Why would we want to tax those when we're trying to do all this getting out of biofuel, we're trying to get solar, we're trying to do all these other things, why would we want to tax land to do that? I hope somebody knows and can explain why this bill would be as it is because we should be incentivizing these people to do solar supply energy, whether it's the panel or the batteries, rather than taxing them. It's like taxing yourself out of debt, I just don't see how it can be done. So, with that, Mr. Speaker, no and confusion that sends the wrong signal to our energy-wise community. Thank you."

"Brief comment with reservations. Mr. Speaker, who's going to disagree with the right to clean water and health and all the other stuff? The only difficulty is that we've had this before on this floor. When you put something in the Constitution at that level and it becomes a right like the Bill of Rights, if you don't get clean water like this, if this bill was in effect, everybody on Red Hill, in the Army or in the Navy who drank that water could sue us. So, this is a huge liability, even though it's a warm and fuzzy, feels good, in terms of what the litigation that it can raise is very, very serious. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, it's good, but it's got some really downside economic fines that could be levied. For those reasons, with reservations."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this allows advanced practice nurses to administer death with dignity, i.e. assisted suicide. If you look at the numbers, the metrics are the majority, if not over 90% of the doctors, don't want anything to do with death and dying. I mean, it's like your cardiologist on the morning they're doing some of that and then some of the other things that they may be associated with.

"What we're doing is passing it off, if you will, to the nurses. I asked in the committee, I never got an answer, how many of the nurses would be like the doctors saying, hey, this is fine, but I don't want to do it. I know it's an accessibility issue. And in the hearing, it also said it was like, hey, the waiting period is too short, and I know this tries to correct that. And I said, you should do what the poster child of the death with dignity has done, that's John Radcliffe. The Representative of District 40 and I met with him regularly throughout the last 18 months of his life. He stockpiled, or no, he preordered, if you will, almost six months ahead of time his medicines that he would actually take and then his demise would then follow.

"So, I don't see the need for the bill in the sense until we know what the nurses are going to do, in terms of what people could stockpile for it. So, with those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I think we need to examine this rather than loosening it up. Thank you."

Representative Kitagawa rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition and a few comments. Last year, I shared my concerns regarding piecemealing APRN legislation and shared the need to look at legislation related to APRNs in a holistic manner. As you may remember, I introduced two resolutions last year in an attempt to address these concerns. These resolutions passed the House but did not pass the Senate in its original form, which originally included convening a working group to determine the gaps in access to health care and the potential role APRNs may play in addressing these gaps, as well as an unbiased analysis of APRNs and physician assistants by the Legislative Reference Bureau. Therefore, because these did not pass the Senate, there was no working group to discuss these issues and no report from LRB.

"My concerns still exist regarding the way we are looking at expanding the scope of practice for APRNs. I very much appreciate the work that APRNs and nurses do, especially during this pandemic, and my concerns do not take away from the fact that they play a critical role in our healthcare system.

"However, like I shared last year, I still believe it's important to have conversations that look at this issue holistically, including with multiple stakeholders, to discuss what the role of APRNs and other healthcare professionals should be in addressing the many healthcare concerns that we have in our communities. At some point, without having these discussions, the distinctions between the different types of healthcare providers, including physicians, becomes blurred. Thank you for letting me share my opposition to this bill."

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition, brief comment. Growing up in Kalihi, which I'm very proud of, it's really tough. We got all the housing projects, we got all the homeless people, we got the homeless shelter. And we got the jail. It's been 100 years. And about 10 years or so, our community was told that we're finally going to get rid of the jail. We're going to get rid of the jail, we're going to move it, and we're going to get all these great services or whatever we're going to get to replace the jail. And now we're here saying, no, psych, we're not going to do it. So, I appreciate the introducer and the intention of the measure, but our community has been bearing the brunt of this for too long, and I really look forward to moving this forward. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ganaden rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. As the representative of District 30, which includes Oahu Community Correctional Center, I am proud to support this bill. The replacement of the Oahu Community Correctional Center will stand to cost the State around $1 billion, as articulated by Architects Hawaii, the current plan by the Department of Public Safety. This bill and its amendment represents a compromise between advocates, the Criminal Justice Oversight Commission, and the Department of Public Safety. The Department of Public Safety has articulated in numerous ways as well alongside the community that we need to replace the Oahu Community Correctional Center. It stands on 19 acres of state land.

"Just last week, there were instances of attacks on guards and numerous safety issues regarding inmates. There are not many individuals who are articulating for the entire abolition of a new facility here in the state, as has happened in the Bronx, New York, San Francisco or Los Angeles, California. The Hawaii State Oversight Commission, the Hawaii Criminal Justice Research Institute, have not yet really been involved in policy here at the state, and this is an opportunity to slow this project down to allow them to be involved.

"There are numerous bills being moved through the Legislature right now, years in the making, discussing bail and parole reform, alternatives to incarceration, which discuss alternatives to incarceration primarily targeted towards women, towards parents, and towards Native Hawaiians. The task force on HCR 85 discussed this in 2019. The oversight commission was unanimous in saying that they want a moratorium or a pause on a new facility. If we are indeed intent on allowing them to perform their statutory duties, then this bill will allow the public to engage in that process, to engage in a conversation in those meetings. If the public wants more input on an RFQ or an RFP process or a moratorium, or to avoid the instances of inappropriate lobbying by corporate prisons, as has happened here in this state and in other states, then that will happen through this bill. Thank you so much."

Representative Holt rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Still in opposition. The current Representative from District 30 makes a good point. People are getting attacked and it's going to cost us $1 billion. So, if we don't move it, how much is it going to cost and when are we going to start moving it? When are you going to be okay to move the jail? If we don't go now, it's going to cost $1.5, $2 billion, more people are going to get attacked?"

"I grew up in the district. That thing, that's a, you go down Dillingham and you come up on this big fenced-off barbed wire building. We're going to leave it there so we can check with different people how to build a jail? We went through all these processes. EISs are done. Plans are made. Money is spent. I appreciate the previous speaker's commitment to the Native Hawaiians, but Mr. Speaker, our community needs this jail gone. Thank you."
