongly support this $14 million emergency appropriation to keep the rural hospitals open for all of those who live on the West Side of Kauai and in other rural areas on all of the islands. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3161, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION TO THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative Yamane rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support of HSCR 842 (H.B. 2587, H.D. 1), a bill that will appropriate funds to establish Creativity Academies in our public school system.

"Over the years, the Legislature has been steadfast in our commitment to our most valuable resource – our keiki – in laying out the foundation for a future full of opportunities for them. However, studies reveal that Hawaii students experience a sharp decline in math skills, especially after the sixth grade, suggesting a pressing need to find new ways to engage them in developing the core skills needed to succeed in the competitive economic climate of the 21st century.

"In addition, Hawaii's public education system continues to face major challenges in providing our high school graduates with the skills in basic science, technology, engineering, and mathematics which are necessary for them to be adequately prepared for engineering or science programs at either a community college or university level.

"Studies conducted by national educational organizations show that the addition of a creative arts component, such as music and fine arts, to science and math education significantly enhances the learning outcomes for students while simultaneously preparing them in their pursuit of competitive careers in communication, entertainment, and technology industries because the students studying the arts are able to acquire the knowledge, skills, attitudes and behaviors – including creativity and innovation, critical thinking and problem solving, communications and collaboration, flexibility and adaptability, and social and cross cultural skills – which are the very skills necessary to be successful in the global economy.

"The Creativity Academies will introduce a classroom-based curriculum of innovative creative exploration, providing a way to assist Hawaii's keiki develop new approaches to problem solving, while developing the skills necessary to compete in the 21st century global marketplace through the integration of new media arts and science, technology, engineering, and mathematics content and processes by:

- Locally developing a turnkey Creativity Academies curriculum that is responsive to the educational and workforce development needs of Hawaii;
- Pilot-testing this turnkey curriculum for the University of Hawaii, community colleges, and the Department of Education systems at Kapiolani Community College and a Neighbor Island community college involving area high school students in the first year of the program;
- Developing and pilot-testing "teacher training program activities";
- Establishing an after-school program for middle school students in animation, game development, and creative publishing; and
- Establishing an after-school program for at-risk youth in animation, game development, and creative publishing.

"Mr. Speaker, this legislation is a comprehensive, bipartisan effort where the Legislature, the Department of Education, the University of Hawaii, and the Community Colleges all joined forces with the Administration to provide Hawaii's students, K-20, gifted to those with special needs, the opportunity to acquire a comprehensive education that will better prepare them for the 21st century global marketplace."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong opposition."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. 843. HB 2395, HD 1, Relating to Economic Development is very similar to two bills that have been passed. I'm in opposition to this. It's very similar to bills that we have passed in the two previous years and the Governor has vetoed them. While some of the Governor's concerns have been addressed in this version, there are still lots of problems with it.

"DBEDT suggests that before this bill is given further consideration, that proponents be requested to prepare a business plan that includes substantiated projections on the potential revenue that could be generated to support the activity of the corporation in its efforts to develop and exploit innovation and inventions to benefit the State. Also the bill is unclear about what actions the Innovation Development Corporation will undertake to benefit inventors, labor unions and educators who are represented on the Board of Directors as the purpose laid out in the bill is far too broad. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2395, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Ching and Meyer voting no, and with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support and I'd like written comments inserted in the Journal. This is part of the Joint Legislative Committee on Family Caregiving package of bills."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in support of HB2198 HD1.

"During the 2007 Interim, the University of Hawaii Department of Family and Consumer Science prepared the Needs Assessment of Grandparents Raising Grandchildren. The grandparent needs assessment indicates that over 14,000 grandparents are primary caregivers for over 33,000 grandchildren in the State. These grandparents are providing a great service to the State by caring for these children outside of the foster care system.

"The needs assessment also shows that grandparents who provide care to their grandchildren often suffer emotional, physical, and financial costs, and these grandparents are a vulnerable population. The types of services needed by these grandparents include: support groups, financial assistance; respite; and assistance in dealing with legal issues such as custody. A task force to discuss the specific needs of grandparents raising grandchildren is very necessary.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2198, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAREGIVING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2196, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in support of this measure.

"Family caregiving is a complex issue that is just beginning to be addressed, and needs further work. By extending the term of the Joint Legislative Committee on Family Caregiving (JLCFC), as well as re-naming the Committee as the Joint Legislative Committee on Aging in Place (JLCAP), we will continue to study the issue and make recommended changes in public policy for the future.

"The JLCFC was created by Act 285, SLH 2006, and enacted as Act 204 by 2007 for it became apparent that due to the shortage of caregivers in our islands, there was a growing need for greater support to family caregivers. It is estimated that by 2020, 25% of the population will be at least sixty years of age.

"Act 204 intends to strengthen support to family caregivers, in part, by requiring the JLCFC to inquire about establishing a paid family leave program, and to conduct a comprehensive needs assessment of family caregivers and recipients: their population, the impact of family caregiving on income and employment, among other long-term care related issues.

"The JLCFC was directed to gather input from 18 governmental departments and agencies, along with 28 other organizations: the Departments of Education, Health, Human Services, Taxation, UH, EOA, and the Policy Advisory Board for Elderly Affairs, to name a few. The Committee also received input from numerous individuals who are caregivers. The JLCFC also collaborates with the Legislative Kupuna Caucus to gather information on issues of common interest.

"Contracts for conducting and analyzing the needs assessment data were awarded to Pacific Research and Planning Associates for and to the UH School of Social Work, respectively. The survey gathered 600 randomly selected responses.

"The analysis of the surveys weighted data reveal the significant roles taken by our family and long term caregivers, and the growing, urgent need to support them.

- More than one in four Hawaiian households contain at least one caregiver, caring for one or more adults at least 60 years of age.
- Over 73% of family caregivers are female with an average age of 54.
- 64% of care recipients are female with an average age of 80.
- Most caregiving is community-based and not institutional as most recipients live alone or with their caregiver; 3% reside in a nursing home.
- The household income levels of caregivers tends to be low: more than 53% of caregivers report annual earnings of 35,000 or less.
- The most common health problems of care recipients are hypertension, heart disease, arthritis, dementia, and Alzheimer's disease.
- Caregivers spend an average of approximately 20 hours per week providing care.
- 29% of the surveyed caregivers stated they provide constant care.
- 80.7% of caregivers support paid family leave, and 77.6 percent support case management, both of which comprise the cash and counseling program.
- Regarding hardships and negative effects of family care giving, caregivers ranked emotional strain to be the greatest hardship.

'The EOA contracted with the UH School of Social Work, conducted research on cash and counseling programs in other states. A report was prepared for the Legislature indicating that cash and counseling programs are promising, and ensure consumer directed home and community-based care for elders and the disabled, as well as benefiting caregivers. States offering such counseling and support services report high, satisfactory results from caregivers and receivers.

"The EOA, as mandated by Act 204, prepared a cost-benefit analysis of the family caregiver refundable income tax credit, specifically the incentive which awards a cash payment of a maximum credit of $1000 to go towards the caregivers' State income tax. This credit, the report indicates, would generate approximately $2.3 million dollars in the State's economy.

"During the 2007 interim, due to the numerous testifiers appearing during the 2006 interim, the UH Department of Family and Consumer Science prepared the Needs Assessment of Grandparents Raising Grandchildren, indicating that over 14,000 grandparents are primary caregivers for over 33,000 grandchildren. The needs assessment also indicates grandparents providing care for their grandchildren also suffer emotional, physical, legal, and financial costs.

"During the 2007 interim, LRB conducted research on how other states provide respite care. Although the inventory is yet to be finalized, the LRB has indicated that of the 44 million unpaid family caregivers nationwide, only 5% receive respite services. The benefits of respite include a delay in institutionalized care and a decrease in stress.

"This measure requires the JLCAP to design counseling and cash projects for elders and others in need of long term care not eligible for Medicaid, while enabling the Kupuna Care program to expand its services by including emergency, overnight, and weekend respite services.

"The JLCFC envisions and strives towards directing a comprehensive, maintainable community based family caregiver support system which includes:

1) a coordinated referral and case management service;
2) centralization of available services;
3) volunteers;
4) education and training; and
5) financial assistance.

"These localized and nationwide testimonies, studies, and surveys are some of the many that the JLCFC has had the benefit of examining. The evidence of the needs of family caregivers and recipients is concrete, as well as the evidence of the progress towards the goals of the JLCFC. Thank you."

I agree wholeheartedly that discussions on PPP should start now and the route should be studied and preserved now."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2491, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I'm actually a supporter of electronic road pricing. I think it makes a lot of sense. I think it only makes sense after there's an alternative.

"Right at the moment, for most commuters from the Leeward Coast and Central Oahu, the freeway is really the only way to go. The bus system is very well utilized. In fact it's so well utilized that it doesn't really supply an option for most people because most of the rush hour buses are packed. So I think this is just a little too early in the process. Once we have a rail system, I think it makes perfect sense. Mahalo."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations and just a few comments. I just wanted to add to the Representative from Downtown. In fact, the experience in Singapore where they have electronic pricing is just the way he described it, where there are alternative roads. And depending on where it's at in the city, they increase the price if it's within the core or decrease the price. Also in Kuala Lumpur where they have pricing, they also have alternative roads so people that want to get to a certain place faster pay a higher price. Those who want to get caught in traffic, don't pay. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell's written remarks are as follows:

"Many communities in Hawaii, including Manoa, face continuing problems with feral pigs. Within the last few years, hunting programs have helped to keep feral pig populations in check, but we must do more. This appropriation will come at a small price. Box traps and corral traps are an inexpensive way to control feral pigs, but an important investment to protect our islands.

"While feral pigs rarely endanger people, they cause substantial destruction in residential neighborhoods, and widespread destruction of natural environments.

"In the mountains behind Manoa Valley, wild pigs continue to destroy the undergrowth that plays an important role in protecting our community and the environment. Without this undergrowth which is eaten and trampled by feral pigs, loose soil is washed away by the heavy rains, contributing to the silt and debris that clog Manoa stream. In 2004, heavy rains brought silt and debris that overflowed the banks causing $80 million dollars in damage.

"At the makai end of our ahupua'a, as the stream waters enter the ocean, the silt covers the reef, continuing the environmental damage that started in the mountains.

"If we can protect the undergrowth, it slows the speed of water that comes down the mountain, protects the soil from erosion, keeps our streams flowing freely, and protects our reefs from silt. I urge you to support this measure."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

"Mr Speaker, I rise in strong support of Stand Com Report 870-08, HB2737 HD1. This bill appropriates funds to the Department of Agriculture for the construction of a water reservoir or reservoirs in Upcountry Maui having a combined capacity of 300 million gallons. The measure also requires funds from the federal and county governments.

"Upcountry Maui is an area that is frequented by drought, which leads to mandatory water cutbacks. As a result, many farmers are forced out of business and agricultural production is drastically reduced. Additionally, many Upcountry residents face severe hardship, as water shortages negatively affect not only farmers, but also wholesalers, retailers, and consumers. If we are to preserve agriculture in Hawaii, we must provide water to our farmers.

"The construction of a drought mitigation reservoir in Upcountry is the first crucial step towards securing Maui's future. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell moved that H.B. No. 2522, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak against House Bill 2522. It is Relating to the Land Use Commission. What the bill does Mr. Speaker, is raises the acreage that can be reclassified by a county and raises it up to 50 acres. I think this is a very poor land use decision.

"The Sierra Club had very descriptive testimony as to why they thought this bill should not pass through. I think in the end result we could end up with a lot more checker-board kind of land use in our State and also harm agricultural uses. So I would hope that if the bill passes today, I would hope it does not make it over to the Senate side. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Same measure, with reservations. Just some really, really brief comments. I understand that the legislative intent of the 15 acres by the 1981 Legislature was to streamline the process. I know a lot of the major, big land owners in those days no longer exist. However on Maui we have a new breed of cat: Mainland speculators who are buying up 30, 40 acre parcels for speculation development. So I understand that this would help to move things forward, but I do have concerns about the 50-acre limit. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in opposition of this matter. I think that we should not be going to this type of reclassification of lands. We have infrastructure problems arising from this reclassification and I think if we are to reclassify these lands, it should be taken up on a county basis rather than us legislating it on a statewide basis. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker this bill is one of our Majority Package bills. It is part of our Smart Growth Package of which there are a number of bills. And this one basically is designed, and here's the reason it's called Smart Growth, to prevent what we're seeing right now, which is fallout into our agriculture lands. It's to encourage more condensed growth and not have 'leapfrogging' outwards. So it's dealing with remnant parcels.

"And granted, in 1981 it was 15 acres and it's being increased to 50 acres. Part of the reason, Mr. Speaker is that with this bill, the jurisdiction will fall to the counties. Back in '81, maybe the counties were not equipped to deal with this. But we've seen since then, counties have become stronger and stronger in dealing with land use issues and therefore, it will rest with them and we won't have multijurisdictional problems, and hopefully we'll have fair decisions being made; more clear, and more efficiently made decisions on remnant parcels.

"The other thing Mr. Speaker, is that I think that today is the day to start looking at how we empower our counties, and give them some further homerule. It gets back to that whole question about whether government is fit for the future. I think this is one step in going to the direction of trying to restructure a little bit how government works and empowering the counties to deal with issues on land use development, on smaller parcels of land. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I hope everyone will support this bill."

Representative Shimabukuro rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"HB 2522 will have county councils, not the Land Use Commission decide the use of agriculture, rural and conservation lands up to 50 acres from the current 15 acres. Enacting this bill will allow for a more consolidated process by giving counties the authority to amend land use maps contained in a county general plan, county community, development, or community development plans, and any other proceedings without going to the Land Use Commission.

"This bill would take the majority of the land reclassification applications out of the State Land Use Commission's authority and give it to the counties as a consolidated rezoning process. Currently the LUC's requirements for review of boundary amendments are far more involved and in-depth than the counties.

"Both OHA and the Sierra Club have opposed this measure. OHA feels that by allowing the counties to decide what happens with the land, public review of such important decisions will not happen. If that is the case they cannot fulfill their duties to ensure the protection of traditional and culture access rights and uses, Native Hawaiian archaeological and burial sites, and natural and cultural resources. Despite the fact that counties must consult with OHA before plans are made, they rarely comply with Native Hawaiian interests like LUC does. Sierra Club feels that by expanding the threshold to 50 acres many agricultural lands will be lost. They believe that the counties do not have the expertise to evaluate wetlands, wildlife habitat and archeological sites on rural or agricultural lands.

"Allowing the counties to decide uses on rural and agricultural land less than 50 acres and not the quasi-judicial LUC eliminates a person's right to question developers and their 'expert' witnesses, appeal decisions based on a complete record for violations of clear standards, and have decisions made based upon evidence presented.

"Living in such a precious environment with many cultures and traditions, we should be very careful about what we do with our land and take OHA and Sierra club's recommendations seriously. Both organizations' work for the best interest of Hawaii's people and land."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With all respect to the Representative from Manoa, speaking from East Honolulu, I have grave concerns at the counties' ability to take responsibility for this and especially in light of the fact that we are still trying to determine the important agricultural lands discussion and the incentives and all the details of that. The county zoning areas are not congruent with the State zoning and I think this is premature. I think this is flying in the face of the existing sincere efforts of working toward identifying important agricultural lands. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support and I'd like the Journal to reflect the speaker from Manoa's words as if they were own. And I'd also like to say, coming from the Neighbor Islands, that it's very difficult for Neighbor Island people to come to the Land Use Commission or any commission here in Honolulu. And the words that the speaker from Manoa said as far as getting it back to the people, this Legislature is in session for three and a half months. The county councils on the Neighbor Islands, and even for populations of 500,000 or more, are in session all year. So it gives the people more opportunities to reflect change to their districts. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2522, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE LAND USE COMMISSION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Cabanilla, Carroll, Hanohano, Morita, Thielen and Wakai voting no, and with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

Representative Caldwell moved that H.B. No. 2525, and H.B. No. 2526 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker I'm voting with reservations on both House Bill 2525 and House Bill 2526. Both of these are moving ahead with the idea of smart growth. I think there are lots of examples from the State of Oregon that have driven the cost of homes and property up dramatically."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2525, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused; and

H.B. No. 3038:

Representative Caldwell moved that H.B. No. 3038, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on House Bill 3038, I rise with reservations and brief comments. Mr. Speaker, I note that in the Finance Committee, the Department of Transportation, as well the Department of Accounting and General Services noted that there was a cost savings to the State of Hawaii for not having to pay the electricity bills for the lights out on the H-1 freeway between Kunia and Kapolei, as well as the Central Oahu corridor.

"When I asked the Director of Transportation what the cost savings for the stretch of road on the H-1 freeway, he advised me that the cost savings was $4,400 per month to the State of Hawaii. In addition, for the corridor of Central Oahu, the cost savings is over $2,000. So with respect to this emergency appropriation for electricity payments, I rise with strong reservations because there is a cost savings and it was not reflected in this emergency appropriation request. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 3038, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR ELECTRICITY PAYMENTS STATEWIDE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Finnegan and Nakasone being excused.

The Chair responded, stating:

The Chair then announced:

"Members of the House, this measure will be taken up next week Tuesday to give you time to digest H.B. No. 987, HD 1, SD 2."

Representative Meyer rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a point of inquiry. I believe what we will be looking at is the Senate Draft 2, which we previously disagreed with, but now we're agreeing with."

Speaker Say: "Yes."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. This measure is not an attack on cultural practices nor is it a prohibition on an activity that many people enjoy. Indeed, many people expect fireworks on major holidays such as New Year's Day, Chinese New Year's, and the distinctly American Fourth of July. The H.D. 2 of House Bill 2436 merely clarifies the statute that already exists and makes known that we as a legislative body recognize the importance of respecting those who are adversely affected by fireworks due to smoke and noise.

"In addition Mr. Speaker, District 40, my district, is slated for large-scale urban development. It is necessary to have clear delineation between fireworks activities that are legal and those that are illegal. With a large population living in close quarters, sometimes courtesy is not enough to mitigate noise, smoke, and fire hazards. It is important for my constituency to clearly recognize when they are within their rights to take issue with firework use.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of HB 2436."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2436, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FIREWORKS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. This measure will streamline the process for those interested in investing in our beautiful State. Allowing people who have dealt with specific developers in other states to buy property from those developers will ensure accountability in sales, as well as facilitate the growth of trusting relationships between buyers and their chosen realtors. The American Resort Development Association also submitted testimony that they were cognizant of the effect on local residents and prospective buyers, and they are more than happy to work with the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs to mitigate possible negative effects. As such Mr. Speaker, this bill is still a work in progress and deserves our support for further consideration.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2372, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TIME SHARE PLANS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. No. 2626. This bill designates the Hawaiian monk seal as the official State mammal of Hawaii. The Hawaiian monk seal is the only marine mammal whose entire range is within the United States. Unfortunately, the Hawaiian monk seal has been an endangered species since 1976.

"The population of the seals has been in decline for the past 20 years and only 1,200 of them remain. This number is expected to decrease over the next five years to 1,000. Designating the Hawaiian monk seal as the official State mammal would help raise public awareness of the plight of the seal and bolster support for the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration's and the Department of Land and Natural Resource's conservation efforts. Similar conservation efforts were successful when the humpback whale was designated as the State marine mammal. Therefore, I ask my fellow colleagues for your support on this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2626, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DESIGNATION OF THE HAWAIIAN MONK SEAL AS THE STATE MAMMAL OF HAWAI`I," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 773-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3310, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3310, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"In support. This bill seeks to strengthen and improve the agriculture industry, expand employment opportunities for residents, and stimulate the economy by appropriating grant money to the Hawaii Farm Bureau Federation to conduct agricultural research and development. The Farm Bureau is an important voice for farmers, ranchers, and other agricultural producers.

"Hawaii agriculture is no longer represented by large plantations that could fund research and development privately. Instead, many of the producers today are small business entrepreneurs who do not have the capacity to fund private research and development projects. The Farm Bureau's programs compliment existing efforts in institutions such as the Hawaii Agricultural Research Center, the University of Hawaii's College of Tropical Agriculture, and the Department of Agriculture on various agricultural research and market development initiatives. Together, these organizations and agencies cooperate on research projects to improve the production of Hawaii crops- minimizing overlap and assuring the broadest range of research assistance for today's agricultural community. This body should support their collective cause through the efforts of the Hawaii Farm Bureau Federation."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3310, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3425, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TARO," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 775-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2163, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2163, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of this measure. The measure provides for more efficient financial operations at the University of Hawaii by limiting the University's duty to pre-audit payments that amount to $10,000 or more.

"Currently the University is required to pre-audit all proposed payments. The task of pre-auditing requires the pre-audit unit in charge of conducting the pre-audit to manually review each and every transaction for its legality, propriety, and conformity to policies and rules and regulations. The unit must also manually review the adequacy of any supporting documentation. Further compounding the matter is the need for a quick turn over in the payment process to avoid any penalties. This is a difficult task given the University's staffing shortage and resource constraints.

"Mr. Speaker, the passage of this measure will allow the University to redesign its pre-audit program and to utilize its resources more effectively. This measure would focus their auditing efforts to selectively identify transactions having higher risks of abuse or those that are more likely to contain errors, thereby resulting in a more thorough pre-audit review and a reduction in the amount of erroneous payments."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2163, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMPTROLLER SUPERVISION OF ACCOUNTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 776-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2164, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2164, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure.

"The growing number of families afflicted by cancer has increased the need for cancer research and care in Hawai`i. This bill will ensure that the Cancer Research Center of Hawai`i (CRCH) is adequately funded to continue in this endeavor.

"The Cigarette Tax will continue to be the primary source of their revenue, but by giving the CRCH authority to make capital expenditures and source other streams of revenue, we will be advancing the finances and capacity of the CRCH, and we will be coming one step closer to finding a cure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2164, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CANCER RESEARCH SPECIAL FUND," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 777-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2166, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2166, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 782-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2696, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2696, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BOARD OF THE JUDICIARY HISTORY CENTER," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 784-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3398, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3398, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Manahan's written remarks are as follows:

"The Filipino community has grown since their arrival to Hawaii 101 years ago. Approximately one out of every four Hawaii residents is of Filipino ancestry, consisting of over a quarter of a million people.

"Hawaii has the fourth highest percentage of immigrants in the country. Of the 212,229 foreign-born residents in Hawaii in 2000, almost half (48 per cent) were from the Philippines. More than 40 per cent of Filipinos living in Hawaii are under the age of 25. About 36,595 Filipino students (21 per cent) are enrolled in Hawaii's public school system, in grades kindergarten through 12.

"However, despite their representation in the general population and in elementary and high school, Filipinos are underrepresented in higher education. Filipinos represent 21 per cent of the public school enrollment, yet only 15 per cent of the Filipino population 25 years of age and over has earned a bachelor's degree or higher, placing Filipinos below all other major ethnic groups in Hawaii in terms of higher education.

"Although underrepresented among the student population at Windward Community College (six per cent), University of Hawaii at Hilo (five per cent), and University of Hawaii at Manoa (eight per cent), Filipino student representation is more substantial on the following campuses: Hawaii Community College (13 per cent), Honolulu Community College (21 per cent), Kapiolani Community College (14 per cent), Kauai Community College (23 per cent), Leeward Community College (26 per cent), Maui Community College (18 per cent), and the University of Hawaii at West Oahu (14 per cent).

"A significant issue for Filipino students and the Filipino community is the availability and stability of curriculum offerings in the Philippine languages, as well as course offerings on Filipino-American ethnic and Philippine studies. The three major Philippine languages that are prevalent in Hawaii are Filipino, Ilokano, and Cebuano. There is an important need to increase the representation of Filipino students and professionals trained in the Philippine languages and cultures who can work in the area of education, health, legal services, and commerce. Offering courses in the Philippine languages and cultures on University of Hawaii campuses will increase academic interest and student success. Providing these educational opportunities at the various campuses is consistent with the University of Hawaii's strategic plans and is responsive to state needs.

"The University of Hawaii boasts the largest number of students on any United States college campus enrolled in a Philippine language course, and the University of Hawaii at Manoa is the only institution that offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in the languages and literature of the Philippines. Leeward Community College offers Philippine studies courses, and Kapiolani Community College offers lectures on Philippine languages. However, Filipino students and community leaders have expressed concern that these courses are not offered on many of the University of Hawaii system campuses.

"There has been strong interest at Kauai Community College and Hawaii Community College to have language courses taught onsite and complemented by online instruction. In addition, the University of Hawaii at Hilo is also interested in offering Philippine-related courses. Filipinos at the University of Hawaii at West Oahu have expressed interest in Hawaii ethnic studies and service learning courses. Expertise is available at the University of Hawaii at Manoa campus to assist in developing the curriculum of these language courses, as well as Philippine courses and ethnic studies and service learning opportunities.

"Funding is needed for partnerships between student affairs units working with recruitment and retention issues and academic units that can offer Philippine language courses and ethnic studies and service learning projects, as well as for the development of partnerships with the public schools, other University of Hawaii campuses, community groups, and government agencies.

"The Oahu Filipino Community Council, Filipino American Citizens League, Nursing Advocates & Mentors, Inc., Congress of Visayan Organizations, Hawaii Interpreter Action Network, National Federation of Filipino American Associations Region XII, United Filipino Council of Hawaii, Philippine Nurses Association-Hawaii, Filipino Coalition for Solidarity, UNITE HERE! Local 5, and several concerned individuals testified in support of this bill.

"Not only is it important to recognize the efforts of all those who sacrificed and contributed to crafting our State, but institutionalizing their knowledge so that future generations may learn of their achievements is equally vital to the health and well-being of all of Hawaii's cultures.

"For these reasons, I strongly support this measure."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. I believe we need to have curriculum offerings in the Philippine languages, as well as course offerings on Filipino-American ethnic and Philippine studies in the University of Hawaii system.

"The three major Philippine languages that are prevalent in Hawaii are Filipino, Ilokano, and Cebuano. There is an important need to increase the representation of Filipino students and professionals trained in the Philippine languages and cultures who can work in the area of education, health, legal services, and commerce. Offering courses in the Philippine languages and cultures on University of Hawaii campuses will provide educational opportunities at the various campuses and support our State's needs. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3398, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FOREIGN LANGUAGE PROGRAMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"In support. The purpose of this bill is to support the building of an aerospace industry in Hawaii by continuing to provide funding for the Pacific International Space Center for Exploration Systems (PISCES).

"PISCES will strengthen the University of Hawaii as a center of excellence for aerospace-oriented education in science, technology, engineering and mathematics - the fundamental STEM disciplines. In addition PISCES could expand tourism opportunities as space exploration captures the imagination and interest of the international public, and also help establish our State as a vital resource for the planning, development, and implementation of future space exploration missions.

"PISCES' goal is to be completely self sustaining over the next three to four years. However, in order to achieve this, the Center needs continued State support during this critical period in its development. The funding requested through HB 2939 will provide sustained staff support for PISCES, enable logistical support for the annual PISCES conference and student design competition, and develop grant proposals for continued NASA funding, among other goals.

"PISCES' focused efforts on potential careers in science, technology and space offers a unique opportunity to Hawaii to be on the cutting edge of technological advances in aerospace development, and should be supported."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"In support. This bill seeks to support agriculture by, among other things:

(1) Requiring water rates for farming operations to be established by agreement between the farming operation and the water supplier; and

(2) Requiring the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) to establish just and reasonable water rates if the farming operation and water supplier fail to agree on the rate.

"As our agricultural industry transitions and the irrigation systems that once serviced large mono-crop industry begin to service other smaller farm operations, it is important that affordable and reasonable agricultural rates are provided.

"Current amendments to this bill include provisions to:

(1) Authorize the PUC to establish preferential rates for potable water used for agricultural activities in a public utility's service area;

(2) Require public utilities, upon application and proof of qualification, to provide preferential rates for potable water used only for agricultural activities; and

(3) Allow the preferential water rates to be subsidized by the water rates charged to other customers of the public utility.

"For further consideration it is suggested that applications for preferential water rates under this bill as amended should be determined within 180 days from the date of application. I encourage my colleagues to support this bill and allow it to move forward."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of HB 1989. Opponents of this measure may say that House Bill 1989 creates another fund within the Office of Veterans Services. As the Office of Veterans Services testified however, their fund is designed and earmarked specifically for the Hawai`i State Veterans Cemetery.

"Mr. Speaker, we as a population need to move past the perception that our veterans only deserve consideration once they have passed on. The Veteran's Gift Trust Fund would be the repository that private individuals, the business community, and perhaps even the Legislature could allocate monies into as a small token of our appreciation. The money could then be used more generally for the respect and remembrance of those veterans who have passed and the care and support of those who remain.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"The Civil Air Patrol is the kind of organization that we should wholeheartedly support. From flying tsunami warning sorties, assessing natural disaster damage, assisting with drug eradication reconnaissance, conducting search and rescue, to running a successful youth leadership cadet program, this dedicated corps of volunteers needs only a small appropriation to cover their expenses. By providing resources to this kind of nonprofit organization, we are providing vital services to the State of Hawai`i -- for pennies on the dollar. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill would establish a loan program to provide financial assistance to farm producers involved in sustainable energy production.

"Farms, or agricultural lands, offer the natural resources and land to best pursue alternative energy farm production. Some farmers have access to natural resources on their land that can produce energy for the farm so that they can be either self-contained and/or less dependent on county power, and therefore reduce their power expenses. However, these farmers lack the financial assistance to carry out this innovative program that would allow them to further diversify their operations.

"Offering this agriculture loan program will reduce Hawaii's reliance on fossil fuels, decrease farm production costs, and create new business opportunities for farmers interested in alternative energy production."

"In particular, if the residential real property being offered for sale is in a planned community, the seller must prepare a disclosure statement for the buyer which includes the planned community declaration and association documents.

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. This measure provides equity for National Guard members who reside in Hawai`i. Other states have recognized the commitment of these servicemen to the state and the country. Given our isolation from the continental United States, in the event of a major disaster or emergency the Guardsmen deployed here are the primary support to first responders. This measure would not only provide the recognition that National Guard members receive from other states; it would also come at a very minimal cost. Therefore, I ask my colleagues to support this measure.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Morita's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I have concerns regarding this bill which increases the eligible customer-generator capacity from not more than fifty kilowatts to two hundred and fifty kilowatts in 2008, five hundred kilowatts in 2009 and one megawatt thereafter. During the 2001 Legislative Session, Act 272 established a true, single meter net-metering law with the maximum capacity set at 10 kilowatts. The measure took into careful consideration the subsidization of net-metered units by the Hawaii's ratepayer which was determined to be nominal to the ratepayer, possibly less than $5 per year, per household, in order to promote the usage of renewable energy resources. The proposed increases in this bill have not gone through a thoughtful analysis to determine the fiscal impacts to Hawaii's ratepayers.

"Secondly, Hawaii's island grids are small and have unique challenges. As these proposed larger net-metered systems are utilizing unfirm renewable resources it will ultimately be the responsibility of the utility to provide a reliable source of power to the net-metered system. The cost of this reliability is paid for by the Hawaii ratepayer who may be asked to shoulder a larger burden of the cost to promote renewables than necessary.

"Given the analysis required to ensure that costs for reliable electricity is distributed among all ratepayers fairly and equitably, the Legislature gave latitude and direction to the Public Utilities Commission to determine future modifications to the net metering law. Therefore, I believe the correct arena for making changes to the net metering law should be the Public Utilities Commission."

Representative Cabanilla's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of HB 2757 HD 2.

"The purpose of this bill is to ensure the continuation and strength of Hawaii's health care safety net.

"This bill would authorize the issuance of special purpose revenue bonds (SPRBs) in a total amount not to exceed $40,000,000, for the purpose of assisting Hawaii Medical Center; and repeals the authorization to issue SPRBs on June 30, 2020.

"This bill would help the Hawaii Medical Center, formerly St. Francis Hospitals fund capital improvements, equipment, supplies, materials or working capital. This bill would provide the State with a strategic tool to enable hospitals to respond effectively to Hawaii's need for quality, affordable healthcare to its most under-served patients.

"Hawaii Medical Center West, formerly St. Francis Hospital West is the only major medical provider for the entire Leeward side of the Island. The Second City of Kapolei and the entire Leeward and Central Oahu areas are growing in population and Hawaii Medical Center plays a pivotal role in the provision of critical emergency and medical services for a very large area of Oahu. Its continued existence is vital to the people of West Oahu.

"One year ago, more than 100 local physicians came together to not only save the former St. Francis Hospitals but also to help perpetuate their charitable values. The Sisters' mission was to provide service to the poverty-stricken, poor and economically challenged for the State of Hawaii. However, even with its non-profit and tax-exempt status, St. Francis was in serious financial difficulty due to servicing this indigent patient population.

"When these Good Samaritan doctors assumed the management of the hospitals, they found the hospitals were in even worse financial shape than they had anticipated. HMC was forced to make hard decisions and difficult sacrifices to keep the hospitals going. They have worked long and hard to improve its operations and become more efficient.

"HMC is struggling to provide services to a large number of Medicare/Medicaid patients whose government reimbursement does not generally cover the cost of care. Currently, 70 percent of HMC's patients are Medicare/Medicaid and uninsured, a higher percentage than the other local hospitals are experiencing.

"HMC needs support for its efforts to remain solvent during this transition period – so they can continue to provide medical services to this underserved population. HMC is not only seeking to become more efficient, but is committed to reinvesting in its facilities, operations and services in order to serve this rapidly growing destitute patient population.

"The survival of Hawaii Medical Center is critical, as they service 8,000 in-patients for over 75,000 patient days annually. This does not include the thousands of outpatients that are also served annually and the unique services provided by HMC that other hospitals are not able to absorb. In addition, HMC employs over one thousand employees who contribute hundreds of thousands of dollars in federal and state income taxes that help support the economy of our State.

"Committed to the public interest, the Good Samaritan doctors took the ultimate step in purchasing the hospitals because they did not want to see our community lose these important institutions, nor did they want to deprive our patients of affordable healthcare. In addition, they did not want to see our community lose this organization's unique services that are based on the moral and ethical values of serving the poor and needy that had always been the mission of the Sisters of St. Francis.

"If they are going to solve the health care crisis that confronts our State and provide a safety net for the uninsured and the underinsured, it is going to take a bold vision, creative innovation and timely investment, both public and private. Nonetheless, establishment of a program to make or guarantee loans for construction or renovation of hospital facilities, acquisition of new medical technology and other uses, will help the State ensure that quality, affordable healthcare continues to be available to society's most vulnerable.

"It would give the State the tools it needs to ensure many of Hawaii's most vulnerable populations will continue to have access to healthcare. I sincerely believe that your support for such a program would be in the best public interest.

"Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this worthy measure and ask for the authorization date of June 2020."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support for HB 2816,H.D. 2.

"The journey out of substance abuse is a long and arduous path. Clean and sober homes have become the last step in a series of programs to transition individuals back into the mainstream. The Department of Health had supported the intent, yet believed oversight should not be the responsibility of this agency.

"The premise of this bill resulted from constituent concerns surrounding these homes where there was virtually no oversight. When long time residents became concerned about 'new neighbors' moving into a once quiet neighborhood and causing havoc – loud music late at night, increased traffic in and out of roadways, fights breaking out during early morning hours, no one was able to assist.

"The City stated that it was not within their jurisdiction – go see the State. The State stated that it was not their responsibility – go see the City. Residents became increasingly frustrated.

"Testimony from the Department of Health stated that clean and sober homes should be treated like those homes where college students rent rooms. I beg to differ. This bill will help to monitor the on goings of those in treatment similar to those who reside in halfway houses. Overall this bill becomes a win–win situation for all concerned. The Department of Health will be able to ensure the safety of residents in clean and sober homes. This bill will help the neighborhood in where they live. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Continuing our efforts to protect Hawai`i's real estate consumers, this bill will fill in the gaps and close loopholes in our owner-builder exemption laws.

"By explicitly requiring that all owner-builders use licensed subcontractors for any structural improvement requiring a county building permit, we will ensure that they receive the highest standard of service from the building trade industry, while also curbing much of the unlicensed contractor activity occurring in the State.

"Additionally, this bill requires that any home constructed or renovated by an owner-builder must have this fact disclosed to potential buyers. Through this, we will be protecting consumers and their right to make informed purchases. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of House Bill No. 839, House Draft 1. This measure would authorize an appropriation to survey and map all existing public access ways to shoreline areas throughout the State.

"In recent years, many of our citizens have found it much harder to access beachfront areas for recreational and other purposes. Although Hawaii's laws clearly identify the beach as a public trust resource, mechanisms are not in place to provide equally important protections to the paths, walkways, and trails that lead people to the beach. From high parking fees to no parking at all, private gates to shoreline shrubbery, poor signage to vacation rentals, beachfront resorts to military installations, access to Hawaii's beaches is in serious danger. As a surfer, I have experienced this personally and access once taken for granted in the 70s and 80s is no longer there.

"Yes, it is true that there are a host of regulatory regimes set up to avoid this unfortunate situation, running from federal and State laws to county ordinances, that have been reinforced by the highest courts of our land. But the situation persists and continues to worsen as evidenced by the number of bills introduced in recent years on this subject.

"According to Beach Access Hawaii, Oahu has only 89 beach rights of ways for over a hundred miles of coastline. The distance between these rights of way were measured. Beach Access Hawaii found that some of them were over a half mile apart, even though the county 'standard' as established by the City Department of Planning and Permitting provides that there should be public access every quarter mile of beach in "urbanized" areas.

"Your Committee on Finance received testimony that this problem is occurring throughout the State. At its October 5, 2006 Neighborhood Board meeting, residents of the East Honolulu communities of Aina Haina, Niu Valley and Portlock expressed their concerns that beachfront landowners along the shoreline from Portlock Road to Kahala were denying the public access to the beach with a planned gated subdivision, locked gates, and walls. As such, they voted unanimously to strongly oppose any development that would gate off the access to our beaches that had been traditionally used by residents, fishermen, and surfers. This is occurring on all islands, from South Point on Hawaii Island to Hanalei on Kauai.

"In West Maui, traditional access points have eroded and adjoining private property owners have planted hedges and fenced off adjacent access points. In Paia, beachfront property owners have planted the shoreline with thorny bushes to scratch Paia Youth Center kids as they laterally access Baldwin Beach Park from the Youth Center.

"As you can see, this bill will greatly assist government agencies in the enforcement of laws intended to protect and preserve the public's right to access the beachfront areas. By appropriating funds to survey and map all existing public access ways to shoreline areas throughout the State, law enforcement agencies will be better able to find the access points that are blocked, identify the persons responsible, if applicable, and prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law. Only then will we truly preserve our peoples' right to access these important natural resources.

"For these reasons, I respectfully urge my colleagues to support this bill."

The development of clean electricity from a renewable and abundant resource, the sun, at a price lower than the market price and independent from oil price fluctuations will help Hawai'i become more self-sustainable and less reliant on fossil fuels. Sopogy, Inc. specializes in the development, manufacture, and distribution of its proprietary concentrated solar power systems that generate electricity.

"This bill would allow the issuance of $35,000,000 in special purpose revenue bonds to assist Sopogy, Inc. in its planning, designing, construction, equipping, and operating of a solar farm power plant on the Island of Oahu. I am proud to see this Hawai'i company play a role in developing our renewable energy industry. Thank you."

Representative Herkes' written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support of H. B. 1988 H. D. 1.

"Mr. Speaker, the macadamia nut industry, one of Hawaii's largest agricultural enterprises, is in big trouble. When C. Brewer owned and operated Mauna Loa Macadamia, they were processing about 36 million pounds of macadamia nuts per year. Under subsequent owners that amount is now down to about 15 million pounds per year, a difference of about 20 million pounds. Most of those 20 million pounds of nuts are lying on the ground and are worthless. Many of those nuts are from orchards owned by small farmers.

"Africa, specifically the Republics of South Africa and Kenya, are the number 2 exporter of nuts to the United States. They, along with Australia and South America make up much of the missing 20 million pounds.

"Many farmers are considering changing their fields from macadamia to coffee because of the strong prices of coffee. The lag in income, the drawbacks in mechanically harvesting the nuts due to the rocky terrain, and the cost of hand harvesting are cost prohibitive factors that would hurt many small family farms should they opt for such a conversion.

"Mac Farms in South Kona is laying off most of its workers, many of whom have been with the company for up to 19 years. These individuals have been advised that these layoffs could be for up to one year, effectively resulting in termination. Furthermore, these layoffs will have a devastating affect on the South Kona community.

"This piece of legislation provides for a Macadamia Nut Commission with a mandatory assessment on macadamia processors and producers to establish a working group to set a future plan to guide the industry. Among the elements to be pursued as legislation are Country of Origin, Truth in Labeling, and an anti-dumping investigation against the Republic of South Africa and Australia for consideration by both the State and Federal governments.

"The macadamia industry is in strong support of this bill and I ask Members for your unanimous support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takamine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak with qualified support for this measure and with very serious reservations.

"Mr Speaker, I have such strong reservations about this bill, that I feel I will have to vote against it if the Senate does not adequately amend the measure to address my concerns. This bill is very vague regarding how the funding would be utilized and fails to detail what procedures would be followed and how those procedures would be developed.

"Mr. Speaker, my problems with this bill stem from similar legislative action that was taken by the Hawaii County Council. My objections relate to the manner in which the legislation was passed and how it has been implemented.

"At the heart of my concerns is that prior to passage of the legislation, the hunting community was not adequately consulted, nor was the hunting community included in a meaningful way, in its implementation. Members of the hunting community are some of our best and strongest conservationists and clearly could have played a central role in developing a solution. Because hunting has been associated with subsistence and putting food on the table, they had much to offer in terms of creating strategies or sharing insights.

"In bringing this particular measure before us today, I don't believe that the input of the hunting community has been seriously or meaningfully considered.

"Mr. Speaker, because I believe it to be essential that all of the important voices be part of the discussion I have grave difficulties with this measure. However, I realize that it is still early in the process, as we are not yet at the half-way-point of this legislative session and the Senate still has to scrutinize and approve this measure. Therefore, I will await the manner in which this measure is further discussed and modified."

ORDINARY CALENDAR

Representative Waters, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 744-08) recommending that H.B. No. 464, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 464, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And thank you for that short recess. Mr. Speaker in regards to Standing Committee Report No. 744, I'm in opposition to this measure. Mr. Speaker what this bill does is, it requires recipients of State funding that provides sexual health education to provide medically accurate, factual information that is age appropriate, and includes education on both abstinence and contraception.

"Mr. Speaker, first of all I just don't believe that we should be cutting off State funding to non-profits wanting to provide abstinence-only sex education programs. I believe that in this State, we have two kinds of parents: parents that believe in abstinence-only programs; and parents that believe in sex education as a whole, which also includes medically accurate and age-appropriate.

"The difficulty that I have is that parents should have a choice on whether or not they want to have sex education, State funded or federal funded, programs on sex education that contains either or both. And the options shouldn't be dwindled because we choose to mandate and put this requirement on State funding.

"I'm a parent of a teenage daughter and I'm really leery of those terms, 'medically accurate,' or 'age appropriate.' I know my daughter and I spend a lot of time speaking with her and guiding her through a very difficult time. That's a time that needs to be handled very carefully. So not allowing parents that option to have abstinence-only education is wrong.

"The other point about this bill that concerns me, and I hope it was an unintended consequence, this could affect a non-profit that provides a sex education program that is self-funded, but receives State funding for some other program that they have, like services for medically-fragile babies or outreach to homeless. This could jeopardize these programs and funding because of the way that bill is written. It says, 'requires recipients of the State funding in general.'

"Mr. Speaker, I hope that we take a look at this bill again and just realize that some people don't believe that you should give a map to having sex out of marriage, which sometimes that's how sex education is viewed. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Very briefly, I just want to counter some of the claims being made by the Minority Leader. First and foremost, this only applies in the event that they are going to be providing sex education. And if they are, what we're saying is that they need to do so in a medically accurate way.

"Previously, and this bill has come up for several years and initially my thought was, 'Well if it's federal money and they're just going to give it to us, what's the real harm?' Because it's better that we get some money, because it's federal money. It's not necessarily our State money that's going toward this'. But after I looked at this recently, I've become more alarmed because the data shows that actually there is reason for concern.

"First and foremost, it's that these abstinence-only programs don't work. There've been two studies, one by the GAO, the Government Accountability Office, who has specifically found that most efforts to stress the effectiveness of abstinence until marriage education, and abstinence-only programs have not measured behavioral or biological outcomes.

"The second report also by a policy research group called Mathematica specifically found that there was actually no difference between the outcomes and findings in youth when they went through an abstinence-only program or necessarily got some information that was more medically accurate. Those things did not necessarily make a difference in terms of bringing down the rates of teenage pregnancy and their knowledge as to the risks.

"And in fact, the more alarming thing I think is that for the first time since 1991, we're we had a spike in teenage pregnancies, we've actually had a rise of 3 percent. This is the first time in over 15 years that there's been an increase in teenage pregnancy. Every year for 15 years, there's been a steady decline because we've been dedicated toward education, toward providing teenagers information so that they can protect themselves from the risks. But unfortunately due to the abstinence-only educational effort and push, that has suddenly changed.

"This is not only a national statistic. When I look at our State Data Book, what we see is since 1996 there's been a steady decrease, 6 percent, 3 percent, 1 percent, 5 percent. But in 2005 there was actually a 4.2 increase in teenage pregnancies, and in 2006 there was an actual 8.8 percent increase in teenage pregnancies. So the real question for us is: Is this acceptance of federal funds actually doing more harm? And I would say that the data shows that it does.

"Eleven states have already moved toward this effort in terms of questioning whether this is an appropriate approach. And so for those reasons I think it's appropriate that our State really take a serious look at this and not just take things on an anecdotal level, but actually look at the data and find whether medically accurate sex education is something that we need in order to prevent teenage pregnancies.

"Even if people, at the end of the day, want to be concerned about things like pro-life or pro-choice, that debate also is somewhat relevant because studies have found that the states that have the biggest decline in abortions, of the known abortions, are those states that have a commitment to real sex education. Those states are New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Illinois, California, Oregon, Washington State and the District of Columbia. So when we want to be looking at this from a holistic approach, and really how we want to be approaching this so that we can take care and make sure that we are doing things, not only evidence-base, but for all of our principles, then this is something we should be taking a serious look at. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, just in rebuttal in opposition, Mr. Speaker. We can look at data in many different ways. Many people will come up with data that will refute that. The previous speaker said that one of the studies said that there was no difference between abstinence education and the sexually accurate education. So I'm saying just from that report alone, then why are we discriminating against the abstinence-only education.

"We talked about an increase in the last 15 years. I remember 15 years ago you could catch a City bus and there'd be ads about teen pregnancy and abstinence or contraception, there were ads on television. It was a national movement I know, 15 years ago. We're talking about it all the time, so perhaps those numbers are kind of skewed because we're not talking about it enough in a public setting, not just in the schools, but all over Hawaii and in the nation. So I think some of those numbers are not quite accurate.

"And on a religious point, I want to reveal I am Catholic, but I personally do not see a problem with sexually accurate education or abstinence education in my family. However, I'm increasingly concerned we are continually going after the beliefs of Catholics in this Legislature. Not only this particular bill, but also in a later bill that forces a Catholic hospital to serve what they believe is an abortion pill. Our Constitution of the United States of America gives us this great freedom of religion and the way that we're trying to force this type of education, on not just Catholics, but religious families, to me is wrong.

"We basically are saying to a parent that is religious, whether they're Buddhist or Mormon or Catholic or Protestant or other Christian, that them teaching their children abstinence-only education based on their religious beliefs, according to this Legislature is just wrong. And you know what? We're going to stick it to you. We're going to take away this abstinence-only education from the public setting. We're no longer going to give you that option because you don't have a right to teach your children abstinence-only education. And you know what? We're going to stick it to the federal government too, because we don't want their money, because we're going to force every child to believe what we want our children to believe."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. Mr. Speaker I rise with the challenge of, 'Let's see what the data says.' And I would like to give this a slightly international perspective, particularly through the experience of Uganda.

"Uganda was experiencing almost 1 in 3 people having AIDS. They were going to experience a knockout of the workforce. Their population was going to dwindle. Basically the economy was going to sink. They put together a program, a combination of abstinence, condoms, and Mrs. Museveni, the wife of the President said, 'You need all of these. Don't 'pooh-pooh' the notion of abstinence working.'

"Uganda is now in the low-teens in terms of AIDS incidents, and it's lowering and it's continuing to lower. We don't have the problem in this country that others are suffering from, and other countries that have used abstinence. So if anyone doubts if abstinence works, look at Uganda. Ask Mrs. Museveni. Ask them how they actually went from decimating their population with AIDS, to getting it down. It was a combination. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. Thank you. I'd like to have the words of the speaker from Aiea adopted as my own. And what I would add to this conversation is that this bill is a bill that students across the State have spoken out in favor of.

"The Hawaii Secondary Student Conference brings students from across the State, from public and private schools, together to decide on issues they feel are important and significant to their lives. They worked very hard during their Annual Conference this past November and they voted unanimously in favor of extending the abstinence based sex education to add and include medically accurate, age-appropriate approach that includes both abstinence and contraception.

"I think when we hear from the students of our State, who know what other students are saying about this issue and know perhaps the ignorance that is among their peers, when they ask for medically accurate factual education, I think we should heed their call. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks, and the remarks of Representative Belatti be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support HB 464 relating to Health – Sexual Health Education.

"This measure seeks to add an amendment entitled, "Section 2. Sexual health education; requirements" to Chapter 321, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

"It will require recipients of State funding that provide sexual health education to provide medically accurate, factual information that is age-appropriate and includes education on both abstinence and contraception. To facilitate the program, each item requirement has been defined.

"In July 2001, the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services released a comprehensive report called "The "Surgeon General's Call to Action to Promote Sexual Health and Responsible Sexual Behavior." The report cited research findings on the effectiveness of various program interventions and the importance of sex education.

"The report is based on scientific evidence and on principles of health promotion and disease prevention, and provides a basis for approaching these challenges. It cited research findings on the effectiveness of various program interventions and sex education. In recognition of these challenges, promoting responsible sexual behavior is included among the Surgeon General's Public Health Priorities and is also one of the "Healthy People 2010" Ten Leading Health Indicators for the nation. The Healthy People 2010 identifies national public health priorities and objectives to be achieved over the next decade.

"This measure focuses on students to make mature and thoughtful decisions that promote healthy sexuality. A sexual education will provide students with the ability to understand and weigh the risks, outcomes and impacts of sexual actions and to practice abstinence when appropriate. When sexual behavior is exercised irresponsibly it can have negative aspects such as sexually transmitted diseases – including HIV/AIDS, unintended pregnancy, coercive or violent behavior. To enjoy the important benefits of sexuality, while avoiding negative consequences, some of which may have long term or even lifetime implications, it is necessary for individuals to be fully informed. To become sexually healthy, we must behave responsibly, have a supportive environment and protect our own sexual health, as well as that of others."

Representative Sonson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am still in opposition with just short comments. This whole thing about government taking on the responsibility that parents used to have, or should have. I don't necessarily disagree with the ability to give information medically accurate or age-appropriate. But what about something that is lawful right now. Where would this fall under the sex education curriculum for someone who believes in abstinence only and they're taught, 'Oh well, you know. If you are sexually active, you can go to this particular clinic. They can give you birth control or a pill, or EC contraceptives, or these types of condoms, and you don't have to get permission from your parents.' Where do those types of things fall in regard to medically accurate, age appropriateness? I don't know, and that's why this concerns me.

"The other thing is we're worried about what kids think. Looking around the classroom and saying, 'You know this student and this other student, they really need it. And maybe I need it.' But what are we saying? I would like to hear what parents are saying. Parents are responsible for these kids all the way up until they're 18 years old. I'm very hesitant about negating or passing on that parental responsibility to government. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I am simply in opposition as I am in support of parents' rights for their children."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in support. I just wanted to make one point of clarification. A previous speaker said that we seem to have this intent of 'sticking it' to certain religious groups. I find that very offensive, because if we can have an educated debate about data and statistics and what is the right policy approach for our Legislature and our State, that is entirely appropriate. But I think saying that we have this intent of trying to 'stick it' to certain religions, that we're out for them, that we don't agree with their agenda, I find that very offensive and I strongly disagree with that and that characterization.

"If they have data and they want to argue about data and evidence, bring it forward. Bring it on. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"I just want to apologize to the previous speaker for offending him. But Catholic Charities Hawaii has been repeatedly offended themselves. They are given federal funds to operate abstinence-only education. We already have a lot of sexually accurate education going on and they just want to offer a different point of view for those families that would like to pull their children out of those other programs because of their religious beliefs.

"People don't believe in God based on data. They believe in God based on faith and it is one of the most difficult things to understand for people who are not religious. So I think we should just look back on our Constitution of the United States of America and respect those religions because they are quite frankly, offended."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I want to comment Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker I support this bill because it will mean fewer abortions, and I think that's a really good thing. We're going to empower our young women to make good decisions. So I support this bill because I think that's really where we should be heading. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 464, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Meyer and Pine voting no, and with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Waters, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 746-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2346, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2346, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On Stand. Com. No. 746, I'd like to submit comments in support, but comments just pointing out again that it does have an impact on the Department of Public Safety."

Representative Evan's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I support HB 2346 with reservations because this bill increases penalties and does not include language to determine the potential financial impacts to the Department of Public Safety and their staff."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2346, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENDANGERING THE WELFARE OF A MINOR," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Waters, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 748-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2450, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2450, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in opposition to this measure. House Bill 2450 requires any reclassification of land contiguous to the agricultural district to the urban or rural district to contain a condition prohibiting non-agriculture development within 300 feet of the property line bordering any agricultural parcel used for farming operations.

"This bill is really unnecessary as the State Land Use Commission already has the authority to strengthen the existing protections on a case by case basis where warranted through the imposition of conditions. It would be in the State's best interest to instead require the reclassification of lands next to an agricultural district. This would carry an acknowledgement of the agricultural activities to be expected in abidance of the Right to Farm Act.

"But also another problem I have with the bill is that it takes away without compensation, the full use of 300 feet of property after the Land Use Commission reclassification and/or county change of zone. Even if just a small part of a parcel is being used for farming operations on the makai end of the property, the zone would extend to the mauka end as well even though the actual farming activity may be thousands of feet away. This poses the potential of hurting our State's small agricultural businesses.

"This bill may also have an affect on the City's proposals for a rapid transit program as the bill's definition of development includes infrastructure intended to serve residential, commercial or industrial development.

"In closing Mr. Speaker, this bill could make government liable for partial takings, allowing adversely affected properties eligible for compensation, potentially harming our agricultural industry and preventing growth of a modernized Hawaii. Thank you, very much."

Representative McKelvey rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, can I have a blanket ruling on a conflict of interest for this and other measures. I live on an agricultural subdivision," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey then asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Could you note my reservations for Stand. Com. No. 748 for the same reasons as the Representative from Kahaluu."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My reservations also please, for the same reasons as were enunciated by the Minority Floor Leader. Mr. Speaker, and just brief comments. I'm not a rail supporter, as you know. I don't think that's a sensible thing to do. But when you take a look at what this bill could do for any rail stations that happen to be placed by an agricultural parcel, that's going to really create a problem. And I don't know if everyone has thought this through from an Oahu island perspective. Thank you."

Representative Sagum rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations for the same reasons."

Representative Marumoto rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Meyer be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2450, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAND USE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives

Marumoto and Meyer voting no, and with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Waters, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 749-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2997, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2997, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like a ruling on a potential conflict. In my private law practice, I represent design professionals," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har then rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 2997, HD1. This bill limits a design professional's liability to no more than that percentage share of damages attributable to the design professional for tort claims relating to the maintenance and design of public highways, except when the design professional's degree of negligence is 25% or more. This bill further clarifies what a design professional is by clearly delineating that a design professional is a professional engineer, architect, surveyor, or landscape architect.

"Anyone who is familiar with the construction industry understands that when there is a claim for defects in any project, there are two types of allegations: (1) claims for construction defects; and (2) claims for design defects. Unfortunately, in many lawsuits involving claims for construction defects, the design professionals are brought into the lawsuit not because of allegations pertaining to design defects, but because design professionals have insurance which can be used towards the cost of settlement, regardless of that design professional's liability.

"Under the legal concept of joint and several liability if a party or individual is found liable, regardless of the percentage of liability attributable to that party or individual, liability will occur. This results in a design professional paying well beyond the percentage of damages attributable to them. The economic risk discourages design professionals from working on projects, including public and highway road projects, thereby limiting the pool of available design professionals willing to work on these projects.

"This bill balances these concerns along with the interests of injured parties by providing that design professionals found to be less than 25% at fault in these types of tort cases will be responsible only for the percentage attributed to them. It is fair and equitable because it allows liability to be placed on the design professional where appropriate while providing for fairness in allocation of risk.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 2997 HD1."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2997, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TORTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Berg, Nishimoto and Sonson voting no, and with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Waters, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 750-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3011, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3011, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations and some comments please. Thank you. On Stand. Com. Report 750, I do have reservations. In this last Committee there was no testimony submitted on this bill. It looks like there will be an ignition interlock system in the near future and having this system would negate the reasons for this bill, or the underlying law, as a matter of fact. But changing the phrase from, the applicant is completely dependent on the motor vehicle for the necessities of life, to just the applicant is dependent on the motor vehicle for the necessities of life, will most likely mean that all applicants would be approved.

"A DUI is serious, and unfortunately a DUI does not only affect the person drinking, it affects the universe around them, as we know, innocent lives are being taken because of driving under the influence. What this bill is trying to get at, I think is reasonable, but in light of what's going on in regard in ignition interlock system if it's only going to be a couple years, we're making the Judiciary in their testimony basically create another guidance system to approve these applications. And even at that, it would most likely increase a lot of those applications and we won't really have the ability to say no to them. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3011, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE REGISTRATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Brower voting no, and Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Waters, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 753-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2553, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2553, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, I just want to stand with some reservations. I thought this was a really good idea in the Judiciary Committe, but it did get some testimony from an Ewa Beach 'buy and sell' just relating the practical implications to their business. This is a really, really small pawn shop. They don't make a lot of money. It is two retired veterans who are just making a living to get by.

"They said that basically this would really hurt their business. We're talking about being in business for 20 years and less than 1/10 of 1 percent of the items have been picked up by the police. So in other words, you only make, out of $25, 5 percent interest back then. If you add $1.50 plus $1.04 in the general excise tax, plus $.06 for each transaction, the total is $2.60 which leaves them a profit margin of $2.40, which basically would really cut all their business that they're making now in half.

"They don't own a computer Mr. Speaker, because they are two retired, elderly veterans and this bill would require them to buy a computer so that they can do these electronic reportings to the police. So for those reasons Mr. Speaker, I think we should make exceptions for some of these smaller businesses. So I will just vote with reservations."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, could you also note my reservations and short comments. I believe that the police need tools like this to identify property criminals, one of the most difficult crimes to solve. But pawnbrokers are businesses too. And if we are to move in this direction, if we could give some transition time for these businesses, that would be helpful. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have the same reservations as the previous speakers. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2553, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PAWNBROKERS AND SECONDHAND DEALERS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 755-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2224, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2224, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support, but with some reservations on this measure. House Bill 2224 would allow part-time employees to get health coverage, but they would have to pay their own premiums.

"My concern was pointed out by Kaiser Permanente in their testimony where they said these kinds of voluntary pools historically result in higher premiums because of adverse selection. The part-time employees that make the choice to pay for this, more than likely have health problems that they're concerned about. This bill could cause all the premiums for healthcare to go up, both the full-time and part-time employees. This bill could also be the incremental start of mandating healthcare for part-time employees who only work 15 hours a week, and that’s a concern to me. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to vote with reservations and just explain a little bit further. Can I adopt the comments of the previous speaker?

"Let me use VEBA as a comparison. With VEBA, it's historically known that teachers are a better risk. With that better risk they have better premiums and more benefits. It's similar in regard to what will happen, or you can foresee by adding part-time employees with the ability to voluntarily join because those who would like to have insurance and have not so good health, would probably make that choice to buy the insurance coverage, which in turn will affect the pool. I just wanted to put a little bit of an example in there. Thank you."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I find it very hard to listen to people say that we really don't want to insure people and give them extra options for insurance, especially when they're sick because that's just what came out of two Representatives' mouths.

"We're a society and we're going to pay for this one way or another. If we don't insure people, part-time workers, they're going to end up in our emergency rooms. The emergency rooms have very high costs. The hospitals don't get paid and the taxpayers pay it.

"We have to increase our supplement. It's just an impractical way to take care of people. We should insure everyone, and anything that increases insurance for our part-time workers, or our uninsured has my support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. That was extreme. I don't think I said that, Mr. Speaker. So in rebuttal to that, how about if I say to the previous speaker that, 'Why don't we just raise the insurance costs for all of our families,' because that's what the previous speaker mentioned.

"No, Mr. Speaker. If you take a look at what we are talking about, it's about genuine concerns coming from people who are speaking in these Committees that deal with insurance. And yes, I do have reservations because increasing costs for families is a very important issue. Many people, families that I speak of right now, discretionary budgets are going very much down. There is no play money. So any increase in insurance costs is going to be a lot for a family, and that's what I'm talking about. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Hawaii is the only State in the nation that has mandatory healthcare. The Hawaii Prepaid Healthcare Act and it was enacted back in the 70s. The way the wording was in there, part of the bill sounded like they expected a 50-50 sharing where the employee would pay 50 percent and the employer had a cap on, how much of the employees' wage, a percentage of that that they could pay. So in Hawaii today, most small businesses, private businesses are paying 100 percent of the premiums for their employees. This is a real big expense and personally, I'm going to add, a disadvantage with small business people in other states.

"Our small business owners are struggling with this and now we want to add a whole other group in there. You have to have some realistic way of looking at this. Yes, healthcare is important, but there's a lot of things people can do to take care of themselves. Part-time workers are either young, or they may be retired and they have other coverage. I think we should be very careful in what we're doing here. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I support HB 2224 with reservations. This is a good idea in theory, but in practice it may impact those who this bill is trying to help.

"In my district, constituents have told me they have many part time jobs because employers are hiring below the threshold of hours worked in a week in order to avoid the law which requires employers to provide health insurance. HB 2224 lowers the hours worked to require the employer to provide health insurance. Hopefully employers will not cut back on hours in order to avoid the cost.

"Speaking of cost, if this bill is to become law, I'm concerned that small businesses may have a difficult time absorbing additional costs of healthcare insurance for their employees. Hawai'i depends on small businesses to provide employment and generate revenue.

Small businesses are essential to our economy and we must support the economic viability of small businesses."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2224, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 756-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2887, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2887, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to register my slight reservations on Stand. Com. No. 756 in that the Committee Report says, 'However this bill would allow Kahuna Kakau to these procedures, equipment and dyes that are inconsistent with health standards and consequently rules the safety issues that warrant further consideration.' That is my concern."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. House Bill 2887, HD 1, Relating to Native Hawaiian Tattooing is an extremely important bill Mr. Speaker, especially to the Native Hawaiian community. It acknowledges the rights of Native Hawaiians and their practitioners to continue with the tradition that extends back for hundreds of years.

"Earlier concerns surrounding a death that took place from a Samoan tattooing was brought up in a previous hearing. First I would like to state that the practice of Samoan tattooing has many differences than that of our Native Hawaiian counterparts. Native Hawaiian tattooing has had zero instances of death, zero instances of Hepatitis and zero instances of infection. Tools are sterilized in the Native Hawaiian tattoo process, and tattooing is practiced in a clean and safe environment.

"Although issues arose with the Department of Health, a recent meeting with all parties brought everyone closer together. We will continue to work on making this bill a stronger one with the help of my colleague as we move this bill forward. Thank you, very much."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support of Stand. Com. Rep. No. 756. Thank you. May I have the words of the outstanding Representative from Nanakuli entered into the Journal as if they were my own?

"Mr. Speaker, may I proceed with a short statement in support of this measure. Kahuna Kakau is an expert in the cultural practice and application of traditional Hawaiian tattooing. Traditional Hawaiian tattooing is part of the Hawaiian culture. As with the hula and the Hawaiian language, Kakau should be recognized as a significant cultural right in Hawaii today. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, and may I have the words of the Representative from Nanakuli entered into the record as if they were my own? And just a real brief comment for some historical perspective.

"I actually introduced this bill last year after going to the Sam Ka'ai Festival in Maui, honoring him, where a Native Hawaiian tattoo practitioner with tears in eyes basically asked us to come up with something as a compromise so that they can pass on this art form to future generations. Because when people, the very few, very few experts who pass on now are gone, it is going to go into the history books.

"This body has made exceptions for Native Hawaiian indigenous architecture with housing, and I think that the Representative from Nanakuli has worked with both the Department of Health and the practitioners themselves and I think this bill strikes a good balance. It basically will keep the Charlatans and the pretenders out, and allow the DOH to go after them while still creating a venue for the proper practice, and more importantly, education of this art form and keep this very important cultural practice alive. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2887, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TATTOOING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative Sonson, for the Committee on Labor & Public Employment presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 758-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2255, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2255, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LIFE INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki and Takai being excused.

At 10:24 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2346, HD 2
H.B. No. 2450, HD 1
H.B. No. 2997, HD 1

H.B. No. 2255, HD 2

Representative Sonson, for the Committee on Labor & Public Employment presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 759-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2367, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2367, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki, Takai and Takamine being excused.

Representatives Ito and Tsuji, for the Committee on Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs and the Committee on Agriculture presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 760-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2503, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2503, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against House Bill 2503, the agricultural energy facilities measure. Thank you. Mr. Speaker what this bill will do is permit the use of lands in agricultural land use districts to be used for agricultural energy facilities.

"At first glance that sounds like a good idea, but the problem is that this can go a number of ways. One impact can be that our effort to become self-sustainable and grow our food for our tables will be displaced by farmers wanting to grow maybe higher value crops for energy production.

"The larger concern is the climate change impact. I received information from Life of the Land, which I'm going to paraphrase, but I think it's very important for us to note. An intergovernmental panel on climate change is estimating a 39 inch rise in sea levels this century. By the end of this century, and this is important to my Windward colleagues from the 49th and the 51st districts, by the end of the century, Kawai Nui Marsh will be oceanfront property. All that will remain of Kailua town will be a few sand dunes and hills. And for those on the other side of the island, most of Waikiki and Kapiolani Park will be submerged.

"Fossil fuels have received most of the blame for climate change, but as more information is obtained, we're finding that agricultural energy projects have both positive and negative impacts and may all have environmental climate impacts. Biofuels can go both ways and the problem is that House Bill 2503, HD 1, doesn't make that distinction. It just assumes biofuels are great. Let's go ahead and have government support for these.

"But you take a look at some of the information that we've been receiving. The well-respected Journal on Science talks about the use of U.S. croplands for biofuels increases green house gases through emissions from land use changes. And then they go on to note how some double the green house gas emissions and increase them for 167 years. Other crops will increase emissions by 50 percent. In other words, this is a road that we really should examine much more carefully before we go ahead with it.

"We're really very vulnerable, Mr. Speaker. We're an island state and if we don't go ahead with the objectives of our Act 234 from last Session to get a grip on this and to get a handle on it, we could be doing some major damage right here in Hawaii and also globally while having our food still being imported from the Mainland or other places because we won't be growing it here in Hawaii.

"So I'm voting no on this bill and also on a later bill Mr. Speaker, that's a biodiesel bill that appears later on the Order of the Day. I really, really ask my colleagues to look at this more carefully. I think it's not the best way to do it, I'd like them to consider it and see whether they feel we should just go a little bit more slowly and take a more serious look at what is being found nationwide and internationally. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. You know, here in Hawaii we don't have too much of a problem with food competing for energy crops primarily because the amount of fallow agricultural lands that we have. An important component to this is the Bioenergy Masterplan which the State is taking up. In that plan, careful evaluation is being made to energy inputs and energy outputs as we develop bioenergy crops.

"So this bill is really looking at how we can support our agricultural industries better with the incorporation of renewable energy to assist agriculture rather than to compete with agriculture. I have additional comments that I'd like to add to the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Morita's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I would just like to address some of the concerns and objections to this measure that were raised during the Floor debate. First of all, some of the objections focused on the growing and processing of biofuels. The growing and processing of biofuels is an outright allowable use on agricultural lands. What this measure attempts to clarify is that a renewable project, such as a solar project, that is integrated within an agricultural enterprise shall be an allowable use.

"The purpose section of this measure states that increased energy efficiency and use of renewable energy resources would increase Hawaii's energy self-sufficiency, achieving broad societal benefits, including increased energy security, resistance to increases in oil prices, environmental sustainability, economic development, and job creation.

"To shape Hawaii's energy and agricultural future and achieve the goal of energy and food self-sufficiency for the State, our efforts must continue on all fronts, integrating new and evolving technologies, seizing upon opportunities to become more economically diversified, and providing incentives and assistance to address barriers. It is crucial to address the negative impacts that rising and volatile petroleum prices have on fuel and fertilizer costs.

"The other objection that was raised is biofuel crops will compete with food crops. While this might be the case in some parts of the nation, this surely is not the case in Hawaii where thousands of acres of agricultural lands lie fallow at the present time. Like I mentioned in the Floor debate, how we plan for our agricultural bioenergy future is an important strategy that must be carefully planned, therefore the bioenergy master plan initiated by the Legislature last year is a critical component to this discussion. One of the objectives of the master plan is to ensure that energy crops will not be pitted against food production as both energy and food self-sufficiency are equally important goals for Hawaii's residents."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, brief comments in support. And I would like to add the comments from the speaker from Hanalei as if they were my own. Briefly Mr. Speaker, to emphasize what the speaker from Hanalei has stated, in Hawaii you have vast acreage of former cane land that sits fallow. And instead of being turned into agricultural lands to grow energy or food, they are being turned into subdivisions. You see that most recently on Maui by Maalaea, with lands there sought to be rezoned up until very recently were productive agricultural lands.

"This bill is about incentivizing owners so that they can start growing energy crops and allowing facilities to be near where they are growing those crops. We can do nothing, Mr. Speaker. We can sit back and let it sit as it is today and be 94 percent dependent on fossil fuel. This is action taken to try to address that problem and until we use our agricultural lands for other things than growing food, we can then worry about how much food we're going to grow. But to sit there and let it lie fallow, and let it turn into other types of developments is a tragedy that I don't think any of us want to live through. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I'd just like to point out that the total acreage devoted to the agricultural activity shall not be less than 90 percent of the total agricultural energy enterprise. I'd just like to highlight that point, and I'd also like to enter written comments."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. This bill would allow agricultural-energy facilities on agricultural land use districts provided that the primary activity of the agricultural-energy enterprise is agricultural activity. "Agricultural-energy facility" means a facility that generates, stores, or distributes renewable energy or renewable fuel including electrical or thermal energy or liquid or gaseous fuels from products of agricultural activities from agricultural lands located in the State.

"It is important that we increase energy efficiency and the use of renewable energy resources to increase Hawaii's energy self-sufficiency so that we can achieve broad societal benefits, including increased energy security, resistance to increases in oil prices, environmental sustainability, economic development, and job creation. To shape Hawaii's energy and agricultural future and achieve the goal of energy and food self-sufficiency for the State, our efforts must continue on all fronts, integrating new and evolving technologies, seizing upon opportunities to become more economically diversified, and providing incentives and assistance to support agriculture and renewable energy. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am voting with reservations and have short comments. Just letting people know that in Committee, and from doing a little bit of research, many of the testifiers are advocating for a broader bill and feel that this is too narrow in scope."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support. Mr. Speaker, I believe that 60 percent of all our agricultural lands are growing weeds. This bill says, do you want to grow weeds or so you want to grow fuel? I think it’s a good use of what otherwise, we're not using our land.

"And secondly, for the sake for what I believe the Majority Floor Leader noted, we should proceed with data. The Majority Floor Leader who spoke earlier about having data. I don't think we should be scaring the people of Hawaii saying that you're going to be under water by the end of the century unless we've got the data enough to face that we're going to be inundated. Because Mr. Speaker, as all of you know, the last three quarters measurement in this year has had a drop in temperature. I'm not saying it's going to be an ice age, but I'm not saying we should be telling the people of Hawaii that they're going to be under water in a number of decades. Mr. Speaker, let the data talk not the face in what's otherwise is an assumption."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support and I'd like the words of the Majority Leader, since he is referring to Maui, entered into the record as if they were my own. And just another thing for people to keep in mind is that besides growing weeds, these lots are just empty. They become brushfire fuel zones like you wouldn't believe. All these brushfires we've seen that occurred on the Valley Isle were on these parcels themselves. And so anything's better than 'McMansions'. I think the people of Maui can believe that."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2503, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL LANDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Cabanilla and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Nakasone, Souki, Takai and Takamine being excused.

Representatives Ito and Tsuji, for the Committee on Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs and the Committee on Agriculture presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 761-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2502, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2502, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support, but have strong reservations regarding this bill, House Draft 2. In testimony from the Department of Agriculture, the Department points out that soil classification alone should not be the sole criteria in making a solar project an allowable use on agricultural lands. Your Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection agrees with that premise.

"Marginal agricultural lands, lands rated D or E, are where you will likely find small farmers, ranchers and unique crops like coffee. The House Draft 2 will cause solar projects to compete with agriculture rather than coexist with agriculture, pitting food protection against energy protection. Unlike wind or hydro projects, which are outright allowable uses on agricultural lands and do not take away from lands being used for agricultural purposes, a large scale solar project will remove the agricultural productivity of that parcel. Therefore, only the agricultural areas that have the highest solar isolation and best siting possibilities should be considered if this bill is to move forward.

"The House Draft 2 opens the door for a free-for-all to solar developers not concerned with the best siting possibilities because their projects will be subsidized with both State and federal tax credits and Hawaii's electrical rate payers, and done at the expense of small farmers and ranchers.

"What we're allowing under this bill is defacto spot zoning without any checks and balances, and therefore I have some real concerns. This can be a good bill if it had some criteria other than the land soil classifications. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. I also rise with strong reservations and ask that the words of the Representative from Hanalei be entered as my own. I'd also add Mr. Speaker, that as we look at siting possibilities for solar facilities, there is the possibility that the very best places would be the tops of buildings throughout the urban core so we are not then using precious agricultural lands. So with that I would again express my strong reservations for this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ito rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Mr. Speaker the purpose of this legislation is to make the most productive use of marginal, and I say again, marginal agricultural lands by including solar energy facilities as permitted uses within the agricultural district. In its present form, this Majority's package bill on solar energy is also supported by the Hawaii 2050 Sustainable Task Force.

"Mr. Speaker, there appears to be a fear that this legislation will be used to displace farmers who are already farming on agricultural lands classified D and E by the Land Study Bureau's detailed land classification. It is not the intention of this legislation to displace these farmers with solar energy facilities. It is far from it. This legislation only provides the landowner the option to develop solar energy facilities on marginal agricultural lands.

"Mr. Speaker, I also have written comments I want to insert into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Ito's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of Stand. Com. Report no. 761-08, HB 2502, HD 2.

"Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this legislation is to make the most productive use of marginal, I say again – marginal, agricultural lands by including solar energy facilities as permitted uses within the Agricultural District. In its present form, HB 2502, HD 2 is a Majority Package measure on solar energy. This legislation is also supported by the Hawaii 2050 Sustainable Task Force.

"Mr. Speaker, there appears to be a fear that this legislation will be used to displace farmers who are already farming on agricultural lands classified D or E by the Land Study Bureau's detailed land classification. It is not the intention of this legislation to displace these farmers with solar energy facilities – far from it. This legislation only provides the land owner the option to develop solar energy facilities on marginal agricultural lands that no farmer wants to lease or purchase, rather than developing the land for other uses, which is happening today.

"Mr. Speaker, since 2001 the Legislature has made great strides toward reducing the State's dependency on fossil fuels for the production of electrical energy. During the 2001 Legislative Session the Legislature adopted HB 173, which the Governor enacted into law as Act 272. This Act required each electric utility to establish a renewable portfolio standard of:

1. 7% of its net electricity sales by December 31, 2003

3. 9% of its net electricity sales by December 31, 2010.

"Then in 2004, the Legislature adopted SB 2474, which the Governor enacted into law as Act 95. This Act further increased the renewable portfolio standard as follows:

1. 10% of its net electricity sales by December 31, 2010

2. 15% of its net electricity sales by December 31, 2015, and

3. 20% of its net electricity sales by December 31, 2020.

I must commend the past Legislatures for being so forward thinking in regards to renewable energy.

"Mr. Speaker, this legislation is not just about solar energy. It is about the security of the State of Hawaii, as well as the State's ability to survive in the future. Presently, the State receives all of its fossil fuel from locations outside of the United States; such as the Middle East and Indonesia, to name a few. War, civil unrest, invasion by other countries are always a threat in these areas. Today, there are men and women of our armed forces, who are being killed or injured, in foreign countries where wars and civil unrest prevail to protect the fossil fuel supply and to ensure a flowing supply. If and when these fossil fuel supplies to the State of Hawaii are severed we must ask ourselves, 'Are we prepared for such an occurrence?' This legislation only provides a small fraction of the answer to that question. We still have a long way to go to providing self-sufficiency in the area of energy production, mainly the production of electricity.

"Mr. Speaker, I commend my colleague from Kauai for her continual advocacy in pursuing alternative and renewable energy sources. However, I must disagree with my colleague from Kauai, when she places restrictions on solar energy facilities on marginal agricultural lands. Such restrictions will only tend to hinder solar energy development in the State of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, during the hearing by your Committee on Energy and Environmental Protection, HB 2502 was amended to limit solar energy facilities to land:

1. When the total acreage used by the solar energy facility is ten acres or one percent of the parcel, whichever is less;

2. That is located in the vicinity of an existing electrical transmission and distribution systems; and

3. That can generate between:

   A. Eight and fourteen kilowatt hours - per square meter - per day based on solar insolation maps on a two-axis tracking flat map; or

   B. Five and fourteen kilowatt hours – per square meter – per day based on solar insolation maps on a two-axis tracking concentrator system.

"Mr. Speaker, rather than placing any restrictions to limit solar energy facilities on agricultural lands, we should be encouraging the development of solar panels to produce a greater quantity of electrical power per square meter of panel per day under minimal sunlight. With the rapid advancement in technology who is to say that solar panels of the near future will not be able to produce a greater amount of electrical energy per square meter of panel per day on agricultural lands that generate less than between eight and fourteen kilowatt hour per square meter per day, or five and fourteen kilowatt hour per square meter per day based on solar insolation maps on a two-axis tracking flat or concentrated map, respectively. Further, the time may be fast approaching where full production solar energy facilities will be able to fit in a 5-acre parcel.

"Mr. Speaker, an analogy to this is that this Legislature passed legislation that limits the horsepower on vehicles sold in the State of Hawaii to 200 horsepower. The rational behind such legislation is only because vehicles with greater than 200 horsepower give less than 20 miles-per-gallon. Low and behold, advancements in the auto industries have in five years resulted in the production of automobiles of greater than 200 horsepower with engines providing greater than 30 miles-per-gallon. Do we once again change the law? Let us not limit ourselves to the technology of today and look forward to the possibilities of tomorrow and prepare ourselves now for those possibilities and not be reactive when that time arrives.

"Mr. Speaker, let us not short change the residents of the State of Hawaii by placing any restrictions under which a solar energy facility is a permitted use on land in the agricultural district. Let us look forward and be proactive by encouraging the development of solar panels to generate greater electrical power under the most minimal sunlight.

"Mr. Speaker, even if this legislation was to pass today, it will take years before we see a solar energy facility on any agricultural land. During a hearing, Mr. Ted Liu, Director of the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism stated, 'If this bill passes this Legislative Session, it will take not less than 10 years, nor more than 15 years, even with a facilitator to expedite the permitting process, before we see the first solar energy facility on any agricultural land.'

"Mr. Speaker, as your Chair of the Committee on Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs, it is my duty to bring before this Chamber the best bill possible for consideration. Stand. Com Report No. 761-08, HB 2502, HD 2 is such a bill.

"Mr. Speaker, for the reasons stated above I ask my colleagues to support this measure."

Representative Saiki rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure in large part due to the manner in which it has been expedited through the legislative process in violation of House Rule 13.1.(3).

"Rule 13.1.(3) is our "prior concurrence" rule and it reads in part: "It shall be the duty of each standing committee to: (3) . . . Determine the objectives of any bill referred to it and make appropriate recommendations, . . . On bills which relate to programs and matters over which a standing committee to which they are referred has no primary responsibility, the standing committee shall propose no substantive change to the bill unless prior concurrence of the chair of the committee which has the primary responsibility is first obtained."

"The prior concurrence rule is designed to bring meaning to our legislative committee process. We rely on the standing committees to develop expertise, to consider measures, and to amend those measures to improve them. Prior concurrence gives deference to the respective expertise of the committee chairs during this deliberative process. Under Rule 13.1.(3), a committee chair may only amend a measure in substantive terms if he or she has jurisdiction over those terms.

"H.B. 2502 was referred to the following committees: EEP, WLH/AGR. EEP heard the bill on February 5, 2008, and amended it to include acreage, location and energy generation limitations, for the purpose of protecting undue development of agricultural land. The proponent(s) of H.B. 2502 opposed the amendments. WLH/AGR heard the measure on February 20, 2008. During decision making, the co-chairs indicated their inclination to delete the EEP-drafted amendments, and deferred decisionmaking because they had not obtained the prior concurrence of the EEP chair to make their amendments.

"The hearing was continued on February 25, 2008, which fell within the five-day legislative recess. At that time, the WLH/AGR co-chairs had not yet obtained the prior concurrence of the EEP chair. Nevertheless, the joint committees proceeded to recommend passage of the measure with amendments, i.e., to delete the acreage, location and energy generation limitations.

"In an apparent attempt to accommodate the concerns of the bill's proponents, the WLH/AGR Co-Chairs violated Rule 13.1.(3). The Co-Chairs could have waited until the EEP Chair's return. If they had done so, the Co-Chairs would have still had the opportunity to hold a hearing on February 28 or 29, in time for the First Decking deadline.

"This situation may fuel the perception that the House is beholden to very narrow interests to the detriment of the public interest. The prior concurrence rule is, perhaps, a safeguard to such abuse. We should enforce Rule 13.1.(3) because it will result in improved policymaking and restore public confidence in the Legislature."

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I do support this measure and I also strongly support the comments of the Chair of the Water & Land Committee, as the Committee on Agriculture and the Committee on Water & Land heard this measure in a joint hearing. I also request that I submit written comments to be inserted in the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill seeks to make the most productive use of marginal agricultural lands by including solar energy facilities as a permitted use within agricultural districts on land meeting certain requirements.

"Solar projects are key to the State in order to meet its aggressive goals of 20% renewables by 2020, as well as a recently stated target of 70% renewables by 2030. The use of solar energy facilities in the agricultural districts on class D and E land will lessen the State's dependence on oil, reduce greenhouse gas emissions, and provide energy price stability to Hawaii's consumers.

"Wind generators are already allowed in all five categories of agricultural land providing that the facilities and appurtenance are compatible with agricultural uses and cause minimal adverse impact on the agricultural land. Solar energy facilities are complementary to the uses prescribed for D and E agricultural lands and should have no adverse impacts on these marginal lands.

"Current amendments to this Bill remove the acreage, location, and energy generation limits under which a solar energy facility would be permitted on agricultural district lands. This dialog should continue and the bill should move forward."

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Again I'd like to remind everyone, I know the zone classes D and E are based on the Land Study Bureau's productivity, and I want to emphasize productivity because it's very difficult to grow produce on these types of lands because of the type of soil, lack of water, etc. So there's a reason for this five point rating system, and this being the lowest of all the ratings in terms of the soil quality and productivity. So that's the reason why we're looking at this.

"As far as acreage, there's no way we can put a solar farm on top of buildings. We've got to put it on land, on acres of land and that's the reason why we're looking at it.

"The other thing is, we passed laws saying that we have got to hit 20 percent renewables by 2020. That's right around the corner. So how are we going to achieve that if we don't have space for renewable energy?

"We're trying to be creative here. And the majority of our lands are in the agricultural classification. The reason is a lot of the land was dumped into agriculture, good or bad. So we have got to look at our land and start working at our policy goals on how we're going to achieve renewable energy, and how we're going to achieve important agricultural lands, which is in other bills. We're trying to identify our most valuable agriculture land, and at the same time we're trying to hit our 2020 renewable goal. How are we going to achieve it if we have no space? That's where we're trying to go at right now. Mr. Speaker, I ask that my written comments also to be inserted."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. The increased use of Hawaii's abundant renewable energy resources, such as wind, solar, ocean thermal, wave, and biomass resources, is key to reducing Hawaii's green house gas emissions and contribution to global warming and creating new job opportunities and economic diversification.

"In 2006, Hawaii's oil imports totaled $3,400,000,000 for the year, accounting for approximately 15 per cent of the total imports. Over 93 per cent of Hawaii's energy is supplied by fossil fuel. By allowing solar energy facilities to be built on marginal agricultural lands or agricultural lands with soil classified D or E, there will be more beneficial effects for Hawaii's economy, environment, and energy security than leaving such lands unused. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Brief comments in support. Mr. Speaker, the sun is out there. Let's farm it, now."

Representative Morita rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First of all, I'd like to insert additional comments into the Journal regarding this matter. I also want to make certain points of clarification.

"The most efficient use of land for solar will be solar on rooftops. That way you don't take up land space and we'll use unutilized roof space. And also when you start using roof spaces, especially in the urban corridor, you're closer to where you need the power. And so it's a more efficient use of the resource.

"Secondly, if the intent is to protect small farmers that are farming on these larger lands that are not reflected in the bill. The bill is wide open. It's making solar an outright allowable use on agricultural lands. And again, if there was a structure, additional criteria to address this issue, protect agricultural uses and keep the land predominantly in agriculture use, it could be a good bill. But the words that are written right now, it’s a free-for-all and without any restrictions and we need to be careful about that.

"Just because it's in the Majority Package doesn't mean it's always a good bill. It was put out to be discussed and when it was put to discussion, we learned lots of things. Lots of different issues have arisen regarding this bill and one is, we may call these lands marginal lands, but people are farming on these lands and they tend to be the smaller farmers and unique crops. So again, it could be a good bill, but the way it's written right now, it's not."

Representative Morita's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I would just like to elaborate on some of the concerns and objections I have regarding this measure that I raised during the Floor debate. The Department of Agriculture testified that soil classification alone should not be the sole criteria in making solar energy an allowable use on agricultural lands rated D or E. The Hawaii Farm Bureau and Maui Farm Bureau pointed out that lands rated D or E are generally used by smaller farms, for grazing or are unique as most coffee farming is done on D or E lands. This kind of broad policy statement does not protect existing agricultural uses on these types of lands and may inadvertently displace on-going agricultural activities on D and E lands.

"The intent of this measure should be to accommodate exceptional solar resources on D or E lands, not to place agricultural uses in jeopardy by creating defacto zoning through this type of allowable use as in the House Draft 2 version. This is why the following criteria, outlined in the House Draft 1 version of this measure is so important:

1) The total acreage to be used by the solar energy facility is ten acres or one percent of the parcel, whichever is less;

(2) The project is located in the vicinity of an existing electrical transmission and distribution system;

(3) The project can generate between:

(i) Eight and fourteen kWh/m2/day (hours per day when array is providing peak output) based on solar insolation maps on a two-axis tracking flat plate; or

(ii) Five and fourteen kWh/m2/day (hours per day when concentrator is providing peak output) based on solar insolation maps on a two-axis tracking concentrator system.

"Projects that do not meet these criteria should go through the regular land use permit process if it is not integrated into an agricultural enterprise as described in House Bill 2503.

"Another important concern is that the broad policy outlined in this measure may have a propensity to pit energy production against food production. Especially with oil prices over $100.00 per barrel, this body needs to be very careful that energy production does not displace lower value food production. Again, the House Draft 2 does nothing to address or to protect existing agricultural uses should this conflict occur.

"Finally, as an island state with limited land potential, the best and most efficient placement for solar panels are rooftops where these systems are close to the load and distribution and transmission infrastructure. Again, what the House Draft 1 tries to address are solar projects where the solar resource and project location has exceptional values that may outweigh the agricultural potential of the parcel. In its present form, House Bill 2502, House Draft 2 leaves the door wide open for abuse of agricultural lands, potentially at the expense of small farms, grazing lands and unique crop opportunities. I have very grave reservations on this bill."

Representative Belatti rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like the words again of the speaker of Hanalei to be entered as my own. Thank you. And I would also like to respond to that issue about putting solar farms on rooftops.

"When I suggest that, I look at the state of the technology today and we have companies like SOPOGY who we are moving with giving SPRBs to. They are developing technology that concentrates the solar energy that can be placed on rooftops. Not just simply rooftops of small buildings; let's look at the 'big box' retailers. We have Sam's Club and Costco looking at putting photovoltaic panels onto their rooftops. Yes, the Majority Leader is right, the sun is out there. Let's farm it. But let's farm it in a way that does not take up valuable agricultural lands. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ito rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. Mr. Speaker I just want to let the Members know that even if this legislation passed at this time, it's going to take between 10 to 15 years before anything gets started because you have got to get the permits. So Mr. Speaker, we will have future Legislatures to take a look at this maybe in 6 years, or 8 years from now and maybe refine this bill a little bit more. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this bill and ask that the words from the Representative from Hanalei be entered as my own. And I would like to caution our colleagues to avoid being seduced by the rhetoric and the vocabulary that currently exists, and the fear that it might be put out there. Because as our Representative from Kaneohe has reminded us, from the Constitutional Convention when the Important Agricultural Lands was put forward to be discussed, that was 30 years ago. So I think it's timely, and if we are coherent with our work today as well, we will take a look at all the different measures and see how they fit together. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with a brief comment in support. Rather than take it fearfully, when I heard the term, 'free-for-all for solar,' I said, 'Let's have a free-for-all for solar. We've been trying for three decades to get the residential community to adopt solar. And only 17 percent of Hawaii's households have solar. So how are we going to get a free-for-all on the agricultural land, which is probably so dry and with rocks and other things to me is beyond conception.

"So I think rather than being fearful, I think we should say, 'Let's bring out as much solar as we can', because it's not happening in our backyards. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Members, the Chair would like to move on. But for those of you who would like to submit written comments, for or against, you will be given the opportunity."

Representative Karamatsu rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a quick rebuttal. In regard to SOPOGY and other solar farm type of companies looking at solar farms, they're looking at 50 acres and beyond. The technology they have is for hundreds of acres and in areas such as a desert or plain areas. So I don't know how we're going to put it on top of buildings. Maybe one day in the future we can have the technology that can make it smaller instead of a huge solar farm, but I don't think we can do it on buildings right now. So we're looking at 2020, and it's right around the corner."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2502, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLAR ENERGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Berg, Luke, Saiki and Wakai voting no, and with Representatives Nakasone, Souki, Takai and Takamine being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, Ocean Resources & Hawaiian Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 763-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2598, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2598, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition. This bill requires the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation to give priority to developing land in the areas covered under the Ewa Development Plan, the City and County of Honolulu Primary Urban Center Development Plan, and land in the urban core in the counties of Kauai, Maui and Hawaii.

"My problem with the bill is that it will limit the ability of HHFDC to support affordable housing developments outside of the areas cited in the bill, even though counties have determined that there is a significant need for affordable housing.

"This bill also requires HHFDC to use its resources and funds to assist development of targeted areas, including addressing infrastructure and other planning needs, which is a major undertaking and cannot be done without a substantial infusion of capital improvement funds from the State Legislature.

"I'm sure that the State and counties are committed to providing affordable housing in rural, residential and urban communities alike. This bill is trying to limit it just to specific areas. I also worry that this would discourage the HHFDC from partnering with other counties on affordable housing in rural areas where the counties have deemed it appropriate. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to emphasize that this bill looks at priority areas that have already been established by HCDA and the counties, and it's really asking HHFDC to give priority. It's not requiring. The previous version mandated this. So we did soften the language there.

"Really, this measure's looking at what a lot of us are concerned about which is urban sprawl. The previous speaker cited to wanting to develop rural areas. A lot of us, with the housing crisis and the crunch we're feeling now, we have to make some tough decisions. Do we want to build upward or outward? I think most of us would agree that we want to build upward. We want to look at the urban core areas that have already been identified and focus on those and really try as much as we can to preserve the rural character of the few remaining places that are still in this State of Hawaii. So I hope that the Members will support this concept. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, just in opposition. My opposition is really quite simple. The philosophy that people in Ewa Beach have. It quite frankly scares us that we're going to be giving priority for our taxpayer dollars to build more homes on the Ewa Plain. And basically use taxpayer dollars to torture myself even further, to add to the traffic congestion. So I do appreciate the intent of this bill. I think it's well founded, but this is really an objection from the people of Ewa Beach."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2598, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AFFORDABLE HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Meyer and Pine voting no, and with Representatives Nakasone, Souki, Takai and Takamine being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 765-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2292, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 766-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2293, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2292, HD 1, and H.B. No. 2293, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising on Stand. Com. Rep. 765 and 766 and my remarks will cover both of those. I'm voting no on both of those. Essentially what this bill does is have the State buy the Galbraith Estate property out in Wahiawa. One bill asks ADC to arrange it and manage it and do things, and the other one has another form of financing.

"My concern, I guess my greatest concern is the liability. There was a study done a few years back, four years ago, that looked at all the properties in total. What came up was a real concern about the condition of the dam on Lake Wilson. If the State owned it, would we take full liability for the problems there and be expected to put whatever money was needed to bring it up to snuff.

"The other thing that I see is that the community in Wahiawa, a certain group of them have been looking forward or have been wanting to, they've shown a lot of interest in getting these properties in public hands where the State would own them. But I'm also really worried because they probably would be looking at rezoning some of the properties, some of the land.

"There may be others that want to talk on these, but the liability is my greatest concern on this purchase. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a potential conflict. As I said before, at my law firm, several of my partners are beneficiaries of the Galbraith Trust. Also Bank of Hawaii is the trustee for the trust, and my wife is employed by Bank of Hawaii. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support and written comments please. But just to clarify, the State of Hawaii probably would not be the only purchaser. We're looking at purchasing or acquiring the property for public purposes, similar to how the State worked with the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, City and County of Honolulu, U.S. Army, Department of Land and Natural Resources, and National Audubon Society in the acquisition of Waimea Valley. Also similarly with Pupukea Paumalu, the North Shore Public Trust people, NOAA, State of Hawaii, City and County and U.S. Army. We're working with all those groups involved with those two great success stories. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks on H.B. No. 2292 are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 2292, HD 1. This measure appropriates funds for the Agribusiness Development Corporation to purchase the agricultural lands owned by the Galbraith Estate. This measure also authorizes the Agribusiness Development Corporation to contract with banks to provide lease management services, and allows the Corporation to lease agricultural lands for up to fifty five years.

"By securing the fertile Galbraith Lands located north of Wahiawa, this measure will help preserve important agricultural lands, limited natural resources, and agricultural irrigation assets on the Island of Oahu. More specifically, it provides the Agricultural Development Corporation with the flexibility to lease agricultural lands at affordable prices for extended periods of time. By purchasing the Galbraith lands and having ADC lease those lands to farmers at affordable rates, small farmers who are currently unable to afford large tracks of land will be able to continue to farm Oahu's fertile soil and reduce the State's dependence on imported food crops.

"Mr. Speaker, the passage of this measure would greatly benefit farming and diversified agriculture in Hawaii, and would guarantee the long-term availability of the Galbraith lands for agricultural uses at a time when the demand for residential development in central Oahu is high. The 2,100 acres currently for sale by the Galbraith Estate present an enormous opportunity for the State to strategically protect important agricultural lands that are fundamental to Hawaii's future."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks on H.B. No. 2293 are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.B. No. 2293, HD 1. This measure authorizes the issuance of revenue bonds and appropriates funds for the Agribusiness Development Corporation to purchase the agricultural lands owned by the Galbraith Estate. This measure also authorizes the Agribusiness Development Corporation to contract with a financial institution in order to lease lands owned by the Corporation for up to fifty five years.

"By securing the fertile Galbraith Lands located north of Wahiawa, this measure will help preserve important agricultural lands, limited natural resources, and agricultural irrigation assets on the Island of Oahu. More specifically, it provides the Agricultural Development Corporation with the flexibility to lease agricultural lands at affordable prices for extended periods of time. By purchasing the Galbraith lands and having ADC lease those lands to farmers at affordable rates, small farmers who are currently unable to afford large tracks of land will be able to continue to farm Oahu's fertile soil and reduce the State's dependence on imported food crops.

"Mr. Speaker, the passage of this measure would greatly benefit farming and diversified agriculture in Hawaii, and would guarantee the long-term availability of the Galbraith lands for agricultural uses at a time when the demand for residential development in central Oahu is high. The 2,100 acres currently for sale by the Galbraith Estate present an enormous opportunity for the State to strategically protect important agricultural lands that are fundamental to Hawaii's future."

Representative Meyer rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. One of these bills would ask for revenue bonds, but as was explained the general income from leasing land and agricultural operations cannot support the debt service for that. If the military and all these various entities are interested in making that investment, that changes the whole look of these bills, but for now my vote is no. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On those two measures, could you note my reservations? And it mainly surrounds around the liability issue of the property, as well as the reasons stated in the Governor's previous veto message as well. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Reservations, Mr. Speaker. I have no idea what the situation is with the dam, regarding repairing it and the potential liability. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.B. No. 2292, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Meyer, Pine and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Nakasone, Souki, Takai and Takamine being excused; and

H.B. No. 2293, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Meyer and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Nakasone, Souki, Takai and Takamine being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 767-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2501, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Caldwell, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2501, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BIOSECURITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Nakasone, Souki, Takai and Takamine being excused.

At 10:55 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2367, HD 2
H.B. No. 2503, HD 1
H.B. No. 2502, HD 2
H.B. No. 2598, HD 2
H.B. No. 2292, HD 1
H.B. No. 2293, HD 1
H.B. No. 2501, HD 2

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 768-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2516, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2516, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. No. 768, I have some strong reservations. While this is a good purpose, to have biosecurity facilities, we have a big problem with alien species and things coming into the State. With the revenue stream that we have which is decreasing this year and very many demands, I feel like this is premature. The Department of Agriculture is doing a pretty good job right now. The Governor has put an extra $500,000 plus into the budget so that they can expand on what they're doing now. Thank you, very much."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am voting with reservations and similar reason for my reservations."

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"On Stand. Com. No. 768, in strong support. The purpose of this measure Mr. Speaker, is to improve the infrastructure and facilities necessary to prevent the importation and spread of invasive species. It provides for funding for a joint biosecurity inspection facility without federal inspectors. The State of Hawaii, the State inspectors cannot really do it alone and we need the participation and corporation of the federal inspectors also. This is a forming of a partnership with federal inspection services and we believe this is an efficient and effective method to make the best use of our really limited resources, money and available space.

"The Legislature found in 2003 that the silent invasion of Hawaii by insects, disease-carrying organisms, weeds and other pests is the single greatest threat to our economy and the natural environment, and to the health and the lifestyle of the people of Hawaii. Legislation that helps to improve the effectiveness of cargo inspections must be a high priority for the sustenance of Hawaii's agriculture and environment, and takes a big step toward curtailing invasive species that enter our State through important cargo. Thank you, very much."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am still with reservations and just have some short comments. According to the Department of Agriculture, the Department is already filling in the gaps in invasive species prevention systems as the bills propose to do by implementing their biosecurity program. So it's not like we're without. They have already initiated the planning and installation of joint use inspection facilities at the airports and harbors to mitigate the environmental concerns for the improvements to the transportation infrastructure statewide, and is currently developing coordinated federal/State programs targeting risk assessments, diagnostics, detection, control and suppression and emergency management programs designed to further increase the effectiveness of their invasive species programs. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2516, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BIOSECURITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Meyer voting no, and Representatives Brower, Nakasone, Sonson, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 769-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2593, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2593, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2593, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DROUGHT MITIGATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Brower, Nakasone, Sonson, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 770-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2843, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2843, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will be voting for this measure because I would like to stop invasive species from coming in to Hawaii. However, I am reluctant to accept new fees on our containers and incoming cargo. By taxing all freight coming into the State on containers or otherwise, we are taxing ourselves, and that increases our cost of living. I would much rather see our raising fees perhaps on passenger tax on outgoing tourists. Maybe we could rethink this particular plan."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Standing Committee Report 770, in strong support. This measure actually repeals the existing inspection fee on cargo containers to the 20-foot equivalent, assessing a $1 fee for 20-foot equivalent. This measure would provide an ongoing funding stream which would expand the eradication efforts of invasive species statewide, instead of relying solely on general funding.

"Please allow me to explain the difference on this $1 container fee on this particular measure. For both domestic and foreign imports, cargo arriving, both maritime and air cargo, annually into the State of Hawaii, statistics extracted by the Department of Agriculture reveals that harbor importation of cargo annually, by week, is 12 billion pounds annually. Air cargo, 250 million annually. That means over about 12 billion, 250 million pounds per year.

"What this measure tries to do is to have an equal responsibility as far as assessing fees, for protection from the invasive species. Therefore instead of only assessing a $1 fee on containerized maritime cargo, it goes a step further for both airports and harbors. The assessment is based on $.50 per 1,000 pounds of cargo, both domestic and foreign cargo.

"In calculating this annually, on a very conservative basis from the figures were derived from, this would derive approximately $6,125,000 annually. The Department of Agriculture states that they need at least $4 million to counteract invasive species. We cannot rely on general funds alone, and this is a step forward in our continuing effort to counteract invasive species and I ask for your support. Thank you, very much."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support with some reservations. Just the information I have with me here, I don't have any kind of estimates of what this is going to cost. It's obviously going to raise the cost of products shipped in. I have some concern about maybe the automobile industry that will carry the load because they're heavy cargo. I just have this reservation."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2843, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INVASIVE SPECIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Brower, Nakasone, Sonson, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 771-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3034, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3034, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. Mr. Speaker, if money is the 'mother's milk' of politics, we need to put our money where our mouth is now and save the cows and that's I think exactly what this bill does. It asks that we start treating Hawaii milk as first class milk rather than second class milk. Heretofore, it had been used as cheese and yogurt, and the fresh milk was actually brought in from the Mainland. This bill will reverse that and I think it's a really good step in the right direction.

"However Mr. Speaker, I think there are two lessons I think that come with this bill. One is that we're becoming less sustainable. This is a wake up call that we may have two dairies left in the State of Hawaii, there's one that's just went out recently in Waianae and there's two left on the Big Island. Yet at the same time, this body and the Senate are promoting sustainability by 2050. We've got be not talking out of both sides of my mouth. We're letting our farmers die off. The agriculture industry is dying; the chicken industry, and now the dairy industry. So sustainability means we have to put action to our words.

"I think the second lesson is, I think you probably hear it more from this side of the aisle, when we send a clarion call for the danger of the cost of doing business in Hawaii, please listen to this side of the aisle because these guys are dying and we're losing our businesses.

"And this is a great wake up call for what otherwise in the long run I think we have to have some kind of a stockpiling of sustainable industries like milk, like bread, like eggs. So in event there is a crisis, at least we're going to have a nucleus bond which we can build or we expand. So Mr. Speaker this bill is a good bill, it's a wake up call and I'd like to thank the Governor for introducing it. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in strong support and ask that the words of the previous speaker be inserted in the Journal as if they were my own."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3034, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MILK," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Brower, Nakasone, Sonson, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 772-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3120, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3120, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Manahan rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan's written remarks are as follows:

"In the hearings of the House Committees on Economic Development & Business Concerns, and Finance, the Department of Agriculture (DOA) testified that they would like to lease the Animal Quarantine Facility in Halawa for below market value. They assessed the market value of the property at $300,000, which I found to be very low given its size and location in central Oahu.

"Given that we are already subsidizing many agricultural industries through the DOA such as the poultry, cattle, pork, and dairies under the Department of Agriculture without any long term plans, and in light of the unfavorable audit of the DOA and their management of the Molokai irrigation system which we are subsidizing to the tune of $425,000 a year, I question the ability and the rationale of the DOA to lease the Halawa property for 50% below market value. (It should be noted that in the original version of the bill, it was proposed that the Halawa property be leased for less than 50% of its market value.

"Furthermore, only the DOA and the Hawaii Humane Society testified in favor of this bill in both Committees despite many other organizations who would be able to qualify and benefit from such legislation.

"For these reasons, I would like to express my reservations for HB 3120."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3120, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ANIMAL QUARANTINE FACILITIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Brower, Nakasone, Sonson, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 778-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2431, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2431, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 2431, H.D. 2 that exempts the University of Hawaii Board of Regents from Hawaii Public Procurement Code requirements and requires an audit. I believe in good procurement policy, and am confident that filing the procurement process and any proposed changes with the Hawaii Procurement Institute will add transparency to this process.

"This will allow the University to efficiently repair and renovate at reduced costs while maintaining current facilities so that the students and faculty can be proud of their university and its facilities. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2431, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BOARD OF REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Berg voting no, and Representatives Brower, Nakasone, Sonson, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 779-08) recommending that H.B. No. 2521, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2521, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Brower rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have strong, very strong reservations about this bill. It's not that I'm not aware of all maintenance and repairs that are needed at the University. I think we want our University to be first class and be a place that our students can be proud to be learning and going to school there. They are proud even though it doesn't look as good as it could. But it would be a real boost to everyone if our University really looked A-1, tops.

"What I have a problem with is the way we're going to finance these repairs. The way the bill is written right now, it spells out that $50 million of tax revenues that come into the State will automatically move over to a special fund in the University. They won't even show up on the revenue stream for the State because they had just funneled off over to the University. And we will also provide G.O. bond funding of another $50 million and that will show up. There'll be debt service on that. So that's $100 million over to the University every year for six years. That's $600 million of our State tax money that will be going over to the University. Correct that, the bonds are not State tax money, but the tax money pays for the debt service.

"I don't think anybody is against providing the money for the University to do what really is long overdo. It's just that I think it's irresponsible to earmark this money. It doesn't give us very much flexibility. You never know what the next year's going to bring. Of course we have another Legislative Session. We can undo what we're doing, but I think when you use the State tax dollars you have to be accountable and by passing a bill of this scope, six years, okay you're just going to get it, don't worry.

"I know the bill does call for the President of the University to come back and report every year as to how much they're spending, what they're doing, and that is good. But when you know that you're just going to get it, I think there's a chance people feel they like deserve it, they just know it's coming. Every year is a new year and I think you have to look at the needs of the State in totality and we are by way of this mechanism guaranteeing the University that they will have this $100 million every year for 6 six years, no matter what's going on in the State, at least that's what we're saying if we pass it. And I think that is just not the most responsible thing to do. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As Chair of the House Finance Committee, I stand in strong support of putting money where our mouth is, and making this commitment to our University of Hawaii System.

"I believe the previous speaker did highlight some of the funding features of the bill. Yes it is a six-year plan. $50 million in general revenues right off the top from our tax revenues, and $50 million a year from our general obligation bonds. And the reason for it Mr. Speaker, is we've learned that there are about $240 million in deferred repairs in our University System, and every year they need about $75 million just to keep everything from further deterioration and keeping our classrooms open for our students. So that's why we're looking at a six-year plan.

"Future Legislatures can certainly make adjustments to accommodate different needs or interests at that particular time, but I think that in celebrating our University of Hawaii's 100th anniversary, this is a tremendous step in addressing the backlog, making sure that we have the money set aside at the front end to keep our buildings and facilities working for our students.

"So I stand in strong support of this and hope we can all, especially as part of the alumni Mr. Speaker, move this bill forward. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with slight reservations. As the previous speaker ended with, I'd like to begin with. Seventy percent of us are alumni of University of Hawaii, and all of us obviously are proud of it. We want to save it, and we want to do it and this is a mechanism and this is a bill by which we can do that. However, with $50 million by G.O. bonds, and $50 million by cash out of the Treasury, I'm not sure if that is the wisest way to go.

"Mr. Speaker you didn't buy your house using credit card interest. Using our general funds is the equivalent to doing it. It's going to cost us too much. Why don't we do a 100 percent, or 75 percent with G.O. bonds and save us some money.

"My second reservation is, $100 million a year at the University of Hawaii is like drinking out of a fire hose. I just don't think they can do it. That's going to be tough. So I think this is a good mechanism. This is only First Crossover, right? So we can get another bite at the apple on this one. I think it's good that it's moving. It may be overextended in terms of the method of financing and the amount. But I think it's a good bill and I will vote for it with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support this bill, but I have some reservations. Mr. Speaker, I'm really thankful for our commitment to wanting to help the University - our University, with repair and maintenance of the facilities. And make no mistake, there is another method in where we can commit to this goal. And the Governor has done so in her Supplemental Budget, which includes a commitment of $291 million for the same purpose.

"Mr. Speaker, the part I have reservations for, and I will not vote no, but the part I vote reservations for is that this bill is not transparent to the people of Hawaii and our taxpayers as it funnels the tax revenue directly into a special fund. And what that does is, it doesn't allow these numbers to become reportable numbers for mandated tax rebates or those types of things, as well as it doesn't reflect in our general fund carryover balances. Mr. Speaker that's the kind of information that I think from the outside looking in, getting a better picture of where our State is in regard to tax revenue, in regard to what we have in reserve, or those types of things, I think that that's a more transparent way to go. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to respond, stating:

"Just to clarify. The Governor only put $50 million in repair and maintenance. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still with reservations, but in clarification of my words, it's $291 million in a variety of ways to address this problem. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just another thing I wanted to bring up. Normally when you do these large repairs and renovations, you do it with G.O. bonds. Bonds allow more than the current generation of taxpayers to pay for capital improvements that are intended for several generations to be beneficiaries. This puts a greater burden than is necessary on the current generation of tax payers by spending over $300 million of tax revenue. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2521, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Berg, Morita and Takumi voting no, and with Representatives Brower, Nakasone, Sonson, Souki and Takai being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 780-08) recommending that H.B. No. 3226, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative Caldwell moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3226, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I believe it was noted that one of the supporters of this bill was the University of Hawaii Regents Candidate Advisory Council. But I'm led to believe that they actually would like to see the original version. The amended versions would have a chilling effect on the individuals considering becoming candidates to serve on the Board of Regents. These are pretty strong words to indicate a very strong objection. So I just wanted to bring that up. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, in opposition. I'll just go through a few bullet points. As it was said by the Minority Leader, the legislation allows for disclosure of information that many candidates of the Board of Regents may find sensitive. In fact the Regents Candidate Advisory Council did testify that confidentiality language would have a chilling effect on individuals considering becoming a candidate. In recent interviews, some candidates have expressed concern about the potential public disclosure of personal information that the Council may become aware of during the candidate review process.

"Disclosure of sensitive information further weakens the ability to recruit the best and brightest candidates to serve on the UH Board of Regents. The very creation of the Council last year weakens the State's ability to find high-quality candidates requiring them to be approved by an Advisory Council and put up individual interests. But now release of the information may further limit the number of high-quality individuals interested in becoming Regents.

"Number four, it would make the Board of Regents selection process more politicized with release of this information, the smallest thing could be used to discredit an individual or their political leaning. And there is no longer the requirement that no more than six of the members shall be members of the same political party, and so there is no longer a mandate that the Board be politically balanced. The funding for the position in this bill may also not be necessary as the funding for the bill is already in the budget. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ching be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. Mr. Speaker this bill sets up a task force at the University of Hawaii to work with the Regents Candidate Advisory Council, and my concern is that it's exempt from the Sunshine Law. I don't think that's a good idea. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."
