Representative McDermott rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to these measures. First, let me say that I respect the author of this legislation. However, it is totally off the mark. Racism is despicable for sure; pure evil in my view. Which is why this legislation is so off the mark. The people of Hawaii are not evil and our population is quite diverse. Yet this resolution calls on the governor to 'declare that racism is a public health crisis.' I am sure the visitor industry is thrilled with this measure, they can brand a new advertising campaign, 'Come to Hawaii where Racism is a Public Health Crisis.'

"This resolution is totally misguided and slurs our population. It implies that the State of Hawaii is a racist state and that the state government needs to affirm that our collective racism is a public health crisis. The resolution is creating a fantasy which has no basis in fact. I reject that notion on its face. Hawaii is a modern, mostly metropolitan society where all races live together in harmony. The people of Hawaii are not racist and resist that thought process at every level. Governor Ige agrees with me in part, 'we derive our strength from our diversity,' said Ige, very much echoing what former Governor Abercrombie himself used to say, '...our diversity defines us, not divides us. We embrace diversity. There is more that unites us than divides us.'

"To assert that Hawaii is racist or has a systemically racist government casts aspersions on all the good public servants, both past and present. This is now popular drivel being foisted upon society. We have never heard of this concept before. Hence, there is no systemic racism either. Who are the racists that the author of this resolution assert is the preponderance of our population? Balderdash, if anything our State of Hawaii has taught the world that all ethnicities can live in harmony. We are the gold standard on how to live together with aloha.

"We, the people of Hawaii, are not racist, in fact, 'Hawaii is one of the most racially diverse places in the world as there is no majority – everyone is in a minority.' In the 2010 Census, 24% of Hawaii residents claimed multi-ethnic backgrounds (two or more races), far more than any other state in the USA. The second highest is Alaska with 7%. Here in the Aloha State, you will find a 'mixed plate' of ethnic groups; 39% of Hawaii's population is Asian, 25% is White, 10% is Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islanders, 9% is Hispanic, and 2% is African American, American Indian, and Alaska Native.

"I suggest the problems with healthcare outcomes are based on socioeconomic disadvantages along with language and other cultural traditions. For example, I am married to an American Samoan, who is steeped in her cultural tradition. My home, as with many Polynesians and Pacific Islanders, contains multi-generational family members all living under one roof. Moreover, my home currently has 8 immediate family members and it has even been as high as 12, from great-grandmother to great-granddaughter. Could the cultural tradition along with language barriers possibly explain why Pacific Islanders experience a higher rate of COVID-19 transmission? Proper social distancing is simply impossible. To blame the increased rate of COVID-19 transmission on racism is incorrect in my view.

"Other disparities in health outcomes can be easily explained by socioeconomic disadvantage and cultural diet – we do love our spam. Racism is a convenient scapegoat. The virus does not discriminate. Living conditions, cultural tradition, and extended family living are the real culprit.

"Our healthcare professionals are heroes in my estimation. They work hard for everyone, all people. To think otherwise is to assume that our medical system is controlled by racists. Who are they? Where are they? Who are these racist doctors? Where are these racist hospitals and clinics? Who are these racist medical Board of Directors – both in the private and public sector? Which race are they favoring? This measure is insulting. I believe the idea has not been provided the appropriate forethought. I question if the measure's content reflects the Aloha Spirit."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations with a brief comment, please. Mr. Speaker, for decades, study after study after study has indicated that socioeconomic status is the highest correlate that we have in social science. It's correlated with your health, your wellbeing, your self-perception, where you live, what you do. And socioeconomic status is based upon two indicators, and that is your education and your job or your income. Generally speaking, your education determines which job you got and what income you got.

"And because of that, we've got a kind of economic determinism that we don't see, which is not reflected in this reso, it makes it a public health crisis, when in effect it's a socioeconomic crisis, which means we must grow our economy to get out what otherwise professor from the University of Hawaii research office professor, I forgot his name, he's one of the professors who is on the Council on Revenues, who said basically this. We've got a third of our people who are making it in Hawaii and two thirds are on the margin or perhaps in jeopardy, the ALICE families, as they call them, those who are in jeopardy. Which means, Mr. Speaker, as long as we are having the equivalent of a family that has nine kids, three of them are fed well, another three are on rations, and the other three live on government programs or, in effect, food stamps.

"This is to say that if we want to get out of the inequality business of which this points to, we've got to grow the economy, we just can't keep slicing it in smaller and small pieces. If we're going to lift the people of Hawaii out of any of these disparities and inequalities, we must grow the economy. And I think this misses the mark by going not to the socioeconomic level of which social sciences documented very, very well, but to the point of one of the symptoms of it, of which we've got to get rid of. And I agree with all the whereas, but we've got to grow the economy if we're going to be equally treating all the people of the State of Hawaii. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think it's a good reso, but with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Okimoto rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Okimoto's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in opposition to this measure and would like to reference my remarks on Day 40, March 31, 2021, for H.R. No. 90 and H.C.R. No. 112."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. No. 140, SD 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ASSERTING THAT RACISM IS A PUBLIC HEALTH CRISIS AND URGING THE STATE TO COMMIT TO RECOGNIZING AND ADDRESSING THE RESULTING INEQUITIES, AND STUDY AND REPORT TO THE LEGISLATURE ON ECONOMIC DISPARITIES THAT CONTRIBUTE TO THE DETRIMENTAL PUBLIC HEALTH EFFECTS OF RACISM," was adopted, with Representative Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives McDermott and Okimoto voting no.
