Dear Neighbors,

It continues to be my honor to serve as your State Representative. As we have already begun this year's Legislative Session we face more challenges than ever before. If you have any questions or concerns, please always feel free to contact my office at 586-9415 as we value your input. We have enclosed a survey in this issue to provide you an opportunity to give us your feedback.

As we begin this Year of the Rabbit, we have hit the ground running with many of our initiatives. We are happy to report that our annual events held this past month from our Opening Day Trolley in January to our Annual Liliha-Nu`uanu Candlelight Tour were both successes. We thank all of the participants and volunteers for their support and commitment. Most importantly this year, we launch the first ever Vitality Project here in Liliha which addresses the serious issue of Diabetes. Additionally, we are getting involved with APEC as we hope it will be an opportunity for Liliha.

I appreciate your trust in me, indeed it is a privilege to be your Representative.

Mahalo nui loa,

Representative Corinne W. L. Ching

REP. CHING TAKES ON THE DIABETES ISSUE BY LAUNCHING FIRST EVER VITALITY PROJECT FOR LILIHA

What does the "Vitality" project mean for Liliha? There is nothing more important than future growth and prosperity of our community and its members. The Vitality Project's goal is to add years to the lives of those in the community by encouraging them to make changes in their daily lives. Areas shown to be home to healthiest, longest living humans were classified as "Blue Zones". The Liliha Vitality Project (LVP) will address three main issues: Encouraging members of our community to get out of their homes, exercise and walk in the community, 2) Make eating healthier easier and more convenient through community gardens, healthier food choices in restaurants and farmers' markets and finally establishing stronger ties and connectivity among members, civic engagement. You can learn more about Rep. Ching's project by accessing the LVP: Liliha Vitality Project on the ILoveLiliha.org website.

Revitalization, cleaning up the community to make it more walkable and livable, creating community events to make sure connectivity is reached between members of the town, and making fresh fruits and vegetables more a part of our everyday diets, as well as brown rice over white rice are all recopies for a healthier more vibrant Liliha.

Liliha-Nu`uanu District
Candlelight Tour
February 18, 2011
6:00-9:00 pm

Our 5th Annual Liliha-Nu`uanu District Candlelight Tour is once again be a popular opportunity for residents to take a vested interest in organizations that are operating within their own backyards, and for participants to reconnect with their heritage, as many Liliha-Nu`uanu residents are of Japanese ancestry.

With the gracious support of Community Church of Honolulu, attendees will be able to park and hop onboard one of two trolleys chartered for the evening. The trolleys will stop along the beautiful grounds of each participating organization, and attendees can take advantage of the rare opportunity to visit and learn valuable information about the mission, histories and values of the respective organizations in addition to enjoying light refreshments and entertainment at each stop. Attendees also will receive a commemorative Chiefess Liliha tote bag filled with information on the evening, the district, and more. This unique event will allow residents of Liliha and Nu`uanu to connect with the beautiful sites that add to the charm and historical value of this special community.

February Celebrated Hawaii Grown Cacao Month

February kicked off Hawaii Grown Cacao Month. Cacao holds a special place in history. Theobroma cacao, otherwise known as chocolate and translated into English as the "Food of the Gods", was introduced to the Hawaiian Islands in 1850. Cacao was used for centuries as a medicine and cacao has high concentrations of theobromine, a purine alkaloid that has both a calming effect on the brain and an energizing effect on the nervous system. It has also been found to stimulate the appetite and to reduce fatigue.

Each year, the chocolate industry produces $75 billion worldwide. Hawaii's environment and climate position it as the only state in the United States that can commercially grow cacao. Hawaii is ideally in close proximity to both Asia and mainland US, located to capture and prosper from the opportunities from a growing cacao market. Asia has already developed into a major chocolate market and Japan has experienced a significant increase in chocolate consumption during the past decade.

Today, the cacao industry is poised to heighten the state's economy with a broad range of job opportunities and increased revenue from diversified agriculture, production and processing, in addition to research and development with the potential to attract federal funds. With APEC coming soon, cacao possesses a propitious opportunity to develop a new industry in the growing, cultivating, processing, and shipping of Hawaii-grown cacao to the mainland United States and the rest of the world.

The First Hawaii Chocolate Festival held at the Dole Cannery this past February was a huge success for vendors and participants. For more info see www.HawaiiChocolateFestival.com.

TOP 10 REASONS WHY WE SHOULD SUPPORT CACAO IN HAWAII

- Cacao can provide a great employment and economic opportunity for our citizens in research, marketing, agriculture, ecotourism, retail and more.
- Cacao grows only in Hawaii out of all 50 states, due to climate requirements.
- Cacao enjoys high demand in Asia; taking advantage of Hawaii's proximity to Asian markets.
- Cacao represents quality over quantity, a niche market in which Hawaii can excel.
- Cacao, the plant, is environmentally sustainable.
- Cacao grows quickly compared to many other agricultural crops.
- Cacao can be combined successfully with many other locally-grown products thereby enhancing other crops' profits simultaneously (papaya, mango, lilikoi, pineapple, Ka'u orange, apple banana, etc.).
- Cacao is a revenue-producing crop which helps to preserve green and open space.
- Cacao has multiple uses: solid, liquid, cocoa butter (cosmetics) and more.
- Cacao thrives in Hawaii's soil thereby, like Kona Coffee, has great taste.
