H.R. No. 4 further states that:

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if any member of a Standing Committee is called to active duty in the military and is deployed and unavailable to participate in committee activities, then for that period of unavailability, the member shall not be considered a member of that Standing Committee."

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Fukumoto Chang and carried, H.R. No. 4 was adopted, with Representative Carroll being excused.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following concurrent resolutions (H.C.R. Nos. 1 and 2) were read by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.C.R. No. 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATING TO RECESS DAYS FOR THE REGULAR SESSION OF 2015," was jointly offered by Representatives Saiki and Fukumoto Chang.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Fukumoto Chang and carried, H.C.R. No. 1 was adopted, with Representative Carroll being excused.

H.C.R. No. 2, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO ADDRESS THE LEGISLATURE ASSEMBLED IN JOINT SESSION," was jointly offered by Representatives Saiki and Fukumoto Chang

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Fukumoto Chang and carried, H.C.R. No. 2 was adopted, with Representative Carroll being excused.

At 11:11 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

At this time, the Members of the House, their guests and audience were entertained by Mr. Frank DeLima.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 11:32 o'clock a.m.

At this time, the Speaker delivered his address, stating:

"Before I proceed with my speech, I want to dedicate this speech to Representative Mele Carroll. I know that she probably would have some misgivings of this speech, knowing her, but I wish her well and on the road to recovery. Thank you very much.

"Right, the main event. First, I would like to make some introductions. I would like to introduce first of all, Governor Ige and Mrs. Ige. Lieutenant Governor Tsutsui. Chief Justice Recktenwald. OHA Chair Robert Lindsey. Governor Ariyoshi and Mrs. Ariyoshi. Governor Waihee and Mrs. Waihee. Governor Cayetano and Mrs. Cayetano. Maui Mayor Alan Arakawa. Hawaii County Mayor Billy Kenoi. I would also like to introduce the former Congressman Ed Case. Former Honolulu Mayor Mufi Hannemann and Mrs. Hannemann. We have with us, and I'm sorry if I delayed here, my old friend, Governor Neil Abercrombie.

"With us today are also Representatives from our Congressional delegation, our County Council Chairs, members of our military and members of our consulate. I also would like to introduce special guests which include Massachusetts Representative Byron Rushing and Mrs. Rushing. Also our good friends, members of the Fukuoka General Assembly.

"With our newly elected Governor with us today, I would like to welcome him and all of you to the People's House. With great pride, we call this Chamber the People's House, because the Members of this Body, more than any other branch of state government, represent the people.

"In his inaugural address, Governor Ige talked about the importance of that simple idea. He said to remember that this is not his house, not our house, but the People's House. It is advice worth remembering, as we begin this legislative session.

"The Governor also called on all of us to work together, that no one person can do the heavy lifting to carry us toward our goals. As a former legislator, the Governor understands how important collaboration is in bringing many views and options to the table.

"However, coming together is no easy task, especially when issues can be so divisive. As we all know, the devil can always be found in the details.

"So how do we get from here to there? From the present to the future?

"I think the Governor said it best at his inauguration. To move into the future, we must bring as many people and ideas to the table as possible.

"The best way to do that is by doing the hard work that makes a difference in their lives. When people see results, they get excited and want to be a part of the solution.

"Last year, I asked you to be bold in tackling some very difficult issues. And you answered the call by increasing the minimum wage, by fixing HCDA, and taking care of the State's unfunded liabilities.

"Thank you for having the courage to tackle those and other issues in the past session.

"But that was yesterday, and yesterday's achievements. This morning, we must begin to take care of today's business with the same determination and boldness.

"That doesn't always involve sweeping or pioneering gestures. Sometimes, it just means doing the nitty-gritty work that allows government to function more efficiently, and our families to pursue their dreams.

"For example, we should complete the job of ensuring that affordable healthcare is available to all of our families.

"Even if we disagree, all stakeholders need to stay engaged. There is no room for those who want to leave because the game gets tough. Because it's not just a game. Not for the families who depend on good healthcare to grow and prosper. For them, we stick it out.

"Collaboration is never easy. If it was, everyone would be doing it. But if we are to finish the job of providing universal healthcare, then all stakeholders must come to the table with an open mind, and be willing to work hard for that goal.

"We should also focus on our public hospitals, which is one of the largest public health systems in the country. It is also the safety net for acute care and long-term care for the neighbor islands.

"For those families, there is no other choice. Therefore, it is important that we ensure that those facilities are there for them. And if that means thinking outside the box, then maybe it's time we do just that.

"Maui Memorial and Hawaii Pacific Health are looking at a public-private partnership that could improve healthcare on Maui and generate savings for the taxpayers. It behooves us to study this opportunity carefully and look at legislation for this and other potential partnerships.

"We must also ensure the well-being of those who have unique health issues and who require a little more compassion from us. I am speaking of those who need better access to medical marijuana. Yes, it is legal in Hawaii. But there is no legal access to it. The time has come to fix this contradiction. The task force we commissioned last session has said as much. So let's do what we should have done 15 years ago.

"Moving into the future also means preparing our children for that future. All the studies tell us that early education is key to developing lifelong learners and successful citizens. As the State continues to look at the more costly task of a public preschool program, there is much we can do to foster early learning in the meantime.

"Last year, we made kindergarten mandatory for children who will make five by July 31. Yet we know there is still a small group of late born who are falling through the cracks and whose families face financial hardships.

"I believe we can go a long way in remedying this situation by allowing all five-year-olds to enter kindergarten regardless of the month in which they were born. It is something worth exploring.

"Moving into the future means making Hawaii more energy self-sufficient. It means having the peace of mind, knowing that your company's bottom line or your family's budget won't be hurt because of a spike in the price of crude oil.

"The handwriting has been on the wall for some time now. It doesn't take a rocket scientist, or an electric company, to know that we need to be more aggressive in weaning ourselves off fossil fuel. We need to help our businesses and our households move in the direction of conservation and sustainability.

"It is imperative that our biggest energy provider understand this as well. Hawaiian Electric has been a part of this community for more than 100 years. They have been a key player in our past, and they play a critical role in the unfolding of our future. We will be watching closely to what happens on this front.

"Moving into the future means planning wisely for that future. It means ensuring that we build enough affordable homes for our families and growing cities in ways that makes sense for transportation, economic development and our limited natural resources. Transit Oriented Development is a term you'll probably be hearing a lot.

"Basically, it will help us direct growth along our rail stations, encouraging commercial development around them, and building affordable neighborhoods on nearby state lands. Directing growth in this way will also protect open space and agriculture, as well as minimize times when we are forced to choose between growth and the environment.

"Ensuring that rail is built on time and on budget will be the key to helping us do all of this. And so, we will be holding the City's feet to the fire and closely scrutinize its request to extend the GET tax for rail.

"Last year, GMOs became one of the most controversial topics of the session. The issue will not go away and will require the same bold action that I asked from you earlier. Leaving it to the courts will not resolve the stalemate that has paralyzed us on this issue.

"Whether you're trusting science or your own conscience, GMOs are not just about locally grown foods. They are a fact of modern life throughout the nation and the world. And nothing we can do in Hawaii will change that.

"So the discussion should not be about permitting or banning GMOs. Rather, we should be discussing how to facilitate choice and an open market, allow us individually to decide which we want to consume, GMO products or not. I believe that's an issue we can tackle with a good chance of possible success.

"Moving into the future means making sure we have a safe place for our children and families by strengthening our gun control laws and curbing domestic violence.

"In addition, providing safe communities includes having an adequate prison system. OCCC is an outdated and misplaced facility that needs to be reassessed. There is thought that we can lease the land under which it sits and use the money to expand and upgrade the Halawa facility. We should investigate that option, as well as others including upgrading Maui's prison.

"In addition, we should look at broader reforms to reduce the prison populations and make Hawaii's prison system more efficient. And I'm speaking to the Judiciary. The recommendations outlined in the Justice Reinvestment Initiative Group done in 2012 is a good starting point.

"Finally, moving into the future means remembering who we are, what makes us who we are in Hawaii. As you all know, our perspective and focus of attention in this building are usually fairly broad.

"It's not so much about the other guy, but about all of us as a community and a state. It is about our sense of aloha, our common direction and our collective destination. It's about how we can get there without leaving anyone behind.

"Members, I look forward to working with all of you this coming session. I look forward to taking advantage of what has always been Hawaii's greatest strength, our diversity of people and of ideas, to forge one bright future. And I look forward to letting the rhetoric settle, rolling up our sleeves, and getting down to work in a workman-like fashion.

"To all of you, mahalo, aloha and God bless. Thank you very much."

The Chair then recognized Representative Fukumoto Chang, the Minority Leader, to deliver remarks on behalf of the Minority Caucus:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and welcome to our many distinguished guests. I'd like to start first of all by personally thanking my family and the people of Mililani for the opportunity to serve in this Body. I wouldn't be here today without your sacrifices and support.

"On behalf of myself and my colleagues, I also want to thank every single person in our state for casting your vote in in the last election. This is your House and I thank you for taking ownership of it.

"Finally, I'd like to thank our staff for all of your hard work. Particularly those staffers who serve in the House Minority Research Office. Less than three years ago, I was sitting in that very office writing the Minority Leader's speech for him and resenting the many long sleepless nights that we staffers need to spend in this building. No one understands better how much work you do, and I'm so thankful to have every one of you on our team.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, I speak to you as the leader of the Minority Party. It is the tradition to use these remarks to look ahead and to share the Minority Caucus's thoughts on how this institution will help make a better life for the people of our state.

"First and foremost, I will start by stating that we, the Minority Party, are committed to creating a government that meets the needs of everyday people. We've got a lot of good ideas, Mr. Speaker. You're going to hear about them in speeches, you're going to see them in committee, you're going to read them in bills that are signed and delivered to your door. We'll probably even pester you a little bit to ask you to listen to our ideas. And my only request, Mr. Speaker, is that you will continue to listen to the minority and to the people that have elected us.

"Mr. Speaker, many of the minority's priorities are consistent with yours and the Governor's. Instead of creating new programs, we see a need for this Body to focus on strengthening our existing programs, addressing our state's hospitals and healthcare needs, tackling our high cost of living, and increasing transparency and openness in government.

"But Mr. Speaker, this is only half the picture. Mr. Speaker, I'm the first Minority Leader in this Body that is a member of the millennial generation. We were the generation most hit by the Great Recession and we are the generation leaving in droves for better opportunities on the mainland. Now with the potential army reduction on the horizon, it is critical that this Body start addressing our state's economy. Jobs are what matter to people, Mr. Speaker. Jobs are what matter to my generation, and they're what matter to our parents. Our constituents want to know that we're doing something real to make their lives better.

"Here at the Legislature, we spend a lot of time talking about creating jobs and diversifying the economy. But in truth, this Legislature has done very little about it. Our people don't always believe in us, Mr. Speaker. This past election only 35% of those eligible to vote in the State of Hawaii actually voted. They didn't believe that their participation would gain them new job opportunities. They didn't believe that it would make their bills any easier to pay. Simply put, they just didn't believe that their vote would make a difference. The Minority Party in this Legislature is committed to changing that.

"Mr. Speaker, we don't have a coalition anymore, there's no formal seat at the table for the Minority Party, but I would ask my colleagues across the aisle to remember that the Minority Party isn't here as a token adversary or as a reminder of the strength and power of your establishment. The Minority Party is here to provide diversity of thought and a voice that doesn't represent the status quo. It's the diversity that you just mentioned. If you allow that diversity, if you include it, if you value it, then this Body will make stronger legislation that can make people's lives better in real, tangible ways. Only then will we have a true democracy and a reason for the people of our state and the people of my generation to have faith in their government, and a reason to believe that their voice, even if it's in the minority, can make a difference.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, God bless you, God bless my colleagues, and God bless our state."

The Chair then recognized Representative Saiki, the Majority Leader, to deliver remarks on behalf of the Majority Caucus:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have three things to say today, hopefully in three minutes.

"First, as alluded to by the Minority Leader, thank you to the residents of our respective communities who have given us the privilege to represent them in the Legislature.

"Second, I want to briefly explain what I believe the role of the House Majority Caucus is this year. More than ever, we need to be a constructive problem solver. This is important because the challenges before us impact the daily well-being of virtually all residents in our state.

"We know what those challenges are. Healthy people, more local food, reliable public utilities, modern prisons, educated students and affordable housing, just to name a few.

"We take these matters seriously, and we will work purposefully with the Governor, the Minority Caucus, the Senate, the counties, and all stakeholders to resolve them.

"Number three, we need more public involvement at the Legislature. I will admit that the confusing legislative sausage-making process does not help matters. So I'd like to use an analogy to simplify and explain the legislative process.

"If you look around, the House Chamber resembles an orchestra pit. This orchestra consists of 51 musicians. The musicians are diverse, but each has a role to play within the larger body.

"The Speaker is the conductor. And it is the Speaker's responsibility to guide this orchestra so that at the end of the day, there is a melody that can be enjoyed by our audience, the general public.

"Now, having said this, I know that there are some who continue to experience great fear whenever the Legislature begins its work.

"Some people also believe that the session is too long, which results in mischief. Our session consists of 60 legislative days. When you add in weekends and holidays, the length of our session is equivalent to that of the NFL regular season, which many believe ends too quickly.

"So, Mr. Speaker, the challenges ahead of us are significant. But it only means that we need to raise the bar and do great work. People want and deserve to be happy. We can and we will use the legislative process to achieve this goal.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker and Members."

The Chair then stated:

"Well, Members and audience, we have begun to think outside the box. Thank you very much, Majority Leader."

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following concurrent resolution (H.C.R. No. 3) was announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.C.R. No. 3, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION STRONGLY OPPOSING THE UNITED STATES ARMY'S PROPOSED FORCE REDUCTION OF SCHOFIELD BARRACKS AND FORT SHAFTER BASES," was jointly offered by Representatives Ito, Aquino, Belatti, Brower, Cachola, Choy, Creagan, Cullen, Evans, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Hashem, Ichiyama, Johanson, Kawakami, Kobayashi, Kong, Lee, LoPresti, Luke, Matsumoto, McDermott, McKelvey, Mizuno, Morikawa, Nakashima, Nishimoto, Ohno, Onishi, Oshiro, Pouha, Saiki, Say, Souki, Takayama, Thielen, Tokioka, Tsuji, Tupola, Ward, Woodson, Yamane, Yamashita and Rhoads.

Representative Saiki moved that H.C.R. No. 3 be adopted, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ito rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. Mr. Speaker, ever since the United States considered Pearl Harbor a strategic location for a navy base, the United States Military has always considered Hawaii to be strategically located for military presence in the Pacific. It is no different today. The military presence that we balance in the Pacific further reinforces that.

"Mr. Speaker, North Korea is a notoriously unpredictable and dangerous nation. And China's aggressive military growth, its lack of transparencies and its increasingly assertive behavior in the region, makes the need for a visible military presence all the more important. Hawaii is in a critical deployment location. Additionally, United States Military has signed a defense cooperation agreement with the Philippines. It placed two additional US Navy destroyers and deployed two converted Osprey aircraft and Global Hawk drones in Japan. The Marine Corps is working with troops in Australia, and plans moving forward to relocate marines from Okinawa, Guam, Japan, and then Hawaii. This makes Hawaii the furthest west military post on US soil.

"Mr. Speaker, for these reasons, I support this resolution and ask my colleagues to do so. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. First of all, let me thank the House leadership for allowing this important measure to pass in this manner. It's quite extraordinary for us to have a concurrent resolution of this importance on this second business day of the State Legislature, but I think it speaks volumes about our intention and more so our support for our US Military, in particular the United States Army.

"As many of you do know, I do represent District 46, which is Wahiawa, Whitmore Village and Launani Valley. And part and parcel of our community, over 100 years, from the time it was established back in 1894 through 1909 when the United States Army was established at Schofield Barracks under the direction of Colonel Schofield, Wahiawa and the United States Army has grown up together on the plains of Leilehua.

"Right now we are facing a catastrophic event unseen of in the State of Hawaii. We've seen plant closures, base downsizings, loss of jobs through airlines, manufacturers, hotels, other types of businesses. We've seen the closure of an airline in 2008, a warehouse in 2008, a hotel in 2008, and also a plantation growing pineapples in 2004. But all of those collectively pale in comparison to the potential loss of jobs, both civilian and military.

"According to the Chamber of Commerce, Military Affairs Council, the projected downsizing of Schofield would be about 16,000 soldiers. Of that, approximately 30% will be civilian jobs related to those base assignments and work. You add that into the fact that there are about 30,000 dependents households attached to those soldiers and the work they perform in Schofield, that's another 30,000. So we're looking at in general about 50,000 personnel in the Wahiawa, Kunia, Haleiwa, North Shore, Mililani, Gentry, Kapolei, Aiea area that could be affected by this. Professor Bannister, the economist from Hawaii Pacific University, has basically stated it as such.

"All of the communities affected to, connected to, touching the H-2 freeway from Leeward Community College up through Haleiwa Town, would be affected by a downsizing of the Army's presence in the area. It would have an irreversible impact on all of those communities and towns. That underlies the importance of a measure like this.

"Next week, we'll hear from the official delegation coming in from Washington, D.C., to hear and listen to the community on the potential impacts, socioeconomic effects of this downsizing. I would invite and encourage each and every one of us, in a Representative capacity or otherwise, to weigh in on this decision that will be made thousands of miles away from here, some of it generated by politics, some of it being driven by monetary policy.

"But in any case, whether it affects Wahiawa first, Wailua first, Mililani first, at some point in time the entire City and County of Honolulu will feel the effects of a decrease of troops at Schofield Barracks and Fort Shafter.

"So I'm just pleased that we have the insight to take this bold step and come forward with this resolution, and I thank the leadership very much for this opportunity. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support. Before I begin, I would like to note the service of one of our Members who many, many years ago was a young soldier himself at Schofield Barracks, and if we can give him a hand, Speaker Souki. Let's give Speaker Souki a hand, please.

"He was a soldier many, many years ago and our good friend from Kaneohe was an Air Force veteran during the Vietnam era, and he's going to be a leader in these matters. Of course, the Air Force came out of the Army Air Corps many years ago.

"Mr. Speaker, we heard a little bit about the devastating financial impacts that it'll have. As you know, I worked for the Navy League. It's a little different, but I have seen in the last five years the lack of discretionary income that defense contractors have had, and how that impacts the community right outside the gate, those nonprofits and other community groups that depend on them for funding. That is drying up and going away.

"But, Mr. Speaker, what happens when we lose 16,000 troops, or 19,000, or whatever the number is? Well, for every trigger pull you figure there's about four people supporting that person. So the local girl or man who works at the bowling alley on the weekends for non-appropriated funds, which is a good job, they pay pretty good, it's way above minimum wage and they do have federal retirement. It's not a pension per se like civil service, but its federal retirement. But it's not a guaranteed job. That job will go away. They won't need as many bowling alley attendants, Mr. Speaker. The auto shop, the 7-11, they get gas out in town. We just don't measure the income tax, Mr. Speaker, we have to measure the GET as well. When they buy gas on the way to Waikiki, that's contributing to our highway fund. When they get a Slurpee at 7-11 in Wahiawa. As the previous speaker said, Wahiawa will be devastated. It will be a ghost town, as we saw during the first Gulf War.

"Now how does it affect our community? Because financial aspects are only one part of it. They are part of our community. We have many retirees who work on base. Not non-appropriated funds, but they work in a combat convoy simulator training program. Retired Army gunnery sergeants teaching the young troopers how to do that. Well, those jobs will go away because there won't be such a demand for training. But these people live here, they're part of our community.

"And then you have the schools, Mr. Speaker. We do get federal impact aid, and it costs us money to educate those students. But many years ago when I was dealing with Radford High School, we figured it out, the net impact that the military provides us way exceeds our expense in those schools.

"But as a partner in the community, what does the military do for us? They adopt our schools. If you go to Leilehua, which I'm sure, I know Radford High School, which I represented for years, they never need a new paint job because the people in the Navy and the Air Force come and paint that school. In fact, Radford was wired because the military came in in the year 2000 and wired the whole school for computers, before the DOE even got around to it. That's what they do. They mentor our young people, they come in after school programs, volunteer their time, they give their time, talent and treasure to help these young people in the schools. Not to mention the Carole Kai Aloha Bed Race which is broadcast live from Iraq. These people are our friends and neighbors, Mr. Speaker, and that's why they're so important.

"Now, you've seen some stuff in the media about this potential housing boom, Mr. Speaker. They're going to leave over 20,000 units available. Mr. Speaker, I've got two words for you, Barbers Point. They had empty barracks out there for 20 years, but the maze of rules and regulations dealing with former federal land, to get access to it and to go through the community input process will take, as we've seen, 20 years. So there will be no housing boom. What there will be is people don't have money to pay rent because they won't have those jobs.

"So this Body, I'm certain, stands united, Mr. Speaker, in urging the Congress, urging the DOD, urging anyone who will listen, to keep the troops here. Thank you, sir."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in unequivocal strong support. Mr. Speaker, I also rise as a Vietnam veteran who did check out of Schofield, but that was after coming back from Vietnam. I didn't see the Speaker there, unfortunately.

"This is so mandatory, so imperative that we pass and show a united front. I know the chamber is doing signatures and other petitions, and I really appreciate the Representative from Kaneohe, the veteran from Kaneohe, putting this forward, Mr. Speaker, and having this as the first order of business. It's an honor to be a veteran and be able to speak to the importance of this resolution.

"I would have changed a few things, however. I would not only have said that it's dangerous of North and South Korea, but also in our Pacific Theatre is the Sakhalin Islands. Mr. Speaker, that could be a flashpoint, because of the many, many countries that are wrestling control over that with China as the major arena of control.

"I would have also sent this to not only those mentioned, but I would say every member of Congress, every Senator should know this, every elected official should know how strongly we feel about this and how imperative it is.

"But, Mr. Speaker, the irony is, at this time when the world is going to hell in a hand basket with wars exploding all over the place, we're doing a cutback. That is a strange irony and a dangerous one. We don't have to mention the January 7 Paris terrorist attack. Yemen fell yesterday to the Al Qaeda affiliates. The world is a dangerous place. And here we are in the middle of the Pacific with one of the strongest bastions of the military, and we're talking about cutting back. We should be talking about at least keeping the status quo or growing, and I hope our federal delegation will get behind that.

"Lastly, Mr. Speaker, in the post PIE era this is really a no brainer. The post PIE era means post Inouye era, a Senator whose shoulders were so big and broad, could carry the day through. It's now just burst upon all of us that we've got to carry the load.

"So again, in appreciation for this resolution, and I would challenge my colleagues who are the Republicans in this building and in this State, to call their friends in Congress who run the government as the majority now, to make sure that this doesn't happen because of the devastating effects that everybody has spoken about. So I hope that everybody can make phone calls and do everything possible that can be done to make sure that this is not the impact that it looks like it's going to be. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Thank you. I just wanted to speak because I do represent Barbers Point, and 16 years ago is when it was cleared out and given back to the State, and still, still we have problems because the roads are not developed, because the City can't absorb them because the regulations aren't up to par. And so only now are we in discussion with a possible investor that's going to buy that and try to improve that area. But 16 years ago.

"And so even though maybe it will clear them out and people can move into these houses, it's just the State and the City don't have the funds to do that right now. And so just as my colleague mentioned, it will be a ghost town for a long time before someone says, yes I have the money to take care of this place and improve it and get it ready for people to live in. And so I do strongly support this, because I think that it's necessary for us to take that into consideration, that the State and City don't have the funds to absorb that area. Thank you very much."

Representative Matsumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in strong support, and if I could just have permission to insert comments to the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"I understand that all communities must face the reality of our budget constraints across the board. Realistically we must be prepared to face some cuts as are all the communities with a military presence. Our first priority must be the security of the United States in our remote area of the Pacific. Clearly, with the emerging technologies, our service members are able to do more with less personnel. At the same time, we must do what we can to ensure that Hawaii is able to continue to be on the leading edge, technologically and militarily. From our unique location, in addition to other assets located on Guam, Hawaii is positioned to be a strategic asset for our nation, of such importance as to be considered THE line of defense against our tenuous relationships in the East falling into insolvency.

"On a personal level: I've had the opportunity to see/experience first-hand, the natural consequence the military has on the economy. My family farm is adjacent to Schofield, and in the early years the base was the major consumer of our eggs. As both a Daughter of Hawaii and the Representative for the district that includes both Schofield and Wheeler, I strongly urge the Pentagon to allow our mutually beneficial relationship to continue."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Just really quickly, I'm really glad that we're making an effort and that we're making a point. It's never too late. So I hope that the Army does listen to us. But I did want to just take this opportunity to point out that the decisions that we make in this Body do have consequences. And we see now, we see it on the news and we've seen it in some of the legislation that we've passed. We have not always been pro-military. We've not always made it easy for the Army to train here. We've not made it easy for them to house their soldiers here. The cost of living is very high, and all of those things are making a difference when the Army is making their decision.

"So yes, we can get our petitions, and we should get our petitions, we should make an effort. But it cannot just be lip service to the Army to ask them and beg them to stay because we just expect them to give us this favor. We just have to remember as we're making decisions throughout the session, that when we do these things, when we make decisions that impact the Army, it factors into the decisions that they make about whether or not to stay here. So I just wanted to put that warning in there, so if we can all just keep that in the back of our minds as we make decisions. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support with strong reservations. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I feel compelled to say a few words, though. Mr. Speaker, I'm a child of a retired Marine of 20-plus years. I understand. I do understand our economy. But the second largest economic generator in our state is the military. I represent and have lived in a community for over 40 years that has a large training area called Makua. There has been a court case for over 13 years. No live fire has taken place in that specific entity for over 10 years.

"So I understand the complexities and I understand our Constitution and what we're supposed to do in this particular Body. I do not feel comfortable that enough discussion has been held on this particular issue to understand the full capacity of either a full reduction of 19,000-plus personnel, or maybe even a partial of 5,000 personnel, or even over several years.

"I do understand the complexities in the world and how our military forces are changing at this point in time, and that will always change. I do understand Schofield, and I understand the Representative from Wahiawa's concerns, and I understand what happened during those two large wars that we had in our most recent past to that particular community.

"I too, Mr. Speaker, understand that at one point in time our housing economy was affordable for our local residents, but at one point in time the military chose to let individuals live off base with certain benefits, which helped increased our housing rental market as well as our home market. We all have to understand these when we're voting on this type of measure, Mr. Speaker, and until I get much more information, I will stand with reservations on this. But I hope that everybody understands where we're going in this new world and new age.

"We all have to be accountable, as the good Representative from Hawaii Kai has stated. Stand up and start doing what we need to do, because we no longer have that one individual in Congress that took care of us for over 50 years. But at some point in time, we need to start looking at the diversity of our economy, and not rely so heavily upon tourism and military. And we have to always balance what our Constitution says. Many of these lands that are currently used by our military personnel and their bases are public trust lands that we have an obligation to drive revenue and give back to the host culture.

"These are the balances that we must understand and take positions on in this Body as we move forward in our future as it continually changes. So, Mr. Speaker, thank you very much."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I too stand with the Representative from Waianae, and I too would like to support this measure but with reservations. I too, like the Representative from Waianae, my brother is a veteran, my in-laws are veterans, and in fact my husband is a product of a naval commander. I understand the need for the economy and I understand how devastated our economy would be if the military would suddenly pull out.

"I too, however, wonder whether or not enough has been thought about regarding diversifying our economy. Because the reality is, we are facing the 21st century where the military is not going to be our major source of income in the State of Hawaii, and we must look to that future. And because of that, we need to focus our energies and not just realize that our resolutions and our requests and our wants to make sure that the economy in the State of Hawaii continues the way it is, will not be in any way diverted without looking forward to the future of the 21st century.

"The reality is, peace is going to be, hopefully, one of the things we should strive for. The military has been a good source of income for our neighbors, for ourselves, but has also been a source of headaches to the community for various reasons, like in the District of Puna, we are now faced with unspent munitions that all of a sudden we need to realize with the lava approaching. And because of these, Mr. Speaker, I stand with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Standing in strong support. Mr. Speaker, I'm compelled to try to add to this discussion in support. I know that there has been focus already, talk about the socioeconomic issues, the issues and the impact on our natural resources as well as the impact on our host culture. But, Mr. Speaker, I do want to emphasize some of the other benefits that we as a state have had by having this partnership with the military.

"Mr. Speaker, in regards to dealing with natural disasters, our military are strong and supportive partners in dealing with and helping to respond to things like hurricanes. The military came in, with floods that happened on Maui, with the Army Corps of Engineers to immediately help families impacted by floodwaters that washed a home down off its foundation. Mr. Speaker, military also came in and helped remove thousands of trees that blocked major roadways. The Navy as well as the Army assisted with clearing our coast lines, especially in harbors.

"Mr. Speaker, the men and women of our armed services also have come in and helped many of the schools. Some of the schools in both my district and the adjacent districts have had hurricane shelter windows put up by the military. Our military also has made a commitment to work with public service committees, community events, as well as nonprofits to help support their investment into our communities.

"Mr. Speaker, besides all those direct impacts, if you talk to many of our neighbors who have once served in our armed services, they also return to the islands and express how through their experience of being stationed here, they've come to love the islands and want to be part of it.

"And one last thing, Mr. Speaker, that I would like to highlight to impact is, I've had the privilege of being part of discussions of how the Army plays an active role in promoting peace. And part of the reason why Hawaii is such a strategic area is that we are able to bring in those from a wide variety of countries, from Indonesia, Malaysia, who want to come to Hawaii to make this an example of how multi-cultures can live harmoniously, how we have an openness to the variety of religions and the variety of ways of life. We have that right in Waikiki where they have active discussions from a wide variety of countries. Even some countries, Mr. Speaker, that people up in Washington, D.C. may determine as maybe conflict areas.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I really would like to emphasize the fact that there's a wide benefit other than just the economic and the social impacts. But there is an opportunity that the military, especially the Army, that provides us that we do not see that will be directly affected, Mr. Speaker.

"And one last thing, Mr. Speaker, since the use of alternative energy has been a discussion. One of the leaders initially in the use of alternative energy was our armed forces. A lot of the subcontractors, when we went to the Pentagon to talk with them, were small business owners who use military contracts to actually start to promote and diversify the use of stuff like wave energy. So, again, Mr. Speaker, our military, especially our Army, serves and want to be a valued partner within our community. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations. I agree with many of the statements that were made by previous Representatives, for and against. I rise with reservations because of the comments that I've received in my community regarding some of the burdens that the military has imposed on our community in particular, and also regarding the long and contentious history that the military has had in Hawaii in terms of impacts with the Native Hawaiian community and with the environment.

"With that said, I understand the impact that this first reduction could potentially have on our local economy, and particularly on the communities adjacent to the barracks. So for those reasons, I do support this resolution with reservations. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. I think it is particularly encouraging to see the strong and broad bipartisanship in favor of this resolution. This forced reduction, as many have already stated would have an irreversible negative socioeconomic impact on our community. And as others have noted, it's not just on the military community or the service sector, but the information sector, education sector, public teachers, universities would all lose out. The green energy sector as just mentioned, real estate, housing, aerospace, manufacturing, even tourism sector would be affected as family members and friends of those who live here as members of the United States Army would stop to come and visit them.

"As a Representative of Ewa Beach living next to Kalaeloa and Barbers Point, I've seen how this ghost town really can have a negative impact on the community, as the Representative from that area has mentioned. It's been 16 years, and access to former federal lands can take decades to utilize them. In the meantime, they become degraded and unkempt. As also mentioned, innumerable veterans stay on and they continue to serve our community as leaders, a prime example being Speaker Souki.

"I stand in strong support for this, because in part my community stands in strong support for it. But I think as people who have to think about the good of this state and the future and the long term and in the short term, it would be a travesty to have such a large force reduction here. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and in the sake of brevity I'd like to ask that the words from the Representative from Mililani and Wahiawa be inserted into the Journal as if they were my own. And I'd just like to add a short comment to the words from the Representative from Mililani, that when Hurricane Iniki hit Kauai, PMRF, the missile range at West Kauai, was the first responders to many, many things that happened on Kauai, and if it wasn't for them the people on West Kauai and all of Kauai wouldn't have recovered as quickly. So I do stand in support, and I thank leadership for introducing this so quickly into the session. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to have to rise in opposition. I wasn't expecting this to be a first reading adoption. As Chair of the Hawaiian Affairs Committee, I do feel that we need to note the long history and contention of the military in Hawaii from Makua Valley, the live firing there, to Pohakuloa, to Protect Kahoolawe Ohana in the '70s, to now in Niihau. This spans every island, every county. In Niihau, the Pacific Missile Defense that they're literally throwing missiles into the reefs right outside Niihau and Kauai. To a lot of the people in those regions, any downsizing of those types of operations will be welcomed. In fact, this might not go far enough.

"I rise in opposition to this measure because I support the Army, I support the moves that the Army is doing. If they say strategically this is what they want to do, move their troops to the Philippines, closer to North Korea, then fine. I think we should support their efforts.

"We say it's political, a previous speaker mentioned it's a monetary, I think he meant fiscal policy, but actually the Pentagon did a study as well as a cross ideological consensus report, and they came to the conclusion that this downsizing across the nation isn't going to affect the safety of our country at all. As a matter of fact, we're going to keep as much troops as we had during the Cold War Era, post-World War II era. We'll be plenty safe. In this modern society, the number of troops doesn't necessarily correlate with the safety of a nation. It's purely technological.

"Regarding jobs, the economy, we noted that it's a $1.35 billion loss to the economy. But when we're talking about economic diversification and moving beyond just tourism, military, real estate that has been our state's sole focus in my entire lifetime, then this should be welcomed, because that $1.35 billion, that's freeing up the economy. Any economist will say you need economic sunset to see economic sunrise. That $1.35 billion can be agriculture, can be technology. And the jobs, 19,000 or 20,000 jobs, these are people with high skills that could be hired by Boeing and tons of private contractors. So when I hear my usually open market, private sector driven colleagues saying that this is a bad thing. These are public sector jobs that could go to the private sector. Why are we trying to hold on to this? They'll make more money, it's better for the economy. And that's what we should be facilitating.

"If we think that the timeline of this isn't imminent enough, then yeah we should focus on facilitating that transition regarding land and houses. If we think that the Barbers Point situation was so sad, then let's facilitate that. Let's make a plan now, we have a resolution to figure out what's going to happen to this land as opposed to saying, we need your help federal government, big brother, keep feeding us under the table and we'll take what we can get.

"While our state has pursued tourism, real estate and military spending, we Hawaiians have blazed a trail to economic diversification. We're taking on the task of rescuing our language, history, arts and sciences, and we have now exposed thousands of people around the world to the genius of Native Hawaiian agriculture and aquaculture. Our students have come to universities in record numbers. And you know what fields we tend to gravitate towards? Social work, medicine, law, education, Hawaiian studies and Hawaiian language, as we're preparing ourselves to lead the State, or serve, or lead a nation. That's what I see in the new generation of Hawaiians preparing in a positive and tolerant wave of 'imi 'ike and aloha.

"That's what economic diversification is about. It's not about holding on to sun-setting industries and taking the scraps we can from the federal government. It's about home rule and self-determination. That's what we should be focusing on, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support of the resolution. Thank you very much. I wasn't going to say anything, but I just wanted some comments be put on the record because of my capacity as Economic Development Chair in the past, and as you'll see this session on further economic development bills and diversification.

"I think it's really important that we set the issues and keep them straight. The State does not spend money on military directly. And economic multipliers are different from fiscal funding from different sources. But let me tell you this, we need the diversification of our economy, but it's not an either-or proposition. In fact, they're quite intricately connected, Mr. Speaker. Because the fact of the matter is that economic diversification is looking at the fact that the military has provided high tech companies with opportunities for federal contracts that might not otherwise exist.

"I'll stray briefly, and hopefully I have your indulgence and that of the Members, to point out the example of SBIR program. By expanding state support for that, we diversify our innovation economy in the State of Hawaii and position Hawaii companies to win federal dollars to support commercialization of intellectual property that's developed right here in our home state.

"The military provides infrastructure funding for things like broadband, telecommunications, which allows our brightest minds to come home and export their products overseas to the world. It's a partnership between the State and the federal government. I don't see the resolution saying we don't support economic diversification. The resolution to me says we support the military in Hawaii because of all the beneficial effects it has upon us. The State is a partner in this, but by them being here they help to facilitate opportunity for economic diversification. It's a partnership model.

"The concerns of my colleagues, I greatly respect them, but I would also point out that it's not the military that makes the moral choices, it's the politicians, Mr. Speaker, who do that. And I think that's something we should all keep in mind. They're carrying out the laws and the orders of the land that we, the politicians in Congress, decide. That's where the moral obligation argument needs to reside.

"But as to the role of the military in Hawaii, I would hope the people see it as a partnership in economic diversification. These measures, which the State is matching the feds, the feds are putting in most of the money by the way, are going to help leverage the local companies' ability to compete, to diversify, and to bring our brightest minds back home so they can be successful entrepreneurs here in Hawaii, not on the mainland or elsewhere.

"So I know fast-tracking the resolution, to have a hearing would be great, but to me especially in the work as Economic Development Chair, I would look at this resolution as saying, hey, this is not to take away from diversification, we need diversification, but this is to support a structure that will allow us to do just that. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Aquino rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support, written comments please."

Representative Aquino's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support of the resolution.

"As a former Chairman of the State House Committee on Public Safety and Military Affairs, I was privileged to work with the active community of the U.S. Military both here in Hawaii and in Washington D.C. along with our National Guard.

"Through this experience, I developed a stronger awareness and appreciation of the military's presence in our island community and the positive impact it has on our residents. However, through the U.S. Army's SPEA report, it is strongly considering a significant reduction of our Army forces at Fort Shafter and Schofield Barracks.

"This scenario, which includes the elimination of nearly 20,000 personnel, will have profound effects on our state—especially neighboring communities in Wahiawa, Mililani, North Shore, Ewa Beach, Waipahu, Salt Lake, Aliamanu, and in various parts of Honolulu. First, the economic impact of the reduction in force equates to $8.8 billion in lost annual spending, the elimination of 97,000 jobs and a billion dollar puka in our economy. As the second largest economic engine in the State, this will affect everyone. Second, the positive community impact of our military personnel is immeasurable. The men and women of uniform have always stepped up to the plate for our schools and neighborhoods. Whether volunteering to beautify our communities or providing an extra hand to better our schools, they are a tremendous asset that will be difficult to replace.

"It is for these and many other reasons, Mr. Speaker, that I support this resolution wholeheartedly. Mahalo."

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I support HCR 3 and the intent of this resolution, to oppose the reduction of 19,800 Army personnel from Fort Shafter and Schofield Barracks as described in the Army 2014 Supplemental Programmatic Environmental Assessment (SPEA).

"As an elected official, I can appreciate the challenges associated with reducing the Army's personnel to meet the savings required by the Budget Control Act of 2011. However, I am strongly opposed to the reduction scenario considered in the SPEA for Hawaii.

"I am also concerned about the Army's assessment of whether the potential reduction will cause a significant negative socioeconomic impact to our state. I believe it will indeed impact Hawaii significantly and negatively—particularly the communities of Salt Lake and Moanalua, the House district I serve.

"In Hawaii, the military has the single most significant economic impact on our economy after tourism. In addition, we recognize and value the rich diversity, volunteerism and service the military adds to our communities and schools.

"For example, military volunteers from Fort Shafter helped to beautify our Salt Lake District Park, cutting down 6 foot high cattle grass. Army personnel also patronize our local businesses like the Salt Lake Shopping Center, creating jobs for our residents. The potential reduction will have a tangible effect on our community.

"I urge my fellow colleagues to support HCR 3. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much. In favor. Members of the House, I hope you realize that this is a very, very important resolution. We have to understand this will not only affect Schofield Barracks and Fort Shafter. This is just the beginning of the neutralization of Hawaii. For many years of being the number two, at one point of being the number one, economic driver, if you give a signal to those politicians who want to move the military bases here to their districts throughout the nation, this is going to be a signal, and this is going to be the beginning of bases being closed.

"What is it going to be next? The Air Force, Hickam Field. Hickam Field will close. Planes can fly from the mainland, they can come here, they'll close. Navy base, San Diego, they can go to San Diego. Look around, look how dependent we are.

"It doesn't preclude us from going through economic development, and that's what they've been trying to do all these past years. In 1998 as one of the Co-Chairman of this Economic Redevelopment Committee, which we had supposedly the top people in the State sitting together with labor, business, et cetera, trying to come up with plans to include the economic drivers here in Hawaii. It's not that easy. It's not that if suddenly we're going to lose this military, that we can put people in there who are going to come up with economic development programs, who are going to come up with jobs. It's not going to happen. It's going to take time.

"What kind of resources do we have? Look around. What kind of resources do we have on this island? We've got the sun, so we've got tourism. We've got a beautiful base in Pearl Harbor, so we've got the Navy base. Do we have any other economic drivers in here that can bring up the revenue that they need to take care of our schools, our health systems, to take care of even the host culture as we have been in the past, provided with more money? We do not have the same opportunities as when you look at what other states have. Whether they have oil, whether they have big factories building planes, building tanks, building buses, whatever else. They don't have them here.

"So please think how you vote, how it's going to affect not only now, and how it may affect the State in the future. Thank you very much, Members."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. May I please have the words of the Speaker of the House, the Chair of Water & Land, the Chair of CPC, the Vice Chair of Veterans and Military Affairs, and the words of the Representative from Wahiawa entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Johanson rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson's written remarks are as follows:

"As the Representative of District 31, which spans the geographical area from Ft. Shafter to Aiea, including all of the Ft. Shafter installation, I am deeply interested and invested in the Army's potential decision to reduce their presence in or close the Ft. Shafter and Schofield Barracks facilities. I am particularly concerned about the loss of Ft. Shafter, both in terms of personnel and facilities. Every part of my district borders a military facility, and military members, both active and retired, make up a key demographic of our community. The Army has left an indelible imprint on the Moanalua, Aliamanu, Red Hill, Foster Village, and Aiea communities, to the point that the Army life has become a fundamental way of life, even for civilians. This is important, because a loss of Army personnel or the loss of Ft. Shafter itself would devastate the fabric of the greater Moanalua and Aiea communities.

"The loss of 3,786 Army personnel from Ft. Shafter, 16,606 from Schofield Barracks, and the approximately 30,000 family members from Hawaii will have cascading effects on Hawaii's schools, economic productivity, and social institutions. The economic effects would be severe as this would take jobs from critical industries, such as construction, retail, restaurants, real estate, and scientific and technical services. The loss of military dependent students from our public schools will lead to the loss of funds for our public schools, which already lack critical resources to educate Hawaii's youth. I went to high school with military dependents hailing from Ft. Shafter.

"Ft. Shafter is the oldest military facility in Hawaii and for over 100 years has been home to the Army's Hawaii headquarters and still remains the Army's headquarters for the Asia-Pacific region. As the military strives to enact President Obama's proposed 'pivot to Asia,' I can only believe that Hawaii ought to play a key role as a staging and training area for the greater numbers that are headed to bases throughout the Asia-Pacific region. Hawaii has long been a forward base for our military, and has traditionally served an important leadership function. With a new strategic focus on Asia, why should this change? I am proud to represent the district that contains such a critical Army installation, and I hope that our community's partnership with the Army will continue and thrive.

"As I live immediately outside of Ft. Shafter's perimeter fence, for almost my whole life, I have heard the sounds of reveille being played at 6:30 in the morning and taps being played at 10 in the evening. My Moanalua Gardens community has shared sidewalks with personnel running through the neighborhood on PT. These occurrences are an indisputable part of my life, and proof of the military's presence and its importance in all of our lives and my community's as well. I know the people we are talking about potentially losing from our community. I have served alongside them at school reading days, at community beautification projects, and at disaster preparedness efforts. They are a critical thread in the fabric of our community that we cannot afford to have taken from us. Ft. Shafter and Schofield Barracks are not isolated military installations that exist wholly outside of civilian life; rather, they are organic, real parts of all of our communities.

"While many people have highlighted why Hawaii benefits from the military maintaining a large presence in the islands, I believe we must examine our intertwined history and understand how we mutually benefit from our continued shared partnership. Although I have not served in uniform, my family has deep military roots. My grandfather on my Johanson side was a Purple Heart recipient, who fought for our country in the South Pacific during World War II. My grandfather on my Ling side was a civilian shipfitter, but was nonetheless impacted as most of the State was on December 7th, 1941. He was recalled after the initial bombing of Pearl Harbor to aid in the cleanup, he was forced to hide under a wheelbarrow to avoid the shots of the second round of strafing. My family moved to Moanalua Gardens, a community surrounding Ft. Shafter, to be closer to his work at Pearl Harbor. This is not an isolated story; most of my district was planned and built to accommodate civilian workers who were working on military installations at Ft. Shafter, Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard, and Hickam Air Force Base.

"The military has been partners with our community for so long, I cannot truly say where the military bases end and the civilian community begins. We share historical bonds of fraternity and service. While these bonds were forged in the past, through shared hardship and toil, they have come to represent the unique strength we have as a truly blended community. Hawaii is a uniquely suited host population for the military. The military's cultural and ethnic diversity is a perfect match for the melting pot makeup of this state and the Aloha Spirit that pervades all who call it home.

"With the military's pivot to Asia, it's important to recognize that Hawaii not only shares a long history with the Army and the US military, but also has traditionally served as the gateway to Asia. We have long worked together to protect this state and make it prosper. Let us not abandon the quality partnership that we have built, but rather, let us continue to unite behind common purpose and interest. The Hawaii of today is just as ready and willing to partner with you as it was in times of war and strife. As such, and with all due respect, I ask the Army to preserve its personnel levels in Hawaii, particularly regarding Ft. Shafter."

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in opposition. Just for the record, I just wanted to note a couple of things of what this is and what this isn't. It is indeed just affecting Fort Shafter and Schofield Barracks. It's easy to make a slippery slope argument for any bill that goes through this Chamber, but we need to focus on the matter at hand. This also doesn't preclude federal contracts in the future, nor does it affect much of the civil service operations here in Hawaii that was spoken about by the Representative from Mililani. This is just about personnel. And yes, there will be an economic impact, and yes, we do need to facilitate transition, but again, I'm in opposition because I support what the Army is doing. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just for clarification, to clarify I think maybe some of the perceptions. Mr. Speaker, this reduction does have an impact in a wide range and it impacts civil service projects. For example, all of our schools have weighted student formula. If your school has a percentage of students that will then be moved because of the reduction, or that their father or mother works for a small business that no longer is going to have a federal contract and decides to move back to the mainland, your schools will be impacted directly by the weighted student formula.

"Mr. Speaker, also if you have a company or you work for some type of restaurant and your entity loses 30% or more of their business, you will be directly impacted. And, Mr. Speaker that includes the funds that we collect through the State through taxes, which then will impact every state and city employee within the State of Hawaii. Mr. Speaker, again, the impact on this stuff goes far wider than just the issue of do we support the military. We're talking about private, public companies that are impacted and needing these businesses.

"Mr. Speaker, when we have the personnel here and we are improving and increasing the type of living situations, those found on Ford Island, who do they hire to do the work, Mr. Speaker? They hire local contractors. That includes our carpenters. That includes our masons.

"Mr. Speaker, the impact of this goes far and wide, beyond just those employees or armed services, Army, that are going to be moved. We're talking about their family, we're talking about local families that will be directly impacted, not only in their disposable income but their ability to maintain for their family. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Still with reservations, strong reservations. Sorry, I feel compelled. I've only been here four short years. I'm very blessed to come back for another two years. But no disrespect to prior bodies, prior to me getting here, but I think our state has been reliant upon the military and the federal government. They've been expanding. They expanded Pohakuloa. They went into leases with our state government for $1 a year in public lands. They've expanded Schofield training ranges due to not being able to train in Makua due to a court case. They've expanded the Kahuku ranges, all due to an individual from Congress. And God bless him, he treated our state well.

"But we are at a pivotal point, Mr. Speaker, and the pivotal point is when are we as a state going to start standing up and stop saying no thank you to the US Government when they defrag properties such as Barbers Point. Almost 20-plus years. Unfortunately, those properties have come back to the State, to DHHL, to the City and County. But they're not moving forward on that, because we don't have the proper infrastructure. Because when the military government defrags these places, they don't bring them up to our codes. They don't put proper streets, sewers, water systems in. They say, thank you very much, and give it back.

"I've watched a property in a neighboring community of mine from World War II, we turned it down three times. We need to start focusing on what we're doing here in the State. Economic generation. We have a great opportunity with economic generation for these lands for the host community. We need to drive those revenues according to our Constitution to provide programs for the five purposes. Are we not forgetting this?

"I love the military. I'm a child, I receive the benefits, my father still gets his check, I understand. But we grew that economy. We grew it, to now we're at a point where we can start saying, let's just change that pivot. We have an opportunity to have a discussion with the federal government to say that, if you are going to do this for whatever reason, let's do it in increments so it doesn't hurt our economy so badly."

Representative LoPresti rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan continued, stating:

"This is what we need to talk about. No disrespect to the introducer of this measure. I understand the urgency, with upcoming meetings next week. I truly do. But we need to have these conversations. Because it is not our land, but it is our responsibility to protect those lands and those revenues until such time as an entity arises to where we can transfer them.

"And this is all about money, Mr. Speaker. We're talking about military dollars coming in here. Yes, and we have a roll-off effect. Pearl Harbor, many of my friends that live in my community have raised families on those high paying jobs, with the COLA, with great benefits. I understand the economic roll off. I understand our impacts to our schools and the federal monies we get for our DOE schools. But there's arguments on both sides, Mr. Speaker, and we haven't even had that yet.

"This is why it's so important that we as a Body start really looking at all opportunities, including opportunities from the federal government, including the loss of those dollars, to potentially drive manufacturing when we have been shutting it away out of the State since Crazy Shirts. Now I'm going to date myself. Why aren't we looking at these things?

"That's what we should be talking about here. Not relying upon the federal government to come and build something, wait for them to leave, and then we take over a property that is not very useful to us because it's not up to standards and codes. Just go ask those individuals that are leasing out in Barbers Point or now Kalaeloa, because yes we do rename them. They don't have upgraded electricity, they don't have telephone service out there, they don't even have what they have in urban Honolulu. And we expect people that we give monies to, to operate human service programs, to operate out there. That's what we should be looking at here, and having that discussion. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.C.R. No. 3 was adopted, with Representatives Jordan, Keohokalole and San Buenaventura voting aye with reservations, with Representative Ing voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Carroll, Kobayashi, Luke, Nakashima, Ohno and Thielen being excused.

At 1:34 o'clock p.m., Representative Ward requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, I have two announcements. This is a thank you to Speaker Souki mentioning the retirement and the condition of our dear Representative Mele Carroll. Mele served here well, she promoted Hawaiian Culture, everything good about Hawaii and Hawaiian. So I just wanted to acknowledge and to say that we're going to miss her, and that we can publicly go into record by saying that even though she has resigned, she's still with us in our hearts and prayers."

Vice Speaker Mizuno: "I believe that her resignation is not yet effective. There is a date, so just a clarification."

Representative Ward: "Oh, it's not official yet? Yes, let us be technical, because the next announcement is technical. The Aerospace Caucus, which Representative McKelvey and I Chair with Senator Wakai and Senator Espero, is having a caucus meeting tomorrow, which I wanted to announce, for 2:00 p.m. in Room 312. And as the good Representative from Maui reminded me, we have two federal experts who are going to join us and give us an update on what some of you are wondering about, drones, or wondering about what's going on with Alaska and the six sites that are going to be experimental with unmanned aerial surveillance vehicles. That's going to be talked about. So anyone, and then anyone who is a freshman who wants to join the Aerospace Caucus, this is a good time. Tomorrow, 2:00 p.m. in Room 312. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Very briefly, I'd just like to announce, as several other Members reminded me, the passing of a great community advocate, community activist, leader, labor rights fighter and all-around great guy, who's done more for this state than many of us will ever know, and that's Al Lewis who is long known here at the Capitol and around the State. I'd just like to ask for a brief moment of silence for him at the appropriate time."

At this time, the Members of the House of Representatives stood for a moment of silence in honor of the late Mr. Al Lewis.

Sen. Com. No. 2, transmitting H.C.R. No. 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATING TO RECESS DAYS FOR THE REGULAR SESSION OF 2015," which was adopted by the Senate on January 22, 2015.

Sen. Com. No. 3, transmitting H.C.R. No. 2, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO ADDRESS THE LEGISLATURE ASSEMBLED IN JOINT SESSION," which was adopted by the Senate on January 22, 2015.

Sen. Com. No. 4, transmitting S.C.R. No. 3, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION STRONGLY OPPOSING THE UNITED STATES ARMY'S PROPOSED FORCE REDUCTION OF SCHOFIELD BARRACKS AND FORT SHAFTER BASES," which was adopted by the Senate on January 22, 2015.

Representative Saiki moved that S.C.R. No. 3 be adopted, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ito rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure.

"Mr. Speaker, it is most important that, here today, we demonstrate our strong support of the men and women of the armed forces and the importance of partnerships such as what we have here; between the military, the private sector, and state and local government.

"We understand how important the military is to Hawaii. Members of the military are part of our communities, our 'ohana, and in time of need, we have been always been able to count on them.

"The military activities also support our economy. In Hawaii, the military spends more than $6.5 billion annually and has a total economic impact of $14.7 billion.

"We need to step up, and be loud and clear about our support of the military in Hawaii and the important role the military plays in our communities.

"Partnership is the key to addressing some of the challenges the military faces in Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, I serve as the Co-Chair of the National Conference of State Legislature's Military and Veterans Affairs Task Force. In this role, I can see the limits put on defense spending by the Budget Control Act that result in a competition between states for military bases and activities. We must be at the forefront of this competition.

"Mr. Speaker, for these reasons I strongly support Senate Concurrent Resolution 3, and ask my colleagues to do the same."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I'd like the remarks that I made on House Concurrent Resolution Number 3 on January 22nd, be entered in the Journal in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution Number 3. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, same request plus the fact that I would remind the Body that our first obligation as elected officials of the people is public safety. The safety of our people is key. That didn't come through yesterday, but I would add that to my remarks from yesterday. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Same request as the Representative from Wahiawa, to have my remarks from yesterday entered into the Journal for today's measure. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Johanson rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in strong support of this concurrent resolution, and would like to reference my remarks submitted on January 22, 2015 for H.C.R. No. 3, House Concurrent Resolution Strongly Opposing the United States Army's Proposed Force Reduction of Schofield Barracks and Fort Shafter Bases."

Representative Woodson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support, with permission to enter written comments, please."

Representative Woodson's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the resolution. There have been many credible and effective arguments that have been articulated as to the net positive socioeconomic benefits for maintaining troop and equipment at the current levels. However, there is also the argument to be made regarding security: security for our communities, security for our state, security for our country, security for our allies, and security for those in need around the globe.

"Hawaii is of great strategic importance geographically, and therefore it is of great geopolitical importance. Because Hawaii is located in what can be used as a natural pivot point into an Eastern hemisphere, it should maintain current military levels. In other words, Hawaii offers a strategic military advantage simply because of its prime location as it relates to the rest of the world. This is a unique asset that no other state can provide. Our military's presence in Hawaii—as a whole—makes our military more effective and therefore our communities, state and country more secure.

"We have an obligation. Because our military's capability is great, it is our responsibility to communicate strong support from this Chamber. Not only is our security at stake, but other countries and communities that would become even more vulnerable are at stake as well. We are the only country that can take on such a responsibility, so we must do everything we can to support the military and maintain their presence here. This is our burden. It is not about us or them; they are us."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in strong support of this concurrent resolution, and would like to reference my remarks submitted on January 22, 2015 for H.C.R. No. 3, House Concurrent Resolution Strongly Opposing the United States Army's Proposed Force Reduction of Schofield Barracks and Fort Shafter Bases."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support, and may I have the same request as the Representative from Wahiawa. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Same request please," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tupola rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola's written remarks are as follows:

"I stand in support of this resolution. A resolution is an official expression of the opinion or will of a legislative body.

"Our Legislative Body has not been invited to the congressional table to debate this issue or suggest amendments or changes. We are deciding as a Body to have an opinion on the federal decision.

"I represent Barbers Point which was vacated by the military in 1998, 16 years ago. This area has turned into a ghost town with roads that are not up to code, buildings that are vandalized, and properties that have not been absorbed by private or public entities. I believe that this decision will result in the same outcome as Barbers Point without proper planned funding from the State or City. This unplanned decision will impact the economy, jobs, schools, business and more. I believe that if the federal government is going to vacate the area, there should be some plan to 'leave it better than they found it,' by preparing the roads, drainage, housing, etc.

"My colleagues also mentioned that the military has provided first responder services for hurricanes and other natural disasters throughout the State that would have resulted differently without their aid. In an isolated land such as Hawaii, we need to think about the need for these emergency services, especially in an area I represent that was affected by Hurricane Iniki. My goal is to hold our first Wai'anae Emergency Preparedness Fair with an evacuation drill this June at Nanakuli High School. I am determined to give my area an emergency preparedness plan and equip my community members with more knowledge regarding emergency preparedness. I know that when a hurricane hits, the time to prepare has passed. Now is the time to prepare.

"I do not support the federal acquisition of Makua or other lands on the West Coast of O'ahu. I do not support live firing in Makua Valley. I do not support the military destroying natural resources in Hawaii. I do hope that Makua Valley and Maili Valley where I live will one day be given back to the people in those areas. I do hope that we can diversify our economy in the future without the strong dependency on the military. I do hope that the federal government officials will work more closely with state officials in the future to prepare us for such a decision."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with strong reservations. May I have permission to submit the comments I stated on the Floor on January 22nd, in regards to House Concurrent Resolution Number 3. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise in support with reservations, asking permission for my comments from yesterday to be entered into the Journal today. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support and I ask the same. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Support with reservations, and I would like to also incorporate my comments from HCR 3 from yesterday. Thanks," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Same request, in opposition," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in strong support of this concurrent resolution, and would like to reference my remarks submitted on January 22, 2015 for H.C.R. No. 3, House Concurrent Resolution Strongly Opposing the United States Army's Proposed Force Reduction of Schofield Barracks and Fort Shafter Bases."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, can I request that my comments made yesterday be inserted today. In support. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.C.R. No. 3 was adopted, with Representatives Jordan, Keohokalole and San Buenaventura voting aye with reservations, with Representative Ing voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Carroll and Ohno being excused.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution (H.R. No. 8) was announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.R. No. 8, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION ADOPTING THE RULES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE TWENTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE, INCLUDING THE OPERATING PROCEDURES FOR THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON STANDARDS OF CONDUCT," was jointly offered by Representatives Saiki and Fukumoto Chang.

Representative Saiki moved that H.R. No. 8 be adopted, seconded by Representative Fukumoto Chang.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with mild reservations. Mr. Speaker, I think these are good that we have rules, but what my reservation is that we often don't enforce them. So I would suggest that we have like this Committee on Ethics. We've never really convened it yet. I would suggest that that be part of it in terms of, if we mean what we say we should say what we mean, and enforce some of these rules rather than just go through this process of approving them and not doing anything about them. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.R. No. 8 was adopted, with Representative Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Carroll, Ing, LoPresti, McKelvey, Oshiro and Souki being excused.

By unanimous consent, the following resolutions (H.R. Nos. 6 and 7) and concurrent resolutions (H.C.R. Nos. 9 through 16) were referred to Printing and further action was deferred:

H.R. No. 6, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING REPORTS REGARDING STATE AGENCY ACTION TO ENSURE ACCESS BY RURAL COMMUNITIES TO CELLULAR AND BROADBAND SERVICES," was jointly offered by Representatives San Buenaventura, Creagan, Evans, Ichiyama, Mizuno, Tsuji, Keohokalole, Kong, LoPresti and Nakashima.

H.R. No. 7, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION TO DEFINE WINDSHIELD AND CLARIFY THE MEANING OF AN OBSTRUCTION OF THE DRIVER'S CLEAR VIEW IN THE PERIODIC MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION MANUAL FOR INSPECTORS OF PASSENGER CARS AND LIGHT TRUCKS," was jointly offered by Representatives Fukumoto Chang, McDermott, Pouha, Thielen, Tupola, Ward and Matsumoto.

The Governor was presented with lei by Representative Cindy Evans on behalf of the House of Representatives, and Senator Rosalyn Baker on behalf of the Senate. The Vice Speaker then presented to the Members of the Twenty-Eighth Legislature and the audience, the Honorable David Ige, Governor of the State of Hawaii.

The Governor then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Mister Speaker, Madame President, former governors, distinguished justices of the courts, representatives of our congressional delegation, Members of the Hawaii State Legislature, other elected officials, honored guests, family and friends, aloha.

"I am honored to be here today to deliver my first State of the State Address. It is, of course, a homecoming of sorts with so many familiar faces and friends. Yet there is one major difference since I last sat amongst you. I am a year older with a few more grey hairs in my head.

"To say that the last month has been an eye opener would be an understatement, as all the former governors here will understand. But it's not so much about being overwhelmed. It is about being invigorated and challenged. And we have a mountain of challenges to climb. And so I hope we can climb it together. Because as I said in my inauguration, alone, it is a daunting and overwhelming task.

"But I have always been an optimist and a believer in people and the power they hold within them. That's why I've always looked to others for help with answers, and why I've always sought to harness the power of collaboration.

"When I met with my cabinet during a retreat recently I asked them, what does Hawaii mean to them? What drove them? What directed their actions? While there were many different answers and perspectives, one word kept coming up over and over and over again. Home.

"It's a sentiment I understand intimately. After I graduated from the University of Hawaii, I was fortunate enough to be offered a number of jobs. But only one was located here in Hawaii and that's the one I accepted. To this day, I know it was the right choice because this is my home.

"For me, that one word brings everything into focus and gives purpose and direction to everything we do. And what is it really that we do here at the Capitol?

"Well, it's quite simple. We are building a home for our kupuna, ourselves and our children.

"We build schools, hospitals, community centers, and places to work and play. And we safeguard the things that are important to us. Our families, our freedoms, our environment and our future, because this is our home.

"As any carpenter knows, building a good home takes time, money and skill. And he or she will also tell you no matter what kind of house you build, you begin at the beginning, with a strong foundation.

"And that's what I find myself doing as your new Governor. Building a solid foundation for this administration, for the work ahead, for the people of Hawaii.

"In addition, home building begins with sound and long-term financing. It means working both the income and spending sides of the ledger. I recently submitted a preliminary budget that maintains state programs at current spending levels based on two sobering realities. First, we have fully committed our current funds to existing programs and services, and second, we are spending more than we take in.

"While we work to correct that imbalance, we need to focus our available resources on strategic investments that grow our economy and strengthen our social safety net. In other words, we need to use the funds we have more efficiently and leverage it whenever possible.

"For example, we can be more aggressive in seeking federal funds in a wide array of areas. Federal officials have told me there is significant money, about $940 million, available to the State for the right projects, proposed for the right reasons, at the right time.

"That's why I'm pleased to announce the appointment of Elizabeth Kim as a Special Advisor to the Governor. Elizabeth's impressive experience in Washington D.C. will help the State tremendously in securing more federal dollars. We all know Elizabeth's story. A bright and talented person from Hawaii who wants to come home, but can't find the opportunity to do so.

"I am committed to creating more opportunities, not just for Elizabeth, but for all of our children to return home to fulfill their dreams and contribute to the future of Hawaii.

"We also need to do a better job of collecting taxes already on the books. The tax department, headed by Maria Zielinski, is preparing to implement a tax modernization program this year. The upgrade will better secure tax information and increase tax revenues through its efficiencies.

"While the project is expected to take several years, we should see a sizable increase in tax collections after the first two years. Moreover, the effort is projected to eventually pay for itself through increased revenues. Taxpayers will also benefit by being able to file their returns electronically, having access to online account information and getting faster payments and refunds. These are the projects we need to find.

"On the spending side, I believe we can do a number of things which center around a single change in mindset. Making government more efficient. I cannot stress how important I believe this one factor is.

"I recently met with Mike Buskey, President of GameStop, a multimillion dollar video-game retailer. The company operates almost 6,500 stores throughout the world and is a major player in the electronics sector.

"He said, if the rate of change inside a company does not exceed the rate of change outside the company, it will result in devastating losses to its shareholders, even bankruptcy. It made me wonder about the number of people who would be affected, if change within our state government failed to exceed the rate of change in the world?

"That truly would be devastating, resulting in government unable to meet the needs of its people.

"But what about the opposite scenario?

"I remember when I was in the Senate, we committed to going paperless and eliminating millions of unnecessary sheets of paper and its related costs. It was not an easy transition and it was tough to change the way we always did things for decades and decades and decades. But we did. And as a result, the Senate generated more than $1.2 million in savings over two years. And in the process, we saved nearly 8 million sheets of paper, or the equivalent of 800 trees each year.

"Now, can you imagine what we could do if all of state government looked for these kinds of opportunities?

"For example, I am told that the State goes through 1 million pages a month for payroll alone. A little effort could go a long way to alter that. A change in mindset could take us even much further. We must reduce the amount of paper we use every day.

"I am committed to transforming the culture of government to embrace and accelerate change. We need to invest in our employees and ask them what changes can be made to improve service or reduce costs. And most importantly we need to support them when we ask them to make those changes.

"Leveraging our dollars and maximizing our investments also goes a long way in creating savings.

"I recently attended the ground breaking for Kapolei Lofts, a public-private partnership with the State, the City and a private developer. This rental housing project will provide nearly 500 much needed homes on Oahu for residents, including 300 units that will remain affordable for the next 30 years.

"The State's share provided an interim loan of $5 million and is a good example of how low-cost government investment tools can be used to create affordable homes for working families.

"While we're talking about building homes, let me bring up a related subject. Honolulu's rail system is often viewed as a response to the growth of our suburban neighborhoods. While that is true today, it doesn't have to be that way in the future.

"Rail can be the driver to help us build future communities on Oahu, to sensibly direct growth, to protect open space and agriculture, to stimulate business, reinvigorate older neighborhoods and build affordable homes. In fact, the State is the largest owner of parcels along the transit route.

"Consequently, I will be dedicating a position in the Office of Planning to help us assess and evaluate those parcels specifically to build affordable homes. Because that is one of this administration's main goals.

"We are also adding $100 million to the Rental Assistance Revolving Fund that can be leveraged with private money and state-owned lands along the transit route to provide rental homes for working families. In addition, we are providing $25.3 million to construct a long-term care facility here for veterans. Those funds will be matched with $37.4 million from the federal government.

"And we can also generate additional federal dollars by identifying defense interests along the transit route and seeing if our plans can mesh with the military's to create a win-win situation. In these ways, federal funds can be tapped not just for our transportation needs, but for community building as well.

"And let me make one thing clear. This Governor wants rail to succeed, and I'm committed to it. But let's also make sure we do things the right way for the right reasons, including cost containment, before we ask for any more money.

"Ask anyone who suffers from long-term illnesses. Nothing matters if you don't have your health. Fully enjoying home and family presupposes good health. Lucky you live Hawaii for so many reasons, including one of the healthiest lifestyles and the longest life expectancies in the nation.

"Hawaii's Prepaid Health Care Act has had a lot to do with those outcomes. In addition, it has brought us closer to achieving universal healthcare amongst all the states across the nation. With the passage of the Affordable Care Act and the launching of Hawaii's Health Connector, we can close that gap. But we've got work to do.

"I will not minimize the disappointments we've all felt with the Health Connector. But I will not dwell on them either. That's why we're working closely with all stakeholders to ensure that we move toward a sustainable exchange, one that meets the requirements of the Affordable Care Act without endangering Hawaii's Prepaid Health Care Act.

"And despite the negative headlines, we are not that far away. Universal healthcare is within our grasp in Hawaii. And if we work together and focus on execution, I have every confidence we can achieve this.

"We enjoy many benefits of being an island state cradled in the middle of the Pacific. But there are also disadvantages. Unlike other states, good healthcare is not easily distributed throughout the islands. Our families and doctors cannot simply drive to another hospital if one is busy or does not have the services they need.

"We have some wonderful private hospitals, but not everyone has access to them. That's why our public hospitals play such an important role in Hawaii, a greater one than in most states. That's especially true on our neighbor islands where they're often the only provider of acute care.

"Public-private partnerships offer great potential, but only if they are shaped in the right way. And no matter what direction we take, changing how we operate our hospitals to meet changing needs will be a key to long-term solution.

"A home also needs a sustainable and reliable energy source. Importing fossil fuel remains one of our greatest weaknesses and we simply must move to reduce our dependence on it. We have the locally generated resources that can allow us to be self-sufficient. We just need to move in concert toward that goal.

"As our largest provider of energy, Hawaiian Electric will have a lot to do with our success or failure. And that's why, as discussions with NextEra proceed, I am asking Randy Iwase, the new head of the Public Utilities Commission, to be actively involved in those talks.

"In addition, with the help of the Legislature, we will be restructuring and staffing the PUC to give it the expertise and resources needed to deal with its due diligence. I will also be assigning a special counsel to protect the public's interest for the short and long term of this deal.

"The home we build in Hawaii needs a strong support network in so many areas.

"We need to support business and industry so that they can grow our economy and create jobs. That includes our visitor industry, which has had three straight record-setting years in arrivals and spending, totaling about $15 billion and supporting 175,000 jobs statewide.

"It also includes the thousands of small businesses that make up the core of our economic engine. Those mom and pop stores whose predecessors include success stories like Foodland, City Mill and the ABC Stores.

"We need to nurture an innovation economy, in which entrepreneurs use technology to develop new processes and products from existing ones, like smart phone makers who have taken their products far beyond the original concept of a mobile phone and created entire new markets.

"It's a whole new economic paradigm which we need to support with modern infrastructure, whether it's expanding our broadband network or building innovation parks. That's why we are providing $10 million for the HI Growth Initiative to support and grow innovation and entrepreneurship.

"We need to support agriculture and help our local farmers dramatically increase the amount of food we grow locally. Hawaii grows about 10-15% of the total food residents consume. If we are to become a sustainable society, we must increase those numbers.

"The cost of importing foods adds up to more than $3 billion leaving the State annually. If we replace just 10% of imports with locally grown food, it would generate $188 million in total sales, $94 million for farmers, $47 million in wages, and $6 million in new taxes and 2,300 jobs.

"To do that, we need to preserve farm lands, develop agricultural parks, combat invasive species, and reassess the areas that determine whether a local farmer can survive.

"We will be meeting with farmers from each island to hear what they need to make Hawaii more self-sufficient. And I've asked Agriculture Director Scott Enright to spearhead this effort.

"In the meantime, we are adding $5 million to the Agriculture Loan Program, and expanding use of the fund to include biosecurity and food safety needs. These are the kinds of things to help our farmers be successful.

"We also need to support our military whose courage and commitment to our nation's security keeps Hawaii and the rest of the country safe and strong. From our strategic location in the Pacific comes a responsibility that we cannot shirk.

"Moreover, the military plays a significant part in our economy, spending more than $6.5 billion annually with a total economic impact of $14.7 billion. It is the second largest sector of our economy, supporting more than 101,000 jobs.

"Even with the Pentagon's new focus on the Pacific, there is no guarantee that we can protect the military's presence in the islands simply because of our geographic location. We will need to be proactive and aggressive in our efforts to support our troops here. And I am prepared to do just that.

"We need to fulfill our obligations to our host culture whose sense of aloha influences everything we do. As we speak, the Hōkūle'a and its sister ship are sailing across the oceans to call for a more sustainable world.

"Their voyage banner, Mālama Honua, means 'to care for our earth.' Living on an island, we know better than most that the limited resources of this planet must be protected if we are to thrive as a species. That is the lesson offered by our host culture. It is their gift to all of us.

"I am pleased that Nainoa Thompson is with us today and would like to recognize him for his many contributions he has made to the Polynesian Voyaging Society and the people of Hawaii. Nainoa, if you could rise to be recognized.

"We also need a strong university system to help educate our future leaders and citizens, and create a place where innovation, original thinking and technology flourishes. A university system not just engaged in the community, but leading it into the future.

"In that regard, its goals must be clear, its planning must be precise, its actions must be forthright. I challenge the university leaders to focus on execution, accountability and delivery in all that they do.

"We all know that education is the key that opens the door to success. It has the power to lift a family out of poverty and despair. It has the power to turn dreams into reality. And it has the potential to do so much more for our own children. But before education can transform them, we must transform our school system.

"Waipahu High School is a wonderful example of a high performance school with strong leadership from the principal who seeks to empower students, teachers and the community, high expectations for students, and hard-working teachers and staff committed to innovative and creative academies to help students learn.

"Together, they've generated amazing results, including increasing reading and math performances, graduation rates, the number of students going to college, and satisfaction levels of all stakeholders.

"With us today representing Waipahu High School is Principal Keith Hayashi. I would like Keith to stand to be recognized.

"We have many excellent, high performing schools in our communities. The question is, how do we unleash them? I know that the best way to improve student learning is to empower schools and give those closest to our children the authority and resources to take action.

"As Governor, I will appoint members to the Board of Education who embrace school empowerment of our principals and teachers as the key to ensure student success. I challenge the leaders of public education to stop issuing mandates from the state office and to focus on empowering schools and delivering resources and support to the school level.

"In the current budget, we are requesting an increase for the Department of Education's Weighted Student Formula. This will allow principals to decide how to spend this portion of the DOE's budget and how to best meet the needs of their students. Most importantly, it will give our children greater educational opportunities.

"My mom grew up in Kahuku. At that time, schools there only went to the eighth grade. And so her parents knew that if she was to have any kind of future, she had to go away for high school. Somehow they scraped up enough money to send her to Denver, Colorado to continue her schooling. After graduation she went on to become a nurse.

"Eventually, she came back home to work and, with my father, raised six children, including a future grateful governor.

"The point is, my grandparents understood the value of education and were willing to sacrifice for it. So did my parents. When we became parents ourselves, my wife and I did the same for our children. They are presently away at school pursuing their own hopes and dreams. But I know they want to come home after college.

"The story is the same for so many families in Hawaii. It's repeated over and over again, generation after generation.

"I know what it's like to scrimp and save to buy a home and pay for tuition. I know what it's like to struggle to make ends meet. The sacrifices are the same, because the dreams are the same. To build a better life, and build it, not anywhere else, but here in the islands, because this is my home.

"And so, again, I ask all of you to remember why we're here and what we have to do. Ko ka kou home. This is our home.

"Let that be your focus. Let that direct your actions and drive your determination. Let the end, not justify the means, but allow us to work through them. If we do that, I think we will find ourselves in agreement more often than not.

"And so I thank you, each and every one of you, for the sacrifices that you will make during this session and throughout the year.

"And I look forward to working with all of you and collaborating with all of you. Mahalo and aloha."

President Kim then rose and stated:

"Thank you, Governor Ige, for your inspiring remarks. On behalf of the Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, your former colleagues, we look forward to working collaboratively with you to make Hawaii a better place. These are uncertain times, but we are confident that you, Lieutenant Governor Tsutsui, and your cabinet, together with the Legislative Houses, that we can and will provide the leadership and craft the solutions that challenges and faces our people. It is in this spirit of hope and cooperation that we stand ready to work with you, Governor.

"There being no further business, I declare this Joint Session adjourned."

At 10:53 o'clock a.m., President Kim declared the Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Twenty-Eighth Legislature, Regular Session of 2015, adjourned.

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:00 o'clock midnight, the House of Representatives adjourned until 9:30 o'clock a.m., Wednesday, January 28, 2015.

FIFTH DAY

RECESS

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, we will stand in recess for the purpose of convening a Joint Session with the Senate in the Senate Chambers, and the Judiciary Address will be at 10:00 a.m. Will the Members please wait and assemble in the Caucus Room so we can all proceed at the same time. Probably around, in fact you can begin to stand there now, don't go back to your rooms, and we can just assemble and be leaving very shortly for the Senate. Any questions? If not, we'll stand in recess."

At 9:43 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess and the House of Representatives stood in recess, subject to the call of the Chair, and in accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, met in Joint Session with the Senate, to receive the Chief Justice's State of the Judiciary Address in the Senate Chambers.

JOINT SESSION

Recktenwald to the rostrum where he was presented with lei by Senator Maile Shimabukuro and Representative Sylvia Luke.

The President then presented to the Members of the Twenty-Eighth Legislature and the audience, the Chief Justice of the Hawaii Supreme Court, the Honorable Mark E. Recktenwald.

The Chief Justice then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"President Kim, Speaker Souki, Governor and Mrs. Ige, Lieutenant Governor Tsutsui, Members of the House and Senate, Governor Ariyoshi, Governor and Mrs. Waihee, Governor and Mrs. Cayetano, Chief Justice Moon, fellow justices, judges and judiciary staff, members of the Consular Corps, members of the Royal Order of Kamehameha, distinguished guests and friends, good morning and aloha.

"On behalf of the Hawaii State Judiciary, I thank the Legislature for giving me this opportunity to report to you and to the people of Hawaii. We enjoy a strong working relationship with the Senate and House, and we appreciate your support for the administration of justice. I would like to send a special aloha to Representative Mele Carroll, who is unable to join us today, and we all wish her the best.

"I also want to extend our appreciation to our many partners in the executive branch. Governor Ige knows our operations well from his decades of service at the Legislature, and we share his commitment to making government more efficient. We are excited to work with him, Lieutenant Governor Tsutsui, and their outstanding new team in the years ahead.

"The mission of the Judiciary is to deliver justice for all. We do that in many different ways, both in the courtroom and in the community. We ensure that people are treated fairly, whatever their background. We uphold the rights and protections of the Constitution, even when doing so may be unpopular. We provide a place where people can peacefully resolve their disputes, as well as opportunities for them to move forward from the circumstances that brought them before the courts. And we are often called upon to help address deep-rooted social problems, from substance abuse to domestic violence.

"There is nothing more fundamental to our democratic system of government than our citizens' trust in our courts. As Chief Justice, I see the power of that trust every day, and I'll share two examples with you. Just over two years ago, thousands of people gathered in the courtyard just outside this Chamber to bid aloha to the late Senator Daniel K. Inouye. Several months later, Mrs. Irene Inouye visited my office, and presented the Judiciary with a very precious gift. The Senator's original 1953 law license, which is now on display at the Judiciary History Center.

"Like many of his fellow soldiers in the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, the 100th Infantry Battalion and the Military Intelligence Service, the Senator returned from war with a passionate commitment to building a more equal and just society. Many of those soldiers chose a career in the law as a path to that end. Of course, the great irony is that the very legal system that they chose to join as officers of the court had just failed them, by sanctioning the internment of Japanese-Americans. But rather than despair or disengage, they chose to commit themselves to making the legal system live up to its promise of fair treatment and equal justice.

"Now Senator Inouye received his Hawaii law license on July 24, 1953. There was another person admitted to the Hawaii Bar that same day who used her law license to fight unequal and unfair treatment in our society. Representative Patsy Takemoto Mink. She recently received our nation's highest civilian honor, the Presidential Medal of Freedom. She too had been subjected to discrimination, both because of her race and because of her gender. And she, too, chose to put her faith in the system rather than turn her back to it.

"The passion for equality and justice that inspired Senator Inouye and Representative Mink is shared by everyone at the Judiciary, and I'd like to thank them for their dedication and service. This passion is also shared by the many people throughout our community who help us achieve our mission every day. In 2014, more than 1,300 people volunteered their time at the Judiciary. That's an extraordinary outpouring of support. Many others assist us by serving on our commissions, or through organizations such as the American Judicature Society. Quite simply, we cannot do what we do without them.

"Today, I will highlight four of our most significant efforts to provide justice for all in our community. I will discuss our initiatives to ensure that people's voices are heard in our courtrooms even if they cannot afford a lawyer, how we are working to find more cost-effective ways to keep our community safe, how we are protecting our children and families when they are in crisis, and our plans to meet the challenges of the future.

"I will begin with access to justice. Our judicial system exists to provide equal justice for all, but that ideal is compromised if people can't meaningfully participate. When that happens, some of the most serious legal problems that a person can face – whether they can stay in their homes or face eviction, whether they can see their children after a divorce, or whether they can be protected from domestic violence – are decided without their voices being fully heard. That's an outcome that we simply cannot accept.

"In Hawaii, there are thousands of people who must represent themselves in civil cases in our courts each year because they cannot afford an attorney. Here on Oahu, we had almost 4,000 divorce cases filed in 2014. In nearly 65% of them, neither party had an attorney. Of the landlord-tenant claims filed in 2014 throughout the State, at least one of the parties did not have an attorney in 96% of the cases.

"A key milestone in our efforts to address these challenges has been the establishment of the Access to Justice Commission. The Commission has achieved amazing results with extremely limited resources. The Commission's web of support and stakeholders continues to grow and build momentum as more people have come to understand the need, and how they can help meet it.

"One great example of the Commission's work is the opening of self-help centers in our courthouses. Volunteer attorneys provide information at the centers to individuals who are representing themselves in civil legal cases. For a lay person, civil litigation can be daunting, with requirements that are not always intuitive. The information that people receive at the centers enables them to more effectively tell their side of the story. We opened the first such center on Kauai in 2011, and now have six centers operating, in every circuit of the State. More than 7,600 people have been assisted, at almost no cost to the public.

"We're also using technology to reach people who might not be able to visit these brick and mortar centers. The Judiciary partnered with the Legal Aid Society to develop interactive software that asks the user plain-language questions about their case, and then utilizes the responses to prepare the most commonly-used legal forms. The software is now available at workstations in six courthouses, and on our website.

"We are also extending our outreach into the community. In particular, to the public libraries where so many of our citizens go when they need information. The software is now available in 50 libraries statewide, on almost 1,000 computers. We are very excited about this new partnership, and we are already seeing a significant spike in the usage of the software. In just a few months, more than 2,500 people have used it.

"With the help of the Legislature, we have also made great strides in addressing other challenges, from increasing support for our legal services providers whose attorneys and volunteers help thousands of people each year, to meeting the needs of court users who do not speak English as their first language. We now offer interpretation services to all court users, at no cost, in every type of case.

"What we're doing is important, and it's being noticed across the country. The National Center for Access to Justice recently completed an independent study of each state justice system across the country. Hawaii was ranked among the top five for expanding access to justice. We were ranked number one for providing services to litigants who represent themselves, and tied for first in providing support for people with disabilities. These are results that we can all be proud of.

"I extend my heartfelt appreciation to everyone who has worked towards the mission of providing justice for all in Hawaii. We have with us here today many people and organizations who have been instrumental in that effort, including members of the Access to Justice Commission, led by Chair Judge Daniel Foley and his predecessor Justice Simeon Acoba, the Hawaii State Bar Association and the county bar associations, the William S. Richardson School of Law, the Legal Aid Society of Hawaii and other legal services providers, and the Hawaii State Public Library. We also have many individual attorneys who generously volunteer their time at our self-help centers and elsewhere in our community. There is much work left to be done, but we've come a long way thanks to all of these individuals and organizations. Can you please join me in acknowledging them?

"The second issue that I'd like to discuss is enhancing public safety by making our criminal justice system work more effectively. This is another area where Hawaii has been leading nationally, through programs such as HOPE probation, which was founded by Judge Steven Alm. HOPE is based on a simple premise. When defendants who are on probation violate the rules that the court sets for them, they must face swift and certain consequences. The results have been dramatic. After 10 years of experience with HOPE, research has shown that individuals who participated are 20% less likely to be arrested for new crimes. This is a huge impact, in terms of life rebuilt for the participants, suffering avoided by the potential victims of crime, and money saved by the taxpayers.

"We are looking for new ways to apply the principles developed in HOPE. A pilot project is underway to apply the same HOPE strategies to defendants who have been charged with crimes and released on conditions prior to their trials. By having defendants confront their drug use or other challenges earlier in the process, we can increase their chances of success and protect the community.

"As important as it is to have the structure that a program like HOPE provides, we cannot lose sight of the fact that each defendant is an individual. To help them move in a new direction, we have to be able to reach out to them as individuals. Nowhere is this more evident than in our Veterans Treatment Court. The court is designed to meet the challenges faced by those who have defended our freedoms, but have had difficulty readjusting to civilian life and then find themselves in the criminal justice system. The court was started on Oahu two years ago by Judge Edward Kubo, and has recently expanded to the Big Island, thanks to the leadership of Judges Ronald Ibarra and Greg Nakamura. A key element of the court is mentoring by fellow veterans, who can help lead them through this one additional battle.

"With us today is retired U.S. Navy Petty Officer Dastin Hernandez and his wife Lauren. He has volunteered with the program since it started, and is currently mentoring two veterans. The team of volunteer mentors work with the veterans on a daily basis to listen, provide guidance and support them, from driving them to their next appointment to getting them housing or the VA benefits that they've earned. Petty Officer Hernandez says he volunteers because he was taught in the military to never leave anyone behind. Petty Officer Hernandez, would you please stand, so that we can thank you for your service to this country and your continued service to your fellow veterans.

"Programs such as Veterans Treatment Court and HOPE are important initiatives. But we also need to take a step back and take a critical look at the system as a whole. We must ask one fundamental question. Are we as safe as we can be, given the limited resources at our disposal, or can we do better?

"Here in Hawaii, the executive, legislative and judicial branches came together to form the Justice Reinvestment Initiative to consider this important question. Governor Abercrombie's Administration strongly supported that effort, and the Legislature passed a comprehensive package of reforms in 2012. Those reforms put more resources into drug treatment and other rehabilitation programs, gave judges more discretion in sentencing, and required prisoners to pay increased restitution to their victims. We are working with the executive branch to implement these reforms, and will continue to look for other ways to make our community as safe as possible.

"We also recently partnered with the legislative and executive branches to take a hard look at the results we have achieved in the juvenile justice system. This is another area where Hawaii has been innovating, by developing alternatives to detention for our young people who violate the law. Reform legislation was passed last session that enables us to continue those efforts by investing more resources in rehabilitation and prevention.

"Another example of innovation is the Girls Court program. Girls Court was started here on Oahu by Judge Karen Radius, and will be expanding to Kauai next month, thanks to the leadership of Judges Trudy Senda and Randal Valenciano. The purpose of Girls Court is to reach young women who are at a crossroads in their lives, to help them break the cycle of destructive behavior. I attended a Girls Court graduation ceremony and learned of one young woman's remarkable turnaround. She was bright and full of potential, but had run away from home repeatedly and gotten involved with drugs. After months of intensive rehabilitation, mentoring from strong female role models and family counseling, she got her GED, a full-time job, and stopped violating the law. Her mother wept that day in Girls Court. She said she thought her daughter was going to die on the streets, and thanked the court for bringing her back.

"Juvenile justice is part of our Family Court, which is the third area I'd like to focus on today. Family Court has a profound impact on our community. In the last year, our family courts handled more than 10,000 divorce cases, more than 2,000 cases involving alleged abuse or neglect of children, more than 7,500 cases involving juvenile offenders, and almost 6,000 cases involving domestic violence.

"Those are staggering numbers, but they only tell part of the story. For example, we literally have children who come to the court's attention at birth, because their mothers were abusing drugs or alcohol while they were pregnant. Our Zero to Three Court, as the name suggests, is designed to meet the unique needs of infants and toddlers whose parents are suspected of abuse or neglect. Research has shown that time is of the essence in these cases because the children are developing so quickly. Our Zero to Three Court was established several years ago with funding from grants, but those funds are coming to an end, and we will be respectfully asking the Legislature to consider funding it on a permanent basis.

"At the other end of the spectrum, we are also focusing on the needs of kids who are 'aging-out' of foster care at age 18 without ever having received a permanent placement with a new family. We have established a permanency court in the First Circuit to provide special assistance to these children, and are also participating in the Imua Kakou program, which was developed in collaboration with the Department of Human Services, with the support of the Legislature. The program makes extended foster care services available to many former foster youth beyond their 18th birthday.

"Another area where Family Court can make a huge difference is when families go through the trauma of divorce. Our family courts seek to minimize the impact in many ways. Our Kids First program provides group support and counseling to kids who are going through divorce, and in 2014 alone, reached more than 6,000 people.

"In sum, we are continuing to find meaningful ways to take care of Hawaii's children and families when they are at their most vulnerable. We have many partners who help us in that effort. We thank those agencies who we work with on issues such as preventing domestic violence and child abuse, as well as the Legislature, which has provided additional funding for those vital programs.

"Finally, I'd like to focus on the challenges of the future and how we can evolve to meet them, while remaining true to the values that make Hawaii unique.

"In partnership with the Hawaii State Bar Association, we have been working to find ways to make litigation more efficient. Over the past three years, the HSBA has sponsored bench-bar conferences that brought hundreds of lawyers from across the State to meet with our chief judges and court administrators. These conferences have led to some significant innovations, such as making it easier for attorneys to appear by telephone or videoconference in lieu of traveling to court.

"We're also encouraging litigants to use mediation, so they can resolve their conflicts on their own terms, at less cost. In the past year, over 7,500 individuals utilized our mediation services, and in one survey, more than 90% said they would recommend mediation to others. One great benefit of mediation is speed. From the time the parties agreed to mediate, it was an average of only 10 days before they were sitting down to resolve their dispute. We have new mediation programs underway, including a divorce mediation program on Kauai and a paternity mediation pilot project on Oahu. We are also seeking to augment our appellate mediation program.

"In addition, we are implementing our strategic plan, which provides us with a roadmap for the next five years. The plan's objectives range from improving our services through the use of technology, to increasing staff training and improving our infrastructure.

"And we are establishing the new Environmental Court. This will be only the second statewide environmental court in the United States. It's a complex undertaking since it involves both civil and criminal cases, in both our circuit and district courts. My colleague Justice Michael Wilson has been working with the community and other government agencies to ensure that this undertaking is truly collaborative, and we will have the court up and running as scheduled on July 1st.

"Improving infrastructure is a key component to building for the future. Currently in West Hawaii, court proceedings are being held in three different locations, in buildings that were not designed as courthouses, which in turn has led to severe security, logistical and operational problems.

"To address these concerns, we have proposed building a centralized courthouse in Kona. We thank the Legislature for committing $35 million thus far for construction. This session, we will be respectfully seeking the remaining $55 million needed to build that courthouse. We believe the time has come to provide the residents of West Hawaii with a safe and secure courthouse that can meet the needs of this growing community.

"Lastly, we have been investing in our future generations through civics education. We launched the Courts in the Community outreach program in 2012, which gives high school students the opportunity to go beyond textbooks, and experience an actual Supreme Court oral argument in person. Volunteer attorneys help to teach the students about the judicial system and the case, and conduct a practice oral argument with the students acting as justices and counsel. By the time the Supreme Court arrives on campus, the students know the facts and the law, and they are engaged listeners. And after the argument, they have the opportunity to participate in question and answer sessions, first with the attorneys, and then with members of the court.

"These exchanges are exciting, both for the court and for the students. When we visited Baldwin High School on Maui, my colleague Justice Sabrina McKenna passionately spoke to the students about how Representative Mink, who was born and raised on Maui, had opened doors for her and countless other women through the passage of Title IX, and the students broke into cheers.

"We have many partners who assist us with this program. The attorneys from the Hawaii State Bar Association and county bar associations who visit the classrooms, the Hawaii State Bar Foundation, which provides lunch and buses for the students, and law students at the William S. Richardson School of Law, who work with our Judiciary History Center to develop the curriculum.

"In total, nearly 1,500 students from 28 schools have participated in this unique opportunity to see the Hawaii Supreme Court in action, and we are looking forward to holding two oral arguments each school year going forward. To date, we have convened the court at Farrington and Mililani high schools on Oahu, at Baldwin on Maui, and at UH-Hilo and Kealakehe on the Big Island, and we are headed to Kauai this year. We have with us today from Waiakea High School, which hosted us in Hilo, Ms. Donna Tanabe and Student Body President Katelyn Shirai. And from Mililani High School, our most recent host, Principal Fred Murphy, Lt. Col. Timothy Schiller, Dr. Amy Perruso, and students from two of Dr. Perruso's classes. If these outstanding students, teachers and administrators would please stand, I'd like us all to thank them for their commitment to real life education. They're down here and up in the audience as well.

"We have received enthusiastic comments from the students who attend these arguments, many of whom have suggested that they would consider careers as attorneys as a result. Some have noted that the same questions that they raised during their practice oral arguments were asked by the justices during the actual argument. Others have observed how rigorous and fair the process is, and one expressed surprise to me that the justices asked tough questions to the government attorney in a criminal case.

"To me, that last comment sums up the rule of law better than any textbook could. It doesn't matter who you are, or whom you represent. When you come before the courts of this state, you will get a fair shake. And that is the foundation of everything we do at the Judiciary.

"I'd like to thank the more than 1,800 justices, judges and judiciary staff who put their hearts and souls into making equal justice for all a reality each and every day, as well as to all of our volunteers and partners in the community and the other branches of government who assist us in that undertaking. And once again, I extend my deep appreciation to the Senate and the House for giving me this opportunity today. Aloha and mahalo."

Speaker Souki then rose and stated:

"First, I want to thank you all. Thank you all for being here, and I want to thank Chief Justice Recktenwald for making this very fine speech. Thank you for sharing your thoughts and your vision with us today. The Judiciary along with the Executive and the Legislature serves all of the people of the State of Hawaii. The Judiciary under your leadership has upheld justice and protected the rights of individuals while still showing compassion and providing opportunity for people to repay their debt to society and turn their lives around. I thank you and I thank the justices and women of the Judiciary for all the good work that you do. And I'm sure that you will all give us a fair shake, a good shake. Thank you very much, and this concludes the end. Thank you, aloha."

At 10:38 o'clock a.m., Speaker Souki declared the Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Twenty-Eighth Legislature, Regular Session of 2015, adjourned.

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:00 o'clock midnight, the House of Representatives adjourned until 12:00 o'clock noon tomorrow, Thursday, January 29, 2015.

SIXTH DAY

Thursday, January 29, 2015

The House of Representatives of the Twenty-Eighth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2015, convened at 12:10 o'clock p.m., with Vice Speaker Mizuno presiding.

The invocation was delivered by Bishop Soara I. Tupua, Jr., Senior Pastor of the Holy Hill of Zion Thy Dwelling Place, and his son Kekoa Tupua, after which the Roll was called showing all Members present with the exception of Representatives Carroll and Pouha, who were excused.

By unanimous consent, reading and approval of the Journal of the House of Representatives of the Fifth Day was deferred.

ORDER OF THE DAY

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS (FLOOR PRESENTATIONS)

The following resolution (H.R. No. 9) was announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.R. No. 9, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION RECOGNIZING SUZANNE MARINELLI ON THE OCCASION OF HER RETIREMENT FROM THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU'S PUBLIC ACCESS ROOM," was offered by Representative Say.

Representative Say moved that H.R. No. 9 be adopted, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Say recognized Ms. Suzanne Marinelli for her work making the Public Access Room the most successful access room for the general public throughout the country, and thanked her for her work for the residents of Hawaii, guiding the public through the legislative process.

Representative Evans thanked Suzanne, the "plant lady," for making the public access room warm and welcoming for everyone.

Representative Oshiro acknowledged the accomplishments of the Public Access Room and Suzanne, reminisced of how she was one of the first friendly faces he met when he first came to the State Capitol as a newly elected legislator, thanked her for her work and her passion, and wished her the best in her new adventures.

KA HUA ʻŌLELO O KA LĀ
HAWAIIAN WORD FOR THE DAY

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Before going into the Hawaiian Word for the Day, Members, I just want to remind you that in 2013 we passed Senate Bill 409, Senate Draft 1, which was signed into law as Act 28, designating February as ʻŌlelo Hawaii Month. To participate in this opportunity to promote and support Hawaiian language awareness, the House will be having a Hawaiian Word for the Day for the entire month of February."

Representative Ing presented Ka Hua ʻŌlelo o Ka Lā, the Hawaiian Word for the Day, as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. ʻO Pepeluali ʻo kēia mahina, ka mahina ʻŌlelo Hawaiʻi. ʻO ka onipaʻa ka hua ʻōlelo o kēia lā. It's been a tradition for the House of Representatives to have a Hawaiian Word for the Day, so I'm honored to continue on this tradition as the Chair of Hawaiian Affairs. This month we're going to try to open it up to the rest of the Members, if they have a word or they would like to lead one of the days, then we'll be happy to introduce you and allow you to do so.

"Today's Hawaiian Word for the Day is onipaʻa. Onipaʻa means fixed, immovable, motionless, steadfast, firm, resolute and determined. This was the motto of Kamehameha V and our Queen Liliuokalani, and it was exemplified day by day by our Representative from East Maui, Representative Carroll. Mele was active with the Royal Order of Kamehameha, which was founded by Kamehameha V. Every vote she made, she always thought about her community, and her conscience would stand firm, so I think this word is very proper.

"ʻOi ʻoi o Maui Hikina. East Maui forges ahead. Those of East Maui are said to be very active and able to withstand anything, and I think that's the legacy that will be left in the absence of Representative Carroll. Mahalo."

January 20, 2015

Members of the House of Representatives
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

Dear Members of the House of Representatives:

I want to thank you for the opportunity of working with most of you over the years. It has been a rewarding experience and I have thoroughly enjoyed this journey of working as a public servant for House District 13 and in the last few years as Chair of Human Services Committee.

As many of you may know, I was diagnosed with breast cancer over five years ago and was in remission. Unfortunately, due to complications from the treatments that was used to battle this disease it has compromised my health. As a result, with a heavy heart, I feel it is in the best interest of my constituents, the people of Hawaii, and most importantly my family to resign from my position on February 1, 2015 as Representative for House District 13.

With this time allotted to me I plan to spend quality time with my husband and enjoy our two year old daughter in discovering new things and exploring the world together through her eyes, spending time with family and dear friends, and most importantly healing.

Thank you once again and I want to wish you all a very successful legislative session.

Me ka weiku o ko'u puuwai,

EIGHTH DAY

Tuesday, February 3, 2015

The House of Representatives of the Twenty-Eighth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2015, convened at 12:05 o'clock p.m., with Vice Speaker Mizuno presiding.

The invocation was delivered by Ms. Karina Yudharto of Representative Richard P. Creagan's Office, after which the Roll was called showing all Members present.

By unanimous consent, reading and approval of the Journal of the House of Representatives of the Seventh Day was deferred.

DEPARTMENTAL COMMUNICATIONS

The following departmental communications (Dept. Com. Nos. 59 and 60) were received by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Dept. Com. No. 59, from the University of Hawaii, dated January 30, 2015, transmitting the Annual Report on University of Hawaii Non-General Funds for FYE 2014, pursuant to Section 304A-106, Section 304A-2007, and Section 304A-2273, HRS, and Act 134, Section 129, SLH 2013.

Dept. Com. No. 60, from the Office of the Auditor, dated January 30, 2015, transmitting the Financial Statement Audit Reports for FY 2014 for: Department of Transportation, Administration Division; Department of Transportation, Harbors Division; and Hawaii Tourism Authority; and a revised super summary for the Hawaii Community Development Authority.

HAWAIIAN WORD FOR THE DAY

Representative Keohokalole presented Ka Hua ʻŌlelo o Ka Lā, the Hawaiian Word for the Day, as follows:

"Aloha, Members. Today's Hawaiian Word for the Day is eō, which is pronounced E-O with a stress or a kahakō over the 'o'. So it sounds eō instead of eo. There's a difference, the other one means to lose. This means, to answer a call by name.

"So for example, during the roll when a name is called, to answer eō basically just means to say, yes, I am here, and it's used specifically when someone is calling you by name.

"If you use it in a sentence, it goes like this. Ua eō akua e kuʻu makua. I call to my parent. So that's today's Hawaiian Word for the Day, eō. Mahalo."

INTRODUCTIONS

The following introductions were made to the Members of the House:

Representative Tupola introduced her intern, Daniel Ulu, a student from UH West Oahu.

Representative Pouha introduced Ms. Grace Liava'a, a community member involved with the UH Social Work program.

FROM: SPEAKER JOSEPH M. SOUKI

RE: ESTABLISHMENT OF A SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATION NO. 1003

The purpose of this memorandum is to establish a Special Committee to Consider Miscellaneous Communication No. 1003 pursuant to House Rule 14 of the Rules of the House of Representatives, State of Hawaii, 28th State Legislature, 2015-2016.

The establishment of this Special Committee is in response to a petition ("Petition") from Lance D. Collins dated January 16, 2015, on behalf of six voters from the 20th Representative District, Ramona Hussey, M. Ka'imila Nicholson, Natalia Antonia Hussey-Burdick, Brent S. Dupuis, Marvin D. Heskett, and Joel L. Merchant (the "Voters"). The Petition challenged Speaker Emeritus Calvin K.Y. Say's qualifications to serve as representative of the 20th Representative District and requested the renewal of the Voters' original requests on February 22, 2013, and October 6, 2014, to have the House investigate the qualifications of Speaker Emeritus Say to hold office as the representative of the 20th Representative District.

House Rule 14 gives the Speaker authority to appoint special committees for special or temporary purposes to consider and report on special or temporary matters referred to it and states:

Rule 14. Special Committee

14.1. The Speaker may appoint special committees for special or temporary purposes to consider and report on such special or temporary matters referred to it.

14.2. Special committees shall consist of not less than three members each, unless otherwise ordered by the House, to serve until discharged or until finally reporting on such matters referred to them.

14.3. Meetings of special committees shall be conducted in the same manner as provided for standing committees.

14.4. Special committees shall report upon matters referred to them within the time prescribed under the appointment of the special committees, unless further time is given by vote of the House.

As Speaker of the House and pursuant to House Rule 14, I hereby appoint the following members to the Special Committee:

Representative Karl Rhoads, Chair
Representative John M. Mizuno
Representative Scott K. Saiki
Representative Cindy Evans
Representative Ken Ito
Representative Beth Fukumoto Chang

In carrying out its duties, the House and the Special Committee shall follow these procedures to address challenges relating to a member's qualifications unless the House otherwise determines:

Rule 1. All challenges to the qualifications of a person elected as a member of the House of Representatives shall be filed with the Chief Clerk. Any registered voter who lives in the member's district may file a challenge.

Rule 2. When a challenge is filed, the Chief Clerk shall report it to the Speaker who shall then, provided the challenge sets forth facts sufficient to warrant review and concerns the member's current term, appoint a special committee to consider the challenge, and refer it to the special committee.

Rule 3. The challenged member may continue to exercise the member's legislative functions while a challenge is pending, provided the Office of Elections has issued a certificate of election for the member.

Rule 4. The special committee shall convene as soon as practicable after a challenge has been referred to it and, after notifying the member whose qualifications are being challenged, shall investigate the challenge without delay. The special committee shall review relevant written documentation submitted by the petitioner and the challenged member. At the discretion of the chair of the special committee, the special committee may conduct hearings where the petitioner and the challenged member, or their respective attorneys, shall each be provided an opportunity to make a brief statement and answer questions from the special committee. Any hearings shall be open to the public, for which notice of at least forty-eight hours shall be provided.

Rule 5. Only compelling evidence shall be sufficient for the House to consider finding that the member does not have the requisite qualifications to serve.

Rule 6. Upon conclusion of its investigation, the special committee shall submit a report of its findings and recommendations to the House, at which time the House shall affirm or reject the report or take such other action as it determines.

If you have any questions, please call Denise Liu at 586-6100.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations on this matter. While I support the intent of the measure, I believe it's certainly an unfunded mandate that will cost businesses money and add a burden onto these contractors who do business with the government, and thereby increase the cost of these contracts. One item alone is not going to tip the scale, but it's the myriad of these things we do year after year and the balances of reports, at some point it becomes untenable.

"The second issue was, I would have an issue with the privacy concerns of putting all my employee's wages and what I'm paying them into another government agency. We already do that with reporting their income tax, well now here's another government agency that's going to have access to what my employees are being paid.

"I haven't read the bill yet, but is there any measures in there that require the company to set up certain procedures so that data cannot be shared with other employees? For instance, if I'm a bricklayer and Bill's a bricklayer, but I'm making $3 more an hour than Bill, by the way, my name's Frank, and Bill finds out that Frank's making $3 an hour more, you're going to have morale problems in that organization.

"So for those reasons, I have reservations. That said, I certainly support the intent, and being in the private sector I don't know anybody who doesn't pay for talent. At least that's the universe I travel in. Perhaps there are some disreputable people out there, but good people get found and snatched up and get paid top dollar. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 536, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative McDermott voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Ing, LoPresti, San Buenaventura and Tokioka being excused.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with a brief caveat. Mr. Speaker, this is a good bill, we show how frugal we are compared to the Senate, et cetera, except it shows where we're really frugal in terms of transparency and openness for the public to see what we do. I'm specifically pointing to the line item where we have a contractor to show the public what we're doing, what we're saying, and we're still rather picayune about our broadcasting funds.

"The vision of some of us is to have a C-SPAN, where everything we say in every committee is broadcast, whether you want it or not, it's there. Now it's only select committees like 'the Right to Farm' was in the Agriculture Committee today. It was a very important one to film, but some of these other things that people find out surprisingly late, if we had more coverage and more money to cover them, they could get more man power, they could get more equipment. So the vision lives, but the budget does not allow for that. So C-SPAN is the ideal, this gives us still a rather select hearing with the public. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1465, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS TO PROVIDE FOR THE EXPENSES OF THE LEGISLATURE, THE AUDITOR, THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU, THE OMBUDSMAN, AND THE ETHICS COMMISSION," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Ing, LoPresti, San Buenaventura and Tokioka being excused.

Representative Rhoads rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in an abundance of caution, I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. My wife works for the Governor," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support but I would like to clarify my understanding of what the bill provides. This is in relation to public schools and public school lands. The bill is clarifying that this must be to benefit educational purposes. And then I look at page 3 of the bill, subsection 4, and it states that the Department of Education can enter into a lease-back agreement that will allow the department to lease to a third party.

"I look at that like the Forest City model, where Forest City developed housing for the military. And then the provision goes on that then the department can lease back the property, say from the Forest City operation, and then the military in that case owns the property at the end of a set term.

"That to me seems like a good model that we would have, where the department could work with a third party, develop new schools, lease them back, and at the end of a period of time own them. But my colleague has a question that she wants to ask, and if I could defer to her, please."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My colleague brings up a good point. I did vote aye on this bill. I did think that it was a good bill. I'm rising in support with a possible amendment. I believe that in the clause that states that for the third-party, on page 3, House Bill Number 230, Section 4, where it says, 'to lease or sublease the property to a third party,' line 21, to add, 'for educational purposes.'

"There's just a little ambiguity that could lead to non-educational issues, and the intent of this bill is to secure the lands for educational purposes. So it would help to secure that, the third party would stay in line with the intent of the bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the bill with a comment, followed by a request for the previous two speaker's comments to be entered into the Journal as if my own with one added footnote. This has a slight smell of the PLDC and I think it needs to be cleared up. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the bill today, as I did yesterday, except yesterday my caveat was interpreted 'with reservations,' so I would ask that that reservation be taken away, because I didn't speak with reservations, only a caveat. What I said was, we haven't reached C-SPAN status, open, transparent, and all of our hearings are televised and given to the public. That was my caveat, which is kind of like a yellow highlighter, says, hey look at this. It doesn't say 'with reservations' about the accuracy of it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Chair, with reservations and a brief comment. As one of the co-chairs of the Small Business Caucus, I don't like to vote against anything that's for the small business. Except the procedure in this one I am drawing an exception with, and that is because we have not, as a government, been the best at running a business, particularly running a bank, particularly running a loan program, particularly borrowing money and then actually getting it back.

"And this, instead of following the example that works in the US Small Business Administration i.e. loan guarantees, this is where we've got to hire a $100,000 loan officer, put him in DBEDT, and crank out maybe a handful of loans on a small, I think it's $1 or $2 million that they have as the amount of money.

"So, Mr. Speaker, for those reasons, we don't have a track record in doing this, and you don't hire somebody who doesn't have experience. These are the reasons why I think this is a very high risk, low gain proposition, therefore with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong support on the other side of what I just spoke of. Mr. Speaker, may I make a brief comment?

"The Small Business Regulatory Review Board has been basically neglected for a number of years. This kind of gives it a bit of a, you're not a second class citizen, you are important.

"Mr. Speaker, why I am standing to speak on this is because in the last hour, we had in our committee the issue of having a small business set aside. And I relate that to where for years it's been on the books, 20% that would be set aside for small businesses. But because of the impetus or the impotence, if you will, of this Small Business Regulatory Review Board to push that, we haven't been able to do it. And I think because of that, we need this to get them up to speed to put small business on par with any of the other agencies that are there to promote and develop jobs.

"So this is an important bill, and for those reasons I'm in strong support."

"It's very detrimental to the teaching and learning when temperature in classrooms exceeds 90, sometimes 95 degrees. It's been strongly expressed by many principals, teachers, parents and students in my district that we would like to make air conditioning a priority. This bill helps prioritize comprehensive retrofitting, classroom cooling demonstration projects, and help gives general obligation bonds to fund this. So I urge my colleagues to stand in strong support as well. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to commend the Chair for adding the amendments so that DLIR is deputizing the volunteers instead of the Contractor's Licensing Board. I'm happy that that happened. Also that it's put into the correct portion of the HRS. So I stand in strong support. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations please, and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, because of the downturn, obviously we are short of personnel and there's obviously not enough inspectors. But if we have them for the contract labor and other disputes, why not for invasive species? The red ants, rhino beetles, rats in different restaurants, et cetera. Not that these become vigilante committees, but I think if we're going to have people do government business, they should be paid government money. This kind of steps outside of that, which is kind of cool, but if we're going to do it, let's do it across the board, particularly those that are very, very important in addition to just finding unlicensed contractors. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Chair. Standing in strong support. In this age of technology, there are growing concerns about employers requiring access to social media accounts of employees and potential employees. This bill will prohibit employers from requiring or requesting employees and potential employees to grant access to personal accounts, usernames and passwords.

"By prohibiting this, such employment practices, we're protecting employee's privacy and free speech. That's a reasonable legislation, it creates no burden on businesses or employers, just establishes a clear line that protects people, so I urge my colleagues to support. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I think that this is a good bill with good intent. I'm also concerned that there is not just the requesting or requiring, but also just the acquisition of information via technology, just from logging into computers. That might be more geared towards what the intent of the bill seems to do, which is prevent employers from accessing it, which also happens even when you don't request it, it just automatically logs into computers. So something to consider. Thank you."

"A no vote on 51, Mr. Speaker. I think this is a law that's going to be unenforceable. If you look at Sand Island State Park, you have to drive probably a mile to get in there, and to think that a family that is picnicking there, if the husband or wife wants to have a cigarette they're going to get up and drive outside the park premises, it's foolish. They won't. They won't follow the law, and I don't think anyone is going to call the police on them to enforce the law, and I think the police have much more important things to do. So for that reason, I vote no."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Note my reservations, please, Mr. Speaker. I did speak with the Department of Health, and there were laws enforced on the outer islands at the county level to ban smoking, and what I asked them for was their statistics. If they could show me since the law's been passed, how has it changed, how has it been enforced so that we can make a better decision on this law, which will affect all state parks though. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Chair. I feel compelled to speak. Two weekends ago, I participated in a beach cleanup at Oneula Beach Park with my 5-year-old daughter. In one hour's time, my 5-year-old picked over 150 cigarette butts. Everywhere we go now, she's picking up garbage, which is both a blessing and a curse.

"But I encourage people to support this, because one of the number one pollution items is cigarette butts, and this is one of the only ways to tackle this. In support. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Mr. Speaker, as I read the bill here, you cannot smoke, according to the definition here, inhaling or exhaling, burning or carrying a lit cigarette, cigar or pipe. What if you have medical marijuana or marijuana? It's vague and it leaves a bit of a puka.

"I know that it's been asked before, is smoking marijuana 'smoking'? And the answer I've been getting is that, yes it is, and wherever it's prohibited, except this one when it's spells out in addition to those things and it's not mentioned, it may say that this may become a marijuana park rather than a no-smoking park. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. In addition to the tens of thousands of cigarette butts that we see in every beach cleanup, I do one at least once a year, there's at least 19 or so cases of children picking up cigarette butts, ingesting them, and having to be rushed to a hospital, poisoned, to get it removed from their system.

"Now, let's not assume that people are lawbreakers. If there's a law on the books, they're probably going to respect it. Actually, if people didn't, we wouldn't have enough police to maintain any order in society. Right now, in this room, there's a ban against smoking. And there doesn't have to be DOCARE walking around the Capitol to see if we're all smoking in our offices. We just don't do it, it's self-enforcing, we're law-abiding citizens.

"This is the type of, two years ago when Honolulu City Council passed a similar measure, it worked. There are a handful of warnings, and I think less than a hundred actual citations. Realistically, if somebody is smoking way on the other side of the beach, no one's going to walk up to them, or in the park, and say, hey, brah, put that out. But if somebody comes up and sits next to you and lights one up and you have your kids next to you, you can probably tell them, hey, you know that's against the law. And chances are, this is Hawaii, they're not going to start a fight, they're going to put it out. And I think that's really the purpose of this law.

"But it should be noted that we should make sure we continue to support DOCARE and give them the type of ability to enforce this or any other law across the parks and beaches in our state. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, Mr. Speaker, just very briefly. Still in opposition. I appreciate the previous comments that were made. Regarding starting a fight, it depends how big you are and depends how big they are, first of all.

"Second thing, we're talking about county parks already have this. My good friend, my colleague from Ewa Beach, mentioned he was at the beach cleanup, thousands of cigarette butts. That's a county park. They already have the ban in place. So, people aren't going to follow the law, and I wouldn't accost somebody, I'd just get up and move if it was a problem. If the second hand smoke on the ocean was so severe that I couldn't breathe, I'd probably get up and move, I wouldn't pick a fight with them. So, I'm still against this, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just reservations and I'd like just a short comment. My only concern is that it says, 'within the state park system'. I think that's really broad. It takes us up into the mountains, and maybe that's not where the intent was supposed to be. So that's my only reservation. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 525, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE PARKS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Water & Land, with Representatives Jordan, Morikawa, Oshiro, Tupola and Ward voting aye with reservations, with Representative McDermott voting no, and with Representatives Har and Matsumoto being excused.

Representative Belatti, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 52) recommending that H.B. No. 586, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 586, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to oppose this, because electronic cigarettes properly used are smoking cessation devices. That's what they're intended to do. So the way I read this is that means that someone who is trying to quit smoking, wants to go in their car in the parking lot to puff on their electronic cigarette, can't puff on their electronic cigarette even though they're in their car in the parking lot. They have to get in their car, drive off the property, take a puff and come back.

"Onerous, again, people would walk out to their car, smoke in their car, their electronic cigarette. Or they'll go in the restroom or whatever. This is just a law that will not be enforced and won't be followed. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting no, but let me explain to you why I'll be voting no on this bill. I have concerns that this current draft may be in contravention with the current collective bargaining contracts that are in place right now under Chapter 89 of Hawaii Revised Statutes.

"I understand the policy behind this bill, it makes sense, but I think we need to weigh that against the existing law and those contracts that are in place and what effect this might have upon it. In particular, I have a little concern that it would be effective July 1st of this year. The other measures before us were drafted so that the effective date would be down the road to July 1st, 2050. This is 2015, so I have concerns that this again might be in contravention of existing collective bargaining contracts.

"Several weeks ago, I did meet with members of the Hawaii Government Employee's Association and we did discuss similar measures like this that might impose changes to current contracts. And I did tell them that I would be mindful of that and respectful of that, and make sure that I could keep that in my thoughts as we moved forward. So, thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I stand with reservations. There is no proof that vaping causes second hand smoke problems, and I am in favor of doing what we can to prevent smoking and to prevent addiction to tobacco. However, I am also mindful that there are already people who are addicted, and I see it also as a cessation device. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do stand in support but I did want to make some comments. Thank you to my colleagues who all commented. When they did come to present to us in the committee, it was a concern that they should just enforce it as a policy as opposed to a law. And there could be a little bit too much government involvement in this, but they felt like with the policy in place they still weren't able to enforce it. I guess my question would be, even if it was a law, how would they still be able to enforce it?

"It is the Hawaii Health Systems and there is multiple properties, I want to say more than 20, and so the question that one of my colleagues posed was how far would people have to go in order to be able to smoke, or how far off the property would they have to go?

"So those are my comments. I think that it may or may not need to be a law. Maybe we could continue it as a policy and see how we could better support them. I do see the need to support health around health properties, and so I see their concern, but maybe it's not necessary that there be a law for it. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Mr. Speaker, this bill allows the smoking of cigarettes, cigars, pipe tobacco, hookah tobacco, snuff, chewing tobacco, dipping tobacco, bidis, blunts, clove cigarettes, my favorite Indonesian version, and other preparations of tobaccos, which to me when it says all this with such specificity, it still says that smoking marijuana is legal. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Standing in support. I think one of the intents of this bill is to help create a society that limits exposure to second hand smoke, that limits places where people who are trying to fight an addiction are able to smoke, and that helps them cut back and helps create a more healthy society.

"I believe I'm the only Member in this Body whose family is in the tobacco business, or was. My grandfather was a tobacco farmer, I briefly owned tobacco land. And I stand in strong support of limiting tobacco use because of its negative effects on health, and I think it is incumbent upon us to help create a society where it's easier to get over addictions that are dangerous and deadly like this. Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm voting with reservations on this because of E-cigarettes. The FDA hasn't come out with an opinion on these, but there are a number of studies that have shown they are very effective as smoking cessation devices. So I think it's a little premature to do this as far as E-cigarettes. But on the other hand, since we don't know for sure, it does seem reasonable in health facilities, within the facility. But as the other Representative mentioned, if you're out in your car with an E-cigarette, it's very unlikely you could contaminate anybody or affect anybody. So, thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 586, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO USE OF TOBACCO PRODUCTS AND E-CIGARETTES ON HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION PREMISES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Creagan, San Buenaventura and Ward voting aye with reservations, with Representatives McDermott and Oshiro voting no, and with Representatives Har and Matsumoto being excused.

Representative Belatti, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 53) recommending that H.B. No. 354, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 354, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NURSES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives Har and Matsumoto being excused.

Representative Belatti, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 54) recommending that H.B. No. 696, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Labor & Public Employment.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 696, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Labor & Public Employment, with Representatives Har and Matsumoto being excused.

Representative Takayama, for the Committee on Public Safety, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 55) recommending that H.B. No. 737, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 737, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and just a few words. I appreciate the intent of this measure. I just don't think we should be using the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund to try and achieve this for the residents of Puna. I know how important it is for our residents of Puna and having them recover from natural disasters or storms, but I don't think this is the right vehicle for it, and that's why I'm standing with reservations at this point in time. Because the Hurricane Relief Fund was set up for a specific program, and I don't think we should deviate from that program at this moment in time. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in strong support of the bill. The Hurricane Fund has been dormant. It is highly unlikely that it would even be used for lava relief, but it should be there in the event that the insurer's reserves are insufficient to cover the needs of Puna. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. I was the one to introduce the savings on the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund way back in 1994. At that time, the insurance companies ran away, and so we had to come up with the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund to insure all the houses here in the State of Hawaii. And what we did was save a lot of money.

"Based on my research, most of the hurricanes occur 20 to 25 years apart. But the freak one was 10 years, and that was Hurricane Iwa and Hurricane Iniki, which is from 1982 to 1994. And those monies that were collected, is the possibility that if a hurricane occurs again and then all the insurance companies will run away, we might end up using the seed money to be able to set up the Hurricane Relief Fund right away. Because to use the Hurricane Relief Fund and deplete it, we need those monies to be able to more or less come up with a way to insure those homes.

"Otherwise, the impact of that is, without any insurance to protect the homeowners, it also has an impact in the sale of real estate property. It also has an impact on the way banks will loan out to homeowners. Because to be able to sell those loans to the secondary market, they've got to make sure that the buyers or investors in buying those loans while it's packaged have got to be protected, to make sure that it is more or less attractive in the purchase of those package loans.

"So, be careful of what we're trying to do, because now we are about 22, 23 years now since the last hurricane. We are in the danger point. So, if the hurricane, most of the hurricanes for 100 years based on my research shows that hurricanes are mostly 20 to 25 years apart, we are there. So I hope that God will protect us again, because if we use the money and we haven't put back all the money yet, then we are ready. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to respond, stating:

"Puna has a population of 25,000 people. Fastest growing district until lava has come on. The insurance community has chosen to depart from Puna. It has 25,000 people, that's one city that the Insurance Council is choosing to ignore. So with due respect to prior Representatives, the problem we have in Puna is that the insurance companies are running away, which is the very same reason that the Hurricane Fund was supposed to prevent.

"Yes, they're running away only from our district, but the problem is they're running away to all of everybody else's districts, and we're basically abandoning 25,000 people. And as such, I'm in strong support of the Hurricane Fund. It is unlikely it will be tapped because the homes in Puna are very affordable and the lava flow has a distinct path that will probably not affect many, if any, homes, but it needs to be there so that the insurance companies do not abandon us. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Mr. Speaker, I think everybody's heart goes out to the people of Puna. No one likes to be covered with lava, no one likes to be burned alive, no one likes to have your house and your insurance taken away from you.

"However, the Hurricane Relief Fund is for the hurricane. And, Mr. Speaker, that has only been recently made whole, or on its way to being made whole, because we raided it. And perhaps the new Member from Puna didn't realize there was such a hard feeling in all of our districts, 1.5 million, not 25,000, 1.5 million people were clamoring at this organization, saying, why did you take away my Hurricane Relief?

"My point is, we raided it, we're making it whole, it should not have a puncture, even though the people of Pahoa are having a difficult time. There's got to be another way. The Governor can say, let's have an emergency appropriation for the disaster area because of lava. But to take the Hurricane Relief Fund away from the Hurricane Relief Fund, who knows what next, could be the coffee berry borer, or some other very worthy cause.

"But as they said, the people of Hawaii in all of our districts, almost 1.5 million, were clamoring to make us, this Body, make whole, and we've made it whole, and now if we put a puncture in it, it could lead to further puncturing by other great causes. For those reasons, with reservations."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also stand in reservations. I thank my colleagues for their comments and I too feel for the people in Puna. I do also stand in support of maybe writing a letter to ask the Governor to step in and talk about a solution that can work for everyone without touching the hurricane emergency fund. And I believe that all of us would support an effort to help the people of Puna in a way that they would get relief for insurance or whatever it may be. But this is a special case and I think that it should be looked at specially instead of touching a fund and making a statute. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support. I'd like the words of the Representative from Puna to be entered as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Cachola rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, second time, still with reservations. I sympathize with the people of Puna and also to my colleague, the Representative from Puna. There is another fund that they should at least go after, and that's what they call the Hawaii disaster fund. The Hawaii disaster fund covers earthquakes, and I believe volcano eruptions, that more or less are causing problems in Puna, is considered to be a disaster within the definition. So that point, if they go after those funds, I think they will be able to get relief. And I agree that the Hurricane Relief Fund is only for hurricanes, and that's the reason for that.

"And so, though I more or less sympathize with the people of Puna, I just have to make sure that, it was raided before, then to be made whole, but if they're going to get in the Hawaii disaster fund, then we can go all out for that. If the title of the bill is more or less capable of making those changes, let's do it to help them out. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I was not going to get up and speak on this measure but I have to because, first of all, this is one of many bills addressing this issue, which is the fundamental policy issue, people in Puna being able to get insurance even though there is no increased risk to them because, as it was said earlier, the lava follows a specific path.

"But first of all, it's not a raid. It's the Insurance Commissioner could look at the potential of using it if there are extraordinary losses to the HPIA insurers, which as was stated earlier by the Representative from the area, is highly unlikely, if at all. In fact, this measure may not be the exact one that moves out all the way.

"I did author a bill to put the interest back in the Hurricane Relief Fund automatically, so I understand keeping this reserve inactive corpus whole, but it's for the very same reason that we should keep it whole for bond rating and other things, financial ratings. Not because, as it has been stated, this is an active insurance policy that people actually have money in. It was an insurer of last resort. When Zephyr and others exited the market after Iniki. When market insurers came back into the market, the program itself was stood down. But the money has stood as a reserve, as a secondary rainy day fund, if you will. But the policy intent was to provide the Insurance Commissioner with the ability and discretion to look at that as a way to offset extraordinary losses.

"But again, this is a work in progress, colleagues. We are looking merely at ensuring that insurance can be made available to the people in this district at fair rates without chilling or otherwise harming the insurance market for all of our constituents everywhere, even in Puna."

Representative Evans rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 737, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROPERTY INSURANCE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives Cachola, Jordan, McDermott, Tupola and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Har and Matsumoto being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 379, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Tourism, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to rise in opposition on this measure. I'd like to cast a no vote. And while it's a well-intended measure and I certainly sympathize with the people in North Kona, I find the funding mechanism, the TAT, the nexus between that and this hospital is tangential at best and nonexistent at worst, and this is our number one industry and we should not be taking these monies away from it. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 379, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FINANCING FOR A NEW HOSPITAL IN NORTH KONA," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Tourism, with Representative Jordan voting aye with reservations, with Representative McDermott voting no, and with Representatives Har and Matsumoto being excused.

"I oppose this bill on fiscal grounds. The purpose of the bill is to help reduce youth violence and delinquency in the State by appropriating funds to the Department of Human Services to fund the operational costs of an organization providing therapeutic prevention and mental health programs for high risk youth.

"The bill appropriates monies from the General Fund. While I support the idea of reaching out to at-risk youth, I also find that this bill leaves two big and unanswered questions. First: What 'organization' will receive this money? Second: Why didn't the organization that wants this money submit a grant-in-aid application?

"We need transparency in government, and this bill does not provide it. Therefore, I must respectfully oppose this bill."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With very serious reservations on this measure, Mr. Speaker. I just want to at least alert the Members, to bifurcate responsibility of this matter between the counties and the DCCA is very problematic and because DCCA is a special funded fee-generated program, you would be looking at possible double taxation. There's a lot of issues with this bill, so I would just like to note my serious reservations. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations about this bill, but I'm going to call it a caveat. Because it's a good bill, but it's going to hurt the small guy. And from the small business point of view, the small guy is the one that really makes the baseline of our micro economy here in Hawaii. As the previous speaker said, it's a 12-fold increase. To get a license to do pesticide, it used to be $25 a year, now it's a total of $310 a year. Mr. Speaker, that's a pretty steep climb over just one short period. For those reasons, that's my caveat. Not reservations."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my reservations on this bill. "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Although this measure says 2050, I think this is something we should start looking at, especially for communities like mine, where we've got individuals that run pesticides out of the back of a truck with no safety inspection, no licensing, and mix whatever they want, and then the Department of Health comes out and says that crop is no good. So I think we should support these measures to make sure we can have that enforcement for our small farmers out there. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my reservations on this measure. Mr. Speaker, although I support my local agriculture and possibly the fee reduction through my harbors, we also must recognize that $57.5 million comes through my harbors, of which $11.5 million goes to OHA for the committed requirement that we give to them for our public land monies. So with that, Mr. Speaker, I'm open to seeing the further discussion on this and I think we should take some of the comments from the Department of Transportation as this bill moves forward. Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I wanted to make comments about this bill and also cast a no vote. House Bill 1349 is changing the licensure for charter school teachers. So currently right now for a charter school teacher to go into the DOE, they do a probationary period of a year, if they were tenured.

"So this is talking about non-tenure teachers going into the DOE system from charter schools, and that it would be as if they were at the same level as somebody coming straight out of college. So the years that they taught at the charter school then wouldn't count towards their tenure at the DOE, which for some people it might be reasonable, but as a prior charter school teacher I believe that the years that you teach at the charter school should count towards the tenure and that we can make that ruling, so that charter schools can be treated equally to DOE schools instead of treating them as less than, possibly because they came from that school and weren't as certified. Because they also have to go through certification and accreditation programs, and I think that that should be taken into consideration before we decide that the ruling from charter to DOE will be different than from DOE to charter. Thank you very much."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"A no vote, Mr. Speaker. It seems like we're creating two classes of teachers here, one we value, regular DOE teachers, more than charter school teachers. That's what it seems like to me, so a no vote, sir."

Representative LoPresti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I ask for a ruling on a potential conflict of interest. My wife is a DOE teacher and also an HSTA member, and they offered testimony on this," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative LoPresti continued, stating:

"Will that ruling stand for the remainder of the session, sir? Will this ruling apply to the remainder of the session on teacher issues, DOE teacher issues," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, same request as the previous speaker," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

The Chair then stated:

"Thank you very much."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Speaking in support of the bill. Normally I don't speak on Second Reading because this bill has a long ways to go. In fact, the bill will be going to your Committee on Education where we expect to have another discussion on this issue. But I wanted to correct some misassumptions about the bill.

"The bill in fact tries to correct the current inequity between charter school teachers and regular DOE teachers. For some reason, the previous speakers thought it would create an inequity. This is to correct that inequity.

"Here's the inequity, Mr. Speaker. Two teachers, both graduated, for argument's sake, from the College of Education at the University of Hawaii. One enters a public, regular public elementary school, Royal Elementary School, right up the street. Another teacher enters a charter school, Voyager Charter School. The teacher who enters Royal Elementary School has to serve on a probationary basis for three years before she can get tenure. The teacher at the charter school also has to serve three years at that charter school in order to get tenure.

"Herein lies the inequity in the current statute. If that teacher at that charter school after six months decides he doesn't really care to work at a charter school, transfers to a regular department school, he will only have to teach for another year, so a total of a year and a half, before he will be eligible for tenure.

"What this bill attempts to do is to say, the board, the department and the collective bargaining unit, in this case the HSTA, will sit down and come out with an agreement, which I think will be something like this. If that charter school teacher after teaching for six months in a charter school transfers to a regular public school, he will have to then teach on a probationary basis for an additional two and a half years. In other words, Mr. Speaker, both that charter school teacher and that regular DOE teacher will both have to teach on a probationary basis for three years.

"Mr. Speaker, we do want the charter schools to have the kind of flexibility and autonomy to flourish, because that was the original intent of charter schools. However, Mr. Speaker, I do believe there is a compelling state interest to ensure our children are all taught by teachers who underwent the same probationary period. Thank you very much."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. Being a former charter school teacher as well, I no longer am one, but my concern is that not every nuance of the situation is fully vetted yet, so my reservations are there."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. I think it's duplicative in nature and I think one of my colleagues will address the myriad of layers and duplicity that this bill is going to create and that the, quote, unquote, 'problem,' is already being addressed.

"Mr. Speaker, my concern is, it undermines parental authority. A child can leave the home and be in crisis for feeling judged. The bill laments that a children can feel judged. If a child runs away and this agency or worker is called, and the child can say, I don't want to go home. Why? Well I don't wanna. Do you feel unsafe, the social worker will ask. Yes, it's unsafe.

"So then the 14-year-old goes to foster care. And for the parents, now because the child, with a little bit of coaching or the social worker erring on the side of caution, as we always want them to do, and there's a lot of great social workers, deems that this might be unsafe, now the child is placed in foster care. Because the word 'unsafe' has been raised, now the parents have to go to family court to get their child back, because unsafe is a very high standard. In fact, that's the only way you can remove a child from a parent's home is if it's unsafe. Not if they're feeling judged, not if they're in crisis. If it's unsafe. It's a constitutional standard, Mr. Speaker.

"So now the parents have to go to family court because they told Johnny, Johnny, we don't want you to smoke pot and drink beer, you've got to be home by 10:00 at night. Johnny doesn't like that, Johnny comes home at 11:00, reeking of reefer and they chew him out. They ground him, they take away his cellphone, he runs away. I don't want to be there anymore. They hassle me, they're coming down on me. Really? Yeah, I'm afraid to go home, my dad's going to give me lickings. Really, Johnny, well that could be unsafe.

"Now they've got to go to family court to get their child back. And who makes this determination? Not the parents. A total stranger makes this determination, Mr. Speaker. And what we have done is now tip the balance of power in that family relationship to the 14-year-old, to the 15-year-old, and not the parents. Because anytime he now or she now wants to yank their chain, just takes off, they've got to go to family court.

"I can see parents showing up in family court three or four times. Finally, they give up. Do whatever you want. Parent's job is to mold and care for their children and teach them the values and the character that they want their children to have. We constantly second guess parents, we don't think they're doing a good job. I don't know where these parents live because I haven't met them.

"Now not every parent's perfect, least of all the one standing right in front of you. But we do the best we can and this undermines parental authority, Mr. Speaker. Tips the scales in the balance of the child.

"And then these children can access services without their parents knowing. So a 13-year-old girl is pregnant, she wants to have an abortion, or the social worker, who probably I'm guessing is not conservative, says, you know, family planning, you probably should have an abortion, that's a good thing to do. Where the parents might have a different take on it. And the parents are responsible for that child, and the parents may want to hanai that child and not have her have an abortion. But they don't get a say in the matter because that decision is now made with the social worker who intervenes and makes a decision for the parents with the 13- or 14-year-old.

"We're undermining parental authority, Mr. Speaker, and I've been here long enough to see that we chip away parental authority year after year, and I doubt that this will be the only bill this year that chips away at parental authority or parental involvement in a child's life. That's a prediction I'm going to make, Mr. Speaker. So for those reasons, I stand in opposition. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition with similar concerns. I think that any time we're talking about taking away parental rights, we should rethink the bill. I think the intent to keep children safe is admirable, I think they should feel safe. I am concerned that declaring your home as an unsafe place and running away is going to be a problem for Samoans, where we always feel like maybe there is something unsafe happening. I think for certain cultural reasons, I think this bill might not be able to protect all of those things and we should probably go back to the drawing board and rethink how we can keep kids safe without taking away parental rights but still mind ourselves of cultural norms and respectfulness between parents and children. So with those reasons, I stand to rethink what maybe is inside this bill."

Representative Yamane rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing up with a personal privilege. Mr. Speaker, I'm standing because comments made regarding social workers, as a social worker whose professional career includes working with adolescents, I wanted to clarify the role and the code of social workers who work in the field.

"Mr. Speaker, due to professional code, we do not interject our personal ideations and views onto when we deal with a child, especially with child safety. We follow the law, Mr. Speaker. Our charge, when we get involved with any case, any case, is not about our own personal views, but ensuring the safety of that child. And the ultimate goal is reunification. So any insinuations or lack of information that shows otherwise does not truly indicate and respect the role of a professional social worker. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Yes, sir. I meant no disrespect to my colleague. He is a nice man, a wonderful man, and knows many things that I have no idea about, and that wasn't a personal slight at you, please, I respect you enormously, I certainly do.

"However, Mr. Speaker, my experience is also a little different. I've been in family court probably 25 times, and I've dealt with a myriad of social workers. And I have found some that are fantastic and some that aren't so good, just like us in this Chamber, just like any people from the walk of human life. And I don't have confidence that every one of them is as good as our good friend here. He's held to a standard that in my view is top notch, but there are some that aren't very good and I had to deal with them, Mr. Speaker. Jerked around like you wouldn't believe. My good friend from Hawaii Kai knows some of the story about that. But it went on for five years. But in the course of that, we did deal with some good ones as well.

"So this is to protect the parents, Mr. Speaker. And again, parents have rights. The children are the charge of the parents, unless it's unsafe, which is a constitutional standard that a judge has to make. And if a child says, I don't want to go home, I don't want to go home. What's wrong? I'm afraid I might get lickings. Okay, it might be unsafe. They have to err on the side of caution or they might get sued if they return that child home. They don't know, they only know what that 15-year-old is telling them. They make their best effort.

"Now there are some that are going to be over-aggressive. The point is, this tips the balance of power in the child's favor, because now the parents have to stand in front of family court and explain they did nothing wrong except tell Johnny not to smoke reefer and get drunk and drive the family car and be home by 10:00. This is a real world issue, Mr. Speaker, it happens. Thank you."

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Thank you very much, Representative. Before we continue, I just wanted to point out Rule 27.7, which provides, 'It is not the person but the measure that is the subject of debate, and it is not allowable to arraign the motives of a member, but the nature or consequences of a measure may be condemned in strong terms.'

"So focus on the merits of the bill. Why is this bill good for the State of Hawaii, or why is this bill bad for the State of Hawaii. We'll keep it simple."

Representative Tupola rose to respond, stating:

"Just to reiterate maybe a few points, my concern is that nonprofits will be given unprecedented power to determine imminent harm, and so that's where all the hazy parts comes. If nonprofits are determining what imminent harm is, then where really are we as far as parental rights and keeping kids safe? That's my concern. Thank you."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Chair, I rise in support. I would point out that this is basically a pilot program seeking appropriations. It does not say anything about defining parental rights, about what is safe and unsafe, that's all in another area and perhaps another bill. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With strong reservations. My concern is just that we're focusing on what's wrong with our families in Hawaii and not about what's right with our families, and trying to accentuate the positive things. I do recognize that this bill does address and recognize the cultural matters, the aloha spirit we try to live and pass our laws by. So I just want to make sure that we're not setting up something that creates more problems and challenges for our families. Our families already have a lot of challenges today. So, thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Pouha be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tokioka rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A point of clarification. Are these Second Reading bills?"

The Chair then stated:

"You are correct, these are Second Reading bills."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Pouha be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, because we already have a wounded, wobbling and threatened family structure, I think anything that takes away from that, particularly parental rights as my colleague from Ewa Beach noted, I think we should probably stay away from that. We need to strengthen the family. I know the intent of those who are putting this forth is to strengthen the family, but the unintended consequence could be the exact opposite of that.

"Lastly, Mr. Speaker, I want to bear witness to the trauma experienced by my colleague from Ewa Beach when he did go through the process of the social worker and his children. So that was not a fabrication, choreographed, or otherwise made up. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, I rise in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I want to speak as a neighbor island legislator in rural communities with challenges. I was fortunate when I grew up there was a YMCA, and kids that came from maybe distraught situations would go hang out at the Y. For some kids they can have church programs, maybe they can go hang out at the church. Maybe for some kids they stay after school and maybe they develop that relationship with the teacher.

"But I really think this bill is about youth having a voice. We wouldn't be here if the youth hadn't brought it up. If you look at the background of this, you know it was the youth that brought this to legislators' attention. They wanted to have safe places to go, places to hang out if they were stressed out, if things weren't working for them. They needed to feel like they were not just roaming the streets. I can tell you, in small towns, kids roam the streets. They don't have adults around, they don't have places to go, and they get in trouble.

"So I think the safe places has a merit for discussion. We don't know how far it will go, but I think that the intentions are really good and we should keep it going. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against House Bill 849, Standing Committee Report No. 146. Mr. Speaker, this bill, I think, is a serious mistake for the Members of this House to send forward. I signed onto the bill and I sincerely regret doing that. The city, the counties, our neighbor island counties and our local county, have an inherent authority to protect the public trust pursuant to Article XI, Section 1 of the Hawaii State Constitution, and to protect health, life and property as provided in HRS 46-1.513.

"This bill preempts county authority, loud and clear. Any Member here who is from a neighbor island, this bill takes away counties' authority. House Bill 849 will prevent counties from enacting any laws which could possibly be seen as abridging the rights of farmers, because the language contained in the bill is too broad. House Bill 849 can unveil a lack of enforcement and regulation with respect to nuisances by limiting the powers of the county and transferring all authority to the State.

"There was a Supreme Court case, Richardson v. City and County of Honolulu, and in that case the court said, if the State has an exclusive mechanism for regulating, the county then gets preempted from establishing new laws or regulations in the same manner. House Bill 849 does this, it takes agriculture out of the hands of the counties, and the health and safety related to agriculture out of the hands of the counties. This is a clear preemption bill, an anti-home rule bill.

"House Bill 849 fundamentally changes the framework of powers between the State and counties by eliminating their ability to enact laws, ordinances, or regulations covering agriculture practices not prohibited by either federal or state laws.

"House Bill 849 repeals counties' powers completely in the area of agriculture. Do you want to have that happen, you from the neighbor islands? I'm sorry, Mr. Speaker, I will talk to you. Do the neighbor island Members want to have that happen and to have home rule taken away from them? This denies the counties the power to protect human health, help the farm workers, in connection with this bill.

"Syngenta Seeds and the County of Kauai, although that was decided in favor of Syngenta Seeds, the court reasoned that the general statutory grant of authority to protect health, life and property, along with a constitutional mandate to protect the public trust pursuant to Article XI, Section 1, was the basis for the county's invoked authority when they enacted their ordinance 960. The court added that the fact that the State Constitution declares agriculture to be of statewide concern does not, and I repeat, does not by itself preclude all county regulations in the entire field of agriculture."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Again, the court said it does not preclude all county regulation in the entire field of agriculture. But House Bill 849 does. That's the bill we're voting on today, Mr. Speaker. House Bill 849 does. And then also, this, the court went on, this does not preclude counties from enacting ordinances affecting either area where an ordinance falls under the county's generally granted powers, and it cites Richardson v. City and County of Honolulu, effectively holding that counties may still have the authority to regulate in areas of statewide concern, absent some additional basis for preemption.

"House Bill 849 that we're voting on today preempts the counties, takes away their authority over health and safety and local issues, where agriculture is concerned, carving out a broad exemption that the counties no longer have the authority to deal with agricultural issues where they affect the health and safety of their communities, or other land use issues that were in their purview.

"And then I conclude, Mr. Speaker, House Bill 849 terminates the counties' constitutional and statutory rights by terminating the counties' responsibilities and power to protect the health, life and property when it involves agriculture. This bill increases the State's responsibilities and liabilities, because now there'll be a total void where the State has to step in and legislate over county areas. And do we have the money or the will or the interest to do that as a state? It ends the checks and balances that traditionally have existed between the different branches of the government by blocking any possibility of the counties legislating in the agricultural area. Mr. Speaker, this is a bad bill, and it should not move forward, and I cast a resounding no vote. Thank you."

Representative Onishi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this bill. Mr. Speaker, the introduction of this bill is in direct reference to two cases that were adjudicated in court regarding county ordinances in regards to agriculture and the ability for farmers to farm. In both cases, the court decided that the bills, the laws that were enacted, ordinances enacted by the counties, were not justified because the State has the responsibility of overseeing agriculture in the State, and it's the State's responsibility to ensure that the health and safety and the way that farmers farm is safe for everyone in the State of Hawaii.

"This has nothing to do with preempting county rights. This is judgment that was made by the courts, and this bill just reiterates that fact. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Creagan rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I may have a conflict, can I have a ruling? My wife owns a large farm on the Big Island and she lets me live and work there," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Creagan continued to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. I'd like the eloquent words of the first speaker to be recorded as my own. Thank you. I'd like to make some brief comments in opposition. Thank you. Now that my conflict is out of the way. Our counties are very different. They're very different. Oahu is much different from the Big Island. However, as a physician, I really resent the attempts by legislators here to limit the options of neighbor island councils to protect their island and their constituents. So I strongly support home rule by the counties, and I'm strongly in opposition to this bill. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am rising, unfortunately, in opposition, but for completely different reasons than the previous speakers. I actually disagree with the previous speakers, because this is a policy that I've come to, in watching this going on for several years within this state. Mr. Speaker, this is not a county issue or a state issue, this is a federal issue, Mr. Speaker.

"Mr. Speaker, all over this country, states are looking at these issues and coming up with varying approaches and degrees that are creating an inconsistency that I think threaten the interstate commerce and what is truly important agriculture, which is economic opportunity, Mr. Speaker.

"During the campaign I was asked by a newspaper on the Maui then proposed initiative ordinance, and I said I was opposed to it. Why? Because I said this is a federal issue, Mr. Speaker. The feds, our Congressional delegation, needs to step up and show leadership and have this discussion in Washington D.C. with all the other states. This is something that needs to be handled by the feds.

"I've spoken out on bills where the State has come in and done the counties' work. In my opinion, this is an area where we are basically doing things that the feds need to address, and that's the irony in all of this no matter what happens. Because of this issue being handled in so many different ways, in so many different states, SCOTUS, the Supreme Court, will probably get this. If there is ever something that screams for federal intervention, why we give our sovereignty up as a state to the feds is for this very reason. Our founding fathers looked at inconsistencies across the states that threatens the fabric of interstate commerce and exchange, and that's why we have the sovereign authority of the federal government.

"So I speak in opposition of the bill because this is the federal government's purview, they need to step up and provide national leadership, so we have harmony in agriculture across the United States. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. I agree that there is a need for uniformity. Also, however, the State has not stepped in to those particular cases referred to by the Representative from the 3rd District. And until the State comes in with the regulations, I do not believe this bill is appropriate. I also echo and request that I can incorporate the comments made by the Representative of the 10th District. This is an interstate commerce issue. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations. I've gotten numerous phone calls about this bill and I've read through all the testimony, over 300 testimonies were submitted and probably more.

"My reservations are, one, if we're really accomplishing what we intend to accomplish, and two, if it's directed at the right entity, as the previous speakers alluded to, and I think that we should all think about it because I think we could come to a solution but we should make sure that it's solving the problem and that it's directed to the right entity that should solve the problem. Thank you."

Representative Lowen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I'll be rising with reservations. I come from the community of Wahiawa, District 46, and we're an agricultural-based community, post-plantation agriculture community. But we have the opportunity near and about my community to redevelop agriculture activities on some important lands north of Wahiawa. So I would like to see how this discussion goes further.

"But at this point in time, given some of the concerns raised by my colleague from the Windward side regarding home rule and the importance of respecting the counties' jurisdiction, especially in the neighbor island or rural communities, I need to study this matter even further. So I'll be voting with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. I'm opposed on both philosophical grounds as well as practical grounds at the impact this bill would have, and I would like the comments from the Representatives from Districts 3, 10 and 50 entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kawakami rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition for the simple foundation of my beliefs in the value and purpose of home rule, and the simple fact that I believe this measure does nothing but further divide our community. We should be focusing on ways to support agriculture by investing in infrastructure, investing in storage, packing and processing facilities, and by providing aid to help farmers move their product to market. For these reasons, I stand in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"May I request a ruling on a potential conflict? My family has Peterson Egg Farm in Wahiawa," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Matsumoto continued and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lowen rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to request to change my reservations to a no vote."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 849, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Jordan, Keohokalole, Oshiro, San Buenaventura and Tupola voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Creagan, Ing, Kawakami, LoPresti, Lowen, Matsumoto, McKelvey and Thielen voting no, and with Representative Lee being excused.

Representative Aquino, for the Committee on Transportation, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 147) recommending that H.B. No. 1010 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1010, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE COMMUTER BENEFITS PROGRAM," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative Lee being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on HB 1075, HD 1, which authorizes the Maui Regional System to enter into an agreement with a private entity to transition one or more of its facilities into a new private Hawaii nonprofit corporation. While I believe that taking steps to put our hospitals on sounder financial footing is necessary, I am worried about the potential liability to the State as the bill is currently written. Unlike a purchase, under the current language, the State may retain ultimate financial liability while losing key oversight of the Maui Regional System. I also worry about continued subsidization of the new private entity by the taxpayer. I would like to see changes to the Maui Regional System that will help provide quality care to Maui residents, but not in ways that put the State and its taxpayers in an awkward fiscal position."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support but with very serious reservations.

"While I will reserve most of my comments for Third Reading, I want to stress that this bill has the potential to do great harm to state employees, irreparably violate the basic cannons of civil service and collective bargaining laws, and breach the public's trust by handing over limited government resources to a private entity. . .

"And we don't even know if it will save the State money, nor provide Maui's citizens with an appropriate level of services in both the short- and long-terms. Both the jobs and careers of civil servants and the lives of patients, families, and community hang in the balance. Over 1,200 jobs and health care for over 120,000 Hawaii residents are at stake.

"And granted we have an enormous problem with HHSC. One that has plagued this State for the past decade. One that as your former Finance and Labor Chair, I am well aware.

"But is this how we should proceed? To thumb our nose at our public civil servants, discarding them as expendable labor when business losses exceed income? And, are we giving away the power of the purse and binding current and future taxpayers to the sole discretion of a private corporation for 10 years? Finally, is this wholesale delegation of the General Fund for capital construction and operating funds even constitutional, much less sensible and prudent? I, respectfully, doubt we can do what this measure seeks to accomplish, and further doubt it would be wise and not foolish.

"I will, however, hold off my final judgment on this bill to give you, Mr. Speaker, and your Labor and Finance Chairs another two chances to fix this bill. Let us hope it is better than this effort."

Representative Creagan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this bill. I rise in support of House Bill 1075, and if I may also make comments on House Bill 1112 which follows?

"Mr. Speaker, the status quo is broken. As our public hospital is currently configured and managed, we know the status quo is broken. I know it, you know it, I believe all of us in this building know it. If we do nothing and continue to allow HHSC and its regions to go along as they have, the problems will only continue to fester at the expense of the healthcare of our residents on all islands.

"I know and expect that many in this Chamber will rise up with reservations today. They should. As both House Bill 1075, which enables the public-private partnership of the Maui region, and House Bill 1112, which contemplates what should happen with the governing structure of the regional board system that currently exists, as these bills move through the legislative process through hearings in the Labor and Finance Committees, as the Senate companions to these bills also move through the process, hard questions will have to continue to be asked and hopefully answered. Tough decisions will need to be made by us all throughout this legislative session.

"We are early in this process and I urge my colleagues to engage in the dialog. Note their reservations so we can ensure the right questions are asked, and let this bill continue to be deliberated. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak very strongly in favor of this measure. This measure alone will save the State over $200 million over a period of years with this transfer. The opposite is true if it doesn't. They can no longer continue to leak and cost the State millions and millions of dollars that's going to be increasing all the time.

"In Maui we have a unique situation, we have only one hospital. And this one hospital is taking care of the whole island. We don't have the luxury of having five hospitals between one square mile. Also, more important, this is for the health and welfare of the people of Maui and Molokai and Lanai, but especially Maui.

"I ask the Members here who are voting with reservations to please consider what you are doing right now. We know there is going to be a lot of pressure on the Members here as you move along with this legislation. There are some parties who were strongly opposed to this, but are they thinking about the welfare of the people of the island and of the money that it can save the State as it moves along? I think not.

"So, Members, I sincerely ask you to consider that this is a very important bill, that I ask for its passage. Thank you very much."

Representative Morikawa rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morikawa's written remarks are as follows:

"I agree that something needs to be done to the system, especially Maui and their ability to partner with a private entity. However, I am very concerned about how the current employees will be transitioned into the partnership agreement. What will be the details about their accrued benefits, especially those who haven't yet made the required number of years to get retiree medical benefits, or service credit years? What will happen to their accumulated sick leave credits? Will they be converted to service credit? If they are to be laid off, they will have bumping rights to other systems in the State, causing a chain reaction of personnel movements. I look forward to deeper discussions to address these concerns."

Representative LoPresti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "Strong support, Mr. Speaker. This is the bill that we co-introduced and sponsored with the help of the Philippine Consulate, and I request that written comments be inserted in the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Cachola's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of House Bill 604 which I co-introduced with Vice-Speaker John Mizuno and many other colleagues in this Chamber. House Bill 604 designates December 20 of each year as Sakada Day in Hawaii. I want to thank Philippine Consulate General Gina Jamoralin and the Filipino Community for coming out in support of House Bill 604.

"As you know, Mr. Speaker, Filipino people who were imported by the Hawaii sugar industry to come to Hawaii and work the fields of the sugar plantations are known as Sakadas. The first of the Sakadas arrived in Hawaii in 1906 on the SS Doric, and later, the SS Nawiliwili. The second wave came in 1946, the year of the last major organized Filipino migration to the United States. My grandfather and uncles were part of this migration which makes me a descendent of the Sakadas. They were processed in my hometown of Vigan, Ilocos Sur before sailing to Hawaii.

"On January 9th, 1986, commemorative festivities for which I was the Honorary Event Chair took place here at the State Capitol and on the neighbor islands. A group of Filipino legislators and community leaders, led by then Governor George Ariyoshi, Lieutenant Governor John Waihee and Senator Benjamin Cayetano, planted a young narra tree on the grounds of the State Capitol. The planting coincided with festivities honoring the 40th Anniversary of the 1946 Sakadas, the 80th Anniversary of the arrival of the first Filipinos to Hawaii, and the establishment of the Sister Province-State relationship between IIocos Sur and Hawaii. The tree came to be known as the Sakada Tree.

"The hardwood narra tree – the national tree of the Philippines – was chosen to symbolize the strength and fortitude of the early Filipinos to Hawaii, who overcame numerous hardships and difficulties. Today, 29 years after its planting, the Sakada Tree has flourished and stands proudly on the grounds of the State Capitol as a testament to the resilient spirit of Filipinos, their sacrifices and their contributions to Hawaii's economy and rich history."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and I'd like to insert written comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"In support of House Bill 604, designating December 20th of each year as Sakada day in the State of Hawai'i. On December 20th, 1906, the first of 15 Filipino contract laborers, or Sakadas, immigrated to Hawai'i to work on the plantations. By the 1920s, an average of 7,630 Filipino workers were arriving in Hawai'i annually. Sakadas perceived Hawai'i as a land of opportunity and prosperity, and many of them believed that they would only be in Hawai'i temporarily before returning home to the Philippines. Upon arrival, they were subjected to harsh working conditions, low wages, and racial segregation. Despite this, the Sakadas proved to be industrious and hard-working. Labor leaders such as Pablo Manlapit and Carl Damaso organized strikes, campaigned for workers' rights, and improved working and living conditions.

"Over 100 years later, the Filipino community has established itself as an integral part of Hawaii's culture. As of 2010, the Filipino community constitutes the largest ethnic group in the State of Hawai'i and over 60% of the population of Kaua'i island. The Filipino working and professional communities consist of doctors, nurses, lawyers, engineers, hotel workers, housekeepers, and police officers. A strong Filipino presence in the medical and home-care industries contributes heavily to the high levels of care given to our kupuna. The importance of Filipino culture in Hawai'i was further emphasized by the 2006 Filipino Centennial Celebration, which featured over 200 seminars, exhibits, arts and crafts events, and culinary celebrations.

"For these reasons, I stand in support of House Bill 604 and the official recognition of Sakada Day in Hawai'i, to honor the hard work, sacrifice, and importance of the Filipino community in Hawai'i."

Representative Aquino rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino's written remarks are as follows:

"I stand in support of House Bill 604. Mr. Speaker, this bill would recognize and acknowledge the first Filipinos who arrived to Hawaii to toil in the plantation fields.

"As a proud Filipino myself who represents an area where the plantation was the center of the community, I am proud to support this legislation. It acknowledges our first Sakadas and the active participation that the Filipino community plays today in our islands of diversity. This bill highlights the history and contributions of this community. Mahalo, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just want to say mabuhay.

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, also in strong support. My mother was a part of the Sakada, and of course needs to be honored. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support and request to insert written comments. Thanks."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in strong support of HB 604. Acknowledging the first Filipino migrant workers, also known as the Sakadas, is very important to the State of Hawaii, especially during the plantation period. They played an active role in shaping our communities as we see them today. The Sakadas are a great representation of Filipino character: persistent, hardworking, and, most especially, resilient."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 604, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SAKADA DAY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representative Lee being excused.

There's a few big boys in there, but to add 5% is to hurt the small guys, and I think with the process of the visitor industry, this is not healthy, it's not something that we need to increase the cost of visiting Hawaii. Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this adds insult to injury, and I'm going to call it 'middle class killer biller number one.' We have just increased the registration fee, the weight tax, and I think all of our constituents are a bit upset with the sticker shock that basically doubled what we pay to drive our vehicles.

"This adds $1 for a great cause, it goes to the Disability Office, but if they are shortchanged, let us give them an appropriation. Let us give them their due. We should not be adding another insult to injury by putting another dollar on what otherwise is already an excessive fee. And if you recall some of the bills that were introduced, the Minority Caucus introduced a repeal or pulling back on those increases for the sake of the people of Hawaii that are just having too high of a cost of living, Mr. Speaker. So this is 'middle class killer biller number one.' Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote for me and a comment. When I sat through the hearing, the Disability Office said that they were having a hard time maintaining it, and I have confidence that maybe between them and DOT they could work it out, but I can't support even one more dollar on the car registration fee that's really high right now. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Can you please note down my reservations. I do think Uber is a great idea, but I do think that the bill could be worked so that it could be fair for taxi drivers and for the Uber people. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support with some reservations on this measure. First, I'd like permission to insert comments in the Journal. Again, I stand in support. I'd like to see it amended where anybody convicted of drugging a woman or assaulting her or taking advantage of her while she's unconscious, I would support chemical castration for that. If you don't think that's a deterrent, try telling a 24-year-old guy he's not going to have sex for the next five years. I think they'll certainly think twice.

"But as a father of two daughters, this is a very serious issue. They're entering this age where they're going to go to school. So the intent is well supported, Mr. Speaker, but it is problematic. The affirmed consent, I'm not sure what that is. I've read the bill. Short of exchanging permission slips, I'm not sure what that is.

"I think the bill misses the mark in the sense that it talks about treatment, sex education counseling, et cetera, et cetera, but the cause of this, Mr. Speaker, is booze and drugs. It's young people going out, drinking, getting stoned, partying, going out to the clubs, and losing control of their senses. Then they put themselves in positions to be victimized, and there are predators out there. I think one step that I'd be happy to work with the Health Chair is, on every sex ed program you have a predator protection module. We don't right now, not every one of them does. The good ones do, or some of them do. So I think protecting yourself against predators.

"The problem, Mr. Speaker, is that alcohol and drugs are always involved in these situations, all the time. And I don't think this measure pays enough attention to that. The underlying use of drugs and alcohol. If I had four drinks and took a couple tokes on a doobie, that affects me one way. A 90 pound girl does it, it totally affects her a different way.

"And then I'm not a lawyer so I could stand to be corrected on that, but it says, 'evidentiary standard of a preponderance of the evidence.' That seems to be a lower standard of evidence, Mr. Speaker, for a criminal offense. But I'm not an attorney, so I don't know for sure.

"So I support the intent of this, but it seems rather restrictive in the sense that I don't know what affirmative consent is, reading it. And again, I go back to booze and drugs. That's what causes this, Mr. Speaker, all the time. I tell my own kids, if you're out somewhere at 2:00 in the morning with booze and drugs, nothing ever ever good happens. And we all have responsibilities for putting ourselves in positions where we could get in trouble. Don't drink and drive.

"So I think an education program about the dangers of booze and drugs, more focus on that, then you don't have these problems where people are taken advantage of. Thank you, sir."

Representative McDermott's written remarks are as follows:

"One rape is too many. No reasonable person wants any woman to suffer from sexual assault. We should devote more resources to prosecuting and policing against sexual assault. However, I do have additional concerns about this bill.

"The Honolulu Star-Advertiser, in an editorial dated February 13, 2015, made this observation about the current affirmative consent bills in the Legislature: 'Most problematic is the vague definition of what constitutes "affirmative consent." The bills never define it—they only say what it isn't.'

"Further, the bill finds that proving a case by a 'preponderance of the evidence' standard is sufficient to determine that an accused person has acted wrongfully. I would note that a finding of sexual assault misconduct could lead to the expulsion of the accused. An expulsion from one university will likely mean that the accused student will never again be able to attend another university. Given the possibility of such a scenario, universities used to employ a 'clear and convincing evidence' standard, which is a higher burden of proof. I'm not sure that it is a good idea to mandate the use of a lower standard.

"The lack of a definition of 'affirmative consent' and the implementation of a 'preponderance of the evidence' standard could diminish the due process rights of the accused. In times of crisis, it is not uncommon for policymakers to chip away at liberties for the sake of security. The bill essentially presents the argument that we are in a time of crisis—that is, that one out of every five female students is sexually assaulted while she is in college. Thus—the argument goes—drastic changes are needed for the safety and security of the women in the University of Hawaii system.

"But is that statistic true? The bill does not name a source for the one-in-five figure. The U.S. Department of Justice, however, in December of last year, released a report entitled Rape and Sexual Assault Victimization Among College-Age Females, 1995–2013. The data showed that among female students aged 18-24, the combined percentage of women who were victims of completed rape, attempted rape, sexual assault, or threat of rape or sexual assault was about 0.61% per year. If we do the math, this means that among women of that age who will attend college for four years, one out of forty-one will be sexually assaulted.

"The same DOJ report also showed that female college students aged 18-24 were about 16% less likely than non-college women of the same age group to be victims of rape or sexual assault. So on average, a university campus is actually safer than most other locations.

"Again, one rape is too many. So I do so support this bill, albeit with reservations. Since this is a work in progress, I look forward to a continued dialogue as the measure's language is amended."

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations on HB 1455, HD1. My reservations on this measure stems mainly from the policy change of increasing the patient to caregiver ratio from one-to-one to three-to-one.

"Mr. Speaker, I believe that any increase would create the possibility of mismanagement or distribution where it is not permitted. This concerns me since there are still ongoing discussions on dispensaries for safer access. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with just a few brief comments. Mr. Speaker, I feel the need to stand up on this measure just to illuminate for individuals who might have reservations and opposition. The thing that you might be opposing is actually a very pro law enforcement bill. When you look at this measure and there's a limitation of the number of plants that can be on any single tax map key number. This measure, this provision, is designed to stop the very thing that many of us are afraid of, which is the proliferation of marijuana grower operations within our residential communities.

"Mr. Speaker, as an example, in April 2012, then Honolulu Police Department officer Michael Chu was arrested and charged by the federal government for, among other things, possession of between 10 to 20 marijuana plants that were found at this Mililani residence. His Mililani residential home. In August 2012 he pleaded guilty before a federal court to conspiring to cultivate 48 plants, and to possess with intent to distribute 49 pounds of processed marijuana. This measure shuts that down.

"We have heard in the multitude of testimony on medical marijuana, the police officers have a difficult time determining when they find plants whether or not they're medical marijuana plants and whether or not the three or four patients entitle that house to have 4 times 7, 28 plants in a home. Well what this measure does is say, there will be only 14 plants on a tax map key. Now this measure is not going to make us popular among the advocates, but I hope it might make us popular amongst the law enforcement to whom we are providing a tool.

"Mr. Speaker, this is also possible because I want to commend the work of the Department of Health, who in one and one-half years' time, when the program was transitioned to them, they are now contemplating a system where they can tag each plant belonging to a medical marijuana patient. The Department of Health, in one and one-half years' time, has built up and is contemplating rules to do that to make this enforcement piece possible. So I just want to make sure that our Members know what they might be opposing, and what they might have reservations about. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Belatti be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations, and then after talking with law enforcement to verify what was stated by the Chair, then I reserve the right upon Third Reading to change my vote. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations for the exact opposite everyone else is supporting it. In Puna, we have huge acreage, and people are poor, and people have multiple medical marijuana certificates living in the same area. Fourteen plants, which is really two certificates, prevents other medical marijuana holders from being in the same home, even if the acreage may be 20 acres or more. So to limit it to a TMK is extraordinarily difficult for us in Puna. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to register a no vote with comments, please. I don't know what happened that day, I can't remember if I walked in late, but I know that the Chair of Higher Education is so efficient, I think he holds UH's feet to the fire all the time, and I think that's what this bill is meant to do, is to make sure that the workload compensation for the professors is adequate for what they're doing.

"My concern is about the auditor doing it, so an audit of the workload for the faculty members as opposed to somebody who has the insight to know each of the fields. UH submitted testimony that they were also concerned that whoever does it needs to have expertise, and UHPA was in opposition to it. Personally I think because I had went through it, one of the things that the auditor did in the previous one was determine that anybody who does a lab as opposed to a lecture needs to be paid two-thirds a credit instead of one. That's something that can be taken care of I think at the collective bargaining level of the negotiation.

"So I guess my recommendation is, since UH is already saying that they're going to start doing it, talking about the workloads, revising the way that they're evaluated, maybe having them just do a report of how their progress is going as opposed to mandating the audit might be helpful, so that we can get somebody with expertise in there to make sure that the workloads are fairly compensated for the professors at UH. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with some reservations and a couple of comments. Mr. Speaker, ivory is a very precious jewelry piece, very precious commodity, but elephants are even more precious than that. Not because of any party symbols, but because of what they stand for, of one of the best animals that have been created in God's kingdom.

"What's going on is wholesale slaughter in places like Kenya and other African places. And fortunately, the United States has banned the import of ivory, it's illegal to have ivory. The problem is that it's slipped through the cracks and it's coming into Hawaii and to other places, and we need to do something about it.

"My problem with this bill is it needs to be written better. It's still got a tincture of anti-small business, some of the presumption that if you have even ivory regardless of where it came from or how you got it, whether it's legitimate, family heirloom, et cetera, there's a guilt factor and a shadow that I think we can do better. So as the first iteration, I say, yeah let's go for it, let's do this, but let's do it better. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

So I haven't read the bill, I don't know, but I just throw that out there as a red flag, sir. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to cast a no vote on this one, Mr. Speaker. My remarks will be brief. The first sentence of the bill, 'The legislature finds that youth violence and truancy are a significant problem in many neighborhoods, a problem compounded by a lack of afterschool break programs and services. The 2005 Youth Gangs report by the office of youth services,' et cetera, et cetera.

"This is an anti-gang bill, anti-truancy bill, to provide services. But if you go to page 3, one of the anti-gang services we're going to provide is gender programming. It doesn't seem to be a fit to me, Mr. Speaker. What is gender programming? 'Gender refers to our social and psychological identity as males and females - what it means to be masculine or feminine in the society in which we live. Gender is not fixed.' That's news to me, Mr. Speaker. Apparently news to most biologists as well. 'It is a social construct, often shaped by other identities such as our class, ethnicity, age and religion, and it can and does change over time and across cultures.'

"Mr. Speaker, why is this in an anti-gang bill? I don't understand. Is this a Trojan Horse to get these social engineering programs everywhere? And it doesn't talk about anything about parental consent, at least at my first blush. And who are these counselors? Are these child psychiatrists, MDs who are behavioral specialists, going to address these children with gender identity disorder? At least that's what the Chief of Psychiatry at John Hopkins University calls it, not knowing it's a right-wing think tank. So for this reason, Mr. Speaker, this is a poison pill for me, and I'm going to vote no on it, sir. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, the Hawaiian Word for the Day today is ahonui. Ahonui means patience, patient, enduring, long-suffering, to tolerate. The literal meaning is great breath. Ahonui is a very special word. Being patient and tolerant is often a difficult thing to do, I know, but isn't it interesting how ahonui also means long-suffering as well as the literal meaning of great breath. Ahonui is a reminder that when we are faced with situations and people who have challenged our patience and tolerance, we must take a great breath and reflect upon why we're feeling impatient or intolerant. A deep breath, the ha, our breath of life, will remind us that we are all one, so we should be ahonui with others as well as ourselves. So, a deep breath, Mr. Speaker."

But number two, which I think is the unkindest cut of all, if you are occupying your own time share, the one that you own, the one that you paid for, no matter where you're from or what you're doing, you have to pay that TAT tax as if you're a visitor, as if you're any other person off the street. I think that's unfair. The old notion of taxation without representation. These people occupying their own units, having to pay the 9.25% under this bill, up from 7.25%. And then they've got to pay the GE Tax on top of that, Mr. Speaker. I think this is overkill. I hope that some people will flag this saying, okay if you're going to raise it don't make them pay while they, the owners, are there. That's just not fair. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on HB 1075, HD 1, which authorizes the Maui Regional System to enter into an agreement with a private entity to transition to one or more of its facilities into a new private Hawaii nonprofit corporation.

"While I believe that taking steps to put our hospitals on sounder financial footing is necessary, I am worried about the potential hybrid this bill will create. Under this bill, the State loses much of its control over the assets and still is obligated to subsidize the now private entity, both on the operational and capital expenditure side. Much is being done by the State to attract a private entity, but it begs the question of whether absent incredibly favorable conditions for the private partner, if the state taxpayer is ultimately getting the best end of this deal.

"I worry about continued subsidization of the new private entity by the taxpayer. I would like to see changes to the Maui Regional System that will help provide quality care to Maui residents, but not in ways that put the State and its taxpayers in an awkward fiscal position."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to cast a no vote on this, although I support the intent. What I brought up in committee was, this doesn't address the issue of experience. So it's a wage equality based on gender. But if a female is an accountant with a construction company for 25 years and they hire a male at the same type of job, immediately they must pay him the exact same amount as that female who has been there for 25 years, because they're still doing the same task. I brought it up in committee, it was glossed over.

"This is a real world consequence of bills that we pass. Additionally, this sort of stuff is very political in nature and can be twisted by a plaintiff. This could be the trial lawyer's dream. For example, the biggest champion of gender equity in our country is who? President Obama. Yet his own White House staff doesn't follow this, where equal pay for equal work, at least that's what some would have us believe. You see, even he can fall victim to the twisting of this. So this is unworkable and doesn't take experience into account. So for that reason, I'm going to vote no."

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I request a ruling on a potential conflict? At my law firm I represent contractors and subcontractors. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to cast a no vote on this one, although I haven't read the bill. I'm not sure what the term 'transitional period' means, if that is set in statute by 25 years, 30 years, 40 years. Additionally, my concern is the ratepayer, that they get the most bang for their buck in the fuel. So while this is LNG, and America sits on an ocean of natural gas, I'm not sure that this is designed to benefit the consumer as opposed to benefit the people in the renewable energy industry. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against Standing Committee Report 410, House Bill 992, which is the special purpose revenue bond for Hawaiian Electric. A no vote, and here are my reasons. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, Hawaiian Electric in the original bill would be getting $800 million in SPRBs, which is about the ceiling of what we do allocate in SPRBs in a session.

"The amount has been blanked out, but let me just read what the bill is providing. It's to allow the Hawaiian Electric companies 'to continue multi-project capital improvement programs, including costs to cover the acquisition of land or the construction or acquisition of facilities used or related to the production, transmission, or distribution of electricity, or any combination thereof'.

"Mr. Speaker, when the Chief Financial Officer was in the hearing, she was unable to answer what exactly are these plans for Hawaiian Electric and how do they relate to the proposed purchase of Hawaiian Electric by NextEra. She was unable to answer any questions related to that.

"Mr. Speaker, I read this as providing money at low interest rates to allow the Hawaiian Electric companies to go ahead with the undersea cable along with other projects, but there were no answers that they could give to us at the hearing, so I am voting no. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just quickly, ruling on a potential conflict of interest. The potential conflict of interest is that I'm a stockholder of Hawaiian Electric Company stocks," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Oshiro continued and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a brief comment that this is clearly premature. If NextEra is going to buy this company, why we would be moving on this at this particular time doesn't seem to be logical. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing in support with strong reservations on HB 992, which would authorize the Department of Budget and Finance, upon approval from the Governor, to issue special purpose revenue bonds to Hawaiian Electric Company, Maui Electric Company, and Hawaii Electric Light Company.

"I am concerned about the State of Hawaii issuing bonds to a company that essentially monopolizes our energy market. At a time when our energy needs continue to grow, we too must also grow. However, this is growth in the same direction, which will only take us so far. We should be looking at assisting reliable companies that can provide new and sustainable energy solutions. Mr. Speaker, we should be encouraging a diversification of our energy market, because with competition comes innovation and new and better ideas.

"Given the current situation regarding the merger between Hawaiian Electric Company and NextEra, it would be unwise for the State to get involved monetarily. If the public interest is the primary concern for this bill, our people would be better served by diversifying the energy market and providing our citizens with more options in energy providers and producers.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and note my reservations on HB 992. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Ruling on a potential conflict, Mr. Speaker. I do also own shares in Hawaiian Electric Corporation," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Onishi rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, ruling on a conflict of interest. I also own stocks in Hawaiian Electric," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Say rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, also ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a shareholder of Hawaiian Electric," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Say continued, stating:

"Can this be carried over through the whole session?"

Speaker Souki addressed Representative Say, stating:

"With Hawaiian Electric, yes. So ordered."

Representative Onishi rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, same request," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. Just briefly, I think if this is going to be for grid modernization, that's a great thing and I think we should move forward and consider it, but I do want to echo the concerns of the Representative from Kailua, I think that unless this is environmental and making environmental improvements, it does subject us to the bond ceiling for private activity bonds that's set by the IRS. So I just want to make sure, because it could potentially limit what else we can do this session. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 992, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS TO ASSIST HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY, INC., MAUI ELECTRIC COMPANY, LIMITED, AND HAWAII ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY, INC.," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives DeCoite, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Oshiro, Tupola and Ward voting aye with reservations, with Representative Thielen voting no, and with Representative Ito being excused.

As a former military person and a former smoker, one of the free times was, if you got 'em, smoke 'em, and that was the breaks. The point being, Mr. Speaker, if these young people are put on the line to die for their country, we're denying them a smoke break. We're saying in this bill, if you're under 21, you cannot buy cigarettes.

"Now it doesn't say anything about you can't inhale. It doesn't say anything about actually using it or being a smoker, it just says you can't purchase them. I think for those who are in the military at sometimes 17, 18, 19, and who need a break, and we know that PTSD and all of those things and the stresses are very severe on these young guys, saying that they can't buy cigarettes, as when I was a big smoker and in the military, as you were, Mr. Speaker, this could be a very important issue. For now it may be tangential, but I just want to alert people that this may not be good policy. Thank you."

"Our citizens are already paying a lot of money to live in this state. While the fee is a small one of less than a dollar, I still have reservations about making them pay any more money than they have to.

"The State has a responsibility to provide services to its people. Those services, Mr. Speaker, should be paid for with the tax dollars collected from the people by the State.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, please. Serious reservations, brief comment. As a former graduate assistant, Mr. Speaker, I don't believe this bill is necessary. A graduate student assistant, as I was, is not a full time worker and not a full time student, they do both. So this is not really a labor, a pure labor bill, because anybody who's a graduate assistant usually gets fast tracked on a master's degree, or as myself, I was at the Ph.D. level, and you get a lot of special treatment in addition to, not a living wage, but an incentive. And to organize this into a union, I think is a bit of an overkill. And in fact, there's just a handful of graduate assistants because they say there's not enough money for them to even have enough numbers to hire them.

"So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I don't think collective bargaining for graduate students is a necessary element for our university. Our university has enough problems with their budget. To add on to this for graduate students I think it's not a major issue right now. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to cast a no vote. We've been here the last 20 minutes, we've just hit every driver with a $2 charge, dollar before, dollar now. I can't believe there's not some way we can find a nexus between the traffic tickets issued to people who park in handicapped spots, increasing that, collect that, and fund this. Fund the violators who are actually harming the people who have a disability. Why do we have to tax every driver another dollar? And again, they're asking, what am I paying my taxes for? Thank you, sir."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote, brief comments. Mr. Speaker, this adds insult to injury. All of our constituents, including yours, Mr. Speaker, are suffering from sticker shock. After the last two years of the weight tax, the registration tax increase, throwing another dollar on this year, throwing another dollar on the next year. This is what I had called earlier the 'middle class bill killer number one'.

"This is something that we don't want to do because it's a good cause, but every time we have a good cause we really hide what is the substantive area of the fault of this Legislature, Mr. Speaker. We have 57% of our families that need subsidies for the kids to eat lunch in their schools. We are taxing our people too much, we need to let up on them and lower the cost of living, and this is one small way we can do it.

"Even though you can say, well this is a cup of coffee or something like that, that's the old syndrome of putting the frog in the boiling water, it jumps out, but if you just turn up the heat slowly, as we have done in this Legislature continually, we're burning out our middle class, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. In support with a brief comment. I'd just like to bring it to attention, that our committee would like the Finance Committee to look into further maybe adjusting the Department of Transportation's portion, and not necessarily to raise it. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please, a no vote. I thank my colleague for her comments. That would be excellent to look into. The Disability and Communication Access Board did mention that they can't maintain this anymore and that they'd like help from the DOT, so it'd be best, I believe, to put it under them. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to cast a no vote on this. The reason being is, it removes any reference to a spouse in here. Which means unmarried couples can get in vitro fertilization. The data is clear, children do best with a mother and father. Regnerus' report, peer reviewed, University of Texas. Mr. Speaker, families that are married and have children, the children tend to do better, as long as those parents are married.

"And what happens if you have a couple cohabitating and they have a child? They could split up, and then perhaps that child is going to be the burden of the taxpayer through welfare, food stamps, and everything else. This isn't a good policy. It doesn't keep families together. It does quite the opposite. So I'm going to vote no on this, and I would note that the Chamber of Commerce is also against it as well. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "I stand with strong reservations and I have some brief comments. This bill was amended by removing notification requirements with the right to opt-out of participating in statewide standardized testing. "There is an active bipartisan nationwide movement to opt-out of high stakes standardized testing led by teachers, parents, administrators and others. Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote, please. Mr. Speaker, Oahu has a coal plant that contributes to our electrical production. This tax is going to be passed directly on to the consumer, and because I live out in that area I'm probably going to see an increase in my bill. This is just a money grab.

"Whenever we increase the cost of LNG, or say we're using coal out on the west side, that makes renewables more attractive because we're increasing the cost. So here's an opportunity to grab money and help some of those people in the renewable energy industry.

"This tax wasn't there before. Aren't electric bills high enough, Mr. Speaker, at 38 cents a kilowatt hour? Aren't they high enough? Do we need to raise them more? That's what this does. This is an electric bill increase.

"We use coal on Oahu, we're going to raise the taxes, and that's going to be passed right on through your base fuel charge on your bill. So every consumer can thank us for raising their electric bill. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, in addition to my colleague from Ewa Beach, I should note that if there's ever any tax savings by having LNG, and we know that's been talked about as a way of saving from having petroleum burned, which is $5 to $6 billion a year that we export, those savings should go into the consumers.

"But what we've got here, and it sounds so great, it's Relating to the Funding of Government Programs, but it's a 19 cents per barrel tax on coal, natural gas, LNG, et cetera.

"Mr. Speaker, I don't see how we can justify this. I think maybe it could even get in the way of disincentivizing the talks between NextEra and HECO. NextEra is talking about bringing in LNG as a way of passing on savings to the consumer. What we do in the meantime is lateral it into the government by having this 19 cents attached on to it. It may disincentivize this whole buy-out process.

"Mr. Speaker, this is not a policy that I think is worth pursuing, and this is why this is middle class killer bill number three. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Very briefly, in support, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to perhaps correct the Representative from Hawaii Kai, this is not a 19 cents per barrel tax on LNG. LNG is calculated separately, so it is equivalent of the current barrel tax on petroleum products.

"And there are three good reasons why this is moving forward for further discussion. First of all, number one, it's designed to sustain the government programs which the good Representative spoke of, funding our emergency environmental response cleanup. Not only that, but our energy programs, which include our renewable portfolio standards, things which actually save us money, and had been demonstrated in recent years to save taxpayers and ratepayers more than $60 million in one year alone. These are programs that put PV on people's roofs, that reduce their costs by increasing efficiency, and all the other things that are collectively, for everybody, reducing costs.

"Secondly, I'd just like to add that, as an imported fuel, liquid natural gas or other things like coal or others are subject to potentially dangerous situations. If liquid natural gas comes into Hawaii, for example, one of the options is an off shore docking mooring off of Barbers Point, which big tanker ships would come up to, dock, offload the LNG, which would go through a pipe down in the sea floor, onto land. If there's an accident and there's a spill, currently with oil, the barrel tax applied to it pays for that cleanup. There's no such thing for LNG, and if there's a spill, that's going to be borne by taxpayers, if borne by anybody at all.

"Secondly, if you have other situations that come up, spills, disaster response, this is the fund that funds all of that. And it is a clear nexus so that taxpayers aren't just paying for this themselves, but a nexus between those things being imported, which could potentially have a catastrophic impact on our coastline, on our economy, and the cost to ensure that there's a cleanup and protection and preventative maintenance to ensure these things don't happen.

"And lastly, Mr. Speaker, I'd just like to point out most of all, most importantly, this is a matter of business fairness between those companies that bring in fossil fuels that are taxed at a certain rate, and those who might bring in alternatives like LNG, which aren't. Everything needs to be played on a fair playing field so that everybody is taxed the same and the market can then dictate what the best alternative solution is going to be to reduce cost for everybody. So with that, I stand in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 541) recommending that H.B. No. 459, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Education.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 459, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Education, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. Mr. Speaker, I have to apologize to my colleagues, I didn't keep my eye on the ball in the beginning. I was focused on the opt-in, opt-out provision which has been removed from this bill. And so that's what I was focused on.

"Mr. Speaker, I guess I have a rhetorical question. Who do we work for? And that's the parents, the constituents, the families. Last year with Pono Choices, across this state parents said, we don't want that. We don't want that, Mr. Speaker. And so a sex education program that parents found objectionable, they went to the Board of Education, the Board of Education changed their policy. And initially we came in and attempted to override what the parents said.

"Mr. Speaker, it's no secret, I have no juice in this room and I have no committee chairmanship and I have no authority, all I have is my voice and to speak the truth. Parents were outraged because of the objectionable material that was in those programs.

"And now the opt-in, opt-out is taken out, but I didn't keep my eye on the ball, Mr. Speaker, because now this is a major change in sex education policy in this state. It's no longer optional for middle school and high school to teach it, it is now mandatory with this bill, from elementary school to high school, sex education programs.

"Now, if we can rely on the DOE to abide by state statute, I'd be okay with that, because state statute requires it to be medically accurate. That means precision. You see when I go in to get my appendix out, they don't take my gallbladder and say, well close enough, McDermott. No, there's precision, there's accuracy, appendix. Well, it wasn't medically accurate. Introduced an amendment on this Floor last year to try and get my Members to agree with me, but only the Members of the Minority Caucus stood with me.

"But the Board of Education recognized it was indeed medically inaccurate and they made some changes. But we can't rely on the DOE, Mr. Speaker. And one of the flaws in this law is there's no mechanism or recourse to require that they are indeed medically accurate, other than the words on the paper which they disregard.

"Now the other issue is age appropriate. And the statute says, 'suitable to a particular age or age group based on developing cognitive, emotional, and behavioral capacity typical for that age or age group.'

"Mr. Speaker, I have a lot of opinions. Am I an expert in behavioral development in children? No, no. I've got eight kids, but I'm no expert. I'm not a child psychiatrist, I'm not board certified in behavioral health of any discipline, I'm not board certified in neurology, or psychosomatic medicine. These are the disciplines, these are the credentialed experts who need to make that determination of age appropriateness. Not a gym teacher, not a former HSTA union executive, not an openly homosexual doctor who spent his whole life trying to get this into the schools, not a vice principal, not a pastor. People who are credentialed in these disciplines. Because in this Body we talk about education."

At 1:50 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:50 o'clock p.m.

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Good news and bad news, Mr. Speaker. You interrupted me but you allowed me to gather my thoughts for a second wind.

"I know my Members, our colleagues are waiting with bated breath. But, Mr. Speaker, age appropriateness is a real issue. By the way, I'd like permission to insert comments into the Journal before I forget."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Was that five minutes already? Wow. I'm just getting started. Mr. Speaker, that's good news. Mr. Speaker, age appropriateness. One of the programs we evaluated, and we called the DOE out on it, and this is why there needs to be a mechanism, this is why you need credentialed people, which is not in the bill, you need credentialed experts, people with the education necessary, and I'll admit I'm not that person, Mr. Speaker. Again, it's child psychiatrist, someone certified in the behavioral medicine specialty, neurology, psychosomatic, all doctors, physicians who've made this their lifetime of practice, they're experts in this field. Not a gym teacher, not a pastor.

"We pointed out the standard, they didn't follow the state statutes. And they said, well you know what, our blue ribbon committee said it's age appropriate. That blue ribbon committee is all these people I just mentioned. That's who's on there. One medical professional. How can that be? And not even trained in this. Mr. Speaker, that's very problematic.

"Also what's problematic is what kind of material are these kids going to get? I have seen it. Make no mistake about it, Mr. Speaker, they're going to be taught about anal sex. And they're going to be taught that oral, anal and vaginal are exactly the same. They have the same risk tolerance, which they don't. They have the same end impact, which they don't. They are going to be conflated, because it's social engineering.

"And who is the number one purveyor and writer of sex education material in the country today? Planned Parenthood, that's who's behind this bill. They want to brainwash these kids, inculcate them with a new set of values that's contrary to their parents.

"So that's why we've got to get them as early as possible, Mr. Speaker. We've got to talk to them at about three years old about anal sex. My goodness, Mr. Speaker, what happened last session? Across the State, parents said, get that stuff out of the schools. And we come back, now we're going to go younger, we're going to go younger.

"It reminds me of the guy who's sick and he's taking medicine, and every time he takes the medicine it makes him feel worse. So the doctor says, well take more medicine, and he feels worse and worse. This is what we're doing.

"Age appropriateness. Young children in elementary schools can suffer mental harm if they are taught sex education too early. Psychiatrist Melvin Anchell noted, 'Scholastic tests done on today's sexually educated 6- to 12-year-olds, indeed, show,' 6- to 12-year-olds, what are we doing? What are we doing, Mr. Speaker, 6- to 12-year-olds, can't they have their innocence? Can't they be children, please? I didn't come down here looking for a fight. I was happy until my office guy told me this was on the agenda. '6- to 12-year-olds, indeed, show that these students have accomplished less scholastically than pre-sex-education students.' 'The sex teachings given to the 6- to 12-year-old students keep sexual impulses stirred up, disrupting sexual growth, as well as personal and cultural achievements. A partial summary of adverse effects due to the sex educators' interferences during' this period is that, quote, 'they: 1) make the 6- to 12-year-old student less educable; 2) can block the development of compassion; 3) weaken the mental barriers controlling base sexual instincts, thereby making the child vulnerable to perversions in later life.'

"Well I don't know if there's any such thing as a perversion anymore, Mr. Speaker, because it's all equal. In these courses there is no, have we lost all moral decency? Have we? Have we lost any common moral code as a society? Why do we have to bring this into the kids? Because that's what Planned Parenthood wants to do. And they're not a health organization, their own website says they're a policy advocate organization."

The Chair addressed Representative McDermott, stating:

"Representative, I remind you this is a Second Reading, it's going to the Education Committee. If it passes, it's coming back here again. You'll have ample opportunity then to continue to speak on this issue."

Representative McDermott: "Mr. Speaker, I earned my spot on this Floor, and I'm going to speak. That's all I get in this building, and you're not going to take it away from me."

Speaker Souki: "Well, within the bounds of civility, you can continue."

Representative McDermott: "I'm being civil."

Speaker Souki: "Please continue."

Representative Tupola rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Nowhere in these programs do you hear the concept of a long-term monogamous relationship. Nowhere, Mr. Speaker. That's not part of the game anymore. Long term monogamous relationship is a judgment. Really? The best sex is safe sex in the context of a long-term monogamous relationship. I remember Magic Johnson saying that. It's no longer politically correct. You can't say that, Mr. Speaker.

"And the worse part about these programs is they omit, omit the elevated risks of HIV through these particular behaviors."

At 1:57 o'clock p.m., Representative Saiki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:59 o'clock p.m.

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and at your urging, I will try and wrap it up, sir. The bad news is, I'll come back at Third Reading. But, Mr. Speaker, the proponents of this are going to say that kids need information and education and more information, and more education, and more tools. The problem is, we're giving them the wrong information, we're not giving them all the information, we're not being truthful and honest. We're omitting elevated risk from anomalous behaviors, we're not telling them that, Mr. Speaker, and that's going to be their attitude.

"The second thing is, they're going to say, well we'll just say no. I'm not calling for abstinence. I'm not asking for abstinence, so I don't want anybody to get up and say, we'll just say no, that doesn't work. Well it worked with smoking, but that's not what I'm asking for, Mr. Speaker. I'm asking for abstinence-based that follows the statute. Now we've got a problem, because this, I want to send out a clear, clarion call to everyone that this is a remarkable change in the sex education policy that starts with elementary school, and Planned Parenthood is going to write it and run it. Thank you."

"I am also concerned that page 3 of the bill states: 'At their own discretion, teachers may answer in good faith any question initiated by a student or students that is reasonably related to and consistent with the material of a course...' This is very broad. I am concerned that when such comments are not part of the written curriculum, parents will have less information regarding what information is actually presented in the classroom.

"Page 4 of the bill states that 'Sexuality health education...shall not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, ethnicity, national origin, disability, religion, sexual orientation, or gender identity'. The reality is that not all relationships are the same. There are health consequences to male-on-male sexual intercourse. According to the CDC, bisexual and homosexual males are about 2% of the US population; but an estimated 57% persons living with an HIV diagnosis in the United States are gay and bisexual men, or gay and bisexual men who also inject drugs.

"This language could mean that homosexual relationships and transgender lifestyles would need to be discussed—even to elementary students. Yet the bill's language could also simultaneously lead to the censorship of the disclosure of the elevated health risks of homosexual behavior—since such disclosure could be deemed 'discrimination'. The bill could also be used to censor dissent against the merits of transgender surgery, even though Johns Hopkins—which originally pioneered such surgeries—stopped doing them because that organization's Dr. Paul McHugh found that transgenderism is a mental disorder.

"For the record, I am attaching copies of my two 'McDermott Reports' into the Journal. Both reports detail some of the problems that my office has observed regarding Pono Choices. I am also attaching a summary of some helpful comments that Oahu resident Susan Duffy submitted to my office."

Representative McDermott submitted the following summary of comments from Susan McDuffy, Oahu resident:

"DOE's "Sexual Health Education Fact Sheet" has no standards for teaching sex ed to elementary school students. This fact sheet only covers middle and high school.

http://www.hawaiipublicschools.org/DOE%20Forms/Health%20and%20Nutrition/Sexual%20Health%20Education%20Fact%20Sheet.pdf

The DOE fact sheet talks about teen pregnancy and STI's as if to imply that this is the big reason we need sex ed. Five year olds cannot get pregnant. Where is the background that illustrates the demand for elementary school sex ed?

Does the legislature want to mandate sex ed for elementary school students without any discussion from parents, without any dialogue whatsoever? This bill carries an inherent anti-parent bias and in my opinion, shows nothing but utter contempt for parents and their rights.

Since there are no DOE standards for teaching sex ed to elementary school students in place, perhaps they are going to use the "National Sexuality Education Standards". If these are anything like the Common Core standards, I am not sure that the "national" sexuality standards are any more legitimate.

In a January 27, 2014 Washington Post article entitled "Why support for Common Core is sinking", Carol Burris, a New York school principal, commented against CC.

http://www.washingtonpost.com/blogs/answer-sheet/wp/2014/01/27/why-support-for-common-core-is-sinking/

In a March 24, 2014 Washington Post article entitled "Ravitch: The best reason to oppose the Common Core Standards", Diane Ravitch also provided comments against CC.

http://www.washingtonpost.com/blogs/answer-sheet/wp/2014/03/24/ravitch-the-best-reason-to-oppose-the-common-core-standards/

They were written in a manner that violates the nationally and international recognized process for writing standards. The process by which they were created was so fundamentally flawed that these "standards" should have no legitimacy.

Setting national academic standards is not something done in stealth by a small group of people, funded by one source, and imposed by the lure of a federal grant in a time of austerity.

There is a recognized protocol for writing standards, and the Common Core standards failed to comply with that protocol.

In the United States, the principles of standard-setting have been clearly spelled out by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI).

On its website ANSI describes how standards should be developed in every field...

ANSI's fundamental principles of standard-setting are transparency, balance, consensus, and due process, including a right to appeal by interested parties. According to ANSI, there are currently more than 10,000 American national standards, covering a broad range of activities.

How about in the area of sex ed? Where was the balance in the development of those standards? The following link talks about the National Sexuality Education Standards. There's no indication that child development experts or child psychologists. Where's the evidence of balance and consensus? Were parents consulted?

http://www.advocatesforyouth.org/publications/publications-a-z/1947-future-of-sex-education-national-sexuality-education-standards

The part of the bill that asks the DOE to submit an annual report sounds a little like asking the IRS to "investigate" itself.

The fact is that Comprehensive Sex Education does NOT reduce the incidence of STI's but increases them.

I. BOB McDERMOTT'S INTRODUCTORY COMMENTARY

Parents across Hawaii raised concerns about the Pono Choices curriculum. The responses from the Hawaii Department of Education (DOE) have raised more questions for us than they answered. So my office began to dig again and, not surprisingly, what we found was shocking.

Families were told that Pono Choices was being tested as a "new curriculum", or a "pilot project". Yet it was never made clear to them that their students were participating in a "research project." Research projects necessarily require "informed consent" when human subjects are involved. Such is the cornerstone of human subject protections. Further, since DOE facilities and resources were used, Pono Choices violated several safeguards contained in the Federal Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA). This is a horrible breach of trust between the DOE and the Parents, whom the DOE are supposed to serve.

We now know that Pono Choices has twice been sent back to the University of Hawaii (UH) for changes. The first time was in 2011, due to the graphic nature of some photos used. More recently, this past June, it was sent back, in order to correct a slew of bogus and misleading information that the chief proponents of the program, Planned Parenthood, passed off as science. What do we now tell the parents whose children, through Pono Choices, received unduly graphic material, medically inaccurate and misleading information, and factual errors? How do we go back and remedy the damage that the UH and the DOE have done? Quite simply, we can't.

Contrary to what the DOE states publicly, its criterion for evaluating the "age appropriateness" is shockingly mediocre: "Can the child understand and comprehend the verbiage, grammar and words taught?" Based on this, the department apparently gave little care, if any, to what effect Pono Choices' lessons on anal sex would have on students' emotional and psychological makeup.

Despite the DOE's assertions, Pono Choices was never certified as medically accurate. The program was submitted to the United States Office of Adolescent Health (OAH), which then subcontracted a medical review via Paltech. These results were then sent to the University of Hawaii. Yet no one ever verifies if the changes were made. Oddly, the OAH then "approve Pono Choices for use". Yet here's the trick: The OAH does not approve for medical accuracy, as it has a policy that forbids them from doing so. So with this passing-the-buck, we ended up with the ludicrous definition of the anus a genitalia, and the practical equalization of anal and vaginal sex.

Pono Choices, as my office noted in our previous McDermott Report, treats homosexuality as a normal, common lifestyle. Yet, based on National Health Interview Survey data from 2013, 96.6% of American adults identified as straight, 1.6% identified as gay or lesbian, and 0.7% identified as bisexual. The remaining 1.1% of adults identified as ''something else,'' stated ''I don't know the answer,'' or refused to provide an answer. Why are we trying to mainstream these aberrant behaviors, and obfuscate the elevated risks on top of that?

If we must discuss behaviors that are anomalies, then the discussion should be in the scientific context using reliable data. That means including the fact that over half of all new cases of HIV occur from male homosexual behavior. After all, if we love our children, should we not give them the facts? Telling the very few children who will one day engage in homosexual behavior that the risk is the same as heterosexual behavior is a deadly disservice to them.

Another disturbing fact is the fact that Pono Choices had no predator protection module, nor an abuse prevention guide. By repeatedly telling 11 year-old children that they are responsible for their decisions, and through the celebration of aberrant behaviors, we are setting our children up for victimization by those adults who practice pedophilia, ephebophilia, and hebephilia. The harm done by sexual abuse is staggering with an abundance of evidence documenting the harm. With the beginnings of an extraordinarily aggressive movement afoot nationally and internationally to accept "inter-generational" sex as just another orientation, the danger is imminent One only need read the plethora of articles in respected psychological journals to see the path ahead. After all, they tell us, "love is love". Yet astonishingly, the DOE still finds no compelling need for Pono Choices to include a predator protection module.

Additionally, the students, the teachers, and community liaisons were given gift cards for their participation in Pono Choices.[1] Not only were such gift cards in violation of state law, but they also necessarily rendered all the data collected in the Pono Choices research project as meaningless, due to an inherent input bias as a result of a financial inducement. I asked the DOE to inform me of the dollar value of the taxpayer funded gift cards. They failed to answer me. Consequently, I filed an ethics complaint against the department in July for violating state law. The gift card distribution violated all ethical guidelines in standard research.

The DOE needs to stop its social engineering. I know of NO ONE who has asked that these concepts be introduced to their children.

I recommend the DOE should stick to teaching human reproduction in the context of health education classes, where the students shall learn actual science and useful risk prevention skills. The DOE should implement as a matter of course a robust and rigorous predator protection module. The DOE should fully inform Parents that condom usage will be discussed in such classes and provide complete transparency of the materials. Further, Planned Parenthood needs to get out of our schools as they certainly have a political agenda. The DOE should apologize to parents for using Hawaii's children in a research project as human subjects. Regardless of its internal policy, the DOE should follow ethical mandates with regard to stipends and financial inducements.

Lastly, the DOE needs to remember who they work for: The parents own the school system and pay the freight. Any departure from long-accepted norms should receive broad parental approval.

It is my genuine hope that this report provides some clarity to the DOE. We are watching.

II. PREFACE

Due to the overwhelming public response to the tax payer funded sex education program, "Pono Choices" the Hawaii State Department of Education DOE released two reports – "Stakeholder Panel Review: Pono Choices Curriculum" and its companion report "Implementing Sexual Health Education: Background and Actions for Improvement."[2]

HI-DOE Deputy Superintendent Ron Nozoe noted, "We hope these two reports and our subsequent actions will put this issue behind us."[3] While these reports do represent a partial victory for parents and for children's advocates, these efforts cannot and will not "put this issue behind us." Glaring problems still exist: The curriculum's content is harmful to children; there is a lack of transparency and misrepresentation of the curriculum's contents by the University of Hawai'i - Center on Disability Studies (UH-CDS); and there are multiple violations of Federal and state law.

The McDermott Report II – The Credibility Gap Widens, published by the Office of Hawaii State Representative Bob McDermott, responds to the DOE reports and demonstrates the continued issues facing UH-CDS, the Hawaii State DOE, U.S. Office of Adolescent Health (OAH), Hawaii State Board of Education (BOE), the Governor and the Hawai'i State Legislature.

III. ANALYSIS

A. MAKING PONO CHOICES: FROM GRANT APPLICATION TO PILOT TESTING

Federal Funding is appropriated for research and testing of innovative sex education programs

During the last decade, state, local, and Federal governments have implemented a large number of new evidence-based practices, the largest number during the last 5 years.[4] In 2010, President Obama and Congress enacted the President's Teen Pregnancy Prevention (TPP) initiative in the Affordable Care Act (ACA) which provided $110 million for competitive contracts and grants for both private and public entities to fund "medically accurate and age-appropriate programs that reduce teen pregnancy and associated risk behaviors."[5]

In order to carry out the TPP initiative, the U.S. Office of Adolescent Health (OAH) was formed under the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).[6] OAH is "the convener and catalyst for the development of a national adolescent health agenda."[7] In furtherance of this agenda, OAH provides grants to test sex education programs on students nationwide to build a body of evidence for "evidence-based" "programs that work".

Starting in 2010, OAH awarded Teen Pregnancy Prevention (TPP) 5-year cooperative agreement grants.[8] This teen pregnancy prevention grant initiative consists of two funding tiers: Tier 1 for the "replication of evidence-based programs" and Tier 2 to "develop and test additional models and innovative strategies."[9] Nationwide, approximately 170,000 preteens and teens are "served" each year by these programs.[10]

All TPP grants are 5-year cooperative agreements requiring "substantial involvement" between OAH and the grantee.[11] At the end of the 5-year cooperative agreement (2015), OAH expects that all programs developed and evaluated with funding from TPP grants be "packaged" "implementation ready" and "available for replication" in other areas of the country.[12]

U.S. Office of Adolescent Health awarded University of Hawaii Center on Disability Studies a Teen Pregnancy Prevention (TPP- Tier 2) Grant to develop and implement an innovative sex education curriculum

UH-CDS is an organization "focused upon development and conduct of interdisciplinary education, training, research, demonstration and evaluation, and university and community service."[13] In 2010, UH-CDS applied for and received a TPP Tier-2 grant from OAH to develop and implement the untested innovative sex education program "Pono Choices."[14] This program's targeted population is "Native Hawai'ians, Part-Hawai'ians, and other Asian-Pacific islanders, ages 11-13."[15]

According to the Federal grant Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA),[16] OAH was seeking "priority populations" like Native Hawai'ians to test innovative sex education programs in part because they exhibit "high-risk factors" such as "high rates of poverty, juvenile incarceration, school drop-out, and domestic violence; vulnerable and culturally underrepresented youth populations, immigrant populations; those in foster care or in the adjudication system; and high teenage pregnancy rates."[17]

Creating Pono Choices – a "solution" to high STI rates and teen pregnancy rates in Hawai'i

UH-CDS recognizes that "teen pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections (STIs) are serious public health issues."[18] Their "solution"[19] to these problems is Pono Choices, a sex education program that "provides young adolescents with the knowledge, attitudes, beliefs and skills necessary to reduce their risk of sexually transmitted infections (STIs) and pregnancy by incorporating medically accurate information, character education and Hawaiian cultural values."[20]

Pono Choices "core writing team" consisted of individual staff members from ALU LIKE, Inc., Planned Parenthood of Hawaii (PPH), and UH-CDS."[21] UH-CDS incorporated aspects of three primary evidence-based programs: (1) Making Proud Choices! (2) Positive Action (3) Na Ha'awina Ho'opono – Lessons in Behaving Correctly.[22]

UH-CDS also contracted with Making Proud Choices! developers and Positive Action developers to ensure that components of their respective programs were integrated into Pono

Choices with "fidelity."[23] Additionally, UH-CDS collaborated in the development of Pono Choices with "full participation" from the Hawaii State DOE.[24]

Pono Choices was first pilot tested in April 2011.[25] Based on "feedback from the teacher and students" in the pilot test 1, the Pono Choices writers, among other changes, removed some "graphic pictures" from the program.[26] A few months later, "pilot testing of the revised curriculum took place in an O'ahu middle school."[27] To "test the curriculum's design", Pono Choices writers gave surveys to students before and after they participated in the program and asked students to "rate their knowledge attitude, skills, intentions and behaviors about various sexual health topics."[28]

Additionally, throughout this process, the "effectiveness" of each pilot testing period was assessed "in relation to change in knowledge beliefs, and behaviors that promote safe sex practices and reduce the risk of pregnancy and STIs."[29] More changes were made as a result of pilot test 2.[30]

Pilot test 3 continued at the same O'ahu middle school with a smaller group of the same students who participated in the second pilot test. By the end of this pilot testing period, the Pono Choices curriculum team was "confident that the curriculum was ready to implement."[31]

Pono Choices was appraised with guidelines from "Standards for High Quality Health Education Curriculum." Additionally, UH-CDS contracted with an external evaluator Berkeley Policy Associates (now Impaq International) to appraise the Pono Choices program against State of Hawaii Standards and Benchmarks.[32]

After all the pilot testing and many revisions, Pono Choices was "ready" and teachers are instructed in Module 1 to tell the students that Pono Choices curriculum "meets several standards and benchmarks" set by the state and "the state of Hawaii has decided that it's important for you to learn about this."[33]

B. A FLAWED PROCESS LEADS TO A FLAWED PRODUCT

Planned Parenthood of Hawai'i (PPH) is unqualified to provide "expertise" in medical accuracy

Both Federal law and Hawai'i state law require sex education programs to be medically accurate. The Federal law specifying the requirements for the TPP grantees states that:

> The term "medically accurate and complete" means verified or supported by research conducted in compliance with accepted scientific methods and recognized as accurate and objective by professional organizations and agencies with expertise in the relevant field, such as the Federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the American Public Health Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.[34]

Hawai'i state law has a very similar definition of medical accuracy in sex education:

> Medically accurate means verified or supported by research conducted in compliance with accepted scientific methods and recognized as accurate and objective by professional organizations and agencies with expertise in the relevant field, such as the Federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the American Public Health Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.[35]

Pono Choices does not meet either the Federal or Hawaii state law. In developing the Pono Choices curriculum, UH-CDS contracted with Planned Parenthood of Hawaii (PPH) to provide "expertise" in ensuring that "medically accurate terminology" was "embedded throughout the [Pono Choices] lessons."[36]

Unlike the American Academy of Pediatrics, or the other organizations specifically identified in Federal and Hawai'i state law, Planned Parenthood is not qualified to ensure medical accuracy. Despite this, PPH and UH-CDS worked together to create "Pono Choices definitions"[37] to describe words that already have medically accurate definitions like "genital" and "anus."

Stedman's Medical Dictionary is an authoritative source relied on by medical professionals throughout the country. The medically accurate definition of genital is "relating to reproduction"[38] and the medically accurate definition of genitalia is "organs of reproduction or generation, external and internal"[39]

However, Pono Choices curriculum defines anus as a genital because anal penetration is one way "sexually transmitted infections are transmitted."[40] UH-CDS defends this characterization of the anus as a genital by citing Merriam-Webster's Dictionary, which states that a genital is "of, relating to, or being a sexual organ."[41] These are not medically accurate or objective medical definitions.

The Hawaii State DOE convened a "stakeholder review panel" which produced a report in response to many community members' concerns of medical inaccuracies and other age-appropriateness issues found in Pono Choices. In this report, a panel member shared that, "There is no one definition of the word 'genital,' and there is disagreement even within the medical community as to whether or not the 'anus' should be defined as a genital."[42]

While it is true that there is more than one definition of "genital," the laws require the medically accurate definition. It is unacceptable and indefensible to use a definition that does not meet the standards for medical accuracy as specified in Hawai'i state law and set out by Congress in the Affordable Care Act.

On February 18, 2014, Craig Astle, a medical doctor, concerned about this and other medical inaccuracies found in Pono Choices submitted comments to the Hawaii State DOE, stating that:

> Genital organs are part of the reproductive system. The anus, however, is clearly part of the gastrointestinal tract and its function is fecal elimination, having nothing to do with reproduction. This flagrant falsehood purporting that the anus is somehow a genital organ and therefore a 'natural' part of sexual expression seems intentionally misleading.

(See Appendix A.) In addition to the violations of state and Federal law, this and many other medical inaccuracies taught by the Pono Choices curriculum obscure and minimize the heightened risks to children ages 11-13 of certain alternative sexual activities.[43]

For example, Pono Choices does not distinguish between the extraordinarily different rates of contracting STI through anal penetration versus vaginal sex. In defense of this position, a medical doctor on the DOE stakeholder review panel shared that "unprotected anal or vaginal sex are both higher risk than protected anal or vaginal risk and differentiating between the statistics may be unnecessary."[44] This is dangerous and misleading to tell children. "It is a well-documented fact that anal sex has a much higher transmission rate of sexually transmitted infections than vaginal sex does." (See Appendix A.)

The doctor further notes that:

> ...anal intercourse and oral sex are equivalent practices with vaginal intercourse. As a gynecologist I can assure you that such is not the case. The vagina is well suited to penile penetration and can withstand the friction involved due to a unique vaginal mucosa which lubricates and cleanses the vaginal vault. Special glands at the vaginal opening also aid in lubrication. The anus has no such glands for lubrication and is designed for expulsion only. The repeated friction from anal penetration can damage the more delicate mucosa, causing micro tears and increasing the likelihood of STD transmission. Chronic abuse of the anus as a receptacle can lead to fecal incontinence. It is false and irresponsible to teach, even if only by passive suggestion, that anal and vaginal intercourse are somehow both natural and equivalent.

(See Appendix A.) These, among many other, medical inaccuracies embedded in Pono Choices were significant in the DOE's determination to suspend the program earlier this summer.[45] However, UH-CDS seems unconvinced of the need for a medically accurate curriculum. In a new brochure produced by UH-CDS, it uses the term "medically appropriate" to describe Pono Choices.[46]

Pono Choices writers assert that they want to "reduce health risks for school children."[47] However, because Pono Choices presents medically inaccurate and incomplete and deceptive information, UH-CDS put students as risk and the Hawai'i State DOE failed in its obligation to keep students from harm.

Due to the many harmful medical inaccuracies and incomplete information, several parents recently filed a petition with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to defund UH-CDS Tier- 2 research grant program, Pono Choices. To add support, please submit a comment for an amended petition to petitiondefundponochoices@gmail.com by August 31, 2014.

Office of Adolescent Health Review of Pono Choices Curriculum to "ensure medical accuracy"

As a Federal agency, OAH, under the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) is granted its power by Congress through statutory law. In this case, OAH, under HHS is carrying out the law governing Teen Pregnancy Prevention (TPP) grant requirements as specified in the Affordable Care Act (ACA). The ACA directs that all TPP grantee programs be "medically accurate." In accordance with this statutory directive, the TPP Funding Opportunity Announcement announced that "Programs funded under this announcement need to ensure that information provided is age appropriate, and scientifically and medically accurate."[48] In order to help ensure that the TPP grantee programs are medically accurate, OAH uses a "medical accuracy review process" in which all grantees, including UH-CDS are required to submit "all core curriculum and related educational materials to OAH for review and approval prior to use in the project."[49]

[47] Maniaseri Maternal

HHS/OAH then submits these materials to a contracted external evaluator (Paltech) for review. "The review shall ensure that the materials are medically accurate and up-to date" and any program, including Pono Choices "may not be used until the curricula are approved" by OAH.[50] However, OAH also notifies grantees that "although the medical accuracy review report details the medical accuracy issues found during the review, any revised curricula developed in response to the report should neither be characterized as approved by OAH nor contain any language indicating that all medical accuracy recommendations have been incorporated into the curriculum."[51]

Despite this, the Hawaii State DOE and UH-CDS continue to assert that Pono Choices was approved by OAH as medically accurate. For example, from the DOE report, "OAH reviewed and approved the curriculum materials as meeting the threshold of both age-appropriate and medically accurate and complete."[52]

Last week, the U.S. Department for Health and Human Services (HHS), which oversees all OAH projects, responded to inquiries regarding the medical accuracy review process and clarified that:

> The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services does not approve curricula for use in public schools. That is the responsibility of state and local education officials… As a condition of their funding awards, all OAH Teen Pregnancy Prevention grantees are required to submit program materials to OAH for medical accuracy review and respond to any medical inaccuracies which are noted in the review prior to implementation of their grant-funded program.

(See Appendix B.) OAH's role is to help by providing a review including recommendations for changes to medical accuracies issues but it is the sole responsibility of the grantee (UH-CDS) to ensure medical accuracy of Pono Choices to "be compliant with the medical accuracy requirement as prescribed by Congress."[53]

The medical inaccuracies found in Pono Choices are a result of a systemic failure. The University of Hawai'i created Pono Choices and says that OAH has approved it as medically accurate. OAH has a process to review all curriculum for medical accuracy but will not say that individual programs are medically accurate. Then, Hawai'i state DOE, in its curriculum approval process that lacks "consistency, common understanding, clear communication, transparency, and quality implementation" allows a program like Pono Choices into the schools. [54] Such a conceptualization fails to take into consideration the highest priority of a medical review: ensuring the safety of the children such program are intended to serve.

In response to a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request regarding the medical accuracy review process, the Department of Health and Human Services (HSS), sent an email (See Appendix B), and directed us to an article by Jo Anne G. Jensen, Elizabeth L. Moreno, & Tara M. Rice in the Journal of Adolescent Health.[55] We also received a Medical Accuracy Review Form. (See Appendix C).

Pono Choices is patterned after a sex education program Making Proud Choices! which has been designated by the Hawaii State DOE as not sufficiently abstinence-based to meet requirements of State Law.

Federal law governing the TPP grant and Hawai'i state law require that sex education in Hawai'i place a "substantial emphasis" [56] on abstinence and contraception and be "abstinence-based,"[57] respectively.

Pono Choices is based on Making Proud Choices!,[58] a sex education program that was pilot tested on a target population of low-income African American adolescents (11-13 years old) in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in 1998.[59] "Making Proud Choices! emphasizes the importance of condoms to reduce the risk of pregnancy and STIs, including HIV.[60] Instead of highlighting the real benefits of pre-teen abstinence, Making Proud Choices!, like Pono Choices, attempts to affect pre-teen sexual behavior with a curriculum that places emphasis on "safer sex".[61]

UH-CDS contracted with program developers of Making Proud Choices! to implement components of their program into Pono Choices "with fidelity."[62] Making Proud Choices! is specifically designated as not sufficiently abstinence based to meet Hawaii state requirements of abstinence-based sex education because it "provides youth with little emphasis on abstinence."[63]

Planned Parenthood of Hawaii (PHH) is incapable of providing a meaningful contribution to an abstinence-based education curriculum

Nearly all parents believe that teens should be encouraged to delay sex until after high school.[64] Most teens who have been sexually active wish they had waited longer to initiate sexual activity.[65] Moreover, the American College of Pediatricians notes that "by every measure, adolescent sexual activity is detrimental to the well-being of all involved, especially young women."[66]

Hawai'i state law supports this position by requiring "abstinence-based" sex education curriculum. Additionally, the ACA requires that TPP grantee programs place a "substantial emphasis" on abstinence. These laws reflect the public health principle of primary prevention "risk avoidance in lieu of risk reduction."[67]

PPH is not qualified to assist in the development of an abstinence-based education program because it does not place a substantial emphasis on abstinence. This is because Planned Parenthood heavily advocates for "comprehensive sex education" which according to its website "provides young people with positive messages about sex and sexuality as natural, normal parts of life." [68] This brand of sex education covers human development human reproduction, sexual health, masturbation and other sexual behaviors, all options for unintended pregnancies, sexual expression, sexual identity and sexual orientation.[69]

Additionally other listed sources for the Pono Choices curriculum include organizations such as Advocates for Youth, which declares that "all young people have the right to comprehensive sex education."[70] These programs, organizations and websites do not focus on abstinence as a viable and healthy option for children. They focus on sexual rights for youth. The core writing team of UH-CDS and PPH in patterning Pono Choices after Making Proud Choices!

has not created an abstinence-based sex education program, but rather one that reflects the "comprehensive sex education" advocacy goals of its authors.

Children exposed to Pono Choices curriculum have made it clear that the message communicated is not abstinence-based. A local 7th grader who went through the Pono Choices curriculum at Niu Valley Middle School described how Pono Choices teaches that sex is okay with anyone, just as long as it's "safe sex." "I feel that a bunch of what we've learned isn't more about prevention or safe sex, it's more about just sex instead," he said.[71]

Pono Choices curriculum utilizes a social learning theory that aligns with the concept of "emancipatory learning" framework

Pono Choices writers "desired to have students engaged in activities that allowed them to consider the information and be empowered to make decisions for themselves."[72] The Pono Choices activities — which include role playing in which students practice asking and refusing sex from each other, and writing about sex (mouth on genitals [and the anus], vaginal sex, oral sex and anal sex), and other interactive activities "align with the concepts of an emancipatory learning framework."[73]

The "goal of emancipatory learning is to free learners from the forces that limit their options and control their lives and to move them to act for social and political change."[74] For children ages 11-13, the "forces that limit their options" and "control their lives" are parents and their families' trusted community members.

The emphasis in Pono Choices upon empowering children to make sexual decisions for themselves[75] lines up with the purpose of the emancipatory learning style on "empowerment" for the learner. Advocates for Youth, which is listed on UH-CDS website as a Pono Choices resource describes emancipatory sex education as:

> A positive, non-repressive, and dialogue-based approach which gradually introduces sexuality and provides information and support for sex as an expression of emotion and tenderness. Relationships are a primary concern and provide a dual responsibility for sexual behavior. The strategies of this sexuality education are theme-centered interaction, role playing, and exploration, rather than traditional lectures.[76]

> Sex education should provide information on finding a personal identity, understanding gender roles, finding a partner, shaping a full sexual life and understanding its positive effects, discovering different lifestyles and creating life plans.[77]

Pono Choices writers subscribe to the belief that programs like Pono Choices aimed at emancipatory learning can help students gain more autonomy and independence. However, this use of emancipatory learning framework within a sexual health curriculum for 11-13 year old is inappropriate. Emancipatory learning, "with its emphasis on learner transformation, can take place only in adulthood because, it is only in late adolescence and in adulthood that a person can recognize being caught in his/her own history and reliving it".[78]

UH-CDS contracts with an external evaluator (Impaq International) which used an incorrect standard to determine that Pono Choices is "age-appropriate" as required by Hawai'i state law

According to Hawai'i state law, "age-appropriate" in sex health education means "suitable to a particular age or age group based on developing cognitive, emotional, and behavioral capacity typical for that age or age group."[79]

However, an incorrect standard was used to determine that the curriculum is age appropriate. UH-CDS contracted with an external evaluator Berkeley Policy Associates (now Impaq International)[80] which found that the Pono Choices curriculum is "age-appropriate and developmentally-appropriate" because "observations of curriculum development team indicate consistent consideration of verbiage to be used to ensure best comprehension by the most students in grade 7."[81]

While it is true that determining the age appropriateness of sexual education is challenging, the legal standard for age appropriate in sex education as set by the state is whether the curriculum is "suitable." The observation that the curriculum uses "consistent consideration of verbiage" to best ensure that students understand extremely graphic material does not make it "age-appropriate."

Staff from the DOE worked with UH-CDS to ensure that the review of Pono Choices aligned with HCPS III health education benchmarks, Health Education Curriculum Analysis Tool (HECAT) and CDC's Characteristics of an Effective Health Education Curriculum. It is baffling that with a review of these tools, Pono Choices could have qualified as being ready introduction at our public schools.

Pono Choices curriculum also apparently passed review of the DOE curriculum approval process known as Approved Instructional Materials (AIM). However, the DOE recently found that this AIM process generally lacks "consistency, common understanding, clear communication, transparency, and quality implementation."[83]

Parents excluded from the development of Pono Choices to ensure age-appropriate curriculum

UH-CDS stated in their grant application that "Pono Choices will be developed through a participatory process involving students, parents, teachers, project staff, and other stakeholders, each of whom will provide input on the lessons and ensure the final curriculum is age-appropriate."[84] However, parents were not included in the process of providing input on lessons to "ensure the final curriculum is age appropriate."

UH-CDS recently produced a brochure stating that "the Pono Choices Curriculum Development Process" gives the role to parents in developing Pono Choices in that they "reviewed the completed product and provided feedback."[85] This "role" for parents is a far cry from the grant application description of parental involvement to ensure the final curriculum is age-appropriate. Moreover, this role is difficult to fulfill because parents are not notified of their right to review the curriculum.

Additionally, the Hawai'i state DOE and UH-CDS seem to be confused about the point at which parents were or should be involved. The DOE asserts that parents' involvement in Pono Choices is limited to decisions about "their student's participation". (i.e. a parent can opt their child out of participation in the Pono Choices curriculum).[86]

Predator Protection Module

Pono Choices cannot teach children that sexual experience with anyone is normal and yet still have no information on sexual assault and online or other sexual predators. The curriculum seems to assume that if a child is having a sexual encounter, then that there is equal ability to consent, and equal power and control between the child and other person(s).

[84] Pono Choices Grant Application at 62.
[85] Pono Choices Brochure.
[86] See generally Implementation Report.

Pono Choices seeks to be inclusive of all sexual orientations and sexual preferences. With no ages ever specified in the many role-plays and scenarios, and with sexual experience taught as a normal part of their lives, there is a glaring absence of a sexual assault/sexual predator module for the students.

This rebranded "inclusive"[87] curriculum is particularly harmful to young children. Parents are not informed of this fact in either the parent night or the letter home to the parent intended to describe the controversial aspects of the curriculum.

Additionally, normalization of all sexual behavior and a "non-judgmental" trend in sex education is concerning because 10% of high school students have been physically forced to have sexual intercourse (when they did not want to)[88] and because of the increased recognition of "minor attracted persons" or pedophilia, as a sexual orientation. Pedophilia is a deep rooted predisposition of sexual attraction to prepubescent children that does not change.[89] Minor attracted persons organizations advocate for lowering the age of consent so that nobody is "disadvantaged because of their age" and describe their criminal behavior as "inter-generational sex" to de-stigmatize acting on their sexual activities with children.

In 2013, the American Psychiatric Association (APA) listed pedophilia as a sexual orientation in the fifth edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM V):

> Pedophilia refers to a sexual orientation or profession of sexual preference devoid of consummation, whereas pedophilic disorder is defined as a compulsion and is used in reference to individuals who act on their sexuality.[90]

After this information was cited and heavily circulated, APA quickly changed their "error" and removed pedophilia as a sexual orientation.[91] However, medical researchers at Harvard[92]and doctors in Canada, the UK and elsewhere have declared that pedophilia is a sexual orientation.

Another instance of the increased normalization of pedophilia is Federal hate laws protecting all "sexual orientations". A proposed amendment to this law would have specified that pedophilia is not protected as a sexual orientation. However, this amendment failed.[93]

Additionally, Pono Choices resources such as Advocates for Youth and Planned Parenthood actively advocate for the sexual freedom and rights of youth and some other groups advocate for lowering the age of consent arguing that children can consent to sexual relations.

Increased push for recognition of pedophilia as a sexual orientation coupled with Pono Choices sex education "empowering" youth in their sexual rights combine for a disturbing public policy trend. When questioned, UH-CDS said that it did not "have enough time" in the curriculum to put a predator protection module in Pono Choices. However, this issue must be addressed in a curriculum like Pono Choices.

C. TRANSPARENCY AND INFORMED CONSENT

In a Teen Pregnancy Prevention (TPP) conference in Washington, D.C., Pono Choices writers described a "lesson learned" in the development and implementation of Pono Choices that "transparency is key to building trust."[94] However, its is clear that UH-CDS and the Hawaii State DOE have not yet learned this lesson.

Parents were and continue to be misled and kept in the dark regarding Pono Choices curriculum content and their rights as parents under Federal regulations, Federal law Hawaii State BOE regulations. For this reason there is a real trust issue between the community and UH-CDS and the State DOE and BOE.

University of Hawaii – Institutional Review Board approval of Pono Choices research

Meaningful informed consent is the cornerstone for the ethical conduct of research on human subjects.[95] To provide adequate informed consent, a potential research subject (or in this case, a parent/guardian) must both understand what participation in the study actually entails and provide affirmative consent.[96] Federal guidance on informed consent for these research projects state that:

> Informed consent is a process, not just a form. Information must be presented to enable persons to voluntarily decide whether or not to participate as a research > subject. It is a fundamental mechanism to ensure respect for persons through provision of thoughtful consent for a voluntary act.[97]

Conducting research on human subjects generally requires the approval of an institutional review board (IRB). Most education research is exempt from IRB because it is "research conducted in established or commonly accepted educational settings, involving normal educational practices."[98] However, Pono Choices did not qualify for an IRB exemption. Because the Pono Choices research project is "non-exempt", it needed to undergo either "expedited" or "full board approval".[99]

Federal regulations permit some non-exempt research to be reviewed under expedited review procedure, but only if the research poses no more than a "minimal risk" to research subjects. Research that does not qualify for exempt status or expedited review (like Pono Choices) must be reviewed and approved by a quorum of IRB members under a full IRB process to "protect the welfare of their research participants."[100] UH-CDS applied for and received UH-IRB approval to conduct research on human subjects under "full board approval" process.[101]

UH-IRB is responsible for ensuring that the participant's and their parents or guardians have informed consent. UH-IRB is also responsible for imposing additional requirements when necessary to "ensure that adequate information is presented in accordance with institutional policy and local law."[102]

Due to insufficient and otherwise inadequate information provided to parents to understand what their child's participation in the Pono Choices study actually entails, a complaint was recently filed with the U.S. Office for Human Research Protections (OHRP). OHRP maintains regulatory oversight and investigates issues of non-compliance regarding institutional review boards.

Information provided to parents regarding the curriculum content is woefully inadequate and an egregious misrepresentation of the curriculum's contents

The Supreme Court of the United States has long recognized the fundamental right of a parent to direct the upbringing of their children.[103] The Hawai'i state DOE usurped this Constitutional right when it unilaterally introduced topics of human sexuality without parental notice or permission."[104]

In its June 2014 report, the Hawaii State DOE stated that it "has found that much of the concern around the implementation of Pono Choices curriculum is grounded in the need for increased parent understanding about what their students are being taught and increased awareness over their strong role in deciding." This "need for increased parent understanding" is actually the responsibility of UH-CDS and the DOE and the schools, which must ensure that schools are providing adequate informed consent to parents for participation in this research project.

UH-CDS and DOE demonstrated their versions of informed consent by providing (1) a letter to parents and (2) an invitation to a "Parent Night." "While families and community members of students in the other schools may not have known the curriculum, every family of every student in a health class implementing Pono Choices received a notification letter and an option to opt-out.[105] This notification letter is intended to notify parents and receive informed consent for the child to participate in controversial activities and discussions within the curriculum.

However, the letter home and parent's night are entirely inadequate.[106] DOE Regulation #2210 requires instructional staff or administration to notify parents or legal guardians of controversial issues that will be discussed in the classroom or through other school activities."

Instead of addressing actually controversial issues like "mouth on anus" sexual activities anal sex or same-sex sexual relationships, the letter's "description of the types of activities that will take place" include innocuous and generally acceptable activities like discussing student's "goals for the future and to think about how an unintended pregnancy might get in the way of attaining those goals."

Additionally, the letter misleads parents in stating that the curriculum stresses that abstinence is the "only 100% effective method to avoid pregnancy and STIs". Instead, according to the Pono Choices grant application there is an emphasis on "safe sex" for the preteens.[107]

The Parents Night is a scripted event that does not shed any more light on the curriculum and only serves to reiterate the goals and Federal and state requirements of the program (i.e. "abstinence-based," "medically accurate" etc.)[108] The instructor tells parents that she wants to clear up any "urban myths" they might have heard about Pono Choices but doesn't specify what those might be.[109]

Either this continued lack of transparency and misrepresentation of information to parents that causes harm to students is intentional or it is negligent. Regardless, it inexcusable and parents will continue to watch how the DOE handles this and their duty to ensure student safety and welfare.

Pono Choices is "owned by" UH-CDS: A Copyrighted Cop-out

There are several consequences to the fact that UH-CDS has copyright on Pono Choices curriculum materials:

1. Hawai'i State DOE cannot independently provide copies of Pono Choices to parents

The DOE is "not authorized to disseminate copies" without UH-CDS permission because it owns the copyright on Pono Choices.[110]

2. Hawai'i State DOE cannot make changes to the curriculum despite glaring medical inaccuracies and age-appropriateness issues

"While the Pono Choices curriculum is developed and owned by the UHM-CDS, the Department does not have the authority to amend the curriculum itself…"[111]

3. UH-CDS has complete control over the dissemination of Pono Choices

UH-CDS controls who can get a copy of Pono Choices. Because Pono Choices is a copyrighted product, OAH expects that Pono Choices will be packaged, implementation-ready and available for replication by 2015.[112] The University of Hawaii is "strongly encouraged to develop a plan and strategies for how their program will be marketed and disseminated to others interested in replication after the end of the five-year cooperative agreement."[113] "There are no restrictions in place for when grantees can begin selling their program packages, either before or after the grant period.[114]

4. UH-CDS has complete control over the characterization of the Pono Choices curriculum

Because UH-CDS owns the information, it also has complete control over how to characterize the program. UH-CDS represents the program to the public and parents of the research subjects (ie. students) as "medically accurate", "age appropriate", "abstinence-based" "culturally responsive".[115] UH-CDS has nearly $5,000,000 in tax payer money and nearly 5 years to develop and communicate its characterization of the program.[116] Unfortunately, UH-CDS also collaborated in "full partnership" with the Hawai'i state DOE in the development of Pono Choices and continues to communicate its same characterization of Pono Choices curriculum to the public.

5. Parents do not know where to obtain an authorized copy of the Pono Choices curriculum.

When one of our contributors asked for a copy of the Pono Choices curriculum, the Hawai'i state DOE said that a copy could be obtained for $80.75. In its recent report, the DOE states that "requests for copies of the curriculum should be directed to Elmer Ka'ai." A parent recently requested and purchased a copy from Mr. Ka'ai at the University of Hawai'i for $7.50.[117]

If a parent does purchase a copy, they are reminded that "all materials… are intended for the use of trained educators and facilitators and may not be cited, quoted, duplicated, circulated, or used without written permission of the University of Hawaii"[118]

6. Because UH-CDS and Hawai'i state DOE are not allowing for transparency and misrepresenting the curriculum, parents do not have a reliable source for understanding what is being taught in sex education classes.

The DOE's report stated that parent's questions regarding Pono Choices should be directed to UH-CDS. However, some parents have reached out to UH-CDS only to have their questions ignored.

The office of Representative Bob McDermott recently purchased copies of all the Hawai'i state DOE sex education curricula for a total of $1,270. Each program is being reviewed and rated and these findings will become available to parents in the coming weeks.

Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA) Violations

The Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA) is a statute that provides parents with important rights regarding controversial surveys administered to children in schools. These surveys may be overly intrusive and personal or may collect information for purposes other than those represented.

The law, as amended in January 2002 in the No Child Left Behind Act has significantly strengthened the rights of parents.[119] Pono Choices writers administer surveys that ask students about their sexual behavior, sexual knowledge and sexual skills. These surveys regarding a student's sexual behavior are subject to the PPRA.

The following requirements apply to all public elementary and middle schools like those where Pono Choices was implemented. In accordance with the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment Act (PPRA), each of the schools implementing the Pono Choices curriculum were required to "develop and adopt policies – in conjunction with parents," regarding the following:

- The right of parents to inspect, upon request, a survey created by a third party before the survey is administered or distributed by a school to students
- The right of parents to inspect, upon request, any instructional material used as part of the educational curriculum for students
- The right of parents to inspect, upon request, any instrument used in the collection of information from the student[120]

In violation of PPRA, parents were not notified of their right to review the sex survey administered to their child, nor of their right to review any Pono Choices instructional material. Because of this, a complaint has been filed with the Family Policy Compliance Office (FPCO) under the U.S. Department of Education. FPCO, under the U.S. Department of Education, is responsible for implementing PPRA and investigating issues of non-compliance.

D. THE PUBLIC RESPONDS TO PONO CHOICES

The public response to Pono Choices was swift and clear. The Pono Choices curriculum content coupled with a complete lack of transparency and misrepresentations from the UH-CDS and Hawaii State DOE, generated outrage from parents and the public. The Honolulu Star-Advertiser conducted a poll where 86% of responders thought that Pono Choices should be eliminated (62%) or revised (22%).[121]

Many communities, including the middle school on the island of Moloka'i, found that the Pono Choices curriculum is not in harmony with the community[122] and Moloka'i Middle School has determined that for this reason, "Pono Choices will not return to the school."[123]

The public response could not be ignored. In November 2013, due to "concerns brought to the DOE's attention," the Hawaii State DOE decided to review the Pono Choices curriculum. The DOE assigned some of the same people who collaborated in "full participation" with UH-CDS in creating Pono Choices, to re-review the curriculum which resulted in the "fastest investigation" in Hawaii State history. At the end of the "investigation" Leila Hayashida, assistant superintendent for the Office of Curriculum, Instruction and Student Support (OCISS) stated:

> Our review not only affirmed that the curriculum meets departmental standards, but it also showed that Pono Choices is a culturally responsive curriculum that has resulted in positive outcomes for students.

The public, however, was not satisfied, or convinced. Hawai'i State Representative Bob McDermott and other concerned citizens requested a copy of Pono Choices from UH-CDS and the Hawaii State DOE. Shockingly, they were denied such requests, on the grounds that the "curriculum is sensitive in nature and can be misinterpreted."[124] DOE spokeswoman Donalyn Dela Cruz explained that an in-person orientation session for anyone wanting to review the Pono Choices curriculum was necessary because Pono Choices "needs to be explained".[125]

After repeated requests, UH-CDS finally gave a copy to Representative McDermott. He and his office carefully studied the curriculum and in January 2014, published a report entitled "The McDermott Report – Sexualizing the Innocent" detailing its findings. The report noted glaring medical inaccuracies, misrepresentations and unnecessarily graphic and inappropriate sexual exposure for 11-13 year olds.[126] Over 20,000 people accessed this report to inform themselves on a curriculum that UH-CDS was unwilling and the Hawaii State DOE and unable to provide.

Communities all around the Hawaiian islands where Pono Choices was implemented were outraged and perplexed at how a program so out of touch with the community could continue to be taught in our public schools. In February 2014, the Hawai'i State Board of Education received more than 100 written comments from residents all around the state "expressing concern over the UH pilot program".[127]

Finally, the DOE set up a "working group" composed of "stakeholders" to conduct a review of Pono Choices "to determine if it meets statutory requirements and relevant Board policies and to make recommendations to the Department."[128] Although the DOE selected each member of the board, and no criteria was released regarding the bases of each member's selection, the DOE insists that "panelists familiarity with or stance on the curriculum or controversial issues was not a factor in their selection."[129]

Despite being unable to share copies of the curriculum, the DOE announced that the working group "welcomes public input" on the curriculum's content. Approximately 800 comments were received.[130] Over the course of 3 months, the working group convened, discussed and finally created a report detailing their recommendations. The Hawaii State DOE also released a 31-page report detailing its findings and "actions for improvement." The report effectively banned Pono Choices in Hawai'i public schools until UH-CDS submitted a revised version and the Hawaii State DOE approved it.

IV. CONCLUSION

There is a deep philosophical divide between parents and those who are trying to push this curriculum into classrooms without parental knowledge or consent. Pono Choices writers to continue to assert the need for children to have access to this information for their health. When parents ask for more information from UH-CDS or the Hawai'i state DOE, they are given a well-crafted message that reiterates the Federal grant requirements and state law definitions of requirements for sex education. The lack of transparency has generated an enormous breach of trust and confidence between the public and the Hawaii State DOE.

The local community has generated a "lesson learned" from the process of creating and implementing the Pono Choices curriculum. The Hawai'i State DOE cannot continue to test its medically inaccurate, inappropriate sex education curriculum on our youth.

To Whom It May Concern:

As a board certified OB/GYN physician practicing in the state of Utah I have reviewed the proposed 'Pono Choices' curriculum for your schools, and herein offer my comment on its medical accuracy and age appropriateness. I find several medical fact inaccuracies which promote dangerous practices and false conclusions on the part of the student. I also find that the content of this curriculum is very inappropriate for youth ages 11 through 13. It introduces and promotes ideas and actions as 'normal,' which, from a medical perspective, are deviant and dangerous. Below are listed a few of the incorrect medical facts and reasons for my grave concern about this curriculum.

1. The anus is listed as a genital organ. Genital organs are part of the reproductive system. The anus, however, is clearly part of the gastrointestinal tract and its function is fecal elimination, having nothing to do with reproduction. This flagrant falsehood purporting that the anus is somehow a genital organ and therefore a 'natural' part of sexual expression seems intentionally misleading. Our youth rely on their teachers for correct information.

2. Mentioned several times in the document was the idea that anal intercourse and oral sex are equivalent practices with vaginal intercourse. As a gynecologist I can assure you that such is not the case. The vagina is well suited to penile penetration and can withstand the friction involved due to a unique vaginal mucosa which lubricates and cleanses the vaginal vault. Special glands at the vaginal opening also aid in lubrication.

APPENDIX "A"

The anus has no such glands for lubrication and is designed for expulsion only. The repeated friction from anal penetration can damage the more delicate mucosa, causing micro tears and increasing the likelihood of STD transmission. Chronic abuse of the anus as a receptacle can lead to fecal incontinence. It is false and irresponsible to teach, even if only by passive suggestion, that anal and vaginal intercourse are somehow both natural and equivalent.

3. The developing female, even for several years after menarche (beginning of menstrual periods), is more susceptible to the STD of Human Papilloma Virus (HPV) due to the poorly protected cervical epithelium. The cervix matures with age and becomes more resistant to disease with maturity. Adolescent females are at risk for this STD, not to mention the physical, emotional and psychological trauma encountered by them at the time of sexual intercourse. We refer to this as child abuse and teaching that if the act is consensual it is OK does not lessen the harm. Sexual activity, especially intercourse before the age of 14, is illegal and should not be promoted. This is not age appropriate to even suggest that participation in intercourse is normal and acceptable at the ages of 11 to 13.

4. The curriculum teaches that condom use for anal intercourse, and vaginal intercourse for that matter, is protective against STDs such as Herpes Simplex Virus (HSV) and HPV. It is not. Nowhere do I find the risks of and the devastating consequences of STDs discussed.

5. From the role play situations I encountered, the implied message is that same gender relationships are so common as to be mainstream with heterosexual relationships. This is simply not true. Only 2 to 4 percent of the population is involved in such activity. Promoting this infrequent (and in the opinion of most parents, deviant) behavior as normal, natural and commonplace is untruthful and very misleading and certainly not age appropriate. Ideas thus taught cannot be untaught and 11 to 13 year old minds are susceptible to suggestion.

6. Sexual activity in any sexual species is related to and intended for reproduction. Nowhere in the curriculum do I find information about the human reproductive process, including embryo development and birth. Although this subject matter may be taught in biology,

Dear Ms. Fleming:

This in response to your questions from you regarding the HHS Office of Adolescent Health's (OAH) medical accuracy review process and the Pono Choices program being implemented by the University of Hawaii.

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services does not approve curricula for use in public schools. That is the responsibility of state and local education officials. The Office of Adolescent Health funds the Teen Pregnancy Prevention Grant (TPP) program. The University of Hawaii applied for and received funding under the TPP research and demonstration program the purpose of which is to develop, replicate, refine, and test models and innovative strategies for preventing teen pregnancy.

As a condition of their funding awards, all OAH Teen Pregnancy Prevention grantees are required to submit program materials to OAH for medical accuracy review and respond to any medical inaccuracies which are noted in the review prior to implementation of their grant-funded program. The March 2014 supplement to the Journal of Adolescent Health, entitled Implementing Evidence-based Teen Pregnancy Prevention Programs: Legislation to Practice includes an article entitled, Office of Adolescent Health Medical Accuracy Review Process—Helping Ensure the Medical Accuracy of Teen Pregnancy Prevention Program Materials, which describes the medical accuracy review process (JAH, 54(2014) S21-S24).

The Department of Health and Human Services is in receipt of your Freedom of Information Act request (FOIA) for a copy of the Medical Accuracy report related to the grant to the University of Hawaii. That request is being processed. General information about the grant project can be found on the OAH website at http://www.hhs.gov/ash/oah/grants/grantees/tier2-hi-university.html. Specific questions about the grant should be directed to the grantee, University of Hawaii.

Office of Adolescent Health

there seems to be a total disconnect with one of the principle reasons for sexual relations between a man and a woman. Certainly if we are trying to decrease unwanted teenage pregnancies, the subject should be appropriately discussed in this context.

An abstinence-promoting curriculum which teaches the health value of waiting to engage in a physical relationship until adulthood does much to improve individual lives as well as the stability and health of a society. The positive aspects of abstinence need to be promoted to these young minds as a reachable and laudable goal.

I strongly recommend that this reviewed 'Pono Choices' curriculum be modified and corrected to remove false information both explicit and implied. Teaching this morally charged and sensitive subject to 11 to 13 year old youth should be done in a loving home environment and should be under the direction of parents. If it is taught in the public school then parental input is essential and an opt-in rather than an opt-out format would better protect parental rights and religious freedoms.

Well-intended actions to promote fewer teenage pregnancies and STDs if taught in this format may have unintended consequences. The implied normality of deviant and dangerous behaviors such as anal and oral sex would promote STDs rather than decrease them and would further weaken the traditional family. This curriculum steps over a critical social and religious line by its implied promotion of behaviors unacceptable to the vast majority. Religious freedom does not imply active or passive persecution of those whose views and practices differ. However, it also demands that the rights of the majority be safeguarded so as to protect children from unwanted exposures.

Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to review the proposed curriculum. By my signature below, I give express permission for this letter to be used in public forums.

Respectfully,

Craig Astle M.D.

Manual

Issue 1
- Module Number: 2
- Page Number: Last Page
- Paragraph or Exhibit: #16 Across (Crossword Puzzle Clue)
- Medical Topic(s): Reproductive Anatomy
- Medical Accuracy Issue: Inconsistent information provided –"… Can contain 200 million to 500 million sperm." The rest of the manual lists, "300 million to 500 million sperm."
- Recommendation: The definition of normal sperm count varies, so the recommendation is to be consistent with the range, throughout the curriculum. Replace all mentions of sperm count range with information from the National Institute of Health's Medline Plus, "The sperm count varies from 20 to 150 million sperm per milliliter". Another option would be to use information from the second reference below which states on page 183, "that sperm counts average 400 million per ejaculation."

MEDICAL ACCURACY ISSUES

Video

- No issues found

GENERAL COMMENTS

The clip is limited in its discussion of birth control options, and only identifies birth control pills in this clip. With the active involvement of the male partner, a stronger message would have included a discussion of condom use as a method for both pregnancy prevention and HIV and STD prevention. It is recommended the program also discuss other contraception options including condom use.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations and permission for brief comments. Thank you. The Chair of Higher Education has asked me to reserve my polemics for another day, so I'll be brief.

"Now, while this bill in part follows the recent Illinois bill, allowing some prescriptive privileges for psychologists, it should be noted that the Illinois Legislature showed great reservations and made their bill have a sunset of 2017. I would prefer waiting to see the results of the Illinois experiment before we move forward. But, out of great respect for my Chair, I'm voting with great reservations and request that I will be able to enter written comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Creagan's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill is a solution in search of a problem. The solution is very problematic, although desired by a minority of psychologists.

"In my view, this bill results not from a shortage of prescribing physicians, but from a surplus of doctoral-level psychologists. Also, in my view, some of that surplus, in particular the Psy.D. less established portion, may want to distinguish themselves from non-prescribing psychologists from a marketing and income enhancing viewpoint.

"Psychologists have a great tool, psychotherapy, the power of skillfully used words to change the brain of clients or patients. Words skillfully used have no side effects, whereas medications have often terrible side effects.

"The 2007 LRB report said that patients should be the highest priority. Psychiatrists agree. First, do no harm.

"Medication should not be the first resort for most mental health disorders. For more serious mental health disorders, really brain disorders, such as Bipolar I and Schizophrenia, medications may be absolutely needed, but even when properly used can have severe and permanent side effects such as tardive dyskinesia.

"This bill is the wrong solution.

"I will be requesting that the auditor give us a clear picture of our mental health task force. I will also be requesting a task force to include psychiatrists, psychologists, legislators and other stakeholders to discuss what needs to be done to ensure patient care while preserving safety.

"This bill will just preserve the antagonism between psychologists and psychiatrists, and damage patient safety. The good psychologists who can do psychotherapy well don't need this bill. The result of this bill will be to attract to Hawaii all the failed psychologists who were not very good at talk therapy."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to rise in support but to point out what I believe is a serious omission. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, the way the bill is worded at this point would leave out the HECO-NextEra transaction. And if you refer to page 2 of the bill, where you see the language that is crossed out, it states that, 'no public utility shall', and then 'sell' is crossed out, so it now just reads, no public utility shall merge or consolidate with any other public utility without first having secured from the PUC an order authorizing it to do so.

"The concern I have is that the transaction that is being proposed is a sale. So the same omission occurs down on page 2, line 17 again of the bill, where sale is eliminated. So what the bill covers now is a merger. That's not HECO and NextEra, and I would hope that the Finance Committee could deal with this, and put the word 'sale' back in, or possibly the Chair of CPC could let me know after session what's going on here.

"I am for the bill, I want to see standards and opportunity for public participation, so I'm for that, but the way the bill is worded now it won't apply to the biggest issue right before us, which is the sale, because the words 'sell' and 'sale' are eliminated from the language in the bill. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 619, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE MERGER, ACQUISITION, AND CONSOLIDATION OF ELECTRIC UTILITIES," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Ito being excused.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Standing with strong reservations. Permission to enter comments into the Journal."

Representative LoPresti's written remarks are as follows:

"There is not necessarily a correlation between a large amount of classroom hours and high levels of student achievement. For instance, a September 2014 article in the Atlantic magazine noted that high school teachers in Finland spend 553 hours a year in the classroom and they routinely come out near the top in international benchmarking studies. Japanese teachers spend 500 hours in the classroom and American teachers average 1,051 hours in the classroom per year.

"A wide variety of other factors influence student learning as well. An important one among these is providing teachers with an adequate amount of time to work with their peers, observe their practice, reflect upon it, and integrate what might work well into their own classroom practice. I would support any conception of 'student hours,' whether by statute or collective bargaining, that includes these types of activities."

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote on this. It's a well-intended bill. My concern is the nexus between the TAT and this measure. Yeah, a new hospital might increase tourism, I suppose, for medical visitors, but that would have to be a world-renowned hospital, like what is that clinic in the Midwest? Mayo Clinic. But I don't think we'll be there overnight. So, Mr. Speaker, every year we come and we try and nitpick the TAT, we try and pick off bits and pieces here. I just don't think it's a good idea. Though a well-intended measure, and I certainly empathize with folks there, it's more of a principle thing for me."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with just a few brief comments. Mr. Speaker, we, this session, are having members from the county councils coming to us, asking us for the GET rail, explaining to us about the strain placed upon their roads, their hospitals, their beaches, because of the tourists who are coming. This I think is an innovative measure that looks at helping our HHSC system move forward. So I thank the introducer of this bill for putting this out on the table and for allowing us to have this conversation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 379, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FINANCING FOR A NEW HOSPITAL IN NORTH KONA," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Har, Jordan, Kawakami, Tokioka and Ward voting aye with reservations, with Representative McDermott voting no, and with Representative Ito being excused.

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition and a few brief comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I talked to the author of the bill and she had different intentions, and due to some drafting errors, there's still some work that needs to be done, but currently, Mr. Speaker, the way that the bill is written is it takes away home rule and could potentially increase the proliferation of illegal vacation rentals on ag land, increase gentleman estates, increase illegal ag activities, and increase the cost of farming to farmers. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing in support of HB 1194, which allows agricultural commerce in an agricultural district. However, I have reservations about the possible consequences of this bill.

"With the growing concern over food safety and food security, agricultural tourism has gained popularity over the recent years. People want to know where their food comes from, they want to see how it is produced and handled, and experience it all first hand. I think this is a good thing, Mr. Speaker, and maybe through agritourism our state can showcase the farming techniques of our local people and teach visitors some things about Native Hawaiians along the way.

"I support agricultural commerce because of its high value to the State, as well as the educational value of agricultural tourism. However, I would like to see the bill specify that the Hawaii Department of Agriculture be responsible for the enforcement and regulation of agricultural commerce activities, including agricultural tourism. The Department has a wealth of knowledge with a diverse range of background and skills, from farmers and ranchers, to professionals at the University of Hawaii. They would have the critical knowledge needed to make the right decisions on all agricultural commerce activities.

"My reservations also stem from a concern that agricultural tourism activities could overtake land needed for agricultural activities by regular local farmers, who are trying to provide the State with the produce and products needed to sustain our islands. Clearly defining what activities agricultural commerce includes, setting regulations requiring products used in agricultural commerce activities be grown in Hawaii, and setting a limit on the number of tourist focused agricultural commerce activities, will address these concerns.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and note my reservations on HB 1194. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 702, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and just brief comments, Mr. Speaker. The committee report notes that this measure may have the unintended consequence of deterring people from microchipping their dogs. And that really is the crux of my concern with this measure. Unfortunately, however, the amendments have not addressed the unintended consequence. As a dog owner, I have voluntarily chosen to microchip my dog, because it's the right thing to do. This bill could now have criminal liability to someone who has microchipped their dog, and we haven't addressed that issue. We want to encourage people to microchip their animals instead of disincentivizing them. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, respectfully I stand with reservations."

Representative Thielen rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Har be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

No. 702, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ANIMALS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Cullen, Har, Kawakami, Oshiro, San Buenaventura and Thielen voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Ito being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1467, HD 2 be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote, Mr. Speaker. This seems to be an anti-HMSA bill that's targeting here, and the Hawaii Health Connector is not sustainable or viable, and I think there are serious doubts that we all should have in this Body. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative San Buenaventura rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Members, we are going to be having a session-wide conversation, I believe, to understand how we need to harmonize the Affordable Care Act's requirements along with our Prepaid Health Care Act. This is one of those measures. I think we can all agree that the Prepaid Health Care Act is an important foundation for the affordability of healthcare and achievement of the middle class here in Hawaii.

"So while some may characterize this as anti-HMSA, I'm going to say that this is the middle class support system that we have to look after and maintain so that we can ensure affordable healthcare insurance and access to quality healthcare insurance in this state, or quality healthcare services in this state. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote, second time. Mr. Speaker, to spend $205 million on a website of which we already have with our existing carriers is un-defendable.

"Secondly, Mr. Speaker, I think when we look at healthcare in the future, we were promised as far back as five years ago from Senator Inouye that this was going to be an exemption for the Prepaid Health Care Act, ObamaCare was not going to contravene our Prepaid Health Care Act, and we're now trying to jerry-rig, if you will, what otherwise was something that we were going to stand pat with it, we weren't going to go and get all connected with all these other discombobulations, and we were going to stay the course of what we set decades ago with the Prepaid Health Care Act.

"Now it's costing us an arm and a leg, $205 million down, last year we put in $1.5 million, this year it's going to be more. I don't know how many ways we can rewire something that's broken, we should just get rid of it. We want to keep Prepaid Health Care Act, that's where our energy, that's where our money should be. Not in this bill. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, very quickly in rebuttal. And I just want to clarify the record, $205 million has been granted, but not expended. I would also point out that in the last enrollment that just ended, the Hawaii Health Connector hit the targets that it has proposed for its five-year plan of hitting sustainability, or for its plan for hitting sustainability. So I think we have to work until the ACA is torn down, we have to work to harmonize the Affordable Care Act and the Prepaid Health Care Act, if we want to ensure the existence of the Prepaid Health Care Act. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just short comments. I am a small business employer with a handful of employees. The ACA increased my group health insurance by 50%. This bill removes the cheapest form, which is the silver plan, for us small business employers. And as such, it's with reservations I vote on this. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1467, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH CONNECTOR," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Cullen, DeCoite, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Jordan, Kawakami, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Pouha, San Buenaventura and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, with Representatives McDermott, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representative Ito being excused.

Representative Belatti, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 571) recommending that H.B. No. 458, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Education.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 458, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Education, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations on this one, and I would suggest that these communications that are given to the schools are medically accurate. I would also suggest, most parents don't know what the human papillomavirus is. Perhaps they should use the street name. What it's called commonly is 'genital warts'. That might get their attention. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 458, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Education, with Representative McDermott voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Ito being excused.

Representative Belatti, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 572) recommending that H.B. No. 631, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 631, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to cast a no vote on this. Mr. Speaker, someone who is born a man and wants to be a woman, cannot do it. You are biologically a man. We are doing a disservice to these folks to affirm their mental disorder, their gender identity disorder, by allowing them to change their birth certificate. This is nonsense. But don't take my word for it, take the former head of psychiatry at John Hopkins University, which pioneered sex change surgery back in the '70s.

"Quote, 'policy makers and the media are doing no favors either to the public or the transgendered by treating their confusions as a right in need of defending rather than as a mental disorder that deserves understanding, treatment and prevention. This intensely felt sense of being transgendered constitutes a mental disorder in two respects. The first is that the idea of sex misalignment is simply mistaken—it does not correspond with physical reality. The second is that it can lead to grim psychological outcomes.'

"He further goes on, 'The transgendered suffer a disorder of "assumption" like those in other disorders familiar to psychiatrists. With the transgendered, the disordered assumption is that the individual differs from what seems given in nature—namely one's maleness or femaleness. Other kinds of disordered assumptions are held by those who suffer from anorexia and bulimia nervosa, where the assumption that departs from physical reality is the belief by the dangerously thin that they are overweight,' unquote.

"I'd like the permission to insert more comments into the Journal, Mr. Speaker. But this just does not correspond with reality. This is more social engineering, more breaking down normalcy, more breaking down boundaries in the name of what? I don't know."

Representative McDermott's written remarks are as follows:

"During my Floor speech, I quoted from a former Johns Hopkins psychiatrist. The name of the psychiatrist is Dr. Paul McHugh. His comments may be found in his June 12, 2014 Wall Street Journal online column entitled: 'Transgender Surgery Isn't the Solution', which is attached.

"I would also note that this bill prohibits any marking or designation that the new birth certificate was 'amended'. This is not only a denial of reality, it is self-censorship."

Representative McDermott also submitted the following opinion piece from The Wall Street Journal:

"Transgender Surgery Isn't the Solution

A drastic physical change doesn't address underlying psycho-social troubles.

By PAUL MCHUGH

June 12, 2014 7:19 p.m. ET

The government and media alliance advancing the transgender cause has gone into overdrive in recent weeks. On May 30, a U.S. Department of Health and Human Services review board ruled that Medicare can pay for the "reassignment" surgery sought by the transgendered—those who say that they don't identify with their biological sex. Earlier last month Defense Secretary Chuck Hagel said that he was "open" to lifting a ban on transgender individuals serving in the military. Time magazine, seeing the trend, ran a cover story for its June 9 issue called "The Transgender Tipping Point: America's next civil rights frontier."

Yet policy makers and the media are doing no favors either to the public or the transgendered by treating their confusions as a right in need of defending rather than as a mental disorder that deserves understanding, treatment and prevention. This intensely felt sense of being transgendered constitutes a mental disorder in two respects. The first is that the idea of sex misalignment is simply mistaken—it does not correspond with physical reality. The second is that it can lead to grim psychological outcomes.

The transgendered suffer a disorder of "assumption" like those in other disorders familiar to psychiatrists. With the transgendered, the disordered assumption is that the individual differs from what seems given in nature—namely one's maleness or femaleness. Other kinds of disordered assumptions are held by those who suffer from anorexia and bulimia nervosa, where the assumption that departs from physical reality is the belief by the dangerously thin that they are overweight.

With body dysmorphic disorder, an often socially crippling condition, the individual is consumed by the assumption "I'm ugly." These disorders occur in subjects who have come to believe that some of their psycho-social conflicts or problems will be resolved if they can change the way that they appear to others. Such ideas work like ruling passions in their subjects' minds and tend to be accompanied by a solipsistic argument.

For the transgendered, this argument holds that one's feeling of "gender" is a conscious, subjective sense that, being in one's mind, cannot be questioned by others. The individual often seeks not just society's tolerance of this "personal truth" but affirmation of it. Here rests the support for "transgender equality," the demands for government payment for medical and surgical treatments, and for access to all sex-based public roles and privileges.

With this argument, advocates for the transgendered have persuaded several states—including California, New Jersey and Massachusetts—to pass laws barring psychiatrists, even with parental permission, from striving to restore natural gender feelings to a transgender minor. That government can intrude into parents' rights to seek help in guiding their children indicates how powerful these advocates have become.

How to respond? Psychiatrists obviously must challenge the solipsistic concept that what is in the mind cannot be questioned. Disorders of consciousness, after all, represent psychiatry's domain; declaring them off-limits would eliminate the field. Many will recall how, in the 1990s, an accusation of parental sex abuse of children was deemed unquestionable by the solipsists of the "recovered memory" craze.

You won't hear it from those championing transgender equality, but controlled and follow-up studies reveal fundamental problems with this movement. When children who reported transgender feelings were tracked without medical or surgical treatment at both Vanderbilt University and London's Portman Clinic, 70%-80% of them spontaneously lost those feelings. Some 25% did have persisting feelings; what differentiates those individuals remains to be discerned.

We at Johns Hopkins University—which in the 1960s was the first American medical center to venture into "sex-reassignment surgery"—launched a study in the 1970s comparing the outcomes of transgendered people who had the surgery with the outcomes of those who did not. Most of the surgically treated patients described themselves as "satisfied" by the results, but their subsequent psycho-social adjustments were no better than those who didn't have the surgery. And so at Hopkins we stopped doing sex-reassignment surgery, since producing a "satisfied" but still troubled patient seemed an inadequate reason for surgically amputating normal organs.

It now appears that our long-ago decision was a wise one. A 2011 study at the Karolinska Institute in Sweden produced the most illuminating results yet regarding the transgendered, evidence that should give advocates pause. The long-term study—up to 30 years—followed 324 people who had sex-reassignment surgery. The study revealed that beginning about 10 years after having the surgery, the transgendered began to experience increasing mental difficulties. Most shockingly, their suicide mortality rose almost 20-fold above the comparable nontransgender population. This disturbing result has as yet no explanation but probably reflects the growing sense of isolation reported by the aging transgendered after surgery. The high suicide rate certainly challenges the surgery prescription.

There are subgroups of the transgendered, and for none does "reassignment" seem apt. One group includes male prisoners like Pvt. Bradley Manning, the convicted national-security leaker who now wishes to be called Chelsea. Facing long sentences and the rigors of a men's prison, they have an obvious motive for wanting to change their sex and hence their prison. Given that they committed their crimes as males, they should be punished as such; after serving their time, they will be free to reconsider their gender.

Another subgroup consists of young men and women susceptible to suggestion from "everything is normal" sex education, amplified by Internet chat groups. These are the transgender subjects most like anorexia nervosa patients: They become persuaded that seeking a drastic physical change will banish their psycho-social problems. "Diversity" counselors in their schools, rather like cult leaders, may encourage these young people to distance themselves from their families and offer advice on rebutting arguments against having transgender surgery. Treatments here must begin with removing the young person from the suggestive environment and offering a counter-message in family therapy.

Then there is the subgroup of very young, often prepubescent children who notice distinct sex roles in the culture and, exploring how they fit in, begin imitating the opposite sex. Misguided doctors at medical centers including Boston's Children's Hospital have begun trying to treat this behavior by administering puberty-delaying hormones to render later sex-change surgeries less onerous—even though the drugs stunt the children's growth and risk causing sterility. Given that close to 80% of such children would abandon their confusion and grow naturally into adult life if untreated, these medical interventions come close to child abuse. A better way to help these children: with devoted parenting.

At the heart of the problem is confusion over the nature of the transgendered. "Sex change" is biologically impossible. People who undergo sex-reassignment surgery do not change from men to women or vice versa. Rather, they become feminized men or masculinized women. Claiming that this is civil-rights matter and encouraging surgical intervention is in reality to collaborate with and promote a mental disorder.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 631, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CERTIFICATES OF BIRTH," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Aquino, Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Pouha, Tokioka, Ward and Yamane voting aye with reservations, with Representative McDermott voting no, and with Representative Ito being excused.

Representatives Belatti and Rhoads, for the Committee on Health and the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 573) recommending that H.B. No. 321, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 321, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations, brief remarks. Some of my colleagues may be surprised to see me going reservations on this bill, but I just have reservations that it takes away home rule. It doesn't allow the counties to be a part of the discussion of appropriate areas for these types of establishments. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm going to cast a no vote on this, Mr. Speaker. The county home rule is a big one, previous speaker mentioned that. We go from zero to 26 dispensaries just like that. Do we need 26 dispensaries, Mr. Speaker? I have no problem with a little boy or girl who has seizures consuming this medicine. I have no problem with a 45-year-old guy who has leukemia who wants to light up, go for it. I don't have a problem.

"Mr. Speaker, it might surprise you to know that in my youth I tried marijuana. I inhaled. With enthusiasm. In fact, a lot of the folks here, every time I get in the elevator they say, McDermott, are you high? I say, no. After listening to my comments today, I'm sure some of them feel that way.

"But, Mr. Speaker, we're going from zero to 26. My fear is this, Mr. Speaker, that this is a Trojan horse for full legalization three years from now. We'll come back in and we say we already have the infrastructure in place and we're going to legalize it. In Colorado, what's happening is that because they legalized it, they figured the cartels would go away. They just switched to cocaine. But that's a discussion for another day.

"I've got no problem with legit medicine. Mr. Speaker, Tylenol 3 is prescribed thousands of times a day. But a pharmacy just selling Tylenol 3 as a standalone could not survive. So I don't see how this business model for this is going to work, unless everybody all of a sudden comes down with soft tissue injury in the back. Oh, I got pain.

"For legit folks, I've got no problem with it. But we're opening the door, I think the dirty secret is this is just the mechanics to come back for legalization in three years, perhaps. So I'm going to put my Nostradamus hat on and predict that. And I'd like to end on a little bit of a higher note. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my reservations on this measure. I'd like to thank the Health Chair for doing such great work over the interim and through this session with this measure. I hope that by the time that we get to the end of session, we have a great bill that we all can stand here and vote up on.

"I can't express how many people could use this. We've had a program for 15 years where people can't get their prescribed medication. I totally understand why we may authorize up to 26 dispensaries. We would need to have one on each island. When we're talking about landmass islands such as Hawaii Island or Oahu, we might need more than just one on those particular islands.

"I understand the Representative from Kauai has concerns with home rule. I do have some of those concerns with this measure. But again, as we get towards the ending of this session, I think we will come up with a measure that will work on both sides of these Bodies in this particular building. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, if this is for medical marijuana, which I believe it's fully for medical marijuana, if it's a medicine, let's treat it as medical things are treated. If it's medical marijuana, let's treat it as a medicine. Treating it as a medicine means you're in a clinic, or you're in a pharmacy, or in a hospital dispensary. Why are we going to go set up as they did after Prohibition, state liquor stores, as all of the states got in the business of liquor stores. And you know how good the State is in getting into business. I think we know some of the things that we're trying to do now that we're not doing very well.

"So, Mr. Speaker, this bill in a way, as my colleague from Ewa Beach says, maybe where we're setting it up to do something else, but I would say before we take any leap or steps forward, let's look at what's going on in Colorado. Let's look at what's going on in these other states. Maybe there's a better way of doing it, and you can go to Longs. And there's not 23 Longs, there's probably, how many Longs/CVS are there, 50? You can have access on every street corner, the way it is now.

"So let's treat it as a medicine, and I'm sure there are manufacturers, I hear the tobacco companies are ready to get into this and diversify into marijuana, if it's legal. Let's use the private sector, let's not use government funds and get into government dispensaries. Let's do it the right way, the way the market does it. So, Mr. Speaker, again if it's medical, let's treat it as a medicine and do accordingly. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am rising to speak in support of this measure but with strong reservations and concerns.

"First, however, let me extend my sincere appreciation to the Chair of the Health Committee, who has obviously considered many of the suggestions and ideas from the public hearing and attempted to be accommodating to all stakeholders and even incorporating several ideas into this revised draft. Noteworthy are some other ideas that although not presented at the public hearing, nonetheless, in my opinion, improves the bill, addressing health and safety concerns and those of law enforcement. Truthfully, if not for her work on the present draft, and more important, her obvious recognition and appreciation of the perils to the health and safety of the community, as expressed in parts of this draft, I would be standing in strong opposition, instead of offering these comments in moderate and conditional support. In particular, her decision to limit the types of marijuana products available for sale at the dispensaries to only pills, capsules, tinctures and oils, is one of the policy choices that I applaud and endorse. I also provide my conditional support for this measure due to her insight and understanding of another medical marijuana measure that purports to limit the number of plants that can be grown on a particular Tax Map Key property designation.

"Second, it is important to know that I am not standing against the general policy that was established over 15 years ago during the 2000 Regular Legislative Session. As your Majority Leader, I was both an advocate and defender of establishing the policy that essentially, except for amount of plants and amount of usable marijuana one may possess, has remained unchanged over the 15 years. Similarly, I am also not opposed to the legitimate and medically based use of marijuana for those medical and disease conditions set forth in the current law, although it should be reviewed to ascertain whether exaggerated abuse arises from overly broad definitions and interpretations. Recalling the community debates and Floor discussions, many of us felt that people with serious and grave illnesses and diseases such as cancer, AIDS/HIV, wasting disease, severe epilepsy, etc. should have access to limited quantities of marijuana pursuant to a bona fide recommendation of a Hawaii licensed medical doctor.

"My own personal stories of my law clients dying of AIDS and cancer provided strong impetus for my decisions. The law allowed the patient to grow or have another grow a specific amount of marijuana for him or her, and was designed to provide a 'shield' against the criminal possession and distribution of marijuana under Hawaii State law. As a former Deputy Prosecuting Attorney, I clearly understood the purpose of the law and how it changed Hawaii criminal law while still recognizing the federal law criminalizing any possession or use of marijuana.

"But, also important was my reference point of these discussions that arose from my own personal experience and experimentation with marijuana as a teenager and college student in the 1970s and early '80s. I was, like many of my peers, exposed to marijuana in the form of 'joints' or 'bong hits' or as 'brownies' or 'hash'. There was no idea or even a hint of 'medical marijuana', and marijuana was simply known as 'weed' or 'grass' or 'pot' or 'pakalolo', and getting 'stoned' was akin to drinking lots of beer, glasses of wine and getting drunk. As such, my personal experiences of over 35 years ago that informed my understanding and deliberation some 15 years ago is far different from the type and kind of marijuana available today and various 'new' forms and means of ingesting marijuana.

"As many in the business say today, 'This is not the marijuana of your parents and grandparents.' Indeed, with a Tetrahydrocannabinol or THC level ranging from 15-25%, compared to the same marijuana in the '70s and '80s, any simple comparisons are inaccurate. Furthermore, additional methods of ingestion, including edible forms of candy, ice cream, pastries, cookies, beverages, lotions, tinctures, and hundreds of other forms of food or snack-like products reveal how things have changed over time. Likewise, with the new technology and chemical-based extraction and baking methods, marijuana is now produced and consumed in forms similar to 'crack' cocaine or methamphetamine. The days of the Zig-Zag rolling paper, matchbook 'crutch' and 'roach clip', are passed us. Indeed, modernity has forever changed how marijuana is grown, processed, manufactured and consumed.

"Consequently, as a legislator attempting to fashion prudent and proper public policy, I am curious and intrigued by the grand social and cultural experiments occurring daily in Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Washington, and the 23 or so other states where medical marijuana and/or marijuana is legal. The lessons from these states, being exposed and taught, are relatively new to me and many of my constituents, and the facts and data, although somewhat incomplete or indeterminate, suggest that there are some serious negative affects being imposed upon young children, families and communities, and they honestly raise additional concerns for me regarding HB 321 and HB 321, HD 1. I think many of my colleagues share this concern with me. They know that taking marijuana to the commercial and retail level is a major policy decision. One that we should not rush into without counting the true cost and knowing the steep price we are willing to pay.

"With this understanding of the context from where my tepid support arises, the following is my list of 9 observations and/or suggestions I believe deserve further consideration and adoption in some form or other. These 9 items, however, are not the be-all or end-all of other ideas, suggestions and options, but reflect my sincere attempt to be helpful and of help in this far-reaching and irretraceable public policy determination for Hawaii today and tomorrow. For your further consideration I respectfully submit.

1) All licenses to grow or sell marijuana should be restricted to Hawaii residents who can demonstrate a minimum of two (2) years residency. Several states have this in their laws, and it may serve, at least initially, to hold back the foreign or Mainland interest seeking business opportunities in Hawaii. This limited and discretionary license authority should stand a constitutional challenge as it comes under the State's general police powers. The point again, is to stem the initial flood of out-of-state money interest and provide a slight advantage to local farmers and entrepreneurs. This 'speed bump' will hopefully provide local regulations and stakeholders to refine both laws and policies to avoid exploitation of our limited land and water and labor resources by outside and foreign interest. These residency requirements can be found in the laws of both Colorado and New York.

2) Once commercial licensed growers are producing and dispensaries are selling marijuana, home-grown cultivation and production must be banned. This policy will address one of the major problems facing law enforcement and address concerns of 'black' or 'gray' market production and sales. It is also consistent with the traditional handling and regulation of pharmaceutical medicines that most citizens accept and from where most people obtain their medicines. Like most medicines, retail marijuana must meet rigid drug and food safety standards, but purity and dosage is consistent and reliable. Of course, a very small exception can be made for those patients living more than 'X miles' from a dispensary. In a nutshell, this policy may enable the State of Hawaii to greatly curtail the diversion of marijuana to minors, involvement of criminal enterprises, increased adverse public safety and environmental dangers, out-of-state transport and shipment of marijuana, and related offenses which draw the attention of Federal Law Enforcement officials pursuant to the Memorandum for All United States Attorneys, James M. Cole, Deputy Attorney General, Guidance Regarding Marijuana Enforcement, August 29, 2013. This is the law in several states, including Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Maryland, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey and New York.

3) Both the growing and selling of marijuana should be regulated in a 'closed system' that ties a specific cardholder and proscribed limitations to a specific grower/retailer. This means that a patient issued a marijuana card would have to select from a list of licensed growers/retailers who will be given the authority to be the surrogate 'caregiver' and therefore grow and process the marijuana exclusively for that person. The patient would then have access to a safe and secure marijuana source catering to the person's unique medical needs, method(s) of consumption, and levels of THC and/or CDB or both. This model would serve the needs of children whose rare medical conditions require specific strains, quantities and dosage. This one-to-one growing and selling limits the inventory of marijuana by capping the amount to the maximum amount allotted for each registered patient. Consequently, this policy addresses a major criticism of 'open systems' that leads to overproduction of marijuana and unlimited sales, and therein addresses a major concern of law enforcement and substance abuse professionals. States with a 'closed system' include Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Vermont and Washington D.C., and it deserves serious consideration.

4) Counties must be given the opportunity to restrict or prohibit the growing or selling of marijuana under the home rule principle. In the alternative, if not the power to collectively decide to prohibit the establishment of a dispensary within the county boundaries, then grant them the power to regulate the time, place and manner of dispensary and production center operations through local ordinances. Denial of local input and the zoning authority customarily associated with the several counties will lead to practical land use and compatibility disputes among users and may even generate law suits to challenge overly burdensome state laws and policies. States which explicitly state that regulations are up to the county include California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, Oregon, Rhode Island, Vermont and Washington D.C.

5) Funds must be provided for County and State Law Enforcement and marijuana abuse prevention and treatment programs and services. There is no dispute that medical marijuana dispensaries and growing facilities will necessitate an increase in funding and staffing for law enforcement and adult and children substance abuse and treatment programs and services, although little discussion or 'conversation' has taken place among the task force participants or in public hearings. Thus it stands to reason that additional funds must be provided to the appropriate law enforcement agencies and/or departments for disbursements to and for local county fire, police and emergency medical services personnel. Similarly, the State Departments of Education, Health, Human Services, should also be assured additional funds to prepare for the expected and anticipated additional health costs. Additional costs should also be expected for the State of Hawaii Judiciary due to increase in juvenile, domestic and traffic related cases. States that have prepared for the obvious consequences and established funding provisions in their law include Colorado, Illinois and New York.

6) Providing marijuana to minors should be treated similar to the offense of promoting liquor to a person under the age of 21, as established in HRS 712-1150.5. Treatment of unauthorized possession and use of medical marijuana by minors must bear the same serious criminal charges as alcohol, as both are dangerous to young developing brains and pose an especially lethal mixture of driving under the influence with alcohol.

A 38-year National Institutes of Health-funded study showed that people who used cannabis heavily in their teens and continued through adulthood showed a significant drop in IQ between the ages of 13 and 38 — an average of eight points for those who met criteria for cannabis dependence. Those who used marijuana heavily before age 18 (when the brain is still developing) showed impaired mental abilities even after they quit taking the drug. These findings are consistent with other studies showing a link between prolonged marijuana use and cognitive or neural impairment.

There are serious and known dangers of teens using marijuana and with an increase in availability and use, further measures to deter promotion and transfer to minors must be considered. One in five teen drivers surveyed in a recent poll has admitted to driving under the influence of marijuana, according to a recent study by Liberty Mutual Insurance and Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD). And many of these teenagers don't seem to think driving while high is a big deal. Thirty-six percent of teens who have driven high say marijuana doesn't distract them from driving, the report continues. But marijuana does seem to affect drivers. Pot is the most common illegal drug found in drivers who die in car accidents, according to 'Marijuana: Facts for Teens,' a booklet published in 2001 and most recently revised in March 2011 by the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA).

In California, the largest increases in vehicular fatalities occurred in the five years following the establishment of the Medical Marijuana Program in January 2004. For the five years following legalization there were 1,240 fatalities in fatal crashes, compared to the 631 fatalities for the five years prior, for an increase of almost 100%.

7) Limit licenses to grow and or sell to Hawaii registered not-for-profits or sustainable business corporations. The general idea is to curb the customary exclusive shareholder profit motive for the commercial growing and selling of retail marijuana. The marijuana commercial industrial complex is a multi-national billion dollar business already influenced and controlled by 'Big' tobacco like Phillip Morris, British American Tobacco, Imperial, Japan Tobacco, etc., and pharmaceutical and chemical giants like Monsanto, Syngenta, BASF, Bayer, Dow and DuPont. Commercial cultivation and production of marijuana products has become the 'new' tobacco product for BIG TOBACCO. As some may know, the sustainable business corporations ('SBCs') or socially responsible corporations ('SRCs'), is a business model that allows the operators and managers to legally consider the environmental, community, labor, resource, investors, and doctors and patients interest for a 'triple-bottom-line' business venture [§420D-5]. Marijuana dispensaries. The Hawaii Revised Statues Chapter 414 provides the law and examples of current examples of Hawaii sustainable business corporations, including Sustainable Island Products, Blue Planet Foundation, Distribute Energy Partners, 21st Century Technologies, Hawaii Energy Connection, Haleiwa Farmers' Market, and Lex Brodie's Tire Company. If Hawaii wanted to be the first and lead the Nation, we have a good law on the books and could have a diverse group of stakeholders to run and manage the sustainable business corporation for medical marijuana.

8) Explicitly prohibit any medical marijuana reciprocity provision between Hawaii and other states and countries. There should not be any reciprocity provision for patients with medical marijuana cards of other states and countries. If commercial marijuana dispensaries are enacted into law, we should limit and carefully monitor and evaluate any and all foreseeable and unforeseeable effects of legalized growing and selling of retail marijuana under the medical marijuana regime. Given the uncertainty of any regulatory program and the risks inherent in this new policy of commercial growing and sale, Hawaii should take a precautionary approach and limit any unnecessary exposure and risk to its citizens and general populations. For example, reciprocity provisions do not presently exist in Alaska, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Maryland, Minnesota, Montana, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Vermont, Washington and Washington D.C.

9) Any medical marijuana program should be a pilot program with a sunset date. Hawaii should compel a legislative review and assessment for any medical marijuana dispensary law by enacting a sunset date whereby the law will be repealed in total unless extended by legislative enactment. This is a traditional and customary practice whenever the Hawaii Legislature has approved a policy declaration but may not be certain of its efficacy or adoption by a wider statewide constituency. Additionally, we should also consider a review of the regulator protocols and regulations by the Legislative Reference Bureau or State Legislative Auditor, a few years after enactment to ensure a third-party review of the law, rules and regulations. For example, Colorado's Legislature approved its law in 2010, but established a sunset in 2016, whereby a review by the Colorado Department of Regulatory Agencies was conducted in 2014. The 2014 Sunset Review: Colorado Medical Marijuana Code, Office of Policy, Research and Regulatory Reform, October 15, 2014, contains 15 recommendations for the Colorado Legislature to consider. One of the recommendations is to continue the Colorado law until 2019, and thereby set up another review by the regulatory agency. Other examples include Illinois, which enacted its regulatory statues as a pilot program with a four-year sunset date, and New York with a seven-year sunset date.

"Mr. Speaker, thank you for this opportunity to vote my conscience and bring forth my observations and concerns on this important matter. As always I stand ready to serve this Chamber in any way I may in our mutual pursuit to better our communities and their futures, and in seeking and perpetuating the best Hawaii has to offer the world. Aloha."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations please, and a brief comment. I thank the Chair for all her hard work. I hope that, as well as my colleague from Waianae, that things can roll out to massage this into something that can work for the people who have been waiting for a long time to have better access to medicine that they need. Thank you."

Representative Aquino rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations on HB 321, HD1. Mr. Speaker, my main concerns with this measure stems from the number of dispensaries. On one hand, the bill authorizes the Department of Health to determine the number of dispensaries statewide. However, the bill also stipulates and mandates that at least 26 dispensary licenses should be distributors of these facilities by January 2019.

"First, this is confusing language as to who determines the number of facilities. Secondly, going from zero facilities in 2015 to at least 26 in less than four years seems to be accelerated and quite hasty. Mr. Speaker, I believe that there should be further clarity before we push aggressively ahead and provide these facilities for patients and caregivers. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am voting in support of this measure. The marijuana task force has done a great job. It's incomplete. We still need to finish that job, and I think we're making great headway on that. I agree with one of my minority colleagues that it would be better if this was more normalized and treated as a medicine and was available in pharmacies. Because of its position, inappropriate position, I believe, in Schedule I of the federal statutes, we can't do that.

"Marinol, which is basically THC, most psychoactive component, is a Schedule III drug, and is available in every pharmacy in unlimited quantities for any indication. And I think that we should think about marijuana in that way, that it should be able to be prescribed for any indication. In the meantime, we can keep a registry of what things it was being used for without identifying the patients. Anyway, thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Creagan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I would also like the words of the Representative from the Big Island entered into the Journal as if they were my own.

"I also want to mention that Michigan State, a couple years ago, did legalize the getting of medical marijuana from pharmacies, although it's going to be contingent on the reclassification of the drug federally. That's something that, along with the Representative from Hawaii Kai's comments, something that we could look into doing as well in Hawaii. But the first step is a dispensary system if we are serious about allowing the use of marijuana for medicine. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Creagan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Thielen rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Creagan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Mizuno rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Creagan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

It means farmer, planter, or to cultivate. The term 'ai in the word generally means food, and you can see this in other words like 'aina or land. Mahi'ai also means strong or energetic, because farmers have to be strong. "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm sure as everyone has had the opportunity to say the Hawaiian Word for the Day, you think about what word you're going to use. One of the words I thought about is a phrase that comes out of Chapter 89, which is huki pau. But I didn't choose that word, Mr. Speaker.

"I thought about why we are here doing the Hawaiian Word for the Day and who instigated this for this Body, and I wanted to pay the former Representative from District 4 the credit of having us here acknowledging our host culture. So the word of the day, Mr. Speaker, is ho'ohanohano. What it means, Mr. Speaker, is glorious, magnificent, noble, honored, dignified, and that's what this person brought to the table here at this Legislature as far as Hawaiian issues are concerned.

"So on behalf of this Body, I'd like to honor her with this Hawaiian Word for the Day. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. And I'd also like to thank the Chair of Hawaiian Affairs for having this opportunity for other people to do the word as well. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

And because it's a tax increase that is so confounding and confusing, it's based upon a percentage rather than it used to be a barrel. This is going to be a complication, because you know how volatile fuel prices are. They are every day changing, as you can see now your neighborhood pump goes up a little bit every day.

"So for those reasons, I think we're going to try to gain a few pennies out of this, but I think in the end we're going to lose because it's going to cost so much money to rejigger the hardware for DOTAX or any other organization to implement it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Bill 1486. This bill proposes that the state fuel tax rate be an unspecified percentage of the wholesale price of a gallon of fuel, or 17 cents per gallon, whichever is greater. As you may know, the price of oil and the wholesale price of fuel fluctuate on a daily basis. The global economy, and supply and demand ultimately determine how much a Hawaii consumer pays for their gasoline.

"It is unfair to place the burden of this new fuel tax scheme on my constituents who rely on their automobiles to travel to and from work every day. They, along with our neighbor island residents, are the ones that will be most affected by this proposal. Furthermore, this bill places a burden on our small businesses, gas station owners and franchisees that will have to continuously recalculate the fuel tax rate on a daily basis and subsequently remit payment to the Department of Taxation.

"The Department of Taxation testified that 'while the Department appreciates the desire to adjust the fuel tax rate to the cost of fuel, the Department suggests a simple adjustment to the rate.' 'The adjustment provided in this bill will create confusion for taxpayers and administrative challenges both in ensuring compliance and in educating taxpayers regarding the change in the law.'

"Mr. Speaker, I fear that this bill will allow the price of gasoline to rise, not if, but when the price of oil rises again. I understand that the intent of this measure is to make the state fuel tax a viable source of revenue for the State Highway Fund. However, we must utilize existing sources of revenue to fund the highway fund rather than increase the burden on Hawaii's taxpayers.

"Hawaii residents already pay the second highest rate in the nation for their gasoline and the highest rate for their diesel. These exorbitant rates are further compounded by the federal fuel tax, the state fuel tax, the county fuel tax, the GET and the barrel tax.

"Therefore, until a more equitable and efficient method to increase revenue for the State Highway Fund is proposed, I must respectfully vote in opposition to House Bull 1486."

I truly believe that cigarettes and tobacco-related products are a plague on our citizens and all efforts should be made to rid our communities of these substances, or at a minimum, limit their availability and use. Especially, the ease at which so many minors have easy access. As we all know, under present law in Hawaii, you are deemed an adult at age 18, and can legally purchase tobacco products.

"The fact is, I introduced two bills this year to do just that – one to place nicotine on Schedule V under the Controlled Substances Act (House Bill No. 331) thereby placing it under the jurisdiction of the Narcotics Enforcement Division subject to the same and similar regulation of some medicines; the other to impose the General Excise Tax on all products containing nicotine at the rate of 10% at both the wholesale and retail levels (House Bill No. 748). This was to raise the assessment of tax policy that affects and influences consumer behavior but also to generate a frank discussion on our 'love and hate' relationship for tobacco; we love it for the money it raises, but we hate it for the premature death it causes. Both failed to receive a public hearing, but I hope that your Chair on Health will consider them for next year.

"My reservations stem from the irony that House Bill No. 385 generates. First, it would raise the age that a person may purchase any tobacco product or electronic smoking device from 18 to 21 – tobacco being a product that is legal to consume under both federal and state law and subject to strict regulation under the food and drug administration. Yet, currently for medical marijuana, a substance that is illegal under both federal and state law, the State provides limited immunity for any registered patient to consume, regardless of age.

"In other words, if House Bill No. 385 is approved, it would be against the law for a person 20 years of age to purchase a pack of cigarettes. Yet, a child half that age could smoke a joint of medical marijuana if the child's legal guardian is duly registered and compliant with Hawaii's Medical Marijuana Law.

"Similarly, if this bill is approved, it would be against the law for a person under the age of 21 to buy or smoke a cigarette, but a person older than 18 could buy and smoke a marijuana-cigarette, subject to the restrictions under our Medical Marijuana Laws. And, this is the same citizen we legally consider an adult, with all the privileges and liabilities of obtaining that age. At 18, a person can get married or command an army platoon, or run for a seat in the State House of Representatives. But, if House Bill No. 385, House Draft 1 becomes law, the same person would not be able to buy cigarettes or an electronic smoking device.

"It just seems so surreal... and frankly, ridiculous, don't you think? My Wahiawa friends would say, 'What are they smoking?'

"For these reasons, while I support House Bill No. 385, House Draft 1, for its obvious public health benefits, if we are going to base our decisions on science and facts, let's do so across the board and not merely on issues that embrace the lowest denominator. These kinds of bills are 'sexy' and make headlines, but in doing so, elevate the arguable health benefits of similar practices, while grossly dismissing the known physical and mental health dangers of the same.

"I hope my colleagues will take these words under consideration – let's not create mixed messages in our laws. As always, I stand ready and remain available to assist in further refinement of the underlying policy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, and I note the irony that I am a primary introducer of the bill, but what the heck."

I think that would be a better resource for the department. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this bill is well intended, but it leaves a loophole where it mentions smoking but it doesn't mention THC or marijuana, except I guess if you're putting it in one of those electronic, if you put marijuana in the electronic one it would be okay. So it looks like that, the way it's defined, is a bit of a loophole to where you can't smoke in a park, you can't use the e-cigarette, but if you put marijuana into an e-cigarette, you can do it. At least that's the way I'm reading it right now. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative DeCoite rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations. My concern primarily arises from the final definition of what is considered state parks. On my side of the island we have a lot of state park land, unimproved lands that people access for fishing, recreational purposes. That's my concern. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pouha rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations, brief comments, please. Mr. Speaker, this is a very good bill, it's a very necessary bill. We have to be able to get feed for our livestock, feed for our farmers, rather than import all this expensive feed that we have right now. And it's hard enough to make a living to do that. This is a good bill because it gives grants to farmers who have, if you will, the wherewithal to try to grow feed and make money.

"The problem I have with the bill is not what it's for, it's the way it's processed. The eligibility requirements are so loosey-goosey, it just says you've got to have a GE Tax license to get this particular grant. It makes us look from the outside that we're not really stringent and tight in watching over taxpayers' money, because anybody can walk in the door and get this because there's no experiential component. So I would just say as this bill moves on, again a good bill, but written very, very poorly. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I have severe reservations on this bill because I believe this bill strips home rule authority from the counties. This bill hurts the structure of the affordable housing strategy.

"Mr. Speaker, Kauai has many affordable housing needs and I am opposed to this bill because it allows the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands to take affordable housing obligation credits without assurance that those credits will help families who qualify with Kauai County's income standards. Presently, the affordable housing policies and ordinance of the County of Kauai grant a certain number of credits to DHHL, as long as they are mutually agreed upon.

"Mr. Speaker, the Kauai County Housing Director has been active in developing a memorandum of agreement that would help administer how credits would be transferred and utilized.

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Just a few words. Again, like a measure earlier we heard, I would like to support my Department of Education who has done a lot of heavy lifting in the last three years in regards to this test. In fact, about two weeks ago we just received an exemption for this particular program for at least one year.

"During the testimony in Finance, the Department did reveal that they have already contracted with the University of Hawaii to start this test. It will take three years to develop this test. The Department was given well over $1 million about two years ago. They said they have already used that, and they are committing out of their regular funds another $2 million to complete that total $3 million contract.

"I have a lot of confidence, especially after changing policy 2104 and 2105 with the Board of Education in regards to this matter in regards to Hawaiian language in our public schools, and I look forward to the Department giving us an update in about six months to see if they're on target and need to ask the federal government for an additional year of extension while we're developing this test.

"So, at this point in time, I don't think this measure is needed. It's good for the discussion and make the Department moving forward, but I was greatly pleased with their testimony in Finance and I will hold them to the fire on that $2 million that they have already committed and they won't be coming to ask us for any additional funds for that particular test that they're required to develop, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, I think it's good that the new trend is that we want preventative health rather than just curative after things have already struck our population. However, when we have a 7th grade requirement that everybody get a physical, the question is, how do we get the funds to those families that can't afford this? Well intended, but I think it's going to be an unfunded mandate for a lot of families who are in pretty dire straits. So, good intentions, but with funding lacking. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to let the Members know that this is aligning with the Affordable Care Act, and now all plans in this state provide for preventative health care, such as well visits by children. So this is not an unfunded mandate, and this is in fact encouraging our population to take advantage of the benefits that they already pay for. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I do support this measure. My concern is just for some of the implementation of this. We do find it difficult where we're trying to get access to a lot of those in our rural areas, especially. So just to sort of keep in mind the application of this measure."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker, because in the bill it says only the funds that'll be appropriated for this or for accounting and other recordkeeping and basically monitoring. ObamaCare unfortunately doesn't exist, so if it does and how it actually funds this, because preventative care, even with HMSA and all the top priorities, they're not funding physical examinations. So I'll see it and then I'll believe it. But right now I just have some reservations as to how this is going to fly."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still against. We're not encouraging parents, we're mandating them. We're telling them what to do, telling them how to raise their kids. That's why I'm against this."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm voting with reservations, Mr. Speaker, with comments. During the Finance Committee hearing, I can see the potential of huge financial implication with this bill. What we want to know, since this bill is still a work in progress, is to know more of the details on the partnership between advanced nurses or the nurses in the school. The way they wanted it is to have all the schools have a partnership with the nurses from pre-kindergarten all the way down to high school.

"So if they're coming up with place in the school setting, then let's start with just two or three schools right now, but towards the end the financial implications will be huge. Those are my concerns at this point in time. The financial implication is huge. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1440, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representative Cachola voting aye with reservations.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. We have a duty to honor those that serve and gave their life during the war in Vietnam. Their sacrifice, valor and service is a testament to the strength of who we are as Americans. Vietnam War veterans are deserving of our recognition, our support, and our understanding for what they went through in this war. I urge my colleagues to strongly support this. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, speaking in strong support. As you all know, the Filipino veterans fought side by side with the Americans during World War II, and now they're given free burial expenses when they are buried in state or national cemeteries. However, there's already a bill in the books that allows them to be buried in their homelands, but there's no funding. House Bill 1119 provides funding. There will be not that much financial implication because the number of Filipino veterans left are dwindling. Most of them are mostly in their 90s. So to a point, let's see if we can give them some assistance to be with their loved ones in the Philippines. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. Two comments. One is personal, having been a former graduate teaching assistant at UH. If you're a teaching assistant, you are fast-tracked to either a master's degree or PhD. And with that, you are having learning experiences as a professor, you're having exposure to students and to academia in a way that really promotes your career. But you're neither student nor are you labor, you're kind of in between, because you're fast-tracked for those degrees.

"The second reason I'm against this is because our alma mater, 80% of us in this Chamber came out of the UH system. That system needs our help. It's bleeding and it's hurting, and I know there's a town and gown battle that's going back and forth. If we're going to do this, let's do it some other time, right now is not the time to do this. It's going to increase their costs, they can't afford it, and those guys are blessed by being allowed to be TAs and fast-tracking their degrees. Because that's why they're there. They're not there to make money, they're there to get their degrees, get out into society and make a contribution. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I vote no. Thank you."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 729, graduate student assistants, I too was a graduate student assistant and I'm in support of this bill. Graduate students assistants are not all the same. Some are treated well, some are treated badly, some are treated very badly, and I speak from personal experience. Thank you."

Representative Ohno rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. After reading B&F's testimony, they do note that some of these students may enter ERS, EUTF, which are already strained. I just have deep, deep reservations and oppose this bill knowing that there's so many other public workers out there who are seeing their retirements and healthcare after they retire in dire straits. And to add to that pot I think only exacerbates the problem. It's a very tough vote to take, but I'll be voting no. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, with reservations, Mr. Speaker. In light of the comments from the Representative from Alewa Heights as well as the other Representatives, I agree, there's just both sides. I was a graduate assistant, that's why I know that it's horrible. I know that it's almost like slave labor sometimes. Sometimes the work isn't compensated by money, but yet the experience is worth that kind of money.

"But again, when you unionize and putting a strain on UH that already has heavy budget problems. This could be a win-win situation if we sit down and look at it a little bit better. So I have deep reservations about this. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. I just want to familiarize my colleagues with one important development in labor in the last few years is that student athletes are now allowed to unionize, Mr. Speaker. Student athletes are, and they're mostly athletes. Many of these graduate students are in what can only be described as abusive relationships without any recourse to justice. Having organized labor will help them in those situations. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I too stand in support with reservations based upon prior Representative's remarks. I too was a graduate student assistant. I found it as an honor. It's not slavery because you have a choice to get out. I do have concerns also in the EUTF system. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, opposition with a few comments. Mr. Speaker, this is a selective service mandate to the University of Hawaii, to the state government, to the county government, that if someone is not registered for the draft, this is the draft process, which I'm not against, we have it in place, but it says you at the University and all the HRD offices throughout the State of Hawaii have to be the babysitters for this federal mandate that has been in process for years. Even though it doesn't have women yet, it's got all males have to report at the age of 18.

"The problem I have with it is that the logic that we were given in the Finance Committee is that 23% of the population, the Millennials are not getting driver's licenses, therefore we're going to catch them at the University of Hawaii. Now go figure, if you don't get a driver's license, you're more likely to go to college. I don't get the logic of that. Using already resources that are scarce at the University of Hawaii, to put this mandate on them, which otherwise the feds should do.

"And the feds who have this draft and had been implementing it, say, well we don't really enforce it. So they're really using us to enforce something that they should be doing. They don't even give a slap on the hand for those who don't register. So I think it's good to cooperate with the feds, but for this purpose and for this reason, I think this is a bad policy for the State of Hawaii. Thank you, Chair."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Chair. Also being a member of the Finance Committee, one of the things I noticed, to add on to the good Representative from Hawaii Kai, is that we may be starting down a slippery slope and that it might be difficult to draw the line as to where the selective service can go with its state entities in order to obtain this process.

"I will go with strong, strong reservations. I'm concerned that those who do conduct the drafting service, that they have other less intrusive means to accomplish this, and I feel like they haven't explored and vetted that properly. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to join my colleague from Hawaii Kai, no vote. We have had a volunteer army for more than 40 years, and were that not the case, I would vote for this bill. I would note that approximately a quarter of men do not register. That by itself is a failure.

"But these people who are not registering are people who have, shall we say, some difficulties. For the State of Hawaii to further compound their difficulties by not allowing them to go to the University of Hawaii, to get a state job, I think is overkill. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"A no vote, Mr. Speaker, with comments. Reading through the UH testimony, seeing as though we're trying to hold UH accountable, help them with their spending, they're asking that this is an additional burden. They don't know if they'll be able to implement it, staffing, holding all the verification forms of all of the people going through. So if UH isn't able to do it and this is mandating them to do it, then I think we should rethink it. If we're trying to help UH be more fiscally responsible, let's not burden them with more tasks. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a point of information for the Members, that no votes are recorded through the green and pink slips. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Thank you very much. So if you haven't submitted your green slips, now would probably be the most opportune time as we're on the verge of taking a vote for House Stand. Com. Report numbers 637 through 742 as listed on pages 6 through 27."

H.B. No. 1486:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1486 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. I guess the briefest of comments is that this is a middle class killer bill, and it's number five. It raises the price at the pump by putting another fuel tax on top of what already is a high tax. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker. This is going to without a doubt raise our gas tax, or what the consumer pays at the pump. I'm sure we're going to hear all these wonderful programs that it funds, programs that my constituents can't touch or feel nor benefit from. So I'm in opposition to this. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and a brief comment, Mr. Speaker. I commend the author of the bill to my left. I understand why he's doing that, with the concern that the overall impact to the Highway Fund is going to decline as we continue to increase the use of alternative fuel energies.

"However, Mr. Speaker, my concern is the fact then that you shift the burden for future highway development and projects to those that use gas vehicles, which again, Mr. Speaker, seems to put that burden on those that live in the suburbs outside the main urban areas. It also impacts families who are stuck in the two, three hour traffic. As well, Mr. Speaker, those that live on the neighbor islands who have to use their vehicles for work as well as to even do things like throw away their trash. I think those added expenses, even though it might seem small, as a small fuel tax penny increase, could have an impact on a family. So with those comments, Mr. Speaker, I record a reservations. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Johanson rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Johanson's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with serious reservations on HB 1486. Our aging public transportation infrastructure is a critical part of our lives and consequently it is important to upkeep to improve the quality of life for all of our people. The fuel tax is the primary way we leverage federal funds to upkeep our roads, highways and infrastructure. Given the ever-decreasing amount of state funds, and the accompanying potential inability of the State to leverage federal matching funds, it is important to at least consider this out of the box proposal.

"My serious concerns stem from the potential increase in the cost of living for working class families, particularly those with long commutes to work. These two concerns, equally compelling competing concerns, must be balanced and given greater attention if this bill moves forward."

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With respect to the author of the bill, again with reservations. I would like to echo that of the Representative of Waipio."

Representative Pouha rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Bill 1486. This bill proposes to peg the state fuel tax rate to an unspecified percentage of the wholesale price of fuel. As you may be aware, the price of oil and the wholesale price of fuel fluctuate on a daily basis. Although retailers may purchase fuel on a weekly basis, it is not a smart decision to peg a tax rate on something that is as unstable as the wholesale rate of fuel.

"The Global economy and supply and demand ultimately dictate the price of fuel in Hawaii. It is unfair to place this fluctuating uncertainty of fuel prices on my constituents who rely on their automobiles to travel to and from work every day.

"Proponents of this bill will argue that the fuel tax will remain at 17 cents for the time being due to the low costs of oil, however, Mr. Speaker, this proposal will more than likely exponentially increase the price of fuel and therefore the fuel tax, not if but when the price of oil rises again.

"I understand the intent of this measure is to help the Highway Fund. Last year the Governor passed Act 107 which extends the barrel tax to 2030, however we neglected to reallocate 60 cents of the tax which is currently the deposit, into the General Fund.

"Hawaii taxpayers already pay some of the highest fuel costs in the nation, which is compounded by the second highest tax fuel rate in the nation, the GET, and other taxes that this Legislature has imposed on Hawaii's consumer.

"Therefore, until a more equitable and efficient method is proposed to increase revenue for the Highway Fund, I must respectfully vote in opposition to House Bill 1486.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ohno rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Respectfully, in opposition. This is an example where community governments around the world are often outpaced by technology. Many times the pace of technology providing hydrogen or hybrid or electric cars creates a world where laws that are made for 2015 are no longer applicable.

"I do think that infrastructure to our state is a very, very big problem, and I do hope that going forward we do find a solution to provide highways the needed improvements and upkeep that they do need. I just think that this is, again, we're caught in the same quandary of laws that no longer apply to us today. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Respectfully, in opposition. I ask that the previous speaker's comments be entered into the Journal as my own, as well as the Representative from Waipio. One of my additional concerns is that I believe this increased tax will disproportionally affect the people of my district who sit hours and hours in traffic. Thank you, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations. I appreciate the work on this measure by the Chair of the CIP Subcommittee. He certainly understands the necessity for us to have this kind of discussion, given the status of the current Highway Fund and the lack of any action from our Congressional powers that be.

"I also wish to adopt the words of the former Transportation Chair from Waipio, who is now the Chair of the Water & Land Committee as my very own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. HB 1486 proposes a percentage tax on each gallon of gasoline, instead of a set amount, the proceeds of which will go into the State Highway Fund. The State Department of Transportation (DOT) relies on the Highway Fund to implement its strategic plan for highway improvements across our state. It is essential for the safety of all residents and visitors that we maintain our roads, bridges and sidewalks in good condition.

"Many of my constituents have expressed concerns about the condition of our state highways, including H-1, Moanalua Freeway and Kamehameha Highway. The potholes and cracks in these roads damage their vehicles and impair safe driving. The DOT previously stated that due to insufficient resources, it has extended the repaving schedule of our roads to every 14 years, instead of the recommended 10 years. Ideally, the State should spend $86,000,000 each year on maintenance for our highway system, but current resources do not meet this need. Basically, we cannot sustain the current highway system with the present revenue streams.

"Ensuring a revenue source for the Highway Fund is necessary to construct, operate and maintain our highways. The failure to maintain the highway system may result in sanctions by the Federal Highway Administration, including the loss of federal funds. The availability of state matching funds for the highway federal aid program is essential for us to draw down our share of federal funds. The normal federal share for projects on the interstate system is 90%, and for other eligible roadways it is 80%.

"I understand the concerns regarding this bill, but, at the same time, the growing need for maintenance and repair of our roads cannot be ignored. A failure to maintain our highways will result in reduced road space, deteriorating infrastructure, higher insurance premiums, increased liability and increased accidents. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, just a couple quick words. Even as somebody who doesn't have a car and doesn't drive very often, it's clear to me that the roads are falling apart, and if we don't do something about them sooner than later, there's not going to be any point in having any roads because we won't be able to use them anyway. So I think it's time to grasp the nettle and move forward on an issue that both the State and the federal have been dilatory on for years now. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Knowing that this bill is still a work in progress, hopefully the author of this bill will come up with ways to make things better. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a second time, again in opposition. But for the sake of history and the previous speaker from Chinatown who noted that it was a state and a federal issue. This Body has to look in the mirror because this Body is the one that cut some $100 million out of the Highway Fund and it's part of the reason why the tipping point came where our roads are now Third World roads, so let us look in the mirror when we see this as a problem. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. Can I ask for permission to insert comments into the Journal? And can I also ask that the remarks from the Representative from North Kauai be entered into the Journal as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to House Bill 1486. If this measure passes it will provide an unfair burden on the constituents within State House District 39. With the heavy amount of fuel used to travel from the leeward side of Oahu, this measure will increase the cost of living on our residents. The measure also does not have a set amount on the increase, creating ambiguity to our residents.

"Mr. Speaker, if the purpose of this measure is to contribute to our State Highway Fund, then it may have dramatic impacts on the state's fuel tax. Due to the improved fuel economy in new vehicles, hybrid and electric, the State may need to increase the tax to an absurd amount to adequately raise or maintain the current State Highway Fund. Therefore, it has become an antiquated, inefficient source of revenue for the State Highway Fund and cannot continue to be a viable, long term source of revenue because of developments in automotive efficiency."

Representative Lowen rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Being the anti-tax gentleman I am, and also being a taxi driver, I probably will feel this the most. But I would like to say to my fellow Members that weighing the pros and cons, we must also look at the consequences. So please take a good look at this. Thank you."

Representative Yamashita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, as previous speakers have said, the concern is that we will not be able to match the federal match within three years. As we all know, we leverage that four to one, three to one, whatever it may be, and that's very useful for our state, so we need to prepare for that.

"Currently right now, the highway fuel tax generates about 34% of all highway revenue. So it should be closer to half. Over the years, it's been declining. We haven't raised it substantially since 1991 when it was 16 cents. In 2007 we raised it to 17 cents. Prior to that, if everybody wants to know history, in 1969 it was 5 cents, and then it went up to 8 and a half cents in '77, 11 cents in '85. And then it didn't go anywhere between '85 and then, but how we adjusted for that was that we created the rental car surcharge, so we passed it on to tourists, and that's how we got through that period.

"But currently right now, what we have to be concerned with is that needs are great throughout the whole state for highways, and we all know that. Hopefully the next Body will take a look at this, and I don't know how it will come back, if it will be ad valorem, or a straight cents increase, or if it doesn't come back.

"But if it doesn't come back, Mr. Speaker, the need is about, right now, we would need about 5 cents a gallon. We need to generate about $23 million a year more before three years comes up and we're not able to match. If we wait until that third year, Mr. Speaker, then the jump will be much greater, and we'd have to consider that, that we'd have to make a much larger jump to all our constituents at that point.

"Also what we have to consider is that the federal government, Mr. Speaker, is not doing anything. So eventually the match will become less and less, and we the State will have to come up with our own resources.

"So I ask my colleagues to consider all those things, and hopefully this will come back and we can take a look at it one more time and see what the Senate does, and I hope that we don't have to deal with it in three years, because I think it'll be worse for our constituents at that point because the jump and the hit will be much bigger. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, in support. I'd like to just note, we have a number of big highway projects coming up both in Waimanalo, Pali Highway, a number of places like that, they're going to cost a lot of money. And fairly soon we will not be able to afford projects like these, and we cannot let that happen.

"There will come a time, perhaps a few years from now, where we'll have to reevaluate our method of financing to ensure the continuity of all our infrastructure projects given the transition from fossil fuel driven cars to alternative renewable vehicles like electric and hydrogen and everything else. But I don't believe we're there yet, and in the meantime we need to ensure that we provide for the infrastructure that the public expects. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. May I please have the words from the Representative from Upcountry Maui placed in the Journal as if they were my own. Mr. Speaker, I think this would also help us, especially on the island of Oahu, which is the Honolulu County, maybe to encourage individuals to take public transportation other than just the bus, which we are going to be discussing in a few moments from here. And I think as we all move down this path, we must take different vehicles to get where we need to do to be resourceful with our revenues to help with our infrastructures as well as our renewables as we move forward for our future generations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Yamane rose to respond, stating:

"Standing second time with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was compelled to just add on a couple comments because I got to get my good friend from Ulupalakua to actually stand up and speak on this Body. So, Mr. Speaker, real briefly to highlight my concerns again is the fact that the good Representative from Upcountry Maui expressed the history of why the status of the current gas tax state portion.

"But, Mr. Speaker, one of the things that I want to highlight to the Members is the fact that when you attach it to the fuel price of gasoline, that price fluctuates. And so Members of the Body need to remember that just over a year ago, gas prices went very high. And again with this tax being added to this, that cost would still be associated with whatever people pay.

"Again, Mr. Speaker, our constituents who during this time had to look at alternative types of fuels, look at different modes of transportation, it still impacted hard to companies who had to use and move vehicles to work. It impacted families who had to go and pick up their children. It impacted all of us in a wide variety of ways.

"And so again, Mr. Speaker, the concern I have is because we have no control over gasoline and barrel prices throughout the world, especially from Indonesia, it concerns me that we're going to add a tax and then not take the issue at hand when we do need to look at it directly with improving our highway. So thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again with reservations. Instead of having my staff track me down and the staff down in the Clerk's office track me down for my comments, I'm going to do it right now, so I erase my previous comments about inserting written comments into the Journal.

"What I will say is that I commend the Representative from Upcountry Maui, and we've had this discussion before. And when the fuel prices were high, I think it was a great idea, but when the fuel prices went down to $2.50 a gallon, and if you just use that as a base number, it's not going to go lower than that, but it certainly is going to go higher than that. If it hits the $5.00 mark which it did a year ago, then you're talking about almost 100, if you use that base as 17 cents, that number could double, and that's the scary part about this bill. So that's the concern that I have.

"If we're just talking about a straight tax, an increase by 10 cents or whatever that number is, I have no problem supporting that because we can tell our constituents what that number is and why we need to increase that tax. But if it's an ad valorem and it's by a percentage raise, it's hard to figure out that number. So I do, I do commend the Representative from Upcountry Maui for looking at all the potential impacts that this not raising the tax could be, but I don't think that this is the correct method right now. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, very briefly. Still a no. This is a mess, Mr. Speaker, that we created. In a few minutes we're going to be dealing with another mess that we didn't create but we have to deal with it. But this one we created, because over the years we have, as my good friend from Hawaii Kai said, swept, swept millions and millions and millions of dollars out of the Highway Fund when the economy was down instead of making tough decisions and prioritizing.

"So now here we come and say, we don't have any money. Well, we don't have any money because we spent it all on other things. And now we're broke, so we're going to raise it, and then when it's flush in a few years again, we're going to sweep money out again. I put my Nostradamus hat on. It's like it's so easy to predict, it's like the sun coming up. And we're going to sweep the money out again, and then in 15 years we're going to say, gee, we have no money, we've got to raise the tax again. Because we swept it out year after year after year. And this is what we're dealing with. This mess, we created ourselves. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I wish to vote for this measure with a slight reservation, very slight, Mr. Chairman. The reservation I have is that as you plan your Highway Fund, it'll be very difficult to plan it with an ad valorem tax, because it fluctuates. So it makes planning very difficult. The idea is good, but for a basic technicality that we need, like we need to plan X dollars, X taxes, equals the result.

"So, Mr. Subcommittee Chairman, my apologies for my speech, I know you worked very hard as always, but it's the difficulty in planning for the kind of dollars that you need with the fluctuation of the gas. Thank you very much."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I do want to thank the Subcommittee Chair on CIP for at least having a long view on this issue. Anytime you deal with any kind of tax and fees, it is a difficult one. But because he had the foresight, because he's been doing CIPs for years now, he does understand the need for some type of increase over time in order to fulfill all the needs of road construction and highway projects within the State.

"I do hear all of the concerns, and we look forward to your strong support when we do change it as a straight up tax or fuel tax increase. So we do look forward to all the people who had concerns about the ad valorem in supporting without reservation when we do come back from the Senate to do a flat increase. Thank you."

Representative Yamashita rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I never speak for the second time. Mr. Speaker, still in support. As far as the ad valorem goes, Mr. Speaker, keep in mind that we also have, we still have the rental car facility tax that comes to us, and that is still a flat tax. We still have the registration tax, still a flat tax. We still have the weight tax, still a flat tax. And that generates, currently, most of the money. The fuel tax is the one that will fluctuate. And if only one fluctuates with the time, then it won't fluctuate that much.

"This is an anomaly, and I would argue that if we set it at a low amount, and we haven't set the percentage yet, we can set it at an amount that maybe when it reaches $4 or whatever it may be, it will be a reasonable tax that we need to collect. We can do our best guess. Our GET, Mr. Speaker, is a percentage, and it fluctuates with our economy, and we have to deal with that all the time.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support. We always talk about trying to be innovative, and as an entrepreneur, I pride myself on thinking innovatively. And I think this is one that will adjust automatically with inflation. If we adjust it for inflation, by the way, Mr. Speaker, I have another document here. If we adjust it for inflation from 1991 to now, it would have to be close to 26 cents a gallon, so keep that in mind. Thank you very much."

Representative Cachola rose to respond, stating:

"I'm still in support with reservations, Mr. Speaker. We're haggling on a $22 million a year funding. If we're going to pass the health unfunded liability, which is more or less $500 million a year savings, we will give them more than $22 million. That way we have a lot more flexibility in the use of our money if we come up and pass it out, House Bill 1356. That's one way where we can use a lot of money, and we have the flexibility to use it for other programs. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I would like the words of the Representatives from Waimanalo, Upcountry, and Chinatown entered in the record as if they were my own. And a brief addendum as one who probably drives just as much as our good Representatives from the west side of Oahu, 30 miles to get to Wailuku, Kahului, one way. We recognize the fact is we want these roads to be open. If we want them to be able to be repaired and expanded and improved, we need this funding source.

"There was a study done a few years ago that showed that potholes and cracks and all that, the wear and tear on the vehicles triples the amount of fuel tax that people pay. That's the kind of damages our cars take, that's what causes our cars to break down, that's what causes traffic jams. That's it.

"A lot of work needs to be done with more options, as the Speaker said, however, the feds are watching. If we wait to the last year to try to address this issue, not only will it be a bigger hit and probably not have much political support, but you can see pretty much the end of the federal partnership for highway projects, given no seniority in Washington, happening again. So colleagues, just keep in mind that it is a work in progress, but look at the net at the end of the day. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. I just want just another take on all of this. There was a New York Times' study that the higher the fuel cost, the less accidents there are. So think of it also as a safety measure. Thank you."

Representative Aquino rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I'd like to adopt the words of the Representative from Upcountry as well as the CPC Chair as if they were my own. I'd also just like to say that years of under investment, aging infrastructure, as well as the economic downturn, have all played a role in this current crisis. Thank you very much," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1486, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE FUEL TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 40 ayes to 11 noes, with Representatives Cachola, DeCoite, Ing, Johanson, Kawakami, Lowen, Oshiro, Souki, Tokioka and Yamane voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Har, LoPresti, Matsumoto, McDermott, Ohno, Pouha, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 269:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 269, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PSYCHOLOGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 928:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 928, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CONSUMER ADVOCATE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1275:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1275 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to ask to insert written comments into the Journal."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"While seven other states have designated official state instruments, none can claim one with such a storied History as Hawai'i's 'ukulele. Originally introduced to Hawai'i by Portuguese immigrants as 'the machete,' the 'ukulele was quickly embraced by King David Kalakaua. It was redesigned to feature a new koa wood design, a slightly different tuning, and – most importantly – the royal stamp of approval. Skilled and talented artists including Queen Liliuokalani, Samuel Kamaka, Israel

Kamakawiwo'ole, Don Ho, and Jake Shimabukuro, subsequently pushed the limits of the 'ukulele's progression and established its presence around the world. The story of the 'ukulele is representative of Hawai'i's ever-changing mix of ethnicities and unique cultural blend, and it is only fitting that the 'ukulele be recognized as the State's official 'auana instrument.

"Equally important is the process by which this bill has progressed towards becoming a law, and the civic engagement it has fostered. Hawai'i is often regarded as a state whose residents do not participate in the electoral and legislative processes. In fact, only 52.3% of the population statewide cast votes in the 2014 General Election. Many members of our constituency feel disconnected from politics, do not vote in elections, and feel that they have no influence on the work this Body does on a daily basis. The passing of this bill acknowledges the 130,000 keiki who participated in WeVoteHawaii in November 2014, in which they voted for not only candidates, but also official 'auana and kahiko musical instruments. By adopting their suggestions, we are instilling a sense of autonomy and civic responsibility in the next generation of Hawai'i voters.

"I wish to express my sincerest gratitude to the students who participated in WeVoteHawaii and my fellow legislators who acknowledged the wishes of their constituents. In particular, the Chiefess Kamakahelei Middle School and Kapaa Middle School 'ukulele bands put forth an admirable lobbying effort and a successful campaign to convince their legislators to support this measure. I would also like to express my appreciation to Senators Glenn Wakai and Donovan Dela Cruz for their assistance in hearing and passing this measure in the Senate Chamber. Passing this bill is an important milestone in acknowledging this state's cultural past and fortifying its civic future."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1275, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE INSTRUMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 87:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 87, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SAFETY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1326:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1326 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition with a bumper sticker comment because I don't think people are going to say too much. I just say that this is the shoplifter's dream bill. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again, I briefly commented on this yesterday, but I have a grave concern from going from $300 to $750, which I do understand, but sometimes some people do things and shoplift and unfortunately have to do it for other needs, and I feel very uncomfortable lifting that cap and then putting on a percentage moving forward, because some individuals that make their amends, we need to make sure that they can pay off their debt to society, and I'm not quite sure this will help them do that at that point in time. But I'm just gravely concerned with this at this point in time, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. First of all, I just want to reassure anybody who's worried about shoplifting that that's an entirely different section. That's Section 708-833.5, and you'll be glad to know that for shoplifting, $300 is still the limit.

"That in a sense though is a superficial response. If we continue on the current policy of never raising the limits on these various ones where you have a threshold, this one hasn't been changed since 1986, if we don't change it for another 30 years, you're potentially probably looking at 5 years in jail for stealing a bag of rice, and then you're sort of in the Les Miserable territory, Jean Valjean, you steal a baguette and go to jail for life. So we need to think about the actual policy, where should it be, where should it be?

"But the other issue with it is that, when you look at the people who get convicted now, stealing $350 worth of whatever they steal, they go to jail generally for about two and a half to three years. It costs us over $30,000 a year to keep a person in jail for a year, for one year. So if you steal $300, the State ends up spending, taxpayers end up spending $90,000 so this person, who has not committed a violent crime in this case, can go to criminal finishing school and come out and be an even better criminal.

"So I think the debate is actually more nuanced and probably a more serious one than just saying, oh you know it's a shoplifter's bill of rights. There's more to it than that, and we just have to decide as a society what we want to do to people who steal that amount of value. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Still in opposition, Mr. Speaker. And because it is a dream bill, we have to remember that Hawaii has the highest burglary rate in the nation. We are not a dangerous place for violence, but in terms of theft we are at the top, and this in effect seals it as the gold standard that, hey, if you're going to be a thief you can be in Hawaii because look you can go up to $750 now without any prosecution. We have to be mindful that HPD is called for more burglaries than they are almost anything else that they're attentive to. So we have a bad habit, and we're feeding that habit with this particular bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support. I'd like the comments of the Judiciary Chair entered into the Journal as if they were my own. With the addendum that we have a moral obligation, I think, to make sure that the punishments fit the crime. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Standing in support, reservations. I think the purpose of this Act, according to the section of findings of this, is to update the monetary threshold for felony theft, second degree theft, and this was recommended by the Council of State Governments Justice Center in 2012. So I think that's important to point out. And that the Chair of the Judiciary Committee is correct, it has not been adjusted since 1986, and that's a long time for this threshold to be in place. So I support the Chair and his amendment here to raise it from $300 now, to $750. I think that makes sense and that's in line with justice for our constituents.

"The concern I have is the automatic increase that goes on as of 'January 1 in each year thereafter, the value shall be increased to the sum of the previous year's value plus two per cent of the previous year's value, rounded up to the nearest dollar.'

"I really think that's a decision for the Legislature, the Legislatures at that time, to make that evaluation and determination. I don't care too much for automatic increases like this dealing with the criminal code, especially since we don't know what the untold effects might be.

"But for the first part, as far as raising it, I think it's appropriate, and I think periodically a lot sooner than every 30 years, the Legislature should convene maybe a working group or task force to review all the criminal codes and all the penalties, both of misdemeanors, petty misdemeanors, and felonies, so they comport with our standards of justice in this day and age. For those reasons, I'll be voting with reservations, but thank you very much."

Representative Keohokalole rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to go with reservations. I'd just like to say, if you look at the value of what it exceeds, you take a farmer for example, $100 to $20,000, it will make or break a farmer. I think the increase is fair. You take a penny out of a farmer and it breaks them, so I think it's fair, but I still have reservations on this. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support. I am a victim also of burglary, I've had my office ransacked twice. So I understand what it is to be a victim, but I also understand, in a district where the poverty is so high that there is a need for certain sustenance, that sometimes people can't help themselves. And as such, I agree with the Representative from Wahiawa, maybe we do need to have a task force, and I strongly also agree with the Chairman of Judiciary. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1326, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PENAL CODE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 39 ayes to 12 noes, with Representatives Aquino, DeCoite, Jordan, Keohokalole and Oshiro voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Kawakami, Kong, Matsumoto, McDermott, McKelvey, Pouha, Thielen, Tupola and Yamane voting no.

At 1:55 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

LATE INTRODUCTIONS

The following late introduction was made to the Members of the House:

Representative Ward introduced Mr. Renwick "Uncle Joe" Tassill, Hawaiian Homes Commission.

END OF CALENDAR

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 636) recommending that H.B. No. 134, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 134, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations on this. I will save the balance of my comments for Third Reading, but this is probably one of the most serious issues that we have to deal with this session. As I mentioned before, the Highway Fund was a mess that we created, this is a mess of a different sort. It was brought to us, but we have to deal with it, and there are no good solutions.

"But I don't think the proposal in front of us is a serious proposal. I just don't think it is. The folks that are in the construction industry and the folks waiting for a real answer from us are getting something that's not real. We all know this is not what it's going to look like.

"So we owe them a serious answer to a tough problem, and that's why we asked to get elected, it's to make tough decision. This is going to be a tough decision, and this is not a serious proposal in my view and I will save the balance of my comments for Third Reading."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. A couple of comments. I want to first commend the Chair of Finance for the ingenuity of this bill, because I think it's going to be a catalyst for a good discussion between the Mayor and his Council. Between the Legislature, the State House and the State Senate. And I think between the Legislature and the City Council. I think this is good.

"This actually takes away, as my previous colleague said, from the intent of the amount of money that they say they're missing, this actually takes out $500 million to $750 million out of the supposed promised amounts of money from the increase, because it decreases from 0.5% the GE increase, to 0.25%. That's a 50% decrease. It also takes away the time factor about when this is going to end. So it makes them twist in the wind, if you will.

"But the unkindest cut of all, and where I don't really like it, is where this says, okay all you counties now jump on the tax increase bandwagon like we have on Oahu and stick it to some of the people who can't afford any of these particular increases for the General Excise Tax, the most regressive tax.

"So with those, Mr. Speaker, I just want to say that this should be the beginning of a dialogue, hopefully something good is going to come out of it, but I want to put one other historical note in place, and that is, in the beginning when Frank Fasi was here and when there was talk with Joe Magaldi and others, there was going to be a Japan model of building a mass transit for Hawaii. As they do in Japan, they basically have the right-of-ways built free by private sector companies because they give development rights to all those private sector companies to build either shopping centers or high rise condos, et cetera.

"Here we have none of that private-public partnership. Here we have raised no money from the private sector, at least to this date, unless they start doing some of these private-public partnerships, to the point where the taxpayers are footing the bill for the entire thing. So that is a grave disappointment.

"And the other thing is, if this bill goes through and this does stick in with the other counties, the unintended consequences could be immense as this bill already suggests. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, we better sit down and reason together, arm wrestle with a few people about a few things and a few percentages, to really come up with something much better than this bill. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I would say it's a serious proposal for a serious problem, although I don't think I would categorize it as a mess. You have a project that's been talked about since at least the '70s, and this particular version of this project started, the first vote here in the House was in 2005, and several of the delays were completely, there was no reason for them whatsoever. Former Governor Lingle sat on the environmental impact statement for I believe it was about a year. She never signed it. It was purely an administrative function on her part and she refused to do it, so that delayed the project for quite some time.

"There were a couple of lawsuits, one of which having to do with iwi was found to have merit, but the fact was that the City was relying on a lower court decision, there had already been a decision and they were relying on it and so they went ahead based on that, based on a long standing rule that you could segment the search for iwi when you were doing a project. And the Supreme Court reversed that and said, no that's not the way you can do it, and I think the year after that the Legislature said, no, in certain circumstances you can segment it. So that delayed the project for another I think almost two years.

"And there was an additional lawsuit by former Governor Cayetano that I think in the end, well, he lost, his group of plaintiffs lost on every single count, as I recall. It didn't delay the project a whole lot, but even if you add all those delays up, if it was a year or two, if we had been putting these same bids out two years ago that we're putting out today, my guess is if we were over budget at all it would be by a very small amount. So to some extent, the people who have been opposed to this have created a self-fulfilling prophecy, to a certain extent.

"Having said all that, if the project dies, we're still in exactly the same position. We will have spent, the numbers are staggering, the amount we already spent, I believe it is $2.3 billion that we would lose completely, and we're still in the same position we were 10 years ago, which is traffic on the H-1 is just appalling. So I just don't think responsibly we can let this project die.

"I realize it's not entirely our responsibility, the City Council has a responsibility here too, and I do find it frustrating that they haven't stepped up to the plate and put some money on the table from their own tax sources. But having said that, I think the consequences for Oahu would be very dire if this project halts now. Mahalo."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I'd like to thank the Judiciary Chair for his great comments. Many of them I agree with. Unfortunately, we are in a situation now where we thought we were going to be, or the City and County of Honolulu thought they were going to have a system paid in full by 2022. But due to the delays as the good Judiciary Chair has stated, we all get a better understanding of where we're at today in cost overruns.

"Unfortunately, for those of us who live in the Honolulu County, it's either going to be extend this tax, or the City and County of Honolulu create a new tax or increase property tax. And although this measure might be a little shocking at first, you need something to motivate that discussion with the Council in Honolulu. Because as I said it in Finance, we need skin in the game. And although I wasn't in this Body in 2005, I believe this Body gave up the skin for the greatness of the Honolulu County, which is the largest county in the State, to provide alternative transportations. And that may have stifled this Body to do what they needed to do for the whole State, unfortunately.

"Now I understand the City and County is asking for an extension on this measure, but that's why this measure is moving forward, with the shock, to say, how do we all come to the table and help resolve this issue? The solution is not to remove and take down what has already been built. That is not the solution. And the questions are still out there, if that was to happen, who would pay for that? Would the current 0.5% surcharge pay for that? Who would pay back the federal monies? Or would we have to pay back those federal monies? And when I talk about 'we', that would be the constituents of the City and County of Honolulu. And these things never come out in the media and these things never come out in the discussion. So I think that's why this measure is being moved forward, to hear from our neighbors across the street, where's your skin in the game.

"And yes, I'm a taxpayer of the City and County of Honolulu, and I don't want to see fellow members in my county have to raise their property tax two times or three times, or even impose larger property taxes on Department of Hawaiian Homelands, nonprofit organizations, which all have flat property taxes.

"So I think this is the discussion going forward, and we also have to be accountable for the 10% that we have been, some people say, siphoning off this, but we all have to remember that that 10% pays for the collection, because the counties don't have a collection mechanism, and those remaining monies go into our state coffers to help pay for programs. And it might be only about $18 million that we so called 'siphon', but it will pay for a preschool program, it will pay for running a department. So these are the things that really need to be talked about as we move forward.

"I've seen the Senate's version, and it's all open for debate. And I think to keep two vehicles going as we move towards the ending of session is good for the whole Body as well as our counterparts in the City and County of Honolulu. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And I look forward to further discussion next week."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, first of all, I am in support of this measure and I want that to be very clear on the record. I do have some concerns however, and I'd like to talk about those concerns. If you look at the committee report, the Finance Committee amended this bill. Essentially, in 2005 the Legislature passed Act 247, and that is what created the county surcharge, the 0.5% tax on the GET for the rail. And it was supposed to be extended to 2022. The amendments that were made in the Finance Committee actually ceases that extension to 2022, and it ends it in 2016. It now changes the 0.5% to 0.25% beginning in 2016.

"Mr. Speaker, I would argue that the amendments that are made in this current measure right now have now violated the FTA agreement that the City and County has with the federal government. Again, the full federal funding agreement was based on 0.5% until year 2022. So I would argue, Mr. Speaker, that the amendments in this measure have now jeopardized the full funding agreement.

"I will continue to support this measure because everybody knows I have always been consistent on my position, I'm a strong supporter of rail. This is the right thing to do for people on the west side. We have been left behind by state government, and it is our turn to step up to the plate, because everyone else did their part. The developers did their part, they built the houses. The residents, we did our part, we bought those houses. Government failed us and left us behind by failing us with respect to infrastructure. This is the right thing to do, and that is why I will support this bill, but again I do have concerns about the amendments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, sir. I'd like the impassioned words of the Representative from Kapolei and the Judiciary Chair entered into the Journal as if they were my own. I'm in strong support. I believe this bill sends a strong message to the Honolulu City Council that it has to do its part as well. It needs to do some heavy lifting to see its own project through. I also believe this bill communicates that the people's House is willing to move forward, because we are on a tight timeline here.

"I also believe that we should be looking at giving the 10% back to the City and County of Honolulu taxpayers. That's their money. It shouldn't be going to other projects on other islands. It's the money of the people on this island, and it should be used for their benefit.

"I cannot emphasize enough how important a matter of equity it is for the people on the west side to have this infrastructure, as my colleague pointed out. To have to get up at 4:00, 4:30 in the morning to get your kids out of the house to get them to school before you get to a job and then to come back at the end of the day, sitting in an hour and a half, two hour traffic, it's really a huge quality of life issue. Some people in my district, they don't even get to see their own kids because they're stuck in traffic for so long. I would just like my colleagues to think about that. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"I didn't want to go on about this, I wanted to save it for Third Reading, but I wanted to clarify the issue. I think my good friend, colleague of the Judiciary Committee who has a fantastic jump shot, it might be confused. I do support completion of this, and to that extent I'd like to insert the comments from my colleague from Ewa Beach and Makakilo as my very own.

"One of the things my good friend the Judiciary Chair failed to mention was the $180 million that the contractors were fined or had to pay in nonperformance agreements because of all those aforementioned delays. For not executing moving forward because all those delays, the Governor sitting on it, EIS, the lawsuits, because the contractors won the bids and were ready to perform, and when they couldn't perform they had to pay $180 million. So that's part of the $800.

"Also, the media is portraying this as that it's all malfeasance and mismanagement, but as my friend the Judiciary Committee Chairman pointed out, there are a lot of things that went into this, including force majeure, the $300 million shortfall in the collections. That's nobody's fault. If the tax collections come up short next year we don't blame the Governor because of that, it just happened and we have to deal with it. So when I said it's a mess, it's a mess of all these different things that came together and now we have to deal with it. I want to see completion of the project, that's why I don't think this is a serious proposal. An actual reduction, that's not serious. It's sending a message that we don't care, we're getting too cute by half. So that's my concern.

"I want to see this thing done. I want to see it go to the University of Hawaii. I think it will be great for the west side. And those are my concerns, so I'll save the balance of it for Third Reading. Thank you."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition, and I'll save my comments for Third Reading."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote. I've spoken with hundreds of my constituents about this, and it's mainly regards to tax. I think everyone wants to see the project get finished, but I've attended so many neighborhood board meetings where HART wasn't able to answer a lot of the questions, and it's leaving the people concerned that they don't know if it will ever get finished, if we will ever have enough money to finish it. So they've asked the City Council to have a public hearing, they've asked the transportation chair to open up so that the public can learn more about it so that we can get some confidence. And like my colleague said, now with it getting cut in half, now it's more unsure that this money will be enough for them to finish the project.

"They just want transparency. And the GE Tax is so regressive that if we continue to extend it into eternity, there's no stopping it. And our caucus did talk about repealing the GE Tax, which seems contrary to us extending it in this bill. So it's something we need to be aware of, is what are we saying, are we going to repeal it or are we going to extend it, if it is for the rail. Is there any other possibility? That's all people want to know. Is there anything else that we could possibly do to finish the project and to get a win-win solution out there, and they feel like they're not getting the answers.

"So if the City Council could come forward and maybe come up halfway, so that they could meet us halfway, it would make more sense to the constituents. Maybe they'd get on board. But nobody wants more taxes, and especially to no end.

"And what my colleague said, from Hawaii Kai, with it opening up into other counties, it is a further concern of people. Is it just going to go on to forever that we're just going to continue to raise taxes.

"So again, we want to see the project done, we want to see what it can or cannot do for the residents on the west side. People are not totally sure yet, and so all they need is more information. We would love for that to come out on behalf of the City Council. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm going to be rising in support. I have some reservations. When I first looked at this measure, I thought we would have a larger discussion of whether or not we're going to actually extend the surcharge to such a point in time that we would have a discussion to see whether or not we will extend the rail from Ala Moana Shopping Center to UH Manoa and also back into Kapolei. But it seems to be that those ideas are off the table right now in this particular draft, which may reflect the House position next week Tuesday.

"Let me first acknowledge and have the words of the Chair of the Judiciary Committee, the Representative from Waianae, the Representative from Ewa Beach, and the Representative from Kapolei entered into the Journal as my own.

"For those of you who may not understand or know that back in 2005 when this House did move a measure to allow for the surcharge, I was then serving as the Majority Leader at that time. Speaker Emeritus Say was the Speaker, and Speaker Souki was the Chair of the Transportation Committee. And I think the Vice Speaker at that time of Transportation was our honorable Mayor Caldwell. But back in 2005, I think we made a deliberative choice to establish a policy that we were going to go forward with public transportation.

"And you've all heard the Mayor on many occasions and many different forums talk about the policy that we declared back then. No particular system, no funding stream, and no EIS, anything like that. But it was a collective decision that we made in 2005. Then Linda Lingle was the Governor, and she vacillated on her support and non-support. Mayor was Mufi Hannemann, Council Chair was now Senator Dela Cruz. So those are some of the major folks and stakeholders who are still around today, except for the former Mayor and Governor.

"The concern I have is the adjustment of the surcharge from a half percent to a quarter percent. I have concerns about whether or not that keeps us in compliance with the federal contracts that we have in place today. So I'm going to wait final judgment until next week Tuesday when I will hear from HART Board or the Mayor and the Council to see what this bill really does to the current obligations we have in place.

"I also have some concerns about whether or not that amount of money going forward, a quarter percent going forward, January 1st, 2017, is sufficient and enough to finish the project to make sure it gets all the way to Ala Moana Shopping Center. I'll hold off on further comments on it, but again, I have some homework to do myself, Mr. Speaker, I'll be doing that until next week Tuesday. Thank you very much."

Representative Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Standing with reservations. Briefly, I thank the Speaker and the Finance Chair for this tax reduction bill, going from 0.5% to 0.25%. I think many constituents will appreciate that this is a tax reduction. My concern is that this extension goes into perpetuity. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. This is kind of déjà vu. I wish to speak in favor of course, strongly. In favor, support, however you want to call it, Mr. Speaker. Very strong.

"Back in the '90s and the '80s, I was the Finance Chairman and Frank Fasi was there, and we were at that time trying to push this project through. It failed by one vote. Actually, it failed by five, but one person got the blame for it, the last one. So don't be the last person to vote, you're going to get the blame for it. But if we passed it at that time, just think where we would be now. Would we have the density that you have now, when it takes you over two hours to go from west to central Oahu? Would there be an improvement in the highways? I can only venture to guess, yes, it would be.

"Now, 15, 20 years from now do you want to say the same thing again? The bill dies and where are you going to be? You won't be able to move. You won't be able to build any more homes on the west side because you can't move. You'll have all this interaction because of this. So please consider this item.

"Also, please consider that. for the benefit of the people who don't like to raise taxes, we've cut this in half to 0.25, and that's sufficient dollars that we've calculated that will be able to take of the debt and take care of it going to where it's supposed to go right now. If it goes for a longer period, let's say for 25 years, it will even be enough to go to Manoa. Now however, there may be a problem with the feds, I have never heard that yet, but if there is, adjustments can be made later, because we've got somewhere to go. So that's not a major point now to vote against this measure.

"Also I want to make mention, very strongly, that as far as this bill forcing the neighbor islanders to vote on it, as was mentioned by the Representative from Hawaii Kai, we only are doing basically because we were alerted by the Attorney General that if you're going to pass a tax, if you're going to amend this and not repeal the tax and continue with it, you would have to provide an opportunity for all of the counties of this state to vote on this measure. What it means, each of the counties will have an opportunity through their councils to vote for or against, like they did the last time. It's going to be their option. But they should be given that particular option, and this we were alerted by the Attorney General.

"So, Members, all I ask is to keep this moving, let it go into the Senate, and as we go into Conference I'm sure that we'll come out with a very strong bill at that time. Thank you very much. Aloha."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I would like the words of the speaker from the other side of my island entered into the record as if they were my own. And to really emphasize the point of the opt-in by the Attorney General's Office, and the fact of the matter is times have changed in Maui.

"The Mayor of Maui now was the Mayor of Maui back when this issue came up. He was opposed to the increase, which was not taken up at that time. Well guess what? He's in favor of it now. Why? Because he recognizes that this will help the counties in their public transportation options on the neighbor islands. And you know what? With the route now going from the airport to Ala Moana and hopefully to the University, neighbor islanders will have a benefit.

"The question was asked by the good Representative of Lihue, unfortunately wasn't given the answer which was most obvious, would this be more inexpensive than the current modes of transportation? The answer is obviously yes. So there is a benefit to the neighbor islands, and that's why I'm proud to support this measure. But works need to be done, so let's see what comes back at Conference and hopefully there'll be a good strong formula as the Speaker indicated that we can all get behind. Thank you."

Representative Ohno rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I actually want to thank the members of the Finance Committee. It was a pretty grueling week this week, or actually the last two weeks. This rail hearing itself took over three hours, so I actually take umbrage to the notion that whatever the Finance Committee came out with is not serious, because I think to every member of the Finance Committee, this was a serious issue and at the end the members, whether they supported or opposed this version of the measure, had at least some comfort knowing that this discussion will continue on. So to call this measure not a serious attempt to address the issue, I take great offense, not just to myself but to the members of the Finance Committee as well.

"One of the things that I do want to point out is that, I think if you talk to the Members of the House, if you talk to the members in the public, there is no consensus whether the surcharge should continue, or whether it should be for 5 years, whether it should be for 12 years, whether it should be for 25 years, or whether it should be for perpetuity. And we as Representatives of that opinion also do not have consensus on that issue. That's why this bill clearly leaves that portion for further discussion so you folks, the Representatives, can go out into their districts and say, hey, we have this big issue and where is the consensus from the public, where is that discussion going?

"And it is not right at this point for this House to put a limit like how the Senate did, because that has kind of limited that discussion to five years at this point. I think at this point in time, it is open for discussion, whether it's for 5 years, 12 years, 25 years, or in perpetuity.

"The other thing is, although there is no consensus on the time for the extension, if at all, there is consensus among the House Members that we want the City and Council and the Mayor to have skin in the game. That is a reason for the reduction of 0.5% to 0.25%, because there was a lot of frustration by the Members of this House and the Members of the Senate on what is the commitment of this Mayor and the City and County Council on how important this rail project is. So why haven't they done anything on whether they want to make that commitment.

"So I can tell you something. The Mayor continues to point that the GET, a third of the GET comes from tourists, 37%. And this number came from a Tax Review Commission put together by a very smart Representative, the Representative from Manoa. So we know that this number is true. So we have different people saying different things. For instance, the Tax Foundation is saying maybe 15% or 17%. Other people are saying different things, but I can't deny this report. So if the Representative from Manoa, who wrote this report, is saying about 37% of GET come from tourists, I'm not an expert, so I'm not going to deny that.

"At the same time, the same report states that county taxes, 34% are from out of state. So if that is the case, although I don't have a breakdown, I need to talk to the Representative from Manoa later, I don't have a breakdown by counties. I'm not sure what the county percentage from out of state is, but that will be interesting, because then I think for us, as comfort for us, in addition to GET, I think it would be prudent for the City to figure out how much of their property taxes comes from out of state and how much are they willing to tax that portion for the operation to keep rail alive. We haven't heard any of that discussion yet. And by reducing this tax from 0.5% to 0.25%, we are in a position to force the dialogue between the City Council and the Mayor."

Representative Belatti rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke continued, stating:

"Sorry, I've never talked this long before, I'm like the Representative from Upcountry. So it is prudent for them to start that discussion, and unfortunately they are in a position where the Council and the Mayor do not work together well. It's so obvious. So hopefully this bill will force them to work together, have a commitment to rail, because it is a City project. It is something that they need to work towards. It is something that they need to show their commitment. So that is why I support this version of the bill. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'll be speaking in support with reservations. First, let me say that the proposal made by the Finance Chair which we voted on 8-7, eight in favor with a lot of reservations, and seven went down. It almost died. We helped out in terms of coming up with the compromise, and what she said was correct.

"I want you to understand, and let's concentrate on one thing. Let's concentrate on the minimal operable segment, which is the 20 miles from East Kapolei to Ala Moana. I was there when we negotiated this with the feds, and the full funding agreement is more or less what we have to follow. If we are not going to complete the 20 miles, if it is a contract between the City and the feds, we'll be having dark consequences on the part of the City. But the thing though is, when we concentrate on the 20 miles, we're expecting the City to be smarter in terms of how they can possibly cut costs in the construction.

"At the very beginning when I voted in support with a 5-4 vote to come up with the rail transit system, we proposed and I proposed strongly that we should start from Downtown going to the Leeward or Kapolei area, because it makes sense. One, because the cost of downtown is two or three times the cost of the Leeward side. That means that if you start at the Kapolei side and inflation is going to kick in, you'll delay the downtown, which is a very costly portion of it, it will be multiplied by three times when it comes to inflation. We also heard from the Mayor just the other day that if we are going to work and delay the construction, it will cost us about 15 to 25% more, if we delay it.

"So my proposal to them is, you should at least act smarter by more or less completing the most expensive part of the project, so that once you complete, inflation is not going to kick in. Plus, if you delay the 15 to 25% more in terms of the construction cost will be factored in. So I said, think smarter, do the most expensive part first, because whether you like it or not, the 20 mile minimum operable segment has got to be completed.

"Let's forget about the extension, about East Kapolei to West Kapolei, from Ala Moana Center to UH Manoa, because what we should be concentrating on at this point in time is the 20 mile segment, because if we are not going to do that, there will be a lot of consequences.

"Lastly, I sometimes question how the City and HART is projecting the cost. They said, if we are going to come up with extension from East Kapolei to West Kapolei, it will cost $2 billion. It's a wide open area. And they said if we've got to put an extension from Ala Moana Shopping Center to UH Manoa, it will also cost us $2 billion. What's the rationale for that, $2 billion on each side, when I know that construction on the west side from East Kapolei to West Kapolei is a lot cheaper because there's not too many things to be done there or be impacted, while from Ala Moana Shopping Center to UH Manoa there will be a lot more things to be done. So they just pick up $2 billion on each side, and I question that."

Representative Kobayashi rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola continued, stating:

"So I got a commitment from them to finish the most important and most cost effective portion of the project. They should be doing and completing that most expensive portion, because we'll be saving a lot of money. Towards the end, we will be completing the 20 mile segment. Whether we like or not, the hammer is on the City to complete it. So with that, let's support it. It's a work in progress and I know that I will be urging the City Council as well as the city administration to at least ante up. Put some more money in there.

"Lastly, there was a project when I was in the City Council whereby there was a unilateral agreement between Kapolei Property Development and the City, whereby the City promised to complete the parkway and it cost the City $17 million, and the City will also put connection on sewer, electric connection to those projects, and they said that if we do that, we will be generating $2 billion of real property tax in the next 20 years, meaning $100 million a year for the next 20 years. That is a source of revenue that the City can tap. They also gave the City I think about 21 to 51 acres of land, and they can sell that to at least minimize the cost in the construction of the project. So they cannot just tell us and say depend only on GET Tax to finish the project, because there is a lot of place to do it. So I urge the City to play smart on this, and see if there is a way to we can save taxpayers money. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Mr. Speaker, I believe the future of Honolulu does include rail, and that rail could be very beneficial. And should that happen, I look forward to this transportation mode that could further bridge east and west. But at this particular moment in time, at this snapshot, I'm standing against the measure. As I monitor my community, I'll watch how it evolves and how its perception of rail changes or remains the same in the future.

"But I would like to share an anecdote with you. I sent a community survey out and got about 600 responses. And in the survey I mentioned that by 2019, the Honolulu Rapid Transit System will have trains running from Kapolei to Ala Moana, if it continues to be developed on time, should the train also be built to come into Waikiki? And of the 600 respondents, 47% of them said yes. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I have some reservations, but after watching the hearing and see two amendments by the Finance Committee, I'm more comfortable. It doesn't seem like we're giving complete carte blanche to HART anymore, and it gives us a lot of options during Conference to come up with something that we as Members agree with and our communities do as well. I'd like to adopt the words of the Chairs from the Judiciary Committee, the Finance Committee, and the Speaker of the House as well. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. My reservations as I mentioned in the Finance Committee, Mr. Speaker, are because I don't think that this current draft is going to be able to complete the project as it was intended to be. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm in support with reservations."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support with reservations. I'd also like to adopt the words of the Chair of Finance as if they were my own. I have a lot of reservations about this proposal. I think there are a lot of issues that still need to be discussed regarding this proposal.

"I think the messages that we've received from the Mayor and the Council have changed repeatedly since this proposal was first brought before this House. I've heard of a proposal for a permanent tax to cover operations, to cover extensions, and then only to cover completion of the project, that the tax was necessary permanently, and then for 35 years, and then for 25 years, and then for 5 years.

"I think there's a long way to go. I've heard a lot of discussion about this issue from my constituents. I too have sent out a survey, which actually goes out today, to get more information, and then I'll be going around my community as well to talk to them about this issue to see how they feel, particularly in light of the changes and some of the comments that we've seen from the Mayor and the counties.

"So for those reasons, and also because I think if I voted no at this point, I'd be inclined to continue to vote no. I prefer to stay engaged in this process also, as I anticipate it will be going to conference eventually. So again, in support with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was planning on reserving the bulk of my comments for Third Reading and I'll still do that, but I did want to just clarify one thing that the Minority Floor Leader mentioned. The Minority Caucus did not introduce a bill to repeal the GET, it was just to make an exemption for food and medicine, which I think we should still keep under consideration, given that we're talking about potentially increasing it.

"However, I also just wanted to mention, I am going with reservations, Mr. Speaker, and I came in and started this session fully prepared to support this 100%, and I have since seen all the testimony coming in and been extremely disappointed by the lack of leadership coming, especially from the City Council. Ultimately we're hearing a lot about a lack of transparency from HART.

"But at the end of the day as elected officials we all bear responsibility to share what state government is doing to the people that we represent. And I believe that the City Council has that responsibility. Each of those members should be talking to their community and explaining to them what HART is doing, because HART actually has most of their documents available online, but they're too complicated for people to fully understand, and they're so thick that people don't want to read them. But the City Council should be explaining that and they're not explaining that, and that's why there's so much confusion in our communities.

"So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I am voting with reservations, though I am fully supportive of this should the City Council be able to get its act together. Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with some reservations. I think this needs to be finished. I think the 0.25% was a very good compromise, and I think it does force the City to look at its options. But in looking at the neighbor islands, I think that that 0.25%, if it could be, should be targeted towards improving the healthcare of the neighbor islands, and in particular helping to privatize the hospitals on the neighbor islands. The transportation is not the real need on the neighbor islands, its healthcare. So I support the use of that 0.25% towards healthcare, while transportation would be the obvious need here. Thank you."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. I'd like to explain a little bit about my no vote in Finance Committee and my continuing no vote in spite of the fact that I expect that this bill will pass out and of course continue its work in progress. I sent out a district-wide mailer, responses are 65% negative on rail in my district. Of course, rail does not reach my district. But the intensity of the no vote is remarkable. Nine percent of that 65% hand wrote 'no funds' or something very similar. Many of them added other language much stronger than the word no.

"I'd like to congratulate Finance Committee for a very artful proposal. We've had people say it's a tax reduction, we've had people say it might help out the neighbor islands, we've had people say that it might lead to a neighbor island tax increase. This proposal has something for everybody. Those who support a tax increase, those who do not support. Those who support rail, those who oppose rail. But this is what we do in this stage of the legislative process. We start getting our ducks in order. In strategic planning there is a mantra, strategic planning is oftentimes positioning, positioning, positioning.

"The Senate has gone from 25 years of an extension in the first committee to five years extension in the first committee. The Mayor started off with an extension to infinity. In Finance Committee, he said that he would be willing to settle for 13 years, five years to complete to Ala Moana Center, and another eight years from Ala Moana Center to UH. So we're making progress, and I hope that we're able to get additional progress from the City and County. A working relationship is hard to forge in one month, but I hope that the Mayor and the City Council can come up with a concrete proposal for what they are willing to commit for the sake of completing rail. Thank you."

Representative Ohno rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Second time, still with reservations. The previous speaker, the Representative from Kaimuki mentioned that this bill, to some it looks like a tax increase, a tax decrease, for the neighbor islands or this island. I just want to point out that an analogy for this bill may also be that this bill is very similar to a certain white and gold dress that we all saw recently. Thank you."

Representative Aquino rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, and I'll reserve my comments for a later time."

Representative LoPresti rose to respond, stating:

"Standing second time in support. And it was white and gold, by the way. I just want to bring an awareness to this Body that a news report by KITV that was reported, just so you know, if you vote against continuing it, you are essentially voting to spend $3.2 billion to stop the project, because that's what it costs to stop the project, $3.2 billion. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, again in opposition. The last comments remind me of what one of the comments in the Finance Committee, the Mayor and others suggested that if we don't pass this, we're going to raise your property taxes. So remember when it gets down to the wire, we've got to be reasonable, we've got to know what threats are and what's other presumed unfacts that are made to be as if they are real. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 134, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives Aquino, Cachola, Creagan, Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Jordan, Keohokalole, Matsumoto, McDermott, Ohno, Oshiro, Pouha, Tokioka and Yamane voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Brower, Johanson, Kobayashi, Lee, Lowen, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Belatti and Nishimoto being excused.

Representative McKelvey's written remarks in support of the measure are as follows:

"NASA has begun planning for a global network of laser communication ground systems. The increasing data requirements of more sophisticated instruments on spacecraft will soon surpass NASA's ability to support its spacecraft with radio communications. According to a detailed statistical analysis, Hawai'i would be the best location for their first operational communications station. This laser communication network would offer the fastest and highest capacity broadband services in the world, which would have the potential to lower consumer costs and improve coverage.

"High-speed internet is no longer a luxury item, it is a public utility as essential to the community as electricity. The laser ground station will provide multiple opportunities for high-technology jobs in the State, as well as substantial improvements in broadband and optical fiber infrastructure. A space-borne link would also ensure the State with a backup link, providing Hawai'i protection if a natural disaster occurs that disrupts the fiber trunk line at the bottom of the ocean. Furthermore, the security dimension of laser communication is paramount for the United States Military. Laser transmission is more secure than radio communication, and it would be very difficult for an enemy combatant to locate the beam and place a receiver in its path."

Representative Tupola rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to declare a conflict of interest. My husband is a police officer," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Tupola continued to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I'd like to proceed with a no vote. Comments, just four things. I think that domestic violence should be taken seriously, and that the intent is good to protect those who come forward. There's just four concerns that I have. One is that to come forward with an allegation without a witness, currently the domestic violence laws state that if someone who has been abused through domestic violence, if they have a change of heart, the State will take over and then proceed with the case even if that person pulls out. But without a witness, it would be a random allegation and therefore may have less weight than it would if there could be a witness with it. Currently, there is a process by which someone can put forth a notarized statement without even going to the police station where they would be protected, no one would know that they submitted it, and it would go through a confidential process by the rules that they have.

"The second thing is that it also violates home rule. The ability to submit a notarized statement is part of their collective bargaining agreement, and so this is something that oversteps our bounds as legislators, and should be handled on the level of collective bargaining within their unit.

"The third thing is removing officers off the road. The way the process goes right now is if there is an allegation against a police officer, immediately they are taken off the road. And so without having a witness or a verifiable statement, it may or may not deter or affect the amount of officers that are able to do their job, because they are being taken off the road for an allegation with no witness, they're not sure who it is or who's making the allegation.

"So I think that there could still be a way to protect the people who come forward with the domestic violence cases, but in a way that would still give them their collective bargaining rights and keep the officers on the road, so for public safety we can still have the same amount of officers out there. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Tupola be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 749) recommending that H.B. No. 683, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 683, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be voting no on this measure also. Let me kind of highlight some of the concerns that I had. I'm looking at this current draft before us. Clean effective date, I believe it's upon approval. What it does here is materially make a change to the current law and the authority of the Executive Director of the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission. This basically gives him the discretion to dismiss a complaint, issue a notice to the complainant indicating that the complainer may bring a civil action as provided under this chapter.

"I take that and I read that to mean that a complaint that has been filed with the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission for its consideration, review, investigation, and formal opinion on whether to proceed or not to proceed, now can be decided by one individual there. That's a concern I have.

"Another concern related to that decision making authority is that if the complaint is dismissed and a notice of right to sue is issued, it is not subject to the normal reconsideration or review by an appellate body, or in this case a judicial review process, right or wrong standard of that decision. So seemingly, what it does is allow the executive director upon his or her pronouncement, evaluation, decision, to summarily dismiss a complaint and send the petitioner complainant off to the circuit court for further determination.

"Maybe I'm misreading this, but at this point in time, because it has an effective date upon approval, I'll be voting no. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote and a comment. I think, just the same idea as the Representative from Wahiawa. The displacement of the case load from the civil rights into the court system, which is right now very heavily burdened, is a huge concern. And because there is a defect date and because the courts are at their capacity trying to build new courthouses, this may be a serious problem for them. So, thank you."

Representative Saiki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. I would like to clarify that this legislation continues the existing statutory practice of allowing the Executive Director of the Civil Rights Commission to issue a determination of whether there is reasonable cause to continue with a complaint or whether to dismiss it. Basically what this legislation does is just to extend the time period in which that decision is made from 100 days to 180 days. Thank you."

No. 683, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII CIVIL RIGHTS COMMISSION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 7 noes, with Representative Ward voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Har, Kong, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Pouha and Tupola voting no, and with Representative Jordan being excused.

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support with written comments."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of HB 507, HD 1. This measure aims to control the spread of the macadamia felted coccid to areas which are still free from infestation. Funds would go to DOA, and in cooperation with CTAHR, research would be done to develop methods for the prevention and treatment of this pest.

"A recent Hawaii Tribune-Herald article cited the fact that macadamia nut crops are among the top exports/agricultural commodities in Hawaii. Most of those crops are on the Big Island. This pest can cause severe damage to macadamia nut orchards, decimate the crop(s), and thus prevention measures are needed."

Representative Tsuji also submitted the following Hawaii Tribune-Herald article:

"Hawaii exports thriving

Posted March 9, 2015 – 1:01am

LIHUE, Kauai (AP) — Merchandise exports from Hawaii soared to $1.5 billion last year, a new record high that contributed to the nearly $2.35 trillion in goods and services exported nationwide.

The news from the U.S. Department of Commerce came as no surprise to company officials and business advocates, who say that exports are indeed growing.

"The economic numbers reaffirm the importance of bilateral trade as it affects our Hawaii economy," Kauai Chamber of Commerce President Randy Francisco wrote in an email.

Koloa Rum Company President and CEO Bob Gunter said company officials started exporting their products to Canada about three years ago and have slowly begun to expand those efforts to include France, Australia and Japan.

"As we all know here in Hawaii, we're uniquely positioned geographically and culturally to take advantage of export opportunities, especially in Asia and the South Pacific," Gunter said. "Because we get visitors from all over the world, but certainly from those regions, all of us who are in manufacturing in Hawaii have the opportunity to get our products in front of consumers and potential buyers from these international markets."

Goods that were exported from Hawaii last year were led by a number of sectors, including $479 million in transportation equipment, $426 million in petroleum and coal products, and $153 million in chemicals, according to data from the Department of Commerce's International Trade Administration.

Hawaii Shippers' Council President Michael Hansen said the major merchandise exports from Hawaii are refined petroleum products and residual fuel oil from the two crude oil petroleum refineries at Campbell Industrial Park in Kapolei on Oahu.

But those numbers don't tell the whole story, or paint an accurate picture of Hawaii's export market, said John Holman, the Pacific Islands director for the United States Department of Commerce's U.S. and Foreign Commercial Service.

Because of the state's unique geographic location, ships or aircraft traveling from the West Coast or other U.S. destinations stop routinely in Hawaii to refuel before continuing on to their international destination.

The cargo carried on those ships and planes, as a result, are factored into the state's export figures, Holman said.

"We know we don't make aircraft here, we don't make oil, coal products, petroleum products, or chemicals, so we have to kind of chop out what we know are not Hawaii products and see what are," Holman explained.

Some of the state's other top exports are fresh seafood, coffee, bottled water, cosmetic products, and food and beverage products like macadamia nuts or organic honey.

Perhaps the state's most successful exports, he said, are service products, such as engineering and architectural consulting services and international tourism or study, which are more difficult to track.

"Because of our proximity to Asia, and even more significantly than that, our cultural affinity with many Asian markets, Hawaii is a great place to do business internationally," Holman said. Expanding export opportunities from Hawaii has its challenges.

The high cost of importing essential manufacturing products, such as packaging, agricultural tools or machinery, is an impediment that businesses must face before they even make or sell their goods.

"That's something that we all face and it creates an unleveled playing field for all of us here in Hawaii because most Mainland manufacturers or producers of products don't have that extra high costs of freight to contend with," Gunter said.

Companies throughout the state "rely on a lot of 'outside' influences to have a successful business" because of the state's geographically remote location, County Office of Economic Development Director George Costa wrote in an email.

"Unless it is something that is actually grown and manufactured here without outside inputs, it is very difficult to succeed," Costa explained. "We have limited raw materials with which to make a product, and the product will most likely be made by someone making a wage higher than on the Mainland."

Promising areas for growth, Holman said, are markets in Australia and Canada, which also reflect strong visitor arrivals to Hawaii, as well as South Korea, where a free trade agreement was forged three years ago.

Creating free trade agreements with more countries, especially those in Asia, and either repealing the Jones Act or crafting exceptions for Hawaii, will likely encourage more Hawaii businesses to explore export options, Holman and Gunter said.

"I think that, if we could modify or eliminate the onerous requirements of the Jones Act for us here in Hawaii, it would be a tremendous benefit not only for companies who are desiring to export but also for our local residents because everything that comes into Hawaii has that higher cost added to it for freight," Gunter said."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 1504, HD 2, which would establish a cap on the electricity reliability surcharge for interconnection to the Hawaii electric system. While I support the intent of this measure, which is to reduce costs to consumers, I am concerned that price caps do not always result in lower costs for consumers.

"A good example was the gas cap that was created by the Legislature in 2004. The gas tax cap required a weekly average based on rates of other cities around the country. The oil companies used this cap as a maximum and charged at the highest rates possible under the cap. Because the cap did not result in consistently lower gas prices, the 2006 Legislature allowed for the Governor to remove the cap, and then-Governor Lingle subsequently removed it.

"My concern with this measure is that if we similarly act to cap interconnection cost by a percentage of the national average, the utility can use the same logic as the gas companies did and charge the highest point. Once enacted, I don't believe that this measure will accomplish its goal to reduce consumer costs. For that reason, Mr. Speaker, I am in opposition to HB 1504, HD 2."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, serious reservations and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this piece of legislation calls for an interconnection charge with a cap. This is exactly the reverse of what it should be. They should be paying us to hook up to get renewable energy. We're paying them to do an interconnection charge, and you know how slow and how much of a backlog.

"The paper this morning just mentioned that we are 40% behind in terms of the number of permits that have been given because of things such as this. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the new Chair Iwase is going to be doing a number of things to make sure that we don't have to have an interconnection charge or at least a slowdown in hooking up solar to every roof and to all the fields that are deserving of it. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1504, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives Har, Jordan, Oshiro and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Fukumoto Chang voting no.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. No vote and brief comments. Two reasons voting no, one is the purpose and the second one is the timing. The purpose of the bill, to audit the workload at the University of Hawaii, I do believe is important, however it does lie within the collective bargaining agreement. It also is the responsibility of the University of Hawaii and the Board of Regents. The timing would definitely be hard because we just went through an audit, and actually the results are still being implemented right now of that one. So the purpose and the timing, I think that definitely the workload should be looked at, definitely we should cut spending at UH, but is this the vehicle? Probably not. Thank you."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and a brief comment. My reservations stem largely from the fact that I, at some level, wonder if this is precedent setting in the context of evaluating all public sector workers, and we don't typically audit their workload. So I just have small reservations on those points. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 543, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Johanson and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Thielen and Tupola voting no.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1468, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my serious reservations, and may I have brief comments, please? Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, first of all, I want to thank the CPC Chair for making the effective date of 2112.

"My concern really does arise from the testimony that was submitted by Jeffrey Ono, the Division of Consumer Advocacy. Specifically he notes that, 'The Consumer Advocacy is concerned that this bill would repeal all of the legislation passed in 2012 that provided the regulatory framework by which an undersea electricity transmission cable would be developed, if a decision were to be made to move forward with the development of an undersea cable.' Under HRS 269-131 to 269-135, entitled the 'Interisland Transmission System,' it provided 'a clear regulatory path by which the cable could be developed. These provisions set forth the Request for Proposal process, the certification process, and the cost recovery mechanism for a certified cable company. Each of these elements is intended to remove regulatory uncertainty from the process of developing, installing, and operating an undersea cable, but discussion on Act 165, Session Laws of Hawaii 2012, made it clear that these provisions were only part of a larger, ongoing discussion on the benefits and costs of undersea cable – not the end of it.'

"And for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you, just very briefly on this measure. I really want to thank the CPC Chair for his work on this. Clearly when the Legislature passed the original law that established the regulatory framework for an interisland cable some years ago, it had the intent of doing what is in the best interest of the public. There's a divide today though, between what is in the best interest of the public and what is actually transpiring.

"As we look at the different utility changes that are taking place, both with distributed generation, with utility-scale projects on the neighbor islands, with our very energy sector itself, we have to responsibly take a look at what our future is going to look like with our energy use here. Is it going to mean energy use here on individual islands, or energy use collectively as a whole state? And that is a question that is yet to be answered.

"Especially right now with the potential merger of HECO and NextEra on the table. Their proposals to do 200 megawatts-plus of wind on Maui. Their proposals to connect and expand geothermal on the Big Island. Their proposals to do all sorts of things which could have potential benefits, but could also engender serious risks for those communities, for our grid, and for the cost to consumers.

"What this measure does is take a look at repealing a portion of what was put in place, and the only portion of that law it repeals reflects the ability for rate recovery from consumers to study and figure out this situation. What that means is, we're repealing the ability of the State to add costs to consumers' electric bills to pay for the studies that these utilities are going to do.

"What we want to know is what those plans are in the first place before we allow the utilities to charge consumers for these studies. That's what we want to know. Because all of this is up in the air, there's billions of dollars in investment, both in the neighbor islands and here on the table, and the very future of our energy grid is at stake. We want to know what those plans are before we allow people to charge our constituents and our ratepayers for those studies. Thank you very much."

Representative Har rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Brief rebuttal. I appreciate the passion of the EEP Chair, but that said, again, if you look back at 2012, the law that we passed, also known as Act 165, all it was meant to do was to provide the degree of certainty to any cable developer in knowing how the selection process would occur and how the developer would be compensated. It was not a mandate to the PUC to move forward with the development of an undersea cable. It simply established the regulatory framework for an undersea cable if it was decided that a cable would be in the public interest, with the net benefits of the cable exceeding the cost.

"Therefore, since the framework in Act 165 would be called only upon when the State was ready to move forward with the installation of an undersea cable, and not before the State is ready, it's not clear what the benefit is in repealing this legislation and how it best serves Hawaii in reaching its long-term clean energy goals. And again, for those reasons, I stand with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Saiki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. I'd just like to note that in 2012 the interisland transmission cable was a top priority of the former Governor, and many in the public felt that that decision was being made without substantial public input. This legislation will permit the current Administration to reassess that policy and to develop a framework in which to make a decision that will benefit the entire State. Thank you very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 1468, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL

FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE INTERISLAND HIGH-VOLTAGE ELECTRIC TRANSMISSION CABLE SYSTEM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Har voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Cachola being excused.

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"This measure would give the Department of Agriculture – via its Board – the authority to adopt administrative rules relating to the origin of certain agricultural commodities.

"Hawaii products are very often prized and valued by visitors and locals alike. There have been unfortunate examples of unethical, falsely marketed agricultural products claiming Hawaii as its origin. HB 1051 is a budget-neutral way to allow the industry to drive the demand or need for such origin designation instead of creating legislative mandates with possible fiscal implications."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising with reservations against this measure. Nothing against the Chamber of Commerce, in fact, I worked well with them over the last several years, I think they're an integral part of our business community. Most recently with the Hiring Our Heroes campaign, they did an admirable job. My hat's off to Sherry McNamara and the board.

"What concerns me is that this particular measure here has an effective date of December 31st, 2015. It goes out to January 1st, 2023. It's a temporary tax credit, manufacturer's tax credit.

"Two points. I have some concerns with the language regarding what can be picked up under this particular qualified manufacturing cost, and also the reasonable and necessary cost incurred to train employees to manufacture tangible personal property in the State.

"If I look through the testimony that's provided by the Chamber of Commerce and the initial draft that was filed, they looked at, I think, capping it at no more than, I think it was $200,000 per qualified business. And if I look at the number of small businesses according to the Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii, they have about 1,000 small business manufacturers in the State. Simple math, potential liability to the State of about $20 million.

"So I just need to take note of that, Mr. Speaker, at this time. There's other bills coming up with other credits, and we have the budget before us next week. So, I just wanted to bring that to the Members' attention. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1454, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in favor of HB 207, HD 2, Relating to Training.

"This bill requires that members of certain boards and commissions attend Native Hawaiian Law training classes funded by the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, and developed by third-party legal experts. It represents an opportunity to ensure that key state policymakers understand and are aware of certain issues when making decisions that are consistent with the state fiduciary obligations to the Native Hawaiian People.

"And so a training course in Hawaiian Law for appointed policymakers and relevant boards and commissions is necessary to fulfill the trust, obligation, and responsibility held by the State of Hawaii towards the Kānaka Maoli. It is for these reasons that I support HB 207, HD 2. Mahalo."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong support, written comments, please. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 207, HD 2.

"Because government agencies have been established to best protect, perpetuate, and represent the interests of the State of Hawai'i, it is imperative that our state employees acquire and possess at least a modicum of knowledge about Native Hawaiian culture and rights – knowledge which each employee must have in order to fulfill what is mandated by our Hawai'i State Constitution:

'TRADITIONAL AND CUSTOMARY RIGHTS
Section 7. The State reaffirms and shall protect all rights, customarily and traditionally exercised for subsistence, cultural and religious purposes…'

"State board, committee, council, and departmental members have a duty to protect and preserve these rights, which they would learn more about during a course put together and fully funded by OHA.

"The concept of an OHA-funded and staffed course on Native Hawaiian rights is not new. In what can been seen as a pilot program, OHA has offered three voluntary training courses since January 2013 about Native Hawaiian law. OHA has partnered with the renowned Professor Melody Kapilialoha MacKenzie at the Richardson School of Law at UH-Manoa, and Director of the Ka Hulia Ao Center for Excellence in Native Hawaiian Law to teach these three Native Hawaiian Law training courses with a focus on the public land trust, water, traditional and customary rights, and iwi kūpuna or ancestral remains. During that short time since its inception, more than 250 people have voluntarily attended the course.

"Professor MacKenzie testified that 70-80% of program attendees believed the course had increased their understanding and knowledge of the State's trust duties and responsibilities in each of the subjects covered by the training. When asked to identify the most important 'takeaways' from the training, responses included:

- The difficult and huge responsibilities for us to respect and protect Hawaiian traditional and customary practices.
- The Public Land Trust is real and important.
- Water laws in Hawaii incorporate a concept of public trust.
- The historical basis of Native Hawaiian customary rights and practices.
- The counties do have an obligation to conserve and protect the State's natural resources.
- A better understanding of water resource management in Hawai'i.

"Employees at the Department of Land and Natural Resources and the Land Use Commission (LUC) who participated in the course testified that 'everyone who attended had high praise for the course and indicated it was well worth their Saturday.' The LUC further praised the course in their testimony, writing that the courses were 'incredibly valuable for staff who must advise commissions and non-expert commissioners who deal with public trust issues involving Hawaiian traditional and customary rights, water, natural and archaeological resources, and burials.'

"As a voluntary initiative, the course has been very successful in garnering positive praise for the content and quality of its subject matter, and one can only imagine how many more people might benefit from this course by making the program a requirement for state board members, council members, committee members, commission members, and other state departmental members. Overwhelming support for this program requirement has been seen at both the State level and at the individual and community levels in the testimonies submitted to the committees.

"For these reasons, I wholeheartedly support this bill and I look forward to attending these courses. I hope my colleagues will take these clear facts under consideration as well as the support for this bill on both the community and State level. As always, I stand ready and remain available to assist in further refinement of the underlying policy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support and I'd like to insert written comments into the Journal."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"On Kauai, we have many instances of visitors' personal property being stolen from their vacation rentals, hotel rooms, and rental cars. This bill gives these people the opportunity to testify in a video conference without incurring the significant expense of coming back to Hawai'i to testify on a case. In many cases, the value of the property stolen is less than the aggregate cost of plane tickets, hotel rooms, and other necessary expenses associated with returning to Hawai'i to testify. In many instances, the same perpetrators steal from multiple victims, which creates a bad impression of Kauai and Hawai'i in general. These tourists are then less likely to recommend vacations and attractions in Hawai'i, and more likely to complain to others about their experience, making not only the victim but also their entire network of family and friends less likely to visit Hawai'i in the future.

"This bill would not only deter criminals from targeting tourists, thus reducing the frequency of these negative experiences, but also give victims the opportunity to find closure through the judicial process without spending thousands of dollars to return to Hawai'i to testify. It is for these reasons, I am in strong support of this bill."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I think it's a good idea just to help in the case of a disaster, like we saw with Puna this year, in an election. My only concern is just that what will happen is the information on who is winning the election will be in the hands of just a few people, including party officials that are here to watch for their certain political party. While I know the bill is trying to make sure that that can't be disclosed, I'm not sure that that information will be kept secret, and I would rather have everybody know than just a few people know. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. I think it's good that we're encouraging employers to give commuting privileges to their employees, however this just happens to be juxtaposed next to the rail and the bill that's coming up. It looks like it's an incentive and a momentum to get a little bit more speed with the passage of rail. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, please. Brief comment. Mr. Speaker, I think this is good for veterans, and as a veteran this is terrific. However, it looks as though the spouses and the children are being pushed aside, because they kind of get the scraps left over for whatever otherwise is designated to the veteran. Because of that, I think it could be tweaked and be a bit better than it is. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just would like to request a ruling on a potential conflict. My husband receives disability benefits. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations and brief comments. I'm concerned. I support the intent of the bill, but I'm concerned that spouses, the sacrifices made by veterans' families isn't just by the veteran, him or herself, but by their families as well, and I think they're entitled to a portion of that if things go awry later on in their lives. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to vote no on that, and the reason is to amplify what the previous two speakers said. The spouse is at home while the veteran is away, and if they're together for say 20 years, that spouse, in most cases it's the female, has earned just as much of that pension, whether its disability from PTSD or anything else, as the veteran himself. So this is unfair to them, and that's why I'm going to vote no."

Representative San Buenaventura rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as a family law attorney I want to inform prior speakers that the disability benefits are already subject to spousal and child support. They already have a car bought for them, and so this bill does not prevent them from getting any less than what they're entitled to. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 805, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VETERANS DISABILITY BENEFITS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives LoPresti and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives McDermott and Pouha voting no.

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations. This is a very, very complicated bill, and it may take some financial planning and estate planning options away from me, so I'd like to study this bill a little bit more and be with reservations for right now. Thank you."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I too, along with the Representative from Manoa, have reservations on this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. As a general practice attorney who also does probate law, as I pointed out earlier, this bill helps people. Right now, the partition action only allows for two types of partitions, that's partition by kind or partition by sale. Partition by kind is problematic because it requires zoning changes and rarely is used. Partition by sale is usually what's being used, which means an automatic auction at pennies on the dollar.

"So the problem I see as a solo practitioner, is I see like a 100 acre Kalapana property with over 100 heirs, and they're basically given like pennies, or they have no probate at all. This bill helps those people because it gives the discretion to the court to partition it without the requirements of a partition by sale or partition by kind, and it requires an appraisal, and it requires fair market values for those heirs. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, given the remarks of the Representative from the Big Island, Puna, I will withdraw my reservations, I'll be voting straight up. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to respond, stating:

"Just a brief rebuttal. This bill forces a partition, and that's, I guess, that's my great concern. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. My son is deaf, and this bill that I introduced helps deaf people understand what's going on at the movies," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Tokioka continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much. I'm in strong support, and I'd like to ask to insert written comments into the Journal. Thank you very much."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"There are over one million functionally deaf persons living in the United States right now. About 8 million people, or 3.7% of the population, are hard of hearing. These individuals are constituents. They are our neighbors, our family members, and our friends – and they have made their voices heard throughout the legislative process of this bill. While movie theaters are able to comply with ADA standards by making auxiliary aids available, the auxiliary aids currently supplied to moviegoers who suffer from hearing loss are inadequate, cumbersome, and detract from the movie-going experience. For example, closed captioning glasses and rear-window captioning allow users to view captions, but can also cause headaches, motion sickness and nausea. Moreover, these devices are conspicuous and make their users feel out of place, making them more reluctant to attend movie screenings. Open captioning does not require any individualized special equipment, does not cause headache, motion sickness or nausea, and allows deaf and hard of hearing moviegoers the dignity of enjoying movies in the same way as their hearing peers. By increasing accessibility of movie theaters, we're opening the doors to a large part of mainstream American culture available to the deaf, blind and hard of hearing community.

"Some may claim that we do not need this legislation for a couple of reasons. The two main objections that have been presented to me are the United States Department of Justice's Proposed Federal Regulation amending the Americans with Disabilities Act, specifically regarding motion picture theaters. The second, a pending court case in the State of Arizona.

"Regarding the first item; the United States Department of Justice is in the process of establishing a Federal Regulation (FR) relating to movie theaters. In August 2014, the Department of Justice – Civil Rights Division, published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking to amend the Americans With Disabilities Act requiring movie theaters to provide closed movie captioning and audio descriptive narration to give persons with hearing and vision disabilities greater access to motion pictures. Currently, the ADA only requires places of public accommodations (including movie theaters) to provide 'auxiliary aids' to ensure that persons with disabilities are not denied services, segregated, or otherwise treated differently than other individuals. While the current ADA standard does in fact list a number of permissible auxiliary aids, the overall language in this section is vaguely worded to the extent that some theaters have been able to continue business as usual without providing closed captioning and audio description narration. The new proposed FR will explicitly require movie theaters to have a specified number of audio descriptive narration devices and closed captioning devices on hand, based on the size of their operation, and that they shall make these devices available for 'all showings whenever movies are produced, distributed, or otherwise made available with captioning and audio description unless to do so would result in an undue burden or fundamental alteration' of the goods and services being provided. While the new proposed FR, if and when it is implemented, will be more comprehensive and more enforceable than the current ADA requirements, however, they still fall woefully short of providing an 'equal experience' for individuals in the deaf, blind, and hard of hearing community.

"Secondly, the court case involving closed captioning and movie theaters accessibility involves a protracted court case in the State of Arizona. In the case of Arizona v. Harkins Amusement Enterprises, Inc., plaintiffs Fredrick Lindstrom and Larry Wagner, who have significant hearing and vision loss, respectively, brought suit against Harkins Amusement Enterprises movie theater chain for neglecting to make auxiliary aids available upon request. Arizona's lower courts initially ruled in favor of Harkins Amusement, but the decision was then appealed to the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals who overturned the previous ruling by the lower court (in part) AND held up the lower court's ruling (in part), then sent it back to Arizona District Court. In the Court's opinion, they believed that the ADA does, in fact, include movie theaters as a place of public accommodation, thus would require movie theaters to make reasonable accommodations for individuals with disabilities including making closed captioning and descriptive narration devices available for public use. This decision, however, has been in limbo since 2010 and the Court has given no indication that this case will be resolved in the near future.

"Yes, the United States Department of Justice will be rolling out a Federal Regulation specifically relating to movie theaters, and yes, there is a lawsuit in the court system also relating to captioning in movie theaters. These two items, however, have no implementation date and have been 'in the works' for a number of years now. These 'reasons' should not preclude us from taking action now, putting Hawai'i ahead of the curve in this respect. In 1974, Hawai'i was the first of all 50 states to enact employer paid health care coverage. At that time, we were considered the 'gold standard' and the model by which many states mirrored their own programs after. Additionally, the justification or rationale for taking no action on our part because of possible action on the part of others is illogical. A change in Federal standards DOES NOT preclude us from enacting related state legislation that is more comprehensive and Hawai'i-specific to address increased accessibility to a sizeable number of individuals whom have thus far been excluded from enjoying what many of us take for granted. It is for these reasons that I stand in strong support of HB 1272, HD 2."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm registering a no vote. Thank you. I think that the bill intent is good. On page 3, line 9, it says, 'Requires that each party shall be taxed on the share of the retirement benefit received'. That was my only concern, is that this is creating a new tax on parties who are or would be awarded a portion of their former spouse's retirement benefit. Just that line, no more taxes, but the intent, good. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just with reservations. Just for clarification, it wouldn't be a new tax, it would just be apportioned. My reservation is, this is an exposure or a new administrative task that I don't think ERS should be taking on, and that's my reservation. Thank you."

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Please note my reservations. I'm just concerned about the cost to ERS in the future. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. The rise of federal law has been in effect for over 40 years. We're like one of the last states in the union that allow our state retirement system to not be divided up as part of domestic relations order. So the problem arises upon divorce that people who thought that they don't have to see their ex-spouse again are going to have to, at time of retirement, have to start knocking on the door to request their share of retirement.

"But two problems arise in that the employee, the good employee who actually follows the divorce decree and gives his share of the retirement, is then being given a 1099 of the entire amount. More than half of these employees don't know that they have to then do a 1099R to show that the ex-spouse gets their share. So they end up getting taxed the entire amount of their retirement.

"This is long coming. I hear it as a family law attorney from both sides, the employee's spouse wants nothing to do with their ex-spouse, and they want it over and done with. The abused spouse for sure wants nothing to do with their ex-spouse. And to alleviate the cost, there is a fee that is going to be assessed, and hopefully because of the 2017 defect date it won't be as bad on the ERS system as people are projecting it to be. But it's long due. It's about time we be part of the rest of the country. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. This is middle class killer bill number one for the day. Mr. Speaker, we know the middle class is generally characterized as having enough income to buy or rent a reasonably or decent house, having enough food on the table, buying or leasing a car, getting your kids in school. But as we've held that up as an icon for our nation, the American dream, we have slowly divested it of its security by increasing the cost of living, particularly in this state.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill actually levies a fee on an unknown person. It levies a fee based upon how much impervious surfaces you have in the surroundings of your house. Impervious surfaces are like blacktop, cement, roof tops, anything that causes runoff. And runoff, seriously, is the biggest pollution that we have. Basically, it's the manmade pollution running into the sea.

"However, if we are going to put a fee to somebody, we ought to know what we're doing, Mr. Speaker. We don't know the topography of every household. We know there are about 450,000 homes in the State of Hawaii. We don't know how much concrete, cement, driveways, sidewalks, roof space there is. But we do know there's 5% of the population on urban land, and that's 92% of the people who live in the State of Hawaii.

"The differential is, even if we do a Google Earth survey, we find out your driveway is wider than your neighbors' and the other driveway, the other houses may have less because they have grass and green. And there may be people who live on the side of a mountain who have a lot of rocks and clay so they're going to have more runoff. The point is, it gets a little bit loosey-goosey on how you're actually going to measure this.

"And then the biggest variable, take my colleague who lives on west side, how much rainfall do they get on the west side? She may have a totally concrete yard, but they have 5 to 15 inches per year. My colleague from Waikiki, I think it's less than 5 inches that they get in Waikiki, but they've got cement all over the place, Mr. Speaker. So how are we going to be equitable to implement this bill? It's like a blank invoice to the middle class. If you own a house, you're going to pay.

"We should know what we're doing. This should either be a feasibility study, recommitted, or do something to make it logical. Because you know we create all these ideas about how we can get more money out of the middle class. This is the one, we don't even know how we're going to do it, and if we're going to do it, my point of my speech is, let's do it equitable. Those places that have less rainfall and more concrete, lets treat them equally of those who have less concrete and more rainfall. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, this is a middle class killer bill. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, this bill addresses the social-emotional development of children from birth to age five. In 2012, the National Survey of Children's Health showed that 31% of Hawaii's children age four months to five years are at risk for developmental, behavioral and social delays. Hawaii's rate is 5% higher than the national average.

"This bill would create a position within the Department of Health to collect data on behavioral outcomes of our younger citizens and provides training and assistance to agencies that actively screen for health developmental problems in the community, such as Easter Seals and Project Vision.

"Needless to say, I support this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1141, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Onishi rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, my concern on this bill is that, well actually this is, I think, a good bill. It provides a tax credit for conversion of cesspools. My problem with the bill is that it does not establish any kind of income criteria, so the tax credits would be available to anyone in the State of Hawaii that does a cesspool conversion, which I don't think necessarily is something that we should be supporting. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Onishi be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Onishi be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I think this bill is the one that would prohibit construction of new cesspools, it's not a tax credit. A clarification, that's all for now."

Representative Onishi rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm sorry, I stand corrected. And thank you to the Representative from Kailua for clearing that up for me. It is the wrong bill, so I stand in support. Thank you."

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just reservations, please, and just a comment. I'm just worried about areas that would be very hard to dig a septic system into, especially, I would think, on the Big Island and maybe in the high mountains of Kauai also. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in reservations on both bills, so I'm pretty much covered, but I just wanted to have the comments reflected, because the concerns of the prohibition was exactly that, given some of the density issues in some of our areas. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives McKelvey and Morikawa be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have great reservations about this because of the geography of Hawaii Island. In the high parts of that island it is very rocky, and my interpretation study of how cesspools and septic systems work is that the cesspools work almost like septic systems in those areas and actually take care of the waste management thoroughly and without danger.

"In fact, I worked for the State Department of Health for a year investigating these outbreaks, and the only problems I ever saw was with overflowing septic systems, where the tanks filled up and overflowed into other people's yards. I never saw one single cesspool that caused a problem on Hawaii Island. So because of that, I'm voting with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Lowen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. We're the last state in the nation in which construction of new cesspools is legal, and according to the EPA, cesspools are used more widely in Hawaii than any other state in the nation. Hawaii Island to my knowledge is the last county in the country still permitting new cesspools. And the parts of Hawaii Island where new cesspools are being permitted are often rural areas also served by individual shallow drinking water wells.

"Recent data does show that there have been cases of contamination of drinking water with human waste, which is very dangerous. Not only can cesspools contaminate streams and drinking water, they also diminish the health of our reefs and ocean resources.

"This bill is important to Big Island, and all the testimony that we have received from Hawaii County has been in support, as well as from Department of Health. It has no impact on existing cesspools, but it would mean that new construction and new development would have to choose options for handling waste water that the scientific community overwhelmingly agrees are safer for the environment and human health. It would also protect residents who are purchasing or building new properties or new homes from a future financial burden in the likely event that the nation or state at some point requires all existing cesspools to be converted to better and safer options."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1141, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CESSPOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representatives Creagan, Har, McKelvey and Morikawa voting aye with reservations.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 877) recommending that H.B. No. 1286, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1286, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support of the measure, but with a very serious reservation about one provision in House Bill 1286. Mr. Speaker, when you look at the purpose of the bill, it's just excellent. About eliminating Hawaii's dependence on imported fuels for electrical generation, this is excellent, and having utility scale models that place the social and financial interests of Hawaii ratepayers first. Again, it's excellent, putting this into law.

"But then you turn to page 4 of the bill, and this is my concern. It is talking about liquefied natural gas being used as a transitional limited term replacement of petroleum for electricity generation. My concern is, I believe this bill should have said prohibiting liquefied natural gas to be used, Mr. Speaker, in our state.

"What I find is really difficult, it is quite a conflict, where we want to be the greenest state in the nation. And we're really working on that, we're really moving ahead. We're now faced with a situation where we have a utility, a very large utility from the mainland, that plans to buy Hawaiian Electric, our local utility. And NextEra's solar investments in Florida, in two years, dropped in half. In other words, they're looking at other sources of energy production, and liquefied natural gas is on the top.

"So here we are, Mr. Speaker, trying to be the greenest state in the nation, and then we're going to allow this company, or Hawaiian Electric if it doesn't get bought by NextEra, we're going to allow them to use liquefied natural gas. Yes, it's as a transitional limited term, but we're allowing that.

"So here is green Hawaii saying, okay, we'll bring in the liquefied natural gas. We know that that's developed by fracking, which is a very damaging production. The fracking actually generates greenhouse gas emissions, releases hazardous air pollutants, large volumes of water have to be used, contaminates drinking water, and according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, creates earthquakes.

"So it's devastating, but not right in our island. It's devastating to other places in the nation where they take the hit from fracking, their residents take the hit from fracking, the health hazards, and then we bring the LNG into Hawaii, trying to maintain our green image and our green energy reputation.

"But what we're doing, let me just talk about a couple of places, what we're allowing to be done. There's a small area called Avella in Pennsylvania, and the fracking fluid caught fire and exploded, with flames going 200 feet in the air, burning for six hours, producing a thick black smoke cloud visible 10 miles away. Soil then sampled on the site contained arsenic at 6,430 times the permissible level, and there were other very difficult, damaging occurrences.

"Granger Township in Ohio, another place that we would trash or is being trashed from fracking."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Thanks, Mr. Speaker. I will note this is my only time I'm speaking today, so I hope you'll bear with me. I'm really concerned, Mr. Speaker. Here's Pavillion, Wyoming; Bainbridge, Ohio; Bradford Township, Pennsylvania; Muncy, Pennsylvania. These places are really getting hammered by the fracking that is going on. These are people that are just having health hazards, their towns are really damaged, they're places you would not want to go, you would not want to live. So how can we in Hawaii say, oh it's okay, we'll use LNG for a limited time as a bridge? It's a bridge over troubled waters. It's a bridge over polluted waters.

"We shouldn't, as a green state, say it's okay to let other areas be damaged. We'll just bring that in here and use it. Instead, Mr. Speaker, this bill should have a prohibition on it. We should look to the resources that we have. NextEra is cracking down and using a much smaller amount of solar now. We shouldn't let that happen if they end up buying the utility. We should mandate that the solar connections continue and expand far beyond that.

"We have ocean energy, the wave energy converter has been put off shore, Marine Corp Base Hawaii. Two more are in the process of being deployed. Those will all be in the water this year. Each island can produce great amounts of power from using the resources in the ocean. We have the solar, as I've mentioned, we have wind, and now with buffer zones it could be more palatable in areas. We have geothermal on the Big Island.

"LNG should not play a role in Hawaii, Mr. Speaker. We should take this firm green approach, no LNG allowed in Hawaii to be brought in. And then, Mr. Speaker, we can say Hawaii is a green state and Hawaii isn't harming other areas in our nation to serve our energy needs.

"So I support all of the provisions with the exception of the LNG in this bill, Mr. Speaker, and I would like Members to look at this and think about what we should truly be doing to be leaders. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Standing with reservations. I'd like the words of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as if they were my own. I just want to add a couple of things. LNG, the production of it through fracking, oftentimes the methane produced is not calculated into the greenhouse gas emissions, which by some measurements by objective sources say that LNG production and use is dirtier than coal.

"Secondly, the phrase that the previous speaker was really talking about is, exporting the pain. Do we as people in Hawaii want to export the pain of the production of LNG to our fellow citizens on the mainland? And I say no to that. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations, brief comments. First of all, may I please have the very passionate words of the Representative from Kailua entered into the Journal as if they were my own? May I please also incorporate the words of the speaker from Ewa Beach? And, Mr. Speaker, just one other follow up, one brief point. Following up on this issue of LNG, the fact of the matter is this. We would be making millions of dollars in infrastructure investment only for a temporary bridge type of energy. That doesn't make any sense. It doesn't make sense long term for the ratepayer. In addition, Mr. Speaker, I would like to request permission to enter written comments into the Journal. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations to House Bill 1286, HD 2. The purpose of this measure is to amend the State's objectives and policies relating to energy facility systems, including a policy of ensuring that fossil fuels such as liquefied natural gas be used only as a transitional, limited-term replacement of petroleum for electricity generation, and not impede the development and use of renewable energy sources.

"While the intent is certainly laudable, my reservations stem from House Bill 1286, HD 2, page 4, lines 10-14, which allows LNG as a temporary bridge fuel based on the flawed premise that it is a 'cleaner' fuel than what we are currently using. If we were to look only at the tail pipe of an LNG car or the smoke stack of a LNG power plant, this may certainly be true. Those purporting that LNG is a 'cleaner' fuel are the utilities themselves – a claim that is clearly not supported by science. 'Tailpipe emissions' espoused by LNG advocates do not reflect the full life cycle of LNG production that also include extraction, transmission and storage.

"Efforts by scientists such as Robert Howarth of Cornell University have attempted to look at the life cycle greenhouse gas contributions that natural gas make to the environment. Key to this discussion is that methane is a greenhouse gas that is 35 times stronger than carbon dioxide in greenhouse gas, and has a major effect on global warming. Estimates and calculations by scientists of emissions from the extraction, transmission, storage and eventual burning of natural gas estimate that the contributions of natural gas to global warming are two to four times larger than expected. Furthermore, even based on the best case scenario, the contributions of natural gas to climate change would be worse than the fuels (diesel, industrial fuel oil) that they are being used to replace.

"It is understandable that many advocates of LNG would like to use it as a replacement fuel – it is cheaper than their current fuel sources. However, with the knowledge and understanding of cutting-edge science, the use of LNG would only accelerate the rate of climate change.

"Mr. Speaker, as an island state, we are all too aware of the effects of climate change. These tangible and measurable effects wash away the sand of our world-class beaches, and rob our aquifers of ground water that should be stored for future generations. It is irresponsible and short-sighted for the Legislature to carve blanket exemptions for LNG – particularly when it will only accelerate the environmental degradation of our state.

"For these reasons, I remain in support with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in support. Just very briefly, I'd just like to note that of anybody I'm the least probably happy with our imports of fossil fuels, whether they're oil, LNG, coal, what have you. Right now as we go through this transition period there's a lot of questions out there, there's a lot of uncertainty as to what the cost globally of our imported oil, imported LNG, and other fuels are. So we need to take a broad approach looking at what those costs might be.

"I think the jury's still out on that, but in the meantime, there's nothing on the books. Nothing on the books in statute or in constitution that prohibits the import of liquid natural gas. This would be the first step the State takes, it'd be an incredible step nationwide, to ensure that we don't replace our dependency on oil with a long term dependency on imported liquid natural gas.

"And secondly, it takes a big step forward ensuring that no matter what our utility looks like, no matter what its model is, what sort of fuel it imports, it puts the interest of ratepayers first, and that's something that we should absolutely have in our long term planning. Thank you very much."

Representative Ing rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1286, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives Har, Ing, LoPresti and Thielen voting aye with reservations, and with Representative McDermott voting no.

ORDINARY CALENDAR

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 881) recommending that H.B. No. 825, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 825, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to note my serious reservations on this measure. Just a few words. Mr. Speaker, the reason why I'm rising with reservations, I have to say this, is I believe that this solution is not much of a solution and almost seems kind of, to me, to be not a very serious take on a very serious problem with TVRs. To split jurisdiction between a state agency and licensing regime and the county planning departments, with no accountability to either, is going to create the most finger pointing situation for this problem you've ever seen, Mr. Speaker.

"The biggest issue with this is that, Mr. Speaker, we have a situation where the Department of Taxation can't even share the information with the Real Property Division, which would give you a correlation of who is not paying their GET and TAT. A very simple approach. Despite bringing this up during the hearing on this bill, the proponents of this measure refuse and still continue to bifurcate the responsibility between the State and the counties. And for all the neighborhoods that are suffering for this issue, I think what we're going to see is a lot of nothing, Mr. Speaker. Of more finger pointing, more, well it's the county's job, it's the DCCA's job.

"Also one other thing, all programs people in DCCA are funded by the licensees themselves through fees. So not only are you going to have bifurcated enforcement responsibility, but you will have a GET, a TAT, and now a new licensing fee on top of all of that. That's why I stand with reservations, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lowen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, brief comment with reservations. Mr. Speaker, as the learned gentlemen from Maui said, there's some flaws in this thing in terms of how it's going to work. In a sense it's good that we're going to register the TVRs, that's something long and inevitable that's going to happen. But my problem is that when we crack down on these, quote, 'illegals', we fine them $10,000. Ten thousand dollars is a bit severe. We're trying to get people to come in and sign up, and I keep citing the Kauai plan, what is it, the immunity plan, the amnesty plan. Get those who are out there illegal, the, quote, '15,000 or 20,000 who are illegal', give them amnesty, bring them in, but now we've got this huge stick. Hey, if you don't do this, we're going to give you a $10,000 fine, versus, come on we'll clear the slate, we'll get on with it.

"So, Mr. Speaker, there's a better way to do public policy than the way this bill is doing it. And I think the amnesty model, and not clubbing them but giving them a bit of, instead of the stick, a bit more carrot, would go a long way. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. In my opinion, Mr. Speaker, there's not any flaws in putting together a bill that, especially on Oahu County, a county of perhaps 900,000 people, for over 30 years the County has avoided this issue. And to simplify this, what we want to do is if you have a business on Oahu, you should be registered with DCCA. And people who are renting these vacation rentals, they're not registered as a business.

"So step one is to register them as a business and then see that they pay their fair share of TAT, and then like all other businesses and all other properties on whatever island you are on, you'll follow those county's rules relating to zoning. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 197, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives Keohokalole and Rhoads voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Cullen voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 884) recommending that H.B. No. 999, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 999, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 999, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representative Jordan voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives McDermott and Tupola voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 885) recommending that H.B. No. 562, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 562, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ohno rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. This bill requires crosswalks at arterial street intersections, and although I do believe very much so in the safety of our pedestrians, I do have issues with adding crosswalks in without lights. I think in the best case scenario, you have a crosswalk with a traffic light so that the pedestrians can cross safely with the coming cars alerted with a red light that they are to stop.

"I think of different roads across town, places like King Street, where there are crosswalks without lights, and particularly in my district, Pali Highway, if you can believe it or not, there are intersections on Pali Highway with crosswalks without a light. Many of the residents have complained to me that there needs to be lights there in order to protect them crossing the street.

"However, again, this bill would require it, and I think that if you require it and then add a light at every one of those intersections, you'd see traffic crawl to a stop. For those reasons, I'm in opposition. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support. Just to inform my colleagues, the bill only adds a crosswalk at an arterial intersection with another arterial street. What that means are primary roadways. So if Pali Highway for example is one, I think the first arterial in town would be maybe School Street, and the next one wouldn't be until Kailua.

"So, we all know, I think everybody in the Chamber is aware that pedestrian fatalities are high. The bill improves pedestrian safety, but it does it with a small step, to just make sure that new arterial intersections with other arterial streets have at least one safe way to cross north, south, east and west. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I stand in opposition. Forty-seven thousand sixty-seven pedestrians were killed by automobiles from 2001 to 2011. Fifty-two percent of these were on arterial roads. In urban areas like Honolulu, 60% of pedestrian fatalities took place on arterial roads. And this is not because of a lack of crosswalks. Anybody, these neighbor island guys, including me, who have to live in Waikiki, we take King Street, there's six lanes, someone starts crossing the road, cars start braking, you don't see the person crossing the road because the cars are blocking, especially if they're lifted trucks and you're in a little Civic, and you're going 40 miles an hour, you've got to slam the brakes as soon as you see them. It's extremely, extremely dangerous.

"It's not because of a lack of crosswalks, it's a lack of complete street planning. Slower is better. The effectiveness of a road is measured by how many cars get through it, how many cars it moves, people it moves, in an hour. The ideal speed is around 30 to 40 miles an hour to get more cars through, believe it or not. Not 50, not 60. So we need complete street planning. This is what we passed in 2006 for policies, and we need to adapt roadway geometry, place appropriate signals and medians, widen sidewalks when it's appropriate, have roundabouts in lieu of intersections or stop lights, create pedestrian crossing islands, consolidate or eliminate driveways, implement pocket parks between buildings connected by midblock chokes, rezone when needed for denser development. But sans these things, crosswalks will gravely endanger Hawaii's pedestrians.

"And on the flipside, think about rural areas like Big Island or certain areas of Maui where there's no pedestrians at all, there's not even any sidewalks. This bill fits in the category of one size does not fit all, and it goes against master planning and complete streets, and for these reasons I stand, respectfully, in opposition. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Still with reservations. And noting that I just had a pedestrian hit in a crosswalk which was unlit less than three weeks ago in very serious condition, may I please have the words from the Representative from Maui entered into the Journal as if they were my own? But still with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti rose to respond, stating:

"Second time in support. So just to clarify some of the intent as well. On the west side of the island where I live, there's very rapid development. And some of these developments are having arterials intersect with arterials without these crosswalks. And so it's really a measure to help with complete streets. It's really an integral part of complete streets.

"The way pedestrians move in neighborhoods, like a suburban neighborhood, it's very easy to get around as a pedestrian. The problem comes when you hit an arterial boundary, then it becomes dangerous or prohibitive sometimes to cross over to another area where pedestrians are free to move about. And so one of the necessary steps for pedestrian safety is to provide those safe bridges between a safe walking neighborhood to another safe walking neighborhood, and that, of course, requires crosswalks. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Based upon the remarks by the Representative from Maui, I am supporting this measure with reservations. I agree that probably a traffic study is more appropriate, rather than us legislating crosswalks. Thank you."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, with reservations. I think this is well intended, but it does take an aspect of complete streets out of context, and the whole idea of complete streets is to look at all the pieces of it together and look at the big picture. I'd also like to ask that the comments of the Representatives from Liliha and Kihei be inserted into the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 562, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CROSSWALKS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Jordan, Lowen, San Buenaventura voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Ing, Kong, Ohno, Pouha and Tupola voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 886) recommending that H.B. No. 1154, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1154, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I've spoken regarding the burdens on the middle class, and this one, I think, is a reminder of the sticker shock that we've given the middle class of Hawaii. Sticker shock in terms of increased registration fees, increased weight fees, almost to 100%. And that was like two or three years ago and it's now just catching up, and there's a lot of anger out there about that.

"This is a good intention for the disabled. We obviously have to help and get their stickers and get the thing processed, but that should be paid by the DTS and the DOT, it shouldn't come out of another middle class killer like this, Mr. Speaker. The problem is, we just don't know when to stop nickel and diming all of these things, and right now there's a lot of anger out there. Because of that, this is the second middle class killer bill for today. Thank you."

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Slight reservations. Back in 2011, we raised that vehicle registration fee, we doubled it from $20 to $45 actually, so the DOT actually gets $20 more and $5 goes into the Emergency Medical Services Fund. I too don't like the idea of raising more taxes on people, but I think I was more for the possibility of maybe reducing the DOT's portion to $39 and giving the dollar back to the DCAB fund.

"I think the DOT has a responsibility to fund this, and they're only asking for about half a million dollars. And if the DOT could work it out, I think that would be the better solution instead of placing the burden back on taxpayers. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. With the aging population and the projected increase in the number of individuals who are eligible for these parking placards, the parking program administered by DCAB, it's basically for persons with disabilities, will become a significant expenditure for the General Fund. By having this conversation, Mr. Speaker, we are just trying to ensure continuation without tapping into the precious limited A Funds which could be utilized for other important programs and services for our communities.

"Currently, DCAB and DOT are having ongoing offline discussions, conversations to address future funding for this important program without affecting our State Highway Fund, or if it needs to be touched at all. So Mr. Speaker, I'd like to remind the Members that the bill is blanked out to keep this conversation going. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1154, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FUNDING FOR PARKING FOR DISABLED PERSONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Johanson and Morikawa voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Ing, Lowen, McDermott, Ohno, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1471, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this bill could have been a chance to save money for the middle class. Instead, it's a tax increase. Instead of bringing in the LNG and the coal and giving us a break on the highest cost of energy in the nation, this puts a tax on LNG, a tax on coal. Now, notwithstanding what my learned colleague from Kailua said recently on this Floor, 40% of the electricity of America uses LNG. I'm sure Hawaii is not going to save the nation if 40% is already using LNG. And by the way, LNG has been around long before fracking came around. Fracking is a rather new phenomenon, so I think we shouldn't feel guilty about LNG.

"But I think we should feel guilty about raising the tax on something that if it's a bridge or if it's permanent, if we can save ratepayers money when they turn on their lights, we should be doing that, Mr. Speaker. The point is, this turns it actually on its head, it is the opposite of the way that it actually should be. The amount of electricity that we consume, instead of being less expensive, is going to be more expensive.

"Now I know people will stand up and say, oh it's about tax equity, you tax fossil fuels this way, you've got to tax that one. My point is, middle class equity is being neglected here, and that's why it's middle class killer bill number three for the day. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1471, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE FUNDING OF GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Matsumoto, McDermott, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 145, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ohno rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. We have tax credits for research and development to bring our economy into the 21st century. We provide tax credits for PV to reduce our dependence on oil and fossil fuels. With the many financial needs that our state faces, I cannot support an income tax credit for cigar producers. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Mr. Speaker, SCR 894, strong support with written comments. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of HB 501, HD 1. This bill would assist farmers and ranchers in remaining competitive and self-sustaining by providing them with the means to request, and the PUC the authority to approve, preferential rates for water, electricity, and freight transport for agricultural activities on lands within an agricultural district.

"This is a frequent request from the agriculture industry because such rates would greatly curtail farming expenses, and also hopefully encourage more people to begin, or continue to farm."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Potential conflict of interest. Farmer, small business owner," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Standing with reservations, just some brief comments. My reservations stem from the fact that I believe this should be a complete ban. I am appalled by the concerns of some that would care more about the buying and selling of trinkets than about the annihilation of majestic species on this planet. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, we have a motion before us, it has been seconded, a motion to recommit. This is for Stand. Com. Report Number 898, House Bill 459, House Draft 2.

"We're going to be listening to the debate on the motion to recommit, but Members, may I inform you to please confine your remarks to the recommittal. The question is whether or not the bill should be recommitted, and this is an example. For example, if you are against recommittal, if you support the bill, if you're against recommittal, a Member may state something to the effect of, 'this bill doesn't need any more work, therefore it should pass out and not be recommitted,' hypothetically. If you are in support of the recommittal, if you're against the bill, you may say, 'this bill needs more work and I still have concerns with it, therefore I support the motion to recommit the bill.' Just examples.

"You cannot speak on the merits of the bill on the motion to recommit. That's when we talk only on the bill, should this recommittal fail. Understood? Okay, let's go to the debate."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to make sure everybody was awake today. And I made my good friend from Kauai a little angry, I jammed up his lunch schedule. I apologize for that."

At 12:02 o'clock p.m., Representative Souki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:03 o'clock p.m.

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This measure needs to be recommitted quite simply because it has no public support. This measure needs to be recommitted because the Department of Education doesn't want it. This measure needs to be recommitted because the public all over the State rejected something similar last year, but at an older age. This bill needs to be recommitted because during the Health Committee the testimony was 13 supporters, 54 opponents. Let me say that again, 13 supporters, 54 opponents. You go to the Education Committee, there were 30 supporters and 46 opponents.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, why would we put something like this forward? Why? The public, we're here to serve the public, the public has made their position on this very clear. The Department of Education, who is going to be charged with carrying this measure out, says, we don't want it. But we force it down their throat, you're going to take our social engineering, and we force it down their throat. Why? Why do we do that, Mr. Speaker?

"The public does not want this rubbish, why do we force it down their throat. The Senate hasn't even taken it up. Why do we insist on pushing this through, insist on getting our way? Why do we do that, Mr. Speaker?

"Mr. Speaker, we're putting the cart before the horse. The Department doesn't even have curriculum standards to address what this bill wants to do. There are no standards, K through 6. Why in the world would we create some Frankenmonster and tell the Department to do this? The Department says we don't want it, the public says we don't want it. Yeah, but we know better. Why would we do that? Why would we do that to them, Mr. Speaker? I know my constituents, they don't want this. Why are we doing this?

"Health Committee, 13 supporters, 54 opponents. Education Committee, 30 supporters, 46 opponents. Why? Why do we do this over and over? The community doesn't want it, the parents don't want it, Department of Education doesn't want it, and we don't even have the curriculum standards for it. And nobody has seen the implementing language of the underlying measure because there is none.

"And with those comments, Mr. Speaker, I tried to keep it light earlier but I guess we're going to have to get down to business on the following measure. And at the appropriate time, I'd like to call a roll call vote. Thank you, sir."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I speak in favor of the motion. Mr. Speaker, some may think of today as an unusual phenomenon. Actually, this is the second recommittal. It was recommitted back in the SB 1 days, back in the Special Session. This issue was brought up, we said, oh we're going to take care of it during the session, don't worry about it. That was the first recommittal. Now this recommittal is because, as the former speaker said, we haven't really dialogued sufficiently with the community, because what they know about it so far, they're not in favor of. So I think we need to do a little bit more discussion, a bit more deliberation, and a bit more of wait and see rather than let's rush full forward for this. For those reasons, I think recommittal is a sound judgment."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recommit, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition to the motion to recommit and just very briefly. Mr. Speaker, yes we can look at the numbers, 13 to 54, but we should also look at the fact that many of those in support were agencies that work in this particular area. We should also consider that this bill is a work in progress. Yes, the Senate hasn't taken it up, but this is an opportunity for us to move it over to the Senate, to make it a better bill, to address the continuing concerns as we have vigorous debate upon the content of this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in support of the motion to recommit. Yeah, those agencies who make up the folks who showed up, the 13 and 30, all have a financial interest in this. They're all in the sexology business. They get paid for this, they get paid to create this curriculum. Of course they're going to show up, they're all in the same boat together. These 54 opponents who showed up at the Health Committee hearing are citizens who took time out of their jobs to say, we don't want this.

"But the people with a financial interest in their back pocket showed up. The people who are feeding at the government trough for these programs are the ones who showed up for the supporters, not citizens. Nobody drove in from Ewa Beach, say, hey we really need this, I need my kindergarten child to learn about sex education."

The Chair addressed Representative McDermott, stating:

"Representative, focus on the motion to recommit."

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"I'm trying to focus on the measure. The 46 opponents in the Education Committee, these are citizens. No financial interest taints their testimony. They came in out of work. They drove in from their communities because they're concerned. They don't want this. If you look at the groups, the supporters, they're all lefties. So, again, I want to recommit this and ask for a roll call vote. Thank you."

Representative Saiki rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recommit, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion to recommit. I'd like to make a couple of points. First, recommittal is not appropriate because this legislation has been properly vetted by two committees, both the Health Committee and the Committee on Education.

"And with respect to the proponent's reasoning that we should reject this legislation because the Department of Education opposes it, raises a visceral point for me, which is I wonder if we should continue that line of reasoning with our practice of appropriating funds for Capital Improvement Projects, because there are many instances where Members of the Legislature impose their will on the Department of Education with respect to CIP projects. The Department opposes CIP projects that are not on the Department's matrix or priority list, yet we impose our will and appropriate funds in an attempt to prioritize those projects over the Department's priorities.

"If their line of reasoning stays that we should not enact legislation or advance legislation that the Department opposes, then I would submit that we continue that line of reasoning with our CIP projects. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Speaking in support of the motion. Sitting in the two committees that I sat in, I do believe that we looked through certain things and some things were changed. However, the difference between a CIP project and a curriculum is large. The reason why I believe that it should be vetted out so more parents can get involved is because it has to do with your children. So this is something different where when you're concerned about what your children are going to learn, you want time to make sure that you know what it is.

"So that's my main support is that there were many parents concerned. We can find a win-win solution maybe, but seeing as though this is a curriculum that would touch every DOE school and alternative school, we should possibly give it the chance to be better worked on. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, would the Majority Leader accept a question regarding the recommittal on page 20 of the workforce development bill?"

At 12:11 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:13 o'clock p.m.

The request for roll call was put to vote by the Chair and upon a show of hands, the request was denied.

The motion that H.B. No. 459, HD 2 be recommitted, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry, with Representatives Belatti and Saiki voting no.

(Main Motion)

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to this measure. Mr. Speaker, I support sex education in the context of a health course that teaches the miracle of human reproduction, but you're not going to get that here. What the proponents of this are going to say is that children need information, skills, education, information, skills, so they can make their life decisions.

"Well, as I've proven, they do get inaccurate information, and I don't know what skills or tools a kindergartener's going to need, a first grader's going to need. Yeah, good touch, bad touch, stay away from weird Uncle Willy. I get that and that's appropriate. But one of the things I've found lacking in all of these things is a predator protection module.

"And, Mr. Speaker, you're going to have to give me a little bit of leeway here because we don't know what's in the curricula, the curriculum. It hasn't been developed. We haven't seen it. We know who writes it, Planned Parenthood. Oh, and they were the medical experts. Planned Parenthood were the medical experts at the hearing, I watched it on the TV. So we don't know what's in the curriculum. I sent my office manager out to look for it, he said he found it in a jar next to Jimmy Hoffa's body outside Detroit suburb, but other than that I haven't seen it.

"So we're going to hear the talking points, information, education, skills, but these are a leftist perspective. It's a leftist pedagogy, it's a sexism pedagogy. It's a pedagogy that doesn't teach about reproduction, it teaches about, you can have sex anytime you want, you're responsible, you're six years old, it's up to you. That's what you're going to get.

"You're going to see same-sex scenarios for first graders. Kindergarteners are going to get reading assignments about two homosexual penguins, and the end of the story is two proud fathers, one lucky chick. How do I know? Because I've seen it. You're going to get for second graders the story, a classic, one of my favorites, Bailey the Boy with 10,000 Dresses, where Bailey's parents are looked at as fools because they're trying to change his behavior. Second graders. Now this, transgenderism occurs in less than 1/10 of 1%, yet we're going to whitewash 100% of the kids with this information. And, Mr. Speaker, you can't tell me I'm wrong because you don't know, because you haven't seen the curriculum, you don't know what's in it. But I do.

"Let's go to Planned Parenthood, because they're the duty experts, they write this curriculum, they're the health experts. Planned Parenthood says third grade is the time to learn about wet dreams, masturbation, rape, and sex work. I've got to plead ignorance, I don't know what sex work is, Mr. Speaker. Nine to twelve-year-olds should understand that male and female are not defined solely by their chromosomes or genitalia. Everyone has an internal sense of his or her identity, and that sense may not jive with reality or what they see in the mirror. Mr. Speaker, I want to be a pirate. That doesn't make me a pirate. We want to be a lot of things we're not, but that's a departure from reality.

"So you're going to get same-sex scenarios, and of course they'll be exponentially misrepresented. Instead of 2%, they'll be 25% of the scenarios. You're going to see transgenderism introduced to young children who cannot possibly grasp the concept of what that is, the gender identity disorder, the terrible affliction that adults have. There'll be no predator protection, we've seen that.

"Reproduction, forget about it, you ain't going to see the miracle of life. Forget about it. You're not going to be told how babies are made, and why would you. Planned Parenthood writes it, they put no value on the fetus, the embryo, the zygote, any of that stuff, it's not going to be talked about. You're going to be talking about how to have sex, not the biological health course that we all grew up with. This is a sex behavior course, because Planned Parenthood writes it, Advocates for Youth writes it, that's what they put out, that's what they do.

"Aberrant behaviors such as anal sex are going to be talked about. They did it last year in sixth grade, why not fifth grade? And you know what, they won't even tell them the health risks. We pull soda machines off of Farrington High School campuses and other campuses because it may, in some cases, lead to childhood obesity, if the kid drinks too much soda. We tell the youngsters about anal sex. We don't tell them that if you have unprotected anal sex there's an 1,800% greater risk of HIV. We just omit those facts. The experts at Planned Parenthood omit those facts. All these PhDs working on it, they forgot it. Or was it intentional? Of course it was intentional.

"And then on the low end, they don't even talk about anal leakage."

Representative Matsumoto rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Thank you. So they omit the health risks. They just omit them. Why? Because it's politically incorrect. Because if you show a fifth grader, hey and if you do this you have an 1,800% greater risk, holy smokes, they won't do it. Well, that cast the anal sex behavior and the aberrant behaviors in a negative light. And, by the way, some people are going to say, well heterosexuals do it too. Since when has this Body promoted behaviors that are misogynistic in nature and objectify women? Since when did we decide to do that, Mr. Speaker? Misogynistic behavior, objectify women, and then among the homosexuals, omit the health risk. This is sloppy.

"Where's the curricula, what's in the curricula? Steep in the ideology of leftist extreme. And it's not age appropriate. What is the criteria for age appropriate? We have it in state statute. There's no mechanics in here or no mechanism that says a committee, or who will be on that committee, or who actually decides if it's age appropriate. We have the standards, but as I have proven in McDermott Report I and McDermott Report II, the Department of Education doesn't follow the doggone law. And they don't put experts, medically certified, credentialed, educated experts who are experts in the field of behavior, child behavior, child neurologists, child psychologists, psychosomatic medicine, they don't put them on the committee, they put a gym teacher on or a vice principal. That's who they put on these committees.

"This is serious business. We have an epidemic of STDs among young women. How can that be? Across the nation, 32 million girls have STDs. So that's the reason for bringing this in. Highest in minority communities. Guess what, Mr. Speaker, as we've introduced this sex behavior to the young kids over and over across the country, particularly in minority communities where it started, and guess what, they have the worst rates because they get this stuff and they behave in that manner.

"HPV 16, yeah we tell the young girls wear a condom, you'll be safe, your partner has a condom, you'll be safe. They can still get HPV, herpes, chlamydia, because they're not physically mature until they're 19. Their cervix is not physically mature until they're 19, Mr. Speaker. And we have a doctor here and he can correct me if I'm wrong on that. But we don't tell them. How can you have a sex ed course and not give them the information. I thought this was all about information, education, skills and tools. Your partner has a condom, you're safe young lady. No you're not. Your cervix is immature. It's like a vacuum for these diseases. You don't have the defenses there until you're about 19 years old. We don't tell them that, and then they get HPV, they get chlamydia, they get herpes, and they wonder why. HPV 16 has a 40% rate of cervical cancer.

"This program teaches that at all ages, sexual freedom is a right and a matter of social justice. These experts do not provide teens with all they need to know to make informed decisions, nor medically accurate information. I have proved that. Not one person in the Body here has said, hey I've looked at your report, page 26 was wrong, you got the wrong data. No one said that. Nobody in the media, nobody in the paper.

"They dismissed the fundamentals of child development and omit critical findings of neural biology, gynecology and infectious disease. HIV information is distorted. The psychological distress associated with teen sex, especially when followed by genital infection, is white washed. Nowhere in any of these programs do they talk about the emotions of young people engaged in sexual activity. You mean there's no emotions attached? When a 15 year old boy and girl start having sex, there's no emotions if one breaks up with the other? There's no depression, there's no suicide, there's no anxiety? That is omitted because Planned Parenthood wants it omitted. They write this material. If their priority is our children's health, they must focus on fighting herpes and syphilis, not sexism and homophobia. They must grow up and shed their 1960s mentality in the 21st century. We have an epidemic here."

Representative Pouha rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

At 12:25 o'clock p.m., Representative Souki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:27 o'clock p.m.

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. We're going to hear that the kindergartners need this sex education. It's laughably bad when I hear that the first graders need this sex education. Not health, by the way. Human reproduction is not taught. We're going to be told they need the tools, the education, information and tools. For what? First grade, second grade, third grade. I'm not an expert in psychosomatic medicine or a behavioral specialist, but at third grade I want my kids watching Barney, not learning about masturbation, as Planned Parenthood has in here. I don't want that. The people of the State don't want that. They made that clear last year in Pono Choices. And to put a measure like this forward is a slap in their face. A slap in their face.

"Mr. Speaker, people in this building, in this Chamber right here, think I'm crazy. They do. But you go out there, everybody else thinks we're crazy, and I'm the sane guy. I can hold my head up when I go to church or I go into a community meeting, and I can defend my position on this in any neighborhood board throughout Oahu. I can do that, Mr. Speaker.

"Yeah, I feel passionate about this. But the responses you're going to hear are information, education, skills and tools. That's all they've got. They've got no specifics. They can't answer anything I said. Can't answer the fact that the citizens came down, don't want it. Can't answer the fact the DOE doesn't want it. Can't answer the fact that DOE doesn't even have a curriculum standard for this stuff to be implemented. And there is no curriculum. So on that, Mr. Speaker, I'm going to say no, I'm against it, and I look forward to the opportunity to speak on this again. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the measure. Thank you. I wanted to talk about the specifics of the bill before us. I want to point out that, first of all, there's a 2050 date on it because I believe the message is clear that we have some more discussion on this and we want to get the input on how to improve the measure and I believe there's a commitment to keep working on it, so I wanted to point that out first.

"Second, it says, 'beginning with the 2016-2017 school year, each public elementary, middle, intermediate, high, and alternative school operated by the department of education shall provide sexuality health education described under subsection (a).' I think it's important to point it out, because this bill is about the future. It's not about what is currently existing and what other people think currently exists. I believe this bill is about how to move the Department of Education forward. That is what this bill is about.

"The third thing is, I did want to comment on why I think it's important to talk about it at elementary, middle school especially. Because some people don't realize that there are sexual predators out there, and there's people that end up on elementary school grounds, or there's people that, maybe there's people that adults, these weirdoes that might be hanging around these children, and what happens when they flash them, they ask them to come over and touch them. Touch me here, touch me there, look at this. I mean, if they have no reality of what's being done, they have no information to make decisions. So I think there is a benefit to this that some people don't want to talk about.

"The other thing I want to point out, the Women's Legislative Caucus, both in the House and Senate, introduced this bill because we, I think as women, realize the importance of protecting our children. For those reasons, I think we should continue the discussion, and I hope that the previous speaker gives us some ideas on how to improve on it, but I don't agree with us killing this idea. I think it should move forward. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Rising in opposition. I think, sitting through the hearing and hearing all the testimony and some concerns I have as a former teacher is in subsection (c) it says, 'at their own discretion, teachers may answer in good faith any question initiated by a student or students that is reasonably related to and consistent with the material of a course provided pursuant…' meaning that we're giving teachers permission to answer questions.

"Now, as a teacher you should always feel at liberty to answer any question your student asks. So I called the DOE and I asked them, why would this have to be inserted here when teachers should be able to answer any questions? Their concern was that with the previous curriculum that went through, there was a lot of hesitancy on the part of teachers to answer certain questions because of criminal implications for themselves. And so I think that I can see both sides. I can see that possibly it would be necessary. But again, if DOE is saying that their statement was 'sexual health education is a component of our efforts to support student success,' meaning that they have something in place. 'As there are existing policies and resources in place to address this area,' the Department of Education testimony 'suggests that this measure is not necessary.' Now, it's not saying that we couldn't push forward and get them further, however, I think that their reservation is for the safety of their teachers.

"One of the questions we also asked the proponent was, are there criminal behaviors addressed in the curriculum, meaning sex acts that might happen between different ages and the criminal punishment that comes with it, and they said no. That's kind of a concern and that's on both the sides of the teacher and the parents.

"I think also as a teacher and a parent, the buy-in that I see from parents is when they get to create something, because then they're part of it, they came up with it, they thought of it. And so I feel like if they were able to be a part of the curriculum development, maybe they'd be for it. But I've looked at the website of futureofsexed.org and I've read through it, and I don't know if it would be something that people in Hawaii would really want. Whereas, if the people in Hawaii, the parents were able to come together and come up with a curriculum, I'm a huge proponent that the best education for our children is going to be made within their own community and with their own parents that bring their children to school.

"I do believe that we could find a win-win, but at this point to push and pull against something that seems like the parents don't want, the DOE doesn't want it, then we should just go back and relook at it. How can we make this more successful all around so that we can give education, so that we can protect children, so that we can protect teachers, and so that we can give information that might be vital for peoples' health and safety, but in a way where we agree on it. I think that that's why I stand in opposition, so that we can get a better grip on how we could do this together, with the people. Not against them, with them. And so those are my comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of this bill. One of the important components of this bill is it's codifying the new Department of Education policy, which provides that sex education will be an opt-in policy as opposed to opt-out. So prior policy by the Department of Education is unless the parent specifically states that they don't want their kid to participate in sex education, the burden is on the parent to state that they don't want the kid to participate. If you're silent, everyone participates.

"This bill, which now codifies the current department of new policy, which is that in order for a child to participate in sex education, the parent must consent and opt-in. And for somebody like me, I have a 12-year-old, and I know many of you know my son Logan since he was a baby, and he's at that age. Recently I had a conversation with my husband and I said, hey you know, I know the school covered this, but there's certain things maybe you should cover, and he was like, no, no I think the school covered it so I don't want to deal with it. And then so I asked my son, you know son, you must have a lot of questions with body changes, and he's like, no, no, I don't want to talk to my dad.

"So for me I'm kind of thankful that somebody else is doing it, because as far as I'm concerned he's still a baby and I don't want to think he's in puberty, and I think that's kind of similar with all the parents and what they're struggling with. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Since I guess I was the first one out the gate before we got moved to a different discussion with the reservations, I'd just like to kind of clarify a few things, since I wasn't going to submit written comments on this. First off, I didn't sign this bill. The original version of this bill had the opt-out in it, and I'd like to thank the Health Chair for hearing that discussion, and the Health Committee, and changing it back to opt-in.

"My concern with this measure, Mr. Speaker, is we all heard it last year. There was a certain curriculum that the community was getting very upset with. They went back to the Board of Education and the Department of Education and they stated their concerns. And I've learned in the last four years that we should give the benefit of the doubt to our departments. We should allow them to administer. And I feel that if we should supersede that and say, here, this is the direction you should go in, I think is a non-positive way to go right now. Until those departments can't do what they need to do, we should not micromanage them. And I've been talking about this the last 24 days, and I've been talking about it the last four days. I don't want to micromanage the state departments.

"I believe the Department of Education heard the community loud and clear regarding that certain program last year. They went to the Board of Education. They Board of Education reviewed it, had a task force review that educational component, came back and made a decision. They made a decision to have parents opt-in to this program, and I wholeheartedly support that. Opting in, in my opinion, puts the burden on the parents. If you want to participate in your child's education, then you check the box saying, yes, I want my child to participate.

"Because when we do the opt-out, unfortunately it gives the Department of Education the easy way out, because they'll just blanket opt-out. Less work for the department. Yes, the Department did say when they have to do opt-in, it's a little bit more procedure on their part. But I think it creates that balance of accountability on both sides, our Department of Education, as well as our parents and guardians for these youth. And that's where the win-win is right now.

"So that's where my reservations are. I'm glad the opt-in is in there. I am not comfortable with telling the Department or the Board of Education how they should administer at this point in time. During the testimony from the Department of Education, I asked them, has there been any problems since it's been implemented in August of last year?"

Representative Jordan continued, stating:

"So basically, Mr. Speaker, we've only been in this for about four or five months. Let's see if it works with our Department of Education, and I'd really like to give them the opportunity to show us that their system may be broken. At this point in time, I haven't seen that. That's where my reservations are. And as the Majority Floor Leader stated, it does have a defective date on it, and that's why I said when I stood up, it has a defective date and we have the ability to have further discussion on this at this point in time. And as long as the Body can have that discussion and the community can come in and state their concerns, I think we can finally remind the Department of Education and the Board of Education, we're watching. So, thank you, Mr. Speaker, for that opportunity."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. First, let's talk about the facts. Hawaii teens rank lowest in the nation when it comes to condom use. Therefore, I think it's very apparent that our students ought to learn that by using condoms it doesn't necessarily prevent pregnancy, but it certainly goes a long way. Hawaii teen pregnancy rate is 9th highest in the country. The average teen pregnancy rate in the country is about almost 30 births per 1,000 women age 15 to 19.

"I'll just give you one complex in the State, the Waianae – Nanakuli Complex. They average over the last five years more than double that. Sixty-eight women, young girls, got pregnant per 1,000 women. So you have a complex in our state, and that's not out of the box, Mr. Speaker, Honokaa, there's many other places in our state where the teen birth rate is through the roof. And by the way, when we talk about a middle class killer, teen pregnancy in our state costs the State $32 million, and all those dollars, Mr. Speaker, are coming out of taxes, much of it paid for by the middle class. If we were to cut teen pregnancy in half, thereby saving our state $16 million, that frankly goes into the pockets of our middle class taxpayers.

"Mr. Speaker, the Department of Health does a behavioral youth survey every other year, they do it in odd number years. I highly recommend each member of this Body go to their website and see how students responded, and it ranges from drug and alcohol use, bullying, and all the rest of it. When it comes to sexual behavior, 37% of high school students currently engage in sex, 10% of middle school students. When it comes to parental involvement, Mr. Speaker, according to the survey."

Representative McDermott rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. This is a program that talks about sex education in kindergarten, first grade, through fifth grade. Not high school or middle school. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Thank you. Nevertheless, you are on point, so Chair I'm not going to confine you to any further comments. You can continue on your speech."

Representative Takumi continued, stating:

"Yeah, I'll get to the elementary school. Patience is really a good virtue, Mr. Speaker.

"As far as parental involvement, only 39% of middle school students indicated that their parents talked to them, or an adult within their family talked to them about sex. When it came to high school students, only 57%. So, Mr. Speaker, in the ideal world, we want 100% of families and parents talking to their children about sex, healthy behaviors, the risks involved and all of that. But clearly, Mr. Speaker, over 4 out of 10 high school students and almost two-thirds of middle school students said they had no information from their families.

"Let me talk about elementary schools. We've gotten emails that said this should be limited to high school students or maybe middle school students, but elementary school students, oh my goodness, let's not talk about that. Mr. Speaker, the average age when young girls get their first period in the United States is roughly 12 years old, but it ranges from 8 to 15 years old. Mr. Speaker, girls who are 8, 9, 10, the last time I looked, were in elementary school. The sooner these girls learn about their bodies and the way it operates and that they may get their menstrual cycle as early as 8 years old, I happen to think is a good thing.

"Here is a point of clarification. The Department of Education, and this point was raised earlier by an earlier speaker, did not oppose this. They said it wasn't necessary. But you know, Mr. Speaker, there is a compelling state interest for us to state a bottom line policy when it comes to education. We've done that with bullying. The Department of Education has a policy on bullying. We did that with something as trivial as whether or not they can sell soft drinks in vending machines on campus, Mr. Speaker. They had a policy on that as well. We passed a law that said, you cannot sell unhealthy drinks in vending machines. So there's been time and time again where we as state legislators intervene into the Department's policy, because we felt the greater good was served by putting it in statute.

"And by the way, Mr. Speaker, we talk about parental involvement, and much of the emails, most of the emails that came in and said that parents should decide, I think it's been mentioned more than once, but it bears reiterating. Parents opt-in."

Representative Takumi continued, stating:

"If you feel that this policy is not for your child, it is not age appropriate, by all means, Mr. Speaker, do not opt-in. A few weeks ago at King Intermediate School they had a parent's night, 150 parents showed up. They walked the parents through the curriculum that their students would be engaged in when it came to health/sex education. Two parents decided it wasn't for their child, 148 parents said, please, I want my child to participate in this. And I suspect, Mr. Speaker, because the bill requires the Department to come back with a report, I suspect that number would be around that percentage when we see how many parents are going to opt-in to this.

"Last point, Mr. Speaker. We always say that families know what's best for their child. No one disagrees with that. But you know, Mr. Speaker, schools teach about drugs. Schools offer swimming lessons, drivers ed. They offer bicycle safety training, depending on the school. These are all responsibilities, Mr. Speaker, that family should take care of, frankly, but you know what? Schools offer it to students because they know, in many instances, families are unable, unwilling, or simply not able to offer these kinds of services, and we allow the schools to do that. And by the way, parents can opt-out of those activities if they so choose.

"So, Mr. Speaker, whether or not people have concerns about this bill, bottom line is, if parents feel this is not for their child, by all means, do not allow your child to participate. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against the bill. In opposition, and Mr. Speaker, if I can have permission to put my remarks in the Journal. I just wanted to note that I think much of what our Minority Floor Leader said makes a great deal of sense. Involve the community, work to develop a program that's going to be definitely age appropriate. I'm the grandmother of a five year old, and I would want very much to know what is in that kind of a program. I don't want just the opportunity for the parents to be able to opt-out or to opt-in. I think that it's important that we work together to develop a broadly supported program that is age appropriate for the different age levels. And until that is done, then I unfortunately cannot support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 459, which proposes additional elements for Hawaii's existing sexuality health education law and its implementation. While I believe that accurate and age-appropriate health and sex education should be offered to our students, I do not believe that this bill is necessary. HB 459 has not had adequate input from parents, community members, educators, and other stakeholders. Much work needs to still be done on this bill, and, as the DOE has testified, public schools already provide a comprehensive sexual health education that follows the requirements set forth in the Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) §321-11.1 and from the Hawaii State Board of Education. I strongly feel that any sex education program should be 'opt-in', allowing parents to review the curriculum before deciding whether or not their children will participate in the optional classes. I also believe that a formal sexuality education program should not be offered to students before the fifth grade. For these reasons, I will vote 'no' on HB 459."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, I stand in support. First, I'd like to ask that the Education Chair's comments be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you. I want to begin by applauding the Women's Caucus for introducing this measure. And it continues to evolve, it's an HD 2, so there's a lot of time to make it a better bill. But there is a lot of misinformation about it, and it is worth and it bears repeating that citizens who don't want this, don't want their kids involved, the default position is that they're not involved.

"As the father of two young girls, I want to ensure that they and all of the youth of Hawaii have access to age appropriate sex ed. That's why I'm in favor of this bill. Somebody told me when I found out I was going to be a father and that it was going to be a girl, they told me a joke. They said, well if you have a boy, you've got one boy to worry about. If you've got a girl, you've got all boys to worry about. I've got two girls, and I want to make sure that they and all the boys have the education they need to know about their bodies and their behavior and how to stay safe.

"Without this type of information we would be putting the health and safety of our keiki in jeopardy. So I cannot in good conscience put them in jeopardy. I certainly respect the freedom of conscience of some of the Members of this Body and other people in the State who oppose the measure, and again, if they don't want to participate in it or their kids to participate in it, they're already not participating in it.

"The variety of curriculum that can be taught through this measure, it talks about monogamy, it talks about the miracle of birth, it talks about encouraging community and critical thinking skills, it talks about encouraging children to talk to their parents, it teaches little boys and girls also about their private parts and what it means with good touch and bad touch, and it protects them. It protects them in that way. It provides counselors to kids to learn how to talk about the situations that they might be uncomfortable with and learn how to talk about how to say no and if they want to say no.

"As I sat on one of the committees that heard this bill, some of the citizens did come, and take their time to come and support it as well. It was not just citizens who came to talk against it. So thank you Chair, I stand in support."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"I do have patience, Mr. Speaker. I had a lot of patience waiting for some of my salient points to be rebutted. Are they going to teach third graders about masturbation? Are they going to teach them about wet dreams? Third graders, Mr. Speaker. We hear about young girls getting their menstrual cycle, okay are they going to tell them about the miracle of life? I don't think so, because Planned Parenthood writes the doggone thing. There is no miracle of life with regard to Planned Parenthood. They just tell you you've got to buy some pads and napkins. That's all they do. I've seen the curriculum.

"Now, I agree with the Majority Floor Leader, good touch, bad touch, predator protection, absolutely, they should be taught that stuff. Except the ones I reviewed except one, they don't have it. So you guys, the other speakers are talking about stuff that doesn't exist. And teen pregnancy and all this, one teen pregnancy is too many, that's in my view. But, Mr. Speaker, these guys, they're not teaching, listen to the remarks, it's a predator protection program that teaches health and biology. That's not what this is. Planned Parenthood teaches a sex behavior program.

"You talk about drugs. We don't tell kids how to roll a joint. What the difference between a big fatty and a blunt is and a pinhead and how to get a roach clip and where to buy zig zag rolling papers. We don't tell them, we just say, don't do drugs, they're bad for you. Monogamy is brought up because a month ago I was on this Floor and said they don't talk about long term monogamous relationships. I said that. The reason there were 150 people at that school is because the ruckus I've been raising the last year. So I anticipate that out of the seven curriculum that are available, that whoever the heck it was at the school picked one of the least objectionable ones. But it's not because we did anything in here.

"So I do have patience, Mr. Speaker, I'm waiting patiently for my points to be rebutted. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. I feel compelled to speak only because my district was called out. So, I realize that in Nanakuli we have high pregnancy teen rates, I get that part. I've sat down with my community, I've asked them what they want, I know that we need something out there, I want them to opt-in. Why won't they? Because of the curriculum. They don't know what it is, and the one that they saw was questionable.

"I realize that when I asked in the Education Committee hearing, I asked the proponents, do you have a community model that we could actually do outside the schools, where the community could get involved and they know what's going on? They don't, it's only for school. We have high truancy rates in my district. A lot of these kids that are engaging in it don't even go to school. I realize that the problem is a little bit bigger in my district than just in school and educating. My concern is also that every teacher will be mandated to teach this, and that's another concern because they're not trained to teach that.

"So those are the small little things that I think we can work out, but again, for my community, they want to get involved, they want to be a part of it. I want everyone to opt-in, but they want to see what the curriculum is and they don't want the one that's being proposed. So if we could please get it to the point where teachers feel comfortable, where the DOE feels comfortable, where they train their teachers so that we make sure that they're telling accurate information because they've been trained to do that, then everyone would feel at rest with it. So, thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and just a very brief comment. I wanted to just reiterate again, this does have a defective date, it is coming back, this House will have an opportunity to deal with this bill again. And I think that the Health Chair has made some good compromises from what this bill originally looked like, and I would like to continue in that vein, I'd like to be a part of that discussion. So that's why I'm with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm rising to speak in support with reservations. I'm glad this bill has a way to go, but I take under advisement the remarks of the Education Chair, because he's been involved in this business with our public school system for over a decade now, so I think he knows what he's talking about.

"My concern here is the policy implications of us now getting ahead of, was the Health Chair may have suggested, codifying the policy of the appointed Board of Education. I think we all know what we're talking about. That decision of the board, and I respectfully disagree with the Education Chair, I don't like to get involved in superseding the jurisdiction of the Board of Education in their role as the policymakers for our public education systems. I feel that we don't have the knowledge or the insight as generalists in our legislative capacity, and I tend to, at least in my district, I tend to weigh heavily in on the board's decision at the local school level.

"Two weeks ago I was at one of my public schools, elementary schools, attending a May Day festival, but only now we have May Day festivals in January or February, we call them Aloha Festivals. And they do that so that the end of the year test that the schools must take, they can focus upon preparing the students for those annual tests. They're very important.

"So I went to this Aloha Festival at one of my elementary schools and I sat there with the principal, vice principal, several teachers, and it just came to mind when I was watching a group of young students, I think they were in the first grade, dancing a hula. So I asked the principal, how old are these kids, first graders? He goes, I think they're six years old. So when I started to reflect upon the consideration of a measure like this regarding sexuality education or sex education, it dawned on me that I'm not really comfortable, not knowing the details of what this bill might do and whether or not I can entrust the public school system to decide what is appropriate at that level. I don't know if the principal felt the same way I did, but I asked him, do you think your students, these first graders, should be taught about their sexual identity and their sexual roles and sexual practices? And we got into all kinds of other details. He looked at me and he said, are you crazy? You for real? And he was stunned by even me raising the question.

"I don't know if what we need to do is to maybe step back and spend more time working on this amongst the other issues of the day, but this has an effective date of 2050, so like many have said, maybe there's additional opportunities for public debate and comment. But if I had my druthers, I think we'd put this aside for now. Let's put it aside for now, but I'll be going with reservations out of respect for the Education Chair, and I'll wait final judgment upon seeing what this final measure might look like. But I'm not going to lose sleep over this bill not coming back. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I rise in opposition and I have a comment. I do appreciate the intent to look out for the best interest of our children. I do also, in the same vein, consider the sacred nature of instruction between guardians and parents and also children as well, myself being a father. So I am mindful of this delicate balance that we're trying to strike, and hope that we can find a way to make sure that these interests are properly balanced. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations and just a brief comment. I know the chairs are working hard on this bill, but right now it's not quite ripe and ready yet, so for now I'll be going with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support, may I have the words of the Education Chair entered as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 459, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Cachola, Fukumoto Chang, Jordan, Oshiro and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Har, Kong, Matsumoto, McDermott, Pouha, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 899) recommending that H.B. No. 631, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 631, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition to this measure. Mr. Speaker, I'm probably the only one in this Body who shared an apartment, 700-square-foot apartment, with a transgendered individual for about three months. About 30 years ago when my wife and I were first married, one day, we were sharing an apartment with her cousin George, I went out to the living room and I said to my wife, I said, who is that, did George bring home some floozy? And my wife said, that's Leilani. I said, Leilani? Tommy, George's brother. The Samoan term for that is fa'afafine, part of their culture. And so Tommy stayed with us for three months. I got to observe it up close and personal, Mr. Speaker. So, I only tell you that because people call me a hater, bigot, homophobe, ignorant, and all the rest. I can't prove a negative, but I can only tell you that fact.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, with regard to this measure here in front of us, we're affirming their distorted view of reality. I prayed for Tommy, I prayed for others who are trapped in this situation where they're born a man, they have a male brain, they have male sexual reproductive organs, but they think they're something else. They think they're a female, of course now we're told you can be anything you want. Across the spectrum, in between, whatever you want. But that's a distorted view of reality, Mr. Speaker.

"And I point to John Hopkins Hospital, no conservative bastion by the way, they pioneered sex change operations, they don't do them anymore because they don't work. And the Chief of Psychiatry, there the retired Chief of Psychiatry who headed it up, said it's a gender identity disorder. What does that mean, Mr. Speaker? That's like Karen Carpenter looking in the mirror, Karen Carpenter looking in the mirror and saying she's morbidly obese. And our reaction is not to give Karen treatment, our reaction is, here's some diet pills, Karen. I mean, it's fundamentally flawed.

"Then you look at, everybody knows what Bruce Jenner is going through right now. World's greatest athlete, 1976. Stud muffin, knee bandaged up, running through to get the gold medal, the 800 meters. Dude was on Wheaties boxes, he was a manly man. No question, world's greatest male athlete. Now he wants to be a woman. And under this measure he is a woman, and there's no trace of it anywhere.

"So this is a cruel hoax, it's social engineering, it's political correctness, just like the previous measure, and this is a distortion of reality, then these people need treatment not a confirmation of their distorted view of reality. So for those reasons, I'll be voting no. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, the decision to amend one's birth certificate is not taken lightly, and individuals that choose to do so have no doubt spent countless years grappling with this decision. This proposed bill would still require a signed affidavit from a licensed medical professional, but it really strikes at the heart, at the requirement for a sex reassignment surgery.

"Doctor Bidwell, Associate Professor of Pediatrics and Director of Adolescent Medicine at the University of Hawaii JABSOM for the past 25 years, notes in his testimony that this requirement of a sex change 'in order for transgender individuals to obtain a change of gender designation on birth certificates is a historical artifact. It is outdated and no longer reflects modern-day medical opinion on what it means to be transgender or the nature of gender transition.'

"We know that the American Medical Association, the American Psychological Association, all support and have policies that support birth certificate laws that do not require gender reassignment surgery for their certificates. In 2014, the American Medical Association issued their statement saying that they support policies that allow for a change of sex designation on birth certificates based upon verification by a physician that that individual has undergone gender transition according to applicable medical standards of care. That's what this proposal does. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support of this bill."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I wanted to share, since I know there's some proponents of the bill here, on what I did as far as researching since the hearing until now. I did vote yes out of committee. Something that compelled me when the proponents of the bill came is that some of the transgendered were from my district. And honestly, after hearing their stories, I was moved because of the discrimination, and so I sat down with them, called some of my other transgendered friends. I feel strongly against discrimination, I feel strongly against mistreatment. My concern was that no one was helping them on the level of discrimination to fight it, with TSA or other events that they have had.

"At the heart of what's going on is the treatment that they're getting when they show their ID, that's where it's stemming from. And so they want an ID that reflects what they are, and that's what a lot of my transgendered friends spent hours of time telling me. The thing that kind of comforted me after we spoke was that there is a process available to them at the driver's license level, and so some of them have done it already.

"But I talked with the vital records department at the Department of Health, and they also came forward and described to me the vital records would be a verification of events at birth, and that our nation, our state, has long years of keeping very accurate records. In fact, our vital record expert here in Hawaii used to work for the federal government.

"My concern also is, when I sat down with the Attorney General, was would there eventually be a repeal of same sex marriage, because now this would be a heterosexual marriage, and that's the certificate you used to get married.

"Those were my concerns. It was kind of all wrapped into one, but my main concern was that at the discrimination level, that they got justice and that they were treated fairly. And so I felt that voting in opposition would be okay if they were getting justice at a different level for what they needed to, and that I would be there to fight for them against that discrimination in other areas. So, those are my comments."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support. To follow up on the Representative from Nanakuli, she makes an excellent point about the IDs of transgendered individuals sometimes not matching up with how somebody might perceive that individual. It leads to violence, it leads to violence every day for transgendered people. And while the Representative from Nanakuli is right, that maybe there are mechanisms in place for citizens in Hawaii to use, if they're born in Hawaii and they move somewhere else, they have to rely on their certificate of live birth to get those IDs, and then they face the same problems.

"To change gears a little bit, for those who may have difficulty in understanding the difference between 'gender' and 'sex', and there is a difference, I want to focus on the anatomical argument for it, because there is an anatomical argument for this bill as well because it provides a clearer way for hermaphroditic individuals, more commonly known today as intersex individuals, to correct mistaken recorded gender identity, and that way they can correct vital records. This bill also allows them to be who they are in life and on paper and, Mr. Speaker, I believe that it's an important bill. Thank you."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, very briefly in support. I'd just like to note that vital records at DOH is open to making the change, which really just modernizes our existing law with respect to a largely misunderstood segment of our population. I'd just like to point out that six states and the District of Columbia are already making these changes to put their laws in compliance with what makes sense.

"I'd just like to read very briefly the testimony of the Hawaii Commission on the Status of Women, which said, 'the majority of transgender people do not choose to undergo sex reassignment surgeries for various reasons, including prohibitive costs and other medical and personal reasons. Under internationally accepted clinical standards, transgender individuals may opt for hormone therapy and other treatments. The international medical community recognizes that surgery may be appropriate for some, but not for all.'

"This bill attempts to modernize our laws without retaining an outdated notion of what it means to be transgender. Thank you very much."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Briefly in support. There's been a few statements regarding transgendered people and whether or not their condition is a mental illness. Homosexuality was diagnosed in the DSM as an illness until 1973. It was removed in 1987, but gender identity disorder persisted until the DSM-5, which only came out a couple years ago by the American Psychological Association. Gender identity disorder characterized all transgender people as mentally ill. Based on the standards to be set by the DSM-5, individuals are now diagnosed with gender dysphoria for displaying a marked congruence between ones experienced and expressed gender and assigned gender.

"So when we're talking about science, let's please not focus on statements and articles from the '70s. In the respect for science, we've got to know what the most recent peer reviewed and associational statements are. Jack Drescher, who is a member of the APA subcommittee working on the revision, stated that 'all psychiatric diagnoses occur within a cultural context. We know there is a whole community of people out there who are not seeking medical attention and live between the two binary categories. We want to send a message that a therapist's job is not to pathologize.'

"And these binary categories were really created under the notion that a previous speaker mentioned about Bruce Jenner being a manly man. The idea of what a manly man is, being a physical specimen. The idea of masculinity today, that it's frowned upon to, as a man, to express yourself through emotion or through reason and instead do so through anger, and you shouldn't cry in public. These things are dehumanizing. And I think if these binary categories were less strict in American society, then we wouldn't even need these types of bills. It wouldn't be a big deal to be a man, or a male or a female on a birth certificate. So I'd really like to see culturally that attitude be eradicated. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Still in opposition, second time. I don't want to go down this rabbit hole, Mr. Speaker, but in 1972, homosexuality was removed from the disorder manual because they couldn't conduct their conventions, they were being protested. So they said, to hell with it, we'll just take it out so we can conduct our conventions.

"As my friend from Maui mentioned, two years ago it was they removed transgenderism from the mental disorders, but it was based on politics. That's all it is, politics, like sex ed for kindergarteners. It's politics. It's social engineering. It's leftism. Cultural context, politics, leftism. There's no one who can stand before me and tell me that Bruce Jenner doesn't have a problem right now. He's got a mental disorder, that's clear as the sky is blue. He does. So for those reasons, I'm still against it. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 902) recommending that H.B. No. 1467, HD 2 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1467, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative San Buenaventura rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing with reservations on House Bill 1467, HD 2.

"I strongly support the intent of providing consumers with better choices. However, this measure requires a kind of forced participation that is contrary to free market principles, and that is why I have reservations in regards to this bill.

"This Legislative Body knows the Connector is not always the cheapest option, Mr. Speaker. Insurers and businesses should have a choice whether they want to participate in the Connector or not. If they decide participation is not for them, then they should not be mandated to offer plans through the Connector. Especially in a way that singles out one group of insurers. If the intent of this bill is to strengthen the Health Connector then there should be greater incentives offered for insurers, employers, and their employees to encourage willing participation.

"Mr. Speaker, this Legislative Body also knows the Connector is not always an effective system. Since its conception, the Connector has had a range of technical issues and complaints. I understand nothing is perfect, there are positives and negatives that come with any option. That is why it should be up to the insurer and their clients to decide if they would like to participate in the Connector or not.

"The restrictive aspects of this measure are also of concern. I would like to see something in the bill that allows insurers and employers to buy coverage a la carte. Many consumers would benefit from a system that would allow the consumer to pick individual components of a plan that fits their range of price and level of service, instead of being required to make an all or nothing deal.

"The requirement in the bill that an insurer must offer one Platinum plan and one Gold plan seems to also be in conflict with the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA). The PPACA defines the term 'qualified health plan' as a health plan that is offered by a health insurance issuer that agrees to offer at least one qualified health plan at the Silver level and at least one plan at the Gold level. So it begs the question as to why the Platinum coverage, which is of higher cost, was put into the bill rather than the Silver coverage, especially when it conflicts with federal requirements.

"Additionally I am concerned about the impact to small businesses that this measure would have. Expanding the definition of small employer to include employers with 100 employees and ending the use of loss experience in rating for businesses, by terminating transitional renewal policies, will increase costs for our state's small businesses. Our small businesses are already financially stressed, we should not seek to worsen their situation.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, simply put, this measure needs work if it is to move forward. I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of the consequences of this bill. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition, brief speech. You've got to know when to hold them and when to fold them, and I think this deserves to be finished completely. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1467, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH CONNECTOR," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives DeCoite, Har, Jordan, Keohokalole, Pouha, San Buenaventura and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Matsumoto, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 903) recommending that H.B. No. 1075, HD 2 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1075, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Woodson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to vote in support with brief reservations with a small comment. Mr. Speaker, I think that we need to move forward with this proposal. This may be the only direction we can go. However, I would like to see a financial audit, a fresh financial audit incorporated into the measure so that we can objectively make a decision as to whether we're moving in the right direction or not. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Onishi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 1075. Mr. Speaker, I cannot support this bill because I don't believe that the provisions of this bill are in the best interest of the people of Maui, the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation, and the people of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill does not have any provisions for the protection of the people of Maui in the event that the private entity decides that it made the wrong decision and is not able to provide or expand the services on Maui and Lanai, as the people of Maui are expecting. In fact, this bill provides for the private entity to be able to choose which facilities it wants to operate. There is no requirement for it to operate all Maui region facilities. It could decide not to operate Kula Hospital and Clinic, or it could decide not to operate Lanai Community Hospital, or it could decide that it only wants Maui Memorial Medical Center. Whatever facilities it doesn't feel it can efficiently operate could still remain with the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation to operate.

"I would feel much better if all of the facilities were included, and if the private entity was required to place a performance bond for at least 25 years that would ensure that if they walk away from this deal, the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation or the State of Hawaii would have the financial means to go back into Maui and pick up all of the pieces.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill does not help our ailing Hawaii Health Systems Corporation. The bill calls for the leasing of the chosen facilities for $1 a year for a minimum of 25 years. It also calls for the Maui Regional System Board to transfer all the equipment and assets to the new facility at no cost. This bill requires the State of Hawaii or Hawaii Health Systems Corporation to assume all of the current liabilities, including the accounts receivable, accrued employee time off, debts, capital leases, malpractice liabilities, and any other liabilities. But, Mr. Speaker, the worst part is that all of the current receivables are not mentioned in the bill and would assume to go to the private entity as future income.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill is also not in the best interest of the people of Hawaii. This bill obligates the people of Hawaii to provide an operational subsidy to the amount of the 2014 Fiscal Year, which is approximately over $20 million a year, in perpetuity. This bill will also obligate the people of Hawaii to fund not only the liabilities for the capital improvements made in previous years and currently approved, but it also requires the people of Hawaii to share in all of the costs for the capital improvements determined by the private entity for the next 10 years. And finally, this bill requires the people of Hawaii to share in the costs of the capital improvement projects that are pending but not yet approved by the State at the time of the execution of the lease.

"Mr. Speaker, for these reasons and many more that I have shared previously, I cannot support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I support this bill with reservations.

"HHSC is our state's healthcare safety net. Under its current structure, if the Maui region is allowed to break off, the remaining regions would have an even larger financial burden to contend with. I also have concerns that it could set a bad precedent for the other regions, and jeopardize HHSC as a whole.

"Hilo Medical Center is the major acute care facility in East Hawaii. It needs to exist for the health and safety of my community. While I sympathize with the Maui workers and understand their support of this bill, HB 1075, HD 2 still needs much work to ensure the other HHSC facilities will not be irreversibly and negatively impacted. Until I see those assurances, I vote with reservations."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. I ask that the comments from the spoken words of the Big Island Representative and the Representative from Maui be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. I have the strongest of reservations over this. I would like to see many changes made, but out of respect for the people of Maui and the Speaker, I go with reservations, but I may vote no in the end. Thank you."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing with reservations on House Bill 1075, HD 2.

"Mr. Speaker, I am open to discussing all options on the table, if it means a better and more efficient state healthcare system. Our situation is far from ideal. Especially on our neighbor islands, where our constituents are sometimes subjected to waiting for hours in the ER for severe emergency situations. When patients have to be airlifted to other islands in order to utilize services not offered at their islands facilities, there is a problem. Allowing our citizens to continue to be subjected to these kind of situations is not only irresponsible, but also flat out life threatening. Our people deserve better, Mr. Speaker, and that's why I am in support of the intent of this measure.

"However, I have reservations on aspects of this bill. One cannot deny that in order to prescribe a solution to an ailment, a doctor must first know the causes. It is not enough to just look at the symptoms, a doctor must sometimes look at blood work or MRIs in order to really get to the root of the issue. This is true for politics as well. Where a doctor may run some tests to understand the extent of a problem, public officials would request a study or an audit. This is precisely what needs to happen when we talk about the Maui Regional System.

"How can we push a solution when we don't know the extent of the problem? I am sure there are parts of the current system that would benefit from privatization, but this measure is too open-ended and paves the way for a total takeover of our hospital system in Maui County.

"I do support the idea of sharing the cost of providing healthcare with a private entity if done right. The first step in this process should be a full fiscal and management audit of all Maui Memorial facilities. When we make decisions we need all the facts, we need to weigh the positive and negative impacts and take it all into consideration when deliberating on the best course of action.

"The measure needs specificity. Potentially, all of Maui Memorial hospital facilities could be transitioned to Hawaii Pacific Health under the current language. This would leave us paying costs for things we have little control over. While their plan may be an attractive one, I don't believe things will be as clear cut as proponents of privatization may believe. Cost savings will potentially inflict negative impacts to services, and without more control of facility management our state will not be a party in those decisions.

"We also should be providing more support to the dedicated staff who are going to be forced to make the difficult decision of retiring, due to the change in contract. The staff at these facilities love their community and they want to remain part of the effort to provide quality healthcare to their patients. For the State to just leave them to the mercy of a private contract could result in a loss of these dedicated staff members and adversely impact the quality of care provided.

"Furthermore, I am concerned about the implication that after the 10 year period the transitioned facilities will not need state funding. This Body and our citizens should be aware that joint funding from the State may be a permanent reality we have to face. After the 10 year period we may discover the extent of our long term fiscal responsibilities to these transitioned facilities.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, this measure is well intended and no one can argue the fact that something needs to be done. We can all appreciate the complexity of this issue, but if something is to be done, it has to be done right. I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of this bill and what is at stake. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Standing up in opposition with brief comments, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I have the highest respect for those that work in Maui Memorial, Mr. Speaker, from the employees as well as the people who work, like Mr. Lo, who run the hospital. So it's with great issue that I have to stand in opposition to this measure at this time. Please let me briefly explain why I'm opposed to this measure at this time, Mr. Speaker. We went through this route before, several years ago, and I did state at that time, it would be better to have an organization that's locally based, like HPH, to look at this merger at this time.

"However, Mr. Speaker, my concerns are specifically that at this time we are giving up too much for this beautiful asset that we call Maui Memorial, Mr. Speaker. This hospital, which is a single hospital that services that area, is a jewel in the HHSC inventory. So I think, Mr. Speaker, this bill at this time is overly generous, even though it's going to a locally run entity like HPH.

"Mr. Speaker, also at this time I'm in opposition to this measure because the feeling that is written behind this measure is that, or some of the issue points to discuss, is that there are cost savings that will be earned based on the reduction and changes of the labor wages. Mr. Speaker, one of the great things about Maui Memorial is not only the place that it sits, but also the people that work there. So I think it's disingenuous to say that the cost savings to make the hospital run more efficient is at the hands of reducing or renegotiating current public worker contracts. Mr. Speaker, I do want to highlight the fact that if you are an employee there, if there is move to a private entity and all the jobs are at risk, there is no other entity for those employees to move to, unlike areas like Oahu and the Big Island. So with those concerns, Mr. Speaker, I respectfully submit my no vote."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, my reservations are primarily concerned about the lack of details. There's got to be an MOU or an agreement that writes out really the fine print, or even this is really macro print, you can't really tell what's going to be how and it's still vague, so until the details come down, which we always say the devil is in the details, well there's no devil here.

"What I think though is a big driver here, and this is I think, Members, we have to face the music, is that HHSC gets $90 million a year of taxpayers' money just to keep it afloat. That bleeding has got to stop at some time. This seems to be one solution, it may not be the perfect one, but unless we as a Body that's responsible for HHSC to try to do something. I mean, instead of a 25 year lease let's try it for 10 years, or let's see if it works at a lesser way of time.

"But the fact that Maui Memorial I think was going to be in 10 years another multimillion-dollar deficit to the people of Hawaii versus at least holding its own aside from the $20 million per year subsidy for CIP purposes, this seems to be somewhat of an alternative that we should at least pilot, experiment with, or see if we can stop the bleeding of this $100 million a year, which in 10 years is going to be $1 billion, of which this Body and our colleagues in the Senate will have to come up with. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I have reservations."

Representative Takumi rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. And actually, a lot of what the previous speaker from Hawaii Kai said makes perfect sense. I share those thoughts completely. But why I'm going with support right now and not with reservations, I think it's important to send a message back to Maui that there's a lot of hard work, but we're committed to try to work through the very details that the Representative from Hawaii Kai said need to be answered.

"There's a lot of work that needs to be done, Members, but at the end of the day we're trying to avoid a situation which we could lose the only hospital we have, and try to avoid a situation whereby the services that Maui Memorial provides to the rest of HHSC are not lost as well.

"Please let us move this bill forward. Every 'with reservations' to me I'm studying, I'm analyzing conversations. I believe we do need a fresh audit to look at HHSC, Maui Memorial's operations. I do believe we need to address these things, but we need to keep the conversation going forward. But to simply walk away and do nothing leads us into a very precarious situation.

"And for whom the bell tolls, Mr. Speaker. Today it's Maui Memorial, tomorrow it could be the Big Island. Next day it could even be Oahu. So please, colleagues, we really need your help to work this through and we hope to earn your reservations or approval at the very end with a product that will be fair to the employees, and provide the services the community needs and the State needs. Thank you."

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote for me. Thank you. I'm in opposition, but thanks to the Health Committee Chair last year, I and others had the opportunity to participate in committee hearings on each island for these HHSC briefings. They were very informative and helped me understand the many challenges each facility faced. I also saw how dedicated the staff, board members and administration were in providing the best care for their communities.

"The Kauai, Big Island and Oahu regions are doing their best to live within their means, and various innovative partnership possibilities were mentioned. Maui, however, shared how they were struggling to make ends meet, and really need to enter into a partnership. This bill for the Maui transition makes me very worried. Personnel costs through collective bargaining are being blamed for the financial woes as well as an inflexible personnel system. So certainly, a private entity can do what they want with employees to make their bottom line profitable.

"Now, the bigger concern is taxpayers having to foot the bill. A fixed long-term lease for $1 per year. The Maui Regional System Board may transfer all equipment, but who paid for the equipment? Liability for the current outstanding post-employment benefits and accrued leave payouts shall become the responsibility of the State. The State will also fund up to $20 or $30 million a year in addition to 10 years of jointly funding capital improvement projects, with no clarity on costs. Now why wouldn't any entity want a deal like that?

"What kind of authority will the State have in this new proposal? It's obvious we cannot assure employees state benefits and protections. Are we able to keep the Kula Hospital and Clinic and Lanai Community Hospital in state control? What are the State's partnership rights, besides being the deep pocket that the new entity can dip into?

"My vision of a partnership, especially for Maui who has only one hospital, is to provide many valuable services through other entities that would be in our state hospital. Maui already contracts out the emergency room services, so why couldn't this apply to other specialized services? Have we done enough to hold the hospitals accountable for their spending? Wouldn't an audit help to guide us to do what's most beneficial? Have we done enough since the last audit in 2008, where the HHSC disputed nearly all of the audit findings? We cannot give away our safety net. I know this bill needs a lot of work, but at this point, unless I see more employee protections and benefit for the State, I need to vote no. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I stand in support with small reservations, and I echo the Representatives' comments from Kahului and from Lahaina. They of all people should know what is good for their districts, and I support them. Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with many of the same reservations that others have had. This bill as it currently stands, it's really not ideal and it shouldn't go forward in its current form. However, we have to go forward, we can't go back on this, so we have to go forward. Now it might not pass muster at the end, but I think we have to go forward with this. So I therefore rise, again, in support with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. I rise in support with the very same concerns that were expressed earlier by the former Health Chair and the Representative from East Big Island. This bill is far from complete. It is a work in progress. My greatest concern is that the Maui Regional Board, which is the chief negotiator on this proposal, is not a neutral party.

"I think that when a new proposal comes to us, sometime perhaps in the next month or month and a half or maybe even more, we are going to run out of time to examine, negotiate, renegotiate, examine fully the proposal that has come to us largely from the new entity principals, meaning Hawaii Pacific Health and the Maui Regional Board. We will not necessarily have the time to do due process diligence to see what was negotiated, and I am concerned with that factor. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Brower rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, and it's with some reluctance that I vote with reservations. This is an incredibly difficult issue, one that's been around as long as I've been in the Legislature, so for eight or nine years at least. And I think the committee chairs and committees that have dealt with it at this point have done yeoman's work, and it's with reluctance that I vote against what I believe to be the best efforts possible under the circumstances. But I think it's a difficult issue, and it's not surprising that it hasn't been completely resolved and tied up in a neat little knot, but I think it hasn't been at this point. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations also, and I echo the sentiment of the Representative from Chinatown. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations. First of all, I really empathize with the neighbor island colleagues. Coming from a rural community like Wahiawa, North Shore, Oahu, we know the tremendous importance of having your acute care facility, emergency room medical services available to your constituents 24/7. So I can really appreciate what they're experiencing right now, especially when they go back home and they hear from their constituents. These are not easy choices to make. I hope that we can all work together and try and find an interim solution if not a permanent solution to the situation going on with our healthcare systems.

"Again, I represent a rural community in Wahiawa. We face similar challenges, and much of it has to do with no one's fault or neglect at the operational level with the doctors or the clinicians or the nurses or the staff or all the human elements that make a healthcare system work and provide services. But a lot of it has to do with forces outside of ourselves and the federal government on the level of reimbursements, the need to upgrade systems to include medical records, and the whole issue of Affordable Care Act deployment going throughout our nation.

"They all have local consequences and effects, and we have a very unique market here in Hawaii where you have a high degree of Medicaid and Medicare patients, and it's much more acute than I think people on Oahu realize when you get off the plane on the islands of Maui, Kauai, Hawaii Island, Molokai, Lanai, et cetera. So for those reasons, and with that understanding and background, I support my neighbor island colleagues, I support the Speaker of the House and what he's trying to do, and I also pledge my support to whatever the neighbor island guys come out with. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise with reservations. My reservations stem from the fact that we're approving negotiations to happen before there's any plan of transfer of employees, or if there's any plan of reduction of services, which will in turn affect employees which make up 75% of all costs, and actually a large portion of a lot of the Maui Representatives', including myself, constituency. So in the interest of the employees, reservations. Thank you."

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, for Stand Com. Report No. 903, may I have a yes with reservations based on the defective date."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1075, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 10 noes, with Representatives Brower, Choy, Creagan, DeCoite, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Ing, Jordan, Keohokalole, Kobayashi, Lee, LoPresti, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Pouha, Rhoads, San Buenaventura, Say, Takumi, Tokioka, Tsuji, Ward and Woodson voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Aquino, Cullen, Johanson, Kawakami, Lowen, McDermott, Morikawa, Ohno, Onishi and Yamane voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 904) recommending that H.B. No. 1112, HD 2 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1112, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing with reservations on HB 1112, HD 2.

"Mr. Speaker, I strongly support Section 2 of this measure, which will require a fiscal and management audit of Hawaii Health Systems Corporation (HHSC) every five years. For an operation of this size and scope, it's surprising that the State neglected to statutorily require an audit from the beginning of our endeavors with HHSC. An audit will allow us to pinpoint where the system is lacking, focus our efforts at addressing those concerns, and continue to monitor the system to see what is working and what does not.

"I also would be willing to support the recentralization of the HHSC system, if it means a more efficient and effective health system. That being said, aspects of this measure are too prescriptive to be implemented this prematurely in the process.

"For one, I have reservations about centralization because it was done away with in the past. There was a reason that the Regional Board was put in place, and that is because our islands are not all the same. What works for Oahu will not necessarily work in Maui County. So if we must recentralize, I would like to see the regional boards still be able to have either certain authorities for their facilities or more weight when it comes to regional decisions.

"We shouldn't be trying to restrict HHSC any more than we need to at this current time. We may find that a mix of solutions, which incorporate aspects of privatization and recentralization, will work best. The option for each regional facility to pursue public-private partnerships should still be available until we can confidently say it will not improve HHSC's situation.

"We must be aware that any changes in the current system may cause further complications and hardships for HHSC and the people of this state. This is not to say that changes don't need to be made, but rather to be mindful that our decisions should aim to fix the current system and also cause minimal disruption when possible.

"Additionally, Community Health Centers need to be brought to the table in these discussions. In some cases, Community Health Centers provide services to a large portion of the community. By leaving them out of the loop, further inefficiencies will develop and cause disruption of care services for individuals and more complications for health professionals. Collaboration will ensure that citizens receive an appropriate level of care and keep all parties actively involved in the process.

"Above all else, I would like the see an audit done before moving forward with revamping our current system. Only after an audit can the State prescribe the appropriate course of action to address the problems surrounding our State Hospitals.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of the implications of HB 1112 as we move towards conference. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Onishi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to register a no vote on this measure also. Mr. Speaker, in 2013 we passed a bill to reorganize the HHSC corporate board. One of the issues that was brought up was the fact that the CEOs from the five regional districts sat on the corporate board and in essence seemed to control the board's inability to actually act on the State's behalf. So we changed the law to allow for the Governor to appoint replacements for the CEOs and made the CEOs ex officio to the corporate board.

"Since that bill passed, the previous administration didn't implement the appointment of the replacement board members, and the corporate board has been floundering. I find this bill to be problematic only because we haven't given the new administration an opportunity to appoint appropriate people to the corporate board and see what the corporate board can do in trying to right the HHSC ship.

"Also, the last audit of Hawaii Health Systems Corporation was done in February of 1999. I think that is way overdue. The last financial audit of HHSC was done in April 2008. I think what is more appropriate is that this Body request that a full management and financial audit be done before we tinker around again with the administration, the corporate board and regional boards. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Morikawa rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1112, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives DeCoite, Har, Jordan, Keohokalole, Morikawa, Pouha, San Buenaventura and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Aquino, Cullen, Kawakami, McDermott, Onishi, Tupola, Ward and Yamane voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 905) recommending that H.B. No. 1072, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1072, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative DeCoite rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with grave reservations and I would like to submit written comments and give you some brief comments.

"So this is a very personal, important issue for me. And so I've talked it over with people. I've talked with a lot of people over the past few days and it's given me new appreciation of the knowledge and wisdom that we have here in our Legislature. I was trying to figure out how to vote on this bill, and I look forward to talking to all of you, or the ones I haven't talked to, in the next few weeks.

"So I talked with the Speaker and he said, it's okay to vote no, as he has always voted no before on this same type of issue. I talked with the Representative from Hawaii Kai and my Peace Corp friend and he told me, vote your conscience. I talked with the Representatives from Districts 37, 14 and 15 on Kauai and they said, come vote no with us. Then I sat down with the Representative from Wahiawa, and he said that he could understand how I would want to vote my conscience to vote no but I had vote with reservations as the bill has a defective date, and if it comes down to that I could possibly shape the bill in conference.

"So I am very grateful to all those I mentioned, and it's in their knowledge and all that stuff that I don't understand yet, and others who talked to me and shaped my position. So I'm asking them to please understand why I have to at this point vote with reservations, but hope that they are willing to vote my conscience for me and vote no. Okay.

"So, now I'm going to talk a little bit about psychology. And for those of you who don't know, I have degrees in medicine, biology, graduate education in biology, biomedical engineering, and I have one and a half degrees in psychology. So I have found out one thing, that words can change your brain. Words change our brain. That's what education is, words changing our brain. And psychotherapy is a type of education. We have evolved to use language as a tool, and our brains have evolved to be changed by those tools, by language, and that's what psychotherapy is.

"Now, most of you probably aren't aware, because I wasn't aware until I took courses in psychology, that psychologists had to fight for the power of using words to heal. Psychotherapy was illegal for psychologists until the 1950s. Prior to World War II, there were really no clinical psychologists. This specialty evolved after World War II. Prior to that, they gave IQ tests and tests for the military, did experimental psychology with rats and mazes and things like that, but they didn't treat patients. But the need after World War II was so explosive that they developed many clinical psychology programs, and soon eventually there were over 100,000 clinical psychologists, PhD clinical psychologists.

"One of the reasons there was a need was psychiatrists were doing psychoanalysis, which is a very elitist type of therapy, and so they weren't really available. Medications weren't available at that time. So the PhD programs for clinical psychology were very rigorous, programs that required a lot of coursework and a thesis and often took five to seven years to complete. Entrance requirements were very stiff and competitive, but never included any biology, chemistry, anatomy or physiology.

"Now, while behavioral therapy, as espoused by B. F. Skinner, was popular for a while, its emphasis on physical behavior should have included thoughts as targets of behavioral modification, and thus cognitive behavioral therapy treatment became and is still the mainstream of therapy. And that's the skillful use of words to me is akin to microsurgery on the brain. Metaphors, reflections, are like micro scalpels training and pruning the branches of the brain's neurons, and weakening and strengthening neural pathways. This is not how psychologists thought of it, as they thought they were treating the mind. They didn't acknowledge they were treating the brain. However, that's what they're doing.

"So the mind is a construct that no one really understood, but it was perhaps a useful metaphor for the brain. There was a strong element of mind-body dualism, that the mind exists as something distinguishable from the body. It was somewhat conflated with the concept of a soul, which often gets conflated with what we think of as the mind. So you can perhaps think of the mind as sort of a secular soul.

"Now, this is of course why we speak of mental health rather than brain health, even though it's not clear."

Representative Creagan continued, stating:

"Thank you. I'm sorry about this, but anyway. So, it's not clear that schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, otherwise known as manic depression, are a group of respective brain disorders with a strong genetic component but with equally strong environmental components.

"Sadly, it is very difficult and impossible to treat these severe brain disorders with just words and social supports, but these are very important parts of treatment. But the medications required are complicated, they're dangerous, they cause movement disorders, obesity, diabetes, heart diseases, and death. These medications, known as antipsychotics, are difficult to prescribe and monitor, and someone who doesn't have knowledge of the brain and the body should not be prescribing these. These medications can appropriately be provided through telepsychiatry, however, and that needs to be expanded.
