THE

TWENTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE

STATE OF HAWAII

REGULAR SESSION OF 2010

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

FIRST DAY

Wednesday, January 20, 2010

In accordance with the provisions of Section 10, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the House of Representatives of the Legislature of the State of Hawaii, convened in Regular Session of 2010.

The Honorable Calvin K.Y. Say, Speaker of the House of Representatives, called the House to order at 10:00 o'clock a.m.

The invocation was then delivered by Brother Bernard Ploeger, President, Chaminade University, after which the Roll was called showing all Members present.

At this time, the Speaker delivered his address, stating:

"Last year, the State of Hawaii, the nation, and the world faced an international financial meltdown unprecedented since the Great Depression.

"To prepare us for the resulting challenges, I paraphrased Martin Luther King Jr. in my 2009 Opening Day speech: "The true measure of a person is not how the person behaves in moments of comfort and convenience, but how the person stands at times of controversy and challenges."

"I then asked: "What is our true measure? How will we react to the challenges of this great State?"

"Members, I am proud to say that we accepted and confronted those challenges directly. We, along with the State Administration and the Senate, made many extremely difficult decisions to fill a gap of $2.1 billion – decisions that were very unpopular among segments of the community.

"Last year, despite clear evidence of the economic downturn and tax revenue shortfall, many parties still requested the establishment of new programs, appropriation of more moneys, or retention of tax credits of great costs. Together, we withstood the criticism, pressure, and even threats of those who opposed our actions to balance the budget. Members, last year we, along with the Senate and the State Administration, performed admirably.

"This year, again we face substantial economic and budgetary problems. The University of Hawaii Economic Research Organization projects that the unemployment rate will increase in 2010, while real personal growth will decrease. Moreover, those on the Finance Committee heard the Council on Revenues has lowered its projection of general fund revenues for the fiscal year to a minus 2.5 percent from a minus of 1.5 percent. The continuation of the Great Recession has once again caused a budget gap of another $1.2 billion.

"And so last year, Members, I laid upon us certain challenges. This year, because of the recurrent budget gap, those challenges still hold true. We must join together to resolve the budget crisis. We must focus our priorities to do so. We must maintain a basic safety net of social and health services for those who have suffered through no fault of their own. We must continue to support our public school system.

"This year, I lay one new challenge upon this chamber. Let us remember to be "unselfish" in our legislative work.

"Let us work with the sole purpose of producing good policies and legislation for the people of this great State. Let us share our ideas and, more importantly, be willing to share credit with others. Let us work without expectation of public accolade, media attention, or political reward. Let us be willing to compromise and sacrifice and subordinate ourselves when necessary to achieve positive and meaningful legislation. Let us be respectful of and listen to our fellow Members, even when they have their differing viewpoints. Let us be empathetic to our fellow Members, giving attention to their needs, vulnerabilities, and conscience. Let us all collectively share the burden of moving the State forward. We have the will and ability to do so.

"Finally, let us put the overall public good before narrow benefits to special interests. As I said last year: "Almost all special interest groups, whether for-profit or nonprofit, have organized memberships with a lobbying presence at the Legislature. Ordinary taxpayers, however, have none. They have only you and me to represent them."

"And let me repeat this, for it is a precept that can easily slip the mind during the hectic months ahead: ordinary taxpayers have only you and me. I am confident that we will not let them down.

"This year, I also lay some challenges on others involved in the political process.

"To the business community, to the trade community, to the labor community, and to the nonprofit organizations that come before this legislative body, be aware of the need for "balance" among competing interests during these extraordinary times. We recognize, with much sympathy, that both the public and private sectors have already suffered due to layoffs, furloughs, pay cuts, grant-in-aid reductions, sales decreases, business closures, and higher taxes. Nonetheless, the economic and budgetary problems persist, requiring more sacrifice rather than preservation of the status quo. This economic and budgetary crisis requires a change of attitude among all of us. I understand that you, the advocacy organizations, must lobby for your memberships and their interests, but I challenge you to take more of an unselfish approach. Be aware of the negative impacts of your positions on others and consider compromises that benefit the overall good of our economy and community. I know that your officers, representatives, and members care as much about Hawaii as we do.

"To the general public, we need you to identify your priorities, but also to be prepared for the consequences if implemented. We cannot operate with the intent of making everyone happy and expect to remain fiscally solvent. Instead, we must act on the principle that government cannot be everything to everyone. If you want more of a better public service or facilities, be prepared to pay for them. Conversely, if you do not want to pay more taxes or fees, be prepared to receive less public services or facilities. If you want more mandates on business, be prepared for an increase in the cost of compliance, and the resultant rise of consumer prices or decrease of business income. On the other hand, if you want to de-regulate business, be prepared for the diminished protection for the public health, environment, workers, and consumers. In the end, I have much faith in the fairness, altruism, foresight, and, most of all, common sense of the general public. I know that their priorities will be sound and unselfish.

"Members, at this time I am very optimistic about the next year. For us, economic recovery is approaching.

"Many signs of improvement are apparent. Hawaii has been selected to host the APEC Conference. Almost 700,000 air seats will be added to the Hawaii market by various trans-Pacific airlines. A new company of brave entrepreneurs will continue the fresh pineapple operation on Maui. A major entertainment company, without a previous presence in Hawaii, is proceeding with its Ko Olina time share project and that same company will begin filming the fourth Pirates of the Caribbean movie in the State during the summer. The Hawaii seed crop industry and the bottled water industry continue to grow, two bright spots in attracting out-of-state dollars into this economy. Just as beneficial, local dollars are being kept in Hawaii because more and better renewable energy projects are replacing imported fossil fuels.

"In closing, Members, be reminded that the condition of our State is not predestined, nor unchangeable. Our State is not fated to follow the economists' predictions of our short-term sluggishness. On the other hand, neither is our State fated to automatically rebound after reaching the absolute bottom of the recession. We can and must be active contributors towards the betterment of this great State that we love, and not merely passive observers content to watch from the sideline.

"Members, I am confident that we, along with the Senate and State Administration and people of Hawaii, have the character, the courage, the compassion, the intelligence, and the sense of purpose to overcome the challenges set before us. We will realize a better future for the State of Hawaii.

"To all of you Members, friends, and you, the public out there, let's get to work! Aloha!"

At this time the Chair recognized special visitors to today's Opening Day Session:

The Lieutenant Governor, Duke Aiona and Mrs. Vivian Aiona;

Legislators and members of the Fukuoka Prefecture delegation visiting from Japan;

Counsel General Yoshihiko Kamo, Consul General of Japan; and County Council Members of the respective four counties.

The Chair then recognized Representative Finnegan, the Minority Leader, to present the Minority's response.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Welcome Lt. Governor, Mrs. Aiona, and to all our special guests from Fukuoka, as well as our State, City and County governments, Mr. Speaker, Members of our House of Representatives, and to all of you who took the time to be here today. Thank you and welcome.

"I think it's fair to say that the mantra of the majority of the people in this Chamber this past year has been "hope" and "change." Your House Republicans agree with the Majority. It's time to fundamentally change the way we do things in Hawaii. The severity of our economic and budgetary challenges leaves us with no other alternative. Failure to change would be just that – a failure. It's time to make a difference in the two main areas that dominate the hearts and minds of the people of Hawaii: education and economy.

"We've spent decade after decade trying to figure out how to fix education. Despite the $2 billion we spend on education, the current DOE system continues to favor adults above students. I'm tired of hearing about Hawaii's education being ranked 47th in the nation, and you should be too. We can't fail our children again. It is time to end Furlough Fridays and other symptoms of the broken system and improve education. We are offering changes to instructional days, DOE accountability, the collective-bargaining process and Public Charter Schools.

"All of the legislative measures we will introduce focus on putting students and their needs first. Remember, the fundamental purpose of our educational system is to educate, not just to employ. Furlough Fridays demonstrate that we are not succeeding in our mission to put students first.

"I believe that all of us want to improve our economy. The primary difference between the political parties lies in how we do it. It's a matter of survival – economic survival that doesn't cause this fragile recovery to crumble. The challenges and hurdles that lie ahead in the path of full economic recovery require prudent decision-making and a long-term vision for sustainable economic growth. Our posture for economic recovery will include protecting residents from higher taxes and a higher cost of living, improving the business climate that includes decreasing the soaring unemployment insurance tax premiums, and promoting job growth measures that shape our vision for Hawaii's future. The House Republicans are committed to providing that kind of leadership here at the State Capitol.

"And although there are signs of the economy turning around, the Republican Caucus believes that raising taxes to balance the budget is the wrong decision. We are one of the highest taxed states in the nation. The more we tax, the less our hardworking people and their families have to manage family budgets. The higher the taxes, the bigger the government. The bigger the size of government, the more it contributes to inefficiency and the more it curtails personal freedom for our tax-paying residents. Answer this question: if we are to raise taxes to deal with the budget shortfall, would we decrease taxes when the economy improves? The answer is no. In times like these, people are looking for ways to be self-sufficient, to succeed. Raising taxes penalizes self-sufficiency and success, and is completely counterproductive during a recession. It's time that our State government lives within its means and makes sure that we still fund priorities like instruction days for students.

"We can't fix our economic problems by increasing the taxes on businesses. Businesses don't have more money to give to government, especially during these times. Small businesses are the engine of economic growth. Shirokiya's recent announcement of laying-off 71 employees in anticipation of the increasing unemployment insurance tax serves as powerful evidence of what businesses will and must do when taxes are increased. One of the fundamental differences between the majority and minority is the recognition that innovation in the private sector grows the economy far better than government can.

"In conclusion, fundamentally, the more you tax people, the more we become dependent on government. The more we become dependent on government, the less opportunity and personal liberty we have. There is an enduring nature of America's promise of opportunity. The continuing immigration to America is powerful testimony that people are still seeking that kind of opportunity and promise, even today. These immigrants are consciously choosing to pursue opportunity, just like my dad and my grandparents, and many of the family members before you. We, too, must consciously foster opportunity. The hope of Hawaii's future lies not in enabling inefficiencies and dependency. By embracing change and opportunity, Hawaii's best days lie ahead. It's time for things to change. It's time to put students and families first.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker and colleagues; we look forward to working with you and to our guests who made it a point to come and talk story, the Republican Members wanted me to invite you to our offices upstairs after this. Mahalo and aloha."

State Capitol
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE TO THE 25TH STATE LEGISLATURE OF HAWAII MEETING IN THE REGULAR SESSION OF 2010

In compliance with Article VII, Section 9, of the Hawaii Constitution, I hereby submit to the State Legislature the Executive Supplemental Budget for Fiscal Biennium 2009-11 and the updated Program and Financial Plan for the period 2009-15.

This Supplemental Budget proposes a number of significant changes and adjustments to Act 162, SLH 2009, the General Appropriations Act of 2009, which authorized funding for the two-year fiscal period that began on July 1, 2009 and ends on June 30, 2011.

Much has changed in the past two years. The severe recession of 2008 swept across the nation and many parts of the world with unanticipated force and brought with it enormous challenges for governments at all levels. Its devastating effects on businesses and employment are still being felt today. The national Gross Domestic Product (GDP) began its downturn in the first quarter of calendar year 2008 and ended in the fourth quarter with essentially no growth. The year 2009 saw continued deterioration to a -1.4% decline in the first quarter and -2.4% in the second quarter. The recent improvement in third quarter GDP is the first encouraging sign in a long time and its sustainability is not yet known.

National and global economic events have had a profoundly adverse impact on Hawaii. The tourism industry has suffered severe setbacks. Visitor arrivals decreased by double-digits throughout most of 2008 and the first half of 2009. Private construction building permits went into negative territory for the same time period. Hawaii's unemployment rate, which had stayed consistently below 3% since 2004 and had been among the lowest in the nation, doubled to 6.5% in the first months of 2009. It was at 7.0 % in November 2009. After years of extraordinary growth when Total Personal Income (TPI) was in the range of 6% to 8% annual gains, Hawaii's TPI registered essentially no improvement in the first half of 2009.

Reflecting the contraction in the economy, State tax revenue collections have also been on a steep decline. General fund tax revenues fell by -9.5% in FY 2009 and are projected by the Council on Revenues (COR) to decrease by an additional -2.5% in the current FY 2010.

This is the economic and fiscal environment we have confronted during the past two years. As a State, we have had to take difficult but necessary actions to meet Hawaii's critical needs in these challenging times while dealing with historical revenue declines.

Starting with the execution of last year's budget (FY 2009), our Administration responded quickly to limit the State's exposure to the unfolding economic and fiscal uncertainties. First, hiring restrictions went into effect for all programs except those affecting public health and safety. Second, a general fund restriction of 4% on discretionary operating costs was applied to all departments. Third, restrictions were placed on specific appropriations outside of the budget. These were the beginning steps of a deliberate and prudent fiscal policy to control State spending and keep it in line with lower revenue expectations.

These restrictive measures continued when additional spending reductions were imposed (2% in January 2009 and 2% in May 2009) as we developed the budget for the Fiscal Biennium 2009-11. Sharply declining State revenues required the most severe budget reductions in recent history. General fund operating costs were cut by $270 million over the biennium. The 2009 Legislature further reduced the Executive Branch biennium budget by an additional $173 million in response to lower revised revenue projections by the COR during the session. These cost cutting decisions and various revenue generation actions by the Legislature and the Administration were instrumental in averting a serious budget shortfall at the end of FY 2009.

However, the fiscal crisis continued as we began the new fiscal biennium on July 1, 2009 with a worse-than-projected revenue picture. Using the official revenue projections from the COR as of June 2009, we had anticipated a budget gap of $633 million by the end of FY 2011. This number became significantly larger, $1.19 billion, as a result of the COR's lower revisions in August 2009. The stark reality of continuing declining general fund revenues means the State does not have sufficient resources to cover all expenditures that previously had been authorized for the new FB 2009-11 budget. The gap between projected revenues and actual appropriations must be closed to satisfy the constitutional requirement of a balanced budget. This is our paramount responsibility for the current fiscal biennium, recognizing we have an obligation to do so in a manner that protects the core functions of State government.

REVENUE PROJECTIONS

On September 29, 2009, the COR revised its general fund tax revenue projections to reflect a decrease of -1.5% for FY 10 and an increase of 6.5% for FY 11. (The previous projections were 0% and 5.6%, respectively.) To put these numbers in perspective, general fund tax revenues increased by 8.3% in FY 04, 16% in FY 05, 10.9% in FY 06, 3.4% in FY 07, and 1.2% in FY 08; positive growth was reversed by a decrease of -9.5% in FY 09.

On December 17, 2009, the COR revised its projections to reflect a decrease of -2.5% for FY 2010 and an increase of 7.6% for FY 2011. These revisions mean the cumulative general fund budget gap for the current biennium grew by another $40 million.

In the first five months of FY 2010 (July through November 2009), general fund tax collections decreased by a cumulative -6.5% over the previous year.

We estimate that general fund revenues will not return to pre-recession 2008 levels until FY 2012 at the earliest. Further, because State tax revenues lag behind improvements in the private sector economy, it is possible it will be 2014 before revenues return to pre-recession levels.

REDUCING EXPENSES IN FY 2010

As stated above, our paramount responsibility in the current fiscal biennium is to address a current revenue shortfall of $1.23 billion. The magnitude of the gap has required a substantial and immediate reduction in operating expenses. For FY 2010, spending restrictions and other administrative measures were implemented on July 1, 2009 to reduce overall spending. These included restrictions on specific appropriations, eliminating cash funding for capital improvements, debt restructuring, and a comprehensive restriction of 13.85% on operating budget appropriations.

Because payroll costs are the single largest category of expenditures in the State budget, accounting for 60% of the budget total, they must be reduced for any plan to effectively close the budget gap. Our original plan to implement a furlough of all State employees for 3 days a month was blocked. This furlough plan would have saved an estimated $680 million in general funds for the biennium.

To achieve needed payroll savings, a reduction-in-force (RIF) was initiated in August 2009. I was personally saddened by the necessity to take this action and understand the hardship it has created for those affected by the RIF. However, the State had few options to achieve immediate payroll savings.

Concurrently, collective bargaining discussions were pursued with the Hawaii State Teachers Association (HSTA), the Hawaii Government Employees Association (HGEA) and the United Public Workers (UPW) to arrive at contract agreements for the biennium. Contracts with the HGEA and the HSTA allow for furloughs averaging two days a month over the biennium. General fund savings on payroll costs including fringe benefits from the furlough plan are estimated to be $170.7 million in FY 2010.

The combination of all the above actions - - restrictions, debt restructuring, RIF, furlough and other administrative measures - - is expected to reduce general fund spending by a total of $452.3 million in FY 2010. This is a critical step toward closing the budget gap but it is not enough to close the shortfall completely. The following additional actions are needed in order to balance the 2010 budget and reflect a projected $60.3 million ending fund balance:

1. Transfer excess balances from special funds. Our most recent review of non-general fund accounts indicates a potential $10 million in excess balances that can be transferred to the General Fund.

2. Delay payment of income tax refunds within the legally allowed 90-day period starting in 2010. This option would provide a one-time savings of $275 million in FY 2010.

3. Refinance and restructure G.O. bond debt. The refinancing of debt which was recently completed in November 2009 yielded a total of $97.3 million in savings for the biennium. Additional refunding and restructuring will reduce debt service costs by $18.6 million in FY 2010.

4. Review expenditure plans and lapse excess authorizations as applicable. We will continue our efforts to closely monitor program expenditure plans to eliminate unnecessary spending and lapse any excess appropriations.

REDUCING EXPENSES IN FY 2011: SUPPLEMENTAL BUDGET REQUESTS

We must continue pursuing labor cost reductions and are redoubling our efforts to reshape State government to focus on essential and critical services. Our objective is to realign State programs and services with available resources and place the State budget on a sustainable path. The austere financial environment that we face requires nothing less.

As an integral part of budget preparation, departments and agencies have been directed to continue a critical review and re-assessment of programs to determine the core functions and essential services of State government. The overall target is a 13.85% reduction in general funded operating costs for FY 2011. Special funded programs are also required to operate under a ceiling and trim their expenses.

For capital improvements, the current level of authorizations is substantial and is deemed adequate for the biennium. Requests for new funding and projects have been kept at a minimum to curtail borrowing costs. Departments have been instructed to accommodate their capital improvement program (CIP) needs through lapses and trade offs of existing capital improvement program appropriations.

The Executive Supplemental Budget requests for FY 2010-11 are summarized below.

	FY 11 Appropriations ($million)	FY 11 Adjustments ($million)	FY 11 Requests ($million)
Operating Budget
All means of financing (MOF)	10,467.3	(378.2)	10,089.1
General Fund	5,267.6	(348.3)	4,919.4
Capital Improvements
All MOF	972.3	164.9	1,137.2
G.O. Bonds	185.8	46.3	232.1

The Operating Budget

The Executive Supplemental Budget submission for FY 2011 reflects the following actions:

1. Reduce State payroll costs. A total of 1,990 positions (1,693 permanent and 297 temporary) are proposed for elimination. A total of 792 of these positions are vacant. The distribution by departments and means of financing (MOF) is presented in the Appendix that follows. While every department is affected, the biggest reductions are in the largest general funded programs: Health, Human Services, Public Safety, Accounting and General Services, and Agriculture. The reduction includes the following components:

   - Elimination of 792 vacant positions ($29.2 million saved from all MOF, $11.1 million in general funds).

   - Elimination of up to 1,198 positions identified for layoffs under the August 2009 RIF plan ($48.8 million saved from all MOF, $42.7 million in general funds).

   - Adjustment in the number of positions that were affected by program changes due to reduction, restructuring, or MOF changes.

   For the Department of Education (DOE), the University of Hawaii (UH), and the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation (HHSC), their respective governing boards were given latitude as to how to implement a 13.85% reduction in operating expenses.

   The overall changes to the State's workforce are summarized below.

	General Fund	Other MOF	Total
Number of reductions	1,402	588	1,990
Permanent	1,263	430	1,693
Temporary	139	158	297

Filled positions	1,023	175	1,198
Vacant positions	379	413	792

2. Pursue other labor cost savings through collective bargaining negotiations. Another means to reduce payroll expenses is through curtailment of working days. The new contract with the HGEA implements a furlough of up to 24 days in FY 2011, and the HSTA contract includes furloughs of 17 or 21 days depending on whether the employee is a 10-month or 12-month worker. While negotiations are still pending with other unions, the departments and agencies their members work for are held to the same level of savings that can be expected from a comparable furlough. Overall payroll reductions including fringe benefits are estimated to be $198.4 million from general funds.

3. Align program requirements with appropriate means of financing. We have identified additional programs and activities that appropriately should be funded with revenue sources other than general funds. As a result, 22 positions and related program expenses are proposed to be funded by various federal and non-general fund sources. General fund savings of $15 million each year are derived from the following changes:

    - In the Cash Support for Families program (HMS 211), two-parent cases are moved from general funds to federal funds under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program ($7.6 million).

    - In the Cash Support for Child Care program (HMS 305), childcare expenditures are moved from general funds to TANF funds ($5.5 million).

    - In Plant Quarantine (AGR 122), funding for Inspectors is changed from general funds to special funds generated by program fees (22 positions and $1.7 million).

4. Reduce operating costs, restructure programs, and preserve essential services of State government. As revenues continue to decline, the State cannot stay on its current course and maintain the same level of services. Reductions in general funded programs will be achieved through: consolidating and streamlining operations, rolling back non-essential or recently added services, eliminating programs of low priority, and reducing levels of benefits. Adjustments occur in the following areas:

    Department of Agriculture

    - Elimination of the Agricultural Statistics Services Branch and the Market Analysis and News Branch.

    - Deletion of 30 Inspector positions (28% reduction) in the Plant Quarantine program.

    Department of Health

    - Abolishment of Dental Hygiene Services. Preventive services to students will no longer be offered.

    - Abolishment of the Community Health Division and consolidation of services into the Tobacco Settlement program account.

    - Restructuring and merging existing services into a new General Medical and Prevention Services Division.

    - Reduction of 37 permanent positions (20% reduction) in the Adult Mental Health program for outpatient services.

    - Reduction of 62 permanent positions (36% reduction) in the Family Health Services program.

    - Reduction of 23 permanent positions (89% reduction) in the Public Health Nursing program relating to school health aides.

    - Reduction of 37 permanent positions (63% reduction) in the Vector Control Branch.

    Department of Human Services

    - Elimination of HMS 212 (Cash Support for Aged, Blind, and Disabled Individuals) and consolidating services into HMS 202 (Aged, Blind, and Disabled Payments) and HMS 204 (General Assistance Payments).

    - Curtailment of benefits in the Medicaid Adult Dental Services program to include emergency dental services only.

    - Reduction of healthcare costs through implementation of managed care and the new Basic Health Hawaii plan.

    - A reduction of 113 permanent positions (38% reduction) in the Medicaid program.

    Department of Accounting and General Services

    - Deletion of 57 permanent positions (30% reduction) in the Information Processing and Communications Services program.

    - Deletion of 49 permanent positions (33% reduction) in the Custodial Services program.

    Department of Public Safety

    - Closing of Kulani Correctional Facility on Hawaii and assigning 81 permanent positions (from a total of 91) to other facilities.

    Two significant programs will continue to require further monitoring:

    - Medicaid. Proposed appropriation levels for FY 2011 have been established using the best assumptions available regarding enrollment growth and cost containment. These assumptions may be revised if enrollment and costs exceed our current projections.

    - The Hawaii Health Systems Corporation. Proposed funding from general funds is at the level authorized for FY 2011. Any adjustment will have to be addressed during the 2010 Legislative Session.

5. Maximize the use of federal funds. Hawaii is receiving a substantial amount of federal assistance under the American Recovery and Renewal Act of 2009 (ARRA). A total authorization of $943 million was included for the biennium in Act 162, SLH 2009, to provide additional operating funds for higher and lower education, unemployment insurance and workforce development, health and welfare, renewable energy and environmental management, housing, and transportation. Another $19.8 million is requested in the Supplemental Budget to increase the federal ceiling for ARRA funds being received by the Housing Finance and Development Corporation. We continue to explore and maximize the opportunities for additional federal grants under ARRA as well as through traditional federal programs.

6. Continue the restructuring and refinancing of G.O. bond debt. Debt restructuring has been an important tool of fiscal management as we seek to find market opportunities for reducing the debt service costs of the State's borrowing program. For FY 2011, a restructuring program will provide significant savings and result in lower debt service costs.

The Capital Improvement (CIP) Budget

The capital improvement plan for FY 2011 continues to focus on an expanded Major Repair and Maintenance program aimed at getting projects done quickly to address the repair and maintenance backlog and help with job creation. Priority is given to projects currently in progress or nearing completion and projects that improve energy efficiency or contribute to the development of clean energy alternatives for Hawaii. In the area of transportation, we will continue to make modernization plans for airports and harbors high priorities.

In an effort to update and eliminate project authorizations that are no longer necessary, we have identified a total of $70.2 million in existing CIP appropriations that are designated to lapse.

New requests for capital improvements include the following significant projects:

- A new facility for the College of Hawaiian Language at the University of Hawaii at Hilo ($31 million)
- Facility repair and maintenance and construction for public charter schools ($10 million), including $2.2 million for health and safety, $6.0 million for classroom renovations, and $1.8 million for relocating charter schools to public facilities
- Renovation of the Kulani facility and infrastructure to develop a new Youth Challenge Academy on Hawaii ($1.8 million)
- Capitalization loans for safe drinking water projects ($6.5 million)
- Capitalization loans for wastewater projects ($12.7 million)
- Improvements to Honolulu International Airport, Elliot Street support facilities ($50.9 million)

PROPOSALS TO ADDRESS THE BUDGET AND REVENUE SHORTFALL IN FY 2011

As substantial as our proposed actions are in FY 2011, these reductions are not sufficient to close the budget gap. We must consider, in this legislative session, other options for generating the revenues needed for basic support of State programs and services. Thus, in addition to the spending reductions being proposed, I am recommending that we take the following actions:

1. Refinance and restructure G.O. bond debt. Additional refunding and restructuring will reduce debt service by $75.2 million in FY 2011.
2. Suspend distribution of revenues from the Transient Accommodations Tax (TAT) to the counties. TAT taxes are currently earmarked for several purposes: funding the operations and marketing programs of the Hawaii Tourism Authority and the Hawaii Convention Center, and giving financial aid to the counties. I am recommending that distribution to the four counties be suspended until the State regains its fiscal balance.
3. Implement tax measures to reform and improve Hawaii's tax system. Legislative proposals will be submitted to make Hawaii's tax system more efficient and equitable, to tighten up tax rules, and to improve tax administration. The total tax package, including the TAT proposal, is an integral part of the General Fund Financial Plan and is estimated to generate $178.3 million in additional revenues for the State in FY 2011.

Taken together, the proposed actions summarized above are expected to generate a significant stream of additional revenues for the State and will enable us to achieve a positive balance in the General Fund for FB 2009-11 and for each year of the planning period.

These are difficult but necessary steps that we must take in order to navigate the fiscal crisis the State faces, and to meet our legal obligation to produce a balanced budget as required by the State constitution.

In these truly challenging times, I am encouraged by the positive credit ratings that Hawaii continues to receive from all three major rating agencies. In October 2009, Hawaii received a rating of "AA" from both Standard and Poor's Ratings Service and Fitch Ratings, and "Aa2" from Moody's Investor Service. These positive ratings reflect the assessment of these nationally recognized firms that Hawaii State government has consistently displayed prudence and responsibility in fiscal management and governance.

We are committed to making the hard decisions and setting a responsible course that leads Hawaii through this critical period toward a brighter future.

With aloha,

LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii"

Representative Ward: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Noteworthy of an announcement is the momentous decision taken by our Supreme Court. I know you thought I was going to talk about Massachusetts, but I am not. What they have decided is going to affect us all in every state and every election heretofore, and that is that money is speech and corporations are individuals, therefore corporate spending or corporate contributions to campaigns, which for over a hundred years have been void, are now back in play. So, Mr. Speaker, today is a momentous day with that decision. Thank you."

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following concurrent resolution (H.C.R. No. 3) was announced by the Clerk and was disposed of as follows:

H.C.R. No. 3, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION AWARDING THE HAWAII MEDAL OF HONOR TO UNITED STATES MILITARY SERVICE MEMBERS, WITH HAWAII CONNECTIONS, KILLED IN ACTION WHILE SERVING IN DANGEROUS, VOLATILE, AND UNSTABLE AREAS OF THE WORLD, INCLUDING IRAQ AND AFGHANISTAN," was offered by Representative Say.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.C.R. No. 3 be adopted, seconded by Representative Finnegan.

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"It has been almost seven years since the War on Terrorism began, and while there continues to be much debate about this war, there's no debate about the tremendous sacrifices made by our service members and their families. Between March 29, 2003 and January 15th of this year, we in Hawaii have lost 268 service members, who have all sacrificed their lives while in the line of duty. We lost a total of 28 service members this past year and to pay special tribute to these heroes and to their families, we passed House Bill 8 in 2005, which became Act 21. House Bill 8 created the Hawaii Medal of Honor.

"This special medal is awarded on behalf of the people of the State of Hawaii to an individual who has been killed in action while serving our country as part of Operation Iraqi Freedom or Operation Enduring Freedom. Recipients of the Hawaii Medal of Honor include members of the United States Armed Forces, the United States Military Reserves, and the Hawaii National Guard, who are residents of the State of Hawaii, attended an education institution in Hawaii, who were stationed in Hawaii by order of the United States Department of Defense.

"By this Concurrent Resolution, Mr. Speaker, this year's Hawaii Medal of Honor will be awarded to family representatives of these fine men and women at a ceremony held during a Joint Session of the Legislature on Tuesday, March 23rd, 2010 at 2 p.m., in this Chamber. Families will be invited from towns like Yonkers, New York and Homestead, Florida, to as far as Koror, Palau to attend this ceremony.

"In 2004 to 2005, Mr. Speaker, the 29th Brigade Combat Team from our very own Hawaii Army National Guard, along with the 100th Battalion from the Army Reserves deployed. During that period we lost 17 members of our Brigade. In this last deployment in 2008 which ended around August of 2009, we lost another three members for a total of 20.

"I'd like to mention some information for our Members about the three people that we lost during this past deployment. Sergeant Julian Manglona was recognized in last year's ceremony, Mr. Speaker. Corporal Casey Hills will be recognized in this year's ceremony, and Specialist Cwislyn Walter will also be recognized in this year's ceremony.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, although I wasn't here last year, I do believe that this medal ceremony is very important, not only to us, but to the entire State of Hawaii. And I'd like to at this time thank everybody for continuing this tradition. I would also like to recognize certain people, in particular. First, Lisa Vargas from my office who has held this medal ceremony together since its inception. I'd also like to thank Speaker Say and Chairman Ito. It is because of them that in 2005 that we actually are here today, recognizing these individuals. And finally, Mr. Speaker, Chairman McKelvey for his work as Chairman of the Committee, as well as the Clerk's Office and Sergeant-at-Arms for doing such a great job this past year. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"May I also stand in strong support of this with a very brief comment? First, to thank the previous speaker for all his hard work as the progenitor of this, and the mover and the shaker of what otherwise is probably one of the proudest moments that Hawaii has for its veterans and for the families.

"I would only end with one suggestion to make it even better, Mr. Speaker, and that is we cry with the family members as they come up to receive their rewards and their awards. But as we go to the functions thereafter I would suggest we have an escort or an assigned or an adopted family type thing so when they're sitting there eating, they're not all alone. I think that will help personalize what otherwise is probably one of the most excellent things that any state has ever done for any veteran. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I'd just like to have the words of the two previous speakers entered in the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you very much," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I also rise in strong support of the Resolution and I would like the words of my colleague from Pearl City to be entered into the record as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Vice Speaker Magaoay then stated:

"Also a comment from the Chair to Representative Mark Takai. Thank you very much for serving our country last year. You were missed, but now you're back and hopefully you will be here for a whole duration. But again, thank you for serving our country. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.C.R. No. 3 was adopted.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, since we had such an international flavor in our Gallery today with our student shadows, I wanted to note that today is the Independence Day for a very, very important country, near and

The Speaker then presented to the Members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature and the audience, the Honorable Linda Lingle, Governor of the State of Hawaii.

The Governor then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Thank you all very much. Senate President Hanabusa, Speaker Say, Lt. Governor and Mrs. Aiona, former Governor Ariyoshi, Members of the Legislature, cabinet members, Chief Justice Moon, Chair Apoliona, Mayor Hannemann, military leaders, members of the Consular Corps, distinguished guests, and to all the people of Hawai'i … good morning and aloha.

"It is my great privilege this morning to deliver the time-honored State of the State Address to the people of Hawai'i as I have done for the past seven years. This address will differ from those I have delivered in the past, because it will be my last. And while that fact might be considered an applause line by some in the Legislature, I will miss you all when my time in office ends later this year.

"I have invited a dozen current and retired Hawai'i National Guard Generals to join me this morning to bring attention to the role they have played during my years as Governor. Every governor's most basic responsibility and highest priority is the physical safety of the citizens they serve. Whether fires, floods, tsunami threats, or earthquakes, in times of emergency they have always been there for us, and never once fallen short of my expectations. Please join me in thanking them and the men and women they lead for helping us to stay safe throughout the years of my Administration. Generals, please rise.

"Before sharing my vision for the coming year, I first want to express my gratitude to the people of Hawai'i for the privilege you have given me to serve two full terms as your Governor. Beyond the honor of public service, you have made me part of your 'ohana, and for that I will be forever grateful. You have put your trust in me and I have always held that trust in the highest regard as I worked to make decisions large and small.

"My Administration began seven years ago during challenging economic times and enters its final year in an even tougher economic climate. The difference between then and now is that the challenges we face today are so much greater, revenue loss so much larger, and the statewide impact so far reaching that the decisions we have to make are much tougher. I've already had to make some very difficult decisions – cutting popular programs and services, furloughing State employees, and with great reluctance, laying off hundreds of people.

"These decisions were not easy, nor were they the decisions I wanted to make. They were the decisions that I had to make given the situation before us. Simply put, our State government is spending at a rate that substantially exceeds our revenues and at a level that cannot be sustained. The mid-term economic outlook requires that we further downsize government, prioritize the services we desire and can afford, and together devise innovative ways to meet the needs of Hawai'i's people.

"We must face the situation as it is – not as we wish it to be; and we must make difficult decisions now about the size and nature of government that will keep us on a positive course for the future. More importantly, we must do what it takes to create a future that does not financially burden our children and grandchildren simply because we weren't willing to make those difficult, sometimes gut-wrenching decisions, when destiny called on us to do so. Clinging to the programs, practices and government structure of the past will not work and cannot be sustained. We have to create a government that is more efficient and able to provide essential services in a way that is affordable today and sustainable over time.

"The global recession hit Hawai'i hard and has affected us deeply. Visitor spending plunged, construction stalled, unemployment doubled over 18 months, and businesses and consumers uncertain about the future retrenched. It will take many months before our economy begins to rebound, and likely years before it returns to its pre-recession strength. Because of the tough lessons we have learned about sudden and severe economic downturns, I will be proposing a Constitutional Amendment to rename and revise the State's Rainy Day Fund to create a Fiscal Stabilization Fund.

"This fund will shield us in future years from the need to raise taxes during periods when the economy is contracting and citizens can least afford to pay more. The Fiscal Stabilization Fund will ensure that in years when tax revenues are growing, 5 percent of the general fund's end-of-year balance will be placed in the Stabilization Fund prior to granting the currently mandated refund to taxpayers. This prudent and important revision to the State's Rainy Day Fund will augment the fund's current source of revenue from Tobacco Settlement moneys.

"On a positive note, the prudent fiscal management that we have exercised during both good and bad times has resulted in Hawai'i maintaining a strong, AA bond rating. During my remaining 10 months as Hawai'i's chief executive, my Administration's resolve to move us forward in a fiscally responsible way will remain steadfast. We are at a very unique point in our State's history – it is a time when both our current challenges and our future opportunities have never been greater.

"It is with that thought in mind that I want to use my final State of the State Address to speak with you about reaffirmation and rededication. Reaffirmation of who we are and what we are for, and rededication to the kind of future we want for the next generation – a future we will all share. The budget I presented to you last month, along with our legislative proposals, are aimed at creating new jobs and maintaining current jobs, encouraging investment, and laying the foundation for educational improvement and energy security. Together they comprise a plan for our economic recovery and a roadmap for a brighter, more prosperous future. Government cannot create a strong economy, but it can help provide a positive economic climate that makes it attractive to invest and create jobs in Hawai'i. It can also work hand-in-hand with the business community to build the foundation upon which private enterprise will flourish.

"A good example of government creating a framework for success is the way public and private organizations have been working together to strengthen tourism – our number one industry. According to the latest count, nearly 580,000 additional airline seats will be added this year, creating the potential for another half a million visitors which would require businesses to call more than 5,000 people back to work. We will continue supporting our visitor industry while at the same time searching for other economic development opportunities both at home and abroad.

"Among the world's nations today, nowhere is the pace of economic activity more breathtaking than in China. On my most recent visit, I was personally involved in kick-starting direct flights between Beijing and Honolulu, I had substantive discussions on clean energy partnerships, and signed an agreement to establish the first showroom for Hawai'i products in Shanghai. I will return to China in a few months to further strengthen our relationships and continue efforts to promote business opportunities for local companies. We will join with business and cultural groups to celebrate Hawai'i Week at the American Pavilion this June at the Shanghai World Expo and celebrate the 25th anniversary of our sister-state relationship with Guangdong Province, China's manufacturing center and homeland to most of Hawai'i's residents of Chinese ancestry.

"Being a state located in the middle of the Pacific Ocean, Hawai'i faces greater challenges than most states with similar size populations. Because of our geographic isolation, we must do more than merely wait for opportunities to come to us. Hawaiian monarchs realized the importance of connecting our isolated islands to the rest of the world as far back as the time of Kamehameha II when he and his Queen Kamamalu departed for England to strengthen diplomatic ties. Princes Alexander Liholiho and Lot Kamehameha traveled to the United States and on to Europe in the company of Dr. G.P. Judd to negotiate treaties with Great Britain in the mid-1800s. Queen Emma, Queen Kapi'olani, then-Princess Liliu'okalani, and King Kalākaua also traveled abroad. Previous governors have also traveled widely, and each international trip builds upon the relationships that have been developed and cultivated during prior visits.

"With a sense of our history and a focus on the future, my Administration is forging closer ties with the People's Republic of China, as well as reinforcing and strengthening ties with Japan, Taiwan, the Republic of Korea and the Philippines. In China, as it has been in Japan and Korea, and is in most of Asia, relationships matter – particularly relationships between governments. We will be hosting government officials and others from 28 different countries this fall at the Pacific Asian Energy Expo and Summit, the Asia-Pacific Homeland Security Summit and the International Women's Leadership Conference. And while the Internet makes it easier for today's leaders to learn about the world around them, I would encourage the next Governor to continue the tradition of our Hawaiian monarchs and governors and keep Hawai'i in consistent contact with countries that present economic and cultural opportunities.

"It is vital for Hawai'i to have a cohesive and ongoing international outreach strategy that is advanced by state and county governments, business leaders, public and private universities, and various NGOs, including our ethnic chambers of commerce. It is this kind of comprehensive and integrated approach that enabled our State to be chosen as the site of the prestigious 2011 APEC Leaders Conference. It was the team of federal, State and local government officials, visitor industry and business leaders along with the expertise of the East-West Center and support from almost every business organization in the state that produced the winning bid for APEC.

"We can leverage our State's limited resources by following this same model of collaboration in others areas. One of our most successful collaborations is the Hawai'i Clean Energy Initiative. The concerted actions of many both in and out of government, have turned our over reliance on foreign oil into the impetus for a clean energy future and made us a global leader in our pursuit of energy independence. Clean energy is critical for our overall economic well-being, our environment and our security. And it is becoming an important and growing economic sector that will lead to high-quality, good-paying jobs for our residents.

"This legislative session I am proposing a package of initiatives that builds upon the foundation of the Hawai'i Clean Energy Initiative, including a ban on the construction of new power plants that burn fossil fuels. It is time now to show the public by our actions that we will no longer allow our economic well-being to be dependent on burning oil and coal that must be shipped here over thousands of miles of open ocean. Another proposal will grant a general excise tax exemption to renewable energy projects of at least two megawatts that are placed in service between January 1st of 2011 and January 1st of 2015.

"In the transportation sector we propose a rebate of general excise taxes paid on electric and plug-in hybrid vehicles, as well as the charging stations that will make it practical and convenient to drive electric vehicles in our islands in the coming years. These proposals and others will serve as effective incentives for investment in clean energy, create new jobs and make a clear public statement that clean, renewable energy is a State priority.

"Finally, I am proposing that property owners across the State be empowered to help create a green jobs sector through the establishment of a new program called Hawai'i Clean Energy Investment Bonds. Similar programs, which already exist in 15 states, assist residential and commercial property owners with the upfront costs of installing clean energy systems or energy efficiency upgrades by allowing them to borrow the money from the state and then repay the loans over a period of years via an annual assessment on their real property tax bill. This program spurs both immediate job creation and economic activity, and moves us closer to our goal of 70 percent clean energy by 2030. The HCEI Bonds program to encourage a green jobs sector is just one of the economic recovery proposals my Administration will be implementing in the months ahead.

"Recognizing the economic and social imperative of getting people back to work, I am proposing a package of incentives, including help covering the costs of health insurance, and income tax credits for the creation of new jobs. The income tax credit proposal grants credits equal to the wages withheld by the employer for each new, full-time permanent position filled by a resident who is currently receiving unemployment benefits. Because we need jobs now, the tax credits will begin as soon as the law is passed and remain in effect through December 31, 2012. Businesses will be required to be operational for two years after their final tax credits are received.

"Also, we will actively work to expand our SEE Hawai'i Work program that currently reimburses an employee's wages and benefits for up to one year for companies that hire people off of the welfare rolls. The expanded program will use Federal Stimulus funds to cover for six months parents who are collecting unemployment and whose household income does not exceed a certain level. This program does not require legislation and we will move now to get employers and employees the help they need to get back to work. In addition, we will begin a program next month to allow workers on unemployment to volunteer their time at a business or non-profit organization while still drawing unemployment benefits. This program will give workers an opportunity to demonstrate their skills to prospective employers and also help businesses evaluate an individual before they incur the cost of hiring them permanently.

"Because the construction and visitor industries have been hit especially hard during the downturn, and have the capacity to significantly stimulate the economy, we are proposing a 10 percent construction and renovation credit for hotels and resorts. This credit will be granted for the first $500 million in construction work undertaken in each of the next three years, and has the potential to create more than 23,000 new jobs. The cost of this tax credit will be more than offset by the economic activity generated. We will also continue expediting our airports, harbors and highways modernization programs, as well as other construction projects. And we will again propose legislation that places reasonable time limits on issuing construction permits for high-priority projects such as affordable housing, renewable energy and housing-related infrastructure.

"At the same time we are moving forward with these job creation initiatives, nearly every business in the State is worried about scheduled increases in unemployment insurance taxes if the Legislature does not take quick action this session. My Administration has been working with legislators, as well as business and labor organizations to develop legislation that will moderate the increases while returning solvency to the Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund. Under our proposal, employers will pay only 60 percent of anticipated tax hikes, saving businesses $497 million over the next four years. We believe strongly that anything beyond this 60 percent threshold will cause large job losses. I urge the Legislature to enact this bill prior to mid-March when the Labor Department will need to send out the unemployment insurance bills to businesses across the State.

"While I am spending most of my time this morning talking about important proposals to get our economy growing again, I also want to take a couple of minutes to thank members of my team for their important contributions to Hawai'i during the past seven years. We have been making progress in STEM education, renewable energy, film and television production and international partnerships thanks to the creativity and hard work of Director Ted Liu and the entire DBEDT team, including their recent success in convincing Disney to film the next Pirates of the Caribbean film in Hawai'i.

"I'd like to recognize a few other cabinet members, including one who has been with me from my first day as Governor, as well as during my eight years as Mayor of Maui County, Budget Director Georgina Kawamura. Georgina and her team at B&F have found ways to keep the State's books balanced, accommodate our innovative policy initiatives and infrastructure modernization plans, while maintaining our strong bond rating during the largest global economic crisis of the last 70 years. I am very grateful to have her at my side.

"I also want to thank two of my 'go-to' guys, Comptroller Russ Saito, for the many hats he wears with such ease, including keeping our infrastructure plans on track, honchoing our various homeless initiatives, getting a new energy code adopted, and constructing clean energy retrofits on state buildings. I also want to recognize our Director of Transportation, Brennon Morioka, for overseeing the State's largest-ever, simultaneous modernization of our highways, harbors and airports. And I want to thank Dr. Chiyome Fukino and Lillian Koller for the difficult yet creative adjustments they have made in order to assure the highest quality services for the greatest number of residents in need during a time of severe budget restrictions.

"Finally, I want to thank Lt. Governor Duke Aiona, a trusted friend who has provided me with wise counsel when I was facing some of the most difficult decisions of my governorship. Mahalo, Duke. To the Lt. Governor, all of my cabinet directors, deputies and senior staff, you have truly brought about the New Beginning we envisioned for our State. I ask that all members of the cabinet and deputies, as well as previous directors and deputies who are in the audience today stand so we can give you a well-deserved round of applause.

"I am proud of many of the services we deliver to the public, but one very expensive part of State government that I believe has failed to meet the community's expectations over many years now is our public school system. I came into office seven years ago believing we needed an entirely new governance structure in order to realize meaningful improvements in student achievement, and I enter this final year more convinced than ever that continuing the status quo structure of our public school system will never produce more than mediocre results. Despite consistently spending more than $2 billion a year on education, we have not achieved the kind of meaningful results any of us can be proud of, and we continue lagging far behind other states.

"The recent public concern over furloughs is understandable and I have made a generous and fair offer in an attempt to achieve a permanent solution to this situation. But I ask everyone to be as concerned about the quality of education, as they have become about the mere quantity of education. The time has come to focus not only on the number of days children are in class, but on what they are learning during those days. The time has come for high school diplomas to mean that a student has the skills to be career or college ready rather than being a piece of paper signifying they sat in class a set number of years. And the time has come for us to focus more on long-lasting systemic reform of public education than on temporary furloughs caused by the severest fiscal crisis in Hawai'i's history.

"Regardless of how quickly furloughs end, our school system needs structural reform. The current school system lacks clear lines of authority, responsibility and accountability. Because the Governor, the Legislature, the Board of Education, the Department of Education, and the Superintendent of Education all have roles to play, the public does not know who to hold accountable for consistently mediocre performance. If President Truman had analyzed our public school system, he might have said, "The buck doesn't stop here, or there, or there – it just gets passed around and eventually lost." I propose we offer our citizens the opportunity to vote on a constitutional amendment that makes the Department of Education a cabinet department with a superintendent hired by the next Governor so all of us will know clearly "where the buck stops." It is time for Hawai'i to make the Governor accountable for public education.

"If you want to see what can happen when the Governor's office gets involved with just a single aspect of education, look closely at the success of our robotics programs, which are among the finest in the country. When our Administration began a concerted focus on promoting science, technology, engineering and math programs through robotics in our schools in January of 2007, there were 95 robotics teams statewide. Today we have 400 robotics teams, primarily because of federal and private funding and enthusiastic and dedicated volunteers, including many teachers and some principals. But more importantly, robotics has proven that our children can excel in the very skills that will be in great demand by our State, national and world economies in the years ahead.

"I would like you to meet three championship teams who will represent Hawai'i on the global stage – our elementary school FIRST LEGO League Champions from Punahou and Hanahau'oli Schools and their coach Robert Piper; our VEX robotics middle school champions from Highlands Intermediate along with their teacher Joan Okai, and our high school VEX Champions from McKinley High School and their veteran robotics teacher Osa Tui. Please stand and be recognized.

"Every public school student in Hawai'i deserves the opportunity to participate in this kind of project-based learning program that can enhance their STEM skills. That is why I have allocated $10 million in discretionary federal stimulus funds to place these types of programs in every public and charter school in the State by the start of the 2011 school year.

"Besides education programs, we are intently focused on making progress during our remaining 315 days in many other areas including job creation, energy independence, and direct flights between Honolulu and Beijing. Regardless of the number of days remaining in my term, time will not alter our intentions or diminish our commitment to an even better future for Hawai'i. It is my intention and that of my cabinet to make each and every day a day devoted to improving the well-being of our citizens.

"Before I conclude my final State of the State Address, I would like to recognize one special citizen who I have held in high esteem for many years. On his way to being named this year's American Volleyball Coaches Association Coach of the Year, UH Women's Volleyball Coach, Dave Shoji, became only the second coach in NCAA history to win 1,000 matches. There are now 330 women's volleyball teams in Division I and the Wahine have been ranked in the top 10 in the final polls all but 5 of his 35 years of coaching.

"Coach, they didn't even let me get to my applause line yet.

"I appreciate Coach Shoji and his wife Mary for attending today so that I could have this chance to recognize him for the great person that he is and thank him for the message he has given to the youth of Hawai'i, especially the girls, that with hard work and determination they can compete with the best in the country. Thank you Coach for the pride you bring to the people of Hawai'i every time you walk onto the court, and for bringing us such joy this year by again taking the Wahine to the Final Four. Please join me in expressing our appreciation to Coach Dave Shoji for his decades of teaching and inspiring the young women of Hawai'i.

"Whether you participate in sports or simply enjoy them as a spectator, it is easy to appreciate the many lessons that they teach. One of the best known lessons from the world of sports is that in order to assure a successful outcome, you have to play hard for the entire game – all four quarters in football, the last out in baseball, the final hole in golf or match point in volleyball. And while government is no game, the sports lesson applies – everyone in my Administration is committed to work hard until the last minute of our last day. I pledge to the people of Hawai'i all my effort in moving our State into the best possible position before the next Governor is sworn in later this year. I cherish the fact that I have been allowed to serve as the Governor of the Great State of Hawai'i, a place that is so deeply traditional and yet thrillingly young. I know you agree that our Aloha State's greatest days are yet to come. I stand before you rededicated to the job ahead! Mahalo nui loa, and God bless Hawai'i and the United States of America."

President Hanabusa then rose and stated:

"Thank you, Governor Lingle. On behalf of Speaker Say, the Legislature, and more importantly the people of the State of Hawaii, we thank you for your public service.

"My colleagues and I have all commented about the fact that this will be the most difficult legislative session that we will all face. Many of us, for probably our whole legislative career. This is the time when we must work cooperatively and for the people of the State of Hawaii. Cooperatively doesn't mean that we are always going to agree. Debate is good, discussion is good, and we know Governor, we've had many of those over these years. You don't hear her laughing behind me, but she's laughing.

"What that means for everyone is the fact that we will then leave no stone unturned and that is what we must do to meet this challenge. And I know that the Legislature, the Governor and her Cabinet, we're all up to it because we must be for you, the people of the State of Hawaii.

"I do want to say something that has never been emphasized, and in honoring of Coach Shoji, and the Governor didn't mention it, but I think it is also very important that in Governor Lingle, we saw the first woman Governor of the State of Hawaii.

"And as we hear the stories of Coach Shoji's amazing career and we all grew up thinking, as a girl, God, we're better than the boys. Look at all the things we win. And as I look up at the robotics team there, and see so many young girls, remember, remember in the future that you saw the first woman Governor of the State of Hawaii. We all owe you a debt of gratitude for that because that propels girls and women ahead.

"So on that note, Governor, again on behalf of us, we thank you. We look forward to working collaboratively with you in this last year. And now I declare this Joint Session Adjourned."

At 10:49 o'clock a.m., President Hanabusa declared the Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature adjourned.

RECONVENE

The House of Representatives reconvened at 10:59 o'clock a.m. with Speaker Say presiding.

RECESS

At 11:47 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess and the House of Representatives stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair, and in accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, met in Joint Session with the Senate to receive the Chief Justice's State of the Judiciary Address in the Senate Chambers.

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2010 was called to order at 12:11 o'clock p.m. by the Honorable Colleen Hanabusa, President of the Senate.

The Senate President then welcomed and recognized the following honored guests:

Mrs. Stella Moon, wife of the Chief Justice, who was presented a lei by Representative Michael Y. Magaoay;

Mrs. Mary Han, mother of the Chief Justice, who was presented a lei by Senator Shan Tsutsui;

Mr. Josh Wisch, representing United States Congresswoman Mazie Hirono;

Mrs. Jean Ariyoshi, wife of the Honorable George Ariyoshi, Former Governor of the State of Hawaii;

Former Chief Justice William S. Richardson;

The Honorable Todd Apo, Council Chair, City and County of Honolulu;

The Honorable Yoshihiko Kamo, Consul General of Japan;

The Honorable Bong Joo Kim, Consul General of the Republic of Korea;

The Honorable Leoncio Cardenas, Consul General of the Philippines;

The Honorable Jan Rumi, Honorary Consul of Morocco;

The Honorable John Henry Felix, Honorary Consul of Portugal and Spain; and

Honolulu Police Department Chief of Police, Louis Kealoha.

President Hanabusa then called upon Senators Brian T. Taniguchi, Gary Hooser and Fred Hemmings, and Representatives Jon Riki Karamatsu, Blake K. Oshiro and Lynn Finnegan to escort Chief Justice Ronald T.Y. Moon to the rostrum where he was presented lei by Senator Suzanne Chun Oakland and Representative Marilyn B. Lee.

President Hanabusa then called upon Mr. Danny Kaleikini who delivered a blessing as follows:

"Aloha kakou āpau. Aloha. 'Ae, mai, mai, Komo mai. Our great leaders from the State of Hawaii. Nā 'ohana. Keiki o ka 'āina. Na ke Akua ho'opōmaika'i a e mahalo kākou. Akua is god. 'Ohana, family. Aloha, the breath of life and love we share with one another. Aloha kekahi i kekahi. Love one another. E pule kākou, let us pray.

'O kou aloha nō

"Na ka mea, Nou ke aupuni a me ka mana. A me ka ho'onani 'ia a mau loa aku. Aloha ke akua. God is love. Mahalo akua. We thank you for the blessing for today. We thank you for our great leaders from the State of Hawaii and the honorable Chief Justice, Ron Moon. Mahalo nō kākou me ke aloha pumehana e pōhai ke aloha. All this we ask in your name. Amen."

President Hanabusu then stated:

"Thank you. Mahalo, Mr. Kaleikini. Members, Chief Justice Roanld T.Y. Moon is the first Korean American to serve as Chief Justice in the United States. He is the 17th Chief Justice of the State of Hawaii and March 2010 will mark his 17th year as Chief Justice, making him the longest serving Chief Justice since Statehood.

"I want to share one point that I'm sure the Chief Justice will remember. During my first term when I sat where the Members are, listening to the first State of the Judiciary Address, I remember the Chief Justice's remark that his mother, Mrs. Han, told him to stand on one foot. And when the other foot drops, it is time to end his speech. I don't know if he remembers that, or it may have been one leg. One or the other. Anyway, when it drops he is to stop his speech. Members, it's not going to work this time, so be comfortable.

"Members of the 25th Legislature, ladies and gentlemen, please join me in extending our warmest aloha and welcome to the Chief Justice of the Hawaii Supreme Court, the Honorable Ronald T.Y. Moon."

President Hanabusa then presented to the Members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature and the audience, the Chief Justice of the Hawaii Supreme Court, the Honorable Ronald T.Y. Moon.

The Chief Justice then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Thank you very much. I would like to say that after my first State of the Judiciary Address, after mom gave me that advice, I have been practicing and practicing and I can do it for more than two and a half hours. May I just introduce my family members on this stage, my son Scott and his wife Jill. Daughter Julie, daughter Jill, Aunt Ruth, and Aunt Violet. Thank you, very much.

"President Hanabusa, Speaker Say, distinguished Members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature, former First Lady Mrs. Ariyoshi, former Chief Justice Richardson, fellow justices and judges, distinguished members of the federal bench, Judiciary and other State employees, members of the Bar, State Cabinet members, and members of other government agencies, my fellow members of the Wahiawa United Church of Christ, other special guests, family, friends – especially those from Korea – and fellow citizens: Aloha, anyonghashimnika, and good afternoon.

"As a privileged honorary member, I also extend greetings to the members of the Royal Order of King Kamehameha the First, the Consular Corps of Hawai'i, and the Wahiawa Tai Guk Club, as well as to those Chinese organizations which have bestowed upon me the status of honorary Chinese citizen.

"In 1997, I had the privilege and honor of being the first Chief Justice invited to deliver a State of the Judiciary Address to a Joint Session of the Legislature. Today, I stand before you with mixed emotions because, although I am looking forward to joining my fellow retired judges and other Judiciary employees at my neighborhood McDonald's in just 217 days, this is my last State of the Judiciary Address. I, therefore, thank you for this opportunity to share with you the accomplishments, as well as the challenges of the third branch of government.

"I also thank the many legislators, past and present, for their support of the Judiciary's various budget requests and proposals over the years, without which we could not have provided the many services and improved facilities that benefit the people of Hawai'i. Included among these are the Judiciary's four new courthouses: the Abner Paki Hale or Kane'ohe District Court Building that opened in March 2003; the Kaua'i Judiciary Complex or Pu'uhonua Kaulike ("Sanctuary of Justice") opened in September 2005; the Hilo Judiciary Complex or Hale Kaulike ("House of Justice") in March 2008; and, finally, the much-anticipated opening of the Kapolei Court Complex, including its adjoining Juvenile Detention Facility.

"We greatly appreciate your continued support of the varied specialty courts and treatment programs, such as drug, mental health, teen, and girls courts, and the HOPE program. We also appreciate your approval of increases in the fee schedules for court-appointed attorneys for indigent criminal defendants, parental rights termination cases, and for guardians ad litem. Your steadfast support in these areas has allowed the Judiciary to provide many services that, unquestionably, have made significant and positive impacts on the lives of the beneficiaries of those services, including their families and their communities.

"The implementation of the various specialty courts and treatment programs within the Judiciary underscores how far we have evolved from the traditional core mission of judiciaries across the nation, which had been, simply, to adjudicate or resolve disputes before its courts. Over the last several decades, the role of state judiciaries has expanded. Many judiciaries and legislatures across the country have created an effective balance between traditional law enforcement and a problem-solving, restorative-approach that rebuilds lives and communities. As a result, the exercise of judicial power and the breadth of its application in today's modern judiciary has extended far beyond adjudication to include diversion programs in which rehabilitation and treatment go hand-in-hand. Unfortunately, budget cuts have resulted in fewer services being available, fewer clients being served, and a slow-down in admittance for treatment that could result in program goals not being realized. As the current budget issues continue to threaten the Judiciary's service-oriented structure, the fear that more cuts may force us to completely abandon the modern, service-oriented model.

"Because of our commitment to share in the responsibility of dealing with the State's budget deficit, the Judiciary, before the 2009 Legislative Session, imposed significant restrictions on the use of per diem judges, overtime, hiring, travel, purchase of service contracts, repairs and maintenance, and replacement of aging equipment. At the close of the 2009 Session, we experienced budget restrictions that included the elimination of 79 vacant, but essential, staff positions, a lump sum decrease in operating expenses, and a first-time-ever cut for Hawaii's justices and judges, for a total reduction of $11.5 million. Nevertheless, while in the process of balancing our budget post-session, we continued looking for ways to assist with the State's economic situation.

"As you know, the Judiciary's budget comprises just 2.6% of the State's total budget of $5.3 billion and about 71% of our appropriation is dedicated to payroll and personnel expenses. With less than 30% of our budget dedicated to operations, we recognized that any further operational cuts, over and above those already made, would be devastating. However, as I said, we believed it necessary to continue to explore every avenue in the hope of negating, or at least minimizing, any further reductions to our budget base this year. Consequently, since November 6 of last year, the Judiciary implemented a two-day-a-month furlough for all HGEA employees, resulting in an unprecedented, twice-a-month closure of all courts, statewide. The Judiciary anticipates that the savings, projected through the end of the current fiscal year, will amount to $4.8 million and, if continued at the current two-days-per-month schedule for fiscal year 2011, will yield another $7.6 million savings.

"Because the Judiciary has no control over its workload, the burden of doing the work with fewer financial resources, fewer people, and in fewer days, falls upon our Judiciary employees. I, therefore, take this opportunity to publicly thank all of our judges, administrators, and other Judiciary employees for the sacrifices they have made, their stamina in handling the increased workloads, and their steadfast commitment to continuing to serve the public. I also thank the members of the public for their patience and understanding, as they too must deal with longer wait-times caused by the semi-monthly court closures and overburdened court staff.

"As I stated earlier, we were compelled to impose significant cuts in order to balance our budget after the 2009 Session ended. For example, we cut more than $3 million from purchase of service, or POS, contracts. These contracts involve the purchase of assessment and/or treatment services for substance abuse, child sex abuse, and mental health, as well as provide emergency shelter services, juvenile client and family services, anger management and victim impact classes, and more. The significant reduction in the availability of these types of services is already impacting our specialty courts and treatment programs. We are concerned that any further reductions of services, or the elimination of these services altogether, will have serious consequences for our citizens in the form of increased domestic violence and other crimes, higher recidivism rates, prison and/or juvenile facility overcrowding, as well as increased concerns regarding public safety and delayed access to justice. Allow me to spend a few minutes on some specifics.

"Because of the 2009 budget cuts, the treatment capacity of Oahu's Adult Drug Court was reduced from 160 to 130 clients, leaving 30 defendants on a wait list and likely headed for prison. Adding just 30 people to the already over-crowded prison system at a cost of $139 a day each or $50,735 per defendant per year will result in an annual cost to the State of $1.5 million.

"From a cost-benefit perspective, consider the consequences of further cuts to our budget that could result in additional reductions to our treatment capacity or the closure of Oahu's Adult Drug Court altogether. Using the same formula and applying it to the 120 defendants currently enrolled in the program, the cost to the State – and more specifically, the Executive Branch – to incarcerate these defendants would be approximately $6 million a year, as compared to the total appropriation for the O'ahu Drug Court Program for FY2010 of approximately $877,000. More importantly, these potential costs to the State will multiply if further cuts mean closing our other adult drug courts on the Neighbor Islands, as well as our juvenile drug courts statewide, which would cost the State approximately $26.2 million, as compared to the entire FY2010 appropriation of $4.7 million for all of our drug court programs, including the family drug court, statewide.

"Clearly, diverting defendants to drug treatment through our various drug court programs has the potential of saving the State millions of dollars, especially when you consider that our statistics indicate that the average recidivism, or re-offense rate for adult drug court, statewide, ranges from 3.5 to 16%. Allow me to explain. The Bureau of Justice Statistics reports that over 50% of those released from prison will re-offend within three years. In other words, a majority of those incarcerated without the benefit of the Drug Court program will return to the courts and prisons, and each re-incarceration costs the State more money.

"Additionally, to graduate from drug court, clients must meet certain requirements, such as obtaining their "General Equivalency Diploma" or G.E.D., be in school or gainfully employed, have a place to live and some form of transportation. Graduates must also pay their court-ordered fines, fees and restitution. Thus, Drug Court graduates become productive and meaningful contributors, financially and otherwise, to our society. Clearly, without drug court intervention, the State loses revenues from the fines, fees and taxes that cannot be collected because the incarcerated-defendant is not gainfully employed. Moreover, incarceration shifts the cost of housing and subsistence from the defendants to the State, and, for the duration of their imprisonment, drains the limited resources we have.

"Similarly, costs to the State increase when probations are revoked. As you know, probationers are expected to follow the terms and conditions of their probation, such as staying drug free, staying arrest free, and keeping appointments with their probation officer. Probationers in the First Circuit have learned, through the Judiciary's Hawaii Opportunity Probation with Enforcement or HOPE program, that probation violations will not be tolerated. The program is premised on the philosophy of immediate and certain punishment for probation violations, usually involving a short jail term proportionate to the severity of the violation. Hawaii's HOPE program has gained national attention as a model program which has been adopted or is being considered in other states.

"Within six months of the program's inception in 2004, the rate of positive drug tests fell by 93% for HOPE probationers as compared with a fall of 14% for probationers in a comparison group as reported by researchers from Pepperdine University. Just this month, researchers reported that, quote, 'In a one-year, randomized controlled trial, HOPE probationers were 55 percent less likely to be arrested for a new crime, 72 percent less likely to use drugs, 61 percent less likely to skip appointments with their supervisory officer, and 53 percent less likely to have their probation revoked.'

"Again, from a cost-benefit perspective, it makes sense to spend $1.82 per day to supervise a HOPE probationer as compared to $139 a day to incarcerate the same offender. Additionally, as with our Drug Court graduates, HOPE probationers remain in our community as productive and meaningful contributors to society.

"In the area of domestic violence, victims are sadly becoming victimized again; this time by the current economic crisis and an underfunded judicial system that is unable to satisfy the high demand for treatment and service programs that they desperately need. A bad economy means lack of jobs and money. Job layoffs or reduced income caused by reduction in work hours fuels existing tensions in the home over finances and increases the likelihood of violence. Experts agree that domestic violence is more than three times likely to occur when couples are experiencing high levels of financial strain.

"Consider, for example, statewide statistics regarding court protective orders. In FY2008, 4,532 filings for protective orders were received, just 27 more than the previous year. However, in FY2009, new filings increased by 563 or 12.4%, totaling 5,095 protective order requests. The impact has been felt by the Family Court judges handling these cases, one of whom reported hearing 18 temporary restraining order cases in one morning – the most he has handled in a single court session during his six-years on the bench in the first circuit. The most prevalent theme from the abuser's perspective was, "I lost my job," or "I lost my house or can't pay rent because I lost my job, and so I lost my temper."

"Domestic violence victims often have complex and difficult legal needs. They face a wide range of issues, such as loss of housing, medical care for injuries, lack of transportation, lack of counseling services, loss of wages, substance misuse, and more. The recent reduction in POS contracts has not only severely impaired the Judiciary's ability to provide services to domestic violence victims and perpetrators, but increasing the wait-time for batterers to receive treatment services from one to two weeks in the best case, and from two to five months in the worst case. This means that untreated batterers are living in our communities, jeopardizing the safety of their victims and the community in general. Further cuts will cripple the Judiciary's ability to provide these services in the future.

"In fact, domestic violence service providers in the Third Circuit on the Big Island believe that, because of the 40% reduction in their POS contract allocation, they will have a $75,000 deficit by May if they continue providing services at the current level. This means that the courts will be forced to limit court-ordered services, and there is a real chance that services for victims will not be available on the Big Island.

"Experts agree that children who grow up in a domestic violent environment do poorly in school, are being abused themselves, and have no sense of self-worth. By the time they reach adulthood, they've already been in trouble with the law, including being in and out of juvenile court and/or detention facilities, and soon find themselves in and out of prison. Thus, the cycle of violence is passed on from one generation to the next, including the costs to government. How can we break the cycle of violence and eliminate the attendant costs? The answer, I submit, lies in maintaining these programs and services through adequate funding.

"Unfortunately, court closures and increased workloads will continue to have a direct and severe impact on court operations and, in turn, on the members of the public. Trials will take longer and are already being set further down the road simply due to the shortened work week. Similarly, attorneys and parties are waiting longer for hearings and conferences to be scheduled. Such delays, although inevitable, can have unintended and, possibly, life-threatening consequences.

"Consider, for example, a situation in Family Court where the domino effect resulting from the loss of one position has increased the waiting period for an adoption hearing from 30 days to as long as six months. The waiting period began to enlarge when the vacant position could not be filled due to the hiring freeze. As a result, the duties of processing and scheduling final adoption hearings were transferred to a division that was already operating with two frozen staff positions. The delay, although understandable in the current economic environment, will become nearly intolerable, especially when an adopted child has special medical needs, and the adoptive parents can't enroll the child in their medical insurance plan until they provide the required final adoption papers. Such delays could result in serious consequences to the child's health and development, or worse, create possible life-threatening consequences.

"Similarly, the inadequate provision of services and diversion options to other children and youth in our Family Courts will have a devastating impact on their lives. Without early intervention, these children and youth will develop educational and behavioral problems, making it more likely that they will matriculate to the adult criminal justice system.

"In the past, I have spoken to you and your predecessors about the importance of judicial independence and have focused on "decisional independence," that is, the freedom of judges to render impartial decisions based solely on the evidence adduced in a specific case and the applicable rule of law, without influence, threats, or fear of reprisals. However, from an institutional perspective, we all recognize that the Judiciary is constitutionally dependent on the Legislature for funding. As such, I felt compelled to discuss the extremely negative effects that an underfunded Judiciary has on public safety and the administration of justice, including the shifting of increased economic costs to the Executive branch and the individuals served by the courts.

"The Judiciary is already at the stage where lack of resources is affecting public safety and the administration of justice. Program budget cuts, court closures due to furloughs, prior staff reductions, and hiring freezes have already affected employee workloads and increased the amount of time it takes to process cases and do the work that is necessary to the administration of justice.

"The cruel irony in these difficult economic times is that the demands on our courts intensify, and, unfortunately, no matter how much we are called upon to sacrifice in terms of court programs, salaries, benefits and the like, nothing compares to the devastating impact that the current situation has and will continue to have on our citizen's access to justice. But, let me share some positive news.

"As you may know, Hawaii's Girls Court is one of the first gender-specific, problem-solving courts in the United States. The program was built on the need to pay especially close attention to female juvenile offenders whose numbers in the criminal justice system have risen at a much faster pace than for boys. Gender-specific programming recognizes the fundamental differences between male and female juvenile offenders, as well as their different paths to delinquency. By building on their strengths, Girls Court clients avoid becoming involved in the criminal justice system as adult women, as victims of domestic violence, and as adult-mothers in child protective custody proceedings.

"Amongst Girls Court's many successes is the story of Anna, who at the age of 16 was referred to Girls Court in 2006. She had substance abuse and anger management problems; she was failing in school and ran away from home often. At first, Girls Court was an unwanted presence in Anna's life as she believed the presiding judge and staff simply wanted to control her life when all she wanted was to be left alone. Through intense and, sometimes, difficult individual, family and group therapy sessions, Anna began to trust enough to share her story.

"Anna's father died when she was nine-years old. The family was devastated and struggled with their grief. Anna's mother started abusing substances, and, eventually, the family became homeless, living on the beach. By age 15, Anna, along with her siblings, had been removed from her mother's care by child protective services. Almost immediately upon being placed in foster care, Anna started running away. On the streets, Anna was violated and physically victimized. She learned to fight, use drugs to numb her pain, and developed a rough-and-tough attitude.

"While with Girls Court, Anna's tenacity to survive continued to be her strength, and with the help of the Girls Court judge and staff, Anna and her family were able to work through issues that had been causing them paralyzing emotional pain. She had the unconditional support of her mother, who herself had triumphed through overcoming her substance abuse problems and was clean and sober.

"Anna is now 20-years-old and continues to keep in touch with the staff at Girls Court. She has served as a speaker to girls entering the program, sharing her experiences and encouraging them to be open to the process of change. She is working full time as an assistant and activities coordinator in a residential program for adults with mental disabilities. She sees her work in this area as a potential career. She has certainly come a long way.

"It is, indeed, my pleasure to introduce to you Christianna Maglinti and her mother, Dawn. Will you two please stand. Thank you.

"Since 1995, the Judiciary has been working diligently to enhance access to justice for our linguistic minority court users. We firmly believe that, if the Judiciary is to be truly accessible to all, we must also be able to service the non-English speaking public, as well as those who have limited English proficiency. In the courtroom environment, we depend on court interpreters to assist us because justice surely cannot be served if, for example, a non-English speaking defendant says in his native language, "I was so mad I could have killed him," and the interpreter translates, "I was so mad, I killed him."

"Thanks to your support, I am pleased to report that, in 2006, the Judiciary implemented a Court Interpreter Certification Program to ensure that court users obtain properly qualified interpreters. In 2007, the program introduced and produced the first certified Ilocano court interpreter in the nation and currently has 168 certified interpreters in thirty different languages, including the high demand Pacific Island languages, such as Chuukese and Marshallese. Because the Judiciary is the only entity in the State that formally screens and tests interpreting skills, many non-judicial agencies and organizations have come to rely on the Judiciary's list of certified interpreters.

"We also appreciate the support received from the Legislature in 2004 through Act 202, and in 2006 via Act 145 that restructured our Appellate Court system. I am pleased to report that the new appellate process is working well and has yielded positive results. The movement of the procedural case processing tasks to the Intermediate Appellate Court has enabled the Supreme Court to resume oral arguments on a regular basis and to address issues of significant public importance, as well as publish a greater portion of its dispositions. Additionally, the age of cases has decreased from 347 days in June 2006, to 246 days in June 2009.

"I do extend my appreciation to my fellow justices and Supreme Court staff for their efforts in clearing the backlog of cases that were retained by the Supreme Court when Act 202 was implemented. I also extend a special thanks to the judges and staff of the Intermediate Court of Appeals for their assistance during the transition and for their continuing good work. Following your review of our formal report, which has been submitted, I am confident you will agree that the new system is working well and hope you will support our efforts to better serve the people of our State by making the current appellate court structure permanent.

"Additionally, despite the continuing reductions to our budget base over the past several years, we have made great strides in the technological arena. For example, in November 2007, we successfully implemented an electronic interface with a collection agency partner to refer and collect delinquent traffic fees and fines. Since the inception of the collection interface, the Judiciary has deposited more than $10 million into the State's general fund.

"Following the Legislature's direction to establish a task force to examine the State's bench warrant system, the Judiciary – working with the Hawai'i Information Consortium, the Department of Public Safety, the Honolulu Police Department, and others, piloted an electronic bench warrant project in the first circuit in March 2009. This e-bench warrant system allows the Judiciary to provide law enforcement agencies with updated and secure access to view and print traffic warrants via a web browser that were previously required to be physically retrieved.

"I extend our sincere appreciation to the many participants that helped the Judiciary make the e-bench warrant project a success. The pilot project has garnered such positive reviews that the Hawai'i Information Consortium and the Judiciary will be making the system available to police departments statewide and will expand the program to felony and misdemeanor warrants when those criminal case types are integrated into our statewide case management system, more commonly known as the Judiciary's Information Management System or JIMS.

"We are also looking forward to the implementation of electronic filing when the appellate and criminal case types are migrated to JIMS. If all goes well, we anticipate commencing e-filing in the appellate courts in June and in the criminal courts by the end of the year.

"Finally, I am pleased to report that the Kapolei Court Complex, including the new Juvenile Detention Facility, will open this Spring! Throughout the planning and design process, our commitment to the West O'ahu community, to court users island-wide, to the juveniles under the protection of the Family Court statewide, and to our employees has been steadfast. The larger courtrooms and waiting areas will not only enhance Family Court operations, but provide a safer environment for our judges, as well as Family Court practitioners and their clients. The benefits of having a brand new detention facility, including its proximity to the courthouse, are obvious. In short, we anticipate that moving the bulk of our Family Court operations to Kapolei will improve the quality of services we provide to our many Family Court users. At the same time, certain operations, like the entire Adult Criminal Division of family court, will remain here in Honolulu.

"In a few months, Family Court practitioners and the public will be able to file documents in either the Honolulu or Kapolei locations. The availability of video-conferencing between the courthouse in Honolulu and in Kapolei will negate travel time in certain types of proceedings. And self-help centers to assist self-represented parties will also be available in both locations. Once the move is completed, other Judiciary offices, currently housed in leased-office spaces, will move into Ka'ahumanu Hale. Thus, even with the gloominess surrounding budget cuts, salary reductions and furloughs, we have much to look forward to with the opening of the new courthouse and detention facility in Kapolei.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I am proud of the many positive contributions made by the Judiciary in spite of our budget situation. And, as I said earlier, the Judiciary's self-imposed spending restrictions and cuts in programs and services, as well as its furlough plan, underscores our commitment as a co-equal partner in government to share in the responsibility of dealing with the current economic situation. I must emphasize, however, that the steps we have taken thus far to meet that responsibility cannot be sustained without serious consequences to our mission and, most importantly, without serious consequences to our citizenry.

"The Judiciary is well aware that last month's projections from the Council on Revenues puts the deficit at $1.2 billion. We fully recognize the enormous and difficult task ahead of you this Session. We are hopeful that the measures we have taken thus far, including the furlough plan, not only demonstrate that we are partners with you in this crisis, but convince you that the Judiciary will not be able to withstand the devastating effects of any further cuts to its budget this Session.

"To the dedicated leaders and Members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature: again, thank you for the opportunity to deliver this, my last, State of the Judiciary address.

"To the current and past Legislatures and to the people of this great State: It truly has been an honor and a privilege for me, during the past nearly 28 years, to serve as a trial judge in the Circuit Court, as well as Associate Justice and, for the past almost 17 years, as Chief Justice of the Hawai'i Supreme Court. I am grateful to have been able to personally share, this year and in past years, the many accomplishments as well as challenges of the dedicated men and women of the third branch of government.

"Mahalo and Aloha! Thank you."

Speaker Say then rose and stated:

"Chief Justice Moon, on behalf of the Hawaii State House and Senate, I wish to thank you for your service with the State Judiciary. From your years as a judge in Circuit Court, to your time as an Associate Justice with the Supreme Court and especially during your tenure as Chief Justice, you have guided this State through a bevy of significant and difficult issues. Your leadership has been with both the mandatory objective of jurist prudence, and the necessary quality of compassion for the people of Hawaii.

"Your impending retirement is a bittersweet notion. While the State could certainly benefit from your continued service, you will leave your post with the knowledge that you have made Hawaii a better place; one that provides its citizens with protection, with opportunity, and with equality. Most importantly you have helped make Hawaii a place where there is truly justice for all. Congratulations, Chief Justice Moon, and once again, thank you.

"The Chief Justice did not want me to say anything about his next career so I will not. So at this time, I declare this Joint Session adjourned."

At 1:04 o'clock p.m., Speaker Say declared the Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature adjourned.

ADJOURNMENT

At 6:00 o'clock p.m., the House of Representatives adjourned until 12:00 o'clock noon, tomorrow, Thursday, January 28, 2010.

SIXTH DAY

Thursday, January 28, 2010

The invocation was delivered in song by Representative Lynn Finnegan, after which the Roll was called showing all Members present with the exception of Representative Thielen, who was excused.

By unanimous consent, reading and approval of the Journal of the House of Representatives of the Fifth Day was deferred.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 157 through 161) were received and announced by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 157, dated December 22, 2009, transmitting the Office of the Governor/Department of Accounting and General Services' Annual Report on the Congresswoman Patsy T. Mink Commission for the period December 16, 2008 through December 15, 2009.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Labor & Public Employment presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 7-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2103, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Legislative Management.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2103, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Legislative Management, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I know it's unusual to speak on Second Reading, but this is an unusual bill. Thank you. This bill would effectively unionize the Legislature. I'm against the bill, Mr. Speaker. I speak in opposition. I would not like to see my office in rebellion against its leadership. I would not like to see this Body with its staff against this. And as a member of the Minority I would hate to see the tyranny of the Majority express itself again through unionization of our employees.

"So Mr. Speaker, I don't see what good can come of this. I think it leaves a lot to be desired, and I think it's probably the first exercise of the quote, "card-check bill" and we should do with this bill what we did with the previous one. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"In response to HB 2103, I submit these written comments:

"In these trying economic times, money is very tight. More than anything, I believe that we, as lawmakers, should 'look before we leap.' It is very simple: Unions create a middle man in the discussion between employee and employers. Unions are not free. By proposing another union, we are proposing the creation of new costs to include supplemental infrastructure.

"Unions result in union dues, another unnecessary financial burden. I prefer my employees receive a higher salary without more taxes directed to union costs. I believe there are alternative ways to address the needs of employee-employer relations.

"For all of these reasons, I oppose HB 2103."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I actually support this measure, Mr. Speaker. I was against card-check for businesses, but I think since we are going to put the businesses in Hawaii through tremendous pain of having card-check in Hawaii, I think that we should have the same standards for ourselves. The Legislature, after all, our staff works longer hours than any other employee in the State of Hawaii. They have no breaks especially if you work in the Finance Committee, and very little time off. So I think we should treat our employees with much respect. They definitely deserve to unionize against us. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Despite the Minority Floor Leader's comments, I will be voting no."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2103, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COLLECTIVE BARGAINING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Legislative Management, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Belatti and Herkes being excused.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with some serious reservations regarding Stand. Com. 26-10. Mr. Speaker, I know that most of us in this Chamber are here to create more jobs, protect jobs, get our kids back in school, and put things in priority. But why we are micromanaging the towing business with such detail here saying, 'You must stay open 24 hours.' Did we tell Walmart to stay open 24 hours? Did we tell 7-Eleven to do that? I don't understand the intent of this bill, but it's kind of a 'slippery slope' that once we start doing all this stuff, what's left for the market? And I think our whole nation is looking at, is it going to be determined by government or is it determined by the marketplace? And I think we are going to have to push back a little bit. Get government out of the way and let the marketplace decide, particularly in telling towing companies, 'You must stay open 24 hours a day.' Thank you."

No. 1978, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOWING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives McKelvey, Pine and Tokioka being excused.

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on HB 2138 relating to the Healthy Start Program. When this bill was first introduced, it fundamentally undermined the separation of powers between the Executive and Legislative branches. This measure was an attempt to usurp the prerogative of the Executive branch by legislatively establishing the Healthy Start Program as a permanent program and exempting the Healthy Start Program from the budget allotment system. Furthermore, the bill also undermined the Legislature and its ability to determine budgets for the State.

"Additionally, this bill ignored budgetary reality. Many government programs are important, but in this economic situation, many of them have been cut. Healthy Start is in the same position as most State programs. Why should it be established as a special program that can ignore fiscal reality?

"HB 2138 has subsequently been amended to the HD 1 version that has mitigated some of the budget concerns and gives the Legislature the power to determine the services that DOH provides. Although the amendments rectify the issues from the initial draft, they essentially render this bill unnecessary and pointless. We do not need a bill to enable the Legislature and the Governor to do what is already within the power and purview of the Legislature and the Governor."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2138, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTHY START," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Education, with Representatives McKelvey, Pine and Tokioka being excused.

"I would like to make a comment on Stand. Com. Report 29-10. I'm sorry, I was sitting down on the job. I would just like to make a comment in favor of this health savings account bill. I think it's a great bill and I hope it comes to fruition. I think this concept should be incorporated in any federal health care reform that may pass on the national level in Congress. Thank you, very much."

Representative Yamane rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Marumoto be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise again with serious reservations on a measure, Stand. Com. No. 41-10, Relating to Legislative Caucuses. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think the bill is good. It's got a great intention, but possibly very serious unintended consequences. For example, there are probably dozens of caucuses. Former Representative Stegmaier and I back in the '90s formed the Small Business Caucus, but we're not in statute. If we made the Keiki Caucus and the Kupuna Caucus the premier statutized caucuses, are the other ones illegitimate or less capable of carrying on what they're doing? Or are they moot and therefore we all have to rush.

"My point is this will set a precedent. If your caucus is not in statute, will your caucus still remain as a caucus. I know that's usually a Speaker and a Leadership call, but since this is a little bit odd I wanted to bring it to attention because we're kind of punting it down the line, and I know the next Committee will probably have to answer these questions. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I don't know if I should have a conflict of interest, but we have a Heritage Caucus. I don't know if I need to establish that, but I too just wanted to reiterate some concerns. I have some reservations in that I very much support, of course, kupuna and keiki as a Member, but I'm just concerned about what this legislation may mean. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support of the measure which establishes both the Keiki Caucus and Kupuna Caucus in statute.

"For several years now both of these groups have met regularly with members of the community to discuss issues which will result in the betterment of the quality of life for our keiki and kupuna. These caucuses have involved large numbers of faithful community advocates, and have not ceased to meet regularly year round to plan for future action.

"In addition, the Kupuna Caucus has contributed major input into the yearly reports of the Joint Legislative Committee on Aging in Place. To say the establishment of these caucuses would diminish the status of others is not the intent, nor would that be the final result of passage of this bill. Rather, it would be a recognition of the many hours of work and discussion that make up the work of both the Keiki and Kupuna Caucus advocates."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. "Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of this measure, but I did vote with reservations in Committee. So just to explain my vote in Committee - there were actually 5 votes with reservations on this particular Committee Report. It calls for a study of the economic and environmental impact on businesses and communities as a result of the reduction in services of the Department of Agriculture's Quarantine Branch and Commodities Branch, statewide.

"The intent is very good and how could you vote against this? But the LRB was in attendance and testified that they have several duties to attend to and this might not rise to a high priority level. They're a little reluctant to do this study. We all know the results of cutbacks and reductions in services in the Department of Agriculture. The effects are dire and adverse so I have a little reluctance in pushing this particular study forward. I think the money might be better spent on keeping some of the staff working. Thank you, very much."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Marumoto be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this bill, as I have consistently done every Session that it has been introduced. If someone has committed an offense so terrible that their license is revoked for life, then it should remain revoked for life. There is absolutely no reason to water down existing law with respect to this issue. Good behavior after the offense does not necessarily make up for the situation that dictated revocation of the license. Driving is a privilege, not a right. If you lose privilege, you lose that privilege and adjust your life accordingly."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in opposition of H.B. 2776 – which permits drivers whose license has been administratively revoked for life to seek reinstatement of the license after 10 years have passed since the lifetime revocation. It also requires drivers to have had no arrests or convictions for driving while their license was revoked and be free from dependency or abuse of alcohol and drugs.

"I strongly believe that those who have chosen to drive under the influence of alcohol have put the lives of other drivers in danger, and there is no guarantee that these individuals will not do this again. DUI related fatalities are becoming common occurrences, and no legislation should be passed that has the potential to add to these numbers.

"As stated by the Department of Transportation, this measure will also impair the deterrent effect of a lifetime revocation, undermining the absolute nature of this revocation. I agree with the Department of Transportation, MADD, and other testifiers who have stated that the issue of lifetime revocation should be addressed using the ignition interlock system when it becomes available in the State.

"Lastly, H.B. 2776 will not only put dangerous drivers back on the road, but will also show disrespect and offense towards MADD and other anti-drinking advocates.

"Driving while intoxicated is a serious problem in our State, and those who violate these laws should be punished fittingly. Any lenience on these punishments has the potential to result in the fatalities of other drivers on the road. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Report 71-10, I will vote with reservations and would like to give short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know, this is presumptive eligibility and as we know, we are having a very difficult time with the possibility of delayed payments and all kinds of issues regarding Medicaid. So I think moving forward, although I'm with reservations for now, I will see it in the Finance Committee and I am really concerned about moving anything forward that will cost us more money. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with brief comments on Stand. Com. Report 76-10, Relating to the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands. With reservations. Mr. Speaker, we committed in, I think the year 1920, to build homes on Hawaiian Reservations for Hawaiians. The list still has 25,000 people. It's huge. It's embarrassing, but so is our financial condition right now and this bill says we're going to take 5% and put it for that purpose. A great purpose, but at a time that is untimely and probably totally impossible. So as this moves along, I'm afraid that it may cause a lot of disappointment and so I just wanted to tag it and flag it right now. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1971, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF HAWAIIAN HOME LANDS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources.

"I'm rising with reservations, Mr. Speaker. I believe that in a situation like this that we just experienced during this last break, that we had a situation where we had furloughs and the Governor was talking about how to deal with the budget, that maybe we should take a look at not only furloughs, but pay cuts in negotiations and all those things that were going on. I believe that furloughs should be a means for us to help balance the budget. And so from what I can see in this bill, it's clarifying this, which I don't agree with. So I'm going to be voting with reservations and taking some time to look at this further. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I would like to speak in opposition to Stand. Com. Report 87, House Bill 2258, House Draft 1. This apparently sets up a new insurance program for family leave and that is probably a very good purpose and probably one that will help more women than men. But my notes show that it would cost employees and employers no more than about $2,000 a year, and I don't know whether that means both of them together or either group separately.

"The benefits will be no more than $250 a week so that would be $1,000. It just seems to be extremely onerous to have employers have to pay into a new program at this time when the economy is so weak and businesses are weaker.

"Also I notice this bill goes on to the Finance Committee and I do not sit on that Committee. This is an insurance program and I think it should come before the Consumer Protection Committee, where I could examine it at closer length. But on the face of it at this time and this rushed circumstance, I will be voting no. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2028, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GROUP LIFE INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 11:51 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2027, HD 1
H.B. No. 2017
H.B. No. 2028

Representative Cabanilla introduced her staff member, Mr. Patrocinio Bolo.

RECESS

President Hanabusa then presented to the Members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature and the audience, Dr. M.R.C. Greenwood, President of the University of Hawaii System.

The President of the University of Hawaii System then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"President Hanabusa, Speaker Say, Governor Lingle, distinguished Members of the Legislature, State Cabinet members and members of other government agencies, special guests from our education, labor, business and military communities, and to the people of Hawai'i, good afternoon and aloha.

"I wish to also extend greetings to our University of Hawai'i guests, administrators and campus chancellors, faculty, staff, students, and now I would like to ask the members of the University of Hawaii Board of Regents and our Emeriti Regents to please stand and be recognized.

"First, let me thank you, the Hawai'i State Legislature, for affording me the privilege and the honor of being the first University of Hawai'i President to address a Joint Session of the Legislature. I sincerely appreciate this opportunity to share with you the accomplishments of the University and to reflect on the path ahead at this very critical juncture.

"I am grateful for the warm welcome I have received here in Hawai'i, and for the wise counsel and guidance that I have received from many of you here.

"Thank you also for all that you have done to support the University of Hawai'i, our mission and our aspirations. Without your efforts, and the efforts of those before you, we would not be the strong, vibrant institution we are today.

"I come before you today to focus our attention on what it means to this State to have a sole system of public higher education and the role of such an institution plays in our State.

"We have a world-renowned research campus, the University of Hawaii at Manoa, with new and exciting options for baccalaureate and applied advanced degrees at Manoa, but also at Hilo and West Oahu. And we have seven strong, successful community colleges, and our research and education centers here in Hawai'i. Our system is vital, vital to the State's future and I want to make it clear that the University of Hawai'i System is part of the solution to our current economic problem.

"Now indeed, education is the key to a better future for our society, for generations, for what our society calls "the American dream." Public higher education provides even more so a critical foundation in our rapidly changing global environment.

"Now the best universities provide the infrastructure and the environment to inspire collaboration both within and outside of their institutional boundaries.

"Now you may not know this, but creative knowledge generation is a contact sport, and while much of it is now virtual, the spirit of debate and discovery changes lives and worlds.

"Now you know great universities stimulate innovation and they transform markets. For example, while a faculty member at the University of Hawaii at Mānoa, Dr. Norm Abramson pioneered a method of data packet transmission, still known globally as the Aloha protocol, which was essential in creating the modern Internet. Another UH Mānoa researcher, Dr. Dorsey Stuart, a former research dean at the John A. Burns School of Medicine, developed a technology, along with his graduate research associate, that forms the basis for the Digene HPV test — the only test for human papillomavirus accepted in the United States and Europe. This test allows doctors to save hundreds, if not thousands of women's lives.

"These ideas, and others like them, started in universities around the world, and they have spawned great industries, reshaped our economy. Individuals, businesses, states and the federal government gained wealth, and the work of a large segment of our market was revolutionized.

"On the other hand, sometimes out of our universities come ideas that at the time may be dismissed as too academic. One of those ideas was that women were as smart as men and could do the jobs that men did just as well.

"When I graduated from college, fewer than five percent of medical school students were women; vet schools and law schools had even less. Today, my granddaughter, your granddaughters, your children, all make up more than 50 percent of students in these bastions of higher education. So those who persisted in this notion that women should be treated equally prevailed, and while I could argue that we still have a ways to go with "equal pay for equal work," I again point out that this "theory" of equality was rooted and matured in our universities and it has permanently changed our society.

"Now another "academic" concept introduced even earlier than that was that access to education and a better future should be possible for the general population — not just the well off. Thus, the great land grant institutions were established, such as the University of Hawaii, and they emerged to teach a broader spectrum of the population not only the great books and languages of Western civilization, but also what was called then the agricultural and mechanical arts. And it advanced with the uniquely American community colleges with open doors and low tuition that ensured that anyone with the desire and the determination could attain a post-secondary education and training. That was unique for the United States. Most countries don't have that. Subsequently, many institutions were further shaped by public policies, such as the GI Bill and Title IX, the groundbreaking legislation resulting from the work of Hawai'i's own Patsy Mink.

"As we advance the nation's international goals, we also look to education as a tool to advance democracy. In the future, all great universities will be global universities. Fortunately, the University of Hawaii already is. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton acknowledged this in her recent speech here at the East-West Center. She cited the transformative influence of a University of Hawai'i alumna who spent years working on rural development, micro-finance and women's welfare. This woman recognized that educating women in particular could revolutionize how money and power are distributed and provide a ladder to success for those to come. Her ideas did not make her personally wealthy, but they changed many lives for the better. This alumna was none other than Ann Dunham, the mother of President Barack Obama.

"So what do these examples demonstrate? Well, one thing they demonstrate is that you cannot put a price on the value of innovative ideas; you can't command that great ideas appear; you can't quantify necessarily what it means to have a well-educated public. However, states can make it easier for universities to adapt in order to accomplish these aims.

"They also demonstrate that we should appreciate what makes public universities great, and realize what our world would be without them. We should appreciate and honor the numerous individuals that make public universities what they are — the faculty, the students, administrators, staff and alumni who are our greatest and most valuable assets, enduring and resilient.

"So, while I talk today about the important role that the University of Hawaii plays and the significant return on your investment that it provides, especially in the midst of this recession, I urge you to think of all those who have directly helped the University of Hawaii in our recently completed Centennial Campaign. This campaign attracted 90,000 donors — 50,000 of them new — and it raised $336 million, largely for students and faculty.

"The Legislature itself is a perfect example that we're doing something right. Nearly 70 percent of you are University of Hawaii alumni. And, I should also point out that all four of our Congressional delegates are University of Hawaii alums. So would all the Members of the Legislature who attended or are alums of the University of Hawaii please stand? And now would all UH alumni please stand? There is no better way to say that we are you.

"So nearly two-thirds of all jobs in the country need some postsecondary education, and it's estimated that by 2015, 44 percent of Hawai'i's jobs will require some form of education and/or training beyond high school, with many jobs requiring a baccalaureate degree or higher. Of course, all will require periodic retraining and continuing education. Returning to a learning environment over the span of one's working life now is the norm, and it will become more so as we plan for the economic necessities that come with improved life spans and productivity.

"Our competitor economies know this and several have been steadily increasing their resources so that their citizens have access to advanced education, putting them ahead especially in some areas of science and technology.

"The level of degree attainment in leading developed nations — including Canada, Japan, and Korea — is rapidly increasing. Their younger populations are significantly better educated than their older populations. Unfortunately this is no longer true in the United States, and it's not true here in Hawai'i. I say to you, we must change this.

"Hawai'i has a unique integrated system of public higher education which is unlike any other state. This is an extraordinary asset and we have to tailor it for the 21st century. Let me underscore that the advantages of our unique system are great with a few student examples. So let me tell you about a few students.

"Malia Davidson dropped out of college and then returned after having children. She finished Maui Community College and then obtained a University of Hawaii Mānoa bachelor's degree through the University of Hawai'i Center at Maui. Her struggles were immense. For example, her son passed away a few months before her graduation. Nevertheless, she commuted from Maui to O'ahu, earning a master's degree from UH Mānoa. Now Malia says, "…it is the aloha at UH that perpetuates the sense of belonging, the ability to move ahead and look back regardless of the challenge, to understand one's kuleana in the grand picture of life." Today, Malia Davidson is the statewide director of the Native Hawaiian Scholarship Program based out of Maui Community College. This program disburses approximately $1 million a year to serve Native Hawaiians with scholarship support. Malia's here today. Will you please stand, Malia?

"Sarah Naeole, a student on Moloka'i, never had to leave her island to pursue higher education. As a mother of three with a full time job, she was in no position to relocate her family and to move away from the very community in which she wished to use her education. Through the Moloka'i Education Center, she earned her associate degree. Inspired by the positive experience she had with this distance-education course there, she moved on to a bachelor's degree distance-education program administered through the University of Hawaii West O'ahu. Sarah is now director of administration and compliance at the Bay Clinic in Hilo.

"I'll tell you of an even nicer story. Last summer, Kaua'i Community College held its first graduation of students from Ni'ihau in its Facilities Engineering Program. Seven men and one woman graduated. The men in this graduating class were the first men from Ni'ihau ever to receive any college credential.

"Even more, three times a week, students from the University of Hawaii John A. Burns School of Medicine's Homeless Outreach and Medical Education Project, HOME, load up their van and head out to provide free medical care at O'ahu shelters. On holidays, special events are planned to ensure that homeless children enjoy festivities, and they are not excluded from conversations at school about how they celebrated Halloween and Christmas. Several of these students are here today. I'd like to ask them to stand and to tell you further that they will be outside with their van if you're interested in learning more about this program. Will the medical students please stand. Thank you. Thank you for what you're doing. It means a great deal to the community.

"On a slightly lighter note, we also transform what you eat — and I'd like to recognize our national champion, student culinary team from Kapi'olani Community College. Several members are here today. Good luck with the next competition, which is on the way.

"So these stories vividly illustrate that higher education does have the power to change the trajectory of a life. They also show that our students and our campuses give directly back to the community in service.

"I've been privileged myself to have made my career as an educator and a researcher, and I have served five institutions. I care passionately about higher education, as it transformed my life. I would not be here today if it had not been for supportive friends, talented faculty, and most importantly, for the kindness of anonymous benefactors that helped me finance my undergraduate career. If it had not been for a state Regents scholarship program and a forward-looking National Defense Education Act loan forgiveness program, it's not likely that I could have gone on to graduate school. If it hadn't been for federal, state and foundation competitive research funding, I would never have had the credentials to be eligible for the great honor of serving this University and this State.

"So the concept that public education benefits the entire state and the nation and not just the individual, is more important today than it has ever been. And I urge you that we all ensure that this generation has every opportunity to reach their aspirations. Because without them, we're all going to see a diminished quality of life here in Hawai'i.

"So I'd like to talk for awhile about where we are today. As you know, both the University and the State have had to make very difficult choices in this troubled economy. We needed to adjust very rapidly, and as we stabilize, we must also move forward wisely, and confidently.

"Those of us within the University of Hawai'i know that we must continue to earn the public's confidence as the sole provider of public higher education in Hawai'i, and one way to do this is by demonstrating a responsible management of resources entrusted to us by the State. And we have worked hard to leverage our unique capabilities as a system and become more efficient administratively. For example:

- The University of Hawaii implemented the first electronic procurement and purchasing card systems in the State, as well as online systems for most human resources processing, student employment and streamlined inventory management.

- We implemented a new integrated system-wide student information system that replaced 10 separate older systems, and we are now implementing new open-source systems for financial management and research administration.

- The use of online learning technologies is allowing us to accommodate our burgeoning student enrollment without a proportionate increase in classrooms.

"Furthermore, all of our campuses have initiated sustainability and energy reduction programs. These initiatives have saved millions of dollars, they produced greater efficiencies, transparency and accountability.

"So I say to you, we all know what is at stake, so I would like to focus more on what we are doing for ourselves and what we must further do together to ensure that the University of Hawai'i will be here to serve the state and its citizens for the next 100 years and beyond.

"An important way that we have been proactive rather than reactive is in our strategic planning. The University of Hawai'i, I was very pleased to have discovered this, has been engaged for a number of years in a serious systematic assessment of our institution's strengths and weaknesses — academic, organizational and operational, and the needs of the State. We have developed a strong strategic plan that clarifies and articulates our promises and priorities, it ensures they're in the State's best interest as we collectively plan for our preferred future. We are finding new ways to manage costs and to secure additional and diverse revenue streams to get us there. And, importantly, we measure our progress against these goals.

"We are focusing our attention on three broad strategic objectives that will serve the state well into the future and they are:

1. Increasing the number of educated citizens in the State of Hawai'i;

2. Contributing to the workforce and the economy; and

3. Advancing the University of Hawai'i's reputation for excellence and its ability to build the State's capacity.

"First, increasing the number of educated citizens. Now, President Obama, recently has asked Congress to create the American Graduation Initiative to help bring the United States back to being the world leader in the number of citizens with higher education.

"So today, I am announcing that we will create the Hawai'i Graduation Initiative to increase the number of college graduates by 2015 by 25 percent. Thank you. The Hawai'i Graduation Initiative will focus on access, affordability and student success. Simply put, we want more local students to attend and graduate from the University of Hawaii.

"Be assured, the University of Hawai'i is committed to increasing Hawai'i's "educational capital" by increasing the participation and success of students, particularly Native Hawaiian, those from lower-income, and those from underserved regions of the State.

"We are committed to supporting the access and success of Native Hawaiians. We are making headway and we are fortunate that we have good partners along this path. For example, the community colleges, through the Achieving the Dream initiative and with the support from OHA and Kamehameha Schools, have increased Native Hawaiian student enrollment by over 50 percent and are working to ensure that every one of these students can succeed.

"Increasing our educational capital also means helping students overcome affordability barriers to higher education. We have made extraordinary strides this year in helping our students receive the aid they are eligible for and we have quadrupled our financial aid reserves for Hawai'i residents. This year, we have over 13,000 students awarded the Federal Pell Grant, far exceeding our 2009 goal by almost 42%. With the dedicated work of our staff, we have already awarded nearly $50 million in financial assistance to our students this year. Thank you.

"Increasing our educational capital means strengthening the pipeline every step of the way. It means that it's necessary to increase the college going rates from public and private schools, which we are doing. A good example, and one of Hawai'i P-20's many initiatives is Step Up, a campaign to raise awareness about the importance of a rigorous high school curriculum for students who hope to go to college and succeeding careers.

"I had a chance to meet one of these students, Joshua Labajo, a freshman at Waialua High School where he is already taking geometry and honors classes in preparation for college. He hopes to major in electrical engineering and, along with his classmates, is now encouraging other high school students to sign the Step Up pledge.

"We will continue our work with the Hawai'i Department of Education to better prepare students to enter and succeed in college.

"We'll work through the Hawai'i P-20 to create an electronic portal so that intermediate and high school students, and I stress, intermediate and high school students, and their parents can see what classes they need to take to enroll at our colleges, can apply automatically, and learn about financial assistance.

"We will also create dual enrollment tracks in technical fields so that students can move very smoothly from the Department of Education programs into the technical programs within our community colleges.

"We will be launching a spectacular private-partner pilot initiative thanks to the generosity of a wonderfully insightful friend of our State, Mr. Jim Lally. Yes, he's a wonderful guy, but he couldn't be here this morning. Our new scholarship program has been initiated at Kaua'i Community College. It targets students who otherwise could not go to college and it helps them go to our Kaua'i campus. Then, it guarantees that they will continue to receive support through their bachelor's degree if they succeed in college and continue to do the work. So we're very excited about that.

"Now the University of Hawai'i's second strategic objective is to continue to contribute positively to the workforce and the economy.

"As has been true in times past, these difficult economic conditions tend to drive up college enrollments. This year, we enrolled the largest number of students in the history of the University of Hawai'i – 58,000 students.

"Many of these students are entering the fields in which the State still has a critical workforce shortage, including teaching, nursing, computing, engineering, social work and hospitality. We are addressing these shortages and attracting additional private support to help us.

"In this 21st century, there will be new types of jobs and people will need education to transition from one career to the next.

"And no longer is it the case that the average age of the college-going population is 18 to 20 years of age. At West O'ahu, the average student age is now 30. We must be prepared, especially in a state like Hawaii, to address the educational and training needs of adults who are entering college for the first time, who are returning to complete their education after some years, and who are seeking a fresh start through retraining.

"UH stands well ahead, well ahead of many other universities in terms of our coordination and efficiency as one system. We have excellent system-wide academic collaboration, and expanding online programs that I described a little earlier that serve both new and returning students.

"But I'm here to tell you that with all we do for our students and our programs we do much, much more. UH, the University of Hawaii, adds money, jobs and talented people to the State's economy. We accomplish this by:

- Increasing external research and training funding — which directly creates jobs and brings money into our State — over $414 million this past year alone;
- We are also addressing research needs specific to our State and the region;
- We enable a quick response to business and industry training needs;
- We are promoting "spin-offs," licenses, and invention disclosures;
- And finally, for every dollar the State spends, we leverage at least $5.34 of additional spending in the State.

"But there is always room for improvement.

"So while we have successful examples of technology transfer, which I described earlier, I believe we can do more. Today we need an approach that incorporates innovation, as well as technology transfer. We must help new businesses to emerge and older ones to innovate. We must manage, and not control, technology transfer for the good of the State. We need a new approach. Our federal research and training enterprise has quadrupled in the past decade, and we have to stay ahead of this curve.

"Therefore, within the next 60 days, I will appoint a Presidential Advisory Group of Experts to study our successes, our challenges, our opportunities, with an eye toward understanding how the best universities at this have achieved their impact. I will ask the group to advise us on the steps the University should take to create a 21st century capability for innovation and technology transfer, to support what could easily be a multi-billion dollar research industry in Hawai'i, spin-offs and related services.

"The third broad objective, one that will have far-reaching impact and is very, very important, is to advance the University of Hawai'i's national reputation for excellence and its ability to build the State's capacity further.

"And here I say the State of Hawai'i needs and deserves a 21st century public university, one with superior facilities to attract and retain the best faculty for high quality teaching and research, and one with educational and administrative processes that deliver services efficiently and effectively.

"Your help with our new Cancer Center helps us gain a new facility and advances cancer care in the State, and your support to advance the next great telescope, the Thirty Meter Telescope, will bring at least a billion dollars to our State.

"But we have a very big problem. Decades of inadequate investment in our facilities are hindering the University of Hawai'i in this regard. This limits what our faculty and students can achieve, it reduces federal investment in our institution, and as the Gartley Hall situation demonstrates, it can even threaten the health and safety of our students, faculty and staff. This must change.

"Infrastructure improvements also have a bearing on the University's ability to recover costs to maintain support for extramurally supported research. As I reported to the House Finance Committee recently, federal indirect cost rates, that's earned overhead, are negotiated, and the University of Hawaii's rate of 36.7 percent, on the Manoa campus in particular, is very low. For comparison, the University of Washington's rate is 58 percent. Many factors influence indirect cost rates, but the level of investment in facilities is a major component. Thus, the poor condition of our facilities, particularly at Mānoa, has a far-reaching effect on our ability to help ourselves to leverage external funds, and to add to the economy, to create jobs and to produce the research and student opportunities we expect of a 21st century university.

"So let me also point out that monies spent on repairs, maintenance and construction are a triple bottom line for the State. They lead directly to jobs for Hawai'i's unemployed construction workers. They provide the support to allow our staff and faculty to compete for additional funding, and they allow us to help ourselves for the future by better leveraging the external funds that we are awarded for research and training.

"In my opinion, no other State investment will have so many immediate benefits while paving the way for a long term growth of research, education and training.

"In short, we must renovate to innovate. We must energize and optimize our workforce, and this is one investment that we can monitor, we can enhance and it will be a lasting legacy.

"So today, we announce Project Renovate to Innovate.

"And our goals are, rather simply but broad and large, to rebuild infrastructure, bring indirect cost rates in line with the peer institutions across the country, increase the creation of small and other businesses based on the University of Hawaii's technology developments.

"The University has achieved a truly extraordinary growth in extramural funding, as I mentioned, over $400 million in contracts and grants for research and training in the last fiscal year and over $270 million in the first half of this year alone. If the current rate of growth can be sustained for the remainder of the decade, it would yield the State a billion dollars a year in 2020. A billion.

"Make no mistake that we will need additional funding in the future to achieve growth and support the faculty and staff who make all this possible will need. But we know the challenges that all of you are facing in this Session, and that's why our operating budget request is modest and we have focused on general obligation bond support for shovel-ready capital renovations and improvements. Our immediate goals are to improve our campus environment for students, enhance our volume of federal and private support, and spur job creation to help stimulate the local economy.

"We believe that providing general obligation bond support right now is so important that we wish to look to a new emergency partnership with the State of Hawai'i. We do not have the revenue streams to support more revenue bonds in this recession, but if it will aid in securing general bond funds, the University will pledge to pay a share of the interest on a general obligation bond for a period of 5 to 7 years in order to get these jobs on the streets as fast as possible and begin the process of renovating and building to ensure that we can innovate and optimize.

"In addition, we urge you to give us as much flexibility as you can because we need to operate efficiently and effectively as a 21st century knowledge-based institution, which will allow us to focus the resources we do have on our education, research and service mission. Not on unnecessary bureaucracy. We will accept this greater flexibility with a commitment to responsibility and full accountability.

"So in conclusion, I hope our message has been clear. The University of Hawaii is an investment that yields superior returns in both financial and human capital. We are a state that in the past has had the foresight to build this unique system of 10 campuses and additional centers working throughout our islands and communities.

"It took a century of hard work to enable the University of Hawaii System to serve so many citizens of our State. We have educated the diverse groups that have come to call Hawai'i home. We have embraced, and are strengthening, our unique responsibility to the indigenous people of Hawai'i, the Native Hawaiians. We need to be sure that we can pass this centennial legacy on. So we need a new partnership with the State, a vibrant partnership, a partnership that will lead to a preferred future, a future that so many in Hawai'i are looking for. With your help, we can help ourselves meet this challenge and be the innovative, forward-looking University of Hawai'i that the State so, so richly deserves.

"I look forward to working with you. Thank you."

Speaker Say then rose and stated:

"President Greenwood, on behalf of the State House and Senate, thank you very much for your remarks today. We realize that in times of fiscal constraint, the challenges to higher education and Hawaii's University System are formidable. However, we must also remember that if we sacrifice Hawaii's future for the requirements of today, we sacrifice greatness for the sake of mediocrity.

"Visionaries see opportunity in the face of adversity. So too must you see this time as an opportunity to maximize efficiency, while preserving quality education and research. Look beyond how to do the same with less, and instead look toward how to do more with less, and do it better. We know that you are up to the challenge. Aloha.

"If there is no other business before us, I declare this Joint Session, adjourned."

At 12:53 o'clock p.m., Speaker Say declared the Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature adjourned.

At 12:00 o'clock midnight, the House of Representatives adjourned until 12:00 o'clock noon, tomorrow, Thursday, February 4, 2010.

ELEVENTH DAY

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2354, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE FRAUD," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Yamane, for the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 93-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2829, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2829, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this bill. This bill requires hospitals to disclose infection rates; and protects patient privacy rights.

"Hospitals in Hawaii have begun to address this issue, individually and through the Healthcare Association of Hawaii's Patient Safety and Quality Committee. This committee will address the issue of hospital-acquired infections, as well as other quality and patient safety issues faced by hospitals and other health care providers. Additionally, the Patient Safety and Quality Committee has created an Acute Care Data Subcommittee that is responsible for defining, analyzing, and formatting quality and safety measures and projects pertinent to acute care hospitals. Among other information, the subcommittee is considering infection control guidelines issued by the Centers for Disease Control and other agencies. The subcommittee will develop a strategy that all of Hawaii's hospitals can support.

"As the Department of Health pointed out, this legislative short-cut mechanism comes at an inopportune time when hospitals can least afford to respond to a 'knee-jerk' legislative mandate. According to the Department, "State administrative rules already require data reporting for infections listed in the bill while other administrative rules also require facilities to have active infection control programs. Medicare's certification requirements require that Medicare approved hospitals and nursing homes have active infection control programs and national accreditation bodies such as the Joint Commission require infection control programs. All of Hawaii's hospitals and nursing homes are Medicare certified and all of Hawaii's major hospitals and medical centers are accredited."

"It is best to let the hospitals continue their work to create a reasonable, workable transparency mechanism that will guarantee the greatest degree of success possible in providing quality healthcare for Hawaii's people."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2829, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative Finnegan voting no.

Representative Takumi, for the Committee on Education presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 94-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2075, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2075, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EARLY LEARNING COUNCIL," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Takumi, for the Committee on Education presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 95-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2073, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2073, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support with reservations of H.B. 2073 – which authorizes the Department of Education to adopt rules and assess fees for parking on roadways and in parking areas under its jurisdiction, except for school-related functions and activities.

"Although this measure would serve as a source of revenue to benefit the Department of Education and indirectly our students, these fines would impact positive community groups such as the Boy Scouts. These educational facilities are where some of the best work in our communities is done. Schools and other DOE property have proven to be a place of congregation for many community members, and these fees will serve costly for individuals who are benefitting the community.

"As stated by the Board of Education, this bill would, "generate a source of additional revenue to benefit public education and public schools", we need considering our current economic situation, but I would like to know how the Department of Education plans to implement and monitor these fees. I believe that this bill could prove to be more complicated in action than it seems on paper.

"In order for HB 2073 to be effective and efficient, cooperation, communication and clarification are essential. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2073, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Tsuji, for the Committee on Agriculture presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 96-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2393, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2393, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of this bill, but would like to express some reservations. Basically, it's a good program, but it's just not a good time to start a new program with generous tax credits. This is not really so much for agriculture per se, but for agriculture processing on agricultural land. But I voted with reservations on several measures in the Committee because they entail the formation of new funds and also the formation of several new fees. I'm strongly for agriculture, but I hate to see more fees assessed upon our farmers and the agricultural community. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2393, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 97-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2447, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Legislative Management.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2447, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Legislative Management, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Stand. Com. No. 97-10 with brief comments. Three reasons we shouldn't audit DBEDT and its overseas offices. Number 1, they are already in the cycle of being audited regularly as all departments are. Secondly, if there is some problem with DBEDT because of other personality conflicts, we should not be putting that as one of the reasons for it. And thirdly, the overseas offices are the engine of the future of our economy, Mr. Speaker, China, in particular. To now cast a doubt as to the advocacy and the efficiency of the Chinese overseas office, I think is just bad policy, and using taxpayers money to do something that's already being done, I think is too much of a vindictive reaction rather than a substantive, objective approach to economic development. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, a no vote please. Mr. Speaker, I have found the Auditor's reports to be less than impartial, and I don't see that this makes any sense to continue going after DBEDT and going after its director. It's unseemly in my mind, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. The purpose of the bill is to require the Auditor to conduct a management and financial audit of DBEDT's out of state offices, at least every two years. The fact that they're out of state and some of these are overseas, it would seem prudent that we look at how the money is being spent, so I think this is a real viable request. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition [sic] to H.B. 2447 - Relating to Out-Of-State Offices. This bill must be looked at through equitable eyes. I believe in these formidable economic times the State Legislature must support DBEDT and not try to entangle one of our States most abundant sources of revenue. I fear that this bill might harm DBEDT and the State of Hawaii on current and future projects by conveying a message of weakness and doubt in DBEDT. Now is the time to support DBEDT, not cast a shadow on them. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will be voting with reservations. I believe that the cost of the audit will be assessed against DBEDT and I think that's rather unusual. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2447, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OUT-OF-STATE OFFICES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Legislative Management, with Representatives Thielen and Ward voting no.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 98-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2351, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Transportation.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2351, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VETERANS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Transportation.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 99-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1965, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1965, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, I just want to note my reservations on Stand. Com. No. 99-10, Relating to Historic Preservation, with a couple comments. What this bill does is it requires an archaeological inventory survey prior to the sale or offer of sale of any undeveloped property in this State. I just wanted to flag this just as a concern since not too long ago, we passed a historic preservation bill that related to taking pictures before the sale of a home was made, and that caused a lot of problems for people trying to sell their homes, as well as give it to family members.

"So I just wanted to express concerns that I hope that if this bill goes through, that it does not hurt our economy in any way and we can find some type of compromise that can still promote the purpose of this bill without hindering our economy."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, severe reservations on this same measure. The other bill that we ultimately repealed brought the building industry to a halt in a critical time when we needed to have those jobs and that construction going on in the economy. I don't like to see us go down the very same road only now, with a larger tract of land."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations, and I think it has a good idea on the premise of this bill, but I think that SHPD is already burdened financially and it would be very difficult. I just want to ask for additional written comments," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support with reservations of H.B. 1965 – which requires an archaeological inventory survey prior to the sale or long-term lease of any undeveloped property in the State.

"Being the founder of the Heritage Caucus, I strongly believe that all steps should be taken to ensure the preservation of historic land and properties, yet I feel as if these archaeological inventory surveys may be redundant of other programs. As stated by the Historic Hawaii Foundation, "it is unclear how the new requirement…would be integrated with other planning."

"A concern arises that there is no reference to differences in land size and the implications that may come about from land size in this measure. However, this is an issue that I feel can be quickly resolved. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. With reservations, Mr. Speaker. This bill would require an inventory of all undeveloped lands and I think it's much too broad as presently written. I think if it were somehow more clearly defined it would not be as expensive or onerous. So I look forward to future Committees weighing in on this issue. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of Standing Committee Report 99-10. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate the Committee passing this measure for the discussion mainly because there have been incidences where realtors have sold property, undeveloped property, not knowing the findings of our kupuna iwi and cultural sites, and therefore have come to a situation where when they plan to develop or build on that property, they cannot because it was disclosed.

"So purely this measure will help before any buyer purchases the land that they are aware that there are possibilities of cultural sites or archaeological sites, as well as the kupuna iwi because we have had situations where people who have purchased properties have come across that situation. Thank you, very much."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"In support with reservations. Thank you. I appreciate the comments made by the previous speaker and I do support the intent of this particular measure. The reason why I voted with reservations in the Committee really is for one purpose, and that is there is no definition of the size of the land parcel. I had some concerns regarding very small parcels. So as the Water and Land Committee begins to look at this, because the Chair of Economic Development said, in terms of our jurisdiction, it was only pertaining to what we see here today. I encourage the Water and Land Committee to take a look at that issue and maybe we can resolve this particular concern that I have. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm standing in support. We were in our Economic Development Committee talking about economic development, and the pertinence of this bill can't be underestimated because what happens is undeveloped land gets sold to someone. They go out with a vision understanding how they're going to develop it. Then all of a sudden, they discover they can't. So now they're back to square one in terms of their master planning.

"And a very good example and the reason I stood up is to tell everyone about the UH West Hawaii College Campus where the Governor had Executive Ordered 60 acres of State property to UH. They had a plan for a 60-acre campus. When they went on the land and started doing their surveys and understanding what was there, they actually lost 24 acres because of the significant sites that were on that property. So that totally took them back to square one. So it is an economic value and it does impact why people buy land. Without knowing it, it could jeopardize the project. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1965, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 100-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1942, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1942, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VETERANS COURT," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 101-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2185, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2185, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, if I could just submit some written comments for Stand. Com. Report No. 101-10. In strong support," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill moves the primary election date to an earlier time and makes various amendments to absentee ballot laws to be consistent with federal law.

"Although our Caucus introduced a similar bill and it passed out of the Economic Revitalization, Business & Military Affairs Committee by the Representative from Maui, it was my hope that partisanship would be put aside for the sake of those who sacrifice greatly for our country. It now appears, however, that a different bill will move forward instead.

Nevertheless, I am glad that it appears as though the Hawaii State Legislature cares enough to ensure that our military's votes are counted in elections. Supporting the troops means ensuring that their voices are heard and their votes counted."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2185, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTIONS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I just have some reservations on No. 103-10. I think this is a good bill and what this bill does is it give tax credits for residential construction and remodeling. I really hope that the next Committee would consider expanding that to commercial development and remodeling. They're the ones that perhaps might have a little bit more capital to start these projects on a bigger scale so that more workers can have jobs."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2381, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2205, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Aquino rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to request a ruling on a potential conflict on Stand. Com. No. 108-10. My wife is a registered nurse," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On the same measure, I just basically wanted to express a concern. The Board of Nursing opposed this measure and I think it is probably because there is action on a national level to deal with certification and credentialing. This is a significant cost item for hospitals and for people personally. So I think as this goes forward, we ought to consider those things. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, thank you Members for your indulgence. On Stand. Com. No. 108-10, first of all I want to state a potential conflict. I'm a registered nurse," and the Chair ruled "no conflict."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"This bill is Related to the Long Term Care Commission. In a sense I think we created the commission and we gave them a mandate to have a study and to report to us. But for us to be telling them what they should be studying and doing is a little bit inappropriate. They have collected private money with much effort to do this study. So to tell them what they should be including is a little bit presumptuous. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2939, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE LONG TERM CARE COMMISSION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to HB 1932. This bill provides penalties for the misbranding of fish or fish products that result in consumer illness and creates the food misbranding special fund to support Department of Health inspectors investigating incidents of fish or fish products misbranding. This measure has established absolutely no causal link between the alleged problem of mislabeling fish or fish products and the few instances of illness that served as the catalyst for this measure. The lack of supporting testimony of this measure by anyone other than the Teamsters Union, underscores the lack of gravity or widespread impact of this supposed issue. Furthermore, at a time when the State faces so many pressing issues, I cannot in good conscience devote time and legislative energy to an issue whose harm remains unsubstantiated. By putting the mislabeling of fish in statute, this measure falsely implies that the mislabeling fish is the most significant and widespread of harms related to food safety facing the public."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1932, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FOOD LABELING," passed Second Reading and was referred jointly to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce and the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative Finnegan voting no.

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to HB 2723. This bill amends the Food Safety Consultative and Education Program under the Department of Health to include information and education efforts regarding food allergies and anaphylaxis and establishes a "food allergy friendly" restaurant designation program.

"Although this bill has a worthy intent, I believe that we must first determine whether the mandates of this measure are properly a core government function. Ultimately, those who eat at a restaurant share in the responsibility of ensuring that they are eating items that properly fit with their diet. Those individuals who suffer from food allergies must ultimately take responsibility for being careful in what they consume because the risks are too great not to be responsible. Additionally, an entity that addresses these concerns already exists at the Department of Health. I am not averse to considering this kind of service in the future."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Belatti: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with your indulgence and the indulgence of this Body to make a few comments and to ask that we have a moment of silence to close today's proceedings for a son of Hawaii and Makiki who we just lost, Mayor Frank Fasi. I promise my comments will be short.

"Without a doubt, Mayor Fasi had a colorful reputation, alternatively called a firebrand, trailblazer and maverick. He will be remembered for his shaka sign, political posters, and he will be remembered for the many battles he waged, for better or for worse. But in my community and throughout Honolulu, he will surely be remembered for how he stood for the little guy.

"Richard Borreca of the Star-Bulletin recently wrote, "With Fasi there was someone who not only could create needed City services, but understood why they were needed. Satellite City Halls, free summer fun programs, free buses for seniors, community gardens, and open markets all came about because Fasi understood the little guy."

"Mr. Speaker, on behalf of many in my community and throughout the City & County of Honolulu, we are those little guys. In my hanabata small-kid days I was a direct beneficiary of those free summer fun programs and the bus services. Today I continue to be a beneficiary of his legacy with community gardens, farmer's market, and the existence of the Makiki Community Library - the only public library within a City's park system. These things all make living in urban Honolulu a pleasure.

"My condolences to the family of Mayor Frank Fasi. My closing comment would be that as we proceed forward, that we remember many of these great individuals that we lost over the past year and that we remember that we have big shoes to fill, and big shoulders to stand on. So with your indulgence, Mr. Speaker, I ask that we rise for a moment of silence."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with slight reservations and a question on Stand. Com. No. 121-10, Mr. Speaker, which is a good bill because it says we've got to diversify away from automobiles. We've got to get the carbon footprint minimized, but this says it's only going to take alternate electric vehicles as the option. In my district there are a lot of noisy, small, gas, oily additives that go on to bicycles, which seems to be an alternative because it's probably so cheap and you don't have to have the battery so I think if it moves on, this should include those noisy, little things too. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2679, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HYBRID BICYCLES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives M. Lee and McKelvey being excused.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in opposition to this particular bill. This would require a date be stamped on milk as to when it was pasteurized. It already has a date of packaging and so I think this is superfluous and unnecessary. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

No. 2921, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LICENSING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives M. Lee and McKelvey being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 126-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1953, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1953, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, thank you. I am standing in opposition of House Bill 1953. What this bill does is it imposes a general excise tax increase of 1% on the gross proceeds from the sale of real property. The reason I'm in opposition to this bill, Mr. Speaker, is this bill really is a slap in the face to my community. I understand that we introduce bills for discussion and to keep vehicles alive, but I just need to express to the Body what the people in Ewa Beach are feeling right now.

"Ewa Beach is the place that has the highest foreclosure on the Island of Oahu so my residents are really suffering. Not only have they had to deal with the ARM loans that are all being adjusted this year for most people, they are also now dealing with this economy where sometimes not just one breadwinner, but two breadwinners in the house have lost their jobs.

"The reason why this is a bill that's so hurtful to my community is many are just trying to sell their houses at the prices that the bank will allow. Many of them are short sales. Many of them are still in negotiations with the banks asking them to please allow us to sell it under the value that they bought it for just so they can keep their credit clean and not have banks go after them when they still don't have jobs. So to add this extra one percent when the banks are barely agreeing to sell some of the homes now, it really is going to hurt our economy in Ewa Beach and continue to hurt the families further in Ewa Beach."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Pine be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, this is another measure I'm in opposition to. It raises general excise tax 1% and I think it will really increase the cost of our housing. It unfairly singles out the commissions of real estate people and also raises the Conveyance Tax. I think it's egregious and so I would encourage all persons to vote no. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in opposition and just have a short explanation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know in this market in real estate, those who are selling are selling for a reason. And a lot of them, because this is a bad market for those who are selling and it's a buyer's market to get things at a low price. So what you're saying is you're targeting this type of legislation to those who are selling properties right now until 2015. These are the folks who most likely have to sell their properties for one reason or another. One, they can't afford the payment on their properties, or two they have to get the equity out because maybe they can't make a loan.

"So those are the kind of people that you're going to go ahead and say if it's a $400,000 property or gross proceeds, they're going to have to spend another $4,000. If their property is underwater, that is another $4,000 that they're going to have to pay. Mr. Speaker, this is, to me, hitting those who are looking for ways to get out of not being able to afford their home in this kind of real estate market, as well as this kind of economy and I very strongly disagree with this bill."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote for me and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, we have some good news that real estate is actually starting to turn around. There's a 10% increase in prices even though the number of sales is not so good. But if we remember 10 years ago, it was real estate that led the charge to get us out of the doldrums. Right now, if this is what's happening, this would not be the time to either suppress, dampen, or lessen what otherwise could be the beginning of another turnaround because if there is anything we need, it's a turnaround in our economy, and if this is going to affect that. We don't want to be a job killer and a economy downer. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. Brief comments, Mr. Speaker. First of all, this measure, if you actually read the bill it states very clearly that, there is hereby levied and shall be assessed and collected annually a privilege tax against a sole proprietorship, partnership, corporation, or limited liability entity that as a business or part of a business, sells real property owned in fee simple by the sole proprietorship, partnership, corporation, or limited liability entity to another person. The tax shall be equal to 1% of the gross proceeds received for the sale of the real property, less deductions for any, one, commission paid from the gross proceeds by the seller to a real estate broker or salesperson who is subject to the tax under Section 237-136, and two, tax paid under Chapter 247 on the conveyance of the real property.

"So I'm a little bit perplexed as to some of the comments that were brought by the Minority, particularly the Representative from Ewa Beach given the fact the fact that it doesn't necessarily apply to homeowners per se, but the type of business that you're in.

"Secondly and more importantly and I think that this really should be directed to the Representative from Ewa Beach, this bill goes directly towards infrastructure improvements. Infrastructure on West Oahu is something that we all need greatly, and all of the money, the proceeds that will be raised from this tax, would in fact go towards funding of infrastructure, whether its repair and maintenance, or new building infrastructure on all of the respective counties.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support."

Representative Souki rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker and Members, I want to disclose a potential conflict of interest. I'm a realtor and a principal broker," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Souki continued in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, very much. I want to record a no vote on this particular measure. Not only because it affects real estate, the LLCs, and transference of property, and I think that's you're just simply hurting business by doing that. We're supposed to be improving our image for business and this does not improve our image for business.

"And more important, I guess what we're doing is looking at ways to resolve the financial situation that we have. And as we look for a resolution it is somewhat of a déjà vu from the last Session. We're taxing little businesses, and little items here and there. We're getting a little bit of money here, and little bit of money there. We're not really resolving the deficit problem. We're not really resolving the economic situation that we have at all, but exasperating it. So I'm offended with something like this because I think we should be looking at the bigger picture. In due respect to the author of this bill, I think there are better ways to handle the infrastructure situation rather than providing this particular tax. Thank you, very much."

Representative Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Brower rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sagum rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just in rebuttal. I just want to explain to you, Ewa Beach again just so that people understand why after reading the bill very thoroughly, it still affects my residents. In Ewa Beach we have many homes that also are businesses. We're allowed in many areas of Ewa Beach to also have our businesses, and so this bill affects every aspect of the different types of businesses, as well types of living arrangements in Ewa Beach.

"And I have to tell you, infrastructure is extremely important to the people of Ewa Beach, however if we don't own a car anymore because we lost our job, if we don't have a house anymore because we're increasing taxes, and if we don't have a business, having infrastructure really means nothing when you don't really have much anymore because of the things we're doing to the people."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki also be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The Chair then stated:

"Members, may we move on, since by the end of Session, you will probably have an opportunity see a wide array of legislation like this in trying to address the budget shortfall."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, that one almost rolled by me. Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Report 135, I'm a very strong no. I don't believe we should introduce gambling into the State of Hawaii or have it on Hawaiian Homelands. So a very strong no, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in opposition to say that the means do not justify the end. It's a great cause. We want to fulfill what we said in the Organic Act of 1920. The Hawaiians will have a home, and Hawaiians will be put on the land. There's still a waiting list of 25,000. This is a quick fix. It looks like it's good, but let's take note of what's happening in the economy. There are so many states now that said, 'Gambling is our elixir to our budget deficits,' and those states even now are having problems. So this is just a phantom of a savior. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I have had a long standing opposition to gaming for a number of reasons. Having a background in education and making sure that kids grow up in an environment where they know that there are places to go, where they can learn. A healthy environment.

"We know that from the data and from numerous other jurisdictions that when you introduce gaming, what it does is people think it expands the pie, but that's been proven false. It actually divides the pie. When people decide to spend their money, the tourists, etc., spends their money, the local resident, in this case. I know its Hawaiian Homelands, but they spend their money on something like gaming. I might add that the most important determining factor of success is a delayed gratification which goes flying in the face of gaming, but that's okay. It's delayed gratification. When you have gaming, what it does is it takes away from the income of legitimate entertainment and sometimes family entertainment like Bishop Museum, etc., etc.

"I understand when a place like Las Vegas where you have deserts; not much going on. But we're so rich here in Hawaii, rich in our culture, our heritage, our environment. I don't think we need to go this route. Thank you, sir."

Representative Manahan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please register a no vote for me and I'll just reserve my comments for Third Reading."

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. The purpose of this bill is to provide the Department of Hawaiian Homelands with a mechanism, and that mechanism is to allow the beneficiaries who live on Hawaiian Homelands to look at the way that gaming is done by the tribes in the United States.

"I had the privilege of going to Washington State to observe what federal recognition could do for indigenous people. In my research I was surprised because, and I'm not a gambler myself, but I have seen a lot of the benefits in regards to their gaming. They started with bingo, and through that bingo they allowed through the revenues that they reinvested in their community, they built their casino. And through those revenues they were able to build their hotel.

"But what impressed me the most is that this is a tribe that was able to improve their healthcare system. They have their own healthcare insurance. They have a beautiful medical facility, a health center. They promote the arts where there is actually entrepreneurship and the tribe has reinvested that money to encourage more small business owners which are native people. They also have Native construction owners and subcontractors where they're building affordable housing. But more importantly, they are the owners of their cable company, their telephone company, and their electric company and they produce renewable energy selling it outside of the tribe.

"One of the things that I felt so much compassion for is that it's not just their tribal people that go to the casino. It's also the people outside. And the way that they market it, because they realize there is a market for gaming, that actually enhance their quality of life.

"The other thing that I got to see was their social programs. Yes, everyone is saying that there will be social ills around gaming, but I can tell you that in their tribe, they're taking care of it because of the revenues that have been reinvested in their social programs. More importantly, during these economic times their unemployment is very low. Why? Because they're able to support themselves and be self-sustaining.

"Their food source is salmon so they have hatcheries, and they've invested in their natural resources where they actually produce revenue to support their tribe's efforts.

"More importantly, the reason that I brought this forward, as the introducer of this bill, is because I look at the state of our crisis now with our budget. We have to ask ourselves as we deliberate during this Session. I had many conversations across this State with many groups, not just Native Hawaiians. Are we going to tax our people to fulfill the mandate that the State has a fiduciary responsibility to assist putting more Native Hawaiians on their land?

"Even during a question and answer period at our hearing I asked the Department of Hawaiian Homelands, 'How many of our people are on that wait list?' And this is just the fifty percenters or more. He said, almost 26,000 people are on that wait list. I also asked a question, 'How many people are you able to help with the $30 million allocation which was as a result of a lawsuit which goes away in 2015? How many people have you folks been able to put on the land?' And he said it's an estimate between 500 and 1,000."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll continued, stating:

"If you do the math, just based on that 25,000, then you're only going to be able to put maybe 1,000 people for 25 years, and that does not include the many more people that are signing up. It's between a hundred and two hundred every month that people are signing up.

"We have a lot of other Native Hawaiians who are more than half that live in the United States who are looking forward to coming home, especially in their retirement. If you look at the case that just occurred which was the Kalima vs. DHHL, that started in 1999. But the Court ruled that the State must pay damages to Native Hawaiians who are denied access to land with the first official confirmation that thousands of families were harmed by the decades-long delay in distributing homesteads.

"Circuit Court Judge Eden Elizabeth Hifo ruled that the State Department of Hawaiian Homelands is required to place Native Hawaiians on lands set aside for them by the federal government in a prompt and efficient manner.

"I can tell you, my parents took 25 years just to get on their lands. My father is not here today to enjoy it. There are many other Native Hawaiians who fall in that category. We are not actually following our mandate or what the State says in the State Constitution where we have that fiduciary responsibility.

"Members, I'm just really asking you to see the discussion as I put a defective date on this bill to take this bill to Conference to allow for the Department of Hawaiian Homelands to have a meaningful conversation with each of their beneficiaries, and how they can raise money for their Trust. Because if you really look at it, once the $30 million goes away in 2015, they will be coming to the State and that would hinder a lot of our social programs that we will have to look at. And today, the way I see things, we need to be creative and everything's on the table. But if you vote no today, you're really saying you don't want that meaningful conversation.

"I respect my colleagues if you are against gaming. All I'm saying is that there are great models on the mainland. I have been to the Tulalip Tribe in Washington State. I've seen what they have done, and I've seen more positive things. They take care of their social programs because they have the revenue to do so, and their unemployment is much lower. But what I think impressed me the most is when meeting all the people there, that they're very happy and it is possible. So I ask your indulgence to please support this measure and see it through. Through our conversations that we allow the homestead beneficiaries to have that meaningful conversation, because this doesn't force them to have a casino on their homestead. This allows them to decide if its best fit for them.

"And my last point is, I'm not looking at a Las Vegas type of model because I know that the Las Vegas type model doesn't fit Hawaii. I'm looking for a uniqueness where it promotes construction jobs, it'll promote education on our culture, and about Hawaii. And I'd like to see more of our artwork that Hawaiians have done in some of our public places and this is an opportunity for small business entrepreneurs who are Native Hawaiians to provide this kind of avenue. Again, I ask for your support. Thank you."

At 12:55 o'clock p.m. Representative McKelvey requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:55 o'clock p.m.

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, I'm always a little amused when somebody says that we don't want to bring gaming to Hawaii. It's like anybody in this Chamber doesn't think that gambling isn't widespread in this State. If we could get a cut on all of the thousands and thousands of dollars that are going to be wagered Sunday on the Super Bowl, it will certainly improve our economic condition. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, still in opposition, strong opposition. And you know it reminds me when the British sold opium to China. Opium brought down China, right? So when you make something legal, it can bring down great nations. A 5,000 year-old civilization. You have a little and then you want more, right?

"The fact is that with gaming, if you do look at Las Vegas, and I've actually been there, it very much has a lot of things of art. The Bellagio has the beautiful glassworks, so I don't know what the former speaker was talking when she says she wants to do it different from Las Vegas. Las Vegas is sort of this gold standard for gaming, I think. Most people believe that.

"The problem with gaming to me is that when you talk about social ills, it's easy to say I know about the social ills. But we all know that we're all connected, and everything is connected. And when we talk about social ills, few places have the history of the extent of crystal methamphetamine addiction that Hawaii has suffered. I want to make it real for everybody because I think it's real. When you think about gaming and when you have, if you know there is a Gambling Anonymous. There are some people who cannot help themselves. They need to keep on gambling to the point where their kids, their families, are abused. Their kids are left with no money. But to make it very real for you, it wasn't far away from here that a young one was thrown off the freeway because in part, of crystal meth.

"You know this is such a real problem. Hawaii has so much more going for it. And just really as a parent, as a teacher, we are always trying to tell the kids to spend their time wisely. Let's encourage that. You have public television. It's just like television. Not all television is bad. There's public television. Why go the route of Girls Gone Wild? Why go the route of the other lower standard of television? Why go that route when Hawaii has so much to offer. That's what I say. And as you can see, I very strongly oppose this."

Representative Aquino rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Bill 2759 HD1.

"I believe that this bill has good intentions in supporting the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands Trust Fund and the general fund with generous distributions through a wagering tax on gross receipts of proposed casino operations. However, the proposed legislation has several consequences. First, those who may or cannot afford to gamble may be exploited in the hopes of winning – where winning is not guaranteed. Secondly, negative socioeconomic issues such as physical and mental health problems, criminal activity, abuse, and bankruptcy are likely to increase. I believe that allowing gaming to happen in Hawaii will drastically and negatively affect our island communities. For these reasons, I stand in opposition to House Bill 2759 HD1."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I believe in the responsibility of the individual. So whether it's gambling or eating ice cream on school property, it's the responsibility of the individual and that's what we need to be raising in Hawaii."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand with grave reservations. For every successful Indian gaming operation, I'm sure that there are lots of failures too. So we need to look at both sides."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a no vote. I would like the next Committee, as they look at this bill, to remember, if you look at the State of Nevada, which is facing a billion dollar deficit largely out of Clark County where Las Vegas sits, and the unemployment rate currently in Las Vegas is over 13%. So I wish the next Committee would take a look at that."

Representative Takai rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Nishimoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just want to add two comments. I already voted no actually. First, I want to commend the Chair. I wanted to commend the Chair because with that compassion and that plea, if that would have been the tone of this Body for the past 80 years, we wouldn't have the problem with Hawaiian Homes that we have. So I want to commend the Chair to keep that spirit, because that's why we dropped the ball on Hawaiian Homes. But we should also recall over the last 80 years, in the last 8 years, the number of homes that have been built in the last 8 years equals what has been built in the last 80 years, so we're making some progress.

"And secondly, Mr. Speaker, the footnote is this. This does not only affect Hawaiians. It affects everybody in Hawaii. All of us. Not just the Hawaiians. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I commend the Chair for putting such a controversial issue forward, but just advise that we proceed with some caution. I vote with reservations, please."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote and just short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I know a lot of people have been talking about the 'good and bad' of this, and I agree with one of the earlier speakers saying that there are a lot of tribes up there on the mainland that have their issues with gaming as well. I talked to many who have been at legislative conferences that have a lot of social ills. That they're rich in gaming and poor in infrastructure, and poor in education and a lot of other things so we definitely should keep our eyes open on that.

"I also want to say that the Department of Hawaiian Homelands, if I remember correctly, at one point in time, within the last couple of years, they went from $6 million of commercial type special funds increase to about $12 million. So that's almost half of what the Department runs on right now. I think that we should be looking at ways where we can be increasing income for the beneficiaries to have homes for them, but in the same breath, maybe we can do it in other ways, creative ways like the Department is doing right now. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, just a little rebuttal. The comment was made about this being for all people. Just to let everyone know that this bill, should it become realized, 20% would go to the general fund as far as the revenues, and 80% would go in the trust fund.

"And the second point that I wanted to make, Mr. Speaker, again is, what is the cost to the State if this form of revenue making does not take place? If we look at what happened in the Kalima vs. DHHL, they have not settled yet. In an article with the Honolulu Advertiser, our Attorney General says that he has to think about what the next steps are. It's very frightening to know what that settlement would be and if there will be other claims in the future, because the Department of Hawaiian Homelands which has made great strides to be progressive in raising those revenue, but again the cost of building homes and infrastructure is going up. I'm just looking at a long term vision. If gaming is not it, that's fine. But we all must figure out how we are going to fulfill our mandate in our Hawaii Constitution.

"Also along those lines there have been some, I guess I could say, lawsuits in regards to how the lands are being used; if it's being used with commercial leases to non-Hawaiians. Those are some of the complaints that beneficiaries feel that are taking away from their ability to get on the land.

"So the only thing I'm asking here is really to allow for this discussion to take place. To look at ways to raise revenue and to fulfill that mandate, but also know that in the past it was not as progressive because we did not have the funds and that's why many of our people have died while they were on the list. So I appreciate the conversation. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I'm supporting the Representative's proposal. It is almost kind of a relief to have somebody else taking the heat for proposing something that seems to be progressive or unusual. But I do recognize her sincere desire to do something different and do something that will allow for self-determination of the Hawaiians. Her positive experience with gaming with the Indian tribes on the mainland is something we need to take a look at. This is just giving the Hawaiians the opportunity for them to decide if they like to do this for themselves on their lands.

"This is something that we need to look at ourselves, and within ourselves as well. How do we look at ourselves and what do we do to start looking at different ways of bringing in funds? Because right now, we're all in the same boat. We're all facing the same kind of issues and if they have this extra opportunity and they can take a look at it, and they can decide how they can make it their own, then by all means, let's give them that opportunity. Thank you, very much."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I just would like a ruling on a potential conflict. My offspring works for the Board of Education. And Mr. Speaker, can your ruling cover all matters relating to the Board?"

The Chair responded, stating:

"No conflict because of your offspring. And yes, it will cover all at this point in time. Madam Clerk, please note for the record that for all measures dealing with the Board of Education, the Representative has asked for a ruling of a potential conflict and there is no conflict."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker and Members, on the same measure, Stand. Com. No. 141-10, I'm sorry for being a little bit late on this, but I have strong reservations. I believe that the Governor's Office is already too centralized and this is only going to make it more centralized. Thank you, very much."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"May I speak on Stand. Com. No. 141? Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I will make this very quick. On SCR 141, I do support the bill. I just wanted to voice my preferences that, as the Representative from Maui was talking about, the control being too strong with the Governor. I would like to also say that I believe that we do need a more direct and clear accountability and responsibility for the Department of Education or our education system here in Hawaii. These comments go to both Stand. Com. Report Nos. 141 and 142.

"Mr. Speaker, this is not the end all. I believe that there's no one thing that is going to change education and do education reform, but I do believe that we do have mechanisms in place that if we strengthen them, what was in Act 151, that we would be able to get the decentralization that we want. Have accountability and decentralization.

"So the preference that I would like to see is that there is no Board, and the Constitutional question to have the Board be replaced with a Superintendent under the Governor in her Cabinet. But at the same time we need to develop and strengthen Act 151 to get decentralization and more decision making down to the school. That goes for both of those bills. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.B. No. 2376, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives M. Lee and McKelvey being excused; and

H.B. No. 2377, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives M. Lee and McKelvey being excused.

Representative Manahan, for the Committee on Tourism, Culture, & International Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 143-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2315, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Higher Education.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2315, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Higher Education, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with slight reservations on Stand. Com. Report No. 143-10, Relating to the University of Hawaii, basically taking the TIM School and making it separate. Mr. Speaker, my wife is a TIM graduate and throughout the years it has always maintained its really top-notch status. It's always been up there with Cornell and the others. We're in the top five in the nation. What this bill does, I'm not really sure what it's trying to do by making it separate, equal or more able to get funds or whatever. But it seems to be that it's not broken given its national standing, and if it's not broken, I'm not sure why we should be fixing it. So this is a questionable bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. The TIM School is separate right now. We don't want it going into the Business School. Through the Hawaii Hospitality Hall of Fame we raise a lot of money for TIM. If it goes into part of the School of Business, I'm not going to do it anymore."

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. No. 145-10, I would like to vote with reservations. May I say a couple comments? This is a bill that would repeal the sunset provision for a general excise tax exemption. I think our financial climate as a State should be considered in awarding further tax exemptions. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. 148-10, please note my reservations. Should this bill make it out of Finance, I will reserve my comments for then. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I stand in support of HB2319. This bill generally restricts State low-income housing leases to no more than 5 years and requires the Hawaii Public Housing Authority to develop a transition plan, including benchmarks, to assist tenants to transition out of public housing.

"I agree with the goal and intent of this legislation. Programs need to be in place in order to help people transition from low-income housing into long-term, stable housing situations. I also believe that to achieve the intent of this legislation, we should consider future legislation that enables residents of low-income housing to own or rent. Once again, I support this legislation as it underscores the notion that low-income housing was intended to be transitional, not permanent."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise with strong support for this measure, Mr. Speaker. This is the 5-year maximum for public housing. I look at this as a bill of equity and fairness. There is a lot of support for those people that have been in public housing for generations. However, there is no support for those almost 100,000 local residents who are considered the 'invisible homeless,' or the 6,000 that are on the waiting list to get public housing. And there are a lot of residents in this State, Mr. Speaker, that would double up with families because they have no place in public housing. There are those people that are making minimum wage that barely have the means together, but yet they would like to go to public housing.

"It's nice to be in public housing, Mr. Speaker, because you may only be paying $50 a month for rent. But how about those people who go and work every day and make the minimum amount and yet pay taxes. They could also use the benefit of public housing. I think public housing should be transient housing to give equality and fairness to all the people of Hawaii. I want to let you know that they have a preference for homeless at any given day at a homeless shelter, Mr. Speaker, because I visited them, 60 to 90% of those people that we're fast tracking into public housing are not local residents. And we know who that class of people are, Mr. Speaker. This bill will provide equity to our citizens who have worked and lived and paid taxes in our beautiful State. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Carroll rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, brief comments in support please. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, this will set up an automated victim notification system whereby the victim can give her telephone, or her email address, or her 'snail mail' address to the Department and then the victim will be notified when the felon has escaped, or is discharged, or is released on temporary leave. It's a safety matter Mr. Speaker, and I believe it's a very good bill and deserves to pass. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. I have strong reservations on this bill concerning plastic bags in markets. I said 'with reservations' but I will be voting no. I also have reservations. But it's just that my grocery bill is sky high and there's only me and my husband. It's going up all the time and so I think this will increase cost to me and everybody who eats. I think we should go slow on this to perhaps consider it when the economy improves. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I agree with the previous speaker. I vote with serious reservations because we should be putting Hawaii's families first. The cost of living is already high upon them. The first thing that families fight for is money. The first thing that we know, we've got domestic violence that's reaching out. I know that this is not a direct correlation, but it's all these small little things that we 'nickel and dime' the people of Hawaii for, forgetting that the family and all the aloha that we want for them suddenly disappears by this piecemeal method.

"So, Mr. Speaker, this is very questionable. It's more money than the bottle bill, quite frankly. It's 10 cents for one bag. I think the constituency is going to blow back on this one. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I have strong reservations."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. No. 153-10, I have strong reservations on the basis that it will increase the cost of doing business, and I think we can look for better ways to resolve this plastic problem rather than increasing the cost of doing business in Hawaii. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I have a ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a member of the Hawaii Army National Guard," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Takai continued in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to speak against this measure. Thank you. Just briefly, Members, this proposes to eliminate the uniform maintenance allowance from the Hawaii National Guard. I only caution us as we move this forward because it just sends a really strong message of not supporting the Guard. You may know, or you may not know, that because of the budget crisis, the Adjutant General, General Lee, has made significant reductions and restrictions in some of the benefits that we have for many years provided members of the National Guard, including the State sponsored tuition assistance program, gone. And including this uniform maintenance allowance, gone.

"What I would recommend is we keep this on the books and when times get better we continue to support our Guard members in this way. So for those reasons, I don't support it and I recommend to Finance and my colleagues that we take a look at this as it moves on. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in support. In researching this issue on uniform maintenance allowance, there was a lot of discussion about how long it's been on the books. In the old days the uniforms were such that they had to get them dry cleaned and pressed, but nowadays they're 'wash and wear.' So what was a very good idea in some ways is not necessary anymore. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2344, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNIFORM MAINTENANCE ALLOWANCE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Takai voting no, and with Representatives M. SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Evans, seconded by Representative Pine and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain House Bills for Third Reading by consent calendar. (Representatives M. Lee and McKelvey were excused.)

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 1853:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1853, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Souki rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker and Members of House, I wish to declare a potential conflict of interest. I'm a member of the Board of Directors of Maui Soda that produces Roselani ice cream. Mr. Speaker, I want to say I was going bring some over, but I don't know if I'm going to bring it now if we vote against this. Thank you, very much," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm voting in opposition. You know, it's kind of funny because if you talk to my kids they'll probably be very surprised as to why I'll be voting against this. In my home we have no soda. In my home we don't have any juice. In my home we rarely have any candy. And in my home, if we do have ice cream, we have Skinny Cow ice cream. They tell me about how we eat cardboard all the time, but now they like the cardboard.

"So you might ask, why would she be against this? I allow my kids to eat candy and potato chips, but I tell them, not at home. If you do you choose you're going to buy your own. We're going to buy it outside. We might have a hamburger outside, but when we're at home we should really try to eat healthy because that's the responsible way of caring for yourself and others within the house. So we try very hard.

"The problem I have with this and legislation like this is that it doesn't necessarily help the student or people make the right decisions. In fact, when we first started with my child and saying, 'No you cannot eat any candy,' he used to sneak candy and that's what kids do. They'll go right outside the gate to the manapua man.

"It also makes it very difficult for kids, or parents, or teachers for a birthday celebration, or you did well on your test. Or maybe the teacher may just want to say, here's a candy, a somewhat healthy kind of candy and I'm going to incentivize you with that. I probably wouldn't like that either, but it works for some kids.

"What we're saying here is, 'No. Absolutely not. Do not give the students the ability to learn about these choices.' That's one of the main reasons why when it comes to these kinds of laws, I have a difficult time.

"Let me even share another story really quick. When I was having trouble and the pounds on the scale were going up, and it goes up and down all the time. But I went to Weight Watchers and Weight Watchers didn't necessarily tell me, 'No. You cannot have soda. No. You cannot have all of those things.' What they do is they teach you how to make healthy choices and they tell you that if you're going to have this, then you can't necessarily have this. And when you eat one little thing of candy, it's equivalent to two huge servings of broccoli. What's going to sustain you better and give you nutrition?

"So, Mr. Speaker, this kind of law, although very well intentioned, and I can agree with the premise and the motivation, I just can't see passing this kind of legislation. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, thank you very much. I wasn't too sure if I was going to accept the speech of the Minority Leader as my own. I don't think you can assume that much as we move along.

"First of all I oppose this measure. Mr. Speaker, it's not because I represent a business that produces the finest ice cream in the Nation. Sorry, I didn't mean to advertise. But to take away ice cream from a child, I can't see anything more unforgivable than that; to take ice cream from a child.

"I remember when I was in public school, I looked forward to that day when ice cream was served, and a child won't have that opportunity. Probably at home they don't serve ice cream, and in a lot of the homes, or for the homeless, or the unemployed. But anyway, the choice should be for the child.

"What is even more disturbing is we are again making policy for the Board of Education. This decision should be with the Board. My understanding is they contacted the Chairman to put the legislation through because they didn't want seem to be like the 'Scrooge,' so now we become the 'Scrooge.' We tell the children, 'You can't have ice cream.' The principle of policymaking should be by the Board. We gave them that policymaking power some years ago.

"To deny a child something should not be our role. It should be the role of the Board of Education, and I believe they can do that either through rules or through the policymaking powers that they already have. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this measure. Thank you. First I spoke to my constituent here watching me today, and he thinks that I'm crazy if I'm going to support this measure.

"Seriously, Mr. Speaker. Before I begin, I just want to mention that I do not like ice cream and I do not eat candy. I look this way for other reasons. And that is the truth, Mr. Speaker. But let me just explain my concern. If you take a look at the intent of the federal law in Section 1, it talks about the school day. This federal law requires certain practices and policies for schools across the country during the school day. And I brought up during the Education hearing that my concern is really with after-school activities, namely athletic events. Can you imagine, Mr. Speaker, a football game at the Bino Neves Stadium in Pearl City, where they will be because of this law, restricted from selling certain things?

"I think we need to take a look at this law very carefully because nowhere in Section 304A-1146 does it say that this restriction is just during the school day. In fact it says it shall be lawful for any public school. And as we know, smoking on school campuses, the prohibition on smoking on school campuses is not just during the school day. It's for all activities related to schools, whether it's a political fundraiser or a community event or an athletic event coming on to the school grounds. It is illegal. I look at this and I do not see any exceptions to these types of sales after school hours. That is the reason why I am very concerned about this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I think some of my colleagues are misreading the bill. This bill does not ban the sale of ice cream or candy in the State Capitol so I wouldn't worry about that. So you can still partake in that. And as I look around at some of the Members, I can see they take full advantage of that fact. But I digress, Mr. Speaker.

"I wish my good friend, the Representative that neighbors me in the following district, actually read the bill. Section 302A-1146, it shall be unlawful for any public school without the written permission of the Department to operate stores or to sell merchandise, and so on, and so forth.

"In other words, Mr. Speaker, the Department grants exceptions to sell these items at athletic events, as they do. They sell soft drinks at athletic events even though it is the Board's policy that soft drinks are not sold in vending machines in school, they have granted an exception to certain events that are either held at school campuses or outside of that.

"Secondly and more importantly, should this bill pass, the Department shall adopt rules subjected to Chapter 91. In other words, if this bill should pass and get signed into law or become law, the Department will have to go and promulgate rules and at that time, as we all know with Chapter 91, they'll have public input and so on and so forth. I can assure you when people are told that this will impact fundraising and athletic events and all the rest of it, they will certainly take that into account.

"But in all seriousness, Mr. Speaker, I think we all realize that juvenile diabetes or prediabetic children in our country is not just a minor problem. It is an epidemic that is going to have a huge health and fiscal impact in our Nation in the years to come. That is why the United State Department of Agriculture has promulgated a Public Law that basically says that schools should not sell foods or serve foods with minimum nutritional value. Now I guess we can argue whether or not candy and ice cream and those items have nutritional value, but that is the Public Law as the Feds have cited.

"So again, in all seriousness, vote your conscious on this one. I didn't realize this was going to be such a controversial bill, but again, the Department will have to promulgate rules to determine if, when and where these items can be sold. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am standing in opposition. I do eat ice cream and candy, and I enjoy it very much. But that's not why I'm standing in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I think in regards to looking at this issue, I go back to what the good Chairman of Transportation, the Representative from Maui stated. This should be done at the Board level. I think it should be done opposite. That if individual schools want their school or their programs to have no ice cream or candy, that the request should be on their part requesting the Department to allow them to ban it or not serve it on their campuses, rather than us making this policy call. Eliminating that option and then having the Department with the discretion to decide if a school, or schools, or district is allowed to have it per event or activity. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this bill is micromanaging. It's dithering with education policy and it deserves to be postponed indefinitely until we get our kids back in school."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. Once again, as the Chair of Education has talked about, all we're doing is we're giving this option to the Board and to the schools to decide what they want to do as far as making these things available.

"Kids at this age do need to have healthy choices put before them, and the Department of Education has come up with 'Eat a Rainbow' that actually looks at providing fresh fruits and vegetables. If we start providing that, if we start giving them those choices that they can choose from, they will. They will choose healthy foods. They will find the great taste that comes from fresh fruits and fresh vegetables.

"Yes, yes, I know it seems unusual, and maybe something just couldn't happen. But it will if we start making those changes now. If we start making those choices available now to the kids, and what we're proposing with this particular measure is just that we make those choices as one of the things that they need to look at. We need to start sometime and this is a good start. Let's begin by getting to a healthier lifestyle and it is going to be the kids that are going to be the ones that learn, and they're going learn because we give them the choices that really are healthier. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Members, may we proceed on since we have had a lot of discussion on this measure? For those who have submitted your green slips, that's fine. For those who want to speak with reservations or to cast your vote with reservations, you may do so now. I believe the Finance Committee has a hearing at 1:30 so we're already 10 minutes behind schedule. At this time the Chair will allow Members to submit written comments for or against, since this is Third Reading."

Representative Cabanilla rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla's written remarks are as follows:

"I agree with the politics of the Chair of Health, Mr. Speaker. These types of decisions should be done by the DOE and not the Legislature.

"Furthermore, the removal of candy and/or ice cream in schools robs one of the pleasures of being a child. Anything in excess is the problem – not the candy or ice cream."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support of H.B. 1853 – which prohibits the sale of ice cream and candy by public schools in conformance to the State of Hawaii wellness guidelines.

"It is time that we guide our children towards making better choices. With illnesses such as diabetes directly resulting from sugar intake, we need to discourage students from consuming these products that could later harm them.

"While I support the Department of Education's wellness standards which are designed to "meet USDA authoritative guidelines for healthy food choices and nutrition education" and vote for this measure to encourage healthy food choices, I sincerely hope the DOE and rule making authorities will maintain flexibility in regards to unusual circumstances and afterschool activities. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to House Bill 1853, which disallows the sale of ice cream and candy by public schools. While I understand and appreciate the health motivations behind this measure, it is discouraging to me that this Body, at this time, is tackling this as the first education issue while our public school students are missing vital school days because of the furlough policy adopted by the Board of Education, the Governor, and the Hawaii State Teachers Association. Moreover, the Board of Education, the Department of Education, and individual schools, through their own rules and decision-making processes, could limit the harmful effects of the pervasiveness of ice cream and candy on school campuses by the purchasing decisions made without the micromanaging interference of the Legislature on this matter."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1853, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 33 ayes to 15 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Cabanilla, Carroll, Chang, Finnegan, Keith-Agaran, Manahan, Nakashima, Pine, Sagum, Souki, Takai, Tokioka, Ward and Yamane voting no, and with Representatives M. Lee, McKelvey and M. Oshiro being excused.

H.B. No. 1900:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1900, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. Being a veteran of Operation Iraqi Freedom and a Major serving in the Hawaii Army National Guard, I wish to offer comments in support of House Bill 1900.

"The purpose of this measure is to recognize the designations of Prisoner of War (POW) and Missing in Action (MIA) as valid descriptions of casualty status and category classifications for military personnel. This measure further proposes to use official designations and classifications established by the US government to enable processing of POW and MIA personnel in a timely manner.

"The reality of war is that we need to address these difficult situations. I feel that it is important that the State of Hawaii recognizes these designations as valid descriptions of casualty status and classification. Doing so will give these war heroes and those they have left behind the recognition they all deserve. This will also give us as a grateful people the opportunity to honor the men and women who have sacrificed so that we may continue to freely live.

"For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

At 1:37 o'clock p.m. Representative B. Oshiro requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:38 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1900, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MILITARY PERSONNEL," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives M. Lee, McKelvey and M. Oshiro being excused.

At 1:39 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1900

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. No. 173, I'd like to make some comments with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Regarding SCR 173, this is public employment and separation incentives having to do with the ERS. It's estimated that it will increase the already unfunded liability in the ERS by putting forward this piece of legislation.

"My caution is this, that over the years we knew that it was going to be really difficult for us to get that unfunded liability down and so we, the Legislature, already passed a 3-year moratorium on any kind of increase in benefits or changes that would increase the cost of the ERS System. Within the last couple years, we've seen other types of legislation like those who work with the 911 calls and, I can't remember what their positions are called, but they answer the phones for 911. They're under really high stress situations. When I was in the Public Safety Committee, we were looking at how we could include them in the '25 and out' and some other things that would help benefit them. It's a very difficult decision to say, 'No, we are going to treat you the same.'

"But we don't. Because they're under so much stress and they're part of emergency services that we want to treat them the same as the fire fighters, the police, the ambulance employees, and all of those other categories. But the problem that we're facing is we have an unfunded liability in ERS and so we passed out this three-year moratorium.

"I looked at who were the supporters and who were against it. I didn't see any of the labor unions in support of this. My guess is that the three-year moratorium was a combination of the whole Board, which also has labor represented on there, that if we don't take care of the problem of the liability, then it affects all of the people who belong to the ERS System that will be retired under this System.

"And so as we move forward there are many people who deserve the benefits of a changing ERS System, but we just have to take care of the responsibilities that we have now before we look at increasing those responsibilities for others. So these comments actually pertain to both this bill, as well as I believe the next bill. I'm not sure. I'll stand up if does. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With strong reservations."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Just a couple of items. The first one is I do note that in the Standing Committee Report 173-10, that the Hawaii Government Employees Association supported this measure so there is a union that has spoken up on this issue.

"But I would like to comment on the real guts of this legislation. This is giving the Executive Branch another tool in their bag to look at how they're going to deal with reduction in force (RIF) and the possibility of having to downsize government now and for the future. We have an amazing workforce, a great workforce here in Hawaii. The 'baby boomers' have been in their positions for many years, many of them for probably over 25 years. It's not uncommon for the private sector to use this type of strategy when they're looking at changing and reorganizing themselves to do this 'early out' type of package of retirement or incentive package for employees.

"I want to note to my colleagues that in the bill on pages 7 to 10, there are definitely guidelines that I really think are important to mention. We are actually telling the Department of Human Resource Development, and Budget and Finance to work at developing guidelines and a timeframe. So I think it'll take a little bit, even if we were to pass this, it's going to take a little while to put this in motion. There will be a lot of opportunities for people to give input on the guidelines and how we would implement a program like this. So I rise in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. I would give the exact opposite argument saying that instead of spending money on training, let's keep those who know, and those who are there. In fact the whole HRD trend in the Nation is to hold on to those older workers. Get more out of them. Don't switch over. We probably gain more by keeping them longer rather than paying more now when we don't have the money to get them out early. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I have reservations on this measure and a comment on Stand. Com. Report 173, that it will increase our $6.2 billion unfunded liability in the ERS."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, with reservations. And please note that my reservations are of the same nature as the previous measure. The ERS testifies that this will increase the $6.2 billion unfunded liability as they have testified, and my concerns are with that moratorium that we are also going against. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2257, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2964, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker and Members, I wish to vote on this measure with strong reservations. Hopefully the Finance Committee can look at this similarly. I don't think it is warranted for the House who already has taken a cut, or the Legislature for that matter. We're going to take another one again. We cut another 8% from our budget. The history of the Legislature has been one where the raises that we have had have been few and far between. Some of them took almost 20 years before we had any.

"To continue to go beyond our share, I believe, solves nothing. This certainly will not solve the budget problem. It says here that the State is facing an increasing amount of deficit. This won't solve the deficit problem. We're looking at $1.8 billion now, from $1.2 billion up to $1.8 billion. That's how rapidly it's increasing.

"So with this in mind, if we're going to do this only for perception purposes, I think it's the wrong thing to do. If this was going to solve the problem of the deficit, I would vote for it, but it's not the intent for this bill here. I don't believe they want a 5% cut, those who are opposed to the raise that we had. They want a 100% cut of the raise that we got. This will not satisfy those people who are speaking against the raise that we had last year. They want us to take it all away and so we are just playing into their hands, bit by bit. Bit by bit. Because all we're thinking about is the next election. Well that's not the way we're supposed to legislate or do our business. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm just in strong support. I'm in strong support of House Bill 2964 which would make an additional cut to our salaries as recommended by the Salary Commission. I do not, of course, support this lightly. My family cannot afford it, but I'm sure that we'll find a way as many of the other people in my community have had bigger pay cuts, or a 100% pay cut because they lost their job.

"Whether some are doing this for election purposes or perception purposes, I think this needs to be done for a leadership purpose. I think we need to lead in a sense of showing the people of Hawaii that we understand that this isn't our money. This is their money and that we need to spend more wisely and how we start doing that is to start first with our own salaries which we can make a decision on that today."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am with reservations, and my reservation is that I read the Committee Report. Nobody testified for or against the bill, so nobody seems to care. Normally in Committee when nobody testifies on a bill, it doesn't pass. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Souki and Herkes be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Bertram rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2964, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALARIES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Magaoay and Sagum being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 178-10) recommending that H.B. No. 59, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 59, HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

At 12:24 o'clock p.m. Representative Finnegan requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:25 o'clock p.m.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak with reservations about this measure. Mr. Speaker, this bill would propose an amendment to the Hawaii Constitution relating to residency requirements for Members of the Legislature. If the voters approve it, it would not take effect until the year 2012.

"However I'm concerned about the concept. What it does is it establishes a one-year residency requirement before someone can run for the House or for the Senate. I think back to those youngsters up in the gallery that were here. Supposing some of them go away to college, stay and work on the mainland for maybe a year or two, come back home in December, and are committed to improving their environment and Hawaii and they want to run for office in that coming election. They'd be prohibited from doing this. Now they grew up in the district. They happened to go away for college. Happen to work on the mainland for a couple of years, but they're homegrown from that district and yet that one year residency requirement would restrict them from running. I think it's way too long. Way too long. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations or a no, depending on any reaction that I might have following my spiel. Because this hits directly and personally, Mr. Speaker. I have been a resident of my district since 1978. I built a house in 1978. I paid taxes every year since 1978.

"However I was the Peace Corps' Country Director in East Timor and had one-year in that country with 64 volunteers doing great things in health and education. Then suddenly, the East Timor's armies started fighting. They said all non-essential Americans were to get out.

"In May of 2006, we were evacuated. Brought back to Honolulu, and the post didn't reopen. A seat happened to open. Then after June, I became a candidate. I had not been in the district for a year, so what I would like to see is some clarifications. Does this mean residency for taxpaying purposes which is separate from physical residency in a State where, those of us who served in the military, went to Iraq, if he would have stayed longer and his term then expired. Could he then reestablish himself?

"So my point, Chair, is if it can happen to those in the Peace Corp or the military, or any other reason to be away, this one year is really, really stringent. Again we don't want 'carpetbaggers,' but we also don't want to exclude people who are serving the country. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Just to briefly rebut some of the comments. If Members would look at HRS Section 11-13, rules on determining residency, those questions that were brought up or issues that were presented would be answered. Specifically, people that leave the State for school, or institution do not necessarily lose their residency, nor do they do so for being employed in the service of the United States or of this State. And thirdly, your residency is determined by where you intend to reside, not where you actually are present. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to speak with some reservations, and that is that after we reapportionment, if a legislator gets redistricted out of their current district, with the one-year requirement, a lot of the legislators may not qualify, depending on what the Reapportionment Commission does."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm responding to the Majority Leader and that's exactly why I said, 'the student graduates from school and stays and works on the mainland for a couple of years,' which takes them out of the category of just going away for school. So I think it is still too long a period of time to say, 'one-year residency,' because it would leave the voters with less choice because there will be few candidates that can file."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to express my reservations with the added consideration of the comments made by the Representative from Nuuanu, Pacific Heights because if Representatives from this House do get redistricted due to the census, that could be very interesting."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker and Members, with reservations. I believe one year is much too long for a state with relatively small districts in a small state as it is. It does create a hardship in running, and I believe the law that we have right now in place has worked perfectly well, so I don't see any need for any change. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a brief rebuttal. The Majority Leader muddied what he tried to clarify, because under his definition, clearly I would be a resident because I never paid taxes and I was serving the country, etc. However I could have gone into his district and run against him according to that definition because I would be a qualified resident to go into anybody else's district. So I think the intent here is not to be able to jump into somebody's district because you're a "legal taxpayer," but you actually physically reside in there and I think that's where this needs a little bit of nuancing and clarification. "

Representative B. Oshiro rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just some brief rebuttal. Again, the statute is very clear, HRS Section 11-13. I suggest people read it if they have questions about muddiness. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this bill although I have heard all the concerns of my colleagues here and acknowledge that they have legitimacy with their concerns. But I'm confident that as we proceed through this bill, that we could address those concerns raised by this Body. I strongly believe that we need legislation such as this because we want to stop 'carpet bagging' and 'district shopping' and that we need to preserve those seats for people who really live in those districts from where they choose to run. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 59, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS FOR MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Carroll, Magaoay and Sagum being excused.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations on Standing Committee Report 179. It seeks to raise the traffic abstract fee and briefly, I just question the appropriateness of the portion that is dedicated to the general fund. Secondly, I'd like to point out that this is yet another fee increase that we are looking at this Session. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to request a ruling on a potential conflict. The firm that I work for represented the Ka Loko claimants who are named," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise on this measure in support with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On page 2, the Ka Loko Dam case, I think we are trotting into new territory here. We do have on this bill a settlement for $1.5 million, but it's consolidated. I do understand the concerns, and I do respect the privacy of the families who were affected by this tragedy. However, I think when it comes to a claim against the State, I do believe the taxpayers of this State and for all of us, to understand specifically what the settlements in this case are, and for each of the cases on page 2.

"I don't have a problem with keeping private the settlements from the insurance companies or the other parties, but I do believe that in the case of claims against the State, I think it's important for the public and for us to know specifically what these are. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I also have reservations on this matter and I would like to state why. I think that if we are to go this route of giving tax credits to emergency room physicians for the reasons that are indicated in this bill, that we should not be too prescriptive to just limit it to State-approved hospitals. If you are going to give tax credits to emergency room physicians, then let's be fair to the others. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I just want to make a few comments on this, reserving the right to speak on Third Reading. My opposition is based on the fact that this bill would weaken a law that currently seeks to minimize government contractors' influence on the elections process, presumably to benefit the campaign coffers of candidates and political parties with the affect of drowning out individual citizen voices. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, just in opposition, Mr. Speaker. You know, we're in interesting political times, and I think the people of Hawaii and the people of America want to see a cleaner government. I think the way you start with cleaner government is to have cleaner elections, and that is an election process where people or very powerful organizations, or contractors in this case, can't buy an election. And unfortunately by passing this bill, it does open contractors, more contractors, to be part of the process.

"And of course after Linda Lingle was elected, we passed some bills that would prohibit a lot of contractors from contributing to campaigns. I think we should keep that process. I think it's been good for Hawaii, as well as it would be good for all of the United States if many states stick to this process."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my no vote and I would just like to make short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know, for the past couple of years I've been voting no on this particular version or the point that this bill is pushing forward. I thought it was really, really interesting as far as my notes on this bill, and I tried to look at the CCR that's on file, but is not there just yet. There are no testifiers in support.

"Then one of the questions that Common Cause Hawaii has is, why do you want to change this law and what's the benefit? I just don't see after a few times of going through the Legislature, and I know you know each Legislature, we can bring it up as many times as we want. But I just don't see the real wide benefit to the people of Hawaii and why we want to push this forward."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to H.B. 2249, Relating to Elections. I believe that the current law is sound and I am not sure changing the law is required. I have concerns that this measure might give the perception of impropriety and could cause people to lose faith in our political system. This belief is based on the very real "pay-to-play" attitudes that existed before the enactment of the current law. The Americans for Democratic Action, Common Cause, and the State Campaign Spending Commission have all brought up concerns on this measure and state in their testimony that they cannot support this measure. I think the old adage of "If it's not broke, don't fix it" certainly applies here. Thank you."

The following measure was re-referred to committee by the Speaker:

H.B. No.	Re-referred to:
2950	Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 199-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2693, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2693, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Lee rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with reservations of HB2693.

"I support this measure which prohibits the transport of a child under 8 years of age or 4'9" in a motor vehicle without the person operating the motor vehicle ensuring that the child is properly restrained in a child passenger restraint system.

"The bill currently holds the person operating the motor vehicle responsible for upholding child safety laws in their vehicle. Although I believe children would benefit from the sharing of responsibility regarding child seat restraints, primary responsibility should be placed on the driver.

"Numerous programs, private and federally funded, teach children in preschool about seat belt safety. These programs enforce positive passenger behaviors and allow children to participate in their safety. Inclusion of a shared responsibility clause would encourage educators and parents to enforce safe passenger behavior for Hawaii's children."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in favor of this measure. I've been around a long time, and I was around when we first enacted a requirement for keiki car seats for children and have seen its evolution since. I was also around when the $25 tax credit for the purchase of a keiki car seat was enacted. I will support this measure although it offers exemption to current law. I think the exemptions are fairly reasonable, but I would oppose any collapsing of the $25 tax credit should that ever come up before us. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2693, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHILD PASSENGER RESTRAINTS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 200-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2602, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2602, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HIGHWAY SAFETY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 201-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2370, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2370, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Hanohano, for the Committee on Public Safety presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 202-10) recommending that H.B. No. 247, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 203-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1888, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 247, and H.B. No. 1888, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I comment on both Stand. Com. Nos. 202 and 203? They're both dealing with the same issue. I'm in support. House Bill 247, which deals with the Interagency Task Force was a bill that was introduced last year in order to formalize the existing Interagency Task Force which really does nothing. We would really like to see it become effective. Right now it is unwieldy. There's probably 50 members. Their meetings are never posted. We were able to get reports of the two meetings that they have had; one was in 2008, and one in 2009. One of the reports had four pages missing, and there was one line in the other one that said there's no medical problem due to vog.

"So at least if we could formalize it through HB 247, maybe we could actually get something done. But I would also say that there is a version of this that we passed out that is currently sitting in the Ways and Means Committee in the Senate.

"Now if we could get Stand. Com. No. 203, House Bill 1888, which is a lot more important. As I said many times over, many times over, Mr. Speaker, Hawaii is the only state in the nation with every known natural disaster. And the Representative from the 4th District and I have them all. We also may be the least prepared of any state in the nation.

"Over the last few years we have nibbled at the edges by doing such things as tax credits for hurricane clips even in areas where the probability of a hurricane is remote. And there are other bills this year that again, nibble at the edges. But there's nothing that brings everything to the table to prepare for a natural disaster.

"Seven years ago, the Chair of the Water and Land Committee and I invited three UH professors with expertise in geophysics to discuss natural disaster preparedness. We met together with representatives from the insurance, financial, and real estate industries, and we also invited Civil Defense.

"The professors convinced us that Hawaii has to map all natural disasters with some degree of probability and intensity. Technically this can be done. We have some maps now. We have lava and tsunami, but they have limited use.

"Everyone should know what natural disaster might impact where he or she lives. You should know that.

"These maps should then be used for land use planning. We have a statewide building code with no regard to disaster impact zones. The building code for homes near Volcano where we have earthquakes is the same as we have on Kauai where they have hurricanes. It makes no sense. We have to know these things. The building code has to be adapted to whatever natural disaster might impact a building.

"Can anyone in this room tell me where the nearest shelter is near their home where they would send their family? And what natural disaster it is designed to protect? I doubt that anyone can tell us that.

"I remember in Volcano, when the community asked Civil Defense, they told us to go into Thurston Lava Tube. Boy, that really made a lot of sense.

"We have not learned from New Orleans and Houston. In those two cities, glass from high-rise buildings flew all over the streets with those hurricanes. I guess we're just going to wait until it happens here rather than take any initiative and try to harden those windows.

"The problem is the Civil Defense mindset is to be prepared to respond to an event. This bill says be prepared for the event, before it happens. And Mr. Speaker, there is a huge difference. How to fund it? That's part of Civil Defense's job.

"Mr. Speaker, for seven years we've sent bills dealing with disaster preparedness to prepare this State and its people from natural disasters to the Senate, never ever to be heard from again. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"I'm in support with some reservations on both of those measures. I do support the concept and I believe the previous speaker had some very good points. He knows better than all of us what it's like to go through a natural disaster. However, as we are discussing this issue, let's try to keep in mind, let's do our best to not to have any duplication of things that are currently going on. Instead of revamping an entire system, let's just focus on perfecting it. And as we talk about budgets, let's make sure that we have a goal that can be achieved with the budgetary limitations that we provide the Department of Defense."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. My reservations are based on the duplication argument for both Stand. Com. Nos. 202 and 203."

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2284, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Say rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I'm an officer of a company that subleases from a leasee, and not the leasor, in Mapunapuna," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 209-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2131, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred jointly to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce and the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2131, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred jointly to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce and the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with strong reservations on Stand. Com. Report 209. This bill mandates that small business gasoline dealers have to provide potable water. Mr. Speaker, this is an anti-small business bill. This is 'Big Brother' stepping in and saying, 'You will provide water.' This is something the private sector, or something that the competition should be able to determine. Not the State coming in and saying, 'You will provide water.'

"There's a comparable position of this bill where we are having to tell the schools, 'Don't have ice cream and don't have candy.' Those things should be handled at different levels. They don't need to be dictated by government. This is something that will keep small business running. And those who provide best for their customers will provide this, but not having to mandate it by us. It'll save us from being the 'water policeman,' which if this passed, we would eventually become.

"So this is not a good policy. It's not good precedent. Government has already got itself in to too many things already. We can't even enforce what we've got on the books, and to enforce having to provide water for gasoline stations, why not air, Mr. Speaker? Somebody might say also. So where does it end? I think we should end it now with the end of this bill. Thank you."

Representative Yamashita rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. May I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I'm a part owner of a gas station," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. For different reasons, I'm also registering reservations on this."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I am in support and I'll submit written comments. But you know, this is really a safety issue, as well as air is. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with reservations of HB2131.

"I recognize that water is essential to safe operation of vehicles on Hawaii's roads. Currently many retail gasoline stations in the State charge their customers for access to water. Charging for water endangers motorists and the public. I commend this act for restoring access which is vital for motorists. However, my reservation stems from the precursor surrounding the exchange of water for fuel.

"As written the bill requires gasoline dealers to provide free water in exchange for the purchase of fuel. I believe setting a purchase requirement will not assist those motorists who find themselves in emergency situations dependent on water. Therefore, I recommend we further examine the implications surrounding the exchange of fuel for water access."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2289, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to Stand. Com. Report 211. Thank you. I just want the Members to take note of page 3. I think a few years ago when we passed this law we did not allow for an activation fee for these gift cards or gift certificates. There are some shopping malls and stores around town that when you purchase these $20 gift cards, they charge a percentage, sometimes as much as 10%. That's $2 for every 20 bucks and to me that's outrageous.

"This bill I believe, if I'm not mistaken, will allow for the activation or issuance fees charged. The lesser of 15% or $7.50. I don't think people in Hawaii should be charged an activation fee or issuance fee, and I strongly urge the next Committee, CPC, to take a look at this particular provision.

"In addition, Mr. Speaker, on page 3, section 2 at the very bottom, we extend the expiration date of gift certificates or gift cards, but we don't do it for a paper form certificates. I realize that the federal law now pushes a gift certificate to five years and is silent on the paper form, but I think we should take the lead. If it's good enough to extend the expiration date no shorter than five years for a gift card, I don't see why we should not allow that or require that for those gift certificates in paper form. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2289, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GIFT CERTIFICATES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representative Takai voting no.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 212-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1921, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1921, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I just want to note my reservations on Stand. Com. Report 212. Basically what this is, is it establishes the controlling interest transfer tax of 1.11% to be administrated by the Director of Taxation.

"This basically adds a new tax that has been, I guess, slipping through the cracks, and we're trying to find a way to retrieve this tax when there's transfer of lands. I was not in this Committee, but I just want to note my reservations. If it's a new tax, I'm concerned at how this will affect some of the affordable housing that we're trying to plan in my community."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support of Stand. Com. No. 212. I would just like to make a little correction. This is not a new tax. This Controlling Interest Transfer Tax just closes an existing loophole when people put property in an entity, and then transfer the entity instead of the property. So it's not a new tax. It just closes a loophole. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1921, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO A CONTROLLING INTEREST TRANSFER TAX," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representatives Karamatsu and Herkes, for the Committee on Judiciary and the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 213-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2251, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2251, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

At 12:42 o'clock p.m. Representative Pine requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:43 o'clock p.m.

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. This bill would create a Commission. It would also, as amended, allow our residents to vote. I know that the original bill was for our visitors, but I'm just going to share some of the testimony if you don't mind. I'll try to keep it under the time limit.

"But from the Hawaii League of Women Voters, Grace Furukawa: The University of Illinois came to Hawaii last year and said that for every dollar earned from gambling, $3 is spent by the state to mitigate problems caused by gambling.

"The Chief of Police here understands the cost increase: the police presence necessary, the cost of investigating, prosecuting. Corruption is another reason for opposing this bill according to Prosecuting Attorney Peter Carlisle. Visitors come to Hawaii with a finite amount of money, which if spent at gambling tables will not be spent in gift shops, restaurants, or other local businesses. So the immediate effect will be felt by small businesses. We cannot afford to do this to our local businesses who are already struggling to stay alive and keep their employees.

"Secondly, kama'aina attorney, Mr. Thomas Case says, 'Visitors come to enjoy the balmy weather, lush vegetation, waterfalls, white sandy beaches, ocean, outdoor activities, swimming, scuba diving, sailing, fishing, golf, etc., Hawaiian music and dance, the aloha spirit of the islands. They do not come to Hawaii to spend their time shut up indoors in a casino.'

"The Policy Forum. Casino gambling causes crimes. Evidence is converging to show casino gambling causes significant increases in crime. Taken altogether, casinos impose crime and other costs paid for by society, including those who do not gamble, that exceed their benefits.

"It goes on. 62%, according to the Policy Forum, committed illegal acts as a result of gambling. 80% had committed civil offenses. A similar survey of 400 members show that 50% admitted stealing to finance their gambling, and on the average there are 135,000 total theft. They have continued, two-thirds of compulsive gamblers engage in criminal activity including violent crime because of their gambling problem, and 12 million compulsive gamblers in the US, the average compulsive gamblers is $80,000 in debt. I won't go into the child abuse, the family abuse, all the abuse that comes when people are under stress from not being able to pay their gambling debt.

"Worst of all, there's a strong association between pathological gambling and substance abuse. Meth Not Even Once, the Hawaii Meth Project, financed by Charles Schwab, says that Hawaii ranks, I know it was almost number one, but thanks to efforts perhaps by the US Attorney, Hawaii ranks number five in the Nation for meth. I'll repeat that, Hawaii ranks number five in the Nation for meth use for ages 12 and older. And 7.3 of all 10th grade students have used meth, according to the risk behavior survey. That's up 87% from 2005. The estimated cost of meth abuse in Hawaii is $500 million annually. 30% of Hawaii teens believe there's no risk in trying. They're going to be at Farrington. They're going to be giving a presentation at Farrington High School so I encourage our Members to attend it. How do you begin to take action on our nation's crystal meth? I have more reports. I have the Auditor of the State of Hawaii.

"In summary, Mr. Speaker, now is not the time. When we say we are going to entertain, why would we entertain? In some countries, when they can't pay their bills, they sell their daughters into prostitution. It's not an option. It's not an option. I want to say I would ever entertain that kind of option. I take it very seriously. The gentleman who was accused of throwing Cyrus Belt off the freeway comes from approximately a mile from here. Not in my district, but near to my district, and I take it very seriously, sir. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Choy rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I would like to request a ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a Certified Public Accountant. I also perform the majority of peer reviews for CPA firms in the State of Hawaii and I've been doing so for the past 20 years," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Choy continued in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I would also like to rise with strong reservations on this particular measure. This bill totally ignores the concerns of local practitioners, I being one of them. Approximately 40 other states have passed this type of legislation by addressing many of the concerns of the local practitioners.

"Some of these concerns are, first, if local practitioners have to go to some kind of quality review process, then all firms, local, international, and out-of-state firms should also go through the same regulatory process. This bill, as written, gives the Board of Accountancy the power to exempt firms from this process. The large international firms want to exempt themselves from these reviews. They claim that their system of internal inspections are so superior that they should be exempt from this process, but we should not forget that Arthur Andersen, the largest of the international firms, who had gone through their superior internal inspection process and peer review process, no longer exists because of substandard work.

"Second, there's only currently one peer review program available to firms which is administered by the American Institute of Certified Public Accounts and the Hawaii Society of CPAs. Firms who are not members will be required to join these organizations and pay these organization's fees. I believe we should not force a firm to join certain trade organizations.

"Third, there is no peer review program in the United States that is designed to be regulatory and punitive. The AICPA Accountants Peer Review Program was made to be educational, remedial and confidential. Not regulatory and punitive. And because this peer review program was made to be educational, there are no due process procedures in place. What are the consequences for failing peer review? Will my license be revoked? What are the appeal procedures? We should delegate regulatory procedures, which could result in a loss of licensure to a private entity.

"Fourth, I have reviewed the 200 or so testimonies in support of this measure and I only counted 17 local firms that I could recognize. There are approximately 250 firms in the State of Hawaii. The majority of the testimony comes from these 17 firms and the students from the University of Hawaii. I do not believe that there's broad base support among local practitioners for this particular measure.

"And finally, Mr. Speaker, there's a right way of instituting peer review in the State of Hawaii. This measure is not it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I would like to speak with reservations and insert written comments. And my reservations are that we really need a statewide ban on fireworks. I think that's the right thing to do. It's a real safety issue. Not only personal safety, but public safety. This probably will not result in safety for the majority of citizens in our State so I would like to see a statewide ban and I would insert my written comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with reservations of HB2068.

"I recognize that some feel this bill will allow counties to better address their concerns and be supportive of homerule, however, a statewide ban would better address statewide concerns surrounding the usage and health implications associated with fireworks. In addition, it would not encourage the illegal air transport of fireworks from island to island.

"Hawaii's residents have made it clear that they desire a total ban or stricter enforcement of fireworks laws in order to uphold safety standards and quality of life. Advocates point to the numerous injuries and accidental fires that are attributed to fireworks as justification for banning or at least severely restricting access to fireworks. Complaints about excessive noise created by fireworks and the large amounts of debris and particulate matter produced are also cited by those supporting this position. Many argue that consumer fireworks are being used in a manner that is disrespectful to the communities and neighborhoods where the users live. In addition, fireworks produce smoke and dust that may contain residues of heavy metals, sulfur-coal compounds and some low concentration toxic chemicals. A report filed by the DOH this year shows an increase in emergency room visits and increased injury to persons.

"Allowing counties to make their own fireworks laws will put a further strain on the fire and police departments throughout our State. We risk encouraging illegal fireworks as was the case in the early '90s when the counties had individual ordinances and trafficking could not be controlled. Therefore, although I am happy to see a weaker bill go forward, a statewide ban is really the answer to our problem.

"It is sad to see the conspicuous absence of those who should be supporting the ban. Where are the Health Department; OEQC; Humane Society; the Hawaii Medical Association; public health advocates and health care workers? We will ban the statewide use of fireworks one day. Will this be the year? "

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise to speak in favor of the bill on fireworks with reservations. Similar to the Representative from Mililani, I believe that we do need a statewide ban on fireworks. The reason why we need statewide law controlling this is because once upon a time, counties did indeed control the laws on fireworks. The Big Island allowed aerials and Oahu did not. The airlines experienced people trying to carry fireworks from the Big Island to Oahu, which is very dangerous. It's very hazardous. So I believe that we need a strong statewide law.

"The last New Year's was like a war zone and we had many concussion bombs going off in residential neighborhoods. Also aerials, which really threaten our safety. So I hope that we will see a ban coming through shortly. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise to speak with reservations on this one for the same reasons that were alluded to by the previous two speakers. This approach, to have counties decide, while I think is laudable and deserves further consideration, I think it has the unintended consequence of actually threatening the health and safety of our citizens even more so as this provides a real incentive for people to smuggle, either by air or by boat, to those counties that do not allow fireworks. So I do believe a statewide ban would be far more appropriate. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. In talking to law enforcement officers and others in the communities, the biggest problems are aerials and other fireworks which are currently illegal. That's not being enforced. They're going off everywhere. So to have a statewide ban, I don't think it's going to make any kind of difference. To give it to the counties, let them and their communities decide whether or not it's appropriate, is a good thing. I mean after all, we have a statewide ban on gaming, yet $300 million was won through the Super Bowl, so look at that. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. No. 223, I am with reservations for the same reason as the Representative from Kaimuki-Kahala."

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2271, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support of Stand. Com. No. 224, which is the bill related to dry ice bombs. People may have heard these going off on Super Bowl Day. I'm sure you did on New Year's Eve. The problem with this is that people are packing dry ice into plastic cylinders. They don't have any idea of when that's going to actually explode, and when it does, it can release shrapnel that can injure anyone standing around. Without notice it can release that shrapnel and children can be injured, adults can be injured.

"I have spoken with a retired marine who said that the explosions on the Windward side were as loud, or louder than many of those he heard in actual combat. I know for a fact that those of us on the Windward side, our houses were shaking. So unless we outlaw dry ice bombs, we're putting children and adults at risk from exploding shrapnel. And unless we impose a statewide ban, we're putting everyone at risk. Thank you."

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 242-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2952, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2952, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of H.B. 2952 - Relating to Mopeds. Moped-related deaths and accidents have long been a concern here in Hawaii and I feel we have sat idle on this issue for far too long. We are here to protect the great citizens of Hawaii and it's our duty and our job to do such. This bill will save lives, lives that are all too often lost over loopholes and lack of enforcement of our laws.

"According to the DOT, moped-related accidents and deaths continue to rise each year. Currently the DOT estimates that there are twenty-two - thousand mopeds on the road, and, according to the Department of Health, more than 60 percent of severe head injuries come from moped-related crashes. We must rectify that number.

"I am deeply troubled by the fact that some operators modify mopeds in ways that make them unsafe and a public nuisance. Specifically, some operators disable or modify the speed governors on mopeds, allowing the moped to be operated at speeds in excess of safe and legal limits. Other operators choose to modify the exhaust system on mopeds to make a moped more powerful and much noisier than design or legal limits, posing a safety threat to the operator and pedestrians, as well as increasing noise pollution in residential neighborhoods.

"The Department of Transportation Services for the City and County of Honolulu feels that this is a good bill and they stated in their testimony that, "The Department of Transportation Services supports H.B. 2952. We agree that this matter requires further evaluation, and we will be happy to serve on the task force when it is convened."

"When I think of this bill, I can't help but think of Gerald Baltazar and how this teenager lost his life so tragically a few weeks back as a result of a moped-related accident. Gerald was seventeen years old, a kid with his entire future in front of him, but tragically neither he nor his family will see this future come to fruition. I invoke the words of Gerald's father Ernesto, "If rules had been in place, maybe my son would still be alive today. It's too late for my son, but maybe we can save someone else's son." Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2952, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOPEDS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2092, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am standing in strong support and would like to submit written comments."

Representative Yamane's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I strongly support H.B.2092 Relating to Public Safety, which would establish an administrator position and an administrative assistant staff position for the State Fire Council.

"The institution of these positions would better allow the State Fire Council to perform their invaluable service to the State of Hawaii. These positions would specifically oversee daily operations of the State Fire Council, adopt the State Fire Code, coordinate fire mitigation training and data collections, and other tasks that are important to the safety and well-being of the state of Hawaii.

"The brave men and women who risk their lives answering this call to civic duty are not solely firefighters, but are also first responders during non-fire-related emergencies, community outreach educators, and an essential part of every community.

"I hope that as this bill moves through the Legislature, the Fire Council's vital role of protecting the people of Hawaii and providing guidance to both the Legislature and Governor is recognized. Because the State Fire Council plays such an integral part in maintaining Hawaii's quality of life, I ask that you support this measure."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support, and may I have the written comments of the Representative from Mililani entered into the record as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. No. 244, with reservations. If the Senate had passed one of our bills six years ago, this would already be done. An amendment that I think Finance should consider is to take out the 44th and 45th District, and make it statewide. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am standing in strong support and ask for written comments to be entered in the Journal."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. The purpose of this measure is to take action on a long standing problem for residents and businesses in the Waianae Coast. The Coast is comprised of approximately 60,000 people where Farrington Highway is the only main thoroughfare. During times of natural disasters, one of the first actions to take place is the closure of this roadway because of its close proximity to the ocean. An alternate roadway is not scheduled for a very long time. There have been numerous fires, a tsunami, hurricanes and powerful storms that warranted the closure of this highway. In addition, high winds cause electrical lines to go down and electricity is suspended. Gasoline used for transportation and clearing debris cannot be pumped; phones to call for an emergency or to check on loved ones cannot be used. Upon becoming isolated from the rest of the island, those in these districts are forced to rely on their best resource – themselves.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill does just that. It requires the Department of Civil Defense to prepare a disaster preparedness plan for the aforementioned communities. In addition, this measure includes community meetings from those directly impacted by the disaster, whatever it may be. It is extremely important to disseminate the plan before an event occurs. Let there be no question, an event will occur. The question is, "Will these communities be prepared?" House Bill 2692 proposes to do just this. The intent of this measure as mentioned earlier is to use our most precious resource, our people. Residents will be able to assist in providing insight and direction on past hazards. In some cases, exposure to such risks may be addressed in advance. The community can come forward to volunteer their services or equipment. Private businesses and citizens have access to heavy equipment vehicles necessary to clear the highway for safe passage. The City and County of Honolulu has relocated their Department of Facilities Maintenance to Kalaeloa. State services are extremely limited. Non-profits working with our most vulnerable can provide information to the whereabouts of our kupuna, homeless and children.

"The fact of the matter is that in times of natural disasters, government's priority is to get government services up and running before anything else. This measure will empower the community to help themselves get online and work together when government is unable. A coordinated effort is what we need Mr. Speaker. Once completed, this plan may also be duplicated in other areas throughout the State; thus expanding the scope of this very important bill – a bill to save lives. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2692, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISASTER PREPAREDNESS PLANNING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

No. 2451, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NET ZERO ENERGY BUILDING PERMITTING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representative Morita, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 247-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2522, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2522, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RENEWABLE ENERGY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 248-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2907, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2907, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of HB 2907

"This bill will require helmets to be worn by all ATV riders in State Parks. Sally L. Jones of the Queens Hospital Trauma Service testified that, "between 2005 and 2009 (data not yet complete for 2009), Queens Medical Center treated on average, an ATV accident victim each month. Of the 62 patients treated, 39 (63%) were known to be riding without a helmet; 37 (60%) were treated for some type of head injury and 1 patient died – he was not wearing a helmet."

"Nationally the number of ATV related emergency room visits has more than doubled in recent years. Despite the high injury rates over 850,000 of these vehicles are sold every year.

"The Department of Land & Natural Resources is presently constructing a track for recreational vehicles on Sand Island. It will be run by a private entity that will no doubt require helmet use.

"Because of the large number of injuries – and even deaths, incurred by the rising popularity of ATVs, it behooves the Legislature to pass a law that will at the very least, require helmets when riding in State parks."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2907, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE PARK SYSTEM," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 249-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2019, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2019, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PARKS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 250-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2270, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2270, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 251-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2582, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2582, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Brower rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Standing Committee Report No. 251. Thank you. House Bill 2582 authorizes the moorage for commercial vessels and commercial vessel activities in the State's small boat harbors, specifically two harbors. These are residential harbors intended for use by residents of Hawaii, and not commercial purposes. So the thousands of people who participate in these harbors, whether it be for residential fishing, some of them live in these harbors, and there are thousands of people who do canoe paddling in these harbors. Should this bill pass and we commercialize harbors like Keehi Boat Harbor or the Ala Wai Small Boat Harbor, these people will be displaced and I find that very problematic.

"Mr. Speaker, we have enough commercial boating space. Kewalo Basin, which is just a few blocks from the Ala Wai Small Boat Harbor, has empty moorings, and until the commercial space is filled at other harbors, I don't think we should think about commercializing small boat harbors, which were really intended for residential use. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2582, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VESSELS AT ALA WAI AND KEEHI BOAT HARBORS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Brower voting no, and with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 252-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2835, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2835, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am speaking against House Bill 2835, which is Relating to the Bureau of Conveyances. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I can sympathize with landowners who reside next to a private roadway and they end up not knowing who actually owns that roadway and want to have that roadway maintained. The difficulty with this bill is that we're saying to the Bureau of Conveyances, you go do the work that that private landowner should be doing instead.

"The private landowner could do a title search. If that becomes too complicated, the private landowner could hire counsel to do it, and ultimately many of these little roadways' ownership will need to be determined pursuant to a quiet title action. That's not something the Bureau of Conveyances should do for the private landowners. That takes away the limited workforce, their time, and they have to do something that the private owner should actually be paying for and doing herself or himself. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. The problem with what the previous speaker said is, to go and get the title search, or to have to hire a private attorney costs money. And what I've been told is, and I've looked at this myself for certain lanes in the 28th District, the amount of money is $15,000 to $20,000 per lane. I have done 15 or 16 of them myself. When I first was elected I thought that this was a Palama problem, and that it was only me and the Representative from the 28th District who had this. But as I've looked at the issue more, it's not true. The Big Island has roads and one mile lanes that no one knows who owns them. We know that they're not State owned. We know that they're not county owned. But we don't know who does, and the Bureau of Conveyances is the government agency that deals with landownership.

"For most pieces of land you can determine who the owner is within a matter of minutes by just looking at the records. But for all these so-called, 'lanes in limbo,' there's no easy way to find out what they are, and I would suggest that even if this bill passes, there will be owners along streams, or lanes, or roads that will not have an owner identify. There's not going to be thousands and thousands of people asking for this service. There probably will be dozens. But we have a private lane ownership system and if you don't know who owns the land, all kinds of strange things happen.

"The City and Country, just to take an example, Wong Lane, which is a tiny little lane in Palama. There are all sorts of things there. There's always trash piled up high there. The City and County came out and said, 'We're going to fine the owner of this property if they don't clean it up.' They couldn't identify who owned the property, so they couldn't fine anybody, and that's the problem over and over again. I think if we're going to have private property ownership system, we need to know who owns the property.

"Obviously pre-contact, there wasn't a private property system and there's more than one way to own land. But if we're going to have a private property system, we need to know who owns what so people can be held responsible for the things that happen on their land, and when it spills over onto other people's property. Mahalo."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. That's precisely my point; that this is going to be very costly for the Bureau. Assuming as the prior speaker said that there are only going to be a few dozen of these people, and then he gave the figure of $15,000 to go and do this kind of a title search. You're talking about $300,000 that the Bureau would be expending in time. They don't have the staff. They don't have the spare time to be able to do that kind of in-depth work.

"I sympathize with the property owners, but the ultimate action probably would be a quiet title action and then you need to have counsel taking you through that. I think those private owners need to make that decision and form a hui and fund that to be able to determine it, but I don't believe this State should do their work for them. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in favor with reservations. I realize the problem and I think someone should find out who owns several of these parcels of land. We have several streets in Kaimuki where the developer is long gone and the property was never dedicated to the City so the City won't take it. I think this bill should be called a 'No Man's Land Bill,' but I don't quite think that the Bureau of Conveyances is the right agency to undertake the funding of these studies. I agree with the previous speaker from Kailua, that it should be done by the private owners or adjacent owners who want to see improvements in the property. If they form a hui or something, perhaps they can undertake this job, but as the bill stands now I have this reservation. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in support. My response to that is, as far as I know, no hui has ever done that. I'm not aware of a single hui or single private property owner along one of these lanes who has filed a quiet title action. This has been a problem for decades and no one has done it. I think at some point you just have to say that the private sector is not going to take care of this problem and we've got to do something ourselves otherwise it's never going to happen, because at this point it's not happening. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations on this measure and I believe that it's not the responsibility of the Bureau of Conveyances to act as a party in looking at the particular property, or to require the Bureau of Conveyances to provide that particular service. That's not their role. What they should do is hire a good attorney like the good Representative from Kalihi and that area there to seek some redress to that particular problem.

"Mr. Speaker, it's not my style, but I would want to incorporate the message and words from the Representative of Kailua. It gives me a little pain when I do that, but she hit it right on the nail. It's not the role of the Bureau of Conveyances. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with strong reservations to H.B. 2835, Relating to Bureau of Conveyances. This bill allows any adjoining landowner to request the registrar to provide to the landowner any information of record relating to the management, control, and title of any public road, alley, trail, street, way, or other public highway and any waterway or water course, including rivers, streams, ditches, and auwai.

"My office has worked for years on fixing this issue. I do support the intent of this bill, however it needs work. I hope to see this bill amended to find a better solution. The DOT states in their testimony that this bill will, "cause undue hardship and take an extraordinary amount of time to accurately research, identify and provide available ownership information for highways, roads, lanes, alleys, and streams. There are no known existing available data bases at the Bureau of Conveyances for this bill."

"The Representative from District 28 stated that approximate costs are $15,000 to $20,000. One must ask, "where will the money come from to make this bill a reality?" Right now our economy is in dire straits with furloughs, lay-offs and many other economic challenges. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Souki and Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2835, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BUREAU OF CONVEYANCES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Finnegan and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 253-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2449, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2449, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COUNTY BOARDS OF WATER SUPPLY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives M. Lee and Souki being excused.

Representatives Ito and Tsuji, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources and the Committee on Agriculture presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 254-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2689, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2689, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. No. 254, I am in favor with reservations. I think we should label this particular bill, 'We Should Look a Gift Horse in the Mouth Bill.' I don't know exactly what we would be receiving as a gift in this. It might be some serious liability issues, so I hope that the Finance Committee will look at the downside of the bill for the State very carefully."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2689, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL WATER SYSTEMS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives M. Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support with written comments please."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in strong support of HB 2945, Relating to Economic Development. This bill takes the best parts of Utah's Fund of Funds program in order to increase the availability of venture capital for the State's emerging industries. Other states have used similar programs and have benefitted with improvements to capital availability and revenue generation.

"Over a thousand high-paying jobs were created in Utah because of their program. We need to give our businesses all the help they can get if we want to lower unemployment and do things like win more federal contracts and diversify our economy with high technology companies.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I strongly support HB 2945."

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to require the Department of Education (DOE) to use zero-based budgeting principles in formulating the budget for the 2011-2012 fiscal year.

"Zero-based budgeting requires that the existence of a government program or programs be justified in each fiscal year, as opposed to simply basing budgeting decisions on a previous year's funding level.

"Zero-based budgeting is often encouraged by fiscal watchdog groups as a way to ensure against unnecessary spending. Zero-based budgeting, or some modified version of it, has been used in the private and public sectors for decades.

"Case studies about businesses and governments that have adopted zero-based budgeting, or some hybrid of it, generally report some improvement quantitatively or qualitatively. That is, the process has either saved money, improved services, or both.

"In addition to saving money and improving services, zero-based budgeting may increase restraint in developing budgets. It will reduce the entitlement mentality with respect to cost increases and make budget discussions more meaningful during review sessions.

"For these reasons I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, this bill presents a chance to create clear transparency in the Department of Education budget, to cut any fat, choose priorities, and fund only what is necessary to the core mission of educating our children. With a zero-based budget the Department will build the budget position by position, program by program, from the ground up, and we will see where every dime goes."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of House Bill 2423, House Draft 1. With education appropriations amounting to approximately 23.06% of the State's total budget in fiscal year 2009, this bill has the potential to bring more clarity, transparency and accountability to the Department of Education's budgeting process that the public is demanding. Applying zero-based budgeting principles would require DOE programs to be justified in each fiscal year, as opposed to simply basing budgeting decisions on a previous year's funding level. While I believe we need to place public education as a top priority of government, we should hold ourselves accountable to the taxpayer. Beginning to use zero-based budgeting with the Department of Education would be a good start on the path to greater transparency and accountability."

Representative Ward rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in strong support of HB 2423, Relating to Education Budget. Case studies show improvements in businesses and governments that use zero-based budgeting or a hybrid of it. It resulted in saved money, improved services or both.

"The Department of Education is already researching the procedures required to implement zero-based budgeting, as they should be. We don't have an unlimited budget and everyone has to find ways to save the State money.

"This bill will help show us what the real priorities are for the DOE and hopefully will help prevent the reoccurrence of ever furloughing our students again. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I strongly support HB 2423."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to House Bill 2302. This bill would put the Information Technology Officer into the Office of the Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Speaker, I see that the bill goes on to Finance and it may end up making sense to do it. But with the truncated budget of the Lieutenant Governor, it just wouldn't work to have this happen at this point. I would like to at this point vote no, but wait to see what action will be taken by Finance to beef up the Lieutenant Governor's budget. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in opposition, Mr. Speaker. I believe that this is an Executive function. An administerial function and should be done at the department level and not in the Lieutenant Governor's Office. I have the same concerns about lack of resources for this function so I must vote no. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm an insurance broker and I would like a ruling on potential conflict of interest," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Takai continued in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to rise briefly and support this measure. I believe in transparency and I think this bill should move forward. Thank you."

The Chair is aware that we need a letter from the Administration for an emergency appropriation for the release of any type of money to help our HHSC System. In the spirit of working together and being proactive, we wanted this measure to move forward to support that. If the Governor does see the same things that we've been seeing in our communities with the increased needs for healthcare, then this measure should continue to move forward to especially help those in our rural areas and our Neighbor Island colleagues. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

At 12:51 o'clock p.m. Representative B. Oshiro requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

H.B. No. 2249:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2249, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

At 12:56 o'clock p.m. Representative Souki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:57 o'clock p.m.

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Yes, just in support of the recommital. I just wanted to say thank you to those who made the motion because the entire Republican Caucus was against this measure. We really believe that it would have damaged the image of the House of Representatives in trying to promote an honest and open government that's not bought and paid for by contractors that get State contracts."

Representative Souki rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I beg your forgiveness, but I believe that we should call for a vote on this measure, and not move for the recommital."

The Chair responded, stating:

"The motion before this Body at this point is a motion to recommit."

At 12:58 o'clock p.m. Representative Souki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:59 o'clock p.m.

Representative Saiki rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the motion to recommit H.B. 2249.

"The motion to recommit is in order because it is apparent that the majority of the Members of this Body do not support H.B. 2249.

"H.B. 2249 is a step backwards. It reverses the ban on government contractor contributions that the Legislature enacted only four years ago in 2005. The House Judiciary Committee has not articulated a basis to reverse the ban.

"There is a concern that H.B. 2249 will further erode public confidence in the Legislature. The concern is that over the past year, the Legislature has not addressed statewide matters, but has focused on narrow issues that may be deemed to be self-serving. The following opinion piece that was published in the Honolulu Advertiser on February 1, 2010, articulates this concern:

Lawmakers in new move to line their pockets
February 1st, 2010 by David Shapiro, Honolulu Advertiser

You know the Legislature is back in session when Rep. Jon Riki Karamatsu is busy at work priming the already fat campaign chests of himself and his fellow legislators.

Last year, an outcry from clean elections groups forced the Judiciary chairman to back off a scheme to abolish limits on corporate donations to political action committees that support lawmakers' campaigns.

But Karamatsu and his colleagues won out in the end when the courts stuck down the limits, leaving corporations and labor unions to dominate elections while ordinary citizens, who can donate $1,000 per election, have barely a whisper.

This year, less than two weeks into the session, Karamatsu has already pushed a bill through the Judiciary Committee to ease restrictions on campaign donations to candidates and political parties by government contractors — opening the door anew to the pay-to-play ethic that has fed charges of bribery and corruption in local government contracting.

HB2249 passed the Judiciary Committee by a 9 to 1 vote with only Rep. Della Au Belatti objecting, and could come up for a floor vote as early as this week despite opposition from the state Campaign Spending Commission, Common Cause Hawai'i and Americans for Democratic Action. Nobody testified in favor of the measure.

"This change would open the way to allegations or the reality of corruption and further decrease the confidence the public has in state government," said Barbara Polk of ADA. "The public needs to know that government contracts are not awarded on a quid pro quo basis, depending on contractors contributions to candidates or parties."

Nikki Love of Common Cause said, "The existing law is the result of a 'pay to play' reform enacted in 2005 in response to public concern about ties between contracts and political contributions. The existing law is clear and simple. The question now is: Why change this law? We believe that there is already enough money in politics."

Attacks on campaign spending limits are usually piously tied to the free-speech rights of special interests.

But Karamatsu, who may run for lieutenant governor, has tied it to legislators' rights to have more corporate money — and for uses other than campaigning, such as making charitable contributions out of their campaign funds instead of out of their own pockets like everybody else.

He chastised critics last year that "costs have gone up extraordinarily ... you're tying our hands on what we can do here."

The Honolulu Advertiser

"This Body should maintain standards and stand for reform. Ironically, our counterparts in the U.S. Congress are now working on legislation to ban government contractor contributions, in response to the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission. We should point to our existing statutory government contractor contribution ban as a model. Thank you, very much."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"In support of the motion to recommit. I just want to congratulate the Minority Party here in the State of Hawaii for breaking ranks with their national counterparts who want as much corporate money in the process as possible. Mahalo."

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, recommitting this bill will preserve and uphold the barrier between campaign contributions and the reward of government contracts. We must not open the floodgates to political campaign contributions from companies bidding on contracts with the State. It's called "pay to play" in DC, and allowing it will undo decades of progress fighting corruption and old boy politics.

"Absolutely nobody testified in favor of this bill, yet, our House has pushed this bill forward. This could be one of the first bills we pass out this year, and it is a bill designed to fill our political coffers and benefit us. We cannot allow this bill to pass, and we must re-commit it."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to rebut that. With the McCain-Feingold legislation supported by a Republican and a Democrat, and those who are associating the National Republican Party with the party of corporate money, if you look at the ruling that was just made by the Supreme Court, it's for unions and for corporations. So I would like Chair, if I could move that this gentleman's remarks be stricken from the record please."

The Chair responded, stating:

"No. Not at this point."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"Yes, in rebuttal and in support of the recommital. Actually I just wanted to clarify the Labor Chair's comments. We're actually breaking ranks also from the National Democrat Party that wants corporate contributions."

The Chair addressed Representative Pine, stating:

"Representative Pine, please confine your remarks to this motion to recommit. That's all we're talking about, the motion to recommit. If you want to insert written comments, you may, in support, but I'll be checking on what you're writing in the written comments. It is the motion to recommit that is being debated, and not this issue that is contained in the bill."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support of the motion to recommit. Thank you. This shows the power of six, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the motion to recommit and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of the recommittal of House Bill 2249. Recommittal is proper here where the underlying bill clearly does not have support for passage. It is baffling how this bill has moved forward without anyone stepping forward to defend the move to weaken a well-reasoned prohibition on political donations by those who benefit from contracts that are ultimately funded by taxpayer monies. This lack of support for the underlying bill is laid bare by the fact that the only testimony provided in Committee was testimony in opposition. Until reasons are publicly articulated in support of this measure, recommittal of this bill is a wise decision by this House."

Representative Ching rose in support of the motion to recommit and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the motion to recommit H.B. 2249, Relating to Elections. I believe that the current law is sound and I am not sure changing the law is required. I have concerns that this measure might give the perception of impropriety and could cause people to lose faith in our political system. This belief is based on the very real "pay-to-play" attitudes that existed before the enactment of the current law. The Americans for Democratic Action, Common Cause, and the State Campaign Spending Commission have all brought up concerns on this measure and state in their testimony that they cannot support this measure. I think the old adage of "If it's not broke, don't fix it" certainly applies here. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2249, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTIONS," was recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative M. Lee being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 196-10) recommending that H.B. No. 134, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 134, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE DRIVER LICENSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative M. Lee being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 197-10) recommending that H.B. No. 939, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 939, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, it is important we protect our beaches from unchecked overdevelopment. Kailua Beach is eroding, yet houses are being built closer and closer to the waters edge. New construction on Kailua Beach must go through the appropriate permitting process and we must be sure that process adequately assesses the potential impacts new structures will have on our beach."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

No. 939, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Thielen voting no, and with Representative M. Lee being excused.

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak with reservations concerning House Bill 745 HD2 – which eliminates the requirement to send a ten-day pending notice requesting additional medical evidence when it is determined by DHS eligibility workers that an applicant does not have certain disabilities that would qualify him or her for General Assistance.

"During the Human Services Committee hearing, the DHS Director spoke in favor of the bill, citing the need for increasing efficiency and timeliness in the process. Citing a ten-percent increase in volume of GA applications, the Director tried to make a case for cutting out a critical step in the process which currently enables an applicant to supply additional medical evidence to back up their claim.

"I do sympathize with the Department's need to keep up with an increasing workload during this time of budget cutbacks and restrictions, not only in DHS but in all departments. However, I cannot support legislation which I believe will unfairly impact people with disabilities. This bill will remove current protections and take away an applicant's right to a second medical opinion when they have been denied certification by a physician hired by DHS. Under the existing process, an applicant is asked to complete a form which does not allow for the inclusion of any medical evidence. The disability determination is then made after a cursory examination by the DHS doctor.

"I believe that the availability of a second opinion is a basic human and legal right. This bill takes away that right. Since the bill in its HD2 version now contains an appropriation to provide general assistance to households without minor dependents, I am hesitant to vote no. However, I do ask that my strong reservations to HB 745 HD2 be noted."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with serious reservations on Stand. Com. No. 305, HB 1905 that would create two new separate accounts in our general fund. Mr. Speaker, we've already got 40% of our budget squirreled away in special funds. This bill is going to squirrel away $338 million more by separate accounts in the general fund. This is a bill that is not necessary at this time. I repeat, not necessary. We've got $275 million that we have by a tax refund lag. We have no need to put back in at this point just the same way that Cayetano's payroll lag is never showing up on our books and as you know, there is, someone said this morning, $1.2 to $1.8 billion possibly being as a deficit.

"So to do this and then put the funds into the ERS at this time, which is also not necessary, I think as we make fun of pushing the can down the road as being insufficient, I think it's the way that small businesses survive at a burden of $338 million onto the budget that's already in the red doesn't make good fiscal sense, Mr. Speaker. So I have very serious reservations on why we're doing this and I hope the Chair of Finance seriously looks at this as he looks at this cash flow statement. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1905, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE PAYMENTS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. And briefly, many urban areas should have a shishi bill like this. This should be expanded."

Representative Carroll rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, moving the primary election date forward will encourage better participation in our democracy. It will give new candidates a better chance to get their message out in the short time between the primary election and the general election, and level the playing field that currently gives incumbents a much greater advantage."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of this measure. HB 2397 moves the date of the primary election to the second Saturday of August and requires nomination papers to be filed not later than 4:30 p.m. on the first Tuesday in June. Our troops have served our country honorably by defending democracy around the world. This measure ensures that our veterans and their opinions are represented in our democracy, here at home."

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to ensure compliance with the Federal National Defense Authorization Act that requires states to mail absentee ballots to uniformed and overseas voters no later than 45 days prior to federal elections.

"This bill will move Hawaii's Primary Election date to the second Saturday in August and move the deadline for filing nomination papers to the first Tuesday in June. Deployed military personnel still want to be a part of the democratic process, expanding these deadlines is an important way of giving them an opportunity to do so.

"This bill addresses many concerns that the Office of Elections had raised about timing. This will allot more time for our troops to fill out and submit their absentee ballots. If a person is deployed we should not disregard the fact that they are a citizen of the United States and therefore still have the right to vote in any given election.

"For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2397, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRIMARY ELECTIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representatives Ito and Cabanilla, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources and the Committee on Housing presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 313-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2845, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2845, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LANDS CONTROLLED BY THE STATE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representatives Takumi and Rhoads, for the Committee on Education and the Committee on Labor & Public Employment presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 314-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2486, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2486, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill.

"This bill calls for a minimum of 1,080 student instructional hours per year in grades K-8. Based on the current school day, the increased number of instructional hours would amount to a 229 day instructional year. This would give us an increase of 45 days per year.

"I believe that the interest and education of Hawaii's children should be our first priority. Today's students are expected to know more and to meet higher standards so that they may flourish in a highly competitive marketplace.

"It is imperative that we increase the number of instructional hours per school year for each grade to promote achievement. At less than six and a half hours a day, Hawaii's children are unable to compete with their mainland counterparts. In addition, we do our teachers a disservice by giving them so little time with their students. As a parent I would like to see Hawaii's children have the same length of instructional time as their counterparts on the mainland.

"For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker. This bill extends our school year by requiring minimum instructional time for our students. It won't be a quick fix for our public schools, but it is an absolutely necessary first step to prevent a generation of our children from growing up with only a fraction of a full education. I want to see teachers have more school days at their disposal to teach our children if they so choose. I want to see Hawaii's schools match the best in the world, but it's not going to happen unless our children are given more time to learn."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2486, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 315-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2574, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2574, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PARKING FOR DISABLED PERSONS," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 316-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2604, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2604, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMERCIAL DRIVER LICENSING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2939, HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Report 319, I'm in support, but actually I think with reservations. I'd like to include some written comments, but the reason I have reservations is, as I stated on the Floor before, the Legislature created the Long Term Care Commission and gave it a mission. The appropriation was never released by the Governor and the Chair of the Long Term Care Commission went out and got private money to get the study done. So it seems rather presumptuous of us to then tell him what to do. I think this bill might be better as a resolution. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support with reservations on HB2939. I support this bill with reservations because the Commission and Chair Ho went to great lengths to obtain private funding for its study and is now on the way to producing a vital five-year plan to achieve the State's long-term care policy goals. After taking into consideration the Commission's commitment to Hawaii's long-term care, I would be embarrassed to now tell the Commission what to do.

"This is more appropriately addressed in a resolution."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I am in favor, with strong reservations. Thank you."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"In strong support of HB 2971. The purpose of this bill is to ensure that any island on which a renewable energy facility is proposed to be built, there must be consultation with the residents of that island when the Energy Resources Coordinator discusses and establishes the terms and conditions of permits, plans, and community benefit agreements regarding such facilities.

"As the State Representative of Moloka`i and Lana`i, currently these two islands are most likely to be affected immediately because of proposals and negotiations taking place to build a solar energy farm and a large wind farm. I find that any project that could impact a community should be subject to the approval of that community. Moreover, because many of the proposals for renewable energy facilities entail the exportation of energy, it is highly important that the island residents be consulted prior to the construction of the facilities and have a voice in the proceedings.

"The bill has been amended to reflect these concerns and I urge my colleagues to support this measure because it is beneficial for everyone that we find win-win solutions to solving our need to produce alternative and renewable energy that will help us get off the importation of oil. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2971, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RENEWABLE ENERGY FACILITY SITING PROCESS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations and note that this is the 'Barrel Tax' that was vetoed the last Session. I'll vote with reservations until we see how far it goes down, or if it disappears, or if we know the veto is going to come again. The point being that domestic violence, poverty, hunger, homelessness, everything is exacerbated in Hawaii, and we seem to de-link the causality with the cost of living.

"Mr. Speaker, I think this bill and others with great causes for the environment are super, but you know the thing that is most intimate in our hearts are the people of Hawaii and we need to help them survive. Not that we don't have to take care of the environment, but we need to stop taxing and increasing the cost of living in Hawaii. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations to H.B. 2421 – Relating to Government. This bill establishes various initiatives, and appropriates funds to promote economic development for local food and energy businesses. It also ensures Hawaii is energy and food self-sufficient and sustainable to the maximum extent feasible.

"Although this measure has good intentions to promote our State's economic development and to help Hawaii's natural resources, it represents a large tax increase that will impact all Hawaii residents. As stated by the Department of Taxation, "the State and the Nation are in a recession where taxpayers are worried about their finances. This tax is highly regressive and will impact the poor the most." Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to comment that this isn't an environmental bill. This is an economic stabilization bill for our State. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker I speak in strong support of HB 2421. This legislation establishes initiatives and appropriates funds to increase Hawaii's environmental security and food and energy self-sufficiency.

"More specifically, this measure promotes:

(1) Economic development for local food and energy businesses by providing necessary funding, guidance, and infrastructure;

(2) Hawaii's energy and food self-sufficiency and sustainability to the maximum extent feasible; and

(3) Hawaii's natural resources and better adaptation and resiliency to the inevitable challenges brought on by climate change caused by carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gas emissions from burning fossil fuels.

"Hawaii is at a crossroads. As the most geographically isolated state in the country, we are dangerously dependent on imports for basic food and energy. We import about eighty-five per cent of our food and ninety-five per cent of our energy. It has been estimated that Hawaii exported $8,600,000,000 for food and oil in 2008, and every dollar exported is a lost opportunity to support and invest in local businesses. Our dependence on imports also exposes residents and businesses to volatile food and energy costs as oil prices fluctuate.

"Similarly, many acres of highly productive agricultural lands are not being farmed. Currently, Hawaii has a fresh supply of produce for no more than ten days. Ninety per cent of the beef, sixty-seven per cent of fresh vegetables, sixty-five per cent of fresh fruits, and seventy per cent of all milk consumed in the State are imported. While Hawaii may never produce one hundred per cent of its food, the risks and costs to society for dependence on imported food cannot be ignored.

"HB 2421 specially addresses these serious concerns. Through an increase to the per-barrel tax on petroleum products under the environmental response, energy, and food security tax, formerly known as the environmental response tax, monies will be appropriated for the energy and food security initiatives established by this Act.

"In particular, an Agricultural Development and Security Special Fund will be directed towards, among other things, promoting Hawaii agriculture production and processing, battling varroa mites, controlling and eradicating pests, and planning for construction of waterways and distribution systems. To ensure accountability, the Department of Agriculture would be required to submit a report to the Legislature on the status and progress of programs and activities funded under this special fund.

"HB 2421 establishes crucial initiatives and appropriates necessary funds that will allow Hawaii to increase its environmental security and food and energy self-sufficiency. It is in this regard, I am in strong support of HB 2421. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to HB 2421. This is another reincarnation of last year's failed barrel tax. Raising this tax in the midst of one of the worst economic recessions that our country has experienced in modern times is absolutely wrong and counterproductive. Whether the increased revenue goes toward a worthy objective or not, the negative financial impacts to consumers and the people of Hawaii will be inevitable. The cost of fuel will increase and so will the cost of any good transported in Hawaii. The proponents of this measure will be responsible for exacerbating the already too high cost of living in Hawaii."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2421, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Finnegan and Marumoto voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2812, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like a ruling on a possible conflict of interest. I served on two boards of directors of condominiums," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ching continued in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations of H.B. 2812, Relating to Condominiums.

"I live in a condominium and serve on a condominium Board. I tend to agree with the premise of this measure, which establishes a requirement to provide a balance of members of condominium Boards of Directors in mixed use condominiums so that there is representation provided on these Boards for residential owners and, as stated in supporting testimony, "will give tenants, and owners of condominiums more substantial and equitable representation."

"My only concern is that currently on the Board I serve on we often have trouble getting anyone to serve and create quorum. Any added restrictions may only exasperate this problem. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2812, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONDOMINIUMS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection &

Commerce, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representatives Cabanilla and Ito, for the Committee on Housing and the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 343-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2488, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Pine rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I just wanted to reveal a potential conflict. I work at a homeless shelter," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote on House Bill 2488. Mr. Speaker, I support finding ways to help and house the homeless, and there are some programs that really do work. This one I don't believe is going to work. It turns our county parks into homeless shelters, and then some things that just seem to not to be appropriate. They're saying that the counties have to put in showers, coin operated washers and dryers, and lockers in the county parks. Then they say there's restriction on just one shopping cart per person for personal possessions.

"Mr. Speaker, shopping carts aren't available to be purchased by the public, but they are available to be taken from markets. The bill, as it is focused, it does not make sense. The overriding purpose, to provide housing for homeless and shelter for homeless does make sense, but this isn't the vehicle. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to HB 2488. It increases the Conveyance Tax by 15% on the sale of homes valued at $1,200,000 and more to finance the purchase and maintenance of parks under the jurisdiction of the counties to serve the homeless. It also requires the counties to provide matching funds. It was this Body that already raised the Conveyance Tax significantly last year. We can't keep taxing our way out of our budget deficit."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. And this bill is a reminder why we all miss Frank Fasi."

Representative Nishimoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations for now."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to stand in strong support. Homelessness has become a very difficult issue for our community over the last few years, and while there is no clear solution on how to address this issue, this is one possibility to take a look at addressing those who are most needy in our community.

"Secondly, while I know people share some concerns regarding placing this in parks, at some point we're going to need to find some, perhaps temporary solutions to stabilize the situation and find a more permanent and broad solution. But I would just ask the Members to keep an open mind and keep the discussion moving forward. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I think I'll be voting no on this measure and I note that it raises the Conveyance Tax for certain homes to over 15%. We increased that tax last year, and here we're doing it again, so I question this bill. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm standing in support. I want the words of the Majority Whip in the Journal as my own. I really want to emphasize again, I think that what he was trying to point out is, this is a tool. And if we move this forward, it continues to bring attention to the fact that the homeless population in Hawaii is growing, whether we like it or not.

"This is a real creative tool that we can possibly use to accommodate and have people in safe places, in sanitary conditions. Some of us are worried about putting people in parks, but I think having them in parks with lighting, with showers, with bathrooms, is better than what I see when I drive from the State Capitol through Waikiki. I see the homeless sleeping in doorways of small business owners and that's not acceptable. So I'm really glad that we are moving this forward because if the bill makes it or not, it will bring attention and people will be talking about it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. And I just want to say, I appreciate the Majority Whip's diction. I thought he was almost going to make me an offer I couldn't refuse. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to speak very briefly in opposition. The part that I have a problem with is if we raise the Conveyance Tax, at least the State has an opportunity to raise taxes for homelessness. The problem I have with this bill is we have the ability to raise taxes, but at the same time what we're doing is we're requiring the counties to put in matching funds to whatever amount we are. I know this year we're looking at taking money away from the counties. The last thing we should do is force the counties to do the same thing that we have the ability to tax people on. Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in support. And I want to adopt the words of the Majority Floor Leader and the Majority Whip, and just add that this is already happening in places like the Waianae Coast. Probably the majority of our parks already are for the homeless and this is something that the community and the police have been asking for, for years; that we designate certain parks where it is legal for them to camp. Because the way it is now, they sweep the parks and they know that they have nowhere to go. And they just go from one park to the next park, to the next park.

"The police are human too, you know. It's not fun to go up to a family with a baby and to tell them that they have to leave knowing that they have nowhere to go. So this is something the community is desperately asking for. Maybe the bill needs some fine tuning, but I'm very, very happy to see that it's a concept that is starting to be embraced by the greater community."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of Stand. Com. Report 343. The parks issue was actually brought by the Administration. That's why it's in this measure. That was their idea. The Chair of Housing actually incorporated the idea from the Administration regarding the parks so that part of the bill is actually from the Administration. So I am in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please record a no vote for me. I'm against any more additional mandates on the counties when we're thinking of taking their TAT."

Representative McKelvey rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Keith-Agaran and Luke be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to change my vote from with reservations to a no vote, and to remind us that as tourism is still our breadwinner, our environment is our economy, and our economy is our environment. If we lose our parks, we lose an integral part of that whole attraction. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With all due respect to the situation that the Representative from Waianae brought up, I'm in opposition."

At 12:35 o'clock p.m. Representative Takai requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:37 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2488, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HOMELESS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Ching, Finnegan, Hanohano, Keith-Agaran, C. Lee, Luke, Marumoto, McKelvey, Nishimoto, Pine, Thielen, Ward and Yamane voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2125, HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On Stand. Com. No. 344. I am in support with slight reservations and would like to submit written comments."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations to H.B. 2125 – Relating to Environmental Protection. This bill requires businesses in the State to collect an offset fee for each plastic or paper disposable checkout bag, newspaper bag, and laundry or dry cleaning bag distributed to customers.

"I support the Rise above Plastics campaign and respect their efforts to make positive change in our environment, however, the administrative efforts that must be done if this measure is passed will be both grueling and costly. Additionally, this measure will harm local businesses. As stated by the Retail Merchants of Hawaii, "In this troubling economy, retailers should be afforded opportunities to keep their doors open and their employees employed, and not be overly burdened with greater expenses." This measure will also go on to affect the general public, which, according to the Department of Health, is inappropriate at this time of economic difficulty. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2125, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Marumoto voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 345-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2676, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2676, HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support and I would like to submit comments to the Journal."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"In strong support of HB2676. This bill exempts contracts for the procurement of food or fuel made by the Kahoolawe Island Reserve Commission (KIRC) from the State Procurement Code. Under new amendments to the bill, KIRC would still be subject to the reporting requirements of the State Procurement Code to ensure that the Code is otherwise complied with and to avoid discrepancies in the future.

"The rehabilitation of Kaho`olawe is a matter of vital importance to the Hawaiian community and the State at large. However, KIRC is typically underfunded, which greatly impacts its ability to carry out its mission. As the State Representative of the Island of Kaho`olawe, I am highly in favor of this bill, as I understand the enormity and importance of the task at hand in terms of its impact on the Hawaiian people and the preservation of their cultural heritage.

"Furthermore, I know firsthand that by exempting KIRC from the State Procurement Code it will help them to expedite their process to ensure that food and fuel is provided in a timely manner for their staff to receive in order of fulfilling their mission. I urge my colleagues to please support this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2676, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE KAHOʻOLAWE ISLAND RESERVE COMMISSION," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 346-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2057, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2057, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. No. 346 I have very serious concerns. I notice that this is a major change in the Procurement Code. There's no testimony. There's no input from the Procurement Institute. And there're sections in here that really bother me. For example, authorizing the Procurement Officer or the Auditor to audit the books of a contractor. I don't see how in the world we can go and audit the books of the private sector, so I have reservations."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Berg rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Herkes be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Hanohano rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Herkes be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Marumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Herkes be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2133, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2376, HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is the constitutional amendment proposing a change to the Board of Education. I do support the effort to change the Board from an elected Board to an appointed Board. In fact, I've supported it pretty much my entire legislative career. I believe the intent here is to model the new Board of Education and the process after the University of Hawaii Board of Regents, and as such, my concern is this.

"If in fact we want to make the entire Board of Education appointed, as provided by law, we still have funky little things at the very end of the Constitution that says the Hawaii State Student Council shall select the public high school student to serve as a non-voting member on the Board of Education. I do support a voting student member on the Board of Education. However, I do believe that if we're going to do this right, and I believe I spoke on it earlier, if we're going to do this right, let's do it right. And let's remove any provisions and any qualifications to any members on the Board of Education and leave to the underlying bill which is not in front of us today, but will be worked on as well.

"Because if you take a look at the question that is posed to the public on page 2, it talks about the entire Board of Education. So my recommendation to the Chairman of the Education Committee is, in discussion during the hearing was to do just that. And I had hoped that it was going to be picked up by the Judiciary Committee. We have more chance in the Finance Committee, but it's kind of this quirky little thing right now that's still sitting there, and that in the end of the day, if this bill passes and the Constitutional Amendment passes, I believe it will raise a considerable amount of questions in the future. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I'm opposed to this measure. I believe that we are rushing into changing the current system that we have a little too rapidly.

We're overreacting and I would prefer a resolution or something of that nature where we can study this a little bit more. I still believe in the electoral system and that the Board members should be elected by respective constituencies; possibly smaller constituencies with an increased number of Board members. But just going into this measure, I would hope that somewhere along the line, it would be held back for this year so we can sit back a little bit and begin to see if this is the right way to go. I think the reaction is too early at this point. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, in support, Mr. Speaker. We are in an educational crisis, and in a crisis there's no longer any more time for studies or delay. We must be more proactive and we must take a little bit more chances if we want to bring change to our public education system. So I think we should continue this discussion. This of course isn't going to change everything, but it's at least going to make at least just one person truly accountable for the decisions that are made. It takes away all of this back and forth of who's in charge where nothing gets done."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. I just wanted to clarify that this is the bill for the Constitutional Amendment change, and I would urge our colleagues to pass this at this moment as we work with Finance also to craft the underlying bill. It's the underlying bill that establishes how the Board will be appointed and the process in which the Superintendent will be hired that really warrants all of our attention. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I have serious reservations about this measure. It amends the Hawaii Constitution to provide for a Board of Education to be appointed by the Governor. Although I applaud the desire to enact some real educational reform, I do feel that other proposals would ensure a greater degree of accountability and results on the part of the DOE. For instance, making the Superintendent of Education a cabinet position on the Governor's cabinet or abolishing the BOE would be much more advantageous than keeping the BOE and making it all appointed."

Representative McKelvey rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. I also would like to identify with the comments of Speaker Emeritus because he said it would be a good bill if we had smaller, accountable representative units. That's really pushing the ball down the court. This is a half a loaf. We can't get that. We've got to get accountability because we are in a crisis, and we've got no accountability.

"When you live in a round house, you can never get cornered and that's why we still have furloughs, Mr. Speaker. That's why our kids today are not in school, because we've got nobody accountable because everybody points around, and around, and around, and around, and around, and we're still going around. And if we Sine Die and the kids are still out of school, Mr. Speaker, we as policy makers that put our first priority on education, our biggest budget item, if we can't get our kids back into school by the end of this Session, shame on us."

Representative Carroll rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"In opposition of HB2376. The purpose of this bill would require that members of the Board of Education (BOE) be appointed by the Governor, with Senate approval.

"I oppose this bill because I am concerned about the Neighbor Islands not having true representation because through an appointment process, it becomes political with the Administration. Having elections ensures that the people of that respective district have an opportunity to meet their candidates and examine their views, opinions, and values. But a government-appointed BOE would not necessarily understand the diverse needs of the Neighbor Islands because it doesn't require the appointee to live in those districts.

"I humbly ask my colleagues to please vote no on this measure."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm strongly in favor of this measure as were three former Governors of this State, Ariyoshi, Waihee and Cayetano, who served a total of 25 years as Governors of this State. They know that the way it's set up now is unworkable and they are all advocating this change. It is imperative that we follow their advice. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2376, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Carroll, McKelvey and Souki voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 350-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2759, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2759, HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Awana rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to ask for a potential conflict ruling. I'm a homestead lessee," and the Chair ruled "no conflict."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to H.B. 2759, which creates a gaming commission to regulate all gaming on Hawaiian home lands, imposes a wagering tax on gross receipts of casino gaming operations and provides for distribution to the general fund and the Hawaiian Home Lands Trust Fund.

"Why do we need legislation like this, which jumps the gun when we do not even know if our residents support gambling in the first place. The Department of Hawaiian Homelands itself opposes this legislation, claiming, "DHHL is concerned about the potential disadvantages associated with gaming: negative impacts to local businesses, difficulties with and cost of regulation, and social costs which may unintentionally cause a negative impact to our beneficiaries and to the State." Considering that Hawaiian Homelands is to receive 80% of gambling revenues, the opposition of this only major beneficiary should be enough in itself to kill the bill.

"Both in terms of budget balancing and human welfare, the costs of legalized gambling grossly outweigh any potential revenue. Legalized gambling will not attract new money into our State, either by causing visitors to spend more or by attracting new visitors: The savings tourists would have otherwise spent on retail items, dining, and services – which simultaneously enrich their cultural experience and knowledge of the Islands, feed local business, and disseminate items which will popularize Hawaii vacations to others abroad – will simply be drained by the casinos. Moreover, a chaotic environment of legalized gambling will repel eco-tourists, families, and leisure-seeking professionals who now select Hawaii travel as a quiet escape from mainland bustle. The boisterous and criminally-inclined demographic which gambling may indeed lure, I am sure, will only repel our most loyal visitors, and in no way compensate for them.

"Hawaii residents, already struggling with bankruptcy, foreclosures, illiteracy, domestic abuse, and drug addictions, cannot afford casinos. Let us not repeat the mistake made by 19th Century planters who spread the rabid mongoose, decimating countless species of native birds and reptiles, in an effort to curtail the rat. Just as planters missed the rat in the end, so will legalized gambling miss our budget goals. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote. And I note that Hawaiian Homes is against this. It needs to be vetted further. In particular at the national level also. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"In support of HB2759, Relating to Gaming. The purpose of this measure is to authorize the Hawaiian Homes Commission (HHC) to allow gaming on Hawaiian Home Lands and to consult with the HHC Act beneficiaries and designate specific Hawaiian Home Lands parcels for the purposes of establishing casino gaming operations. The measure also creates the Hawaii Gaming Commission to regulate casino gaming operations; and imposes a wagering tax on gross receipts of casino gaming operations and provides for the distribution of 80% revenues to the Hawaiian Home Lands Trust and 20% to the State general fund.

"In January 2010, I was invited to visit the Tulalip Tribe in Washington State. My interest was to see what Federal Recognition has done for the Native Americans as it could do for native Hawaiians should the Akaka Bill see passage in Congress. During my visit at Tulalip, I discovered that although Federal Recognition has provided federal funding to the tribe, the Tulalip members debated and took steps to create gaming by building a facility to game Bingo. When their tribe was able to turn a profit, their revenues were used to build a casino. Immediately they saw results and raised enough money to build a resort connected to their casino. Today, their casino profits are over $30 to $50 million after operations per year. These revenues are allocated to the tribal fund, and in turn members of the tribe can request for funds through a transparent process for their educational, social, public safety, health, human services, judicial, housing, natural resources, economic development, cultural, tourism, water, renewable energy, broadband programs and infrastructure capital improvement projects. I've seen firsthand what gaming has done for their community. Furthermore, I admire their ability to empower their people by supporting their programs to fill their needs.

"What I experienced and saw firsthand inspired me to introduce legislation such as gaming on Hawaiian Home Lands and entertain a conversation about generating revenues for the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands Trust.

"During the early 1900's, concern about the plight of the Hawaiian people who had been displaced from rural to urban areas began to emerge as a result of the serious disruption in their traditional way of life. Out of concern for the declining numbers of full-blooded Hawaiians and the recognition that all previous systems of land distribution were ineffective, Congress entertained various homesteading proposals designed to rehabilitate the native Hawaiian people. Eventually, Congress enacted the Hawaiian Home Commission Act (HHCA), creating land trust from ceded crown and public lands that were intended to rehabilitate the native Hawaiian people by making them eligible to receive the benefits of homesteading through leased land and related programs from the Trust.

"Title to the Hawaiian Home Lands vested in the United States until the Territory of Hawaii became a State on August 1, 1959, at which time the newly formed State of Hawaii entered into a compact with the United States to assume the management and disposition of the Hawaiian Home Lands. Hawaii Admission Act of March 18, 1959 together with the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act imposed upon the State the duties and obligations of trustee to oversee the operations carried out under the authority of the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act. Despite the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act's admirable goals, controversy plagued the Trust from its inception in 1921 and continued after its transfer to the State in 1959. The problems were of such magnitude that, in 1983, a Federal-State Task Force on the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act was convened.

"The Task Force submitted a report to the State that identified several areas of concern and made recommendations for improvement. The areas included, (1) problems with the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act itself that affected the Trust as a whole, involving, (a) the lack of an inventory of the Hawaiian Home Lands, (b) the lack of useable lands, (c) the lack of proper funding sources, and (d) the improper use/sale/exchange of Hawaiian Home Lands by the State and federal governments; and (2) administrative problems affecting individual beneficiaries, such as (a) delays related to the application and eligibility determination process, and (b) delays resulting from mismanagement of the long waiting lists. Commencing in 1988, the State began its efforts to resolve the issues relating to the Trust.

"In 1988, the Hawaii State Legislature attempted to address the criticisms of the Hawaiian Home Lands program and provide redress to its beneficiaries through the passage of "The Native Hawaiian Judicial Trusts Relief Act," 1988 Haw. L. Act 395, later codified as HRS Chapter 673 (Supp. 1988). Act 395 provided a limited waiver of sovereign immunity for beneficiaries of the trust to bring suits, prospectively, for money damages relating to breaches of the State Trust responsibilities occurring after July 1, 1988. In addition, section 5 of Act 395 provided an unfettered right to sue for actual damages for past breaches of trust between August 21, 1959 and June 30, 1988 and directed that all suits must be brought prior to June 30, 1993. However, the Act also provided an opportunity for the Governor to present a proposal for resolution of such claims to accommodate the Attorney General's concern about the impact of such claims on the State treasury. In the event that the Governor failed to present such a proposal to the 1991 Legislature or the proposal was rejected, the right to sue provision would remain.

"The 1991 Legislature passed Act 323, entitled "Individual Claims Resolution Under the Hawaiian Home Lands Trust Act," which incorporated the compromised amendments to H.B. 895. Although H.B. 895 had proposed amendments to HRS Chapter 673, Act 323 was later codified as HRS chapter 674 which establishes the panel and a claims review process.

"In Chapter 674, it authorizes the Panel to review and evaluate the merits of claims brought by individual beneficiaries, render findings, and recommend monetary damages and other relief. After reviewing an individual's claims, the Panel is then required to render an advisory opinion to the Legislature regarding the merits of each claim, including an "estimate of the probable compensation or any recommended corrective action for legislative action.

"In 1993, the Legislature passed Act 323 because of delays in creating the Panel and extended the filing deadlines in chapter 674 as follows: (1) an additional two years for filing claims with the Panel; and (2) an additional three years to file written notice with the Panel that the claimant does not accept legislative action; and (3) an additional three years for filing an action suit in Circuit Court. The deadline for the Panel's final report to the Legislature was extended to 1994 to 1997. In 1994, the Legislature considered and approved the Panel's recommendation to dismiss the claims of two individual beneficiaries.

"Due to uncertainties regarding land titles arising out of claims related to Trust lands and breaches of the Trust that affected the Trust as a whole, Act 14, which was based on the Governor's Action Plan and Section 5 of Act 395, was promulgated by the 1995 Legislature. Act 14 expressly stated its intent to settle all retroactive claims, but left intact the Chapter 674 claims. Act 14 created a Trust fund to settle all title-related Trust claims arising from the State's misuse of Trust lands and precluded all retroactive claims, including those governed by HRS chapter 674, from creating clouds on existing land titles. Act 14 states that its effect was res judicata as to all retroactive claims, except for those claims related to federal government reparations, as well as Chapter 673 and Chapter 674 claims. Act 14 seeks to cure fiduciary breaches affecting the Trust as a whole, whereas Chapter 674 is preserved as the remedy by which individual beneficiaries can pursue claims against the State defendants for person loses or harm suffered through breaches of the State's fiduciary obligations between 1959 and 1988.

"The Panel reported that it had received 4,327 claims brought by 2,752 claimants prior to the August 31, 1995 filing deadline. The Panel stated that, of the 4,327claims filed, 396 claims were closed and 3,931 had been accepted for investigation. The 1997 Panel Report also recommended damage awards for 162 claims, totaling approximately $6.7 million.

"For many years, the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act was underfunded and unable to place many people on the lands as it did not have sufficient funding for infrastructure. Land that could have been used for income-producing leases to pay for that infrastructure was improperly used, disposed of, or withdrawn from the trust by the Territory and the State. In recognition of this fact, and the hundreds of people thereby deprived of the opportunity for a leasehold, the Legislature passed Act 14, Special Session Laws of Hawai'i 1995. This Act committed $600 million to the Hawaiian Homes Act, $20 million per year for the next 30 years, to provide a "substantial, predictable funding mechanism" for the Commission.

"The panel's deadline was extended to 1999 but it was able to handle only a little over half of the claims in this time period. The Governor vetoed a bill to extend the life of the panel to finish addressing these claims. A group of claimants with unresolved claims filed a class action suit, Kalima vs. State of Hawaii, Department of Hawaiian Home Lands, asking for a right to present their cases directly to the court.

"First Circuit Judge Eden Hifo said in her decision in the 1999 Kalima vs. DHHL case that the plaintiffs provide by "clear and convincing evidence" breaches of trust that caused eligible Native Hawaiians to not be placed on the land – which itself is further breach of trust. Hifo said breaches of trust include not taking an inventory of lands, not maintaining proper financial records which among other things prevented DHHL from taking advantage of revenue bonds, and not acting to ensure the return of 29,000 acres of land, or "set asides" which had been removed from the Trust for government entities and private individuals, most before Statehood in 1959.

"I tell you all of this history because I am very concerned about the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands Trust. In our House Committee on Hawaiian Affairs and the House Committee on Judiciary, I asked the following questions regarding the waitlist, revenues vs. operating cost and their strategy to replace the $30 million dollars that is appropriated each year by the Legislature due to Act 14, $600 million dollar settlement which goes away in 2014. The Department of Hawaiian Home Lands stated that they have an estimated 25,000 plus on the waitlist with 100 to 200 qualified applicants place each month on the waitlist. They also reported that they generate an estimated revenue amount through their commercial leases, federal grants and other resources about $13 million dollars. Their current operations cost $22 million dollars per year. If you do the math, they are about $9 million dollars short to break even.

"Now, it was reported that with the $30 million appropriation each year, the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands are able to place from 500 to 1,000 beneficiaries onto their lands. However, I'm concerned about the triple rate that the waitlist has increased in the past five years which includes the $30 million per year appropriations. Now, when 2014 comes and the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands doesn't have other generating revenues to cover that loss, we will be back to where we began in 1959 and many beneficiaries will never see the opportunity to own their home on Hawaiian Home lands. Not to mention the possible lawsuits in the near future that could occur because the State may not be able to reach their obligation to the Trust. The settlements could be horrendous and possibly bankrupt the State.

"This is why as the Chair of the House Committee on Hawaiian Affairs Committee, I felt compelled to introduce this gaming bill to seek the consultation of our native Hawaiian beneficiaries and find solutions to generating revenues for the Trust so the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands can fulfill the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act.

"Yes, gaming is controversial and many may say that it will attract social ills. However, I believe that we already have social ills and the State is having a hard time provide the resources so these critical services can function at a level where needs are met. Through controlled and successful strategy to provide gaming as a form of entertainment where we can raise revenues, I believe that it is possible with the right leadership and plan.

"House Bill 2759 affords a conversation with the Hawaiian Home Lands Beneficiaries and its Hawaiian Homes Commission to determine if whether or not they want gaming and if so, they will have an opportunity to discuss the location of the casino resort. This bill will not force the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands to do gaming, but provide them with a mechanism to decide whether or not they want this option. My intention is to take it to the people to decide its fate. For these reasons, I support this measure and ask my colleagues to support it as well.

"And if the fate of our native Hawaiian Home Lands beneficiaries is not to use this mechanism to do gaming, then what is the alternative? I am open to listening to solutions offered in place of gaming. I encourage everyone to start talking to each other and tell us legislators what are the alternatives to generating revenues so we can help with public policy that will support your ideas."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support with reservations. The Department of Hawaiian Homelands has concerns surrounding this measure. As I understand it, DHHL's position is that they need to have time to inquire with lessees. They are not supporting this measure. At this point, I have grave concerns for the exact same reasons. Lessees and beneficiaries should be informed before decisions are made affecting their rights and privileges to this land.

"At the same time, I understand the intentions of the Representative from Hana who introduced this measure. She has worked closely with Native American tribes. I believe she is seeking similar benefits that tribes have from generating gaming revenue for native Hawaiians. She has seen successes in Arizona, Montana and Washington State. Her heart is in the right place, but perhaps the timing of this bill is somewhat putting the cart in front of the horse. My hope is that with increased dialogue from all concerned parties, a coming to terms on this measure may be reached. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 2805. Appropriating funds to the Civil Air Patrol would increase Hawaii's readiness in the face of the real and disastrous threat of a tsunami.

"Because of our location in the Pacific, Hawaii is vulnerable to hurricanes, volcanic eruptions, and earthquakes, which can all result in a devastating tsunami. The Civil Air Patrol volunteers are dedicated to providing Hawaii with a warning system to ensure the safety of our residents and tourists. Their unpaid service was proven valuable in 2006, when the islands of Hawaii, Maui and Oahu were rocked by an earthquake that measured a 6.7 on the Richter scale, leaving people in fear of their safety during a statewide blackout with little communication. The Civil Air Patrol volunteers sprung into action providing interisland communication that was an important part of the response effort to one of the largest natural disasters in Hawaii during this decade.

"For over 50 years the Civil Air Patrol volunteers have dedicated their time and resources to defending our security. Investing funds in this organization is really investing in the safety of our loved ones, our neighbors, our State, our ohana. Thank you."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to specify the conditions under which veterans qualify for a civil service hiring preference.

"Most National Guardsmen and Reservists did not serve on active duty for periods long enough to qualify for the Veteran's Hiring Preference. This has changed dramatically. Many of these enlistees have had years of service, usually on active duty, now are veterans in every sense of the word and deserving full consideration for hiring.

"Being a veteran means that an individual will bring discipline, formal training and leadership experience to the work place. It is important that the State and local governments have an opportunity to efficiently hire these personnel and gain the benefits of a skilled veteran.

"For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of HB2290. This bill supports the operations of the Department of Agriculture (DOA) and helps mitigate the negative effects by its recently completed reduction in force. Among other things, the bill would allow DOA to enter into agreements with government and private agencies to hire and pay temporary inspectors to perform certification and audit services. In addition it would establish new or increase certain existing fees to cover the operation and maintenance costs of agriculture inspection and certification programs via a two-tiered increase.

"Hawaii has been severely impacted by the decrease in services by plant and commodity inspectors. Although many of these tasks involved fees, there was also subsidization of associated costs from the general fund. Industry stakeholders recognize the dire state of the State budget, and testified to their willingness to evolve to a true fee for services structure to ensure the necessary certifications and inspections for their crops. This bill provides the means to move in this direction.

"Furthermore, papaya growers in my district testified that the IPP certificates produced by the DOA inspectors are crucial to reduce delays of present papaya shipments. In Hilo, DOA laid off two (2) full time ACMS, leaving only one part time ACMS. There is no alternate coverage if this person is sick or on vacation. The industry requires an ACMS to issue IPP Certificates on all shipments to Japan; HB2290 could help remedy this situation and prevent any interruption in exporting papayas to that country.

"The ability to move products in and out of the State, as well as interisland is critical to the vitality of the State's agriculture industry and its overall economy. HB2290 is a vehicle for DOA to provide its necessary services that are required in that regard and I am in strong support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations on this please. And just a 'heads up' to the Finance Committee. Mr. Speaker, there's a right of first refusal in this bill, which means to the realtors such as Speaker Emeritus, they will know that that lowers the value of the lease. So that would mean less money coming into this State for leasing that property. I think I would ask the Finance Committee members to look at that because it means less money into our State coffers for leases in the future. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of HB2409. This bill encourages commercial aquaculture ventures in the State by providing favorable lease terms for public lands.

"Although the State Department of Land and Natural Resources opposed the measure, it is important to note that recent cuts to the Department of Agriculture resulted in significant reductions to its Aquaculture Division. This bill would assist new enterprises by providing reasonable leases, thus making major investments more plausible and attainable.

"Aquaculture is a nascent business in Hawaii. Entities already vested in the industry stressed how this bill would be of benefit and would help them survive. This measure should go forward to House Finance as they could best determine the possible fiscal impacts - both negative and positive - in this economy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am with reservations. During the hearing it wasn't clear by those testifying that this would have positive or negative implications with those wanting to regenerate the fish ponds as an option for aquaculture. Thank you."

"In strong support and I'd like to submit comments."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"In support of HB1796. This bill would place the Office of Hawaiian Affairs (OHA) in charge of establishing a Kupuna Honorary Degree program that would give qualified kupuna the Pohaku Award, the Hawai`i equivalent of the Nobel Peace Prize. I firmly believe that our elders should be honored for their continued contributions to the community, whether social or cultural. However, I also recognize that the recession has impacted everyone and that OHA should be allowed flexibility in terms of the creation and implementation of this program. This being said, we should still support this endeavor and see this Honorary Kupuna degree program through. This is why I introduced the bill and urge my colleagues to support it."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. In strong support, but with a request to the Finance Committee. Please raise the threshold to $5,000. This would keep people with small actions able to go into Small Claims Court and represent themselves without having to go through the trouble. They couldn't even find an attorney, I don't think, to take a case with a claim that is only $5,000. So I think it's more legitimate and it's a better use of our judicial resources. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations of H.B. 2144, Relating to Legislative Caucuses. This measure statutorily establishes the Joint Legislative Keiki Caucus and Joint Legislative Kupuna Caucus.

"I am in full support of the Keiki and Kupuna Caucuses—which is why I choose to be a member of these caucuses—however, the question must be asked: Should we then not establish all of our existing Legislative Caucuses in statute? The idea of democracy is to foster ideas from all people; it's a government of ideas for the people by the people. The Keiki Caucus and the Kupuna Caucus generate brilliant ideas from segments of the population focused on their specific missions, but let us not forget all of the other legislative Caucuses and ideas that exist and incorporate the diverse ideas that shine in the Hawaii State Legislature. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On the same measure, I'd like to rise and speak in support with some reservations. Thank you. This is the bill to create in statute the legislative Keiki Caucus and the legislative Kupuna Caucus. Mr. Speaker, as you are aware, I've served for many years as the Co-Chair of the Keiki Caucus. In fact, ten of my first years I was Co-Chair, so with no disrespect for the Chairman and the members of the Keiki Caucus and the Kupuna Caucus, but my point here is that I think we set precedence. I don't know if it's dangerous, or if it's bad, or whatever, but I think we have to understand that we're setting some precedence here. We have a number of different caucuses in this House, as well as the other Chamber. We have a number of other initiatives generated and I do believe that they are very legitimate and important today.

"What this bill does it forevermore puts into statute the Keiki Caucus and the Kupuna Caucus. I do believe that we should let other Legislatures after us choose whether or not these issues are still important. And it's not to say that I don't support again the Keiki Caucus or Kupuna Caucus. I just don't think that it's appropriate from my perspective to put this into law. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with serious reservations because this is the second time I'm standing up, questioning this bill. The first time, I was accused of being against the Keiki Caucus. I am a member of the Keiki Caucus, and a member of the Small Business Caucus, the Veteran's Caucus, etc., etc.

"The question is, and why I spoke the first time was, let's see what Legislative Management does. The reason why I was standing up and you mistook me for speaking on the last bill is, I was trying to make sure that I saw the Committee Report to see if they discussed that, and what would happen to the rest of us. Do we become illegitimate, outmoded, or out of statute, or therefore out of touch with the rest of what otherwise the Keiki Caucus is doing?

"So I think the issue needs to be raised and I'm not sure the Finance Committee is going to be the final arbiter of this cause. It should have been Legislative Management, but we should have a decision as to what are we going to do with caucuses other than just this one that gets to be codified. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will vote no. I definitely think that what we need to do is just set some kind of rule as to how we do this. There are some very important caucuses, so we should all know how to move forward. Thank you."

Representative Manahan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just rise with reservations. I just don't see the Filipino Caucus in there so I am with reservations."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations and may I have the words of the two previous speakers before me entered in the Journal as if they were my own? I just also have some constitutional concerns that we might be binding future Legislatures," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2144, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LEGISLATIVE CAUCUSES," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Finnegan voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Lately, there have been assertions made regarding the DBEDT and its Director that may be vindictive in nature. That being what it may, the reality is the out-of-state offices in Asia would be so adversely impacted that regardless of the outcome/verdict of any audit, be it with or without merit, the offices would be permanently damaged; as well as its reputation and its ability to serve its function. We should be sensitive to those specific environments. There must be a better way to achieve the purpose of the audit. In these formidable economic times the State Legislature must support DBEDT and not try to entangle one of our State's most important economic tools. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I know everybody's getting hungry and wants to go home, but on this issue here, I would like to vote with strong reservations on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 384-10, Relating to Out-Of-State Offices audit. The bill calls for an audit every two years. Management audits are very comprehensive audits, very expensive. There are many audits that we need to make and many management audits we need to make. I think every two years for a management audit is too often and too expensive, and really not needed. I hope the Finance Committee will consider that as they move along. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will vote no on this measure for the reasons stated by the speaker from Wailuku."

Representative Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote for the reasons I stated the first time this came to the Floor. The breadbasket of tourism is waiting in China, and this is going to put it under the microscope. But those who want to seek revenge, let them wait for another few months and that particular individual who heads that particular department will no longer be there. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker in strong support. As we heard this bill in the Committee on Tourism, Culture, and International Affairs, the testimony was overwhelmingly in support of this measure. We can look back at the last economic downturn in the early '90s and how the hotel construction tax credits helped areas in Waikiki, especially the Lewers St. corridor.

"I was on Kauai this week at an event and executives from the Kauai Marriott had mentioned to me, looking at the first draft of the bill, that it would most certainly give them the incentive to restart the project they had halted due to the economic slowdown. Prior to shutting down the project, 70 construction employees were working on that site and I know this is the exact type of outcome that we want from a tax credit bill like this.

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, for allowing me to submit written comments in strong support."

And if I might say, I was very disappointed to see the Humane Society in the Gallery today; they have been conspicuously absent from the debate, as well the Health Department, the OEQC, and the Hawaii Medical Association. It's really pretty shameful. This is definitely a health issue. Children have been hurt. Adults have been hurt. Animals have been hurt. We need to do something about it. Thank you."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in support. Thank you. This is a similar bill to that which we had last year. And while I know it sounds a little, possibly impractical, there are many people who come to Hawaii who may not be aware of the high cost of living or the difficult economic situation. Some of them come over as a spouse, or a boyfriend or girlfriend, and then they break up and it was the other partner who provided the financial assistance. They then become homeless and they have no way to get back home. I know many people, again, feel that sounds draconian, but it's a way to provide some people who may want to go back home the means to return home where they have family and other support structures. So hopefully I ask my colleagues to keep the discussion going. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing in opposition with some comments. I have the highest esteem for the Representative from Kaneohe-Kailua. There are programs right now that are available for the homeless who seek those desires. If people do need help, there are programs out there right now. Any individual can seek those social workers and various health care professionals willing to work tirelessly to get them to where they need to be. I think, and again I spoke on this matter before, that if you have a program that automatically provides people with a plane ticket home, people will go to the program of least resistance. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations for me, Mr. Speaker, for now. Again, I think the unintended consequences of raising the Conveyance Tax will also lead the counties in this case, if they have to do matching funds, it will lead to an increase in property taxes as well. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote. Just really briefly, regarding the homeless problem. We have to take responsibility for it, and I object to the part that we are going to force the counties to provide matching funds. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. The aspect that I'm concerned about is if we get in a sort of war of dumping our homeless with other states, if we get into a war like that with California, we're going to swamped with homeless and they're going to hardly notice that we send anybody to them at all. So that's my concern. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2280, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HOMELESS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Ching, Finnegan, Keith-Agaran, C. Lee, Luke, Marumoto, McKelvey, Nishimoto, Thielen, Ward and Yamane voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takai being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 401-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1942, HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1942, HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in strong support and will submit written comments."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to establish a temporary Hawaii Veterans Court within the Judiciary to help address prison overcrowding.

"Veterans Court is uniquely positioned to identify veterans who have combat related mental health and substance abuse conditions. The court is designed to connect these veterans to a broad array of treatment and support services while strictly monitoring their rehabilitation progress. Upon completion, the graduate will develop into a law abiding citizen.

"Physical injuries are easy to identify and treat, but the injuries of war are not always physical or visible because exposure to combat can often cause damage to the emotional and mental state of returning service members.

"I have witnessed first-hand the devastation to our soldiers and their families when they turn to drugs or abuse various substances. In many instances, their substance abuse is compounded by combat stress related conditions like Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI), depression, etc. Lives that have honorably served our country during the war disintegrate and are shattered when they return home and are not helped. We owe our soldiers better.

"Hawaii's Judiciary has achieved significant success in problem solving and treatment courts that rehabilitate offenders, reduce incarceration costs, and ensure public safety. The Hawaii Veterans Court will be the only Veterans Court in the nation to expand and enhance services to target National Guard and Reserve soldiers. With the Iraq and Afghanistan wars, 30 percent of the troops are National Guard and Reserve soldiers. Once these soldiers return, their experience with reintegration into civilian life is vastly different than active duty soldiers and warrants tailored solutions.

"For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1942, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VETERANS COURT," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 402-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2752, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2752, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HIGHWAY SAFETY," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 403-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2377, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2377, HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll try to keep this really short. This bill is the bill that accompanies the constitutional amendment for the Board of Education being appointed. It has always been my preference to have this directly under the Governor; an appointed Superintendent without a Board. The reason why I would like to see this and am in favor of this is because of the accountability issue that we were talking about. This sets up a council that is to recommend people to be Board members who would then be selected by the Governor. The council will be appointed by the Governor, the Senate, the House of Representatives, the Parent Teacher Student's Association, HSTA, Hawaii State Student Council, and the Hawaii Business Roundtable.

"Mr. Speaker, I think we're all talking about the accountability issue. How do you have accountability when you have another council? I know it's modeled after some other things, but truly this is about trying to get the control to the school level so they can create their priorities, and then fund them so that they can make the decisions. This sets up another system for pointing the finger at someone else throughout the process. I just really, really don't like this idea. I'd rather have the idea that we empower people at the school level because in the end, those are the people who will make the hard choices, and will be able to convince the others at the school level what's important to them. Especially for teachers and especially for principals who have to live with these decisions.

"Mr. Speaker, we had a bill that came on the Floor the other day and it was because the Board of Education could not make a decision. They had to bring it to the House of Representatives. It was about restricting ice cream and candy. That should show us, Mr. Speaker, that we've got to give this control to the school level, and then if something goes wrong, we have one main person or the Governor to hold accountable. The Governor can easily say, 'Well this council didn't give me people that I wanted.' Mr. Speaker, I feel for these teachers and these students and these principals. Can we please, please give them direct responsibility and accountability for our school system. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I wish to vote no on this measure and I would like to incorporate the same speech I made for the constitutional amendment with this particular measure. But I also wanted to add that this rush to change I think, is very ill-timed. I think it's too rapid. If there's any weakness in the Board, and there certainly is some right now, I think we can share in the weakness. Years ago, we gave the Board policy-making powers through a constitutional amendment, however we continue to make policy for them and eventually they have become so accustomed to us making policy for them, that they don't make any themselves.

"So I think as we begin to fault the Board, I think we need to take a good look in the mirror ourselves, and think about how we got so involved in the policy-making of the Board of Education. Our role was not to make policy, and it is not to make policy. But I think that even if you put all the change in the system right here, it'll still be the same. This Body will continue to make policy and you will still have the same problem. The only way you can have an accountable Board of Education system is to make them elected, provide them eventually with some taxing powers where they could be accountable, fully accountable, to the public. Otherwise, you'll continue to have the same problem. Believe me. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Carroll rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. I rise in support and to reassure my colleagues that this is a work in progress. Since it left the Judiciary Committee we still continue to work on it. I think actually the concerns of all of our Representatives will be addressed as the draft comes out of Finance, and even then there's still a long way to go on this. I think you'll be happy with the resonance of your concerns."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I mentioned some of my concerns in the constitutional amendment bill, but I'm even more convinced now that the earlier bill actually needs to be changed because this bill has the language for the student member on the top of page 2.

"So here's my concern, and I raised it earlier and I thought we were going to fix it. I do understand that this is a work in progress, and I do support an appointed Board. In fact I've supported that for quite awhile. Quite a while. And I do believe that we have vetted this issue for decades now. I think the Members of our Body understand that the last time this went before the public was in 1994, and since then we have numerous Committee hearings and even Floor discussions regarding an appointed Board of Education.

"However, Mr. Speaker, I don't think this proposal in front of us comes even close to what we have done with the Board of Regents at the University of Hawaii. Just one point, and one very important point is that there is no residency requirements for any member of this proposed appointed Board. Now one may argue that the Selection Commission will, in their wisdom, choose the right people. And maybe two of them will be from the Big Island, and two from Maui, and one from Kauai and four from Oahu, but my fear is this. Maybe they will choose all 9 of them from Oahu. I just don't want to be part of this Body in passing this measure when that happens because I do not believe that is our intent. I do believe that the intentions of this Body and of the people that support an appointed Board is actually to make sure that representation is not equal, but fair throughout the entire State. I do hope that as the Finance Committee takes a look at this, and the Senate takes a look at this, that we will once and for all resolve this concern. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2377, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Carroll, Finnegan, McKelvey and Souki voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 404-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2003, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2003, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I also rise with a no vote with good intentions in this bill for campaign finance reform, but there's three poison pills in there. One is to increase mainland contributions to 30%. The other is to remove language specifying the conditions under which contributions from State and county contractors are prohibited. And third, removing language limiting contributions to non-candidate committees. For those three reasons, this is even worse than the bill we had the other day that didn't even get a hearing on the Floor. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote and just short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 404, this bill is supposed to be a recodification and Campaign Spending that has been coming back, year after year, wanting to make sure that we have this recodification because they feel that it's important. They had a committee that helped get the language in there that said it wasn't going to be substantive. We keep on mixing up the substantive into a recodification bill, which in turn harms. It's like using this tool to try and pass something that nobody wants.

"Mr. Speaker, let's not do that any further. Let's keep House Bill 2003 as a recodification to help Campaign Spending clarify and make those amendments, and if you want to be and do what you want to do for relaxing campaign spending reform and you want to do it in 204, then it will be a clearer vote for the people of Hawaii on where you stand. Thank you."

Representative Saiki rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2003, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN FINANCING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Pine, Rhoads, Saiki and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Cabanilla and Takumi being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 405-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2004, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2004, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Ching: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First, I guess I'll announce that it's the birthday of our 16th President today, Abraham Lincoln, who would have been 201 today, his bicentennial being last year. You know he was a great man as we all know, but I don't know how many people know that he was a poet and an inventor, as well as someone who's considered one of the greatest Presidents in our history. He was the founder of the Republican Party who stood by the idea that you cannot tear down people of merit if you want everyone to rise.

"Secondly, I do want to talk about what you have on your desk today. I had the great pleasure and the privilege to go to the Haleiwa Chocolate Festival held a few weeks ago, and I might add that it was sold out. It was completely sold out within hours. It was sold out for many of the vendors and it seems to be a trend that chocolate is selling out almost everywhere. And if you go on the website which is coming out, you will know that February is the chocolate month of consumption. You'll find out that all over the world and preferred destinations in some cases, chocolate festivals have over 700,000 attendees.

"But right here you have locally born and raised here, our little Waialua Chocolate. There's a picture of a little pod there. Rooted here in the soil of Hawaii, baked in the sun, but sold to San Francisco to become refined or whatever, and then brought back to be enjoyed by us all. So that is locally grown chocolate and I hope that you will take a look at it and you enjoy it. I'm sorry I couldn't give you more, but it's really expensive this year. It's the rarest chocolate in the world. I usually give you a bunch, but it's budget cuts, right? Anyway, Happy Valentine's Day."

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, February 12 is Independence Day for Chile. They will be coming here for APEC. They're a member of APEC with the US and in November, 2011, they shall arrive. They were independent from Spain in 1818. They don't export chocolate, but the 6th largest of wine in the world, and some of us buy and eat grapes, and we get a lot of Chilean grapes during the offseason. Thank you."

Speaker Say: "Representative Takai, I've talked to the Clerk about it. We'll do it later.

"The Chair would like to apologize, for the discussion with one of our Members."

At 1:28 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:29 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2197, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONDOMINIUMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Belatti, Bertram, Carroll, Choy and Evans being excused.

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 411-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2351, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2351, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Magaoay.

Representative Yamane rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With active members of our armed forces and veterans as constituents of District 37, I rise in strong support of this measure. House Bill 2351 corrects an oversight so that individuals who receive a less than honorable discharge or a general discharge under honorable conditions are not able to receive veterans' license plates.

"A veteran's license plate is a government approved public declaration of service that is innately associated with honor. Allowing someone who committed detainable acts, such as murder, sabotage, or espionage, which resulted in a dishonorable discharge to obtain a veteran's license plate is a pretense of valor. H.B. 2351 would correct this oversight that enables undeserving people to apply for a license plate and preserve the integrity of the special license plates.

"The Office of Veterans Services and the Oahu Veterans Council have both testified in support on this bill."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support."

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to preserve the integrity of the special license plates available to veterans of military service.

"Veteran license plates identify individuals who have provided military service to this country and are a small symbol of the gratitude of the general public for their honorable service. Individuals with a less than honorable discharge should not be afforded this recognition, a recognition they can receive under current statutes.

"This measure addresses this issue by requiring veterans to provide proof of their honorable discharge to obtain a veteran license plate. It is only right that a veteran should submit his application for a special license plate with proof of being honorably discharged from the United States Military. An individual with less than honorable discharge has no right to the benefits afforded those who serve honorably.

"For these reasons I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2351, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VETERANS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Belatti, Bertram, Carroll, Choy and Evans being excused.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Mizuno, for the Committee on Human Services presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 415-10), recommending that H.R. No. 10, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.R. No. 10, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES TO CREATE A DATABASE RESOURCE WEBSITE TO HOUSE REAL-TIME AVAILABILITY OF ALL JUVENILE SERVICES FROM THE LOWEST LEVEL OF CARE TO THE HIGHEST LEVEL OF CARE FOR THE APPROPRIATE PLACEMENT OF JUVENILES IN HAWAII," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative M. Oshiro being excused.

Representative Mizuno, for the Committee on Human Services presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 416-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 19, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 19, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES TO CREATE A DATABASE RESOURCE WEBSITE TO HOUSE REAL-TIME AVAILABILITY OF ALL JUVENILE SERVICES FROM THE LOWEST LEVEL OF CARE TO THE HIGHEST LEVEL OF CARE FOR THE APPROPRIATE PLACEMENT OF JUVENILES IN HAWAII," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative M. Oshiro being excused.

Representative Mizuno, for the Committee on Human Services presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 417-10), recommending that H.R. No. 11, be referred to the Committee on Judiciary; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 418-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 49, be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 11, and H.C.R. No. 49, be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. On Stand. Com. Report 417, I stand in opposition. Mr. Speaker, in the first place I think this is a measure that's not necessary because the Department of Human Services has more than they can handle. But I find it to really have a misogynistic feeling to me. Although we know that violence against men occurs and that women sometimes perpetrate violence against men, the great majority of domestic violence cases are those where men have been the perpetrator.

"Surely we should be against violence in any way, whether it's perpetrated by men or women, but I find this an unnecessary measure and I find it really offensive in terms of being directed towards women in an unpleasant way.

"So I am in opposition and I'd like to point out that during the Committee hearings, only one woman was present and she voted with reservations. The other women were absent. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose in opposition to both measures and asked that the remarks of Representative M. Lee be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Belatti rose in opposition to both measures and asked that the remarks of Representative M. Lee be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. In complete respect to the previous speakers, according to the Honolulu Police Department, one-third to one-half of their time is spent on domestic cases. Domestic abuse cases. These cases relate to not only men assaulting women, but also women assaulting men. They even have cases against infants. In fact, shaken baby syndrome is a form of domestic violence.

"As you look into domestic violence and the complexity of it and you start to peel back the layers, you see that it is far reaching and broad. Not only does it affect women, it affects all of us. I appreciate the author of these measures, both Stand. Com. Report 417 and Stand. Com. Report 418, for bringing to light a concern that we have. Domestic violence in any form, towards anyone, male or female, children or kupuna, is wrong. Therefore I support these measures. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as Chair of our Caucus' Gender Equity Committee, I back the Chair of Human Services."

Representative Morita rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in opposition to both measures, Stand. Com. Rep. Nos. 417 and 418. I believe the resources should be put to prevention of domestic violence rather than investigation. And I would like to adopt the words of the speaker from Mililani as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"In support of both measures, Mr. Speaker. As our nation moves toward our claim of gender equality and equality towards women, we should not negate the claims of men to be untrue. We should give them equality, just as women want equality from them. For the sake of gender equality, I think that we should give credence to these Resolutions. I would like for men to think that we're not just biased towards ourselves. So let's vote for gender equality. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 11, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES TO INVESTIGATE THE INCIDENCE OF DOMESTIC ABUSE PERPETRATED BY WOMEN AGAINST MEN IN HAWAII," was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Belatti, M. Lee, McKelvey and Morita voting no, and with Representative M. Oshiro being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 49, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES TO INVESTIGATE THE INCIDENCE OF DOMESTIC ABUSE PERPETRATED BY WOMEN AGAINST MEN IN HAWAII," was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Belatti, M. Lee, McKelvey and Morita voting no, and with Representative M. Oshiro being excused.

Representative Mizuno, for the Committee on Human Services presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 419-10), recommending that H.R. No. 21, be referred to the Committee on Legislative Management.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.R. No. 21, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE AUDITOR TO PERFORM A FINANCIAL AND MANAGEMENT AUDIT OF THE CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT AGENCY," was referred to the Committee on Legislative Management, with Representative M. Oshiro being excused.

Representative Mizuno, for the Committee on Human Services presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 420-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 61, be referred to the Committee on Legislative Management.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 61, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE AUDITOR TO PERFORM A FINANCIAL AND MANAGEMENT AUDIT OF THE CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT AGENCY," was referred to the Committee on Legislative Management, with Representative M. Oshiro being excused.

Representative Carroll, for the Committee on Hawaiian Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 421-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 8, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.C.R. No. 8, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 421 for three reasons. This picture takes away the portraits of our history. Regardless of whatever we think about our history, I think the language they use, particularly in the first paragraph about illegal, immoral, unjust; that's pretty strong 'in your face' language. I don't know if the message of this is to take it and use it like the language of the Apology Resolution, which in 1993 the Supreme Court basically took it and applied it to ceded lands. So some of the language in here looks like it may be leverage-able and probably a bit of an overstatement.

"And lastly you could argue the opposite; that maybe our history needs to be reminded of what took place, and for those Hawaiians who want to see it and have that fire in their belly rekindled. It could have the opposite effect. So removing this I think, has some real questionable value. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to House Concurrent Resolution Number 8, which urges that portraits of officials of the Provisional Government of Hawaii be removed from display in positions of honor in State government buildings.

"By divesting recognition and respect from certain key figures of Hawaii's history, this Resolution asks the people of Hawaii to both rewrite and ignore history. We cannot deny that the Provisional Government of 1893 and 1894 played a pivotal role in Hawaii's progress toward Statehood, regardless of whether our own distant ancestors instigated annexation, or even supported it at all. As I am a fifth-generation Chinese kama'aina, my own ancestors were not recognized as citizens of Hawaii between 1893 and 1894. If we remove all visible traces of the Provisional Government from government surroundings, we are forcing a blatant abyss in our State's developmental identity. No retrospective glance can be perfectly impartial, so by denying the portraits "honor," we are deliberately thrusting them into shadows of dishonor.

"If we remove all visible traces of the Provisional Government from government surroundings, we are forcing a blatant abyss in our State's developmental identity. Almost worse, if we specify that Provisional Government portraits are not to be placed in "positions of honor," we will spit in the face of the United States of America. No retrospective glance can be perfectly impartial, so by denying the portraits "honor," we are deliberately thrusting them into shadows of dishonor. Urging us to ignore and denounce Hawaii's progress toward joining the Union – and thus enjoying the protection, education, order, and funding we may now take for granted – H.C.R. No. 8 forces the people of Hawaii to adopt a sentiment of treason.

"Although all testimonies are bound towards some bias, it is inexcusable that H.C.R. No. 8 – when we have easy access to a variety of viewpoints – selects only those representing one position. Relying wholly upon Cleveland and the Blount Report for authority, refusing even to examine their source biases, H.C.R. No. 8 threatens to force a false and unilateral view of history upon the public. Let us defeat this offensive Resolution. In doing so, we shall remain informed students of Hawaii's history, and loyal citizens of the United States of America. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to comment in support. This Resolution was part of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs package and there was only support for this Resolution. I just want to make that comment in the Journal."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 8, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THAT PORTRAITS OF OFFICIALS OF THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF HAWAI`I BE REMOVED FROM DISPLAY IN POSITIONS OF HONOR IN STATE GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Ching voting no, and with Representative M. Oshiro being excused.

Representatives Herkes and Karamatsu, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce and the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 422-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2546, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS (FLOOR PRESENTATION)

The following resolution (H.R. No. 52) was announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.R. No. 52, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION COMMEMORATING THE 65TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE END OF WORLD WAR II AND ACKNOWLEDGING THE PEARL HARBOR HISTORIC SITES PARTNERS FOR THEIR CONTRIBUTIONS IN PRESERVING THE NATION'S MILITARY LEGACY," was jointly offered by Representatives Takai and Finnegan.

Representative Takai moved that H.R. No. 52 be adopted, seconded by Representative Finnegan.

Representative Takai recognized and thanked the Pearl Harbor Historic Sites partners and commended them for working together to preserve and honor our military history and those who served our country.

Representative Finnegan acknowledged Representative Takai for his participation in bringing the Historic Sites partners together, and then introduced the honorees seated on the Floor of the House:

Mr. Paul DePrey, Superintendent, USS Arizona Memorial;

Mr. Jerry Hofwolt, Executive Director, USS Bowfin Submarine Museum and Park;

Mr. Michael Carr, President, Battleship Missouri Memorial;

Mr. Kenneth DeHoff, Executive Director, Pacific Aviation Museum; and

Ms. Claire Tamamoto, representing Pearl Harbor Historic Trail.

Representative Takai also introduced Mr. Daniel Martinez, USS Arizona Memorial and Park Service historian, who was seated in the Gallery.

Representative Ching thanked the Historic Sites partners for their work in educating the public about our history and those who served.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.R. No. 52 was adopted, with Representatives Berg, M. Oshiro and Souki being excused.

At 12:40 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:48 o'clock p.m.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Evans, seconded by Representative Pine and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain House Bills for Third Reading by consent calendar. (Representatives Berg, Bertram, Luke and Souki were excused.)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 412-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1901, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1901, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT OF VOTING SYSTEM EQUIPMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Berg and Souki being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 413-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2169, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2169, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 413 to express some reservations. Small businesses are the lifeblood of the Hawaiian economy. It is the small businesses that provide services to our local people and our tourism industry. It is these small businesses that provide most of the jobs, and drives our economy. It is these businesses that we are trying to save and help with House Bill 2169, House Draft 2.

"This bill is a good step in the right direction. Without this legislation the employment tax will probably result in a greater increase than unemployment, putting an even greater strain on our already fragile Unemployment Insurance Fund.

"However, this is where I have reservations, Mr. Speaker. The bill does not go far enough. The bill only provides tax relief for the next two years. Under the Administration's proposal, these businesses will have tax relief over the next four years and provide almost $500 million in tax relief. Tax relief that will help our local businesses recover and become prosperous once again.

"The current bill before us uses Schedule D for 2010 and Schedule F for 2011. That is just two years of help. The Department of Labor's plan uses Schedule E for 2010 and 2011 and Schedule F for 2012 and 2013. That is four years of helping our small businesses. In addition, if the economy improves as we all hope it does and the fund increases, the Administration's proposal allows for the Department of Labor to use …"

Representative B. Oshiro rose to a point of order, stating:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Under our Mason's Rules Section 101, Point number 4, debate on a bill is confined to the bill under consideration and does not extend to other bills before the House or in Committee even though they relate to the same subject. So she can only talk about the bill before us."

The Chair addressed Representative Marumoto, stating:

"Thank you, very much. Representative Marumoto, could you please confine your remarks to the bill in its current form as a House Draft 2."

Representative Marumoto continued, stating:

"Thank you for the reminder, Mr. Speaker. This current bill before us will lock us into a mandated schedule for two years and after that time we go back to business as usual, to no relief at all. God forbid that the economy here does not improve, and we pass more taxes that drive companies out of business, and the unemployment rate goes even higher. Well in two years we will be back in the same spot we are in today, or maybe even a worse position. However, if we consider a different plan, then we might have a few more years to help 'weather the storm.' I hope we will see more improvement in this measure as it progresses through the Session. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with strong reservations, almost a no, but with reservations. There's something I'd like to say for it. It's arguably probably the most important bill for the small business community in Hawaii. It's one that for $90 per employee to go up to $1200 per employee for the unemployment insurance.

"As my colleague indicated, this bill does not give a soft landing. It's a half a loaf. It gives for the first year $600 from the $90, but in the second years it goes up to $900. I would argue it's only one year of relief, whereas the Administration's bill gave a soft landing where it would be $600 for three years plus. Then after the economy turns around we can raise up those rates to make it whole.

"The irony of this, Mr. Speaker, is that it costs us nothing. This is all being paid by the business community so why are we being so stringent in making it a hard landing. My fear is this could be a job killer, and if there's anything we've got to do, number one is get our kids back in school, and number two, keep the jobs in Hawaii. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I have very, very strong reservations."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to mention one thing and that is a few years ago when we first debated this issue there was one colleague of ours who stood out and warned us that if we did a certain thing, we may be causing something else. And that something else actually is happening today. And I do want to recognize at this point, then Representative Dwight Takamine, now Senator Dwight Takamine, because he warned us and he told us not to do what we did in 2007. But we did it, and unfortunately we're paying the price that he basically said we would pay.

"And I think as we go along and make decisions this year, I think it's important to heed advice from some of our learned colleagues. I just wanted to remind the Members that I think we were warned very clearly about something like this happening, and I wanted to thank Representative now Senator Takamine for his guidance back then. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Just a couple of quick points, one is that the HD 2 of this bill is not exactly what the Chamber of Commerce asked for, but it's very similar and I'm happy to support the Chamber's position. I'm happy to support this bill and am pleased that it is similar to what the Chamber of Commerce would like to see.

"Secondly, with regard to the longer term of the tax deferral for businesses and UI, under the Administration's proposal we would still be running a $164 million deficit in the UI Fund at the end of 2013. In 2014 we would only be running a positive balance of $23 million. I think it's a very dubious proposition. It's very difficult to predict that far in the future what the economy's going to be doing and we're trying to adopt a responsible approach to this issue.

"I and others, my Vice Chair and others have been working on this problem for months now, and we think that the bill that's on the table right at the moment is a good compromise. It actually gives more tax relief in its first year. It only goes to Schedule D in the first year, which is a lower tax rate than the Schedule E that the Administration wants. So for the year that we know there's going to be a problem, which is this year, the bill that's on the Floor today offers more tax relief with regard to the schedule than the Administration's bill does.

"Now the Administration's bill does cut back on the taxable wage base at a deeper rate, but this is a complicated system in a lot of ways ..."

Representative Finnegan rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Thank you I'm just curious because you just made a ruling and I'm going ask for fair treatment and say that we can speak about bills other than what is being covered today."

The Chair then stated:

"I believe the Chair of the Labor Committee is trying to make a comparative analysis between the original bill, the House Draft 1 and finally the House Draft 2. The Chair will allow him to continue."

Representative Finnegan: "As well as the Administration's, Mr. Speaker?"

Speaker Say: "The Administration's bill is not before this Body. The original House Draft …"

Representative Finnegan: "I agree. That's what this speaker is also speaking of. So fair treatment is all I'm asking for."

Speaker Say: "At this time, the Chair will allow the Chair of the Labor Committee to continue. Please, Representative Rhoads."

Representative Finnegan: "Mr. Speaker, then could I also ask that our Representative from Kahala be able to also speak, and anyone else on the Administration's bill and the HD 1?"

Speaker Say: "At this point in time, Members of the House, the Administration's bill is not before this Body. It is a House Draft 2, which is a compilation of three different versions, the original House Bill, House Draft 1, and House Draft 2.

"The contents of the original bill, the Chair of Labor is making that comparison to the House Draft 1, which came out of the Labor Committee. That was the Labor Committee's recommendation. And now before this Body is a House Draft 2, which is the recommendation of the Finance Committee. And that's the procedure I am following. I will let the Chair of the Labor Committee continue his discussion. Please proceed."

Representative Rhoads continued in support, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just have one more point. And my apologies for straying too far from the ruling that you made a few minutes ago. It is a complicated topic and it's very difficult to discuss in isolation, and I understand that.

"But the only other thing I would add is it is a very complex system. There are lots of variables. We're doing the best we can to get businesses through this difficult period. This bill does that while maintaining that those who are laid off, which by definition means that they've not been fired, and it's no fault of their own, they continue to get their unemployment benefits which will help keep the mortgage paid and keep food on the table. So that's all for my comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I support this with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is probably one of the most important bills that we have to pass during this Session because as you know and like I've said in the past, that small businesses are the engine of our economy. Businesses in general that give us jobs are the engine of our economy.

"Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to address a couple issues that were brought up. We need an aggressive plan and I'm thankful that we're bringing up this piece of legislation. The original, and the House Draft 1, there's significant change. And now through the Chair of Finance and the Finance Committee, there's been a lot of improvement, I believe. I think we should go one step further, and I agree with my colleague from Hawaii Kai.

"The issue that I wanted to speak about was, if the former Representative who is now a Senator of the Hilo area, when he passed this bill there was a compromise. It was not only that we would give relief to small businesses, but in conjunction we also gave extended benefits. So if you want to say that this is solely because of the warning of possibly using up the Unemployment Fund during a bad time, it was also because of the second half of that bill, which was extending and making greater the benefits. So it's twofold.

"Mr. Speaker, I would also say that in this, now when we're looking for relief for the small businesses because these uninsurance premiums are going to go up significantly, we are not looking at the other side of the equation. So business again will be paying for any higher premiums. This is a business tax for the unemployed, and I don't disagree with it, but business pays for it. So if you're going to go into a deficit, the businesses will pay for it in repaying that Fund or making payments for that Fund.

"No unemployed person will come back and give back benefits. No unemployed person is going to come back and make payments unless they decide to become a business. So this is shouldered all on the business community to pay back any funds that they're borrowing. And if it means that they're going to borrow so that they can stay alive, then I think that that's a positive thing.

"And we should talk from this Legislature, because we do things like borrow into the future all the time with deficits. So I don't understand why we're going to be so strict on the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

"Mr. Speaker, one of the good things, like I said, is that this is something that the Chamber came to the table on. So through testifying, it has been something that the Chamber agrees to. But we've talked to businesses that are on the ground outside of this Capitol, and these increases, even that the Chamber is requesting, are heavy, heavy, heavy increases for the average business out there.

"I think if we were to bring it to ground, if we were to bring it to the businesses out there, they would tell us that they need a more aggressive approach, and that they need this unemployment insurance increase, they would need to have a softer landing than we are presenting today. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamashita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, In support. Thank you very much. When we looked at House Draft 1 and we were working on House Draft 2 to make it a little more generous to employers, what we had to also consider was the contribution rate schedule. In the contribution rate schedule the way the mechanism works is, when you're repaying into the Fund it burdens the employers that have lower experience. So the concern was if we were a little too generous on how much we were aiding the employers, that we would shift the burden to the employers with low experience rates. So I think where we ended up in House Draft 2 was a good compromise. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a brief rebuttal. Mr. Speaker, no one in this State caused this problem. To say that one Representative was prescient when we had $500 million sitting in that Fund, that he was a 'soothsayer' and knew what was going to happen. No one knew what was going to happen in 2008. No one knew that in the last quarter of 2009 that we'd lose 46,000 jobs, 99% of which were private sector. The public sector has lost maybe 1%.

"The money that we're talking about here, if it does go as the Chair of Labor said, go into a deficit, its borrowing money from the federal government. If there's anything that Hawaii has been very good at, it's getting federal assistance.

"The final thing, Mr. Speaker, is that if this is going to cost us jobs, it's 'penny wise and pound foolish.' I know it's relative to what the Chamber says, and what small businesses and other people we've talked to on the street say, but you don't usually ask for a half a loaf until you know you can get the full loaf."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. I'd like to thank the Chair of the Labor Committee for all his work over the interim. He spent a lot of time. I'd like to also thank the Director of the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, Mr. Darwin Ching. He spent a lot of time also on this measure. I like to also thank Jim Tollefson from the Chamber of Commerce, and Sherry Menor from the Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii, for their time and effort in reaching a compromise, balancing the interest of both the laid-off employees and the employers.

"I'd like to also thank the Vice Chair of Labor who came up with this creative notion that those who used the Fund the most and who may bear some responsibility for the losses of the Fund will bear an equitable and fair assessment in the repayment of the interest and principal of the money that will be borrowed from the federal government.

"Some high points of this measure, Mr. Speaker, and the reason why both Director Ching and the Chamber of Commerce support the current draft, House Draft 2, is that for calendar years 2010 and 2011, the wage base is set at 19% of the average annual wage.

"Number two, the employer contribution rate is at Schedule D for this calendar year, and Schedule F for the next calendar year, 2011.

"Number three, the requirement that the UI contribution rates scheduled to be determined semiannually and annually is deleted. That may appear in a different vehicle for consideration so that it can be more responsive to the changing economic conditions and addressing the needs of the employers.

"Number four, the maximum weekly benefit rate will stay at 75% of the average weekly wage effective January 31, 2011 and provide for the percentage to return to 70% on January 1, 2012. This runs concurrent and consistent with the policy on both sides of the equation; laid-off workers and the employers.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, this requires the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations again to come up with a mechanism to properly assess the principal and interest of the moneys borrowed from the federal government. Mr. Speaker, this provides immediate relief to our burdened employers, sustains the Unemployment Fund for those laid-off workers, and provides about $200 million in savings to our Hawaii businesses. For these reasons I hope we can support this measure. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, still with reservations. But I just wanted to make something very clear. The laid-off workers part. The reason why we're so, well at least for myself, want to be aggressive with trying to help businesses, to be more aggressive than this bill is, is because we don't want more people being laid off. If businesses have so much of a spike in Unemployment Insurance taxes, the only thing that they can do in a depressed economy like ours is to look at possibly laying off more people.

"So our stance, my stance, in supporting businesses is because we don't want to see more laid-off people. This isn't anti-laid-off people. This is pro-job. This is keeping people in the work force. This is what do we do at this crossroad when this could very well mean that we could lay off more people. It's just like in my Opening Day speech when I talked about Shirokiya and the possibility of this Unemployment Insurance tax being hiked up and businesses not being able to afford their current workforce.

"So, Mr. Speaker, please understand and be very clear that this is not about being anti-unemployed. This is about pro-work and keeping people employed. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Rhoads rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm still in support. I just want to say that as far as I know, no one on this side of the aisle has said the Republicans were anti-unemployed. All I'm suggesting is that there is a balance. You do have to have some money in the Fund to pay the unemployment insurance. And for those who are unemployed through no fault of their own, this is a lifeline. So what we're looking for is a balance. We're looking for prudence and I think that the bill that we're looking at today is a more prudent approach than the Administration's.

"I understand the Administration wants to be more aggressive and that's a policy choice that they're perfectly entitled to make. The national economy is already growing, and they're basically assuming that nothing good is going to happen in the next two years, or the next three years actually. I don't think that's necessarily a good assumption. This is a compromise bill, but when you look at what the factors are trying to balance, I think it's a prudent way to go. Mahalo"

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I have some serious reservations about the bill as well. Mr. Speaker, I think it's very clear that this bill will create more unemployment because small businesses are going to end up having to lay off some workers. So it's an escalating problem.

"I don't see that we should necessarily rely upon the Chamber of Commerce's support for the bill because for the most part, the Chamber represents very large businesses. The small businesses that were not there testifying are there at work. They don't have the luxury of sending someone down to the Capitol saying that if you pass the bill with this requirement in it, we're going to have to lay off some of our employees.

"So I think what we're looking at is a self-perpetuating downturn and I would hope that we would reassess this bill when it comes back from the Senate. Thank you."

The Chair then recognized Representative Ward, stating:

"Representative Ward, this is your third time speaking. Please state your point of personal privilege."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"May I have a ruling on a point of personal privilege? The point of personal privilege is one Member from the other side said that the GOP, and this is a Twitter. This is a technology point of personal privilege. He said that the GOP is urging a softer landing for businesses on the Unemployment Insurance changes by reducing benefits for laid-off workers.

"Mr. Speaker, no one has said anything about the benefits for laid-off workers being reduced. This is misinformation. It's unfair, and it's a point of personal privilege. I'm offended by that. We have not said anything about benefits to workers. It's unfair."

The Chair responded, stating:

"Representative Ward. Representative Ward, you are out of order."

Representative Ward: "I know there's a technology that does this, and the person who did it knows who it is. It is unfair and dishonest."

Speaker Say: "Representative Ward. Representative Ward, you are out of order."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. Reservations. I think that it's been published. I wanted to just add that it's been published by many financial experts who have said that they don't expect us to turnaround in the next few years. I would also ask for additional written comments please."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations on H.B. 2169 - Relating to Employment Security. I believe that this bill is a step in the right direction but it doesn't go far enough. I think the Governor has a more effective bill at this time.

"This is an important topic, particularly during these economic times and we must address this matter. The Chamber of Commerce states in their testimony, "Unless every effort is made to mitigate the impact on jobs, a dramatic tax increase over the next few years, the largest ever in Hawaii or in the United States, will likely lead to more loss of jobs, more business failures, a weakening of any recovery and further depletion of the unemployment trust fund. The non-profit and non-partisan organization, Urban Institute, has noted in review of our situation that the high tax rate schedules in store for the next few years have not been operative for more than 30 years and that increased taxes will increase unemployment, but the magnitude in uncertain." Thank you."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. If we don't pass this bill, there will be even larger layoffs."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2169, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT SECURITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Berg and Souki being excused.

At 1:14 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1901, HD 2
H.B. No. 2169, HD 2

At this time, the Chair announced:

"At this time, the Chair would like to share my thoughts with the Members of this august Body, and to say thank you for fast tracking these two measures.

"These two measures are basically trying to address and prevent a crisis from occurring in April regarding the rate increases of the UI, and also for the procurement of the voting system equipment which is in anticipation of an appeal or protest of the acquisition which will be a major detriment to the elections this fall."

At 1:14 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:19 o'clock p.m.

Representatives Herkes and Karamatsu, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce and the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 426-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2132, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2132, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MORTGAGE FORECLOSURES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Berg and Souki being excused.

Representatives Morita, Ito and Tsuji, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection, the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources and the Committee on Agriculture presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 427-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2450, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2450, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RENEWABLE ENERGY FACILITIES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Berg and Souki being excused.

Representative Pine moved to recall H.B. No. 2311 from the Committee on Housing, seconded by Representative Thielen.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members of the House it has been moved and seconded that House Bill No. 2311 be recalled from Committee. For all of you here this afternoon, Members of the House, this is a procedural motion. A procedural motion. Debate is limited to the propriety of the action in recalling the bill. Debate on the merits of the bill is not in order at this point in time. Is there any discussion on the recall motion before us now, Members of the House."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the motion to recall, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the motion. Mr. Speaker, as a Vietnam Veteran, this is a very meaningful bill to me. And historically, as a freshman in this Body, when we were at the Leiopapa a Kamehmeha Building, we had a similar measure that was a resolution encouraging the Congress to not allow the burning of the American flag."

At this time, the Chair addressed Representative Ward, stating:

"Representative Ward, can you confine your remarks to the recall motion? I support the recall motion because …."

Representative Ward: "Because it allows us to treat the flag …"

Speaker Say: "And not to debate the issue which is not before us. Please proceed."

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"I was going to use your words. I think it's only fair to debate in a democracy, those issues which come to this marketplace of ideas, for people to use their mind, their intelligence. And for those who have come here with their feet and have given their blood, and guts to their country, to have this Body, with courage and bravery, have a vote on a bill that allows them to place a flag in their yard of their own property, of their own doing, for their own country, for the service that they have given to that nation. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, we do this."

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Madam Clerk, the remarks stated by Representative Ward are out of order. The motion before this Body is the motion to recall. It is not to state the issue of the bill which is not before us, or what it is all about. If this is the political democracy that you're talking about, I am sorry."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recall, stating:

"I'm in opposition to pulling the bill out of Committee, Mr. Speaker, by reason that this bill had a hearing, and nobody, nobody, no one showed up at the hearing."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the motion to recall, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support of the motion. Mr. Speaker, I support the motion because of this: for the Chair of Housing to say that there was no testimony offered in support is rather disingenuous. Because everybody in this Body knows that bills move forward whether there is testimony in support or not. Again, the whole process of democracy, and it is incumbent upon us as policymakers to listen to both sides and to find viable solutions. For a Chair simply to defer moving on a bill because there was no testimony in support is not a reason to defer the bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the motion to recall, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, in support of a motion to pull House Bill 2311, which will allow anyone in America to fly a flag no matter where they live. The reason I support this motion, Mr. Speaker …"

Representative Cabanilla rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I'm in opposition, and I would like to say that House Bill 2311 is not about flying the flag. It's about erecting a flag pole."

The Chair addressed Representative Cabanilla, stating:

"Representative Cabanilla, please. For what reason do you rise?"

Representative Cabanilla: "The bill is misconstrued. The description of the bill is misconstrued."

Speaker Say: "We are not addressing the bill. We are addressing the motion to recall. So please, Representative Pine, please proceed with the motion, but confine your remarks to the procedural recall motion."

Representative Pine continued, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, the reason I support this procedural recall motion is I believe that no one in America, especially those that have served their country, should ever have to beg and ask permission to fly the American flag. No one."

The Chair addressed Representative Pine, stating:

"Representative Pine, you are out of order. Representative Pine, you are out of order. The motion is the recall motion. Not to debate the issue which is not before us. This is a procedural motion. Please. For all of you."

Representative Pine continued, stating:

"The reason I support this motion, Mr. Speaker, is because I believe that if we do not pass this motion today we are discriminating against veterans who wanted a right. A basic right. A right that we gave to windmill's in community associations on Tuesday. And a right that we gave to solar panels in community associations. And a right that we gave to clotheslines.

"I believe in supporting this motion that we are fighting for them as they have fought for us."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the motion to recall, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support of the motion and at the appropriate time after debate is concluded, I call for a roll call vote," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the motion to recall, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support of the motion. Mr. Speaker, I think what this is about is sometimes when a Chair makes a decision, a majority of the Members in the House of Representatives may have a different opinion. So by recalling this bill, it allows all of us to voice whether or not we support the underlying bill, to be able to make known our opinion especially when there are a lot of people who are depending on us to do the right thing. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the motion to recall, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support of the motion as well. I just wanted to make the point that we all know how difficult it can be to get people, get the word out, when a hearing is being held. But the point of the hearing is to make sure that the voices are heard, and I think the voices are being heard. And we need to make sure that we don't lose sight of the forest beyond the trees. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recall, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the recall. In speaking from a point of view of a Committee Chair, we have lots of issues that come before us. The Committee on Housing only has one hearing day. The Chair was good enough to schedule this hearing. Unfortunately it didn't rise to the level of statewide importance, therefore it was deferred.

"We have many important matters, especially given out budget situation that we must take up. And quite frankly, I don't see how this issue rises to the level of a recall. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the motion to recall, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in favor of the motion. I will support a motion to recall as I have done in several instances, mainly because as a Minority member we are not Chairs. We do not determine what bills get heard. We don't hear many of the bills that are introduced in this House. When there is a motion to yank a bill out of Committee, it's because there is an interest on the part of a number of Members of this House.

"This particular bill I would claim is more than of local importance. I think it is of national importance. And I think the eyes of the country are on us today. I would sincerely hope that we are able to discuss this measure on the Floor. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recall, stating:

"I stand in opposition to the recall. Mr. Speaker, the wonderful thing is we have the process. And the process was a hearing and an opportunity to bring up something which is a new idea. It was the first time this idea has been brought forward. And as many ideas that we have here at the Legislature, sometimes it takes several years to flush out the pros and cons, and talk to people. Maybe get this whole issue out statewide. All those planned community associations that are around the State probably don't even know we're having this discussion today.

"So it's not uncommon that we have these bills that take several years to talk about why we do them. Why we don't do them. What are all the unintended consequences? So I support the Chair and I oppose the recall. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recall, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition to the motion. I just wanted to point out that, and maybe this is already clear to everyone, but the Chair of the Housing Committee is a Lieutenant Colonel in the Army. Let me repeat that. She's a Lieutenant Colonel in the Army. It's not like the proponents of this measure got a Chair who is you know, a 'pinko commie liberal' who doesn't care about her country. She's given much of her life to the service of the country and I think that should be noted. Mahalo."

Representative Saiki rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Could the Chair please remind the Gallery that there is a level of decorum required in this Chamber?"

Speaker Say: "Yes. Thank you very much for reminding me."

Representative Takumi rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. That was going to be my point as well."

Representative Tokioka rose, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. May I get a point of clarification? The motion on the Floor is to recall the bill, correct?"

Speaker Say: "Yes. House Bill 2311."

Representative Tokioka: "If that motion does pass, then the Members of the House of Representative will have an opportunity to have discussion, am I correct?"

Speaker Say: "Correct."

Representative Tokioka: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"Yes, just in rebuttal, Mr. Speaker. You know I too started this Legislative Session thinking that I was focusing on statewide importance issues. Homelessness, housing, the State Budget, taxes. And sometimes we recall bills like this because sometimes some people don't think bills are as important, but they are to some people.

"We talk about process. There is a process. You take one to two years to pass a bill, it was said earlier. The veteran that I'm recalling this bill for was away from his five kids, his wife, when he was in Iraq. And we want to tell him to wait another year because this bill was killed in the Housing Committee? That is why this bill is so important, because his voice was not heard. To take away this right to pass this recall of House Bill 2311 to the veterans in the Gallery is like taking away air from their lungs.

"We go to other countries, that's why they're here today, House Bill 2311, to recall this bill to the Floor, because they believe that this bill is of statewide importance. Never do they put the flag in the back of everything else. It is always in the front to them. So to say that this is not part of the process, this is part of the process, Mr. Speaker. That is why democracy is so great. If a issue gets lost somewhere in this busy place by people who don't have paid professional lobbyists to come here, this recall gives another chance for all of us to discuss what's important.

"Sure the budget is important. Of course, none of these people are saying that it's not. Homelessness is important. None of these people are saying that it's not. Education is important. None of these people are saying it's not. They just want to say it's also important to love your country, and to recall this bill so we can show that we love our country by flying an American flag or a Hawaii State flag, which has been approved by the our federal government as well as our State government, to represent us."

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Thank you, very much. A lot of discussion has occurred.

"Would the people in the Gallery please try to control your emotions on this particular debate going on. I believe this the legislative process where we have democracy. The process is a motion for a recall of a measure like any others.

"At this time we've had a lot of discussion, but the Chair will allow the Majority Leader for his comments."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recall, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion. And I will stick just to the procedures of this. Actually first, let me say that I don't think there's any question that the people in this Body love their country. I don't think that's what the issue is about. The issue is about again, the procedure.

"Under our House Rules we already have a procedure under Rule 11 whereby any Member can request that other Members of their Committee, a majority of the Committee can then petition the Chair to move the bill.

"Contrary to what the Representative from Ewa said, the bill was not killed. The bill was deferred. There is a wide and very, very big difference between a deferral and a hold. A hold kills the bill. A deferral does not. And a deferral means that there is an opportunity for the bill to continue to move if there is a way for the bill to be fixed.

"I would contend in my review of the bill without getting into the substance, that unfortunately that bill is substantially and fatally flawed because it does not achieve what the proponents are seeking to do. Unfortunately they've been mislead into this swirl of belief ..."

Representative Pine rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Point of personal privilege. I am personally offended."

Speaker Say: "He's stating for the record about correcting the errors and mistakes that you are alluding to. The Chair will allow the Majority Leader to continue."

Representative Pine: "There are no errors in this Bill. It was written just like the Clothesline Bill that we passed out of this Body."

Speaker Say: "Representative Pine, you are out of order. Representative Pine, you are out of order. Please sit. Representative Blake Oshiro, please proceed."

Representative B. Oshiro continued, stating:

"Again, without getting into the merits, and if we ever do get to the merits, I can point out those flaws because contrary to her opinion, it wasn't written the same. There are flaws in the bill and that is why I think a deferral was appropriate. The Housing Chair did need to take a further look and deeper study into this issue. And I think she will be doing so. I've talked with her and I believe that any Member here, if they believe that this issue rises to that statewide importance. If they believe that this issue is that important, my recommendation is not to drag 100 people down here, but work with the person that's 10 feet away from you. All you need to do is discuss what your issue is ..."

The Chair addressed Representative Pine, stating:

"Representative Pine, for what purpose do you rise?"

Representative Pine: "Mr. Speaker. I did try to work with the person 10 feet away from me, and she said she is not passing this bill."

Speaker Say: "Representative Pine, you are out of order at this point. Representative Blake Oshiro, please proceed and summarize."

Representative B. Oshiro continued, stating:

"All I'm saying is there are other ways that this bill can continue to move. There is the re-referral process. There are other things that can be done procedurally.

"This bill was not killed. It was deferred. There is the opportunity for it to continue to be worked on, discussed and debated if people are willing to read their rules, understand the procedures, and work through our internal democratic process that exits. If they are not and they want to recall the bill and politicize it, then at that point what they've done…"

The Chair addressed Representative Thielen, stating:

"Representative Thielen, for what purpose do you rise?"

Representative Thielen: "Mr. Speaker. I rise because I'm offended by that too."

Speaker Say: "Representative Thielen, you're out of order. Please."

Representative B. Oshiro: "Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, if people would read their Mason's …."

Speaker Say: "Representative Thielen, you are out of order."

Representative Thielen: "Mr. Speaker, we are not trying to politicize it. We are trying to say that the American flag deserves as much respect as clotheslines."

Speaker Say: "Representative Thielen, you are out of order at this point. Please sit down, please. Representative Thielen, you're out of order."

Representative B. Oshiro continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, if people would read their Mason's Section 223, it will define a personal privilege for them exactly. The two people that have risen on a personal privilege did not qualify for that.

"Again, I was near the completion of my speech. Again, there is a potential for this to move. There is a potential for this to continue to be discussed. However, what needs to happen is an internal working and people actually coming forth and expressing their opinion. And that can continue to be done without this having to be recalled. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"At this point, a roll call has been requested. For those who support a roll call vote, prior to the recall vote, please raise your right hand."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the motion to recall, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Before we do that, can I ask permission to insert comments in support of the motion, please? Thank you."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to allow the use of flag poles to display the flag of the United States or of the State on the premises of a single-family residential dwelling. This bill would also include reasonable restrictions on the use of flag poles for aesthetic purposes.

"Displaying a flag is a form of expressing a thought, belief or feeling. As Americans, we have the right to freedom of speech, which I believe includes non-verbal communication. Every citizen should have the right to display the Nation's flag at their home

"Countless lives were sacrificed for the freedoms we enjoy today. I believe it would be absolutely disrespectful to not allow veterans and their families to express their patriotism. For these reasons I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

The request of roll call was put to vote by the Chair and upon a show of hands, the request was not granted.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"At this time, Members of the House, there is no need for a roll call vote. It did not meet the requirements of the roll call vote. Members, so at this time, may we proceed on.

"For the veterans who are here this afternoon, this is a democratic process that you have just seen. I would hope that if you would look at our House Rules which states that some day if elected officials like you are a Chair of a committee and you've had your public hearing without any testimony for or against, it is in the wisdom of the Chair to make that decision.

"The process is open, and like what the Majority Leader has stated, it is very transparent in getting your ideas across to the legislative body here. I say to all you, there is still this year to address this issue and also during this interim period. I truly wish, like I told the Representative from Ewa Beach, that if there was a companion bill in the Senate, this House would have entertained it also. Was there a companion bill, Members of this House?"

Representative Pine rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Point of information. You are spreading information as if there was no testimony in support of this bill, but there was, Mr. Speaker."

At 1:42 o'clock p.m. Representative Takai requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:44 o'clock p.m.

(Main Motion)

The Chair then announced:

"At this time Members, we will be having a vote. A vote on the motion to recall House Bill 2311, because it has been moved by Representative Pine and seconded by Representative Thielen, that House Bill 2311, be recalled from the Committee. All those in favor, please raise your hand at this time for the recall motion."

At this time the motion to recall H.B. No. 2311, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLANNED COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS," from the Committee on Housing, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a show of hands failed to carry. (Representatives Berg, M. Oshiro and Souki were excused.)

Representative Finnegan rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to move if we could re-refer the bill to a single committee."

Representative Pine: "I second the motion."

Speaker Say: "There is a process that we go through right now where the Chairs who are affected by this measure would have to do that with an application."

At 1:45 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:47 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"I would like to correct the Minority Leader that the bill is not before this Body, and if there is any motion or request for a re-referral, it could be done and we'll be discussing it after Session."

Representative Pine rose, stating:

"I rise on a point of personal privilege. I just want to personally apologize. I'm sorry to Members of this Body that are upset today because we pulled this bill or attempted to pull this bill. You know I came here to change government, but sometimes along the way there are people that you meet when you work here that changes you. I never understood why this issue was so important to my grandpa, or to my husband, until now. And I want to thank the Majority Leader for letting these veterans know that there is still a chance. So today is the first day of their next battle, and they have until the end of April to convince all of us this is important."

Representative Cabanilla rose, stating:

"I would request for the same point of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker. I would like to say that the deferral of the HB 2311 is not the death of the issue. There will be a resolution because I believe that this matter is best served by a resolution. Where in that resolution would ask for a task force composed of members of planned community associations, residents, veterans, veteran's organizations, and anybody that would like to be on the task force.

"This is not a simple matter, Mr. Speaker. And I, as a veteran of 23 years in the Army, am very concerned about these protocols in giving the flag its proper place. The dignity and honor that is shown to that flag. I have no doubt that those veterans up in the Gallery will follow those protocols. However, the laws that we pass this Session in these halls will affect every citizen that lives in community associations.

"I think that we owe it to the whole State for them to hear this initiative and let them come forward and have a say. The way to do that, Mr. Speaker, is through a task force. We cannot blindside all those residents in community associations, and this bill is not stopping anyone from flying the flag."

Representative Thielen rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, that seems to be going quite far from a personal privilege, and it's more a speech and an excuse. You didn't ask veterans to wait and have a task force before they're allowed to serve."

Speaker Say: "Representative Thielen, you are out of order please. Representative Thielen you are out of order. Representative Cabanilla, will you just summarize your remarks in regards to your personal privilege?"

Representative Cabanilla continued, stating:

"Yes. I think that the better way to handle this is not through a bill, but through a resolution asking for a task force that all those people concerned, veterans and members of the community associations will come forward."

Speaker Say: "You are not stating why you are aggrieved by stating that declaration, Representative Cabanilla. So you are out of order."

Representative Cabanilla: "I apologize, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

At 1:51 o'clock p.m. Representative Pine requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:53 o'clock p.m.

"Same request. I have reservations on all those."

"Same reservations on 433 to 436."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, the same request."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Very quickly for all of the Stand. Com. Reports No. 431 through Stand. Com. Reports No. 436. Mr. Speaker, these Resolutions were a result of a bill that was passed last year that was approved by this Body, also known as the Ceded Land Settlement.

"Mr. Speaker, what originally was Senate Bill 1677 eventually became Act 176, and in Conference Committee, unfortunately, some additional lands got thrown into that bill, which included non-ceded public lands. As a result now for example, the HHFDC, the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation, because of their lien right in certain properties, they now do not have the ability to resell these affordable units to families who would qualify for affordable housing because of that Act.

"There were very serious unintended consequences that occurred because of Act 176. As a result, these were non-ceded public lands. For the record, those standing with reservations should note that OHA fully supported these Resolutions. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committees were adopted and H.C.R. No. 21, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION APPROVING THE FEE SIMPLE SALE OF 1593 PAPAU STREET, KAPA'A, HAWAII," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Berg, M. Lee, Nishimoto, M. Oshiro, Pine and Souki being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 23, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION APPROVING THE FEE SIMPLE SALE OF 1098 ONAHA STREET, WAILUKU, HAWAII," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Berg, M. Lee, Nishimoto, M. Oshiro, Pine and Souki being excused; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 438-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 72, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 31, HD 1, and H.C.R. No. 72, HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing in opposition of Stand. Com. Rep. Nos. 437-10 and 438-10. Brief comments, Mr. Speaker. Testimony by the Department of Health stated that, and this is a quote, "Milk in Hawaii, meets and follows all guidelines, rules and interpretations regarding the safety of the milk. Temperature controls, and the required written records are in place that assure that the temperature and integrity of the milk is maintained 100% of the time from when it leaves the dairy farm on the mainland until it gets to the milk plant in Hawaii."

"Mr. Speaker, these resolutions are unnecessary. I think it'll have negative consequences to our local dairies and local producers. Mr. Speaker and Members, I want you to know that the Hawaii Farm Bureau testified in opposition also stating that the US State Department of Agriculture, the Food and Drug Administration, the State Department of Health, and the Federal Department of Health and Human Services, all monitor and ensure the safety of the milk. Mr. Speaker and Members, I just want you to remember that it's a fragile industry that has suffered greatly over the past few years. I think this measure is counterproductive and unfair to dairies and local producers. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. This is not my resolution, but we did hear it in the Agriculture Committee. During the hearing, there was actually nobody who showed up in opposition to the resolution, but only testimony in support of it.

"There were serious concerns that were raised, primarily about spoilage and bacteria. Not actual safety concerns, and that's why we revised the language, so that it would also focus on labeling requirements. I think that we're actually most concerned about the local dairies, because they are at a disadvantage compared to a lot of the mainland companies. And at the same time the consumers are not necessarily getting the right information, because the freshest milk is coming from Hawaii, whereas the milk that is imported from across the country may have been in storage for over a month and retreated once it gets to Hawaii. So there are some serious issues that we want to make sure that the consumers have the right information and we address the safety concerns. So we're looking forward to this moving forward and having more discussion. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I probably could use the help of the people in the Gallery if they were here. I have some questions about the quality of milk imported in Hawaii. And while these resolutions aren't perfect, it does bring up a good point. The intention of these resolutions is to protect the local dairies and to draw distinctions between the local dairies' milk and that imported. Because we believe that imported milk takes 25 to 30 days to come here from the mainland and that's what the intention of this was. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. And just for everybody's edification, just because something is expired, that doesn't mean it's bad or dangerous. Yogurt, which many of us eat today, is created from milk that has gone past its date and has curdled. It's the same for cheese and the same with sour cream, which people have on their potatoes every day.

"One of the testimonies that was most poignant was that when the milk starts to cure, it actually prohibits the growth of pathogens in the milk. So it's a complicated science. I think this is more of a quality issue. It's not a safety issue, and that's the reason why I oppose the resolutions as they're worded. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First I'd like the words of the Representative from Mililani, as well as the words of the Representative from Lahaina entered into the Journal as if they were my own. And I'd like permission to insert written comments in opposition.

"Thank you. I just wanted to mention just a few things. I am in public health. I got my Masters in Public Health, I'm a Preventive Medical Officer in the military. The reason why I'm concerned about these two resolutions is that I think we're putting focus on something that really doesn't need to have any attention placed on it. By doing this, Mr. Speaker, I think we send a very strong message out to the community, and the message is not a good one for our milk industry and for milk. I have talked to the introducers of these two measures, and I asked them, if they are so concerned about it, whether they would consider just writing a letter with the last "Be it resolved," or the second to last "Be it resolved," in the letter, requesting some guidance from the US Department of Agriculture and other people on the mainland that have this expertise.

"It is true; no one came to the hearing and testified against the measure. It is not true to say that no one testified against the measure, and there's a big difference, in the eyes of the Vice Chair, I understand that. But in my eyes, written testimony in opposition from the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health and from a few other people, is testimony against the measure.

"So I caution our Members and I really urge them to take a look at this, because my biggest concern is that we send a signal, not only to our residents here in Hawaii, but residents throughout the nation, that Hawaii is looking at their milk situation.

"And by the way Mr. Speaker, the fact that our milk takes so long to come from the mainland is not a reason to be concerned. There are many milk products, including milk itself, sitting on shelves for months. Next time you go to a grocery store, do us a favor and look at the milk products. I'm not even going down the road of yogurt and all those, but just the milk products. And look at the expiration dates of those products on the shelves. We're worrying about something, Mr. Speaker, that I fear will turn into something much greater than what these two measures attempt to address. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in opposition of these measures. Present regulations and practices on pasteurized milk shipped to Hawaii from the mainland already protect human health. To my understanding, the State Milk Control Act only deals with the financial interests and rules of commerce between the dairy farms and milk plants through a quota system, and the amount of milk exported/imported into and out of the State.

"The Act is not the only relevant law. The United States Public Health Services (USPHS) and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration's (FDA's) recommend Grade "A" Pasteurized Milk Ordinance (PMO) is the basic standard governing the processing, packaging, and sale of grade "A" milk and milk products. Hawaii is a voluntary participant of the National Conference on Interstate Milk Shippers (NCIMS) program and uses the current PMO.

"The PMO is incorporated by reference in Federal specifications for procurement of milk and milk products and is recognized by the Public Health Agencies, the milk industry, and many others as the national standard for milk sanitation. In practice, the shipping of bulk milk from the mainland and the subsequent re-pasteurization and packaging of the milk in Hawaii meets and follows all guidelines, rules and interpretations regarding the safety of the milk.

"Temperature controls, and the required written records are in place that assure that the temperature and integrity of the milk is maintained 100% of the time from when it leaves the dairy farm on the mainland until it gets to the milk plant in Hawaii. Every single bulk tank of milk is temperature checked and recorded by the milk plant. All bulk shipments that arrive to the local milk plant are rejected if the temperature of the milk is above 45 degrees Fahrenheit. All holding and processing temperatures of every drop of milk in production can be traced due to strict record keeping requirements.

""Spoiled" milk is not defined, and even taken in lay sense; "spoiled" milk is a quality issue and not a safety issue. Spoilage organisms are typically not pathogenic or disease causing and merely cause the milk to go sour, as in yogurt or buttermilk. In fact, pathogenic organisms have difficult time competing with spoilage organisms because as the milk goes sour, the pH lowers (becomes more acidic) and the milk actually becomes safer from that standpoint of pathogen growth.

"For these reasons I oppose this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Very briefly, I will reserve all of my supportive comments until these resolutions actually reach its near final stages since it's continuing on to Consumer Protection & Commerce and if at that time it continues to move, and if at that time it becomes an official resolution, then at that point I will have further comments. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to respond, stating:

"Rising in opposition for the second time. I do understand this is a resolution and it will go to the next Committee, which I hope will have the insight to understand the impact of this bill.

"But I wanted to rise to clarify a few things. Again …"

Representative B. Oshiro rose to a point of order, stating:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Just to correct the prior speaker, it's not a bill. It's a resolution."

Representative Yamane continued, stating:

"Excuse me for that. I'm no lawyer so I get those two mixed up. And I don't get paid very well. But on a serious note, these resolutions, Majority Floor Leader …"

Speaker Say: "Majority Leader."

Representative Yamane: "Majority Leader. Excuse me. I'm just digging a hole.

"But in all seriousness again, if this was a health and safety issue, these resolutions then should have been referred to the Committee on Health if there was an issue about safety regarding the standards and the quality of milk. Please understand that milk that is brought here locally from places like Meadow Gold Dairies who also does Foremost, are brought here and repasteurized here, unlike some of the other milks that are brought straight and placed into the supermarkets.

"Mr. Speaker, these resolutions are not addressing the issue about safety. This impacts our local dairies, our local employees, our local unions like Teamsters that actually negotiated their contract with Meadow Gold. This affects local people, local jobs.

"So you can fool yourself by saying this is an issue of standard of quality, okay. But Members just be aware that this is impacting and targeting dairies by saying that they're unsafe. What's next, Mr. Speaker? Milk is brought over in temperature-controlled canisters. What are we going to do next? Let's monitor water. What about air as was mentioned earlier. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose in opposition to both measures and asked that the remarks of Representatives McKelvey, Yamane and Takai be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose in support of both measures with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support with reservations of H.R. 31 – which urges the United States Department of Health and Human Services and to ascertain the safety of repasteurized unrefrigerated milk shipped to Hawaii from the Mainland.

"The health of our State's citizens is an important matter. It is vital that there is no bacterial matter in our shipped milk, however, based on a study by the Department of Health that looked at shipped pasteurized milk, they found that "milk in Hawaii meets and follows all guidelines, rules and interpretations regarding the safety of milk." Not only is the Department of Health opposed to this measure, the Department of Agriculture and the Farm Bureau have also expressed reservations regarding this bill. Thank you."

Representative Ito rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose in opposition to both measures and asked that the remarks of Representatives Takai, McKelvey and Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Karamatsu rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, just note my reservations and as a member of the CPC Committee, I look forward to some interesting debate there. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Yes, reservations and I will look for this in CPC. Thank you."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

H.C.R. (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 439-10) recommending that H.R. No. 9, be adopted; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 440-10) recommending that H.C.R. No. 18, be adopted.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 9, and H.C.R. No. 18, be adopted, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose in support of both measures and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of these resolutions. The purpose of these resolutions is to proclaim strong support for the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii.

"It is estimated that 1,300,000 people in the United States will be diagnosed with cancer this year. It is also estimated that 5,000 of these individuals will be from Hawaii. The mission of the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii is to reduce the burden of cancer through research, education and outreach. Its emphasis has been on the unique ethnic, cultural and environmental characteristics of Hawaii and the Pacific.

"The Cancer Research Center of Hawaii is one of only sixty-five National Cancer Institute designated centers in the United States. It is the only designated cancer center in Hawaii. A state-of-the-art cancer research facility in Hawaii will not only benefit our citizens, but will also attract and retain top tier researchers, physicians and students to the State.

"Our citizens deserve first-class, state-of-the-art care that is delivered in these islands by researchers and health care professionals who have a constant eye on our own people. For these reasons, I support these measures and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of both measures and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R.9 and H.C.R.18, Relating to the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii. In November of 2009, the University of Hawaii announced plans to build a new cancer research facility in Kakaako, with construction expected to begin this year. Mr. Speaker, even during these tough economic times we must find the means to support noteworthy causes and potentially life-saving programs. We do this for the millions who suffer from this devastating disease and the millions of lives that have been impacted by the loss of a loved one, not only in Hawaii but around the world.

"Hawaii has the rare opportunity to be at the forefront of innovative and cutting-edge cancer research, being that it is one of only 65 National Cancer Institute designated centers in the United States. The future facility in Kakaako will more than pay for itself through research grants and by attracting more of the best and brightest to our State. No longer will residents have to travel to receive treatment, it is my hope that in the near future people will travel to Hawaii because of the advances made by the Center here.

"Mr. Speaker, as you are aware, this is an issue that I am very passionate about because of the recent death of my father, due to his prolonged fight with pancreatic cancer. As his caretaker, not only was it heartbreaking to see him go through a losing battle, but frustrating as a legislator, not to be able to do anything about it.

"For these reasons, I strongly support these resolutions and urge the University of Hawaii to start construction of the new Center as soon as possible. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Reports 439 and 440, I request a ruling on potential conflict. At my law firm, my law firm represents somebody that is contesting and in litigation with UH over this Center but I'm not involved on that case," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 9, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION EXPRESSING SUPPORT FOR THE CANCER RESEARCH CENTER OF HAWAII," was adopted, with Representatives Berg, M. Lee, Nishimoto, M. Oshiro, Pine and Souki being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 18, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION EXPRESSING SUPPORT FOR THE CANCER RESEARCH CENTER OF HAWAII," was adopted, with Representatives Berg, M. Lee, Nishimoto, M. Oshiro, Pine and Souki being excused.

"On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 487, Mr. Speaker, I rise with strong reservations. Mr. Speaker, there's a standing tradition in the Finance Committee as you well know, and does Speaker Emeritus Souki and now with Representative Oshiro, that generally speaking, if it's the DOT budget, we kind of say, 'Well, it's their money. It's federal money. We'll leave it alone.' Same with OHA and DHHL.

"This bill however, oversteps that. It overreaches and it says, 'OHA you will spend your money on thus and such.' And they're good causes that it's being spent for. However, this is precedent setting. If I were OHA I would say, 'I'm now subject to any of the whims of the Legislature and of any spending for Hawaiian affairs that they so desire.'

"So my question is: Do we really want to go there? With the Akaka Bill and sovereignty and all the other things, this doesn't seem to mesh with that direction. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition with brief comments. Mr. Speaker, you know when people ask you for a donation, and you say, 'I gave at the office'? This is the tax increase for the hotel industry where in the Finance Committee they said, 'Hey, we gave last year.'

"We bumped them two percentage points and this year, we are going to raise the TAT again. I think if anybody saw yesterday or today's paper, they have a percentage of increase of visitors this month over last year. They have a percentage of increase of expenditures, which is great news. And it looks like we're finally getting out of the doldrums. We're turning the corner. This is the engine of the economy. Why do we even want to play with this small amount of taxation to possibly, 'gum up' the works, which is in a turnaround position. So I think is 'pennywise, pound foolish.' Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition. I just feel that again, to reiterate what the Representative from Hawaii Kai is saying, this is not the time to raise taxes on tourism because we're still not out of the bad economy. We just don't want to raise taxes at this time. May I also submit additional written comments?"

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to House Bill 2874, which temporarily increases the Transient Accommodations Tax rate on timeshare units from 7/1/2010 to 6/30/2015, and adds an additional 2% on fair market value.

"Hawaii cannot afford to target tourism with tax burdens beyond those the industry already suffers. Still struggling from last year's hefty impositions, the tourism industry is not yet out of the woods with its recovery. Visitor arrivals have declined by 1.1 million over the last two years, and visitor spending has decreased by $2.8 billion. Tourism competition is now fiercer than ever, and price has become the main factor in attracting or deterring potential tourists, so we must not repel yet another sector of our State's valued tourism influx. Furthermore, we must retain as much money as possible within our economy, in order to boost economic performance, or at least to prevent it from slowing further than it already has.

"More specifically, timeshares often gravitate toward a particularly valuable population of Hawaii's visitors. Rooms provided through timeshare arrangements are often used to attract meeting planners, travel agents, travel journalists, and film crews to the Islands. Visiting for work related purposes, these crucial groups make decisions that are highly price-dependent, as the agencies, publishers, companies and producers will quickly select another destination if Hawaii proves uneconomical. Not only will price hikes sacrifice the funds gained directly through the timeshare deals, but they will also lose all those subsequent revenues from the many meeting attendees, travelers gained through agencies, readers of travel journals, and those celebrities contingent to filming shoots. Echoing repercussions will resound long after these losses, in the lost opportunity for Hawaii's media publicity to overseas audiences.

"Private owners of timeshare units are fundamental components of tourism in Hawaii, too. With their rent already paid, these visitors have more discretionary funds to spend on restaurants, shops, souvenirs and tourist activities, which hotel guests must budget more carefully. Timeshare owners also are more specifically committed to Hawaii as opposed to alternative vacation locales, and offer one of the State's most stable visitor sources in the event of natural or national disaster. Timeshare owners and their guests have also been shown to stay an average of 10.3 nights, significantly longer than most hotel guests. Subject to yearly maintenance fees and real property taxes, timeshare owners are indeed property owners.

"If Hawaii institutes this proposed tax, it will become the only State in the US which will ask owners to pay transit occupancy taxes for their own real property. Although timeshare owners offer economic stability to Hawaii which few other visitor classes can rival, their loyalty has still become fragile in these difficult times. In 2009 alone, for instance, over 300 owners decided to relinquish their timeshares simply because of cost issues. We must put a plug in these losses before they get out of hand, and alienate one of Hawaii's most loyal and lucrative visitor populations. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in opposition and have short comments. Mr. Speaker, this is making an emergency appropriation from the Emergency and Budget Reserve Fund for education. This is the Rainy Day Fund. Basically, I'm not for just using this for education. I'll reserve the rest of my comments for Third Reading."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know, there's very little we can do right now in the Legislature to get our students, our kids back to school and to eliminate furlough days. The best we can do is to position a bill based on the recommendations set forth by the Governor and a few other people, in terms of how they're going to address, or how they're trying to address the furlough situation. This is what we heard is the proposal on the table; to utilize some or all of the Rainy Day Fund to get the kids back in school.

"So I appreciate Leadership's and the Finance Committee's efforts to get this measure through our process. The goal is once, and we hope that once they decide to get this agreement through, that we will be ready within a few days to get this up to the Governor. I also ask to submit additional written comments in support, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to make an emergency appropriation of $50 million from the Emergency and Budget Reserve Fund to the general fund. This would restore instructional days that have been turned into furlough days because of the State's shortfall in revenues for Fiscal Year 2009-2010.

"I realize that there are tremendous needs facing our communities in this very difficult economic crisis. We created the "rainy day fund" in 1999 for times like we're experiencing now. However, today it's not raining, it's actually pouring buckets of rain.

"I understand the concerns of the social service agencies, especially regarding the needs of the elderly and medically fragile. My vote in support of this bill to utilize $50 million for teacher furloughs is not a position against providing the funding to the elderly and needy, but more a statement against the current furloughs in education. I do support funding for the elderly, for the needy and for the medically fragile. However, when Hawaii becomes the laughing stock of the Nation or when the U.S. Secretary of Education makes hurtful comments against the education system in Hawaii in the Washington Post and the New York Times, I'm terribly concerned.

"I have spent my entire legislative career focused on the education of children in Hawaii. From 1994 until last year, I was extremely proud of what we have accomplished. 'Education is our Top Priority' is not a slogan for me. Rather, it's a mission. Nearly each waking hour of my life as a State Representative, I've tried to live for this mission.

"My wife and I have both greatly benefited from our own public school education. She graduated from Moanalua High School, and I graduated from Pearl City High School. In hindsight, we wouldn't have it any other way. We are proud graduates of Hawaii public schools. Even our two young children are educated at an elementary school in Aiea. They were both receiving the best education that money can buy until this past fall.

"Furloughs are a disgrace. We build schools so that children can learn in a safe environment. Schools are where dreams are developed. When schools are closed due to furloughs and children are left at home because we can't afford paying our teachers, they lose. And when children lose, we all lose.

"A few years ago, I spent a few years volunteering in our public schools. A good friend of mine Mark Hunter, who is a retired banker from Tampa, Florida, and I spent a few years working together on an econometrics model for public schools in Hawaii. This econometrics model took into consideration a few factors that some teachers say are beyond their control. I call these, "uncontrollables." These "uncontrollables" include things like the percentage of students who are on free and reduced lunch, the percentage of students in special education, the size of the school, the percentage of teachers with less than five years of experience, the teacher attendance rate, the student attendance rate, to name a few.

"We used eight of these "so-called" uncontrollables. With these data, we could determine scores of the Hawaii State Assessment within three percentage points before the test is even taken – before the test is taken. Before the test is taken, we know with some certainty that a certain school will hit a certain score on the state assessment.

"So how is this relevant to furloughs and to today's challenges? Here's why.

"The most important factor influencing performance on the State assessment is not whether a student gets free or reduced lunch or whether the teachers are just out of college. The most important factor impacting scores on the state assessment is student attendance. How well a student does in school is based on attendance. This makes perfect sense to me. If a student is not in school, she will not learn. And if she doesn't learn, she will not perform well on the state assessment.

"Again, if a student is not in school because his school is closed to furloughs, he will not learn. And if he doesn't learn, he will not perform well on the State assessment.

"Furloughs keep students at home. Furloughs keep students out of school. Not being in school means our children are not learning. Children who are not learning will not do well in school and will not do well on the State assessments. Our actions or lack thereof are hurting students, are hurting our children.

"Furloughs must end. They must end not only because we closed the schools and not only because they are an embarrassment to the nation. We must end furloughs because we're hurting our children and we are hurting our future.

"I urge our colleagues to support this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"I'm sorry. May I just give a couple of comments? My reservations weren't against ending furlough days. I just want to make that clear. That is our Caucus' our number one priority. I think there was just a concern for using all of the Fund, instead of using it for the safety net which is what we're all worried about as well."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing up in support with reservations. I want to just highlight again, that the Rainy Day Fund was designed to help with the issues of healthcare and human services. Mr. Speaker, as we all know, it's definitely pouring, even at the point of flooding. There are programs that currently need this money. So I hope that something can be worked out in which we not only address our instructional days, but also protect our most vital services and healthcare. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 514, with strong reservations. Mr. Speaker, in legal parlance, in a court of law we're all innocent until proven guilty. This bill for the GE tax says, 'You owe GE tax to the State of Hawaii, until you prove that you're exempt.' This is kind of rounding up more than the usual suspects. It's taking everybody, whether you sell Kool-Aid on the corner or you do anything for any amount of money.

"I think even though Mr. Kawafuchi and the Department of Taxation need as much help as they can get, and there's a big underground economy, and all of that, some of these things I think, they're too far reaching. They're too Machiavellian. This bill goes a little bit too far because you have to show that you are exempt and you've got physical paper.

"It's like the tax police that we've heard have been walking down Fort Street Mall. 'Can I see your GE tax? Can I see proof that you're being able to do this?' Some in the farmers' markets also felt intimidated. They didn't have a cash register. So we have got to be serious about citizens paying what they have to pay, but we also know that this is not Russia. We also know this is not a way, where we strong-arm people. We all pay our taxes on April 15th on a voluntary basis, but this is getting a little bit very close to the edge. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition of H.B. 2313 H.D. 1 which repeals the income tax provision to require the reporting of gambling winnings, but not losses.

"We must always be cognizant of the messages we are sending as the Legislature, and this Session, the Legislature is moving forward a plethora of measures which either attach fees or moreover, rescind tax exemptions that individuals and businesses have relied upon for decades. We count approximately 30 bills that do this. These measures take away the ability to write off certain expenditures, and yet the one bill we repeal and give back the ability to report is one for gambling. It just seems wrong.

"As I have not served on the Committees that this was vetted through, my first time I have seen this bill was on the Floor of the House today. It just seems wrong with all the cries for help from business, individuals, and those that rely on healthcare that we can restore this provision and not others. We must be aware of the appearance we portray. My no vote is a reflection of the fact that I question the priorities of this Legislature trend. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker I am voting no and have brief comments. Mr. Speaker, this is probably the same thing as paying our fair share of taxes, except this one goes to the extent that if you are a legitimate business and you do your best to make money, and you actually lose money, this bill says that your carryover is not going to be deductible for the following year.

"Case in point. If I'm a farmer and I have to go for maybe an 18-month cycle before I get my fruit or my vegetables or my trees to harvest. This says that you're not going to be able to deduct that amount of itemized deduction. That is not fair. It, unfortunately, is what we're doing as a country. There's too much intervention of government into what otherwise is a private sector matter that has allowed us to prosper up until this point. We're getting too greedy and too interventionist into our economy. This is one of those bills that really doesn't pass the 'smell test.' Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Likewise, Mr. Speaker, I am in opposition to House Bill 1907, House Draft 1. It would not allow your carryback deduction for losses for certain years, 2009 and 2010. Many businesses have not been doing well recently. If we collapse their carry-back provisions, it could be a real business killer. I hope that this bill does not survive this Session. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am rising in opposition with a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, people on the Floor had recently lamented the fact that we have a safety net and that we're supposed to be helping those who are not able to help themselves. Yet at the same time, and on the other hand, and the same breath, we turn around and raise the cost of living with taxes such as this, and the ability to buy insurance. With the next bill, we're going to tax the banks more for their participation in the economy.

"Mr. Speaker, we can't have it both ways. If we want the people of Hawaii to survive, and we already have a quarter million of people who are dependent upon the government for their healthcare, their sustenance and survival. A quarter million people. We only have 1.3 million people.

"If we don't stop these cost of living increases by causing all these fees and these taxes to increase, we're going to wonder why have we pushed all these people to the side and wonder why there's not enough funds for the social services. Because this is what takes away from that, Mr. Speaker.

"Domestic violence is on the rise. The first thing that families fight for is money. We're taking more money out and I think we've got to know when the limit is the limit. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support, very briefly. I must object to some of those characterizations. Unfortunately in the current status that we're in, we have a deferral of all of our Medicaid and QUEST payments going on and on for months and months. We're talking millions of dollars that are not being paid. We want to talk about the 'safety net,' and then we don't want to actually pay for it.

"The Administration is refusing to pay for it. The Department of Human Services is saying that we don't need to pay for it. The federal law doesn't require us to pay for it. So you know what? We'll just kick the can down the road and let somebody else pay for it at a later time.

"We can't do that. It needs to get paid if these people are going to get services. So I don't see how the Representative from Hawaii Kai can say, 'Let's save the 'safety net',' but not find a way for us to pay for it. Unfortunately our current Administration has not accounted for that and we need to account for that if we're going to have that 'safety net.' Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a brief retort to the learned Majority Leader. If we look at the source of where government gets its funding, it's half personal income taxes, half GE Taxes, generally speaking. Those private sector entities such as those that we are, with this bill, going to tax. They are the ones, if they decrease their revenue generation, they decrease in their employee, they decrease their taxation paid. The assumption is if we just raise their tax we'll get more money versus, if we make them weak, the tax and the money we're going to get is going to be weak.

"The correlation between helping the business community or hindering them is really the stagnation that we're now economically experiencing. We've got to be able to get the businesses healthy because let's face it, 80% of all the jobs come out of the private sector. Not everybody works for government. Not everybody is so secure as to have government payment. And the unemployment lines, 95% of the people come out of the private sector. Less than 5% are from the public sector. So we depend upon the private sector. We depend upon those businesses. We should give them a break because they're the ones who feed us, who fund us, and make us have government as it is today.

"So the learned gentleman who doesn't see the correlation between those who feed us and the hand that feeds us, this is the fundamental thing of private enterprise in a capitalistic society, which has been the richest in the world heretofore, has never experienced. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. This is a difficult bill in difficult times. I think everyone, myself included, recognizes the good work and effort that the Tobacco Prevention and other programs to prevent and get people off of tobacco have done. At the same time, we are faced with what the prior discussion on a bill earlier was about which is the 'safety net.' There are many things and many decisions that we're going to make this year that may delay or minimize prevention so that we can provide the service to the person in the ER room, or in the hospital who actually may die if we don't. These are the tough decisions that we have.

"Secondly, I would also like for Members to keep in mind that the Trust Fund money that this money is being diverted from which, if I'm not mistaken, lies outside the State Treasury, has a balance of over $50 million. That's fifty, 5-0, not 1-5, at a time when we can't even make Medicaid payments and provide child protective services and other things that are critical for the 'safety net.' Thank you."

It was very difficult for us to have voted on it on Second Reading. Although I may be mistaken, it's very hard to be able to know what's coming up for vote on Third Reading, if it's a 'gut and replace.' So that is just my comment on that. Thank you, sir."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in opposition of H.B. 2849 H.D. 1, which imposes a retroactive reserved housing requirement for residential and commercial planned development permit projects greater than 45 feet in height or containing a floor area ratio greater than 1 1/2 on a lot 20,000 square feet or greater in size in the Kakaako community development district, mauka area, and repeals the use of in-lieu cash payments and substituted housing not located within the Kakaako district.

"I do believe that the Kaakaako community should be composed of residential housing for all income level families, however this particular measure is not the proper way to encourage the creation of low and moderate income housing in this area. According to the Land Use Research of Hawaii Foundation, there is no evidence that proves there is legal justification that these percentages allotted are justified or constitutional. I agree with both this Foundation and the Hawaii Community Development Authority that there needs to be some discussion before a measure is passed with stakeholders, landowners and agencies to develop a consensus of goals, incentives and implementations.

"We must take into consideration the ideas of the HCDA and its opposition for reasons such as the unreasonable ties associated with commercial development and the confusion in actual results as a result of this measure. We must also look at incentives that should be included in the programs. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations on Stand. Com. Report No. 535. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And I will reserve more detailed comments for the future, but passing this bill may undo some of what this Body has done previously to the waterfront area in Kakaako. Thank you."

H.B. No. 2132, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2132, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative B. Oshiro rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative B. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"This measure places a small, but formidable requirement upon mortgage lenders to notify their mortgagors about appropriate foreclosure counseling services that may be available to them at least forty-five days prior to initiating foreclosure proceedings. Similar measures have been introduced and passed in other states and have been shown to have success in assisting homeowners facing foreclosure.

"Hawaii has not been immune to the effects the financial calamity wreaking havoc around the globe. Predatory lending, unregulated financial markets, and poor legislative oversight all contributed in part to the economic environment we find ourselves in now. Unfortunately, many people were lured into buying homes, apartments, etc. that ended up being out of their price range, or became out of their price range following the loss of a job.

"Keep in mind, in January, Hawaii's foreclosure rate rose 286%, from a year ago, and nearly 25% of all mortgages nationwide are currently underwater (meaning borrowers owe more on their loans than their homes are worth). The foreclosure crisis is hitting close to home. We owe it to those in our communities who have lost a job, or are furloughed, to make every effort to keep them in their homes.

"Sometimes our government has an opportunity to extend a helping hand to those struggling to stay fiscally afloat – this is one of those times.

"This bill provides some protection to homeowners by providing them valuable tools and information to prevent the loss of their homes. I urge my colleagues to support this measure."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, the Ewa area is the hardest hit area on Oahu when it comes to foreclosures. In 2009 there were over 630 foreclosures in the Ewa Beach area. Currently more than 42 percent of Ewa Beach's active listings are short sales or foreclosures, and prices have dropped about 30 percent from the height of the last up cycle.

"The real tragedy here is that Ewa Beach is primarily a working-class neighborhood, and real people are the ones that have been damaged by this turn of events. Ewa Beach's reputation as an affordable place for new homes attracted a lot of young couples, who could only afford the payments by working more than two jobs between them. The reality is that this economy has decimated the job market, and this Legislature is exasperating the problem with increased taxes on the good people of Hawaii.

"This bill offers some relief, possibly a ray of sunshine. It does not guarantee that these people will get to keep their houses, but it will give them a fighting chance, and that is what they want, a chance. This bill asks that they be given 45 days notice. The funny thing is you would hope that this was already a requirement. The bill also requires that this notice include information for the mortgagor to get mortgage counseling. Who knows, maybe, just maybe, this may give one of my hard working constituents the insight they need to save their house. Maybe it doesn't, but we gave them a fighting chance. We didn't let them sink without throwing them a lifeline. We did all that we could to help them out.

"I am passionate about this, because this problem of foreclosures is going on every day in my backyard. These peoples are my neighbors and friends, and someone has to stick up for them. So I rise in support not only for this measure, but for my friends and neighbors in Ewa Beach who deserve this help."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2132, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MORTGAGE FORECLOSURES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Bertram, Souki, Thielen and Tokioka being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Brower: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A constituent has asked me to remind this Body that today is an important day for Azerbaijani-Americans. It commemorates the Khojaly Massacre, which took place on February 26 in 1992.

"The Armenian government's effort to ethnically cleanse the Azeri population resulted in the death, wounding and hostage taking of almost 2,000 innocents civilians, mostly women, children and elderly. The crime against these peaceful residents of Khojaly was condemned worldwide and broadly covered by national newspapers and magazines, as well as in our country's Congressional Record.

"This memorial day for Azeries will always be remembered, and I would like to join with Azeri-Americans and the US Azeries Network in encouraging our country to properly recognize and commemorate this tragedy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, two brief announcements. One. On this day in history, in 1961, Kuwait gained independence from Britain and immediately was occupied by Iraq, and we know the rest is history with the Iraqi War and other things that some of us have served in.

"Secondly, if appropriate I would call for a moment of silence for the death of the two-newspaper Hawaii. We don't know which one's going to die, but I think it's a sad day when there's not going to be two voices in the newsprint business any longer. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

At this time, Representative Evans moved to keep the Journal open until 12:00 midnight this legislative day for the purpose of receiving Standing Committee Reports and House Bills transmitted thereby, seconded by Representative Pine and carried. (Representatives Bertram, Souki, Thielen and Tokioka were excused.)

Representative Magaoay's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H. B. 2897 H. D. 1. Mr. Speaker, this measure before this Body subjects a contractor to revocation or suspension of its license for knowingly or intentionally employing a person who is not eligible to work in the United States under federal law to perform work on any project or program.

"It is the unscrupulous contractor that knowingly entices an ineligible worker to break U.S. laws who should be penalized accordingly. The passage of this bill levels the playing field for contractors that play by the rules. Bidding will be more competitive, causing government to get better prices, decreasing cost to the Hawaii taxpayer and creating employment opportunities for Hawaii workers.

"Mr. Speaker, please note that there is no targeting of an ethnic minority. There is no targeting of any individual in the measure we have before us. The only target in this bill is those contractors who "knowingly and intentionally" hire a person that does not have the proper permit or status to work in the U.S.

"Mr. Speaker, the two key words are "knowingly" and "intentionally." A contractor knows that an individual is not properly documented to work in the U.S., then chooses to ignore or "turn a blind eye" to this knowledge and hires that person in light of knowledge on the part of the contractor. The contractor has then also intentionally hired the person in violation of this section.

"This section does not require a contractor to look beyond the face of the documentation presented by the prospective employer. Neither does this section require a contractor to test the veracity of the information or documents given by signing up with an information verification service.

"Please note Mr. Speaker, this measure does not recommend or require action by the Contractor's Licensing Board for negligent hiring of an undocumented worker. A negligent or inadvertent hiring could occur if documents presented to the employer were fraudulent. This takes much the same course as the federal government where employers are not held liable for fraudulent documents presented to an employer unless it was the employer who helped create or procure those fraudulent documents.

"It is true that the federal government already regulates in the area of illegal employment of undocumented workers. However, it appears that they will prosecute or indict only the individuals that did the actual hiring or recruiting. Many times this allows owners of the offending companies to continue on with their business with little or no repercussions in spite of the activity of their agents who may or may not have been doing the bidding of the owner.

"Mr. Speaker, the State of Hawaii has the power to regulate many aspects of contractor licensing within the State. Therefore, it should be incumbent upon the State, in order to maintain the professional integrity of the construction trade to ensure that contractors are not engaging in hiring practices that put at risk the public for whom these contractors perform services, by risking quality, safety and training by hiring potentially unqualified and under-trained workers, merely to add padding to a contractor's bottom line.

"In the area of abuses, those undocumented workers hired by the unscrupulous contractors are subject to many potential abuses such as workers living in a warehouse, having 40 people crammed into inappropriate living quarters, or living in converted cargo containers. Historically, the range of abuses that undocumented workers are potentially subject to is far greater than those who would seek to exploit this law to avoid hiring an undocumented worker.

"While the Contracting Licensing Board has limited power to regulate those who operate unlicensed in the industry when it comes to using illegal labor, a law such as this will ensure that an unscrupulous contractor cannot make huge labor cost savings through the use of illegal labor, since most undocumented workers are paid under the table and in cash, avoiding income tax withholding, as well as workers' compensation and other fees that legitimate contractors must account for in their labor costs. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2897, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTRACTORS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2503, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 2503, House Draft 1, Relating to the Environment. This measure allows money in the Pesticide Use Revolving Fund to be used for compliance monitoring activities, expanding the Fund's range currently covering registration, licensing, certification and education.

"According to the Department of Agriculture's testimony,

"Compliance monitoring surveillance is an integral part of ensuring protection of the public and the environment. Conducting actual use inspections of agricultural and non-agricultural entities is the most important component of compliance monitoring; detecting violations before they occur rather than responding to post-use complaints."

"Mr. Speaker, the Chair of the Agriculture Committee and the Department of Agriculture have repeatedly emphasized at informational briefings and hearings that current budget cuts have decreased the amount of inspection staff at our airports and harbors. Consequently, this has lessened the amount of security in these places where the State receives foreign and local agricultural products, and possibly invasive species.

"I have heard of various examples of the effects of minimized inspection staffing across the board due to funding issues. The Department of Agriculture has stated in their testimonies that management of the Pesticides Program has been challenging with the absence of a Branch Manager, and that task has now been temporarily assumed by the Plant Industry Administrator, in addition to that individual's other administrative duties. At the airports, offices have been deserted so staff may cover the floor, which is now lacking inspectors in baggage claim and other vital checkpoints. Very recently, Mr. Speaker, I was informed that some dogs and endangered species have been brought in without proper methods of inspection. The Department of Agriculture has pointed out that unlike the vocal coqui frogs, some invasive species which may come in with product shipments may not be properly identified until an outbreak has occurred.

"Allowing the Pesticide Use Revolving Fund to include compliance monitoring activities is crucial to the preservation of our State. Funding is needed to ensure the safety of our entrance points. Mr. Speaker, I am in support of this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2503, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ENVIRONMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 561-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2294, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2294, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the measure. The ability to move products in and out of the State, as well as interisland is critical to the agriculture industry and the State's economy. Yet there has been a substantial decrease in agricultural inspection services statewide due to the mandated RIF within the Department of Agriculture. Some Neighbor Island airports find themselves confronted with the challenge of having only one inspector with no alternative staff when that employee is on sick leave or vacation. This is just one example of how a point of entry can become vulnerable to invasive species.

"This bill would provide a committed source of funding for the inspection, quarantine, biosecurity, and eradication programs of DOA. Reasonable service fees and meaningful fines for failure to pay such fees are appropriate ways to support the critical functions of the Department of Agriculture. There are allowable exemptions from these fines under certain provisions, and this addresses the needs of numerous bulk-freight related businesses.

"The recent discovery of a male coqui frog in Manoa should serve as a reminder of the constant threat of invasive species gaining ground in Hawaii. This legislation provides for invasive species inspection plus quarantine and eradication activities. I urge my colleagues to support it."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 2294 House Draft 2, Relating to Agriculture. This measure seeks to provide a dedicated source of funding for the Department of Agriculture's inspection, quarantine, biosecurity, and eradication programs through various methods.

"The addition of the Pest Inspection, Quarantine and Eradication Special Fund's (PIQEF) coverage to include biosecurity services is crucial to the preservation of our State. Hawai'i imports approximately 85% of its food from out-of-state, a fact that requires us to better safeguard our entry ports from invasive species and foreign diseases. By focusing on funding for biosecurity services and programs, we are ensuring that agricultural products coming into Hawai'i are inspected appropriately, and negative environmental impacts of any invasive species are deterred.

"Mr. Speaker, the combination of funneling agricultural fees and fines into PIQEF and repealing both the Permit Revolving Fund and Microorganism Import Revolving Fund with money from those funds being diverted into PIQEF, minimizes the amount of existing special funds. It delegates PIQEF as an all-encompassing appropriation source which provides for pest inspection, quarantine, eradication and monitoring services, as well as the training and education of inspectors and the agricultural industry, permit and certificate holders, and the general public.

"Mr. Speaker, in regards to the regulation of charging agricultural fees and fines, the Department of Agriculture has stated that by providing penalties for failure to pay or remit the service fees as proposed in this bill, accountability is established for the collection and remittance of these fees to the Department. The proposed provisions in the measure assure the proper collection and deposit of the inspection, quarantine, and eradication service fees for incoming commercial freight.

"Mr. Speaker, fee exemptions for aggregate bulk freight, cement bulk freight, coal bulk freight, and liquid bulk freight are supported by both the Department of Agriculture and the State's shipping and freight companies. Concerns from the Department and the Nature Conservancy regarding bulk freight vessels as vectors of invasive species such as insects, rodents, and other human-related disease pathogens are addressed by existing safety processes in place. Strict quality control standards of the American Society for Testing and Materials are designed to detect and prevent harmful and organic material in finished granite products. According to Hawaiian Cement, cement cargo is not a compatible environment to invasive species. When introduced to moisture, cement develops a high level of acidity, which renders it incapable of sustaining most living organisms. Lastly, ships' cargos are subject to inspection and cleared by the United States Department of Agriculture prior to discharge in Hawaii. The fee exemptions are simply one way of expediting shipments into our islands without compromising security measures.

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"HB 2277, HD1 authorizes the issuance of special purpose revenue bonds in the amount of $20 million for Kaimuki Christian School in Honolulu. Kaimuki Christian's campus improvement project, which is what these bonds will be used for, will be accomplished in three phases. Phase one will include a new facility for the expanding preschool through grade 8 classes and space for enrichment programs such as music, art, and computer sciences. A preschool playground area and new administrative offices will also be built. Phase two will center around a 116-stall multi-level parking structure and gymnasium. Finally, Phase three of construction will provide a permanent home for the high school that Kaimuki Christian plans to launch in the fall of 2012. When these three phases are completed, the new facilities will allow Kaimuki Christian to increase enrollment by over 70%.

"Founded in 1968, this school is a ministry of Kaimuki Christian Church and incorporates into its educational program Christian values and perspectives. The belief that solid teaching, a challenging curriculum and a caring environment are important components of a child's education has brought Kaimuki Christian into the realm of excellence.

"In 1995, Kaimuki Christian expanded to include a middle school, serving preschool through grade 8. From the school's inception, and for nearly thirty years, Helen McKenzie was the guiding light as principal. Kaimuki Christian recently honored Helen McKenzie at its gala 40th Anniversary dinner. Helen's son-in-law, Mark Gallagher is the current principal.

"It is for the worthy purpose of expanding this school that I am in favor of HB 2277, HD1, authorizing special purpose revenue bonds for Kaimuki Christian School."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support HB 2152, H.D. 1 which allows the Disability and Communication Access Board (DCAB) to charge a fee to defray expenses of reviewing construction plans to ensure compliance with the law. This bill will give DCAB the authority to charge a review fee to keep its review process functioning, while providing a revenue stream to offset the loss of general funds.

"Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) §103-50 effectively requires DCAB to advise and make recommendations on any construction plans prior to commencing with construction to ensure plans and specifications of State and county buildings, facilities, and sites comply with federal accessibility guidelines. In short, without providing a way for DCAB to continue this role, public works will grind to a halt and more of our construction workers will remain on the bench. The bill proposes a plan review fee based on the project's estimated construction cost. The proposed fees are comparable to the State of California's access compliance review fee schedule.

"DCAB conducted 1,126 plan reviews in FY 2009. Based on the number of reviews in FY 2009, the proposed plan review fee schedule is estimated to generate $490,000.

"I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this bill."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 2163, Relating To Salary and Pension Payments. This bill requires all government employees hired prior to July 1, 1998, to designate a financial account into which the State may deposit the employees' pay by an unspecified date.

"Currently, almost 40% of Department of Education employees still have not opted to have direct deposit of pay. As recently experienced during the furlough days' implementation and their impact on paycheck processing on paydays that coincide with furloughs, many employees without direct deposit were significantly inconvenienced.

"In addition, the logistics of island-by-island distribution of paychecks were extremely challenging on paydays falling on furlough days. In many cases, employees not on direct deposit had to wait until the following week for their paychecks to be available.

"This bill resolves these problems by requiring all employees to utilize direct deposit of their paychecks. Accordingly, I urge my colleagues to support this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2163, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALARY AND PENSION PAYMENTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2538, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 2538, Relating to the Payment of Employees' Retirement System Benefits. This bill:

(1) Requires all retirees and beneficiaries of the Employees' Retirement System (ERS) be paid monthly;

(2) Requires all retirees and beneficiaries of the ERS to designate a financial institution account into which the ERS be authorized to deposit their state retirement system benefits;

(3) Requires the ERS to provide for the transition from semimonthly payments to monthly payments by adjusting the dates on which the semimonthly payments in January 2011 and February 2011 are made; and

(4) Takes effect on January 1, 2011.

"According to the Employees' Retirement System, approximately 25,700 pensioners and beneficiaries out of 38,000 will be paid on a monthly rather than semi-monthly basis. In addition, approximately 1,400 of these recipients will have their benefit payments deposited directly into a financial institution instead of receiving paper checks.

"This measure will result in cost savings in postage, check printing, check imaging, and bank fees; and will also increase the ERS' investment earnings. The ERS estimates that this proposal will add approximately $955,000 annually to the ERS' bottom line.

"When this measure was heard, concerns were raised that the changing payment methods to retirees may present a financial burden to older retirees. As such, your Committee on Finance strongly encourages the ERS to clearly inform those affect by these changes well in advance of the change.

"I urge my fellow colleagues to support this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2538, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PAYMENT OF EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM BENEFITS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2533, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 2533, House Draft 1, Relating to the Employment of Employees' Retirement System Retirements. This bill:

(1) Prohibits a retirant from being employed by the State unless the retirant is reenrolled in the Employees' Retirement System (ERS) except under certain situations; and

(2) Requires the Director of Human Resources of the appropriate State jurisdiction or the human resources management chief executive of a county to submit an annual report to the Legislature detailing the employment of positions in labor shortage or difficult-to fill positions, and teachers.

"According to the Employees' Retirement System (ERS), this bill is intended to protect the tax exempt status of the ERS by providing penalties for retirants who are reemployed in violation of Chapter 88, Hawaii Revised Statutes, and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

"This bill also provides a more comprehensive structure by including certain provisions of Act 286, Session Laws of Hawaii (SLH) 2006 (retired teachers and Department of Education administrators employed in teacher shortage areas or mentors for new teachers), and Act 156, SLH 2008 (labor shortage or difficult-to-fill positions).

"During the public hearing on this measure, concerns were raised regarding the need for an appeals process for situations as those in which an employee or employer is determined by the ERS administrator to be at fault, but there is disagreement in the findings. Because of this, your Committee on Finance urges the ERS to work with employee representatives to address these concerns through the adoption of administrative rules.

"I urge my colleagues to support this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2533, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYMENT OF EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM RETIRANTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 646-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2855, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2855, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 2855, House Draft 2, Relating to the Employees' Retirement System. This bill:

(1) Requires the Board of Trustees (Board) of the Employees' Retirement System (ERS) to conduct a study to establish a plan to fully amortize the unfunded actuarial liability of the ERS over a thirty-year period commencing July 1, 2012, and submit the proposed amortization plan accompanied by any proposed legislation necessary to implement the plan to the 2012 Legislature; and

(2) Authorizes the Board to recommend lesser benefits, greater contributions, or other less advantageous provisions for new employees than those for current employees.

"As reported in the ERS' 2009 Actuarial Valuation Report, as of June 30, 2009, ERS' unfunded actuarial accrued liability increased from $5.2 billion to $6.2 billion and ERS had a 64.6% funded ratio. This ratio represents the percentage of funds ERS has on hand to cover current and future pension benefit payments.

"It was the diversion of over $1.6 billion in ERS' excess investment returns since the 1960s that increased the unfunded liability and prevented the ERS from establishing a reserve to weather the years of poor investment returns, like the 2000-2002 and recent bear markets.

"Facing a budget gap of approximately $2.7 billion for FY09-11, the Administration implemented actions intended to be "one-time" in nature to balance the budget. Among these were the delayed payment of the State's contribution to the Employees' Retirement System and the Hawaii Employer-Union Health Benefits Trust Fund in FY2009, and delays in tax refunds for FY11. These actions do not absolve the State from these liabilities. Rather, they shift the burden onto future fiscal years.

"Furthermore, not only do these actions jeopardize the timely provision of necessary services and benefits, but it also skews the financial planning for future fiscal years.

"Because of these actions and declining revenues, Moody's Investor Service downgraded the State's outlook on the State's bond rating from stable to negative. Cited in this downgrade was the State's increased use of "non-recurring solutions to balance the budget."

"In this time of economic uncertainty and increasing pension liability, it is not only prudent, but necessary to look at ways of addressing the shortfall. That is exactly what this bill does. Accordingly, I urge my colleagues to support this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2855, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2708, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Aquino's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am standing in support of HB 2708 HD1. This bill would require the Department of Transportation to develop and implement a public involvement process when carrying out any transportation project in the State.

"The intent is to allow people an opportunity to provide comments on projects that may affect their communities. This is to ensure people that public participation and collaboration is welcomed in a fashion where their comments have a chance to be implemented. It empowers communities and residents and reminds them that they have a say in deciding what goes on in government. For these reasons, I support HB 2708 HD1."

Representative Aquino's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of HB 2706 HD1. Mr. Speaker, the bill's intention is to find ways to strengthen our economy. It would allow high worth individuals—both Hawaii residents and non-residents—to transfer a percentage of their net worth into our State for asset and trust management. This injects out-of-state money into Hawaii's economy, provides State revenues, and allows our State to become a world-class place to invest and manage their assets.

"The assets referred to are liquid assets as defined in the bill's language and does not allow real estate to be transferred in these trusts. I believe Mr. Speaker that this legislation would be truly beneficial for our State, both in the near and distant future. Certainly, in these times of fiscal struggles, this would be welcomed and serves as another possible revenue stream for our State."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. The purpose of this bill is to improve interstate adult guardianship and protective proceedings by, among other things, establishing uniform rules regarding court communication, jurisdiction, and transfers of guardianship or conservatorship. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2248, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIFORM ADULT GUARDIANSHIP AND PROTECTIVE PROCEEDINGS JURISDICTION ACT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1287, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 1287, Relating to Public Employment. This bill:

(1) Extends the enabling law for the Voluntary Employees' Beneficiary Association (VEBA) Trust for six months in order to provide for a smoother transition to the Hawaii Employer-Union Health Benefits Trust Fund (EUTF);

(2) Appropriates funds for five temporary positions to assist in the VEBA Trust transition; and

(3) Appropriates funds for five permanent positions to perform other EUTF duties.

"According to Auditor Marion Higa, the VEBA "carves into the EUTF health plan and negatively impacts the EUTF and the state employer." For this and other reasons, the Legislature declares that it does not intend to make the enabling law permanent or to extend the sunset date for another pilot testing period.

"The repeal of the VEBA statute will require the transfer of at least 13,081 active teachers, and 1,995 teacher retirees to the EUTF.

"The EUTF Member Service Branch is currently facing mounting workloads beyond its capacity to handle because of inadequate staffing levels and furloughs, the recent computer system conversion, and the implementation of a new PPO plan and restructuring of PPO plan offerings.

"This bill will provide the EUTF with the necessary time and resources to facilitate the transfer of VEBA beneficiaries into the EUTF. This measure also has the strong support of the Department of Budget and Finance and the Governor. Accordingly, I urge my colleagues to support this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1287, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Ward voting no.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2783, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker I rise in support of House Bill 2783, House Draft 2, Relating to General Excise Tax. The purpose of this bill is to exempt from GET amounts up to $400,000 per year beginning January 1, 2010 on the taxable amount received by the operator of a hotel from a time share association, and amounts received by the suboperator of a hotel from the owner of the hotel, time share association, or the operator of the hotel. This exemption is also retroactive to July 1, 2006 and sunsets on June 30, 2015. Furthermore, this bill repeals the GET exemption with a $400,000 cap for operators, suboperators and submanagers applicable to taxable years ending on or between January 1, 2010 and January 1, 2011.

"Although the State is facing difficult economic times and is challenged with balancing the budget, the exemption provided for in this bill is necessary to level the playing field for local companies managing hotels, timeshares, or condo-tels. By exempting pass through income operators and suboperators receive for employee wages and benefits, this bill ensures that the operating costs of the cyclical tourism industry in Hawaii remains reasonable and on par with other markets worldwide. If not exempted, these amounts employees receive may be reduced. It is to the State's benefit to provide that these sums are paid by local operators to local employees and vendors. Keeping costs competitively priced also encourages additional hotel, timeshare and condominium development.

"Additionally, Mr. Speaker, the tourism industry provides highly skilled and highly compensated sales and marketing jobs for the people of Hawaii. The exempted hotels, timeshares and condo-tels are a vital part of Hawaii's economy and it was noted by the American Resort Development Association that timeshares have high and consistent rates of occupancy and customer satisfaction that keep visitors coming back to our islands.

"The bill also clarifies and further refines the application of the operator and suboperator exemption. This bill is necessary to clarify a previous DoTAX announcement that stated that the $400,000 cap applied to gross amounts which would not significantly benefit operators and suboperators the exemption seeks to assist.

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to stress that this is only a temporary measure with a sunset date in 2015. Thank you, very much."

S.B. No. 2246, SD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, S.B. No. 2246, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATUTORY REVISION: AMENDING OR REPEALING VARIOUS PROVISIONS OF THE HAWAII REVISED STATUTES AND THE SESSION LAWS OF HAWAII FOR THE PURPOSE OF CORRECTING ERRORS AND REFERENCES, CLARIFYING LANGUAGE, AND DELETING OBSOLETE OR UNNECESSARY PROVISIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 840, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 840, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker I rise in support of this measure because the ability to use information charging for the class B felonies listed in this bill will save significant judicial, prosecutorial, and police resources.

"This bill will amend HRS §806-83 to add the following three felony offenses to the list of felonies that may be charged by written information:

Unauthorized Possession of Confidential Information, Unauthorized Entry in a Dwelling, and Methamphetamine Trafficking in the 2nd Degree.

"Information charging was instituted in 2004 to streamline the criminal justice system by allowing the charging of certain felonies by the submission of documents setting forth probable cause to a judge rather than requiring witnesses to come forth to testify at court.

"Mr. Speaker, additions of these felonies are very valid and appropriate:

1. Unauthorized Possession of Confidential Information is often charged along with forgery, theft, and identity theft offenses, all of which are currently included in the information charging provisions.

2. Unauthorized Entry in a Dwelling is another form of burglary and therefore should be included.

3. The inclusion of the class B felonies involving methamphetamine would be consistent with the intent of past legislation in Act 62 of 2004 to allow class B felonies, including methamphetamine, to be initiated by information charging.

"The aforementioned felonies were all created after the institution of information charging in 2004 and thus were not included in the original list of offenses eligible for information charging.

"In these difficult fiscal times, it is important to note that information charging has eliminated the need to pay witness fees and alleviates the requirement to have police officers waiting at court to testify, thus sparing police resources.

"Information Charging Statistics (provided by Attorney General's testimony) state that a total of 2188 cases, from 2004 to 2007, were conferred for information charging. Witnesses saved by information charging include:

3932 for HPD Officers;
998 for HPD personnel; and
2972 for civilian victims/witnesses.

"The passage of this measure will spare more victims and witnesses from going to court to testify at probable cause hearings, more officers will be able to stay on the job protecting and serving the community, the State will continue to see a financial savings, and fair, effective information charging will become an even greater asset to the our state's criminal justice system. For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to support this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 840, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHARGING BY WRITTEN INFORMATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Rhoads voting no.

H.B. No. 1019, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 1019, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PENAL CODE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2741, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 2741, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SMALL BOAT HARBORS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1985:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1985, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 1985, Relating to Taxation, which requires the Department of Taxation to provide the Legislature with an annual report on Hawaii income patterns of individuals, a biennial report on Hawaii income patterns of corporations, proprietorships, and partnerships; and an annual report on tax credits.

"This bill increases the transparency of government by specifically delineating when these vital reports are required to be published by the Department of Taxation. These reports help taxpayers and policy makers evaluate what the State government's goals and initiatives are and help to identify which industries and areas are benefitting from tax credits and whether or not these industries are beneficial to the State.

"The timely release of information provided in these reports aid policy makers evaluate where tax expenditures of the state have taken place. With current information legislators can more accurately determine if there needs to be changes to tax law. Mr. Speaker, this bill is essential to help the legislature more effectively create policies that benefit the interests of the people of the State of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, DoTAX has updated computer technology available to them so the delay in producing these reports is inexcusable. Consistent reporting of this important tax information has been lacking; the reports referenced in this bill are published on a lag basis. The most current report for income patterns of corporations is from tax year 2002 while the most current reports for the income patterns of individuals and tax credits claimed are from tax year 2005.

"An example of the negative impact of the untimely nature of these reports is that the Tax Review Commission's ability to analyze the effects of the high-tech credits and other taxes has been hindered. We do not yet know the effects of the high tech tax credit because of the lag in reporting. This inefficiency of government can no longer be tolerated when adequate technology already exists in the Department of Taxation to allow for timely publishing of these reports.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I strongly support House Bill 1985, Relating to Taxation."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1985, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2523:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2523, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 2523, Relating to the Aloha Tower Development Corporation (ATDC). This measure seeks to make an emergency appropriation to increase ATDC's special fund ceiling by $900,000 for fiscal year 2009-2010 to pay a one-time settlement amount of $1,550,000 to Kenneth H. Hughes, Inc. ("Hughes") to settle all claims, including rejection of all claimed rights to lands at ATDC, arising out of or with respect to a Development Agreement between ATDC and Hughes dated October 12, 2004 (Kenneth H. Hughes, Inc. v Aloha Tower Development, Corp., Civil No. 09-00277 DAE-BMK, USDC).

"The original total amount awarded to Hughes in the first proceeding from May 2008 through April 2009 was just over $1.6M. In the first trial the arbitrator awarded Hughes damages for "lost investment time" in the amount of $741,544.59, costs incurred of $162,047.90, pre-award interest of $271,755.44, and post-award interest at the rate of 10% per year. After several proceedings, at the mandate of the U.S. District Court, settlement efforts were conducted with the assistance of a Magistrate and an agreement was reached to resolve the entire dispute for the total sum of $1.55M, in total and complete payment of all amounts due or claimed by Hughes, including any interest or attorneys' fees.

"Mr. Speaker, under the circumstances, the stipulated judgment with Hughes represents a significant savings, and avoids future harmful decisions against the State if the arbitrator's rulings remained as legal precedent. Interest on the arbitration award would by now have increased the arbitration award of $1,600,000 by nearly $107,000. This last settlement agreement has vacated the adverse ruling as to sovereign immunity and an appeal on that issue is no longer needed, saving taxpayer money and allowing the courts to rule on other pressing cases. The State cannot afford to pay this additional amount nor spend vital time and court resources on an additional settlement agreement.

"With the passage of this measure ATDC will be able to move forward and focus on its short term and long term development plans set forth in its Strategic Plan and Development Framework. For these reasons Mr. Speaker, I support House Bill 2523."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2523, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ALOHA TOWER DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2596:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2596, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 2596, Relating to Tax Credits. This bill provides for the statutory ordering of income tax credits, which requires the claiming of refundable credits first, followed by nonrefundable credits.

"By requiring refundable credits to be used first, general fund payouts to taxpayers in any given year beyond reducing tax liability to zero will be substantially reduced, providing some relief to the general fund and have an annual revenue gain of approximately $17M for at least two years after the measure has been implemented.

"DoTAX has stated that this bill will not create any material financial loss for taxpayers. The only financial loss is the time value of money. In most instances, taxpayers will not lose any credit, rather they will have to use them in future tax years as credits carried forward are allowed to be carried forward indefinitely until exhausted. Taxpayers with additional refundable tax credits beyond tax liability will still receive a refund.

"Mr. Speaker, ensuring the efficient administration of our State's tax credits and budgeting certainty will go a long way in aiding the State to survive and thrive in this recession. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker I support this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2596, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX CREDITS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2505, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 2505, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ACCESS HAWAII COMMITTEE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2532, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 2532, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNCLAIMED PROPERTY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1922, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1922, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 1922, House Draft 1, Relating to Taxation. This bill requires transferors of real property located in Hawaii to furnish a tax clearance to the Bureau of Conveyances before recording the transfer. It also authorizes the Director of Taxation to require escrow depositories remit taxes by electronic funds transfer if the depository is required to file a return of the tax withheld on a real property transfer. Additionally, this bill requires an escrow depository filing a return on behalf of a transferee to file not more than two working days following the authorization date and deliver a receipt to the transferee, which is subject to a $100-per-day late fee.

"This bill is necessary, Mr. Speaker, because uncollected TAT and GET on rental income by nonresident real property owners is a problem for the State. As identified in the 2005-2007 Tax Review Commission Report, these uncollected TAT and GET become lost income and falls out of the State's jurisdiction when the property is sold and transferred. With nonresidents particularly, tax compliance can be poor because of unfamiliarity with laws and obligations. By serving as a condition precedent to obtaining a deed, this tax clearance will ensure that all taxpayers, including non residents, pay their fair share of taxes in Hawaii.

"During this difficult economic period, government must ensure that the total amount due to the State is collected in order to maintain vital programs and avoid costly raises in taxes and the cost of living here in Hawaii. This measure will generate income by aiding collection of taxes that had previously gone unpaid and creating a penalty fee based system for these violations.

"For these reasons Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of House Bill 1922, House Draft 1, Relating to Taxation."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1922, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 40, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 40, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE BONDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2186, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2186, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 2186, House Draft 1, Relating to Improper Payments Elimination and Recovery. This bill establishes procedures to eliminate and recover improper payments made by a State agency, State contractor, State grantee, or a governmental or other organization administering a State program or activity, to any non-State person or entity. It also requires the head of each agency to conduct a financial management improvement program and additional reporting requirements for State agencies consistent with rules prescribed by the Director of Finance.

"This bill is necessary to create a system to ensure proper procurement of State agencies, address improper spending in a timely manner, and improves financial management of State agencies. Proper procurement has been a recurring issue within many State departments. Whether due to inefficiency, fraud, or incompetence, proper procurement needs to be addressed and eliminated.

"At a time where the expenditure of every State dollar matters, this bill provides for more accountability of financial transactions within State agencies. This bill also saves money by establishing a clear system to recover improper payments which will benefit the State budget. Future spending errors are also avoided with the passage of this bill by requiring the Director of Finance to make recommendations to avoid additional financial errors.

"In addition to saving the State money this bill also increases transparency of spending by requiring an annual report of improper spending to the Legislature. With this report the Legislature can effectively gauge the efficiencies and inefficiencies of state agencies and departments making cuts and recommendations to benefit and serve the people of Hawaii when necessary.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support the favorable passage of House Bill 2186, House Draft 1."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2186, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO IMPROPER PAYMENTS ELIMINATION AND RECOVERY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2594, HD 2:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2594, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 2594, House Draft 2, which creates conforming amendments to the Hawaii income tax law based upon amendments to the Internal Revenue Code for calendar year 2009. This bill is necessary to amend the Hawaii income tax law to match tax measures enacted by Congress to stimulate the economy and provide taxpayer relief. The tax measures that impact the State's conformity to the Internal Revenue Code are the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), and the Worker, Homeownership, and Business Assistance Act of 2009 (WHBA). The enacted legislation provides incentives to invest in capital items and relief to individual taxpayers.

"In its testimony to the Finance Committee the Department of Taxation stated that the measure "will neither materially reduce or increase revenues…Given the current fiscal environment, the Administration proposes to not conform to any Internal Revenue Code change that would result in a negative impact to the general fund." The neutral impact to the State's general fund is obtained by adjusting three revenue estimates provided to the U.S. government by the Joint Committee on Taxation. The first assumes Hawaii's economy is roughly 0.5% of the total U.S. GDP. The second assumes that the State average effective tax rate is one-quarter of the federal Individual Income Tax and 18% of the federal for the Corporation Income Tax. The third assumes the federal fiscal year ends September 30.

"The tax credits and reductions in interest rates will reduce the tax burden that Hawaii residents and businesses are required to pay, allowing that money to instead be spent stimulating the local economy. Using the multiplier effect, this money will create additional business for local companies and generate more income for employees as well.

"Mr. Speaker, for these reasons I support House Bill 2594, House Draft 2."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2594, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONFORMITY OF THE HAWAII INCOME TAX LAW TO THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2311, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2311, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Cabanilla's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, In support of HB 2311 with reservations [sic], Mr. Speaker. HB 2311 is probably the most misunderstood or misconstrued bill of this Legislative Session. I heard testimony after testimony, both oral and written in support of flying the US and the State flag. Who is not in support of flying the US or the State flag, Mr. Speaker? We all are. Somehow the bill was misconstrued to be one that hindered the flying of the flag.

"The US Constitution, through The Freedom to Fly the Flag Act of 2005 which was put into law in 2006, mandates that the US Flag can be flown within PCA's with reasonable restrictions. We now have a law, Mr. Speaker. We as a Body have been criticized of writing duplicative and unnecessary laws. This is one of them.

"First of all, the bill is about erecting flagpoles. Erecting flagpoles within PCA's with reasonable restrictions just like how the flag law is written. Now going through the constitutional challenges of this flagpole bill, it made me realize the wisdom in crafting the federal legislation, the Freedom to Fly the Flag Act of 2005, did not address the flagpole issue. What HB 2311 fails to do is to articulate what type of flagpole the bill is trying to erect. Is it three feet, five feet, or 100 feet? I don't know. What does erecting a flag pole means? Does it mean a flagpole mounted on a 3x5 concrete slab, or tucked in on the wall in front to the house? The bill leaves me with a thousand possibilities.

"The bill also states that the flagpole restriction is limited to aesthetic reasons only - could it mean a nice flagpole made of 1-ply aluminum would be sufficient? Then at the end it says that PCA's can impose reasonable restrictions. What is a reasonable restriction? What does the bill accomplish, Mr. Speaker? Nothing. It just raises more questions to be answered. The bill needs more specificity.

"Mr. Speaker, you can now fly the American flag, even inside planned community associations. The residents just need to assert that right as provided by federal law. We have passed laws such as condo court, dispute resolution mandates. We also have the ACLU, The Disability Rights Center for the veterans that are handicap, grievance procedures through the Veterans Administration, and so on and so forth, not to mention that this is a civil court matter if the association forbids the flying of the flag. I have no knowledge what remedies that were taken prior to this bill's introduction.

"We all know that there are covenants inside these community associations. When you buy into these communities, you also agree to abide by these rules. There are hundreds of thousands of residents within these condos and planned communities whose voices need to be heard as well. Do they welcome these flagpoles not knowing what size we are talking about?

"No one came to talk to me or to any Member of the Committee to justify the need for this legislation. No one showed up at the hearing. All I know about the need for this legislation is what I have seen on the six and ten o'clock news. This is a media event, motivated by political desires.

"I love and honor the flag, Mr. Speaker. With that love and honor comes responsibility to protect its dignity and honor. Mr. Speaker, I am a member of the US Army Reserves and a Lieutenant Colonel. I have served for 23 years both in active duty with the Army, as well as in the Reserves, and I have served through three different conflicts. I live in a community association and I fly the flag attached to my house. I fly that flag in honor of my buddies who are currently deployed. I do not believe that erecting a flag pole will be of a greater honor to them.

"I wanted more discussion to determine if the protocols of flying a flag on a flagpole are going to be followed as prescribed by Title IV, US Code 36. Protocols such as raising the flag at dawn and retiring it at sunset. If you are to fly it overnight, you need to have a spot light shinning on the flag. You must know when to fly it half or full mast. You must know how to properly dispose of it when it gets old and tattered. To fly a flag on a flagpole requires commitment. I am not saying that they will not be committed to such protocols, but I want to make sure that everyone understands and agrees.

"I gave HB 2311 a hearing Mr. Speaker, but no one – no one, Mr. Speaker showed up at the hearing. Not even one veteran showed up Mr.

Speaker. What I know about this measure was from a lone veteran crying on TV asking for sympathy. I have no idea what remedies he already took to convince the association to allow him to erect a flagpole. Did he put in an application to the design committee? Did he talk to the association board of directors or the management company? Did he talk to his neighbors? Did he circulate a petition? We do not know that, but yet we are being asked to write laws that will override the covenants of hundreds of thousands of planned community residents. These residents may not have any opposition to these flag poles, however we cannot assume that because we have not involved them in the discussion. We need to give them the time to assimilate what is going on.

"I am grateful for the media event that came with this bill Mr. Speaker, however the message is grossly misconstrued. This bill is not the prohibition of flying a flag. It is about erecting flagpoles. I have no problem with that either Mr. Speaker, however let us make sure that this is what these communities want to do. I am not saying that their passion for flying the flag on a flagpole should be ignored. It just can't be fitted within a time-certain Legislative Session. The discussion should be during the interim and we can ask for a task force to promulgate rules and protocols that people can agree on. And if they cannot agree, then we may need to introduce legislation.

"I find their analogy very disturbing - comparing the hanging of laundry and the hanging of the flag. This justifies more reason to discuss this bill further. Yes, they are both made of material Mr. Speaker, but nothing compares to the symbolism of our flag.

"We respect our veterans Mr. Speaker, and we will never forget the sacrifices that they and their families made for our country. Not passing this bill this Legislative Session should not be seen as our disrespect of their wishes. Mr. Speaker in this Legislative Session, we are dealing with a State that is financially challenged. We do not have money to keep our children in school. Small businesses are closing because we have overburdened our unemployment insurance safety net, necessitating business to contribute more. Homelessness is increasing because of lack of funding. We do not have funds to pay for the services for the poor, the aged, and the handicapped. Our people need jobs. Our homes are being foreclosed on, Mr. Speaker.

"I ask my fellow veterans to be patient and understanding."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2311, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLANNED COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2724, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2724, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. House Bill 2724, House Draft 1 will help protect dogs from cruelty, yet it is flexible enough to allow the training of working dogs in various industries in the state of Hawaii. Specifically, the bill further defines the offense of cruelty to animals in the second degree by requiring that tethering, fastening, tying, or restraining a dog to a doghouse, tree, fence, or any other stationary object or to a cable trolley system cannot be done in a cruel or inhumane manner. It requires that a tether or chain cannot weigh more than ten per cent of the weight of the dog tethered, and the tether or chain must have a swivel on at least one end. Further, one cannot tether, fasten, tie, or restrain a dog younger than two months old.

"Finally, in addition to the misdemeanor penalty currently in law, this bill mandates fines of $50 for a first offense and $200 for any subsequent offense. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2724, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OFFENSES AGAINST PUBLIC ORDER," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

The Chair then announced that the following measure would be deferred to Thursday, March 4, 2010.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 477-10 and S.B. No. 1059, SD 2, HD 2:

By unanimous consent, action was deferred to Thursday, March 4, 2010.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 462-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2922, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2922, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 466-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2349, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2349, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Yamane rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Report Number 466-10, HB 2349, Relating to Violence Against Health Care Personnel. I would like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. Once in a great while I act as an emergency room social worker," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Cabanilla rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"On the same measure, Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support of this legislation and I also want a ruling on a potential conflict. I sometimes work as an emergency room nurse," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2349, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VIOLENCE AGAINST HEALTH CARE PERSONNEL," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 468-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2086, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2086, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH CARE DATA," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 469-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2284, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2284, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Say rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, Stand. Com. Report 469-10, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I'm an officer of a business that is in this area as a sublessee," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Also on Stand. Com. Report No. 469-10, may I get a ruling on a potential conflict? My law firm represents the sole landowner that is affected by this legislation," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har then asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I submit written comments with strong reservations on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 469?"

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise with reservations on HB 2284. The bill extends the repeal date of Act 189, SLH 2009, to June 30, 2011 for the Mapunapuna leases. Although I agree in principle with this bill, I do worry about the precedent that this bill may set in terms of the State interfering with or enabling tenants to abrogate the terms of their contract with their lessor. This should be an exception to the rule and not become the rule in order to maintain viable contract law in the State."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support this bill with reservations. This bill extends Act 189, SLH 2009, to June 30, 2011. The purpose of this bill is to change the process for renegotiating the amount of rent during the term of an existing commercial or industrial lease, unless expressly stated otherwise in the lease. The bill requires the term "fair and reasonable" annual rent of any lease of commercial or industrial leasehold property to be construed as fair and reasonable to both the lessor and the lessee to the lease, and to consider other relevant circumstances relating to the lease, such as surface characteristics of the property.

"As members observed last Session, Act 189 apparently targeted a single landowner for the benefit of its lessees, but arguably addressed a situation where the free market between lessor and lessee was not functioning. Hawaii has experienced and seen a concentration of land ownership of urban commercial and industrial properties become centered in a few large firms that distort market forces and leave Hawaii businesses with little recourse. My concern is that the language in question does not appear in any other commercial lease and this measure deals with only one landowner.

"Once again, Mr. Speaker, I vote with reservations."

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

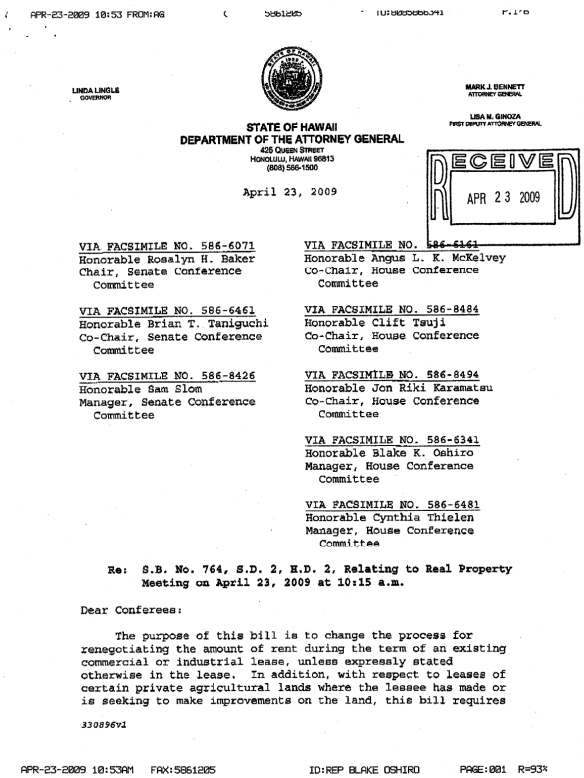
"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Although I wasn't here last year, I did have some time to catch up on this particular measure. I realize that the Legislature passed Act 189 in regards to this issue.

"But I believe that this is bad policy and it sets bad precedence and ultimately, is bad for business in our State. This bill sends a message to businesses and potential investors that the Legislature may change the terms of your contract. Today it's the tenants of HRPT asking us to change their leases to reduce their rents. Next year, it could be the tenants of Ala Moana Center or Kamehameha Schools.

"This action is reckless. Last year, the Attorney General warned us that this bill may be unconstitutional in that it may violate the contract clause and the takings clause, giving the landowner the right to recover compensation from the State. But the Legislature passed the bill anyway and now we are considering extending this law just increasing the State's potential liability to pay for damages, fees, and costs.

"At a time when we're cutting social programs to balance the budget, this bill is financially irresponsible. It makes no sense to extend this law until the constitutional questions have been settled in court. We should wait to hear what the court says rather than rushing to pass a bill that the taxpayers pay for in the end.

"With your request, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to insert into the Journal two opinion letters from the Attorney General last year which was sent in April 2009 clarifying the Attorney General's concerns regarding his concerns that this particular issue may violate the contract clause of the US Constitution and also may violate the takings clause. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.



"In addition, I just wanted our colleagues to know that just recently, in fact, just yesterday or the day before, this issue as you all know, is in Circuit Court. There was a request to have the hearing date on either April 5th or April 12th. Both court dates were available prior to the ending of the Legislative Session. So we would have as a Legislature benefitted from the guidance of Judge Mollway regarding the constitutionality of this law.

"However, in Docket 72, the Citizens for Fair Evaluation opposed the advancing of the hearing date to April and requested that the court actually push back the hearing date to May 17. And in Docket 71 the State of Hawaii briefly, in their brief, opposed the advancing of the hearing date to April. The irony of this is that we could have settled this once and for all had the two parties, the Citizens for Fair Evaluation and the State of Hawaii chosen to support the motion to have the hearing prior to the ending of the Legislative Session.

"In the Committee hearings that we had in the Economic Development Committee, I questioned if the court rules that this is unconstitutional, whether the State would put itself in a financial predicament, and it was uncertain. But as we move through this process in the courts I say, this bill should not move and we should just wait for whatever happens in the court, and I urge my colleagues to take a look at this.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, I'd like with your permission to insert into the Journal, Dockets 70, 72 and 71. Thank you."

Re: S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, Relating to Real Property Meeting on April 23, 2009 at 10:15 a.m.

Dear Conferees:

The purpose of this bill is to change the process for renegotiating the amount of rent during the term of an existing commercial or industrial lease, unless expressly stated otherwise in the lease. In addition, with respect to leases of certain private agricultural lands where the lessee has made or is seeking to make improvements on the land, this bill requires the renegotiated term of the lease to include an extension of the lease for a period at least seventy-five percent of the original term of the lease. The bill also prohibits the amendment of a land use district boundary Class A and B agricultural lands that meet four criteria.

Legal concerns regarding state impairment of contracts are raised by the proposed language affecting existing commercial and agricultural leases.[1]

It is well established that a retroactive law in a constitutional sense is one that takes away or impairs vested rights acquired under existing laws or attaches a new obligation, imposes a new duty, or attaches a new disability with respect to transactions or considerations already concluded. Employees Retirement Sys. v. Chang, 42 Haw. 532, 535 (1958). Generally, retrospective laws are not favored and all laws will be construed as prospective unless retrospective application is clearly intended and expressly declared, or is necessarily implied from the language used. Clark v. Cassidy, 64 Haw. 74 (1981). This principle is particularly applicable where the statute or amendment involves substantive, as opposed to procedural, rights. Clark, 64 Haw. at 77; Dash v. Wayne, 700 F. Supp. 1056 (D. Haw. 1988).

With respect to the constitutional proscription against impairment of contracts, it is a fundamental principle that obligations of a contract cannot be impaired by subsequent passage of any law. Taylor v. Taylor, 537 P.2d 483, 486 (Mont. 1975); Pulos v. James, 302 N.E.2d 768, 775 (Ind. 1973). The obligation of a contract is impaired by a law that alters the contract's terms by creating new rights or imposing new conditions or different liabilities. Northern Pacific Railway v. Duluth, 208 U.S. 583, 590 (1908). "Any law which changes the . . . legal effect of the original parties, giving to one greater or the other a less interest or benefit in the contract, impairs its obligation." Kentucky Utilities Co. v. Carlisle Ice Co., 131 S.W.2d 499, 504 (1939). See also Anthony v. Kualoa

[1] The United States Constitution states, in part, that "[n]o state shall . . . pass any . . . law impairing the Obligation of Contracts . . . ." U.S. Const., Art I, § 10, cl. 1. ("Contracts Clause")

Ranch, Inc., 69 Haw. 112, 119-24 (1987) (law, enacted after lease executed, that required lessors to pay, at the sole option of the lessees, for improvements built upon the leased premises in order to get the leased premises back, substantially impaired the contractual rights of the parties and was unconstitutional).

> The importance of protecting the obligation of contracts from all legislative action tending to its impairment has been emphasized by the Supreme Court of the United States. That high tribunal has stated that the inviolability for contracts and the duty to perform them, as made, are at the foundation of all well-ordered society that, to prevent the removal or disturbance of these foundations was one of the great objects for which the Constitution was framed, and that it is one of the highest duties of that court to take care that the prohibition should neither be evaded nor frittered away.

16A Am. Jur. 2d Constitutional Law § 694 (1979) (emphases added).

However, because states are vested with authority to safeguard the vital interests of their residents, the impairment clause is liberally construed and prohibits only unreasonable impairment. Id.; Energy Reserves v. Kansas Power & Light, 459 U.S. 400, 409 (1983). Reasonableness is determined by whether the law addresses a legitimate end and whether the measures taken to reach that end are reasonable and appropriate. It is important to recognize that the power of a state to modify or affect the obligation of a contract under the state's protective powers is not without limit. "Yet the contract clause limits otherwise legitimate exercises of state legislative authority, and the existence of an important public interest is not always sufficient to overcome that limitation." United States Trust Co. v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1, 21 (1977). See also El Paso v. Simmons, 379 U.S. 497, 506-9 (1965).

As noted above, this bill appears to intrude upon renegotiations of lease rent by interjecting, unless otherwise stated in the lease, its construction of "fair and reasonable annual rent" in commercial or industrial leases to mean that could meet those four factors, thus owning property that falls within the definition "commercial or industrial leasehold property", and be subject to the requirements of this bill.

On the other hand, a lessor in Mapunapuna with fewer than fifty thousand square feet would not meet the fourth factor and not own property that falls within the definition of "commercial or industrial leasehold property", and thus not be subject to the requirements of this bill.

In addition, the third factor, regarding a lease with a term of ten years or more and an unexpired term of five years or more, could apply to various recent leases in the Ewa region or central Oahu, whereas section 1 of the bill appears to focus on urban communities which historically have housed small commercial or industrial businesses. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 2, lines 19-21 ("Thus, maintaining close geographic ties between small businesses and the communities they serve is a public purpose that requires legislative support.")

In summary, it is unclear how focusing the definition of "commercial or industrial leasehold property" on the nature of the lessor is sufficiently tailored to the bill's stated purpose of easing burdensome lease provisions on lessees. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, page 3, lines 3-5.

At this time, it is unclear from the record how pervasive the alleged problem is, or the actual number of commercial and industrial leases affected by this bill, or how the bill's proposals actually benefit urban businesses. The government must use the least intrusive means to achieve its goals. It is not free to impose a drastic impairment when an evident and more moderate course would serve its purposes equally well. United States Trust Co. v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. at 31.

Legislation impairing commercial or industrial leases would be more defensible if based on articulated findings of need, demonstrated evidence that the proposed legislation will achieve the stated purpose, and explanation that no lesser remedy (such as arbitration, mediation, or litigation) is available. The bill's proposed definition of "commercial or industrial leasehold property" seems focused upon lessors and does not appear to be "a reasonable and narrowly-drawn means of promoting "rent shall be fair and reasonable to both the lessor and the lessee to the lease." S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 4, lines 3-5. Unless otherwise stated in the lease, this bill also imposes a new requirement in such lease rent renegotiations that they include consideration of the "past renegotiation practices and policies throughout the previously renegotiated lease rents, the uses and intensity of use of the lease property during the term of the lease approved by the lessor, the surface and subsurface characteristics of the leased property and the surrounding neighborhood on the renegotiated date, and the gross income generated by the lessees on the renegotiated date." S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 4, lines 8-18. In addition, this bill provides four factors in defining "commercial or industrial leasehold property" and also defines "lease".

With respect to leases for agricultural lands, this bill intrudes upon leases of certain private agricultural lands by requiring the renegotiated term of the lease to include an extension of the lease for a period at least seventy-five per cent of the original term of the lease. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 7, lines 9-20. The bill's provisions as to agricultural leases only concern revisions to the term of the lease and our views on these provisions are discussed at the end of this letter.

Despite the customary deference accorded to social and economic legislation, laws altering the rights and obligations of contracting parties must be reasonable and necessary for the public purpose for which they were enacted. Allied Structural Steel Co. Spannaus, 438 U.S. 234, 244 (1977), Applications of Herrick & Irish, 82 Haw. 329, 922 P.2d 942 (1996). While section 1 of this bill describes the need to strengthen and diversify Hawaii's economy, there is no evidence that this bill will achieve the stated purpose to stabilize the economy by addressing some of the alleged vague or onerous provisions of existing commercial and industrial leases. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 2, lines 11-19. For example, the four factors of "commercial or industrial leasehold property" do not necessarily identify how they are linked to a benefit for the business tenants in Oahu's urban center, as opposed to those in the Ewa region or central Oahu, as stated in section 1 of the bill. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 2, lines 1-10. A lessor in Kapolei the significant and legitimate public purpose." Applications of Herrick & Irish, 82 Haw. 329, 340, 922 P.2d 942, 953. Consequently, it appears this bill may violate the Contracts Clause and be found unconstitutional.

With respect to section 5 of part II of this bill, we raise the same concerns regarding state impairment of contracts. To the extent the bill intrudes upon renegotiations of lease rents for certain private agricultural lands, such intrusion is subject to the same analysis used for part I of the bill regarding commercial and industrial leases. Section 4 of the bill justifies the intrusion and Section 5 appears to be a reasonable and narrowly-drawn means of promoting a significant and legitimate public purpose. However, as with part I of the bill, the state impairment of private agricultural leases may be subject to challenge.

Re: S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, Relating to Real Property
Meeting on April 28, 2009 at 10:15 a.m.

Dear Conferees:

We supplement our letter to you dated April 23, 2009, and note our additional concern that the proposals of S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, may impair private contracts and constitute

"takings" which gives rise to a right to receive compensation from the sovereign. A compensable regulatory taking occurs when governmental agencies impose restrictions that either 1) deny landowners of all economically viable use of their property, or 2) unreasonably interfere with landowners' rights to use and enjoy their property. Mayhew v. Town of Sunnyvale, 964 S.W.2d 922, 933-35 (Tex. 1998).

A regulation may go so far in imposing public burdens on private interests as to require compensation. In deciding whether regulatory action goes "too far", three principles known as the Penn Central factors have emerged: 1) the "economic impact of the regulation on the claimant"; 2) "the extent to which the regulation has interfered with distinct investment-backed expectations"; and 3) "the character of the governmental action". Penn Cent. Transp. Co. v. City of New York, 438 U.S. 104, 124 (1978). Penn Central does not supply mathematically precise variables but instead provides important guideposts that lead to the ultimate determination whether just compensation is required. Whether a regulatory taking has occurred, "depends on a complex of factors including" the three set out in Penn Central. Sheffield Dev. Co. v. City of Glenn Heights, 140 S.W. 3d 660 (Tex. 2004). The analysis "necessarily requires a weighing of private and public interests" and a "careful examination and weighing of all the relevant circumstances in this context." In considering a regulatory takings issue, a court will "consider all of the surrounding circumstances" in applying "a fact-sensitive test of reasonableness." Sheffield at 670-72.

A court must satisfy itself that the legislature's "adjustment of 'the rights and responsibilities of contracting parties [is based] upon reasonable conditions and [is] of a character appropriate to the public purpose justifying [the legislation's] adoption.'" Keystone Bituminous Coal Ass'n v. DeBenedictis, 480 U.S. 470, 505 (U.S. 1987). As we have stated previously, the proposals of S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2 do not appear to be a reasonable and narrowly-drawn means of promoting a significant and legitimate public purpose in protecting certain commercial or industrial leasehold property, or certain private agricultural lands. As such, in addition to the bill's proposals possibly violating the Contracts Clause and being found unconstitutional, the proposals may also constitute "takings" that give rise to a right to receive compensation from the sovereign.

PLAINTIFFS' EX PARTE MOTION TO ADVANCE THE HEARING DATE OF PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT [FILED 2/17/10]

Plaintiffs HRPT Properties Trust and its affiliate companies, by and through counsel, move this Court ex parte for an order advancing the hearing date of Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment, filed February 17, 2010. (See Doc. 67.) Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment is currently scheduled to be heard on May 10, 2010, at 10:30 a.m. before the Honorable Susan Oki Mollway. (See Doc. 69.)

In this case, Plaintiffs seek a declaratory judgment that Act 189 of the 2009 session of the Hawai`i Legislature violates the Contracts Clause and six other constitutional provisions, and is therefore unconstitutional. By its terms, Act 189 expires on June 30, 2010. (See Ex. 1.) At the urging of Intervenor-Defendant Citizens for Fair Valuation, the Legislature is currently considering two bills, Senate Bill No. 2020 and House Bill No. 2284, to extend the Act. (See Exs. 2-3.) The 2010 legislative session, however, is scheduled to end April 29, 2010, more than a week before the current May 10, 2010 hearing date. (See Ex. 4.)

Disputes regarding the constitutionality of Act 189 have affected and will continue to affect legislative consideration of Senate Bill No. 2020 and House Bill No. 2284. For example, the Senate Committee on Commerce and Consumer Protection recently issued a report supporting a five year extension of the Act and listing HRPT's "filing of a lawsuit in federal district court challenging the constitutionality of Act 189" as a reason for the Act's extension. (Ex. 5 at 2.) Advancing the date of the hearing would assist and provide guidance to the Legislature and the parties by allowing the Court to consider the constitutionality of Act 189 before the legislative session ends.

Plaintiffs have been informed by this Court's courtroom manager that hearing slots are potentially available to hold a hearing on a motion for summary judgment on April 5, 2010 and April 12, 2010, should the Court in its discretion elect to advance the hearing date. If the Court were to advance the hearing to the earliest possible date of April 5, 2010, Defendants would have until March 15, 2010, nearly a month from now, to prepare their responses to HRPT's Motion for Summary Judgment.

Plaintiffs therefore respectfully request that this Court advance the hearing to a date before the end of the legislative session.

This motion is made pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 7 and Local Rule 7.2, and is based upon the Declaration of Bruce D. Voss attached hereto.

Dated: Honolulu, Hawai`i, February 19, 2010.

INTERVENOR CITIZENS FOR FAIR VALUATION'S MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF EX PARTE MOTION TO CONTINUE THE HEARING DATE OF PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT [#67] AND FORTHCOMING COUNTERMOTIONS FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT TO BE FILED BY DEFENDANT AND INTERVENOR-DEFENDANT BY ONE WEEK (TO MAY 17, 2010) AND OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFFS' MOTION TO ADVANCE TIME [#70]

This Honorable Court has scheduled the hearing on Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment for Monday, May 10, 2010 at 10:30 a.m. [#69]. On Friday, February 19, 2010, Plaintiffs filed an ex parte Motion to Advance the Hearing Date [#70], arguing that an earlier hearing and ruling by this Court "would assist and provide guidance to the Legislature." Intervenor-Defendant CFV opposes this Motion and requests that the Hearing be set for Monday, May 17, or as soon thereafter as is convenient for the Court, for the reasons that follow.

After this Honorable Court's Order of December 22, 2009, the parties engaged in discussions regarding discovery, but they were not able to reach any agreement. In paragraph 11 of Mr. Voss's Declaration he refers to his "understanding" of those discussions, but he is incorrect in indicating that any consensus or agreement had been reached. Because no agreement was possible, the parties held a Status Conference in front of Magistrate Judge Chang on Monday, January 25, 2010, where he explained the scope of discovery for the parties. Pursuant to that clarification, Plaintiffs noticed and took the deposition of Michael Steiner on Tuesday, February 9, 2010, and Intervenor-Defendant CFV have noticed the deposition (by video conference) of David Lepore to be taken on Thursday, February 25, 2010. On Wednesday, February 17, 2010, Plaintiffs filed their Motion for Summary Judgment, and attached a series of Declarations and documents purporting to provide information relevant to this Court's Order of December 22, 2009. This new information is now being evaluated by the other parties, and further depositions or other discovery may be necessary in light of this new information. The deposition of Mr. Lepore may also produce new information that may require further discovery requirements. The discovery process is thus still evolving, and any advancement in the hearing date will interfere with the efforts of all the parties to complete the discovery required by this Court's Order of December 22, 2009.

The lead attorney for Defendant Governor Linda Lingle, Mr. Girard Lau, has been on travel leave in recent days, and is due to return to the islands on Thursday, February 25. He has not been available, therefore, to evaluate the Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment or the new information accompanying that filing, and will need time after his return to engage in this evaluation and to decide whether the interests of his client require further discovery.

In January 2010, the lead attorney for Intervenor-Defendant CFV, Mr. Jon M. Van Dyke, accepted an invitation from the Maritime Institute of Malaysia to give a presentation in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, on issues related to the delimitation of the continental shelf in the South China Sea at a conference scheduled for May 10-11, 2010. Because of this conflict, Intervenor-Defendant CFV respectfully requests this Court to schedule the Hearing on Monday, May 17, 2010, or as soon thereafter during that week as would be convenient for the Court.

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Very briefly, I just wanted to counter some of the prior arguments that this may be unconstitutional. I think the constitutionality of this and whether it is an impairment on the contracts clause is a valid question and something that is going to be litigated in court. I think we well knew that when we passed the legislation last year. And that's why it went through many, many machinations until it was ultimately passed. Most importantly, I think we made sure that we put in a pertinent and very specific purpose clause so that we could demonstrate the substantial governmental interest because that is one of the primary tests when it comes to the contracts clause.

"As to the argument that we should be careful about interfering with contracts, I would like the Body to note that we do this all the time. I think we just did this for veterans when they leave and they want to keep their gym memberships. That's an interference in contracts, but we did that. So if we're going to do it for something like that, I think it is wholeheartedly prudent for us to do this for these lessees because these are all small businesses. These people are being squeezed out by exorbitant rent increases that have been demanded by the lessor and they never experienced those things before.

"And so I think it is a valid thing for us in this economic time to be saying, do we want all of these lessees to be squeezed out, and to have their rent increased twofold, or threefold because the lessor can? That is a valid question for us as policy makers. I think it's something that the courts will be addressing as it goes through litigation in Federal Court and therefore I support this bill. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the measure. Mr. Speaker, I had the opportunity last year to hear the extensive discussion regarding this. It's unfortunate, even though he was serving our country, that the Representative didn't hear that because it was in a larger context of what otherwise was asked for which is fair and reasonable. And in the context in which is very important to me is that only 10% of the privately held land is actually in circulation among the 1.3 million people here.

"There is a lopsided land ownership not only with the State, but I think there are six owners who own huge, huge amounts. That's why the lease-to-fee for residential lots came about. That's why the sense of being fair and equitable in this lease comes about.

"So in terms of pure market principles, the gentleman is correct. But when it comes to the context of the scarcity of land and the monopoly of land, it seemed in that sense to be fair. It seemed to be reasonable and this is basically something that we would encourage them to work it among themselves. I don't think we're intervening. We're encouraging them to work it out to be fair, to be reasonable so these businesses can carry on and the public can be served by them. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with strong reservations to H.B. 2284 H.D. 1 which extends date of Act 189, SLH 2009, to June 30, 2011.

"I understand that this measure has the intention to help small businesses, but I will probably vote no if this bill is not revised before its next hearing. I have deep concerns with the constitutionality of this measure, as Act 189 fails to meet the legal tests under the contracts clause and can be said to violate Article XI, section 5 of the Hawaii Constitution. I agree with the Land Use Research Foundation of Hawaii, which states that Act 189 "interferes with the terms of existing contracts, and such alteration of commercial and industrial contracts is unconstitutional, special legislation targeted at one landowner." Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, just briefly in opposition. The problem I have with this bill is, if we were doing it as a class for all types of leases, then I wouldn't have so much of a problem. But I do have a problem with the Legislature getting involved with a single lease, for one single entity, for one certain property.

"And what this does is it encourages contractors and lessees and leasors to not negotiate in good faith, if we're willing to get involved in one single contract. In future negotiations they're going to feel that if they have some type of argument then they can put in a bill and they're not going to negotiate in good faith in the future. Thank you."

Representative Saiki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. This legislation is similar to legislation that the Attorney General reviewed in 2002. The 2002 legislation proposed two things. First, it allowed a lease to request a one-time lowering of lease rents at recent rents at fair market value. Second, it required that the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal of Practice, otherwise known USPAP, be used to calculate fair-market value in those lease-rent renegotiations.

"The Attorney General concluded that the legislation was unconstitutional because it impaired the contracts clause. The Attorney General relied on precedent from the Hawaii Supreme Court that basically held that the Legislature's general statement that the legislation would promote equity and fairness for landowners was not sufficient to overcome the constitutional challenge. That is exactly what we have done in our legislation where we have simply stated in conclusionary terms that this legislation is necessary to promote fairness and reasonableness for leases in a single tract of land located in the Mapunapuna area.

"The Legislature has done no due diligence on this issue, and in fact the only due diligence that we have done stems from an LRB report that was completed in the early 2000s, which concluded in part that whether we agree or disagree with this conclusion, the conclusion was that commercial lease rent is reasonable at this time.

"If we are serious about alleviating the lease rent that is being paid by commercial lessees, then this legislation should go farther than just the Mapunapuna tract and it should apply to all commercial leases in the State of Hawaii. Thank you, very much."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. And may I have the words of the Representative from Aiea and Hawaii Kai entered into the record as if they were my own? And I have some brief comments.

"Number one, this is not intended for a special class vis-à-vis Mapunapuna. It's for those who use the terms 'fair and reasonable' in their contract. And just as in the case of Bulgo, where a piece of legislation that was available to Maui County could be unveiled by future parties, so too could this one be if you use the words 'fair and reasonable' in your contract. That's why I don't think the people of Ala Moana will come running to the Legislature next year. So I think that's important to note. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Please note my strong reservations and I request written comments."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise with reservations on HB 2284, HD 1 which extends Act 189, Session Laws of Hawaii 2009, from June 30, 2010, to June 30, 2011. Ostensibly, this bill seeks to extend protections for local businesses over those of mainland landowners that were enacted with Act 189 one year ago. Act 189 redefined the terms "fair and reasonable annual rent" as related to commercial leasehold negotiations and required the consideration of other circumstances relating to these commercial lease renegotiations.

"I am troubled by this bill because it places the Legislature in the position of altering contract language and interfering in business relations between presumably sophisticated business parties, conduct that on its face is prohibited by the U.S. Constitution. But I am also sensitive to the public purpose that this Body is trying to address with the passage and extension of Act 189 – the ability of local businesses to be able to survive during these difficult economic times and not be faced with rents beyond what is fair and reasonable.

"Whether Act 189's intent of ensuring fair and reasonable rents for commercial leases is reasonably related to the specific and legitimate purpose of stabilizing our local economy is a close call for this legislator and, it is for this reason, that I support this bill with reservations."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2284, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO REAL PROPERTY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 10 noes, with Representatives Berg, Carroll, Hanohano, Har, C. Lee, Luke, Morita, Saiki, Shimabukuro and Takai voting no.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 471-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1978, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1978, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations for House Bill 1978, Relating to Towing. House Bill 1978 would mandate that all towing companies in the City and County of Honolulu operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week among other stipulations outlined in the measure.

"I have concerns with statutorily instructing a private company on what hours they have to operate. This bill is intrusive on the private sector. For these reasons, I rise in support with reservations on House Bill 1978."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1978, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOWING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Rhoads voting no.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 475-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2271, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2271, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support of the bill titled, Relating to Explosives, House Bill 2271, SCR 475. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I think everyone in this Body experienced loud noises and a lot of complaints after New Year's Eve. And not just New Year's Eve, but even the weeks before New Year's Eve and the weeks after from exploding fireworks.

"This bill is going to prohibit dry ice bombs which are inherently dangerous. It's a simple home-made device. It comes in a variety of sizes. All that you need is a container, a plastic water bottle, or an empty 5-gallon tank drum. You fill them with water, add dry ice, seal the container, and wait for the gas to expand inside the container. Depending on a variety of factors, the temperature, the container size, the container will explode, many times generating shrapnel. And you have no advance notice when that will occur. You can have small children in the area and you can have serious injuries from the exploding shrapnel. The damage can also be to hearing from what a Marine officer has told me, which is in excess of many military munitions.

"These are going off in our neighborhoods. Those of us on the Windward side certainly heard them. Many are large enough that they can be heard from significant distances and of course they wake people up from their sleep. Dry ice bombs serve no purpose other than to make noise, although they can be very destructive. You put a dry ice bomb inside a metal mailbox and you rip the box apart. And the noise and the destructive power of a dry ice bomb can be increased merely by increasing the size of the container or more thoroughly sealing the container.

"Mr. Speaker, this is very important for the safety of our children, for the safety of people in our neighborhoods that we outlaw these types of explosive devices. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of House Bill 2271, Relating to Explosives. House Bill 2271 would amend Hawai'i's firearms, ammunition, and dangerous weapons law to prohibit dry ice bombs.

"Since Halloween, loud explosions were heard throughout Ewa Beach, and continued after the New Year. It is suspected that many of these explosions were a product of dry ice bombs.

"Although dry ice, the solid form of carbon dioxide, is a versatile cooling agent, some people do not use it consistent with its original purpose. The use of dry ice to create bombs poses a safety risk to those that utilize them, and the people around them. The thunderous boom that the bombs emit, disturbs our communities, and most importantly startles the elderly, children, and our veterans.

"For these reasons, I rise in strong support on House Bill 2271."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to protect public health and safety by making the manufacture, sale, transfer, possession, or transport of any dry ice bomb in the State a misdemeanor offense. This measure will also commission a class C felony for possession of a dry ice bomb.

"I believe that making, assembling, selling, possessing and using "dry ice bombs" is a dangerous practice. The enactment of HB 2271 will make sure that Hawaii's explosives statute prohibits them. Due to the potential danger of "dry ice bombs" I support every effort needed to ensure that no "dry ice bomb" ever is used.

"I encourage the passing of this measure so that no one is ever hurt because of the use of a "dry ice bomb," and no property damage occurs because of the use of a "dry ice bomb." For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2271, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EXPLOSIVES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 481-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2208, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2208, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

At 10:01 o'clock a.m. Representative Finnegan requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 10:04 o'clock a.m.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to speak with reservations and give short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of this bill is to ensure that providers who deliver healthcare to Medicaid beneficiaries are paid in a timely manner. There's two ways to do that: by repealing the exemption for Medicaid and Medigap provider claims; and the second way is requiring the Department of Human Services to pay the health plans according to the Medicaid contract with each plan and to pay interest on the late payments.

"For the first reason for the bill, repealing the exemption, actually the Director of DHS mentioned in her testimony that they already have a contract that says that they have to pay these providers, they have to pay on clean claims. So I think she was mentioning that this was unnecessary.

"The second reason for this bill was to basically require the Department of Human Services to pay health plans interest on late payments. As you know we are probably going to be pushing, I think it's $83 million in the next fiscal year. This is a very tough time for the State and we're basically incurring or charging late fees on ourselves. So I just have strong reservations on that as we are all trying to work with the situation in balancing the budget. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. Thank you. With respect to the previous speaker, I support this measure. The purpose of the Act is to repeal the exemption from the Clean Claims Law for Medicaid provider claims.

"The Clean Claims law is real simple. It's found in the Hawaii Revised Statutes, Section 431. It simply provides that if payments are made, clean claim payments shall be made within 30 days of the clean claims submitted in writing, and 15 days if it's submitted in an electronic form.

"Simply stated, Medicaid clients represent approximately 241,000 Hawaii residents. These residents are some of our most underserved patients, needy families, lower-income individuals, children, aged, blind and disabled. This is the composition the Medicaid patients, Mr. Speaker.

"Furthermore, these unpaid claims will reduce our healthcare providers' working capital. Therefore it will limit their capacity to pay their employees and purchase equipment and supplies for their needy patients. This will ultimately cause problems with access to healthcare. Physicians, nurses, caregivers, nurses in community care homes, and all healthcare providers, which deal with Medicaid patients, cannot, will not, and should not accept substantially late payments. For those reasons, I support this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a brief rebuttal. Mr. Speaker, I am all for good legislation that helps out these providers. What we're seeing here is not necessarily that people are going to get their money and try to intervene in that. What we're saying here and what I'm saying here is, these clean claims are already in contract. If they're paying late, they're acting against that contract that the DHS has made with these health insurance companies.

"So that's already there. We as this Body shouldn't continue to just make laws to make laws. We should be doing things to make things effective. So how does this make it more effective than the contract that can be broken because they're not paying the bills? That's the point of this. I'm saying that it's unnecessary. It's not always that we go forth with laws just to change laws. It should have an effect on something. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Manahan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising also in support of the measure. In the informational briefing held by the Human Services Committee, the Department of Human Services testified that the reason that they're not making these payments is that too many people are starting to enroll in these programs.

"When I asked them about what they've done to make provisions for new enrollments, I don't think that their responses were adequate. I don't think they've gone after federal dollars as much as they should have, or probably could have. There's certainly, at the time I think the Governor was in Washington DC, I don't think there were any meetings pertaining to this issue, which I think is again, a very important issue as the Chair of Human Services pointed out. I think a lot of the most vulnerable people in our society will be affected. So I do support this measure and I'm just standing in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing in support. I would like to respond to some of the comments made earlier regarding our making laws. Making laws just to make laws. I have a quick comment on that which is, that's what we're here for.

"But in regards to the measure before us. Mr. Speaker, the reason for a measure like this, especially at this time in dealing with QUEST is, that the Department of Human Services stated several times, that they're up to three months late in payments. And with some of the contracts described by previous speakers, they stated that DHS has a contract with these providers and these insurance companies to provide these services. However, there are no provisions in there in cases where the Department of Human Services doesn't pay the insurance companies, which in turn are required by the contract to pay the providers.

"So, Mr. Speaker, the reason why we're addressing this and looking at the issue of the Clean Claims Law in Section 431-13.108 in the Hawaii Revised Statutes for our patients, our constituents, the people of this great State, is we want to ensure that they continue to get the coverage that they deserve. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The Chair then addressed Representative Finnegan, stating:

"Representative Finnegan, this is your third time to speak. Please sit down."

Representative Finnegan responded, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, this is my third time. You're not going to allow me to speak?"

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "No."

At 10:31 o'clock a.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 10:32 o'clock a.m.

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Manahan and Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, just in support with reservations. This bill is definitely complicated. I think the debate showed that. But I think what the real problem is that it's really not the Governor's people that are withholding payments. It's some of the providers that are withholding payments. And so that's really one of the core problems. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2208, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 482-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2289, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2289, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure, but to express a reservation. House Bill 2289 would allow an issuance fee for certain gift certificates. Although the number has been blanked out in the bill, the Committee Report says that it will cost $7.50 or 15%, whichever is less.

"Blanks always scare me because you will always think it could be more, but nevertheless I think at $7.50 and 15%, it might be too high. I hope that the other legislators will look at these numbers as the bill progresses through the Session.

"The bill also allows back-end fees also called dormancy or inactivity fees. This is scary to me because they could be issued at one per month. So let's say you keep your gift certificate in the drawer for a year and you go to spend it. You will find that each month it will be less in value.

"I realize that we are conforming to federal law in some of these cases, but we really don't have to totally conform in this case. The Retail Merchants of Hawaii agree to the issuance fee, that's the front-end fees, whereby people can see what they're paying for and they pay for it upfront. However, they strongly oppose the other fees, the back-end fees. So I really feel that we should listen to them and take a look at this bill as it goes through the Session. Thank you, Sir."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to note my strong reservations on this bill. I don't view this bill as a pro-consumer bill. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also have reservations on this bill. Many are the same as the Representative from Kahala. But also, I think there was some conversation that took place about the difference between a gift certificate and reloadable cards. And if you are trying to apply these fees to the reloadable cards, that this is actually under the gift certificates and it specifies gift certificates. So I'm not sure if we're accomplishing what we intend to accomplish with the bill. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this measure. Thank you. I've always supported having no fees for these gift cards. In fact, if you take a look at the bill on page 3, I realize that there are blanks here, but any attempt to add or offer activation or issuance fees should really be carefully scrutinized.

"I did want to mention the Retail Merchants of Hawaii testimony, they are actually not supporting an activation or issuance fee. So they don't support this part. I had a chance to talk to Carol Pregill regarding this and they're concerned. They believe just as I do, that gift certificates, when purchased by individuals, should not include any additional fees. If I go to Pearlridge and I want to buy a $25 gift certificate, I should not be charged $27.50. $25 plus a 10% activation fee. That's not a gift certificate. We in Hawaii have stated for a very long time that there shall be none of these fees on our gift certificates.

"In addition, the second concern that I have in regards to this draft is that although we extend the gift cards to five years after the date of issuance, which is an extension from the two years, and mandated by the way, by federal law, we don't do the same for paper certificates. I just don't understand why. If a gift card is being extended, and the expiration date is being extended to five years, we should as a fair practice extend the expiration date for all gift certificates, paper or otherwise, to five years. This bill does not do that currently. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. If I could note my reservations for the same reason as stated by the prior speaker."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2289, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GIFT CERTIFICATES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Brower, Hanohano and Takai voting no.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 483-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2312, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2312, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NATUROPATHIC MEDICINE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Morita voting no.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 484-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2464, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2464, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRACTICE OF PHARMACY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 486-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2434, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2434, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I am voting no on this measure and would like to request permission to insert remarks from the Sierra Club that really state the reasons why we should oppose this bill. Thank you."

Representative Thielen submitted the following remarks:

"[H]B 2434 (HD2)
AUTOMATIC APPROVAL OF ALL PERMITS
This measure is a ham-fisted means to force agencies to enact rules limiting the time to approve or deny any permit. Without the adoption of agency rules, a 30 day "automatic approval" would automatically be imposed. The problems with this bill are staggering. For example, what if agencies aren't able to enact rules in a timely fashion? Some agencies are still struggling to pass rules over six years old. Theoretically, thousands of permits could be deemed automatically approved because of one malfunctioning agency. Do we really want health/welfare/safety requirements ignored?

We suggest a more intelligent route is to ask for audits of specific agencies that are not meeting performance expectations. Once we understand the basis for delays, we may be in a better position to act rather than passing a one-size fits all method that fails to serve the public at large."

Sierra Club, Hawaii Chapter –March 1, 2010

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this bill. Thank you, and just a few comments. The task force was convened to determine the economic contributions of the construction industry, and in so doing, they were given leeway to propose ways in which to preserve and create new jobs in construction. This bill streamlines portions of the review process which I understand are problematic for the construction industry.

"The specific area that I have issue with is with the State Historic Preservation Division, and even though they have extended in this bill the minimum period of 45 days to 60 days, the State Historic Preservation Division is shorthanded. They are currently under federal review for noncompliance with the law. We have a possible audit of them also pending. They're undergoing internal changes according to their Director and I think at this particular time, if we're looking at streamlining permitting, we need to actually look at the State Historic Preservation Division. And rather than be so worried about creating new jobs for construction, look at the processes that need to be clarified. Thank you, very much."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with some reservations on HB 2434 HD2. This is part of the package introduced by the Construction Industry Task Force, bills meant to jump-start the State's stalled construction industry and get thousands of skilled and unskilled laborers off the unemployment rolls. HB 2434 proposes steps to streamline and increase efficiency of the permit review and approval process, but also includes provisions to establish maximum time periods for agencies to grant or deny approvals.

"This measure authorizes counties to contract with a third-party reviewer to lessen the workload faced by county agencies reviewing and processing construction permit, license, and other applications. This legislation has the potential to expedite the start of construction projects that are 'shovel-ready' and will generate jobs and boost local businesses by tapping federal money into our economy.

"However, I am concerned with language in Section 3 which would limit the State Historic Preservation Division ("SHPD") to a maximum 60-day period to review and comment on the effect of the proposed project. As this Body knows, SHPD faces challenges with existing resources and personnel to efficiently and effectively fulfill its important and invaluable work. I would be cautious about a blanket conclusion that finding no effect at the front end should immunize a project completely from other requirements of Chapter 6E. For example, it's absurd to decide, as this Bill appears to do, that the inadvertent discovery of burials process could not be used if in the course of a project, there is an "inadvertent discovery."

"Finally, Section 4 of this bill also establishes maximum time periods for consideration of business or development related permits when the agency has not already adopted review deadlines. I am assuming that the thirty (30) days set out in this section would not apply to the various county ordinances in different Codes that set out forty-five (45) days and the flexibility to do a thorough review of more complex projects. Deadlines are a good tool, but should not be a 'blunt hammer' for allowing bad as well as good designs and plans to move forward simply due to an agency's lack of resources.

"It is for these reasons I support this bill with some reservations and urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this bill."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"I appreciate that this bill is trying to expedite the approval process for proposed construction projects in a creative way. I do, however, want to highlight my concerns about the current draft of this bill.

"The concept of allowing a third party to perform what is traditionally a government function – to certify proposed plans comply with laws, rules, ordinances and codes – is an innovative way to streamline permit and license approval processes. A third party approval system would allow an applicant to bypass a government process by hiring an expert to do the analysis.

"For some projects, the expense for the applicant to hire the third party entity for the job may be worth the expected savings in time. There are risks to the public, however, because private entities simply do not have the same obligations to the public as public servants. It is not clear that these risks are necessary or small.

"Permits and licenses are usually required when there are public concerns that need to be addressed. These requirements have been set up in an attempt to provide fair and impartial procedures to verify minimum standards are met on issues such as safety, health, or the environment. If we moved to a system allowing third party private entities to be a substitute for long-established government functions, there should also be assurances that the original public purposes behind the permit or licensing requirements will still be met.

"This bill also proposes an automatic approval process that is even riskier than a third party approval process and threatens to undermine long-standing public policy. The automatic approval of projects within 30 days of the application would bypass 100% of the permit and license requirements simply because the applicant doesn't want to wait more than a month.

"There may be good reason for an applicant to want to move forward quickly – it may save them time and money or even provide for the construction of a project that will serve the public, such as affordable housing. However, without assurances that the underlying public concerns will be addressed, an automatic approval process would simply put the concerns of any and every single private applicant's wish for expediency above all public concerns.

"All that said, the underlying and immediate concern this bill attempts to address is a serious one – there are many workers in need of a job, and the construction industry needs solutions that will boost demand and increase economic activity.

"So, I look forward to talking more about how the Legislature can address these economic issues and I am cautiously optimistic that we will find solutions that do not undermine public policies that have been developed over many years to protect all Hawaii residents and future generations."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with strong reservations to H.B. 2434 H.D. 1 which authorizes counties to contract with a third-party reviewer to streamline construction permit, license, and other application processing.

"We cannot overlook the construction industry task force and their findings that, as stated by Castle and Cooke, H.B 2434 HD1, "will help generate an immediate impact on our state's delicate economy by creating jobs and providing homes for Hawaii's families. [this measure] will bring action and positive change to spur the economy."

"As the founder of the Heritage Caucus, and for the sake of historic properties, however, I value the opinion of the Historic Hawaii Foundation that the State Historic Preservation Division needs to have an opportunity to review projects and look for additional ways to address these administrative conflicts without sacrificing the historic resources of the State. I also respect the Sierra Club and their objection that, "no community should suffer because government failed to perform" and believe they do raise valid points that need to be taken into consideration regarding safety, mass development, and environmental results. We must address their concerns. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I rise in opposition to this bill. I don't have a problem with a third party review section, but I just want to note that an automatic approval process is really problematic, especially when the State and the counties are looking at the furloughing of employees. My concern is how that factors into the review process being done in a timely manner. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2434, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PERMIT, LICENSE, AND APPROVAL APPLICATION PROCESSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Carroll, C. Lee, Luke, Morita, Saiki, Takumi and Thielen voting no.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 549-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2796, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2796, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DOMESTIC ABUSE ORDERS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 550-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2904, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2904, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Morita rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this bill. This bill eviscerates the county and community planning process statewide. Its origin however, is not a statewide issue, but targeted to overturn the Maui County Charter and Maui County Code, specifically 280A.020 dealing with community plans which provides that the community plan shall set forth in detail, land uses within the nine regions of the county designated in this subsection.

"It also overturns a long standing Hawaii Supreme Court decision which upheld that the Maui Community plans are part of the General Plan of Maui County and therefore has the force and effect of law. A proposed development which is inconsistent with a community plan may not be approved without a plan amendment.

"So what we're really doing is turning both the county and the community planning process upside down through the passage of this bill. We should be looking at this carefully because we're also affecting the discretionary nature of permitting by either the planning departments or the councils.

"Planning is really a home rule issue, and again this bill eviscerates that process. Thank you."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my strong reservations. I understand the purpose of this bill. I don't think the language accomplishes what is intended. I'd like to extend my remarks into the Journal."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support H.B. 2904, H.D. 1 with strong reservations. The present draft is incomprehensible in what it attempts to do with references to a non-existent State General Plan to override the historic and traditional role that counties have in planning comprehensively and determining appropriate uses for parcels in the urban, agricultural and rural land designations on their respective islands. While I generally agree that some clarity is needed regarding the meaning of and application of "consistency" between the "uses" allowed in the various land districts indicated in the State land use maps, a county general plan, a county community or development plan, and the county zoning, this current draft fails to do so.

"The State law controls planning and zoning on State Conservation Land Use District lands while the counties have the authority to plan and zone lands in the urban, rural and agricultural Land Use Districts. The present draft potentially inhibits each county's home rule ability to implement the general and community plans approved by the elected county officials and people of those communities. Each county has an elected local council who make long-range planning and development decisions in the best interests of their communities.

"The new Maui County General Plan, through the efforts of government and volunteer workers is nearing completion. If the legal effect of the new Plan is negated by this legislation, the years of work put towards the new General Plan would be considered wasted by those involved in pushing it forward.

"This bill was meant to say that common sense also applies when we are considering land use. It was meant simply to clarify that where the counties by zoning ordinance have identified particular uses in different zoning categories, consistency with the county's General Plan, Community Plan and zoning means the particular uses have been recognized as allowable in the General Plan, Community Plan and applicable zoning district -- not the bureaucratic category or description of a district.

"For example, the County of Maui allows schools in various zoning districts (including residential districts, Zero Lot Line districts, rural districts, and the specific Public/Quasi-Public district). A project for a public school would have consistency if a school is a use allowed in its zoning district whether the district is some kind of residential or public/quasi-public and a school is also a recognized use in the Community Plan designation and General Plan description. If a school is not an allowed use in the Community Plan or General Plan designation, then I would agree that a change would have to be pursued before the school is developed.

"I understand that this bill is a work in progress – a lot more work than progress I would add – and on that basis will vote to allow the process to continue."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. In Hawaii County we might have six or seven community plans. They used to be advisory, but now they're being adopted as ordnance into law, and they could be contradictory. One plan could contradict the other plan, so there has to be an overriding force. That's why I support it."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Just in support. In my district, it may allow some ag land to stay ag."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, I have strong reservations and would like the words of Representative from Kauai to be introduced as my own," and the Chair, "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. And I would just like to refer you to the Ewa Development Plan where if the County Plan would be the controlling authority, we would not have a say in the mounting development that goes on in our area without addressing the proper infrastructure that goes with those plans."

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition as well. I would appreciate the words of the Representative from Hanalei to be entered as my own. Thank you.

"In addition, because this bill was supposed to clarify that the State General Plan remains the ultimate controlling entity. With the Office of Planning in disarray as it is as well, I would urge our colleagues to take a look at the voting record and see how close the votes were. Perhaps this warrants us to be more deliberate in looking at jumping forward and trying to determine, or direct what the counties are supposed to do. Thank you, very much."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, thank you very much. Mr. Speaker and Members. I speak in favor of HB No. 2904. A community plan should not be cast in cement where it cannot be changed. The county planner who administers the plan is subject to the laws of the respective counties which are done by the county council. The county council should be the body that makes the laws consistent as much as possible with the plan.

"But it is not the plan and the planner that will govern the land use laws in the respective counties. The entity who will govern and make the laws is the respective council. If the planner wants to make the law, they should run for office so they will have the power to make ordinances for the respective county.

"Again, a plan is what it is. It should not be cast in cement so that it cannot be changed by the respective political bodies which are the elected bodies. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Mr. Speaker, I just want to clarify the mission of the Hawaii State General Plan. We're referencing actually Chapter 226, the Hawaii State Planning Act, and under that is Part 2, which is the planning coordination and implementation. It sets the policies and guidelines for planning, and also lays the groundwork for the counties to do their planning. It's also in HRS 46-4, where we're also laying the guidelines for the zoning, and in Chapter 205 we lay the guidelines for the classifications.

"So in all these laws, what we're trying to do is if it's a permitted use, it's a permitted use. If there's a lack of consistency based on technicality, what we're saying is to please allow the permitted use to proceed. What's happening is it is not proceeding, and what we're trying to do is make it clear that so long as it abides by the criteria of all the laws, it is a legal proceeding for that development.

"We're not trying to change anything other than what the law currently states here in all the different chapters, in the guidelines and criteria for land use planning. So that's what we're trying to do here. I would also like to enter written comments in support."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. House Bill 2904, House Draft 1 provides that the State General Plan shall remain the ultimate controlling authority of land use in the State of Hawaii. Within all State land use districts other than conservation, the counties have the authority to plan and zone pursuant to sections 46-4 relating to County Zoning and 226-58 relating to County General Plans of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. Even if they are discouraged, land uses that are permitted under: (1) the State General Plan; (2) a county's general plan or development plan; and (3) the county's current zoning, for a tract of land, shall not be denied for lack of consistency or conformity.

"I would like to clarify that the State General Plan should actually be the Hawaii State Planning Act as defined in Chapter 226 in the Hawaii Revised Statutes.

"We are emphasizing that a permissible use under the Hawaii Revised Statutes Chapter 205, relating to the Land Use Commission that defines the land use classifications; Hawaii Revised Statutes Chapter 226, relating to the State Planning Act; Hawaii Revised Statutes section 226-58 relating to County General Plans; and Hawaii Revised Statutes section 46-4 relating to County Zoning should be upheld when there are technical differences such as lack of consistency or conformity.

"As reflected in the testimonies on this measure, there is confusion among communities and planning directors of certain counties. This confusion stems from a misunderstanding of the hierarchy of the land use regulations that are mandated by State law. In particular, it is believed in some counties that zoning is not effective where it is contradicted by a county general plan. According to state law, this belief is incorrect. County general plans set goals and limitations to be followed when exercising zoning powers, but it is the zoning ordinances that dictate which uses of land are permissible.

"The Hawaii State Planning Act, as codified in Chapter 226 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, requires counties to formulate county general plans that are to "indicate desired physical development patterns for each county and regions within each county." Further, such plans "should … contain objectives to be achieved and policies to be pursued with respect to … land use." These broad policies are just that – policies.

"In Chapter 46 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, the state delegates to the counties the power to zone some of the lands on the islands. Section 46-4, particularly, requires that ordinances be passed which set out various land use regulations such as restrictions on the location of residential, industrial, and commercial buildings. These ordinances must "be accomplished within the framework of a long range, comprehensive general plan…" The statute further clarifies that "zoning shall be one of the tools available to the county to put the general plan into effect in an orderly manner." As it relates to land use, the county general plan is ineffective until the tool of zoning is utilized.

"House Bill 2904, House Draft 1, merely restates the law in a single stroke – obviating the need for an interested party to thumb through the various chapters of the Hawaii Revised Statutes and piece together the various pieces of the land use puzzle. In effect, it makes clear that zoning ordinances may never be passed that exceed the policies stated in a county general plan. However, where a county general plan changes and old zoning ordinances remain in place, the county general plan's policies are not effective with respect to land use until a new zoning ordinance reflecting such policies is passed, except as otherwise provided by state law. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I have serious reservations, and may I have the words of the speaker from Kahului entered in the record as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to the measure. I believe this bill will actually usurp the counties' home rule authority with respect to long range planning. I do believe the best land use decision can be made at the county level, much closer to the grassroots level. I think we ought to reconsider as this bill goes forward to the Senate, and see whether we really want to do this. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose and asked that the Clerk record an no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morita rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition again. I just wanted to point out that every county has different ordinances and their charters are different. They hold or they elevate the community plans in different ways. Maui is pretty unique because it's specific in setting forth that the community plans are detailed. It also goes on to the ordinances really specific and it says, notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection (d)12 of this section, a community plan may contain one or more project districts wherein permitted land uses are identified; provided however, the council shall subsequently zone each project district consistent with identified land uses after holding a public hearing in the applicable region.

"So the zoning process may lag, but in Maui's case the community plans are again detailed and specific in its zoning. So to me, this is a Maui issue that elevates the community planning to a different level from other counties. Again it's a Maui County issue, and I don't believe that we as a State body should be intervening in it. Thank you."

Representative Yamashita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, the intent of this legislation is to address conformity requirements that are inconsistent with State land use, general plan, community plans, zoning, and permitted uses. Mr. Speaker, if the inconsistency is technical by nature, my concern is that during this current economic time, it would be a shame for a project not to move forward with so many of our friends in the construction industry out of work because of a technicality.

"Now I support home rule and I support planning and the community plan. However, this is a problem and I think it at least deserves further discussion. I hope that the Members will support this going forward to the next Body and the conversation will continue. The current bill is defective so hopefully we'll get a chance to address it in this Body in Conference. Thank you."

Representative Herkes rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support. The current bill has its problems at the moment, as community plans become enacted in ordinance, but we have to look at Hawaii County as a whole. Now the county general plan has to determine where growth is going to be; where we should have preservation, where we should preserve our culture, and that has to be done island-wide. The community plans are going to run afoul of that. And so we need the county general plan to be the overlying plan."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I have strong reservations and would like to submit written comments."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations to H.B. 2904 - which prohibits using county general and development plans from serving as, or replacing, the county regulatory powers.

"This bill deserves our admiration for its intention to follow recommendations made by the Legislature's SCR 132 Task force, and I do respect its efforts to increase the transparency and efficiency of our State's permitting process. Indeed, as the Land Use Research Foundation testifies, we must not waste the thousands of dollars and many years which we would otherwise consume in efforts to alter minute literary discrepancies among various county general and development plans. The county regulatory powers offer zoning ordinances and subdivision rules and regulations which will, if used properly, streamline the land use approval process for greater transparency, facilitating communication and understanding among developers, contractors, lawmakers, and potential residents.

"I believe, however, that we must remain vigilant, and even creative. Numerous testimonies evoke well-founded doubts as to the eventual implications of H.B. 2904 on local counties. Maui County Council's Planning Committee Chair, Sol Kaho'ohalahala, warns that it would dramatically usurp county home rule authority over long range planning. Maui Director of Planning Jeffrey Hunt further states that it could eliminate developmental project reviews for plan compliance, valuable tools the community has already selected for growth management. Lanai resident Sally Kaye perhaps voices public perspective most poignantly, calling the local community planning process "the single most vital avenue our communities have to devise their own future," and elaborates that this method "should not be subjected to the influence of special interests outside of the established review process." We must remain particularly cautious that we do not eviscerate the local community planning process, as Ms. Kaye fears H.B. 2904 potentially could.

"In our strides to simplify regulations, we must not lose sight of the challenges our weak economy presents, and continue to bend our peeled ears toward all bills which might encourage its recovery. Although the county regulatory powers may serve as our guiding syllabus, and prevail over other documents in the event of minor discrepancies, we must not set it in concrete, and refuse to consider future amendments when they offer solutions more viable than the status quo. While this bill promises significant advantages in terms of clarity and efficiency, let it not blind us against the innovative strategies which our thirsty economy now craves. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with just a quick note. Having served on the County Council for 10 years, I do know that the General Plan often times is delayed, whether it's due to budgetary constraint or whatever the reasons are, sometimes the general plan is updated. And I think this bill before us just gives the ability for the county councils to act without waiting for additional action from the next General Plan. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2904, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COUNTY GENERAL PLANS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 36 ayes to 15 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Carroll, Choy, Coffman, Hanohano, C. Lee, Luke, Morita, Nakashima, Saiki, Shimabukuro, Takumi, Thielen and Wakai voting no.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 551-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2461, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2461, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I give some comments on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 551? Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of this bill is to provide continuity in healthcare by requiring health insurers and related entities who issue prescription drug coverage to offer insureds at least the same prescription drug coverage that they had under previous healthcare plans.

"Mr. Speaker, I do have reservations on this. I don't actually know if this is retroactive back to last November and December depending upon which plan you're on, but the people who had testified against this measure are the Department of Human Services, HMSA, Hawaii Association of Health Plans, Kaiser and Ohana Health Plan who all oppose this bill. I understand that it's supposed to help the consumer if they were on a medication before and they want to be able to have that medication again.

"The healthcare system is going through changes because we have to try and control costs. We as a State also have to try and control costs. We're dealing with a budget that is unbalanced, and we have to because the revenues aren't coming in. So the bigger picture is how do we help us get through this unbalanced budget?

"The issue here is that whenever you have these options, people don't want to make changes even if it's better for them, or it's cheaper for the health plan. And so as we move forward, even though I'm voting with reservations on this, I think that sometimes you have to, in order to control costs, try and push people towards that change. And then have a mechanism that if they truly need the type of drug that they were on before, then it goes through some kind of process that allows that to happen.

"But to just have it offered because you were on it before increases our cost in healthcare, whether you're a part of the EUTF or whether you're a part of Medicaid. This is something that I think we have to really 'hunker down' and say that our healthcare costs are expensive, we do have a pretty good system, but at the same time, you don't want these insurance costs to go up especially if we can still serve the need in these prescription drug plans. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2461, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representatives Herkes and Karamatsu, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce and the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 552-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2087, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2087, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I actually am rising in support of this measure. Thank you. This is Stand. Com. Rep. No. 552. The only thing is I'm a little perplexed at this because we had an earlier bill on the same issue of the Clean Claims Law that stated that these insurers are not to make late payments. And now this bill says that when you make late payments, we won't charge you interest. So I think it's going in different directions.

"I also want you to understand that the major problem, the root problem to all of this is, as the Health Chair had spoke on the other bill, as well as the Human Services Chair spoke on the other bill. The root problem is not necessarily the health plans in which both bills are directed to the health plans. The root problem is that we as a State can't afford to make the payment to these health plans and we would be delaying the payment $83 million into the next fiscal year. That's the problem. These two bills don't address that.

"So if you really, really want to talk about getting services to those who are needy and vulnerable, we're not doing that in these bills. It's saying that we're mandating health insurers to make the payments on time, and if they don't make the payment on time, they're not charged interest.

"Now I will do this because I think it's fair that we allow this bill to pass, but one of the concerns that I do have is the discussion that is taking place currently is can these health insurance insurers and these programs use some of the reserves that are readily available at this point and time to help State government because we can't make the payment. This may serve as a disincentive for them to not help us and that's my concern, but not enough to say that this is a fair bill that needs to be extended in no late payments to the health insurers. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support, Stand. Com. Report 552. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I actually agreed with the Minority Leader. This is a good bill. The reason we need it is to support those healthcare providers that do not get paid for three or four months. Imagine a boss telling you Mr. Speaker, 'You're not going to get paid for four months. I'm sure you've got reserves. It'll be okay. Four months and you're not going to get paid, but you'll be okay.' That's what the State's doing in this case.

"The providers we're talking about are HMSA, Kaiser, AlohaCare, Ohana Health and Evercare. They can accept a two month delay. That's what we ascertained through our informational briefings, Mr. Speaker. But a three or four month delay, we don't think it's right. Therefore we don't think they should pay interest payments if they're not going to be paid three or four months. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2087, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 11:00 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2464, HD 2
H.B. No. 2434, HD 2
H.B. No. 2796, HD 1
H.B. No. 2904, HD 1
H.B. No. 2461, HD 2
H.B. No. 2087, HD 1

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 553-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1987, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1987, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. I'd like to express strong reservations on this fireworks bill. While this bill establishes the cause of action to abate the legal purchasing, selling, possession, setting off, igniting, or discharging of fireworks, it does not solve the problem. It actually will create a situation, and this was pointed out by the Kailua Representative earlier, where neighbors will be forced to hire a lawyer to sue their neighbors. Sometimes all you want them to do is stop their activity, but this is not in keeping with our culture and our aloha spirit. Residents should not be placed in this position to simply address the significant health and safety concerns the use of fireworks has presented.

"My office, and I'm sure all of our offices have received numerous pleas from constituents and others from all islands advocating a total ban on consumer fireworks. I believe this is the only way to stop the madness this cultural tradition has become, and to protect the health and safety of our citizens.

"Several people have been using the phrase, 'warzone' referring to last New Year's Eve. Mr. Speaker, I felt like yelling, 'incoming' every time I heard a concussion bomb or aerial device nearby.

"Mr. Speaker, even if we pass this bill to establish a cause of action or increase penalties, we will not see a significant reduction in the abusive use of fireworks. The police are not able to cite violators without witnessing the violation so it is well near impossible to cite anyone. And we lack the money and inspectors we need to search containers to keep illegal fireworks out of our State. The only option then is a total ban on the use of consumer fireworks.

"The rationale is clear: the health and safety of all our people, our seniors, our children, especially our babies, our asthma and emphysema sufferers. And how much can we ignore the testimony of our firefighters who have strongly advocated at every hearing for an end to this madness. This bill is not going out with a bang, but a whimper. Thank you for allowing me to rise in support, but expressing my frustration and my reservations. Thank you, very much."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, with serious reservations. And may I have the remarks of the Representative from Kaimuki-Kahala put in the Journal as my own? Mr. Speaker, I just want to note again that this bill would require neighbors to sue each other and that's just not the way to go. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with strong reservations, but coming from a different angle. This is my 6th year in this Chamber and we've talked about how to control fireworks year after year. But this last New Year's proved that all the measures that we have passed in these Chambers are really not addressing what the real issue is.

"The real issue, Mr. Speaker, the way I see it, is enforcement, which we don't have enough money for. I think that we should throw this to our communities. We have armed them with all the rules and laws there are to have. We started by asking them to pay a fee, which is called a Fireworks Permit. We have limited the time that they can ignite the fireworks, and we have even increased the penalties. As you can see, nothing seemed to work.

"So I think my humble idea is that we have to go back and retain our laws, but increase enforcement and tell these neighborhoods that if they want to control the noises that they're complaining about, they just have to take matters in their own hands. They don't have to sue their neighbors, but at least they can call the police and make a stand to say, 'My neighbor across the street has been firing fireworks.' Until the communities are ready to do that, there's nothing that we can do in this Chamber. We have empowered them, Mr. Speaker. Now they just have to act on it. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. It just seems to me that the whole point is to try and stop the illegals. If that's the case, we should be taxing fireworks and using them to fund inspection positions. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. The basic principle behind this bill is similar to the current law on the books regarding nuisance abatement in drug cases where you have a neighbor selling drugs. Or you have a neighbor manufacturing drugs or neighbor selling drugs to children. It's the same principle here.

"My belief is that illegal aerial fireworks are like bombs in someone's home or garage, and they're equally dangerous to neighbors and to those who live around these people. These people are in possession of these illegal substances. So that's the idea behind it. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. I concur with the comments made by the Representatives from Kaimuki-Waialae, and also Kailua in that the reality is, the common sense thing is that you certainly don't want to cause friction between your neighbors. We're on a small island. We have small neighborhoods. We don't want to cause irrevocable friction, but something needs to be done. I just don't think that it has to be something that is going to be where we cause that sort of friction. I prefer that we have some kind of anonymous hotline or something like that where people can let them know who's doing it, but it should not be where it causes friction in our neighborhood.

"Also, I just wanted to make a comment. When we say that it's cultural, I would say that a number of the fireworks that are going off that are not on New Year's Eve and not on Chinese New Year's Eve, it is not cultural. I doubt those are cultural, and they're the ones that are doing the illegal. I don't think they're doing cultural."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. I'm in support of this bill. It's a tough bill and it's going to be a valuable addition to the total ban when we finally pass it. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. You know, unfortunately I think this discussion has spun a little bit out of control. If people would actually read the bill, this bill is actually talking about the nuisance abatement unit that currently exists under the Department of the Attorney General under HRS Section 712-1270, which actually was empowered by citizens, as well as our law enforcement. This is a unique tool where communities can take action and actually take charge of their own community.

"They don't have to actually go and sue their neighbor. That's not what the bill talks about. That's not what nuisance abatement is about. That is an option, but if people would actually read the statute and read the law, they understand that's not the only way it can be done. It can be done through the Attorney General. It can be done through the Prosecutor.

"This is basically saying that we are going to take these people that are doing illegal aerials, people that are selling fireworks without a license to other people. They will be akin to drug houses, to prostitution houses, and to gambling homes, and I think that is a valid discussion for us to have.

"I think on another day we will probably have a bigger discussion and more substantive discussion about fireworks. But I think that is inappropriate at this time because I think people are not reading this bill. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I do have reservations on this bill, and I did read it. I have reservations on Part 3. I'm not going to the specific nuisance abatement law, but Part 3 causes me some concern. It provides for the forfeiture of property used in violation of the fireworks law. I know that with drug houses, some of the issues that may come across to people who are the actual owners of the property, in case someone rents or that sort of thing.

"So I think when it comes to taking away something that may be the life earnings of a family or that kind of thing, that we need to seriously take a look at it. So I'm just going to be voting with reservations on that particular measure. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with slight reservations. The reservation I have is with the Nuisance Abatement Section. When the Legislature first created the Nuisance Abatement Program under the Attorney General's Office it was kind of visionary for the Legislature to do so in response to the ice problem. We specifically created the Nuisance Abatement Section under the Attorney General's Office for the Attorney General's Office to have the tool to go after ice houses.

"Since that time, the vision that the Legislature had for the Nuisance Abatement Section has not reached its potential due to staffing and due to a lot of problems around the State. I think we need to continue our efforts to fight ice in the State. Trying to put additional burdens on the Nuisance Abatement Section, I just don't think they can currently handle additional work to close down basically houses that do illegal fireworks or other type of fireworks, because currently they can't even handle the drug house closures. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I read the bill I have reservations as well. I would like to have the comments of the Representative from Kahala and Kaimuki entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you, very much. I can understand the Finance Chair's logic, that we do have something like this, and the Majority Leader's comment about nuisance abatement.

"The fundamental difference is that selling ice to kids, or a prostitution house, or running a gambling operation out of your home, these are all activities that are absolutely banned by law. Fireworks however are not banned. There's obviously a large amount of fireworks that we do allow people to use. We're talking about illegal fireworks, but the fact of the matter is, until we ban fireworks, until that point and then people still continue to flaunt the law, then I would think that we need some kind of nuisance abatement in that regard. But until then, as we all know, it's not banned.

"So I think this is sort of taking a sledgehammer to a relatively small problem in that respect. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. I would like to ask that the words of the speaker from Kahala be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you. I do know her concerns were with reservations, but actually I take a look at this bill and I believe it could be put in place in addition to, and with a total ban.

"And I've talked to a number of people in regards to fireworks, and what's not apparent to many is that actually during fireworks season, namely around New Years and the Fourth of July, I believe that it is more lucrative in some instances to be selling fireworks as opposed to drugs. So I take a look at fireworks just like dealing drugs, because it is illegal to deal drugs. It is illegal to sell aerial fireworks without the necessary permits, and it's very dangerous. In fact many of the so-called aerial bombs, and dry ice bombs, and concussion bombs, and the likes that went off and continue to go off in some cases, are actually as bad or worse than some of the bombs going off right now in Iraq and Afghanistan. They are IEDs. That's how the terrorists put together bombs that are blowing up people. Some of our service members.

"So I can't understand why we approach our fireworks that are just made like IEDs very differently from the IEDs in that country. I think people should take a look at this in light of the fact that we have the APEC Conference coming next year. If we cannot get a handle on these illegal bombs right now, and we cannot put more teeth in our laws, then I think we're in for a very rough time come next year around November. So Mr. Speaker, I support this measure and I do also support a total ban on fireworks. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. I just want to clarify that there is a ban except for a few windows which are under 132D-3: 9 p.m. on New Year's Eve to 1 a.m. on New Year's Day; 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Chinese New Year's Day; 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. on the Fourth of July; or 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. as allowed by permit for those special events. So other than that, you can't do this. It's for those small little windows. Until then, it's a ban."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm still with serious reservations. Last night, fireworks were going off in Kailua."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1987, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FIREWORKS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 554-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2661, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2661, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I'm part of the Advisory Board for the Organ Donor Center of Hawaii," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan continued in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just have a reservation on this particular bill and would like to speak just a little bit on it. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to improve the availability of organ donations by establishing that only an expressed refusal by a person or persons authorized to amend or revoke a decision to make an anatomical gift will amend or revoke that decision.

"Mr. Speaker, this sounds like a really good bill, and for the most part I think it would help those who will be saved by organ donation. But it's a very sensitive issue that may have some negative consequences if we do push a bill like this forward. And the reason being is because when you're in the hospital and someone that's really close to you just passed away and they didn't tell you that they had put their wishes on their driver's license that says, yes they want to be an organ donor. And then the Organ Donor Center comes in and starts to talk to them about donating the organs of their loved one. What happens is, if the family cannot accept that at that point in time, the Organ Donor Center and that system kind of backs off a little bit. So this bill is trying to make it stronger than this process cannot be allowed.

"The problem is if the loved ones aren't educated about the person who is dying being an organ donor, it can cause problems with actually getting people eventually to be organ donors on their driver's license. It makes it harder to get people to say, 'yes I'm going to do this' because they're going to hear these horror stories about how the family was at the death bed of their loved one and they were trying to take their organs away.

"And so the issue here is as we move forward, I understand what this tries to accomplish, but the Organ Donor Center of Hawaii is already having a hard time getting people to acknowledge on their driver's license that they want to be organ donors. The real issue is probably education that could push this further. Education that a person who is an organ donor share that with their family and make their wishes known and have them respect their wishes so if something happens, that the family members aren't shocked by it and won't give a bad reputation to the organ donor societies across America. Thank you."

Representative Sagum rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2661, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ANATOMICAL GIFTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 555-10) recommending that S.B. No. 466, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 466, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO POLLUTION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Manahan voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 556-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2293, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2293, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tsuji rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of this measure. This bill will create a temporary source of funds for Department of Agriculture personnel and operating costs from a portion of agricultural loan repayments. Deep cuts were made to that Department so when the mandated RIFs began, key services like cargo inspections and commodities certifications were greatly reduced, adversely impacting the public and local producers.

"Because the Department relies heavily on State general funds to fund such positions, any economic demise will in turn affect the Department's personnel funding source. Moving costs like salaries, fringe benefits and operating costs away from the general fund safeguards funding for our ag inspectors and other Department workers so that the public's interests are protected while ensuring business continues in a timely fashion."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 556, I stand in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Basically the purpose of this bill is to establish a temporary source of funds for Department of Agriculture personnel and operating cost by, and it basically says that it's going to use these funds for staffing DOA. It creates a special fund. Then it says that's it going to require interest and fees collected by DOA's Agriculture Loan Program to be deposited into the special fund. Then it takes a million dollars of this Agriculture Loan Program account and puts it into this special fund.

"Mr. Speaker, I understand fully what the Chair of Agriculture is trying to do. And I understand his passion for wanting to make this happen so that we can have agricultural inspectors and other staffing for the Department of Agriculture. I think it's very important and he mentioned why.

"What I would like to talk about is when we create these special funds and when we use these funds, sometimes we go a little bit off base to save a program or inspectors. What I mean by this is, if I understand the Agriculture Loan Program correctly, the program gives loans to people who are growing or in the agriculture industry here in Hawaii. Well, these fees are on these local farmers and we're using it to basically pay for, if it does end up being used for ag inspectors or whatever they are, from things coming in from the mainland and then dispersing to the different islands.

"It makes it really difficult for me to show this and to understand it, and the reason why we would want to do that for people who are borrowing money. Being charged a fee to borrow money to help with our ag industry locally here in Hawaii. So I would prefer that we take the Supplemental Budget from the Governor's Office and what they passed out, and in our budget to put some of the positions back instead of doing something like this which I think is more harmful. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just some brief comments. You know, I shared many of the concerns that the previous speaker had. And during the Committee hearing we were lucky to have a farmer who would be affected by this show up to testify. During the hearing, I asked him, 'If you don't have the inspectors to come in and to inspect, which is required by law for certification, what do you have to do?' And he responded that they would have to hire somebody, off time, fly them over to the island, pay for their airfare, their lodging, everything else, as well as remunerate them for their expenses. They told the Committee that doing that would be a much more fiscal hardship on their business than to have inspectors who could come out and inspect the crops for certification, which is required for them to export.

"So this is actually preferred by the businesses, as opposed to the cost and delay of bringing somebody over on their own dime from another island to do the inspection. Again, I am in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2293, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto and Pine voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 558-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2948, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2948, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tsuji rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. This bill continues the Legislature's ongoing effort to protect Hawaii from invasive species.

"We are well aware that invasive species threaten Hawaii's economy, agriculture industry, its people, and environment. Prevention is a primary part of the mission of the Department of Agriculture and its Biosecurity Program. A key component is the timely and proper notification of the movement of goods and the expansion to include non-agricultural commodities, like rock. This is imperative so a sound decision can be made to determine when closer inspections are prudent.

"An estimated 500,000 containers move into Hawaii each year and another 500,000 moves from one island to another. Unfortunately, budget cutbacks caused crippling reductions in the Department's capability to review permit applications and to inspect cargo entering and moving between the islands.

- 28 of 50 general funded inspectors have been laid off statewide.
- Honolulu International Airport has only 6 inspectors when there used to be 19.
- Insect interceptions by Honolulu inspectors dropped from about 150 per month to about 10 per month.

"Knowing in advance what is arriving at our ports of entry is critical for the Department to efficiently deploy its acutely limited resources, protect the State from pest and disease introductions, and expedite the movement of cargo for the public's benefit.

"There must be adequate safeguards to prevent the introduction of invasive species into the State, as well as between the neighboring islands. This bill will be an important and fundamental step towards that goal and towards ensuring the success of the Hawaii Biosecurity Program."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Yes, on HB No. 2948, I will vote for this with reservations. I do appreciate the intent and desire to mitigate the infestation and infection of invasive species. However I'm concerned about the adverse impact that written notification of freight in advance of flights and cargo shipments would have with very short windows of opportunity that exist for interisland flights and hundreds of departures daily and the many dozens of containers arriving at our docks on a daily basis. This would result in many hundreds of bills of lading having to be submitted by shippers and approved by the Department of Agriculture.

"Those things, plus the impracticality of having to report to the DOA, and the Department having to respond, and the lack of harbor space to perform various functions make this a logistical nightmare for all parties involved. This will result in staggering delays of goods, including perishable foods to the Neighbor Islands. So I support the efforts to prevent the onset of invasive species to our islands, but I don't think we should be 'pennywise and pound foolish.' Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 558, I do have some reservations which are very much in accordance with the speaker from Kahala. I'd just like to add that there is another bill that is very similar to this, HB 1684, HD 2 that is currently sitting in the Senate. I believe that we should have opted to put that bill in so that we could try to alleviate some of the concerns with Hawaiian Air and Young Brothers as the concern is some of these perishable items that they ship to the Neighbor Islands might be delayed. So I think that bill probably has language that would make it better for them. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to give some additional information and partial rebuttal please. Thank you. You know, Mr. Speaker, it's estimated that about a half million containers move through Hawaii each year, and interisland another half million goes from one island to another.

"Unfortunately, as we're beginning to understand the ramifications of the budget cutbacks, it's really caused a crippling reduction in the Department's capability to review permit applications, inspect cargo and really oversee the movement of cargo, especially the interisland movement. Recently 28 of 50 general funded inspectors were laid off, statewide. At Honolulu International Airport, there are only 6 inspectors available now, whereas there were 19 prior to the RIF or reduction in forces.

"What does this mean? Consider this very seriously. Insect interceptions by Honolulu inspectors previous to the RIF were about 150 per month. Today those interceptions are about 10 per month. What does this mean? That means these excess 'buggers' are coming into our ports undetected because we don't have adequate inspections. Knowing in advance what is arriving at our ports of entries is very critical to the Department to efficiently deploy its acutely limited resources. This bill is very important. There must be adequate safeguards and I urge you, Mr. Speaker, to support this bill. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2948, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 559-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2290, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2290, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tsuji rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of this measure. This bill supports the operations of the Department of Agriculture and helps mitigate the negative effects by its recently completed reduction in force. It provides a dedicated source of funding for the agricultural commodity inspection activities by establishing an Agriculture Inspection and Certification Special Fund to receive fees, fines, penalties, federal funds, grants and gifts, and other moneys obtained in connection with agricultural inspection and certification.

"In this time of widespread cutbacks, the agricultural industry is confronting a substantial decrease in agricultural inspection services statewide. The ability to move products in and out of the State, as well as interisland is critical to the survival of the economy and of the ag industry. With reduced agricultural services, it is sensible to seek alternatives and solutions to ensure the Department of Agriculture is capable of meeting the needs of farmers and related organizations. By establishing this specific fund for services rendered, the Department can provide the necessary services that protect Hawaii's agricultural industry."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2290, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 560-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2291, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2291, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. I rise with reservations and would just like to say a few words. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of this bill is to make the Department of Agriculture or DOA's Measurement Standards Program financially self-supporting. In the measure, Mr. Speaker, it talks about it being self-supporting. The problem that I have with this new special fund is that one, I don't believe that it's going to be self-supporting, as well as we need to start the fund with $500,000. I don't believe that there is a means to be able to do that, especially with our challenges that we are facing in trying to balance the budget.

"Mr. Speaker, I believe that this revenue shortfall in this bill of being self-sufficient and using this fund is about $125,000. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure, specifically for the enactment of the special fund in its entirety. I think that because our Constitution mandates that we have to pass a balanced budget, I think it's more important that we have room to create special funds for days like this where we don't have any money. We have two special funds that we are now proposing to raid, and you know what those are. But I think that being that our Constitution was created so that we have to pass a balanced budget year after year, in order to protect those entities that are important and are subject to cuts or insufficient funds, that we should have special funds for them so we can tuck away money during years that we have plenty to use in years when we don't have enough. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto: rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am for this measure, but I have reservations. I have reservations on many of these measures that create special funds and increase fees one way or another. I haven't expressed them all, but I am voting positively for these measures because the DOA, the Department of Agriculture is so severely hit by budget cutbacks because they are heavily general funded. I think the need is so great that I feel that if the farmers are willing to underwrite some of these fees, and the agricultural community, then yes, we must pass these measures and perhaps we could later revoke them. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. In support and in rebuttal. This bill really looks toward special funding, but primarily the purpose of this and other bills that are going through the Legislature right now are they are trying to offset the severe cutbacks that have been taking place because of the RIF or Reduction in Force effects on our Department of Agriculture. We are trying to get positive, and this is a positive measure to utilize fees for services. Unlike the coqui frog where it whistles and we know by the other whistles the location of this particular invasive species, others are silent invaders.

"But in this particular bill, less reliance on the general fund and particularly on special funds shows and indicates how important this particular Division of Weights and Measures is as far as providing a service to our community. I strongly support this, and I urge you to support this also. Thank you, very much."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I am in favor of this particular measure. Real quickly, I just want to accept the speech of the Chairman of Agriculture and include it as my own. I think he made a very important point. I wish to remind this Body here how important it is to have the Weights and Measures staff available. Maui County is without any weights and measures staff, so the people are at the mercy of all the businesses there, and the honesty of the businesses in having the weights and measures done correctly. My friend is smiling in the corner there.

"If you look at when you go to a grocery store, you have the scales there to weigh the meats and produce. There is, of course, gasoline and other areas where we all depended on weights and measures, certification and testing. We have nobody to test it now. So this bill will provide the remedy for that kind of a problem. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2291, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEASUREMENT STANDARDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 562-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2409, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2409, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on this bill. Thank you. Even in the hearing the implications of this bill weren't clear regarding fishponds as a viable new aquaculture setting. So I would urge us to pay attention when this bill comes back from the Senate to make sure that we can facilitate the fish ponds. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support this measure with reservations. I appreciate the need to support the potential of aquaculture by allowing local farmers better opportunity to recoup required investment in costly aquaculture infrastructure and equipment. Providing a reasonable extension in lease terms proposed in this measure is touted as supporting increased investment in land-based, coastal, and ocean aquaculture ventures in Hawaii.

"I do object to the general policy change that would allow options on public lands for the first time – a right not afforded to any other tenant of the Public Land Trust. In a State where land is limited, competition for access and use of what limited government lands we control has been an important value and assumption in how we act as stewards of the Public Land Trust. When these lands are used for commercial gain by private individuals and companies, the State should be careful to ensure fairness in the process.

"I do not support giving tenants an absolute right of first refusal which forces the State to continue to exclusively lease to existing tenants – under existing law, there are adequate opportunities to provide extensions and other assistance when additional investment is proposed by tenants.

"I also have reservations in regards to open ocean fish farming. Industrial ocean fish farms should continue to be monitored for negative impacts on our environment. We are an ocean State and our nearshore waters are important for the recreational, cultural and spiritual well-being of all our residents – there should be a balance between access for all our residents and making these areas the exclusive province of commercial interests.

"So once again, Mr. Speaker, I vote with reservations."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morita rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hanohano rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. This is a bill that actually helps the aquaculture industry. In these tough economic times, we're talking about economic development. One of those industries that I think could become a cornerstone is aquaculture. And all this bill does is allow for up to a 45-year lease. It does not mandate it. It creates a maximum. Many aquaculture businesses who receive federal loans or grants require that your lease exceed the grant or the lease terms by five years. That's why they need 45 years.

"We did accept some comments from the Department of Land and Natural Resources in which their main opposition was the first right of refusal, and instead of saying 'shall,' we changed it to 'may' so it allows the Department flexibility if they want to give the first right of refusal. If they don't and they don't like the lessee, they can cancel the lease without giving first right of refusal. I think this is a good way to help the aquaculture industry and does not cost money. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the measure. Mr. Speaker, this industry has died a thousand deaths and it has an innovative creative spurt now and then. It's something with a pioneering Tap Pryor spirit back in the 70s. There's something in this industry, if we can just develop it. You can put money, time, years, and be marginally successful.

"Other parts of the world are booming in aquaculture. We've given this industry 'lip service.' Just like agriculture, we give it 'lip service.' We don't give it money. We've got to take it off budget and give it a special fund. This one is simply giving these guys a little bit more time to get their money back.

"So far, aquaculture has not been a breadwinner. Aquaculture has not been a profitable industry. So when we say that these are things that we shouldn't be affording to the industry, if we want it to die off and let Thailand take over, which basically they have done to a great extent, we can do that. But if we mean it, we have got to have political will to do it, and this is a gesture to do that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. During the Committee hearings, testimony was in support for longer term leases, amiable term leases. The Division of Aquaculture within the Department of Agriculture is one of the highest rising endeavors within the State of Hawaii right now. We're not different.

"Aquaculture is unique in the State of Hawaii. We are totally surrounded by water, from the mountain to the sea and beyond the three-mile limits. Aquaculture is one of the entrepreneurial industries within the State of Hawaii. And those in the aquaculture industry need support from the Legislature and from the community. This bill would ensure partially that these entrepreneurs in the newly created, innovative industry would have some type of faith, looking towards the future for some type of return on their investment. Other comments will be provided for Journal entry. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this measure. This bill encourages commercial aquaculture ventures in the State by providing favorable lease terms for public lands. Providing that the right of first refusal for aquaculture operations in good standing is permissive, public lands could be leased for this purpose for up to 45 years.

"There was opposing testimony in Committee hearings. However it is important to note that recent cuts to the Department of Agriculture resulted in significant reductions to its Aquaculture Division.

"With Hawaii's focus on sustainability - particularly the desire for decreased dependence on external food sources - finding ways to support and sustain our agriculture industry becomes even more important. This includes aquaculture.

"Testimony in support included statements that a longer term lease - one that is consistent with other types of land based leases - would give investors a higher degree of confidence in projects, and that professional farmers would be encouraged to invest in new areas of aquaculture.

"Lastly, since this State currently imports a high percentage of its seafood, the nascent aquaculture business should be supported and this measure is such a vehicle."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2409, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AQUACULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 11:41 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1987, HD 2
H.B. No. 2661, HD 2
S.B. No. 466, SD 2, HD 1
H.B. No. 2293, HD 1

At 11:41 o'clock a.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 11:41 o'clock a.m. with the Speaker presiding.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 563-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2642, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2642, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UTILITIES REGULATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 565-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2382, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2382, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of House Bill 2382, H.D. 1. This bill would establish digital media enterprise subzones, creating incentives, including tax credits for infrastructure and workforce development, in order to nurture the growing digital media industry in our State.

"Mr. Speaker, at a time when almost every sector of our economy is suffering in Hawaii, creative media stands out as a growing industry, hiring local people for well-paying jobs. Production on movies and television shows in our beautiful State has created hundreds of jobs and generated millions of revenue for local businesses. In addition to the talented media workforce that has emerged from the Waianae Seariders' pipeline – and the more than 80 media programs throughout our State's middle and high schools – the University of Hawaii has nurtured local talent through its Academy for Creative Media (ACM), which has grown exponentially since its founding about 5 years ago, building from 3 courses and 37 students, to 39 courses and 300 students. Graduates have written, directed and produced short films, interned for "Lost," and found full-time employment in the creative media industry.

"Within this thriving industry, digital media is growing as well. Earlier this year, Hawaii Animation Studios opened with 30 employees, most of them local graduates of UH, with plans to expand to 150 employees soon. Along with many other local companies, this represents a strong opportunity to build an industry utilizing "an indigenous creative workforce that happens to be the most coveted kind in the world," as ACM Founder and Director Chris Lee put it in his testimony before the Finance Committee on February 18, 2010.

"He went on to say, "Creative media production in all its forms, movies, television, software, video games, Internet multi-players, animation, music, visual effects, even Apple iPhone applications, is Hawai'i's best chance to soften the cyclical blows of our aviation fuel-based service economy," noting that this is possible because of broadband connections and the idea that "creative intellectual property requires only that we harness the natural skills of our students," not endless raw materials or transportation back to the mainland.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill attempts to build on this nascent success in Hawaii's digital media industry by offering incentives to further encourage development of our talented workforce by implementing digital media enterprise subzones within a set radius of UH campuses. It's not enough that we train these students, but that we provide opportunities for them after graduation, and that's what this bill would help facilitate.

"Digital media companies in the subzones would receive tax credits for infrastructure and workforce development. Similar tax credits have had marked success in other states. For instance, as Mr. Lee testified, Louisiana, which started tax incentives for film in 2001, went from two low-budget pictures shot in the State in 2001, to 21 low-budget schools and 5 big-budget pictures totaling $450 million in production spending in 2006. Multiple studios have also been constructed in the State. Internationally, New Zealand's tax credits for filming have lured projects such as "Avatar," which generated $50 million in taxes alone for New Zealand.

"House Bill 2382, HD 1 would help Hawaii do the same in nurturing an industry that will employ our talented young people, take advantage of the burgeoning creative media educational program that will be based at UH-West Oahu and further create much-needed jobs and industry based on the west side. This bill gives us an opportunity to put our young people at the forefront of a growing global industry, while diversifying our State's economy. I urge my colleagues to support this legislation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"During the Finance Committee hearing on this bill, we heard compelling testimony about the digital media industry and how promoting digital businesses will benefit our economy and the future for our children. This is a valuable discussion and an interesting idea full of potential.

"However, I have yet to see the details on how we could pay for this tax credit, or even how much it would cost us. Given our unprecedented budgetary challenges where we are searching for ways to find to fund, for example, long-established programs such as Kupuna Care or school for our children on Furlough Fridays, I question how the State could afford to provide a new tax credit.

"If the State government could print its own money, we might be able to afford it. However, the State can't print money. The State government's primary tools are to increase taxes or impose additional budgetary cuts – two options I hope the Legislature does not pursue at this time in the name of providing tax credits to one industry.

"Therefore, I support the discussion and the concept of promoting digital media, but I have concerns about how much the proposed tax credits would cost and how they would be paid."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2382, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DIGITAL MEDIA," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Nakashima voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 567-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2133, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2133, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 567, if I could note my reservations with quick comments. The purpose of this bill is to improve efficiency within the government procurement process, and in some ways it can do that. Overall I think that this can work for some of the procurement contracts. I think through testimony, it sounded like maybe the language is a little overbroad and really rigid on the time limits, and it might not work for some other things. So I just have reservations as we move forward. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2133, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 568-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2381, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2381, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise with reservations on this bill. HB 2381 provides a temporary tax credit for residential construction and remodeling projects. Although I appreciate the intent of the bill to spur activity in the construction industry, I do worry about the potential abuse of the tax credit for remodeling projects. In the past, this type of tax credit had a fifty percent abuse rate because the term "remodeling" was not defined properly. Given the tax revenue shortfalls that currently face the State, I am not sure if allowing for this type of tax credit is the most prudent way of managing our budget deficit at this time."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On the same measure, Mr. Speaker, I just would like to state my reservation. In these times when we're in a revenue shortfall, giving a tax credit would be heading in the wrong direction. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill proposes a 4% tax credit for residential construction. It is not clear how much this would cost the State, but it's in the range of $15 million. That's $15 million that the State will have to find elsewhere.

"If the State government could print its own money, we might be able to afford it. However, the State can't print money. To fund the tax credits, the State government's primary tools are to increase taxes or impose additional budgetary cuts – dollar for dollar. I have reservations about these kinds of proposals particularly given these challenging budgetary times where we have had to find over $3 billion over a two year period simply to balance the budget.

"One overarching problem with tax credits is the public never sees the bill – the tax credits are given out to special interests, but the total amounts are never reflected in the budget. In addition, projected and actual cost estimates are hard to come by. It is even difficult to identify the actual beneficiaries or the supposed increased economic activity caused by the tax credit (i.e, there may actually be no effect even if $15 million is paid).

"At the same time, I support the intent of helping to spur on residential construction in these tough economic times and I believe the discussion about job creation is warranted. If we combined these concepts with other goals, such as promoting green building jobs or affordable housing jobs and expertise, or even focusing the credit on remodeling and upgrading residential homes for our working families, then we may be able to justify the cost of such a tax credit."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of House Bill 2381, House Draft 2. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides a temporary tax credit for residential construction and remodeling projects. This bill will allow taxpayers who own residential, rural property to claim a tax credit equal to a percentage not yet determined, for residential construction and remodeling cost to a residential apartment unit or a single family home.

"Mr. Speaker, this tax credit was a recommendation of the construction industry task force which was established by Senate Concurrent Resolution No 132, SD 1, 2009, to develop and propose State actions to preserve and create new construction jobs. This bill is a win-win for homeowners, the construction industry, and the economy as a whole.

"First, as the real estate market has softened, it provides homeowners with an incentive to make improvements to their homes, thereby building equity in their homes. Second, as many people can finance the remodeling or renovations of their homes with a home equity line of credit, tapping into the financial markets is not an issue.

"Third, it will immediately put many of construction workers back to work. Mr. Speaker, with 52% of our construction workers on the bench, and as construction is a significant part of our economic growth, this bill will aid in both of these areas. Fourth, it provides an immediate infusion of cash into our economy. As we continue through this unprecedented fiscal crisis, any immediate infusion of funds will help our economic recovery more quickly.

"While opponents of this measure may criticize this measure because it does provide a tax credit, taking funds away from government which could have been collected, it is well documented that temporary tax credits lead directly to economic growth. Anne Kim and Ryan McConaghy, Director and Deputy Director respectively of the Third Way Economic Program think tank in Washington D.C. noted in a July 2009 publication that tax credits, "are a temporary investment in economic recovery and therefore worth the short term cost. In a market where Americans have literally seen trillions of dollars in home equity evaporate, providing a tax benefit to homeowners is a constructive step in halting economic freefall."

"Moreover, Mr. Speaker, in his verbal testimony before the Finance Committee, Lowell Kalapa, Director of the Tax Foundation, clearly articulated that this bill would be more advantageous than the Hotel Renovation Tax Credit. First, because of financial markets continue to be frozen, financial institutions are not making large loans. It is virtually impossible for hotels to even try to get the loan financing they need to take advantage of the Administration's proposal for a hotel renovation tax credit. In comparison, Mr. Kalapa noted that homeowners under this bill undoubtedly would be able to tap into a home equity loan.

"Second, even if the hotel would have obtained financing for the renovations under the Governor's proposal, the construction agreements completed, it would take so many years it would therefore obviate the need to infuse immediate funds into our ailing economy. Under this bill however, homeowners and contractors would be able to enter into renovation remodeling contracts relatively quickly and the work would be completed easily within a year, thereby providing immediate cash into our economy.

"Finally, although you would be giving a tax credit to the homeowner under this measure, Mr. Kalapa notes that you would still be collecting it from the contractors, thereby making the credit a wash.

"In summary, Mr. Speaker, this bill is a win-win all the way around. It provides our constituents with an opportunity to build equity in their homes, it provides an immediate infusion of funds into our ailing economy, and it helps put construction workers back to work. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support with a retort. The notion that this bill is going to bring in more money than the Governor's hotel renovation bill I think is flawed in its argument in that this is going to be a large number of small renovations versus what the Waikiki hoteliers have said that there will be considerable amounts, and millions of dollars in renovations in a period of time. So other than that, it's a good bill."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2381, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Berg and Nakashima voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 569-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2441, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2441, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this bill with reservations. HB 2441 requires contracts to be awarded within thirty (30) days of the bid opening date for projects from Hawaiian Home Lands, State transportation, county boards of water supply, and county departments of housing, planning and permitting, and transportation. This is part of the package introduced by the Construction Industry Task Force, bills meant to jump-start the State's stalled construction industry and get thousands of skilled and unskilled laborers off the unemployment rolls.

"The concern I have with this bill is that the time limitations might be impractical in some public works contracting circumstances. For instance, this measure may make sense in a simple situation such as a tree trimming contract where the scope of work is clear, but not in a complex project such as a rail design-build contract. I agree with the Department of Transportation's idea to provide exemptions to the 30-day period for situations where the procurement involves a design-build criterion, or where the lowest responsible bid exceeds the available funds, or if negotiating with the bidder would result in a situation that is in the best interest of the public.

"Once again, Mr. Speaker, I vote with reservations."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I have some reservations on HB 2441. This bill requires contracts awarded to projects of the Departments of Hawaiian Home Lands and Transportation; county boards of water supply; and county departments of housing, planning and permitting, and transportation to be awarded within 30 days of the bid opening date, subject to sufficient available funding and possible further negotiations to benefit the public.

"The measure also requires contracts by these agencies for design professional services to be awarded within 45 days of the bid opening date. This bill needs some work. It may be a step in the right direction of expediting a cumbersome process that can often adversely impact the financial bottom line of contractors. However, the timelines stipulated in this bill may be unrealistic in some cases. We need to ensure that appropriate safeguards exist in a workable and ultimately beneficial procurement process system. I will support this bill for now to see how it develops."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2441, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Berg voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 571-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2901, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2901, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Magaoay rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I request a ruling on a potential conflict? I work as an electrical consultant," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition of HB 2901. This particular measure establishes a discretionary request for competitive sealed proposal procedure using the design-build process where not more than five offerors selected on their qualifications submit proposals, and stipends are paid to unsuccessful offerors who allow the agency to use elements of their designs and waive their right to protest the award.

"It seems surprising to me that this bill would essentially subsidize losing bids. The potential of securing a government contract should be incentive enough to develop compelling, quality designs that ultimately prevail in the procurement process. Given the specificity of design requirements and needs, I cannot imagine many situations where there would be the ability to recycle unused designs for projects as this bill intends. It simply would not be feasible, nor would it yield the best quality structure for the State. This bill would be an expensive proposition for the State."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2901, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Marumoto and Pine voting no.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2984, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Keith-Agaran rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Yes, I'd like a ruling on a possible conflict. I'm affiliated with a high tech company," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2984, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX CREDITS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 575-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2074, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2074, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of HB 2074. This bill requires DOE to establish alternative routes to certification for principals and vice-principals. It also allows the DOE to, on a case-by-case basis, waive certification requirements until the alternative routes to certification are established.

"In this present time when it is all too apparent that our educational system is failing our children, we must change. This particular measure will enable the Department to attract and retain qualified leaders with real-world experience who can contribute to the management of our schools. It is time to start thinking outside the box and this bill is an innovative measure that does exactly that in terms of achieving educational reform."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2074, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CERTIFICATION OF PRINCIPALS AND VICE-PRINCIPALS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 11:53 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2642, HD 1
H.B. No. 2382, HD 1
H.B. No. 2133, HD 1
H.B. No. 2381, HD 2
H.B. No. 2441, HD 2
H.B. No. 2901, HD 2
H.B. No. 2984, HD 2
H.B. No. 2074, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 576-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2076, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2076, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to require the sharing of data across State agencies. This will support research that improves education and workforce outcomes while meeting the longitudinal data requirements of the federal American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009.

"This bill affirms the State's intent to meet the four assurances required for ARRA funding. One of the four ARRA assurances specifically targets the use of data for improving student performance. Meeting all four of the assurances is dependent on the given agencies ability to access relevant data.

"Zero to five data is critical to ensure school readiness and success in future developmental phases. For this effort to succeed data needs to be shared. I urge our colleagues to support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of HB 2076 which requires the Department of Education, University of Hawaii, and Department of Labor and Industrial Relations to share data to support research that will improve educational and workforce outcomes and meet the longitudinal data requirements of the federal American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

"As it becomes increasingly more apparent that our country needs to better prepare students for the future, the State must make every effort to complement national reforms. The American Reinvestment and Recovery Act's Race to the Top initiative is a commendable step in the right direction. Ensuring that our State educational decisions and policies are rooted in empirical data will inevitably increase the efficacy of our educational system and the results for individual school children. In doing so, we help to build a more prepared and productive workforce."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2076, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RESEARCH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 578-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2267, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2267, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of HB 2267. This measure requires the Department of Education to provide an early and equitable distribution of grant moneys received by the Hawaii Charter School Administrative Office when charter school enrollment numbers were used to secure federal grants.

"Public charter schools have proved to be one of our most effective educational alternatives to the traditional educational setting. Furthermore, President Obama has highlighted public charter schools as one of the foremost innovative educational reform tools. We must ensure that they receive their fair share of funds, especially when those moneys are earmarked for them."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on HB 2267, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? My law firm might represent some Charters Schools and a non-profit that helps a Charter School," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2267, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC CHARTER SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 580-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2486, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2486, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is a bill for minimum instructional hours. Mr. Speaker, I just have small reservations. I note that charters schools are often innovative. They do things a little differently. Some have online learning, project based schedules and hours and I'm not sure how this applies to those types of programs. So my reservation is just that we find a way to work with that. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, we cannot let our children's education be used as leverage in a political fight. Mandating a minimum number of instructional hours will prevent our students from being cheated out of a full education, and prevent such a debacle from happening every again."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure, and I request permission to insert written comment as well. Thank you. Just very briefly, a few years ago I worked with the gentlemen from Florida to develop an econometrics model that takes into consideration factors that many teachers and educators in this State believe affect education, but they have no control over. Interestingly enough, Mr. Speaker, with those seven uncontrollable factors, when taken in total, we could predict test scores within three percentage points without even taking the test.

"The reason why I mention this is because the strongest and most influential indicator of student success is in fact, student attendance. And if a child if not in school, he or she will not learn. The reason for this bill and the reason why I support this bill is that we in Hawaii have difficulty understanding that. Not only because of the current furloughs, but more importantly just because of the way the current school year and the amount of hours and minutes that our children are in school, that's why we are where we are today. This measure provides some hope that we would be able to compete not only with our counterparts across the nation, but people across the world. Our children need to be in school, and this debate is not about furloughs. This debate is about the future of our children after we solve the furlough issue. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. This bill calls for a minimum of 1,080 student instructional hours per year in grades K-8. Based on the current school day, the increased number of instructional hours would amount to a 229 day instructional year. This would give us an increase of 45 days per year.

"The priorities now are to restore the furlough days for the remainder of this school year and next, and to increase the number of instructional hours in the school year as proposed in this bill. When Hawaii becomes the laughing stock of the nation or when the U.S. Secretary of Education makes hurtful comments against the education system in Hawaii in the Washington Post and the New York Times, I'm terribly concerned.

"I have spent my entire legislative career focused on the education of children in Hawaii. From 1994 until last year, I was extremely proud of what we have accomplished. "Education is our Top Priority" is not a slogan for me. Rather, it's a mission. Nearly each waking hour of my life as a state representative, I've tried to live for this mission.

"My wife and I have both greatly benefited from our own public school education. She graduated from Moanalua High School, and I graduated from Pearl City High School. In hindsight, we wouldn't have it any other way. We are proud graduates of Hawaii Public Schools. Even our two young children are educated at an elementary school in Aiea. They were both receiving the best education that money can buy until this past fall.

"Furloughs are a disgrace. We build schools so that children can learn in a safe environment. Schools are where dreams are developed. When schools are closed due to furloughs and children are left at home because we can't afford paying our teachers, they lose. And when children lose, we all lose.

"A few years ago, I spent a few years volunteering in our public schools. A good friend of mine Mark Hunter, who is a retired banker from Tampa, Florida, and I spent a few years working together on an econometrics model for public schools in Hawaii. This econometrics model took into consideration a few factors that some teachers say are beyond their control.

I call these "uncontrollables." These "uncontrollables" include things like the percentage of students who are on free and reduced lunch, the percentage of students in special education, the size of the school, the percentage of teachers with less than five years of experience, the teacher attendance rate, the student attendance rate, to name a few.

"We used eight of these "so-called" uncontrollables. With these data, we could determine scores of the Hawaii State Assessment within three percentage points before the test is even taken – before the test is taken. Before the test is taken, we know with some certainty that a certain school will hit a certain score on the state assessment.

"So how is this relevant to furloughs and to today's challenges? Here's why.

"The most important factor influencing performance on the State assessment is not whether a student gets free or reduced lunch or whether the teachers are just out of college. The most important factor impacting scores on the state assessment is student attendance. How well a student does in school is based on attendance. This makes perfect sense to me. If a student is not in school, she will not learn. And if she doesn't learn, she will not perform well on the State assessment. Again, if a student is not in school because his school is closed to furloughs, he will not learn. And if he doesn't learn, he will not perform well on the State assessment.

"Furloughs keep students at home. Furloughs keep students out of school. Not being in school means our children are not learning. Children who are not learning will not do well in school and will not do well on the State assessments. Our actions or lack thereof are hurting students, are hurting our children.

"Furloughs must end. They must end not only because we closed the schools and not only because they are an embarrassment to the nation. We must end furloughs because we're hurting our children and we are hurting our future. I urge our colleagues to support this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support to H.B. 2486, which establishes a minimum number of instructional hours per school year for each grade. Although we find ourselves in a state of economic crisis, the education of Hawaii's students should always be one of our top priorities. We must recognize that the length of the instructional day in Hawaii's public schools is among the shortest in the nation. Hawaii has come up short with our schools having fewer than 750 instructional hours per year, when the standard for private and public schools is 900 hours per year.

"In addition, 80% of American schools spend less than Hawaii at $10,200 per student, yet we have less instructional time than any other state in the nation. These numbers cannot be ignored. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In support, and may I have the words of the speaker from Newtown entered in the record as if they were my own? I have just a brief comment if I may, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to thank the proponents of this bill because I think this is a way for us to address this critical educational question without running into a situation which has happened in California whereby having instructional days set into law, they had to increase class sizes to 45 to 1, and let numerous teachers go. Thank you, very much."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I speak with some reservations. The reservation I have is that this might intrude in collective bargaining. It may also increase the cost of education. Right now we're at a situation where we're asking the Board of Education, at least the Senate is, to make an additional $37 million in cuts, which they just did. And because of the financial situation we have, it might not be appropriate to pass such legislation at this time, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. If you would please keep in mind that while there will be another bill coming over from the Senate that carves out instructional days, and you know there's always going to be this perennial debate about days versus hours. I think if we look at countries like China for example, that has 251 days versus the United States' average of 108 days; and Japan is at 243 days. South Korea has 220 days. But if you look at the ways these countries educate their children, they're actually in school, instructional time, for fewer hours than we actually have our children in. What they do in these countries, even though these children are in school for seven or eight hours a day, they have a lot of peer mentoring, and children working together in groups, and so on. That doesn't count as 'instructional time.'

"You know, there's always going to a be a great pedagogical debate as to whether or not an instructor standing in front of a group of children is the best way to deliver educational progress. That debate will continue. But I will say to the Representative from Maui that it is true. Article 16 of the HSTA agreement does lay out instructional hours, but again as we all know, once that contract is over we can pass a law that takes effect. We cannot reach into an existing contract, but we can, as long as we do it on a go-forward basis.

"And to respond to the other Representative from Maui, even if you put a minimum number of days or hours, it doesn't matter that it's prescribed by law. We would in this situation, had it been in effect, in my opinion we would either have to take pay cuts for the teachers, increase class size, or lay off teachers. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the measure. Mr. Speaker, we are in a crisis. This is about furloughs. It is about getting our kids back to school. It is about not 'dumbing down' our kids any further. And as we all count ourselves as policymakers from the various districts throughout the beautiful State of Hawaii, we have as our number one policy, education. For the speaker of Maui to say that this is a collective bargaining issue is to miss the point of what the responsibilities we have to set forth parameters of how we're going to be educated.

"Case in point, Mr. Speaker. Right now the people of Hawaii, 25 and above, the elders, the parents, are more educated than those kids 20 and below. We have 'dumbed down' a generation. In fact, as part of what's going on in America, the older generation was always less educated than the younger. Now we've reversed that. We talk about China. We talk about India. Those guys are going leaps and bounds ahead of us.

"This bill is a bare minimum of getting back in control of the policy of education in this State. It's a small step, but it's a very, very vital one. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2486, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 581-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2740, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2740, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.B. 2740, H.D. 1, Relating to Schools. The purpose of this bill is to address the need for the long-awaited Royal Kunia Elementary School II by utilizing Certificates of Participation (COPS) financing.

"Mr. Speaker, COPS is a different way of financing construction of our schools. As you know, the State traditionally floats general obligation bonds for capital improvement projects, including schools. The debt service is then paid off for the life of the bond. COPS, on the other hand, allows investors to pay for design and construction up front, with the State making lease payments to pay off the investment. At the conclusion of the payment term, the State will own the building. Rather than paying interest on the bond at the end of a project, which is done through traditional financing, COPS provides the investor with a return on the lease revenues associated with the offering. The advantage to COPS financing is that it will free the State from restrictions on the amount of general obligation bonds it can float.

"Mr. Speaker, the master planned community of Royal Kunia envisioned two phases. Phase I was built during the 1990's and at that time, many of the residents were promised a new elementary school. Those promises never materialized. Phase II is now proceeding with another 2000 units to be built. It is imperative that we approve this measure so that we can get this school, which was promised to the residents a decade ago, built now. Royal Kunia Elementary School II is now number four on the Department of Education's matrix for new school construction and we have a developer who is willing to proceed with the design and construction if we can pass this measure.

"As COPS provides the State with an alternative means of financing during these unprecedented fiscal times, I strongly support this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2740, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 582-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2239, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2239, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to HB 2239. This measure removes the exemption for dietary supplements from the deposit beverage container program. I'm not a fan of this program and did not support the original deposit beverage container program. Cans and plastic bottles have proved very difficult for the public to redeem. Thus, whether this law pertains to dietary supplements or regular beverages, I disagree with the program."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on this measure. It just came to my attention perusing the bill that because dietary supplements could include Enfamil and other formula that is used by parents, and given the affect of the economy, especially on the most vulnerable sector for working mothers, I think that I have some concerns about this bill. Thank you very much."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations for myself as well and I appreciate what the Representative from Lahaina is sharing, and I wanted to say the same thing. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of this measure. Just for the edification of the Body, infant formula is not defined as a dietary supplement. There's a specific definition for dietary supplements and it's mainly any kind of beverage that includes vitamins, herbs, energy drinks, etc. But baby formula falls under another category, which I believe it's a medical supplement, and it's not affected by this bill. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2239, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPOSIT BEVERAGE CONTAINER PROGRAM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Brower, Finnegan and Pine voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 584-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2421, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2421, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Stand. Com. 584, House Bill 2421, Relating to Government. Mr. Speaker, this is job-killer bill number one. This is the 'barrel tax.' This is the bill that goes from five cents a barrel, to $1.05 a barrel. This is a bill that's insidious. It's going to get at everything, not only from the gas pump, but to the oil that is keeping our lights on, to every piece of energy that's related to petroleum.

"We have taken from 1993 a bill that was set at five cents to put a reserve fund in case there was an oil spill. We didn't want the Exxon Valdez to happen here and if it did, we didn't want tourism to be spoiled so we put it in there. What's come from this environmental special fund is now, an omnibus bill for even saving food security and agriculture, which is a great thing. But to use it on this bill with this premise is a bit odd.

"The point is, it's going to increase the cost of living in Hawaii. It's going to increase the ability for jobs to be lost, and Mr. Speaker, I would say this. Governor Lingle, veto this bill, again. Thank you."

Representative Coffman rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. I don't know of anybody in this Body here or in the entire State that goes against the purpose of this bill. I'm going to read these real quick. 'To promote economic development for local food and energy; become energy and food self-sufficient and sustainable; and utilize our natural resources to minimize the impact of carbon dioxide.'

"This bill, Mr. Speaker, supports our long term policies that we just put in place the last ten years in this Body. One is the Hawaii Clean Energy Initiative. The second one is our 2050 Sustainability Plan. We ask ourselves, why now? This plan, this bill, and its purpose will span the next 20 to 40 years. We are going to see many economic cycles up and down related to this bill.

"Ask yourselves, why tax fossil fuel products? Well, we have an addiction to fossil fuel. Mr. Speaker, we have policies in place where we tax cigarettes, alcohol and other products. We do this to reduce usage. In the case of this bill, we want to promote renewable energy and local use of foods. We also do this to mitigate the problem just as in cigarettes and alcohol caused by addiction. This addiction we have spends and sends millions and billions of dollars outside of our State, hurting our economic development.

"This bill has minimal impact, Mr. Speaker. Every citizen can help manage this mitigation problem. You can turn off your lights. You can drive slower. The real world impact will be about 78 cents a month for your electricity bill. If you put about 15 gallons of gasoline in your car per week, this is going to cost you 37 and a half cents.

"Mr. Speaker, we have a great benefit for the startup of this bill this year during our economic downturn. Due to our and federal funding in fiscal year 2011, we would be able to transfer about $10 million to the general fund next year to get this program started, funds we won't need until fiscal year 2012. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes just in opposition, Mr. Speaker. I agree with the previous speaker that those things are very, very important and I really supported the original bill a year ago when it was actually a tax-neutral bill and it would not affect my constituents. I know that those numbers of 38 cents, and 20 cents, and so forth don't sound like a lot, but I've got to tell you that people from my community are really suffering because just about everything is 10 cents, and 20 cents, and 30 cents more. And then you add on this, a tax increase during a very difficult economic time, not just for individuals, but for our State and for our country. It's just perhaps maybe not the right way to do it at this time.

"The Governor had some great proposals in her Clean Energy Package that was not accepted. And it didn't charge more taxes on the people of Hawaii. I think we need to revisit those measures."

Representative C. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just wanted to note that the cost that we bear today would be somewhere in the neighborhood of, I believe the estimate last year was about $20 per person, per year, in the State. The savings in the long term, moving away from fossil fuels, are going to be somewhere in the magnitude of many hundreds of millions, if not billions of dollars. The choice we have today is whether we're willing to saddle ourselves in order to save our future generation from these added costs. So I rise in support and just request further written comments."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, Hawaii imports more than 90% of its energy in the form of crude oil, and exports nearly $8 billion dollars to pay for it each year. As oil prices begin to skyrocket, so too will the cost of energy, goods and services in Hawaii. We must lay the groundwork today to become energy self-sufficient, if our economy is going to survive in the long term."

Representative Manahan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am rising in opposition to this bill. Thank you. The main opposition I have to this bill, as I mentioned yesterday when we were meeting about it, is the appropriation. I just feel that it's hard to justify that most of the taxes that will be generated from this are coming from Oahu and will be going to mostly Neighbor Island initiatives, which is fine. But I think it's inequitable right now the way bill is. And while it is a good idea, I think it is ill-timed right now, and it's a tax increase that I can't justify to my constituents. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in support, but I do have a very slight reservation. I appreciate that there is $10 million that is going to be going to the general fund. I just wish that this Body had kept in mind the Highway Special Fund which is being rapidly depleted right now. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my no vote and I would like to give just short comments in opposition. Thank you. You heard the concerns about the tax, and we've all experienced when taxes rise, especially with fossil fuels, how hard it is on our local residents. But I also just want to say that those of us who don't support this tax increase, we still support HCEI and moving forward. For instance, there's a bill coming up in just a couple more measures that talks about the HCEI Bond program that would work to help individuals and families be able to afford, with State help, afford getting some of these renewable energies either on their roof or to help them with their electricity. And in the long run and the short run, it's very beneficial.

"Mr. Speaker, you also know that the US Department of Energy looks to Hawaii as a leader in this area. You know and I know that Director Ted Liu went to the mainland and they're inviting him back to speak to others, especially others who are island communities, and we should be proud of where we're going with energy.

"I know that there's a lot to do, but this is a very difficult time for our residents right now. And when we talk about where we can cut or how to balance the budget and all of those types of things, we are also looking at a time when everyone's tightening up on spending, we're actually going forward with expanding government and that's a tough sell for a lot of people out there who are either losing their jobs, or getting furloughed, or getting RIF-ed, or all of those things. Yes we do want to invest in the future, Mr. Speaker, and I think we are with the measures that we are passing out. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support of this measure. We spend millions of dollars attracting visitors to Hawaii and the visitor industry is the mainstay of our economy, but on the other hand we send out billions of dollars from our economy to pay for imported fuels and imported foods. So I view this bill as an economic driver for Hawaii by reducing our imports and creating economic opportunities statewide.

"Part of the reality is the transformation of our energy system and the rebuilding of our agricultural sector, and this is a statewide effort. It is not something that is solely focused on the Neighbor Islands. It is true that the bulk of our population is on Oahu, but again the resources to develop both our energy and agricultural infrastructure and needs are based on the Neighbor Islands. So I see this as the whole State working together and not a Neighbor Island versus Oahu issue.

"As our economy gets better, one of the things that we will be facing is increased energy costs as there will be more competition oil resources. As that happens, again cost will increase. And it will make it harder for the State to shift its position because whether it's taxation or increased fuel costs, we're going to have to pay for it. But at least by this additional tax on fossil fuel, on a barrel of oil, what will happen is it becomes an investment in ourselves in taking our economy in a different direction. Should we sit and do nothing? All we're doing is increasing our vulnerability and reliance on imported fuels.

"So I hope people will take this bill and look at it seriously to define our future. It is going to cost us money, but inaction will leave us in a far worse position. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing in support with reservations. Mr. Speaker, I support the intent. I was a member of the 2050 Task Force that looked at sustainability which is quoted in this. We did understand the need for Hawaii to move toward more self-sustainability, both in energy and food production. However, Mr. Speaker, in talking with other task force members, there were concerns expressed on how to pay for it, and who bears the burden. So I do have some concerns that this will place the burden on the everyday people.

"You know $20 might not seem like a lot for you, but in a time in which we're having discussions of having people paying the co-pay for QUEST services, and discussions of having people paying a little bit extra for the basic necessities, I think that's something that we need to look at cautiously. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. This is a comprehensive bill that combines energy and food security. I truly believe that this plan has merit. It's very laudable. To reach Hawaii's long term food and energy security needs, I believe it is important that there is a balance between agriculture and energy production. For that, I'd like to say that I do support this measure and would like to submit further comments to be provided for the Journal. Thank you, very much."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 2421 which would provide for long term energy and food security. Energy is a major component of this bill, but there is also an agricultural element that I would like to focus on.

"I believe the State is continually becoming more aware of food security issues, and would support initiatives towards that goal. Crop fields or cattle stock will not simply appear when our needs become sudden. These endeavors must be nurtured and cultivated, but our agriculture industry is struggling under dire conditions such as a bleak economy, prolonged drought conditions and increased fuel and production costs.

"Thirty-five cents of the assessed "Barrel Tax" would be earmarked for the Agricultural Development and Food Security Special Fund, and go towards agricultural projects including those intended to increase production or processing that may lead to reduced importation of food, fodder, or feed from outside Hawaii.

"This is a comprehensive bill that combines energy and food security - and the plan has merit. To meet Hawaii's long term food and energy security needs, it is important that there is balance between agriculture and energy production. A similar measure was passed by the Legislature last year, but was vetoed. Let us renew our effort by supporting this bill and establishing a stable funding source to provide for long term energy and food security in our State."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of HB 2421, HD2. In just a few short years, the State of Hawaii has made great strides in advancing energy independence by partnering with the United States Department of Energy in the Hawaii Clean Energy Initiative and collaborating with government and business entities including the State Public Utilities Commission, Hawaiian Electric Industries, Inc., the Kauai Island Utility Cooperative, and other local business organizations.

"A key component in moving this initiative forward, however, is establishing a dedicated source of funding, and not simply relying on the largesse of federal funds, to ensure we will be able to pay for the infrastructure, strategies, and programs identified by the Clean Energy Initiative to move Hawaii toward even greater energy independence. As it stands now, many of the positions now overseeing Hawaii's transition to a green economy are paid for by American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funds. Once these moneys are exhausted by the end of next year and we face the cliff caused by reliance on federal stimulus funds, these positions will be subject to lost funding and any advances previously made will be in jeopardy.

"Because House Bill 2421, HD 1 looks to the future and adopts a long-term view of how we, as a community, can commit to and invest in energy and food security, I support this measure."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support and request written comments to be submitted to the Journal. In addition, may I request the words of the Representative from Hanalei and the Representative from Kona be entered into the Journal as if they were my own? Thank you.

"And just briefly, I wanted to say this. I believe the figure that we've been using for a few years now is that we export about $7 billion of our gross State products in the form of oil. We pay for about $7 billion of oil, and any which way we can lessen that dependency on oil, I'm supporting.

"You know, Mr. Speaker, I introduced House Bill No. 1 last year, which created an opportunity to look at nuclear energy. I know that we're not there yet, but I do also know that if we do not look at this issue very carefully, we are going to saddle not only our children's future, but our children's children's future with some of these very bad, difficult and challenging decisions.

"So I think if we take a look at this from the perspective of decades and generations from now, where do we want to leave Hawaii. I think this measure before us moves us into the right direction. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak on this measure with some reservations. The goals of this particular measure are laudable, and I think we all want to see a green society with farmers prospering, and the community prospering from such a measure like this. However, I believe the jury is still out. Some of the measures are quite utopian and not quite realistic. I personally would like more time to study the issue. But to give a signal out there that a bill like this was going to take care of all the ills, I don't think it will.

"Right now we have entrepreneurs doing many of the things that this bill purports to do. They're providing windmills, solar, photovoltaic, and every imaginable type of heat pumps that are available in the alternative energy area to save fossil fuels without a measure like this. Farmers are beginning to develop different niches that we have throughout this State as well as they can with the resources that they have.

"Mr. Speaker and Members, in all due respect to the Chair who's been working very hard on this measure, I believe that the jury is still out on this measure and with this, I have some reservations. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"Still in opposition, Mr. Speaker. I just want to be very clear that we're very concerned about causing future problems for future generations, but what we're trying to emphasize the most right now is that this current generation is truly suffering, and they just simply cannot afford a tax increase that's regressive to every economic level. And again, the Governor's Clean Energy Initiatives have provided and shown that availability of her working relationship with the federal government to access federal funds for similar measures like this that would not increase taxes on the people of Hawaii."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2421, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Brower, Ching, Finnegan, Har, Manahan, Marumoto, Pine and Ward voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 585-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2631, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2631, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY INDUSTRY REPORTING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 12:23 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2076, HD 1
H.B. No. 2267, HD 1
H.B. No. 2486, HD 2
H.B. No. 2740, HD 1
H.B. No. 2239
H.B. No. 2421, HD 2
H.B. No. 2631, HD 2

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 586-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2643, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2643, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the Clean Energy Bonds bill. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank you for juxtaposing this side-by-side with the 'barrel tax' bill, because this is the way to go. This is probably one of the best bills that this Body will pass this Session. This is the bill that takes bond money, then in a creative way puts it through to the counties for individual businesses and particularly residents like all of us in this place here to put photovoltaic and solar on our roofs without the money up front so much as we amortize it through our property taxes.

"So this is a voluntary increase in your property taxes, but it's amortized over 20 years so you can have your house photovoltaic or totally put into solar. That means that the amount of money that you're saving and the amount of the carbon footprint that we're reducing is immediate, and it is now.

"This is such a creative way that fortunately, the tried and true Berkeley experiment is now going to be brought all over the country. Mr. Speaker, I think we can do even better than Berkeley if we really get behind this bill and really push it. Right now, I know the Chair of Finance has it blanked out and I understand the small amount that will be in there is like $5 million. It should be $50 million for openers. And Mr. Speaker, if we're really serious about removing the $7 billion that we're exporting for petroleum, this is the bill. This is the way. And this is the way that we can do it without any controversy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of HB 2643 which establishes a clean energy bond loan program for renewable energy system and energy efficiency improvements on residential and commercial properties, and authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds to finance the program. This measure is a perfect example of how we can proactively encourage and nurture Hawaii's burgeoning renewable energy industry. The Lingle-Aiona Administration's Hawaii Clean Energy Initiative is revolutionary in its goals to transform Hawaii's energy industry and consumption. In fact, the U.S. Department of Energy has upheld Hawaii as a national model for other states in transforming fossil fuel-dependent economies. HB 2643 ensures that the State is able to grow and nurture the Hawaii Clean Energy Initiative."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. I just want to clarify that this is a good tool to implement our Hawaii Clean Energy strategy, but again, it's only a tool. What is important is the strategy that is outlined in House Bill 2421. Again, it's a good tool, but it's difficult to move forward if we don't have an overall comprehensive strategy in place and the funding for that strategy. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. One was saying that you can damn something with faint praise. I will say that this is only a tool, but it takes you off the grid. What more do we want for energy independence? It's more than a tool. It's to get a household off the grid because the photovoltaic funding upfront capital will be funded by this bill, and you just pay it off with your property tax. It takes you off the grid. What more of a tool do we want? What more of a way of lifting your foot and the footprint for all the electricity that we're burning with this oil is taken away.

"So I think we need to take this bill a little more seriously. If you want to raise taxes, that's fine. But this is a way you can do it cheaper, quicker, more efficiently, and it's already proven. It's happening with Berkeley and the other places, but they don't have the sunshine and the capacity to be a world leader as we have. Mr. Speaker, it's a matter of political will. Let's face it. We either are going to do it, or we're not going to do it and it starts here with this Body today. Thank you."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 2643 HD2 which establishes a Clean Energy Bond Loan Program through reimbursable general obligation bonds in order to help property owners with the cost of installation of renewable energy system and energy efficiency improvements on residential and commercial properties. For owners who participate, there will be an assessment on the property tax bill for a set number of years to repay those bonds.

"This measure will help owners defray the cost of installing energy efficient and green technology as well as cost saving benefit in lower utility bills. This measure will also create more jobs that help preserve our environment and increase competition in the business sector. Lastly, it will reduce our reliance on fossil fuel and supports advances in clean energy.

"This bill will help make cleaner energy available to the average homeowner. It's good that Hawaii took only two years to follow the lead of Berkeley which expanded the notion used in the Bay Area to make public facilities more energy efficient. I can't help but reflect that then Lt. Gov. Mazie Hirono in 2002 proposed adopting the public building precursor for Hawaii – something San Francisco began with its Solar Bond offering to retrofit city-owned buildings in 2001 – a step, if taken at the time, may have resulted in this idea now being touted as the "Hawaii model" rather than the "Berkeley model."

"It is for these reasons I support this bill and urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2643, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CLEAN ENERGY BONDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 587-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2644, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2644, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 588-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1961, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1961, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure, which imposes a $1 surcharge for every customer of an ocean recreation business that operates in or around Molokini and deposits the money into the Kahoolawe Rehabilitation Trust Fund.

"We are experiencing a period of unprecedented economic difficulty. When I was with Life of the Land, this discussion of Kahoolawe first took place and I supported it wholeheartedly. I was an early pioneer in supporting the rehabilitation of Kahoolawe and I fully support the work of the Kahoolawe Island Reserve Commission. They're doing important work, but we must understand the fiscal problems and I cannot support the imposition of this fee on our service. It will harm the business of tour operators.

"At the Finance Hearing on this bill, tour operators came from Maui at great expense of their own to testify against this bill. They recounted that the economic downturn has created hardship for their industry. They informed us that passenger counts are down significantly even though they are offering heavy discounts. They warn that this fee increase will be passed on to their consumers and although we think it's small, it will hurt them because every time they increase costs they lose business.

"Although this fee seems small, it burdens these companies with the responsibility to collect, report and administrate the fee. Moreover, they have already experienced increased cost to their business and new conditions to reduce damage to coral resources. They accept this increase because the costs are directly related to their operations there. However, this just increases their burden.

"And finally, it's a fee on a service where they are not stopping at Kahoolawe. The only possible connection Molokini has with the Forgotten Isle is that it is nearby. Mr. Speaker, it's a bad precedent and by doing this we continue to hurt business. I agree that rehabilitation of Kahoolawe is of great importance, but we move forward in a way that is transparent and that does not continue attaching fees for unrelated activities. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of Stand. Com. Rep. No. 588-10. Mr. Speaker, this bill is to 'think outside of the box.' When we went to Kahoolawe, which I represent, we realized that the trust fund is depleting and there is a need to somehow, like everything else that is before us, to figure out how we can provide funding without tapping the general fund.

"This bill was actually crafted working with the Senate and looking at Molokini because there is a connection with Molokini and Kahoolawe. One may say that Kahoolawe should also take on the responsibility of Molokini, but that is another discussion for the future.

"I'd like to encourage my colleagues here to support this bill to entertain the conversation to look at how we can better manage Molokini because there are concerns in the Native Hawaiian community as to how Molokini is managed. But also, if we were to look at Kahoolawe, that is the future of our Native Hawaiian people. There's a lot to be done and we don't have enough money in the trust fund. So I ask my colleagues to please support this measure and let the conversation move forward as we deliberate this issue. Thank you."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support H.B. 1961, H.D. 1 with reservations. HB 1961 HD1 imposes a $1 per customer surcharge on the 41 Molokini tour operators. The money generated will be deposited in the Ka'ho'olawe Rehabilitation Trust Fund rather than for management and sustainability of the Molokini reserve.

"My reservations are based on the possible negative impact this bill may have on 41 Molokini tour operators. Testimony against this bill raises legitimate issues about the hardship this may place on consumers, an undue burden on small business, and singling out one particular industry to shoulder the burden for a worthy, but unrelated cause.

"In addition, the collection process in the present draft places the onus on the State – presumably the Kahoolawe Island Reserve Commission (KIRC) – to pursue scofflaws who fail to pay the $1 surcharge (many customers purchase tickets for Molokini tours via activity package marketers, including internet outlets). Imposing the costs on the cash strapped KIRC to pursue individual customers for $1 appears impractical.

"As someone who had the privilege of sitting as a member of KIRC, I have no doubt about the importance of the restoration work so I support finding ways to add resources to the Trust Fund. Although Kaho'olawe rehabilitation and Molokini tour operators may seem unrelated, knowledgeable people point to a clear nexus between the two based on a traditional relationship that culturally links these areas – links reflected in oral historical accounts and Native Hawaiian stories. KIRC recognizes the link and has supported Molokini conservation efforts. The conservation efforts help preserve marine resources and serve as a sanctuary for species such as the Hawaiian Monk Seal and Humpback whale. Molokini tours benefit directly from such conservation efforts. This bill's proposed surcharge is not targeting an unrelated industry, and while the nexus may not be clear at first blush, the traditional link continues to exist.

"I support this bill with reservations."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I vote with reservations to continue the conversation."

Representative Shimabukuro rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Carroll be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Carroll be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In support, Mr. Speaker. May I have the words from the Representative from Kahoolawe and Molokini entered in the record as if they were my own? And a brief comment on my own.

"First of all, the passenger counts, with all due respect to the previous speaker, are down because of the economy and because of the overall visitor market being down. This January we've seen a record rebound in occupancy and quite a bit of activity, so you'll see the passenger counts come up quite a bit.

"And the second thing is that with bills like this, it helps to talk to people effected, i.e. the visitors. I happened to go down to Lahaina Harbor this weekend. I talked to many of them and said, 'Would give a dollar extra on your fee to preserve the Kahoolawe activities that are going on there?' And they all said yes, because they'd like to give a little something back. And that's the way they see it. Giving a little something back to make sure that the environment and the culture that they've enjoyed while they were here will be maintained and preserved for the future. Thank you, very much."

Representative Bertram rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Carroll be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1961, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE KAHO'OLAWE REHABILITATION TRUST FUND," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Ching, Marumoto and Pine voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 589-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2676, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2676, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE KAHO'OLAWE ISLAND RESERVE COMMISSION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Rhoads voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 591-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2053, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2053, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just have real short comments on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 591, with reservations. I changed my vote from a no, to reservations.

"But this is in regards to the University of Hawaii capital improvements program, and I noticed that this has an effective date upon approval. One of the things that the Administration brought up while in testimony is that there may be room for using CIP money for operations and that would not be a positive move. So my reservations are on that effective date upon approval for that bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2053, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS PROGRAM PROJECT ASSESSMENT SPECIAL FUND," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 597-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2829, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2829, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support, but with reservations on this matter and I would like to state why. Before I go on to my reservations, I just would like to say this bill is a good bill, however there may be some unintended consequences. This bill talks about self-reporting by hospitals on infections acquired while in the hospital.

"It's not that I'm saying there should not be reporting, however I have my reservations that the outcome of hospital acquired infections is going to be reported to the media and anyone else that wants to get it.

"I'm not saying they should not, but it brings back memories to me of several decades ago when there was a report by then St. Francis Hospital, that they have the highest death rate in the whole State. And they did because they had the highest median age of all patients. They have a lot of elderly people in there because of the neighborhood. It wasn't fair that that information was used against them by the public. There was a remarkable drop in hospital admissions because of that fear. 'You're going to die if you go there.'

"But my reservation on this is, if this could be a competition driver for hospitals because the public may not be able to discern the statistics or the reasons for the increase of hospital acquired infections in the hospital. Those are my concerns, that it might have these unintended consequences. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. What this bill does is it requires hospitals to disclose infection rates. I think infection rates are important to share with the public, but let me share with you some of the concerns. Hospitals in Hawaii have begun to address this issue already, individually and through the Health Care Association of Hawaii's Patient Safety and Quality Committee. This committee will address the issue of hospital acquired infections, as well as other quality and patient safety issues faced by hospitals and other health care providers.

"Additionally, the Patient Safety and Quality Committee has created an acute care data subcommittee that is responsible for defining, analyzing and formatting quality and safety measures and projects pertinent to acute care hospitals.

"Among other information, the subcommittee is considering infection control guidelines issued by the Centers of Disease Control and other agencies. The subcommittee will develop a strategy that all of Hawaii's hospitals can support.

"As the Department of Health pointed out, this legislative shortcut mechanism comes at an inappropriate time when hospitals can least afford to respond to this 'kneejerk' legislative mandate. According to the Department, 'State administrative rules already require data reporting for infections listed in the bill while other administrative while other administrative rules also require facilities to have active infection control programs. Medicare certification requirements require that Medicare approved hospitals and nursing homes have active infection control programs and national accreditation bodies such as the Joint Commission require infection control programs. All of Hawaii's hospitals and nursing homes are Medicare certified and all of Hawaii's major hospitals and medical centers are accredited. It is best to let the hospitals continue their work to create a reasonable workable transparent mechanism that will guarantee the greatest degree of success possible in providing quality health care for Hawaii's people.'

"Mr. Speaker, they're working really hard at this already. Let's allow them to do it well. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I vote with reservations for the same reasons expressed by our Minority Leader."

Representative Nishimoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Very briefly, this legislation is in 27 states right now. And the bottom line is if you wanted to get infection rates from individual hospitals, you cannot get it right now in Hawaii. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am standing in support with brief comments in support of the author. Mr. Speaker, this bill was created to increase transparency of the healthcare system. Mr. Speaker, the Consumer Union, which is the non-profit publisher of the Consumer Reports reported that the Center on Disease Control and Prevention estimates hospital costs of these infections can be as high as $4.5 billion each year.

"Mr. Speaker, the intent of this measure is to allow the consumers, we the patients, better access and understanding of hospital acquired infections. Again as stated by the previous speaker, 27 states have laws that require reporting hospital infections, and 21 states currently have reporting systems similar to the one proposed by my Vice Chair. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of HB 2829, HD1. The National Centers for Disease Control (CDC) estimates that every year two million patients get an infection while being hospitalized for something other than their original diagnosis. The CDC estimates that as many as 90,000 people die annually from infections while in the hospital, incurring a cost of some $4,500,000,000. This bill seeks to address these healthcare quality and cost-control problems by requiring hospitals to report hospital-acquired infection rates. Twenty-seven other states have passed similar measures, and seventeen of those states publish this information.

"Because reporting has the potential to improve health care, reduce overall health care costs, and save lives, I support HB 2829, HD1."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2829, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Finnegan voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 598-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2084, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2084, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this is A Bill for an Act Relating to the Federal Disproportionate Share of Hospital Funds. A lot of the time we call it DSH. The purpose of this bill is to meet rising healthcare costs and ensure that Hawaii's residents have continued access to quality health care by appropriating State funds to maximize the availability of the federal Disproportionate Share Hospital Allowance. Mr. Speaker, this specifically appropriates $12.6 million.

"Mr. Speaker, we want to be able to pull in as much federal dollars as we can. We need to help our hospitals. A pretty significant problem is we're trying to balance a huge budget shortfall. $12.6 million is a lot of money, and I understand that there is a federal amount that we can get. But when the bottom line is we don't have money, then it's hard to do a match.

"Mr. Speaker, I would also like to say at this point in time, we hear all the time how our legislators are upset with Director Koller for all the different things that she does in the Department of Human Services. Well, let me just point out one thing having to do with these DSH payments. Director Koller has brought in $115 million for the hospitals since 2005. This is something that she had done that no one in State government had done since 1994. That's 11 years of not bringing in federal money.

"Mr. Speaker, as we move forward, I just wanted to share that if we're looking at a significant amount of $12.6 million, which I think that we should look at, then can we please at least ask where is that going to come from. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing in support. Just to add some comments in support Mr. Speaker, regarding DSH as explained by the previous speaker. I would just like to highlight that DSH partially pays for the care that is not covered by insurance such as Medicare, Medicaid, and private insurance as stated by the Health Care Association of Hawaii.

"Just for people to be aware, in 2009, Hawaii's hospitals experienced a loss totaling a $114 million in bad debt and charity care. Also Mr. Speaker, Hawaii's hospitals lost 20 cents on every one dollar spent on providing care for Med-QUEST patients, and 21 cents on every Medicare patient.

"So Mr. Speaker, in the current situation in which our healthcare is our lifeline, they provide 24-hour care, acute care, emergency care to the people that rely on us to make sure that the care they need for their family and friends is available, especially during times of crisis. Mr. Speaker, this bill would provide that. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of the same bill. And may I have the words of the Health Chair placed in the Journal as if they were my own? And I'd like to provide a few more comments. Thank you, very much.

"The Minority Leader brought up some very good points. I actually agree with the Minority Leader. It's going to take $12.6 million in State funds. What the Minority Leader didn't say is the federal funds that would be coming down because of the $12.6 million is $15 million, which was secured by Hawaii's Congressional Delegation. To pull $15 million down, it is true that we would need $12.6 million. With the Governor having a budget of over $5 billion, I think someone can prudently get $12.6 to collect our $15 million in federal funds waiting for us. For those reasons, I support the passage of this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2084, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE FEDERAL DISPROPORTIONATE SHARE HOSPITAL FUNDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Finnegan voting no.

At 12:47 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2643, HD 2
H.B. No. 2644, HD 2
H.B. No. 1961, HD 1
H.B. No. 2676, HD 1
H.B. No. 2053
H.B. No. 2829, HD 1
H.B. No. 2084, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 599-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2085, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2085, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 601-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2688, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2688, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise with reservations on HB 2688. This particular measure changes the name of the Environmental Health Education Fund to the Sanitation and Environmental Health Special Fund and allows the funds to be used for sanitation program activities and functions. It also increases the amount that the Fund may accumulate before the excess is transferred into the general fund.

"HB 2688 is essentially more budgeting on auto pilot. As the Department of Budget and Finance mentioned in its testimony, the proposed bill "limits the flexibility of the Executive Branch to review program funding requirements and allocate funding to programs based on statewide priorities within available resources." HB 2688 would not provide any flexibility to account for any adverse fiscal conditions the State faces. This measure is part of an alarming pattern developing that hurts our ability to reinvent government."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on H.B. 2688, Relating to Health. This bill changes the name of the Environmental Health Education Fund to the Sanitation and Environmental Health Special Fund, and allows the funds to be used for sanitation program activities and functions. It also increases the amount that the Fund may accumulate before the excess is transferred into the general fund.

"According to the Sanitation Branch, the program will raise the roughly $2,445,000 through an increase in the existing user fee charged to food establishments for their Department of Health Food Establishment Permit and feels this bill will lay the foundation for a world-class food safety program that is on par with the best food safety programs in the U.S. The bill establishes various initiatives to obtain proper staffing levels, move to a web-based inspection and Permitting process, and introduce a new placarding system.

"We must ask the question: Is this the time to implement more cost increasing numbers?

"Although this measure has good intentions to increase funds for sanitation program activities, I have deep concerns as to the costs this would mean to the State and the fiscal implications for the Food Service Industry and the residents and visitors of Hawaii. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2688, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 602-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2801, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2801, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with strong reservations. Slight reservations. I have slight reservations about this. It's about making another emergency appropriation for the HHSC. Two brief points, Mr. Speaker.

"Number one, the bill is kind of a misnomer because to have an emergency appropriation it's supposed to have a message from the Governor unless the budget bill passes first. So it's kind of deceptive in that way. And unfortunately the bill is typical of what we do every year, and that is a bailout between $25 and $50 million per year.

"But my second point is, how long are we going to ignore the Stroudwater Report? The what report? The Stroudwater Report is what this Body, Mr. Speaker, last year commissioned to study what's going on with the HHSC. How can we make it better? The bottom line of that study is that HHSC is not a viable business model. Repeat. HHSC is not a viable business model and it is doomed to failure, as it has been failing $25 to $50 million per year. Unless it is restructured and run like the private sector, it is going to be doomed to failure.

"This bill, Mr. Speaker, buys into the old model, and I'm wondering how well it is going to be spent, and with those serious reservations I think we need to wake up to know that we have a hospital system that is very sick. The infection rates are off the charts and unless we do something, it's going to be a great sucking sound into the budget on this Floor every year. An emergency appropriation like this small $16 million one is going to be a drop in the bucket. So, Mr. Speaker, with that I say we've got to wake up to the Stroudwater Report. I urge all of my colleagues to read it and to see if we're going to do anything other than doing emergency appropriations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sagum rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sagum's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I strongly support HB 2801, HD 2, Making an Emergency Appropriation for Hawaii Health System Corporation for Operational Costs.

"HHSC operates two hospitals on Kauai: Kauai Veterans' Memorial Hospital (KVMH) and Mahelona Hospital. KVMH serves the West Kauai District with its hospital, clinic and emergency room services.

"For the Kauai Region, a cessation of payments from the State QUEST program is approximately $1 million per month. The Kauai Region would be short $3 million for the payments of April, May and June. Without the emergency appropriation from the State, the Kauai Region would not be able to cover the payroll as this cash flow is an integral part of their monthly collections. Other regions will probably be similarly affected.

"For this reason, I strongly support HB 2801, HD 2 to support our State Hospital System."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I understand that the money is needed for the emergency appropriation for HHSC. I do agree with the previous speaker from Hawaii Kai that mentioned the Stroudwater Report and really taking a better grasp on the way that the HHSC is set up.

"But what I would like to more so comment on is the second part of the bill that establishes the Big Island Rural Interdisciplinary Program in East Hawaii Region. Mr. Speaker, this is a program that is asking for emergency appropriations. This is very different from what emergency appropriations, in my opinion, should be. This is a program that had gotten off its feet by getting some federal money in, but also through appropriations, I believe made through the Legislature, and then the Governor decided not to release that. Knowing that the Governor was not going to release those funds, this particular program still moved forward.

"Mr. Speaker, there are so many things in our budget in programs that are underfunded and we can't get them done, and I think they rise to the level of this or surpass the level of this newly formed Big Island Rural Interdisciplinary Program. Mr. Speaker, for it to be an emergency funding to me is crazy. And that's the main reason why I'm voting no. If you want to fund the program, I mean we're also looking at putting $83 million of delay in funding until next year. We have Furlough Fridays. We have all of these issues, but yet we're putting a few million dollars into this program that should have had the foresight to see that maybe it wouldn't get the support, and maybe they should have pulled back a little bit. But they still moved forward full blast and ask for emergency appropriations.

"Mr. Speaker, I think that is wrong and I think that if you're going to fund it, use another mechanism, but definitely do not do it through emergency appropriations. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. The previous speaker is an active and involved member of the Health Committee. I understand her concern. However I do want to state that the underlying bill is to help our Hawaii Health Systems Corporation.

"Mr. Speaker, due to the economic crisis and our current shortfalls, it is vital, vital, that we support in any way we can our HHSC system. Mr. Speaker, without supporting and funding, even if we're asking for $16.2 million, as well as the $2.5, this is a nominal amount of money compared to the $111 million currently that they're behind in, in the whole system. So Mr. Speaker, this measure, the intent is to assist in any way we can, to ensure that our Neighbor Islands and our rural health colleagues, get the adequate care for the people. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2801, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION FOR OPERATIONAL COSTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Finnegan voting no.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"The Chair would like to take a recess for 35 minutes, for the Members of the House to have some lunch, and we'll reconvene at 1:30."

At 12:55 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 2:58 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, at this time we are on page 18. And we ended at Stand. Com. Rep. No. 602-10. But before we continue on to 604, at this time Members, we will be taking two items out of order.

"Please turn to page 24, and refer to Stand. Com. Rep. No. 666-10, House Bill No. 2003, HD 2. Is everyone on page 24? We are taking this measure out of order."

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 666-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2003, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2003, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

At this time, Representative Marumoto offered Floor Amendment No. 2, amending H.B. No. 2003, HD 2, as follows:

"SECTION 1. House Bill 2003, House Draft 2, is amended by deleting its contents, and replacing it with the following text, to read as follows:

"PART I

SECTION 1. This Act updates, organizes, and clarifies current campaign finance laws.

The laws have their genesis in Act 185, Session Laws of Hawaii 1973. Over the past thirty-five years, numerous amendments have been made to the campaign finance laws in a piecemeal fashion and, apparently, with little regard to the laws as a whole. The resulting laws are unorganized, difficult to read, and inconsistent in some areas. The current campaign finance laws are codified in part XII, subpart B of chapter 11, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

This Act organizes the campaign finance laws into a new part of chapter 11, with ten subparts. Long and involved sections are divided into shorter sections with clear titles for quick reference. All the laws on one subject are grouped together, in contrast to current campaign finance laws that require a reader to search through the entire subpart for laws that may apply to that one subject.

This Act is a product of the campaign spending commission's blue ribbon recodification committee (committee). The committee completed its work in 2008 after meeting regularly for nine months. The committee comprised the commission's staff and seventeen attorneys who were experienced in campaign finance law and who represented various interests.

The purpose of this Act is to update, organize, and clarify current campaign finance laws and make minor substantive changes to the current laws.

PART II

Representative Marumoto moved that Floor Amendment No. 2 be adopted, seconded by Representative Ward.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, this is a lengthy floor amendment, but a simple one to understand. The proposed House Draft 3 reverts back to the original version of the bill. No cute stuff. No grand policy changes or nefarious ones. No tinkering around. No games. No return of 'pay to play' in any form. It's the original version of House Bill 2003, the straight recodification of our campaign spending laws.

"As for why this amendment, a couple of points. First, I quote from the Campaign Spending Commission's testimony on this bill:

> Our final point is that a recodification of the campaign finance law is long overdue. The current campaign finance laws have their genesis in Act 185, Session Laws 1973. Over the past 36 years, numerous amendments have been made to the laws in a piecemeal fashion and, apparently, with little regard to the laws as a whole. The result is laws that are unorganized, difficult to read, and inconsistent in some areas. The current law is in Part XII, subpart B of HRS chapter 11.
> This bill organizes the campaign finance laws into a new part of HRS chapter 11, with ten subparts. Long and involved sections are divided into shorter sections with clear titles for quick reference. All the laws on one subject are grouped together, in contrast to the current laws that require a reader to search through the whole subpart for laws that may apply to that subject.

This bill is a product of the work of the Campaign Spending Commission's Blue Ribbon Recodification Committee. The Committee completed its work in 2008 after meeting regularly for nine months. The Committee was comprised of the Commission's staff and seventeen volunteer attorneys experienced in campaign finance law who represent diverse interests.

"In other words, we are here today trying to make the laws more user friendly, better organized. The reason in and of itself is enough reason to pass this amendment. But there is a second point as to why this amendment is necessary. The recodification should have been passed by this Body and signed into law last year. Instead, certain legislators decided to hijack a very technical bill for otherwise unknown purposes. Why would anybody want to return to a system of 'pay to play?' We're going back on the reforms we made for political action committees. Why? And so forth? I don't know but the possible answers aren't very flattering.

"If some wish to make substantive changes, then do it in another bill. Don't take the easy route and mix the two, burying two sentence changes in a hundred page bill. Keep the recodification just that, a recodification.

"And I would urge my colleagues to support the amendment. However, I see a Majority amendment on the desk. It is before us now. It is very similar in content. So at this time, I will take my amendment off the table and throw my support to the Majority measure."

At this time, Representative Marumoto moved to withdraw Floor Amendment No. 2, seconded by Representative Ward and carried.

At this time, Representative C. Lee offered Floor Amendment No. 4, amending H.B. No. 2003, HD 2, as follows:

"SECTION 1. H.B. No. 2003, H.D. 2, RELATING TO CAMPAIGN FINANCING, is amended as follows:

1. By amending subsections (a) and (b) of section 11-II in section 2 to read as follows:

"(a) It shall be unlawful for any person who enters into any contract with the State, any of its counties, or any department or agency thereof either for the rendition of personal services, the buying of property, or furnishing of any material, supplies, or equipment to the State, any of its counties, department or agency thereof, or for selling any land or building to the State, any of its counties, or any department or agency thereof, if payment for the performance of the contract or payment for material, supplies, equipment, land, property, or building is to be made in whole or in part from funds appropriated by the legislative body, at any time between the execution of the contract through the completion of the contract, to:

(1) Directly or indirectly make any contribution, or promise expressly or impliedly to make any contribution to any candidate committee or noncandidate committee, or to any candidate or to any person for any political purpose or use; or

(2) Knowingly solicit any contribution from any person for any purpose during any period.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (a), this section does not prohibit or make unlawful the establishment or administration of, or the solicitation of contributions to, any noncandidate committee by any person other than the state or county contractor for the purpose of influencing the nomination for election, or the election of any person to office."

2. By amending subsection (c) of section 11-KK in section 2 to read as follows:

"(c) No person shall make contributions to a noncandidate committee in an aggregate amount greater than $1,000 in an election. This subsection shall not apply to ballot issue committees."

3. By amending section 11-UU(a)(4) of section 2 to read as follows:

"(4) To make donations to any public school or library; provided that in any election period, the total amount of all donations shall be no more than twice the maximum amount that one person may contribute to that candidate pursuant to section 11-KK and no donations shall be made from the date the candidate files nomination papers to the date of the general election; provided further that any donation under this paragraph shall not be aggregated with or imputed toward any limitation on donations pursuant to paragraph (3);"

SECTION 2. H.B. No. 2003, H.D. 2, RELATING TO CAMPAIGN FINANCING, is amended by amending section 12 as follows:

"SECTION 12. This Act shall take effect on November 3, 2010, and shall apply to reporting periods beginning after November 2, 2010.""

Representative C. Lee moved that Floor Amendment No. 4 be adopted, seconded by Representative Bertram.

At this time, Representative Souki moved to table the motion for adoption of Floor Amendment No. 4.

At 3:05 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 3:07 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"At this point, there is no second to the motion to table, so the Chair will recognize Representative Chris Lee, the offeror, for discussion."

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, we cannot allow even the appearance of impropriety in our decision-making, and we cannot allow companies with state contracts to make political contributions without crossing this line.

"The intent of amending and passing this measure is to finally recodify Hawaii's outdated campaign spending laws, by passing the precise recommendations of the Campaign Spending Commission."

At this time, Representative Finnegan requested a roll call vote at the appropriate time.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, are we debating the floor amendment or discussing the floor amendment? Not the tabling or anything of the likes?

"I rise in support of the amendment. You know it's six of one, and half a dozen of another. I like the one that the Representative from Kaimuki-Kahala proposed, and the other one that just followed from Waimanalo. I'm in between those two so obviously I like my company on both sides of my district.

"The great thing about what we're doing is we're separating the wheat from the chaff, or the Administrative Rules from the campaign policy. Campaign spending, Mr. Speaker, is a real long set of policies and there's a lot of moving parts in the Administration. This one makes it clear, which is the way it should have been. And I think if someone said it was hijacked, this kind of un-hijacks it. Freezes it so you don't get the pure version of campaign finance spending, and that which is then a really policy oriented thing. So I think this is the right way to proceed. Hopefully it will be for future precedence also. Thank you."

The request of roll call was put to vote by the Chair and upon a show of hands, the request was approved.

Roll call having been approved, the motion that Floor Amendment No. 4, amending H.B. No. 2003, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN FINANCING," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and carried on the following show of Ayes:

Ayes, 51: Aquino, Awana, Belatti, Berg, Bertram, Brower, Cabanilla, Carroll, Chang, Ching, Chong, Choy, Coffman, Evans, Finnegan, Hanohano, Har, Herkes, Ito, Karamatsu, Keith-Agaran, C. Lee, M. Oshiro, Pine, Rhoads, Sagum, Saiki, Say, Shimabukuro, Souki, Takai, Takumi, Thielen, Tokioka, Tsuji, Wakai, Ward, Wooley, Yamane and Yamashita.

At 3:12 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that Floor Amendment No. 4 was adopted.

At 3:12 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 3:12 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members of the House, thank you very much for your patience and diligence. May we turn back to page 18. So we have taken two items out of order, which were on page 24. Those were Floor Amendment No. 2 and Floor Amendment No. 4. Are we all on page 18?"

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 604-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2157, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2157, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of Stand. Com. Report 604. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The measure before us increases the capacity from two to three for nursing facility level residents, in a Type I Expanded Adult Residential Care Home.

"Mr. Speaker, it's estimated that by year 2020, one in four residents in the State of Hawaii will be age 60 or over. It illustrates a need for such expanded care for our elderly. Two important principles for this measure, Mr. Speaker. It reflects traditional principles that define Hawaii, that we care for our elderly.

"And second, there is an urgency to pass this measure because there is a shortage of skilled nursing level beds in our State. Thus allowing Type I Expanded Adult Residential Care Homes to increase their capacity from two to three nursing level residents will help to reduce the financial burden of our State and save literally millions of dollars by having residents reside in an affordable, expanded care home.

"The savings will be recognized as this will provide a viable healthcare option compared to the high cost of the State placing our elderly in institutional care. Healthcare costs are already at a premium level for our general population. Just visualize the cost for a second, of healthcare for our elderly. A simple snapshot confirms elderly cost.

"For example, in Hawaii, on average, emergency room hospitalization, rehabilitation and long-term care costs directly related to senior falls total $92 million per year. This equals $252,000 per day. This is one segment of senior care. Expanded care homes will reduce the cost substantially.

"It's also more cost efficient, especially during these times of our economic crisis. Residents in Type I Expanded Care Homes will pay approximately $2,500 to $3,500 per month. If our senior were to stay in a private nursing institution, they would expect to pay between $8,000 to $10,000 per month.

"Type I care homes are regulated by the State Department of Health and the Office of Health Care Assurance, the same agency that regulates nursing homes. Also each nursing resident is followed by a licensed healthcare or case manager to provide oversight and ensure delivery of care.

"Mr. Speaker, just one last point. Type I care homes provide direct supervision and contact with residents. If you want to look at the ratio for our Type I expanded care that's for five residents in a home, it's generally one to five, possibly two, three, even five to five based on our clients. What I'm saying is if you have one patient that may not be able to walk it has to be a one to one ratio. One caregiver to that one patient. If two of your clients can't walk, it's then two to two. That's how it breaks down.

"This is in stark contrast to a private nursing home where the reduced level of care can be as high one caregiver to 20 patients. It obviously depends on what shift it is. If you're talking about the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift, it can go down to that bad. One to 20, that's the ratio. So for those reasons, I support this measure and I hope other Members will also support this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2157, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EXPANDED ADULT RESIDENTIAL CARE HOMES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Berg and Choy voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 605-10) recommending that H.B. No. 744, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 744, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of this measure and I'm very happy to see it before us. As a member of the Kupuna Caucus I'm happy to see that this program, which is modeled after the Amber Alert program to find missing children expeditiously, is passing. This measure contains the Silver Alert, which would find seniors as soon as possible. I thank you for finally realizing the wisdom of this Republican bill that we introduced last year, and I think you're finally getting it. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Also in support and I just wanted to thank all those that were involved. The Alzheimer's Association of Hawaii, the Policy Advisory Board for Elder Affairs, the Health Care Association of Hawaii, the social workers and the individuals who took time out of their busy schedules to support this Silver Alert program, as well as the Chairs that agreed to hear the bill. Aloha."

Representative Mizuno rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Marumoto and Ching be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 744, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HUMAN SERVICES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 607-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1991, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1991, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, in opposition to SCR 607. Yes, Mr. Speaker, what this bill does is it increases the fee for a traffic abstract. The original bill basically increased the fees to about 43% or so over the current price. It's currently left blank and that's why I kind of want make some comments at this time.

"Again, many people are suffering in the State of Hawaii. This particular legislation is not for anything in particular, but to instead go to the general fund. There is going to be about 500,000 abstracts pulled by the people of Hawaii, and so many people will be affected by this increase. Many states have had lowered the costs per abstract fee. Some states have only a two dollar charge on abstract fee and they've had that charge for many, many, many years. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1991, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRAFFIC ABSTRACT FEE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Brower, Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine and Thielen voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 608-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2508, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2508, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Luke rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I wanted to rise on a potential conflict. The law firm that I work for has claimants listed in this Claims Against the State," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd also like to rise to disclose a potential conflict. My law firm has claimants in this bill as well," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2508, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR CLAIMS AGAINST THE STATE, ITS OFFICERS, OR ITS EMPLOYEES.," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 3:22 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2085, HD 1
H.B. No. 2688, HD 1
H.B. No. 2801, HD 2
H.B. No. 2157, HD 1
H.B. No. 744, HD 2
H.B. No. 1991, HD 2
H.B. No. 2508, HD 2

At 3:22 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 3:23 o'clock p.m., with Vice Speaker Magaoay presiding.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 609-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1904, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1904, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to Standing Committee Report No. 609, HB 1904. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of this bill is to require an amount equivalent to the unfunded accrued liability contribution by the State for State employees to be set aside from general excise tax revenues and deposited into a separate account in the general fund.

"Mr. Speaker, I've always been a vocal supporter of not raising the unfunded liability. Talking about how we have a three-year mandate to keep the cost down and not add any more benefits or anything like that. So one might ask why would I be against something like this?

"Mr. Speaker, if we put this in law what happens, to me, what happens is it does take away our ability, especially at this point in time, to try and figure out how we're going to balance the budget. And that is probably our single most important responsibility this Legislative Session. How are we going to do it?

"This doesn't allow us to have the flexibility in future years should we need that kind of flexibility. And because this stems from originally, years back where we did siphon off revenues, or our payment to the ERS, that I believe that we should not do this and give us the flexibility to address this.

"Plus, when we did a briefing earlier before the Session started, there was a report that's due with regard to the unfunded liability on how many years we'll have to pay. This report is supposed to come back, I believe next year, in the beginning of next year. At that point, I think, that would be the appropriate time to consider looking towards legislation like this, as well as it would give us some time to not necessarily have to address it right now. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. Basically for the same reasons. It's untimely, unnecessary, and even though a great cause, it's something we can't afford right now. We can't 'squirrel' away money, the same way that a family that's using money to buy food cannot start paying back debts on a car that may have gone sour. The point is, you have to have the right thing at the right time. This is the right thing, but at the wrong time. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you very much. Just a few comments in support of this measure. Those who may not have had a chance to review the draft before us, it does several things. First of all, it requires the deposit of tax collections in a sum equivalent to the unfunded accrued pension liability of the ERS contribution by the State for State employees during the fiscal year into a separate account of the general fund. It also provides that the State's monthly contribution for State employees for the unfunded accrued liability be paid from the separate account of the general fund. Currently drafted it will take effect July 1, 2011.

"I think Members need to keep in mind that as reported by the latest ERS 2009 actuarial valuation report, as of June 30, 2009 the ERS's unfunded actuarial liability increased from $5.2 billion to $6.2 billion. And the ERS had a 64.6% funded ratio. Not the best ratio in the land. This ratio represents a percentage of funds the ERS has on hand to cover current and future pension benefit payments.

"Members, you also need to keep in mind that actuarially speaking, Hawaii's retirees live a long time, longer than the average. In fact, this means pension benefits need to be paid out over a longer period of time. The funding for future pension payments is based on estimated annual pay increases, however actual worker pay increases have been increasing over the last several years.

"And finally, Mr. Speaker, the number of retirees is steadily growing so payments are growing too. The ERS made $792 million in payments to 36,200 retirees in fiscal year 2008, and about $840 million to 37,000 retirees in fiscal year 2009. In 2012, Mr. Speaker, when more baby boomers retire, the ERS will hit the $1 billion payout mark. For these reasons, I hope Members support this measure. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for letting me speak a second time. Mr. Speaker, I'm still in opposition. I would like to say that the Chair of Finance is absolutely right when we're talking about this unfunded liability. I believe that you would find the Minority Caucus for at least the time that I've been here as a freshman until now, that we've been advocating that before we even start new programs or do anything during good times, that we take a look at the unfunded liability. I know that we've made at least one payment to the unfunded liability since I've been here. I'm not sure if there was more.

"But the issue is not that we don't take care of it. The issue is, when are we going to take care of it? This year and next is going to be a really tough time for us, and to commit our general funds and our resources to pay back something that should have been started to be paid back way back then, we should have made that a priority at that time instead of adding on more programs. Mr. Speaker, that's my issue, the timing of it. We should not commit those funds now. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just another, how would I say, historical footnote if I may add? In opposition. The reason we're in this position is because in more difficult times in the '90s and prior to that, this Body had set in regulation, in statute, that any amount that the ERS was earning above 8% in its investments, we raked across the top and put it into the general fund. That went along fine until there was a crisis during the Cayetano Administration. I believe that was Mr. Anzai who decided not to make a payment into the ERS, which now has caused us to be really behind.

"And now with the economy lagging we are even being more behind. Now is not the time to right what was going on in the Caytano Administration. We should wait until things get better. But to be mindful that this Body created the problem and this bill is not going to suddenly be a 'magic bullet' and the solution. We siphoned off this money. We denied them payments. But fortunately now there's a firewall between this Body and that trust fund.

"It's almost the same way that Congress has been raiding the social security funds except in this way, when they were getting a lot of returns, we were relishing in the abundance of it. Now we've got to 'pay the piper.' The point is, to pay it now is as untimely as back then when we borrowed the money, which we shouldn't have. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations to H.B. 1904, Relating to Government. This bill requires the set aside from General Excise Tax revenues of an amount equivalent to the unfunded accrued liability contribution by the State for State employees during a fiscal year, and deposits the funds into a separate account in the general fund.

"I have deep concerns as to the fiscal impact, which remains largely unknown. According to the Tax Foundation, this measure would prioritize these funds ahead of other general funds, possibly lead to future accounting errors such as the double counting of tax collections, and may violate the intent and spirit of the general fund ceiling. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1904, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Finnegan and Ward voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 610-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1905, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1905, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in support with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think there's just a common message in most of the bills that I'm going to be talking about, having to balance the budget. In the Finance Committee, we're not quite there as to passing out the budget, so most of my comments will either be on bills that relate to balancing the budget, knowing that the budget has not been decided upon yet for the House. Having said that, the purpose of this bill is to set aside from general excise tax revenues an amount not to exceed $63 million to pay fringe benefit contributions not paid in fiscal year 2008 - 2009 in an amount to not exceed $275 million to pay tax refunds not paid in fiscal year 2010 - 2011.

"Mr. Speaker, I am going with reservations on this and not a 'no' vote, but just reservations. I think that this is very, very important, that we take care of our obligations. The reservation that I have is, again, we're trying to balance a $1.2 billion shortfall. When I look at this, especially if you look at the $275 million, the $275 million probably equates to, I'm guessing off the top of my head, about a .375 or so increase in a general excise tax that we would be able to pull in if we raised it by that much.

"This is a lot of money to make up and divert from the Governor's proposal. And as much as I would like to, because I do believe that we should give back as quick as possible, any tax returns that belong to tax payers. As you know, we've been strong advocates for taxpayers. It makes it very difficult for us to make that decision between cutting and raising taxes. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I speak for this with some reservations, but with a full understanding of why this particular measure is needed. I also understand there are some time limitations on this, and that is good.

"My reservation is that somehow with this Administration and now with us, we keep on doing these things. We keep providing deferrals of the inevitable. It's only a 'shell game.' I don't blame anybody. But someday we have got to 'pay the piper.' This cannot go on forever.

"I think the message of this particular bill is that it should stop and in the next go around we should take care of this problem, and that is good. But if we don't have the resources in the following biennium, we won't be able to take care of this problem, so we'll just continue to have it. How long do we continue with this?

"I'm basically ashamed in a way, of the Minority Party and the Governor in some respects, who've always been very fiscally prudent, to now allow this kind of thing to happen. Not only to allow, but to lead this to happen. And to have her supporters here who are also supporting this particular item, when we all know that we are balancing the budget with the people's taxes, their hard earned money. This is money that belongs to them and it's being deferred, only to balance the budget. That is wrong. And it's wrong for the Governor to do it. It's wrong for us to support it. That's all, Mr. Chairman. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I support the bill primarily because I feel, the Governor's decision to defer $275 million of tax refunds from one fiscal year to another is just a 'smoke and mirrors' response to the crisis we're in. I also feel like the $63 million deferral of EUTF benefits is of the same ilk, and I think it's just putting off the problems down the road when we need to address them now.

"I regretfully support the bill. It's too bad that we had to raise it and prepare the ground for paying that money back in the coming fiscal years. It's a response to a 'smoke and mirrors' solution and that's why I support it. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1905, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE PAYMENTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 613-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2964, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2964, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 2964, which increases the salary reduction of various State officers and legislators from 5% to 8.07%. We must lead by example. As a result, this reduction could possibly motivate others, such as union bosses and certain government employees to be open to also take these cuts to help alleviate the State of its current economic situation. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 2964, House Draft 1, Relating to Salaries. This bill:

(1) Increases the percentage by which the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Justices and Judges, the Administrative Director of the State, and the department heads and executive officers are to be reduced from 5 to 8.07% beginning July 1, 2010 until June 30, 2011.

(2) Increases the percentage by which the salaries of the members of the Legislature are to be reduced from 5 to 8.07% beginning July 1, 2010 until June 30, 2011.

"On October 29, 2009, the Hawaii Government Employees Association ratified a two-year contract with the State and counties that include 42 fewer workdays for most of its members. The contracts, from July 1, 2009, through June 30, 2011, call for some 18 furlough days this fiscal year, and 24 furlough days in the next fiscal year for state employees, including those in blue-collar supervisory jobs and white-collar nonsupervisory positions.

"The 42 furlough days equals a reduction in salary of 8.07%.

"This bill would apply a reduction equal to that in effect for HGEA members to the salaries of the Executive, Judicial, and Legislative official of State government that are covered by the Commission on Salaries.

"It is noteworthy to mention that this bill did not receive any opposing testimony during the public hearing.

"Lastly, during these austere financial times, it behooves the leaders of this State to demonstrate our commitment to stand by our fellow government workers. If the lowest paid workers in State government must take an 8.07% cut in pay, so should those who are paid more, including the officials covered by the Commission on Salaries.

"I urge my colleagues to support this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2964, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALARIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Hanohano voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 614-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2257, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2257, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is in regards to Stand. Com. Rep. No. 614, HB No. 2257. With reservations. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to thank my colleagues for being very patient with me standing up on all of these bills. I think it's very important that we speak on what we think is not correct with the bills. Thank you.

"Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to encourage workers who are receiving partial unemployment benefits and are exempt from work search requirements to look for part-time work to supplement their benefits by providing that these workers are not disqualified for partial unemployment benefits, if they separate from their part-time employer, regardless of the reason for the separation.

"Mr. Speaker, you know I looked at this, and it wasn't exactly an easy bill to have reservations on. They cite one particular situation where a person who is considered still attached to their employment, and they don't have the requirement of looking for a job since they're still attached to their employer. They go out for supplemental income so they get a part-time job. With this part-time job this particular person ended up either, and it's disputable, either leaving or getting fired. So hence this bill, because it was a situation where she had a lot of reasons for what happened and why, she was either let go or left.

"So when you look at that, she was qualified for unemployment insurance. She got a part time job. The break in service happened. And now she's disqualified for unemployment insurance. In that kind of case, you look at it and you say, 'Wow maybe that is not fair.' But Mr. Speaker, I back up and I look from a general perspective of unemployment insurance.

"The Unemployment Insurance Fund, the purpose of this Fund is to take care of people who've become unemployed through no fault of their own. So that's the basis of unemployment insurance. The second thing is, how does this differ from someone who has a job, gets laid off, then because they're searching for a job, they get another job and their unemployment benefits are still available to them. They end up finding a job and now they're not on unemployment anymore. But for whatever reason, whether they get fired or they leave, they will be disqualified from getting unemployment insurance from their previous job.

"So when I compare those two situations and I say, 'Okay, where's the fairness in this?' And maybe we should go back to the general purpose of what unemployment insurance is for. Yes, you may catch unfair situations like, for instance this person. That might be an unfair situation that is cited in this testimony here. But you've got to look at the general purpose of the Unemployment Insurance Fund. In that situation, if that person was fired, who went back to work, they have a job, and then gets fired. Why isn't he treated or she treated the same way this part-time attached person is? And we've got to go and say, 'Why are we treating those two situations differently?'

"I think then at that point in time, it does create a wrong precedent that we could be saying later on down the line that for any reason you can still qualify for unemployment insurance. Then I would say that this is very difficult and costly for businesses if we head in that direction. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Thank you. This bill addresses a very specific situation. Under current law if you're laid off, but only temporarily laid off, say you work at a hotel that has a low season during the winter time and I don't know what the situation would be exactly. You're only going to be off work for a couple months. Under current law, you're not required to look for a job to collect unemployment insurance. Normally if you're on unemployment you have to look for a job to collect unemployment insurance. This is a special situation because you're going to be brought back on with the same employer within a reasonable length of time.

"There's really no incentive under that situation for a person to go look for another job. They know they've got unemployment benefits until their job comes back. In this case, the person who takes the initiative, goes out and finds a part time job, and reduces the unemployment insurance paid by the first employer, gets penalized. If they lose the second job, they lose their unemployment benefits entirely, even though they didn't need to go out and look for a job at all and not risk their unemployment benefits at all.

"So the reason they're treated differently is because this is an unusual situation where you're connected to an employer. You're going to get your job back and it's just a matter of time. But you don't want to discourage people from going to find another job by making it so that they lose their unemployment for the first job if they lose their second job.

"I know that's pretty confusing. I hope I got my point across, but this is a very specific situation and I think even from the employers' perspective it's better to do it this way because they don't have to go out and look for another person to fill the job that they know they're going to have fill within a short period of time. Mahalo."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Regarding Stand. Com. Rep. No. 619, HB 1818, I vote with reservations. Basically the only issue that I have is that there was testimony offered that said there are potential constitutional problems with this bill. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. The Attorney General likes to raise concerns anytime there is a bill that relates to Native Hawaiians. And for every AG Opinion out there, there are also a dozen or more different legal opinions.

"The State Constitution provides in Article 12, Section 7, Traditional and Customary Rights for descendants of Native Hawaiians. As stated by the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, this ethnic group is comprised of the highest percent of the State's total prison population. OHA goes on to state that "… the social and economic cost to incarcerate a person for 39 months was $123,000. Transitional programs, such as those cited in HB 1818, HD1, would cost much less, and programming would place an emphasis on wellness and independent living."

"The intent of these programs is not to mandate a religion or culture, but to provide the highest ethnic population of inmates with the tools they need to heal and learn how to become productive and peaceful citizens transitioning back into society.

"The testimony coming from the Community Alliance on Prisons shares compelling testimony through documented research and data at the national and international levels. We also received testimony from an individual who was incarcerated. He stated, "I felt more in touch with my native roots and it had made me accountable for my actions." He continues, "There is a yearning for this type of program because we have so many kanaka maoli in the prisons. Once you're in prison, you have a lot to think about. Banding together as Hawaiians made the transition easier. I ask this bill to be passed."

"Mr. Speaker, I ask the consideration of yourself and the Members of this House to look at rehabilitation instead of only incarceration through this passage of HB 1818, HD 1. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1818, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COGNITIVE RESTRUCTURING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support for this measure. The tsunami warning this past weekend only enforced the fact that this measure is needed. Had this measure been passed and implemented sooner, many of the challenges that we on the Waianae Coast experienced on Tsunami Warning Saturday would have been avoided.

"Where was our Civil Defense at 8:00 am? Not in the Waianae Coast Mr. Speaker. When they arrived around 9:00 am at selected shelters only after being requested by the community, what was the plan from the Civil Defense? There was no plan. The plan was to wait until 11:00 am, when the tsunami was expected to enter our waters and we would find out then.

"Those who reside and do business on the Waianae Coast unlike others areas in the State of Hawaii are limited to one, and only one main highway – Farrington Highway. In times of a natural disaster, one of the first actions that take place is closure of Farrington Highway. For this reason, this measure requests the assistance of the State Civil Defense because the State provides oversight to the only main roadway – Farrington Highway.

"The State is responsible for the oversight of air or sea commute should these alternative modes become necessary. The State works closely with the military that is responsible for a large land mass in the largest valley in the area - Lualualei. The State is responsible for many human services for our large homeless population, and indigent groups. Many do not have electricity or telephones. If they have cellular phones, there are many homeless who reside in areas where there is no cellular phone access. The State is responsible for the public schools where the community assembles during a natural disaster. This community has experienced tsunamis, hurricanes, high winds, fires and high surf – all of which required the closure of Farrington Highway.

"There was testimony provided by the State Civil Defense that stated that there already exists a program. After reviewing this program, it was clear that the State Civil Defense's priority and the County's Department of Emergency Management are to get government services online as soon as possible.

"Mr. Speaker, there is a fallacy out there that government will come to our aid in times of a disaster. This is not the truth. This lesson should have been learned during Hurricane Katrina – people waiting for the government and refusing to leave their homes. In this measure, it requests the government to help provide oversight. In times of natural disasters there are already resources within this coastal community. The biggest resource, Mr. Speaker, is the people themselves. This measure will provide for the residents to provide input and insight. This measure will help those willing to come forth and offer their services and resources from the farming community, residents, churches, schools, construction, and other businesses.

"If this sounds like a great idea Mr. Speaker, it sure is. Once established, this plan can provide guidance to other communities facing similar situations throughout our State with our people, the best resource, guiding the way."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2692, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISASTER PREPAREDNESS PLANNING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 624-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2817, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2817, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations and hope that as this goes on to the Senate, that there will be more clarity as to the designation of the kinds of works of art and the criteria by which they will be decided. Perhaps this will lend itself to us thinking a little broadly as to how Hawaii might be positioned internationally with this auction. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do understand the intent of this. In fact, years ago, a lot of years ago, when I was the Chair of Culture and the Arts, I actually introduced a measure similar to this. But what I learned through the process is that the advocates of art, the people that were around when we started the Art in Public Places, the 1% set aside from the CIP when we created this awesome historic art collection for the State of Hawaii. What I realized is that there are some works of art that over time lose value. But it doesn't diminish the fact that those pieces are part of our art history. I understand the House Draft 1 and the efforts to maintain that. Those are not the type of artworks that will be sold.

"In fact, the types of artworks that will be sold are those that will get over a 110% of their purchase price. But it's just not a good thing. It's not a good thing for us to even contemplate the sale of our art because it's part of our history. We should be very proud of the fact that in the State of Hawaii we, years ago, and I believe it was about 30-35 years ago, we set aside this money to purchase our art. So those are the concerns that I have in regards to this bill. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I truly appreciate the comments made by the two previous speakers, however, the purpose and intent of this measure is to ensure that art continues to thrive in our schools and in our community. This is a revenue-neutral measure which will give the Hawaii State Foundation on Culture and the Arts the ability to auction works of art and use those funds to purchase new pieces within the State.

"Currently, the administrative rules already allow for works of art to be auctioned, but no mention is made in these regulations as to where these funds are deposited. This measure ensures that once auctioned, the funds derived from the works of art go back into a fund to continue to support art in our islands.

"The Foundation has never exercised this option; understandably. But in economic times like these, should an auction need to take place the funds will circulate right back into the Division where it came from, supporting a Department that may appear irrelevant.

"But indeed Mr. Speaker, art cultivates the creative mind. Art allows the individual to escape and at other times it allows an individual to come to terms with a situation they cannot or may not be able to verbalize. For these reasons Mr. Speaker, I support this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2817, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ART," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Brower, Choy, Coffman, C. Lee and Takai voting no.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2445, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 625, I would like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. At my law firm, they represent the HTA, but I'm not working on that matter," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2445, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Berg voting no.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1859, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm standing in support with reservations and brief comments, Mr. Speaker. I absolutely support the intent of this measure. It is absolutely laudable in consideration of our disabled citizens. My concern is with the additional fee increase, and it not going to the State Highway Fund. That's my only reservation on it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. With reservations as well. I have similar comments as the previous speaker. I'm just concerned that none of the funding will be going to the Highway Special Fund. Thank you."

H.B. No. 1859, HD 1
H.B. No. 2603, HD 2

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 630-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2561, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2561, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I wish to cast a no vote on this measure. The reason being is that I believe that State land or the 'āina is sacred. If we're ever going to be selling the land or leasing the land, it should be with the oversight of the State Legislature. I believe this bill lessens the oversight of the State Legislature.

"I'm aware the reason for this is because sometimes you need to move this land rapidly, but good planning would preclude that. So I believe that the land and any dislocation, any leasehold, should belong to the oversight of this Body. Thank you, very much."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mahalo 'ōlelo. Ke kū nei au i koho 'a'ole. 'O kēia pila 'a'ohe pono. 'O ka 'āha 'ōlelo kau kanawai hana ho'okahi hanalei kanahikukumamaono, halawai kanawai 'eula kaukani 'eiwa e kū no na 'āina 'apau no ke 'aupuni. 'O na 'oiwi 'o Hawai'i 'a'ohe pau ka loa'a hou. Ina ke kanaka maoli e loa'a hou 'oia ho'i no ka mea kaulike. He aha ke ka'ao no kēia halawai no kēia hale maka'āinana e ka ho'omana'o 'ia? Mahalo."

Representative Hanohano provided the following translation:

Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. This bill is not right. The legislative Act 176, Session Laws of Hawaii applies to all public lands. The indigenous people are still in the reconciliation process. Until Hawaiians receive justice there is no justice. Is selling the lands the legacy this Legislature wants to be remembered for?

Representative C. Lee rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Hanohano be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Shimabukuro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Souki and Hanohano be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2561 deals with the sale of non-ceded public lands. I ask this Body, and I've asked this question to the Attorney General and others who have testified. I think it should be made very clear to the Members of this Body.

"First of all on House Bill 2561, there were two hearings before the Committee on Water, Land, and Ocean Resources, as well as the Committee on Finance. All of the testimony was in support. There was not one piece of testimony in opposition. So that testimony included testimony from the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, the University of Hawaii System, the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation, the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Land and Natural Resources, the Department of the Attorney General. I'd like just for the record to include some of the comments that were given by the Department of Agriculture:

"The required process for legislative oversight and approval may result in the State not receiving full market price, incurring additional expenses, or reducing its net gain on the sale of land. Sale of land by the Department of Agriculture will not likely be completed in a timely manner and may result in a lower sales price as the Department of Ag may need to wait months to get approval to sell the land. In some cases the Department's costs may be higher as the delays in the sale may require the hiring of property managers to oversee and maintain the properties. In addition, the review process requires that an appraisal be obtained which may not be warranted in all cases."

"So that's just an insert of some of the testimony from the Department of Agriculture. I'd like to also read the testimony from the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation, whose mission it is to provide affordable housing.

"The HHFDC must currently conduct a community meeting, prepare an appraisal of the property for purposes of obtaining legislative approval to sell a home in fee simple, and continue to expend the carrying costs of owning an unoccupied residence, such as landscaping, maintenance, and security expenses. Passage of this measure would allow HHFDC to carry out its mission of providing workforce and affordable housing."

"Mr. Speaker, this bill is in response to Act 176. As we know, this particular bill deals only with non-ceded lands and often times State agencies need to have the ability to sell their own lands without legislative approval. While I respect the Chair of Transportation and his philosophy on the State's ability to sell public lands, I think this is a little bit of a different situation because we're not dealing with ceded lands, number one. But number two, there are situations in which you are creating more of a burden. You're creating a situation where it can be very political at times. And more importantly, you could possibly be getting less money for the land.

"So at the end of the day Mr. Speaker, again for the Members, this deals with the sale of non-ceded lands, and again there was no testimony in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, might I make a request? I would like to know what the Representative of Puna actually said. I unlike perhaps the Representatives from Kailua and Waianae, I do not understand fluent Hawaiian. But I would like to learn from what she says in the spirit of debate. I was wondering if someone might translate for the Representative."

At 4:02 o'clock p.m. Representative Say requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 4:03 o'clock p.m.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the measure. Not only is the sale of non-ceded land something that we've got to do. I would remind the Body that we have still a $1.2 billion deficit. When a family has a problem, it may have to sell off some of its assets, jewelry, maybe a car, or maybe a boat, maybe a canoe.

"Obviously the Speaker Emeritus reminds us that we should not be selling the land. Obviously we all agree with him, but we are in a situation where it's our responsibility as policymakers to get us through and over this hump. We don't want to do it, but we're forced to do it. It's non-ceded lands. If we don't get the deficit and the budget balanced, we're going to be in trouble.

"We're reminded that the Council on Revenues is going to meet the 23rd, 24th, 25th this month. It could even be worse. According to the hearings that we had in Finance, this could raise up to $500 million. That's a half a billion dollars. Everybody would probably breathe a sigh of relief if that was the case. Right now, we don't have anywhere close to that with all these different ways that we're trying to package the budget deficit.

"So having said that Mr. Speaker, we don't want to do it, but sometimes in hard times you've got to do things. You've got to roll up your sleeves. You've got to be tough. You've got to be self-reliant and this is part of the discipline, the fiscal discipline, to get us over the hump and to get out of this budget deficit. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise in support, but with reservations and I would like the words of the Representative from Kahului to be inserted as my own. I would like to make a couple of comments. This piece of proposed legislation doesn't say that we cannot sell them. It's just asking for an oversight. It's owned by the State. There should be oversight from this Body, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to respond, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, in rebuttal. First of all I did not say that we cannot sell. I said the Legislature needs oversight as to whether it is feasible or not feasible to sell, whether it is feasible to lease or not lease. The responsibility is with us.

"As far as us selling the land to pay a debt, I've never heard of something more outrageous than that. You sell the land, and I remind you, we are very limited in the State of Hawaii. We're very land poor, and now of course we're money poor. We'll spend the money, and we also won't have the land. For ages and ages the land has been sacred in Hawaii. It's in our motto. It's sacred. You don't sell this land. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and I'd like to adopt the words of the Representative from Kapolei as my own. And just short comments. Some of the situations that were given in testimony in Finance, for example, is that this would allow HHFDC to promptly sell repurchased homes to first-time home buyers. So in this kind of case, we must have given permission at one point in time to sell. It's just to a different first-time homebuyer. So these are the kinds of problems that they're having because of Act 176. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to respond, stating:

"A brief rebuttal, Mr. Speaker. Again, while I have great respect for the Chair of Transportation and I don't have an issue with legislative approval. But the fact of the matter is this, this Legislature only meets from January typically, to May. In the interim period, if there is the ability to sell, and again oftentimes land is dictated by fair market value, the price is dictated by fair market value, that State entity has to wait for legislative approval, which may be seven months after the fact.

"For example, I'm going back to the example with HHFDC. In my district there were many homes that were foreclosed upon and because of HHFDC's equity lien, they wanted to be able to resell these homes to families that qualified for affordable housing. Unfortunately because of the passage of Act 176, these homes have been sitting now for over nine months that could have gone to a family who qualified for affordable housing. But unfortunately, HHFDC had to come to this Body, and those resolutions still have not passed and probably will not be finalized until the end of this Session.

"So again, we continue to hold up the process. For example, with respect to HHFDC's mission to get affordable housing to our local residents. Again for these reasons Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of this measure. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition and request that the last few paragraphs of the Representative from Maui be entered as my own. Including all the exclamation points. And I hope that as this comes back to us, all the Chairs will be paying attention to the pieces within the bill which require proper planning and oversight by the State. It's one thing to say we can sell whatever we want to sell, but I think what we're trying to do here is to find ways to create policy that will guide our State in the correct planning process. So I hope that that will be included. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2561, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LANDS CONTROLLED BY THE STATE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 35 ayes to 16 noes, with Representatives Awana, Belatti, Berg, Cabanilla, Choy, Hanohano, Keith-Agaran, C. Lee, Luke, Morita, Nakashima, Nishimoto, Saiki, Souki, Takumi and Wooley voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 632-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2689, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2689, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations on this measure. This may be a case where we should look a gift horse in the mouth. This bill would require that the State receive water systems or even parts of water systems. We may be the recipient of 'Pandora's Box of Ills.' So I'm going to urge caution on this measure. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2689, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL WATER SYSTEMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 633-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2835, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2835, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against this bill, Mr. Speaker. I was really surprised to see it come out of Finance because it is a very large unfunded mandate on the Bureau of Conveyances. I thought with the Finance Committee facing such a deficit that they wouldn't put through something like this measure.

"This bill will require the Bureau to provide an adjoining landowner, upon request, any information of record relating to the management, control, and title of any public highway, waterway, or water course.

"The Department of Transportation put it very clearly: 'The Department believes it will cause undue hardship, take an extraordinary amount of time to accurately research, identify, and provide available ownership information for highways, roads, lanes, alleys, and streams. And there are no known existing available databases at the Bureau of Conveyances for this bill.'

"The bill states that ownership cannot be readily determined by search of public records. Ownership is typically determined by exhaustive searches of public records and maps. Even with ample amount of time and research, ownership of these interests might be hard to determine. Some of the ownership of roads and streams are determined by older maps that have no transfer ownership documents of records. Common use does not ascertain a land or waterway as a legal owner.

"So what we're doing is putting forth a huge unfunded mandate on the Bureau for people to go in and say, 'Okay Bureau, you do the work,' where those private landowners should instead be forming a hui and hiring their own legal counsel to probably have to do a quiet title action. If they want to establish the ownership of the land, the ultimate way to do that is through a judicially monitored quiet title action, then the title is established by the court.

"This way makes no sense when we have about a $2 billion deficit. When we have other things that have to go on with the Bureau of Conveyances. The bill just makes no sense and it should never have emerged from Finance. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am also in opposition and I'd like to adopt the words of the speaker from Kailua. Thank you. And just short comments. When I was in the mortgage industry and we would do titles, we would request for title searches because of a private road or ownership. It costs a lot of money. The Bureau of Conveyances is going to be very taxed in trying to get this information at no cost. Mr. Speaker, I think that before we move this measure out, we should get some kind of idea of what this is going to cost us. I believe the fiscal impact is unknown at this point in time. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. For many years we've continued to discuss this issue called, 'roads in limbo,' and it really puts a burden on homeowners because they never truly understand who's responsible for the road. They will go to the county and ask who's going to help with the maintenance, and the county says they don't know who owns it. They go to the State sometimes and ask who own this road, and they say they don't know. And then they talk to the neighbors and the neighbors say that they don't know.

"As a State Representative from the Big Island, I remember about six years ago when we got caught in this 'roads in limbo.' The Legislature had to jump in and we came up with $2 million to replace a bridge over a State irrigation ditch because there were six homes on the other side of the ditch. No one could figure out who owned the road and who owned the bridge. It became a public safety issue, so we ended up doing it at the State level, but we never could resolve if it was a county issue or a State issue? But the people were in danger.

"So I think that the real intent of the author and the person who really wanted to move this forward understands that sometimes there are lanes, there are public highways, and there are roads. The property owners get caught, in who's going to do what. I think people are really nervous that it's going to happen all the time. I don't see it happening all the time, but it will happen, situations where someone's got to take care of roads, somebody's got to solve the problem. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, this is my second time. That's a different bill, Mr. Speaker. We're not talking about maintenance of roads. Maintenance of roads is fine and there's another measure moving through that's saying, 'Okay county or the State. Take care of these roads even if they're private roadways.' That's fine.

"What this says is, 'Go do work for private landowners to tell them who owns title to this road.' And that's something the private landowner should pay for. That is not something that we should say to the Bureau of Conveyances, which is understaffed and underfunded, 'Now you have to do this additional work and we, the Legislature, are not giving you any money with which to do this work.' So it's a totally different issue from what the prior speaker said. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support of Stand. Com. Rep. No. 633. I just want to say I think it's actually quite a moderate bill. I think as a matter of good governance, it would be good for the State. The Bureau of Conveyances, which is the only organization that's tasked with knowing who owns land in the entire State, which is an unusual situation. Most states do it county by county.

"But the Bureau of Conveyances is who keeps track of who owns what. I think probably in the long run, the thing that we should be doing is systematically going through all the property in the State and making sure that we know who owns everything.

"I recognize that we do have fiscal difficulties right at the moment and this bill won't be used for every single lane in the State, or every single stream in the State. But it is a big problem. It's one that the private sector has not addressed.

"It seems to me that a few hours ago some of the same people who were saying that a lawyer should not be involved in enforcing the fireworks laws, now say that lawyers should be involved and paid for by the private sector to solve a problem. So I appreciate all your support on this measure, and it's very important to my district, and I think to many others as well. Mahalo."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm still in opposition. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, government cannot and should not pay for problems that should be handled by the private sector by private owners. The issue with this as the previous speaker had just mentioned, is a big problem. What happens to the big problem? Does it just go away and not cost anything? No.

"People will come in for free services. Once they hear about this law, they will come in and try and get that information for free because they've been sitting on a problem for so long. So that's why I think it's going to cost a lot of money. This happens quite a bit.

"When I was in the mortgage industry, people would come to the table, they would find out that there's a private road, and what if that happens in this case? They find out there's a private road. They're trying to sell the property and usually that's when it happens. Then they turn around and they say, 'Okay, I'm not going to sell it right now. I'm going to go the Bureau of Conveyances and ask them to do the work that I should have done to figure out this private road situation.'

"They're going to save the $2,000 that they would have spent if they wanted to sell their property, and now they're going to have the State basically pay for it. The Bureau of Conveyances records. They record instruments coming in. Yes they have information, but they record it. I don't think they have this huge database, and obviously they don't or else they would have said they would give them the information. But as they stated in their testimony, they don't have this information readily available because a lot of this is not clear, and they would have to go through extensive research.

"So Mr. Speaker, this is the issue. Why a 'no' vote? Because it costs money to do this kind of research. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2835, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BUREAU OF CONVEYANCES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Carroll, Ching, Finnegan, Keith-Agaran, Marumoto, Pine and Thielen voting no.

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2833, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Belatti voting no.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1926, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. Mr. Speaker, this is job-killer bill number two. It basically takes the small business community through DBEDT to raise their fees to support something which otherwise is uncalled for. We should be funding DBEDT so it can help the community. We shouldn't have to go out and go off budget and do a special fund. May I finish my remarks through submitting to the Journal? Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in opposition to HB 1926, Relating to the Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism. The bill is a job killer. It makes businesses pay a $20 surcharge for a variety of State fees.

"DBEDT says that the revenue generated for the Department would have very little impact on its budget, but have far more significant and negative impact on businesses. It turns the Department into a tax collector and is inconsistent with the Department's mission of reducing the cost of business in Hawaii.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I oppose HB 1926."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support of this bill. Mr. Speaker, this is a pretty interesting bill because what it does is it charges a $20 surcharge to the business community to fund DBEDT. Now as I've been sitting in the Finance Committee, we know that we're in a budget crisis. And when you look at a Department like DBEDT it's very, very difficult to say DBEDT is a core service. Now they provide important functions to our State, and I'm not denying that, but it's really not a core function.

"So Mr. Speaker, what I tried to do in this particular bill is to make sure that we can fund the function of DBEDT by having the business community chip in 20 bucks. This 20 bucks is going to generate approximately $5 million, which is about 100% of the 'A' funding of DBEDT.

"So if the business community chips in 20 bucks, we can save DBEDT, but more importantly Mr. Speaker, what we can do is we can take that $5 million of 'A' funds and we can put it toward our 'safety nets.' We can put it towards our children. We can put it towards our aged and our homeless. So I freed up $5 million of 'A' funds.

"This bill also takes $2 million from the Compliance Resolution Fund from all non-fee sources. So again, this particular bill is just a creative way to fund DBEDT, which I think performs an important function, but not a core function. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, with strong reservations on this bill. Mr. Speaker, I do appreciate the previous speaker's intent with this bill. But I have to say standing here today and listening to, 'It's just one more dollar. It's just 20 more dollars' on each and almost every bill that comes by. No wonder my colleague is saying it's a job killer.

"It's not the one dollar. It's not the 20 dollars. It's not the five dollars here and there. It's the constant, 'We need more money. We're going to ask for more money. If you belong to this group, you're going to pay more. If you're a business, you're going to pay more.' This adds up. I don't know, if you did that to me in my personal budget even if it was 20 cents, but if it went on forever, I wouldn't be able to afford it.

"So that's the point Mr. Speaker. I think there are very many creative ways in doing these types of things, but just remember, that's $5 million more dollars that gets sucked up out of businesses as a collective total. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm also standing with strong reservations. Yes, I think it almost behooves the Legislature to remember, the House, as well as the Senate, the message that we send because we are leaders. Because people elect us. We're leaders and so people listen to leaders. They listen to the inherent message that we send. And I think that our concern if I may say from the Minority Caucus, is what message are we sending consistently with certain bills.

"We're sending a message that business maybe doesn't have a place at the table. Or that they're not part of the team or they're not part of the table. And that's just not, I think, what we want to do in times of unprecedented economic challenge.

"What we want to say to them, as the Representative from Hawaii Kai has said on occasion, is that we want to say, 'Hey come. Hele mai'ai. Come. Come. Come here. You're welcomed. We want you.'

"So I just think I understand what the Representative of Manoa is saying. And yes, there is a nexus for the user fees. I understand that. But we have to always bear in mind the message we send. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just in brief rebuttal. You know during the testimony, Mr. Larry Reifurth, the Director of the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, testified that over the last, I think he said seven years, businesses have saved $55 million from the lowering of fees. I'm asking for them to chip in and give back just 20 bucks so we can save our safety nets. I think businesses, and I'm one of them, of Hawaii stand ready to do their share to get us out of this mess. I think that the businesses of Hawaii are not ready to forsake our children. They're not ready to forsake our needy, or our aged. I think they stand ready to do their part. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a brief retort. I would remind the learned gentlemen that in the three quarters of 2009, the State of Hawaii lost 46,560 jobs. 99% of them were private sector jobs. Job retention is one of the most responsible things that we have to do in this Body. We don't have to have a lesson in macroeconomics to know that 80% of all the jobs are private sector jobs. To say that this is not a core service, to keep 80% of our people employed is to miss the thrust of what we have as a free economy.

"15 to 20% of the jobs come out of federal, State, and City and county government jobs. If we don't keep the private sector strong, we're not going to have enough money to keep the lights on in the government. That's part of our responsibility as those who are holding the 'purse strings,' particularly in the House of Representatives.

"So Mr. Speaker, the point is we have to let these businesses have a chance to catch their breath without $20 here, a thousand dollars from the unemployment insurance bills, the electricity bills that goes on the dollar and five tax that we just passed on the barrel tax. All of these things add up. And what we're pushing is employees out of the job market. As I said, last year 46,000 were shed.

"And the way America is exporting its businesses overseas and the way that government is complicating the hiring and the firing and the benefits process. We're going to end up with a nation instead of any businesses more than 2 or 3 people. The big businesses are going to be gone. They will either be overseas or government will have strangled them.

"Mr. Speaker, we're in the process of turning up the heat on the frog. When it's all hot and boiling, he'll never go into it. But if we get him in there and just slowly turn it up. And that's what America has done for the last couple of decades. We've turned up the heat and right now we're in a crisis in this State. We need to give these guys a break. Thank you Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. Just a comment about business as a former educator. I'm still with strong, strong reservations. I just wanted to say I think business has been so active in education. What comes to mind is the Hawaii Business Roundtable, etc. It's in their actual best interest to have a good educational system. To have well-educated children. So I just wanted to respond to the comment about. It's just again, a philosophical difference. How do I use my money? I'd like to know where my money's going. I'd like to have a little control over it. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to speak momentarily about this sense from the Minority side of the aisle that this Body is just relentlessly anti-business and everything we do is anti-business. I just want to point out that HB 2169, which is a UI bill that will save businesses over the next two years $241 million, passed this House and passed the Senate today on Second Reading. It'll be going to the Governor soon. Please be balanced in your look at how we approach businesses. Mahalo."

Representative Pine rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, personal point of privilege. Just want to clarify that we're not speaking on that bill at that moment and he cannot speak on a bill that is not before us."

The Chair responded, stating:

"Thank you. He is done with his message."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just to add on to my reservations. You know businesses right now, when you go to many of the functions having to do with helping the vulnerable population, association dinners and all of these types of things, who comes out and gives the money to support these types of things? Business. Businesses who have money do it. Many businesses contribute thousands, and thousands, and hundreds of thousands of dollars to contribute and help our society. So this $20, or $5 million collectively. Yeah sure, but it's another tax. So Mr. Speaker, that's why it's really difficult because you're taking it from them, whether or not the business can afford it. And that's my comments. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes in opposition, Mr. Speaker. And just as a rebuttal to the Labor Chair. No one here has said that this Legislature is against business. However, a lot of people in business are saying that about us right now. I think we need to really look at what we're doing and how we're treating not only business, but the people of Hawaii, and how we solve these budget problems.

"You know in the State of New Jersey in the early 2000's they had some budget problems even back then and they decided to go after business. A little here, and a little here, and a little here. What they discovered was a lot of those businesses decided to leave New Jersey because as the Representative of Hawaii Kai said, they pretty much got 'fried in the pot' and they just couldn't take it anymore. They were going to literally die if they didn't leave that State.

"And so as a result they lost millions and millions of dollars. Not only job losses for the people that live in New Jersey, but also the non-profit foundations lost out too because who were the people that gave the most to those non-profits? Those were those businesses.

"So I think that, while no one in this Chamber is pointing fingers at anyone as being anti-business, we really need to look at what our image is to not just other states, but the world. Not too long ago Forbes Magazine had us as one of the most anti-business states in the nation. And of course thanks to Governor Lingle, that changed a little bit. Unfortunately, this Legislature did override some vetoes that she felt were going to hurt that ranking. Of course we are back again as probably, according to Forbes Magazine, as being one of the worst states to do business in again. And so while no one's pointing fingers at anyone else here, it sure seems that people outside this building has a very different image of how we perceive ourselves."

Representative Herkes rose, stating:

"In opposition. Kill the bill and close DBEDT."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing in strong support of this measure. We as a Body decided not to increase the sales tax or the GE tax. That's a decision we made, so therefore we have to come up with a solution to close the budget deficit. So we have to take a nickel here, and a dime there, or $20 from somewhere. We made that decision, Mr. Speaker. So therefore, we need to lie in that bed that we made. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1926, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, AND TOURISM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Berg, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 642-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2283, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2283, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. However, because we've only been debating about 10 pages, and we have about 10 more pages and it's taken us 6 hours, I just would like to request to submit written comments."

Representative B. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"House Bill 2283 HD2, Relating to Public Procurement, seeks to ensure fair and ethical use of government funds by requiring both State and county purchasers and private entities offering goods and services for sale to government purchasers to follow ethical principles in matters relating to procurement. For ethical procurement principles to be observed and followed, however, there should exist a clear framework of what those principles encompass – this measure attempts to accomplish just that.

"Recently the Hawaii Procurement Institute referenced three habitual problems regarding procurement; the most serious and costly of these related to the subjective and 'piecemeal approach to contracting' that results from officials not knowing procurement procedures – and thus making sometimes unethical decisions.

"Inefficiency, as well as unethical behavior, result from Department and Agency officials being unfamiliar with the State's procurement process. A recent example of this was illustrated by the Office of Elections' attempt to procure voting machines for upcoming elections. The Office issued an RFP, received bids, and awarded contract to a company whose bid was $25.3 million dollars more than the next comparable bid. The Chief Elections Officer was unable to justify the award, despite both proposals offering comparable service.

"As you know, under the separation of powers doctrine, the legislative branch is the sole authority to create laws and policies. Administrative agencies and administrative rules are only proper when authorized by the Legislature, and based upon a statute.

"Without any statutory basis under the Procurement Code, Haw. Rev. Stat. Ch. 103D, there appears to be a question as to whether these rules are ultra vires. To avoid any potential challenge to the validity of these rules should there ever be a prosecution or enforcement, the purpose of this bill is to ensure that there is a law by which contracting officers must follow an ethical code of conduct.

"It is true that there is already a standard of conduct under HRS Ch. 84, which is administered and enforced by the State Ethics Commission. However, in the event that there is ever an improper procurement or contracting issue, the purpose of this bill is to ensure that the Procurement Policy Board has some authority to declare that there was a violation, and not have to merely rely upon their own adopted rules, which at this point, lack any statutory basis.

"The expectations detailed in this measure will help ensure that the public has confidence in government and its leaders by requiring impartiality and independence when contracting out government work. I urge my colleagues to support this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2283, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC PROCUREMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 643-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2698, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2698, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on this bill, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 643-10, House Bill 2698. And as I said before, thank you so much for your patience as this is very important to do the business of the State. I'm glad that everyone is being patient with the Minority as we speak up on these bills that we think aren't going to be good for Hawaii, or as we give it some direction to make it better.

"The purpose of this bill is to position Hawaii for global competitiveness in the 21st Century by establishing the Hawaii Broadband Commission and the Hawaii Broadband Commissioner to increase access to broadband communications for all households, businesses, and organizations throughout the State.

"Mr. Speaker, there was a lot of work that was done to bring forth a bill that would truly make a difference for broadband in Hawaii. In December of 2008 the Hawaii Broadband Task Force issued its final report with recommendations to improve Hawaii's access to broadband technology. Remember: that report noted that the State of Hawaii ranked 50th in broadband connection speed in the United States.

"I also want to remind you that this is a strong issue for the President of the United States, knowing when you're talking about being globally competitive, that you want to be able to be on the cutting edge. It's a pretty sad state where America is globally, being that we are a strong nation, as well as where we rank in Hawaii.

"Now I realize that the bill, I think last year's bill, House Bill 984, is in Conference and it enacts the recommendation of the task force more thoroughly. Now for whatever reason I don't know, that didn't move forward. What I will say is that I'm going to support this with reservations because I think we can do a better job. We need to do a better job. As the world moves forward we have to keep up, and I think this is a very important issue, and I hope that the Senate and the House can get their act together so that we cannot be ranked 50th in broadband connection speed in the United States."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I am in support. It's very interesting. I can appreciate the reservations of the previous speaker, but the fact of the matter is the bill that was in Conference last year had one thing in common. Every business entity involved hated it because they said it put mandates on them. It basically was empowering bureaucratic government and would stifle investment and competition in the broadband infrastructure in Hawaii.

"I had provider after provider, business entity after business entity, come to see me to say that this bill goes way overboard. It empowers government and it will scare away investment and opportunity.

"The idea behind this bill is to set up the regulatory framework or the framework of the commission and the commissioner. Let them work with the business community. And let them come back to us with recommendations on regulatory powers and other issues. Issues that will take a lot of time and input to get resolution on, rather than us micromanaging policy from a legislative point of view.

"You're right. There is a bill in Conference, Mr. Speaker. But this bill approaches a fresh revenue-neutral approach, pardon my French, to this issue. Let's set up the framework. Let's let them work with business and government, and let them come back to us and say, 'These are the things that you as a Body need to consider to really move broadband forward into the 21st century.'

"So this is an approach to bring business to the table and have their concerns met, instead of that being shoved completely to the side. We want to encourage investment. We want to encourage more opportunity in Hawaii and that's what this bill does. It's a vehicle to bring business to the table. To work with them as a partner instead of dictating to them certain terms that only one branch of government, or one agency wants. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill has arrived. It's timely, it's important. It's not as big a deal as it was last year, but it's a great beginning. And I want you to know that I was on the Broadband Task Force. The Chair of Finance, myself, and a number of other people from the community.

"And even though the previous speaker from Maui did say that the private sector had a lot of problems with it, it was partially because there was a lack of transparency on their part. While we were meeting month after month, after month, after month, they held their cards so close to their chests. It was a real surprise when all those hearings kind of blew up in our face.

"But I also want to share that we have got to get serious about our speed. Not only because the November of 2011 is when APEC is coming and the whole world will be watching us, but we are so far behind that we've got to catch up so our kids can stay up to speed.

"One anecdote I will share Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Broadband Task Force, we were all excited that we heard Google was laying a cable between the US and Asia. After we got excited, however, we got so disappointed because we learned that Hawaii was going to be bypassed because we were so complicated to deal with, with the way government regulations, the way postponement and time and money were involved. Google just went right around us.

"So we have to be serious about broadband. We have to be serious about giving a sense to the private sector that we're serious about doing business. That we're open for business. I noticed that some people chuckled when the piece about Hawaii's standing among the states has increased under the Governor. Clearly it has. Her statement that we are now open for business still stands. And with that, this broadband issue is a very high part of the administration. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2698, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TECHNOLOGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 4:48 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1921, HD 2
H.B. No. 1926, HD 2
H.B. No. 2283, HD 2
H.B. No. 2698, HD 2
H.B. No. 2945, HD 2
H.B. No. 2902, HD 3

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 648-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2301, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2301, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I support H.B. 2301, H.D. 2 which creates a pilot project to transfer jurisdiction of the maintenance of State Highways on Maui, Lanai and Molokai from the State Department of Transportation ("SDOT") to the Highways Division, County of Maui Department of Public Works ("Highways Division").

"The Final Report of the Task Force on Reinventing Government (January 2010) recommended transferring Neighbor Island State DOT personnel to the respective county department and consolidating work there. The Report further suggested: "The reorganization would eliminate redundant personnel, improve coordination between the DOT and the counties, and enable county departments to reach economies of scale. The Subcommittee [on Transportation] suggests that this idea be tried on a pilot basis, starting with the island of Maui." Final Report, p. 14.

"While there may be differences in opinion regarding whether there will be any efficiency savings – given the difference in the age and development standards governing existing county roadways and State Highways and challenges from the current dependence on oil taxes for maintenance of existing roadway infrastructure by both the State and the counties – testing the notion that eliminating apparently overlapping functions between the State and county will be an improvement is worth discussing and pursuing.

"Currently the State DOT maintains roadways developed under modern standards imposed by the federal government and financed in large part with federal aid. The counties, including the Maui Highways Division, perform some of the same highway maintenance duties on former State highways, public roads and private roads designed and built in pre-Statehood days, as well as certain Federal Aid roadways constructed in recent decades. The pilot project will continue State oversight of the financing for state-wide projects while allowing Maui Highways Division to manage the day to day functions of roadway maintenance on Maui, Lanai and Molokai. The Task Force suggested Maui County as a pilot since the Highways Division already cooperates with the State in maintaining certain State-owned roadways on Molokai and East Maui and provides maintenance of all traffic signals on Maui.

"I understand the reluctance of the County of Maui to wholeheartedly undertake this proposed pilot project, and the caution of my colleague from West Maui regarding his experience with the responsiveness and effectiveness of the Highways Division and Department of Water Supply crews in his community. There are questions about the adequacy of resources that will be made available during the course of the Pilot Project, including, but not limited to the relationship of the State DOT employees to the Highways Division supervisors during the five years. I would hope the details can be worked out between Maui County and the State DOT in good faith to test whether a stronger County maintenance agency makes government more efficient.

"I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this bill."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. Just some brief comments. I appreciate the intent behind this measure and that the resources will be going from the State to the County of Maui. It's just that real world application of the law is that in Maui, particularly in my district, the State Highways Division is much more responsive than the County has been.

"Case in point. We had a degraded shoulder roadway. One call to the State DOT and a crew was out there the next day. Meanwhile a pothole the size of the Grand Canyon was on Wharf Street, which is a county street. Three months of phone calls, letter writing, went to no avail. Finally what had to happen was a contractor, off of work, late at night, had to come in and basically put asphalt in the pothole to repair it. The irony was that the contractor just got off working a State DOT job.

"So I think that by moving it to the County here, I think it will kind of be counter-productive. I think the State has been much more responsive in dealing with these issues at our level. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2301, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSFER OF STATE HIGHWAYS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2370, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this bill. This is job-killer bill number 3 for the Session. It raises the rental fee from $1 a day to $4.50. My remaining remarks, may I put them into the Journal? Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in opposition to HB 2250 [sic], Relating to Transportation. This bill is a job killer. It raises the rental motor vehicle customer facility charge to $4.50 per day from $1 per day. We can't afford the potential hit to our tourism industry.

"Generating additional funds to construct a new rental facility is a good goal. Airport renovation should be a priority, especially because of APEC in 2011. But we need to find the money elsewhere. This is a bad time to raise fees. We can't afford the potential hit to our tourism industry.

"This Legislature has used every excuse to raid funds this Session. There's no reason not to expect that the money this bill is supposed to generate won't be raided as well and just end up in the general fund instead of where it's supposed to go.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I oppose HB 2370."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."
