FIFTY-FIVE YEARS OF STATEHOOD
SPECIAL PRESENTATION

At this time, the Chair stated:

"As you all know, Hawaii celebrates its 55th anniversary as a state this year. Since statehood, we have gone from a sleepy territorial outpost to a vibrant pacific hub, unique among all the 50 states. But Hawaii has been fortunate to have many citizens who have answered the call to serve, and taken the challenges of elected office.

"These individuals understood, above everything else, the nature of our roots and our uniqueness. They had a keen sense of understanding of where Hawaii had come from, and the vision and commitment to lead us into the future, firmly anchored by the spirit of aloha.

"We owe a lot to these men and women who have dedicated their careers and lives to ensuring our collective future. To them, I say mahalo nui loa for all that you have given and for all that you have done.

Representative Saiki moved that H.R. No. 2 be adopted, seconded by Representative Johanson.

Representative McDermott rose, stating:

"I would like to make a motion that we postpone this for a day, so that I can examine the proportionality of committee assignments. I'm not certain by looking at it if there is equity for the minority in all these assignments. I just don't know. Thank you."

At this time, Representative McDermott moved to postpone action on H.R. No. 2 for one legislative day.

At 10:56 o'clock a.m., Representative Tokioka requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 10:58 o'clock a.m.

At this time, the Speaker delivered his address, stating:

"Members, guests, with your indulgence, I have a few remarks to make as we proceed to the new session.

"My fellow Members and guests, aloha and welcome to the 2014 Regular Session of the Hawaii State Legislature. Thank you all for being here today.

"The first thing I would like to do is thank all of the House Members for their efforts in the recently completed special session. As we all know, it was one of the most controversial and divisive sessions in recent memory. Not only for us, but for the entire community.

"But no matter what your stand on the issue, I want to thank you for your participation. Because as we all know, in a democracy, the discussion and the debates are just as important, if not more so, than the resulting decision.

"And so now it's time to put all that behind us and to move forward. More importantly, we need to help our people heal in the spirit of aloha that has always guided this community.

"How do we do that? To me, the best way is to lead by example. To come together as one House. To help our citizens provide a better life for themselves and their children. That is the way we've always done it. That's the aloha way.

"Fortunately, we embark on this session in one of the best fiscal positions in a long time. With Hawaii's economy growing, construction stable, tourism strong and unemployment down, there is every reason for hope and optimism. While the past few years have placed us in survival mode, this year we have a real chance to create opportunities.

"We have an opportunity to honor our kupuna and help our families with their long-term care.

"We have an opportunity to help the homeless and to mend our social safety net that has been torn and tattered in recent years.

"We have an opportunity to repair our schools and help our teachers provide the best education for our keiki, from early learning to higher education.

"And speaking of education, we have an opportunity to improve literacy in Hawaii by funding a statewide program to support efforts of the Governor's Council for Literacy.

"We have an opportunity to improve the infrastructure that our businesses need to grow and prosper, thereby creating more jobs for our people.

"We have an opportunity to not only strengthen our economy, but to do it in a way that protects our fragile environment, whether it's from damaging climate change or invasive species.

"We don't have to choose one over the other. A strong economy allows us to sustain both.

"We need not only to spend wisely on special services, but to prudently provide for our long-term financial obligations, our Rainy Day Fund. But to do all that we also need something that we haven't talked about a lot recently, and that is Vision. Vision with a capital 'V'.

"As leaders, our job is to both create laws, to take care of today's challenges, and to anticipate long-term issues for tomorrow. However, vision is not just a 'feel good' concept. It's easy to talk about vision. It is much harder to turn vision into reality.

"It's easy to talk about health care reform, but much harder to realize that goal when faced with the real life difficulties of implementation and human failures, just as it was difficult to pass Hawaii's Prepaid Health Care Act back in 1974, a law that has benefitted the majority of Hawaii's working families since its passage. That measure was passed, primarily because of the vision of its authors and because of their willingness to fight for that vision.

"Here today, I see many familiar faces, some with whom I've worked side by side in the 1978 constitutional convention, a watershed event that created, among its many achievements, the need for a balanced state budget.

"Because of the nature of what we were doing, vision was not just an afterthought, but a guiding principal of all that we thought about and did.

"I see many other familiar faces, dare I say a bit younger, with whom I've worked to solve some of the most pressing issues facing us today. In them, I see a new generation of leaders, young, eager and full of energy. To them, I want to issue this personal challenge, not only for this session but for their entire public service careers.

"Be a visionary in a way that many of your predecessors here today were. Be careful and conservative when it comes to the public's welfare and finances. But where your own careers are concerned, take a chance, take up the challenges facing you and all of us.

"Be bold and look beyond your own wellbeing, and today's needs.

"For example, contrary to what many believe, our laws, our tax laws, exist to make Hawaii a better place to live and work. We all have a vested interest in its upkeep and wellbeing. We all have an obligation to the whole. The distribution of this obligation can be confusing even during the best of times. Long-term social trends constantly change the landscape and we need to make frequent adjustments to our tax laws.

"It's not an easy task, but a necessary one. It's necessary if we want to be fair, and it's necessary if we want to keep Hawaii a place with aloha, and a place we are proud to call home. In looking at our budget, yes, be fiscally prudent. But let's also look at how we can do it better that makes more sense for us today.

"The Transient Accommodations Tax on tourism helps us provide for the main driver of our economic engine. In this strong economy, should we not be thinking about a greater partnership with our counties who provide much of the services that directly support tourism?

"They are the ones who maintain our roads and parks and provide the law enforcement officers and first responders who serve our visitors as well as our kama'aina. Therefore, let's look at removing the cap on the counties' share of the TAT.

"It's time. I believe the gesture is not only long overdue, but should be viewed as a better long-term investment in our counties and in our number one industry.

"And speaking of taxes, Hawaii's personal income tax is currently one of the highest in the nation. The law that allowed that to happen was passed several years ago during a severe budget shortfall, but will sunset in 2015. And it should be allowed to do so, because that's good for Hawaii's hard working families.

"In both of these instances, the returns on ensuring a more robust economy will be worth the investment, at a cost, however, that is substantial for the state. So at the same time, let's look at a number of other sources of revenues that better reflect the world and the circumstances we live in today.

"Let's look at the changes that would more sensibly spread the burden among those who benefit from living and working in these islands. Let's look at working with the State Attorney General to better enforce existing state requirements for those who do business, a great deal of business, in the state.

"I am referring to those who earn millions through the Internet who are not located in Hawaii but profit from the sales generated by our people. Technology has revolutionized the way companies do business throughout the world. And that's amazing and wonderful.

"But every day, they compete toe-to-toe with local companies on a playing field that is clearly tilted in their favor. It's time we level the playing field. We should also join other states who have banded together to look at this issue, as well as consult with our congressional delegation on actions being considered at the federal level.

"Our tax laws also make allowances for seniors whose incomes are usually fixed and very limited. That is the right thing to do, for most of them.

"But very wealthy seniors who draw over $100,000 in pensions per person are also the beneficiaries of those tax considerations. Let's fix that anomaly so that everyone pays their fair share no matter where their income comes from.

"Recently, there has been much news about other states legalizing the use of marijuana. While I am not suggesting we go that route, Hawaii does permit the limited cultivation and use of marijuana for medical purposes.

"In spite of that, there are no dispensaries or places where you can legally buy cannabis, even with a prescription. I think we need to fix that gap in the law before we talk about anything else.

"In addition to the House-Senate majority package, these are a few issues I hope you will discuss in this session. I look to all of you for much more and the opportunity to create a new vision for Hawaii.

"We have a lot of work before us. To tackle it successfully, we will need to work together. To hold to our beliefs, but be willing to compromise when necessary for the greater good.

"We will need to bring our communities together and engage and allow them to take ownership in the legislative process. Because that is the only way we will achieve anything meaningful and lasting.

"So Members, let's all roll up our sleeves and get to it. I thank you for your commitment and look forward to working with you.

"Mahalo and aloha. Thank you."

The Chair then recognized Representative Johanson, the Minority Leader, to present the Minority's response.

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, distinguished guests, fellow colleagues and people of the great State of Hawaii. A special thank you to the many former legislators who have joined us today. Welcome back to the House, welcome home. Your presence here today is as special as the mark that each of you left on the institution, as well as the imprint that you have left on Hawaii. Indeed, your legacy of service has guided us here today and helped contribute to the foundation upon which many of us stand. It is that legacy that continues to compel us to serve.

"We wear many hats in the Legislature and have many titles. But above all else, we are public servants and here to serve. That's what the public expects of us, and that is what we should expect of ourselves.

"All of you returning Members share something in common, irrespective of your philosophical differences, your backgrounds, your present circumstances. You all labored to make Hawaii a better place, and to improve the lives of all people. And that's a link, an intrinsic link that we all share.

"Just as you faced in your time of service, we still face significant issues today. These include citizen participation in democracy and government, a high cost of living, educational opportunities, and the health of our people.

"Hawaii still has the lowest voter turnout in the nation. We are all familiar with the cynicism that permeates many of our neighbors. That cynicism leading to apathy, and ultimately a lack of engagement in the democratic process. The call of service requires us to do more, and responsibility compels us to answer. Accordingly, the Minority Caucus seeks to empower the electorate directly through the initiative and the referendum process.

"Financial experts generally always rank us as consistently having the highest cost of living in America. We know far too many people who are living in poverty, or barely making ends meet. We need only look around to see the increasing problems of homelessness. The call of service requires us to do more, and responsibility, again, compels us to answer.

"We advocate lowering the cost of living by linking income tax brackets to the consumer price index to provide some measure of tax relief to those at the margins of each bracket, as they see their dollar buying less while still having to pay the same level of taxes with essentially less money.

"Public education in Hawaii is one of our largest governmental expenditures. And it has societal consequences for generations to come. Again, the call of service requires us to do more, and responsibility compels us to answer. We propose greater educational opportunity by proposing all five year olds attend kindergarten.

"The healthcare system, we all know, can be a complex web of overlapping pieces that are difficult for patients and our neighbors to navigate and to effectively receive health care from. The call of service requires us to do more, and again responsibility compels us to answer.

"We support formally establishing by law the Hawaii Wraparound Program to effectively care for at-risk youth. And while this is not an exhaustive list of the many ideas that we will be debating this year, it certainly is a sampling of some of our core priorities.

"We believe that the 2014 Legislative Session affords us a unique opportunity to help engage the people of Hawaii on the important issues of the day that really affect them. By pressing for the goals of increasing participation in government, lowering the cost of living, strengthening education and protecting people, we can improve the quality of life for all who live in Hawaii.

"To our esteemed former colleagues, you all labored to make Hawaii a better place and to improve the lives of all of our people. And all of us, who have that responsibility today, must continue to take up that mantle of service.

"Mahalo and best wishes for a productive 2014 Legislative Session. Thank you."

The Honorable Joseph M. Souki
Speaker of the House of Representatives

Honolulu, HI 96813

Aloha Governor, Madam President, and Mr. Speaker,

I, as State House Representative of Hawaii's 5th District, do hereby resign from my elected office effective December 20, 2013.

It is with a heavy heart that I must tender this resignation. I do so for family reasons. I lost my wife of 44 years this summer due to brain cancer. I am now the only parent and grandparent for my daughters and grandchildren. On Saturday, November 17, 2013, I learned that my oldest daughter's breast cancer has returned and the cancer has spread to several locations in her lymph system. She is facing another big battle with cancer.

With the loss of my wife, I am now mother and father to Amy and she needs my help. While I love Hawaii with all my heart, my love for family must trump my legislative plans. The recession of the past 5 years caused my daughters and grandchildren to leave Hawaii to find employment on the mainland. To help Amy battle her cancer, I too must leave Hawaii.

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve the people of Hawaii. I leave knowing that I have represented the communities of Hawaii Island and the State to the best of my ability.

Aloha and Mahalo,

Denny Coffman

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Jordan: "Mr. Speaker, it's not actually an announcement, it's a request for a moment of silence at the appropriate moment. Mr. Speaker, yesterday we held a ceremonial day on Opening Day, congratulating former Representatives that had served here in the House. Well, there was one individual who couldn't join us yesterday, Mr. Speaker. It was a former House Member. This was a great mentor of mine and a personal friend.

"Ms. Faith P. Evans passed away. She served in this Body from 1975 through 1980. She was very dedicated to public service. She served as the Minority Assistant Floor Leader from 1978 through 1979, and as the Minority Floor Leader from 1979 through 1980. After leaving her service here in the House Body, she was elected the first female in the United States as U.S. Marshall, and she represented the Hawaii U.S. Marshalls from 1982 to 1991.

"Now when you talk about positive role models for females, this was her. During her service here in the State Legislature, she also worked alongside Patsy T. Mink to help move Title IX forward. She worked very quietly and effectively behind the scenes.

"In her retirement, she continued her public service. She served on many boards and commissions, she continued to serve on her Kailua Neighborhood Board as the board chair and a member.

"But, she was most proud of her ancestry. Being of Puerto Rican and Hawaiian ancestry, she gave many volunteer hours and time to the Hawaii Plantation Village and has served on the board as chair.

"I wish she could've joined us yesterday. She passed away on January 9th, just a little short. She is survived by her spouse Noel, her daughter Tricia, her son John, and her young other daughter Kathleen.

"Thank you for the opportunity, Mr. Speaker, and I'll appreciate the moment of silence. All females can put a great dedication to this strong woman. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. At the appropriate time I'd like to also ask for a moment of silence for one of our own. A few days ago on January 10th, the Hawaii National Guard lost one of our soldiers in an aircraft accident.

"Sergeant Drew Scobie was a member of the 487th Field Artillery Battalion, but he served on a mission that he volunteered for. Unfortunately, his wife, his kid and his unborn kid are all going to be without a husband and a father.

"So, at the appropriate time, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to also include Sergeant Scobie and his family in this moment of silence."

At this time, the Members of the House of Representatives stood for a moment of silence in honor of the late former Representative Faith P. Evans, and the late Sgt. Drew Scobie.

The Governor was presented with lei by Representative Rida Cabanilla on behalf of the House of Representatives, and Senator Michelle Kidani on behalf of the Senate. The Speaker then presented to the Members of the Twenty-Seventh Legislature and the audience, the Honorable Neil Abercrombie, Governor of the State of Hawaii.

The Governor then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Thank you very much. You're very kind. Thank you. I felt like Jay Leno saying hello to Jimmy Kimmel. Thank you very much. Before I begin, can we have a big hand for our congressional delegation, who were smart enough to be here rather than Washington where it's snowing a foot right now.

"Madame President, Mister Speaker, Members of the Hawaii State Legislature, former Governors, distinguished Justices of the Courts, Mayors, in absence, Congressional delegation, other elected officials, honored guests, family and friends, Aunty Aggie, Kamaki, Nancie. Aloha.

"As we begin our session I ask that we set aside our political preoccupations of the moment and reflect on the privilege we have to serve and the responsibility we have to look to horizons beyond our own concerns.

"I ask that we begin today with a moment of silence to honor Hawaii National Guard Sergeant Drew Scobie of Kailua, who died earlier this month in Afghanistan. He was 25 years old. He leaves behind his wife, his four year old son, and another child yet to be born. Our hearts and best thoughts are with his family during this time.

"On March 25th, the Legislature will hold its Joint Session for the Hawaii Medal of Honor Ceremony to recognize fallen soldiers with Hawaii ties, and I think everyone here wants to work for the day when we have no more fallen to recognize for their ultimate sacrifice, no more families to console for their loss.

"But until that day, I ask for us to join in a moment of silence and reflection in honor of Sergeant Scobie and his family. If those who are able to rise would do so. At this time, may we have a moment of silence on behalf of Sergeant Scobie and his family?"

At this time, the Members of the House of Representatives and the Senate stood for a moment of silence in honor of the late Sgt. Drew Scobie and his family.

"Mahalo. Thank you very much.

"When I entered office, we issued a call for a New Day in Hawaii. We presented and implemented a plan that has guided this administration and our state over the last three years through very difficult times. We faced hard choices and had to make some tough decisions. I am grateful for this Legislature's collaboration as we navigated through these troubled waters. The question before us then is, what direction shall we now set our sights?

"Where do we see our Hawaii, our people, our keiki, our kupuna, our aina, our businesses, in the future? To answer that core question, we need look no further than our island values. We must be trustees with a duty not just to the present, but to the long-term future of our islands. We must be stewards with a responsibility to protect our identity, our precious human and natural resources, and become more self-sufficient.

"For three years, we have strategically managed our resources, endured shared sacrifices, made fiscally prudent decisions, and have seen our economy measurably improve. This has resulted in a General Fund balance of $844 million for the Fiscal Year 2013, a historically unprecedented figure that represents a turnaround of more than $1 billion since 2010.

"I want to extend my appreciation to all of you in this Legislature for helping to make some of those tough decisions. Extend our thanks to our public sector employees who made sacrifices, and the people and businesses of Hawaii whose faith and patience made this effort possible.

"I am able to report to you today, our state government's financial house now stands on solid ground.

"We are entering a new phase. The administration's package and supplemental budget do not rely on any new taxes or fees. On the contrary, as you will see, I believe we may be able to reduce taxes in key areas. We have the resources to deliver services to the people of Hawaii while living within our means. And, what is most important, my administration's budget philosophy ensures our budget is sustainable. Our financial plan accommodates any fluctuations in revenue projections in the years to come.

"We are stabilizing future costs and expenditures. We are concluding collective bargaining agreements, several of which are for multiple years. We have taken affirmative action in addressing our state's unfunded liabilities, for medical benefits for retirees and pensions, salvaging both from fiscal disaster.

"We are committed to strengthening the finances of the state with a plan that builds our state reserves up to 10 percent of General Fund revenues. These reserves will allow us to weather possible future economic downturns and to guard against the public service cutbacks of the recent past.

"Financial rating agencies recognize our efforts and have improved their outlook assessment of us from negative, to stable, to positive. What then of the future? I shall outline a few central elements for your attention this morning, and I will address other issues in more detail, such as housing, agriculture, energy, et cetera, through messages to you in the days immediately following this address.

"First, there is no more critical issue before us than early childhood development and education. I look forward to strengthening relationships with the private and nonprofit sectors by the passage of the constitutional amendment to provide for partnerships in early education. I appreciate the Legislature's support last session for our expansion of the Preschool Open Doors program.

"Administrative rules are nearly complete. The program envisions providing assistance to over 1,200 families of four-year-old children that will no longer be eligible to attend kindergarten as of August 1st of this year.

"However, this modest approach is not enough. Some 5,000 four-year-olds will be affected by this change in the age requirement. Some families have the financial capacity to afford the average preschool rate of over $8,000 per year. Many middle-income families will struggle and have to make difficult choices. Most lesser-income families will be precluded from the option of making any choices.

"We know that the early years of a child's development are crucial in setting the foundation for a child's behavior and lifelong learning. From birth to age five, more than 85 percent of a person's brain development takes place. An alarming number of our children are entering school without the basics needed to succeed in school. Wanting to read, vocabulary acquisition, learning how to behave within a group. A lesson we could all take to heart ourselves.

"Investing in our children's early years will pay dividends down the road in the form of healthy and contributing adults, reduced crime and incarceration, and less dependency on social services.

"We invest in ourselves by investing in early childhood education.

"Our plan is to build and strengthen Hawaii's mixed-delivery system of early learning programs. Community-based preschools are now and will be a key component. To expand access for four-year-olds, we are proposing direct services in 32 classrooms across the state, half of which are on neighbor islands.

"We are seeking additional resources for Family-Child Interaction Learning programs. We are proposing support for families who participate in the Preschool Open Doors. These requests total approximately $8 million. Our plan is targeted, aimed at helping those who otherwise have little or no options. These initial investments will serve an additional 1,040 children and their families.

"Now, I realize this is an election year. Political agendas and ambitions are being formulated. But let us take children out of these equations. Let us resolve, all of us, to be champions of children. You have my pledge and my word on that.

"Our unemployment has improved to the fifth lowest in the nation. Three years ago, the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund was practically bankrupt. Our progress over the last three years has allowed us to reduce the Unemployment Insurance tax rates for 2014 by 35 percent. Employers will pay $130 million less in taxes, or $300 less per employee on average for 2014.

"But a hard-working sector of our community has gone seven years without seeing their wages rise. Therefore, I will be proposing a bill to increase the minimum wage by $1.50, to at least $8.75 starting in January 2015. Average weekly earnings have increased 16 percent since 2007. For minimum wage workers, it's zero. Currently, 21 other states plus the District of Columbia have higher minimum wage rates than Hawaii, while our minimum wage earners are confronted by much higher living costs.

"It is a myth that increases to the minimum wage just benefits entry level workers, mostly teenagers. In Hawaii, 85 percent of minimum wage workers are 21 years old or older. The last four times the minimum wage was raised, on average, the number of jobs increased by 2.2 percent over the following 12 months. Twenty percent of our children in Hawaii under six years of age, over 22,000 children, live in low-income working families. Low-income working families.

"Now, I am aware that the issue of tip credit in the hospitality/restaurant service sector was the stumbling block last year. I want you to know, I am prepared to accept a reasonable accommodation on this point. Employees who earn tips, as I did waiting tables at Chuck's Steak House in Waikiki, have the opportunity to earn tips and to add to their income. Minimum wage earners in other jobs do not. They cannot offset any deductions. Let's move quickly and resolutely on this issue.

"Homelessness is an issue for which there is no simple answer. In 2011, I established the Hawaii Interagency Council on Homelessness. The council is comprised of state department directors, federal agency representatives, and community, religious and business leaders. Mayors and county councils across the state are united in coming to grips with this issue. On Oahu, where the need is greatest, we could not have a better partner than Mayor Kirk Caldwell and the City Council lead by Council Chair Ernie Martin.

"In December, the interagency council submitted an action plan to you for your consideration. We must now deliver on this plan. For example, by giving support to the Housing First program, which houses and cares for the chronically homeless and those who suffer from a disability. Housing First is an evidence-based best practice, currently being used in Denver, Seattle and Utah. It has established that providing housing and support services under this mode saves taxpayers money and reduces homelessness.

"When I took office, many inmates served their sentences out of state. This sent Hawaii dollars out of the state and took many inmates away from appropriate facilities and alternative programs here in the islands. In addition, it often decreased the chances of successful rehabilitation, as prisoners were away from their families. We had no plan or commitment to do or act otherwise.

"Nearly 2,000 prisoners, in that context, were in Mainland facilities. At the end of the last fiscal year, we reduced that number by 600. Starting this July, more prisoners will be coming home when we re-open Kulani Correctional Facility on the Big Island.

"It's clear that we need additional facilities. Most of our current decades-old structures are deteriorated, over-capacity, and poorly designed.

"The Department of Public Safety has issued a request for information to procure a comprehensive plan to return prisoners, build facilities with sufficient capacity to keep those prisoners who present a danger to our community properly incarcerated, and to provide programmatic options while keeping our communities safe.

"And here may I add a personal note of gratitude from me and my wife, Dr. Nancie Caraway, to this Legislature. You have passed and we are now implementing a Domestic Workers' Bill of Rights, only the second such law in our nation. Headlines from around the world, as recently as yesterday, confirm a sordid picture of exploitation and degradation. You have also strengthened laws against domestic violence and human trafficking.

"Thanks to all of you, the intense work of the Attorney General's Office, the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, the Civil Rights Commission, the State Commission on the Status of Women, and the Office of Community Services, these crimes against our common humanity will not be tolerated in Hawaii.

"Now, there are times for planning, and there are times for acting. Now is the time to preserve open spaces at Turtle Bay.

"The dispute over the expansion of the resort into adjacent coastal and open lands has been going on for decades. Whether the courts, in permitting proceedings, in the North Shore community, in the community at large, this issue has been divisive and disruptive.

"I am requesting authority to use General Obligation bonds to obtain a conservation easement of more than 600 acres at the site. This guarantees these lands will remain open and free of development, and open to Public Access in perpetuity.

"Similarly, I am requesting General Obligation funds to enable the state to work with a renewable energy company, NextEra, to purchase agricultural and conservation lands currently owned by the Dole Company, nearly 20,000 acres of open space between Wahiawa and Haleiwa on the North Shore of Oahu.

"We need to make this investment to secure these lands so they do not become a temptation for development and urbanization. Moreover, this purchase will ensure a combination of energy production and contemporary farming.

"We move to Mauna Kea. Mauna Kea is Hawaii's gift to the world, the best place on the planet to observe the universe. It is without peer. It provides an unparalleled opportunity to advance our knowledge of our universe. Today, we celebrate 50 years of astronomy in Hawaii with 13 observatories from 11 countries and over a billion dollars in infrastructure atop Mauna Kea. One project will solidify Hawaii's position as the world's premier astronomy center, the $1.3 billion Thirty Meter Telescope.

"The TMT will be the catalyst for the development of high tech and high paying jobs. TMT is presently partnering with the Institute for Astronomy's Akamai Workforce Initiative to train local college students for technical fields. The initiative promotes STEM initiatives relating to local robotics and science programs. It also is investing $1 million every year in education so our children can reach for the stars. Our state must support and ensure that this tremendous opportunity comes to fruition.

"This leads us to the reality of climate change, which is becoming more and more evident across Hawaii and the planet. Our islands are especially vulnerable to the impacts, and we cannot wait to act.

"In the fall, I was appointed by President Obama to serve on the State, Local and Tribal Leaders Task Force on Climate Preparedness and Resilience. At our first meeting in Washington in December, governors, mayors and tribal leaders from around our country discussed the effects of climate change on their jurisdictions. One thing was apparent despite our vast geographic, topographic and community differences. Today's climate changes are warning bells signaling the necessity for preparedness now.

"At that forum, we emphasized that the Hawaiian Islands are a learning laboratory for scalable, innovative mitigation, for adaptation policies and techniques, for providing a model on local and regional collaboration.

"The State Office of Planning has been instrumental in coordinating efforts to update our Ocean Resources Management Plan. We have a state sustainability coordinator in the Department of Land and Natural Resources with authority to work across department lines for planning purposes.

"The Senate-House Majority Package includes the Hawaii Climate Adaptation Initiative, which supports research, planning and coordination. The Interagency Climate Council plays a key role in this initiative. I will be convening Resilient Hawaii Forums this year to engage stakeholders, Native Hawaiian organizations, natural resource managers, the military, tourism officials, agricultural representatives, researchers, and government at all levels. These forums will create a climate change roadmap for Hawaii.

"Protection of our environment from invasive species must be a top priority. We are experiencing a biological crisis and deadly threat to our isolated ecosystem, our natural resources and our economy. A multitude of invaders, such as the little fire ant that can blind animals and destroy nesting birds and hatchlings, the coconut rhinoceros beetle, and parasites attacking coffee crops, graphically illustrate the seriousness of this issue.

"The work of the Interagency Hawaii Invasive Species Council is tasked with combating this menace. I endorse your legislative initiatives proposing up to $5 million to meet operating costs of invasive species programs.

"This session, my administrative package will include a sustainability investment strategy to advance targets in clean energy development, local food production, natural resource management, waste reduction, smart growth, green jobs creation, and housing for the working middle class.

"This includes funding to support watershed protection, farming infrastructure, invasive species management, e-waste recycling, transportation planning, and creating the jobs associated with that and meeting needs.

"Early in my remarks, I commented on the necessity of providing preschool education as a foundation for the future of our children. That observation needs to be bookended by consideration of ways to promote security and dignity on the other end of the spectrum of life. Those of us, like myself, experiencing our senior years.

"Not only do we need to protect seniors from fraud and abuse, and assist with care issues, but I believe we can provide tax relief measures that will have practical and immediate benefits for seniors.

"I will be asking the Legislature to look at the way we tax seniors in order to provide more equity and fairness for those on fixed and middle incomes to see that more money remains in their pocketbooks. We need to bring parity to the way we look at and tax retirement income.

"I accept and understand the message on pension income and taxation. If you have an employer-sponsored pension, it is exempt from income tax, and that will not change. But everyone may not be aware that other pensions, not employer-based, are being taxed right now. Thousands of Hawaii seniors are paying income tax even on low and middle-income retirement benefits.

"I propose to exempt any presently taxed income from all sources for taxpayers age 65 and older with an adjusted gross income of $25,000, an adjusted gross income of $35,000 for heads of households, or an adjusted gross income of $45,000 for joint filing.

"This assures that these seniors will not have their present retirement income taxed. This will affect as many as 25,000 or more seniors throughout Hawaii.

"I also propose to double the current refundable food/excise tax credit for taxpayers 65 years or older whose AGI is less than $50,000. This is a direct payment to the senior taxpayer. This will affect as many as 110,000 Hawaii seniors or more.

"I am also requesting we increase the Kupuna Care budget by $4.2 million and make it permanent. This program enables seniors to remain and receive care in their homes. This is an investment that will pay big dividends as our senior population ages, grows in numbers, and lives longer.

"These proposals, my friends, address the practical everyday reality of expenses for seniors, they're across-the-board fairness in application, and can take effect immediately, and fit comfortably into our long-term financial stabilization plan.

"I began my remarks today in sad recognition of the sacrifice of his life by Sgt. Scobie. I have spoken of other sacrifices we have made or need to make in acknowledgment of our responsibilities to and for each other and to advance the common good of us all.

"Referencing that sobering context, please allow me to conclude my thoughts today with some reflection on the passing of our beloved Loretta Fuddy. It is difficult even now, more than a month since her death, to accept its finality because of the vitality of her presence. I said at the time our hearts were broken, but I also know that she would remind us of the Biblical admonition that life is for the living, the duty to carry on, to offer the hope and encouragement to others that marked her life, every day of it.

"I would like to thank the University of Hawaii Foundation for setting up the Loretta Deliana Fuddy Memorial Scholarship in Health, Human and Public Service. This will provide a lasting legacy to the University of Hawaii students on any UH campus, who are committed to pursuing a career in health, public and human services.

"Loretta was a lifelong supporter of public health measures. She was a lifelong advocate for families and children. She set the standard for helping those in dire need of services that promoted and nurtured their health and well-being.

"So, I am requesting additional funding for the Department of Health's Early Intervention Services. The program provides critical services to children with developmental delays from birth to three years of age. The program provides positive intervention in the crucial areas of cognitive and physical function, social and emotional well-being and adaptive skills. Loretta Fuddy was their champion.

"There are, of course, several budget requests and bills that will be proposed by the Department of Health, all of which are important. But nonetheless, I am asking for your specific attention to make funding for Early Intervention Services a priority. This will serve as a fitting tribute and appropriate legacy to honor Loretta. There will be lasting benefits for the affected families and children, the children she loved and cared for passionately to her last day.

"Now, none of us knows with any certainty how much time will be given to us. What we do know is that the time given us as public servants is a public trust. We justify that trust only by acting in the public interest.

"The financial stability we have achieved, coupled with our long-term plan to sustain it, presents us with the opportunity to act both with confidence and with dispatch. And this Legislature, public trust and the public interest can meet and be joined now. Let's do it together. Mahalo. Thank you very much. Mahalo nui."

President Kim then rose and stated:

"Thank you, Governor Abercrombie. On behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives, we would like to thank you for sharing with us your vision and ideas this morning.

"We would like to emphasize our willingness to work with you. To find solutions to the many challenges that you just mentioned. And we will seek to accomplish our common goals and work collaboratively with you to work out our differences.

"With that, I now declare this Joint Session adjourned."

At 10:43 o'clock a.m., President Kim declared the Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Twenty-Seventh Legislature adjourned.

ORDER OF THE DAY

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Cabanilla, seconded by Representative Fukumoto and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain House Bills for Third Reading by consent calendar. (Representatives Carroll and Takai were excused.)

THIRD READING

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1-14) recommending that H.B. No. 611, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 611, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of House Bill 611, House Draft 1 that makes it unlawful for commercial tanning facilities and operators to allow the use of tanning beds by anyone under the age of 18 with reasonable exclusions for licensed physicians and those who own tanning equipment exclusively for personal, noncommercial use.

"The World Health Organization has classified tanning beds as 'carcinogenic to humans' in the same category as asbestos, tobacco, and other harmful substances. Melanoma, the most deadly form of skin cancer, is the second most common cancer among men and women aged 15-29 years. Tanning before age 35 increases the risk of melanoma by 59 percent. Using a tanning bed increases basal and squamous cell carcinomas by 29 percent and 67 percent respectively. Rates increase even more when tanning beds are used before age 25. Tanning beds are also known to deliver UVA radiation 5-15 times higher than what is delivered by the summer midday sun.

"Because early deterrence is important for the reduction of increased health risks associated with early and potentially long-term use of tanning beds, this is a reasonable measure to protect and promote the public health, safety and welfare related to tanning with artificial ultraviolet light, especially where minors are concerned."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 611, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TANNING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Carroll and Takai being excused.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1072, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1072, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BOARD OF REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Carroll and Takai being excused.

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in 2004 the management and control of the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve was transferred from the Navy to the State of Hawaii, with the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve Commission as the state agency designated to oversee the use and restoration of the reserve. Since that time, the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve Commission has developed and employed innovative restoration projects that work in the extremely harsh conditions of Kaho'olawe. These projects have served as the foundation for the future restoration of the island.

"In 2013, a state audit of the Kaho'olawe Rehabilitation Trust Fund reported two key findings. The first finding was that the trust fund will be depleted by 2016, and the second finding was that the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve Commission lacks a comprehensive and quantifiable restoration plan with performance measures to gauge whether objectives are being met.

"Taking those two key findings into account, the state needs to take action to reinvigorate the Kaho'olawe Trust Fund in order for the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve Commission to continue and to improve their work on the island of Kaho'olawe.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and, in the spirit of Aloha 'Āina, to vote yes on HB 2101. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think on Second Reading I'll be voting with reservations. I need more time to look at this particular proposal. "I just have some concerns about what this might mean for some of my constituents and some of your constituents and for the general citizens of this community. "The reason I have concerns is, I think there's a lot of mental illness out there. I do think that we have shown that, especially in our homeless population, that many of them have some dual disorders. Maybe they're drug addicts and they're mentally ill. So here, we're saying for them not to get the punishment they have to prove through a licensed physician that they have a medical condition. I think that is a difficult standard, so I have strong reservations on this bill. Thank you."

ORDER OF THE DAY

On motion by Representative Cabanilla, seconded by Representative Fukumoto and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain House Bills for Third Reading by consent calendar. (Representatives McDermott, Takai, Tokioka and Woodson were excused.)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 9-14) recommending that H.B. No. 525, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 525, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll be voting with reservations. My reservations stem from the fact that when I look at the public record regarding the support or non-support of this measure, I see a lack of any real, true participation by those practitioners in the family court, the family court themselves.

"It is my understanding, Mr. Speaker, that the family court judges today have the discretion on how to appropriate or to view a veteran's disability benefits in regard to a spousal support maintenance order.

"This bill, if it became the law, would prohibit the consideration of the veteran's disability benefits pursuant to the spouse's support and maintenance order. For that reason, I have some concerns. I hope that the next Chamber has a chance to review this and consider some of the practitioners and the practical consequences of this big policy change. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. Mr. Speaker, as a Vietnam veteran, I have real mixed feelings about this. You want to be pro-veteran, but you also want to be pro-spouse. If this bill goes through, it says, 'hey spouse, you have nothing to do whatsoever with the benefits of the veteran.'

"I love my wife, even those veterans who are going to get separated loved their wife at the time. And I think we are preempting, maybe going overboard for the veteran in this case, and not looking at the whole picture. So, for those reasons, I think reservations, and this thing needs to be massaged a bit more. Thank you."

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1498 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in opposition to this bill as written. I did speak with the Chair earlier, of Judiciary. I would like to ask if we could defer this bill for two session days to look at possible amendments, because, Mr. Speaker, on the neighbor islands the situation is a little bit different.

"On Oahu, it is a concrete jungle. It is very, very difficult for the people who live in downtown and work in downtown, whether it's Waikiki, Downtown, Kaimuki, and some of these areas where there is nothing but sidewalks and roadways.

"But in other areas, especially on the neighbor islands, when you see the people that are there that may commit this crime, they're going to be fined $1,000 for that. Most of them won't even use the sidewalk, they'll go off to the side. And it's a bigger problem. It's more about the homeless situation, it's more about that kind of problem on the neighbor islands.

"So, I'm going to ask the Chair if he would consider amending out the neighbor islands and if other Members from the neighbor islands agree with me, then that's fine. If not, we can deal with it in two business days if the Chair is agreeable to that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I'm also going to be voting no on this bill, and I would like to have the words of my colleague from Kauai entered as if they were my own. I come from a rural area, we don't have sidewalks. We have things that may look like sidewalks, but they're not. It's a very old town and we really don't want to change the character of the town. So, I am voting no on this and I am in agreement with the Representative from Kauai."

Representative Fale rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Just as has been stated by my colleagues from the neighbor islands, Mr. Speaker, we also have to remember that not all of Oahu is an urban, concrete jungle. That we do have sections of the island, City and County of Honolulu, that are still rural, which includes my district, and I don't want my district to be forgotten in this. This bill treats us as if we were part of the concrete jungle, Mr. Speaker. For those reasons, I must be opposed to the bill.

"Maybe we can go back into it and work out, maybe something that better accommodates those communities of a rural nature, Mr. Speaker. But for those, as the bill is written right now, I am opposed to the bill, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. This is a law of statewide applicability, but so often we hear about home rule. I'm a supporter of home rule, and what home rule means is the county councils and the counties being able to act in this area. This is part of their core responsibilities, public health and safety and welfare.

"As has been noted before, on Maui the situation is different. If this was a problem in Maui, our county council and our Mayor would be able to address it. Not to mention, we have a new initiative whereby we have these large Matson container-sized full bathrooms with sinks, stalls and everything, that are going to be deployed in areas where this is problematic, to make sure that facilities are there for people to use.

"So again, home rule means giving to the counties the power and the responsibility to address these issues. It's in their hands that this should lie, hence my reservations. Thank you very much."

Representative Carroll rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Awana rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. Unintended consequences will come from this measure. I can understand why the good Representative from the 29th District would want this passed, but at the same time I am not sure if this bill has been thought through.

"First, it is my strong belief that people do not want to relieve themselves on public sidewalks or in parks. Knowing that there is a problem with homelessness in the urban core leads me to believe that there are inadequate accommodations and perhaps that is the real problem that our City and County of Honolulu needs to address.

"Secondly, should a homeless individual be convicted of this offense, a $1,000.00 fine may be imposed. I can guarantee that they do not have $1,000.00 to pay for the fine. Instead, they will end up populating our prison system which is already strained since we have to send inmates to the mainland.

"In essence, this will be an unfunded mandate to our Judiciary and Administrative branches. The only hard copy testimony provided was from Mr. Arvid Youngquist who concurs with me that accommodations are needed. In addition, action is already being taken by the City and County to where I believe this measure would be best addressed. For these reasons, I stand in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. I rise in opposition. Just for me, I can't imagine approving this type of policy of statewide application to punish those who cannot access, or do not have access to washroom facilities, or toilet facilities, and maybe commit the unpardonable sin of defecating or urinating on a public street, paved street, road or sidewalk.

"I think that, truth be told, I think this is geared towards those who might be mentally challenged, or even housing challenged, and their ability to access what we take for granted. Even in this building, there are several lavatories on each of the floors of the state Capitol. There are lavatories and sinks and facilities available within walking distance, very easily accessible.

"I think for most of the home owners, either renters or owners, I think we take these basic facilities and conveniences for granted. But there is a population of our citizens out there in our community that do not have access to this.

"So, I think that it's just so ironic that on the same day we try to approve policies that are going to protect our homeless and give them some dignity under the constitution and our Bill of Rights, that they can be protected, as a class, along those others. I'm just somewhat astounded.

"I don't know if we really appreciate what we are attempting to do here today, and hopefully the other Body will take pause to review what policies might come forward from this Chamber.

"But I can't get over the fact that when I review the revised ordinances of the City and County of Honolulu, that a person walking their pet animal, a dog would happen to urinate or defecate on a sidewalk, would face less severe penalties than a human being for doing the same. In fact, a pet, a dog, if it did defecate on a sidewalk in a public place, the owner would face no penalties if the owner simply went back and cleaned it up. That's not allowed for in this measure. It's a strict liability standard that applies. I think the penalty for a dog pooping or urinating in public on a sidewalk is like $200, $250. In this measure here, Mr. Speaker, it's up to $1,000.

"The prior law that we had in place several years ago, going back to 2004, I think expired in 2012. It talked about the idea of a civil nuisance. Or maybe disorderly conduct or the intentional knowing defecation, urination in public, which would cause alarm. I think that was the evil that we were trying to address. And we limited it in scope to the Chinatown area. But we didn't apply that policy statewide to the rural communities, the neighbor island communities. But we kept it in Honolulu proper, where there is an acute crisis. And I don't doubt that. But to apply this type of policy and this kind of penalty, it seems somewhat draconian.

"What's interesting here, Mr. Speaker, is that maybe because of a lack of involvement or interest, the usual folks who would testify and weigh in, the Office of the Public Defender, there is nothing on the public record. Likewise, those who are interested in protecting our civil liberties, especially for the weakest in our society, the American Civil Liberties Union, the ACLU, is also conspicuously absent in rendering any opinion upon this proposal.

"So, it's for that reason I need to stand in opposition and voice these concerns. And I hope, Mr. Speaker, that this is the first and last we hear of this bill. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Unfortunately, I have to say this is a topic that I never dreamed that I would have my name become associated with over a period of years. But unfortunately, in the district I represent, it's a real issue. Everyday, everyday the owners, the business owners in my district have to clean up the human feces and urine from in front of their stores.

"It costs money to clean it up, it costs time and labor for their employees to do it. This bill is actually quite a lot less stringent than the one that's currently in effect, that will be in effect until the end of this year, which prohibits urinating or defecating in public, not just on paved surfaces.

"I grew up in the country, for those of you who represent rural districts. If this bill had been in effect where I lived when I was growing up, I wouldn't have been able to break it within a mile of my house because there wasn't anything paved within a mile of my house.

"So, for the rural districts, I just don't think it's going to be a problem. It's just not an issue. Well, that cuts both ways. We could take it out. And I'm not necessarily opposed to taking it out for neighbor islands, if that's the will of the caucuses from the neighbor islands.

"But I have had, over the years, with the one that was Chinatown, Downtown specific. A number of people have come to me and said, 'how come that doesn't apply to my district too? Because we have the same problem.'

"With regard to the homeless or those who are mentally ill, I think this gives the police a legitimate opportunity to assess that person, to see whether they are mentally ill and to take them over to Queens and be sure that they are okay and have an intervention in their life. But I wish, I would love dearly to spend my time and political capital on something other than urination and defecation.

"Unfortunately, that's where we're at in Chinatown right now, and we're sick of it. We're just tired of having to deal with, and it's just not the homeless. It's guys coming out of bars at four in the morning and shishiing in the middle of the street. It's guys waiting at bus stops. We just feel under siege, and I would guess that if you came with me to my district on any given day, within an hour you would see someone doing this. I think that as a civilized society, there needs to be some kind of minimal consideration for other human beings. Thank you very much."

Representative Saiki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. As we all know, one of the core functions of government is to maintain health and sanitation standards, and I would assume that that applies on a statewide level. It should not matter whether you live in a rural area or on a neighbor island. All members of the public would expect a certain level of sanitation within their communities.

"There is precedent for the legislature to act on these kinds of issues. All we have to do is look to last year, when we passed legislation that would subject persons who feed feral birds to nuisance abatement lawsuits. And the whole rationale behind that legislation was to prevent situations where feral birds accumulate and create filth and stench in neighborhoods.

"So, there is precedent for us to act on this level. And I would like to also ask that the Judiciary Chair's comments be incorporated as my own. Thank you very much," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise with reservations, please. Mr. Speaker, this is not about defecation and urination. This is about the failure of this Body and this society to solve the homeless problem. Failure to solve the housing problem. Failure to create jobs.

"We are approaching it in a piecemeal way. And as I often jokingly but seriously say in public, if Frank Fasi was alive, he would have probably resolved the homeless problem, but we haven't. So we are kind of playing around on the edges.

"Why I have reservations is, let's hear the neighbor islands and let them have their say and let this thing be carved out for those in urban areas. That's the only thing that makes sense.

"For those of you who've passed by the Chambers and recently in some of our bathrooms on the third floor. The gentlemen from Downtown, I think there's some of that coming here. And some of the sense that we have in this very building, means that we've got to do something about it. Because the smell of what we're talking about here in print, is actually coming real and close to us and close to home.

"So, we've got to focus on housing. We've got to focus on the homeless. We've got to focus on getting jobs, and getting the whole society, of which this Body is the policy body, to create and change those things. So, Mr. Speaker, with those reservations, I hope we, as the Representative of Kauai said, spend a few days contemplating this, carving out and making things a bit better. Thank you."

At this time, Representative Saiki called for the previous question.

At 1:13 o'clock p.m., Representative Tokioka requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:15 o'clock p.m.

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Oshiro and McKelvey be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tokioka rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I did ask for the deferral of two session days, and if that's not going to happen, I understand that. I ask for a friendly amendment that may not happen as well. But, I will be voting no and if this thing does go to conference and it does come back to the Floor, I am hopeful that this Body will continue to look at the concerns of the neighbor island delegations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support. The reason why I'm supporting it is because the bill says, 'intentionally or knowingly urinates.' Those are the two key words in the bill, Mr. Speaker. And if somebody does that, then I'm in support, and I think they deserve to be fined."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1498, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC ORDER," passed Third Reading by a vote of 38 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Awana, Carroll, Fale, Hanohano, Har, Jordan, Oshiro, Takayama and Tokioka voting no, and with Representatives McDermott, Takai, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against the bill, Mr. Speaker. House Bill 1500 has been strongly opposed by all but one testifier according to the information I was able to find on our state website. And then I look at the vote sheet for this measure. Only two Members voted in favor of it without any reservations. Four were with reservations. And then a few were excused.

"Mr. Speaker, the Contractors License Board strongly opposes this bill. And, in fact, every testifier with the exception of one uses the word 'strongly' in its opposition. The Contractors License Board believes that the bill is unnecessary because of the recent Supreme Court decision, and you can find that stated in their testimony. The board has already determined that incidental and supplemental work must represent less than 50 percent of the project, as measured in relation to the project's total cost or extent.

"The difficulty with this bill is it puts in a 1 percent figure. Which, according to the Contractors License Board, and really anyone in the industry, as the other testifiers say, it's just unrealistic, difficult to interpret. It's not flexible as the building industry must be when it's pursuing these projects. It's too rigid because work that is incidental and supplemental varies from project to project and is different in every situation. It will cause confusion in the industry, which we certainly don't need when we're trying to recover from our economic doldrums. It may lead to inequitable results, and it will be difficult to implement and enforce.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill now goes to the Consumer Protection & Commerce Committee, where I hope it will be put to rest. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much. With reservations. But, I do know that there is a House Draft 1, which made some substantial changes, especially to the 103D exemption. But I still have reservations. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this bill says you can't block a sidewalk, you've got to leave one meter for passage. The problem is, some sidewalks aren't even one meter wide to begin with. And secondly, this targets homeless people or those people who may be on the sidewalk. Are we so concerned?

"Yesterday we talked about defecation, urination and all this other targeting of the homeless people. Now we've got this one, we're not going to have a block on the sidewalk. Which will apply again to neighbor islands and everybody who has a sidewalk, and it says we've got to leave one space open.

"The police have so many jobs that they are so far behind in enforcing the laws, and now we're going to make a sidewalk police if we put this bill in effect. I think it's unnecessary, it's a little bit too micromanaging of our society, and I think there's other ways to go about it. This is not a good bill. Thank you."

But at the end of the day, in this particular hearing, there was no testimony in support and all the testimony was in opposition to this measure. So, on that basis, Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting with reservations. Thank you."

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following concurrent resolution (H.C.R. No. 29) was announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.C.R. No. 29, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION AWARDING THE HAWAII MEDAL OF HONOR TO UNITED STATES MILITARY SERVICE MEMBERS WITH HAWAII CONNECTIONS KILLED IN ACTION WHILE SERVING IN DANGEROUS, VOLATILE, AND UNSTABLE AREAS OF THE WORLD, INCLUDING IRAQ AND AFGHANISTAN," was offered by Representative Souki.

Representative Saiki moved that H.C.R. No. 29 be adopted, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I speak in support of this measure. Over 12 years ago, the attacks in New York, Washington D.C. and Pennsylvania brought our nation to our knees. Each of us can recall vividly the events of September 11th, 2001. What happened on that fateful day, Mr. Speaker, would shake the foundation of our country and would instantly change the future for our children.

"As a newly commissioned officer in the Hawaii Army National Guard, I knew that my life and our fellow national guardsmen's lives would be changed forever on that day. The question was no longer if we would go, but when we would go. So, when the 29th Brigade Combat Team and the 100th Battalion were deployed in 2004 for the first time since the Vietnam War, we needed to do something, and we did.

"A grateful state best honors and remembers the sacrifices of those who have served our nation by living our lives in deepest appreciation of our freedoms. And that is what they defended and that is what they fought for. Nine years ago in 2005, this Legislature passed Act 21, establishing the Hawaii Medal of Honor, which was our way of expressing our deepest appreciation to these service members. We offer this honor as a small token that can never itself repay the honor that has been given to us. An honor born of courage, driven by duty, and paid for in loss, Mr. Speaker.

"Since the wars on terrorism began, and between March 29, 2003 to January 10, 2014, we have, in Hawaii, lost 331 service members. Four will be honored at this year's ceremony. I wanted to spend some time, Mr. Speaker, talking about the men who we will be recognizing.

"United States Army Sergeant Tofiga Tautolo was 23. He was born in Pago Pago, American Samoa, and was raised in Waianae. It was said when Sgt. Tautolo joined the Army in 2010, he was noticed immediately for his unique ability to balance his leadership role while maintaining a healthy, low-key sense of humor to keep his soldiers relaxed but ready for battle. It was also known that his biggest passion was being a husband and a father to his son.

"United States Air Force Captain Reid Nishizuka was 30 years old and from Kailua. He joined the military in 2005. He completed multiple deployments to Iraq and Afghanistan before his most recent tour. Known as a man of character, honor and aloha, his colleagues said that he always challenged those around him to do their best, yet could put it all into perspective when you were feeling overwhelmed. He was a loving, caring person that brought joy to those all around him.

"United States Army Sergeant Drew Scobie was 25, also from Kailua. He is the first Hawaii National Guardsman lost in Afghanistan. Sergeant Scobie is remembered as a loving father, husband, son, grandson, brother, friend and hero, who loved his family deeply and proudly, and heroically carried the aloha spirit wherever he went to defend our country.

"United States Sergeant Edward Balli was 42 and was from Kapolei. He was on his third deployment to Afghanistan and had gone on two tours to Iraq. Fellow soldiers describe him as an outstanding leader of soldiers, and a person with a kind heart and smile, that aimed to please those he worked for and worked with.

"By this concurrent resolution, Mr. Speaker and colleagues, this year's Hawaii Medal of Honor will be awarded to family representatives of these fine men at a ceremony held during a joint session of the Legislature on Tuesday, March 25, 2014, at 2 p.m. in these Chambers. Words are not enough to express the loss of these young men, who died serving our country. For this reason we honor the family, friends and colleagues of the fallen who have sacrificed. Who have themselves paid a price and who helped make this year's honorees the brave, strong individuals that we called on and counted on to serve our nation.

"Mr. Speaker, I urge the passage of House Concurrent Resolution 29. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.C.R. No. 29 was adopted, with Representatives Kobayashi, McKelvey and Say being excused.

"But all you volunteers who have the shirt, wear it on Friday to remember that we have an international role to play in Hawaii. We have a history of APEC to be proud of. And if you are from Yale or have studied Russian, or were in the Peace Corps, all this international focus needs to be present in this Body. So with that, Mr. Speaker, to the Chinese, Xin Nian Kuai Le. Kung Hei Fat Choi."

Representative Fale: "Mr. Speaker, I know many of us are going to leave the building today as a House divided. I am coming from a house divided, Mr. Speaker. But I hope as we come back on Monday, that my house will be back united and those who want to say 'go Broncos,' that will be okay. And those who want to say 'go Seahawks,' that's okay too, Mr. Speaker. But we get back to work on Monday, and unfortunately life is going to be boring again after that, until the first preseason game in the fall. Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak against this measure. In opposition, strong opposition. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, here comes Department of Transportation again asking for a very broad exemption. And this time, the exemption is for its harbors and its transportation divisions.

"Mr. Speaker, the language of the bill specifies, 'notwithstanding any law or provision to the contrary, the Department of Transportation is authorized to plan, design, construct,' and I'll say construct again, 'operate, and maintain structures and improvements to land,' and this time it's to be used for either airport purposes or highway purposes, 'without the approval of county agencies.'

"Mr. Speaker, there are neighbor islanders in this Body that have seen what Department of Transportation has done when they have done a project poorly and without the required review by the county and the community. So, what we're doing now is saying to the counties, 'you're out, you're not going to be part of this.'

"What maybe for Oahu, maybe Members here that represent various portions of Oahu, won't be as concerned. I think some will be. I am. But neighbor islanders definitely. They want their counties to be involved in this process, involved in the special management permit process. They want them to be able to have a say, and equally as important, they want the public to be involved and be able to have a say.

"Department of Transportation acts like Darth Vader against the environment. And it's many times the community groups that are out there speaking and saying, 'wait a minute, DOT. Don't put the highway right along here on the shoreline. You're going to erode away a beach,' that the people on Maui wanted to use and had used. And now the beach is gone. There are other things that they do without the input from the community that will be detrimental to our islands.

"I would like to have Members note the testimony and opposition to this bill from the Sierra Club. One of the main things they're saying is that it eliminates the balance, the series of checks and balances. Because, with the county approval there are public notification requirements. And this bill will eliminate public hearings and participation. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have permission to have this one page of testimony from the Sierra Club of Hawaii entered into the Journal, following my remarks. Thank you.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill should be stopped before it even moves ahead to Water & Land Committee. It's a bad idea. It's bad policy. And I would encourage those who believe in home rule to at least vote with reservations to signal their concern about a measure like this that says to the DOT, 'you're exempt. Not only can you plan, you can construct without going to the county or the public.' Thank you."

Representative Thielen submitted the following:

"SIERRA CLUB OF HAWAI'I
MALAMA I KA HONUA, Cherish the Earth.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON TRANSPORTATION

January 29, 2014, 10:00 A.M.

TESTIMONY IN OPPOSITION TO HB 1586

Aloha Chair Yamane and Members of the Committees:

The Sierra Club of Hawai'i, with over 12,000 members and supporters, strongly opposes HB 1586, which would allow the Department of Transportation to ignore the Coastal Zone Management act/special management area guidelines and requirements. It would also exempt DOT from most county approval.

This is a perennial bill. It is disappointing DOT consistently focuses on getting around environmental regulations, rather than attempting to improve its environmental stewardship. The wrong lessons are being learned from situations like the molasses spill at Honolulu Harbor, the failure to conduct an EIS when trying to expand the Maui Airport, and the failure to properly remove asbestos from the Honolulu International Airport. For example, the Department of Transportation attempted to issue a series of "finding of no significant impacts" with the Kahului Airport until the environmental community successfully sued. It's frankly ludicrous that any agency would contend that the construction or expansion of an airport would have no significant environmental impacts ... but DOT did, and now this bill proposes to avoid these types of bothersome regulations in the future.

Because of the fear that agencies would fail to objectively analyze all relevant factors, our legal system created a series of checks and balances (state and county approval) and public notification requirements. This measure proposes to eliminate this balance. It would eliminate public hearings and participation. It would remove regulations that ensure:

- the public is well informed of projects before they are authorized;
- that community members -- your constituents -- are able to participate in the planning process;
- that the public and the counties can suggest ways to improve projects to save money, protect natural resources, or satisfy community concerns; and
- save money in the long-term by preventing fool-hardy and short-sighted decisions.

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Kako'o 'ole. In opposition. Makemake au ka ha'i 'ōlelo 'o ka Luna Maka'āinana mai Kailua mai. I would like to have the words of my colleague from Kailua entered into the Journal as my own. Mahalo," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"I have strong reservations about this bill specifically and DOT's constant requests for exemptions from environmental laws. Every session we see DOT propose these kinds of bills and many times they are successful. As a result, we keep making bad laws even worse. DOT is the biggest special fund with the least oversight of any agency, and every year their special fund gets bigger. Combined with the ever increasing elimination of regulations and oversight, this Legislature is paving the way for corruption and the trampling of our environment by our own State DOT. If this bill becomes law, we will usurp the county's regulatory authority in special management areas not just to harbors, but to airports.

"Why should the State DOT be exempt from these county rules? The preamble of the bill claims that this bill is a result of a task force that wanted to promote the construction industry to create jobs. That is a silly justification. What is wrong with creating jobs the right way? This bill, if law, would actually decrease the number of jobs created and cause confusion and uncertainty – which is just not good for our local economy.

"Out of respect for the chair and the current discussion that may lead to a reasonable bill, I will vote yes with reservations."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Creagan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1660, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Oshiro rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am strongly opposed to House Bill No. 1660, House Draft 1. This bill would alter the conditions constituting the offense of 'obstructing' to include any person who obstructs any highway or public passage, or provides less than one meter of space for passage on any paved public sidewalk. 'Obstructing' is a petty misdemeanor if the person persists in the conduct after a warning by a peace officer. Otherwise, it is a violation. A person convicted of a petty misdemeanor or a violation may be fined an amount not to exceed $1,000. According to SCR 61-14, the Pacific Alliance to Stop Slavery and a few individuals testified in opposition to this measure and the Department of Transportation provided comments. Conspicuously absent from the public hearing record are the other 'usual suspects' of government agencies and non-government organizations involved in law enforcement, criminal prosecution and defense, and civil and personal liberties and individual rights. The Democratic Party of Hawaii appears to also have not offered any comment.

"Let's not kid ourselves. This bill criminalizes being poor or homeless in urban Honolulu. This is just one of many bills that have been reported out of the Judiciary Committee that attacks some of the most vulnerable and politically helpless citizens of our state. As if we've gone through a time warp back to the 1900s, the House Judiciary Committee and this Body, the so called, 'People's House', has made it a priority to write a whole new set of Jim Crow laws to pander to businesses, middle-class voters, and the privileged who shudder every time they walk down a lane or an alley in urban Honolulu.

"That the Chair of the Judiciary Committee disregarded the testimony of State Department of Transportation -- noting that many of the walkways, especially those in rural areas, are not one meter wide -- shows how this bill is intended to specifically address urban areas of the state. Moreover, this substantive defect in this bill, if enacted into law, would make some walkways in our state and any person's use therein a per se violation. Imagine that, by mere presence alone, on these less-than-one meter sidewalks, a person could be told to move by a law enforcement officer or face sanction up to $1,000. This is bad policy and does violence to the traditional notions of First Amendment rights and freedoms and Hawaii's unique 'Law of the Splintered Paddle' policy and Constitutional provision.

"This bill outrages me because any rule against performing an act in a public place is tantamount to a comprehensive ban on that action so far as the homeless are concerned. If sleeping or putting up a tent on a sidewalk is illegal, where does a homeless person sleep? They can't sleep on the beach. They can't sleep in the parks. Where do they go? Again, there was no testimony in from local law enforcement or the City and County of Honolulu, and none of the neighbor island councils or Mayors submitted testimony in support for this measure.

"Certainly, there is nothing particularly dignified about sleeping on a sidewalk. If given a choice, no reasonable person would want to do this. But if there is no choice at all, what is a person to do?

"Criminalizing basic human actions such as sleeping, as proposed by the Judiciary Chair and condoned by House Leadership, is cruel because it breaks the human spirit. Forcing people to think twice of petty restrictions imposed on the necessities of human life is mean-spirited, plain and simple. As a lawmaker, I am ashamed that we are allowing our laws to reduce thousands of our citizens to something approaching this level of degradation.

"Furthermore, it is clear that these measures are reactive to the very real problems experienced in urban Honolulu. Many of our citizens merely want to operate their businesses or use our sidewalks in peace. But the enactment of measures like those proposed by the Judiciary Chair shifts the Legislature's guilt for not addressing homeless onto a group of citizens who have no voice in our political process. And for that, he should be ashamed.

"So why doesn't House Leadership do something about it? Why not make ending homeless a priority this session? After all, don't we have an $800 million budget surplus?

"But the poor and homeless don't vote, nor are they wanted in any community, so let's just make it a crime to be poor or homeless and let the courts and jails deal with them.

"How sad for our citizens. So much for Aloha in our state.

"Accordingly, I oppose this bill and urge that my colleagues do likewise."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Kako'o 'ole. Makemake au ka ha'i 'ōlelo 'o ka Luna Maka'āinana mai Wahiawa mai i loko ka puke Hale Maka'āinana e like me ko'u mana'o. Mahalo.

"I would like to have the words in opposition of the Representative from Wahiawa entered in the Journal as my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, we have just passed Housing First, and I would suggest until Housing First goes into effect, it should be 'sidewalks first'. But this doesn't allow that. It targets the homeless to stay off the sidewalks, of which there are many other ways that they have been targeted.

"Secondly, I don't think that we need a sidewalk police to do this, which in effect, it would create. But I'm also fearful that when there are legitimate protests, whether it's something about or against a food issue or another issue. That when the obstruction of the sidewalk comes in, democracy is going to be diminished by these three feet that it says you've got to keep open.

"So, Mr. Speaker, this is I think a bit of an overkill. This is a sledgehammer against the homeless. No pun intended. That was something that was just a little bit, that this bill should avoid creating the impression of."

The Chair addressed Representative Ward, stating:

"Representative Ward, focus on the merits of the bill and not on any motive or intent of any of the Members here."

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"Exactly. That was never the intention. And apologies if there was any association with that. The point being here, Mr. Speaker, we don't need a sidewalk police, we don't need a diminished democracy, we don't need diminished movement on our sidewalks. And until Housing First, which is to get them shelter, is passed, this bill should not be passed. Let the sidewalks be open, and then when the Housing First opens, then yeah, if you want to move on something like this, okay. But right now it's not appropriate. That's why I am voting no. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. If you've ever had a friend or someone in a wheelchair, and you've gone into large groups of people, sometimes stadiums, or sometimes where there's just a gathering of people, you find how difficult it is for people in wheelchairs. How people will push them out of the way. How people will not get out of the way.

"I view this bill as a way to give the enforcement officers clear ability to actually take some action, if in fact there's a problem with them encroaching into a sidewalk and someone in a wheelchair just cannot get through.

"I don't see this being in rural neighborhoods. I think this, probably, is looking at issues more in the urban core where lots of homeless people do maybe congregate together. And I think we should give the law enforcement officers clear directions, so that when they're dealing in these situations, they can go in and say, 'you have to clear a path.' We're saying, clear a path of one meter so people in wheelchairs can get through.

"I don't think it's against the homelessness. I think, in society we have rules. And we try to balance between different groups. And I think this tries to achieve it. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Should this bill become a law, I hope it is similar to how I describe litter laws. That it's there on the books if you need it, but hopefully we never have to use it.

"This bill is a great solution to make room on the sidewalks, to clear sidewalks. But in some ways, it has nothing to do with homelessness. And the people who are against this bill, they need to provide a solution to where people can be.

"I know that a lot of people in this Chamber are against removing homeless from sidewalks. But tell us what you're for. Where would you like to put them? And those are my thoughts on it. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations with the measure. My reservations stem, not dealing with homeless, but dealing with the unintended consequences where there has been a number of developments that have been made out in the central and Leeward Oahu area, in which, the driveways were made substandard.

"So actually, what ended up happening is that unintended consequences would result where people who lawfully park in their own driveways might stick out into the sidewalks, and then be ticketed or removed because of no fault of their own, because of the lack of parking, enough parking on the city streets. So that's my reservations. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations. May I have the words of the Representative from Mililani entered into the record as if they were my own? Also just a real brief comment that, because of the effect that this bill would have on planned community associations, should it come back again for further discussion, hopefully the Committee on CPC can be involved as well. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Hanohano and Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this bill bumps the cap of the Superintendent of Education to $250,000, a quarter-million dollars, Mr. Speaker. According to national trends this is no big deal, but I think in Hawaii it's a big deal. And I think, as it was vetoed before, it needs to be looked at very, very closely.

"Mr. Speaker, when we look at what has been overpaid corporate, academic and other things, we don't get results by the amount of money we pay. It makes a huge difference. For example, Mr. Speaker, are you the Speaker because of what you get paid? No. Are we in this Body because of what we get paid? No. In fact, we all have a vow of poverty, so to speak. Because we love it and we know that we're called to do this stuff. And I don't think you get a superintendent who's a mercenary who will only go by the dollar amount, as to what should be best for our children.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I've got some mixed feelings and I'll start out with reservations, but I think we need to examine this. Look, mainland standards are one thing, but Hawaii culture, trends and other situations. For example, the University of Hawaii, it's very unlikely they're going to have a mainland president. Probably for the Board of Education that is also true. So using the mainland mean, I'm not sure is directly relevant. For those reasons, with reservations for the time being."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to cast a no vote. Just briefly in opposition, I think it's certainly a well-intended measure, but I object to the mandating, if you will, private schools to do this. Many parents remove their kids from public school and put them in private schools so they have more instruction time. We're taking away from instruction time. And again, it's a private school. So, the underlying measure for public schools is fine, but this isn't something like a fire code. This is going beyond that, and so I realize it's probably already being done, but let's keep our hands out of private schools. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on House Bill 1925 HD1. This bill requires the administration of the Youth Risk Behavior Survey to students in grades six to twelve in public and private schools, and it requires parents to opt their children out of the survey if they don't want them to participate.

"The Youth Risk Behavior Survey is an excellent tool for better understanding the needs of our keiki and the rate at which they are participating in potentially dangerous behaviors. Currently, this survey is administered in some of our schools, but it is an opt-in process for parents rather than an opt-out process. While I personally would not have a concern with my child participating, I know that there are some parents that would not want their children to take the survey.

"I understand that many students who don't participate are not doing so simply because their parent missed the opportunity to opt-in and that their parent may not actually have any concerns with the survey. While I understand that the department would like this change to see more students participate in order to develop better metrics on risky behaviors, my reservations are that the change from an opt-in to an opt-out will be seen as a further reduction of parental rights at a time when many parents in my community are already concerned.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations and a couple of comments. This is a good bill in the sense that it gives the county their fair share. Or let's say, the redistribution after the hardship that we had capped the monies for. So now we open it up to more largess.

"However, the state is going to incur the loss of this. So why am I voting with reservations? Because when the state loses money, it usually looks for other money. And other money means other taxes or other fees. At the same time, we have the mayors who are saying, 'look, give us a GET tax of 1% authority or authorization.' That is not a good sign.

"Also, there are rumors by one mayor that there should be a permanent half-percent tax for the train, which is supposed to expire in 2022. So, Mr. Speaker, this is playing around with the mix of the cutting of the pie. And sometimes when somebody pulls the sheets on their side of the bed and your toes go bare, which in this case is the state, some other reaction may be expected. With that, I would like to see how this plays out. For those reasons, I have reservations. Thank you."

Thank you."

Representative Say's written remarks are as follows:

"Aloha Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.B. 2650 H.D.1, relating to legislative appropriations. Throughout my career, the legislative agencies have contributed tremendously to the operations of the State House of Representatives and have accomplished a lot without any fanfare or acknowledgement by the Members of the House and Senate.

"Today I would personally want to thank these legislative agencies and their staff. From the State House of Representatives, the Chief Clerk's Office of Chief Clerk Brian Takeshita and Assistant Clerk Rupert Juarez, Gail and Josette's 'Tech-Support Group', the Shigemura Accounting office, Tammy's Printshop staff, and Emma's Journal group, and all the permanent and session employees who make the House run so smoothly.

"Then the Sergeant-at-Arms office consisting of Sergeant-at-Arms Kevin Kuroda, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms Lon Paresa, the 'Eveready Bunny' Paulette Abe and the rest of the gang. To the permanent and session employees, I say thanks to helping my three novice young ladies of Room 433.

"On to House Majority Staff Office with Director Joanie and Deputy Director Rebecca and the rest of the gang both permanent and session employees. I could not forget this individual which I consider a 'Dinosaur' in stature and knowledge who is none other than Mr. James Funaki, and an excellent attorney who reads and checks all the bills and resolutions of legality, constitutionality and technical provision, Mr. Richard Dvonch.

"And finally the Minority Research Office who keeps up with the numerous requests by the Republican Caucus.

"A TOAST TO ALL OF YOU well deserving of the salary you receive. They all are deserving of their salaries because of the compensatory, overtime and donation of accumulated sick leave that they share in the Sick Leave Pool, in helping and supporting one another.

"And now a few words from the three young novices who make-up my office staff.

"Thank you to Sergeant-at-Arms staff, Paulette Abe, Kevin Kuroda, Lon Paresa amongst others for all the support you give to our office and what you do here for the State Capitol. Your team goes above and beyond keeping us safe and gracious when we need your help. The Capitol would not run as smoothly as it does without you and your team.

It's like telling a runner, 'you haven't run fast enough,' so you beat him on the thighs so he runs farther and faster. It doesn't work, Mr. Speaker. "Aloha Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support to HB 2539, Relating to Saint Marianne Cope Day.

"On November 8, 1883, the SS Mariposa entered the harbor of Honolulu and the bells of Our Lady of Peace Cathedral rang loud and strong as crowds gathered on the wharf to witness the arrival of the Saint Francis Sisters from Syracuse, New York. Those seven heroic women came because they listened to the heart of Jesus Christ and answered the cry of our Native Hawaiians who were dying of Hansen's disease.

"Mother Marianne's hard work and commitment in the community was treasured by the King and Queen of Hawaii, as was evident in the high honor she received. She was presented the Medal of Royal Order of Kapiolani by King Kalakaua. Her desire to serve the poor and outcast among us continues to motivate each and every one of us to make a difference in Hawaii's landscape of social justice of Love, Respect, Mercy, Forgiveness and Compassion. Mother Marianne's passion in assisting the patients of Hawaiian Ancestry (Hansen's Disease) should motivate each and every one of us to make a difference in this community.

"In 1884, at the request of the government, she established Malulani Hospital, the first general hospital on the island of Maui. As a woman of strength and deep character, Mother Marianne convinced government officials that there was a vital need to save the homeless female children of patients with Hansen's Disease and opened the Kapiolani Home.

"I am pleased that the State Legislature has honored this wonderful woman who taught this community a great deal about love, commitment and care of the sick and dying. Proudly we pray that each January 23rd, the community will pause and consider this Saint for all that reminds us that the life and dignity of every human person is indeed precious and sacred!

Representative Thielen: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was so excited I started to pop up before it came to announcements. Mr. Speaker, I'm delighted to tell you and colleagues that Congress has passed the Farm Act, and the President will be signing it. Of particular relevance to Hawaii and to us, is Section 7606. What it says is, 'notwithstanding the Controlled Substances Act, or any other Federal law, an institution of higher education or a State department of agriculture may grow or cultivate industrial hemp.'

"So the crop has been freed, we can now grow it for research purposes in our state without any requirement to get a DEA permit or any other restrictions. It's a wonderful day, and my staff checked back with the Senate Committee on Agriculture in Washington, D.C. They confirmed, 'Yes, Section 7606 of the Farm Act legalizes industrial hemp research for higher education institutions and ag departments, if your state has already legalized industrial hemp research.' And, of importance to Hawaii, the same provision applies, that it is still legal to grow industrial hemp for research purposes in the state after we pass a bill, providing that that will be done.

"Our Body, Mr. Speaker, passed House Bill 154 unanimously. Went through two Senate committees. It is now waiting for final action in the final Senate committee. It's tremendously exciting, because there's no DEA requirement whatsoever, to have this measure move forward. So my colleague in Wahiawa soon will see industrial hemp research taking place on the Dole agricultural land, and Dole has given us the use of the land at no cost. So no state money involved, no Finance implications, no Ways and Means implications. The crop has finally been set free. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, and if I might be able to edify. Mr. Speaker, this bill, like House Bill 2529, actually includes a task force that will begin our pathway to looking for a federal waiver from the application of parts of the Affordable Care Act, to, in fact, keep intact our Prepaid Health Care Act. So, this particular piece is very important because it's going to allow us, again, to maintain what I believe is an innovative healthcare system that has been a leader in the nation. And, in fact, helps to relieve some of the grief and some of the consequences of the Affordable Care Act that are, in fact, harming our own healthcare system.

"So, while I respect the reservations, and clearly we are in sort of unchartered territory because of the great mandate that is in fact represented in the Affordable Care Act. That we, I believe, are charting a course to finding a way to make sure that our Prepaid Health Care remains in place. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 2525, HD1. Through the establishment of a state innovation waiver, this bill would give the state the capability to create a more effective alternative concerning affordable health coverage being provided to individuals.

"Finding and keeping affordable health insurance that is not full of stipulations is a fairly standard objective of citizens everywhere. The waivers this bill would assist in developing will help protect small groups and individually insured people by requiring a community-rating be offered by insurers versus the rates being decided on a case-to-case basis with prerequisites and stipulations such as pre-existing conditions. The bill would also assist in lowering premiums for individuals and small-group markets by not allowing health insurance companies to overcharge a client due to small size, helping individuals and small businesses to more affordably retain their health coverage.

"All people deserve to be worry free when it comes to obtaining and maintaining health care for themselves, their families and/or their employees. I believe this bill will open doors for just this opportunity.

Representative Oshiro rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the comments from the Chair of Health. I just have some concerns of whether or not we will be abridging the responsibility of the Executive Branch to propagate the application for the waiver to the appropriate federal agency.

"The way the bill is currently constructed, it may be construed as unnecessary burdensome and illegal, unconstitutional intrusion of the Legislative Branch on an executive function. That's my concern. I know the intention behind this bill is well placed, it's just that, maybe as a current technical draft, it might lead to some questions and concerns. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support and with rebuttal. I would urge Members to take a look at the Federal Affordable Care Act. And, in fact, the Legislature has to take action on parts of the innovation waiver process from the Affordable Care Act. So again, this engaging all of the branches of government that are supposed to, under the Affordable Care Act, move towards a state innovation waiver. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and just brief comments. First and foremost, I want to thank the introducer of this bill, the Chair of the Judiciary Committee. I've told him before, this intent of this measure is certainly laudable. I think in the face of the Citizens United case, many of us were perturbed by the ruling. But, unfortunately, it is the law of the land. The U.S. Supreme Court has already opined, and I would direct the Members' attention to the third paragraph of the standing committee report.

"'Your Committee acknowledges that the United States Supreme Court held in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission, that contributions and expenditures of money made for the purpose of influencing an election are entitled to First Amendment protections. Until Citizens United is overturned, this measure can have no legal effect on political spending to influence elections and expenditures. Your Committee understands that the measure is purely symbolic.'

"And again, for that I do, and that is why I voted with reservations, and I continue to vote with reservations. But again, the testimony that was submitted by the Deputy Attorney General made clear that by doing this as a constitutional amendment you are only going to further confuse the voters. In the wake of our special session back in October and November, I think we've already proven to the voters of this state that this Legislature is not trustworthy when it comes to constitutional amendments."

The Chair addressed Representative Har, stating:

"Hold on, Representative, focus on the merits of the bill."

Representative Har: "I'm focusing on the merits of the bill, Mr. Speaker."

Vice Speaker Mizuno: "You're out of order. You're talking about another bill."

Representative Har: "I'm finishing up, Mr. Speaker. I'm drawing it back."

At 12:45 o'clock p.m., Representative Saiki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:46 o'clock p.m.

Representative Har continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again, Mr. Speaker, let me clarify for the record, the comments that I made were my personal opinion and they were not intended to serve as a characterization, a gross generalization of the entire Legislature. It was of my opinion, to be clear.

"So that being said, Mr. Speaker. More importantly, Mr. Speaker, though again, I think that a ConAm to this extent would be harmful to the people because, again, there would be no legal effect. So, I continue to say I respect the chair, his intent was laudable on this measure, but again, to be punting this to a constitutional amendment that will further confuse the voters because it has no legal effect, is really not our place to do that. So with that being said, I remain with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker I will be rising to speak against this proposal. I understand the intent behind this to address the Citizens United ruling in 558 U.S. 310 (2010). Unfortunately, the proposed constitutional amendment, if ratified, cannot have any practical legal effect. As a duly licensed attorney of the State of Hawaii, bona fide and permitted to practice law in both the federal and district courts, I believe that this would be in error if we were to move this thing any further. It has no legal effect, the State of Hawaii remains subject to the Citizens United ruling construing the federal constitution, Mr. Speaker, not the state constitution, regardless of the amendment to the Hawaii State Constitution. For that reason, I will object to this bill.

"Mr. Speaker, furthermore, for those who are not legally trained or who are licensed to practice law, have any legal background or practical experience, The Hawaii Constitution is within the state's power, we can do whatever we want to Hawaii's State Constitution. But, doing so in this manner has no practical legal effect to the Citizens United ruling, insofar as it was construing the federal constitution. And it goes back as far as Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1 (1976). And I always remembered the former Majority Leader by the same surname reminding us to read the bill. So I would like to also go back to his astute reminder for us to read the bill. The Buckley case, and he's familiar with that, and we used to always discuss that in the Judiciary Committee, it's the foundation of modern campaign finance case law. And that's been the case since back in 1976.

"Among the many rulings in that case, the Supreme Court held that contributions and expenditures of money made for the purposes of influencing an election are entitled to the protections of the First Amendment, Federal Constitution. The Federal Constitution is the supreme law of the land. Therefore, even if, even if this proposed amendment passed and was ratified by the voters of Hawaii, we would still be subject to the ruling of Buckley v. Valeo, and Citizens United. This would not change the outcome of any election, nor have any effect upon federal or state laws.

"At this point in time, according to those two rulings, which I oppose and I think are terrible to our democracy, those corporations and unions are entitled to make unlimited independent expenditures regarding elections. So even if the State Constitution was amended, Mr. Speaker, our laws would still be subject to the Supreme Court's federal constitutional ruling about money used to influence elections. Only an amendment to the Federal Constitution or a subsequent overruling decision from the United States Supreme Court can undo the Citizens United decisions, or the broader proposition regarding the First Amendment protections for the contributions and expenditures from the Buckley v. Valeo decision.

"Second, Mr. Speaker, I'm concerned about the breadth of the provisions as it applies to expenditures to, quote-unquote, 'promote lobbying.' Page 1, line 16. Read literally, this provision could be read to deny the state constitutions free speech protections for all activities supporting lobbying. Because those activities would involve, quote-unquote, 'the expenditure of money.'

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, I have concerns that this measure, if placed on the ballot, may simply confuse the public. If placed on the ballot, this measure may create the impression that it would be legally effective to address and overturn the unpopular Citizens United ruling. Because the proposed amendment would not have such a legal effect, this impression would therefore be misleading. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I oppose this measure. Thank you."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. E ho'o loli ko'u kohuo a na mai ke kanalua ahiki kako'o ole. I would like to change my vote from 'reservations' to 'no'. Make make au kaha'i 'ōlelo o kaluna maka'āinana mai Wahiawa mai Whitmore kauhale. Mahalo. And I would like to have the words of the Representative from Wahiawa, Whitmore Village as if they were my own. Mahalo," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Robert Jackson, who was a Supreme Court Justice from 1941 to 1954, said, and I quote, 'we are not final because we are infallible,' and he's talking about the Supreme Court, 'we are not final because we are infallible, we are infallible only because we are final.'

"Sometimes the Supreme Court gets it wrong. And Citizens United, I think, is a prime example of that, where if we follow the logic of Citizens United to its logical conclusion, all we'll have is government by the rich, for the rich, and the rest of us are just out in the cold. Sometimes we do only have symbolic gestures to make in opposition to things that we think are important. And I agree with my colleagues who are opposed to this bill or have reservations about it, that this is a symbolic gesture, but I think that it's an important enough issue that symbolic gestures are important. Mahalo."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Chair. I rise with reservations and some comments. Mr. Speaker, case law has said that unlimited contributions from corporations as of 1912 were illegal. In 1948, I believe, it was that unlimited contributions from unions were illegal. And then those kind of morphed their way through other ways of doing it through other 529s, 401Ks, et cetera. And then, not the 401Ks, through different mechanisms by which were established precedence.

"Now with the Citizens, it reverses everything historically, as the previous speaker said. That unlimited contributions from corporations, unlimited contributions from unions, is not good for democracy. However, we put up our hands to not only swear to support the Hawaii Constitution, but to support the U.S. Constitution. So, this is a gesture by which if we want to thumb our nose at them, yeah that's it. But, in terms of what other speakers have said about confusing the people of Hawaii, and what the gavel said was out of order from the Representative from Kapolei, was really wrapped and right on. We're going to look like we're going to really be sucker punchers if we give them another constitutional amendment saying, 'well we didn't really mean that that was going be meaningful to the people of Hawaii, it was only to thumb our noses at the federal government.'

"For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think we should tread very lightly on this. And if we really feel that strongly, I would recommend the author give a nice really strong, solid resolution, that he can use all the language that we need to emphasize that we don't like unlimited union, unlimited corporate contributions, because of what it does to democracy. I think that's a better route, rather than going this route."

Representative Fukumoto rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition of House Bill 1499, HD1. This bill proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that freedom of speech does not include the expenditure of money to influence elections.

"Like many others, I have serious concerns over excessive amounts of money influencing elections, but this measure will not address those concerns. Because Citizens United v. FEC was a federal ruling, a state constitutional amendment cannot overturn that decision. Passing this bill will only further confuse and mislead voters who will be voting on a constitutional amendment that will have no power to change what it purports to change.

"For these reasons, I oppose this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1499, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION REGARDING THE FREEDOM OF SPEECH," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Fukumoto, Hanohano, McDermott and Oshiro voting no, and with Representatives Tokioka and Yamane being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, I previously announced good things came out of the 2011 APEC conference. We got on the world stage. We had a chance to show what Hawaii could do. Some of us wear the shirt for recognition on Fridays, some of us forget.

"But I want to announce the good things in addition that have come out. And I'm wearing my Indonesian shirt, because when the Indonesians came, they said and we said, 'we probably represent the two most beautiful places in the world, Hawaii and Bali.' I want to announce today that the Governor has just sent the go-ahead to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Bali through Jakarta, that the MOU is acceptable to the people of Hawaii as well as what is to be signed shortly by the Governor of Bali and there will be a sister state and a great celebration, which should be coming shortly.

"I want to thank Representative Cachola, who, at the time in 2011, was the head of the Sister-State Commission, I believe, or a board or something that approved this. So, Mr. Speaker, coming shortly, the marriage of the two most beautiful places in the world. Bali and the State of Hawaii. A Sister-State relationship. Thank you."

However, over the years, both the tax and reserves have not served their original purpose. The money should have been spent for its original purpose then, rather than now extending the tax for continued funding for programs outside the scope of the original intention. My constituents already spend more than most on gas because of the long commutes in traffic from Mililani. Any measure that would cause them to pay more for gas gives me cause for concern. For these reasons, I cannot support an extension for the environmental response, energy, and food tax. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 274-14) recommending that S.B. No. 1007, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1007, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LAND LIABILITY," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Belatti, Cachola and Takai being excused.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 275-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2409 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2409 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this bill is about keeping the homeless off of our bus seats, waiting places for buses. Mr. Speaker, if I may hypothesize, homelessness is a function of the breakdown of our families, of our economy where there's not enough jobs, and the proliferation of drugs in certain discouraged members of our population. But instead of attacking it at the core, we're attacking it at the periphery, at the margins, at the point of harassment of calling these things criminal behavior, in criminalizing conduct that is heretofore not criminalized like other behaviors are. Such as, as the public defender reminded us, things that cause fighting, spitting, loitering.

"We passed a bill the other day about defecating and urinating. None of this, is laying on the bench criminal behavior, but we are going to make it criminal behavior? Mr. Speaker, I would draw the attention of the Body to what we did last year with the same bill, exactly the same bill. We passed it on Third Reading, and then we recommitted it.

"Mr. Speaker, as I've said before on this Floor, the new hope is that Housing First is going to resolve this problem. Let's wait till that kicks in, and then if it doesn't, then start these more Machiavellian bus stop police and removal and making criminals out of these guys who wouldn't even probably have the $50 to pay for the fine that's being imposed here.

"For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, this is bad policy. It's premature and it's something that even if one person in this Body has somebody in their district who can't sit down on the bench. For the greater good, we have to look at the bigger picture and the longer range. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and a brief explanation. My reservations stem from a completely different area, which was brought up by the previous speaker, in another bill. Insofar as, this is what they call 'home rule' of our counties. And as an advocate of home rule, once again I say, responsibility comes with this type of power. And this should be addressed by our counties at the ordinance level, which I think will also help to facilitate enforcement as well. So, thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. In support. I won't speak long on Second Reading, but I would just say that with regard to the sitting at and lying down at the bus stops, which is what this is aimed at, any homeless person can come and sit at a bus stop, as long as they want to, under this bill.

"You know, if all the homeless people or if anybody in general started camping out on the onramps to the H-1, and we wanted to remove them because traffic needed to flow onto the H-1, no one would say that that was anti-homeless. When there were homeless people at the airport, they're not there anymore, it's because it's a transportation issue. I don't know how, I don't know what legal basis DOT used to remove homeless people from the airport.

"But for thousands and thousands of Oahu and statewide residents, for that matter, they rely on the bus every day, and they need to be able to use their bus stops. The homeless ride the bus all the time. I have a bus pass myself. Homeless people are legitimately waiting at bus stops to ride, but when they're not waiting for a bus and they're just lying there taking up all the space that other people really need to use, then we have a problem. Mahalo."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I know this is Second Reading and it's going to be referred to the next committee, which I sit on, so I will leave that up to the chair of that committee, who I know is very astute to these issues. So for now, Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Last year, HB 31, I voted no on the Final Reading. So I'm just going to remain consistent in my stand. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First of all, in the interest of true bipartisanship, I'd like the words of the former Minority Leader adopted as my very own. I think the eloquent statements of the colleague from Hawaii Kai, Aina Haina, summarize some of my initial thoughts. I'd just like to read a bit from the testimony of the Office of the Public Defender because I think it kind of touches upon the legal defect of this bill and how ineffective it is in trying to address the concerns of the Representative from Chinatown.

"This measure would add a Subsection to Section 711-1101 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, making lying down at a bus stop or shelter a petty misdemeanor offense of disorderly conduct. The offense of disorderly conduct involves the prescription of bad conduct or behavior. The behavior described in this statute includes fighting, threatening, tumultuous behavior, offensive coarse behavior, and unreasonable noise, to name a few.

"The conduct that is being proscribed in this measure is lying down in a manner that impedes or obstructs the use of or access to the bus stop. 'Enforcement of this measure will be a problem,' says the public defender. 'How do you differentiate between someone who fell asleep waiting for the bus and someone who is homeless and sleeping at the bus shelter? What happens if the person is sleeping on a cot, or beach chair, or if a group of people, living at the bus shelter, take turns sleeping and looking out for police officers? This measure cannot be enforced if the person lying down at the bus stop or shelter is not impeding or obstructing the use of or access to the bus stop.

"'While it is true that people sleeping at or near bus stops may inconvenience the public, criminalizing such behavior is not the answer. Have you ever heard anyone describe homelessness as a crime? Homelessness is not and should not be a crime. We have to look at solutions and answers to the homeless situation, which would in turn solve the problem of people living at or near bus stops.' So that's the comment of the Office of the Public Defender.

"Mr. Speaker, like a similar bill that we heard and we approved last week dealing with defecation and urination in public, on a public road, or paved highway, or paved sidewalk. It runs the same defect of not being enforceable. And that's a consequence, Mr. Speaker. When I go out and tell my community and my constituents why I oppose this bill, I'll tell them that this bill does nothing to address the injury at hand. It does nothing to address their concern of people urinating or defecating, or in this case, using the bus shelter to find shelter from the elements, or even using it temporarily to sleep at because they have no other place to go.

"You see, Mr. Speaker, that's what we're looking at right here. These people who might be needing a place to find shelter and a place to sleep. Can't do it at the parks, can't do it at the beach, can't do it on the sidewalk, can't do it in the street. So like any reasonable, rational person, they would look at a bus stop or other shelter in the public domain from the elements. Where do we put them? Where do they go? I think those are some of the larger questions that arise when you look at bills like this.

"But as far as effectively dealing with the issue, Mr. Speaker, this bill does none of that. It creates the illusion of doing something when it does nothing at all. So, these are some of my comments of why I oppose this bill. I think it's mean-spirited. I think as a member of this caucus, we should not be moving bills like this forward. I'll just end with that, Mr. Speaker. I oppose this bill. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. I'm going to speak from personal experience. Mr. Speaker, I was playing a rugby game in Kahuku, and we were actually playing one of the Kalihi teams, and I bruised one of my ribs and rolled an ankle of mine, Mr. Speaker. I had to make my way down to the bus stop to get back to Hauula. I actually kind of sat on a sloping hill, it was maybe about 15 yards away from the bus stop. Mr. Speaker, if you have bruised ribs and a rolled ankle, it's kind of hard when you see the bus coming to actually get to the bus in time to catch the bus and actually make it.

"So I missed that first bus, but fortunately, Mr. Speaker, at that time, the bus came every 30 minutes. So I actually decided to lay down at the bus stop, this is during the day, and had my right ankle on top of the chair while I laid down, because it's kind of hard to breathe when you have bruised ribs, Mr. Speaker. So I would be breaking this law. And I do plan on playing rugby again this year, Mr. Speaker. So I may encounter the same situation where I have to be at the bus stop, laying down in a manner that impedes or obstructs the use of or the access to the bus stop.

"And the bigger problem now, Mr. Speaker, is that the bus comes every hour on my side of the island. I know some of the bus routes were restored over here in the urban core area. But out on my side of the island, Mr. Speaker, it's an hour. So if you miss that bus, and sometimes it comes in an hour, maybe it's an hour and a half. I've waited an hour and 45 minutes before the next bus actually came. That's a long time. And as the previous speaker mentioned, you actually do fall asleep sometimes at the bus stop, Mr. Speaker. And I think it would be very unfortunate to have somebody who lays down and may impede or obstruct the use or access to the bus stop, to make them a law breaker, Mr. Speaker.

"So as a person who knows that there are certain circumstances that may require you to use the bus stop in such a way, Mr. Speaker, I think it would be very unfortunate to criminalize those people. And for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I must be opposed."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. The only thing is, I hope with this discussion that maybe the language gets tightened up a little bit. But I know that in Waikiki when I went to the bus stop, I saw our elderly and our kupuna unable to sit and wait for the bus because there was a homeless person laying there. I believe the bus stop is there for a purpose. The benches are there for people to share. These people sometimes will take up the whole bench, and I saw the kupuna having trouble, and I was very disturbed by that.

"I think that what the bill is really trying to achieve is to give at least the authority and to allow the police officers to go up and ask these people to move and maybe take some action. I do not believe our officers are mean-spirited. I do not think that they would ask the previous speaker, I don't think they would harass him. I think they would understand the situation. This is another tool that we can give to our officers, to have maybe some public decorum. And so with that, like I said, maybe we can tighten up on the language. But I do understand the intent of the bill, and that's why I support it. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives McKelvey, Oshiro and Ward be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. May I please have the words of the speakers from Hawaii Kai and Wahiawa entered into the Journal as if they were my own? And just a brief response to the speaker from Waikoloa. This is a systemic problem, and that's the issue. This is a band-aid solution, this is not good policy. It's not about giving tools to our officers. It's a systemic problem, homelessness, and that's what we have to address. That's what the speakers from Hawaii Kai as well as from Wahiawa were saying. And for those reasons, I rise with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Like the Representative from the North Shore, I also have experience in waiting at bus stops. There are times, daytime, at crowded Waikiki bus stops, I do ask people sleeping there to leave. And to the credit of those people, they always do. And they understand my point of view.

"Some people in this Chamber say that the homeless have nowhere to go. But I've come to believe that the homeless have everywhere to go, because I see homelessness everywhere, unfortunately. It's unfortunate that the Representatives of Hawaii Kai and Wahiawa don't offer better solutions. I know what they don't want. They don't want to criminalize this behavior, and neither do I. But tell me what you do want. Because we only have ourselves to blame on the issue of homelessness. And to those sleeping at bus stops in Waikiki, I never approach them at night because I do feel bad for them.

"On another level, I don't think that this bill, should it become law, will be enforced, unfortunately. And lastly, what we're really trying to prevent is when people do sleep at bus stops, they urinate at bus stops. And my heart goes out to the elderly, who have to stand at these bus stops. Because the city asks us to ride public transportation, but then they don't do enough to take care of those bus stops. Thank you."

At this time, Representative Ing called for the previous question.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2409, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISORDERLY CONDUCT," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Carroll, Fale, Hanohano, Jordan, McDermott, Oshiro and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Belatti, Cachola and Takai being excused.

I think the Department of Health, with regard to children in foster care, the social workers and the entire department have a ton of stuff to do already, and they're already stretched thin, working very hard. I think to ask them to help register kids to vote, you're setting them up for failure. They're wonderful people, but they're more worried about getting kids out of abusive situations than entering into the election business.

"And then also I would have a concern about a potential bias perhaps of the social worker or the department. Not the department per se, but maybe an individual social worker providing assistance may transfer their views to that youngster who is very impressionable.

"So, maybe a notice, but the social workers are stretched, so I wouldn't burden them with this. And I could be mistaken in the way I read it. But thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations. The reservation I have is on page 2, that it may be construed or brought to bear upon the Department of Health to abate, destroy, remove or prevent a nuisance under the foregoing section. So those are my concerns.

"On the good side, the bill has been amended so that the complaint can only be brought to bear upon a nuisance situation where the administrative fines by the state or a county are not less than the aggregate of $10,000 for the nuisance within a 10 year period. "I'd like to cast a no vote, Mr. Speaker, and just speak briefly on this. I am conflicted by mandating a minimum number of hours, but also the other side of the coin is allowing the principal to have the utmost flexibility as they see fit. Sometimes this may delve into instructional hours. So my sense is, if we're going to hold them accountable as the chief executive of the school, for better or worse, we need to give them the freedom to do that. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. As noted, this doesn't bring up the best in our school system because it's talking about quantity rather than quality. Let them teach, and we will be the judge of the results and then make some differences. Otherwise, this is micromanaging. Going in there and doing things that otherwise they should be doing themselves.

"I think lastly, it's the irony of having less hours. If you remember when there were furloughs, the test scores went up. Which is opposite of what otherwise increasing the hours and expecting test scores to go up. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think a no vote is the most appropriate vote now, and putting the kids back into teacher's hands, not legislators. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote. Mr. Speaker, just as was stated by the Representative from Ewa and the Representative from Hawaii Kai. We need to not confuse activity with success. And just because we're having kids spend more time in the classroom, that does not necessarily translate into success. And we need to make sure that the goals and the objectives that we set forward are actually clear, that we want our kids to succeed. And that doesn't necessarily mean micromanaging and telling them how many hours and how many minutes.

"If we could get the same results with half the time being spent in the classroom, Mr. Speaker, maybe the problem is our kids are spending too much time in school and their brains get fried. I know that's how I felt while I was going through school. That's actually something that we have to be aware of. And just allow our subject matter experts, who are boots on the ground, to carry forward and then hold them accountable to what they do. But we have to give them the flexibility to do the job as they need to do, Mr. Speaker. For those reasons, I'm opposed."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just a point of clarification, Mr. Speaker. The point of this bill is actually to eliminate the requirement that all schools hit 1,080 hours by the 2016-18 school year. So obviously, we take to heart the concerns that people had about giving flexibility and autonomy to schools. By not passing this bill, the law is all schools must hit 1,080 hours by the 2016-18 school year. I do not support that.

"For those who are voting no, and this bill dies, in essence, the schools must hit 1,080 hours by 2016. That's point one. The second point is that the 990 hours that schools must hit by the year 2014-16. The vast majority of schools are already at that level. And the last point is that we're asking the Board of Education to define instructional hours as they best see fit. Because it is the board, in my opinion, that has the wherewithal and the capacity and the knowledge to define what exactly are instructional hours. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to cast a no vote on this, and just explain briefly. All of these early education bills that will come before the Body during this session that are an expansion beyond what we do in the basic K-12, I will be opposing because I don't think our K-12 is sound enough yet, with regard to infrastructure and curriculum and those things.

"So, although they're well intended, and I certainly bear no ill will to the intent or the methodology behind them, I just think that we should fix the K-12 first, whether that's air conditioning or infrastructure or curriculum development or all the resources that are needed. That would be my focus. So, for those reasons, that's why I won't be supporting the myriad of these bills. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in reservations with brief comments. Mr. Speaker, there's probably no more important private body than the Council on Revenues. This bill is intended to research how they can do better, be better. The only equivalent of that on the federal level is probably the Federal Reserve. So, it's a very important body that predicts how much tax money is going to come in and how much money we can actually spend.

"The problem I have is three-fold. First, the testimony in the EDB Committee continually referred to the late or missing DOTAX data. Well, we didn't have the data from DOTAX. They didn't figure in the cash flow. They didn't have the solar tax credit figured in. Because DOTAX is not doing their job.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill is almost a half a million dollars, of which a good portion of it, maybe $150,000 or $175,000 is for DOTAX, which is more than sufficient. They've already identified the problem.

"Another point, however, is very loud and clear by its absence of testimony, is that the Council on Revenues didn't testify for or against this bill. They boycotted it. What does that tell you, Mr. Speaker? It's probably because they know what they need to do, but they don't want to make too many ruffled feathers given that they're not getting their stuff from the Department of Taxation.

"So, Mr. Speaker, with a half a million dollars at stake, and given all the other priorities that we just voted on, a school bill for preschools, et cetera. I think until there's clear indication that all the money is needed in addition to funding the DOTAX, why we have to rediscover the wheel, reinvent the wheel by knowing what the problem is. Those guys and gals who serve on the Council on Revenues know what the problem is. And we've heard in the testimony, it's the lack of data or missing data or untimely data.

"For that reason, Mr. Speaker, I would encourage further consideration of modifying this and taking out some of the money that's not necessary and going for the Department of Taxation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Say rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I apologize, but at this point in time may I state for the record that I'm strongly opposed to House Bill 1512. Primarily because it would conflict with the House-Senate Majority policy legislation that the Policy Chair had worked on during this past interim. This deals with the Office of the Lieutenant Governor, where the testimony from the Lieutenant Governor was very weak, that they did not know who had introduced this legislation.

"I am concerned because we may be setting the policy of having two positions on the issue of climate change, global warming. And I do support the House-Senate Majority Package legislation, which was developed by the Representative from Waipahu. And secondly, we did put in positions, if I can recall, on the joint committee. So, for those reasons, I'm strongly opposed to the powers of the Lieutenant Governor doing the work that the Office of Planning has been delegated with another bill that is before us."

(Main Motion)

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations on HB 676, HD 2. Section 8 Housing is a program that is well-intended and necessary for those who need the subsidy and who might otherwise be homeless. It has served as an important safety net for many in our community, and as such, those receiving Section 8 should be free to apply for housing opportunities without being discriminated against. That being said, my reservations stem from the practical realities of Section 8 Housing vouchers.

"Essentially, there are issues such as delayed periods of time in receiving funding from the federal government for payment. Other issues include: inconsistent paperwork and inspection requirements from a case by case basis, liability exposure to property managers as a result, and added cost and time associated with Section 8's application and inspection process. Furthermore, it is difficult to prove that discriminatory practices are not based on income when determining an applicant's approval status. This can lead to fair housing complaints as a result.

"Due to the unfortunate practical realities associated with Section 8 Housing vouchers, I stand in support of HB 676, HD 2, but with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations and brief comments. I just wanted to make it clear for the record that I fully support the intention and the purpose of this bill. I think it's a worthy one. It shouldn't be something that is able to be discriminated against. My concerns that I hope will be remedied through the process focus solely on this particular measure and its overlap with the Fair Housing Law. Also, using or including the word 'solely' as a criterion for assessment and enforcement. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Johanson be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and brief comments please. I understand where this is coming from, and I know people with Section 8 often have a lot of trouble getting rentals. But I do think that we also need to consider that a lot of the problem here is that it takes a long time for landlords to get their money from Section 8. So, we also need to be looking and talking to perhaps our congressional delegation and others about figuring out how to get that money to landlords faster, because I think we'd have less of a problem if we did that. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"The promotion of construction in and of itself is very important to any economy. It is a significant part of the overall economic activity especially in a small island state such as Hawaii. Investment in physical assets in the visitor industry, however, secure even more benefits than straight construction alone. It provides the means by which future economic activity will take place. The visitor industry cannot be competitive without an attractive, up-to-date physical plan in the form of hotels and recreational facilities.

"Construction of hotels brings more revenues back into the economy, and taxes because the hotel industry continues to bring in revenues beyond construction. These projects result in higher hotel room rates, visitor days and revenue. It is estimated that 30 percent of room rates goes back to employee salaries. This proposed measure will help a hotel project in getting financing to either rebuild or to build a new hotel.

"Additionally, people are in need of work. Some say that the economy is improving. Perhaps. But it certainly has not dwindled down to all sectors. Helping to spur hotels to spend and remodel will help out hundreds of small contractors and their employees. This will benefit both our resident workers and visitors alike, as well as the economy."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. I've often said on this Floor and in committee hearings that we're Americans first, we're Democrats, Republicans second or third or whatever the number is. But this bill elevates our party over the positions that we occupy.

"This says, Mr. Speaker, if you were Republican, you couldn't become Governor if the Senate President didn't choose to follow the succession as the Lieutenant Governor. You couldn't go up the ladder. I think that's undemocratic, unfair, but I want to thank the Majority for having the fear factor that someday there may be a Speaker who's a Republican here or the Senate President. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Har rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition with short, brief comments, please. Mr. Speaker, as I mentioned, this is a major change in policy. In a lifetime, what seems a lifetime ago, I worked in the Lieutenant Governor's office for then Lieutenant Governor Mazie Hirono, who is now our U.S. Senator. And at that time, we were very clear on what the succession of order was.

"This is a major change in policy, to be deleting the Attorney General, as well as the Director of Finance, Comptroller, Director of Taxation, as well as the DHRD Director. The fact of the matter is, these people are appointed by the Governor.

"So, I'm just still not clear, the contention was made this was an administration bill. And I would point the Members to the testimony. There was only one piece of testimony, and it was in opposition. And yet this bill is passing out unanimously for a major policy change. For those reasons, I rise with opposition, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Makemake au koho ka kako'o ole loa. Makemake au ka ha'i 'ōlelo mai ka luna maka'āinana mai Kapolei mai e komo i loko ka puke hale luna maka'āinana. I'm casting a vote in opposition. I would like to have the words of my colleague from Kapolei as if they were my own entered into the House Journal. Mahalo," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fale rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1288, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ORDER OF SUCCESSION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Fale, Hanohano, Har and Oshiro voting no, and with Representatives Awana, Cachola, Carroll and Takumi being excused.

At 2:43 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2441, HD 1
H.B. No. 1288, HD 1

At 2:43 o'clock p.m., Representative Saiki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

END OF CALENDAR

At this time, the Chair stated:

"There has been a motion and a second, for the recall. Mr. Clerk, have the 20 days passed since the referral of House Bill Number 1624?"

The Clerk then announced that 27 days have passed since the referral of House Bill Number 1624.

The Chair then stated:

"Then it has been moved and seconded, again, that House Bill Number 1624 be recalled from the Committee. This is a procedural motion. Debate is limited to the proprietary action of recalling the bill. Debate on the substance of the bill is not in order at this time. Is there any discussion on the recall motion?"

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you for the delay, I had a couple cups of coffee. I was running out of gas. I think I'm suffering from Low T. But that said, some levity here. Mr. Speaker, I'd like to remind the Members that the motion was a two-part motion. It was to recall the Hawaii Religious Freedom Restoration Act, and at the appropriate time, Mr. Speaker, not now but at the appropriate time, we would like a roll call vote. And we will be monitoring that and sharing that information with the faith-based community.

"Mr. Speaker, this motion is designed to heal our community. This motion is designed to answer the 2,000 emails that we got. This motion, Mr. Speaker, is designed to allow the free exercise. This motion will not stop compelling state interests. This motion balances religious liberty versus newly created rights. This motion will clarify, today, what we do today on this motion will clarify our support of faith. As you'll see when people raise their hands, raise them high, so my office manager can see you. This motion today will protect the new minority.

"Mr. Speaker, this motion, I'm not doing it to be a troublemaker. As you are aware, I've talked to various members of leadership to avoid this very procedure that I'm doing today. So I tried to be a gentleman about it, Mr. Speaker. I didn't want to embarrass anyone. In fact, this motion targets a vehicle that's not even my own, because I felt that if I made a motion to target my own vehicle it probably wouldn't be received too well.

"This motion will protect people's free exercise of faith, Mr. Speaker. This motion gives voice to the 2,000 emails that we got. Now, Mr. Speaker, this motion is not designed to pull a scab off a wound. No, quite the contrary, this motion is designed to heal a wound. Now some may roll their eyes at that and say this motion is you're picking at a scab. But, Mr. Speaker, I'm not. Mr. Speaker, this motion is designed to heal the wounds that have been aggravated this session by other measures that have pulled at that scab, but not in this vein.

"Mr. Speaker, this motion will give a voice to the voiceless. This motion addresses the new minority in our community. This motion will tell people of faith that they matter. This motion will enfranchise the disenfranchised. This motions says, 'we hear you.' This motion, Mr. Speaker, this motion answers the 2,000 emails."

The Chair addressed Representative McDermott, stating:

"Representative McDermott, you are beginning to stray from the proprietary into the substance of the motion."

Representative McDermott: "Mr. Speaker, I mentioned 'the motion' in every sentence."

Speaker Souki: "Yes, and very nicely. Very nicely."

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Yes, I do. It's not my first rodeo. But I'm almost done, Mr. Speaker. This motion says, 'you're important,' Mr. Speaker. This motion tells the courts how we feel. Mr. Speaker, you know I have a lot of aloha for you and a lot of affection. And I come to this point to make this motion not because I have any ill will towards you. I love you. You know that. In a manly way though, I must point out.

"But, Mr. Speaker, this is designed so we can address that lingering, it is a scab. And so this motion will help us address that. Mr. Speaker, I'm going to close with the fact that we had 2,000 emails begging for the underlying vehicle that this motion addresses to be heard. Or one of a slew. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that we address this because, as the Terminator says, 'I'll be back.' Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in opposition to the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition to the recall. I just want to point out to you and the Body that during the special session last fall, there were three floor amendments, numbers 7, 8 and 9, that were identical to HB 1624, except for the preamble. All three of them were rejected by this Body, except for the newly appointed Representative from West Hawaii. And then there were five other floor amendments, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, that had significant parts that were…"

Representative McDermott rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I can't believe he's not out of order. He's not speaking to the motion at hand. He's rambling on about something else."

The Chair then stated:

"Alright, thank you very much, Representative. Please stick to the proprietary motion."

Representative Rhoads continued, stating:

"I'm speaking to why the motion should not be heard. House Floor Amendments 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 also contained exactly the same language. So, this Body has had many opportunities to discuss this language, and, in fact, it has discussed this language over and over and over again. And therefore, I oppose the recall. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this motion to recall. The reason why I'm standing in support of the motion to recall on the procedural topic is that Members need to understand that this is a constitutional provision that was enacted through the Constitutional Convention back in 1978, ratified by the voters of Hawaii.

"The purpose of the recall provision, in the constitution, is for the ability of the minority within the Legislative Branch to make sure that it has the means and the authority to recall a bill from committee that may be bottled up by one individual or individuals of the Body, either in the House or in the Senate. In the House, where you have 51 Members, you need to have, I think the requisite number is 17. One-third of the Body needs to vote in approval of the recall motion for the bill to be recalled from committee and brought before the Body for its disposition.

"It's a constitutional provision, and the reason why I believe the delegates and I believe the people of Hawaii have ratified that is to avoid the oppression of the majority – when the Legislative Body itself might benefit from a public hearing and a public discussion of issues important to the day. This particular bill before us, which is House Bill 1624, is something that I authored and I penned. And it's modeled upon federal legislation that was approved some years ago back in 1993. In response to a United States Supreme Court's decision that basically overturned 40 years of law. Whereby, you had First Amendment rights…."

Representative Saiki rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. We need to stick to the procedural discussion on this motion. Thank you."

The Chair addressed Representative Oshiro, stating:

"Please stick to the procedure of the recall, please."

Representative Oshiro continued, stating:

"I was just trying to give some background, Mr. Speaker, on the need for this recall. Let me try and get back to the importance of this recall motion and why as a Democrat member of the Democrat caucus I will be standing here supporting a Republican motion for a recall from a committee chaired by a Democrat member of my Democrat caucus.

"I go back to the constitution again, Mr. Speaker. This measure has never had a public hearing. There was reference made to it being introduced as a floor amendment during the special session this fall, but there was never any public hearing on it. The purpose of this motion is to engage the public and being transparent on decision making, and afford the public to weigh in, and the Members of this Body to weigh in for and against any and all measures. And that's why you have this kind of debate and discussion.

"And that's why you have this authority, Mr. Speaker, because the people of Hawaii were concerned that a minority or a faction could bottle up an idea, a proposal, against the wishes of the majority of the people of Hawaii, the majority of the Members. So they created this vehicle to bring it to the public's attention and the light to bear upon this issue.

"We're not talking about the merits of the bill today, and that's inappropriate. We're talking about bringing the bill back for discussion, and that's appropriate, Mr. Speaker. And upon that basis and on that principal of the Constitution and what it means, I stand here in strong support of this recall motion. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the motion. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First, I would like to have the words of the Representative from Wahiawa adopted as if they were my own. In addition to that, Mr. Speaker, this is a motion that allows. It's very rare, Mr. Speaker, to have thousands of people send in testimony in regards to an issue, Mr. Speaker. And this motion, and as was stated by the previous speaker, opens the door and gives the opportunity for democracy to be what it was supposed to be, which is supposed to represent the people.

"Again, Mr. Speaker, this motion allows to help us to do our job. Very rare, very rare. Thousands, thousands, Mr. Speaker. Very rare is it that thousands of people are turned away and when they approach this building they find closed doors because there's no interest in hearing what they have to say. This motion, Mr. Speaker, is a simple request to allow a bill to be heard, which is important to tens of thousands of people in the State of Hawaii.

"So for those very reasons, Mr. Speaker, and given what was referenced to as a wound that has scabs on it, Mr. Speaker. I don't even know if it's gone that far, I think the wounds are still very raw and very open. And if this Body is interested in putting forward some measure to allow those wounds to start to heal, an olive branch needs to be extended, Mr. Speaker, and this motion puts us on that path. For those reasons, I support the motion, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have some brief remarks in support of the procedural, proprietary motion. I don't believe there's any harm that will be caused by this motion to hear this bill. I mean, what's controversial about a bill that already passed the Congress in 1993 signed by Chuck Schumer, signed by Edward Kennedy. Even our Governor voted for it in the House. There's nothing that's really going to harm us by doing this, which is a procedurally appropriate thing in Democracy. Anthropologists have established the fact that reciprocity is the basis of all relationship.

"We are the transmission, if you will, of reciprocity. Each side of the community deserves to be heard equally so, Mr. Speaker. So any damage that would be caused by hearing this bill, I believe, is not appropriate. And the passage of this procedurally is simply a part of our job, by hearing a part of our community which now from 1993 now contemporarily to 2014 is more relevant now than ever. But it's an innocuous bill that people have approved from both sides of the island. This is a Democrat and a Republican issue. But mostly, it's an American issue, as I had spoken of earlier. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm speaking in support of the recall. It was my understanding this is the people's House. In less than six days, I received almost 2,500 emails requesting this measure get a hearing. And I believe we owe that transparency to our constituents out there, Mr. Speaker. And this provides an opportunity for this measure to be heard. As my understanding, I haven't heard a hearing for this measure at all this session or in the last three years that I've been here. I think this provides a venue where we can at least discuss it. And I'll be supporting the recall vote. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the motion, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker, and I just want to have brief comments. I think it is said that this House hasn't heard the people that came in opposed or in support of the measure. Let me just remind the Body that the two committees had four days hearing up to 12:00 midnight. And I think that we had been open, and we have allowed a lot of people to come and testify. So, I believe that this measure is out of order at this time. That's why I'm in opposition. And with that, Mr. Speaker, I call for the question."

At this time, Representative Cabanilla called for the previous question.

The Chair then stated:

"Thank you very much. It has been called for a vote. A roll call vote has been requested. All those in favor of a roll call vote, please raise your right hand. Clerk, will you count."

The request for roll call was put to vote by the Chair and upon a show of hands, the request was granted.

Roll call having been approved, the motion that H.B. No. 1624, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EQUAL RIGHTS," be recalled from Committee, was put to vote by the Chair, and on the following show of ayes and noes, carried:

Ayes, 18: Aquino, Choy, Cullen, Fale, Fukumoto, Har, Ito, Johanson, Jordan, Kawakami, Matsumoto, McDermott, Oshiro, Say, Tokioka, Tsuji, Ward and Yamane.

Noes, 28: Belatti, Brower, Cabanilla, Creagan, Evans, Hashem, Ichiyama, Ing, Kobayashi, Lee, Lowen, Luke, McKelvey, Mizuno, Morikawa, Nakashima, Nishimoto, Ohno, Onishi, Rhoads, Saiki, Souki, Takai, Takayama, Thielen, Woodson, Wooley and Yamashita.

Excused, 5: Awana, Cachola, Carroll, Hanohano and Takumi.

At this time, Representative Saiki moved to recommit H.B. No. 1624 to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

At 3:27 o'clock p.m., Representative Oshiro requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 3:31 o'clock p.m.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise against the motion. I have to tip my hat to the Majority Leader, he caught me napping, I wasn't prepared for this level of success. It's an uncommon feeling. But, Mr. Speaker, I rise against the motion to recommit. We followed the rules, we pulled the bill to the Floor and we wanted to have a vigorous debate on the measure itself, and it's my fault that I wasn't quick on my feet to rise in support of it. So I take the blame for that, certainly, Mr. Speaker.

"But, Mr. Speaker, this measure should be addressed, because it heals a wound that we've talked about. I don't think we should throw it back into the Judiciary Committee to let it die a death of benign neglect. Mr. Speaker, there have been other measures that have been addressed this session that are more controversial in my view that ended up dying in committee. But at least they were given a hearing. Here we have 2,500 emails from people who say, 'please, please at least hear it.' And we can't even give them the time of day.

"Yes, this stuff was brought up in amendment forms during the special session, but we just bulldozed right through them. And there were quite a few of them. But now we have the chance to look at it slowly, deliberately, in a dispassionate view and say, okay, if we're going to talk about some of these other controversial things, which we did, to get these folks all riled up. But then we say, 'you're not even worthy of the scraps from Longshank's table. We're not even going to give you a hearing on these things.' It doesn't make any sense to me, Mr. Speaker. So, for that I rise in opposition to it, and please ask that we at least have a full, open debate on the measure. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in opposition to the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition to the recommittal to Judiciary. In essence, by recommitting this measure to Judiciary today, you're killing the bill. This bill happens to have two referrals, 'JUD, FIN'. Today is final decking on two-referral bills. So in essence, we're telling our constituents out there, we're going to kill the bill right now. Possibly it can be reintroduced next year and discussed. Well, again, as I stated to pull this measure to the Floor, I received over 2,500 emails. No, I'm not the chair. I don't even sit on the committee.

"I felt the compassion. I represent 1.4 million people. And we're not even going to have some discussion on this bill, on this Floor. And we're going to tuck it away as if it didn't exist. Oh, I've been told it can be re-referred. But we all know, if the subject-matter doesn't hear it, it's not going to get re-referred to a money committee. So who's kidding who?

"Really, I'm ashamed right now. Because I didn't think that's how legislators did our job. And this isn't a job for me, Mr. Speaker. This is a passion. I'm giving back to people who put their commitment in me. Not only for being an appointee in 2011, for being elected by my constituents. And I'm telling those individuals, 'it ain't worthy.'"

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Choy rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale rose to speak in opposition to the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote with a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this bill I think is the essence of what we would believe would be a completely unbiased, a completely bipartisan effort to heal wounds in our community. We had, my colleague over here, member of the Minority, asking to pull to the Floor a bill of a member of the Majority party, Mr. Speaker. And then we saw a broad support for that measure. And the reason being, Mr. Speaker, the reason being, is that there's kind of this lingering smell. You know, Mr. Speaker, when there's like a dead body, when you try and bury it, but then the smell kind of percolates to the top, Mr. Speaker.

"Now, what we're trying to do is, we're trying to hide the smell as well. Well, maybe a better analogy, Mr. Speaker, is that you're a boxer, I'm a boxer. When someone gets knocked down, we don't kick their teeth in. The referee intervenes, the individual is allowed to stand up, and if appropriate, they are given an eight count, given a little time to recover before the match continues. 2,500 people, 2,500 people, given what had just happened, still found the energy, still found the courage, still found the strength to contact the Body that they believe has turned their back on them. Just to be heard. Just to be heard. Just, please, give it a hearing. They didn't say pass it. They said, just hear it. Just hear it. Just one ear. Just one ear. HB 1624, one ear.

"The effort to recommit, Mr. Speaker, is saying, 'you don't even have one ear in the people's House of Representatives. Your voice will not be heard.' 2,500, that's about half of the people that came out to testify during special session, Mr. Speaker. And the reason why there's only half is because those half have given up and gone home already. They don't believe that they're going to find a friendly voice in this building, and that their chances of having their voices heard are gone. 2,500 still reached deep down and said, 'you know what, let's give it one more try.' Here they are down, and we're going to say, 'not only are we not going to help you up, we're going to kick your teeth in while you're lying there in the mud.'

"Why can't we give it a hearing? Why recommit? Because we want that smell, that lingering smell to just disappear. Why won't they just go away? Why do we have to continue to deal with that? Because that's our job. That's our job, Mr. Speaker. And I think, in fact, maybe we should write legislation that if we get over 2,500 requests from the people of this great state to hear any measure, that should be standard procedure. We know how difficult it is to get people to testify on a measure. We know how difficult it is to get 2,500 people to send in testimony. And 2,500 have. And we're saying we want to shut the door on them. Say, post a message on the door that says, 'we're closed to you guys. You guys aren't welcome here. You guys won't get heard.'

"For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I am very, very much opposed to recommitting this bill, and not allowing to at least lend an ear to the concerns that were said. And I believe it was said on this Floor, Mr. Speaker, as was said earlier, that this measure reflects some of the amendments that were brought before here. And it was said that they would be considered to be heard during this legislative session, Mr. Speaker. Could be wrong. Maybe I heard that in my head. Maybe that was my hopes getting a little too loud. Sometimes, maybe we get a little too hopeful for 2,500 people's voices to be heard, Mr. Speaker. But, for those very, very reasons, Mr. Speaker, I have to be opposed to recommittal."

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote with a brief comment if I may? Mr. Speaker, we're fixated on this one particular bill which is being recommitted. But I look at this a little bit in a bigger perspective. If we look at the number of bills that the faith community had put forward, there's actually eight of them. This is only one of those.

"Now, if there had been other bills that would've been heard, this would not have been or be an issue as it is now. But there are bills that not only talked about religious freedom as 1624, but those that had established protection for religious freedom concerning public accommodations, marriage, et cetera. Those other bills that had, regarding sexuality, health education, bill 1794 regarding additional elements of existing health education, et cetera, et cetera.

"Mr. Speaker, there are eight of these, of which all have struck out. I think what you're hearing is a plea that, hey, why don't you hear at least one of these and get on with the due process. Mr. Speaker, as representatives of the people, we are called to have justice and mercy. I don't think this is being just, and I don't think it's being merciful, by the way we are so one-sided in the way we hear bills and we don't hear bills.

"I don't think it would tear the Judiciary Committee apart if it did get a recommittal and actually had a hearing. That would be a great accomplishment. But Mr. Speaker, are we fearful of the people? Nobody was fearful of the people when we called in the special session. And we handled it. Kevin and the Sergeants, they did a great job. So what are we afraid of, Mr. Speaker? This is the harmless effort. Just letting the people be heard. That is a simple part of it.

"There's no harm that's going to be done. As I said earlier, this bill has been passed by Democrats, Republicans at the federal level. Seventeen states have already done what we're trying to do here in Hawaii, but we're stuck on it. Seventeen states have already done it. It's motherhood and apple pie. It's God and Country. What's the controversial issue?

"It is the procedural proprietary issues which some of us in this Chamber aren't willing to face. Mr. Speaker, I think we need some leadership, I think we need to hear both sides of our community, not just one side, and we need to get on with healing, uniting and going forward as a Hawaii, not as a divided community. Mr. Speaker, that's what I fear in the long run. That our absence of giving attention to both sides of our community that we are creating. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support of the motion to recommit. Just to repeat again that this is not a topic that has gone undiscussed, I'll say it in a positive. We have discussed this topic on one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight occasions within the last few months. These were not sort of passing glances at the subject. There were three floor amendments that we discussed at length that have identical language to HB 1624 except for the preamble, and they were rejected by solid majorities. There were five other floor amendments during the debate on SB 1 that had parts of HB 1624. Also discussed at length, all five of them were rejected. As a committee chair, is there any point in hearing a bill where you know your colleagues do not want to approve the subject matter that's before you? It happens sometimes in Judiciary, it happens in other committees, where you realize that the political lay of the land is such that there's no reason to hear the bill at all. And I think the vote today simply reinforces that fact. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a brief rebuttal. Those amendments were, God bless the author, were dead on arrival. We all knew that, we were just exercising our prerogatives. What we're asking for here is a full, fair hearing on the measure. Most amendments are done to make a point. The point being made at that time was that religious freedom was being infringed upon. Now we're coming back today and saying, 'let's have a full, fair hearing.'

"There's other measures that were addressed this session that were just as controversial, if not more, and they got hearings. This one, where a substantial number of the Body believes it should get a full, fair hearing. And if it doesn't pass out of the committee, well then so be it. But we want a committee, not to do it here on the Floor. Because when we do it here on the Floor, the odds are stacked against us. You're going against leadership, et cetera, et cetera. So, it's a very steep hill to climb without a Sherpa.

"So, we want a hearing in the committee. The special session votes, I think they're irrelevant, because we knew none of those were going to pass, we knew it. Just like if I bring up an amendment to a bill next week for something, we know it's not going to pass. It's being done to make a point. And I think as the good Representative from Laie said, there were assurances, at least sideways assurances, that this may be addressed in the next session, where we can come back and look at it. So, for those reasons Mr. Speaker, I am a firm 'no' against the recommital. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in brief rebuttal. I can think of 2,500 reasons why we should hear the bill, Mr. Speaker. And if, for the sake of those 2,500 people, if the bill is not going to pass, then let's let them know why. But there are very clearly 2,500 people who want the bill heard, and I believe it's a simple gesture of the people's House of Representatives to hear that bill. To let them know that if, yes, if 2,500 of you come before this Body and request that, if you petition this Body and ask that your voices be heard, we're not going to supersede and say, 'you guys don't know what you're talking about, and we're going to roll right over you and do what we want.'

"Even if the gesture is, okay, we'll have the hearing, come on in, we'll explain to you why the bill isn't viable. But to turn away 2,500 people who have asked just for a hearing, a hearing. I think those are 2,500 very good reasons to hold that hearing, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the motion, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, first of all, I'd like to have permission to submit written comments. This is in opposition to the motion. Mr. Speaker, thank you very much for this debate and discussion. I think it's important for the Body to understand the context in which these matters are brought before us and the policy reasons for this debate and discussion. I think this is an important bill. I mean, everyone knows, has some idea about it.

"It's all about protecting minority rights in our society, and that's the genesis of this bill and that's the import of it. Well, that's one's right of conscience as a minority, ethnically or culturally or even in a religious practice. I think it's important for me as a Democrat to stand up and defend those rights. So that's the genesis and that's the intention behind this measure.

"The fact that it does not get a public hearing, it concerns me. Because I would think that we would see fit to allow a vigorous discussion and debate on something as fundamental as First Amendment rights. Both the prohibition about the establishment of any religion as well as the freedom to practice one's religion freely, as well as to enjoy the privileges of the First Amendment of the right to free speech, right of press and right of assembly. Because, Mr. Speaker, I just fear that if you accede policies and procedures to the popular or majority rule at that point in time, you may run afoul of losing these basic constitutional rights.

"What this measure would do is basically empower and put some kind of process in place. When one feels that their sincerely held religious beliefs are being infringed upon by government, it doesn't mean that they will win the day. But it gives pause for us to examine whether or not those policies serve a compelling government state interest, which is public health and safety. Then it goes back to them to show that there is a substantial imposition upon their freedom. But it also has to be weighed against the interest of them. Has government enacted policies and procedures to effectuate and advance the public interest in health and welfare, in the least restrictive manner? The least restrictive manner.

"Under the current law of the land, I think from the reading of the testimony submitted by the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission, they are taking the position that was announced in the employment case, the peyote case, or the Smith case back in 1990 – that basically overruled about 40 years of constitutional law regarding conflict between the First Amendment rights and government regulation.

"So what our Congress did under President Clinton, under Senators Akaka and Inouye and Congresspersons Mink and Abercrombie, and signed into law by President Clinton. I think opposed by two members, one Democrat, one Republican. Introduced by and supported by Senator Ted Kennedy and Senator Charles Schumer of New York. Had strong support. When the ACLU, Evangelical groups, the Jewish Federations, all sorts of strange bedfellows, of all stripes and colors across the entire political spectrum, all supported it. Because they were afraid of government telling them how to think and how to act and how to believe and what to believe. Upon something as fundamental as one's freedom of conscience. So that's why I think this is important.

"When I look through the record of the special session and I see the commentary coming in from the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission and the commissioners themselves, I have no doubt in my mind, Mr. Speaker, that they have discarded the Sherbert test, the Yoder test, and they have embraced fully the Smith test, which was a 5-4 decision. Led by then Chief Justice Rehnquist. And again, it was our Congress, our President Clinton, our own Senate leaders that have overthrown that decision by enacting the Religious Freedom Restoration Act.

"Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to thank you for this opportunity to speak here today and to voice my opinion and speak publicly in opposition. And I know you appreciate my sentiment, you appreciate my thoughts, and you appreciate the work that I've done on this measure. I just want to thank you publicly, with my colleagues here to the right and to the left. But again, reluctantly I have to go and oppose this motion to recommit. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to the motion to recommit House Bill No. 1624 to the Committee on Judiciary.

"As evidenced by the successful roll call vote to recall this bill from the Judiciary Committee just moments ago, it is clear that more than one-third of the membership desires action on House Bill No. 1624. As my colleagues from Ewa Beach and Laie have noted, more than 2,500 of our constituents have emailed, phoned, or wrote to us begging for an opportunity to be heard. But to immediately move to recommit this bill back to the Committee that originally bottled up this legislation and effectively killing this bill this session begs the question -- why was the recall provision put into our State Constitution?

"The language found in Article III, Section 12 of the Hawaii State Constitution was initially crafted by the Constitutional Convention of 1950. The words of Delegate Heen are instructive:

"Now the purpose of this amendment is this. If a resolution or a motion is made in a house to have a bill recalled, then that will give the members of the committee the opportunity to state why they haven't been able to act upon that particular bill. They may be considering it, have some difficulty in having hearings, calling witnesses, and so on, and with that explanation I am sure that no one-third of the membership of each house will insist upon such a recall of the bill." [Proceedings of the Constitutional Convention of Hawaii, 1950, p. 224.

"The words of Delegate Kellerman are also instructive:

"This is known as the anti-iceboxing proposal. May I state first that this was introduced not with one third but at a much lower percentage in the Legislative Committee of which I was a member. In that committee there was a vote taken eight to five to recommend to the Rules Committee of the Legislative that it give serious consideration of this measure. I was told immediately after the meeting of the committee by three members of the committee who had voted to refer it to the legislature that they would favor this proposal on the floor with the increase from one-fifth as it had been introduced in the Legislative Committee to one-third. I therefore feel I am justified in saying that I'm of a majority of the Legislative Committee. However, it is not so listed in the committee report. I give that history of the proceedings to justify my statement.

"I think the Committee on Initiative, Referendum and Recall will bear me out in my statement that one of the grounds on which that committee or the majority of that committee voted against recommending to this Convention provision for initiative, referendum and recall was the ground of improving legislative process, of making it more, I shall say more representative, make it perform in a more representative nature to those who elected them and put them in office. It seems to me that it is a violation of the whole theory of democratic representative government that a committee, by virtue of its chairman, or even with a full consent of the majority of the committee, which I presume would be a minority of the house from which it was appointed, shall be able to keep from consideration of the majority of that body any controversial measure which it sees fit to keep from consideration. I think it only just and right that the members of the public who are by our own act of turning down initiative, referendum and recall and on that I am in full agreement with this Convention, denying them the right to bring up a bill of their own accord and force its consideration by the public or the legislature, we should at least provide that by a vote of one-third of the members of the house of referral, any bill can be withdrawn from committee, therefore from any iceboxing by that committee, and at least present it to the floor for full consideration and debate.

"Under our present rules, it takes a majority vote to bring any bill from committee. It's highly improbable that a majority vote could be so obtained unless there was a majority in favor of the bill which needs passage. I fully recognize that a one-third does not mean that you bring up a bill that would necessarily be passed. That is not the point. The point is to get it considered, ample discussion and debate, so that the public who have elected those representatives will know how they stand on controversial issues on which the public certainly has a right to be advised.

*"Any man now can go to any member of the public who has elected him and say, 'I would have voted,' as he knows that individual would have wanted him to vote, 'but the bill never got out of committee.' He can go to the next one on the next block and say the opposite. We have no knowledge of how our representatives vote in committee and if it is kept in committee we have no knowledge on how they would stand on any issue which can be of a great deal of importance to the community."* [Proceedings of the Constitutional Convention of Hawaii, 1950, p. 221] [Emphasis added.]

"Mr. Speaker, let the record reflect that we are indeed discussing the issue of religious freedom today, despite the fact that with the adoption of this motion, House Bill No. 1624, will likely be dead this year. Yes, indeed, the Chair of the Judiciary Committee will be able to throw House Bill No. 1624 back into the icebox and let it rot. But as Delegate Kellerman stated – that the recall of a measure provides Members the opportunity to state their positions on controversial issues – I want to state my position on this bill. I support House Bill No. 1624.

"Regarding the substance of House Bill No. 1624, in rebuttal to my colleague from Chinatown, who noted that the provisions of this bill were debated at length during Second and Third Readings for Senate Bill No. 1, House Draft 1, during the Second Special Session of 2013, he is correct that the provisions contained in this bill mirror numerous floor amendments that were offered on the measure – specifically, Floor Amendments No. 7 (House Journal, p. 30-37), No. 8 (House Journal, p. 37-49), and No. 9 (House Journal, p. 49-58) offered on Wednesday, November 6, 2013, and Floor Amendments No. 18 (House Journal, p. 106-110), No. 19 (House Journal, p. 110-114), No. 20 (House Journal, p. 114-119), No. 21 (House Journal, p. 120-123), and No. 22 (House Journal, p. 123-129) offered on Friday, November 8, 2013.

"But he fails to state the fact that the provisions of this bill were never put before our citizenry during a public hearing, and as such, we were never able to determine whether there is sufficient public sentiment warranting these provisions, nor more importantly, why they feel these provisions are so important. Similarly, the Members of this Body were denied an opportunity to learn or become educated about how this measure interacts with our constitutional rights and government regulation and public policy. Given that most Members are not legally schooled and most attorneys are not familiar with the intricacies and nuances of federal and state constitutional law, I would not expect most of my colleagues to easily comprehend or appreciate the merits or policies of a 'little' Religious Freedom Restoration Act. Understanding of these kinds of dense, constitutional and legal principles does not come easy to most and only through serious and deliberate thought may one comprehend and realize its value to personal liberty and civil rights.

"For the Chair to argue that the issues have been 'litigated' or vetted in a public hearing is simply not true. Most of us -- even freshmen -- understand the difference between a public hearing and public debate. My colleague from Chinatown is comparing apples to oranges.

"As the primary sponsor of this bill, I believe this is important legislation that must be enacted to protect our most basic and fundamental rights guaranteed by Article I, Section 4 and 5 of the Hawaii State Constitution, and the First Amendment of the Federal Constitution.

"Should we as Democrats not champion the rights of the minority? Have we so easily forgotten our Democratic Party of Hawaii's roots?

"Mr. Speaker, our constituents deserve to be heard. Deserve to be respected. Mr. Speaker, a sufficient number of the membership have successfully recalled this bill from the Judiciary Committee. Do not silence these constituents now by killing this bill. To do so is a disservice to our people and it makes a mockery of our legislative process.

"For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to oppose this motion."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the motion and asked that the remarks of Representatives Oshiro, Jordan, Fale and Ward be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion to recommit HB 1624 back to the House Judiciary Committee.

"In light of the unprecedented 2,500 emails requesting a hearing, it is quite clear that HB 1624 is a measure that is worthy of a hearing. With such strong public support of this measure, it is confusing that the Judiciary Committee Chair has chosen to sit on the bill, and why this Chamber would consider killing the bill by sending it back to the same committee.

"As elected officials, we were sent to the Legislature to pass good legislation. Instead, this Chamber appears to be obstructing the passage of good legislation that the people of Hawaii have asked for. Many of my colleagues on this Floor like to use the tired mantra 'rising tides float all boats'. When one minority group benefits, we are all collectively enriched by the results. But in the case of HB 1624, this Chamber has chosen to erect a sea wall hoping to hold back the tide of the direct petition of 2,500 people, asking for HB 1624 to have a hearing.

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to reiterate – I thought it was our job to advance good legislation. If so, then HB 1624 should not be suffocated and left to die in the Judiciary Committee. I choose not to stand in the way of good legislation. I choose not to stand in the way of the people's will, and accordingly I oppose the motion to recommit HB 1624.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to the motion to recommit HB 1624. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the motion and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion to recommit HB 1624 to the Committee on Judiciary. The measure is intended to, '(1) Protect religious freedom and liberty by ensuring that no clergy or other officer of any religious organization will be required to solemnize any marriage, in accordance with the Hawaii State Constitution and the United States Constitution; and (2) Harmonize the right of equal protection under the law for same-sex couples with the equally important right to the free exercise of religion.'

"Mr. Speaker, by sending this measure back to committee, it is clear that discussion on this measure is being cut off on the Floor of the House. I do not feel that this is the right thing to do; to silence the conversation on this measure, in this way. The public is not being served well by recommitting this measure back to the Committee on Judiciary, without first allowing the topic to be discussed on the Floor of this House.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion to recommit HB 1624 to the Committee on Judiciary."

Representative Fukumoto rose in opposition to the motion and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to recommit HB 1624 to the House Judiciary Committee. With many Representatives, including myself, having received nearly 2,500 emails from constituents expressing their desire for this bill to be heard, I believe it should be given the opportunity. The people are simply asking for a hearing and for their opinions to be heard.

"Many bills are easily dismissed and tossed aside, but when the measure is of such importance to the people we speak for that they are petitioning just to have it heard, we should listen. They trust us to be their voices in this Body, and to maintain that trust it is our obligation to show them we are listening.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1624, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EQUAL RIGHTS," was recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Choy, Fale, Fukumoto, Har, Ito, Johanson, Jordan, Matsumoto, McDermott, Oshiro, Say, Tokioka, Tsuji and Ward with Representatives Awana, Cachola, Carroll, Hanohano and Takumi being excused.

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support and if I may say some brief words. Mr. Speaker, I normally don't stand up on bills on Second Reading, but I wanted to bring to the attention of the House that we have a number of bills, including this one, that seek to address the F grade that we have gotten nationally for our dental care, and particularly for our dental care for our keiki.

"This is a bill that has been worked on with the Department of Health. We have sought a lot of stakeholder input. We are beginning to have conversations with the Hawaii Primary Care Association, schools, the Department of Education. So this particular bill, House Bill 2457, which would establish and do a pilot program for a school-based dental sealant program, is a very thoughtful approach to begin to address, again, the F grade that we have nationally.

"There are going to be a number of other bills that I will stand up and speak about, but I believe that, again, this is something that we all be very proud of at the end of the day. So, I urge the folks to take a look at the testimony, to see the testimony that was provided by all the stakeholders, including the Hawaii Dental Association. And see that their comments were not in fact addressed on point to the language of the bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a brief comment. The issue of increasing the minimum wage is one thing, but the idea of deleting a credit, tip credit, I just can't imagine where that's coming from. So, if anybody has some insight. Having been a bell boy when I was a student, making sometimes up to $50 an hour, that would save money for the employer if there was a credit to reduce my per hour wage and let me take my $50 an hour. Some people make even more than that.

"The point is, we want people to hire more people in our economy, we want to stimulate the economy. This does the exact opposite. It gives a little bit of a minimum wage on others, but for those who could actually put more money into the employers pocket to give more wages to the others, we're eliminating the tip credit. Some states have $5 tip credit, $4, $7. We have zero. Mr. Speaker, this is really retro policy making. That's a major, major oversight. Thank you."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. I also have brief comments. Thank you. I wanted to stand, and this is certainly one of the foremost issues emerging this legislative session, both in this Body as well as in the Senate. One of the reasons I wanted to make some brief comments is, I continue to support the concept of a minimum wage as an anti-poverty measure. And I think we need to do more to reduce poverty. So, I do support this in concept.

"My concern though, is this bill has three incremental rises of $0.75 each and thereafter. The pegging of it to the Consumer Price Index may leave something to be desired for small businesses, who not only have to weather those incremental increases, but then have to adjust to, and albeit probably marginal, small fluctuations in the rate, because the CPI just usually goes up. It's still something that is another onus placed on business.

"I'm glad to see that we are considering a lot of other anti-poverty measures. And what I would just ask this Body to continue to do more of, is not to concede that the cost of living and the cost of doing business must remain high, so we come up with stop-gap mechanisms to cope with that, but to continue to try to earnestly tackle the root causes of a high cost of living and a high cost of doing business, rather than looking at ways to compensate for that. Thereby, conceding that those conditions will always exist. Thank you."

Representative Say rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition, and I hope that this House will use the bill that is in conference at this point in time."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll rise in support with reservations. I think the Members who have spoken before kind of brought to bear some of the concerns with the CPI, automatic adjustment for the CPI, the incremental increase, and then the elimination of the tip credit which is now at $0.25. Speaker Emeritus alluded to a bill that's in conference right now, that would actually increase the tip credit, which hasn't been raised, I think, for maybe 20 or 25 years, or something like that. But it's been a long time.

"So, I think those are the concerns that we have. The fact that it's not in anyone's Majority package or Minority package is of concern to me. I don't know how much of a priority this measure is to this Body or the other Chamber, but I do hope we come and end the session with some kind of minimum wage. I think it's long in coming. The last time we did this was back in 2005, Mr. Speaker. I think you might recall that. We let the minimum wage go up to $7.25 over three years. So from 2005, 2006, and 2007 it went up by, basically to $7.25, where it has been for the last six and a half, seven years.

"So I hope we can get this minimum wage bill out. It's very important for many people, many of my constituents. It's the right thing to do. Maybe some adjustment on the CPI, and maybe some adjustment on the tip credit might bring all the parties together. So, I hope this bill gets out and we have a chance to vote on a final bill with concurrence from the Senate. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to point out that there are a number of states that don't have any tip credit at all and some of them are the highest minimum wage states in the country. Oregon and Washington, for example, have no tip credit. The concerns about the CPI, I would welcome the CPI just so we don't have to have this debate every five years. It would basically take the issue off the table permanently and provide a fair wage, assuming that we've picked the right number now, it will provide a fair wage far into the future. Thanks."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Say and Oshiro be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to stand in strong support of this measure. I ask for permission to submit written comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 2011. Among other things, this bill would authorize the issuance of revenue bonds for the purchase of certain agricultural lands situated near Wahiawa, Central Oahu.

"The Trust for Public Land (TPL) is currently working with one of the largest renewable energy companies in the world to purchase nearly 20,000 acres of land owned by Dole Foods LLC in the North Shore of Oahu, extending to Wahiawa, Central Oahu, and adjacent to recently purchased lands formerly owned by the Galbraith Estate. These lands include prime agricultural land, watershed lands that produce our drinking water, lands that are the scenic gateway to the North Shore, and lands that are important habitat for dozens of endangered and threatened plant and animal species.

"It is anticipated that it will take between three to five years to raise funds to purchase the lands. The renewable energy company does not yet have a contract nor a deal with Dole, but hopes to have a tentative deal or letter of intent with Dole before the end of this Legislative Session.

"Using the conveyance of the Galbraith Estate to the state last year as its model, TPL is working with the Agribusiness Development Corporation (ADC) and the Department of Land and Natural Resources to raise other sources of funding so that the burden is not entirely on the state. Purchasing this parcel will be a complex and difficult transaction, but this bill will provide ADC with the regulatory and fiscal flexibility to achieve the goal of conserving all of these very important lands.

"For these reasons, I strongly urge your favorable consideration of this bill."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and I would like to have permission to enter written comments into the Journal."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Hawaii-grown coffee is known worldwide for its high quality and aromatic flavor. The coffee not only evokes a sense of place to the travelers that taste it, the coffee also is held to a set of high quality standards, which makes it one of the most expensive coffees in the world.

"For the farmers, it's about truth-in-labeling and protecting the integrity of the fifth most valuable agricultural commodity in the state. Hawaii is the only place in the United States where coffee is grown. It is in the best interest of the state to protect the perception of the quality of Hawaii's coffee from being diluted by counterfeit coffee of lesser quality.

"Stricter enforcement on the labeling restrictions based on the quality of the coffee being sold is critical to prevent counterfeiting of Hawaii's recognized high quality coffee. Moreover, the criminal penalties for false labeling should apply not only to cherry, parchment, and green coffee, but also to roasted coffee.

"For these aforementioned reasons, I strongly support this measure."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker, and I would like to say a few comments. Parenting has always been and will always be an intensive activity. People get married to have children and raise them, with both a mother and a father, because it gives children the healthiest and best environment for their development. Divorce doesn't change the benefit of having both a mother and father, and two parents parenting is consistently better than either one parent.

"In order for parents to effectively parent, they also need to have adequate time with their children. This is the difference between scientific research and advocacy. Unfortunately, it has taken 40 years of research to discover something that should have been obvious. What advantage do you give a child by effectively removing a parent? Children raised without both parents are far more likely to get involved in drugs, truancy, drop out of school, suffer from depression, and get involved in early sexual promiscuous behavior. And at the end of the day, children love both parents and want to spend time with both.

"In regards to the bill, Mr. Speaker, all the bill is asking for, that not unless there is clear, convincing evidence that both parents cannot be involved, that both parents should be. Clear, convincing evidence otherwise. I'm happy that we are here discussing this matter, because as a matter of fact, whether we like it or not, 53 percent of all marriages end up in divorce. And that effects the very core outcome of our citizens. That is the value of our parenting. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

All those people who try to make a living in Hawaii, one of the lowest wage states, highest taxed states in the nation. This is going to take away from their subsistence. I know the state always needs money, but we never have enough money. So this is just another way of grabbing at the families of Hawaii that need their own money. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. For those reasons, no."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in strong support. This is a bill that I've been putting in many, many times. What it does is, it collects taxes on the people who sell products into our state, via mail order or internet. This is not a tax increase. It never was, it never will be. They're paying taxes that they're supposed to have been paying. So I don't see how this can be portrayed as a tax increase. And I'm going to save the rest of my comments when I debate my good friend from Hawaii Kai on Third Reading. Thank you."

Representative Fale's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 1651, a measure that creates an Internet sales tax in the State of Hawaii. Mr. Speaker, it is my belief that a new tax such as this will drive up the cost of living in Hawaii and that Hawaii will become a more expensive place to live for everyone.

"It should be noted that the State of Hawaii Department of Taxation testified to the House Committee on the Judiciary that: 'H.B. 1651 is unnecessary at this time because there is a question as to whether such statutes are allowable under Federal law.'

"For these reasons Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 1651."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this makes raising property taxes of the counties a self-fulfilling prophecy, because they are going to borrow against it, and therefore if they don't reach it they cannot amortize their loans. So those who think that this is going to be good is basically saying that it's increasing the residents in our districts, their property taxes, with an inevitable increase. Not because of recessions or because of booms. It's going to say, 'we borrowed against these, therefore we have to increase our property taxes.' This is not wise policy-making. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2167, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLE VII, SECTIONS 12 AND 13, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION TO AUTHORIZE THE COUNTIES TO ISSUE TAX INCREMENT BONDS AND TO EXCLUDE TAX INCREMENT BONDS FROM DETERMINATIONS OF THE FUNDED DEBT OF THE COUNTIES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives McDermott, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Carroll and Takumi being excused.

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote with a comment. Mr. Speaker, the easiest business to get into are bars, restaurants, and I think it's cosmetologists. They're easy to get into, and they're the quickest to fail. This puts the price of going into a restaurant and the fines that you would receive, if you broke some of the Department of Health laws, up to $3,000. That's excessive.

"For the mom and poppers out there, this is really a small business issue. These other ones that were mentioned earlier, they're not the small, small. These are the small, small guys. And this is going to hurt them. It's going to go a 200 percent increase from a $1,000 fine, potentially up at least to $3,000. So, for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, this is really for the small business person."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just want to point out that the Department of Health had actually asked for an increase to $10,000, and we declined to do that at the Judiciary Committee. We increased it simply by the rate of the inflation since the last time the number was set. It hadn't been reset since 1980. So, $3,000 is approximately the increase. $3,000 is basically keeping it the same as it was in 1980. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Just brief comments. First of all, I wanted to thank the chair. We had extensive debate in the hearing on this measure. Really, what it came down to was the Department of Health recognizing. And actually, they said, 'look at the facts, we have not actually assessed any businesses.' They actually give any restaurant or business that is in violation a chance to cure the breach. And so, really, the issue was some of these big players, these bad actors, that the $1,000 fine was not in fact enough of a disincentive. So, all they asked for was the increase up to $10,000, so they could in fact dangle it as a serious carrot, that these violations are very real.

"Many comments came up regarding the small business owners, and the fact that if you were to assess them $10,000, they would not be able to pay that amount and would therefore be put out of business. So, Director Gill basically said, 'look at the facts, look back at our history. We have never in fact fined anyone unless it was absolutely egregious.' And then there was some talk about, that a small mom-and-pop could still commit the same violations. So, we had a lot of discussion.

"I am in support of this bill, but I do have reservations, but I will vote in support of the bill, because I know the chair worked very hard on this. My only concern is tying it to the CPI. I know he did that fairly, the $1,000 to the $3,000, because it was tied to the CPI. But I do think that this is something that we need to continue discussing. And to automatically tie it to the CPI in the future, I think takes it out of the hands of the Legislature. Again, if this is not a violation that's absolutely needed, then why would we automatically tie it to the CPI. But for those reasons, I'm in support. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, also in opposition. I would remind this Body that we aren't the Executive Branch, we are not the servants of them. We are the Legislative Branch. We are to keep accountable the Executive Branch. We are not to serve the Executive Branch, we are here to serve our constituents. Those mom and poppers, those residents, those citizens who participate. But if we're just here to implement the Executive Branch, I don't think we're doing our duties.

"So what I hear of the reasons why we're doing this is because the Executive Branch said so. Well, our job is to keep them accountable. Our job is to keep the policy level that guides them to be sound. So to say that because they said so is why we should do it, I don't think that's a valid reason. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "Mr. Speaker, still with strong reservations in regards to this bill. There were some changes that were made to the bill, Mr. Speaker, but my biggest concern in regards to this measure was the fact that none of the communities that are going to be directly impacted by the renewable energy effort have been consulted in the process of putting these efforts forward.

"As you may know, Mr. Speaker, the nation of Great Britain has banned any further use of windmills in their country because of the impact that the windmills have had.

"Out on my side of the community, Mr. Speaker, the residents there are extremely frustrated that these enormous machines have been put in without the community being consulted prior to that. And that was because of decisions that were made 10 or 15 years ago. And we know that the Governor is walking down the path of purchasing 20,000 acres of land, Mr. Speaker, to also put windmills in central and north Oahu. And that is a very great concern, Mr. Speaker. We need to make sure that communities that are directly impacted are consulted, long before we make any commitments to any of these efforts, Mr. Speaker. Representative Fale rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be voting with reservations. Just for the edification of membership, I think the concern that was raised by the insurance commissioner in restricting the calculation of the rates for individual plans, group plans of 50 or more with what they refer to as community rating, may have an adverse effect upon certain age groups and populations. I think that's the concern. Other than that, it looks okay. But I think that's the main objection in this current draft.

"I do appreciate the work of the Health Chair. I know what she's trying to do with a series of bills relating to the connector, and it's not an easy job to do. But I just wanted to highlight that particular question at this point in time raised by the insurance commissioner. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my reservations. Please note that my reservation is regarding the community rating, that one of the pools of risk that cannot be used to determine rates would be tobacco use. I think because tobacco use is a voluntary issue and has been proven to be linked to cancer, the people choose to do that and they should also choose to pay a higher premium rate than those that are worried about their health. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ruling on a potential conflict. I am a broker of health insurance. Thank you. Can this apply to the whole session? Thank you."

The Chair addressed Representative Takai, stating:

"No conflict. Yes. Thank you very much, Representative."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just want to acknowledge the comments that were received, because this is a tricky issue, and it's more about trying to keep a vehicle in play. But, it's also to address something that is occurring, which is why I put the numbers for the connector enrollment into the committee report. And I'd like everybody to look at this, particularly small business people.

"This session, it wasn't like we were sitting there going, 'hey, let's look at the community rating age banding.' It was because the businesses and the professionals who work with them had serious concerns. Concerns that a collision between our Prepaid Health Care Act and age banding could be occurring. Specifically, when the rate increase happens for those older workers, Mr. Speaker, of which many are in our small businesses. A lot of employers faced with these costs are looking to perhaps move people down to 19 hours or less, which caused a concern that these individuals would then go to the connector, thereby disproportionally increasing the risk pool of these older individuals when the whole intent of the connector was to attract the uninsured 'immortals'. Which you can see by the numbers isn't happening.

"So, given that this trend is occurring, and given the concern from the business community, we wanted to put into play a couple of vehicles to look at both the age banding issue, as well as community rating. So we'll continue to work hard on this issue, and in the end, if it is in the best interest of the people of Hawaii not to move forward, and particularly if we get these federal exemptions, we won't need to move forward.

"But I think to not acknowledge this issue and have this discussion would be not able to fully include all of the businesses, many of whom have older employees. And this does affect them. Thank you very much."

Representative Souki rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to state I have a potential conflict of interest. I'm of the age where I would be affected by this insurance," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Souki continued in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2525, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH INSURANCE RATES," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Cachola, Carroll and Takumi being excused.

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I just say a few words why I am with reservations at this point. Mr. Speaker, as a small businessman, with this increase in this mandated benefit, it is going to increase the cost to my healthcare insurance premium, and I think the Members of this House should realize it. From the ObamaCare passage, it has increased the healthcare premiums by 3 to 4 percent. With this particular measure it may increase it by 4 to 5 percent given by the testimony by the Chamber of Commerce. And with the support with reservations on the minimum wage that was before us, it really cumulatively may impact a lot of small businesses today. That is why I am going with reservations, even though I do support some coverage for autism.

"If there could be a trade-off in the benefit package that is presented to all of us, that would be great. Meaning, for this autistic mandated benefit, you can give up this particular mandated benefit. In closing, the Members of this House would have to realize this. We are all employers. We pay for the healthcare insurance premiums of our workers and yourselves. So if this mandated benefit increases the employer's contribution for both employee and employer, I just wanted the Members of the House to be aware of the costs. So thank you very much for why I'm with reservations at this point."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Say be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2174, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Cachola, Carroll and Takumi being excused.

Representative Choy rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong support. The mantra of my office is, 'solar on every roof'. This bill gets closer to that because it's promoting storage, i.e. batteries. The vision is to do for the electrical industry what the computers did in the 80s with the computers. Instead of mainframes, Mr. Speaker, they went into PCs.

"What we've got now is the old dinosaur of the huge power plants. In the long run, the vision is that they are backup generators, not primary producers. The producers are all of us. We're in micro-grids. And this bill gets to that. It gives an incentive, which is probably why my colleague from Manoa doesn't like it. But this is the future. This is taking the mainframe and saying, 'let's go to the PC.' History is in the making, and I think this bill is part of that. It's revolutionary. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 2618, HD2, a measure that 'Establishes an income tax credit for each grid-connected energy storage property that is installed and placed in service in the state during the taxable year beginning after December 31, 2014.'

"My concern is that this measure primarily benefits property owners who will receive tax credits for 'each grid-connected energy storage property.' Those who are not property owners, along with property owners who do not have the financial resources, will not be able to take advantage of the tax credit in this measure.

"In addition, Mr. Speaker, it should be noted that Hermina Morita, Chair, Public Utilities Commission, testified before the House Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection that: 'The Commission cautions the Legislature in selecting one type of technology to incentivize over others.'

"For these reasons Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 2618, HD2."

Representative Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I need to disclose a potential conflict of interest. I own some shares of stock in Hawaiian Electric Company," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Oshiro continued to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'll be entering a reservations vote on this measure. My reservations basically stem from the fact that many of the credits we've been looking at over the last several years, and in fact this session, seem to subsidize the investment of those who have the means to afford these systems at the expense of those who are not enjoying the benefit of these systems. That's the reason for my concern. But I'll wait to see the decision of the Finance Committee. Thank you very much."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I would just like to note that the tax credit only applies to utility-sized battery backup storage systems, or storage systems. I'm a member of KIUC. Our grid is far more modernized than the grid from HECO. So, part of the grid modernization is being able to have storage. With storage, you can have more interconnection and it ultimately could lower your rates. So, in support."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I would just like the words of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thanks," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Kanalua, because I'm the only one, I'm on geothermal, and I didn't see any decrease in my electric. We have a lot of solar in the Puna area. Like the Representative from Wahiawa said, it's only those that could have afforded it in that time. Right now, people that are waiting to get it, they're not going to get all of those tax credits. So that's why I'm voting with reservations. Mahalo."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just to add to the comments from the Representative from Kauai, having more storage on the grid will allow projects like solar photovoltaic on rooftops at utilities scale, geothermal and other things to be able to create a diversified grid which would allow more savings and more flexibility in the grid, so that homeowners can take advantage of this, save money. I'd just like to ask for the words of the Representative from Hawaii Kai to be inserted into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "My concern Mr. Speaker, is that there will be a significant negative impact on business and employment in Hawaii as a result of this measure.

"Mr. Speaker, there were a number of organizations that testified before the House Committee on Consumer Protection and Commerce in opposition to the measure including: State of Hawaii Department of Human Resources Development and the General Contractors Association of Hawaii.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations regarding HB 1961, HD2."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and just a brief comment. I think the chair has tried to do a very good job in mitigating what could be a problem if you have an unscrupulous employer, who is unfairly sending someone, an employee, to someone who is not a specialist. However, I do just worry that this, in trying to correct for a problem of which scope I'm unclear on, that what may end up happening is ultimately sacrificing the employer's prerogative to have a check mechanism on potentially fraudulent claims. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. I'll be voting with reservations on this measure. My concern basically arises, there are several other bills dealing with the health connector, whether or not we're going to be undertaking responsibility of a currently not-for-profit private organization under the auspices of the State of Hawaii. And I think that's one of the biggest issues facing us this session.

"I think the Chair of the Health Committee has done an admirable job of moving discussion along on this issue. But it's a tough one. I think people need to pay attention to it. It's a big decision on what we do with the health connector. How do we pay for it going forward, and where do you find the $15 million a year to support this program. So, I think it's very important, but the reservations that I lay on right now is based upon the fee and what we would do, ultimately, with the health connector. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I will reserve most of my comments for Third Reading, but I hope the people will look at what we are doing in this latest version of the bill. Particularly, our outreach to the private sector and to small businesses, like Colorado has done, Mr. Speaker. As well as providing a mechanism for zero-based budgeting for the connector to reveal what exactly, how many dollars they need. And also to present a revenue picture to this legislative oversight committee, just like Colorado has.

"The insurance commissioner would then go ahead and take this information. And if needed, and this is a big departure from the discussion that's happening elsewhere, because this federally mandated, and I will repeat that word a million times this session, this federally mandated sustainability fee, in this latest draft, we have made discretionary, Mr. Speaker. We've put in strong transparency and oversight on there, and we provide a mechanism whereby this connector can still remain a not-for-profit business entity.

"However, with this instrumentality of the state language, we are hopeful that they can facilitate the working relationship with the state agencies, which has so far been hampered by attorney general rulings. But I appreciate the comments of everybody on the Floor and will continue to work with you to address them, so that hopefully we will have a bill that will reflect everybody's positions. That the community has a connector, if we're forced to have it for the next two years, will do what it's supposed to do, and not cost money, and not be this cloud of mystique, which has baffled everybody, including yours truly. Thank you very much."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with a few remarks. I do want to thank the Chair of the Consumer Protection Committee. This really is a work in progress as we stated, as this has moved along. I do want to point out to the Members and emphasize and echo what the previous speaker said, that this bill has already changed dramatically.

"In the first iteration of this bill we did have the health connector becoming a state agency, but after further conferencing with more of the stakeholders involved, including the Attorney General's office. This has now morphed into keeping the health connector as a not-for-profit, but bringing, as the previous speaker said, more transparency, accountability and sustainability to the organization.

"I would just like to remind Members that we cannot afford to lose the health connector, because our only option then would be to place those folks who are going to the health connector onto the federal exchange, which may not be equipped to handle our specific needs under the Prepaid Health Care Act. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm looking at this description here of the bill. It creates a public funding program of candidates for the offices of State Representatives. I think a request to rule on a potential conflict of interest might be at hand. I'm a current Representative. I might be entitled to the benefits as set forward in this measure, should it become law," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

And with the hope that, as this measure progresses, that we insist upon an evaluative study or at least an analysis of what we did when we publicly funded the elections on the Big Island. We need to have some data and some foundation to stand on as we went through this process, instead of making it up as we go. I think what we did was fund it, and there's data, but it hasn't been analyzed or at least I haven't seen anything that's been produced. So with that Mr. Speaker, let's follow it as it goes."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a no vote on this measure? I actually believe that what this particular measure is doing is watering down present legislation that has really designated important ag lands for the people in the State of Hawaii and future generations. You are now allowing permissible uses in IAL, important ag lands. That's the reason why I am voting no at this point in time."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Kako'o 'ole. In opposition. Makemake au ka ha'i 'ōlelo no ka luna maka'āinana mai Palolo Valley. Mahalo. And I would like the words of my colleague from Palolo Valley. Mahalo," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my reservations. May I please have the words of the Speaker Emeritus entered into the Journal as if they were my own, and just one brief comment. While the permitted uses may seem innocuous, the fact of the matter is that we worked on important agricultural lands for quite some time, this Legislature did. Once you start opening up, it creates a very slippery slope, and now all of a sudden everybody else can get in, and there goes, you defeated the entire purpose for IAL. For those reasons, I stand with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict first? My son, who works for Island Insurance as a claims adjuster, is one of those who have applied for the 801 South King Street, and the parent company, Island Insurance, is the parent company of Trade Winds LLC, which is the financier of this workforce housing. May I also make a request that for all other Hawaii Community Development Authority measures before this Body, that the ruling that you have just stated, that there is 'no conflict', will follow through the whole session."

The Chair addressed Representative Say, stating:

"No conflict. That will be the ruling so long as there are no direct contractual negotiations by you with the company that relates to a bill before us. Direct contractual negotiations."

Representative Say: "I have no communication with the company, it's just that my son is an applicant."

Vice Speaker Mizuno: "Therefore, in that case, the ruling will probably stand throughout the entire session."

Representative Say continued to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, at this time on Stand Com. Report Number 544-14, House Bill Number 1863, House Draft 1, my opposition is primarily with this current draft, because there is an attorney general's statement that on this particular measure in regards to lawsuits, the bill authorizes 'any person acting as a private attorney general' to commence a civil lawsuit against HCDA if HCDA fails to perform any act or duty required under Part II of Chapter 206E, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

"This provision is unnecessary. A means of redress already exists. A person aggrieved by an action or decision of HCDA may seek declaratory judgment pursuant to Chapter 632, Hawaii Revised Statutes. In addition, Members of the House, the provision that 'any person', any person may bring suit, is too broad. Standings should only be conferred on those persons who are actually aggrieved or by an action or decision of HCDA. I would like to submit this for the record in my opposition to this measure. Thank you very much."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with very, very strong reservations. And may I have the words of the Speaker Emeritus adopted as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting against this measure. I'd also like to have the record reflect the words of the Speaker Emeritus. I think his commentary from the attorney general's comment upon the draft and what this means to create a private right of action. Our great colleague, the former Majority Leader, would always say, 'read the bill.'

"Since it's any person, and that's a very broad description, who can bring a cause of action as a private attorney general. Those who may not practice or be familiar with the private attorney general concept, it basically means that a private party becomes, steps into the shoe of the attorney general to bring enforcement under law, under code, as if that person and that party was representing the State of Hawaii as an attorney general. It also means that they will be compensated, there might be some fees and costs that might be incurred in the litigation that might go to those parties as maybe they should be.

"My concern is that this could create unnecessary litigation. Add to the cost of state taxpayers. Unnecessarily burden a project in place or a proceeding in place. Actually abridge some of the rights of the current participants who are going through the current process in disputing the actions of the Hawaii Community Development Authority.

"So I think this measure right here is unnecessary right now. I think there is a remedy available. And I think it could expose the state taxpayers to unnecessary expense and costs."

Representative Oshiro then rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Also, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to ask for a potential ruling of conflict of interest. If this measure is passed as written, it might give us opportunities to be counsel or take these types of cases and receive compensation from them. Thank you very much," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I request a ruling on a potential conflict? I am an attorney and I do conduct a business in land use and real estate development litigation. Therefore, I agree, if this law were to pass, I would actually get a lot more business, so for those reasons, I'd like to request a ruling on a potential conflict," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har continued in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Say be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1863, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Hanohano, Har, Oshiro and Say voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Nakashima and Takumi being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support of having the legislative auditor do a fiscal and management audit of the authority. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1865, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Nakashima and Takumi being excused.

Representative Evans, for the Committee on Water & Land, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 546-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1867, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1867, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Souki.

Representative Say rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say's written remarks are as follows:

"Aloha Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to H.B. 1867, HD 1 which hampers the continual development of the HCDA district. To legislate the technical aspects of any development will tie the hands of the authority. As an example:

1) Building proximity
2) Height limitation
3) Mauka/Makai orientation restrictions
4) Infrastructure review procedures for development application
5) Taking away the flexibility for the Authority granting 'Variances'; 'Exemptions'; and Modifications for building maximum floor area ratios.

"I might consider establishing methods to ensure that the agency fairly and efficiently incorporate public engagement and participation in the review procedures, but I am uncomfortable in having this Body micro-manage the technical matter relating to the above examples, and assuming that development rules shall follow the 'one-size-fits-all rule' is ridiculous.

"For all intents and purposes, the HCDA is following the law that it was set up to do. They are building the Kakaako that the community past and present and future generations want and need. And so the Legislature should not try to insert itself into the situation, since we the Legislature is ill-equipped in understanding all that it takes to develop smart growth. Please consider carefully what you really want for Kakaako and the County of Oahu when ill-conceived measures such as H.B. 1867, HD 1 moves forward. Thank you very much for your time.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Mr. Speaker, very strong reservations."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support, and if I might make some remarks, please? Mr. Speaker, over the course of the last few months, as a Representative of the neighboring district to Kakaako, community members in my district have raised very, very serious concerns about the pace with which development and approvals and exemptions are being granted in the Kakaako development. We have had numerous hearings over the summer. We have tried to get information from the relevant state agencies, and we have not as a community received enough information as to whether or not there is sufficient sewer capacity, traffic studies, school infrastructure, parks. And I'll note, not noted in this bill, even any indication if we have the health capacity, the health infrastructure to deal with the 30,000 new residents that they're expecting in the Kakaako area.

"I support the efforts in this measure and look forward to this moving forward. I think that for the residents of the urban core, this is a serious issue. The Representatives of the district have done their due diligence in trying to get the correct answers and have not been satisfied with the incomplete answers we have been given at this point. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations and a few brief remarks. I do recognize, a lot of the provisions in this bill, I do support. But I just have some concerns about the specifics for building proximity, height and orientation. I think that it's a dangerous road to go down for the Legislature to start micromanaging planning, and that it might not result in the best projects going forward. Thank you."

Representative Say rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker and Members of this House, still in opposition, but let me start off by saying this. I am respectful for the sponsor of these measures in vetting this particular issue. For those who spent the seven hours, thank you very much, the chair from West Hawaii. For those who stayed all the way through, thank you very much in learning about the authority.

"It was 37 years ago, this authority was created, when there was a tiff between Mayor Frank Fasi and Governor Ariyoshi to determine who was going to redevelop the Kakaako area, which was a very blighted area. Floods, et cetera, et cetera. But more importantly, for those who were not on Earth at that time, or born, it was a dump. It was a county municipal landfill, that this Body, after 37 years, has rejuvenated it, redeveloped it to its potential.

"Yes, there may be critics out there saying the infrastructure is not compliant or the infrastructure is not up-to-date. I disagree with you, those naysayers. You, in this Body, appropriated over $250 million in capital improvement, General Obligation bonds. You, this Body, put in the sewer lines, the water lines, the electric conduits, so that we, as a Body, 37 years ago had that vision of redeveloping Kakaako.

"I am one that is not very happy, and I've shared this with a lot of Members. From Atkinson to Ward, I don't like that retail commercial, Mr. Speaker, on Ala Moana Boulevard. But it is progress. I respect the tenants who came out on Saturday, 200 plus. But more importantly, didn't they know, if they had a vacant parcel in front of them and a vacant parcel in the back of them, that someday in the future these condominiums or apartments would be built. And that's where I've stated for the record, I am proud. Why? You're going to have 4,000 more units of rentals. I was privileged, for the Members of this House, to visit the Halekauwila project, which is a rental project."

Representative Fale rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Thank you very much. For 215 units, rentals, based on the area medium income. But, if you saw the classified ads for a three bedroom apartment at $1,300 a month, I consider that very reasonable. For a two bedroom, $750-$800 a month, that is very, very reasonable. These are the people I am fighting for, Mr. Speaker. Those who don't have the voice now because they don't know if they're going to qualify or not. These are the people from the Leeward Coast, Central Oahu, who want to move into town if they have a job here, where you can lower the carbon monoxide by having less cars on the road. These are the people, the younger generation. I have an email from a young lady, who said that she qualified for that 801 at 28 years old for a one bedroom unit.

"My point to you this afternoon, Mr. Speaker. Where are we, as a Legislative Body, going to create or build more homes? I've said on this Floor for the past six years that this Body has tried its best in increasing the number of units by having a bill increasing the set-aside of 30 percent of all units that a developer builds. That particular measure has always died in the other Chamber. And I can respect their decision.

"My point to you and the Members of this Body, are we catching up with the housing situation that has exasperated a lot of our local residents? Meaning, the millennia generation. I truly hope this Body will consider, because it is a big issue, that we try to support the other agencies that are building homes. The Department of Hawaiian Home Lands, the Housing Finance Development Corporation, OHA, and other state agencies."

Representative McDermott rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say continued, stating:

"I think we all recognize that it is a crisis throughout the state. Maui County, my fellow colleagues, I recall that the city council made it 50/50. 50 percent market, 50 percent residential. And they didn't get anywhere. But today we have an opportunity, because this authority has extracted over 4,000 units from these particular projects that were approved last year in their development plans.

"As some of my friends have said, 'Calvin, when we were growing up, when you were campaigning in the 70's, we could see Waikiki from Saint Louis Heights and Maunalani Heights and Wilhelmina Rise. Today, we can't even see the shoreline.' But I respect that. I tell them why at the end of the day, we had to make a tough decision, if we're going to support tourism or not. And I've said this on the Floor and at the neighborhood boards, and I said it at the hearing. Maybe I'm selfish. I don't want condominiums and apartments in the 20th District. 'Not in my backyard.' But our forefathers had the vision to create this authority to redevelop it. And we today have put in a quarter of a billion dollars of improvements.

"So, are we going to stop here or are we going to move forward? That is the concern and those are my feelings about why this type of issue should not be before this Body. Yes, you may say I led the charge in Kakaako Makai. But remember, Members of this House, it was state lands. It was state lands, not private ownership. I've talked to General Growth until they went bankrupt, where Howard Hughes took over all of Ward. The authority has done an excellent job in extracting that 4,000 units. If you folks don't want the 4,000, where do you folks want to go?

"I've said to people, 'no, enough is enough on the Leeward side in dumping those that can least afford a home.' I don't want to see it, from the Housing Committee Chair, more and more hidden homeless. I don't want to see one of my colleagues be in the paper again with a sledgehammer. Excuse me, I didn't mention his name."

Representative Brower rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say continued, stating:

"But what I'm getting at. I have the highest regards for the sponsor of the measures, because he is representing his constituency and his voters. But maybe these 4,000 units that may have two or one individual in the unit, become his future voters. For me, it's not a lose-lose. It has to be a win-win. And that's why I've taken this approach in saying my mana'o to all of you from the historical perspective. And that's what it is. I'll be also making a point of inquiry later and I'll surprise you at the end of the calendar, but it is for discussion purposes.

"So in closing, it's going to be that particular Stand. Com. Report 546 and 550, I'll vote no because I cannot live with myself in just having a defective date, and not knowing what the language of the substance will be later. The substance that is in those measures, I do not agree, even though there will be future discussion. With the statement that with a defective date, you will have more discussion. And I don't know what that discussion will be. And I just share that will all of you. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In support, Mr. Speaker. I support the development of Kakaako. I support workforce housing. I support a future for our generation here in this state. There's no question about that. Because I live with my parents, and one day I hope to aspire to a place, perhaps after the next reapportionment, in the area. With that being said, I support this suite of bills, because there are provisions within here that guarantee that we move ahead the right way. And that's the concern, is that we do this the right way.

"Right now, there are loopholes which allow, for example, exemptions to be granted to a particular developer, which amounts to a subsidy from the state in return for the development of workforce housing for reserved housing units. But there is no guarantee in the law, and there are loopholes built in, that allow those units, instead of being sold as a reserved unit, to be sold to a millionaire at market rate or higher. And that is my concern, because we're placing our faith in these developers to make sure that we get the housing that benefits our local folks here. And I think some of the provisions in here clarify that and close that loophole, so that we can ensure that as these developments proceed, they're done right, and they're done for local people. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ito rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to change my vote to 'no'. I don't want my grandchildren to live with me. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I please have the words of Speaker Emeritus written into the Journal as if they were my own? And a few comments, Mr. Speaker, with reservations.

"I do live on the Leeward Coast, Waianae. And I've lived there for almost 45 years. Today, it was 1 hour to drive in here. Yesterday, it was 1 hour, 45 minutes. The day before, 1 hour, 50 minutes. Sometimes when I go home to catch a neighborhood board to present a report, as I should to my constituency, 2 hours to go home. That's leaving at 6 p.m., Mr. Speaker.

"What do I tell families in my community when they want to build homes? Where are our development plans for the island of Oahu and the rest of our state? Unfortunately, and no disrespect to the introducer, I would fight for my district as well as he does. Unfortunately, Kakaako, in my opinion, has become scarred. But you need to build in the urban core, so families like mine can live in Halekauwila for $1,300 versus $2,200 in Makaha and drive into Honolulu 1 hour, 50 minutes in the morning, 2 hours in the evening. And how do we support quality of life for families?

"The individuals that are going to build these projects reside in my community. How do I look at them and say, 'I'm sorry. We're going to put a break because the economy has turned around.' The developers have decided. Yes, maybe some of them will go to multi-million dollar owners. That's called penciling out a project, Mr. Speaker. You know when I learned that? When they wanted to build affordable housing in my community, and we had a restriction of four stories. It doesn't work. We need to go seven stories in order to pencil out low income housing, 30 percent payment in Waianae. So, if we're really going to talk about something, then we should have the true discussion.

"My understanding, the state wasn't going to pay to build projects in the urban core. We have to rely upon developers, unfortunately. That is why we're in the situation we are in today. With all the units we need, you as well as I know. Who needs a home? Our local families and those individuals that we've been talking about all session, homeless. I will be voting with reservations as we move forward in this discussion. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Just a couple of comments about workforce housing in Kakaako. The committee, when we had the hearing there was lots of time actually spent on reserved housing and workforce housing requirements. And one of the things that came out in the debate was that if the developer says that they want to put 'x' amount into reserved or workforce housing, there are concessions given for that, which is a good thing, because that's incentivizing. But one of the concerns was, when it came to reserve housing, the requirement was to aspire to a certain percentage.

"When we really, really asked the hard question of the Executive Director of Hawaii Community Development Authority as to what does aspire mean, it means an attempt to. So what happens is when the building project is done and they put the projects out for sale, if the lower income, because it's tied to an annual income. So let's say it's 100 percent of the median income, whatever the formula is. They can put it out on the market. If in a certain amount of time nobody buys it, then basically they just can do what they want with it. So it's not like a guarantee. So you give concessions without a guarantee that that will stay as workforce housing or tackle housing for the lower, medium income people that we want. It's like maybe, it's like a maybe. And that bothered a lot of my fellow colleagues as we started drilling down on that. It's like you're telling us it's not guaranteed. And that was true after we asked all the hard questions.

"But I think the next question that came up is workforce housing, which is different from reserved housing. Now the workforce housing requirement right now says that we'll sell it to those who qualify. Now, if they want to sell their place, let's say in two, three, four, five years. If they want to sell their place, they have to give a certain part of any equity that they gain in it, they have to give a percentage back to the state. But after that first time sell, it never has to be workforce housing anymore. It can go directly to market. That was another problem. Because we could see that within Kakaako in a very short period of time, there would be no workforce housing available.

"So one of the changes we made in one of the bills, which is 1866 actually that's coming up, one of the changes as we looked at the workforce housing that they created on the Big Island, Hawaii Island. And when they tried to do workforce housing, which was like 30 years ago, I think it was, what they said was, 'if you sell it within 10 years, the equity goes to the county.' There was a share of equity, but the fact was that you couldn't sell the house for 10 years. So you had to sign a contract, that if you bought the house, that it would be for 10 years. If something happened, you'd get zero of the equity in it. So the point being is, at least you could try for 10 years to keep that project or that condominium or those houses, like in Waikoloa where I'm from. Trying to keep those houses as a workforce housing available to the public.

"So, some of the concerns that came out is, going in and trying to do workforce housing. Everybody agreed with that. All the people that testified, I didn't believe that people were against development of Kakaako. They were worried about, were we really trying to meet a workable, a village concept? The village being workforce housing. Were we addressing schools? Were we making it walkable? Could people bike? Because the people that were at the hearing really wanted to have a walkable community, a village that really had more of a community sense. Their concern is we were moving Kakaako forward only for people who had a lot of money, that it would be high-end homes. And they were really concerned about that.

"I think the bills are trying to find some balance. They're trying to do more public engagement. They're trying to get the community concerns in front of the board, have more interaction with the board. They're trying to make sure that they're living up to the vision of a village, a community village. Having the housing, having the parks, having the healthcare, having the workforce housing. That's what we're trying to attempt in these bills. And I hear the concern about the defective date."

Representative Morikawa rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans continued, stating:

"Thank you, Representative. The goal of the bills is obviously to keep it going. And I understand all these concerns of defective date, because you never know if things are going to change along the way. But I want to remind everyone, we're not about repealing the HCDA, we're not about moratorium on HCDA. What we're trying to do is revisit the policy in statute that was put there some years ago and see if it's time to maybe amend it and make it a little more reflective of what our vision is today. Thank you very much."

Representative Har rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, just brief comments. Thank you. Before I begin can I please have the words of the Vice Chair from Water & Land entered into the Journal as if they were my own? In addition, very briefly, I would direct the Members' attention to page 8 of the bill, which specifies building proximity, height orientation and maximum floor area ratio. As a proponent of smart growth development, these restrictions currently that have been put in the amended bill do not promote smart growth development.

"So when we talk about walkable communities, you don't have them this far back from each other. I am a huge proponent of smart growth development. For those who do not understand smart growth, it is a basic urban planning tool to ensure that you have compact walkable areas, and to ensure no urban sprawl. And the problem right now with this bill and the amendments that are in it, it does not promote smart growth and it does not promote the community transit-orientated development, bicycle friendly, walkable community that the current committee supports. So, for those reasons, I'm with reservations. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll be voting with reservations. I'd like the record to reflect the words of Speaker Emeritus as if they were my own. I'd like to also disclose that, yeah I was with him back in 2006. And I think when we drew the policy line in the sand, so to speak, that there would be no residential development makai of Ala Moana Boulevard. The policy behind that was to basically protect the land, to ensure that public access in the last remaining open space from Honolulu Harbor out to Waikiki would be kept open in perpetuity for the enjoyment of our citizens. And I think it's the right policy.

"So I'm a little bit concerned about, not so much this particular bill, but other bills dealing with the abolishment of HCDA. For there in that statute you have the prohibition against the building of any residential projects makai, ocean side of Ala Moana Boulevard.

"I really feel for the Representatives representing this area. This is something that's in their backyard. Just as much as issues dealing with the development of urban land North of Wahiawa, the Galbraith lands were in my backyard. Or the redevelopment of the city block in Wahiawa Town, next to Wahiawa General Hospital, the shopping center, the post office, the bank, the Wahiawa District Park, are in my backyard. So I really empathize with these folks, because they live near and dear to their constituents and need to be the voice of their constituents in all kinds of issues. So I empathize with them.

"I'm glad these bills are before us, because they cause us all to reflect upon some of the items that the Speaker Emeritus talked about. You know, where are we going to build our homes for the next generation? Where do we find it appropriate to build and what cost? What kind of public support are we going to give to those projects as we partner with the private sector? What scale and what scope? What schools? What facilities? What parks? What amenities will be available? And certainly, I don't want high rise buildings in Wahiawa. I think we have a limitation, I think seven stories.

"But like the Representative from Waianae spoke, to pencil out with a private sector developer, to get their monies in and out over a reasonable period of time, and a return on their investment, you've got to go vertical, you can't go horizontal. If you want to make sense and make it affordable for most people who are working, you've got to go with a high rise. I really feel for them, so I'm going with reservations.

"I think that we need to understand the principles of smart growth. How to incorporate the walkable city, the walkable streets, the total streets, the full streets, the complete streets concepts. I think we need to acknowledge the fact that, hopefully we will have rail, and it will be a backbone of transportation to and from the area in Kakaako. It will be affordable to people who now live in Waianae, or Wahiawa, or Waipahu, or Waialua. And they'll have a chance to raise their families and maybe own a home in Kakaako.

"Mr. Speaker, there are several other bills here. I would ask for permission to insert written comments on all them. But again, I really go out to the…"

The Chair addressed Representative Oshiro, stating:

"Wait, Representative, I'm sorry. You are allowed permission to insert written comments on this measure, but I don't know what other measures you are identifying or talking about."

Representative Oshiro continued, stating:

"Okay, well I'll stand up at the appropriate time. But really I think I wanted to make my point, again. That this is a very local issue for several districts, for the Senators nearby. They're the ones who are going to be impacted with it. It's hard for, I think, some of our neighbor island colleagues to appreciate what's going on there. Living on Oahu, living in Wahiawa, it certainly doesn't affect my constituents directly. Maybe some of them, because they're gainfully employed in the construction trades, so they might be affected by this decision. But I also have some real estate agents, or bankers, architects, engineers who live Wahiawa who might be affected. But the rank and file in my community, in Wahiawa, will not be affected by this.

"So I really feel for the area Representatives who have to, again, be the voice of their constituents. And I think that's where these bills come from. And so I hope we can address these concerns in the legislative process, or even prompt the Hawaii Community Development Authority and its board to address some of these issues. Whether it's going to be density. Whether it's going to be height limitations. Whether it's going to be the access Mauka, Makai, Diamond Head, Ewa. Whether it's going to be the density on floors. Those kinds of restrictions.

"So I just want to thank the committee chair. I did watch it on Olelo from Wahiawa. And I really was impressed by her stamina and her insistence upon keeping this thing moving forward."

Representative Hanohano rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro continued, stating:

"I also had the chance to watch the other bill dealing with the HCDA on the interest of OHA, and how OHA's interest right now will weigh into this decision. So I just hope that all of us can keep a civil tone and understand and appreciate the difficult situations for our colleagues who actually face this in their backyard. I think it's the right approach you need to take. I would do so with respect and understanding this is a very complex issue. It's not a simple issue.

"I'm not an engineer, Mr. Speaker. I haven't studied traffic flow. I don't know the science of measuring traffic. I don't know the metrics involved in deciding whether or not a new school needs to be built. What pace, or what size. I'm just an attorney. And those other specialties, those other expertise will be brought to bear on this. And I hope we can all look at their recommendations, their professional opinions, and accordingly make those right decisions. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 1867, House Draft 1, but with serious reservations.

"Standing Committee Report No. 546-14 states that the purpose of this measure, as amended by your Committee on Water & Land, is to increase transparency for the public and ensure that communities are kept well-informed about development decisions affecting their community.

"Yet, upon closer inspection, the bill does much more. While it would appear that the bill may indeed promote transparency and ensure that communities are kept well-informed about Hawaii Community Development Authority's (HCDA's) decisions, the bill would also include specific height and density requirements and restrictions on HCDA's authority to grant variance, exemptions, and modifications of any provision of any rule or development plan relating to maximum floor area ratios.

"The practical impact of this bill would be to make it extremely difficult, if not impossible, for new development in Kakaako to commence. Furthermore, by establishing new restrictions that do not take into account the existing situation of landholders within the district, arguably, these statutory changes would appear to be arbitrary, capricious, and confiscatory which may result in very costly litigation and liability exposure for the state.

"Your Committee on Water & Land found that 'the public has been very vocal about community engagement, public notice, and public hearing procedures currently utilized. . .' by HCDA, and that 'public transparency concerns have often been tied to addressing the issue of whether [HCDA] plans have adequately accounted for infrastructure concerns.' By taking the approach it did, your Committee on Water & Land would appear to have made a much more direct finding – that HCDA has not provided adequate due process for the residents of Kakaako, and accordingly, should not be allowed to authorize any new development there.

"If that is truly the case, arguably, the residents of Kakaako already have access to the courts to contest HCDA's actions under the Hawaii Administrative Procedures Act, Chapter 91, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), as well as Chapter 206E, HRS. There are general principles of common law that also are affected, providing aggrieved parties the ability to challenge the decisions of an administrative agency.

"General due process considerations of fairness directly limit the manner in which an agency may exercise its designated responsibilities. A practice which violates due process cannot be excused because of mere administrative inconvenience. (See, State Dept of Environmental Protection v. Stravola, 103 N.J. 425, 511 A.2d 622 (1986))

"There are no simple answers as to what constitutes fundamental fairness, and each case must be considered and evaluated on its merits, giving weight to the effect of the decision on the agency's public policy.

"The controlling case would appear to be Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 96 S Ct 893, 47 L Ed 2d 18 (1976). Under the Mathews balancing test, to determine whether an administrative procedure satisfies due process a court must weigh:

(1) The private interest that will be affected by an official action;

(2) The risk of erroneous deprivation of such interest or procedures used and the probable value, if any, of additional or substitute procedural safeguards; and

(3) The government's interest, including the function involved and the fiscal and administrative burdens that additional or substitute procedural requirements would entail. (See, Am Jur 2d., Administrative Law §56)

"But rather than let the courts figure out whether HCDA has violated fundamental fairness and entrust the implementation of well-established public policy to the HCDA – that our urban core be developed to meet our vast, unmet needs, including the lack of suitable affordable housing, insufficient commercial and industrial facilities for rent, residential areas which do not have facilities necessary for basic live-ability, such as parks and open space, and areas which are planned for extensive land allocation to one, rather than mixed uses – we endeavor to micro-manage HCDA to the point where it would no longer serve any effective use.

"If that is the will of this Body, so be it, but let's not kid ourselves and just repeal HCDA. If that is the new policy for the state, then how does House Leadership and the Representatives from Kakaako propose we address our growing unmet needs? Push development out to Leeward or Central Oahu? Windward Oahu? Use agricultural lands for residential housing? Sure, it is very easy to placate NIMBY residents in Kakaako by supporting a measure like this. But let's not forget that we've already invested hundreds of millions of dollars into Kakaako's infrastructure which according to experts has not come close to reaching its capacity. What about our unmet needs? Where are the solutions in this bill?

"If House Leadership want this bill so badly, I'll play along. But I for one will not stand by and let them dismantle 30 years of urban planning without obtaining solid consensus on what we should do as an alternative. This bill is the antithesis of 'smart growth development'. And if House Leadership are truly 'leaders' in this Body, they will have an alternative for us to consider. I for one can hardly wait to see what they have to offer. Until such is presented, I will have serious reservations on this and similar measures."

At 2:26 o'clock p.m., Representative Souki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 2:31 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1867, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE KAKAAKO COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DISTRICT," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Hanohano, Ito and Say voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Nakashima and Takumi being excused.

Representative Evans, for the Committee on Water & Land, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 547-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2385, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2385, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Agriculture, seconded by Representative Souki.

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2385, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO IRRIGATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Agriculture, with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Nakashima and Takumi being excused.

Representative Evans, for the Committee on Water & Land, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 548-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1688, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1688, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Souki.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to cast a no vote with just a few brief comments. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, this in essence will allow public lands to be leased for 85 years instead of the 65 year present restriction. I understand there is a need on the Big Island, in the Hilo area, for some changes. But, I don't think we should pass a measure like this for statewide application. I think 85 years is way too long. It takes several generations out of the ability to be able to lease state land for agricultural, whatever other purposes. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Please note my strong reservations."

"Just a quick comment in support. The way it's written, it says, if you had a 65 year lease, let's say you had a 30 year lease or a 40 year lease. Ten years before your lease is up, if you're going to go and go to the bank and loan a large amount of money, and you needed to have a 30 year mortgage, let's say, with the bank. At that point in time, if you have that financing in place, you could go to the Board of Land and Natural Resources and ask for an extension of your lease based on your mortgage instrument. So you could never get the, let's say if you're a 65 year lease, at 55 years you go in. You say, 'we want to do a major investment. Here's what our banker has.' There has to be proof that you have been confirmed for a mortgage.

"If your mortgage is only good for 10 years, you'd only get a 10 year extension. But the way we wrote it is you could get up to 30 if you can show that what you're financing, what you're building, will be on a 30 year mortgage with the bank. You have to have that proof or you could never do it. So I just wanted the details for my colleagues. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Kako'o 'ole. In strong opposition, being that this is a policy that has been brought forth unto the committee. However, the public hasn't even weighed in on it. So why are we making policies for our people, for the State of Hawaii, when they have no voice in it. So I'm going to be that voice that's going to tell the people that this is what the Legislature decided to do if it passes out. Therefore, I'm in strong opposition. Mahalo. Plus, this is public lands, and it does come under my purview also. Aloha."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1688, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Hanohano and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Nakashima and Takumi being excused.

Representative Evans, for the Committee on Water & Land, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 549-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2204, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2204, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Souki.

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, to be consistent I did vote no in the committee and I'll be voting no, based on the fact that we are authorizing the city and counties, of the four counties, to assess a user fee on storm water. I did ask the question, what is the definition of storm water and will it be affecting those tenant residents in the rural areas versus the urban areas, et cetera, et cetera? Because at this point in time, I believe, you've heard from the residents of the district that you represent, and I, that they were very much upset with the increase in the sewer fees and the water fees, and now their property taxes.

"So I do not want to be caught in a crossfire that I authorized this particular county the option to assess a fee on storm water without really quantifying what storm water is defined as."

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 1866, House Draft 1, but with serious reservations.

"Standing Committee Report No. 550-14 states that the purpose of this measure is to enhance oversight of the Hawaii Community Development Authority (HCDA), but curiously, the bill does much more. It would effectively kill this agency by eliminating all of its state funding for Fiscal Year 2014-2015.

"The practical impact of this bill would be to make it impossible for new development in Kakaako to commence.

(3) The government's interest, including the function involved and the fiscal and administrative burdens that additional or substitute procedural requirements would entail. (See, Am Jur 2d., Administrative Law §56)

"But rather than let the courts figure out whether HCDA has violated fundamental fairness and entrust the implementation of well-established public policy to the HCDA – that our urban core be developed to meet our vast, unmet needs, including the lack of suitable affordable housing, insufficient commercial and industrial facilities for rent, residential areas which do not have facilities necessary for basic live-ability, such as parks and open space, and areas which are planned for extensive land allocation to one, rather than mixed uses – we endeavor to micro-manage HCDA to the point where it would no longer serve any effective use.

"If that is the will of this Body, so be it, but let's not kid ourselves and just repeal HCDA. If that is the new policy for the state, then how does House Leadership propose we address our growing unmet needs? Push development out to Leeward or Central Oahu? Windward Oahu? Use agricultural lands for residential housing? Sure, it is very easy to placate NIMBY residents in Kakaako by supporting a measure like this. But let's not forget that we've already invested hundreds of millions of dollars into Kakaako's infrastructure which according to experts has not come close to reaching its capacity. What about our unmet needs? Where are the solutions in this bill? And, please don't tell me that these individuals acquired their units unaware that future development was foreseeable. No one can claim that they purchased their homes believing no future high rise or similar building would be built.

"If House Leadership want this bill so badly, I'll play along. But I for one will not stand by and let them dismantle 30 years of urban planning without obtaining solid consensus on what we should do as an alternative. And if House Leadership truly want to lead this Body, I can hardly wait to see what they have to offer. Until such time, I cast my vote with serious reservations."

Representative Hanohano rose, stating:

"I'm going to ho'ololi my vote, to kako'o 'ole. Changing my vote to no."

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1866, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Hanohano and Say voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Nakashima and Takumi being excused.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Souki and carried, the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 1689, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MAUNA KEA," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Nakashima and Takumi being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2320, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Before our blood sugar goes too low, I've got one more vote to cast, and that's with reservations on 552-14. This is about the social determinants of health. It's basically a warm and fuzzy. It doesn't do any harm, but I think it's setting up the Department of Health for a fall. It's a creation out of the Center of Urban Health, WHO. And it's attempting to remind the nations in the United Nations to help your people get out of poverty. Help create new jobs. Help do a better job at the Health Department. And the difficulty is that your education, your income, and your job is really what determines one's health. And their studies have all the data that says that.

"So to put it on the back of the Department of Health, to say that this is for you to really work out, is kind of unfair. But to remind people that there are people because of their lack of jobs, lack of education, that they're going to have a difficult time making it. So, I think it's a bit misleading to put it on Department of Health. And to say that they're actually social determinants of health, they're actually socio-economic determinants of health.

"Mr. Speaker, I spent a number of years in the United Nations. I know they like to kind of shake governments up to pay more attention to the health of their people. But I don't think in our Department of Health that this is going to actually be implementable, and it may be a frustrating expectation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Mr. Speaker, I want to give a little bit of background on this bill. This is a bill that was generated by the Department of Health, by the staff, by the deputy directors, in many ways to honor the late Loretta Fuddy, who held health equity as an important goal and objective. In the realm of public health, and in the conversations and in the policy work that's done by the Department of Health, they are themselves asking that we impose this upon them as a goal and objective that they should hold in the back of their heads as they develop policy for the State of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, when the representatives of the Department of Health came to me and asked that they impose this obligation upon themselves, they understood that it was about putting health policies for all as a guiding principle. They are informally calling this 'Loretta's law'. I think that in the best interest of health policy development, that this is just, it's merely aspirational. But it begins to guide the decision making, the policy making, in a way that helps us to look at health and all the aspects of health, and all the broad ways in which health can be improved. Now, they're not imposing this upon any other department. They are just saying, 'within our own statutes, we want to hold this up as a goal.' So, Mr. Speaker, in strong support of this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2320, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Kawakami, Nakashima, Takumi and Tokioka being excused.

Representative Nakashima, for the Committee on Labor & Public Employment, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 553-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1966, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1966, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC EMPLOYEES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Creagan, Kawakami, Nakashima, Takumi and Tokioka being excused.

H.B. No. 2071, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 2071, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB2071.

"There is no greater sacrifice that one can give, than one who has laid down their life for another family member, friend, or country. The foundation of the United States of America is built by brave individuals who have risked or gave the ultimate sacrifice. It would be a tragedy to overlook these brave individuals and to not recognize what they have done. After all, America is 'Home of the Free because of the Brave.'

"Gold Star Family Day is one of those ways to honor and respect the fallen. Though to take it one step further; Gold Star Family Day not only recognizes the fallen soldier, rather it recognizes the family of the fallen as they must carry the burden of losing a loved one for the rest of their lives. Gold Star Family Day was originally intended to honor the mothers of the fallen soldiers, as it was named 'Gold Star Mother's Day;' this was until President Barack Obama renamed it 'Gold Star Mother's and Family's Day,' thus including the entire family of the fallen. There is now a total of seven states that recognize Gold Star Mother's and Family's Day, they are Illinois, North Dakota, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Tennessee, and Wisconsin and also Guam.

"Hawaii Gold Star father Allen Hoe stated that Gold Star Family Day 'is a very fitting tribute and a way to remind all of us that freedom is not free.' Support Coordinator Catherine Ignacio from the Survivor Outreach Services stated that passing the bill will not only show continuous support from our Legislature and serve as a constant reminder of the sacrifices our service members and families made, but is also a true way of honoring those who made the ultimate sacrifice for our wonderful nation. Hawaii Gold Star wife Brandy Williams lost her husband Sgt. Eugene Williams in Najaf, Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. Sadly, he was Killed In Action by an Improvised Explosive Device on March 29, 2003. Eva Andrade, the Executive Director of the non-profit organization known as Hawaii Family Forum stated, we are very mindful of the sacrifice of every mother and father who has lost a son or daughter to the ravages of war. These lives are precious and their names and memory are etched in history even as far as the Revolutionary War. We honor these heroes as their lost lives remain the bedrock for the United States of America and the freedoms we cherish.

"Therefore the intent of this bill is to establish the last Sunday in September as 'Gold Star Family Day;' a day for the people of Hawaii to recognize and honor the family members of men and women who have bravely given the ultimate sacrifice, their life. Their legacy is carried on through their families and it is our duty to honor these true heroes, the warriors whom we all should look up to with respect and honor.

"Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2071, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOLD STAR FAMILY DAY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Cachola and Souki being excused.

H.B. No. 2320, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 2320, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of House Bill 2320, House Draft 1 that establishes health equity as a goal for the Department of Health and requires the Department to consider social determinants – such as the social and physical environment, health services, and structural and societal factors – when assessing the health needs of the state.

"In July 2013, a report published in the Journal of the American Medical Association revealed shocking and unsettling facts about health inequalities in our country. People who live in wealthy areas like San Francisco and in the suburbs of D.C. are likely to be as healthy as the residents of Japan and Switzerland are. However, those who live in Appalachia and the rural South share their health status with those who live in Algeria and Bangladesh. NBC News called it 'death by zip code' where health disparities are correlated with social determinants such as access to housing, education, transportation, social services, recreation, and employment.

"With similar income disparities between communities throughout Hawaii, it is important for the state to consider as a matter of official policy the effect that these social determinants have on the health status of individuals, families, and communities. The language in HB 2320, HD 1 encourages a 'Health in All Policies' framework and collaborative approach to improving population health by granting the Department of Health the authority and obligation to consider and address root causes of health disparities and empowering the Department of Health to raise and embed these considerations into their health planning and policymaking for the state."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2320, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Cachola and Souki being excused.

H.B. No. 1966, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 1966, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC EMPLOYEES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Cachola and Souki being excused.

At 12:33 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1966, HD 1

At 12:34 o'clock p.m., Representative Cabanilla requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Cabanilla, seconded by Representative Fukumoto and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering a certain House Bill for Final Reading by consent calendar. (Representative Cachola was excused.)

FINAL READING

Representative Saiki moved to agree to the amendments made by the Senate to the following House Bill, seconded by Representative Cabanilla:

H.B. No. 2353, (SD 1)

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the motion, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Makemake au e koho kako'o 'ole. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in opposition. O keia pila ho'o punipuni nui nā kālā e lima me lune. 'elima miliona kalā 'ano nunui kēia pu'u kala Pehea la ka po'e 'ili hune, ka po'e a'ohe wahi he no ho, ka po'e a'ohe mea ai.

"This bill is not really a truthful bill for the people of the State of Hawaii. It was going to cost us $5 million. What about the children, the people that have no food. They're homeless and they have no place to stay. We haven't even fixed all of those problems, yet we're willing to give $5 million for our airports? What is more important in the State of Hawaii? Airports versus our people, who are definitely in need of food, shelter, the basic necessities? I have examples of that. We cannot even get water for people that need to be on water lines. We cannot even get sewage lines fixed because of the jurisdictions. It's a county versus, like DHHL, Papakolea. What are we doing here? This is absolutely a stealing of our people's money.

"Five million dollars for airports. What about our poor people who never ever use the airports? What are they going to say? What about those that live out off the grid, live in shacks, so the urban people would say? But yet, that's the way they live. And yet, we cannot even help those people? This is so absolutely unnecessary. We cannot even fix the school systems. It's so hewa, so wrong. We cannot even fix Hawaiian language immersion programs for their testing on the assessments. I had a group of keiki come in crying, they couldn't even understand the testing. And yet we spent about $10 million on the testing.

"This is so hewa. I could go on and on of all the different faults that government hasn't been doing and not doing their kuleana. My kuleana here, I know what it is. It's to represent the people that elected me, and to represent all of Hawaii. Whether they're native Hawaiians, our immigrants from the Philippines, our Korean brothers and sisters, our Marshallese people, everyone. But yet this bill is just to make an emergency appropriation for security at Honolulu International Airport. And remember, we did not start the war, 9/11. This is absolutely ho'opunipuni. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the House agreed to the amendments to the noted House Bill. (Representative Hanohano voted no, and Representative Cachola was excused.)

H.B. No. 2353, SD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 2353, SD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing in support. Mr. Speaker, I just want to clarify the measure before you. It is an emergency appropriation of $5 million. It is being transferred from the special fund and the requirement to do this was to make sure that our airports comply with federal law. So, we are required to do that in order to make sure that our airports are funded with federal match, as well as it meets all the Department of Homeland Security requirements.

"Members, it is a large amount. However, we have a number of airports which are key focal points for inter-island transit, as well as for one of our most important financial drivers, which is our tourism. So, Members, this $5 million was not used lightly. It was used out of necessity to make sure that we comply with all the federal requirements, to make sure that our airports stay open. That way both our kama'aina as well as our visitors can use it. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a slight rebuttal, in opposition. We have airports on DHHL lands, that haven't received any monies. We have landing fees that still need to be collected from the feds. So, I'm still in opposition. And ho'opunipuni keia pila. This bill is so wrong, because we haven't even given monies to DHHL for their lands. The feds haven't given us monies for our landing fees.

"So, what are our people doing here? Our Congressional, our Governor. This is unacceptable. This has been going on for years. Ever since the deregulation of airports. So why aren't we exempt from all of these things, like Alaska? I think that's the better route, and if we do change this bill, then maybe I'll think about it. However, right now, kako'o 'ole loa. In strong opposition. Mahalo."

The motion was put to the vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2353, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR SECURITY AT HONOLULU INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT," passed Final Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Hanohano voting no, and with Representative Cachola being excused.

At 12:43 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Final Reading: matter as well. We would greatly appreciate it from our Hawaiian Caucus. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Again, tomorrow, 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon in Conference Room 309."

It will be held tomorrow, which is Wednesday, February 19th, 2014, Room 325, 9 a.m. Department of Education, and the subject matter is the Hawaiian language immersion program and the testing results. Mahalo."

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1678, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just have to, regretfully at this point because of the amendments made to the measure, stand in opposition. I've discussed my concerns with the author, and I'm very happy that, because of the defective date, that she will be working with us on our concerns. But given the seismic effect that this measure has had on my community, I will be in opposition for right now and reserve further comments for Third Reading. Thank you very much."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my strong reservations at this moment and time."

Representative Har rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately and regrettably I will be having to go 'no' at this point. This bill would adversely affect the Ewa fields, which is back in my former district known as Kalaeloa. There's been a lot of work done on that historic property to even get it onto the national registry. Unfortunately, this current bill would have a detrimental impact upon the Ewa fields. So for those reasons, at this point, I do understand it's a work in progress, but at this point in time, unfortunately, I will be voting in opposition. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Makemake au e koho kako'o 'ole loa. I would like to cast a strong opposition vote at this time. 'A'ohe lawa ka leo nō ka po'e o Hawai'i nei, e pili ana kēia pila. Ka pila hale 'umikumamaono kanahiku kumamawalu. This bill, House Bill 1678, hasn't been having enough dialogue from the people of the State of Hawaii. Dialogue was only at the Legislature. Therefore, o ko'u koho ana kako'o 'ole loa. Mahalo."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I need to disclose a potential conflict of interest. My understanding of this bill is that this would affect the designation of a historic property in the State of Hawaii as one as being at least 50 years or older. I currently reside in a residence that's over 50 years old," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Oshiro then asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to include as another comment, in the committee report, it was the Historic Hawaii Foundation, the Society for Hawaiian Archeology, and a few individuals submitted testimony in opposition. So that, in the committee report, it's a red flag for me. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. The issue is that the people did not voice their concerns in reference to this bill. No laila makemake au e koho kako'o 'ole loa. Therefore, I'm still in strong opposition. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. It's open to all Members, House, Senate, staff members. It's tomorrow morning at 9 a.m., in Conference Room 325. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale: "Mr. Speaker, for anybody who's interested on Saturday, if they want to see some good old blood, guts and glory, we're going to have several rugby games going on over at Kapiolani Park. In which we'll be having a, I expect our team from Laie to smash anybody in front of them. So, if anyone wants to come see that. Also, we will be imuing, and if you want to sample any of the 734 pounds of Wahiawa raised pork that we caught last week Saturday that's in reserve for this, Tongan style umu going to be on. So everyone's invited to that."

Representative Belatti: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As everyone heads back to their communities for this much needed rest and break, I just wanted to let people know that at your tables you have a blue sheet that identifies free tax help that your constituents can take advantage of. There are clinics and sites on all islands, which the exception of Lanai. And this is a program that's put on by HACBED, as well as numerous partnering organizations throughout the community.

"In early February, urban Honolulu legislators hosted a site here where we had over 55 clients who filed their tax returns. In 2013 alone, in 46 sites statewide with over 191 volunteer tax preparers, over $7.3 million was returned to our residents, representing over $840,000 in fees saved. So, this is really important, and I urge you to share with your constituents as you go back to your communities this wonderful opportunity. Thank you."

Representative Lee: "Thank you. One last one, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to recognize Monday as a very important day. If for no other reason than it is the birthday of our Sergeant-at-Arms, Kevin Kuroda. Happy Birthday."

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 1662, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FARM TO SCHOOL MONTH IN HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Har being excused.

H.B. No. 2409:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 2409 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure, as I consistently have. Mr. Speaker, this bill expands the offense of disorderly conduct to include, believe it or not, lying down on a park bench, or actually a bus shelter bench, that impedes the use or the access to the bus users. This bill is identical to the 2013 version that we passed, went to Conference Committee and died.

"Mr. Speaker, I think we should stop harassing the homeless. I think we should wait for Housing First to take place. And I should note, we have just passed in the Finance Committee a Homeless Bill of Rights. But yet, this bill takes away the rights at bus stops. So I can't be hypocritical and vote for a Homeless Bill of Rights and then vote for this thing that says, 'if you lie down, you're going to have disorderly conduct charges brought to you.'

"So let's leave the homeless alone. Let's get Housing First, get them in housing, and see if we can solve this problem, which for over a decade has been unsolvable, Mr. Speaker. We don't know what we're doing with the homeless, and this bill certainly isn't one that's going to solve it. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to cast a no vote and speak briefly in opposition. I understand the intent behind it, but I would just say that if Representative Santiago or Arakaki were here, this thing would never see the light of day. Thank you."

The Chair addressed Representative McDermott, stating:

"Representative, I'm going to call you out of order if you're indicating that there's any disrespect to any of the Members here."

At 12:52 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:53 o'clock p.m.

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"I'd like to clarify, that wasn't meant to insult anybody. I was just belying my age of regarding colleagues I used to serve with and their passion for certain issues. So, I apologize if I offended anybody. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, just a few comments. Like I have in the past, while I actually agree with the intent of this bill, this is exactly what the counties are for. This is in their purview, and as a supporter of home rule, I've said many times before, with that power comes responsibility. So I believe this is a county issue, this is best handled by the counties, and that's why I'm going with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note that I'm voting with reservations. When I was in the council, this was one of the things that we discussed. I voted no at the time, but I just want to let you know that it's still a long process, that's why I'm coming up with reservations. I almost went homeless and I know how it feels to do that. Let us be compassionate to those people who are in need. Sometimes they don't have any place to stay. To do this will just aggravate their situation. The way I look at it is, let's look at it not just with your mind, but with your heart. So with that, Mr. Speaker, cast a 'with reservations' for me. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be against this measure. Just for the edification of the Members and previous speaker, the effective date on this measure is July 1, 2014. So it's a clean bill, or as we would know the effective date is, and we might not have a chance to debate and discuss the merits of this bill.

"First of all, I do have some concerns of the quick re-referral of this measure. I had hoped that we would have additional time to re-evaluate the policy behind this and whether there's any fiscal implications by enacting this policy that basically may abridge some of the home rule privileges and powers, police powers of our several counties. So, I need to state that in concurrence with my colleague from Maui.

"Second, Mr. Speaker, as people would know, this is a similar bill, as alluded to by the Minority Caucus Leader Emeritus, the gentleman colleague from the Hawaii Kai Representative District. This is practically the same, if not the same draft of a measure that we passed out of this House last year, with my objections, of course, that I think may still be in the Conference Committee, Senate Judiciary and Labor, and House Judiciary Conference Committee for consideration.

"Again, my objection is simply this. If you look at the record of the public debate and discussion, there's no one there from the law enforcement community clamoring or asking us to pass this measure. The Prosecutor's Office, the Coalition of Law Enforcement Officials, they're not asking us to change the laws on books right now. As a Democrat, I find it just so conspicuous, that you don't have the normal folks that would comment on these bills like the Office of the Public Defender. They're the ones in the past that have come forward and reminded us that being homeless or being houseless today is not a crime in and of itself.

"I think any reasonable, rational person out there would seek shelter where they can get some safe refuge from the elements of being homeless or without a place to go. A bus stop, unfortunately, may be their last resort. They can't go to the parks, they can't go the lavatories, they can't go to the bathrooms, they can't go on the sidewalks, they can't go next to the buildings. They're locked out from most conveniences that we take for granted. And frankly, any rational person would try and seek some shelter where they could.

"What's interesting is we passed out a bill yesterday, I think it's coming back to the House out of Finance, to create a bill of rights. A bill of rights to protect the very people that we're seeking to punish in this measure. It just seems somewhat hypocritical, oxymoronic. I can't square the two together, Mr. Speaker.

"When I look at how this would be implemented, I have concerns upon whether or not one could be properly charged for this crime. I must admit, my wife is a frequent bus user, of public transportation, and some days she gets up early, having gone to bed late, falls asleep. That's a common occurrence, she tells me, with many of the bus riders from the rural communities like Wahiawa, Waianae, Waialua, the outer regions. They may fall asleep waiting for the bus. And what happens if a bus is late on arrival to pick these people up. They fall asleep because they're tired. Not because they want to be disorderly or they want to make it inconvenient for other people. But they simply fall asleep. I think the overbroad scope of this measure is what troubles me.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, I ask that the comments of the Minority Leader Emeritus from Hawaii Kai be adopted as my own. That my words and comments from last year's Journal on the appropriate day, I think the 24th day, 25th day, be recorded as my own. And I ask for permission to submit further comments from the Democratic Party of Hawaii platform, both Oahu County and state party. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Bill No. 2409. This bill would make it a disorderly conduct offense to lie down at a bus stop shelter or structure in a manner that interferes with use of or access to a bus stop. The bill would also establish a fine of $50 for a violation.

"Let's not kid ourselves. This bill criminalizes being poor or homeless in urban Honolulu. This is just one of many bills that have been reported out of the Judiciary Committee that attacks some of the most vulnerable and politically helpless citizens of our state. As if we've gone through a time warp back to the 1900s, the House Judiciary Committee and this body, the so called, 'People's House', has made it a priority to write a whole new set of Jim Crow laws to pander to businesses, middle-class voters, and the privileged who shudder every time they walk down a lane or an alley in urban Honolulu.

"This is bad policy and does violence to the traditional notions of First Amendment rights and freedoms and Hawaii's unique 'Law of the Splintered Paddle' policy and Constitutional provision.

"This bill outrages me because any rule against performing an act in a public place is tantamount to a comprehensive ban on that action so far as the homeless are concerned. If sleeping or putting up a tent on a sidewalk is illegal, where does a homeless person sleep? They can't sleep on the beach. They can't sleep in the parks. Where do they go? Again, there was no testimony in from local law enforcement or the City and County of Honolulu, and none of the Neighbor Island Councils or Mayors submitted testimony in support for this measure.

"Certainly, there is nothing particularly dignified about sleeping on a sidewalk. If given a choice, no reasonable person would want to do this. But if there is no choice at all, what is a person to do?

"Criminalizing basic human actions such as sleeping, as proposed by the Judiciary Chair and condoned by House Leadership, is cruel because it breaks the human spirit. Forcing people to think twice of petty restrictions imposed on the necessities of human life is mean-spirited, plain and simple. As a lawmaker, I am ashamed that we are allowing our laws to reduce thousands of our citizens to something approaching this level of degradation.

"Furthermore, it is clear that these measures are reactive to the very real problems experienced in urban Honolulu. Many of our citizens merely want to operate their businesses or use our sidewalks in peace. But the enactment of measures like those proposed by the Judiciary Chair shifts the Legislature's guilt for not addressing homeless onto a group of citizens who have no voice in our political process. And for that, he should be ashamed.

"So why doesn't House Leadership do something about it? Why not make ending homeless a priority this session?

"But the poor and homeless don't vote, nor are they wanted in any community, so let's just make it a crime to be poor or homeless and let the courts and jails deal with them.

"How sad for our citizens. So much for Aloha in our State.

"Accordingly, I oppose this bill and urge that my colleagues do likewise."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, as I was reviewing this measure, as I remembered last year, I think I voted against this measure. So I went and looked at the testimony for the hearing on this measure this year. There's only two testimonies. One was an individual of support and one was from the Public Defender. And basically in the Public Defender's testimony, Mr. Speaker, enforcement of this measure will be a problem.

"How do you differentiate between someone who falls asleep waiting for the bus and someone who is homeless or sleeping at a shelter? What happens if one person is sleeping on the cot, while somebody else is watching for a police officer? I think two days ago in the Finance hearing, I asked the question, 'How do we identify a homeless individual? Do we ask? Do we assume? Do we cast judgment?' I don't want to do that, and I certainly don't want my law enforcement officers presuming someone is homeless. The prosecutors oppose this measure.

"I totally understand the intent of this measure. I really do. But at what time, and what point, do we stop picking on a certain populace? That's all I've seen this session, Mr. Speaker, and I'm not thrilled. Because I don't see anybody coming in here speaking for this populace. You yourself, Mr. Speaker, have introduced measures to help the homeless and the most needy, but yet, we're sending a message outside these four walls saying, we want to prosecute them and maybe charge them a fine. You and I both know, if they get a fine, they go to court. They don't have the money to pay the $50. So then they get an agreement to pay $5 a month. And if they don't pay it in full, then they can't get into public housing. Again, what message are we sending here? Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Carroll rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to change my vote to a no. I'd also like permission to insert comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to the intent of HB 2409. This bill does much more than 'regulate disorderly conduct'. In fact, HB 2409 seeks to criminalize the portion of our population who are currently homeless. For those without shelter, a covered bus stop may be the only option a houseless individual has to safely sleep when it rains. Are we going to tell these people that they are wrong for seeking shelter, a basic human necessity? What kind of message does that send? For one, it does nothing to help the current homelessness situation and creates yet another unnecessary policing task for our already overburdened officers.

"Another issue with this measure is that it operates on the assumption that an individual is homeless. How can an officer tell if a person lying down at a bus stop is a homeless individual or just a tired bus rider? It is not only wrong to assume either way, but impossible to know for sure. Furthermore, it depends on prejudicial perceptions that further the promotion of discriminatory action against our homeless population.

"Beyond that, Mr. Speaker, my constituency sometimes has to take long bus rides and are sometimes forced to wait at bus stops for long periods of time. This bill, which is aimed at homeless individuals, will unintentionally affect all bus riders, especially those in my district. Since there is no way to know for sure if an individual is just a tired bus rider or a homeless individual seeking shelter, it will result in a broad level of enforcement that will criminalize everyone, even the most law-abiding bus rider.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and to vote in opposition to HB 2409. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. There's been a lot of debate on a bill that doesn't strike me as, this is not a big bore issue, I would say. But, I would point out that on Oahu alone, there are 75 million boardings of busses every year, 75 million. Many of those are elderly, some of them are on wheelchairs. Many of them are homeless and they need the bus stops to take advantage of the one transportation system that they can afford to take, which is the bus.

"If there were people camping out on the on-ramp to the H-1 and blocking traffic and making it difficult to get on to our transportation system, or if they were at the airport, as they were years ago. But they're not anymore because they were all removed because they were getting in the way of the transportation hub that is in Honolulu International Airport. We wouldn't allow people to stay there. You'd say, well, you can stay somewhere. In the case of this bill all it means is you have to get away from the bus stop. You have to leave the bus stop available. You don't have to leave the lawn next to it, or even the sidewalk next to it available. It's just the bus stop. This is a transportation issue. This is allowing people, the millions of, like I mentioned, on Oahu alone, there are more than 75 million bus boardings every year.

"If you can't use the bus stop, it does pose a problem. And there are many, many people who are intimidated by people who are lying down at the bus stop. If you're a little old lady that weighs 90 pounds and there's a 200 pound man lying down at the bus stop, you're not going to go up to him and say, 'hey, sit up so I can't rest while I wait for the bus.' So to somehow imply that this hurts, that somehow it's aimed at the homeless, solely at the homeless, A, and B, that there aren't other people's lives who also have stories that are ones that maybe you wouldn't want to have that as your life either. People need to use the bus. And this bill will make it easier for people to do that when they need to. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, in the gallery today I have one of my interns. She rides the bus in, and she rides the bus back. And in between, Mr. Speaker, I kind of make her work a lot. And she's probably, after today, probably going to be one of those people that falls asleep at the bus stop today, Mr. Speaker, after what we do. And if we don't finish early enough today, Mr. Speaker, I'm probably one of those people that's going to miss my ride home and end up having to catch the bus home as well. I might be one of those people falling asleep at the bus stop today, Mr. Speaker.

"I think even though the points have been made in regards to why we need this, there's obviously a number of flaws with the current measure, Mr. Speaker, and those have not been fully addressed yet. So I don't think this measure is ready to fully move forward. There's a number of issues that still need to be addressed. Mr. Speaker, may I have the words of the Representative from Hawaii Kai adopted as my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. May I have the words of the Representative from Downtown, Kalihi entered as if they were my own? And Mr. Speaker, I would just like to say that if you read the language of the bill, it does qualify and say that this would be for lying down in a manner that impedes or obstructs the use of or access to the bus stop. I not only just may ride the bus, I do ride the bus. My children ride the bus, my elderly father and mother ride the bus, and they have in fact had opportunities where they were impeded. And so, I think that this bill is necessary, reasonable, and it's tailored to address the problem that exists. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Mr. Speaker, I think when you're listening to the dialogue from Members around this Chamber, everyone understands the problems that the person who introduced, the author of this bill, is having in the districts on Oahu. But what I would like everyone to think about is, there are other options.

"The good Representative from North Kauai and I were in a conference in San Jose. And in San Jose they had bus stop benches, that when you got off the bench, the bench flipped up. And there was only room for two people to sit at that particular bench. So now you have this bench that's parallel, it's standing up like this before you sit on it. So there is no way anyone can sleep on that bench, because it's only fit for two people, and in the middle there's a bar that comes up, a handle, that you cannot lie on the bench.

"So there's other options. To make this option the option that we use, is kind of draconian, in my opinion. Why are we going to penalize people this bad for, they don't have a place to go. So there are other options, and I think if we can work with the counties, I know Kauai County has CIP money in for bus stops to match dollars with the Kauai County. And in that CIP request, in discussions with the Mayor, we talked about this. It's not a problem on Kauai but we know that it may be one day.

"So, these are options that the city and county can use. The Mayor of this city is a former Member of this Body. I think we can look at retrofitting these bus stops with these types of benches and we don't have to go into a fine like this. So, for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition and I'm hopeful that we can come to a better solution without penalizing people who don't have a place to go. Thank you."

No. 2409, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISORDERLY CONDUCT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 39 ayes to 11 noes, with Representatives Awana, Carroll, Fale, Hanohano, Jordan, Kawakami, McDermott, Oshiro, Tokioka, Tsuji and Ward voting no, and with Representative Har being excused.

"This measure serves to provide assistance to the families and kupuna of Hawaii. As the standard cost of living continues to increase, many island families continue to struggle in making ends meet. By allowing for a greater income tax deduction, the Legislature can help alleviate some of the pressures on our hard working citizens. The elderly will be able to utilize these exceptions to decrease the burden that taxes play on their fixed incomes.

"The elderly are increasingly facing age discrimination at the workplace due to the implementation of the ACA act. HB2429 aims to better the quality of life for not only the elderly but also for their mo'opuna who they often serve as caregivers. Being locally born and raised, I have witnessed that the role of our extended families in the raising of our keiki is much more prominent than those in the Continental US. It is my hope that this measure will better ensure that the wisdom of our kupuna is passed on to our keiki."

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to say that I know all the reservations, we did a lot of amendments from the State Office of Elections and there are issues with how we are going to check IDs and prevent voter fraud. This is in line with a more holistic voter modernization effort, which includes online registration by next year, which should help alleviate the lines and the crowds that may arise in the counties.

"There's also methods for funding if the Senate or conference committee shall choose to help lessen the burden on the counties. But those reservations are noted. Also, there's been a vast decrease of Election Day voters in general because of the absentee polling proliferation, and the mail ballots. So, definitely noted, and hopefully we can resolve these reservations in the next Chamber. Thank you."

By removing this language, a taxation investigator will be allowed, by statute, to exercise all of the powers of a police officer or sheriff, even when off duty or when acting outside of the scope of his or her duties. In other words, a taxation investigator now has the ability to arrest individuals for criminal violations not relating to taxation.

"Tax investigators should be limited with the ability to arrest individuals for criminal violations related only to taxation. Should this measure pass, individuals who get arrested by tax investigators on matters not related to taxation will liken them to the Gestapo."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Mr. Speaker, every Monday my office on behalf of the Small Business Caucus sends out David's Snack Shop menu. They have hot lunches and they're doing quite well. But I must say that we've fared rather entrepreneurially dull in terms of being creative in this Capitol for gift shops, for souvenirs, for the like of which, because we get so many visitors, it's an opportunity cost. It's an opportunity lost.

"My point of mentioning David's Gift Shop is that, as I consult with him on the menus that I send out, he said, 'I never heard of this bill. Nobody ever consulted me.' And I would suggest as we proceed to pass this, that someone other than myself speak to him about it. Or if it goes into Conference Committee, bring him in and let his opinion be heard. Otherwise, it's a little bit too exclusionary, the way that we've played this particular bill.

"Mr. Speaker, I started out with strong support. Maybe my voice at the end went down a bit, but nonetheless we have to be more entrepreneurial. Dave has got a handle on this. He's got an interest in this, but I don't see anything that actually includes him, i.e. even informing him that he could be one of the people who bid on this, or even open his shop or expand it to be part of the gift shop. My point is this. We have many, many visitors and many opportunities to bring away souvenirs, to bring away good will and good gestures.

"You can't even buy a House pin anymore. In the old days, you could get a pin that says, in fact, the Representative from the 30th District used to have a whole slew of them. We could get that, we're Members of this State Capitol, House of Representatives. Now, you can't even get those things. So, Mr. Speaker, we need to be a little bit more entrepreneurial, a little bit more aggressive in terms of showing who we are and opening it to the public, so they can proliferate the image that we have. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I would like the words of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Just a few comments. The legislation was not meant to exclude any entities. What it is, is to get a mechanism going for a Capitol gift shop. When I was up on the fourth floor, Mr. Speaker, especially during the summer, almost every day we'd have visitors knocking on the door going, 'Where can I buy some souvenirs? Where can I buy some keepsakes?'

"Then you have this building, Mr. Speaker, and the grounds, which requires taxpayer monies, Mr. Speaker, to fix, maintain and upgrade. I say that again. Taxpayer money, Mr. Speaker. So how can we, knowing that there's revenue potential with the visitors coming and going, not look at this so that we can have a revenue source for the upgrades that won't require, again, taxpayer dollars, Mr. Speaker?

"So this is something that I want to thank the originator of this idea of, which was former Representative Marilyn Lee. Because it's a good idea. They have it in other capitol gift shops. But most importantly, Mr. Speaker, it provides a mechanism whereby visitors who want to have a souvenir can help provide for the upkeep of the grounds and the facilities, so we don't have to go back to the taxpayer's dollars. Thank you very much."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'll be voting with reservations. Let me tell you why, Mr. Speaker. It's not the idea, the concept. We've all been to state capitols and had the opportunity to purchase gifts to bring back home from those respective states at their capitol. But I think the fact remains that right across the way at the Iolani Palace, they have a gift shop there run by the Friends of Iolani Palace. Certainly, I think they would appreciate additional business. So I think, in the meanwhile, while people come to the State Capitol, I think we might want to direct them to the Iolani Palace gift shop run by the Hawaii Friends of Iolani Palace. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1122, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO A STATE CAPITOL GIFT SHOP," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Har and Say being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, just strong support and comments to the Journal."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe this to be one of the biggest smart growth bills in the history of the Legislature, because it addresses the biggest problem with development right now which is having the infrastructure to support our burgeoning population. Hawaii's roads, bridges, schools, parks, drinking water and wastewater facilities are in serious disrepair and are in need of nearly $6 billion in upgrades over the next 20 years, according to the latest report from the American Society of Civil Engineers.

"Keeping up with the need to increase infrastructure to support future development is essential for not only our economic growth but also to improve our quality of life. Having an Infrastructure Capacity Construction Loan Revolving Fund would assist counties, state agencies and private developers with improvements that would increase the capacity of the infrastructure facilities.

"I am in strong support of this measure, well aware that the primary responsibility for basic municipal infrastructure needs continues to rest with the counties, yet also knowing that much of the work will not be done if state assistance is not provided."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and a brief comment. I note the intent of the bill and I think it really is a worthy one. We do want to induce people to come back to work, and we certainly want to make sure that they're compensated if they're on disability. Because it has a defective date, I'll be voting with reservations. But I do think that there are still some problems with the way the bill is drafted because it's dependent on calculations for variables that the employers do not solely control, but the fine would be levied on them.

"I would also note that in existing statute, a fine already applies for delinquent payments. So with those concerns, I do appreciate the intent and will be voting in support with reservations, but hope that when it comes back, in the conference committee process we can look at the 14-day timeline and potentially expand it to be a little more fair to the employers. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comments. Mr. Speaker, this is supposed to be a benign housekeeping bill that simply amends the registration process for medical use of marijuana. A very important use. However, when you look at the bill, it actually says that you no longer have to have your primary care physician to give you permission to get the medical use of marijuana, meaning just anybody who's a physician.

"I think that's a major shift. Right now under HMSA or even what's going to come in terms of the Affordable Care Act, you can't get your toes inspected without your primary care giving you a recommendation to a specialist. But yet now with marijuana, it's anybody, anywhere, at any time. And I think there's rumors about a certain place on the Big Island, you can get one with a phone call. So, Mr. Speaker, this is not housekeeping. This is rather a substantive change and opens the door for, I think probably misuse. For those reasons, I have reservations. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in reservations, for similar reasons articulated by the Minority Leader Emeritus from Hawaii Kai. This is a substantive change to the existing law. I think Members need to understand that this is an amendment to the medical marijuana statute that we amended just last year per Act 178 in 2013. I think people need to understand the context of which the amendments were made. At that time, I think I did speak in opposition to some of the provisions in that measure that became Act 178.

"He is correct, this does change the person who can issue the registration card, whereby the person would have the ability to have marijuana in their possession, or to grow, and to consume under the concept of medical marijuana. It changes it from the certifying primary care physician to 'a physician.' When I went back and looked at the committee reports, both the House Standing Committee Reports and the Conference Committee Reports, I think it was a key decision back then, last year, that we would limit the authority through the primary care physicians. I guess the idea was that the primary care physicians, amongst all different treating parties, would have the most complete understanding of the individual's condition or conditions and disease or diseases, and would be able to probably pronounce the best use for medical marijuana. I think that was the policy decision that was decided last year.

"I'm not sure whether or not we need to examine that or to change that policy and what it means, as far as the consumption or use of medical marijuana. But in so forward, it may lead to greater access to medical marijuana for those who need to use it for legitimate medically related purposes. I think it's well placed. That's the policy. But unless you have certain safeguards in place, it could lead to over exposure of the use of medical marijuana. I think that's where my reservations lie right now.

"But again, it's still a work in progress and I know the intentions of the Chair of the Health Committee to advance this measure. But my concerns basically are placed upon what we did last year when we amended the medical marijuana statute. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just a bit of clarification. What this is changing is to make it comply with how we have medical marijuana now administered. The primary care physician requirement would come into effect on January 1st, 2015. What we are doing is making it comply with how the program was run, when it was under Narcotics Enforcement Division. I think, in the 11th hour negotiations on this bill, this was thought to be a good addition.

"I think that there is still good intention behind it, but what we're finding out as a transition is occurring between Public Safety and the Department of Health, is that this language will, in fact, really, really constrict those folks who have been using medical marijuana for the decade or so years that we've had the program. This will jeopardize many primary care physicians who are in networks that do not recognize medical marijuana. And it doesn't reflect the way in which medical marijuana has been prescribed and dispensed in this jurisdiction in a safe way under the auspices of the Narcotics Enforcement Division.

"So, I do think that this is a good measure. I think one of the things that we're seeing through the transition is that the Department of Health is really taking seriously their role and is looking at ways to expand their authority so that the concerns about inappropriate use of medical marijuana will be addressed. But I think this is a measure that we're going to have to pass in order to make sure that the program continues to run smoothly and we can move forward and make the necessary changes to ensure the safety and health of our patients. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. Ideally, everyone in this state would have a primary care physician. Unfortunately, our state has an extreme shortage of primary care physicians. So, mandating that someone get this permission or card from a primary care physician is not going to be possible for many people in the state.

"The other problem is even if you have a primary care physician, that primary care physician is not mandated to allow you to have medical marijuana. Even if they think that it would benefit you, physicians in this state are often skittish about filling out those cards because of the stigma attached, or perceived stigma, and also because marijuana remains a Schedule I drug on the national level. So even though court decisions have said that they won't jeopardize the license of a physician, people have concerns.

"There are only a very small number of physicians in this state that, I think the number is 14, that actually have filled out those cards. So, this bill is a measure to acknowledge the reality in the state rather than the desire, which would be everyone would have a primary care physician that was willing to prescribe it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Standing up with reservations. Mr. Speaker, my reservation is on the issue of the deletion of requiring a physician. I understand about the struggle to get a primary care physician. However, the potential reading of the language could allow a wide variety of medical professionals to be able to prescribe, which I think makes it way more fluent then it was previously under the previous department. One of the concerns has been, Mr. Speaker, that we have had investigations done in which a physician from California would fly to the State of Hawaii twice a month and prescribe an average of 1,500 scripts within a four-day period for medical marijuana.

"So I understand the difficulty with making it to only primary care physicians. However, making it too broad, I think, would make it much more difficult and much easier for potential abuse. And actually in the struggle of trying to make prescriptive medical marijuana legitimate use for pain management and pain medication, to eventually try to make it a prescribed appropriate medication or use of treatment should be also monitored, like we do with other pain medications. I think that will help legitimize it, both in the medical profession, as well as within the communities. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, with reservations. Mr. Speaker, I was confused by one remark regarding how we have to make access easier in order to smooth out the process. I find that very confusing, particularly in regards to how the Office of the Public Defender spoke against this bill and the Community Alliance on Prisons. Particularly, I'm concerned that people in prison, 80 percent of which are said to have been experiencing drugs, they are not for this. The point of the misuse and the potential of that I think is severe. We already know that even without a permit, anybody, everywhere, anytime, anywhere, gets marijuana in the State of Hawaii. I don't think I'm speaking out of school here.

"To make it, even now, legally more open I think is not necessary and I think this just opens a door. Notwithstanding what my good friend, and it's good hearing from a physician from the Big Island, my former Peace Corp colleague. But it's where if we make it so easy, why don't we just jump in and follow Colorado? We're not ready for that yet, and I think if we wait and see what Colorado has done and is doing, both in the medical as well as the recreational, we'll have not had to reinvent the wheel. We'll not have had to go to the moon to prove it's there. We will learn from others rather than having to do it ourselves.

"So this opens, it's the floodgate. Anybody, anytime, anywhere, can get medical marijuana. Particularly, the Representative from Mililani saying, hey, guy flies in town and 1,500 prescriptions are done in four days. That's phenomenal abuse. And if those are true, Mr. Speaker, this is going to make it probably he is going to double his intake given what's here in this bill. Thank you"

Representative Fale rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, can I change, I'm going to vote no. And can I have the words of the previous speaker, as well the Representative from Mililani, entered into the Journal as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, rising in support with brief remarks. Number one, the Hawaii Medical Association passed the resolution in 2010 urging that medical marijuana be removed from the Schedule I substance formulary to a lower classification. Number two, the American College of Physicians has taken a position urging reconsideration of marijuana from its current status as a Schedule I substance.

"There is good evidence as indicated by these two bodies that medical marijuana does have a beneficial effect for some patients. Number two, I would point out that very often medical marijuana is prescribed by people, by physicians, who are specialists dealing with pain management, dealing with oncology, dealing with ophthalmology, and so they are not primary care physicians. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to say that I appreciate the intent of this legislation and I can certainly understand where it's difficult if your primary care physician does not choose to issue a certificate for medical marijuana, or if you're on the neighbor islands and you have difficulty accessing a primary care physician. My concern is, are we creating loopholes for people to abuse the system.

"I'd also like to point out that in the Department of Health's testimony on this bill, they had a couple of suggestions. If we're going to remove the requirement for a primary care physician, then instead require the physician to provide a medical history and physical examination of the patient, review the patient's medical records, maintain a medical record on the patient, and arrange for a follow up of the patient while they're on this treatment. So I'd hope that as the bill moves forward, we can consider these suggestions. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just again with reservations. I think another concern I had on this measure, and I think Members should understand that the effective date, I think it's what we call 'clean'. It's January 2nd, 2015. So that means that if this goes out of this Body, it may never come back for further deliberation by this Body.

"Is the statutory cap we'll impose upon the Department of Health what they can charge a patient for the registration card? Right now it's set at no more than $35 a year, but in our discussion with the Department of Health division and branch chiefs who will be involved in the regulation of the program once it's transferred over from the Department of Public Safety, is that they intend to need additional funds to empanel a group of medical experts to look at different types of illnesses or diseases by which medical marijuana might be the appropriate pharmaceutical product to use.

"There's nothing there right now in the current budget. But as this thing rolls out, under their intentions, once the Department of Health gets it, they're probably going to need additional revenues, additional funds to empanel and support and staff that program. So I think by having a statutory limitation on what they can charge, instead of leaving it up to the rules, as it currently is right now under Public Safety, we might unnecessarily hamper the Department's ability to generate enough revenues to this program, to properly staff and service this important program. So that's another reason why I'm voting with reservations.

"The policy itself, we've gone over this many times, Mr. Speaker. It's one of choice and it's just a matter of how do we make sure that in allowing patients who need this medical marijuana, we don't endanger the rest of the community by over exposure to non-legitimate uses of marijuana. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I stand to cast a very strong no vote on this. Mr. Speaker, what this will allow is for vendors, liquor stores, mom and pop ones, maybe the chains like 7-11, whatever, to scan a person's driver's license if they're purchasing liquor. The driving license administration from city and county came in and testified against the bill, saying it wasn't necessary.

"We don't have anyone here under the age of 21, but if we did, you would see that they're driver's license is in a vertical format. Whereas ours, who are over 21, are all in the horizontal format. So right off the bat, your vendor will know that person is a minor or could be a minor. Although they may, and it says right on the face of the driver's license the date that person will become 21.

"We have a real severe crisis of identity theft, and this is just asking for it. It's going to go on to systems that are not necessarily secure, it's going to be able to be picked up by other people. When you look at what happened to Target, who should be somewhat sophisticated with their system and they were hacked, think of your mom and pop store and the way that they store data or they get it and their connections to the internet. So, I really think the bill should be relabeled and should be 'identity theft welcomed'."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. It is not a matter of if your image of your driver's license will be stolen, it is when. I don't understand why we need this, if it's to buy liquor or cigarettes. You show it, they can see your age and then you get your product. I don't know why they need a record of what you purchased. I'd like the comments of the Representative from Kailua inserted as my own. But, it's going to be compromised, at some point, absolutely it will be. So for people's safety and the safety of their credit and privacy, I would say please don't pass this. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong reservations for right now. Mr. Speaker, last year we passed this measure with a sunset provision which was June of this year. This measure now will remove that sunset measure. And I think we usually put sunset measures in there to see how effective these measures are going forward. As the good Representative from Kailua had stated, in the last 12 months, there was a major purge in Target where all those credit cards had to be re-issued.

"I think just recently, there was another purge in another company. So, I think we should be very cognizant of what type of information is collected by business institutions and how they're protecting that. I would have been quite happy if we would've maybe extended the sunset period maybe another year or two. But not lifting the sunset period, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with slight reservations. Mr. Speaker, as legislators, we're always called for balance. We always call into balance the perspectives on which we base our basis of society and what's the best way to govern. The unfortunate thing, in the last 12 months, over 35,000 people died on our highways. Sixty percent, or the majority of those deaths, are due to alcohol or drugs.

"Unfortunately, even though it's inevitable that there's going to be an identity theft, it's inevitable that the people who are too young to drink, who can't even practically drive already, get more booze into their system, it's more carnage on the highway. So the balance is, obviously we don't want identities to be stolen, at the same time we don't want drunken drivers. Particularly young kids who don't even have the wherewithal driving experience to have alcohol in their system.

"That's why this thing is here. To protect those kids from 'faking it', if you will, that they're old enough to drink. So, again, as legislators we're called upon for balance. This is a hard call. But, unless there's some data that says that this isn't working, and there have been 7-11s, so many people got their identities stolen. I think we should proceed with it, but to keep our ear to the small business community as to its efficiency."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations with a very brief comment. If we're going to require our small businesses to file electronically, we should cease and desist charging them when they pay electronically. Right now there's a huge disincentive that you get in electronically. I pay my GET Tax electronically, and then it says, oh by the way, we're going to charge you 2.32 percent if you use a credit card, we're going to charge you a buck if you take it out of your checking account. That is a disincentive. So I asked in the hearing, what percentage of the people actually file electronically right now and pay online? Eighteen percent.

"Sometimes it takes four, to five, to six, to seven, almost two weeks to get the cash that comes in by check, to get the envelope open, to get it put into the bank. This is a system by which we can incentivize people to do electronically, if we don't put a barrier up and say, 'well, we're going to charge you to pay us quicker.' Entirely in opposite, counterintuitive. So for that reason, Mr. Speaker, I hope as this thing moves, it'll get more logic and sound feet on the ground, rather than it's just mandatory without any incentives. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and some brief comments. This is to make the ukulele the official musical string instrument in Hawaii. I speak as someone who as a kid played ukulele hours a day. I used to learn Jake Shimabukuro songs and enter ukulele contests. But, knowing the history of the ukulele wasn't invented here in Hawaii at all. It was brought by the Portuguese and adapted. It was originally the machete or the braguinha. Something that was invented here in Hawaii by Joseph Kekuku in 1889 was the kika kila, which is the steel guitar. And I think this would be more appropriate historically for our host culture to incorporate as the official string instrument of Hawaii. Mahalo."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just very, very slight reservations. Like the previous speaker, I just wanted to mention that Joseph Kekuku was born and raised in Laie. So, I think we should stick with an instrument that was invented by a Hawaiian in Hawaii, and there's no ifs or buts about it. That is definitely a Hawaii instrument, Mr. Speaker. Just those comments, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I still have reservations with this measure. I really appreciate the work of the Chair of Consumer Protection and Commerce on the bill. It relates to the State Fire Council, and on page 4 of the bill it allows them to develop, implement and coordinate a statewide system. Then it talks about in Subsection (d), that they can adopt rules.

"My only concern is that I would not want to see these rules or the statewide system to mandate that residential properties have to have fire sprinklers. We've been down that road before, where some of the members of that council tried to put that measure through, to require all of our constituents throughout this state to have to install fire sprinklers in the ceilings of their homes. I just want to make sure this bill won't give them an opening to go down that road again. Thank you."

H.B. No. 1678, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1678, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with comments. Mr. Speaker, this bill came up because of a discussion we had at the Kaimuki Neighborhood Board, after there was a TV show of Hawaii 5-0, which featured two Kaimuki houses in a story that had flash backs to World War II. One of these homes, one of these residences, was listed in the Hawaii Register of Historic Places, the other one was not. And the discussion was the difficulty of getting building permits for older homes.

"In Kaimuki and in many other districts many, many homes, 40 percent or more of the homes are 50 years and older. In order to get a building permit, you have to go through a two-step process. The first step is of course to apply to the city and county permits, who then transfers the document over to DLNR, Historic Preservation Division. Now, if your home is dilapidated, termite eaten, remodeled once, twice or many times, it doesn't matter. If it's 50 years or older, it has to go through this process. This takes time.

"The process is additionally timely because there is a gap sometimes or slowness between the transfer of the documents from the city and county to DLNR state and then back. So, this is part of the reason for this bill. The note that this bill has a defective date, note further that the original bill tried to move the benchmark for historic from 75 years to 50 years. That was deleted. The 75 year mark was a concern to some veteran groups and some historic preservationists interested in preserving World War II buildings.

"So this is definitely a work in progress. There are several amendments that could possibly improve this bill further, and I urge that Members support this bill, let it go through and hopefully it will get improved. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With regret I have to rise in opposition. This doesn't diminish the work that the Chair of Water & Land has done and will continue to do on this bill. But, because of the ramification it has for my area and many areas like that, that's why I still have to stand in opposition. With that, may I have the remarks by the speaker of Kapolei entered into the record from the Second Reading of this bill as if they were my own? Thank you very much, because they're not here to explain.

"Mr. Speaker, briefly. Many of our areas have federal designated historical districts. There are requirements to keep this designation. This designation is important from a planning perspective. It's also important from a funding perspective and very important on many other levels. Part of the problem that's happened is when people are taking their homes and remodeling them, not in style consistent with the historical district. If a certain amount of homes reaches this level, then this designation is stripped from the district.

"What concerns me about the bill, and what's caused much uproar in my district, as already we're having a problem with this occurring. The process of review is important to make sure that we have the character of the town to be able to qualify for this important designation. And by creating this pass-through, for lack of a better word, you're going to have homes that are going to be redesigned outside of the Historical Cultural Resources Committee's designation, and we could lose that federal designation.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I am hopeful that the Chair of Water & Land, who I have had many discussions with, who will continue to work on this and we can come back with some language that would exempt homes in these areas, so that we can continue to make sure we have this important federal designation for Lahaina Town and potentially other areas. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing up with reservations. Mr. Speaker, for the Members, many of us, in fact probably in every district, we have homes that are reaching the 50 year mark. This has had a huge impact on home owners just renovating, improving, as well as impacting the sale of homes from one homeowner to another, during this issue. The current language within the bill has several gap areas. Both have federal as well as state implications. So with those reasons, I'm with reservations."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. Also, can we also send our love, our thoughts, our prayers and our condolences to the families of these three people that we lost? And last, if we could also do the same for those who are right now fighting for their life. There were three passengers on that plane. One was the Corporation Counsel Attorney and two other employees of the Planning Department. So if we can do that today before we end, I appreciate it."

"Mr. Speaker, in 'kind of' support. Right now, large cigars have an ad valorem tax. In other words, it's a percentage of the wholesale price. And cigarettes have a per-stick tax. I think this bill kind of brings that out, and what we need to do is to get to a per-stick tax instead of an ad valorem tax. So this is a good discussion, so I'm kind of in support. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. One brief comment. When you try crunch the numbers, it comes out to about 75 percent of a cigarette is taxed, and about 50 percent of the cigar. So it already is taxed less than cigarettes are, and in that case, if we're going to have to cut any revenue from the state, I don't want it to be in a way that will subsidize smoking, essentially. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting reservations right now. My understanding is that this bill would impose a late fee penalty on late payment to adult residential care facilities. I can certainly appreciate the reason why we're looking at the measure like this. But according to the testimony received from the various departments, there are already in place laws, rules, regulations that do impose additional payment of fees for tardiness of payment by the state.

"I just don't know if this squares with the current law and other vendors who also provide services paid for and through the State of Hawaii. So, for those reasons I'll be voting with reservations right now, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1693, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HUMAN SERVICES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of HB 1756, HD 1. This measure establishes the Resources for Enrichment, Athletics, Culture, and Health (R.E.A.C.H.) Program within the Office of Youth Services to provide after-school programs in public middle and intermediate schools. By establishing the R.E.A.C.H. Program, the state will provide the framework for a better transition of the state's potentially disconnected youth to a successful fulfilling adulthood.

"According to the Office of Youth Services, there are several common denominators in the lives of our at-risk youth, including but not limited to: a lack of connectedness, a sense of not belonging, and failure in school. These factors all lead to poor decision making, which is evidenced by the fact that middle school aged children represent nearly half of all first time juvenile arrests in our state.

"Providing quality after school programming for middle schoolers through the R.E.A.C.H. program will address those very issues by building positive relationships, connections, and facilitating school engagement. This will positively impact school attendance and success, and is a critical prevention tool for criminal and other behaviors that negatively impact Hawaii's youth and the state as a whole.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take a stand for our youth and to vote in support of HB 1756, HD1. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"I'd like to thank the LG for introducing this initiative. It is an excellent opportunity for middle school students to stay active and be healthy. I also would like to thank the LG for reaching out to the middle schools particularly on Kaua'i, to potentially be a pilot project in the State of Hawai'i. As our youth of today shall soon become the leaders of tomorrow, it is our responsibility to ensure their ability to make healthy choices for a healthy future."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1756, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO YOUTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1889, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, support with reservations. Mr. Speaker, I was up fully on this bill after I heard from the Chair of Health that it's aspirational, meaning this is a goal that we should actually protect our homeless with a sense of right, a sense of dignity, a sense of who they are and how they should be respected. I think this is good. It's a sense of giving a shield, a covering, a protection for the homeless.

"But then someone whispered in my ear that maybe this is the first move to make the homeless a protected class. Nothing could be worse than that if in effect someone wants to go into the restaurant without their shirt on, for example, and because they're homeless they can do that because they're a protected class.

"I think it could be a slippery slope. So I would stick with what the Chair of Health said. It's aspirational. It's an attempt to give them dignity. And I think this bill calls into question all of us who voted against the homeless having a rest or reclining on bus stops. You think, clearly if we vote for this one, we certainly have homeless rights at bus stops. So, Mr. Speaker, to be consistent, I think this is a good way of measuring our conscience on the homeless. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fale rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 1889, House Draft 1, but with serious reservations.

"I have previously been critical of the Judiciary Committee and the Majority Leadership team for supporting legislation that criminalizes homelessness – specifically, my remarks on House Bill No. 1660, House Draft 1. That is why I am somewhat puzzled by this bill. The intent of this measure is laudable – that everyone, including the poor and homeless – should have the same opportunities as all other citizens. This is a very noble policy goal, and in an egalitarian society, such a policy must be implemented to ensure that all citizens are afforded the same opportunities as everyone else.

"But bold policy statements ring hollow when the legislation proposed has no way of being enforced nor implemented. This bill does not assign any agency to enforce these policy goals, nor does it provide any mechanisms for redress to the victims of discrimination whenever this policy is violated.

"What good is a law if it will never be enforced? Perhaps so that we as a Body can pat ourselves on the back and publish in campaign newsletters that we were kind to the less fortunate?

"I truly hope that we are sincere in our willingness to help the homeless because they are the most vulnerable group in our society. They have the least political power in our community. They are the modern day lepers that no one wants. And they are the most in need of basic necessities that we all take for granted – a safe place to sleep at night, to use the restroom, to take a bath, to cook a meal. No one should be without these basic necessities of life.

"To the extent that this measure will serve as a vehicle for real assistance for the homeless, and only to that extent, I support this measure."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with brief comments. Definitely, this is a bill that is aspirational. It is, however, based in part on what we already have in our State Constitution. Hawaii uniquely has a clause in the State Constitution that affirms the Law of the Splintered Paddle of King Kamehameha. That every elderly, woman and child be able to safely lay on the roadside. Homeless are not included. And of course, some homeless are elderly. Some are women and some are children.

"But nonetheless, there's a certain amount of compassion I think that we have to show to various homeless. And this is an attempt to reach out to that group. I would note that there is a huge flaw in this bill, and that it is applied to only state and federal entities and not the city and county and not the counties. Of course, as you know, the police come under the counties. And, of course, since this is work in progress, I hope that that might be addressed in the future. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1889, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO A HOMELESS PERSON'S BILL OF RIGHTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

Representative Kawakami rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict of interest. I work for a company that has actively recruited individuals with disabilities for employment," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Kawakami continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides a way for all of us to help uplift the portion of our community that often goes unnoticed, misunderstood, underutilized and underserved.

"My personal experiences with working with our disabled community in our stores has opened the eyes of our fellow coworkers, management, and myself. And what I found is that by focusing on abilities, instead of disabilities, it raises the bar of performance for everyone in the workplace. Oftentimes we hear about people trying to find their way out of doing more work. What I've seen is this particular community will do everything they can to find more work to do. Organizations like the Friendship House do tremendous work in training, placing and supporting individuals with disabilities in the workplace.

"Mr. Speaker, what this bill does is provide an incentive, a much needed incentive for employers to maintain the ability to hire, train and retain these workers, especially on the eve of a minimum wage increase that could potentially put employers out of reach financially, to continue to hire those in our disabled community. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to be on record that I support this type of income tax credit. It only betters our society, and this is the type of income tax credit that this Body should always be looking toward. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support, and I'd like to ask if the words from the previous two speakers can be inserted into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Kawakami and Choy be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this income tax credit. Mr. Speaker, I would enjoin my colleague from Manoa who suggested that this would be the good kind, because the other kind that he may not like is the kind that creates jobs for the people who do have these difficulties. So, I would say that as an equal time for his otherwise maha'oi comment. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2478, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

Representative Carroll rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to raise a potential conflict. I have my foster care license at this time," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Carroll continued in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of HB 1576, HD 1. This measure increases the monthly board rate for foster care services that the Department of Human Services pays to foster boarding home parents, group homes, and child caring institutions.

"The Department of Human Services has not raised the monthly board rate for foster care services since 1990. The current monthly board rate is a set amount and does not take into account increased costs for food, housing, utilities, clothing, and other necessities due to age and other factors.

"It's tough to ascertain an exact cost for these foster care services, and even harder to ascertain the costs that each individual foster child requires. What is evident, is that many of these resources provided by foster care services are mental and emotional and really cannot be defined by a price tag. It is also easy to understand that with the high cost of living in Hawai'i, $529 per month is not enough to cover the costs of caring for a foster child.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, in order to support these men and women in foster care services who do so much for these children, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and to vote in support of HB 1576, HD 1. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1576, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FOSTER CARE SERVICES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

No. 1808, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INCOME TAX CREDITS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. In support. After the great recession began back in '07, '08, it seemed to a lot of us all across the island, all across the state, that homelessness had gotten a lot worse. And when the point in time counts were done, there's a point in time count done every January that looks at the number of homeless. And it in fact, the number of homeless had increased significantly after the recession began.

"This bill will go a long way. And what those numbers said to me, and I think to other people who are analyzing them, is that there were certain kinds of homeless that were with us before. Those with mental illnesses, those with drug abuse who were not affected that much one way or the other by whether the economy was good. But there was also a significant number of people who were simply priced out of the market because they lost their job or they were laid off part of their job, they lost some hours, and they just couldn't afford to find a place to stay anymore and as a result they ended up on the street.

"For anyone who has been in my district, in District 29, with Iwilei, Chinatown, Palama and Kalihi, the increase in homeless is palpable. Other areas that I've been to in the island on Oahu are also deeply impacted by homelessness. McCully, Waikiki and the Leeward coast.

"This bill contains a whole variety of items that will make a difference in the homeless situation on the island and in the state. I hope that we find a way to generously fund all the items in this bill because this is a problem that not only is a crisis for those who are homeless, but it also impacts business all around the state because of the things that homeless people, where they sleep and what they do. It cuts into our tourism base, and it just makes life for other residents much more difficult when they try to walk down the sidewalk or get on a bus or any of the other day to day activities that they try to do.

"So, I normally don't get up and talk in favor of bills if I don't think there's any danger that it's not going to pass. But, in this case, it's a very important issue. Not just for District 29, but for the whole state. And I certainly hope we'll be generous in our support for these programs. Mahalo."

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker, this bill puts our money where our mouth is, but I think it may fall short. From the Finance Committee perspective, this bill is inaccurate in that it estimates the homeless at 6,000 people. A provider of services to the homeless, who is known for accurate record keeping, says it is 12,000.

"So, for those of which we have numbers to insert in the future, I believe this is inaccurate unless we've had some very false testimony, which I don't believe is the case. So there's 12,000 homeless in the State of Hawaii. Literally double what we have assumed it to be. Mr. Speaker, that was shocking and I hope this will increase the amount of money towards this cause. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 712-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2256 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2256 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations. Quite briefly, but simply, I just wanted to state that I do certainly understand the intent of this measure proffered by the Governor, but I do think that the 15 year extension of the sunset date does two things that are disadvantageous. One, it continues to keep our cost of living high on all of our constituents. And two, I also think at some level it belies or concedes the fact of having to rely on fossil fuels for a stable source of funding for the multiple pots and worthy purposes that receive and derive income from this tax.

"But I think those are two fundamental problems with extending it so long for 15 years. For those reasons, I do have reservations. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Johanson be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to again to state my opposition to HB 2256. The initial purpose of the Environmental Response, Energy, and Food Security Tax was to create a reserve for environmental response. However, over the years, both the tax and reserves have not served their original purpose. The money should have been spent for its original purpose then, rather than now extending the tax for continued funding for programs outside the scope of the original intention. My constituents already spend more than most on gas because of the long commutes in traffic from Mililani. Any measure that would cause them to pay more for gas gives me cause for concern. For these reasons, I continue my opposition to extending the Environmental Response, Energy, and Food Security Tax. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition with a request to have the Minority Leader's words entered into the Journal as my own, and one brief addition, if I may. Mr. Speaker, this bill threatens our credibility. Not because of what the cause is of what we're doing in terms of the use of this money, but when we say this is a temporary tax and we just keep pushing it down the road and making it permanent.

"Every time that we have a tax increase, people know that there's going to be lying through our teeth. As time after time after time, we say this is a temporary tax, we renege on it and it becomes a permanent tax. So, though this is a good cause, I think for the cause of the credibility of this Body, this is not a good bill, Mr. Speaker. But for the sake of the environment, et cetera, it is a good bill. Therefore, I have reservations. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. May I have the words of both previous speakers inserted in the Journal as if they were my own, with an additional brief comment, Mr. Speaker.

"Mr. Speaker, I asked this question last year regarding the food security. So it's been about a full year where I haven't been able to receive, nor has anybody presented any information regarding how much more food secure we are now than we were when the tax was first set in place. So not only did this tax not even achieve the food security that it was initially intended for, Mr. Speaker, nobody can give a single point of data as reference to whether this tax is achieving the goal that it's been set or not.

"Then going back to the words of what the previous speaker stated, Mr. Speaker, our credibility is on the line here. When we can't even do what we're saying we intend to do with the taxpayer's money, Mr. Speaker, we start to undermine the confidence that the public has in our Body, as Representatives, Mr. Speaker. So, for those reasons I certainly must be opposed. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In support, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to just note that it's important that we support this measure because the federal government has chosen, along with many others, to invest more than $150 million here in the state for the purposes of achieving our renewable energy goals. Goals which include saving everybody here countless thousands of dollars into the future. Tens of thousands of dollars over the lifetimes of their energy bills.

"What this bill does is ensure the state retains its commitment to following through with those goals, which includes the funding of our Energy Office, whose planning and cooperation with all the private sector stakeholders has led to reductions in fossil fuel consumption here, which is saving people money. We are now part way, we're ahead of schedule in 2015 thru our 2030 goals to be 70 percent renewable.

"Included therein, has been the flattening of our energy prices, which are no longer sky rocketing, but starting to finally level out. From here on out, we're expecting with the adoption of this new technology the ability to reduce those costs on a household by household basis going forward, which could save people tens of thousands of dollars into the future. The amount that they're saving is hundreds, I repeat, hundreds of times more than the cost that this measure deals with today.

"It is not only the right thing to do, but it is the cost effective thing to do over the coming several decades. So for those reasons, I stand in support. Thank you very much."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill is a small step toward protecting our economy from the fluctuations in the price and availability of imported food and energy.

"We have learned time and time again, and the legislative, executive and judiciary branches of government have confirmed, Hawaii's economy depends on our ability to protect and manage our environmental resources, now and in the future. Hawaii can be described as the most unique and vulnerable, and only island state in the union. We are the endangered species capitol of the world, and host to one of the most agriculturally and energy rich places on earth. We have the potential to demonstrate how people can live well and within their means, in a resilient and sustainable economy, with local food and energy jobs making up a significant part of our robust economy.

"Much of my focus this year has been finding ways to promote the growing of more local food for local markets. This bill will provide the Department of Agriculture with a continued source of funds to support this goal, and they need the help desperately. During budget cuts in recent years, the Department of Agriculture suffered seriously and has yet to recover. The funds potentially available as a result of this bill becoming law will make a huge difference for protecting and promoting our valuable agricultural industry.

"There is promise on the horizon, farmers are anxious to teach new farmers how they can succeed; the state may acquire significant, productive agricultural land this year (20,000 acres in the Wahiawa area) making land available to new farmers; and technology is providing farmers with more options to succeed, which then feeds new businesses, our local people, and many of our visitors with fresh and high quality food choices. Growing food in Hawaii must be not just possible, but profitable. It can be, but government needs to find better ways to both get out of the way of businesses and promote more, new, and better businesses.

"Also, I want to point out that by minimizing our imports, we also increase our environmental and economic security by reducing the paths now open to invasive species that have devastated so many of our businesses, especially our farmers, and really threatens all of us. The little fire ant, for example, has become the alien species de jour, a pest that is now here in Hawaii and spreading, unintentionally, throughout the islands. The little fire ant has devastated other places like Tahiti. This particular pest threatens our pets with blindness, our children with painful bites, and causes our lands, once infested, to be almost entirely unusable by people. We must plan well and create policies that make sense. This bill is one small step in the right direction."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Kako'o 'ole loa. In opposition. Yes, we know about the 70 percent renewable energies. However, being on geothermal for the last 20 years, there was no cost reduction, because just about avoided costs that were used in comparison to the Barrel Tax of the oil. So, 20 years now, we're here and I'm still paying a high kilowatt hour. So it doesn't make sense to me that this bill is here anyway. Mahalo."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition and a brief comment. The reason for my opposition is the extension of the time period from June 30th, 2015, to June 30th, 2030. In line with the movement of energy efficiency and new technology, that extending this for a hard 15 years I think is too long of a period.

"Mr. Speaker, I think that with innovation, with movement, with the new discussion of alternative vehicles and use of other energy efficient ways to keep our homes heated, lighted, and moving vehicles, that this 15 year hard tax extension is too long a period. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 2256.

"Mr. Speaker, it is well known that residents from the west side of Oahu spend the most on fuel, electricity and transportation because many work in town. By extending the sunset date, we extend the length of the tax on residents; thus extending the fuel and electricity costs on west side constituents. The extension produces a negative impact rather than a positive impact. Why is such necessary when the state is currently in a surplus? The only ones to gain from this bill, who are incentivized, are major companies and corporations, not our residents."

Representative Fale rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in opposition. The funding of our current objectives, as far as it comes to renewable energies, is severely flawed, Mr. Speaker. We're counting on, and as we heard in the Governor's State of the State address, that he wants to purchase 20,000 acres of land with the intent of putting more windmills in Central and North Shore Oahu.

"Mr. Speaker, if we intend to listen to the communities that we represent and pay closer attention to what's happening, island nations like that of Great Britain have actually banned any further windmills within their country, Mr. Speaker, because there has been a revolt within the communities, as it's been described.

"Mr. Speaker, we have very laudable goals as far as achieving renewable energy percentages into the future, Mr. Speaker. But, my community is still waiting to see the savings that have been promised for decades now in regards to the energy policies that we put forward. And yet, month after month, year after year, decade after decade, energy costs just continue to increase. And I think that's severely problematic, Mr. Speaker. I haven't seen a decrease in the bill that I pay. Neither have my neighbors. Neither have their neighbors. Neither has my community on the whole, Mr. Speaker.

"Obviously, there's something severely wrong with the approaches that we're taking right now. And to move this forward and fund it counting on certain things that we know will face quite stiff opposition in the communities that they're going into. If anybody doubts this, try put a 300 foot windmill in the community that you represent next to those residents and we'll see what kind of response we get then, Mr. Speaker. So, if we don't want that in your own community, don't stick in somebody else's. So, for reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think we need to revisit this measure and approach it with a clear mind."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, second time still with reservations. Mr. Speaker, I rise in response to the aspirational statements of the Energy Chair. Not because they were incorrect, but because they weren't credible. Mr. Speaker, we can tell people they're going to save money, but until they see in their bills on a monthly basis that they're saving money, all we're doing is creating the illusion of saving money. We have been told that since 2009, electrical costs have actually doubled. The cost of electricity has doubled. So, where's the beef? Where's the progress that we keep promising the people by increasing their taxes for the purposes of decreasing their electricity supplies?

"So, Mr. Speaker, let's be honest. People want a cost of living reduction. They don't want an increase. We can aspire and we can say it's coming, but unless we show evidence and proof of it, Mr. Speaker, they know that's a hollow sound that we're creating in this Chamber today. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Very briefly, in support. I agree that there hasn't been a lot of decreases in people's electricity bills. But to attribute that as a result or any causal link with the Barrel Tax doesn't make a lot of sense to me really. I think if you look at this measure as aspirational but part of a more holistic plan of reinventing the way we get energy in this state, then it probably is right in line in reducing electricity rates.

"Another part of the equation will obviously have to be changing the way our grid is. Removing barriers to distributed generation and battery storage for homes. As long as we have a model where our utilities make money based on the amount of electricity that's being used, we probably won't see reduced rates. But eventually we will, and when people do pay less money for electricity, then that's when we'll see them spending a lot more money in our small businesses and help diversify our economy here. So, in support. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. Second time, still in support. I'll be brief. Thank you. You know, this bill is not just aspirational, it is actually having a measurable impact today on electricity bills. When you look at the projects that have been approved as a result of the state's energy planning and its partnership with those private partners who have moved forward on executing long-term power purchase agreements with renewable producers that are flat, meaning for the first time our electricity rates aren't subject to the increasing cost of oil, which could be entirely volatile and outside of our control. But for the first time, controlling those prices finally puts a ceiling on where we should expect our electricity prices to be.

"This is not just aspirational, this is having that effect starting actually a few years ago. And going forward it's going to have more and more of a compounded effect year after year. On top of that, by reaffirming our commitment to our energy goals, we're not only securing that energy future for our families and our communities, but we're assuring the continued support of the federal government to the tune of hundreds of millions of dollars over the course, over the term, right here in Hawaii.

"I'd like to point out this isn't just about the future. Some of the impact that's being had today, I can point to my district where over a thousand homes, a thousand families, now have electric bills that are about $17 a month. That is a direct result of a lot of the planning we've done to make sure that our utilities adapt to allow more solar photovoltaic, as one example, on the grid.

"Right now, we've all seen the high cost of getting off the grid, of securing one's own electric bill. Right now, that is the only way to do it. Communities like Kahala, Kailua, others that are wealthier, tend to have already adopted a lot of this in large. Those families are taken care of, their bills are set.

"Right now, for the first time this past year, the greatest adoption of this technology and the greatest reduction in cost for families is happening in communities like Waipahu, Waianae, other places that are more middle-of-the-road economically. That have been disadvantaged in the past, but for the first time have an opportunity to take advantage of this and save money. The only way that's going to happen, though, is if we continue to modernize our grid. If we continue to push our utilities and create new policies and partnerships with companies that allow these partnerships to move forward and allow families to continue to install new technology. That takes effort, it takes funding, and that's what the state's doing right now, and that's why this funding is important. Thank you very much."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to take, looking at the situation in Great Britain, I can't find anything that says that they've banned any additional wind turbines there. But I would note that they have, at this point already, they have more wind turbines then the rest of the world combined. So the fact that it's a little controversial there, at this point, is not surprising. But, I don't think it means that they view that as a bad form of energy. They view it as one that they've already tapped into more heavily than any other country in the world. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Lee be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition with brief comments. I actually really understand the value of the Youth Risk Behavior Survey and have used it in my own research, but my primary concern here is that we're changing this from an opt-in to an opt-out, and I think that we're probably moving in the wrong direction in terms of parental consent. I think parents should have to give active permission if their kids are going to be surveyed. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this is part of the 'mother may I' to the University of Hawaii series of bills that we've introduced given the, I guess the missteps, the difficulties they've had from the 'Stevie Wonder Blunder' on down to the present.

"But, Mr. Speaker, we've made a commitment with our academic community. We made a commitment to give them sovereignty, or at least to be self-governing. And we're slowly taking that away. Not that we're smart or not smart, but I don't think we know how to run a university better than those that we have there now. And this is one of the ways that we kind of pull back and say, well, we really want to look over your shoulder at everything you do, and this is only one of, I think, the three we have today.

"Mr. Speaker, we have to make up our mind. Is it going to be the University of Hawaii/Legislative Campus, downtown campus? Or are they going to be independent in Manoa and on the rest of the islands? I think we should keep them independent. I think they need to have a shot across the bow, just like we had earlier from the, I forgot the Hawaiian word, from the ho'oma'a Representative from Manoa who was very persistent in making sure they knew we were not happy with them.

"But, Mr. Speaker, we were almost taking their tuition away until the Finance Committee pulled back on it. And 60 percent of the whole essence of the viscera, if you will, of the university was that tuition, which we did shoot across the bow. But I think we are going to the extreme in rubbing their nose in it by having all these bills that say, 'You guys can't be trusted. Your autonomy, your sovereignty is threatened, and you better kiss our ring before we make more trouble for you.'

"Mr. Speaker, I don't think that's the way you deal with academics. I think it's a better way to maybe negotiate, but some of this stuff that's now passing Third Reading, I think is a bit extreme. For those reasons, I have reservations. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. My good friend from Hawaii Kai forgets that the University of Hawaii is the fourth largest expenditure of state funds. And we, we in this Body, are the stewards of those state funds. We have a duty, we have a duty to watch every penny that is spent by all organizations.

"Now, this particular bill, all it says is, if you're going to issue revenue bonds, please come and ask us and please tell us what project you're going to spend it on. Ladies and gentleman, is that so unreasonable? From a Body that's supposed to be looking after state funds? Just for them to tell us? From my perspective, it's not. From my perspective, it is our duty. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Choy be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Just in strong support, Mr. Speaker, and I would like permission to enter written comments into the Journal. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, you're the wind beneath my wings."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill serves to support the development of crucial space technologies that also have a dual usage in our state. Specifically, this bill looks for fund research in renewable energy, smart construction materials and water reutilization. These areas are vital to the State of Hawaii in moving going into the future in a sustainable manner.

"Hawaii serves as a strategic location to enact meaningful international cooperation and partnerships for these types of projects. The natural geography allows for a unique opportunity to undergo realistic field simulations and testing. By developing these technologies in the state they can laterally become implemented and utilized by our citizens. Hawaii stands to become a place of inspiration and innovation of technologies that can ultimately benefit the islands in maintaining their natural beauty.

"Furthermore, by making this appropriation for the development of these new technologies it serves to inspire our keiki to the STEM fields. Developing these new technologies in state will give rise to emerging economic opportunities as they become utilized in commercial applications. The rise of these STEM jobs will keep our island keiki interested in science and will have them work to improve upon their home."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. So, mahalo."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations for the same reason I said before, that this is one of the 'mother may I' bills for the University of Hawaii to kiss the ring of the Legislature to make sure they're doing what they're paid to do. In light of the Representative from Manoa, the Higher Education Chair, I do think that it is our kuleana to watch over it, but the way that we watch over is sometimes the way that people watch their children. Some are really watching them in a micro way versus in a macro way. And I think we're getting down to micromanaging to the point where it's going to be disruptive rather than progressively helpful. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I still have reservations."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I didn't wear my ring today. I rise in support of HB 1491. This bill essentially answers a question, which puzzled me for quite a long time. And the question is, how can a special fund have a negative balance?

"Mr. Speaker, you know special funds are like a family checking account. The checking account is the main system for maintaining and controlling family finances. The checking account is a simple tool, where you usually put the money you get, like your paycheck, and you pay your bills out. In this checking account, you record your transaction, and the most important number in your checking account is the balance to see whether there's money in the checking account or not.

"Now, it's a very, very simple system, Mr. Speaker. It doesn't take mathematics, it's just simple arithmetic. I think even the good gentleman from Hawaii Kai could probably keep this record up to date. But the problem at the University of Hawaii is they have negative balances in many of their special funds. And the most glaring example of a negative balance is the more than $10 million negative balance in the Athletic Special Fund. How can that be? Can any of us have a negative $10 million in our checking account? I mean except for you, Mr. Speaker. So, how can this happen?

"First, the university comingles all of the balances of the special funds into one account. Second, Budget and Finance Department, and that's our Budget and Finance Department who does the allocations, does not keep track of individual ceilings of each special fund. They allot monies on the aggregate ceiling of all special funds. And of course, third, in order to overdraft your checking account, you have to have a huge source of money. So what is this source of money that the University of Hawaii has? What huge source of money does the University of Hawaii have? Tuitions. The Tuitions Special Fund. Just like my bill which died, that would have put the Tuition Special Fund into the General Fund.

"Mr. Speaker, these three factors coupled with the existing law that allows for the transfer of funds among programs, cost elements, and accounting periods, results in the negative balance, but also results in poor accounting practices, lack of transparency, and poor reporting of expenditures at the university. Think about it. A negative $10 million in a special fund. We should never, never go beyond zero.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill corrects that current law, but this is not a panacea for all accounting challenges at the university. But it is a step in the right direction, and it is for these reasons I stand in strong support of this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I just wanted to come from the lens of a recent student of UH, recognizing that, when student funding comes from tuition dollars, but for every tuition dollar that's spent for a student, the state ends up spending at least two. So when the special fund is in a negative or in the red by $10 million, oftentimes the university taps into student fees or raises tuition in order to fix that, and that's no good. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker, sitting on the Higher Education Committee, I've been afforded the opportunity to learn a lot of things about the University of Hawaii System that I certainly didn't know before. And I found very alarming the way that a lot of the money and the budget was handled over at the university, Mr. Speaker. So I think it falls within the responsibilities of this Body to kind of set some of those things correct.

"Also, Mr. Speaker, if I may have the words of the Representative from Manoa entered as if they were my own, Mr. Speaker. I think they articulate very clearly the challenges that we face over at the University of Hawaii, Mr. Speaker. We know that we have severe challenges. The hole that we're in is totaling in the billions of dollars at the university, Mr. Speaker. This lends itself to describe the financial hole and struggles that we have there. Unless we set those things straight, Mr. Speaker, the university's future is not going to be as bright as it could be, as it should be, Mr. Speaker.

"This is the flagship institution of the State of Hawaii. The university will lead the way, in many respects, leading our community as far as we can go. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think we need to set some of these issues straight with the budgetary problems we have at the university. And I think this measure will assist in that effort."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"On 740-14, House Bill 1491, I am in strong support of it, in the budget. Because we did have that discussion, and it was kind of hilarious at the hearing because the DAGS person and the university persons were talking about budgets. Plus a lot of their funding didn't have any monies. And then the guy was saying, oh, you know, if somebody else does the job, then he doesn't have to do anything. So I ended up telling him, well I guess you don't want a job, right? And then, that's where it was. But, it was a really good, healthy discussion, and I'm in strong support of House Bill 1491. Mahalo."

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support. I just wanted to request that the text of the article from today's Kaleo, the student newspaper from Hawaii entitled 'The Plan to Fix UH Athletics' by Paige Takeya and Alex Bitter, featuring my legislative aide Travis Fallon, who was my vice president when we successfully defeated an athletic fee increase a few years back, be entered into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Ing submitted the following:

"The plan to fix UH athletics

Paige Takeya and Alex Bitter, Senior Staff Writer and City Desk Editor

When Travis Fallon was a University of Hawai'i student in 2009, the idea of a student athletic fee wasn't popular.

Though athletics department officials floated the $50 a semester fee as a way to balance the athletic department's budget and give students free access to games, the then-vice president of the associated students of the University of Hawai'i saw little enthusiasm among his peers for the idea.

"There was no student support to speak of," he said.

Now, as UH officials look at increasing that fee to close another budget gap, students are still apathetic about the fee and UH athletics in general, according to student attendance figures and those trying to attract students to games.

In addition, some of Mānoa's top administrators say hiking how much students contribute to athletics is low on their list of fixes for lower campus' financial woes, behind options like increasing private donations and revenue from UH merchandise.

'EVERYTHING IS ON THE TABLE'

Currently, Mānoa's student athletics fee brings in about $1.4 million each year, according to UH Mānoa Chancellor, Tom Apple.

Even with that revenue, the department is expected to fall short this year by $1.9 million — a deficit that would require an increase greater than double the current fee.

Apple said such an increase isn't the best way to close the gap, adding that he thinks it would be "extremely unpopular" among students.

"But we should always look at it (and) look at how it is in comparison with other schools," he said, referring to UH's peer universities in the Mountain West and Big West athletic conferences, many of which have more expensive athletic fees than UH.

Finding other sources of new income should continue to be the department's priority — especially through fundraising and merchandising — with raising the student fee ranking as one of the lowest priorities, he said.

Getting more revenue from outside of the university is apt, he said, since athletics functions as UH's connection to the rest of the state.

"It's more important to the community than it is to the student body," he said. "I don't think the student fee should be increased unless all the other sources are (exhausted)."

But soliciting new donations may be tough: Total athletic fundraising has taken a hit during the last year and a half, going from just under $6.5 million in fiscal year 2012 to around $4.3 million in 2013, according to the UH Foundation's two most recent annual reports.

That trend is something the athletics department is working to reverse, according to UH Athletics Director, Ben Jay.

He said the department is working with the UH Foundation and the university's athletic fundraising organization, -Ahahui Koa -Anuenue, to meet with more potential donors around the state.

Many of the people the three entities are targeting have never been approached by UH athletics before, but are willing to consider a gift, he said.

"The comment I see and hear all the time in our first meetings (with new donors) is 'We've just never been asked,'" he said.

Jay said the department is also scheduled to take direct charge of UH's athletic merchandising rights this summer, a move that he hopes will bring in an extra $500,000 to athletics that formerly went to UH's general account.

Although he said significant cuts to the program would affect students and the range of sports offered at the university, the athletics director said he will ask individual programs to give unused funds back to the department this year.

"We are keeping our expenses low and (trying) to generate as much as we can," he said. "We're looking for that positive cash flow."

He also disagreed with Apple about the athletic fee's reception among students.

"(Athletics) is an important part of student life here," he said.

FOSTERING STUDENT INTEREST

When UH's Board of Regents approved the athletic fee in July 2010, Mānoa's administrators described it as an opportunity to increase students' engagement with the university's athletics teams.

"The goal of this investment is for our students to benefit from a strong, visible sports program that magnifies UH Mānoa's image, along with encouraging greater student participation in athletic events," then-Chancellor Virginia Henshaw said in a press release after the BOR's vote.

Vance Nagata, chairman of the Mānoa Maniacs, said his group has been working to do just that.

He said the group, which plans and hosts activities at athletic events to encourage students to come, has seen modest year-to-year gains in student attendance for certain sports in recent years.

The Maniacs also receive part of the 8 percent of the athletic fee set aside for student activities, according to the Student Athletic Fee Committee website.

Nagata said UH doesn't have the same dedicated fan base that mainland universities do because Hawai'i offers students more year-round outdoor and athletic activities — making it less attractive to sit and watch a game.

"You could go to the beach, go hiking," he said. "There are a lot more opportunities here."

But he said the university does have the potential to catch up with its continental counterparts and that the funding provided by the student fee can help.

Meanwhile, Apple said UH's sports are a key part of the university and that funding them will remain a priority.

"We do the discoveries that help save lives, or help save the oceans or help save the beaches," Apple said. "But athletics? It doesn't rise to those levels, but it's still important.""

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, again with reservations, please. Mr. Speaker, I believe that there's an inconsistency in that we're not being consistent with our own departments. They transfer funds from programs to different items all the time. But we're going to say, 'University of Hawaii we don't want you to do that.'

"For example, in the Finance Committee, we're calling departments out for using their empty positions to fund sick leave and vacation time. That's a no-no in terms of strict accounting, according to the Higher Education accounting mindset. But we're doing this in other places and we have departments come with emergency appropriations. We don't have Budget and Finance do strict scrutiny like this bill calls for, to watch everything that the university is doing.

"So my point is, in my supplemental speech here is, let's be consistent. If we're going to come down with a hammer on the University of Hawaii, let us do so with our own departments who do a lot of this different kind of stuff that we're saying to the university that you cannot do. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Choy rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Still in support. In rebuttal, my good friend from Hawaii Kai is wrong again, but acceptable. The university is not doing anything illegal by shifting funds throughout their different programs. In fact, in fact, three, three agencies are allowed to do this. The DOE, HHSC and the university. What this bill does is takes the university off that list. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 2218, House Draft 1, but with serious reservations.

"Section 76-1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, reads:

"It is the purpose of this chapter to require each jurisdiction to establish and maintain a separately administered civil service system based on the merit principle. The merit principle is the selection of persons based on their fitness and ability for public employment and the retention of employees based on their demonstrated appropriate conduct and productive performance. It is also the purpose of this chapter to build a career service in government, free from coercive political influences, to render impartial service to the public at all times, according to the dictates of ethics and morality and in compliance with all laws.

"In order to achieve these purposes, it is the declared policy of the State that the human resource program within each jurisdiction be administered in accordance with the following:

(1) Equal opportunity for all in compliance with all laws prohibiting discrimination. No person shall be discriminated against in examination, appointment, reinstatement, reemployment, promotion, transfer, demotion, or removal, with respect to any position when the work may be efficiently performed by the person without hazard or danger to the health and safety of the person or others;

(2) Impartial selection of individuals for public service by means of competitive tests which are fair, objective, and practical;

(3) Incentives for competent employees within the service, whether financial or promotional opportunities and other performance based group and individual awards that encourage continuous improvement to achieve superior performance;

(4) Reasonable job security for competent employees and discharge of unnecessary or inefficient employees with the right to grieve and appeal personnel actions through the:

(A) Contractual grievance procedure for employees covered by chapter 89; or

(B) Internal complaint procedures and the merit appeals board for employees excluded from coverage under chapter 89;

(5) Equal pay for equal work shall apply between classes in the same bargaining unit among jurisdictions for those classes determined to be equal through systematic classification of positions based on objective criteria and adequate job evaluation, unless it has been agreed in accordance with chapter 89 to negotiate the repricing of classes; and

(6) Harmonious and cooperative relations between government and its employees, including employee organizations representing them, to develop and maintain a well-trained, efficient, and productive work force that utilizes advanced technology to ensure effective government operations and delivery of public services."

"I have concerns that this bill will seriously undermine the merit principle in our Civil Service Law. Is it truly worth jeopardizing the integrity of our civil service to protect a handful of exempt employees should the administration change after the next election?

"In reviewing the broadcast of the public hearing on this measure, I found most compelling the testimony from Kevin Mulligan representing the Hawaii Government Employees' Association. While HGEA supported this bill, Mr. Mulligan stressed the importance that our government works, to the greatest extent possible, be based on fitness rather than on political spoils. That is why I was very troubled that HGEA supported this bill – a measure that would seemingly allow political appointees to enter the civil service via statutory conversion rather than the examination process established to ensure impartiality and fitness.

"It is my hope that should this measure require another reading, I will obtain clarification from Mr. Mulligan and HGEA before casting my final vote on this measure. In that spirit, I support this measure."

"Mr. Speaker, one such project is already underway on the North Shore of Kauai. They have created a community food forest on private land. And for that I'd like to thank the family for their generosity. Mr. Speaker, in a time where families continue to struggle to provide the basic necessities in life, having a venue like this can help alleviate the pain that many people suffer in trying to provide food for their families. Thank you."

No. 2177, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMUNITY FOOD FORESTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 750-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2634, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2634, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2634, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHAPTER 171, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 751-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2204, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2204, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Please note my reservations on this measure, Mr. Speaker. It's not so much on the measure itself. It's the user fee and where we're going to go forward with that user fee, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, our counties have somehow generated a real desire for increasing of taxes. It's like a here, there and everywhere if we can do it, you know they've asked for a 1 percent increase in the GE Tax option. TAT increases. City and county asked for $10 a month to pick up your garbage. This is now for your water usage to have a, probably a $10, $20 a month storm-drain fee.

"This voracious appetite, Mr. Speaker, has to stop. Because what I see is, this is the beginning of what otherwise can be a creeping taxation. Not at the state level, because we've done a pretty good job of keeping the wolf away from the door, or at least not into the house. But it's creeping into the counties. And I think this is symptomatic of what the garbage monthly had come on Oahu, and what may be now in this group of Mayors who just seem to be hitting us from all directions.

"For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think we should stop it now. The state is in control of taxes, property taxes are at the county level. Let's keep the firewall between them and ourselves. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. May I have the words from the Representative of Hawaii Kai entered into the Journal as if they were my own. I think this is the first time I ever did that, but that was a good speech, Representative. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting with reservations. Primarily because of the discussions I had with my neighbor island colleagues and some of the concerns that came through the various councils of those communities with reservations. But I'll be checking with the council here at City and County of Honolulu and the administration at city hall before I make my final judgment. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to be voting with reservations. When my residents and my constituents in my community, whenever it rains up in Ulupalakua, a ton of water flows down and they could end up fronting a big cost if this bill passed. That being said, I'm not voting no because there's no requirement for the counties to harness this new power, and they could heed the advice of Peter's uncle Ben Parker in with this new power, will come the responsibility. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2204, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STORMWATER MANAGEMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 34 ayes to 13 noes, with Representatives Awana, Cullen, Fale, Fukumoto, Hanohano, Johanson, Matsumoto, McDermott, McKelvey, Say, Tokioka, Tsuji and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

At 2:05 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

THIRD READING

At this time, the Chair stated:

"We're on page 18. We're going to take a bill out of order, go to page 21, on the top of page 21."

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 2214, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE REMOVAL OF CONDOMINIUM ASSOCIATION DIRECTORS," was recommitted to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 2176:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 2176, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ZONING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 2387:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 2387 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting no on this measure. Let me explain. When I look at this draft here, it seems to change the current law that would allow a person under the age of majority, therefore under the age of 18, to seek a permit renewal or to be placed on a wait list for a permit.

"I just have some concerns that it may disable a young person, who may be interested in carrying on their family's business or tradition of fishing and having a dock at the small boat harbors. I know that small boat harbors docking space is a very valuable permit to have. I think it's seldom transferred, seldom opens up, because we have not developed in many harbors and wharf and pier space for our residents. So I know it's a very valuable permit to have.

"But I just have concerns about what this might do as far as unintended consequence, Mr. Speaker. So, I'll be voting no. Maybe my fears and concerns will be unrealized. But at this point in time, I just have to vote no, against this bill. Concerns about the unintended consequence. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Kako'o 'ole. Same reasoning as the Representative from Wahiawa. Especially when we have families that have generational knowledge of their areas and they do a lot of fishing or gathering and harvesting in the sea. This would hamper them from their quality of life. They've been here many, many generations and now we want to change the course of their quality of life. This is unacceptable. Mahalo."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Thank you. At first I was just going to say it was okay and let this measure move forward, but the good Representative from Wahiawa brought some things to my mind.

"I have a very good friend that grew up in a commercial fishing industry, a traditional fishing industry under his father's wing. I'm just looking at this going, what would happen if he, at 14 or 15, started under his father's wing in his commercial fishing industry and what would happen if father passed away before that young man reached 18? Would he still be able to take his father's position in that commercial mooring permit or on his commercial vessel permit? I do know his son now is working to take over that industry at some point in time. And I'm not sure if we're protecting those unintended consequences with this particular measure.

"I do understand the intent of it, but I think we should look at those special circumstances at some point in time. So for right now I would like to cast my reservations. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. In opposition because, on the island of Kauai, where fishing is a way of life, I personally know a lot of people that are under the age of 18 that are sea worthy, they're safe, they know how to operate the vessel. So I see no purpose for this, Mr. Speaker, so, in opposition."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with some slight reservations. I want to thank the Chair of Water & Land for working on this, because I understand from the position of lack of capacity to contract with minors that this could be a concern.

"However, as has been addressed in other measures, there is a process by which people 16, under the age of 18, can become emancipated through the courts and thereby be considered adults. And a lot for the same reasons, in Lahaina, we have a lot of our fishermen and everything. We do have situations where the kids are emancipated and they could and in fact have the slip and be able to carry on the business of fishing for them and their families.

"So, hopefully if the Senate looks at this measure they will put a defective date in and perhaps consider that language, so we can make sure that we don't inadvertently sweep that class of people up like has been in other bills. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2387, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SMALL BOAT HARBORS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Fale, Hanohano, Kawakami, Oshiro and Tokioka voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 1634:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 1634, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIFORM MEDIATION ACT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 1641:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 1641, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENTAL ACCESS TO STORED COMMUNICATIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 1858:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1858 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as this is Third Reading, I'll be voting a no on this measure. Let me explain to you briefly. Over the last several years I have been here, I've seen an expansion of enhanced penalty for certain types of classes of public servants, from fire fighters to water safety officers, and now liquor commission investigators. I just have concerns that by doing this and increasing the penalty that may arise in an assault case, I think it's assault two in this case, so it's a full-on felony charge, if it arose against a liquor commission investigator.

"Again, I have concerns about creating penalties for different classes of public servants, and in this case I really don't understand the necessity for liquor commission investigators. I can understand the situation where it may arise and enforcing the laws at those establishments that are serving or selling liquor, but that says more about the institution of that business and maybe some of the customers there and their state of mind. So, that's part and parcel of the occupation and job of these civil servants.

"I just don't understand the need or necessity to enhance the penalty as assault, it's assault two, which would subject the person to a class C felony, five years imprisonment. So those are my concerns, so I'll be voting no. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1858, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PENAL CODE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Hanohano and Oshiro voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 1881:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 1881, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CENTER FOR NURSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 2206:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 2206, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COLLEGE-CREDIT EQUIVALENCY PROGRAMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 286, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 286, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOURISM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 2338:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 2338 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Say rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 2338, but with some slight reservations.

"Among other things, this bill would eliminate the requirement that the taxpayer obtain certification by the Department of Taxation (DOTAX) to claim the credit. DOTAX claims that due to the complexity of the credit and the very short time frame in which the certificate must be obtained, DOTAX is unable to provide more than a cursory review of the information at the time of certification.

"While I agree that taxpayers are already required to provide this information to the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism, I am concerned that the provision of this tax credit will be merely ministerial on behalf of DOTAX. In my view, considering the potential revenue loss that this tax credit precipitates, should the state be providing this very substantial tax benefit without making sure that the research activities are legitimate and conducted within the state?

"If the current statute or mechanism is too burdensome, perhaps we need to look closer whether there is simpler incentive to use or other ways of supporting high technology businesses in our state."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2338, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX CREDIT FOR RESEARCH ACTIVITIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 2268:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 2268, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MORTGAGE SERVICERS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 2585:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 2585, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FORECLOSURES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 2031:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, H.B. No. 2031, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTINUING EDUCATION FOR MARRIAGE AND FAMILY THERAPISTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

H.B. No. 2092:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 2092 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I make a comment in opposition to this measure please? Mr. Speaker, I'm opposed to the bill. I'm not opposed to medical marijuana. Medical marijuana is medicinal, not recreational. But what this bill does is unfortunately turn what otherwise is medicinal purposes by removing the primary care physician or the doctor from a key knowledgeable point of view to where anybody can do that. I think it cheapens the process, it makes it like a mail order or someone who can buy something online, and I think it's an unfair thing to make it from medicinal to recreational and just open the floodgates. Therefore, I'm voting no on this bill. Thank you."

Representative Ichiyama rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takayama rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamashita rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. It seems like an odd objection to me to say that you can't get a medicine from a doctor that you just met that day. If you go to the emergency room, you meet a doctor you met that day, they'll prescribe medicine for you, some pretty heavy duty stuff, if you're in bad enough shape. If you go to one of the clinics down in Waikiki, they'll prescribe a medication for you on that day, first time they've ever met you. So, it doesn't strike me as being all that unusual to have medication prescribed under those circumstances. Mahalo."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as his own, and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to House Bill No. 2092.

"My main objection pertains to allowing all physicians, and not just the primary care physician to prescribe medical marijuana.

"Medical marijuana is intended to provide relief to persons having chronic medical conditions. Who is in a better position to determine whether a patient has a legitimate chronic medical condition than the primary care physician?

"If the authority to prescribe medical marijuana is expanded to any physician and not just the primary care physician, I believe there will be a greater likelihood that medical marijuana will be prescribed for conditions that are misdiagnosed and as such, there will be a greater likelihood that the use of medical marijuana will be used for non-legitimate purposes – such as the illegal sale of marijuana from patients who access the drug for non-legitimate purposes to others.

"I found the testimony provided by the Department of Health to be the most compelling:

"In order to meet the intent of primary care provider in Act 178, SLH 2013 as best as possible, the Department recommends that in addition to current requirements in the law, revised legislation should require a physician to:

(1) Provide a medical history and physical examination (to minimize risk of misdiagnosis);

(2) Review the patient's medical records, including medical records from other treating physicians from at least the previous 12 months;

(3) Maintain a medical record on the patient; and

(4) Arrange for follow up of the patient's condition while on medical marijuana therapy.

These can be added to Section 329-126, Hawaii Revised Statutes."

"In my view, this proposed amendment is well thought out, balanced, and fair. It is very unfortunate that the Chair chose not to include this amendment in the bill. Had this language been in the bill, I might have been willing to support the bill with reservations.

"Be that as it may, because the draft presently before us does not include this language, I cannot in good conscience support this bill. However, should the Senate amend the bill to include this language, and this bill should come back to the House for Final Reading, I reserve the option to change my vote at that time. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Cullen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 2092.

"Mr. Speaker, last year the state passed SB 642 – essentially becoming Act 178, SLH 2013 – that limits the qualifying physician to the patient's primary care provider in order to ensure that the abuse of medical marijuana is limited. By amending Act 178 through HB 2092 by removing the requirement that the physician issuing the written certificate for medical marijuana usage be the patient's primary care physician, we open up the possibility for abusive use of medical marijuana. It would eventually allow anyone to write a prescription for medical marijuana and reduce the limit to the amount that each patient is allowed to use.

"We should take into heavy consideration the recommendations made by the Department of Health in their submitted testimony in regards to the amendments being made to Act 178, SLH 2013 to: 1) Provide a medical history and physical examination (to minimize risk of misdiagnosis); 2) Review the patient's medical records, including medical records from other treating physicians from at least the previous 12 months; 3) Maintain a medical record on the patient; and 4) Arrange for follow up of the patient's condition while on medical marijuana therapy."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you. I'll just make some very brief comments. I'd like to first start by saying that I think it's important that we operate and make decisions on correct facts, so I just want to clarify some statements that were made yesterday and that were just made now. The bill before us today does not simply say that anybody can certify this drug. It has to be a physician. That language is still there and in fact what we are reverting to is a system under which we now operate, where medical marijuana is overseen by the Department of Public Safety and there is a requirement that a physician provide that written registration card. So this is not allowing online purchasing of medication, that is simply an incorrect statement of fact.

"I would like to also clarify statements that were made yesterday that testimony in opposition was provided by the Office of the Public Defender. There was no testimony provided by the Office of the Public Defender on this measure before the Health Committee. A statement was also made yesterday that testimony in opposition was received from the Community Alliance on Prisons by Ms. Kat Brady. She in fact supported and provided testimony in support of this measure. Again, Ms. Brady and the Community Alliance on Prisons testified in support on this measure.

"Another statement that was made yesterday was that there were about 14 physicians currently providing these registrations. There are in fact 183 physicians in this state issuing certificates, and that information can be found in the testimony of Mr. Keith Kamita, who testified as an individual, as well as if you go to the information or ask for that information from the Department of Health, which is beginning to, in this transition process, to track those important statistics.

"The second part of my testimony in support is, I do want to go to the testimony from physicians that was provided to us. I think on this particular matter it's really important to look at the people who are currently in the program of medical marijuana. A doctor who is involved in this says in his testimony, quote, 'There is no other medicine restricted to licensed medical doctors like this. The primary care doctors in Hawaii are often not allowed by their employers to help patients with marijuana. Kaiser insurance, the VA and any federally funded local clinic forbids their primary care doctors from participating,' end quote.

"Another doctor, Dr. Clifton Otto, in his testimony says to us, quote 'Doctors have the right to create a confidential doctor-patient relationship with any patient that comes to them seeking medical assistance. Any doctor with a valid Hawaii State Medical License and a valid State and Federal Narcotics License can complete a Hawaii State Medical Marijuana Certification. It would be a violation of the right to practice medicine in Hawaii to restrict certifications to only certain types of medical doctors.'

"Mr. Speaker, what I found more compelling even than these statements by the doctors in this state who are qualified and who know best when and how to administer and when to prescribe these certifications. I look to the testimony of the patients. And this is where I think we have to really understand how if we don't change this part in the law, that we are going to be shutting down access to this kind of important medicine to folks.

"An individual testified in her testimony, quote, 'to ensure that palliative, hospice, and other non-primary care physicians may prescribe medical cannabis to their patients. My mother suffered horribly in her last year of life as a rare and untreatable cancer in her spinal cord caused excruciating nerve pain. Her primary care physician referred her to a specialist in palliative care, who prescribed medical cannabis. She applied for and received her "blue card" and I am so grateful, because medical cannabis consistently worked in seconds to bring her pain level from a 10 to a 2 or 3! Had the law been in place that limits the right to prescribe medical cannabis to primary care physicians, my mother would not have been able to receive the relief she did.'

"Another medical marijuana patient says, 'I am a 60 year old local resident who has been benefiting from Hawaii's enlightened Medical Marijuana Law. Recently my KAISER physician was advised by KAISER that he may NO LONGER ASSIST PATIENTS LIKE ME to renew our Medical Cards. Now I learn that even if I pay out of pocket to be advised (and perhaps recommended to continue with the Medical Marijuana) by a different licensed physician in this matter I might still be denied the remedy that has served me so well.'

Representative McKelvey rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti continued, stating:

"Thank you, and I'll be very brief. I've only got one more to read.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker those two first patients were from Honolulu, this patient is from Big Island. She states, 'As a medical marijuana patient on the Big Island for the last 3 years, with a degenerative condition which there is no cure, I have found it impossible for my "primary care physician" to recommend cannabis due to the fact that the Bay Clinic is federally funded and does not care to go against the laws of the federal government. Because of their fear, I was forced to locate and use the services of a doctor who was knowledgeable in the uses of cannabis, and was not afraid of the local Narcotics Enforcement Division, who does their best to demonize any doctor who dares recommend cannabis to their patients.'

"Mr. Speaker, I think it's for these reasons that I support this bill, but I do want to also acknowledge the very valid concerns raised by some of those folks who testified with comments in opposition. And I think as this bill moves forward I think the comments of my colleague from Moanalua, Salt Lake, who pointed to other possible ways that we can look at improving this measure, I think we should do that. But I do think that if we do nothing, we will be shutting down access to a perfectly reasonable use of medical cannabis, that it should be available to our patients. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Awana rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, thank you very much. Second time in opposition. Let me just state some of the facts from the record. I'm going to be reading from the Department of Health testimony. This is the testimony of David Sakamoto, who is the Deputy Director of Health Resources Administration. And I certainly concur with the policy change in his testimony. Let me read the relevant portion of it.

'"The Department recognizes the compassionate use of medical marijuana. The intent of limiting the qualifying physician to the patient's primary care provider in Act 178, SLH 2013 was to ensure that the patient's physician knows the entire patient rather than a limited organ system or symptom(s) and that the potential benefits of medical use of marijuana would likely outweigh the health risks for the qualifying patient. A single visit by a patient to a physician who has limited knowledge of that patient might not meet the intent of compassionate use of a substance that does not fall within normal pharmacologic standards.

'"Limiting the qualifying physician to the patient's primary care provider, however, may create problems for patients whose primary care physician refuses under any circumstance the compassionate use of medical marijuana (which may be a substantial portion of primary care physicians in Hawaii) or work at the Veteran's Administration Hospital, Kaiser Health Care System, or federally funded community health centers where they may not be permitted or discouraged to provide compassionate use of medical marijuana. As a practical matter, currently, there are an inadequate number of primary care providers on some of the neighbor islands.'

"But this is what he also says. 'In order to meet the intent of primary care provider in Act 178, SLH 2013 as best as possible, the Department recommends that in addition to current requirements in the law, revised legislation should require a physician to: 1) provide a medical history and physical examination (to minimize risk of misdiagnosis); 2) review the patient's medical records, including medical records from other treating physicians from at least the previous 12 months; 3) maintain a medical record on the patient; and 4) arrange for follow up of the patient's condition while on medical marijuana therapy. These can be added to chapter 329-126.'

"I don't see that in the bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2092, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL MARIJUANA," passed Third Reading by a vote of 33 ayes to 13 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Awana, Choy, Cullen, Fale, Hanohano, Ito, Ohno, Oshiro, Say, Tokioka, Ward and Yamane voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

When the Aha Moku was set up a couple of years ago, I supported it knowing that this group may provide good information or advice to the department regarding resource management practices and other cultural issues. However, with the recent Niihau fishing issues, I am disappointed with the Aha Moku's role in supporting one side of the issue, and not affording other stakeholders a voice on the other side. I'm hopeful that this funding will give the council resources needed to reach out to more people before making decisions or recommendations. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting with reservations on this measure. My concerns are similar to what I spoke up on the last time it was before us, on the effect upon the State Health Planning and Development Agency. I have concerns about that. Also, the permanization of this healthcare transformation program or policy that was, I think, erected several years ago. I just see it turning into some kind of agency. I don't know where it is right now, but for those reasons I'll be voting with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Just in clarification because I think it's important, again, to read the bill that we're voting upon. And what this bill does and the amendment and what it does is actually change it and not place it in SHPD, and also continues to make it just a temporary position within the Office of the Governor. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2309, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Cachola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill. I don't usually vote no before Final Reading, but I'm voting no now to send a signal to everyone that this bill is a bad bill. I just want to let you know that there are really unintended consequences if we pass this bill the way it's written. Especially on the students. Farrington High School, Waipahu, and other high schools have tourism academy and taking up culinary as part of that.

"A lot of our community colleges have culinary. We have one of the best in KCC. One of the students is none other than my grandson. And when he was young, he always dreamed of becoming a chef and owning a chain of restaurants. Every time we'd go to a restaurant he'd take pictures of dishes the way it's presented. Now, we are dashing the hope of students taking culinary because we are now telling them, 'this is a disincentive to open a business here.' And they might end up not staying here. They might go to other places, or countries, or states to set up their business. What are we telling to our students? That we are going to increase penalties even before they start? That's a bad signal.

"Not only that, Mr. Speaker, State of Hawaii has a reputation of being not a good place to set up business. And this one that we are taking up, if we pass this bill, is another mark of really saying, yes, this place of Hawaii, State of Hawaii, is not good to set up business, because we are now looking at increasing penalties. How many restaurants right now that we have, have a gross receipt of $3,000 a day? Look at that. Only the high end restaurants have that. But even then, those restaurants, it's like a signal to them, 'Close shop. We don't want you here.' And those are the unintended consequences, Mr. Speaker. Those signals that I can see are a danger for Hawaii in terms of its reputation when it comes to business.

"It is for that reason, Mr. Speaker, I'm speaking against this bill. We should at least give a reward rather than penalty for those who comply with the rules of the Department of Health. I understand that even the new director of the Department of Health is against this bill, or not even waiting on this bill. So why are we taking it up? Let's deep six this bill, Mr. Speaker, because it's really a bad bill. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker. Can I ask, for the sake of brevity, can I ask to insert comments into the Journal? And just a matter of clarification, Mr. Speaker, this is a Third Reading bill, correct? Thank you."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"With all of the regulation happening this year regarding restaurants (i.e. the new health rating system), the potential for restaurants tip credit and this bill (HB 2309, HD 2); these three government regulations could drastically impact the profitability of restaurants statewide. No one wants to see anyone get sick in a restaurant establishment, but to go up 200 percent in a fee increase, in my opinion, is obsessive. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to HB 2309, HD 2."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. And for the sake of brevity, just let me say it's a bad bill because we have, not only has the gentleman from Kalihi said made fearful those we are getting into business, we already have an anti-business reputation, Mr. Speaker. We're the highest taxed, the highest regulated. And with this one we're taking a very extreme, paranoid, $3,000 a day fine. Mr. Speaker, that's excessive. Seventy percent of all new businesses come from the mom and poppers. We're destroying jobs by these kind of tactics.

"Mr. Speaker, the easiest businesses to get into are food establishments, bars and beauty shops. Easy in, easy out. But if we put barriers even higher, it's going to be even more difficult to start a business. We have by our regulations and our taxations, created small businesses to become now micro-businesses. They're so small because they're afraid to hire employees, afraid of the taxes.

"Mr. Speaker, other than the government, these are the biggest employers out there. Seventy percent of all jobs are private sector. It's not working for the government, federal, state or city. Mr. Speaker, we have to be mindful of letting these businesses thrive and expand and hire employees. That's what's good for our economy. But these three times the amount of fines per day, $3,000 per day I think is egregious and they could be moderated hopefully in the conference committee, if there is one. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition, and I was moved by the great speeches by the Representatives from Kalihi as well as Hawaii Kai, so I'd ask that they be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker, I don't think these fines have been adjusted in possibly 10 or more years. I understand the concerns of some of my fellow colleagues, but a restaurant can easily make over $1,000 a day. Some of them make up to $5,000, $10,000. I remember bartending back when I was 18 years old and pumping almost $3,000 in one evening.

"So, what I see with these measures, just like what I see with the city and county fines, a business will stay open and say it's okay to pay the $1,000 fine to the state because they still make a profit at the end of the day. And is that what we want to say as a state? I don't think it is. Because they might be violating health rules. And at the end of the day, all these fines go right into our General Fund. So, I think we should be supporting these.

"My only little challenge with this is, going forward they may base it upon the Consumer Price Index going forward. And I'm open to the discussion because I think this has a date of 2050. So that's why I wasn't going with reservations on this bill. But we should really look at these fines and penalties that we have in our systems and bring them up to current date. Because business owners are going to see. It's much more feasible to operate even though I'm going to get penalized by the government. So thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cachola rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, Mr. Speaker. I just want to let everyone know that we have a lot of students going to culinary school. When they go to culinary school, the subjects they're taking are subjects that have something to do with cleanliness of restaurants. They should not be violating any of the standards set by the Department of Health. That's part of the things that they learn. They're not just going to go and run a business and with the intention of violating any of those laws.

"The way I look at it is, if my grandson hears me voting for this bill and you know that he goes to KCC, Kapiolani Culinary School. And he's now on the job training with Alan Wong, and he really worked hard. He wakes up early, takes the bus, works with Alan Wong, and goes to school at night. And those are standards that are being set to students. You come up with some disincentive for them, they might still go and be a chef, but they will not stay in Hawaii. We should let them stay in Hawaii by giving them encouragement and reward. This is the future of Hawaii. By the time they graduate and you come up with increasing the penalty based on the Consumer Price Index? By the time they graduate, the penalty will be higher than $3,000 a day. That's a wrong signal, Mr. Speaker. We might lose jobs in the State of Hawaii. Let's take care of our ohana. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2309, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADMINISTRATIVE PENALTIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 36 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Awana, Cachola, Hanohano, Ito, McDermott, McKelvey, Tokioka, Tsuji and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Creagan, Har, Lee, Thielen and Woodson being excused.

Representative Carroll's written remarks in support of the measure are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of HB 1754, HD 2 which establishes and appropriates funds for the Medicaid Buy-in Program for Workers with Disabilities.

"This bill will encourage individuals to gain employment, as well as improve the employment opportunities currently available for disabled persons, by establishing a Medicaid Buy-in Program for Workers with Disabilities. According to the Department of Health, employment is a key determinant of self-determination and quality of life for persons with developmental disabilities. By leaving our disabled population in the predicament they are currently in, we are doing them a disservice. That's why HB 1754 is so important, because it seeks to correct the aspect of Medicaid that discourages disabled persons from seeking meaningful employment.

"It is advantageous for economic development in the state and in the best interests of Hawaii's citizens with disabilities to establish programs and policies that encourage employment. It is also the intent of the Legislature that all state agencies work with citizens to identify and remove barriers to employment for persons with disabilities. This measure not only removes barriers, but seeks to improve the condition of the state's disabled population overall. Allowing disabled persons to attain meaningful employment, without the fear of losing the benefits afforded by Medicaid that they so desperately need, takes a lot of stress, financial and otherwise, off of persons with disabilities. It helps them attain a positive self-image and realize the true value they present to our communities because they will no longer be restricted from seeking or holding a meaningful, more fulfilling occupation.

"When we uplift those in the community that are disabled, we make a positive impact that uplifts the entire community. With this measure, we also send the message that our society will not let disability prevent individuals from reaching their full potential.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and to vote yes on HB 1754, HD 2. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1754, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Ing being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support on this measure. Hawaii is home to many servicemen and women who honorably serve Hawaii and the nation at large. Many of our servicemen and women have gone to war and have risked their lives for this country. Oftentimes, they return home with significant injuries or trauma.

"The sacrifice that disabled veterans have made for our freedoms and the hardships that they must face on a daily basis is a cause near and dear to my heart. As a beneficiary of this benevolent sacrifice, I firmly believe that the debt that is owed to these veterans can never be fully repaid. But there are small steps that can be taken to ameliorate some of their daily hardships, and bills like HB 1667, HD 3 and similar bills that I have introduced over the past two years embody this sentiment of gratitude.

"I understand the concerns of some of the testifiers that oppose this legislation because of lost revenues for our state highways, but I believe that by granting this exemption to certain totally disabled veterans, we are giving back a little to those who have given a lot.

"For these reasons, I stand in support of HB 1667, HD 3. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1667, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VETERANS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Ing being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1771, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Har's written remarks in support of the measure are as follows:

"HB 1771 HD 2 – Ka Pilina Ana No Ka Mokulele Kīwila.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support on this measure. The Civil Air Patrol is a volunteer organization that provides a great deal of assistance to our remote islands in the event of natural disasters. The aerial reconnaissance that these volunteer pilots provide can include inspecting damage to critical infrastructure after a natural disaster, reconnoitering our shoreline during a tsunami watch, assisting search and rescue operations, and assisting in drug interdiction operations.

"The appropriation included in this bill will pay dividends to the people of Hawaii. In recognition of the spirit of volunteerism and the sacrifice made by these intrepid pilots, funding the basic infrastructure requirements for these pilots makes perfect sense.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 1771, HD 2."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1771, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL AIR PATROL," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Ing being excused.

ORDINARY CALENDAR

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 765-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1024, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1024, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, brief comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in support of this measure but I want to be clear that I am somewhat disappointed in what the HD 1 turned out to be. But in the big scheme of things, I will be voting yes on this measure without reservations because I still believe in the principle.

"I would direct the Members' attention to the committee report which made clear that, overwhelmingly, the testimony was in support, including testimony from the Attorney General, the Department of Land & Natural Resources, the Mayor of the City & County of Honolulu, the Mayor of the County of Hawaii, the Mayor of the County of Maui, the Mayor of the County of Kauai, the Council Chair of the Council of Maui, the Council Member of the 4th District of the City & County of Honolulu, the Kauai Fire Department, the Ocean Safety Bureau of the Kauai Fire Department, the Ocean Safety Division of the Honolulu Emergency Services Department, the Hawaii Fire Department, the Hawaii State Fire Council, the Honolulu Fire Department, the Kauai Visitors Bureau, the Kauai Lifeguard Association, the Hawaiian Lifeguard Association, the Injury Prevention Advisory Committee, Outrigger Hotels Hawaii, Waikiki Improvement Association, the Poipu Beach Resort Association, the Kauai Chamber of Commerce, and many individuals testified in support of this measure. There was only one individual who testified in opposition to this measure.

"I was present that day during the hearing and the room was essentially packed for this bill. Really, the original bill was to remove the sunset provision and to ensure that our lifeguards had the protections that they need, particularly on the neighbor islands, Mr. Speaker, as our county lifeguards are the ones who man the state beaches. And absent gross negligence, the fact is that they put their lives on the line, not only for our residents but for our tourists as well.

"They play a very, very important part in our tourism. And so they should have the protections they deserve. And every year they have to come back here and beg for these protections. Yet all we do is to continue to slap them in the face and just extend the sunset. That's kicking the can down the road. It's not making a strong policy statement that once and for all we will support our lifeguards, as they are first responders, they put their lives on the line, not only for our residents but for our tourists alike. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I am disappointed with this draft, but I will support it because a half of a loaf is better than none. Thank you very much."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. The reason the committee did what it did on this bill is because the lifeguards have a lower standard of care, from what I can tell, from what we were able to ascertain at the committee, from any other class of people including doctors, EMS professionals, firefighters, police officers, I believe are all subject to simple negligence lawsuits.

"We've set up a system where lifeguards are the only ones who don't have to live up to that standard. And yes, they do put their lives on the line for us, as do other people who have a different level of negligence that they have to abide by.

"So the bill is moving forward, but it is a very unusual legal situation, and that's why we put the three year limitation on it, because I don't know what the rationale at this point is for treating lifeguards any differently than those other members of our society who are trying to help us and are willing to put their life on the line for us. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as his own, and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kawakami's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, as the Representative of the 14th District, I see first hand how large a role our lifeguards play in the protection of our state beaches. For example, on Ke'e Beach alone, in 2008, there were 44 rescues, 6,809 preventions, and zero deaths. In 2009, there were 52 rescues, 17,006 preventions, 132,740 beachgoers, and zero deaths. In 2010, there were 34 rescues, 13,488 preventions, 120,712 beachgoers, and zero deaths. In 2011, there were 33 rescues, 13,385 preventions, 107,988 beachgoers, and zero deaths. In 2012, there were 28 rescues, 16,572 preventions, 120,648 beachgoers, and zero deaths. In 2013, there were 42 rescues, 16,423 preventions, and zero deaths.

"Mr. Speaker, keep in mind these figures are for one beach. It is evident that these bravehearts put their lives on the line to protect our keiki, our kupuna, our locals and our visitors. Mr. Speaker, with each prevention and rescue, our lifeguards prevent the heartbreak that parents, children, family and friends are dealt when losing someone to drowning. Mr. Speaker, this bill protects those who protect us. It is a means to return the favor. Mr. Speaker, as the bill goes through, I hope the sunset date is removed and repealed, which is the original intent of the bill."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Our lifeguards become the doctor, the fireman, the savior of those in harm while in our ocean. Liability needs to be extended indefinitely. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Chair. I'd also like to have the words from the Representative of Kapolei inserted as if they were my own. Just one addition, Mr. Speaker. The last time this bill was extended, it was extended for five years. I don't understand the rationale behind three, but the last time it was extended, it was five. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. First of all, may I have the words from the good Representative from Kapolei entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Secondly, Mr. Speaker, I represent an area, Keawaula, that is a state owned beach that we have city lifeguards that manage that. And the next lifeguard to that beach park is probably 15 miles away. As the Representative from Kauai has stated, the last time the sunset was five years.

"My only problem on this measure is, take the sunset away, or at least it should be the five years. I don't feel we should have our lifeguards coming in here every few years, begging to have this extended. I think they do an excellent job. In fact, I remember Keawaula when there were no lifeguards out there. I appreciate the intent by the Judiciary Chair and I'm hoping that the Senate will possibly move it back to the five years for this time period. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Kako'o loa. Makemake au ka ha'i 'ōlelo o ka luna maka'āinana mai Kapolei mai e komo i loko ka puke hale luna maka'āinana. Mahalo."

The Chair addressed Representative Hanohano, stating:

"Representative Hanohano, could you please translate for the Members?"

Representative Hanohano rose, stating:

"'A'ole wau e makemake e unuhi mai. I don't want to translate. Mahalo."

At 10:30 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 10:30 o'clock a.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Thank you very much, Members. I just wanted to remind the Members that pursuant to the House Rules, we do have a code of conduct. Rule 60.1 provides, 'Members should conduct themselves in a respectful manner, acting at all times in a manner that promotes public confidence in the integrity of the House.' Rule 27.7 provides, 'It is not the person but the measure that is the subject of debate, and it is not allowable to arraign the motives of a member, but the nature or consequences of a measure may be condemned in strong terms.'

"The Chair humbly asks that the Members abide by the Code of Conduct, Decorum and Order. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. Point of information. This issue came up I believe a couple of years ago when Speaker Souki was, I believe, sitting in the back. And there was a Hawaiian phrase and he said, 'look, I want a translation.' And there was a recess, and Mr. Funaki and others settled and came back and forth and said, 'Well, according to the constitution, there are two official languages, English and Hawaiian. Therefore, no translation is needed.' That was the prevailing legal authority two or three years ago. So, Mr. Speaker, I think you've sort of varied a little bit off course from that. It is still an official language. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Thank you. Again, Members, it is correct. Hawaiian and English are the two official languages pursuant to the Hawaii Revised Statutes. So there's no problem there. I'm just asking that Members follow proper conduct, order and decorum, that's all."

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, the point was, the legal prevailing authority was that there was no need for a translation. Legally speaking, that's what was said."

At 10:33 o'clock, Representative Souki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 10:33 o'clock a.m.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll be voting with reservations on this measure. I ask that the words of the Representative from Kapolei be entered into the Journal as my own. Just further, I really appreciate the work that the lifeguards do and I frequent both the north and south shores. And you know, I see them out there pulling people from these dangerous surf where, obviously, they shouldn't be going out. There are signs posted, they go up and down the beach warning people with bull horns, but still yet, sometimes you have malihines and visitors, those who are not familiar with the ocean, venture too far into the surf zone.

"So that really endangers these first responder lifeguards. So I appreciate the dangerous work that they do, especially during the winter season on the North Shore. It is dangerous. And this year, Mr. Speaker, we had some historic high surf, high tides. Just really big waves, and it was very dangerous along the entire coast. Those lifeguards are out there putting themselves in harm's way.

"So, I think we really need to understand who we are trying to address and their work conditions as state employees at the front end of providing safety and security for all of us, including our visitors and the malihine. So with that, Mr. Speaker, I support this measure and I hope as it moves through, maybe we can extend the protections currently afforded to this very special class of public workers. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Har and Oshiro be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of HB 1024. The purpose of this measure is to permanently extend the law providing county lifeguards protections from liability by repealing the sunset date of Act 170. By extending the length of time that these protections afford our lifeguards we are protecting those who put themselves in harm's way to protect our beachgoers, locals and tourists alike. It is imperative for our state's ocean safety to be able to continue to provide lifeguard services on both state and county beaches. Without the protections from liability that Act 170 provides we will more than likely lose lifeguard services at beaches around the state.

"Following the enactment of Act 170, there have been tens of thousands of rescues and preventative actions by lifeguards each year on every state beach park on Oahu, Maui, Kauai and Hawaii Island, rescues and preventative actions that would not have occurred if Act 170 had not been in effect and lifeguards had not been assigned to those beach parks.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, Act 170 is a life-saving measure that deserves to be made permanent. I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and to vote in support of HB 1024. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1024, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LIABILITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Evans, for the Committee on Water & Land, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 766-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2552, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2552, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OCEAN RESOURCES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 767-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1639, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1639, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNLICENSED CONTRACTOR FRAUD," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 768-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1382, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1382, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like support with reservations on this measure. My reservation is the definition of tow-in surfing. I think we should leave that to the department and maybe some discussion with the public before we, as legislators, create that definition in this particular measure. But the rest of it I was kind of okay with. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I'm in opposition, Mr. Speaker. Surely the crash a few years ago gave us all a moment of pause. And these vehicles that are rented certainly should have a governor on them to prevent them from going fast, because these people don't know what they're doing. However, in the rural areas or other areas where these are permitted, I don't see how anyone is actually going to enforce this. And then that contributes to us passing meaningless or unenforceable laws which, I think in the long term, devalues what this Body does. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with strong reservations. First of all, this bill is effective upon approval. My concern is similar to one raised by the Representative from Waianae, whose district aligns the Waianae coast. In particular, it's the section that would allow exemptions from the speed limits of 30 miles per hour to those who are emergency service personnel, law enforcement officials, or persons operating a thrill craft for another engaged in tow-in surfing. I think that's where I have some very, very strong concerns.

"First of all, Mr. Speaker, I've been contacted by several folks from both the neighbor islands as well as from North Shore Oahu, having concerns with this prevision here. I don't know how many people understand that currently there is an ongoing problem with multiple users in the current surf zone right now. You've got boogie boarders, you've got long boarders, you've got short boarders, you've got guys on stand up paddle boards, and now you have another group of folks out there with motorized ocean motorcycles, or jet skis, out there in the same area. And the area can be as small as this Chamber area here. You have multiple users of the same wave and tide conditions at the same time.

"I think by doing this, we basically allow statutorily and give permission to those operators of thrill craft for tow-in surfing through vehicle. And that's a concern that's been raised. In particular, this gentleman from the island of Maui called me regarding what's been going on at Peahi, also known as Jaws of Maui, where you have people who have little skill, both to operate the jet skis, also to be towed in to these larger sized waves, with absolutely no skill or no conditioning. They shouldn't even be out there. But because of the technology and the ability to be towed in to these larger waves, put themselves at peril and also other surfers and users in the area. So that's a concern that was raised by this gentleman from Maui.

"That's basically the concern I have right now, Mr. Speaker. We'll see what happens. Maybe the Senate will take a look at this and try and accommodate some of the concerns that have been raised by these watermen and waterwomen out in our surf zone. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Jordan and Oshiro be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I've got to admit that at the committee level, I was the one that suggested to the Chair that we add in tow-in surfing from exemptions. It wasn't because I wanted to promote or create more proliferation of these types of surfing in places where it's not appropriate. My main reason for asking for the exemption is that I didn't want to put these tow-in surfers that are out in gigantic waves at risk if they couldn't get out of the way because they were limited as far as the amount of speed by governors. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First, I have a potential conflict I'd like to disclose. I've actually been one who's done tow-in surfing before. Pretty cool, but not Jaws. Total disclosure," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. The words of the previous speaker really hit home, and as one who's had the opportunity to do this, not in Jaws area but outside Third Reef in Kahana, I can tell you that if you see anybody out there, they're probably in trouble, Mr. Speaker. Because those waves are huge, you're way out in the channel, and you've got to tow-in well before they start to break, which puts you way, way beyond the area of paddle boarders and even some of the regular surfers and stuff like that.

"So, I do support the amendments that were made on behalf of the Representative from Kauai, but just as a real world thing, especially in the areas not Jaws, tow-in surfers rarely encounter the same other water users because of the size of the waves and where they have to tow-in to get into the wave. Thank you very much."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill, but with reservations.

"First, the Department of Land and Natural Resources testified:

> "In November 2012, Section 13-244-15.5, Hawaii Administrative Rules, was amended to read that any person operating a power driven vessel on the waters of the state shall be required to possess a certificate of completion from a National Association of State Boating Law Administrators approved course on the safe use and operation of a power driven vessel. Further, a person under sixteen years of age shall not operate a power driven vessel unless accompanied on-board and directly supervised by a person twenty-one years of age or older who holds the required certificate of completion. The Department believes that education regarding safe use and operation of all power driven vessels is superior to just banning the speed of jet skis."

"I agree with this assessment and approach. Just merely prohibiting the operation of a jet ski over a certain speed does not protect the public unless sufficient resources are provided for enforcement and educating our citizenry on the proper and safe operation of these vessels. Without these essential components, a measure like this just clutters our statutes with more words and no substance. If this Body truly feels this is a priority, then it is my hope that the budget will include sufficient resources for these purposes. If, however, there isn't, then we shouldn't mislead the public into thinking we are protecting them when we really are not.

"Second, I have serious concerns regarding the exemption from the 30 mph speed limit for a person operating a thrill craft in conjunction with 'tow-in surfing' as defined. The problem is that the proposed definition of 'tow-in surfing' could be construed to sanction the use of thrill craft to assist a person catching a wave 'of more than 20 feet in height'. Probably, unbeknownst to most Members is the on-going and increasingly heated 'discussion' on how to regulate or prohibit the use of thrill craft and tow-in surfing in surf breaks where prone paddlers catch waves of more than 20 feet in height.

"With the use of thrill craft, tow-in surfing has become more popular and more accessible to many more people. However, there have been too many reports of tow-in enthusiasts monopolizing waves and in crowded conditions endangering the property and lives of other surfers. Furthermore, there is a belief among many old time surfers that tow-in surfing should only occur in places where it is physically impossible to paddle into a wave. That means that for places like Waimea Bay, Sunset, Pipeline, etc., and even on some days at Peahi ('Jaws'), tow-in surfing should not be allowed. For example, surfers usually paddle into 25 foot surf at Waimea Bay during the winter, while outside of Ehukai Beach Park others are towing-in surfing on 33-40 foot waves.

"Certainly, I understand the need for a thrill craft used in rescue or law enforcement, but to inadvertently condone and permit the use of thrill craft and tow-in surfing may lead to more conflicts in our ocean recreational areas. As such, further contemplation of this type of measure needs to involve the stakeholders who both practice prone surf and tow-in surf on waves of more than 20 feet height.

"To that extent, I support this measure with reservations."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Oshiro and Jordan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. I would also like to include that my concerns come from that of those who have no business being in high surf conditions, yet being allowed to use their thrill craft to tow in as well as novice surfers being allowed to jeopardize their lives and the lives of others. Lastly, with the lack of law enforcement, I am not sure that this measure will be adequately staffed or enforced. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1382, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OCEAN RECREATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Fale and McDermott voting no.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 770-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2034, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2034, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"I am writing in support of HB 2034, which removes the statute of limitations for criminal actions arising from sexual assault in the first and second degrees. By eliminating the statute of limitations we can provide survivors of sexual assault with additional time to engage with the legal system so victims can attain justice and some sense of closure.

"It is highly common for survivors to wait years before disclosing any abuse (if they disclose at all). For child victims of abuse and rape, this legislation is even more important because children rarely disclose, with sometimes a 3-18 year delay in disclosure. This delay in disclosure means that victims may miss the crucial time in which they can report the sexual assault and at the very least, have their respective case be investigated by law enforcement as a potentially prosecutable offense. Adult perpetrators recognize this vulnerability in victims and use this to their advantage.

"The current statutes of limitation for criminal and civil actions involving sexual violence limit survivors' ability to report and seek justice for the underlying criminal act. Many states have recognized this as an important factor when looking at statutes of limitations. In fact, at least 32 states have no criminal statute of limitations on child sexual abuse or the most aggravated sex crimes.

"Opposition claims that this bill would open the floodgates or cause concern for fraudulent claims. However, in the 32 states where they have no statute of limitation, this has not been the case. Additionally, this legislation does not change the burden of proof nor does it make it easier for sexual assault victims to prove their case. This legislation merely allows more survivors of sexual violence to access the justice system and feel as if they've been heard.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, this measure is an important step for many survivors to recover from trauma. I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and to vote in support of HB 2034. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and request to insert written comments."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of House Bill 2034, House Draft 2 that removes the statute of limitations for criminal actions arising from sexual assault. In particular, I support the provisions removing the statute of limitations for continuous sexual assaults committed against a minor under the age of 14. As this bill moves forward, I urge my colleagues to reconsider and allow civil causes of action for those survivors who live with the trauma of sexual assault.

"As noted in the testimony provided by the Hawaii Commission on the Status of Women, this measure would place Hawaii among the other '32 states that have no criminal statute of limitations on child sexual abuse or the most aggravated sex crimes.' House Bill 2034 is not intended to nor does it change the burden of proof to make it easier for sexual assault victims to prove their case. This legislation merely allows survivors of sexual violence to access the justice system and begin to overcome the harm, shame and silence that survivors struggle with each day.

"As noted by many of the testifiers who came forward in committee hearings, sexual assault is one of the most underreported crimes and to make a report takes tremendous courage. I applaud many of the survivors who came forward to testify on behalf of House Bill 2034."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2034, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SEXUAL ASSAULT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representatives McKelvey and Rhoads, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce and the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 771-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2401, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2401, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a ruling on potential conflict please? At my law firm I represent AOAOs, as well as condominium owners. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2401, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONDOMINIUMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 775-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2080, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2080, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Thielen rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure.

"This bill addresses theft of certain personal electronic devices and classifies the offense as Theft in the Second Degree, a class C felony.

"A class C felony is punishable by five years' probation and a fine of up to $10,000, or five years in prison and a fine of up to $10,000.

"Some ask why this bill is needed, if Theft in the Second Degree already addresses theft of property valued at over $300. There are many personal electronic devices that qualify as a 'computer' capable of 'storing or retrieving personal information' that are valued at $300 or less. And, as the technology improves, prices become lower and lower.

"We're living in the digital age, where technology and information is literally right at our fingertips – in the form of cell phones, tablet computers, cameras, and other devices designed to access the internet, process data or store information.

"These devices have enriched our lives, but their portability makes them attractive targets for thieves. The devices are popular and there is a market for them online, where the seller isn't necessarily required to show proof of ownership. The stolen goods can also be easily sold at swap meets or taken to a pawnshop.

"Often, the information stored on these personal electronic devices is personal or highly sensitive – such as our names, DOB, home address, SSN, account passwords, and credit card or bank account information.

"Theft of these devices results in not only the owner being deprived of her/his property, but also the owner's vulnerability to identify theft.

"Hawaii has lower rates of violent crime, but higher rates of property crime compared to other states. As you know, my district has experienced a rash of violent as well as property crimes over the past year.

"Law enforcement and prosecutors see, on a regular basis, cases where adults and juveniles have a smartphone or iPad taken from them. This happens frequently in broad daylight. It happens on school campuses. It happens at bus stops and in public parks. It can happen to your neighbor or friend. It can happen to you, an elected official. Just think of how much personal information is stored on your smartphone – work emails, constituent contact information, passwords, etc.

"Something needs to be done about this type of property crime that seriously victimizes others and exposes them to identity theft and fraud later down the road. I believe this bill does just that by making the theft a felony, meaning it will be investigated in more detail by police and punished more severely by courts.

"Please support this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2080, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THEFT OF PERSONAL ELECTRONIC DEVICES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 776-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1796, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1796, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with strong reservations. I would like to bring to your attention the testimony provided in the House Judiciary Committee. Kalama K. Wong states in testimony, 'In light of what happened at Kipapa Elementary, Puohala Elementary, Holomua Elementary, and other schools that have not come to light for the general public, it is evident that the Hawaii DOE lacks the judgment and ethics to determine which situations are appropriate for such extreme measures. Furthermore, the Hawaii DOE lacks the judgment, ethics, and expertise to implement such measures. The Hawaii DOE should NOT be given the option of restraining and secluding children, particularly special education children, who are the specific targets of this bill.'

"For these reasons, I rise with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have some reservations on this measure but I'll be voting in support of it. The concern that I have is limiting the selection of the representative of management, which is currently without any restriction to names. The current draft states that the Governor will have to consider any names submitted by the counties, provided each county may submit no more than one name. I have concerns with that particular provision. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. My reservation in part is that the Attorney General has opposed this bill because as stated in testimony, 'it is ambiguous, possibly deficient, and not evenhanded or balanced.' In addition, the Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii stated that it opposed this bill for the same reasons. Let's not try to fix something that is not broken. For these reasons, please note my reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2496, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAII LABOR RELATIONS BOARD," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise today with reservations to HB 1814, HD2. Allowing employers to pay wages by pay cards or similar means of electronic payment will create protection for the employees. This bill is meant to safeguard employee rights to their wages without being overburdened with additional fees when they access their wages. I recognize the hardship that employees face, particularly low-income workers, when they are required to pay fees to access their wages, and I hope that, through the legislative process, this bill will be improved. Right now, I still have concerns that this measure is overreaching and potentially violates the rights of employers to run their businesses in a manner that is easiest for them and their workers. For this reason, I vote with reservations on this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Creagan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1651, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. This is one of three mother of all tax increases for this session, Mr. Speaker, and I'm going to increasingly speak more as each of these bills come. So, on this one I'll be very brief. This is not fair to the people of Hawaii. The cost of living is going to go up. And I will expand on this as we get to the other two extremely big tax increases that are implied by this streamline and internet Amazon tax. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in support of the bill. I'd like to thank my friend from Hawaii Kai for those short comments. If I could just make some very long-winded comments on this bill. Mr. Speaker, I stand in support of this bill.

"Mr. Speaker, I've been involved in the subject of internet sales since 2006 when I chaired the Tax Review Commission. Since then, my thinking has not evolved on this matter. I still support the concept. Mr. Speaker, in the arena of public finances, we all know that the major source of funds is taxes. I can understand that most people find paying taxes distasteful. But we should all admit that we enjoy the services that are provided by our government. Our revenue scheme is based on the premise that we all pay our fair share. And if one segment of our community does not pay its fair share, then others in the community must make up the difference.

"In other words, I'd like this Body to think very, very hard about the effects of not supporting this bill. If sales through the internet soars, and we know during this past Christmas, internet sales soared, and our General Fund is not supported, then we as a Body have to make decisions and raise taxes on those who do pay their fair shares, our local businesses. The people that will benefit will be the out-of-state businesses that make sales to our residents.

"Mr. Speaker, as you know, the purchase of goods over the internet is a growing phenomenon, something that was not contemplated by our forefathers, especially when interpreting the commerce clause of our constitution. Some people argue that this bill violates the commerce clause of our constitution. The commerce clause simply states, in this situation, that you have to have nexus in the state where you collect taxes.

"Further, the Supreme Court, in Quill v. North Dakota, states that physical presence is necessary to establish nexus. Quill v. North Dakota was in 1977. This case was prior to the discovery, or at least the spread of the internet. And in fact, for those with gray hair in this room, we know Quill was a catalog mail order stationary company. I know because I used to use them.

"Mr. Speaker, what this bill does is introduce the concept of economic and substantial nexus to a definition of nexus to fit into the situation created by the internet. The practical effect of this measure is quite simple. All it says is if you sell products to people in our state, you must pay General Excise Taxes, the same as any local business.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, you would hear from some in this Chamber that say this is a tax increase. And maybe we should talk about that. In order to be a tax increase, you have to assume that taxes were not owed in the first place. Mr. Speaker, you know when you buy something over the internet, you have to pay taxes. I know we don't want to pay taxes, but we have to pay taxes. And it's the Use Tax, which is the equivalent to the General Excise Tax. But if you carry that argument forward, if there's already a tax due, it cannot be a tax increase. Unless of course you want to cheat on your taxes, but I can't help that and I don't want to speak on that.

"Mr. Speaker, we must support our local businesses who have invested in our community. We must be fair to the local people who support our state. We must be proactive and creative to keep up with the changing times. Mr. Speaker, it's for these reasons that I support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker. I've had some long discussions with both of the previous speakers, Mr. Speaker, on this measure. It's something that I don't believe that I have come to any final conclusion about, because what apparently seems to happen with this measure is that we're pitting our local businesses against our consumers, because the status quo allows those members of our community, the consumers here in the state. This measure highlights something that is still pretty problematic.

"As the previous speaker noted, we have to protect our local businesses because those who operate over the internet have an advantage because the taxes don't apply to them the way it applies to local businesses that are established here in the State of Hawaii. But, if we were to increase, I just had a conversation with some of my old college friends, who live here in Hawaii, who begged me to vote no on this measure because this is one of those small pipelines where they can actually save a few dollars, by going online and making a purchase through the internet, Mr. Speaker.

"So I find myself in an uncomfortable position to vote for a measure that would automatically increase the cost of living for young and working families that are struggling to make it here in the State of Hawaii. But I was also in a Chamber of Commerce meeting out on the North Shore where the businesses did relay to me their concern of the disadvantage that they face when competing against online companies that are competing against them here in the State of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, what I actually believe this highlights for us, is that we are faced with a severely problematic situation. Because I asked, why don't we just lower the taxes on our lower businesses? Then they'll be able to compete on a fair playing field. Why do we have to allow the advantage, or even the playing field, by punishing consumers here in the State of Hawaii? Why can't we lower the tax rate on the businesses here, so that they can compete on a level playing field?

"Mr. Speaker, this is severely problematic, as it relates to the tax revenue that the state and the cities here in Hawaii have access to, as far as the revenue streams. I think this points to a failure in leadership on our part, Mr. Speaker. For the last few decades we continue to hear about a diversification of the economy to improve economic opportunity here in the state. And decade after decade, Mr. Speaker, we really haven't fully delivered on those promises that have been made.

"I think that points to a vacuum that we need to feel as leaders in providing those opportunities and not necessarily have to take a side. Well, do we increase the cost of living for young working families here? Or do we go out and protect our small businesses? I think this is an opportunity where we really need to step in and lead, Mr. Speaker, and not have to choose between who do we hurt in this situation, because both of those groups are in desperate need of our help. I think maybe we can address this in a better way. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamashita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, it is our responsibility to adapt as times change, markets change, trends change. And as we know, the internet is becoming more and more popular. And we have to figure out how do we maintain our revenues. It has been said to me by many economists and my good friend two chairs over, that it is better to tax wealth than to tax income. What that means is that we should tax how we spend and reduce income tax, which I think our Speaker has always supported that, and I've kind of always supported that also.

"So we stay revenue neutral, but we tax you on how you spend. You want to spend, you want to buy luxury homes, you want to buy those types of things, we tax you accordingly. Those are the types of principles I think that is important to drive the economy. We want to keep money in the pockets of our consumers, so that they have money to spend, so we reduce income, or we tax them on how they spend, and I think that's a better way to go.

"So I think as times change, we need to adapt. This is one of the measures that may be necessary to adapt. Also, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to adopt the words of the speaker from Manoa as if they were my own, with a slight correction. He was the Tax Review Commission Chairman in 2005. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm casting a no vote on this one. I view it as a tax increase. There are many factors that go into online shopping, but there comes a tipping point when the things that you purchase online, the shipping cost outweigh those which you can buy here locally. For example, a pair of slacks. You can get them cheaper at Costco than you can buy a single pair online when you include the shipping. So, it's not really an 'us versus them' issue. So, when you go against the store that can bring in large items in bulk and save in the shipping, we bring a container load of slacks and buy one single pair, it kind of evens out.

"Second issue is, I haven't had one person come into my office and say, 'Please, whatever you do this session, tax my online purchases. I need that done.' Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. First, before I start speaking, may I adopt the words from the good Manoa Representative as if they were my own into the Journal? Secondly, this is not a tax increase. Currently, as consumers, I'm not talking about a business, me as an individual going onto the internet and purchasing something off our islands, meaning out-of-state. I'm still required to pay my use fee, which is also known as General Excise, to our Department of Taxation. I'm required to do that.

"So, if I buy something from Sears off the internet, I need to go pay my Use Tax. Many people don't understand that. That is our law today, and I think for many, many years. That's not just imposed upon me operating a business and buying something from, yes I remember Quill. I purchased from Quill also. Quill used to be a mail order company for accounting materials, and we would have to purchase it through the phone and it would arrive and we'd pay.

"Nowadays, we have the internet. So, our Department of Taxation way back then had the user fee. If you purchased something through mail order you'd pay your user fee. That hasn't changed. If you purchased something through the internet, you pay your user fee. So I don't see where this is a tax increase. What I see is, this is trying to capture those individuals that sell the product, and requiring them to collect the dollars and send it to our Department of Taxation. This is trying to make that clear.

"I hope everybody understands how much money we are losing with this. We all heard through many media about the internet travel sales, and our current lawsuits on trying to get that money back to the state, in excess of $100 million. That pays for a lot of salaries. That pays for a lot of road repaving. That pays for a lot of services to our most vulnerable populace, as well as our elderly.

"So, when we're talking about bills on this Floor regarding Medicaid, and emergency appropriations, and paving or building new roads, or new schools in new districts, we better think twice when somebody's going to say 'with reservations' or 'no' on trying to collect something we currently have in statute. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I think most of us in here have taken an intro economics class. If the free market is to work, the best type of taxes we need to levy is the low-rate broad-based tax. Fortunately in Hawaii, the General Excise Tax is such a tax. Unfortunately, in the wake of the advent and proliferation of the internet, there's been some disparities in this tax. With these disparities, it throws off the equilibrium, increases deadweight loss, and reduces the aggregate welfare or utility. Not just for consumers, but for businesses as well.

"This bill will help brick and mortar, ma and pa shops, which drive our economy and provide jobs for many local workers. So, on behalf of the Hawaii Chamber of Commerce and the interests of small business and to keep our local money circulating in our local economy, I stand in support. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much. Mr. Speaker, in strong support. This is one of three bills dealing with internet sales tax, which we'll be moving out to the Senate today. Let me just incorporate the words of the good Representatives, my friends from Manoa, Upcountry, Kihei, and especially Waianae. She hit the nail on the head. This is not a tax increase. This is something that we expect consumers to already pay. And let me just thank, ahead of time, my friend from Manoa who will be helping me with all three bills, to help sort it out. So, thank you very much."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak in strong support of this measure, and I wish to incorporate the remarks from the Representatives from Manoa, from Upcountry Maui, from Waianae, and from the Finance Chairman as my own. I wish the Members would look at this issue as really a bread-and-butter issue. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I revised my strategy. I thought there was going to be a back-loading, not front-loading. And hearing all of the taking of lightly this tax increase, which is really heavy on the people of Hawaii, I'm compelled to speak a second time.

"Two big issues, Mr. Speaker. One is, 'Oh, this is simply not a new tax increase. This is only increasing or enforcing what we've not done.' Historically, what took place in the 70s is that the Use Tax said to the people of Hawaii, 'Everything that you buy, you have to pay the GE Tax on.' Whether you come in as a visitor, you come in when you go back and forth from the mainland, et cetera. Mr. Speaker, what they did was pass an unenforceable bill.

"My good friend, the Representative from Manoa, has gritted his teeth for months, years and decades. How can we enforce this unenforceable tax? That's what this bill is all about. It's a huge tax increase that heretofore has never been enforceable. And you know from all of our committee hearings, when any bill is proposed that's not enforceable, we chuck it out. We bat it aside and say, hey, you can't enforce that, or HPD can't do this, or somebody, DNLR can't do that. It's not practical.

"So, for the three decades that this thing has been on the books, which shouldn't be on the books, and assuming in the avarice behind it that everything that you have, you have to pay a tax on.

"Mr. Speaker, what percentage of our goods do we import? We are an island state. We import 80-90 percent of everything we eat, sleep, wear and work with. So to say that we have a use tax that we should be paying, is to say we should be fleecing the people of Hawaii for the last three decades and right now we're going to make up for it. Mr. Speaker, that's not a just way to look at this thing. This is a huge tax increase of heretofore of which, we've got two other bills, is another way of getting on the internet.

"I grant that inevitability someday soon, not immediate, but this will probably come to pass. But right now, people are still struggling from the recession. People are still having a problem making ends meet. And to say that now with the surplus that the government has, we've got to go and fill up the coffers again, because we've got another tax that we can get and put onto the people.

"One last comment, Mr. Speaker, and that's regarding this even playing field. For 15 years, I was a retailer in Waikiki. At the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, when people would come in and I would ship stuff out, mail order. I would have an exemption to the tax increase. The playing field is even. Everybody who's got a computer can be on the internet and sell anywhere in the world. So to say that there's an uneven playing field is like saying some people can't get onto the internet, some people can't have a website, some people cannot do online sales. That is incorrect.

"The point is, this is a huge tax increase for the people of Hawaii. We are the representatives of the people, and if we want to keep our constituents in tune with what we believe in is the best things for them, we will vote against this bill, because it's not in the best interest. And that's all I have to say. Which is, you said was very short in the beginning. And I front-loaded because the others have front-loaded. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I'm seeing this matter at a different angle. I'm not saying this is a tax increase or not, or we're front-loading or back-loading or sidestepping this matter. I'm looking at it in a sense that we have an obligation to the future generation. There is a huge debt of this state. We have an unfunded mandate. And we have the obligation to the future generation to get that manner resolved in our generation.

"A measure such as this one should be something that we need to discuss and something that we need to support, because whether it's an even playing field or not, these are measures that would help us with that unfunded mandate. And with that, Mr. Speaker, I would like to call for the question."

At this time, Representative Cabanilla called for the previous question.

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Jordan, Choy, Luke and Yamashita be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Choy rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, permission to enter written comments to rebut the comments of my good friend from Hawaii Kai. Thank you."

Representative Choy's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, still in SUPPORT, and slight rebuttal to my good friend from Hawaii Kai's statement in regards to his limited business experience. He states that he had a business in Waikiki and when he exported goods out of state he was exempted from paying the GET. He is correct, but what he doesn't realize is that his customers were required to pay the use tax when they received the goods back home in their state.

"Mr. Speaker, this is the reason we have this legislation; to simplify the payment of sales and use tax. If we collected the use tax for the Representative from Hawaii Kai's customers, they would not have to go home and pay it.

"Every state in the union who has a sales tax has a corresponding use tax.

"Now it is very clear why the good Representative from Hawaii Kai doesn't understand this bill, and why he feels this is a tax increase."

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations on HB 1651, HD1. This bill requires a collection of use taxes by sellers of tangible personal property who enter into agreements under which a person in the state refers potential purchasers to the seller, including by an internet link or website, or performs related services in the state on behalf of the seller.

"I sympathize with the intent that this bill seeks to address, mainly, that online purchases and transactions ought to be subject to the same tax liability that 'brick and mortar' businesses are subject to in the daily operations of business. For internet sellers, being exempted from the use tax can create unfair advantages and an uneven playing field. This bill would require online sellers to operate under the same rules as these 'brick and mortar' stores, which would facilitate a more fair and equitable marketplace.

"However, it is quite apparent, Mr. Speaker, that Hawaii is this country's most isolated state and as a result relies heavily on the importation of goods. Shipping costs to Hawaii are greater compared to other states because essentially all goods are imported to our island state via freight or air. Therefore, consumers resort to internet-based transactions for items they may not be able to purchase here in our state.

"Our local residents are already burdened with an expensive standard of living and to penalize our constituents for purchasing goods they are not able to procure in our state seems inequitable, Mr. Speaker.

"For the foregoing reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on HB 1651, HD1. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 1651, a measure that creates an internet sales tax in the State of Hawaii. Mr. Speaker, it is my belief that a new tax such as this will drive up the cost of living in Hawaii and that Hawaii will become a more expensive place to live for everyone.

"It should be noted that the State of Hawaii Department of Taxation testified to the House Committee on the Judiciary that: 'H.B. 1651 is unnecessary at this time because there is a question as to whether such statutes are allowable under Federal law.'

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 1651."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1651, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Evans, Fale, Fukumoto, Johanson, Matsumoto, McDermott, Ohno, Thielen and Ward voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 786-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2231, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2231, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2231, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR CLAIMS AGAINST THE STATE, ITS OFFICERS, OR ITS EMPLOYEES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 787-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2533, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2533, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Reservations because this is only going to be a pilot project for Representatives of the State House. During Finance, we had a long discussion with campaign spending, and a few years back when I wasn't here, you folks passed a pilot project for Hawaii Island to do three cycles of elections using public funds. During Finance hearings, they said they can't do that final third election period, which would be this year, come August-November. And they made that decision last year. And that's because their trust fund got reduced below a point that they couldn't offer the funds.

"My concern is, we're going to see that same issue with this measure again, because this measure is based upon their trust funds, although the Finance Chair did put a general appropriation line into this, blanked out currently. I do have some major concerns going forward if we're going to publicly fund every election in the State of Hawaii. At what point and time, when we go into a deficit again, are we going to continue that? I'm not so sure into that future. I feel our campaign spending laws, me as a Representative, I'm limited to $2,000 in two years. I get a handful of those, if I'm lucky. I think they're quite useful right now.

"I don't think this type of measure going forward is going to be beneficial. Especially when we had to pull back, well the campaign spending had to pull back on that pilot project. I don't want to put something out there just for us here. Although, this is a large group of 51 individuals, which would capture maybe 200 participants in an election period. If we're going to do it, let's do it for everybody. Thank you very much."

Representative Ing rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Ruling on a potential conflict of interest. I'm the only Member of the Body who participated in the Partial Public Funding Program in 2012," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ing continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. In the Finance Committee we crunched some numbers, we had some questions. I don't have the numbers in front of me, but basically there's, I think, out of the nine seats in the council on Hawaii Island, there were 30-something people who opted into the program, or 20-something. But it ended up being about 37 percent of candidates used the program. If you look at it in the House, there's an average of about three people per race for the 51 seats.

"So, if you say 153, and you times it by the however much money we're going to get, $40,000, the amount of funding we'll need will be well under the threshold trigger, of I think $3.4 million. So I think that number is blown out of proportion and unnecessary, it should be a lot lower. And I think the total of the money that was used in the Hawaii Island project was only like a couple hundred thousand dollars, even though they said they needed these millions in the bank. So I think if we revisit those numbers, it will make this program more viable and sensible.

"Also one last point, this measure requires 200 donations of $5 or more from registered voters. We all know how difficult that will be. This bill isn't going to illicit this storm of any kine banana candidates. It's not going to be everyone and their uncle. They're going to be people with real grassroots support, and I think that's what politics needs these days. Thank you very much."

Representative Fale rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Ruling on a potential conflict. I stand to potentially benefit if this legislation were to pass, as an elected official," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Fale continued to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, the opportunity to speak out in the political arena should not be limited to anybody just because they would be required to get 200 signatures or the support of 200 individuals within their community. Some of the greatest political minds that we have in the history of this nation actually came out with just themselves, Mr. Speaker.

"If we were required to allow people to speak out and to have the platform of being a candidate for political office only based on their ability to garner 200 signatures or 200 donations of $5 from those, I think that's not good for our community, Mr. Speaker. That's not good for the political dialogue that we should have. Sometimes it's just one voice, Mr. Speaker. Sometimes it's just one voice that maybe we should have and maybe is needed to actually change the direction or the destiny of a community, of a state, and possibly a nation, Mr. Speaker.

"My opposition to this bill also extends to the fact that even currently today, Mr. Speaker, we are still faced with the closure of a number of polling locations because we haven't funded them. We have an $840 million surplus, some like to say, and yet we can't reopen and grant access to the voters of the State of Hawaii to the typical places where they used to vote. We have further isolated, we have further distanced the opportunity for those votes to be heard here, Mr. Speaker. And yet here we are, opening up the opportunity to spend much more money on ourselves, Mr. Speaker.

"I think this is an idea that we have to revisit, that we have to look at again, Mr. Speaker. If we are not able to fund the polling locations for those who want to have their voices heard, Mr. Speaker, I'm not willing to spend another dime on a group of people who probably, most likely would benefit from this. I think it's time that we reassess our position on this, Mr. Speaker. And we need to make sure that we're taking care of our communities and our voters first, before we figure out how we're going to spend more money on ourselves. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I must be opposed."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In support, Mr. Speaker. It's really unfortunate that the single greatest determining factor for winning elections these days statistically can be traced back to the amount of money spent in a given race. Which means the amount of money the candidates can raise.

"As we all know, and as we hear from our constituents, it's obvious that as an incumbent, you have many advantages. But the single greatest one is the ability to raise money greater than your opponent. What this will do is level that playing field so that money is no longer that determining factor in an average race, but rather the merits of the ideas that can be brought forward and mailed to your community, and ability to get your voice and your ideas out there, just as your opponent is. It is democracy at its core.

"I don't think we can let this debate be boiled down to how much this is going to cost, because you cannot put a price on true democracy. You cannot, cannot pay enough for good government. I think if we could pay more for more trust, that would be fantastic. I think people would support that, even if it cost a few more dollars.

"What this does, is follows in the footsteps of many other states experimenting with this in the past, most recently Arizona. Allowing new candidates who have no political clout, who have no special interest poll, who have none of this, to step forward and run for office on the same plane as those incumbents that they're challenging. To challenge those ideas in the public sphere of influence, to ask the tough questions, to be able to run an election based on that debate rather than the amount of money that they put into the campaign ads that they're putting in front of them. So for those reasons, I support this bill. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations on this bill. I have three reasons for my reservations, Mr. Speaker. The first was stated by the Representative from Waianae. In the Finance Committee we heard basically, the pilot project is bankrupt. Why is it bankrupt? Because people are not using the check-off to give money, even though it wouldn't take any money away from their tax due or add to their tax payments due. They have said, 'I'm not interested to finance this.' So when we say that people just can't wait to help fund this, I think is a misnomer.

"Secondly, Mr. Speaker, we've had two years to get a written report about what we did right, what we did wrong. Usually you do a kind of a SWOT, strengths, weaknesses, all those kind of things where you evaluate what took place. I have not seen, other than maybe a one page summary after the first year of what actually took place. If we're going to do this and make it widespread now with the House, we should have an evaluation and a report. I mean, that's only a natural thing to do. When you do a pilot, you say here's the results, here's where we go from here.

"Thirdly, Mr. Speaker, this gives such an advantage to the incumbents. All 51 here have a conflict of interest voting for this. And quite frankly, I don't like to be called an 'incumbent leech' or one who's going to sort of tilt the playing field to their advantage. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think we need to think this through, especially if one program that's already on the books can't get funded. How are we going to fund this if the taxpayers don't even want to check off for, quote, 'an experiment on the Big Island.' Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in opposition and may I have the words of the Representative from Hawaii Kai adopted as my own? Mr. Speaker, I would feel differently about this measure if the first point of this was to go back and fund all the polling locations to give access to the voters of Hawaii a place to vote to make sure that their voices are heard. But that isn't in there, Mr. Speaker. And a single measure allowing the reopening of those polling locations hasn't come through this Body and neither has any discussion taken place in regards to that. Neither is there any intention on the fifth floor to reopen those polling locations, Mr. Speaker. Making sure that the voices of the voters can be heard should be number one, not figuring out how are we going to spend more money on politicians.

"In closing, Mr. Speaker, it was raised that the number one determining factor in someone who's winning a race has to do with money. Mr. Speaker, I personally disagree with that. It comes from the strength, the vitality and ability of an individual to reach within who they are and to get out there, Mr. Speaker.

"If money was the single determining factor in whose voices should get heard, would be heard, then there are problems that go deeper than we're going to be able to solve with this measure right here, Mr. Speaker. I think we need to reassess that. We need to take a look at this, put ourselves in the shoes of the voters first, before we put on our own shoes as political animals, as we are in this building, Mr. Speaker. For those reasons, put the people first, I must still be opposed."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I'd like to just clarify a statement that I think is incorrect. The statement was made that this bill would limit candidates, those who are only publically funded. It's important to note that what this bill does is provide an option for those who wish to be publically funded in running for House of Representatives.

"I'd also like to note, Mr. Speaker, that what I really appreciate about this bill is that what it elevates is that small voter in a district. If you look at page 8, lines 9 and 10, in order to qualify as a publically funded candidate, you must get qualifying names and contributions of $5 from an individual who is a registered voter and who resides within the respective representative district from the candidate who's applying for those public funds.

"This amplifies the small voter, this amplifies the voice of the individual that we are all so concerned about. This bill attacks directly, not just simply the funding, the contribution limits to elected officials or to candidates, but this bill attacks the soft money that we are seeing infusing the system, which the small voter, the small individual, feels overwhelmed by. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support of this measure. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Ward and Fale be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to clarify some points. Still in support. The Representative from Laie made a point that this requires people to get signatures. I think the Representative from Makiki just alludes to this point. But yes, it provides an option, so it doesn't relinquish the traditional campaign structure. It also doesn't preclude a JFK style candidate from giving huge loans and funding their own campaigns, which I don't necessarily support, but that type of campaign finance structure will still be preserved.

"Secondly, I had a series of meetings with the Office of Elections throughout this session, and there are plans to reopen polling locations and it is one of my priorities to help counties remain funded so we can help modernize our voting system and ultimately increase voting turnout here in Hawaii. So I hope that we can include something like that in the budget.

"Also, one point made by the Representative from Kailua, which I would like to adopt his words, if possible, was that money should not be a part of this discussion. I respectfully disagree in a sense that, in order to build public trust, we need the utmost fiscal responsibility, especially with the huge deficits we've been seeing on the federal level of government. I think people need to know that their tax money is going to the right places. So it is very important that we're very prudent in analyzing how much this will cost, and I don't think it's going to cost as much as the millions that they're suggesting it will in the threshold.

"The fourth point is to rebut the Representative from Hawaii Kai that, the program in Hawaii County is not bankrupt. It's just not meeting that $3.4 million trigger, which I think is inflated and unreasonable. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I want to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict, Mr. Speaker. I've run in nine elections now, and once I used public funding. Thank you, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Tokioka continued to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to stand, if there's such a thing, in oppovations? In reservations, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I think what this bill tries to do is a good thing. So a couple of points. Why just the House? We have two bodies, why just the House?

"The other point is, with technology, if money is the issue and people feel like people are extorting money from the public to win elections, with the changes in the technology and the elections website, you can go and you can find out who people got the money from. I'm sure many of us have gotten money from people, and people look at our accounts and they ask us, 'Why did you take money from this group? Why did you take money from that group?' So that eliminates a lot of the problems with who we get the money from, whether it's fair or not.

"Another point, when I did take public money, Mr. Speaker, one of my constituents who liked me said, 'That may be a good thing, but what if I didn't like you?' What if I didn't like that candidate and public money is being spent to fund the candidate that he or she didn't like. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand with reservations. I'm hopeful that when this goes over to the Senate, if it does, that they can include themselves in here too. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in strong support and would like permission to enter written comments as well as some brief comments. Thank you. As a politician, so to speak, from the Big Island, I have been involved in these processes on the Big Island. In one council election, the green candidate, who represented his community very well, was defeated, because developers put in an excess of over $70,000 into a council race, which is unheard of on the Big Island. Therefore, they bought that election in my opinion.

"In the next cycle, that candidate was defeated because a young woman was able to garner the support of the community, get the 200 signatures, and I agree it's very difficult. I was one of the people helping to get signatures for her, and it was very difficult because that is an impoverished area, and even $5 is a significant amount for that community.

"Anyway, she was able to gain the support of the community and win that election because of the public support, and without that she wouldn't have been able to run. I'd also suggest that perhaps we change the law so that individuals have to check off not to donate, rather than check to donate, and that might enhance the support for this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Creagan's written remarks are as follows:

"I would like to supplement my Floor remarks relating to HB 2533 and the necessity of public funding in order to provide equal opportunities for all candidates. I have seen firsthand the benefits of public funding with the pilot program on Hawaii Island for the County Council elections that I would like to share.

"Enclosed are tables showing the amount of money spent on campaigns for the County of Hawaii Council elections for the years preceding and following the start of the pilot program.

"In 2008, there was a great surge of interest in sugarcane land in Ka'u, as a number of large parcels of land were sold and intended for development. The 2008 Council elections were thus quite different than years prior because development companies involved in these projects began providing campaign donations to the candidates whom they supported. Newcomer Guy Enriques received a great share of support from these companies, and eventually raised $93,176 for the 2008 election (spending $81,705). The incumbent Bob Jacobson raised $26,098 (spending $23,709). Guy Enriques won this election.

"In 2010, the campaign financing pilot project was set up and the amount of money available to a candidate was a percentage of the amount spent by the winning candidate in the previous election. As the incumbent for District 6 had raised $93,176 in 2008, the candidates whom accepted public money for that seat were allotted a generous $37,765. Both the incumbent, Guy Enriques, and his new challenger, Brittany Smart, elected to use the publicly awarded funds.

"Many prominent individuals had confirmed their support for Guy Enriques, including the County of Hawaii Mayor, various unions, and bureaus. However, it seemed that many residents were not satisfied with his performance and were thus looking for an alternate candidate. Using the publically financed funds, the 26 year old malihini challenger Brittany Smart was able to finance the various campaign collateral and public outreach events that she perhaps otherwise could not afford to do. She eventually defeated the incumbent, Guy Enriques, by 20 percentage points.

"It would have been almost impossible for a newcomer to take on such an incumbent except for the public campaign funding. I am thus in strong support of HB 2533 because I have seen firsthand how these funds can even the playing field and ensure that the character, positions, and ideas of our local candidates remain at the forefront of our elections."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with some reservations. I note that on page 10 of the bill, it's talking about qualifying as a candidate to get these public funds. And it says, 'qualifying contributions were received from registered voters in the district from which the candidate seeks office, that the candidate resides in the district from which election is sought as of the date of the filing of nomination papers, and that the candidate is a registered voter in the district from which election is sought.'

"My concern is, I do believe that there is a residency requirement for us when we're filing for candidacy, which does not apply in this instance for people seeking these public funds. So I believe there is an inconsistency. I'd like to see that corrected.

"The other thing is, I agree with the Representative from Kauai as, why wouldn't you put the Senate in here? Why is it just for the House? I think it should be the House and the Senate.

"Lastly, I know when this came up, Hawaii County was the pilot area. One of the concerns that several of us had in those days was, what happens when the money runs out, and so is it a horse race? Is it the ones that get to the public funding first? When it maxes out there's no more money and those people are seeking their public funding, are they going to say, 'Well, there's no more money in the fund and we don't have anything to give you.'?

"The other thing that we heard is, logistically it's really difficult in terms of timing, because when they apply for their money, they want to get it quickly so that they can run their ads or send out their flyers. And if we as the Body do not support the Office of Elections and the people that cut the checks, actually, we aren't responding in a timely manner, and so that public funding does not get used the way we intended. So I wanted to point that out. Thank you."

At 11:36 o'clock a.m., Representative Saiki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 11:37 o'clock a.m.

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. I'd like to also echo, why just the House? And I'd just like to note in observation, a lot of supporters of this bill both raised and spent a lot more money than I did. Just an observation."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations, brief comments please. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, first and foremost, I do support the intent of this bill. I think that it is well founded and I think many of the comments that were made in support of this measure are warranted. That being said, Mr. Speaker, I think it's important to note the testimony of the Campaign Spending Commission, who would be responsible and who has been responsible for implementing the program.

"First and foremost, they say in their testimony that they had very strong concerns and comments about the implementation. Also, the commission opposes the ability of certified candidates to raise supplemental contributions as currently provided in the proposed draft of the measure.

"'In section 1, page 3, proposed §11-A of this bill permits a "qualifying contribution" to be made in the form of cash. The Commission, as in the past, suggests that qualifying contributions be only in the form of a personal check or money order, as provided for in the original version of this bill. We recognize that this bill attempts to allay our concern by also requiring the contributor's signature affirming and acknowledging that the contribution was made from personal funds, however, we would like to point out that it is harder to verify that a contribution came from the personal funds of the contributor when the contribution is in the form of cash.

"'Proposed §11-E of this bill, beginning at page 5, allows a candidate seeking eligibility for comprehensive public funding to raise seed money to pay for expenditures necessary to determine whether the candidate has sufficient support to run for office as a publicly-funded candidate. The amount of seed money allowed to be raised is $3,000. As currently drafted, it appears that just one individual could potentially contribute up to $2,000 in seed money to the candidate. The Commission suggests that individuals be limited to giving $250, in the aggregate, in seed money contributions to a candidate. This is the same contribution limit for individuals contributing seed money to participating candidates in the Pilot Comprehensive Public Funding for Elections to the Hawaii County Council.'

"So that's one of my first reasons I stand in reservations. Secondly, again, I want to echo some of the comments made, and may I please have the words of the Representatives from Waikoloa, Lihue and Waianae entered into the Journal as if they were my own? Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

"Secondly, again, we have a surplus. If we talk about this bill being democracy at its core, then why wouldn't this bill apply to the Office of the Governor and Senate elections? That is the even playing field. For every candidate who wants an opportunity to apply for any of those offices in the Legislature or in the Executive Branch, this bill should apply, particularly in the wake of the fact that we have a surplus.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, I note that the Finance Committee did in fact agree to allow General Fund monies to go towards the elections fund to continue funding the pilot program or any type of public financing program. But this is the issue that I have, and I think this has been said previously. But many of my constituents, quite frankly, don't want their taxpayer dollars going to certain candidates who don't represent their views. So in their opinion, this is a slap in the face of democracy. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I continue to support the intent of this bill, but for those reasons I stand with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong opposition. Like my colleague from Kapolei, she's talking about seed monies. And knowing what happened on Hawaii Island, because I was following it, of the nine seats, there was a disparity in the formula of issuing out monies, because they used the cycle before.

"So, as my colleague from Kau was saying, how the young girl beat the incumbent, that is so true because he was the one that got like $50,000 plus, almost $100,000. And so when they based it upon that formula, the candidates that were running and needed public funding, they got $30,000. That's more than I even raised.

"But it's not about monies to get into office, it's who you are and who you represent. And the thing is, they got the $30,000, on top of that another $10,000. So we had a lot of waste for these types of elections. And others got minimum $10,000. Then on the second cycle they got maybe $3,000, if they were lucky. So all of these nine seats, the formula was so off. And I did voice my opinions about it when people asked me about public funding, and I told them, 'Yeah it's a good thing, but the formula does not fit, because the way they used it was so hewa, was so wrong.' As my kūpuna would say, mai 'uha'uha ka kala. Don't be wasteful of our monies. Mahalo."

Representative Oshiro rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have a point of inquiry. Section 10 of the bill, there's a blank appropriation. I think to help me decide on how I'll vote on this current draft, and it's the effective date of July 1, 2030, I would need to know if the author or the proponents of it could share with me or the Body, what the possible range of revenues from the General Fund may be contained in the final draft.

"So I guess the question would be whether the proponents of this bill or the subject-matter chairs who had the chance to study this measure and hear from the respective parties, proponents, Campaign Spending Commission, could give this individual Member of this Body some idea of the General Fund expenditure, should this bill finally come before us in a final form. So the inquiry that I would make at this time, if the chairs would yield to a question on the amount of money that might be appropriated to effectuate the current draft, limiting the public financing of elections to the State House of Representatives."

At 11:45 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 11:46 o'clock a.m.

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I want to thank the subject-matter chairs for providing me some information. There will be the possibility of some General Fund expenditures on this, but given the great debate we've had on this measure, I think at this point in time, Mr. Speaker, insofar as this is a draft effective July 1, 2030, I think I'll be voting against this bill. I'll be voting no. Thank you."

Representative Wooley rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I also think I need to declare a potential conflict. In 2008, my first time I ran under the public campaign spending limits. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Wooley continued in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"We must do some things different if we want our government to work better. The amount of money spent every two years on each state House race adds up to big, corporate influence. Money is everywhere here at the Capitol and raising it is critical to run for office. That will not change, but we should keep trying to find ways to keep the amounts spent reasonable and ensure that the money supporting candidates is not dominated by large, corporate interests. If we allow big corporate money to dictate the winners and losers in our Legislature, then we have given up on democracy. This bill itself and the idea of public funding are not easy, perfect, or intuitive, but public funding is the only alternative path we have on the table and I think we owe it to the public to give it a try."

Representative Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, same, I need to disclose a potential conflict of interest. Several years ago, I did take advantage of the voluntary campaign spending compliance, and therein I was able to use some public monies for my re-election," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Oshiro continued in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to this bill. There are three reasons why I cannot support this bill in its present form:

"I. Cost

"According to the Campaign Spending Commission:

"Proposed §11-H, beginning on page 10 of the bill, increases dramatically the maximum amount of public funds available to candidates for seats in the House of Representatives. Using expenditure data from the 2012 election, the maximum amount of public funds available for a candidate for the House, will be $32,598.38. Assuming all fifty-one House districts have one candidate receiving public funding under this proposed amendment, the maximum amount of public funding available will be $1,662,517.30. Assuming all fifty-one House districts have two candidates receiving public funding under this proposed amendment, the maximum amount of public funding available will be $3,325,034.60. Considering that the balance of the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund was $2,810.057.69 as of December 31, 2013, the proposed amendments will require an appropriation from the Legislature in 2015 to the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund to pay for the anticipated dramatic increase in public funding for certified candidates to the House in 2016, should this measure pass. To be on the safe side, when deciding on the amount of the appropriation, this committee should assume that there will be at least one candidate seeking public funds under this measure in each of the 51 state House districts."

"While I recognize that the draft before us contains an unspecified appropriation of General Funds for this purpose, I am concerned that because the state would have no way of knowing with any certainty the number of candidates that might run in a future election and seek public funds, there is no way to accurately plan and budget for this purpose. Do we set up a system of 'first in time, first in line' whereby merely being first to file, provides a public funded benefit against all others? What happens with the notions of equality and fairness?

"II. Fairness

"If we as a Body are intent to support the concept of publicly funded elections, why stop at the House of Representatives? Why not apply these same rules and opportunities for ALL statewide offices, to wit, the Office of the Governor, the Office of the Lieutenant Governor, the Office of State Senate, and the Office of Trustee of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs?

"By applying these new rules and opportunities just to the Office of State Representatives, we give the appearance that House races will be more 'open' and transparent compared to the other races. But in truth, it will give incumbents in the House of Representative a distinct advantage compared to newcomers.

"Incumbents are already established. They have contacts, mailing lists, franking privileges, and established ways of getting their names out in the community. Incumbents will have a distinct advantage in soliciting the numerous contributions needed to qualify for public funding. As such, this bill could conceivably turn the Hawaii Elections Campaign Fund into a 'slush' fund for incumbents, providing them with another tool to use in staying in their seats. Already we have the ability to use our $12,753.00 in Office Allowances to send out flyers, post cards, meeting cards, up-date cards, and an assortment of other communications to our constituents. How many challengers have that kind of public funded means to communicate with voters?

"In comparison, the newcomer to politics will have to rely on personal funds or private donations because of the difficulty in obtaining the necessary qualifying contributions to obtain public funds.

"And if it is the will of the House Leadership and Coalition to protect incumbents as a matter of public policy, why stop at just this House? Why not extend the same protections to the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, our Senators, and our Trustees of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs?

"III. Appropriateness

"Lastly, why should public funds be used to support candidates who are not supported by taxpayers? Many of my constituents have complained that a bill like this is offensive to them because they don't want their hard-earned tax money going to support candidates who they do not want elected. Imagine explaining to a constituent that a member of Westboro Baptist Church has become a candidate for state office using tax dollars that could have paid for medicines for the elderly or poor? How about defending the use of over $30,000 from the General Fund to a campaign for a member of the American Nazi Party?

"They have a very good point. By establishing a publicly funded system as proposed in this bill, constituents are placed into the 'no win' situation of having their tax money supporting one or more candidates. If the constituent doesn't support that candidate or candidates, he or she will have a more difficult time supporting the candidate he or she truly wants. If the desired candidate is not a publicly funded candidate, he or she would have to give private donations to that candidate, the amount of which would arguably be cancelled by the amount of their tax dollars used to support the unwanted candidate. If the wanted candidate is a publicly funded candidate, the constituent would have to find some other way of providing support since the publicly funded candidate would not be able to accept private donations.

"And this is the crux of the problem identified by the United States Supreme Court in Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1 (1976), and Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission, 558 U.S. 310 (2010) – that the expenditure of money is a form of political speech that cannot be restricted.

"In the words of Justices Brennen, Steward, and Powell, in Buckley:

". . . the concept that government may restrict the speech of some [in] order to enhance the relative voice of others is wholly foreign to the First Amendment. . ."

"Personally, I don't like Buckley nor Citizens United. These rulings ensure that those with money will have greater influence in politics. But Buckley and Citizens United are the law of the land, and until the federal Constitution is amended or the United States Supreme Court overrules those previous decisions, efforts such as those contained in this bill merely muddles our statutes, drains our limited resources, confuses the public, and makes it easier for incumbents to remain in office.

"Finally, the effective date of this bill is July 1, 2030, and referred to as a 'defective effective date'. Consequently, this bill is not in its final form and may still be amended to address concerns raised by the Campaign Spending Commission, myself, and others. Until such time, my opposition remains.

"For these reasons, I oppose this bill."

Representative Saiki rose, stating

"Mr. Speaker, I call for the question on page 10, but please permit Members to insert written comments. Thank you."

At this time, Representative Saiki called for the previous question.

Representative Takai rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, question. Do we have to stand up if any of us were partaking in public financing over the past whatever years? I need a ruling on a potential conflict. I'm the recipient of public financing, maybe about, 10, 15, 20 years ago. I did partake in the program."

The Chair then stated:

"I'm going to rule that it's not a conflict, if anyone has taken public contribution. Thank you for the disclosure, no conflict. "

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Tokioka, Kawakami, Evans and Har be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Creagan rose to respond, stating:

"I rise a second time in strong support for this measure. I really appreciate the comments of my colleague from Puna about the expense of the elections. However, in terms of the amount spent, the reason that the candidate from Kau, the young woman in question, received so much money is because there was so much money spent by the developers in the previous cycle. If she hadn't received that amount, the developers again could have swamped out even the public contribution by contributing what they did before, which was twice the amount she received. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Evans, Tokioka and Har be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise today with reservations to HB 2533, HD2. Public funding of candidates makes elections more about the candidate and issues, and less about how much money the candidate is able to raise. As someone who receives a majority of donations from individual donations, I am supportive of legislation that would give all candidates a level playing field, compared to a candidate with large corporation donations. I am concerned about the cost associated with this fund. Funds raised by the income tax check-off have dwindled, and this bill would increase the work of the Campaign Spending Commission.

"Furthermore, I am also concerned that taxpayers may find this an inappropriate use of their funds, particularly if they disagree with the candidates they are funding. For these reasons, while I am supportive of continuing the discussion on this legislation, I am currently voting yes with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2533, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN FINANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Fale, Hanohano, McDermott and Oshiro voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 788-14) recommending that H.B. No. 748, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

At 11:51 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2361, HD 2

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 790-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1988, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1988, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of HB 1988, HD 2. The purpose of this measure is to improve access to nutritious foods in public educational institutions and develop the agricultural workforce for the benefit of local farmers and consumers through the establishment of Hawaii Farm to School Program within the Department of Agriculture and the appropriation of funds for a Farm to School coordinator position.

"HB 1988 has the potential to provide important support and communication on the education side, as well as coordination and access on the food sourcing side. Not only will it educate and empower our state's youth to make healthy choices that will stick with them for a lifetime, but it will increase the amount of locally-grown fruits and vegetables that are procured within the state.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and to vote yes on HB 1988. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker, this bill helps us address a couple of things. This is something that I think will be outstanding for our community, especially for our schools, because we need to remove barriers to ingenuity, Mr. Speaker. This allows us a greater amount of flexibility to address a pressing issue in regards to farms to school. Including programs like this, we have an opportunity to make a difference in the way our children experience and learn about farming.

"As a Representative of a rural community, Mr. Speaker, this is something that's very important. We're proud to have programs in my rural community like the Kokua Foundation that has invested time and resources into taking agriculture programs into our schools. I believe again, we have an obligation to support these initiatives by making sure we pass rules and regulations that facilitate and cultivate the perpetuation of farming in our schools, Mr. Speaker.

"Unfortunately, not all the children these days have the opportunity, like I did, where farming was the way you sustained your life and the way your family actually put food on the table. It's something now that kids actually have to learn, and they don't necessarily live. I think this is an opportunity to allow that experience, Mr. Speaker, that really allows a connection between the future generations and the earth that we live on. For those reasons, I am in very strong support, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1988, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 791-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1929, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1929, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting with reservations on this measure. Basically, this sums up my concern. We talk about farmers' markets, and I do frequent them both in Mililani and at Kakaako at the Ward Shopping Center. But when the definition is broken down regarding farmers' markets, the only requirement is that the market be outdoors and have independent businesses selling Hawaii grown, Hawaii value-added products.

"I think the intention is good to support farmers' markets statewide. I do purchase whatever, whenever I can, produce from the farmers' markets, because they tend to be independent, small business persons. But the concern I have is basically as raised in the Department of Taxation's testimony on maybe an inadequate, defined definition of what we call a farmers' market. It could be so broadly construed that there would really be no way for us to control what is meant by the produce or the products being sold there.

"I think the second concern Department of Taxation raises for us is that the, quote, 'value-added products is not defined. If this exemption is intended to limit qualifying products by location of manufacture or production in Hawaii, even if not explicitly stated,' I think that is the intention, 'there is a high likelihood that the limitation would violate the Commerce Clause.'

"The third point the department raises is that 'broadening the tax incentive to any outdoor market selling produce or value-added products will make it extremely difficult for the Department to enforce the proper claiming of the exemption.'

"I for one have been trying to support our own local farmers' market in Wahiawa for several years. And given the rules and regulations of compliance, essentially we had to take it from maybe a public place, at the State of Hawaii's Civic Center in Wahiawa, to a private location at the Wahiawa Hongwanji parking lot.

"'Finally, the Department notes that the effective date will allow this exemption to be applied retroactively. Thus, any taxpayers who have already filed a periodic return and made payment would be due a refund through filing an amended return.'

"Those are my concerns, and I flagged them just for the sake of the Members and further discussion on this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Wooley rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with written comments. I just want to make a couple brief comments based on that last speaker. The Committee on Finance did change the language, and the effective date is 2030.

"I also just want to thank the Members for finally moving forward with this concept of allowing there to be more transactions for local products, locally. I'm very excited about seeing this move forward and had a very productive meeting with Department of Taxation to talk about the possibility for this becoming a reality, so that all of our families can have better access to fresh food more easily. So it's really going to promote that. Thank you."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill would be so great for so many reasons. First, we can promote business transactions at farmers' markets by exempting locally grown produce from the GE Tax. This will promote the sale, growing, and eating of more local food."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations, with brief comments. I'd just like to make it known that I patronize our farmers' markets. I believe they serve a very important role in our community, and therefore I will support it and will continue to support it no matter which way this bill goes.

"Unfortunately, there's some concerns or reservations that I have in regards to the testimony that came from the Department of Agriculture, as they were concerned as well about the enforcement entity. Enforcement of this bill would burden the farmers and vendors at the farmers' markets with having to determine where the purchased produce would be consumed.

"In addition, with testimony from the Attorney General's office, the bill may be challenged as violating the Commerce Clause of the United States Constitution, because it could be found to discriminate against interstate commerce. However, I realize that there is a defective date on this bill, and it is my hope that we'll be able to address many of these issues as it moves over to the Senate. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations, some brief comments. I'd like to thank the introducer of this measure, because I truly appreciate these concepts. I do recognize the defective date, and I look forward to hearing this discussion moving forward, especially in the Senate.

"My challenge is, how are we going to implement this? You've heard it from several other previous speakers, and I think hopefully as we move forward, we can kind of resolve some of those issues.

"The challenge is, about a half an hour ago, we were complaining about what was fair in the marketplace, versus internet and local businesses. I can take that same concept with this measure, too. When I have what I deem a farmers' market, which is an open-style market on a piece of land or maybe even in a structure, that people come periodically to sell their goods or wares. I don't think that's the legal definition, but that's kind of what I think it is.

"Now, we're going to be providing an exemption to individuals that sell their product, which is a produce, from taxation. What am I supposed to tell my brick and mortars? What am I supposed to tell my wholesale food guys that's selling my organic produce? I understand this is a measure to support our farm industry, which I do wholeheartedly. And that's why I put a farmers' market in my community, with my community center and the Hawaii Farm Bureau, almost eight years ago, and then fought very hard to take EBT at those open markets, which they don't pay any General Excise Tax on, as long as it's food.

"So, Mr. Speaker, as we move forward, I hope we can kind of tighten this up and get it to where it's a workable measure. Currently, I don't see it's workable, that's why I'm standing here with reservations, but I really like the concept and see how we can go forward with this. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, I apologize for taking more of the time of this Body. But, I rise in strong support of this measure. As the president of Naalehu Main Street, we helped found the Naalehu Farmers Market, and that's provided a lot of fresh food to the community.

"A lot of the people there probably wouldn't come if they really had to collect excise tax. It's difficult to compute and collect, and it provides, relatively, a burden on something that many people who participate in the farmers' market, not to make money really, but to support the community. I mean, it costs more money to do it than the money you make. So, I think removing this additional small burden helps.

"In addition, I think that this concept should be extended to roadside fruit stands and vegetable stands to support that aspect of the farming community. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I just would like to say a few comments. I understand the concern of the other people as far as not collecting taxes, and I did mention earlier that I would like us to collect taxes because of the unfunded mandate. But I'm looking at it in a different perspective, whereby there's only, the people that go and sell at open markets, and I know a few of them, are very simple people. And to add this burden of paperwork and reporting would be a little too much for them to handle. So, I would like those people who have reservations to consider that, and I think there's enough discussion in this Body, and I call for the question, Mr. Speaker."

At this time, Representative Cabanilla called for the previous question.

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Oshiro, Awana and Jordan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

From the 1980's, I was the employee responsible for making sure the cemetery got the supplies and equipment it needed. I filed the necessary state and federal reports, but was never aware of policies that were needed to keep the cemetery up to a certain standard.

"Throughout the years, our Veterans Cemetery has gone in the direction of looking like any other public cemetery, and currently does not look like a uniformed military cemetery. "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I request a ruling on a potential conflict? At my law firm I am a land use attorney. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Kako'o 'ole. In opposition. He pila hewa kēia. This is a wrongful bill. 'Aohe i 'o i loko ka pila. There is no essence in this bill. 'O kēia pila e ho'ohana na po'e i loko ke ke'ena pala pala 'aina. This bill created more work for the employees of the Bureau of Conveyances. Na wai e ho a'o kēia hana. Who is going to be doing the training? Aia i hea ke kala e pili ana kēia hana. And where is the money coming from? Mahalo."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2002, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAND COURT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Hanohano voting no.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 817-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1938 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2482, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I request a ruling on a potential conflict? At my law firm I represent AOAOs and condominium owners. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2482, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONDOMINIUMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 820-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1975, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1975, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD CHECKS FOR STATE AND COUNTY EMPLOYEES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 12:15 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2482, HD 1
H.B. No. 1975, HD 1

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 826-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2183, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that notwithstanding the recommendations contained in Standing Committee Report No. 826-14, that H.B. No. 2183, HD 1 be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2183, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PENAL CODE," was recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 821-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1907, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1907, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. My reservations come from information in this bill which needs to address those veterans who are mentally disabled, those who have experienced trauma from being in war or under traumatic circumstances and it is naïve to believe that all veterans have had experience with equipment used for hunting. Although I strongly support our veterans and for those veterans with the mental ability and skills to hunt, my reservations come for those who do not. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1907, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HUNTING LICENSES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Hanohano voting no, and with Representative Creagan being excused.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 822-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2577, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2577, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my strong reservations. A brief comment. I think we should be allowing the director to use their ability to create administrative rules at this point in time. I know what this measure means, but I think we should allow that process to go forward. And if that isn't workable, then maybe they should come before the Legislature to make these types of decisions. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm going to be voting against this measure. I've been watching this for a while. I sat on the subject matter committee. The Executive Director of the Hawaii Public Housing Authority did come to testify. And that's where I learned that there's actually rules being promulgated. They got the approval from the Attorney General's Office and the Governor's Office for public comment and consideration. I think they're moving ahead with some kind of smoking ban in the public housing units right now. This is a statutory prohibition, and for violation of this provision, one might be evicted from their tenancy.

"I have concerns, and the actual ones that I know of right now is that I have a public housing project in Wahiawa, the lower side of Wahiawa. According to one of the agents of the Hawaii Public Housing Authority, they have no area that would be designated as a designated smoking area, whereby residents of the public housing project would be able to smoke their cigarettes.

"That means that for those residents who live there, they would be either faced with a choice of not smoking on the property or removing themselves from the property. If you know where this area is on the lower side of Wahiawa, back of Palm Street, I don't think that's an area that you might want to be outside to do this, to enjoy your tobacco products.

"It's for that reason I think this is unnecessary. I think the current rules moving forward through the current channels are appropriate to address this smoking ban in public housing units. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Jordan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. Is smoking legal or illegal? It's legal. This is the nanny state reaching out to touch these poor folks who don't have many things in life, and maybe perhaps one of the things they enjoy is this vice. And the law is almost unenforceable. I can just hear the 911 call on a Saturday night, 'Officer, please, we have someone smoking an unfiltered Marlboro in Room 202. Please send help quick.' So, I'm going to be voting no on this. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. I rise in support with some reservations. We had a great speech from the former Majority Leader, from Wahiawa. This law says, 'The authority may designate one or more areas within the housing project where smoking is allowed.' I believe it should say, 'The authority shall designate where smoking is allowed.' And I have gone on record here that I believed at the airports, when we eliminated smoking, that they should've allowed designated areas at the airports. So, I'm very consistent that they 'shall'. So, that's why I'm with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Just a couple of quick notes. First of all, the Hawaii Public Housing Authority does not oppose this bill despite the fact that they are moving forward with rules. The other point I would make is that secondhand smoke is a known human carcinogen for the majority of people who live in public housing complexes who are not smokers and share the ventilation system with smokers. This is, literally, a life and death matter. Even if you don't get lung cancer and die, there's a number of other diseases you can get. Not because you decided to smoke, but because your next door neighbor decided to smoke.

"So this bill does not eliminate smoking entirely. There is a possibility if the HPHA so designates, they can put in designated areas where people can smoke, or you can smoke off premises if the complex is small enough that you can get to the street without too much difficulty.

"But, it's for residents of public housing who this is usually a housing choice of last resort. There's not many other options when you're talking about the income levels that are eligible to live in our public housing. It simply isn't fair to them to have to risk their life to have a place to stay. Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise in support with reservations. It might be surprising that a physician would have reservations about a bill like this. However, I think we must remember that our society and our government permitted tobacco companies to poison and addict millions of our fellow constituents. At this point now, we realize that we were wrong. But we were wrong, and we did these things. We allowed these companies to poison our fellow citizens, and addict them.

"So now they're addicted. And many of these people also have mental health issues. And this bill could evict them from housing and make them homeless, as well as punish them even further. So, I have reservations and I think that the Public Housing Authority should consider having places or sub-units, perhaps, that did not share ventilation with other units that would be reserved for people who are irrevocably addicted to smoking. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Oshiro and Jordan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I'd just like to note that if anybody has witnessed somebody going through nicotine withdrawals, they become very edgy. I fear that a bill like this could increase violence in some of these areas. Reservations."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, I would just note that oftentimes we as a Legislature have to take a stand and put into statute what we believe is policy. This administration has dragged its feet for three years. I would also note that in 2012, we passed this measure, a very similar measure, overwhelmingly with no one voting no. So, it's quite surprising to me that there is a change of votes on this particular issue. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in opposition. I think maybe back in 2012 I wasn't educated on the effect of it to my constituents, and I think whereas today I am. I think secondly, more importantly, there are currently rules being promulgated to address this current evil that we're trying to address in this measure.

"Third, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to have the record reflect the comments of the gentleman and my colleague, the doctor from the neighbor island. Except for the comment about the mental health condition of some of the residents. I think his point is well taken, because tobacco is one of those legal products that we allow to be consumed, and we promote it to some degree because we are addicted to the revenues that tobacco generates. We use it for all kinds of services and programs. And I think that's not germane, so I'll sit down right now. But just, thank you very much."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations and just a few comments. It's just my concern that if in some public housing facilities, for example Mayor Wright Housing where it's very condensed, they may not meet that threshold of 25 feet from the open space area. My fear is that residents will then go into the neighborhoods across the street and start smoking in front of the homes, and then we create another problem there. That's my reservation. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2577, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Hanohano, McDermott and Oshiro voting no, and with Representative Creagan being excused.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 823-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1509, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1509, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting no on this bill. Let me just explain to my colleagues the reason why I'm doing this. I think this is a substantive change to the current law. What this act before us, in the books right now, is basically a penalty for using what they call mobile electronic devices, otherwise known as cell phones or PDAs or what have you, but primarily cell phones.

"This is the law that many of us have wrestled with for several years, I think when the current Speaker was the Transportation Chairman, we had all kinds of debates on whether or not it's a home rule issue or it's a statewide policy, but here we are right now dealing with a statewide policy.

"I think what the bill attempts to do is to change the way a citation for violating the cell phone law is processed through our current court proceedings. I think that's the case here, that it strikes some of the provisions right now that any violation that is provided in this subsection shall not be deemed to be a traffic infraction as defined in this current law. What that means for folks who may be cited for violating the cell phone law is that they'll be able to remit payment and dispose of this without attending to it personally in court.

"When I think about the policy that we put into place several years ago regarding the use of cell phones, or actually not to support the use or encourage the use, but to dissuade people from using cell phones for texting or for communicating and distracting them from driving. I think the idea was that we had made a finding that driving while using a cell phone is dangerous.

"We also found I think at that time that texting while driving, using a cell phone, is dangerous. And so, we wanted the penalty at that time to be and act as a deterrent for violators. I think that's why we set up the law at that time, so that as an infraction, one would be required to face the inconvenience, so to speak, of attending to a personal court appearance to dispose of this violation.

"I think by changing it we send a signal that the use of a cell phone while driving is no longer as dangerous at it may have been several years ago. I think that's the wrong message. I think we should be increasing the penalties for violating this law, given the information I'm learning today about the number of accidents and fatalities caused by inattentive driving based upon ones using a cell phone, either for texting or communicating on the phone. That's the reason why I'll be voting no, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. Thank you. Before we get started, may I please have the words of the Representative from Wahiawa entered into the Journal as if they were my own. My concerns, my opposition really stems from the testimony of the Department of Transportation. Specifically, the Department of Transportation noted that this bill will delete the penalty provisions and convert the violation into a traffic infraction.

"The state receives federal highway safety grants to help deter and prevent driving behaviors that cause motor vehicle crashes and deaths. These grants are provided under Title 23 United States Code Sections 402 and 405, which are designed to change driving behavior through enforcement, education and engineering. However, to receive these grants, the federal government mandates that the requirements must be included in the state's laws or statutes. Hawaii has just recently received notification from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration that it does not qualify for the distracted driving grant.

"The basis for the rejection is the technical, non-substantive reading of our current law. The first item is a requirement that it impose increased fines for repeat offenders. The second item is the state's definition of 'operate' in accordance with Section 291E-1, HRS. By the federal definition, driving is defined as the operation of a motor vehicle on a public road, that includes being temporarily stationary because of traffic, a traffic light or stop sign, or otherwise, but does not include operating a motor vehicle when the vehicle has pulled over to the side of, or off, an active roadway and has stopped in a location where it can safely remain stationary.

"So the DOT recommended certain amendments to ensure that we would not lose our federal grant. And, Mr. Speaker, it was elicited in the hearing that we're looking at about almost $775,000 that would be a hit to our State Highway Fund. For those of us who are well versed in the State Highway Fund, we know that under federal law there's an 80-20 match, so for every dollar that the state spends on road projects through our State Highway Fund, there is an 80 percent match. Therefore, it is incumbent upon us to ensure that we have as much money in the State Highway Fund as possible.

"Given the limited resources that we have in our State Highway Fund, I have to remain in opposition to this measure as it is currently drafted, because I do not want to see any further hits to the State Highway Fund. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations and would like to have the words of the speaker that spoke previously as my own. But I wanted to point out that this law would apply to county roads, as well as state roads. One of the concerns I've had is that we want our police to pull people over and obviously to cite them for an infraction, but I'd like to see a lot of these fines actually go to the counties instead of always to the state. So I'd like to see a portion of these fines, or a way to figure out how on county roads, the counties actually get the fine money instead of it going to the State Highway Fund. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I did the best I could to work with the Department of Transportation to figure out exactly what they were saying that we were going to lose and why we were going to lose it, and we did not get satisfactory answers. I of course do not want to lose the state any more money. I don't want to lose the state any money, period. But I am hopeful that as the bill progresses through the process, we can work out, next committee can work out, what it is exactly that the federal government requires, and what exactly it is that we are possibly going to lose if we don't get the language correct. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you for the second time. I really wasn't going to speak on this, but Mr. Speaker, I might have a conflict of interest. I had a nephew that was holding his cell phone and texting and he cracked his car up. Ended up in coma for three weeks. Took him a year to rehabilitate," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Jordan continued, stating:

"Thank you very much. You know, when I was driving in today, I saw the lady next to me sitting on her phone like she was at home, driving her car. Okay, I'm guilty. My phone rings, I pull over and I talk on my phone. But I don't drive.

"If you're going to get cited, there should be multiple fines for the first offense, the second offense, third, or fourth. That's why I supported this the last time. I don't support one fee going forward. And yeah, take off your day from work, be inconvenienced, and go to court. That changes in this. And if people are upset about going to court and the courts getting clogged up, I am sorry, but when people use their phone like they're talking at home, and they're driving on the road, one second off that road will kill somebody. Or they choose to answer that text.

"I don't want to hear of another young mother that walks across the street and gets killed. I don't want to see that drunk driver that I just saw on Saturday evening, one second before me, go through a driver check point and then hit some other vehicle three minutes later. This is about being accountable. We should make harsh rules, not soften them. This is softening at the public outcry. How are we going to bind people's hands? We were talking about technology earlier. Yeah, technology is great. Pick it up and use it? No. Maybe we should ban them from cars all together.

"I'm going with reservations to be nice, but we shouldn't be passing this type of measure. We should be making a statement. And the statement is, if you're going to inconvenience somebody on the road, then go to court, pay your fine. And if it's the second or third time, pay more. Because it's somebody's child, somebody's wife, or the driver that gets hurt. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. As a Representative of an area whereby we are inundated by development and traffic congestion to be the worst on the island, I am in strong support of the measure whereby the $250 goes to the State Highway Fund.

"The reason why we don't have enough highways, or this is what DOT tells me, is that we don't have enough money. We don't have enough state funds. So therefore, being that we are so congested and we are crying for more transportation initiatives, I rise in strong support of this measure. And I think there's enough discussion, Mr. Speaker, and I would like this measure to pass. I call for the question."

At this time, Representative Cabanilla called for the previous question.

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations, Mr. Speaker. A few brief comments. Thank you. On the County Council of Kauai, I was the introducer of the bill that prohibited the use of electronic devices. And in that bill, we increased the penalties in construction and school zones, because we listed that as a priority. Last session, I believe that we created a bill that increased the penalties in those zones as well. This removes them. That's why I'm going with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Saiki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. I'd like to just summarize the point of my comments, which is that the real issue that this Body needs to focus on, when it comes to transportation funds, is the Department of Transportation's inability to spend down over $800 million in federal funds that have accumulated over the years for highway safety improvements. The Department of Transportation's inability to spend down these funds may result in a suspension or take-back of those funds. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, in support and I'll just keep it very brief. We're not just talking about the inconvenience of the infractors, because if that's what it was, then I wouldn't be in support. What we're talking about is forcing people to go to court, but it's not just forcing people, it's forcing people who are ticketing, which are the police officers. So many of these tickets get bounced because the police officers are not showing up.

"So just on a technicality, the people who are violating the law should not get off just because the police officers are not going to court. If we're making them just pay a fine, these people would have just paid the fine and admitted negligence. Otherwise, what we're doing is we're forcing them to go to court and get off the violations that they made."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing in support. Mr. Speaker, one of the things we wanted to clarify is that some of the issues that have been reported with the current law is that when you are pulled over and given a ticket, it is basically the officer's word against the driver, as some of those passionate on the Floor have stated, that people are visibly using the phone or texting.

"However, we've heard reports of individuals who weren't, excuse me, I should be very specific, who claim that they weren't using the phone at any time, however were ticketed for having the device either near them or on their leg or in the vicinity. However, they were forced to go to court, as well as because of the current situation, they lost and had to pay a fine for what they claim as having a device in the front seat.

"One of the things also, Mr. Speaker, there's been a lot of discussion regarding the Department of Transportation using or accessing current highway funds. There's been a lot of problems associated with that. Not only at the department situation, but also the ability to get appropriate contractors to commit and also to complete the environmental assessment. However, I'll save those comments for an appropriate measure to address that.

"Mr. Speaker, there currently is a grant that's associated with this. In the past, there have been no guarantees that this grant will continue and how long that grant will continue. However, Mr. Speaker, with the current increase in this measure of $250 minimum fine, those potential federal fund matchings that may not be continued on this type of measure going forward could be associated with the fines that tickets would produce. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"The bill, as received by this Body, would make it an INFRACTION to use a mobile device while operating a motor vehicle, and require the deposit of fines into the State Highway Fund. I oppose changing the offense from a violation to an infraction and the transfer of the fines collected to the State Highway Fund.

"I'd like to remind my colleagues that just last year, this Body approved House Bill No. 980, Senate Draft 2, which made the use of a mobile device while operating a motor vehicle a VIOLATION. House Bill No. 980, Senate Draft 2, was enacted into law as Act 74, Session Laws of Hawaii 2013, and it went into effect on July 1, 2013. Being that today is March 4, 2014, Act 74 has been in effect for just a little more than seven (7) months.

"What is the difference between a VIOLATION and an INFRACTION? For a violation, the person committing the act must appear before the Court. For an infraction, the person does not have to appear in Court and may mail in payment for the uncontested fine.

"Why this change in policy? Aren't we trying to discourage the use of mobile devices while operating a motor vehicle? After all, that was why House Bill No. 980, Senate Draft 2, was approved by this Body less than one year ago. What serves as a greater deterrent for motorists? Having to take off from work to take care of important business at District Court, and experience standing before a judge and going through arraignment and plea? Or merely paying an uncontested fine by mail?

"For some more affluent members of our community, paying the hundred fifty bucks or so is less expensive than taking off from work or finding a baby sitter or making arrangements that deviates from the customary schedule. But, that is what makes the current law effective. Like excessive speeding, running a stop sign, or an illegal lane change, a defendant must go to court to dispose of the citation. Once a person understands the 'true' cost of the time and inconvenience, he or she is much less likely to violate again. This is the principle of deterrence and punishment concomitant with the offense. For isn't driving a vehicle and texting or using a cell phone dangerous and deadly to operator, passenger, and other drivers and pedestrians? Will we make excessive speeding or running a stop sign an infraction next year?

"I'm not sure if the Judiciary's testimony to the House Transportation Committee, dated January 29, 2014, and the House Judiciary Committee, dated February 7, 2014, was well understood and the fiscal implications appreciated. At first blush, especially reading the January 29, 2014 testimony, one might readily conclude that making the change of mobile device use from a violation to 'an infraction would have several benefits for the public and administration of justice.' This is because it explains the major procedural distinction between a 'violation' and 'infraction'. But the Judiciary's description of the change in law as being a 'benefit for the public and the administration of justice', is where I strongly disagree.

"To the contrary, it is the CURRENT law that requires a person receiving a citation to appear in court, face arraignment, enter a plea of guilty, no contest, or not guilty, and if the person enters a plea of not guilty, return to court on another day for a trial. And it is this effect upon the person receiving a citation that is in the best interest of the public and is consistent with due process of law and the administration of justice.

"Making this substantial policy change under the guise of protecting and advancing the interest of the 'public' is misplaced.

"Moreover, the Judiciary's generalizations gloss over and do not reveal the anticipated operational and fiscal cost in their January 29, 2014 testimony. That important information, however, was described in testimony dated February 7, 2014, to the House Committee on Judiciary. In relevant part it reads:

> "[I]t should be noted that the adjudication of infraction cases will place greater demands upon judges (who must review written statements during limited timeframes while 'of the bench') as well as traffic operations bureau staff who prepare judgments, orders and notices of infraction hearings; there would be associated increases in mailing expenses."

"Notwithstanding this clear 'red flag', the record shows no discussion nor resolution of this important concern raised by the Judiciary. Still, I give the Judiciary credit for catching this, although late and after its previous roaring endorsement.

"If that were not enough, the Department of Transportation (DOT) also raised fiscal concerns regarding this bill. Specifically, the DOT noted that the federal Highway Safety Distracted Driving Grant requires increased fines under State Law for repeated offenders. That is why the DOT recommended graduated fines based on the reoccurrence of the violation as follows:

Second Offense	Fine of $201.00 to not more than $300.00 for a second offense within one year;
Third Offense	Fine of $301.00 to not more than $500.00 for a third offense within two years; and
Subsequent Offense	Fine of $301.00 to not more than $500.00 for a subsequent offense.

"The testimony stated that these amendments were needed for the state to remain compliant with the grant requirements.

"Considering that the bill, in its present form, would put the state out of compliance with the federal Highway Safety Distracted Driving Grant, the state will lose an unknown amount of federal funds and based on the review of both the House Transportation and Judiciary Committees, the amount was never ascertained.

"Please note that despite possibly having significant financial impact on our State Highway Fund, THIS BILL WAS NOT REFERRED TO NOR REVIEWED BY THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

"With that said, in conclusion, the bill before us is the perfect example of legislative pandering at its worst. Last year, because the public voiced their outrage at innocent pedestrians and motorists being injured from distracted drivers using their cell phones, we made it against the law to do so. But now, because another segment of the public voiced their outrage of having to go to Court for what they believe is a minor breach of the law, we need to change our laws again? And just a little more than seven (7) months after the law was enacted in the first place?

"If we believe that as a public policy, we need to write laws that discourage the practice of using a mobile device while operating a motor vehicle, then we should leave the law as it is. If we don't believe that we should approve or disapprove of every conceivable manner of human conduct, then we really should have never approved House Bill No. 980, Senate Draft 2, last year. But to take the position as proposed in the bill presently before us takes neither position seriously and sets the precedent of having every issue 'ping-ponged' depending on how loud a segment of the public screams.

"We need to grow some skin and make a call. And I say, if we make a call, let us protect the public and stand firm behind the law as it is. This is the reason I am voting no against this ill-conceived bill."

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in support of the measure, but I have very slight reservations and I'd like those to be comments inserted into the Journal, please. Thank you. And the slight reservations are related to the use of B lands. Thank you."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support this bill because it will help Hawaii move closer towards our goal of becoming energy independent and eliminate the use of fossil fuels. However, because high production agricultural lands are limited in our island state, I do have some reservations about using Class B lands for solar energy facilities.

"As noted by the Department of Agriculture, 'While renewable energy development is essential to Hawaii's energy security, it should be promoted and implemented in a manner that protects the prime agricultural land that is fundamental to agricultural production and food security.'

"On the positive side, HB 2203 does provide for compatible agricultural activities with solar production.

"Again, thank you Mr. Speaker, for allowing me to speak on this measure."

"Why are we requiring the Department of Health to adopt a sample provider order for life-sustaining treatment form?

"According to the Queen's Health Systems:

"Requiring the Department of Health to adopt sample provider orders is not necessary as the existing form was developed by state experts in collaboration with national standards for POLST type forms. Requiring administrative rules will delay implementation of this important measure and will not result in improved access."

"That is my only reservation. Thanks."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations, brief comments. I support the intent of this measure, however my concern has to do with enterprise zones. For those of us who are land use attorneys and who are well versed in enterprise zones, the whole point of an enterprise zone is to take an area that has been blighted, urban blighted area, and to create redevelopment to reinvigorate that blighted area.

"The fact is that in the State of Hawaii, we have enterprise zones in certain areas to, again, create that economic engine and to foster a renewed sense of vibrancy, as we've seen it for example in Wahiawa. We've seen that whole area on California Avenue be revitalized as an enterprise zone.

"So my concern here is, I do support the intent of this measure, but butting it into an enterprise zone is not appropriate, particularly for this type of system. It could potentially be, but I think that we are now going outside the purview of what the original intent was of enterprise zones. For those reasons I stand with reservations. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1950, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SEAWATER AIR CONDITIONING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Oshiro voting no.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to vote with reservations on this one. I have real concerns about the mandatory aspect of this, although I sent all my children to kindergarten. But if I understand it correctly, that we aren't statutorily obligated to fund kindergarten, it's just 1-12, and that is the nexus for this bill. I could be wrong, but that is my understanding of it. So, I would prefer if we would just fix that instead of making it mandatory, which would then, obviously, obligate the funding. I'll reserve my final judgment for final vote. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the kindergarten bill, and I request that I can submit remarks to the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in SUPPORT of this measure.

"The intent of the original draft of this bill was to make kindergarten attendance mandatory, and to make transition into kindergarten a directive for the early learning system. House Bill 14 is my attempt to improve our children's education by lowering the mandatory school-attendance age from six years of age to five years of age.

"The original draft of this bill was amended in the Committee on Education to add a new part, which requires the Department of Education to develop a statewide individualized kindergarten readiness assessment system. While the amended language in Part I reflects the intent of my original bill, I have concerns regarding the individualized kindergarten readiness assessment system, as established in Part II.

"I want to emphasize my strong support for Part I of this bill, as I feel it will greatly benefit our children and the state. Lowering the mandatory age for school attendance would increase the number of children in our schools and allow them to get an earlier start with their education. Our children's education would not only increase and improve at the kindergarten level, but the earlier and increased exposure will help prepare them for future educational success.

"With the recent repeal of junior-kindergarten, there has been a push to expand early childhood education to those at the preschool level. While this is a noble effort, there exists a gap between children who will be served through new early childhood education initiatives at the preschool level, and children who are required to attend school at age six.

"It is imperative, Mr. Speaker, that we first address this gap so that all children may benefit from educational opportunities.

"While I wholeheartedly support Part I, the same cannot be said for Part II. I do not agree with the establishment of the individualized kindergarten readiness assessment system, and feel it is inappropriate to label our children – especially at such a young age. All children are unique, and each child may learn in a different way that best suits them. Although parents may exempt their children from the system, I do not feel it is necessary or proper to implement a system that tracks and categorizes children in this way.

"Noting my concerns regarding Part II of this bill, I strongly support Part I and the implementation of mandatory kindergarten. An investment in better education for our children is an investment in the future success of our state.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fukumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, brief comments. I'm completely in support of mandatory kindergarten, but I do have concerns with Part II of this bill, which is an assessment and an aggregation of all the assessments into a state pool. I think it's disconcerting. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Fukumoto be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Mr. Speaker, we currently have a hard time getting those kids from 1-12 already. That would be grade 1 through grade 12. You see, Mr. Speaker, when a child isn't brought to school, the only alternative the school has is to take the parents to court, family court. And that takes about a year.

"I am totally in support of making sure our children get to kindergarten, because believe me, all my Title I schools really need those kids in kindergarten so they can be right ahead of the game when they hit in first grade. But I don't think this is a measure we should be moving forward at this particular time. We should really look at how we can promote those parents, those guardians, and really educate them on how important it is to bring your child to school, rain, shine, or kindergarten. I think that's what we should be really focusing on, instead of starting to mandate somebody to bring their child to kindergarten. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 14, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 842-14) recommending that H.B. No. 1675, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1675, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Strong reservations. I will support this bill, but I still strongly believe that this should be negotiated, because all schools have different circumstances. Teachers need to have a voice in how to proceed with working conditions. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Mr. Speaker, note my reservations on this. I think some of my reservations are actually between the lower grades versus the upper grades, and how one track uses hours versus the other track uses days. So, I know it has a defective date on here and that's why I'm waiting to see what the discussion and the final measure will be at, probably in May. But for right now, just some reservations going forward. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Morikawa be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. I can understand for those who were not in this Chamber during the 2009-2010 Legislative Session as to what all of us who were serving at that time went through. If we recall, in 2009 was the first year that Furlough Fridays were enacted, which led to the State of Hawaii having the dubious distinction of having the shortest school year in the United States, 167 school days. Which, by the way Mr. Speaker, was arrived at through collective bargaining. All the stakeholders got together and in the end decided that our children would have 167 instructional days.

"So in the 2010 Session, a bill was introduced to say, we're going to create by statute, as exists in over 40 other states, to say we're going to create a floor of instructional days that are required for our system. If they want to negotiate for more days, they can do so. But we need a basic floor, because otherwise, up until then it was bargained, and no one thought that that process would lead to 13 fewer days for our children.

"That bill passed the House 51-0, passed the Senate 25-0. Also in that bill, it was required that schools would reach a basic level of minimum instructional hours, because the concern by many advocates was you could have 180 instructional days, but if those children are only being instructed by an educator for three hours a day, that kind of defeats the purpose of having a minimum number of days.

"Mr. Speaker, when I became your Education Chair back in the day, I was actually very surprised, because I had always thought that because the teacher's contract called for 180 instructional days and a seven hour work day, that all schools, all students, had the same number of instructional minutes.

"I guess you can teach an old dog new tricks, Mr. Speaker. I was surprised to find out when we asked the department to do an overview of instructional time for our students, not days, instructional time. When they gave us the printout, I can tell you in 2013, now that has changed because in the 2014 school year it has to be 990 hours at all levels, elementary and high school. Which by the way, Mr. Speaker, is less than 200 hours on average, as compared to schools in other states. So we're still on the low end of required instructional hours.

"I was surprised to find out, you take middle schools, if you look at the 990 hours and where schools were at a few years ago, Niu Valley had 27 fewer instructional days. Ewa Makai Middle had 33 fewer instructional days, Kahuku and Pahoa High School had 18 fewer days, Kapaa 20 days, Wailua 25 days, Kauai High School 38 days. What does that really translate into, Mr. Speaker? What that translates into is, if you take two ninth graders, one going to Kau High School and one going to Kauai High School, if those two students went through four years of their respective high schools, the student that went to Kau High School actually got a year, one year, Mr. Speaker, of instructional time more than that student that went to Kauai High School.

"Now, I don't know about you, but if I were to face a group of parents at Kauai High School and they were to ask me, 'Is it true that my child has one year less of instructional time than that student at Kau High School over that four year career?' I wouldn't know how to answer to that parent. Now I could say, 'Well, it's flexibility, it's autonomy, we let every school decide.' I do think, Mr. Speaker, there's a compelling state interest to have a floor, and each school can decide, after that, as to what they want to do.

"Just as a reference point, we had an informational briefing on instructional time a few weeks ago, Mr. Speaker, and the principal from Mililani High School came and talked to us. He talked about how difficult it was to reach the 990 hours, but the school did so after dozens of meetings with various stakeholders in the community, among the teachers, among the students, among the staff and so on.

"You see, Mr. Speaker, Mililani was one of the schools that had 35 fewer instructional days for their students. But the principal decided this was something that we should, we could do, we must do. And I had asked the principal, 'Do you think the Legislature should have set that bar, or do you think the school should have just been left to its own devices and have 35 fewer instructional days?' And he said no, he believes it was a good thing, because that forced the school to come to grips with the fact that they could offer more instructional time to their students."

Representative Takumi continued, stating:

"Thank you very much, Speaker Emeritus. I'm just going to wrap it up. And it was a good thing. So you see, Mr. Speaker. There are many ways in which we can try to improve student outcomes, and I don't think anybody should doubt that I'm not a believer in the collective bargaining process. But in this case, and at least in 2009, that process failed all of us, particularly the students of this state. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose, stating:

"After hearing his compelling remarks, I'm going to vote no on this. Because for me, I went to school when I was age four. So a lot of the students that were older than me, whether they were born January, February, all the way up to December, they had a lot of time to learn before me. But yet, when they did the groups, they weren't in the fast or advanced groups. And yet, I as a four year old, because I was prepared by my kūpuna, my aunties, my uncles, people that surrounded me with love and gave me all the love that I needed to be a good child, a good student, a person that was 'i'ike, that was ready to learn. I was mākaukau for the school. Actually, I didn't realize this until I analyzed my whole life.

"And so, student outcomes do not depend on the amount of time you spend in school. It's really the reinforcement from your own 'ohana, which is lacking in all of our societies and communities today. We here need to get back to the roots and really learn how to learn. Learn how to love. Learn how to be at peace with one's self. Because time does not measure outcomes. Mahalo."

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations please. Mr. Speaker, I really want to thank the Education Chair for his veracity. He rightly so said that furloughs were a collective bargaining issue, not that of a former Governor. That's the first time I've ever heard that being said. So I'm very pleased, I just want to thank him profusely.

"Secondly, Mr. Speaker, the irony of the furloughs, which points to leadership, points to quality, is that test scores went up after Furlough Fridays. Go figure. Test scores went up after Furlough Friday, and I think this bill begs that. If we leave it up to the individual schools, to the leadership, to the principals and to the parents, good things can happen. Rather than one-size-fits-all, we found for the school system, which is 43rd in this nation, that one size doesn't fit all. We're still trying to put this one size round peg in a square hole and think it's going to work.

"If we're going to lift ourselves up, we've got to have leadership, we've got to have decentralization, and we've got to have a chance for these people to have a choice. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, we can do better, and that's why I have reservations. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. I really appreciate what the chair has done in addressing a number of these issues, Mr. Speaker, but this bill also has a potential of masking some of the real needs.

"Kahuku was mentioned as one of the schools that had a significantly fewer amount of days and hours worth of instruction time, Mr. Speaker. But that points to a need and a flaw within the infrastructure of the school. When it rains over there, the school floods, Mr. Speaker. You couldn't force kids to attend school when the school is essentially flooded and you can't go to school.

"This measure will mandate that time, but it doesn't fix the underlying problem, Mr. Speaker, of why kids can't go to school when you have bacteria infested water sitting on the campus. So this measure could potentially mask some of the real problems that we face in schools that are the underlying cause of the lack of hours in school. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takumi rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, not to belabor the point, but still in support. Point number one, the 990 hours and 180 instructional days does not take into account rain days or if there's a tidal wave or an earthquake or something that happens to that school, then the students are not required because they will get a waiver to get excused from them. That 990 hours or the 180 days are in the aggregate.

"I'll give you one example, Mr. Speaker. If you decide to take your child out for two weeks to go to Disneyland or something like that, your child did not, obviously, have that 990 hours. Well, your child doesn't have to make it up by going to summer school or something like that. That is part of an everyday occurrence that happens in our schools.

"Second point that has been brought up a number of times is about how the schools did better if you take high-stakes testing as an outcome, when there were Furlough Fridays. Well, you're taking a statistical aberration, and I believe my good friend, the Representative from Hawaii Kai, should know that. When you look at statistical anomalies, these sort of things happen. Otherwise, why don't we just try a nice experiment and go with 140 school days and see what happens? Sort of like, Mr. Speaker, if you go to Las Vegas and it's raining outside and you hit the jackpot. Why, after all, you might want to go to Las Vegas only when it's raining after that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing up in opposition. I will not comment on the issue on if it's raining in Las Vegas. The reason why I oppose this measure is the fact that, unlike some of the other testimonies for and against this measure, one of my biggest concerns is making sure that this Body continues to support our teachers.

"Mr. Speaker, this process regarding instructional hours not only has increased the minimum amount of time the students stay in. However, it was an extremely difficult task for many of the principals, including those that spoke to the Chair of Education, but principals as well as teachers alike throughout my district. For many teachers, it required them to search and determine and choose between what services, by hour, would they be able to provide versus the content that they felt required for the students to learn.

"So with that concern, Mr. Speaker, I'm hoping that as this measure moves forward, that the chair will continue to strive to work on behalf of not only what the principle is on the basic education hours, but also never to forget that one of the assets and benefits to our children is not only the amount of time they spend with the teachers, but also the content that they learn. And Mr. Speaker, my no vote, in opposition, is to support those teachers in our classrooms. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll be voting with reservations. I appreciate the history lesson from the Chair of the Education Committee. He has been a stalwart leader in the area of public education over many, many years. And I recall back in 2009 and 2010 when then Governor Linda Lingle at that time, and then the current board at that time, I think the Superintendent was Patricia Hamamoto, I think at that time we had an elected board. They had somehow come to an agreement by which they would be entering into their contracts with the teachers, the Hawaii State Teacher's Association. And lo and behold, to the surprise of many of us and the dismay of many of us, we did make the headlines nationally by having the dubious distinction of having the least amount of school days of a public school system.

"And I remember those discussions with those activists, teachers and mothers who came in from Honolulu to meet with me to see if we might even convene a special session to address the shortfall in the budget and maybe seek a reopening of the contract entered into by the respective stakeholders and parties. We did not go into a special session that year, but we went into a regular session. But at that point in time I think everybody became aware that the current contracts as written and as enforced still put us at the lower end of the number of instructional hours or teaching days.

"So I think it came to us and many of us struggled with it because we understood the principles of collective bargaining under Chapter 89. But at that point in time we did make a policy choice. And I think I'm still wrestling with it even today, Mr. Speaker, to be honest, to put into statute basic bare minimum of instructional or teaching hours for our students. This has been done in other areas of collective bargaining. There are certain areas that are not bargainable that are put into statute that's off the table. We've done that, so that's not earth shattering in and of itself, but maybe we have never done this with a contract regarding our teachers.

"So there's a little rub right there, there's a little aggravation going on right there and I understand that, for the purists who uphold the principles of collective bargaining in Chapter 89. But I think we tried to work it out as best as we could during that period of time, which was really an anomaly, to have all kids out of school because of Furlough Fridays. And I don't think any of us ever want to contemplate ever going back there or even having a possibility of going back to Furlough Fridays.

"So I've really got to commend the Chair of the Education Committee for the work he's done here to try and address the needs of our students, foremost and first, then address the needs of our expectations of our constituents, their parents or custodians or guardians to the education. At the same time to give the Board of Education and the superintendent there to have the ability to still within the operations and principles of collective bargaining in Chapter 89.

"I've said a lot, but at the end of the day, I'm going to support this measure going forward, subject to those reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I wanted to thank the Chair of the Education Committee for the lesson on specious reasoning. I'm quite familiar with specious reasoning, because I know there's a direct correlation between residential fires and yellow fire trucks. Therefore, yellow fire trucks cause residential fires. That's specious reasoning. What we have here in the Department of Education is to assume that bills like this with a one-size-fits-all is going to fix education. That's the specious reasoning behind a bill like this and that's why I still have reservations. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations. I do acknowledge the work that the Chair of Education has done, but I'll just say this. I think there's still some concern from the bargaining unit, the teachers specifically, regarding how this law marries up to their current agreement in contract. I do believe that moving the definition of instructional hours and the definition of how that works to the Board of Education is a step in the right direction. But I still acknowledge that we are still apart in terms of what is in law versus what is in the contract.

"I do support Chapter 89, and I would just hope that as we go through the process, that there can be some agreement as to, or some appreciation, acknowledgement of what is in Chapter 89 and what is in the current bargaining unit. Because, for example, there are some definitions in the agreement, there are some specific terms, there are some specific times in terms of minutes that just don't marry up with our current law. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ohno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. As a teacher who was teaching in the Department of Education during the Furlough Friday year of 2009, it's unconscionable for me or any other teachers ever to go through that again. It was a year where we typically had four day weeks and often had children coming to school on those rare Fridays asking, 'Why are we having school?' Three-day weekends made those Mondays that came so many times that much harder when the students were usually off and expecting to have long weekends.

"I would also like to point out in to response to a couple of the previous statements that the following years when the hours were restored, scores continued to go up. I don't attribute that to the hours, I attribute that more to mentoring or a strong use of data and just the ability for teachers to do more with less. But again, scores continued to go up even when the hours returned.

"Finally, as mentioned before, the principal at Mililani did a hard task in working to find a schedule suitable for him and his teachers to reach that 990. This bill, if this bill were not passed, that principal at Mililani would have to go back and do that same hard work when it comes time for 1080. This bill would strike the 1080 requirement, and that principal can continue to do his hard work in educating his students. So for those reasons, I stand in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cullen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, if this is an appropriate time, I did submit a green slip as a no vote. I'd like to change that to with reservations, please. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro, Morikawa, Yamane and Jordan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, brief comments. I want to commend the work of the Chair of Education as well as the Vice Chair on the great work they've done with this measure. My reservations stem from the fact of, or the way that I learn. I tend to have a hard time sitting in a classroom as teachers tend to pander to the lowest common denominator of student in lecture-style classrooms.

"I think we could look to our charter schools, particularly one in my district, Kihei Charter School, which is a hybrid model of learning, project-based, which has some of the lowest classroom time out of any charter school or school in the state including private, with great use of the internet and mobile devices and module-based learning, where the student can go at their own pace, accelerate or slow it down as needed. That's the type of learning that is effective for me, my little brother, and I think many of the children in the future. So if we want to help increase student outcomes, I think that's the path we should go instead of mandating in-the-classroom times.

"Also, of course that's going to come with the teacher autonomy to move towards those types of models, will also have to come with more principal or administrator autonomy to allow them to levy some sort of measures or ways to keep these instructors accountable as well. So for those reasons, with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Lowen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to make the same request as the Representative from Hilo. I believe I did turn in a green slip. I did ask earlier before session for the Chair of Education to do a Floor speech. I didn't know he was going to do it as articulately as he did on this bill. I'd like to ask that my green slip be removed and I'm going to vote with reservations. I want to thank the Education Chair for his words on this bill. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1675, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 37 ayes to 14 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Awana, Carroll, Cullen, Fale, Fukumoto, Hanohano, Ito, Johanson, Kawakami, Matsumoto, Say, Thielen and Yamane voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 844-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2008, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2008, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Matsumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of this measure with brief comments. This measure will provide appropriation for Future Farmers of America programs, which educate, support and encourage our youth to participate in agricultural activities. We all know that Hawaii is facing dependency on imported food, an aging farming population, and that we really need to invest in our youth.

"Last year we passed Act 204, which appropriated $75,000 to the Department of Education for FFA. And while I stand in strong support, it has been recently brought to my attention that almost all of the money has gone to administrative services instead of directly to the schools which need it the most. This critical program funding should be directed straight to the FFA programs to purchase much needed supplies, equipment and training courses to better provide the students with skills that they need to become the next farmers of Hawaii.

"So, as this bill moves on I hope the Senate will take this into consideration and appropriate a percentage of the funds to go directly to the school. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and I continue to support this measure."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support and may I have the words of the previous speaker adopted as my own. Mr. Speaker, this kind of also lends to my reservations with the prior measure that would make kindergarten mandatory, Mr. Speaker. There's certain things that you can experience only as a kid, that you should be doing as a kid, which include experiencing what it's like to grow things. To raise things with your own hands, to put your own body and to make something grow out of the earth with your own blood, sweat and tears, Mr. Speaker. That's something that unfortunately seems to be on the decline. Not only in the State of Hawaii, but the nation as a whole, Mr. Speaker.

"So, with strong support for this measure. This will help to open up the opportunity in whatever way possible for the children here in the State of Hawaii to have that experience. There's something that, as our founding fathers would say, that is very nurturing to the soul of a person who engages in agriculture, Mr. Speaker. Sometimes I find it amazing how youth today really think food just comes out of the warehouse, out of some place, Mr. Speaker, and not from the earth itself.

"The further we disconnect ourselves from agriculture, from growing things, from learning about the way life actually functions, Mr. Speaker, I think is, we suffer every day that that happens. This Future Farmers program allows us to help reconnect with who we are, especially given the uniqueness of Hawaii and the state and the history that we have. Not only as an island people, but the history with the plantations, Mr. Speaker. This Future Farmers program really does allow us to reconnect with our roots. And for that, Mr. Speaker, I'm strongly supportive of the measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2008, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 1:23 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1950, HD 2
H.B. No. 2018, HD 2
H.B. No. 2019, HD 2
H.B. No. 2581, HD 3
H.B. No. 1675, HD 1
H.B. No. 2008, HD 1

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, we are going to be taking a recess for lunch, 30 minutes. Thirty minute lunch."

At 1:23 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair

The House of Representatives reconvened at 2:16 o'clock p.m.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 845-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2109, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2109, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

"Mr. Speaker, in support with reservations. The after school program is a program that's run mostly in the lower grades in our elementary schools. This was once funded by the General Fund, but it hasn't been for multiple years. If people remember, in the very beginning it was $25 for those families to enroll their child in there and then lesser fees for a subsequent family member. When we started rolling back the funding on it, it was $55 a month. Currently, it stands at $85 a month, but that $85 pays for this program in entirety.

"My reservations with this is, if we're going to fund the A+ program, then lets fund the A+ program. Let's not start another program until we get a little bit more consistent with this. I'm just going to go with reservations for now. It still has a 2030 deadline, and I will wait to hear what the Senate does to it, and if it comes back to us then I'll have to make my mind up at that point in time. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Jordan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2109, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AFTERSCHOOL PROGRAMS FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL STUDENTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 846-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2257, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2257, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill that says we can put a salary cap of $250,000 on the superintendent of schools. Not a problem. However, it's not about the money, it's about the results. My problem is this, there are not any performance measures codified. The BOE has performance measurements, but they are kind of, they're not warm and fuzzy, but they're more processed as you get along. Do you communicate? Do you listen? There's one about, do you increase scores? It doesn't say how much you increase it, whether it's 0.5 percent or if it's 2 percent. The point is, there's not solid metrics in this.

"So it's not a matter of money, as I said earlier when it was Second Reading. We could pay a million dollars if we could get out of the 43rd in the nation educational system and where we are right now. So my point is, we should codify, and if there was an amendment to be put into this, it would be, let's put performance measures from this Body into this salary connection and not leave it to the BOE given that they may change officers or they may change members, and then it'll slowly fade away. So anybody who gets a quarter of a billion dollars, do their performance measures, very tight metrics and that they get the job done. We need results, we don't just need to give them more salary. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, also with reservations, but for different reasons. We have one of the largest school districts in the country. I forget exactly where it is, but it's easily in the top 20. There's a market for superintendents for schools of this size and I don't see any reason why we shouldn't let the market work and just remove the cap entirely. Yes, we're going to want results and that's why we would want to pay more money to get results, but this is an instance where the market's working fine and I don't think there's any reason to tamper with it. So my preference would be just to remove the cap entirely. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with reservations. May I have the words of the Representative from Hawaii Kai adopted as my own? And then short comments, Mr. Speaker. This is where I look to football for guidance, Mr. Speaker. I believe that if public servants were held to the same standard that we hold our football coaches, we would have a much better civil service, we would have a much better public service, Mr. Speaker. It's because it's all based on results.

"You bring somebody in, you give them a few years, two, three, maybe four years to run their thing, but if they don't deliver results, Mr. Speaker, you let them go and you bring in the next person. But you make sure you compensate them appropriately. You make sure that if they deliver, nobody has a problem in Alabama with paying Nick Saban what Nick Saban gets paid. And if we won a national championship this year, Mr. Speaker, at the University of Hawaii, I'm pretty sure if we paid our coach a sufficient amount, we wouldn't hear any complaining about that either.

"As long as results are delivered, Mr. Speaker, nobody has a problem with the compensation package. As long as the deliverables are tied to the compensation, Mr. Speaker. I think that's a very important reason, and that's why I really like the comments from the Representative from Hawaii Kai."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Kako'o 'ole. In opposition. I just heard the speakers before me, and I do agree there needs to be performance measures. But if we just look at the amount of prisoners we have in our prison system, it tells you that's the failure of education. Been there for 25 years, know the ropes there, and a lot of them, because they didn't finish high school, they didn't have any guidance, and yet we keep pouring more monies into education. And yet, especially for native Hawaiians, we're the highest in the prison.

"So, what really has this governmental educational system done for our society? The host culture is all locked up. The host culture is all in health disparities with the highest for heart attacks, diabetes, you can go on and on. Native Hawaiians are in the highest in everything. Whether it's the homeless, whether it's shelters, whether it's in the educational field. And yet, we still keep the same system of DOE. It really needs to be overhauled. And if we had a very good superintendent today, the population in the prison would go down. But it hasn't, Mr. Speaker. So really, what are we, as law makers, going to do to solve this problem? Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2257, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION SUPERINTENDENT'S SALARY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Carroll, Hanohano and Thielen voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 847-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2473, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Cabanilla and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2473, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 848-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2598, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2598, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Takayama rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I request a ruling on a possible conflict? My wife is a volunteer officer with Hawaii 3R's. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2598, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAII 3R'S," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 849-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2308, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2308, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Har rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Just brief comments. Mr. Speaker, it's my understanding that the position of the House was in light of our surplus that we were going to be prudent in any new government programs that we start up. And given the fact that this is an administration bill, I still have very serious reservations as to whether this is in fact duplicative of other services.

"Moreover, given the fact that this is money that would go to the Department of Health, a department that continuously has problems, always claims that they need more positions, always claims that they need more money. I have little faith that they will be able to execute this. Instead of starting a whole new program and allocating General Fund monies to this program, I would like to see that we are ensuring that we are not just once again growing government and looking to see what resources we currently have and where we could fit this program. For those reasons, I am in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Kako'o 'ole loa. In strong opposition and I would like to have the words of my colleague from Kapolei as if they were my own. I am in agreement with what she had just said, because we always want to grow government and yet on the other bill when I was talking about the Department of Education and we haven't come up with a better solution for it, and yet we want to do an Environmental Information Management Office, and we really haven't taken all of the inventory of our public lands and our resources here. So why do we keep doing this to ourselves? Why does government keep asking for positions that really are meaningless, unless we really see results, especially in their performance measures? Mahalo."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In support. This bill is important because what it does is formalize an existing program that the department's been running through special funds for some time. That program is specifically taking information that has been collected, aggregating the data and putting it into a format that is transparent, useful and understandable, both for the general public and for policymakers like us.

"Without this, we have no idea how to properly allocate resources, how to focus and target our efforts to alleviate some of the concerns that the department's responsible for handling. Again, this bill does not duplicate any of the effort that Sonny and OIMT has done over the last few years. It has been something that has been years in the works and merely formalizes an existing arrangement. Thank you very much."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Har and Hanohano be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Hanohano rose to respond, stating:

"Just a slight rebuttal. You know, we always say we want to create so many different new things, and yet we don't look at what we already have and try to reevaluate it and try to make it work better. But what's happening here is, as policymakers, we haven't been thinking about the wellness of the people, the wellness of the land and the wellness of the resources. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, I rise in support with slight reservations. I think it's really great to have a central place to go to get information, because clearly people will always have questions and don't know where to go to get that information. My concern is, like previous speakers, is you're growing this department and adding more people. We already have directors, we already have divisions. Maybe we need an information manager, but do they really have to create an office, another division, another office within Department of Health?

"But I think more importantly, at some point, I really hope that the Legislature looks at a Department of the Environment or the Department of Ecology or Environmental Services, because this department is getting huge and it may be time that we think about a better structure. Thank you very much."

Representative Awana rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to echo the sentiments of the good Representative from Waimea on the Big Island, as well as a measure that was introduced this year to request that separation. We have an EPA and a Department of Health and Human Services at the federal level. We also mirror that at the county level. But here on the state level it seems like the Department of Health oversees as an umbrella over environment. And as we look forward and as we go into the direction of seriously looking at the different environmental issues in our state, I think it would behoove us not to take a closer look at perhaps even separating the Department of Health and having a separate department for environment. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A second time, still in opposition. Just brief rebuttal. I just think that, again, if you clearly look at the bill itself, it's not a very long bill, and yet it proposes to start a whole new department. There were comments made about, well this is just memorializing what was in special funds. Well, now we're taking out money from the General Fund. And currently, from what I can understand, again the bill is not clearly written, but it states that it's going to be funding two positions, a manager of environmental information, as well as a senior information technology specialist.

"Now, if you look at the actual bill on page 2, it clearly states, 'The manager may hire staff, as may be necessary.' Which means they'll be coming back some more and asking for more positions and ergo more money.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I think something that really moved me was the testimony of the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber made it clear that perhaps the department should really clarify, how is the appropriation of this money and these positions and this new program, how is it going to be benefitting taxpayers? That has not been the question answered, and for those reasons I continue to stand in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, in support with some reservations. During Finance I wanted it clarified, because as you read the title, establishing an Environmental Information Management Office. So people in my district will probably think, 'Hooray, we finally got an office that's going to handle environmental issues.' Quite contrary. When I asked the Department of Health, what is this really about? And it's technically just gathering all the current reports, a water report, a soil report, a sampling report, and putting it all in one place, so it's easier for our constituents to get that data, when currently our constituents can get that data. It's available right now.

"As the good Representative from Kapolei had pointed out, we're building a new inter-department to house all this information, when it's already there. I really think our Department of Health should really focus on environmental issues and having that information available to the general public, which they currently don't.

"This is all just required reports that they're supposed to have. Like on water sampling, like on soil sampling, like if they did a testing of something. They already do that. This is just going to make is simpler for people to access. So do we as a government want to say, 'Okay, well access is easier for you now,' when you already clearly have it. Or do we want to build departments that are more efficient for people seeking better information on other environmental issues. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Har and Jordan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2308, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN ENVIRONMENTAL INFORMATION MANAGEMENT OFFICE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Fale, Hanohano and Har voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 850-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2312, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2312, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"In support. What this bill does is basically go back to our original intention way back when, when we raised the Barrel Tax from 5 cents $1.05. This is back, I believe, in 2010. But at that time, we couldn't put all the money into those programs and areas that we wanted to back then. And we basically took 60 percent of that monies into the General Fund for purposes of just balancing the budget over the biennium at that period in time.

"I stand in support of this bill because I hope that we can actually go back to what we tried to do back in 2010. And that was to raise the Barrel Tax from 5 cents to $1.05. We wanted to actually take most of that money and use it to develop renewable energies to support the renewable energy initiatives that had already begun several years before that but never had any funding stream. And it was a big leap of faith and confidence by the Legislature at that time and the Chair of the EEP Committee at that time, and the leadership at the time, to raise it from 5 cents to $1.05. Tremendous increase.

"Through those years, I can still hear my friend from Kailua crying out to me to restore some of that funding that is now going to the General Fund to those other program areas, like food security, energy security and energy innovations, and supporting the renewable energy programs and projects, both in the public and private sector.

"So I hope this bill can get through and we can do so. The current draft, I think, raises it from 5 cents to 15 cents. So that means that 10 cents has to come from somewhere, and I hope it can come from the General Fund, a portion of it. But that's where my reservations lie. I don't know where the 10 cents is going to come from. Is it going to come from the Food Security Fund? Is it going to come from the Energy Sustainability Fund? Is it going to come from the Energy Infrastructure Fund? I don't know. Because right now they get about 40 percent of the dollar, and 60 percent goes to the General Fund.

"But again, Mr. Speaker, I support the proposal to increase the Environmental Response Fund. I think it's necessary given what's happened over the last several months and what remains to be seen regarding the spill in Honolulu Harbor. So I think this is a good bill, and I think I need to stand up at times and say good things about good bills moving through. Thank you. Support with reservations. My reservations, Mr. Speaker, stem from the fact that at the end of the day, the choice has to be made on where is that 10 cents going to come from. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Fale's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations regarding HB 2292, HD 1, a measure that reimburses the Department of Human Services for a lack of funding from the federal government, for services and fees associated with the federal Hawaii Health Connector website roll-out.

"Mr. Speaker, the Star Advertiser reported that a $200 million federal grant was used by the State of Hawaii to develop the Hawaii Health Connector website. How were these federal dollars spent? Why was the website delayed and why is it still not working properly?

"In addition, Mr. Speaker, why are the people of Hawaii now being asked to pay an additional $6 million dollars, to continue to fund the Hawaii Health Connector? It appears that this bill is saying that the entire $200 million has been spent and now the State of Hawaii needs to spend an additional $6 million, to continue to fund this federal program.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, my reservations are also based on the fact that when the State of Hawaii is finally reimbursed for the $6 million, it is not clear where the money will be received. Will this money go back to the State of Hawaii General Fund? Will this money go back to the Department of Human Services? This is not stated in the bill.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations regarding HB 2292, HD 1."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2292, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION TO THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES FOR THE MED-QUEST DIVISION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, In 2004 the management and control of the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve was transferred from the Navy to the State of Hawaii, with the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve Commission as the state agency designated to oversee the use and restoration of the reserve. Since that time the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve Commission has developed and employed innovative restoration projects that work in the extremely harsh conditions of Kaho'olawe. These projects have served as the foundation for the future restoration of the island.

"In 2013, a state audit of the Kaho'olawe Rehabilitation Trust Fund reported two key findings. The first finding was that the trust fund will be depleted by 2016, and the second finding was that the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve Commission lacks a comprehensive and quantifiable restoration plan with performance measures to gauge whether objectives are being met.

"Taking those two key findings into account, the state needs to take action to reinvigorate the Kaho'olawe Trust Fund in order for the Kaho'olawe Island Reserve Commission to continue and to improve their work on the island of Kaho'olawe.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and, in the spirit of Aloha 'Āina, to vote yes on HB 2101. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Kako'o loa. In strong support. 'O kēia pila e kako'o ka hana ana e pili ana 'o Kanaloa a me ka ho'okala ia mai ke ke'ena kope 'auhau. This bill helps the Kahoolawe Island Reserve to do its work and funding from the conveyance taxes. Mahalo."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 2101, HD 1, a measure that relates to the future funding of the Kaho'olawe Rehabilitation Trust Fund, a fund that was established by the federal government in 1994 to clean up unexploded ordinance and restore the Island of Kaho'olawe.

"Mr. Speaker, the health and wellbeing of the Island of Kaho'olawe is important to the Hawaiian people and people of Hawaii. The restoration of the Island of Kaho'olawe also has symbolic significance. If we can help to repair and restore the Island of Kaho'olawe, we as policymakers can also commit to helping and restoring the Hawaiian community.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support regarding HB 2101, HD 1."

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support and let me state my reasons why. We were here during the year 1977 when the Protect Kahoolawe Ohana made a presentation on the Speaker's rostrum. I believe the senior attorney here was here, because we had to get the approval from the Speaker of the House along with the Majority Leader, who at that time was Majority Leader Henry Peters.

"But speaking on behalf of the Protect Kahoolawe Ohana was a young man that graduated from St. Louis High School who had passed away during the period of time where there was a natural disaster, meaning a storm. And that was Mr. George Hill, one of the best falsetto singers that I've ever heard and met.

"But I was very much given the privilege as a young man, a freshmen, to be the Chair of the Committee on Culture and the Arts. And through the wisdom of Speaker James Wakatsuki and Majority Leader Peters, they gave me the opportunity of heading a committee made up of members from Kauai, which was Richard Kawakami, from Maui, that was Richard Caldito Jr., on the Big Island it was Mr. Minoru Inaba from Kona, and from Oahu, for the Republican Caucus, Representative Kinau Kamalii. Boyd Kamalii, Henry Peters, myself and two others.

"It took us 29 years to get the return of Kahoolawe, thanks to the deceased and famous senior Senator Dan Inouye. But more importantly, I would hope that the Senate would consider this measure as a nexus of continuing the funds that Senator Inouye got from the Department of Defense, Navy expenses in the cleanup and the reclamation of the island. I think some of you have visited the island, which is a very beautiful island, which leads us to the South Pacific, the channel.

"But more importantly, Members of the House, the conveyance tax would be one area of where we could tap the funds, because in 2015 the federal funds will be expiring, meaning that they won't have a trust fund available for them to operate and maintain and perverse an island that has a lot of historical, cultural history. But more importantly for me as my years here, the opportunity of meeting people like Walter Ritte, Dr. Emmett Aluli, Professor Davianna McGregor, Colonel Scott Stone, who's now at the Kahala Nui, and others who played a major role in the return of Kahoolawe, the island that we call the Red Island because of its soil.

"And for those of you who weren't even born, I would say the X and Y and Millennial generation, it was a time where we had a lot of discussion of the renaissance of our Hawaiian community. And for me, this symbolizes the rebirth of the Hawaiian culture. This is a symbol of coming together. And if we all put our forces together as one Body, as one community, and the people of the State of Hawaii, we can achieve these goals. And thanks to all of you who are here today listening to what I'm saying, even though you may not think about it, but these issues were at the forefront that I would say to all of you galvanized the Hawaiian community to what we have today, also when the creation of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs and other programs that we have.

"So in closing, to my counterparts in the other Chamber, please consider this measure very seriously in providing the resources in the restoration and the cleanup of Kahoolawe and the preservation of an island so dear to the Hawaiian community. Thank you very much."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to enter some strong support on this measure. Here we are in 2014 and those of us who were involved back then with the PKO, Protect Kahoolawe Ohana, would never imagine we would be here today talking about finding a revenue source to continue the work that Senator Daniel K. Inouye began many years ago, once we returned the island to the State of Hawaii to be caretakers for all of Hawaii's people. I just hope that we can do this. This is important. And given the experiences of recent days and weeks, I think this is so important for our host culture.

"I remember back then at the University of Hawaii getting involved in some of the protests we had at Hawaii Hall, Bachman Hall, Navy Exchange, going down to Maui, Makena, Big Beach, the Rim Pac exercises. I remember playing hooky from school and getting found out because there were TV cameras back then and, a little bit delayed, Mr. Speaker, but my mom and dad find me not in class but on protest on Makena, on Maui. But, those were the days, yeah? And I remember the red shirts back then with the PKO emblem on it.

"I think my friend from the Windward side too will remember those days of standing out there with people from across the island chain, all walks and denominations and colors and creeds, just believing that we needed to go and stop the desecration of one of our islands in our chain of islands. To see it culminate where we are today, I think this is the next step maybe for this generation. I think that's what the speaker alluded to. Maybe for the X and the Y and Millennials, this is the next step, to continue the work that was started many, many years ago with the kupuna, Uncle Mitchell and Uncle Charlie, and the other folks. So I just wanted to make these comments. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in strong support of the measure. Mr. Speaker, there are a few names that haven't been mentioned and I would like to mention them today, because we all owe a deep debt of gratitude to the late Senator Spark Matsunaga.

"Let me go back to the early days, when I was fortunate enough to be one of the attorneys representing the Protect Kahoolawe Ohana. We went into federal court before visiting Judge William Schwarzer. And Judge Schwarzer granted our motion to let the Ohana go onto the island again for the first time in I don't know how many years, to be able to go on and participate in the archeological survey. So we went out in small boats. The wonderful people of Maui took us out to the island and we had our gear in trash bags, ukana. And we swam ashore in the shark infested waters, but we swam rather quickly and got ashore and set foot on the island again, and began to do the archeological work that was so important.

"At that point, the Navy wanted to put a range control tower up on Moa'ula, which was one of the sacred areas on Kahoolawe. And the person that came to our defense to help us was Senator Spark Matsunaga. Without his strong leadership in Washington and working for us to prevent that range control tower, that area would have been desecrated.

"So, I then go back over to the Capitol at that point, and there was a young Representative fresh out of law school that was here in this Chamber, the former Representative John Waihee. The very first thing he did as a legislator was put in a measure urging that the entire District of Kahoolawe be placed on the National Register of Historic Places. And he was successful in getting that measure passed, and we were all together successful in getting it placed on the National Register of Historic Places, which gave it the sort of uncomfortable distinction of being our only National Register bombing site.

"So we then fast forward to some other people, and Representative Pat Saiki worked very hard in Congress and with the President to stop the bombing of the island. And she was successful in that.

"I also think that we should stop and think about young Kimo Mitchell, Uncle Harry Mitchell's son, who was with George Helm when they both disappeared in the waters off of the island when they were trying to go ahead and further the restoration of Kahoolawe, the return of the island to the people of Hawaii.

"So, those names are so important in the history. Senator Spark Matsunaga, who came to our defense and preserved the island's integrity, Representative John Waihee, with his very first legislative effort successful, Kimo Mitchell, George Helm, and I'm sure there are others that should be mentioned. But the island is so important. It became the birthplace of the Hawaiian Renaissance. And I think of the many names, Dr. Emmett Aluli, who is just a true leader, a true leader and someone that has done so much, not just for the island but for the people of Hawaii. So, thank you for letting me say those words in support."

The Chair addressed Representative Thielen, stating:

"Representative, if it would be your desire, feel free to submit those names that you may have missed to the Journal."

Representative Thielen rose, stating:

"Thank you."

Representative Thielen submitted the following:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for letting me add more names to the list of the people who helped in the early days of the struggle to stop the bombing of Kaho'olawe and return the Island to the people of Hawaii.

"In addition to Dr. Emmett Aluli, who was one of the key leaders in the movement, there was Leslie Kululoilo and Uncle Harry Mitchell from Maui, Haunani Trask and Bo Kahui from Oahu, Sol Kaho'ohalahala from Lanai, Walter Ritte and Richard Sawyer from Molokai.

"The team of pro bono attorneys was led by Boyce Brown and included myself, Ron Albu, Michael Town and Joel August. The latter two became state judges. Mention should be made of the federal government's attorney, Roger Wiegley, who was professional and courteous through the years as he represented his government clients.

"In addition to Senator Spark Matsunaga, who helped the Protect Kaho'olawe 'Ohana in its efforts to regain control of the Island, there was the young State Representative John Waihee who championed placing Kaho'olawe on the National Register of Historic Places.

"Two archeologists assisted in documenting the importance of Kaho'olawe, and were Dr. Patrick Kirsch and Dr. Rob Hommon. Local scientists who went to the Island with us included Dr. Wayne Gagne, Dr. Steve Montgomery and others from Bishop Museum.

"Mr. Speaker, it has been 35 years since the first access to the Island by small boats, the swim ashore pulling ukana and the inspiring feeling when stepping onto the soil of Kaho'olawe. I respectfully apologize for not remembering and including all the names of the people who were part of this historic movement."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank all three of the former, I guess you would call them, legislative kūpuna. It shows that a collective memory of the older people does make sense and it gives a real history. And I would encourage the Speaker Emeritus to speak up more, particularly for the young people to know what actually has taken place. So, one, we don't have to imagine reinventing the wheel, but we know what wheels have been invented.

"Mr. Speaker, the former speaker from Kailua said that we've left out a name. We left out President Bush. He was the one, Senior President Bush, 41, who actually ordered the stopping of the bombing. Which then with Senator Inouye and Pat Saiki, really went shoulder to shoulder and leveraged that. So those two are certainly deserving of credit.

"But the real thing is that now Kahoolawe is the first sovereign Hawaiian land mass. That is the significance for what's coming down to the future. That is something that is going to be historical, not only because of what we've said, but what's going to be coming when Hawaiian sovereignty actually arrives. So, it's a historical day. This is a good bill. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to reiterate the great lack of debate on this issue and the outpouring of support, bipartisan. It's very rare in this Body that we see a spending matter that has gained support of both parties. My father was very involved in the PKO movement, I still have the t-shirts. He was also a Republican. So, I think he'd be very proud of what's going on tonight.

"I'd also like to urge, I think the Representative from Wahiawa is correct that the millennial generation will need to learn from the kupuna about what has been done and what we can do to further this movement, especially with the lack of funding that we'll be seeing from the federal government. The state really needs to take responsibility. I know in upcoming years the Kahoolawe Ohana are going to move to educate the public more, do more community outreach for our people and for visitors alike. So, they're going to have some expansion opportunities on Maui and I really ask, in the spirit of this conversation, that this Body support those upcoming initiatives. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. First, I'd like to thank the good Representative from Hana who represents this island, Kahoolawe, as well, for introducing this measure. She reminds us that as a state institution, as legislators of this particular state, we have an obligation to protect public trust lands. Mr. Speaker, this is one of those lands. When you look at this trust fund, the Rehabilitation Trust Fund for Kahoolawe, it's running out of money. Probably within a year and half they won't have enough money for operations on the island.

"How are we supposed to support traditional and cultural practices? How are we to support healing going forward without us as a Legislative Body making that commitment to make sure that trust fund has monies for its operation of Kahoolawe? I think everybody should be cognizant of what our first and foremost obligation here is. And I know this might hurt pockets, but we must remind ourselves what our first obligation is to the host culture.

"I don't want to talk about how that island got to the position it's in. But people before us fought to get that returned back to the native culture. We still have many more fights to do on many other lands, and as we move forward maybe this trust fund will be open for other trust lands that will be coming back to us on their rehabilitation. Because again, at the end of the day, our job is to protect the public trust lands. And this is one of them, and I really want to thank the introducer of this measure. Mahalo."

Representative Ing rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2101, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE KAHOʻOLAWE ISLAND RESERVE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Nakashima being excused.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 861-14) recommending that H.B. No. 2286, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2286, HD 3 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Strong reservations. Kauai is experiencing a crisis in the availability of affordable and workforce housing. The Kauai Housing Agency has been working diligently and aggressively to drive projects. They go about this by leveraging resources and applying their affordable housing policy where and when applicable.

"By allowing in essence DHHL to commandeer their affordable housing policy and earn affordable housing credits for uncompleted housing units and units with unverified housing incomes, contradicts Kauai's affordable housing policy, Ordinance 860. It is my hope that the Kauai County Housing Agency can enter into an agreement with DHHL that would address these concerns independently for Kauai. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hashem rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd just like to note that DHHL is not doing any housing on Kauai. So, this really doesn't affect Kauai. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2286, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AFFORDABLE HOUSING ON HAWAIIAN HOME LANDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Nakashima being excused.

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I'd just like to include the comment by the good Representative from Puna and I ask that I be allowed to include written comments," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. As stated in HB 2562, HD 1, kūpuna in the Waianae Coast have been working since the 1960s for what they had called a 'full-fledged' Hawaiian Immersion school in Nanakuli. In their attempts to bring about the importance of the Hawaiian Language and the impact of culture, identity and sense of place, the Department of Education shared this concept with other communities. Over time, the concept of an immersion school was taken from Nanakuli, and other areas on Oahu and the neighbor islands were given opportunities to be granted an immersion school.

"This measure is simply the first step at a 50 year journey for our dedicated ancestors, many who have since passed and some who are still alive. This bill will locate potential sites for a 'full-fledged' K-12 Hawaiian Language Immersion school. I would like to reiterate the words of the good Representative from Puna – E ola mau ka 'ōlelo makuahine.

"In closing, I would like to also thank both Chairs of Ocean, Marine Resources and Hawaiian Affairs, and Finance. I would also like to thank the kūpuna who continue to keep this issue on the front burner. It is with their insight that someday their dream will become a reality. For these reasons, I rise in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support, wishing to insert comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of HB 2562 HD 1, which establishes a task force within the Department of Education to locate potential properties, with a preference for a location in Nanakuli, on which to establish a Hawaiian language immersion school for the purpose of educating students from kindergarten to grade 12.

"Nānākuli's ahupua'a has been home to the highest concentration of native Hawaiians in the world for over 50 years. Furthermore, children from the Wai'anae coast constitute a significant portion of the student population at Hawaiian language immersion schools in other areas of the state. While a Hawaiian language immersion program currently exists in Nānākuli, it only goes as far as grade six and is insufficient to meet the needs of the community. In fact, there is currently no Hawaiian language immersion programs available to serve students in grades 7-12 in Nānākuli or along the Wai'anae coast.

"Consequently, parents seeking to continue their children's education in a Hawaiian language immersion program must transfer their children to one of three schools in other areas of Oahu. These three programs are the only Hawaiian language immersion programs serving students in grades 7-12 on the island. The students in the areas of Wai'anae and Nānākuli deserve an accessible, sufficiently equipped facility for a Hawaiian language immersion program in order to continue to meet their educational needs and grow intellectually.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and to vote in support of HB 2562. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Strong support. Permission to enter comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"HB 2562 serves to fill a void in our state's Hawaiian Language Immersion Program. Currently, the program is unable to serve 7-12 grade students in Nanakuli and along the Wai'anae coast. This abrupt end is detrimental to the youth currently in the program. By not extending the immersion program to the higher grade levels, it abandons the students that started from a young age. It is a disservice to these keiki who are forced to suddenly have to change gears and lose skills they had worked so hard for in previous years.

"The Hawaiian Immersion Program is for the purpose of the recovery and preservation of the iconic language of Hawaii. The Hawaiian Language is one of the great anchors of Hawaiian culture remaining in the islands. Language, Mr. Speaker, is a defining trait of a culture, and having the Hawaiian language disappear during our lifetime would be entirely unacceptable. As Hawaiian is one of the official languages of the state, the Legislature needs to put its support behind continuing this program. The Waianae Coast has the largest population of Hawaiians in the state and having an immersion school would be well served to support the Hawaiian community. By having an immersion school located there, the Legislature can continue the investment in the Hawaiian language and in our island youth."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. I ask that the record reflect the words of the Representative from Puna as my very own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"The natural, historic, and cultural resources of Hawaii are a great legacy and irreplaceable treasures. This bill leads to investments in preserving and enhancing these resources, especially in historic places which helps to keep Hawaii's stories alive for present and future generations."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my reservations. My reservations stem from the fact that this bill affects the Special Land and Development Fund, which falls under the purview of the Department of Land and Natural Resources. Accordingly, this bill should have gone to the Committee on Water & Land. I note that it did not, it only went to Tourism and Finance. For those reasons, I stand with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

I have had the pleasure of being part of a similar project that exists between Laie and Kahuku, and it has been a great advantage to the health and wellbeing of that community. I believe this measure will go a long way in providing those same benefits for that area. For those reasons, I'm in strong support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

I would like to thank the Transportation Chair for his insight in looking beyond this measure which originally focused on the Waianae Coast and now looks at the surrounding areas of the Leeward Coast and Central Oahu as well as those who have to travel to Honolulu on a daily basis from the North Shore. Reports from the Oahu Metropolitan Planning Organization states that travel times will double and triple in these areas.

"This new and improved measure looks into streamlining commuters so that the time they spend on the road lessens and the quality time spent with families and loved ones increases. I would also like to thank the Chair of the Finance Committee for hearing this bill and ask that serious consideration be taken to provide adequate funding for this bill as it moves forward. For these reasons, I rise in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. Mr. Speaker, this is an ideal tax credit. It helps manufacturing. Heretofore, manufacturing has either been killed off, died, or otherwise missing in the labor force or the makeup of our economy. Mr. Speaker, it used to be where if you had a strong back and a strong arm, you had a job. But a lot of these jobs have either ceased to exist or have been supplied and put overseas.

"The difficult thing is that to have manufacturing with such a small market like Hawaii, you need to incentivize it. And this bill basically incentivizes manufacturing by giving some tax breaks. It gives a chance for those who otherwise, I would say, probably only at the most have an assembly line here rather than manufacturing something from the beginning. In terms of an export, basically tourism is our biggest export. But this is specifically for manufacturing the things that we haven't done, this will give the incentive to do.

"Lastly, Mr. Speaker, I hope my good friend from Manoa will see this as one of the best examples to back a tax credit, if he knows any of them. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. You know, some political parties believe in the free economy and letting business take care of themselves, and others believe that government should support every single business and pick the winners. I don't think government should."

The Chair addressed Representative Choy, stating:

"With respect. With respect. Colorblind as far as party lines. Let's keep it clean."

Representative Choy continued, stating:

"I keep forgetting what party my good friend from Hawaii Kai is in. But, sometimes when government picks winners like high technology, even agriculture, or even this manufacturing, government does not have a good record on picking winners. So with that, I'll stand in reservations. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, brief comments. In a state where we need a balanced budget, whenever we give an income tax credit, we either need to cut a program or raise taxes. So that essentially has the same effect as government spending. When we're discussing manufacturing and bringing it back to Hawaii, it seems like something I would read in the Hawaii House of Representatives Journal from 1950s or 1940s.

"This is a dying industry, not because of taxes, not because of old regulation, but because of technology and automation. Even in the outsource nations, if you go to these factories, it's mostly robots going around. So that's not going to provide a lot of jobs. The retailer, Amazon.com, makes billions every year, of course. They only hire 60,000 employees. Now, if that were mom and pa shops, it would be more like 2 million employees.

"So, that's manufacturing, that's the future of this industry. Most economists agree that when you want to incentivize businesses, or infant industries, or as the good Representative from Hawaii Kai calls it, 'zygotes.' But for failing industries, supporting those or giving lifelines via subsidies, which essentially that's what this tax credit is, goes against most free market economist theory. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support, brief comment. When a Marine picks on my Army battle buddy, I call in the troops over here, call in the backup, Mr. Speaker. And I have to say that someone that I very much respect in the political arena said, 'this is what government does. If something moves, they regulate it, and if it still moves they tax it, and when it stops moving they subsidize it.' Mr. Speaker, this is one of those things.

"When an industry has been beat into the ground because of, in essence, over taxation and over regulation, Mr. Speaker, we kind of get remorseful in the public sector and we try and do what we can to get somebody back up on their feet. And this is an effort, Mr. Speaker, to broaden, once again, we go back to issues that we've talked about before as far as diversifying the economy of the State of Hawaii, which is critical to the health and wellbeing of this great state. This is an effort, Mr. Speaker, that helps do that. And with that, Mr. Speaker, I say, 'Go Army'."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"I have reservations but support the intent of this measure – which is to spur economic growth in the manufacturing sector for our unique island economy. However, as so many policy makers and think tanks have recognized, tax credits, especially when provided liberally with few specifications or limits, often turn into fiscal disasters. Government representatives should not be picking which businesses will be the economic winners. It really is better to let the market operate without government interference as much as possible.

"The testimony of the Department of Taxation, DBEDT, and the Tax Foundation all identify the same kinds of problems with this bill; which is really lacking the kind of detail or provisions for fiscal control that should be required of any tax credit. If this bill were to become law, it will create significant risks to our budgeting process and cost us an unknowable amount.

"You know, we are so often in a rush here at the Legislature to do something to help business, but when we rush, when we fail to think clearly and think ahead, we push through incomplete laws that expose our budget to unexpected extremes and put all taxpayers at risk. Simply said, we will be subsidizing businesses that don't need help; we really don't know what we will get in exchange for the tax credit; the definition of manufacturing is overly broad and vague; and we don't even know what the maximum cost to us will be.

"Annual legislation to hand out tax credits to the business interests of the day is tempting for legislators – we all want to support a strong economy and a pro-business environment. The devil is in the details. There are few details in this bill, and in its current form, there is no question in my mind that if this bill were law, the state would face tremendous budgetary challenges and we will not get the economic results we are after. In addition, when selecting one type of business over another to receive tax credits, we are telling the excluded businesses that they are not as important, and we put them at a competitive disadvantage. Tax credits are really not business friendly because they exclude almost all businesses – only a few select groups can qualify for the tax credit."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Makemake au mahalo la luna Manoa. Mai kona i pi hau ka ikaika. Mau ke ea nua au lau tax credits hulo maika'i loa. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Choy be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. Well, as everybody knows in this Chamber, I'm not adverse to tax credits, having authored a few of my own. But again, manufacturing, Mr. Speaker, to have manufacturing you need access to raw materials, Mr. Speaker. Raw materials such as steel, magnesium, cobalt, argon, zion, all the things you can't find in the State of Hawaii, but elsewhere.

"So, this is something actually that was looked at by the Cayetano administration. How do you build a manufacturing base in Hawaii? And those logistical realities were what basically dissuaded the administration at that time from pursuing an aggressive building of the manufacturing sector. But one thing that hopefully, as this bill moves onto the next Chamber people could look at, is what they call recombinant manufacturing, or manufacturing new items based on other items that are already in existence.

"By getting manufactured goods from Asia and reassembling them into other goods in Hawaii, we provide an economic incentivization for this activity, and create a gateway of business opportunity for Asian countries, which normally have tariff restrictions on these goods coming into the country. Thank you very much."

Representative Yamashita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. Although I agree with my colleague from Manoa, that government isn't very good at selecting winners, this tax credit has some good things in it. I have always had problems with economic tax credits that are perpetual, but this one has a sunset, this one has a cap, and this one sets a specific purpose. So, with those reasons and several others, in support. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just want to ask that the words from the Representative from Upcountry Maui be inserted into the Journal as if they were my own. And I'd like to thank the fine introducers that introduced this bill. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Second time. I just wanted to adopt the words of the Representative from Lahaina as my very own. Also to add that, manufacturing can work through assembly if you get raw materials from different places, but that will require a lot of shipping goods to Hawaii, which is very cost prohibitive. Thank you."

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Let me first say this. I want to compliment the sponsor of the measure because that particular individual has the insight. America, Hawaii, is losing that edge in manufacturing. Globally, everything that you consider today that you have, has been imported from some foreign country. All of our steel is imported from a foreign country.

"This is just a start as far as having this debate on the Floor of the House in regards to, can Hawaii manufacture things? Thirty-eight years ago, 40 years ago, there was a lot of manufacturing done here in the State of Hawaii. Do you folks know where it occurred? It occurred in our foreign trade zones and subzones that we have today. The manufacturing at the foreign trade zones was there primarily because our local companies here did not have to pay the duty or tariff on imported resources that we needed to manufacture those goods.

"This particular measure is fantastic because for those of you who visited Japan with the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism, they did a fantastic job in promoting, and marketing, and advertising our garment industry. It doesn't have to be assembly line, Members of the House. It could be a mom and pop, where I shared with the Representative from Upcountry Maui, that farming family that's doing the goat cheese. That family that does that purple flower, I don't know what you call it. Those are being produced and manufactured here in the State of Hawaii and being exported.

"We have to be aggressive in looking at Hawaii as being not an importer of all goods, but an exporter, to balance the trade and money that comes into the State of Hawaii. That's Economics 100. We export more of our capital out of state in the acquisition of fossil fuel, food, and what we have here today, what we eat. What are we exporting to balance that trade? Simple.

"The Representative from Waikiki has a big job ahead of him. Why? In the next two to three years, and it has already occurred, that tourism has plateaued. So it's a flat market for the next two to three years.

"Secondly, the other economic driver of the State of Hawaii, defense spending, the military. I don't know what will happen, but I am very much concerned, Mr. Speaker, because of the cuts that are occurring in the branch of the Army.

"As these particular drivers of our economy plateau or just flatten out, there will be no growth in our gross state product. The past five governors have looked at all ways of diversifying the economy. And for me, the challenge to today for the millennial generation, is this. How can you now have a vision, have a dream, of forecasting what you'd like to see in the diversification of this state that we all dearly love? Diversification, anybody can say that. But at the end of the day, what would you really like to have?

"Some of the projects that I have seen that have gone on the wayside, which I thought would be very beneficial, was the regional biohazard lab. Nobody wanted it in Pearl City, nobody wanted it in Manoa, nobody wanted it here and there. But that particular laboratory would have been a great asset in the development with working with the Center for Disease Control."

Representative Belatti rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say continued, stating:

"Thank you very much. It would give us the opportunity of being a part of the Center for Disease Control, and it would be a part of the National Institute for Health. That particular project we lost. High paying jobs that here on the Floor of the House we all talk about in bringing our classmates, our neighbors' grandchildren back to the State of Hawaii in jobs that they would be paid the highest.

"Manufacturing, Members, gives us a slight chance of sustainability and survivability in this global market. And for all of you, you folks have done a tremendous job in looking at all the ways in alternative energy in lowering the cost to our general public at large. But it does take time, it's not going to be overnight.

"So, manufacturing, Members, I say to all of you, should be a part of the overall equation, because that's where you'll get the export of goods and the monies coming back into the state, to be circulated in the state. So that's why for the sponsor, I want to congratulate you. It is changing the thinking values of what we have today, that we're not giving up on manufacturing. But we should continue on to look at ways that our younger generation will be the scientists and the explorers of the future in sustainability and survivability in this global market. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose to respond, stating:

"Mahalo ho'omalu 'ōlelo. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to thank all the speakers that have spoken. I'm still in kanalua, however, I'd like to just share a few of the manufacturing things that we have done in Puna. Being from a strong Hawaiian ancestral family, my grandparents have already had manufacturing things. They did the pulu, the fern for pillows, and that was shipped to the mainland. We also did the 'awa that was shipped to Germany because 'awa is used in our aspirins today. We also did the goat skins that was sent to California for different purposes. We also had lau hala goods. We also had an 'ōhi'a logging company in Puna, in Pahoa.

"So it's not like manufacturing is an old thing here. We just have to revive it and we have to look at all of the resources that we do have in our communities. I'm really proud to be from Puna, because we have a lot of citrus fruits. We have papayas, we are the state capital of papaya. We have a lot of flowers, we have a lot of anthuriums, orchids, foliage. And these are all exported to the mainland.

"But however, because we haven't been keeping up with the invasive species, which have been let through to agriculture gateways, now we suffer some of these setbacks. But however, in my area in Puna, we are very proud to have produced a lot of things and we are a sustainable community. Mahalo."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Say be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and may I request permission to enter written comments in to the Journal? Thank you."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. This bill establishes the Agribusiness Land and Facilities special fund within the Agricultural Development Corporation (ADC) with the intent of supporting food sustainability and self-sufficiency. This bill also authorizes the ADC to subdivide agricultural lands and requires establishment of an agriculture subdivision code, and authorizes ADC to issue revenue bonds to acquire certain agricultural lands.

"As the most geographically isolated state in the country, Hawaii imports approximately 92 percent of its food. With this in mind, we need to look for ways to increase local food production. By authorizing this fund to the Agribusiness Development Corporation, we will be able to maintain the operation and management of Ag lands that have been identified as supportive of the agricultural conditions necessary for production.

"Agriculture has always had a special place in the history of the Hawaiian Islands and continues to be an important industry, generating $2.9 billion to the state's annual economy and directly and indirectly providing 42,000 jobs. We need to do all we can to support it.

"It is for these reasons that I introduced legislation both last year and this year to achieve these specific ends. I would like to applaud the Chair of the Agriculture Committee as well as the Local Food Caucus for recognizing the inherent potential in this concept and championing the ideas as if it were their own.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 2011, HD 1."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2011, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL LANDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Creagan being excused.

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my reservations. And as you can tell, yes, I have some serious reservations on us creating new tax credits. We need to mind our p's and q's with our pennies and nickels. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"I have reservations. What is the purpose of giving tax credits to promote the building of more hotels? Don't we need houses more than hotels? The tourist industry is critical to our economy, of course. Thank goodness we have so many great hotels and different options for people to stay when they come visit. Do we need more hotels because there is not enough?

"I recall just a few short years ago the oversupply of hotel rooms. The industry was suffering, firing workers, and going bankrupt because tourists couldn't afford to travel. The hotel industry is subject to the ebb and flow of the tourist industry; we will always have highs and lows. In the low period, hotels will struggle to fill their rooms. If we build more hotels, there will be more rooms empty when the tourist economy is struggling (i.e., anytime oil prices go up).

"In addition, the hotel industry is not fulfilling the promises made to the people of Hawaii — hotels were going to create jobs for local people. That concept lasted a few years, maybe a few decades, but we all now know that the money in the hotel industry is being maximized by squeezing out the workers. We see the workers now coming to us, asking us, the Legislature, why there are no more jobs in the hotel industry, especially when there are plenty of hotels. We now see that to maximize profits, hotels are paying fewer workers, they are being fired or never even hired. So let me ask again, what is the purpose of giving tax credits to promote the building of more hotels?"

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lowen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. To rebut some of the concerns, permission to insert written comments. Mr. Speaker, about a 175,000 jobs are directly or indirectly related to tourism, and it's about 20 percent of our economy.

"As Speaker Emeritus just mentioned, the tourism numbers are about to plateau for a few years. And one of the reasons to help incentivize people from around the world to come to Oahu and then visit the neighbor islands is what a lot of hotel managers and operators say is the normal path there. Coming to Oahu first as a first time visitor, then learning of the neighbor islands, is to let's say resuscitate Waikiki. And in order to do that, we need to create more rooms, especially rooms in the $150 a night range to entice those new visitors. And that is in part why I stand in favor of these measures. Thank you."

Representative Brower's written remarks are as follows:

"Tourism is 20 percent of our economy. The purpose of this bill is to invigorate Hawaii's stagnant hotel construction industry. The number of visitors coming to Hawaii has plateaued, largely due to the lack of modern facilities and accommodations. If Hawaii is to maintain its status as one of the world's premier visitor destinations, improvements must be made. Providing a financial incentive to the industry in the form of a tax credit is one way of ensuring that the necessary improvements will be made."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I speak very strongly in favor of this measure. It should be mentioned that yes, hotel is flat now and it's basically because they don't have enough rooms. They right now need about 400 rooms a year for the next eight years or so. Right now, a square footage to put up a hotel is about $400 a square foot, to put up a hotel. So it's almost impossible to build that type of hotel, which will result in a minimum of $400 a day rental.

"A credit like this would assist in bringing the cost down to possibly around $200 a day and make it marketable. But now, unless we do something to provide additional rooms for the hotels or condo hotels, for that matter, we are going to continue to be flat. Let's not delude ourselves, hotel is the major industry, it's the driver that we have that provides the money for the schools, social services and whatever we need. So we cannot look at this as a big bad bugaboo who's too big. Look at it as the one that provides the jobs and the services, health, welfare, et cetera. So please, support this measure. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support, Mr. Speaker. In the spirit of bipartisanship, being that there were so many reservations, I feel compelled to say a couple of things. One is from the point of view of the international visitor. I've had visitors, friends, from different parts of Asia, in particular China and Southeast Asia, who very diplomatically but very frankly said, 'Waikiki is seedy, it's old, it's not modern, it doesn't compare to what's going on in Asia.'

"Mr. Speaker, we have to wake up, this is a very competitive industry. It's the biggest industry in the world. The hospitality industry is bigger than oil, bigger than all the other stuff. But it's very competitive, and that's where taxes, prices and hotels and the availability of hotels and the quality of hotels. When somebody tells you it's seedy, and I'm wearing an APEC pin right here. We did some face-lifting, we did some shining, we did some airport corridors, we did a few things. But then we kind of kicked back and relaxed. We can't kick back and relax.

"When's the last time we built a new hotel? Who can remember when was the last time we built a new hotel? Because there hasn't been the incentive to do that, there hasn't been the land, and Disney is a resort, not a hotel, per se.

"So, Mr. Speaker, these kinds of incentives, and which by the way, you compare incentives for investment in marketing and infrastructure to Singapore, we are pikers compared to what's going on in the rest of the world. We are pikers. The difficulty is, we don't have the vision long enough and far enough to see that we've got to have an infrastructure. You're going to have 8 million visitors, you've got to be able to accommodate them in competitive perspectives from other destinations. And this is the way that I think Mike McCartney and the HTA and the others are thinking, that there's a lot of different places that people can choose to go to.

"So for new hotels, refurbishment of hotels and making our industry viable and vibrant, basically this whole page was about that, Mr. Speaker. So lest we forget that there's a real competitive world out there, and people don't have to come to Hawaii, they don't have to come to America. We should not just rely on our good looks, we've got to rely on our brains, and our brain says we've got to build new hotels and renovate those we have. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. The eloquence of the Representative from Hawaii Kai astounds me. So, therefore I must have his remarks be inserted as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Yamashita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just a quick comment. Maybe going forward, what we need to do is maybe put a few provisions on this credit and kind of narrow it to supporting some of the investments that this state has made in the past, maybe making sure that these new hotels are in the area of the convention center. To date we have spent $346,682,113 invested in our convention center. I think with that big investment we should be utilizing it a little bit more and maybe giving our incentives with our investments. Thank you."

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. May I give the Members of this House a different perspective, and it's going to be based on the global financial market. In the '50s and '60s, a lot of hotels were built with developer's capital. The Sheratons that you see in Waikiki, the Outriggers, et cetera, some of them are on leased land. But more importantly, the '50s and '60s, the evolution was hotels.

"Here comes the '70s and '80s, for those who were here, what was that evolution? Time shares. Time shares. You did not increase the inventory of hotel rooms, you created time shares. Where I had a petition two weeks ago saying, 'time shares are no good.' You're not providing the jobs, as what the hotel industry is providing the jobs, in the house cleaning, et cetera, et cetera.

"Now we are in the 21st century, 2014, 2000. For the past 14 years, I think all of you have seen the conversions and the development of condotels. I believe the Representative from Upcountry is correct. If we could just focus this last measure around the proximity of Waikiki, maybe it will help us attract more of our conventions and meetings that we sorely need at our convention center that we have today at the Ala Wai. If not more hotel rooms, I don't believe we'll be the diamond in the rough in attracting those large conventions that we, who are here in support of the convention center, will see that we did not realize that dream.

"So yes, the Representative is correct, from Hawaii Kai. There have been new hotels, but in other parts of the island. But in the proximity of Waikiki, none whatsoever. And I have to be one to say, yes, I'll bite the bullet for hotel renovations or new hotel construction. Because we did it, the past Legislature. And it has benefitted the people of the State of Hawaii by the tourist industry that comes to Waikiki first and then goes on to the neighbor islands.

"So I just wanted to share that thought, because it is so important that you will not find global investors today investing in hotel units that are going to be brand new. You want it in place, you want it in operation, so you can recoup a percentage of what your investment is. And if you think condotels will be the answer for our tourism industry, I don't know how many of you signed that petition, but I did. And that was in regards to the Ilikai hotel. And I do support time shares, but the number of people working in a time share unit is totally different from a hotel unit.

"That is why I'm sharing with the Members, Mr. Speaker. It is all based on finances. And now today, it is global finances. Not local, the Guslanders, the Pfeiffers, et cetera, or the Walker's Amfac. This is a total new ball game that the millennial generation will have to address with the competing interest globally.

"So in closing, why do I support this? Because I want to see the convention center filled 11 months out of the year with a one month respite of renovations and cleaning the facility to what it is. So, that's the reason why I'm voting up very strongly, so nothing against my friends who are with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support, brief comment. This is very relevant to the comment that I made earlier of, if something moves we regulate it, if it's still moving we tax it, and if it dies, when it stops moving then we subsidize it.

"Mr. Speaker, we've had long extensive conversations about increasing the TAT. We've talked about the whole host of regulations. We have taxed and regulated an industry that we're starting to see die. And now we're having to step in after we soak them and squeeze them for every penny we can get out of them. Then we have to come back in, and in order to save the industry we say, 'oh my goodness, we have to give these guys tax credit or we're looking at a plateauing industry that's not going to survive.'

"Mr. Speaker, I'm pretty sure back in the day they never thought that sugarcane would go away, they probably thought that pineapple would never go away. Mr. Speaker, tourists can go away. If we're not more careful in the way which we approach this, we're already starting to see. Now we're in the phase of, well it's kind of slowing down, it looks like it might stop moving, so we've got to start subsidizing it.

"If we're not careful, Mr. Speaker, we're going to hurt 175,000 people who work in this industry, and we're starting to see the fruits of over regulation and over taxation, Mr. Speaker. But for those reasons, I'm still supportive of helping the industry stay on its feet."

Representative Onishi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to stand in support and a few comments. I believe this bill will have a tremendous impact, possibly, in our Banyan Drive on the Big Island in Hilo. Many in the community have been working tirelessly to try to improve Banyan Drive, to bring back the days, about 30 or 40 years ago, when Banyan Drive was a thriving tourist attraction with hotels and rooms available for people to come and visit the volcano and our other amenities on the Big Island.

"Today, we have very few hotels. In fact, when the Finance Committee went to visit the Big Island, I cautioned them on where we could stay where they would feel comfortable. So I think this is an opportunity to look at the possibility of new hotels being built or renovated in the Banyan Drive area, and I fully support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Fale rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of HB 2490, HD 2, which enhances the juvenile justice system through a variety of initiatives that seek to strengthen the system as a whole. This proposal is the result of a working group comprised of representatives from the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government as well as key stakeholder groups from law enforcement, the prosecutors and public defenders offices, and community service providers.

"This measure will give our troubled youth here in Hawaii a better shot at becoming well-adjusted adults. Adults, who can contribute to our society and our local communities in meaningful ways. By concentrating secure bed space on serious juvenile offenders; strengthening disposition, adjustment, diversion and services available for those offenders; as well as increasing interagency collaboration and establishing a temporary oversight committee, we are providing those juveniles, who would normally fall through the cracks, a safety net to keep them from moving further down a bad path into a negative lifestyle.

"This measure is not only for the benefit of Hawaii's youth. In fact, everyone benefits when public safety can be strengthened and when children are given the tools to reach healthy and productive futures.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and to vote in support of HB 2490, HD 2. Thank you."

And some of those teachers who started with the first charter are still there and have sacrificed greatly to make Waialae school a school of excellence.
