"All right Mr. Speaker, it seems that I'm compelled to speak on this Ferry bill. This is merely a study to determine the feasibility of the State or some other agency, a private, non-profit or other agency, operating the ferry throughout the State. So this is just the first step.

"We're a long way from having a ferry system in the State of Hawaii, even though I firmly believe that the State needs to be linked by a ferry, providing an alternative to travel for business, for pleasure, for families, and etc.

"And it's long overdue. This goes way back to, I believe to the '60s and '70s. In fact, our Finance Chairman's father, Bob Oshiro, a legend in the State of Hawaii, as a former Representative and leader, promoted the ferry years back. So did Senator Hulten, and it failed. But let's hope that now that we can carry on with this legacy to link the islands together through a ferry. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to give a quick explanation on my reservations. Mr. Speaker, I think the only reservation that I have is, I agree with the statewide ferry system, but we had a private company that was here. Now we're looking at studying either doing it as the State or a private company. And really, I just don't want it to end up being the State that has to do this and deal with this issue. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker I rise in support of this measure. This measure requires the Department of Transportation to conduct a study to determine the feasibility of establishing a statewide ferry system and a Hawaii State Ferry System Authority as the primary agency for oversight and regulation of the ferry system.

"Currently in Hawaii there is only one way to move people between the islands – air transportation. For cargo there is air transportation and slower moving barges. It is somewhat odd that a state whose counties and people are separated by the Pacific Ocean still does not have a form of water transportation system that can move people and goods in a quick, efficient, safe and economically feasible manner.

"When this measure was heard by the Finance Committee, numerous organizations and individuals opposed the concept of a state-run ferry system and sent in their comments stating such. However, many of those who opposed did so based on what occurred during the 2007 Hawaii Superferry fiasco. This measure requires DOT to study the feasibility of establishing a statewide ferry system before even implementing one. Just because a study is conducted does not mean a public system will be established. The study could also be a useful tool for the State or to a private company wanting to come in to establish a ferry business.

"Although not stated in the bill itself, if a ferry system is developed (either publically or privately), an EIS will be conducted to avoid what occurred with Hawaii Superferry back in 2007. It would be crazy not to conduct one.

"Finally Mr. Speaker, during the latter half 2007 and early 2008, the Hawaii Superferry attempted to provide the residents of Hawaii with high speed ferry service between Oahu, Maui, Kauai and the Big Island; however, it ran a foul due to the Administration's mis-ruling that allowed the company to commence operations prior to conducting an Environmental Impact Statement. The company eventually left the State due to its inability to operate and generate revenue while an EIS was being conducted. While we may never know if the Hawaii Superferry would have been a reliable mode of transportation or a profitable venture, we should not let that unfortunate experience be the final word on whether or not a ferry system should be implemented in the State.

"For the aforementioned reasons, I urge my colleagues to support this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2667, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FERRIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 653-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2582, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2582, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Brower rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, there're a few moving parts on this bill, but basically my concern with this measure is if enacted, it could allow commercial vessel activity in some of our small boat harbors throughout Honolulu. And that means less recreational space for boating enthusiasts.

"Recreational boaters come from all over the State to participate in outdoor activities at these local harbors. We currently have empty commercial space in Honolulu that we can't fill. So why create more commercial slips at the detriment to residents who use these boating facilities and want the space.

"To start commercializing our small boat harbors means to start reducing our outdoor activity options for families, young people, and the boating lifestyle community. There are several small boat harbors throughout the State where commercialization currently isn't being threatened, but may soon be if bills like this begin to pass the House.

"Lastly on this measure, should commercialization happen to the Ala Wai Small Boat Harbor, this could determinately affect people who use Ala Moana Park for outrigger canoe races, and those are members of our community who come from all over the island of Oahu. They may have less freedom and activities to participate in because of commercialization. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2582, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VESSELS AT ALA WAI AND KEEHI BOAT HARBORS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Berg and Brower voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 657-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2306, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2306, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In opposition, Mr. Speaker. It's not that I begrudge anybody getting paid the, I think its $230,000 to be Superintendent of Education. I'm sure there're several deserving people. But I just want to make sure that the Board of Education considers this a ceiling and then reward people for the work that they have done for their abilities, demonstrated abilities, rather than starting out with a very high salary, which we did in the case of the previous two Superintendents of schools.

"I think they did a pretty good job, but I think you just don't start out with a raise. We must keep in mind that $230,000 is quite a bit, and our Governor after pay cuts is making only $119,000. So that's my reservation."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thanks, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 657, I just have short comments in opposition. Mr. Speaker, the reason why I'm against this is not necessarily because of how much we want to pay the Superintendent or the next Superintendent. The issue to me is, we have teachers and we have principals in the system, as well as other employees of our State system who right now are under furloughs or pay cuts, and they have very important jobs. I think the morale is pretty low, and what we need to do is not give indication that we are willing to pay someone else a higher amount.

"The other thing is, there are examples such as HHSC, I think the position is called the Executive Director, someone below that position is actually stepping up, not getting paid the amount. They are working two positions, but not getting paid the salary of the Executive Director or whatever the position's name is. Not getting paid the higher amount.

"I think DBEDT also has that situation, and there're situations like that all over in State government. The Board actually approved not only the Acting Superintendent, but approved that that position would get paid the Superintendent's position cost.

"So when we're talking about these situations, we've got example after example of where people are just doing more work, their morale is low. And then we're going to go ahead and say, again under the premise or under the flag, that education is so important to us, which I believe all of us agree, that we're going go ahead and say you can make this certain amount and it's okay. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I guess in support. You know, this bill has been introduced in the past. It never went anywhere. I hear the concerns expressed by the Representative from Kahala-Kaimuki. As we well know, we set the statutory limit for the Superintendent nine years ago, going on ten, at $150,000. Then, when the new then Superintendent got the job, the Board, in their infinite wisdom, gave the Superintendent that salary. So as a result the Superintendent who just retired never got a raise because it was a statutory limit to that.

"I think it begs a larger question in our government, whether or not salaries should be set by law, should be set by some floating number that's tied to collective bargaining, or set by a salary commission of some sort. As you well know Mr. Speaker, directors and deputy directors, the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and all of our salaries are set by a Salary Commission. Now whether or not the Superintendent and other similar positions in government should be set likewise I think is a debatable question that we should discuss.

"With that said, taking the current salary, I think we all know of the top 25 school districts in the country, the Superintendent of the State of Hawaii actually gets paid by far the lowest salary indeed. If you look to the State of Illinois, the top 10 superintendents in that State make over $300,000.

"And the argument that the Governor makes less, I frankly think is a specious one. The UH President makes more than the President of the United States. I mean, I don't know what the correlation to that is. And don't get me started about football coaches across the country. But that's beside the point.

"The point is that whether or not, if we want to attract someone that will do a great job in our public school system, whether or not that salary is a competitive one. And remember now, unlike the Governor or the President, this is someone that we want to recruit nationwide and hopefully we can get the best candidate. At that salary, I can assure you, it is not a competitive salary, and that old maxim that you get what you pay for may play itself out in this situation. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, in opposition. You know that timing is everything and just as the timing of our pay raises was really a bad timing, I think it's really a bad time to be discussing such a large pay raise for the head of our education in the State of Hawaii.

"It's just that so many people in our districts are just suffering so much. And to hear that something like this is still being discussed to give a large pay raise to someone, whoever that may be, is just something that's hard to take for some of my constituents, I know that.

"As a place that has one of the highest foreclosures in the State, this is just something that they would rather us not be talking about right now. They'd rather us be focusing on how to help them keep jobs, and perhaps to help them to keep their homes."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2306, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALARIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Awana, Cabanilla, Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, McKelvey, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 659-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2670, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2670, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Berg and Cabanilla voting no.

At 5:04 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2301, HD 2
H.B. No. 2370, HD 2
H.B. No. 2604, HD 2
H.B. No. 2667, HD 2
H.B. No. 2582
H.B. No. 2306, HD 2
H.B. No. 2670, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 660-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2318, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2318, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Very briefly. I'm in opposition to this, Mr. Speaker. It again proposes to raise the Conveyance Tax on homes, and homes are so expensive in Hawaii. Yes, this is targeted at the top tier of homes, but it's blank so I don't know where the ax will fall. I could assure you, I'm sure my folks in Kaimuki even have million dollar lots because of the favorable location. I just think we raised the conveyance tax enough last year. We're doing it this year, and what's going to happen next year. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm also in opposition and I'll try to keep it short since I know it's late. Thank you. We're experiencing a period of unprecedented economic difficulty. Everyone in this building I suppose wants to help the homeless. Everyone is this building understands the pain they go through, especially homeless children.

"And I'm understanding that we, as government, need to provide some help. But one of the best resources that help the homeless and help our State are those that give to philanthropy, philanthropists.

"Different studies have stated that between 60% and 80% of all charitable donations come from those who are making $200,000 a year. And if you want to see what the effect this kind of tax increase has, look to New Jersey. A study by Boston College's Center on Wealth and Philanthropy, Migration of Wealth from New Jersey, looked at this from 1999 to 2008. It found out in the decade's first half, New Jersey experienced substantial increase in both household wealth and charitable capacity, otherwise known as expected giving. And during those years the Garden State enjoyed a $98 billion net influx of capital due to those households moving to the State. Enjoying again a corresponding $881 million increase in charitable capacity.

"It was blooming. The Garden State was blooming. The trend then reversed. From 2004 to 2008, author John Havens found a large decline in the number of wealthy households that entered New Jersey, as well as a moderate increase in outflow of those households. A net decline of $70 billion of wealth and expected giving left. A net outflow of $1.132 billion.

"So what happened? The study doesn't purport to explain the wealth movement but the State's most notable economic policy that year was the increase targeted at the wealthy. Similar types of taxes, sending them that way.

"Mr. Speaker, we tax these charitable people that give a lot to those things we enjoy, and now more than ever for those non-profits, we need their help. We need their help. So we just again I'm hoping that our message is not that we don't want their help."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Marumoto and Ching be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Yes, can I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I occasionally work for a homeless shelter. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative M. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in support of HB2318. Housing first programs have been successful in many cities across the nation. The concept is to get homeless persons into decent housing first, and then address the problems they might have with alcohol, drug use or other social diseases. This method gives the person a sense of identity, security and dignity from which they can work towards solving their problems.

"Sometimes problems may arise with the location of such housing and as happened in Honolulu. Neighbors may protest. However, the concept is worth a try, as what we are doing now is clearly not working. A pilot project that demonstrates positive results may change people's minds. I urge the Members' support."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2318, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HOMELESS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 33 ayes to 16 noes, with Representatives Berg, Brower, Ching, Coffman, Har, Keith-Agaran, C. Lee, Luke, Manahan, Marumoto, McKelvey, Nishimoto, Pine, Takai, Ward and Wooley voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Finnegan being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 661-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2250, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2250, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to this bill. Thank you. We don't often speak against uniform bills, but this one has some big problems. Nearly half of the states have declined to pass this uniform legislation and I'll explain way.

"The Uniform Child Abduction Prevention Act was originated to address the issue of international abductions to non-Hague countries. I think that many of us have a passing familiarity with cases that have made national news.

"But the problem is that during the drafting process, amendments were added and the final version promulgated by the Uniform Law Commission back in 2006 was expanded to address both domestic and international child abductions. That increase in the scope of the uniform law and the ability for abusive spouses to use this law to their advantage is my reason for opposition to this bill.

"I'm going to insert comments from a local physician, who practices on King Street. He said:

"For almost 10 years I've watched my wife, who left an abusive marriage back in 2000, struggle even now to keep the kids and herself safe from her obsessed ex-husband. I'll tell you exactly what's going to happen if you allow this bill to go through. You'll see a bunch of wife beaters and child abusers asking for this petition to "prevent abduction." They'll have sad and convincing stories and their wives will all be mentally ill, a danger to their children and a flight risk. This is just another way for the wife beaters to mess with their wives who left them for good reason. But the judges aren't going to look at that - they'll focus on the petitioner because "he has rights" and he'll be there filing this petition. Then they're going to issue a warrant to take physical custody of the child and be allowed to make a forcible entry at any hour to do this? Grabbing kids from their beds in the middle of the night. And it does not help the parent who is trying to keep the child safe from abuse."

"Section 7 of the Act lists out the factors that the court must consider in determining whether there's a credible risk of abduction of a child. Granted, during the intent of the Uniform Law these factors may appear benign, but look at these factors from a real life perspective.

"The perspective of an abused spouse, a spouse that fears for her life, and the life of her child. Factors viewed from the perspective of the abused and perspective spouse are not so benign. For instance, if the abused spouse is not originally from Hawaii, they may certainly, "lack strong familial, emotional or cultural ties to Hawaii." That certainly would be the case if the abusive spouse prevents the abused spouse from having friends, going out, etc., to exercise control over the abused spouse.

"An abused wife originally from out of state will be doubly impacted because it's also likely that that wife has family or some property in another state giving them, and I quote, "strong familial, financial, emotional, or cultural ties to another state." Which are another set of factors that the court is mandated to review.

"Another dynamic may be that the abused wife has tried to escape the abusive situation with the child, only to be stopped by the controlling abusive husband. Absent a divorce or emancipation orders, spouses, abusive or otherwise, have custodial rights to a child. Because of the custodial rights, attempted flight …"

Representative Ching rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Thank you. Attempted flight in the situation described above would be treated as an abduction by the definitions of this Act and previous attempts to escape or previous threats to escape will be held against the abused wife.

"Also under this Act, seeking to obtain the child's birth certificate, school, or medical records can be viewed as indicative of a planned abduction. And these are activities that parents engage in all the time.

"Not all uniform laws are good laws and that's why just as many states have declined to adopt this Uniform Law as adopted it. I received numerous emails from women who have had this used against them. And while we're trying to do something positive, I say instead that what this Uniform Law does, actually allows abusive husbands to use this against their abused wives and take the children away from those women.

"I would ask all of us to look at this. I wish the Women's Caucus had weighed in on this much earlier. I don't think the bill would have made it to the Floor, if we had. That those of us who are in the Women's Caucus I hope would look at this bill and realize that this is not what we should do. To put these abused women and their children at risk. And let the perpetrators of that abuse take those children away using this law. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. She's not looking at you. She's instead looking at me."

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. The purpose of this bill is to enact the Uniform Child Abduction Prevention Act, which was designed to determine the risk of a child being abducted by a parent, and establishes measures to prevent abductions before and after child custody determinations. Under this Act, courts are authorized to issue an abduction prevention order to, among other things, limit travel, or restrict visitation, and issue a warrant to take physical custody of the child. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak in support, with some concerns. The objective of the Uniform Child Abduction Prevention Act is simple: to prevent abduction of children by a parent or others acting with them. Child abduction is a serious problem and according to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, in 1999 more than 260,000 children were abducted. 78% of these children were abducted by a family member.

"I think all of us remember the case of the boy that was taken by his mother to Brazil. After she died, there was a problem of his father getting him back. Families going through custody disputes and divorce proceedings are the highest risk group for potential abduction.

"What I'd like to bring to the attention of the Members and to you Mr. Speaker, is that I've learned the Uniform Law Commission understands the concerns of domestic violence advocates and they are working with local advocates to add language used in other states to assuage this problem.

"And so I think this is a work in progress. I think it's a worthy issue and that we should let it continue and see how it works out into this Session. If there are the concerns that the Representative from Kailua brings up, then that will certainly be addressed. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition and I would just like to have the words of the Kailua Representative taken as my own since she expressed her argument very well. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. My reservation is that we have not heard from the Missing Children Clearinghouse on this bill. And they're the ones that deal with this issue on a day-to-day basis. I have served on their Board. My wife currently serves on their Board. They're attached to the Attorney General, and the Attorney General said that they could not testify at the hearing. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. If I could have the words from the speaker from Mililani as my own. And to say that it is a work in progress, but we're looking for them to get to an agreement. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"My second time, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have permission to insert in the Journal a statement from the Hawaii State Coalition Against Domestic Violence, which is in full opposition to House Bill 2250, House Draft 1.

"Mr. Speaker, they're stating again their concern that the impact that this bill may have on victims of domestic violence who are attempting to protect themselves and their children by fleeing an abusive partner. Why would we go ahead with something that could help those abusers take children away from the abused wife? Thank you. And if I may have your permission to insert that in the Journal? Thank you."

Representative Thielen submitted the following remarks:

"TO: Chair Karamatsu, Vice Chair Ito and Members of the Committee

FR: Jane Seymour, Hawaii State Coalition Against Domestic Violence

Hearing date and time: Tuesday, February 9, 2010 at 2:30pm

RE: Opposition to HB 2250 HD1: Relating to the Uniform Child Abduction Prevention Act

Aloha, my name is Jane Seymour and I am representing the HSCADV, a private non-profit agency which serves as a touchstone agency for the majority of domestic violence programs throughout the state. For many years HSCADV has worked with the Hawaii Legislature by serving as an educational resource and representing the many voices of domestic violence programs and survivors of domestic violence.

While the HSCADV understands the intent of this bill, we have some serious concerns about the impact that this bill may have on victims of domestic violence who are attempting to protect themselves and their children by fleeing an abusive partner. Several studies have shown that many men who abuse their wives, also abuse their children. Additionally, batterers have consistently learned how to utilize the judicial system and child custody proceedings to continue to terrorize and abuse their partners.

Currently, HB 2250 HD1 lists several factors to be used in determining whether there is a credible risk of abduction, including a previous abduction, attempted abduction or threatened abduction (page 5, lines 15-17). Victims of domestic violence often flee from their abuser several times during the course of an abusive relationship, staying at emergency shelters or with friends and family. Under the current proposal, if a woman flees with her children to escape domestic violence, this action could later be used against her if her batterer argues that when she fled the abuse she abducted the children by leaving without his permission.

Another concern that the HSCADV has is the listing of activities that may indicate a planned abduction. The list includes, abandoning employment, terminating a lease or selling a house, certain financial transactions including closing or changing bank accounts, and obtaining medical and school records. These activities all describe typical actions of a victim of domestic violence who is leaving her abuser and seeking safety for herself and her children. Oftentimes, a woman must change her entire life, including where she lives, works, does errands, and where her children attend school, in order to remain safe from her abuser.

Additionally, while there is a provision in this bill that requests the court to consider "evidence of domestic violence, stalking or child abuse or neglect," it does not specify what evidence would be considered sufficient. Many victims of domestic violence do not seek medical attention, file police reports, or have other such supporting documentation. Many times they are too scared or embarrassed to seek help from professional or governmental organizations, and so the domestic violence goes undocumented.

Finally, victims of domestic violence may appear to be un-compliant with a custody order, which, in the current bill, is also a determinate of whether there is credible risk of abduction. While we recognize that non-compliance with custody and visitation orders is a problem, batterers have historically used visitation exchanges and custody issues to continue to abuse their former partners. A woman who is a victim of domestic violence may appear to be non-compliant, when instead she is simply attempting to protect herself and her children from further abuse.

We feel that this bill could negatively impact victims of domestic violence and their children, while unintentionally providing batterers with another opportunity to utilize the court system to further abuse their former partner.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to note my strong reservations on this bill. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno rose in response, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. In defense of this measure and in support. In defense of this measure, at the Human Services hearing, I did talk to the representatives for the Victims of Domestic Violence and we asked them to come up with something to work with the stakeholders, the ones that supported this measure. Unfortunately, we didn't get anything back. It's our understanding that they are trying to work with them, but the clock was ticking and I had to move it out of Committee. So I support this measure and I'm hopeful that they will work together on a clean bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Lee rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in favor of the measure which seeks to establish a uniform child abduction prevention law.

"Uniform laws are established to make interstate legal proceedings more efficient and to apply the same standards across the States. The Commission on the Uniform Laws is aware of the concerns expressed by the domestic violence advocates and intends to work with them to create acceptable language. This bill has an important place in the arsenal of laws to protect children, especially from international abduction.

"I am hopeful the concerns will be resolved and support its passage to the Senate."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support, but with serious reservations for HB 2250, HD 1. Although House Bill 2250, HD1 appears to have a noble purpose of preventing child abductions, concerns raised by the Hawaii Family Forum, the Roman Catholic Church, and the Hawaii State Coalition Against Domestic Violence raise serious questions about the bill's unintended consequences such as the criminalizing of ordinary parenting acts, impeding parents' right to travel between or even within states, and the use of this proposed measure to harass victims of domestic violence.

"Another pause for concern is the noticeable absence of testimony from the Prosecutor's Office, the Office of the Public Defenders, and family law practitioners who would have specific insights into whether current laws adequately address abduction cases. Finally, the fact that only eight states have enacted this uniform law since its promulgation in 2006 suggests that this uniform law may not be a good fit with our current laws governing child custody. For these reasons, while I support the intentions of HB 2250, HD1, I am hopeful that as it continues through the legislative process, these concerns will be addressed before final passage of this bill."

Representative Ward rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in opposition to HB 2250, Relating to the Uniform Child Abduction Prevention Act. The bill is well-intentioned, but problematic. It flags common and ordinary parental acts as risk factors for child abduction and makes it harder for domestic abuse victims to escape from their abusers and protect their children.

"A parent picking up his or her child's school records, medical records or birth certificate gets flagged as a potential child abductor, based on this bill. Things like quitting or being fired from a job, or closing a bank account are ordinary. And some factors, like a lack of strong emotional ties to Hawaii, are not well defined.

"Other factors can get women escaping from abusive husbands into legal trouble and make it harder for them to protect their children. The bill's factors to determine risks of abduction list everything that registrants in the Social Security Administration's "New Numbers for Victims of Domestic Violence" program are advised to and must do. Going through a government approved and sanctioned Identity Change Program for domestic violence victims would flag those victims as potential child abductors.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I oppose HB 2250 HD1."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2250, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIFORM CHILD ABDUCTION PREVENTION ACT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Berg, Ching, Marumoto, McKelvey, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Finnegan being excused.

H.B. No. 1205, HD 1, passed Third Reading in the following form:

A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLE VII, SECTIONS 12 AND 13, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII RELATING TO TAX INCREMENT BONDS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

SECTION 1. The purpose of this Act is to propose amendments to the Hawaii Constitution to expressly provide that the legislature may authorize political subdivisions, such as the counties, to issue tax increment bonds.

The legislature recognizes that the definition of "tax increment bonds" under this Act is broader than the conventional definition. The legislature has purposely broadened the definition to provide political subdivisions with flexibility in the use of tax increment bonds for financing infrastructure and other improvements. Under the conventional definition, the debt service on tax increment bonds is payable from the real property tax revenues derived from the incremental increase in real property value resulting from the construction of infrastructure.

This Act broadens the definition of "tax increment bonds" to also include those bonds, the debt service of which is payable from the real property tax revenues derived from the incremental increase in real property value resulting from county action, such as the rezoning of an area.

SECTION 2. Article VII, section 12, of the Hawaii Constitution is amended to read as follows:

"DEFINITIONS; ISSUANCE OF INDEBTEDNESS

Section 12. For the purposes of this article:

1. The term "bonds" shall include bonds, notes and other instruments of indebtedness.

2. The term "general obligation bonds" means all bonds for the payment of the principal and interest of which the full faith and credit of the State or a political subdivision are pledged and, unless otherwise indicated, includes reimbursable general obligation bonds.

3. The term "net revenues" or "net user tax receipts" means the revenues or receipts derived from:

a. A public undertaking, improvement or system remaining after the costs of operation, maintenance and repair of the public undertaking, improvement or system, and the required payments of the principal of and interest on all revenue bonds issued therefor, have been made; or

b. Any payments or return on security under a loan program or a loan thereunder, after the costs of operation and administration of the loan program, and the required payments of the principal of and interest on all revenue bonds issued therefor, have been made.

4. The term "person" means an individual, firm, partnership, corporation, association, cooperative or other legal entity, governmental body or agency, board, bureau or other instrumentality thereof, or any combination of the foregoing.

5. The term "rates, rentals and charges" means all revenues and other moneys derived from the operation or lease of a public undertaking, improvement or system, or derived from any payments or return on security under a loan program or a loan thereunder; provided that insurance premium payments, assessments and surcharges, shall constitute rates, rentals and charges of a state property insurance program.

6. The term "reimbursable general obligation bonds" means general obligation bonds issued for a public undertaking, improvement or system from which revenues, or user taxes, or a combination of both, may be derived for the payment of the principal and interest as reimbursement to the general fund and for which reimbursement is required by law, and, in the case of general obligation bonds issued by the State for a political subdivision, general obligation bonds for which the payment of the principal and interest as reimbursement to the general fund is required by law to be made from the revenue of the political subdivision.

7. The term "revenue bonds" means all bonds payable from the revenues, or user taxes, or any combination of both, of a public undertaking, improvement, system or loan program and any loan made thereunder and secured as may be provided by law, including a loan program to provide loans to a state property insurance program providing hurricane insurance coverage to the general public.

8. The term "special purpose revenue bonds" means all bonds payable from rental or other payments made to an issuer by a person pursuant to contract and secured as may be provided by law.

9. The term "tax increment bonds" means all bonds, the principal of and interest on which are payable from and secured solely by all real property taxes levied by a political subdivision, for a period not to exceed years, on the assessed valuation of the real property in a tax increment district established by the political subdivision that is in excess of the assessed valuation of the real property for the year prior to the undertaking of specified public works, public improvements or other actions by the political subdivision within the tax increment district.

[~~9.~~] 10. The term "user tax" means a tax on goods or services or on the consumption thereof, the receipts of which are substantially derived from the consumption, use or sale of goods and services in the utilization of the functions or services furnished by a public undertaking, improvement or system; provided that mortgage recording taxes shall constitute user taxes of a state property insurance program.

The legislature, by a majority vote of the members to which each house is entitled, shall authorize the issuance of all general obligation bonds, bonds issued under special improvement statutes and revenue bonds issued by or on behalf of the State and shall prescribe by general law the manner and procedure for such issuance. The legislature by general law shall authorize political subdivisions to issue general obligation bonds, bonds issued under special improvement statutes [~~and~~], revenue bonds and tax increment bonds and shall prescribe the manner and procedure for such issuance. All such bonds issued by or on behalf of a political subdivision shall be authorized by the governing body of such political subdivision.

Special purpose revenue bonds shall only be authorized or issued to finance facilities of or for, or to loan the proceeds of such bonds to assist:

1. Manufacturing, processing, or industrial enterprises;

2. Utilities serving the general public;

3. Health care facilities provided to the general public by not-for-profit corporations;

4. Early childhood education and care facilities provided to the general public by not-for-profit corporations;

5. Low and moderate income government housing programs;

6. Not-for-profit private nonsectarian and sectarian elementary schools, secondary schools, colleges and universities; or

7. Agricultural enterprises serving important agricultural lands, each of which is hereinafter referred to in this paragraph as a special purpose entity.

The legislature, by a two-thirds vote of the members to which each house is entitled, may enact enabling legislation for the issuance of special purpose revenue bonds separately for each special purpose entity, and, by a two-thirds vote of the members to which each house is entitled and by separate legislative bill, may authorize the State to issue special purpose revenue bonds for each single project or multi-project program of each special purpose entity; provided that the issuance of such special purpose revenue bonds is found to be in the public interest by the legislature; and provided further that the State may combine into a single issue of special purpose revenue bonds two or more proposed issues of special purpose revenue bonds to assist not-for-profit private nonsectarian and sectarian elementary schools, secondary schools, colleges, and universities, separately authorized as aforesaid, in the total amount of not exceeding the aggregate of the proposed separate issues of special purpose revenue bonds. The legislature may enact enabling legislation to authorize political subdivisions to issue special purpose revenue bonds. If so authorized, a political subdivision by a two-thirds vote of the members to which its governing body is entitled and by separate ordinance may authorize the issuance of special purpose revenue bonds for each single project or multi-project program of each special purpose entity; provided that the issuance of such special purpose revenue bonds is found to be in the public interest by the governing body of the political subdivision. No special purpose revenue bonds shall be secured directly or indirectly by the general credit of the issuer or by any revenues or taxes of the issuer other than receipts derived from payments by a person or persons under contract or from any security for such contract or contracts or special purpose revenue bonds and no moneys other than such receipts shall be applied to the payment thereof. The governor shall provide the legislature in November of each year with a report on the cumulative amount of all special purpose revenue bonds authorized and issued, and such other information as may be necessary."

"DEBT LIMIT; EXCLUSIONS

Section 13. General obligation bonds may be issued by the State; provided that such bonds at the time of issuance would not cause the total amount of principal and interest payable in the current or any future fiscal year, whichever is higher, on such bonds and on all outstanding general obligation bonds to exceed: a sum equal to twenty percent of the average of the general fund revenues of the State in the three fiscal years immediately preceding such issuance until June 30, 1982; and thereafter, a sum equal to eighteen and one-half percent of the average of the general fund revenues of the State in the three fiscal years immediately preceding such issuance. Effective July 1, 1980, the legislature shall include a declaration of findings in every general law authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds that the total amount of principal and interest, estimated for such bonds and for all bonds authorized and unissued and calculated for all bonds issued and outstanding, will not cause the debt limit to be exceeded at the time of issuance. Any bond issue by or on behalf of the State may exceed the debt limit if an emergency condition is declared to exist by the governor and concurred to by a two-thirds vote of the members to which each house of the legislature is entitled. For the purpose of this paragraph, general fund revenues of the State shall not include moneys received as grants from the federal government and receipts in reimbursement of any reimbursable general obligation bonds which are excluded as permitted by this section.

A sum equal to fifteen percent of the total of the assessed values for tax rate purposes of real property in each political subdivision, as determined by the last tax assessment rolls pursuant to law, is established as the limit of the funded debt of such political subdivision that is outstanding and unpaid at any time.

All general obligation bonds for a term exceeding two years shall be in serial form maturing in substantially equal installments of principal, or maturing in substantially equal installments of both principal and interest. The first installment of principal of general obligation bonds and of reimbursable general obligation bonds shall mature not later than five years from the date of issue of such series. The last installment on general obligation bonds shall mature not later than twenty-five years from the date of such issue and the last installment on general obligation bonds sold to the federal government, on reimbursable general obligation bonds and on bonds constituting instruments of indebtedness under which the State or a political subdivision incurs a contingent liability as a guarantor shall mature not later than thirty-five years from the date of such issue. The interest and principal payments of general obligation bonds shall be a first charge on the general fund of the State or political subdivision, as the case may be.

In determining the power of the State to issue general obligation bonds or the funded debt of any political subdivision under section 12, the following shall be excluded:

1. Bonds that have matured, or that mature in the then current fiscal year, or that have been irrevocably called for redemption and the redemption date has occurred or will occur in the then fiscal year, or for the full payment of which moneys or securities have been irrevocably set aside.

2. Revenue bonds, if the issuer thereof is obligated by law to impose rates, rentals and charges for the use and services of the public undertaking, improvement or system or the benefits of a loan program or a loan thereunder or to impose a user tax, or to impose a combination of rates, rentals and charges and user tax, as the case may be, sufficient to pay the cost of operation, maintenance and repair, if any, of the public undertaking, improvement or system or the cost of maintaining a loan program or a loan thereunder and the required payments of the principal of and interest on all revenue bonds issued for the public undertaking, improvement or system or loan program, and if the issuer is obligated to deposit such revenues or tax or a combination of both into a special fund and to apply the same to such payments in the amount necessary therefor.

3. Special purpose revenue bonds, if the issuer thereof is required by law to contract with a person obligating such person to make rental or other payments to the issuer in an amount at least sufficient to make the required payment of the principal of and interest on such special purpose revenue bonds.

4. Bonds issued under special improvement statutes when the only security for such bonds is the properties benefited or improved or the assessments thereon.

5. Tax increment bonds, but only to the extent that the principal of and interest on the bonds are in fact paid from the real property taxes levied by a political subdivision on the assessed valuation of the real property in a tax increment district established by the political subdivision that is in excess of the assessed valuation of the real property for the year prior to the undertaking of specified public works, public improvements or other actions by the political subdivision within the tax increment district.

[~~5.~~] 6. General obligation bonds issued for assessable improvements, but only to the extent that reimbursements to the general fund for the principal and interest on such bonds are in fact made from assessment collections available therefor.

[~~6.~~] 7. Reimbursable general obligation bonds issued for a public undertaking, improvement or system but only to the extent that reimbursements to the general fund are in fact made from the net revenue, or net user tax receipts, or combination of both, as determined for the immediately preceding fiscal year.

[~~7.~~] 8. Reimbursable general obligation bonds issued by the State for any political subdivision, whether issued before or after the effective date of this section, but only for as long as reimbursement by the political subdivision to the State for the payment of principal and interest on such bonds is required by law; provided that in the case of bonds issued after the effective date of this section, the consent of the governing body of the political subdivision has first been obtained; and provided further that during the period that such bonds are excluded by the State, the principal amount then outstanding shall be included within the funded debt of such political subdivision.

[~~8.~~] 9. Bonds constituting instruments of indebtedness under which the State or any political subdivision incurs a contingent liability as a guarantor, but only to the extent the principal amount of such bonds does not exceed seven percent of the principal amount of outstanding general obligation bonds not otherwise excluded under this section; provided that the State or political subdivision shall establish and maintain a reserve in an amount in reasonable proportion to the outstanding loans guaranteed by the State or political subdivision as provided by law.

[~~9.~~] 10. Bonds issued by or on behalf of the State or by any political subdivision to meet appropriations for any fiscal period in anticipation of the collection of revenues for such period or to meet casual deficits or failures of revenue, if required to be paid within one year, and bonds issued by or on behalf of the State to suppress insurrection, to repel invasion, to defend the State in war or to meet emergencies caused by disaster or act of God.

The total outstanding indebtedness of the State or funded debt of any political subdivision and the exclusions therefrom permitted by this section shall be made annually and certified by law or as provided by law. For the purposes of section 12 and this section, amounts received from on-street parking may be considered and treated as revenues of a parking undertaking.

Nothing in section 12 or in this section shall prevent the refunding of any bond at any time."

SECTION 4. The question to be printed on the ballot shall be as follows:

"Shall the Constitution be amended to expressly provide that the legislature may authorize the counties to issue tax increment bonds?"

SECTION 5. Constitutional material to be repealed is bracketed and stricken. New constitutional material is underscored.

SECTION 6. This amendment shall take effect on July 1, 2020.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2845, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LANDS CONTROLLED BY THE STATE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Hanohano and Keith-Agaran voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Finnegan and Sagum being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 672-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2752, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2752, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of House Bill 2752, HD3. This bill enacts the recommendations of the Ignition Interlock Task Force made pursuant to Act 171, Session Laws of Hawaii 2008.

"Act 171 was the result of House Bill 3377, a bill I introduced in 2008 after I was hit head-on by a drunk driver. An ignition interlock is a breathalyzer device that is attached to the ignition of the vehicle of a convicted drunk driver. In order to start his or her vehicle, the driver must blow into the device, and if the driver is over the legal blood alcohol content limit, the car will not start. A small camera ensures that the offender does not tamper with the device or have someone else blow into it. Act 171 provided the basic framework for an ignition interlock system in Hawaii and created a task force to address the implementation and administration of the program. The recommendations of that task force, of which I was a member, were incorporated into House Bill 981 in the 2009 Session, which was signed into law as Act 88, Session Laws of Hawaii 2009. House Bill 2752, HD3 will make final changes that will allow ignition interlock to go into effect in 2011.

"Through my personal experience, and because of the stories I've heard from countless people throughout the State about the devastating effects of driving under the influence, I believe strongly that this bill will make a significant difference and save lives. By increasing our options and enforcement methods against drunk driving – such as revoking driver's licenses for at least a year, requiring the installation of an ignition interlock device on any vehicle operated by the person, with the cost of installation, maintenance, and calibration paid for by the offender, and requiring community service work, prison time, and a fine – we send a message that drunk driving is an incredibly serious offense, even in those cases where no innocent bystanders are harmed.

"Vehicle ignition interlock systems are not a new highway safety concept – currently, only three states do not have ignition interlock laws. Because Hawai'i has the highest percentage of alcohol-related fatalities in the United States, the final implementation of ignition interlock through this bill is critical to further change the perception that drunk driving is at all acceptable. We must all accept individual responsibility by drinking within legal limits and urging others to do the same. The ignition interlock program will force people to think even harder about the daily consequences of driving under the influence – and will consequently save lives. That is why it is imperative to support this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. I am in support with reservations. I think that there is some objectionable language about the exceptions for driver's license sanctions for minors who violate the underage drinking statute. The words added, 'for other reasons when lack of alternative transportation presents an undue hardship,' may be a loophole that a teenager could drive through.

"So I think it essentially gives kids carte blanche to drive anytime, anywhere. They just have to come up with a reasonable excuse. They can already receive exceptions for driving to school and school-related activities, and employment.

"So I am a little concerned about this amendment, which applies to minors even with learning permits, provisional license, or full license. I will be watching this particular measure very carefully as it moves through the Session. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, that bill is actually going to be on the next page. That is House Bill 2905."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support with reservations to H.B. 2752 H.D 2- which prohibits an individual from circumventing or tampering with the ignition interlock system if they are restricted to operate a vehicle with system.

"The ignition interlock system started as a Minority Caucus initiative. This is an important measure due to the Hawaii statistics that show how Hawaii has one of the highest rates in the Nation for fatalities due to inebriation and intoxication. I agree with the Department of Transportation that the passage of this measure is crucial, as it, "provides the missing details needed for the implementation" of Hawaii's ignition interlock program. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support Mr. Speaker. In this Chamber we have passed a lot of legislation aimed at drunk driving and increased penalties, but as you see we still have a lot of casualties because of drunken driving. It's time to implement measures like this. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2752, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HIGHWAY SAFETY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Bertram, Finnegan and Sagum being excused.

At 5:28 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2845, HD 1
H.B. No. 2752, HD 3

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 674, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 674, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 674, Relating to Hawaiian Affairs. Mr. Speaker, this bill crosses the line between this Body and the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. It sets a dangerous precedent of our reaching over into OHA's affairs, particularly to the core of their affairs, their budget. It tells them which projects that they are going to administer. It steps aside of their vetting process. It sets aside their strategic plan. It neuters the OHA Board of Trustees, which I had seen Oz Stender come earlier to see what we're up to.

"And lastly Mr. Speaker, this could have not only a repercussion for how we deal with them, vis-à-vis the Akaka Bill in the future, but it's a part that we may not even be doing justice to the beneficiaries. Do we know what their priorities are? Do we know better than OHA what the Hawaiian people need, if that's the reason why OHA is there? Office of Hawaiian Affairs. This Body is the office of many affairs, and many people, but yet we're reaching over and telling them what to do. I think it's a very dangerous precedent. What we might be accomplishing by doing this, I think, we are going to lose by its outcome. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 674, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Berg, Marumoto and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Finnegan and Sagum being excused.

H.B. No. 2587:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2587, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Quickly Mr. Speaker, I do rise in strong support for this measure, changing the Father Saint Damien Day from April 15 to the 10th of May. You know Mr. Speaker, Saint Damien is one of those icons of our State history. His selfless act of aiding and giving of his life for the people is one of the inspirational stories of Hawaii. And his legacy of commitment, compassion and sacrifice would be honored on this day.

"But his accomplishments on this day will also serve to remind us of the Catholic legacy, of which my district is known. Many may not know that Chieftess Liliha was a supporter of the Catholic faith and that her husband Chief Boki, Premier Governor of the Island of Oahu, was the first baptized Catholic ever in the Kingdom of Hawaii.

"Catholicism has been able to survive through great difficulties. It has many accomplishments, especially the establishment of the St. Louis High School, Cathedral School in my district, St. Francis Hospital, and the Catholic Charities which is also in my district. We're very proud in the community and Hawaii has much to be proud of. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2587, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SAINT DAMIEN DE VEUSTER DAY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Bertram, Finnegan and Sagum being excused.

H.B. No. 1868, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1868, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. Mr. Speaker, this is about civil service. In particular it's about turning political appointees away, after they've served in their State position, they have to refrain from going back to being civil service. They have to wait out for one year.

"The basic premise here is that they have been political, therefore if they're politicized, we will not use their skills. We will in effect 'dumb down' government by turning away these who are the best and the brightest. It rejects them to go back to their previous civil service jobs as with the very pertinent case in point, Dr. Pearl Iboshi.

"She is now in the position of being the Deputy Director of DBEDT. She had served as the State Chief Economist since 1995. She's been a member of the Council on Revenues since 1997. She has a B.A. Degree from Iowa, a Masters Degree from Hitotsubashi University in Tokyo, and a PhD from the University of Hawaii. If this bill was in effect Mr. Speaker, after she gets out of the Deputy Director position in November, she could not go back to being the Chief Economist at DBEDT.

"Why would we want to do that? She's got a wealth of information, she's an archive of knowledge and she's a very educated, intellectual person. Do we want to cripple government by passing this for somebody who is either thin skinned, or somebody who doesn't like the Administration, or somebody who says, 'We're going to get back at you through a bill like this?'

"I just don't think it's productive because governance is important. And governance is people and the better the people, the better the government. So this bill doesn't make any sense to me, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1868, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL SERVICE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Pine, Souki, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Bertram, Finnegan and Sagum being excused.

At 5:35 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 674, HD 1
H.B. No. 1868, HD 1

H.B. No. 415, HD 2:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 415, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise with strong reservations. Mr. Speaker, we are experiencing a period of unprecedented economic difficulty. This bill directs the Auditor to conduct a financial management audit of the Department of Public Safety's contract with Corrections Corporation of America and the Federal Detention Center. The Auditor is also directed to address the closure of Kulani Correctional Facility.

"With all due respect, we have our families experiencing Furlough Fridays, losing their jobs, being laid off. Inmates are in prison for a reason. They're usually in prison because they broke the law. While in prison they receive three square meals a day. They receive medical care. They are offered a chance at continuing education, not to mention a playroom, cable tv, among other amenities not afforded to so many of our taxpaying citizens who work so hard, if they have a job in this community.

"They're working hard simply to put food on the table. We are in unprecedented times. We have so many challenges that face each person in our state. The hardworking people that are being laid off are probably questioning, who is the priority of this Legislature. And why do law-abiding taxpaying citizens who struggle to make ends meet seem to not be at the top of our list.

"Being realistic, I don't think there's a Neighborhood Board member in our community or any resident who wants a prison built in their own backyard. Because Hawaii has so little land, what we do have is very expensive land and therefore our costs are very high. I just don't think we can afford to build another prison in our islands which will affect our quality of life.

"Is this bill necessary? The audit is directed to focus on the quality of programming costs, economic benefit to the State by housing Hawaii inmates at mainland facilities or at our local facilities. But according to the Department of Public Safety, it actually costs the State of Hawaii approximately $139 to house an inmate in Hawaii, yet only $66 to $68 dollars to house them on the mainland. So based on these figures I don't think we can afford to bring back inmates who are currently serving their sentences on the mainland.

"In addition, the scope of services is and has been available for anyone to review by simply accessing the Department's website which offers transparency in its Department. You can look up all these facts.

"So what is the real reason for this audit? Is it really to reunite inmates with their families here? What about our law-abiding citizens who are forced to move away to find jobs? Is the State willing to pay for them to be reunited? I just think that it's a time for priorities, Mr. Speaker. I understand the cultural values. I understand we want to make sure that people are taken care of, but first things first. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 490, HB 415, with reservations. Thank you Mr. Speaker, I understand this purpose of the bill is to request the financial and management audit of the Department of Public Safety's contracts with Corrections Corporation of America and the Federal Detention Center in Honolulu.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to support it with reservations and my reservations are the money, the cost that it would take to do the comprehensive financial and management audit. But I also want to state, Mr. Speaker, when an audit is needed because maybe there are some questions, or you want to find out more information, I think it's okay to ask for an audit. Right now is not a good, opportune time because of our budget situation.

"But I also want to say, Mr. Speaker, because of the money I believe that the comprehensive financial and management audit for the DOE is a resolution now. And that with the many different reasons for having a comprehensive financial and management audit, I believe, if anything, should be moving forward in a more substantive way. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Ching and Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 415, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SAFETY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2288, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 2288, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRIVATE TRANSFER FEES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2905, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2905, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I spoke out of turn on the previous page. May I have my remarks with reservations from Stand. Com. Rep. No. 672 refer to this bill before us. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is on House Bill 2905. The previous speaker spoke on this earlier. In support. In 2006 the Legislature passed Act 203, the Use and Lose Law. When minors were caught violating the State liquor laws, this law called for the mandatory suspension of their driver's license, one of their most prized possessions. That law is recognized as a very effective deterrent because it makes our young people think twice before drinking.

"Now this Session, your Committee on Consumer Protection and Commerce received House Bill 2905 which set out to amend the 'Use and Lose Law' to give law enforcement and the courts more tools to reach those minors who do not drive or have no desire to drive. In this bill however the original language in that bill eliminated the provisions in the law that mandated license suspension, giving courts the option to issue fines instead.

"We received a lot of opposition from the Administration, law enforcement, community groups like MADD seeking to maintain the strict penalties in the existing law. We therefore amended the bill so that license suspension is still mandatory, however the draft before you gives courts the option to issue additional fines and additional hours of community service beyond the 75 hours already required by law.

"There are other provisions in the original draft we retained. One is the creation of a fund for the counties for underage drinking programs. We believe this is to be an additional, non-punitive approach in reaching out to these kids so that they can make responsible decisions for the right reasons.

"The fund would be financed by 50% of the revenue collected by the additional optional fines. Also the existing law gives the courts the discretion to grant exceptions to license suspension per, and I quote, "school, school related activities, and employment."

"In this draft we permitted the courts to consider, and I quote, "other reasons when lack of alternative transportation presents an undue hardship." There may be situations where for example, families in rural areas rely on the minor to drive to and from the hospital, or when the minor must drive to counseling for themselves. We believe the courts are in the best position to make this determination on a case-by-case basis. And to the 35 of you that live on this island. Many of you don't have a clue as to what it's like in the rural areas where there is no transportation. And so we're just giving the courts this option.

"We also kept in this draft the provision that makes it illegal for minors to use a fake ID for any one of the '21 and over' establishments, like bars and clubs. Your CPC Committee believes this draft creates harsher consequences for a minor's decision to use alcohol and we recommend its passage. Thank you."

Representative Aquino rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aqunio's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in favor of House Bill 2905 HD1. The purpose of this bill is to strengthen the enforcement of liquor laws by making several changes.

"The proposed legislation makes it a violation for a minor to use false identification to gain access to bars, nightclubs, and other venues where minors are not allowed; establishes fines for these violators; and revenues generated would fund underage drinking efforts in all counties of our State.

"I believe that having these proposed components inserted into current laws would help deter the underage drinking problems we all face in our communities. Although it may not be the cure-all solution to this issue, I feel that this is a step in the right direction. It helps them to make good decisions, therefore paving the way for responsible, future generations. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2905, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTOXICATING LIQUOR," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Har voting no.

S.B. No. 771, SD 1, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 771, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morita rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. Thank you. First of all I want the Body to note that this bill does not have any flaws in it. It's a Senate Bill, so this is maybe the only opportunity for us to vote on this measure.

"But I want to refer back to testimony by the Appraisal Institute, Hawaii Chapter, and they testified in opposition against this bill. They said that an arbitrator does not serve the same function as an appraiser. Appraisers may act as arbitrators. However, when they are acting as arbitrators, they are undertaking an arbitration process and not an appraisal process.

"The letter goes on to cite a federal case in district court in Wong vs. Chalmers where the court said, 'As an initial matter the court rejects KUA's arguments that the defendants disregarded the law by not following the professional standards for appraisers. The court finds that these guidelines do not govern the arbitration proceeding because here Hallstrom, Holton, and Vernon were acting as arbitrators, not appraisers. The fact that the arbitrators were required to be licensed appraisers is immaterial here.'

"So in this bill what we're doing is we're confusing the role of an arbitrator with the role of an appraiser. My suggestion is to vote this bill down."

Representative Belatti rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong opposition to SB 771, HD1. This bill is an attempt to undermine the arbitration process which governs highly contentious disputed rent negotiations for commercial properties. At the heart of the arbitration process is the attempt to resolve divergent appraisals that are already based upon standards that this bill would impose on the arbitrators who are acting as judges or referees between the two conflicting parties. By confusing the difference between arbitrators and appraisers in this process and seeking to impose the proposed standard upon arbitrators, this bill will further increase the cost of the alternative dispute resolution process that is presently cheaper than costly litigation in the courts. To fix something that is not broken would be folly, and it is for these reasons that I oppose this bill."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and stated:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I'm going to withdraw my reservations and change it to a 'no' vote."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I'm for the measure. As a former appraiser I believe that some uniformity is very important and that includes when you go into the arbitration process. Otherwise you would be comparing apples and oranges. You're going to have an appraiser who's schooled in appraising with the uniform appraisal system, and you're going to have an arbitrator who's not familiar with that at all. So I believe they'll provide some inconsistency over there. So for consistencies sake, for some uniformity, I think this bill merits approval. Thank you."

Representative Saiki rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. My concerns are three-fold. First, there is little understanding of how application of the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice will impact lease renegotiation arbitrations. Second, it is unclear to what extent this measure will impact the State's leases of public lands. Third, this measure will cloud the validity of arbitration awards.

"It appears that this measure is designed to provide a basis for dissatisfied parties to vacate arbitration awards pursuant to H.R.S. § 658A-23 (permitting the Circuit Court to vacate an arbitration award where e.g., [a]n arbitrator exceeded the arbitrator's powers"). As such, the number of appeals to the Circuit Court will undoubtedly increase and the certainty normally afforded to the arbitration process will be diminished.

"Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker I rise in support with reservations of Senate Bill 771, Senate Draft 1, House Draft 1, Relating to Appraisals. This measure requires real estate appraisers to rely on the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP) when acting as an appraiser or arbitrator in an arbitration proceeding. Additionally, this measure requires that an arbitrator must provide the rationale and evidence that provided the basis of an award under the Uniform Arbitration Act.

"Although this measure is designed to protect consumers from unfair arbitration decisions, as well as ensure the integrity and reliability of real estate appraisal practices in the State, problems exist in its application.

"Requiring appraisers acting as arbitrators to comply with the USPAP is not the intentional application of this set of standards. Mr. Speaker, I would like to provide a brief history of USPAP.

"USPAP was created by the Appraisal Foundation as a set of standards for appraisal and appraiser qualifications, and not intended to direct arbitration decisions. Congress mandated all property appraisals involving federally funded property transactions be performed under USPAP in Title XI of the Financial Institutions Recovery, Reform and Enforcement Act of 1989. This legislation was driven by the 1988 Savings and Loan Scandal where dishonest appraisers falsely valued properties and colluded with mortgage borrowers to profit at the expense of unwitting taxpayers and loan institutions costing millions in public funds.

"Additionally, this bill would override a federal district court precedence set in the ruling of Wong v. Chalmers stating that real estate appraisers, when acting as arbitrators, are not engaging in an appraisal function. This supports the opinion of the Appraisal Institute, Hawaii Chapter, which argues that arbitration, dispute resolution, is not the same as appraisal, the process of estimating value. Arbitrators and appraisers do not perform the same duties; therefore, an arbitration award should not be vacated because of an arbitrator's noncompliance with USPAP.

"Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, this bill challenges the finality of arbitration decisions, as set forth in State law. Arbitration is binding onto both parties as the fairness of representation was served and both parties agreed to accept the awarded decision. Allowing this decision to be reviewed would not provide the intended reductions in cost and protection of the consumer, and only serves to extend the litigation process and increase costs to all parties.

"Finally Mr. Speaker, although this measure seeks to benefit taxpayers by increasing transparency and accountability of arbitration decisions, as well as upholding the integrity of the real estate appraisers, I must express my support for the measure Relating to Appraisals, with reservations.

Representative Pine rose and stated:

"Can I change my reservations to a no vote please," and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 771, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO APPRAISALS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 34 ayes to 17 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Choy, Coffman, Finnegan, Hanohano, Keith-Agaran, C. Lee, Luke, Morita, Nakashima, Pine, Saiki, Shimabukuro, Takai, Takumi and Wakai voting no.

H.B. No. 2129, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2129, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Aquino rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of House Bill 2129 HD1. The intent of this legislation is to impose stiffer penalties on a person convicted of criminal property damage involving graffiti to:

Remove graffiti within 30 days of sentencing;

Perform community service for the duration of his/her sentence within a 100 yard radius of the first offense; and Reimburse property owners for costs incurred if the owners decide to clean it up themselves.

"This bill is a deterrent that sends a message to those who inflict graffiti damage on others' properties. It tells them that if you are caught, there are serious consequences in store including financial implications.

"In addition, this measure gives our residents peace of mind that we are serious about taking care of our communities and getting tough on senseless criminal behaviors. The vandalism and graffiti issues have frustrated, and continue to frustrate many property owners and residents throughout our State.

"Lastly, this bill costs little to no money to implement, which is always a good thing – especially in these times. For these reasons, I strongly support HB 2129 HD1."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this bill which prescribes additional penalties for those that cause damage through graffiti. I know there are a lot of issues that clamor for our attention. The budget, public education, furloughs, but this issue is so important to so many communities, because graffiti is a scourge on many of our communities and this sends the right message to those who would commit those crimes.

"In years past we've increased fines, penalties, but in this bill we do something that gets to the crux of the problem. We make the perpetrator clean up their own mess.

"There's an improvement that can be made to this bill, however, and I hope that the relevant Chairs might adopt it as it moves along. As the Attorney General testified to, there should probably be an amendment that calls for the owner's consent in having the perpetrator clean it up. After all, it is the property owner's property and he or she may have some concerns with having that person on their property. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ching be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations on this measure and I would like to submit to the Journal the testimony of the Public Defender and Hawaiian Electric to express my reservations."

Representative Marumoto submitted the following testimony:

"Testimony of the Office of the Public Defender to the House Committee on Judiciary

HB 2129: RELATING TO GRAFFITI

Chair Karamatsu and Committee Members:

We oppose passage of H.B. No. 2129 because it would hold one criminally liable for acts that the person was not responsible for. This bill would automatically impose upon a person who was convicted of certain specified criminal offenses involving graffiti the duties of: 1) removing any graffiti which appears on properties within one hundred yards of the site of the original offense for two years; and 2) reimbursing property owners within one hundred yards of the site of the original offense for the costs of the removal of any graffiti which appears for two years. The bill would impose the aforementioned penalties even if the original offender was not involved with the latter incidents of graffiti.

This bill is completely contrary to the fundamental legal concept in both criminal and tort law that you are legally liable only for those acts for which you bear responsibility. This measure would be analogous to requiring a driver convicted of speeding to pay the fines of all speeders caught within a hundred yards of the original driver's site of offense for two years.

Finally, the provision which would require graffiti offenders to remove the graffiti involved within thirty days of sentencing has good intentions but might be problematic. In the past, the community service branch of the Judiciary which supervises such projects has been backlogged and unable to expediently schedule community service projects. It would be unfair to hold the offender liable for administrative delays. The proper authorities must supervise graffiti removal projects. One cannot simply enter a citizen's or company's property to conduct cleaning or painting without the proper legal clearances.

Thank you for the opportunity to be heard on this matter."

"Testimony before the House Committee on Judiciary
By Cheryl Fujiwara
Director, Facilities Operations
Hawaiian Electric Company, Inc.

February 16, 2010
2:00 p.m.
House Bill 2129
Relating to Graffiti

Chair Karamatsu, Vice Chair Ito, and Members of the Committee:

My name is Cheryl Fujiwara and I am testifying on behalf of the Hawaiian Electric Company and its subsidiaries, Hawaii Electric Light Company and Maui Electric Company.

We strongly support HB 2129, which will make those convicted of graffiti damage more accountable for their actions. However, there may be cases in which the damaged property involves an electrical vault, steel pole, or other equipment belonging to Hawaiian Electric which may be located on land (real property) belonging to Hawaiian Electric or a third party. Much of our equipment is energized at high voltage levels in which there is a possible risk that serious injuries may occur if removal of graffiti from any Hawaiian Electric equipment is not handled in an appropriate and safe manner by trained and qualified personnel. Accordingly, in the interest of ensuring the public's safety, we propose to amend subsection (a), lines 9 through 10, of the original Bill by adding the underscored text as indicated below:

"§708-___ Graffiti; sentencing. (1) Whenever a person is sentenced under sections 708-821, 708-822, 708-823, or 708-823.5, for an offense in which the damage is caused by graffiti, in addition to any penalty prescribed by those sections, the person shall be required to:

(a) Remove the graffiti from the damaged property where consent from the respective property owner(s) has been obtained, within thirty days of sentencing, if it has not already been removed;

Based on the foregoing, we ask that our proposed amendment be included in House Bill 2129.

Mahalo."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in support of this bill. The one concern that the Representative from Liliha shared was about the consent, and I do have concerns on that. I think it was Hawaiian Electric that basically said, the possibility of a case where somebody went in into a dangerous area and did some graffiti, that you would be sending them back there without consent and it could be very dangerous. I think that should be looked at as we're moving forward.

"The other thing is, this is such a hard, hard, it's a hard person to catch, someone who does graffiti. And I really think that this would hopefully uplift some of those in the community that take it upon themselves to go out there and clean up the graffiti that other people leave. I have a wonderful neighbor who volunteers and goes out and paints over graffiti. Almost every morning on his walk he takes a little container of paint with him to go out and clean up graffiti. So I just wanted to share that story because, with the bad things that happen, there are really good people out there. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing up in support. Mr. Speaker, just brief comments. I commend the authors, the freshman class of 2009, for coming up with a creative way of addressing this ongoing problem with graffiti. I think it's an interesting way to look at the issues of making people responsible for their behavior. And as a father who does chalk drawing and painting on my driveway and sidewalks, I'll make sure my son cleans it up after he's done. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, this bill is a good first step toward finally holding vandals responsible for their vandalism. Those who deface public property will be responsible for cleaning up not just their own graffiti, but any other graffiti in the area as well. This bill will go a long way toward keeping our community clean, and deterring vandalism in the future."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in support of HB 2129, Relating to Graffiti. This bill requires persons convicted of criminal property damage to remove the graffiti within thirty days, to perform community service in the area where the property damage was committed, and to reimburse the property owners for any costs incurred. These three elements will help eradicate the graffiti that is causing incalculable damage to our neighborhoods and tourism industry.

"Graffiti is not only unsightly, but it can also lead to greater problems, such as gang violence. Graffiti should therefore be recognized as a serious crime, not a petty offense. This bill does so without any cost to the State.

"It is imperative that we deter blight and violence and preserve the natural beauty of our islands. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support HB 2129."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. In support with just one small reservation. I think the penalties of having the violator remove the graffiti and perform community service are good ones, but however I think that the reimbursement of the cost may be going a little bit beyond a deterrent and really penalizing someone for graffiti that they may not have actually committed. So that's my one slight reservation on this. Thank you."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"First, I especially want to thank the representative from Waipahu for coming up with this graffiti bill, and thank all the freshmen for their work and commitment to move this bill forward.

"As one of seven freshmen, I've been honored to work with such a stellar group of people. We worked together for many hours and agreed to set aside differences in opinion and background in order to put our communities first. After extended discussions, we identified shared values and priorities. HB 2129, Relating to Graffiti, was a bill that symbolized our belief that in these tough times, we must find new and better ways to prevent crime and make our communities even better, without costing taxpayers a dime.

"In my community, the Honolulu Police Department, groups like 96744, and countless volunteers have been waging a battle against vandalism. Illegal graffiti has imposed significant costs on businesses, residents, as well as City and State government. It is time for us to impose stiffer penalties, and get more creative to prevent graffiti in the first place and engage perpetrators in the effort to deter vandalism in the future.

"This bill requires a person convicted of criminal property damage involving graffiti to not only remove the graffiti within 30 days of sentencing, but also take responsibility for removing graffiti within 100 yards of the site of the offense for two years, or reimburse property owners for costs incurred for removing graffiti in the area. This new approach will make those convicted of vandalism responsible for preventing it, and give them reason to start caring about keeping our community clean.

"I hope you all support this bill and help it move forward and become law. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2129, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GRAFFITI," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 5:54 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 415, HD 2
H.B. No. 2288, HD 1
H.B. No. 2905, HD 1
S.B. No. 771, SD 1, HD 1

H.B. No. 2725, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2725, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. House Bill 2725, House Draft 1 further protects the health and wellbeing of pet animals. The bill creates a new definition of "primary pet enclosure," which means any kennel, cage, or structure used to restrict a pet animal to a limited amount of space. It requires that an area of confinement in a primary pet enclosure provide access to shelter; is constructed of safe materials to protect an animal from injury; enable an animal to be clean, dry, and free from excess waste or other contaminants that could affect the animal's health; provide an animal with a solid surface or resting platform that is large enough for the animal to lie down in a normal manner; provide an animal with a solid surface (in the case of a rabbit or guinea pig the surface may be welded wire of sufficient size to allow feces to pass through, yet comfortably support the animal) or resting platform (in the case of birds, a perch) that is large enough for the animal to lie or perch upon in a normal manner.

"In addition, the bill mandates that a primary pet enclosure provide sufficient space to allow an animal to easily stand, sit, lie, turn around, and make all other normal body movements in a comfortable normal position for the animal without making physical contact with any other animal enclosure; and interact safely with other animals within the enclosure.

"Owners must also provide veterinary care when required to prevent the pet animal from suffering. The definition of "pet animal" was amended to mean a dog, cat, domesticated rabbit so long as not bred or raised for meat production purposes, guinea pig, or caged birds (passeriformes, piciformes, and psittaciformes only) so long as not bred or raised for egg or meat production purposes. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2725, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ANIMALS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2542, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 2542, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NON-GENERAL FUNDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Hanohano voting no.

H.B. No. 2702, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2702, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in opposition to this measure. Very briefly, the Department of Labor said should they ever implement a study to change the rates to twice a year, it would be extremely expensive. It would cost millions. It would be very difficult to administer also."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Actually, I would like a 'no' vote on this. And if I could just explain, this has to do with the Unemployment Insurance Fund. I understand what we're trying to do. And I also understand that in this time, especially because there's a high utilization of unemployment insurance, that we're trying to make it fairer for small businesses instead of large businesses who a lot of the time, especially in agriculture, as well as construction fields, utilize the Unemployment Insurance Fund a lot. A lot of these smaller businesses and other businesses are "subsidizing," quote-unquote, some of these larger businesses and their utilization.

"There was a study that was done that noticed that this was taking place, and so I appreciate the fact that we are trying to look at improving the unemployment insurance calculations and rules and how we figure this out.

"My problem Mr. Speaker with this is, in speaking with the DLIR Director, that the cost for this study, because it needs to be done by economists, is going to be quite large. I'm not sure that we have the money to do that.

"On top of that, some of the other things like the previous speaker mentioned, that some of the changes, just to change the system and the technology to follow the system could cost up to three, four, five million dollars to implement that.

"Mr. Speaker, all in all I think right now, maybe we can look at doing some changes to this Fund in the future, but right now I think it's a very difficult time to do it. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2702, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT SECURITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Finnegan and Marumoto voting no.

H.B. No. 2736, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2736, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I suppose having a measure that supports local workers and local jobs is a worthy and laudable goal. The bad news is that this measure more than likely conflicts with the procurement terms of any international trade agreements.

"For example, just under NAFTA alone, over the past few years there have been more than 40 complaints seeking $28 billion in damages spread across various states. Not just with procurement, but on the various sections that are embedded in NAFTA.

"The good news I suppose is that it would only become problematic if one of the 42 trading partners that are under the World Trade Organization filed a complaint regarding this measure, or if Chile, Singapore, Australia, Morocco, or any of the other CAFTA signatories did the same.

"So I suspect it won't be an issue if this is a contract for local people and it's a relatively small one. But Mr. Speaker, I suspect if we were to build a new stadium and we put that out to bid and said that the only people who bid on it would be companies that can ensure that 80% of that workforce will be local people, I'm afraid that we would get a challenge. For those of you who are familiar with the challenge under NAFTA, CAFTA, or the WTO, it is a tribunal. It's done in secret and damages are assessed to the US Government. And then what usually happens, as in the case of California, the US Government, all they do is take it off the top, highway funds or some other funds that the state gets to pay the damages.

"So these appeals, these challenges, take years to work out. But again, that's the one problem with that part of this measure. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do have concerns on this bill as well. With reservations and just short comments. Mr. Speaker, one of the things is, I have similar comments. There's just one problem and I keep hearing about the constitutional issue. I think that's a big problem. Of course, we want to save our jobs for local workers. That's the right thing to do, but there are these things that fall in the way of our being able to do that.

"The other thing that I'd like to just share is, and just kind of to put some rumors to rest. I know when we were discussing this bill, I think it was in Committee, that there were some really bad things that the Aloha Stadium project contractor had done. They went to the mainland to get certain employees or workers to come and work at the Aloha Stadium without looking locally first. Upon going back to the Aloha Stadium and checking what had happened, the issue was that there were no trained professionals or people locally in all of the State of Hawaii that could do the work that was contracted for the Aloha Stadium. So before we jump to conclusions, I think that we should get our information correct first. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, I rise with strong reservations. Thank you. I'd like to have the remarks of the Chair of Education entered as my own. I will also submit additional written comments. I hope that we certainly don't want to be getting sued or create more problems in our effort to try and solve it."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations to H.B. 2736 which requires at least eighty per cent of workers on public works and construction contracts to be Hawaii residents.

"While I understand that this bill strives to reduce unemployment here in Hawaii and that the measure provides a contractor with flexibility to bring in workers from elsewhere if needed, I have deep concerns with the constitutionality of this measure and agree with testifiers that the State must be able to establish that this would not pose as a liability for the State in the future. We must also look at the costs that are associated with this measure, as a reason for contracting out-of-state workers may be for the savings associated with using these workers. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Takumi and Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2736, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC PROCUREMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2832, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2832, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sagum rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Herkes rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. And the reason for that is the referral of this bill was waivered out of Water, Land and Ag to meet the deadline to Finance. The Water, Land Committee wants to have a hearing on this too. So that's the reason for my reservation. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations and some real brief comments. My position on the underlying matter of this bill is perfectly clear. However, like the Chair of Water, Land stated, as a member of Agriculture, I was shocked that we didn't have a chance to get public testimony and input on this measure. And I find it ironic that some Members would chastise the EBM Committee for this, but yet something like this pops up. Thank you, very much."

Representative Wooley rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am rising in strong support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to make sure that first of all, Members understand that the reason why this bill moved forward was because there was some controversial language in the original draft. Fortunately, in working with the Chair of Agriculture, the Chair of Water, Land and the Chair of Finance, we were able to identify that and pull that language out. We then noticed it for hearing so it did go through full hearing. I believe that most of the Members had a chance to review that testimony.

"This is a very exciting bill, Mr. Speaker. One of the reasons is that it is a way for us to create jobs. In the testimony that came out, it was estimated that there are 40 to 100 jobs per 100 acres for taro growing. In addition, it was estimated that about 4.3 million pounds of raw taro provided more than $1 million in tax revenue to the State. That was for about 390 acres.

"So right now there's a lot of potential for the State of Hawaii to bring in federal money, as well as private money for growing taro. That includes restoring land for wetland purposes, food security, water quality, and a whole host of other reasons. One of the non-profits in my community has actually moved forward with that and they're pulling in federal money right now.

"So this is a great opportunity and a creative way for us to let OHA have the authority to bring in that money to the State, and then funnel it directly to our farmers, and to our community to create jobs. So I appreciate everybody working with me, and everyone's support. I am very excited about this bill. I hope you support it. Thank you."

Representative Manahan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"In support with reservations, Mr. Speaker. And a few comments. I'd just like to rebut the comments from the author of this bill. To be clear, this is a bill regarding taro security, and yet there was never a hearing before the Agriculture Committee, and the Water, Land, and Ocean Resources Committee. This bill was heard before one Committee and that was Finance.

"So to say that this bill received a full hearing before subject matter committees is incorrect, Mr. Speaker. For these reasons I rise with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"In response to concerns raised on the Floor, let me begin by saying that I have heard no one express concerns about the substance of this bill in its current form. I believe that is a testament to our legislative process, as well as the bill itself. HB 2832 is good policy. It creates the potential for job growth, food security, environmental protection, Hawaiian culture, and education. And it doesn't cost the State a dime or mandate any action.

"There appears to be some misunderstanding about the process that was followed as this bill moved forward in the House. Let me put those issues to rest. The original draft of this bill included controversial language that divided this Legislature and the public in years past. The original draft used the words "non-GMO taro."

"My perspective is there should never be, and never will be GMO taro in Hawaii. That's why I had the bill drafted allowing for money to be spent to promote "non-GMO Hawaiian taro." However, those words are fighting words. The seed industry, researchers, and many others have serious concerns about any efforts to distinguish between GMO and non-GMO food.

"The Chair of Agriculture knows all too well the extreme views on this issue. And to his credit, he has heard many controversial bills on this issue and has tried to move the discussion forward so that all agricultural industries and all farmers are supported.

"When I used the words "non-GMO taro" I did not reflect on the controversy that might be caused. However, I sincerely thank the Chair of Agriculture for being willing to talk to me about the issue and to point out that the words are simply too controversial for us to move forward at this time.

"Because there was support for this bill, I investigated the procedural options after a hearing deadline was missed. The Chairs of the Agriculture, Water Land, and Finance Committees were willing to talk to me about the options – again, mahalo to each Chair. After some discussion, I determined that the use of the re-referral form, which is commonly used in this Body to address exactly this kind of circumstance, would be the best way to proceed.

"I took the bill to each one of the Chairs and talked to them about changes we could make to the bill to make it non-controversial. Each Chair had suggestions. Based on their excellent suggestions and their wisdom, I drafted a proposed HD1. We changed the authorized agency from the Department of Agriculture to the Office of Hawaiian Affairs primarily because the Department of Agriculture can barely keep its head above water in these tough times, and it was recognized that OHA already has background and expertise on taro-related issues. We took out all references to "GMO." After talking about the issue, we also took out language in the preface of the bill and the references to Hawaiian taro defined in Bulletin 84.

"Each Chair in all three Committees was given a copy of the proposed HD1. I asked each Chair if it looked okay, or if they had any concerns. As indicated on the re-referral sheet and based on this proposed HD1, each Chair approved a single referral for the bill to the Finance Committee – the one Committee that cannot, as a policy, waive off on any bill that has a financial implication for the State. It is this HD1 that we are voting on today.

"This is our system, and I followed it to the 'T.' And I sincerely thank each of the chairs for working with me on the bill, educating me, and supporting a bill that they all realize makes great public policy in a time of great need.

"There may have been some confusion about the process because when the notice for the bill was posted, it referred to the original language of the bill and not the proposed HD1. There was also confusing testimony that proposed a new HD1, which I now see added significantly to the uncertainty about what happened with this bill.

"I hope this clears up any questions that remain about the process for this bill as it moves forward. The bill, if heard by the Senate, will have at least one more full subject matter hearing before coming back to this Body for a final vote. I hope you support it. Mahalo."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do have some reservations on this bill and just short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think you know that process is so important, and I understood that this bill had prior concurrence by the previous Chairs to be re-referred. If that's not the case, then I think that we should have the process work for us and make sure that there's ample time for people in the public to weigh in. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I have reservations on the same concerns. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations with two brief comments. One was the surprising statistic regarding the amount of taro that's coming in from China and overseas. A huge amount of taro. Secondly, that Kauai is producing 80% of the taro which we consume in the State of Hawaii. So kudos to them, but that was a surprise. And we have got to do more.

"I'm not sure this bill is going to push it that far down the line because it says, 'OHA please go get money for us.' Taro farming is not an easy thing and there's a long way to go. But this is a beginning. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2832, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TARO SECURITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2600:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 2600, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX ADMINISTRATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives McKelvey, Pine and Thielen voting no.

At 6:09 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2725, HD 1
H.B. No. 2542, HD 1
H.B. No. 2702, HD 1
H.B. No. 2736, HD 1
H.B. No. 2832, HD 1

H.B. No. 2690:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2690, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

At this time, Representative Thielen offered Floor Amendment No. 3, amending H.B. No. 2690, as follows:

"SECTION 1. House Bill 2690 is amended by deleting its contents, and replacing it with the following text, to read as follows:

"SECTION 1. Section 661-1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"§661-1 Jurisdiction. The several circuit courts of the State and, except as otherwise provided by statute or rule, the several state district courts shall, subject to appeal as provided by law, have original jurisdiction to hear and determine the following matters, and, unless otherwise provided by law, shall determine all questions of fact involved without the intervention of a jury[~~.~~]:

(1) All claims against the State founded upon any statute of the State; or upon any regulation of an executive department; or upon any contract, expressed or implied, with the State, and all claims which may be referred to any such court by the legislature; provided that no action shall be maintained, nor shall any process issue against the State, based on any contract or any act of any state officer which the officer is not authorized to make or do by the laws of the State, nor upon any other cause of action than as herein set forth[~~.~~]; and provided further that a claim founded upon a statute of the State is within the original jurisdiction of the courts only if, in the text of the separate statute upon which the claim is founded, the State has unequivocally waived its sovereign immunity for the claim.

(2) All counterclaims, whether liquidated or unliquidated, or other demands whatsoever on the part of the State against any person making claim against the State under this chapter."

SECTION 2. Statutory material to be repealed is bracketed and stricken. New statutory material is underscored.

SECTION 3. This Act shall take effect upon its approval.""

Representative Thielen moved that Floor Amendment No. 3 be adopted, seconded by Representative Marumoto.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm not sure if Members here realize it, but about one-third of the Members in this Body are attorneys. Sometimes attorneys have a different view of life and what bills really make sense. The difficulty with this bill, and what I am proposing is not the exact language of the Attorney General, but as things move forward it can be amended on the Senate side to be the exact language if the Members feel that it should be.

"What this bill says is that we as legislators set policy. And we as legislators have a responsibility to set policy, not the court. Not the court acting in a legislative capacity instead of a judicial capacity. And up until recently it has been we as legislators decide when we, the State will be allowed to be sued, and we say that within the legislation. If it's not in the legislation, then the State has what's called 'sovereign immunity.' It can't be sued.

"While the Hawaii Supreme Court has expanded on a private attorney general doctrine, it popped up in the Superferry case. One of those cases. And the court awarded attorney fees to the plaintiffs in that case. The law did not provide for the attorney's fees. The law said, sovereign immunity. The State is immune from suit, but the Supreme Court acting in a legislative capacity decided otherwise.

"The amendment will keep the authority with the Legislature and not in the Court. Now I'll tell you how serious it is. It's become expanded from the Superferry case. In 2003, a number of us were here during that period of time."

Representative Evans rose to a point of order, stating:

"Point of order. I'm sorry the speaker is not addressing the Chair. She's not addressing you. She's addressing the audience."

The Chair addressed Representative Thielen, stating:

"Representative Thielen, please address the rostrum and not the audience. Please continue."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"I was just doing an eyeball look around to see who was here in 2003 and who wasn't, Mr. Speaker. Some of us were here, and some were not. But in 2003 we passed a really good bill which established that all accreted or newly-formed land belonged to the State. And this was an effort Mr. Speaker, to preserve our beaches for the public.

"Well, Paul Alston had clients that thought differently and said, 'Wait a minute. That's our land.' So he went to court on behalf of those clients. The court had a sort of split decision and said once that bill was passed from 2003 forward, that land belongs to the State. That accreted land. But anything that was in existence prior to 2003, that those plaintiffs could go to court to prove that they had that accreted land and to prove individually that that should be theirs. Paul Alston is suing for attorney's fees under the Private Attorney General Doctrine, for $650 an hour. $650 an hour.

"So without making sure that we ourselves as policymakers will say when we can be sued, when the State can be sued, and when it can't, we're opening ourselves to a huge amount of liability. And if the Finance Chair thinks he has trouble now, take a look at what the future bill would be like that we passed just not so long ago, the Claims Against the State bill, and take a look at how that bill will escalate.

"Let me give you an example of just some of the bills before us today where plaintiff attorneys could go in and use this Private Attorney General Doctrine and come back for attorney's fees. House Bill 2667, which is the Superferry again. Superferry 2. Were that to move ahead, who knows down the road what that would do. We know in one Superferry case the court already did grant attorney's fees."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"House Bill 674. This is about putting some provisos in the OHA budget. We could be subject there. And then here's a biggie. House Bill 2284, which is the fair and reasonable determination on the rents, on the leases. That could set us up for major attorney's fees.

"And then the one we were just talking about, House Bill 2736, the bill requiring 80% of workers on public work construction projects to be Hawaii residents.

"All of these could turn around and come back for future Legislatures to have to look at an, 'oh my gosh' bill for claims against the State because we didn't pass an amended bill today making clear that the State cannot be sued unless the policymakers, not the court, but the policymakers say in statute that the State will be open to being sued.

"Now I have a feeling that the Majority Leader is going to pop up and argue ferociously against this, but before he, or if he, does, I would like to ask him to recuse himself because while he may not work on those cases, Paul Alston gets $650 an hour in attorney's fees for protecting our public land, accreted land for the public, then that does accrue to the members of that law firm.

"Mr. Speaker, I know that there is a tendency in this heavily Democrat Legislature to never accept a Republican's amendment."

The Chair addressed Representative Thielen, stating:

"Representative Thielen, please stick to the issue on the floor which is Floor Amendment No. 3."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Okay. I would like to say in this case Mr. Speaker, it's the State and the taxpayers' financial liability that is just massive if we don't clarify this law and say to the Supreme Court, 'You're not the decider. We as policymakers will decide when the State will be open to suit and when we will waive our sovereign immunity.' That's what this whole bill is about. I know that there are some of the senior members in this Body that would recognize what liability lies out there unless we enact this amendment. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the amendment."

Representative Thielen rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I asked him to recuse himself and refrain from arguing about this. I think there is ..."

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "Representative Thielen, you're out of order. Representative Blake Oshiro has the floor."

Representative Thielen: "Mr. Speaker, I'd like to have him disclose his relationship with the firm that is seeking $650 an hour."

Representative B. Oshiro: "Mr. Speaker, she is out of order. May I explain why I don't need to?"

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "Representative Thielen, please sit down. Representative Blake Oshiro you have the floor. Please proceed."

Representative B. Oshiro continued, stating:

"The first reason I don't have to ask for potential conflict of interest is because her floor amendment has nothing to do with attorney's fees. If she reads it closely, as much as she wants to try and say there's the potential for it to get amended as it moves on. Heck, any bill has the potential to get amended to move on and include that issue. So why do we make that argument? That is not what's before us.

"What's before us is this bill. This proposed amendment that she's trying to do to HRS 661 which has nothing to do with attorney's fees. Instead what it's talking about is the State's sovereign immunity. Let me get to that. The State's sovereign immunity is not only limited to a policy issue."

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "Representative Thielen, Representative Blake Oshiro has the floor."

Representative Thielen: "No. A point of clarification. I don't see how the speaker can say this has nothing to do with attorney's fees because unless we maintain our sovereign immunity ..."

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "Representative Thielen, you had your chance to offer your discourse. Right now, we have Representative Blake Oshiro who has the floor. Representative Blake Oshiro, please continue."

Representative B. Oshiro continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, had the proponent wanted to introduce attorney's fees, she could have introduced attorney's fees. But let me look at the underlying language. I don't see the word, 'attorney.' I don't see the word, 'fees' anywhere there in her proposed amendment. Therefore, that's not the subject of this proposed amendment.

"What this proposed amendment is about is sovereign immunity. However, the problem with that is it's not just about the policy decisions of this Legislature. What is also included in sovereign immunity is the action of the Administration.

"Let me be more specific. When the Administration and the Department of Human Services said that they had the right to terminate all dialysis and cancer treatments for people from Micronesia, that was something that needed to be challenged in federal court, as well as State court. Had this amendment passed, if this language was on our statute books, guess what? There wouldn't have been that cause of action in State court.

"What the Attorney General is seeking to do is undo years and years of precedent that has been built up in HRS 661. That is what is before us. And so as much as she may be trying to say that this is about attorney's fees and other things, that is not the issue before us. So I would say, if she wants to introduce that, then actually that's what the floor amendment should be. Because actually, she's really misaligned the issue.

"The Private Attorney General Doctrine is specifically defined by our Hawaii Supreme Court in the Waiahole case and there's a three pronged test that must be met. None of those three bills she mentioned today have anything to do with the Private Attorney General Doctrine. It all would fail the test. All of them would fail that test. So before she starts citing the Private Attorney General Doctrine, I suggest she read the case and find out what the three prong test is. And then maybe she can talk about the doctrine and actually mean what it has to say instead of just speculating, and instead of talking about some people's law firm which has nothing to do, again, with this amendment.

"Third, let me say that, again to cite from the Minority Leader. The process is so important. This bill was actually heard in the Judiciary Committee on February 23rd. However, the bill did not move because what the Attorney General wanted was not the bill. Not the language that's before us. He wanted something completely different, and so what he asked was for an amendment to put in some language on attorney's fees, but that has not gotten a hearing. That was not anything anybody was able to submit testimony on. And so when we talk about the process being so important. When we talk about transparency and the people having an opportunity to come to this Body and talk, and testify on bills. The Attorney General should not be trying to subterfuge and 'slide in' language in bills that has nothing to do with actual subject. That's the problem. Because this floor amendment and the issue she's talking about are two entirely different things. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the amendment. Mr. Speaker, I can't speak for the two-thirds in here who are not lawyers, but I can say from common sense that what the speaker from Kailua said is the Supreme Court has taken an unprecedented step. They have threatened the sovereign immunity of this Body, and if it's going to cost us an arm and a leg in terms of fees, we ought to wake up and pay attention to it.

"Now is this unprecedented? What did the 'black robes' do to this Body in the '90s? And I'm not one of those older Members, because I had a hiatus. But in the '90s the 'black robed' individuals said, same sex marriage is legal in the State of Hawaii the way we read it. The Chief Justice said, 'You the Legislature have the trump card.' What the good representative from Kailua is trying to tell us is, wake up Legislature. If we don't tell and send a message to the Supreme Court, the sovereign immunity rests with us unless we say otherwise.

"All of these suits. It was the Whale Foundation that got, I forget how many hundreds of thousands of dollars when they brought the Superferry to court. It's not only these pending ones. It's the other ones that we're going to have to pay out an arm and a leg for. So Mr. Speaker, this is a fiscal issue, but it's one that the Supreme Court needs to hear from us about. That's basically the non-legal language that she is talking about. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a brief rebuttal because of a quote that I said earlier. Yes, I'm in favor of the amendment. Thank you. Just a brief rebuttal. The issue to me is, I believe that the AG feels that that particular amendment is very germane to the bill and offered the amendment just like we do in any other Committee.

"The problem that I had with the Taro Security bill is that we were talking about prior concurrence of the Chair's before that. I know that that is something important to this Body. It's important to the Speaker. And it's important to the process. To hear on this very Floor, in Committee, to say that there was prior concurrence and then on this very Floor saying that there wasn't. That's disturbing Mr. Speaker, because then that information was misrepresented.

"None of the information that we're talking about on this bill is misrepresented, Mr. Speaker. The AG in Committee did like what they do on a lot of the different bills, where they feel it's related and germane to the bill, they're going to offer an amendment to make the bill better and that's what he did. And I feel that we are in that process. Thank you."

The motion that Floor Amendment No. 3, amending H.B. No. 2690, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry. (Representatives Aquino, Awana, Mizuno, Nishimoto, Takai and Takumi were excused.)

(Main Motion)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2690, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 2874:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2874, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the measure. It's relating to the Transient Accommodations Tax. It's job-killer bill number 5. It's going to hurt Waikiki. It's going to hurt the visitor industry and I will save the rest of my remarks for the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in opposition to HB 2874, Relating to the Transient Accommodations Tax (TAT). Applying the TAT to resort timeshare vacation units would make visiting Hawaii prohibitively expensive for many visitors and harm our State's already struggling tourism industry.

"Last year, when TATs were applied to hotels, room rates increased dramatically. Hawaii's hotel room rates currently rival those of New York City, and visitors who come to Hawaii generally spend more nights here. Expensive hotel rates have caused timeshares to gain popularity as an alternative means of accommodation. If the TAT is applied to timeshares as well, tourists may have to choose more affordable vacation destinations. Although the State desperately needs money, the timeshare TAT will deter tourists from visiting the State and ultimately do more harm than good. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I oppose HB 2874."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Manahan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to just note my reservations on this bill, please. And just a few comments. Thank you. I think we're one of the only states that charges a TAT on timeshares, and we're raising them to gain $3 million. My understanding, in the grand scheme of the whole budget deficit is that it's not that much. I think we stand to lose more in visitor spending and arrivals as a result of it. So just please note my reservations. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm actually voting with reservations on this bill. Thank you. Most of the time I will vote no on these tax increases. But the predicament that we're in is that we haven't gone through the budget yet, and so I want to try as much as possible to open up or at least open some other options for now. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2874, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Brower, Ching, Marumoto, Pine, Ward and Wooley voting no.

H.B. No. 2875, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2875, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak on this measure with reservations. And if I could, I also would want to include HB 2963 if I may. Is that at the end of the calendar? My apologies.

"With reservations. Only because the bonding people have stated that if we should take any money away from the Hurricane Fund, it could affect the bond rating. Now I'm well aware of why we're doing this and the reasons why, but this is only as a caution to the Finance Committee, and ultimately to the Conference Committee as they move this along. They should tread very carefully on this measure so it does not affect our bond rating. Thank you, very much."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On this measure I'd just like to note my reservations and just give short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My reservation is basically that, if we end up doing this, and we feel that we're in the position where we feel that we have to do this, that my reservation just means that I don't have to like it, and that's why I'm voting with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2875, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HURRICANE RESERVE TRUST FUND," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2595, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2595, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. Mr. Speaker, this is revolving around the GET tax and the call for anybody who's a non-profit to be exempted from it. It's job-killer bill number 6. It basically says that if you're non-profit and the government does not allow you or you did not ask the government to allow you to be exempt, you shall not be exempt.

"The second thing, which probably is much more Machiavellian, is that it elevates the GET tax to the sacred ground of being employee withholding taxes. Employee withholding taxes are until death do you part. You pay those forever and ever. You go out of business, or you file bankruptcy, you have still got to pay those. We're now elevating the GET tax to that sacred level where every business heretofore is going to be bound to pay this.

"Now when people file for bankruptcy in businesses, generally these are forgiven. After this bill, they're no longer forgiven. This is putting Hawaii's businesses in quicksand and in a hole that's going to be really tough to get out of. So let's get the money for DoTax, fine. But in terms of elevating that up into a trust fund liability, that's very, very dangerous, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. And a little bit of rebuttal. My good friend from Hawaii Kai is wrong on the first part of the bill. It has nothing to do with non-profits. What the bill says is, if you don't file your paperwork on time or within 12 months after the due date, or you don't file it at all, or you don't get a GE Tax license, then any kind of exemptions that you may get, you will not be allowed to get.

"On the second part of the bill, my friend from Hawaii Kai is correct. But you know the one thing that we have to look at here is that, first of all this is an Administration bill. And what it does is it protects our revenues. The way I feel about people who don't pay their taxes, I feel that every time somebody doesn't pay their fair share of taxes, I've got to pay more, and I'm not willing to do that.

"What this particular bill does is make tax compliance just a little bit easier. Just a little bit stronger. So people who pay their fair share of taxes are protected from people who do not. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2595, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GENERAL EXCISE TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Marumoto, Pine and Ward voting no.

At 6:35 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2690
H.B. No. 2874
H.B. No. 2875, HD 1
H.B. No. 2595, HD 1

H.B. No. 2313, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2313, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Nishimoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I am in strong support."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I strongly favor this measure. Not only because of the absence of the bill, but this might be an indication that there is some hope for gaming in the future. Now Members, all of you that vote for this, remember that because we're going to have another bill coming here next year for gaming.

"Seriously. This bill is probably for those 400,000 people who go to Las Vegas and spend a billion dollars of Hawaii money over there. Some of them have losses so they come here and ask for help to recoup their losses. Now we would have been better served if they would have stayed here and spent their money here rather than going to Las Vegas and spent that billion dollars. Thank you, very much."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"HB 2313 repeals the income tax provision that requires the reporting of gambling winnings, but not losses. This measure reverses the Legislature's efforts from last year. I opposed this bill last Session and I wish the Majority could have foreseen the issues with this law when they were raised last year."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support, but with strong reservations, to H.B. 2313 H.D. 1 which repeals the income tax provision to require the reporting of gambling winnings but not losses.

"Upon consultations, I have decided to revise my vote from an initial "no" to one in support with strong reservations. Although I reluctantly support H.B. 2313 because individuals should pay taxes upon actual winnings, rather than a false figure that in no way reflects their "bring home" earnings, I believe that it sends the wrong message to our residents regarding our motivations and goals here at the Legislature. While we have revoked tax exemptions and added fees, on at least 27 separate occasions during recent weeks alone, yet we restore this one first. Nonetheless, our State should tax accurately, according to the amount of one's real profit; anything more or less would be unfair to those who chose to gamble, and an insult to the integrity of justice in Hawaii.

"My reservations, however, rely upon a wholehearted conviction that H.B. 2313 sends the wrong message to our citizens, many of whom already suffer from the current economic downturn. By encouraging gambling, and even presenting it as a more lucrative activity, it promises a false remedy for the financial woes which so many of our unfortunate citizens have now stumbled upon. The marginal taxes which this bill may hand back to empty wallets in no way compares to the magnitude of loss which gamblers are likely to accrue if they are to frequent the casinos more often. Overall, therefore, this bill will weigh heavily upon individual fortunes, as it may lure citizens to gambling as a more profitable, and thus deceptively safe, financial solution.

"Further, my reservations rest upon a more philosophical belief that we should not reverse this vote, while holding fast to others which also drain citizen pockets with hefty taxation. Businesses, for instance, now suffer more acutely than ever from taxes raised to levels disproportionate with their earnings. We should first prioritize those most dynamic solutions which may propel themselves, by stimulating the market to keep business and employment alive. By focusing our equitable taxation strides upon gamblers rather than businesses, we are encouraging reclusiveness rather than cooperation as an economic solution. Unless we proactively turn the spotlight to the many more enduring remedies which also call for our help, our economy may wade in our current woes much longer than Hawaii can afford. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2313, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Marumoto and Thielen voting no.

H.B. No. 1948, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1948, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, On HB 1948, Relating to Taxation. Thank you, so much. With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Reservations because a while back, a few minutes back we heard a Representative speaking about how we need to pay our taxes on time. This provides that every citizen should pay taxes on time. But if that's the basis, they should get their refund on time too. So there is some inconsistency here Mr. Speaker, and that's my reservation. Thank you, very much."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Very quickly. This bill addresses the concerns of the previous speaker, as well as links into the previous speaker from Manoa. Just a couple of things. This will require the Department of Taxation to provide refunds to taxpayers within 90 days of the filing of the return, or if earlier, the due date of the tax discovery date of the overpayment in an amended return, or the date of the determination by the Director of Taxation. This measure would be effective July 1, 2011.

"What this does is it creates an incentive for Department of Taxation to provide refunds to taxpayers in a timely manner. If paid late Mr. Speaker, refunds incur interest charges. This will also provide a disincentive for the next Administration, should he or she choose to delay the return of State income funds, maximizing the 135 day period as allowed under the current law before interest is payable. This will also prompt timely return of tax refunds which will stimulate the economy, allowing taxpayers to more quickly invest the money's return into the marketplace. This bill Mr. Speaker, will also have a fiscal impact of about $275 million in fiscal year 2011. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations on this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I understand what this measure is doing and I understand that there are many taxpayers out there, especially those who are going to be receiving a refund who are upset about this particular issue. I'm sure that the Governor wouldn't have used what's allowable under law without interest accruing because it's allowed under law to postpone this $275 million into the next fiscal year.

"Mr. Speaker, I know we had a lot of discussion about how difficult a time we're having here. My concern is basically, if we decide to do this for next year in 2011, that we are looking at 2012, I think in our six-year financial plan as the heaviest year for closest to a negative balance. This is $275 million that we'll have to make up in one year. I would love to do that. I just don't know whether or not that six-year financial plan is going to be able to accomplish that in balancing the budget. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1948, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1907, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1907, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 1907, Relating to Taxation. Mr. Speaker, this bill will limit or cap net operating losses, itemized deductions, standard deductions, capital goods, excise tax, and basically handcuffs small businesses in a very difficult way.

"These provisions are made available to small businesses so they can recoup what otherwise are losses in difficult times or cycles which they go through. Case in point, you're a farmer. It takes you 18 months before your crop matures. But you've got to put all that money in. In the meantime, either a calendar or fiscal year comes around and you've got to pay your taxes. If you can't go back and carry back those losses, you're really, really hurting. So what we got here is a bill that's contrary to, I think, common sense of the times and contrary to national policy.

"Case in point. In March 2009 the US Congress passes the AARA. They allowed small businesses with net operating losses in 2008 to offset these losses back five years prior. That's what this bill is going to prevent. Then in November 2009, the US Congress passed the Worker, Home Ownership, and Business Assistance Act which provided relief to small businesses and most taxpayers with losses.

"Mr. Speaker, on the national level they're aware that these kinds of things are very important to small businesses. We now at this particular junction in this State with these small businesses, we say it's not. Mr. Speaker, this is job-killer bill number 7. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be voting no on this bill. Mr. Speaker, as I take a look and try to figure out what we're going to do to balance the budget for these next two years and the six-year financial plan, there are many bills that I would normally vote no on. But I haven't, and I've been voting with reservations.

"This particular bill I think is one that I know I'm going to be voting no on, and that's because this has to do with all of these businesses who are investing in their companies and expecting that they're going to be able to take some kind of credit like this. These are businesses. These are the ones that are providing our jobs in a very tough economic time. And if they have the money to do so, but they're depending upon that savings through the credit. I think that this will be moving in the wrong direction for creating jobs and for sustaining jobs. Thank you."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. This bill, when I look at it, it does different things than what the prior speakers have talked about. It defers the net operating loss. It does not get rid of it. Itemized deductions are for people, not businesses. And the Capital Goods Excise Tax Credit right now, is not in effect actually. So what this will do is it actually puts it in effect. It does make it non-refundable, and does defer some things. But at least it does provide an incentive again. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1907, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 39 ayes to 12 noes, with Representatives Berg, Brower, Ching, Finnegan, C. Lee, Marumoto, McKelvey, Nishimoto, Pine, Takai, Thielen and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 2885:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2885, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against the bill and would request if I could have some remarks from the Sierra Club inserted in the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Thielen submitted the following remarks:

"[HB 2885]
CONVEYANCE TAX REDUCTIONS
We understand the State's need to tighten the belt. We've deliberately avoided supporting most bills that might directly add to the budget problems and have suggested alternative funding mechanisms like the "barrel" tax and the plastic bag offset fee.

We suggest drawing the line, however, on this proposed budget cut. The Natural Areas Reserve and Land Conservation Fund has already seen a 50-60% cut in State funding. This has resulted in a loss of staff positions and valuable public-private conservation programs. Another 50% reduction would likely destroy these programs by eliminating irreplaceable staff and public-private partnerships It would also eliminate important matching federal funds.

Some might argue that funding could be restored in a year of two. We're concerned these programs – having lost key staff – would not recover. The small gain this bill proposes is not worth the long-term loss."

Sierra Club, Hawaii Chapter –March 1, 2010

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2885, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CONVEYANCE TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 10 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Brower, Coffman, Keith-Agaran, C. Lee, Morita, Takai, Thielen and Wooley voting no.

H.B. No. 1947, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 1947, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2850, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2850, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Say rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"May I request of a ruling on a possible conflict? I'm a wholesale importer of Japanese wine," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. Not so much because it's liquor, but because in the Finance Committee, Anheuser-Busch gave us a formula. For every amount of increase in price there was the decrease in sales, which was a decrease in jobs. This was a national database, empirical, actual, non-imaginary or factitious. Because of that Mr. Speaker, I'm against this bill. It's job-killer bill number 8. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I guess, for the last time. We're experiencing unprecedented economic difficulty and therefore I rise in opposition to House Bill 2850, Relating to the Liquor Tax. The problem is Mr. Speaker, that even with all being said, there are other times when this Body has perhaps not taken a look at the consequences of our actions. House Bill 2850 is one of those times.

"With tourism, maybe in some people's eyes, coming back, but in generally accepted to be still in a fragile state. Discretionary spending is at an all time low. This tax represents a cost increase that will be passed on to not just tourists, but also local customers.

"The fact is that restaurants rely heavily on the profit generated by liquor consumption at their establishments. From the high end five-star dining, but maybe more importantly the Hawaii regional cuisine restaurants, to the local neighborhood bar and grill establishments. They are just all hanging on. We all know how tough the restaurant business is. They're hanging on just to make payroll. Just to remain open. And they are employing our local people.

"This tax will drive down sales and once the sales are reduced, then layoffs will begin and now their workers will find themselves unemployed. Businesses will close as many of the businesses in my district have closed.

"And it will not only be the businesses that sell liquor. These restaurants purchase products from other local businesses. They purchase, importantly, agricultural products, particularly Hawaii regional cuisine restaurants. Local beef, local fresh vegetables, the list goes on and on.

"So Mr. Speaker, I urge our Members to recognize the cause and effect, and to look deeper into the effect of what we do. To look beyond. To look towards tomorrow. To look towards the bigger vote, and please protect our local businesses."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition with short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. We didn't have any, at least from what I can recall, we didn't have any testimony in support on this bill. But I just wanted to make note that this is an approximately 13% increase. A 13% increase on this current tax. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just with some slight reservations. I know this is a work in progress and we need to move this along to keep as many tools available to us for the deficit. I'm just concerned with the sunsetting in 2015 that the rates will sunset higher than they are now. I think with the economy recovering by that point, there might hopefully be some flexibility to lower them. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2850, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE LIQUOR TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Brower, Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

At 6:52 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2313, HD 1
H.B. No. 1948, HD 1
H.B. No. 1907, HD 1
H.B. No. 2885
H.B. No. 1947, HD 1
H.B. No. 2850, HD 1

At 6:52 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 7:03 o'clock p.m., with Speaker Say presiding.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members this evening, I want to thank all of you for your patience and perseverance in going through this session today. It's about five minutes after 7:00. We started this morning at 9:00 or maybe five or ten minutes after that. So we'll try to get out, I hope by 8:30 or 9:00 with three more pages to go, and the end of calendar measures."

H.B. No. 2851, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2851, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the measure, Relating to Insurance. Just as a footnote to your comment, Mr. Speaker. It is late. People are a bit tired. They're hungry. But you know, you've got such heavy bills saved for the last. You're probably going to get us out quicker because we want to get out. Whereas if they would have been in the front, we probably would have debated it and thought about them a bit early. But you put all of these back to back.

"Case in point. Relating to Insurance increase in the insurance premium tax, which basically says the cost of living and the cost of dying has just gone up with this bill, Mr. Speaker. This is job-killer bill number 9, and my further remarks will be in the Journal."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in opposition to HB 2851, Relating to Insurance. This bill is a job killer. The tax increase makes captive insurance in Hawaii less competitive with the rest of the country and could drive businesses, and consequently jobs, away. Insurance contracts, sales and providers are already taxed substantially. Hawaii is the second best captive insurance domicile in the country. This bill will threaten that.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I oppose HB 2851."

Representative Takai rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On this measure, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I'm an insurance broker," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2851, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 10 noes, with Representatives Berg, Brower, Ching, C. Lee, Marumoto, Pine, Takai, Thielen, Ward and Wooley voting no.

H.B. No. 2872, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2872, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the measure. This is relating to basically taxing or increasing the fees for bankers. The bankers are already in a depressed state. They're losing, if not merging. They're going out of business. It's not the 1920s or the early '30s, but it's a time where there's a real shedding of assets in the banking industry.

"Before bankers were the most trusted individuals, Mr. Speaker. Now nurses are the most trusted, so it shows the shaking of our economy. I'm not sure where politicians are. I don't think we were probably ever at the top. But this is going to hit the banking community, and all of us who have those accounts are going to have to pay. This is job-killer bill number 10. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. And just really quickly to correct the speaker from Hawaii Kai. House Bill 2872, HD 1, Relating to Taxation does not increase taxes for banks. All it does is divert the Franchise Tax into the general fund. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2872, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Berg, Ching, Marumoto, Pine and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 2887, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2887, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition of this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ten years ago, those of us who were in this Body had an opportunity to do something pretty monumental. We passed the bill which became the law that set up the Tobacco Settlement Fund. I'd like to read a couple of statements that I made that day because I think it's important to put this discussion tonight in context, and I quote:

"With the passage of this bill, we will be making a decision that will save lives, save money, and improve public health. This bill will positively impact every resident in Hawaii especially our children. Hawaii has once again placed itself on the map as one of the nation's leaders in terms of public health and education. We now have the funds allocated to mount an effective education campaign against the tobacco industry which for years has targeted our children."

"Mr. Speaker, when I said those words ten years ago, I did not in any imaginable sense believe that I'd be on the Floor today, ten years later protecting what is left of the Fund. As you know over the years we have eroded the support to the basic premise of this Fund, namely to provide funding for tobacco prevention efforts.

"In fact, in 1999 when we set up this Fund, 35% was set aside for purpose number two. Purpose number three which is totally eliminated tonight, started out at 25%.

"It's interesting Mr. Speaker, because I have two young children. In fact, just about a week ago when we were watching the Olympics, one of the TV commercials was the one where the guy's playing basketball and dragging this ball and chain. My daughter and I had a conversation. I asked her, 'Do you know what's going on here? Do you know why this guy is struggling to play basketball?' And she said, 'Yes. Because he smokes and smoking is bad. Daddy, have you ever smoked?' And I said, 'Yes, actually I have.' And she says, 'Why did you do that? It's really, really bad.' And I said, 'It is. I don't smoke anymore.'

"Mr. Speaker, she's only six years old and I believe that our efforts to curb tobacco usage among children especially, and also among our adults is working, and we should all take credit for what we have done ten years ago to setup this opportunity.

"Today people have said and will continue to say, that the Hawaii Community Foundation which now has the corpus of the funding is rich at $53 million. Mr. Speaker, this tobacco settlement money is eventually going to disappear one day, and the purpose of that endowment from the very beginning in 1999 was to setup a corpus from which we could use the interest raised from these moneys to continue supporting tobacco prevention efforts in perpetuity.

"Now I had a chance to review some of the testimony provided to the Committee on Finance, and time and time and time again, there was testimony from many influential organizations, and many influential people saying that we should not do this. In fact Mr. Speaker, as you well know, the Honolulu Star-Bulletin and the Honolulu Advertiser both came out with editorials against this particular measure.

"I really think our colleagues should take a look at this. I know we're in dire straits and I know the attempt to raise money from these type of funds to help our general fund balance is a priority, however I think we need to realize that taking money away from this particular purpose and using it to balance our budget will in the long run, cost us many more millions and definitely many more lives.

"The other thing I would like to add Mr. Speaker, is that many of the bills that we're looking at especially during this late hour, all have defective dates. This measure does not have a defective date. Mr. Speaker, a vote tonight on this measure by any Member of this Body needs to be a vote to be considered as a final vote. And I think that's very important because we may not see this measure again.

"Mr. Speaker, in 2007 when we passed another amendment to this Fund we said, 'Well this is going to be for only two years.'"

Representative Bertram rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai continued, stating:

"Thank you, Representative. In 2007 when we said that we're going to make some minor changes to the purpose of the funding, we said it will last two years. Then we said it'll last another two years, so 2009. Then we made changes last year in 2009 to say, 'Well, you know what? Let's extend some of these purposes, these diversions of the funding to 2011.' Tonight we're saying, 'Oh no. It's not 2009. It's not 2011. It's in fact, 2015.'

"I've said on this Floor numerous times over the years, every time a bill comes up like this, that we got to end this type of taking once and for all. I can show you speeches that I've given, as well as many of our colleagues have given that said, 'Okay, you know what? Let us do this, and then let's end it.' I supported the effort to utilize the extra money for the UH Medical School for the operation of the school for two years. Now this thing is going to go on. Some people want it to go on forever. I just think it's absurd that we're now taking money for our tobacco prevention efforts, and not even looking at that particular part of the Fund.

"Members, please take a look at this and I urge you to seriously consider your vote, because I believe that a vote for this is a vote against children, and it's a vote against our public helath in Hawaii. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. One more thing, Mr. Speaker. May I insert additional comments? Thank you."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in opposition to this bill. The purpose of this measure is to totally eliminate the revenue stream from the Tobacco Settlement Special Fund to the Tobacco Prevention and Control Trust Fund.

"Hawaii receives Tobacco Settlement moneys as the result of a settlement entered into between 46 states and the major tobacco companies to recover damages for tobacco-related health care costs paid by taxpayers because of the harms caused by cigarettes. By joining the settlement, Hawaii made a promise to the people of Hawaii to reduce youth use of tobacco and to advance public health. This promise is reflected in Act 304, SLH 1999 (SB 1034, SD 1, HD 2, CD 1), which created the Tobacco Settlement Special Fund and the Tobacco Prevention and Control Trust Fund.

"The Tobacco Settlement Special Fund was created to "serve as a medium for a public-private partnership to." The fund also serves as a mechanism to maximize financial resources for tobacco prevention and control, health promotion and disease prevention programs. If this bill becomes law, the Tobacco Prevention and Control Trust Fund will suffer a 100% reduction from its original funding.

"In the last 10 years, the Tobacco Prevention and Control Trust Fund has kept youth from starting to use tobacco, and saved Hawaii money. Hawaii now has the fifth-lowest smoking rate in the nation with 15.4 percent of adults smoking in 2008 as compared to 21.1 percent in 2002. We've reduced smoking from 1 in 4 youths to 1 in10 youths from 2000-2007.

"Public Health Epidemiologist, Tonya Lowery St. John, reports that the reduction in smoking rates between 2002 and 2008 resulted in 42,300 fewer adult smokers in the State. This decrease has spared approximately 14,100 lives from tobacco-related deaths. It has saved an estimated $402 million in direct medical costs, of which $53.9 million would have been for Medicaid expenditures and the State of Hawaii's share would have been $22.4 million.

"We have learned from other states that cuts in funding will undermine successes made in reducing smoking rates. When Indiana cut it's funding of tobacco prevention programs by 70 percent, their smoking rates increased to 23.9 percent in 2006. California had a well-funded Tobacco Control program in 1999 that reduced youth smoking; however, funding cuts in 2003 led to an increase in high-school smoking rates from 13.2 percent to 15.4 percent between 2004 and 2006, and declines in cigarette consumption carne to a virtual standstill between 2002 and 2005.

"Although we've made significant progress in reducing tobacco use and saving lives because of the investment in tobacco prevention and control, tobacco use remains a serious health issue. In fact, lung cancer associated with tobacco use kills more women than breast cancer in Hawaii. More than 1,000 Hawaii youth become daily smokers each year.

"Smoking costs us over half a billion dollars per year in smoking-related healthcare costs and lost productivity. All that stands between the $42 million tobacco companies spend each year in Hawaii and the next generation is the counter-education efforts of tobacco prevention programs and messages.

"Tobacco-related health costs take an enormous toll on our business and economy. Smoking costs us over half a billion dollars per year in smoking-related healthcare costs and lost productivity-addition costs our State cannot afford in these difficult economic times.

"I urge that we maintain the 6.5 percent of Tobacco Settlement dollars funding the Tobacco Prevention and Control Trust Fund so that these community-based services can continue. For these reasons, I oppose this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. First let me start by saying what I started to say on this bill on Second Reading. I think we all understand that especially with children, smoking is bad. And everybody understands that the tobacco prevention people do good work. It is a necessary and good program to help people to first, not take up smoking; and second, for those who are, to help them get off.

"As I also said, and I will reiterate again, that we are in a fiscal crisis and this, along with many other bills, we are going to have to make some tough decisions. Do we forgo prevention in the name of immediate care? Do we, as some would say, 'kick the can down the road'? I don't think anybody wants to do that, especially on issues like this. However, we are at a point where we cannot even make the payments for our safety net QUEST on time.

"I appreciate the prior speaker's concerns and comments, and when he was speaking of his child watching the commercial, I was thinking about the other children, and that's when it came to me. What about the other children? Not every child has loving parents. Not every child has parents who have the economic wherewithal to provide healthcare. Not every child has parents able to put food on the table, and that's the situation we're in.

"Yes, let's think about the children, but let's think about all the children. Let's think about the children who are in embattled families waiting for CPS to rescue them, those who have not been rescued yet. Let us think of the children who are not able to access certain healthcare services. Let us think of the children who are still on Furlough Friday.

"Is this something that we all want to do on this bill? No. But we are at the point where we need to ensure the programs and the safety net for the State. Like I said earlier, let's think about all children. Thank you."

Representative Manahan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. The irony is that my reservations were best encapsulated by the speaker from Kaneohe. I have very grave concerns with the bill, however the reasoning he gave are the reasons why I'm going with reservations and am not opposed to the measure. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I ask for a ruling on potential conflict of interest? At my law firm, I represent the Coalition for Tobacco Free Hawaii," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support, Mr. Speaker. I'm not sure that all the Members are aware that in many states the entire tobacco monies go into their general fund. We have been very lucky in Hawaii to have reserved this trust fund for work with tobacco prevention. And because we pass this bill today, it does not mean prevention and control is going to go away. There is $53 million there.

"I'm sorry that we have to use it, but as the Representative from Kaneohe said, it doesn't mean that by using this that children will be hurt. Children will be hurt if we don't use some of this money for the safety net. I'll add some additional written comments. I'm sorry we have to do it, but this year it's really necessary and we will continue with our prevention and control programs. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. No one wants to see tobacco education and prevention efforts end. The Hawaii Tobacco Prevention and Control Trust Fund still has $53 million that can be made available by the non-profit responsible for the fund.

"In these dire fiscal times, we must temporarily transfer a portion of the monies from the Hawaii Tobacco Settlement Special Fund to help us deal with critical needs in our State budget. No child will be harmed by this transfer and many children may be helped. I urge support."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"HB 2887 is not a bill I want to support, but given all that I know about the budget and our dire fiscal situation, I must. The solace is knowing that the shifting of this money to the general fund will not affect the actual services provided. Instead, it will only slightly deplete the $53 million corpus of the Tobacco Fund."

Representative Shimabukuro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. Mr. Speaker, I really appreciate the comments from my colleague from Pearl City and all the other folks concerned about this measure. It would be appropriate I believe, for everyone to vote with reservations because this measure does affect the funding of the Hawaii Community Foundation which for the past 10 years has been monitoring and providing the grants to the various interest groups who will be participating in the public hearings. I can understand their concern and that it might affect some of them.

"But the truth of the matter is Mr. Speaker, as alluded to by the Representative from Kaneohe, and the Vice Chair of Finance, is that the Hawaii Community Foundation has properly managed the fund and invested it over the last 10 years. In their current report submitted to the Legislature in December 2009, they have a fund balance of $52 million. According to their report issued here, they spend about $5 million Mr. Speaker, per year in funding the various nonprofits who do both smoking cessation, as well as smoking prevention work. They also fund the very effective multimedia campaigns geared toward the youth in our community, and they have been effective.

"I think the Members also need to know that in October of this year, October 26, 2009, there was a review of the investment policy, and expenditure policies by the Hawaii Community Foundation and the Department of Health, and there was an amendment made to the previous investment policy guidelines. We hope to review that document soon.

"The point of the matter Mr. Speaker is, sometimes we all need to be careful of what we read and in this case, I think the adage that, 'you shouldn't believe everything you read' bears truth. Both the Star-Bulletin and The Advertiser editorials have been wrong, and I think they fail to appreciate the fact that there's $53 million in the Hawaii Community Foundation Fund. This is a temporary diversion of these moneys to the general fund for important purposes of health, safety, and education, and that for the next years, $5 million will go to the various non-profits and they'll be able to administer and run their programs. For this reason Mr. Speaker, I hope everyone can support this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2887, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOBACCO SETTLEMENT MONEYS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 36 ayes to 15 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Belatti, Berg, Brower, Carroll, Finnegan, Hanohano, C. Lee, Marumoto, Morita, Rhoads, Takai, Takumi, Thielen and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 2598, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2598, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, if I may briefly speak in support. In 1973, when I was the Vice Chair of the Hawaii Hotel Association, then Governor Burns said, 'Don't ever give up fighting against the room tax. If the Legislature passes it, I will veto it.' It was later when the industry changed its mind and supported the TAT. Before I voted on it I said, 'Are you sure? Are you sure you want me to vote for this? Can you trust past, present, and future Legislatures to keep their word that this money is going to be for marketing and only marketing?' I voted for it with strong reservations.

"I have never supported giving any money to the counties. That is not marketing. I don't support using it to balance the budget. That is not marketing. If we had used the TAT from the very, very beginning to market Hawaii and market tourism, we might not be in the same fix we're in now. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, I speak in favor. I am strongly in favor, and if I can, I wish to thank the leadership and members of the Finance Committee for providing this, I would use this term, 'accommodation' to the counties. I know the kind of work that it took to find the money to provide the funding at this particular level. For the Mayors and for Maui County, thank you very much."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"HB 2598 places a limit on the amount of Transient Accommodations Tax revenues distributed to the counties. Although I support the Finance Chair in his decision to amend this bill, I do understand the Governor's position.

"Despite the shared budget problems that this economic downturn has brought the entire State, the counties chose to play politics when the Administration began implementing cost control measures and working out collective bargaining agreements. The counties said they were fine financially when in actuality, they knew full well that their budgets for the next few years would be severely strained. Faced with this prospect of losing their TAT subsidy, the counties' dire financial situations all of a sudden became clear.

"The counties' share of the TAT is a subsidy that the State provides. The counties and the State share the ownership of the economy and they similarly share the responsibility for wise stewardship of resources and helping Hawaii achieve a sound fiscal footing and economic recovery. I believe the Governor's proposal to take back some of the Transient Accommodations Tax was made with the recognition of that shared responsibility."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2598, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Pine voting no.

H.B. No. 2852, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2852, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On this measure, House Bill 2852, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I'm an insurance broker," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. Mr. Speaker, we are in a healthcare crisis. I think anything that comes out of the national level with the Obama Administration, and the health industry, and the summit, and all the things that basically said that we are in a crisis to the extent where the cost is skyrocketing. This bill at the local level is not only a part of exacerbating the national crisis, but it takes really close to home, a tax or credit, or another way of bumping the premiums for HMSA and Kaiser.

"Mr. Speaker, heretofore we would not have to pay on prescription drugs, but we have food and medicine as things that are taxable. Now we're getting on to very sacred ground by putting the expense onto HMSA and Kaiser. Mr. Speaker, I believe it was you while we had lunch who reminded me that the rates for HMSA just went up another 7.5% for the business community. Mr. Speaker, in simple terms, I think it is most descript. This is a job-killer. It's bill number 11. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2852, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE INSURANCE PREMIUM TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Berg, Brower, Ching, Finnegan, Pine, Takai and Ward voting no.

At 7:30 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2851, HD 1
H.B. No. 2872, HD 1
H.B. No. 2887, HD 1
H.B. No. 2598, HD 1
H.B. No. 2852, HD 1

H.B. No. 2866, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2866, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to four measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with your permission, may I bundle this page, H.B. No. 2866, HD 1; H.B. No. 2867, HD 1; H.B. No. 2877, HD 1; and H.B. No. 2962, HD 1, so I can be brief. They're all relating to taxation and I am voting no on all four of those and the other ones at the end of calendar.

"Essentially Mr. Speaker, it's saying that these are the final job-killing bills, numbers 12, 13, 14, and 15, which when we look at what we're doing, we have to see the full trend line of where we are. We have to connect the dots. And with these 15 bills taken as a whole, we can see there's a few hundred million dollars that's laying out there which we have to understand we're going to be pulling out of the economy.

"Now some of the Members of the Body have berated the fact that we've pulled out $500 million from the economy and set it aside for the rail. When you pull money out of the economy, you weaken the pipeline, the cash flow, and the basic mechanism which keeps an economy strong and that is consumer spending. Mr. Speaker, if we look at these 15 job killing bills, we will have if we implement them, pulled out another $150 million at least in the economy over the ensuing years. Mr. Speaker, because of that, we want to keep our people employed. We want to keep our kids in school. We don't want these job-killing bills. And that's the summary of my 15."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just disagree with the idea that somehow these bills are taking money out of the economy. On the contrary, they're taking money out of one part of the economy, but it's going to another part of the economy and the money is going to be spent just as fast as it comes in. Maybe faster.

"You know, there's no difference between government money being spent, and private money being spent. It's still money. It still stimulates the economy. It's a net wash, I agree with that. It's basically zero if the money you take out of one sector goes into another sector and comes out in the economy somewhere else. It's all zero.

"But the problem is from the government side, this is a period of time when the demand for services goes up, and we need the money. So I just disagree with the economic theory being proposed. Mahalo."

The Chair then addressed Representative Rhoads, stating:

"Representative Rhoads were you speaking in support of all four measures on this page before us?"

Representative Rhoads responded, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I was only speaking on the first bill, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 530. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I believe this is the bill connected to the death tax? HB 2866? Mr. Speaker, I want to just note that, I was thinking about voting with reservations. We were talking about being able to balance the budget and keeping some of these measures alive, but I noticed that this is effective date upon approval, so I will be voting no."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, in opposition. I'm sorry, this is my last one big speech, and then I'll be quiet. I rise in opposition to Stand. Com. Rep. No. 530. Basically, this is the tax that will be applied retroactively, to December 31, 2009. So we're already in March, and this bill is going to be retroactive to those that the death tax would apply to, from last year.

"So it will affect estates that did not have the opportunity to plan effectively for such a tax. This takes from people who never even had a chance to see it coming. While the State should continue to look for ways to increase revenue, pushing a family who just lost a loved one by taxing them and taking the assets they amassed over their lifetime, to me is just cruel and wrong.

"The death tax falls hardest on those who maintain a family business, often forcing family business owners to sell the business in order to pay the tax.

"As defined by the IRS, the 'death tax' is a tax on your right to transfer property. A death tax mocks the idea of fundamental property rights. By its intrinsic operation, the death tax confiscates a life earnings, and prevents families from passing a legacy of hard work and delayed gratification down to the next generation.

"The death tax effectively punishes those who save and invest, while exempting those who spend their money away, or who don't have money. Which is okay on that part.

"Economist Art Laffer aptly described the perverse incentives of the death tax in a recent Wall Street Journal article. Today in America you can take your after-tax income and go to Las Vegas and carouse, gamble, drink and smoke, as far as our government is concerned, and that's just fine. But if you take that same after-tax income, like my grandmother has done, and leave it to your children and grandchildren, the government will tax that after-tax income, one additional time, at the rates of up to 55%. And these especially are those families that don't really know how to put things into a trust. And I'm finding that a lot of people in my district, who have amassed a lot of savings and a lot of lands, don't even know about trusts, and we're informing them about that right now.

"The death tax is a form of double taxation, which means that it taxes assets that have already been subject to the federal payroll, income, and/or capital gains taxes. The death tax is an additional burden on top of the other federal taxes.

"Consider for example, Joe, who manages to get taxed three separate times due to the death tax. And we're making this retroactive, now. Joe is an electrician, who recently started his own business. He takes home earnings of roughly $60,000 a year. All of his income is subject to the income tax, the first tax layer.

"Joe wants to improve his family's standard of living, so he is frugal and saves his money and invests it in diversified mutual funds. Over the course of his life, he invests $500,000 of his income where it grows to over $1,000,000. Upon selling his stock, Joe owes capital gains taxes on the profit above his original $500,000. That's his second tax layer. He's just an electrician.

"Joe dies after enjoying a good life and nice retirement. Joe is excited before, as he does his will. He leaves his investment returns along with his house, his boat, his other land, other belongings, as an inheritance for his son and daughter and his grandchildren. Joe's business savings and other belongings are valued at $11.5 million. Any inheritance that he leaves in excess of $7 million, or $3.5 million if he is single, is subject to the death tax. And this is the third tax, after he's paid taxes all of his life.

"Hence Joe has been taxed three separate times on the same dollar. Once when he earned it. Again when he invested it, and later sold the investment. And then once again when he died. Is it right for Uncle Sam to nail Joe three separate times on the same dollar?"

Representative Thielen rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine continued, stating:

"Is it right for Uncle Sam to nail Joe three separate times on the same dollar? Shouldn't Joe pay taxes once, and then be done with his obligations to the taxman?

"Now this really hits close to home, because my grandmother was a plantation worker. And because my grandpa was Filipino, he could never rise to an officer level when he was in the military, so he was always the chef, or the custodian, or an assistant to the Admiral. All my life I've seen them just save, save, save, save, save. And had it not been for me working here and understanding a few things, we would not be able to meet with someone who is a tax person that helped her to develop a special trust and some other incentives to save her money. But because she's just in a beautiful way, a wonderful way, very simple minded, she and many other wonderful people from her generation, they just put things in savings.

They don't know about all these fancy things to do to prevent the death tax from being so high.

"And so when I talk about this, I see real faces. When we allow this to revert back to taxing people in such a way that they were before the death tax, it really is something that I think we should reconsider before the end of this Session."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. I'll be very brief. Unfortunately, the estate tax under the Bush tax cut plan only benefitted the rich. So at this point the exemption grew from $675,000 up to $3.5 million dollars for an individual. That's what we've pegged it at for this bill because unfortunately, Congress was not able to pass a bill. So right now, anybody that passes away under the federal law, in 2010, will escape a death tax. They will escape any estate tax.

"So although it's not very popular for us to be assessing taxes, I think when the federal government has failed to actually do anything, and actually has assessed a tax, and there's this gap in the law, then I think it is appropriate for us to take a look at it. And we've not done anything that the federal government hasn't done in the past. We've just picked it up right where they left off. This isn't a brand new tax. This isn't something that people are not aware of. This is something that is exactly where the federal tax has been for the last nine years under the Bush tax cuts. All we've done is continue it on for 2010, because unfortunately, on the federal level, they will get away with paying none. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"A brief rebuttal to the Representative from Downtown, Chinatown, if I may proceed?"

The Chair responded, stating:

"I believe he was on the first bill."

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"But if I waited till the end of all these bills to rebut it, you would say it's probably out of context. But I leave it to you. I just want to rebut.

"He gave a wrong impression of what economics are about. He said government is as awful as consumer spending is, and it is not. We have to realize that the economy has three separate parts. Consumers, private investment, government investment. Consumers are 70% of the equation, Mr. Speaker. That's the whole point. When government spends something, it's around 15% to 20%. Probably now it's pushing it a little bit further because we've got so many stimulus programs going on. But when the private business sector does it, it's about 10% to 15%. The point is, when 70% of the pipeline of the economy slows down because we've sucked out money by taxes, the economy slows down. That's the whole point.

"So he was saying a dollar, is a dollar, is a dollar. Not so. And that's why we've got to be very attentive to allow those with the money to keep it in the stream and to keep people spending. Yes, spending. We've got to keep people spending. Not sucking the money in and putting it aside like we did with the $500 million for the train, which these bills are going to do, the 15 bills that I just told you that are job killer bills. We've got to keep the pipeline filled, Mr. Speaker. That's the whole turnaround in an economy. That's why we got through the Depression when the war came. We got the economy moving. And we have to stick to those basic principles at this point in this State. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, are we still on the first bill? This is my second time then. Still in support. I would say to my colleague from Hawaii Kai, that as the Chair of the Labor Committee, I've been reminded many times that 65% of the cost of government is from salaries. When we raise taxes to pay for government, that means paying for salaries of workers. And those workers are in fact consumers. They go out and spend their money just like the consumers who work in the private sector do. The government spends money, and it works just as much as a stimulus as private sector money does. Mahalo."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"Yes, thank you. Just in rebuttal to a couple of previous speakers. First of all, it's been a proven fact that the private sector has worked a lot more efficiently than people who do the same things in the government sector. I think just watching the news this morning about our Postal Service, they're saying it's very hard for government to operate the way it does in competing against private business because they run their businesses much more efficiently. For example, like FedEx or UPS. And so that's a great example of what's happening today exactly, and how government versus the private sector uses money that's in the economy.

"And second of all, this hasn't always been a tax. I'm not in the federal government right now to make any changes. I'm in the Hawaii State House of Representatives. And what this does, what this 'gut and replace' bill does is, it now retains the State's ability to pick up the State death tax as it existed way before. And so it does make a change."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2866, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Berg, Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 2867, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2867, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to H.B. No. 2866, HD 1; H.B. No. 2867, HD 1; H.B. No. 2877, HD 1; and H.B. No. 2962, HD 1. [See remarks for H.B. No. 2866, HD 1.]

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2867, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 2877, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2877, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to H.B. No. 2866, HD 1; H.B. No. 2867, HD 1; H.B. No. 2877, HD 1; and H.B. No. 2962, HD 1. [See remarks for H.B. No. 2866, HD 1.]

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just would like to request a ruling on a potential conflict of interest. I can't quite tell what the bill does, but I think it may affect the two organizations that I'm on the Board of Directors for: the Honolulu Tower AOAO; and also the Pacific Gateway Center," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Rhoads continued to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. Just with reservations. I'm a little concerned about one of the sections that has to do with low-income housing. Kukui Gardens of course is the affordable housing complex the State purchased a couple of years ago when we actually had some money, and I'm afraid that, and I can't tell again, I'm unsure whether these provisions could actually negatively affect that enterprise. But I'm concerned about that and I hope that we can work that out before the final bill goes through. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2877, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Berg, Brower, Ching, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 2962, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2962, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to H.B. No. 2866, HD 1; H.B. No. 2867, HD 1; H.B. No. 2877, HD 1; and H.B. No. 2962, HD 1. [See remarks for H.B. No. 2866, HD 1.]

Representative Keith-Agaran rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on the final bill, House Bill 2962, I'd like to disclose a potential conflict. I am affiliated with an investor in a qualified high tech business," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Yes, I speak in favor, but with reservations. I would like to mention that I did submit a green slip to vote no, and I want to change that to yes.

"In relation to this measure, my only concern here is, and I understand why we're doing this in order to find the revenue to balance the budget. But my main concern here is that at the end of three years, we need to replace $168 million which is the net amount of the three years of revenue to the State that we will have suspended from the Act 221 clients.

"I have some problems with that. I have a problem doing away with Act 221 and the sunset and the continuance. And I understand the good they've done, but they're supposed to sunset. They still have a tail, and the tail amounts to approximately $168 million that we'll have to pay three years hence. Right now I have no idea how we're going to pay it, including the $275 million from the Governor's budget, if we accept the Governor's budget, and on and on. This only adds to our burden.

"So hopefully the money Committee can look at it and be aware that three years from now, we've got to 'pay the piper.' Somehow we've got to find money for that $168 million. There aren't too many alternatives for that. I'm a champion for a few of them, but I will not mention it now. Thank you, very much."

Representative Choy rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. I service high tech industry clients in my firm. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my reservations and I have short comments. Mr. Speaker, I am supporting this bill for now with reservations. I think that the reservation that I have is, of course we don't want to do a deferral of these credits because a promise is a promise. That's what the law was at that time. People invested. They earned that credit. But Mr. Speaker, because of the situation we are in with the budget, I am moving forward, but I do have reservations. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2962, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Berg and Ward voting no.

At 7:53 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2849, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2849, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in opposition to HB 2849, House Draft 1. It imposes a retroactive reserve housing requirement for residential and commercial planned development permits greater than 45 feet. And that's the definition that you folks are all familiar with, I'm sure. I do believe the Kakaako community should be composed of residential housing for all income levels, however this particular measure, we don't believe is the proper way to encourage that creation.

"According to the Land Use Research of Hawaii Foundation, there is no evidence that proves there's legal justification with the percentages allotted. Are they justified or constitutional? I agree with this Foundation, and the Hawaii Community Development Authority, that there needs to be more discussion before a measure is passed, with the stakeholders, with the landowners and the agencies, to develop a consensus of the goals, the initiatives, and how it's implemented. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2849, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO KAKAAKO," passed Third Reading by a vote of 38 ayes to 13 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Ching, Finnegan, Hanohano, C. Lee, Luke, Manahan, Marumoto, Morita, Pine, Saiki and Takumi voting no.

H.B. No. 2918, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2918, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Manahan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2918, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO KAKAAKO COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DISTRICT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1752, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1752, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker. What this bill does is, it removes certain offenses from the Three Strikes Law, which I supported. You know, this has been a tool for those in law enforcement in helping to reduce some more serious crimes in the State of Hawaii. Enforcing this bill also eliminates felony convictions in other jurisdictions, which would allow career criminals from other states to move to Hawaii.

"When Karen Ertell died, this was a youth offender. But if he was an adult, we would have known about multiple offenses that did occur in New Zealand. Some of the things that this removes from the Three Strikes Law are ownership or possession of firearms and ammo of a convicted person. It eliminates criminal possession of drugs. It eliminates promoting a dangerous drug in a third degree, a detrimental drug in the first degree, a theft in the first and the second, theft of livestock, forgery in the second degree, criminal possession of a forgery device. I could go on and on if it was earlier in the day, but I just find that to do this multiple times, that means you are a career criminal. So even though these aren't murder, these are by my definition, very serious crimes, and these people should not be in my community."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Pine be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. The purpose of House Bill 1752, House Draft 1 is to increase judicial discretion by excluding certain non-violent offenders from the repeat offenders statute requiring mandatory minimum prison terms. The House is aware that the intent of this bill is to give back to Hawaii State judges discretion in sentencing certain defendants guilty of certain crimes as enumerated in the bill without requiring any minimum jail time or alternative sentencing methods if the circumstances do not require incarceration.

"Mandatory incarceration of defendants results in huge costs to the State and does not lead to a reduction in recidivism. According to the Judiciary, the incarceration of an adult defendant costs about $50,735 per year. The use of alternative courts, such as Drug Court or Hawaii's Opportunity Probation with Enforcement (HOPE) program, costs about $8,000 per year for each defendant. In addition, the rates of recidivism for defendants graduating from these alternative courts are markedly lower than those leaving incarceration. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose, stating:

"Regarding HB 1752, after looking at the bill, this one also has an upon approval effective date, so I just wanted Members to know that as well. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1752, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO REPEAT OFFENDERS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Har, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 1756, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1756, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I am in opposition to this bill. HB 1756 would allow for the expungement of convictions for non-violent offenses that are over five years old. And the reason I'm against this, Mr. Speaker, is, I've been learning a lot about crime. I've been taking classes with the FBI to study criminal behavior and other things. What I'm finding out is that it's really hard to convict a violent offender of certain crimes.

"Let's use Al Capone for example. They could never get the guy. But they got him on something really tiny, and it was tax evasion, on multiple counts. And so what I'm studying in these different crime classes is that there are a lot of career criminals in our communities that the police or the FBI and other law enforcement have been trying to get for years on more serious crimes. But it is these smaller ones that the criminals slip a little more.

"So keeping their records on file has been a very helpful tool for law enforcement so they can keep track of these career criminals and perhaps start flagging them as potential criminals that will do much more serious crimes. And perhaps for these minor crimes, keeping them on record will help them to possibly put together cases that would allow them to have the evidence built over time, to actually convict some of these criminals that are being convicted for lesser crimes, for the more harsher crimes that they are committing. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. House Bill 1756, House Draft 1 allows for the expungement of convictions for non-violent offenses after a five year waiting period after the completion of sentencing or probation for the offense to be expunged, whichever is later, before an application for expungement may be filed with the court. It prohibits the expungement of a conviction for any crime that is not eligible for a deferred acceptance of a guilty plea or nolo contendere plea. The court shall determine that the defendant is not likely to engage in a criminal course of conduct and that the ends of justice and the welfare of society do not require that the conviction remain on the applicant's record before issuing an expungement order.

"This bill works together with the Judiciary budget bill that includes the funding for the specialty courts that help people who commit non-violent crimes to turn their lives around. Upon completion of their sentencing or probation, an expungement of convictions for non-violent offenses will help these individuals to get jobs and be productive citizens in our community. Thank you."

At 8:00 o'clock p.m. Representative Finnegan requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 8:06 o'clock p.m.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 540, HB 1756. I will be voting no. This does have an effective date upon approval from what I can see, so we may not see it again."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Pine be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1756, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CRIMINAL PROCEDURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Ching, Finnegan, Har, Marumoto, McKelvey, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no.

At 8:10 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2849, HD 1
H.B. No. 2918, HD 1
H.B. No. 1752, HD 1
H.B. No. 1756, HD 1

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members of the House, at this time we are at the items at the end of the calendar. We will be taking up the four items that were moved to the end of the calendar this morning.

"We will be taking up two measures. On page 16, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 579-10, HB No. 2376, HD 3, which is the Board of Education constitutional amendment. And on page 22, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 645-10, HB No. 2377, HD 3, which is the statutory language for the Board of Education reorganization.

"So we will be taking up those two measures at one time, since they both are related to one another."

Representative Tokioka rose, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I rise on a point of inquiry. Mr. Speaker, we've been in this Chamber since roughly 10 o'clock, deliberating on bills, and I noticed something different for the entire day. I noticed that there was an additional camera in the room today, Mr. Speaker. So my inquiry is, if this camera is public record, and if I as a Member can ask for a copy of that?

"I know that there are 6 other cameras in this Chamber that are used by Capitol TV, and we budgeted $175,000 for this. After we split with the Senate, that's about $85,000. But I do know that when we ask for a copy of the hearings or the proceedings, that we get that information. So I would just like to make that point of inquiry, Mr. Speaker."

At 8:12 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 8:14 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair recognized Representative Finnegan, stating:

"An inquiry was posed by one of our Majority members, and the Minority Leader will respond to the inquiry that was posed to the Members of this Body."

Representative Finnegan rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate the question. For clarification, Mr. Speaker, let me just start off by saying that any, at least the equipment that the Minority Caucus has been using to tape this, is privately owned. Pretty much from these public cameras, we are not able to really use them when we are trying to do either YouTube, or communicate with our districts. And so on our own, and with the personal funds of some of our really dedicated employees, they decided to purchase equipment and use that to record events.

"I would just also like to add that I think it's very important that we remain as a Body, as open as possible. In fact, open to the public and very transparent. I think that this allows us to do so. Thank you."

The Chair addressed Representative Tokioka, stating:

"Thank you, very much. Has she responded to your inquiry, Representative Tokioka?"

Representative Tokioka responded, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I guess we can take that answer. But as far as being open, as I mentioned earlier, we have six cameras in here, and they have pretty good angles of the room. I think that's kind of open. As I said, we spend $85,000 a year on providing information to the public. I think that's sufficient."

Representative Finnegan: "Mr. Speaker, I'm just wondering, why does this concern him? We're recording it with personal equipment. Even if it is being paid, the other equipment is being paid by this Body and the Senate, it is equipment that is personally owned that is being used to record our sessions so that we can communicate to our districts as to what took place. We can't use the video tape that is ..."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to a point of order, stating:

"Point of order Mr. Speaker. This is not a debate. Can we take this offline and not on the record and in the Journal?"

Representative Finnegan: "Mr. Speaker, I believe that the Members on that side started the conversation and implied that it was wrong to do so."

Speaker Say: "The inquiry was posed primarily because some of the Members felt that if it was public money, it should be open to the Members of this Body. Since private sources have been used to acquire the property and the equipment, it is the right of the GOP or the Republican Minority Caucus to do that. His inquiry was because he wanted to find out of it was privately bought or publicly bought. If it was publicly bought, then I think we'd have a decision that it should be shared among all Members of this Body."

Representative Finnegan: "Mr. Speaker, I agree except for the second comment that had nothing to do with that."

Representative Tokioka: "If I offended anyone, I meant no offense by that. I just inquired. I wasn't accusing. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

END OF CALENDAR

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 579-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2376, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 645-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2377, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2376, HD 3, and H.B. No. 2377, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to H.B. No. 2376, HD 3, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to this first measure. I believe that the request for a constitutional amendment to change the composition of the Board is an overreaction because of the Furlough Fridays. And I believe that the impetus of this is too much haste and not enough thought. We have another bill, and I am going to reserve my remarks for the second bill that we are going to be discussing until later. But in regard to the constitutional amendment, I don't believe we need an amendment now. We may need it in the future, after we have had a lot of thought.

"I would like to see a committee be set up by you and the President of the Senate to study this during the interim. Then come back to the Legislature next year, and come up with the recommendation. That would give enough time for people to settle down, and not get into the fervor of Furlough Friday.

"In respect to the three Governors, I served with all three of them, at different times of course. I can't remember any of them coming up with any recommendations for changes in the education system, or in the Board system. So it was quite a surprise to me. Thank you, very much."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak on both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I know we're taking up two measures, so I would like to be very clear on my votes on both issues. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 579, the constitutional amendment for the Board of Education, I will be voting with reservations. And for the other bill with the statutory changes, on that bill I will be voting no.

"Mr. Speaker, on the first constitutional amendment question. First of all I did want to provide some comment on what the previous speaker just said. If I'm not mistaken, and I didn't research this, but if I'm not mistaken, Governor Cayetano actually did a Blue Ribbon report I think, recommending local school boards. I can't remember, but I think I remember something like that.

"Anyway, the constitutional amendment on the Board of Education. The Minority has offered a couple bills, and we offered a very similar bill to this, but instead we said to abolish the Board. The Governor also introduced a bill that said to abolish the Board and replace it with the Superintendent being appointed as a cabinet member of the Governor.

"And the reason why I'm with reservations is, as this moves forward, I would rather like to see a constitutional amendment more like the Governor's, where it focuses in on direct accountability, and responsibility to the Governor. So I'd rather see that.

"Now, speaking on the second bill that we're taking up, it has to do with the implementation language. This one gets a little confusing for me, and that's why I'm voting no. What I hope everybody wants here is more accountability within the system. What you have in the bill is, it creates a council. And this council has representation that is, I guess appointed by different members of different groups.

"Well what happens in this case is, to me, it gets, again, more gray on whether or not the Governor has direct accountability or responsibility of the education system. You go through a council, and I know it's modeled after the Board of Regents. But you go through a council, and then after you go to that council, then they recommend to the Governor and of course, she gets to choose. Then it goes down to advise and consent with the Senate.

"Mr. Speaker, I think it's really important that we keep that line very direct from the Governor to appoint the Superintendent. And if there should be a Board, to appoint the Board, because that would be much clearer for accountability. Some people are worried about the ability to have community involvement. And if we truly want community involvement, I think that that direct accountability with the Governor and appointing the Superintendent, as well as appointing the possible Board members, that you would get accountability. And you could push the decision making down, and decentralized to where it matters, where that's at the school level.

"And going further into that, we passed a tool, called Weighted Student Formula, in Act 51, where we're supposed to, or I would like to see, most of the money, at least 90, 70, 80, and then 90%, to the classroom level. Because the way I put it, is those with the gold will make the rules, and then they will have the ability to have decentralization, at the school level, to make the decisions that they need to do, to prioritize the spending, to prioritize their needs, to meet the needs of the student.

"Mr. Speaker, I think that that's what we need to do for our keiki, so that we can, as much as possible, avoid situations like Furlough Fridays. It's really giving that community of community, principal, and teachers, the ability to make the decisions and prioritize the way that they're going to be spending that money. And then clear direction from the Governor and the Superintendent appointed by the Governor, and an appointed Board if that's how it ends up being, by the Governor. Thank you."

Representative Ito rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like a ruling on a possible conflict. My daughter works for the Board of Education," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of H.B. No. 2376, HD 3, stating:

"Thank you. I am in strong support for HB 2376, HD3, and I request to submit written comments."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of HB 2376, HD 3 which gives the public the opportunity to vote on the governance structure of public education in Hawaii. Critics of this bill describe it as an overreaction to the current Furlough Friday crisis that does not directly tackle the problems causing the Furlough Fridays. I disagree. What has become apparent through Furlough Fridays is that there is a lack of accountability for all the adults who have a role in the educational system and it is far too easy to engage in a blame game by pointing fingers at the Governor, the elected Board of Education, the Hawaii State Teachers Association, and the Legislature.

"Although this bill is not a panacea for student achievement, it is a step in the right direction of bringing greater accountability to our public education system. Ultimately, the hope is that this measure will provide leadership that is able to restructure and decentralize public education down to the school and principal level within our unique statewide school district and achieve the goals of increasing student achievement, improving teaching and learning, and providing a quality education for the students of Hawaii.

"I believe that an appointed school board will clear up mixed priorities, conflicted leadership and a lack of accountability and I firmly believe that the choice of an elected versus an appointed school board should be placed before the electorate for a vote. For these reasons, I support HB 2376, HD3."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to H.B. No. 2377, HD 3, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I would like to speak on the second measure. In regards to the Board of Education, I believe that the Governor, and the governing system that we have right now, is overly centralized at this point. We have one of the most centralized governments in the whole United States. It's a huge responsibility for one person, and it kind of reflects to some degree on what is going on right now.

"The Education budget is approximately $3 billion. More than half of our annual State budget. Now to expect one person, one Governor, who is also responsible for Health, who is also responsible for Human Services, also responsible for Transportation which includes highways, harbors, airports, and then the Board of Education, all of that, besides the tons of Committees that we also have. To be responsible for all of that and to be able to keep track of everything, it's very difficult for one person. You become very dependent on many, many people. And that becomes very subjective as they get up to the Governor.

"Now I would like to see a continued electoral system. There's no better accountability than an elected accountability. With the present system that we have right now, the Board is too small. It doesn't provide accountability for different districts in Honolulu. It doesn't provide accountability for each individual island, each Neighbor Island. On the Island of Maui, you're combined with two or three other islands. There is no accountability there for that particular Board member. I think we should reconstitute the Board, and this is why I would want a deliberate effort during the summertime, during the interim, to look at what kind of Board that we would need. What size and how many people do we need? And in the end, it could be that we want an appointed Board. But not now. We're not ready for it right now.

"We're doing this in too much haste. So let's sit back. But remember this, there is nothing more accountable than an elected person to his or her electorate. Not an appointed Board who has no accountability. Yes, the Governor is accountable. But when you have individual Board members elected by their particular districts, they're accountable to their district and you know that they're going to do their best. They're going to do the best they can so that they can get reelected again. That is the inducement. An appointed Board doesn't have that same kind of inducement as an elected Board.

"So Members, all I ask of you is try to lay back a little bit. Don't be hasty. We don't have to act on it right now. The Board is not doing that bad a job where the whole world is going to fall apart. Just wait a little bit. Thank you, very much."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition to both measures, and may I have the words of the speaker from Wailuku entered into the record as if they were my own. And I have some brief comments if I may. I know it's getting late. I'm just kind of, I guess, taken aback by the Republican position, because just a few years ago the position of the Party seemed to be for local school boards. Now they're going towards one person in the Governor's cabinet? I think that's going completely in the opposite direction of accountability.

"But back to the bills themselves. I agree with the Speaker Emeritus. I think what we need to do is use this and look at this issue. But I think at the end of the day, we have to have a serious conversation in the off-Session about locally elected school boards. Thank you, very much."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support of both measures, and just a quick response to some of the comments that have been made on the Floor. I do realize that there is no 'silver bullet' when it comes to education reform. And it is true that the research that relates student achievement or the potential for increased student achievement, and the Governor's model of a particular state or school district, there really is no bright line nexus. But that said, I do believe this approach is worth a try.

"Now let me comment on a couple things. Taking off from just what the previous speaker said. It's very interesting to me that the Administration proposed initially, this year, a bill to abolish the Board, so we would follow two other states with no state board of education. We would have, if you will, an education 'czar,' a cabinet member, a one-person school board and department head all rolled into one. This is coming on the heels of in 2004, of proposing at least 7 local elected school boards. And I don't want to rehash that one, but needless to say, in that bill if you recall, for those of us who were here, those 7 local school boards could also morph into other school boards. So like a bad 'Petri dish' experiment, they could just kind of morph, and divide and go on.

"If you look at the 15,000 school districts in our country with an average size of 2,500 students, which is about the size of Campbell High School or Farrington High School, that would mean we would have about 70 local elected school boards. So the intent and the design and the hope at that time, was that you would have this local, grass roots, elected by the people, let the people decide, that sort of thing. And now the Governor has proposed consolidating all of that into one person. So philosophically, the premise to me is diametrically opposed.

"But that notwithstanding, to respond to the speaker from Maui, the Speaker Emeritus. Yes, maybe we ought to think about this and put some thought into it, but there have been permutations of an appointed board and an elected board introduced many times over the years. Now one of them during my time actually made it to the ballot, but we have put it out before the people of the State, after we became an elected board in 1964, two times, whether or not we should have an appointed board.

"The bill itself, Mr. Speaker, the constitutional amendment bill, merely says, shall there be an appointed board, appointed by the Governor, subject to Senate confirmation. And all the rest would be decided by law. So the concern expressed by the Speaker Emeritus, we would be able to take care of that. If the voters of this State decide if it indeed is put on the ballot, if we decide we would have an appointed board, we have the underlying bill, but that bill, again, it would be subjected to law. We can make changes. Right now the bill says eight members, one student non-voting member, seven appointed members, one from Kauai, one from the Big Island, one from Maui and four from Oahu. That can change. We can say because again, it will be determined by law, the terms, the staggering, all the rest.

"Last point, Mr. Speaker. We talk about the University of Hawaii, and this bill, to some degree, is mirrored after the Board of Regents, the way they are done. But keep in mind, in this bill, the Governor appoints the Chair or nominates the Chair of the Board of Education. That is not true with the Board of Regents. The Board of Regents, though, let's keep in mind, the University of Hawaii, over 80% plus of that budget is paid for by taxpayers. And yet it is appointed by the Governor as a result of the selection Council, and it seems to have worked well. It seems to me we ought to at least try that in the K to 12 system, and see whether or not that works well. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, just reservations on both measures, and I wish to have some remarks entered in the Journal. But I do just want to say, those comments about the Minority Caucus and our positions. What we just note is that what we have now isn't working as it should. It's not working to the level that we know we can. And it's so easy to become sweeping about concepts, and election, but the reality is that whereas perhaps in our legislative elected positions, people know who their Representative is, and even then I wonder sometimes. Or they know their Senator. The reality is that when asked, I think most of our people, our voters, really don't know who their Board of Education person is.

"So in terms of accountability, not all fruit are the same. It's apples and oranges sometimes. And that's the thing. Being a former educator, there are nuances, you know. It almost is that you have to be so aware of the fine line with some of the things that work. But we know that what is going on right now doesn't work. So let's move, let's shift, and let's try something else. And I think we need to do it right away, I think if you talk to your constituents. Thank you."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with strong reservations to H.B. 2377 HD2 and H.B. 2376 HD2 which amends the Constitution to establish the BOE as a Board appointed by the Governor.

"As the Hawaii Business Roundtable has testified, "the current governance structure is ambiguous and has led to mixed priorities, conflicted leadership and a lack of accountability." I stand by the Hawaii Association of Independent Schools, who state that, "the members of the Board of Education would be appointed by the Governor." However, I have seen the affect of Senate approvals, and urge caution as there is no need to politicize the approval of candidates. Therefore, I have concerns with these measures due to the fact that these bills have the appearance of education reform, but merely change the process of selection. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on both measures. Mr. Speaker, when you live in a round house, you can never be cornered. It's impossible. It's structured in such a way you cannot be cornered. I think the other analogy or metaphor is, Congressman Abercrombie said that, the present structure of education is like a rectangular firing squad, all aiming at each other. And I think maybe a little bit we're already doing that on the Floor here.

"But the bottom line is accountability. Checks and balances. If something doesn't happen, you know who it is. Americans are very pragmatic people. If it doesn't work, let's change it. But Mr. Speaker, from Governors Ariyoshi, Cayetano, Waihee, to Lingle, who basically together signed a proclamation saying let's do something different. One of which is this bill. Let's get an appointed Board of Education, so we can tweak it and try it, to see if it works any better than what we're doing. Because right now it's not working very well, Mr. Speaker. Everybody will admit that. But we have got to get off the dime.

"Now this is not the perfect explanation. The Governor putting it into a czar, or one person, is a compromise to what maybe seven years ago when she was kind of pushed back, knocked down, and otherwise saying, 'Don't you dare decentralize. Don't you dare put your communities in charge of these schools.' And that went out the window. But Mr. Speaker, each of us represent a district. We've got 25 to 30,000 people that we have to report to. If we're not doing our jobs, we're out of here. Right? In the Board of Education, if we represented all of Oahu, who would know from where or what was being done by whom? It wouldn't happen.

"So if we break it down into smaller pieces, on the electoral level, it makes sense. But if we can't do that, given what happened six or seven years ago, let's try the appointed. This is not the 'silver bullet.' It's not the best way, but it's another way of getting accountability, and getting results. Because if that doesn't happen, you know, we're really going to be in serious trouble. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to follow up, in support. I understand the comments made by the Representative from Wailuku, as well as the Education Chair. But I did want to say, actually following up on the Representative from Liliha's comments earlier. Ironically, in the Finance Committee, when we were debating these bills, I just for fun polled the audience. And this was an audience of education advocates of all stripes. I asked them whether or not they could name the Board of Education member in their area, and less than half of the audience could, which I think is telling, considering I would bet that they would not be able to mention anything else about any positions these people might have. So I think a continued discussion on the matter is positive."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of both measures. Thank you. I'd like the words of the Chairman from the Education Committee be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to mention a couple things.

"The first one is, I already spoke on these two particular measures twice, coming out of Education and Judiciary. And I did have some concerns. In fact, I had some grave concerns regarding the makeup of this newly appointed Board and the fact that originally there were no geographic requirements. Finance cleaned it up. In fact it's a great bill. My only concern is, and I know we can work on this as we move through the process. Even after the voters of this State hopefully approve this constitutional amendment, my only concern is that there are people out there that are still pushing for the student on the Board of Education to be a voting member. I support a voting student on the Board of Education. However, I think the way that it's crafted, it will allow us to work on this as we go through the process.

"A few years ago, we passed the voting student on the Board of Education, and that was through a law. These measures will allow us to do that, should a Legislature in the future choose to do so.

"The final thing I wanted to mention is that, this has been talked about, researched, heard in Committees, many, many, many times. In fact, the last time we had this ballot question on the ballot, was in 1994. And unfortunately, back then, the voters of this State did not support an appointed Board. But I do believe now, with the consensus building across the State, including the members of the Hawaii Business Round Table, and even the Hawaii Association of Independent Schools now supporting this particular measure. I think the ground swell of support has risen to a level that we can now place this on the ballot, again, and hopefully the voters of this State will support an appointed Board of Education. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm still standing with the same votes on both measures. Mr. Speaker, I did want to make a comment, and thank the Education Chair and Finance Chair for the changes that were made in this bill. I think you have a little bit more accountability with the appointed Chair by the next Governor, or future Governors, I think that's a very positive move in, what I would consider, I guess, for me it would be a compromise from where we were at before. But Mr. Speaker, I'd like to speak to the point of, 'Wow. Look. Their ideas changed from 2004 till now.'

"Mr. Speaker, yes. Local school boards are something that I think a majority of, at the time, Republican members were for. It was about change. It was about doing something. It was about a State that was demanding that the Legislature do something about education. That bill, I believe, had one committee hearing. And at that point in time, with that committee hearing, there were all kinds of extremes. Are we going to have 14,000 school boards? Are we going to have one school board? Are we going to have seven school boards, are we going to have four school boards. There was all kinds of stuff thrown out there. That's in one hearing.

"What do we do in a sample bill that comes through this Session, it's never entered perfectly. It's never filed perfectly. You make changes throughout the whole time. But I believe there was just one hearing. And there were extremes being thrown out there on what was going to happen. But instead, to answer the community, the State's cry to do something about education, what was proposed and passed, was Act 51. That was an experiment. Something like what we're, you know, it was basically putting ideas together and passing it out as law, and making the system change, and it was supposed to be reinventing, so it changed everything on education, or the things that needed to be changed. Some of the major parts in that bill was we're going to put the services from other departments and put it into the Department of Education so that they could have the control. Year after year we started taking it out. Year after year there are, there's the audit on the procurement that said they couldn't handle it.

"Mr. Speaker, not only that, but we had, another part of the bill was about principal contracts. And the principal contracts are nowhere off into being approved. It stalled. We're not going to get it.

"Mr. Speaker, there was also another part of it that had to do with science text books and all of that kind of stuff, and DOE and I can't remember …"

The Chair addressed Representative Finnegan, stating:

"Representative Finnegan, I believe you are steering off these two measures that are before us, because you're reflecting on Act 51."

Representative Finnegan: "I am Mr. Speaker, because I'm talking about education reform, Mr. Speaker."

Speaker Say: "Representative Finnegan, your time has expired, your three minutes."

Representative Pine rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The reason why I talk about these things is because we're talking about education reform. Act 51 is an experiment, the things that we are providing today is an experiment, but it was some merit, because people have been studying these issues and trying to put something forward.

"The other thing is, we talk about this education czar. Two examples of this education czar. Mike Strembitsky, he was the original area in which we adopted Act 51 and weighted student formula for. Basically that's what he did. What I explained earlier when I spoke before this, is that he was one person that pushed decentralization down to the schools, and turned it around and said, 'You've got the money. Now you make the decisions.'

"Two years after they implemented the weighted student formula in that area in Canada, unionized principals and teachers said, and I spoke to the union president, and they were both in the same union. They visited here in Hawaii, and they said, 'Don't take away this decision making authority, and don't take away our money. Do not change it.' And at that point in time, there was only 70% at the school level.

"Mr. Speaker, going back to one more point in the reform of Act 51, is we were supposed to get to 70%, but right now we're at 40%, and this is 6 years later.

"Mr. Speaker, this is really important. Education is really important. We need to make some foundational changes. Real changes. And I am so glad that we are moving these bills forward, because this is where we can make some fundamental changes. Anyway Mr. Speaker, I just think that we definitely need to make these kinds of changes, and I hope that the folks that are against these moves, that they allow us to move forward."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you. In support. When I listen to a lot of the things about the regional school boards and so on, and so forth, Ka'u is bigger than this island. I represent 12 schools. And they're all over the place. I invited the Chair of Education to come out to my schools. And you know, in the case of Ka'u High School, we talked about the Micronesians that don't speak English. One of them wasn't in school. They went to the house and said, 'How come you're not in school?' He said, 'Well, I went and had breakfast, and came home.' He didn't know he was supposed to go to class.

"So when you start thinking about regional school boards, the people that I represent, drive 100 miles to work, round trip each day. They're gone during the daylight. You can't expect them to get involved closely with the schools. And so we need some central control, in order to make sure that the rural guys don't just fall off the map.

"But let me tell you, on the bright side. I am always encouraged by the kind of scholarships that the kids from Ka'u High School end up with. I'll use my granddaughter as an example. She graduated from Honokaa High School, a dysfunctional school. She graduated with honors. Then she graduated from George Washington University in three years with honors. So she obviously learned something. So the other thing I say to parents is, 'Look in the mirror.'"

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.B. No. 2376, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Awana, Carroll, Hanohano, McKelvey, Rhoads and Souki voting no; and

H.B. No. 2377, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Awana, Carroll, Finnegan, Hanohano, McKelvey, Rhoads and Souki voting no.

At 8:50 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2376, HD 3

H.B. No. 2376, HD 3, passed Third Reading in the following form:

H.B. No. 2963:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2963, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of HB 2963. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The Rainy Day Fund was created by this Legislature in 1999 for the use in times of emergency. The purpose of the Fund was to maintain levels of programs determined to be essential, such as public safety, health, welfare, and education. According to the school calendar on the Department of Education website, the regular calendar would have amounted to 184 school days prior to the furloughs.

"With the furloughs, Mr. Speaker, the total number of instructional days for the 2009-2010 school year will be 163. 163 instructional days represents the lowest number of school days in the nation. This is not acceptable. Therefore, using part of the Rainy Day Fund for education, would be in the parameters for what this Fund was established for. However, I humbly request that Members view this Fund as a source of funding, not the only source of funding for education, and that Members be open, and remain open to the use of this Fund for healthcare and human services also. Thank you Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I have a ruling on a potential conflict? My law firm is representing a class of students who are trying to end the Furlough Fridays. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I guess I keep banging my head against a wall. I'm for this measure with reservations. I understand the need for this. It's for emergency purposes, like we have now. However, the problem that I have is the bond market has already stated that using the Emergency Fund and the Hurricane Fund could jeopardize our bond rating. That's number one.

"Number two is that this money, even though it's from the general fund and will be going to an appropriation, I would imagine for the budget for education. However, it is well known that this $50 million is to remedy the furlough problem that we have now. And that's a very noble thing. However, unless the situation is resolved between the Governor, the Board of Education and the Union, if the money is appropriated and if it's not resolved, it is very likely that the money appropriated, will be restricted by the Governor. If the Governor restricts the money, that's money that could have been used for something else. It could be used for human services. It could be used for health. But this money then will be just lying idle, restricted by the Governor. If no agreement is reached between the Union, the Board and the Governor, this is a fact. So Members, think about that. Thank you, very much."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing up in support with reservations. A few comments Mr. Speaker, regarding my reservations. Trying to address this budget shortfall and making sure students get the appropriate education and educational time is one of the major things that we need to address this Legislative Session. But Mr. Speaker, I do want to express some caution in regards to using the Emergency and Budget Reserve Fund.

"You know Mr. Speaker, it is accurate that with this Fund, you can maintain levels of programs with this money for essential public health, safety, welfare, and education, Mr. Speaker. However, in the legislation, it also says that the Fund cannot be used to fund cost items in any collective bargaining contract.

"So I understand the method of moving the money from the Rainy Day Fund to general fund to be used to address this collective bargaining issue of furlough days. However Mr. Speaker, as we face these economic situations, we really have to address the shortfalls in our health and human service programs. And pitting potential programs that address kupuna care and keiki care, with issues of furloughs and teachers, I think is a bad policy issue. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Souki and Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 2963. As a former teacher it pains me to see publications such as the New York Times talking about how Hawaii has the fewest school days and that our education system is in dire straits. The children of Hawaii are our greatest resource and we owe it to them to provide a scholastic environment that is conducive to success, not failure.

"Children need consistency and routine when it comes to education and the current system of Furlough Fridays provides neither. Furloughs not only harm our children, but they also put an unneeded burden upon the parents. In these economic times, families are having enough trouble putting food on the table and clothes on their children's backs. These furlough days require parents to take days off from work, seek daycare, and add unnecessary worry about their children's educational future.

"Being a former teacher allows me a certain insight into this problem. I know from years of teaching experience that we must get our children back into school. Thank you."

Representative Manahan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Souki and Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, I think it boils down to basically political will and a matter of priorities. I think the Chair of Health brings up a technical difficulty. There's not really any difficulty in changing that particular collective bargaining whenever that outlaws the use of that particular Fund. But we have to get our priorities straight, Mr. Speaker. The Representative from Maui said that we spend $3 billion on education. I think if we throw in the University of Hawaii you could probably say that.

"That means as policy makers, our best and biggest, and most important policy is education, if you follow the money, right? So Mr. Speaker, we've got to end these furloughs. This is the beginning, even if it's a negotiated beginning. It's a time to sit down and say, 'Look, are we going to have a priority? Or are we not going to have a priority?' Do we really believe in the education of our kids or not. Fish or cut bait. Get on with it, or not get on with it. This is the one, regardless of all the other needs that we have, we've got to prioritize. And this is the beginning. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition to this bill. Mr. Speaker, I am taking a very hard line on this. From the beginning I said that I wasn't going to vote for raiding the Rainy Day Fund for education and this collective bargaining agreement. Mr. Speaker, I feel like the system is holding the students hostage. You know, we're not going to get education unless you fund them wholly. Raise, taxes, do whatever you need to, but you have to fund them wholly. We can't even identify what is adequate funding, even in good times in our budget.

"Number one, I believe that this enables the broken system. Number two, I want to adopt the words from Speaker Emeritus, from Maui, as well as the words from the Chair of Health for their reasons. Thank you.

"Mr. Speaker, also, remember that this is the Board that, when they're given suggestions to cut, that they can't make those decisions. The suggestions to cut from the Department of Education, that they can't make those decisions. In fact, they're the very ones that sent us over legislation because they couldn't do it, as a Board. They sent us the legislation that told us to ban ice cream and candy.

"Mr. Speaker, they should be able to find at least some of the money to pay for Furlough Fridays within the existing $2 point something billion. The largest budget for a Department that we have. In turn, we, as in the other departments and the State, suffer in small departments, like Agriculture, or DLNR. These budgets are so small, and you're squeezing them, because, for the sake of education, for the protection of education. We need to look at that and we say, you're talking about this whole $2 point something billion that you cannot and will not cut enough to pay for Furlough Fridays. Teachers and principals know that there is waste in the Department of Education. They understand priorities. And they understand that Furlough Fridays and instructional time is a number one priority. But yet, all these other things are being funded before that.

"Mr. Speaker, we have to make hard choices. That's what we're being asked to do. And as much as I want to end Furlough Fridays, I cannot continue to sit or stand here enabling a broken system that won't look within itself, or doesn't have the ability to look within itself, or have the board members that will make the tough decisions. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2963, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FROM THE EMERGENCY AND BUDGET RESERVE FUND FOR EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Cabanilla and Finnegan voting no.

At 9:03 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

Gov. Msg. No. 197, transmitting her statement of objections to S.B. No. 1311, SD 1, HD 1, as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1311

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1311 entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating Aquatic Resources."

The purpose of this bill is to exempt the University of Hawaii from any law that requires a permit or application to carry out repair and maintenance of the Hawaii Marine Laboratory Refuge. The bill also allows the University of Hawaii to use Department of Land and Natural Resources staff without charge.

This bill is objectionable because it grants the University of Hawaii an overly broad and unnecessary exemption from permitting requirements that protect and preserve Hawaii's natural public trust resources.

A permit allows a privilege conveyed to individuals or agencies to perform an activity not normally available to the general public. A permit carries a responsibility to uphold high standards that will benefit society and protect our environment. To exempt a single State agency, in this case the Hawaii Institute of Marine Biology, from this obligation is inappropriate and conveys to them disproportionate powers without adequate public accountability.

The legislation fails to define what constitutes repair and maintenance activities. It is unclear what projects would be granted a permitting exemption under this measure. The lack of guidance provided by the ambiguous bill language could exempt a broad range of activities from the State's permitting requirements.

Further, the measure is unnecessary since routine repair and maintenance of facilities existing in conservation districts are already permissible under current conservation district rules. Any activities that extend beyond basic repair and maintenance projects in a conservation district should be subject to the additional oversight and standards established in the permitting process.

Additionally, the bill would allow the University to use the Department of Land and Natural Resources staff at no charge in the operations of the Hawaii Institute of Marine Biology. The department does not have surplus personnel to take on additional responsibilities. This legislation would impose a durable and indeterminate potential fiscal liability on the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1311 without my approval.

Respectfully,
/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii"

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

H.B. No. 2737, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2737, HD 1, be recommitted to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Saiki rose in support of the motion to recommit and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the motion to recommit H.B. 2737.

"One purpose of a motion to recommit is to prevent action on the question or to delay action. Recommittal of H.B. 2737 is appropriate because it essentially proposed a "fire sale" of public land. This measure is troubling for at least three reasons.

"First, H.B. 2737 applies to all public lands, both ceded and non-ceded.

"Second, Part II, section 4 exempts any legislative approval notwithstanding H.R.S. section 171-64.7. Section 171-64.7 requires two-thirds approval of the Legislature when public land is sold. The Legislature enacted section 171-64.7 less than one year ago in the 2009 Session, and there is no reason to exempt the forced sales in this measure from legislative approval.

"Third, this measure targets the sale of Sand Island Parcels. Part II requires DLNR to negotiate sales terms with a certain non-profit entity. Part II only applies to the Sand Island Business Association, which is registered as a not-for-profit with the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs.

"Sand Island should not be sold in the manner provided for in this measure. According to the State Auditor, Sand Island is ceded land (see attachment). Sand Island is significant, both in terms of its inclusion in the State's public land inventory and to the Office of Hawaiian Affairs.

"Accordingly, I support the motion to recommit."

Report No. 86-17

FOREWORD

This report is the Final Report on the Public Land Trust, a study which was authorized by Act 121, Session Laws of Hawaii 1982. It supersedes the Progress Report on the Public Land Trust, which our office submitted to the Legislature in 1983.

The final report is in two volumes of which this particular volume is of more general interest. It contains our findings and recommendations pertaining to issues related to the public land trust. The other volume, which will receive a limited distribution, contains the chain of titles and land title maps of lands encompassed within the boundaries of certain state airports and harbors.

We were fortunate to have obtained the services of Yukio Naito, an authority on public land policy, to direct and coordinate the study. Mr. Naito, who is an attorney with the law firm of Shim, Tam, Kirimitsu & Naito, has frequently been called upon by the State Legislature for advice on important public issues.

Consultant firms which contributed to the study include Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.; Coopers & Lybrand; and the Consulting Group of Hawaii.

We were also assisted in the study by Nardess Awana, formerly with the abstracting section of the highways division of the State Department of Transportation, who performed all title searches on the airport and harbor lands dealt with in the report. The staff of the cadastral engineering section of the highways division performed the land surveys and land title mapping, and we especially want to acknowledge the assistance of Donald King, former head of the section; Layton Chew, land surveyor; and Dorothy Miyata.

During the course of the study, a number of government agencies and jurisdictions provided needed information and cooperated fully in the study. We acknowledge the assistance of the land management division of the Department of Land and Natural Resources, the commercial harbors and airports divisions of the Department of Transportation, the Hawaii Housing Authority, the University of Hawaii, the Department of Education, the City and County of Honolulu, the County of Hawaii, the County of Kauai, and the County of Maui.

It is our hope that this study contributes to the deliberations on a very important public issue.

listing, the county currently controls about 250 separate parcels. Several of these parcels are owned by private entities and are being used by the county. A majority of the parcels are owned by the county and the State. The large number of state-owned parcels suggests that a significant portion may be former crown or government lands. It is our understanding that all state-owned parcels controlled by the county have been classified by Admission Act sections and are included in the DLNR's state land inventory.

The only state-owned parcel under the control of the County of Kauai that produces any significant amount of revenues is the county's Wailua Golf Course. Green and locker fees, and rents and concessions comprise the revenues.

The golf course consists of 195 acres. The land underlying the golf course is owned by the State and is controlled by the county under two Governor's executive orders, issued during the territorial period. Executive Order No. 97 issued on April 20, 1921, granted use of 190 acres to the county, and Executive Order No. 112 dated May 10, 1945, granted use of 4.51 acres. Based upon a limited review of available documentation, it appears that the entire golf course rests on former crown or government land which had been ceded to the United States on annexation. Title to the parcel appears to have been conveyed to the State under section 5(b) of the Admission Act.

Sand Island

Sand Island includes about 507 acres of land plus surrounding submerged lands. Most of the 507 acres are filled lands. Forty-nine acres of the 507 acres are still set aside for the use of the United States government. The 49 acres are being used for coast guard purposes. A portion of the remaining 458 acres is used for harbor purposes and included in the Honolulu Harbor boundaries. The remainder of the island is under the management of the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

Sand Island is all ceded lands. However, for a time in the 1900s there was a continuing dispute as to the ceded or non-ceded status of the island, and upon the enactment of HRS chapter 10, particularly section 10-13.5, this issue of ceded versus non-ceded status of Sand Island surfaced again briefly. Today, no one denies the ceded status of Sand Island.

The major concern with Sand Island is whether the DLNR has properly classified the lands in terms of the statutory source of Hawaii's title to the lands.

It is our finding that the DLNR's classification of lands on Sand Island is technically correct. However, we believe that all of Sand Island should be considered a part of the trust established by section 5(f) of the Admission Act and possibly subject to HRS chapter 10.

A summary of transfer of fee title to Hawaii. At annexation, the U.S. took over Sand Island, which at that time consisted of less than 10 acres of land. It was set aside by presidential executive order for use by the United States as a military reservation. Between 1902 and 1941, the Army and Navy filled the surrounding reefs from materials dredged from the entrance to Honolulu Harbor and Keehi Lagoon.

Sand Island was returned to Hawaii in three segments. The first segment consisted of 16 acres. By two presidential executive orders, one in 1946 and the other in 1947, the Territory of Hawaii acquired the possession, use, and control of, but not fee title to, the 16 acres.[5] The DLNR has treated the 16 acres as lands, the fee title to which was returned to Hawaii at statehood under section 5(b) of the Admission Act.

In 1955, the territorial government sought title to some 202 acres of Sand Island. The impetus to gain the fee title to the land came from an offer by the Standard Oil Company of California to purchase the 202-acre site for its $30 million oil refinery. This site was conveyed to the Territory on August 20, 1959, one day before statehood, by Presidential Executive Order No. 10833. Since the return was before statehood, the 202 acres have been classified by the DLNR as lands returned to Hawaii under section 5(a) of the Admission Act.

The final transfer occurred in 1963 when another 360 acres were conveyed under the Revised Conveyance Act (Public Law 88-233). Of the 360 acres, approximately 244 acres are landed property. Another 116 acres are still submerged.

Appended to this chapter are maps of Sand Island. Map A depicts the return of the various parcels to Hawaii. Map B shows the uses to which the parcels returned to Hawaii are currently being put. Map C is the same as map A, less the submerged portions. Map D shows those portions of the 202 acres that were returned to Hawaii one day before statehood and those portions of the 244 landed acres that were returned to the State in 1963 that are being used as a container yard and marginal wharf under the jurisdiction of the DOT.

5. Of the 16 acres, 12 acres previously set aside in 1920 by Presidential Executive Order No. 3358 for military purposes were restored in Presidential Executive Order No. 9752 for a sewerage treatment plant. Another four acres were restored under Presidential Executive Order No. 9860. The four acres, which are part of the Keehi Lagoon seaplane runway, are submerged and not included in the 507 acres that comprise Sand Island's landed property.

Controversy over the ceded status. Although it is generally agreed that the lands on Sand Island are ceded lands, it is appropriate that we review briefly the controversy over the ceded, non-ceded status of the lands. We do so for two reasons: first, the issue needs to be put to rest; second, the ceded, non-ceded controversy has impacted the question of the entitlement of OHA to the revenues generated on Sand Island.

Our study of the matter leads us to conclude that the lands on Sand Island are indeed ceded lands. They were owned by the Republic of Hawaii at the time of annexation, and upon annexation, the United States succeeded to the Republic's title to the lands.

Sand Island lies within what used to be the Mokauea and Kaholaloa fishing grounds. Sand Island as we know it today was essentially built by filling the reefs within these grounds. The controversy over whether Sand Island consists of ceded or non-ceded lands arose largely from the Land Commission awards made of the Mokauea and Kaholaloa fisheries. The Land Commission which was established in 1846[6] to adjudicate all private claims to landed property acquired before 1846, awarded the fishing grounds to private individuals. Moreover, in making the awards, it used language which appeared to grant the fee title to the lands beneath the fisheries (the submerged lands).

6. An Act to Organize the Executive Department of the Hawaiian Islands Pt 1, Ch VII, Art IV; April 27, 1846. Section 1 states in part that "His Majesty shall appoint through the Minister of the Interior and upon consultation with the Privy Council, five Commissioners, one of whom shall be the Attorney General of this kingdom, to be a board for the investigation and final ascertainment or rejection of all claims of private individuals, whether natives or foreigners to any landed property acquired anterior to the passage of this Act; the awards of which unless appealed from as hereinafter allowed shall be binding upon the Minister of the Interior and upon the applicant. . . ."

Had the Land Commission the authority to make the awards in the first instance and to award the fee to the lands beneath the fisheries, the awards would have deprived the Republic of Hawaii of title to the fisheries and the lands beneath them, and Sand Island today would not be considered as ceded lands.

However, it does not appear that the Land Commission had the authority to make awards of fishing grounds or the lands beneath the fisheries. The Land Commission's authority extended only to making grants of landed property. Fishing rights had been conferred initially by King Kamehameha III in 1839,[7] and in subsequent years the Republic of Hawaii enacted laws governing fisheries and fishing rights as a means of regulating and controlling the coastal waters and its fish. As the term implies, fishing rights were simply rights to fish in defined coastal areas.

The dispute came to the fore upon the enactment of the Organic Act. A portion of the act brought to an end the exclusive rights to fish in the sea waters of the islands that had been conferred to individual persons by the laws of Kamehameha III.

Soon after the enactment of the Organic Act, those who had received Land Commission awards to fishing grounds brought suit to confirm their title to the fishing grounds and the lands beneath the fisheries. In one case, the Land Commission eliminated in a subsequent order the fishing ground from its award, and the awardee petitioned the court to re-establish its claim to the fishery. In that case, the court awarded the fishery rights to the awardee but the Territory of Hawaii took strong exceptions to the judgment.

7. Laws of 1839, chapter 3, section 8.

All cases relating to the Mokauea and Kaholaloa fisheries ended in a settlement between the parties. As part of the settlement, all fishing rights, title and interest in the Mokauea and Kaholaloa fisheries were quitclaimed to the Territory of Hawaii and the awardees received other lands in exchange.

Although the court in one case held for the awardee, the position of the government of Hawaii and that of the United States has consistently been (and we believe rightly so) that the Land Commission had no authority to make awards of fishing grounds and that the private claims to the fisheries were not valid. The present treatment by the State of Sand Island as ceded lands is consistent with this early position.

The return of 202 acres. About 1955, the territorial government received an offer from the Standard Oil Company of California to purchase a 202-acre site on Sand Island for its $30 million oil refinery. All of Sand Island, however, had been set aside by presidential executive order for the use of the United States. Hawaii, therefore, needed to have the acreage returned to Hawaii's control before it could sell the site to Standard Oil. The Territory of Hawaii initiated action to have the 202-acre site returned to Hawaii.

However, the transfer of the lands to Hawaii was not easily accomplished. Between 1955 and 1956, the U.S. Department of Justice wrestled with the question, whether a presidential executive order would be sufficient to transfer the lands to the territory, or whether an act of Congress was also required. Although section 91 of the Organic Act provided that public property ceded at annexation for the uses and purposes of the United States could be restored to its previous status by the direction of the President, the U.S. Department of Justice was troubled by the earlier asserted private claims to the fisheries and it questioned, assuming that Sand Island constituted ceded lands, whether the 202-acre site, ceded as submerged land could be restored under section 91 as filled land.

In view of the fact that the Territory intended to sell the filled land and therefore required clear title, the U.S. Department of Justice ruled in late 1956 that special congressional legislation would be required to enable the President to return the land by executive order.

On January 21, 1958, Hawaii's delegate to Congress, the late John A. Burns, introduced HR 10173. The purpose of this bill was "to authorize the President, by executive order, to transfer to the Territory of Hawaii, without monetary reimbursement, not to exceed 202 acres of the Sand Island Military Reservation. . . ." According to Senate Committee Report No. 2257, which accompanied the bill,

> "It appears that an Executive order may not be sufficient in this instance, however, for although the lands in question appear to be public lands ceded within the meaning of the Hawaiian Organic Act, there is some question whether they may be sold or otherwise disposed of by the Territory. This question arises because portions of Sand Island are made up of land filled in subsequent to annexation. Inasmuch as the Sand Island property is likely to be a useful site for commercial development, it is desirable that the Territory have full authority to dispose of such portions of the land as are not required for military purposes."

HR 10173 became law (Public Law 85-756) on August 25, 1958; however, actual transfer of the 202 acres did not occur immediately. There was some difficulty in negotiating the exact parcel to be transferred. At one point, talks were stalled because the Army claimed that part of the area sought by the Territory was needed for a highly classified missile site.

When it became clear that Hawaii would attain statehood, efforts to transfer the 202-acre site by executive order intensified. The territorial government and Hawaii's delegate to Congress expressed concern that Public Law 85-756 would be invalidated once Hawaii became a state because the law made specific reference to Hawaii as a territory, and not as a state. The territorial government reasoned that if Hawaii became a state before the executive order was signed by the President, new congressional legislation would be required and the transfer of land, which had been delayed for almost four years, would be further delayed. On August 20, 1959, one day before statehood, title to the 202 acres of Sand Island was transferred to the Territory by Presidential Executive Order No. 10833.

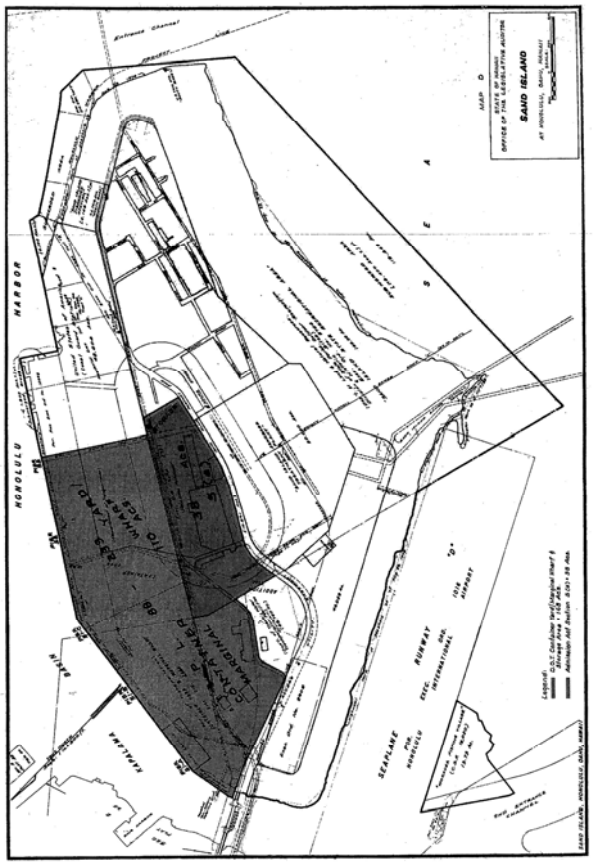
The treatment accorded the 202 acres. Since the presidential executive order returning the 202 acres to Hawaii was signed before Hawaii became a state, the acreage is listed in the state inventory as having been received by Hawaii under section 5(a) of the Admission Act. As section 5(a) land, the 202-acre site is not subject to the section 5(f) trust or to HRS chapter 10.



Technically, the listing of the acreage as section 5(a) land is correct. However, there is no good reason why the 202 acres should not be treated in the same manner as the 244 acres of landed property that were conveyed to Hawaii (together with the 116 acres of submerged lands) in 1963 under Public Law 88-233. First, the only reason for the transfer of the 202 acres to Hawaii one day before statehood was the fear of the need for another congressional act if the land was not transferred before statehood. There was no other reason for the urgency to convey, for Standard Oil in 1958 had decided to locate its refinery on Campbell Estate land at Barbers Point. Second, had the President not signed the executive order and the 202 acres not been transferred to Hawaii on August 20, 1959, in all probability, the 202 acres would have been conveyed to Hawaii after statehood under Public Law 88-233 in the same manner (and possibly at the same time) as the conveyance of the 244 acres. Thus, it would appear to be fair to treat the 202-acre site the same as the 244-acre site and subject it to the public trust of section 5(f) of the Admission Act. Although legislative action may be necessary to accomplish this legally, we think that equity supports this treatment.

As a footnote, we observe that the 244 acres were conveyed to Hawaii under Public Law 88-233, rather than under section 5(e) of the Admission Act, even though the conveyance was had within the five-year review period provided in section 5(e), because of the same two problems that compelled the U.S. Department of Justice to require congressional authority for the conveyance of the 202-acre site--the earlier asserted private claims to what used to be the Mokauea and Kaholaloa fishing grounds, and the questionable ability of the United States to return to Hawaii as filled lands what the United States had received on annexation as submerged lands.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in support of the recommital and I would just like to thank the introducer of this bill for his wisdom in taking a second look at the issue."

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the motion to recommit and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, we cannot allow the short-sighted fire-sale of State lands to balance the budget. This bill forces the State to sell between a half to three quarters of a billion dollars in public trust lands. This is a permanent solution to a temporary problem that will haunt us for generations to come, who might be deprived of the public parks and open spaces that our fathers handed down to us to properly steward."

Representative Pine rose in support of the motion to recommit and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support to re-commit House Bill 2737, Relating to the Disposition of Public Lands to the Committee on Finance.

"Hawai'i's most precious resource is land. The sale of public lands by the Department of Land and Natural Resources would generate revenue of up to $750,000,000 for the State general fund. However, once these lands are sold, it is unlikely that the State will re-obtain them in the future.

"I support recommitting House Bill 2737 for the following reasons:

There should be further review as to how certain State lands were obtained in order to definitively determine if they were crown or ceded lands;

Issues relating to the original intent for land use should be addressed;

Discussion should have been made in the appropriate standing committee prior to a hearing being held by the Committee on Finance.

"For the reasons above, I support recommitting House Bill 2737."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2737, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DISPOSITION OF PUBLIC LANDS," was recommitted to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Ching, Hanohano, Marumoto, Nakashima, M. Oshiro, Thielen, Tokioka and Ward being excused.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 673-10) recommending that H.R. No. 16, be adopted; and

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 16, and H.C.R. No. 54, be adopted, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support if I may on Stand. Com. Report Nos. 673 and 674. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The United States Constitution requires a national census, which is a count of everyone residing in our nation, once every ten years. The allocation of federal and state funding for critical social services and other public purposes depends on complete and accurate age, population, and demographic information. The federal government can allocate over $400 billion to states in large part on census data. This was pointed out by the Representative from Makiki.

"However, in the last census, Hawaii was determined to have the second highest census undercount. That's correct, undercount, which has resulted in the loss of millions of dollars in federal funds for each of the last ten years. Mr. Speaker, last year federal grants to Hawaii totaled nearly $290 million, including $88 million for education and $97 million for health and human services. Therefore the most compelling reason to participate in the census is to benefit our State by allowing us to get our fair share of federal funding. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 16, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION SUPPORTING THE UNITED STATES BUREAU OF THE CENSUS AND URGING ALL HAWAII RESIDENTS TO PARTICIPATE IN 2010," was adopted, with Representatives Bertram, Hanohano, Marumoto, Nakashima, M. Oshiro, Thielen, Tokioka and Ward being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 54, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION SUPPORTING THE UNITED STATES BUREAU OF THE CENSUS AND URGING ALL HAWAII RESIDENTS TO PARTICIPATE IN 2010," was adopted, with Representatives Bertram, Hanohano, Marumoto, Nakashima, M. Oshiro, Thielen, Tokioka and Ward being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 675-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2015, SD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2015, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTRASTATE TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Bertram, Hanohano, Marumoto, Nakashima, M. Oshiro, Thielen, Tokioka and Ward being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 676-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2017, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2017, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE CLAIMS ADJUSTERS," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Bertram, Hanohano, Marumoto, Nakashima, M. Oshiro, Thielen, Tokioka and Ward being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 677-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2812, SD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2812, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAPTIVE INSURANCE COMPANIES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Bertram, Hanohano, Marumoto, Nakashima, M. Oshiro, Thielen, Tokioka and Ward being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 678-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2602, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2602, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO REAL ESTATE LICENSEES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Bertram, Hanohano, Marumoto, Nakashima, M. Oshiro, Thielen, Tokioka and Ward being excused.

COMMITTEE REASSIGNMENTS

The following measure was re-referred to committee by the Speaker:

H.C.R. No.	Re-referred to:
56	Committee on Education, then to the Committee on Finance

Stand. Com. No. 477-10 and S.B. No. 1059, SD 2, HD 2:

By unanimous consent, action was deferred to Monday, March 8, 2010.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Evans, seconded by Representative Ching and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain Senate Bills and a House Bill for Third Reading by consent calendar. (Representatives Bertram, Har, Pine and Thielen were excused.)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

H.B. No. 2003, HD 3:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2003, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative C. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just very briefly, I rise in support. This bill has been a long time in the making. The Campaign Spending Commission has worked tirelessly for years to recodify our outdated and piecemeal campaign finance laws. H.B. 2003, HD 3 is the culmination of all this effort.

"It streamlines our campaign finance laws into simple and straightforward language. It upholds Hawaii's high standard of transparency and accountability, preventing even the appearance of impropriety by prohibiting political contributions from State contractors. And it addresses the broad impact of unrestricted and unregulated corporate contributions.

"We've tried to incorporate in this draft the exact language and intent of the Hawaii State Campaign Spending Commission. Nothing more, and nothing less. However, there's still more work ahead. In addition to this language, much of which the Commission introduced in their first draft of the bill, changes have been made throughout the legislative process that they have adopted as their own. We must be sure that all the final and necessary changes and tweaks requested by the Commission are incorporated into a final draft before becoming law. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support, and may I insert written comments."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of HB 2003, HD 3. The recodification of the campaign finance law is long overdue without tinkering by the Legislature. As noted in the testimony of the Campaign Spending Commission, this bill is the work-product of the Commission's Blue Ribbon Recodification Committee that completed its work in 2008 after meeting regularly for nine months. The Committee was comprised of the Commission's staff and seventeen volunteer attorneys experienced in campaign finance laws and representing diverse interests. This bill reorganizes previously unorganized, difficult to read, and inconsistent provisions in the current law that has been amended in piecemeal fashion since the campaign finance law was originally promulgated in 1973.

"Undoubtedly, there are other areas that different advocates and legislators may want to change. Because these changes ultimately involve specific policy questions beyond the realm of the Recodification Committee, the Legislature should make these changes in different bills and allow the work of the Recodification Committee to move forward in this bill. For these reasons, I support HB 2003, HD 3."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2003, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN FINANCING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Bertram, Har, Pine and Thielen being excused.

At 3:36 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2003, HD 3

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative McKelvey, for the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 679-10), recommending that H.R. No. 41, be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 680-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 92, be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 41, and H.C.R. No. 92, be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with mild reservations. Mr. Speaker, I was very moved by the comments of the Majority Leader's staff as one of the newest Americans and coming from Serbia, in talking about how great America is, how great our freedoms are. I am being reminded that this measure says that the government has to teach people how to pour alcoholic drinks. The government has to show how drunkenness occurs.

"I'm not sure why the land of the free and the home of the brave has to take over the private sector. We know that on a national level, this is getting increasingly, a creeping phenomenon, that the strong, the independent people, that the young lady from Serbia, now an American, just reminded us of who we are. I think, Mr. Speaker, we have to return to a little bit more independence and not the 'nanny state' that we tend to be nudging ourselves towards. This is a nice measure that's warm and fuzzy, but do we have to do that? That's the question. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. I'd like to address the reason why we should move forward with this measure. On the Big Island, Mr. Speaker, only just about a week and a half ago we had a young high school girl killed, from Kealakehe High School. The students are so upset that they asked Representatives to join them this Saturday in sign waving to ask people to stop drinking and driving.

"The problem on the Big Island continues. We see it all the time, people getting killed from drunken driving. As a matter of fact a task force was created many years ago and people meet every year to talk about how we're going to stop the accidents that happens on our roads. From that task force they've created several ideas on what to address.

"One of those ideas is server training. In researching these resolutions, what we found is that liquor commissions on each island, several of them are trying to address this idea of server training. There are some pilot projects. There are examples of how they're looking at doing server training. One of the things that came up is, because this is such an important issue, it probably should elevate itself to server training being equal on all islands. So that when people that work in bars and restaurants and waitresses, as they move around the islands, they actually will qualify, they're certified and have reached a certain level of training.

"I think it's worthy of us looking at it as a statewide program. I think it will help the liquor commissions. It will help our workers that want to move around the islands. And more importantly, this is being recommended by the community as a possibility, and that's what this study is about. It's the feasibility of doing this. It's a possibility because we've got to stop this. Too many people are dying on our roads. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 41, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF MANDATORY STATEWIDE TRAINING STANDARDS FOR SELLERS AND SERVERS OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES," was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Bertram, Har, Pine and Thielen being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 92, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF MANDATORY STATEWIDE TRAINING STANDARDS FOR SELLERS AND SERVERS OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES," was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Bertram, Har, Pine and Thielen being excused.

Lee, Manahan, Rhoads and Takai being excused.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 477-10 and S.B. No. 1059, SD 2, HD 2:

By unanimous consent, action was deferred one legislative day.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Evans, seconded by Representative Pine and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain House Bills for Third Reading by consent calendar. (Representatives Bertram and Takai were excused.)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 681-10) recommending that H.B. No. 2000, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2000, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative M. Lee.

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, I am in favor of House Bill 2000, House Draft 2, which is the budget for the Judiciary Branch. As a reflection of these tough economic times, this measure reduces the Judiciary's overall budget by $7.8 million for furloughs.

"However, the House recognizes that specialty courts play a huge role in helping those who have gone on the wrong path to get back on the right one. Keep in mind that approximately 80% of individuals in trouble with the law are involved with drugs. A high percentage of individuals involved with drugs have family problems, are victims of physical abuse or sexual abuse, and are going through mental challenges such as post traumatic stress disorder and depression. These programs help individuals to get off of drugs, learn life skills to be productive citizens, but most importantly, it gives them hope that life can be better.

"Moreover, these programs not only change lives, but save the State a lot of money. For example, Adult Drug Court's operating costs for 387 persons are $3.1 million a year, whereas, it would cost the State $19.6 million a year to put these same individuals in the prison system. For Juvenile Drug Court, the cost for 65 persons is $1 million a year, whereas, it would cost just under $6.6 million a year for the same individuals if they were placed in the prison system.

"In addition, the House recognizes that the many non-profit organizations participating in purchase of service contracts with the Judiciary play a key role in providing essential services to help the people of Hawaii in need of assistance in our legal system.

"Thus, with the specialty courts' and purchase-of-service contracts' proven success and cost savings, $1.5 million has been restored in this bill for their services.

"In line with this Judiciary budget bill are two House Bills, HB No. 1752, HD 1, which gives judges discretion in sentencing for non-violent repeat offenders including sending them to the specialty courts. And HB No. 1756, HD 1 that allows non-violent offenders to expunge their record upon successfully completing their sentencing so that they are able to get jobs and be a productive citizen. Therefore, these bills together with the budget bill will help individuals who turn around their lives and further save the State billions of dollars in the long run.

"Our country and State love comeback stories, as reflected by many of our books and movies. Likewise, Hawaii's specialty courts and non-profit organizations participating in the Judiciary's purchase of service contracts will give our people the opportunity to make the greatest comeback in their lives. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2000, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE JUDICIARY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Bertram and Takai being excused.

At 12:50 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2000, HD 2

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 2200, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2200, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative M. Lee.

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. This budget bill is very significant in that it seeks to protect DHS workers from Director Koller's proposed plan to eliminate 232 workers who provide essential services to Hawaii's most needy.

"I wanted to share with you a statement from one of our valued DHS employees, Nalani Thompson who stated, quote, "Ms. Koller, you referenced us in your editorial as horses." Ms. Thompson also describes an incident where face to face contact is needed. "A DHS worker came to get me saying that a woman has a knife sticking out of her stomach. She was a homeless person and got stabbed in the early morning and we had to call the ambulance." This is an example of the DHS workers referred to as 'horses' who saved a person's life.

"This kind of service could not be provided by a call center. I ask all Members to support the passage of HB No. 2200, HD 1. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. First, let me thank Vice Chair Marilyn Lee. Marilyn, thank you for making sure that we all stayed healthy and sane. Thank you for also playing the 'bad cop' so sometimes I could be the 'good cop.' Thank you for your sense of humor, your patience, and for always advancing the health needs of our community.

"A shout out is also deserved for our newest member of the Committee, none other than Representative Finnegan, our illustrious Republican Minority Leader. Lynn, you've added a new dimension and voice to our Committee. It is considerable and greatly appreciated, especially by me.

"May I also thank the entire Finance Committee for their hard work and commitment. Many of you have come forward with ideas and suggestions that have been incorporated into this final product. Your insight into the decisions of the standing committees, and your institutional knowledge tempered our decision making while provoking our debate and discussion. Thank you Representatives Awana, Brower, Har, Nishimoto, Sagum, Tokioka, Ward and Yamashita.

"And the fantastic freshman, Representatives Aquino, Choy, Coffman, Keith-Agaran, Chris Lee, and Wooley. As freshman legislators, you all have brought new insight into our analysis and discussion of programs and fiscal policy. Indeed because of your industry, a high bar has been set for future freshman members. And the Legislature's longest Committee hearing record, set in 2009, remains unchallenged and unmatched.

"To the Committee Chairs, thank you for working with us over the past several months and for prioritizing your programs and expenditures of limited resources. Chairs Cabanilla, Carroll, Hanohano, Herkes, Ito, Karamatsu, Manahan, McKelvey, Morita, Rhoades, Souki, Tokioka and Tsuji. All of you took responsibility for your respective departments. All of you made hard choices and entrusted the Finance Committee to put it all together. Thank you for your patience, faith and confidence.

"I need to especially thank Chairs Chang, Mizuno, Takumi, and Yamane. Your four departments, Education, Health, Human Services, and the University of Hawaii have been impacted the greatest. I appreciate your understanding in exploring some of the present budget cuts to see if we can save, or shift some money to other departments and restore important programs. You all were honest in your consultation with me, but at the end of the day I have made recommendations which even you do not agree with. Therefore any criticism or shortcoming in this measure are mine, and mine alone.

"Finally, I'd like to thank the Finance staff. In the front office, the people that take all the interesting and angry phone calls, run logistical support for the Committee, make sure we are well-fed, hydrated, and taken care of, and make sure I make all my meetings. Please stand, and Members please hold your applause until all the members of the Finance staff are recognized. Lisa Asano-Beem, Mark Garedo, Charin Tomomitsu, Ann Yuasa, led by Tracy Kubota and Jo Hamasaki.

"The Research and Budget Analysts. They are the ones who are going through the worksheets, interfacing with the departments, and drilling down to the nuts and bolts of these budget documents. Tiffany Aoyama, Kathleen Lee, Megan Muramatsu, Michael Bomhoff, Nicholas Chong, Susan Fernandez, Michael Fisher, Leslie Goo, Eric Abe, all led by Stacey Tagala, Puna Chai, Michael Ng, Randy Hiyoto and Nandana Kalupahana."

Representative Yamashita rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have permission to insert the respective titles and positions as additional written remarks? Members, please give a round of applause to the Finance Staff. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

"Mr. Speaker, this has not been an easy budget to craft and it will not be an easy budget to accept. Based on limited resources, this is a budget that tries to do the right thing for the people of Hawaii. It does not mask the harsh realities we face.

"Unlike previous budgets, this budget does not treat everyone equally. This budget makes the hard choices that the Governor and others have not. Scratch below the surface of any superficial analysis of the budget and you will see that this budget truly prioritizes people. It prioritizes our 'safety net.' It prioritizes health, the people's health, as well as environmental health. It prioritizes public safety and food safety. It prioritizes children.

"Throughout the Session we have asked ourselves these questions. How far can we cut government programs and services? What programs and services are we willing to live without? And are we willing to pay more for the programs and services we want? What do we want Hawaii to look like when the recession ends?

"We answer with this budget and the bills we passed last week. The days for one-time solutions and delaying payments have long passed us. Such approaches will simply make matters worse for years to come. When we added up the bill for anything that was not paid for in the budget submitted by the Governor, we came up with a list of about $500 million in unpaid bills. Unpaid bills are a serious problem for anyone to have, for households, as well as government. It means that someone is not being paid for services rendered or goods provided. It has both fiscal and moral consequences.

"Mr. Speaker, last June, at the end of fiscal year 2009 when the Governor delayed paying some bills, she told the people of Hawaii in a live statewide televised broadcast and I quote, 'These bills which total $130 million will be paid in full only a few days late in July. We are not foregoing our financial responsibility and obligations for these payments, but merely shifting these costs to the next fiscal year.'

"Mr. Speaker, the Governor has not kept her promise. The bill she claimed to have deferred into next fiscal year 2010, won't be paid until fiscal year 2011 and 2013.

"And things have actually gotten worse. Mr. Speaker, there are just a couple of headlines we've seen in recent weeks. From the February 17th, 2010 Star-Bulletin and I quote, 'State to delay paying for health coverage could further suspension of services or even closure of some health centers.'

"February 9th, 2010, in The Honolulu Advertiser, 'Hawaii will delay sending out tax refunds to balance budget. Lingle plan to mail out checks greater part of an effort to ease $721 million revenue shortfall.'

"Mr. Speaker, on September 3rd, 2009, during a web address to the people of Hawaii, the Governor claimed, 'As I said before, we cannot kick the can down the road and just expect that everything will turn out okay. I am not willing to leave to Hawaii's next Governor the tough choices that need to be made today.'

"Unfortunately Mr. Speaker, that is exactly what has been proposed in the Governor's budget. Unpaid bills, delays in payments, and IOU's. These all weaken confidence in the business sector and will further delay our economic recovery. It is simply bad practice and chills investment confidence.

"Moody's has cautioned us that outside investors are watching us and we must heed their warnings. The budget submitted to us cuts spending without any rhyme or reason."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro continued, stating:

"Thank you. A 13.8% across the board cut on all departments was imposed resulting in a cut to half of the homeless programs in Department of Human Services, the abolishment of the award winning Film Branch, and nearly destroying the invasive species program guarding our land and food supply.

"Mr. Speaker, the more we questioned, the more it became apparent that the budget simply reduces government cost by any means available, doing what was most expedient. There's an old saying that says, 'The road to hell is paved with good intentions.' The budget submitted to us seems to have done that. Bottom line, there was no real thought given to core functions or priorities.

"Government heads insist that there will be no impact through these reductions. I must respectfully disagree. The clearest example is the Child Protective Services Branch of the Department of Human Services where nearly one quarter of the positions were terminated. Mr. Speaker, I thought my job was difficult. Then I began to talk to Child Protective Service case workers. Even after speaking with them, I cannot fathom what it really takes to be in their shoes. But I admire the heart and soul of these dedicated individuals. They are the heroes and heroines on the frontline battling unimaginable witness, and whose decisions are truly ones of life and death.

"It is true, and I agree with Director Koller that Child Protective Service case workers have stepped up to the plate and picked up the slack. But there has been an impact Mr. Speaker, and the risk of tragic results may have increased. One case worker I heard from told me that their caseload has increased six times.

"Here's a quick sampling of those typical cases. There's a four-year old who lives with his mother and his grandparents. The father is currently out of the picture. He may be in prison, missing, or even dead. The four-year old and the mother are chronic sex abuse victims of the grandfather.

"Sample two. There's a mother who has two young children. The father is out of the picture, maybe in prison, missing, or dead. She has a boyfriend who has been abusing all three of them. The boyfriend began threatening the lives of the children, literally saying, 'I will kill you.' And on multiple occasions, he has produced a weapon. The mother did get a temporary restraining order against the boyfriend, but came to court with the boyfriend and said it had been, 'worked out.' The threats continue and just recently, the children were removed.

"Number three. There's a case of an abusive boyfriend with a small child involved. The child had been raped multiple times and had her arms broken. Before the child could be removed, the boyfriend drowned the child.

"Mr. Speaker, I apologize for the graphic nature of these cases, but that is a reality faced by the child protective service agents, and I resent the notion that the mere recitation of 'esprit decorps,' 'do more with less,' or even a hardy 'ganbari mashoo,' can protect the most innocent and vulnerable members of our society.

"Mr. Speaker, I cannot think of any responsibility greater than the safety of children. That is why this budget completely restores child protective services.

"Mr. Speaker, this budget does not treat everyone equally. We have taken from the big departments. We have identified alternative cuts so we can restore critical programs that have been the victim of the one-size-fits-all reduction in force proposed by the Governor.

"I must note that the departments we took from the most were those departments receiving money under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, but this does not mean that there will be no impact to the choices we have made in this budget. As I stated last week, there will be blow-back. We anticipate this and quite frankly, Mr. Speaker, and I welcome it. I want that, and we should have a frank discussion of this budget proposal versus the Governor's. Only then can we be sure that the ideas contained in this budget are acceptable and appropriate. My growing fear however is that key personnel in all departments ..."

Representative Cabanilla rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My growing fear however is that key personnel in all departments will be gagged from speaking out and threatened with loss of job or positions for voicing accurate and honest assessments. We are all in this canoe together, and I still hope we can work with the Administration to do what's right for the people of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, this budget is balanced, but more importantly, this budget brings balance back to State government. I have no doubt that when people simply look at the overall numbers, the press releases, the one-page summaries, the digests, this budget looks like it takes from education and health. However Mr. Speaker, the devil has always been in the details.

"We disagree with the Governor's budget that was presented to us and performed our own surgery using a scalpel instead of a meat cleaver. We made sure that number one, we take care of those who cannot take care of themselves; the aged, the impaired, the poor, the needy, and the neglected.

"Number two, we made sure that we do not forsake our role of custodians of our natural resources, protecting our lands, waters, and ocean for future generations.

"And number three, that we nurture and promote an environment where our children are safe and can thrive.

"Mr. Speaker, we all stood in this Chamber last week making some difficult choices. We cut government programs and services by identifying what we could live without, and restored programs that are truly the only 'safety net' for those who are too poor, too sick, too abused to help themselves.

"With this budget and the bills we passed last week we will be able to pay our bills now and into the future. This budget is a reflection of who we are, what we are for, and the future we want for ourselves and the next generation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro submitted the names and position titles of the Finance Committee staff members:

Committee Clerk, Mr. Nandana Kalupahana.

Administrative Services Manager, Ms. Tracy Kubota.

Legislative Aides, Ms. Lisa Asano-Beem, Mr. Mark Garedo, Ms. Charin Tomomitsu and Ms. Ann Yuasa.

Research Chief, Mr. Randall Hiyoto.
Research Supervisor, Ms. Stacey Tagala.
Researchers, Mr. Erik Abe, Ms. Tiffany Aoyama, Ms. Kathleen Lee and Ms. Megan Muramatsu.

Budget Chief, Mr. Mike Ng.
Budget Supervisor, Ms. Puna Chai.
Budget Analysts, Mr. Mike Bomhoff, Mr. Nicholas Chong, Mr. Mike Fisher, Ms. Leslie Goo, and Ms. Susan Fernandez.

Zoo Keeper, Mr. Jo Hamasaki.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with, let me put it this way. If it wasn't for the Committee Report, I would be in support. Having read the Committee Report, I have reservations. I will vote with reservations. Between full support and reservations.

"The point is that some of the Committee Report has inflammatory statements. There are some omissions in it, some inaccuracies, and it's not the type of Committee Report that should accompany a $10 billion budget. Let me get into that a little bit later though.

"Before that, let me say that where this excels, and where I guess I would have started, like the Chair of Finance, with an upbeat 'go get 'em.' I probably wouldn't even add some of the things that I'm going to add. But first, I would like to thank the staff. Every year Mr. Speaker, it gets better and better, the transparency and democracy, the voting and the interaction and the suggestions, and even the welcoming of the new member from the Minority. It's a good sign that things are coming.

"I was also very impressed that the most important issue faced by this Body, the Chair and the Finance Committee took that by the horns and that was, let's end the furloughs. There's $50 million which hopefully will be enough incentive to get the people around the table again and hopefully, come to some resolution to get our kids back in school.

"I will also applaud the surgical cut that the Finance Chair has stated, and some of us were very happy with what came out of it. Some of us were unhappy with what was in there, but the way that the whining record is recorded in the Committee Report, I think it leaves a lot to be desired.

"I want to also commend the Chair for protecting our agriculture, aggressively attacking invasive species, lending an ear to the poor, and more specifically the most vulnerable who are young. But my colleague passed me a note and said, 'Should the money from the Mililani turf field and track have been used for these individuals?' That is money that has already been funded.

"Lastly, kudos are also due for keeping our libraries open, and very importantly Mr. Speaker, for funding our charter schools with a bit more money. Unfortunately, we lost the first round of funding for the Race to the Top, and that's $75 million. So the charter school funds will be very, very important. And kudos to the Chair for reinserting money for the tourism office in Taiwan, and the progenitor of our visitor to Waikiki is going to be Chinese, and reopening that office is good. And for restoring the Aerospace Office, albeit with it small funds, to acknowledge that the future of travel is space travel and work, but we have to get in on the ground floor.

"Having said this Mr. Speaker, I have a few things about my disaffection with the budget, regarding some inaccuracies and some omissions in H.B. 2200. First there's a parenthetical reminder to all of us. H.B. 2200 is not really a budget, it's a spending plan. Webster's Dictionary defines a budget as a statement of financial position of an administration for a definite period of time based on estimates of expenditures during a period, and proposes the financing of them. A budget therefore is both an income and expense statement. But what we have today is a spending plan, and until we see the revenue side of the budget, we are discussing something that is more or less moot.

"And I should point out that when the Governor's budget came down, there was a spending plan. We didn't all agree with it, but it showed where the money was coming from. Again, I would commend the staff that put a spreadsheet together the first day that the Finance Committee met in the first week of January. The spreadsheet showed where the budget was going out, and where the money was coming in. And Mr. Speaker, that is not here yet.

"The Chair of Finance often says, 'The Governor proposes, but the House disposes.' Yet throughout the Committee Report we were constantly reminded of the fault finding that the Governor had, or she be given and arguably, the Committee Report became a political report.

"Conspicuously absent in H.B. 2200, and in the spirit of fairness it should be mentioned that the Governor refused to make wholesale cuts to State workers. This budget nor the Committee Report acknowledges or references the critical role the Governor played and implemented an early on and, until this day, a warm-body policy to keep State workers employed. She refused to cut thousands of jobs to balance the budget from the get go."

Representative Marumoto rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

"She refused to balance the budget from the get go, and you recall Mr. Speaker, the formula for every 1,000 jobs cut, it is equivalent to saving $43 million. Instead we ended up with across-the-board cuts, many of which we were unhappy with. But we must not forget that the fundamental act of preserving these families' lifelines and housing and overall well-being was for the sake of State workers. It was not a one-size-fits-all. It was a plan to prevent massive unemployment in the State of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, unemployment today is 7.3%. But if the Governor would have put really the 'meat axe' to it, as the Finance Chair said, to State workers, we would be up at the national average of just a little bit under 10%. Presently we have about 44,000 people unemployed, but only about a thousand of these people are actually State workers. Some of the people in the private sector resent that, but we should know that 98% of the unemployed are private sector individuals, not public sector people. The bottom line is that the government workers are about 20% of the labor force, but they compromise 2% of the unemployed. Again, because those State jobs were preserved.

"With 77 cents of every tax dollar going towards government salaries, the public sector unions and their supporters should be grateful that almost 99% of State workers still have their jobs.

"Mr. Speaker, my second concern is that H.B. 2200 gives the unfortunate impression that the House budget and the Governor's budget were light years apart. The total budget that we're looking at today is $10.50 billion, and the Governor's budget was $10.89 billion. That's only a difference of $49 million. So the spread between the two we can argue is about where the cuts were, but the actual amounts, there's really an agreement with the Executive Branch in the House, at least so far. Mr. Speaker, that is a 1% difference. It's not a big difference.

"But let me go to my last concern now and this is the '$64,000 question.' How are we going to pay for this budget? That's the bigger question on the minds of the people of Hawaii. Where is the money going to come from? H.B. 2200 says nothing about that, but it references vaguely that there are going to be some tax increases and other things that it never follows through with, nor spells out. But yet we have to balance our budget. The concern is how are we going to do it? That means the budget battle, the budget discussion is just now beginning.

"We can already see that this Body and the Executive Branch basically disagree. But the big difference is going to come down the line when it comes to the spending. Last week I spoke on this Floor about 15 job killer bills that this Body passed that could seriously hurt our recovery from this recession, and then balances this budget on the backs of the small business community. With the 500% increase on the unemployment taxes in the next few months, and a 900% increase by next year, Hawaii's small businesses are going to feel the pinch.

"Mr. Speaker, there are about 37 small businesses in Hawaii with over 90% of them having less than 20 employees. According to the U.S. Small Business Administration, small business loan failure rates are up 11.9% in 2009, and we have no reason to think this negative trend will not continue as more and more small businesses are folding.

"I don't need to remind you Mr. Speaker, nor this Body, that we have now defunct, out of business, closed their doors, 'another one hits the dust,' Aloha Airlines, Molokai Ranch, Maui Land and Pineapple, Palama Meat Company, ATA Airlines, Circuit City, CompUSA, Weyerhaeuser, Island Chevrolet on the Big Island, even the Outrigger closed their travel club. And we talked about the TAT not having an impact on tourism. They closed their travel club. And we also know that one of our newspapers probably in the next four to five weeks is going to die. This is not to mention the TV stations. We've got one TV station here today. Always when we argued the budget there were at least three TV stations. We've got one TV station, or let's say two TV stations. One newspaper, and we have big layoffs. And Sea Life Park, Servco Pacific, Hawaiian Medical Center, Norwegian Cruise Lines, etc.

"The point is Mr. Speaker, how do we get the money to balance this budget is really the argument and we need to know the spending plan. Despite this dismal economic future and the fact that unemployment has doubled ..."

Representative Pine rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"I'm just about finished. Thank you, Representative. Despite the dismal economic picture, and the fact that unemployment has doubled, this Body has passed the job killers. For example, H.B. 1926, which adds a $20 surcharge that businesses have to pay whenever they pay for a variety of State fees. Another example, H.B. 1907 takes away net operating loss deductions, itemized deductions, capital goods excise tax. H.B. 2867 and H.B. 2877 eliminate various tax exemptions that were implemented to stimulate business. And H.B. 2852 to increase premiums on health insurance.

"Mr. Speaker, it's a bit of an irony that we bemoaned the fact that our health insurance on the national level is such a big issue and it's escalating, but yet we turn around and we put fees on Kaiser and HMSA so the cost of healthcare goes up. It's a bit odd that we would bemoan that, and at the same time turn around and increase those taxes.

"Bottom line Mr. Speaker, my point is that we cannot kill more jobs with this budget by the way we fund it. And let's not forget the jobs that have been saved up to this point due to the actions of the Governor which I just spoke of. Let's be objective. Let's be fair. The expense side of the ledger may be filled in, but the battle over the budget is on the revenue side which we're just beginning to discuss.

"As the Subject Matter Chairs and others boast of this budget, let's remember that this bill is only the beginning volley in our fight for a balanced budget. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of House Bill 2200, HD 1. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Although Crossover represents only the midpoint of the Session, I appreciate your work and the tireless work of our Finance Chair, Vice Chair, and Finance Committee members and their staff in crafting a prudent budget by reducing the Governor's budget by $60 million, and restoring critical positions in child protective services, adult protective services, and in protecting our eligibility workers.

"For your Department of Human Services Mr. Speaker, the budget bill carefully protects 'safety net' positions while reducing the Department's overall budget by over $18.5 million. In an article in the Island Voices section in The Honolulu Advertiser on March 2nd, 2010, the Department of Human Services' Director Koller referred to DHS employees as 'horses.' I find the use of such a description offensive and hurtful to the hardworking and dedicated employees of the Department of Human Services.

"The genesis of her comment stems from the fact that Ms. Koller wants to eliminate 232 DHS employees, mostly eligibility workers, and close every single public assistance office in the State of Hawaii. If you can visualize the closing of 31 public assistance offices in our State, this is what you'll see. No public assistance offices on Maui. No public assistance offices on Molokai. No public assistance offices on Lanai, or Kauai, or in Kona. You will only see two call centers that they plan to open up on Oahu and in Hilo.

"This proposal, if carried out, will gut the Department of Human Services in one final swoop before the Director of the Department leaves. If her plan is successful, they will have closed all offices and eliminated 232 positions. This final act will take the 'human' out the Department of Human Services.

"If I can share with you testimony from Aaron Nagata, an Adult Protective Services investigator in West Hawaii on the Big Island. Mr. Nagata provides in relevant part, 'The West Hawaii section consists of two investigators and two social service assistants. To date, our staff has been cut in half. For a geographical area slightly larger than the Islands of Oahu and Kauai together, our district will rely on one investigator for all investigations. This brings serious concerns for the safety and welfare of our targeted population.'

"What would the ramifications be? By eliminating 232 Department of Human Services employees, we're going to be adversely affecting over 300,000 of the most needy individuals and families in the State of Hawaii. Who are these 300,000 people in Hawaii Mr. Speaker? It's our aged, our blind, our disabled, our domestic violence victims, our homeless families, our low income families, our victims of elder abuse and child abuse. They will no longer have the ability to maintain services with their case worker or obtain services by person-to-person contact who will interview them and help them navigate through this most difficult recession.

"Now more than ever we need these services, Mr. Speaker. This is our 'safety net' that we're talking about. The very fabric of our community. We have no throw-away people in our society."

Representative Brower rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Mizuno continued, stating:

"I want to thank again the Finance Chair and you, Mr. Speaker, for protecting our DHS workers and the 300,000 needy individuals in the State of Hawaii. For those reasons, I support this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in strong support of HB No. 2200, HD 1. Thank you, very much. First of all, I too would like to thank the Chair of the Finance Committee and the members, and the staff for working long hours and really allowing me to present what I believe are some of the concerns of the Department of Agriculture and agricultural concerns within the State of Hawaii.

"We all recognize that the global economic meltdown has been far reaching with unprecedented effects that have really reached outside borders and into our State of Hawaii isolated in the middle of the Pacific. But although we may be isolated, we are not unaffected by the economic adversities that happened throughout the world. In the area of agriculture, this budget represents our concerns as citizens. This budget responds and acts with alternatives to the budget cuts and the reduction in force.

"In particular in agriculture, we've prevented, with the systematic inspection of airports and harbor facilities, from allowing invasive species to enter our islands. We recognized the endangerment of our food supply. We recognize the endangerment of timely inspecting and certifying our export items.

"Mr. Speaker, going to our agriculture inspectors. Agriculture inspectors are essential for stopping invasive species from entering Hawaii. The reinstatement of 22 inspectors, only temporarily postpones the closure of our Neighbor Island ports. If we had no inspectors, our food products could languish in storage for up to a couple of weeks before clearing inspection, and maybe another week before they are finally stocked on our Neighbor Island store shelves.

"At HDOA, Department of Agriculture officials estimate the annual economic impact on these delays and non-arrivals to be conservatively estimated at $1 billion, a negative economic impact to our State of Hawaii.

"We must be prepared for natural disasters here in Hawaii like the vog and most recently, the tsunami. We've had tsunamis previously, since 1960 and 1946. But if I may say, the most recent, if it hasn't already been addressed, it's another wake up call to all of us, Mr. Speaker. We import more than 80% of the items that we consume. The supply is less than two weeks here in Hawaii. We have got to think about how we repair our harbors, as they be can destroyed.

"In 2006 on the Big Island of Hawaii, the Kawaihae Harbor was devastated and destroyed by the 2006 earthquake. To this very day, that harbor has not been repaired. Utilizing special funds are only a temporary means of reprieve, and Honolulu right here is the epicenter of this critical distribution point.

"Let's talk about food safety certification. Hawaii exports products such as coffee and papaya are in dire need of timely inspection and certification. This budget ensures that our coffee and papaya industry are serviced in a timely manner so their products can meet the critical export shipping time. A ship waits for no man. Any disruption of daily inspection negatively impacts our industry."

Representative Wooley rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji continued, stating:

"Thank you, very much. This budget further ensures that our State is compliant with food safety audits. E. coli and salmonella continue to plague food safety and are responsible for an alarming number of deaths nationwide, if not worldwide. Federal mandates are expected for such food safety audits and they are making their journey into the congressional level right now.

"There are more and more, and I could go on and on, but when I heard a Representative say this budget is only the beginning, I don't think it's only the beginning. It's a never-ending journey and I quote, 'We need to take action now to increase Hawaii's food self-sufficiency and strengthen and preserve agriculture for future generations as required by our State Constitution.' Mr. Speaker, it goes on to say, 'If we replaced only 10% of the food we currently import, it would create more than $300 million in economic activity, generate $6 million in taxes and create over 2,300 new jobs.'

"These are great observations, Mr. Speaker. This quote was over a year and a half ago in the State of the State Address by the Governor of our State of Hawaii. Please take this into consideration. I support this legislation. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on HB 2200, HD 1. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First of all, I did want to state my thank you to the Chair. It's been a wild and crazy ride, but I absolutely appreciate his willingness to work with the Minority and just educating me as a first time member. I also want to thank our staff in HMIR, as well as Finance staff. Nan told me one day that learning the Finance Committee is like drinking water through a fire hose, and I absolutely, 100% agree. But I want to thank you for all your hard work because that's something that has helped me to be able to grasp, as much as possible, this budget that we're passing forward.

"My comments that I am moving forward are meant to be respectful as much as I can be, but also understand that I do have some disagreements. I won't focus on a lot of the things that I do agree with because my time is limited as we only have a few people to give their minutes to me, so I will move on."

"The people of Hawaii are looking to us to create an efficient government, define core services, and do everything possible to live within our means. Although I will be supporting this budget, I have reservations as I think we have not done a good enough job at accomplishing the goals that I stated.

"All Members of this Body are aware of the significant budget predicament that Hawaii currently finds itself in. No one disagrees on this point. Mr. Speaker, where the Members of this Body disagree is their belief of how to best weather this storm. When it comes down to it, we really have to ask ourselves whether we're willing to take the appropriate actions necessary by asking tough questions.

"In short, the Administration has taken steps to reinvent government versus temporarily tinkering with it. As members of the Executive Branch, each department director performed their Executive Branch responsibility by reviewing its own strengths and weaknesses, eliminating redundancies and inefficiencies, and making needed adjustments.

"Indeed, the Administration performed a programmatic analysis of its own operations, taking into account the resulting impact on services of layoffs. In the Legislature's attempt to undo the Administration's effort to become more efficient and reinvent government, we've reversed some of their work because of philosophical disagreements.

"Case in point, this measure restores 112 positions in spite of the reality that labor costs contribute to 70% of the State's budget. Most of these positions are not funded so I agree with that, but their restoration implies their further potential to be filled. This means that despite the needs that come around when times get better, the Legislature is giving the signal to fill positions from an old and possibly outdated plan. This is not reinventing government. Now is the time to really reinvent government and reform government versus temporarily tinkering with it to achieve the façade of reform.

"Departmental leadership is closest to the everyday running and management of the Executive Branch. Often when this Administration and its departments try to innovate or streamline their delivery of services and programs, the Legislature has an immediate gut reaction.

"The Department of Human Services epitomizes the Legislature's often negative knee-jerk reaction to reinventing government. Nationally, Director Koller has been honored for her work as Governing Magazine's Public Official of the Year, across the nation. DHS has made a genuine effort to increase the quality of services and care while reforming the bureaucratic red tape that often hampered the agency's mission.

"There are a few strong criticisms of the Department of Human Service and the management decisions of Director Koller. The criticisms center around two programs, the Eligibility Processing Operations Division, otherwise known as EPOD, it's reorganization; and the Child Welfare Services Division. These two divisions service people in our State who are considered some of the vulnerable. I'm going to focus on these areas as examples of how difficult it is to reinvent and create an efficient government.

"Upon careful review of the proposed RIFs in this area that handle the EPOD program, I have come to the conclusion that we are making the wrong decision by restoring these positions in the HD 1."

Representative Ching rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. One would think that eliminating positions in these areas would lessen services. I'm going to take the time to explain why the opposite is true.

"Over the weekend I read the Program Access Toolkit for 2010 provided by the federal government. A guide for state agencies on improving access to Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Programs or SNAP. This guide book focuses on eligibility and access for this federal assistance program. It also mentions other eligibility type programs that we're using for federal government programs. In 2010, Mr. Speaker, this is under the Obama Administration. This 40-something page guide basically refutes a lot of the negativity that people are seeing with the EPOD reorganization.

"EPOD opponents are saying that customers could no longer receive in-person help when applying for benefits. Not true. Customers could still receive in-person help on all islands from DHS staff and community partners. Customers would have the added options of applying online or by phone, added options which will make it faster and more convenient to apply. This talks about community partnerships, face-to-face interviews. Using your existing resources in a different way. Reorganizing, and reinventing government.

"EPOD opponents are saying that customers would get trapped in an automated phone system. Again, not true. Customers who call DHS would speak directly with an eligibility worker just as they do now. Customers could also communicate with eligibility workers via webcam if they prefer. The federal government encourages phone interviews for the SNAP or the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program. They also talk about encouraging these other offices, because there will be DHS offices on every island.

"EPOD opponents are saying that fraud will increase if interviews are not conducted in person. Again, again, not true. The federal government points out that telephone interviews in the SNAP program have not produced increases in fraud contrary to, and they call it, 'a common myth.' In fact, a customer's telephonic signature or a voice recording is considered more reliable than an electronic signature.

"HGEA and others, I think some legislators, are opposing EPOD because it would mean the loss of around 230 public sector union jobs. These positions would no longer be needed because EPOD would significantly improve the workflow and processing applications. It is unfortunate that some union workers would face layoffs. However we must remain focused on the prime mission of delivering benefits and services to customers as quickly and efficiently as possible.

"EPOD would also generate significant cost savings for taxpayers during the worst economic downturn in State history. That would free up money to be used for other important needs.

"This past Saturday, there was an opinion editorial on this EPOD program stating that, 'Hawaii can no longer afford a horse and buggy government that is labor intensive, costly, and slow.' It also states that reform comes with a price. In this case, her proposal, meaning Director Koller's proposal, would close 31 offices and eliminate 230 jobs while retaining 289 staffers. That is making her unpopular among those who would lose their jobs and the Hawaii Government Employee's Association which represents them.

"Mr. Speaker, we should not get defensive when we're trying to use an analogy of a 'horse and buggy' and just saying, 'Hey, it's time to get into a fast car.' She's not calling the employees 'horses.' Mr. Speaker, if we're going to do the right thing, we cannot be defensive. We need to take a look at the existing situation and make things better.

"The Committee Report also finds that DHS has used questionable judgment and quotes an article about consultant, Sandie Hoback. The media article this report cites is a small, online publication and they quoted a long-term welfare recipient who doesn't like how the system works. That is no basis for calling the consultant's competency into question. She is a nationally respected consultant who has helped many states upgrade their human services."

Representative Thielen rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This consultant helped Director Koller develop the SEE Hawaii Work, Supporting Employment Empowerment program that was launched in 2005. Nearly 2000 welfare recipients have participated. 921 completed their SEE assignments and 783 or 85% have successfully obtained unsubsidized employment, many of them for the first time in their lives and are no longer on welfare rolls. Does that sound like a consultant making it more difficult? This is the resistance that comes along with creating a more efficient government, Mr. Speaker.

"The second area and example of major disagreement is in the Child Welfare Division. Under Director Koller's leadership and management, the number of children in State foster care has decreased by 50% from about 3,000 in 2003, to 1,400 children today. This is the lowest number since 1993. More importantly, Hawaii now has one of the lowest rates of child re-abuse rates in the country. Prior to implementing this new direction in 2003, DHS removed children from their biological families at up to four times the national average with no improvement in their safety. The HD 1 reverses the nationally recognized strategy that was implemented by Koller by cutting purchase of contract agreements that provide prevention services that are proven to keep children safe. Remember former Representative Mike Kahikina and his cries for help as kids were being ripped from their homes.

"So let's address some of the comments in this Committee Report. Case loads have not quadrupled. Child welfare case loads have not quadrupled as claimed in the House Finance Committee Report. And I understand that this is coming from the line. Mr. Speaker, somewhere in between, I hope you know from what is coming from Child Welfare Services and what is coming from the line and what they're saying, that we can really grasp as to what is going on. But this is from Child Welfare Services.

"The CWS intake data shows about a 20% increase in referrals being assigned for investigation, but that is nowhere near the 400% increase as stated in the House Report. Mr. Speaker, and there's a whole bunch of other things I'm going to put in written comments so I'd like to ask to submit written comments.

"CWS investigations are timely. For CWS cases assessed as having safety concerns, investigations should take place within two working days from the time of intake, until intake is assigned to a unit for investigation. For cases that are not assessed as having safety concerns, investigation should take place within five working days. Mr. Speaker, in fiscal year 2009, CWS conducted face-to-face contact for all cases assigned for investigation within 3.72 days. A significant improvement from the 15 days between the acceptance of the report and face-to-face contact in fiscal year 2002. The volume of intakes assigned for investigations without safety concerns, plus the unexpected retirement and departure of employees are having an impact on the current CWS response times. Mr. Speaker, this is all a very delicate balance.

"One more point on this issue. CWS positions should not be restored by decreasing contracted services. I think if you want to go ahead and restore some of these other positions in CWS, I think that could be warranted, but remember, year after year these types of really graphic situations of child abuse happen even when we had the money and we didn't fund more positions. Unfortunately that's one of the realities of this world. And I'm not saying to not fund them. I'm just saying that we're breaking down the system that made us so successful in the first place.

"The funding of these purchase of contracts in the HD 1 with the funding that was there for the purchase of contracts. Hawaii passed all six national standards, which are recurrence of maltreatment, incidents of child abuse and neglect in foster care, foster care re-entries, length of time to achieve reunification, length of time to achieve adoption, and stability of foster patients placements.

"Mr. Speaker, I have so much to say, but I'm going to skip this for now because I know that I'm running out of time. The need to question ..."

The Chair addressed Representative Finnegan stating:

"Representative Finnegan, could you sum up? Your time is getting close to running out."

Representative Finnegan continued, stating:

"Let me see. Let me choose then. Mr. Speaker, I guess where I'd like to jump to now is just that it wouldn't be fair if I came to the table and said, 'Don't do this, and don't do that.' I think it would be fair if I gave some recommendations where we could look further for cuts. We can look further for cuts and I'll explain it in my written remarks on Medicaid, and we can still provide good services. We have in the past talked about ..."

The Chair then stated:

"Representative Finnegan, you're out of time. We need to be fair."

Representative Marumoto rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I would like to yield my rebuttal time to the Minority Leader."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to a point of order, stating:

"Point of order. You can't do that under Rule 50 of our House Rules. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, when I was yielded 5 minutes, I only used two of those, so there are three minutes left."

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "Representative Ward, I've been watching the clock. Representative Ward, you're out of order. Representative Ward."

Representative Ward: "Maybe someone from the Majority side will help my colleague finish her speech. Thank you, very much."

Representative Finnegan: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do have other things that I'd like to enter in the written comments, but at this point in time could I call for a recess?"

At 1:50 o'clock p.m. Representative Finnegan requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:53 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, we've had a long discussion regarding H.B. 2200. After hearing from the Minority Leader, the Chair will allow you a compassionate one minute and that's it. Please proceed, Representative Finnegan."

Representative Finnegan continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll try and do this is in Tom Brower style. Mr. Speaker, in these hard times we need to make hard choices. We should be looking at curbing our expenses in Medicaid. I understand that not everyone has the benefit and luxury of being able to work, and we need to provide help and services to these people. But Mr. Speaker, by the same token we cannot continue to furnish unlimited healthcare coverage through QUEST to able-bodied adults.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm not talking about those who are blind, disabled, or aged. This is about $78 million if we change those benefits. And Mr. Speaker, in the private sector, as well as in the public sector, people who are working are getting less benefits, and paying more.

"Mr. Speaker, another area is the State Health Planning and Development Agency. I think we've heard from many people on the Republican side that we would like to look into abolishing that, as well as the Office of Community Services, the Hawaii Occupational Safety and Health Division as that is duplicative of the federal program. I will put the remainder as written comments. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Hawaii Occupational Safety and Health Division (HiOSH)

"The Federal government and State government both regulate workplace safety; this State division is redundant. If we get rid of HiOSH, the federal government will continue to regulate workplace safety through OSHA. 25 states already do without a state workplace safety regulatory body, letting the feds do the regulating.

"Because this Division has a history of operational and fiscal mismanagement, as pointed out in SCR for this bill, this cut would be worth the $3,866,779 in general fund savings for FY 2011, and every year thereafter.

"Office of Community Services (OCS)

"The Office of Community Services' programs and functions can easily and intuitively be absorbed by other State departments with overlapping missions and service. I have friends in that agency, and many of you do too. But this is the time for hard decisions, and redundancy in government is an area we should be looking to cut. Eliminating this office would result in savings of approximately $9,743,897 in FY 2011, and every year beyond.

"For comparison sake, this is almost the exact amount of money needed to fund the DISH appropriation bill that we just passed out of the House last week.

"Office of Language Access (OLA)

"Since its inception, the Office of Language Access has fallen short of its mandate, has failed to promulgate the necessary rules to effect its purpose, and has suffered budget and position cuts by past legislatures. More importantly, there is no federal mandate to do this service, simply a desire on the State level. And while it is a worthy aspiration, the Department of Human Services is fulfilling this function on its own, without the OLA. And so can other departments and divisions.

"If we haven't fully funded them in the past, there is no need at this time to continue the office. Eliminating OLA would save us approximately $305,029 in FY 2011, and every year beyond.

"State Health Planning and Development Agency (SHPDA)

"This is the agency responsible for the Certificate of Need program, and in years past, we have advocated for the program and the agency's demise. 14 states have repealed this outdated program, and more are debating discontinuing it. Because of our healthcare market, I believe that private entities would apply just as much scrutiny, if not more, when it comes to the purchase of new medical technologies and equipment.

"Eliminating SHPDA would save the state approximately $670,741 in FY 2011, and every year beyond.

"The total savings from the proposed cuts from these 5 programs equals $92,586,446 in FY 2011, and every fiscal year thereafter. Another way of looking at it is that we could save $555m over the current 6 year financial plan.

"I am also voting with reservations on this budget bill Mr. Speaker, so that I can still qualify to sit on the Conference Committee later in the Legislative Session. Our rules are such that if we vote "no" on a bill we are unable to participate as a Conference Committee member when the final bill is being negotiated between the House and the Senate.

"Generally speaking, I will support the part of the budget that addresses the Department of Education. Unfortunately, our education system is broken. The Board of Education is given the responsibility to govern Hawaii's public school system, but often shirks its responsibility and is unable to make tough decisions. The suggestion to restore "Furlough Fridays" through making additional cuts in other areas of the DOE is an idea that I strongly support. The DOE is the largest spender of State funds, spending over 2 billion a year. Instructional hours and days for our keiki should be the first priority of funding. Yet, in our current system, adult needs are being met over student needs. This system cut instruction time over the rest of the $2 billion being spent on education. This is perplexing to me.

"I am bothered by the comments this Committee Report makes on Public Charter Schools (PCS). Public Charter School law was passed with the understanding that if we were to give charter schools funds and remove much of the red tape that strangles most traditional schools, innovation, dedication, and freedom for these schools and their communities would create better learning environments and therefore, better educational results. The difficulty of getting information from PCSs is not that they don't have the information. It is mainly that the PCSs do not have the information in the same reporting mechanisms that exist in the DOE. I am disappointed in the conclusions made in this Committee Report. Hopefully, in the future there will be a Finance Committee that truly understands Public Charter Schools and their existence.

"Finally Mr. Speaker, this Committee Report criticizes the Administration for its antics of "kicking the can" down the road. We continue to experience an unprecedented economic recession. The delicate handling of cutting expenses and avoiding tax and fee increases is crucial to economic recovery and taxpayer sanity. If the Committee felt strongly against these measures, they should have done more than just complained; they should have fixed it.

"Even with the difficult decisions that we have to make on the Finance Committee, I am honored and privileged to be serving my constituents and the people of Hawaii in this way."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I stand with some reservations on this measure. Thank you. You know it's been said that education is a process of moving from absolute ignorance to thoughtful uncertainty, and I think that's true with the budget-making process. We start off not knowing which direction we're going to go, and we're at this juncture where hopefully this document represents some thoughtfulness, but surely some uncertainty as well.

"I'd like to commend the Finance Chair, the Vice Chair, the Committee members, and also the Finance staff for what is always a 'Sisyphus task' as they always have to push that rock up the hill.

"Let me offer a bit of perspective, and hopefully it is with some thoughtfulness, and no doubt, some uncertainty as well. First a clarification. In the Committee Report, it states that the student enrollment in our public school system dropped 4% from 1999 to 2009, and of course this is true. It also states that the total funding from the Department, considering all funding sources, nearly tripled during that same period, increasing from approximately $987 million, to $2.8 billion.

"I would have hoped that the Committee Report would have elaborated what the reasons for this are, Mr. Speaker. And by the way, the DOE's budget in FY09 was $2.4 billion, not $2.8 billion. But during this period of time, those approximately 20% increase in collective bargaining, not to mention transfer of services. Those of you who were here not that long ago would remember transferring the autism services from the Department of Health, and school health aides from the Department of Health to the Department of Education. That totals in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

"The budget also reduces the purchase of service contracts. In the report it says that it's to spread the burden of general fund shortfall among those who have been benefiting from private contracts with the Department, but have not experienced cuts in funding for these contracts. Mr. Speaker, that's a bit vague, but what this would mean is that, as you well know, at any given school that has to engage in contracts for tree trimming or removing grease from their traps in the cafeteria, or elevator maintenance for those schools who have elevators, what the upshot of this is that these schools will now have to pay for this out of their own funds because these are services that must be done primarily for health and safety.

"But the biggest impact Mr. Speaker, is the $18.4 million cut from EDN100. I think we all know that this is a line item that goes directly to the schools, and a good chunk of that in the weighted student formula. The result of this cut would mean that class size from grades 3 to 6 will go up by almost two students, and grades 7 to 12 by almost four students. We've been saying all along that unlike other states that went with layoffs of teachers, and increased class sizes, we ended up with furloughs. Unfortunately this measure will increase class size without a doubt.

"So Mr. Speaker, I will remain hopeful that by the time the budget is up for the final vote, that this particular budget cut will be resolved. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I just wanted to make sure that my reservations were noted. And ask that the words of the Minority Leader be entered as my own, and I will submit additional written comments as well."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 2200, Relating to the Budget. As we are at the half-way point of the 2010 Legislative Session the budget comes to the forefront of this Body. This Legislature must find the delicate balance of balancing our budget yet keeping jobs and sustaining funding for vital community services and programs. I believe it is important to grow our small businesses, for it is these small business that are the back bone of our economy. We must find ways to help our small businesses because their success expands outwards to the rest of our economy.

"Fiscal inefficiency has been the chief reason for our State's budgetary woes. It is simple economics that you can't spend more than you bring in. As I pour over statistics and research looking at past budgets and this proposed budget, I find areas where we can be more fiscally sound. The Director of the Department of Human Services, Lillian Koller, has found several ways to make government more efficient. One proposal Ms. Koller has come up with is to reform the processing of applications and renewals for public assistance programs, including welfare, Medicaid and nutrition benefits. Ms. Koller doesn't want to cut services to the needy, rather, she wants to provide a more efficient service. This model of efficiency has been used quite successfully by many states, most notably being Florida.

"We must be more fiscally efficient as a Body. The great people of Hawaii have put their faith in us and we owe them prudence, diligence, and bipartisanship, especially during these economic times. It is of the upmost importance that we embrace fiscal integrity for the security and prosperity of our great citizens. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Members, we've had a lot of discussion on this matter. I would ask if you are for or against the measure, if you could submit written comments to the Journal. It is 2:00 right now."

Representative Mizuno rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, can I just with your indulgence, maybe have one minute of time please. Yes Mr. Speaker, I am still in support, but to rebut the previous speaker's comments."

At 1:59 o'clock p.m. Representative B. Oshiro requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 2:00 o'clock p.m.

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of the measure, and I'm going to give up my time and insert my wonderful speech that I worked so hard on last night into the record."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the measure. On February 21, 2010, Columnist Thomas Friedman wrote in the New York Times:

> "A small news item from Tracy, California caught my eye last week. Local station CBS reported that Tracy residents can pay a $48 dollar voluntary fee for the year which allows them to call 911 as many times as necessary. Or, there's the option of not signing up for the annual fee. Instead they will be charged $300 if they make a call for help."

"Welcome to the lean years."

"Hawaii has not escaped the effect of the US and global recession, and this budget dramatically illustrates the results. This is indeed a lean year.

"However, the House Finance Committee, ably led by Chair Marcus Oshiro, and supported by a hardworking and research-oriented staff have turned out a responsible yet tough budget to pass over to the Senate.

"Members spent many hours going line by line over the budget, and were rewarded by being part of a very open and transparent process. Each member had the opportunity for input, and discussions were frank and productive.

"Unlike the draft that came down from the Fifth Floor, the HD1 restores some essential services and does set priorities. There is no doubt that education, health, human services and agriculture remain at the top of our concerns.

"Fifty million dollars placed in the budget out of general funds, I repeat – general funds, affirms our conviction that furlough days for our public schools students need to cease. To avoid increasing the number of furlough days to address the budget crisis, the budget identifies areas in which efficiency could be improved. Your Committee has crafted a budget that would involve reductions in POS contracts to spread the burden of general fund shortfalls among those who have been benefiting from private contracts with the DOE, but have not experienced cuts in funding for those contracts.

"Regarding the Mililani High School field turf issue – Members should know that is an example of a true health and safety need for a school that has been generous to a fault in sharing the use of its facilities and staff to schools all over the Island.

"The budget graphically shows however, the huge impact the downturn has had upon departments. Where possible, positions and funds were restored, but funds don't allow for many additions. The Governor's budget has relied on floating payments for critical services down the river – a quick and dirty solution that families know is not the answer even in their personal finances.

"Last week, we passed some creative revenue generating measures, and we look forward to the action the Senate may take; hoping that restoration of some critical programs may be possible through their implementation.

"As Tom Friedman states in the New York Times article:

> "Unfortunately, to lead now is to trim – services – programs – personnel…. We have gone from the age of government handouts to the age of citizen givebacks; from the age of flying free to the age of paying for each bag."

"However, these efforts need to be done responsibly and with a plan in mind.

"To their credit, freshman members have maintained a 'stiff upper lip.' It wasn't supposed to be like this when they signed up – but they are taking it in stride, doing their homework and explaining to constituents why new programs, projects are not possible this session.

"Things will improve. National unemployment figures from last month look better, and local real estate transactions seem to be perking up. We were blessed that a possible tsunami last week produced only some unusual wave patterns.

"Mr. Speaker, this HD1 is just a beginning. The Council on Revenues meets again soon, and we have many difficult decisions still to make before the end of Session.

"However, I for one have confidence we will be up to the challenge. Therefore, I urge the Member's support."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations for House Bill 2200, Relating to the State Budget. I have reservations with the State budget in its current form. During times like this we must be bolder. All we are doing is maintaining the status quo."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise with reservations on HB 2200, HD 1. This budget bill seeks to meet the House's obligation of presenting a balanced budget to the electorate. It is premised upon revenue generating bills that I have already voted in opposition to. Because of my previous opposition on certain revenue-generation bills and because there is much more work that needs to be done on this bill, on determining where government can be reasonably cut, and on other revenue-generating bills as they move through the Senate and Conference Committees, I vote with reservations at this time."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2200, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Bertram, Herkes and Takai being excused.

At 2:01 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

S.B. No. 1059, SD 2, HD 3:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 1059, SD 2, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I will vote for this measure, but I would like to express some reservations on it. If this measure passes, counties will then be able to enact stricter ordinances than State law regarding fireworks. Theoretically, one or more, or maybe all the counties will enact a statewide ban, but I doubt it. But I am voting for this amended bill, even though it is a pale imitation of a total ban.

"I was planning to vote no on the original bill that called for a task force because it would not result in any diminution of imports of illegal fireworks for at least a year. There would be no immediate relief from aerials and concussion bombs for a long time, maybe never. So if House Draft 3 passes, please see your local county councilperson about an immediate ban.

"In discussing this measure with several legislators, the problem does appear to be out of control on Oahu, but not so much on the Neighbor Islands. So unless we enact a ban on this island, we will continue to see our citizens blowing up their money, asthmatics flocking to hospital emergency rooms, children injuring themselves with fireworks, fire fighters putting out house and brushfires, police unable to cite people, frantic pets running away, and a few families losing loved ones.

"As for the task force portion of the bill, we may learn a lot, but I can see the recommendations languishing on a legislative shelf somewhere, gathering dust. Let's hope that the recommendations will eventually point the way to stemming the importation of illegal fireworks to Hawaii. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to speak in support of the amended measure. If you would please forgive me because the other day when we had a 12-hour session, I didn't really say much. Thank you.

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support of SB 1059, SD2, HD3, but I'd like to express my many concerns about the misuse of fireworks and why we must proceed with fireworks control.

"Mr. Speaker, the coming of the New Year should be a joyous occasion; however, for many in Hawaii, it is a time of trepidation and fear.

"Although this bill is not perfect, I am happy to see it go forward, because I'd be embarrassed if we would go through the Session without any action on fireworks. For me, a statewide ban is really the answer to our problems, but I'm going to vote in favor of this measure.

"Many of Hawaii's people have made it clear that they desire stricter enforcement of fireworks laws because the proliferation of fireworks in recent years has resulted in a degeneration of the New Year celebration, and public safety issues so severe that people are afraid to leave their homes. Fireworks have also put police and EMS personnel at risk for injury and takes them away from crime fighting and assisting the ill and injured during the holiday.

"I have received multiple complaints from constituents for more than a month before and after the holiday. Fireworks are being used in a manner that's disrespectful to communities and neighborhoods, with no regard to the severe health effects being experienced by children and seniors in particular. Some have said, 'No worry. It is only one night,' but the negative effects of fireworks hardly end when the festivities are over.

"Fireworks are composed of toxic chemicals that pollute our air, contaminate our drinking water, and leave residue in our watershed, harming plants and animals. Fireworks produce smoke and dust that contain residues of heavy metals and sulfur coal compounds. Particulate matter lingering for more than a week after the explosions may cause asthmatics and people who suffer from COPD, that's chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, to have to take medications such as bronchodilators, steroids, and antibiotics and in some cases, take IV fluids. These are expensive remedies.

"Fireworks also cause burns and injuries, which can be life threatening, fatal and cause permanent scars on the body and in the lungs.

"A report filed this year by the Health Department showed a significant increase in emergency room visits and injuries to people. A never-before-seen influx of children injured by fireworks was seen this year in our ERs. And think of the injuries that were treated outside the ER or never reported.

"Another serious concern is the ear damage that may be happening to young children. Aerials produce levels around 150 decibels, and the boom bombs are much louder. Studies show that small children's ears can be damaged by even short exposure to such noise. The noise can also trigger stress reactions in people who suffer from combat related Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

"So you may say, 'It's a tradition.' I don't believe tradition is something that hurts people. I don't believe it's something that takes away their right to a peaceful holiday or causes fear and stress in pet animals. Many remember when fireworks were fun. Unfortunately that is no longer the case.

"Or would you say it's good for business? Yes, the big profits of offshore vendors and the illegal sales of aerials. At the same time, the exploitation of children and the poor takes place.

"I was particularly touched by a letter, which appeared in the Honolulu Advertiser, written by Dr. Torrey Goodman, an emergency room physician, which I would like to read and submit to the Journal, and these are his words."

Representative Rhoads rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Lee continued, stating:

"To all legislators who did not have the courage to vote on a fireworks ban, I invite you to join me in a local emergency department on New Year's Eve. In 20 years as an emergency physician, I have never seen more severe injuries than I did this year. Tears of frustration and anger were how I greeted the New Year.

Please, dear legislators, explain to me why we are allowing items to be sold that result in young children literally being blown up and lit on fire, eyes damaged beyond repair and little hands curled into burnt claws.

How can you justify a child's screaming agony, lifelong scarring and a parent's worst nightmare as "cultural freedom"? Please spend one New Year's Eve in any local emergency room, and I promise you will have the courage to do what is right, and ban fireworks statewide."

"Mr. Speaker, I hope we pass this bill today, but I fear that, as last year, Conference will take its toll. Mr. Speaker, we will ban the statewide use of fireworks one day. For now, Hawaii's children and I must find at least some satisfaction in this small step in that direction. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Manahan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would just like to note my reservations on this measure. Most of the fireworks mentioned in the previous speaker's speech are already illegal, which suggest that this is an enforcement issue. I think that as far as the injuries to children, that is a parenting issue. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise in support with reservations. My concerns are much like what the previous speaker from Mililani mentioned. But the illegal big booming fireworks, those are not supposed to be fired at all. The time constraints are already in law. There is a ban when you cannot play fireworks unless it's within those specific time periods. It's a matter of hours. The window for when fireworks are allowed is just a matter of hours. So the window is very small.

"It's unfortunate that individuals and those 'bad apples' make it bad for the rest of this community who enjoy fireworks. They're disobeying the law and popping it at any old time, and popping those huge big ones or those aerials. They are already illegal. All of those things mentioned are already illegal.

"Now the other issue is supervision, parental supervision. It's unfortunate again, that bad supervision by parents is making it bad for other people in Hawaii to enjoy fireworks.

"Even if we make it illegal or impose a statewide ban like gambling, I'm sure it's still going to occur except now we're not going to get the taxes from it. And you'll also see regular fireworks considered illegal. The type of fireworks that you would throw, pop rocks or those regular jumping jacks, or the red firecrackers, etc. Those would be considered illegal too. My concern is that enacting a ban will not completely stop fireworks. It will be just like gambling, which is all around us right now.

"So it's a matter of policy, and that's my concern with the direction that we're heading. We've tried it with county home rule, but that showed that fireworks were being moved around to other counties who had less strict ordinances. So it creates a different type of challenge for law enforcement. A statewide law is easier to enforce because it's statewide and all law enforcement know what to do. It prevents shipping into less strict areas by airplane or other means.

"The other area we have to look at is, this is what the task force is trying to do at the port level. If these fireworks are coming in at the port level, it's kind of scary to think what other type of materials or explosives could be coming in that actually would do more harm to the State of Hawaii. So that's what the task force is supposed to do, to unify everyone: the ports, the law enforcement, the private sector, the prosecutors, everyone, to find ways to stop the illegals and those huge, big ones that just blow up in the sky and just make sound that rocks the whole town. It really doesn't make sense.

"So those are the things the illegal loud ones that are rocking everybody and people popping at the wrong times. It's already illegal. It's already illegal for us to do that. We have got to enforce it, and that's what the Representative from Kalihi was emphasizing. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations for Senate Bill 1059, Relating to Fireworks. This bill would establish an illegal fireworks task force to stop the importation of illegal fireworks and explosives. The bill would also allow counties to enact ordinances regulating fireworks that are more stringent than State law.

"Unfortunately, this bill does not address the major issue that could suppress the promulgation, dissemination, and use of fireworks illegally. A total fireworks ban would certainly be an immediate solution to mitigate the illegal use of fireworks. However, how are our first responders supposed to enforce a total ban when they are unable to enforce the Fireworks Control Law as currently written? Providing our first responders with the necessary enforcement tools statutorily, and enacting uniform revisions to the Fireworks Control Law should be this Body's first step in tackling this divisive issue.

"For these reasons, I rise in support with reservations on Senate Bill 1059."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I just would like to express my reservations, but I'm in support of the bill, Mr. Speaker. My reservation is that I don't think we need legislation. For the last six years that I've been here, we've been writing more legislation towards the ban or limit on fireworks. I think this is an enforcement issue. Until neighborhoods are willing to stand and say, 'It's that house that's popping the fireworks,' we'll never be able to enforce this because we cannot post or afford to post a policeman on every corner.

"So for those who had called me and complained about it, I asked them that they take matters in their hand. We have a police force that can arrest people or give citations to people that violate the law. But adding legislation year after year is not the solution to this.

"We've done everything Mr. Speaker. We limited the time. We have asked for fees, permits and so on. But this last New Year is a testament to the fact that what we pass in these Chambers is not helping. For all the years that I have lived in Hawaii, I think this last New Year was the worst that I have seen. It shows that whatever laws we passed in the Chamber are not the solution. Enforcement is the solution, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with one reservation. Enforcement, enforcement, and enforcement."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of S.B. 1059, Relating to Fireworks. This bill establishes an illegal fireworks task force to stop the importation of illegal fireworks and explosives. It also requires the task force to report a preliminary plan to the Legislature no later than January 10, 2011 and allows counties to enact ordinances regulating fireworks that are more stringent than State law regulating fireworks.

"Being both a mother and the wife of a former emergency room doctor, I understand the dangers and repercussions associated with the use of illegal fireworks by inexperienced individuals. I truly believe that something needs to be done to begin discussion of this issue, and an illegal fireworks task force could be the key to begin discussion on how this problem can be resolved. By establishing a task force, a "brain trust" is created, whereby individuals who are actually on the front lines of the issue get to have a say in the solution.

"There are many possibilities in solving this issue, yet it is important to determine what the real source of the problem is. In the worst of all worlds, the State could completely ban fireworks, at the same time taking away one of the attractive cultural and traditional spectacles of Chinatown, yet still have perpetrators blow illegal fireworks smuggled in as they are now. This aspect needs to be discussed. Perhaps a confined use of fireworks to Chinatown controlled by experts and governed by police to keep people from getting too close will be one possibility and giving citizens a chance to traditionally celebrate holidays and events, while still keeping individuals safe and out of harm's way, allowing many of these holidays and events to remain attractive to tourists, who in turn contribute back to the local businesses in the area is essential.

"Or perhaps a task force discussing solely the issue of the prohibition of fireworks, we may want to consider implementing a hotline within the State Fire Council, where residents can call in to report the use of illegal fireworks. This will help with the enforcement of fireworks laws that are already in place. Perhaps even a bounty could be considered.

"We need to remember that not all fireworks users are abusing the privilege, with many of them using it solely for the cultural aspect associated with fireworks in confined and special locals. My hope is that a task force will be sensitive to these issues, and remember that a complete ban will affect many residents who have no intentions of disturbing or harming others in their use of fireworks. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. Thank you. First I'd like to adopt the words of the speaker from Mililani as if they were my own. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

"You know in 1994, the Hawaii State Legislature voted on a bill to carve out the laws pertaining to fireworks and give it specifically to the Legislature, and make this only a legislative issue. Years have passed and I think it's only gotten worse. I don't think our experiment in 1994 worked.

In fact, everybody today can look back at the New Year and the days preceding and following New Year's Day and we can all agree that it's gotten worse.

"Mr. Speaker, this is a public health and public safety issue. No other issue that faces this State, whether at the legislative level or the county level, is looked at only as a legislative issue. Take for example, tobacco. We don't have preemption on tobacco. Tobacco laws are governed not only in this Body and this Legislature, but also in the four counties and the county councils. That was by design. If a county council chooses to ban smoking in all work places, we let them. In fact, the City & County of Honolulu did so and soon thereafter, we followed and made it a statewide ban.

"To tell me that it is an enforcement issue, I agree. It is an enforcement issue, but let's look at who enforces the fireworks laws. It's not the State. It's not the State police or the State sheriff. It's not the State firefighters. It's the county police officers and it's the county firefighters. And what all of them are asking for is to give them the tools necessary to successfully enforce what is already on the books and to create additional laws and ordinances that will give them the ability to make it a safe place.

"Next year we have APEC, and as we all know President Obama was here on New Year's Eve. We heard many stories regarding the Secret Service and what they thought about what happened. I'm just worried that if we cannot get a handle on this, that we are going to be not only the laughingstock of the nation, but the entire world. We're going to have bombs going off everywhere during one of the most important meetings in the entire world next November.

"So please Mr. Speaker and Members, look at this as a public health and public safety issue. And when you look at it from that point of view, there is no reason I think that we should not allow the counties to regulate or to create additional laws regulating fireworks in addition to what we have right now on the books. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support, and may I have the words of the previous speaker and the Representative from Mililani adopted as my own. And just one quick comment.

"A Member has said that this is a matter of enforcement. It's curious to me that in all the testimony, in all the fireworks bills, including this bill, that it's the enforcement community coming to us and asking us for a ban. So I think that this measure which creates and allows the counties to enact laws that maybe, at that level they will have the collective political will and courage to do something to make this situation right. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm going to be in opposition. Thank you. Just for the reason that this issue has been around for so long that we should just take a vote on whether or not we should we have a ban. I understand that there are a lot of intricacies with enforcement and everything, but the bottom line is, where do we want to go with this legislation? Let's make a bold decision. My no vote is because I do support a total ban.

"Mr. Speaker, I think the people of Hawaii have been waiting a long time to be able to see where their legislators are on this particular issue. I think maybe we should be a little bit more transparent with the issue of having a ban or not having a ban. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again with reservations. A couple of speakers had alluded to the fact that we have aerial fireworks and bombs that are already illegal, but obviously the law is not working. Hopefully we will see the counties enact a ban.

"But I think this is the only way that we will be able to stop fireworks because obviously, the illegal fireworks are being smuggled in with the legal ones or however. It's very difficult to control them here in Hawaii if you still allow fireworks because they're going to get in through boats, through private vessels, through commercial airlines, through shipping. It's extremely difficult to stop them since our borders are very porous when it comes to explosives of this type.

"One speaker alluded to the fact that the fireworks come to an area that is less strict. I would contend that it's the other way. Pre-1994, we had the Big Island that apparently allowed aerial fireworks, but they came to an area that was more strict which is they were smuggled into Oahu. So the only way to be able to police it is unfortunately, a total ban and that is what we should be working for. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose to respond, stating:

"Just to the argument that the counties enforce, and we should give them homerule because it's the counties that enforce it. The counties enforce all of our criminal laws, so that argument doesn't make sense.

"If you have fireworks and you cannot pop them in the City and County of Honolulu, but you can pop it on the Neighbor Island, say Maui County, you can get a fine and criminal penalty here on Oahu. But yet if you do the same thing in another island, you won't get fined or anything. So it's not uniform.

"It's the same thing with theft. Should we define theft differently in different parts of our State or any other type of criminal law? I don't think so. That's what will happen with this."

Representative Sagum rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sagum's written remarks are as follows:

"I am voting against SB1059, SD2, HD3: Relating to Fireworks on final passage because it places a burden on counties to enact ordinances more restrictive than State law, and it implies that enforcement would be a county responsibility.

"The 1994 Legislature passed a bill that established a single, statewide standard for fireworks. This meant that every county would follow the same restrictions. Before 1994, the illegal trade in fireworks between counties flourished. Enforcement was difficult and largely ineffective. So, why should we go back to that same problem? We should not. We need stronger enforcement of the statewide ban against aerial fireworks.

"If larger counties ban fireworks, it is questionable that the legal fireworks industry will be able to survive given the high cost of operating a fireworks storage facility and the already low profit margin within the industry.

"This issue is also deeply cultural. I grew up with fireworks set off on special holidays. I would hate to see the individual rights of those on Kauai taken away by the decisions of those on Oahu and other "urban" jurisdictions in Hawaii.

"I support the provision in SB 1059 that establishes a task force on illegal aerial fireworks. Hopefully, out of the work of this task force, we will identify more effective means of combating the trafficking of illegal aerial fireworks."

Representative Cabanilla rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a brief rebuttal. I think that the total ban on fireworks will just encourage creativity by our people. We know those who deal with illegal fireworks or those bombs that are either self-made or homemade where we don't have control over what those homemade bombs are made of. We just heard another bill about people doing this, and we made a decision that this is not the best interest of our people to have those kinds of bombs. However, if we ban those, we would just encourage people to create more of those type of bombs or fireworks. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 1059, SD 2, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FIREWORKS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Chang, Finnegan and Sagum voting no, and with Representatives Takumi and Tokioka being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Herkes: "Mr. Speaker, your Committees on Consumer Protection & Commerce, and Judiciary are scheduled to have a public hearing at 2:00 and 2:05 this afternoon. We request that we move that back to 2:30 and 2:35. It's been a busy day. Thank you."

Representative Wakai: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to share a short and uplifting story with this Body. It's a story about two Chinese moles. They burrowed underground for 20 years. Other moles have scurried in, others have scurried out. But much of their duties were to process a lot of tree bark byproducts. Paper here, paper there. They continued foraging through paper until the electronic age hit. Then, the piles of stuff lessened.

"At around this time, one of the two moles got sick. So sick that there was talk of needing acute care. The sick mole was not looking forward to having her blood cleaned by machine, but the alternative was a slow death. The second mole could not bear to see her friend withering away, but what could she do? She was no doctor. The second mole didn't have a special potion to make things all right. However, what that second mole had was a heart of gold and extra organ to share.

"The two moles that worked next to each other for more than two decades soon found themselves next to each other on an operating table. One mole clinging to life. The second willing to share hers. The surgery was a huge success. Both moles would eventually reunite to their underground life working for the State House of Representatives.

"Last September, Pat Mau-Shimizu was facing stage four kidney failure. Dialysis was the next step for her survival. But before that moment could take place, CJ Leong offered up her extra kidney. Now Pat has a second lease on life. She looks great, and should have a full life expectancy.

"Who would have thought these two moles who sit next to each other every day and have spent much of their adult life underground, would eventually become bonded in this manner? On this World Kidney Day, there is a deep lesson to be learned for all of us. A lesson about the pure goodness of what took place last September.

"This story has a happy ending, but last year 16 people in Hawaii died waiting for an organ transplant. It took an abundance of courage for CJ to donate her kidney. She looked past the pain and anguish to become a true hero.

"Many of us may support worthy causes through our time and maybe through our wallets, but how many of us would share a piece of ourselves to save another. It is truly amazing how one human can have such a powerful, powerful impact on another. All of us in this Chamber are lucky to be daily witnesses to the power of kindness.

"CJ, what you did for Pat is fantastic. What your story will do for the greater community is phenomenal. You inspire all of us to be kind, generous, and humble. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

ADJOURNMENT

At 1:40 o'clock p.m. on motion by Representative Evans, seconded by Representative Pine and carried, the House of Representatives adjourned until 12:00 o'clock noon tomorrow, Friday, March 12, 2010. (Representatives Berg, McKelvey, Souki, Takumi and Tokioka were excused.)

Linked for life through their kidneys

House Clerk Pat Mau-Shimizu was in desperate need of a kidney and found a perfect match in her assistant, C.J. Leong

By Richard Borreca
rborecca@starbulletin.com

For more than 15 years, medical hope for House Clerk Pat Mau-Shimizu was sitting next to her on the House floor — C.J. Leong, House assistant clerk.

Mau-Shimizu, 57, is an attorney and 23-year veteran of the Legislature. She also suffers from diabetes and had chronic kidney disease that progressed to the severe stage.

"In the beginning stages, there are no symptoms, there is no pain, and that is why testing is so important," Mau-Shimizu said. It progressed to a point where Mau-Shimizu was constantly tired, on a limited diet and starting to have severe side effects.

Her doctors told her she had to go to classes at Hawaii Medical Center-East to learn about treatment and to explore options.

Mau-Shimizu opted for a kidney transplant, but the choices were limited. Her brother could not donate, and she didn't want her daughter to.

Leong offered to drive Mau-Shimizu to the classes.

"I knew it could be kind of nerve-wracking," said Leong, 52, also a two-decade legislative veteran. "Part of the workshops were about finding donors."

Her curiosity piqued, Leong contacted the transplant coordinator without telling Mau-Shimizu and asked for information about becoming a kidney donor.

"The odds of us being a match were remote, but I wanted to give it a try," says Leong, who is of Chinese, Japanese and Hawaiian descent. Mau-Shimizu is Chinese.

Working in their favor was the fact that their blood type matched and they were roughly the same age.

After the Legislature ended in 2009, Leong decided to volunteer to be a donor and started a process of screening and counseling.

"They won't take just any old kidney," Leong said. "They want to make sure it is healthy."

After getting a complete physical and even going thorough discussions with a social worker and a psychologist, Leong was declared a match and ready to help Mau-Shimizu.

"It was in August that I got the call. All along the way every person asked me, 'Why are you doing this? What is your relationship to the patient?'"

Leong explained that although she was Mau-Shimizu's assistant, both were independently appointed by the House speaker and then confirmed by the 51 House members.

"You could noticeably see them relax. They didn't have to worry about coercion," Leong said.

All that was left to do was tell Mau-Shimizu that she had a kidney to give her a new life.

Leong was low-key, saying she didn't want to get Mau-Shimizu's hopes up, because there was always a chance of rejection.

"When she first told me about it, I first didn't believe it, and then on the way home I was passing Holy Trinity Church in Aina Haina and I just started crying and it had sunk in that now it was a go," Mau-Shimizu said.

The operations were held in September, almost exactly one year from when Leong and Mau-Shimizu attended the first class.

There have been no complications.

Mau-Shimizu takes medicine to prevent rejection of the new kidney. Leong gets a checkup every three months and finds that giving her kidney gave her a new family.

"My mother and father are telling everybody they have another daughter, and when I saw her father last week, he asked, 'How's my hanai daughter?'" Mau-Shimizu said.

"For someone thinking about it, I would say get the information, educate yourself," Leong said. "It costs you a little discomfort, but the gratification in seeing the recipient have a better quality of life is priceless."

Free kidney screenings at Capitol event

The local office of the National Kidney Foundation is sponsoring a special "Kidney Day" at the state Capitol from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today.

There will be free kidney screenings and other events.

"Most people with kidney disease are not diagnosed until late in the course of illness when there are few opportunities for prevention," says Glen Hayashida, National Kidney Foundation of Hawaii chief executive officer.

"There will be cooking demos, free screenings and entertainment at the Capitol, all in an effort to keep our neighbors alive," says state Rep. Glenn Wakai.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. What this bill would do is it would open Compassionate Centers where medical marijuana would be distributed to people. Unfortunately, this would make some current criminal activities, legal. And this still would conflict with federal law, which would make enforcement of current illegal activities outside these Compassion Centers very difficult to enforce and complicated for the US Attorney's Office. But I will save the rest of my comments for Third Reading."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. I don't believe the government needs to get in the business of marijuana distribution. It's failed in trying to do any and all other kinds of business. I know some are in the alcohol distribution center business. But to put in the State of Hawaii government in the point of who gets to be a distributor, and who is not, I think it's the wrong direction. It's wrong and not a good policy. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Pine and Ward be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I want to read from the testimony of the Department of the Attorney General. Just a few comments here from the Attorney General's testimony.

Jurisdictions that have established marijuana dispensaries have experienced serious negative effects. Jurisdictions that allow marijuana dispensaries have experienced crimes, and significant decrease in quality of life. For many years Amsterdam was touted by the Marijuana Lobby as a utopia where marijuana was sold openly from neighborhood dispensaries, but in 2009 because of the increase in organized crime as well as other social factors the government stepped in and closed them.

In Mendocino County, California, it relaxed its marijuana laws in 2002. By 2008, the community voted the changes out due to the increase in organized crime and other crime after California started allowing marijuana dispensaries, the police in nearly every California jurisdiction that had dispensaries reported an upswing in crime in those areas. There were more murders, robberies, burglaries, aggravated assaults, and theft.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. I would really like to challenge the notion of us staying focused on the fact that people have concerns about the illegal use of marijuana because this bill is really not about that. The bill is about people who are really ill and mentally sick. There has been a lot of research and studies showing that marijuana can have a really good effect on certain people that are in pain, and possibly for cancer. It is relief.

"I want to remind people that there was the growing of poppy, and it can be turned into morphine that people do use in our hospitals to alleviate pain.

"What the State did many years ago was recognize the medical use of marijuana and how it does have a positive impact on certain conditions. In certain cases there is opportunity to really help certain patients. I think what this bill is saying is that what we have learned over the years since we passed that law allowing medical marijuana is that the patients, the way that we put it into law, they have been allowed to grow a certain number of plants at their house. They have to qualify with a doctor, and they have to register with the Narcotics Division, the police, and everybody knows who has the medical marijuana.

"But what has happened is because of the nature of the illegal use of marijuana, is that people are actually breaking into these people's homes. These people are feeling threatened. They feel their life is in danger, and they have come to the Legislature and said, 'Please help us. Because we need the medical marijuana to help us, but we feel the way that it's being done now, it has our life threatened.'

"Now this Legislature has been debating this for several years as to how do we really manage this medical marijuana. And out of that we have one of our colleagues here that has really pushed the issue, and worked for developing a task force to try to bring parties together to understand this. So this law that we're looking at today is from many years and lots of discussion by people. The Drug Policy Forum has been an advocate for this. They have been working on that task force trying to solve the problems and the concerns of the law enforcement community.

"If you really look at the bill, I think it's a very interesting idea of establishing these Compassion Centers for the dispensing of medical marijuana. This means the law enforcement community will know exactly where the marijuana is being grown. It will be controlled. They will know who the users are and they will have to be certified. They will have to go through the process.

"We're putting a lot of conditions on this, and we're trying to manage this in a way so that everybody feels there's more control. It recognizes illegal use, versus medical use. And I think that is why we should keep this bill in discussion and move it forward. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

At 12:26 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:26 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair announced:

"Members, the reason I called for the recess is that we have two Floor presentations and the recipients are here. We will continue our discussion on this page and the issue on this bill.

"So at this time, I'd like to go back to the beginning of the Order of the Day and take up our Floor presentations."

Representative Marumoto rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I would like to speak in opposition to this bill as it passes Second Reading. The medical marijuana measure."

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "Representative Marumoto, I'm going to come back to that bill after the Floor presentations. And in fairness to everyone, I'm also asking if anyone else has introductions to make."

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

At this time, the Chair announced:

"Members, first of all I'd like to apologize for interrupting our lively discussion on page 5. At this time we'll go back to page 5 and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 716-10. Is there any further discussion?"

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 716-10 and S.B. No. 2213, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. The support is along with what the Representative from Kona was saying. There are medicinal effects of marijuana, be it a placebo or actual effect on our system. I do know from my nursing background that there are a lot of medications that come from herbs and different kinds of plants like digitalis or digoxin which comes from plants. Also methyldopa for blood pressure comes from plants.

"But forget that, Mr. Speaker. Let's just talk about chocolate. Chocolate has a lot of good things and it's a plant just like marijuana. I'm really surprised that there's not much research into the other effects of marijuana. We do know from hearings from a lot of locals that it has a lot of good effects. So in that sense, I support it.

"I think my reservation comes from the fact that we spend a lot of money trying to track down those people who abuse the drugs. I think of it as a drug. Other people think of it as a source of a high. But I think that we should really entertain this as it goes forward because like I said, there are a lot of medicinal effects to marijuana. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition, and I'll try to be as brief as possible. I'm open to the fact of using marijuana for medicinal purposes. Doctors tell me if there were some way they could ascertain the strength of it or the dosage, the necessary dosage, but there is a lot we don't know about it. But I'm very apprehensive since marijuana is still illegal on the federal level.

"We have many statutes on the books against marijuana use, and I notice there was a THC Ministry in Hilo that was raided very recently. For what reason, I'm not really sure, but I think somehow they must have broken the law.

"So I don't like the law flaunted in case there is misuse of marijuana. So just to flag out this point, I'm voting no at this point. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm still in opposition with just a few comments. I appreciate the comment about chocolate. Actually it is, believe it or not. Laughable as it sounds, it is being researched for certain medicinal things.

"But anyhow, that being what it is, back to marijuana. I just wanted to address one of the comments made by my very well-respected Representative from the Big Island regarding the police. And if I could just say that it says here: 'We testify together to express our strong and unified opposition to this bill,' and you have here the Chief of Police: Honolulu Police Department, Hawaii County Police Department, Kauai Police Department, Maui Police Department. It goes on and on, and all the prosecuting attorneys who deal with this on a day-to-day basis, on the front lines of it. Their concern to legalize this serious conduct I guess, that they're concerned about with this drug.

"It says, 'This bill ignores the serious law enforcement and social issues that are certain to arise out of the proliferation of Compassion Centers.' I don't think we have the money to fund additional police to take care of another issue. I don't think we want another issue like this, and it just bears in mind, my husband was an emergency room physician for 10 years and I would hate to see this be a gateway drug to other more serious drugs like crystal meth. Thank you."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to S.B. 2213 SD2 HD1 – Relating to Counties. This measure provides that each county has the power to establish compassion centers for the dispensing of medical marijuana.

"We must not be blind to the concerns of some of our most respected officials, as the Attorney General, all county police chiefs, the Director of Public Safety, and all county Prosecuting Attorneys oppose this measure. According to these officials, "jurisdictions that have established marijuana dispensaries have experienced serious negative effects, [and]…have experienced increased crime and a significant decrease in the quality of life."

"Furthermore, this bill will not only legalize some degrees of criminal conduct such as establishing money-making marijuana enterprises, it will counteract federal laws regarding the distribution of marijuana. Thank you."

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of this bill. Just some brief comments. You know, we keep going back and forth about all these various things, over and over again. But I was struck by the comments made by the Chair of the Health Committee when we passed it out of that Committee to be considered by Judiciary. And he said he just wants this to be treated like any other drug, and that's all this bill does. It treats it like any other drug.

"And the more we start doing that, the more we start taking away all this emotion, all this misinformation, all these ideas about it being a gateway drug and those other types of things. Let's just make it equal. Let's let people who have licenses for it, get it and have access to their medicine in a compassionate way. And so that's what I'm hoping people will support. Thank you."

Representative Hanohano rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mahalo, Ho'omalu 'ōlelo.

"Ke kū nei au i koho 'ae loa e pili ana kēia pila. He pila maikai'i kēia. 'O kēia pila e kokua ana nā po'e ma'i. E alu like kākou e ka ho'opuka ana no kēia pila. Pehea ho'i la nā po'e ma'i e ho'ola ai? He pila pono kēia. Na ka pomaika'i a me ka maluhia 'iā kā kākou ma keia kau wī. E holo mua kākou i na hana pono.

"Aia i hea ke Aloha nō na po'e ma'i ma kēia honua. E alu like kākou i ka lokahi. Mahalo."

Representative Hanohano provided the following translation:

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support for this bill. This is a good bill. This bill helps the sick. We need to pass this bill. How will the sickly be healed? This is a righteous bill.

May the blessings and peace be with all of us in this recession. Let us all do the right thing. Where is the Aloha for the sick? Let's work together in the spirit of lokahi/balance. Thank you.

Representative Coffman rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. This bill simply tries to solve a problem created by this legislative Body back, I believe, in 2002 when we passed the Medical Marijuana Card Law. The problem we created with that law was we have no policy or way of dispensing that particular product. We have many drugs in our land that are controlled substances, and they're managed. That's all this particular bill is trying to do. It is to start that process, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to this measure. SB 2213 provides that each county has the power to establish compassion centers for the dispensing of medical marijuana to qualifying patients and primary caregivers registered with the department of public safety. The measure also imposes a general excise tax on marijuana sales and a registration fee on compassion centers, to be shared with counties.

"This measure essentially legalizes marijuana, ostensibly to assist those with severe medical issues. However, the second part reveals the more insidious nature of this bill. Mr. Speaker, this controversial issue is only gaining additional traction because the Legislature sees the sale of marijuana as a way to generate revenue for the State and alleviate our budget woes.

"We try hard to emphasize the danger of drugs. Our legalizing one drug because of its money-making potential completely undercuts our message on drugs overall. It is also a well documented fact that in jurisdictions that have legalized marijuana, a dramatic increase in crime has ensued. SB 2213 not only sends the wrong societal message, it will also make Hawaii a less safe place for all of our citizens."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just one brief rebuttal. The Representative from Maui, yes we want to treat it like any other drug. But as I recall a meeting with Hina Mauka which handles all the drug cases, the Director reminded me that when marijuana first came to America, it was the marijuana. It was not the gateway. It was the recreational drug and it was an addition to drinking and other things. Kind of a fun thing.

"Now if you look at the marijuana that's out there now, it's 25 to 30 times more powerful, and more potent. What that can do. It is nothing like what it used to be. And what it is now is sometimes frighteningly more powerful than any other of the drugs that stay consistent. This one by hybrid, or interbreeding new species, different countries come in. This is not a constant drug. It's increasingly getting more powerful and right now, according to Hina Mauka, it's 25 to 30 times more than it used to be. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I'd like to offer a few comments. Although I know this issue is very controversial, I must say that I have known many veterans who have come back from Vietnam and other places who have expressed concerns because the pharmaceutical pain killers do not work for them and have caused other ailments. By their usage and their medical marijuana prescription, it has produced for them a better quality of life in enduring their pain and its management.

"Also, we have elders who have expressed in so many meetings that I've had in my community of how this has improved their quality of life.

"I know there's concerns in regards to the Compassion Center. How can we look at restrictions, and how can we enforce what the possibilities of abuse could be. But like any other drug, there is prescription drug abuse as well. I think the support for this is to offer a way, because the federal government has this as an illegal drug. Where can people who have the prescription which this State provides and gives that right, where can they get this in a legal way so that they're able to have a better quality of life? Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I just want to note my reservation with a couple of comments. Basically this would use some of the Hurricane Relief Fund to help balance the budget and for other reasons.

"I support this measure since we're running out of options, but I hope that as we are looking into this area to use this, that we make sure that we can work with the federal government to ensure that we will be taken care of should there be a hurricane in the State of Hawaii. I hope that we just definitely tread lightly in this area, and make sure that we can take care of the people of Hawaii should there be a natural disaster."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Pine be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in support with reservations of SB 2124, Relating to the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund. We need to get our kids back to school on Fridays. But we also need an audit of the DOE to figure out why it costs so much to give our public school students the quality of education that they're getting.

"My reservations stem from the fact that this solution to furloughs would take money out of a fund created by a homeowner tax that's set up specifically for hurricane relief. It's an important fund, since we can't control the weather. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support SB 2124 with reservations."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise with reservations on SB 2124. Although this measure is well-intentioned, I do have concerns with several aspects of this bill. First, SB 2124 raids the Hurricane Relief Fund solely for educational purposes, in this case, restoring the days lost to furloughs. Additionally, raiding this fund seems somewhat unfair given the mandate and need for the original fund.

"If a hurricane should happen to hit, Hawaii may be in the same situation it was post Hurricane Iniki. Hawaii's residents were forced to pay into this fund for one express purpose, not to be the quick fix to the crisis de jour of each successive Legislature.

"Lastly, I understand and empathize with the impetus to raid the Hurricane Relief Fund to fix Furlough Fridays; however, it concerns me that this measure does not take into consideration other vital human services. None of these services that also suffer during a recession would be eligible to receive any of the funds."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. No. 2124, SD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HURRICANE RELIEF FUND," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives Berg, Keith-Agaran, Manahan, Takumi and Thielen being excused.

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to SB 2571. This measure requires the members of the Board of Education to be nominated and, by and with the advise and consent of the Senate, appointed by the Governor from lists of qualified candidates presented to the Governor by the Board of Education Selection Advisory Council.

"The Department of Education is in desperate need of accountability and I do believe that a Governor is in the best position to ensure results from the Department. However, I disagree with this bill's approach in mandating that candidates for gubernatorial appointment must come from the newly established Board of Education Selection Advisory Council. In seeking to achieve impartiality, the reliance on this Council will achieve the same outcome that we are currently trying to remedy. The Governor could theoretically be forced to choose from board candidates that may disagree with the Governor's vision for the Department of Education. In such a scenario, we would have the exact situation we now have: a dysfunctional board with no clear line of accountability and management responsibility.

"This is why I support the Superintendant of Education reporting directly to the Governor in lieu of a Board of Education "middle man." If we are going to make educational reforms, we should truly reform the system, not tinker with it."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this bill is so bad I beg your indulgence to say a few words. It's so bad. It's so bad, it makes no sense. It's the companion of the, 'get Pearl Iboshi' bill that we have. This is the Senate's version of that. It basically puts a black list out on anybody who's received a political appointment, and puts a stigma and a reporting to the political body. If you're a political appointee. It's basically anti-American, McCarthyistic, promotes dumbing down of our civil service to make sure we got a watch on who these guys are who took political appointments. It makes a mockery of really the civil service system.

"A lot of people come out of it, they go into it and they're going to be marked individuals. I think that's very divisive for a place that calls itself the Aloha State. If we put this sign and signal into government, which heretofore for all the generations of all the governments in statehood, we've never needed it before, and now have this. This is bad public policy, Mr. Speaker. Sorry I took up your time, but it's so bad it needs to be spoken on, on First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, and all the Readings that this will ever be lasting. Thank you."

Representative Evan rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, can the previous speaker yield to a question?"

Representative Ward: "With pleasure."

Representative Evans: "Thank you. When I read the bill and the Standing Committee Report, I don't see how you got to where it applies to elected officials. How did you come to that conclusion?"

Representative Ward: "It says the political appointees have to report to the elected officials. That is us, the Legislature. We want to keep a count and a list of everybody who's been appointed to the government so we know who they are, and where they are. And if there's a probationary period, which as I said is in the sister bill, the Pearl Iboshi bill, we want to make sure they don't get back into civil service until at least, in the bill the House has, for one year. Or for whatever the other gymnastics we are forcing them to go through."

Representative Evans: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward: "Thank you, for that question."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. In support. I just want to say that I don't see how this bill rises to the level of McCarthyism. That seems like kind of overheated rhetoric to me. I do think there's a legitimate question about not just in this Administration, but in any Administration that takes political appointees and tries to, what is commonly referred to as 'burrowing.' And this is an anti-burrowing bill. We'll see how it turns out. It goes on to another Committee after this. Mahalo"

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, with strong reservations. I believe this bill sets a precedent that we don't need. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"I just want to explain my no vote. Based on what this bill does, it requires every State agency to report to the Legislature all non-civil service temporary employees employed by the agency for each quarterly period of the fiscal year not later than the 15th day following the end of each quarterly period.

"On that particular point, Mr. Speaker, if this Legislature is willing to publicly disclose all of our political appointees in every single department that we have placed them in, then I would be much more in favor of that section of the bill. I think that's my biggest opposition."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

No. 2626, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SERVICE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no, with Representatives Carroll, Ching, Manahan and Nishimoto being excused.

"The aerospace industry can serve as a catalyst for innovation in Hawaii, bringing more scientific research and high tech jobs to the state. Not only would aerospace diversify our economy, it would support our existing tourism industry with new activities and faster flights to and from other spaceports in the world.

"Aerospace provides Hawaii with a lot of potential for economic and scientific advancement. But we have to work for it. We've already taken steps, like spending $500,000 for our space port license's environmental impact statement. But we need to aggressively follow through. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support HCR 123."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Thank you. I just wanted to read just one paragraph here.

"The cacao industry is poised to heighten the State's economy with a broad range of job opportunity, increased revenue from diversified agriculture production processing, in addition to research and development with the potential to attract federal funds. And further, cacao possesses propitious opportunity to develop a new industry in the growing, cultivating, processing, and shipping of cacao."

"But Mr. Speaker, I just want to give you 10 points. 10 points that I'd like my colleagues to remember about what I call, the 'poodle problem.' The poodle problem is this. Most people think poodles are frou frou, a kind of fashion plate dog, but few people have actually taken the time to read the history of the poodle. The poodle was the number one water spaniel hunting dog of all of Europe. The poodle has the second highest IQ, second only to the Border Collie. So the fact is that the poodle isn't what we think it is, is it?

"Well cacao is a similar thing, but it has a poodle problem. The fact is that cacao can only be grown in Hawaii out of all 50 states. It's a solid. It's a drink. It's medicinal.

"I'll read a little bit about its medicinal qualities. The edible pulp is popular and it actually started as a medicine. It was used as a medicine for healing bruises, in the pharmaceutical and cosmetic industry. But it also has an alkaloid found in cacao seeds called theobromine, which is a stimulant, and also flavonoids for anti-inflammatory immune-latory benefits, and contribution to cardio-vascular and immune systems. So actually, the point made by the Representative from Ewa was not too far off point.

"Number three. The cosmetic industry is one of the most profitable industries in the world. If you look at the data, and of course not many people may know that all this cream and everything that they're selling in Waikiki comes from the cocoa butter, which is cacao.

"It dovetails with other ag products. Find me a fruit. In Taiwan, they dip longan, which is dragon eye. They dip lychee, they dip everything in chocolate and make money off of it.

"It grows well environmentally because it doesn't require the kind of pesticide treatment that other things have. I repeat, it can only be grown in Hawaii out of all 50 states.

"But recently the Haleiwa Farmer's Market sold out, completely. The most successful they had. I know Vice Speaker, you were in attendance and you saw what I saw. But the fact is that the tours sold out in no time. I didn't even get to have a tour. They sold out in hours. The trees sold out. Everything sold out in this bad economy.

"So lastly, I just want to say that recently I was in Kailua. This is I guess, what my passion is for, besides the opportunity for federally funded research, for our children to stay here in Hawaii, and have well-paying jobs because the federal government wants to research more about cacao. Particularly it's medicinal benefits.

"But I think what touched me the most is I was in Kailua at Sweet Paradise a few days ago looking for my Hawaiian grown Waialua cacao, which is so popular. Alan Wong's got it. Roy's has a few. But it's very difficult to get sometimes, this Waialua cacao. And there at Sweet Paradise were about 20 people who in five minutes, spending more money in our economy, Mr. Speaker. Boy, did that bring a smile to my face because this is helping ag, preserve open space, and it's also helping to employ our people. And if we can keep our people home, wouldn't that be great.

"So for that, I just want to say that lastly, I don't know if we can compete on quantity because we don't have a lot of land. We're land poor in that sense, therefore our ag products must compete by quality. The best in the world. That is what the reputation of cacao is. The rarest, as well as the best chocolate in the world. Thank you."

Representative Bertram rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ching be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Cabanilla rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, would my colleague from Liliha yield to a question? In sharing her passion towards cacao in the past, she has given each and every one of us some of that food. What happened to that this year?"

"It was on Valentine's Day. That was from me, so I actually did. Every year."

No. 2709, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENVIRONMENTALLY SENSITIVE PRODUCTS," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Cabanilla, Finnegan, Manahan and M. Oshiro being excused.

Representatives Morita and McKelvey, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection and the Committee on Economic Revitalization, Business, & Military Affairs presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No.

813-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2559, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2559, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. Two things about this bill, Mr. Speaker. One is that it's a good BYOB bill. Bring your own bag. Recycle, and keep the plastic out of the environment and the marine life.

"But the downside and the second thing is that it increases the cost of living for the poor. Those who spend the most on food are those who don't have the money. And this is going to increase the cost of living, however small you may think it is.

"When we add up what this Body has done on this Floor and what the Senate is doing, if you add all those small things up, it's equivalent to what used to be called, 'the last straw on the camel's back.' We are pushing our poor too much, and this pushes it for the sake of the environment which is a great cause, and which we've got to do. But it's the timing now that's the basic question. Is now the time to do this? Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House. I wish to speak with strong reservations on this measure. The only reason that I'm not voting no on this measure is because it's not going to ban plastic bags, so that's a positive aspect of it.

"The rest of it doesn't quite seem logical or make any sense. The bag is plastic and yes, we have a lot of plastic out there. But if you go to the supermarket, a great number of other items are also in plastic and they create an even bigger problem than plastic bags. You go into the meat section and there's plastic. You go into the pupu and fish area, it's all plastic. You look at nachos, and potato chips, and etc. It's all plastic.

"When you combine them all, it really doesn't seem sensible at all. You're going to have a person pay a nickel more for a plastic bag when you have all the other plastic items remaining in the store. So I would want the Finance Committee, in their wisdom, to look at some of these items. Thank you, very much."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I likewise have reservations and I couldn't agree more with the two speakers who already expressed their reservations. I would like to bring up an additional point in that this targets only supermarkets and not other retail establishments. Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In very strong support, and just a brief rebuttal to the earlier comments in terms of cost. The whole point of the bill, or one of the big points is to have people avoid the cost by encouraging them to bring their own bags and their own containers which I think is a brilliant idea.

"Just on a personal note. So many times I find myself going home with all these bags thinking that I could have avoided this if I just brought my own bag. So I think it's just a win-win. We encourage people to bring their own bag. They don't pay the fee. We raise much needed State revenue in this time of fiscal crisis. And we avoid more trash going to the landfill, which is a huge issue for people on the Waianae Coast, and it should be for everyone in this State. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane, for the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 819-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2267, SD 2, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2267, SD 2, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in opposition to this bill. I guess the purpose is to ensure appropriate access for persons with disabilities and to assist in identifying design flaws by providing the Disability and Communication Access Board with the authority to charge a review process fee based upon the construction cost for review of construction plans prior to commencing with construction as part of the design and construction process.

"This is already required by law and the Disability and Communications Board already provides this service at no cost to people in the construction industry. But this will add considerable cost to construction. For projects of over $10 million it will cost $4,000, and $1,000 for each additional $10 million.

"So for an expensive project like West Oahu College or something of that size, they will have a lot more fees to pay before construction. The fees will be based on a graduated scale, but it is designed to cover the costs of staff. The Committee Report says a reasonable fee schedule will generate revenues sufficient to pay for the salaries of the staff conducting the review. So even though it's graduated, the fees may be changed or reduced by rule. Right now as it stands, it's extremely high and it's designed to cover the cost of this review board.

"The funniest thing I saw in the bill was that up to $100,000, you would pay only $200. But if you had no application, you'd still be paying $50. I'm always joking that around here, we tax everything that moves. But I'm beginning to think this Session we're taxing everything that doesn't move too. When there's no application, we're charging $50, so we're charging for something that doesn't even exist. I just want to point that out in this particular measure and I will be voting no."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on S.B. 2267 SD2 – which allows the Disability and Communication Access Board to charge a fee to defray expenses of review of construction plans to ensure compliance with the law.

"While I support the mission and goals of DCAB, we must keep in mind the concerns of the building industry, as this measure directly impacts the economy. As stated by the Office of Housing and Community Development, "the requirement will result in increased costs to developers, which will be passed on to the homeowners, increasing the cost of housing, regardless of income level. [Instead] the Legislature should instead provide incentives, such as a reduction in fees and expedited review, to developers who encourage greater accessibility for people with disabilities in their developments." Thank you."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I am in strong support."

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2807, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative C. Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Every time our economy slows, State government must cut back on services. Businesses, employees, and families that need support are left behind as the State slashes programs and services. This only hurts a weak economy, and the timing couldn't be worse. Only State government has the resources and capital to truly stimulate our weak economy. We must be sure that when times get tough, the State's response will help our economy, and not hurt it.

"In years of surplus, we should be setting money aside for the next recession. If we had emergency funding today, we could be helping businesses retain their employees, bolstering falling wages, supporting community health centers, stimulating construction, creating jobs, and driving our economy forward. While passing this bill will not help us this recession, it will decisively improve the next one."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2807, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE VII, SECTION 6, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION, RELATING TO THE TAX REBATE REQUIREMENT," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Carroll, Chang, Har, Manahan, Morita, M. Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2120, SD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of SB 2120. This bill requires the Department of Education to determine alternative routes to certification for school principals and vice-principals. It also repeals the Department of Education's authority to waive, on a case-by-case basis, certain teacher certification and school-level experience requirements for vice-principal candidates.

"In order to improve our educational system, we should recognize that management talent and experience are critical, particularly because of the State of our public school system. Schools should be well-managed, achievement-oriented environments where parents can be assured that their children are getting a quality education because of great teachers and a supportive administration that knows how to achieve results. Often, the DOE's current certification process denies excellent managers and leaders the ability to help turn around our schools. These managers often have a results-oriented track record of success, but are ineligible because they have not come up through the system as teachers.

"Quality leadership is quality leadership. The Department of Education can certainly benefit from the introduction of quality leadership."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. No. 2120, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CERTIFICATION OF PRINCIPALS AND VICE-PRINCIPALS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Carroll, Chang, Har, Manahan, Morita, M. Oshiro, Tokioka and Ward being excused.

Representatives Takumi and Rhoads, for the Committee on Education and the Committee on Labor & Public Employment presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 835-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2434, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2434, SD 1, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to SB 2434. This measure adjusts the salary caps of the Superintendent of Education and State Librarian beginning with the 2011-2012 school year.

"Mr. Speaker, when the rest of State and county workers are facing decreasing wages and benefits, it seems egregious that we would be considering the equivalent of a raise for these leaders. I agree that Hawaii must be competitive in terms of compensation to attract top talent. However, increasing this salary cap in the midst of the throes of one of the worst recessions Hawaii has experienced is not wise, nor is it fair.

"If given the real power, accountability, and support to reform our schools, I am sure that such an opportunity to reform an entire State educational system, regardless of compensation, would appeal to quality Superintendent candidates throughout the country."

Representative Pine rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the written remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

"In support with reservations, and a few comments. I believe the intent of this bill is very good because it prohibits employers from discriminating against an employee or somebody applying for employment based on the person's domestic abuse victim status.

"On the surface that sounds very honorable, however there are a couple complications that may arise in this situation where a violent situation may potentially put other employees in harm's way. According to the final version or the way it's going to be written, it currently does not protect the employer from letting someone go so that they can protect other employees that may be harmed in the process of helping this domestic abuse victim. So hopefully in the final version, we can find a way that will allow some flexibility for serious situations."

Thank you."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I want to cast a vote of support with very strong reservations on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 856. Basically what this bill does is it establishes a residency requirement for entire projects that do get certain GET exemptions based on a certain amount of affordable housing.

"And how this hurts the Ewa Plain is there's a housing project in my community that has actually some of the lowest rents on the whole island for single family homes. And because of Ewa's close proximity to Pearl Harbor, we do have a lot of military families that are staying in this housing project.

"They're staying in this housing project because there's a waiting list just to get into the military housing on base. There's still not enough military housing in the State of Hawaii and so it forces all those military families to move out of that housing project. It's been very helpful in terms of the traffic to keep these military people in this housing because they just take the 'grey boat' to go across Pearl Harbor and they don't get on the freeway and fight traffic with all the other people on the Leeward Coast.

"And so I'm very concerned about this measure. Hopefully we can tweak it a little bit so it doesn't affect my community."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations, and may I have the words of the Representative from the Ewa Plains area entered in the record as if they were my own. And I just hope that when the Finance Committee looks at this measure that they would perhaps entertain an exemption for the situation dealing with the military in that area."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations. I ask that the word of the Representative from Ewa Beach be entered into the Journal as if they were my own.

"And I'd also like to add, and I'm not too sure if this is the case, but I'd like the next Committee to take a look at this. A few years ago, we had the opportunity, the entire nation had the opportunity to encourage private companies to obtain long-term leases in order for them to finance and build housing on military bases, or close to military bases. It was called PPV for privatized housing and it's worked very well. We've had Actus, and Hunt, and Forest City and a few other companies come to Hawaii to build these houses. Without the support of Congress, and without working through the State government, we would not have had this opportunity.

"Now the reason why I bring this up is because years ago, we had worked out an exemption for the general excise tax for these particular contractors and companies. I'm afraid that based on what I heard a few days ago, that this particular bill might jeopardize the GET exemption because as you know, these houses are constructed for military families so it's a little different angle than what the Representative from Ewa Beach brought up. And I do share her concerns as well.

"But if this impacts housing for example, on Ford Island or Schofield Barracks, or the Marine Corp Base in Kaneohe, basically what we're doing is we're removing that exemption. Now if that's the intent, then let's be forthright and let's talk about that. But I hope that that's not the intent.

"But please, if we could as we move through the process and take a look at that to make sure that we understand the implications on these companies that have helped to address not only the military housing crisis for military families, but in a sense help us address the rental housing market for the entire State of Hawaii. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just to take a step back and take a look at the bill that came to the Committee on Housing, and what it does now. There are four parts to the section in which the bill deals with, in which a developer can receive a general excise tax exemption. There's four ways. Two of them deal with the federal type of projects.

"The bill came to the Committee originally only dealing with one of them. And this actually was only going to affect Hunt Corporation and their development. Forest City and Actus Lend Lease was not included in the bill and we found that strange. If we are going to talk about general excise tax exemptions in the context of billions of dollars in shortfall and increasing taxes and fees, why not take a look at everything. Your Committee on Housing decided to move this forward in applying it to everyone fairly.

"Secondly, the intent is not to tax the military families, but it will tax the contractor, whether they be Hunt, Actus, or Forest City. They're the ones that receive the exemption. I don't think they pass on the exemption to the military families. If they pass it on to anybody, it's the federal government. And really, does the federal government need a tax exemption?

"I think this is one of many bills which we're taking a look at to generate revenue. Again, this is not against military families, but against corporations who have the contract with the federal government who can print money. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. Stand. Com. Rep. Nos. 855-10 through 857-10 are all related, Mr. Speaker. They have to do with the general excise tax. The first one is to review them, because the way it is now, when a company asks for an exemption, there's no review process. They could have been ineligible for three years. We don't know.

"So the first one, just so everybody knows, it simply asks the Department of Taxation to review these exemptions after three years to see if these exemptions are still valid, and to impose penalties for those who are taking an excise tax exemption which is no longer valid. And I think that in a time when we're looking for ways to fund State services, that we need to review these exemptions and make sure that we're giving it to people who deserve it.

"As for the residency requirement, we all know there are a lot of companies that come and do business in Hawaii that never pay taxes, and we never had the chance to really catch them and to look at whether they should be taxed.

"Now the last one Mr. Speaker, is to calculate the income of those people asking for this, and to impose a standard on them and determine where those exemptions are. So those were the means. There's a lot of talk about the military here, and I guess they're a part of it. I understand that Congress gave those exemptions to big developers to come and build military housing in years prior. These bills are just going forward. They're not going back.

"Former Congressman Neil Abercrombie came and testified before the Committee and said that these exemptions are just pass-throughs. They don't benefit the military. They just benefit the military contractors by about a 4.5% advantage over the local contractors. That's why they can afford to bid lower, because they have that 4.5% advantage. What's fair, is fair. So I'm in support because our local contractors need that same break, just like those contractors from the mainland. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"I want to vote no now. A couple of points. This does affect the military, and now this does affect our local people. This particular project that will be affected in my district is called, Puuloa. It's the Waterfront at Puuloa. It used to be called Iroquois Point and it used to be a military base. It was part of the BRAC closing and it was part of Congress's whole plan to change military bases and switch it over, and so the incentives that Congress gave were tax incentives, and it was agreed to with the State government to help out with the GET tax exemption.

"So this bill is changing the entire policy and plan of Congress, as well as the State of Hawaii. And that's fine if that's the intent of this Legislature.

"This is how this tax exemption helps the local people in my district. Because military families are able to move there, one, it helps the locals because they're helping to reduce traffic on the Leeward Coast because they're using the waterways to get to their work, as well as a lot of the civilian and DOD workers who are using the waterways by staying in this development. That's one way that's helping the local people.

"By getting this tax exemption and that includes some of the military families. Actually 40% are military that live in this development, and 60% are local people. By getting this tax exemption, do you know you can get a three bedroom, single family home with a yard for only $1,400 because of this tax exemption? That is helping 60% of the low income local people that are living there.

"So go ahead and take this tax exemption away. I guarantee you they're not going to be able to afford renting to the local people for $1,400 a month. That's just not going to balance out in their books. They're going to do what everyone else is doing. They're going to raise the rent because they can, and that's how it's going to affect local people."

Representative Takai rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is my second time. I will keep my vote with reservations for now. Here's my concern. We have, as you know Mr. Speaker, I've been working on military housing and we've been working with the federal government through Impact Aid Table 9 Program, so I'm well aware of the projects that are occurring on base. And I do believe there's a difference between a base project and an off-base projects.

"For example, and the Housing Chair brought it up. I don't want to, and I don't think we should be supporting a mainland company against a local company for off-base housing. If we have a housing project going into Ford Island, and what this bill says is that you must have local people living in that housing in order to get the tax exemption. We cannot put local people on military bases. That's not the intent of the military housing projects program. It's to put military families into these houses so that they can get off of the rolls of the off-base housing which would provide for low-cost rentals for our local people.

"I think we need to go back to the intent that we set about a decade ago in this PPV program, because if in fact we're affecting these on-base contracts and I believe these are 50 to 99 year term leases, then I think we have an obligation to fulfill our promises that we made in the past. I have no problems with making sure that we level the playing field between the local companies and the mainland companies for projects off-base, but I think we have to, and we owe it to ourselves to take a look at the impacts happening on our bases. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to respond, stating:

"Just short comments in rebuttal. Yes, we do like to honor contracts that may have been written a hundred years ago, but right now we cannot take care of our kupuna. We cannot take care of our children who are affected by furloughs. We are laying people off, and this repeal of the general excise tax exemption will be one solution to keep our government working, because unlike the federal government we cannot, I repeat, we cannot print money. I am for it. I believe that imposing a general excise tax on this income bracket is what we need. And we need to look at ourselves, and we need to take care of our own people, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of Stand. Com. Report 868-10. Thank you. I just wanted to point out the importance of this measure. Two important reasons to pass Senate Bill 2650, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1. There is an urgency to pass this measure to allow essential services and human services for over 300,000 of Hawaii's most needy residents.

"Second, this bill represents a fundamental principal that is accepted by our State, that we provide and protect our most needy, that we provide essential services. In fact, I agree with the Director of Human Services. There was an article yesterday in the Advertiser which says that the Director, Dr. Koller, says that the State could lose federal money if services are reduced. She's talking about those services to our most needy.

"I agree with the Director. We cannot cut these services, so I'm a little perplexed that the Director wants to go through with this EPOD plan to eliminate 232 essential workers which will affect, substantially affect, over 300,000 people in the State of Hawaii.

"In fact, I'm so concerned, and it's not only me Mr. Speaker. Her own workers have provided a petition. I've never seen this in government. I have a petition here from her workers and a number of recipients. There are 6,300 who signed a petition indicating that they have no confidence in the Director of Human Services. For those reasons Mr. Speaker, we need to pass this measure. We need to protect those essential employees and protect services to over 300,000 needy residents in the State of Hawaii. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations. I'm going to save most of my comments, in case this bill does make it through Finance. We have to realize what the budget has done in combination with what we're talking about with services, and contrast that with what the Chair of the Human Services Committee has just stated. The people that we employ in the Department of Human Services are those who administer programs. Those are administrative positions, eligibility and so forth. The actual services come from the actual purchase of service agreements that you have with community providers that do the actual direct services.

"So when you're talking about providing direct services, that is talking about all the different cuts that we made in the Department of Human Services budget having to do with purchase of services contract. So at this point in time, you know this is a long conversation, and I will continue it if it does get to Third Reading. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to rebut the previous speaker and some of her accounts. Thank you. I want to talk about rhetoric versus reality. I respect the prior speaker's statement. I want to talk about something the Director is seeking to do. She is seeking to close all 31 statewide eligibility offices. That represents 50 units, 50 public assistance units, statewide.

"Again, if Members can visualize every single office in the State. Every single office, public assistance office on all islands: Maui, Kauai, Molokai, all your islands. Offices will be closed. Again, rhetoric versus reality. We can talk about private contracts, but the reality is all offices will be closed under this EPOD proposal, and two call centers will be opened, one in Hilo and one on Oahu. Call centers. Every single office closed. That's what this plan proposes.

"Second, rhetoric versus reality. The rhetoric is that fraud's not going to go up, that this plan is a good plan. That's the rhetoric. The reality is that fraud will go up sky high, and the reason I know this Mr. Speaker, is because your top person in the Department of Human Services, Eric Weinberg who is a chief investigator for Department of Human Services, Director Koller's top person in fraud investigation said this is a horrible plan. A horrible plan. Fraud will go up."

Representative Pine rose to a point of order, stating:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. I believe the wonderful speaker has veered way off the subject of the bill."

The Chair addressed Representative Mizuno, stating;

"The Chair's ruling is that Chair Mizuno may proceed. Please proceed."

Representative Mizuno continued, stating:

"Thank you. This relates directly to this bill because you want to stop welfare fraud. That's exactly what the top investigator under DHS said. That's why this EPOD program is not good and this bill seeks to stop it.

"Third, the reason why we're going over rhetoric versus reality is this. Your top administrator in the Food Stamp Program, Linda Tsark under the Department of Human Services, said this plan was not good. Your top administrator argued that the Director did not make a wise choice by bringing about this EPOD plan. Again, you have your top administrators under this Director going against the Director. It's a huge statement.

"I look forward to working with the Director on seeking more ways we can be more efficient, but this plan is not right. This bill aims to stop that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. When the Chair gets really passionate about this, I can really get passionate about this as well. But I'm going to try and keep my comments to a minimum because I know that this could go on for a very long time.

"Reality and rhetoric. The bottom line is if you can improve services in which there are states that have proven that they can improve services for our clients, as well as streamline and be more efficient with the taxpayer dollar, what should we do as legislators, and as people who run this State and who are about to increase taxes on the people out there? Our public taxpayers are going to be taxed higher from what this Legislative Session looks like. It looks like it's going to be going in that direction. And so if we can, we should provide better services.

"He talks about the issue of bringing it down to telephone type applications. As I explained during the last Third Reading on a bill that pertained to this issue, telephone applications with human people, this is the hybrid of the different plans. Human people will actually bring it so that each person who applies for this kind of assistance, it makes it easier for them. And they still have options to go face-to-face and take these applications. You can do face-to-face, web, or telephone applications. They're proving it. It states it right in these programs that other people are doing. When they did the research, it states that the fraud and all of these other issues are common myths.

"What this is about is people who embraced telephone applications during a time when applications were plentiful and they said, 'Okay. Maybe we can make it easier. Let's do telephone applications,' and they started implementing this last year in November. Nobody complained then. Now when DHS wants to fully utilize the program and maybe shut down some of these offices so you don't have to have full-fledged offices. You can do community partnerships, and you can do other things to still have that ability to do face-to-face interviews.

"It's about change, Mr. Speaker. It's about doing things better, Mr. Speaker. It's about being able to live within our means. Of course we're going to have people within DHS, EPOD or eligibility being upset about this move because they possibly could lose their job. Wouldn't you sign a petition if you thought you were going to lose your job? That's the issue. Yes, this is a very difficult decision to make, but we cannot continue to be going down this road, doing the status quo, continuing to operate when we know there are better ways to operate.

"Mr. Speaker, we can dig our heels in and say, 'No. Let's not get rid of any positions.' But you know, this budget actually agrees with some of the layoffs that we've done. It doesn't put back all the funding in for every single laid-off position that there was. Why? Because we can't afford it. Mr. Speaker, we have to put our feet down and make difficult decisions, just like that guy who did the invocation the morning. And if we have different opinions on how to do it, so be it. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. But I'd like to just make a brief rebuttal. It'll be very brief. I want to support the efforts of the task force, the creation of a task force in this bill. Before the Human Services Committee, we heard not just testimony of DHS workers, but we heard testimony of people of the Big Island, prosecutors who are initiating fraud cases. One of the big thoughts that was raised with this EPOD reorganization is the potential for fraud. So while there are disagreements, I think we need to slow this process down a little bit, and have all the stakeholders come to the table so that when we do the change that we must do, that we do it right and not in the waning months of an outgoing Administration. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak on SB No. 2650. Thank you, very much. First of all, I want to speak in favor of this measure and I would want to incorporate the remarks of the Representative from Kalihi Valley as my own.

"Mr. Speaker, for many years I was the Director of an anti-poverty program. And I personally started as the director of the operation of a grassroots project. We started with community organizations throughout the community and worked with the poor people. Mr. Speaker, many of the poor people have difficulty in working with the institutions that provide services. Many of them lack the education. They lack skills, so they need assistance from case workers, and assistance from outreach workers which we would provided through the former Department of Social Services. And even then, we had some complaints against DSSH saying they weren't providing enough.

"But the essence of this, and what I'm trying to say is for all the human services and contracts that we have right now on Maui, we would not have any offices at all. Or on Molokai, or Lanai, especially in the rural areas, they will have a very difficult time in trying to adapt without any assistance at all. In fact, the State called upon MEO to provide the help to get those who cannot communicate too well, and teach them how to work through the Internet. Many of them don't have computers, so I don't know how they're going to enroll in a program. If you're from Molokai, Lanai, or from Halawa, forget it.

"So Mr. Speaker, I know we don't have enough money and I accept some of the comments made by the Minority Leader that we are in a dire situation. But we must remember the role of the Legislature for the most part, is to take care of those that cannot take care of themselves. That's our role, to provide for a 'safety net' for those that cannot take care of themselves. For those who can take care of themselves, let them go on. But for the poor, we have a vested responsibility. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Members, we've had a lot of discussion. This particular measure will be going to the Finance Committee, and at that Committee hearing the members of the Finance Committee and those who are interested may attend that hearing.

"So please with your indulgence, our Neighbor Island colleagues have their flight to catch since this is Friday. So can we proceed on? And let's have most of your comments on Second Reading be inserted in the Journal. With your indulgence, Members. Thank you."

The designation of surfing reserves would establish formal recognition of quality surfing sites within the State. Hawaii is the birthplace of surfing, and this bill will further recognize and promote one of Hawaii's contributions to the world.

"I do want to ensure that the bill will retain the original intent to create memorials of just two world-renowned, premiere surf spots in Hawaii, the North Shore and Waikiki. Although there are several famous surf spots throughout the State, the intent of the bill is to preserve the historical heritage of these two surf locations. The bill should also not mandate any ocean activity restrictions.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES

The following message from the Governor (Gov. Msg. No. 214) was announced by the Clerk and received for possible future consideration:

Gov. Msg. No. 214, transmitting S.B. No. 771, SD 1, HD 1, without her approval and statement of objections relating to the measure as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 771

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 771, entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating to Appraisals."

The purpose of this bill is to require real estate appraisers to comply with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice when they are acting as arbitrators. The bill also requires that the record of an award in an arbitration proceeding conducted by an appraiser include specific findings of fact, evidence, and the appraiser's reasoning for the award.

This bill is objectionable because appraisers who serve as arbitrators are not engaging in the practice of real estate appraisal. The fact that arbitration is being conducted for the purpose of determining the value of real estate does not cure this objection. Arbitration is an alternative dispute resolution process used to reach a compromise solution, and not an appraisal. In an arbitration proceeding, the parties submit their cases to an impartial person or panel for what is intended to be a final, binding decision.

During an arbitration proceeding to determine the value of real estate, both sides typically hire their own appraisers as expert witnesses. These expert witnesses are required by state statute to follow the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice ("USPAP") if they perform an appraisal. Arbitrators therefore have an opportunity to evaluate competing and USPAP conforming appraisals and make an accordingly informed decision.

Forcing arbitrators to use USPAP would require them to follow a standard that is not applicable to their proceedings, increasing costs and lengthening the process of arbitration. It would be more appropriate to require these panels to follow the Uniform Arbitration Act, as set forth in Chapter 658A of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, and amend the chapter to specify the award explanation.

While requiring arbitrators to comply with USPAP is not an appropriate mechanism for improving transparency, there is some merit in the second element of this legislation, which would require that the record of an award in an arbitration proceeding conducted by an appraiser include specific findings of fact, evidence, and the appraiser's reasoning for the award. Parties to arbitrations that determine the value of real estate might indeed benefit from a more detailed rationale for an arbitration award. Accordingly, legislation along these lines may be worth pursuing in the future, with the input of all stakeholders. However, while improving the transparency of these types of arbitration proceedings deserves attention, this bill, as written, is not the appropriate mechanism for achieving that goal.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 771 without my approval.

Respectfully,
/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii"

Representative Say rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. On behalf of Representative Marilyn Lee and myself, I have some written comments in strong support of these measures that I'd like to insert in the Journal. And also I would like to share with the Members of the House, the pedestrian flag as a sample. In strong support on both measures on behalf of Representative Marilyn Lee and myself. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, we have failed to adopt this measure before, but can no longer ignore the need for a grassroots solution to the every-growing pedestrian deaths.

"Over the past few years, we have seen an increase in pedestrian deaths which can no longer be ignored. Since 2005, the number has continued to rise. In response we have adopted stricter jaywalking laws and attempted to educate the public via platforms such as Walk Wise Hawaii. Walk Wise is a subgroup of the Department of Transportation, 'Safe Communities' program. The Department of Transportation has recognized, as have I, that engineering solutions are costly and difficult to implement. Enforcement (such as ticketing jaywalkers) has not proven useful in reducing pedestrian deaths among seniors.

"Our attempt to change behavior via fines has had little effect on seniors which are largely the victims of pedestrian death. Meanwhile, 13 other states are seeing a decrease in pedestrian death and their method is a simple and inexpensive pedestrian safety flag. In Pennsylvania, the flags cost less than $250 for some of the borough's busiest. As a result, there have been no major pedestrian accidents in those areas recently. The decrease has occurred because these simple flags greatly increase motorists' compliance in giving pedestrians the right of way at crosswalks.

"This inexpensive flag incorporates the 'pedestrian safety for seniors' recommendation that one wear bright or light colored clothing and use retro-reflective materials when dark outside. In addition, the flag will eliminate the adversarial attitude between pedestrians and drivers, with each group blaming the other.

"In closing, this pedestrian flag program will lead to a safer environment by creating accountability and awareness in both pedestrians and drivers."

Representative Ching rose in support of both measures and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of H.R. 95 and H.C.R 157 – which requests the Department of Transportation and the Department of Transportation Services of the City and County of Honolulu to implement a pedestrian flag safety program.

"While the program cannot realistically be applied to sites with heavy pedestrian traffic, as the number of flags would not be implementable. I would like to see this flag safety program continue to be implemented along the Pali Highway, where we have had numerous pedestrian accidents, including the death of an elder earlier this year. This program could also service as a part of an overall comprehensive approach with education, awareness, and other pedestrian safety measures. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Yes, I just want to note my reservations on these resolutions that request the State Department of Transportation and the Department of Transportation Services of the City and County of Honolulu to implement a pedestrian flag safety program."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with slight reservations. Mr. Speaker, my reservations are that I commend the reso because it's trying to get some safety standards for various types of vehicles: for mopeds, to hybrids, to powerful mopeds, to all terrain vehicles, bicycles, and Segways. I should say that I campaigned on a Segway. I don't know if that's a conflict of interest, or it means I'm going to speak with a little bit of authority, but I know what a Segway is, and I know it's not comparable to a powerful moped that goes 45 mph. We go 8 mph.

"How can we do a study with all of these mixed together? It's like saying we're going to put the Army, the Air Force, the Marines, and everybody together in a study rather than each of them deserving their particular due.

"Case in point, the moped is probably one of the most dangerous things on the highway to not only the public, but to the drivers of these really rapid unlicensed vehicles. So Mr. Speaker, I think it's convenient that the DOT says, 'Hey, do a study.' That's great, but to lump all these together. If we really want to get some substantive results out of it, I think we're just making a potpourri for the sake of getting the job done, and getting this thing in and out. Those are my reservations Mr. Speaker, thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of S.C.R 76 HD1 – which requests a study to recommend statutory amendments to address the safe and proper operation of bicycles, mopeds, two-seat mopeds, Segways, hybrid bicycles, powerful mopeds, and all-terrain vehicles.

"I have been assured by the Department of Transportation that this study would be cost neutral, and hope this measure will be able to address the evaluation and input of stakeholders on the much needed regulation of mopeds and other vehicles. As more citizens choose to use these types of vehicles as they are cost efficient alternatives to automobiles, it is crucial that begin discussing how we can keep all roadways safe, not only for drivers, but also for the well-being and quality of life of all citizens.

"In addition, I agree with the Hawaii Bicycling League to add bicyclists to the list of study participants, as they are a healthy alternative form of transportation. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted, and S.C.R. No. 76, HD 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING A STUDY TO RECOMMEND STATUTORY AMENDMENTS TO ADDRESS THE SAFE AND PROPER OPERATION OF BICYCLES, MOPEDS, TWO-SEAT MOPEDS, SEGWAYS, HYBRID BICYCLES, POWERFUL MOPEDS, AND ALL-TERRAIN VEHICLES," was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Bertram, Carroll, M. Lee and Nishimoto being excused.

Representative Nakashima rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Nakashima's written remarks are as follows:

"I stand in strong support of HB 2427, relating to solid waste management. This measure is a demonstration of representative democracy in action, Mr. Speaker, as it was an idea that resulted from a community meeting where a member of the Honoka'a Community lamented the waste of money that the County was required to pay in order to meet the provisions of the law. This measure before us would change that law by extending the period between the submittal of integrated solid waste management plans by the counties to the Department of Health from every five years to every 10 years with an interim status report submitted at the five-year point. I urge my colleagues to support it for a number of reasons.

"First, it would save each of the counties between $100,000 to $200,000 every five years. The scope of the revision of the plans requires significant staff time and the hiring of consultants. Although a few hundred thousand dollars amount may appear small in comparison to the size of our State budget, I am sure that my colleagues would agree with me in recognizing that in these difficult fiscal times, all cost savings must be utilized. I am certain that the mayors and county councils can find better use for this money.

"In addition to the savings, this bill would assist the counties in more accurate urban planning, as the current period of five years between waste management plans is far too short. Extending the period to 10 years will give the counties a longer period to predict and analyze waste trends, making the plans much more useful. It will also allow each county's respective environmental management office to focus on other areas as each review can take up to two years to complete in order for data to be properly collected and analyzed. This will hopefully allow the counties to garner the time and resources to implement their plans instead of constantly revising them.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I strongly support H.B. 2427, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, which changes the frequency for the counties to submit solid waste plans from once every five years to once every ten years. The additional time will make the plans a more practical and useable tool for all stakeholders.

"Submitting reports every ten years provides a longer period for planning and analyzing solid waste trends. The current five-year interval is too short to complete an accurate solid waste plan, and certainly in practice the present goal of periodic updating has been followed more in the breach than in the observance. The solid waste advisory committee needs at least one year's data to analyze and then write the report. This process can take well over two years resulting in counties continuously working on plan updates rather than putting more resources into actual implementation of plans.

"In addition to making the plan an exercise in real planning, this change will also save the counties money. The revision process is complex and costly, and usually involves hiring consultants to conduct the planning process. This amendment will save the counties between one hundred thousand to two hundred thousand dollars per county for each plan revision, and hopefully will result in more meaningful data for future revisions.

"I finally commend the gentleman from Honokaa for introducing this measure and the Chairs of the Committees in both Chambers who moved this measure forward in a timely and efficient manner. I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2427, HD 1, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Say being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative McKelvey: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is just a reminder Mr. Speaker and colleagues, that we are reconvening for a Joint Session here at 2:00 p.m. today to award the Hawaii Medal of Honor in these Chambers. We just ask that if Members come a little early to be seated by 1:45, that would be great.

"And for those Representatives who have volunteered to partner with a family, please don't forget to introduce yourself to your assigned family before the Ceremony begins. I know they will greatly appreciate that. Thank you, very much."

RECESS

At 12:21 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess and the House of Representatives stood in recess, and in accordance with House Concurrent Resolution No. 3, met in Joint Session with the Senate, for the Hawaii Medal of Honor Ceremony.

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature was called to order at 2:03 o'clock p.m. by the Honorable Calvin K.Y. Say, Speaker of the House.

The Speaker addressed the Chamber, stating:

"The Joint Session called pursuant to a Concurrent Resolution adopted by the Members of the House and the Members of the Senate is called to order.

"This is indeed a momentous occasion. We honor the members of the Armed Forces of the United States, with ties to Hawaii, who fought and died bravely, in a combat zone designated by Presidential Order.

"On behalf of the Senate President and all of the Members of the Hawaii State Legislature, I convey our deepest condolences to our very special guests – the family, the friends and colleagues of loved ones, who have lost their lives overseas in the Middle East. Our prayers are with you, and we are honored by your presence here today.

"At this time please rise for the posting of the colors by the Joint Service Color Guard, the Hawaii Air National Guard, and the Royal Guard; and also remain standing for the singing of the National Anthem and Hawaii Pono'i by Ms. Tracy Toguchi; which will be followed by the invocation by Reverend William H. Kaina.

"Joint Service Color Guard and Royal Guard, please present the colors."

At this time, the Members of the House, Senate, guests, and audience rose for the presentation of our Nation's and our State's Colors by the Joint Service Color Guard and the Hawaii Air National Guard, Royal Guard. The singing of the National Anthem and Hawaii Pono'i was led by Ms. Traci Toguchi, thereafter the invocation was delivered by Reverend William H. Kaina.

Speaker Say then addressed the Members, guests and audience as follows:

"Mahalo Joint Service Color Guard, to the Royal Guard, to Ms. Toguchi, and to Reverend Kaina for your participation in today's ceremony is greatly appreciated.

"To all of you here this afternoon, good afternoon and aloha!

"This is the 5th year that I stand on this dais in tribute to the recipients of the Hawaii Medal of Honor. On a personal note, it has not gotten any easier. Each year, I cannot reflect on the lives prematurely lost in the middle-East without feeling profound sorrow. I see the faces of the loved ones they have left behind, etched with a sadness and pain that I cannot possibly assuage. I wish I could.

"All I can do is to tell you that each of you has lost a remarkable father, mother, son, daughter, uncle, aunt, cousin, or friend this past year … a true American patriot.

"While we take our everyday lives for granted, our soldiers are dying on foreign soil, under unforgiving conditions, to ensure that the rest of us may continue our lives and lifestyles. By their willingness to "walk the walk," instead of just "talk the talk," and by sacrificing their own personal security, they are sacrificing their own, giving up their lives which is their most precious gifts, that of liberty and freedom. We must always remember that these freedoms are not free--they have been paid for by the blood of our men and women in the armed forces.

"I only hope that you, who have lost loved ones, will be comforted in knowing that their sacrifice will not be forgotten. Many of you may not remember what was said today, but everyone will remember the brave men and women who perished in combat for the United States of America, and the ideals for which we stand. Each will be a part of a chapter in American history. Each will join the ranks of other gallant soldiers, who perished before them in conflicts dating back to our independence… all for the sake of democracy.

"President Abraham Lincoln expressed it best when he learned of Mrs. Bixby, a mother who lost two sons during the Civil War and he says and he wrote to her to say, in part:

"I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

"I leave you with the knowledge that, one day, the name of your valiant soldier will be permanently inscribed in stone for future generations of Americans to know and appreciate. They will become eternal… like the light from the skies that brightly blesses our state and our country… forever.

"I wish you peace, comfort, and serenity in the memory of our fallen heroes.

"Before proceeding any further, I would like to acknowledge the presence of our military and congressional leaders. Would all of you please hold your applause until all of our distinguished are recognized."

At this time, the Speaker of the House introduced the following state, congressional and military leaders seated on the Floor of the House:

The Speaker called upon the Honorable Linda Lingle to deliver her remarks as follows:

"Senate President Colleen Hanabusa, House Speaker Calvin Say, Legislators, Major General Bob Lee, all the military leaders here with us today, especially to the husbands and wives, mothers and fathers, sisters and brothers, sons and daughters, and other loved ones of the fallen.

"I regret that we had to gather here today. Nonetheless it's important that we do so in order to honor the 28 servicemembers who are a part of our Hawaii ohana and who gave the ultimate sacrifice of their life.

"I want to commend Representative Mark Takai and Members of the Legislature for the formulation and initiation of this Medal of Honor Ceremony, and for it taking place each year.

"We need to come together to recognize the sacrifice that was made, and we need to put it into a historic, as well as a modern context. These Americans who gave their lives so that we could be secure in our freedoms and free from terrorism, did so much more than that for the people of Iraq, so that they could be free, and for the people in Afghanistan and the freedoms that will follow there.

"I can't help but think, as a woman, what life was like for women in Afghanistan in particular, before America's commitment. And while it's a huge price to pay, the fact is before America's involvement, women were treated like pack animals. Young girls were not able to go to school. No woman was able to reach her potential in that country, and in fact, that's what the terrorists want for the entire world. They want a place where women are no better than animals.

"So this sacrifice is one that no words can ever equal. They pale in comparison to the sacrifice that was made. And yet we each want to offer specific words of gratitude to each of the family members and loved ones.

"The recent elections in Iraq tell a part of the story of the sacrifice of these men and women because the candidates in Iraq who were backed by the extremist religious groups did not get elected. There would have been no elections without the sacrifice of the men and women we honor today, as well as thousands of others who gave their lives.

"The United States forces will continue to be drawn down in Iraq. They are projected to be down to 50,000 by the end of August of this year, with all troops expected to be out by the end of 2011. And by the grace of God, that will occur and the people of Iraq will be able to defend their own new, stable, and democratic country in the middle of the Middle East.

"It was these American troops and their sacrifices that made this happen. Just like America did in World War I, World War II, and Korea, it was your loved ones who allowed people worldwide to enjoy freedom.

"I was asked yesterday by one of the members of my personal security detail who has children. We were talking about education issues. And this person asked me if I believe there should be standard curriculum in America. And if schools everywhere in America should be teaching exactly the same thing.

"And I told him that while I think schools on the East Coast and the West Coast may come at issues in a slightly different way because of the way our histories have developed, I believe as a fact, that every American child should grow up understanding the fact that were it not for the sacrifices of tens of thousands of Americans, as well as their families, the world today would not be free. Not only would America not be free, no nation on Earth would be free had it not been for the sacrifices we made as Americans and others made in the Second World War.

"So yes, I believe American children need to be taught that in clear, unequivocal terms that it's our sacrifices. It's our sacrifices today that are enabling people to live in freedom where they wouldn't have freedom if not for these men and women, and for the support of their families.

"America has always been a beacon for liberty. We have fought for those who could not fight for themselves. This is especially true about our Hawaii based troops. Kaneohe Marines soldiers from the 25th Infantry Division and our own National Guard 29th Infantry Brigade Combat Team who have served and assisted Iraq in their national elections.

"To the families who are here today, I know I speak on behalf of Senate President Hanabusa, Speaker Say, indeed every elected official in the State and all of the people who we represent that we owe you a tremendous debt of gratitude. And that we appreciate you taking the time and going to the effort to be here today. Your sacrifice is laudable and extremely honorable. We wanted you to know that from our perspective, although the loss can never be healed completely, your family members were not lost in vain.

"The fact that we believe that does not take away your pain, but future generations will look at these family members as heroes. All of you will remain in the hearts and in the thoughts of the people of Hawaii. We all owe you, along with the rest of America, a tremendous debt of thanks and gratitude."

Speaker Say then called upon Major General Robert Lee to deliver his remarks on behalf of the military as follows:

"Thank you, Speaker Say. Good afternoon and aloha. I want to thank everyone for coming to this Medal of Honor Ceremony today. Your presence here is a strong testimony to the great support that Hawaii has for our military personnel, our veterans, and their families.

"Again we gather here at the State Capitol for this solemn ceremony and this year we honor 28 Soldiers, Marines, Sailors, and Airmen, including members of our own Hawaii Army National Guard 29th Infantry Brigade Combat team who gave their lives for our nation.

"Our nation remains engaged on two fronts, Afghanistan and Iraq, and our brave men and women in our armed forces continue to serve in harm's way as they have done for these past nine years. In the combat zone, they sacrificed. They fought for their buddies, and for their fellow Americans. They fought for the ideals found in our Constitution. They each swore to support and defend and to bear true faith and allegiance to our Constitution.

"Our 28 heroes we honor today more than fulfill any obligations they owe to us. That is why it's so difficult for families and friends to comprehend their loss. Taken in their prime of life, and whose full potential will not be realized. We will lament the missed birthdays, anniversaries, holidays, and thousands of other daily events that could have been. We will continue to mourn the premature passing of our brothers and sisters in arms.

"The State Medal of Honor is Hawaii's way to remember our Soldiers, Sailors, Marines, Airmen, and Coastguardsmen who made the ultimate sacrifice. To show our appreciation to their families, to share in their loss, and to assure them that they will always be part of our State's ohana or family.

"It doesn't matter if the servicemember grew up in Hawaii, or first set foot upon these beautiful islands as part of a Hawaii-based unit. They are still embraced as part of our ohana.

"We appreciate even more President Abraham Lincoln's humble wisdom at Gettysburg:

> When brave young men and women die, it is their deeds, not our words that are remembered. It is their sacrifice, not our brief recollection that will offer everlasting testimony to their love for others and their love for us.

"So to the families and friends of our fallen heroes, I humbly ask that you accept this Hawaii Medal of Honor on behalf of the people of Hawaii who today, and forever, shall be your devoted ohana. May God bless all of you, and may God Bless the United States of America."

At this time, Members of the Hickam Base Honor Guard proceeded with a 21-gun Salute and the playing of Taps outside the House Chamber in the Capitol Rotunda, which was then followed by a moment of silence.

President Hanabusa then gave her closing remarks as follows:

"In the 2005 Legislative Session, what has come to be known as Act 21 was passed into law. It's time for us to reflect as to what exactly the Legislature intended at that time.

"The preamble says, "The purpose of this Act is to provide for a Hawaii Medal of Honor that will help express a deep gratitude and appreciation of the people of Hawaii through the loved ones of members of the military who sacrificed their lives in defense of our nation and its freedom."

"It is all but a small token of the appreciation of the people of this State for your loved ones who have touched us by either serving in our military establishments here, or being one of our keiki 'o ka aina as we would say.

"Let's look at what it has represented over the past five years. There have been 269 medals presented in these Chambers. In the year 2006, there were 120. I remember the medals came after 9/11 and part of the 120 in that year reflected 83. 83 who had died in combat in Afghanistan and Iraq since 9/11 up to the date February 14, 2005. In 2007, 67 medals were given. In 2008, 31. In 2009, 23; and this year, 28.

"For us, there are truly 269 medals too many. And we may not say that to the loved ones who are here to receive the medal. For many of us, five years is too long. And each year I know, as Speaker and I sit at this dais, we always look at each other and say, 'I hope this is the last year.'

"This is one of the most difficult things that we do as a legislative body, and this year Sergeant Hoskins, his two children, made it very difficult. And I thought at that time, what do you say to two young boys? What do you say to them?

"You know, we reflected upon something that I recalled. I was there when the Medal of Honor was presented to the 442nd in Washington D.C. One of my classmate's father was a recipient. He never mentioned anything. When I ask him why? Why did you not even mention that you were a Silver Star recipient, and that even to get him to go to the Medal of Honor ceremonies was a task. He said, 'I did what I did for my country so that my children would never have to see war again.'

"And I thought today, especially as we watched those two young children, that that is probably why everyone in uniform serves: so that they will never need to see war. But we need all of you, because you are so willing, and so many have given the ultimate sacrifice so the rest of us can sit here, stand here, and engage in open debate and open discussion, because you have done the ultimate sacrifice and that's to ensure our freedom and our ability to be Americans, and our ability to appreciate all the freedoms that this Country represents.

"So please, on behalf of the State of Hawaii, of the people of this wonderful place that we all call home, accept our deep-felt thanks to all of you, the loved ones. And all of you who are in uniform who will continue to serve so that we may benefit from the greatest freedoms on this earth, and the wonderful right to be Americans and to call the United States our home. Thank you, very much.

"Members of the House and Senate, and special guests, please rise for the retiring of the colors."

The President of the Senate then called on the Joint Service Color Guard and the Hawaii Air National Guard, Royal Guard for the retiring of the Colors, and at 3:13 o'clock p.m., declared the Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate adjourned.

Symbolism of the Hawaii Medal of Honor

The Hawaii Medal of Honor was designed by Sergeant First Class Aaron Pollick from the Hawaii Army National Guard. This medal consists of the following six components, superimposed on each other:

Circle of Kalo Leaves: The kalo leaves represent the family or Ohana. The leaves are designed in an encircled fashion and represents the concept of Ohana, which we strive to embrace.

Coat of Arms: The Great Shield is the keystone of the design. The eight bars represent the eight major islands of the State of Hawaii. The kapu sticks, or Pulo'ulo'u, symbolize authority and protection. The star in the center of the medallion is the Star of Hawaii, the 50th star on the flag of the United States. This star also represents the honorees of this prestigious award.

Maltese Cross: The Maltese Cross represents the four directional axes of the globe, denoting Hawaii as the Crossroads of the Pacific.

Sun Rays: The irradiant sun is symbolic of the new era. Its position in the center of the Maltese Cross represents our sunny shores and warm hearts ever shining on all the corners of the world.

The Neck Drape: The neck drape is red and golden yellow in color. These colors symbolize the royal monarchy that once ruled these islands. The red represents courage and strength. The golden yellow depicts the honor that the recipients have brought to our islands.

Service Ribbon & Attachment: The service ribbon represents distinguished service. Its colors are identical to the colors of the neck drape. The attachment device at the middle of the ribbon is an ancient flag or puela of Hawaiian Chiefs. In olden times, the puela was raised above the sail of the ancient Hawaiians' canoes while at sea. Our puela signifies that the person receiving this medal is of high rank or honor.

This is so we can meet our deadline, and also to meet the farmers up at the Fourth Floor, for those of you who have not attended the Farm Bureau presentations today."

Representative Mizuno, for the Committee on Human Services presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 931-10), recommending that H.R. No. 148, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 932-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 219, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to both measures and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong opposition to HR 148 and HCR 219. These resolutions require the Department of Human Services to delay the implementation of the Eligibility Processing Operations Division (EPOD) system which will ultimately save the State millions in tax dollars.

"First and foremost, if government has the ability to provide better services by improving its programs, then it should do so for the sake of the citizens that it serves. Second, if the State can streamline and save money by implementing new programs, then it should do so in order to ensure a fiscally responsible government. In times of economic recession, it is irresponsible for the government to spend money it does not have.

"We have been presented with the opportunity to reinvent government with a new system that like any new program, will take some time to get used to, but will ultimately yield positive results for those individuals who receive benefits. Why should we continue to make people wait in long lines and inefficiently process individuals, when we have an opportunity to improve the delivery of services? It is unfortunate that positions must be cut, but we must reinvent government. Fiscal realities leave us with no other choice; we cannot continue to employ individuals who are no longer needed. It is unfair to force taxpayers to foot the bill for a bloated and inefficient bureaucracy."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in support of both measures with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations to H.R. 148 and H.C.R. 219 - Directing the Department of Human Services to Stop its Proposed Reorganization of the Benefits, Employment, Support Services and Med QUEST Divisions until a Legislative Task Force Evaluates the Proposal.

"While I see the benefits of a task force weighing the proposed changes, DHS has found a need to reform a part of its Department, and I believe we should allow them to do so in a timely manner. I believe change and reform are necessary at this time, and I worry that this task force will slow down the changes and reforms being proposed by DHS. Also, my hope is that the task force is conducted in a fair and bipartisan manner and that we can look at the task force findings with an open-mind. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 148, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION DIRECTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES TO STOP ITS PROPOSED REORGANIZATION OF THE BENEFITS, ENMPLOYMENT [sic], SUPPORT SERVICES AND MED QUEST DIVISIONS UNTIL A LEGISLATIVE TASK FORCE EVALUATES THE PROPOSAL," was referred to the Committee on

"My Resolutions simply ask the Department of Land & Natural Resources (DLNR), the Hawaii Public Housing Authority (HPHA) and its contractors, and any other appropriate State agency to work together to identify land in Hawaii that could be used for a safe zone.

"Homeless individuals need a place to sleep at night. Despite vacancies in our shelters, they are illegally camping on public and private property. Their scattered locations make it difficult for homeless service providers to get to them. Homeless safe zones would designate land for homeless individuals to stay at night with their tents in a reasonably safe and supervised setting.

"There are private organizations that are willing to provide this type of service to the homeless – some may be able to provide this service on their own property.

"Provider agencies may also use grant or other funds to rent the property or lease or contract with the Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) to use available public lands.

"We currently envision an open land space with a few amenities. Homeless safe zones established by the provider agency would, at a minimum, provide basic sanitary facilities (such as porta-potties) and a place for the homeless to sleep, but may or may not offer the protection of a security guard.

"As the process moves on, the homeless safe zone could be modified as needed."

Representatives Mizuno and Yamane, for the Committee on Human Services and the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 955-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 53, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Legislative Management.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committees was adopted and H.C.R. No. 53, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE AUDITOR TO CONDUCT A SUNRISE REVIEW TO DETERMINE WHETHER CASE MANAGERS SHOULD BE CERTIFIED," was referred to the Committee on Legislative Management, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Mizuno, M. Oshiro, Shimabukuro and Thielen being excused.

Representative Tokioka, for the Committee on Legislative Management presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 956-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 200, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.C.R. No. 200, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to H.C.R. 200 – which requests the Legislative Reference Bureau to study the feasibility of establishing a state-owned bank.

"I believe the State should restrain itself in encroaching on what should properly be the private sector. As stated in testimony from the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, "…it should be noted that the banking and financial services landscape in [North Dakota] is far different than that which prevails in Hawaii… The Bank of North Dakota serves as a 'central bank' for these smaller organizations, providing clearing and payment services, settlement programs and other correspondent banking services, which the larger Hawaii banks either do not need or which they already obtain elsewhere."

"Our State cannot afford to convene a study on an issue that is most not likely beneficial to our State. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 200, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF ESTABLISHING A STATE-OWNED BANK," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Ching voting no, and with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Mizuno, M. Oshiro, Shimabukuro and Thielen being excused.

Representative Tokioka, for the Committee on Legislative Management presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 957-10), recommending that H.R. No. 205, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 205, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes I would like to register a no vote on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 957 and may I just say a couple of sentences? And I'll be quick. This basically establishes policies for all the video that we do here in the House of Representatives. And the reason I've changed my support for this measure is because the public has been telling me that this building does not really open access to what we do here, and that's their opinion.

"And there's a section in this resolution, and this is something that we've always supported, but it basically says that only bona fide news organizations and educational institutions should be authorized to use the material that we see here. As you know, this really limits access to the public from what we do here.

"Some of them don't know when some of the programming is going to be on television. And I believe that as this goes to Finance we should make a statement that the House of Representatives in the State of Hawaii is different than other government agencies. That we believe that government is best when the people have access to information.

"And so I hope that we can change that and allow the public to come and have access because they actually own the video. We keep forgetting that we don't own this building. We don't own the video. The taxpayers who paid for this building, pay for our salaries, and pay for the video – they own the video. And so let's try to change that to make them have access to that."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition for three reasons. Very briefly, and because I heard the farmers have already gone back to their flocks and their thing, so we don't have to rush too much.

"The first issue is the access issue. Mr. Speaker, I've said on this Floor many times and spoke with the vision that unless we push this down the road to be a C-SPAN, we're fooling ourselves. So it's access. We have too little of it.

"And the other issue is the approval process. Sometimes really heated hearings never get covered because of the approval process. And I know Mr. Speaker, you're a good judge of character and other issues, but you are only one person. It would be better if the decision making was like when we approve our mailings. There's a committee from the Minority and the Majority that says, 'Hey this is a good idea,' or 'This is not a good idea.' Having it just in the Speaker's Office I think is a little bit too unilateral.

"And lastly the ownership issue my colleague has just spoken of in terms of it belongs to the people. It's theirs. It's their taxes and it should be their property also. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to H.R 205 – which establishes policies for the legislative broadcast program's cablecasts of House of Representative's proceedings.

"While I understand the intention of this measure, in view of what has happened this year, whereby votes were miscounted on a Minority member's bill and the mistake only caught on Minority Caucus' cameras, it appears this subject needs revisiting. I enter into record the opinion article from the Honolulu Advertiser dated March 5, 2010 entitled, "Legislators: Stand up and be Counted" by Common Cause, League of Women Voters of Hawaii, and others.

"I feel we should protect the public's right to access and not curb in anyway the Minority's broadcast. The language of this measure does not adequately protect the rights of the Minority and seems questionable. People should be allowed to tape hearings or Floor sessions. The public should never be denied access in a place that belongs to them. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 957, in strong support. And I'd like to follow the rules, so I'm going to submit written testimony in favor of this. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you for permission to insert written remarks in support of this measure, HR205 entitled, Establishing Policies for the Legislative Broadcast Program Cablecasts of House of Representatives' Proceedings, which I note has been adopted in substantially the same form since the project's inception in the mid-1990's.

"Written remarks have afforded me the opportunity to reflect on my colleagues' comments made during debate on this measure. And written remarks afford me the opportunity to correct erroneous statements, incorrect assumptions and illogical conclusions.

"I am surprised … perplexed … confused … puzzled … and mystified.

"SURPRISED at the comment from the Representative from Hawaii Kai bemoaning the level of access offered to our constituents. He mentions C-SPAN as an objective to achieve, and as a Neighbor Island Representative, I agree with him wholeheartedly. However in my 4 years sitting as a member of the House Finance Committee with the Hawaii Kai Representative, I do not recall any attempt on his part to increase the level of funding for the annual Legislative Broadcast appropriation of $175,000 to be shared equally with the Senate. In fact, research indicates that this appropriation has not increased for the past 10 years, despite rising programming costs.

"For example, all statewide cable broadcasts are closed captioned to accommodate the hearing impaired. As you know Mr. Speaker, closed captioning services are not free, and have increased the hourly rate of program preparation and recording services substantially. Despite increased project costs, it was the right thing to do to assist Hawaii's very active hearing impaired community remain involved in the lawmaking process here at the Capitol, especially during these difficult economic times.

"PERPLEXED at the comments from the Representative from Ewa Beach documenting her concerns of a lack of: (1) access to programming material, and (2) information disseminated to the public about programming.

"Any member of the public, which also includes people in the Capitol Building, can contact the House Clerk or the Legislative Broadcast Contractor, and request a copy of any project programming. In fact, the Contractor's DVD request log on file with the House Clerk as of this date, indicates that House Minority staff has requested and received programming DVDs of hearings for the following dates:

January 5, 2010	January 8, 2010
January 19, 2010	January 20, 2010
January 21, 2010	January 22, 2010
January 27, 2010	January 28, 2010
February 18, 2010	February 22, 2010
February 23, 2010	February 24, 2010 [2 hearings]
February 25, 2010	March 2, 2010
March 3, 2010	March 4, 2010
March 18, 2010

"I am also perplexed with that Representative's comment that some do not know when programming will be televised. On ALL House public and informational briefing notices the following advisory is included: "Selected meetings are broadcast live. Check the current legislative broadcast schedule on the "Capitol TV" Web site at www.capitoltv.org or call 526-2100." In addition, for Capitol occupants, the Public Access Room emails broadcast and re-broadcast schedules on a regular basis for information and dissemination to interested constituents.

"CONFUSED by subsequent comments from the Representative from Ewa Beach recalling her days in the media industry and difficulties obtaining information. And she further notes that obtaining information could take months or years. Since she cites difficulties with the Bush Administration and the Obama Administration, I can only assume that she is referring to the Federal Freedom of Information Act [FOIA].

"The FOIA is NOT operative in the request and release of Legislative Broadcast programming recorded by the legislative Contractor. Chapter 92 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, 'Public Agency Meetings, Records' is the operative statutory scheme, if copies of House public records are being requested. Clearly, Legislative Broadcast tapes or DVDs kept on file in the House Clerk's Office are public records.

"The House Clerk has assured me that any and all requests for legislative broadcast programming materials recorded by the Contractor are fulfilled according to statutory requirements and Office of Information guidelines. Contrary to that Representative's assertions that people cannot come to the Capitol to get a copy of legislative broadcast programming, anyone can request this information. Moreover, no fees are charged for this service.

"PUZZLED by the comments from the House Minority Leader concerning the taping of proceedings here at the Capitol. Any member of the public has a right to attend any legislative deliberation and decision making. And any member of the public can come to the Capitol and tape proceedings as long as the taping does not interfere with any others wishing to participate in the process, and does not obstruct the work of elected members.

"Public access to, and recording of, legislative proceedings by constituents are being juxtaposed with Legislative Broadcast activities and programming by the Legislative Contractor, Capitol TV, the current Legislative Contractor which was awarded the contract for broadcast services by the House and the Senate acting in concert during the procurement process. A 'Request for Proposals' was duly issued and all State procurement requirements were adhered to.

"All programming material recorded and stored for access belongs to the House and the Senate respectively on behalf of the public, as taxpayer dollars were used. And as a result I believe that the final programming product of the Legislative Contractor, which is subsequently submitted to the House Clerk and Senate Clerk, should NOT be used for campaign or commercial purposes – by people in this Building.

"On the other hand, while I am not an attorney or versed in intellectual property law, I believe that if a member of the public were to tape legislative broadcast programming aired on 'Olelo OUTSIDE this building, that would be permissible under "public domain" laws and policies.

"And finally, Mr. Speaker, I am totally MYSTIFIED with comments from the Representative of the Kaimuki-Kahala area alleging that programming from presumably, the House Chamber, somehow deletes, obscures or covers up actual votes on the House Floor. She goes further to raise First Amendment rights, presumably of the Members on the Floor when they speak or cast votes.

"The Legislative Contractor has confirmed that he produces 'gavel-to-gavel' programming for statewide viewing on 'Olelo, and he fully understands the legislative process and recognizes the significance of 'open voting.' He has advised me that during rollcall votes in Chamber, the voice of the House Clerk is clear for audio purposes and the closed captioning subcontractor, as the House Clerk uses her Chamber desk microphone. On the other hand, when Members cast their votes, Member voices are not audible as they do not turn on their Chamber desk microphones. In those instances, the closed captioning contractor may post an 'Inaudible' or 'Not Audible' message at the bottom of the screen for viewer clarification.

"On the days when the Legislative Contractor is not televising Chamber proceedings statewide, the House Sergeant-at-Arms offers Chamber telecasts for internal viewing in the Capitol, which I believe includes Executive offices on the 5th Floor. The Sergeant-at-Arms has assured me that he does not tamper with the audio portions of any proceedings he broadcasts – during the debate or the taking of votes.

"I can only surmise that the Representative from Kaimuki-Kahala is referring to the viewing of a "bootleg" tape of Chamber proceedings for her assertions.

"I would advise the Representative from Kaimuki-Kahala that if she wants her rollcall vote to be recorded, she should turn on her Chamber desk microphone when she casts her vote.

"Mr. Speaker, I hope I have clarified some incorrect statements or misrepresentations. As your Legislative Management Chair, I would be the first to admonish staff or contract staff if wrongdoing or unethical behavior is called to my attention. However, when the work of hard-working supportive staff is called into question unfairly, I must set the record straight. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. And I'll be extremely brief. I think that our current policies are very much about access. First, let me say that the issue about distribution that has been raised by the Minority Floor Leader is a misinterpretation of the actual provision, because what that's about is licensure.

"Actually, there are specific organizations that have a license to have their videotaped proceedings and they are the ones that actually own it. And so at that point, for us to interfere with the relationship in terms of who they want to distribute to, it really is up to them. What we're saying is for licensure purposes of educational organizations that are bona fide, as well as news organizations are those that we will say their licensure should actually continue onwards.

"But overall what I do want to say is, this House is extremely accessible. This House is subject to the Uniform Information Practices Act under Chapter HRS 92F. And so there's nothing that I know of that actually precludes access.

"And unfortunately, if the Minority is afraid of and does not want to read the existing law under 92F that's what I would suggest they do before they start characterizing what this resolution is about, which is merely about the policies that have already been in place, continue to be in place, and if they wanted to have it improved, what I would have suggested is that they actually be at the hearing and actually have been in the discussion before we move this on in decision making."

Representative Pine rose, stating:

"First, a point of personal privilege. I was just attacked for not being in the hearing. I had to vote in two places and I asked for them to wait for me and that was not done. I started the discussion, and then they told me not to discuss it at that time and to wait. Then I was called to another hearing to vote. Okay.

"In rebuttal now. Mr. Speaker, I am very aware, as a former journalist, of us having to give access to the public. This is what happens under that statute. You request information. This has happened to journalists right now. You request access information and it could take months to years for whoever, depending on the situation, to actually get the information.

"Let's use for example under President Bush's term, a lot of media requested access to information and they granted maybe a quarter of that, okay. Under the current Obama Administration, they are only granting maybe not even a fourth of what President Bush has granted in President Bush's whole term to the media. And so if you want to start going down that law, according to federal statute and state statute relating to access to information. Imagine just a regular public person that does not have these licensing.

"What I'm saying is, let's make government more open. Let's show the people of Hawaii that you don't have to own a company to be able to know what happened in this building if you couldn't make it that day. They own this. Nobody else. And anyone from any type of organization should be able to come to the State Capitol and say, 'Hey, I missed that hearing. Could I get a copy?' And I apologize if I had misinterpreted some things in the resolution. Obviously, let's make it clearer so that even the public can understand. So if it is the intention of the House of Representatives to be open and give access, let's make this resolution say that, and do that."

The Chair then stated:

"Thank you, very much. I think the Committee on Finance will have an opportunity for this particular discussion. May we proceed on?"

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I did have some words please, in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And with all due respect, I would like to disagree with the Majority Leader. I have read this resolution, and I read it multiple times because I actually signed on to the resolution last year and sat on the Committee.

"Unfortunately, there's really no one who testified on this, or are there people that you can ask questions of for this particular resolution. Let me just tell you. On one of the Whereas clauses in here it says, 'The legislative broadcast program is intended to increase public access to and participation in the legislative process.'

"What we have is a situation where, with all due respect Mr. Speaker, people have to go to you to be able to get approval of whether or not they can use the material that is recorded. So for instance, if I were a member of the public and I were to make a recording of this session that we're having right now, according to this resolution it says, ownership and use of programming tapes and cablecasts shall not be considered an official record of the meeting. It also says, 'tapes and cablecasts shall be considered the property of the House of Representatives.' I believe some of our people who work in our office have asked, 'What about the tape that we use for recording sessions or recording Committees,' and do the rules apply to those tapes of recordings that we do.

"So my guess is that this resolution also pertains to things that we've taped here on the session Floor or in Committee. Mr. Speaker, that means that if someone would like to get access to a part of, or a debate on the Floor that happens between two people on a particular bill, that is good information for them to know. What we were trying to do is provide access to that debate on say, a YouTube or something like that which is alternative media. People are at home at 12:00 at night coming home from work. They can see that debate. They can see the openness of this Legislature if we were to put that on YouTube. Mr. Speaker. We can't do that right now.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was actually not done yet. Can I submit more comments? Yes. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to HR 205. This resolution creates the possibility for the restriction of information coming from the Legislature, information that should be available for the public. By granting the Speaker of the House the absolute power to decide what material is made public, we take away the ability of providing our community with balanced information.

"Technology has advanced to the point where video recordings of our proceedings can be made available to all with tremendous ease. By mandating cumbersome requirements and not allowing clips and short segments with commentary to be made public, we take away an additional mechanism of ensuring accountability and checks and balances. Recordings such as the ones addressed in this resolution were solely responsible for identifying an error in vote counts that initially denied the moving forward of a HB2311, a bill that ultimately passed out of the House unanimously. To deny the public all available forms of such information does a disservice to the people of this State."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. My understanding is that when there is a vote on the Floor of the House of Representatives, the licensed entity that covers it goes to like a test pattern and does not cover the actual vote of our proceedings down here. And I would say that this was not in the best interest of openness. Not in the best interest of transparency. And not in the best interest of sunshine.

"And so I'm very concerned about our First Amendment rights. I feel that the public has a right to know what happens in this building especially when it comes to votes. I don't think we need any type of censorship so, I would urge caution on this. I have no way to stop this except to express my feelings in a no vote. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again, in strong support. I'd just like to clarify a few comments that were made earlier by the Minority Leader and the Representative from Ewa Beach. In one of the comments, it was said that there was no one in that meeting to ask questions to, or testify. I would like to state for the record that the Chief Clerk was in the room at that time. There was testimony from the League of Women Voters in support. There was testimony from Common Cause with comments.

"There was another comment that was made by the Representative from Ewa Beach about not being able to vote. At no time at that meeting was I asked, as the Chair of the meeting, to wait for her to vote. So if she had made that comment, she had not asked me in that meeting. I'm not sure if she asked the Vice Chair of that meeting, but I just wanted to make it clear that we would have entertained that if the question was asked. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. When I heard from the Minority Leader when she quoted from the second page, she quoted subsection number 5 and she tied that to some filming possibly, from people up in the Gallery. I don't read that into this resolution whatsoever, because if you looked at all the Whereas paragraphs and how it was framed, this is about the taxpayers who pay for what's called a Legislative Broadcast Program. We began that cable casting when the House of Representatives chose to do this on a pilot basis in 1994. What we did was we worked with 'Olelo Community Television to create this type of broadcast programming so people can view this.

"Now I think this policy is very appropriate because I know that in this House, when we want to send out newsletters and we're using taxpayers dollars, we actually run it through a Committee which we have the Minority and the Majority sitting on that Committee. And we want to make sure that when we're using taxpayer dollars, we're not using it for political or commercial purposes. And I think this is appropriate because basically we're mirroring that and saying like the newsletters, we want this Legislative Broadcast Program to make sure that there's a policy and review so that it's not being used inappropriately.

"But it really is about the House of Representative and their Legislative Broadcast Program through 'Olelo. It's not about all the other filming. I think that that's a misinterpretation of what this measure is trying to accomplish. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Will the Majority Leader yield to a question? The question is, is there a role for the Minority in the media policy of this House of Representatives? If so, why so? If not, why not?"

Representative B. Oshiro responded, stating:

"When you talk about the media policy, can you please refer to the House Rules or the House Financial Manual?"

Representative Ward: "The House Rules incorporated as the resolution, as well as that which is written in the Rules. Both."

Representative B. Oshiro: "Currently in the House Rules, there is no media policy. As far as the Financial Manual, I don't believe that there is a media policy.

"There is a policy that was issued on social networking. There is a policy that we have declared on certain things dealing with the media when it comes to the news media. But in terms of anything else, this is what we have before us."

Representative Ward: "The question is, is there a role for the Minority in this Body to speak to the public vis-à-vis this reso? Is there any role for the Minority in this reso? That's the question."

Representative B. Oshiro: "I believe you have it right now. Aren't you speaking? Thank you."

Representative Ward: "And that's as far as it goes."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate the ability to speak a second time. Just for some clarification. I do want to make a clarification because the Majority Floor Leader, I don't think heard what I was trying to say when I explained my concerns about this particular resolution.

"If she was listening to what I was saying, the ownership and the use of programming, I was specifically talking about the taxpayer dollars that are used when you record it, according to these cablecasts from 'Olelo internally, the reso that we're on, when you record that. You set your DVD player. You record that onto a DVD, but you're still recording the cablecast that is being addressed in this reso. So I think it's very much so in line with what we're talking about, because that recording is owned by the House of Representatives and therefore would go through you for approval if we needed to use that, or if we wanted to use that.

"Mr. Speaker, the other things that are not clear in this reso is that political or commercial use of this material is prohibited. We have to define political. What is political? Because if you have a disagreement, many people call that political. So if you have a disagreement and you're debating, what we're doing right here, people call it politics. People call it political all the time. So basically it's saying, you, somebody could interpret this, and they do. No. That's political. So that's why it's difficult to see. Are we really curbing access, public access, to what we do here at the Capitol.

"A lot of the times what you have are people who want to engage, but there's apathy out there because they don't know what we do, unless we come to their terms. And the alternative media sites, YouTube and all those things, allow us to do that. To go on their time to be able to catch up with what's going on here at the Capitol. To hear it from our voices, from our mouths.

"Mr. Speaker, I wanted to clarify another thing that the Majority Floor Leader said. She talked about the newsletter and how we have a great process. Well that, according to what my colleague here from Hawaii Kai was saying, that in the newsletter process, it doesn't say, 'Speaker shall determine and review the newsletter.' In that process it states that there is the Minority Leader, the Majority Leader, and the Speaker that takes a look at this material.

"So when we talk about this particular program, it really is not looking at this as saying how we don't have enough access out there or anything like that. What it truly is about is what kind of public access can we give, and that's why we're disagreeing with this resolution."

The Chair addressed Representative Finnegan, stating:

"Representative Finnegan, your time has expired on your second time.. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Let's proceed on, Members of the House. I think the Finance Committee Chair and Vice-Chair will have a lovely debate if this particular resolution is heard. And for those of the Minority Caucus who are on the Finance Committee, you'll get that opportunity once more to clarify the issue."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.R. No. 205, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION ESTABLISHING POLICIES FOR THE LEGISLATIVE BROADCAST PROGRAM'S CABLECASTS OF HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES' PROCEEDINGS," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine and Ward voting no, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Mizuno, M. Oshiro, Shimabukuro and Thielen being excused.

Representative Cabanilla, for the Committee on Housing presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 958-10), recommending that H.R. No. 63, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 959-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 115, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 63, HD 1, and H.C.R. No. 115, HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Brower rose in support of both measures and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Brower's written remarks are as follows:

"The Department of Human Services, in collaboration with the Department of Transportation, Department of Transportation Services of the City and County of Honolulu, and any other agencies or entities necessary, is urged to develop a plan to resolve issues related to homeless individuals living in abandoned vehicles, including a means of determining jurisdiction of roads whose jurisdiction is unclear.

"Homeless individuals living in abandoned vehicles may present a health and safety hazard to surrounding residents and businesses, particularly when there is broken glass, vehicle parts, and food scraps littering the area. Residents and businesses have also expressed concerns regarding criminal activity occurring in and around these abandoned vehicles, some of which are homes for homeless individuals.

"At times, the "abandoned" vehicles being used for habitation are parked on roads where jurisdiction is unclear.

"Chapter 290, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), identifies an abandoned vehicle, if not defined by county ordinance, as one "left unattended for a continuous period of more than twenty-four hours and it is unlawfully parked on any public highway or other public property or private lands defined as a setback, shoulder, easement, or right of way that is adjacent to or part of a public highway".

"Chapter 291C-112, HRS, prohibits individuals from using vehicles for "purposes of human habitation, whether or not the vehicle is designed or equipped for that purpose, while the vehicle is parked on any roadway, street, or highway or other public property between the hours of 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m."

"Chapter 291C-112, HRS, also prohibits such use of vehicles on private property at any time of the day without the authorization of the owner or occupant of the land.

"While these laws allow for the situation of homeless individuals living in abandoned vehicles to be dealt with in many cases, other cases are not as clear and the situation does not lend itself to an expeditious solution."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 63, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES, IN COLLABORATION WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION SERVICES OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU, AND ANY OTHER AGENCIES OR ENTITIES NECESSARY, TO DEVELOP A PLAN TO RESOLVE ISSUES RELATED TO HOMELESS INDIVIDUALS LIVING IN ABANDONED VEHICLES," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Mizuno, M. Oshiro, Shimabukuro and Thielen being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 115, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES, IN COLLABORATION WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION SERVICES OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU, AND ANY OTHER AGENCIES OR ENTITIES NECESSARY, TO DEVELOP A PLAN TO RESOLVE ISSUES RELATED TO HOMELESS INDIVIDUALS LIVING IN ABANDONED VEHICLES," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Mizuno, M. Oshiro, Shimabukuro and Thielen being excused.

Representative Cabanilla, for the Committee on Housing presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 960-10), recommending that H.R. No. 87, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.R. No. 87, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT TO SEEK REIMBURSEMENT FROM THE FEDERATED STATES OF MICRONESIA FOR SERVICES PROVIDED IN HAWAII TO MIGRANTS UNDER THE COMPACT OF FREE ASSOCIATION," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Mizuno, M. Oshiro, Shimabukuro and Thielen being excused.

Representative Cabanilla, for the Committee on Housing presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 961-10), recommending that H.C.R. No. 148, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Since its creation, the Joint Legislative Committee on Family Caregiving has strived to develop a comprehensive public policy program to support family caregivers who provide unpaid, informal assistance to persons sixty and older with physical or cognitive disabilities. This Committee has routinely made recommendations aimed at easing the burden of those who provide long term care.

Representative Takai rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As a member of the Hawaii National Guard, I would like to request that I be excused on this vote for Stand. Com. Rep. No. 984-10, HCR 268."

The Chair responded, stating:

"You're asking if you have a conflict of interest or to be excused at this point, since this is representing the total class. Would you like to be excused?

"The Chair would recommend that there is no conflict, because this a class of individuals."

At 1:18 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:21 o'clock p.m.

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do understand your ruling and with the ruling I am rising to speak against Stand. Com. Rep. No. 984-10. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This House Concurrent Resolution requests that the Auditor conduct a financial audit of the Hawaii Air National Guard.

"I have looked into this a little bit. In fact I had a chance to talk to General Lee and he assured both me and the Chair of Economic Revitalization, Business & Military Affairs that he would provide to us a copy of the audit report, the legal audit report as required by the federal government.

"In addition to that, because of the concerns raised regarding some issue of a promotion, or an issue of something that occurred in the Hawaii Air National Guard, he has given us assurances that he would be providing us with the information coming out of the Inspector General's report which he made a request for. I think the request for this report is not to our own Inspector General, but actually it's Inspector General of the United States Air Force all the way in Washington D.C.

"So I think from that standpoint we've been assured, I've been assured, and I hope this Body's been assured that our General, General Robert Lee and his staff, are not taking your concerns, as well as the authors of this resolution, lightly. And they would proceed in providing us with the information that is necessary.

"The final thing I'd like to mention is that the Auditor, our Auditor has a number of different requests before her and I do believe there are, from my perspective, many other higher priority audits that need to be done. So that is the reason why Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in opposition. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Not to support my fellow veteran, but because as a member of the Committee that heard the first-hand testimony on this issue. This is a personal grievance. We are going to get in the middle of it and we're going to retaliate with an audit. Mr. Speaker, that's unfair.

"There are more than 50,000 employees. If they have a grievance, they're going to come to the Floor because they have a connection with somebody, and then we're going to adjudicate it with an audit because there was a personal grievance.

"And I would attest that when General Ishikawa and General Lee say that this is a personal grievance, that's exactly what they mean. They're not spinning it. This is really a misplaced allocation of power if you will, of this Body on a personal situation which should be an embarrassment to the Armed Forces, as well as this Body, Mr. Speaker. This piece of legislation does not belong in this room. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. I just wanted to clarify some points. I'm a little confused because as far as I see it, the status sheet on this measure shows that it only came before the Committee on Legislative Management. I was present at that hearing. I didn't see that prior speaker present.

"In addition to that, there were nine people that came forward and submitted testimony, all in favor. There was no opposition, and on that basis, that's why the Chair recommended passage.

"So I am a little perplexed by the characterizations that this is some sort of 'witch hunt' or some kind of personnel matter because that was nothing I ever heard when I was present during the entire testimony. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to respond, stating:

"Point of information, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. You know I do understand the concern or the statements by the Majority Leader, but I do believe that if you take a look at the measure history, the measure status on this particular measure. It was re-referred. It was actually heard by a different Committee and was re-referred. Or if not this particular measure, there was another measure on the same topic, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I'd like to insert the words from the Majority Leader as if they were my own. And to also add that there was no testimony from anyone in opposition, or from General Lee or anyone from the National Guard. Mahalo."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Just a brief rebuttal. Mr. Speaker, all the Members are aware that we have a multi-Committee system. We have multiple referrals. I'm referring to the Committee dealing with military affairs where this was heard, and where those testimonies were given. This is not a fabrication. It was actual words before the Committee, and the decision of those people in the military saying that, was that it is a personal grievance.

"It was not Legislative Management which I do not sit on, so when the Majority Leader says I'm not aware of where those remarks came from, it's because it was a previous Committee. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. The Hawaii Air Guard and the Department of Defense in the Hawaii, State level, is wholly funded by federal funds and so therefore answerable to the national Department of Defense and the federal government. So I have no fear or any problems with what an audit would possibly bring that forth. So I am in opposition, and I'd like the words of the speaker from Pearl City adopted as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Saiki rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HCR No. 265 because its genesis stems from a personnel decision made by the Hawaii Air National Guard that has offended someone. In this respect, a financial audit is not appropriate. Rather, it should request a review of personnel decisions made by the Guard. Thank you."

Representative C. Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker, I don't know why people are afraid of an audit. This is an audit of the Air National Guard. What's the problem? We have civilian control. Just because General Lee says he's going to do all this, I've got to see it.

"He told us, and he told me a lot of things when I was the Chairman of Military Affairs, and I still haven't seen it. One was a financial statement dealing with Homeland Security money. In fact, he told me that I have to get a security clearance. When I was in the Air Force, I had a real high security clearance.

"So again, gentlemen and ladies, this is an audit. Let's see what happens. If it's a clean audit, fine. If not, then we've got some problems. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Concurrent Resolution 265. This resolution would request the State Auditor to conduct a financial audit of the Hawaii Air National Guard.

"I can only speculate that this resolution is about the command selection process under the guise of a financial audit. The language of this resolution states that "concerns regarding the reliability of the HIANG senior officer and command selection process have been raised." Federal and National Guard Bureau guidelines and procedures control the selection process of senior Air National Guard officers.

"If a member of the Hawaii Air National Guard has concerns with the command selection process, there are procedures in place for a member to address them. They could share their concerns with their chain of command or file a complaint with the State Department of Defense Inspector General. For these reasons, I am opposed to House Concurrent Resolution 265."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 265, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE AUDITOR TO CONDUCT A FINANCIAL AUDIT OF THE HAWAII AIR NATIONAL GUARD," was adopted, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, C. Lee, Marumoto, Pine, Saiki, Takai and Ward voting no, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Mizuno, M. Oshiro, Shimabukuro and Thielen being excused.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.C.R. No. 203, be adopted, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. This is one of those resos that I believe everybody can buzz around, and hug and hold. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. And may I have the stinging remarks of the Representative from Lihue entered in the record as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support of the stinging remarks also. And I have further written comments. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of House Concurrent Resolution 203. This resolution recognizes the efforts of the Kauai Beekeepers Association and other key stakeholders for their efforts to assist the Hawaii Department of Agriculture with education and prevention of invasive species like the Varroa mite.

"The Kauai Beekeepers Association's work on Varroa and other key bee pests is critical for the protection and sustainability of Hawaii's unique honeybee industry and sensitive ecosystem. This is especially crucial now with the Hawaii Department of Agriculture's reduced coverage and presence on Kauai due to the mandated reduction in force. In this regard, Mr. Speaker, I am in support of the resolution."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 203, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECOGNIZING THE EFFORTS OF THE KAUAI BEEKEEPERS ASSOCIATION AND OTHER KEY STAKEHOLDERS FOR THEIR EFFORTS TO ASSIST THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE WITH EDUCATION AND PREVENTION OF THE VARROA MITE AND OTHER INVASIVE SPECIES," was adopted, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Chang, Mizuno, M. "Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of Stand. Com. Rep. No. 993. Mr. Speaker, in strong support. It's really a no-brainer to not have the name of the sewage treatment plant at Fort Kamehameha called after King Kamehameha. This change from Kamehameha to something more culturally acceptable is certainly due.

"My only slight reservation is some of the language used in it and I'd like to acknowledge the Chair of Hawaiian Affairs for saying that it's a little bit awkward to use colonial term, 'divine right of kings' as to how the unity of the islands came about. So I would hope that the EBM Committee would tweak the language and perhaps get away from some of the colonial terminology. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"In strong support of Stand. Com. Rep. Nos. 998 and 999, with written comments. Thank you."

Representative Yamashita's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of House Concurrent Resolution 297 and House Resolution 214, which urges Google Inc. to select Hawaii as a test site to conduct the Google Gigabit Broadband Initiative. Google's "Fiber for Communities" experiment proposes to bring 1-gigabit-per second internet speed to one or more U.S. locations on a trial basis.

"Mr. Speaker, I believe that Hawaii is in a good position to be considered as a Google test site. In 2007, the Legislature established a Broadband Task Force. This Task Force was comprised of members from the private sector, the Legislature, federal, State and county government entities and the technology community.

"The purpose of this Task Force was to:

1. Remove barriers to broadband access, including wider access to public rights-of-way;

2. Identify opportunities for increased broadband deployment and adoption, including very high speed broadband services; and

3. Enable the creation and deployment of new advanced communication technologies in Hawaii.

"The Task Force laid the groundwork for broadband technology statewide and has already addressed many concerns that other states and municipalities have not looked at. Also, as an island state, our geographic location with varied topography and demographics from a dense metropolis to a sparsely populated rural environment speaks for itself.

"Hawaii would be the ideal test site for Google's "Fiber for Communities" experiment. Google will have the full support from all levels of government, the private sector and all of the communities across the State. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose in support of both measures and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in support of HR 214 and HCR 297, urging Google to select Hawaii as a test site to conduct the Google Gigabit Broadband Initiative. Hawaii is one of the most remote places on Earth, and the Internet is one of the few ways we're able to quickly and inexpensively connect to the rest of the world. But as important as it is to us, in 2009, Hawaii's download speed was ranked 47th in the country, which itself is ranked 28th in the world.

"A gigabit connection would provide Hawaii with speeds that are 100 times faster than the connections currently available in the United States. Google says it can provide this service at prices comparable to current broadband rates. Faster Internet speeds would contribute to efforts to brand Hawaii as a place for doing business. We can't be taken seriously as an APEC host, for example, if our connections are as slow as our morning traffic. Gigabit broadband would also allow for better distance learning and could attract more high-tech companies. At the very least, Google can increase the quality of our Internet experience, allowing us to stream media to our computers without clogging the tubes. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support HR 214 / HCR 297."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. As they say, time is of the essence. So this is a very timely resolution. May I insert additional written comments into the Journal, and may I have the written remarks of the Representative from Kula entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only)

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of these resolutions. When it comes to resolutions, I usually am reluctant to speak on such matters as more often than not they merely reflect a wish or desire of this Body. But as far as these resolutions go, – HR214 and HCR297 – they are different, as they have the potential to bring to our shores one of the biggest economic infrastructure projects to the State of Hawaii, and sends a strong signal that we in the State of Hawaii are ready, willing and able to assist Google in their endeavor to build a gigabit Internet system in Hawaii should we be chosen. These resolutions send a loud and powerful message that we in Hawaii are putting the effort and resources of the Legislature, as well as the State government behind whatever it takes to bring this exciting powerful project to Hawaii.

"Let's be clear, Mr. Speaker. This is more than just providing high speed state-of-the-art Internet access for our Hawaii residents. If this project were to be located in Hawaii, the results will go far beyond blazing Internet speeds for gaming, entertainment and research, and profoundly change the way services are delivered by government and the private sector to our people. With this gigabit Internet project, we could truly deliver a state-of-the-art Intelligent Traffic System to manage our traffic lights and disperse critical information electronically to cell phones and websites, as well as other media outlets. This project could also pave the way to implement state-of-the-art prisoner tracking and monitoring systems, which would allow for more paroles to be done safely and to free up our overcrowded jail space.

"Furthermore with this Gigabit Internet project, the way that our children are educated would also be profoundly improved and changed. Imagine if you will Mr. Speaker, classrooms that are able to view real-time instruction sessions around the world, as well as streaming video on various subjects by leading authorities in their fields. Think about a classroom at our University where the students are able to engage in real time projects with students at other universities from the United States and around the world simultaneously. This project would also help in the field of agriculture and allowing for smart water metering, as well as electronic bill of lading systems to allow for quicker inspections, more effective with less manpower. And in the field of health and medicine, this project would allow for the quick transfer of real time medical imaging and other information so that doctors can consult with each other and specialists outside of the State.

"In short Mr. Speaker, if these resolutions should lead to the selection of Hawaii as a test bed for the Google gigabit Internet project, then I feel it will be just as powerful and arguably more effective in transforming our economy and our lives for the better than any piece of legislation we have considered this Session. For these reasons and more Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of these resolutions. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted, and H.R. No. 214, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING GOOGLE INC. TO SELECT HAWAII AS A TEST SITE TO CONDUCT THE GOOGLE GIGABIT BROADBAND INITIATIVE," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Bertram, Herkes, M. Lee and Mizuno being excused; and

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with slight reservations. You know the Capitol grounds are important. They're not sacred, but the way that some of us remember when the Vietnam and Korean Memorial was put up, there was really a lot of pushback. I think what this calls for is a plan rather than a consensus. And without a consensus, I don't think this is going to get anywhere. I don't believe that the putting up of a hale or a Hawaiian hut is designated as to where it would be. The one with the kalo, the taro patch, I know there was a lot of enthusiasm to take away the smelly moat and put taro in there. It doesn't say that. But I think the real important thing is to make sure that when this comes through, that there is a consensus that's built, not just a design that is suggested. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising with very strong reservations against these resolutions. They are focused at changing the Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism into a facilitative agency that serves as a clearinghouse for other entities.

"Mr. Speaker, the Energy Division within the Department of Business and Economic Development has been the real driver on the clean energy program that we have in this State and the focus of this resolution and HCR would gut that intention. I think it's very unwise."

Representative Takai rose in support of both measures and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of these resolutions. The purpose of these resolutions are to urge the establishment of a temporary Hawaii Veterans Court within the Judiciary to help address prison overcrowding.

"Veterans Court is uniquely positioned to identify veterans who have combat related mental health and substance abuse conditions. The court is designed to connect these veterans to a broad array of treatment and support services while strictly monitoring their rehabilitation progress. Upon completion the graduate will develop into a law abiding citizen.

"Physical injuries are easy to identify and treat, but the injuries of war are not always physical or visible because exposure to combat can often cause damage to the emotional and mental state of returning service members.

"I have witnessed first-hand the devastation to our soldiers and their families when they turn to drugs or abuse various substances. In many instances, their substance abuse is compounded by combat stress related conditions like Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI), depression, etc. Lives that have honorably served our country during the war disintegrate and are shattered when they return home and are not helped. We owe our soldiers better.

"Hawaii's Judiciary has achieved significant success in problem solving and treatment courts that rehabilitate offenders, reduce incarceration costs, and ensure public safety. The Hawaii Veterans Court will be the only Veterans Court in the nation to expand and enhance services to target National Guard and Reserve soldiers. With the Iraq and Afghanistan wars, 30 percent of the troops are National Guard and Reserve soldiers. Once these soldiers return, their experience with reintegration into civilian life is vastly different than active duty soldiers and warrants tailored solutions.

"For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted, and H.R. No. 200, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE HAWAII SUPREME COURT TO CONVENE A COMMITTEE TO IDENTIFY AT WHICH POINT VETERANS AND RETURNING RESERVISTS AND NATIONAL GUARD MEMBERS ENTER THE JUSTICE SYSTEM, AND HOW BEST TO ADDRESS THEIR NEEDS, INCLUDING DEVELOPING A VETERANS COURT," was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Bertram, Herkes, M. Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, written comments in support. I'd also like to read from the Star-Bulletin, this morning their editorial entitled, "Hawaii a natural place for Obama library site," and I just wanted to read the last paragraph because I think it's appropriate.

"An invitation in the form of a resolution by the Legislature - even Republicans are aboard on this one - is a logical expression of Hawaii's interest in a Presidential Library in whatever form desired by the first president native to Hawaii."

"In addition, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to request that this editorial from the Star-Bulletin today be inserted into the Journal. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of these resolutions. The purpose of these resolutions are to help provide access for the people of Hawaii to documents, records, and artifacts of the first United States President from Hawaii by urging President Barack Obama to select a location in Hawaii as the site for his presidential library.

"President Obama's election in 2008 sent a powerful message to the World: A' hapa' kid who was born and raised in Hawaii can become the leader of the Free World.

"This Hawaii-based library will provide the people of Hawaii and the people throughout the World with access to documents and artifacts of the Obama Administration. Hawaii would be the most appropriate site for President Obama's library because he was born here and because Hawaii shares a unique perspective through the lens of the world. We are the "Melting Pot of the World," where the East meets the West.

"There are numerous possibilities for the site of the presidential library, including Punahou Schools, where he completed high school. You also may want to consider building the library at or near the campus of the University of Hawaii at West Oahu, which is in Kapolei.

"We in Hawaii would deeply appreciate the opportunity to advance the study and understanding of President Barack Obama's life and career. For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

Representative Takai also submitted the following editorial:

EDITORIAL

Hawaii a natural place for Obama library site
March 29, 2010

Hawaii legislators are poised to urge President Barack Obama to choose the state where he was born and raised as the site of his presidential library. While Hawaii may be an underdog to Chicago for the selection, lawmakers should be satisfied if Obama rejects the traditional library in a way that could embrace both applicants.

The University of Chicago, where Obama taught constitutional law for 12 years, has approached the White House several times since his inauguration about planting his presidential archive and museum in its Hyde Park neighborhood, Bloomberg News reported last October.

Chicago's candidacy could be formidable. In addition to Obama's professorial days at the university, first lady Michelle Obama was a vice president of its medical center, political adviser David Axelrod attended the university and senior adviser Valerie Jarrett was on the school's board of trustees.

But it would be presumptuous to guess what Obama will desire as a presidential library or the equivalent; don't be surprised if he will want something unique.

When asked about such a library, "He didn't know if that would be something he would want to do," close friend Eric Whitaker told Bloomberg.

Whitaker said Obama talked instead about the possibility of a "virtual" library that would avoid paying "homage" to him.

Whitaker said Obama seemed more interested in the kind of advocacy center that Jimmy Carter erected in Atlanta. At one end of the two-story structure is the library and museum, which are open to the public, and at the other end is the Carter Center, a nonprofit foundation that operates two dozen programs on health, human rights and conflict-resolution issues around the world. Among the designers was the Honolulu architectural firm of Lawton, Umemura & Yamamoto.

Presidential libraries have been consuming projects of presidents over the past 70 years in their retirement. That may seem unbecoming of an ex-president who will be in his early or mid-50s when departing the White House, depending on whether he serves a second term.

Chicago would be a fine central location for an Obama "center" focused on domestic issues, while Honolulu would be a logical launching pad for foreign programs, perhaps in concert with the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii's Manoa campus. (Ahem. Unlike the University of Chicago, Mr. President, UH is a public institution.)

Hawaii "could be a home away from home for the first family and their work after the presidency," said Robert Perkinson, a UH American Studies professor who is preparing a presidential library proposal.

At this point, Obama's presidency is young, but already historic: He is the first African-American elected this nation's leader; health care reform has passed; he has received the Nobel Peace Prize. As it is concerning his unfolding legacy, it is still early to reach a conclusion about what an Obama library would be, or what else it might be.

In the meantime, an invitation in the form of a resolution by the Legislature – even Republicans are aboard this one – is a logical expression of Hawaii's interest in a presidential library in whatever form desired by the first president native to Hawaii."

As a district that has a number of the consulates in our district, our multi-ethnic heritage in the Liliha-Nuuanu corridor but also as a graduate in ethnic studies at the University of Hawaii, I think that this is really special. It was the first program, I think, in the United States. The Chairman, Mr. Franklin Odo, was an incredible professor and a real asset to Hawaii. Thank you."

"In support with reservations, and I just have one comment. These resolutions urge the City and County of Honolulu to lease the Ewa Villages Mansion and Cemetery to the Ewa Historical Society to protect, preserve, and restore these historical places. I just feel a little uncomfortable that we are urging the City to be involved in a financial transaction with a private entity. I wish the private entity wasn't named so that we wouldn't be passing a measure that personally benefits a private entity. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I would like a ruling on a potential conflict, Mr. Speaker. I'm the Director of the Board for the Ewa Historical Society," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Cabanilla continued in support, stating:

"I also want to make a short statement in support, in strong support. Ewa Villages was the first planned community in the history of Hawaii. It's an agricultural community unlike any other community in the United States.

"All the historic entities that have been there are kind of forgotten now, Mr. Speaker. Nobody is taking care of them and they're just languishing in disrepair and are termite eaten.

"Also, to the point about the resolution naming the Historical Society, there was a comma after that. It says, 'or any other interested historical society.' So it's not specific to the Ewa Historical Society. The initiative is coming from them, but the City and County is also being requested to give it to any other entity that would be interested and qualified to take on this responsibility, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, just in strong support. We need to preserve our history, especially the one out in Ewa. Anytime we preserve our history, we're helping our children to be educated. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted, and H.R. Representative B. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committees be adopted, and that H.R. No. 192, and H.C.R. No. 267, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support. These measures may not be written the best way, or in the most important way of saying it, but it's the most important issue that we get our kids back in school and this directs it. All parties. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just in strong support with written comments."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support to H.R. 192 and H.C.R 267, which strongly urges the Governor, the Board of Education, and the Hawaii State Teacher's Association to reopen negotiations to reduce Furlough Fridays.

"As a former teacher, it pains me to see publications such as the New York Times talking about how Hawaii has the fewest school days and that our education system is in dire straits. The children of Hawaii are our greatest resource, and we owe it to them to provide a scholastic environment that is conducive to success, not failure. Children need consistency and routine when it comes to education and the current system of Furlough Fridays provides neither. Furloughs do not only harm our children, but they also put an unneeded burden upon the parents.

"In these economic times families are having enough trouble putting food on the table and clothes on their children backs. These furlough days require parents to take days off from work, seek daycare, and add unnecessary worry about their children's educational future. Being a former teacher allows me a certain insight into this problem. I know from years of teaching experience that we must get our children back into school. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of both measures and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of HR 192 and HCR 267, strongly urging the Governor, the Board of Education, the Department of Education, and the Hawaii State Teachers Association to reopen negotiations to reduce Furlough Fridays.

"The mere fact that we are still discussing the issue of depriving our children of instructional time in school is a travesty. The Board and Department of Education, as the employer group, need to ensure a reasonable contract with the Hawaii State Teachers Association. HSTA must ensure that in trying to negotiate the best contract for their members, it does not ultimately jeopardize our children's future.

"There are many systemic issues plaguing our public education system that cannot continue to be ignored. I believe that these issues, including Furlough Fridays must be addressed. Furlough Fridays are the most visible and immediate problem, but it is not the only issue robbing our children of a quality education. It is time to resolve Furlough Fridays once and for all in a manner that not only gets our children back into school, but ultimately allows the State of Hawaii to live within its means. Once this issue is resolved, we must fundamentally address the deficiencies that have existed for decades in the Department of Education.

"Mr. Speaker, there is no more time or room left for 'baby steps.' We need education reform now or else we will find ourselves in this same situation in the future."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, very much. In strong support Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in support of both measures and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support for House Resolution 192 and House Concurrent Resolution 267. These resolutions would urge the Governor, the Board of Education, the Department of Education, and the Hawaii State Teachers Association to reopen negotiations to reduce Furlough Fridays.

"These resolutions are a step in the right direction. It would encourage the aforementioned parties that we too want to reduce Furlough Fridays and get Hawaii's children back to school.

"It is my hope that once negotiations are re-opened, that Furlough Fridays are not only reduced, but completely eliminated."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committees were adopted, and H.R. No. 192, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION STRONGLY URGING THE GOVERNOR, THE BOARD OF EDUCATION, THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, AND THE HAWAII STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION TO REOPEN NEGOTIATIONS TO REDUCE FURLOUGH FRIDAYS," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Takai and Thielen being excused; and

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Reservations, and if I could be permitted a couple of comments. These resolutions urge Congress to pass the 'Cash for Clunkers' legislation in the Second Session of the 111th Congress, and I think it's still debatable whether this was a successful program or not. For some people it was very successful, financially, for their businesses. However, as we look to protect the finances of our constituents who are already now overburdened with a new healthcare bill and other tax increases that are coming their way, I think if we're going to fund or bailout some people, I think we should focus on bailing out the American people first. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted, and H.R. No. 73, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING CONGRESS TO PASS "CASH FOR CLUNKERS" LEGISLATION IN THE SECOND SESSION OF THE 111TH CONGRESS," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Finnegan voting no, and with Representatives Takai and Thielen being excused; and They're constantly telling us what they're going through, whether it's balancing their budget or anything like that, and they just don't have time. So I don't think that we should be putting something like this on their plate right now during this season. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Regarding HCR No. 284, I am in opposition to this mainly because I thought we were putting the cart before the horse. We were planning to redevelop the Aloha Stadium before we have a new stadium. I believe we need to plan for a new stadium because it takes so much lead time. It could be at least ten years before we have a stadium, and I think we certainly need one for our University and all other entities that make use of it.

"Also, the Stadium Authority testified in opposition to this measure. There was testimony in favor, but I don't think there was anybody there to whom we addressed questions, and I had several questions in my mind.

"But this resolution basically asks us to redevelop Aloha Stadium and demolish it immediately. To plan for the demolition of the stadium and salvaging of any scrap and debris. I was quite taken aback that this might move ahead. It asks for the engagement of planning and engineering for a low and moderate income housing development along with appropriate mixed uses, and the inclusion of a mass transit station at the Aloha Stadium site.

"I would assume that this will entail some funds to DAGS who would do this planning report. It would also call for, as I said before, the demolition of the stadium and the salvaging of scrap and debris.

"It does ask for a development of a new stadium to be developed publicly in joint venture with a private developer or on a turnkey or lease back basis. It would also ask to study whether this new stadium should be under the Stadium Authority or transferred to the University of Hawaii or another new State agency.

"So there were so many big moves in this particular resolution and very little discussion on it. There were very little proponents there to speak for it, so I do hope that there could be some debate on this. Perhaps someone could educate me on this.

"I ask the Finance Committee to look at it very carefully to see whether this is the direction we want to go. I really hope that we have plans for a new stadium before we knock down the old one. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 284, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT

Representative Hanohano provided the following translation:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong opposition. This is not the time to sell this land. This is good land. We need to move forward to take care of this land. If we take care of the land, the land will take care of the people of Hawaii. We all need to work with righteousness. Thank you.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with strong reservations and I have a few comments here at the moment. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

"I'm not sure that we actually have to legislate for ourselves to have a one-day summit. And while I appreciate the sentiments of healing and creating positive change that is needed for the State Historic Preservation Division, I think we're all aware that the National Park Service issued a scathing letter to Director Thielen and also a report indicating that not only does SHPD have severe deficiencies, but it is a high risk grantee. We stand to lose $1.4 million if the federal money is withdrawn from SHPD.

"So while a summit might reveal the issues that we may be aware of, I believe that they're the symptoms of a deeper issue, the least of which is the qualifications of this supervisor. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am with reservations on this measure as well. It started off as an audit which I think is desperately needed given the revelation of federal National Park Service. Again, a one day summit, as the Representative from Aina Hana said, this may be something that we can already do, but it's a management audit that we need for this division. Thank you."

b. Chairs shall ensure that meetings convene and reconvene at scheduled times. If none of the chairs of one of the Committees are present within 15 minutes of the scheduled meeting time, the chairs of the other Committee shall have the names of the absent chairs paged through the State Capitol public address system.

c. If none of the absent chairs are present within 30 minutes of the scheduled meeting time, the chairs present shall inform the members of the public present that the Conference Committee cannot be convened or reconvened, and that, pursuant to 4c of these Committees on Conference Procedures, 24-hour notice shall be provided for a subsequent meeting of the Conference Committee.

A quorum shall be a majority of the House Committee managers and a majority of the Senate Committee managers and shall include a majority of the chairs of the Conference Committee for their respective chamber.

c. The lead chair (or the lead chair's designee) representing their respective chamber shall call the roll and be the recorder of the quorum and the votes on that measure for that chamber. (Draft sample attached).

For example, if after naming a Conference Committee on a House measure, the House managers of the Conference Committee decide to agree to the amendments in the Senate draft (SD) of the measure, then only the House managers of the Conference Committee shall vote on the measure, returning it to the House in its SD form. For such action, only a quorum of the Conference Committee managers representing the chamber from which the measure originated need to be present. a. Conference Committees shall conclude their negotiations by 6:00 p.m. to allow adequate time for final preparation of the bills and Conference Committee Reports.

12. Electronic Transfer

Should a Conference Committee for which the vehicle is a Senate bill decide to use a proposal drafted by the House, the House chair shall have the House proposal electronically transferred to the appropriate Senate office so that the Conference Draft can be prepared. The converse shall apply to House bills with proposals drafted by the Senate that the Conference Committee agrees to.

Representative Marumoto rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"SB No. 2745, SD2, HD1 updates the Uniform Controlled Substances Act. This bill does, among other things, restore the emergency scheduling of Schedule I controlled substance Salvia divinorum and its constituent Salvinorin A as a hallucinogenic substance. I am in favor of this bill, particularly retaining the sections regarding Salvia divinorum and Salvinorin A.

"Salvia, also known as Maria Pastora, Sage of the Seers, Divine's Sage, Sally-D, and Magic Mint, needs a warm climate to grow and usually comes from Mexico and Central America. It has been used by Native Americans as a hallucinogenic.

"Salvia looks like a simple house plant without any distinguishing characteristics or smells. The drug can be either smoked or eaten and usually takes effect within 30 seconds, with effects that last between 30 minutes to one hour. An unfortunate side effect of the drug can be loss of bowel control.

"The DEA is aware of Salvia divinorum and is evaluating the plant for possible scheduling. As with any hallucinogenic drug, bad effects include DUI's and accidents as well as health effects and even possibly death from overdose. Here in Hawaii there have been reported cases of adverse reactions to the drug on Maui. The potential for another drug disaster is present so I am in agreement to add salvia to the list of controlled substances. The Senate took out the sections regarding salvia from this bill and the House restored them. I urge the Conference Committee to retain the sections on salvia."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2745, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Chong, Morita and Souki being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The measure proposes to allow military personnel deployed outside Hawaii on federal active duty to cancel or suspend health club membership at any time during the contract term under certain conditions and requires pro rata refund of fees.

"I believe that this measure would resolve conflicts when active duty military personnel are placed on orders to deploy outside Hawaii. This measure will clarify conditions under which health clubs should honor federal deployment orders issued to active duty military members.

"Military members enter into agreements with health clubs in good faith and have no control over deployment orders issued by the federal government. For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations with a couple of brief comments. I think it's well-taken because a lot of audits that are done get neglected and put on the shelf, and those that are 'hot' should be in here, but this has all of them, and I think we're going to put the public to sleep because some of the audits don't find out anything. They're boring, and this kind of has a one-size-fits-all. Those that are deserving should have a 'may' rather than probably a 'shall'. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Just short comments in opposition, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. With what we're facing and the amount of work that our Executive, as well as the Legislature is doing especially with our budget crunch, I'll be voting no on this bill. Mr. Speaker, the Majority has the opportunity to pull and set informational briefings pretty much at any time, so I think we should have the language of 'may' instead of 'shall'. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2547, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SMALL BOAT HARBORS," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Aquino, Chong, Morita and Souki being excused.

Representatives Ito and Cabanilla, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources and the Committee on Housing presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1110-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2408, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2408, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise in support with some reservations. I'd like to make a couple comments. This bill, Senate Bill 2408 was 'gut and replaced' with House Bill 2849, and just upon further analysis I believe, this actually may hurt housing development in the State of Hawaii and our economy.

"It zeroes out all housing credits. It does not increase growth by doing so, and would enrich a few developers that hold housing credits currently. A small business owner might not be able to afford the compliance with this if this becomes an Act. I will reserve further comments on Third Reading."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. No. 2408, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING DEVELOPMENT," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Ching and Finnegan voting no, and with Representatives Aquino, Chong, Morita and Souki being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

At 12:55 o'clock p.m. Representative M. Lee requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:00 o'clock p.m.

Representative Takai: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A few days ago on March 23rd we had a very unique and special ceremony here on the Floor of the House. We recognized families of fallen service members. I recall Mr. Speaker, the time that you and I met in 2005 in your office to talk a little bit about this concept and I can think of two things today about that first meeting.

"The first one is, I don't think we both realized that we would still be doing it; and the second one is, I don't think that we would have anticipated how much of a profound impact we've had on these families. And we hear it almost daily how much they appreciate all of our efforts.

"So Mr. Speaker, I want to thank you for not only giving me the opportunity to introduce and shepherd that bill through the Legislature, but for giving me the opportunity to once again coordinate this year's Hawaii Medal of Honor Ceremony. But it took many, many people and I'd like to at this time acknowledge some of them.

"First, I'd like to first thank all the staff here and in the Senate. House Chief Clerk, Pat Mau-Shimizu and her staff; Senate Clerk, Carol Taniguchi and her staff; House Sergeant-at-Arms Kevin Kuroda and his staff; Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Ben Villaflor and his staff; and Linda Oamilda in the House Majority Staff Office and her staff.

"We did get a lot of support and assistance from the military. And I wanted to recognize Dennis Fujii from the US Pacific Command, who helped us with coordinating the ceremony's participants, and Leighton Siu who helped us with protocol.

"I also wanted to mention some individuals who helped us throughout the year in identifying the people who we recognized last week Tuesday. From the Army, we worked with Kole Miller, the Chief of Protocol for the 25th Infantry Division; and Captain George M. Keller. From the Navy, we had Denise Emsley. From the Air Force, we had Minnie Lanier. And from the Marines, we had Colonel (retired) Chris Blanchard.

"In addition Mr. Speaker, as all of you noticed, the Medal itself is beautiful. I wanted to again acknowledge Sergeant First Class Aaron Pollick from the Hawaii Army National Guard, who came up with the initial design which has come to symbolize much more than the medal itself.

"But with that, a lot of other people participated, namely Symbol Arts who minted the Medal. We had Kent Untermann and Valerie Wang from Pictures Plus who did the assembly and the framing. Rose Lee from Rose Lee's Alterations who helped us sew the ribbons. And Ty and Cindy Tamanaha from Awardline who helped us with the plaques.

"In addition Mr. Speaker, I would like to acknowledge those who helped us enrich the experiences for the families who travel here to attend the event. We worked closely with the Pearl Harbor Historic Sites – the USS Bowfin Submarine Museum and Park, the Battleship Missouri Memorial, the Pacific Aviation Museum-Pearl Harbor and the World War II Valor in the Pacific National Monument and they came through with support for the families. The Hale Koa Hotel and the Polynesian Cultural Center came through as well, and we worked specifically with the Hawaii Hotel Association to provide discount hotel rates for participating hotels and for the honoree families. And I would like to also add that this year we're very fortunate to receive the support of the Princess Kaiulani, the Sheraton Princess Kaiulani Hotel, who provided free hotel rooms for our families. All of these organizations and entities helped us as we helped the families make this special visit to Hawaii.

"We also had a beautiful reception following the ceremony and I wanted to thank Pat Mau-Shimizu and her staff again, Tish Mercado from Representative McKelvey's office and Carole Hagihara from Representative Choy's office for coordinating this effort. A big mahalo also goes to Denise Liu who coordinated the check-in table and Tammy Tengan for the programs. In addition, Reyna Kaneko and the Girl Scout Council of Hawaii for their gift of Girl Scout cookies distributed to each of the families being honored. I also wanted to thank our members who were hosts to these families. I think that Representative Ward's recommendation a few weeks ago really enhanced and really helped the families this year, and I hope that we will continue this in years to come.

"Many people were asking about the 'Olelo Broadcast and I wanted to make mention again, Mr. Speaker, that Capitol TV will be graciously providing a DVD for each family, both present and not present at last Tuesday's ceremony and they will also be providing one copy for each of us.

"I wanted to recognize the Planning Committee. Senate President Colleen Hanabusa, you Mr. Speaker, Senator Will Espero, and Representative Angus McKelvey. In addition, we got support from Major General Robert Lee.

"And we all know as Representatives Mr. Speaker, that much of our success and the things that we do here in this Chamber, and the State Capitol, as well as the communities that we represent, are a direct result of our staff. As I did last year and for the years prior, I wanted to especially thank Lisa Vargas from my staff. And as I said before, our staff makes us what we are. But more importantly, Lisa Vargas, my office manager, made us, the House of Representatives, the State Senate, the entire Legislature and the State of Hawaii, she made us all look good throughout the nation. This has become an ongoing project over the last five years and Lisa continues to work with the military throughout the year to identify service members and contact every single family we have had the privilege to honor and award our medal.

"This medal went and continues to go to families with Hawaii ties, and so far, as you know, as of January 15, 2010, we had a total of 268 medals awarded. And unfortunately, however, the list continues to grow and we will unfortunately be having another ceremony next year.

"So Mr. Speaker, at this time I'd like to ask you and the Members of this House to recognize everybody that I mentioned and if we could give them a round of applause. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker. As he has commended and thanked others Mr. Speaker, would it be appropriate that we thank Representative Mark Takai for the excellent job that's he brought us. Thank you, Mark."

Representative McKelvey: "Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker and Members. Just to let everybody know, you're all invited to Room 329. We're having a lunch with 'ono grindz,' as I was instructed by the Speaker to announce to everyone. It is hosted by the USO Hawaii. Come on up and meet the good men and women of the USO and the military. I hope to see you there."

Representative Ching: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to announce that, I think it was mentioned earlier, today is a special day with the signing of legislation to create a special holiday for St. Damien. I feel it's important to mention this because my district is associated with the Catholic Faith.

"Many may not be aware, as I was not aware, that actually Catholics were oppressed. Catholics were rebuffed here in the State of Hawaii. And if it wasn't but for the edict of the King of France, that they were allowed to be here.

"Hence my district named after Liliha, she was the wife of the first-ever baptized Catholic Chief Boki, and that is why Liliha has Bachelot Street after the first priest Bachelot, as well as the Catholic Charities, St. Francis, and others at Cathedral School.

"But their donation, the charitable acts of the Catholic Faith are renowned. And so on behalf of everyone here that knows of the Catholics contribution to Hawaii, you know that Father Damien is integral to that. I wanted to announce that."

Representative M. Lee, for the Committee on Finance requested a waiver of the 48-hour advanced notice requirement for the purpose of hearing and having decision making on the following measures, and the Chair "so ordered.

Decision making will be held today at 2:00 p.m. in Room 308 on the following measure previously heard on Wednesday, March 17:

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented two reports:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that notwithstanding the recommendations contained in Standing Committee Report No. 1101-10 and Standing Committee Report No. 1102-10, that H.R. No. 11, and H.C.R. No. 49, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"I strongly support the motion, Mr. Speaker. I think that's a very wise thing to do and I appreciate this step by the Majority Caucus. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as the Chair of the Gender Equity Caucus of the Minority Caucus, we are fully in support of this motion. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recommit, stating:

"In opposition to recommital Mr. Speaker, and I would like to give a few comments. For the last 23 years of my life that I have served in the regular Army, as well as the Army Reserve, I have been a proponent of gender equality and gender equity, Mr. Speaker. And I have always voiced that we women are just as capable as men.

"To recommit this bill will be to admit that men always have the upper hand on women, and although there are a lot of women who may not agree with me, I think this underlying measure is a step to say that we are just as capable, even in the field of aggression or otherwise.

"So I would like to state for the record that this is a step in the opposite direction, as far as obtaining gender equity for women. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just want to respond to the former speaker. I would like to just note that the Domestic Violence Action Center makes it very clear that the specialized domestic violence programs are dedicated to helping all victims, and stopping domestic violence whenever it occurs.

"It recognizes that domestic violence affects everyone: women, men and children. And while 85% of all victims are women, men are victims in 15% of the cases. So they're making it very clear that these services are available to male and female victims, and treatment is available to male and female offenders.

"I would also like to just briefly note that the Hawaii State Coalition Against Domestic Violence states that domestic violence services in the State of Hawaii are committed to helping victims and ending domestic violence regardless of the gender of the perpetrator. Programs are accessible and available to provide support to both male and female victims, and treat both male and female offenders.

"So our system is gender neutral, and it's operating well. Both of those domestic violence providers testified in opposition to these resolutions. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Members, we are voting on the motion to recommit these two resolutions and not on the merit of the resolutions. But if you would like to enter your comments, that is fine."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the motion to recommit and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I stand in support of recommittal of House Resolution 11 and House Concurrent Resolution 49. The general intent of these resolutions, to study the causes and effects of domestic violence, is commendable. Unfortunately, last month noted the fifth death related to domestic violence in Hawaii for 2010. All but one of these individuals were female. The lone exception was a male who killed himself after attempting to murder his former girlfriend at a Kailua bowling alley. The problem of domestic violence is tragically prevalent in our State, and more attention being paid to it will help us address the root causes of these destructive social behaviors.

"However, the means with which these resolutions seek to study domestic violence are misdirected at a time when budget constraints call for more well-defined measures if we hope to accomplish our goal of better understanding and fighting domestic violence. Ordering an already cut and crippled Department of Human Services to perform another study while the department is experiencing massive layoffs and restructuring is legislative micro-management at the worst possible time. In addition to budget and staff cuts already sustained in 2009, DHS is presently facing cuts which will result in the loss of 228 full-time positions. The appropriate agencies that may be better suited for the study being called for are the Department of the Attorney General and the Prosecutor's Offices of the various counties. Finally, at a time when services to victims of domestic violence are diminishing because of state budget cuts and declining donations, it would also be inappropriate to demand these non-profit services to perform statistical analyses above and beyond what they are already doing.

"Much has been done in the last decade in Hawaii to bring attention to domestic violence. I believe everyone in this Chamber is committed to addressing this terrible social problem afflicting all of our communities. However, these legislative measures as drafted now would not accomplish our goals at this time and these resolutions should be recommitted."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.R. No. 11, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES TO INVESTIGATE THE INCIDENCE OF DOMESTIC ABUSE PERPETRATED BY WOMEN AGAINST MEN IN HAWAII," was recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative Cabanilla voting no, and with Representatives Chang, Herkes and Luke being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 49, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES TO INVESTIGATE THE INCIDENCE OF DOMESTIC ABUSE PERPETRATED BY WOMEN AGAINST MEN IN HAWAII," was recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative Cabanilla voting no, and with Representatives Chang, Herkes and Luke being excused.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1111-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2834, SD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2834, SD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I would also cast a no vote. I do not believe we should offer deductions for gambling which is an illegal activity. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2834, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Marumoto and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Chang, Herkes and McKelvey being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1112-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2395, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2395, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to ask for a ruling on potential conflict on SB 2395. At my law firm, I do believe we represent HSTA on ERISA issues, but I don't work on that case. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like the clerk to register a with reservations vote for me on this one.

"Thank you. I just wanted to mention a couple things since we're on Second Reading. Just for the Members to contemplate. This bill basically extends the VEBA program, the VEBA Trust for the teachers by six months until December 2010. And the reason for that is, as we all know, there are some issues concerning the current operations of the Employee Union Trust Fund. And those concerns really are in terms of the amount of staffing and ability for the Trust to adequately address the concerns of the current members.

"You may not know, but I believe and still trust that come July 1st, I think open enrollment for the next year should begin shortly, and we're going to go through this whole thing all over again.

"The last one that we did was in my eyes, poorly implemented. It was a challenge for everybody, not to mention a challenge for all our personnel officials throughout the State and counties. And I just can't imagine us doing another open enrollment for a new year which will be a full year, July 1st to June 30th of next year, but also to deal with the teachers.

"Having said that, I don't think the EUTF is even going to be ready this December to take on the additional teachers even if we decide to do that. So my reservations are twofold. Number one, is I still continue to support the continuation of the EUTF. And number two, if we do decide that it's no longer beneficial to the State and we decide to consolidate the teacher's into the EUTF, I do believe that the December deadline is still going to be very difficult for the EUTF to meet. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I also rise on this which is the correct bill this time, with reservations which are as the other speaker indicated, except I wanted to note one foot note that in the Finance Committee, we had the auditor's report and then we had HSTA's consultant who was there. And many of us, and I take partial guilt for that, were probably partially 'brain dead,' because we had been doing so much Finance work. During that hearing, there was a lot on the agenda so we never heard the full other side of the story. But I know we're hearing the other full side of the story from the EUTF, in that it is near insolvent. And if not insolvent, losing a million per year. The point is, it's in serious trouble. It makes VEBA look all the better. So as we cut this one out in favor of something, that which may be stronger, in effect, it may be weaker. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2395, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BUDGET," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Chang, Herkes and McKelvey being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1113-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2405, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2405, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition with a couple of brief comments. Mr. Speaker, just a brief reminder that this is job killer bill number 7, and to be mindful of the context that in the three quarters of the last year, we lost 46,000 jobs. When these rules of the business change, the employees are going to suffer because they're the ones that are going to be cut.

"So we're trying to make the budget balance, but at the same time, the cost that it's going to take to clean up the mess when the businesses that hire 80% of all our employees can't make their payroll. They're going to cut employees. So is it 'penny wise and pound foolish'? That's why it's a job killer. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I seem to be very contrary this morning. I am in opposition to this bill. I think mainly because I have a real aversion to the Senate Bill which institutes the streamline sales tax and raises the general excise tax. I think those are big job killers.

"But also, the House Draft 1 will cap itemized deductions and I think an unintended consequence of capping these deductions may reduce contributions to charities and other worthwhile causes because a taxpayer's contribution deductions will be limited. So I caution the Conference Committee to please consider this very carefully. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"A no vote for me please, for the same reason that was just mentioned."

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote. Thank you. And just two comments as we ponder this measure for Third Reading next week. In 2007, the University of Hawaii Medical School made a commitment to us all of us and said that they needed additional general fund support for two years. So we actually wrote a proviso into the budget and provided them with that increase. We also gave them this bill and they said they only needed it for four years and they'll figure things out. Everything will work out. Well today, we see this bill and it extends the lapse date from 2011, to 2015. It basically doubles the amount of time that they're requesting that from us. That's number one.

"Number two, I do know that we have a critical shortage of physicians in Hawaii. But you know, supporting the Medical School does not, I repeat does not guarantee that we will increase the amount of doctors in Hawaii.

"I made this statement numerous times, and I'll make it again today. That if we want to ensure that our tax dollars, hard earned tax dollars from the taxpayers of this State goes to support the increase of doctors, we're going to need to require that any and all students that choose to go to the UH Medical School must, must stay in Hawaii to practice after they're done. After they're done with their residency and other requirements like that. There's no requirement. So if you take a look at the number of students that graduate from the UH Med School and then take their residency on the mainland, take a look at how many people come back.

"I talked to the Dean and he said that when they go away to, let's say, Los Angeles for their residency, they fall in love, etc. I say, that's fine, but there's a price to pay. If you fall in love in LA and you decide not to come back to Hawaii, there should be a price. Because it costs us a tremendous amount of money to educate these medical school students, and we are hoping that they stay in Hawaii. I think we have to go beyond hope. So I would hope that over the next few days that our colleagues take a look at those two concerns. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I did want to disclose that my grandson is at the med school," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen continued in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I still oppose the bill."

Representative Belatti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing in support. I would like to make a brief comment regarding the extension of funds for the School of Medicine. Mr. Speaker, our predecessors before us made the decision, and supported the decision to develop the John A. Burns School of Medicine. Mr. Speaker, some of the previous speakers have highlighted that in the past, some promises were made and were unfortunately never followed through.

"However Mr. Speaker, the times that we're facing currently require us to look past that, and look at the issues before us. We do have a physician shortage, especially on the Neighbor Islands Mr. Speaker. Also, if we want our physicians to be homegrown Mr. Speaker, we have to make that investment into a school.

"Mr. Speaker, there are programs currently, where the School of Public Health, the School of Social Work, and other schools are not required or not pushed by members of my Caucus or any Caucus, to require that the graduates of University of Hawaii or any University within the UH System be required to remain here. If we're going to make that a policy, then we should make that statewide.

"It negates the fact just like other universities, major universities, both nationally internationally, in which they want their students to move abroad and be part of the greater community because it enhances the knowledge and expertise of the university that they graduated from. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this bill for a number of different reasons. And I would like our colleagues to just remember the quote that, 'our past is not our potential.' If we're looking at continuing to utilize the Tobacco Settlement Fund money for this particular endeavor, then I think we need to ask different questions. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1115, I would like to vote with reservations on this measure mainly because it's a new tax credit that we're establishing, and because it is a blank percentage. I don't know how much it will amount to, and I think hopefully we will have a better idea how much it will cost us before the final passage. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition with a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this bill effectively eliminates, kills, makes 'dead as a dodo,' Act 221, which we phased out last year. And now this one says that in the last six months, we're going to pull the rug from underneath you.

"The unfortunate thing is that this sends a signal to our budding high-tech entrepreneurs here, as well as across America, that Hawaii's closing the high-tech industry. The welcome mat's no longer there. And granted, some of these things may have been generous, but ratcheting it down rather than precipitously closing would have been preferential. So this one does it rather abruptly, and I'm sure the repercussions from the high-tech community will be not fast, but they'll be severe and long lasting. Thank you."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I would request a ruling on a possible conflict. This is for both Stand. Com. Rep. Nos. 1118 and 1119. I'm associated with an entity that has invested in qualified high-tech businesses. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes reservations, and just a quick comment. As the speaker from Hawaii Kai had mentioned, we're ending the repeal of this Act six months earlier than we did earlier. While I was very supportive of many of the controversial changes we made to Act 221 and 215, this just gives the very businesses that have invested based on the previous version of the law that gave them a lot of incentives to invest in Hawaii. It really gives them very little time to adjust their investments and recapture their investments."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker and Members, I want to vote with some reservations. I believe this is going to be coming up for Third Reading very shortly so I will not expand on my concerns for this bill except to say that the high-technology credits have been treated differently than other suspension of credits, and I would like to discuss this further later on. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2401, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE FINANCES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Finnegan, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Chang, Herkes and McKelvey being excused.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, again in opposition and a no vote. This one actually had died and it's come back alive again. This one has everything including the 'kitchen sink' in terms of, if you get an exemption, we're taking it back. I think it's going to be a confusing factor. It's going to be a CPA's dream because it's going to take a CPA to know how to do your taxes. How to get your everyday books together. And what it's going to do Mr. Speaker, is that there's so many job killers, I forget which number this is, but this is still a job killer. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

THIRD READING

S.B. No. 2109, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2109, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support and may I request permission to enter written comments into the Journal?"

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of S.B. 2109, S.D. 2, H.D. 1. This bill authorizes the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation (HHFDC) to grant no-interest, low-income housing tax credit loans to replace State low-income housing tax credits that have been devalued because of the economic crisis.

"HHFDC is the primary agency charged with overseeing affordable housing finance and development in Hawaii. The lack of affordable housing remains a significant problem affecting our State. Working families are finding it harder to purchase or rent a home. HHFDC works with the State's residents, housing developers, and financiers to make the dream of home ownership come true for Hawaii's residents.

"However, the current recession and turmoil in the financial markets has made the financing and development of low-income housing very difficult, if not impossible. S.B. 2109, S.D. 2, H.D. 1 will provide needed flexibility to jump-start the development and construction of stalled affordable rental housing projects for families at or below 60 percent of the area median income. Turning tax credits into a monetized resource for affordable housing developers will result in more affordable housing being built, without increasing costs to the State.

"Passage of S.B. 2109, S.D. 2, H.D. 1 will be a win-win for our depressed economy. It will increase the supply of new, affordable housing. It will also help our local economy by using our existing resources more effectively and allow many stalled affordable housing projects to commence construction, putting hundreds of people back to work and stimulating our local economy. For these reasons, I stand in strong support of this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support for Senate Bill 2109, SD2, HD1, Relating to Low-Income Housing. This bill would establish a program for granting a no-interest low-income housing tax credit loan by the HHFDC.

"This program would result in more affordable housing units being built without increasing costs to the State. Such a program could also help boost our economy by providing jobs to those who would build affordable housing units. Therefore, Mr. Speaker I support Senate Bill 2109, SD2, HD1."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2109, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LOW-INCOME HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Chang, Herkes and McKelvey being excused.

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support SB 2597, H.D. 1 which amends HRS §431 in two ways. First, it allows HEMIC to split the titles and responsibilities of "CEO" and "President" which will allow a smoother transition of executive leadership. The amendment also enables Directors who have served two full terms to be re-elected after sitting out a term by inserting "consecutive" to the two term limitation. Thus, HEMIC will have a more experienced executive staff which will benefit HEMIC members and Hawaii employers.

"Secondly, this measure attempts to clarify that HRS chapter 431-14A does not create a higher legal standard of liability for HEMIC than any other Hawaii workers' compensation insurers—that language in our statute (that HEMIC is intended to provide the "highest level of service", and its purposes include fostering the "highest standard of workplace safety and loss prevention, to encourage employer involvement, and to be responsive to each policyholder's experience, practice, and operating effectiveness") apparently is merely 'fluff.' Those opposed to this measure raise concerns this measure will result in insulating HEMIC from bad faith lawsuits, which is a common law claim to hold HEMIC accountable if abuses occur. However, the proposed amendment states that HEMIC is subject to common law suits for bad faith, which puts them in the same position as any other issuers of workers compensation insurance in Hawaii. By passing this measure, the Legislature does not intend to shield HEMIC or any other workers' compensation insurers from accountability for any legally recognized common law claims.

"I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. No. 2597, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII EMPLOYERS' MUTUAL

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support S.B. 2116 S.D.2 H.D.2 which authorizes the Governor to delegate to the Superintendent of Education the authority to agree to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless a county agency, its officers, agents, and employees, under certain circumstances, when the use of county property will be for a school purpose or function.

"Public schools on Maui – as is common throughout our State – utilize county property for essential school functions such as sporting events, graduation ceremonies, playgrounds, and physical education facilities. Our residents, in many cases, don't distinguish between State and County facilities or the bureaucratic idiosyncrasies associated with different agencies – they are mainly interested in seeing their children play in a safe and well-maintained facility, or walk down the aisle in their cap and gowns, or attend a community meeting in a clean building. The current process for the Department of Education to obtain approval from the Governor to indemnify the county when a public school uses a county facility for a school function is unnecessarily burdensome, especially when changes discovered too late to follow the usual bureaucratic process of approvals require decisions at a more local level. Many times, the burden falls on the classroom teachers and the individual schools to work through the issues with county officials with details that shouldn't require an entirely new review at the level of the Board of Education, the Superintendent or the Governor. This measure would streamline the indemnification process, easing the burden for teachers and allowing continued use of county property for important public school functions.

"I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2116, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INDEMNIFICATION OF COUNTY AGENCIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support SB 2691, SD1, HD 1. This bill allows the Employee Retirement System (ERS) to deposit benefit payments monthly to all ERS retirees and beneficiaries once a month. I appreciate the efforts of the Chairs of Labor and Finance to address concerns by retirees and beneficiaries for a transition period that helps them cope with and plan for any hardships from the revised payment schedule.

"Under this measure, by March 1, 2011, approximately 25,700 pensioners and beneficiaries out of 38,000 will be paid by the ERS on a monthly rather than on a semimonthly basis. In addition, approximately 1,400 of these recipients will have their benefit payments deposited directly into a financial institution instead of receiving paper checks.

"As a result, ERS will save costs for postage, check printing, check imaging, and bank fees, and will also increase the ERS' investment earnings. The ERS estimates that this proposal will add approximately $955,000 annually to ERS' bottom line which ultimately benefits all ERS retirees and beneficiaries.

"Out of the 50 State retirement systems in the country, Hawaii is the only retirement system that continues to process pension benefits on a semimonthly rather than on monthly basis.

"I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of the bill."

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2863, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support SB 2863, SD 2, HD 2. The purpose of this bill is to expand the existing tax lien and encumbrance record statute to assist State and county agencies in recovering moneys owed for outstanding judgments by encumbering vehicle titles of any debtor that has an outstanding judgment payable to the State or a county. This bill will also require the payment of judgments owed to the State or a county as a condition precedent to the vehicle's renewal, registration, or transfer of ownership. This bill also includes a provision to exempt State or county agencies from paying the statutory fee of $5 for each recordation.

"The encumbrance of motor vehicle titles will strengthen the ability of State and county agencies to recover monies for outstanding judgments owed to any State or county agency. By requiring the payment of outstanding judgments payable to the State or a county before the renewal, registration, or transfer of ownership of the debtor's vehicle, debtors will be encouraged to repay debts owed to State or county agencies.

"Also, the statutory fee of $5 per recordation is hindering some agencies from using the statute to assist in the recovery of outstanding debts owed to the agency. Waiving the $5 fee will encourage more State and county agencies to use this recovery tool. This bill allows for only actual judgments obtained by the State or counties, in order to satisfy any due process issues, since such judgments are rendered only after ample notice and opportunity to be heard have already been given.

"Finally, the bill also gives government agencies discretion to settle manini judgments for a certain period of time to avoid clogging up our busy judicial system with actions, motions and petitions to re-open judgments of $500 or less. I realize that the Judiciary testified that it prefers to require judgment debtors to incur the time, costs and expenses of such litigation rather than sparing the calendars of their district court judges from such claims. Obviously, even in times of budget challenges, we should usually leave it to our separate co-equal branches of government to apply their own sense of how best to use their scare resources. It simply seems that judges should have more important cases to resolve than relitigating parking ticket judgments of less than $500.

"I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of the bill."

Representative Brower moved that Floor Amendment No. 7 be adopted, and requested a roll call vote at the appropriate time, seconded by Representative Wakai.

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And thank you, Members. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 2402, SD 1, HD 1, this amounts to a 1% general excise tax increase to about 37 transactions which previously were exempt. I'm very concerned about one of these items which is item number 12 on page 3.

"What that item does is, it now takes out the exemption for the condominium maintenance fees, as well as potentially homeowners' fees that are paid to their association. I believe that this will be very detrimental if we leave this part of the bill in.

"Essentially in regards to a condominium maintenance fee which goes for the cost of insurance, water, sewer, property taxes, employees, as well as scheduled repairs. We have condominium owners paying the condominium boards, so essentially condominium owners paying other owners who are on the board.

"I think that it might be illogical and set bad policy to tax that money as it goes from one hand to the other. I know that a lot of associations of apartment owners, although they're incorporated or unincorporated, technically they're a non-profit organization.

"And currently by living in a condominium, I believe you're already paying your fair share of taxes. When you're in a building that's vertical as opposed to horizontal like in a planned community, you have much less wear and tear on the infrastructure, as well as other environmental resources. My building has 38 floors with 12 units on each floor. Conservatively, it houses over 900 people. Imagine the strain if those people all lived in houses.

"Mr. Speaker, it's for these reasons, as well as other reasons that I have put on all Members' desk today in the form of a yellow paper which was Xeroxed, front and back, that I offer this amendment. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the proposed floor amendment and asked that the remarks of Representative Brower be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, many will recall that I enumerated 15 job killer bills. The mother ship of this amendment is job kill number 14. The unfortunate thing is that this legitimizes otherwise a real bad policy, taxing non-profits. We're trying to make it look good by taking out homeowners' associations. That's equivalent of, I would say Mr. Speaker, 'putting lipstick on a pig' or trying to pull out a sliver when you've got a dagger already in the heart. These are job killer bills. They should be known for what they're actually intended to do. This is just a gesture without substance. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. Thank you. The introducer of this floor amendment mentioned a yellow paper and I'd like to request that we insert this into the Journal with your permission. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai submitted the following information distributed by Representative Brower:

"BILL DESCRIPTION: S.B. 2402, S.D.1, H.D.1 amounts to a 1% general excise tax to 37 "transaction" classes, which previously were exempt.

FLOOR AMENDMENT is to specifically exclude only one of the many classes of individuals the current bill would tax: condominium maintenance fees – home-owners fees.

How will this affect homeowners in the future? Would we start taxing rent for people who live in private communities and homeowners associations? What will they think?

THE ISSUE:

Condominium fees (costs for insurance, water, sewer, property tax, employees, scheduled repairs) are fees paid by condominium owners to their condominium boards. This is essentially money they are paying to themselves; it would be illogical and bad policy to tax money that goes from one hand to the other.

Association of Apartment Owners (AOAO)s are typically incorporated or unincorporated non-profit organizations. By virtue of their "non-profit" organizational status, maintenance fees should be exempted from the General Excise Tax as these monthly fees are not income. Should the current bill pass, it could open up to legal challenges.

CONDO BENEFITS:

- Condominiums already pay for more than their fair share of taxes by building vertically as opposed to horizontally (like planned home communities).
Imagine 500 homes versus 500 condominium units.

- It saves on infrastructure (such as sewers and road) and environmental resources. Many buildings use private trash collection and private security.

My building has 38 floors with 12 units on each floor. It conservatively houses 812 people. Imagine the environmental strain of the same number of people in houses.

CURRENT CONDO HARDSHIPS:

- Many unit owners are elderly, on fixed incomes or younger couples in their first homes.

- In addition, this State has seen an increase in delinquencies in maintenance fees and foreclosures. Once an AOAO exceeds 10-15% in delinquencies, most lenders will not approve lender financing for the unit in the condominium development. The reasoning behind this is because lending underwriting sees "high" delinquencies as high-risk, thereby, limiting the pool to only cash buyers and further hampering the AOAO's ability to operate.

More Detailed information:

SB 2402, S.D.1, H.D.1 would require cooperative housing corporations and condominium projects to pay 1% GET per annum for the next 5 years on the fee collected by the Board or homeowners association in reimbursement of sums paid for common expenses such as maintenance fees.

The following recession-driven factors will be exacerbated by this GET increase:
High Delinquency Rates are created by unpaid maintenance fees as a result of residents who have been laid off or furloughed → This creates deficits that require co-ops/ condo's to raise maintenance fees in the following years.

Hawaii is experiencing one of its highest levels of foreclosures. If the foreclosures or delinquency rates are too high in a particular building— or the reserves too low— the local lenders will not give mortgages to any prospective buyer in that building. Only cash buyers will be allowed to buy. This has adverse consequences in the real estate market.

Additionally, the co-op/ condo would lose their insurance coverage. This exposes them to various risks they cannot afford.

Most co-op and condo buildings were built in the 1960's and 1970's and are in need of repairs:

- Spall repairs for concrete buildings to fix corrosion → $1M+
- Antiquated plumbing
- Roof
- Parking Deck
- Elevator modernization

Many leasehold co-ops and condo are in the process of rent re-negotiations or have recently completed rent re-negotiations (which typically occur after 25-30 years from the lease inception). For example, a resident at Discovery Bay informed me that her lease rent increased from $232 to almost $1800 for the quarter. Now, in addition to the increased lease rent, leasehold unit owners will be burdened by the 1% tax and possible future increases.

Reduced value of the property: Finally, due to the maintenance fee delinquencies, co-ops and condos have had to cut back on services to their residents; lay off or terminate employees; and put off or delay current maintenance and repair projects.

Thank you for considering this amendment."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have strong reservations, not because I don't necessarily like the amendment, but because of the underlying bill. I will be with strong reservations on the underlying bill. I think if it does make it at least a little bit better, then I will be voting to support this with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Mr. Speaker, we've said many times on this Floor that in order to balance the budget we need to keep everything on the table. We need to send a complete package into Conference and then decide what's going to happen. The only vote that matters is the final vote. Thank you."

Representative Chong rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. First, I'd like to reiterate the words of the Representative from the Big Island. This is one of many tools to balance our large deficit that we are facing. I understand the concerns of the Representatives from the Kakaako area and Waikiki. I think a lot of these concerns can be dealt with in Conference. I think we need to move the bill forward to continue the discussion and work things out so that we can end with a balanced budget. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First of all, I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. I live in a condominium and serve on two condominium boards. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ching continued in support of the proposed floor amendment with reservations, stating:

"I too have reservations on this particular amendment. I'm for the amendment of helping the condominiums, as I do live in one and pay maintenance fees, but I'm against the underlying bill. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker. To save time, I'd like the words of the Representative from Kaneohe and the Representative from the Big Island placed in the Journal as my own."

Representative Rhoads rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to request a ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a member of the Board of Directors of my condo. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, a potential conflict. I live in a planned community association on Maui," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey continued in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"In opposition, and I'd like to adopt the words of the speaker from Ka'u as well as the Windward side of Oahu as if they were my own. And I just wanted to say a few words, if I may? There are a lot of these bills that I personally don't like or agree with, but I support them to move them along because, as the previous speaker said, we need to have all the options available for Conference to attack this $1.3 billion deficit, to provide services for the seniors and for the keiki.

"Now here's the thing I would hope that the movant would remember. Would you rather take something that is exempt, not raising the GET because they're exempt, and put 1% on it? Or would you rather have us go down the road of a GET increase? Or worse, in the case of the condominium owners, taking the TAT away from the counties, thereby leading to increased property taxes.

"That's the perspective I hope that people will keep in mind as we move these measures forward. Let's keep the tools for the tool chest available for Conference, but let's look at the big picture. 1% on something that was previously exempt, or a massive GET raise, take away the TAT from the counties, and have your property taxes go way up. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like a ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a member of the Waialae Iki Ridge Community Association," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Evans rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I'd like a ruling on potential conflict. I live in a planned community association," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Evans continued in opposition to the proposed floor amendment and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Yes, I would ask for the same ruling on a potential conflict," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you. I would like a ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a renter in a condominium," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Yamane rose and stated:

"Can I ask a brief question, Mr. Speaker? Personal privilege. Can we ask for a ruling on everybody who lives in a planned association, rather than one by one?"

The Chair responded, stating:

"That's okay. Asking one by one is the proper way."

Representative Yamane rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Can I ask for a potential conflict because I live in a planned association as well? Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Takai rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I live in a planned community association with subassocations. I also am the president of a condo association that we rent out. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Manahan rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I too live in a condominium," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Manahan continued in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you. I will be opposing the floor amendment right now, but again, I think we do need all the tools and we need to be able to have the discussion in Conference. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this amendment and in light of the fact that there are so many potential conflicts in this Chamber, perhaps it is worth noting that this amendment might actually address those conflicts.

"In addition, if this is really all about going to Conference, perhaps the floor amendment will give our Finance Committee and the Committee members in Conference more leverage, or more creative options to make the bill really strong when it comes out. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I get a ruling on a potential conflict. I too live in a planned community association," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak against this amendment. Just a couple of points that have not been made. The underlying bill does contain certain exemptions from the general excise tax. This one in particular, according to the last three Tax Review Commissions which are nonpartisan review commissions, they pointed out repeatedly for us to review these exemptions to see whether or not they make sense in this day and age.

"This particular one that we're looking at in this amendment here has been in existence since the 1990s. So they haven't been paying any of the GET. This merely would impose a 1% tax upon the condominiums for a period of just 5 years to 2015, and then it will sunset. So 1% for five years. They haven't been paying the 4% for over 20 years. Just to put things in perspective. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Wakai rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to get a ruling on a potential conflict. I too also live in a condo and pay maintenance fees," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Wakai continued in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"I rise in support of this amendment. This particular amendment is addressing double taxation. The moneys that are going into maintenance fees are already being used to pay for services which are then taxed at that 4.5%.

"So when people say they are leaving things on the table, this is actually creating a separate table. So we're keeping too many items and in this particular case we're removing a table that we're creating which allows for this double taxation which I find is unfair to those who live in condos and planned community associations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Brower rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a few brief remarks to answer some of the questions that we've heard on this issue. Still in strong support. By removing one of these 37 previous exemptions, we are keeping this vehicle in place.

"My concern is that I need to vote on what's in front of me and this has a clean date, going into effect July 1st, 2010. I don't know the future of this after it leaves this Body, and my concern is the maintenance fees and homeowner fees that now will get taxed. Currently they're taxed when these fees are spent, but now they'll be taxed when they're going into the pot being ready to be spent. Those are my concerns. Thank you."

Representative Chang rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"May I have a ruling on a potential conflict. I own a hotel condo in Waikiki," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Sagum rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I also would like a ruling on a potential conflict. I am part of a homeowner's association on Kauai. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Cabanilla rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, since everybody else is rising asking for a ruling of a potential conflict, I too would like to do the same. I own several properties in planned communities and condominiums. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like a ruling on a potential conflict. I do own a condo. I do not live in it, but I do own a condo," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan continued in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"May I just give additional comments please. Short comments. Mr. Speaker, I do agree with keeping things alive and seeing what we can do in Conference, but I do have to agree with this particular floor amendment. For the most part, the majority of these costs that are in the homeowners' association dues or condo dues are either insurance, water, sewer, or whatever. If we do raise the taxes on that, we're basically raising the taxes for sewer, water, insurance and those types of things on these homeowners or people who own condos and townhouses.

"Mr. Speaker, the Finance Chair did mention how the Tax Review Commission was looking at reviewing these exemptions and I definitely think that that's what this bill does. This bill brings it to the table so that we can review them, and I think it's proper for all of us in the House to vote on whether or not we think that this tax increase should go forward on these condos and homeowners. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"May I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I own a property in a planned community. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Aquino rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have the same potential conflict as the previous speaker. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The request of roll call was put to vote by the Chair and upon a show of hands, the request was approved.

Roll call having been approved, the motion that Floor Amendment No. 7, amending S.B. No. 2402, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and failed to carry on the following show of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15: Belatti, Berg, Brower, Ching, Finnegan, C. Lee, Luke, Marumoto, Nishimoto, Pine, Rhoads, Saiki, Takai, Thielen and Wakai.

Noes: 35: Aquino, Awana, Bertram, Cabanilla, Carroll, Chang, Chong, Choy, Coffman, Evans, Har, Herkes, Ito, Karamatsu, Keith-Agaran, M. Lee, Magaoay, Manahan, McKelvey, Mizuno, Morita, Nakashima, B. Oshiro, M. Oshiro, Sagum, Say, Shimabukuro, Souki, Takumi, Tokioka, Tsuji, Ward, Wooley, Yamane and Yamashita.

Excused, 1: Hanohano.

(Main Motion)

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am going to be voting with severe reservations. I understand what the Representative from Ka'u said, but it's very difficult in this economic time to pass a measure like this. I will wait to see what comes out of Conference Committee, but please have the Clerk note my very serious reservations. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker. In reference to some of the previous speeches on the amendment, I do want to address that it doesn't matter whether you increase the 1% tax or take this 1% deduction away from people. It's a tax increase and that's why I'm in opposition to it.

"We keep talking about how we're going to figure this out in Conference Committee. Well, I came here to represent the people of my community, District 43 in Ewa Beach. And this bill only went to the Finance Committee, and now people are saying that they don't want us to give input on how we feel. We want to leave it up to just a few members of the Conference Committee to decide which of these tax increases we should include for these different groups.

"This includes a 1% tax increase now on condominium maintenance fees and homeowner fees, which would affect almost 60% of the people in my community. It would increase a 1% tax on the gross income of real property leases. It would increase taxes on home service providers, which is a big community in my community that try to help a lot of people. So it just goes on, and on, and on. I just wish that we could all somehow be more a part of the process to choose which ones are good and which ones are bad, and which ones are no longer valid, according to the Finance Chair. So for those reason I vote no."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. Mr. Speaker, I too was elected by my constituents from Wahiawa, Whitmore Village, Launani Valley to represent their interests. I believe that this measure advances their interests in several respects.

"I'll just touch upon five points in this measure and what this measure does. It removes various exemptions from the general excise tax, use tax, and public service company tax. This is our alternative to raising the general excise tax, Mr. Speaker.

"Number two, this bill asks those who are not paying taxes, to support everyone else who is paying taxes. In other words for those who have been subsidizing these people not paying the general excise taxes, whether it's 10, 20, or 30 years.

"Mr. Speaker, Members should keep in mind that we're asking these entities to pay 1% on the dollar. One penny on the dollar. We're asking for 1% in taxes when everybody else is paying 4% on the Neighbor Islands or 4.5% on Oahu.

"Number three, Mr. Speaker, three prior Tax Review Commissions, nonpartisan, not affiliated with either Party, have recommended that exemptions in the Tax Code should be periodically revisited to determine if they are still needed. Those books and reports are available online for anybody to see 24/7, or maybe at their library.

"Mr. Speaker, in most cases, my staff tried to ascertain the public policy or purpose of the exemptions, and for many of these they are hard to determine.

"Number four, most of these have been on the books for 20, or 30 years. We should look at them. I invite any Member of this Body, and the listening public to contribute to this discussion as we proceed for the next four weeks.

"And finally, Mr. Speaker, this is basically an issue of parity and fairness. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I vote with reservations. I would vote no on this issue, but I know that we need this money to balance the budget. But I want to send a message out that we should be looking at this particular issue.

"It's not a transaction, these maintenance fees. It's money that's kept in trust from the tenants and put into a fund. When it's needed, it's used. If this was an exchange for a good or for a service, then certainly it should have a tax. But this is just a fund that's put in a reserved fund for future use for the maintenance of condominiums. So it makes no sense at all to tax that.

"I know we have been doing it in the past. I believe that we need to look at this kind of pass through money, that they are not taxed, and should not be taxed. For this, I will vote with strong reservations on this measure, but I accept the premise from the Chair of Finance that we need to provide money at this point to balance the budget. For this reason I support the bill, but with strong reservations."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have strong reservations. I'd also like to adopt the words of the previous speaker as my own, and just short words.

"Mr. Speaker, I do agree that we should review all of the 37 transactions that are in this particular bill. With the help of the Representative from Waikiki, we got some really good information on this particular issue of condos and town homes and homeowners association fees. As I explained before, the majority of that is like what the Representative from Maui has just stated.

"My thought on this, Mr. Speaker, is that we should go over a review. I vote with serious reservations because I don't want to see other types of transactions covered by this bill taxed more. I think many of them in there would be a situation where you would be raising taxes on things like this, where they're just holding onto the money, they're not necessarily having an actual transaction.

"Mr. Speaker, it's kind of like, if I were to give to my husband a rent check, or give it to my aunt. Can you go and make this water payment for me? And then the State says, 'Okay, well then we're going to tax you this 1%.' It's very similar to that because we're giving that money, whether it be an insurance payment, or a water payment, or a property tax payment. We are taxing these homeowner associations upon that transaction, and all they're doing is paying it on our behalf for the ease of the homeowner association. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Brower rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in opposition with comments inserted into the Journal, and may I please have the Representative from Wailuku's words inserted as if they are my own. I feel it's better late than never. Thank you."

Representative Brower submitted the following written remarks which were distributed to the Members of the House:

"BILL DESCRIPTION: S.B. 2402, S.D.1, H.D.1 amounts to a 1% general excise tax to 37 "transaction" classes, which previously were exempt.

Representative Sagum rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. And I'd like the great words from the great Representative from Maui included in the Journal as my own. Thank you." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am also in opposition and I ask that the words of the Representative from Ewa Beach be entered as my own. As well as, I'd like to request that the yellow sheet distributed by the Representative from Waikiki be entered into the Journal." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong opposition to S.B. 2402, Relating to Taxation. As we are all aware, Hawaii is suffering through one of the worst economic downtowns in its history. Adding this additional excise tax burden on nonprofit community associations will merely prolong the current real estate problems, as well as make condominium ownership less affordable. This tax is not only bad for the economy, it also hurts the elderly, many of who are on fixed incomes and would further struggle to pay this tax.

"This tax inhibits business, taxing amounts received from the loading, transportation, and unloading of agricultural commodities that are shipped interisland. It is business that keeps our struggling economy afloat. Imposing a tax on the transportation of agricultural commodities will only further strain the already struggling businesses.

"For all of these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I strongly oppose S.B. 2402. Thank you."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks and the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"The goal of this bill is to eliminate tax loopholes which serve no legitimate purpose and to make sure all corporate and special interests doing business in the State bear their fair share of State taxes.

"Most businesses in Hawai'i must pay over 4% on every transaction. In contrast, many of the interests included in this exemption bill have paid no tax for long periods of time because they were able to get a special tax exemption at one time or another.

"In the future, if and when the Legislature grants a tax credit or exemption, the public purpose should be specified, there should be methods in place to assure transparency and accountability for the exemption or credit, and there should be a time limit imposed so that the Legislature is required to occasionally review the policy and reauthorize the exemption or credit only if it continues to serve a legitimate purpose.

"While I support this bill, I do believe it should be narrowed so that condominium owners need not pay an additional tax for maintenance fees and paymasters need not pay a 1% tax multiple times. There may be other examples in this bill where there is a legitimate purpose for the tax exemption, and as the bill moves forward, I expect it will be narrowed to address this issue."

Representative Berg rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I should have stood up earlier to ask for a potential conflict ruling. My 90 year old mother lives in a condo, and my brother and I are responsible for those maintenance fees. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am opposed to this measure. This bill, my understanding, will hit all nonprofits. I think it includes all schools, and churches, and Boy Scouts, and YWCA, and Salvation Army, and all entities that are nonprofit. I think some of the hospitals, too. I think there'll be a hue and cry. The alternative is not the increase in the general excise tax. The alternative is to cut government spending wherever possible, and I think we have not made enough of an effort in this area. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Thielen rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Will the Finance Chair yield to a question please? Thank you. I've been going over the language in the bill and I don't see any impact on nonprofits with the exception of subsection 5 which is the value or gross income received by nonprofit organizations from certain conventions, conferences, trade shows, or display spaces. And could the Finance Chair tell me is there any other impact on the nonprofits?"

Representative M. Oshiro responded, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, Representative Thielen, I would like to respond. Yes, that is correct. There is no tax being imposed upon nonprofits, hospitals, churches, etc. in this bill. It never was the intention, and none of the drafts contained any of those tax provisions. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of the measure. As an owner of condominiums, as well as planned community properties, I'm very aware of what is being charged on those maintenance fees. There's a whole lot of services that are included in those maintenance fees.

"First and foremost, Mr. Speaker, are legal fees. Also landscaping fees, and paving fees. I believe that those services need to be taxed.

"While it's true that they pay for water and sewer, I think what we need to consider in the future as a result of this, is to separate those essential services that are passed through, as opposed to those contracted services that are under the maintenance fees. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. I just wanted to say that it was hard for me to believe that anybody still thought nonprofits were included in this bill because we've gone over, and over, and over this, but that's another thing.

"What we are getting rid of is many tax exemptions that are given to special interests. Special interests. That's what has been in the recommendations of the Tax Review Commission for years, and years, and years. We're doing the right thing, and I support this bill strongly. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. I appreciate the Representative from Kailua asking that question of the Finance Chair. I hope that the bill does not morph into something a little bit more dangerous than nonprofits. I don't know what the initial intent was, but my understanding it was to tax nonprofits like Girl Scout cookies and other things like that. So I hope that in Conference that you will hold the line on this. I have not seen the Senate version, but I am not a member of your Committee. Thank you for the information."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With strong reservations, and just to add a few comments. I do support the 1% increase on many of the special interests that are listed in this bill. However, I think there's a distinction between corporate special interests, and the many hundreds and thousands of people who live in condominium associations and are, in effect, going to be double taxed by this proposal. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. I would be delighted to pay a tax if I did get water and sewer service."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. Still in opposition. It's okay to balance the budget, but just don't do it on the backs of the people of Hawaii who are already suffering. We say that nonprofits are exempted, but they're not. What do you think nonprofits do when they have conventions, and meetings, and events for? They do that to raise money to help people that are hurting. So we are taxing nonprofits.

"So Mr. Speaker, I am for going after special interests that can afford to pay more, and I wish we would have a better discussion and have this bill not introduced last minute in the Finance Committee where very few people were able to review these different things, line by line so they can come and testify in person to prove that they deserve this tax deduction.

"It's just how this was done. It's being sped through, and not that many Committees are hearing it. It has not given the public a chance to prove to us individually whether they deserve this or not. So that's really my opposition, that there was really a lack of true transparency and true discussion."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2402, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Berg, Brower, Ching, Marumoto, Pine, Takai and Ward voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

At 11:06 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1171-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2548, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2548, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Pine.

At this time, Representative Thielen offered Floor Amendment No. 8, amending S.B. No. 2548, SD 2, HD 1, as follows:

"SECTION 1. Senate Bill 2548, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is amended by amending Section 2, to read as follows:

"SECTION 2. Chapter 27, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by adding a new section to part VII, to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

Any law to the contrary notwithstanding, the moneys in the fund shall be used to fund the operations of the chief information officer and the information technology steering committee, including the employment and training of staff and any other activities deemed necessary by the chief information officer to carry out the purposes of this section.""

Representative Thielen moved that Floor Amendment No. 8 be adopted, seconded by Representative Pine.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This one should be a lot quicker and a lot easier. I would just ask the Members to look at this with open minds because it corrects a defective bill. I know it's proposed by the Minority, but so be it. Maybe for once you can say, 'Okay, this makes sense.'

"The underlying bill, I support, which would establish the Information Technology Officer or the Chief Information Technology Officer, which we do need in this State. Unfortunately the bill is defective in that it places it in the Office of the Governor.

"The Attorney General explained that under the Constitution, you can have temporary offices within the Governor's Office, but it can't be a permanent position. Therefore this office should have been placed in the Department of Accounting and General Services.

"This is simply all that the bill does. It corrects the violation of the State Constitution. And we have support certainly for this Chief Information Officer from the High Technology Development Corporation and others in the community.

"So let's do it right, and that's all that the amendment does. If we pass the amendment, the bill will be corrected, and Members could feel good about doing something proper today. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the floor amendment. I'll be very brief. What the offeror says is true; that you cannot create permanent offices in the Office of the Governor. That was actually one of the problems that was pointed out when had the Office of Elections under the Lieutenant Governor, because the Attorney General under that opinion said that you cannot permanently establish an agency.

"Under our Constitution, agencies can only be established as they are listed in our statutes. So you cannot permanently attach another agency to the Governor's or Lieutenant Governor's office.

"However, I don't believe that is what is being done in this case. In this case all we're doing is establishing the position of the full time Chief Information Officer, and so I don't believe that that runs afoul of the Constitution. Establishing a position within the Office of the Governor is very different than attaching an agency to the Office of the Governor.

"As you have already seen, she has done that with her tourism liaison. If that is a case that she's not allowed to establish any other positions, then that one should also be violative of the Constitution, but it is not. All we are doing is establishing that position. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. If I were a betting person, I would bet you 'dollars to donuts' that by the time this bill ends up, the Chief Information Officer will be placed in the Department of Accounting and General Services. So my question is now, is it simply because it's a Republican proposal that the Members won't vote for it? Because on the final day, I'm sure that the bill will be corrected and then everyone will vote for it, including the Majority side. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. I don't believe it's proper to align motive to why we vote for things or against things. You can talk about effect, but not motives or intent. Thank you."

The Chair responded, stating:

"Your point is well taken, and you are correct."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in support. Mr. Speaker, for transparency purposes, I know the Minority has had a very difficult time getting roll call votes. So for transparency purposes, I am standing in support with no comments."

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in opposition to this floor amendment simply because of the content. I think the good Representative from Kailua makes a very good point. My concern is that there is an Office of Information Practices within the Lieutenant Governor's office, and if this position is placed someplace else, I'm not sure how that would facilitate the coherent changes that the Auditor is suggesting. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"I rise simply to say that I support the amendment."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Just for transparency, I just want to note I support the amendment."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you. I am also in strong support of the amendment. I think that we should be supporting this initiative of technology, and on a permanent basis. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, for transparency purposes, I rise in opposition. However, I do want to note that the concerns of the Minority, I share them completely, and we will be bringing this into Conference. Thank you, very much."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"I rise in support."

Representative Manahan rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in opposition to this floor amendment. I just briefly want to say, I thought this is what HTDC already does. So I don't understand why we need a new position. Thank you."

The motion that Floor Amendment No. 8, amending S.B. No. 2548, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry. (Representative Hanohano was excused.)

(Main Motion)

Representative Pine rose and stated:

"All Minority Members vote aye, with reservations."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2548, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

At 11:14 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2548, SD 2, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1236-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2124, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2124, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

At this time, Representative Ward offered Floor Amendment No. 9, amending S.B. No. 2124, SD 2, HD 1, as follows:

"SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 2124, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is amended by amending Section 1, to read as follows:

"SECTION 1. Hawaii is facing one of the most challenging economic times it has ever faced and these economic conditions have necessitated difficult decisions by the State to balance an already precarious budget. One such decision reached through collective bargaining between the Governor, the Board of Education, the Department of Education, and the Hawaii State Teachers Association, was to institute furlough days for Hawaii's educational system. As a result of this agreement, Hawaii's keiki have already lost nearly three weeks worth of instructional days during the current school year and are scheduled to lose anywhere from seventeen to twenty-one more days during the next school year.

The loss of these instructional days may have a tremendous impact on the youth of our state. It may be devastating to the quality of their education and a loss which may last them a lifetime. In addition to the effect on our youth, these lost days may have far reaching effects on the prosperity, health, and growth of the entire state for years to come.

Despite the State's economic difficulties and the great need for additional resources in many areas that would benefit the public welfare, the legislature finds that the education of our youth is of the utmost importance. Accordingly, your Committee is loaning Hawaii Hurricane Relief Funds to the general fund to restore instructional days for the 2009-2010 and 2010-2011 school years that would be lost to furloughs. By providing these funds, the legislature is enabling a return of our students to the classroom.

As required by the Hawaii Constitution, the legislature's authority and responsibility is to establish funding priorities that will result in a balanced budget. In our current fiscal climate it is difficult to balance the many needs of the people of Hawaii, but the legislature has made the educational needs of Hawaii's children a top priority and therefore has appropriated these funds to restore instructional days. In doing so, it is not the intent of the legislature to become a participant in the collective bargaining process. In fact, the Hawaii Constitution forbids this. The legislature's role is to reject or approve funding for the cost items agreed to by collective bargaining.

The legislature declares that the loan made under this Act shall not be construed to mean that the legislature, in any way, intends to interfere with the processes of public sector collective bargaining as authorized under the state constitution and chapter 89, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

The purpose of this Act is to loan Hawaii hurricane relief funds to restore instructional days for the 2009-2010 and 2010-2011 school years that have been negotiated pursuant to the collective bargaining process established under chapter 89, Hawaii Revised Statutes, and a proportionate amount on a per-pupil basis to alleviate the impact of reductions to charter schools for the 2009-2010 and 2010-2011 school years."

SECTION 2. Senate Bill No. 2124, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is amended by adding a new Part I, to read as follows:

"PART I

SECTION 2. Section 431P-16, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended as follows:

1. By amending subsection (g) to read:

"(g) Any proceeds from loans or other moneys from the federal government, any proceeds from bonds issued pursuant to this chapter loaned by the director to the Hawaii hurricane relief fund, any repayment of principal and interest on loans to the general fund, and other moneys as the State may make available from time to time shall be deposited into the hurricane reserve trust fund."

2. By amending subsection (i) to read:

"(i) Moneys in the hurricane reserve trust fund may be:

(1) Disbursed upon dissolution of the Hawaii hurricane relief fund; provided that:

(A) The net moneys in the hurricane reserve trust fund shall revert to the state general fund after payments by the fund on behalf of licensed property and casualty insurers or the State that are required to be made pursuant to any federal disaster insurance program enacted to provide insurance or reinsurance for hurricane risks are completed; and

(B) If such moneys are paid on behalf of licensed property and casualty insurers, payment shall be made in proportion to the premiums from policies of hurricane property insurance serviced by the insurers in the twelve months prior to dissolution of the fund; or provided that all interest earned from the principal in the hurricane reserve trust fund shall be transferred and deposited into the general fund each year that the hurricane reserve trust fund remains in existence.

Any legislative act that provides for the loan of moneys from the Hawaii hurricane reserve trust fund to the general fund shall also provide for the repayment of half of the principal of and, if any, interest due and owing on the loan by June 30, 2015, and the repayment of the remaining half of the principal of and, if any, interest due and owing on the loan by June 30, 2017. As the means of repayment, the legislative act may dedicate general revenues from an existing or new tax or fee. If the principal and interest are not fully repaid by the applicable deadlines, the director of finance shall transfer the delinquent amount from the general fund to the Hawaii hurricane reserve trust fund. No penalty shall be charged on any delinquent principal or interest. The director shall make the transfer or transfers without necessity of appropriation or any other legislation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, all or a portion of the principal of and, if any, interest due and owing on the loan may be repaid at any time prior to the applicable deadlines without penalty."

SECTION 3. Section 431P-16.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"[~~[~~]§431P-16.5[~~]~~] Transfer or loan of funds; immunity. There shall be no cause of action, claim for damages or relief, charge, or any other liability of any kind whatsoever created against the State, the Hawaii hurricane relief fund, the commissioner, or their respective agents, employees, or board, by, or relating to[~~, the~~]:

(1) The transfer of any moneys from the hurricane reserve trust fund to the loss mitigation grant fund or from the loss mitigation grant fund to the hurricane reserve trust fund or involving the loss mitigation grant program[~~-~~]; or

(2) The loan of any moneys from the hurricane reserve trust fund to the general fund."

SECTION 3. Senate Bill No. 2124, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is amended by adding a new Part II, to read as follows:

"PART II

SECTION 4. Notwithstanding provisions of chapter 431P, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to the contrary, there is appropriated out of the Hawaii hurricane relief fund the sum of $16,533,333 or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2009-2010 to restore instructional days for the 2009-2010 school year that have been negotiated pursuant to the collective bargaining process established under chapter 89, Hawaii Revised Statutes; provided that:

(1) The funds appropriated by this Act shall only be released upon the completion of all negotiations of parties necessary to execute the restoration of instructional days pursuant to the collective bargaining process established under chapter 89, Hawaii Revised Statutes;

(2) Of the sum appropriated, $691,289 shall be allocated to charter schools for the 2009-2010 school year to alleviate the impact of funding reductions for the 2009-2010 fiscal year;

(3) Of the sum appropriated, $15,842,044 shall be allocated to non-charter schools for the 2009-2010 school year to alleviate the impact of funding reductions for the 2009-2010 fiscal year;

(4) Notwithstanding section 37-41.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, funds appropriated for the 2009-2010 school year that are not expended at the close of that school year shall not be carried over to the following school year and shall lapse into the Hawaii hurricane relief fund; and

(5) The funds appropriated by this Act shall be treated as a loan pursuant to the provisions of sections 431P-16 and 431P-16.5, as amended by this Act.

The sum appropriated under this section shall be expended by the department of education and the charter school administrative office, respectively, for the purposes of this Act.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding provisions of chapter 431P, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to the contrary, there is appropriated out of the Hawaii hurricane relief fund the sum of $45,466,667 or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2010-2011 to restore instructional days for the 2010-2011 school year that have been negotiated pursuant to the collective bargaining process established under chapter 89, Hawaii Revised Statutes; provided that:

(1) The funds appropriated by this Act shall only be released upon the completion of all negotiations of parties necessary to execute the restoration of instructional days pursuant to the collective bargaining process established under chapter 89, Hawaii Revised Statutes;

(2) Of the sum appropriated, $1,901,045 shall be allocated to charter schools for the 2010-2011 school year to alleviate the impact of funding reductions for the 2010-2011 fiscal year;

(3) Of the sum appropriated, $43,565,622 shall be allocated to non-charter schools for the 2010-2011 school year to alleviate the impact of funding reductions for the 2010-2011 fiscal year; and

(4) Notwithstanding section 37-41.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, funds appropriated for the 2010-2011 school year that are not expended at the close of that school year shall not be carried over to the following school year and shall lapse into the Hawaii hurricane relief fund; and

(5) The funds appropriated by this Act shall be treated as a loan pursuant to the provisions of sections 431P-16 and 431P-16.5, as amended by this Act.

The sum appropriated under this section shall be expended by the department of education and the charter school administrative office, respectively, for the purposes of this Act."

SECTION 4. Senate Bill No. 2124, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is amended by renumbering the subsequent remaining sections and amending them to read as follows:

"SECTION 6. Statutory material to be repealed is bracketed and stricken. New statutory material is underscored.

SECTION 7. This Act shall take effect upon its approval; provided that sections 4 and 5 shall take effect on July 1, 2010, and that Part I of this Act shall be repealed on July 1, 2017; provided that:

(1) Sections 431P-16 and 431P-16.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, shall be reenacted in the form in which they read on the day prior to the effective day of this Act; and

(2) The repeal of this Act shall not affect the obligation of the State to repay any loan or portion thereof made from the Hawaii hurricane relief fund pursuant to this Act.""

Representative Ward moved that Floor Amendment No. 9 be adopted, seconded by Representative Ching.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, this is a very handy amendment, and timely. I will be brief in explaining that there's a big difference between taking money and borrowing money. This is about the Hurricane Relief Fund which the people of Hawaii believe is their own money. Last heard, we are still in a hurricane zone. This needs to be solvent. It needs to be there.

"This amendment basically says, 'Yes, you can use the money. But no, you've got to pay us back.' It's not going to be on its own. So Mr. Speaker, moving for the adoption of this is simply saying, yes we're going to use the hurricane relief money, but we want to have it as a loan and pay it back. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"In support of the amendment, Mr. Speaker. I agree with the previous speaker that a loan is better than just taking. I think it's so important, especially in these times, that when we keep our word to the people of Hawaii, that we're taxing them for a specific purpose, that we actually do keep our word, because they eventually start losing faith in their leaders and the taxes that we collect from them.

"So I believe that if we classify this more as a loan, this will always be considered as part of our budget. When we have surpluses we will pay it back so that we can keep our promises to the people that were taxed for the Hurricane Relief Fund."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of the amendment, and in loaning the money for the purpose provided in this legislation. Mr. Speaker, I'm going to just read briefly from the Insurance Commissioner's letter to me:

"When a hurricane hits Hawaii, the HHRF is designed to activate, begin setting up operations to provide hurricane insurance to Hawaii property owners who are unable to get insurance from a traditional insurer. Usually, in the aftermath of a hurricane, traditional insurers pull back from the market. Homeowners who cannot find insurance are then in default on their mortgage, and foreclosures may ensue. The HHRF is designed to provide insurance to prevent the additional personal and economic disaster of numerous foreclosures when we are trying to cope with the environmental, economic, and personal catastrophe after a hurricane."

"And I would note that by loaning the money, it provides a much better message because then the Fund will be repaid; and I go on to J.P. Schmidt's comments:

"Timing is important after a hurricane. It takes time to set up the operations of the HHRF. The less money the HHRF has, the longer it will take to get going and the greater risk of foreclosures and further economic disruption. The greater the amount in the HHRF, the quicker we can address these problems."

"That's what this amendment is all about, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. For transparency purposes, I will be voting yes on this amendment, Mr. Speaker. My colleague before me mentioned the need for reinsurance if there is a hurricane or a hurricane disaster. The ability for people to refinance, for property sales to still move forward should they want to move forward, preventing foreclosures and stuff like that.

"Mr. Speaker, one of the important things that this borrowing of the funds creates is that commitment of the Legislature to make sure that important things like these don't fall to the wayside, and that we're just not always operating in emergency mode where we'll have to sell bonds or whatever we need to do in order to respond to potential foreclosures, refinances, and property sales.

"Mr. Speaker, we've done this in the past, not in the same way, with the ERS, where we sort of borrowed the funds, because we're trying to pay it back now to make us an unfunded liability for the ERS. Mr. Speaker, it's important for us to have this commitment. We cannot go forward and expose our homeowners and their homes to this kind of noncommittal, and especially because we are in a hurricane area that we should be committed and make sure that we pay this back, and that it's in the forefront of the minds of our Legislature, as well as future Legislatures. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you. I am also in strong support of the amendment for similar reasons as the former speakers. One very important reason though, especially to keep our word to the taxpayers that this will be used for the hurricane. And if we do have to use it, then pay it back."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you. I am also in favor of the amendment, Mr. Speaker. At the time that we instituted this Hurricane Fund we were at a crisis situation when all the insurers that offered wind insurance left town, literally. We were forced to start our own insurance, hurricane insurance fund. I think we should keep it intact and fully funded as much possible to preclude another disaster, because the crisis situation was terrible when we were not able to sell or buy a single property, condo, single family residence, commercial property that needed financing because it was really a bank requirement, not an insurance requirement, a financial requirement.

"So I think it's a very good amendment to borrow the money from the Hurricane Fund rather than to take the money. I would hope that you would really think about this amendment because it's not one of those things you can fix in Conference Committee. It's too important. So I hope I don't have to say, 'I told you so.' Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"I rise to speak against this amendment. Mr. Speaker, this amendment will do several things. It would cause us to create a loan between the hurricane relief fund and the general fund, but there are problems with that. I think first of all, internally it's inconsistent because it calls for a payment and return of the amounts, "borrowed" by June 30, 2015 with interest. And then later on there's also another principal payment due on June 30, 2017. This bill does not contain the terms and conditions of this loan. Nothing on what might trigger any default of this loan.

"And furthermore, Mr. Speaker, although it talks about interest being paid, it does not level any interest on the loaned amount. I think those who are thinking about moving this bill forward should first look at the existing law whereby the general fund does receive interest from the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund that goes to the general fund.

"It's terribly ironic Mr. Speaker, given all these descriptives about being transparent when one of the most noticeable portions of this bill in part two, seems to be the Governor's proposal to end the Furlough Friday debacle that she had a hand in. If you look at part two of the bill, Members, the current draft before us, section 4 and section 5 and section 6 and section 7. It essentially contains the Governor's proposal. I have not heard one comment about that from the Minority, so I find it very strange and intriguing, and it simply flabbergasts me. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I find it flabbergasting that anybody who has endured over 160 some days of furloughs is not flabbergasted that we haven't fixed it yet, and that's why we're borrowing the money. Simple logic. Borrowing the money to fix what otherwise is one of the biggest problems in this State, in this Session, at this time.

"Secondly, Mr. Speaker, this is all about restoring in good faith, the trust that the people of Hawaii have in us. If we just take this money like we took with the Highway Fund, people complained in my district, your district. Why are there so many potholes? We took the money out, and never restored it.

"The ERS, we say we have so many billion of unfunded liabilities. Why did we have that? Because we took the money out, and we never restored it. This one is saying and codifying it, 'if you take the money, give it back.' Loan it out. I'm glad that the Chair of Finance mentioned that there's no greater cause than putting our kids back into school. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of the amendment again and just follow up comments. Mr. Speaker, I thought it was important to include the language of the borrowed money for the commitment of paying it back because this is a very important fund. The only reason why we use that particular language in part one of this bill is because it was the language that our House passed over from First Crossover when we borrowed funds from the HHRF.

"So this language, if it's not okay to use, this Body already gave its stamp of approval when it sent it over to the Senate side. So if there are any mistakes, it was through the leading of this Body in how they wanted to attack using this Fund and loaning money out of this Fund and having our Legislature or the State pay it back. So again, this is the language that went over to the Senate in our House Bill that we passed off at First Cross."

The motion that Floor Amendment No. 9, amending S.B. No. 2124, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HURRICANE RELIEF FUND," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry. (Representative Hanohano was excused.)

(Main Motion)

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with reservations on the underlying bill. Mr. Speaker, I'm going to go back to the letter that I received from the Insurance Commissioner, JP Schmidt, and just would like the Journal to reflect the following:

"The HHRF has a number of revenue sources. HHRF uses premiums of post-hurricane assessment on the HHRF servicing carriers, a mortgage recording fee, an annual assessment on the property and casualty insurers and a post-hurricane surcharge on property and casualty insurance policyholders. Those who pay premiums received in return the benefit of insurance coverage for their homes. Those who paid the other fees and assessments receive the benefit of stabilized insurance and mortgage markets."

"He notes, "We will need the HHRF when the next hurricane hits Hawaii. We are currently in an El Nino weather pattern which historically is when Hawaii is at highest risk of hurricane. In addition on average Hawaii is hit every 10 years. Hurricane Iniki occurred about 17 years ago."

"Mr. Speaker, I think we should be very cautious in taking more than a very small amount from the HHRF particularly when it could cause such economic damage. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2124, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HURRICANE RELIEF FUND," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

At 11:28 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2124, SD 2, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1159-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2589, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2589, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

At this time, Representative Ward offered Floor Amendment No. 10, amending S.B. No. 2589, SD 2, HD 1, as follows:

"SECTION 1. Senate Bill 2589, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is amended by amending Section 1 to read as follows:

"SECTION 1. The legislature finds that some public charter schools face daunting obstacles, including the high cost of rent and less-than-desirable locations for their facilities, while the department of education is considering the closure of certain school that are not charter schools due to financial constraints.

The legislature further finds that education is of the utmost importance to the future of Hawai`i. As Hawai`i continues to strive for innovative ways to improve the education and opportunities for our children, the federal government has stressed, both publicly and in its policy and funding choices, the importance of successful innovations, especially encouraging states to nurture charter schools. Recently, the Obama Administration set aside several billion dollars in competitive grants called "Race to the Top" funds for the very purpose of education reform and improvements, and blatantly states that part of the criteria for qualifying for the funds hinges on states' decision to nurture charter schools.

The purpose of this Act is to require the department of education to consider making available vacant school facilities or portions of those facilities for use by charter schools, and to create statutory changes to enable Hawai`i to further improve public charter schools as a means of innovative public education and to better situate Hawai`i to qualify for "Race to the Top" funds and other federal grants."

SECTION 2: Senate Bill 2589, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is further amending by adding a new section 6, to read as follows:

"SECTION 6. Section 302B-4, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is repealed.

[~~"§302B-4 Limits on charter schools. The panel may authorize one new start-up charter school for each existing start-up charter school that has received a three-year or longer accreditation from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges or a comparable accreditation authority as determined by the panel, or for each start-up charter school whose charter is revoked. The total number of conversion charter schools authorized by the panel shall not exceed twenty-five."~~]"

SECTION 3: Senate Bill 2589, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is further amending by adding a new section 7 and 8, to read as follows:

"SECTION 7. Section 302B-5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"§302B-5 Start-up charter schools; establishment. (a) New start-up charter schools may be established pursuant to this section.

(b) Any community, group of teachers, group of teachers and administrators, or nonprofit organization may submit a letter of intent to the office to form a charter school, establish an interim local school board as its governing body, and develop a detailed implementation plan pursuant to subsection (d).

(c) The start-up charter school application process and schedule shall be determined by the panel or university, as applicable, and shall provide for and include the following elements:

(1) The submission of a letter of intent to operate a start-up charter school;

(2) The timely transmittal of the application form and completion guidelines to the interim local school board;

(3) The timely submission to the panel or university, as applicable, of a completed application;

(4) The timely review of the application by the panel or university, as applicable, for completeness, and notification of the interim local school board if the application is complete or, if the application is insufficient, a written statement of the elements of the application that require completion;

(5) The timely resubmission of the application;

(6) Upon receipt of a completed application, the convening of the panel by the panel chairperson to begin review of the application or the convening of the university entity to begin review of the application, as applicable;

(7) The timely notification of the applicant of any revisions the panel or university, as applicable, requests as necessary for a recommendation of approval;

(8) Following the submission of an application, issuance of a charter or denial of the application by the panel or university, as applicable, by majority vote; provided that if the panel or university does not approve the application and issue a charter, provisions requiring the panel or university, as applicable, to:

(A) Clearly identify in writing its reasons for not issuing the charter, which may be used as guidelines for an amended plan; and

(B) Allow the interim local school board to revise its plan in accordance with the panel's guidelines, and resubmit an amended plan within ten calendar days;

(9) A provision for a final date on which a decision must be made, upon receipt of an amended plan; and

(10) A provision that no start-up charter school may begin operation before obtaining panel or university, as applicable, approval of its charter.

(d) An application to become a start-up charter school shall include a detailed implementation plan that meets the requirements of this subsection and section 302B-9. The plan shall include the following:

(1) A description of employee rights and management issues and a framework for addressing those issues that protects the rights of employees;

(2) A plan for identifying, recruiting, and retaining highly-qualified instructional faculty;

(3) A plan for identifying, recruiting, and selecting students that is not exclusive, elitist, or segregationist;

(4) The curriculum and instructional framework to be used to achieve student outcomes, including an assessment plan;

(5) A plan for the assessment of student, administrative support, and teaching personnel performance that:

(A) Recognizes the interests of the general public;

(B) Incorporates or exceeds the educational content and performance standards developed by the department for the public school system;

(C) Includes a system of faculty and staff accountability that holds faculty and staff both individually and collectively accountable for their performance, and that is at least equivalent to the average system of accountability in public schools throughout the State; and

(D) Provides for program audits and annual financial audits;

(6) A governance structure for the charter school that incorporates a conflict of interest policy and a plan for periodic training to carry out the duties of local school board members;

(7) A financial plan based on the most recent fiscal year's per-pupil charter school allocation that demonstrates the ability to meet the financial obligations of one-time, start-up costs and ongoing costs such as monthly payrolls, faculty recruitment, professional development, and facilities costs; and

(8) A facilities plan."

SECTION 8. Chapter 302B, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by adding a new section to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

"§302B-A Alternative chartering authority; University of Hawai`i. (a) The board of regents of the University of Hawaii shall have the authority to designate itself or another entity within the University of Hawaii to be an alternative chartering authority to the charter school review panel. The alternative chartering authority authorized by the board of regents under this section shall have the power and authority to:

(1) Review, approve, or deny charter applications for new charter schools in accordance with section 302B-5 for the issuance of new charters; provided that applicants that are denied a charter may appeal to the superintendent for a final decision pursuant to section 302B-5;

(2) Review, approve, or deny significant amendments to detailed implementation plans to maximize the school's financial and academic success, long-term organizational viability, and accountability; provided that a denial of a significant amendment to a detailed implementation plan may be appealed to the superintendent for a final decision pursuant to section 302B-5;

(3) Adopt reporting requirements for charter schools;

(4) Review annual self-evaluation reports from charter schools and take appropriate action; and

(5) Evaluate any aspect of a charter school that the entity may have concerns with and take appropriate action, which may include probation or revocation."

SECTION 4: Senate Bill 2589, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 1, is further amending by renumbering the subsequent sections accordingly.

SECTION 9. Statutory material to be repealed is bracketed and stricken. New statutory material is underscored.

SECTION 10. This Act shall take effect on July 1, 2050."

Representative Ward moved that Floor Amendment No. 10 be adopted, seconded by Representative Ching.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will be pithy and pertinent to something that I think is very necessary and on the minds of the people of Hawaii, as well as many on this Floor. This amendment lifts the cap so we can get back into the Race to the Top. The Race to the Top involves millions of dollars of funds for our keiki. This requirement has been set by Secretary Duncan and the whole Race to the Top Charter School contest for the entire nation.

"Unfortunately, we were not included in round one. We didn't have the requisite lifting of the cap, as well as merit pay and other issues.

"Mr. Speaker, this amendment, brief as it is, simply says that we want to get back in the race. We want to go to the top. We want to get the money for the kids for our schools, but we're going to remove the cap to Charter Schools. If there's one thing this Administration is really committed to, it's Charter Schools, Mr. Speaker. We just want to align ourselves with them and that's the purpose of the amendment. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. For transparency sake, I do want to stand up and say that I'm in strong support of this amendment. Also to support as the previous speaker has said, to really back education reform through Race to the Top and being able to qualify for that money, but also just for the commitment.

"We as the Legislature pass out education reform through Charter School legislation, and every year since then it's been very difficult for Charters to even survive in the environment this Body or the Legislature has given them.

"We do need to say firmly that we are committed to the Charter School movement and its education reform and the things that it has provided to us so far in comparing the way that our traditional schools are operated and the bureaucracy of the Department of Education, and the contrast when Charter Schools, with the authority and flexibility to do what they need to do at this Charter School level. How they've been able to overcome some of the very difficult situations that they're in.

"Mr. Speaker, I strongly support this amendment and hope that others will be transparent in saying if they're yes or no on this particular amendment. Too often do the Charter Schools get the answer from people on the House Floor and the Senate Floor saying they support Charter Schools, but won't vote for legislation that actually helps them. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you. In strong support of the amendment. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"In strong support of the amendment, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose in support of the proposed floor amendment and asked that the remarks of Representatives Ward and Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I support this amendment because I find the energy coming out of Charter Schools really recharges us all. The morale is so great among the parents and the teachers and the students, so we need more Charters."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Just a quick response to the Minority Leader. If she has any research that shows that our Charter Schools do better as a whole than the regular public schools, I sure would like to see that. There've been two studies done by Kamehameha Schools that were inconclusive about that assertion as well.

"On the one hand, I do support Charter Schools, on the other hand to make an assertion that somehow they do better than regular public schools is not quite conclusive in my book.

"But let me state for the record, Mr. Speaker, I am in favor of lifting the cap and having multiple authorizers for our Charter Schools but it's a question of timing. I'm sure the Representative from Hawaii Kai did read the Race to the Top application. I don't know if he read all 900 pages, but particularly the section that dealt with Charter Schools. And then he must have read the part of the criticism by the US Department of Education and why we fell short in that category in our application.

"As you know, every state's application was reviewed by five objective reviewers and they offered comments. And again, I'm positive he read their comments. Let me give you some comments that they did make, Mr. Speaker.

"One reviewer said, 'A lack of emphasis upon student achievement as a significant factor in determining Charter renewal.' In other words we don't quite have a system where student achievement is used as a gauge as to whether or not these charters should be renewed.

"Another reviewer wrote that the approval process is 'murky.' That was the word that was used. Another wrote, 'it is unclear how Charter School authorizers approve, monitor, hold accountable, reauthorize and close Charter Schools.' Another reviewer wrote, 'the lack of clarity of an appeals process when a Charter application is denied or a Charter is revoked.'

"That speaks for itself, Mr. Speaker. As you well know, the Charter School law passed in the State of Hawaii in 1994. I'm sure all of you know how many Charters have been revoked from 1994 to today. The answer is obviously, zero. Even though we have Charter Schools in 40 states and the District of Columbia and on average, Charters are revoked at a rate of about 10% a year. A national average. We have revoked none since 1994 and the reason for that is that our rules and our procedures and our policies to revoke a Charter is, as one reviewer wrote, 'murky.'

"So it seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that in light of these comments from rejected reviewers, I wonder how prudent it would be for us to lift the cap at this time and enable more authorizers.

"And lastly, the Senate Bill when it came over we read the Senate Draft 2, it does invoke some of the recommendations and proposals in this floor amendment. We're going to take it to Conference and we'll see where it goes. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, would the Chair of Education accept a question?"

Speaker Say: "Representative Takumi, will you yield to a question?"

Representative Takumi: "No."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Okay, I thought I misunderstood when he said he was actually for lifting the cap. But if he's not, he certainly gave enough reasons not to say that he was for the cap, if he did say that in effect.

"The point is, Mr. Speaker, Charter Schools are the experimentation laboratory for America. They're doing different and new things. And of course the data is still questionable as to whether they're doing as well in the achievement test.

"But the sense is, they're pushing the envelope. Case in point, yesterday I read, Mr. Speaker, about when they took the achievement test in some East Coast school, they allowed the kids to chew gum while they were doing the test. Mr. Speaker, the data says that you get a 3% push in the points by allowing the kids to chew gum. You think in the DOE here you can chew gum while you're taking an assessment test? No way.

"Now after the tests were over they had to take the gum out of their mouth etc., but the point is that we're lacking as a country and as a state, what's going on in the education of the minds of the youth of the world. What's going on in China, in India, South Korea, the Philippines, is frightening enough to say, 'Wake up America. Get your schools in order.'

"This is the laboratory to do it, and the federal government is saying, 'Look, you want our money? Here's the incentive. Lift the cap and we'll give you some money.' We failed the first time around, this is an amendment to say, 'Hey let's get back into the race. Let's get to the top. Let's do stuff with our kids.' We've got the brains here. We just don't have the system and the structure to bring it out. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takumi rose to respond, stating:

"A brief rebuttal, Mr. Speaker. Again, I'm sure the Representative from Hawaii Kai read the criteria for the Race to the Top application. The criteria for Charter Schools was that a state must have at least 10% of their schools as Charters. We do. So that was not held against us, the fact that we have a cap. The fact of the matter is 11% of our schools are Charters.

"Second point is the use of the word experiment. Mr. Speaker, unless the State of Hawaii and our experiment with Charter Schools is just an incredible anomaly relative to the other states, experiments succeed and experiments fail. Again, I point out, how many Charters have been revoked since 1994? The answer is none. And again, unless we are doing superlatively better than any other state, it's because our system of revoking Charters and reviewing Charters and renewing Charters, still is wanting. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of the amendment. Mr. Speaker, I do have some rebuttals on what the Chair of Education has said.

"Mr. Speaker, the reason why we have our Charter system the way that it is, the reason why we don't have any closures in Charter schools, is because of the system, in and of itself. The Board of Education was tasked to do this since 1994 on making rules on how to close a Charter.

"Mr. Speaker, if we don't commit to really paving the way for Charters so that they can successfully thrive, we just don't do that. We continually put in place things, and sometimes we take 'baby steps.' I agree in the way that we're trying to improve Charter School legislation. We may do a little 'baby step' here and there, but when I first started and came to this Capitol for education reform I was sending my kids to Charter Schools ..."

Representative Finnegan disclosed a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Oh. A ruling on a conflict, Mr. Speaker, my kids go to a Charter School," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan continued, stating:

"Thank you. When I first was committed to going to a Charter School, we went in because we didn't want to give up on the public school system, Mr. Speaker. We wanted to have a voice. We wanted to be able to have that school have the flexibility and really commit to public school education.

"I had my son on my hip when I first went to apply my other child to a Charter School, my daughter in kindergarten. Now I was scolding him the other day, and I was looking at him eye to eye. He's the same height as I am. Mr. Speaker, this has been eight years and we haven't had significant help for the Charter Schools. The kids don't deserve that and those people working at the Charter Schools don't deserve that either.

"Mr. Speaker, we talk about measuring Charter Schools. Kamehameha went out on their own to do their assessment. Kids feel safer in the environment that they're in. There's a whole questionnaire that they go through, as well as they feel that they have accomplished more in the Charter School setting. Academically, as well as environmentally, as well as being responsible for their own learning. The telltale sign of that is that Kamehameha is willing to give millions of dollars to help the Charter Schools out.

"So I think that if they can be convinced that that's where they want to invest their dollars for Hawaiian kids, that that is a good sign that the Charter Schools are moving in the right direction.

"Mr. Speaker, right now Laupahoehoe is trying to convert from a traditional school to a Charter School. The CSRP, the review panel, put that application on suspension. Why did they do that? Laupahoehoe went in with a grant asking the federal government for some assistance and money. They have a half a million dollars waiting for them in assistance to convert to a Charter School. The Charter School review panel put the application on suspension because of our lack of support of Charter Schools. What that means is, because of the funding, they will not approve it because it means less funding for all the rest of the Charter School students.

"Mr. Speaker, by doing this we make a commitment to Charter Schools. We say let them flourish, and also we should force the BOE to come up with the language that says this is the criteria in which you close down a Charter School. That's why we need more authorizers, Mr. Speaker, and that's why we need to lift the cap on Charter Schools. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. For transparency sake, in opposition. Everything that the previous speaker said is absolutely true in my book. I'm a strong supporter of Charter Schools and I think we should look at lifting the cap. Heck, we should lift them. But the floor amendment is being predicated on that this will position us better for the next round of Race to the Top.

"After hearing from the Education Chair, as well as reading the comments of the reviewers, I don't think this will get us there. So if the floor amendment is about getting us into a better position for the Race to the Top, then I'm all in favor, but I don't think it achieves those ends. So let's discuss the Charter School issue and as a separate issue, but as to this floor amendment, I don't think this positions us any better than where we're at now and that's why I'm opposed to the floor amendment."

At this time, Representative Souki called for the previous question, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I call for the question please. I believe we had enough debate."

The motion that Floor Amendment No. 10, amending S.B. No. 2589, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHARTER SCHOOLS," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry. (Representatives Chang and Hanohano were excused.)

(Main Motion)

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"In support with reservations. One of the previous speakers talked about how the amendment before did not improve education, and there's that little part in here that doesn't lift the cap on Charter Schools. I just disagree with that.

"When you create more schools that do better, that improves all of our chances of getting Race to the Top money. In Ewa Beach there're several groups including a lot of the principals of the local schools, and the parent leaders of the local schools, that wanted to create a couple of Charter Schools in Ewa Beach for specialized things that were not being addressed, or could not be addressed in the schools that are in my district. But they couldn't be creative despite so much support. We got federal funds for it, we got a free school basically that we could have opened up, but we couldn't do it to improve education and increase our chances to get Race to the Top money, because there is this cap. So it's very frustrating and so when we talk about …"

Representative B. Oshiro rose, stating:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. The underlying bill has to do with Charter Schools use of facilities. I don't see what her current point is. That was related to the floor amendment, not the current bill that's before us."

Speaker Say: "Representative Pine, could you confine your remarks."

Representative Pine: "I'm sorry. I've strayed from the subject."

Speaker Say: "It's the utilization of school facilities for Charter Schools. Please."

Representative Pine continued, stating:

"I'm still in support with reservations. I just really believe that we need to take a stronger stance and talk about these issues whenever we deal with a bill like this."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. Just short comments, Mr. Speaker. One is that when we're talking about facilities, this is an area where Charter Schools do need support, but because we are talking about facilities that may or may not be available for a particular Charter School, like say in their area that they're located in now, there may not be facilities available. So this is only going to go to those Charter Schools that can benefit from it.

"Facility support is so important for Charter Schools right now. In fact they don't get funding for facilities, and that makes up a large amount of their school budgets. So any support that we can give them is great.

"I did want to just say one more thing in regards to one of the facts that was stated earlier in the Charter School debate, and that is that 11% of the public schools in Hawaii are represented by Charter Schools. It's actually two to three percent of students that actually go to these Charters Schools. I don't know what the rule is. I don't know what the guidance is for Race to the Top. Numbers can be fudged in all kinds of ways and that is not a true interpretation of how many people are actually going to a Charter School. There's only two to three percent that are actually going to Charter Schools right now. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2589, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHARTER SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

At 11:47 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2589, SD 2, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1166-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2571, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2571, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

At this time, Representative Ward offered Floor Amendment No. 11, amending S.B. No. 2571, SD 2, HD 2, as follows:

"SECTION 1. Senate Bill 2571, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 2, is amended by amending Section 1, to read as follows:

SECTION 2. Senate Bill 2571, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 2, is further amended by amending Section 2, to read as follows:

(h) The members of the board shall serve without pay but shall be entitled to their travel expenses within the state when attending meetings of the board or when actually engaged in business relating to the work of the board.""

Representative Ward moved that Floor Amendment No. 11 be adopted, seconded by Representative Ching.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this amendment is to go 'hand in glove' with the brother or sister if you want, of the appointment of the Board of Education. The purpose of this amendment is to take the politics out of the appointment process because this floor amendment says, 'Let's take the advisory board, the selection advisory board and set it aside.' Mr. Speaker, that means setting aside your appointee, the President of the Senate's appointee, and all those who because of their affiliation with certain Members of this Body is going to dwindle, dilute, and otherwise keep the accountability of the Governor from really being full on if he appointed this Board.

"An appointed board is an appointed board. Having the intermediaries with these political appointments, I think, really takes the feet of the Governor away from the fire. And Mr. Speaker, if we're going to try to get accountability, I know the analogy has been used time and again. Representative Abercrombie has called it the, 'rectangular firing squad.' Everybody shoots each other because there's no accountability.

"This bill gets in that direction in a very good way, but we're diluting it by saying, 'Well, the Senate's got to have a hand in it, and the politics of it. The House has to have a hand into it.' And that really detracts from accountability which is in the beginning the whole purpose of doing this. So when we don't get results, whether it's Charter Schools or it's the other public schools, we know who to call on the carpet. And we know this Administration has called a lot of people on the carpet as previous Administrations have, and this is the methodology by which to do it Mr. Speaker. That's the purpose of the amendment. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the amendment. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. What this amendment does is, it just eliminates the Selection Advisory Council. The Selection Advisory Council that causes a huge, to me, problem from the beginning of this legislation. From the beginning of this Legislative Session, I saw and I think many of the people in Hawaii have seen, that what we need is accountability.

"The Selection Advisory Council does not help in bringing accountability to what so many people, Democrat and Republican alike, have said is an accountability issue. You cannot say, honestly say, that it's the Superintendent that is the problem. That it's the Board of Education that is the problem. That it's the Department of Education that is the problem. That it's the Legislature that is the problem. That it's the Governor that is the problem. In fact, there has been consensus I think, in some places where they're saying it's the Governor's problem. That the Governor made this whole furlough mess.

"Mr. Speaker, the way our system is set up right now is, there's no way to say that we're going to hold somebody accountable because there's so many people involved in the formula that you can't really hold anyone accountable.

"I wouldn't be so hard line on this issue Mr. Speaker, if I thought that there's no time to waste, and if I thought that there was the possibility of this being an important issue, that could move education forward, then I would support it.

"Mr. Speaker, later on today we're going to have the constitutional amendment that talks about changing the Board of Education from an elected Board, to an appointed Board. This is the companion, if you want to call it, legislation or the implementation legislation that says how are we going to do that.

"You know, it's so frustrating. I talk to the teachers and I talk to the principals in these areas in the schools. I talk to parents and they're so frustrated with the system. I've dealt with parents that said when they want answers, they can't go to what we established in Act 51, which was the School Community Councils. People are laughing at the fact that that was considered reform, and that was considered local control.

"Mr. Speaker, if we want education reform, we have to be able to address some of these issues, the issue of accountability. We have all different people appointing people to the Advisory Council. In my opinion, six years from now, it's likely that we will not have anything accomplished in education reform just like from 2004 to 2010 with Act 51.

"This is a serious issue Mr. Speaker, that we have to answer to our constituency of how we're going to do education reform in Hawaii. We can't continue to do these 'baby steps.' Those kids that go to schools whether they're Charter or traditional schools, every year, every year goes by so fast, and we're promising them education reform. We're not doing what we need to do to get it.

"We have the tools in place with Act 51, but we don't have 'the teeth.' We have now this appointed Board, but we have this gray area that there's this selection committee that will affect who the Governor can actually appoint. And then on top of that, you sandwich that with the Senate advice and consent. How is that accountability?

"Mr. Speaker, if I truly thought this was going to bring education reform, I would vote for it. I obviously don't. I think that we're going to end up 6 to 10 years from now saying, 'Oh let's look at education again,' for the fourth decade. Education reform. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in support of the proposed floor amendment and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you. In support of the amendment, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the proposed floor amendment and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in support."

The motion that Floor Amendment No. 11, amending S.B. No. 2571, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry. (Representatives Chang, Hanohano and Mizuno were excused.)

(Main Motion)

Representative Takai rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of this bill. The purpose of this bill is to provide enabling legislation to allow the Governor to appoint the members of the Board, with the advice and consent of the Senate, from pools of qualified candidates presented to the Governor by the Board of Education Selection Advisory Council.

"I believe this measure will encourage the Board of Education to restructure and decentralize public education for the purposes of increasing student achievement and protecting student rights.

"This measure will serve to refocus the Board of Education on its constitutional role of setting long-term systemic achievement goals for the Department of Education and the Superintendent and monitoring progress towards those goals.

"While Hawaii has a long and proud history of both valuing and prioritizing public education, in recent years our public educational governance structure has become gridlocked at the Board level. This gridlock has many historic sources that are independent of the individuals who currently serve.

"The fact that the BOE Chair is elected annually from among its members has often led to bitter internal politics that carry forward for the remainder of the session rendering the Board highly ineffective.

"A split Board is often a weak Board. Crippling internal politics has contributed to an atmosphere in which narrow personal biases toward specific issues or each other often seem to supersede members' responsibility to advocate first and foremost on behalf of Hawaii's public school parents and students. Teacher furloughs are but the latest example of this dynamic.

"In place of the leadership vacuum left by the BOE the Legislature itself, as most of you know all too well, has been forced to take an increasingly active role in the oversight of our public school system. This has necessitated legislative involvement in virtually all aspects of the Department of Education.

"An appointed Board of Education, with an externally appointed Chairperson, is far less likely to be susceptible to the internal politics and influences that have removed the existing BOE from its role in the governance process thereby allowing its members to better place the interests of Hawaii's public school students and their parents above all other considerations.

"This measure would also align the DOE governance structure with the exciting reforms that are taking place throughout the public school system through the next DOE Strategic Plan and the federal Race To The Top initiative upon which it is to be based.

"While there is an increasing awareness of the Race to the Top initiative in which Hawaii is now competing, far fewer people appreciate the implications of that initiative or the fact that it is to become the "backbone" of the Department of Education's next Strategic Plan.

"The unprecedented reforms currently being implemented at the school level will dramatically increase the ability of our teachers, principals, Complex Area Superintendents and Superintendent to quickly identify the best elements of what techniques are working in our classrooms so they can be replicated.

"They will also allow our teachers and principals to adjust and reinforce those aspects that are not working as well as they should be. To be effective these reforms will require nothing short of a complete change in the culture of the DOE.

"That change of culture is absolutely essential if we are to provide ALL of our public school students with the knowledge and skills they will need to thrive in the 21st century.

"As anyone who has been a part of a large institution can appreciate, it is virtually impossible to alter an organization's culture without the driving vision and force of that change emanating from the top.

"It is as simple as this: if the reforms now being codified into the DOE's next Strategic Plan are to succeed Hawaii will need the Board of Education itself to lead the way. The time has come to realign our public education governance structure in a way that supports and reinforces the reforms already underway throughout the rest of the Department of Education.

"For these reasons, I support this measure and urge my colleagues to do the same. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to cast a no vote, and could you just incorporate my words from the previous amendment discussion to this."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in opposition to S.B. 2571 – Relating to the Board of Education. This bill requires the members of the Board of Education to be nominated, and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appointed by the Governor from lists of qualified candidates presented to the Governor by the BOE Selection Advisory Council.

"We have experienced the partisanship that Senate Conferees have had to endure this past year and so it remains to be seen if these types of antics we witnessed indeed reflect the spirit of the law regarding confirmations. It has become questionable as to whether advice and consent of the Senate helps or hampers solving the educational challenges. We must remember that we are here to help not hamper the educational system. That is why it is necessary that we create a clean line of accountability within our Education Department. We must be cognizant of the current situation our State's education finds itself in. We need to increase the amount of direct accountability for public education, and, as stated by the Administration, this measure will "create more layers and less transparency in the selection process". Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2571, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Pine and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Awana, Chang, Hanohano and Mizuno being excused.

At 11:57 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2571, SD 2, HD 2

At 11:58 o'clock a.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:02 o'clock p.m., with Vice Speaker Magaoay presiding.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1122-10) recommending that S.B. No. 358, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 358, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Nishimoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. Basically what this bill does, Senate Bill 358, is it allows people to keep their firearms during times of natural disasters. This bill came about as a result of actions during Hurricane Katrina where there were documented cases of police using extreme and illegal actions to confiscate firearms from law-abiding citizens who are licensed to own those firearms.

"Mr. Speaker, I will never forget the stories that came out of Hurricane Katrina. Women being raped, the elderly being taken advantage of, people getting things stolen from them, people being attacked, and at the same time people couldn't protect themselves because their firearms were being taken from them. I can't think of any bigger tragedy than that.

"Mr. Speaker, one of our basic fundamental rights that is given to us in the Constitution is to own firearms. Firearm ownership is on the rise in the State of Hawaii and there are many people, after this recent semi-tsunami, who are starting to think about this again. What would happen when we have a crisis, when we didn't have food, we didn't have supplies coming to the islands?

"What if some type of chaos erupted and the Department of Defense used this particular law to confiscate firearms. It's always those that are not the law-abiding citizens that have used firearms, Mr. Speaker. So I think this is a very important bill and it will keep our fundamental rights to protect ourselves and our families during times of crisis."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Mr. Speaker, I don't know if people are aware that in 2006, a federal law was passed by Congress and basically it says that federal officials cannot, I repeat, cannot confiscate weapons from citizens in event of natural disasters and emergencies.

"It also states in that law, that any local or state police department, which includes a safety department like the Department of Defense in Hawaii that receives federal dollars, they also cannot confiscate weapons. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 358, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FIREARMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Berg, M. Lee, Morita, Rhoads, Takai and Takumi voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1123-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2409, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2409, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this bill arose out of just a single incident of some commercial boat operators at Molokini. The problem is the bill applies broadly to all marine life conservation districts. Not just to the Molokini area.

"It's going to require the Department to create rules which is a very lengthy and time-consuming process, at a time when they are understaffed and need to focus on preserving our marine and land resources.

"The Nature Conservancy said specifically that it would create long delays and limit the Department's ability to respond to situations. I think it's a bit of an overkill, Mr. Speaker. So it would be nice to see, as this measure goes to Conference, that it does not emerge. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2409, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MARINE LIFE CONSERVATION DISTRICTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine and Thielen voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1124-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2565, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2565, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1124, I rise with support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This bill extends the deadline for the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission to adopt new rules regarding disability discrimination to allow for conformity with new federal rules from no later than December 31st, 2010, to 12 months after the US EEOC publishes final rules in the federal registry.

"You may wonder why I'm talking about this bill being that I'm in support. Well last year, Governor Lingle vetoed SB 1183, the bill that created the deadline of December 31, 2010. In her veto message the Governor stated that, states usually amend their rules after the relevant federal agency, in this case the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, has issued guidance on revisions to federal laws. The federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has not yet issued rules pertaining to changes in the American with Disabilities Act as amended in 2008, although they have recently issued a notice of proposed rulemaking.

"She also goes on to say it will be premature to ask the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission to act prior to the completion of federal rulemaking. It is also improper to ask the State to complete our rules by a date certain in the absence of knowing when the federal government will finish its rulemaking process.

"Mr. Speaker, this Legislature was so intent on flexing its muscles over the Governor that it decided to choose this issue to override, and here we are nine months later, correcting the decision made by this Legislature.

"In the history of Hawaii Governors prior to Governor Lingle, there was one veto override session, Mr. Speaker. I hope that we can learn from this and understand that through the process of testimony, and through asking for corrections like what we did here on the House Floor with amendments, that we can apply that and not have to come back and decide that we aren't going to take good ideas and move forward with them. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2565, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII CIVIL RIGHTS COMMISSION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1126-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2726, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2726, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TIME FRAMES TO REGAIN FITNESS TO PROCEED," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Har and McKelvey voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1127-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2883, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2883, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in opposition to this measure. On the face, this measure seems like it's a good idea. No one should be penalized for legitimately taking sick leave they have earned and accrued.

"The problem is that there are a few employees who are constantly absent from work or abuse the sick leave policy that their companies give them. Those that abuse these policies not only jeopardize this gift, but they also put a strain on their fellow coworkers.

"For instance, take a hotel. An employee absent on the Monday after a three day weekend, it is not like their coworkers can just say, 'I'll leave it until so-and-so comes back.' No, they're conscientious. Instead they pick up the slack. It's not fair to them, and again, it jeopardizes the sick leave that the company gives them. All it takes is a few rotten apples to spoil the whole barrel.

"In addition to this, I do not believe this Body should be legislating these kinds of benefits. This is the purview of collective bargaining. It's for the unions and their collective agreements, and not the Legislature. I know that amendments in Committee were made so that collective bargaining would control, but we still walk down a 'slippery slope' when we attempt to legislate these benefits. Because these changes were made, I am in opposition. I think it's potentially dangerous. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2883, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Finnegan and Marumoto voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1129-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2390, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2390, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PHARMACIST LICENSURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1131-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2811, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2811, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. What this bill does is it requires pharmacies, all pharmacies, even small 'mom and pop' pharmacies in very remote locations that few pharmacies want to go to, to be able to have all the records and prescriptions and be able to transmit prescriptions to other entities electronically.

"While to many of us, that seems like an easy thing to do, it was testified in Committee that this would really hurt those smaller pharmacies and 'mom and pop' stores, and gosh, in this time when it's so difficult to run a business in the State of Hawaii, and have a job, we're going to possibly really hurt these pharmacies that are actually acting out of good will to help these remote locations that nobody wants to go to."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition and I like to say a few words. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With this particular bill, I'm all in support of technology and how technology can create efficiencies that don't necessarily exist currently in some of our systems. This one has to do with prescriptions, electronic prescriptions.

"The part that I have difficulty with is what we do here is we say 'shall' instead of 'may,' and when you do 'shall' instead of 'may' like my colleague had mentioned just a little while ago, that you're forcing these businesses to upgrade. We as a State, we know that technology can be much more beneficial to us in the way that we keep records, the way that we do things, and so we want to move into the 21st Century with some of the most high-tech equipment, software programs and everything like that.

"The bottom line though is, it's very difficult for us to do. We get the commitment of over $100 million for the State and so we're not moving forward with doing this. What this bill does is it says for pharmacies, that you must. You shall. So what I would prefer is language that would help the small business owner, or the businesses by saying that you 'may,' and then what you would do is leave, and doctors with the ability to choose whether they want to patronize these pharmacies that operate in a more efficient way, that make it easier for them to get their prescriptions.

"So Mr. Speaker, in this time, I think that we should be very careful of what we mandate for businesses to do even though we think that they should be heading in the age of efficiency. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My reservations are pretty much exactly the same as the Minority Leader. It's just the bad timing of this, in fact coupled with the bad economy. I know that we need this. I hear about it all the time through the medical community, and so I'm for that. It's just I would hope that it would not affect our small businesses that employ our people. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing in support. I would like to just make a comment regarding timing. That is an issue, as well as cost. However due to some of the federal legislation, as well as the movement regarding the health information exchange requirements that will be required by many of the states, to have digital information available. If we do not have that available, the State could face future penalties. This was the intent of trying to move forward to make sure that we meet that goal of the federal requirement. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2811, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PHARMACIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Finnegan and Pine voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

At 12:18 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 358, SD 1, HD 2
S.B. No. 2409, HD 3
S.B. No. 2565, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 2726, SD 2, HD 2
S.B. No. 2883, SD 1, HD 2
S.B. No. 2390, SD 2, HD 2
S.B. No. 2811, SD 2, HD 2

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1132-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2371, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2371, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just have reservations on this bill and have short comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of this bill is to exempt limited benefit health insurance policies from provisions of the Insurance Code. Mr. Speaker, I think in moving forward with this bill, I just wanted to mention that the DCCA had some serious concerns about how confusing this bill will be to insurers, consumers, and regulators. I just wanted to make sure that those who will be on this Conference Committee take that into consideration. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2371, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LIMITED BENEFIT HEALTH INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1134-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2646, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2646, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this bill. Thank you. As an alert to the Conference Committee should this return, in looking at the testimonies from Save Our Surf and a number of other individuals and organizations, it appears as if the word, 'competitive surfing,' added in after 'recreation,' might be a problematic point of this bill. So if that could be removed, the Save Our Surf advocates are concerned that competitive surfing would mean surf contests, more than we already have, and that relates as commercialization, and reducing surfing opportunities for recreational surfers.

"One of the comments that they made was that the Hawaii surf sites are overcrowded already, and especially because there is an emergence of two recent surfing offshoot sports, those being tow surfers and stand up paddling surfers.

"So I request permission to add the particular sections as comments in the Journal specifying the particular sections that might be looked at in Conference to remove the word 'competitive.' Thank you."

Representative Berg's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to SB 2646 HD 2 SD 1. The bill looks to create surfing reserves in Hawaii for recreation and competitive surfing. "Competitive" surfing means surf contests which will take away from recreational surfers ability to enjoy the surf and reduces surfing opportunities for recreational surfing at peak times. This is unfair for our recreational surfers and will bring the State into a conflict between recreational surfers and surf contest promoters.

"There are very simple amendments to the bill that can be made so that the goal of recognizing, preserving, and protecting specific surf sites can be fulfilled.

"By deleting the word "competitive" in 3 sections, the integrity of that objective can be upheld:

DELETE "competitive" in Section 1 Line 1:
Corrected statement: Formal worldwide recognition of the designated surfing site as an area that has quality surf and significant cultural, historical and recreational, sports value;

DELETE "competitive" in Section 1 Line 3:
Corrected statement: Promotion of the long-term preservation of Hawaii surfing reserves for recreation surfing.

DELETE "competitive" in Section 2 b. Line 1:
Corrected statement: Recognize that recreational surfing in all its forms is an asset to the state of Hawaii;

"Passage of this bill equates competitive surfing interests with recreational surfing interests, thereby enabling professional contests and subordinating recreational interests to commercial interests. The proliferation of contests has been somewhat held in check heretofore by the City & County permit process. Community associations and surfers have battled to limit surf contests. It is unnecessary to even have this conversation at this time in our economically turbulent times.

"I do not believe that we want to provide an advantage for contest promoters (commercial interests) by passing this bill, thereby propelling the State into conflicts between the interests of the public (recreational surfers) and commercial interests. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sagum rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sagum's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations on the matter relating to surf reserves. After some dialog with surf reserve advocates, I was assured that the designation is similar in nature to the "historic" properties designation, but without restrictions. I was assured that the designation is merely a recognition of the major surf spots. However, my reservation relates to a future concern that the designation could interfere with cultural harvesting and fishing rights, and be used as a tool to restrict beach access and ocean recreation activities."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in support. Yes, I was in the hearing as well, and when this bill was initially heard, the testimony from Save Our Surf who actually runs one of the largest professional surfing events on the North Shore, the gentleman representing Save Our Surf, and under more research on this bill I understand it doesn't want to take away any of the surfing spots from our locals. That was my original concern, always to take care of our local people and make sure that they have access to the surf as well. But I wanted to read just some testimony from the Historic Hawaii Foundation.

"This bill recognizes that surfing specifically, and water-based recreation generally are significant elements of Hawaii's culture, history, recreational economy and as such certain areas should be identified, promoted, and protected as surfing reserves by the Department of Land and Natural Resources working in partnership with federal, State, and county departments and other organizations.

In Hawaii, surfing has occurred in Waikiki everyday for centuries and it's certainly integral to the recreational, economic, and cultural values of Hawaii and taking steps to ensure that such areas are recognized and that measures are taken to identify, nourish, and protect these areas is laudable."

"And I agree with the testimony from the Historic Hawaii Foundation, and under more investigation, I very much appreciate this bill and support it wholeheartedly."

Representative M. Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Nishimoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support SB 2646, SD 1, HD 2 with some slight concerns. This bill designates three Hawaii Surfing Reserves, comprising of surf breaks in Waikiki, the North Shore of O'ahu, and Honolua Bay on the Island of Maui. Our Hawaiian islands, and more specifically, the beaches of Waikiki and the North Shore of Oahu, are recognized around the world as the birthplace of surfing so it's entirely fitting to include these significant sites in Waikiki, the North Shore and West Maui as the first of our reserves.

"Hawaii's action today will serve as a global model for preserving noteworthy wave breaks and their surrounding areas. The bill recognizes that surfing is a significant part of Hawaii's culture, history, and recreation and helps to ensure that certain surf spots are promoted and protected. This bill further notes surfing's economic contributions to the State. Although surfing's spiritual and cultural roots form a big part of Hawaii's history, the sport – and the lifestyle and merchandise associated with surfing -- has also evolved into a multi-billion dollar industry that draws millions of spectators to Hawaii each year.

"Given the importance of surfing in Hawaii's cultural heritage and mythic image, I agree with the concept of designating reserves. My caution is that all our shorelines generally should continue to be public spaces available to all residents for recreation, cultural use and for spiritual rejuvenation. In many areas, our beaches and bays are used for many different activities and our laws and regulations – no matter how well-meaning or seemingly benign-- should not foster balkanization of our shorelines between public and private, recreation and commercial, or one particular use over another. Given the importance of our shorelines and ocean to public recreation and our collective well-being, maintaining free access by the public generally should be a paramount assumption of any regulation.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure."

Representative Ward rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in support of SB 2646, Relating to Hawaii Surfing Reserves. The bill would designate Waikiki and certain areas of the North Shore as surfing reserves.

"The bill would serve as a formal recognition of important cultural landmarks. Fernando Aguerre, the President of the International Surfing Association, said that it was the ISA's hope that this bill would "serve as a model for preserving wave breaks and their surrounding areas throughout the world by recognizing the positive environmental, social, cultural and economic benefits of waves." Other groups have submitted testimony expressing the same hope.

"Sen. Fred Hemmings, the author of this bill, knows exactly how important surfing is to Hawaii and why it's important to so many people around the world. The Honolulu Advertiser called him the "father of professional surfing in Hawaii." When he was 8-years-old, he started surfing at Waikiki beach. At 12, he entered surf competitions and placed 3rd in the junior men division of the Makaha International Surfing Championships and 1st in four other years that he competed. He won the Peruvian International Championship and then the World Surfing Championship in Puerto Rico before creating various surf competitions, including the World Cup of Surfing championships with both men's and women's events and the Triple Crown of Surfing. He also co-founded the world's first professional surfing circuit, the International Professional Surfers.

"Hawaii gave surfing to the world. It's an important part of our history and culture, and it deserves to be preserved. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support SB 2646."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2646, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAII SURFING RESERVES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Berg and Morita voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1135-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2020, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2020, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Say rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I am an officer of a company that is a sublesee. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I also request a ruling on a potential conflict? My law firm represents the landowner that would be affected by this legislation. I am 'China walled' from the case," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har rose then asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Thank you. As I did for the House Bill, I'd like to request permission to insert the two testimonies from the Attorney General from last year stating that he believed that this law is unconstitutional. In addition the three dockets recently in court regarding the postponement of the court hearing. Thank you."

Re: S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, Relating to Real Property Meeting on April 23, 2009 at 10:15 a.m.

Dear Conferees:

The purpose of this bill is to change the process for renegotiating the amount of rent during the term of an existing commercial or industrial lease, unless expressly stated otherwise in the lease. In addition, with respect to leases of certain private agricultural lands where the lessee has made or is seeking to make improvements on the land, this bill requires the renegotiated term of the lease to include an extension of the lease for a period at least seventy-five percent of the original term of the lease. The bill also prohibits the amendment of a land use district boundary Class A and B agricultural lands that meet four criteria.

Legal concerns regarding state impairment of contracts are raised by the proposed language affecting existing commercial and agricultural leases.[1]

It is well established that a retroactive law in a constitutional sense is one that takes away or impairs vested rights acquired under existing laws or attaches a new obligation, imposes a new duty, or attaches a new disability with respect to transactions or considerations already concluded. Employees Retirement Sys. v. Chang, 42 Haw. 532, 535 (1958). Generally, retrospective laws are not favored and all laws will be construed as prospective unless retrospective application is clearly intended and expressly declared, or is necessarily implied from the language used. Clark v. Cassidy, 64 Haw. 74 (1981). This principle is particularly applicable where the statute or amendment involves substantive, as opposed to procedural, rights. Clark, 64 Haw. at 77; Dash v. Wayne, 700 F. Supp. 1056 (D. Haw. 1988).

With respect to the constitutional proscription against impairment of contracts, it is a fundamental principle that obligations of a contract cannot be impaired by subsequent passage of any law. Taylor v. Taylor, 537 P.2d 483, 486 (Mont. 1975); Pulos v. James, 302 N.E.2d 768, 775 (Ind. 1973). The obligation of a contract is impaired by a law that alters the contract's terms by creating new rights or imposing new conditions or different liabilities. Northern Pacific Railway v. Duluth, 208 U.S. 583, 590 (1908). "Any law which changes the . . . legal effect of the original parties, giving to one greater or the other a less interest or benefit in the contract, impairs its obligation." Kentucky Utilities Co. v. Carlisle Ice Co., 131 S.W.2d 499, 504 (1939). See also Anthony v. Kualoa

[1]The United States Constitution states, in part, that "[n]o state shall . . . pass any . . . law impairing the Obligation of Contracts . . . ." U.S. Const., Art I, § 10, cl. 1. ("Contracts Clause")

Ranch, Inc., 69 Haw. 112, 119-24 (1987) (law, enacted after lease executed, that required lessors to pay, at the sole option of the lessees, for improvements built upon the leased premises in order to get the leased premises back, substantially impaired the contractual rights of the parties and was unconstitutional).

> The importance of protecting the obligation of contracts from all legislative action tending to its impairment has been emphasized by the Supreme Court of the United States. That high tribunal has stated that the inviolability for contracts and the duty to perform them, as made, are at the foundation of all well-ordered society that, to prevent the removal or disturbance of these foundations was one of the great objects for which the Constitution was framed, and that it is one of the highest duties of that court to take care that the prohibition should neither be evaded nor frittered away.

16A Am. Jur. 2d Constitutional Law § 694 (1979) (emphases added).

However, because states are vested with authority to safeguard the vital interests of their residents, the impairment clause is liberally construed and prohibits only unreasonable impairment. Id.; Energy Reserves v. Kansas Power & Light, 459 U.S. 400, 409 (1983). Reasonableness is determined by whether the law addresses a legitimate end and whether the measures taken to reach that end are reasonable and appropriate. It is important to recognize that the power of a state to modify or affect the obligation of a contract under the state's protective powers is not without limit. "Yet the contract clause limits otherwise legitimate exercises of state legislative authority, and the existence of an important public interest is not always sufficient to overcome that limitation." United States Trust Co. v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1, 21 (1977). See also El Paso v. Simmons, 379 U.S. 497, 506-9 (1965).

As noted above, this bill appears to intrude upon renegotiations of lease rent by interjecting, unless otherwise stated in the lease, its construction of "fair and reasonable annual rent" in commercial or industrial leases to mean that "rent shall be fair and reasonable to both the lessor and the lessee to the lease." S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 4, lines 3-5. Unless otherwise stated in the lease, this bill also imposes a new requirement in such lease rent renegotiations that they include consideration of the "past renegotiation practices and policies throughout the previously renegotiated lease rents, the uses and intensity of use of the lease property during the term of the lease approved by the lessor, the surface and subsurface characteristics of the leased property and the surrounding neighborhood on the renegotiated date, and the gross income generated by the lessees on the renegotiated date." S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 4, lines 8-18. In addition, this bill provides four factors in defining "commercial or industrial leasehold property" and also defines "lease".

With respect to leases for agricultural lands, this bill intrudes upon leases of certain private agricultural lands by requiring the renegotiated term of the lease to include an extension of the lease for a period at least seventy-five per cent of the original term of the lease. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 7, lines 9-20. The bill's provisions as to agricultural leases only concern revisions to the term of the lease and our views on these provisions are discussed at the end of this letter.

Despite the customary deference accorded to social and economic legislation, laws altering the rights and obligations of contracting parties must be reasonable and necessary for the public purpose for which they were enacted. Allied Structural Steel Co. Spannaus, 438 U.S. 234, 244 (1977), Applications of Herrick & Irish, 82 Haw. 329, 922 P.2d 942 (1996). While section 1 of this bill describes the need to strengthen and diversify Hawaii's economy, there is no evidence that this bill will achieve the stated purpose to stabilize the economy by addressing some of the alleged vague or onerous provisions of existing commercial and industrial leases. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 2, lines 11-19. For example, the four factors of "commercial or industrial leasehold property" do not necessarily identify how they are linked to a benefit for the business tenants in Oahu's urban center, as opposed to those in the Ewa region or central Oahu, as stated in section 1 of the bill. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, page 2, lines 1-10. A lessor in Kapolei could meet those four factors, thus owning property that falls within the definition "commercial or industrial leasehold property", and be subject to the requirements of this bill.

On the other hand, a lessor in Mapunapuna with fewer than fifty thousand square feet would not meet the fourth factor and not own property that falls within the definition of "commercial or industrial leasehold property", and thus not be subject to the requirements of this bill.

In addition, the third factor, regarding a lease with a term of ten years or more and an unexpired term of five years or more, could apply to various recent leases in the Ewa region or central Oahu, whereas section 1 of the bill appears to focus on urban communities which historically have housed small commercial or industrial businesses. S.B. No. 764. S.D. 2. H.D. 2, page 2. lines 19-21 ("Thus, maintaining close geographic ties between small businesses and the communities they serve is a public purpose that requires legislative support.")

In summary, it is unclear how focusing the definition of "commercial or industrial leasehold property" on the nature of the lessor is sufficiently tailored to the bill's stated purpose of easing burdensome lease provisions on lessees. S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, page 3, lines 3-5.

At this time, it is unclear from the record how pervasive the alleged problem is, or the actual number of commercial and industrial leases affected by this bill, or how the bill's proposals actually benefit urban businesses. The government must use the least intrusive means to achieve its goals. It is not free to impose a drastic impairment when an evident and more moderate course would serve its purposes equally well. United States Trust Co. v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. at 31.

Legislation impairing commercial or industrial leases would be more defensible if based on articulated findings of need, demonstrated evidence that the proposed legislation will achieve the stated purpose, and explanation that no lesser remedy (such as arbitration, mediation, or litigation) is available. The bill's proposed definition of "commercial or industrial leasehold property" seems focused upon lessors and does not appear to be "a reasonable and narrowly-drawn means of promoting

Re: S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, Relating to Real Property Meeting on April 28, 2009 at 10:15 a.m.

Dear Conferees:

We supplement our letter to you dated April 23, 2009, and note our additional concern that the proposals of S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, may impair private contracts and constitute the significant and legitimate public purpose." Applications of Herrick & Irish, 82 Haw. 329, 340, 922 P.2d 942, 953. Consequently, it appears this bill may violate the Contracts Clause and be found unconstitutional.

With respect to section 5 of part II of this bill, we raise the same concerns regarding state impairment of contracts. To the extent the bill intrudes upon renegotiations of lease rents for certain private agricultural lands, such intrusion is subject to the same analysis used for part I of the bill regarding commercial and industrial leases. Section 4 of the bill justifies the intrusion and Section 5 appears to be a reasonable and narrowly-drawn means of promoting a significant and legitimate public purpose. However, as with part I of the bill, the state impairment of private agricultural leases may be subject to challenge.

Very truly yours,

"takings" which gives rise to a right to receive compensation from the sovereign. A compensable regulatory taking occurs when governmental agencies impose restrictions that either 1) deny landowners of all economically viable use of their property, or 2) unreasonably interfere with landowners' rights to use and enjoy their property. Mayhew v. Town of Sunnyvale, 964 S.W.2d 922, 933-35 (Tex. 1998).

A regulation may go so far in imposing public burdens on private interests as to require compensation. In deciding whether regulatory action goes "too far", three principles known as the Penn Central factors have emerged: 1) the "economic impact of the regulation on the claimant"; 2) "the extent to which the regulation has interfered with distinct investment-backed expectations"; and 3) "the character of the governmental action". Penn Cent. Transp. Co. v. City of New York, 438 U.S. 104, 124 (1978). Penn Central does not supply mathematically precise variables but instead provides important guideposts that lead to the ultimate determination whether just compensation is required. Whether a regulatory taking has occurred, "depends on a complex of factors including" the three set out in Penn Central. Sheffield Dev. Co. v. City of Glenn Heights, 140 S.W. 3d 660 (Tex. 2004). The analysis "necessarily requires a weighing of private and public interests" and a "careful examination and weighing of all the relevant circumstances in this context." In considering a regulatory takings issue, a court will "consider all of the surrounding circumstances" in applying "a fact-sensitive test of reasonableness." Sheffield at 670-72.

A court must satisfy itself that the legislature's "adjustment of 'the rights and responsibilities of contracting parties [is based] upon reasonable conditions and [is] of a character appropriate to the public purpose justifying [the legislation's] adoption.'" Keystone Bituminous Coal Ass'n v. DeBenedictis, 480 U.S. 470, 505 (U.S. 1987). As we have stated previously, the proposals of S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2 do not appear to be a reasonable and narrowly-drawn means of promoting a significant and legitimate public purpose in protecting certain commercial or industrial leasehold property, or certain private agricultural lands. As such, in addition to the bill's proposals possibly violating the Contracts Clause and being

In this case, Plaintiffs seek a declaratory judgment that Act 189 of the 2009 session of the Hawai`i Legislature violates the Contracts Clause and six other constitutional provisions, and is therefore unconstitutional. By its terms, Act 189 expires on June 30, 2010. (See Ex. 1.) At the urging of Intervenor-Defendant Citizens for Fair Valuation, the Legislature is currently considering two bills, Senate Bill No. 2020 and House Bill No. 2284, to extend the Act. (See Exs. 2-3.) The 2010 legislative session, however, is scheduled to end April 29, 2010, more than a week before the current May 10, 2010 hearing date. (See Ex. 4.)

Disputes regarding the constitutionality of Act 189 have affected and will continue to affect legislative consideration of Senate Bill No. 2020 and House Bill No. 2284. For example, the Senate Committee on Commerce and Consumer Protection recently issued a report supporting a five year extension of the Act and listing HRPT's "filing of a lawsuit in federal district court challenging the constitutionality of Act 189" as a reason for the Act's extension. (Ex. 5 at 2.) Advancing the date of the hearing would assist and provide guidance to the Legislature and the parties by allowing the Court to consider the constitutionality of Act 189 before the legislative session ends.

Plaintiffs have been informed by this Court's courtroom manager that hearing slots are potentially available to hold a hearing on a motion for summary judgment on April 5, 2010 and April 12, 2010, should the Court in its discretion elect to advance the hearing date. If the Court were to advance the hearing to the earliest possible date of April 5, 2010, Defendants would have until March 15, 2010, nearly a month from now, to prepare their responses to HRPT's Motion for Summary Judgment.

Plaintiffs therefore respectfully request that this Court advance the hearing to a date before the end of the legislative session.

This motion is made pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 7 and Local Rule 7.2, and is based upon the Declaration of Bruce D. Voss attached hereto.

Dated: Honolulu, Hawai`i, February 19, 2010.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF HAWAII

HRPT PROPERTIES TRUST, et al., Plaintiffs, vs. LINDA LINGLE, in her official capacity as Governor of the State of Hawai'i, Defendant, CITIZENS FOR FAIR VALUATION Intervenor-Defendant	CIV. NO. CV09-0375 SOM KSC

INTERVENOR CITIZENS FOR FAIR VALUATION'S MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF EX PARTE MOTION TO CONTINUE THE HEARING DATE OF PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT [#67] AND FORTHCOMING COUNTERMOTIONS FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT TO BE FILED BY DEFENDANT AND INTERVENOR-DEFENDANT BY ONE WEEK (TO MAY 17, 2010) AND OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFFS' MOTION TO ADVANCE TIME [#70]

This Honorable Court has scheduled the hearing on Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment for Monday, May 10, 2010 at 10:30 a.m. [#69]. On Friday, February 19, 2010, Plaintiffs filed an ex parte Motion to Advance the Hearing Date [#70], arguing that an earlier hearing and ruling by this Court "would assist and provide guidance to the Legislature." Intervenor-Defendant CFV opposes this Motion and requests that the Hearing be set for Monday, May 17, or as soon thereafter as is convenient for the Court, for the reasons that follow.

After this Honorable Court's Order of December 22, 2009, the parties engaged in discussions regarding discovery, but they were not able to reach any agreement. In paragraph 11 of Mr. Voss's Declaration he refers to his "understanding" of those discussions, but he is incorrect in indicating that any consensus or agreement had been reached. Because no agreement was possible, the parties held a Status Conference in front of Magistrate Judge Chang on Monday, January 25, 2010, where he explained the scope of discovery for the parties. Pursuant to that clarification, Plaintiffs noticed and took the deposition of Michael Steiner on Tuesday, February 9, 2010, and Intervenor-Defendant CFV have noticed the deposition (by video conference) of David Lepore to be taken on Thursday, February 25, 2010. On Wednesday, February 17, 2010, Plaintiffs filed their Motion for Summary Judgment, and attached a series of Declarations and documents purporting to provide information relevant to this Court's Order of December 22, 2009. This new information is now being evaluated by the other parties, and further depositions or other discovery may be necessary in light of this new information. The deposition of Mr. Lepore may also produce new information that may require further discovery requirements. The discovery process is thus still evolving, and any advancement in the hearing date will interfere with the efforts of all the parties to complete the discovery required by this Court's Order of December 22, 2009.

The lead attorney for Defendant Governor Linda Lingle, Mr. Girard Lau, has been on travel leave in recent days, and is due to return to the islands on Thursday, February 25. He has not been available, therefore, to evaluate the Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment or the new information accompanying that filing, and will need time after his return to engage in this evaluation and to decide whether the interests of his client require further discovery.

In January 2010, the lead attorney for Intervenor-Defendant CFV, Mr. Jon M. Van Dyke, accepted an invitation from the Maritime Institute of Malaysia to give a presentation in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, on issues related to the delimitation of the continental shelf in the South China Sea at a conference scheduled for May 10-11, 2010. Because of this conflict, Intervenor-Defendant CFV respectfully requests this Court to schedule the Hearing on Monday, May 17, 2010, or as soon thereafter during that week as would be convenient for the Court.

At 12:26 o'clock p.m. Representative Finnegan requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:26 o'clock p.m.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1145, may I give some comments please. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do rise with some reservations on this particular bill.

"Mr. Speaker, generally speaking I understand why the Department of Agriculture and the Chair of Agriculture want to move this bill forward and create self-sustaining special funds. But one of the things that I can't get over is some general comments that were made by, I think it was Lowell Kalapa of the Tax Foundation.

"My reservation is not necessarily addressing the need for this kind of committed funding in a special fund. My reservation is more that as we move forward and we talk about core services, that when these different funds are made, and then what happens is you have money that is pretty much autopilot spending. So you cannot look at a particular service that we do, or a government responsibility and create a comparison of what your priorities are across these services and whatever we supply as a government.

"So we're taking a look at these. We're not prioritizing. We're saying to setup these specials funds so that they're self-sustaining. And I understand why we're doing this because of the different cuts we made because of the economy.

"But in the same breath, we're not moving forward with defining what our core responsibilities are. Making sure that those core responsibilities are funded, and the core services are funded. Mr. Speaker, the more that we do this and we take little funds and set this up outside of the general fund budget, then I think the more that we're not being transparent to the people of Hawaii, and the more we don't prioritize what services we are going to provide for Hawaii.

"So Mr. Speaker, I do stand with reservations, as well as knowing that when you do start a special fund that we need startup funds for the special fund. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe this deals with the two funds. I have reservations on this particular measure, and in particular, I don't like taking money from the Agriculture Loan Fund because generally, farmers take out loans and repay them, the money should be going to a revolving fund to be used for other loans.

"I believe in this case it is being used to pay staff, salaries and fringe benefits. So I really object to this diminution of the loan money that is available to the agriculture community. This is just to express my reservations. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to offer comments in rebuttal. In strong support. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In regards to the necessity to funding for inspections and certifications, if you recall from last year, about 50 or so inspectors were laid off or RIF'd. About half were reinstated because of the necessity to the economy of agriculture, and the economy to the State of Hawaii.

"In referring back to about what the public feels, and how they feel, in referring to the various stages of public hearings and Committee hearings we had, testimonies stressed how important and crucial it is to farmers to have such inspectors reinstated.

"Take for example on the Big Island. The Big Island coffee growers, and the Big Island individual farmers have attested that they are worried because we don't have timely inspections. The inspections are inadequate to access the inspections of their green coffee beans, where coffee must be certified. Sometimes it takes between an hour and a half, to two hours to travel to these inspection stations to have their products inspected.

"Additionally, here on the Island of Oahu and also on the Island of Hawaii, when it comes to coffee and papaya inspectors, these fruits that have been picked and are subject to inspections, are now also susceptible to over-ripening if we don't have inspectors there on a timely basis. The fields that we do certification, this schedule will cause delay and delivery to the products from the farmers to the customers.

"When we talk about inspections, we are not only talking about inspections for agriculture. What talk about what affects the interisland exports, the international exports, and this is an ever-growing industry. The demise of agriculture has been continuous and downward in its trend, and this bill is very important to the agriculture industry. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Still in support with reservations. I just want to make it very, very clear that what the previous speaker from the Big Island is speaking about, I agree with. The problem that we have in the Legislature, and the reason why I bring this up is because when we talk about core functions, or we talk about core services, that we should do it in a transparent manner. Make our arguments to, and reflect our budget and change our budget to reflect the importance of what we need in Hawaii.

"What this does is, it's less of a transparent way of operating, Mr. Speaker. We have so many special funds that operate this way, and I understand the need for them. I'm not saying that I don't understand the need for this, but if we say that it is important, then we fund it in the budget and we stop. Because who knows, maybe ten years down the line, there may be priorities that shift. And what happens is we create these things that are important today that may not be important ten years from now, but it will be on this automatic funding, automatic pilot.

"And remember that it is the farmers that, yes they may be okay with increasing these fees and taking on this responsibilities themselves, but the challenge is, if there are a lot of farmers on the Big Island, then Big Island consumers that buy those fruits and vegetables and coffee beans and whatever, their prices are going to increase because these farmers aren't going to be the ones to just suck up this extra fee. They're going to have to pass it on.

"So Mr. Speaker, you know it's just that what we need to do is convince our own House of Representatives to fund it. If it is important for the ag industry, and especially if the ag industry is coming out in strong support saying that this is what's going to help with our exports out to the different nations and the United States. So make a commitment Mr. Speaker, and that's how we should do it. Thank you."

Representative Wooley rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Thank you. I just want to point out that we never heard any testimony from any businesses against these special funds. We only heard opposition from the Governor's Office, and yet the reason that this bill is so important is because the Governor cut the Department of Agriculture's budget, the general funds, by 44%.

"So the reason that we're passing this bill is it is so essential to our local businesses; to our agricultural community and to all our farmers. It is so essential in fact, that the businesses themselves are asking to be taxed and charged to establish this special fund. May I also submit written comments? Thank you."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"I just want to thank the Chair of Agriculture, his staff, my staff, and the many people who have worked on this bill. It is because of their efforts that agriculture in Hawai'i still has a chance to thrive. And without this bill, the budget cuts to the Department of Agriculture would cripple our hopes of promoting locally grown food, farming, and the entire agricultural industry."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the bill. I disagree with what I heard from the Minority Leader. You know, there are definitely some philosophical differences and I would say that anyone that has stood before the Ways and Means Chair, as well as our House Finance Chair knows that they're very good at setting priorities. You have to justify what is going to be put in the budget and spent on programs. I believe that special funds do serve a great purpose in terms of transparency in setting priorities.

"It's very clear that the Chair of Agriculture rose to the occasion when he saw that these positions got cut, and the impact that it had. People were calling us saying they don't want invasive species in Hawaii. They don't want our agriculture industry to be ruined. We need inspections if we're going to send things out of this State, so we were in a crisis mode.

"So this idea of the special fund really addresses the fact that it is a priority. We need to look at how we're going to fund this and how to keep that priority clear in everybody's minds. So this special fund is more transparency, and more of a priority setting than what was said by the Minority Leader. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a few comments. I must say that I do agree with the observation of the Minority Leader; the need for more transparency, and because of the importance of this, if we consider this very important, that it should be included in the budget. I want to thank this Body because in our House budget bill, under general funding for agriculture, there are allocations for about 57 positions for inspectors so they can do their job in agriculture throughout the State of Hawaii. This is in our House Draft of the budget. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2527, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

At 12:39 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2371, SD 2, HD 1
S.B. No. 2646, SD 1, HD 2
S.B. No. 2020, HD 2
S.B. No. 2817, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 2491, SD 2, HD 1
S.B. No. 2523, SD 2, HD 2
S.B. No. 2527, SD 2, HD 2

At this time the Chair announced:

"Just to let you know, the Senate has finished their Order of the Day as of 11:15 this morning. So just letting you know."

At 12:39 o'clock p.m. the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:21 o'clock p.m.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1147-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2501, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2501, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Choy rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I need a ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a CPA and my firm also does peer review," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Choy then stood in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Choy's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, it is the intent of this bill to require fair and equitable administration of mandatory peer review for all firms practicing public accountancy in Hawaii, including the Hawaii offices and Hawaii engagements of foreign and multi-state CPA firms. The Hawaii peer review requirement cannot be met by having an out-of-state office of the foreign or multi-state CPA firm peer reviewed. This policy, made by this Legislature, is necessary for the protection of the residents of the State of Hawaii. The analogy given in testimony of a nationwide restaurant chain getting a health inspection of its New York restaurant and using that to pass a health inspection of its Hawaii restaurant is a compelling reason as to why the Hawaii offices and Hawaii engagements of a foreign or multi-state CPA firm must be peer reviewed for the protection of the public.

"Mr. Speaker, your Committee on Finance in its Committee report suggested that when adopting administrative rules pursuant to section 7 of this bill, the State Board of Public Accountancy may consider the circumstances under which audit engagements of publicly traded companies subject to oversight by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board may be excluded from peer review under section 5 of this bill. I believe that this discretion should be considered carefully by the Hawaii State Board of Public Accountancy. If the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board or any federal government authority imposes sanctions on a firm for work performed on a Hawaii attest or non-attest engagement, including Hawaii publicly-traded companies, the Board should investigate the matter and determine whether additional sanctions or remedial measures are warranted for the protection of Hawaii's consumers."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition. I can't find my notes so it'll be a short speech. I have to be in opposition because some of the larger firms do their own peer review. The way they do it is, they have one partner usually in charge of quality control.

"In addition, they contract with an independent peer reviewer that probably works for another large firm, and the way they do that is they do the peer review on the entire firm. So if a multi-state company has 100 offices across the country, they may look at examining, let's say 20% of the offices. That's quite a stringent review and the entire firm passes, so I don't think we need this kind of a local review.

"Generally, a larger company has to do this review because you have to maybe travel to other states, visit maybe 20 offices or so, two dozen offices. The cost of these peer reviews is about $100,000 and these are done by the standards of the American Institute for CPAs.

"In addition to this review, they have an annual oversight committee that looks at all the jobs they do on companies that are publicly traded and governed by the SEC. So this would be an additional burden on these large companies.

"At one time, there were maybe eight large multinational, multistate companies. They were called the 'Big Eight' CPA firms. It went down to seven. It went to six. Then down to five. I think there may be four left standing. PricewaterhouseCoopers left Hawaii, or they closed their offices here although they still operate here from the regional office on the mainland, but we're down to three here. We would hate to see these offices close because they're fairly large and may employ 50 or 75 people. But you know, they operate under a very rugged set of rules which is called for by their national office headquarters.

"So I don't think this bill is really necessary. I think it's going to move despite my vote, but I just wanted to express my unhappiness with this particular measure. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. Mr. Speaker, this bill is very timely. Peer review is very necessary particularly in view of what happened recently with financial meltdown, where Wall Street, Main Street, and both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue by report of which the accounting profession which helped 'cook the books' to make this happen should be held accountable.

"Peer review is the way to do that, however this bill puts us out of step with the other 48 states that have firm review rather than peer review, which means you have to count every little bean, rather than the basket if you're a big firm.

"So in effect, what we've got here, we're taking sides with the little guy which is good, but I think this is a professional organization, and professional organizations police themselves.

"I would hope those who are accountants within this Body and the others who can be peacemakers will be able to put the parts together between the 'big boys' and the 'small guys,' and have a peaceful accounting profession hereafter. So this is a beginning hopefully, of the discussions that will be peace on the balance sheets. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With strong reservations and some words. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know Mr. Speaker, this is about peer review for accountancy firms and offices.

"At first, when I took a look at it, I had arrived at the hearing a little bit late and I remember going really quickly through all the testimony and going, 'Oh, everybody is in support of peer review.' But then at that particular hearing, the testimony on that bill and the questions being asked took a very long time. I think it was maybe even an hour or so, or longer. And I thought, 'Well, how can this be when all of the testimony says that they're supportive of the concept of peer review?'

"And when after really listening in and reading the testimony carefully and meeting with people, I realized what the difference was. The difference was that when you have an accounting company here in Hawaii, that all offices should be peer reviewed, including these multistate firms.

"And one of the questions that happened in Committee was that there's no other state that is actually doing this. Where you can have national firm and make that national firm have a peer review on their local office. They do have peer reviews, but those peer reviews are for the whole national firm, whether or not you actually do the peer review in Hawaii.

"So I thought, 'Okay. Well, where is this coming from?' I tried to do a little bit more research here and there, and one of the things that was brought up was Washington State. That one of the things that was brought up was that all of the states, 50 of the states, don't have this requirement to do a local office peer review. And one of the questions that had come up was there was one state that did this. This local office peer review for multistate agencies and this was Washington State.

"Mr. Speaker, then I also received a letter from the Board of Accountancy of the State of Washington and it talks about what had happened over the years. They did have a policy that stated that they were going to require that the local office be peer reviewed.

"And it states that their criteria was that the peer review must have included a review of the firm's Washington practice, or the report must have included a detailed description of the peer review activities performed on the Washington practice.

"And then it further says that what they did was, and this was following the whole Enron scandal so they tried to put something in place to 'hunker down' on the language and make sure that things were done not only fairly, but appropriately. That there was no 'hanky panky' being done with accounting practices.

"And then in July of 2007, it says that they reversed the policy and I'll read from what it says in here. The Board ultimately eliminated the specific Washington location requirement based upon recognition of three principal factors. One, the quality control centralization that was occurring in both the technical, as well as monitoring processes of firms licensed in multiple states. Two, the PCAOB processes in effect for the public reporting side of the firm's practice. And three, the fact that under the pricing model of most firms, the additional costs associated with the site specific requirement would pass through to the consumer for no incremental benefit to the state's consumers because of items one and two.

"Mr. Speaker, everybody that was in the Committee hearing agreed that we needed peer review. The only problem is there were quite a large group of members that basically said that you don't need to be driving out those large firms that do have offices in many states because they do employ local people, and because the work that they do is not the kind of work that our other firms locally can do because the jobs are so big.

"Mr. Speaker, I think that for Conference Committee and moving forward that we should really take a look at that language. If we're the only state in the nation that is moving towards doing this local office peer review, I think that that's the wrong direction. The wrong direction for local offices and the jobs for the people that they employ, as well as making it business unfriendly in the State of Hawaii. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just don't know where to begin. In rebuttal. First I'd like to rebut the statements made by my colleague on my left here, from Waialae.

"She talked about an inspection process that only the large firms go through. The local firms also have their own internal inspection process, and that is required by our standards. The local firms also go through an independent peer review just like the 'big boys' do, according to our standards. So as far as that is concerned, we are on equal footing.

"Now, from the good gentleman from Hawaii Kai, I agree with him; that it is the 'big boys' who 'cook the books,' and they're the ones that are going to be probably faulted for the current mortgage meltdown. So I think more peer reviews for these particular individual firms is more important than for the little firms. The little firms Mr. Speaker, do not make the headlines. It's the large firms that make the headlines and they require more review.

"As far as the statement that no other state in the country requires this, I just checked this morning with another peer review from Washington, and the Minority Leader is correct. They used to have a policy to require out-of-state offices to be reviewed. But when I talked to my colleague from Washington State, he said that he did multiple multistate firms during the last five years. So it is something that should be considered. And since it was considered in Washington, we should consider it again for the State of Hawaii, and for the protection of the residents of the State of Hawaii. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I did not mention that I need a potential conflict ruling. My husband worked for a large firm, but he's been retired for 15 years. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Marumoto continued, stating:

"To the esteemed Representative from Manoa, I wish to say that I did not intimate that small firms did not have a peer review process. I'm glad that they do and I feel that it's necessary. There should be more peer review.

"And he mentioned that the 'big boys cook the books.' Well I think he's referring to the Enron situation, and Arthur Andersen duly paid for their indiscretion in this. It probably was a few people in one office, but all the partners and all the employees of the firm eventually had to pay for this. It was a real tragedy, but you know, that's what happens.

"I don't think we should enact this legislation. I just think we shouldn't because there has been no evidence of unique problems in Hawaii which would require creating a new peer review process, and not using the AICPA's peer review standards. So just in passing again, please look carefully at this measure before you vote. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am still with reservations. Just one point that the Washington Board of Accountancy did eliminate the section of policy that required these peer reviews for the local offices on July 27, 2007. Almost three years ago."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2501, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC ACCOUNTANCY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Marumoto voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1149-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2842, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2842, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes. I am in support with reservations and have just a couple comments. In 1996, a tax called the Generation Skipping Transfer Tax was created, and basically what this did was if a wealthy individual left a large amount of their trust to a grandchild, they would have to pay a substantial tax. And of course we said, 'Okay. They're wealthy so that's okay.'

"However what this did for our State was that a lot of wealthy families were keeping all of their assets in other states that didn't have this tax. The Act also required if you developed a trust, that you would have to close that trust with your family after a certain amount of years, and that's what closed down Campbell Estate.

"And so the reason why I support this bill is it eliminates that transfer tax to your grandchildren and others. But my reservation is that we still have a 1% tax on the transfer, so it's not completely eliminating the tax.

"What I'm concerned about is when it goes to Conference is, lots of things happen in Conference. And as First Hawaiian Bank testified in Committee, they would much rather prefer just no tax on this because many states are already doing that, and we're not being competitive enough to bring these assets to our State. This also leads to investment. It leads to better banking bonds. And it also leads to people moving their families here and all of their assets to Hawaii, and that will benefit us as a state, as a whole.

"And so as First Hawaiian Bank said in testimony, I really hope that we don't go above the 1% because we really will not be competitive at all."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just in support, but have the same concerns as the speaker before me, as well as hoping that we can be more competitive with just not charging a tax at all. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. Reservations, with the same concern. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. The Generation Skipping Tax occurs at the federal level and was put in because no taxation was occurring at all for generations and generations, and to say that the Generation Skipping Tax is a bad thing, I think, is really un-American. I mean, if some people are going to have to pay tax, then everybody should have to pay tax. Wealthy families never paying taxes is not good policy. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just don't think it's American to tax people who give assets when they die to their families. When we sell things, okay, let's pay a tax. But why when someone works so hard and they just want to pass their dreams over to their children or grandchildren. Why are we taxing that?

"They've already been taxed on their income. They've already been taxed on their business, and now we're taxing them on their inheritance. I'm sorry I just had to rebut that comment."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker, I think the previous speakers, all of them should read this particular bill and understand it. This is not a tax avoidance trust. This is an asset protection trust.

"And the 1% fee that we charge for the transfer of assets to this trust is because when this particular trust makes money and you're a nonresident taxpayer, you pay no Hawaii income taxes. So it's just a 1% transfer fee. It can provide estate tax and generation skipping tax protection, but that's not the purpose of this trust. The purpose of this trust is asset protection and therefore, you may get no estate tax or generation skipping tax protection.

"I think this is a very complex bill, and I could stand up here and talk for another half an hour. But I think the previous speakers should read and understand this particular trust. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Manoa submit himself to a peer review?"

The Chair addressed Representative Ward, stating:

"Representative Ward, are you in support, or in opposition? Thank you. In support."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. It was First Hawaiian Bank that recommended the 1%. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2842, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PERMITTED TRANSFERS IN TRUST ACT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Rhoads voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1150-10) recommending that S.B. No. 1230, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1230, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1151-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2165, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2165, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just in support with some reservations. Basically what this bill does is it requires training for various types of guards and agents, operatives, assistants employed in a type of guard agency. I just wanted to give a couple of concerns that were given in Committee from the Retail Merchants Association, as well as the International Association of Chiefs of Police, and the Armored Car Association.

"The armored car guards, they said, should not be instructed in powers of arrest, patrolling, and interaction with tourists. They found that that was a little excessive, and that really was not the purpose of their employment with these companies.

"In addition, it becomes apparent that security personnel or guards currently employed in the retail industry, immediately become subject to Chapter 463-7 HRS and as such, must comply with this licensure requirement despite the fact that they already have all these other training requirements and license requirements within their own professions.

"And so I'm just concerned that we're not separating these types of guards. I do believe training is very necessary, but I just don't want to overburden certain businesses."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2165, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRIVATE GUARDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1152-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2220, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2220, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. I have contractors in the family," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen continued in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with some reservations on this measure. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, this bill was introduced by a Senator who is a contractor and has a company, and I hope he asked for a potential conflict. I don't know. What it does is it establishes a construction site inspection task force and this task force is to find out how they can go around and inspect construction sites to find out whether everyone is licensed.

"The thing that's difficult about this is, first of all we have several laws on the books that say if you're an unlicensed contractor and you're apprehended, you can be fined, or you could lose your tools or even your vehicle. So I mean, things are there on the books already to take care of this situation.

"But the insult that's added to injury is that it's going to impose a fee on licensed contractors to fund this inspection task force so licensed contractors are now going to have to pay $20 for their license, in addition to a fee on their licensing where they're operating legally. The Department says that money is not going to be enough, so subsequent Legislatures or maybe the Department is going to have to raise that fee on legally operating contractors. So I think this is the wrong way to go, Mr. Speaker, and I would suggest that this bill just not emerge from Conference Committee. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2220, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONSTRUCTION SITES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

No. 2603, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE SECURE AND FAIR ENFORCEMENT FOR MORTGAGE LICENSING ACT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1154-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2068, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2068, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have a potential conflict on this one too. I have a granddaughter that is going to be ready to enter junior kindergarten," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen continued in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm very proud of her, and I'm happy that junior kindergarten will be in operation in the public school system because that's where she wants to go.

"Mr. Speaker, I think this bill is heading us the wrong way. I'm voting with reservations. And I had conversations with the Education Chair on this. I really appreciate the Education Chair's concern to not implement a ban on junior kindergarten right away before the other providers are able to gear up and be ready to take junior K students.

"So the harsh effect of the bill, eliminating junior kindergartens, will not go into effect for at least a year or maybe two years. But the point is, although only one-third of the schools have implemented junior K's, that's where I think we should be encouraging the other two-thirds to go ahead.

"Mr. Speaker, what's happened is that principals and teachers to whom I've spoken with have said those students that go to junior K are so much better prepared for the actual kindergarten experience. If we leave it to the private sector, that means that people will have to be able to afford to send their children to a private junior kindergarten. That's not going to always be the case, and we won't always have government subsidies to step in and help the other students.

"So the best way to do it is to recognize the benefit of early education and to go ahead and encourage the other schools to start a junior K program. Granted they may not have the money this year, but let's at least leave the system in place so they can then, when the money is available, they can go ahead and implement that.

"It makes a huge difference in a child's readiness to learn. The experts say that, and the on-the-ground experience from what I've been told, says it in spades. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. With all due respect to my illustrious friend and colleague sitting here next to me, I do support this piece of legislation because I feel that we're going towards quality. Quality early education. I've been a longtime supporter of early education and it seems that this bill would require the DOE and the Early Learning Council to work together and to report on a plan to integrate the junior kindergarten.

"You know, the Early Learning Council did testify that only a third of our schools have adopted a variation of this J-K program, and that the findings are that the children in this program may actually be appropriately placed in a preschool setting. I just know that we do have some pretty great preschools and that they've done an excellent job.

"And you know, there are many private nonprofits and public agencies dedicated to working, getting working families access to this quality education. An example of this is the Governor's Early Childhood Education Initiative, which matched $5 million in State funds with $20 million in federal dollars. It was successful in increasing the number of slots available for low income families.

"I recognize also that our State's budget crisis has brought about many concerns. I'm a strong supporter of early education and I think that's it been a well-known fact that the more we have kids prepared for their academic program, kindergarten and beyond, that's the best investment we can make. However, I think that we need to always remember that it's quality, quality, quality. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I would like a ruling on a potential conflict. I have two grandchildren in kindergarten," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Takumi continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"My thanks. One of them is Karley. She's really cute and we call her 'Princess.' I'm sorry, I digress.

"You know, Mr. Speaker, the Representative from Kailua that talks about the importance of early childhood education, I cannot agree with that more. That's absolutely true. If she wants, her office is right next door to mine. I can give her boxes of research about the quality of preschool education and how it matters as to what age the child is. Or if she wants, she can just read the Outliers by Malcolm Gladwell. It's a short book. She can just read that, and that will tell the story.

"Mr. Speaker, it's not about putting children into junior kindergarten or kindergarten. It's about putting children into a differentiated instruction environment, in an age-appropriate setting. Clearly, if we put our school children into a setting that they are not prepared for, particularly the 5,000 children who are late born. They should be put into a far better and appropriate setting, and that is preschool.

"The majority of our kindergarten teachers do not have degrees in early childhood education. They have degrees in elementary education. It is a world of difference when you're four and a half years old, and five years. Maybe for someone like you and I who, we may only be six months apart, that doesn't make a difference at our age. But at that age in terms of fine motor, and motor skills development, and brain skills, it makes a huge difference.

"So I think the direction our State has to take is to remove these children, in an appropriate time frame. I think next year is way too early obviously, and put them in an appropriate setting and that is in preschool. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. First, I'd like the words of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as if they were my own.

"I have two kids: Matthew and Kaila. The reason I mention this is that Matthew is actually born on October 18. Kaila's born on May 2nd. That is a big deal in my eyes. In 1996 I had an opportunity to meet this gentleman by the name of Dean Liskum from Kauai and he has mounds and mounds of data that the Chair of Education has as well, that shows for a fact that late born children, those who start kindergarten before they're five years old, disproportionately outnumber those who are five years old when they start kindergarten in the areas of special education.

"Now people wonder why our test scores maybe are not as good as they should be, and I would suggest that one of the issues is the start of kindergarten and how old our children are.

"When children transfer from public schools here, to some private schools, what happens? Sometimes they are held back one grade, and it matters because an 18 year old male in a senior year at a private school in Hawaii is one year older than the same kid born on the same day in our public schools. That matters not only in academics, but also in athletics.

"But if you take a look at that and you take it to the next level which is the mainland, and look at what the other school districts across the mainland are doing. I think what we need to do, and I've been assured by the Chair of Education that one of the things this task force is going to do is, really take a look at the start date for our kindergarten.

"And yes, we do need to improve and support our preschool education system and provide the necessary support for these children to succeed as kindergarteners, but I do believe in hindsight we should have done this is '96. We should have even done this in 2004, and we wouldn't be talking about this, and that is to make the kindergarten start date relative to the age of the child. And I do believe that in the end, if we make it five years old for any child starting kindergarten, we'll solve a significant portion of our concerns that we have right now in our school system. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm still with reservations. I basically think we're all saying the same thing except my concern is, if we do away with junior kindergarten, what is going to be there in a publicly funded situation so all parents can afford to have their child have the junior K education? And if that's someone who is more skilled in early education, how are all families going to be able to afford that? Otherwise you're going to have quite a disparity again, with those that are able to go to the preschool beyond preschool, junior K experience, and those that aren't. You're still going to get disparate groups going into kindergarten.

"So the early education is so important, and it has been proven to be so important that we need to take a very serious look at how do we continue that, and continue it for all children in Hawaii. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2068, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EARLY EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

At 1:56 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2501, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 2842, SD 2, HD 1
S.B. No. 1230, SD 2, HD 1
S.B. No. 2165, SD 1, HD 2
S.B. No. 2220, SD 1, HD 2
S.B. No. 2603, SD 2, HD 2
S.B. No. 2068, SD 2, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1156-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2120, SD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2120, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CERTIFICATION OF PRINCIPALS AND VICE-PRINCIPALS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1158-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2434, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2434, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, in opposition Mr. Speaker, with a couple of sentences. What this bill does is it increases the cap for pay for the Superintendent to be no greater than 150% of the highest paid principal. And I understand concerns were brought to the Legislature that there are four principals in the State of Hawaii that make more than the Superintendent, and so that was really the nexus of this bill.

"The new salary cap according to the Office of the Governor, could go up to $245,000 dollars that the Superintendent would make. We have many in the State of Hawaii right now, who have lost their jobs or who say that they too are getting paid far below what they're worth. And if we're going to use the fact that four principals make more than the Superintendent, then let's talk about the football coach at UH who makes more than the Governor, or even the fact that the Superintendent makes more than the Governor who's in charge of the whole State.

"I think these concerns are very valid, but I think now is just simply not the time in this economy to show our constituents and the residents of the State of Hawaii that we want to increase anyone's salaries that are being paid for by the taxpayer."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I would submit this bill is moot, and if we look at the momentum for the appointed Board of Education, this will no longer be necessary because the appointed Board will then appoint the Superintendent, and I don't believe that a quarter of a million of dollars is going to be a relevant figure.

"So in a way, this is arguing in isolation. If the system doesn't change, and I don't believe the people of Hawaii do not want to not change and we will have an appointed Board, and this will be become a side issue. So Mr. Speaker, I think it's an issue that we can dispense with. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This bill increases the cap for the pay of the Superintendent to be no greater than 150% of the highest paid principal collectively bargained in contract in the Department of Education.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition to this bill. Thank you. The reason why I'm in opposition to this bill is because we have to move towards merit based. I believe that the Senate Bill that came over talked about going in that direction, but it still didn't base it upon how well of a job you are doing.

"Are you making the quality of life for teachers and principals easier, better, creating a better environment at the school level? Are the children going to flourish because you are the Superintendent? What's going to motivate you to go against all the different special interests that want to keep status quo?

"This simply just giving the money is not going to be the answer. I feel for the Superintendent that was our previous Superintendent who eventually, as you know, left the system.

"Mr. Speaker, we have to have some kind of something, some motivation, that will help a Superintendent to go against all of the things that keep our system the way it is. We have to motivate them that way to speak up. When you have the bosses who are the Board members that have control over whether or not the things that you want to change, but they appoint you as well. How are you supposed to go against those bosses and think you're going to make any real change?

"Mr. Speaker, when we talk about reform, we should take a look at some of the situations like Chancellor Rhee and Washington D.C. and how the accomplishments they made were because of this one person, this Chancellor Rhee that decided that she was going to shake up things because she was going to put students at the top of the pyramid.

"She was going to make sure that teachers were responding to student's needs. That principals were responding to teacher's needs, and the bureaucracy was going to respond to all of these that support the students. And yes, you will anger those special interests. Yes, you will anger the status quo and people who want to keep things the same.

"Until we get to that point Mr. Speaker, I don't think we should be throwing around 150% pay increases or whatever this bill says, because we don't have something that will improve the system overall. So Mr. Speaker, again, not only is it bad timing that we're giving the tool to increase salaries, but it's also saying, 'C'mon. Let's have some merit based stuff in here.' Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. Holy smokes. You know the Minority Leader talks about Michelle Rhee. It's very interesting. Michelle Rhee oversees a system about one-fourth the size of Hawaii. She makes $275,000 a year, Mr. Speaker. I don't quite get the point about that.

"Look. It seems to me that if you want to recruit someone of quality to run our school system, unfortunately you have to pay for quality. The correlation between the Governor's salary and Superintendent's salary is an 'apples and bowling ball' comparison. When we recruit for a superintendent of Education, we recruit nationwide. When we recruit for a Governor, we don't recruit nationwide. There's a residency requirement to run for Governor. It's a local requirement.

"So if there was a gauge, we all know how much the President of the United States makes. That doesn't make any sense. That guy only makes $450,000. He should get paid $20 million. He's running the whole country. That is a specious argument, Mr. Speaker.

"Let's look at the internal argument. I had mentioned before that four principals do make more than the Superintendent, but more problematic is that over 80% of the principals make more than the Complex Area Superintendents. And as you know, the Superintendent's salary is tied to Deputy and Complex Area Superintendents. It's a percentage of what the Superintendent makes. Unless we increase the salary of the Superintendent, their salaries will not go up. There's very little incentives for principals in our system to want to move up and become a Complex Area Superintendent or a Deputy Superintendent.

"Now we might say, 'Well, you don't do it for the money,' and that's true. Very few educators are in the business for the money, but money is important. And when you're the supervisor overseeing a complex of schools, and every one of your principals makes more than you, you're going to see and it's already happened where a Complex Area Superintendent then returns back to being a principal because they actually make more money. That doesn't make any sense to me as well.

"Let's look at it externally. Nearly 80 administrators in the University of Hawaii system make more than the current Superintendent. The Director of the Waikiki Aquarium makes $151,000. The Chancellor of Kauai Community College makes $150,000. I would assert that, with all due respect to their jobs and their positions, that the scope of the responsibility of running the Waikiki Aquarium is less than it is running the statewide school system.

"Secondly Mr. Speaker, it's a cap. It says that the Board can only pay up to 150% of the highest paid principal. It does not mean they will pay that amount. They could pay anywhere up to that amount, so let's keep that in mind as well. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"Just in rebuttal. You know I think we found the problem today with the public education system. It's become all about money. Every person that has their salary paid for by the taxpayer is a public servant. And if principals don't want to move up because of the money, that's fine. To me, that's a problem too. Maybe we're just recruiting from a certain pool of people. Maybe that's the problem. And the only way to get that pool of people to move up is to give them more money.

"The Superintendent should be a person that wants to improve education, period. And has a passion to do it and will do anything it takes to make it happen for our kids.

"I'm just extremely disappointed in this debate today Mr. Speaker, because it's really an example of what's going on. These furlough things have been all about money. We are all about the kids and this discussion that we're having is all about money.

"I look back to my grandma's days. You know, she worked on a plantation. And when she was part of that whole movement with Governor Burns that helped to shake things up, they had this incredible dream. Back then, it was all about people, and people would sacrifice for each other so that others could succeed. It was never ever about money. It was about creating an incredible state that would take care of each other. That would lift people up from the plantation and help them to become successful. Help them get that education that they were once denied.

"And so I'm still in opposition Mr. Speaker, and I think this is a great example of what's going on with our furloughs right now."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. People often, when we resort to, because we have to pay someone a lot, and money is important. I think you know, everyone knows, money pays the bills. I mean that's why we're here. We help to make sure that we're making sure bills get paid and things are available for people. Money, prosperity.

"Prosperity is a good thing, but I think it's an indication of what the environment is, and I would submit this. That we do, this is just one more reason why we really have to revamp this system. If a place is, you don't feel that you have as much control over your classroom, or you don't have control over the things that you want to do.

"Teachers always tell me, my colleagues, like doctors. Doctors came to take care of the patient. Not to spend hours and hours, and hours, and hours, filling out charts. It's the same thing with the teacher. The teacher wants to teach. She wants to go out there and she wants to teach. That's her joy, that's what she went to school for. And if it ends up being where she's plagued with all these constraints and it's an unpleasant place to work, I have to let you know.

"My sister-in-law, she was a certified teacher, completely. She did six months in the DOE, and she became a flight attendant. That is not about money. To me, that is about a system that doesn't make you feel like you're being rewarded for what you set out to do. And I think that when we improve the system, you're going to find, I mean I can use example after example after example how many teachers go on to the private sector, but they're not getting paid necessarily as much or their benefits.

"So we need to look at the other moving parts, the other elements that make teaching so fulfilling, which it really is, but we need to help our teachers feel that. That they're really having their goal met."

Representative Takumi rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. A brief rebuttal, and still in support. The argument that this is about money again, it's just a very flawed one. I mean, look. None of us are here for the money. Mayor Michael Bloomberg of New York works for a dollar a year. Each of us can do that as well. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Still in opposition, and just some clarification in rebuttal please. Thank you. You know Mr. Speaker, I think the Chair of Education missed my point. My point is when I talked about Chancellor Michelle Rhee, it wasn't necessarily about how many students are under her or anything like that.

"It's about the fact that there was a mayor willing to stand up and back the Chancellor. It was because Chancellor Michelle Rhee said, 'I have ideas on how we can change things around so that we can have student achievement,' and they are successfully moving in that direction, more so than some of the test scores that we see across the nation. When others are going down, her Washington D.C. area is making strides to go upward.

"And so the point is, would I pay $275,000 to a superintendent if they could do that for us? Absolutely. I think it's a good investment. The problem is we don't have that system. We don't have the system where the mayor appoints and gives the backing to the chancellor. We have a system where a Selection Committee is going to review some applications and put the existing Board members on a list that gets reviewed amongst all of these people who get chosen from these different areas, and then submitted to the Governor. Where the Governor will then select from that list, and then the Governor will take that down for the advice and consent of the Senate and possibly, when that Board actually appoints the Superintendent."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to a point of order, stating:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. She's straying again to another bill that we've already debated and discussed. This is just about the salary. Can we please just debate that? Thank you."

Representative Finnegan continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was just making a point in regards to the $275,000 that was brought up for arguments sake of this bill, and Michelle Rhee in addressing the issue that we have a totally different system than theirs.

"That I would invest money, hard-earned taxpayer money if we're not throwing the Superintendent that is appointed by this appointed Board into quicksand, because that's what basically we would be doing with the next Superintendent. Putting them in quicksand and telling them, 'Okay, now that you have this environment, I want you to fix education.' Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I must admit that I'm puzzled by the fact that the Minority Caucus is ..."

Representative Thielen rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have an objection. This is about the fifth time that he has done personal attacks or talked to motive, and the Majority Leader has before said motive is improper. So I will just echo the words of the Majority Leader. Discussing motive is improper."

Representative Rhoads continued, stating:

"I don't believe I'm going to be discussing motive. I was just going to say that I think it's surprising to me that a Party that puts so much stock in market-based solutions suggests a cap on salaries at all."

Representative Thielen: "Mr. Speaker, this also. Objection, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Rhoads: "Why not get rid of the salary cap entirely?"

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "Representative Rhoads, could you wrap it up?"

Representative Thielen: "This is off the subject of the bill and our Minority Leader was already corrected."

Representative Rhoads: "I'm sorry, Mr. Speaker. Do I have the Floor or not?"

Vice Speaker Magaoay: "Representative Thielen, please let Representative Rhoads finish. Representative Rhoads, please continue."

Representative Rhoads: "I'm not sure, from a market-based perspective why a salary cap would be necessary at all. I think why not just let the market decide what the price should be for the person. There is a market for these kinds of employees. So let the market work. It's is puzzling to me; that this position would be taken by this particular Party. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2434, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALARIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Awana, Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, McKelvey, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1160-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2115, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2115, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I don't believe we should give the Department of Education this expanded authority until they're audited. And I believe they're well overdue for an audit."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations for the same reasons, and would like to adopt the words of the previous speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2115, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PREAUDITS FOR PROPOSED PAYMENTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1162-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2256, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2256, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Thank you, very much. And just with some reservations. I don't know if I did need a ruling on a conflict of interest. There are times where with community events, that I do ask the schools of my district for use of the parking lot."

The Chair responded:

"No conflict. That shouldn't pertain to anyone on this Floor, but please proceed."

Representative Ching continued, stating:

"Thank you, very much. So I rise with reservations on this legislation allowing the DOE to assess to fees for parking, roadways, and parking areas under its jurisdiction. I do want to see the DOE be able to raise its own revenue, but I just believe one of the great traditions of our State and country is the free and open access of school facilities in the neighborhoods they serve.

"These buildings not only serve the students for school and sporting events, but they're also gathering places for community events. Things like the Boy Scout meetings or the recent Aloha Aina Earth Day recycling collections at Farrington. The numerous other community meetings that occur in schools across the State.

"People gather at these schools. They pay taxes to support them and hopefully, we will have the DOE be able to be judicious about this and make sure of that. Sure I know it's tough economic times, that they remember that these community organizations are the ones that are often times improving their communities. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2256, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1164-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2452, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2452, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I speak in favor of this measure with strong reservations. The reservations I have on this particular measure are that I've never seen a bill so watered down, and so weak that it is not going to do anything.

"This bill is going to be signed by the Governor, and it's going to be put in a nice file, stashed away, and that's all it's going to do. It doesn't do anything. It says 'may,' and 'if money is available,' and all those kind of synonyms."

Representative McKelvey rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, are we on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1162 or 1164? On 1164. Sorry. Please continue."

Representative Souki continued, stating:

"What's the problem with my friend from Lahaina? It's been a long day, Mr. Speaker.

"Anyway I won't go on anymore. I think I got my message across. I just hope that somewhere along the line, there's over $160 million in the Emergency Fund. Maybe some of that can be used for transportation. Some of the balance. Because without transportation, the kids who live in the rural areas will not go to school. They will miss a lot of days, and this concerns a lot of the people living in Puna, Hana, or Ulupalakua. How do you think they're going to schools? There's no way they can.

"So I think this is an extremely important bill, but it was treated lightly, and it should not be treated lightly. Thank you, very much."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, very much. Again my apologies. In support with serious reservations. May I have the comments of the speaker from Wailuku entered into the record as if they were my own. I would like to underscore one point: it is the most disadvantaged members of our society that need this lifeline of transportation to the schools. And this, on top of everything else, is really going to severely impact them.

"You're putting people in a situation to choose, especially in a lot of areas where there are no safe routes to school. You're putting them in a precarious situation: do I send my kid to school, exposing them to the dangers? Or do I just keep them at home? And I think that like the previous speaker said, this is a very serious bill and I hope as it moves into Conference that we can really beef this thing up and look to some of these funding sources that he mentioned. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of this measure. I want to assure the Members that we did not take the contents of this measure, or the purpose of the measure, lightly. That's why it's here before us and it's moving forward to the Senate.

"Mr. Speaker, this is a very important issue. It is in regards the transportation of our students to and from school. It is especially important on the Neighbor Islands where they have a lack of public bus service. It also affects the rural areas of Oahu where you do not have reliable transportation services and options.

"So when we're looking at this, I just hope that we have the wherewithal at some point and time to provide maybe some additional funding for the school bus service. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in support of this bill. I would like to submit comments to the Journal and add some additional comments here.

"Mr. Speaker, like my colleagues from Maui, for my district it's not an option. I don't have any transportation for the students in my district because of the way that my district is made up. Many of the students won't be able to even reach school.

"So I thank the Chair of Finance for keeping a vehicle alive, and I hope that as it moves to Conference that we do find the money to specifically, especially in my district and others that have the same challenges, that the buses are serviced and the students won't have to rely so much on their parents who work, and who also don't have transportation. So thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"I support this bill and its intention of continuing to provide public school students with transportation to and from school. Many students in District 13 live far away from the schools they attend and would have difficulty procuring an alternative means of transportation if school buses were no longer provided. This would result in truancy or create an unfair financial burden on parents and guardians forced to drive in excess of 40 miles on a daily basis.

"I agree with the Committee on Finance that more discussion will be necessary in order to establish the logistical necessities of creating and maintaining a transportation revolving fund, particularly in terms of ensuring that schools are provided for according to the factors specified within the bill and of creating a sufficient amount of funding to continue the service. I would also recommend that the finances of the Department of Education be audited to explore other potential sources of funding."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. And just to follow up on the rural district. I have kindergarten students that go 15 miles to school, and obviously if there is no bus transportation, they won't go to school."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support this bill and I would like to make some comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In talking about transportation for our students, and safe transportation for our students, it's really interesting because we really should become more 'charter' minded. Meaning more innovative and more accountability when we're talking about transportation funds.

"When we were sitting in the hearing, when we heard over and over about the safety, safe routes to school, making sure the kids have transportation, and all of this fun stuff and important stuff, we also heard about the existing system and how the numbers for transportation, how much it costs for transportation in getting kids to school. $72 million, $50 million, $45 million. All over the place.

"And then you hear from some of these companies that have the transportation contracts, the bus contracts. They're talking about in their individual contract it states that there are all kinds of money going all over the place. So for instance, there may be somebody, even said anecdotally, I'm sharing this with you. But somebody even said there was like $300,000 or something, or $30,000 or something like that, that goes to books which is in a transportation contract.

"Mr. Speaker, safe routes to school, I vote yes. Money for school buses, I vote yes. Accountability on where this money is going and if it's being used correctly, and whether or not we've got good contracts in place, and whether or not we can be innovative with school transportation. That is not in this bill and we do nothing to address those things.

"Rural areas such as on the Big Island, you have, in fact we have one of Executive Director of West Hawaii Explorations Academy, they bought buses. They don't have mechanics, but they send whoever gets a commercial license, and this might be another employee and not necessarily a bus driver because they have to be innovative with how they spend their money. They do the maintenance on these buses by whoever's driving that bus that day. If they need maintenance on the bus, they'll drop it off at a local place where they do all the maintenance efforts on that bus, and pick it up in the morning to go pick up their kids. They do that within their Charter School budget because they have to. They feel that it's a priority and they're going to fund it.

"Also, Kamaile in Waianae. I shared this story before. They bought mini-buses, bigger vans, they cross-trained their sometimes cafeteria workers, or whoever else into getting some of these other licenses so they can drive the kids. They pick up homeless kids at 6:00 in the morning, and drive them home at 6:00 at night. Way beyond what this bill does. Safe routes to school. Safe transportation to school. Pick them up right at their doorstep, or in these cases, not their doorstep, but wherever they are.

"Mr. Speaker, it's about innovation. It's about accountability. It's about priorities. And it's about giving the control to those schools to make the decision that they have to make. By continuing to operate like this, we will continue to see the price tag go up, and up, and up, for the sake of safety for kids, but you're not looking at how we can be accountable to the tax dollar and create safety for kids.

"Mr. Speaker, like I said, I'm in support. And for the speaker from Wailuku, I've actually seen many bills that have been watered down so much that it doesn't do anything anymore. Thank you."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill, like so many, is not perfect. However, it makes clear that the Legislature understands the importance of providing bus service for our school children. Especially for rural areas, school bus service is critical and will save lives. I would like to thank the countless concerned individuals who testified in support in this bill. I will continue to do whatever I can to make sure that school bus services are not permanently parked, our kids are not left by the side of the road and forced to brave the highways, and our families will not witness an increase in traffic and safety hazards."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support. A vast majority of school-aged children use the school bus for transportation. In rural areas, parents leave homes early in the morning and children are left to walk to a nearby site located within their neighborhood. Should school bus service not be made available, children in my district will have to walk along a highway known for pedestrian accidents and vehicles that travel way beyond the posted speed limit. I understand that there remain financial challenges in the DOE budget, but the safety of these students needs to be a priority. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2452, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Morita voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1165-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2570, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2570, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am presenting written comments in support of SB2570, which proposes an amendment to Article X, Section 2, of the Hawaii Constitution, to change the Board of Education from an elected board to an appointed board.

"Elected BOE members currently have little accountability, especially to the Administration. If the Governor appoints BOE members, they—and the Superintendent they elect—will be accountable to the Governor and the people of Hawaii.

"Although I support this bill, it is a 'half-loaf' compromise. Having the Governor directly appoint the BOE superintendent would be a better way to ensure direct accountability to the Administration instead of indirect accountability. Another weakness is that the success of the BOE depends too heavily on the effectiveness of the appointees' selection process.

"Regardless, this bill is a step in the right direction toward establishing a BOE that is accountable and has a new perspective on Hawaii's education issues. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support SB2570."

Representative Ito rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict and also for Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1166? My daughter works for the Board of Education."

The Chair responded, stating:

"No conflict for these measures, but we already voted on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1166."

Representative Carroll rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"The Executive Branch of our government is currently responsible for appointing a number of positions, administrative and otherwise. To give this Branch nearly complete jurisdiction over the Board of Education runs contrary to the mandated balance of powers and will strip our voters of the agency they currently have to select whom will be responsible for their children's educational welfare.

"I am particularly concerned that this bill does not stipulate that all islands or counties must be represented by Board members knowledgeable about their particular needs. The schools within my district are different from schools on O`ahu in terms of geography, demographic, and programs required. Any bill that alters our current system in terms of Board nomination and appointment must address this difference to ensure that all of our constituents are represented equally."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker and Members. I am in strong opposition. Mr. Speaker and Members, I believe that this bill is an overreaction to the furloughs and the situation we have right now. If you have listened to some of the speeches that have been made relative to what we're doing in education right now, and the previous speaker from across the aisle, you know that if it goes to the Governor's Office to administer, the Department of Education it going to have the same kind of thing that you've been hearing right now.

"We're going to make the Governor, whoever the Governor is, whether it's a Republican or a Democrat, we're going to make that particular person more powerful than they are right now. We have the most powerful Governor in the whole nation, right in this State. This bill is going to make the Governor even more powerful. It's going to make us that much weaker and we're a party to this. You're going to continue to lose the balance of power between the Executive and the Legislative Branch, and this is why you need to continue with an elected Board.

"Yes, this Board may not be working. We may have to restructure the Board. We may have to look at having more Board members so they would be more accountable to smaller districts.

"But to put it in this way is not the way to go, and if this is your will, so be it. But remember this. You are losing again, the flexibility of the Legislative offices versus the Governor's office. You're weakening the legislative process. Thank you, very much."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I'll be submitting remarks for the Journal, but I would say as a brief retort on behalf of the Administrations from Ariyoshi, Waihee, and Cayetano, the people of Hawaii through the Office of the Governor have spoken. Business as usual is not acceptable.

"It's not about power. It's about what my colleague said here, it's about the kids. It's about getting education up to speed, up to par, so that we are not mediocre, but we excel. That we become world class.

"If the Representative from Maui is correct, if we've got to change it, we'll change it again, but we're going to keep pushing the envelope until we reach some kind of excellence rather than continually going, from decade to decade, accepting what we have. Maybe he's right. Maybe he's wrong. So far, four Governors have said he's wrong, and I'm betting on them. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. First of all, I'd like to have the words of the speaker from Wailuku entered into the record as if they were my own. And just a few brief comments.

"I'm glad that this measure is going to go before the voters because this will be the last say they have in education. Because the reality is we need reform in education, but it's taking away the voice of the people and putting it in the hands of one person. Is that going to lead us to the reform that we want?

"Members, I would have you keep in mind the rural and Neighbor Island perspective on this. What you're saying to us is, 'Your voice doesn't count. Your accountability. Your schools, and the ability to ensure change and resources, it doesn't count.' What counts is whether that Governor, whoever he or she may be either, (a) likes you; or (b) will even listen to you.

"And there's nothing you can even say to the Governor to ensure that will even appoint somebody who truly represents that area. Realistically, they're probably going to appoint somebody who is politically patronage or supportive of them. Their only tie to the area will be that they may or may not have lived there, and that's it.

"Let's push the envelope, Mr. Speaker, but let's push it in a way where we can have the best of both worlds. That's the accountability with participation. I totally concur with the speaker from Wailuku. Let's look at the size of the Board and making them smaller districts. Let's look at locally elected school boards perhaps. But let's look at reform that empowers people and doesn't silence them. Thank you, very much.

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. I really wasn't going to stand up and speak about this at the moment, but I wanted to share a little perspective someone who's been a classroom teacher, as well as a Vice Principal, Student Activities Coordinator, and Principal in the public school system. My whole career has been with the public school system.

"What I know to be true, when we talk about school reform, is that it happens at the school level. The school principal is absolutely paramount, and the school principal is responsible for his or her actions to the Complex Area Superintendent, who really at this moment does not have much authority, and ultimately to the Superintendent of the schools.

"When we talk about the policy making body for the Department of Education, it is the Board of Education. Whether we agree with that Board or not, it needs to be a functioning Board. For 32 years we have assumed that having an elected Board would not only allow the voice of the people to be heard, but would be a discerning body of people who really paid attention to policy.

"What we've observed in the last few months is that the attention is not about policy, but about compliance. Compliance to contracts, compliance with employment laws. I mean those are all important, but we heard a little earlier from one of our colleagues that we need to pay attention to the children's well-being.

"I believe if we have a Board that is not worried about factions, and about if they'll be not like by their community, or if they can garner the support of other of their members because of certain platforms. But if we have a Board, and I'm not sure that this particular model, though we fashion it after the Board of Regents, I'm not even sure that's the right methodology. But certainly we know at this particular moment that having an elected Board is much more emotional. And I would venture to ask all of my colleagues to go into their communities and ask their constituents, who did they vote for the Board of Education in the last election. I have my community calling me asking me who they should vote for because they trust that I have some sense about the candidates.

"So I would like us to calm down at the particular moment. I know we get very emotional about all our platforms and all our policies, but at this particular moment, if we look at really what is in the best interest of a system change. I believe that this particular methodology will at least shift the way in which we're doing business in which the way the Board of Education is doing business at this moment. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I couldn't echo more the sentiments of the Representative from Aina Haina. You know by results, I repeat, aside from anything that you want to say this policy or what happened here in this State and what happened. By results. You can't run away from the results.

"The result is the fact that our people cry for change. This is not working. So maybe we don't know what the crystal balls going to show us, but we've been told by people of experience who have been in government that they think this is a good way to go, and so I think that we should do that. I ask that the words of the Representative of Aina Haina be entered as my own."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in opposition and just a few comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The reason why I'm voting no on this piece of legislation is not because I don't think that there could be value in this particular constitutional amendment right in this bill. The problem, like I said is, I'd like to see something a little bit, not just some steps moving in the right direction, but really something that we can hang our hat on.

"One of the previous speakers talked about how locally elected school boards would be one way that we can think about going. Well, that's only because of the failure of being able for any of our bills regarding local school boards over the years, year after year, after year, did we even consider to think about appointed school boards.

"Mr. Speaker, that's what we wanted. We wanted the ability to have the say from each of these different counties, but there was no one from the other side that supported us in that. And so we come up with another bill here that talks about elected boards for the Board of the Education. One of the reasons why it's moving forward is because the previous Governors, Democrat Governors, came out in support of it and I really thank them for doing that because it is change.

"Mr. Speaker, we have a responsibility here, we have a responsibility to take a look at how do we get quality education to kids. And we should be looking at all the different reforms, whether it be locally elected school boards, or whether it be the Governor appointing a Superintendent, or a Governor appointing the Board. We all know that it's accountability that we need. It's said over and over, and over, but yet we keep on doing these not even 'half loaves.' Sometimes I believe that these things are change for the sake of change. But when are we going to. One of the comments was that the Governor is the all powerful Governor. Well maybe it will take something like that for us to achieve true reform, education reform.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm just really disappointed because moving forward on something so important as education reform. I know some of my colleagues are voting no, but not for the reason of education reform, but because they think that they're not going to have local input from their Neighbor Islands. I would say then if that is so, then maybe we should really take a strong look at local school boards. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2570, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE X, SECTION 2, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION, TO CHANGE THE BOARD OF EDUCATION FROM AN ELECTED BOARD TO AN APPOINTED BOARD," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Carroll, Finnegan, McKelvey, Rhoads and Souki voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

S.B. No. 2570, SD 1, HD 2 passed Third Reading in the following form:

A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE X, SECTION 2, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION, TO CHANGE THE BOARD OF EDUCATION FROM AN ELECTED BOARD TO AN APPOINTED BOARD.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

SECTION 1. Article X, section 2, of the Hawaii Constitution is amended to read as follows:

"BOARD OF EDUCATION

At 2:40 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2120, SD 1

S.B. No. 2434, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 2115, SD 1, HD 2
S.B. No. 2256, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 2452, SD 2, HD 2
S.B. No. 2570, SD 1, HD 2

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1168-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2828, SD 1, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2828, SD 1, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1168, with reservations and some comments please. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have this reservation on this bill. This bill is about school impact districts. In 2007 we passed Act 245, which allowed the DOE to designate West Hawaii as the first school impact district and collect fees for new residents. This has resulted in much resistance to the fees in that residents and I feel these issues should be resolved before we further amend Act 245.

"I understand that West Hawaii is a rapidly growing area of the State and supporters are saying that these fees are needed to be able to build classrooms and schools in order to accommodate all of the new students. We cannot ignore our slumping economy and the struggling construction industry, especially over there.

"Recently Hawaii Island Mayor Billy Kenoi came out against the impact fees, saying that the imposition of them on residential builders was, "at the worst place, at the worst time." He went on to say the proposed impact fee will be passed on to the home buyer and that would, "depress an ailing construction industry." I do agree. Our economy is struggling and I don't think we should do anything that will increase cost and harm an important sector of our economy, especially on the Big Island.

"Another reason why I oppose this bill is that it does not include Charter Schools. I would rather have the impact fee apply to Charter Schools as well. They should be included. The Charter School Administrative Office testified about this and they asked to be included through an amendment whereby a residential developer could enter into an agreement with an existing Charter School or one in the process of starting up to provide the facilities for that Charter School in lieu of the school impact fees. I think this is a reasonable request, Mr. Speaker, and I hope that the Conference Committee will take a look at some of these things. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support. Being a Representative from West Hawaii, I'm very familiar with the school impact fee. I wanted to offer some comments. One of the problems in West Hawaii is the inconsistency of the Department of Education, at the time when they went in for their land use change for example, from rural to urban, or from conservation to rural. What was happening is a letter would go to the Board of Education and then it would go down to the staff. They would write letters, and what we were finding is that the fees or land being given, however it was decided was very inconsistent. There was no way for anyone who came in to West Hawaii to understand the rules and understand what their obligation was to schools.

"So because of that, what would happen is when we went through this huge growth spurt, we didn't have adequate schools, and the funding and the mechanism to get those schools, wasn't in place and so we were scrambling. This discussion about all this new construction, and knowing that as these schools, as these communities and subdivisions were being approved, why there wasn't a system in place to understand what fees would be needed to make sure there were adequate schools?

"So there's a lot of work that's been put into this bill. Months and months, and months, of discussions. The development community was also involved in those discussions. It's not perfect. It needs to continue. But the work and where it's at today is such an improvement, and I believe basically in the concept, because I was at the Board of Education meeting when they were discussing this and getting ready to approve this, this school impact fee. In the discussion that I heard from some of the people that were submitting testimony is, in concept they all agreed that this was the right way to go. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. I refer to the article in one of the major dailies quoting Mayor Billy Kenoi."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just some additional remarks. Mr. Speaker, for the Majority Floor Leader, then I hope if this is the way that we are going to progress with this bill, I hope that there is strong support because most of our Charter Schools are on the Big Island, and you know they deserve facilities and facilities funding, or ways that they could get facilities. I hope that she will be one of the proponents of adding the Charter Schools along with this bill. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. As the Representative of a district where schools are impacted by the rapid growth of housing developments, where the schools are so beyond capacity due to the impact of developments, I think it should be computed with population growth and student growth. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2828, SD 1, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Ward voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1172-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2840, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2840, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I won't say much. I just stand with strong reservations and I'll see what comes out on Final Reading. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2840, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC PROCUREMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1178-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2903, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2903, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Can I speak on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1178 for just some short comments? Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do have some reservations on this bill. The purpose of this bill is to strengthen and ensure continuum of Hawaiian language education from the early grades to college by requiring the Hawaiian Language College at the University of Hawaii at Hilo, Department of Education and Charter School Administrative Office to enter into an agreement regarding the Hawaiian Language College's functions related to Nawahiokalani 'Opu'u School and other schools as appropriate as laboratory schools.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in support of this bill. My reservations comes from just seeing if this is truly a place for coordination and collaboration between UH-Hilo and CSAO, and some of these other Charter Schools, as well as the Department of Education, that it really should be a partnership that grows from the interest of those parties and not from, what I would consider, a forced partnership from the Legislature.

"Mr. Speaker, then those are the kinds of things that we do in what's now called categorical funds or programs, and all those types of things. I think especially in this time when the Senate, as well as the Board and we are looking at eliminating categorical funds, that we should really concentrate on where these partnerships can be created and let them do it. I don't think this has funds, but especially if we're going to support this, then it really should be that these people, within their own heart and their own efforts and their own funds, that they're coming together to say this is important. This is our priority. We are going to make a commitment to doing this, and it shouldn't be a forced thing from the Legislature. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2903, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAIIAN LANGUAGE COLLEGE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1180-10) recommending that S.B. No. 930, HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 930, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Yamane rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I would like a ruling on a potential conflict, Mr. Speaker. I'm a volunteer with the Department of Health medical emergency response corps and would be covered under this measure as an emergency social worker. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ching rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I'm just asking for a ruling on a potential conflict. My husband sometimes volunteers in a medical capacity at different organization events. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 930, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VOLUNTEER MEDICAL ASSISTANCE SERVICES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Hanohano being excused.

No. 2494, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Finnegan and Pine voting no, and with Representative Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1185-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2919, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. S.B. No. 2828, SD 1, HD 3
S.B. No. 2840, SD 2, HD 1
S.B. No. 2903, SD 2, HD 1

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2473, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support. Many kupuna have taken the responsibility to become caregivers to their grandchildren when an emergency situation takes place and the only other recourse would be a foster home. Allowing our elderly to assist in times of crisis alleviates further confusion and fear for these children.

"Because we understand that the rules and guidelines may prevent children from residing in a complex or apartment for an extended period of time, this measure allows for the transition for both the kupuna and the grandchild to be much smoother. This measure helps make a bad situation a lot better for the ohana. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of this bill is to assist grandparents raising their grandchildren by number one, allowing grandchildren of elderly housing project residents to temporarily reside with the elderly resident during certain family crisis situations; and number two, granting elderly residents evicted from elderly housing because they allowed grandchildren to live with them during a family crisis, first priority back into elderly housing.

"Mr. Speaker, my reservation is on part one or that section that allows the grandchildren of elderly housing project residents to temporarily reside with elderly residents during certain family crisis situations. I actually agree with the bill and I've told many people that I am supporting it. It's just that the language in here is three months is supposedly the transition time, the time that you're allotted to find other housing.

"For those who are elderly in these elderly apartments, three months is kind of a long time. Maybe we should be looking at making it a little lesser time, two months or maybe one month, because as people get older, and I've had more and more time to spend with my older grandparents on my husband's side, as well as my mom and dad, as much as they love kids and grandkids, some elderly folks have a hard time being around young kids just because they don't understand what it's like to be old, the young kids don't.

"So it sometimes gets into a really awkward situation and so if anything, if we are going to have this which I think is very needed for grandparents to take care of grandchildren during a difficult time and family crisis, then maybe we should make that time period less than three months. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2473, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Hanohano and Ward being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1189-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2593, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2593, SD 1, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, this is regarding Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1189. I rise with reservations, please. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to ensure that housing projects granted a low or moderate income housing general excise tax exemption continue to meet exemption criteria.

"Mr. Speaker, I found that the testimony that came from the Tax Foundation, or actually from Lowell Kalapa, I guess he's also a manager in one of these low income housing areas. What he said was sometimes what you have are people who are living in these housing areas, and the records don't get updated and they may actually be making more than they're supposed to be making. So say it's a low income area and there's a certain amount that you're supposed to be qualifying for to live in that place. He said that there are more and more situations where those records don't get updated and then people who are not low income anymore, but maybe have a more moderate income, that they're still taking advantage of these low income houses.

"Now the way that you do these reviews to me made sense on how he does it. Supposedly what he does is, they do an actual review. They take appointments, the manager takes appointments with each of the people who live in that apartment building to update their records. But currently what happens is people will just tell the managing agent, 'Yeah, yeah, yeah. I'm on the same earning income structure.' So you what you end up with is people who are not accountable and the project ends up receiving a general excise tax exemption, and that's not what the intent and purpose of having the general excise tax exemption is about.

"It really is about helping low income folks with housing. So if we can tighten up the language and make it more meaningful so that people will move on to the next level of housing, and those who are truly low income can come in, I think we need to work on this bill more to accomplish those means."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2593, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HOUSING FINANCE AND DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Hanohano and Ward being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1191-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2469, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2469, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMERGENCY AND BUDGET RESERVE FUND," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Hanohano and Ward being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1192-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2650, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2650, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Bertram rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. I just wanted to read from a constituent on Maui who had her experience with the EPOD system that's being proposed for our State by the Department of Human Services. It has to do with the fact that they could not reach any human person. They could not get the type of face-to-face contact they needed in order to make the types of determinations for her son to cover her son's medical bills. In fact because of their flawed system, her son still has problems and these comments are on the Oregon Public Assistance Call Centers.

"This again, just shows the fact that this is not a good system that's being proposed. And it's been proposed in a way that isn't giving enough people enough time to really have a say in how it's actually to be implemented. So I really ask that everybody take a good hard look at this and consider also being against it."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I feel that I will speak on this a little bit because the Chair of Human Services I think, is chomping at the bit to get at me. So I'm going to go ahead and talk about this a little bit. I actually am in opposition of this.

"Mr. Speaker, maybe because the second part of this talks about that EPOD Program that the previous speaker just spoke of. And you've heard the arguments.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm a little confused because if I'm not mistaken, and I haven't checked within the last week, but I don't believe that the EPOD has actually been implemented yet. Yes, the letters went out that says, I think it was a 90-day RIF letter, that says by June-something, you're going to be RIF'd. But I believe that the call center has not taken place yet. There is one part of eligibility that are doing calls, but I don't think the EPOD Program has been implemented yet. I'm not sure, maybe the previous speaker is talking about someone who has moved over from a state that has already implemented something like the EPOD Program.

"Mr. Speaker, what this does is under the second part in the Standing Committee Report, it says that all intake and eligibility functions relating to welfare and public assistance recipients be performed by employees of the Department of Human Services.

"Mr. Speaker, what I believe this says is, this stops the ability for the EPOD Program to move forward. It stops the ability to have private-public partnerships. It stops the ability, say if there's somebody who needs interpretive services, that if that person is interpreting for them at a local church, or if there's any creative way that we could get better services to Medicaid applicants, that we would not be able to do it unless these services are performed by employees of the Department of Human Services.

"Mr. Speaker, we can disagree all day long and I think that Members both on the Democrat and the Republican side have disagreed on the implementation of the EPOD system. You've heard it before, and why I believe that we should implement it, and still move forward.

"I think that the elimination mainly of the 31 offices across the State is not a true elimination of offices because the Department of Human Services are planning to use all the rest of the Department of Human Services' offices on the other islands to be able to be not intake centers, but areas where you can go in and have the ability to apply.

"I just think that this second part tries to get at stopping the EPOD program for the Department of Human Services, but I really think that doesn't help us with our ability to do private-public partnerships. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of Stand. Com. Report 1192. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. The Department of Human Services wants to close every single public assistance office statewide. All 31 locations. This represents the closure of 50 units in the State of Hawaii, including all Neighbor Islands.

"The Department of Human Services would like to abolish 228 DHS employee positions. In fact, the Minority Leader is correct. Those letters have gone out to all 228 employees indicating their positions will be abolished.

"Who do they serve? What services do the 228 employees provide? They provide services, essential services to over 300,000 needy Hawaii residents. What's the cost savings, Mr. Speaker? According to Director Koller, she believes they can save $8 million by this move.

"Mr. Speaker, if I may. There are seven reasons why I disagree with the EPOD plan, and why I support Senate Bill 2650. The first reason is that the House Bill actually reduced the Governor's budget for DHS by over $18.5 million. They were able to do this without closing a single office or eliminating a single employee.

"The second reason why I disagree with the proposal is because the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, the SNAP, Department of Human Services Administrator, the expert, your number one person dealing with federal public assistance for the Department of Human Services, she disagrees with this plan. Linda Tsark disagrees with her Director.

"In fact, she has not spoken to Director Koller about the EPOD plan. That's very concerning, not only to me, but to the United States Department of Agriculture. In fact, Linda Tsark is so courageous, she came to our briefings and she outwardly spoke against this EPOD proposal and against her boss, her supervisor, DHS Director Koller. Linda Tsark had stated that we could be in violation and we could possibly lose $50 million in federal benefits if we are not in compliance with the federal policy.

"The third reason I oppose the EPOD plan is because the chief investigator, your expert in welfare fraud, has spoken out against this proposal. Chief Investigator, Eric Weyenberg, has not even talked to Director Koller about this. He's upset and shocked that she did not see him, his office or the other special investigators to discuss this EPOD plan. He also opposes this plan.

"The fourth reason. This may violate federal law, Mr. Speaker. In fact, the United States Department of Agriculture has provided a letter to Director Koller. This is dated March 9th of this year. It provides in relevant part, Mr. Speaker, 'The state agency must grant a face to face interview to any household which requests one. Please explain how this requirement will be met if there are no offices on many of the neighbor islands.' Again this is from the United States Department of Agriculture to Director Koller.

"In looking at the House Journal, Mr. Speaker, I noticed, and I say this with complete respect, that the Minority Leader proposed comments in the Journal and it relates to the Office of Language Access. This is germane to Senate Bill 2650, as it relates to the Office's ability to ensure that no person is denied access to State or State-funded services due to the limited ability to speak, read, write, or understand English. It is germane to this bill and to services for those people where English is their second language.

"Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, if services are denied by closing all welfare offices statewide, this could violate Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which requires that state agencies provide language services to limited English applicants or recipients of public assistance benefits. Furthermore, in looking at the letter from the United States Department of Agriculture ..."

Representative Brower rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Mizuno continued in support, stating:

"Thank you, very much. Also in the letter from the United State Department of Agriculture, it does provide that this may violate Executive Order 13166, which provides access for persons with limited English proficiency. In fact the United States Department of Agriculture posed the question to Director Koller in their letter. 'Please explain how these requirements will be met under the proposed reorganization.'

"The fifth reason why I support this measure and I am opposed to the EPOD plan is that the Department of Human Services employees never had a chance to talk with the Director. There was no meaningful consultation with State administrators, staff, or the DHS employees that will be affected by this.

"However, this was an attempt, I guess you can call it, an email that a brave DHS worker forwarded to me which is dated March 15, 2010 with the time 3:08 p.m. Now this email went to only certain DHS employees and provides, and I quote, "Hi everybody. Director Koller is requesting recommendations and comments for EPOD operations. Please email me suggestions from yourself and staff by tomorrow." Tuesday, that's March 16, 2010. So in less than 24 hours, only a selected few employees were to give their comments or suggestions about EPOD. This is not meaningful consultation with staff, administrators, or Department of Human Services' employees.

"The sixth reason why I support this measure and I'm against the EPOD plan is because the Director does not have a plan when she launched this so-called EPOD proposal. And this is why I say this. I can say this with complete honesty, Mr. Speaker. One of the brave and courageous employees from DHS was able to give us this. It's a solicitation request from the Director's office dated February 25, 2010. What it provides is that the Director is looking for assistance on expert testimony, and I quote, "at the Director's request to the Legislature on EPOD." She's looking for expert testimony. She's having a tough time. I can understand that and we would love to work with the Director, but at this point you see, it's full speed ahead.

"Further I quote, "assistance in communicating with the media and public." Now, Mr. Speaker, if you know your stuff, if you know your game, you don't need assistance to communicate to the media or the public. You know what you're doing. This tells me she doesn't know what's going on. And I quote, "assistance in planning the office for configuration." Configuration? Have a plan. "Assistance in fully defining work flow. Assistance in determining help with the application process and other assistance required regarding EPOD." Grave concerns, Mr. Speaker.

"And the last reason, Mr. Speaker, the final reason I support Senate Bill 2650 and I'm against the EPOD plan. I'm very concerned. The Governor, as we all know, opposed the National Health Reform Bill but wants to use $10 million of taxpayer's money for her Hawaii Premium Plus. How does this relate? It does. At a cost saving of $8 million you're saying that you're going to save $8 million and hurt services to 300,000 people in the State of Hawaii, but yet you want to propose a Hawaii Premium Plan at $10 million to help how many people? 6,450 new workers. I'm a little perplexed. So for those seven reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support Senate Bill 2650, and I oppose the EPOD plan. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a couple of rebuttal points. You know first of all I do take great offense that someone says that Lillian Koller doesn't know what she's doing. She is probably one of the most knowledgeable Directors that we have in the State of Hawaii, and maybe in a very long time. She has won countless awards and been recognized nationally by people who understand human services, and it's been bipartisan. Certainly there are some things that could have been done a little better, especially in the public relations aspect.

"When I first heard about this idea and I saw the people testifying, I was very disturbed and I was concerned and I asked her to come in. She did with other members to talk about this. And it really comes down to something very simple. How can we service the people better?

"She's trying to propose a system for that person that's in a wheelchair that goes to these offices and waits for hours just to talk to someone to get qualified to get the help that they need that they are qualified for. They don't have to stand in line anymore. They don't have to wake up in the morning, and go, 'God, how am I going to get there? Who's going to take me? Am I going to be able to survive those four, five, six, seven hours in line?' What Lillian Koller wants to do is, she wants you to be able to pick up the phone, either talk to a person, or press a couple of buttons, and then you're done.

"It's really what she's trying to do. I agree that I wish that there was a better way that we could have handled a lot of the employees and that it was done differently in terms of dealing with the employees. Maybe in getting better training. Maybe transferring them. Unfortunately, the way that our system is set up with our employees is we can't even encourage them to get more training because you have to negotiate that. And then maybe if you train them more, then they're going to be into a different section of a union and then they've got to negotiate that.

"So really what she was trying to do is trying to make the service better for the people. So that's why I'm in opposition to this. Yes I agree it could have been done a little better, but I do believe that we should at least give her idea a chance."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in strong support. In response to what was just said, for those who are disabled, you can get a power of attorney and have someone else represent you at those types of face to face meetings so those types of waits can be avoided.

"I just wanted to share with this Body that over the weekend I ran into Sara Lapilio, and she's been a supervisor at DHS's Kapolei Unit for many, many years. She was literally in shock. She had gotten her RIF notice and was given a date of June 30, along with 75% of her staff. That would be their last day on the job. She just could not imagine how this can happen, and what's going to happen to all the people that they service on a daily basis.

"I also just got an email from a class at LCC Waianae that had heard that the Waianae CPS Unit was going to be closed. That unit is probably one of the busiest in the State and they're in a panic as well. I think it's just common sense that if you get rid of all of these people and all these offices, these disabled and vulnerable people will have nowhere to turn. Expecting them to call or go online, many of these clients are mentally ill, disabled, of course they lack the money to be making these kinds of calls. They don't have computers, and that kind of thing. I have additional written comments to submit including an email from Sara Lapilio."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"In strong support. Over the weekend I ran into Sarah Lapilio, supervisor of DHS's Applications Unit in Kapolei, and she told me she has received a notice laying her off as of June 30. She was in shock.

"Ms. Lapilio sent several legislators this email yesterday:

"Aloha: …There has been a lot of resistance to allowing the Governor… to move forward and implement the EPOD which would be detrimental to the state's most vulnerable population.

I have been an employee of DHS for almost 30 years. For the last 11 years, I have been a Supervisor. I have dedicated more than half of my life as a public servant with the intent to make life better for those in need. To reduce the services we provide to a simple phone call would put needy individuals and families at a greater risk.

Since 2006, my role of Supervisor has been to manage an Applications Unit and as always, I have required my staff to perform well above expectations. As a unit that averages the highest intake of applications, my unit has accomplished greater than the 95% requirement by the federal government. In fact, in the past 2 years, we have met 100% timeliness.

With the reduction in staff last year, my staff has continued to persevere, but burn out is inevitable as we cannot continue to perform as expected with less resources. Very recently, 75% of my staff, including me, have been served with RIF notices. We find it difficult to concentrate on our work, but we are reminded of our mission to make life better for those less fortunate.

In closing, I ask your support in requiring the state to cease all efforts to implement the EPOD until a task force is convened. Mahalo!

Sarah Lapilio
Kamokila Unit"

Representative Carroll rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Mizuno be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Carroll continued in support, stating:

"I'd also like to comment, in the last two weeks as a member of the Human Services Committee, I was on the phone with my constituents from Lanai and Molokai because their offices will be closed. The burden will be put on other nonprofit organizations who may or may not have a fax machine, or Internet ability. And because of the cuts that they're facing, they're many elders and those who are faced with disabilities that are right now concerned because there isn't that person to person contact. It's that kind of human services that, at least I can speak for my district, that they look forward to.

"In an area that cannot afford, or have access to the Internet, I've been having community meetings, especially in East Maui and all the different villages. They're outraged with the cuts. I've had to spend many late hours listening to many of my constituents on their concerns. Yes, I do believe that the Director should have handled this a little better in communicating with those who are affected by the service, as well as the providers, and that wasn't done. And I concur with the Chair of Human Services. I'd like to insert additional comments."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"The recent decision of the Director of the Department of Human Services to reorganize its service structure without consulting its employees or clients has spurred nearly universal criticism and apprehension. Centralizing DHS operations would seriously disadvantage persons on smaller islands in that they would be forced to purchase plane tickets just to acquire the face-to-face contact that federal law requires DHS to make available to clients. Compounding this, a constituent from Lana`i contacted me to point out that there is only one public facsimile on the entire island. The lack of available technological resources on smaller islands worries me, as does the thought of forcing this system upon elderly and disabled clients who may prove physically or mentally unable to utilize new technology.

"Recently, Speaker Calvin Say, Rep. Angus McKelvey, and I visited Lana`i, where DHS clients confirmed that a reorganization would prove severely detrimental to their community. This revision is largely a result of that visit, as the House Speaker recognized the need to exempt Neighbor Islands from the EPOD reorganization. I support his draft of this bill, as it will protect the most vulnerable residents of my District, but I also hope that we will be able to halt EPOD reorganization on O`ahu in the future."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support. I would like to make a few comments. I do understand that with our great financial situation here in this State that we can no longer do business as we've done in the past. We have to make changes and make certain adjustments, and I do respect Director Koller.

"However, this EPOD, or this recent proposal of scrapping all the service providers, is a rather draconian way to deal with the budget or improving the way that we deliver care. In the testimony from Kauai, from the Director of the Foodbank, I was really swayed with what she said. There's really a certain percentile of the population that will never be able to feel comfortable, or are unable to go to a fax machine or be on the Internet to apply. Those people that haven't kept up with us. They are still 70 years behind. And those are the very people that need these services, that are the bona fide recipients of this.

"So by going to this EPOD system, we're going to eliminate the 'bottom of the barrel.' Those people that actually need the care. So I'd rather that we proceed cautiously with this. I agree with the change, but it should not be as draconian as this one. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just short comments in rebuttal, and still a no vote. Many of the comments that happened on the Floor are basically saying that we're getting rid of all eligibility workers, and that's simply is not true. Half of the workforce or more than half of the workforce will still be there.

"The whole EPOD reorganization is not only about reorganizing, but it's really innovating how we can do this better. What do I mean by this? Some case managers right now handle 300 some odd files. So that means on a daily basis if someone calls in and says that I want to get updated on my file, or I've got to change my address, or anything like that. They have to talk to one particular case manager.

"This system, this informational technology system that everybody seems to like for other things, but not for EPOD, will allow someone if somebody calls in, 'Change of address? Sure. What's your name?' Boom, they change your address. That's what a case manager, or I don't even think they're called case managers. I think they're called eligibility workers. That's the kind of work and upkeep that they do when they say they have 300 and something cases to handle.

"Mr. Speaker, it's about innovation and changing the way we do things. Yes, you're absolutely right. In their minds, they cannot foresee how you can do things differently because this is how they handle things now. What's being proposed is a totally different way of handling things.

"Face to face interviews. Some of that was talked about. Face to face interviews doesn't mean that you can go ahead and shake their hand. Face to face interviews that other states have been talking about as well is the ability to look at each other face to face. I was in China and India on a trip. I was able to look face to face and have pretty darn good communication between my husband and my kids. That's an ocean away, Mr. Speaker. We can do these things locally. We can setup these things locally so that we can make the application process for these people who are disabled and all of this other stuff, and able-bodied people as well, to get these services.

"Mr. Speaker, there is a fundamental difference when you're talking about $8 million in savings for an innovation and changing your system, and comparing it to the $10 million that will be spent on the Hawaii Premium Plan. This Hawaii Premium Plan is about getting people from being on Medicaid, from being on welfare, and telling them and incentivizing the worker, the jobs, the employers and saying, 'Why don't you bring them on so that they can work, and we'll help you pay for that insurance."

At this time, the Chair addressed Representative Finnegan, stating:

"Representative Finnegan, can you wrap it up?"

Representative Finnegan continued, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. One last comment. Ultimately, it's fundamentally a different way of thinking between the Chair and me. Fundamentally different that I see an able-bodied person and I say, 'Yes. You can work. And we're going to help you.' Thank you."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support. I'm a little troubled by the plan. On Hawaii Island, there are 111 employees. They're all going to be stuffed into one office in Hilo. As some of you may or may not know, Hawaii Island is bigger than the rest of where all of you live put together. Nobody has talked about what some of the other impacts might be.

"We're not through the plantation closure problems. The people are in their 80s and 90s, and there is like Pahala. I think we're going to see some starvation. I think we're going to see some theft. I think we're going to see an increase in domestic violence. I think we're going to see some suicides. I think we're going to see some very, very serious social problems. All of this dumped on top of the vog problem that we're having that has completely disrupted people's lives. From a personal standpoint I'm really, really concerned about what's going to happen to the people I represent. Thank you."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support. Many along the Waianae Coast use the services of the Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center of which a vast number of recipients are serviced with the help of Medicaid. This measure will truly benefit vulnerable patients with the ability to receive the services they need. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in opposition to S.B. 2650 – Relating to the Department of Human Services. This bill requires Medicaid contracts between the Department of Human Services and Medicaid healthcare insurance plan contractors to contain provisions affecting the reimbursement obligations in the policies between the Medicaid healthcare insurance plan contractors and the home and community-based case management agencies. This measure also convenes a task force to determine the feasibility of the Department of Human Services proposed reorganization.

"The Department of Human Services expects Medicaid health plans to deliver cost-effective services, so that Hawaii residents know that their tax dollars are being spent wisely. If this measure passes, it will open the door to special interest groups seeking self-interested legislation to protect their incomes, which will increase program expenditures. According to the DHS, this bill will "essentially block health plan flexibility and increase program expenditures requiring a new substantial State general fund appropriation". Our State is facing a severe budget crisis therefore no measures that could potentially cost money and worsen patient access to care should be considered. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to request a ruling on a potential conflict. My law firm has claimants listed and included in this bill. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd also like to request a ruling on potential conflict. My law firm also has a claimant listed in this bill," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Oshiro and Ward being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1199-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2807, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2807, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. This bill proposes a constitutional amendment to alter the provision for a tax refund or a credit to the taxpayers when the State general fund balance at the close of each of two successive fiscal years exceed 5% of general fund revenues. It would create another option allowing the Legislature to make a deposit into one or more emergency and budget reserve funds.

"According to the Tax Foundation, the disposition of excess revenues provision was enacted in tandem with our general fund expenditure limit. This occurred in the '78 Constitutional Convention. The refund provision was meant to ensure that consideration be given to returning excess funds to the taxpayers, rather than to remain a target for excessive public spending. In years past, this refund was as high as $100 per person, maybe even higher, although in recent times the Legislature has issued a token $1 tax credit to meet the constitutional requirement.

"Nonetheless, even the $1 refund serves the purpose of making the general public aware of State finances, ensuring that people are reminded of just how much money the State is spending. Sometimes we really 'rake it in.' So I'm in favor of letting people spend money on their family needs and not have it spent by the State or retained by the State. This is a good reminder for us, Mr. Speaker. I think we should keep this provision. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support. This measure gives an option to the State so that we could prepare for a worse economic situation. So in times of good, we could set aside some money in a fund or funds. And sometimes a forecast comes right near a point where you do have excess funds, so we could set that aside for the next couple of years ahead of us. So it just gives us that option. And if I could insert written comments please."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. This bill proposes a constitutional amendment to Article VII, Section 6, of the Hawaii Constitution to authorize the Legislature to determine whether excess funds should be used as tax refunds or tax credits to taxpayers of the State, or diverted to one or more funds to serve as a temporary supplemental source of funding for the State in times of an emergency, economic downturn, or unforeseen reduction in revenue.

"If this bill passes and is approved by the voters of Hawaii, the Legislature will be able to better prepare for future economic downturns by setting aside more money during the good economic times instead of returning funds to the taxpayers through a tax refund or tax credit as required by the current language of our Hawaii Constitution. It is in my long term goal to make Hawaii a top economy per capita and have a large enough reserve fund to better protect Hawaii in even the worst economic conditions that could occur in the future. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support. Mr. Speaker, this basically sets up a mechanism to address the situation we faced back in 2007 when we had a projected surplus under the current constitutional scheme, and we were forced to give a $1 tax refund. This addresses that.

"It also has the support, I believe, of the Governor who at that time did express how absurd that provision was. So this gives us the option to either give some refund back to the taxpayers or put some of this money into our Rainy Day Fund. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in support of this, but I have some slight reservations on this bill. My slight reservation is just that we put in a formula that will allow us to actually get money into the Rainy Day Fund. I think if you go on the formula and the language in the bill right now, that within the next 5 or 6 years we still wouldn't have any money that would go into this emergency budget fund. So if we can massage that and be able to actually to put away money. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2807, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE VII, SECTION 6, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION, RELATING TO THE TAX REBATE REQUIREMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Marumoto voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Hanohano, M. Oshiro and Ward being excused.

S.B. No. 2807, SD 2, HD 2 passed Third Reading in the following form:

S.B. No. 2807, SD 2, HD 2

A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE VII, SECTION 6, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION, RELATING TO THE TAX REBATE REQUIREMENT.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

SECTION 1. The purpose of this Act is to propose an amendment to article VII, section 6, of the Hawaii Constitution to amend the requirement that excess general fund revenues be returned to taxpayers of the State as a tax refund or tax credit and allow the legislature to deposit these excess revenues into one or more emergency and budget reserve funds as an alternative.

SECTION 2. Article VII, section 6, of the Hawaii Constitution is amended to read as follows:

"DISPOSITION OF EXCESS REVENUES

Section 6. Whenever the state general fund balance at the close of each of two successive fiscal years exceeds five percent of general fund revenues for each of the two fiscal years, the legislature in the next regular session shall provide for a tax refund or tax credit to the taxpayers of the State, or make a deposit into one or more emergency and budget reserve funds, as provided by law."

SECTION 3. The question printed on the ballot shall be as follows:

"Shall the legislature be provided with the choice, when the state general fund balance at the close of each of two successive fiscal years exceeds five per cent of the general fund revenues for each of the two fiscal years, to provide a tax refund or tax credit to the taxpayers of the State, or to make a deposit into one or more emergency and budget reserve funds?"

SECTION 4. New constitutional material is underscored.

SECTION 5. This amendment shall take effect upon compliance with article XVII, section 3, of the Hawaii Constitution.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1201-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2174, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2174, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2174, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Hanohano, M. Oshiro and Ward being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1203-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2394, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2394, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker, and just a couple of comments. Basically this removes the DHRD Director as serving as the Chairperson of the Board of the ERS. Basically, there's really been no positive testimony that really is convincing that says that we must do this."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to SB 2394. This measure makes the Director of Human Resources Development one of two ex officio members on the Board of Trustees of the Deferred Compensation Plan and deletes the requirement for the Director to serve as the Chairperson. Additionally, it requires the Board to have five employee members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate.

"The State of Hawaii needs employer representation on the Board in order to protect the taxpayer. This measure removes DHRD's power and vote and completely skews the Deferred Compensation Plan Board toward labor interests. In the management-labor dynamic, both sides need to be represented. The repercussions of a Board being skewed toward labor interests will invariably mean overly preferential treatment of labor's concerns, all at the taxpayer's expense."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in opposition to S.B. 2394 – Relating to the Board of Trustees of the deferred compensation plan. This bill makes the Director of Human Resources Development one of two ex officio members on the Board of Trustees of the Deferred Compensation Plan and deletes the requirement for the Director to serve as the Chairperson.

"It is the core responsibility of the DHRD Director to "administer the employee benefit programs/plans for State employees". According to the Board of Human Resources, within the current system, there in fact are currently five (not three) public employees on the Board. Additionally, the Board has done an exemplary job and serves as a model Board. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2394, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE DEFERRED COMPENSATION PLAN," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Hanohano, M. Oshiro and Ward being excused.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1062, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"I am an enthusiastic booster of professional employee organizations (PEOs). They provide auxiliary services to a small business so that the business can concentrate on its main mission. I am in general support of HB 1062.

"My reservations to this measure go to the $1 million bond required of all PEOs. One business expressed that the size of the bond may be unaffordable for small PEOs. Perhaps a graduated scale would be preferable based on certain criteria.

"One testifier was concerned about the fact that the definition of PEO may be too broad. The bill covers "any person that is a party to a professional employer agreement…" rather than to the PEO alone. This issue should be clarified in Conference Committee.

"Finally, I agree with the Department of Commerce & Consumer Affairs Insurance Commissioner that it is not appropriate for his division to regulate PEOs since it is not an insurance company. Perhaps the registration requirement could come under other sections of the DCCA. What I am certain about is that it should not go to the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations because it is a management issue. In the past there have been members of the labor community, as well as a few legislators, for reasons unknown to me, who were opposed to these PEOs."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1062, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYER ORGANIZATIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Hanohano, M. Oshiro and Ward being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1208-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2566, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2566, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I seem to be pretty negative today. I am in opposition to this measure. This would allow diagnostic testing or one-time consultation for subspecialty diagnostic evaluation in a worker's compensation claim, regardless of whether such testing or consultation is medically necessary. I would like to give you a sample of some of the testimony that we heard.

"The City and County testified in opposition. The proposed bill requires the employer or insurance carrier to pay for one-time consultation without allowing the employer or insurance carrier the opportunity to assess whether it is reasonable, necessary, and related to work injury.

"The Department of Human Resources Development said, this bill deprives the self-insured employer or insurance carrier of a fundamental right to challenge the referral on the basis of it not being reasonable or necessary, or for a condition that is unrelated to the industrial injury. In addition, DHRD said that this bill will likely increase costs by removing one of the checks and balances currently afforded employers and insurance carriers.

"Hawaiian Electric testified that this bill removes the established controls that ensure that all diagnostic tests and a one-time consultation are reasonable and warranted by the work injury. This bill creates a bias against employers and insurance carriers, by removing the opportunity to challenge the referral before these services are performed. This bill would increase work comp costs for employers since not all work injuries are so severe and complex in nature that they require this level of assessment and services.

"The Hawaii Insurers Council said that there could also be referrals made for injuries unrelated to the work injury which would also add costs if the employer has to be pay for this referral.

"Finally, the Property Casualty Insurer's Association said that it supports the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations' belief that the existing Administrative Rules that allow for consultations are fair and adequate, and that there is no need for a non-contestable blanket rule allowing for diagnostic testing and a one-time consultation.

"So if we want to help business, this is not the way to do it. Please consider this vote carefully. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"May I have a ruling on a potential conflict? My husband is a primary care physician," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ching continued in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. I just have slight reservations. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in support. I just want to note there are checks and balances that do not show up in the language of this bill itself, but are certainly in the worker's compensation law. If you do anything fraudulent or unethical, you run the risk of several penalties, and in extreme cases of criminal penalties as well.

"So I think there are already built into the worker's comp law significant deterrents to doing the kinds of thing that have been suggested that this bill will encourage.

"I would also say on a positive note, that often quickly addressing the health concerns of an injured worker is to the long-term benefit of both the injured worker. If the injury goes untreated, that's obviously not a good thing. And also probably, in many cases, to be an economic advantage of the insurer and the employer because if the injury is taken care of quickly, the total cost of treatment will be less than it would be if you wait a while to look at the injury. So for those reasons I support the bill. Mahalo."

Representative Marumoto rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, just a short rebuttal. I think we should fix the particular problem. If a worker is injured and needs extra consultation and diagnostic testing, we should find a way to get it to that person as soon as possible. We don't have to give this blanket opportunity for every single work comp claim. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2566, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL AND REHABILITATION BENEFITS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Finnegan and Marumoto voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1209-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2626, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2626, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I'm in opposition. One of my first jobs that I took when I graduated from Berkley was at the ILWU. My responsibility was to interview all the old-timers that united in the plantation to get better benefits and pay, and a better lifestyle in the plantations.

"Some of the elders told me about how when they first started to organize and stand up for their rights, they didn't win their first strike because they were all divided. Those that did strike, they were severely punished. Some were even beaten. Some, their pay was cut. Some were given the worst jobs. Some were made to work longer hours.

"I'll never forget that feeling after I talked to each of these individuals with how, wow, just because you wanted to do something that was better for your families, you were punished. I have that feeling right now with this bill right here. This bill just makes me sick. I have never in the whole time that I have been here seen a bill that would punish people because they wanted to go work for the other side. They were originally civil servants.

"What this bill does is, if you were a civil servant and you decided to work for the Lingle Administration, you, technically from an outsider reading this bill, are considered the enemy. You who were once promised by our laws and our rules to have your civil service job back, because you worked for this Administration, you are going to be punished.

"You know how you're going to be punished? You're not going to have your same rights and privileges that you once were promised before you decided to take the job in the Lingle Administration. You will be put on probation. You will not have the same rights as you used to have. You will also not be entitled, if you make a mistake, to be represented by the Attorney General, as was your previous right.

"You know what? In this bill it says that if anyone hires any of these civil service personnel or if any of these civil service personnel want to go back to their civil service position with the same rights and privileges, they will be fined $500,000. I cannot believe that we are this petty.

"Some of these civil servants that went to the Lingle Administration, they weren't necessarily Republican or conservative. They saw this as perhaps a time in their career where they could actually be in a position to make a difference. They are no longer the 'worker bee.' They're going to actually be in charge and implement that vision that they always had for Hawaii. Or maybe it pays just a little more and they said, 'Hey you know what? I want to take this chance and I'm going to take this job. It's okay because I can come back to my job later on.'

"I cannot believe we're doing this and that this bill has gone this far. I'm in opposition, Mr. Speaker. And I'm just really disappointed in all of us right now."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I speak in opposition. It kind of pains me, a Democrat of many, many, many years, to look at legislation like this. And it's even more painful to generally agree with my colleague across the aisle.

"I believe that a bill like this degenerates the House. It smacks of pettiness where you provide that 'thou shall not' work for the Executive or the Governor because you're an opposing Party member. But we are not looking at the broader picture. Whoever the Governor is, they should choose the person that best can serve them and serve the people of the State of Hawaii. Not being able to choose the most qualified person to serve the people of the State of Hawaii, I believe does an injustice to all the people of the State of Hawaii, regardless of Party.

"This bill does that. So I'm very sorry to say that, because I have the greatest respect for this institution. I have the greatest respect for the Chairman of the Finance Committee and Leadership, and it hurts me and pains me to say this. But I don't believe that we should be trifling a matter like this here.

"For that matter, Mr. Speaker, I wish to table this measure."

At this time, Representative Souki moved to table Stand. Com. No. 1209-10, and S.B. No. 2626, SD 1, HD 1, seconded by Representative Cabanilla.

At 3:44 o'clock p.m. Representative Takai requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 4:04 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, prior to recess, we were on Standing Committee Report No. 1209-10, Senate Bill No. 2626, SD 1, HD 1. There was a motion on the Floor to table the measure, and the motion was seconded. This measure will be deferred to the end of the calendar of today's agenda."

At this time, action on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1209-10 and S.B. No. 2626, SD 1, HD 1, was deferred to the end of the calendar.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1210-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2849, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2849, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with serious reservations, if not a no on this one. There seems to be some difficulty in implementing this. This is the Hawaii Employer Union Trust Fund Benefits for trustees. I believe as I quote somebody in the Finance Committee who said, I can't imagine how anyone in their right mind would become a volunteer to be a trustee of the EUTF.

"There are fiduciary responsibilities. There are threats of a punitive nature. It's just where the entire structure of the bill turns logic on its head. What's the word for voluntary spirit? That spirit of helping your community. That spirit is totally taken out of it, the same way that a lot of people earlier had a conflict of interest because they were members of community associations and boards and condominiums.

"Well if you're on the Board you usually get Board insurance in case you get sued. This one you're basically naked. You're fully exposed. And for the important service to the community through the EUTF, you are held personally liable.

"Mr. Speaker, that's not fair. This bill is written rather 'cockeyed' and I don't see how it could possibly pass because there is no possibility of anybody ever signing up and becoming a part of it, unless it becomes really restructured and reprogrammed. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. My opposition starts with one particular aspect of this bill, and that is the personal liability that is imposed on the fiduciary of the Hawaii employer-Union Health Benefits Trust fund (EUTF).

"On page 4, lines 17 to 22, and continuing on page 5, lines 1 to 4, this liability is spelled out. "Any person who is a fiduciary with respect to a plan and who breaches any of the responsibilities, obligations, or duties imposed on fiduciaries by this chapter shall be personally liable to reimburse any losses to the plan resulting from each breach, and to restore the plan any profits of the fiduciary that have been made through the use of assets and of the plan by the fiduciary, and shall be subject to any other equitable and remedial relief as the court may deem appropriate, including removal of the fiduciary."

"Mr. Speaker, in the case of the self-dealing prohibitions in this bill, I can understand that. But when you impose a duty that fiduciaries of the EUTF discharge their duties solely in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries for the exclusive purpose of providing benefits, and the other reasons listed on pages 1 and 2, it seems as though we are severely upsetting the balance in favor of the employee in the EUTF.

"It appears that one of the fiduciary duties under this bill is to provide benefits. The cost of those benefits is not a mitigating circumstance. Taking a, "pro-management position" that attempts to control costs by capping benefits would be a breach of fiduciary duty by definition.

"Why would anyone, especially on the employer side of this joint Board, want to serve on this Board under those circumstances?"

"There are other aspects of this bill that seem to support this contention. For instance, section 3 of this bill changes the composition of the board of trustees from an even 5 to 5 split between employers and employees, to a 7 to 5 split in favor of employees.

"As if the imposition of personal liability on trustee/fiduciaries to favor employees were not enough, the voting structure gets changed to tip the balance in the favor of employees, basically undercutting management's position at the bargaining table.

"Mr. Speaker, we often pay 'lip service' to not interfering with the collective bargaining process. But bills like this show we are more than ready to change the rules of the game in such a way as to guarantee victory for one side in collective bargaining. That may not be the true definition of interfering, but it is disingenuous.

"And I fail to see how imposing personal liability on EUTF trustees and basically mandating that EUTF tow a pro-employee line rather than facilitate a collectively bargained benefit from relatively equal bargaining position, helps control health benefit costs.

"Mr. Speaker, the issue we are facing has been, and continues to be, rising health care costs. We don't solve that issue by threatening EUTF trustees, and we don't do it by slanting the playing field to favor one side in negotiations. We all know better than this."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to S.B. 2849 – Relating to the Hawaii Employer-Union Health Benefits Trust Fund. I believe that this bill, by creating separate health benefit trust funds for each bargaining unit, would retrogressively skew collective bargaining procedures, and allow certain units to obtain disproportionately favorable or unfavorable health contribution rates in comparison to one another. Both the State Department of Budget and Finance and the City and County Department of Human Resources echo the concern that S.B. 2849 will fragment the groups for which plans are purchased, and also voice doubt over motives for a switch of the retiree trustee from an employee trustee to an employer trustee. Factors determining the units' varying contribution rates would likely prove arbitrary and depend upon estimates only roughly predictable, such as the demographics of each unit and the members' anticipated use of their health benefits.

"Also, if we are to so disallow alternate impasse procedures on the health benefit contribution amount, the proposed amendments to Section 89-11 (a) and (h) would obstruct the ability for public employers and unions to flexibly resolve continuing negotiations by prioritizing the most significant issues in each discussion. Furthermore, by distilling employee and retiree groups from one another, we would sacrifice the economy of scale now established by grouping all employees into a single trust fund, and thus force the State to accrue higher costs for administrative and other functions.

"The State Office of Collective Bargaining reminds us of the various motivations Hawaii originally weighed in 2001, in the process of establishing a single health benefits delivery system for State and county employees with the current EUTF. For one, had the State maintained its prior Health Fund system, employer contribution costs would have exceeded $1,000,000,000 by 2013. Secondly, the unions had been significantly impaired in their abilities to negotiate more competitive benefit packages with insurance carriers, and to retain low costs by not offering coverage to retirees. Third, the unions had been retaining refunds for premium overpayment, even though the Health Fund had originally funded most union-plan premiums. The EUTF has mollified these concerns, but I fear that S.B. 2849 would lead them to resurface.

"The State Department of Human Resources Development strongly opposes this bill, asserting that, given its exacerbated dearth of staffing and funds, it cannot afford to effectively oversee the EUTF, as S.B. 2849 proposes. According to DHRD, "transferring the EUTF to the DHRD would not result in any cost savings that would warrant taking such action, and may in fact cause unforeseen problems which might add to EUTF's current difficulties." Given Hawaii's already dire financial situation, we cannot risk this bill's serious potential to increase costs. Let us now reconsider this murky bill, in light of the numerous objections and concerns which it has elicited. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. Just a point of clarification. Most private Taft Hartley trusts do impose severe and strong sanctions for breach of fiduciary responsibility, and that's all this thing does. It tracks the federal law regarding the fiduciary's responsibility to the beneficiaries of the trust. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote on this bill. Mr. Speaker, I can understand fiduciary duties and everything, but from my reading of the bill, you can actually be sued. A trustee can be actually sued if the members don't like the plan. This bill does not allow EUTF trustees to freely make decisions that would actually, what if they're thinking about sustaining the fund, or looking at things from that angle. So, Mr. Speaker, I will vote in opposition."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just to clarify my no vote on this bill. I think the Chair of Finance's clarification that it is simple, it's straightforward. It's not a big deal. The difficulty is, is that the EUTF, at last report, is losing a million dollars a month. Do we ask a volunteer to be responsible to 'pony up' any or part or in any way be responsible for that.

"Given the track record of EUTF and probably it's pending restructuring, how they can restructure with a bill like this, doesn't make any sense. Again, if this is common to voluntary associations, that's terrific. But in terms of what we need for the health benefit programs for the retirees and the active civil servants of this State, this bill is a 'poison pill' for the voluntary spirit. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in support. Just quoting from the bill it says, 'However nothing in this section shall preclude,' and there's 1, 2, 3 items. 'Three, an employee organization from purchasing insurance to cover potential liability of one or more persons who serve in a fiduciary capacity with regard to an employee welfare benefit plan.' So I'm not sure where this idea that there can be no protection for the person volunteering came from, because it specifically says in the bill that you can get insurance.

"The other thing I would point out is that there are ERISA boards. This bill is modeled on an ERISA board. The federal statutory provision, I can never remember exactly what it stands for. But anyway, it's the federal analogue of what we're trying to do here, and they do people to volunteer on those boards. Now the Attorney General did submit testimony to the Finance Committee that we will be looking at it very carefully as we go to Conference to be sure that we follow the federal lead so as to be sure that the potential problem that previous speakers have mentioned is addressed. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2849, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII EMPLOYER-UNION HEALTH BENEFITS TRUST FUND," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1211-10) recommending that S.B. No. 950, SD 2, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 950, SD 2, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTRIC GUNS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1214-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2533, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2533, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. The purpose of this bill is to require an audit of the Department of Public Safety's contracts with the Corrections Corporation of America and the Federal Detention Center in Honolulu that focuses on a comparison of housing Hawaii inmates in mainland facilities and in the Federal Detention Center, with housing Hawaii inmates in Hawaii facilities operated by the State.

"Mr. Speaker, over the years we've seen different types of requests like this coming through our Legislature, and I would hear from what was being said in testimony, but often times I wouldn't hear from people who have actually been in CCA. More and more, I'm getting letters from those women who have transferred to Hawaii, as well as men who have come back from the CCA on the mainland. I've seen the facilities that are there, compared to the facilities here. And the response that I'm getting from many who come back are saying, the lack of programs, the way it's so crowded here, and that locally their needs aren't being met, having to do with any kind of education or other programs that they feel that they need that really, when they were in the mainland, really started to have them see things in a different light. That they could come back to Hawaii and make a life for themselves outside of the life of crime.

"Mr. Speaker, as we move forward with this, because I know this is going to be pushed through. One of the things that we have to absolutely take a look at is, are the majority of people who are in these mainland facilities, are they being serviced where they're coming out to be better people. And I'm going to have to say that there are quite a few who have had positive experiences. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. I believe the previous speaker gave a good argument as to why we should continue and really have this audit. As was pointed out, there may be severe differences between what's happening here and on the mainland, but we really don't know because they're so far away.

"When I was Chair of Public Safety, I had the privilege to fly to Kentucky and go to Eastern Kentucky to see our female inmates. I also went to Arizona and saw the places where our male inmates are housed and, yes, sometimes we hear they have better programs. But what does that really mean. When I was talking to the gals in Kentucky, it was like you earned the right to be in the program. And if you didn't do things appropriately, then you got a lot of punishment like lockdown, or in fact you were refused your programs. So it was kind of like a 'carrot and a stick' approach that they had on the mainland.

"I'm not quite sure what the contract actually says on what kind of services we provide, but in the end, when you really look at how many women on the mainland did get the programs, it really wasn't that many as a percentage in terms of what was really housed there. So I don't think we really understand the answer of what's really working and not working.

"Until we get a handle on this argument that somehow the private sector, which is for profit, versus what we have in this State which is not-for-profit. Until we get a handle on the real differences between the two, I don't think we'll ever really understand what we need to do for the prison population and what kind of programs to provide them. So this is really a great idea. We keep trying to do this. We've had trouble with getting it through, and I really hope it makes it through this year. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Awana rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, strong support, with written comments."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. I believe this audit is necessary in to ensure that our State tax dollars are being used adequately. Corrections Corporation of America has an ongoing contract with the Department of Public Safety for many years – housing thousands of Hawaii inmates, yet no audit has been done. The same holds true for the federal Detention Center in Honolulu. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong opposition to S.B. 2533. This measure is flawed and would require the expenditure of funds that would be unnecessary because the audits required by this measure would be repetitive. These contracts and agreements referenced in this measure are already audited on a regular basis by an independent auditor.

"Based on the foregoing reasons, I strongly oppose this measure. Given our fiscal constraints, it would not be prudent to expend limited resources on functions that are already in place. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2533, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AN AUDIT OF CONTRACTS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY WITH THE CORRECTIONS CORPORATION OF AMERICA AND THE FEDERAL DETENTION CENTER," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto and Pine voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

At 4:16 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2566, HD 2
S.B. No. 2849, SD 2, HD 1
S.B. No. 950, SD 2, HD 3
S.B. No. 2533, SD 1, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1218-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2105, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2105, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PARKING FOR DISABLED PERSONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1222-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2461, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2461, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this is job killer number three. This is the increase in the car rental fee from a dollar a day, to $4.50. That's aside from the surcharge which means it's $7.50 a day. Almost $50 a week before you even get in your car.

"Mr. Speaker, we know that APEC is coming, 20 countries' heads of state are going to be here. We want to get the airport in 'ship shape.' Unfortunately, this is probably not even going to be out of the planning stage by then. So it doesn't benefit that one.

"The other thing is that as the price goes up, inevitably common sense tells you that demand is going to go down. In the Finance Committee hearing the industry told us that the more the price goes up, the more people rent their cars. The more airport-centric their location, the more rentals, regardless of price. They promised they were giving the Finance Chair and the members of the Committee that data. To this hour, I have not received anything that's counterintuitive to say that your price is going to increase your sales. It doesn't fit, doesn't follow logically.

"So, Mr. Speaker, if the industry can prove that that was the case and that they could build it and get it in time for APEC, and they could assure all the kama'aina renters on the weekend and for those of our colleagues on the Neighbor Island who are going to have to pay this if they do rent a car.

"It's going to be a job killer because they're going to get rid of employees. Employees, Mr. Speaker, I remind everyone, 80% of all the jobs come out of the private sector. Government is the biggest single employer, but 80% still have to go through the private sector. That's what the job killer bill is about, and this is where it's going to attack the auto industry. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations in support of S.B. 2461–Relating to Transportation. This bill amends the Hawaii Revised Statutes to raise the rental motor vehicle Customer Facility Charge (CFC) from $1/day to $4.50/day. The bill further seeks to appropriate funds out of the Rental Motor Vehicle Customer Facility Charge Special Fund for multiple purposes. While I, too, acknowledge the necessity of modernizing Hawaii's rental car facilities as essential to improving tourist numbers and overall satisfaction, we must remain steadfast in committing any and all funds generated by the CFC increase to this purpose, and this purpose alone. I also support this measure due to the fact the affected industry is one of the bill's main proponents.

"The written testimony supplied by Dollar Thrifty Automotive Group, Inc., notes that the increase will raise "approximately $500 million." Although DOT believes the increase in the CFC charge will enable the Department to move forward with the effort to provide modernize the State's aging rental car facilities, fast track construction projects and create new jobs, care should be exercised to insure that these funds are not raided for purposes other than building the specified facility. As noted in the written testimony provided by the Tax Foundation of Hawaii: "A special fund of this size could become a very tempting target to bail out general fund programs in these difficult economic times." I also hope that this measure does not adversely impact tourism. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2461, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Brower, Marumoto, Pine, Takai, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1223-10) recommending that S.B. No. 2897, SD 2, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2897, SD 2, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, and may I request permission to enter written comments into the Journal."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of Senate Bill 2897 S.D. 2 H.D. 1. This bill enacts the recommendations of the Ignition Interlock Task Force made pursuant to Act 171, Session Laws of Hawaii 2008.

"Traffic fatalities and crashes continue to rise each year due to drunk drivers. I was one of the fortunate to survive my accident, but thousands of lives yearly are cut short. I strongly believe that this bill will make a significant difference and save lives. By increasing our options and enforcement methods against drunk driving – such as revoking driver's licenses for at least a year, requiring the installation of an ignition interlock device on any vehicle operated by the offender, with the cost of installation, maintenance, and calibration paid for by the offender, and requiring community service work, prison time, and a fine – we send a message that drunk driving is an incredibly serious offense, even in those cases where no innocent bystanders are harmed.

"Prior to Act 171, Hawaii was one of the only states that did not have ignition interlock laws, even though we have the highest percentage of alcohol-related traffic fatalities in the United States. The aforementioned provisions of the law will hopefully force people to think even harder about the daily consequences of driving under the influence – and will consequently save lives.

"For these reasons, I stand in strong support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Short comments in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The bottom line on this particular measure is that we just don't have money to do this. And I'll insert written comments. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to SB 2534. This bill requires law enforcement agencies to accept cash bonds, certified copies of pre-filed bonds and original surety or own recognizance bonds when the court is closed and stipulates prompt release after acceptance of bail. While this particular idea has many merits in that it makes the process of bail more convenient for persons in law enforcement custody and it would also theoretically reduce the expenses of the detention centers that would ordinarily be holding suspects for longer periods of time, it is simply not good legislation for us to pass.

"This bill conflicts with the provisions of HRS § 353-11.5, which restricts entry upon grounds of a Hawaii correctional facility without the permission from the administrator and the cost of compliance outweighs what little financial savings it might have provided. We simply should not be expending additional money to establish a system and/or personnel stationed at different locations in order to have the ability to submit a twenty-four hour bail."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1237-10. This bill is intended to provide unprecedented levels of compensation to lessees when leased public land for agricultural or pastoral uses is withdrawn, condemned or taken for public purposes.

"The DLNR strongly opposed this measure in Committee, and I believe DLNR continues to oppose its current form. This bill is extremely unfair and, "absolutely favors" a select few with what can only be termed as a kickback-like benefits to tenants who have reaped years of benefits from below market rates.

"This is not the first time that we have seen this bill before. It was originally vetoed last year by the Governor because then, as is now, it was seen as, "disproportionately and inappropriately [compensating] the lessees of public lands above other lessees of State lands."

"We can't afford to show preferential treatment to anyone at a time when revenues are falling short. This is poor legislation because it's giving a soft touch when the rest of us are facing hard times."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

ORDINARY CALENDAR

THIRD READING

S.B. No. 2937, SD 1, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, S.B. Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I am in opposition and just have a couple sentences. This bill was amended to zero out all housing credits. I just have a lot of concerns about that. As we are hitting hard times, we're definitely going to need more affordable housing. So I just am very concerned about these amendments."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2408, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING DEVELOPMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 35 ayes to 14 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, Brower, Carroll, Ching, Finnegan, Keith-Agaran, C. Lee, Luke, Manahan, Morita, Nishimoto, Pine and Saiki voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

S.B. No. 2834, SD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2834, SD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Thank you. Strong support."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support, but with strong reservations, to S.B. 2834 S.D. 1 – which repeals the income tax provision to require the reporting of gambling winnings but not losses.

"Upon consultations, I have decided to revise my vote of the similar H.B. 2313 from an initial "no" to one in support with strong reservations. Although I reluctantly support S.B.2834 S.D.1 because individuals should pay taxes upon actual winnings, rather than a false figure that in no way reflects their "bring home" earnings, I believe that it sends the wrong message to our residents regarding our motivations and goals here at the Legislature. While we have revoked tax exemptions and added fees, on at least 27 separate occasions during recent weeks alone, yet we restore this one first. Nonetheless, our State should tax accurately, according to the amount of one's real profit; anything more or less would be unfair to those who chose to gamble, and an insult to the integrity of justice in Hawaii.

"My reservations, however, rely upon a wholehearted conviction that S.B. 2834 sends the wrong message to our citizens, many of whom already suffer from the current economic downturn. By encouraging gambling, and even presenting it as a more lucrative activity, it promises a false remedy for the financial woes which so many of our unfortunate citizens have now stumbled upon. The marginal taxes which this bill may hand back to empty wallets in no way compare to the magnitude of loss which gamblers are likely to accrue if they are to frequent the casinos more often. Overall, therefore, this bill will weigh heavily upon individual fortunes, as it may lure citizens to gambling as a more profitable, and thus deceptively safe, financial solution.

"Further reservations rest upon a more philosophical belief that we should not reverse this vote, while holding fast to others which also drain citizen pockets with hefty taxation. Businesses, for instance, now suffer more acutely than ever from taxes raised to levels disproportionate with their earnings. We should first prioritize those most dynamic solutions which may propel themselves, by stimulating the market to keep business and employment alive. By focusing our equitable taxation strides upon gamblers rather than businesses, we are encouraging reclusiveness rather than cooperation as an economic solution. Unless we proactively turn the spotlight to the many more enduring remedies which also call for our help, our economy may wade in our current woes much longer than Hawaii can afford. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2834, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Marumoto and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

S.B. No. 2395, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2395, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On this measure, Senate Bill 2395, I rise with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As you mentioned, there was a floor amendment that I did pull back, and I just wanted to mention the two points that I made earlier.

"The first point is, I do believe that the bill is fatally flawed right now, or at least there's a question as to whether in fact the implementation date of the bill comes after the VEBA dies. So I've been assured by Leadership that they're going to work with the Senate Leadership to make sure that we take care of that.

"For those of you who don't know, the effective date of the bill was July 1st, 2010, and VEBA by State law right now will end on July 1st, 2010, so there was some confusion there. So the intent of the floor amendment was actually to move it to June 30 to clear that up.

"The second point is that, let me first say that I still continue to support VEBA. I do believe it has worked, it continues to work, and will work in the future. But regardless of whether you support VEBA or not, I think we all agree that the EUTF right now is not doing too well.

"The operations of EUTF are suspect. I do know that they are leaderless. They don't have an Executive Director. I also do know that they have finally over the course of a few months now, have a majority of the trustees appointed so they can start making decisions. But we've had a very difficult 12 months. The last 12 months with EUTF. I don't think it would be wise for us, after going through what we went through earlier this year, to increase the membership of the EUTF by another 40,000 members if we transfer VEBA too early.

"Now the proposed bill in front of us recommends that we do the transfer come December 31st, 2010. My recommendation is to extend it to June 30, 2011 for two reasons. The first one as I mentioned, I don't think EUTF can take the additional members right now. But number two, Mr. Speaker, as you know the public health funds typically starts on July 1st of every year and it just seems right to me to start the transfer of the VEBA on the effective date of the next planned benefit year.

"The reason for that is because when you do bids, Request For Proposals on these types of plan designs, you put the effective date, the length, and you also talk about the number of members. Right now all of that is up in the air being that they will not have open enrollment right now, and the July 1st new year has been extended to, we don't know when. But we do know that come July 1st, 2011 it should be a new year. It just seems wise that we do the transfer if we should choose to do it, at that time. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. The words of the previous speaker are very well taken. I would only add that VEBA is looking better and better as we see that the EUTF and the million dollars, and after this last bill that said the trustees are going to be liable for untold amounts of difficulties. It makes VEBA look like the story has not really been totally understood yet. I will reminisce as I did earlier when in the Finance Committee, the Auditor's report was presented and so many of us were so brain dead we never asked questions for the VEBA consultant who was in the room to give his side of the story. So, Mr. Speaker, this bill will push us down the field, and hopefully all the data will come out. And hopefully it's going to work out. Thank you."

Representative Ito rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have a ruling on a potential conflict? I have one of the VEBA plans," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Souki rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Sagum rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Takai be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2395, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BUDGET," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Ward voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

S.B. No. 2405, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2405, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I'm in opposition, Mr. Speaker. What this bill does is it temporarily suspends the income tax net operating loss carry back deductions for losses that were generated in 2009 and 2010.

"This is a hard bill to swallow for many of the businesses, those 90% of the businesses that are small businesses, 'mom and pop' stores in the State of Hawaii. Many are just barely making it and we add this bill where they can't itemize deductions anymore. It's really going to hurt them.

"I've spoken, just in the last month, to so many small business owners that just make $50,000 a year, maybe even less. One owner said, 'Wow, I used to make $8,000 extra every month in my business with two or three employees. And now, I'm barely making it.' Now with the increase in cost of the unemployment insurance they're going to have to fire somebody. And then you add this. That just leaves that one person working, and really that person doesn't have a business anymore.

"I know that there are some decisions being made, but I hope that instead of just looking at the immediate savings that the State might have, that we look at the long term problems that may occur and the devastating impact on our economy that may occur."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the bill. Mr. Speaker, this is job killer number 7. This is the bill that changes the rules for the business community. This is the bill that is a takeaway. This is a bill that is going to cause a lot of hardship as my colleague has just mentioned. It's a bill that changes the rules and confuses what otherwise is a very distraught community.

"If any of you have read the Star-Bulletin article a few days ago. Mr. Speaker, it was shocking to learn that behind Tokyo is Honolulu as the most expensive city in, not the United States, not in the Pacific, not in the Southern Hemisphere, or the Northern Hemisphere, but in the world. Mr. Speaker, we are so designated as the second most expensive place to do business in the world.

"One of the components of why it's so expensive is taxation. This is a possibility for businesses to get their money back, particularly net operating losses. This is an opportunity for them to hire more employees and the result is going to be the exact opposite.

"Now I know everyone's pleading, 'Well, we've got to be able to balance the budget.' Well hopefully in a few days you're going to see that there's a budget that's going to balance that does not need these kinds of figures. And does not rely upon this kind of stuff, because in the end run when we lose the employees, we've got to pay more for unemployment insurance. We've got to pay more for social services, medical insurance, etc.

"Mr. Speaker, for those who have derided the fact that the EPOD and the other budget cuts are coming, well these are private sector budget cuts that we are cutting now right in the private sector. So job killer number 7. It's real. It's coming. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support. This is job saver bill number 7. You know, it's funny. My good colleague from Hawaii Kai would knock this particular bill. He should know that if we were to charge a fee, or charge a tax, we're taking something away from the businesses.

"This bill, the language of which I wrote, especially the first part, the net operating loss part, what it does is it precludes you from carrying back your NOL. But we don't take it away. It's like borrowing money. It's like that $275 million proposal of the Governor. It's 'kicking the can down the road.' So I'm kind of doing the same thing that she is.

"But I can't understand why my good friend from Hawaii Kai would object to this because if we don't do this, then we would have to raise taxes, and that's taking. This is just a function of borrowing.

"My last point, the State of California did exactly this except they did not allow you to carry back your losses, and they did not allow you to carry forward your losses, which is a lot more draconian. All we did was borrow. We didn't take. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support. Just a couple of other points to this measure. It basically, temporarily suspends the income tax net operating loss as expressed by the previous speaker. It saves about $35.2 million in fiscal year '11. So it helps us generate some savings.

"The second point I need to make is it caps the itemized deductions at $50,000 for individuals, $100,000 for couples, $80,000 for heads of household. It will save us about $49.3 million per year.

"The third point is it makes the capital goods excise tax credit a nonrefundable credit. It is similar to the Governor's bill that was approved by this House and it went up to her for her signature, that would change the order of which you can claim the credits. By doing that, we save about $7 million in fiscal year '11, $2.1 million in fiscal year '12, $700,000 in fiscal year '13, and $200,000 in fiscal year '14.

"As our previous speaker expressed, all these provisions sunset December 31st, 2015. So these are temporary measures and this is in lieu of raising personal income taxes, or the general excise tax. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition. Just short comments, Mr. Speaker. Throughout the Session I've been very careful, voting with reservations on tax increases and saying that at the end of the Session we'll have a clearer picture. I still believe that through the budget and other things that if it were up to me and I could make the decisions on the budget, that I believe, and the Minority believes, that we wouldn't have to raise taxes, or we wouldn't have to use measures like this. Although very creative and needed to move forward, I think we believe that we can still do a lot within our budget to define core services and cut more of our budget, Mr. Speaker, and find other ways to increase revenues.

"But Mr. Speaker, at this point in time, as the Session comes near an end, that we believe that there's more things that we can do so that we don't take taxes from those who are taxpayers. And in this case, this is mainly about business owners that decided to invest, and they're going to have losses. So you're talking about business owners that took, in this period of time when we had such a slowdown, businesses that could, took this money and invested it within their business and that's the kind of movement that we need.

"We need those businesses to be encouraged about what they see in the future and generate more jobs and generate more business activity. So that's one of the reasons why I will be voting no. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Brief rebuttal, Mr. Speaker, if I may. I really appreciate my colleague from Manoa, in Sherlock Holmes terms, the author of the crime has admitted that he is the author of the bill. And that he will take full responsibility even though he's given a few concessions that yes, it's only a loan. That is true. That is for granted. But the one thing that his profession and the advice that his profession gives, is to try to make systemically predictable the outcome of your risks.

"The point being that businesses need certainty, businesses need stability, and Mr. Speaker, we are not the Third World. In the Third World, you can have access to licenses and property, and in the next month you can lose that. We are doing with this what many places in the Third World do. They yank stuff according to who's in power. To have an economy with stable employees, you need stability.

"I think I'm preaching the choir to the author of the bill, but for the sake of the jobs that may be lost by this, that's what's down the line with job killer number 7. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2405, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Pine, Thielen, Ward and Wooley voting no, and with Representatives Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

At 5:33 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2937, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 2408, SD 2, HD 1
S.B. No. 2834, SD 1
S.B. No. 2395, SD 2, HD 1
S.B. No. 2405, SD 2, HD 1

S.B. No. 2493, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2493, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to disclose a potential conflict. My grandson is a second-year med student at the Medical School," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen continued in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"I am submitting comments from the UH John A. Burns School of Medicine (JABSOM) on SB No. 2493.

"What the bill does:
- Maintains the current allocation of monies in the Fund. There is no reduction to Tobacco Coalition.

- Adds new requirement that DoH and UH prepare a detailed account of revenues and expenditures.

- Extends the date JABSOM can use excess funds to cover operating expenses from 2011 to 20105, the same sunset date as its current allocation.

Why is this important to State?
- There is a shortage of physicians in Hawai'i by about 500 doctors, based on our population. This is even less than the national average.

- This is one of the most important investments the State can make to ensure healthcare for everyone in Hawai'i.

JABSOM is the best source of doctors for Hawai'i
- About 50% of the practicing physicians in Hawaii are graduates of JABSOM or its post-graduate residency programs.

- On the Neighbor Islands, where the shortages are the most acute, JABSOM is developing residency and rotation programs to give students and physicians exposure to rural practice, with some participants already indicating an interest in practicing there.

How this bill helps
- The Tobacco Settlement Fund provides funds to pay for the debt service on bonds for JABSOM construction. If there is an excess within the JABSOM allocation, it can be used for operating expenses. Currently, that excess is about $4 million. The bill simply moves the sunset date on the use for operation purposes to conform to the sunset date for JABSOM's overall allocation, which is 2015.

Avoids General Fund Impact
- If it were not possible to use Tobacco Settlement funds for operating expenses, JABSOM would have to seek general fund monies to fulfill its important mission.

- Because of UH cuts, JABSOM has already lost $5 million over the last 2 years; will probably have to share in future UH cutsback [sic], and has no reserves to absorb additional cuts such as the loss of tobacco settlement monies.

JABSOM is engaged in tobacco cessation efforts
- This includes training professionals in tobacco cessation and proving treatment."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative C. Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"The John A. Burns School of Medicine plays a vital role in training and producing medical doctors and staff for Hawaii. However, it has continually come to the Legislature, year after year, for more money to pay for its operation, after years of commitment to becoming financially self-sufficient. Using money from the Tobacco Settlement Fund to pay for continuing operations robs other public health programs and services of the funding for their operation.

"It is well past time that the School of Medicine sort out its issues, follow through on its commitment to fully funding the school of public health, and make a serious effort to help keep the doctors and staff it trains here in Hawaii, rather than continuing to lose them and their expensive taxpayer-subsidized education to other cities and states on the Mainland. This vote is not a vote against the School of Medicine, it is a vote against the manner in which the school is operated, and the harm that is being done to other programs whose funding the School of Medicine is stealing."

Representative Takai rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This measure continues what we set about in 2007 to give the University of Hawaii Medical School the excess revenues from the Tobacco Settlement Funds for the express purpose of the operations of the Medical School.

"In 2007 we agreed to give it to them for four years. So it was supposed to lapse in 2011. This bill extends it out to 2015. Much has been in said over the course of almost a decade now in regards to the use of the Tobacco Settlement Funds for the Medical School and I won't reiterate all of the background.

"But I wanted to tell you that I had a great meeting with the Dean of the Medical School yesterday, and we did talk about a whole bunch of stuff, in addition to some of the history that I shared with him. But I'm still not certain what's going to happen to the Medical School or what their plans are should these funds disappear. In other words, what's going to happen to the Medical School when the $4 million that they get currently from this fund for operations, is no longer available? What happens if this bill becomes law in 2015 when they no longer have access to these funds?

"There's no answer. I've asked them to get back to me. And I'll share it with the Body once they give me their answer, but I think it's important to understand the financial plan of the Medical School, and as we move forward, the financial plan of the Cancer Research Center as well, because as you know that building is coming up pretty quick and to my knowledge there are no plans on how we're going to pay for the operations of even that facility.

"A few years ago when I spoke to Dean Cadman, we talked about the financing of the operations of the Medical School and I remember that we decided in 2001 when we provided these funds that the Medical School was going to pick up and carry the cost of operating these facilities.

"Today they say it costs about $10 million to operate the facility, and there's just not enough money that we give them and not enough money that they said they were going to raise, to cover the costs. That's the reason why they're using Tobacco Settlement Funds.

"When I talked to Dean Cadman a few years ago when we revisited this issue, he said that the reason why he wanted to separate the UH Medical School into an 11th campus of the University System, was to increase the indirect cost percentage for the campus.

"As you recall, it was about 38% for the entire campus of Manoa, and he thought they could go as high as 68%. Why that is important is because for every federal grant, whatever that indirect cost percentage is, pretty much you can multiply it so in the case of the original percentage of 33-35% you can multiply a million dollars and get $350,000 more.

"He had desired to increase it to as high 70%. So at a million dollars you can get another $700,000 to use for the operations. Back then, President McClain promised the Medical School 100% of the indirect costs, the RTRF funds, and yesterday, I found out that they only get 50%.

"So there's a whole bunch of moving things, and a whole bunch of concerns that I still have. But the bottom line is that we need a financial plan in order for all of us to succeed and to continue to support the Medical School and the University of Hawaii at Manoa, and the Cancer research center, they need to provide us with the financial plan.

"The other thing, Mr. Speaker, in regards to this bill. It's a clean bill. This bill can go to the Senate and get approved and sent to the Governor in days. My concern is that there are a number of other proposals floating around right now that propose to use additional tobacco settlement funds to balance the budget. When we do that, if we do that, we're going to pit the advocates of the anti-tobacco effort with the advocates of the Medical School. I hope that we don't have that happen in the next few days, but in the event that that happens, sending this bill up to the Governor will just do that and we've got to be very careful.

"I hope that this Body can continue to support keeping the corpus of the endowment in the Hawaii Community Foundation intact. Support keeping the percentage going to anti-tobacco efforts if we're going to pass this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Awana rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Awana's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations. As I understand it, the original agreement between University of Hawaii Medical School and the State was that funds from the Tobacco Settlement Fund were to be used for a short period time which has now been extended for years. Once again, this measure asks for an extension. I support the University System and want the Medical School to succeed, but at the same time, other programs of which this fund were to be used are now suffering and I am not sure how many years the Medical School will be knocking on our doors for continued help. The Medical School must realize that the Tobacco Fund is not an open checkbook. For these reasons, and the reasons that came from previous speakers, I stand in support, but with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. I'd just like to cover a couple of points on why this measure is important for us to vote today. What this bill does first of all, it maintains the current allocation of moneys in the Fund and there is no reduction to the Tobacco Coalition.

"It adds a new requirement that the Department of Health and the University of Hawaii prepare a detailed account of revenues and expenditures, and that's clearly set forth in this bill. It extends the date the John A. Burns School of Medicine can use excess funds to cover operating expenses from 2011, to 2015, the same sunset date as its current allocation.

"Why is this important to the State? Well a couple of points. There is a shortage of physicians in Hawaii by about 500 doctors. This is based upon our current population. This is far less than the national average.

"We are also one of the fastest aging communities and populations in the country. This is one of the most important investments we as a Legislature and a State can make to ensure basic health care for all of us in Hawaii.

"The John A. Burns School of Medicine is also a principal source for doctors in Hawaii. About 50% of the practicing physicians in Hawaii are graduates of the John A. Burns School of Medicine or its post-graduate residency programs.

"On the Neighbor Islands, Mr. Speaker, where the shortages are most acute, the John A. Burns School of Medicine is developing residency and rotation programs to give students and physicians exposure to rural practice with some participants already indicating an interest in practicing in our rural community.

"If we're not able to use the Tobacco Settlement Funds for operating expenses, the John A. Burns School of Medicine, Mr. Speaker, would seek general funds in order for it to fulfill its mission. Because of the University of Hawaii cuts, the John A. Burns School of Medicine has already suffered about $5 million over the last two years, and there might be further cuts to the John A. Burns School of Medicine. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Just to address some of the comments made by the Finance Chair. You know Mr. Speaker, I was your Higher Ed Committee Chair back in the day when the John A. Burns Medical School was actually started up.

"At that time as was noted by the Representative from Pearl City, then Dean Cadman proposed the Medical School and said basically it would be self-sufficient because with the dollars that they would get from grants and what not, it would cover the operational overhead, and it sounded too good to be true and frankly it was too good to be true. Now we're on the hook for millions of dollars to continue the Medical School.

"I think the Finance Chair has the wrong perspective on this. No one is saying that we don't need doctors, or there's not a doctor shortage. It's important that we fund doctors that can provide services in our rural areas and so on. There's absolutely no disagreement to that.

"However, there is another solution besides using general fund dollars to fund the Medical School and that is, have the University of Hawaii find the dollars within their own budget to pick that up. They do have autonomy. If you recall, Mr. Speaker, previously they were fined by the Environmental Protection Agency. They used to come to the Legislature to help pay for that fine. Today we say, that EPA violation happened on your watch, you pay for it out of your own budget. That's no different than the Med School.

"A promise was made. A promise has been broken. I don't see why we have to use other dollars, whether they're tobacco dollars or general fund dollars. Scarce dollars by the way, Mr. Speaker, that could be used for other purposes to continue funding med school. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm standing in support. Mr. Speaker, I would like the words from the Representative of Wahiawa to be included as my own and I have some brief comments.

"The previous speaker is correct in regards to the issue of UH autonomy, however if we're going to use that as a policy issue, then we should be consistent with that with all schools and programs within the University System, including the community colleges.

"Mr. Speaker, in regards to the issue of why this is important, unfortunately we are in and have been in a healthcare crisis currently. I think as policy makers we have to decide, how do we address the issues of providing healthcare to the people and constituents of our communities.

"Mr. Speaker, we have a shortage of doctors as previously stated, about 500 and growing. We need throughout our communities more cardiovascular specialists, gastroenterologists, we need doctors to practice internal medicine and pediatricians, gynecologists.

"Mr. Speaker, we need these physicians to be trained to have a cultural sensitivity to this great State and we need them now. In fact we need them yesterday, Mr. Speaker. So I understand the issue about the rhetoric, about what has happened in the past, and the commitments and past promises broken. However, during this current fiscal situation, we have to actually pick where we need to attack. And one of the issues right now facing the people and is actually going to cost the lives of people around us is the issues of not having adequately trained physicians ready. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support, Mr. Speaker. First, I'd like the words of the Representatives from Mililani and Wahiawa recorded in the Journal as if they were my own. I agree with the issue of the need for more physicians, particularly under healthcare reform. They're going to be a lot more people with access and you got to have somebody to take care of them. So I think it's really important that we make sure we have an adequate supply of physicians in this State. That's what the Medical School was put there for, and I hope that's what they're going to do. Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just two things, I wanted to address the physician shortage. We all do realize that there's a physician shortage, but what's interesting to note is that there's no requirement for people going to the medical school, despite the fact that we provide the lion's share, the taxpayer's provide a lion's share of the cost of educating these students. There's no requirement for them to stay in Hawaii.

"So I asked the Dean, and we're going to kind of take a look at it, whether we can tie going to the University of Hawaii Medical School with a commitment to come back to Hawaii after you're done with your residency. If we can undertake that type of activity then I can say, you know what, our hard-earned dollars, whether it's tobacco dollars or tax credit dollars, are going to address the doctor shortage. That's number one.

"Number two. I mentioned it once, and I'll mention it again because I think it's a little bit complicated. Part of the financial plan, part of the financial plan that Dr. Cadman had in order to pay for the operations of the Medical School was that he was going to receive 100% of the indirect costs. I found out yesterday that they're only getting 50%. There's a 'shell game' going on and it's very confusing. So they take away $3 or $4 million to use it for other purposes, and that's why they have this big puka.

"So I think what we need to do is we need to figure out where all the sources of funds are, where the money is going, where the money should be going, and then get a real good picture as to what's happening. Because I believe that based on what I've heard in terms of all the research, the great research that's being done in the School of Medicine, there should be enough, or there should be more than enough money to support the operations of the Medical School if they got what they said they were going to get in the first place. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition and just a few brief comments related to the physician shortage. If it was a matter of addressing the physician shortage, we could take some of that money and directly apply it to things such as loan forgiveness programs, or strengthen the residency programs that we have here, where we could get a direct correlation of those people, those young doctors who are living and working here, and who are committed to staying and working here, rather than going into the operational costs for the Medical School. I would also like to adopt the words of the Representative from Pearl City in my opposition. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing a second time in rebuttal. Esteemed colleagues, when we're discussing the questions about physician shortages and addressing a wide variety of concerns regarding the healthcare.

"Mr. Speaker, these are some of the things that this money is being used for at the University School, JABSOM, to address the physicians now. Not residency programs, but for example, they're doing Big Island family medical care training expansion, in collaboration with UH Hilo and UH Manoa's nursing program. We're also providing fellowships and cardiovascular and gastroenterology services. We're also doing research in diabetes, neuroscience, HIV/AIDS, and tropical medicine affecting the people of Hawaii and the Pacific region. Also they're the only accredited hyperbaric treatment center. We're also doing collaboration with speech pathology and medical technology in Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, we have a huge number of local, local homegrown, home-born, home-educated students going to JABSOM. We're also encouraging them as we train them here, to stay here, and many do. We have a higher percentage than many of the other mainland universities' medical schools.

"So Mr. Speaker, if we really want to address the issue of having local doctors helping local people, then JABSOM is our only ticket right now. Thank you."

Representative Chang rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm in support. Much has been said about former Dean Cadman and the promises that he made. Now, we have to move on. He's not here anymore. We have a new Dean in Dean Jerris Hedges and he's doing a good job. We need to support what they're doing and put out some good doctors for the State of Hawaii."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, two footnotes and as I speak in support with reservations, one thing that came very clear from the University was that we are in the 85th percentile of retention of local graduates. In other words of all the other medical schools in the country, we're in the 85th percentile of people coming back. That actually equates to, for every 10 graduates, 5 of them come back and they put their services to the community.

"Second, one of the facts is that the Medical School attracts $56 million per year in research and other grants. So it is a money generator and if we remember when the President M.R.C. Greenwood gave her address, the leverage with the University, for every dollar, it's about six dollars at least, that they're putting into the economy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Luke rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just briefly in opposition. I understand what the debate is, but the concern for me is not so much whether we're dealing with access or physician availability or whatever, but it's availability of funds. And especially in a time when funds are tight, I think we need to look at all sources to figure out, how do we best optimize funds that are available to us.

"A few years ago there was a debate about the Law School. Whether the viability of the Law School in Hawaii is a real thing or it's something that we should continue to subsidize. And at that point in time, there was a threat to close down the Law School because we didn't want to subsidize it anymore.

"Some of the ideas were, whether it's through tuition or better fundraising. Those are the things that we need to kind of look at. We're not talking about just simple government services. We're talking about a University System that has the ability to tackle different types of funds. And I can tell you, the University of Hawaii School of Medicine has probably one of the lowest tuitions in the nation. I've talked to some of the students recently and a majority of the students that are there probably paid more for high school then they are paying right now. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. I'm still in support. This is my second time just to make a couple more points. To that very question of requiring a certain practice upon their graduation. We need to be careful of that, Mr. Speaker. We start imposing those kinds of requirements upon graduate school students, it may backfire for a couple of reasons.

"Number one, it might prevent them from seeking professional training and residency outside the State which may be beneficial for them to return. We always hear about local folks going off into the mainland, getting professional skills, getting hands-on experience and coming home. And we've greatly benefitted from their exposure and work outside, so we need to keep that in mind.

"The second point. It may make Hawaii less competitive with applicants who want the freedom to choose their training site.

"Third, Mr. Speaker. No other medical school in the country imposes that kind of restriction upon their medical students.

"Another point I think I need to make, Mr. Speaker, on the John A. Burns School of Medicine. Let's think about the name of the institution itself. We need to remember that this was the dream of our former Governor John A. Burns, that local kids in Hawaii would have the opportunity to attend medical school. That we'll be able to grow and have our own doctors who are comfortable with overall culture, who grew up in our community, who are part and parcel of who we are.

"That's why we have purposefully and intentionally kept the tuitions at the Medical School low so that it is affordable for our local families. A high tuition increase might force some of these applicants to seek assistance through waivers and scholarships elsewhere. Just things to keep in mind, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative M. Lee rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just briefly again in support. We've had a lot of talk about job killers. This is a job maker. There are so many ancillary services and supportive services that develop around healthcare and healthcare is truly a growth industry in this State. So again I do support this bill. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2493, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO USE OF TOBACCO SETTLEMENT FUNDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 40 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Belatti, Berg, C. Lee, Luke, Morita, Rhoads, Takai and Takumi voting no, and with Representatives Aquino, Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

S.B. No. 2578, SD 1, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2578, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Wooley rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2578, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Aquino, Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

S.B. No. 2643, SD 1, HD 1:

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, S.B. No. 2643, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GENERAL EXCISE TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Aquino, Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

S.B. No. 2001, SD 1, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2001, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in support. This is a great bill, Mr. Speaker. This is trying to hold on to a very important credit in this time of fiscal uncertainty with a big deficit facing in front of us. We're having to look at deferring and/or getting rid of a lot of credits. This credit here, Mr. Speaker, is a very important credit. I invite people to look at the testimony that was submitted on this measure from the companies that are using it to hire, to expand, and to take advantage of the opportunities that are being brought home by our federal congressional delegation.

"In a perfect world, we could keep other credits going. But in an imperfect world we need to make balances and I believe this strikes the balance by continuing to have a good credit extended while still being fiscally responsible and revenue neutral. Thank you."

Representative Keith-Agaran rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would request a ruling on possible conflicts on both this bill, Senate Bill Nos. 2001, and 2401. I'm affiliated with a company that has invested in qualified high-tech businesses," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in opposition to SB 2001. This measure extends the tax credit for research activities for one year and repeals the technology infrastructure and high technology business investment tax credits. Investment is key to Hawaii's economic recovery. There are limited sources of revenue that will fuel recovery. These include more money being spent in Hawaii by residents, money spent by non-residents in Hawaii, and by investment.

"Hawaii has regularly been cited as one of the worst places to do business. This measure only exacerbates that already negative reputation by reneging on this particular investment credit."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2001, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Finnegan and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Aquino, Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

S.B. No. 2401, SD 1, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2401, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Keith-Agaran rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would request a ruling on possible conflicts on both this bill, Senate Bill Nos. 2001, and 2401. I'm affiliated with a company that has invested in qualified high-tech businesses," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, what one hand giveth, the other hand taketh away. This is the take away side of it because it's going to be a hit to the high-tech people who are already operating. Those who are expecting some returns, and this suspends them. Before my colleague from Manoa reminds me that it's only a temporary suspension, it still is a way, in addition to the other things that basically we've told the high-tech industry, 'We had a love affair with you. We had great times together. But it's over.'

"Act 221 and the residuals of it with this bill and the other bill that we're passing, unfortunately Mr. Speaker, is going to say we're still going to go back to being a 'one horse town' with tourism, and hopefully maybe some of the defense contract spending will continue. Otherwise we've told them, we're finished. We've had our one night stand. Our decade stand, and we're over. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, this is job killer number 15 of the 15 job killers that we have introduced this Session. Thank you."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in support. Gee, I don't know where to start. First of all, this bill will help us with the budget shortfall without again, raising general excise taxes. Without taking the TAT which will probably result in a real property tax increase. It just delays people taking their tax credit.

"In rebuttal to the prior speaker, it is not going to affect the businesses. These credits are based on money already invested. We're not taking money away from the companies. This money is gone already. It's in their pockets. All we're saying is to the investors who made the investment, we ask that you hold off on taking the credit. So this should not affect the QHTBs, nor should it affect jobs because this is money that's already been invested. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition and I'll rebut a little bit for my colleague behind me. A comment was made that this will not take away money from businesses. The way that I see this bill is, I've supported it all the way up until this point with reservations, and the way I see this bill is you're talking to investors. Investors who have already invested in corporations or companies, whether it be tech or film industry or whatever it might be, who have already invested in these companies.

"What you're telling them is, whether or not you need it back, because the investment money right now is pretty tight with these investors wherever they are. Whether or not you need the money now, it doesn't ask you can you push it off until future years. It tells you, you have to push it off until future years. You don't have an option if you've already invested.

"What this tells me is when I think with investor eyes and ears, which I'm not one of those big time investors, nor am I a little time investor actually. But whether or not what these investors are looking at, are they looking at across the nation, where can I invest my money. Well, Hawaii decided that they're going to play with their laws. All the promises that they made us. Shoop. Snap. Gone.

"Mr. Speaker, this is a reputation for Hawaii saying to investors out there across the world, across the nation, in our own home state. Don't believe us. In fact how is that going to affect the credit that we just approved but a minute ago? Are people really going to take us seriously, because when I see that kind of back pedal or putting off of giving these investment credits, to me it says huge on who we are as a state that we can't keep our promises.

"So will it affect businesses? I think it will. I think that businesses that are going out there to try and get investor money, those investors are going to look and say, 'Hmm. I'm not so sure,' because the bill that we just passed cut off potential investors coming in by cutting it short. This one will tell you, 'No. You can't claim your credit right now. In fact, why don't you wait a few years.'

"Mr. Speaker, it's possible that some of these investors could probably afford it more, but when you're talking about the perspective from where I come from, where I don't believe that we need to raise the GE tax. I don't believe that that particular threat, if we do make some really hard choices and we look at core services, and we look at additional cuts that we can make within our budget which we've already made some of them, and we offered some of them to you. I just really think that before we do this, we should be thinking about the investor. Thinking about that, and our businesses that can benefit from investors coming in and investing in their businesses. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you very much. And Members of the House, I have some slight reservations. The only reservation that I have is that this measure is, and I understand why we need it. We need the money. But what I don't particularly care about is it's a deferral of the revenue that we have to pay back in a few years.

"As far as the businesses, that we're slighting business. On the contrary, we've had the most generous high-tech tax credit in the nation. For years they got a windfall from the generosity of the taxpayers of the State of Hawaii. So I think this was a gift for them for a very little while, and in fact, I think we're being too generous. I would not let them get the money back after this tax credit. I would have kept the tax credit, and not made a deferral for it. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in support. It does seem to me that the Minority Leader made some good points. I do think it does raise some questions about whether investors will look at Hawaii the same way that they did before we altered this.

"I think the problem is that there are other aspects of what we're doing here that also will have an effect on investors. One is, if you look at Furlough Fridays, I don't see it as an investor. Depending on what your commitment to Hawaii is, that as a cut has to be seen as concerning if you're looking for an educated workforce. Things as basic as the Department of Health being cut back to where we're not monitoring our restaurants to be sure that you can eat at a restaurant without getting E. coli. I think that also eventually affects investment. I think not having agricultural inspectors is for certain kinds of businesses, and maybe not ones that are affected by the high-technology tax credit, but maybe some that are, I'm not sure. That also is a detriment.

"The problem is the choices that we face right now are very stark. We either keep the very basic services of public safety and education, or we give people really generous investment credits. Personally I think the decision is pretty clear. You go with the basics and I think that's what we're doing in this case. Mahalo."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support with some slight reservations. In a perfect world, I don't think this bill would be necessary. Bt as the previous speakers have said we're in an imperfect world. That $92 million that will be saved could definitely come in handy to funding a furlough agreement.

"This will change investor behavior, Mr. Speaker. And I think what it's going to do is it's going to change investor behavior in that, you invest in the product, in the company and its merits. If you've got a winner company, you've got a winner idea, people are going to beat a path to your door. Build a better mouse trap, the world will come.

"We're not the only state going through a fiscal crisis. Other states are being much more draconian and just taking huge swipes all across the board, even going retroactive, despite the threat of lawsuits.

"It's a difficult one for me personally, but at the same time I understand that we have so many competing interests. I hope that investors now will look at the product, the company and what they're developing. I think when they do look at some of the winners especially in aquaculture and other areas, that they will continue to invest because these are things that are going to be very successful in the future. So it's a tough call, Mr. Speaker, but in the end, I think unfortunately we need to continue to move this one along. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, just with reservations. Mr. Speaker, I would like to just say that I reiterate that not only do we want to keep our word because our reputation is so important. With the information that the Representative of Hawaii Kai mentioned, that we're the most expensive place to do business only behind Tokyo, in the entire world. I've never been to Tokyo, but I imagine Tokyo and the services that are there, and it's just not a good reflection on Hawaii.

"But in a slight rebuttal to the Representative from Maui. Yes, in a perfect world, to use the term again, you may have those ideas that are so readily apparent that they're winners. But the fact is that's not how business works or you wouldn't have all these miracle stories. The fact is that it's like cooking. There are so many different elements to it and some of the elements might be, am I getting a credit for this? What should I do? What's the incentive for me to invest? So I don't think it's always that simplistic. I just don't think it's that simplistic.

"I also rebut somewhat the good Representative, my neighbor from Downtown. There are some other reasons for some of the other ills we've had. That is not to take away from business. We don't want to take away from business. I'd also like additional written comments, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on S.B. 2401--Relating to State Finances. This bill will temporarily suspend the claiming of technology infrastructure renovation and high technology business investment tax credits.

"To understand and appreciate the fiscal crisis we face as a State, it is a difficult decision to cut funding to any group or organizations. All sectors of the economy and State must be equally cognizant of the shortfalls we as state face currently face.

"My reservations are based on the premise expressed by testimony submitted by SDC Hawaii, LLC: "this proposed bill…upsets existing law and is certain to damage those companies that have relied on the investor tax credit to develop their financing plans for the remainder of this year." Making further changes to Act 221 prior to its established sunset date continues a dangerous precedent set last year wherein the Legislature upset what investors and local tech companies considered to be stable law. Major provisions within the law were then changed last Session, critically impacting companies (and costing jobs) throughout the state. "Requiring investors to defer credit claims to 2013 for investments already made could have a substantial adverse impact on their tax and cash flow situations and therefore raise significant constitutional problems of retroactivity." Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2401, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE FINANCES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Berg, Finnegan, Keith-Agaran, C. CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORTS

At this time, the Chair announced:

"Members, please note the 48-hour notice for Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1-10."

Representatives Yamane, Mizuno and Nishimoto, for the Committee on Conference on the disagreeing vote of the House to the amendments proposed by the Senate in H.B. No. 1642, HD 1, SD 2, presented a report (Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1-10) recommending that H.B. No. 1642, HD 1, SD 2, as amended in CD 1, pass Final Reading.

In accordance with Article III, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, action on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1-10 and H.B. No. 1642, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PURCHASES OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES," was deferred for a period of 48 hours.

END OF CALENDAR

Stand. Com. No. 1209-10 and S.B. No. 2626, SD 1, HD1:

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, let's go back to the end of calendar measures on page 17. Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1209-10, S.B. No. 2626, SD 1, HD 1."

At this time, Representative Souki withdrew his motion to table the measure, and Representative Cabanilla withdrew her second.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that notwithstanding the recommendations contained in Standing Committee Report No. 1209-10, that S.B. No. 2626, SD 1, HD 1, be recommitted to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Manahan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him on the motion to recommit, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the motion. I want you to know that I can now use this 'barf bag' as a recycling bag rather than for the worst piece of legislation this Session has had."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recommit, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to speak against this motion. I apologize, it may have been inartfully drafted at this stage, but the basic intention is clear, Mr. Speaker. I think it's to curb a renegade Governor who both civil servants, career civil servants, administrators have concerns, and you've heard about them today, regarding the administration of Department of Human Services, Department of Ag, Department of Health, Department of Land and Natural Resources. What might occur when we leave these Chambers?

"So Mr. Speaker, I was hoping that this measure could move forward. We could have further discussion, further refinement of it. Because it simply is to protect the civil service system, and not allow it to be embedded with political favorites as she leaves office. So with that, Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting in opposition to this motion. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to object to the previous speaker who was speaking against the motion, and he should speak on the issue of the recommital and not on the particular merits or the demerits of the bill."

The Chair responded, stating:

"The Chair recognizes that."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm just responding to the Finance Chair. I'm very much in support of the motion to recommit. Mr. Speaker, this measure took a hatchet and an Uzi and any other type of firearm to a measure of civil service. When you look at the bill, it just was absolutely appalling. The $500,000 fine against the Governor where the Governor would have no immunity. And then the ability to execute on property held as tenants by the entirety.

"I mean you go through the bill and it becomes worse and worse with each line, so I really applaud the fact that this bill is going to be recommitted. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recommit, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in opposition to the recommital. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Actually the reason why I'm standing in opposition is I wish that this measure could continue to be discussed. I think there are some elements in here that have validity, that need to be further discussed. And if we're going to talk about hatchet and Uzis, I think that's what the Departments of Health, and Human Services, the income maintenance workers are feeling right now. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I'm in favor of the motion to recommit and I couldn't agree more with the Speaker Emeritus when he said when he first made the motion that it degenerates the House and smacks of pettiness. So I think we should all vote for recommital. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I know we've had a lot of vexatious conversations, but it's really the 'pot calling the kettle black.' I remember this current Administration, in the beginning they weeded out civil service placements from the previous administration, and people are acting like they're not aware of this.

"A lot of us here believe we're champions of small businesses. We'd like to see government run like a private sector business, and this bill in a small way would help to do that. So without politics, arguably this is a good bill. It's unfortunate that it had to go down like this. In addition, you give someone a job for eight years; do you owe them a job for the rest of their lives? I agree with the comments of the Finance Chair and support him on it."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him on the motion to recommit, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"In strong support, and I do feel as many do, that the Representative from Maui hit it on the nose when he talked about how punitive it was."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the motion to recommit and asked that the remarks of Representatives M. Oshiro and Brower be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"I'm in support. I just can't believe that this still continues. I'm in disbelief by what has just been said on this Floor, that this was about revenge. Have we forgotten where we came from and how this government was formed? It was never about revenge. It was about equality for ideas.

"The Governor didn't do this. She may have eliminated positions that she felt were no longer needed, but she never did this. Where she would punish any House Member, or any of the Democrat Party just for opposing her. I cannot believe this discussion is still continuing. But I want to thank Members of this Body for in the end recognizing that this is about democracy. Not about power and the abuse of it."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of the recommital. May I have the word of speaker of Wailuku, minus the part directed at the Finance Chair, entered into the record as if they were my own? And it's time to moveon.org, people."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2626, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SERVICE," was recommitted to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Har, Manahan, M. Oshiro, Tokioka and Yamane voting no, and with Representatives Aquino, Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1238-10) recommending that S.B. No. 1141, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro moved that notwithstanding the recommendations contained in Standing Committee Report No. 1238-10, that S.B. No. 1141, SD 2, HD 2, be recommitted to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 1141, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," was recommitted to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Aquino, Bertram and Hanohano being excused.

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of these two measures, House Resolution 40 and House Concurrent Resolution 89. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I won't go into my usual, I guess 'song and dance' or factoids on what I've mentioned earlier, about Hawaii being the only state that can grow chocolate. I won't go into all of that because I've already done it.

"But just a week or so ago, I will say that on the second page of the local newspaper came this article, 'Sweet Chocolate Good For the Heart.' It says here that a study out of Germany, in fact the German Institute of Human Nutrition, the study's lead author Brian Buijsse, came out with that indeed people who had an average of just… now of course with all good things, too much can be too much. So it's just a little bit of chocolate. Had an average of six grams of chocolate a day, about one square of chocolate bar, and it has to be dark chocolate, had a 39% lower risk of heart attack or stroke. This study will be published today, so that was a week ago in the European Heart Journal.

"Flavonoids, which are also found in vegetables and in red wine, help the muscles and blood vessels to widen, which leads to a drop in blood pressure. So this is something that I know the cacao people have been talking about for a long time. People do eat raw cacao at health food stores, but that's just one of the many reasons why I think it's a good ag product to support. And in particular with our proximity to Asia and their ever increasing demand for high-end chocolate. Only high-end chocolate. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, will my colleague accept a cacao question?"

Representative Ching responded, stating:

"Always. I will try my best to answer any question."

Representative Ward: "You mentioned, one square per day of dark chocolate. How dark does it have to be? Because my wife warned me about the milk chocolate, the content. How dark does it have to be? This is serious stuff."

Representative Ching: "No, it is. I'm not a scientist, but what we consider dark chocolate, and you'll see this in all of the new bars you'll see in Starbucks and other places that have artisan chocolate. I believe it would be 70% or higher. Of course at 90%, it's not very tasty, I have to warn you. At 90%, you don't taste too much of the sugar content. I think, but I can get back to you. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. And may I have the words of the previous speaker, minus the answer to the question, placed into the record as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.R. No. 40, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION RECOGNIZING FEBRUARY AS "HAWAI`I-GROWN CACAO MONTH"," was adopted, with Representatives Aquino, Hanohano, Har, M. Oshiro, Sagum and Souki being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 89, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECOGNIZING FEBRUARY AS "HAWAI`I-GROWN CACAO MONTH"," was adopted, with Representatives Aquino, Hanohano, Har, M. Oshiro, Sagum and Souki being excused.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with slight reservations. This is a very worthy resolution. It's deserving of passage, but essentially it puts a taro field on the Capitol lawn. I'm not sure which side it is, or where it is, but the way the wording of the resolution is, it's saying to OHA to do it, rather than to also process it, and be sensitive to the protocol. I mention that because of the extreme amount of consensus building that the veterans for the Vietnam and Korean Memorial had to go through in order to do that.

"So this implies that, if it's not changed, that it's already a fait accompli and if the next Committee could look at that and say somehow, getting the permissions and the processes because when anything is put into law, there's a lot of people who want to have buy-in. A lot of people want to put their manao into it. So with that Mr. Speaker, I'm supporting it, but I suggest it be tweaked to be a little bit better. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support with again, just slight reservations. You know, lo'i are so important to our heritage of Hawaii, but I do know that there's a Hawaii Capitol Cultural District and there's a coalition that have been working for decades on this area. I'm just hoping that in coordination, that they're also considered, and all of the meaning that comes with the State Capitol is integrated.
