"So, I have more things to say, but in the interest of time I'm going to submit these as written comments. What I just ask you to do is this. Think about this bill as it is, and think about the bill in Illinois. The bill in Illinois is fairly rigorous and allows people, right now psychologists could get prescriptive privileges becoming a nurse or a physician's assistant, and the Illinois program basically provides similar components. So that bill has a sunset in 2017, and what I'm proposing is that we wait and observe what that program does and see the result of that before we rush into this. In the meantime, I'm proposing two resolutions, one to ask for an audit of our Mental Health Task Force, and another to have a task force of all mental health providers to discuss how we could best go forward. Thank you."

Representative Creagan's written remarks are as follows:

"While I had written up some comments on prescription privileges for psychologists which were an amplification of my spoken remarks, I found a recent excellent article written by two psychologists very familiar with the issues which, while longer than my remarks, provided an excellent history of the issue and a better explanation from the psychologist point of view why prescriptive privileges for psychologists were not warranted and would result in poorer patient outcomes. I am appending that article to these remarks.

"I will note here that not noted in that article is a potential problem in regards to the emergence of schools granting doctoral degrees in psychology with largely an online curriculum. Many if not most of these schools grant a Psy.D. degree. There was a perception on the part of other articles written by psychologists that those practitioners with a Psy.D. degree appeared more likely to support the psychology prescription movement. If the likelihood that those psychologists seeking prescriptive privileges are those that have less stringent basic training in psychology, this could make the overall situation even more problematic and potentially more dangerous for patients.

"I do think that issues raised in the discussions of this bill on the availability of mental health care are important to address, and I have therefor drafted resolutions requesting an auditor's report and a second requesting a task force lead by the Chair of the Psychiatry Department at UH Manoa to evaluate the mental health task force in Hawaii."

Representative Creagan also submitted the following article:

The Long-Running Failure of the American Psychological Association's Campaign for Prescription Privileges: When Is Enough Enough?

Timothy R. Tumlin, Independent Practice, Darien, IL

Robert K. Klepac, University of Texas Health Science Center–San Antonio

For nearly two decades the American Psychological Association (APA) has conducted an expensive campaign to expand psychologists' scope of practice to include prescribing medications, a change that would alter the profession in ways that are arguably detrimental. This marathon effort continues despite an almost perfect record of costly failures over decades, and despite a lack of scientific support, a long trail of controversies, and failure to gain consensus within the profession.

Many psychologists and their colleagues have had little chance to fully examine the record of the prescription privileges (RxP) campaign and the details of its proposals, even though they could alter both the profession and the mental health treatment system itself. This review is intended to provide all stakeholders with an understanding of this divisive issue, and possibly prepare them to play a role in its course.

This article begins by examining the details of the education and training proposed in legislation to prepare psychologists to prescribe, and their practice conditions afterward. It also asks whether psychology needs to and should incorporate the practice of medicine at all, particularly in light of the risks and controversies and the existence of more reasonable alternatives. The legislative record of RxP, its origins and its political course within the APA are discussed, and several areas of controversy concerning RxP are illustrated. Case examples involving RxP activities in two states are provided.

Development of Training Models

A historical review of training standards for prescribing psychologists, followed by the current model proposed by the RxP political campaign and offered by commercial education programs, illustrates how these standards have been weakened to levels well below what is regarded as sufficient by the medical professions. The earliest exploration of training standards for RxP began in 1991 when the first of 10 psychologists entered a military pilot program known as the Psychopharmacology Demonstration Project (PDP). There was no evidence that additional prescribers were needed within the Department of Defense (DoD) but the project was ordered by Congress nonetheless. Instrumental in that decision was the influential U.S. Sen. Daniel Inouye of Hawaii, who employed on his staff Patrick DeLeon, Ph.D., who was, and remains, the leader of the RxP movement. Initially PDP participants underwent 2 years of classes at the Uniformed University of Health Sciences, but the program was later reduced to 1 year of didactics and 2,000 hours of practicum. The context in which the DoD prescribers practiced was unique. Only active-duty military personnel 18 to 65 years old who were already screened medically and found to be healthy were treated. They practiced only within medical settings, in which all care was provided without charge, in close collaboration with physicians and supervisors. An assessment of the program by the American College of Neuropsychopharmacology (ACNP; 2000) found the graduates to be competent when collaborating with a medical team but were considered weaker medically than psychiatrists.

Proponents of RxP nowadays routinely cite the PDP as evidence that their legislative proposals are scientifically supported, when in fact they are hardly comparable in the quality and quantity of training. It is noteworthy that, while they are regarded as trailblazers for psychologist prescribing, as a group these persons said they would not approve of diluted RxP training proposals such as those that have since been offered legislatively. The assessment of the PDP project stated: "Virtually all graduates of the PDP considered the 'short-cut' programs proposed in various quarters to be ill-advised" (ACNP, 2000). The DoD closed the demonstration project following an additional program evaluation, concluding that there was no need for the prescribing psychologists, and that expanding such training was cost-ineffective. The program cost $6 million to train the 10 psychologists (General Accounting Office, 1997).

In 1992 an APA Ad Hoc Task Force on Psychopharmacology issued recommendations that defined three levels of psychopharmacology training for psychologists (Smyer et al. 1993). Level 1 consisted of two graduate-level courses that provided basic knowledge in biopsychology and psychopharmacology. Level 2, labeled Training for Collaborative Practice, would prepare the psychologist for consultation-liaison relations with medical practitioners (summarized in Robiner et al., 2002). The Task Force's Level 3 training was designed for independent prescribing practice and called for undergraduate preparatory coursework in biological sciences as well as more extensive graduate training and a specialized internship in psychopharmacology. In all, Level 3 training would require about 4 years to complete, compared to the 6 years advanced-practice nurses are trained. Therefore, the doctoral program in clinical psychology that included this training would require about 10 years in all, similar to the amount completed by psychiatric physicians after the bachelor's degree

The APA ignored the Task Force's recommendations on collaborative practice training reflected in Levels 1 and 2, and focused instead on Level 3 for independent prescribing, but without adopting the prerequisites and graduate training recommendations for that level. In 2009 APA issued revised training standards which are substantially less rigorous than those of the PDP, calling for 400 hours of instruction. The APA also created the Psychopharmacology Examination for Psychologists (PEP) to be taken following the program. Advocates for RxP often extol the PEP as a "national examination," which suggests quality assurance standards set by a broadly based authority. However, they do not mention that the test comes exclusively from the same organization promoting lower training standards, and paying for RxP lobbyists to press for state legislators' acceptance of proposals authorizing psychologists to prescribe.

Current RxP Legislative Proposals

Concerns have arisen about the now-weakened proposals that would allow psychologists to prescribe. These range from questions about the lack of prerequisite education to the conditions of professional practice. Psychologists are different from other health care professionals in that their graduate training does not require them to undergo coursework in basic biomedical sciences. And also unlike other health professions, psychologists admitted to RxP training programs are not required to complete any prerequisite coursework in medically relevant biological sciences before enrolling, or demonstrate prior competence in any of those domains through testing. Such coursework is necessary to understand the fundamental processes inherent in health and illness, and how the human body responds to medications (Heiby, 2010). As noted in the accompanying table, other health care professionals are required to obtain hundreds of instructional hours in prerequisite biological science education, oftentimes more instruction than what is required for the entire RxP training.

A training model for prescribers requiring as little as 400 hours – 26.6 semester credits – of instruction is a source of considerable concern. Master's degrees in the three psychopharmacology programs deemed appropriate by APA offer approximately 450 hours of instruction. This is approximately 20% of the training required of physicians, 33% of what is completed by advanced-practice nurses, and 50% of what was completed by the PDP psychologists. These RxP degrees cover some of the basics of chemistry and biology, substantially reducing how much is actually spent on learning advanced topics about medical practice.

Concerns about the depth of this curriculum may be illustrated by the attention such programs pay to prescribing for children and adolescents. Psychiatrists undergo a special 2-year fellowship in learning how to prescribe for this population, capped by specialized board certification. In contrast, the RxP course offered by the California School of Professional Psychology addresses this area and several others in one single course of 36 online clock hours of instruction. The school's online course description (http://catalog.alliant.edu/preview_program.php?catoid=24&poid=2711&returnto=887) states that it covers "child/adolescent psychopharmacology, geriatric psychopharmacology (dementia, polypharmacy, and interactions between pharmacotherapy and age associated illnesses); developmental disorders; treatment of chronic pain disorders; psychopharmacological issues for individuals with chronic medical illness, victims of trauma, and patients with personality disorders."

Other concerns about the quality of the education relate to its format. The education component is primarily acquired online, a condition that RxP advocates fail to mention in any of their pronouncements. For example, one program requires students to watch recorded lectures and then discuss the material through online chats. The proposed context of training and practice for prescribing psychologists raises further questions. Many psychologists have been trained in settings outside of the medical health care system, such as schools, counseling centers, and social service agencies, and they also have practiced professionally apart from any medical contexts. In contrast, the training of other prescribing professionals typically includes long apprenticeships in hospitals and other similar settings, learning not only through didactic instruction but through extensive exposure to a wide variety of experiences and clinical sites. Therefore, it would seem reasonable to require aspiring psychologist-prescribers to practice what they have learned entrenched within the medical system to compensate for this. However, the opposite is true. Proposed legislation would allow psychologists trained online from a psychology school to undergo their practicum training under the guidance of another psychologist in a private, nonmedical office setting. Finally, current proposals would have prescribing psychologists practice under the regulation and licensing of the state psychology board, whose members typically have no medical training.

Therefore, the result of such proposals could be a class of psychologists who can prescribe all the psychoactive medications that a board-certified psychiatrist does in a private setting. Yet, the process which qualified them would consist of a biomedical education obtained online from a distant psychology school, meeting weakened training standards developed entirely by psychologists and certified through a test developed and administered by a psychology organization. These persons' practicum experience would be supervised by a fellow psychologist, and their regulation and licensing would take place under a board of psychologists. Such a new medical—and psychological—profession would thus have been created entirely by psychologists, separate from the medical professions, and without the support or approval of any medical authority on training and safe practice.

Issues over the quality of the proposed training of prescribing psychologists were underscored by comments posted on the ABCT listserv by a prescribing psychologist from Louisiana, Sean Ransom, Ph.D. (personal communication, April 25, 2014). He wrote that he felt his training was "woefully inadequate. . . . Were it not for my outstanding physician colleagues (including some extraordinarily charitable psychiatrists who reached out), my RxP certificate would have been a menace." While expressing the belief that RxP training could be valid and valuable, he conceded "RxP advocates are encouraging a faulty training model and are unnecessarily giving the advantage to RxP opponents who can truthfully claim that the basic training is not sufficient for best patient care."

Finally, an ethical and scientific concern about the RxP proposals, which arches over all others, is complete absence of empirical evidence to support them. The practices of such prescribers in New Mexico since 2002, and Louisiana since 2004, provide rich opportunities for study of whether these persons are prescribing safely and effectively for their patients and enhance access to care in their areas. However, in those collective 22 years, no such evidence has been produced. This is especially noteworthy since proponents have ample resources to produce such evidence and it would strongly bolster their legislative case, something desperately needed since RxP is a political failure. Brushing aside science, advocates claim that this model is safe because no psychologist has been sued for malpractice for prescribing. However, they fail to say that in New Mexico, and in Louisiana until 2010, consulting physicians have signed off on prescriptions written by those psychologists, thus providing a medical backstop to ensure safety.

The ascientific nature of RxP politics is consistent with its origins. This campaign came to prominence while APA's changing leadership tilted heavily toward a practice orientation, a shift that resulted in many scientifically focused psychologists leaving the organization to establish the Association for Psychological Science. The RxP campaign's roots took hold within organizations with a practice orientation, such as APA's division for psychologists in independent practice, rather than those which made science the primary determinant of professional activity, such as the Society for a Scientific Clinical Psychology, whose members oppose RxP. It is also noteworthy that commercial schools that have opted to develop such master's programs in prescribing are generally not those most deeply steeped in scientific training. Rather, they have been developed in programs espousing "practitioner scholar" models of training, and deemphasizing the scientific underpinnings of psychological practice, let alone the practice of medicine. In light of the noted reasons to be concerned that the practice of prescribing psychologists would be based on training that is lacking in so many respects, we wonder if it also becomes an important ethical question to allow them to continue without empirical support. Thus, the question is also raised as to whether APA and other proponents should continue to pursue RxP, given the risks inherent in prescribing psychoactive drugs.

Should Psychologists Prescribe Drugs?

The foregoing discussion assumes that training to prescribe medications is a goal towards which psychology as a profession should work. Many psychologists, however, express concerns about whether the profession should include prescribing drugs in its scope of practice at all. These concerns include whether expanding into medical practice is in the best interests of their profession and of the people they serve clinically, particularly since alternatives preferable to RxP in every respect do not get the attention and resources afforded this campaign. In addition, many psychologists raise questions as to whether RxP would lead to less emphasis on psychological practices, damage the mental health system by worsening the shortage of psychiatrists, harm the profession by exposing it to the financial influences of the pharmaceutical industry, and prolong the deep divisions within psychology already caused by RxP.

Proponents of RxP argue that weakening training standards for prescribing medication is necessary to address unmet needs for psychoactive medications. Setting aside questions of how much of that perceived need is real and how effective such medications are, there are several alternatives to RxP which address this in a manner that is far safer, more effective, immediately implementable, and noncontroversial. Among the most compelling alternatives is psychologists' collaboration with medical professionals (Robiner, Tumlin, & Tompkins, 2013). Combining the extensive training of 92,227 clinically trained American psychologists (Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration [SAMHSA], 2012) and 461,182 medically trained prescribers (U.S. Dept. of Labor statistics) would appear to safely and effectively provide excellent care, particularly if the psychologists obtained some basic psychopharmacologic training to enhance communication with their medical colleagues. This was the conclusion of the Canadian Psychological Association's Task Force on Prescriptive Authority for Psychologists in Canada (2010), which after 3 years of study noted that consultation-liaison is "the optimal standard for contemporary psychological practices." Meanwhile, the task force recommended not pursuing RxP legislatively. Collaboration is also encouraged by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act and it is regarded by the World Health Organization (2010) as a promising solution in regards to health care access.

Another viable alternative to RxP is for psychologists to obtain cross-training as advanced-practice nurses or physician's assistants. With such a credential, prescribing would not be limited to psychoactive medications. Advanced-practice nurses already prescribe independently in 17 states, while in others medical supervision is often minimal. Thus, cross-training programs would increase the number of states with independently prescribing psychologists more than eightfold, and give them greater latitude in treating patients more safely. A third way to enhance access to mental health care and medication is through telecommunications. The APA has adopted guidelines for the practice of telepsychology (July, 2013). The Federal Bureau of Prisons uses telepsychiatry to reach far-flung facilities and the Department of Veterans Affairs also does so to treat patients who cannot easily travel to a VA hospital. Telepsychiatry has demonstrated "significant potential to increase access to mental health treatment for several populations who, in the past, may have lacked appropriate care" (Deslich, Stec, Tomblin, & Coustasse, 2013).

Many psychologists voice concerns that incorporating the practice of medicine into the profession will open a Pandora's Box of influence by the pharmaceutical industry. The flood of money from drug makers could not only encourage practitioners to replace psychotherapy with medications, but also influence the direction of psychological research and offer inducements to compromise integrity, as has often been found in the field of medicine. Proponents argue that psychology will be more immune to undue influence than medicine. However, as noted herein, the RxP campaign itself shows signs of ignoring scientific and professional standards in the pursuit of these privileges. Also, in one state where RxP is law, secrecy, deceit, and a singular focus on obtaining additional political power by a prescribing psychology group appears to be commonplace. Thus, the argument that psychology will not be tempted to surrender its values to the political and financial potential of RxP appears to already have been voided.

The Illinois bill was criticized by proponents because it repudiates all the training and practice standards heretofore advocated. Facing certain defeat, RxP leaders including Dr. Rom-Rymer amended their bill to call for training at the level of a physician assistant (PA). This rejected the controversial online psychopharmacology degrees and other staples of the RxP proposals. Desperate for success at any cost, RxP representatives agreed to every demand of negotiators representing psychiatrists and other medical organizations. Those required undergraduate education in basic sciences, pharmacology training three times longer than formerly proposed, and a five-fold increase in practicum to a full-time apprenticeship of 14 months through multiple clinical rotations. They also agreed that psychologists could only prescribe for patients who are not pregnant, between 17 and 65 years old, without major medical illnesses, and without developmental and intellectual disabilities. The bill also forbids them from prescribing any benzodiazepines or Schedule II medications, and many others in Schedules III-V. It also requires collaborative agreements with physicians whose practices involve prescribing psychoactive medications.

The Illinois bill may become recognized as the new standard for proposed laws in other states, which may deter if not prevent other campaign efforts. While the proposed training is approximately that of a PA, the psychologists' scope of practice would be far more limited than what PAs enjoy. That is likely to dissuade many from seeking the RxP training if full PA practice opportunities require about the same preparation. Additionally, since only 6% to 8% of psychologists in two states with far lower standards have sought prescribing privileges, it is also unlikely that many in Illinois will undergo the greater training and stricter practice parameters anyway.

Advocates of RxP have also tried to obtain prescriptive authority quietly through government administrative routes rather than open hearings. As noted above, the congressional order for the military demonstration project of the 1990s was made possible by the powerful Sen. Daniel Inouye, the employer of RxP's widely regarded leader, Patrick DeLeon, Ph.D. The appearance of a small number of prescribers in the military coincides with the Democrats' return to a Senate majority in 2001, and Sen. Inouye's regaining the chairmanship of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee and its Defense Subcommittee.

The number of prescribers in the military is difficult to ascertain, and even APA does not know because there is no way to track it (D. Baker, personal communication, June 8, 2011). However, the vice chair of the U.S. Army reported that there were three prescribing psychologists in his branch of the service, which has approximately 540,000 active-duty personnel (Gen. P. Chiarelli, personal communication, March 17, 2017). The Surgeon General of the US Air Force said there were three present among that branch's 333,000 members (Lt. Gen. C.B. Green, personal communication, March 28, 2011). Some are reportedly prescribing on Indian reservations, using licenses issued in New Mexico or Louisiana, although the Indian Health Service refused to disclose the number. Therefore, the best available estimate is that there are 120 psychologists licensed to prescribe in the United States under this training model. This represents about 0.1% of the clinically trained psychologists nationally.

The principle rationale RxP advocates cite for obtaining prescribing rights is to increase access to medication for the underserved. However, setting aside the issues of scientific validity and safety, it is difficult to see RxP as successful if 120 persons, presumably prescribing part-time while also working as psychologists, would have a meaningful impact. Louisiana and New Mexico together have a total of 8,000 medical professionals who can prescribe those medications as well (Department of Labor Statistics). Thus, it is difficult to assume that the campaign has been successful in achieving this goal despite almost two decades of effort.

The cost of getting this privilege for those 120 psychologists has been high in several ways. The APA has spent $3 million on RxP lobbying efforts through grants to state associations, or 75% of the grant money sent to state associations since 1988, according to Katherine Nordal, Ph.D., Executive Director of APA's Practice Directorate (Dec. 17, 2013, personal communication). That alone equals $25,000 for each known prescriber. This does not include other APA expenses such as when the organization sent a delegation to Ontario to encourage psychologists there to seek an RxP law, or the personnel costs associated with APA's maintaining an office of a Director of Prescriptive Authority. Funds have also been raised locally, including about a half million dollars in Louisiana. A secret RxP fund in Illinois is estimated to have received between $500,000 and $1 million so far. State associations also use the services of their own lobbyists when attempting to pass an RxP bill in their legislatures. Less calculable is the loss to programs and initiatives that did not receive some of the ample resources given to RxP or were pushed aside because alternatives were political competitors. Also difficult to calculate is the harm done to psychological practice by the world's largest psychology organization as it campaigns to increase access to medications as a solution to what its lobbyists call a crisis in the mental health care system.

The liability for the RxP campaign and other political activities grew substantially for APA when it was discovered in 2010 that a 10-year-old advocacy assessment for licensed psychologists was being collected under controversial—many said misleading—circumstances. The controversy began in 2000 during the presidency of RxP leader DeLeon when the APA Practice Organization (APAPO) was created as an instrument for collecting and spending more money on political activities. Because APAPO was a separate organization, APA could not legally force members to donate money to the new organization. However, the vast majority of APA members believed that paying the assessment was required for membership and evidence from past APA websites and dues statements supported claims that the members were misled. Raising $5 million annually this way, APAPO helped fund the RxP campaign and still does. However, a furor erupted when members learned in May of 2010 that the assessment is voluntary. The following year APA's membership dropped by nearly 7,000 (http://www.apa.org/about/apa/archives/membership.aspx). Two class-action lawsuits alleging fraud have been filed against APA.

There is also no evidence that RxP has accomplished its goal of enhancing access to medication for the underserved, especially those in rural areas, a point made frequently and strongly in attempts to persuade legislators to legalize RxP. As already noted, there is no empirical evidence as to the safety and efficacy of RxP. Data on the location of prescribing psychologists clearly indicates that those persons tend to practice in nonrural areas, as most professionals do. A review by members of POPPP found that 85.6% of the Louisiana prescribers and 66% of those in New Mexico were practicing in nonrural areas. The opportunity to help the rural underserved is also less likely. An Illinois survey by Baird (2007) found "the fact that almost no psychologists prac-

In addition to commonly expressed concerns that prescribing psychologists, like many psychiatrists, will drift towards prescribing medications rather than treat patients with psychotherapy, there is also reason to believe that the burden of keeping abreast of developments in a separate profession such as medicine will undermine the ability to maintain proficiency in psychology. Such was the case for psychologist-psychiatrist Steven Kingsbury, Ph.D., M.D., who wrote: "Put most simply, reading on such topics as psychopharmacology, medical mimics of psychopathology, and laboratory testing must lead to less time available to study advances in areas of psychology I once followed. I personally believe that this redistribution is the most important point for psychologists to consider before rushing toward prescription privileges" (1992).

It is also projected that a successful RxP campaign could exacerbate the shortage of psychiatrists and harm the mental health care system. A law journal article on health care economics (Berland, 2013) argues that legislatures should oppose RxP because it will "diminish quality and reduce access to care, narrowing the scope of care available to mental health patients." Based on historic changes in other professionals' scope of practice, the author predicts that lesser-trained prescribing psychologists offering to work for less will replace psychiatrists and then limit patients' choices. Persons with half the medical training of nurse practitioners would become the predominant mental health prescribers of psychoactive medications and economically undermined psychiatrists would become far scarcer. Proponents of RxP in Illinois appear to be aiming for that projection. They have predicted that more than 1,000 of the state's psychologists would obtain prescribing privileges, based on reports that four prolific local private psychology schools are gearing up to create training programs if needed.

Finally, the RxP campaign has been deeply divisive within psychology and there is evidence that these internal divisions would not end even if this prescribing model becomes law. The RxP issue has long been the subject of debate and controversy within the profession. Opposing groups have included the Society for a Science of Clinical Psychology (2001); American Association of Applied and Preventive Psychology (1998); Committee Against Medicalizing Psychology (Pollitt, 2003); and, most recently, Psychologists Opposed to Prescription Privileges for Psychologists (POPPP; see www.poppp.org.) Psychologists have also opposed RxP's legislative initiatives independently. In Arizona psychologists unrelated to any of those organizations banded together to write legislators opposing a bill filed there. In Illinois 277 psychologists, joined by 50 students and other mental health professionals, independently signed a petition opposing legislation in that state. Other professions seeking prescribing authority have not experienced such dissension.

Surveys of psychologists' opinions of RxP have produced widely varying results, depending on the sample and how questionnaire items are worded. Percentages of respondents supporting RxP range from 17% of training directors to 94% of persons attending a seminar on RxP held at a conference hosted by a state association promoting RxP. A meta-analysis of surveys that did not specify training standards found that 52% of psychologists favored RxP in theory. Most often the surveys included in this meta-analysis ask only global questions, such as, "Do you support prescription privileges for psychologists?" without specifying the training that would be provided to those seeking such privileges. One exception is a survey by Baird (2007), which found that 78.6% of psychologists believe that prescribing psychologists should meet the same training standards as other nonphysician prescribers. The APA training model used in currently proposed legislation is far from meeting that standard. Regardless of whether training standards are specified, only a small number of psychologists in these surveys, about 5% to 10%, have said they themselves would pursue RxP. Those numbers are similar to the proportions actually prescribing in New Mexico and Louisiana.

Even if RxP is successful and becomes law, there is evidence that the deep division it creates within psychology will not be healed, and may become more pronounced. The RxP campaign in Louisiana created what was called a civil war within the profession, illustrated below. However, even though RxP advocates there apparently attained all the success they have sought legislatively, they continue to operate as a separate political entity, gathering large sums of money for political expenditures, and endeavoring to take control of the state's psychology board to further their own agenda apart from the interests of other psychologists.

The RxP Campaign Record

The RxP campaign has been almost entirely a failure and it has been a costly one. After 19 years of lobbying efforts, 175 legislative bills have failed in 26 states and one territory. Until recently, the campaign had only three legislative successes, with the last occurring in 2004. The Territory of Guam approved RxP in 1998 but none of the 14 psychologists there has ever prescribed, a fact that proponents don't disclose when claiming it as a success. Then in 2002 New Mexico approved an RxP bill but proponents later failed to ease the tight restrictions the bill imposes on prescribing psychologists. It requires a physician to sign off on each new and changed prescription, and sets a strictly limited formulary. Thirty-three psychologists are licensed to prescribe under those rules, and 16 more do so under even stricter conditional permits. Louisiana approved an RxP bill in 2004, which imposed the same tight restrictions as in New Mexico. The proponents there spent approximately $1 million to pass the bill, about half of it provided by the APA Practice Organization (APAPO). Approximately 71 psychologists currently prescribe there, an undetermined number of them independently. Therefore, legislatively the RxP campaign's legislative success rate is about 2.2%, counting Guam.

In May, the campaign achieved success in a third state, Illinois, a Pyrrhic victory that left advocates disconsolate and may signal the demise of the RxP movement altogether. Advocates' dismay over the new law was made public in an email from the president-elect of APA's division for RxP to Illinois activist Marlin Hoover, Ph.D. Published on the Illinois association's listserv, the email shows that RxP sympathizers were highly critical of the bill and also questioned the wisdom of the Illinois RxP leader, Beth Rom-Rymer, Ph.D. The email, written by Michael Tilus, Psy.D., stated, "I've fielded 11 calls today, all from practitioners, who are essentially seeing the IL RxP bill as a 'total loss' to the national RxP objectives; indentured servanthood (sic); and ultimately a 'political decision', for 'Beth', but a lhuge oss (sic) for practice and a massive step backwards. Not sure if you are willing, but it may be useful to have your points thrown out in the Div 55 list serve as counter punches..." (personal communication, May 30, 2014). The RxP national leader also told Dr. Hoover, "I personally feel extremely disillusioned with what I perceive was given up for what we got...."

Influences Driving the RxP Campaign

It is puzzling to many that advocates for RxP continue to pursue prescribing authority in light of the campaign's many failures, lack of scientific support of their model, internal opposition, and superior alternatives for meeting the ostensible goal of increasing access to psychoactive medications. Opponents to RxP argue that this tenacity is driven by potential financial and political benefits of RxP. Prescribing psychoactive medications can be lucrative both for individual practitioners and for organizations. In 2006, data from Vermont and Minnesota showed that psychiatrists received more financial benefits from drug companies than practitioners of any other medical specialty (Carey & Harris, 2009). A year later ProPublica reported (2010) that of 384 physicians in America who had received more than $100,000 in payments from drug companies, 91of them were psychiatrists. The New York Times has reported (Harris, 2007) that about 30% of the American Psychiatric Association's finances came from drug companies, through journal advertisements, exhibits, and fellowships, among other methods. However, psychologists and organizations expecting a windfall in the future may be somewhat disappointed. ProPublica reported in March that payments to physicians for speaking fees to promote their products among other beneficial arrangements have dropped 40% to 62%, thanks to a new law requiring public disclosure of payments.

Some RxP proponents have maintained that the campaign's goals are altruistic. For example, Illinois RxP leader Rom-Rymer wrote in the Chicago Tribune (May 18, 2013) that "our sole motive" is "to provide help to patients who too often now aren't receiving it." Nevertheless, other campaign leaders have acknowledged the apparent financial benefits of prescribing for psychologists. Writing in the newsletter of the New Jersey Psychological Association (2011), Robert McGrath, Ph.D., said that RxP will provide the market share expansion that will save psychology, which he suggests would otherwise face a steep decline. "My goal is to make the case that unless psychologists aggressively pursue prescriptive authority (RxP), our profession is in danger of becoming increasingly irrelevant," he wrote.

Another set of interests that may serve to maintain the campaign despite so little reinforcement may be those of the small group of individuals leading it. For example, three persons who are highly active in promoting the proliferation of RxP through legislative means have connections to private schools that offer the master's degree in psychopharmacology necessary for prescribing privileges. One such proponent for RxP serves as the dean of the California School of Professional Psychology (CSPP), one of the first schools to offer the psychopharmacology degree required for RxP. Another proponent is the organizer and president of the Southwest Institute for the Advancement Psychotherapy, which also offers RxP training. The third is the director of a similar RxP training program at New Jersey's Fairleigh Dickinson University. Those three individuals regularly travel to states where legislation is proposed or considered, speaking and testifying in support of such legislation. The agenda of a meeting in 2009 in which APA and RxP leaders spoke with Ontario (Canada) Psychological Association representatives about extending RxP there noted that all three of these proponents were present for the discussions.

Issues of the RxP Campaign in Two States

The conduct of the RxP campaign in two states—Louisiana where RxP has been the law for 10 years, and Illinois where the issue is hotly contested—illustrates the concerns held by many opponents. Among those concerns is a lack of transparency or inclusion in the process of pursuing prescriptive authority. Some actions seem to be governed by bare-knuckled political rules, rather than the standards psychologists tend to observe when deliberating important professional issues among colleagues. While much of the RxP campaign is played out on a political stage, we would assume that professional standards of conduct would prevail because the outcome affects the profession and the patients we are obligated to serve ethically. Additionally, the APA Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code of Conduct counts "policy development" among the professional activities that fall under the code's principles, one of which begins: "Psychologists seek to promote accuracy, honesty and truthfulness" (APA, 2014).

Louisiana

Prescribers created intense conflict within the profession in Louisiana in 2009 when they deceived the rest of the psychology community while replacing the 2004 RxP law there, a change that gave them more latitude in writing prescriptions. The deception included months of secret negotiations with the state medical board, which agreed to accept the prescribers under its licensing and regulation authority for both prescribing and practicing clinical psychology. About half the 70 prescribing psychologists, known as Medical Psychologists or MPs, have since given up their licenses under the state's psychology board and are exclusively regulated by the medical board. This arrangement is unique in the United States and the practice has been characterized as "playing with fire" by Stephen DeMers, Ed.D., Executive Director of the Association for State and Provincial Psychology Boards (ASPPB; Psychology Times, Sept. 1, 2011). Few psychologists outside of Louisiana are aware of this change, which essentially creates a new psychological or medical profession.

The MPs were able to deceive the membership of the Louisiana Psychological Association (LPA) because they had taken control of both the association's governance and the state's psychology board. While occupying the top LPA offices, the MPs publicly assured members that there was no noteworthy legislation pending. In reality, they were quietly moving their bill through the legislature and on to the governor's desk to be signed. Discovery of that deception after it became law triggered what has been called a civil war within the psychology community, and backlash groups were formed to wrest control of the association from the MPs. That struggle is continuing, 4 years later. "It is not so much the RxP—perhaps it could be anything—but it's the willingness of psychologists to engage in deceit that has troubled me the most here in Louisiana," said Julie Nelson, Ph.D., editor of the online newspaper The Psychology Times (personal communication, March 5, 2012).

The psychology board remains under the control of the MPs, who hold three of its five seats even though only 5% of the psychologists regulated by the board are prescribers. The political leverage that the MPs exercise was demonstrated when the governor, who has received political donations from the prescribers' political action committee (PAC), appointed an MP to the psychology board and ignored the traditionally heeded recommendation of the psychological association. Under MP control, the board has approved controversial policies that favor their prescribing colleagues. For example, they voted to allow psychology interns to be supervised by MPs who are no longer licensed by the psychology board. "The path that Louisiana is taking doesn't fit" all other jurisdictions the ASPPB covers, said Dr. DeMers. "The implications for people down the road could be catastrophic" (Psychology Times, Sept. 1, 2011).

The political success of the MPs was due in great part to the large sums of money collected for their PAC, which serves as the MPs' professional association, independent of the psychological association. In addition, some of the $526,000 that the APA Practice Organization sent to LPA for promoting prescriptive authority was used to pay the lobbyists who helped the MPs secretly pass their new law. Since then, the PAC's account has been replenished through a provision in the new RxP law that ends up requiring all MPs to annually donate $2,500 to the RxP political fund, the maximum legally allowed. The Louisiana law does so by making all MP's purchase from the PAC one quarter of the 45 CE credits required of prescribers. The RxP organization set the price of those credits at $2,500, to be deposited in their PAC account. Those CE credits can only be obtained by attending the PAC's secretive annual conference. The agenda of that conference is not publicly available. An MP who asked for an advance copy was refused. Since the 2010 law took effect, seemingly giving the MPs the prescribing freedom they wanted, the PAC has collected $468,000, which can be donated to legislators and used to pay lobbyists for political purposes that are not apparent.

Illinois

Attempts to pass RxP legislation in Illinois have failed regularly since 1999. About 2 years ago the campaign took a sharp turn in style and tactics, reminiscent of the Louisiana campaign. As an Illinois psychologist, the first author of this paper has been intimately involved in the recent campaign in that state. The Illinois campaign has gained significant influence over the state association's governance, exerted careful management of what the association tells its members, acted with secrecy in pursuing RxP legislation, and collected funds clandestinely. Additionally, when dissenters have spoken out, RxP proponents—many of whom hold leadership positions in the association—have resorted to threats and intimidation to suppress challenges, and they have refused to submit their proposals for public comment, open debate, or discussion outside venues they control.

The most noteworthy example of the lack of transparency in this campaign is that it is funded from a secret bank account operated by the Illinois Psychological Association (IPA). Even some of the organization's council members don't know what persons or organizations have donated to it. The RxP leader and IPA official who manages the account has refused to disclose who has that information. The account has paid for the secret hiring of eight highly regarded special lobbyists and two political communications firms, whose fees over the past 2 years are estimated to be extremely high. This money is in addition to $113,000 in practice assessment funds sent to IPA by the APAPO in the past 3 years to help pay for the RxP campaign. The IPA council used $18,000 of that money to secretly hire a ninth lobbyist in 2012 to ask the Illinois governor to change state rules in favor of RxP. That mission failed, and it remained secret from the association members. Secrecy and information management also includes withholding news of when RxP bills have failed, amendments were offered, and public opposition to the campaign. For example, members were not told that the very influential Illinois chapter of the National Alliance on Mental Illness, eight of Illinois' newspapers, the state's nursing and nurse-practitioners organizations, and the largest private mental health organization in the state, had all taken public stands opposing the RxP bill. Members were not told that a provision in the proposed bill, similar to that of Louisiana's, would require future prescribers to purchase a fifth of their continuing education credits from the association. Also, the association's council voted down a motion to survey the membership on their opinions of RxP, and members were not informed of that vote. The information management sometimes had a direct effect on the legislative process. The scheduling of the two legislative hearings on an RxP bill was not disclosed to association members or other psychologists throughout the state, effectively limiting dissenting opinion.

Another pattern of the Illinois RxP campaign concerns harassment and intimidation of dissenters by persons who are often both leaders of the RxP campaign and officers of IPA. One such person contacted a psychology school's administrators, urging them to cancel a faculty-scheduled colloquium questioning RxP even though she herself had conducted a pro-RxP program there earlier. Appalled, faculty members refused. Other examples abound. A psychology school faculty member who criticized RxP on a listserv was called by an RxP leader who harangued her so vehemently that months later she said she remained shaken and intimidated. Others report being called at their homes by such persons after publicly expressing doubts about RxP. In another response to public challenges to RxP practices, the association created special IPA listserv rules that were posted on the RxP-promoting pages of the organization's website. Those rules were cited when RxP proponents, acting as IPA officials, threatened to silence an outspoken RxP opponent by barring him from the listserv. The statement, which they said was "patently false" and deserving of banishment, was that IPA denies its members information about RxP.

Summary

The American Psychological Association's political campaign to win prescribing rights for psychologists based on a plan of weakened training standards is approaching its third decade. The campaign has been costly in terms of financial losses, missed opportunities, alienation from allied professions, and diversion from the core mission of psychology. It has done nothing good for the organization, the profession, the mental health system, or society. The failure of the campaign is punctuated by its only recent "success" in the past 10 years, when every tenet of the campaign's proposed model was rejected and replaced with the higher standards of another profession. Initiated in a bygone era and driven by fervent political and financial interests, rather than data and consensus, the time has come to step back and ask if enough is enough.

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations, I think."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the comments of my good Peace Corps colleague from the Big Island. I, however, will be voting my own conscience plus what I think is best for the people of Hawaii. I have three reasons for this, Mr. Speaker.

"The first one is that medicine is medicine. The WHO and other organizations say medicine has specific reasons to be regulated and systematized, so what is being fed to the people, what is being otherwise ingested, should be measured and tested for its active ingredients, and with a high degree of specificity. Even the labs now in Oregon have tests that still are loosey-goosey. They don't really know the THC and the specificity to the degree that it's supposed to be. But my point is, if medicine is medicine, why don't we treat it as medicine. This is medical marijuana, right? Why don't we treat medical marijuana."

Representative Belatti rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Chair then stated:

"I believe the current speaker is trying to make an analogy, but the point of order is well taken. Can we focus on the merits of the bill. I think I know the analogy you're trying to make."

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"I thank the good Representative from Makiki. I was drawn by my Peace Corps friend's conscience, but I am on the wrong vote. My apologies, Members. I am on the wrong vote."

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ouch, it hurts when you get hit by a bus. But based on the good words from the doctor from the Big Island, our in-house doctor, I'll be going with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. And as the Judiciary Chair said, we've been dealing with this for the last eight years since I've been here, and I know this is a very, very serious issue, but what I would like to say to my friend from the Fifth District is that, what happens on the rail stays on the rail."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm moved to go with reservations by the doctor from Hawaii, Big Island. And as a PhD, I would say that I agree. I don't think a PhD should be doing MD work, and I may vote no in the end. But I just want to take a moment just to say as a philosopher, as a doctor of philosophy, how thrilled I am that we're talking about mind and body, soul, medical ethics, gender identity. I don't know why more philosophers aren't engaged in politics. Thank you."

Representative Onishi rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Just very brief comments, Mr. Speaker. On Saturday, this past Saturday, we did receive an email from a group called the Psychologists Opposed to Prescription Privileges for Psychologists, and they did submit a petition recognizing that as psychologists they were opposed to any effort to allow psychologists to prescribe medications. They do consider prescribing by psychologists to be controversial, even among psychologists. So in order to save time, I'd like to enter this particular petition into the record, and I'd like to enter additional written comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Bill 1072, HD 1. The purpose of this bill is to authorize the board of psychology to issue certificates of prescriptive authority to medical psychologists who meet certain education, training, and registration requirements.

"I support the intent of this bill and its efforts to address gaps in the treatment of mental health disorders. However, I have very strong concerns that are highlighted in Section (1) of the bill:

"Providing advanced training in psychopharmacology to certain psychologists who wish to become medical psychologists would be beneficial to residents of Hawaii, particularly those who live in rural or medically underserved communities where mental health professionals with prescriptive authority are in short supply."

"The House draft before us attempts to solve one problem (a shortage of psychiatrists on the neighbor islands) with another problem (unqualified individuals with the authority to issue prescriptions for powerful psychotropic drugs. I would like to refer to the testimony of Dr. Christopher Flanders, DO, Executive Director:

"These medications are powerful, and complex and can cause serious cardiac and neurological side effects. By virtue of their education and training, physicians are able to weigh multiple factors, including the patients underlying medical condition, before prescribing medications. They are also able to recognize the adverse effects and side effects that may occur without warning. Physicians themselves, other than psychiatrists, are hesitant to prescribe many of these drugs to patients. Due to this, other physician's refer seriously mentally ill patients to a psychiatrist. Forty-seven states do not allow psychologists to prescribe. We should not experiment on Hawaii's most vulnerable population."

"Mr. Speaker, if it is truly the intent of the Legislature to address the gap in coverage, the State of Hawaii would be better served by helping more people over the hurdle of becoming educated and licensed psychiatrists rather than lowering the bar and endangering the health of the very same people who are most vulnerable and in dire need of qualified mental health services.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I must oppose this bill."

A REQUEST TO OPPOSE LEGISLATION GRANTING PRESCRIPTION PRIVILEGES FOR PSYCHOLOGISTS (HB1072,HD1~~A-2892~~)

We, the undersigned psychologists, _____ and all others concerned about quality healthcare to OPPOSE any efforts to allow psychologists to prescribe medications. We consider prescribing by psychologists to be controversial, even among psychologists. The movement for prescriptive privileges originated within the Psychology profession, rather than being championed by other stakeholders, such as patient advocacy or public health groups. As psychologists, we oppose this proposal because we believe that it poses unnecessary risks to the public and would be an inappropriate and inefficient mechanism of addressing mental health needs of the population. We are a diverse group of psychologists, including clinicians, educators, and researchers.

Psychologists have made major contributions to human health and wellbeing and will continue to do so. The profession of Psychology has made major contributions to understanding human development throughout the life cycle and to a multitude of dimensions of human functioning as individuals, groups, communities, societies and cultures. Despite these contributions, there are limits to the practices that psychologists can undertake responsibly as professionals. We believe that prescribing medications goes beyond psychologists' competence…even if they obtain the additional training advocated by the American Psychological Association.

Psychotropic drugs are medications that have multiple effects on the human body. These effects are complex and result from the interaction among patients' unique health status, their other prescribed medications, as well as their diets, lifestyles, and other factors. Although the therapeutic effects of prescribed medications can be very positive, unintended adverse drug reactions are common. To minimize the risk of potential adverse effects, that can even have life-threatening consequences, we believe that medications should be prescribed only by professionals who have undergone suitable medical training that prepared them to manage these medications within the context of patients' overall health conditions. Patients have a right to expect that their medications will be managed by professionals whose education adequately trains them to understand their health history, and assess their current health status, and the potential broad systemic effects of their medications. Unlike the training of current prescribers in other professions, the doctoral training of psychologists historically does not equip them to prescribe and manage medications safely.

Unfortunately, the American Psychological Association's (APA) model for training doctoral psychologists to obtain limited training in psychopharmacology, after they complete graduate school, does not match the levels required of other prescribing professionals (e.g., physicians, nurse practitioners, physician's assistants, optometrists) in terms of their overall training in matters directly related to managing medications. The APA model is substantially less rigorous and comprehensive than the training required for all other prescribing disciplines. Whereas the training of psychologists in certain professional activities, such as psychotherapy and psychological assessment, is generally more comprehensive than that of practitioners in other fields, this is not the case for training in clinical psychopharmacology. The APA training model for prescribing even fails to meet the recommendations of APA's own experts in its Ad Hoc Task Force of Psychopharmacology (e.g., in terms of undergraduate prerequisites in biology and other sciences) and has other inadequacies (e.g., lack of explicit requirements for supervision; no accreditation of programs).

It is noteworthy that the APA training model is substantively less rigorous than the training that the 10 psychologists undertook in the experimental program of the Department of Defense (DoD). Despite the alarmingly small sample of that pilot program, which precludes generalizing from it, the fact that the current training model is far less comprehensive, and the fact that inadequacies were noted in some of the graduates of the DoD program, proponents of psychologist prescribing make the dubious claim that the DoD program justifies prescribing by psychologists. It does not! In fact, the final report on the DoD project revealed that the psychologists were "weaker medically" than psychiatrists and compared their medical knowledge to students rather than physicians. We oppose psychologist prescribing because citizens who require medication deserve to be treated by fully trained and qualified health professionals rather than by individuals whose expertise and qualifications have been independently and objectively assessed to be at the student level. At this point, the training is less rigorous, with most of the training occurring online.

Proponents of psychologist prescribing also have misleadingly invoked a range of unrelated issues to advocate for their agenda. An article in the American Journal of Law & Medicine entitled, "Fool's Gold: Psychologists Using Disingenuous Reasoning To Mislead Legislatures Into Granting Psychologists Prescriptive Authority" critiques the rationales that advocates of prescription privileges use to promote their cause. Proponents point to problems in the healthcare system, such as the rural and other populations that are underserved. Whereas such problems are indeed serious and warrant changes in the healthcare system, allowing psychologists to prescribe is neither an appropriate nor an effective response. Permitting relatively marginally trained providers to provide services is not an acceptable way to increase access to healthcare services where high quality health care is needed. Rather than relying on under-trained psychologists to prescribe, it would be much more sensible to develop mechanisms to facilitate psychologists' providing those services that they are highly qualified to provide (e.g., counseling) to those populations and to innovate other approaches for medically-qualified providers (for example, collaboration, telehealth) to leverage available services. It should be noted that most psychologists practice in urban and suburban areas: There is no reason to expect that prescribing psychologists would have a significant impact on compensating for the shortages of psychiatrists in rural and economically disadvantaged areas, where relatively few actually work. Other remedies are needed to address such problems that would not compromise the quality of care.

Other health professionals, including nurses and physicians, are also concerned about psychologist prescribing. However, this should not be seen as a simple turf battle: It is because of legitimate concerns that the proposals for training psychologists to prescribe are too narrow and abbreviated. The International Society of Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurses position statement asserts, "nurses have an ethical responsibility to oppose the extension of the psychologist's role into the prescription of medications'" due to concern about psychologists' inadequate preparation, even if they were to get some additional training, in accordance with the APA model. When it comes to prescribing psychoactive medications that have a range of potential therapeutic and adverse effects on the human body, including interactions with other medications, shortcuts to training are ill advised. Some psychoactive drugs come with black box warnings about their potential risks.

Another concern is the limited expertise of psychology regulatory boards to effectively regulate prescriptive practicing. Given the similar limits in medication-related training of most psychologists who serve on these boards to that of other psychologists, and the fact that psychology boards historically have not overseen prescribing, we question whether regulatory boards have the expertise, resources and systems to provide effective oversight of psychologist prescribing.

Before supporting this controversial cause, we urge legislators, the media, and all concerned with the public health to take a closer look at this issue. Rather than permitting psychologists to prescribe medications, we advocate enhancement of currently available collaborative models in the delivery of mental health care, in which licensed psychologists work collaboratively with fully qualified prescribers to provide safe and effective services for those individuals who may benefit from psychoactive medications.

There are better and safer alternatives to psychologists prescribing that we believe will have a greater positive impact on mental health services. A more promising means for enhancing the mental health services available to all citizens than to allow psychologists to prescribe would be to dedicate efforts to better integrating mental health professionals, including psychologists, into the healthcare system, such as in primary care settings, where they could collaborate with other providers (who are prescribers) in the care of people who may need medications and psychological services. The barriers to such care have been detailed in a recent report by the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services, Reimbursement of Mental Health Services in Primary Care Settings . Overcoming the barriers to such care is an objective upon which psychologists agree with each other, and with other health professionals, and is clearly in the public interest. It would improve the quality of mental health care available in urban and rural areas.

We respectfully request that you oppose HB1072 ,HD1 that would allow psychologists to prescribe through non-traditional means.

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First of all, I'd like to thank the doctor form the Big Island for our discussion yesterday afternoon. It was very enlightening for me to hear his experience, especially since he lives in those rural communities where the argument has been made that they need to have this law or this measure passed to provide services to their most needy in their community. Because I had a similar conversation with the other Big Island Member of the Hawaii delegation who was on opposite sides of this issue, because she's seen firsthand the effects of not having the ability to have physicians or qualified physicians to treat.

"With reservations, because I had a very good conversation with him yesterday. But I also at the same time need to remark upon the comments also from another colleague from Hawaii Island who lives in those rural communities where they see some disparities of mental health services for the most needy, and this is why I believe she is an advocate for this particular measure.

"I don't know what the answer would be, and you've been around a long time, Mr. Speaker, in your former role as the Chair of the Human Services Committee, so I know you appreciate the consequence of our decision here. But I just want to thank him for being available and to follow through and try and work with his committee chair in finding the best solution, and even if there is an interim solution through a study, to work towards this important issue. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of this bill. I'm a country lawyer, and as a country solo practitioner I have been appointed by the court in the most damaging cases, where mental health is the most difficult issue I need to deal with.

"Short lesson on 704. Section 704 hearings are those who are criminally mentally ill. Before they are scheduled to go for a hearing, a mental stability exam needs to be determined so that they will have the ability to consent. If they are unable to consent, and the only way you could get them to reach that stability, is to have medication. Try as you might to talk, to reason, to somebody who is mentally ill, you cannot, unless they are medicated.

"And what people here don't realize is if you don't reach that mental stability, the constitution requires that we release them. So I'm talking about unmedicated, mentally ill people in our community.

"I did not introduce this bill. I first came to see it when it came in front of CPC. Since then I've heard former Representative Santiago brought it up 20 years ago saying that it was needed, and I see it's need when I see my experience in it. This bill does not give psychologists prescriptive medication until they get rigorous medical education. And we have the UH Pharmacology School that does that. Every psychologist I know does not want to do this, because they know the type of rigorous continuing education they need to take. And this is in collaboration with a psychiatrist.

"With due respect to the only doctor in house, when I started practice, and I gave up in the '90s taking in court appointed mentally ill people, we had only two psychiatrists in East Hawaii, and that includes Hamakua all the way to Kau, only two psychiatrists, and both of them gave up their hospital privileges because they kept getting called in the middle of the night and they were just burned out. We need mental health treatment on the Big Island. We direly need it.

"From what I've heard when I talked to Fred Manke who is our 704 BOH specialist, he is a psychologist, he personally would not do this. He does not know of any psychologists who would do it, but he sees the need for it. And as such, after 20 years it's about time we passed it. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support. I do have some reservations, it's a work in progress. In particular, I want to look at Illinois and the original statute, because as you compare them side by side there seems to be protections in the original bill that Illinois does not have and vice versa. So just a flag for myself as this issue hopefully comes back from the Senate. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered." [Note: Representative Thielen later changed her vote to a no vote.]

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. Some of the concerns are duly noted, it does need work, but this is a measure that will help neighbor islands with the lack of providers that we have and people not receiving healthcare that they need."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I'll note that I'm in strong support and I am voting my conscience. This is a bill that, as has been mentioned, has been with us. We voted on a similar measure in 2007. I appreciate the comments and, again, those concerns are duly noted. And as we continue to move this bill forward, I commit to looking at the bill that we passed in 2007, to look at the Illinois legislation, and to see the ways in which we can improve this measure to ensure access to quality mental health care in all of our communities. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka rose to respond, stating:

"Second time. Rarely does that happen, but I'd be remiss to say, again with reservations. But I think, having the conversation with the Representative from the Fifth District, I think it would be very, very helpful for everyone to know that he has a degree in psychology, and the information and the input that I got from him this morning and yesterday was very, very helpful in the decision that I made today. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1072, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL

FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRESCRIPTIVE AUTHORITY FOR CERTAIN PSYCHOLOGISTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 36 ayes to 15 noes, with Representatives Cachola, Choy, Creagan, DeCoite, Ichiyama, Jordan, Kawakami, Keohokalole, LoPresti, McKelvey, Onishi, Oshiro and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Aquino, Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Matsumoto, McDermott, Ohno, Pouha, Takayama, Takumi, Thielen, Tupola, Ward, Yamane and Yamashita voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 906) recommending that H.B. No. 321, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 321, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong opposition. Can I proceed with where I left off or should I begin at the beginning? Again my apologies, Members. It must have been the drug that we were talking about or something like that.

"I can begin where I left off. I think I was saying, medicine is medicine, and therefore medicine should be treated like medicine because this is medical marijuana, and are we treating it like medical pharmaceuticals? It doesn't seem to be the case, because we're going to be doing dispensaries, 26 I believe are slotted into the various counties.

"But if it is medicine, Mr. Speaker, some of my colleagues and I agree that let's put it all where all the other pharmaceuticals go. Let's put it into Longs, let's put it into CVS, let's put it into Walgreens. Let's make it where, like some of the medicine that we get now, there's a prescription, there's an ID showing and there's all those particular protocols. We already established that. So if it's medical, let's treat it as medical, because, Mr. Speaker, some of these people really need this. And right there are, I think about 13,000, 14,000 of which there is 311 who are totally disabled who have no way of getting access to it. But everybody has access to Longs, to Walgreens, to other places that are already established, but we're going to reinvent the wheel. That's my first concern, Mr. Speaker.

"My second concern is that this is possibly going to create a black market. Why do I say that? Well, how much does it cost to get a dispensary license, according to this bill? Thirty thousand dollars. How much does it cost to get a license to be a dispensary like Longs or Walgreens? Three hundred thirty-eight dollars. Mr. Speaker, are we creating something outside of the norm of pharmaceuticals? I just don't understand how we can be doing that if our intent is to do this as a strictly medicinal entity.

"The prosecuting attorney mentioned that because of the high cost of a location, high cost of employees, high cost of packaging, high cost of these $30,000 licenses, not only to get it but renew it every year. The guys on the street are going to see that the price that comes out of those packages of which we have no idea of these dispensary packages, we have no idea of which the cost will be. But people vote their wallets, and if it's cheaper on the streets, of which now I was told in the Finance Committee is $20 per gram, $20 per gram on the streets. Can that price be met by the dispensaries, because I would say, Mr. Speaker, other than those disabled, those other 12,500 or whatever are probably going to stay on the streets. And what does it tell to those growers that, hey there's a market here, they've got those dispensaries, it's getting legitimate. Let's get into the business of growing this stuff because there's not really any controls, as there is now. I mean, not even now. Everybody looks in another direction or away from what's really going on under our nose.

"So the first thing was medicine not being treated as medicine. The second thing is it's going to encourage a black market, and my third reason for objecting to this bill is the unintended consequences. Mr. Speaker, we always talk about a gateway to drugs. We always talk about alcohol, it's the way that people start out and they end up going more and more, I guess in a spiral way, into stuff that's tougher and higher. Well do we need another one? Do we need marijuana? Because some people have even said that marijuana is already a gateway drug, and maybe it's still debatable. But do we need a gateway drug to again put people into a state of mind other than those who medically need it.

"And secondly, an unintended consequence may be that, well we're setting up shop after 13, 14, 15 years for medical marijuana, but what we're really just saying and getting the slicks ready for recreational marijuana. Mr. Speaker, that's a slope that I think a number of other states have entered on, and it's one that we know that we could enter on very easily here.

"So for the reason that we're treating medicine as medicine, there's unintended consequences, and the fact that we may create a black market, we should be very cautious, slow down this, see what's going on in Colorado and the mainland, don't jump out in front just for the sake of having so many years that we haven't done anything, and do this thing if we're going to do it, do it right and do it now with the right approach to it. Not with this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations. Thank you. I wanted to preface my remarks by thanking the Public Safety Chair, the Health Chair and the Judiciary Chair, because I think this is an earnest effort to build a robust regulatory structure, which I think is needed. If we're going to go down this path, that has to be a precursor.

"My main reservations revolve around tightening up the link between production centers, dispensaries, patients and caregivers, and I think that's something that's been noted by those respective Chairs is their intent, which I appreciate. But for public safety and to do this right, I do think that we need to continue to work on this bill to make sure that there is indeed that robust regulatory structure. Thank you."

Representative Tsuji rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Mr. Speaker, first and foremost, I do have an article here from The Hill newspaper, and it deals with a January 2015 article regarding the Governor of Colorado, John Hickenlooper, stating that legalizing marijuana in the State of Colorado was a bad idea. Essentially he notes that banks are reluctant to finance marijuana businesses in states where it is legal because federal law still lists marijuana as an illegal drug. Congress would still need to pass a law removing that language. So for the record, I'd like to submit this article for the record.

"In addition, Mr. Speaker, I have a letter here from the Under Secretary of Defense. Obviously this is becoming an issue with all the states, so the Under Secretary of Defense had submitted a letter for distribution to all military personnel, essentially advising that legislative changes by some states and the District of Columbia do not alter federal law or existing national security guidelines. Agencies continue to be prohibited from granting or renewing a security clearance to an unlawful user of a controlled substance, which includes marijuana. So for the record, I'd also like to submit this into the Journal.

"Mr. Speaker, just very briefly, I do appreciate the work that was done by the Health Chair, I think she actually has some very good points and she worked very hard, diligently, to really try to reign in some of the pitfalls that could occur through the de facto legalization of marijuana.

"With that said, Mr. Speaker, with the prevalence of Kona Winds, many people like my husband suffer from the effects of vog. He relies on decongestants combined with allergy medicine to be comfortable and to carry on with his daily life. In order to do this he has to sign a declaration that he will not use the decongestant for illicit purposes, and the volume of decongestant that he has purchased must be reported to that pharmacy. The pharmacy reports it back to a registry to regulate the amount of decongestant he can have at any given time.

"Ironically, House Bill 321 makes obtaining medical marijuana easier than purchasing a decongestant. There is a lack of proportionality here, as the threat from marijuana significantly is greater than the threat posed by decongestants. Here we have decongestants that must be chemically refined to a more similar narcotic than that required by regulation. Compare that to marijuana which is ready to use after the time of purchase.

"In addition, my concern arises from the fact that the committee report recommends prohibiting a medical marijuana purchaser from withholding information about previous purchases from other dispensaries in order to obtain unauthorized marijuana or manufactured marijuana products. While we are looking at a treatment option poses a greater threat to public safety in the wrong hands, with the absence of any database or registry or tracking, we can only assume that the only enforcement mechanism is the honor policy. I find that frightening, Mr. Speaker, and a slap in the face to allergy sufferers everywhere. There is still nothing in the HD 1 that prevents a user from going to multiple dispensaries in one day and collecting four ounces at every visit to accumulate more for themselves and who else knows. Who will they be distributing it to?

"The Chair goes on to note at the end of the committee report, 'your Committees, however, have concerns that the revenues generated may not be sufficient to sustain a regulated system of medical marijuana dispensaries and cultivation centers. Accordingly, your Committees respectfully request that the Committee on Finance also consider whether other financing options, such as additional fee structures or taxing methodologies, are necessary to ensure that regulation of the system of medical marijuana dispensaries and production centers' will continue.

"Taxation, or even fee based assessment on an honor policy, is doomed to fail, Mr. Speaker. We know how that ends, it's called the deposit beverage container program, and we know how that worked out. Mr. Speaker, for those reasons I stand in opposition. Thank you."

Representative Har submitted the following The Hill article:

"Governor: Legalizing pot was bad idea

By Kevin Cirilli - 01/23/15 09:42 AM EST

Colorado's decision to legalize marijuana was a bad idea, the state's governor said Friday.

Gov. John Hickenlooper, a Democrat who opposed the 2012 decision by voters to make pot legal, said the state still doesn't fully know what the unintended consequences of the move will be.

"If I could've waved a wand the day after the election, I would've reversed the election and said, 'This was a bad idea,' " Hickenlooper said Friday on CNBC's "Squawk Box."

"You don't want to be the first person to do something like this," he said.

He said that he tells other governors to "wait a couple of years" before legalizing marijuana as Colorado continues to navigate an unknown, nonexisting federal regulatory landscape for the industry.

"There's a whole regulatory environment ... that really regulates alcohol," he said. "We're starting from scratch, and we don't have a federal partner because [marijuana] is still illegal federally."

In February 2014, the Obama Administration released guidelines for the marijuana industry indicating federal officials would not target financial institutions or businesses engaging in selling pot as long as those businesses were compliant with state laws.

Despite the guidelines, banks are reluctant to finance marijuana businesses in states where it is legal because federal law still lists marijuana as an illegal drug. Congress would need to pass a law removing that language.

Marijuana is legal in four states: Colorado, Oregon, Alaska and Washington. Congress has blocked the District of Columbia from legalizing pot, after voters in November cast ballots that they wanted to make the drug legal."

In recent years, several states and the District of Columbia have decriminalized the use of marijuana, allowing the use of marijuana for medicinal purposes or for limited recreational use. These changes to state law resulted in inquiries from a number of agencies about the impact to adjudications of persons proposed for eligibility for access to classified information or eligibility to hold a sensitive position. As the Security Executive Agent, I am responsible for issuing guidelines and instructions to agencies to ensure appropriate uniformity in processes relating to personnel security investigations and adjudications (Reference A). The purpose of this memorandum is to set out guidance in this area.

The Department of Justice issued guidance (References B, C, and D) making it clear that no state can authorize violations of federal law, including violations of the Controlled Substance Act (Reference E), which identifies marijuana as a Schedule I controlled drug. Moreover, IRTPA, as amended (Reference F), specifically prohibits a federal agency from granting or renewing a clearance to an unlawful user of a controlled substance or an addict, and under federal law, use of marijuana remains unlawful. Last, Executive Order 12564 (Reference G) mandates a drug-free workplace and drug-free federal workforce, and expressly states that use of illegal drugs on or off duty by federal employees in positions with access to sensitive information may pose a serious risk to national security and is inconsistent with the trust placed in such employees as servants of the public.

Accordingly, in keeping with statute, executive order, and Department of Justice guidance, I remind agency heads that changes to state laws and the laws of the District of Columbia pertaining to marijuana use do not alter the existing National Security Adjudicative Guidelines (Reference H and I). An individual's disregard of federal law pertaining to the use, sale, or manufacture of marijuana remains adjudicatively relevant in national security determinations. As always, adjudicative authorities are expected to evaluate claimed or developed use of, or involvement with, marijuana using the current adjudicative criteria. The adjudicative authority must determine if the use of, or involvement with, marijuana raises questions about the individual's judgment, reliability, trustworthiness, and willingness to comply with law, rules, and regulations, including federal laws, when making eligibility decisions of persons proposed for, or occupying, sensitive national security positions.

Heads of agencies are expected to advise their workforce that legislative changes by some states and the District of Columbia do not alter federal law or existing National Security Guidelines. Agencies continue to be prohibited from granting or renewing a security clearance to an unlawful user of a controlled substance, which includes marijuana. Questions pertaining to this memorandum should be directed to Ms. Pamela Dempsey at (571) 204-6505, or by email to SECEA@DNI.GOV or SECEA_WMA@CIA.IC.GOV.

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I have serious concerns about HB 321. First, I am concerned about the minimum 26 dispensaries and 30 production centers that this bill mandates the Department of Health to open. These numbers are a floor, not a ceiling. Twenty-six separate dispensaries spread across our state will be difficult to administer and unless strict controls are applied, can quickly spiral out of control. I would prefer a pilot program to be started in one county, then expanded statewide, so that we can assure such strict controls.

"Second, I oppose the provision in this bill that would prohibit the counties from adopting zoning ordinances to regulate the dispensaries. Zoning laws protect property values and improve quality of life for residents. They also protect public health, safety and welfare. Currently, zoning ordinances regulate other types of businesses, and dispensaries should not be exempt.

"Third, I am troubled by the exemption from Chapter 91 rulemaking for the Department of Health for the first two years of this program. The bill requires the Department of Health to create administrative rules for many sensitive issues regarding dispensaries, including, but not limited to: inventory tracking measures, employee background checks, security requirements, audit requirements, advertising and packaging. Thirty production centers will open in 2016 and 26 dispensaries will open in 2017. Under the current language of this bill, the public would have absolutely no input on the rules and regulations governing their operation.

"For these reasons and others, I vote with reservations on this bill. I hope that the Senate will carefully examine this measure if it moves forward in the legislative process. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Choy rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing with reservations on HB 321, HD 1.

"Mr. Speaker, I strongly support the use of marijuana by individuals that have a legitimate medical reason to do so. If marijuana can help a child with epilepsy, then I can definitely see the legitimate medicinal use for it, contrary to marijuana's Schedule I classification. There are patients out there that legitimately need this. For them, this is not a recreational endeavor, but a medical one which sets them on the path to better health.

"Clearly, marijuana's current federal legality and social stigmas are what makes creating legislation for marijuana at the local level so problematic. One could effectively argue that the most harmful aspects of marijuana are the laws surrounding it and their consequences, rather than its physiological and psychological effects. More bad legislation will only complicate this problem.

"That being said, we have to deal with the fact that we potentially need a legal system in this state to obtain marijuana. To some of our citizens, it makes no sense to have medical marijuana legal with no legal way to obtain it other than growing it themselves.

"This bill is well intended, however, I have reservations to this bill in its current form. First of all, why do we need a minimum of 26 dispensaries to start with? Why are we not implementing a pilot program in each of the counties first to see what works and doesn't work with each region of the State? In Oahu we may need 26 whereas on Molokai we may only need one.

"We need to do the research to see how many people actually really need the services of a dispensary. It's not enough to just look at what other states did, because what works for them will not always work for us. Depending on the level of need, it may be easier to set up a registry of state approved growers that patients can utilize to assist them in growing their medicine, effectively cutting out the dispensary middleman system.

"Unfortunately, this measure creates a mess for our state. Aspects of this measure, such as allowing operators of a dispensary to travel interisland with marijuana, are in violation with federal law. The truth of the matter is, until the federal government changes the way it handles marijuana, no state can safely pursue any actions with cannabis, medical or otherwise, without undue legal implications.

"This measure also further complicates matters at a state and county level because it doesn't allow the counties the necessary authority to regulate the placement of these dispensaries, among other things. If we are going to force the counties to adopt a dispensary system, we need to give them the tools to best incorporate these businesses into their communities.

"As attractive as the profits look in places like Colorado, let's not forget that expanding our state's involvement into medical marijuana will inevitably cost the State money. Whether it is for increased law enforcement training or more regulatory personnel and programs, our taxpayers will be footing the bill even though they are not participants in the medical marijuana system.

"Finally, let's not forget the extreme potential for corruption that this will bring into the State. I loathe to think of all the people out there who are going to ruin an honest attempt at helping patients, in order to turn it into a for-profit driven venture. With the way this measure delineates the dispensary system, I can easily envision it turning into big business. I don't want to see marijuana made into the next tobacco and marketed to our youth by the same people who marketed cigarettes to us almost a century ago.

"I am also concerned about the influx of illegal activity that the dispensary system could potentially foster. Criminal elements are already adept at the marijuana business, what is going to stop them from getting their hands in it when there is a legal avenue? This bill has the potential to lead us down that road.

"How will we decide who runs these dispensaries? In the bill there is no protection of local interests. Anyone who can afford to pay the steep fees for a dispensary license can effectively come to Hawaii and open up shop. We don't need any more outside interests coming into this state to make money off of our people when we have plenty of citizens in this state that could run these operations. I want to see this system stay a purely local one if we are to create a dispensary network.

"The fact of the matter is that this is uncharted territory for the State of Hawaii. To rush into this without doing the proper research and due diligence will be just as bad as sitting back and doing nothing at all.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of the implications of HB 321 as we move towards conference. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I will be voting with reservations on this bill. Although I support medical marijuana dispensaries as well as home rule, I believe that this bill does not provide for home rule in oversight of the dispensaries. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I vote with reservations."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I also would like to echo the comments made by the Representative from Hawaii Kai, that this should be treated like medicine. It should be in pharmacies. Unfortunately, it cannot be until it's reclassified on the federal level. This is the best we have right now, dispensaries.

"This is a big problem. On Maui last year an individual by the name of Brian Murphy, who operated a Paia dispensary called Patients Without Time, was arrested, and he faced 250 years possibly in prison, so he pleaded no contest. And instead of getting probation, he got put in prison. For doing a good deed, really. First we need to pass this bill, then we need to free Brian Murphy. Thank you."

Representative Yamashita rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations. Very briefly, my reservations is that, as a clinical social worker that worked with children and adolescents and adults who used marijuana as young children, teenagers, and also in their adult life, and seeing the effects that impacted their ability to hold jobs, their memory loss, and some of the other impacts and social impacts both on them as well as their family, I have strong reservations. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Johanson be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this is simply the framework for full legalization two to three years down the road. Why else would you need 26 dispensaries? You're only selling one product. Imagine if you opened a drug store and you only sell one product, Tylenol 3. Now, that's prescribed a lot more than medical marijuana, but there's no way you could stay afloat. You couldn't keep your doors open because there's not enough business, not enough revenue.

"That plus the fact that the local communities, the counties, have no say in where these things will be located. If you don't like it, you go see your councilman, tough luck. So that is a dirty secret here. This is merely the infrastructure so we can come back two to three years from now and implement full legalization. That's what this is about. It's not about helping sick people. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. And I think there is a typo in the bill on number one where it says not 'less' than 26 dispensaries. We're going to go from zero to 26 in less than four years, and so I think that's very problematic, and I am voting in opposition to this bill. Thank you very much."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I just wanted to thank the Health Chair. She took the time to sit down with me and I vetted my concerns to her. She did a really good job at incorporating people's concerns and trying to make it work. I have the same concerns as the Representative from Mililani and the Representative from Kauai.

"In addition to that, I think that there could be a possible win-win if we roll out a pilot now. Like the sentiments of my colleague from Hawaii Kai, we need it now. If we could roll it out now and have safeguards in place so that we could check or reassure that some of these concerns are vetted out before it rolls into a full statewide system, I would support that. Making sure that a good pilot program is run where everyone's on board. Anything that might be questionable is worked out and then it pushes forward as an as-need basis, when we need those many it rolls out. And so those are my concerns and those are my comments. Thank you."

Representative Takayama rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to note to the Members of this Body that 19 other states have already been operating dispensaries, some of them for a number of years. I know there's been concern expressed over the number of dispensaries proposed in this measure, 26, and I can say that as a member of the task force whose report formed the basis of this measure, that the task force tried to strike a balance between making medical marijuana accessible, while at the same time not being overly permissive. And in doing so the task force, I think, found a reasonable balance.

"There are some states that authorize fewer dispensaries than 26, and there are some that authorize many more. For example, the State of Massachusetts authorizes 35 dispensaries, and in the State of Arizona, 124. Some states have no limit on dispensaries at all. It was pointed out that the State of New York with its much larger population only allows 20 dispensaries. This was under a law that was enacted last year, and without the benefit of having compiled a list of medical marijuana patients. In comparison, Hawaii has had 15 years of compiling a list of medical marijuana patients that now consists of 13,000 patients. And so the task force decided that reasonable accommodation would be to provide one dispensary for every 500 patients. This also takes into account the fact that we are trying to serve six different islands, between which air transportation of marijuana is not legal.

"And so in summary, I just want to point out that this measure does not legalize marijuana. What it does do is deliver on a promise that was made 15 years ago to medical marijuana patients, and it does so in a manner that I believe is both safe and responsible. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I really wasn't going to speak on this measure but I'm feeling a little compelled to. As the Public Safety Chair has stated, it's been 15 years that we allowed individuals to carry a little blue card, and that's not to work in a bar such as I did when I was 18 years old. It's for these individuals to have the ability to either grow or get in some illegal way their medication. And when we talk about disservice, when this Legislative Body hasn't provided a safe meaning and protective way for individuals to purchase their medication, I think that's a disservice to our constituents.

"It became very personal for me when one of my great friends from childhood days, we're great friends but we took two different paths. You see, she didn't drink, she didn't smoke cigarettes, she didn't promote any type of illicit activities. They went to church every Sunday. I, on the other hand, took the other path. I really enjoyed life.

"And her mother became blind and then got cancer. And I met up with my good friend after her mother passed away and she had to tell me that, Jo, the only way that we could soothe her pain and agony was to illegally obtain marijuana. And I know this lady probably had a very difficult time smoking marijuana. And they didn't even have the time to get her a blue card.

"We're talking about helping people with compassion, or helping a child that may need it for epilepsy, or helping an individual that may have a terminal disease. That's what we're talking about here, Mr. Speaker.

"I have some issues with the measure. It is a work in progress. It does have a defective date. I called out in the two hearings that I sat on, what are we doing on the financial end, because in the big picture world, if we do set up dispensaries, how are they going to be able to transact? Depositing all this cash into a banking institution is still illegal. You can't just walk into a public banking facility and say, can I have a million dollar loan to open up a dispensary? It's illegal.

"We still haven't discussed the financial aspect of this outside of how much it may cost my Department of Health to operate a program. I understand a $30,000 fee and a renewal fee of about $20,000. We need to make it work in our Department of Health without costing more taxpayers' General Fund monies. And that's still a burden upon those individuals that may need that medication.

"I haven't heard, if I have a patient that walks into a dispensary are they going to get quality tested material. I haven't heard that yet because we don't have testing facilities here for these THC counts or CBC counts. I'm waiting for this to go through some more process, but at the end of the day we must provide something for individuals.

"Now we know on the other side of this building they're bringing over a bill that may decrim up to a specific amount, and I think that's a little too soon to be discussing that, when we can't even get our state in order to provide medication for individuals that we give a little card too and say good luck, and then may prosecute them if they're caught smoking in public somewhere. So at this point in time it's with reservations, Mr. Speaker, and I hope it comes back to the Floor where we can have a more vibrant discussion before the end of session. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. I think much of the comments on the Floor today was in essence saying that we shouldn't even have medical marijuana, but I think that horse has left the barn. Hawaii has passed out a medical marijuana law some years ago, and was alluded to by a previous speaker that we have 13,000 people in our state who currently are able to smoke medical marijuana. The question then before us today is whether or not we create a system whereby people can be ensured that they have access, that the quality's there, that the security is there, and that all the safeguards are present.

"I wanted to address directly the whole question about that marijuana is a gateway drug. There've been many studies. In fact, in 1999 Congress commissioned a study done by the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences that indicated that marijuana is not a gateway drug. In fact, Mr. Speaker, the most abused drug in the United States are legally prescribed drugs. Second and third most abused drugs in our country are readily accessible. You can get them at a tobacco shop or liquor store.

"The reason why marijuana is considered, in a myth, a gateway drug, is because it is the most widely accessible illegal drug. It would be you're making the mistake of equating correlation with cause. I'll give you one example, Mr. Speaker. Many of us rode bicycles when we were kids. Some of us who rode bicycles later became fans of riding motorcycles. A small fraction of those who ride motorcycles became Hells Angels. It doesn't mean that bicycles are the gateway vehicle to become a Hells Angel. Those who don't ride bicycles are less likely to ride a motorcycle, ergo very unlikely that they will become a Hells Angel. Do not confuse correlation with cause. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker and Members, I'm up for this bill and very strongly because I believe that this bill is a compassionate bill. This bill will provide relief to the mother of an epileptic child. It will provide relief to a parent who is suffering from cancer. So, Members, just think about it. Think of this not as a drug, but as a compassion item that you're helping somebody out there to relieve the pain that they have. To relieve the child from that epileptic seizure. To allow cancer patients to eat and hopefully get strong enough, hopefully to get well, and more so. So I ask you not even to vote with reservations, to vote up. This is a good bill. Thank you very much."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. I ask that the comments of the Public Safety Chair and Speaker of the House be entered into the Journal. I just want to reemphasize, 13,000 people, 14 years we've abandoned them. We ought not to lack the courage to have compassion. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I'd just like the words of the Speaker of the House, the Chair of Education, and the Chair of Public Safety entered into the record as if they were my own. But I would also like the words of the good Representative from Waianae entered into the record as if they were my own, because I do believe more work is needed on some very detailed mechanics for this program to work. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. And I just want to make something very clear, that I'm against the legalization of marijuana. I just don't believe that that is what we're doing today.

"So the reason why I'm voting with reservations. Well first, the reason I support it and I'm not against it, there's a little girl in my district that a lot of you have already met who is suffering from seizures, and the only thing that her mother has been able to do is give her medical marijuana, and she has no legal means to obtain that marijuana. And her story has really helped to change some of my perspective on this issue, and changed a lot of her neighbors' perspectives. I come from a pretty conservative community, but I think most of us can agree that if it helps this little girl, and for her it is a medicine, then we want to do something to help fill out the law, which essentially is half a law right now, Mr. Speaker.

"We allow people to get a card for medical marijuana but we don't give them any way to get it, which means that this mother of this child in my district has to grow her own marijuana, which means she has to get home every night through traffic and work on this, just to hope that she has enough to be able to make the oil that her kid needs. And most of her neighbors and most of my neighbors understand that there is a problem here when a mother and a child are suffering.

"And for me, that's what this is about, that is why I am in support. But I do have some reservations because I think there are a lot of loopholes that we have to close up, including loopholes in the underlying program, because there are still people that are getting medical marijuana that probably shouldn't have it, that maybe don't have true medical needs, and I think we need to make sure that if we're going to treat this like a medicine and if we at least in our state are going to say this is medicine, then we need to make sure that there isn't abuse of that medicine either. So thank you, Mr. Speaker, with reservations."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. No reservations whatsoever, Speaker, no reservations, in strong support. Mr. Speaker, a bipartisan measure has been introduced in the United States Senate, and it's to legalize medical marijuana, the one thing that the bipartisan group can agree upon in Foggy Bottom in Washington D.C. I think we are finally doing the compassionate thing that we should have done 15 years ago, and I give great credit to the Speaker because he knew that 15 years ago, and we finally are catching up. Thank you, sir."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support. I just wanted to note that this isn't a new issue. We passed medical marijuana, first in the nation, over 15 years ago now. This is just the final piece in the puzzle, piece of the puzzle to actually make it work. In 2009 actually the Hawaii State Legislature issued a resolution congratulating Brian Murphy for operating his Paia dispensary, Patients Without Time, and assisting Hawaii's certified medical marijuana patients with the acquisition of their medical marijuana. So it was our intent 15 years ago, it was our intent 6 years ago, and it's about time that we complete the puzzle. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support with reservations. I didn't take the opportunity earlier to thank the Health Chair and the Public Safety Chair for their work on this bill. I do support the intent of this bill. I do believe that medical marijuana can be used to alleviate serious medical conditions, and I am in support of the concept of allowing those who need the help to get the help that they deserve. The reservations I have come from the experiences that have taken place in some of the other states that have enacted similar provisions to this. I'd like to reference the DEA website, referring to their position on medical marijuana, and the grave concerns that they have with the link between marijuana grow operations in different states and their connection to illegal drug trafficking organizations.

"In Denver in October, a medical marijuana dispensary was raided, alleging that money was funneled from Columbia to a corporation in Colorado for use to open a dispensary or grow operation. In California, there have been numerous raids by the DEA too, of medical marijuana dispensaries and grow operations because of their alleged ties to drug trafficking organizations. If this is going to be a local effort, which it needs to be in order for this program to take place, I just would like to stay engaged on this topic to ensure that we are properly accounting for this issue.

"In a letter from the Department of Justice to the states, the Attorney General mentioned a group of guidelines to the states who are enacting these programs to ensure that they were properly regulating dispensaries to prevent revenue from the sale of marijuana from going to criminal enterprises, gangs and cartels. In reference to the LA raid, which was in the LA Times, that actually was in October, the Denver raid was in April, the DEA mentioned that states who were regulating marijuana shops, if they intended to avoid federal action taken against their state operators, that the states needed to ensure that they got their regulatory act together.

"I just hope that we are taking proper precautions to make sure that the folks who are growing this crop and who are dispensing this crop are people who are upstanding farmers and people who have the best intentions. I'm particularly concerned given the comments of the Representative from Waianae regarding financing of marijuana operations and the fact that there is such a steep permitting threshold. And I wonder who the organizations are or who the people are that are going to be able to do this type of industry."

Representative Ohno rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keohokalole continued, stating:

"People who have cash flow to enter into this business. People who have the experience and the logistical capability to run a marijuana grow operation and operate a distribution network to dispensaries within the guidelines of the regulatory framework that we established.

"So like I said, I do support the policy, I do support the ability of people who are sick to get the medicine that they deserve, but we have a federal drug framework for a reason, and I think we need to stay cognizant of the fact that the pharmaceutical industry is highly regulated for a good reason, and that's partly because of the reasons that I've mentioned earlier. So for those reasons, I stand in support with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in opposition to HB 321, HD 1. The task force established last session was not completed, and although a report was submitted to the Legislature, it seems that this issue still has many unanswered questions. The establishment of medical marijuana dispensaries and production centers statewide is not necessary, because we have a current law that will undermine this measure being considered.

"This bill provides insufficient standards for enforcement, which may increase illicit distribution, and the funding to create this program is limited. There are currently over 13,000 registered medical marijuana users across the State, and while we need to allow them the accessibility to this holistic medication, we must not forget our responsibilities. We need more time to create a program that will meet the needs of medical marijuana users, while ensuring the safety of our communities."

Representative Kawakami rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, Mr. Speaker, and thank you so much for the opportunity. I feel compelled to express my reservation beyond written comments based on the conversation. I just would like to express that my reservations, as a proponent of home rule, is that, as a proponent of home rule and as a proponent of medicinal marijuana, this bill strips all home rule authority from the counties. I feel that this is a zoning issue.

"Mr. Speaker, when a developer goes in, whether it be a resort, whether it be a community, whether it be an affordable housing project, there are a number of conditions that our planning commissions, that our county councils, are afforded to be a part of that conversation to get more out of the deal. And I would say that this bill does not have any provisions for home rule, and that is what I'm basing my reservations on.

"I'd also like to say that I'm very uncomfortable with the amount of dispensaries that we're going to be allowing in the State. I don't think that there's any harm in starting slowly to see how things are moving. And I would like to point out that the public safety, that the crime is not from the drug doing, whether it be prescription drugs, medicinal marijuana or illicit drugs, it's from the drug dealing. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in opposition. I want to thank my colleagues from the Big Island and Kauai for reminding me of the other unintended consequences that I didn't elaborate on. Particularly, as just spoken by the Representative from Kauai, the NIMBY factor that's going to be between we the legislators at the State level, and those at the county level. And how many here are going to say, not in my district, not in my backyard? Who's going to come up with that?

"But the second and important thing that makes me rise again, Mr. Speaker, is that I saw some people's body language saying, criminal elements, no this is all medical marijuana. How can there be criminal elements in this issue? Well, I think the good doctor from the Big Island has a colleague in the Senate who's a good doctor who used to be in this Body, Senator Green, I'll mention him by name, because he said there was a particular doctor who would fly in from the mainland, set up in a hotel, and people would come in with the cash in their pocket and he would write out their medical marijuana certificates for three or four days, stuff all the money in his pocket, fly back to California. Those who are getting those medical marijuana certificates are probably not up to very much good that has anything to do with the medicinal and the compassion that we have to have for those people who need it.

"So, Mr. Speaker, if we're going to have medical marijuana, let's treat it like medicine. Let's not categorize this thing over in some special place, like when Viagra came out, should we have had Viagra clinics only soliciting those kind of things. Now we've got marijuana, we've got to specifically say that we have a clinic just for marijuana dispensary. What's the logic? If you can get the same thing at Ross, why do you have to go to Nordstrom? The black market is going to rise up in this occasion, and it's going to make a big difference. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, again I'm still not for this bill. Thank you."

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be very brief. I'm in support with reservations. As a former Speaker, yes, I was part of the legalization of medical marijuana, but more importantly it was at a point in time it was under the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Safety. After that it became the jurisdiction of the Department of Health, and because it was more on the medical side I can appreciate it.

"The only reason why I'm going with reservations this afternoon is very easy. Can we, as this Legislative Body, as you pass the budget next week, to address the issue of funding the Department of Health in the execution and implementation of what the House Draft has before us. If it does not, I think a lot of the discussion on the Floor is absolutely correct. You'll get the underground, you'll get the cartels, marijuana companies with money that will infiltrate the State of Hawaii at the expense of the general public of the State of Hawaii, our keiki o ka 'aina.

"I am concerned. Who determined what was 26 or 23 dispensaries? Not any of you on this Floor of the House. Can the Department of Health really implement a program without the support of the counties, which I brought it up at the House Judiciary in regards to who is going to enforce it. My thought was the Liquor Commission. They go to the all the bars and enforce the liquor laws. Would you like the Attorney General's Office, then you set up, you find the money to set up a unit within the Attorney General's Office to have overall control.

"But at the end of the day, my whole point is this. As this measure moves through, we hope the Senate will try to address my concerns that I brought to this Floor of the House this afternoon. Because I am concerned. I am concerned of what has happened in Colorado with the legalization. I am concerned in Washington, the State of Washington, the legalization. I am concerned about the referendum that occurred in Alaska where they have legalized marijuana also.

"Then you move on to California where I was just surprised, very much surprised, seven or eight years ago when my son graduated from UC Long Beach and I went to my son's rental house with his three classmates, and one of them was doing medical marijuana. Uncle, I got my card. I said, brother, you okay, what's your medical problem? I got my card.

"What I'm saying to you this afternoon, I am concerned that we may take it for granted that the Administration who does the execution, implementation of the program will do their very best. But like what one of the Representatives said from the neighbor islands, if there is not support from the counties, it is a major, major problem.

"I would recommend to the Senate, as this bill goes over, which I'm supporting, can we do an execution, implementation of this program five to six years, whereby every year a report is given back to this Body and the Senate to show where are we, so it is very, very tight. Not unless, if all of you agree that you may have corporations from South America, Central America, Mexico, Southeast Asia, running the cartel here in Hawaii in regards to marijuana.

"Come on, let's go back to the background of who's financing everything? We've had issues here before in regards to who's developing all the property in the State of Hawaii. It's not local. It's not local money, Speaker, it's outside money. And that's where I wanted to just share with all of you. Go slow and be cautious of what we do.

"In closing, Senate, I hope you hear what I'm saying, because you folks are going to have this particular measure in your Chambers after we pass it."

Representative Ito rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say continued, stating:

"In closing, it is a concern when we pass a measure. But it always depends, for the freshmen and sophomores, execution and implementation by the Administration. And without the monetary support of personnel, I don't want to be in a position where we have lost control of our state that we dearly love. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"This is the first time, Mr. Speaker. It's the second time I'm voting in public on this measure. I was here back in 2000 when we did champion the medical marijuana program and we were very proud of doing that. We were the first state in the nation to legislatively enact a law to allow our constituents to possess and grow marijuana.

"The truth of the matter is, over the last 15 years for those select number of citizens, marijuana has become legalized for them. Over the last 15 years under the Department of Public Safety, ask yourself this question, how many times has a license to use marijuana in one's home or to grow marijuana, has a permit been revoked? The answer is none. It never has. It has never occurred, never happened. That's how little enforcement is going into the law.

"So unlike some of the other speakers who talk about this being a slippery slope to legalization, I see it as an expansion and commercialization of legalizing marijuana. You see, right now you can get a doctor certificate for a fee and pay $35.80 to the Department of Health and get a card. It's a white card, not a blue card, about the size of a business card. If you're approached by a police officer, law enforcement officer, you flash that card. He or she then on reviewing the card if it's accurate, if it's authentic, if it's current, will not stop you, will not have probable cause to arrest you. Will let you go on your way. So I tell people, that's a fact. That's where we are today. And it makes sense, right? The federal government is not spending any resources and time on prosecuting, and neither should our local law enforcement. Not for the small kid out there smoking some pot, carrying one small nickel bag.

"But that's not what we're talking about. We're going from home grown, back of the yard kind of things, amongst friends or your caregivers, to commercialize, big time, retail marijuana folks. And let me tell you this. The folks outside who've got the money, they're set up and primed to come in. The Representative from Kahaluu talked about the local farmers. Yeah, you grab the permit, the local guy grabs a permit, be a local face, but the money and the accountants and the legal power are coming from the mainland, because money is to be made.

"Folks, I've visited a recreational dispensary in Colorado. Beautiful setup, like a candy store. They've got all the different types of grades and strains and product. What's so ironic about it, especially for the neighbor island guys, you've got to wrestle with this whole GMO issue, I don't know how many of you guys understand, as a commercial product, much of the strains and varieties of medicinal marijuana are patented. They are patents, and who controls and owns the patents? Not the mom and pop. We're talking about the big guys, the pharmaceuticals. We're talking about Monsato. We're talking about Syngenta. We're talking about Bayer. We're talking about Cargill. And it makes sense, it's a product. We also know that big tobacco is also trying to get in the door. Why? We all know. Tobacco sales are down.

"That's why, you look at this bill and it calls for about 26 dispensaries, 30 growing facilities, and everyone is saying, because we need to do this for the 13,000 people that have been waiting for 15 years. Well ladies and gentlemen, look at the facts."

Representative DeCoite rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro continued, stating:

"Thirteen thousand cardholders didn't pop up overnight. Go back several years, what was it prior to four years ago? It was like 8,000. Go back two months, into December. Ask the Department of Public Safety when this question was asked of the cardholders. How many of the cardholders today cannot grow or have a caregiver grow the marijuana for you? Hawaii Island, 5,415 patients, 12 people. Twelve people have no caregiver or cannot grow their own marijuana. Maui, 3,183 cardholders, 78 cannot grow or get a caregiver, less than 3%. Oahu, 3,100 cardholders, 221, a little more, yeah, 7%. Kauai, 1,900 cardholders, six people cannot grow their own or have a caregiver. Molokai, 222, one individual, one person.

Lanai, 28, well, they're okay over there. Niihau, three. They're okay over there. So of the 13,937 cardholders as of December, only 318 say they cannot grow their own, have a caregiver. Keep that in mind.

"Mr. Speaker, can I have permission to submit written comments. So I don't know how often we do something like this for 318 people. But let me point this out to you, too. Much has been said, will be said, about children. The keiki, the youngest, the future generation, the most vulnerable. The need to put resources into their future, our greatest hope. Well let me point out some of the consequences of creating more marijuana out there for them to stumble across or be exposed to, because we've done a poor job with pharmaceutical drugs, tobacco and alcohol, and I don't think we're going to do much better under the current scheme in this bill.

"Research shows that illegal drug use among teens increases as the perception of risk and social disapproval declines, as in the commercialization and legalization of medical marijuana dispensaries. A recent study found that those who use marijuana heavily, daily in their teens and continue into adulthood, 18, showed a permanent drop in IQ of eight points."

Representative Har rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for your indulgence. One in 11 people who start using marijuana become addicted. We're not talking about the stuff in the '70s, '80s and '90s with a THC of 1 to 3%. We're talking about THC in plant content today, 15%, 20%, 25%, 30%, real potent stuff. For teenagers, Mr. Speaker, addiction rates jumps to 1 in 6. Increased use leads to higher addiction rates. Sixty-six percent of serious disciplinary actions in public schools can be attributed to distribution, possession or use of illegal drugs. High school students who use alcohol or other drugs are up to five times more likely to drop out of school.

"I was listening to a National Public Radio story several weeks ago on the radio. You can still download it, listen to it, it's very informative, by this Dr. Frances Jensen. The Teenage Brain, why teens are impulsive, addiction prone, and should protect their brains. It's a good read, but the basic supposition in her book is this. Teenage brains are different and they don't fully mature until the age of 24 and 25. And when they are teens, all the conditions that make learning easier for them versus adult brains are the very same reasons why they are prone to addictive behavior. Addiction is just doing something over and over again and getting more effective and efficient in learning that skill. And teenage brains, by definition, organically, biologically, are prone to it.

"If Hawaii follows the trends of other states like Arizona, I know the task force looked at Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and other states, but in a few years we'll go from maybe three to four to five dispensaries, to maybe over 80, 90, to 100 dispensaries. If Hawaii follows Colorado's lead, as far as the number of cardholders, we'll go from 13,000 to 50,000, 70,000, 100,000 in a few years. Those are the trend lines, folks, if we look at history of other states as any guide.

"From January 1st, 2015 to February 26, same year, just about 60 days that the Department of Health has had this program transferred from the Department of Public Safety, almost 800 new cardholders have come online. Sixty days, 800 more cardholders. The word is getting out. Hawaii is open, come on down, let's make a deal.

"Mr. Speaker, let me give you some examples so we understand what's at stake here. This is a 2 ounce bag. Not the real stuff. Don't get excited. This is 8 ounces."

Representative Cullen rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro continued, stating:

"I'll try and wrap it up, Mr. Speaker. I'll be going with reservations, because you know why, Mr. Speaker, I want a shot at being on the conference committee. Okay, let me wrap this up. I'm going to submit written comments, but I just want to clear my conscience, like so many of you out here today. So you guys know about the effects on the kids. You guys know that there is no additional monies being put into the budget in those areas. Behavioral Health, Health Department, Human Services, Education. You also know that this bill not only trumps the rights of counties on home rule zoning, it trumps the responsibility of Department of Agricultural or where these farms are going to be set up.

"And get this, folks. This is the math, it's amazing. Two thousand dollars to get a license fee to grow marijuana, 500 plants. Double down, you go $4,000, you get 1,000 plants. You think that's a lot of money? Small investment. With the marijuana they have today, the types of strains they have, here one farmer with a one, 1,000 plant license, you get about three growing seasons a year, some of you guys know that. With each season being about four months, that's a long season for a marijuana plant. You process about 3,000 plants. If each plant produces 4 ounces of bud, flowers, then 3,000 plants would result in 750 pounds. If it sells for $2,000 a pound, that would be about $1,500,000 in one year. Not too shabby. GET would get about $70,000 on Oahu, $62,000 on neighbor islands.

"Mr. Speaker, should we chart this course, bold course for our communities, let us ensure that we do not open Pandora's Box. That we do not harm our youngest citizens. That we do not inflict another vice like tobacco or alcohol or e-cigarettes upon them. Let us learn from the experience of other states and let us not take away their futures and handicap them. If you guys are thinking about putting it in my community, don't. But I'll fight you tooth and nail to keep it out of my community. My young people have enough challenges already. I hope to participate further in discussion. I'll be available for any questions. Thank you very much."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I submit these additional comments in further support of HB 321, HD 1, with reservations, and herein thank you for allowing me the privilege to further explain my vote and proffer an explanation to my colleagues and constituents.

"First, as I review the legislative record before us, consisting primarily of the Hawaii Medical Marijuana Dispensary Task Force (HCR 48, 2014), related minutes, sub-committee minutes, attachments and Final Report, Minority Report, and written testimonials submitted herein on HB 321, HD 1, I am not convinced that this measure has been carefully vetted, reviewed, and reflected upon by the members of the Health, Judiciary, and Finance Committees. Apart from a joint committee hearing over five hours on a Saturday, and about a 50 minute "Q and A" from both committees, HB 321, HD 1, looks about the same as it was drafted by the Medical Marijuana Task Force back in January. Furthermore, I am not comfortable with the many unanswered policy questions that may be delegated to the Department of Health and its employees to examine, debate, discuss, and decide. Notwithstanding the fact that there have been several public hearings and some public participation, there has been little or far less community involvement than one may expect on such a major policy determination of whether legalizing the commercial cultivation, growing, and manufacturing and retail sale of medical marijuana and related products is good public policy for Hawaii. As I expound upon further below, this is a major policy decision.

"Mr. Speaker, granted we have had a law in place since 2000 (about 15 years) that provides an affirmative defense from prosecution under State of Hawaii drug laws, but it is more of a compassionate expression of a legally awkward accommodation to allow 'home-grown' marijuana for personal medicinal use, whether the patient grew his or her own or had a caregiver or friend do it. I too had the initial concern back in 2000 as to how one would initially gain possession of even a tiny seed, which is illegal under state and federal laws, to start one's own personal cultivation and have the use of medical marijuana as permitted by law. Throughout the debate and discussion, I was constantly reassured by the advocates that 'marijuana is in all communities and easy to find'. 'There will be no problem for patients to find the seeds and even plants to grow one's own medical marijuana', I was promised by the outspoken advocates. And, to those who stepped forward to provide this insight and assurances, I am thankful for their honesty and courage, for it was not acceptable as it is today. They were right, however, and most of the patients have been able to obtain relief and the law has met its goal, albeit not perfect or complete or without a need to review and reconsider further refinements.

"Simply stated, over the past 15 years a person grew his or her marijuana the best he or she could, or had a friend do so as a gesture of kindness, neighborliness, or affection. There were no headlines of criminal enterprises and regulatory enforcement was practically non-existent, and I cannot recall anyone having his or her card revoked or terminated. In any case, it was not a commercial enterprise or profit making activity, but a means of providing as much relief as possible under state and federal laws, while addressing the legitimate and serious concerns of public health and welfare. Mr. Speaker, one must bear in mind that we did not, as I recall, contemplate the retail growing and sale of medical marijuana, and the State of California was still experimenting with its own recent ballot approval from 1996, only a few years before our discussion beginning in or around the 1997 Session.

"As you know, we were the first Legislature in the nation to 'legalize' medical marijuana in 2000, but the concept of a medical marijuana dispensary was in its infancy stage of public policy development. Governor Cayetano happily endorsed the measure and signed it into law as Act 228, but its effective date of issuing medical marijuana cards did not commence until on or about December 28, 2000. Governor Cayetano and his then Lieutenant Governor Mazie Hirono (now, U.S. Senator Mazie Hirono) left office in the fall of 2001, and from 2002 through 2010, Republican Governor Linda Lingle held the post with Lieutenant Governor Duke Aiona. In those eight years, I do not recall any serious discussion in the Executive Branch or either Legislative Chamber for review of the medical marijuana law and consideration of establishing a commercial growing and retail marijuana dispensary system. The interest or renewed interest seems to have arisen at the inception of the Abercrombie Administration, from early November 2010, and I do not recall having a hearing on a House bill to establish a medical marijuana dispensary system from 2010 through 2012. These historical references are provided so that we might appreciate the context in which this issue has arisen and how relatively recent a public and legislative policy discussion has truly been.

"Mr. Speaker, be mindful that as of December 2014, there were about 14,000 cardholders allowed to grow and use marijuana for medicinal purposes. The graph below depicts the demographics of medical marijuana patients by islands. It also shows those who are not growing nor have a caregiver growing the marijuana for the patient. Strikingly, but not surprising, is the fact that less than 3% or about 318 patients of the nearly 14,000 patients are not currently availing themselves of the present legal ability to grow and/or obtain legal marijuana from a registered caretaker. In other words, 97% of all current cardholders are able to comply with present law and possess and use medical marijuana.

| Island | Patients | Not Growing | % Not Growing |
| Hawaii | 5,415 | 12 | 0.0% |
| Maui | 3,183 | 78 | 2.4% |
| Oahu | 3,146 | 221 | 7.0% |
| Kauai | 1,940 | 6 | 0.0% |
| Molokai | 222 | 1 | 0.0% |
| Lanai | 28 | 0 | 0.0% |

"Additionally, my initial research has led me to conclude that the present policy and law hardly presents any serious barrier to obtain a 'blue card' (note: Per DOH, in 2015, new cards will be white bearing the DOH logo and about the size of a business card), and most applicants with genuine debilitating medical condition receive their cards without much fuss or expense. The current fee is $35.80 and provides the card that practically serves as a handy and useful 'shield' from law enforcement engagement and detention while the legal possessor is in a public place or residence, as long as he or she does not possess more than four ounces of marijuana and/or have seven plants. As you may not know, Mr. Speaker, four ounces is a substantial amount of 'usable marijuana' and can be the equivalent of about 200 marijuana cigarettes or joints. Likewise, if each plant should produce an average of four ounces of 'usable marijuana' or buds or flowers, that would be about 28 ounces, or one and three-quarter pounds of marijuana.

"Thus, because the present law and policy allowing for this special legal dispensation for those legitimate patients, whereby most can acquire and obtain a medical marijuana card for an annual fee of $35.80, and most or almost all or 97% of present patients are using the current system to treat their statutorily defined covered diseases, I am puzzled by the seeming urgency and necessity in moving HB 321, HD 1 forward with such blazing breakneck speed absent any serious discussion of others systems and methods and tools to address foreseeable community and law enforcement needs, and the concomitant additional social and health related costs similar to an increase in alcohol, tobacco, or pharmaceutical drugs. Again, we are, Mr. Speaker embarking upon articulating a new policy for Hawaii – commercialization of medical marijuana – one that our esteemed forefathers have not taken, probably much less even contemplated, so prudence calls us to be careful and doubly sure and even critical and honest of our own lack of understanding and knowledge in a relatively new and evolving policy.

"As I study HB 321, HD 1 and compare it with other 23 states' laws and policies, I am, frankly, impressed with the variety of policy choices made and expectations created among the citizens of the several states. But, for many it is still too soon to impose any 'right/wrong' evaluation and for others, they have yet to launch their regulatory schemes but will do so later this year or next year. In general, however, the other sister 'laboratory of democracies' have enacted some policies worthy of our wholesale adoption in some respects, adjustments and fine-tuning to our diverse local needs, but at the bare minimum a fair and honest consideration through a public vetting and deliberation, which has heretofore been relegated and overrun by a efficiency benefiting a few insiders without the ability of the majority members, less the minority members to even question or consider the impact upon their communities and constituents. Again, the simplistic mantra of 'waiting for 15 years for this' by many advocates has seemingly lulled the Members into a mind-numbing condition ironically similar to the effects of cannabis sativa on the brain, and logic and reason is held captive in a deep trance. I only hope the condition is temporary and not indicative of permanent damage of one's mental facilities and conscience.

"Consequently, with the apparent lack of any meaningful restraint or legislative speed bump, I find myself obliged to offer these further observations and 'bullets' as friendly reminders, amendments, and suggestions in the on-going 'conversation' and 'discussion' for H.B. 321, HD 1. Frankly, only because of the nomenclature we use to define this as a 'work in progress' do I even bother to hold out hope that there is work being conducted and it is progressing.

I. Health and Interest of Adolescents and Children Should Not Be Compromised

- Research shows that illegal drug use among teenagers increases as the perception of risk and social disapproval declines in the production, commercialization, legalization, and promotion of medical marijuana dispensaries.
- A recent study found that those who used marijuana heavily (daily use) in their teens and continued into adulthood (18) showed a permanent drop in IQ of 8 points. A person of average IQ could drop into the lowest third of intelligence range.
- 1 in 11 people who start using marijuana become addicted. For teenagers the addiction rates jump to 1 in 6. Increased use rates leads to higher addiction rates.
- 66% of serous disciplinary actions in public schools can be attributed to distribution, possession, or use of illegal drugs.
- High School students who use alcohol or other drugs are up to 5 times more likely to drop out of school.
- HB 321, HD 1 does not treat promotion of marijuana to a minor in the same way as promotion of alcohol to a minor even though both are equally dangerous to their young developing brains.
- HB 321, HD 1 does not provide additional money for increased health services for minors and children exposed to growing marijuana and marijuana laced products.

- HB 321, HD 1 does not provide additional money for drug abuse prevention and treatment services for anticipated increased marijuana exposure to adults and children in the Departments of Health, or Human Services, or Education.

II. Some Observations and Policy Concerns with HB 321, HD 1

- Federal Drug Policies regarding marijuana still classify it as a dangerous drug, and the current no enforcement policy is essentially due to President Obama's executive authority through his Attorney General, but whose term will end in 2016 or about a year and half.
- HB 321, HD 1 violates basic home rule principles regarding land use and zoning traditionally reserved for local governments (19 of 23 states with medical marijuana dispensaries allow various levels of effective home rule).
- HB 321, HD 1 permits a convicted felon to obtain a license to grow, manufacture and sell marijuana, in contravention against traditional Hawaii license criteria and standards and the recommendation of the current State Attorney General.
- HB 321, HD 1 purportedly seeks to illegally allow for the 'home-delivery' of marijuana to an island that does not have a dispensary by July 1, 2017, even if it violates federal law.
- HB 321, HD 1 fails to require a single licensee to both grow and sell marijuana as in a vertically integrated business model to avoid unnecessary handling of marijuana and creating numerous diversion points. This is another recommendation of the current State Attorney General that has been overlooked.
- HB 321, HD 1 allows foreign and out-of-state financiers to seize unlimited lucrative production and dispensary licenses over the objection of local communities and Hawaii residents.
- Growth of the medical marijuana business and dispensaries will be astronomical and engulf the entire State of Hawaii if Hawaii follows the trends of others states like Arizona from a few to a hundred in several years. In Arizona, they went from 3 to 85 dispensaries in three years for an over 2,000% growth!
- If Hawaii follows the activity of others states like Colorado, we could experience an enormous spike of cardholders from about 14,000 to over 100,000 in a few short years. This occurred in Colorado where they had increases of about 700% in the first year of medical marijuana dispensaries and about 180% in the second year.
- The word is getting out on the Mainland and abroad that Hawaii's Legislature is poised to approve medical marijuana dispensaries in 2015 and already the attention is being seen and felt at the Department of Health. From January 1, 2015 to February 26, 2015 – about 60 days, or two months – about 800 new patients have been registered and issued their 'white' card by the Department of Health.
- HB 321, HD 1 mandates a minimum of 26 dispensary licenses by January 1, 2019, or one per 500 patients, and therein essentially mandating the Department of Health to actively solicit and promote private applicants to make available and promote more marijuana corruption despite contrary mission of the Department of Health to curb smoking, prevent substance abuse, and treat addictive adolescents and adults. The chart below projects the number of production centers to be established based on one per 500 patients. How many of Members' communities would accept this?

Number of Dispensary Sites: One per 500 Patients

| Island | # of Dispensary Sites (rounded) | Actual Number |
|---|---|---|
| Hawaii | 11 | 10.83 |
| Maui | 7 | 6.366 |
| Oahu | 7 | 6.293 |
| Kauai | 4 | 3.88 |
| Molokai | 1 | .444 |
| Lanai | 1 | .056 |
| Niihau | 1 | .006 |

- HB 321, HD 1 mandates the Department of Health to offer licenses for 30 production centers to be established by July 1, 2016, without the requirement of any consultation by the Department of Agriculture and Department of Land and Natural Resources, seemingly given one department veto power of several others. Again, how many members understand how this may or may not be compatible with current or planed use of agricultural lands and water resources.

Number of Production Centers: One per 500 Patients

- HB 321, HD 1 ostensibly assumes that all 13,000 cardholders will cease to grow their own marijuana or cease the care-giver relationship and purchase all their marijuana through the dispensary outlets. Furthermore, according to the Medical Marijuana Task Force Minutes, HB 321, HD 1 assumes that a farmer would grow 3 plants per cardholder (3 plants X 13,000 = 39,000 plants), or 39 producers with 1,000 plant license, or 78 producers with 500 plant licenses. As such, HB 321, HD 1 allows for unlimited production, inventory, and sale of marijuana by for-profit businesses for a limited pool of known potential customers (318), thereby necessitating the need for ever increasing customer base to obtain maximum production scale and sale/purchase ratios; also increasing the diversion potential into illegal markets and availability to minors.
- HB 321, HD 1 provides a 'bargain' license fee of only $2,000 to grow up to 500 plants, or $4,000 to grow up to 1,000 plants at a time, and there is no statutory prohibition for an individual to obtain up to 30 licenses to grow a total of 30,000 plants or more. Without any statutory limitation and residency requirement, this scheme opens the door to well financed, large established foreign or out-of-state firms to capture and control Hawaii's production centers, and hence, local market.
- HB 321, HD 1 would allow a farmer with ONE '1,000 plant' license, coupled with a very conservative 4 growing seasons per year with each season being about 3 months in duration, to grow and process for a production total of about 4,000 plants. If each plant produces 4 ounces (dried flower buds) then 4,000 plants would result in 16,000 ounces or 1,000 pounds. If it sells for, conservatively, $2,000 a pound in bulk, then it would make the farmer about $2,000,000 in one year. The State of Hawaii, if GET is applied, would receive about $94,240 on Oahu and $83,320 on the Neighbor Islands. Keep in mind, that with a cash-only enterprise, the assessment and taxation may be fraught with underreporting and the inability of the Department of Taxation to verify proper tender of tax owed and paid. And again, the present day street price ranges from $2,000 to $5,000 per pound. The enormous profits tend to instill a greater propensity to bend the rules or even break them, especially if regulatory enforcement is weak or merely a nuisance and cost of doing business in Hawaii.
- HB 321, HD 1 does not provide any money for law enforcement for the expected increase in juvenile, domestic and traffic cases as the counties of Hawaii, Maui, Oahu and Kauai will have to absorb the additional costs associated with increased activity. For example, the Maui Police Department has noted that it would cost approximately $221,796 per year to train existing officers with the Advanced Roadside Impaired Driving Enforcement (ARID) program, wherein it would assist officers in detecting drivers under the influence of marijuana. Maui Chief of Police Faaumu informed the committees that at a rate of training 168 officers in a year, it would take the Department a little over two years to train its 352 officers. Further, he would recommend that a group of his officers attend specialized Drug Recognition Expert (DRE) training, which would cost the Maui Department approximately $41,152.25 to train five officers on Oahu. None of these additional costs are covered in HB 321, HD 1, and similar costs may be borne by police departments of other counties. Should the City and County follow the Maui Chief's recommendation and its increases with the population, then Honolulu's bill would be about 8 times or about $1,774,368 for the ARID program and about $328,218 for the DRE program.

- HB 321, HD 1 allows for interim rulemaking powers of up to two (2) years that are exempt from the normal public hearing comment and review process, thereby giving the Department of Health unbridled authority to promulgate rules without public input.
- Retail Sale to Medical Marijuana cardholders would be tantamount to legalization of marijuana for 'club-members' (i.e. Costco, Sam's Club, Marukai, etc.). This is because current Department of Health personnel repeatedly and consistently insist that their role is purely regulatory and not enforcement. And, I am not surprised since even at the Department of Public Safety little enforcement occurred under both Republican and Democrat administrations, but it was left up to the local law enforcement officials. My recent inquiry into records at the Honolulu Police Department indicate the following:
  - 2012 – 2013 investigations regarding marijuana card violations
    - 9 violation possessing in excess of maximum number of plants
    - 4 violations for possessing marijuana with an expired card
  - 2013 – 2014 investigations regarding marijuana card violations
    - 11 violation possessing in excess of maximum number of plants
    - 1 violation exceed number of mature plants allowed
    - 1 violation for possessing marijuana with an expired card

III. Some Possible Solutions to Concerns Raised with HB 321, HD 1

- Encourage public electric utilities and boards of water supply to submit their plans, if any, regarding the increase in electricity and water consumption for production centers. Given the robust mandate to issue 30 or more production center licenses beginning July 1, 2016, the present electrical energy and potable water demand may not be well understood or planed for. Accordingly, this request would proactively determine if any consequences may arise regarding energy needs and potable water demand and consumption.
- Pursuant to the March 15, 2016 deadline for the Department of Health to submit their report to the Legislature regarding the licensing regulatory scheme, the Legislature should also require the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Land and Natural Resources to submit plans to describe and disclose how to accommodate the prioritization of medical marijuana production centers of agriculturally zoned public and private lands, and any environmental impacts arising from and related to this new agricultural crop of a non-native origin. Issues regarding affect upon native forest, conservation lands, buffer zones, streams, ocean, and other water systems need to be evaluated.
- Providing marijuana to minors should be treated similar to the offense of promoting liquor to a person under the age of 21, as established in HRS 712-1150.5. Treatment of unauthorized possession and use of medical marijuana by minors must bear the same serious criminal charges as alcohol, as both are dangerous to young developing brains and pose an especially lethal mixture when marijuana ingestion is combined with driving under the influence of alcohol.
- All licenses to grow or sell medical marijuana should be restricted to Hawaii residents who can demonstrate a minimum of two (2) years residency. Several states have this in their laws, and it may serve, at least initially, to hold back the foreign or Mainland interest seeking business opportunities in Hawaii. This limited and discretionary license authority should stand a constitutional challenge as it comes under the State's general police powers. The point again, is to stem the flood of out-of-state money interest and provide a slight advantage to local entrepreneurs and farmers. These residency requirements can be found in the laws of both Colorado and New York.
- Once commercial licensed growers are producing and dispensaries are selling marijuana, home-grown cultivation and production must be banned. This policy will address one of the major problems facing law enforcement and address concerns of 'black' or 'gray' market production and sales. It is also consistent with the traditional handling and regulation of pharmaceutical medicines that most citizens accept and from where most people obtain their medicines. Like most medicines, retail marijuana must meet rigid drug and food safety standards. An exception can be made for those patients living more than 25 miles from a dispensary. If there is a dispensary within a 25 mile radius of the qualifying patient's residential address, the card will be issued with the 'Not Authorized to Cultivate' status. Additionally, when the application is approved, the Department will email the qualifying patient a list of all dispensaries. The registration identification card issued to the qualifying patient's designated caregiver would also indicate that the designated caregiver is not authorized to grow marijuana. In a nutshell, this one policy alone will also enable the State of Hawaii to curtail the diversion of marijuana to criminal enterprises, youth, and illegal uses which draw the attention of Federal Law Enforcement officials pursuant to the Memorandum for All United States Attorneys, James M. Cole, Deputy Attorney General, 'Guidance Regarding Marijuana Enforcement', dated August 29, 2013. This is the law in several states, including Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Maryland, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey and New York, and it deserves serious consideration.
- Both the growing and selling of marijuana should be regulated in a 'closed system' that ties a specific cardholder to a specific grower/retailer. For example, this means that once an individual is issued a marijuana card, he/she would have to select from a list of licensed growers/retailers who will be given the authority to be the unique 'caregiver' and therefore grow and process the marijuana exclusively for that person. It would be done to the person's unique medical needs, method of consumption, and levels of THC and/or CDB or both. This custom-made, one-to-one growing and selling limits the inventory of the marijuana product by capping the amount of product in their inventory to the maximum amount allotted for each registered patient with some limited and quantifiable range of 'overage' or 'contingency' source. Consequently, this policy addresses a major criticism of the 'open systems' that leads to over production of marijuana, and therein addresses a major concern of law enforcement and substance abuse professionals. States with a 'closed system' include Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Vermont, and it deserves serious consideration.
- Limit licenses to grow or sell to Hawaii to registered not-for-profits or sustainable business corporations. States with this statutory requirement include Arizona, Delaware, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, Rhode Island and Vermont, and it deserves serious consideration.
- Place a ceiling on the amount that medical marijuana can be sold so that the patients can afford to purchase their marijuana at the retail facility. This idea did not arise at the public hearing and I could not locate any reference in the Medical Marijuana Dispensary Task Force Report or Minutes, but this is the law in both New Mexico (2007) and New York (2014), and it deserves serious consideration.
- The Dispensary must use a licensed Pharmacist to ensure that the medical marijuana product, type, strain, system, quantity and dosage does not contraindicate with other medicines or treatment regimens of patient. Connecticut (2012) has this requirement, and it deserves serious consideration.
- Counties must be given the opportunity to restrict or prohibit the growing or selling of marijuana under the home rule principle. In the alternative, if not the power to collectively decide to prohibit the establishment of a dispensary within the county boundaries, then grant the power to reasonably regulate the time, place, and manner of dispensary and production center operations through local ordinances. Denial of local input and the zoning authority customarily associated with the several counties will lead to practical land use and compatibility disputes among users and may even generate lawsuits to challenge overly burdensome state laws and policies. Worse is the 'nuclear option' of bringing in the Federal Controlled Substances Act to trump and challenge the propriety of underlying state policy and law. States which give home rule authority to the local governments include California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, Oregon, Rhode Island and Vermont, and it deserves serious consideration.
- Funds must be provided for County and State Law Enforcement and marijuana abuse prevention and treatment programs and services. As the Maui Police Chief described, there will need to be additional funds found to properly prepare his officers to obtain specialized training to ensure the public health and safety on the highways. At about half a million dollars for Maui County, it is a substantial amount.

- Any medical marijuana program should be a pilot program with a sunset date. Hawaii should compel a legislative review and assessment for any medical marijuana dispensary law by enacting a sunset date whereby the law will be repealed in total unless extended by legislative enactment. For example, Colorado's Legislature approved its law in 2010, but established a sunset in 2016. Fifteen recommendations for the Colorado Legislature to consider. One of the recommendations is to continue the Colorado law until 2019. Other examples include Illinois, which enacted its regulatory statues as a pilot program with a four-year sunset date, and New York with a seven-year sunset date, and a sunset date deserves serious consideration.

IV. FINAL COMMENTS

"In closing, as we further consider and contemplate what may be a final version of this new policy, let us make sure that we acknowledge and accept the federal laws that have been, for all intents and purposes, in abeyance, due to the current executive orders of President Obama and his Administration. We must keep this in mind since the relevant federal law remains intact, undiminished, and the supreme law of the land. As such, the firm and unambiguous directives contained in the memorandum from James M. Cole, Deputy Attorney General to the United States Attorneys, August 29, 2013, must be foremost and held front and center in guiding our actions in these policy pronouncements. In relevant part, the state and federal governments' quid pro quo are as follows:

- Preventing the distribution of marijuana to minors;
- Preventing revenue from the sale of marijuana from going to criminal enterprises, gangs, and cartels;
- Preventing the diversion of marijuana from states where it is legal under state law in some form to other states;
- Preventing state-authorized marijuana activity from being used as a cover or pretext for the trafficking of other illegal drugs or other illegal activity;
- Preventing violence and the use of firearms in the cultivation and distribution of marijuana;
- Preventing drugged driving and the exacerbation of other adverse public health consequences associated with marijuana use;
- Preventing the growing of marijuana on public lands and the attendant public safety and environmental dangers posed by marijuana production on public lands; and
- Preventing-marijuana possession or use on federal property.

"Not only will these eight items provide us a measuring rod upon which all further refinement and consideration must be placed in order to maintain some shelter from federal preemption, but it also may protect existing policies and practices from inadvertent collateral attack and legal challenge. The 'nuclear option' is not without legal precedent, and prudence dictates we clearly recognize this real threat.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, we should not, and we cannot, ever and must never forget to protect the most vulnerable members of our society. The children. The keiki. In short, we must maintain an unwavering constant fixation on the welfare of Hawaii's children. For the facts are self-evident and the medical findings are not in dispute, that the young people run the greatest risk of injury and harm when a community legalizes commercial growing and sale of medical marijuana through a dispensary model. It is not a question of 'if' injury will be inflicted but a question of 'how much?', 'how often?', and 'whose child?'

"As such, I humbly ask that those in positions of authority of the fate and contents of HB 321, HD 1, and subsequent drafts, keep vigilant in their contemplation and deliberations and repeatedly ask ourselves – Whether this policy exposes our children to unnecessary harm? – Have we prepared ourselves and our community to respond to prevention and treatment needs that will arise? – And, otherwise, we run the danger of being the enemy of our better selves and unwittingly sacrifice the innocent future of our most vulnerable and yet promising citizens and future leaders – Hawaii's youth and young adults. Indeed,

'Those who, in the confidence of superior capacities or attainments, neglect the common maxims of life, should be reminded that nothing will supply the want of prudence; but that negligence and irregularity, long continued, will make knowledge useless, wit ridiculous, and genius contemptible.' – Johnson

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Please rest assured that I remain committed to serve you and this Body in further work on this important public policy issue of the day."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, I'll be very brief. In strong support. One of the members of my family has multiple sclerosis and diabetes, the medications for which cost over $100,000 a year. But the only thing that makes a difference and quells the pain is this. So I stand in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Say rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in reservations. But, Mr. Speaker, I want to thank you and the Speaker for the opportunity of having my statements and everybody else's statements here recorded on the House Floor. This is part of the Journal where you folks are going to be reflective what we have said in regards to what the future will be for the keiki o ka 'aina of Hawaii. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 321, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL MARIJUANA," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Cachola, Choy, DeCoite, Fukumoto Chang, Ichiyama, Johanson, Jordan, Kawakami, Keohokalole, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Say, Tsuji, Yamane and Yamashita voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Cullen, Har, Kong, McDermott, Pouha, Tokioka, Tupola and Ward voting no.

At 3:59 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1147, HD 1
H.B. No. 1467, HD 2
H.B. No. 1075, HD 2
H.B. No. 1112, HD 2
H.B. No. 1072, HD 1
H.B. No. 321, HD 1

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 886, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 886, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ohno rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. While I fully support the intent of Sections 1, 2 and 3, which will provide renters credit and a credit for food and excise tax, I do have issue with Section 4, which would extend the elevated tax brackets for another five years. I just happen to agree with the 2009 Legislature which put in that sunset ending this year. I do hope that through the regular appropriation process, though, that we can continue to talk about renters tax credits or food and excise tax credits. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ohno be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto Chang's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to HB 886, HD 1 which would do three things: 1. Extend the high-earner income tax brackets established pursuant to Act 60, Session Laws of Hawaii 2009 by an additional five years, 2. Raise income tax credits provided to low-income households by the refundable food/excise tax credit and low-income household renters credit, and 3. Amend gross income thresholds for households qualifying for the low-income household renters.

"Last session I introduced a measure with similar provisions that would have ensured low-income families receive tax credits and renters' credit. I continue to remain very supportive of these provisions of the bill. However, I am voting against this bill because it does not simply lower taxes for low-income families. Instead, it also raises taxes on those in high-earner income brackets, which could hurt some of the families in my district. In particular, it could hurt small business owners.

"In 2009, when these high-earner income brackets were initially increased, then-Gov. Linda Lingle vetoed the bill. In her veto message, she explained that 'Although there is a misconception that only wealthy people will be affected, this bill will adversely impact almost 37,000 persons, of which 27,000 are sole proprietors, partnerships, or subchapter "S" corporations whose owners report their business income through personal income tax returns.' These aren't extremely wealthy people or giant corporations. In many cases, a measure like this can impact our small, local business owners who we rely on for job creation.

"Mr. Speaker, I don't think it's necessary for us to take from one group to give to another. Our state can afford to provide tax breaks to our lowest income families without forcing our small business owners to give more than they already need to give.

"For this reason, I oppose HB 886, HD 1. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With serious reservations, and for the same reason. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Ohno be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamashita rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I think we're getting a little bit better at trying to align with the federal government. You see, the federal government doesn't like to give any credits unless they can balance it with a tax somewhere. And I think this measure says that, let's continue with taxing the higher so we can give an increase to the credits for our lower income individuals. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Strong support of this measure. I think this is a brilliant move, to tie an extension of a quite reasonable tax with something that needs to be done, hasn't been done in a long time, especially with the lower income brackets. So I appreciate this measure and I hope we get it out. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. H.B. No. 1092, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 1179, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INFLATION ADJUSTMENTS TO CHAPTER 235, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 4:03 o'clock p.m., Representative Choy requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 4:06 o'clock p.m.

H.B. No. 1181, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1181, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, if it's ok, may I go with reservations on all the measures on page 30. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the first two bills and I have a very brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this bill gives the standard deduction a boost so those who most need it will get it. I think this is a step in the right direction, but what we really need to help the poor of Hawaii is to adjust the marginal tax rates.

"Hawaii's poor are the highest taxed in the nation save one other state, and I forget whether it's California or an East Coast state. The poor are being taxed. Now this is great for deductions, but how many of the poor actually do itemized deductions? I mean, so this is good, but we should really be going to where we adjust the marginal tax rate. It's like 7.1% for the poor. I think in California you've got to be earning $50,000 to be taxed that much, or $30,000. The point is, we need to look at this in a macro, not just in an isolated fashion. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

At 4:10 o'clock p.m., Representative Saiki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 4:11 o'clock p.m.

Representative Takayama rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takayama's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations of HB 295, HD 1, relating to the News Reporter Shield Law. My reservations deal with the amended measure's proposed treatment of reporters' unpublished notes, which would be subject to disclosure under certain circumstances. I believe the best way of handling this issue is to use the language contained in Hawaii's original Shield Law, which provided protection from the compelled disclosure of sources and all unpublished notes.

"Hawaii's Shield Law successfully operated as a national model law for five years - from 2008 until it was allowed to sunset in 2013. I appreciate the Judiciary Chair's efforts to support the reenactment of a Shield Law, but it's my hope that we will reenact a measure as close as possible to the original law, which was not broken in the first place.

"It's important to remember that the ultimate aim of any shield law is not to protect journalists and their sources, but to safeguard the public's right to know – and this is best provided by news media that is free from harassment or intimidation."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"If this bill is passed, it will erode the effectiveness of journalist shield laws by deleting unrestricted protection from disclosure of all unpublished information held by the journalist or newscasters. For a democracy to be effective, it is important to maintain a free press. This builds transparency in the democratic process and allows the Legislature to operate in good faith with the general public. For a free press to remain effective, it needs to be allowed to protect sources that may reveal controversial or seditious information. This law is a poor replacement for Hawaii Act 210, which helped to define the national standard regarding shield laws."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, request to insert written comments."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 940, House Draft 1 that prohibits the use of electronic smoking devices in places where smoking is prohibited. This measure applies a precautionary principle towards electronic smoking devices that furthers the overall health, safety, and general welfare of the public by placing these devices under the same indoor smoking ban applicable to cigarettes and other tobacco products.

"For over 30 years, public health advocates have battled to reign in the widespread use of tobacco products. As early as 1930, there was evidence that tobacco use was linked to cancer. In 1964, the Surgeon General of the United States declared that smoking was related to lung cancer. It would take another 30 years before it became widely accepted that cigarettes were harmful and that companies that produced these tobacco products would admit their products caused cancer. Is this the same road we have to travel with electronic smoking devices before we apply sensible regulations that will protect the health, safety and welfare of the general public and employees who are subject to those who choose to use electronic smoking devices?

"Studies are not conclusive yet as to the benefits or deleterious effects of electronic smoking devices. However, there is sufficient evidence mounting to suggest that the precautionary approach adopted by House Bill 940, House Draft 1 is warranted. Various studies have concluded that electronic smoking devices contain several cancer-causing substances, as well as tiny particles of tin, chromium, nickel, lead, and other heavy metals which, in large enough concentrations, can damage the lungs. In November 2014, Japanese Ministry of Health researchers reported that they found greater levels of cancer-causing agents contained in electronic smoking devices than found in traditional cigarettes.

"Based on these types of studies, the call for greater regulation of electronic smoking devices is being taken up across the country and the globe. At least 274 municipalities and three states have included electronic smoking devices in their smoke-free, clean air laws. In 2014, the World Health Organization released a report calling for the banning of the use of electronic smoking devices in public places until the exhaled vapor is proven to be not harmful to bystanders. This report also called upon governments to outlaw tactics that lure young users to the use of electronic smoking devices.

"House Bill 940, House Draft 1 does not go as far as some public health advocates would like in the regulation of electronic smoking devices. Nor is House Bill 940, House Draft 1 a draconian ban of electronic smoking devices. Instead, House Bill 940, House Draft 1 allows individuals who wish to use these devices the same provisions provided to users of cigarettes, striking a balance for the health and safety of the general public and employees, while still allowing the use of these devices. Because House Bill 940, House Draft 1 strikes this balance between the health and safety of the public and an individual's choice to use electronic smoking devices, I support this application of Hawaii's clean air laws to electronic smoking devices."

I just want to inform Members, three of the last four Hawaii State Teachers of the Year have been participants in this program, and it helps to expand this excellent program. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, liberal education that for centuries has been the very essence of a life of the mind, is under assault by an increasingly narrow and market-driven conception of schooling, one that see the arts and humanities as frivolous and expendable. A diverse and well-rounded education is not a frill. It is a vital means of cultivating a desire to learn with passion and curiosity, to think with clarity and rigor, and to engage in civic life with reason and commitment.

"P4C Hawaii, the philosophy for children initiative, is more than just a program of philosophy in the schools. It is an affirmation of the ideal of liberal education. It is a model that attracts visitors from around the world who want to learn how to implement it in their home countries. P4C Hawaii is well on its way to creating a model K-12 complex in Kailua, and since last semester P4C teachers and professors have taught a prerequisite course in the College of Education at the University of Hawaii at Manoa. With the support provided by this bill, this initiative can continue to thrive and grow. Three of the last four Hawaii State teachers of the year have been participants in this program, and worked diligently to bring the Dalai Lama to meet Hawaii students."

I would support this bill if we conformed to the IRC Section 41, and take out that special Hawaii provision which we can't afford or we can't enforce. "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. No disrespect to the introducer. With reservations. My reservations basically stem from some comments I made earlier today. I would like to support my Department of Education and the Board of Education and the progress they have moved forward with hiring some CPAs and doing some new audits on different divisions in their departments and making major changes to their departments. I know this is a huge undertaking, but I would like to allow them to continue what they're doing right now in providing those reports to us. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations on this bill. I believe that we already have enough laws in place with regards to littering, and if littering is the issue then more trash cans might be a better part of the solution than this bill. Mr. Speaker, this bill will be a burden on the city, the counties, and the State of Hawaii, and therefore, Mr. Speaker, I will be voting with reservations on this bill."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is along the lines of that other measure that I voted reservations on, so I'll be standing with reservations on this, and I really don't want billboards in my communities or on my parks or providing a name placed somewhere for some dollars to help for improvements at this point in time. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote and a brief comment. For those who don't believe that billboards and all those other things are slippery slopes, they should vote for this. But if they think that this is going to stop at what's in this bill, I think there's going to be a big surprise in the future. Thank you."

H.B. No. 1356:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1356 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be speaking in strong support of House Bill 1356. Just brief remarks and the rest of my remarks will be placed in the Journal if it's okay.

"First, let me thank leadership for giving me the assignment to address the health unfunded liability, which is currently about $18 billion. I gave up my Chairmanship for Veterans, Military, & International Affairs, & Culture and the Arts, so I can concentrate and focus in addressing this health unfunded liability.

"The inspiration and motivation, I got it from my grandkids. Every time I look at them, and I have a one year, seven months old grandson, and the question I ask is this, what will be your future? What will your future be with heavy burden going forward? Because a lot will be saddled, not only to my grandkids, but to the future generation. You have to understand that in 2013, under the pay as you go, we are already paying $873 million and increasing.

"In 2013 we passed Act 268 where in prefunding on OPEB, Other Post Employments Benefits. Under Act 268, by 2019 we will already be paying about $500 million each year for the next 30 years. We have to fund both the premium funds, which was $873 million in 2013, and $500 million by 2019. It means that even by next year we will already be paying over $1 billion in premium under pay as you go and putting up money under reserve under OPEB. The question I ask is, where are we going to get the money?

"There are only three ways we can do that. On the part of the State, increase GET. On the part of the counties, raise property tax. If you are a resident of Hawaii and you are a property owner, you can be hit twice. So the point that this problem is increasing, it will be hard on the part of not only us right now but the future generations. They are being saddled with a heavy burden.

"The way I look at it is this bill that we are acting right now is to address the unfunded liability without raising GET, without cutting back on employee benefits that we were promised, or laying off employees. This is an out of the box way of addressing this problem, and thanks again for leadership for encouraging us to think outside the box.

"House Bill 1356 has the potential of saving billions of dollars to benefit the State, the counties, especially our constituents, a lot of them are just a paycheck away from being homeless. I therefore urge all Members to support House Bill 1356. There's no downside to this bill as I look at it, and if you're tempted again to vote no, please don't, just vote W/R. Because when you vote W/R, it means you are With Romy. Thank you."

Representative Cachola's written remarks are as follows:

"First of all, I want to thank House and Senate Leadership, the Administration and some segments of the private sector for encouraging policy makers to think outside the box to find a solution to the State's health unfunded liability, which is currently estimated to be $18B. I introduced HB 1356 based on this encouragement.

"To fully understand HB 1356, I encourage everyone to read Section 1, or the purpose section, of the bill. One key thing to keep in mind is that the new Other Post-Employment Benefits (OPEB) standards, under Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) statements #43 and #45, do not mandate the funding of OPEB benefits. In other words, we are not required to set aside assets in advance to pay benefits in the future.

"Paying for both the increasing costs of healthcare premiums as well as prefunding other post-employment benefits is not sustainable into the foreseeable future with the State's current and projected revenues. Some of the easiest ways to address the unfunded liabilities for public employee health benefits are to:

1. Raise revenues by increasing taxes;
2. Reduce benefits to state and county employees, retirees, and their dependents;
3. Reduce workforce of state and county employees;
4. Or a combination of any of the above.

"Prefunding OPEB Fund at $500M per year over 30 years as mandated under Act 268 by 2019 in addition to pay as you go premium payments for Government employee health benefits places a heavy burden on future generations. By 2015-2016 we will already be paying both funds equaling over $1B combined and increasing yearly.

"HB 1356 is an innovative way to address the Health Unfunded Liability without:

- Increasing the State GE Tax & County Real Property Tax
- Laying off current employees
- Reducing already promised employee benefits

"Please note that if you are a resident of Hawaii and a homeowner you can be hit twice with tax increases. An increase in GET by the State and increase on property tax by the county in order to meet their share of the mandated contribution under Act 268. If you are a renter, you will also be hit twice, both from GET and from the landlord who passes the property tax increase along into the rent payment.

"My inspiration and motivation for coming up with this bill begins with my grandchildren by asking this question, 'What will their future be with this heavy burden?'

"Passing this policy as set in HB 1356 will result in long term cost savings in the billions for the State, the counties, the members of the Employer-Union Trust Fund (EUTF), and most importantly, our constituents, many of whom are a paycheck away from becoming homeless. The efficiencies set under this policy will save taxpayer money and provide the State and counties financial flexibilities to fund other needed programs and services.

"Since the financial viability and future of Hawaii, the counties and our constituents is at stake, I urge all Members to vote in support of HB 1356."

"Thank you. With Romy please, Mr. Speaker, all the way."

"With reservations and I would like the words of the previous speaker inserted as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, and I'll be supporting the Representative from the 30th District. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Yes, Mr. Speaker and Members, straight up, support."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1356, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNFUNDED LIABILITIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Choy, Ichiyama, Jordan, McKelvey, Morikawa, Onishi, Oshiro, Rhoads, Takayama, Tokioka, Yamane and Yamashita voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Ing, Kawakami, Kobayashi, Lowen, Matsumoto and Tupola voting no.

H.B. No. 134, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 134, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I support this, and it may come as a surprise that someone who votes against all taxes and fees and fee increases would support an extension like this, but it seems to me that we've reached a point where this is what we need to do. It's a responsible decision. Now I'd like to see us fully fund the project, go to the University and what other legs we have.

"It's also a nod to those people in my district, the working men and women, the hard hat. At every block there's a pickup truck with a hard hat and either painter's equipment or masonry equipment or carpenter's equipment. Those are the working folks, Mr. Speaker, who make this community, who do the live and die and breathing and sweating in this community. We've started it, we've got to finish it.

"Now as my good friend the Judiciary Chairman mentioned last week, there are multiple reasons why we're in this position. Force majeure, I mean the $300 million of revenue that is a shortfall, it's nobody's fault, we just didn't collect those tax revenues. The lawsuits, the set aside to do the archaeological survey cost us about 24 months in construction time, and because we didn't start and had already signed contracts, we had to pay $180 million in fees for not doing the work on time. And so then you get to these delays cause an increase in construction. So it's really nobody's fault. It's a sad situation.

"The second issue is I don't think the relations between the Mayor and the Council is any of our business, quite honestly. This is before us, it's up to us. This is a tough decision, and that's why we ran for office, to make these decisions.

"Mr. Speaker, some of the folks who support the train actively worked against me last time, but that's irrelevant. The thing is that, for our side of the community, certainly this is the right thing to do. I was caught just recently, I was late today, an hour and a half. I got caught in traffic, I couldn't get in. If I had the opportunity to ride the train I would have taken it to get here on time.

"So, Mr. Speaker, for those reasons, if I'm willing to support this given my record against every fee and taxes, then it must be something that we have to do. So for those reasons, I say thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote, please. And I know that we have some proponents in the gallery, so I wanted to share my comments from my district after speaking with the people who are my constituents.

"I think that it is something that needs to happen and that needs to be finished. All we're asking for is disclosure. Letting the public know that every possible avenue is vetted out to save money. If it means getting a private company in there or if it means changing the technology, whatever can and can't happen, that's fine. Just have a public hearing, let the public know what the options are that everyone has.

"I know that there's a dream to have it to alleviate traffic, and everyone wants to see that, but we also want to see that this is really going to be able to happen sometime in the future. If so, what is the quantity of money that's going to be put forward in order to finish it, which if it's too atrocious to share with the public, then maybe that's what we need to know before we make a vote.

"I want to make a good vote if I'm ever going to vote to extend a tax, but I want to make a vote determinant upon correct and accurate information. So if we had more of that, then I'd be able to say, yes, there will be an end. But right now, the people in my community are not convinced that we know all the information. So, thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Mr. Speaker, I feel it compelling to say that I feel that it's ironic that on a Monday morning I can wake up, leave my house in Kapaa on the island of Kauai, and still beat my colleague from Waianae here to the Capitol. I think it's an erosion on our quality of life. I think if you have young kids that you have much better time to be spent with them.

"And I'd like to remind people that are not affected by rail, meaning that they don't need it in their district, that if this project shall fail, and I want you to understand how federal dollars work, any chance of us getting federal matching funds for any future projects are put in jeopardy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of disclosure, I want you to know that when this tax was passed, I was in the Peace Corps in East Timor, some people think because I have been around for a while that I was part of this and I'm just changing my position, I'm not, and I'm for three specific reasons against this.

"Number one, I'm very disappointed about the skin in the game. First in the private sector. I use the example of Japan and Denmark who basically has the private sector build these rails and mass transit, and then the development rights, which we call the TOD, the Transit-Oriented Development, then they make their money in the hotel or the condo or the shopping centers. Therefore, the taxpayers aren't stuck with a full bill. I don't see any private money in this whatsoever.

"Other skin in the game, City and County, they haven't even gotten their GO Bonds yet. They have not even issued a bond because there's a controversy between the Mayor and the Council. That relationship needs to be fixed in order to fix this. So skin in the game, number one.

"Number two, no tight planning. If you fail to plan, you plan to fail, and this thing has been so loosey-goosey. Costs have come out of the air where, how did this happen or where is that. Things are not locked down. This is a billion dollar project. The tighter a project, the more money it needs, the tighter the plan should be. Mr. Speaker, this is still loosey-goosey. People are wondering where and how things are going to happen and when it's going to happen.

"We are seven years out from the actual date that it's needed. We're saying, well look, we've got to do it now. The full rationale of that was explained to the Finance Committee, but I'm not sure that too many people really understood what it was and why it's got to be now. Fortunately, the Governor is sort of putting his foot down and saying, well maybe not exactly now.

"Mr. Speaker, the third reason I'm opposed to this is the unintended consequences. This tax fever now has spread to the neighbor islands. We have to, with this bill, give every county the power, not just as we've given in the past through our Constitution property taxes, but actual taxes to have a GE Tax in the different counties. I think that's a very bad consequence and something that is not a good foreboding.

"The bottom line, Mr. Speaker, we could do it better, we could do it smarter, and I think if it's going to be built it's got to be built the wise way, not just a willy-nilly, here and there, and time and again to come back to us and ask for help. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my reservations on the measure and very brief comments, Mr. Speaker. I really appreciate the fact that House leadership and the Finance Committee looked at foresight and actually made this bill a tax reduction for those in the County of Honolulu, Mr. Speaker.

"My concerns stems on the issue that this tax will be existing far longer than future Legislatures. There's no set date for it to sunset. And so if we're going to looking at an ongoing tax, I think it requires more discussion as well as more transparency both from the City and County of Honolulu but also by HART. Mr. Speaker, many of our colleagues here have asked for specific information regarding the planning, regarding how TOD is being designed, regarding how partnerships are being developed to reduce the overall costs. And some of that information has never been sent to many of the Members here today.

"So this project needs to happen, okay, Mr. Speaker. It'll help move people from my community and communities on the west side both to work and home, and improve the quality of life of many of our Members. But, Mr. Speaker, also what I call is to ask the Mayor and the City and County of Honolulu to make sure that they put in writing, put it in the PLAs, that they hire local labor first. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations. Just very briefly, lowering the cost of living has been one of my top priorities, which is why this measure is very difficult for me. However, we're currently faced with a situation where every single one has consequences. Every single option has consequences, and the battle is choosing which is the best one. I'm very reluctant to ever raise taxes, but the cost of stopping the project has even more consequences, and the option of raising property taxes is equally as troublesome.

"That being said, I feel that we can't continue this tax in perpetuity. We're going to need out of the box strategies, and there needs to be checks and balances for the City and County as well as for HART. And at this time I'm still engaged in conversations with my community as to where they feel, which is why I stand in reservations today. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I do have a couple of concerns though, but the reason why I'm not with reservations is because this needs to happen. We're billions of dollars in, we're billions of dollars to completion. It makes no sense to turn around and swim back to the island that we came from.

"My first concern is the idea of putting good money after bad money. Basically we need to move this forward with an audit going even past the beginning of HART to when these plans first came to be and to see if the people involved, did they know what the costs were going to be, did they purposefully underestimate the cost knowing that we'd be in this bind years later.

"Secondly, we should put conditions to make sure that this rail does get to UH Manoa, that some of the money that they use is taxpayers' money, doesn't get used for swaying public opinion via advertisements. That's not the job of the public. That's the job of the Mayor and other politicians outside during campaign time. We should also make sure that there's legislative oversight throughout the duration of the project to its completion and beyond. That's all. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure but with some reservations. If I had my druthers, what I would try and do is work on the Senate bill that came over. The Senate bill for some of us who are looking at this measure seriously, knowing that we have to make a decision this year some way of going forward on the rail question, I believe has a surcharge of 0.5% and it continues out to 2022 and beyond five more years to 2027.

"The current draft before us, the House bill, the House position going over to the Senate, reduces the surcharge 0.5% to 0.25% effective January 1st, 2017. I don't sit in the Finance Committee so I'm not privy to all the calculations or what that might be on the fiscal front as far as the revenue that would be ported over to the City, but I think rough estimates gleaned from media reports is that, although you might extend it out for some period of time, let's say five years, it will certainly lead to a loss of about $1.4 billion when you include the $900, $910 million they're currently short on. So again, that's one of the unattractive features of this bill.

"On the other hand, there are some attractive features, and I think it's one that there is no sunset date. This 0.25% may be extended beyond the current 2022 sunset date for the 0.5% surcharge. And depending upon how you calculate that endpoint and the revenue generating ability of that 0.25%, we may in fact have the ability, and I agree with my colleague from Maui, to take this out to UH Manoa, which I've always hoped that we could do. Also go back into Kalaeloa, Kapolei, and finish up the preferred plan that we always envisioned when we decided to go with this mass transit program back in 2005.

"So I guess we have to work with what we have, but again I hope that Members really weigh in on this issue, engage their communities and talk to them. I've been honest in my discussion with my community. I'm bullish about public transportation. I think we need it. It's a quality of life issue. It's a transportation equity issue. It affects all of us here on Oahu, and I'll even say on a larger scope regarding federal funding and the jobs, how Honolulu goes, the State of Hawaii goes. So for those reasons, I support this measure, hope we can work it out. Thank you very much."

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations. One is, I would like to see more transparency on the County, a need for financial accountability. Like that of the Representative from District 14, I can fly here faster than most of you coming in from the west side. The cost of raising taxes is a major issue for our district, but I would like the Mayor to exhaust every avenue that he possibly can. I would also like to insert comments to the Journal. Thank you."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing with reservations on HB 134, HD 1.

"Initially when the State decided to place a surcharge on the state tax, it was supposed to be a temporary thing. Now we are trying to expand the surcharge, which seems to be in contradiction with what our Legislature told our constituents. I am a firm believer in following through with your intentions, but I do understand that you can't always follow through on a promise.

"If it were not for the current situation with the rail, I do not believe we would even be entertaining the idea of continuing this surcharge. Unfortunately, we are now in a situation where we must extend the surcharge in order to continue funding for a controversial rail project, or risk losing a very large amount of money, time, and other resources. Effectively we are stuck in this mess.

"At the very least, I support the fact that this measure allows each individual county to collect the surcharge revenue for their respective operations. However, this legislation presents an Oahu-centric mindset in regards to the needs of our islands. Not every county has as big of a transportation problem as Oahu, and what is good for some is not always good for all.

"Our islands are suffering from severe healthcare issues, among other things, and would benefit from directing their surcharge revenue towards more pressing matters in their counties. I would prefer to see more flexibility with what the counties can do with this surcharge revenue, as well as more accountability regarding the use of surcharge revenue. I also would like to see the counties work with their residents to figure out what the people need this money to go towards.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, please take note of my reservations to HB 134. I urge all of my fellow legislators to think very carefully any time we are voting on matters of taxing our citizens. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support. I stand in strong support because of watching what has happened from Maui. Today, good example, one of my people come into my office, took him an hour and a half to get down a stretch called Fort Weaver Road, which I understand is like supposed to be a 15 minute drive, Mr. Speaker. That's on any given Monday with no major accidents or rain or anything else. Even on this timeline, if this is happening on just a regular old day, what is going to happen further?

"I come from the west side of Maui, Mr. Speaker, we have one road in and out, a cul-de-sac we call it. We know what it's like when somebody rear ends somebody else and you have two hours of traffic not moving. As the good Representative from Hanalei said, I'd like to enter his words into the record as if they were my own, that's time away from families, that's time away from jobs, that's basically everything stops.

"Also I would like to add the words of the good Representative from Ewa, except for the part about voting against everything, because this is the point he makes. These trucks and cars you see are working people. And a lot of the jobs that are going to be created through this, either directly through rail or through TOD, are going to put many of those members, whose trucks are sitting in their houses all day, back to work. And not to work where they have to drive across the island, but right in their back yard, which relieves what? Traffic, Mr. Speaker. That's really the important thing.

"Nationally, if you look, the environmental community supports mass transit and light rail as a way to reduce green house gases, congestion, and all the other types of pollution and $CO_2$ emissions that are basically all over the place. We on Maui, Mr. Speaker, moving forward, would like rail, looking to the future, trying to get those easements set aside now, so that we can have this, which every major city in the world, people, has light rail of this size.

"So I guess the thing is, nothing is perfect in this world, but when you look at the imperfection of the gridlock that is coming and getting worse every day, Mr. Speaker, I hope we can continue to work diligently to address all the concerns. But as the Representative from South Maui said, to just simply ditch it, to jeopardize federal funding, and to see Fort Weaver Road where three hours, four hours is the norm of a given day, is surreal, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations, Mr. Speaker. If I'm correct, I think I did speak on Second Reading on this measure, but I'd like to thank the Representatives from the 13th and 14th Districts, because you're looking at somebody that gave myself an hour and 15 minutes to get in this morning, Mr. Speaker, and everybody was worried, where were you this morning.

"Well, Mr. Speaker, it took me two hours to get in this morning, and that was due to two late accidents that happened at the H-1/H-2 merge, about 7:15 this morning. So I hit traffic at the Kapolei entrance, and I stayed in traffic until the Halawa exit. I didn't go any more than 20 miles an hour, Mr. Speaker.

"I don't feel no pity, and you shouldn't feel pity for me. Because I thank the former legislators that allowed development on the west side. Because the east side didn't want it, and Honolulu didn't want it. We need to grow the Leeward side of Oahu.

"I used to sit on those neighborhood boards and I listened to the former Mayor Harris and their development team talking about this thing called hubs and spokes and rails, and I scratched my head and said, that would never help my community. And then I remember the former mayor, Mr. Hannemann, coming to the Waianae Coast, and over 300 people attended that meeting, Mr. Speaker, saying we need rail for our jobs and for our community. But yet I voted no when it was on that ballot.

"Here I am today. The train has left the station, and I am totally in support of the rail. It will never come to my community, it will never come to the district next to me. The closest it's coming to my community is UH West Oahu. And I pray someday it gets to UH Manoa so we can connect that educational circuit. And then the City and County of Honolulu can do that hubs and spokes, and create a better bus system for my community, because see, Mr. Speaker, many of the individuals that live in my community don't even own a vehicle. They rely upon the City and County of Honolulu transit system. A CountryExpress, 41, 40.

"See, when I was growing up, I depended on that bus. Number 52, and I learned the word, M-A-K-A-H-A, because I went to the sixth grade and my mother told me that's what you need to remember, M-A-K-A-H-A, number 52, because that's the bus you needed to take home at sixth grade. I'm 50 years old now, Mr. Speaker, and it hasn't changed for my community.

"So I encourage everybody, we need to refocus, we need to make a commitment to the communities, we need to develop transit, and a hubs and spoke system, and we need to go forward with TOD, or DOT as they want to call it, which would be development along the transit line, because that's how we're going to redevelop our island of Oahu. Because the planes aren't going to stop coming, and families aren't going to stop growing, Mr. Speaker.

"And when the next development gets okayed by our City and County of Honolulu called Ho'opili, which they've been planning for 12 years, that's a minimum of 25,000 vehicles that gets on the road before I can get on the road. That's about quality of life.

"And unfortunately, some people may think that 0.5% is so burdensome on them that we can't see the vision of the future. We must remember that if you expend about $20,000 in your groceries, in your rent, that's $100. That's what we're talking about. So if an average family in Honolulu makes about $60,000, they're probably spending $20,000, $30,000 a year on their expenses, so that could be costing them $150 to support public transit."

Representative Choy rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan continued, stating:

"I think that's a very small sacrifice, because our alternatives are not pretty. Increase the gas tax, increase property tax. We don't have too many options. And unfortunately for the few that think we can just tear it down and make it all go away, we're still going to have a liability, and I think that will be worse for the citizens of Honolulu. And then it will now become the State's burden. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I have serious reservations about this bill, which would lower the GET rail surcharge to 0.25% from the current 0.5% starting in 2017 and leaves open the length of the surcharge as well as the State's share of the surcharge.

"I have always supported the rail project and I believe it is essential to see it through to completion. It is not an option to stop building rail and pay back the federal funds. This is shortsighted and will only hurt the State in the future. I hope that the City and HART will pursue additional federal funds to complete the Locally Preferred Alternative, which extends the rail line to UH Manoa and to West Kapolei.

"At the same time, I have concerns about the current ability of HART to keep the rail project on budget and on time. I support the request for a fiscal and management audit of HART to improve oversight of the rail project and its implementation. I also support HART's efforts to redesign and plan the rail stations and remove the 'nice to have' items and cut down to what we 'need to have'.

"The decrease in the GET surcharge to 0.25%, while laudable, leaves open the question of whether the City will still be forced to raise property taxes to meet the HART budget shortfall. If we are reducing the GET surcharge only to pass the taxes onto homeowners through the property tax, this is not a preferable solution.

"I appreciate the hard work of the Finance Committee on this difficult measure and I will continue to closely monitor its progress for the remainder of this session. I note that this bill does have blanks and will return to this House for final approval. I hope that the concerns of this Body and the concerns of the public will be addressed by that time. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Before I begin, I ask that the words of the Representatives from Ewa Beach, Kahului, Waianae and the CPC Chair be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you, Chair.

"Mr. Speaker, I want to share and enter into the Journal a map. This is a map from Google Maps that I use every time before I go anywhere, because I live in Ewa Beach. And before I left the Capitol about two weeks ago, I entered in going home, what's the quickest route, because you never know what the quickest route is, given how traffic is always horrible. This particular day, it told me that the quickest route was to take the Pali to Kailua, and then to Kaneohe, and then back across the H-3, just to get to Aiea, not even halfway home. That's how bad traffic is.

"There is a colleague of mine who called me once over the summer, he was stuck in traffic heading west, and he called me and he said, Matt, this is a really bad traffic day, what's going on? I said no, no, this is a normal traffic day.

"The communities on Windward Oahu and East Oahu, and even Central Oahu and North Shore, I understand there's a lot of people who don't support this, but the reason there's not development there, is because it's where I live. It's because Leeward Oahu has taken the pain of development. And what we need with that is the infrastructure.

"People talk about how long it took to get to work today. It took me an hour and a half. It took my office manager two hours, he lives in Iroquois Point. It took my wife an hour just to get to Aiea. And the only reason I got to go an hour and a half is because I use Google Maps, and I guess I'm letting the secret out, it told me, now get this, to go east to the Capitol, I had to go west, to go all the way out to Kapolei. Once I got to Kapolei, I had to go up North/South Road, take Farrington. I drove the rail route today. And today, for the first time, I drove under the rail. Because that's the crazy route that was the quickest route here, and that was an hour and a half.

"This is becoming and everyday experience, and it is unacceptable. Even if development stopped now, today, on Leeward Oahu, we still need the rail. Even if it stopped now, we still need support, we still need help. And with Ho'opili coming, 25,000 new cars ahead of us. There are plans for the developer to put in some traffic mitigation things on H-1 elsewhere, after they build the development. They need to do it before, because we need that today.

"Mr. Speaker, I do believe that the State should seek more comprehensive accounting of the monies generated from the project through taxes. The Star-Advertiser, for example, reported this past Sunday that the rail and traffic are number one issues for many people on Oahu. We must continue to ensure that an interconnected infrastructure and transportation plan is achieved in order to sustainably provide transportation relief to our residents, especially those in my district.

"I urge my colleagues to support this extension, even if it means with reservations, because for many of you, again, the reason you're not facing these developmental problems in your area, is because we're taking the burden. But we need your help, if we're going to do something to help you. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti submitted the following:

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. I'd like the words of the Representatives from Wailua and Kihei to be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. I spoke earlier about this, I'm going to be doing some community outreach. I have a neighborhood meeting tomorrow where I'm going to have to explain why I voted in favor of a tax increase for an infrastructure project that does not go to my community, and I'm going to tell them it's so that I can keep the Representative from Ewa Beach out of Kaneohe.

"But also, it's because when I visited the residents of my communities when I was campaigning, the biggest issue, dozens of homes that I went and visited were filled with residents who were against the rail. But overwhelmingly more homes were filled residents who had family members, children, grandchildren, who are living on the mainland because they cannot afford housing in our communities anymore.

"If we ask ourselves where we're going to put all the people who want to live in Hawaii who are from Hawaii, who grew up in Hawaii, especially on this island, the only reasonable answer that I can see thus far is to build infrastructure to put them in our urban core. A lot of folks talked during the campaign about smart growth and smart development, and I think what they meant by that is this project. Like I said, it's an ongoing conversation in my community.

"We have to talk more about UH in my opinion, because it just makes logical sense if we're going to go through this exercise and talk about taxes, which is a painful thing to talk about. But for those reasons, I'd like to continue to stay engaged on this issue as I said before, so I'll be voting with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Woodson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First, I'd like to thank the Chair of Finance for her tactic recommendation that she made on behalf of the Committee on Finance. And I'd like to thank the Committee on Finance for ultimately passing out this measure so that we can debate it for this third Floor vote. Mr. Speaker, I often don't speak on the Floor, but I think this issue is very important.

"I represent a neighbor island, but it does impact me, and I see it as a 'we' issue. And it's, how do we move forward with some of our issues that face this great state.

"Traffic is most certainly one of them, Mr. Speaker. And I think that all of us hear the stories about how our colleagues and our family members wake up at 3:00, 4:00 in the morning just to get their kids in school and to make work on time. To me, Mr. Speaker, that's not acceptable. It's just not.

"So I know there's been a lot of discussion as to, well this is not going to reduce traffic, and I humbly disagree. You could look at some of the things that are happening in other jurisdictions, Mr. Speaker, places like California. And, Mr. Speaker, I don't know if you've ever driven on the 405 in Southern California, Mr. Speaker, but let me just give you a hint. It's horrendous, it's terrible. It's as terrible, in fact, as driving on the H-1. And what are they doing over there, Mr. Speaker, well they already have rail, but they're building high speed rail from Los Angeles to San Francisco for the tune of, I believe, $10 billion. That's a cash-strapped state right now, but they're making a $10 billion investment because they believe, collectively, that this is something that they need to do for their state. And I believe that this is something that we need to do for our state as well.

"Mr. Speaker, I know that there's emerging technologies such as automated vehicles or what have you, and I do believe that those will make a significant difference in reducing the traffic, but those are cost prohibitive for many of us, Mr. Speaker. Especially for those who don't have cars now.

"I think that it hasn't been accented enough, but let's talk about promises, let's talk about commitments, let's talk about contractual obligations. We have already made a commitment to the federal government that we're going to move forward on this rail. Now, do you think that the federal government is going to work with us again if we say, never mind, we're not going to move forward? They're going to laugh in our face, Mr. Speaker, when we come back and say, take a look at this application. They're going to say, no, we don't want to, because you guys don't fulfill your obligations. We're going to go with Texas, or we're going to go with Massachusetts, or we're going to go with California. And then where are we going to be when we need those federal funds, Mr. Speaker?

"So I urge my colleagues to think deeply, to think broadly about implications. I know it's tough, I know it's hard, but we have to stick together and move forward. So I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. In some sense, I don't really have any skin in this game. I've commuted to the Capitol now for, started as a staffer in 2001, and it takes me 15 minutes door-to-door walking. There was one time where I had to wait two cycles to cross Beretania because a bus stopped right in the middle of the crosswalk and I couldn't get across safely. So traffic in many respects for me personally means pretty much nothing.

"But let me just talk about some of the things that people talked about before that I think are red herrings. One is information. If you go to honolulutransit.org, there is so much information on this project, you'll spend, you could just drop all of your other work for the rest of the session and just read about this transit project.

"The planning, same situation. There has been so much planning, the EIS is, I don't know, 800 pages long or something like that. I think there's a supplemental EIS. All the lawsuits that I've talked about the other day with regard to delaying the project. They lost us a lot of money. They lost us a lot of time.

"But one good thing they did was they made the planning even more precise because the federal judge worked it all over, looked over all those questions and said, yeah you've got to do this, you've got to do that, and yes you've already done this, yes you've already done that. If I remember correctly, it was an appeal to the 9th Circuit, and a three or five judge panel looked at the planning again. So the planning is, I can't imagine a project that has ever been this carefully planned.

"The question of why now? The question for why now is called the procurement code. You can't commit money until you've got a source to pay for it. This is the same problem that the Kona Courthouse has, DAGS doesn't want to move forward with the project until they've got the money in their hands. And that's why HART is holding up, that's why they're here today in 2015 and they hope not to come back in 2016 or 2017.

"I've always disagreed with the argument that it doesn't help any other areas besides the places that it actually goes. And the reason it helps is, if you're driving into town, there are going to be fewer cars on the road when you get here. It's like having pipes in a water system. If you have an extra pipe, the other pipes don't have to be as full. And yes, there will be more traffic as the population grows, but compared to what it would have been otherwise, there's going to be fewer cars on the road no matter which direction you're commuting from. Over the Pali, over the H-3, over the Likelike or in from East Honolulu.

"With regard to the question about PR, there is one issue that I kind of disagree with HART about is, when Dan Grabauskas came in and took over at HART a few years ago, he cut like 80% of the PR, which I thought was a mistake. And the reason why I thought it was a mistake is it's a $5 billion project. People who have never lived in a city with a rail system, how are you going to know how it works? Somebody has to explain that the buses will stop at the train stations. That the ticket from the bus will work on the train. That there'll be park and rides for cars that they can stop at the train station. It all seamlessly fits together. There's one fare that you pay. You have to tell people how things work, you can't just expect to spend $5 billion and not explain anything. So I think if anything there's not been enough PR on this project, and it's one area where I really disagreed with Mr. Grabauskas's strategy.

"I would just end by saying that, this is a project that is transformative. It will focus development along the rail system. My bold prediction, well I don't know how bold it is, other people have made it too, my prediction is that 10 years after the rail is built, and I think it will be built, 10 years after it's built people will wonder how we ever got along without it. Mahalo."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much. First of all I'm voting up and I ask all of you to, within your conscience, please vote up. And before I go on I want to thank the young people from Maui who's not going to benefit by this but all voted up, clear. Thank you very much. And also the Representative from Waianae who's not going to benefit from this, she voted with reservations, but with strong arguments why we should have the rail. And with the Representative from Kalihi, he just walks to work, but he also favors this.

"This is what I call statesmanship. Where you can look beyond your own needs and look at the needs of the State as a whole. Not looking for today, but looking for tomorrow, five years, 10 years, 20 years. You know that the traffic is going to get worse. It's not going to get better. So for all of you that are voting it, you're taking the role as a statesman which you should, and I'm very proud of you.

"Now, some of you complained about that 0.5%. I've never in my career heard people complain when you lower the taxes. I must say that that argument is probably not very compelling. Not only will you lower the tax, but this tax that we lower it to, the House did, 0.25%, can take care of all the needs, especially if you start looking at maybe a 25 year span. You can get bonds for over $1 billion and take care of all of your debts and move on. This is what you want to do.

"We can look at taking care of University back to Kapolei. Maybe even back to Hawaii Kai. Rails don't end after one project, and some Representatives say I think it may go on for a longer time. Yes, probably it will. Probably it will because our traffic is not going to get better in five years or 10 years or 20 years. It's going to get worse. We're going to need more routes, more avenues to get in.

"And if the only area that you build homes is going to be on the west side, you can't build homes here except very expensive condominiums like $1 million, $5 million, $25 million. Maybe some of you will have that kind of money in the future where you can buy one, but you're going to have to go west or you're going to have to go Maui maybe or Kauai or Hawaii.

"Also what this bill does, even though I have my friend the Mayor sitting there, bringing it down to 0.25%, it is begging the County to participate in this project. And the Mayor is smiling because he knows he'll have to. So it'll be a partnership between the State and the County and private enterprise. So thank you very much for allowing me this time and thank you for your strong vote, which I expect to get here very shortly. Thank you very much."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Everything that the Speaker said is correct. And one of the things, in consultation with the Speaker, the reason why the Finance Committee lowered the 0.5% surcharge to 0.25% is, when we look at the bill, we cannot be so Oahu-centric.

"Although a majority of the discussion was about Oahu and the rail system, because now we're at a position that we have to offer it for all the counties. The question is, is 0.25% okay for all the other counties. So it's our obligation to look at from the state tax policy whether we at this point are able to give up the taxing authority to all the counties. It's one thing to take care of the Oahu issue, but are some of the neighbor island counties willing to withstand the 0.25% increase.

"The other thing I think we need to figure out is, I think there's a lot of disagreement about what is the county's responsibility. For Oahu, it is for rail. For the neighbor islands, I think in 2005 when they dealt with this issue the other neighbor islands rejected the tax increase right away. Since then for the last 10 years what we've been hearing has been all regrets. So once we authorize this, I think there is going to be full discussion with the neighbor islands on whether they will also authorize this tax.

"So as state policymakers, yeah, we have an obligation to rail. But at the same time, what is our obligation to take care of our state services and what is our ability to give up a taxing authority, 0.25% as the Speaker said, I think it's appropriate. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. Very brief comments. I wanted to pick up on the comments of the Chair of Finance and taking a look at the taxing policy for the other counties, and I hope that as part of the discussion moving forward, we've heard a lot about our public hospital systems, so if we could maybe broaden what that county surcharge might be for the other counties, because I think we keep coming back to the issue of how are we going to fund our beleaguered hospital system. So this clearly is a funding stream for that.

"Secondly, a few comments on the surcharge as it relates to the City and County of Honolulu. I do have reservations. I think much has been said about skin in the game for the City and County of Honolulu. I think as we move forward I would like to see more than just a letter or a resolution from the City Council in support of the bills being heard by this Legislature. I would like to see movement on the bonds. I would like to hear a conversation about a real property tax increase on properties that exceed $2.5 million, $5 million. Frankly, I don't know anyone here who resides here who has a property that's that expensive. So as the Finance Chair made remarks earlier about how real property taxes are being exported to individuals who don't live here, let's go after that as some revenue stream for the rail.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, my community is going to be welcoming the Mayor and the HART Board into our community to discuss this very project on March 30th. So I'm eager to hear from my community, from representatives from the HART Board, as well as the Mayor, as we move forward on this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I'd like to incorporate the words of the Finance Chair as if they were my own. I'd also like to comment on that, I think the whole state should be more consistent in the taxes, because I for one purchased something on Kauai, brought it here to get a refund, and I had to pay 0.5% tax on my refund. So that's the reason why I would like the consistency. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm speaking in support of House Bill 134, but with reservations. As you know, I have supported rail even when I was in the House. And the only thing that I can say and ask is that the City and HART should play smart or smarter.

"When they started building the rail, we made a suggestion to start downtown going to the Leeward area rather than the other way around. That is a big mistake on the part of HART and the City. And I cannot understand, and I came up with a lot of op-ed, that if we start from the Leeward area coming in, you finish the first leg, or even up to Pearl City or Aloha Stadium, I question, who is going to ride? Those kinds of things should have been followed through by the Administration, to start Downtown going to the Leeward area.

"When they came again and when we debated or heard House Bill 134 in Finance, I urged the City and HART to at least find ways to cut costs in the construction of the rail. I suggested that the most expensive portion of the rail, that is from Ala Moana Shopping Center all the way down to maybe Aloha Stadium, must be done first or fast-tracked because the cost in Downtown is three times the cost from the Leeward area. And if you fast-track the construction, with inflation and the cost of construction going higher, you'll finish that and you will save a lot of money.

"The other thing that I can see is this. We should be concentrating in completing the 20 miles minimum operable segment, because that's the line that we have signed a contract with the federal government under a full funding grant agreement. Forget about all the other extensions in the meantime. Concentrate on the 20 miles because that's what we have to do, so that the feds will look highly on what we're doing.

"When it comes to traffic, we should think again outside the box. When Senator Inouye was still alive, I went to see him and we were able to get $4 million as a pilot program for an intra-ferry system from the Ewa Marina all the way down to Aloha Tower. And we went and tried it, and it was fast. In less than 30 minutes you were already in downtown Honolulu. We should look further in terms of coming up with an intra-ferry system while the rail is being constructed to at least give the residents of the Leeward area another means of transportation so that they will not be stuck in traffic. So all these kinds of things should be looked at.

"Again, the most expensive part of the rail must be done right away. And I asked this question, and the response of the City and HART is that yes they'll do it at the same time as whatever is the contract that they already signed in the Leeward area. So hopefully, we want to see that the City and HART is going to push through what they have stated in the Finance Committee to save taxpayers money. So I would be supporting with reservations on House Bill 134. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm supporting with very, very minor reservations. I appreciate the Finance Chair's 0.25%. I lived in the Bay Area, and I noticed that with a BART tax it affected only those cities that BART went to. And that's my concern. My concern is that it's going to spread to the neighbor islands, especially with the Attorney General's report stating basically that enforcement is an issue.

"I do understand that the county is going to need it, especially the County of Hawaii with the infrastructure expenses, the massive infrastructure expenses Mayor Kenoi did for the district of Puna, my district. So that's why it's with very, very minor reservations.

"My concern is that GE Tax is a regressive tax. It affects the poor more than it does affect the rich. Again, I appreciate it's 0.25% rather than 0.5%. I do have concerns that if it goes to the neighbor islands, that people are going to push it towards healthcare rather than allowing the counties to use it. I know that's not here, but I'm putting in my two cents worth. You know the County of Hawaii, especially Puna, we need infrastructure more than we need, we probably also do need healthcare but not right after disasters.

"Again, I see the need for mass transit. When I grew up in Honolulu, that's all I went, we depended on it. We didn't have cars. I could see it now, I could see it in the future. I thank the Chair for creating a creative solution for it. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you. I previously spoke with reservations and I hope that the City Council heard my reservations and will be submitting some sort of testimony at some point to let us know where they stand. But having already said that, I think I can just support this straight up now."

Vice Speaker Mizuno: "I'm sure you weren't influenced that the Mayor's up there that changed your reservations to straight up."

Representative Fukumoto Chang continued, stating:

"At least he came to testify. Where was the City Council, excluding Councilmember Pine? I did want to just address something slightly different in my comments this time. I think as the Minority Leader of a caucus that is voting the majority in favor of this favor, I've become the focus of a lot of anti-rail Republican sentiment, and I'm getting a lot of phone calls asking me to kill the rail. So I wanted to make a couple of things clear.

"First of all, those are not coming from my district. I think this is the best thing for my district, which is Mililani and Mililani Mauka. It took me also two hours to get in this morning, so I recognize the struggle that the families in my district are having.

"But to make one other thing clear, which is that we are not voting to kill the rail or to pass the rail. That is already done. The City and County has the power to build the rail and they have the power to fund the rail. They have the ability to raise property taxes. They can raise revenues from other things. All this is doing is giving them another option. We're saying, maybe we don't want you to only be able to choose property taxes. We want to maybe let you choose the GET, because that might be better, it might spread out the burden more. And we want to make sure that they have that option, and that is all we're saying.

"This bill says that the county may adopt a surcharge. We are not saying that we are telling them that they have to. They have to choose that. They have to look at their own finances and decide what's best. What is the best, most fiscally responsible way to build the rail, which we so desperately need in Central and Leeward Oahu. But that is on them, they get to decide that. All we are deciding today is whether or not we want to give them the option, so they have more choices. So I just wanted to make that clear. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Upon hearing the great speech from our Speaker, I'd feel remiss if I didn't ask for a ruling on a potential conflict of interest. My wife spends so much money here in this county that this tax break is going to benefit me directly in my pocketbook," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Kawakami continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, and just still in strong support. I'd just like to remind my neighbor island colleagues that we are dependent on the island of Oahu and we need help and support. And I can tell you that, coming from the Island of Kauai and going through Hurricane Iwa and Hurricane Iniki and 40 days and 40 nights of rain that has washed out our highways, and I can say that if you're on the Big Island and you're being impacted by lava flows and hurricanes, that we would not be able to get the appropriations that we needed to get our community back on track if it weren't for the support of our colleagues from Oahu.

"So I can speak confidently that on behalf of the Kauai delegation, if you're asking us to stand shoulder to shoulder and lock arms with you in your time of need, we're here for you. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Briefly, still in support. I'd like to adopt the words of the Speaker of the House, Minority Leader, the Representative from Kauai. I just want to make one last point that, in addition to the tax that may be levied upon neighbor island residents by our county councils, there is the Oahu tax, that since everything is shipped here and goes to our islands, although it won't show up in the tax section of the receipt, it will show up above that in the subtotal in one way or another. So just that point. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Rising in strong support. I just want to make some things clear, because our votes get tallied on a website that goes out to people and some people read my vote 'with reservations' and didn't understand why I voted with reservations, because I've always supported the rail project. Even a few people in the gallery were wondering why I voted with reservations. But what I said about 'reservations' was I thought 0.25% was not enough. So I know that this is still a work in progress and it still has a long way to go.

"The other thing I will say about people who talk about the neighbor islands and their ability to put this tax in play. Well, in 2000 they didn't do it. So what makes us think that they're going to do it now? They had a hard time passing additional taxes on luxury homes. So for the neighbor island people, I would say as a person who was a councilmember for 10 years, you have a lot of young councilmembers on the neighbor islands, I don't think they're going to increase a tax through the GET through their taxing powers.

"One of the questions I asked in Finance was the cost of the rail from the airport to Downtown. At that time, I didn't get the answer, but after the meeting I did get the answer. I was hoping that the answer was going to be less than $25, because that's what it costs now. So for all of the people who come from the neighbor islands who come to Downtown, whether they come to the Capitol or the doctor's appointment or any meeting Downtown, that's how much they pay one way, Mr. Speaker, $25 for a taxi fare. If they rent a car, it's probably $30, $40, $50 depending on the season. So for those reasons, that's why I support the rail.

"And for the people on the west side of this island. I experienced the traffic waking up in the morning coming in from the west side to Downtown, and I don't know how you folks do it. I really don't know how you do it. Maybe we should introduce a resolution that gives you per diem as well, because the traffic is ridiculous. Oh, oh, take it easy.

"So Mr. Speaker, for those reasons I stand in strong support, and it's up. As the Representative from Waianae said, the bus left the station. I'd also would like to ask for permission, Mr. Speaker, I was going to insert a few comments into the Journal of the speakers that spoke before, but I don't want to exclude anyone, but there's a lot of good speeches that happened today, so I'll start with the good Representative from North Kauai, his two speeches, Mr. Speaker, if I could ask that they be inserted into the Journal. The Representative from Ewa, the Representative from Kihei, the Representative from Kapolei, the Representative from Waianae, the Representative from Ewa Beach, the Representative from Wahiawa, the Representative from Lahaina. The Speaker of the House and the Judiciary Chair. Thank you very much for the time, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pouha rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Second time. In speaking with the Representative from Molokai, she did tell me that it takes her quicker to get from Molokai to here than it takes for me to get from Kahuku to here. So I'm very cognizant of that, and so I too would like to also adopt the words of the Minority Leader and also the Representative from Kahaluu as if they were my own. And I would just like to say that the phrase, 'Keep the Country Country' has been credited to have come from my district. The second half of that statement, and I will predict in the future, but the second half of that statement is, 'Keep the City City' and so that's what we're trying to do here.

"We're trying to keep this contained to the City with Transit-Oriented Development. And so there are also people that can misconstrue votes for having reservations, ayes with reservations. So with that I'd just like to share my comments in that and still have the permission to insert written comments."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition, but in favor of the Speaker's comments. Speaker called us to be statesman. He called us to call on the long view, to think way ahead, to be far-out thinkers, which we have to do as State Representatives. But, Mr. Speaker, what I fail to see though, is when we are using our funds for 100-year-old technology, I think we've got to think a little bit more out of the box.

"The point is, there are cities that have worse and more traffic than we have. Some of you have been in Singapore, some of you have been in Beijing, some of you have been in Manila. By the way, Hawaii Kai took an hour to get in for me today also. Those cities are looking at driverless cars. That's not steel on steel, that's technology on technology. Google has driven 700,000 miles without an accident. Singapore and China are looking for reducing pollution, reducing accidents, reducing congestion by using new technology.

"The point is, we must think forward, but we must think about what money we spend on what technology. So I would hope we would be open. If we're going to be funding this and we've got a lot of skin in the game as the State Legislature, that we'd be wise to those options.

"Now in regards to the rail to Hawaii Kai. I have a bridge in Manhattan that you might want to look at for sale, and you might want to purchase that, because it ain't going to happen and I'm not going to hold my breath for it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

At this time, Representative Tokioka called for the previous question.

The Chair then stated:

"In fairness, though, I need to be extremely objective to everyone, fair to everyone."

Representative Aquino rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with some reservations. I'll just be very brief. Mr. Speaker, thank you. On behalf of my district of Waipahu, which is right now experiencing some of the construction, and have been over the last year or so with the utility work, there are some financial concerns that I'd like to bring up on their behalf. So in that respect, Mr. Speaker, I think we talked quite a bit about this. But I'd like to encourage the City and HART to continuously explore other options to reduce the current shortfall, and also look seriously into, including with that, to seriously look at the cost cutting measures that we've talked about offline as well. I'd like to also request for the words of the former Transportation and former Finance Chair to be inserted into the Journal as my own. Thank you very much," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I know, second time, I will be brief. Still in strong support. I would just like the second words of the speaker from Hanalei entered into the record as if they were my own. And just two brief afterthoughts.

"One is, no tax system is perfect. Every tax system has its regressivity. And the GET is regressive. But ponder this, traffic and what they're going through in West Oahu is far more regressive I can see than a General Excise Tax shared across the entire State of Hawaii.

"Number two, last time, as was spoken earlier, the County of Maui and the Mayor were opposed to this. Well guess what, they're in support of it now. Because this means we'll be able to get bus shelters, additional bus routes and things people are screaming for, because they have to wait in the rain for buses. This benefits everybody really, Mr. Speaker. So there is a win-win on all of this.

"And I guess all I can say going forward is, Mr. Speaker, I look forward to the day when I think this will be like the H-3. When it's all said and done and years have passed, people will go, how did we ever get along without this. Thank you very much."

Representative Cullen rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support with reservations on HB 134, HD 1. I support the rail project and the recommendations made by the Finance Chair in making this 0.25%, starting 2017, making this current measure a tax reduction at this time. I have reservations with the blanked out section on the time line on when this tax extension would possibly end, because this is very regressive and could financially burden our residents and business owners of the State. Also, due to the rising cost of living in the State of Hawaii, the GET will especially impact low-income families. I also stand in reservations because there is no guarantee that the future work on rail will be done by specialized union labor, which would ensure a high level of safety.

"We as a state also have needs to be financed, such as our aging school facilities and new schools that need to be built to handle capacity in the Kapolei area. Mr. Speaker, this is very pertinent because in District 39 we have plans to build East Kapolei Middle School, but the cost being $90 million has left it unfunded at this time because we just do not have the money.

"Mr. Speaker, I am also concerned about raising the GET for the purpose of increasing revenues for the counties, with limited confidence that they would take care of their transportation needs. This measure will also have a possible impact to the neighbor islands in the estimated range of $65 million, as stated by the Department of Budget and Finance during the Finance hearing. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of this measure and request that the remarks of the Representative from Waialua be entered into the Journal as if they were my own, with the exception of the 'with reservations'. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 134, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 40 ayes to 11 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Belatti, Cachola, Cullen, DeCoite, Ichiyama, Jordan, Keohokalole, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Pouha, San Buenaventura and Yamane voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Brower, Johanson, Kobayashi, Lee, Lowen, Nishimoto, Ohno, Thielen, Tupola, Ward and Yamashita voting no.

At 5:57 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1352, HD 1
H.B. No. 749
H.B. No. 314, HD 1
H.B. No. 1356
H.B. No. 134, HD 1

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support. But just a word of caution. I guess I want to note that when you call a constitutional convention, it can pretty much be opened up to anything. So despite the fact that there is a call for this one issue, people should just be aware that once one is called, anything can go on the table. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I need to echo that sentiment. Also, there's the fact that 36 mostly red states have already called for a balanced budget amendment, which could be opened up in the Con-Con if this were to pass, which is why an organization like Common Cause isn't supporting this. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. This resolution says specifically, limits the authority of the Con-Con to that of this specific topic, and in fact we remove authority if it goes beyond. We had the Attorney General testify for the limiting language, and I believe this addresses the prior Representatives' concerns. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 53, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS TO CONVENE A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION TO PROPOSE A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO OVERTURN THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT'S DECISION IN CITIZENS UNITED V. FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION," was adopted, with Representatives Creagan, Fukumoto Chang, Hashem, Luke, Souki and Ward being excused.

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 500, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 500, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of House Bill 500. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. At this time I would like to recognize the hard working staff of the Finance Committee. And when I call your name if you could stand, and if the Members could hold their applause until everyone is introduced.

"So first up is the bill section. Mr. Speaker, the Committee on Finance heard hundreds of bills over a few days, and the bill section really did a terrific job in making sure that all the bills were sorted through and heard. So the bill section is led by Research Chief Randall Hiyoto and Research Supervisor Stacy Tagala. And their team of analysts, Erin Nakashima, Julian Downey, Shawn Richey and Jennifer Trujillo.

"The Budget Chief is Albert Vargas and his team of analysts, Derek Shigano, who is our favorite, the Members' favorite person because he's the one in charge of CIPs. Aldric Ulep, Courtney Gill, Jonathan Morris, and we have some veterans, Donavan Lim, and of course Matt Tsujimura.

"And of course, their work and our work wouldn't be complete without the front office staff, and we have Julie Yang, who is my Office Manager, Logistics Specialist Jo Hamasaki, who is always hiding somewhere, and legislative aides Morgan Mellinger, Matthew Yasuda, Kim Duong, and Melanie Uchima.

"And having the logistics to coordinate everything is of course the person who holds everything together, the big chief, Nandana Kalupahana, who is hiding here. So if you could also stand.

"The work of the Finance Committee cannot be done without the assistance of every one of these staff members, and Members if you could join me in thanking them for their hard work, and appreciation for their dedication.

"I know the Finance members, this year and in the past, they know that the work of the Finance Committee, once we end their work actually starts, so it's oftentimes they're here until midnight, sometimes even later, just to make sure that the bills are processed, make sure that the testimony is done, so I don't really thank them enough and I really do appreciate every one of you folks.

"Mr. Speaker, I also want to thank the members of the Finance Committee. Each one of them provides great insight, and they really have thoughtful deliberation. We have been told several times that the type of questions that they ask is just very thoughtful and respectful. Each one of the members put in a tremendous amount of work and I'm grateful to have them on the Committee, and it has really been a pleasure to work with each one of you folks.

"I'd also like to recognize the three subcommittee chairs. The Subcommittee Chair on CIP, the Subcommittee Chair on GIA, and the Subcommittee Chair on Unfunded Liability. A special thanks to the CIP Chair for doing the difficult task of balancing the needs of all three branches, the Executive Branch, the Legislative Branch and the Judiciary. And at this point, if the Members could give the CIP Subchair a round of applause.

"This Friday we're going to be hearing from hundreds of GIA applicants in our GIA hearing, and it's actually the Subcommittee Chair on GIA who spends countless hours from the beginning of session, or even before session, to make sure that the process is fair and make sure that we go through the GIA hearing in a pretty expeditious, but in a way that the GIA applicants feel that they have a say in the process. I really don't envy the GIA Chair's job, he has done a great job in the last two years, and in anticipation of his hard work, if we could give him a round of applause.

"We already passed the Subcommittee Chair on Unfunded Liabilities' bill last week, but thank you for your work as well."

Representative Cullen rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke continued, stating:

"Thank you. The subject matter committee chairs put in a lot of input into the budget, and what we see on the Floor is actually me talking and a few of the other Members talking, but actually the subject matter chairs, we spend time with the subject matter chairs, they have input into the process and I do appreciate all these comments from the subject matter chairs.

"This year was an interesting budget year because of the new Administration, and what we saw in the beginning of year is what the Administration put in is pretty much what the base budget was, and included in that is some of the fixed costs. So I know a lot of the departments had to work with the subject matter chairs to let them know what some of the priorities were, and so I do appreciate the subject matter chairs for working with the Finance Committee and the Finance Committee staff, for letting us have a second look at some of the agencies' and departments' priorities.

"As I've said, the budget is the work of each and every person I've mentioned, and I would like to thank you, Mr. Speaker, for putting your trust in the Finance Committee and the Finance Committee members and the Finance Committee staff, so thank you very much.

"Mr. Speaker, last year's executive budget totaled $6.2 billion. The budget we are passing today totals $6.5 billion in the first year and $6.8 billion in the second year. The members of the Finance Committee know that the budget includes modest increases, so why is the budget being increased by $300 million in the first year and $600 million in the second year? Well, a lot of the Members know it's because of the fixed costs. Collective bargaining, debt service and employee benefits total $320 million in the first year and $580 million in the second year.

"Recently, the Council on Revenues increased its projection for Fiscal Year 15, which is this year, from 4.5% to 5.5%. This is equivalent to $55.7 million more in revenues. However, as you can see, this is clearly not enough to sustain all the services that the State provides. That is why we are continuously being cautious and making sure that we can continue to provide the services that the State is obligated to provide. Hopefully sometime in the future we have enough revenues to cover a lot of the costs and stop spending more than what we're taking in. The hope of the Finance Committee is that this trend will reverse in the next few years. With that, Mr. Speaker, I respectfully submit this modest budget for you and the Members' consideration. Thank you very much."

Representative Nishimoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support. Mr. Speaker, I have a five page speech, but I'm told that there's an event going on in the other Chamber that people are anxious to take a look at, so I'm just going to insert written comments, but let me say this. I was on the Finance Committee in 2009 when we went through a lot of cuts and furloughs, and we crafted this budget with those times in mind. We took a cautious and responsible approach, and having an eye toward challenging times in the future and being better prepared to weather those bad times. And I will insert written comments, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Nishimoto's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in strong support of this measure.

"This Budget showcases the collective and collaborative efforts of many individuals. The budget process is not an easy one, and I'd like to take some time to acknowledge individuals who played a crucial role in getting us to this point.

"First, I'd like to commend Chair Luke for her guidance, leadership, management, foresight and discipline required for the budget process. It is an honor to participate on this committee, and I'd like to express my gratitude to all the members of the Finance Committee for their time and efforts in reviewing, assessing and studying the massive amounts of testimony, data and information that crosses their desks. I greatly appreciate their remarkable dedication and hard work on the Committee.

"I'd also like to acknowledge the subject matter Chairs and their committee members for their significant input in the budget process. Thank you very much for your commitment, perseverance and passion this session. And finally, thank you to the Finance Staff for their countless hours of behind the scenes work to make this budget possible. They are invaluable to the budget process and are the unsung heroes of each session.

"In 2009, we faced an economic downturn and recession that resulted in shortfalls and furlough days. We encountered declines in tourism and jobs, resulting in hard times throughout the State. We lived through these challenging times, and this budget bill reflects steps we are taking to be better prepared to meet future challenges.

"At its meeting on March 12, the Council on Revenues raised its forecast for growth of the State's General Fund tax revenues in Fiscal Year (FY) 2015 from 4.5% to 5.5%. However, they lowered the forecast for growth in FY 2019 to 2021 from 5.5% to 5.0%. Today, while economic trends are hopeful, we continue to face an uncertain fiscal future. This budget is cautious, as the total is less than the budget proposed by the Administration. It demonstrates restraint while addressing our States' needs, and takes a responsible approach as we chart a steady course for our State. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Unlike the previous speaker, Mr. Speaker, I do have a couple of pages and I think the events across the hall are complete as of right now. So, Mr. Speaker, I will take my time.

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. In support of this particular measure. The state budget, as you heard our Chair talk about, is just part of a big financial plan. It's the financial wellbeing of the State. Just like an individual's personal financial health, you spend what you earn, you save for the rainy day to build credit, you borrow for a large purchase, but make sure you can cover that debt service in your monthly budget. We all do this on our personal levels and, Mr. Speaker, your Finance Committee has presented House Bill 500, HD 1 with these same thoughts in mind. Spend only what we collect in revenues, federal monies and grants. Save for the emergency such as a hurricane or a tidal wave, or to purchase with cash. Keep our bond rating at a premium by limiting our CIP and GO financing, and making sure the State can cover that debt service in our future.

"With this being said, over the last six to seven years your Legislative Body has trimmed billions from the budget, focused on department spending, and limited the CIP and GO financing. And your Committee on Finance has taken focus deeper in the last few years with looking at individual department financing, budgeting and vacancies.

"Unfortunately, I will admit, many years we have developed silos, and we need to create some common ground with the departments, with the Legislature, and come together to break down these silos.

"We went to the agencies and said, start reporting all your vacancies in your annual reports to us, and they did. And we started scrutinizing those vacancies and asking the departments, what are you using the money for? How come you're not replacing the vacancy? What are the issues? And last year, each one of them, we asked them, six of your agencies jumped on board and said, we'll come and be honest and truthful about what we're doing. But at the end of the day, three of those made it to the finish line. Those three were your Department of Agriculture, your Department of Labor, and your Department of the Attorney General.

"Reasonings they came forward with were, sometimes the position description didn't meet the responsibilities of the duty. Positions may be difficult to fill for location, specialized, or compensation. Positions may appear vacant but in fact the funding may have been used for temporary project positions. So these are things that we have to deal with, the nuts and bolts, and try to understand.

"When those different departments came forward in last year's budget, we gave them additional monies to resolve those issues. And this year they came in with even more forthcoming information. So in this year's budget, we started focusing on not only the vacancies, but the vacation payouts, to start dealing with that when people retire. Because as you know, Mr. Speaker, we have over $20 million in vacation payouts that is not accounted for in our budget. That's a lot of money."

Representative Ichiyama rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan continued, stating:

"So these agencies that came forward, we gave $250,000 to Department of Agriculture to deal with their vacancy issues. We gave Department of the Attorney General $280,000 to deal with theirs, and we gave Department of Labor and Industrial Relations $450,000 to deal with their issues.

"So hopefully we will get these departments on an even keel. Kind of like a balanced budget, then they'll start coming in and requesting what they actually need instead of we playing this guessing game between the departments and then having the departments come in and give us a different reason why they need the money. That's how we're digging deeper into our budget for being transparent to not only you, Mr. Speaker, but to our constituents, and being forthcoming to our future generations.

"Now this is just in the budget itself, but at the same time we look at all different levels. We're also looking at special funds, and many of you have seen other measures regarding special funds, because the budget really doesn't look at the special funds. But over time we are starting to clean up our old special funds and asking departments, do you really need the special fund? Is it warranted any longer?

"Because you see, Mr. Speaker, in our special funds in 2012, we had $2.4 billion. Now I'm not saying this is hidden money. This is all money for good use, but how do we bring all our sources of revenues and monies in our little cubbyholes together to get us through the hurdles over the next few years, as we have seen in our revenues stabilizing or decreasing, Mr. Speaker.

"So at this moment in time, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the Chair of Finance as well as its members for sitting through those long meetings that we have. As well as you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much."

Representative Onishi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of HB 500, HD 1. I'd like to thank the Finance Chair and the staff and my fellow committee members who sat on the Finance Committee for working so diligently to provide a prudent budget while trying to address the various needs of this state.

"Agriculture, Mr. Speaker, is vital to our state, and as such the budget of the Department of Agriculture focuses on key areas aimed at helping the industry and the Department of Agriculture in their mission throughout the State.

"One of the current major topics of discussion in our islands today centers around pesticide use and regulation by the State. HB 500, HD 1 addresses this issue by providing over $220,000 and four pesticide enforcement specialists to assist the Department with their pesticide regulatory activities, as well as the pesticide use certification and education programs on Oahu, Maui and Kauai.

"Something that farmers require to survive is water. Due to the age and current conditions of many of our irrigation systems, most are in dire need of repair and maintenance. To help address this problem, our budget has included funding for capital improvements to the Molokai Irrigation System, which was built in the early '70s. The budget allocates $1.2 million which will be used to repair, maintain and enhance the structural integrity of the Molokai system.

"Once our farmers grow their crops, they need a facility where they can take their produce and prepare it for sale. The Kamuela Vacuum Cooling Plant is that kind of post-harvest facility. It enables farmers to quickly bring down the temperature of their produce, which then ensures a longer shelf life, increases product quality, and lessens the potential of product degradation.

"The cooling plant has been allocated $2.35 million for plans, design and construction, and to also add additional infrastructure. The facility will be built in line with new standards that are being determined by the rules governing the Food Safety Modernization Act, and plans for this facility will also include up to 100 kilowatt photovoltaic system as a means of an environmentally friendly renewable energy source, and will help lessen the plan's future expenses.

"The Department of Agriculture, Mr. Speaker, was also given $1.4 million for the repair and maintenance of their existing historic state buildings, as well as a total of $250,000 over Fiscal Year 16 and 17 to upgrade the current animal quarantine computer system. Mr. Speaker, for all of these reasons, I stand in strong support of HB 500, HD 1. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. Mr. Speaker, I'd like to thank the Chair for being part of the lineup, an unusual position for me to be in, but I think she knows it's because of my passion and commitment to this area of DBEDT regarding international relations. Some of you know my vision is to someday turn Hawaii into the Geneva of the Pacific with our Aloha Spirit and our strategic location in Asia, the Pacific, we have that unrealized potential, Mr. Speaker. But there's two things in this budget that I want to speak to that kind of get in that direction.

"The first is the $250,000 for the Beijing and the Taiwan state offices. The second thing is the $200,000 for fostering sister-state relations. But let me speak to the first one first. Many of you know of my UN and my Peace Corps background, and I've traveled in 63 countries, and just about like all of you, whenever we go we get the red carpet, especially if you're Speaker. The red carpet is something that we have not been able to reciprocate, we've not been able to fill, because we have never had any budget whatsoever, zero, zilch. If we follow the anthropological corollary that reciprocity is the basis of all relationships, if we go overseas and get the red carpet, we should at least give something that's close to red, if not brown or green, when they come here.

"And this is the first time, Mr. Speaker, that we have put this in a budget, to actually fund these international guests. I think that's a great step forward. And after the successful APEC 2011 conference where Hawaii hit a home run in the international arena and then we kind of snuck off to the side and haven't done anything, hopefully this will wake us back up and put us front and center in the international community.

"The second thing, Mr. Speaker, is in regards to our friends from China. The latest reports indicate that the Chinese visitor, either out of the Taiwan or out of the Beijing nexus, is spending over $400 per day. Why I like this so much, not just because it's Chinese, is because it's stimulating the economy. My second concern about our budgets is, we don't spend enough money in investments. We don't spend enough money on growing the pie. These are investments that can grow the pie. These are investments that are, I shouldn't say sure bet, but they're the best bet that we've got for our plant in Waikiki and for the visitors from China.

"For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think the bottom line is this. The future well-being of our nation, of our state, is based upon international relations. Our economy, our military security, not mentioning all the stuff that's going on in ISIS and the Middle East, but how we relate to those people overseas is going to be really important as to how we are taken care of here locally. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I will save comments for any other part of the budget for another time. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support, Mr. Speaker, and I'd like to request that all remarks stated so far be entered as my own. We're always saying about our Finance Chair, it's time for us to give her a standing ovation for doing such an exemplary job together with the Vice Chair. Give them a big round of applause. I'm done, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Woodson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for the opportunity. Mr. Speaker, over the past couple of years I've had the opportunity to focus on the Department of Education's operational budget and cross check it for effectiveness and efficiency as it relates to funding, and I've done that until here very recently, and I thank the Chair of Finance for that opportunity.

"Mr. Speaker, I don't think it's still not largely known but I'm going to mention it now, that in terms of preparedness and how we prepare our kids for the future, Hawaii as a state has made significant progress over the past two years. And, Mr. Speaker, we're the only state for the past two years to make such progress, and last year we were the only state in the entire country to make significant progress when it comes to preparing our kids for the future.

"And in fact, Mr. Speaker, a couple weeks ago in response to our FLEX Waiver Report, United States Secretary of Education, Mr. Duncan, said this about our educational system. He said that Hawaii is a model for the rest of the country to follow. So, Mr. Speaker, that's how far we've gotten in terms of preparing our kids for the future. We have a ways to go, Mr. Speaker, but our trajectory is strong. So it is with great pleasure that I'd like to highlight a couple of proposals incorporated into the budget.

"First, Mr. Speaker, is $2.4 million for the Weighted Student Formula. This is important for two reasons, Mr. Speaker. One, because it is in fact an increase, and for two, Mr. Speaker, because there is a growing consensus building, that's a ground swelling, and it says that more money needs to be allocated at the school level. And I think that your Committee on Finance took heed to this, and as a result the $2.4 million increase towards Weighted Student Formula is a way in which our principals, in consultation with their teachers, can make decisions primarily on how to spend funding for their schools.

"Mr. Speaker, also with that line of thought, there was a transfer of $62 million in Fiscal Year 2017 for school based budgeting, and that's to allow principals to utilize utility savings in their particular schools. Also a good thing that's incorporated into the budget. I'd also like to highlight the fact that over $3.8 million was allocated for support for teacher recruitment in hard to fill areas. And that of course is unfortunate, Mr. Speaker, because all of our kids deserve the opportunity to live up to their potential.

"Lastly, Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak about something that's a little bit more nuanced, and that is monies to be allocated for the new ESIS system, Mr. Speaker. ESIS stands for the Electronic Student Information System, and it's a way that the teachers and administration communicate with each other, both vertically and horizontally. So just as an example so we can get an idea of what this money means, this $4.86 million and $2.53 million in Fiscal Year 2016 and 2017 respectively.

"It means that if you're a teacher, Mr. Speaker, in the third grade, and you're having challenges with how to get your students to where they need to be, Mr. Speaker, you could potentially go to this system and see what's working in certain classrooms. So you can then aggregate those best practices, apply them to your own practices, and if successful, they'll be incorporated into this ESIS system. So in that way, Mr. Speaker, it's a very organic system, and it's a way that teachers will get support, and it speaks directly towards teacher effectiveness, which is one of the five variables that determines largely a student's output.

"Secondly, Mr. Speaker, this ESIS system allows for increased parental and community communication. And just as an example, Mr. Speaker, my wife and I hanai'd a high schooler a couple years ago. And from the high school we received text messages and emails regarding her progress."

Representative McKelvey rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Woodson continued, stating:

"Thank you, sir. We knew when she was absent, when she was doing good, when she was doing bad, and where we needed to focus our attention on fostering and supporting her academic growth. And this new ESIS system allows for the potential for that to be utilized statewide. So as you're aware, Mr. Speaker, public education has facets to all of our socioeconomic ailments, it has direct correlations to everything that we do in our community and our society. And it's for this reason and others, Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support of this budget. Thank you."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the budget bill. I'd like to make comments on Department of Human Services. We have in the budget $2.6 million to extend the current general assistance monthly payments at the same level as today, $349 per month. Also, $1.5 million for the Housing First program. These are for the wraparound social and health services, not CIP, relating to Housing First. Thirdly, we have $3.8 million for TANF, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, and this program of course is a reflection of dire need in the entire community.

"On the health side, we have also $7.7 million to maintain the current level of ambulance services. In addition, of course, we have four bills floating around for additional ambulance services, which will probably go to conference. We have also $2.99 million for the Hawaii State Hospital to meet current budget shortfalls, and we have $635 million for cost increases in intermediate care facilities for intellectual disabilities. Lastly, we have a major reorganization in both children and adolescent mental health and adult mental health to enable better and coordinated services for these clients. Thank you very much."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. And I want to thank the Chair, the Vice Chair and members of the Committee and of course the Finance staff for their hard work on the budget. There are many important programs, projects and positions supported in the budget, and I'm just going to highlight a few that support our natural resource and land management efforts.

"This budget provides funding for some key positions in Department of Land and Natural Resources. Seventy-five thousand dollars is allocated for a state sustainability coordinator to help Hawaii reach its sustainability goals. Sixty-five thousand dollars is allocated for a co-manager of the Papahanaumokuakea Marine National Monument to maintain the State's voice in management of this important resource.

"The budget also funds five positions in the State Historic Preservation Division to help address backlogs and to comply with a corrective action plan prescribed by the National Park Service. In this budget, Bureau of Conveyances is allocated three-quarters of a million dollars to digitize microfilm archives, and the State Parks Division $1 million for repair and maintenance within our state parks system.

"To better manage our marine resources, this budget approves the reorganization of the Division of Aquatic Resources so that the Division can transition from an outdated fisheries management structure to a new approach of ecosystem and community based management.

"Again, these are just a few of the many worthwhile programs supported in this budget. It's been an honor to sit on the Finance Committee among dedicated colleagues, and I look forward to our continued work in the future."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I get to speak about the exciting part of the budget, the University of Hawaii. I stand in support of HB 500, HD 1. I want to thank the Chairman of Finance for the opportunity to work on the University of Hawaii budget.

"I also want to thank the Members of the House Committee on Higher Education for all their hard work as we strive to achieve our goal for the University. This session, the major theme for our Committee was accountability, sustainability and transparency. And I believe the House of Representatives has achieved these goals. I'd like to thank the House Members for supporting the efforts of the Higher Education Committee.

"Mr. Speaker, Albert Einstein once said, if you do the same things over and over again and expect different results, that's the definition of insanity. Your House budget for the Higher Education Committee reflects a different approach. An approach where insanity is avoided. Our current budgeting scheme leads to interference from outside influences. It also creates a division within the University system itself. Each campus and community college has an 'every man for himself' attitude.

"Our new budgeting scheme prevents this by creating a system similar to the B&F system in state government. It empowers the system's Chief Financial Officer with the same powers as the B&F Director. The CFO will be able to analyze the budget request from each campus, and allot or restrict and manage the funds given to the University.

"Mr. Speaker, no more coming to the University with fake budget requests for electricity, no more hiding money in their slush funds. This power will give the University true autonomy and will challenge the management of the University. Now the University system will have full control to fund its programs, fund and manage its repairs, fund its operating costs. No more, 'the legislators didn't give us the money so we cannot fix the toilets.' If the toilets are broken, if the buildings are in disrepair, if a building is missing, if debt service is due, if a project is over budget, if labor costs are unsustainable, or an operating unit is draining the University's resources, it will be because management allowed it.

"Some might say that the University will just raise student tuitions. I believe this option will soon dry up as the University tuition has risen to the upwards quartile of public institutions across the nation. Students and families will demand accountability, and will not be willing to pay a Mercedes price to drive a Volkswagen.

"Management will have to think in terms of long and short terms, and use techniques such as enterprise risk management to stress test its ideas. Management must now be nimble and move quickly to change course. The course will be to right size the University. If we have a University that is mediocre, then management will be at fault. The management scheme is not for the weak hearted and will test the ability of the system to achieve its mission with the resources received or earned.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm not a dreamer. Maybe the current managers at the University do not have the abilities needed to execute this budget program. This budget scheme has enough safety valves in it to restore the budget as it was always done. But if this should happen, then we will all know that autonomy is not achievable at the University of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, you asked us in your opening statement to think outside the box. These plans are perfect for the manager that relishes change. This plan is perfect for a manager who wants to manage and not just occupy space. And I look forward to seeing big changes at the University of Hawaii. And it's for these reasons, I stand in support of this budget. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this budget. Thank you. I will be brief, but the Finance Committee wanted to highlight what I think is a particularly innovative strategy that the Governor has proposed. And notably among them, which I think is notable because most governors come into office with sweeping programs, high rhetoric, and brand new schemes for how to completely change government, but what Governor Ige's Administration has done is through a small appropriation, a suggested appropriation of $400,000, which the Finance Committee has granted in this iteration of the budget, they are creating the Office of Federal Grant Maximization.

"There are so many funds yet untapped at the federal level. In fact, Hawaii ranks 38th in the amount of grants that it pulls in as compared to the other 50 states, so we've got a ways to go, and it's something that cabinet secretaries and federal officials alike typically decry, the amount of federal grants that go unused and unclaimed by the states. With this small but strategic appropriation, I believe that the Governor's Administration is charting a course to reap exponentially more than we would be expending, and it is for those reasons that the Finance Committee would like to applaud the Administration and grant this particular appropriation in this budget, which I think will maximize our revenue stream for many years to come. Thank you."

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of HB 500. First, I'd like to thank you, Mr. Speaker, our Chair of the Finance Committee, and our Vice Chair and our fellow committee members.

"I would just like to say, Mr. Speaker, many of us have grave concerns about all the issues that we're so passionately commenting about today. But I'd like to put this forward when it comes to agriculture. I believe the State should step up on funding agriculture. We need to grow our food. We need to understand education. We need to know why we are growing our food. We need to realize that the imports coming into our state will one day not be there. So I'd just like to ask my fellow colleagues that we listen, we learn, we ask the questions, and we understand. And those are all the comments that I would like to make, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support with reservations. I'd also like to thank the Committee Chairman, Vice Chairman, all the members for their hard work. It's a very difficult process, a very long process. We know they spend many hours up there, nights, weekends, and so I applaud them for their efforts.

"But, Mr. Speaker, my concern is CIP. Quite honestly, page 123. I see a $12 million appropriation for a performing arts center at Moanalua High School. Now, I appreciate the performing arts, in fact I even wrote a screenplay. It was registered with the Writer's Guild of America, West registry. Obviously it didn't do very well because I'm still sitting here. Nevertheless, I appreciate the arts. I've also written a book. So I tell you that so you know that I'm not against the arts. They're a very important part of our culture.

"But when you have probably the largest high school, if not the largest, Campbell High School, that comes down every year begging for air conditioning, and I put that in my budget request and it wasn't funded. Neither was Ilima, which is the first, highest school that needs cooling. These kids come down here every year, we say, we'll get to you, we'll get to you, but we never do.

"So to see those kids not being able to learn in a cool environment, and we know research shows that kids who are operating in a hot classroom don't do as well on standardized testing, and then we're going to spend almost the exact amount that it would cost for air conditioning for a performing arts school for a high school, by the way, that has historically done very well on CIP, much better than its school down the street, Radford, which I know from my previous service here, 20 years ago. I find it troubling. I find it very troubling.

"This school is going to have 3,500 in two years, they don't even have a site for another high school selected. Yet, we're going to spend $12 million on a performing arts center. Now I'm sure it's a worthy cause, but how do you go back and tell those kids, sorry, the cafetorium at Moanalua is not good enough for those kids. You continue to swelter in your hot classrooms. And, by the way, we don't even have any money in here for portables for you, which was asked for.

"So I find that very troubling. In fact, this is an outlier, that the amount of this money compared to the other CIPs at other high schools across the State is grossly disproportionate. So that's my reservation, Mr. Speaker. Thank you for your time, and I thank the Committee for their hard work."

At 1:24 o'clock p.m., Representative Matsumoto requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:24 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 500, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative McDermott voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Say being excused.

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations, please. Just a quick comment. I'd like to thank the Chair of Housing for at least decreasing the time extension, but if these employees are such great employees, I think they do deserve to become civil service employees. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, please. Along the same lines, and permission to enter comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Tupola's written remarks are as follows:

"If there is an issue with civil service positions, then we should examine the State Civil Service hiring process instead of making exemptions. I have the same concerns as UPW and will quote their testimony. 'The UPW opposes extension of the State civil service exemption for the Hawaii Public Housing Authority. The original exemption should have provided the Authority with ample time to establish civil service positions to repair and maintain vacant state housing units. The work can still be addressed without having to extend Act 159, an Act that was wisely scheduled for repeal on July 1, 2015. We find that the Authority has not provided compelling reasons as to why the original sunset date should not be heeded.'"

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Representative Jordan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. Please register a no vote on this particular measure. Just a few comments, Mr. Speaker. My no vote is in pertaining that these were crown lands prior to 1895, therefore they're classified as ceded lands, and I'm not open to selling our ceded lands.

"Secondly, Mr. Speaker, during the hearing I asked HHFDC, which is the department that handles these particular properties, and I asked them if they are sold, such as this particular property which is $123,000, do those funds directly go to the dollars in DLNR that get transferred onto OHA for our ceded revenues? He politely told me, no they don't, they go into the revolving trust fund for other housing projects under HHFDC. So, Mr. Speaker, thank you very much."

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I too will take a no vote, and I would like to echo the same thoughts as the Representative from District 44. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"In support with reservations. I'm not familiar with the situation, I still need to do more research on the issue, but I do stand with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in support. Very briefly, as someone who has always had issues with the sale of public lands for any purpose, particularly ceded lands, I do have an interest in making sure in this particular case we do the right thing. These are properties that are part of a larger subdivision, which has been in existence for many, many decades, whose residents have lived there, in many cases for many, many decades, multiple generations. Recently, in the last few decades there have been a couple opportunities for residents to buy their properties that they have been leasing for decades and decades. And many people took those opportunities back in the last few decades.

"What's happened since then, of course, the Legislature in more recent years has passed a law which requires our approval for the sale of public lands including ceded lands like this. And I don't think it was the intent of the Legislature at the time, at least not in my vote, to unduly harm any families living within their own homes at that point. I think coming forward and putting these measures on the table now ensures that we're going to of course continue to disapprove of any particular sales of land that are not in the public interest.

"However, in this case, because these are the remnant last pieces of property within this neighborhood whose families at the time could not afford to buy their homes outright, now they are forced to come to us and go through this new process that we established. So acknowledging that, I do think that for the folks in the community, especially for those whom may be taking advantage of this, it is something that I think is in the interest of course of these families in providing fairness to all the residents of that particular subdivision, neighborhood, and subject to the rules under HHFDC and others that this moves ahead. So I just wanted to note that and note my support. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"In support with reservations. My concern, I am noting what the previous speaker, the introducer, has stated regarding fairness. I too would like to look back at the original intent, 2009, of requiring legislative approval for any sales, because it does seem like that purpose would be to have our scrutiny on these sales. And I do think that this situation could probably be seen in other districts as well, this type of situation with some residents not having the opportunity to buy while others have. I think this could set a precedent.

"But my main reservation stems from the concerns raised by the Representative from Waianae, regarding where these funds are going. If they're going to be from ceded lands, then it should be kept in Hawaiian hands. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations, pending further research."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I would note that testimony was presented from Office of Hawaiian Affairs stating their established policy that lands such as these including this particular parcel could fit into a special case, and as such, Office of Hawaiian Affairs had no objections to this resolution as well as the other resolutions that we are about to consider. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to respond, stating:

"Given the comments and the discussions that have been taking place, can you please register a support with reservations for the next five resolutions, all pertaining to the same subject matter but different residences? Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I concur with that last request and would like to have that requested for myself. I rise in support again with reservations, and my reservations are where the funds are going. Because if these are ceded lands, there is an established precedent. The income from these lands is supposed to go at least in part for Hawaiian Home Lands. So that is my reservation."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, same request."

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Same request."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Same request."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. "The Next Fifty Challenge Final Draft

Hawaii is nearly a perfect place to live; yet it still faces some problems. Homelessness is one of our island's biggest threats. People without homes clutter the sidewalks with their shopping carts, plastic bags, and whatever else they can manage to get from scrounging through trashcans. This affects our rate of tourism. Even if only a few lest tourists come every year, it could build up and ruin our entire society. Unemployment is another one of Hawaii's problems that result in homelessness. Therefore, we need to try harder to solve this problem. So, this is what I think needs to happen in the next fifty years for Hawaii to be the best place to work and live.

First, I think the government should start thinking of ways to address the problem that some people can't pay for themselves because they don't have a job. I have thought of several possible ways to solve unemployment. One is to create more jobs by having companies hire more people for each job so they can take in more employees and less people will have trouble paying for themselves. The second possibility is for the companies to pay the employees a higher wage. This would mean the government would need to give the companies more money so they could supply the employees with more.

In addition, I think making jobs more bearable would lure more people to work in a specific company. The reason I thought of this was because my friend's dad once worked for Chevron and then he quit because the job experience was horrible. My first thought was to install more cold-water fountains because usually wherever I go the water from the fountains is warm. Drinking more water will keep our employees healthy so the business ratings do not go down. My second idea was to have the companies improve the conditions like adding comfier chairs and more organized desks. If the workers feel comfortable, they will be more efficient and productive.

Homelessness is a big problem in Hawaii. I thought that if Hawaii builds more places for homeless people then there wouldn't be so many of them out in public. My idea was to have the government make places called homeless hotels. Only people without homes can move in there until they got a job. This also helps with the unemployment problem by getting more people to get jobs. Tourism plays a big role in Hawaii's economy. So what would happen if everybody who visited came and saw homeless people sitting on the sidewalks, staring at them?

There are just some of my ideas to tackle the problems that Hawaii faces. If we can solve these issues, then Hawaii can probably be the best place to work and live. I love living in Hawaii and will try to make this the best place for everyone."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.R. No. 165 was adopted, with Representatives LoPresti, Luke and Saiki being excused.

At 12:38 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:54 o'clock p.m.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations with a brief comment, and hopefully will be responded to as well. Mr. Speaker, it regards the first page, lines 8 and 9 that said the intent here is to develop an offshore high technology park. What is an offshore high technology park? Offshore, out in the water, technology park. We've got a Mililani high tech park. So it's only because this may have something which is a new construct, which I don't understand, or there's something there that the good gentleman from Maui might be able to respond to. Otherwise, I just have reservations until that clarification comes through. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I'd like to cast a no vote on this and some brief remarks. This seems duplicative in nature to me, as it addresses an interagency working group for mental and behavioral health. The Felix Consent Decree already requires, by law, that children get everything from speech therapy to behavioral therapy to anything you can imagine under the sun. If the parents request it and there's a legitimate reason, they will get it. So that seems to be duplicative in nature.

"So then what you're left with is the physical health programs. And we know what that's all about, that's social engineering. And this is the school system intruding upon the parents again. We might as well just move the kids into the school and eliminate the parents from the equation. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, this is a very important measure. We're trying to bring back something that was almost 12, 15 years ago. This is to maybe help put health back into our schools where a health aide can't do what they need to do. And maybe they shouldn't have a health aide title, because they can't even help our children with their health needs outside of putting a Band-Aid on a cut.

"But, Mr. Speaker, more importantly, if you look at the DOE's budget, the DOE could be paying for services that could be billable to Medicaid and reimbursed by the federal government. That's what this is all about, Mr. Speaker, to really look at an alignment with our Health Department, public nurses, getting into our neediest places, our school facilities, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Mr. Speaker, I would like to also request that the words of the previous speaker be entered in the Journal as if they were my own.

"And I would just like to clarify, Mr. Speaker, one of the impetuses of this bill is, as the Representative from Waianae pointed out, is a federal ruling that was sent down late last year with respect to the ability of states to be able to charge Medicaid programs as well as private insurance for many, many of the health services that are required through IEPs. And so this is a measure that is critically important to ensuring that we can get control of our budgets, parts of our budgets that are the most expensive in the State, which are the Department of Education and the Department of Human Services.

"This is not about social engineering, and I urge anyone who would like to look up the Free Care Policy and the conversations that are happening nationwide as many, many states are looking at how to align their systems. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kong rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, ruling on a potential conflict of interest. I own a taxi company. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong reservations, maybe a no, I'm not sure, let me finish my speech first. Mr. Speaker, I really love this bill in the sense that it's an innovative, creative way of adding a new way of transportation for the State of Hawaii. It gives our people a great option. It's about sharing your car when you're going somewhere and you pick somebody up, and in this case it's under an umbrella called Uber, and evidently on the mainland it's a very, very successful entity. And I think Uber grew out of what otherwise for those of us in the D.C. area used to have 'slugs' that you would pick up on the way to D.C. So it's sort of a slug, which was for free, you pick up people in certain places, and then take them into the D.C. area.

"In this case, it's where they are using their car, going to where they want to go, and they're being signaled if you will through an app, and it's all coordinated and made sure. So if any of us wanted to come to work to the Capitol and take a few cars off the road, Mr. Speaker, we could sign up.

"Here's my beef though. This bill treats it as if it is a taxi. It taxes it, it regulates it, it says, you ride sharing people under Uber, you're going to be treated like a taxi. I don't think that's fair, Mr. Speaker. We should be taking these savings, which are probably maybe 40% from a taxi fare, and notwithstanding my good friend who is a taxi driver, with all due respect, I think this is something for the people of Hawaii for environmental purposes, for traffic, and using what otherwise the rail would have, taking cars off the road.

"But if we're going to treat it like a taxi, my understanding is Uber is just going to pick up and leave Hawaii, Mr. Speaker. And that would not be good. This is an excellent example of an innovative, creative way to create more transportation options. But the way this bill treats it, you're under the PUC, you've got to do all the same things that taxi drivers do, which they do and they do a good job, but this is different, this is more ride sharing, it's not a taxi company. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think I'll vote no."

Representative Ing rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I rise in opposition. First time I rode Uber was 2011 in Washington. First thing, I was just completely shocked by how clean the car was, how friendly the driver was. It was an experience like no other. And I ride taxis a lot, I'm from the neighbor islands, so whenever I'm here it's often difficult to get around without a car, and there's just no comparison, really.

"When it's your own vehicle, there's a different standard of service. You keep it clean and you don't cheat anyone. You actually can't in Uber and Lyft, because GPS tracks where you're going so you can't just drive around in a circle, get lost, charge more. You need to treat your customer very, very well. There's a higher level of accountability, without the licensures, without the red tape that taxi drivers have to go through.

"Instead of trying to create parity by regulating Uber and Lyft like taxies, we should create parity by deregulating taxies. Yeah, we all like this idea. My generation, we're used to voting with taps on our phones, whether it's five stars, thumbs up. And they work. When you're rating a driver four or five stars and if their rating falls under 4.6, they can get fired. If you're a bad passenger as well, you can not get picked up by the better drivers if you cause a lot of trouble. That's why I think the experience of Uber, that peer to peer communication, it just works.

"In regards to insurance, every driver has to go through car inspections. They need driver's insurance, normal insurance obviously, but the passenger is covered under the umbrella company, Uber or Lyft. So the only concern would be if this driver was to harm the passenger physically on purpose, and that just seems very unlikely.

"When Airbnb was created, everybody was saying, this is a crazy idea, you're hosting people at your home, there's going to be murders and it's just not safe. They're completely wrong. The rating systems just go a long way. So instead of trying to find ways to bring down this industry to make it less efficient like taxis, we should really find ways to incorporate taxi drivers and existing companies like my fellow Representative's into the Uber and general sharing economy ecosystem. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak against the bill too, but first I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. Thank you. My grandson was a driver for Uber. He no longer is doing that, and is out of the country," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen continued to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I disagree with this move. I think the idea took hold because we have a world wide web, we have the Internet. Very creative thinking took place and they put together this ride sharing program. I think it was an entrepreneurial approach. They are insured. I think it's run well, and I don't think we should go in and kill it. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I was going to vote reservations but everybody else one-upped me, so I guess in opposition. My main issue with this bill is just, again, this is an innovative new way to do something and I don't think we should automatically respond to those things by trying to overregulate them.

"That said, other states have had security problems with Uber, so it's not perfectly safe. There are states that are having trouble, so we do need to look at something to make sure that we're going to be able to regulate this at least a little bit, but I think this is overdoing it. So in opposition for now, but maybe we can fix it in CPC. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Same request, Mr. Speaker, no vote. For the same reasons, when I was sitting in the committee, I think that a lot of the information from Uber I requested and I still need to review a lot of it. There could be a lot of good coming out of it, but again I think that there needs to be a middle ground that hasn't been found yet. So until it has, then I'll be a no. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my reservations. Mr. Speaker, my reservations on this particular measure, not that I don't think we should develop a test for Hawaiian language immersion children, but we have already given the Department of Education $1 million almost two years ago in the Finance Committee. The Department of Education has already contracted with the University of Hawaii to prepare this test. The Department of Education has already committed the other $2 million to finalize this test. We have already received an exemption for the next school for the children to take this test from the federal government. And Mr. Schatz, who is with the Department of Education, has stated to us that if he needs to get another extension from the federal government, he will do that and he will make that decision in the next six months.

"So at this point in time I would like to support my Department of Education and the Board of Education who have moved forward on this, and I don't think this measure is needed at this particular time, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with reservations. My concern goes out to those parents who don't necessarily start their children in Hawaiian immersion from a very young age. So I have seen in our community parents are sort of on the fence and sometimes introduce their children into Hawaiian immersion perhaps in the third or fourth or fifth grade, so they've already had English instruction. So sort of the inverse of what's being recognized in this bill. So just with some reservations and some cautions moving forward."

Representative Tupola rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Ruling on a potential conflict. My children go to Hawaiian immersion," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Tupola continued to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to cast a no vote on this measure and I'd like to explain why, if I may. Mr. Speaker, the reason why I'm in opposition to this measure is three basic reasons. The first reason is that the industry itself has never come to us and said there's such a major problem with doing film production in the State of Hawaii that we need to move the Film Office into the Hawaii Tourism Authority.

"In fact, most of the industry members who testified, testified in opposition to the measure, Mr. Speaker. In fact, I think we're sending the exact opposite message to the film industry by moving this measure, and that we're becoming a much more difficult place to do film business.

"Second objection I have, Mr. Speaker, is the Hawaii Tourism Authority has some major issues that it needs to deal with, including a declining visitor experience which threatens our east bound visitor market. Why they would want to take on film production at this time when you have these issues, TVRs and others going on, I do not know why.

"Which leads me to the third issue, Mr. Speaker, is that the Hawaii Tourism Authority is our branding of Hawaii to the world for the visitor industry. And as such, it could be perceived that denying film permits would be based upon the content, artistic expression of a film, because it may not show Hawaii in the light that the HTA would like, thereby chilling even more film production in the State of Hawaii and driving the economy down.

"And then the final reason, Mr. Speaker, is I've not heard any dysfunctionality within DBEDT. DBEDT themselves hasn't come to us and said, we need to move the film out of our division and into the HTA.

"Mr. Speaker, I think this is really alarming and I'm really worried because I think the message it sends, especially when you do production five years out, is that Hawaii is becoming a much more difficult place to do business, and I think that's the last thing we need to be sending out when we're trying to encourage a green, economic job creating industry that provides much more prevailing wages to all of businesses in our community. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. With a similar perspective of the previous speaker, however I think we basically have an identity crisis here and it's confusing as to where they belong and where they think they belong. And each of the organizations which they are intended to belong to say, well it's up to the other organization, and this has been going back and forth like a bouncing ball for a number of sessions.

"Mr. Speaker, the issue is all about money. When you really get underneath the skin of where this is, what agency can the film people go to get the money that they need to repair their facilities to do more marketing, to do more tax credits, et cetera? None of the agencies that they are in, or perspective agencies that they would be in, offers them any money. In fact, they said that if we did come into HTA, HTA would have to have some more money to do it.

"I think, as the previous speaker has said it, it's a bit of an embarrassment, it's something that we should clarify, but it really has the ball bounced back to us. If we want a vibrant, robust tourism film industry, we have to provide the money for that to be done. And right now, Mr. Speaker, that's not going to be done.

"One of the other reasons why I think there is a good point behind this bill, is that if it's not money and if we look below the surface of that, there may be a better chemistry between the industry and HTA rather than the industry and the DBEDT people. I think DBEDT is probably a little bit more, maybe it's not the kindest term but it's probably a bit more bureaucratic than HTA. HTA is a bit more private sector, let's get the job done, let's go for it. And I think that's the way the film industry and the ethos of that film industry is constructed. So for the chemistry reason, not the money reason, even though the money is the primary reason for this being done, I think there's probably benefits to this bill as it stands. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ruling on a potential conflict of interest. My husband works for the film industry and is a member of IATSE," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

And Satyagraha is the insistence on truth. These were vital to the Independence Movement in India against the British Raj, and they deeply influenced the American Civil Rights Movement.

Representative Thielen rose to speak on both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with reservations on Senate Bill 423, which is relating to appropriations to the Department of the Prosecuting Attorney of the City and County of Honolulu. At the hearing I had asked the representative from the Prosecutor's Office if they had any statistics on property crimes, because Kailua is very hard hit with property crime and has been for several years. They indicated no, they didn't really keep statistics like that.

"And I thought that since in the last just five months there've been 154 thefts and larcenies in Kailua, vehicle break-ins and theft have been 66, burglary 38, motor vehicle theft 26, vandalism 7. And this is from the police department which does keep the records, does arrest the criminals, and then it seems that the system stops when it reaches the Honolulu Prosecutor's Office. The Prosecutor's Office in testimony noted that it is repeat offenders that are committing the majority of the crimes, so one crime, then repeat and repeat and repeat. And without having the prosecution, those criminals are just out on the street.

"In contrast, Mr. Speaker, on the island of Kauai, they keep statistics, and that prosecutor was there from the island of Kauai and shared statistics for 2014, and they completed 296 cases that were burglaries.

"And the very next bill is the Kauai one, and I do support that strongly. I was going to avoid standing up again, Mr. Speaker, because Kauai is doing a good job. It looks like the system has broken down in Honolulu at the Prosecutor's Office where they are not pursuing these property crimes that are plaguing the community in Kailua. So I'm speaking with reservations on Standing Committee Report 1011, which is appropriations for the Prosecutor of the City and County of Honolulu, and just to save time, in strong support for the Kauai Prosecutor's Office, who is, they're doing a very good job and keeping a record of that job of the cases that they do bring to trial. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations on this bill as well as the next bill. My reservations are that they should be part of the Prosecutor's budget, and they shouldn't have to keep coming to the Legislature every year asking for the same amount of money. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just very briefly because I know it's Second Reading, but I never actually voted no on this bill before, so I just wanted to explain. I haven't voted no on the bill simply because I think that it's got good intentions and that I understand where the people were coming from when they wanted this bill.

"However, we've now seen it a number of times and it's just not getting better and I think it's just time to vote no. So my concern, just so that it's out there, my concern is just that we shouldn't be contracting youth services, particularly youth services for youth in crisis and youth evaluations, to private entities that are going to be unlicensed and unregulated. And I think there was a chance that we could really put together a good network of providers for our youth, but this bill is not it and it's not, as I said, getting any better. It's not getting any closer to what it needs to be for this to really work. And I think that as it's written now, privatizing our youth services, which is really what this is going to end up doing, is not in the best interest of the youth of our state. So, thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition of this. Very briefly, just to pick up what my colleague said a moment ago, this bill deputizes folks with far less training and expertise than our good friend, the social worker from Mililani, who goes through a rigorous training program in order to make evaluations like this. So that's the number one problem.

"The second one, the key to the whole measure, is the word 'safe'. The word 'safe'. You see, you can't remove a child from the home that the parents have it in unless it's unsafe. And so my concern, particularly now with these deputized folks who are not professional social workers, that to move the child out they'll coax them into saying, oh, it's unsafe. And we're talking children who are 14 to 18 years old, yeah I don't want to go back there. This puts the parents in a precarious situation because now the balance of power is shifted to the child. Because in order to get that child back in their home they have to go to Family Court, because the worker, the coach, the deputy, says it's unsafe. It's unsafe. So they made that evaluation, now the parents have got to go down to Family Court and prove a negative. This undermines the family structure. It undermines parental rights.

"Now even assuming there's a need for this, we have to assume that there's no other family members that this young person can talk to. There's no older siblings. There's no adult family friends. The young person who we're told in other measures is doing all sorts of things and they're having sex, and you've got to talk to them, they're adults. They don't know where the YMCA is, they don't know where the Boys and Girls Club is, they don't know where the local church is, or clergyman. They don't know where the school counselor's office is to report abuse or get help. And we have to believe that with all their teachers and all their years in school, they haven't developed a relationship with at least one teacher they can confide in and say, I'm having problems. And of course, that teacher would then contact the appropriate social work agency.

"So this is a redundant measure that we can't afford. They're only asking for one position, I believe, but they'll come back and ask for more year after year after year because the task is so large. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. For the same reasons as my colleagues, concern about the fact that there's already different entities within our state that provide these services, and that these entities do also need our attention and help, and privatizing it wouldn't help the situation per se, but I do enjoy all the other services that Hawaii Youth Services Network provides and commend them for what they do for the community. For those reasons, in opposition. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, no vote. There's got to be a better way to do this. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Can you please register a no vote for me? And just a brief comment. When I was sitting in the hearing I had a chance to speak with the Department of Education, which is only one of the many entities that will be mandated to have an electronic system for the ERS, which I think is great. I think that we're encouraging them to go into the 21st century or whatever century they're ready for, and getting them to do it online. But they have a really, really steep hill that they have to climb in order to get there. And I know that it's not going to be effective until 2020, but still they've been trying to work with ERS on different things and it's not been getting better, for them to try to move their system into an electronic system.

"So I think that I would support a resolution to this intent, to encourage them to do an electronic system, but to mandate it for these guys, they're struggling right now for the DOE to get the ERS to work. But making the whole thing turn over into an electronic system without our help, I think if we provided a way to help them do that or a way to bridge that gap between them and ERS, I would support that. But for that reason, a no vote. Thank you."

If there's anything that we know in Hawaii that we pay too much for, that's our electricity, and that's what this is about. We want to keep our cost of living down. We want to make sure that our constituents can have a livable Hawaii, a livable time to make ends meet. This is contrary to that. "I rise in support. I know it's Second Reading, Mr. Speaker, but I just want to make some brief comments on 1046, 1047 and 1050. These relate to teacher pay. The teacher shortage in Hawaii seems to never go away, Mr. Speaker. The Honolulu Star-Advertiser stated recently that more than half of Hawaii's public school teachers leave within the first five years of being hired. There's a number of reasons this is the case, I believe, Mr. Speaker, but I believe the single most important reason is rather straight forward, and that's low pay. In fact it's not just low pay, it's the lowest pay in the nation when you factor in cost of living.

"Recently, Civil Beat has determined that even not factoring in the high cost of living, the average teacher in Hawaii earns 19% less than the average teacher in California, 20% less than Massachusetts, 25% less than New York. If we want to retain quality teachers, Mr. Speaker, we have to pay them what they're worth.

"Some of the subsequent resolutions here deal with some ancillary activities that teachers engage in. In addition to being underpaid, Mr. Speaker, they also do a lot of things they don't get paid for. Class prep, evaluation, you name it. They work after school every day, during evenings, over weekends. They need to get paid for the work that they do, and they need a formal mechanism for overtime. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 49, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING THE GOVERNOR, BOARD OF EDUCATION, THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, AND THE HAWAII STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION TO ESTABLISH A MINIMUM MEDIAN SALARY, ADJUSTED FOR THE COST OF LIVING, THAT IS NOT THE LOWEST IN THE NATION AMONG METROPOLITAN AREAS, IN THE NEXT COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENT," was referred to the Committee on Education, with Representatives Har, Ing and Takumi being excused; and

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing to speak against Standing Committee Report 1084. This is a bill that would create the Office of the State Inspector General, a new government office with all the costs that would go with it. We frankly don't need to do that because what it's looking at is waste and abuse. We have an auditor, and we have an example of when the Auditor assisted the Legislature in looking at the Bureau of Conveyances and there was a quite lengthy, about a week or so long, proceeding looking into the Bureau of Conveyances and what was going wrong and what was going on.

"We don't need to create a whole new government entity. And I would just say for people that are concerned about the rising costs for our constituents, this carries a price tag that we don't need to do because we have an existing entity that can do this work.

"So expand what is in existence if necessary at much less cost. Use the Auditor with the State Attorney General's assistance where it's necessary.

And then we save taxpayers money and we cut down on waste, fraud and abuse where's it's shown. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a no vote. I just wanted to support my colleague from Kailua in the same regard as far as waste and already having some entities that can fix this problem. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I've had a change of heart and I am going to vote no on this. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please cast a no vote for me. I'd like the words of the speaker of Kailua entered into the record as if they were my own. And I'm very concerned that we're setting up a Star Chamber to go after government workers for inefficiencies, waste and amorphous terms like this. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, rising in opposition. I think that the other agency that might overlap with this is the State Ombudsman's Office, which has jurisdiction over all matters, both county and state, excluding certain judiciary and legislative matters."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. My brother was Regional Inspector General for the United States Department of Agriculture, so I echo the Representative of Kailua's statements. I also believe it is applicative of the Auditor's position. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I agree with my colleagues but I had some reservations because of two things. One is, a watchdog always costs money. And number two is, until we have a two-party system, I think this is another watch dog that we're going to have to pay for. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll be going with reservations. Concerns that I have are those that were raised by the Chair of the CPC Committee. Also the effective date of July 1, 2015. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Just briefly, I would say that yes, we do have organizations that are already supposed to take care of these problems, but I think it's also pretty clear that they don't. So I think we need to consider taking this further step. Mahalo."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Clarification of my reservation and why the two-party system was mentioned, Mr. Speaker. It's because of checks and balances, which is innate in the political process. When there's a super majority on one side, no matter where it is or how it is, whether it's one Republican or it's on the Democrat side, it means there's a lack of accountability. Those of us who are married know that our wives keep us accountable. Those of us who are wives know that our husbands keep us accountable.

"A lot of the checks and balances that are needed are generally just in this office in this position, right here in this Chamber. We keep each other accountable because we're watching what the government is doing. With a super majority, it is more difficult. Therefore we need another watch dog, and we may have to pay for it, as my colleagues have indicated. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. On 1122, Mr. Speaker, the SPRB for SunStrong LLC, I'm rising with reservations and a few comments. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, it's evidently a new company, although the person who I believe is the primary employee does have a track record with another project a couple of years ago. But SunStrong was just recently registered with DCCA and there are some questions I hope that Finance will ask. There's nothing on the Internet about them, which is a little bit unusual when someone is coming in asking for what turns out to be $100 million in SPRB. So I'm hoping Finance will do extra due diligence on this. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with a point to ponder. This bill extends the sunset provision relating to the tax on naptha, and that's primarily for the use of generating electricity on the island of Kauai. Mr. Speaker, this is a good bill because it keeps the price of electricity of Kauai, which is almost 50 cents per kilowatt hour, low. So I think that is good. But the point is also related to another issue, is that when we're going to have LNG, we can also save people on Oahu, when we bring natural gas in to lower their electrical bill. So the same principle that Kauai is using and what this bill is based upon is a point we should ponder. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

We don't know, but the fact that it's in here, maybe it's a bit too strict of an interpretation, but if it's in there somebody may sneak something through it, and I think if we're going to be precise and mean what we're saying, we should say that it's in there and it means this, or we should take it out. "In strong support, Mr. Speaker. Just a couple words of reassurance, to first the speaker from Kailua. As one who authored taking away all the special surcharges and program from the undersea cable, I can assure you that this is about fiber optic broadband only.

"And to the speaker from Hawaii Kai, in the committee hearing we asked a representative from PACOM about whether this term is specific to an offshore floating structure or if it was a work of art to try to capture the ecosystem of technology development which would take place on ships associated with the fiber optic cable. They said it was the latter, and they're trying to come up with a better term to give reassurance that it's not some type of a structural park out in the ocean.

"So, Mr. Speaker, these issues have been addressed by your committee, and we will continue to work with the Senate and others to ensure that these concerns are met, and that these concerns do not pan out to be such that we lose a very important bill. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Thank you. Very brief comments. This measure clarifies the State's definition of habilitative services. This is in response to the recent final rule issued by the federal Department of Health and Human Services as of February 27, 2015. And if I might request the opportunity to insert written comments. Thank you."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of Senate Bill 1095, House Draft 1 that clarifies the definition of 'habilitative services' as 'health care services, including but not limited to physical and occupational therapy, speech-language therapy, speech and swallowing therapy, applied behavior analysis, medical equipment, orthotics and prosthetics, that help a person keep, learn or improve skills and functioning for daily living.' This definition is similar to the definitions used in Medicaid laws and numerous other states, such as Michigan and Ohio, and reflects current best medical practice and the medical standard of care.

"This measure seeks to bring our insurance laws as related to 'habilitative services' into compliance with federal statutes and regulations related to the Affordable Care Act that will be effective on April 28, 2015. The federal Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) defines 'habilitative services' as '[h]ealth care services that help a person keep, learn, or improve skills and functioning for daily living.' Examples of habilitative services specifically cited by DHHS include 'therapy for a child who is not walking or talking at the expected age,' 'physical and occupational therapy, speech-language pathology and other services for people with disabilities in a variety of inpatient and/or outpatient settings.'

"The proposed definition in Senate Bill 1095, House Draft 1 will ensure that our residents have access to and receive the quality health care services that they pay for through their medical insurance plans. For this reason, I strongly support the passage of Senate Bill 1095, House Draft 1."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and again just with some brief comments. This bill is likely a candidate for our Rusty Scalpel award by outside community groups. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to apprise the membership about this particular bill. This is in response to the US Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau's recent decision to approve labels for powdered alcohol, essentially making this new product available in our communities, but subject to states' laws and regulations.

"Currently, five states prohibit the sale of powdered alcohol in their jurisdictions. Two states have added and placed powdered alcohol into their statutory definitions, thereby subjecting it to regulation. California is currently considering emergency legislative action to deal with this very serious new development in the alcohol arena. So I urge Members to take a look at the testimony, and their support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. My reservations stem partly in regards to only up to 18 years of age. So hopefully as we get to the finish line with this measure, this Body will be moving it up to 21 at that point in time. But until such time, I'll be with reservations, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Let's give them a chance to thrive, and if, as the opponents of this bill proclaim, that it's taking away business and it's hurting and killing the taxi business, then let's regulate it.

"But Mr. Speaker, this kind of business, this innovative, creative way of transporting in your own car as a ride sharing and collecting money, why do we want to kill it so quickly? Because I think they've said, you guys pass this bill, we're out of town. And if you talk to the young people, they're saying, this is such an innovative thing that's going on in various parts of the mainland, that we would be foolish to kill it with a bill such as this. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On Standing Committee Report 1219, Senate Bill Number 737, Senate Draft 1, House Draft 1, please note my reservations and may I just have brief comments, please? Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill was to limit the total amount of fees charged for the deferred deposit of a personal check, also known as payday loans, to an annual percentage rate of 36%.

"I do appreciate the hard work of the CPC Committee of which I am a member, but as we are the Committee on Consumer Protection, I don't believe that the 36% should have been deleted. I believe that the 36% limit was a good thing, and that does benefit consumers. It was stricken out of this version, and for those reasons I'm voting with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support with reservations. May the words of the Representative from Kapolei be entered into the Journal as my own? Mr. Speaker, I just want to also add that that 36% cap is also what is given to our military families. They're in and about my community, so I'm very much aware of the current payday lending businesses, and I hope we can look again at the policy. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I also stand with reservations. I would like the comments of the Representative from Kapolei be that of my own. Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations. I ask that the previous speaker's words be entered in the Journal as if they were my own. I also think 36% is, boy that's a pretty low bar. I think that's even usury, and the fact that many of these predatory loan companies target the working poor is downright immoral and shameful. And I think frankly it should be almost completely outlawed. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Woodson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Your Committee on Consumer Protection worked on this proposal, and I'd just like to make a notation that we chose to strike out the 36% so that the Committee on Finance, if they so choose to hear the measure, can take a look at the proposal. I'd also like to make a notation that with amendments made in the proposal, Mr. Speaker, that according to some of these calculations, the APR rate will in fact go down to 17%, which actually far exceeds the 36% that is suggested in this proposal. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Stand. Com. 1229 refers to Senate Bill 1214, which is the request from Hawaiian Electric Company and its subsidiaries for special purpose revenue bonds, and I'm rising to speak against the measure, Mr. Speaker. Thank you.

"Mr. Speaker, Hawaiian Electric has submitted a request to the Public Utilities Commission to rush ahead the proposed sale of Hawaiian Electric to NextEra, and at the same time they're coming in here asking for SPRBs, at one point it was in the amount of $800 million. It's a lot of money for a company that very likely no longer will exist. NextEra has touted itself as being very well funded, that it's going to ride into Hawaii like a knight on a white horse and solve all of our energy problems.

"Well, Mr. Speaker, in a filing, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31st, 2014, has noted NextEra and its subsidiary are also known as Florida Power & Light Company, it can be materially adversely affected as a result of new or revised laws, regulations or interpretations or other regulatory initiatives. This is in Florida, its operation, and specifically as it's relevant to this bill and to Hawaii, that any government incentives that facilitate the installation of solar generating facilities on residential or other rooftops could have a material adverse effect on Florida Power Light, NextEra's business financial conditions, et cetera. There can be no assurance that the utility will be able to respond adequately to such regulatory changes, which could have a material adversarial effect on the utility's business financial conditions.

"What this means, Mr. Speaker, is that in Florida, NextEra has been successful in preventing homeowners from putting in solar. They have one of the lowest solar percentages in the nation, and that's in sunny Florida. So with NextEra coming here to take over, you know very well that their first objective would be to prevent solar from expanding on rooftops here. And the whole purpose would be because they don't make the money that they need to make, and as the Securities and Exchange Commission said, they are likely to go under financially where solar becomes a major player.

"So this is the situation where we have Hawaiian Electric, number one saying, let's rush this sale, let NextEra buy us out, but at the same time Legislature, approve an $800 million SPRB for us.

"I think we should stop, as a Body, helping Hawaiian Electric, who wants to sell and be out of here by the end of this year, and instead look at all the other different SPRB applicants and take a look at what would be good for this state.

"The other thing, Mr. Speaker, I think we had better be very wary and very aware of a new utility coming in that's been told by the Securities and Exchange Commission, you'll fail if you allow solar to be on rooftops. Is that the new utility we want for Hawaii? I think not. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote, please. I want to commend my colleague from Kailua for all her research efforts, and please record a no vote for me from 1229 through Stand. Com. 1233. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A ruling on a potential conflict of interest. I'm a shareholder in Hawaiian Electric Company, which has done very well over the past several years. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Jordan rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, ruling on a potential conflict. I am also a shareholder in Hawaiian Electric Corporation," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Jordan continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I notice the amount is blank, so I'm okay with this for now. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, the mantra of my office for the last eight years has been solar on every roof. And now because of the behavior of HECO, it's been batteries under every house. Mr. Speaker, I think what my colleague from Kailua has mentioned and what we are now doing with HECO's foot in the aisle for getting solar on every roof, to do this I think is premature. If in effect there is a sale, it's moot, and if there's not a sale, why do it now, because there's not supposed to be a decision until the end of this year or sometime next year. So I would say the best way to do this is kick it down the line like we do with other problems we don't know what to do with, kick the can down for another year. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just very briefly, I'd like to note that the Body and Legislatures prior to us has approved a number of SPRBs, I believe nine over the last several decades, for the utilities. And that's because they need the capital and they need the financing to be able to implement infrastructure upgrades to reduce costs for electricity for everybody else.

"Now I certainly do share many of the concerns that have been raised by prior speakers about what happens in the future from here forward. That said, I think that your Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection is on the record as having moved other measures, bills and resolutions, that try to address some of these concerns.

"With this particular measure, the reason that it's moving forward is because there is a window of time before the Public Utilities Commission is to approve any takeover of Hawaiian Electric Utilities that would be in receipt of these SPRBs. So what the committee recommendation made in this bill as we amended it was to restrict that period of time and that value of money that this SPRB would be eligible for so that if there is a successor utility that comes in, say in the next year or two, they would have to, if they wanted to take advantage of any of this, come back to the Legislature and justify themselves and ask for a new bill.

"Secondly, what we put in this measure was something which consumers have been asking for for decades, and that's transparency in billing and transparency in the operations of the utilities. Everybody knows what the total value of the bill that comes to them from the utilities is, and that's in many cases hundreds of dollars per month. But what we don't know is what the utility spends that money on. What percentage goes to profit, what percentage goes to infrastructure upgrades, what percentage goes to pay back debt, and everything else, and on and on.

"And to have transparency to understand whether or not any of the things that we do here, or the PUC does, should be justified. Any policy decisions, we have to know transparently what's happening, and consumers deserve the right to know just the same. And as a provision in this measure that we put in, utilities have to open those books up, and on every single electric bill for any utility subject to the receipt of this funding, they would have to do so for the first time in the State's history. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I respect what the Chair of Energy & Environmental Protection is trying to do. I do not respect what Hawaiian Electric is doing to this Legislature. They had no real information or justification why on one hand they're saying, we want to be out of here by the end of 2015, and on the other hand they're saying, give us an $800 million SPRB. So they're talking out of both sides of their mouth.

"And then we know that at NextEra, which also wants to be in here buying, taking over by the end of 2015, we know that according to the Securities and Exchange Commission, NextEra would be materially impacted with solar continuing to go on rooftops. What is our vision for our state? A solar on every roof that is feasible, or is it to say we will let this monolithic utility come in, take over, and change our whole goal of being energy independent. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to change from reservations to just yes, straight up. Thanks."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1214, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS TO ASSIST HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY, INC., MAUI ELECTRIC COMPANY, LIMITED, AND HAWAII ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY, INC.," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Choy, Ing, Lowen, Luke, McKelvey and Pouha being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, no vote and few brief comments. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the work that has been done on this bill, and I want to remind Members that I'm a proponent of medicinal marijuana. But we are trying to strike right balance. And I've also been a proponent of home rule. And my opposition stems from that home rule issue. This basically prohibits a landlord from making a decision on his own personal property. We still allow landlords to discriminate against pet owners, and I believe that pets are therapeutic and medicinal. But I feel that this measure oversteps those bounds, and for those reasons in opposition."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Mr. Speaker, I also vote with reservations. I echo the sentiments of the Representative from Kauai. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1291, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL MARIJUANA," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives Aquino, Cachola, Cullen, DeCoite, Fukumoto Chang, Jordan, Matsumoto, Oshiro, San Buenaventura, Tokioka, Tsuji and Yamane voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Har, Kawakami, McDermott, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Choy, Ing, Lowen, Luke, McKelvey and Pouha being excused.

Representatives Belatti and Rhoads, for the Committee on Health and the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1233) recommending that S.B. No. 682, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that S.B. No. 682, SD 2, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support of SB 682, SD 2, HD 1, with reservations.

"First, I would like the record to reflect my sincere appreciation for the mutual decision of the Health and Judiciary Committee Chairs to make the following recommendations and amendments to SB 682, SD 2, to comport to the previous 'House position' in HB 321, HD 1 with some additional useful amendments, brought forth in SB 682, SD 2.

"As you may recall, earlier this session, HB 321, HD 1, became the primary measure in the House to establish medical marijuana production facilities and dispensaries, and now SB 682, SD 2, as received from the Senate, seeks to amend the definition of a 'certifying physician to be the qualifying patient's primary care physician' and also legalize and permit the transportation of medical marijuana from and between a patient, caregiver, medical marijuana production center or dispensary through the public domain and space. These two issues are important as one seeks to properly address questions regarding which licensed doctors may issue a certificate to use medical marijuana and the other seeks to address the present legality of transporting medical marijuana from a caregiver to patient and also contemplate the eventual transportation of medical marijuana from a production facility to a dispensary and/or to the qualifying patient. Hence, I do not disagree with the targets of the measure but only the means by which it is addressed.

"Mr. Speaker, although I appreciate the redefining which licensed physician may issue a certificate for use of medical marijuana, I am still concerned that even with the inclusion of a 'bona fide physician-patient relationship' as a limiting requirement, there is still a degree of subjectivity as to how it will be defined, and the Chair of the Judiciary Committee described a real-life example where a bona fide physician-patient relationship may have arisen even with little prior knowledge of his medical history or less than several hours of acquaintance. Certainly, we all do not want to enable the 'fly-by-night' or 'pot-doctors' to come in to our communities and issue unwarranted certificates. I find the current draft language to still be inadequate, and if adopted as drafted may inadvertently allow which we all despise and seek to prohibit.

"Likewise, Mr. Speaker, I have a similar concern with the current language that defines 'transport' to mean transportation of medical marijuana between a qualifying patient and qualifying patient's primary caregiver, a licensed medical marijuana production center and licensed medical dispensary, and licensed medical marijuana production center and another licensed medical marijuana production center. Although the present language may address the issues raised in a recent Hawaii Supreme Court decision, it may not be proscriptive enough and may need to be defined more precisely to place a limitation on the amount that can be transferred between the various parties and the duration of time in which the transportation must occur. Let me explain. For one, there must to be a limitation of the amount that can be legally transported between a qualifying primary caregiver and a qualifying patient. That is, the amount being delivered or carried from the 'grower' to the 'user' must have a bearing on the then 'adequate supply' or under present law, four ounces and/or seven plants and no more. Anymore shall be a per se violation of HRS 321 between the two, caregiver and patient, no more than the 'adequate supply' can be possessed. On the other hand, that same amount or quantity may not be appropriate to what may be transportable by the production center to the licensed medical marijuana dispensary. In this case and as currently described in the draft medical marijuana dispensary bills, it appears that each dispensary will be allowed to serve an unlimited number of patients, and therefore have inventoried and available for sale an amount that probably exceeds the present adequate supply or more than four ounces and/or seven plants.

"Likewise, the transportation of an amount of medical marijuana between a licensed production center and another licensed production center should also be considered. Again, if we are concerned about diversion of otherwise legal medical marijuana into the hands of minors or illegal black market, the quantity and amount of marijuana being carried, even in plain view through the public space, must be limited and rationally related to the purpose of the transport and no more and no less than appropriate depending on the starting point, intermediate, and final destination. A strict accounting of quantity carried for a limited and certain duration would lessen the diversion of marijuana from legitimate users to the illegal ones. It is my understanding that in Colorado, all deliveries are packaged in banded and sealed containers that indicate any premature opening before delivery. A 'real-time' GPS activated monitoring system also tracks the route, speed and traffic conditions between transportation points.

"Similarly, Mr. Speaker, I suggest that any transportation through the public place is limited in the 'time and duration' that it may be in the public space. For instance, it should not be permissible to transport a delivery of medical marijuana from a production center to a dispensary over the course of several days. A delivery from Wahiawa to Waipahu should not take several hours even during rush hour traffic. Not only would this increase the diversion potential, but could also endanger the general public as the product being transported has a monetary value of several thousand dollars for every pound, and this is presently a predominately 'cash and carry' business. In fact, there have been several reports of attempted robbery and car-jacking in Colorado, but fortunately no reported serious injury or fatality yet.

"Likewise, any transportation of any amount should not be used as a legal device or shield to protect the illegal transportation and distribution of marijuana. The current law and mere exhibition of a valid medical marijuana card already serves to deflect any law enforcement inquiry or investigation, and any law addressing the transportation of the same should be drafted very carefully to not permit the illegal diversion and transfer to the minors and those without the legal authority and credentials to possess and use medical marijuana. But, this may not be as simple as it seems, as even current security firms and courier services may think twice before transporting money that may be viewed by federal law enforcement as involvement in a criminal enterprise. Again, this is a complicated and evolving area of public policy of integrating two sets of policies and seeking to reconcile both purposes of promoting the public good.

"Mr. Speaker, there are, however, some very good amendments made in this draft that improves upon and betters the previous house position in HB 321, HD 1. They are as follows:

(1) Lowering from 26 to 6 the number of dispensary licenses to be offered by the Department of Health by July 1, 2016, and 12 more that may be offered by July 1, 2017. This is more in line with the request by the Departments of Health and the Attorney General, and although it does not leave the number of licenses to the sole discretion of Department of Health based upon actual demand and need, still it does demonstrate recognition that a more limited initial launch of a new commercial medical marijuana policy may lead to better and more promising outcomes for both regulators and the regulated businesses.

(2) Lowering the number of medical marijuana production centers from the current 30 licenses to some other, hopefully lower amount, by March 1, 2016, and March 1, 2017, respectively also demonstrates recognition that a more limited initial launch of a new commercial medical marijuana policy may lead to better and more promising outcomes for both regulators and the regulated businesses.

(3) Prohibiting primary caregivers from cultivating medical marijuana for qualifying patients after June 30, 2018; provided that a primary caregiver who is the parent, guardian, or person having legal custody of a qualifying patient who is a minor or an adult lacking the legal capacity may cultivate marijuana for the qualifying patient is a very good amendment. For one, it addresses a major deficiency of states like California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Rhode Island and Vermont, where 'home grow' is allowed even with established medical marijuana dispensaries, and where such home grow marijuana has shown to find its way into the illegal or black market. This amendment is significant and will address to some degree the concerns of law enforcement who would find it difficult if not impossible to distinguish between legally grown and licensed marijuana products, and illegal grown and distributed marijuana and products. This amendment in essence would make the dispensary the surrogate primary caregiver, and therefore eliminate the need for the primary caregiver as the sole and exclusive source of a patient's medical marijuana.

(4) Limiting authorized sources of the medical marijuana for the qualifying patient commencing July 1, 2018 to either a licensed dispensary or cultivation by the patient him or herself is another good amendment to the current house position and addresses many if not all of the 'home grow' concerns of law enforcement and states that allow for home grow along with medical dispensaries. If this is the intention, it would probably be made clearer by inserting 'either' among 'or' so that the patient has a choice but cannot have access to both. Again, as I suggested in the public hearing on HB 321 in discussion with the Task Force members in attendance and in past debates on Second and Third Reading, this 'closed' system or 'custom grow' by the dispensary to a specific customer or patient would enable the commercial operator to have the certainty of a purchase contract while providing the patient with a constant and reliable source of medical marijuana. This serves the needs of the patient, lowers the over-production of marijuana and possible diversion to illegal sources, and enables the dispensary and/or production facility or commercial grower to operate as a legitimate business without competition from the gray or black markets. In my discussion with some commercial licensed and permitted marijuana producers in Colorado, they strongly recommended that we prohibit the home grow if and once medical marijuana becomes available through dispensaries. The only exception they both could agree upon was if the patient lived in some location some distance from the dispensary. Mr. Speaker, in my humble opinion this would be 'best practices' to prohibit all home grow after dispensaries are open and providing medical marijuana, as has been done in states like Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York and the District of Columbia, to curb a source of illegal marijuana, and it is admirable and well intentioned. To both Health and Judiciary Chairs I extend my sincere kudos and applaud their actions.

Still, it is important to note that this is probably the best time or the only time to make this change and prohibit home grow for both patients and caregivers when dispensaries open, as it would be difficult if next to impossible without the 'trade-off' and 'give and take' of the political process between advocates and opponents and other stakeholders. And, one cannot understate the necessity to have and maintain a vigorous and well monitored regulatory scheme compliant with the federal Cole Memorandum standards.

"In close, let me again reassert my belief in and support for a well regulated medical marijuana dispensary system that is further described in my remarks on 2nd Reading on HB 321, HD 1, on February 20, 2015, and on 3rd Reading on HB 321, HD 1, on March 10, 2015. I do see and appreciate the progress of the current draft, and extend my appreciation to the respective Chairs. However, there is more we can do to ensure to address the most important stakeholders concerns and ensure the health and safety of our youth and communities, along with patients and caregivers, and brave and innovative entrepreneurs. To that goal and purpose, do I submit my sincere efforts and time. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations on Senate Bill 682.

"Mr. Speaker, my reservations mainly stem from the language in the bill that pertains to the certifying authority. My concern is the certifying authority is now a physician that has a bona fide relationship with the patient. It is not clear what that is exactly. The current existing statute requires that the certifying doctor should be the primary care physician, which was changed just several years ago. The reason for this change then was to ensure the certifying physician knows the patient and sees that individual on a regular basis. This standard should not be lowered at this time. Aloha."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 682 is now our version of House Bill 321 which includes medical marijuana dispensaries. Mr. Speaker, I really would like to thank this Body, because this House Draft 1 truly is a version that has taken into account many of the comments that have been expressed on this Floor previously.

"I do want to point to you, Mr. Speaker, that there are three major changes that I think individuals and Members need to be aware of. First, this bill further limits the number of dispensaries and adopts a phased in approach for the creation of dispensaries and production centers in our great state. In year one, it is limited to six dispensaries licensed in July 2016, and dispensing to be allowed by January 2017. In year two, another six would be allowed, and then thereafter the Department of Health is being given the flexibility to determine whether or not other licenses have to be given in light of any changes or greater understanding about how the dispensaries are operating.

"Second, and very, very important, Mr. Speaker, is new provisions in here that would subject those who link patient cards together to grow cooperatively to some degree of regulations which we do not have today. There's also a very important provision that phases out cultivation by primary caregivers in 2018. This is especially important in light of yesterday's indictment in Colorado where over 32 people were indicted, and the seizure of 4,600 pounds of marijuana, nearly 2,000 marijuana plants, 10 pounds of hash oil, and about $1.4 million in cash from a cooperative that allegedly grew for five medical marijuana patients. This provision, which we did not write in light of this Colorado development that just came to light yesterday, will address that problem precisely in our great state.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, we've added a third provision that creates a medical marijuana advisory commission that allows for greater participation for those from the counties. This is in response to those requests for more participation and addressing the home rule concerns.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I really want to thank you and this Body for allowing both the Health and Judiciary Committees to continue to work on this bill, and I believe that when we head into conference we will have sufficient provisions in which to really craft a good bill for the patients and the people of this state. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Senate Bill 682, SD 2, HD 1. The purpose of this bill is to, among other things, create a number of medical marijuana dispensaries throughout the State of Hawaii, gradually expanding over an extent of time. It would also allow a qualified patient, primary caregiver, owner or employee to transport medical marijuana, under certain conditions.

"While this draft addresses many of my previous concerns, marijuana remains a Schedule I drug, and is illegal under federal law via the Controlled Substance Act (21 U.S. Code Chapter 13). Specifically:

"21 U.S. Code § 841 - Prohibited acts A

(a) Unlawful acts
Except as authorized by this subchapter, it shall be unlawful for any person knowingly or intentionally—

(1) to manufacture, distribute, or dispense, or possess with intent to manufacture, distribute, or dispense, a controlled substance; or

(2) to create, distribute, or dispense, or possess with intent to distribute or dispense, a counterfeit substance."

"The responsibility of the Legislature is to protect our citizens and children. Therefore, by disregarding the provisions of the Controlled Substances Act, we are teaching our community and children that drugs are acceptable. We are opening doors to federal offenses, ensuring our citizens are prosecutable under federal law because they have chosen to manufacture and dispense marijuana.

"In addition, Governor John Hickenlooper of the State of Colorado recently stated that legalizing marijuana in Colorado was a major mistake, and that it was 'reckless'. He further stated that 'the drug war has been a "disaster"' since legalizing marijuana in Colorado. Mr. Speaker, we need to learn from the mistakes of other states. The experiences of Colorado and the words of Governor Hickenlooper should be sufficient warning to the lawmakers of this state.

"Finally, in a recent hearing before the House Health Committee, in response to HCR 136: Requesting the Hawaii Bankers Association to opine whether member financial institutions and their staff who choose to service medical marijuana-related businesses risk civil and criminal prosecuting under federal law, the Executive Director of the Hawaii Bankers Association, Edward Pei, also warned that as long as medical marijuana is illegal under federal laws, the Bank Secrecy Act, the PATRIOT Act, and the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act, all banks in the United States are taking major risks and challenges if they choose to finance or lend to those who are involved in medical marijuana in any form. Consequences could result in civil and criminal penalties, banks losing their banking charters, as well as their reputation. Therefore, with these federal laws in place, it is premature to provide for medical marijuana dispensaries, until the federal government removes marijuana as a Schedule I drug.

"Mr. Speaker, the consequences of this bill could be detrimental to the people of Hawaii, and should carefully be analyzed. For these reasons I am opposed to Senate Bill 682, SD 2, HD 1."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Belatti be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, second time, and a couple of things if I may add to my no vote. She said the bill addresses all the concerns that most people have had. Well it didn't address my concerns. Number one, was the license fee, $30,000 versus if you want to run a Longs or a Walgreens it's $338. Are we in this for a cash cow? Are we here really to help people medicinally or are we here to make money for the State of Hawaii? That's another concern that was not addressed.

"Secondly, about the black market. About the incident that just happened on the mainland, Mr. Speaker. You think these people are stupid who are out there growing it for the black market now are going to stop? They're going to jump for it and they're going to get more prolific in terms of what they're going to be able to beat a price for somebody who has to package it, has to pay $30,000 for a license renewable every year, has to do all of these other regulations. You think the price on the street is not going to go down? Right now it's $20 per gram.

"When I know what the price is in these dispensaries, then I'll say, yeah this was really right we kept the black market away and all these things that happened on the mainland they're not going to happen here. Well, Mr. Speaker, I think that's a little bit overly idealistic, optimistic.

"The point is, Mr. Speaker, we don't know the territory that we're heading in yet. We know that there's a slippery slope on other mainland progress where you put this in place and then you basically get recreational marijuana, which I don't think is what the people of the State want. They want to help, and I want to help those who medicinally need this.

"But we're treating medicine like it's a drug rather than treating medicine like a medicine, which as I said earlier, if it's really a medicine, let's get it legitimized into the Longs, the Walgreens, and the other places where medicine is very professionally, very well handled, and not with $30,000 licenses but with only $338 to get a license to run a Longs and a pharmaceutical. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, a lot of the things that are still out there are not answered by this bill, but the bill is a bit of a step forward to what it was before. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Belatti be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. No. 682, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL MARIJUANA," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Aquino, Cachola, Cullen, DeCoite, Johanson, Jordan, Keohokalole, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Tokioka, Tsuji and Yamane voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Har, McDermott, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Choy, Ing, Lowen, Luke, McKelvey and Pouha being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, I am amiss of not having made this announcement last Wednesday or Friday, because we had a Thursday Kuhio Day, and generally we acknowledge, at least this caucus generally acknowledges every year, Prince Jonah Kūhiō Kalaniana'ole.

"Mr. Speaker, without going into the details of which most people know, I want to add a couple of things that maybe people didn't know. That he studied at Oxford Law and Saint Matthew's in California, and was later a Republican member of Congress noted for three things. And this may be a bit new to some of us. Hawaiian Homes, we already know that he was very instrumental in the Organic Act. But Volcanoes National Park was something that Prince Kuhio is known for. And then lastly, for the funding of Pearl Harbor, a significant strategic commitment, almost like the Floor presentation today.

"But probably the one thing that people don't know is that he got a lot of this done because he had all night poker games in Washington, and people came to love him and called him 'Prince Cupid.' Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to announce that today is our very old Minority Leader's birthday. So we can all wish Beth a very happy birthday."

At this time, the Chair stated:

"The Chair would like to remind committee chairs that today is the lateral filing deadline for resolutions that need to be moved to their final committees. Please file your committee reports and drafts with the Chief Clerk's Office by 6:00 p.m. this evening."

They're going to open a new Ewa campus of the Hawaiian Humane Society. It's really desperately needed for Leeward and Central Oahu. I've only been in office about two, three months not even, and I've already gotten numerous inquiries about new dog parks for the four legged members of our families, and I'm proud to announce that Ewa Beach will now have a humane society as well, and a dog park. A Conference Committee shall meet in the conference room assigned or reserved, pursuant to the Room Scheduling Procedures and Guidelines and Room Assignment Schedule, as attached.

4. Initial Public-Meeting Notice

The signatures of all chairs shall be obtained before the notice of an initial meeting is posted or distributed. Lead chairs from both houses are encouraged to sign meeting notices first, before distributing them to other chairs to sign.

Chairs shall provide at least 24 hours public notice of the first meeting of the Conference Committee and are strongly encouraged to provide more than 24 hours notice if at all possible. Written notices shall be submitted to the Senate Chief Clerk and the House Sergeant-at-Arms for official postings on the Legislature's website and Capitol bulletin boards. The lead committee staff shall post the notice adjacent to the door of the assigned conference room at the time of the meeting.

5. Notice of Subsequent Meetings

If agreement is not reached at a duly noticed meeting but the lead chairs of both chambers agree to meet again before midnight on the same day, the lead chairs of both chambers shall publicly announce at the meeting the time and place at which the Conference Committee will reconvene. Written notice of the reconvening of the Conference Committee on the same day is not required to be distributed. However, written notice containing information on the subsequent meeting shall be submitted to the Senate Chief Clerk and the House Sergeant-at-Arms for official posting as soon as possible. The lead committee staff shall post the notice adjacent to the door of the assigned conference room at the time of the meeting.

b. If agreement is not reached at a duly noticed meeting but the lead chairs of both chambers agree to meet on another day, the lead chairs of both chambers shall publicly announce at the meeting the date(s), time(s), and place of the subsequent meeting(s), and submit written notice to the Senate Chief Clerk and the House Sergeant-at-Arms for official posting. The lead committee staff shall post the notice adjacent to the door of the assigned conference room at the time of the meeting.

If agreement is not reached at a duly noticed meeting and the date(s), time(s), and place of future meetings are not publicly announced at that noticed meeting, chairs shall ensure that a written meeting notice, signed by the lead chairs of their respective chamber, is submitted to the Senate Chief Clerk and the House Sergeant-at-Arms for official posting at least 24 hours in advance of the next meeting of the Conference Committee.

6. Attendance at Meetings

a. To convene the initial conference committee meeting only the lead House and Senate chair must be present. All other conference committee managers, especially any co-chair, should attempt to be present.

c. For decision-making at a meeting, a quorum must be present. "A quorum shall be a majority of the House Committee managers and a majority of the Senate Committee managers, and shall include the lead House and Senate chair and majority of the chairs of the Conference Committee for their respective chamber." See Section 9.a of the "Procedures." The lead House and Senate chair of the conference committee must be part of this quorum.

c. If none of the absent chairs are present within 30 minutes of the scheduled meeting time, the chairs present shall inform the managers and members of public present that the Conference Committee cannot be convened or reconvened, and that, pursuant to 5c of these Committees on Conference Procedures, a 24-hour advance notice shall be provided for a subsequent meeting of the Conference Committee.

For example, if after naming a Conference Committee on a House measure, the House managers of the Conference Committee decide to agree to the amendments in the Senate draft (SD) of the measure, then only the House managers of the Conference Committee shall vote on the measure, returning it to the House in its SD form. The "Record of Votes of a Conference Committee" sheet detailing the votes of the managers of the Conference Committee shall be attached to the report as a part thereof.

b. All House measures reported out of Conference Committee shall be filed with the House Chief Clerk, and likewise all Senate measures shall be filed with the Senate Chief Clerk. c. All Conference Committee Reports and Conference Drafts of measures shall be filed with the respective Chief Clerk by 11:30 p.m.

12. Electronic Transfer

Should a Conference Committee for which the vehicle is a Senate bill decide to use a proposal drafted by the House, the House chair shall have the House proposal electronically transferred to the appropriate Senate office so that the Conference Draft can be prepared. ## THIRD READING

S.B. No. 211, SD 1, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, S.B. No. 211, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FORENSIC IDENTIFICATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tokioka being excused.

S.B. No. 214, SD 1, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that S.B. No. 214, SD 1, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against the bill and I'd like to explain why. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The bill is establishing exclusive jurisdiction in the small claims division over cases in which the amount in controversy is $1,000 or less, and with personal property the ceiling is up to $5,000. It has an unintended consequence, I believe. By reducing the filing fee to $35 in the small claims court from the regular claims filing fee, which is $155, the State will automatically lose, according to the testimony from the Hawaii State Bar Association, the amount of $471,240.

"Now, the problem is that the impact will be on the organizations serving indigents, and it will be a $194,040 impact of less money, and that is because the State uses the indigent surcharge fee to fund those nonprofit organizations. And then in addition to that, last year the regular claims court adjudicated approximately 5,544 cases. Now all those cases are going to be forwarded to the small claims court division, which at this point in time, the State hasn't budgeted additional funds to support the new demand of cases. And also because the pro-bono organizations, the non-profit organizations, will be receiving less money to provide services for those in need such as human traffic victims, indigents, victims of sexual abuse, it's likely that they'll come to the Legislature next year asking for additional funds to run those support services.

"So it's an unfortunate impact, and I'm not sure it's been thought through clearly enough or provided for in the budget. I note that it's a House draft, so it looks as if there'll be a conference committee, and I would ask that the conference committee would look at the impact upon those pro-bono services that we rely upon so heavily to serve people in need. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Just a quick note to add that there probably will be some monetary loss to the government, but for the service providers there'll also be quite a bit of gain because the procedures in small claims division are much simpler, there are no appeals, and if they have to go in and defend clients in that situation they're not going to spend as much time or money, and I think that's probably one reason that none of them testified against the bill. Mahalo."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. As a volunteer in self-help service centers in Hilo and in Puna, I see that the working poor, a lot of the working people who can't afford lawyers as well as those who cannot qualify for public defender or legal aide work, need access to justice. This allows them access to justice. And I'm sorry that some funds may be cut, but the access to justice issue, to me, supersedes that whatever funds is going to be for the indigent, because the working poor need help. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 214, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE SMALL CLAIMS DIVISION OF THE DISTRICT COURT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Thielen voting no, and with Representative Tokioka being excused.

S.B. No. 223, SD 1, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, S.B. No. 223, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF THE PUBLIC GUARDIAN," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tokioka being excused.

S.B. No. 218, SD 1, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, S.B. No. 218, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ORDER OF SUCCESSION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Har voting no, and with Representative Tokioka being excused.

S.B. No. 1219, SD 2, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, S.B. No. 1219, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT SECURITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tokioka being excused.

S.B. No. 419, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that S.B. No. 419, SD 2, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the measure. Mr. Speaker, this bill gives a bit of transparency to the influence that neighborhood boards have. It allows them, if you will, to go to meetings, to become informed of what's going on in their community without having a sunshine law breach. I know that this is something unusual, but until we give them power to do something, they're only advisory and we are curtailing their advisory role by saying, hey, you can't have more than so many people at certain meetings lest you become offensive to the sunshine law.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I know that a good share, if not a majority of the Oahu Representatives on this Floor, cut their teeth at their neighborhood board. So I think we all know personally and have experienced this, even though the implementation of it has only been more recent more stringent. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, until we give the neighborhood boards power rather than just advisory kind of roles, I think we've got to relax, as this bill indicates, the way that we stringently restrict their participation in community events. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my reservations and just brief comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Based on the testimony of the League of Women Voters, the Civil Beat Law Center for the Public Interest, and in particular there was testimony from two neighborhood board commissioners, one was a gentleman by the name of Charles Zahn, who is a dear friend of mine, who is also a commissioner and a former Kapolei neighborhood board member who passed away yesterday, who was in opposition. For those reasons, I'm with reservations. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 419, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NEIGHBORHOOD BOARDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives Har and Jordan voting aye with reservations, with Representative Fukumoto Chang voting no, and with Representative Tokioka being excused.

At 1:06 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

THIRD READING

S.B. No. 1156, SD 1, HD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, S.B. No. 1156, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATUTORY REVISION: AMENDING OR REPEALING VARIOUS PROVISIONS OF THE HAWAII REVISED STATUTES AND THE SESSION LAWS OF HAWAII FOR THE PURPOSES OF CORRECTING ERRORS AND REFERENCES, CLARIFYING LANGUAGE, AND DELETING OBSOLETE OR UNNECESSARY PROVISIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives LoPresti, McKelvey, Oshiro, Say and Tokioka being excused.

S.B. No. 569, SD 1, HD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that S.B. No. 569, SD 1, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Kawakami rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, when thieves are ripping off people, they are not worried about how many sacrifices those families had to make. They are not worried about how many hours those families had to work. They are not worried about the ripple effect of how many more sacrifices and how many more hours at work those families have to endure just to get back to where they were before they were victims. Why are we giving so much thought to making it easier for thieves to do what they do, which is put families in harm's way, steal, and create hardship?"

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support with reservations on SB 569, SD 1, HD 1, a measure relating to theft.

"I agree with the bill's intent to increase the minimum threshold value of stolen property or services for the offense of theft in the second degree from $300 to $750. This threshold has not been adjusted in 30 years, and the increase will align Hawaii with other jurisdictions across the nation as well as more appropriately place the offense within context of other crimes and their commensurate punishments.

"However, I do have concerns about the 2% automatic annual increase of the threshold amount. I worry that the annual adjustment will increase the penalty threshold beyond a reasonable amount necessary to deter the crime of theft. In continuing to raise the threshold automatically, we potentially risk diminishing the consequences of the crime and in so doing, risk protecting the public and its safety."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, opposition, brief comments. Mr. Speaker, this is the shoplifter's dream card. It allows the CPI to keep every year 2% increase the amount of goods that they can steal. Why do we want to do this? I would ask anyone who knows exactly other than, well I think it says that it's going to take a threshold, which means that it would be less crowding of the courts.

"Mr. Speaker, well the ideal is to get rid of theft rather than encourage it and put an inflation. I mean there's some people who are on fixed incomes who would love to see a CPI for their pensions and CPI for other sources, but we're doing it here to benefit what otherwise is illegal behavior. I just don't get the logic and what we're intending to do and what the unintended consequences are of this if it perpetually gets 2% per year. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I'll just say that first of all, there's a separate statute that deals with shoplifting that this bill doesn't affect. We did check with the Honolulu Prosecutor's Office about how they charge shoplifting, and they said that they either use the shoplifting statute or they use the theft in the 4th degree, which this bill also does not affect.

"But the deeper question is, does it make sense to put somebody in jail for usually if you get a class C, a class C felony has a maximum of five years. Usually they don't get five years, it's usually more like a year and a half or two. But for each year of incarceration, it cost tens of thousands of dollars. I don't have the number off the top of my head, but at a minimum it's $30,000. So currently if you steal $301 worth of stuff, society will pay approximately at a minimum $45,000 to keep that person incarcerated.

"So there is a balancing act here, and that's what we're trying to achieve, but no adjustment has been made since 1986. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would therefore, if I was in the amendment mood, I'd say let's lift it to $1,000 and we could save $4.5 million every year if we just raised it to where no one would get prosecuted. If the intent is to save money or to keep society as a rule of law, if you will, I think we're mixing the savings of money with actually protecting of vendors as well as the public from theft. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think it's not a good policy. Thank you."

Representative Rhoads rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. It's still illegal to steal less than that amount, it's just not a felony, it's a misdemeanor, which can still put you in jail. I'm not arguing that this unclogs the court system at all, it won't, because people will still be charged. It's just whether it's worth $45,000 or $30,000 a year to keep someone in prison for stealing $301. Like I said, it is a balance and people will differ on where that balance should be. But there are serious considerations here. Thanks."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I think also on a different note is that it's also there's a sliding scale, so it's going to increase for inflation, I guess. So the ability to implement this for the HPD is going to get harder and harder because every year it's going to change if the threshold will change. So there's other concerns beside just the ones presented. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 569, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THEFT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 31 ayes to 15 noes, with Representatives Johanson and Keohokalole voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Aquino, Choy, Cullen, DeCoite, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Kawakami, Kong, Matsumoto, McDermott, Pouha, Thielen, Tupola,

Ward and Yamane voting no, and with Representatives LoPresti, McKelvey, Oshiro, Say and Tokioka being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Thielen: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. We had a wonderful morning out in Waimanalo today at a very historic event, the hemp seed was planted. Attending the event and speaking at the event were the Senate Agriculture Chair, Senator Ruderman, the Agriculture Vice Chair, Senator Riviere, the Energy and Environment Chair, Senator Gabbard, the Water and Land Chair, Senator Laura Thielen, and from our House we also had Representative DeCoite, Representative Creagan, Representative Lee, the staff from Representative Oshiro's office, and myself. The Dean of Tropical Agriculture, Maria Gallo spoke, as did the principal investigator, Dr. Harry Ako.

"If you turn on your TV tonight I think you will see some of the coverage, but I just want to explain to you how exciting and important that was to have hemp seed be placed in the soil in Hawaii. It's economic development for our state. It's a beginning, and I think that we all will be proud that we were a part of that with the legislation we passed last year to make this possible. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

"And one last reminder, two weeks from today is our traditional Hemp Aloha Friday. For those that might live on the neighbor islands, if you bring your shirts back, and if you don't have a hemp shirt if you just wear a natural fiber shirt, Vice Chair of Finance, natural fiber. Thank you. And we will celebrate two weeks from this Friday. But all of you, it was a wonderful event. It couldn't have happened without the legislation that the federal government passed, the 2014 Farm Act, and the legislation that this Legislature passed last year. So today, we planted a seed. Thank you."

Vice Speaker Mizuno: "Members, can we commend Representative Thielen for all her work. She's been doing this for years and I wanted to show our appreciation. Thank you for the announcement, Representative. Thank you, the fruits of your labors are now being shown."

Representative Matsumoto: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to thank everybody who has donated Easter baskets. We just got it back from IHS, there were 161 baskets this year, which was just a huge accomplishment. Secondly, I'd also like to announce that Capitol Idol is coming up again. It's on Monday, April 20th from 5:00 to 7:00 in the auditorium, and the House needs four acts. So if you can either contact me or my office. That will be happening. So, thank you very much."

"This Administration bill would assist the livestock industry by establishing a low interest biosecurity loan program to help install measures vital to their success.

"Current Federal regulations ensure a safe food supply by protecting livestock operations from the introduction of pests, diseases and pathogens, and from the spread of diseases and pathogens to other farms and ranches. Hawaii's livestock industry struggles with high operational costs. Low interest loans under the Agricultural Loan Program can assist the livestock industry and promote its sustainability. Since the House companion to this measure did not meet legislative deadlines, I support this remaining vehicle to help broaden the scope of available financial services to this important sector of Hawaii's agriculture."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I just wanted to note a few things, that multi-track schools as I think we all know were established as a desperate stop-gap measure to deal with capacity issues in our most overcrowded schools. On behalf of my constituents, I welcome the intent and hopeful effect of this bill will bring the multi-track schools into alignment with the single calendar year. I am, however, concerned that requiring the DOE to do a study about this sort of thing will have no effect unless this House and the Senate funds the DOE's budget for capacity issues.

"Campbell High School in my district was built for 1,800 kids. They have 3,000 today. They're going to have 3,400 in three years. We have an obligation to help fund those things. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you. I have spoken with the introducer of the measure so I just have a very slight concern but not enough to raise it to a 'with reservations' vote. My only concern with this, I appreciate the second half of it, in my district we have Mililani Middle School, and all they really need is just one new building and they can go to single-track. To me that's the best solution, but I do know that the DOE sometimes takes the easiest solution not necessarily the best solution, and I'm concerned that they're going to go and decide to redistrict the schools instead of just building new space.

"So that would be my one concern moving forward. If that is included in their plan, then I'm going to be very much against it and I think my community will be very much against it, and I want to make sure that that is not where this bill leads. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Also in strong support. Just a brief comment. I also represent Mililani, and the portion that I would represent if it got redistricted would end up going to Wheeler and then back to Mililani High School, and I don't think that's in the best interest of the students. I'm all in favor of getting rid of the multi-track system in Mililani. I believe there's still two schools in our state that do have the multi-track system, but I would want to make sure that we weren't redistricting students out and then forcing them back into another school. And if I could have the words from the previous speaker also inserted into the Journal. Thank you, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1345, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. It appears that this bill gives the firefighters more than they asked for, and is creating a special classification of all government workers that if you're a firefighter you're going to get more benefits than the rest of the other government workers. And as such, I vote with reservations."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative San Buenaventura be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I just have a concern with using a constant number, 276, to multiply by the minimum wage. So currently the threshold is set at 2,000, which multiplied by the minimum wage is still over what they would make per month. It's $11.54 an hour which is above the minimum wage. But what happens when we multiply it by a constant is that we're assuming that the constant will help us to keep up with it. When the constant is a random number, 276, is not the minimum wage. The minimum wage we could predict, and that could be the constant, but to multiply it by 276 every year, so when the minimum wage gets up to $10.10 it will be roughly around 787 per employee for every business and then roughly around 9,000 per month and roughly around 94,000 for 10 employees for a company.

"So just looking ahead, maybe not multiplying it by a constant but making sure there's a threshold that we don't fall under but using a formula that might work for the preceding years, knowing that we can't predict the economy. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I support the intent of the bill. I oppose the procedure that prevents the employer to take into account extra-curricular benefits, for lack of a better term, such as condominium associations providing housing, that is not taken into account in determining the minimum wage requirement. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative San Buenaventura be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. Mr. Speaker, this bill will help protect salaried employees so that they're not abused. Given the new minimum wage laws, I think it's incumbent upon this Body that passed a new minimum wage law to ensure that salaried employees are not abused by being made to work perhaps excessive overtime but not being fairly compensated. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. Speaking with the ERS, they were just encouraging us to maybe adopt more of the Senate language so that they could have specifications on how to divvy up the retirement money, and the Senate Bill had a lot more particular language that would make it less expensive for them to calculate using their current system that they have.

"Also, it had wording more clear in regards to the taxation. In the House Bill, it said they shall be taxed, in the Senate Bill, it said that they will be responsible for each tax. So kind of semantic issues, but if they had more specifications in this specific bill, they'd be able to do the job better, if they had more line by line what would need to happen with the divvying of the different retirement benefits for divorcees. So, thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1324, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DIVORCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representative Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Kong and McDermott voting no.

"I rise in support of this measure and thank the Chair of the Committee on Agriculture for all his hard work. Invasive species threaten not only Hawai'i's agricultural industries, but also its unique environment that attracts millions of visitors every year. The little fire ant has a significant negative impact on ecosystems as it exacerbates pest problems, destroys crops, and stings and eats the eyes of pets and wild animals. It damages crops and stings farm workers, and also can infest homes and attack residents.

"I would like to commend the Department of Agriculture Chair Mr. Scott Enright as well as the Hawai'i Invasive Species Council on their hard work in tracking, treating, and containing the little fire ant population. Their outreach, education and tracking programs have been indispensable in beginning to combat the little fire ant infestations on Maui, Kauai, Oahu, and Hawai'i island. The funding provided by this bill and the four additional positions will give them the resources to effectively and fully address the problem through strengthened tracking measures and a pesticide voucher program.

"Finally, I would like to extend my sincere appreciation, on behalf of the people of Kauai, to the Kauai Invasive Species Council for their diligent efforts to contain the little fire ant infestation in Kalihiwai."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. The charter school, the DOE and HSTA all support the intent of the bill but had significant suggestions because there already is a HRS Section 302 that covers diabetes, and the scope of what the bill is asking to do for the DOE would need an appropriation in order to complete all of that. It also asks that for each student that has diabetes that all people be trained, even bus drivers, which currently they don't work for the DOE, they contract out. So, small things like that.

"The charter school is also asking that part of the discrimination for the diabetes be put into their charter school section. So just different things that I think would help this bill to really fly. So hopefully we can take into consideration their suggestions. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. I ask the indulgence of my colleagues. Even though I support this, I think these words really must be spoken.

"Mr. Speaker, controlling the language of a people is one of the greatest acts of imperialistic violence that can be collectively done to a people and to a culture. Allowing native language to flourish invigorates novel conceptual thought unique to that language. The Hawaiian language obviously holds fundamental importance to the identity of our state.

"Many of the challenges faced by the Hawaiian language immersion students and their assessment testing will be remedied by this bill, I have no doubt of that, and I urge my colleagues to support it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Just in strong support, and comments to the Journal, if I may?"

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I support this measure due to a key finding in a Transportation Management Area (TMA) Certification Review (September 25, 2014 Final Report). The Review exposed that the existing HRS Chapter 279E related to Metropolitan Planning Organization(MPO) conflicts with current federal transportation regulations 23 U.S.C 134 and 135 and 23 CFR450. This conflict needs to be rectified in order for the Oahu MPO to maintain its federal TMA certification.

"The withholding of such federal funds (approximately $12 million in highway and transit funding) would be detrimental to the State of Hawaii.

"Please move Senate Bill No. 1180, SD 2, HD 1 forward."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1180, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO METROPOLITAN PLANNING ORGANIZATIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, just small reservations. After speaking with the Public Defender's Office just specifying in HRS 706 regarding the documentation needed for restitution of wage hours, it does state in there that it needs to be verifiable, but strengthening the new section that we're putting in by stating that there needs to be documentation for loss of wage could help the strength of the law. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. If this bill intends to create an Office of Inspector General per agency like they do in the federal government, then it's duplicative of the Office of the Auditor. My brother was a regional inspector general for USDA, and he did the same work that Marion Higa did or Jan Yamane did in the Office of the Auditor.

"I am for beefing up the Office of the Auditor to take into account any concerns there are, but I am against duplication, especially in this tight budgetary problems we have now. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, opposition, a few comments. Mr. Speaker, I'm down on this bill, but I'm not down on the concept. Those of us who have worked in Washington know that the inspector general is like when the general shows up and everybody stands to attention. It gets everybody in the bureaucracy up and sharp. Right now it's too expensive and it's untimely, Mr. Speaker. We do not have a government that's turned the corner, we don't have an economy that's turned the corner in terms of its affordability.

"But we do need more inspections. We do need more watchdogs. I think it's commendable that Gina Mangieri is stepping forward, Keoki Kerr is stepping forward, Civil Beat is doing a lot of investigative reporting. But we don't have enough inspection and enough watch dogs, Mr. Speaker.

"So this bill will do that, but it's not timely now. And for those reasons I say we set it aside and come back and visit it a day when we can afford it, and when the things that are being unveiled that we are saying, how could that happen under our watch, it's because we don't have an inspector general the way they do at the federal level. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you. I think people have brought up legitimate concerns with the bill thus far, but because it's moving to conference and I think everyone conceptually has support for it, I wanted to highlight a few things that I think make an inspector general distinct from some of the entities that we've already created.

"A primary difference between the legislative auditor as well as the ombudsman and what would be this created inspector general entity is the impetus for action and the abilities. Much because the legislative auditor as well as the ombudsman are attached to the Legislative Branch, and especially the auditor often requires authorization from us or takes cues from us. Unless we authorize things to be repeated or done perspectively, it's often reactive, and reactive in a way that an inspector general is not necessarily handcuffed to. I think that's a significant difference.

"Having been a part of recruiting and recommending individuals for presidentially appointed, senate confirmed inspector general positions at the federal government, I think an important distinction is that good inspector generals don't just diagnose when a problem exists. They don't tell you after the fact that a problem exists. That is very important, and I think very necessary. But good inspector generals also preempt problems at the federal level.

"There are 72 inspector generals at the federal level, and I think having one in the Executive Branch as opposed to one that is attached legislatively to us and that requires often authorization from us, may not only yield evidence of potential wrong doing or issues in the state government, but also may preempt many of those problems, which I think many of us would rather see. It's far better to preempt something because you have the ability to say to a cabinet director, it seems like things are going off the tracks, maybe you might want to reconsider this policy rather than waiting until after the fact to tell us that something has happened.

"So I think for all those reasons, and again I think much of the points brought up do bear further consideration in the conference process, but I think there are significant differences that I wanted to bring to the attention of the Members as we consider this. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. Thank you. I think that a lot of the points that the previous speaker pointed out are actually quite good, and I think that's true, the inspector general serves a very different purpose than a legislative auditor would serve, particularly in other states. Many of the other states that don't have an inspector general are actually utilizing the attorney general position to do these same things, to make sure that they're proactively going after waste and abuse and fraud in government.

"I think that's something we can all get behind, but I think what we need to remember is these attorney generals that are doing this in other states are elected attorney generals. We do not have an elected attorney general here. So I think as we move this into conference, one of the things that we might want to consider is perhaps making this an elected position instead of an appointed position. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. "With reservations. I think I'd still like to see something a little bit closer to the Oregon model, though this is getting better. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I'd just like to see stronger penalties for voter fraud and vote tampering. It does happen, it's not a myth, and I don't think enough has been done to address those criminally. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations. My reservations basically has to do with the fact that this may conflict with our measure that we approved last year to have same day voter registration. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations, please. I do support this initiative and I do support attempts to increase voter turnout, but the old-timers in my community have overwhelmingly told me that they like to go and vote in person. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. It was mentioned that this might conflict with the same day registration measure we passed last year. I actually wanted to commend the Chair of Judiciary for making it all work actually, and including this and changing it from the Senate version which did repeal it, because they serve two different purposes.

"The vote by mail encourages people that haven't been voting to vote, that are usually already registered. It makes it more convenient and a lot easier. The same day registration is for people who haven't explored getting involved in the civic process or have never contemplated registering in the past, and they see a presidential debate and they get excited and by then it's too late to register. So they serve completely two different purposes.

"The Oregon model was mentioned, but the Colorado model actually that just was implemented last year incorporates this kind of hybrid system, and it does so very well, which they increased their voter turnout by 400,000 last year which is incredible. So I think that's a great example for us to follow, but also lead the way.

"I know a previous speaker mentioned penalties for voter fraud, and that's something we did work on last session, and I do also believe that there's some room, but that could be addressed in another measure and it has been. If we need to explore if there's some more egregious electioneering attempts to defraud, or a lot of complaints like we have seen in previous years, then that's definitely worth visiting too. But with all that said, in support. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 287, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Keohokalole, LoPresti and Oshiro voting aye with reservations.

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of Stand. Com. Report Number 1594, Senate Bill 1095 that clarifies the definition of habilitative services. The opportunity to act and define habilitative services for this Legislature is now, during this session. If we do not act in this session, then we will abdicate our legislative authority, and the decision will either be made for us by the operation of federal regulations or by an executive order by this Governor and his Insurance Commissioner.

"Why is it important that we act now and not allow the federal government or the Governor to make the decision for us? First, as a purely political and constitutional matter, we are appropriately asserting our authority as a co-equal branch of government that should not simply fall in line with the Governor. We are also asserting our state sovereignty by not simply defaulting to the federal definition.

"Second, as a matter of fighting for a pro-consumer, pro-patient bill, we need to define habilitative services broadly enough and in line with current medical practices and standard of care to ensure that our residents have access to and receive quality health care services that they already paid for through their medical insurance plans.

"The defining of essential health benefits, as required as by the Affordable Care Act, is the new pre-existing condition hammer used by insurance companies to deny benefits and throw up obstacles to consumers and patients from getting the healthcare services they need. We need to define this particular essential health benefit, habilitative services, and it should come as no surprise that in testimony before the Finance Committee, HMSA suggests that we default simply to the Commissioner and the Governor.

"But, Mr. Speaker, I say that we don't simply default to the Commissioner and the Governor. That we take this opportunity to exercise our legislative authority. The last time essential health benefits were decided by the Governor, the former Governor of this state, the Legislature played no role in defining essential health benefits. Again, this is our opportunity.

"Now, people may rise and criticize that this definition of habilitative services is too encompassing, but in fact it falls in line with the definitions used in Michigan and Ohio. It falls in line with some of the definitions used by HMSA. It does include autism service benefits, something that we have fought for in this legislative session. But other states include autism services benefits in their essential health benefits of habilitative services.

"Mr. Speaker, for these reasons I support this bill moving forward so that we can continue to have that discussion of what that definition should be for the consumers and patients in this state. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong support. Mr. Speaker, first, gratitude to the Chair for hearing this at the last minute. The Finance Committee passed it out, and I just wanted to make a couple of comments about how this is all about the future, it's about diversifying the economy, it's about putting Hawaii center stage as a center of excellence for unmanned space research. We are one of six places designated in the nation to test this.

"Mr. Speaker, this is kind of a reciprocal of what ancient Hawaiian mariners, the navigators that discovered Hawaii. We are now in the contemporary version of that to navigate, if you will, unmanned, and then share that knowledge with this experiment that this bill allows to be afforded, for the future of the nation, the future of the world. So this is all about the future. And, Mr. Speaker, if I can request future comments into the Journal? Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"In 2012, Congress directed the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to establish a test site program to safely integrate Unmanned Aerial Systems (UAS) into the National Airspace System (NAS); and in March of 2012, the FAA issued a notice through the Federal Register of its intent to identify six test ranges/sites to achieve this goal.

"In response to this announcement, the Hawaii State Legislature unanimously passed SCR 137, which requested DBEDT's Office of Aerospace Development to coordinate preparation of a proposal to the FAA from the State of Hawaii to become a UAS test site.

"A team of professionals within the State of Hawaii, with representatives from the Office of Aerospace Development/DBEDT, the State DOD, the State DOT, the University of Hawaii, the United States Pacific Command (USPACOM), and the private aerospace sector, was assembled to explore the possibility of establishing a UAS test range in Hawaii in response to this resolution.

"This group was soon contacted by the Alaska Center for Unmanned Aircraft Systems Integration at the University of Alaska, who proposed forming a three-state team (involving Alaska, Oregon and Hawaii) to establish a Pan-Pacific UAS Test Range Complex (PPUTRC).

"For nearly a year, this tri-state alliance worked to prepare a response to the FAA's call for UAS test site proposals, and submitted a final proposal to the FAA in the spring of 2013.

"In December of 2013, this tri-state proposal was selected by the FAA as one of six winning entries (out of more than 50 submitted by 37 states) to develop an FAA UAS research and test site, representing a diverse set of locations in seven climatic zones.

"Hawaii has much to contribute to the PPUTRC, including: (1) ample over-water airspace to safely conduct UAS testing and evaluation; (2) a benign climate to help maximize the time available for UAS T&E; (3) a robust aviation infrastructure and workforce at both state and federal facilities that can support these activities; and (4) a variety of high tech companies that are already engaged in UAS development, testing and evaluation, affording additional UAS experience/expertise.

"As noted in SB 661, unmanned air systems have the potential to become an $80B business worldwide in the next decade, and Hawaii has a unique opportunity to assume a significant role in this rapidly expanding industry.

"Once unmanned air systems are safely integrated into the NAS, many commercial applications are anticipated to emerge, including (but not limited to) ongoing surveillance and management of natural and other environmental resources, enhanced physical security of critical infrastructure such as harbors and power generation facilities, expanded and detailed monitoring of agriculture operations statewide, and rapid-response management and mitigation of both natural and man-made disasters.

"Hawaii's emerging UAS industry will also bring new revenue streams and employment opportunities to our state from companies who will test and evaluate their systems in Hawaii. In addition, the technologies associated with UAS and their control align well with robotics and STEM education programs in local schools, and will provide multiple Hawaii-based career opportunities for our children.

"Ultimately, our vision is to establish Hawaii as a premier location for UAS certification that will require testing and evaluation in all domains, from seabeds to surface operations to space. In combination with the extensive professional resources and ongoing research, development and training programs in both Alaska and Oregon, the proposed Pan-Pacific Test Range will afford a unique and world-class 'region of excellence' to help advance our nation's pioneering leadership on the UAS frontier.

"Alaska and Oregon have already hired COO's and established advisory boards to manage their state-based components to the PPUTRC. SB 3053 was introduced in the 2014 Session to do the same for Hawaii, and passed through all committees in both Houses with no nay or reservation votes. But this measure was deferred at the last meeting of the conference committee considering this bill.

"We are now over a year behind schedule in launching Hawaii's component of the PPUTRC, and SB 661 (patterned after SB 3053), is intended to remedy this situation. It is most urgent that the Legislature follow through this Session on Hawaii's commitment to the tri-state team (and FAA!)."

Representative Ohno rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On SB 118, SD 1, HD 2, I oppose this because I just simply prefer the regular Senate Bill 118. That would tax real estate investment trusts, or REITs, instead of asking for a study. I think both sides agree, looking through the testimony, that tax dollars leave the State of Hawaii because of the tax code that we have currently. But one side that opposes taxing REITs just simply says that we would lose substantial investment should we tax REITs.

"I contend that, because of our strategic location, that investment would continue to flow into our state. I think that our travel industry, grounded by our natural beauty, our spirit of aloha, would continue that investment. And not to mention that investing in Hawaii, as a part of the United States, grants the protection of a robust judicial system, which is not always the case in other foreign countries. I'd also contend that our state has many, many pressing needs, from early education to aging infrastructure. For those reasons, I oppose the measure as it is, because I prefer it as SB 118. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition and a comment. I think owner financing, seller financing, is a useful tool for some people, especially in rural areas. And I think that it's good to regulate them, however, I feel like the current draft is a little bit of an overregulation. In 2014 there were only 169 owner financers that actually used real estate agencies to help them out to do this, and so it's a very small portion of people. And there are also federal laws that will exempt vacant lands and commercial lands from having to abide by this, and I feel like somewhere in between would be a good compromise. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. The problem I see with this bill as currently written is that it goes against all the other portions of that particular chapter which basically allows a time share consumer to have seven full days to cancel, because it uses the magic phrase that all time share sellers like to use to try to say 'gotcha' to all the consumers, of midnight on the 7th day. It actually reduces the amount of decision from seven days, which the Attorney General supported, to six days. Unless that is changed, then it becomes an anti-consumer protection bill. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 423, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO APPROPRIATIONS TO THE DEPARTMENT OF THE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representative Thielen voting aye with reservations.

It funds a new grant program within the Department of Agriculture for qualified feed developers, and appropriates funds to reimburse specified qualified producers for the cost of feed, and qualified feed developers for the costs of developing feed for sale to qualified producers.

"Second, the HD 2 encourages the next generation to enter the agriculture industry. Funding for FFA and 4-H will promote possible career paths to students via hands-on education and workforce development in the agricultural sector."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. My reservations is that I don't know whether or not this goes against the federal constitutional law of impinging on interstate commerce. The other comment I have is that, especially on neighbor islands where the only way to really recycle products, recycle electronics, would be to mail it in rather than to turn it in. Then it becomes a problem with manufacturers, especially where the fines, it doesn't say it in this actual bill, but if you look at the chapter, any violation of that chapter means that there's a $1,000 fine per violation.

"And because of that huge fine and the fact that we're talking about like Apple or Samsung where we have these iPhones and iPads that we need to recycle and the only way to recycle them from the neighbor islands is by mailing them, it would prevent or impinge the neighbor island people from getting iPhones and iPads. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just in support. I just wanted to make clear that the entire intent of this bill is to prohibit manufacturers from using mail back only plans. So the point of the bill is specifically to protect neighbor island residents. I appreciate the comments from my colleague from the neighbor island, but I just wanted to point that out. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1049, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTRONIC WASTE RECYCLING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representative San Buenaventura voting aye with reservations.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1637) recommending that S.B. No. 349, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 349, SD 2, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ohno rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Mr. Speaker, this is an ethanol tax credit that was originally put into statute in the year 2000, updated in 2004 and then 2007. It means to repeal this facility tax credit in place for a renewable fuel tax credit.

"In the years since we've put this on the books in 2000, ethanol has proved troublesome, it didn't take off. In fact, DBEDT mentioned that no firm has taken advantage of these ethanol facility tax credits. I think just as a Body that I believe we should be wary of picking winners and losers in the private sector. And in the experience of trying to appease everyone in every situation, we may run into the problem of appeasing no one. So for those reasons, I stand in opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 349, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representative Jordan voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Ohno and Tupola voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1638) recommending that S.B. No. 359, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 359, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSE, ENERGY, AND FOOD SECURITY TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 10 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Har, McDermott, Oshiro, Say, Tokioka, Tupola and Yamane voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1640) recommending that S.B. No. 1262, SD 1, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1262, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE SECURE AND FAIR ENFORCEMENT FOR MORTGAGE LICENSING ACT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative McDermott voting no.

At 10:44 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 703, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 878, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 1049, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 349, SD 2, HD 2
S.B. No. 359, SD 1, HD 1
S.B. No. 1262, SD 1, HD 1

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1641) recommending that S.B. No. 1032, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1032, SD 2, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations, please, and a quick comment. I'm just concerned that it's expanding nicotine products as tobacco products, which I just think the specification between the two is necessary for this. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, Stand. Com. 1641, with reservations. Just a few words, if you don't mind. Although this measure doesn't become law until 2030 according to this particular draft, I do have a challenge with changing the definition for tobacco products. I do wholeheartedly support increasing the licensure of allowing individuals to sell tobacco products. When we look at our City and County of Honolulu next door to us, it's about $1,000, about $2,000 to get a liquor license. So these arbitrary $50 or $2.50 is quite small compared to that alcohol sin.

"So, hopefully as we move into conference we will clean up that language on the tobacco product. I know this is trying to focus on those electronic devices, the smoking devices, but I don't think this is a way to go at taxing that particular product at this point in time, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, I share the remarks of previous speakers and I think the overreach to sort of jettison this thing at a standard as tobacco I think is a bit extreme. I should also note that the good doctor from the Big Island reminded me in a discussion after a session that this language where it says, any product containing nicotine, no matter how you do it, you shoot it, you drink it, you whatever.

"Mr. Speaker, we are reminded that when you eat French fries, when you eat potatoes, you're taking in nicotine. When you eat tomatoes, you're taking in nicotine. So this is a little bit of an over, anything containing nicotine we're going to have to bump all of those things up. So I think if we're going to do it, let's do it well. Let's not be loosey-goosey with language when we say nicotine across the board is out and illegal. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I'd also like to note two things. One, as a prior speaker has pointed out, there may be a problem with enforcement, especially when vaping products may include liquids that do not contain nicotine. And one more thing I'd like to point out is that the FDA in June of this year is going to issue regulations and studies as to whether or not vaping is as hazardous as some people claim it is. And as such, I would request that we hold off until the FDA issues its reports, because they are going to come up with regulations and this may be counter to that. Other than that, it's with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on this bill, and I thank the speaker from Hawaii Kai for pointing out some of the things that we had discussed. As he pointed and as I pointed out to him, many plants including tomatoes, eggplants, potatoes and peppers contain nicotine, and that is why all people have nicotine in their urine. It's not because of second hand smoke necessarily.

"The problem is, I've looked into nicotine and nicotine in isolation, and shared articles about that, and I would like to enter some written comments into the Journal. But just briefly, if you start taxing nicotine solutions as tobacco, you will be shifting people back to cigarettes, and so you'll have the unintended consequence of causing more, not less cancer. When we had prohibition, what we had was we shifted people from beer into hard liquor, and that has been a consequence that has damaged the people of our country for a long time because it never went back.

"So we have to be very careful about unintended consequences when we make regulations like this. So I would propose stripping the language about the nicotine until the FDA comes out with their thing so we can revisit it next year. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Creagan's written remarks are as follows:

"There are currently several tobacco bills in play and going to conference. I would like to share my concerns about these bills. I have no major problems with limiting the sale of nicotine delivery devices (NiDDs), e.g. e-cigarettes, to minors, as their effects have not been tested on minors. In recognition of the developing brain's sensitivity to many substances, it may seem prudent to be cautious. However, given the safety of the existing nicotine delivery devices such as nicotine gum that are deemed so safe that they are now sold over the counter, and given the expected ruling from the FDA, I believe we could await that decision before taking actions on NiDDs.

"I think we will almost certainly have unintended consequences if we tax nicotine delivery devices as tobacco products.

"I am attaching an article that surprised me when I first read it, but what it states is borne out by other research. It appears that nicotine in its pure form seems very safe, almost non-addictive, and potentially beneficial. The current version of SB 1032 would actually classify tomatoes, tomato products such as ketchup, bell peppers, potatoes, and eggplant as 'tobacco products,' as they contain nicotine and are ingested.

"In SB 1032, 'Tobacco products' means:
(2) Any product containing nicotine, but not containing tobacco, that is intended for human consumption, whether chewed, smoked, absorbed, dissolved, inhaled, snorted, sniffed, or ingested by any other means, and that has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration for tobacco cessation or other medical purposes.

"Thus, when your kid eats French fries with ketchup at McDonalds, she is ingesting two 'tobacco products', both containing nicotine, and McDonalds would be classified as a tobacco retailer.

"I think that there is no question that an 'e-cigarette' is much safer than a cigarette, and that nicotine in isolation will not cause cancer, as borne out by the approval of nicotine gum, inhalers, etc. However, if we shift the cost of e-cigarettes by taxing them heavily, as proposed in a related bill HB 145, HD 1. SD 2, we would almost certainly have the unintended consequence of making cigarettes relatively more attractive economically, and that is not at all a desired consequence as it could increase the smoking of the much more harmful cigarettes.

"I would have no objection to the FDA regulating e-cigarettes as a tobacco cessation device as there is substantial evidence that that is the case, but unfortunately the FDA has been dragging their feet on this.

"Given the existing evidence of the potential benefit as a smoking cessation device, I think we would be premature to tax these as a tobacco product and almost certainly cause increased use of cigarettes, and therefore more, not less cancer."

Nicotine, the Wonder Drug?

This notorious stimulant may enhance learning and help treat Parkinson's, schizophrenia and other neurological diseases.

Nicotine delivery devices like the patch could offer surprising benefits to people diagnosed with certain neurological disorders.

Every drug of addiction must have its day. Morphine remains one of the most potent painkillers ever discovered. Cocaine's chemical cousin lidocaine is still used by physicians and dentists as an effective local anesthetic. Even demon alcohol, when taken in moderation, cuts the risk of heart attacks, osteoporosis, rheumatoid arthritis and a hodgepodge of other ailments.

Now comes nicotine, perhaps the most unlikely wonder drug ever to be reviled.

If dozens of human and animal studies published over the past six years are borne out by large clinical trials, nicotine — freed at last of its noxious host, tobacco, and delivered instead by chewing gum or transdermal patch — may prove to be a weirdly, improbably effective drug for relieving or preventing a variety of neurological disorders, including Parkinson's disease, mild cognitive impairment (MCI), Tourette's and schizophrenia. It might even improve attention and focus enough to qualify as a cognitive enhancer. And, oh yeah, it's long been associated with weight loss, with few known safety risks. (Although, in truth, few safety studies of the increasingly popular e-cigarettes have yet been published.)

Nicotine? Yes, nicotine.

In fact, the one purpose for which nicotine has proven futile is the very same one for which it's approved by the Food and Drug Administration, sold by pharmacies over the counter, bought by consumers and covered by many state Medicaid programs: quitting smoking. In January 2012, a six-year follow-up study of 787 adults who had recently quit smoking found that those who used nicotine replacement therapy in the form of a patch, gum, inhaler or nasal spray had the same long-term relapse rate as those who did not use the products. Heavy smokers who tried to quit without the benefit of counseling were actually twice as likely to relapse if they used a nicotine replacement product.

And therein lies the conundrum that physicians and regulators will have to wrestle with if the promising studies about nicotine's benefits hold up: how to endorse a drug linked to one of the greatest public health scourges the world has ever known.

"I understand that smoking is bad," says neuroscientist Maryka Quik, program director of the Neurodegenerative Diseases Program at SRI International, a nonprofit research institute based in California's Silicon Valley. "My father died of lung cancer. I totally get it."

Yet over the years, she has published dozens of studies revealing the beneficial actions of nicotine within the mammalian brain. "The whole problem with nicotine is that it happens to be found in cigarettes," she says. "People can't disassociate the two in their minds."

Tweaking the Brain

The first hint of nicotine's curious benefits came from a study published in 1966 by Harold Kahn, an epidemiologist at the National Institutes of Health. Using health insurance data on 293,658 veterans who had served in the U.S. military between 1917 and 1940, Kahn found the kinds of associations between smoking and mortality that had already become well known. At any given age, cigarette smokers were 11 times as likely to have died of lung cancer as nonsmokers, and 12 times as likely to have died of emphysema. Cancers of the mouth, pharynx, esophagus, larynx — on and on. But amid the lineup of usual suspects, one oddball jumped out: Death due to Parkinson's disease occurred at least three times as often in nonsmokers as in smokers.

The neurotransmitter dopamine sends signals related to pleasure, reward and motor function across neurons in the brain. A lack of dopamine has been linked to movement disorders such as Parkinson's disease.

Following up, researchers expected the finding to be just a statistical aberration in Kahn's data, but instead quickly confirmed it. Grasping at a final possible alternative to the inconvenient notion that smoking could have a healthful benefit, experts theorized that the association was due only to smokers dying young of cancer, heart disease and lung disease before the age when they might otherwise have developed Parkinson's. (The neurodegenerative disorder affects about 1 percent of people by age 60, rising to about 4 percent by age 80.) But in 1971, epidemiologists Irving Kessler and Earl Diamond of Johns Hopkins University published a study comparing the smoking history of living Baltimore residents recently diagnosed with Parkinson's with age-matched controls. Sure enough, they found that the Parkinson's patients were much less likely than other residents to have ever smoked.

So what was it about tobacco that ravaged the heart, lungs, teeth and skin but somehow guarded against a disease of the brain? In 1979, UCLA neurobiologist Marie-Françoise Chesselet showed that nicotine increases levels of dopamine, a neurotransmitter essential for boosting attention, reward-seeking behaviors and risk of addictions, from gambling to drugs. Dopamine also helps control movement. Nicotine receptors in the striatum, the comma-shaped structure near the center of the brain where movements are planned and controlled, are located near the terminals that regulate and emit dopamine. Even a small dose of nicotine, Chesselet found, stimulates the release of dopamine in the striatum, putting the brakes on movement that otherwise would go uncontrolled.

And that effect suggests why nicotine could help treat Parkinson's disease. Called "the shaking palsy" in an 1817 essay by the English physician James Parkinson (after whom the disease was later renamed), Parkinson's is marked by shaking and difficulty with walking, coordination and all other movements. Although its ultimate cause remains unexplained, neuroscientists have long known that as symptoms worsen, dopamine-producing neurons in the striatum die out. Since the 1960s, the gold-standard treatment for the disease has been the drug levodopa, also known as L-dopa, a dopamine precursor that can cross the blood-brain barrier. But the drug is not perfect: L-dopa treatment eventually induces dyskinesia — quick, involuntary movements of the hands, and sometimes of the head and trunk.

Putting together the emerging lines of evidence, Quik decided to treat Parkinson's disease in squirrel monkeys by administering nicotine. In a landmark 2007 paper, she reported that the monkeys had 50 percent fewer tremors and tics, and that nicotine had reduced dyskinesia 35 percent in those already receiving L-dopa. Studies by Quik and others involving rats, mice and nonhuman primates have since found similar effects. In short, by driving dopamine, nicotine appeared to ease the tremors and tics caused by Parkinson's, and even the movement disorder induced by the major Parkinson's drug.

Waiting for Human Evidence

Given the findings, one might reasonably ask how many clinical trials of ordinary over-the-counter nicotine patches or gum as a preventative for the progression of Parkinson's have been published in the medical literature. "In humans, none," says neurologist James Boyd of the University of Vermont College of Medicine. That will change soon. Boyd is now running two such studies. The first, begun in 2010, is a small, randomized 12-week trial of whether a nicotine patch can reduce another problem often associated with Parkinson's: impulsivity.

A 2007 study suggests that nicotine treatment could help alleviate the dyskinesia often experienced by Parkinson's patients being treated with L-dopa (left).

Remember, Parkinson's involves a loss of dopamine, a neurotransmitter that regulates not only movement but also addictive behaviors. It has long been observed that people who develop Parkinson's tend to be more low-key and risk-averse than average, as if their innate dopamine levels have always been on the low side. When they take L-dopa, however, some have been known to swing to the other side of the reward-seeking spectrum, developing gambling or sexual addictions. Boyd hopes nicotine might push such patients back to a middle ground.

He is also the principal U.S. investigator for a randomized trial that began late last year in Germany and is now being conducted here to test the value of nicotine as a therapeutic drug. The study seeks to answer whether ordinary over-the-counter nicotine gum or patches can halt the progression of Parkinson's. To get at the answer, one component the study will look at is whether the chemical can relieve the writhing, twisting movements that eventually beset almost every Parkinson's patient taking L-dopa.

Beyond Parkinson's

While researchers await the results of the Parkinson's studies, they look beyond to nicotine treatments for other disorders as well.

"Nicotine has separate mechanisms by which it may protect brain cells, aside from its influence on dopamine," Boyd says. "One of the functions of nicotinic receptors is to moderate the entry of calcium into cells. The presence of nicotine increases the amount of intracellular calcium, which appears to improve cellular survival."

And nicotine may have an antioxidant effect, serving to mop up the toxic free radicals produced as a byproduct of metabolism, thus protecting the brain. The neuroprotective effects of nicotine were studied in a randomized clinical trial involving 67 subjects in the early stages of Alzheimer's disease, where memory was slightly impaired but decision-making and other cognitive abilities remained intact. They received either a 15-milligram nicotine patch or placebo for six months. The results found "significant nicotine-associated improvements in attention, memory and psychomotor speed," with excellent safety and tolerability.

Other studies suggest that nicotine may be as effective at enhancing attention as methylphenidate (Ritalin) and the wakefulness-promoting drug modafinil (Provigil). In 2008, Paul Newhouse, director of the Center for Cognitive Medicine at Vanderbilt University School of Medicine in Nashville, compared performance on a series of cognitive tasks in 15 nonsmoking ADHD patients while wearing either a 7-mg nicotine patch or a placebo patch. After just 45 minutes with the nicotine patch, the young adults were significantly better at inhibiting an impulse, delaying a reward and remembering an image they had seen.

Even people without any diagnosed disorder might benefit from nicotine. Psychologist Jennifer Rusted of the University of Sussex in Britain calls the drug "the most reliable cognitive enhancer that we currently have." In addition to improving visual attention and working memory, nicotine has been shown by Rusted to increase prospective memory: the ability to remember and implement a prior intention. (When your mother asks you to pick up a jar of pickles at the grocery store on the way home, she's saddling you with a prospective memory challenge.)

"It's a small effect, maybe a 15 percent improvement," Rusted says. "It's not something that's going to have a massive impact in a healthy young individual. But we think it's doing it by allowing you to redeploy your attention more rapidly." In short, the drug seems to work by helping users shut out irrelevant stimuli so that important information can come to the fore.

The ability to shut out stimuli could also turn nicotine into a treatment for schizophrenia, where afflicted individuals are overwhelmed by sights, sounds and thoughts that most of us would either ignore or quickly dismiss. Studies in the United States, Canada and Germany have shown that nicotine improves the ability of people with schizophrenia to focus their attention and recall recent events. In addition, the potent antipsychotic haloperidol often causes dyskinesia, which Quik's 2007 study proved nicotine can relieve.

Not the Great Satan

Perhaps most surprising is that, in studies by Boyd and others, nicotine has not caused addiction or withdrawal when used to treat disease. These findings fly in the face of nicotine's reputation as one of the most addictive substances known, but it's a reputation built on myth. Tobacco may well be as addictive as heroin, as some have claimed. But as scientists know, getting mice or other animals hooked on nicotine alone is dauntingly difficult. As a 2007 paper in the journal Neuropharmacology put it: "Tobacco use has one of the highest rates of addiction of any abused drug." Paradoxically it's almost impossible to get laboratory animals hooked on pure nicotine, though it has a mildly pleasant effect.

The same study found that tobacco smoke itself is necessary to amp up nicotine's addictiveness. In 2005, for instance, researchers at the University of California, Irvine, found that animals self-administer a combination of nicotine and acetaldehyde, an organic chemical found in tobacco, significantly more often than either chemical alone. In 2009, a French team found that combining nicotine with a cocktail of five other chemicals found in tobacco — anabasine, nornicotine, anatabine, cotinine and myosmine — significantly increased rats' hyperactivity and self-administration of the mix compared with nicotine alone.

In short, the estimated 45.3 million people, or 19.3 percent of all adults, in the United States who still smoke are not nicotine fiends. They're nicotine-anabasine-nornicotine-anatabine-cotinine-myosmine-acetaldehyde-and-who-knows-what-else fiends. It is tobacco, with its thousands of chemical constituents, that rightly merits our fear and loathing as the Great Satan of addictiveness. Nicotine, alone: not so much.

Despite the potential benefits and apparent safety, researchers like Boyd want more evidence before they'll recommend a nicotine patch for anything other than its FDA-approved (but seemingly useless) purpose, smoking cessation. "Nicotine has potential drug interactions. It can interfere with blood pressure medications. To recommend something for which there is no good long-term safety data — it's just wrong," Boyd says.

To Quik, the upside is clear. "People have tested all their favorites to help treat Parkinson's and other neurological disease," she says. "Now nicotine's time has come."

Representative DeCoite rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1032, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHAPTER 245, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Creagan, DeCoite, Jordan, Kawakami, Keohokalole, Pouha, San Buenaventura, Tupola and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Kong and McDermott voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1643) recommending that S.B. No. 1094, SD 2, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1094, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives McDermott and Tupola voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1644) recommending that S.B. No. 737, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 737, SD 1, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I was thinking about this last night and thinking about why I've never needed to use a payday loan thankfully, and the reason is credit cards. If I have a cash flow problem at the end of a month, I just charge some stuff for a while and worry about the consequences later. But for a credit card, HRS 478-11.5 caps credit card interest rates at an APR of 18%, and that includes the fees and other charges.

"Payday loans, however, are excluded from Hawaii usury laws. Interest rates, depending on the length of the loan, can exceed 400% compared to the 18% that I would pay as a credit card holder. If someone were to introduce a bill that proposed to allow credit cards to charge 400% interest, I doubt seriously that the bill would ever get a hearing.

"But for some reason when it comes to allowing payday lenders, whose clientele are frequently those working at a minimum wage, we continue to allow them to charge these just outrageous rates. The current draft of this bill does not change that fundamental dynamic, and as a consequence for now at least I'll be voting with reservations. Mahalo."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Rhoads be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Rhoads be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kawakami rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Rhoads be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Chair, reservations with a brief comment. In the beginning, this bill was a little more, let's say it was reworded with specific caps. There was a 459% interest that was calculated as when one comes in and gets a $100 loan they pay $17.50. Under the proposal to put it down to the cap at 36% that would be $1.38 that people would get as their fee every two weeks. They would pay every two weeks $1.38.

"Mr. Speaker, I don't think a small business can do that, so what we've got here is a compromise to keep the payday loans, which for some people who don't have credit cards can have access to. Mr. Speaker, my fear is if we shut these guys down and run them out of town, it's going to go back to the old loan sharks who break knee caps and knuckles if you don't pay on time. This is a little bit more genteel than those. So, Mr. Speaker, I think we should tread on this lightly and slowly. Thank you."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and just for the same reason that I prefer the earlier version of the bill that included a cap on APR."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Strong reservations. May I request to enter comments into the Journal? Thank you."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"While I do support the intent of this bill and commend the introducers and proponents in their efforts to help the cyclically impoverished in overcoming the difficulties of being in a debt cycle, there are already a number of community resources available which do not require legislation. There are three items that I would like to elaborate on.

"First, the utilization of existing institutions and programs within our communities. Many credit unions, for example, have long been a part of Hawaii's financial community and offer free membership – oftentimes with no account minimum balance, check cashing benefits, and low interest short- and long-term loans. These are non-profit institutions whose main function is to service their members, not to maximize corporate profits.

"The second element is education. Financial institutions such as credit unions, governmental organizations, and institutions such as the University of Hawai'i and the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, as well as many other locally based financial education non-profits, offer a variety of free programs and educational seminars statewide. These programs are specifically geared towards educating individuals on managing their finances effectively and can help to guide individuals out of a debt cycle.

"Lastly, in conjunction with the second point, is advocacy and awareness. It is our responsibility as a community to help our families and friends who are struggling with debt and who are caught in a debt cycle. Spreading awareness for free programs and free membership to financial institutions is a necessary first step in stopping the debt cycle, creating financial stability, and attaining a better quality of life.

"Undoubtedly, it is vital to combat predatory lending with legislation and regulation. It is however equally important to educate individuals about the full breadth of their available resources so they do not fall into cyclical poverty in the first place."

Representative DeCoite rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. I echo the Judiciary Chair's comments. I'd also like to point out that there are several states that have completely banned payday loans, and in those states the poor, the working poor, have been able to do well. As focused in the Office of Consumer Protection and Catholic Charities when they testified on this loans pointed out, when those payday loan places have been shut down, the people are able to find other means within their budget to do that. They are not left to the loan sharks. What they do is they find pawn shops and other places that are regulated that is less than the 425% or 452%. And as such, because it does not have a cap, I am voting with reservations. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, note my strong reservations. Thank you. I certainly echo the concerns expressed by the Judiciary Chair, so I'll do so in my own words. Check cashing payday loans are known to target military families. They are known to target working families and women. They should all be of concern for us. The only reason I support the bill with reservations is because we must push for stronger regulations that allow our consumers to escape the cycle of micro lending debts and provide regulations that allow consumers to make educated decisions regarding payday loans.

"My chief concerns are two-fold, which others have noted, the blanked out percentage and the fact that there is no cap. I believe, Mr. Speaker, it is beyond any reasonable doubt that maintaining something near a 450% APR is morally reprehensible. This bill hopefully seeks to reduce that, but if it does not come down to anything close to the 36% I can't imagine supporting it in good conscience. As was previously noted, credit cards are capped at 18%. Not doing that will perpetuate the cycle of economic injustice in this state.

"One of the great philosophers, Hannah Arendt, had come to a conclusion about certain things in this world and governments, and she came up with a concept of the banality of evil, Mr. Speaker, and I believe these kinds of usurious rates are specifically the kinds of banality of evil that we must fight against and we must outlaw. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations, Mr. Speaker. I do note the concerns which have been raised on the other side as well. Those who are doing business in this effort, they are also fronting a lot of the risk. But I do agree that we do need to exercise better prudence in making sure that our fellow citizens have access to a means of responsible finance. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, Mr. Speaker. This was a long, lengthy discussion in the Finance Committee, and I think I saw a different world with this particular measure. You see, Mr. Speaker, unlike this, we have these things called 7-Elevens or convenience stores. At one point in time when I was growing up I didn't even know what that was until about 1980 when a 7-Eleven came to my community. And now we've got about 18 7-Elevens, Circle Ks, whatever you want to call them, convenience stores. And they do, they prey upon the most neediest, Mr. Speaker, with the highest cost.

"Some like this industry, check cashing. Again, about eight years ago I noticed a check cashing business came into my community. Probably have about four of them, five of them, or six of them within our communities, again. And we can say that they may be targeting the most neediest. But I don't think we can regulate against that.

"The one person that convinced me was the young woman that testified in Finance and said, please don't take this opportunity away from me. I need that because I need to get a doctor's visit or a medication for my child. And she turned my head on this. And she told me that she reads every document, understands, does her research, in fact goes to different check cashing places to find the one that she is very comfortable with, and does this on a regular basis.

"Now we heard the other stories where individuals who have five different loans out there and paying up to $700 a month in fees, well according to some of the testimony, you're not supposed to have more than one. This industry is not supposed to allow you to have more than one outstanding check. So, I think I appreciate the amendments to this measure, and I think we should be helping our constituents and our communities out there by enforcing the regulations on it. Making them register with DCCA, increasing the fines, really tighten up this industry so the most neediest who need to use it get the protection they need.

"Because we all know we can get in and sign a credit card and not read the disclosures. Many people sign mortgages and don't read the disclosures. Same thing. They're in need, they need money on their check, in advance, to do what they need to do. Unfortunately we have predators out there, and our regulatory system should take care of those predators. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 737, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHECK CASHING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representatives DeCoite, Har, Kawakami, Keohokalole, LoPresti, Lowen, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Pouha, Rhoads, San Buenaventura, Tokioka and Ward voting aye with reservations.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1645) recommending that S.B. No. 1042, SD 1, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1042, SD 1, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, Standing Committee Report 1645, the SPRB for Sunstrong LLC. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm speaking against the measure. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, Sunstrong is a new company but with the same old players, and it recently filed, just recently, for a business license. The principals were part of a wind farm on the Big Island that was abandoned when the tax credits ran out, and it was never financially sound. So this present SPRB for Sunstrong LLC doesn't even list a possible project. It's a $50 million blank check, to whom and for what? Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1042, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS FOR SUNSTRONG LLC, A RENEWABLE ENERGY DEVELOPER SERVING THE GENERAL PUBLIC IN PROVIDING ELECTRIC ENERGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Thielen and Tupola voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1646) recommending that S.B. No. 1214, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1214, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"This is a very strong no, Mr. Speaker, on the SPRB for Hawaiian Electric. Mr. Speaker, I think that all the Members in the Body have seen these glossy full page ads where NextEra is going to buy Hawaiian Electric. They're touting it as a partnership, but I've never heard of a partnership where the one partner is totally bought out and the other partner controls everything. So we know it's a sale. It's a purchase.

"And so you have Hawaiian Electric coming in saying, we need to take this money, this SPRB for this amount of money. It started out at $800 million, it's now down a few million a little bit lower. But when you look at the economic credibility of NextEra, the Florida company can finance $8.4 billion of capital investment that Hawaiian Electric needs. I'm not promoting that sale, but I'm just saying, the company that is buying Hawaiian Electric has $8.4 billion to put toward what Hawaiian Electric needs.

"And then when you look at NextEra's own 2014 fourth quarter and full year financial results, it states, NextEra is a leading clean energy company with consolidated revenues of approximately $17 billion. So why are we allowing a SPRB to Hawaiian Electric that's being bought by NextEra when NextEra has this type of financial backing?

"And then I do want to just mention, Mr. Speaker, with the monolithic monopoly of NextEra, I think we will see the end of our photovoltaic and solar industry in Hawaii that has been such a strong partner, economic developer for tax revenues and for renewable energy in our state. But I really oppose this SPRB. It's for a company that won't even exist, that will be taken over by a monolithic monopoly with billions and billions of dollars on its books that it will be able to spend. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, ruling on a potential conflict. I am a shareholder in Hawaiian Electric, and seeing as this SPRB is for Hawaiian Electric."

The Chair addressed Representative Jordan, stating:

"No conflict, and for all future Hawaiian Electric bills there's no conflict."

Representative Jordan continued, stating:

"No, I'm just worried about this particular one. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Likewise, I need to disclose a potential conflict of interest. I'm a shareholder with Hawaiian Electric."

The Chair addressed Representative Oshiro, stating:

"No conflict. And may I say that all future bills on Hawaiian Electric will also be no conflict for you."

Representative Say rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, same request," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Say continued and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Just very briefly, in support. I just want to point out the intent of this special purpose revenue bond is not to look to the long term to benefit NextEra or a potential successor to Hawaiian Electric Company. There's been a request from the company for a five year SPRB for $800 million. I think judiciously, the committees through which this SPRB has passed has reduced that to match the time frame for which there is certainty that Hawaiian Electric will remain the utility.

"So the intent is to benefit the existing utility and its ratepayers, all of us who pay those bills and all of our constituents in the short term. And if there's a takeover and if the next utility wants to come in and ask for more assistance, they'll have to justify that in the future.

"Secondly, I'd just like to point out that the importance of this particular measure right now rests not with the amount of money that we're placing in the hands of the utility or the assurances of that money, but rather the transparency which it will bring to the ratepayers around the State. For the first time this will allow and require the utilities in receipt of this benefit to open up their books to the public, so that on every electric bill you will see, and all ratepayers will see, how much the utility is spending for the cost of fuel, how much it's spending for transmission, how much it's spending for advertising and all the other services it provides. And this will allow, for the first time, us as policy makers to decide what it is that we want to do and what it is we want the utility to do, being able to for the very first time transparently see how they're spending all of our money. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, ruling on a potential conflict? I'm a ratepayer of Maui Electric Company," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much. I also support this measure. I'd like to adopt the words of the previous chair if I may, and just a brief comment. We want rooftop solar. We hear the call for rooftop solar. We know the issue with the grids being full over the substations and needed infrastructure repair. I hope that whatever concerns on this measure can be ironed out, but I hope we look to the fact that this will provide the ability to get more rooftop solar now for the people who've been on the waiting list, potentially. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1214, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS TO ASSIST HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY, INC., MAUI ELECTRIC COMPANY, LIMITED, AND HAWAII ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY, INC.," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representative Say voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1647) recommending that S.B. No. 979, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 979, SD 2, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to have my comments from Second Reading inserted, and I'm going to cast a no vote, please," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 979, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO YOUTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Kong, Matsumoto, McDermott, Pouha, Tupola and Ward voting no.

At 11:11 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 1094, SD 2, HD 1

S.B. No. 737, SD 1, HD 2

S.B. No. 1214, HD 1
S.B. No. 979, SD 2, HD 1

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 892, SD 2, HD 3 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ohno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This measure aims to support the broadband initiative and our Pacific cable that brings Internet to our islands. For those folks who are listening and listening and watching 'Ōlelo, they may not know but we get our Internet here in the State of Hawaii through an actual cable that travels under the water to our islands from the mainland. For many businesses today and many, many more businesses in the future, they rely on broadband and fast Internet for cloud services. Services that they do their accounting, operations or sales from, and I think that encouraging this type of investment is a good thing for many of our residents, many of our states. And for that reason, Mr. Speaker, I'm going to dub this bill the middle class job creator bill number one. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support of the middle class job creator bill. I'd like to adopt the words of my fellow colleague in glasses. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Just in strong support and would like the words of my bespectacled colleague from Oahu over here entered into the record as if they were my own. And let's just say that, Mr. Speaker, I hope we've addressed the concerns that were raised on the terminology by the latest draft of the measure, and want to thank the Finance Chair for working with us on it. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 892, SD 2, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OMNIBUS HAWAIʻI RESILIENCE AND SUSTAINABILITY STRATEGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1649) recommending that S.B. No. 1155, SD 2, HD 2 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1155, SD 2, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. With reservations. I support the funding of the Hawaii Film Office without the transfer to the Hawaii Tourism Authority. So, just to look at that, see if it's the best fit for them. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative San Buenaventura rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1155, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CREATIVE MEDIA INDUSTRY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Keohokalole, LoPresti, San Buenaventura and Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Choy, Kong, McKelvey, Rhoads, Say and Thielen voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1650) recommending that S.B. No. 1101, SD 1, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1101, SD 1, HD 3 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. The Hawaii Public Housing Authority came before us several years ago asking for this particular exemption for three years, to bring down about 600-plus units within our public housing so we can get individuals moved into those particular units. We've done such a great job, Mr. Speaker, but at this point in time they still need to do another 150 units. I see in this particular measure it's down to two years, or maybe that might be blanked out by this time.

"But at this point in time I think we should just finish those 150 units and be done with this particular exemption and move all those individuals over to civil service. They've done a great job, but I think we should move forward with how we can bring more affordable units within our state inventory through the Hawaii Public Housing Authority and HHFDC. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Johanson rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you for the opportunity to comment on SB 1101, SD 1, HD 3, a measure that extends the availability of the exemption from state civil service for persons hired or contracted by the Hawaii Public Housing Authority to repair and maintain vacant housing units. I rise in support with reservations.

"While I wish to honor the work that is being performed, I have concerns over the time period of the continued civil service exemption granted by this bill. The previous public housing unit conversion rate suggests less time for exempt positions is warranted. Therefore, I will be voting in support of this measure with reservations."

Representative Onishi rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a few comments. First, I'd like to have the Representative from Waianae's words added as my own. I'd also like to add that in the testimony they said that they have an ongoing issue with units as they become vacant needing to be refurbished or fixed up. And because of that issue, I think that team approach that they developed works really well, but I also see this being an ongoing issue moving forward. And to have this exemption from civil service I think is not the right way to go about doing that. I think that these employees or this team concept should maybe be looked at as being made permanent as part of the staffing. That is my greatest concern. I think they should be looking at a shift in how they're doing stuff and look at making these employees permanent. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Jordan and Onishi be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I support the Public Housing Authority, but I just have concerns that we should review all the different civil service exemptions that we're doing in various areas to make sure that there's long term thought that goes into why these exemptions should be and if it needs to become permanent. Thank you."

Representative Morikawa rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, for the same reasons as the Representative from the Big Island. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations for all the reasons stated by the previous speakers. Most of what they said is correct, so I'm voting with reservations. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. With Romy, please, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lowen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Onishi and Jordan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Jordan and Onishi be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1101, SD 1, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII PUBLIC HOUSING AUTHORITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Cachola, Cullen, DeCoite, Fukumoto Chang, Johanson, Jordan, Kawakami, Lowen, Matsumoto, McKelvey, Morikawa, Onishi, Pouha, Tupola and Yamane voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Choy, Har, LoPresti, McDermott, Oshiro, Rhoads and Tokioka voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1651) recommending that S.B. No. 1280, SD 2, HD 2 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1280, SD 2, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ing rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition. I believe that I'm most likely the only regular rider of any ride sharing company here in Hawaii among my colleagues. As a neighbor island legislator I use public transportation, The Bus. When it's not convenient, if I'm running late I've got to hail a cab. I don't do that anymore. Instead I use Uber or Lyft, and the reasons why I made the switch are typical for ride sharing customers. The prices were competitive, often better, the cars were cleaner, the drivers were friendlier, and the routes were always the most direct. So, yes, I have a lot of skin in the game for this bill. Maybe not as much as another one of my colleagues, though.

"So how is this higher level of service achieved with less regulations and licensure requirements than taxis? Well the answer is a simple five point, two way driver to passenger rating system. No red tape, just humans holding other humans accountable. Upon signaling for an Uber with a few taps of your phone, passengers are given the driver's name, the photo, the customer rating, the car model, and contact information. Passengers know what to expect, drivers have a direct incentive to be friendly, clean their cars, and not cheat customers, because if their average rating falls too low they risk being fired. If you try to drive around in circles, your route is mapped on the app, and if you complain to Uber, which I've done before, they'll reimburse you. Passengers are deterred from misbehaving because drivers are able to refuse service to passengers with lower ratings.

"The same reservations that were raised for this bill, we've just seen over the last couple of years for Internet bed and breakfast companies like Airbnb. Reservations were about if we let someone into their house, where's the accountability, there's going to be people getting murdered and this and that. But actually, that hasn't been the case. Of course, once in a while there's those anomalous situations, but the rates of these things aren't any more drastic than the regulated side. There's no more violence in Uber than there is in cabs.

"Of course, the goals of safety and fairness raised by ride sharing critics, namely the taxi industry, are noble pursuits, but the critics' characterization of the industry and proposed approach completely miss the mark. Rather than imposing top-down regulations on a modernized version of an industry in order to create parity with taxis, the focus should be on facilitating the taxi's industries adaption of modern, more effective, peer-to-peer regulation. We often regulate with the mantra of, if can, can. I na hiki e laila hiki no. But we should think more along the lines of, if no need, then why, how about not.

"One of the other concerns was surge pricing. But if you try to catch a cab at 11:15 on New Year's Eve or anytime on Halloween in Waikiki, I'll bet you $20 that you can't. There's none available. So unlike bottled water in hurricanes, Uber's surge pricing model isn't exploitative. During peak demand times and in high demand areas, riders are prompted, you will pay x.x times the price. It's usually around 1.2 or 2.0, and you can agree or disagree on that. But the surge incentivizes drivers to rush to that area, and the supply increases, levels out the equilibrium, and the price is stabilized. For customers, if you need a ride and are willing to pay more, you got one. If you're not willing to pay more, then you can call a cab and the competition means there's probably still a cab available. Maximize economic welfare for all.

"I recently rode an Uber to Waikiki, and the driver was like, look, we're going through these regulations, we're probably going to have to shut down if this passes, and she wants me to come out and rally. And then I told her, no I work at the Capitol, and then she looked in the mirror, realized who I was, and started crying and saying, you know I think God sent you to ride with me. And then she starts talking about how much this means to her. It was incredible. And how much it means to her and how her son was a victim of a drunk driver."

Representative Say rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing continued, stating:

"Thank you. So she'll pick up customers that she sees tipsy on the side of the road and gives them rides for free. Now, she's not an employee of a multinational corporation, she's a sole proprietor, she's a contracted worker, so she's starting her own business. That's what this company is, if you ever rode an Uber or Lyft, these are local people that are using their cars and creating their own revenue and their own hours. It's quite encouraging and inspiring.

"This economic ecosystem that was created by Uber and Lyft, it actually doesn't preclude taxis from using it. If you go into the app, it says Uber X which is independent drivers, Uber Black which is limo companies, and then Uber Taxi, and you can actually hail a taxi, be it from Charley's or another company, as long as they register with the Uber service.

"So let's not drive Uber and Lyft down to the inefficiency standard we set for taxis. Instead let's lift up taxis to the Uber efficient standard set by the ride sharing industry. Policy makers can and should let innovation take the wheel without relinquishing our role as backseat drivers who make sure our economy stays on track. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I am against this bill but not against the taxi driver who is an honorable Member of this Body. Having said that, Mr. Speaker, my biggest problem is that we're treating ride share as if it's taxis, and taxis as if it's ride share. One size doesn't fit all. But this bill is trying to make that happen and I think that's a big mistake.

"As the previous speaker eloquently pointed out, these are self-employed small businesses. They're paying taxes, they're using their own car, they're using their own time. And sometimes it's just going on their way to work and they pick somebody up and they make a few bucks. It's another way of creating jobs and creating more disposable income for the people of Hawaii.

"What I think the Legislature needs to pass a bill like this, if we were all in our 20's this bill would be a no brainer. Unfortunately, some of us are much older than that and then we have to look at it differently, Mr. Speaker, and I see you're smiling at that because this is a young phenomenon. This is part of the Internet age, it's part of the social media, it's a new paradigm shift of looking at transportation. Recall Senator Inouye deregulated the airline industry. That's what we need to do with our taxi and our transportation industry, as these two new innovative creative measures have come forward.

"We don't have data, though. We have a taxi industry that's fearful that these guys are going to put us out of business or steal our money or take territory or gore our ox. Mr. Speaker, we need, instead of a bill like this, we need to have DOTAX do a study to see what the income impact is or what the gross receipts impact is. If Uber or Lyft come up are the taxi drivers going to go down, or is the pie growing and everybody is getting better because this is a social and a technology phenomenon, not just a taxi versus ride sharing phenomenon.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I would just say we need a paradigm shift, we need to look at this, let it grow before we pull it out of the ground, and I know the lady that the previous speaker spoke of, I had the same crying example, not sitting in a cab but in my office on the phone with an Uber driver saying, this is the way that I make my mortgage payments. This is a Hawaii Kai resident making their mortgage payments by doing this extra work with their own car. So, Mr. Speaker, I would submit that Uber is to the taxi companies what solar on our roof is to HECO. We need to give the small guys a chance, and this bill is not going to do it, it's going to ask them to leave, and I think we're going to be at a loss because of that, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in strong support. Just as a philosopher, that was a really bad analogy. I'm all for innovation, I use Uber, I've used Uber with other Members in this House. We rode an Uber cab to a dinner and we asked the Uber driver about this legislation and he openly admitted that he's a taxi and it's just a different way of getting a taxi. I use my smartphone to secure a ride somewhere. I also use my smartphone to make a phone call to get a taxi to ride somewhere. These are the same real services.

"I want to thank the lead chair, Transportation Chair, for working really hard on this, as well as the subsequent chairs. But at the end of the Transportation Committee hearing, the committee on which I sit, the director, I don't know if he's the CEO or the Executive Director locally of Uber, made a very telling admission, Mr. Speaker. He concluded by saying, we are a software company, and he's exactly right. It's a software company that is unique and innovative and great, and it's a great way to get a ride somewhere.

"Taxi companies are using similar innovative technology today to secure patrons for their services too, but if we're going to hold one group of this industry to certain standards, we must hold the other group of this industry to those same standards. If we're going to say to a person, you cannot be a taxi driver if you have a heart condition because you're going to be on the road 40 to 60 hours a week and it's a safety issue, we should not therefore let that person cross the street and go work for another company where they don't have these same standards. If we're going to say to one group that you have to have these insurance requirements, we can't allow the other group to not have those insurance requirements, Mr. Speaker. It's a basic issue of safety and fairness, and that's why I'm strongly in support of this measure. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Standing in support with strong reservations. Mr. Speaker, I have strong reservations with this draft because of the message that I believe it sends, not only to these innovation corporations but to the local people who participate in them and also to young people who are looking to find a way to make their mark in Hawaii in a way that allows them to continue to stay here and deal with our cost of living issues.

"I support regulations for ride sharing, but I do have concerns that this draft attempts to push a square peg in a round hole. Ultimately, overregulation of this industry doesn't hurt the multinational companies who came in and pursued this initiative, it penalizes the local people who participate in this industry and who use the service. The people who participate in ride sharing, the drivers, those are people who many of whom after a day of work at their primary job engage in ride sharing as a means of second income in order to deal with our cost of living.

"And in addition, this Chamber has and continues to make a concerted effort through the investment of taxpayer dollars to develop an innovation industry that attempts to do the things that these industries are doing, capitalize on underutilized resources in a productive way for our economic benefit. And I think that's what we have here, and I'm concerned that attempts to regulate these innovative services or services that are innovative like this, will go too far and will have the unintended consequence of chilling other innovation initiatives, while we are at the same time investing money to promote an innovation industry in Hawaii.

"So, I fear that if we go too far in an attempt to punish these types of commercial activities, we'll be acting counterproductively, and for these reasons I'll vote with reservations and remain hopeful that we can address some of these issues and that they'll be resolved appropriately in conference. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise with reservations. I echo the Representative from Kaneohe's comments. My fellow classmates from McKinley High School have written to me and have told me they need Uber because when they work with two jobs they need to be able to have the opportunity in between those two jobs to have a means of making money. It is so expensive to live here on Oahu. I am thankful I live in Puna. And I agree so much with the comments from the Representative from Kaneohe. We are in the 21st century, we need to embrace 21st century values, and as such I rise with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Ohno rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just as with many of our hot button issues, going through the testimony there are people on both sides who contradict each other, and I just don't feel like there's enough time for any Member of this Body to pinpoint every single contradictory statement and get to the bottom of them.

"However, when I think of this bill I think of the future of the world, our state, and the process that we have as lawmakers. I imagine a place just five, six years ago, when the country used to be populated with Blockbuster Videos. Blockbuster Video has since gone out of business, and there's not one single one in Honolulu at least to my mind, because of the way that technology innovation has occurred.

"We now see things like Redboxes where you can rent videos from a kiosk without actual brick and mortar stores, without individuals making sure that kids aren't renting videos they shouldn't have. And I think that had Blockbuster or many of these other stores that rent videos had a strong lobby or had been organized and well-funded, that you might have seen the Redbox industry not take off as it has. If we had acted in that time I think we would have been able to avert those causes, but we would have found out that quickly, three or four years ago, the video industry is now into streaming where we have Netflix, HBO Go, Chromecast, Apple TV.

"The point I'm making is that the advent of technology and the progress of technology is very hard to legislate, and I think that as technology and innovation outpaces legislation, we should be very careful that many of the advances in service and ease and price for many people can be adversely affected by legislation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Aquino rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. The first point I'll make is that, while I support this measure I do understand that this bill needs some work. It's not in perfect form by any means, but a step in the right direction.

"Second point, Mr. Speaker, is that I acknowledge that innovation is good and it has great benefits for people who seek alternative modes of transportation as a means for convenience and cost. However, Mr. Speaker, trying to regulate an on-demand transportation service to ensure proper safeguards and protections on behalf of the consumer and the general public is our responsibility as policymakers. The safety of the public, Mr. Speaker, is the bottom line.

"Opponents of this measure will say that this is way too much. This is overreach, overkill. But how is proper insurance coverage, Mr. Speaker, to ensure that there are no coverage gaps for the company driver and passengers, be too much? Also, Mr. Speaker, how are proper background checks with fingerprinting to assist in the hiring of potential drivers, TNC drivers, be too much? How are the requirements of GE to reporting and payments, the lifeblood of important state services and programs, be too much? One year of driving experience in Hawaii, Mr. Speaker, how is that too much? These are all safety and security requirements that are meant to enhance consumer protection and further enhance the current TNC experience.

"Another point, Mr. Speaker. There's a certain TNC company that is currently valued at $40 billion. That's a lot of money, Mr. Speaker. The requirements in the bill is a small price to pay when it comes to ensuring the safety of their clientele and the people of this state. Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, other states and cities have put regulations in place to ensure fairness and safety for the consumer and TNCs to abide by them. Regulation and TNCs such as Uber can coexist, Mr. Speaker, and it has in Washington D.C., California, Colorado, Illinois, Kentucky, Virginia, and others, like Hawaii, who are moving forward in the same direction. So, however, Mr. Speaker, the picture that's painted during this session seems to be the opposite.

"So I agree that we should embrace innovative ways to deliver services to the people. Whether you support this bill or not, I hope that we can keep in mind that keeping the general public, island resident or visitor, as a priority that we can all agree upon. Thank you."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. Thank you. Just a brief comment, I think others have already noted the tension that exists between balancing innovation and general consumer protection. Although I am concerned that this bill will stifle innovation, the primary reason that I continue to support it is the disparity in coverage. The disparity in coverage between traditional taxis and our other drivers that are presently regulated and that of a TNC network, once the fare is completed, much discussion on the Floor has centered around passenger and driver, but I think there are also others involved, particularly pedestrians and others in the surrounding environment, and those two without any said regulation are treated very differently with these two approaches. So that is why I continue to support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll be quick. With reservations. I am actually very much opposed to this draft of the bill but I'm hopeful that I'll be able to continue to work on it in conference. One of the things that I just wanted to note, there are different changes across the country, people are trying to regulate Uber, but there has been a national compromise that has been reached and that Uber has tried to put forward, and I think that we need to at least give that some consideration. I'm disappointed that we haven't even been able to have a hearing on that language.

"What's happening, Mr. Speaker, is because people realize that this is a new and innovative product, so what we have to do is create new and innovative laws in regulations. And what insurance companies have done is come out with specific ride sharing packages so that instead of having a full taxi package or a full just regular average resident driver package that doesn't do anything for commercial reasons, they have this special package that's just for ride sharing companies, and I think that that's the way to go, Mr. Speaker.

"The market is already transforming itself to compensate for some of the problems that have been raised with companies like Uber, and I think we need to give that a chance to work. But so far we haven't been able to do that, we haven't been able to even talk about that compromise. And I think until we do that, we'd be doing a disservice to just get rid of the industry altogether. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, again in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I think the previous speaker mentioned the key word, compromise. Instead of snuffing it out, let's let it breathe, let's let it have a chance to show itself. Oftentimes we talk about picking winners and government should not be in picking winners. By way of exit Netflix took over from Blockbuster, not by government regulation but by free market, Mr. Speaker. Competition is good, people are just. This is the marketplace of ideas. We're competing with ideas, whose ideas are going to win. And I think Uber has got a great idea, Lyft's got a great idea. But we're going to snuff it out unless we get some compromise. And, Mr. Speaker, this goes on all the time when you have a state that has a very anti-business climate. We're known as one of the unfriendliest places. This gives us the same image the way we're debating this bill right now.

"Another case in point for innovative things, take the most innovative creation on the highways, the Tesla. Mr. Speaker, Tesla right now is wrestling with the State of Texas to not have to regulate car dealerships. Tesla wants to go directly to the consumer, and the car dealers are saying, no, no, you've got to come through us. We're going to sell Chevrolet, Pontiacs, and we're going to have Fords and we're going to have Tesla. Tesla says, no.

"Mr. Speaker, there's a market shift when we get new products and new technology, and I think we have to roll with that. But as the good President Regan once said regarding transportation, if it moves, tax it, if it keeps moving, regulate it, if it stops moving, subsidize it. So, Mr. Speaker, I think we have to back off a bit. Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with strong reservations and ask that the elegant words of the Representative from Kihei and District 27 be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Their wisdom is even more apparent now that they're wearing glasses. Thank you, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. I would like to have the words of the Transportation Chair entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Just to make some clarifications here, we are not trying to regulate Uber, Mr. Speaker, we're actually trying to make sure that their drivers are certified. This is what this is all about. In order to get certified, Mr. Speaker, one must of course have to go through the background check, be fingerprinted, take a health exam, take a written exam, and take an oral exam. It may take months to years to get this qualification. And from then on, once certified, then of course we have to purchase commercial vehicle insurance, then we have to get our vehicles inspected and with a control number and also be metered, which is also controlled. There is nothing stopping anyone from doing this. Mr. Speaker, anyone can get certified. They can still have a part time job.

"Mr. Speaker, there is nothing stopping Uber from hiring certified drivers. It's all legal. That's all we're trying to do is just to make sure that everyone plays by the same rules. This is not against any transportation company. We're just trying to make sure that our drivers, the people that pick you up, are certified for the safety of the community. It's very simple. And just to let you know we're not after the transportation companies, but just to certify their drivers. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition, second time. I just want to say that I completely agree with the previous speaker regarding parity of regulations. Let's talk about what ride sharing companies, first of all, are subject to. They need driver's insurance, the passenger is covered through the parent company Uber. They too are metered. What's different is, like was previously mentioned, you've got to take these written tests, these oral tests, these driving tests, all these regulations, and the question is why? Why are we subjecting taxi drivers to this? If the answer is because of safety, because of liability, then okay, but let's look at what happens when you take those away, are people less safe, are people less liable, are people getting cheated more, is the passenger experience worse? No, no, no, no. All those squares are covered. I don't know about your card, Mr. Speaker, but on mine that's bingo.

"One last point. In order to create parity we can either regulate Uber more or regulate taxis less. And if we see these results, these same goals that we're seeking with the regulations from taxis without them, then let's revisit those regulations and see if they're really needed. And let's make the previous speaker's life a lot easier. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. Second time, still in support. I just want to agree with the last statement that the previous speaker made. I agree, we should either regulate Uber and Lyft to the same extent as taxis, or deregulate taxis to the extent that these competitors are unregulated. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kong rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just want to ask for a ruling on a conflict of interest," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1280, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION NETWORK COMPANIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Creagan, Fukumoto Chang, Johanson, Keohokalole, San Buenaventura voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Ing, Lowen, Matsumoto, Ohno, Pouha, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Representative Rhoads, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1652) recommending that S.B. No. 1030, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1030, SD 1, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Just a small comment. In the section where it says tobacco products, it defines it as an electronic smoking device, which at this point it is not clear that all electronic smoking devices do contain tobacco. So until we know that, I don't know if it should be added into that section. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. Not only for the fact that it includes vaping products, but also that the American Heart Association, the Coalition for a Tobacco-Free Hawaii, they are all against that section of this bill that prohibits and makes criminal the possession and consumption of tobacco products by minors. They have all stated unequivocally that that impact increases the use by minors. And because of that, I stand in reservations."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Unfortunately, I have to rise in opposition to this measure, mostly for the reasons that were spoken to by the previous speaker. I would like her words entered into the record as if they were my own. But also I guess I've been having a real hard time, I think my friend over in the Senate from Kahuluu said it the best. Cigarette smoking, I can't handle it, think it's disgusting, I like to get as far away from these guys as far as possible. But when you can enter into a contract, Mr. Speaker, when you can be emancipated, when you can be called up to service and fight in a place and be shot and killed possibly, to say that you can't have a cigarette anymore, that there's a new standard of the age of majority, has been something that I've been wrestling with. Until this can be reconciled, if it can be, I'm going to have to go no on the measure. But it's not because I don't appreciate what the advocates are trying to do, as so far as smoking goes."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. With strong reservations, Mr. Speaker. Yes, like standing up on SB 1032, I have an issue with the definition of tobacco products being changed in this particular measure and adding in nicotine. I think we should really revisit that. And if we are going to move forward with this measure as well as SB 1032, they should be a little bit more consistent. I have another serious issue with adding the smoking devices in here. Again, I don't think we should be doing that.

These legislative bodies have already raised the age to 18 to purchase smoking devices probably about two years ago.

"I too, as the Representative from the west side of Maui, have a concern. Twenty-one year olds, between 18 and 21 you can go fight a war. You can buy a car, you can buy a house, you act like an adult. I understand that we do regulate individuals up to 21 to purchase alcohol. But when the legislative body did that back in the early 1980's, they put this step in. If you were between 18 and 21, you were kind of grandfather claused in. And then as you started the birthing ages of 21, they could buy. This measure doesn't have that in there. And I heard the industry and what Hawaii County has done by saying it will be a lot easier. Well, we all know our identification cards in the State of Hawaii go horizontal and vertical according to your age, 18 to 21. I don't see where the industries are going to have that problem with identifying individuals between 18 and 21.

"There are smoking devices that don't have nicotine in them. And why am I supposed to tell a 19-year-old you can't buy a smoking device that contains just vanilla extract? And how am I going to tell an officer how to enforce that when they don't have any testing components to test nicotine in the products. I'm hoping this measure will go to conference and we clean it up or it dies.

"Now I know those youth that came knocking on my door saying please support this measure to 21. Taking alcohol to 21 was a different discussion. Taking cigarettes to 21 is completely different. What am I supposed to tell a 19-year-old, don't smoke? I don't like smoking, I don't smoke, never even took it up. I don't like to be in a room where smoke, either. But I'm not going to tell somebody put the butt out. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, as a veteran, I cannot in good conscience support a bill that, when someone is on the battlefield and less than 21 years of age cannot stop and smoke, or if they're in Schofield, or Wheeler, or wherever, Mr. Speaker.

"Interestingly on page three, there are exemptions. If you're in a study for law enforcement you get exempted. If your parents agree or if you're 21 years old and you're delivering tobacco, you get exempted. Well, why don't we exempt the Armed Forces, Mr. Speaker? How can we put people in harm's way and say, by the way, you can't smoke. It doesn't make sense, Mr. Speaker. It's not fair. You don't have to be a veteran to know that. This is just overreach, Mr. Speaker, and I hope it gets changed in conference committee."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations, please. I think if we're going to regulate e-cigarettes, let's do that. If we're going to regulate tobacco products, let's do that. I think by trying to do the two at once, you create a gap, and I don't think that makes for efficient law making. For those reasons, with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support, brief comments. The argument about the military, it's an interesting one, but I'm looking at the statistics for the number of people who died, Americans who died in World War II, and the number is 403,000, which is a horrific number. But the number of people who die every year in the United States alone from direct tobacco smoking or from second hand smoking is 443,000 every year. So to give our soldiers something that dangerous as they're going into danger makes no sense at all. We should be restricting cigarette use as much as humanly possible among the military for their own safety. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, first of all, smoking is volitional, fighting in a war is not often volitional, it's by politics and failure of diplomacy that forces our young people into war. People decide to smoke, and as a responsible 18-year-old they deserve to have an opportunity to express, particularly under stressful situations like being in the military. Lastly, Mr. Speaker, if I may insert comments into the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. At this time, I rise in opposition.

"This bill punishes the possessor. Do not punish adults for making an adult decision. Eighteen is not an arbitrary number – it's the age of adulthood in America. Eighteen-year-old men and women in our military services fight – and die – for our country. But we think it's fair to tell them they cannot choose whether or not to smoke or chew tobacco? This punishes adults with no grandfather clause – doesn't allow any leeway for those 18-20 years that have been legally smoking for years. Now they pay a fine?

"Do not punish good kids who become good adults for simply trying a cigar or e-cig or cigarette once in their lives. In Hawaii, 5,600 kids try smoking for the first time each year. Only 25% actually become regular smokers. If that's the case then 75% of kids that try smoking once could be criminals for something they would never do again even without this bill. This is not a deterrent, but a new revenue source built on the backs of the lowest income bracket in our population; those just beginning their work life.

"Do not punish adults for using innovative alternatives to quit smoking. Electronic smoking devices 'vape' all sorts of products, and a great number of the options have no nicotine at all. There is no proof that the vapors have any negative health effects; since they are helping people quit cigarettes, why ban them until we KNOW there is a negative effect?

"Do not punish adults for choosing to smoke one plant over another. In another few minutes we'll be discussing protection from discrimination for those who smoke marijuana in SB 1291, even though medicinal marijuana can be made into many forms that do not need to be smoked. Many studies show significant negative health effects on the lungs and immune system from smoking weed and the second hand smoke of weed, including the same issues that result from cigarette smoke, but we are not fining those users – we are protecting them.

"The Legislature's responsibility does not include dictating legal adult decisions for adults. Punishing the possessor doesn't put us on par. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward also submitted the following opinion piece from The Washington Post:

WASHINGTON — Congressional efforts to limit or even stop men and women in the military from smoking cigarettes or using other tobacco products could create a major morale problem for front-line troops.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff see it coming and hope to get out in front of it.

Last week, during the Senate Appropriations defense subcommittee hearing on the fiscal 2015 defense budget, the panel's chairman, Sen. Dick Durbin, D-Ill., questioned the discount prices for tobacco products sold within the Defense Department. "We spend $1.6 billion a year on medical care of servicemembers from tobacco-related disease and loss of work," he said.

Gen. Martin Dempsey, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, responded, "We've asked a lot of our men and women in uniform, and we lead an uncommon life by choice. But all the things you're talking about are legal, and they are accessible, and anything that makes anything less convenient and more expensive for our men and women in uniform, given everything we're asking them to do, I've got concerns about."

Dempsey concluded, "I want to make sure that you understand that the chiefs will need to have a voice on this because of the effect on the force."

Reducing smoking in the military has been a creeping campaign for almost 30 years, starting with congressional efforts in 1985 to raise commissary cigarette prices to equal those in civilian stores. Instead of raising prices, then-Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger set up an "aggressive anti-smoking campaign" after a 1986 Pentagon study showed military smokers were less physically fit than non-smokers and tobacco-related health costs might reach $209.9 million.

Other steps and other studies have followed. At the June 18 hearing, Defense Secretary Chuck Hagel said he has ordered a review of all tobacco sales as part of a study of all health programs. On March 14, a department memo titled "Reducing Tobacco Use in the Armed Forces and the Department of Defense" noted department policies have "made great progress in reducing tobacco use. Yet our work is far from over." The memo, which went to the service secretaries and the military chiefs of staff, set as a goal "to dramatically reduce use of all tobacco by 2020," with proposed structural reforms such as where tobacco purchases should be made and "the need to consider tobacco-free installations."

Face it. In the U.S. military, smoking cigarettes hasn't just been accepted, it's been important. I've never smoked, but I grew up during World War II when Bill Mauldin's famous cartoon GIs had cigarettes dangling from their lips. So did Ernie Pyle, that war's most famous war correspondent.

As late as 1975, cigarettes were part of soldiers' rations. Since then, a new attitude has developed as steps were taken to discourage smoking. In 1994, the Pentagon banned smoking in workplaces and set up designated smoking areas. A 1997 executive order went further, banning smoking in all government-owned, rented or leased interior spaces. After a phase-in period, the Defense Department fully implemented that policy in December 2002.

To some degree, the Navy has led the way by eliminating smoking breaks and setting up smoking areas in offices, surface ships and submarines in the 1990s. In 2010, it banned all smoking on submarines.

The department's actions have had some effect. In 1985, all military smoking was at 47 percent. It's dropped to 30 percent. However, as the March 14 memo states, "An estimated 175,000 current active duty servicemembers ... will die from smoking unless we can help them quit."

Durbin pointed out that the rate of smoking among the military is 20 percent higher than the overall U.S. civilian rate and that servicemembers' use of smokeless tobacco has gone up to more than 400 percent higher than the U.S. average.

"One out of three members of the military who use tobacco today say they started after they enlisted," Durbin added.

The last major military smoking study, requested by the Pentagon in 2007 and completed by the Institute of Medicine in 2009, found that "smoking rates among military personnel returning from Iraq and Afghanistan may be 50 percent higher than rates among nondeployed military personnel."

The institute's study said, "Current cigarette use in the military is more likely among men, those who are white, have less than a college education, are younger than 34 years old, and are enlisted versus officers."

In 2005, smoking rates for 18-to-25-year-old military men was high at 42.2 percent, although it varied by service, with the Army and Marines being highest, and the Air Force the lowest.

In short, smoking is highest with those most likely to be involved in fighting on the ground. A 2008 study found that "smoking rates increased by 57 percent among those deployed and by 44 percent among those not deployed."

Last March, when Stars and Stripes carried a story about Navy Secretary Ray Mabus considering a ban on all tobacco sales on ships and bases, the comments received previewed what could come if more actions are taken.

"THIS IS OUT OF CONTROL!!!!," wrote one ex-Marine. "When I was sitting in a bunker in Vietnam at 0400, a cigarette gave me comfort and pleasure. OH!!!! It is not good to get lung cancer but a sucking chest wound is???"

Dempsey was more diplomatic: Because smoking is legal, taking more steps to halt it "is an issue for the broader Congress of the United States, not uniquely for the United States military."

Rep. Duncan Hunter, R-Calif., a Marine Reserve major with three combat tours in Iraq and Afghanistan, has already acted. He argued at one point: "We sleep in the dirt for this country. We get shot at for this country. But we can't have a cigarette if we want to for this country, because that's unhealthy."

He got the House to approve his prohibition of any new restrictions on legal products — including tobacco, sold on military bases, commissaries, post exchanges, and even ships — added to the fiscal 2015 Defense Authorization Bill.

Let's see what the Senate does."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong reservations and would like to enter comments into the Journal. I think we make a mistake and we should have separate statutes for nicotine delivery devices that are not cigarettes. Cigarettes are bad, we want to decrease cigarettes, we want to decrease cancer. But when we regulate nicotine delivery devices the way we do cigarettes, we're going to increase cancer, not decrease it, Mr. Speaker. That's why I rise in strong reservations to this. Thank you."

[Note: please refer to Representative Creagan's written remarks on S.B. No. 1032, SD 2, HD 2.]

Representative Jordan rose to respond, stating:

"It'll be short, Mr. Speaker. At what point in time do we stop? Sugar is bad for us, and we should be regulating sugar because people die every day from diabetes and other issues due to sugar on our health industry. So here we are, we're just picking at it. Eighteen is a good level, we're going to go 21, then we're going to start telling everybody else they can't do anything else. We have to have even across the board. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, very briefly in support. I just wanted to point out one thing which is that, with the discussion about military, which I think is one group being singled out here in particular, even the military has moved in a number of places to restrict smoking among its personnel, chiefly because the cost of smoking among US military healthcare system beneficiaries has been estimated to more than, and these are their numbers, $900 million per year, and this was two decades ago, with an additional half a billion dollars in direct healthcare costs and another $346 million in lost productivity among active duty personnel. Thank you very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1030, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Creagan, Jordan, Kawakami, Keohokalole, Pouha, San Buenaventura, Say and Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Choy, Fukumoto Chang, Kong, McDermott, McKelvey, Oshiro and Ward voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1653) recommending that S.B. No. 284, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 284, SD 2, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. Just some brief comments here. I'm just grateful to the leadership that this House has shown to observe conserving open space and also doing it responsibly. I'm grateful for the chairs that have been able to vet through this process, and I understand that we will continue to look at the means of financing, of which I'm committed to be helpful to. I do believe that the purpose of the TAT and the nexus connected to the conservation easement at Turtle Bay is very clear. So it's for those reasons and others that I rise in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. Although our lengthy discussion in Finance on this particular measure was quite enlightening, I think the individuals who may want this has now provided a fee for the State of Hawaii, and I'm very appreciative of that because that was my major concern last year. I'm not interested in buying easement, I am interested that the State owns in fee simple. And I am very appreciative as the most beautiful portion of this piece of property. So for right now I will stand with reservations as this moves through conference committee, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will be voting in support with reservations. And let me just say a few words why I support it with reservations. The owner of the property is very, very smart. Originally they were willing to sell us just conservation easement. Now they're willing to give us the fee simple with the same price. You have to look behind why are they doing this.

"First, if we own the property we might end up being liable, in case somebody sued us we are in the loop. So we should at least find ways to negotiate with them that if they're going to give us the fee simple interest, and then we're going to lease to them 65 years. It's practicality a lifetime. When they unload it before even 65 years, guess what? In case of a suit, we own the property, we should provide when we go through the process of finalizing this bill that if we have to give them the leasehold interest for 65 years, one, they have to pay us lease rent on the property. Number two, that if we are going to be sued, there should be a term in the contract that will exempt us from liability, because the property owners right now said that we'll be taking care of whatever is needed in the protection and the things that should be done is their responsibility. The other thing why they outsmarted us is, if they sell the property to the State, the State is not going to pay any real property tax, but if they own it they have to pay real property tax to the City.

"So to my point, I believe that we are outsmarted by them, and by doing so this bill is not yet more or less finalized. We should come up with ways to negotiate so that they have to pay us lease rent since we are getting for the same price, and at the same time exempt us from liability, because that's their responsibility. We'll be in the loop if we're not going to do that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Onishi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Mr. Speaker, in the past I voted with reservations on this bill. I had grave concerns about the State purchasing only a conservation easement. Since then, the owners of the property have offered a fee simple purchase of 55 acres of the area around the bay to the State for the same amount of money that was originally discussed for the conservation easement.

"Mr. Speaker, coming from the neighbor islands, I think my constituents see the value in the purchase of land fee simply versus a conservation easement. This land will be owned by the State forever. The land will be available to the public forever. For my constituency, I think they see a huge value in that, and I appreciate the ownership looking at that as a benefit for the State of Hawaii.

"In regards to the maintenance of this property, the reason that the ownership is willing to accept a lease provision to lease it back to them is so that they can maintain the property, and to maintain it consistently with the rest of the property that they own so that the people of Hawaii can enjoy that property, as well as the property that we're getting the conservation easement on. So with that in mind, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With some reservations. But I do want to take this opportunity to thank the Tourism Chair for his wisdom in killing the previous bill, and the Water & Land Chair and the Vice Chair of Water & Land making the corrections in this bill, especially the part about the sunset if it doesn't get completed by January 1, 2016. So this bill started off as a bad bill. The Tourism Chair and the Tourism Committee deferred that bill, and the Water & Land Chair and Vice Chair made it a much better bill. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Brower rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Tokioka be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 284, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives Cachola, Jordan and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Kong voting no.

At 12:08 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 1155, SD 2, HD 2

S.B. No. 1280, SD 2, HD 2
S.B. No. 1030, SD 1, HD 2

At 12:08 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:02 o'clock p.m., with Vice Speaker Mizuno presiding.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Takayama, for the Committee on Public Safety, requested a waiver of the 48-hour advanced notice requirement for the purpose of hearing the following measure on Thursday, April 16, 2015, at 10:05 a.m. in Conference Room 309, and the Chair "so ordered."

S.C.R. No. 71, Requesting the Hawaii Emergency Management Agency to Conduct a Study Regarding the Feasibility and Cost of Constructing a Small, Rural Landing Site or Airstrip for Use by the National Guard and Emergency Responders in South Puna and Evaluate the Possibility of Using Basalt Rebar or Lunar Basaltic Cement in the Construction.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1654) recommending that S.B. No. 1028, SD 2, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1028, SD 2, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand with reservations. My main comment is that the transitional programs which have helped employers, especially small employers, being able to weather the gap between prepaid health care and ACA, that that not be terminated and that the language be clear that this bill, that our laws would follow the federal transitional policy period, i.e. such that whenever President Obama decides to allow for transitional insurance policies to continue, that our own ACA continue to follow it. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, opposition. I will be very brief saying this is a waste of time and a waste of taxpayers' money. Mr. Speaker, we should be teaching the nation how to do healthcare, not the other way around. This is the tail wagging the dog. We know more than they know but yet we're putting in the $200 million and we're going to have another subsidy, and I speak for both of these bills against them, otherwise I have comments to put in the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. At this time, I rise strong opposition.

"These bills steal from the functional and productive to give crutches to the broken and superfluous.

"S.B. No. 1028 allows the Connector to use its technology and essentially function as a benefits administrator – in direct competition to established private companies who already do this.

"S.B. No. 1338 allows the Connector to sell large group coverage when that is already done outside of the system and without governmental, middle-man fees.

"These bills force a non-competitive system on companies that must survive competitively.

"S.B. No. 1028 requires that insurers not only comply with the Affordable Care Act in regards to contracting with essential community providers in their network, but to contract with ANY willing federally qualified health center, taking away their contract law rights.

"S.B. No. 1338 removes the federally-permitted transitional, or 'grandmothered' plans which will then mandate enrollment with the Connector for individual and small group plans at potentially higher rates.

"These bills are not working to care for our community health better, they are propping up a broken, government-funded system that undermines Hawaii's businesses and citizens.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1174, SD 2, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative DeCoite rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Unfortunately, our workers' compensation system is pretty well broken at this point. People who are legitimately injured at work can't find doctors who will take care of them, probably because the reimbursements are too low and probably because the doctors don't want to go through the paperwork. So this bill is an attempt to address part of that problem.

"There's also a lot of misinformation about how many people on workers' comp are committing fraud. I introduced a bill a couple years ago to move the fraud investigation from DLIR to the Insurance Division, the rationale being that they were more capable of investigating that kind of fraud. And the statistics that came back from DLIR was that 14 out of 7,441 workers' comp cases were determined to have committed fraud. Fourteen, and that's not even breaking down between the employer and the employers.

"So fraud is not a big factor in workers' comp cases, but what is a big factor is that if you're hurt at work, the chances are you'll eventually be cared through the system, but it's a very difficult process and one that people who are legitimately hurt at work don't deserve. Mahalo."

Representative Johanson rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on SB 1174, SD 2, HD 2. The bill would provide that in workers' compensation disputes, the independent medical examiner would be selected by mutual agreement, as opposed to the current system, where the independent medical examiner is determined by the employer. While I believe that the examiner engaged in the dispute should be unbiased, I am sympathetic to the concerns raised by employers that this measure could erode their only check against potential abuse. A problem definitely exists, and workers need to be treated fairly, which is why I am supporting this measure, albeit with some reservations."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support, thank you. I ask that the Judiciary Chair's words be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Mr. Speaker, a few words further. I think this bill is a step in the right direction because it should hopefully reduce workers' cost by eliminating ongoing conflicts between employers and workers as to which physicians should perform independent medical examinations. I think there's a lot of doubt and there's a lot of troubling, at least anecdotal, stories I've heard about people trying to get workers' comp and who have been in their experience given the runaround, and some die waiting and being forced to challenge some of the rulings about whether or not they're legitimately injured on the job. I think that this bill helps to solve some of those problems."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Request for a ruling on a conflict of interest. My wife is a doctor," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Cachola continued to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'll be voting with reservations. During the hearing, those who testified in support of this bill, especially lawyers, have been accusing doctors as being hired guns, and I take offense to that because they're not hired guns. The way I look at it is, sometimes doctors refuse to be in this situation because the amount of fees that are being paid to them is already set up in current legislation or act, and if my wife, for example, is being hired as an independent medical examiner and has been there for the whole day, she'll be losing a lot of patients to see, and therefore it's not more or less profitable for her to do that.

"But I don't think the process is broken at this point in time, because if you come up with several doctors that will be recommended by both sides, it might even be more expensive, because I don't know how many doctors will be recommended by both sides of the party. And before you know it, it takes a lot of time to do that. Plus, it doesn't do away with any one of them appealing and going to court and saying, no I don't want that. To a point, it might even be more expensive if we would pass this bill out, and that's the reason why I'm speaking in support but with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing with reservations on SB 1291, SD 2, HD 2.

"Mr. Speaker, this measure is well intended. I agree that no patient should face discrimination, even those with legitimate medical needs who use medical marijuana. I especially agree that no student should be subjected to discrimination due to their medical condition and treatment requirements. Unfortunately, as a small business owner I suspect that this measure is going to complicate things for employers.

"The real issue lies with the fact that we have no accurate way to measure a person's level of intoxication. If a medical marijuana patient utilizes medical marijuana on a day to day basis, or even a few times a month, they will test positive for having THC in their system, regardless if they are intoxicated or not. This in and of itself makes it impossible for an employer to judge when an employee has used medical marijuana and if they are currently intoxicated.

"For this measure to work seamlessly we would need a way to accurately test the intoxication levels and possibly a rescheduling, decriminalization, or legalization at the federal level. Currently, cannabis is classified under the Schedule I category at the federal level. This creates conflict with federal and state policy and statute. An employer could easily justify not hiring or retaining an employee because of the federal classification of cannabis, claiming there is no medicinal use for it under federal scheduling guidelines.

"A patient may be able to function normally, or to adequate performance levels, while under the influence of medicinal cannabis, but this creates too much leeway for individuals. Let's face it, there are those who currently possess medical marijuana cards, who may not legitimately need them. This measure could allow those individuals to abuse the system, and we don't want that. We want to encourage responsibility, Mr. Speaker.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of the implications to employers and others that SB 1291 will have as we move into conference. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote for 1657 and 1658 and a comment really, really brief. Mr. Speaker, even though it doesn't meet the legal definition, I don't see the threshold of the need to make marijuana smokers a protected class. I think that's a slippery slope, and it's going to run into some difficulties if it is fully implemented as protected classes have been in the past. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1291, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL MARIJUANA," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Cachola, Cullen, DeCoite, Fukumoto Chang, Johanson, Jordan, Matsumoto, Oshiro, Pouha, Tsuji and Yamane voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Choy, Har, Kawakami, Kong, McDermott, Tokioka, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1658) recommending that S.B. No. 682, SD 2, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 682, SD 2, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing with reservations on SB 682, SD 2, HD 1.

"Mr. Speaker, I support the intent of this measure and I completely understand the plight of those patients who need medical marijuana, but cannot grow it themselves.

"However, while the numbers of those who need dispensaries may be great in metropolitan islands like Oahu, in our rural districts there is little need for these large scale dispensaries. Such dispensaries are more apropos for a larger city than neighboring rural islands within House District 13. We may need to look at the feasibility of connecting patients directly with growers in the areas of our state where the need is too low to warrant a full-scale dispensary.

"My primary concern with this measure is the way we will source the cannabis, and the achievability of effective quality and diversion control.

"Personally, if we must move forward with this measure, I would like to see this as a purely local endeavor. In the bill, production centers are clearly defined, though it is not clear where exactly the marijuana will be sourced from. Are the growers and production centers one and the same? From the bill text, we don't see too much about growers, although we should since they are an essential part in the process. Lumping them in with production centers seems like the wrong way to go about this.

"Preferably, we should only be supporting local medical marijuana growers to maximize our economic benefit. If we attempt to go outside the State for these resources, it will only complicate things due to the conflict of state and federal regulations on marijuana. No outside growers or dispensary entities should benefit off our medical marijuana patients, this will help keep outside criminal enterprises from gaining a foothold in our medical marijuana system. Yet there is nothing specifically prohibiting outside interests in the bill.

"Toxicity and contamination are a big issue too. How do we accurately regulate Tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) and Cannabidiol (CBD) levels and guarantee them? Every plant is different, even if it is the same strain or came from the same batch of seeds. Certain strains have been cultivated specifically for their high CBD content. If a patient gets medical marijuana that they believe is high in CBD's and it turns out that it has been misanalysed and is actually high in THC, the patient's condition could become exacerbated. The consequences for patients could be potentially life threatening.

"Not only is the accurate analysis and labeling of naturally occurring components within marijuana a concern, but also the added components that may be introduced to the plant during the growing process. How will we guarantee that the plant material or processed products are free of pesticide sprays and other contaminants? There is language in the bill which addresses this, but it simply states the Department of Health must adopt 'standards and methodologies related to testing medical marijuana products for content, contamination, and consistency'. What exactly does this entail and is it scientifically backed to keep people safe? I suspect to adequately safeguard patients, regulation of toxicity and contamination will be a complex and costly effort.

"How will we accurately keep track of the plants? An electronic tagging and monitoring system is great, but we are dealing with plants here, not powdered compounds with scientifically exact amounts. There is no way we can definitively say that a plant will yield a specific amount. Depending on the way a plant is grown and its genetics, it could yield much more or much less than expected. Unless regulatory officials possess expert knowledge on marijuana cultivation and are constantly inspecting these plants, the potential for diversion is high.

"Furthermore, will there be adequate funding for ensuring compliance with regulation and safety? If the special fund cannot cover costs, will our state have to use our general excise taxpayer money for these dispensary systems? If we start appropriating things out of our general funds for this it will not be a smart move, especially with our current economic situation of having less and less money every year, with more expenses to fund than the preceding year. The last thing we need to do is take on more responsibility when we have hospital systems in dire need of help.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of SB 682 as we move into conference. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tsuji rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker, although I do support medicinal use of marijuana. We are getting closer to something, hopefully in conference with the House Bill and the Senate Bill we can come out with something for those individuals who were given cards almost 15 years ago, and we can start being ahead of the country instead of behind the country in medical services. I'm still very not comfortable with this particular measure, but as we're moving forward with this we are getting better and better and refining everything. And I do hope that we're going to have a measure that we can all be happy to pass out before Sine Die. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise to speak in support on SB 682, SD 2, HD 1, but with serious reservations.

"PART I: Definitions and Attorney General concerns need to be addressed

"First, from my review of Standing Committee Report No. 1658, testimony filed and oral testimony provided at the public hearing on Thursday, April 2, 2015, not one of the suggested amendments from the Department of the Attorney General was accepted and adopted into the House Draft before us. Certainly, I am not suggesting that all suggestions need be adopted, but only that many suggested amendments to the 'terms of art' or definitional terms were not considered. The Deputy Attorney General herself repeatedly expressed serious concerns over the vague or imprecise definitions in the draft, readily suggesting that those amendments were very important or at the very least should be seriously considered. As such, Members today, including myself, are casting a vote on a bill that as currently drafted may not bear the careful review and scrutiny of the Attorney General upon final passage by the Legislature. Additionally confounding is the fact that the same Deputy Attorney General raised the same and similar concerns of the 'terms of art' or definitional terms in prior drafts of a similar bill, namely, House Bill 321. For example, the testimony of the Attorney General states in relevant part:

- HB 321 – February 7, 2015: 'Concerns with Definitions: Our general concern with definitions is that the usage of some terms within the bill is not always consistent with the definitions given. It is necessary to be consistent to avoid the problems of ambiguity. . . Thank you for the opportunity to share our concerns. We respectfully request these Committees to consider our comments.'

- HB 321, HD 1 – February 27, 2015: 'Concerns with definitions: Our general concern with definitions is that the usage of some terms within the bill is not always consistent with the definitions given, and some terms are not defined, but need to be. It is necessary to define additional terms and be consistent to avoid the problems of ambiguity. . . Some of the terms, even when consistently defined, are used inconsistently or in an ambiguous manner. We recommend the following adjustment for clarity and consistency. . . Thank you for the opportunity to share our concerns. We respectfully request this Committee to consider our comments.'

"Similarly, on SB 682, SD 2, HD 1, The Department of the Attorney General again repeats its concern and advises as follows:

- SB 682, SD 2, HD 1 – April 2, 2015: 'Concerns with definitions: Our general concern with definitions is that the usage of some terms within the bill is not always consistent with the definitions given, and some terms are not defined, but need to be. It is necessary to define additional terms and be consistent to avoid the problems of ambiguity. . . Some of the terms, even when consistently defined, are used inconsistently or in an ambiguous manner. We recommend the following changes for clarity and consistency. . . Suggestions for technical and other improvements. . . Thank you for the opportunity to share our concerns. We respectfully request the Committees to consider our comments.'

"However, none of the suggested amendments were taken up in the subsequent draft and approved by this Chamber. Again, why are we concealing our policy? What is the House position? Do we have one?

"Mr. Speaker, all of this, the public hearings, invitations and solicitations for commentary from the Department of the Attorney General, simply means that weeks have passed, maybe more than a month, and yet we are still without a clear understanding of the new terms we are seeking to fashion in a new section of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. Moreover, the Attorney General himself has repeatedly 'red flagged' for us and made clear through his deputy attorney generals a warning or concern over the imprecise, and in some places, inconsistent or contradictory language and resulting ambiguity. Not fixing obviously less than clear plain text errors and terms of legal importance leaves me indifferent to the present draft and uncomfortable with where we are heading. That we would do so repeatedly and even at Third Reading on the First Cross and then again on the Second Cross leaves much to be desired. Why we would not seek to better define and clarify our clear intentions on meaning of what we envision or aspire to establish is a curious thing indeed.

"PART II: Will low THC/high CBD (cannabidiol) be available and affordable for our families and children?

"Mr. Speaker, in addition to those drafting and legal deficiencies in the present draft is my deep concern that the current draft and all prior drafts have not articulated a policy that will provide the meaningful, accessible, and affordable medical marijuana product that patients like that young girl from Mililani and similarly situated families desire and may well need. Indeed, my research of the present day practices of medical marijuana dispensaries and the lines of product they commonly carry and sell may suggest that the low THC and high CBD medicinal marijuana product may be either unavailable or unaffordable. A review of the medical marijuana registration data from the Department of Public Safety, December 2014, reveals the following:

Debilitating Medical Conditions for Medical Marijuana

| Medical Condition | # | % |
|---|---|---|
| Severe Pain | 9,228 | 66% |
| Multiple | 3,833 | 28% |
| Malignant Neoplasm (Cancer) | 219 | 2% |
| Persistent Muscle Spams | 179 | 1% |
| Glaucoma | 130 | 1% |
| Severe Nausea | 130 | 1% |
| Seizures | 88 | 1% |
| HIV/Aids | 79 | 1% |
| Cachexia/Wasting Syndrome | 51 | 0% |
| Total | 13,937 | 100% |

State of Hawaii, Department of Public Safety, Medical Marijuana Program, December 31, 2014

"As such, according to the data on cardholders in Hawaii covering the past 14 years, less than 1% of all patients have been issued a card for the disabling epileptic condition. Most on the other hand have been issued a card for severe pain (66%) or multiple symptoms (28%). This means that very few of the potential dispensary customers may be seeking to purchase a specialized low THC and high CBD product for their certified ailments. This fact is important when one considers the traditional free marketplace approach being contemplated in both House and Senate drafts, whereby the sellers and buyers themselves and supply and demand will dictate both product and sale price. This concerns me deeply. Honestly this is the 'stuff' that keeps me up at night. For how would an unregulated market-based production and retail system provide a specialized medical marijuana product for such a small consumer base? Who is going to set aside shelf space for a product that is ostensibly desired by less than 1% of consumers? How would the business justify it to their investors? Would it be a form of 'loss leader' product to generate good will and promotion of other items? Would it be merely a form of business loss and hence a deduction for business and tax purposes? And what, if any, would be the legal or regulatory mechanism should the market and licensed operators choose not to provide the low THC and high CBD product due to traditional corporate business constraints and well established black letter law precepts regarding profit and best business decision rules? Keep in mind that a type of butane hash oil ("BHO") produced in Colorado and sold in both medical and recreational dispensaries goes for about $1,100 an ounce or about 28 grams. But, this is a product that has a high THC level of 70-90% and very low or mere traces of the CBD substance. Who and what business would then be interested in manufacturing a product that would be 180 degrees different and contain a very low THC level of less than 0.3% or about three tenths of one percent THC and a CBD content of about 0.9% or more? And, even if they did, would they sell the product for less than $1,100 an ounce?

"Mr. Speaker, let us consider a hypothetical example of a young child weighing 50 pounds and who needs an average amount of about 250 mg of CBD oil per day. This would entail about a quarter of an ounce of CBD oil every month, or about $275 every month or about $3,300 a year. I would imagine that in many households, $3,000 is a lot to spend a year on one form of medication. Mr. Speaker, let us also consider the plight of a man with ALS or Lou Gehrig's disease. Assume this hypothetical victim weighs 150 pounds. He may need at least three times the amount of a 50 pound child for this incurable debilitating disease or about 750 mg/day. That means he may need to purchase about three-quarters of an ounce every month, or about $825 every month or about $9,900 a year. Again, there is presently no insurance coverage for medical marijuana purchases and costs. Therefore, I am very concerned whether this specific type of medicinal marijuana product would be available and affordable for families of humble or simple means. Many of the families in Wahiawa and Whitmore Village would be hard-pressed to afford this monthly or annual cost. A medical marijuana dispensary may provide no remedy for these types of sick persons and afford no additional relief.

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, these are the kinds of issues that keep me up at night and drive me to find some assurances for these families and patients, especially the young and the old, with severe and life threatening conditions that heretofore have not been addressed by traditional treatment protocols and may not be addressed in our current draft to establish a medical marijuana dispensary code and business enterprise. How many of us know how much marijuana may be used to create just one ounce? How much of what strain? How much of what solvent? And, at what cost? Based on my research, it may take over 10 pounds to produce one ounce of marijuana oil with low THC and high CBD levels. How would that formula and conversion rate transfer into the for-profit marketplace? Will it be affordable? Can the children and families afford to purchase it? Are we establishing a marketplace that serves only the needs of the well-to-do who can purchase their medical marijuana? Are we setting up a for-profit enterprise for our citizens that is able to manufacture its own kind of 'orphan drug' like the multi-national pharmaceuticals and withhold it from sale and availability based upon a business decision?

"To this end, I have been speaking to many in our community and within these Chambers to not forget these patients whose sincere and earnest goals of acquiring safe and effective medicinal marijuana medicines cannot be through the mere hope or prayer that the marketplace or good will or compassionate corporate citizen will see fit to provide the low THC and high CBD product at a price and quality for those who seek and may need this specific type of medical marijuana. I am not satisfied, nor will I sit idle without putting up some resistance to a new policy for all Hawaii that does not seek to even address and help the most needy and powerless, all the while encouraging and assisting those whose true goals have little to do with compassionate health services or serving the interest of the sick and diseased, but an unabashed display of unbridled interest in money and profiteering.

"And, this is important and worth taking note, we can insist and subject to license and permission to do business in Hawaii upon specific and limited requirements. This is not rocket science. This is not unconstitutional. And, this is not a hard thing to do. Never forget that the State of Hawaii, in establishing its medical marijuana program over 15 years ago and even now contemplating the creation of a commercial and regulated dispensary law, is still doing so under the current 'hands-off' policy of the current U.S. Administration, and the current law approved back in the 1970s still makes marijuana possession and use a federal offense. That is, although I think it should not be, marijuana remains a Schedule I drug and it is still illegal under the Controlled Substances Act. Consequently, many of the traditional issues and concerns regarding interstate commerce or federal preemption or due process may not be relevant in us providing further protections for our citizens under our customary regulatory and police powers. But this current federal legal status – or as some would describe as a 'quagmire' for marijuana enterprises – is the means by which Hawaii has the full measure to restrict and/or impose any and all requirements upon a business seeking to do 'legal' business in Hawaii, during which time the Federal government finds said businesses to still be an 'illegal' drug enterprise. As such, I humbly suggest that the consumer advocates and those pushing towards a medical marijuana dispensary system and all potential licensees be required to produce safe and affordable medical marijuana product with a low THC level and high CBD level as the 'price of admission' to do business in Hawaii.

"Therefore, it is my sincere request and unbridled hope that the conference members take heart and bring to bear in their discussions and deliberations a policy that is reflective of Hawaii's unique culture. Let us not merely carbon copy what other states have done and merely establish medical marijuana dispensaries. Neither Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Rhode Island, Oregon, nor Washington have the perfect model legislation or policies. Hence, simply 'cutting and pasting' what they have is nothing to write home about. Nothing new. Nothing imaginative. And, nothing that addresses the needs of the most sympathetic and neediest of all medical marijuana patients – young children and their families. Let us not forget that we are Hawaii. Let us be inspirational and exemplary. Let us not be mediocre or merely like the other Mainland (North American) States. We are a unique people with a unique history and traditions. Let us strive for the summit and be the best. Let us – kulia i ka nu'u – strive for the summit!

"In close, recently I was at home in Wahiawa and tuned on the television to watch the Cable News Network ('CNN'). The show was a part of the CNN series – 'High Profits'. It was truly enlightening and reveals the greed and extreme financial interest in the medical marijuana and marijuana industry. A similar television show appropriately entitled 'Pot Barons of Colorado' running on MSNBC again dramatizes the profit motives and moneyed interest in these marijuana businesses. Both were very instructive and, although with a bias to solicit or promote acceptance of both business models, they did not fail to reveal the tremendous commercial and money interests involved.

"Indeed, even the most vocal and active proponents like the Drug Policy Alliance and NORML must accept, and even swallow their pride, in acknowledging that commercial marijuana, even medicinal marijuana, is the new 'Big Tobacco'. As such, let us understand and know that like the Tobacco industry of the past and today, they will seek to deceive, promote, addict, and sell to our young people. So, if we are willing to open 'Pandora's Box', it behooves us, at the very least, to get something for our most needy patients and their families. Experience shows again and again that only where and when the various stakeholders seek passage of a bill can we best fashion a measure that gives-and-takes among various interest groups and stakeholders. Certainly, this may be the only time conditions are ripe to make sure we protect our consumers and advantage our local residents over and ahead of any and all outside influenced interest and profiteers. Remember, Big Tobacco has come back as Big Marijuana with all the bells and whistles and means to push its product on especially the unsuspecting youth and under privileged communities.

"Mr. Speaker, thank you again for the opportunity to submit these comments and to explain my serious reservations on SB 682. By reference I also include my previous remarks entered into the Journal on HB 321, HD 1 - Session Day 19: February 20, 2015; HB 321, HD 1, Session Day 25: March 10, 2015; and SB 682, SD 2, HD 1, Session Day 36: March 27, 2015, as they remain relevant to the current status of SB 682, and offer possible solutions to the numerous unsettled and even contemplated policy choices.

"And, as always, I stand willing and able to provide any and all of my time and interest to fashioning a new public policy declaration that best serves the needs of all of Hawaii's people. Mahalo Nui."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of SB 682, SD 2, HD 1. This bill is the culmination of the extensive efforts of many individuals, and the recent amendments by the Chair are much appreciated. By adding language regarding increased licensing requirements and the phasing out of the caregiver's ability to grow, we move further in the direction of effectively treating medical marijuana as a medicine.

"As we move forward into conference, I stand in support of furthering the efforts to offer Hawaii citizens a legal way to obtain the medicine they need and encourage further consideration of additional regulations that we can enact.

"1) Regulated dosage and testing:

- The different cannabinoid compositions, many without the psychoactive components of THC, along with the levels found in different cannabis plants, should be assessed and regulated for the appropriate medicinal use. This practice can guarantee the quality of medicine dispensed as well as proper dosing, which ensures that medications will fit a patient's specific needs.

- Colorado has realized the need for such testing in their marijuana industry and just a year ago passed potency and consistency testing requirements because heavy metals, butane, fungi and other such impurities were found on buds, as well as a 3-fold increase in THC potency over buds from 30 years ago. Many strains were also very low in CBD, which is most helpful for many medical conditions.

- Washington mandates testing as well, including for contaminants, moisture and microbiology.

- These kinds of inconsistencies would be detrimental to Hawaii medical marijuana patients, and we have the chance to regulate this for their benefit now, before negative effects occur.

"2) Cost of Dispensaries:

- In state after state (CT, ME, CO, WA, OR) that has instituted medical marijuana dispensaries or legalized recreational marijuana, the black market has grown stronger. One reason is discrepancies in price.

- Due to licensing fees, taxes on the product, and operating costs, the price of obtaining legal marijuana is simply not competitive with obtaining illegal marijuana, and as a result, even those who want to purchase the product legally are moving back to the black market for budget reasons.

- In Connecticut, a state with a system similar to our proposed system, obtaining medical marijuana comes with a price of $500 to $600 an ounce; on the black market, it costs only $340 an ounce. In Washington, medical marijuana costs $40.75 for 1/8 of an ounce, compared with $29 on the black market.

- Patients want to be able to purchase their medicine legally, but if it comes at the cost of their mortgage, or utilities, or food, citizens may still engage in illegal activity.

- With the high cost of living in Hawaii, this disparity in price could completely undermine the intent of setting up dispensaries. So, as we're deciding how to price licenses, we should keep that under consideration.

"Let's do this right, and learn from the lessons our fellow states are learning now. We need to offer safe, effective medicine to our citizens at a price they can afford. We need to ensure that we're creating dispensaries to help people, not for-profit corporations or our state general fund. For these reasons, I stand in support of SB 682, SD 2, HD 1, but I look forward to continuing to improve the measure as we move forward. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Reservations, because it appears that there's going to be a reduction in the funds that are going to prevent smoking in our state, and I just wanted to note, Mr. Speaker, 1,400 people die from tobacco use or exposure in Hawaii each year. And the really important thing is to stop the 5,600 kids in Hawaii from smoking for the first time each year. When they do start, as a result, 1,400 of them become hooked on tobacco, and there's also an increase in those using e-cigarettes as well. I just think we need to keep a real strong approach on this because we have a good track record so far, so we don't want to diminish any of our efforts. Thanks."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative LoPresti: "Just two brief announcements, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to note that today is the 150th anniversary of the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln. I didn't think that should go without notice.

"Secondly, I just want to note that today is Equal Pay Day for women. We have still a huge pay gap for women. In the 1960s it was 68% a woman would earn to what a man earns. Today it's about 78%. We have a long way to go. In 50 years we've only come 18%, and I didn't think that should go without notice either. Thank you."

Representative Evans: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to comment also on Equal Pay Day. This is the time of year when the wages of a woman, it takes that long into the year before we now are equal with men. As a matter of fact, we're fortunate to live in Hawaii because it's moving towards pay equity. Hawaii ranks 7th out of 50 states in earnings ratio. In Hawaii, full time women workers get paid 83% of what men make in median annual earnings. But even with a larger percentage of earnings here in our state, women cannot afford to earn less than men.

"The gender pay gap affects women from all backgrounds of all wages and all levels of educational achievement. There is gender inequality based on women's race and ethnicity. In a report conducted by the American Association of University Women, titled 'The Simple Truth About the Gender Pay Gap', Hispanic, American Indian, African American, and Native Hawaiian women had low median annual earnings compared with non-Hispanic white and Asian American women. In that same report it is mentioned that a woman's age also has to do with pay and equity. Full time women workers between the ages of 20 to 24 get paid 90% of what men were paid weekly, but women ages 55 to 64 were paid only 77% of what their male peers were paid.

"Some people may think that receiving a higher education will be an effective tool for an increase in earnings, but it is not an effective tool against the gender pay gap. White women are paid more than African American and Hispanic women at nearly all education levels. Wage inequality has consequences. It is more than a women's issue, it is a family issue. Recent research has shown that about 40% of households with children include a mother who is either the sole or primary earner for her family. With pay discrimination, the life choices made by women are greatly affected. Lower pay makes it harder for women to save up to buy homes and to pay for further education.

"Wage inequality is real. It's a negative aspect to a country who prides itself for fairness and opportunity. Women make up nearly half of the US labor force, and women are also in positions traditionally occupied by men. A person's ethnicity, age and gender should not be a factor in the amount they get paid, especially if the same work is being done. Equal pay for equal work, we deserve it. Thank you."

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, speaking of pay equity. There's two things we have to do as Americans. Death and taxes. Tomorrow is the day that we live by paying our taxes. Tomorrow is April 15 when we pay Uncle Sam. Just as a reminder, because I haven't finished mine and I'm sure some others haven't also. Thank you."

Vice Speaker Mizuno: "The Chair would be remiss if, with your kind indulgence, I'd like to just thank the entire Body, Speaker Souki. I think if two words can define today's Second Crossover, that would be 'efficient', and everyone's Floor speeches were done in 'respect'. It wasn't too personal. So I want to thank this entire Body. How about giving yourselves a hand. Great job."

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. No. 128, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE HAWAII PAROLING AUTHORITY TO FORM A WORKING GROUP TO EXAMINE SMARTER SENTENCING TO IMPROVE THE QUALITY AND RELIABILITY OF STATE CRIMINAL SENTENCING PRACTICES," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Har, Ito and Rhoads being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.C.R. No. 150, HD 1 be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support but I have a few concerns. The testimony from the Attorney General's Office at the hearing was very surprising to me. Evidently, about 100 years ago there was a program that was established, the Uniform Crime Reports, established by chiefs of police and resulted in the Uniform Crime Report Program under the jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"A hundred years ago, Mr. Speaker, there was no such category as domestic violence. A hundred years ago that was a shameful secret, it was looked at as the woman's fault, and it was hidden from society. So the Attorney General's Office now, fast forward 100 years, they don't keep any statistics at all that can be reported about domestic violence because they're relying upon that 100-year-old reporting system. So instead of coming to the hearing and saying, we need to update what's going on, we need to recognize that domestic violence just wasn't even reported, wasn't acknowledged in society 100 years ago, we need to update the way that we keep our statistics so we can get this data and then the Legislature can make meaningful decisions in its legislation. Well they didn't come and say that, they just said leave us out of it because we don't keep the data and just ask the FBI.

"So I was pretty shocked by that, and I'm hoping we'll have a better way as we look at this and a better way to go back to the Attorney General's Office and say, update what you do, domestic violence is real, it needs to be reported, we in the Legislature need that data, and let's get moving on that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. No. 150, HD 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION TO REPORT CRIMES OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE UNDER THE UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING SYSTEM," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Har, Ito and Rhoads being excused.

H.B. No. 1099, HD 2, SD 2:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1099, HD 2, SD 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote and a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this is about putting advertising on a soccer bulletin. I know the Mayor tried it on buses so that we could make some money by advertising. This is the slippery slope of advertising, and I think if this occurs this is the camel's nose or foot in the tent, and from there advertising will be everywhere.

"We always say businesses are our environment and our environment is business. If we really want to preserve the beauty of Hawaii, I don't think advertising soccer field boards or buses or bulletin boards or blimps or all of those that they've created where they tried to get under the tent or in the tent, and this is another attempt to get into the tent. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I don't think it's a good policy. It's not the Hawaii of the future that we're looking for, nor do we envision. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1099, HD 2, SD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OUTDOOR ADVERTISING," passed Final Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representative Ito being excused.

H.B. No. 1272, HD 2, SD 2:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1272, HD 2, SD 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I'd like to ask that the words that I presented into the Journal on Third Reading be inserted into the Journal for this reading. I'd also like to thank the CPN Chair and the JDL Chair in the Senate, the Economic Development Chair and the JUD Chair in the House, and especially to my office staff who worked so hard on this bill for the last two years, and especially Rich Silva who is my Office Manager in the gallery right now. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1272, HD 2, SD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOVIE THEATERS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Ito being excused.

H.B. No. 1286, HD 2, SD 2:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1286, HD 2, SD 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm voting for the bill but I have serious reservations about the provision that refers to liquefied natural gas. Mr. Speaker, like my colleague from District 41 said, by using LNG we're exporting the pain. I don't think that it's a good image for Hawaii, and I'm sorry that LNG provision stayed in the bill. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, America is blessed with the largest natural gas reserves in the world. Note, in the world. Hawaii has a chance to take advantage of that by getting inexpensive gas here. But what does this bill say? It says you can only use natural gas if it's cost effective, transitional, and limited term replacement. If we put restrictions on anything we brought into Hawaii with these standards, we'd probably have nothing here.

"Mr. Speaker, the point is if we're going to give our consumers a choice, if we're going to give them an option, this is like saying, yeah we want to do renewable energy but look we're going to let you do solar but you can't do geothermal, or you can do geothermal but you can only do it for about a certain amount of years.

"Mr. Speaker, this is a very narrow-minded bill. Its pro-HECO, and I know my colleague is contrary to that opinion. Why we limit LNG, in case it takes off and we have huge savings on our electrical bills, why would we not want to do that? So why would we want to preempt it by putting these clauses, these poison pills, if you will, into the bill prematurely, precociously, and prejudging what LNG otherwise is simply a propane case at City Mill or Home Depot. So, Mr. Speaker, this is not a good policy and for those reasons I'm against it. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in support, Mr. Speaker. And very briefly, just in a nutshell, I stand in support saying the importance of this bill is protecting Hawaii's consumers. For decades now, unfortunately we have been locked into imported oil for our electricity generation. Even back in the late '70s during the oil crisis when prices were through the roof and supply was not as available as people had hoped, spiking prices. Hawaii at that time looked at eliminating our dependence on imported oil and moving into more indigenous sources of renewable energy, even back then.

"Had we done that at the time, we could have saved our local residents tens of billions of dollars that we've had to pay out of our own pockets to pay for electricity in the years since. Tens of billions of dollars. That's not up for debate, that's the truth. And what we're looking at today is a turning point, where we have an opportunity to seize the change in the energy market as our utilities begin to adapt to renewable energy, as we meet our state energy goals for renewable power.

"And what this bill does is say, if we're going to move ahead, if the utilities are going to move ahead, then think of that long term. Don't invest in the short term, supporting an infrastructure that's been in place for decades or could be in place for decades that would enable a continued dependence on a fuel whose future volatility is unknown. At least plan ahead. Plan ahead and think to the future because any way you cut it, producing our own power locally is going to save us all money. It's going to save us, even in the case of LNG, the billions of dollars we'd still be exporting every year to pay for our electricity generation needs.

"So, Mr. Speaker, this bill does just a couple of things. One, it says, in the long term we want to eliminate our dependence on imported fuels. Because that's how we grow jobs locally, that's how we support our economy locally. Just look at our solar markets, solar PV over the last eight years has created thousands of local jobs, fostering an industry that never before existed, and it's done so right here by reducing our dependence on imported oil and imported fuels.

"Secondly, Mr. Speaker, this bill talks about being more efficient in the use of electricity in our public infrastructure. Being more efficient, using less, saving taxpayer dollars, saving money.

"Third, Mr. Speaker, it says that if the utilities are going to do liquid natural gas and import that. And right now I want to be clear that there is nothing in state statute that prevents that from happening for any reason. We're just saying, if you're going to do it, do your due diligence and make sure that when you're planning ahead, you plan to look beyond that, to the long term investment that we're going to have to make in the local renewable energy that is far cheaper even today per kilowatt hour than LNG produces power. So let's start thinking ahead.

"Lastly, Mr. Speaker, and most importantly, what this bill says is that we ought to plan to look at utility models that put the interest of local ratepayers first. And that is the most important thing that this could possibly do, because that looks out for the interest of ratepayers, whether you're talking about energy costs, whether you're talking about utility models, whether you're talking about LNG, oil, or renewable energy. All of this is determined at the PUC, in our State Energy Office, and plans yet to be designed in the future. And this says, design them right. Look out for consumers first, look out for cost first. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Brief rebuttal, still in opposition. Mr. Speaker, the one thing that I would assure all of us as Americans, that we have, as I said earlier, the world's largest supply. There's not an unknown future about LNG, not like oil. LNG does not have a volatility factor that the previous speaker indicated. We have certainty that LNG is going to be here. In fact, if LNG replaced the petroleum that we import we would save money immediately.

"So to say that we are gambling on something, we're picking a winner here to say that LNG is a bad bet. Where as in effect, what we've got is a renewable energy which this Body has given much support and rhetoric to, but, Mr. Speaker, as I look up into the lights here, there's only 3% of this electricity coming from solar energy. Three percent. The renewables are still trying hard to catch up, and this is another way of diversifying the portfolio to bring the consumer cheaper prices, not more expensive prices. And right now as long as LNG is in large supply and inexpensive, this is good for the people of Hawaii. Not forever and ever, but this is a way for transitioning into the future. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just a couple of things. First of all, I'd like to point out that LNG today in this state, yes, it's considered to be very cheap. But I want to keep the Members' attention to the mandates that have been passed by the EPA on all of our ports, our transportation, everything calling for clean air mandates to be set in stone, and they're upon us. Which means you're going to have ships and trucks and transportation shifting to LNG fuels en masse, because it is a fuel that will allow them to meet these mandates right away and because it's cost effective.

"The whole point being, when you have this mass shift to the transportation sector, you're going to see prices go up, Mr. Speaker. And that's why the cost effectiveness language is a protection to the consumer, and it's also a guide, and this is just a broad policy guide, not a mandate that says, when you look at LNG, look at the universe. Not just in the one sector of electrical generation, because this transportation demand could make LNG not pan out, especially when you look at the incredible infrastructure cost it could be associated with bringing them here. So that's why I stand in support. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1286, HD 2, SD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY," passed Final Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 4 noes, with Representative Thielen voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Kong, McDermott, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representative Ito being excused.

H.B. No. 1325, HD 1, SD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 1325, HD 1, SD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong reservations."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I forget the number but this was middle class bill killer, maybe it was number five or four, but it's a middle class killer bill. It could be number one.

"The problem is, this is another tax on the people of Hawaii. We already pay for sewer fees. And the strange thing about this fee is that we're not really sure how it's going to be applied or executed, and the most logical and the best way that I've heard so far is you're going to do a Google Earth of everybody's house, and you're going to see how much cement they've got and how much run off is then going to be predicted. So you're going to get a runoff quotient of which then you're going to bill them, which we're not sure how they're going to bill them. But, Mr. Speaker, the cost of living for the middle class, or anybody who is even a renter, is going to go up because of this bill.

"Now granted, storm water is the biggest pollutant that we've got ruining our 'āina. Now that is true, and we've got to do something, but instead of going massive across the State, let's pile it to get a handle on how to do it, and not just mandate something blindly as we're doing here. So I hope that we'll have our druthers about doing something that we really don't know how to do it. We know the cause of storm water and the problem, but how we're going to solve it I think is mistaken, the way we've got it here. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1325, HD 1, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STORMWATER MANAGEMENT," passed Final Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 6 noes, with Representative Say voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Kong, McDermott, Pouha, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representative Ito being excused.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Saiki moved to agree to the amendments made by the Senate to the following House Bills, seconded by Representative Evans and carried: (Representative Takayama was excused.)

H.B. No. 354, HD 2, (SD 1)
H.B. No. 525, HD 2, (SD 2)

H.B. No. 354, HD 2, SD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, H.B. No. 354, HD 2, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NURSES," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 525, HD 2, SD 2:

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 525, HD 2, SD 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with strong reservations. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, we've got to get our butts off the beach, we've got to get these beaches cleaned up, we've got to make sure that this is a pristine park, because our environment is our economy and our economy is our environment. I'm not sure that this is the way to do it, Mr. Speaker, because if it's about litter we need to find the litterers, and I'm not sure that this really does it. It finds anybody who vapes, who smokes and who is in the process of doing things in that otherwise if you know where we've prohibited smoking in the past, it's 20 feet outside of any doorway.

"Mr. Speaker, the average size of a state park must be in the acres, must be in the hundreds if not thousands of square feet. So if it's not in keeping with the consistency of 20 feet from any person or doorway, the state park it must be about littering.

"Mr. Speaker, the second problem and difficulty with this is that, how are you going to enforce this? Our police, our DOBOR people are stretched so thin, to enforce is going to be almost an impossibility. So, Mr. Speaker, I see the intent, we've got to stop kids from smoking, we want to cut down adults from smoking, we've got to discourage it, but I'm not sure this geographical parks is the next best way to go. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, reservations and no, as I've just stated. Thank you. Meaning no, a no vote."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, Mr. Speaker. The Governor just recently signed a measure regarding electronic smoking devices that will now fall in the lines wherever smoking is prohibited now, electronic smoking devices will be prohibited to smoke in public places.

"This measure, Mr. Speaker, now moves all our state parks, you cannot smoke in there. Although we will be providing an area at DLNR's discretion for smoking areas, my challenge with this, as the previous Representative had said, is the enforcement mechanism of this. We all understand in this Body that DOCARE, or the enforcement division for the Department of Land and Natural Resources, is always shorthanded, never has enough money, and we don't have enough enforcement capabilities, with their duties going from the tip of the mountains all the way to three miles out in the ocean. And now to task, ask them to put out a cigarette or smoking device or to be chewing on some tobacco.

"Although I do support this, I do support people living healthier lifestyles, but at some point in time when do we as citizens start taking our own responsibility and respecting other peoples' space? If we want to smoke, unfortunately we may have to do that in the privacy of our homes. So there I stand with my reservations on this particular measure. Hopefully, we can provide monetary or manpower for DOCARE to handle this in the near future for us, but at this point in time I'll stand with reservations, Mr. Speaker, thank you."

Representative Oshiro rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition. I do not smoke, I do not vape, my family does not smoke, we do not vape. However, we respect other peoples' right to do that with their own bodies. I agree with the Representative from Hawaii Kai that when their freedoms infringe upon mine, such as in enclosed spaces where I have no choice but to smell or breathe their air or their vices, then I agree, we should stop it. But we should allow people to have whatever little vices that they have that do not infringe on our own. And as such, I stand in opposition."

Representative Kong rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With strong reservations. Being a cigar smoking fisherman, I may have a little bit of problems with this, but we'll see how it turns out. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. On the prior versions and votes I've always gone reservations for a lot of the same reasons that the people on the Floor have said, and so I still am wondering if this is the end all to what the problem is we're trying to curb. So, thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm very conflicted on this bill, but I'm voting in opposition because I think to conflate cigarettes with e-cigarettes which is just nicotine vapor, nicotine, it's not carcinogenic, and at the same time you're allowing barbeques, and even the cancer researchers said that the smoke from barbeques is carcinogenic. The exhaust from cars is carcinogenic. If you want to be consistent, ban cars from state parks. Ban the buses, the diesel buses which for sure have carcinogenic emissions. But to conflate cigarettes with e-cigarettes when e-cigarettes are a way for people to cut down on their smoking I think is egregious, so I'm voting in opposition. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 525, HD 2, SD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE PARKS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Jordan, Kong, Oshiro, Say and Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Creagan, McDermott, San Buenaventura and Ward voting no.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition, Mr. Speaker. My opposition mainly hinges upon the section that remained in this measure that said, although no fee to participate in these meetings, which I totally support, my opposition is to the requiring registration, Mr. Speaker. You see, there are public meetings that require registration to enter the event. There's no fee charged, they are open to the general public, not just individual board members, meaning neighborhood board members who are located on the island of Oahu. So basically, that's where my opposition to this measure stands at this particular time, Mr. Speaker. So, thank you very much."

Representative Jordan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan's written remarks are as follows:

"I stand in support of HB 1075 with reservations, which relates to health. The purpose of this bill is to authorize the Governor, the Board of Directors of the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation, and Board of the Maui Regional System Board to enter into an agreement with a private entity duly authorized to conduct business in the State to transfer any one or more of the facilities of the Maui Regional System to a new nonprofit management entity to manage, operate, and use to provide health care services.

"I recognize that healthcare today is a very specialized, complex and fluid business, and the governmental model that we have in Hawaii today may no longer be the best model for our acute hospitals moving forward as we strive to provide vital healthcare services throughout the State while striving to reduce taxpayer subsides. Partnering with non-profit healthcare providers will be able to bring investments in health information technology, physician networks, quality management, supply chain management, and expertise in revenue cycle maximization. Since it has been reported during testimony that Maui Memorial Regional System requires approximately 35% of the HHSC budget; therefore, that money can be spent to upgrade services in all the other state medical regions.

"My reservations continue to focus on employee issues, continued need for state subsidies for operating costs, and any unintended consequences that may occur when there is such a great paradigm shift in our local state government-run acute hospital regional system. I am hopeful that these issues will be worked out in good faith and look forward to on-going analysis and reports of progress as required in the HB 1075, CD 1."

Representative LoPresti rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with strong reservations to House Bill No. 1075, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1. The purpose of this bill is to authorize: '…the Governor, the Board of Directors of the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation, and Board of the Maui Regional System Board to enter into an agreement with a private entity…to transfer any one or more of the facilities of the Maui Regional System to a new nonprofit management entity to manage, operate, and use to provide health care services.'

"I support the intent of this bill and the efforts taking place to ensure Maui residents have the same access to quality medical care as we do here on Oahu. However, I have concerns about the financial mechanics of this bill. Mr. Speaker, The National Council for Public-Private Partnerships describes 'public-private partnerships' as arrangements that 'typically involve a government agency contracting with a private partner to renovate, construct, operate, maintain, and/or manage a facility or system, in whole or in part, that provides a public service.

"'Under these arrangements, the agency may retain ownership of the public facility or system, but the private party generally invests its own capital to design and develop the properties. Typically, each partner shares in income resulting from the partnership. Such a venture, although a contractual arrangement, differs from typical service contracting in that the private-sector partner usually makes a substantial cash, at-risk, equity investment in the project, and the public sector gains access to new revenue or service delivery capacity without having to pay the private-sector partner.'

"As stated on page 12, lines 17-20, '...the private entity or its nonprofit management entity...may seek funds from the State for its operating costs...' Furthermore, on page 15, lines 9-15, '...the private entity or its nonprofit management...may seek funds from the State for capital expenditures...for each or all of the first ten years of the lease...'

"Mr. Speaker, I recognize that there will be significant benefits for the State and Maui residents if a private entity absorbs a facility on Maui. However, as evidenced on pages 12-15 in HB 1075, this bill no longer proposes a public-private partnership. It has now transformed into a subsidy for a private entity to operate a public hospital using public funds. How much capital is this private entity going to invest into a public hospital on Maui? How much funding will the private entity seek from the State every year?

"Moreover, the language in House Bill No. 1075 requires the private entity to only commit to retention of the workers at Maui Memorial Medical Center for six months. As the State is taking such a proactive role in subsidizing the private entity, I would hope the private entity would commit to working with the State in finding additional or alternative jobs as these are our local residents. It goes unsaid that any increase in unemployment as a result of this 'merger,' is not good for economy or the people of Maui.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I have strong reservations with House Bill No. 1075."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting with reservations. I'd just like to say a few remarks, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. First of all, I'd like to recognize the work that was done in the last several days to come up with this draft. It shows a lot of creativity and understanding of the basic principles of collective bargaining, and I think a lot of the credit needs to be brought to where it originated and I think where this bill will go in this implementation.

"So first of all, I'd like to acknowledge the work of the Governor's Office and his staff who really thought through the different possibilities that this bill in this current draft will allow the employers of HHSC and the other systems to best address the needs of those who might be affected by any type of change and the transition of the Maui facility and facilities to a non-government entity.

"I'd like to also recognize the work and the ingenuity and understanding of the Director of the Department of Human Resources Development, Mr. James Nishimoto. In having worked with him back in 1997, '98, '99 when you were Speaker, and at that time we looked at the civil service laws, collective bargaining laws, with Governor Cayetano. So I see what we're trying to achieve in this measure. So that's why I feel like I should stand and express these thoughts.

"I also need to recognize the affected unions through their leadership. This is going into uncharted waters. I don't think any of us know where this thing is going to end up. We hope that it does provide for the needs of both the citizens of the Maui region and those islands and those communities, as well as address the needs of the employees and workers in these positions. So I need to also express kudos to those leaders there.

"But this is a new model we're going into, Mr. Speaker, and I just hope that we're making the right choice at this time. So there's some trepidation in making this bold move, but with that I will be voting with reservations and ask for indulgence to submit further written comments. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, let me also thank specifically the leader of the Hawaii Government and Employees Association ('HGEA') for his strong and relentless advocacy on behalf of his members and specifically those in the collective bargaining units associated within the employer group of the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation ('HHSC'). He has and is facing an extraordinary shift in public perception and political attachment to the HGEA in that this measure is passing without much opposition and did earlier with nearly unanimous support in the Senate. As we all know, the bill has the effect of privatizing a large segment of our State of Hawaii government services. Some would even describe these health care services and the personal therein as 'essential' and I believe they are. For what can be more essential than the provision of health services to the citizens of Hawaii.

"But, this is why this bill and more specifically the present draft – the conference draft 1 – deserves the recognition of all of us and this footnote that my mere words seek to convey. For this is not only an extraordinary legislative action because of the privatization, but extraordinary when seen in the context of occurring in a state like Hawaii, a state known for its active union enrollment and historical allegiance with the ruling Democratic Party of Hawaii for over 50 years. It then can be seen as a sea of change of philosophical and political linkages to labor heretofore unseen or experienced. Or, maybe a more sophisticated or pragmatic evaluation of public sectors labor interest and importance in a post-Great Recession budgetary world where fiscal realities, limitations, and changing community demographics are coming to the fore and tipping the scales away from historical hardened political and social alignment. Whatever may be the cause or the genesis of this change in perception or belief, is mere speculation and not a bellwether of eventual dismantling of favorable labor and management interest and inter-dependence. I hope so.

"But, this is why this conference draft, which arises from these present day changes as demonstrated in the Senate vote and past House votes on earlier drafts, is so important and has meaning. For one, it is a draft that recognizes that the biennium has been put to bed and no further funds or subsidies will be coming from this year's Legislature. Requests made through the Governor's Office, Budget and Finance, HHSC Boards, and CEO, is what it is – and a decision of how much and when it is settled. Now is the time to quickly assess, make plans, and move on and make it work the best we can. This budget fact has been taken into account and this suggests very serious and somber and practical action. For certainly, one knows that there is less money appropriated than requested and hence services and personal have to be cut. The hardest part of the equation is the human element and how this will impact the hundreds of 'warm bodies' and employees. However, the experience and insight of the collective bargaining and civil service system is now the tool that can ameliorate and even provide more meaningful practical solutions for soon-to-be displaced workers, and soften the blow upon the worker and his or her family and communities, and his or her colleagues and co-workers. It is both a product of desperation as well as inspiration for the welfare of the worker and community.

"Mr. Speaker, prior to carefully studying and researching this final conference draft, I was leaning forward to cast my final vote in the negative, for all the prior drafts were nothing more than gross and naked giveaways of the public trust and transfer of public assets to a private concern. And, although there is still concern with the inevitable expectation of continuous and constant subsidization of a private concern, that concern is for a private not-for-profit health care system indigenous to Hawaii. In other words, a private non-profit health care provider that we, the people of Hawaii, already subsidize and deem a business deserving of our favorable tax treatment and associated benefits. And, that makes it more palatable and acceptable. Furthermore, there is no longer any guarantee of any capital improvement subsidy or operating subsidy and both must be vetted by the Executive Branch prior to and concomitant with review by the Legislative Branch. These changes made the bill acceptable.

"Still, it was the final amendments to Chapter 89 that did it for me. The amendment to allow an expanded reading and application of 'employer' to allow the Governor or Mayors or University or Judiciary to consider the employer jurisdictions to provide assistance to employees of the HHSC reveals the intelligence and compassion of those in the Governor's Office, Department of Human Resources Development, Attorney General's Office, and the leadership of the Hawaii State Government Association and United Public Workers ('UPW'). In short, this means that a worker let go because of a 'reduction in force' ('RIF') may now seek employment in the Department of Health, County Health Office, or even at the Department of Education or State Judiciary. This means greater opportunity for employment on the island of Maui that under previous drafts, and hence less disruption to one's family and household. This also allows trained and experienced civil servants to be placed in available and open positions. The public benefits from this allowance, and experience and talent do not go unused or wasted. Recruitment and training expenses are also reduced and employer jurisdictions save time and money. This opportunity is only because of the dogged member advocacy, understanding of Hawaii's collective bargaining law, and fundamental practical political understanding of a few good leaders, like Mr. Randy Perreira, Executive Director, HGEA, and Mr. Dayton Nakanelua, Executive Director, UPW. Not many understand and appreciate what they did under overwhelming and difficult circumstances.

"In closing, I hope that the spirit that enables all to find a more favorable and mutually beneficial solution to this extraordinary measure and action, will continue throughout the transition to the private entity and thereby allow the respective public workers' unions the ability to best assist and provide hope for their members in this uncertain and challenging time. This can be a win-win-win for the Chief Executive, Union Leaders, and Community. Perhaps, we can move Hawaii forward and not leave anyone behind. I hope so. For these reasons, I will vote in support with reservations."

Representative Tokioka rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"We cannot refute that Maui County must continue to have a medical facility that is able to accommodate the medical needs of Maui County's growing population while maintaining a standard of care for its patients that is superior to generally accepted standards of care. While the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation (HHSC) – Maui Region has, in recent years, been utilizing every resource at their disposal to keep Maui Memorial Hospital running effectively and efficiently, we currently find ourselves asking if this business plan is one that is sustainable, and if it is one that we as a state can continue to support.

"With that being said, I have grave concerns that the scope of HB 1075, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1 will not address the multitude of questions that stem from a public-private partnership between the State and a private healthcare entity.

"As an outer-island Representative with two HHSC Hospitals in neighboring Districts 14 and 16, HB 1075 sets a dangerous precedent for our Kaua'i hospitals to follow the same path to privatization via public-private partnership. This path does not provide adequate protection of the hospitals' employees (State employees). §323 F-G(c) explicitly states, 'The private entity or its nonprofit management entity shall offer all employees of the pre-transfer facility, employment for a period of no less than six months after the transfer completion date.' §(a) of the forgoing section only stipulates that union representatives and the corporation 'shall meet to discuss the impact of a transfer on the employees and the feasibility of tempering the adverse effect of layoffs by amending the employees' collective bargaining agreements pursuant to section 89-8.5.'

"Furthermore, §323 F-G(b) states, 'The employees of a private entity or its nonprofit management entity shall not be governed by state laws that apply to public officers and employees of the State…'. Thus, hospital employees, some of whom have worked for years or even decades in the hospital may very well be let go within six months following the transfer with no source or method for recourse, and that is unacceptable.

"In this 'deal' there also lies disconnect between the State's liabilities and responsibilities versus its benefit. If approved by the Legislature and subsequently signed by the Governor into law, the State will not only be handing over control of the operations aspect of the hospital, we will also be transferring ownership of 'equipment and furnishings, including any leases for the same; accounts receivable; medicare and other provider agreements; business and commercial licenses and registrations; intellectual property and goodwill; administrative, financial, and medical records and information; or any other interests or property of the Maui regional system facility or facilities to be transferred under this part, that the parties agree to transfer or assign.' In essence, the State will relinquish control of its facility, its employees, its equipment, and any other property – tangible or otherwise – to the private entity or its nonprofit management entity.

"Conversely, as indicated in §323 F-F(a), 'The State, the Maui regional systems board, or the corporation, separately or collectively, shall be responsible for any and all obligations incurred by the facility or facilities to be transferred … including any accounts payable, accrued paid time off, debt, capital leases, malpractice liabilities, and other obligations incurred before the transfer completion date.' Thus, while the private entity or its nonprofit management entity will be the beneficiary of Maui Memorial Hospital's employees, accounts receivable, facilities, equipment, including any other property and intellectual rights – it will not be responsible for clearing any liabilities possessed by Maui Memorial Hospital nor its regional system.

"This inequity begs the question, 'Is this the best solution for HHSC, Maui Memorial, and our state?' It is my humble belief that we can do better. For these reasons, I stand with reservations on HB 1075, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1."

Representative Say rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of HB 1075, CD 1 that further clarifies and details the authority and process for establishing a public-private partnership for the Maui Regional System within the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation. As noted in the Conference Committee Report, HB 1075 builds upon Act 182 passed in 2009 that authorized any of the regional systems or individual facilities of the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation to explore and transition into new entities that could better address the operational challenges facing our public hospitals throughout the State.

"Since 2009, the challenges of operating public hospitals have only become increasingly more difficult. As was learned by members of the House Committee on Health that traveled to the various regions throughout the summer and fall months of 2014, our public hospitals must contend with decreasing reimbursements, unfavorable payor mixes, changing healthcare reform requirements, cumbersome payment systems, workforce shortages, geographic isolation, and bureaucratic and administrative challenges, to name just a few, that make running these public hospitals difficult, at best.

"Even with passage of HB 1075, CD 1, our public hospital system will still be faced with mounting and substantial challenges that will likely lead to shrinking services and job losses in the community as other market forces continue to make the business of running hospitals a financially challenging task.

"Nevertheless, HB 1075, CD 1 provides a process whereby our public hospitals on Maui, with the leadership of the Governor, the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation, and the Maui regional board, will have a better chance at financial sustainability by enabling negotiations with a suitable private partner that will be able to manage, operate, and provide the quality health care services that the people of Maui deserve. This process further includes significant worker protections; commitments that a private partner will address the health care needs of the community; and limitations on the operating support and capital expenditures that will be required from the State if a private partner should successfully negotiate a management and operation agreement for facilities within the Maui region. For these reasons, I support HB 1075, CD 1."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, draw a 5-mile circle around the State Capitol. You will find five major hospitals available to the public: Queens, Kuakini, Kaiser, Kapiolani and Straub.

"We all remember when St. Francis hospital went out of business, its demise threw up emergency alerts, but Honolulu residents survived.

"Now put yourself in Wailuku and ask what happens if Maui Memorial Medical Center can't pay employees, buy needles and bandages, and has to close.

"Realistically, that is the end of the game for your health care on Maui.

"We have one hospital in Maui with approximately 170,000 to 200,000 people, including the tourists. We don't have sufficient revenue to give the people the care that they need and the quality of care that they need. Additionally, the State currently spends about $100 million per year to support the hospital network operated by the Hawaii Health Systems Corp., including the Maui and Lanai facilities.

"This bill represents a partnership, Mr. Speaker, not an intervention. The State has been subsidizing the hospitals' operations for years, and a public-private partnership with these facilities is necessary to reduce the costs to the State. This measure is really just setting up the framework for how the State will pay the cost of transforming the hospitals.

"Mr. Speaker, after years of debate, we are poised to pass this measure. The bottom line is that HB 1075 must pass this session, in a form that will allow Maui Memorial Medical Center, Kula Hospital and Lanai Community Hospital to survive for the long term.

"At the end of the day, I'm hoping that this is a bill that most Mauians will live with, even though some of our unions are against it. It is unfortunate, but there weren't feasible alternatives presented to the House. That being said, I, for one, don't want to cut services. I don't want to cut jobs. Saving the hospitals for Maui County and with them, most of these jobs are essential. But the way to accomplish that is through enacting the solid plan that has taken shape in HB 1075. I stand in support of HB 1075."

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I feel compelled, I want to go opposition with reservations but I don't know if that's ever been done. But I feel compelled to first off and foremost, to my Maui colleagues and to the people of Maui, to apologize for my opposition. But in all honesty, very early on I had committed to a no vote in all privatization. And it may have been a mistake on my part for committing so early, but in the small island of Kauai, a small community, your word and your handshake is still a contract, and for these reasons, I'm opposed. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1075, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Final Reading by a vote of 34 ayes to 16 noes, with Representatives Har, Jordan, Oshiro, Say and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Aquino, Brower, Choy, Cullen, Johanson, Kawakami, Lee, LoPresti, Lowen, Morikawa, Ohno, Onishi, Rhoads, Takumi, Tsuji and Yamane voting no, and with Representative McDermott being excused.

RE: Extension of Conference Deadlines for H.B. No. 321 HD1 SD2

Rule 11 of the Committees on Conference Procedures for the 2015 session specifies deadlines for decision-making on conference bills. Per Rule 11(a), fiscal bill negotiations were to conclude by 6:00 p.m. on May 1, Final Decking, and per Rule 11(c), the filing deadline was 11:30 p.m. of the same day.

It has come to our attention that most of the negotiations for H.B. No. 321 HD1 SD2 had been completed prior to the 6:00 p.m. deadline, but time constraints prevented detailed final agreement on a conference draft. We therefore hereby exercise our authority pursuant to Rule 13 of the Committees on Conference Procedures to grant a waiver of both negotiation and filing deadlines for this particular bill.

Conferees are allowed to continue negotiations on Monday, May 4, 2015 between the hours of 12:00 noon and 2:00 p.m. Additionally, a conference committee report and draft may be filed with the Chief Clerk no later than 5:00 p.m. the same day.

All other non-deadline requirements established within the Committees on Conference Procedures still apply.

ORDER OF THE DAY

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Evans, seconded by Representative Tupola and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain House and Senate Bills for Final Reading by consent calendar. (Representative Ing was excused.)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 101 and H.B. No. 500, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 500, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in support of House Bill 500, House Draft 1, Senate Draft 1, Conference Draft 1.

"Mr. Speaker, as you know, the budget together with the appropriation bills play a significant role in the financial plan. How we manage the financial plan will in turn impact economic stability within our state.

"But before I discuss the budget and the financial plan, I wanted to talk about the last few days of conference last week. One day, I think it was Friday afternoon, I was in one of the conference rooms listening to the discussion between the House and Senate conferees, probably distracted by the outfits and the hat wearing of conferees as well, and I sat down and I looked down at my desk, and instantly my packet of information appeared with a new notice that just got done because we had another conference the day before, and my name plate appeared.

"And I think it was at that moment in the craziness of conference and the hustle and bustle of conference, I was awestruck by the amount of work our staff puts in to make sure that conference is smooth and easy as possible for all of us. They deal with all the logistics so that we can concentrate on the various issues at hand. The conference notices are updated hundreds of times, if you count up all the conference notices. Somehow the right people show up at the right rooms, unlike last year. But this year everybody showed up at the right rooms, and even the people in the public and people who are interested in the bills all seemed to know where to show up at the right place. And we can't even count the huge number of conference drafts that had to be drafted in such a short amount of time. You think of all that, it's just mind boggling.

"So all in all, it was as if the entire Legislature and the testifiers and the people involved were just in warp speed, amped up, working beyond what was humanly possible, but doing so in unison and in somehow a beautiful controlled chaos. I am deeply humbled that I was a part of that. So at this point in time we should recognize the drafting agencies, the House majority and minority staff, Sergeant-at-Arms, Clerk's Office, and everyone in our individual offices. If they're in the audience, if all of you guys could represent all these people who put the various bills together, make sure we're in the right room. If you guys could all stand up and we could give them all a round of applause.

"Minority staff stand up, stand up, majority staff. Sergeant-at-Arms guys are already standing up, so Takeshita stand up, Takeshita, Rupert. Because if we kind of take a moment back and we think about all the things we do, for the most part, a lot of us we just have to show up. But these folks are the ones who make sure that things get done right and somehow we are able to finish on time, except one of course, which we'll be talking about Thursday, but that's an exception. But for the most part, we deal with hundreds of bills, and I was just thinking last week, I just can't thank these folks enough. So, thank you very much.

"Mr. Speaker, at this time, I would like to introduce, of course, the Finance staff. For the Research section led by Randall Hiyoto, stand up please. And then Randall, he always has a really great demeanor, even if we make jokes or we talk about strange things he just sits there with a stone face, and that's the kind of person I need on the research side. And his right hand person is Stacey Tagala, but I don't see Stacey. And with the Research section it's Erin Nakashima, if I call your name please stand up, Julian Downey, Matthew Yasuda, Jennifer Trujillo. And these folks made sure that they were there at the Finance bills, and if you could give these folks a round of applause. Thank you.

"The Budget section is led by Albert Vargas. And Albert is really the glue, and he has to deal with all kinds of personalities and he has to be the referee sometimes between the departments and the analysts and the legislators. So Albert, I count on him a lot. And with him is Derek Shigano, he was also the CIP specialist. Aldric Ulep, Courtney Gill, Jonathan Morris, Matthew Tsujimura, he's in law school right now so he had to go to class, and Donovan Lim, this is his second time. So if we could give these folks who worked really hard on the budget a round of applause. Thank you for your hard work.

"And of course the front office who has to deal with all types of interesting things that come up during session, so they're led by Julie Yang, my Office Manager. Jo Hamasaki, who never comes to these things, hiding somewhere but I'm sure he's listening, Morgan Mellinger, Kim Duong and Melanie Uchima. And these folks have to deal with a lot of the issues that come up in the front office."

Representative Rhoads rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke continued, stating:

"And of course all these folks are led by my right hand person who I can't do anything without, is Nandana Kalupahana. He's right there. And he's very sick right now so nobody get close to him. I've been telling the entire staff, they've all been sick for the last couple weeks but I've been telling them just hold on, take a lot of vitamin C, so I know I abuse them a lot but I really appreciate every one of them. Every year I think, OK, this group is special, but this group is special, until next year I'm going to say that group is special, but as long as you know what you are getting into. So if they could all stand up one more time because the countless hours that they put in to put the budget and the bills together is just priceless. So if we could give all of them a round of applause again. Thank you.

"I would also like to thank Chair Tokuda for her diligence and intelligence for helping to put this budget together, and recognize her staff led by Calvin Azama, and we're all very familiar with Calvin, Kendra Oishi, also a familiar face, and Nora Graham, who was my former staff, so once my staff always my staff, so I know I had the inside track on the Senate side as well.

"I want to acknowledge the members of the Finance Committee and the WAM Committee for their hard work as well, and I appreciate them sharing their thoughts and concerns with me as we deliberated. Especially the freshman members on the committee, I know it was a big learning curve, but they caught on quickly and shared a lot of their thoughts with me, so I do appreciate that.

"I would like to thank Representative Yamashita and his counterpart, Senator Kouchi, for their work on the CIP budget. This year we were tasked with limiting the amount of CIP authorizations. It's a difficult task to set priorities while limiting the debt service we are obligated to pay.

"The CIP authorization for the next biennium is $423 million less than what has been authorized in the recent past. According to economic reports at the beginning of session, the construction industry has now stabilized in the private sector, anticipating growth in both residential and commercial areas in the next couple years. As such, it is fitting to decrease the State's CIP authorizations. The State cannot ramp up CIP projects when the construction industry is doing well, because that will result in a glut of construction projects, causing strain on the workforce and driving up both material and labor costs, making construction substantially more expensive for both private and public sector. In order to stabilize that, the Legislature has held down the CIP authorizations. And I think that because Sub-Chair Yamashita believes in this as well and he worked to keep the authorization at a stable level, so I really appreciate the work that he did. So if we could give him a round of applause.

"I would also like to thank the GIA Sub-Chair, Representative Cullen, for his hard work. This year, he vetted over 280 GIA applicants. Every year we always talk about how the budget is tight, but somehow the numbers keep rising every year. He did his due diligence on all of the applicants and had many contact with them to assess what the true needs were. He went above and beyond what the role required. I have the utmost trust and faith in the GIA Chair, and I thank him again for his great work. It's always difficult to say no to so many good causes. Representative Cullen did his job with compassion and fairness. So if we could give him a round of applause."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Luke continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, again, it wouldn't be right for me to talk about the budget without also discussing the financial plan, since the budget is just a portion or a piece of the puzzle in the financial plan. As some of the Members know, the ending balance for Fiscal Year 2015 is $628.5 million. However, by 2017, two years from now, we are projecting an end balance of $362.1 million, and we haven't even anticipated all the collective bargaining raises at that point yet. So how do you grow the economy in the short run to sustain what we enjoy today?

"First, we need to limit growth in the budget. We did that, and I'm proud to say the Finance Committee worked hard to do that as well. The budget is essentially comprised of collective bargaining and fixed costs, with certain investments in education and Medicaid. But of course, that alone is not enough. For the last three years, the Finance Committee has made systemic changes that will significantly improve transparency and increase accountability through managing vacancies, creation of vacation payout funds, and transitioning special funds to general funds, which all lead to better budgeting. I would like to thank the many departments, that I know I probably traumatized, that worked cooperatively with us as we implemented these changes. And a lot of these changes, it's hard to have change but the departments were willing at the end to come along. Because they knew what we were trying to do and they knew it would lead to better budgeting, so I want to thank them.

"Second, we provided controlled tax credits spread out among different industries to fuel economic growth. For instance, for the high-tech industry we have the SBIR program in House Bill 1069, which we funded at $2 million in Fiscal Year '16, which will provide competitive funds for local companies ready to evolve and thrive here at home.

"The alternative energy R&D will get a boost of $1 million in House Bill 1513, which will match Naval research money being spent in Hawaii with grants provided by HTDC.

"The energy industry will get additional support through $3 million renewable energy production tax credit in Senate Bill 349, and will help ensure greater energy security and a more self-sufficient State of Hawaii.

"The manufacturing industry will be supported through a one year grant program, capitalized by $2 million controlled by HTDC in Senate Bill 1001. These credits are meant to spur economic activity in concentrated areas to spur economic growth.

"Thirdly, we invested in people who need our help the most. We increased the food tax credit in Senate Bill 555, totaling about $6.7 million per year. Also we helped the elderly through an increase, $3 million in additional funding for Kupuna Care, and we continued our commitment to early childhood education by prioritizing $6 million for the Preschool Open Doors programs through Senate Bill 64.

"Lastly, the Legislature continued its commitment to reduce the State's unfunded liability by paying $163,615,000 in 2016 and $245,812,000 in 2017. And even with that, we were able to balance the budget and have a solid financial plan. In addition to that, although a meager amount, the Legislature has also set aside $10 million in rainy day fund in Senate Bill 1312.

"Mr. Speaker, controlling growth of the budget, strengthening economic drivers, and investing in the future will ensure stronger economic growth in the future and in the State. I am proud to present this budget and the sustainability of our overall financial plan. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support with reservations. And I first want to thank the Finance Chair for all of her hard work, and the committee. I know it's a very difficult job to do, but, Mr. Speaker, my concern is we have a situation, exigent circumstances, and that is Campbell High School. Campbell High School was built for 1,800 students, and today they have 3,000. There are no classrooms to put these kids, the teachers don't have rooms, and the committee is aware of this. And in three years, they expect 3,500 students. There is no West Oahu High School. There is nowhere to put these children. There's nowhere to put them, we haven't planned for that.

"This is not a partisan issue, I can assure you, because I'm not the only one who cares strongly about this. My colleague from Ewa Beach I know cares just as strongly as I do. We have a situation where there are no classrooms for teachers to call their own, which undermines their morale.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I appreciate all the hard work and the talk about priorities, but when we spend $9 million for a performing arts center when we have a campus that kids don't have classrooms in, I say, what kind of priorities are these? When we spend $1.2 million for a recording studio and we don't have portables for these kids, I say, what kind of priorities are these, Mr. Speaker?

"In fact, we all know about the air conditioning issue. We used to say that the kids learned in ovens, it was so hot. Now we've gone away from that because quite frankly there's not enough ovens to put the kids in. And we're not dealing with it today. Now, we may deal with it next year, but we've lost a year in ensuring that these students have a place to learn. They have 35 to 40 kids a classroom, and it's hot. What have we done to address that? What have we done? So those are my reservations, Mr. Speaker. Other than that, I thank everyone for their hard work. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. I feel compelled to add some comments since my colleague from Ewa Beach has spoken about Campbell High School. I, of course, share his concerns. As a newbie here I'm learning quite a lot as I go, it's a steep learning curve, and one thing I've learned is how many needs there are in various districts throughout the State. But I would like to impress upon my colleagues that while we all have certain needs, there are certain areas where there are frankly emergencies and crises. But what my colleague from Ewa Beach is talking about was one of those crises.

"Because the concentration of growth in this state has been centered on the Ewa Plain, it's been incumbent upon state government and city government to provide the infrastructure, whether it's roads, or we'll talk about transit, we'll talk about rail, but also schools. And I would really hope that my colleagues do look at supporting certain areas in the State with the necessary infrastructure. We've reached out to help the people of Puna when there was a natural disaster, but when we focus growth in a certain area, we also need to concentrate on that area with infrastructure. And I think we all need to really do what is incumbent upon us to help those people in that area, because the kids are suffering, and I don't use that word lightly. They really are suffering, and we really need to do more for the people of the Ewa Plain. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support. I would urge my colleagues from Ewa to speak to our Board of Education, because Puna will not be needing the portable classrooms that were transported from the mainland because of the lava flow. I thank the Board of Education for repatriating our students from Keonepoko back to Puna, and I thank all those who stepped up to the plate to make sure that our students in lower Puna have a place to go to. But we won't be needing those portable classrooms anymore, and Ewa could sure use them. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with comments. Mr. Speaker, there's so many good things in the budget, we can't say enough. I've stood up and I've applauded the budget on the previous iteration regarding the money we're going to have for the China office, Taiwan office. The way we're finally treating sister states with respect when dignitaries come here, et cetera.

"But I have a couple of concerns I want to bring out. The first is a technological one. I'm concerned that our 40 year old COBOL computer system is really not becoming the State of Hawaii and all of the things that we should be doing to keep our books together. I know in the budget there's $400,000 for 10 positions to get this up to speed, but remember we tried it before and we lost $12 million. We've got to do a better job, and if this $400,000 is not enough, we have to be attentive. We should not have 40 year old COBOL computing systems. Mr. Speaker, I'm concerned that while we do some things really well, that one we've neglected the same way that UH neglects its repair and maintenance. You just can't go so far, because then there's no way to get it back with any expediency.

"The second thing, Mr. Speaker, is regarding the metrics. Some of you may or may not know that the Minority Senate and the Minority House purchased a very sophisticated software to actually track budget and create more transparency. So we've been tracking all the budget items, we've been tracking appropriations. I really appreciate the Chair of Finance who said, the budget is one thing but really the financial plan of the State for the next six years is really where the rubber meets the road. And what's missing in that is about, for Fiscal Year '16 and Fiscal Year '17, about $280 million. So when we look at our robust ending balances, we have to see that there's something missing when we don't consider appropriations, and I know this budget doesn't have it in there.

"I should also point out if you look at, even though this was, quote, 'a skinny budget', according to the Star-Advertiser, if you looked at the actual numbers in terms of deficit spending, in 2016 we actually overspend by $226 million, so a skinny budget still overspent what we took in, in terms of revenues. And our Governor fortunately has said that we're spending more than we take in. In 2017 we're spending more than we take in by $129 million. Mr. Speaker, these are just the metrics. This is not a partisan barb, its saying, we've got to get our act together and make sure our balanced budget is a reality.

"I think the comment that came as an ancillary comment from the Chair of Finance is really the key to it, and that is we've got to grow the pie. We've got to create businesses to create jobs to create economic growth. Mr. Speaker, this Floor rarely speaks about that. We talk about spending and how we can cut and how we can slice the pie thinner, but we've got to start speaking about growing the pie.

"I would encourage the Finance Chair to have a good look at that comment that she made, because in the end, in fact if you look at 2019, Mr. Speaker, we're down to, this is where the deficit spending catches up with us, all the robust carryover goes down to a deficit $13 million in the hole. And then 2020 onward, this is where the tsunami is coming. And this is where we, for the unfunded liabilities, have to cough up $500 million per year for the next decade or so. So, Mr. Speaker, okay, right now we're in good shape, but we've got a tsunami coming and we're spending more than we take in. Having said that, it's a good budget. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I felt compelled to speak in favor of this budget. I'm in strong support for the budget. First of all, I want to thank the Chairman and the Committee for working so hard, and all the Members here that participated in it. It's very difficult to craft a budget that will make everybody satisfied. I know that, I have been there.

"But, however, looking at the carryover balances as we progress throughout the years, I think if you take your time and look at the financial plan, you'll find that each year the debt gets less and less. In Fiscal Year 18 we will be on the positive budget, from $191 million short, to $50 million short, and then in the plus of $52.5 million. And what this shows here is that the Committee has, at the same time in providing the badly needed services to the State, they have been reducing the net loss, the revenues over expenditures, or in this case expenditures over revenues. Each one of them has been decreasing every year through the frugalness of the Committee in trying to get the balanced budget, and at the same time taking care of the unfunded liabilities.

"So you have two major things in there that really I think you have to give credit to the Committee. From the years '18 on, you're looking at the revenues will exceed the expenses, and I think this is the gradual, make sure you're both providing the funding for the very needed programs in education, health, and et cetera, the unfunded liability, and still yet reduce debt every year. And for that I want to congratulate the Finance Committee. Thank you very much."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, just three quick comments. First comment in regards to priority. Adding on to what my colleagues from Ewa Beach said, I also represent that area that's booming with houses and new development, and so it would be nice to add some depth to the budget to overlay the department priorities over the way that we're spending. A way of looking at it three dimensionally in the fact that there are these priorities and this is how we're addressing it. I know that that would add further work, but hopefully there could be something easy that could help us to look at that in a way that we could know that the priorities are being addressed, and thank the Finance Chair for her and her factory of workers and all that they do, because I know it's a lot of work.

"Secondly, is in regards to a comment from my colleague from Puna. Maybe the ability for us to meet with the departments and kind of move around things that are already in existence is something we need to look into. As I meet with the superintendent from my area it's apparent that there's many facilities in DOE that could be moved around and help out other areas that need and other areas that don't need. And so I think that that's something we should look into aside from the budget, is what we can do as elected officials to try to work with the departments and move around the resources and assets that they currently have without having to appropriate additional money.

"In addition, the last comment, in regards to what my colleague from Hawaii Kai said about the old computer systems, I think that, and I just wanted to add into, maybe we should drop a few dollars for some new sound system in this place and I can wire it for you guys for free, but I think in general having something that is a little bit more up to date would be very good for the House. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support with just a footnote from the Speaker's comments, which are mostly apt except they're optimistic and the metrics are different than the metrics that we've come up with. So I would enjoin the Speaker to look at the budget online. The numbers don't lie, and the financial plan is the financial plan. The point is, we have to face the facts as they are.

"The second point I wanted to point out is that the real impact of the unfunded liabilities payment, we're just creeping up with a few million. When we get to $500 million in 2019, then this positive optimistic scenario is going to change, unless, Mr. Speaker, we grow the economy and create the revenues by which we can not only have the people with jobs but we can have the tax base here increasing.

"Lastly, Mr. Speaker, I request comments to be inserted in the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Ward submitted the following:

BUDGET REPORT – FY 2016-2017

Post Conference Draft Budget Report

May 4, 2015

Budget Director

State Capitol, Suite 006

Pursuant to the Executive Budget Act, the Governor is required to submit a six-year financial plan to the legislature along with a biannual budget proposal. The legislature, on the other hand, is not required to publish a financial plan upon conclusion of the final budget deliberations. Because not all appropriations are included in the budget bill, it is important that the legislature and the public understand what the aggregate general fund appropriations are for the upcoming fiscal biennium.

The following report provides a final reconciliation of all the general fund appropriations that were approved during this legislative session.

1. Without any revenue or expenditure adjustments the current general fund deficits can only be sustained till FY 2019.

The conference committee report for the operating budget suggest that the conference draft budget includes $97 million less appropriations than the initial governor's budget. This does not include the $148 million and $141 million in general fund appropriations for FY 2016 and 2017 that were passed as separate appropriation bills.

If all general fund appropriations are aggregated, the conference draft budget actually includes $15.7 million less general fund appropriations than what the governor asked for. The total general fund appropriations for FY 2016 and 2017 amount to $6.8 billion and $7.1 billion. This includes the executive, legislative, Office of Hawaiian Affairs, and Judiciary final budgets as well as the $148 million and $141 million in general fund appropriations for FY 2016 and 2017 that were passed as separate appropriation bills.

Table 1. General Fund Appropriations FY 2016-2017 (Millions)

| | Governor | Conference Draft | Difference |
|---|---|---|---|
| FY 2016 | $6,786.6 | $6,844.3 | $57.7 |
| FY 2017 | $7,162.5 | $7,089.1 | -$73.4 |
| Total Biennium | $13,949.1 | $13,933.4 | -$15.7 |

Under the latest Council on Revenues projections, the current general fund appropriations exceed the available revenues. The projected deficits for FY 2016 and 2017 amount to -$191 million and -$60 million. The state is currently relying on a positive general fund carry-over ending balance to fund government operations. However, with the current deficits, the carry-over ending balances are projected to decline to $399 million in FY 2017, leaving the state in a potentially vulnerable position.

If general fund appropriations continue to grow at the current annual average of 5%, the state is projected to deplete its carry-over ending balance by FY 2021.

Table 1. General Fund Revenues over Expenditures (in Millions)

2. Deteriorating fiscal reserves are alarming.

Fiscal reserves are defined as funds that are set aside for contingency purposes. The State of Hawaii has two fiscal reserve funds, which are the Hurricane Relief Fund and the Emergency Budget Reserve Fund. Combined with the current general fund carry-over balance, the state currently has about 18% of general fund revenues set aside as fiscal reserves. This is slightly higher than the 15% that is recommended by the Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA). However, because of the proposed deficit spending the fiscal reserves are projected to decline to 13% in FY 2018.

Table 2. Fiscal Reserves as a % of General Fund Revenues

Rapidly deteriorating fiscal reserves are a sign of fiscal distress, and could negatively affect the state's bond rating if no corrective actions are taken by the legislature or the Governor. Fiscal reserves are also important because they protect the state during economic downturns. Since the 2009 recession, the state's economy has been growing steadily over the last six years. Like any economy, the state's economy is cyclical in nature and it would be prudent for the state to prepare for a downturn. Maintaining a healthy level of fiscal reserves is, therefore, a reflection of sound fiscal policy.

It is difficult to project at what specific point in time a recession might occur. However, it should be assumed that because the state economy has enjoyed growth for such an extended period, that we are getting closer to the potential of a recession. Considering the current projections, the state is not fiscally prepared to withstand an economic recession during the 2018-2021 period.

3. Expiring collective bargaining agreements will make the next fiscal biennium very challenging.

The expenditure growth projections that are used as part of the financial plan assume that expenditures will grow by the current growth rate, which is 5%. The growth rate is significant, because it determines whether the current budget could be sustained in the long-run. The current projections indicate that without revenue or expenditure adjustments the state is expected to remain in a deficit position.

The current positive carry-over ending balance allows the state to remain in a general fund deficit position until FY 2020, which is when the carry-over ending balances are projected to be depleted under the current scenario. The 5% expenditure growth is somewhat conservative, because of two factors. First, all collective bargaining contracts expire in FY 2017, and the 5% figure fails to account for the costs associated with restructuring those expiring contracts. Second, under Act 268, Session Laws of Hawaii 2013, the state is required to provide prefunding to pay down the accumulated $8.5 billion in unfunded liability for the Employer Union Trust Fund (EUTF).

The current budget for FY 2016-2017, includes almost $800 million in general funds for collective bargaining. In addition, to satisfy the prefunding requirement of Act 268, Session Laws of Hawaii 2013, the state's prefunding mandate is expected to increase by $82 million annually until FY 2019. Both the collective bargaining and the prefunding requirement alone are estimated to account for a 6.7% increase in expenditures, which is slightly higher than the 5% assumption that is currently used. This means that there are absolutely no funds available for discretionary budget requests. And even without the presence of discretionary budget increases, it is clear that the current budget cannot be balanced in the long term without significant revenue and/or expenditure adjustments.

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in support. I'd just like to point out that the priorities in this budget are going to do a lot of good for the State and for all the people that live here. And I'd just like to point out that the priorities in this budget are decided by the strength of advocacy from Senators, from Representatives, but most of all from the advocacy we hear from the community who comes in here and testifies, who calls us, who emails us, who writes us saying, these are the priorities that are important to us, this is what we want to see. I'd just like to say thank you so much to everybody who's been involved this entire session, coming down to the Capitol and reaching out to us. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Still in strong support. I just wanted to clarify that according to the financial plan, the financial plan incorporates the $500 million that the State is obligated to pay in Fiscal Year '19, and even with that we will be looking at an ending balance of $622 million. And it's at that time, when we deal with the budget and we deal with the financial plan we're not just looking at two years down the line, we're actually looking at six years down the line. So for '16 and '17 we are looking at an ending balance of $430 and $380 million, but beginning from Fiscal '18, even with the investment of $400 million for unfunded liabilities which is already calculated into the financial plan, we'll be looking at an ending balance of $439 million, and in addition to that, that's the year we stop overspending and our revenues will exceed expenditure. Thank you."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I'd like to reemphasize what Finance Chair has already said. We have very strong carryover balances, and in spite of that there has been no temptation to spend any of those cash balances for CIP. I have been here when we have spent cash CIP in the eight digits for years on end. So that shows great fiscal constraint. We recognize that on the CIP side, our state budget is leaner and meaner than probably our operating budget, and we recognize that there are many agencies that have huge CIP needs. Not only education but also hospitals, also University of Hawaii, and also DAGS. But in spite of that, we have not yielded to the temptation of going cash CIP.

"I would note that there are at least two bills that we will be voting on today that have to do with debt service and debt management. Perhaps that will give us a clear idea of where we can go in terms of CIP. But given overall the restraint of the budget, I would say that we are not only in good hands in handling future indebtedness, unfunded liabilities, but we are also in good hands in protecting ourselves for any downside risks. Sometimes when you budget you have to pay attention to upside, but always in the back of your mind you have to pay attention to downside risks, and I think this budget does both of that. Thank you."

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. I would like to take the opportunity to thank the Finance Chair for also appropriating funds in helping agriculture. One starting off with invasive species to protect our islands, as well as the State of Hawaii to allow me the opportunity to express on farming and its needs for agriculture and the priorities that we set forward. Like the Representative from District 17, we must grow. We must grow food so that we do not become dependent on food from outside.

"As we recognize when the Zipper Lane went down, and I would consider that a natural disaster when I've got to wait in traffic for five and a half hours, I consider that a natural catastrophe. If we were to look at our food and our food sustainability and the levels of what we're at, I thank this Body for being very supportive and listening to the needs of farming, the appropriations for ag loan program, the programs that we're starting to put back into the schools of farm to table. I would encourage that we continue to support farming, its ag districts, its conservation, and allowing us to learn to work together as farmers and supporting all farmers. Thank you."

At 9:59 o'clock a.m., Representative Luke requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 10:00 o'clock a.m.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 500, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representative McDermott voting aye with reservations.

At 10:00 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Final Reading:

CTIA
The Wireless Association®
Expanding the Wireless Frontier

February 10, 2015

The Honorable Angus L.K. McKelvey
Hawaii House of Representatives
Chair, House Consumer Protection Committee
Hawaii State Capitol
Room 320
Honolulu, HI 96813

Dear Chair McKelvey:

CTIA-The Wireless Association® is concerned about aspects of Hawaii House Bill 538 HD1 as currently drafted. Although we wholeheartedly share the goal of ensuring that victims of domestic violence have the flexibility to modify access to phone service, we respectfully request that the committee defer action on this bill so the wireless industry can work with the introducer and stakeholders on amendments to the bill.

The wireless industry has a history of working with organizations that help victims of domestic violence. CTIA's Wireless Foundation, for example, created "The Call to Protect" program. Through this and other programs, the Foundation raised money for organizations that work to end domestic violence by refurbishing and recycling wireless devices. In addition, CTIA members have individually worked to help domestic abuse victims and the organizations that support and protect victims.

The safety of our consumers is of the utmost importance to the wireless industry. Wireless companies work with their consumers during times of need, including those unfortunate situations described in the bill. CTIA's member companies have also long accommodated victims of domestic violence on a case-by-case basis by, for example, allowing victims to cancel contracts or change phone numbers. We do, however, have concerns with HB538 HD1 as currently drafted. It requires carriers to release without charge or penalty any victim of domestic violence from a shared or family wireless service contract involving the victim's abuser where, among other evidence, the victim provides a police report documenting an instance or series of instances of domestic violence. Forcing wireless carriers to provide a substitute or new number or alternate service on anything other than a court order places carriers in a precarious position of interpreting what a specific report means, which exposes carriers to liability or litigation if the report or carrier's interpretation is challenged by the account holder.

* The bill's requirement that carriers provide "alternative communications service" is also unclear. In addition, the requirement to provide an alternative service within 24 hours may lead to unintended negative consequences for consumers, such as a more expensive service or one that ultimately does not meet the victim's ongoing needs.

* Passage of HB538 HD1 may also violate 47 U.S.C. § 332(c), which provides that "no State or local government shall have any authority to regulate the entry of or the rates charged by any commercial mobile service or any private mobile service." Early Termination Fees are part of the rate structure for wireless service contracts. Passage of the bill would functionally permit Hawaii to regulate the rate structure of wireless providers in the state. These requirements would bring the state into conflict with federal law.

We share the introducer's goal of working to ensure the safety and well-being of victims of domestic violence. Although HB538 HD1 is well-intentioned, the wireless industry does have concerns with the legislation. In closing, we respectfully request that the committee defer action on this bill so the wireless industry can work with the introducer and stakeholders on amendments to the bill.

Sincerely,

Gerard Keegan

State Legislative Affairs

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1090, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENTS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Har voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 11 and H.B. No. 623, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 623, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with a comment. Just concerned about the 100% goal, knowing that we can't predict what the technology will be and also a possible increase in renewable energy costs for energy users. So it's a good bill, but just some concerns. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Just to note that even as we speak today, our renewable energy projects here in the State are coming in cheaper per kilowatt hour than oil and other fossil fuel projects, and so the more we can incentivize and push our utilities to make the investments they're going to make in cheaper renewable energy, then the more consumers are going to save on the back end, whether it's today or 40 years from now. Thank you."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In very strong support. Today when we pass this bill it will mark a historic moment in Hawaii's history. It will mark a moment when we chart a course to lead the nation in clean energy policy. With the goals of reaching 70% renewable energy by 2040 and 100% by 2045, we're on the path to become the first state in the nation to be powered entirely by renewable energy. This is all the more remarkable given that, according to the 2014 Annual Report of OEQC, we're also the nation's number one per capita consumer of fossil fuels.

"With the declining cost of renewable energy and the volatility of oil and gas prices, this transition will bring savings and stability to consumers and businesses, and energy independence will help to make Hawaii more resilient in the face of an unpredictable global economy. Climate change is the paramount issue of our generation, and Hawaii is particularly vulnerable to the global changes we know are coming. Ultimately, our future hinges on ending our dependence on fossil fuel. There is still a great deal of work to be done, but with the passage of this bill we're showing true leadership for our state, for the nation, and for the planet.

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. While we reach our goals, I'm just concerned about how the renewable energy infrastructure seems to be coming closer and closer to homes and schools and hospitals and other structures like that. So that's the only caveat I have, as we move forward in reaching our goals we also have to realize that there's a lot of infrastructure and a lot of our residents are concerned about how that may not be as prudent as we should act. So those are just my only concerns. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, Mr. Speaker. Just really quick, I wanted to also commend my colleague from Laie, but in my community as well that's a concern, is that a lot of the renewable energy is being built in our communities without any regard to where, how close it is or how much land it takes up or where it's located. So those are some concerns. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 623, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RENEWABLE STANDARDS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative McDermott voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 16 and H.B. No. 261, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 261, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1, pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"The purpose of this bill is to require health insurers, mutual benefit societies, and health maintenance organizations on or after January 1, 2017, to make available complete and updated formularies to enrollees, potential enrollees, and providers. This bill would better ensure transparency of prescription drug benefits, and assist consumers with making more informed choices about health care coverage.

"Mr. Speaker, many patients have specific drug needs and choose a health insurance plan that promises to cover their prescription drug needs. Unfortunately, plans can change their formularies at any time, leaving patients with significantly higher co-pays than what they had budgeted for when they originally contracted with their health insurance plan. This is unfair to the consumer and this bill will go a long way to remedy this issue.

"All of the health insurance plans available in the current individual and small group market must provide a benefit package that includes a minimum standard of prescription drug coverage. However, the specific prescription drugs covered will vary by health insurance plan.

"It should be noted that full formulary information is often not available on all insurance carrier websites. As a result, patients must track down each plan's formulary to see if their medication is covered. Additionally, formularies are not exhaustive of all the drugs that are covered and sometimes do not list the prescription drugs that are routinely administered in the provider's office and covered under a plan's medical benefit. Finally, plan formularies are displayed in different formats, which makes it very time consuming to compare different plans. For example, if a patient is able to find their drug on a plan's formulary, they have no way to compare out of pocket costs across available plans.

"Mr. Speaker, people living with serious and chronic conditions like cancer need to be sure that the health insurance plan they choose covers the medicine they need. From my research, I discovered that quite often cancer drugs are placed on the specialty drug formulary tier. In some cases, Mr. Speaker, the patient cost for these drugs can be up to 30% or more of the total cost of the drug as opposed to a flat dollar amount. Not knowing the total cost of the drug makes it extremely difficult for the consumer to know how much they will have to pay out of pocket. For many patients, the cost of that drug could mean their ability to pay for groceries or a rent payment that month.

"This measure ensures that drug formularies are more consumer friendly. Patients in need of specific medications will be able to identify which plan covers their prescription drug needs and estimate how much it will cost them each month. For cancer patients, access to life saving drugs can make all the difference in their survival of the disease. This bill will ensure they have the information they need to buy a plan that will give them the best chance at survival."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, just a quick comment. I think it's good, the special purpose revenue bond that we're giving, just to make sure that we're aware that this is built on Hawaiian Homelands and that the parcels being apportioned out for agriculture leases should be to Hawaiians who have 50% or more Hawaiian blood. And no conflict of interest because I have 25%. Thank you."

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 717, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong, strong support. I feel compelled to speak at the funeral of ethanol. This bill is the death knell of what was otherwise an intended good idea, and we're finally admitting that we made a mistake, and I want to commend this Body and the Senate. We are actually reversing what we did in 2006. I think it's to be commended. I think what we need to do as we do at any funeral is to count the life of the particular occasion, and that is the life of ethanol.

"Since 2006, we mandated 10% in all of our fuels. Mr. Speaker, by doing that we said, we're going to have to pay a price for the sake of environment, but we really hurt the gas dealers who, when they had to pump it they had to segregate the various transportation between the islands and the various tanks within their stations. We heard also the consumers, Mr. Speaker, they were the ones that had to pay an extra amount of money. They paid an average, this is a national average, of about 50 to 60 cents more per gallon and they had less mileage. And if you were a fisherman you would say how the ethanol in the rubber gaskets in your carburation and in your lines were deteriorating. We also as a nation have paid probably about $10 billion to do that.

"However, the intent was great. In the beginning, Hawaii was the king of sugar. Mr. Speaker, the intent in 2006 was, look, we're the king of sugar, we have the highest yields in the world, we can put up these ethanol plants. I think the good Member from Kauai knows that they were the closest to doing it, they couldn't even get the money to finance to build an ethanol plant. So everybody was up for high expectations, and suddenly nothing happened.

"The problem, Mr. Speaker, is that it hurts, and now we're going to take away the hurt and fortunately also we're going to take away the debt that we have been paying to Brazil. We're stopping the foreign aid to Brazil because basically that's where all of our money has gone. So the bill levels the playing field, Mr. Speaker. It puts a chance for solar on every roof, and I should add a Tesla Powerwall battery on every wall or on every house, so we can get off the grid, we can be independent of HECO, which is the model of the mainframe computer, to where we have to go to the PC, the individual producer, that is with our own rooftops. So, lastly, Mr. Speaker, as they say at all funerals, may ethanol rest in peace. Strong support of the deceased. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just asking for a ruling on a potential conflict. The company I work for sells gasoline with ethanol. Okay, thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 717, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ETHANOL," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my reservations. A quick comment. Under the Federal Real ID Act of 2005 it is actually required that there's criteria for driver's license and proof of lawful presence in the United States. I realize this is just a reciprocity licensing so that the people can get insurance, but there's just some concerns because of using this license in other areas, perhaps for purchase of alcohol or other stores that might need it for identifying your photo or your address which it may or not be accurate. So just some concerns, received a lot of calls from constituents worried about maybe the tightness of the wording on the bill to make sure that there is no fraudulent use of this reciprocity license. Thank you."

Representative Kawakami rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in support.

"Mr. Speaker, Hawaii has always been known as a visitor destination. A special place where people from all of the world come to enjoy our beautiful weather, beaches, natural surroundings, culture, our people and, of course, the spirit of Aloha. We have been able to attract these visitors successfully through rigorous marketing campaigns.

"However, unknown to many is that Hawaii is also a tremendous educational destination. We have a strong diverse state university program as well as very successful private institutions at higher education.

"Mr. Speaker, the rest of the nation is experiencing a 13% growth over the past three years while Hawaii's enrollment has declined 11% over the same period. We currently have 10,300 international students. With a 10% increase or 1,000 more students, we can generate $2.6 million more in tax revenue. I believe that the $250,000 investment is a responsible way to increase our economic opportunity through education.

"I would like to also thank the Finance and Ways and Means Chairs for their generosity. The original request was for $150,000 but instead they were able to generously secure an additional $100,000 for the total of $250,000. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 775, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 631, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"It's quite a surprise, Mr. Speaker, in opposition. First, I'd like to have my comments from Second Reading inserted. I'd just like to point out without belaboring the point, there may be some constitutional issues here because if a transgender, quote unquote, 'woman', shows up with a man to get married, let's say in the Catholic Church, and they're both practicing Catholics, how does the priest say no to them? So I think we will see legal issues, constitutional issues wrangled about, because we're creating some problems here. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of HB 631, CD 1 that updates our state's birth certificate law with international and national medical standards of care that recognize that surgical treatments are not necessary or appropriate for recognizing transgendered individuals.

"Most recently, in 2014, the American Medical Association issued its policy statement supporting 'elimination of any requirement that individuals undergo gender affirmation surgery in order to change their sex designation on birth certificates' and 'modernizing state vital statistics statutes to assure accurate gender markers on birth certificates.'

"By adopting CD 1, the Legislature modernizes its state birth certificate law in alignment with clinical standards of care and, hopefully, begins to address, remove and lessen some of the stigma, discrimination and obstacles faced by transgendered individuals in our community."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 631, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CERTIFICATES OF BIRTH," passed Final Reading by a vote of 37 ayes to 14 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Choy, Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Ito, Kong, Matsumoto, McDermott, Pouha, Tokioka, Tsuji, Tupola and Ward voting no.

H.B. No. 631, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 49 and S.B. No. 1291, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1291, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, may I request a ruling on a potential conflict? At my law firm I represent condominium associations as well as planned community associations," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har continued, stating:

"May I request a ruling on a second potential conflict? I am a member of a planned community association," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Har continued to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this measure. Mr. Speaker, my opposition to this measure really deals specifically with amending sections 421J as well as 514A and B. For those of us who are familiar with these provisions, 421J deals with planned community associations and 514A and B deal with condominium associations. I understand that it is the will of this Body and the Legislature to move towards this anti-discrimination policy towards medical marijuana.

"The issue that I have though is, for example in a condominium association, if you happen to have a person who lives in a condominium association and they have a medical marijuana patient who lives next door, and let's say that person is smoking and what not and the rules, the bylaws, the CC&Rs, the articles of incorporation do not prohibit smoking. So in this situation pursuant to this bill, that person will be allowed to smoke their medical marijuana.

"Now for whatever reason, let's say now the smell is permeating into another unit owner's apartment, they have small kids, it becomes a nuisance at that point. And so where is the protection for those condominium owners? In addition, Mr. Speaker, with respect to 421J that again amends the planned community association provision, for those of us who bought into a planned community association, we understood what we bought into. We signed something called the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions. We agreed to be held in accord with the bylaws, as well as the articles of incorporation, as well as all project documents that flow in terms of buying that unit.

"And so there's a solution here. What we should have done was allowed each planned community association or condominium association to vote on whether they wanted to have something like this in their CC&Rs or their project documents, as opposed to legislating it this way. Most planned community associations and condominium associations simply require 75% vote of the owners. Or if it's not clear in the project documents, it can be done be through statute requiring 75%.

"So I think it's a little bit onerous to be going through legislation having this because there was a solution, which was essentially allowing each planned community association as well as each condominium association to make that determination for themselves.

"At the end of the day, for those of us who bought into a planned community association, it's about the aesthetics. For example, in my planned community association you cannot have things like a big boat in front of your yard. You cannot have chickens in the back of your yard. And there's a reason for that. Even if you want to install an air conditioning unit, you have to have a certain type, it has to be approved by the board and it has to have a certain lattice form on it to keep the aesthetics.

"So now if somebody is selling their home, and let's say their next door neighbor is a medical marijuana patient and doesn't have regard for their next door neighbor. Arguably, it could lower the property value for that person, that adjacent neighbor who wants to sell their unit. Again, there's a reason why we buy into associations, to keep the value of our properties. So there's no recourse in this bill for those condominium association owners and those planned community association owners. And for these reasons, I'm in opposition. Thank you."

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations. Thank you. I do appreciate very much that the Conference Committee took out employers and their prerogatives with respect to changes in the laws that were being made, I think that was a good change that accommodates many employers' health and safety concerns in the workplace. And I don't wish to necessarily countenance discrimination, but one of the lingering concerns that I do have which is more of a broader statement on this bill as well as some of the others we'll be looking at today, are just the gradual erosion of private property owners' rights. Again, I think this bill touches upon that, and I think that's just something that we need to consider when we're making policy. Thank you."

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I have serious reservations about this measure. SB 1291 states that 'no landlord shall refuse to lease property to or otherwise penalize a person solely for the person's status as a qualifying patient or primary caregiver in the medical marijuana program.' I am concerned that we are eroding private property rights in Hawaii.

"A standard lease agreement contains a prohibition against the use of illegal substances, including marijuana. Use of marijuana is still a violation of federal law. Hawaii landlords can no longer use these standard lease agreements because it will conflict with the language of SB 1291.

"I understand the need to protect patients with serious medical conditions from discrimination based on their status as a participant in the medical marijuana program. However, this law is drafted broadly and includes marijuana caregivers, individuals who grow marijuana for patients. If a landlord does not want his or her property to be used for growing marijuana, I believe that should be a landlord's prerogative.

"For these reasons, I vote with strong reservations. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, ruling on a potential conflict. I sit on a planned community association. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Kawakami rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, this is another vote that I wish we could say opposition with reservations. I agree with the measure, but when it affects private property rights I feel that it oversteps its bounds. I would also like to incorporate my remarks made on this same measure on Third Reading as well."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Opposition, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, people who have a marijuana certificate should be able to do what they're doing, but they shouldn't be a protected class. I think we've learned from the past that that is not the easiest nor the best way to proceed. I think that as we make marijuana smokers a protected class, given what this Body is about to do in terms of dispensaries, and some doctors giving marijuana medical certificates as if they were candy for $150 each, this is a physician that I'm quoting saying this. That there's a lot of people who are not sick who have got marijuana certificates, and what this adds to is a proliferation and a protected group who otherwise may not genuinely be sick.

"Those who have epilepsy, those who are in pain, those who need this should need it, but I think this is going a little bit overboard, protecting those who do not need it and will take advantage of it. As in our colleague from Kapolei's point of view, those people in these condominium associations. How do they resort back to a normal life after this? So, Mr. Speaker, for those things I think this is an unintended consequence coming to us in the future. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Say rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support of SB 1291, CD 1 that provides limited civil protections to medical marijuana patients in the areas of housing, school enrollment, parental rights, and supplemental medical care and treatment.

"Because of the current Schedule I status of marijuana at the federal level and despite Hawaii's recognition of the medical use of marijuana, many of Hawaii's medical marijuana patients are left unprotected by our civil laws. SB 1291, CD 1 begins to address some of these important areas, such as education, housing, and the raising of one's children, that are essential to the ability of individuals and families to thrive and succeed in life.

"I would like to thank the Chairs of the House and Senate Judiciary Committees who worked on improving SB 1291 during conference. In crafting CD 1, the Chairs, I believe, successfully recognized the vulnerabilities faced by Hawaii's medical marijuana patients and balanced the need for some degree of protections with the needs of institutions and individuals who are concerned about federal penalties. There continues to be work that needs to be done in this area, but SB 1291, CD 1 is an important milestone for improving our laws around the legitimate use of medical marijuana in our state."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1291, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL MARIJUANA," passed Final Reading by a vote of 35 ayes to 16 noes, with Representatives Cachola, Ichiyama, Johanson and Say voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Aquino, Choy, Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Kawakami, Kong, Matsumoto, McDermott, Oshiro, Pouha, Tokioka, Tsuji, Tupola, Ward and Yamane voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 53 and H.B. No. 850, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 850, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 58 and H.B. No. 820, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 820, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 59 and H.B. No. 1140, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1140, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and brief some comments, real quickly. My concerns are the fact there's no means testing or trying to advance the credit through the income tax structure so that those with the means to afford the cesspool upgrades wouldn't be given the benefit of a tax credit. While there are many homes on the ocean that people do need the credit, there are also many homes on the ocean where they don't need this credit in any way, shape or form, and my concern is that with the financial picture being the way it is, you could have local people who need this credit to do the upgrades not being able to get the money, while those who definitely don't need it might get the money. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Jordan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, may I have the words from the good Representative from Lahaina entered into the Journal as if they were my own? And, Mr. Speaker, my major concerns with this is, although we are putting a $5 million cap on this, it is a very rich tax credit, up to $10,000 per applicant. Unfortunately, this will extend for five years, so the possibility of almost $25 million will go towards this effort.

"It is a noble effort, don't get me wrong with that, but we have seen time and time again with the Department of Health here in the State, all these road blocks have been up for not only cesspools but sand movement on beaches, replacing or building piers at our fading small boat harbors. And we really should be evaluating what is going on or has been going on at the Department of Health and fix that, first.

"Cesspools have been known for many, many years that they had to be taken care of. I know they're beyond some of the statutes. I know we are one of the last states in our nation to be addressing this situation. I don't think this is the right mechanism at this point in time, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Onishi rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Jordan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives McKelvey and Jordan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative San Buenaventura rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Morikawa rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support, a few brief comments. While on one hand we're leading the nation in energy policy, on the other hand we're dead last in waste water management. Cesspools are used more widely in Hawaii than anywhere else in the nation, and every other state banned cesspools long ago while here we still allow new ones to be built.

"Cesspools let untreated waste seep directly into the ground, and when they're near sources of water like wells, streams and the ocean, they pose a high risk of contaminating the environment and affecting human health. The EPA banned all large capacity cesspools since 2005, and Hawaii's Department of Health has proposed new rules to address individual cesspools, which would require cesspool conversion within six months of the sale of the home.

"This is a good step but will have a big financial impact. With this tax credit which will apply to those within 200 feet of drinking water wells, surface streams and the shoreline, we're helping to ease the financial burden of the conversion, and hopefully providing an incentive for some of these homeowners to make the changes sooner.

"When homes are right near the ocean and use cesspools, for example, on Big Island, in places like Puako or Kapoho, you're basically flushing your toilet into the ocean. In a state where we're surrounded by water and dependent on the ocean to attract visitors, feed families, and sustain cultural practices, we must do everything we can do to protect this incalculably important resource, and the passage of this bill is a step in that direction."

Representative Kawakami rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Lowen be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1140, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CESSPOOLS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives McKelvey, Morikawa and San Buenaventura voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives DeCoite, Har, Jordan, LoPresti, Onishi, Oshiro and Say voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 61 and H.B. No. 1394, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1394, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Cullen rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in strong support of H.B. No. 1394, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1.

"Mr. Speaker, one of the most precious resources we have within our Hawaiian Islands is fresh water. And yet how much of that fresh water is flushed right down the toilet and into the ocean?

"We use over 330 million gallons of water every day in our state. With climate change impacting our rainfall across the State, we need to start planning to ensure that we can conserve and preserve our fresh water resources. We have been moving as a state towards a more sustainable future through agriculture and energy use, but the most precious resource is water. This is a bill that is going to ensure that as we move forward we can conserve our fresh water resources so we can do more agriculture, we can do smart growth, increase our industrial growth, and have a more sustainable future.

"This bill would allow the Department of Transportation, Airports Division, to study a water reuse project, where we can possibly use reclaimed water through scalping technology, and we can then reuse that water in areas of the airport such as landscaping, rental car facilities in their car washing needs, and to cool large chiller units.

"Mr. Speaker, we are using potable water at this moment. Water that can be used for better means. Water that we can save, because it is a precious resource. With the technology available now, we can reclaim and clean water, making it safe to drink. That is where the technology is now. As we move forward, all government and private entities need to be involved. We need to look at how we can reuse water, and how we can impact the future.

"This bill will also provide the framework for water reuse technology throughout the State. This is the right thing to do, Mr. Speaker, and is going to make history in Hawaii as we move towards a more sustainable future, preserving, conserving and reusing this precious resource for our keiki."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1394, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WATER RECLAMATION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 62 and H.B. No. 1214, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1214, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and just a few comments. I think with working groups and task force, that we should maybe reflect and make sure that the wording gives us the ability to report back to us and make sure that it's an effective working group. It says that they will develop and that they will evaluate, but it doesn't say that they'll report back or that we'll check for affectivity and the use of this appropriation money for a workforce to determine whether or not state and county responsibilities. It's really important, but I still feel like we could tighten up the language so that we make sure that its effective use of state taxpayer money. Thank you." [Note: Representative Tupola later changed her vote to a no vote.]

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1214, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE-COUNTY FUNCTIONS WORKING GROUP," passed Final Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Pouha and Tupola voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 63 and H.B. No. 1432, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1432, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE INTERIM ASSISTANCE REIMBURSEMENT SPECIAL FUND," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65 and H.B. No. 318, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 318, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I think our state was one of the leading states on protecting our open spaces in regards to billboards and signage or little planes that ride around with a tag behind it, and this measure, in my opinion, Mr. Speaker, goes against that grain. I don't think we should be putting large names of corporations on buildings or even maybe a personal name outside of somebody we're honoring, which we can do through legislative or county process, but I don't think we should be selling rights to specific buildings and structures just to compromise our beautiful state. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate the former speaker's remarks, I am now going to be casting a no vote. Mr. Speaker, I know that this is a City and County request to be introduced. My concern is that the City and County also wanted to cover the sides of our city buses with ads to have those rolling through the community. And I don't like to see this continual push to put advertisements in public places. The Outdoor Circle worked very hard to stop that almost a hundred years ago, and I don't want to see us undo that wonderful work that has kept Hawaii ad-free. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 318, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Jordan, Oshiro, Thielen and Tupola voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 67 and H.B. No. 206, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 206, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAIIAN PLANTS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1489, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPECIAL LICENSE PLATES FOR NATIONAL PARKS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 70 and H.B. No. 1010, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1010, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, two brief points. I said earlier that the way out of deficit spending for the State is growing the economy, growing the pie, making sure that we are robust and creating jobs for our people. This bill is an employer mandate. This bill mandates that you will give public transportation benefits to your employers. I don't think you can grow the pie with more mandates. We have all the mandates and all the image of being anti-business as it is.

"Second point I wanted to make, Mr. Speaker, this is the dream for the pro-rail people who fear there's not going to be enough people riding on the rail. This will incentivize all of Hawaii's employers to put their employees on the rail. For those two reasons, Mr. Speaker, I vote no. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. As stated by the Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii, employers should have a choice to offer transportation benefits rather than being mandated by government. A potential unintended consequence, assuming counties adopt the requirement, is employees may be paid less by employers who cover these transportation costs. Costs the employee themselves may not want to incur. The bill allows counties to enact these employer mandates, which should be decided at the State level. Lastly, the bill has implications for additional costs and administrative burden on employers for transportation. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I think this just allows the counties to probably work on passing a resolution so their employees, or maybe even the State, can now pay for their ride for vRide, which is Van Pool, or maybe even a rail pass, or maybe some bicycle transportation. This is a great piece of legislation that promotes alternative options of how you can get to and from work or the store. And what's really nice about it, Mr. Speaker, it would be a pre-tax program, such as we get offered here for our parking. And the more you can put in pre-tax, the more you'll be saving on your state and federal tax dollars.

"So I hopefully encourage the City and County of Honolulu to move this forward for their employees, because we almost lost the van program because we didn't have enough funding. And I have many constituents on my coast that were really appreciative when the vRide service started coming back up and promoting that. But at $250 a month, it can get very expensive for some individuals, and I think that may encourage individuals to take this program through the county or state programs. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I would like the words of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as if they were my own. And just an addendum, this will also provide benefits for the neighbor islands as well, particularly Maui County where these very same issues that were spoken of earlier exist and are even more onerous given our distances from our communities. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much. In support and I would like to thank the Representative from Waianae for clarifying that this is a pre-tax benefit, it's not an employer mandated benefit. So what happens is similar to our flex plan were we set aside our own money to pay for expenses ahead of time and you can claim that pre-tax, so that's what this is. So for instance, commuter benefits, either van pool or rail, if employees want to set aside money and deduct that same money that you pay for pre-tax, then this will allow it. So this is actually a really good incentive. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1010, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE COMMUTER BENEFITS PROGRAM," passed Final Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Kong, McDermott, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1361, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BUDGETING," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 77 and S.B. No. 996, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 996, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, this is it for me. No vote, Mr. Speaker. I would like to explain my protest vote, if I may. Mr. Speaker, my protest vote on this measure is because of what the potential it could have been to address I believe a situation that to me was untenable, and that was an ethics opinion that was issued against our teachers. I say against, saying that their chaperone activities somehow violate the ethics commission.

"Mr. Speaker, we see the kids, we see them in the building, we see them at Bishop Museum, we see them learning about all the great things that are Hawaii. Our teachers, our chaperones take all the time out to organize these activities, to take the kids out, and now they're being told that to facilitate these trips they're somehow being unethical.

"Mr. Speaker, we had a chance to fix this situation with this bill. We could have sent a message from this Body saying that this is not unethical, but we didn't. And so to move this measure forward without addressing the situation, Mr. Speaker, I cannot vote for it. And I hope that this Body will address this, because to me it is outrageous that our teachers are being told that to do chaperone trips to all of these facilities and buildings is somehow unethical behavior. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information. Can you vote for a bill and also have the opinion of an opposition entered into the Journal as if your own? Thank you. I shall request that. I support the bill, but his comments are right on, the Chair of CPC from Maui. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Creagan rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 996, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ETHICS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 5 noes, with Representative Creagan voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Choy, DeCoite, Har, McKelvey and Oshiro voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 78 and S.B. No. 1345, HD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1345, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I fully support developing a transition plan to end multitrack schools. My constituents, for example, at James Campbell High School, as has been previously mentioned, we're reaching capacity of 3,000, it'll be about 3,500 soon. If something's not done quickly, it will be forced into multitrack status. So I just hope that with this bill when they look at doing a study on fixing multitracks, they look at stopping schools from having to go into multitrack. Because if we just look at fixing multitracks that exist, we might ignore those that, like Campbell, for example, who then have to become multitrack and it kind of defeats the purpose. So I certainly support this, but it is a crisis that needs to be addressed and I hope that they look at this in what they do with this bill. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Very brief comments, Mr. Speaker. There are four multitrack schools in the entire State of Hawaii. I happen to have two of them in my district. One other one is located in Ewa, the other is located in Mililani. Mr. Speaker, for those of us who have multitrack schools in our district, we understand the arduous issues that exist. It is difficult for families, it is difficult for teachers. Unfortunately, we cannot build these schools fast enough, which is why we have had to resort to multitrack schools. This measure ensures that all schools will be on a single track, it will be easier for not only the teachers, the families, the administration, but it ensures there is some parity across the board. So for these reasons, I'm in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong support."

"With reservations. The real estate investment trust has been a tax haven for years. We had an opportunity at this time to tax them. One big sale, the Ala Moana Shopping Center sale, was a tax free event because of this tax haven. It's with reservations that we're just doing a study now. We should tax them now, especially with our financial situation. We shouldn't allow this type of tax haven to exist. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 118, SD 1, HD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT TRUSTS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representative San Buenaventura voting aye with reservations.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support, and I would like to ask that my remarks be put into the Journal, but I just wanted to say, this is really the first step toward attaching fiscal notes to bills, and that's something our Minority Caucus has promoted for a number of years. So at least we're beginning on that road. Thank you."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. This bill will require the Director of Finance to report on the estimated costs of proposed capital improvement projects and deferred maintenance costs for state-owned buildings, facilities, and other improvements. I strongly support the direction this bill is taking us because it promotes transparency and helps the Legislature to engage in better financial planning.

"Over the years, our Minority Caucus has often pushed for measures to increase transparency, especially in matters that will impact us financially. For example, in recent years, our caucus has supported bills that would require that all pieces of legislation be accompanied by a fiscal note. The fiscal note would include each bill's projected impact on state revenues and expenditures and, therefore, allow policy-makers and the public to know the financial gain or loss of each bill.

"I hope future legislation can one day reach that level of transparency, but again, I appreciate where this bill is taking us. This bill will make fiscal information more available and accessible, and by doing so, our Legislative Body can take greater consideration into how we spend taxpayer dollars. When this Legislative Body promotes financial transparency, our constituents, the taxpayers who we represent, can have confidence that their elected official will spend their taxes responsibly.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 254, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BUDGET," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I'm finally getting to move to a more positive position on these type of adventures that this bill does. I am glad that they had tightened it up to educational purposes. I'm still a little uncomfortable with the revenue that they can drive off these, because it still hinges upon that public-private partnership, baby PLDC. Unfortunately, as you all know, I wasn't very supportive of the PLDC. So I'm moving to a 'with reservations' because it is in support of looking at educational mechanisms on how we can develop schools or properties for educational purposes. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 854, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SCHOOL LANDS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representative Jordan voting aye with reservations.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 791, SD 1, HD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to take a moment to laud the Health Committee Chair for working tirelessly on this for the last several years. You know she and I disagree on quite a bit, but I wanted to acknowledge her hard work, and I support this with enthusiasm and I want to thank her publicly for her hard work because without her it wouldn't have happened. So, thank you, Health Chair."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Mr. Speaker, I'll try to be very brief but this is really truly an important bill, and I want to acknowledge my colleague from the west side and I also want to thank him and his support.

"For me, every year in the legislative process I look for themes and I look for lessons learned. This year for me it was about the power of community and the importance of compromise. The power of community is really what pushed this bill forward. This bill is aptly named 'Luke's Law' after Luke Pinnow and his mother Geri, who have persistently come to the Legislature asking for this important insurance coverage, for not just themselves but really for autistic children across the State.

"But the power of community is more than just those two individuals. It comes in the form of the people who came before us over the last two, two and a half years. Numerous people from Hawaii Association for Behavioral Analysis, in particular Amanda Kelly, numerous supporters from Autism Speaks and throughout the community.

"One thing that in particular struck me after last year's passage of the Auditor's Report, I got stopped in Kahala Mall by a public school teacher who had an autistic child and who said to me, and I didn't know who this person was, just said to me, thank you, thank you so much for pushing this, and we know you're going to continue to fight. We received over the course of this bill moving through this session hundreds of testimony just like that. People, middle class individuals who explained to us the struggles of living with autistic children.

"So for one example, before the Finance Committee, Felix and Lela Kwan of Honolulu. Again, I don't know who these people are, but these people send their child, their autistic son, to my daughter's school, Queen Ka'ahumanu School, which is excellent in providing autistic services and is excellent in providing special education services. But they explained to us that they paid more than $2,000 per month for the service of ABA that they have for their child. But because of that, ABA services that they started last year, they're seeing tremendous progress. Now, this child is in our public school and is getting services, SPED services. With disability now, to be able to access insurance to pay for this, I truly believe that we're going to see better services in our schools and hopefully a reduction on our special education budgets. But that, Mr. Speaker, that kind of testimony speaks to the power of community.

"The second lesson I learned from this journey has been the importance of compromise. And I really want to thank the committee members on the Committees on Health and Consumer Protection and Commerce, because we've gone through a two year journey struggling with this. Struggling with the questions about how do we provide service in a way that contains the cost for businesses, contains the cost for states, contains the cost for individual families. And those are the kinds of questions that we had to struggle through and compromise.

"I also want to thank HMSA, Kaiser, and the Chamber of Commerce, because in this bill we really did reach compromise with the insurance community as well as the business community, and I think we have a better bill. Now, is it perfect? It has age limits, it has caps, but I think those are important compromises that will ensure that we both contain costs and ensure that we get the services that we need to the children who need them. So, Mr. Speaker, again in strong support of this bill, and I think it's truly a good day for this Legislature. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong support. Mr. Speaker, I too wanted to add kudos to the Health Chair, but also the Finance Chair and the super hearing that we had with Mr. Luke. Mr. Luke, who insisted I look like Vladimir Putin, and the Representative from the Big Island looks like the leader of North Korea. He added humor to otherwise a very serious discussion about what we should be doing. We did it, and I want to thank Luke who stands now before us.

"Well done, except as the Chair of Health said, we have had a difficult beginning, and quite frankly, Mr. Speaker, this is phase one. Phase two is, after the parents are not able to take care of all these loved ones, what happens to the next generation? The mainland has houses or, I forget what it's called exactly, but there are places, and the group homes, I think is the term, that we have not even touched on yet. So, Mr. Speaker, we've come a long way, but we've got a ways to go. But thanks to Luke, his family, and all those who came to the Finance Committee as well as the Health Committee. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. I'd like to echo my colleague's congratulations to the Health Chair. I also want to echo the Representative from Hawaii Kai's concerns in the future, that we move towards looking at how to support transition into adulthood. I myself have a cousin with Asperger's Syndrome, and he's I think around 20 years old now, and certainly our family would have benefitted from what we're passing today and I know thousands more will, and I look forward to working with my colleagues to help this grow, to help these people further. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, in support. The Health Chair thanked a lot of people for their compromises, but it's actually the work of the one individual, who is the Health Chair, who with her own strength pulled this measure along for the last several years, and it was the work of her and also in the past CPC Chair as well.

"It actually takes the courage and the strength of that individual who was standing, at probably out of the wee hours at night on Thursday night, with the Autism Speaks folks, with Kaiser, HMSA and other folks huddled around in one of the corners working out a compromise. And folks can have compromises, but it actually takes one individual to make it work, and she was able to do that.

"So it's beyond kudos, for her to accomplish this and bring us to this point is just monumental. In light of the fact that this year she had to work on other tough issues like the hospital bill, connector, on all the other issues that Health Committee had to deal with, for me I just feel humbled that I work side by side with her, so if we could give her a round of applause.

"And if we could have Luke stand one more time, because he has been the face of autism, and he and his parents who were willing to put their child in front of this issue, and he came to pretty much most of the conference committee hearings and all the testimonies. I can tell you, we joke about several things, but for a kid like this and for him to be intellectually sound and to be able to know who Vladimir Putin and Kim Jong-il is, my son doesn't even know that. So people question about autism, but there is intelligence and there is capability, and so this is the poster child and if we could give him and his family a round of applause, because it has been a struggle. So, thank you very much."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I was voting with reservations this whole session on this particular measure and standing up on this particular measure hoping we could get it to 18 or possibly 21. And I do understand the Health Chair's commitment on how we've compromised. Unfortunately we had to compromise at 11 years old, but I do pray and hope that in the near future we can move that up to 18, possibly 21 where our DOE provides services up to 21 years of age, as well as Medicaid, and as well as under the federal healthcare act up to 26. So this is an excellent, excellent start, and I'd like to thank the Health Chair. It's taken almost 12 years to get here. And I'd like to thank Luke's family for being that patient family that waited and is now seeing this great day.

"I am not thrilled with the caps. I've heard discussion on this measure, well it may cost every policyholder in the State another $1, $1.50 a month, but Mr. Speaker, when we can help individuals like Luke, price is no option. I do understand the insurance companies, but we must take the best care for all of our children, especially as they age out, and then what we have to help the families with as they become young adults. So I do hope that the Chair continues her great effort and we can get this up to 18 at some point in time, and I'm hoping that's the near future, and then up to 21. But I will be in strong support of this measure, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also want to congratulate in particular the Chair of Health for her dogged pursuit of this issue. I know I saw her last year, how sad she was when this was defeated and how crushed the other people in the autism community were. And they came back this year with great strength and resolution and this was passed, and I have to congratulate all of them.

"I think going forward we need to understand something, that we don't understand why autism occurs. I think we need to pursue that issue very strongly, although that will be on a national level, but there are a lot of things we don't understand but we still can do something about them, and this is a great way to move forward on this issue. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 791, SD 1, HD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AUTISM SPECTRUM DISORDERS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 102 and H.B. No. 290, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 290, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. I have been a practicing member of the bar since 1985, and even for that long, Kona has needed a courthouse. At that time I remember going to Kona Circuit Court and trying to find out where the courthouse was. It was either in a Kamehameha Hotel conference room for one year, another year in some shop on Mamalahoa Highway. It was like finding a needle in a haystack half the time until they finally found the old Kona Hospital. Even then it was inadequate. It's about time that Kona has its own courthouse, and I thank this Body for passing this bill. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I would like to acknowledge the efforts of the Big Island Caucus who has made this issue a priority, the funding of the Kona Courthouse, and without their support this would not be possible. I also thank the Judiciary, CJ Recktenwald and Rod Maile, who has been a pretty much constant fixture just to ensure that this is in the budget, and it is right now. They refused to leave, even if they have cases piling up, they refused to leave until this bill passes. We want to thank them for the efforts, but it was really the Big Island Representatives and the Senators who pushed this along, so, great job you folks."

Representative Nishimoto rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Nishimoto's written remarks are as follows:

"In strong support of HB 290, Relating to the Judiciary.

"We have been hearing for many years about the need for a Courthouse in West Hawaii, and this year, we were able to find room in the budget to provide the final funding amount of $55 million for the Kona Judiciary Complex.

"Representative Nicole Lowen was the chief advocate for the Kona Judiciary Complex, and her support was instrumental in securing funding for this project. As a freshman Member of the House she made this her top priority. She brought the Finance Committee to the Big Island to see first-hand the current conditions in Kona. Judiciary facilities in West Hawaii are currently housed in three separate substandard locations—an old hospital building, a strip mall, and an old Home & Garden store in Kealakekua. Upon seeing this, it was clear to me that none of these were designed to accommodate the safety measures needed for a busy courthouse facility, and that the current locations do not have the capacity to accommodate the growing West Hawaii population.

"Many have worked hard over the years to advocate for the Kona Courthouse, and thanks are due to the Finance Chair, the Governor, the Hawaii Bar Association, the Judiciary and the Big Island delegation for their support. In particular, it was the dedicated efforts of the Representative from Kona over the last three years that helped to push this project over the finish line."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Quick comment, I just wanted to thank Chief Justice Recktenwald for all they do. Definitely in support of this, my only remorse is that we couldn't do a little bit more for them. I know that they have a lot of needs and I know a lot of judges sit on benches here on this island and fly out to the outer islands to try to alleviate the caseload that they're handling. And just as my colleague from Puna stated, there's a lot of issues on the outer islands with service in the justice system, so I'm just glad that we were able to help a little, and I hope we can help more in the future. Thank you."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and I just want to thank the Finance Committee, the rest of the Big Island delegation, Chief Justice, and the Judiciary."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 290, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE JUDICIARY," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 105 and H.B. No. 1069, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1069, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong support, permission to enter written comments."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, the technology industry in Hawaii has grown over recent years and has made significant strides toward achieving the goal of diversifying Hawaii's economy. Many companies compete for federal support through the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) grant program, which encourages and funds early stage ideas and innovations. While Phase I funding under the program has provided support for research activities of fledgling Hawaii companies, its use is limited to research, and does not provide any funds for these companies to move past the research and development (R&D) stage onto the commercialization stage that would not only support economic growth and diversification of our economy, but would also go far in creating good paying jobs and reducing the 'brain drain' that has afflicted our state for far too long.

"I rise in support of this measure for the following reasons: One, the bill is important to the technology community but even more meaningful to individual companies as this measure supports direct investment to companies. Two, companies will be held accountable to ensure success of the program and required to meet identified metrics for success. Three, the bill would help establish a profitable, self-sustaining technology industry, not solely reliant on venture capital, and enhance the probability that companies will stay in Hawaii. Four, the focus on commercial sales and local manufacturing will fill the technology cycle and enhance opportunities for broad workplace skills to participate in the technology sector. Five, the Center is not 'high tech' only and will support broad economic engines such as Agriculture, Visitor, Medical, and position Hawaii as a gateway for technology commercialization to the Asia-Pacific region. Six, company successes means creation of technology jobs."

Representative Kawakami rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kawakami's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, since 1989, the High Technology Development Corporation has been assisting Phase I Small Business Innovation Research award recipients to reach their commercial potential through the provision of grants. This has proven to be successful for both the businesses awarded a grant and the State.

"Mr. Speaker, HB 1069, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 adds the receipt of Phase II or III Small Business Innovation Research awards or contracts from any participating federal agency to the qualifying criteria for businesses to receive grants from the High Technology Development Corporation; appropriates funds for the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism to provide grants and loans through the High Technology Development Corporation; establishes the Hawaii Manufacturing Capital Grant Program to provide grants to manufacturers for expenses relating to equipment, planning for new facilities, and training programs; and appropriates funds to the High Technology Development Corporation for the Hawaii Manufacturing Capital Grant Program. Mr. Speaker, this expansion will continue moving Hawaii towards a more diversified economy, assist small businesses conducting innovative research with their efforts toward commercialization, and promote manufacturing in Hawaii. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1069, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TECHNOLOGY," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 107 and H.B. No. 242, SD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 242, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SEAWATER AIR CONDITIONING," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 109 and H.B. No. 1292, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki rose, stating:

"Could we take a recess until 1:00 p.m., please?"

At 12:16 o'clock p.m., Representative Saiki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:16 o'clock p.m.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 110 and H.B. No. 174, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 174, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Aquino rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"I request a ruling on a potential conflict. My son would be a beneficiary of this measure. Thank you very much," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with just a few brief remarks. Mr. Speaker, this is our second insurance mandate bill, and I just want to thank the good work of the Representative from Pearl City who introduced this bill as well as the community that supported this, and in particular Michelle Pestel-Maga and her daughter, Anya, who the bill is named after and is joining us in the gallery today. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just would like to give a little clarification, I don't see this as an insurance mandate, this is insurance benefits for a community that needs them. And I think when you look at the four cents per subscriber cost and the benefits for family's like Anya's, clearly the return on investment is huge at a very minimal cost. In support, comments to the Journal, too. Mahalo."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"This measure would promote quality health care procedures in the State by requiring health coverage for medically necessary orthodontic treatment of orofacial anomalies. Based on the State Auditor's report, the financial impact on health insurers is expected to be minimal. Reports from California and Massachusetts indicate that mandated insurance coverage for orofacial anomalies increased premiums by two to four cents, or less, per member per month.

"Children who are born with cleft lip and/or palate and other abnormalities have problems speaking, eating, as well as ear and dental problems. Treatment includes management by a multidisciplinary team involving the pediatric dentist, orthodontists, oralmaxillofacial surgeons and other specialists to address oral and jaw abnormalities. In order to ensure the best results, this treatment must begin while the child is still developing and may require up to three separate phases of orthodontic treatment. I've heard firsthand, that these treatments and surgeries are often painful for the keiki.

"Mr. Speaker, most private health insurance plans in Hawaii do not cover these services. This creates a significant financial hardship to working families trying to make ends meet. This measure serves lower and middle income families who have to pay for the numerous surgeries and provide for their loved ones afflicted with orofacial anomalies. It should be noted that the orthodontic treatment of cleft lip and palate is not cosmetic, it is part of medical treatment due to the congenital birth defect. Improving access to health care services contributes toward eliminating disparities and improving the health of Hawaii residents."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just wanted to thank Anya's mom for waiting so long to hear this and see the passage of this bill, and for all those constituents out there that take the time to get involved in the process, we're so grateful for your involvement. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 174, HD 2, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 111 and H.B. No. 448, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 448, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DOMESTIC VIOLENCE," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 112 and H.B. No. 581, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 581, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Just in strong support. Comments to the Journal, please."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Recognizing that Medicaid payments to hospitals were far below the actual costs of care, the Legislature created the Hospital Sustainability Program by enacting Act 217, SLH 2012, which increases Medicaid payments to hospitals. The program achieves this by assessing a fee on hospitals, using the revenue to obtain matching federal Medicaid funds, and returning a majority of the combined amount directly to the hospitals.

"Specifically, non-government hospitals are assessed an annual fee based on their patient revenues. Payment is based on the amount of a hospital's uncompensated care, which consists of nonpayment by uninsured patients and underpayment by Medicaid. Although the fees and payments are different for every hospital, the overall goal of the program is being achieved. Medicaid payments to many facilities are now closer to the actual costs of care, thereby reducing their losses and improving their financial stability. As such, the Hospital Sustainability Program ensures that Medicaid patients will continue to have access to the hospital care that they need. It is important to note that the program requires no state or taxpayer funding. The program actually generates revenue for the State and its healthcare facilities.

"The revenue generated by this fee is used by the State to draw down matching federal funds. For the last several years, as hospitals have faced declining federal payments for providing care to the un- or underinsured patients, the Hospital Sustainability Program has allowed the State to support the provision of uncompensated care.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill helps the State and Hawaii hospitals utilize this program to leverage much needed federal dollars. A sustainable hospital network and health care industry is vital to the health of our employees, business, and our overall quality of life."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 581, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HOSPITAL SUSTAINABILITY PROGRAM," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 115 and H.B. No. 1440, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1440, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 116 and H.B. No. 576, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 576, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE AFFORDABLE CARE ACT INNOVATION WAIVER," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118 and H.B. No. 1366, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1366, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support this measure. I support the intention of this measure because it looks to save the State of Hawaii millions of dollars in rental fees should a purchase, say of Alii Place, be approved. However, it is my firm conviction that we must also focus efforts to move more government offices to West Oahu where more and more people are buying homes to help deal with traffic. If you can live near your work, that's better for everybody. I only ask that we begin to look at that as well. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative LoPresti be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1366, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE ACQUISITION OR DEVELOPMENT OF REAL PROPERTY," passed Final Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 2 noes, with Representative Tokioka voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Har and Say voting no, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 119 and H.B. No. 158, SD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 158, SD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In strong support and permission to enter comments into the Journal. Thank you very much."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"This measure appropriates funds to the Department of the Prosecuting Attorney of the County of Maui for the prosecution of cases under the Drug Court and Mental Health Court programs.

"Since Hawaii's first Drug Court Program was incepted on Oahu in 1996, Drug Court has expanded to the neighbor islands serving offenders within those Criminal Court and Family Court Systems. Because the design and structure of each Drug Court is developed locally, these programs are unique and sensitive to the cultural population of each island while remaining consistent with the benefits of drug court programs nationwide.

"These programs are an efficient use of state resources, with Adult Drug Court costing about $137/day in comparison to incarceration that costs seven times more, and Juvenile Drug Court costing $227/day in comparison to incarceration that costs six times more. Deputy prosecuting attorneys play an important role in Drug Court, ensuring that this program is a success. Furthermore, they truly want to see offenders turn their lives around, which also decreases criminal activity in our community.

"Another state mandated program, the Mental Health Courts, plays a key role in assuring offenders get the appropriate treatment. Deputy prosecuting attorneys are highly aware of those undergoing depression, post-traumatic stress disorder and other mental disorders, as many have additionally been victims of various types of violence. The Deputy prosecuting attorneys work hard in these courtrooms to ensure that the proper sentencing is implemented.

"The funding of these programs are essential for Maui prosecutors and will ensure the Drug Court and mental health programs continue to make a positive effect on the citizens of Maui."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 158, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS TO THE DEPARTMENT OF THE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY OF THE COUNTY OF MAUI," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 120 and H.B. No. 832, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 832, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to vote with reservations on this measure and offer comments. Thank you. I have some serious concerns that were really highlighted by the Higher Ed Chair before, but I'd like to reiterate them on the Floor now. My concern is that with the UH Lab School, Mr. Speaker, it was changed to be a charter school, and while that might have been good intentions it actually puts the charter school possibly in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution because they have to discriminate in order to do laboratory research with students in education. If it's a charter school, by law they're not allowed to discriminate. Unless the UH Lab School was put back under, I believe, the full administration of the University of Hawaii, then they could do the lab work necessary.

"So it can either be a lab school, or it can be a charter school. I don't think it can be both, because currently it's a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment, and even with this bill it will be a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment. The bill still does good things, that's why I'm in favor of it, but I still have reservations because I think we need to look at reclassifying that particular charter school. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. Similar concerns as my colleague from Ewa Beach, just the precedent that we're setting for other public charter schools. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 832, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representatives LoPresti, Pouha and Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 123 and S.B. No. 273, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 273, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Although I truly understand what this intent is for and I do understand the plights that we have on our public streets and sidewalks and some of the sweeps that occur and individuals losing some of their personal documentation, although there are ways and manners for them to retrieve them without cost. This is to help individuals that might lose something completely and have it be able to be replaced.

"My concern lies with who can provide the documentation to document their physical address. I think it's a little too broad. I appreciate the task force to dig a little bit deeper in this, and hopefully next year we'll come out with a little bit tighter measure and be able to correct some of this. But right now, Mr. Speaker, with reservations."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 273, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO IDENTIFICATION CARDS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Jordan voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 and S.B. No. 1324, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1324, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I really hate to speak on a measure such as this. This does deal with a former spouse and having to pay benefits for this former spouse under some arrangement due to a separation or a divorce. The challenge is, Mr. Speaker, is during testimony along the way we found out that it could cost our state system $2 to $3 million to be able to implement this. The challenge is recalculating that particular cost when there might be a cost of inflation put in to their payments, or a child ages out from 18 to 21, or if they go on to college up to 26, those benefits would have to be recalculated every single time. And at what point in time will we be held liable for the miscalculation?

"I appreciate the measure by putting in some fees for calculating some costs, allowing the board to come up with those fees. I do appreciate with limiting at 10% to the payee, but at this point in time I would have to stand with reservations on this particular measure, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. As I stated earlier, every other state other than the State of Hawaii already has laws on their books regarding division of pension plans in divorce situations. So it's not unheard of for the State of Hawaii Employee Retirement System to follow suit. It's a long time in the making, it disallows victims of domestic violence from having to face their abusers again when it's time for them to ask for their share of retirement. This allows for divorced spouses to remain divorced and not have to hire attorneys again, 50 years down the line when it's time to get their share of their pension plans.

"There are fees in the measure so that the Employee Retirement System can recoup whatever their costs are, and I'm sure in time there will be adjustments to those costs. But it's high time that we protect victims of domestic violence when it comes times for divorce. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in support. In addition to what was brought up by the Representative from Puna, what we learned in the Finance Committee is that the employee, the person who receives the pension, even during the divorce, gets assessed the entire taxes. So in order to avoid that, there needs to be some division so that the pensioner doesn't pay for the full amount of taxes that should be paid by the ex-spouse as well. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, in support, and I would just like to commend the two prior speakers for speaking so eloquently and with very good explanations in support of this bill. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1324, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DIVORCE," passed Final Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Jordan voting aye with reservations, with Representative Kong voting no, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 126 and S.B. No. 1028, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1028, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, in the words enshrined by Kenny Rogers, you've got to know when to hold them, you've got to know when to fold them, you've got to know when, okay sing with me now, you've got to know when to walk away and know when to run, Mr. Speaker. My speech is about running away from this baby.

"Mr. Speaker, the problem is, we have a superior healthcare program. Right now it's called the Prepaid Health Care Act. It's been around since 1970. But this bill says, let's gamble another $2 million. Let's put another $2 million down on the table and see if we can make this thing work. HMSA, HMAA, Kaiser, all these guys are doing a great job.

"What we've got here is a bill that's going to pretend that we're going to make everything live happily ever after. The bill is about getting a waiver, that I'll admit, that's the only reason to even speak about a bill like this, pouring the money in that we have. But if we're going do just for the wavier, which we've got to wait for another two years, 2017, what should this Legislature do? My suggestion is we just keep it on life support. We just keep it alive so we can tell the feds, yeah, we have a connector, but we're not putting in money after money, good money after bad, Mr. Speaker.

"That is the best way to do when you know that you're going to be having a losing hand, as we had at this one. It's $202 million that they've put in, and basically if you put the zeros behind in stud poker, you've got a pair of deuces and you're waiting for the next bet to stick in another $2 million in the hope, just the hope, that you're going to win. This is gambling with taxpayer's money, its foolishness. I think we should get out of it, we should run, fold our hand, cut our losses and do the right thing by voting against this. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I wasn't going to plan on speaking on this bill but after hearing the country words of my colleague I felt compelled, because you know, Mr. Speaker, in order to run you have to be able to run. And that's something that I think he keeps forgetting in all of this. He keeps acting as if this Body is initiating this ACA, a federal mandate to which the State is bound by the superior laws of the federal government. What this bill is, is life support for a state exchange because we do have a superior health system in prepaid.

"That's the whole point of this and that has been the whole point all along. Every day the chaos and calamity of the unintended consequences of not harmonizing a federal mandate with our state law is going to cause the true chaos. Just another one came up to me the other day.

"This Body took the steps several years ago to define small business groups as 50 employees or less. If we fold them, as the good speaker says, surrender and put our cards on the table, then the federal government will come in with their hand, which is the facilitated exchanged. Their small employer group, the rules engines do not respect prepaid. Their small employer group is 100 or less. Now, all of these businesses in Hawaii, Mr. Speaker, small businesses with higher age employees than the national average, will get this great thing called age banding, and they'll get to see their premiums take a nice jump, Mr. Speaker. And that's one of many tales I can tell and the Health Chair can tell and the Finance Chair can tell.

"What it really boils down to is under the gun of a federal mandate, a gun of a federal mandate we are trying to protect, yeah, what prepaid and what is unique to Hawaii. I'll say it once, I'll say it again, if we could spin the clock back, we should have done a Race to the Top model where the feds would have just given the states funding to find the ways to close their own uninsured gaps, and we wouldn't be having this conversation because we would be at 100%. That's how much I believe that this Body and our Body has been able to address the issue of uninsurance and insurance in Hawaii. But as long as we have to operate under federal mandate, Mr. Speaker, we're trying to make sure that we don't lose what we've taken for granted for so many years, the prepaid generation. That's why I stand in support of this life support measure. Thank you very much."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, and I do want to commend the CPC Chair and the Health Chair for continuously struggling with this issue. I do understand the concern of the Representative from Hawaii Kai, but at some point in time we need to kind of take a step back to see if the option of joining the federal exchange will jeopardize the Prepaid Health Care law of the State of Hawaii.

"In the meantime, the Health Connector has ranged from asking for $28 million to $7 to $9 million, because of the wisdom of both the CPC Chair and the Health Chair. Instead of requiring different mandates and requiring health insurers to come into the connector, instead of that approach, what they have done in this bill is just an appropriation in the meantime just to figure out what the consequence of the health exchange or the federal exchange and the Prepaid Health Care Act is, and at the same time not jeopardizing all the tax credits that the small businesses would be entitled to through the connector, which may not be available through the health exchange. So it's giving at least the legislators some time to figure out the interchange between the federal mandate and what we need to do on the State side. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1028, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH CONNECTOR," passed Final Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Choy, Cullen, Har, Kong, San Buenaventura, Thielen, Tokioka, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1214, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Sorry to stop the roll, but this is the special purpose revenue bonds for Hawaiian Electric, and I'm rising to speak in opposition. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I really want to thank the Finance Chair because Finance and the Committee lowered the amount from $800 million in special purpose revenue funds for Hawaiian Electric, lowered it down to $80 million. My preference is that they would have put it down to $8 and with the message to Hawaiian Electric, you're selling, you're selling to NextEra, an entity that is immensely wealthy, that pays the lowest percentage of taxes of any utility or mega business in the nation, so they don't even participate in paying taxes that most other companies do. They're coming in to take over Hawaiian Electric, so why on earth do we want to allocate SPRB money to an entity that may very likely not even be here in a year.

"Now, I know that the Chair of Energy & Environmental Protection tried to put in some very good provisions in that bill. I was still opposed to the bill, even when those were in, because I felt they wouldn't stay in the bill. Well, they didn't, they're gone. So all it is is $80 million for Hawaiian Electric that's saying, we're selling to NextEra, this immensely wealthy corporation, and we're out of here, folks. And yet we're going ahead with $80 million in SPRB money for them.

"I think it's a wrong, wrong decision. I think we should have sent a much stronger message to Hawaiian Electric, we'll wait to see, Hawaiian Electric, to see what the Public Utilities Commission does. In the event they turn down your sale to NextEra, which I personally hope they do, Mr. Speaker, in the event they turn that down, then come back to us and come back with your plan of what you're going to do to facilitate the renewable energy projects for communities, for individuals, for businesses, and then we'll talk to you about SPRB money. But I am strongly, strongly in opposition of this measure. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, ruling on a potential conflict. I am a shareholder in Hawaiian Electric Corporation. Thank you very much," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Jordan continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to disclose a potential conflict of interest. I am also a shareholder of Hawaiian Electric stock. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Just very briefly, whether a potential takeover goes through or not for Hawaiian Electric Company by NextEra within the next 12 to 18 months, we have an obligation to ensure that projects that lower the cost for grid maintenance, upgrades that allow more solar to get online, homeowners to save money that way as well, continue. And so by decreasing the amount of this SPRB and focusing on the projects that the utility can start right now, that they ought to be starting right now, whether there's a deal or a merger or not, I think is the prudent course of action.

"In the long term, however, because we've reduced the amount of the SPRB, the utility will have to come back, whether it's HECO, NextEra or anyone else, and reapply for that on the basis of the merits of whatever that entity is at that point in time. Until then, we let them continue their operations so that there is uninterrupted service, and I do hope in the long term we do have a better solution and a better utility that evolves out of wherever this is going that benefits the public interest first and foremost. But until that time, we do have an obligation to carry forward. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, still in strong opposition, Mr. Speaker. I thank the Chair of EEP for his comments, but the point is, the Chief Financial Officer of Hawaiian Electric came to our hearing. When I said, here's what you're asking for, to do projects, et cetera, what are you going to do? She sat there and looked at me and was not able to answer at all. She couldn't say, Chief Financial Officer, could not say what they were going to use that money for. One of the projects, I surmised, could be reinstituting their interisland cable. She couldn't say. She didn't know.

"So if you had a major corporation come before you and you had the Chief Financial Officer, and you said to her or to him, what are you going to spend the money on? You're asking us to approve this SPRB, and at that point it was $800 million, what are you going to spend it on? And if the person across the desk from you sits there with a blank stare and no answer, you, as a prudent individual, would not approve that. You would not approve that money. But today we are doing that, and I think it is a absolute wrong thing to do. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a ratepayer of Maui Electric," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey continued to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"In support with reservations, and I would like the words of both the Chair of EEP as well as the words of the second rising of the good Representative from Kailua entered into the record as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. May I have the words of the first and second rise of the Representative from Kailua," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1214, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS TO ASSIST HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY, INC., MAUI ELECTRIC COMPANY, LIMITED, AND HAWAII ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY, INC.," passed Final Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 7 noes, with Representative McKelvey voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Fukumoto Chang, Matsumoto, Ohno, Pouha, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 134 and S.B. No. 1050, SD 2, HD 3, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1050, SD 2, HD 3, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY," passed Final Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Jordan voting no, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 135 and S.B. No. 349, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 349, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Please note my reservations, Mr. Speaker. Although this is a tax credit, normally I do stand up and oppose tax credits, I think this is a one that I should support. This brings in for renewable resources for our energy sources, so I think I will be supporting this. This does have a five year cap with $3 million a year, so I appreciate the intent of the Chairman of the Committee, and I look forward to seeing the renewable resources come into our state. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 349, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Jordan voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 136 and S.B. No. 359, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 359, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this is middle class killer bill number five, because it misses an opportunity to save our taxpayers money. Mr. Speaker, this takes, and I'll name the name that is between the lines here, LNG. It's an anti-LNG. It's trying to say that we don't need to diversify and use the nation's most resourceful, most plentiful resource that we have. LNG is probably deposited more in the United States than any other place in the world.

"We also are missing the opportunity to diversify our renewable portfolio, or by using another source other than petroleum. So in effect what we're doing, we're saying, LNG stay out, we're going to give you exactly what taxes are on all the other things, even though coal is exempted, Mr. Speaker, the worst pollutant is grandfathered out of this particular bill, but we're also saying that LNG is not welcome in Hawaii. And, Mr. Speaker, this is a way that if electricity does goes up in price, it's because of a bill like this. If LNG does come in, it was missed opportunity for our middle class to say, hey yeah, maybe we've got an opportunity here to save some money. With this bill, not so. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 359, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSE, ENERGY, AND FOOD SECURITY TAX," passed Final Reading by a vote of 37 ayes to 13 noes, with Representatives Aquino, Cullen, Fukumoto Chang, Har, Kawakami, Matsumoto, McDermott, Pouha, Say, Tokioka, Tupola, Ward and Yamane voting no, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 139 and S.B. No. 1001, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1001, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Senate Bill No. 1001, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1. The purpose of this bill is to establish and appropriate funds for the 'Manufacturing Development Program', through which the High Technology Development Corporation shall distribute grants, up to $100,000 each, to Hawaii manufacturers for various activities.

"While I appreciate the intent of this measure to incentivize manufacturing in the State of Hawaii, to create jobs, and to diversify our economy, I am concerned about which manufacturers these grants may be extended to. 'Manufacture' is not defined in Chapter 206M of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. However, it is defined in House Bill No. 321, and these grants may be extended to manufacturers that operate medical marijuana production centers. I do not believe that it was the purpose or intent of the Legislature to extend these 'manufacturing grants' to those who will profit from medical marijuana dispensaries in our state, but unfortunately, the language is silent in SB 1001 as to what businesses are precluded. As such, Mr. Speaker, I must vote in opposition to Senate Bill No. 1001."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1001, SD 2, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MANUFACTURING," passed Final Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Har voting no, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 142 and H.B. No. 553, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 553, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. One sentence and one sentence only, Mr. Speaker, and this is from UH directly. We can't afford this increase by unionizing our graduate teaching assistants. That's their statement. My statement is in agreement with that because of their budget difficulties.

"My second point is, as the cost of the university increases because of this, there probably, likely, will be an increased reliance on graduate teaching assistants, of which I was one, and some others in this group also were having the same experience. But the fact is, as in the medical profession, the higher costs for doctors and the rarity of getting doctors, the more RNs and physician assistants become basically the doctors in the room. It is quite possible that with this unionization of teaching assistants, suddenly they're going to become the professors, suddenly they're going to dominate the classrooms, suddenly we're going to say, hey, what's going on with the quality of education, we don't even have our professor in the classroom. Well, because of the cost of what increases are right here, which UH says they can't afford, of which now we may be in the long run really shortchanging the university students in the State of Hawaii. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. If someone can't afford to pay fair wages for good labor, then they can't afford to have those people employed. I am proud that we're passing this. When I came to Hawaii in 1999 to go to grad school at UH Manoa, grad students were talking about this. And I thought one day maybe I'd be in a position to do something, but I never thought I'd be here. And here I am, I get to vote on it, and I'm very proud of that fact.

"There are a lot of abusive relationships between graduate students and professors. There are many good ones as well. But this will protect those students, to give them the right to organize and the dignity of organization that we afford to many other people who work in this country. Graduate students labor all day and all night for some of the things that they do, and they deserve this protection. So I stand in strong support."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 553, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COLLECTIVE BARGAINING," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1471, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Some of my reservations is only with one part of this. Unregrettably, we lost Act 179 from last year and that funding for our adult dental care. Unfortunately with the restriction on the dollars we have this year we weren't able to provide additional monies this year to actually make that a very bonafide and fruitful program for our adults. So unregrettably, that's what my reservation is with this. Hopefully in the future we can provide those services to our participants in our Medicaid program, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1471, HD 2, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE FUNDING OF GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Jordan voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 444, HD 3, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Just in strong support, Mr. Speaker. Permission to enter comments into the Journal."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, our beaches are the backbone of Hawaii's $15 billion tourism industry and are central to Hawaii's unique culture and lifestyle. Unfortunately, Hawaii's beaches are being lost at alarming rates due to natural processes and human impacts. According to the United States Geological Service National Assessment of Shoreline Change for the Hawaiian Islands, 70% of Hawaii's beaches are eroding and 13 miles of beach have been lost over the last century. Beach erosion effects shoreline access, recreation and cultural activities, coastal environments, and our tourism based economy.

"This measure provides for the implementation of beach restoration and sand nourishment as part of a viable management strategy for Hawaii's special resource.

"Improved funding for the Beach Restoration Special Fund through the TAT would greatly improve the State's ability to partner with county and local entities on beach restoration and conservation projects statewide. The increased funding would assist the counties in priority projects such as locating and stockpiling beach quality sand, which is in very short supply for restoration projects. Furthermore, increased funding will allow the State to assist the counties and local stakeholders in conserving key public and visitor beaches beyond major resort areas such as Waikiki.

"With the constant issue of beach erosion present on our state's shores, it is important that we not only look at restoration solutions but also a plan for conservation by effectively slowing the degradation of our beaches."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 444, HD 3, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BEACH PROTECTION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 152 and H.B. No. 830, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 830, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Strong support, written comments."

Representative Yamane's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 830 which creates an exemption for proposed projects on privately-owned single-family detached dwelling units that are not designated or nominated for the Hawaii Registry of Historic Places or the National Registry of Historic Places from the historic review requirement of Section 6E-42, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

"Mr. Speaker, nearly 40% of existing private residences on Oahu were built before 1970 and, if not already reached, are approaching 50 years of age. To protect the historic value of properties, historic preservation law requires review by the State Historic Preservation Division of the Department of Land and Natural Resources followed by an issuance of permits before any proposed projects or renovations are commenced. However, this requirement in some cases has delayed the granting of permits for a period of as many as months. This has become burdensome for homeowners and is simultaneously causing an adverse effect on the construction industry.

"In 2014, the Department reviewed over 3,400 permit applications for residences 50 years or older. The sheer amount of permit applications alone should illustrate the demand for a change in the historic preservation process and, in particular, the inclusion of the exception noted in this bill. The Department noted that most of the permit applications reviewed were for projects that would not affect the historic quality of the home. Adding the exemption to the historic preservation law would not only lift some of the burden off of homeowners, but would also reduce the workload of the Department. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 830, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY," passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 156 and S.B. No. 1299, HD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 1299, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Senate Bill 1299, no vote, Mr. Speaker, and I'd like to explain why. This measure is relating to the disposition of tax revenues and particularly the conveyance tax. What it does, I realize that the Finance Committee is trying to reduce the number of special funds and I understand that and put money into the General Fund, thereby requiring these different sectors to come and justify their application for funding.

"The problem is, when it's the environmental and natural resource sector, those historically have been given an infinitesimal sliver of our budget. I used to bring in a circle showing the different sectors. Education, quite large, which it should be, other areas, and then you had to get a magnifying glass out to look for the environmental natural resources sector.

"If we don't give them their traditional funding and if we as we are in this bill removing the dedicated funding for some of these natural resource programs, it's very likely that they will struggle severely and not be able to perform their purpose, their work. And we all suffer from that, because Hawaii is noted for its beauty, its environment, its natural resources. But unfortunately, the funding to care for those areas is extremely limited.

"One thing we did have with this, before this bill, was a dedicated source. And those entities, those sectors, could feel confident they could go ahead and perform their role in preserving our natural resources in this state.

"I am voting no, but with respect to the Chair of Finance I understand why she has done this, but I would hate to bring in a pie shaped chart next time and then hand out 51 magnifying glasses and challenge Members to find the infinitesimal sliver in the pie chart where we're really protecting our natural resources and funding those services. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I do appreciate the comments of the Representative from Kailua and I do share a lot of her concerns. What had happened with this is that during the legislative process what we have learned is that the conveyance monies were being used for NARS. What the Attorney General's Office has stated in the meantime is, apparently DLNR was collecting what was coming from conveyance to NARS and the NARS fund has about $7 million in ceiling. So they would keep $7 million, any excess of conveyance would not remain in NARS but it would be rededicated to LNR 402, which is the fire protection, and LNR 172, which is forest resource management and development. So a total of about $18 million has been going to NARS, and NARS in turn retransferred some of the excess money to other programs that didn't have enough funds.

"In the meantime, the Attorney General's Office has made a ruling that transfers also must comply with the ceiling. So between ceiling and expenditure, NARS could only expend $7 million. So we were trying to correct that error. So it wasn't just to convert special funds to general funds. It was unauthorized and illegal transfer that DLNR was, I guess, trying to correct and we were trying to help them correct it. So because of that, we have converted the special funds that were going from conveyance to NARS all to general funds.

"So in this bill what we're doing is we're providing $7.5 million, which is the expenditure for NARS. In addition to that, LNR 172, which is the forestry management, which they wouldn't have any money but we're providing general funds to that in the amount of $2.8 million. In addition to that there would be LNR 402 for fire protection, and fire protection actually doesn't have funds that it collect so it was pretty much dependent on NARS, but because of the restriction by the Attorney General's opinion, they would now have no money. So we're trying to fix that.

"In addition to that, NARS fund was being used for HISC, which is the Hawaii Invasive Species Council. So out of the $7 million allotment, they would be using $3.5 for HISC, but because they are not authorized to transfer any money to HISC, we are making a dedicated amount of $4 million on top of that.

"So we have spoken to DLNR and we're trying to work on a workable solution, so the last conversation was on April 30th, and they said, if we provide them $4.1 million, it would make them whole so that they can at least have general funds for a lot of these programs. I think it is kind of fortunate that we were able to find some of these errors so that we can make DLNR whole, and so I hope the Representative will understand we're not trying to penalize but we're trying to see if we can support these programs and correct the mistake of unauthorized transfers. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. I thank the Chair of Finance and my offer still stands. I'll bring in magnifying glasses next session. My hope is that we won't need to use them, that we'll see that the areas that are so important to us are taken care of adequately in the budget. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I'd like to take a second to thank the Finance Chair and also the Water & Land Chair for their work on a part of this bill, specifically relating to Kahoolawe. I'd like to use the magnifying glass that the Representative from Kailua would like to donate to find in previous years' budgets the amount of money allocated from the State of Hawaii towards Kahoolawe, because you wouldn't find it with a magnifying glass. This is the first time, in this bill, in the history of the State of Hawaii, that we've allocated funding for the preservation and restoration of the island of Kahoolawe.

"So once again I'd like to thank the Finance Chair, the Water & Land Chair, and those Members for pushing for funding. I know some people will say it's not enough. I think it's a good first step. Keeping the boats running to that island to continue the work on that island is very important. So, thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Keohokalole be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Say rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'll be voting in opposition. The Floor Leader has my green slip, but more importantly, I'd rather go back to the history of why this particular conveyance tax was assessed upon every real estate transaction, and how this Body along with the Senate did their very best in earmarking these funds on a percentage basis. My thoughts, to the Chair of Finance, which is an excellent point about the transfer, was to just lift the ceiling of the $7 million to NARS. And the reason we're forgetting about the $7 million ceiling or cap is because of the real estate market that is so hot today whereby every transaction there is a conveyance tax.

"So that's the reason, because if we go to what I believe the Representative from Kailua is saying, I believe she's absolutely right. Each Member of this House will be responsible to determine how much they will be getting from the General Fund, which will be lost in the overall General Fund budget.

"This past session I was just shocked, and I apologize to the Members and to the people of the State of Hawaii, that listening to the confirmation of Mr. Carleton Ching, how much does the Department of Land and Natural Resources receive from the Legislature in general funds. Was it 3% of our general funds or 4%? And here we are trying to protect our beautiful pristine environment.

"With this dedicated source, you folks will know that these programs will be taken care of. But once you swipe that money out to the General Fund, it will be competing with all other programs that we have discussed here on the Floor of the House this morning and this afternoon with separate appropriation measures. And I think the Kailua Representative is correct, too. It's very difficult to have a voice here when they're in the forest or in the ocean and trying to protect our natural environment.

"So that is the reason why, very honestly and sincerely, I am voting no, because of the historical perspective of why the conveyance tax was created. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In regards to some of the comments made previously regarding the need for moving the current disposition of taxes out of conveyance to general funds, Mr. Speaker, I understand and I agree with the Chair of Finance as well as the Chair of WAM on why they move the funding to the General Fund and do it on a general fund appropriation, Mr. Speaker. It is important as a Legislative Body to understand and be aware of all of the transfers and the use of the money, and that we can account to our constituents, dollar for dollar, its uses.

"This measure and moving this method forward not only agrees with what the Attorney General and Budget and Finance has stated needed to be done, but also gives the control and the emphasis back to the Legislature, where we set policy, Mr. Speaker. One of the issues that has come up is for us as a Legislature to be aware of what's going on out there. How is our department working to enhance and protect our environment? And this is where now as a Legislative Body we can use through funding and policy to make sure that our most needy areas are protected and ensured for future generations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Luke rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support and I would like to adopt the words of the Water & Land Chair as my own. I think the worst thing that we can do in this position is increase the ceiling, because if we just increase the ceiling we are pretty much neglecting our legislative authority to figure out how we're going to spend these monies. If the priority of this Legislature is to do away the invasive species management, then why are we leaving it up to DLNR? Certain years they were only spending about $3 million or less, so why isn't it the Legislature's prerogative to figure out exactly where we need to put various monies instead of giving a huge ceiling to the various departments for them to decide how they're going to use the various funds. That's not good transparent budgeting. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Cullen rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. ## ORDINARY CALENDAR

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 169 and S.B. No. 1079, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee and S.B. No. 1079, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS," were recommitted to the Committee on Conference.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 163 and S.B. No. 1084, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1084, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 164 and S.B. No. 555, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 555, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Johanson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. I'll be very brief. I think everyone in the Body recognizes the burden that most of our lowest income constituents pay relative to their peers across the mainland, and it is quite high, which is particularly what makes this bill so notable. This represents one of our foremost mechanisms for offering relief to those constituents in this legislative session, and I just wanted to say a special thank you to the Ways and Means Committee in the Senate as well as the House Finance Committee for allocating the resources to meaningfully reduce the burden for our lowest income individuals. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I would like permission to enter comments into the Journal, and would like to thank our colleague here for such a good bill that our families need, and I've always said he's a very good Democrat. Thank you very much."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"This measure would relieve the tax burden on low-income individuals. According to a report by the Institute on Taxation and Economic Policy, Hawaii has the second heaviest tax burden in the country for the bottom 20% of income levels. This is because the General Excise Tax (GET) applies to virtually all goods and services purchased in the State, including necessities like food. Therefore, both low and high income individuals are taxed at the same rate for essential purchases.

"The refundable food/excise tax credit was created to offset the inherently regressive impact of the GET on low and moderate income households, and provide targeted relief to low and moderate income individuals. This credit has not been adjusted to keep up with the inflation that has occurred since it was first established eight years ago, in 2007. This measure would adjust the credit accordingly for individuals making under $57,500, with a maximum credit of $170 to individuals with an adjusted gross income under $5,800. This measure also allows multiple exemptions for those with dependent children, providing additional support for families in need.

"Under this measure, low- and moderate-income families that struggle to pay rent and purchase necessities would receive meaningful relief, enhancing their ability to have secure housing, contribute to our local economy, and achieve economic self-sufficiency."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I am glad at least one of the two tax credit bills made it to the final finish line. Luckily it was this, the food and excise tax credit, and maybe it's the parity with the bill that we'll be talking about soon. They've taken the mindset of saying, let's go from zero to 30 and give them an increase, meaning zero AGI up to $30,000 AGI for single individuals. And then looking at those married couples and increasing it from the $30,000 AGI up to the $50,000 AGI.

"I really appreciate what we've done with this. Although it will cost us about $6.7 million, I think it's great effort towards the most neediest in our communities and I hope we can look at this again in our near future to increase it again. I hope we can also look at the low income housing tax credit too, hopefully we can probably pull that off next year. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, today I rise in strong support for SB 555, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1. One of the biggest issues Hawaii faces is the increasingly high cost of living for its residents – from homes, to food, to gas. Those particularly affected by the high cost of living are low income families. It is essential that we do all that we can to provide families with the help to reduce the always escalating cost of living. SB 555, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1 is key, as it increases the tax credit amounts for low income families who qualify. While this bill is not a single solution to reducing the cost of living in Hawaii, it is an excellent starting point and will provide much needed help to lower income families statewide. For these reasons, I am in strong support of SB 555, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1."

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support with a slight reservation. I'll state for the record on this Floor that my reservation is that it's only good for two years. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 555, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX CREDITS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representative Say voting aye with reservations.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 166 and H.B. No. 134, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 134, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Cullen rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I have reservations on H.B. No. 134, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1.

"Mr. Speaker, I support the rail project because it is much needed infrastructure for the people living on the west side of Oahu. With our growing population and the planned development at Ho'opili of 11,750 homes over the next 30 years to help address the massive shortage of homes in the State, traffic congestion will continue to worsen if we allow this project to fail. While we are looking to ensure that the project is completed, we want to make sure that the City and County of Honolulu is accountable and transparent for the money being spent, ensuring a quality rail product.

"My reservations are on the fiscal impact to the neighbor islands. According to the B&F Director in the House Finance hearing, we could have a $340 to $400 million tax increase to the residents amongst the three neighbor island counties, whose total combined population is under 426,000.

"Mr. Speaker, I support the rail project and want to see it through to completion, but this increase would greatly impact the residents of the State of Hawaii, so that's why I stand in reservations."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of this measure. Mr. Speaker, you know that I hammer you, figuratively speaking, for every fee or tax that comes down the pipe. But this measure leaves us really with no choice. This is something we must do, Republican and Democrat alike.

"Mr. Speaker, when you go into battle, the best laid plans of mice and men are, after the first shot is fired, are thrown away, because you never know what you're going to run up against. Whether it's a lawsuit filed by folks who cannot stand the fact that the vote didn't go their way, which delays your construction cost and forces you to pay penalty fees, or tax revenues that didn't come in as projected. Those things are not the fault of the overseers of said project.

"Now there's many naysayers out there, Mr. Speaker, but what do they say? Just stop. Well you can't just stop. If you stop, you have to tear it down, and somebody has to pay to tear it down, and then you have to pay the federal government back all that money that you got. So for me, this is a no brainer, Mr. Speaker.

"Aside from that, as I said before, all the working men and women in my community, Ewa Beach is ground zero. Every block is a pickup truck with a set of tools in it. And I don't want to be the person to tell them, sorry, we're going to stop this project. Golden Gate Bridge was over budget, the Hoover Dam was over budget. All great public works projects run into things that are unforeseen. We don't know if next week they run into an undiscovered huge patch of iwi, we just don't know, and that would increase the costs.

"But we're committed to this thing, we need to see it through, and I hope I'm around long enough to see when they come back to run the spur to the University of Hawaii, because that is what's going to make the difference. We're in this, we should be in it to win it. I support it with enthusiasm. And if I can support it, a guy who nails you for a dollar fee on a driver's license, I think all my colleagues should support. it So, i mua rail."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In very strong support. I thought I would never accept the speech of my good friend across the aisle from Ewa, would you please adopt his words as my own. Thank you very much," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I ask that my colleague's words be entered into the Journal as my own as well. Thank you. I also ask that my earlier comments in support of an earlier iteration of this bill, when it was on Third Reading, be entered into the Journal today. Thank you.

"Mr. Speaker, rail is of vital importance to many of our districts and to hundreds of thousands of Hawaii residents. We must look forward into a future that includes comprehensive transportation solutions to our growing population. And our communities that are growing in Central and West Oahu, they're not only growing naturally, but with the design of state and local government. Without rail the current development patterns on Oahu are frankly insane. Rail brings this development into a more sensible development plan.

"Of paramount importance, Mr. Speaker, is for future accommodations of population growth. We need to severely redirect these patterns of residential and commercial growth along a central transit corridor. The only way we can keep country country is to make town more of a city. This requires concentration of urban growth along the rail route. The preservation of agricultural lands requires concentration of urban growth along the rail. The reduction of traffic all across the island. Remember now, when things are going bad for us in west and central, it affects you all over in Windward Oahu, because we'll take the Pali, H-3, et cetera. So reduction of traffic all across the island, this requires developmental growth along the rail. And naturally, this requires the first 20 mile stretch of mass transit system to be built.

"The reality is that the current rail system is the only feasible option at this point. If we change the technology, we lose the funding. If we change the number of stations, we lose the funding. If we change the length of the route, we lose the funding. If we stop now, we still have to pay billions back to close it out and tear it down, as my colleague had pointed out.

"So it's pretty clear to me that as things stand today, all of the arguments against rail, Mr. Speaker, fail. This does not mean that the project is not painful. Corrective major surgery always is. It always has complications, risks and problems, foreseeable or unforeseeable that may arise along the way.

"But having seriously weighed all of these issues, as I know many of my colleagues have, as well as living the daily gridlock, I strongly urge my colleagues to empathize with those who live in West and Central Oahu. We drive by areas where thousands upon thousands of new residential units will soon and are currently being added. And these will add tens of thousands of new cars to this gridlock, Mr. Speaker.

"As I have said before, if development stopped today, we still need the rail. And for those communities that are not seeing development, ironically they often stand in the strongest opposition to this project, Mr. Speaker. And I think that's morally baffling to me. This is about equity, it's about supporting those areas that take the pain of development and giving them the appropriate infrastructure. We cannot stop population growth, and so we must build homes.

"If you like not having much development where you live, then in my opinion you must logically support development in places like where I live. And that means that you should also support the basic infrastructure for people in Western and Central Oahu. Remember, we only have one way in and out, and many of those communities where there's a lot of opposition to this, they have four ways in and out, and we have fives time the population.

"I think if you really don't like facing the growth where you live, then you must stand and support this project as I do. It doesn't mean anyone has to be happy about it. It merely means we look at things rationally, objectively, and with all the facts. Traffic situations have gone well beyond overwhelming to what hundreds of thousands of people in this state I'm sure now find to be completely unacceptable.

"Mr. Speaker, rail is important to the future of our state, but it's also important for lawmakers to ensure that the City and County proceeds with the project in a way that is responsible to the taxpayers and the people of Hawaii. But we too must be responsible in how we can help the City and County pay for it.

"Mr. Speaker, I do hold one concern, even though I stand in strong support of this, and I believe that the 10% skim by the State should be addressed and that we should only cover the cost of collecting the monies for the County and not a penny more. I know that in the future I'll continue to vigorously monitor this project, and I hope that we will do the right thing and reimburse the City and County for that 10% skim. And most importantly, I'll continue to ask tough questions to ensure the City and County's project is more fiscally responsible and they do the work to finish their project as efficiently as possible. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, many of us on this Floor grew up with the adage, if you're going to do something, you do it well. Even if you're going to be a ditch digger, you be the best ditch digger. I don't think any of us on this Floor can say we've really done this project well. We've conceived it, we designed it, we fund it, we've done a great job. No, we have not.

"What we've got here is a patch or a triage to stop the bleeding for another five years. My concern, Mr. Speaker, if all the things we want it to be, we've got to tighten this loosey-goosey project up. We've got to make sure that it operates and runs on time. That it's got budgets that are actually real and doesn't keep extending into billions of dollars, the way it is already $1 billion over project.

"If we're going to do it, let's do it well, let's do it better. Let's make sure that we've got all of our ducks in line. Now we've got to get this one out, we've got the neighbor islands all sucked into this tax increase. Every island now can put a tax onto their people because of what we're doing on Oahu.

"So it's affecting everybody, and I know there's been sort of an association that there's a geographical correlation between your distance from the train and your district, and you're for or against it. But regardless of where we are geographically, we should be for sound planning, for sound budgeting, and not this loosey-goosey every five years come back and ask for more money. If we were a bank and a business, we would say, hey, go away and do your homework. We have allowed this thing to go on. We're feeding it, and by feeding it we're encouraging it to do what it's been doing in the past.

"I commend the Finance Chair who had really a bill to put the feet to the fire. She's saying, put some skin in the game and make sure you do this thing right. So, Mr. Speaker, the people of Hawaii from the very beginning were divided by this, now we're pushing it out another five years. Let's make damn sure that we're going to do it properly this time. We'll give them the money, but let's make sure it's done properly. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I wasn't going to rise on this issue, but since the good speaker, the previous speaker brought in the neighbor islands, I have to. And geographic proximity, because I think I live further than he or anybody else on this island does from the rail project, but I stand in support.

"Mr. Speaker, the enabling legislation does make this a Maui issue. As my good friend here from Ewa Beach on the CPC Committee has said, has fought against every tax increase before and supports it, our Mayor, when he was Mayor last time when this came up, he was opposed to it. He was opposed to it and didn't opt Maui in. Now our Mayor of Maui, who's a lot like our good friend from Ewa Beach, has been vigorously lobbying us to pass this enabling legislation. Why? Because he recognizes that in today's current fiscal picture, this provides an opportunity for us to be able to get revenue from the visitors in our island. The GET is paid for a lot by our visitors.

"And to address critical transportation needs. Mr. Speaker, I get photos on my phone from constituents about once a month, minimum, of people standing in the rain and the mud, in Maalaea, waiting for a bus in near whiteout conditions. Hovering there saying, please help us get some bus stands. I go to the County and they say, we need revenue, we need funding to modernize our buses, to create bus stops, to allow transportation options for those in our communities who can't afford to drive. And in Maui, Mr. Speaker, distance is very prohibitive. Our Mayor recognizes this. I know the Council Chair disagrees with me on this and would like to see a greater share of the TAT, but until that day, this is an option for us to be able to secure the funding we need for our citizens, our transportation needs on the neighbor islands.

"So as one who lives very far and as one who can fly home faster to Lahaina than my good colleague from Kapolei can get home, I think that this measure is a good one both for Maui and also for the people of Oahu who are facing carmageddon on a daily basis very soon, Mr. Speaker, and I'm an outsider just adding my two cents. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I stand in opposition, because of the enabling statute in this bill that extends this off to the neighbor islands. I represent one of the poorest districts in the State of Hawaii. I could stomach a quarter percent increase, but a half percent, that's 12.5% increase, at a time when we're just recovering from a recession, a time when Puna is just recovering from dual disasters. For the poorest of the poor to be assaulted by a 12.5% general excise tax which covers everything, services, food, everything.

"A lot of my constituents are illiterate. The refundable general excise tax bill that we had just passed, most of my constituents, although we pay the tax, will not recover any portion of it because they won't fill out the tax returns. So we pay more than our share, and as such, I cannot stomach a half percent increase, and I stand in opposition."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I didn't want to speak, but everything inside of me is telling me to stand up, and so, just a few comments in regards to what's been said.

"There's a bill in regards to the Ewa Development Plan coming up on Wednesday in the City Council and there are many of my constituents concerned about it because the Ewa Development Plan talked about Ho'opili and the rail conjunctly. And I've sat down with HART and I've talked to them about it, about the fact that the rail station going through Ho'opili is one of the main reasons why it needs to push forward.

"Our concern, and I live in a community that I surveyed, both electronically, by phone and through mail about what they felt about this, and they were in opposition. The concern is that the development of those homes and linked into the rail will cause gridlock for all of us that have one way in and one way out. So I'm in a community that opposes it that has one way in and one way out. And asking for traffic solutions and infrastructure by which we can stop sitting through so many hours of traffic. Granted, the rail will provide will an option.

"You don't need my vote to get the rail, it will still go. But my vote of no is in a voice of concern for the fact that the infrastructure does not currently exist to have that Ho'opili structure in conjunction with the rail go at this time without severe improvements to the freeway. And this is what, constantly, my constituents are telling me. It has to stop. We leave home at four, five in the morning, we come home. But again the rail is going to come with the development together in a package. And I've asked them, if Ho'opili doesn't go, what's going to happen? They said, we'll still get a different developer in there and we'll develop the land. That's what they told me.

"So it doesn't matter whether it's them or somebody else, there's still going to be development there. And a lot of what had to do with the lawsuits in regards to the cost and everything else, some of it did have to do with Native Hawaiian issues and iwi that was found along the route of the rail. So let's just be sure that when we fight Mauna Kea, TMT, all those other things, that we be sure that it's happening in other places as well. It's not just happening over there. These are Native Hawaiian issues everywhere.

"When I went to go speak to the Carpenters Union, they asked me, what do the Hawaiians think? What do the Hawaiians think about what's happening? I'm not against rail, I'm against rail that is ineffective or rail that is going to be insolvent. What is going to happen in the sustainability of this for the generations to come? That's a huge question. What's going to happen to the money that we need for buses or for parks? I mean, our parks are horrible already, what's going to happen to that if we have to continue to sustain it from year after year.

"Those are the concerns that I'm bringing from my constituents to this Floor, and that is what the vote of no is for. A voice of concern for all kinds of different things that are going to be affected by one decision. But again, you don't need my vote to go ahead and do this. It's going to happen regardless or not. But what I'm trying to say, is that we should be very aware there are many things interconnected into this decision, many different things. And Ho'opili and the rail and all of that is one of them.

"Again, all the people are asking for is a little bit of infrastructure to alleviate the everyday struggle that we go through just to get to work every day. And as far as the Hawaiians are concerned, be very aware of what's going on, of the different things, because it's not just one thing that got blown up in the media, there's other things that we should be concerned about as well. About making this land sacred and protecting the things and the agriculture by which that we have been given that we just keep developing and developing to no end. We should be very aware that we make the decisions prudently when we do things in regards to land and regards to taxes and regards to the future of our children. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Mr. Speaker, a couple months ago I was out in Lanikai and I was paddling out to that island to go surf. It was super rough. Half way through I was like, man I'm tired. I look back, I could barely see the land. I look forward, I could barely see the land, I'm about halfway. But there's no way I'm going to paddle back, not when there's waves on that side. It's going to be the same distance either way. I'm going to be just as tired either way. I'm going to make it to the island.

"We put in billions of dollars in this project, and to go back it's going to cost billions more, or to finish it will cost billions more. I'm going to choose to finish it. The previous speaker asked, what's going to happen to all this money in the future. There are two options, we're either going to have the rail or we're not. I'll choose to have the rail.

"Regarding the refundable GET for the food excise tax, yes it will be difficult for some of our constituents to recognize the new law on the books. It's our job as Representatives to educate them. Put it in our newsletter, hit the media, let people know, hold town hall meetings. Hey, we have this regressive tax and this is a way that you can save some money from it.

"This is enabling legislation for the counties, this isn't saying you have to raise the taxes. By all means, I would love it if Maui County Council would say, maybe pump the brakes a little and let's not raise this regressive tax for everyone on our island. But they should have the option in fairness if we're going to give it to Oahu.

"There's an old adage that was mentioned by a previous speaker that if you're going to do something, then do it right. I was taught as well that if you're going to do something, finish it. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, Mr. Speaker. I do know that I've been voting with reservations up until this point, but we didn't know what the final intricate details were until this point. I do have a little bit of concerns because it only kicks this out for another five years, up to 2027, and I think we need a better robust discussion between the City and the State. Unfortunately, that robust discussion didn't happen from 2007 until now.

"I remember being in a meeting in our community on the Waianae Coast under the former Mayor Hannemann, with 300 men and women standing there supporting that City and County Mayor to take this project forward. And I still see those people every day, Mr. Speaker. They live in my community. They buy homes in my community. Many of them rent. Many of them live in homesteads. But they get up every morning at 4:00 o'clock in the morning to beat that traffic, to be on the job site, and do what they need to do to put their kids through school, to be able to put food on their table, and live.

"And I can't stand here and say no to this particular measure, Mr. Speaker. Because this isn't for me. This is for a project that is going into the future, for future generations. This is for those individuals who don't own a vehicle, many live in my community, take The Bus into Waikiki and work in our hotels, generationally. They can't afford a vehicle. They sit on those buses for two hours each way, Mr. Speaker.

"Today was a good day for me. One hour and 20 minutes, and I left at 7:15. You see, the last time we had a long Floor session everybody was like, where's Representative Jordan? I was 40 minutes late because I left at 7:15 that day and it took me 2 hours and 10 minutes. I stopped in traffic at Kapolei exit. I wasn't even 8 miles from my home, and I sat in traffic all the way into Honolulu.

"Yes, when a Representative from the west side of Kauai can get on a plane from their home and beat me to the Capitol, something is wrong with that picture. And if we don't stand here and say, yes, to continue with this public transit project and encourage individuals to get on board and encourage our City and County to create the hubs and spokes programs, that's buses connecting to a rail, and if we don't encourage the further extension of this up to UH Manoa, we're doing everybody a disservice.

"Because everybody knows if we can just move the UH schedule, the traffic on the freeway would be a lot smoother. I've been hearing that for 12 years, and I don't think UH is ever going to move their schedule for us. So if we can get all those students and maybe some professors on that rail that we alleviate them driving to and from school, that will alleviate their parking costs. Why, heck, maybe even some of my kids will finish school. Because the one thing that has them dropping out from attending UH Manoa, they will start, and they fail to continue because of the transportation.

"So I look at this positive all the way around. And then I look at my construction workers, my laborers, my builders, because we have a new vision of how we're going to develop the island of Oahu. Yes, I live in a bedroom community and I wanted a bedroom community. We land bank our land for agricultural purposes, and we want to keep it that way.

"And yes, there's one way in and one way out. And if this Body ever agrees to raise it another half a percent, I may get another entrance into my community, because it will cost $1 billion to bring that to my community. But at least right now we can provide an opportunity. Yeah, they've got to go all the way to UH West Oahu."

Representative McKelvey rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Jordan continued, stating:

"Thank you, Representative. But at some point in time, we might be able to see that at Kapolei Commons. Why, heck, maybe even out at Koolina so some of those visitors can get on our rail system.

"I will now become the advocate for the rail and I will get blasted at a board meeting tonight for supporting this, and I say bring it on. Because if we don't step forward, we're not going to be able to turn back. Because the option is, all my taxpaying citizens in the County of Honolulu that own property will pick up this burden if we do not say yes right now, and have this robust discussion in the next two years. Because this doesn't get us to Manoa. This half a percent only gets us what we need to do to finish what we're currently doing.

"So I stand proud to say yes, and I will educate the remainder of my community that come forward and say no. And I thank those individuals that work in those industries, because they're my nieces, nephews, they were my calabash uncles, and I need to support them. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support. Last year I was asked about the GET extension, and I stated that I didn't feel that continuing to tax the people of Hawaii was the right answer and that we needed to think of creative, out of the box solutions. That being said, since that point I've been presented with a lot of the different options that are currently available to us, and unfortunately this extension seems to be the best of the worst.

"I've been very intentional with discussing this issue with my constituents. I've had two town hall meetings with HART where they've graciously come out to the district to answer questions directly. I've had communication through mailers and surveys, and I'm basing my vote on what I truly believe is best for my community.

"I wish the project had begun in a more responsible manner, but we're too far in to stop now. While I'm voting in support, I wish all of the 0.5% went to the intent of funding the rail instead of keeping the 10% with DOTAX. At the very least, that 10% should have been reduced. I appreciate that through conference committee we've limited the extension to five years instead of perpetuity. And while I hesitantly support this bill, the City and the rail project need to actively work together to be more efficient, effective, and find creative solutions to not just finish the project, but for the operation of the rail as well, so the State will not have to revisit this issue in the future. Thank you so much."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just wanted to discuss a couple of points. First, an issue was made in this discussion today about the lack of planning. All the planning documents are online. There are thousands and thousands of pages of them. This is a project that has been planned. I had no idea that a project this big could be planned this carefully. A primary reason for that is all the federal money. The Federal Transit Administration is not going to give us money for a project that hasn't been planned out. So I think that's an error in terms of looking at how this has developed.

"The iwi question, the City did lose a lawsuit at the Supreme Court level, but they moved forward based on the findings of a lower court which was upholding a law on iwi that had been in effect for as long as I can remember, which was that you could segment projects, you didn't have to do all the surveys for iwi up front. In fact, after that Supreme Court decision came down, which actually delayed the project for quite some time, like 18 months, the next session, if I remember correctly, this Body, the Legislature, reversed the Supreme Court's decision and said, yes you can segment, because on a big project it's just really impractical not to.

"The other lawsuits that slowed the project, well the other lawsuits didn't slow down the project as much, but basically, every single claim they brought was rejected. There were some that the City had to go back and look at again, but considering the size and scope of this project, it's amazing that there weren't more problems with it. I think it's unrealistic to expect the largest public works project in the history of the State not to have a hiccup once in a while.

"With regard to the cost overruns, this project started 10 years ago. The first vote on this Floor was in 2005. The cost overruns, it looks like they're going to be about 20%, but considering that the project was originally supposed to be done I think next year, when you look at where the economy was when this project was supposed to be being built, we would have been right on budget. And I don't know if there's any way to predict with accuracy over that long a time period that something's going to go over.

"I think if you look at the H-3 or the H-1 or the H-2, especially the H-1 and the H-3, I believe those went over budget too, they weren't as big as a project because with the road you have to buy the car still, and that's one reason that the road projects are less expensive because the actual carriage device is something that we have to pick up privately and of course costs a lot more money. When people talk about how expensive the GET is, if you take every single car on the island and multiply it by what an average car costs to run, the dollar amounts are much, much higher for one year than this entire project is for its entire construction.

"The argument was made that we just need a little more infrastructure to get people in from the west side. That's just not true. Any project that has any hope of bringing in the numbers of people that need to be brought in from the west side is going to cost a lot of money. And when you go down the list of possibilities, making the H-1 bigger, adding another freeway that's not on the H-1 route, I don't know, the options run out quickly. Helicopters, boats, there are things that could be done that would take some of the pressure off, but rail is the only one that has anything near the capacity that's needed. That's why I support this project and that's why I look forward to three years from now riding the rail from my district in Chinatown out to the end and having something to eat and coming back and enjoying the beautiful view that that rail will provide. Mahalo."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I want to thank the Members of the House and Members of the Senate for going through this legislative process and this very difficult issue. Just from the discussion we had in prior session and what has happened in conference committee and right now, you do know that this is not a light issue, it's a very difficult issue for a lot of folks and for me as well.

"It's a difficult one for me as well for two reasons. Because number one, in 2005 I was one of those who voted in opposition to this surcharge. And number two is because I don't like to make Kirk Caldwell happy. And he's sitting there smiling, and that makes me very unhappy. When I see him, he's like that cat, he just rubs me the wrong way sometimes.

"But in spite of that, I am in support. Because although I was in opposition in 2005, once the City and County of Honolulu and the State made that commitment to start the rail project, for us or the City and County to stop the project will have significant financial implications that neither the State nor the County can afford. So at this point in time, we are providing five years extension, 0.5 to 2027. So until 2027 we're providing a five year extension, and that's enough. In fact, that's more than enough to complete what they have started from the west side to Ala Moana.

"So we do have a message. I think the Legislature is giving that message, that we at least collectively, regardless of whether the divisions and whether there might be people who want to provide perpetuity or 25 years or 12 years or nothing at all, at least there's some consensus among the majority of the Members in this Chamber and majority of the Members in the Senate, that the State is willing to provide a five year extension for HART and the City and County of Honolulu to complete the current project to Ala Moana.

"So I think it is fitting for the Legislature at this time to provide HART and the Mayor a message. Complete the project, do it right, don't come back with any over budget, just complete this project. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to respond, stating:

"Strong support, and first of all I really want to thank the Finance Committee and the Chair who looked into this very strongly and had some reservations, and in the end, as we just heard from the Finance Chairman, they're looking into the longer term. I always believe that we as legislators here need to do statesman-like decisions where we're not going to benefit from it now, but our children will. And you have that the majority of you that will vote, you're looking not for the present but for the future. For that, I commend you.

"I also want to say, there's some disappointment because I personally, even though I am from the neighbor islands, don't want to see the rail end at the shopping mall. I visualize it going to the University. I visualize it going someday to Hawaii Kai, in spite of the Representative from Hawaii Kai who won't vote for this measure. I visualize someday that it'll be going into Middle Street and some of the other areas. And this will be going for the next 50 years or 100 years.

"In Boston, they're still working on the rail and it's over 100 years old, and they continue to make trunks. Just visualize the sustainability of the jobs that you're going to be having all these years. So it's not only the rail, it's the new cities that will be developed along the stations. Buildings will be coming up, shopping centers will be coming up. It provides a whole new dimension for Honolulu and possibly for the neighbor islands that will opt for transportation money through their councils. But again for this, I thank you very much, and I wish to thank the major committees that have approved this bill. Thank you very much."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I'd like to ask that the words of the Speaker of the House, both times, be inserted into the Journal as if they were my own, the Representative from Waianae and the Representative from Kihei, into the Journal as if they were my own.

"I just want to address one thing. I know there were concerns from my colleagues from the neighbor islands and I was on the board of HSAC, at the time in 2005 when we lobbied this Body and the Senate on this bill. And none of the Representatives or the Senators that voted for the bill from the neighbor islands, none of them lost the next election. And I don't think this is an issue that's going to be a loss to this Body, because we've started it. And the train is coming, it already left the station.

"I've been in Kapolei and stayed in Kapolei and had to drive in in the morning, it's ridiculous. I don't know how the Representatives from that side of the island can deal with this traffic. It would absolutely drive me crazy, not that everything here doesn't drive us crazy. But it is ridiculous. The Representative from Waianae said two hours. Can you imagine that? I know many times we leave Kauai as a delegation and we get here before the Representative from the west side of this island. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support and I thank all of the Committee Chairs that had worked on this in the House and the Senate to make this opportunity possible. Thank you."

Representative Aquino rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Support, written comments. I'd also like to adopt the words of the Speaker as well as the Finance Chair, except for her two reasons in regards to the Mayor, as well as her 2005 vote. Thank you very much," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Aquino's written remarks are as follows:

"Mahalo, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of HB 134, Conference Draft 1.

"The bill lying before us has gone through an evolution this legislative session. The reason why I can vote in support of this measure, wholeheartedly, is because of the various changes and the final product we are voting on today.

"First, the original language of HB 134 went from a surcharge to be collected into perpetuity to a modest extension of five years. The sunset date is now 2027 from 2022. This extension will allow the current Honolulu rail project, in accordance with the full funding federal agreement, to be completed, and addresses the current shortfall of nearly $1 billion.

"Secondly, this measure makes specific changes to current law which includes the collected surcharge to be utilized only for capital or construction costs as opposed to capital and operational costs. This change will strongly encourage the City to plan and make tough decisions to implement and operate the project in a more effective way.

"While I support the project and this measure to ensure completion, I do have concerns on how it is currently affecting my district. I will say that the community of Waipahu is currently undergoing the headaches of the project's construction and are being patiently tolerant. For the next year or so, the column and guideway work along Farrington Highway will continue to produce traffic congestion that affects residents, business owners, visitors—everyone. Another reservation is that neither the City nor HART know the current price tag for this project, which can be a big concern. Other concerns I have pertain to the lack of planning to address future shortfalls and a comprehensive examination of cost-cutting measures to ensure financial stability and efficiency.

"While I continue to have these concerns moving forward, I do however acknowledge that Honolulu's rail project has come too far for it to stop now. It needs to get completed to provide another transportation alternative for everyone and improve the quality of life for our current and future generations—especially residents of Leeward and Central Oahu. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you for the opportunity to provide comments in support of HB 134. This measure will extend the 0.5% GET surcharge for an additional five years, from 2022 to 2027.

"I am very concerned about the reports of mismanagement and waste in the construction of the rail project and lack of oversight from HART. I supported a fiscal and management audit of HART to shed light on these issues and will continue to support better accountability and transparency.

"The reason I support this bill is because we cannot go back. We have started the rail project and it must be finished. If we do not meet our commitments under the federal Full Funding Grant Agreement, we will be required to return over $1 billion in federal funds and spend hundreds of millions to mitigate and/or demolish the parts of the rail already constructed.

"I also understand from our counterparts in the City Council and the Mayor that if we do not pass an extension of the GET surcharge, the funds to complete rail will be assessed through a dramatic increase in real property taxes. This is not a desirable outcome. Roughly one-third of the GET comes from non-residents, through our visitor industry. A real property tax increase would affect local homeowners and businesses, which will bear the brunt of this increase. I would prefer that the rail project be paid for by the federal government and tourists, rather than entirely by our local residents.

"Finally, I believe that we need transportation alternatives on Oahu. I consider myself lucky to live in Salt Lake, I get off the freeway before the traffic starts, on Red Hill. Others are not so fortunate. Some of my friends and family sit in traffic for over two hours, morning and afternoon, sometimes longer. Their quality of life is diminished by the lack of transportation alternatives and it is not right. Rail is not the end-all, be-all solution; rather, it is the beginning of a transformation of how we live and work. We need to finish this project.

"For the foregoing reasons, I support this measure. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I think there needs to be a footnote to the Speaker's speech, because he alluded to the future and implied, even though he said it in the gentle way, that if you're against the bill, you're against the future, against the kids and the keiki and all the other stuff.

"I think there's another side to that story, Mr. Speaker. Those of us who are concerned about the affordability of this, the sustainability of it, we don't want to bankrupt our grandchildren or our children. We want to make sure this is sustainable. We want to make sure it's not a Greek retirement system that makes basically their viability in the European Union moot. We don't want to make it a HHSC, a government run hospital system that bleeds $90 million a year out of this Body. We want to make sure that their future is secure on an economic basis, Mr. Speaker.

"That's why, when we say that we're voting against this, we're not voting against the future, we're doing a protection and undergirding, if you will, for the future fiscal viability of which is one of our major responsibilities other than safety for the people of Hawaii, is the fiscal viability so they can feed themselves, they can house themselves, and they can have jobs of which we are not doing the best job as it is.

"So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, those who vote not for this bill, when the roll call is going to be called in a couple of minutes, please don't think that they're against the future, but can be for it in the same way that you are. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support. I feel obligated to stand up and respond to the previous speaker. I have two children, Mr. Speaker, I have a five year old and a one year old. I could do the fiscally responsible thing and leave them with no debt and nothing, or I can do what is necessary to build a better future for them and give them the responsibility to help maintain the systems that I built for them. I choose the latter. Thank you."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill No. 134, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1. The purpose of this bill is to authorize the counties to extend the county surcharge on the General Excise Tax, at the rate of 0.5%, for an additional five years.

"Specifically, this bill provides the City and County and Honolulu and the Honolulu Authority for Rapid Transportation with enough leverage to reassure the Federal Transit Administration that there will be sufficient funds to build the rail transit project, and fulfill the City's obligations under the Full Funding Grant Agreement (FFGA).

"Mr. Speaker, we must understand that the cost overruns associated with the rail transit project can be attributed to a myriad of reasons. When bids were first issued, this state, and the rest of the nation, were at the tail end of the 'Great Recession'. The construction industry is similar to any other industry and subject to the basic economic principle of supply and demand. During the recession, bids came in at a lower cost because the construction industry was stagnant, thus bids were coming in lower than today.

"In addition, as we are all familiar, a number of lawsuits delayed the rail transit project. Our economy steadily improved, as did the construction industry, while the lawsuits were being litigated. The construction industry is fluid and is dispositive on market conditions. It is therefore not surprising that the bids are now coming in much higher than previously anticipated.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill covers the cost overruns associated with the rail transit project, ensures that the City will be in compliance with the FFGA, and guarantees that construction will continue on this alternate mode of transportation. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in support for House Bill No. 134."

Representative Brower rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition because on important issues to my district, many of you probably follow the same reasoning, you think of your personal feelings, then you think of how the district wants you to vote. And from surveys that I have taken and spoken to my constituents, they want me to vote no on this issue, and I estimate about a third of those in the Chamber will also vote no.

"I did a survey and asked my neighbors that if rail were built, would they want it to come into Waikiki? And surprisingly, 47% of them did say that they were against rail, but if it were built that it should come into Waikiki in some way.

"And what's interesting too about this issue, Mr. Speaker, is some members of the Minority Caucus in this Chamber constantly criticize Democrats for tax increases until, as we found today, it may suit their needs. And that always became ironic to me whenever we did work on important issues like this.

"Riding the rail will not be easy for a lot of people. If you're in Kapolei you may be taking a bus to the rail station, taking the rail to Ala Moana, then taking the bus into Waikiki. We also need to look into other things as we still can, other ways to reduce traffic, whether it is to stagger the hours of the University, or remove drivers who are uninsured, or in order to keep legislators from being stuck in traffic, talk to Speaker's Office and stagger our work hours.

"Mr. Speaker, for these reasons I would just encourage legislators to take responsibility, and if they choose to get more for their money by living away from town, they get the traffic. And if all goes well, as I anticipate, rail will give people the option to not be caught in traffic, but studies show there still will be a large amount of traffic on our roads in the future. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I too took a survey, I mentioned this in earlier readings of this bill. The majority of the members of my district and most likely the majority of the members of many of the districts on the Windward side, the majority of the constituents responded against extending the tax for rail. I'm going to vote yes anyway, and I'm going to explain it to them in the same way that I hopefully can explain it to everyone in this Chamber.

"There are three main issues that I heard from my constituents in my campaign, I'm a freshman so that wasn't that long ago, and I've continued to hear. The first thing is, we don't want the rail. The second thing is, we don't want development in Kaneohe. And the third thing is, the cost of living in Hawaii is way too high. I could use any of those points to justify going either way on this issue. The way I rationalize it, the way I rationalize my up vote is, if we are going to look to the future and if I am trying to do the right thing, if I am going to take a stand on issues in this Chamber without kicking the can down the road in order the save my own skin and get reelected, then I have to look at this the way that I feel is right.

"So in order to address the cost of living, which was one of the issues they brought up, I think there's agreement across the board that the main issue regarding the cost of living in Hawaii is the cost of housing. And if you talk to the folks who are working in housing, some of the folks like Reverend Bob Nakata who lives in my district, who was one of the adamant anti-development activists of the '70s, and part of the reason why we're in this discussion, this is not a new discussion, development on Oahu. This discussion goes back to the '70s when people from my community, people from my family, and people like Reverend Nakata, pushed development from the Windward side where it was planned out to the Ewa plain. So the reason I bring that up is, we don't want development on my side of the island so it got pushed to the west side, and as a result they have these infrastructure issues.

"Reverend Nakata is now leading the charge on housing issues. We have a 25,000 unit housing shortage in Hawaii. The way I look at it, those are 25,000 families. We graduate 10,000 high school students a year, if they all marry each other, it doesn't matter what gender they are, that's 5,000 units at least that we'll be adding to the inventory. In order to address the cost of living issue in Hawaii, we have to address the Housing issue in Hawaii.

"Previous speakers spoke about Hawaiian issues. For me, the number one Hawaiian issue that I'm concerned about is diaspora. The fact that we are losing Hawaiians and we are losing local people, young people, people like me and my family, every year because of the cost of living. And so even though I don't want to build houses in Kaneohe or on the rest of the Windward side, and I don't like the cost of living in Kaneohe and on the Windward side, the only way, the only logical way and the only way that we've been considering this issue for the last 30 to 40 years, is directing that development and directing that growth to the west side.

"My heart goes out to the folks that live on the west side and the traffic they have to deal with, but the bottom line for my community is where are we going to house people and how's that going to affect the cost of living in our communities, and the fact that people who have paid their taxes, live their entire lives in Hawaii, want to continue to see their children and their grandchildren live here on this island, in our communities. And so for those reasons, I don't see a better solution than pursuing this type of infrastructure to allow growth to continue on that side to address the development issue on this island. And as this island goes, the rest of the State goes. For those reasons, I'm in support of this project and I'm in support of this bill. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to adopt the words from the Representative from Kahaluu. Being part of the Windward side delegation, as it was coined, we have similar concerns. And for those same reasons, I do stand in support of this project, and do hope that as we move forward, that we don't have to look at another five year extension or some kind of indefinite funding source. I hope and pray that that can come to this project, and that we can improve the quality of life here in our state for everyone at every socioeconomic level. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tupola rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Second time. I just wanted to thank my colleague from Waikiki for the points that he brought up because there's been many points that haven't been talked about here, such as those who won't benefit from the rail but still need traffic solutions. And so while he's here, I just wanted to say that we are begging the City, begging the Mayor, for some infrastructure while they continue to develop in the Ewa Plains. As my colleague from Kaneohe stated, they're going to continue to develop in the Ewa Plains whether we want to or not.

"And whether we vote no or yes, it will still go, the rail will still go. However, we are asking, humbly, please provide us with the infrastructure that we need for our community, whether that's roads, adequate schools, adequate police facilities, adequate hospitals. All of this is written in the Ewa Development Plan as things that need to happen so that all of this can roll forward.

"My letter to the City Council was that step for step, we need to be together in order for this to succeed. We need to be on the State side appropriating these funds so that we can get those infrastructures in place so that the City can do what they need to do, but the timing is a little off. I suggested to them that we be step for step going forward so that it can succeed, and if not we need to step back until those things start to roll forward so that all of that can be in place to support people who may not benefit from the rail but still need traffic solutions. Because it was told to us from HART and from the Mayor that this will not alleviate traffic, this is just an option.

"Therefore, we should look for a portfolio of solutions by which we can move forward into the future. A portfolio of short, midterm, long, inexpensive, midterm, very expensive solutions, one person, two people, three commuter solutions, so that the people can have a myriad of solutions. I think that's what I appreciated from my colleague from Waikiki as presenting these forward so that we can have this dialogue of how it is going to go moving forward so that we can succeed. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 134, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1. As the minority leader of a caucus that is voting a majority in favor of this measure, I've become the focus of a lot of anti-rail Republican sentiment. I am getting a lot of phone calls asking me to kill the rail. So I wanted to make a couple of things clear.

"First of all, these phone calls are not coming from my district, which is Mililani and Mililani Mauka. I recently sent out a district survey to my constituents, and 71% of responders were in favor of the extension. The residents in my community spend hours on the roadways daily to get to town and back, so I recognize the struggle that the families in my district are having.

"Second, we are not voting to kill the rail or to pass the rail. That is already done. The City and County has the power to build the rail and they have the power to fund the rail. They have the ability to raise property taxes. They can raise revenues from other things. All this is doing is giving them another option. It might spread out the burden more.

"This bill says the county 'may' adopt a surcharge. They have to look at their own finances and decide what is the best, most fiscally responsible way to build the rail and bring traffic relief, which we so desperately need in Central and Leeward Oahu. All we are deciding today is whether or not we want to give them the option of extending the GET surcharge. For these reasons, I rise in support of HB 134, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamashita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. Mr. Speaker, in 2005 I voted for this. Along the process I voted against this. There are reasons why I voted against this. It's mostly on how we pay for rail was my concern. The needs are great for the State, and going forward I think we have to also consider that.

"Now, at the end of the day, the conference committee in the House and Senate chose this method to do rail. And I've always supported rail, I think rail needs to be done. I think it needed to be paid for in a different manner. I think it should match, when we put infrastructure in, it adds value. A good example of that is a home of equal size in Manoa and a home in the Ewa Plains. The price is much greater in Manoa, and it's because of city-like services. And the more infrastructure you put in, the more valuable your property becomes. Tax policy should match that, and that's why I've always said in the past that it should have some component of property tax, because as we add more infrastructure in, it adds value."

Representative Rhoads rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support. There still seems to be this notion out there that somehow rail won't make traffic better. Of course it'll make traffic better. The problem is, traffic is a moving target. If the population of the State continues to grow and people keep buying more cars, there's going to be more cars in the road. But if you just kept the population of the State, of the island, exactly the same and you installed rail, of course it's going to help. There's going to be fewer cars on the road. Just as it will be even if the population grows, there will still be fewer cars on the road because of rail. Traffic may still be horrible, but it's not because rail didn't help. It would be even more horrible if it weren't for rail. So we have to be able to look, it is a moving target, and until someone figures out a way to hold the population steady it will continue to be a moving target, but rail will help the traffic situation."

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Rhoads be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative McKelvey rose to respond, stating:

"Brief second time, Mr. Speaker. Still in support. I appreciate the comments made from the other Representative from Waianae, because that's exactly why I support this. It's because this is not just a rail fund only mechanism, it can be used for portfolio of infrastructure for transportation. As has been brought up many times, this allows the counties to accelerate their infrastructure that's needed so that the development doesn't pop up before the infrastructure, which is the source root, especially in Lahaina, of much of the angst when it comes to building affordable housing, which the previous speaker spoke about.

"And just a note of clarification, I think the property values in Manoa are quite high because the good Representative lives there. Thank you very much."

Representative Keohokalole rose to respond, stating:

"I'd like to ask permission to accept the words of the Judiciary Chair, both times, into the record as if they were my own. He's really smart. Thanks," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Belatti rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Keohokalole be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 134, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 39 ayes to 12 noes, with Representative Cullen voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Brower, Johanson, Kobayashi, Kong, Lee, Lowen, Nishimoto, Ohno, San Buenaventura, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 167 and S.B. No. 284, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 284, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. It seems like it's déjà vu, it was the wee hours of the last few days of Conference last year when we dealt with this same issue, and again there was a scramble to try to figure out what to do with this Turtle Bay bill at the last few hours, and really great work by the Water & Land Chair to tackle this tough issue and bring this bill to where it is today. This bill that just started out with transferring the responsibility from HTA to DLNR and just an extension has now turned into a financing method which is solid, which has the cooperation of people like Doug Cole, who's up in the gallery, and Lea Hong, for Trust for Public Lands.

"It was actually the Water & Land Chair and his staff that pulled everyone together in the last several days to tackle this difficult issue, and if you just knew the behind the scenes of some of these things that happened, I'm just very amazed that you were able to pull this off and we have a solid bill today. So, thank you very much."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, strong support. One year ago we were here in this Legislative Body and a bill came to us in the final hours, and there was some discussion about the value and how we weighed that value at the last minute deal, if it was in the best interest of the State of Hawaii. Mr. Speaker, the bill that is before you, SB 284, is a culmination of coordination between our Executive Branch, our Finance and WAM Chairs, as well as with the City and County of Honolulu and the private sector.

"Mr. Speaker, the bill before you today was actually a culmination of some hard work in the final hours to make sure that this bill met legal muster as well as it addressed the financial and fiscal issues that were brought up between Act 81 that was passed last year. So, Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the Water & Land Committee, we present this bill forward. We also would like to express our appreciation for the Finance Chair for allowing us the opportunity to bring the various people together to address this issue.

"Mr. Speaker, the bill before you actually includes the City and County of Honolulu giving money to the State. Usually Mayor Caldwell is here today, usually asking for money. He was graciously willing to offer $2.5 million to help protect this valuable easement located on the North Shore.

"Mr. Speaker, after looking at 7 versions of this bill in the final hours and making sure that this bill not only preserved the integrity and the goals of this Legislature, but also upheld the fiscal responsibilities that we take upon entering this Legislative Body. Mr. Speaker, before you, you have a measure here that saves us $5 million from last year. Actually, we purchase and increase our land holdings by 55 acres into fee.

"If you've ever been there and you've seen Kawela Bay, one of the most pristine areas on that side of the island. Mr. Speaker, it also increases our public access and makes sure that in perpetuity our constituents, our children, and their children have free access to this area. Not only where they can potentially play golf, if you're a Kahuku High School football student, but you can also enjoy the seals, the turtles, as well as the beautiful ocean and sunsets that are located on that side of the island.

"Mr. Speaker, this is a true example of the various entities coming together with the common goal to look for the future. And so it is with great pleasure that we have this bill before you. Thank you."

Representative Pouha rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to adopt the words of the Water & Land Chair. In full support. It is no small thing which has been accomplished, thanks to the hard work of the Water & Land Chair, also recognizing the Finance Chair and also our Tourism Chair as well for their work, and it not only stopped in this Chamber, many parties had come together including those here in the gallery today and those watching online as well.

"I can't say enough about how this greatly impacts my district. And many of you have received emails and phone calls and letters from those of my district who greatly want this to happen and who will soon realize this. And so it's because of the hard work that's been done, and because of much of earlier today was mentioned about the power of community and also of compromise.

"I think in many ways people have put skin into the game. They have been able to reasonably negotiate one with another, and so I'm grateful to all of those who have participated in this process. I for one have seen what has gone on, and I can tell you that it has been honest work that has been going on. That there hasn't been shifty types of deals going on, it's all in the public interest and what's been accomplished here in SB 284. So I invite my colleagues to support this measure and to continue helping to preserve open space and leave a great legacy. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I would like to adopt the words of the previous speaker. In his reference to the Tourism Committee, I would like to thank the members of the Tourism Committee for encouraging the Chair to defer the bill at one time. It created a real come to Jesus moment for both the supporters and the community and the legislators. It also showcased that this is how the political process works, we have agreements and disagreements. The first public hearing that the bill did have was in the Tourism Committee this year, although theoretically this bill did pass last year.

"So I would just like to thank the Chair of the Water & Land Committee and Finance for their hard work, and also their ability to keep members in the Tourism Committee in the loop on the final progress of the bill. Thank you."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support but with some reservations. When this was debated early on, I said that the owner of the property outsmarted us because we already got conservation easement, and that runs with the land. Then they tried giving us fee simple to the land, but the catch to that is they will have at least 65 years lease in their favor. The way I look at it is, if we own the land we will be deep pockets in terms of anybody filing a suit in case somebody got injured.

"Now they're sweetening the pot again, and the more they sweeten the pot the more I can possibly think of why are they doing this? We are deep pockets. Now, if there are conditions for this owner to at least indemnify us in case they file a suit against the State and we are now going to pay damages, then I will fully agree that their intent is really to give us this fee simple interest on the property. They will no longer be maintaining it? We own it. That's one of the things that I want to know, will they still be maintaining the property to make sure it's safe, or is it the State's responsibility now to do it since we are now the fee simple interest in the land, in spite of the fact that they have in their favor 65 years lease on the property.

"So to those kind of questions I ask, I just wanted to make sure that the State is protected. Will it now be the responsibility of the State to maintain? We are now going to be deep pockets in case damages occur? Those are the questions I want answered. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker, I had the honor of being a member of the Tourism Committee, and I commend the Chair for his strategic voting against it before we voted for it. It was a strategic move, there was nothing in the initial bill that said public access, there was nothing in regards to security or maintenance. And in fact because of that very heated discussion in the Tourism Committee, Turtle Bay has committed for all of the security, all the liability, and they have committed to all the maintenance, the upkeep, the aesthetics of it.

"But what I want to underline, Mr. Speaker, is that not only is this a preservation by the easement, but the fee simple. And the beauty of Kawela Bay, if you haven't been there, they've got some kind of remnants from the Japanese that was going to build hotel, there's a lot of the pilings still on the ground. But the view, the beauty, is something that I think our children's children are going to enjoy for a long, long time ahead. So this is really to me the long term future and the beauty of the North Shore, both for all of the things that it's known for and all of the things that this bill will be known for. This is a historic day and a historic bill.

"I guess one last thing, Mr. Speaker. There's probably a lesson to be learned here. We rushed this thing last year, we kind of scrambled and got it all together at the last minute. Now it's been marinating and it's even better. Could we learn something about marijuana dispensaries because of this? That's all I'm going to say. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Well, I need to say it, with reservations, Mr. Speaker. I was hoping that I could get to that big old yes, although a 'reservation' does mean 'yes' in this place.

"Last year we all heard this bill and I was a strong reservations on this because that was a rusty scalpel version last year. And I reminded all my enviro friends because, see, I'm a tree hugger, please don't come after me for voting and supporting this measure last year. Well, they can't do that this year.

"I'm really glad that now we have some fee simple in this. See, a year's done us great. We went from $40 million down to $35 million. Now we got fee simple when we had no fee simple last year. We still have an easement right. We might get a lease back on this. My biggest problem is the debt service. How are we going to cover that debt service and the fund that we're using for it. Unfortunately, I can't palate that, and that's why they have my reservations on this.

"But this brings me back to why we're in this position right now. And I hope the Mayor's listening to me at this point in time, Mr. Speaker, because I'm speaking to him directly. You see, there was zoning placed on these lands back in the '80s. And they're sitting on those lands still today, helping us get to the situation we're in now. You see, only if we had this robust discussion between the State and the City to start having talks about, use it or lose it. If you don't develop in 10, 5, 15 years, then maybe they should come back in and revisit those zoning options.

"Just like I stated last year, I will be coming back to this Body at some point in time and asking for the purchase of Ohikilolo. It's a beautiful valley just near Makua, and they're coming and doing the same thing, gentleman farms. We are losing great places where the County has placed zoning on it, and the landowner sits there and land bags it, increasing the value with it, bringing us to these points in time, and dangling it in front of us. Saying, we're going to develop that bay and we're going to get multi-million dollars for it. Please don't do that, that's a beautiful area for our community to visit. We shouldn't be in these discussions.

"See, I sit in a valley in Makaha. I can build 5,000 homes tomorrow from zoning from 1980. I have a resort area in the middle of a valley in the country, but yet the Council doesn't listen to us. So I encourage every one of my other legislators here, find those parcels in your community and come back and ask for the same thing.

"Now I support this, and I truly hope we can preserve this land, but we shouldn't be held hostage by developers or people who purchase lands and bankrupt it, such as they did with this property in bankruptcy, and coming in and dangling it in front of that community and the people who truly enjoy our beautiful environment. I will remain with reservations on this because I truly support protecting our natural areas. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to respond, stating:

"Still in strong support, second time. I wanted to address some of the concerns that were brought up earlier by a different Representative. I think for the record it should be noted several questions that were brought up, Mr. Speaker, that I want to highlight.

"This urban designated land has approval to be developed. With this new deal, they have restricted the amount of parcels that will be made into hotel rooms as well as into residential homes, Mr. Speaker. With this new deal before you, we'll also produce 700 construction jobs, over 700 permanent jobs, 750 jobs in the community, as well as bring in $17 million of estimated revenue to the City as well as the State, Mr. Speaker.

"One of the other things that came up, the question was the means of financing. Mr. Speaker, just to highlight the fact that $1.5 million is going to be coming out of the TAT, our tourists will be paying part of that, as well as $1.5 million will be coming out of the land conservation fund.

"Mr. Speaker, again, everybody put skin in the game to make this happen. This wasn't just an issue of just preservation for the sake of preserving. This was an entity in which this was at the request of the community, and involved state, city, private, landowners, as well as nonprofits, as well as the army was consulted, to come to this deal today before you.

"Mr. Speaker, I also would like to highlight that Ms. Bass from my office and I spent numerous hours meeting with the Attorney General to question and re-question the issue of the exposure of this state to the liability regarding the 55 acres in Kawela as well as the easement, since we are pushing that easement back to 150 feet, Mr. Speaker. And we have been assured that because of the easement will still maintain in the control of the landowner, as well as that 55 acres in fee will then be leased from DLNR back to the landowner, that they will encumber all the liability associated with that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pouha rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I won't take long but just to reecho what was said there. Many people have come together for this and in fact I would also like to leave an invitation to Members, if you'd like to come and tour the spot and feel it for yourself, let me know, just as an invitation. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First, a potential conflict. I've been barreled at Turtle Bay before, and should this act pass I will do so again," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative McKelvey continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Very good, Mr. Speaker. Rising in support. You know what, you're right, I feel compelled to also stand up because it was with this very Body's support that we passed a mechanism to do the very same thing on Maui with Lipoa Point. Of course at that time we were trying to rescue the corpus for the retirees whose pensions were at stake, but the mechanisms that seem to be in play here were also in play then.

"I want to thank the Water & Land Chair for continuing to grind away to get the best value possible for the people of Hawaii, Mr. Speaker. Easements weren't good enough for him, Mr. Speaker. What he wanted was fee. He wanted more for the people of Hawaii, and he worked hard, diligently, to ensure that whatever discussions happened in the Tourism Committee would come forward in the bill today.

"And you're right, everybody in this Chamber has places like this that need protection. But we live in a capitalistic free property society. We have more billionaires in the world today than we've ever had. We have a constitution that allows them to come in and invest. You're right, this is the mechanism to save these precious lands from the inevitable. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as we have thanked many for their role in this, and I'm sure everyone knows who's been involved, except for one person who's never been mentioned from the Floor, and I wanted to just sort of as a historic footnote note that, and that is of January 2008, Governor Lingle proposed that we purchase these lands. She even went out with a solicitation for private donations and trying to rally money. Now here, what, seven years later it's finally coming to pass. So I think from that historical effort it's been a long effort in the making, but it has been a successful one. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Really quickly, with reservations, Mr. Speaker. I didn't expect to follow that Floor speech, but I do want to again thank the Tourism Chair, the Water & Land Chair, the Finance Chair, and everyone who worked on this bill. But, last year I was one of two people who voted against this bill. When it came into the Tourism Committee this year, there were no answers as to what this Body needed to know. HTA, doing an appraisal, that was all changed at the Water & Land Committee. So, it is a better bill, but I think it still has some flaws and hopefully we can get it done right so the land can be purchased and set in perpetuity for open space. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 284, SD 2, HD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Final Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Cachola, Jordan and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Har and Kong voting no.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 168 and S.B. No. 1078, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1:

On motion by Representative Saiki, seconded by Representative Evans and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1078, SD 1, HD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

LATE INTRODUCTIONS

The following late introduction was made to the Members of the House:

Representative Luke introduced Finance Committee staff members: Matt Tsujmura, budget section; Stacey Tagala, Research Supervisor; and Alberto Vargas, Budget Chief.

REPORTS OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEES

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, as you are aware, the Senate President and I, and by 'I', I mean Speaker Joe Souki, agreed on the 2015 Committees on Conference procedures that provided that all conference negotiations were to conclude by 6:00 p.m. on Friday, May 1st, 2015. Unfortunately, House Bill 321 received approval to pass in amended form but was not voted upon in Conference Committee by the 6:00 p.m. deadline. The President and I felt that since the conferees were so close to an agreement, allowing this bill to die based on an internal procedural deadline would not be in the best interest of the people of Hawaii. Therefore, permission was given to reenter conference negotiations at 12:00 noon yesterday on this specific measure.

"Conference Committee Report Number 170 and the accompanying draft, noted for 48 hour notice as a product of the authorized negotiations."

Representatives Belatti, Rhoads and Luke, for the Committee on Conference on the disagreeing vote of the House to the amendments proposed by the Senate in H.B. No. 321, HD 1, SD 2, presented a report (Conf. Com. Rep. No. 170) recommending that H.B. No. 321, HD 1, SD 2, as amended in CD 1, pass Final Reading.

In accordance with Article III, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, action on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 170 and H.B. No. 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL MARIJUANA," was deferred for a period of 48 hours.

H.B. No. 821, HD 1, SD 1:

Ayes, 5 (Takumi, Luke, Kong, Ohno and Matsumoto). Noes, none. Excused, none.

Representative Saiki moved that H.B. No. 821, HD 1, SD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Although this is labeled as housekeeping, this along with the other early education bills is the Legislature's commitment to continue to look at ways to help early education. The person who has really shepherded this issue is our Education Chair, and he is the champion of kids from pre-kindergarten, from three to five, and he will continue to make that commitment to publicly finance early education, so this is a very important measure. So, thank you to the Education Chair."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 821, HD 1, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION," passed Final Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, an event that all fathers are very proud of is when their daughter graduates from college, especially when they graduate in three years for a four year degree. Unfortunately, I'm going to be in Santa Barbara on Thursday at my daughter's graduation, and I'm going to miss the proceedings. I'm sure you're going to miss my no vote on the marijuana dispensaries, singing Aloha 'Oe, and all those other good things. But I wanted to say to my colleagues, it's been a pleasure serving with you. And, Mr. Speaker, this has been one of the most mellow sessions that we've had in a long time. So, thank you all. Aloha."

Representative LoPresti: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to acknowledge that today is National Teacher Day, and if you see a teacher please thank a teacher. We've all been affected by them, HSTA or private. Many of you here have been my teachers and I'm very grateful for what I've learned from you.

"Teachers as a profession, it's one of the least appreciated in our society, and I find that just depressing, but I certainly appreciate them a great deal. They're underpaid, overworked, and they have so many professional obligations that they have to meet day in and day out, and so much pressure. I think we need to stop blaming teachers and support them. So, Happy Teacher Day."

ADJOURNMENT

At 4:04 o'clock p.m., on motion by Representative Evans, seconded by Representative Tupola and carried, the House of Representatives adjourned until 10:00 o'clock a.m., Thursday, May 7, 2015. (Representative Oshiro was excused.)

HOUSE COMMUNICATIONS

House Communication dated May 5, 2015, from Brian L. Takeshita, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, to the Honorable President and Members of the Senate, informing the Senate that the House has reconsidered its action taken in disagreeing to the amendments made by the Senate on April 16, 2015, and gives its notice of intent to agree to the following House Bills:

H.B. No. 346, HD 1, SD 2
H.B. No. 971, HD 1, SD 2

House Communication dated May 5, 2015, from Brian L. ## ORDER OF THE DAY

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Evans, seconded by Representative Tupola and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain House Bills for Final Reading by consent calendar. (Representatives Ing, Tokioka and Ward were excused.)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 170 and H.B. No. 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1:

Representative Saiki moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to this measure. Well, I'd like to incorporate my remarks from Second Reading. Since we're all in a happy mood here today, I'll try to keep it brief.

"I think this is a bridge to full-blown legalization within five years. I think the number of dispensaries is disproportionate to the infinitesimally small need out there, a legitimate need that does exist for children with seizures or autism or someone who is dying of cancer, and this provides some relief. I certainly agree with providing them a solution, and perhaps a boutique-style solution much smaller in scale would be more appropriate. But this, Mr. Speaker, seems to me to be putting the infrastructure in place for full-blown legalization within five years, and I don't think we need more booze, I don't think we need more drugs.

"What's particularly troubling to me is I see that PTSD was added as a condition, when in fact the movement among the medical professionals is to remove the marines, soldiers, sailors and airmen who have PTSD from drugs, from psychoactive substances, to get them off that, to address those issues with counseling because they are emotional and traumatic, and psychotherapy seems to be a better case. I've been briefed on PTSD several times quite extensively, and the movement definitely is to get them off drugs. So I don't think the AMA or the FDA has approved medical marijuana to treat PTSD, so I'm curious as to why it's in there. Perhaps there are one or two cases where that may be the only thing that provides relief, a departure from reality for a few moments for someone, but I don't think it should be a policy decision.

"The other thing that is troubling is the bona fide doctor-patient relationship. I mean, exactly what is that? We have a physician here in the room. If I go see him and say, you know I twisted my ankle, will you take a look at it? He looks at it and he tells me to ice it up. I acted as a patient, he acted as a physician, that's a bona fide relationship. It's very loosey-goosey, as my good friend from Hawaii Kai would like to say.

"I have compassion for those who are in need, for that infinitesimally small group of people, but I think this plus the size and scope of it, the camel's nose is under the tent and within five years we'll have full-blown legalization. And I can assure you there are people in this room right now who that's exactly what they want, five years, full-blown legalization. So I think we should be honest with the people and tell them this is the infrastructure to get in place so when we come in and on a whim say, okay, we're going to legalize it, the stores are already there, just a few tweaks and modifications. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in respectful opposition."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am writing with reservations on HB 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1.

"Mr. Speaker, I strongly support the use of marijuana by individuals that have a legitimate medical reason to do so. If marijuana can help a child with epilepsy, then I can definitely see the legitimate medicinal use for it, contrary to marijuana's Schedule I classification. There are patients out there that legitimately need this. For them, this is not a recreational endeavor, but a medical one which sets them on the path to better health.

"The truth of the matter is, until the federal government changes the way it handles marijuana, no state can safely pursue any actions with cannabis, medical or otherwise, without undue legal implications. The fact that these dispensaries cannot even access our banking systems that every other business entity enjoys is a huge obstacle. Cash is less traceable and secure than electronic transactions. Unfortunately, we are forced to conduct dispensary business in cash due to the banks fear of losing FDIC status from the federal government if they participate in transactions involving marijuana.

"As attractive as the profits look in places like Colorado, let's not forget that expanding our state's involvement into medical marijuana will without a doubt cost the State money. Whether it is for increased law enforcement training or more regulatory personnel and programs, our taxpayers will be footing the bill even though they are not participants in the medical marijuana system.

"This measure as written makes opening a dispensary a rich man's game. In order to open up shop, an applicant will have to provide a $5,000 application fee that is non-refundable. While it is more reasonable than the previous versions of the bill, not many of our residents can afford to donate that amount of money to the special fund with no hopes of being selected. Beyond that, the fact that an applicant must have a minimum of $1 million in financial resources and no less than $100,000 for each dispensing location makes sure that those with money run these dispensaries.

"Money does not always denote quality of applicants, Mr. Speaker, and unfortunately it may open this system up to more outside influence and corruption. As those living here try to set up their dispensary, they will have to seek outside funding to support the steep fees, including the $75,000 fee for the license in addition to the non-refundable $5,000 application fee.

"I am troubled about potential influx of illegal activity that the dispensary system could potentially foster. Criminal elements are already adept at the marijuana business, what is going to stop them from getting their hands in it when there is a legal avenue? Criminal enterprises will have the cash on hand to fund dispensaries, it worries me that criminal investors will be financing some of these operations behind the scene. It has already happened in places like Colorado, this bill has the potential to lead us down that road.

"The elimination of primary caregivers' ability to cultivate marijuana after 2018 is not a positive move for our patients. I am appreciative that the bill gives considerations to our neighbor islands that do not fully require the dispensaries like Molokai and Lanai. However, how long until we push those islands into adopting a dispensary? When that occurs, our primary caregivers' ability to cultivate will be phased out. I know many of our kupuna are benefiting from this patient-caregiver relationship. Some of our kupuna that cannot grow themselves are provided their medicine for free by their primary caregiver and, in a state where our costs for everything are so high, this helps them immensely. If we care about our patients, Mr. Speaker, we should preserve their options, not force them to accept a dispensary model and the cost that comes with it.

"The question of safety and liability is also an issue. I have constituents concerned about the increased ease of access and what this may mean for the safety of our residents. We all know people are going to drive under the influence. Increasing availability will bring more individuals access to prescription cannabis, whether it is their prescription or someone else's, and this may increase the amount of individuals driving while intoxicated.

"As in the case of prescription painkillers, the liability will fall on the user. Ultimately those whose family or friends are killed in part because of someone driving under the influence of prescription cannabis will feel as if the State should be accountable for proliferating accessibility with inadequate control measures. How do we even begin to address this when we already have a large problem with people driving under the influence of alcohol and prescription drugs? How will we give law enforcement the tools to keep our residents safe from this threat when we currently have no reliable way to test for intoxication of marijuana? These are a few things that we really have no clear answer to, Mr. Speaker, and that concerns me.

"On that note, Mr. Speaker, we should also look toward tightening restrictions on the issuing of medical marijuana cards. It is common knowledge that it is relatively easy to obtain one, regardless of legitimate medical need. If we want legalization, then we should be upfront about it, instead of propping up false justification through these medical marijuana cards. This should not be misconstrued as me being against medicinal marijuana for patients with legitimate need, I understand and support them. I believe they deserve a better system.

"The doctor-patient relationship should be more clearly defined as well. It should require a longer term of interaction between a doctor and a patient to ensure that this patient has been with a doctor for a time period longer than one visit and is not 'one-stop shopping' for a doctor to liberally dole out a prescription.

"Mr. Speaker and distinguished Members of this Body, I know no measure is perfect. I am certain that our dispensary system will need work, as we progress we must adjust accordingly to streamline a better and fairer system. I urge everyone to please take careful consideration of the implications of HB 321 as it passes out of this Body because our work does not end here. Thank you."

Representative Jordan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, Mr. Speaker. I'm glad we're here at this finish line. As I had requested on Second Reading, I hoped this bill would make it to this point in time, and I hope we all have the courage to make it past that final five yards. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I support this bill with reservations. I agree with the Representative from Wahiawa that this measure is far from a perfect solution and many issues remain to be addressed. One of my biggest concerns is the exemption from Chapter 91 rulemaking for the Department of Health to draft interim rules to govern this new program. This complete exemption from Chapter 91 means absolutely no public input on the rules regarding security, inventory tracking, labeling, etc. of medical marijuana dispensaries and/or production centers.

"My other concern is that nothing in this bill requires dispensaries to provide medical marijuana products at a price that patients can afford. I feel deeply for the families that struggle to care for a child with seizures, who need certain chemicals from marijuana to treat his or her medical condition. I have yet to see a provision that ensures that these families will be able to afford to purchase the products they need.

"I will track this program as it develops and closely monitor the outcome. I have no doubt that we will be making adjustments to the law for many years into the future. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and I'd like to just add one thing, that I think 15 years for 13,000 people is too long to wait."

Representative Lee rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. An immediate member of my family stands to benefit as a recipient of medical marijuana. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Lee continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. This bill, of any we've passed this session, is probably more personal to me than anything else we've debated. I was really proud to introduce my sister this morning, who was able to join us. I think this is the first time I've introduced her in all the years I've been here at the Capitol. And she doesn't make it down here that often because she doesn't make it out of the house every day all that often, because she has good days and she has bad days.

"The truth is, it's tragic that someone as young, and she's certainly not the only one, but it's tragic that someone as young as her suffers from diabetes and multiple sclerosis, which imposes upon her conditions that lead to blindness, loss of mobility, loss of the ability to be a human being. And no matter how much money is thrown at this, no matter how much, and thank goodness insurance covers it for now, but no amount of drugs, hundreds of thousands of dollars of drugs prescribed to her, has been able to do even a dent of what the medical marijuana that she's been able to get in the past has been able to do.

"And I'm so lucky, we are so lucky, that we have come this far to recognize that this isn't a question of public safety. This is a question of helping those around us. Because everybody, every single one of us here in this Chamber, and I guarantee you thousands more standing outside, have, if not family members, friends, neighbors, people they know who have been afflicted with terrible illness, terrible conditions and terrible disease, for whom help has been fleeting and yet pain so acute. And one of the only things that has been able to help so many of these people has been this option, which we are here today to hand them and say, please, it's not perfect, but take this because it is all that can help for so many people. And so I stand in strong support and I just ask folks to consider others around them. Thank you very much."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. This isn't a perfect world, this isn't a perfect bill. As we say, the perfect is the enemy of the good, and this is a good bill. It will help a lot of people, it's a compassionate bill, and it's a step in the right direction. Sure, it's going to be changed as time goes on, but this is, for right now, this is as good as we're going to get and I think it's very good. Thank you."

Representative Johanson rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. I continue to have serious concerns about the potential expansion of marijuana use that may accompany policy changes in our laws. The health and public safety consequences of any of our decisions must always be of paramount consideration. The fact remains, though, that medical marijuana is legal in Hawaii and has been so for 15 years. This is not a discussion about whether or not medical marijuana should be legal, but a discussion about whether or not we should continue to countenance a system and laws that put people in a double bind. I find it hard to support laws that make obtaining medicine difficult to impossible, and in so doing, encourage illegal activity to secure medical marijuana, which is what our current system does. What this bill does is create a way for qualified patients to obtain medicine and for law enforcement to be able to better regulate medical marijuana.

"I appreciate the incorporation of the many law enforcement provisions included in this bill, including the creation of criminal penalties for inappropriate promotion and uses of medical marijuana. I also appreciate the pre-empting of potential loopholes in being able to acquire medical marijuana from multiple sources. I do continue to have concerns about the provision of this bill ceding our legislative prerogative to the Department of Health for further authorization of dispensary licenses above and beyond the limits established in the bill. I believe we must remain vigilant and diligent in ensuring this initial step we take is a step in the right direction as both a public health and safety policy."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in strong support. A constituent of mine dropped this off in my front yard the other week, and I want to show the House of Representatives what medical marijuana, when properly done, looks like. It comes sealed with all of the trappings of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the State of Colorado warnings. It is in prescription bottle form. It is not the baggie that we learned back in the '60s or '70s. This allows those who really need it to be able to use a drug that they need as a drug and not as a back door, back alley kind of thing to relieve their pain. This bill is about compassion, and for that I stand in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Ohno rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Choy rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Choy's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to HB 321. I do not begrudge anyone from obtaining the medicine that they need. But this bill starts a marijuana industry not only for medicinal purposes, but an industry that some will profit from on the backs of sick individuals. This bill has so many fees and infrastructure costs added to the cost of the marijuana that the individuals needing this medicine will have to ultimately pay an extraordinary price. I wonder if we charge Longs Drugs as much to sell drugs to people?

"Mr. Speaker, there are other problems with this measure such as the audit requirements. It has yet to be determined if a Certified Public Accountant can audit a business that sells a product that is classified as illegal by the federal government. I believe the banking and the law professions also have similar concerns.

"Mr. Speaker, sick people need medicine. They don't need to get ripped off or be a part of a scheme to a profiteer. My conservative colleague alluded to the future when marijuana would become legal, and I hope that when that day comes we do not use marijuana as a funding scheme for government and profiteers."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support but with reservations. I'd like to put my remarks or comments in the Journal. And with this, my reservation lies in the fact that a lot of us are saying this is not a perfect bill. Not only that, there are good things about this and bad things about this. In Finance I requested that we should put a drop dead clause in the bill, so that it's a warning to everyone that if this policy that we're setting up is becoming to be a big problem, they will notice that there's at least a certain period that this will end, but if it's going to be good it continues. So it's more or less a way of giving notice to the public, behave, otherwise this bill is going to drop dead. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cachola's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support with reservations. My reservations are based on the following concerns:

1. This is not a perfect bill.
2. Opposition argument is based on possibility of the policy being abused.
3. Other jurisdictions are already having problems with similar policy.
4. While in FIN Committee I raised the possibility of including a "Drop Dead Clause".
   a. This clause would give notice to everyone that if there are more problems created by this policy than the good help intended, without revisiting, the policy will expire.
   b. It will be harder to make amendments once implemented, even to make corrections to address problems.
   c. With these considerations, a "Drop Dead Clause" added to this policy could have been a deterrent of potential abuses.

"These are the reasons I voted in support, with reservations."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and request to enter written comments. Mr. Speaker, I'm going to keep this very brief. I did have a long speech prepared, but I just want to make sure that we thank all the people who were part of this effort. This truly to me is the people's bill, Mr. Speaker, that has had many hands work on it. I would be remiss if I didn't thank the HCR 148 Task Force members, the UH Public Policy Center, Susan Chandler and her team of intrepid graduate students, Michelle Ibanez, Laura Scheutze and Kathryn Ranney. The LRB 'A Team' that we introduced earlier, all of the State employees from the Department of Health, the Department of Public Safety, the Department of Taxation, DCCA, the various prosecutors' offices. And lastly, Mr. Speaker, thanking you, the Judiciary Chair, the Finance Chair, and all of the colleagues here and in the Senate who really used this bill as an opportunity to have ideas clash, and that we did in fact, I believe, present a very, very good bill at the end of the day. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of House Bill 321, Conference Draft 1 that establishes a regulated statewide dispensary system for the purpose of providing safe and legal access to medical marijuana for Hawaii's medical marijuana patients.

"As has been stated throughout this session, this bill has been a long time in the making with patients waiting over 15 years since 2000, when this state made history as the first state to enact the medical use of marijuana through its legislature versus an initiative process.

"Earlier this week, I spoke about the power of the community and the importance of compromise in shaping our laws. This measure embodies both of these principles. The effort for this particular bill got jumpstarted when you, Mr. Speaker, made safe and legal access to medical marijuana a priority in your Opening Day speech in 2014 and challenged all of us to have bold ideas and exhibit bold leadership.

"We took up your challenge that year by laying the important groundwork and starting the important task of bringing the community into the lawmaking process. This House, along with the Senate, enacted House Concurrent Resolution 148 and created the HCR 148 Task Force that worked diligently over many months with 21 task force members representing patients, doctors, caregivers, agriculture, drug abuse prevention groups, law enforcement, and representatives from the Departments of Health, Public Safety, Taxation, Commerce and Consumer Affairs, and the Attorney General.

"This task force drew upon the best practices of other states by reviewing: (i) the Legislative Reference Bureau's 2014 report 'Is the Grass Always Greener? An Updated Look at Other State Medical Marijuana Programs,' authored by Research Attorney Lance Ching with the assistance of Research Attorney Johnny Brannon; and (ii) the State Auditor's 'Sunrise Analysis: Regulation of Medical Marijuana Dispensaries.' The State Auditor concluded, in part, that 'the regulation of a distribution system for medical marijuana is warranted to protect Hawaii's qualifying patients and the wider community.'

"Facilitated by the Department of Health, the task force also drew upon the experience of other states through the conducting of two conference calls with officials involved in the administration of medical marijuana dispensary programs in Arizona and New Mexico.

"Lastly, pursuant to HCR 48, the task force brought the community into the deliberative process by conducting two public hearings – one on the island of Hawaii and the other on Oahu – to receive public input and testimony on issues and concerns regarding dispensaries in Hawaii and on the updated report received from the Legislative Reference Bureau. Both public hearings were well attended by members of the public, and the task force received written and verbal testimony from 79 members of the public that overwhelmingly supported the establishment of a well-regulated statewide dispensary system for medical marijuana. Through this very public process, the task force came up with 33 recommendations – 24 of which have been adopted by House Bill 321, Conference Draft 1.

"Where the Legislature did not adopt the recommendations of the task force, I believe we engaged in the important work of compromise to arrive at a bill that could begin Hawaii's implementation of medical marijuana dispensaries. While still not the perfect bill by anyone's measure, the compromises forged in this bill allow for a quicker implementation timeline so that instead of dispensaries being licensed and operating in 2017, House Bill 321, Conference Draft 1 has a shorter timeline that will allow for dispensing as early as July 15, 2016, with licenses being issued by April 15, 2016. This shorter timeline is due, in part, to the compromise of establishing fewer vertically integrated dispensary licenses with a limited number of production centers and retail locations – both of which can be subcontracted under the overarching dispensary license – in comparison to the larger number and horizontally separated production and dispensing licenses as recommended by the task force.

"Another important compromise was embedding residency and financial viability requirements into this bill that would allow the State to better determine that legitimate business interests with a history of doing business in the State are the businesses that can be trusted to grow the medical marijuana industry here in the State. While there are legitimate concerns about the constitutionality of the residency requirements, insofar as marijuana continues to be a Schedule I drug at the federal level, there is a compelling state interest in having these residency requirements – both for the individual applicant and the applying business entity – to ensure the health and safety of the people of Hawaii by requiring that legitimate business interests with a track record here in the State are responsible for the development of medical marijuana dispensaries in Hawaii.

"Finally, one other important set of compromises revolve around security and product safety requirements, as well as crimes and penalties newly established by House Bill 321, Conference Draft 1. Throughout this process, balancing the needs of patient access to safe medicine with the concerns of law enforcement has been primary among many legislators and community advocates. Many security and safety measures have been placed into the bill, including minimal security requirements for production and dispensing facilities, requirements for labeling, and prohibitions on advertising that is attractive to children. At the strong request of the Attorney General's Office, House Bill 321 also adopts new crimes and penalties that hopefully will satisfy federal law enforcement authorities that Hawaii is very clear about and committed to maintaining a tightly regulated system.

"The goal of the task force was to achieve consensus on concrete recommendations to provide to the Legislature for passage of a bill to establish medical marijuana dispensaries in Hawaii. The goal of any legislature should be to try to take the ideas of the community and forge the necessary compromises that will produce results for the public, being mindful that improvements can be made in the future. I believe we did this with House Bill 321, Conference Draft 1, and I support passage of this measure."

Representative Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill. First of all, may I ask permission to submit written comments, and also by reference to have my prior written remarks on prior debates also referenced to this session today. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

"Let me first of all adopt the words of the Representative from Waimanalo as my very own. Those are my exact thoughts as far as the necessity for a well-run, regulated dispensary system, I agree with them. I also agree with the comments of my colleague from the island of Hawaii, Puna District. That's exactly what we need here as far as a well-run, regulated dispensary system.

"Let me articulate maybe 10 different points on the bill itself so I can focus upon the bill itself and the problems I find within the bill that may jeopardize our ability to run well-regulated medical marijuana dispensaries to address the needs of the bona fide patients who heretofore have not been able to receive and obtain relief for their serious ailments because of deficiencies in the current law. I do support the current law and I do support establishing medical marijuana dispensaries, but it has to be done right. And once this decision is made, we can never go back. So please, I ask for your indulgence.

"Number one, qualifications for dispensary applicants require both an individual and entity. However, the entity criteria has already been prequalified to exclude certain persons and businesses over others. If you did not have a bank and can show proof of it through a bank statement for 12 months prior to the date of application, in other words January 12, 2016 through January 29, 2016, you are ineligible to even apply. Thus this applies only to entities that had a bank account as of January 29, 2015.

"Number two, licensees must only show that they have $1.2 million to apply, but it is only for qualification purposes and not required to remain in the account in escrow or act as a bond in case of lawsuit, default, civil or criminal liability. It could be a loan between oneself and one's company. In one day, out the next. But imposing a $1.2 million prequalification requirement narrows down the application pool substantially.

"Number three, there are no standards for the selection criteria set forth in the conference draft apart from the language, quote, 'Upon verification of the minimum requirements, the department shall place the verified application into the pool of applicants for further review and selection based on merit by the department.' This is page 13. And, quote, 'Criteria and procedures for the consideration and selection, based on merit, of applications for licensure of dispensaries'. That's all you have regarding the criteria of selection.

"Number four, definition of marijuana throughout this bill that can be sold at a retail dispensary is much more than pills, capsules, oils and lozenges as in previous House drafts. It now includes tinctures, oil extracts, ointments and skin lotions. This means that even super concentrated forms of high THC products like butane hash oil derivatives like wax or shatter can be sold at these dispensaries.

"Number five, there is no limitation on the amount of THC in the oil product, oil extracts, tinctures, ointments or skin lotions. These five items are not capped as far as the amount of THC they can have and contain. Unlike language found on page 33, lines 10 through 18, there is no 10% THC by dosage or by wrapping."

Representative Say rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro continued, stating:

"Number six, this is important, Mr. Speaker. The much heralded and talked about real-time tracking of production, inventory and transportation and sale is illusory under the conference draft. There is no appropriation for the Department of Health to purchase what may be a half to one million dollar software system, and thus the Department of Health will not be able to establish, maintain and control a computer software tracking system for all dispensary production facilities and retail dispensaries. Along with that, Mr. Speaker, there is no need for dispensary's production centers to interface with the computer system, software system, Department of Health, when none exists.

"Number seven, there is no limitation on what other products can be sold at the retail dispensary. In prior drafts there was language to prohibit the sale, but not in this draft.

"Number eight, prior drafts of this bill contain specific minimum standards of requirements for the laboratories contracted by dispensaries regarding content contamination and consistency, but the conference draft allows Department of Health to merely come up with the rules with little or no guidance or standards.

"Number nine, Mr. Speaker, the licensees do not have to own or operate or control the production centers or retail dispensaries, but can subcontract with other entities that have lower standards than the licensees. They do not have to be organized under the laws of Hawaii. They do not have to be owned by Hawaii residents or controlled by Hawaii shareholders, or even employ, retain folks with felony convictions or submit to criminal background checks.

"Number ten, the location of the production centers do not have to be disclosed to the Department of Health until 30 days before they begin to produce marijuana products. Similarly, a retail dispensary need not disclose its location to the Department of Health until 60 days before it opens. Great for the business, but what about the community? What about the neighborhood? What about local legislators, county councils, et cetera?

"Number eleven, the prior bill had restrictions on commercial advertising, but this conference draft has none except the Department of Health to establish rules. In prior drafts we are well aware of the need to prevent advertising to young people, youth, teens, et cetera, using cartoons or other things that might be attractive to them. But there's nothing like that in this draft.

"Number twelve, there is no guarantee that any licensee or production center or retail dispensary will produce or manufacture or make available for sale any of the products that would benefit young women, young girls, families like the young girl from Mililani Town. There is no requirement. Other states like Maine, New York and Massachusetts have done so, trying to impose it upon these licensees, but that's not in this bill.

"Thirteen, Mr. Speaker, there is no language in this bill to prohibit the manufacturing of and sale of edible marijuana-infused products. This is dangerous to young people. Passage of this measure will be a stepping stone for legalization of marijuana or recreational marijuana in a few short years. And again, Mr. Speaker, I support the medical marijuana dispensary idea concept, but it has to be well regulated. This is not the case here. But let me continue.

"As a Drug Policy Forum of Hawaii leading advocate, Rafael Kennedy, said moments after the conference vote was taken, 'my organization and many advocates will push for legalization in the years to come,' end quote.

"And finally, Mr. Speaker, we should not approve this conference draft, but give ourselves the ability to do some further research and independent investigation at two of our sister western states, Colorado and Washington. They both have annual meetings that we are all invited to attend. The CSG annual meeting entitled, Balance Your Attitude with a Change in Altitude. This one is on July 28 in Vail, Colorado. The National Conference of State Legislatures has a similar annual meeting of all states in Seattle, Washington.

"Mr. Speaker, let me wrap it up. We only have one shot in doing the right thing the right way. Once the bell is rung, there is no going back. Vested interests of profiteers and those with money and wealth will not allow it and will fight tooth and nail to protect their turf and keep and enlarge what they have. No state, no state that opened the door, ever closed it. Not one. By legalizing the commercial growing and selling of marijuana and marijuana products, albeit for medicinal purposes, we are bringing a new enterprise to Hawaii's shores and it will be equal to or greater than the effect upon Hawaii's people than the harvesting of sandalwood or whaling in the 1800s."

Representative DeCoite rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Oshiro continued, stating:

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, I didn't intend to speak today, but given some of the proponents in the gallery, I wanted them to clearly understand the impressions and passions and feelings and beliefs of those who may oppose this bill. We are not mean-spirited. We are not uncompassionate. We are not without understanding of the benefits of the medical purposes and uses of marijuana. We know that much has to be done by the federal government, the Food and Drug Administration, and we support all of those endeavors. We beseech our President to change the rules and scheduling. These are all what we support, Mr. Speaker, and I'm here speaking for this group of individuals who will be voting no.

"But underscoring all of this, Mr. Speaker, is the need to have a good system that makes sense and protects the interests of those in our larger community. Mr. Speaker, I thank you for your indulgence, I thank the Members for their indulgence, and I mean no harm to anyone here today. I ask for permission to submit further written comments. Thank you."

Representative Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"NINETEEN REASONS WHY I OPPOSE HB 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1

1. Qualifications for dispensary applicants require both (1) an individual and (2) an entity. However, the 'entity' criteria has already pre-qualified certain persons and businesses over others in that the entity applicant must show copies of the entities' BANK statements from twelve months prior to the date of the application. The application window for each license runs from January 12, 2016 through January 29, 2016. Thus, only entities that had a BANK account as of January 29, 2015 need apply and are pre-qualified and eligible to 'win' one of the six dispensary licenses.

2. The individual applicant only needs to be 21 years old or older, a 'legal resident of the State' for five years, and has no felony convictions. He or she need not have any ownership interest, shareholder interest, board membership, or any legal or fiduciary or trust responsibility or obligation. The individual applicant could even be a paid agent or family member or friend or employee. On the other hand, the 'entity' applicant has more than three requirements but essentially needs only to demonstrate a mere 51% ownership by

Hawaii residents or Hawaii-controlled companies, who have been legal residents for more than five years prior to application submittal. This means that the eligible owners or companies must have been established in Hawaii no later than January 29, 2011. The pre-qualification may inadvertently keep out many well-respected malahini entrepreneurs and may even forbade Hawaii ex-patriots from applying too. Furthermore, the residency requirement of five years may exceed the constitutional limits under the Federal Constitution and be struck down as an illegal restraint on trade or commerce between the states or violate right to travel restrictions among the states.

3. Numerous questions remain regarding professional services like public accountancy, law, and banking. In January 2015, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants found that a CPA should consider whether a state board would consider it to be a discreditable act to provide services to a business that may violate federal drug laws even though legally operating otherwise. Presently, New Mexico is considering removing its independent audit requirement for its Medical Marijuana businesses until the federal and state laws do not conflict. Likewise, the Model Rules of Professional Responsibility and Ethics prohibit an attorney from knowingly facilitating a client's criminal conduct and that may make any engagement problematic or at least a cause for concern or maybe even additional malpractice or E&O insurance coverage. Finally, Edward Pai, Executive Director, Hawaii Bankers Association, reminds us that 'under current circumstances, it is highly unlikely any bank in Hawaii will enter into any relationship with marijuana dispensaries.' This 'new' medical marijuana business is on average about 2-3 years old, and the unsettled business and legal standards and current banking questions may set the stage for unforeseeable business challenges, expectations and results.

4. Licensees must only show they have $1.2 million to apply for a license but it is only for qualification purposes and is not required to remain in the possession, account, in escrow or act as a bond in case of lawsuit, default, or civil or criminal liability. In short, it could be a loan between oneself and one's company. In one day and out the next. But, imposing a $1.2 million pre-qualification requirement narrows down the application pool substantially. And, how did the conference committee arrive at $1 million? Is this a requirement that we apply to any other business? How many of you know someone with $1.2 million lying around?

5. There are no standards for the selection criteria set forth in the CD. Apart from language that reads, 'Upon verification of the minimum requirements, the department shall place the verified application into the pool of applicants for further review and selection based on merit by the department.' (pg. 13) and 'Criteria and procedures for the consideration and selection, BASED ON MERIT, of application for licensure of dispensaries . . . '.(Page 21(-7)(3) – page 22, lines 1-2). This makes it very subjective and susceptible to misinterpretation and misapplication. Especially where there is no further language of how selection will be conducted, or by whom, but left exclusively with the DOH.

6. Definition of marijuana that can be sold at the retail dispensary is much more than pills, capsules, oils and lozenges as in previous House drafts. It now includes tinctures, oil extracts, ointments and skin lotions. This means that even concentrated forms of high THC products like Butane Hash Oil derivatives like 'WAX' or 'SHATTER' can be manufactured or sold. And, all without any quality assurance of contaminants and purity standards as demanded in previous drafts. One wonders if this is because the current industry practice is not to assure purity and food grade safety or free from contaminants and even residual petrochemicals. In recent Colorado and Washington regulatory reports, the issues of purity, contamination levels and appropriate standards reveal the uncertainty for both consumers and regulators. But, if we are sincere about our afflicted and ill patients, I cannot imagine how we can slough off these important and essential standards to currently underfunded staff at the Department of Health.

7. There is also no limitation on the amount of THC in the oil extracts, tinctures, ointments or skin lotions. These four items are not capped. Unlike language limiting content per serving or dose to 10 mg and found on page 31, lines 10-18, there is no 10 mg THC limitation on the amount of one dose, serving, or as a single wrapped item. That means these products could have an unlimited amount of THC and allow for a more potent single serving or dose. This can be very dangerous to unwary lotion users as epidermal contact can be just as powerful as gestation or inhalation. And, of course oil extracts, tinctures, ointments and skin lotions are very, very dangerous to young children and toddlers. A tiny piece the size of a pin head is enough to get an adult high for several hours, and tic-tac candy size of oil extract may be the equivalent to a dozen or more doses. Very, very dangerous and possible lethal to toddlers and babies.

8. Much heralded and talked about real-time tracking of production, inventory, transportation and sale is illusory under the Conference Draft, as there is NO appropriation for the Department of Health to purchase what may be a $750,000 to $1,000,000 software system. This means that the Department of Health will not be able to establish, maintain and control a computer software tracking system for all dispensaries, production centers and farms regarding 'seed–to-sale' possession from propagation, growing, harvesting, conversion, manufacturing, product inventory, conversion weight to manufactured weight, product coding, real-time purchase amount, waste produced by each plant, transportation security and distribution tracking and back-tracking. In short, the DOH would have no way of knowing what is being grown, harvested, manufactured, converted, transported, consigned, sold, destroyed, or lost, etc., without this computer software system. Likewise, without this 'seed-to-sale' tracking software the dispensary licensee or production center or retail dispensary will have nothing to interface' with the Department of Health. In short, this means that the State of Hawaii may be unable to monitor and ensure compliance with these laws and related rules. This may even jeopardize the federal forbearance under the Ogden and Cole Memorandums, and cause a complete shutdown of the envisioned dispensary program and retail sales.

9. The Conference Draft of H.B. 321 uses the same definition of marijuana to define the four ounce limit that patients/caregivers can purchase from retail dispensary in a 15 day/30 days period as the definition that defines 'adequate supply'. So, it can be argued, and probably will, that instead of only being allowed to have an 'adequate supply' of marijuana, the purchasers could buy four ounces of concentrated 'wax', 'shatter', 'oil', 'lozenge', or any combination up to four ounces. To illustrate how much concentrated marijuana product we are looking at, consider that a dime is about one gram in weight and a nickel about five grams in weight. According to well-known and authoritative published sources like 'High Times' and the NORML website, and other legalization advocacy groups, the average one gram of concentrated 'wax' or 'shatter' provides 15-20 hits or doses. The upside of this concentrated product is that it would be easy to carry in your shirt pocket, billfold, backpack, purse, or even used in an e-cigarette or pocket-vaporizer. The downside is that it would be easy to take it into a prohibited area (federal property, national park, military installation) or hide from others, and even send to friends via the U.S. mail or Federal Express. This definition of 'adequate supply' and legal amount to purchase from a retail dispensary will allow for the sale of a very large quantity of a very potent and more addictive form of marijuana. Again, like No. 7 above, given its appearance and size, very, very dangerous to young children and toddlers.

10. Where prior versions of the H.B. 321 required license applicants to demonstrate upfront – as part of the application process – the capacity to analyze products for quality, content, consistency and potency, the current Conference Draft does not have these important requirements to protect and ensure patient and customer safety. One explanation is that in the marijuana industry today there are no universally accepted standards and measurement tools to measure THC content of the marijuana flowers, extracts, edibles and lotions. Food products and edibles make it very difficult to ascertain the individual potency of 'scored' candy bars. Items like brownies and cookies are also revealing an inability to accurately determine the THC levels as the effective dose may be concentrated in one part of the item and not equally mixed throughout. The same problem can be said for standards for quality, content, purity, contamination and toxicity. And, private laboratory results have produced differing measurements of the purity, contamination and THC levels within states like Colorado, Washington and Oregon. The truth is, the Conference Draft provides no guidance to the DOH and it is uncertain if they can warrant the content, quality, purity and safety of a consumer product we are allowing to be sold to medical patients. The Department of Agriculture has usually taken a role through its measurements and standards branch, but in the present Conference Draft are not involved or directed to weigh in. Maybe this was an oversight.

11. There is no limitation on what other products can be sold at the retail dispensary. In prior drafts there was language to prohibit the sale of other products but here there are none. This means that the retail dispensary can sell not only marijuana products and paraphernalia, but other products and services that can be used to entice new users or patients and even mass market, co-brand, and believe it or not, appeal to a younger market and future consumers. Think about clothing lines like Quicksilver or Billabong. Fashionable surf wear that was made for the non-surfer but sold as a 'lifestyle' clothing line. Think e-cigarettes and vaping and vaporizing. How e-cigarettes are the 'new' tobacco and the contemporary means to consume addictive nicotine. Cigarettes to the Millennials is so old fashioned and not trendy or acceptable. Also, consider how the sale of non-marijuana related items as the means around the law to allow other kinds of consumers to be exposed to a retail dispensary or even have a non-marijuana business closely adjacent to the retail dispensary. How about a massage business, nail salon, athletic club, juice bar or coffee shop? Maybe even a Starbucks store. The intelligence and inventiveness of profiteers knows no bounds and certainly they will take miles of profit from every legal inch that we give them.

12. The licensees do NOT have to OWN or OPERATE the Production Centers or Retail Dispensaries, but can subcontract with other entities that have lower standards than licensees, and they do not even have to be organized under Hawaii laws, owned by Hawaii residents, or submit to background checks. The actual 'face' of the growers and sellers will probably be contracted out to some mainland outfit with experience to grow, manufacture, market and sell. This 'subcontract' option was never in previous drafts, but will allow external business operations and their personnel and agents to gain a foothold in Hawaii. This is very disturbing to me as I really wonder why we should expose our communities, and especially our young people, to this new social experiment of allowing for-profit commercialization of growing and selling marijuana for medicinal purposes. Recall that, apart from California which began its formal legalization at the county level in 2004, most states like New Mexico, Arizona, Maine and Colorado only have six or less years of experience in marijuana dispensaries. A mere blink of an eye in the timeline of examining and reflecting upon heretofore new and uncertain social public policy. The chart below sets out the facts of how new this policy of commercialization and retail sales is in the U.S.A. and among the states.

13. The location of the Production Centers does not have to be disclosed to the Department of Health until 30 days before they begin to produce marijuana products or manufacture marijuana products. Similarly, a Retail Dispensary need not disclose its location to the DOH until 60 days or two months before it opens. This means that a community, nearby business, adjacent farmer, or resident may not get any notice until the Department of Health does. Certainly, this is good for the marijuana business growing medical marijuana or opening up its retail shop, but not so good for community input, neighborhood vetting, local legislator involvement, public health interest, community police, or local council approval. This provision was not seen in previous drafts of H.B. 321, but is in accord with the overall pre-emption of local home rule, which many have expressed concern since we require a care home or transitional housing or half-way house to obtain public comment before they are entitled to operate. What is curious is that nearly all, or 16, of the medical marijuana states allow for local jurisdictions to either forbade or approve the growing or operations of retail facilities, or allow the imposition of reasonable time, place, and noise or fume restrictions. This is not only good for community buy-in but may eliminate the 'nuclear' option of a county challenging the State Department of Health's imposition of its law upon a local government in contravention of federal law. And, that legal issue would probably place a cloud on all stakeholders and may even jeopardize the current program of patients and caregivers that we have had for about 15 years.

14. Prior drafts of H.B. 321 had certain restrictions on commercial advertising, but the Conference Draft has none except to have the DOH establish rules. In prior drafts there were provisions to forbid advertising using cartoon characters or images that would be attractive to children, but here the restriction applies only to external building signage. My fear is the advertising that will occur in free print media (street bins, i.e. Honolulu Weekly, Kaulana Na Pua, etc.), vertical banners, stickers, flyers, pamphlets, t-shirts, popup tents, and advertising at trade and outdoor festivals and events. The experience of Colorado demonstrates how extensive and prolific marijuana advertisement can be as a free tabloid. 'The Rooster' advertises medical marijuana 'deals' and 'specials' and 'two for one' or 'BOGO' events and opportunities. All geared to drive sales and increase customers. There are even reduced rates for medical marijuana medical evaluations by a licensed physician and 'two for one' offers and 'discounts' during seasonal 'sales' of the 'best green medicine' in Colorado. Intriguing and interesting at the same time. The Hawaii equivalent would be branding the medicinal and healthful qualities of marijuana with surfing, or canoe paddling, or maybe even the hula or the Honolulu Marathon or the Kona Ironman. The opportunities are endless and I am sure that when world-renowned and part-time Hawaii resident Willie Nelson launches his special blend, he could do a few concerts on Maui to pitch the medicinal qualities of his 'Willie's Reserve' to discriminating retail dispensaries. And, given a measure approved by the 2015 Legislature, the opportunity may arise for even naming rights on a building or bus or sports venue! Unlike tobacco or alcohol, who would oppose a healthful and useful medicinal product and the monetary donations it may bestow on unsuspecting but financially strapped governments.

15. The Conference Draft allows for five (5) persons to be hired outside normal civil service laws for the period from July 1, 2015 through June 30, 2017, but then, one day later, July 1, 2017, allows those same five exempt persons to be deemed civil service employees without any examination, job description, or pricing yet known as we approve this version of H.B. 321. Again, this provision was not in prior drafts or discussed in prior public forums. How these position descriptions, qualifications, benefits and compensations, and the applications and selection decisions are made, should and will be watched very carefully. Given the work that must be done to meet the legislative deadlines imposed upon the Department of Health, the selection of these five individuals and their skills and expertise will to a large extent determine the success or failure of the entire program. Given what we know of other states' experience, and the financial interest of dispensary applicants, the selection of these five individuals must be based upon impeccable histories of integrity, honesty in fact, and intellectual fervor, and ethics to the highest degree. I bet that these eight (8) licenses will be of a very high commercial value far exceeding the initial license fee of $75,000 and $50,000 renewal fee, but easily five to ten times that commercial value and worth. Like valuable and lucrative casino licenses in Las Vegas, so too will these medical marijuana dispensary licenses grow in value in Hawaii.

16. The Conference Draft provides an exceptionally long and irregular delegation of authority to the Department of Health to promulgate interim rules that is exempt from public input, comment, review and consideration, as set forth in HRS Chapter 91. It also allows the rules to bypass review by the Small Business Regulatory Review Board, HRS 201M. These rules, however, will be in effect until July 1, 2018, or over two years, and have the effect of law in many relevant parts. This is an extraordinary delegation of authority and cannot be compared to interim rules to merely collect and dispose of plastic containers, glass bottles, and beer and soda cans. I would have preferred that the traditional rulemaking process be undertaken to allow for the input and review of the larger community. This is especially important since we are embarking upon a grand new social policy or set to engage in a social science experiment involving the entire community. Again, the data that we can glean from other states are relatively young and it behooves us to engage as many of our communities as we are able. The medical marijuana dispensary task force did an excellent job stewarding through the interest of the patients and medical marijuana medical professionals, but little participation was seen from the larger community of Hawaii that includes educators, health providers, family advocates, labor organizations, coaches, soccer moms, farmers, small business owners, and many, many others. The Chapter 91 rulemaking process allows us this engagement opportunity, and we should embrace it as a means to develop and foster a better understanding of our patients and their needs, along with the interest and concerns of communities, neighborhoods and other stakeholders.

17. No guarantee that any licensee and/or production center or retail dispensary will produce or manufacture or make available for sale at a quality and quantity and price those families like the young girl from Mililani Town can afford. My sister Susan also knows of other families who could benefit from these unique and specialized marijuana products. There is nothing, however, in the Conference Draft that requires it to be made or sold at an affordable price, and my greatest fear is that, in spite of all the notoriety centered on these truly needy families and their children, that free marketplace decisions will overshadow compassion and even trump self-serving corporate good will. This point of view of all others, I would welcome being in error and my fears found to be baseless and ridiculous. But, maybe this critical and harsh point and the suspicion that supports it may just be what the doctor ordered and embarrass or shame the dispensary licensees to provide for the needs of the young and afflicted regardless of their ability to pay. And, I can see this occurring even if it means the licensing of ones' likeness and 'story' or endorsement and naming rights for a manufacturer or retailer. I can see a medical marijuana product sold with the name, 'Mary's Medicine' or 'Maia's Medicinal Miracle' with the proceeds to offset the 'free' or subsidized sale of this specialized product. For then, it may make economic sense and align with the profit-making goals of developing and making valuable goodwill and being seen as a good corporate citizen and generous sponsor of children events. I get that and appreciate the corporate structure and fiduciary responsibility to the investor and shareholder. I do. And, I do know there are good-willed and well-intentioned and compassionate people in the marijuana business, but I much rather preferred that we had established the policy like the State of New York or Washington. D.C., whereby the regulating authority would have the clear power to set the price of a product. This would be a legitimate 'price of admission' to do business in Hawaii and certainly well within our police power authority, and it would not have dissuaded any potential suitor to seek one of the most valuable and prized licenses in the land. Earlier this year, we approved a bill that would mandate a movie projection company with more than two venues to offer several shows with subtitles for the hearing impaired. This is an imposition upon a business, but most people and even the local Hawaii businesses agreed that it did provide an important service and benefit albeit to a fraction of their paying audience. Now, if we could do this for the hearing impaired so they could enjoy a movie, don't you think we could have imposed a similar sales requirement upon a medical marijuana business to address the medical needs of a small number of young customers? Obviously, yes. Too bad we did not. Maybe shame and calculated business interest will move the invisible hand of commerce to offer a generous hand to the young children of Hawaii.

18. Passage of this measure will be a stepping stone to legalization of marijuana or 'recreational' marijuana in a few short years. The ability of the professional proponents like NORML and DPA to form and deliver a consistent and catchy message is exceptional and noteworthy. They were able to convince even the most adroit and careful reporters to believe that 'patients have been waiting for 15 years for dispensaries' when the phenomenon only legally began in 2004 in California and then under a hodge-podge of loosely regulated municipal and county licensing and permitting systems. This is one reason you often read about federal law enforcement action to shutdown growing and retail dispensing of medicinal marijuana. It is not the model for any state to adopt. Furthermore, it wasn't until the 2008 national elections and after President Obama was elected that states began to approve and regulate medical marijuana dispensaries. The obvious reason was the appointment of Attorney General Eric Holder and his department's now famous Ogden and Cole Memorandums, October 2009 and February 2013, respectively, setting forth the new enforcement policy of President Obama, essentially allowing the states to be the 'laboratories of democracies' and permitting states to enact various laws to decriminalize or legalize both medicinal and recreational use of marijuana even with the federal drug laws being intact. The chart below shows how the rollout of the medical marijuana dispensaries came about and apart from California in 2004, all other states allowed dispensaries opened after 2009 even where they may have legalized medical marijuana in years past.

Add to this a general bias and disinterest in the facts of the matter and lack of any diligence, especially by the commercial broadcast media conglomerates and even public radio, television and online 'progressive' media, Hawaii's citizens are most vulnerable to or merely awaiting future legalization efforts. As Drug Policy Alliance, Mr. Raphael Kennedy, said moments after the Conference vote was taken, 'I'm certain that my organization and many advocates will push for legalization in the years to come.'

19. Finally, we should not approve this Conference Draft 1 but give ourselves the ability to do some further independent research and investigation at two of our sister Western states – Colorado and Washington – that have had both recreational and medical marijuana programs in place. I think it would be a wise investment to spend some time before and after both conferences to personally take a tour of a growing facility, manufacturing center, and retail dispensary. Spend time and talk with owners, growers, suppliers, regulators, law enforcement, counselors, health care professionals, and other colleagues from the Colorado and Washington Legislatures. Allow us to go and see for ourselves that there is nothing to fear or allow us to see that we can do better and we can make the best laws for Hawaii and our unique island community. I understand that the lobbyist and fiercest proponents do not want us to see, hear and taste with our own eyes, ears and senses, because it will change some minds. Change some hearts, too. But, who do we serve? Who do we owe our loyalty to? The CSG-WEST meeting entitled 'Balance Your Attitude with a Change in Altitude' is from July 28 -31, 2015 in Vail, Colorado. The NCSL Annual Meeting is from August 3 - 6, 2015 in Seattle, Washington.

"In close, we only have one shot at doing this right. One shot. We cannot miss. We will not get another shot. Once the bell is rung, there is no going back. Vested interests of those with money and wealth and political power and influence will not allow it and will fight tooth and nail to protect and keep and enlarge what they have. No state that opened the door ever closed it. Not one. The profiteers of human addiction and vice are swarming around like flies to carrion. There is blood in the water and our Hawaii Nei has attracted greedy foreign interest and their idols made of gold and silver. Their worship of mammon will desecrate Hawaii's soul and wound her aloha spirit. The hungry and greedy sharks from America are all around us. Auwe. Auwe. Auwe does she wail. I wail along with her. Auwe. Auwe. Auwe.

"By legalizing the commercial growing and selling of marijuana and marijuana products for albeit medicinal purposes, we are bringing a new enterprise to Hawaii's shores that will be equal to or greater than the effect upon Hawaii's people than the harvesting of sandalwood or whaling in the 1800s. My spirit shakes inside with trepidation and fear. I cannot fathom such a weighty decision at this moment in time. What would my father say? What would our kupuna say? What would the old leaders say?

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, really briefly, in rebuttal and I continue to be in strong support. Three main points. I respect that there's opposition to this, but I want to correct the record because I think there was some mischaracterizations on the bill.

"If you read the bill at page 22, there is specific criteria that is put out and put forward for the merit-based application process. This includes capacity to meet the needs of qualifying patients, ability to comply with criminal background checks, ability to comply with inventory controls, ability to comply with security requirements, financial stability, and ability to operate a business. So that was the first inaccuracy I want to correct.

"Second, Mr. Speaker, on page 27, there are regulations about advertising, and it does include that this system shall not include the image of a cartoon character or other design intended to appeal to children.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, I would just add that we have indeed reached out to sister states. We have talked with regulators from Washington, we have talked with regulators from Arizona and New Mexico. So I believe this continues to be a bill that will withstand and support the Cole Memorandum that demands and calls for a tightly regulated statewide system. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takayama rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker, I suspect that our debate this morning will not change the minds of anyone who is opposed to the delivery of medical marijuana in any way, shape or form. But for the majority of lawmakers whom I believe support the concept of delivering medical marijuana to qualified patients in a safe and reliable manner, I believe this proposal deserves their support. It draws on the experiences and lessons learned from the 18 other states that do operate medical marijuana dispensaries. And the value of the task force over the interim prior to this session was to draw on the experiences, lessons learned and the mistakes made by those 18 other states.

"This bill is not perfect. Mr. Speaker, more than 25 years ago our state first began regulating the sale and distribution of tobacco, and to this day we're still amending that measure, and so we will do so with this measure as well.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, the Chair of the Health Committee previously mentioned a number of supporters who made this measure possible. I'd like to add one more person, and that's the Chair of the Health Committee, whose dogged determination has made the advancement of this measure possible. Thank you very much."

Representative McKelvey rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Takayama, Belatti, San Buenaventura and Jordan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Morikawa rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Takayama, Belatti, San Buenaventura and Jordan be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto Chang rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Fukumoto Chang's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on HB 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1. While I am supportive of the bill, my reservations stem from the process of bringing this bill back from the dead. I was disappointed that an agreement could not be reached during conference, especially given all of the hard work the Health Committee Chair had put into the bill. However, it is a fact of the session that not every bill will get out of conference committee. When we make a special exception to allow a bill to continue on in the process after the regulated process has expired, we are setting a dangerous precedent.

"That being said, Mr. Speaker, HB 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 will provide our residents with a much-needed legal avenue of acquiring medical marijuana. My community also recognizes the importance and need for medical marijuana dispensaries. During session, I sent out a legislative survey to my community, and one of the questions I asked was whether they were supportive of medical marijuana dispensaries. Mr. Speaker, the results showed that an overwhelming 81% of respondents were in support of dispensaries.

"HB 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1 will be especially helpful for one of my constituents and her young daughter, who has Dravet Syndrome, which gives her seizures and puts her at a high risk of sudden unexplained death in epilepsy (SUDEP). An oil made with a specific dose of cannabis is providing her with some of the best seizure control in years.

"The types of seizures she experiences range from a short loss in muscle strength, which can cause her to fall to convulsions and a loss of consciousness that typically lasts for one to three minutes, but sometimes lasts longer than 10 minutes. Those are known as tonic-clonic seizures (a.k.a. grand mal). Now just six years old, she has suffered through thousands of seizures.

"Since 2000, the State has allowed patients who meet certain criteria to use medical cannabis. But patients or their families must grow it themselves; the State doesn't offer any other way to safely obtain it. Patients are limited to seven plants, and issues like crop failure and unknown potency are constant worries, even for someone like my constituent, who has a background in science and agriculture. If the plants don't produce enough, her young daughter has to go without the medicine.

"After she started taking medical cannabis, she had an average of 3.6 tonic-clonic seizures in each month of 2014, except for two. She spiked to almost 90 seizures in the other two months, when she didn't have access to her regular supply of the medicine.

"A Stanford University study on pediatric treatment-resistant epilepsy found that 84% of patients reported some reduction in seizures after taking medical cannabis. The Epilepsy Foundation of America is among the organizations that recognize medical cannabis' effectiveness.

"After 18 months, she is making significant cognitive, physical and personal gains. But without appropriate testing facilities and access to her medication, her seizure control each month is unstable.

"Over 20 other prescribed medications, including experimental drugs, failed to provide more than short-lived effectiveness by the time she was four years old. Then they saw a CNN story about another girl with Dravet Syndrome who had success with medical cannabis. Though reluctant, in 2013 my constituent and her husband applied for and received approval to start treating their daughter with medical cannabis. But with no dispensaries and no guidance, they then had to figure out how to grow and process it themselves, which involves using semi-frozen alcohol to dislodge resin glands from flower buds.

"The House Bill to establish dispensaries, HB 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, would not legalize marijuana for recreational use. Dispensaries would be highly regulated facilities that serve patients with certain conditions, similar to pharmacies. Legalizing recreational marijuana is an entirely different policy that would allow anyone to use it for any reason. I do, however, think that our community needs to remain vigilant in ensuring that the medical marijuana program remains well-regulated and restricted to legitimate medical use.

"Mr. Speaker, I am supportive of dispensaries for medical cannabis because they would go a long way towards helping families, like my constituents, who are suffering and just need a safe, reliable way to get medicine. However, I do not agree with the process by which this bill was brought back to life. As such, I vote with reservations today. Thank you Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with some reservations. Mr. Speaker, I support this measure based on the compassion and the healing that it will provide as outlined by the words by the Representative from Waimanalo. However, my continued strong reservations are based on the lack of any county oversight through zoning. I've got to say, coming from the County Council, county zoning, Mr. Speaker, is a very important tool that seeks to maintain our community's unique sense of place and character. And, Mr. Speaker, county zoning takes into account if an area has necessary infrastructure, the impacts on traffic, and most importantly, the appropriateness of an establishment's impact on a community's sense of place and character. Mr. Speaker, for those reasons, I stand in support with those reservations."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, second time, I'll be brief. And I certainly appreciate the compassion of those folks, like my good friend from Waimanalo, who have to deal with these medical issues. My heart breaks for them, it really does. And I think there's a better path forward to address that. But, Mr. Speaker, I made a remarkable assertion earlier, and that remarkable assertion was, this is a bridge to full-blown legalization. That these dispensaries, at the flip of a switch, can be turned into commercial operations if this Body deems so.

"I have not heard one person dispute that. Not one person say, no, we won't have legal marijuana. No, this infrastructure will not be used for recreational marijuana in the very near future. Not one person. I say these things, and they're just utterly ignored. So that is my concern, and I want to just reemphasize that. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Thank you. I do have a lot of concerns about this issue, and no one here or anywhere in the State of Hawaii wants to deny prescriptive medicine to anyone who needs it. And the issue really is the potential elevated crime levels, addiction or unforeseen or unintended consequences. But that being said, one of the reasons I'm supporting this is because I think by tackling this issue, it forces us to grow as a society. It will force us to deal more maturely with issues like this. And when we don't ignore these issues, this is how a healthy democracy grows, through debate like this.

"Mr. Speaker, I do want to share I guess a little anecdotal story that I came across. I recently was taking out the trash in my office and throwing it in a receptacle outside in the hallway. And I wasn't rummaging through the trash, Mr. Speaker, but I found a community survey from our Hawaii Kai Democrat, and in the survey, which he mailed the results to his constituents earlier this year, he asked his community, are you in favor of legalizing recreational marijuana? And 45% of those respondents said yes, while 55% said no. And by voting yes on this measure we could see that we're in line with how the rest of the island thinks, because if in a conservative community like Hawaii Kai, 45% of those who responded said that they were open to recreational marijuana, I think an overwhelming majority of residents around the State would support legalizing cannabis for medicinal purposes. And, Mr. Speaker, for those reasons, I'm supporting this issue, with concerns, but I'm open to the progress that it will make in the future. Thank you."

Representative Say rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Oshiro be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I, like many others here, feel the same way, for the people who need it the most, we need to have a system that will deliver it to them in the safest way. I heard the Representative from Pearl City talk about wanting to work and make a better bill and wanting to compare it to tobacco. And that's a great step forward to make this right. But as it is right now, the issue with the counties and the county councils and their not being able to have any oversight to that I think is a big, big concern and a big problem being a former councilmember.

"So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm not going to take much time but I do want to incorporate the words from the speaker from Pearl City except the part about the yes vote, and the words from the speaker from Wahiawa as if they were my own. Thank you very much," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Saiki rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Saiki's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure specifically to address any concerns regarding how H.B. 321 advanced in conference committee.

"On Friday afternoon, negotiations broke down between the lead conference chairs. However, the members of both bodies expressed a strong interest in continuing deliberations so that a final bill could be advanced. This is the exact type of circumstance that was contemplated in Rule 13 of our conference rules, which permits the President and Speaker to waive the deadline to conclude conference negotiations.

"Following the waiver on Friday evening, the conference committee meeting was re-set for Monday at 12 noon. This time was chosen to afford maximum advance notice to the public. On Monday, deliberations and negotiations continued in public, and the conferees were able to reach an agreement.

"The decision to continue negotiations was not lightly made. It was reached after much deliberation by the Speaker and Senate President. In the end, Rule 13 was invoked due to the extraordinary circumstances surrounding the procedural posture and content of H.B. 321, and I anticipate that in the future, the same level of scrutiny will be applied to similar requests."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Oshiro, Kawakami and Tokioka be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Bill No. 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1. The purpose of this bill is to establish a licensing system for medical marijuana dispensaries and production centers. My objections to this bill are very clear to the Members of this Body, but I rise in opposition to this bill today because of the way it was resurrected.

"On April 7th, the 28th Legislature, Regular Session of 2015, Joint House and Senate Committees on Conference Procedures memo, dated April 6, 2015, was distributed to all Members, permanent and session staff. It clearly states that 'On the deadline nights for Final Decking of both non-fiscal and fiscal bills…Conference Committees shall conclude their negotiations by 6:00 p.m. to allow adequate time for final preparation of the bills and Conference Committee Reports.' (emphasis added).

"Furthermore, on April 28, 2015, the Conference Deadlines – No Exceptions memo was distributed to all Members, permanent and session staff, and reiterated the importance of Conference Committee decision-making deadlines. It clearly states that 'Decision-making Deadlines for Conference Committees have been established by the Joint House and Senate Committees on Conference Procedures (Conference Rules) which were agreed to by the Senate President and House Speaker on April 6, 2015. There will be no exceptions.'

"Conference committee negotiations on House Bill No. 321 concluded prior to the 6:00 p.m. Final Decking deadline for fiscal bills on Friday, May 1, 2015, without any agreement between House and Senate conferees. In fact, every news media outlet showed the Chair of House Committee on Health stating, 'we cannot agree and therefore HB 321 is deferred.' Accordingly, House Bill No. 321 was dead at 6:00 p.m.

"At 11:46 p.m., MIRACULOUSLY, HB 321 was somehow resurrected, despite several memos by House and Senate leadership which unequivocally stated that NO EXTENSIONS would be granted. This type of 'back-door dealing' is EXACTLY the reason why the public does not trust the Legislature and elected officials, Mr. Speaker. While a subsequent memo was sent out noting that it is within the Conference Rules to extend deadlines, was it the right thing to do in the face of the two memos by House leadership unequivocally stating that NO EXCEPTIONS would be made? We continue to 'make the rules' and break them when it is convenient for this Body, and this undermines the very transparency to the public we purport to uphold.

"Moreover, if House and Senate leadership felt it was absolutely necessary to make an exception for HB 321, what about the other good bills that were not given the same consideration? For example, House Bill No. 600, that would have allowed a couple to live together in the same care home. What about House Bill No. 365, which would have purchased body cameras to protect police officers and the citizens of Honolulu? How is it that House leadership's priorities are with condoning illegal activities under federal law instead of helping our kūpuna? For these procedural reasons, and for the reasons stated on the Floor as to the merits of the bill, I remain in opposition to HB 321, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1."

Representative Rhoads rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Just to respond to the argument that this is a slippery slope into full legalization, there's no guarantee that that won't happen. This Body in future years could decide that that's what they want to do. And if that's, whether I and other Members that are currently here are here then, that's up to that Body to decide whether they're going to move forward.

"For the proponents who would like to see that happen, the fact that it took 15 years to get from legalizing medical marijuana to actually being able to get it legally, shouldn't make a proponent too excited that this is going to happen tomorrow. Thank you."

At 11:33 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 11:34 o'clock a.m.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Keohokalole: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and thank you, Members. I know I've taken a lot of time this morning so I'd like to take a little bit more to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to you all and to the Body for your indulgence allowing me to take the oath to enter the Hawaii Bar earlier this morning in the presence of my family and friends. Thanks to you all now I get to enter company shared by very few. I've now attained status among the lowest of the low, the bottom of the barrel of society, that of a lawyer-politician. Thank you.

"I'd also just like to say very briefly, on behalf of myself and the rest of the freshman class of legislators, thank you all for your patience, indulgence, graciousness, and your help throughout this session. We've had many ups and downs, but I think we can all, with all things considered, we can consider this a success. I understand that every year will not be like this one, so for that I'm grateful to all of you for the progress that we've made and the lessons that we've learned. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would be remiss if I didn't thank my staff, fiercely loyal staff that made all of us look good. My speaker in my office is May, you're the Speaker of the House, she's the speaker of my office. She's done a great job in guiding me through this session. I wanted to thank my Office Manager, Christine Fehn, who's been so strong and supportive on a number of bills that helped our needy. I want to thank my Legislative Aide, Charlie St. Sure who helped us with media releases and press. I also wanted to thank my Committee Clerks Charlie Jenks, who again is fiercely loyal and helped me throughout this session especially with constituent concerns, and Alyssa Reyes who's done a great job with certificates.

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to thank you for a job well done. You've guided us through an excellent session. I've been here four years as a staff member and nine years as a lawmaker. And as my good friend from Hawaii Kai would say, it's probably been the most mellow session we've had. I'd like to thank our leadership team, Majority Leader Saiki, Majority Floor Leader Evans, Finance Chair Luke. I'd like to thank the Minority, the GOP and Minority Leader Fukumoto Chang for a job well done. I'd like to thank all the agencies that helped us throughout the entire session. They get the credit for making us look good. Legislative Reference Bureau, the House Majority Staff Office, the House Minority Staff Office, Sergeant-at-Arms, and the Clerk's Office. And I want to thank all the Members of this Body, it's been an honor. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Speaker Souki then gave his closing remarks as follows:

"Alright, Members, we adjourn today sine die, and yet we all understand that our work is not yet done. That it continues on quietly beyond the limelight. From our transportation infrastructure to healthcare, you took on the challenges even when there seemed to be little hope for success.

"Building Honolulu's rail system has been frustrating. The little distance travelled for the price seems high indeed. But the cost for not taking this first step is even higher, and future generations will thank you for your farsightedness and courage.

"They will also thank you for thinking outside the box to resolve Maui's Hospital financial crisis. Good solutions are always collaborative, and identified not by one person's signature but by many fingerprints. Together with the Governor, we have come up with a fair resolution for all concerned, including the people of Maui.

"You also took steps to complete the job of preserving the lands around Kawela Bay for future generations, a task that seemed daunting a year ago. You not only completed the job but we fashioned a better deal that looked out for the best interest of the people of Hawaii.

"During this session, as the Hawaii Health Connector ramped up from its slow start, you moved to ensure liability. The seamless integration of the Affordable Care Act into our landmark Prepaid Health Care is key to ensuring the future health of all our citizens. You took the measures to protect Hawaii's Prepaid Health Care Act, the bedrock of our people's healthcare infrastructure. You also heard the pleas of those who depend on medical marijuana and provided them with legal access to dispensaries throughout the State.

"Education is the key to lifelong success. Knowing this, you invested heavily in our schools, from early learning to higher education. You gave our children who are at risk a chance to go to preschool, and gave them a leg up in succeeding in their schooling and in their lives. At the same time, you provided the University of Hawaii with the fiscal flexibility to better support its students and campuses throughout the State, and I believe we can thank our Chairman of Higher Education for that.

"For those who need a helping hand, you provided more than $28 million in grants-in-aid for nonprofit organizations who reach out to the community with invaluable services. In addition, you provided over $2.45 billion for a wide range of capital improvement projects for infrastructure which will continue to support state services and economic growth on all the islands.

"As we move further from the last economic recession, it becomes easier to slip into past practices of borrowing from the State's Rainy Day Fund and the Hurricane Relief Fund, and spend more freely during good times. You not only refrained from that temptation, but continue to address the State's unfunded liabilities in a responsible and prudent manner, and we can thank our Finance Chairman and the Committee for doing that, and also Representative Cachola who continually reminded us of the unfunded liabilities.

"Together with the Senate and the Ige Administration, we did all this and more. We did it not to make headlines, but to make Hawaii the kind of place we are all proud to call home. We did it for our families and our communities. We did it for the poor and the frail. We did it for today's kupuna and tomorrow's keiki. We did it for Hawaii.

"To the leadership team, the Chairs, the Vice Chairs, and every Member of the House, thank you for your unwavering commitment to do your best for the people of Hawaii. Because of you, this was not only a productive session, but a good start on the biennium by significant accomplishments. I would like to especially thank our hardworking Majority Leader Scott Saiki, our Vice Speaker Mizuno, Majority Floor Leader Cindy Evans, and last and certainly not least, our Finance Chair who did a wonderful job. I thank them all for their vision and insight and for their tremendous contributions and tireless efforts in moving us forward this day. To our Minority Leader, Beth Fukumoto Chang, and the Minority Caucus, thank you for bringing your constructive ideas and perspectives to the table.

"To the permanent and session staff of the House, thank you for your professionalism and supporting the work of the House.

"I would also like to thank the former State Senate President Donna Kim for her leadership and her leadership team, the Senate Chairs and Members who worked with us and collaborated as we worked to craft legislation for the people of Hawaii. Again, I'm deeply grateful to all of you for your trust, your hard work, and your commitment to the people of Hawaii.

"One final thought. The Speaker's closing remarks are rightfully about what we accomplished during the session. Rarely is it about bills that did not make it through the rigorous process of lawmaking. We all know the amount of work that goes into shepherding a bill through the legislative process. We all know how much sweat and equity we pour into it. When a bill dies, especially in the 11th hour, we sometimes feel like a part of ourselves died with it. When it fails, we feel like we failed. But the real truth is that you haven't. If we only took the issues that we knew would succeed, Hawaii would be a poorer society because of it. We are richer when there is no fear of failing, but only the fear of not doing our best. That means sticking your neck out when you know that is the right thing to do. I saw a lot of that this session, very hard and determined work regardless of the outcome.

"And so I say with pride based not only on our collective accomplishments but our collective efforts, Members, I'm honored to have served you as your Speaker, and look forward to working with you again next session. Thank you, mahalo and aloha. Thank you."

Representative Saiki gave his closing remarks on behalf of the Majority as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was going to move to reconsider our vote on the rail tax surcharge, but I think I'll hold off on that. Instead, I want to thank four groups of people as I usually do every year.

"First, thank you to all of the residents of our respective communities who have given us the privilege to represent them here.

"Second, as the Vice Speaker mentioned, thank you to all the staff members who have worked so hard behind the scenes to make the Legislature functional and also to make us look good.

"Third, thank you to the Republican Caucus. At the start of the session, we said that we would work with them, and I hope that we kept our word on that. I want them to know that their contributions did impact our final product, and particularly the working relationship with the Republican leader from Mililani.

"Fourth, thank you to the Majority Caucus. This caucus was resilient and took on major challenges that have festered here at the Legislature for many years. These challenges affect the structure of our government, the infrastructure of our islands, and the well-being of our residents. They have done an excellent job this session, and I just want to say best wishes and thank you to everyone during this interim. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto Chang gave her closing remarks on behalf of the Minority as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to say a few words on behalf of the Minority Caucus. We wanted to start off by thanking you for your leadership and the rest of your leadership team. It's been a real privilege to work with all of you this session.

"To all of our Chairs, we wanted to thank you for the hard work that you've done, in particular I wanted to thank the Health Chair for all of her diligent work on the many difficult issues that the Health Committee faced this session. You showed true leadership and an honest effort to work with all stakeholders on every issue, and it was an honor to be a part of your committee.

"To all of our House staff, Minority and Majority, thank you for your hard work and dedication to the people of our state. The work we accomplished this session would not have been remotely possible without all of you.

"Finally, to my Minority Caucus, thank you for the faith you placed in me as your leader and for your patience with me in my first year. At the beginning of this session I made only two promises. That I would work to build mutual respect in our caucus, and that I would defend your right and your responsibility as a Representative to represent your constituency over your party. I was very happy to see that you all took me up on those promises. We had a more diverse voting pattern and less caucus no votes than I've ever seen, but we've also learned to appreciate each other's differences and to respect the differences that exist within and between our communities.

"As we adjourn today I think my caucus and this Chamber can be proud that we worked together, that we overcame differences, and that we created good legislation for the people of Hawaii. We've got a lot of issues left to tackle, but I look forward to working with all of you on those and more in the months to come. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Jordan: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm proud to make this announcement. Just a few days ago I heard of a young man who attends my alma mater, he's a senior this year, he's a member of his ROTC, a dedicated member volunteering for community things. It's just been announced that he will be attending West Point. This is the first student in 50 years of my school to get this nomination. He has worked long and hard to achieve this. And it is my understanding that he is one of three individuals in Hawaii that will be attending West Point.

"He is going to graduate in the next few weeks and I'll be proud to call him a fellow alumni. He is the proud son of Mr. Calvin and Mrs. Susan Endo. His name is Nathanael Endo. And, Mr. Speaker, I congratulate him and I look forward to him coming back and honoring our state and my community with his service. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have never done this before but it's not about me right now. On behalf of the Representative from Kapaa, the Representative from Ewa Beach, the Representative from Palolo, and the Representative from Kapolei, I'd like to thank their assistant staff members for all of the work that they did this year, and they're up in the gallery there. So Rich, Baron and Robert, can you please stand? Welcome, and thank you very much on behalf of everyone that I mentioned."

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU
July 13, 2015

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 540

Honorable Members
Twenty-Eighth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 540, entitled, "A Bill for an Act Relating to the University of Hawaii Accounting and Financial Management System."

The purpose of this bill is to extend to June 30, 2018, the authority of the University of Hawaii to maintain a separate accounting and financial management system that is compatible with the State of Hawaii accounting and financial systems, while ensuring that appropriations to the University of Hawaii are expended for the specific purposes intended by the Legislature. The original measure was limited to extending the authority of the University of Hawaii to maintain a separate accounting and financial management system and to amend chapter 304A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to require the University of Hawaii to submit performance reports to the Legislature. As passed, however, the bill as recommended by the Conference Committee amends chapter 304A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to provide that any appropriations to the University of Hawaii must be expended by the University of Hawaii for the specific purpose described in the appropriations bill, budget worksheets, or other appropriations vehicle. In addition, the proposed new section requires the University of Hawaii to submit a report to the Legislature if it does not expend the funds for the specific purposes described by the Legislature, and also provides that an amount equal to any moneys appropriated that were not expended in accordance with the specific purposes described by the Legislature shall be returned by the University of Hawaii to the general fund.

This bill is objectionable for several reasons. Operationally, this bill would require, for example, that appropriations made during the 2015 legislative session must be expended by June 30, 2016. If moneys were expended not according to the purposes specified by the Legislature, the University of Hawaii would report that fact to the 2017 session of the Legislature, and the University of Hawaii would be required to return those moneys to the general fund in fiscal year 2017-2018. This could result in a reduction in the base budget for the University of Hawaii and will result in uncertainty for the University of Hawaii with respect to how much money it actually has available to expend and how much it may have to hold in reserve and unexpended to cover the possible contingency that it must repay the general fund.

Second, this bill as passed is subject to challenge for violation of Section 14 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, because there are multiple subjects in the bill, some of which are not expressed in its title. The bill is entitled, "Relating to the University of Hawaii Accounting and Financial Management System." However, section 2 of the bill, which adds a new section to chapter 304A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, imposing requirements on the University of Hawaii regarding spending and reporting appropriations to the Legislature, does not appear to be covered by the bill's title and does not appear to be related to the other sections of the bill that extend the time for the University of Hawaii to use its specific accounting and financial computer systems.

Finally, Section 6 of Article X of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii provides, among other things, that "[t]he board [of regents] shall also have exclusive jurisdiction over the internal structure, management, and operation of the university. This section shall not limit the power of the legislature to enact laws of statewide concern. The legislature shall have the exclusive jurisdiction to identify laws of statewide concern." Because the Legislature did not make the requisite finding that this bill is a law of statewide concern, the bill is vulnerable to a challenge that it violates Section 6 of Article X of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, because it impacts the internal management and operation of the University of Hawaii.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 540 without my approval.

Respectfully,
/s/ David Y. Ige

Gov. Msg. No. 1328, transmitting his statement of objections to H.B. No. 553, HD 1, SD 2, CD 1, as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU
July 13, 2015

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 553

Honorable Members
Twenty-Eighth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 553, entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating to Collective Bargaining."

The purpose of this bill is to allow part-time and full-time graduate student assistants employed by the University of Hawaii to collectively bargain their wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment; provided that no collective bargaining agreement shall take effect prior to July 1, 2016. This bill also requires the University and current exclusive representatives of collective bargaining units that represent employees in the University system to meet and submit recommendations on various aspects of collective bargaining for graduate student assistants to the Legislature prior to the regular session of 2016.

This bill is objectionable because it is incomplete and could potentially cause legal and administrative problems. Through this bill, the Legislature allowed graduate student assistants the right to collectively bargain, but did not provide the necessary tools to accomplish it. Specifically, the Legislature did not (1) assign an existing collective bargaining unit or create a new bargaining unit to be included in section 89-6, Hawaii Revised Statutes; (2) identify the applicable employer group and the number of votes each employer must have for purposes of negotiating a collective bargaining agreement under section 89-6(d); and (3) provide an impasse resolution mechanism, such as binding arbitration or strike, in section 89-11, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

Further, requiring the University to engage in discussions with exclusive representatives of bargaining units that represent University employees concerning the scope of negotiations is not consistent with collective bargaining concepts. The University employs workers represented by multiple collective bargaining representatives – the University of Hawaii Professional Assembly, the Hawaii Government Employees Association, and the United Public Workers. Each of the unions has different negotiation perspectives and priorities and do not currently represent graduate student assistants. The purpose of collective bargaining is for the employer and the certified "exclusive representative" of graduate student assistants to negotiate in good faith as to wages, hours, and terms and conditions of employment. Thus, negotiations regarding the subject matter of collective bargaining must occur with the exclusive representative. However, an exclusive representative cannot be certified pursuant to sections 89-7 and 89-8, Hawaii Revised Statutes, unless the Legislature identifies the "appropriate bargaining unit" for graduate student assistants.

Finally, graduate student assistants are students first and employees second. None of these positions is a career position within the government service. There would be significant cost increases for both the University and the State of Hawaii should student assistants become employees with a right to collectively bargain. The current levels of compensation for graduate student assistants are competitive and include tuition waivers and monetary stipends. Including graduate student assistants in collective bargaining will result in additional pension contribution costs and possible increases in health benefits, which will increase demands upon the State general fund.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 553 without my approval.

Respectfully,
/s/ David Y. Ige

Twenty-Eighth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 105, entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating to the Budget."

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 105 is to require that information regarding the projected annual debt service for bonds issued to finance capital improvement projects be included in the six-year program and financial plan and budget documents submitted to the Legislature by the Executive branch and the Judiciary.

While this bill has merit, accurate information in the form required by the bill is unavailable due to the limitations of the State's accounting system. For example, capital improvement projects are usually funded by the sale of bonds whose proceeds are deposited into the bond fund. Moneys from the bond fund are disbursed for capital improvement projects as needed. Consequently, it is not known ahead of time which bond issuance will be used for a specific project or program and accurate information on the debt service costs for each project or each program cannot be provided.

Further, it would be difficult to provide accurate information on the total debt service for capital improvement project appropriations in the budget, because assumptions would need to be made about the start date and disbursement schedule for the projects.

In lieu of the information requested by this bill and in addition to the currently provided bond issuance and debt service information, the Legislature could be provided with an illustration of debt service costs using an example of a $100,000,000 bond issuance and a generic twenty-year general obligation bond debt service schedule. The debt service costs of a project or a program could then be calculated based on the project's or program's costs as a percentage of the $100,000,000.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 105 without my approval.

Respectfully,
/s/ David Y. Ige

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 218

Honorable Members
Twenty-Eighth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 218, entitled, "A Bill for an Act Relating to Order of Succession."

The purpose of this bill, among other things, is to provide that the individual who will succeed to the office of Lieutenant Governor when that office becomes vacant by reason of the Lieutenant Governor becoming Governor, the Lieutenant Governor's failure to qualify, or the Lieutenant Governor's removal from office, death, resignation, or otherwise, will first be the Senate President, provided that the Senate President is of the same political party as the Governor and promptly resigns his or her legislative office. If the Senate President does not meet those criteria, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives will become the Lieutenant Governor if that individual is of the same political party as the Governor and promptly resigns his or her legislative office. If neither the Senate President or the Speaker of the House of Representatives is of the same political party as the Governor or promptly resigns their legislative offices, then the Governor may appoint an individual who is a member of the same political party as the Governor and is qualified to hold the office of Lieutenant Governor pursuant to Section 2 of Article V of the Hawaii State Constitution.

This bill is objectionable because it does not provide for succession in the situation when the office of the Governor becomes permanently vacant at the same time as the office of the Lieutenant Governor and the Senate President and the Speaker of the House belong to a political party different from that of the Governor. In that situation, however unlikely to occur, there is no one to appoint a member of the same political party as the Governor to be the Lieutenant Governor to act in the Governor's stead, and there will be no one to succeed to the office of the Governor. This lack of a provision for succession under such circumstances could cause confusion and disrupt the normal functioning of state government activities.

This bill is substantially similar to House Bill No. 1288, which was vetoed by Governor Neil Abercrombie in 2014 for the same reasons. The flaw contained in the previous bill was not remedied by Senate Bill No. 218.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 218 without my approval.

Respectfully,
/s/ David Y. Ige

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 265

Honorable Members
Twenty-Eighth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 265, entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating to Sex Trafficking."

The purpose of this bill is to strengthen our laws against sex trafficking. This bill replaces the offense of promoting prostitution in the first degree with the new offense of sex trafficking, also a class A felony; amends the offense of promoting prostitution in the second degree to promoting prostitution, and limits it to the prostitution of persons eighteen and over; reduces the grade of the offense of prostitution to a violation if the offender is a juvenile; includes the offense of sex trafficking in the list of violent crimes for which victims may be eligible for criminal injury compensation; adds sex trafficking to the Prostitution Coercion Liability Act; adds sex trafficking to the list of covered offenses under the forfeiture law; amends the tier level for sex trafficking under the sex offender registration law; includes the offense of sex trafficking in the Department of the Attorney General's statewide witness program; adds the offense of sex trafficking to the list of crimes for which an order to intercept wire, oral, or electronic communications is permitted; and precludes deferred plea dispositions for sex trafficking offenses.

The Attorney General, the Prosecuting Attorneys of the City and County of Honolulu and of the Counties of Maui and of Hawaii, the Office of the Public Defender, and the Honolulu Police Department all objected to provisions of this bill and recommended that it be vetoed. In addition to legal objections, the Attorney General and the three Prosecuting Attorneys noted that the Penal Code Review Committee, which will include the Attorney General, all the county Prosecuting Attorneys, a representative from the Office of the Public Defender, and representatives from the criminal defense bar, will meet this year to review our criminal laws and make recommendations to the Legislature in response to the recently adopted House Concurrent Resolution No. 155, Senate Draft 1 (Requesting the Judicial Council to Appoint a Committee to Review and Recommend Revisions to the Hawaii Penal Code). This Committee will have an opportunity to review sex trafficking laws and propose amendments with a broader base of support.

This bill is objectionable because the provisions that amend the offenses of promoting prostitution in the first and second degrees may actually impair law enforcement's ability to address the problems of prostitution and sex trafficking. The bill will preclude the prosecution of certain crimes, including sex trafficking of some juveniles, and profiting from the acts of another who forced a victim to engage in prostitution.

This bill is also objectionable because the new sex trafficking offense is confusing, can be difficult or impossible to apply, and requires the prosecution to prove additional elements of the crime. The conduct that this bill seeks to prohibit is already prohibited as a result of Act 147, Session Laws of Hawaii 2008, which was proposed by the Hawaii Anti-Trafficking Task Force after two years of analysis and discussion, and Act 145, Session Laws of Hawaii 2011. The current offense of promoting prostitution in the first degree would appear to cover the conduct prohibited by this offense, and does so with clearer provisions that state prosecutors would find easier to use and prove.

SEX TRAFFICKING

In section 13, beginning on page 8, line 8, the bill proposes to amend section 712-1202, Hawaii Revised Statutes, the current offense of promoting prostitution in the first degree, to create the new offense of sex trafficking. Section 712-1202 currently provides:

(1) A person commits the offense of promoting prostitution in the first degree if the person knowingly:
(a) Advances prostitution by compelling or inducing a person by force, threat, fraud, or intimidation to engage in prostitution, or profits from such conduct by another; or
(b) Advances or profits from prostitution of a person less than eighteen years old.
(2) Promoting prostitution in the first degree is a class A felony.
(3) As used in this section:
"Fraud" means making material false statements, misstatements, or omissions.
"Threat" means any of the actions listed in section 707-764(1).

Section 707-764(1), upon which "threat" is based, includes the many forms of extortionate conduct.

This bill renames the offense of "promoting prostitution in the first degree" as "sex trafficking." It then amends subsection (1)(a) of the offense in pertinent part as follows:

(1) A person commits the offense of [~~promoting prostitution in the first degree~~] sex trafficking if the person knowingly:
(a) Advances prostitution by compelling or inducing a person by force, threat, fraud, or intimidation to engage in prostitution, or profits from [~~such conduct by~~] prostitution of another[~~; or~~] by any of the following means . . . .

While the current law prohibits a person from profiting from the acts of another who forced a victim to engage in prostitution ("such conduct of another"), this bill prohibits a person from profiting from prostitution of another by any of the specified means. It is a completely different criminal prohibition. The current provision, which is being repealed by the bill, addresses a person profiting from the acts of a trafficker, whereas the new bill provision, replacing the repealed provision, addresses only the trafficker himself, who is already covered by the law. The bill amendments raise two main concerns.

First, by removing the existing wording, the prosecution will no longer be able to prosecute someone (person A) for knowingly profiting from the acts of another person (person B) who compelled or induced a victim (person C) by force, threat, fraud, or intimidation to engage in prostitution. The existing wording provides an important tool for prosecutors when there is insufficient evidence to prove the person was an accomplice to the forced prostitution conduct, but there is adequate evidence to prove the person was knowingly profiting from the forced prostitution by another. This bill eliminates this tool, and thereby will prevent prosecutions in those types of cases.

Second, the new provision, which reads "the person knowingly profits from prostitution of another by any of the following means," requires not only that the person compel or induce another to engage in prostitution by various means, but also requires that the person profit from that conduct. So this provision is very similar in concept to the first part of the offense which requires that "the person knowingly advances prostitution by compelling or inducing a person by force, threat, fraud, or intimidation to engage in prostitution." But, this provision requires an additional element of proof–that the person profit from that conduct. It would be much easier to just prosecute the offender under the first part of the offense.

PROMOTING PROSTITUTION

In section 14, beginning on page 11, line 12, the bill amends section 712-1203, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to rename the offense of "promoting prostitution in the second degree" by deleting "in the second degree" and to limit it to the prostitution of persons eighteen years of age or older. This creates a critical loophole in the law because the new sex trafficking offense under section 712-1202, Hawaii Revised Statutes, includes a provision that prohibits a person from knowingly advancing or profiting from prostitution of a person less than eighteen years old. The new offense of "promoting prostitution" would prohibit a person from knowingly advancing or profiting from prostitution of a person eighteen years of age or older. If a perpetrator knowingly advanced prostitution, but did not know that the person was less than eighteen (or the prosecution could not prove that the perpetrator knew that), the person could not be charged with sex trafficking. But since the person was not eighteen or older, the perpetrator also could not be charged with promoting prostitution, as amended by the bill. This loophole in the law would preclude the prosecution of this offender, even though the offender was trafficking a juvenile.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 265 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ David Y. Ige

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 349

Honorable Members
Twenty-Eighth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 349, entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation."

The purposes of this bill are to establish a five-year renewable fuels production tax credit and to repeal the ethanol facility tax credit. This bill allows qualifying taxpayers to claim a refundable income tax credit equal to 20 cents per seventy-six thousand British thermal units of qualifying renewable fuel produced and sold in the State. The credit in this bill is capped at $3,000,000 per taxpayer per year and the total credits for all taxpayers is capped at $3,000,000 per year. This bill also: (1) requires the Department of Business and Economic Development and Tourism to certify all tax credits and submit a report regarding the production and sale of qualifying renewable fuels to the governor and legislature each year; (2) applies to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2015; and (3) repeals the tax credit on July 1, 2020.

This bill is objectionable because the provisions in this bill on page 2, lines 8-11, and page 4, lines 1-6, that restrict the income tax credit for renewable fuels to only renewable fuels produced and sold in the State may be subject to challenge as violating the Commerce Clause of the United States Constitution. The United States Supreme Court has stated that a cardinal rule of Commerce Clause jurisprudence is that "[n]o State, consistent with the Commerce Clause, may 'impose a tax which discriminates against interstate commerce . . . by providing a direct commercial advantage to local business.'" Bacchus Imports, Ltd. v. Dias, 468 U.S. 263, 268 (1984), citing Boston Stock Exchange v. State Tax Comm'n, 429 U.S. 318, 329 (1977). In Bacchus the United States Supreme Court struck down a Hawaii law that provided an exemption from the liquor tax for liquor produced in the State. While the credit in this bill provides an income tax credit as opposed to an exemption from the liquor tax, I believe that a similar result would occur if this income tax credit is challenged.

In addition, although the "credit period" defined on page 2, lines 1-5, sets the maximum period to claim the credit at five consecutive years, section 6 of the bill on page 19, lines 19-21, provides for the repeal of the credit only four and one-half years after the income tax credit becomes available.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 349 without my approval.

Respectfully,
/s/ David Y. Ige

Honorable Members

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 569, entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating to Theft."

The purpose of this bill is to increase the monetary threshold from $300 to $750 with respect to property or services for the offense of theft in the second degree.

This bill is objectionable because it would diminish the seriousness of many theft crimes and reduce the deterrent impact of theft offenses. The Department of the Prosecuting Attorney of the City and County of Honolulu, the Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii, and the Hawaii Food Industry Association oppose this bill, noting that increasing the threshold will cause an increase in theft. Loss prevention experts report that professional shoplifters calculate the value of the merchandise they are stealing to keep it under the threshold amount to avoid serious penalties and prosecution as a felony. In these cases, the retailer is never compensated and has no hope of recovery. This will harm families and businesses, and incentivize theft.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 569 without my approval.

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1324, entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating to Divorce."

The purpose of this bill is to authorize the Employees' Retirement System of the State of Hawaii to make direct payment of benefits to the former spouse of a retiree when the former spouse is awarded a portion of the retiree's retirement benefits as part of a property division adjudicated, ordered, or decreed by a family court in a divorce proceeding.

This bill is objectionable because there is no appropriation for the costs of implementing the bill, which are expected to be at least $1,000,000. The Employees' Retirement System is unable to utilize the administrative fee authorized by the bill for implementation costs, because doing so will jeopardize the status of the Employees' Retirement System as a tax-qualified plan under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Such costs will have to be paid from the Employees' Retirement System's current operating budget. This will have an adverse fiscal impact on the Employees' Retirement System and its members and retirees.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1324 without my approval.

HB541 HD1 SD2 CD1, entitled "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII TUITION AND FEES SPECIAL FUND" will become law without my signature, pursuant to Section16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to require each UH campus to prepare operations plans to be reviewed by the President, VP for Budget and Finance, and the CFO for each fiscal year and to lapse moneys from the UH Tuition and Fees Special Fund each year to the credit of Program ID UOH900.

The lapsing of money from the UH Tuition and Fee Special Fund may into UOH900 each year may cause difficulty for various campuses as they prepare their operations plan each year and could result in unintended consequences for the University of Hawai'i system. Additionally, I am concerned that this bill may represent an encroachment on the principle of the University of Hawai'i's autonomy.

SB1092 SD1 HD1, entitled "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE REPEAL OF NON-GENERAL FUNDS" will become law without my signature, pursuant to Article III, Section 16 of the State Constitution.

This measure repeals or reclassifies various non-general funds and lapses the unencumbered remaining balances to the credit of the general fund. While I support the intent of the measure to streamline unused or inactive non-general funds, the reclassification of non-general funds violates the single subject requirement of Article III, Section 14 of the State Constitution.

Article III, Section 14 of the State Constitution states, in relevant part, that "Each law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title." Thus, a bill that addresses subjects outside of its title violates the provision.

The title of this bill is "Relating to the Repeal of Non-General Funds," which meets the single subject requirement, but several sections in the body of the legislation seek to reclassify, not repeal the non-general funds, which becomes a violation of single subject requirement.

For the reasons stated above, SB1092 SD1 HD1 will become law as ACT 237 (15), Session laws of Hawaii 2015, effective July 14, 2015, without my signature.

SB 1297 SD1 HD1 CD1, entitled "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISPOSITION OF TAX REVENUES" will become law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

This measure modifies annual deposits from the cigarette tax into the Trauma System Special Fund, Community Health Centers Special Fund, Emergency Medical Services Special Fund, and the Hawai'i Cancer Research Special Fund. However, by placing annual caps on deposits into these special funds – despite the fact that program costs will continue to increase – the practical effect of this bill is to constrain the flexibility of core public health services supporting statewide infrastructure for emergency medical services, injury prevention, and trauma.

For the Trauma System Special Fund, this reduction amounts to an approximately 17% cut in the program's budget, which will impact statewide trauma system development and personnel costs.

For the foregoing reasons, SB 1297 SD1 HD1 CD1 will become law as ACT 238 (15), Session laws of Hawai'i 2015, effective July 14, 2015, without my signature.

The reporting date of at least 20 days before the 2016 legislative session will not allow enough time to collect enough data from taxes. Also, there are many categories of required data that currently do not exist. The department will need to create surveys to obtain this date and risk biased results. Finally; it is possible that not all Hawai'i taxpayers who invest in real estate investment trusts can be identified.
