“My purpose is to make the Senate aware of what I think is somewhat of a devious attempt to lobby a special interest under what might be deceptive circumstances. My office has received over 30 calls. The phone ID has 9-1 followed by a series of zeros, which makes it difficult to identify the true caller. A couple of confused constituents specifically when asked by my staff, and I’ve asked my staff to document these calls, identified Philip Morris as the originator of the call. Their effort was to try to lobby this Body, and in particular Senators who voted in favor of legislation raising the taxes on cigarettes that their constituents express concern. In spite of the billions of dollars Philip Morris makes off this terrible habit that kills many, they did not do their homework very well and did not brief the people they had enticed to call our offices.

“So this serves as an alert to my fellow colleagues to be very aware of these phone calls because they may not represent the true intent of the caller but rather the intent of a very wealthy lobbying effort on the part of people that quite frankly make a lot of money off selling death.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

THIRTY-NINTH DAY

Tuesday, March 28, 2006

The Senate of the Twenty-Third Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2006, convened at 11:40 o'clock a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by the Honorable Lorraine R. Inouye, Hawaii State Senate, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present with the exception of Senator Hanabusa who was excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Thirty-Eighth Day.

Senator Baker, on behalf of President Bunda, introduced Dr. Ed Cadman, former Dean of the John A. Burns School of Medicine at the University of Hawaii. Accompanying Dr. Cadman was interim Dean T. Samuel Shomaker, MD, JD.

At this time, the President invited Dr. Cadman to the podium to address the members of the Senate.

Dr. Cadman addressed the members of the Senate as follows:

"I am honored and humbled by this proclamation. I view the state as a key partner, and you have demonstrated your wisdom and leadership over the years providing operating dollars to sustain utilities, administration, and the key faculty of the school. You took courage and risk to believe in our dreams. We have the most modern well-equipped medical school in the nation.

"I predicted in March 2000, when I first wrote the detailed description of our vision and submitted it to you, the new grant and contract revenues would be $35 million. It was $60 million last year. This would have not happened without your support. I want to thank everybody at the medical school – faculty, students and the support staff – for following our aggressive strategic plan. Interim dean, Sam Shomaker, is doing an outstanding job in following our dream.

"The renaissance and revitalization is happening in Kakaako. One of the reasons is the medical school. There is great interest to create and develop a life science and biotechnology industry in our state, the majority of which would be surrounding our medical school in Kakaako.

"Keep the vision. There will be darkness and tunnels occasionally. Go through them with your headlights on. Don't slow down.

"I want to thank you again for honoring me. Thank you."

At 12:06 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:16 o'clock p.m.

"Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'm going to rise and note my reservations on this.

"This particular measure, colleagues, specifies the exact procedure to be followed by the police when entering a home to arrest a person suspected of a crime. Apparently, I guess this originally was an administration measure but it's been amended and it is the amending language which I have concerns about because the police have had policy or procedures that they put forth and now they will be in statute. You can just imagine if, for example, a policeman did not speak these exact words, 'police; we have a warrant; open the door,' or 'police, open the door,' or there are certain exceptions. You can just imagine times when things maybe weren't said exactly right. Now they would be in statute. They would go to court. It would end up getting a potential conviction potentially tossed out.

"I think that this is a concern. It's certainly something that can be fixed, but I want to note my reservations at this time. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 2299, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHAPTER 803," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hee moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3285 be adopted and H.B. No. 1787, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Whalen rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Mr. President, obviously, this bill is an attempt to address the situation that doesn't really exist in Hawaii. It's been across the mainland where cars have been stolen with a child left inside. The thief usually didn't know about it because the car was quickly abandoned with the child inside. Certainly, in a situation like that, Mr. President, that is a very dangerous situation for a child. But once again, we use the shotgun approach to deal with this problem. We've made it illegal now, or a violation rather, to have a 14-year-old child watch another child in the car if they are under nine years old.

"Mr. President, my 13-year-old son regularly watches my kids when my wife and I aren't available. He makes them their food and takes care of them. He knows our cell numbers. He's a very responsible kid. This bill right now makes it illegal for my wife to stop the car, open the door, take two steps outside to throw something in the garbage can, because under the law, she's leaving the car. She's leaving the children inside unsupervised. It's now a violation.

"If the situation is that a 14-year-old child is not responsible enough to watch another child, then we should make it illegal for that to happen anyplace, anytime, whether it's in a car, a house, an apartment, out in the yard, playing sports.

"The problem that we're trying to deal with here, Mr. President, is the illegal behavior of a car thief, not the responsibility or irresponsibility of a child. What we're doing is we're punishing . . . I know we heard this argument before, but what we're doing is we're punishing law-abiding families for the illegal behavior of some. And if that was dangerous – to leave a 14-year-old with an 8-year-old – we already have a law on the books about endangering the welfare of a minor. So this bill is completely unnecessary if it was endangering. But because it's not endangering, we are now making it illegal.

"I wish, as a body, we would not have these knee-jerk reactions without thinking clearly through what's going on, because even the bill itself might even be deemed unconstitutional because it's so vague about what is leaving.

"One final note, not to draw it on, but on one hand we're saying that if you're 14 years old, you can consent to very dangerous medical procedures without your parent's knowledge or consent, but yet that same 14-year-old is so irresponsible that they can't watch an 8-year-old in the car.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'no' or at least kill it in Committee."

At 12:11 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:29 o'clock p.m.

Senator Hee moved that action on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3285 and H.B. No. 1787, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, be deferred until Tuesday, April 11, 2006, seconded by Senator Baker.

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 2043, H.D.2, S.D. 2, is amended to read as follows:

1. By designating sections 1 and 2 of the bill as "PART I."

2. By adding a new part to the bill to be designated as PART II and to read as follows:

"PART II

SECTION 3. Section 346-59, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"§346-59 Medical care payments. (a) The department shall adopt rules under chapter 91 concerning payment to providers of medical care. The department shall determine the rates of payment due to all providers of medical care, and pay such amounts in accordance with the requirements of the appropriations act and the Social Security Act, as amended. Payments to critical access hospitals for services rendered to medicaid beneficiaries shall be calculated on a cost basis using medicare reasonable cost principles.

(b) Rates of payment to providers of medical care who are individual practitioners, including doctors of medicine, dentists, podiatrists, psychologists, osteopaths, optometrists, and other individuals providing services, shall be based upon the Hawaii medicaid fee schedule. The amounts paid shall not exceed the maximum permitted to be paid individual practitioners or other individuals under federal law and regulation, the medicare fee schedule for the current year, the state limits as provided in the appropriation act, or the provider's billed amount.

The appropriation act shall indicate the percentage of the medicare fee schedule for the year 2000 to be used as the basis for establishing the Hawaii medicaid fee schedule. For any subsequent adjustments to the fee schedule, the legislature shall specify the extent of the adjustment in the appropriation act.

(c) In establishing the payment rates for other noninstitutional items and services, the rates shall not exceed the current medicare payment, the state limits as provided in the appropriation act, the rate determined by the department, or the provider's billed amount.

(d) Payments to health maintenance organizations and prepaid health plans with which the department executes risk contracts for the provision of medical care to eligible public assistance recipients may be made on a prepaid basis. The rate of payment per participating recipient shall be fixed by contract, as determined by the department and the health maintenance organization or the prepaid health plan, but shall not exceed the maximum permitted by federal rules and shall be less than the federal maximum when funds appropriated by the legislature for such contracts require a lesser rate. For purposes of this subsection, "health maintenance organizations" are entities approved as such, and "prepaid health plans" are entities designated as such by the Department of Health and Human Services; and "risk" means the possibility that the health maintenance organization or the prepaid health plan may incur a loss because the cost of providing services may exceed the payments made by the department for services covered under the contract.

(e) The department shall prepare each biennial budget request for a medical care appropriation based upon the most current Hawaii medicaid fee schedule available at the time the request is prepared.

The director shall submit a report to the legislature on or before January 1 of each year indicating an estimate of the amount of money required to be appropriated to pay providers at the maximum rates permitted by federal and state rules in the upcoming fiscal year.

(f) The department shall not require an enrolled member of the QUEST program to re-enroll and select a QUEST health plan unless the QUEST health plan ceases to actively continue providing services and coverage to its members."

3. By designating and amending sections 3 and 4 to read as follows:

"PART III

SECTION [3-] 4. New statutory material is underscored.

SECTION [4.] 5. This Act shall take effect on July 1, 2050[-]; provided that section 3 shall take effect on approval and apply retroactively to March 1, 2006."

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Floor Amendment No. 8 be adopted, seconded by Senator Ihara.

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the amendment and stated:

"Mr. President, with regards to this floor amendment, in a recently issued request for a proposal for the Quest program, the Department of Human Services proposes a concept of positive enrollment, which would require 165,000 individuals currently enrolled in Quest to affirmatively re-enroll in the plan and select a primary care physician. Those who do not respond to the auto-assignment will be auto-assigned to a health plan according to an approved algorithm.

"There is a unified consensus from providers of health services that this particular provision within the current RFP would be very detrimental to the members of the Quest program. This provision would prohibit DHS from having that provision in the request for proposal.

"Also, I wanted to note that the retroactive date in part three of the floor amendment basically insures that there is no gap in coverage for the Quest recipients. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

"Mr. President, could the record reflect my opposition."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 8 was put by the Chair and carried with Senator Hemmings voting "No."

Senator Chun Oakland then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3450 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Ihara and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 2043, H.D. 2, S.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAID," was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, April 13, 2006.

"(2) By ~~repealing~~ amending section 156[:] to read:

SECTION 4. H.B. No. 1900, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, Section 7 is amended by deleting items (3) to (9) and item (11).

SECTION 5. H.B. No. 1900, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by amending Section 7 by deleting items (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), and (11), and renumbering items (10), (12), (13), (14), (15), and (16), and (17) as (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), and (9), respectively.

Senator Hemmings moved that Floor Amendment No. 9 be adopted, seconded by Senator Hogue.

Senator Hemmings rose on a conflict ruling as follows:

“Mr. President, first I’d like to get a ruling from the Chair regarding a possible conflict. My wife is a part-time employee of one of the organizations that’s a beneficiary of TANF funds.”

The Chair ruled that Senator Hemmings was not in conflict.

Senator Hemmings continued in support of the amendment and said:

“You might ask, and all of you might ask why I would move to amend the budget on the Floor before it goes to Conference Committee. There are several reasons, not the least of which is that in Conference Committee it is pretty much an event that is driven by the Chairs in which the participants – Ways and Means and Finance Committee members – are there to validate what the Chairs have decided. Hence, the opportunity to amend it before Conference would send a strong signal that this Legislature is indeed in favor of more accountability in the process, number one, and more money being spent where it should be spent in the state budget.

“I would like to tell my colleagues that this is an effort to improve the budget, hopefully, for two areas that are near and dear to all our hearts. This is not an adversarial amendment; rather it’s a pro budget amendment.

“The first portion of the amendment would reinstate, by eliminating provisos in the budget and putting money back in, approximately $26 million of TANF funds, temporary assistance for needy families, that has been taken out of the budget unilaterally. It is my understanding from the Committee Chair that this money is taken out and put into a, quote, unquote, ‘rainy day fund.’

“The unfortunate truth of the matter is, unless the money is spent on preventative initiatives as it originally proposed, when it is held in a fund it can only be spent on subsidies to welfare recipients who are employed. I would also like to point out that there is presently $140 million of unused money, federal money, sitting in the fund.

“I would like to point out to my colleagues that cutting federal funding is not unprecedented. In this Legislature or in this Senate two years ago, there was an effort to cut the federal funding for positions within the Department of Health. We passed that and we had to go back later and amend another bill to reinstate them. I would suggest that this has the same convoluted rationale. The point being, and I hope that my colleagues listen real closely, this money is federal money that’s being spent in many of your districts to preempt welfare, to preempt teen pregnancy, to assist in family outreach, to preempt violence, to intercept children that are in peril that would maybe have to go into child protective services and foster care, which costs the state millions of dollars. So, this is a very positive amendment that will put federal money, not local tax money, back into the budget.

“Let me talk about where some of this money is going. Remember, there is $26 million by the provisos and by the budget amendments that are being taken out of the budget of federal money that could be used to help our local people who are in need of assistance. Some of it is going to the Department of Education to provide teen pregnancy counseling, Kapiolani Medical Center teen pregnancy prevention, pregnancy prevention training at the University of Hawaii Outreach College, and the University School of Medicine. Other beneficiary organizations include Uplink, the Department of Education on Molokai, the same program on Kauai, human services and social services statewide, Children and Parents Together in Kalihi, Kokua Kalihi Valley, Susannah Wesley Community Center, Teen Pregnancy Family Strengthening for Boys and Girls in Ewa Beach, the same organization receiving funding from TANF in Nanakuli, Salvation Army in Keau on the Big Island, Teen Pregnancy Strengthening in Pahoa, Salvation Army in Hilo, Hale Kipa at Kawanakoa School, Hale Kipa at Stevenson School, Hui Malama Boys and Girls Club on Kauai, and child abuse prevention in the Department of Human Services. Additional funds would go to neighborhood places statewide for Hawaii’s advocacy program, the program partners with child welfare services in a branch of the Office of Youth Services; $3.2 million for enhanced healthy start services, of course this is the program that helps children between birth and the first year of life with health problems in families that are poor.

“Colleagues, I could go on and on and on. You’re cutting this money, federal money not out of the local taxpayer’s pocket directly, but out of the federal budget, for what? To put it in a rainy day fund where it can only be used to subsidize welfare? I would suggest that this money could be better used immediately to continue funding these welfare programs.

“If you vote in favor of this amendment, you’re voting in favor of helping the poorest amongst us in dealing with serious problems such as teen pregnancy, dependency on welfare, avoiding abuse, and strengthening the family. If you vote against it, you’re voting against human service programs in your districts and you’re throwing away federal money and putting it in a fund that is not needed.

“The second area of this budget amendment has to do with Waimanalo Wastewater Plant. The Governor put money into it two years ago to improve the Waimanalo Wastewater Plant. It passed the House with flying colors, and low and behold, the Senate, for reasons I don’t understand, cut the money. This is not pork for my district. We all had concerns about wastewater and what’s happening. The many Hawaiian’s in Waimanalo safety, health, and maybe even their lives will be jeopardized. If their immune systems are weak and they happen to get into water with sewage in it, they face the possible fate of the young man who fell in the Ala Wai. We have committed money to fixing this wastewater plant. In order to finish it, $10 million is needed. This money has been eliminated.

“I would suggest to my colleagues to reinstate this money. The first thing we would do is we would protect people from having to swim in or be exposed to water that’s been contaminated by sewage. I want to emphasize that Waimanalo has Hawaiian homes in it and many other programs that serve the Hawaiian community and they, for the life of me, cannot understand why this money was taken out.

“I will, for the record, let you know that the money last year was reinstated in Conference Committee but I suspect it was more of a political move than a good will move.

“I will also let our colleagues know that you can bet there are going to be lawsuits concerning irresponsibility when it comes to managing the most basic resources such as wastewater management, and this money would go a long way in preempting that.

"I would hope that we can put aside the partisan labels and look at the issues that we're dealing with here and vote in favor of this amendment. Obviously, something could be done in Conference Committee, but I would rather not leave it to the fate of the Conference Committee Chairs. I would rather us all have a hand in a very open and democratic manner by voting on these amendments and voting affirmative.

"Thank you, Mr. President. Could I call for a Roll Call vote?"

Senator Taniguchi rose in opposition to the amendment and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

"Rather than go point by point on some of the somewhat confusing argument of my colleague from Waimanalo, I guess what I would say is that the budget bill will be in Conference. We will have additional discussion on these issues. I guess the Waimanalo Wastewater Treatment appropriation which was in Section 1 of the amendment is a matter that we have provided resources for in the past. There's some question to the amount provided, I think $18 million last year. At that time it was said that it would be sufficient to cover all expenses and that's what we're raising at this point with regard to Waimanalo Wastewater Treatment Plant improvements.

"With regard to TANF, I'm not sure if the Chair of the Human Services Committee is going to say anything but this is an ongoing discussion. I think the feeling of the Ways and Means Committee generally was that we would like to have some reserve. I think that's what he's talking about with the rainy day money but I'm not really clear. We retain a reserve in TANF because we're concerned that because of the war and the federal government's cost and spending that we may not have additional TANF authorizations in the future or they would be more limited. And so, part of it is to retain a reserve so that in the future we may be able to take care of the poor people that my colleague from Waimanalo refers to.

"So, I would ask my colleagues to vote 'no' on this amendment. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of rebuttal.

"With all due respect to the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, the reserve fund or the rainy day fund, or whatever you want to call it, is the problem. The very reason we should vote in favor of this amendment is because putting the money in the reserves eliminates – eliminates – its use in any other area. There are restrictions put on by the federal government on the use of these funds and unless they're used in the areas that I just delineated in my talk in favor of it, it goes into a reserve fund that can only be used for cash payments to welfare recipients.

"So basically, what you're making a choice here between is paying people cash to be dependent upon welfare checks or spending the money now in all the programs I've outlined in your districts that are going to assist people from not being abused, from not having to go on welfare, from getting a job and all the other programs that TANF has been able to fund.

"I might add I'm tremendously proud of Lillian Koller in the Department of Human Services. The state has received approximately $99 million a year since 1995 in TANF programs and only this director has taken the money and put it into the marketplace to help people from being on welfare, from getting abused, from getting pregnant, from getting beat up.

"Please, please, pass these amendments. Go back to the people in Keau, to Kauai, to all the human service programs that are receiving this fund and ask them about it, because the money is put into this reserve, it is not going to be able to help them or the people that we are elected to serve.

"Secondly, in the reserve fund there is currently $140 million. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Chun Oakland rose in opposition to the amendment and said:

"Mr. President, I speak in opposition to this floor amendment.

"I believe the intent is very noble and I appreciate the former speaker's interest in TANF and the support that he has publicly made in this regard. We do have a Senate bill that is a temporary assistance to needy family bill that will be coming back to the Senate and that outlines quite a bit of what he spoke of in terms of the programs that could be funded through TANF. I think there is a general concern that has been expressed by the money committees that the reserve, which is I believe $114 million over three years if we go with the expenditure of $35 million per year, would basically be eliminated. So, we don't necessarily want to go that route.

"I know there is openness about general funds potentially funding some of these programs. I think the state has to make a much greater commitment with our state general funds, but I know that there is ongoing discussion. I know the Chair of Ways and Means is open to this and he has expressed that to me. Thank you very much, Mr. President."

At 11:25 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:25 o'clock a.m.

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 9 was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 5. Noes, 20 (Baker, Bunda, Chun Oakland, English, Espero, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Hee, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Inouye, Kanno, Kim, Kokubun, Menor, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Tsutsui).

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, H.B. No. 1900, S.D. 1, represents the Senate's version of the 2007 supplemental budget for the executive branch of government.

"Before I give some short remarks about the bill itself, I would like to acknowledge a few people who were instrumental in the development of this measure – first, would be my hardworking staff, some of whom have joined us in the gallery this morning. With your permission, Mr. President, I would like to ask them to rise and be recognized. (Members of the Ways and Means who were seated in the gallery rose to be recognized.) Next would be my colleagues on the Ways and Means Committee. I would like to personally thank them for their patience in sitting through our long budget hearings, for their spirited debates, and most of all for their continued support in me as Chair. I would also like to thank you, Mr. President, and all the Senate Committee Chairs for your input and guidance. Finally, I would like to acknowledge my family, the sacrifices my family makes, especially my wife Jan. I guess sometimes not spending time with me is not necessarily a sacrifice, but I'd like to acknowledge her guidance in helping me do my work.

"Mr. President, as is usual and customary for me, I would like to address this measure with very little fanfare. However, it is not my intent to minimize the importance of this measure as it represents a significant piece of the financial plan that we all want to develop. With regards to the appropriations, this measure continues to do what we have done consistently over the years – provide much needed resources to very crucial government programs.

"We have once again demonstrated our commitment to the state's greatest resource – our children. Toward this end, we have placed emphasis on ensuring that our public schools continue to receive the much needed resources to provide a quality learning experience. In this regard we provided an additional $112 million in general funds and $302 million in capital improvements to the Department of Education. This commitment also includes supporting the university as it plays an integral role in charting Hawaii's future. With that in mind, we provided an additional $30 million in general funds and $86 million in capital improvements to the University of Hawaii.

"We have balanced our dedication to education by providing for the basic needs of our citizens as well. We have provided substantial increases in general funds for other departments in the following amounts: $63 million in general funds and $11 million in capital improvements for the Department of Human Services; $17 million in general funds and $18 million in capital improvements for the Department of Health; and $15 million in general funds and $14 million in capital improvements for the Department of Public Safety.

"Despite strong economic indicators and positive revenue projections by the Council on Revenues, we are aware that there will always be unforeseen future costs to the state and have therefore taken a prudent approach to providing financial resources that may help prevent budget shortfalls in the future.

"Mr. President, as we head into Conference, I would like to remind my colleagues that this bill is just a work in progress and our vote on today's budget does not close the door on further deliberations. On that note, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to continue to support me and remain patient as we enter the final weeks of this Session. Thank you."

The motion to pass H.B. No. 1900, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, on Third Reading was then put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1900, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

THIRD READING

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3512 (H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3512 be adopted and H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Fukunaga then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 10) to H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. H.B. No. 2419, S.D. 2, is amended by designating sections 1 through 12 as part I.

SECTION 2. H.B. No. 2419, S.D. 2, is amended by adding thirty-one new sections, designating these new sections as Part II, numbering these new sections as sections 13 through 43, and to read as follows:

"PART II

SECTION 13. The purpose of this part is to adopt changes to Hawaii's tax law that will allow Hawaii to participate in the streamlined sales and use tax agreement. By enacting the Hawaii Simplified Sales and Use Tax Administration Act, Act 173, Session Laws of Hawaii 2003, the State of Hawaii became a participating member of the National Streamlined Sales Tax Project.

In furtherance of the State's efforts to comply with the terms and conditions of the conforming legislation reflected in the Streamlined Sales Tax Project's model agreement and act, the Hawaii state legislature enacted Act 3, Special Session Laws of Hawaii 2005. Act 3, in part, establishes a technical advisory group to assist the state department of taxation in identifying and resolving issues necessary for Streamlined Sales Tax Project compliance. In addition, a joint house-senate legislative oversight committee has been formed to provide additional tax policy support and guidance. This part is a culmination of these efforts.

In order to participate in the streamlined sales and use tax agreement, Hawaii must amend its tax law in conformity with the streamlined sales and use tax agreement. To conform, Hawaii must adopt a single rate of general excise tax, Hawaii's substitute for a sales tax. In accordance with advice received from the Streamlined Sales Tax Governing Board and COST, a national organization representing businesses, this was accomplished by:

- (1) Moving the one-half of one per cent tax rate for wholesale transactions to a new chapter;
- (2) Adding a new chapter on the taxation of imports of property, services, and contracting;
- (3) Moving the 0.15 per cent tax on insurance producers to a new chapter; and
- (4) Eliminating the tax on businesses owned by disabled persons.

This part also provides for destination-based sourcing and amnesty.

SECTION 14. The Hawaii Revised Statutes is amended by adding a new chapter to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

"CHAPTER TAX ON WHOLESALERS, SERVICE BUSINESSES, AND CONTRACTORS

§A-1 Definitions; "business", "gross income". The definitions contained in sections 237-1, 237-2, and 237-3 shall apply to this chapter.

- (b) If the use tax law under chapter B is finally held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid insofar as it purports to tax the use or consumption of tangible personal property imported into the State in interstate or foreign commerce, or both, wholesalers and jobbers shall be taxed thereafter under this chapter in accordance with the following definition (which shall supersede the preceding subsection otherwise defining "wholesaler" or "jobber"): "Wholesaler" or "jobber" means a person, or a definitely organized division thereof, definitely organized to render and rendering a general distribution service that buys and maintains at the person's place of business a stock or lines of merchandise that the person distributes; and that the person, through salespersons, advertising, or sales promotion devices, sells to licensed retailers, to institutional, or licensed commercial or industrial users, in wholesale quantities and at wholesale rates. - (b) As used in this section, "agricultural products" include floricultural, horticultural, viticultural, forestry, nut, coffee, dairy, livestock, poultry, bee, animal, and any other farm, agronomic, or plantation products.

- §A-5 Administrative provisions. Sections 237-8, 237-9, 237-9.5, 237-11, and 237-12 shall be applicable for this chapter.
- §A-6 Imposition of tax. (a) There is hereby levied and shall be assessed and collected annually privilege taxes against persons on account of their business and other activities in the State measured by the application of rates against values of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income, whichever is specified, as follows:
- (1) Tax on manufacturers:
 - (A) Upon every person engaging or continuing within the State in the business of manufacturing, including compounding, canning, preserving, packing, printing, publishing, milling, processing, refining, or preparing for sale, profit, or commercial use, either directly or through the activity of others, in whole or in part, any article or articles, substance or substances, commodity or commodities, the amount of the tax to be equal to the value of the articles, substances, or commodities, manufactured, compounded, canned, preserved, packed, printed, milled, processed, refined, or prepared for sale, as shown by the gross proceeds derived from the sale thereof by the manufacturer or person compounding, preparing, or printing them, multiplied by one-half of one per cent;
 - (B) The measure of the tax on manufacturers is the value of the entire product for sale, regardless of the place of sale or the fact that deliveries may be made to points outside the State;
 - (C) If any person liable for the tax on manufacturers ships or transports the person's product, or any part thereof, out of the State, whether in a finished or unfinished condition, or sells the same for delivery to points outside the State (for example, consigned to a mainland purchaser via common carrier f.o.b. Honolulu), the value of the products in the condition or form in which they exist immediately before entering interstate or foreign commerce, determined as hereinafter provided, shall be the basis for the assessment of the tax imposed by this paragraph. This tax shall be due and payable as of the date of entry of the products into interstate or foreign commerce, whether the products are then sold or not. The department shall determine the basis for assessment, as provided by this paragraph, as follows:
 - (i) If the products at the time of their entry into interstate or foreign commerce already have been sold, the gross proceeds of sale, less the transportation expenses, if any, incurred in realizing the gross proceeds for transportation from the time of entry of the products into interstate or foreign

- commerce, including insurance and storage in transit, shall be the measure of the value of the products;
- (ii) If the products have not been sold at the time of their entry into interstate or foreign commerce, and in cases governed by clause (i) in which the products are sold under circumstances such that the gross proceeds of sale are not indicative of the true value of the products, the value of the products constituting the basis for assessment shall correspond as nearly as possible to the gross proceeds of sales for delivery outside the State, adjusted as provided in clause (i), or if sufficient data are not available, sales in the State, of similar products of like quality and character and in similar quantities, made by the taxpayer (unless not indicative of the true value) or by others. Sales outside the State, adjusted as provided in clause (i), may be considered when they constitute the best available data. The department of taxation shall prescribe uniform and equitable rules for ascertaining the values;
- (iii) At the election of the taxpayer and with the approval of the department of taxation, the taxpayer may make the taxpayer's returns under clause (i) even though the products have not been sold at the time of their entry into interstate or foreign commerce; and
- (iv) In all cases in which products leave the State in an unfinished condition, the basis for assessment shall be adjusted so as to deduct the portion of the value as is attributable to the finishing of the goods outside the State;
- (2) Tax on producers: Upon every person engaging or continuing within this State in the business of a producer, the tax shall be equal to one-half of one per cent of the gross proceeds of sales of the business, or the value of the products, for sale, if sold for delivery outside the State or shipped or transported out of the State, and the value of the products shall be determined in the same manner as the value of manufactured products covered in the cases under paragraph (1)(C). No manufacturer or producer, engaged in the business of manufacturing or producing in the State and selling the manufacturer's or producer's products for delivery outside of the State (for example, consigned to a mainland purchaser via common carrier f.o.b. Honolulu), shall be required to pay the tax imposed in this chapter for the privilege of so selling the products, and the value or gross proceeds of sales of the products shall be included only in determining the measure of the tax imposed upon the manufacturer or producer;
- (3) Tax upon theaters, amusements, radio broadcasting stations, etc. Upon every person engaging or continuing within the State in the business of operating a theater, opera house, moving picture show, vaudeville, amusement park, dance hall, skating rink, radio broadcasting station, or any other place at which amusements are offered to the public, at wholesale, the tax shall be one-half of one per cent of the gross proceeds of the business;
- (4) Tax on service business upon every person engaging or continuing within the State in any service business or calling including professional services not otherwise specifically taxed under this chapter, as a wholesaler described in section A-2, the tax shall be equal to one-half of one per cent of the gross proceeds of the business;
- (5) Tax on sales by wholesalers:
- (A) Upon every person who is engaged in the business of a wholesaler or jobber as described in section A-2 of selling any tangible personal property whatsoever (not including, however, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, or stocks), there is hereby levied, and shall be assessed and collected, a tax equivalent to one-half of one per cent of the gross proceeds of sales of the business as a wholesaler or jobber as defined in section A-2;
- (B) Gross proceeds of sales of tangible property in interstate and foreign commerce shall constitute a part of the measure of the tax imposed on persons in the business of selling tangible personal property as a wholesaler, to the extent, under the conditions, and in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress of the United States that may be now in force or may be hereafter adopted, and whenever there occurs in the State an activity to which, under the Constitution and Acts of Congress, there may be attributed gross proceeds of sales, the gross proceeds shall be so attributed.
- (b) When a manufacturer or producer, engaged in business in the State, also is engaged in selling the manufacturer's or producer's products in the State at wholesale taxed under this chapter, retail, or in any other manner, the tax for the privilege of engaging in the business of selling the products in the State shall apply to the manufacturer or producer as well as the tax for the privilege of manufacturing or producing in the State, and the manufacturer or producer shall make the returns of the gross proceeds of the wholesale, retail, or other sales required for the privilege of selling in the State, as well as making the returns of the value or gross proceeds of sales of the products required for the privilege of manufacturing or producing in the State. The manufacturer or producer shall pay the tax imposed in this chapter for the privilege of selling its products in the State, and the value or gross proceeds of sales of the products, thus subjected to tax, may be deducted insofar as duplicated as to the same products by the measure of the tax upon the manufacturer or producer for the privilege of manufacturing or producing in the State under this chapter; provided that no producer of agricultural products who sells the products to a purchaser who will process the products outside the State shall be required to pay the tax imposed in this chapter for the privilege of producing or selling those products.
- §A-7 Resale certificates. (a) The department of taxation, by rule, may require that a seller take from the purchaser of tangible personal property a certificate, in a form prescribed by the department, certifying that the sale is a sale at wholesale; provided that:
- (1) Any purchaser who furnishes a certificate shall be obligated to pay to the seller, upon demand, the amount of the additional tax that is imposed upon the seller whenever the sale in fact is not at wholesale; and
- (2) The absence of a certificate in itself shall give rise to the presumption that the sale is not at wholesale unless the sales of the business are exclusively at wholesale.
- (b) The department of taxation may require that the person rendering an amusement at wholesale take from the licensed seller a certificate, in a form prescribed by the department, certifying that the sale is a sale at wholesale; provided that:
- (1) Any licensed seller who furnishes a certificate shall be obligated to pay to the person rendering the amusement, upon demand, the amount of additional tax that is imposed upon the seller whenever the sale is not at wholesale; and
- (2) The absence of a certificate in itself shall give rise to the presumption that the sale is not at wholesale unless the person rendering the sale is exclusively rendering the amusement at wholesale.

(c) The department of taxation may require that the person rendering a service at wholesale take from the licensed seller a certificate, in a form prescribed by the department, certifying that the sale is a sale at wholesale; provided that:

- (1) Any licensed seller who furnishes a certificate shall be obligated to pay to the person rendering the service, upon demand, the amount of additional tax that is imposed upon the seller whenever the sale is not at wholesale; and
- (2) The absence of a certificate in itself shall give rise to the presumption that the sale is not at wholesale unless the person rendering the sale is exclusively rendering services at wholesale.

§A-8 Tax on receipts of sugar benefit payments. Upon the amounts received from the United States government by any producer of sugar (or the producer's legal representative or heirs), as defined under and by virtue of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended, or other Acts of the Congress of the United States relating thereto, there is hereby levied a tax of one-half of one per cent of the gross amount received; provided that the tax levied hereunder on any amount so received and actually disbursed to another by a producer in the form of a benefit payment shall be paid by the person or persons to whom the amount is actually disbursed, and the producer actually making a benefit payment to another shall be entitled to claim on the producer's return a deduction from the gross amount taxable hereunder in the sum of the amount so disbursed. The amounts taxed under this section shall not be taxable under any other paragraph, subsection, or section of this chapter.

§A-9 Segregation of gross income, etc., on records and returns. The imposition of taxes and the application of tax rates do not depend upon the business in which the taxpayer is primarily engaged. One business may be subject to two or more tax rates under this chapter and chapter 237. If a business is within the purview of two or more of the paragraphs of section 237-13 or other provisions of this chapter or chapter 237, all of them apply, each provision being applicable to the appropriate item of gross income, gross proceeds of sales, or value of products. However, any person engaging or continuing in a business having gross income, gross proceeds of sales, and value of products, or any of these as the case may be, taxable at different rates, shall be subject to taxation upon the aggregate amount of the gross income, gross proceeds of sales, and value of products of the business at the highest rate applicable to any part of the aggregate, unless the person shall segregate the parts taxable at different rates upon the person's records and in the person's returns, and shall sustain the burden of proving that the segregation was correctly made.

§A-10 Assessment on generated electricity. Any other provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, the levy and assessment of tax on the gross proceeds from the sale of electric power to a public utility company for resale to the public, shall be made only as a tax on business of a producer, at the rate assessed producers, under section A-6(a)(2).

§A-11 Technicians. When technicians supply dentures or physicians with dentures, orthodontic devices, braces, and similar items which have been prepared by the technician in accordance with specifications furnished by the dentist or physician, and these items are to be used by the dentist or physician in the dentist's or physician's professional practice for a particular patient who is to pay the dentist or physician for the same as a part of the dentist's or physician's professional services, the technician shall be taxed as though the technician were a manufacturer selling a product to a licensed retailer, rather than pursuant to chapter 237 at the rate of four per cent that is generally applied to professions and services.

§A-12 Activity ordered by others. (a) Where, through the activity of a person taxable under section 237-13(5), a product has been milled, processed, or otherwise manufactured upon the order of another taxpayer who is a manufacturer taxable upon the value of the entire manufactured products, which consists in part of the value of the services taxable under section 237-13(5), so much gross income as is derived from the rendering of the services shall be subjected to tax on the person rendering the services at the rate of one-half of one per cent, and the value of the entire product shall be included in the measure of the tax imposed on the other taxpayer as elsewhere provided.

(b) Where, through the activity of a person taxable under section 237-13(5), there have been rendered to a cane planter services consisting in the harvesting or hauling of the cane, or consisting in road maintenance, under a contract between the person rendering the services and the cane planter, covering the services and also the milling of the sugar, the services of harvesting and hauling the cane and road maintenance shall be treated the same as the service of milling the cane, as provided by subsection (a), and the value of the entire product, manufactured or sold for the cane planter under the contract, shall be included in the measure of the tax imposed on the persons elsewhere provided.

§A-13 Apportionment. In the case of a tax upon the production of property in the State, the apportionment shall be determined as in the case of the tax on manufacturers provided in section A-6(a)(1).

§A-15 Exemptions. The exemptions provided in section 237-23, 237-26, 237-27.5, 237-29, 237-29.5, and 237-29.53 shall apply to this chapter.

§A-16 Amounts not taxable. This chapter shall not apply to the following amounts:

- (1) The amounts of taxes on cigarettes and tobacco products imposed by chapter 245 on wholesalers or dealers holding licenses under that chapter and selling the products at wholesale;
- (2) The amounts of federal taxes under chapter 37 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or similar federal taxes, imposed on sugar manufactured in the State, paid by the manufacturer to the federal government;
- (3) Gross income received by any blind, deaf, or totally disabled person engaging, or continuing, in any business, trade, activity, occupation, or calling within the State; a corporation all of whose outstanding shares are owned by an individual or individuals who are blind, deaf, or totally disabled; a general, limited or limited liability partnership, all of whose partners are blind, deaf, or totally disabled; or a limited liability company, all of whose members are blind, deaf, or totally disabled;
- (4) Amounts received by a producer of sugarcane from the manufacturer to whom the producer sells the sugarcane, where:
 - (A) The producer is an independent cane farmer, so classed by the Secretary of Agriculture under the Sugar Act of 1948 (61 Stat. 922, Chapter 519) as the Act may be amended or supplemented;
 - (B) The value or gross proceeds of sale of the sugar, and other products manufactured from the sugarcane, is included in the measure of the tax levied on the manufacturer under section A-6(a)(1);
 - (C) The producer's gross proceeds of sales are dependent upon the actual value of the products manufactured therefrom or the average value of all similar products manufactured by the manufacturer; and
 - (D) The producer's gross proceeds of sales are reduced by reason of the tax on the value or sale of the manufactured products.

§A-17 Exemption for sale of tangible personal property for resale at wholesale. (a) There shall be exempted from, and excluded from the measure of, the taxes imposed by this chapter all of the gross proceeds or gross income arising from the sale of tangible personal property imported to Hawaii from a foreign or domestic source to a licensed taxpayer for subsequent resale for the purpose of wholesale as defined under section A-2(a)(8).

(b) The department of taxation, by rule, may provide that a seller may take from the purchaser of imported tangible personal property, a certificate in a form that the department shall prescribe, certifying that the purchaser of the imported tangible personal property shall resell the imported tangible personal property at wholesale as defined under section A-2(a)(8). Any purchaser who furnishes a certificate shall be obligated to pay to the seller, upon demand, if the sale in fact is not a sale for the purpose of resale at wholesale, the amount of the additional tax which by reason thereof is imposed upon the seller. The absence of a certificate, unless the sales of the business are exclusively a sale for the purpose of resale at wholesale, in itself, shall give rise to the presumption that the sale is not a sale for the purpose of resale at wholesale.

SECTION 15. The Hawaii Revised Statutes is amended by adding a new chapter to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

“CHAPTER

CONTRACTING FOR RE SALE

§B-1 Definitions. Definitions contained in section 238-1 shall apply to this chapter.

§B-2 Imposition of tax on tangible personal property; exemptions. There is hereby levied an excise tax on the use in this State of tangible personal property which is imported by a taxpayer in this State whether owned, purchased from an unlicensed seller, or however acquired for use in this State. The tax imposed by this chapter shall accrue when the property is acquired by the importer or purchaser and becomes subject to the taxing jurisdiction of the State. The rates of the tax hereby imposed and the exemptions thereof are as follows:

- (1) If the importer or purchaser is licensed under chapter A and is:
 - (A) A wholesaler or jobber importing or purchasing for purposes of sale or resale; or
 - (B) A manufacturer importing or purchasing material or commodities that are to be incorporated by the manufacturer into a finished or saleable product (including the container or package in which the product is contained) wherein it will remain in a form as to be perceptible to the senses, and the finished or saleable product is to be sold in a manner as to result in a further tax on the activity of the manufacturer as the manufacturer or as a wholesaler, and not as a retailer;

there shall be no tax; provided that if the wholesaler, jobber, or manufacturer is also engaged in business as a retailer (so classed under chapter 237), paragraph (2) shall apply to the wholesaler, jobber, or manufacturer, but the director of taxation shall refund to the wholesaler, jobber, or manufacturer, in the manner provided under section 231-23(c) the amount of tax as the wholesaler, jobber, or manufacturer shall establish, to the satisfaction of the director, to have been paid by the wholesaler, jobber, or manufacturer to the director with respect to property that has been used by the wholesaler, jobber, or manufacturer for the purposes stated in this paragraph;

- (2) If the importer or purchaser is licensed under chapter 237 and is:

- (A) A retailer or other person importing or purchasing for purposes of sale or resale, not exempted by paragraph (1);
- (B) A manufacturer importing or purchasing material or commodities that are to be incorporated by the manufacturer into a finished or saleable product (including the container or package in which the product is contained) wherein it will remain in a form as to be perceptible to the senses, and the finished or saleable product is to be sold at retail in this State, in a manner as to result in a further tax on the activity of the manufacturer in selling the products at retail;
- (C) A contractor importing or purchasing material or commodities that are to be incorporated by the contractor into the finished work or project required by the contract and that will remain in the finished work or project in a form as to be perceptible to the senses;
- (D) A person engaged in a service business or calling as defined in section 237-7, or a person furnishing transient accommodations subject to the tax imposed by section 237D-2, in which the import or purchase of tangible personal property would have qualified as a sale at wholesale as defined in section A-2(a)(8) had the seller of the property been subject to the tax in chapter 237; or
- (E) A publisher of magazines or similar printed materials containing advertisements, when the publisher is under contract with the advertisers to distribute a minimum number of magazines or similar printed materials to the public or defined segment of the public, whether or not there is a charge to the persons who actually receive the magazines or similar printed materials, the tax shall be one-half of one per cent of the purchase price of the property, if the purchase and sale are consummated in Hawaii; or, if there is no purchase price applicable thereto, or if the purchase or sale is consummated outside of Hawaii, then one-half of one per cent of the value of the property.

§B-3 Imposition of tax on imported services or contracting; exemptions. There is hereby levied an excise tax on the value of services or contracting as defined in section 237-6 that are performed by an unlicensed seller at a point outside the State and imported or purchased for use in this State. The rates of the tax hereby imposed and the exemptions from the tax are as follows:

- (1) If the importer or purchaser is licensed under chapter A and is:
 - (A) Engaged in a service business or calling in which the imported or purchased services or contracting become identifiable elements, excluding overhead, of the services rendered by the importer or purchaser, and the gross income of the importer or purchaser is subject to the tax imposed under chapter A on services at the rate of one-half of one per cent; or
 - (B) A manufacturer importing or purchasing services or contracting that become identifiable elements, excluding overhead, of a finished or saleable product (including the container or package in which the product is contained) and the finished or saleable product is to be sold in a manner that results in a further tax under chapter A on the manufacturer as a wholesaler, and not a retailer; there shall be no tax imposed on the value of the imported or purchased services or contracting; provided that if the manufacturer is also engaged in business as a retailer as classified under chapter 237, paragraph (2) shall apply to the manufacturer, but the director of taxation shall refund to the manufacturer, in the manner provided under section 231-23(c), that amount of tax that the manufacturer, to the satisfaction of the director, shall establish to have been paid by the manufacturer to the director with respect to services that have been used by the manufacturer for the purposes stated in this paragraph;

- (2) If the importer or purchaser is a person licensed under chapter 237 and is:
- (A) Engaged in a service business or calling in which the imported or purchased services or contracting become identifiable elements, excluding overhead, of the services rendered by the importer or purchaser, and the gross income from those services when sold by the importer or purchaser is subject to the tax imposed under chapter 237;
- (B) A manufacturer importing or purchasing services or contracting that become identifiable elements, excluding overhead, of the finished or saleable manufactured product (including the container or package in which the product is contained) and the finished or saleable product is to be sold in a manner that results in a further tax under chapter 237 on the activity of the manufacturer as a retailer; or
- (C) A contractor importing or purchasing services or contracting that become identifiable elements, excluding overhead, of the finished work or project required under the contract, and where the gross proceeds derived by the contractor are subject to the tax under section 237-13(2) as a contractor; the tax shall be one-half of one per cent of the value of the imported or purchased services or contracting.

§B-4 Application of tax, etc. Section 238-3 shall apply to this chapter.

§B-5 Certain property used by producers. If a licensed producer, or a cooperative association acting under the authority of chapter 421, in order to sell to the producer, or a licensed person, imports into the State or acquires in the State commodities, materials, items, services, or living things enumerated in section A-2(a)(3) and (a)(5) to (a)(7), then section A-2 shall apply. If section A-2 applies and the producer is engaged in the sale of the producer's products at retail or in any manner other than at wholesale, then the tax upon use of property in the State imposed by section 238-2 shall apply the same as in the case of a purchaser who is a licensed retailer. In other cases no tax shall be imposed under this chapter.

§B-6 Administration. Sections 238-5, 238-6, 238-7, 238-8, 238-9, 238-9.5, 238-10, 238-11, 238-13, 238-14 and 238-16 shall apply to this chapter."

"§237-A General sourcing rules.

(1) The retail sale, excluding lease or rental, of a product shall be sourced as follows:

- (A) When the product is received by the purchaser at a business location of the seller, the sale is sourced to that business location;
- (B) When the product is not received by the purchaser at a business location of the seller, the sale is sourced to the location where receipt by the purchaser (or the purchaser's donee, designated as such by the purchaser) occurs, including the location indicated by instructions for delivery to the purchaser (or donee), known to the seller;
- (C) When subparagraphs (A) and (B) do not apply, the sale is sourced to the location indicated by an address for the purchaser that is available from the business records of the seller that are maintained in the ordinary course of the seller's business when use of this address does not constitute bad faith;
- (D) When subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) do not apply, the sale is sourced to the location indicated by an address for the purchaser obtained during the consummation of the sale, including the address of a purchaser's payment instrument, if no other address is available, when use of this address does not constitute bad faith; or
- (E) When none of the previous rules of subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), and (D) apply, including the circumstance in which the seller is without sufficient information to apply the previous rules, then the location shall be determined by the address from which tangible personal property was shipped, from which the digital good or the computer software delivered electronically was first available for transmission by the seller, or from which the service was provided (disregarding for these purposes any location that merely provided the digital transfer of the product sold);

(2) The lease or rental of tangible personal property, other than property identified in paragraph (3) or (4), shall be sourced as follows:

- (A) For a lease or rental that requires recurring periodic payments, the first periodic payment is sourced the same as a retail sale in accordance with paragraph (1). Periodic payments made subsequent to the first payment are sourced to the primary property location for each period covered by the payment. The primary property location shall be as indicated by an address for the property provided by the lessee that is available to the lessor from its records maintained in the ordinary course of business, when use of this address does not constitute bad faith. The property location shall not be altered by intermittent use at different locations, such as use of business property that accompanies employees on business trips and service calls; or

- (B) For a lease or rental that does not require recurring periodic payments, the payment is sourced the same as a retail sale in accordance with paragraph (1);

This paragraph does not affect the imposition or computation of general excise or use tax on leases or rentals based on a lump sum or accelerated basis, or on the acquisition of property for lease;

- (3) The lease or rental of motor vehicles, trailers, semi-trailers, or aircraft that do not qualify as transportation equipment, as defined in paragraph (4), shall be sourced as follows:

- (A) For a lease or rental that requires recurring periodic payments, each periodic payment is sourced to the primary property location. The primary property location shall be as indicated by an address for the property provided by the lessee that is available to the lessor from its records maintained in the ordinary course of business, when use of this address does not constitute bad faith. This location shall not be altered by intermittent use at different locations; or

- (B) For a lease or rental that does not require recurring periodic payments, the payment is sourced the same as a retail sale in accordance with paragraph (1);

This paragraph does not affect the imposition or computation of general excise or use tax on leases or rentals based on a lump sum or accelerated basis, or on the acquisition of property for lease;

- (4) The retail sale, including lease or rental, of transportation equipment shall be sourced the same as a retail sale in accordance with paragraph (1), notwithstanding the exclusion of lease or rental in paragraph (1). "Transportation equipment" means any of the following:

- (A) Locomotives and railcars that are utilized for the carriage of persons or property in interstate commerce;

- (B) Trucks and truck-tractors with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,001 pounds or greater, trailers, semi-trailers, or passenger buses that are:

The terms "receive" and "receipt" do not include possession by a shipping company on behalf of the purchaser.

§237-C Telecommunications sourcing rule. (a) Except for the defined telecommunications services in subsection (c), the sale of telecommunications service sold on a call-by-call basis shall be sourced to:

- (1) Each level of taxing jurisdiction where the call originates and terminates in that jurisdiction; or
- (2) Each level of taxing jurisdiction where the call either originates or terminates and in which the service address is also located.

(b) Except for the defined telecommunications services in subsection (c), a sale of telecommunications service sold on a basis other than a call-by-call basis, is sourced to the customer's place of primary use.

(c) The sale of the following telecommunications services shall be sourced to each level of taxing jurisdiction as follows:

- (1) A sale of mobile telecommunications service other than air-to-ground radiotelephone service and prepaid calling service, is sourced to the customer's place of primary use as required by the Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act;

- (2) A sale of post-paid calling service is sourced to the origination point of the telecommunications signal as first identified by either:

- (A) The seller's telecommunications system; or
- (B) Information received by the seller from its service provider, where the system used to transport such signals is not that of the seller;

- (3) Until December 31, 2007, a sale of prepaid calling service is sourced in accordance with section 237-A; provided that in the case of a sale of mobile telecommunications service that is prepaid telecommunications service, the rule provided in section 237-A(1)(E) shall include as an option the location associated with the mobile telephone number;

- (4) Effective January 1, 2008, a sale of prepaid calling service or a sale of a prepaid wireless calling service is sourced in accordance with section 237-A; provided that in the case of a sale of prepaid wireless calling service, the rule provided in section 237-A(1)(E) shall include as an option the location associated with the mobile telephone number; or

- (C) Service for segments of a channel between two customer channel termination points located in different jurisdictions and which segment of channel are separately charged is sourced fifty per cent in each level of jurisdiction in which the customer channel termination points are located.

Service for segments of a channel located in more than one jurisdiction or levels of jurisdiction and which segments are not separately billed is sourced in each jurisdiction based on the percentage determined by dividing the number of customer channel termination points in the jurisdiction by the total number of customer channel termination points.

§237-D Telecommunications sourcing definitions. Until December 31, 2007, for the purposes of section 237-C, the following definitions shall apply:

“Air-to-ground radiotelephone service” means a radio service, as that term is defined in 47 C.F.R. 22.99, in which common carriers are authorized to offer and provide radio telecommunications service for hire to subscribers in aircraft.

“Call-by-call basis” means any method of charging for telecommunications services where the price is measured by individual calls.

“Communications channel” means a physical or virtual path of communications over which signals are transmitted between or among customer channel termination points.

“Customer”:

(1) Means the person or entity that contracts with the seller of telecommunications services. If the end user of telecommunications services is not the contracting party, the end user of the telecommunications service is the customer of the telecommunications service, but this sentence only applies for the purpose of sourcing sales of telecommunications services under section 237-C;

(2) Does not include a reseller of telecommunications service or for mobile telecommunications service of a serving carrier under an agreement to serve the customer outside the home service provider’s licensed service area.

“Customer channel termination point” means the location where the customer either inputs or receives the communications.

“End user” means the person who utilizes the telecommunications service. In the case of an entity, “end user” means the individual who utilizes the service on behalf of the entity.

“Home service provider” has the same meaning as that term is defined in section 124(5) of Public Law 106-252 (Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act).

“Mobile telecommunications service” has the same meaning as that term is defined in section 124(7) of Public Law 106-252 (Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act).

“Place of primary use” means the street address representative of where the customer’s use of the telecommunications service primarily occurs, which shall be the residential street address or the primary business street address of the customer. In the case of mobile telecommunications services, “place of primary use” shall be within the licensed service area of the home service provider.

“Post-paid calling service” means the telecommunications service obtained by making a payment on a call-by-call basis either through the use of a credit card or payment mechanism such as a bank card, travel card, credit card, or debit card, or by charge made to a telephone number that is not associated with the origination or termination of the telecommunications service. A post-paid calling service includes a telecommunications service that would be a prepaid calling service except it is not exclusively a telecommunications service.

“Prepaid calling service” means the right to access exclusively telecommunications service, which must be paid for in advance and that enables the origination of calls using an access number or authorization code, whether manually or electronically dialed, and that is sold in predetermined units or dollars of which the number declines with use in a known amount.

“Private communication service” means a telecommunications service that entitles the customer to exclusive or priority use of a communications channel or group of channels between or among termination points, regardless of the manner in which the channel or channels are connected, and includes switching capacity, extension lines, stations, and any other associated services that are provided in connection with the use of the channel or channels.

“Service address” means:

(1) The location of the telecommunications equipment to which a customer’s call is charged and from which the call originates or terminates, regardless of where the call is billed or paid;

(2) If the location in paragraph (1) is not known, service address means the origination point of the signal of the telecommunications service first identified by either the seller’s telecommunications system or in information received by the seller from its service provider, where the system used to transport the signals is not that of the seller; or

(3) If the location in paragraphs (1) and (2) are not known, service address means the location of the customer’s place of primary use.

§237-E Telecommunications sourcing definitions. Effective January 1, 2008, for the purpose of section 237-C, the following definitions shall apply:

“Air-to-ground radiotelephone service” means a radio service, as that term is defined in 47 C.F.R. 22.99, in which common carriers are authorized to offer and provide radio telecommunications service for hire to subscribers in aircraft.

“Call-by-call basis” means any method of charging for telecommunications services where the price is measured by individual calls.

“Communications channel” means a physical or virtual path of communications over which signals are transmitted between or among customer channel termination points.

“Customer”:

(1) Means the person or entity that contracts with the seller of telecommunications services. If the end user of telecommunications services is not the contracting party, the end user of the telecommunications service is the customer of the telecommunications service, but this sentence only applies for the purpose of sourcing sales of telecommunications services under section 237-C;

(2) Does not include a reseller of telecommunications service or for mobile telecommunications service of a serving carrier under an agreement to serve the customer outside the home service provider’s licensed service area.

“Customer channel termination point” means the location where the customer either inputs or receives the communications.

“End user” means the person who utilizes the telecommunications service. In the case of an entity, “end user” means the individual who utilizes the service on behalf of the entity.

“Home service provider” has the same meaning as that term is defined in section 124(5) of Public Law 106-252 (Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act).

“Mobile telecommunications service” has the same meaning as that term is defined in section 124(7) of Public Law 106-252 (Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act).

“Place of primary use” means the street address representative of where the customer’s use of the telecommunications service primarily occurs, which shall be the residential street address or the primary business street address of the customer. In the case of mobile telecommunications services, “place of primary use” shall be within the licensed service area of the home service provider.

“Post-paid calling service” means the telecommunications service obtained by making a payment on a call-by-call basis either through the use of a credit card or payment mechanism such as a bank card, travel card, credit card, or debit card, or by charge made to a telephone number that is not associated with the origination or termination of the telecommunications service. A post-paid calling service includes a telecommunications service, except a prepaid wireless calling service, that would be a prepaid calling service except it is not exclusively a telecommunications service.

“Prepaid calling service” means the right to access exclusively telecommunications services, which must be paid for in advance and that enables the origination of calls using an access number or authorization code, whether manually or electronically dialed, and that is sold in predetermined units or dollars of which the number declines with use in a known amount.

“Prepaid wireless calling service” means a telecommunications service that provides the right to utilize mobile wireless service as well as other non-telecommunications services, including the download of digital products delivered electronically, content and ancillary services, which must be paid for in advance that is sold in predetermined units or dollars of which the number declines with use in a known amount.

“Private communication service” means a telecommunications service that entitles the customer to exclusive or priority use of a communications channel or group of channels between or among termination points, regardless of the manner in which the channel or channels are connected, and includes switching capacity, extension lines, stations, and any other associated services that are provided in connection with the use of the channel or channels.

“Service address” means:

- (1) The location of the telecommunications equipment to which a customer’s call is charged and from which the call originates or terminates, regardless of where the call is billed or paid;
- (2) If the location in paragraph (1) is not known, service address means the origination point of the signal of the telecommunications service first identified by either the seller’s telecommunications system or in information received by the seller from its service provider, where the system used to transport the signals is not that of the seller; or
- (3) If the location in paragraphs (1) and (2) are not known, service address means the location of the customer’s place of primary use.

§237-F Deduction for bad debts. (a) A seller shall be allowed a deduction from taxable sales for bad debts. A seller may deduct the amount of bad debts from the seller’s gross sales, rentals, or services used for the computation of the tax. The amount of gross sales, rentals, or services deducted shall be charged off as uncollectible on the books and records of the seller at the time the debt becomes worthless and deducted on the return for the period during which the bad debt is written off as uncollectible in the claimant’s books and records and shall be eligible to be deducted for federal income tax purposes.

For the purposes of this section, a claimant who is not required to file a federal income tax return may deduct a bad debt on a return filed for the period in which the bad debt becomes worthless and is written off as uncollectible in the claimant’s books and records and would be eligible for a bad debt deduction for federal income tax purposes if the claimant was required to file a federal income tax return.

If a consumer or other person pays all or part of a bad debt with respect to which a seller claimed a deduction under this section, the seller is liable for the amount of taxes deducted in connection with that portion of the debt for which payment is received and shall remit these taxes in the seller’s next payment to the department. Any payments made on a bad debt shall be applied proportionally first to the taxable price of the property and the tax on the property and second to any interest, service, or other charge.

(b) Any claim for a bad debt deduction under this section shall be supported by evidence required by the department. The department shall review any change in the rate of taxation applicable to any taxable sales, rentals, or services by a seller claiming a deduction pursuant to this section and shall ensure that the deduction on any bad debt does not result in the seller claiming the deduction recovering any more or less than the taxes imposed on the sale, rental, or service that constitutes the bad debt.

(c) If a certified service provider assumed filing responsibility under the streamlined sales and use tax administration act, the certified service provider may claim, on behalf of the seller, any bad debt allowable to the seller and shall credit or refund that amount of bad debt allowed or refunded to the seller.

(d) If the books and records of a seller who, under the streamlined sales and use tax administration act claims a bad debt allowance, support an allocation of the bad debts among member states of that agreement, the seller may allocate the bad debt.

(e) As used in this section, “bad debt” means any portion of a debt resulting from a seller’s collection of the use tax under the streamlined sales and use tax administration act on the purchase of tangible personal property or services that is not otherwise deductible or excludable and that is eligible to be claimed, or could be eligible to be claimed if the seller kept accounts on an accrual basis, as a deduction pursuant to section 166 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. section 166. A bad debt does not include any of the following:

- (1) Interest, finance charge, or use tax on the purchase price;
- (2) Uncollectible amounts on property that remains in the possession of the seller until the full purchase price is paid;
- (3) Expenses incurred in attempting to collect any account receivable or any portion of the debt recovered;
- (4) Any accounts receivable that have been sold to and remain in the possession of a third party for collection; or
- (5) Repossessed property.

§237-G Direct mail sourcing. (a) Notwithstanding the general sourcing provisions of section 237-A, a purchaser of direct mail who is not a holder of a direct pay permit shall provide to the seller, in conjunction with the purchase, either a direct mail form or information to show the jurisdictions to which the direct mail is delivered to recipients.

Upon receipt of the direct mail form, the seller shall be relieved of all obligations to collect, pay, or remit the applicable tax and the purchaser shall be obligated to pay or remit the applicable tax on a direct pay basis. A direct mail form shall remain in effect for all future sales of direct mail by the seller to the purchaser until it is revoked in writing.

Upon receipt of information from the purchaser showing the jurisdictions to which the direct mail is delivered to recipients, the seller shall collect the tax according to the delivery information provided by the purchaser. In the absence of bad faith, the seller shall be relieved of any further obligation to collect tax on any transaction for which the seller has collected tax pursuant to the delivery information provided by the purchaser.

(b) If the purchaser of direct mail does not have a direct pay permit and does not provide the seller with either a direct mail form or delivery information as required under subsection (a), the seller shall collect the tax. Nothing in this subsection shall limit a purchaser’s obligation for sales or use tax to any state to which the direct mail is delivered.

(c) If a purchaser of direct mail provides the seller with documentation of direct pay authority, the purchaser shall not be required to provide a direct mail form or delivery information to the seller.

Receipts from sales of direct mail for distribution to out-of-state recipients and receipts from sales of direct-mail processing services in connection with distribution of direct mail to out-of-state recipients shall be exempt from taxation under this chapter. The exemption provided by this section shall apply to receipts from charges for the printing or production of direct mail, whether prepared in or shipped into Hawaii, after preparation, and stored for subsequent shipment to out-of-state customers. The direct mail processing services exemption provided under this section shall apply to receipts from charges for all direct mail processing services for distribution to out-of-state recipients, including but not limited to preparing and maintaining mailing lists, addressing, separating, folding, inserting, sorting, and packaging direct mail materials, and transporting the direct mail to the point of shipment by the mail service or other carrier.”

SECTION 19. Section 237-1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by adding five new definitions to be appropriately inserted and to read as follows:

““Delivery charges” means charges by the seller for preparation and delivery to a location designated by the purchaser of personal property or services, including but not limited to transportation, shipping, postage, handling, crating, and packing. If a shipment includes both exempt and taxable property, the seller shall allocate the delivery charge by using:

- (1) A percentage based on the total sales price of the taxable property compared to the total sales price of all property in the shipment; or
- (2) A percentage based on the total weight of the taxable property compared to the total weight of all property in the shipment.

“Direct mail”:

- (1) Means printed material delivered or distributed by United States mail or other delivery service to a mass audience or to addresses on a mailing list provided by the purchaser, or at the direction of the purchaser, in cases in which the cost of the items are not billed directly to the recipients;
- (2) Includes tangible personal property supplied directly or indirectly by the purchaser to the direct mail seller for inclusion in the package containing the printed material;
- (3) Does not include multiple items of printed material.

“Lease or rental”:

- (1) After _____, means any transfer of possession or control of tangible personal property for a fixed or indeterminate term for consideration;
- (2) May include future options to purchase or extend;
- (3) Does not include:
 - (A) A transfer of possession or control of property under a security agreement or deferred payment plan that requires the transfer of title upon completion of the required payments;
 - (B) A transfer of possession or control of property under an agreement that requires the transfer of title upon completion of required payments and payment of an option price that does not exceed the greater of $100 or one per cent of the total required payments;
 - (C) Providing tangible personal property along with an operator for a fixed or indeterminate period of time. A condition of this exclusion is that the operator is necessary for the equipment to perform as designed. For the purpose of this subparagraph, an operator shall do more than maintain, inspect, or set-up the tangible personal property; or
 - (D) Agreements covering motor vehicles and trailers where the amount of consideration may be increased or decreased by reference to the amount realized upon sale or disposition of the property as defined in 26 U.S.C. section 7701(h)(1).

For the purposes of this chapter, the definition of “lease or rental” shall be used regardless of whether a transaction is characterized as a lease or rental under generally accepted accounting principles, the federal Internal Revenue Code, or other provisions of federal, state, or local law.

“Sales price” applies to the measure subject to tax and means the total amount of consideration, including cash, credit, property, and services for which personal property or services are sold, leased, rented, or valued in money, whether money is received or otherwise, without any deduction for the following:

- (1) The seller’s cost of the property sold;
- (2) The cost of the materials used, labor or service cost, losses, all costs of transportation to the seller, all taxes imposed on the seller, and any other expense of the seller;
- (3) Charges by the seller for any services necessary to complete the sale, other than delivery and installation charges;
- (4) Delivery and installation charges; or
- (5) Installation charges.

“Tangible personal property” means personal property that can be seen, weighed, measured, felt, or touched, or that is in any manner perceptible to the senses. Tangible personal property includes gas, steam, and prewritten computer software.”

SECTION 20. Chapter 255D, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by adding nine new sections to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

“§255D-A Relief from certain liability. All sellers and certified service providers as defined in section 255D-2 using databases pursuant to section 255D-D(f) and (g) shall be relieved from liability to the state and local jurisdictions for having charged and collected the incorrect amount of general excise or use tax resulting from the seller or certified service provider relying on erroneous data provided by the state on tax rates, boundaries, or taxing jurisdiction assignments.

§255D-B Rounding rule. For the purpose of calculating the amount of the general excise or use tax:

- (1) The tax computation shall be carried to the third decimal place; and
- (2) The tax shall be rounded to a whole cent using a method that rounds up to the next cent whenever the third decimal place is greater than four.

Sellers may elect to compute the tax due on a transaction on an item or an invoice basis, and shall allow the rounding rule to be applied to the aggregated state and local taxes.

§255D-C Amnesty for registration under this chapter.

(a) The department shall provide amnesty for uncollected or unpaid general excise tax under chapter 237 or use tax under chapter 238, including any county surcharge, to a seller who registers to pay or to collect and remit applicable general excise or use tax on sales made to purchasers in the State in accordance with the terms of the streamlined sales and use tax agreement, provided that the seller was not so registered in the State in the twelve-month period preceding the effective date of the State’s participation in the streamlined sales and use tax agreement.

(b) The amnesty shall preclude assessment for uncollected or unpaid general excise tax under chapter 237 or use tax under chapter 238 together with penalty or interest for sales made during the period the seller was not registered in the State, provided registration occurs within twelve months of the effective date of the State’s participation in the streamlined sales and use tax agreement.

(c) The amnesty shall not be available to a seller with respect to any matter or matters for which the seller received notice of the commencement of an audit and the audit is not yet finally resolved including any related administrative and judicial processes.

(d) The amnesty shall not be available for general excise or use taxes already paid or remitted to the State or to taxes collected by the seller.

(e) The amnesty shall be fully effective, absent the seller’s fraud or intentional misrepresentation of a material fact, as long as the seller continues registration and continues payment or collection and remittance of applicable general excise or use taxes for a period of at least thirty-six months. The statute of limitations is tolled with respect to asserting a tax liability during this thirty-six month period.

(f) The amnesty shall only apply to general excise or use taxes due from a seller in its capacity as a seller and not to sales or use taxes due from a seller in its capacity as a buyer.

§255D-D Local rate and boundary changes. (a) Any rate changes by a county shall be effective only on the first day of a calendar quarter after a minimum of sixty days notice to sellers.

(b) Any county tax rate changes to purchases from printed catalogs wherein the purchaser computed the tax based upon county tax rates published in the catalog shall be effective only on the first day of a calendar quarter after a minimum of one hundred twenty days notice to sellers.

(c) For general excise and use tax purposes only, local jurisdiction boundary changes apply only on the first day of a calendar quarter after a minimum of sixty days notice to sellers.

(d) The department of taxation shall provide and maintain a database that describes boundary changes for all taxing jurisdictions. The database shall include a description of the change and the effective date of the change for general excise tax under chapter 237 and use tax under chapter 238 purposes.

(e) The department of taxation shall provide and maintain a database of all general excise tax rates under chapter 237 and use tax rates under chapter 238 for all of the jurisdictions levying taxes within the State. For the identification of states, counties, and cities, codes corresponding to the rates shall be provided according to Federal Information Processing Standards as developed by the National Institute of Standards and Technology. For the identification of all other jurisdictions, codes corresponding to the rates shall be in the format determined by the Streamlined Sales Tax Governing Board, Incorporated.

(f) The department of taxation shall provide and maintain a database that assigns each five digit and nine digit zip code within the State to the proper tax rates and jurisdictions. The department of taxation shall apply the lowest combined tax rate imposed in the zip code area if the area includes more than one tax rate in any level of taxing jurisdictions. If a nine digit zip code designation is not available for a street address or if a seller or certified service provider is unable to determine the nine digit zip code designation of a purchaser after exercising due diligence to determine the designation, the seller or certified service provider may apply the rate for the five digit zip code area. For the purposes of this section, there is a rebuttable presumption that a seller or certified service provider has exercised due diligence if the seller has attempted to determine the nine digit zip code designation by utilizing software approved by the Streamlined Sales Tax Governing Board, Incorporated, that makes this designation from the street address and the five digit zip code of the purchaser.

(g) The State shall participate with other states in the development of an address-based system for assigning taxing jurisdictions. The system shall meet the requirements developed pursuant to the federal Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act (4 U.S.C. Sec. 119(a)). If any state develops an address-based assignment system pursuant to the Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act, a seller may use that system in place of the system provided for in subsection (e) of this section.

§255D-E Certified service provider; agent of the seller.

(a) A certified service provider is the agent of a seller, with whom the certified service provider has contracted for the collection and remittance of general excise and use taxes. As the seller's agent, the certified service provider is liable for general excise and use tax due to the State on all sales transactions it processes for the seller unless the seller made a material misrepresentation or committed fraud.

(b) A seller that uses a certified automated system is responsible and is liable to the State for reporting and remitting tax.

§255D-F Confidentiality of records. (a) Except as provided in subsection (c), a certified service provider shall not retain or disclose the personally identifiable information of consumers. A certified service provider's system shall be designed and tested to ensure the privacy of consumers by protecting their anonymity.

(b) A certified service provider shall provide clear and conspicuous notice of its information practices to consumers, including but not limited to what information it collects, how it collects the information, how it uses the information, how long it retains the information, and whether it discloses the information to member states.

(c) A certified service provider's retention or disclosure to member states of personally identifiable information is limited to that required to ensure the validity of exemptions claimed because of a consumer's status or intended use of the goods or services purchased.

(d) A certified service provider shall provide the necessary technical, physical, and administrative safeguards to protect personally identifiable information from unauthorized access and disclosure.

(e) The privacy policy required under this section shall be subject to enforcement by the attorney general.

(f) If personally identifiable information is retained by the State for the purpose of subsection (c), in the absence of exigent circumstances, a person shall be afforded reasonable access to their own data, with a right to correct inaccurately recorded data.

(g) The agreement does not enlarge or limit the State's authority to do any of the following:

- (1) Conduct audits or other reviews as provided under the agreement or the State's law;
- (2) Provide records pursuant to the State's freedom of information act, disclosure laws with governmental agencies, or other regulations;
- (3) Prevent, consistent with the State's law, disclosures of confidential taxpayer information;
- (4) Prevent, consistent with federal law, disclosures or misuse of federal return information obtained under a disclosure agreement with the Internal Revenue Service; or
- (5) Collect, disclose, disseminate, or otherwise use anonymous data for governmental purposes.

(h) The department shall publish on the department's website the State's policy relating to the collection, use, and retention of personally identifiable information obtained from a certified service provider under subsection (c).

(i) The department shall destroy personally identifiable information obtained from a certified service provider when the information is no longer required for purposes under subsection (c).

(j) If a person other than a member state or person authorized by a member state's law or the agreement seeks to discover personally identifiable information about an individual from the State, the department shall make a reasonable and timely effort to notify that individual of the request.

(k) As used in this section, "personally identifiable information" means information that identifies a specific person.

§255D-G Liability for uncollected tax. (a) A seller registered under the agreement is not liable for any uncollected or nonremitted tax on transactions with purchasers in the State before the date of registration if the seller was not licensed or registered under chapter 237 in the twelve-month period preceding the effective date of the State's participation in the agreement. The seller is also not responsible for any penalty or interest that may be due on those transactions. This subsection applies only if the seller is registered in this State within twelve months of the effective date of this State's participation in the agreement.

(b) Subsection (a) does not apply to:

- (1) Any tax liability of the registered seller for transactions that are subject to general excise or use tax in the state in which the registered seller is the purchaser;
- (2) Any general excise or use taxes already paid or remitted to the State or to taxes collected by the seller; and
- (3) Any transactions for which the seller received notice of the commencement of an audit and the audit is not finally resolved, including related administrative or judicial processes.

(c) Subsection (a) applies to the seller absent the seller's fraud or intentional misrepresentation of a material fact only if the seller continues to be registered under the agreement and continues collection and remittance of applicable general excise and use taxes in the State for at least thirty-six months. The statute of limitations applicable to assessing a tax liability is tolled during this thirty-six-month period.

§255D-H Rate changes. (a) The department shall publish on its website a notification to sellers registered under the agreement of a change in rate or tax base within five business days of receiving notice of the changes to the tax rate or base or of an amendment to general excise and use tax rules. Whenever possible, a rate or tax base change should occur on the first day of a calendar quarter.

(b) The failure of a seller to receive notice under subsection (a) does not relieve the seller of its obligation to collect the general excise or use tax.

(c) The department shall complete a taxability matrix as provided for under section 328 of the agreement, maintain it in a database in a downloadable format approved by the Streamlined Sales Tax Governing Board, Incorporated, and provide notice of changes in the matrix.

§255D-I Customer refund procedures. A cause of action against a seller for overcollected general excise or use taxes does not accrue until sixty days after a purchaser has provided written notice to a seller. The purchaser shall provide in the notice sufficient information to determine the validity of the request. In matters relating to the request, a seller is presumed to have a reasonable business practice if in the collection of general excise or use tax, the seller has a certified service provider or a system, including a proprietary system, certified by the department, and has remitted to this State all taxes collected, less any deductions, credits, or collection allowances."

SECTION 21. Section 237-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by amending subsection (a) to read as follows:

"(a) "Gross income" means the gross receipts, cash or accrued, of the taxpayer received as compensation for personal services and the gross receipts of the taxpayer derived from trade, business, commerce, or sales and the value proceeding or accruing from the sale of tangible personal property, or service, or both, and all receipts, actual or accrued as hereinafter provided, by reason of the investment of the capital of the business engaged in, including interest, discount, rentals, royalties, fees, or other emoluments however designated and without any deductions on account of the cost of property sold, the cost of materials used, labor cost, taxes, royalties, interest, or discount paid or any other expenses whatsoever. Every taxpayer shall be presumed to be dealing on a cash basis unless the taxpayer proves to the satisfaction of the department of taxation that the taxpayer is dealing on an accrual basis and the taxpayer's books are so kept, or unless the taxpayer employs or is required to employ the accrual basis for the purposes of the tax imposed by chapter 235 for any taxable year in which event the taxpayer shall report the taxpayer's gross income for the purposes of this chapter on the accrual basis for the same period.

"Gross proceeds of sale" means the ~~[value actually proceeding from the sale of tangible personal property without any deduction on account of the cost of property sold or expenses of any kind.] sales price."~~

SECTION 22. Section 237-8.6, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by amending subsection (a) to read as follows:

"(a) The county surcharge on state tax, upon the adoption of county ordinances and in accordance with the requirements of section 46-16.8, shall be levied, assessed, and collected as provided in this section on all gross proceeds and gross income taxable under this chapter. No county shall set the surcharge on state tax at a rate greater than one-half of one per cent of all gross proceeds and gross income taxable under this chapter. All provisions of this chapter shall apply to the county surcharge on state tax. With respect to the surcharge, the director of taxation shall have all the rights and powers provided under this chapter. No county shall conduct an independent tax audit of sellers registered under the streamlined sales tax agreement. In addition, the director of taxation shall have the exclusive rights and power to determine the county or counties in which a person is engaged in business and, in the case of a person engaged in business in more than one county, the director shall determine, through apportionment or other means, that portion of the surcharge on state tax attributable to business conducted in each county."

SECTION 23. Section 237-9, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"§237-9 Licenses; penalty. (a) Except as provided in this section, any person who has a gross income or gross proceeds of sales or value of products upon which a privilege tax is imposed by this chapter, as a condition precedent to engaging or continuing in ~~[such]~~ the business, shall in writing apply for and obtain from the department of taxation, upon a one-time payment of the sum of $20, a license to engage in and to conduct such business, upon condition that the person shall pay the taxes accruing to the State under this chapter, and the person shall thereby be duly licensed to engage in and conduct the business. Any person licensed or holding a license under this chapter before January 1, 1990, shall pay a one-time license renewal fee of $20 on or before January 31, 1990, as a condition precedent to engaging or continuing in business. The license shall not be transferable and shall be valid only for the person in whose name it is issued and for the transaction of business at the place designated therein. The license may be inspected and examined, and shall at all times be conspicuously displayed at the place for which it is issued.

A seller registered under the streamlined sales and use tax agreement who is not otherwise obligated to obtain a license in the State is not required to obtain a license because of that registration.

(b) Licenses and applications therefor shall be in such form as the department shall prescribe, except that where the licensee is engaged in two or more forms of business of different classification, the license shall so state on its face. The license provided for by this section shall be effective until canceled in writing. Any application for the reissuance of a previously canceled license identification number after December 31, 1989, shall be regarded as a new license application and subject to the payment of the one-time license fee of $20. The director may revoke or cancel any license issued under this chapter for cause as provided by rules adopted pursuant to chapter 91.

(c) If the license fee is paid, the department shall not refuse to issue a license or revoke or cancel a license for the exercise of a privilege protected by the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, or for the carrying on of interstate or foreign commerce, or for any privilege the exercise of which, under the Constitution and laws of the United States, cannot be restrained on account of nonpayment of taxes, nor shall section 237-46 be invoked to restrain the exercise of such a privilege, or the carrying on of ~~[such]~~ interstate or foreign commerce.

(d) The director may permit a person engaged in network marketing, multi-level marketing, or other similar business to obtain the license required under this section for purposes of becoming a tax collection agent on behalf of its direct sellers. The tax collection agent shall report, collect, and pay over the taxes due under this chapter and chapter 238 on behalf of its direct sellers who are covered by the tax collection agreement. The tax collection agent's direct sellers shall be deemed to be licensed under this chapter; provided that the licensure shall apply solely to the business activity conducted directly through the marketing arrangement. Under this section, a tax collection agent shall:

- (1) Notify all of its direct sellers making sales in the State that it has been designated to collect, report, and pay over the tax imposed by this chapter and chapter 238 on their behalf on the business activity conducted through the marketing arrangement;
- (2) If required by the director as a condition of obtaining the license, furnish with the annual return, a list (including identification numbers) of all direct sellers for the taxable year who have been provided (by the tax collection agent) information returns required under section 6041A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and any other information that is relevant to ensure proper payment of taxes due under this section; and
- (3) Be personally liable for the taxes due and collected under the tax collection agreement if taxes are collected, but not reported or paid, together with penalties and interest as provided by law.

(e) The director may authorize a person to assume the obligation of self-accurring and remitting tax due on purchases or leases directly to the department under a direct payment authorization, if the following conditions are met:

- (1) The authorization is to be used for the purchase or lease of tangible personal property or services;
- (2) The authorization is necessary because it is either impractical at the time of acquisition to determine the manner in which the tangible personal property or services will be used or it will facilitate improved compliance with the tax laws of the State; and
- (3) The person requesting authorization for direct payment maintains accurate and complete records of all purchases or leases and uses of tangible personal property or services purchased pursuant to the direct payment authorization in a form acceptable to the department.

The department may identify items that are not eligible for a direct payment authorization.

~~(e)~~ (f) For the purposes of this section:

"Consumer product" shall include tangible consumer products and intangible consumer services.

"Direct seller" means any person who is engaged in the trade or business of selling (or soliciting the sale of) consumer products:

- (1) To any buyer on a buy-sell basis, a deposit-commission basis, or any similar basis, that the director prescribes by rule adopted pursuant to chapter 91, for resale other than in a permanent retail establishment;
- (2) Other than in a permanent retail establishment; provided that:
 - (A) Substantially all the remuneration (whether or not paid in cash) for the sale of consumer products is directly related to sales or other output rather than to the number of hours worked; and
 - (B) The sales of consumer products by the person are performed pursuant to a written contract that provides that the person will not be treated as an employee with respect to those sales for federal or state tax purposes.

"Direct seller" includes individuals who realize remuneration dependent on the productivity of other individuals in the marketing arrangement.

"Network marketing" or "multi-level marketing" means a marketing arrangement in which consumer products are distributed and sold to or through direct sellers."

SECTION 24. Section 237-13, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"§237-13 Imposition of tax. There is hereby levied and shall be assessed and collected annually privilege taxes against persons on account of their business and other activities in the State measured by the application of rates against values of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income, whichever is specified, as follows:

~~(1) Tax on manufacturers.~~

~~(A) Upon every person engaging or continuing within the State in the business of manufacturing, including compounding, canning, preserving, packing, printing, publishing, milling, processing, refining, or preparing for sale, profit, or commercial use, either directly or through the activity of others, in whole or in part, any article or articles, substance or substances, commodity or commodities, the amount of the tax to be equal to the value of the articles, substances, or commodities, — manufactured, — compounded, — canned, — preserved, — packed, — printed, — milled, — processed, — refined, — or prepared for sale, as shown by the gross proceeds derived from the sale thereof by the manufacturer or person compounding, preparing, or printing them, multiplied by one-half of one per cent.~~

~~(B) The measure of the tax on manufacturers is the value of the entire product for sale, regardless of the place of sale or the fact that deliveries may be made to points outside the State.~~

~~(C) If any person liable for the tax on manufacturers ships or transports the person's product, or any part thereof, out of the State, whether in a finished or unfinished condition, or sells the same for delivery to points outside the State (for example, consigned to a mainland purchaser via common carrier f.o.b. Honolulu), the value of the products in the condition or form in which they exist immediately before entering interstate or foreign commerce, determined as hereinafter provided, shall be the basis for the assessment of the tax imposed by this paragraph. This tax shall be due and payable as of the date of entry of the products into interstate or foreign commerce, whether the products are then sold or not. The department shall determine the basis for assessment, as provided by this paragraph, as follows:~~

~~(i) If the products at the time of their entry into interstate or foreign commerce already have been sold, the gross proceeds of sale, less the transportation expenses, if any, incurred in realizing the gross proceeds for transportation from the time of entry of the products into interstate or foreign commerce, including insurance and storage in transit, shall be the measure of the value of the products;~~

~~(ii) If the products have not been sold at the time of their entry into interstate or foreign commerce, and in cases governed by clause (i) in which the products are sold under circumstances such that the gross proceeds of sale are not indicative of the true value of the products, the value of the products constituting the basis for assessment shall~~ correspond as nearly as possible to the gross proceeds of sales for delivery outside the State, adjusted as provided in clause (i), or if sufficient data are not available, sales in the State, of similar products of like quality and character and in similar quantities, made by the taxpayer (unless not indicative of the true value) or by others. Sales outside the State, adjusted as provided in clause (i), may be considered when they constitute the best available data. The department shall prescribe uniform and equitable rules for ascertaining the values;

- (iii) At the election of the taxpayer and with the approval of the department, the taxpayer may make the taxpayer's returns under clause (i) even though the products have not been sold at the time of their entry into interstate or foreign commerce; and
- (iv) In all cases in which products leave the State in an unfinished condition, the basis for assessment shall be adjusted so as to deduct the portion of the value as is attributable to the finishing of the goods outside the State.

(B) Gross proceeds of sales of tangible property, unless subject to chapter A, in interstate and foreign commerce shall constitute a part of the measure of the tax imposed on persons in the business of selling tangible personal property, to the extent, under the conditions, and in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of the Congress of the United States [which] that may be now in force or may be hereafter adopted, and whenever there occurs in the State an activity to which, under the Constitution and Acts of Congress, there may be attributed gross proceeds of sales, the gross proceeds shall be so attributed[;]

The manufacturer or producer shall pay the tax imposed in this chapter for the privilege of selling its products in the State, and the value or gross proceeds of sales of the products, thus subjected to tax, may be deducted insofar as duplicated as to the same products by the measure of the tax upon the manufacturer or producer for the privilege of manufacturing or producing in the State[;] under chapter A; provided that no producer of agricultural products who sells the products to a purchaser who will process the products outside the State shall be required to pay the tax imposed in this chapter for the privilege of producing or selling those products[;] and

(E) (D) A taxpayer selling to a federal cost-plus contractor may make the election provided for by paragraph [(3)(C);] (2)(C), and in that case the tax shall be computed pursuant to the election, notwithstanding this paragraph [or paragraph (1)] to the contrary[;]

(F) The department, by rule, may require that a seller take from the purchaser of tangible personal property a certificate, in a form prescribed by the department, certifying that the sale is a sale at wholesale; provided that:

- (i) Any purchaser who furnishes a certificate shall be obligated to pay to the seller, upon demand, the amount of the additional tax that is imposed upon the seller whenever the sale in fact is not at wholesale; and
- (ii) The absence of a certificate in itself shall give rise to the presumption that the sale is not at wholesale unless the sales of the business are exclusively at wholesale.

(3) (2) Tax upon contractors[;]

(A) Upon every person engaging or continuing within the State in the business of contracting, the tax shall be equal to four per cent of the gross income of the business[;]

The tax in respect of the improvements shall be measured by the amount of the proceeds of the sale or other disposition that is attributable to the erection, construction, or improvement of [sueh] the building or structure, or the making, constructing, or improving of the road, street, sidewalk, sewer, or water system, or other improvements. The measure of tax in respect of the improvements shall not exceed the amount [which] that would have been taxable had the work been performed by another, subject as in other cases to the deductions allowed by subparagraph (B). Senator Fukunaga moved that Floor Amendment No. 10 be adopted, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the amendment and said:

"Mr. President, the purpose of floor amendment no. 10, which inserts the contents of S.B. No. 2222, S.D. 2, into H.B. No. 2419, is to provide the means to combine implementation of Hawaii's compliance with the streamlined sales and use tax with the Tax Department's software upgrade called 'ITIMS.'

"H.B. No. 2419, S.D. 2, requires the Department of Taxation ITIMS software upgrade to include implementing Hawaii's streamlined sales and use tax and the county surcharge for the City and County of Honolulu. Therefore, the amendment will allow the House and Senate discussions on the measure to include the Tax Department's software implementation in conjunction with statutory changes to implement streamlined sales and use tax compliance. Thank you very much."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 10 was put by the Chair and carried, with Senators Hemmings, Hogue and Slom voting "No."

Senator Fukunaga then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3512 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, April 13, 2006.

H.B. No. 1935, H.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that H.B. No. 1935, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Menor then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 11) to H.B. No. 1935, H.D. 1:

SECTION 1. House Bill. No. 1935, H.D. 1, section 4, is amended to read as follows:

"SECTION 4. This Act shall take effect upon its approval [-] and shall apply starting December 31, 2006."

Senator Menor moved that Floor Amendment No. 11 be adopted, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Menor rose in support of the amendment and stated:

"Mr. President, this measure would specify that in real estate contracts to purchase an interest in a planned community, that the mandatory seller disclosure statement would be required to include the planned community declaration and association documents. In this regard, the Hawaii Association of Realtors has requested this floor amendment to have the act apply starting December 31, 2006, to give the association time to revise its standard forms. I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this amendment."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 11 was put by the Chair and carried, with Senator English voting "No."

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1935, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLANNED COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS," was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, April 13, 2006.

THIRD READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 2006

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3288 (H.B. No. 1899, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Hee and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3288 was adopted and H.B. No. 1899, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE USE OF SAFETY HELMETS BY MINORS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3290 (H.B. No. 2050, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3290 be adopted and H.B. No. 2050, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations.

“Colleagues, to the extent that international matchmaking is a vehicle for immigration, very little of what we do relating to disclosure will really have any impact.

“My second comment is that what is good for the gander should also be applicable to the goose. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3290 was adopted and H.B. No. 2050, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTERNATIONAL MATCHMAKING,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3294 (H.B. No. 3126):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3294 be adopted and H.B. No. 3126, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

“Colleagues, I don’t question the motivation of what’s trying to be accomplished. What I do question is what will happen at the scene of the accident or the emergency room if indeed emergency procedures are delayed in any manner because they’re trying to get that rapid response identification. I think the functions that are appropriate at the scene of the accident in an emergency is saving the life of the individual and the extent of which this bill would slow down that process is not productive for the majority of people that wish to be saved. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Mr. President, this measure has widespread community support ranging from physicians and nurses, to hospitals and hospices, medical students and caregivers in the Department of Health. It would simply replace an ineffective ‘comfort care only’ bracelet system with a standard document that clearly states the wishes of the person cared for by emergency medical personnel first responders and health care providers throughout the state. The document will allow these providers to honor a person’s wishes without confusion or ambiguity. Many people have tried to use the ‘comfort care only’ bracelet only to find that they can’t get it in time, it’s ineffective, and their wishes ultimately weren’t honored.

“Your Health Committee had testimony from the Division Chief, Palliative Medicine, Department of Geriatric Medicine at JABSOM, from a variety of health care providers and doctors and they all agree that H.B. No. 3126 will remove a barrier to good end of life care by replacing an ineffective bracelet system with a standardized document in the form of physician’s orders that will more easily translate across health care settings and better follow a patient’s treatment wishes. It’s all about honoring the patient.

“I have some additional remarks I’d like to have inserted in the Journal in support of this and I urge my colleagues to vote in ‘yes.’ Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s additional remarks read as follows:

“The purpose of this bill is to amend section 321-23.6 of the HRS and replace the ineffective ‘comfort care only’ bracelet system with a standard document that clearly states the wishes of the person cared for by emergency medical personnel, first responders and health care providers throughout the state and allow these providers to honor the person’s wishes without confusion or ambiguity.

“The shortcomings of the bracelet system include:

- The bracelets take too long to order. People often die waiting for the bracelets to arrive.
- The bracelet system’s focus is too narrow. It is aimed at resuscitation only, whereas a standardized document can more clearly spell out the person’s wishes for treatment as related to, not only resuscitation, but also artificial nutrition and hydration, and other interventions.
- Because the bracelets focus on resuscitation only, it is burdensome for everyone involved: the patient, medical personnel and families, as this option is typically ineffective in those with serious, chronic and terminal illness. It will not postpone the inevitable; only make it more traumatic for everybody involved.

“Over 90 percent of Americans want to die at home surrounded by family, but they rarely do so. One of the reasons is that we do not have an effective system to support them on their final journey. Far too often they face this journey in isolation, confusion, and pain; their sense of control over their own bodies, their very dignity slipping away with their lives. The bracelet system with its cumbersome uncertainty fails to support the individual and their families in their wishes.

“Replacing this system with a written document will allow healthcare providers across the medical spectrum – from EMS to ERs to ICUs to nursing homes – to quickly and unambiguously honor the choices of Hawaii’s families and improve the delivery of healthcare in Hawaii.

“This type of document has been adopted as an alternative in more than a dozen states and once signed by the patient has the legal authority of an order. Adopting this document as alternative to the bracelet also places pre-hospital emergency medical services policies in line with policies on advanced directives by patients in acute care facilities.

“The ‘Rapid Identification Document’ option also has the advantage of being easy for the patient to write, unlike a living will or advance directive which can be lengthy and require the use of a lawyer.

“The passage of this bill can help to insure that patients do not end up dying while unconscious or heavily sedated in a ventilator with tubes attached to their bodies, simply because their wishes were unknown at the time they were placed in medical care.

“All of us wish to die with dignity, surrounded by those who love us. The passage of this bill will help the people of Hawaii to do just that.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3294 was adopted and H.B. No. 3126, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RAPID IDENTIFICATION DOCUMENTS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3295 (H.B. No. 3254, H.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Hee and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3295 was adopted and H.B. No. 3254, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OATHS OF OFFICE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

THIRD READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 2006

H.B. No. 1861, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Sakamoto, seconded by Senator Hooser and carried, H.B. No. 1861, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

H.B. No. 2265, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Hee and carried, H.B. No. 2265, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CORRECTIONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3300 (H.B. No. 1242, H.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3300 be adopted and H.B. No. 1242, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Whalen rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

"Mr. President, this bill, even its findings, says that we're merely trying to codify the case law, and for the large part, it does. However, it also extends it by saying that pregnancies can be terminated in a doctor's office or a clinic and that's not what the case law is. The case law is that you cannot restrict it in the first half of pregnancy. This bill goes beyond it by saying you can do it up to whenever.

"I realize the Chair of Judiciary tried to . . . and the committee report, I believe, talks about how the department should develop rules and procedures so if they feel safe they can do it. But I don't know if they are going to do it. Planned Parenthood told us that they already have rules and regs in the Department of Health but when we contacted the Department of Health they said no, they don't have any. It's kind of up to the doctor to decide what they're going to do.

"Although most doctors are going to use their best care, I don't think in a bill that we're out and out saying that we're merely trying to codify case law where we extend it, we should use another vehicle or call it what it is. For that reason, I'm voting 'no.'"

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to this bill.

"I find it very interesting that this bill of course is to advance abortions to make sure that Hawaii retains its place in the world as an abortion capital. It's interesting to me that the situation that we had last year where a mother was responsible for the death of her baby or her fetus resulted in a Supreme Court decision and unanimous verdict that said the fetus is not a person in the State of Hawaii. It also said, it went further and said that if there is any attack on the mother or on the fetus, there can be no criminal actions. This flies in the face of the law in, I believe it's currently 36 other states.

"I introduced two bills, neither of which was heard in this Legislature, to protect the unborn. No one seems to speak for the unborn in the State Legislature. No one seems to speak for the unborn in government. We are in such a rush to abort that we don't stop and think about the consequences here. And I always am amused by the people that stand up here and ring their hands and talk about the keiki but they're very selective in the keiki that they seem to defend.

"The fact that again we will be known as an abortion mill, that we will make it easier for people to have abortions and yet will not take one step, not lift one finger, not raise one voice to protect the unborn in this state, I think is a travesty and an abomination. I urge a 'no' vote. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 1242, H.D. 1.

"Mr. President, it's curious that some members who are at least as old as I am, fail to remember what it was like before abortions were safe, legal and accessible. I, for one, don't want to go back to the time where women felt so desperate that they sought out back alley abortions, coat hanger abortions, and other ways to terminate pregnancy. That's why I think this measure is so important – because it merely clarifies outdated statutory language regarding abortion, while not expanding upon those rights that are currently protected by state and federal law.

"In the hearing that your Committee held, one proponent from the University of Hawaii noted that in 1970, three years before the United States Supreme Court decision of Roe v Wade, Hawaii became the first state to legalize abortion. This law, passed in 1970, has not been reviewed or changed since its passage although medical practice and legal case law has developed well beyond the language of HRS 453-16.

"With regard to the issue of physicians' offices, abortions have been taking place in physicians' offices since 1971 and at Planned Parenthood Clinics in Hawaii since 1989. It is another fact that abortion is one of the safest medical procedures available. Information from the Centers for Disease Control indicates that the risk of death from early abortion is about one per 100,000 cases while the risk of a woman dying from childbirth is seven to ten times greater than that from early abortion.

"Dr. Reni Soon, who provided this information, the assistant professor in the department of obstetrics, gynecology, and women's health, notes that it's so important for this measure to be enacted. She feels that it would be impractical and morally unethical for a measure like this not to go forward because the procedure of abortion has changed so much that it really is important to maintain its accessibility, its safety, and its legality.

She notes that most women who obtain abortions, 90 percent do so in their first trimester and that these are uncomplicated procedures. They can easily be handled in clinics.

“One of the reasons it’s important to have it accessible in clinics and physicians’ offices is cost. It costs so much more to have it in hospitals. So, ultimately, if we restricted it in that fashion, we would make it a procedure that’s available only to people of means, and that’s clearly not what the framers of the right to privacy for Hawaii’s Constitution provided, nor the folks back in 1970 provided as well.

“Thank you very much, Mr. President. I urge my colleagues to vote ‘yes.’”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Why, colleagues, are we talking about this measure today? There has got to be a better reason than it’s an election year or oh my God, Bush just appointed two people to the Supreme Court, civilization as we know it is about ready to collapse, because that’s probably the only reason that this bill was introduced in the House – because it’s an election year and we need issues to divide the people and this is a great vehicle to do it.

“Even if Bush appointed two people to the Supreme Court, and even if they considered something that might in some way affect Roe v Wade it is highly unlikely that they would throw it out. And even if they did throw it out, they would take another court case that would then apply to the existing Hawaii law and they wouldn’t throw out Hawaii law, they would just throw out those provisions which were either unconstitutional or was not consistent with federal law.

“There is no reason for us to be having this discussion today. So, colleagues, the most humane thing we could do with this bill is recommit it to Committee. Failing that, I urge you to vote ‘no.’ Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Mr. President, proponents of the measure claim it will maintain the status quo. I’m not a lawyer and I’m not a doctor, but in my opinion, this bill expands the ability to perform abortion in our state and I’m not supportive of that expansion. I’m not in favor of expanding abortion ‘unlimited to clinics and physicians’ offices.’ I believe, in its current form, this bill puts more mothers at risk. Allowing abortions to be done outside of hospitals is a serious risk to life.

“Proponents claim that rulemaking could take care of limits as to when an abortion can be performed between the period of conception to birth. The bill, as written, places no limits on when the baby may be aborted. For such a major parameter, it should be stated in law, not left to speculation. This opens the doors to abortion that would place more of human life at risk, more mothers at risk, more babies at risk.

“What this bill doesn’t say, in essence, opens the floodgates to who? – anyone. When? – anytime. Where? – somebody can put a nail on the door and hang a sign saying, I’m a clinic, almost anywhere. What? – abortion. How? – anyhow.

“So Mr. President, more risk to human life, more mothers at risk, more babies at risk, therefore I’m in opposition to the measure.”

Senator Baker rose in rebuttal and said:

“Mr. President, just a couple of brief notes in rebuttal.

“It’s interesting that the good Senator raises a lot of straw people when all of these clinics are heavily regulated and have to meet a variety of both state and federal standards. But let me just note some words from Dr. Reni Soon, who is the assistant professor of obstetrics, gynecology, and women’s health for the University of Hawaii, John A. Burns School of Medicine. She notes that ‘those of us who do office procedures have hospital privileges and the ability to treat should any complications arise. There is no difference,’ and she emphasizes the word ‘no,’ ‘in the rate of complications and mortality resulting from abortions performed in a hospital and those in a non-hospital setting.’ A CDC study concluded clinic abortions to be at least as safe as hospital abortions, and nationally, 82 percent of all abortions today are performed in outpatient settings. Again, outpatient settings are heavily regulated by both state and federal laws.

“I think the issues that have been raised are really being raised because some individuals simply don’t like this procedure. But in the words of the medical professionals that testified before your Health Committee, ‘for the women of Hawaii, it’s important to keep abortion safe and legal and accessible,’ and that’s really all this bill does. It doesn’t add any additional privileges that are not already stated in the statute. It revises language that was written over 35 years ago and confirms a woman’s right to obtain an abortion should she determine that she wants one and this measure is supported by the medical community.

“I support this bill and ask my colleagues to vote ‘yes’ as well. Thank you.”

Senator Whalen rose again in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I wouldn’t have said anything again but it seems like what comes out of my mouth maybe just falls out of the speaker and hits the floor. I don’t know.

“The Senator from Maui said it twice now that this bill is merely reflecting state and federal law. The law is that you can’t restrict it in the first half of a pregnancy. That’s the law. This bill extends it all the way till birth that you can get an abortion not only in a clinic, but also in a doctor’s office, which she seems to have switched those words back and forth as if they are synonymous, but they’re not. We are extending that right.

“We don’t have rules and regulations in place to protect the health of the woman or the mother. We regulate other things to death. Look at the fight we have over the psychotropic drugs or the optometrists or ophthalmologists, and everything else. Here, we’re going to simply throw up our hands and say, yeah, trust them.

“All the quotes that the good Senator from Maui quoted were from pro-abortionists. There are significant studies that show that the stats on injury and death from the abortion procedure are quite higher than actually reported by themselves. It’s just that with the rights to privacy and everything else, it’s extremely difficult to get those stats. A parent can’t find out what their daughter just did. The clinic or the doctor’s office or the hospital would get sued.

“Again, the stats that she used were abortions; I think 82 percent of them are in the first trimester? That’s what this law is. That’s what this bill should say. What about someone in the third trimester? Again, if the doctor . . . most of them, I'm sure, who are very conscientious are not going to take chances. But, just like the guy who doesn't fix your car the right way or he jacks up the price, doctors get sued. Why is malpractice insurance so high? Mistakes are made, and don't tell me in our zeal to protect our public from helmets for moped riders and everything else that we're just going to say 'we'll just trust the doctors in this area. They'll make the right decision every time.'

"Again, I only got up because to hear it repeated again that we're merely reflecting state and federal law is totally bogus. So, for a Senator to stand up and say it again, prove me wrong before you make the statement, because I've looked at it and that is what the law is – first half or the early stages of the second trimester is the law.

"We are expanding this and if you folks want to be consistent to the committee report and the bill itself to say that we're merely reflecting current law, then you should vote 'no' because that is flat out wrong."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3300 was adopted and H.B. No. 1242, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SECTION 453-16, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 7 (Hemmings, Hogue, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3302 (H.B. No. 2343, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3302 be adopted and H.B. No. 2343, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, we are not New Orleans. We cannot take what we have seen on television about rioting and looting in New Orleans and assume that if disaster were to strike Hawaii like Hurricane Iniki that suddenly there would be pandemonium in the streets. A crime is a crime is a crime. I'm not soft on crime but we should treat everyone and every sector in the community equally.

"Our system of law depends upon informed compliance. We understand the difference between right and wrong and we intentionally comply with the law because that is the only way society can exist. We have deterrents. We send people to jail. We arrest them to act as a deterrent.

"People that loot and steal after a disaster will not be deterred by the increase in penalties that this law produces. If you want an effective deterrent, then consider concealed carry. Change our laws about the rights of our citizens to defend their property. But merely by increasing the penalty for a select group of people during an emergency is not an appropriate way to deal with the situation in Hawaii. Thank you."

Senator Inouye rose to support the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 2343, S.D. 2.

"Though I disagree with my colleague to the right, in light of recent events in Hurricanes Katrina and Rita, the nation witnessed disorder and chaos where the safety of citizens was jeopardized due to lack of control over supplies. Such chaos prevented and deterred police and armed forces from keeping order. This resulted in many attacks, thefts, and even deaths among the victims of these hurricanes.

"This is a measure that will help our law enforcement officers do their jobs and protect the public. Thank you, Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to support this measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3302 was adopted and H.B. No. 2343, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PENAL CODE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3305 (H.B. No. 2454, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3305 be adopted and H.B. No. 2454, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Ihara rose in support with reservations and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 2454 with reservations.

"Mr. President, I believe the Legislature should not be telling political parties who they cannot nominate to fill a legislative vacancy. If a political party under this bill wants to nominate a member in good standing, a new member, that should be their business. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"First of all, what the bill does is to seek to strip further power from the executive branch, from the Governor. Secondly, what it does is there is a requirement in there that the person will have been a registered member of the political party for six months prior to the appointment process. I don't know what the magic is about six months and I don't know what it says about a lot of people that believe philosophically they are a member of one political party or another, but in fact have not registered with that party. It does not diminish the requirement that the Governor has to appoint someone of the same political party but it does put further restrictions, and as the previous speaker said, it gives a greater amount of power to the political parties rather than to the executive or legislative branch. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3305 was adopted and H.B. No. 2454, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LEGISLATIVE VACANCIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3315 (H.B. No. 2422, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3315 be adopted and H.B. No. 2422, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"I think we're all concerned about the pedestrian safety and we should be concerned about motor vehicular safety, but what we've seen now is we probably have more people that are being hurt or killed in or around crosswalks than ever before. I would suggest that one of the reasons is the vagueness of the law and the difficulty in both interpretation and enforcement.

"And as much as there are good intentions for this bill, like so many other pieces of legislation, this bill in fact will not solve the problem, will not make it more safe. We need both an educational program and we need a program that will clearly identify what the rights and responsibilities of both driver and pedestrian are. Thank you."

Senators Hogue, Kim, Sakamoto, Tsutsui, Espero, English and Fukunaga requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3315 was adopted and H.B. No. 2422, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HIGHWAY SAFETY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3316 (H.B. No. 2708, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3316 be adopted and H.B. No. 2708, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Originally, the intent of this bill, of course, was to put sanctions or abolition to a famous or infamous truck that has been around our neighborhoods for several years now, and then it was found that you couldn't do anything about that because that was protected political speech having to do with that issue. Then this bill emerged as a bill that was a total ban on any commercial advertising on any vehicle. And the issue was not beauty or the environment. The issue was the transfer of money. In other words, if still you had protected political speech and if you wanted to put a message on your vehicle, as long as you didn't get paid for it, that was okay too.

"I think this bill goes too far and I think what it tries to do really is to harm people in the use of their vehicles and in the use of trying to get an advertising message out. It is not clear from this bill or from existing case law whether or not we're talking about moving billboards, which has been a question and an issue of a problem, but this bill will not solve that problem and so I urge a 'no' vote. Thank you."

Senators Espero and Hogue requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3316 was adopted and H.B. No. 2708, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADVERTISING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3368 (H.B. No. 2500, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3368 be adopted and H.B. No. 2500, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"We had a very lengthy discussion in Ways and Means and the genesis of this bill is the fact that this Legislature has already appropriated $95 million for the construction of a courthouse in Kapolei, primarily for family law. There's been a great deal of discussion prior to the actual appropriation and since then from attorneys, from families, from individuals who questioned the viability of putting such a massive piece of construction out there for this purpose, when contrary to the Judiciary's statement and testimony, most of the people in fact are not on the Leeward Coast. Most of the people are in the Kalihi/Downtown area.

"I think the thing that's most troubling to many of us, and we did have this discussion in Ways and Means, is the fact that after the $95 million was appropriated, the Judiciary came back and said wait a minute, it's now going to cost $48 million more. That was in a period of months and that estimate, adding $48 million was as of October of last year. The Judiciary put the blame on the Department of Accounting and General Services saying that DAGS had used too low an estimate for inflation. I think they were talking about 3 percent versus 9 percent.

"And so the question that arose, which still was not answered was, well, if it rose by more than 50 percent in that short period of time, what's happened in the last six months and what's going to happen in the near future? And the answer from the judiciary was twofold – one was that they had scaled down the square footage of the project, and the second was that they must have $10 million now for a disputed four acres of land because if we don't pay Campbell Estate $10 million for four acres of land, Campbell Estate has in the original contract the ability to withdraw and withhold that land.

"I think many of us and maybe most of us on the Ways and Means Committee were very troubled by that. First of all, there was never anything in writing by Campbell Estate. We were getting hearsay information from the proponents of the judiciary. I think we all concluded that it is in Campbell Estate's best interest that they have a sucker . . . I'm sorry, I mean a financier like the State of Hawaii on the hook to continue paying money. The problem with this project is even though now it's been downgraded in terms of percentage of square footage, we see that the amounts of money are still increasing and there's no end to that amount of money.

"We still have the problems within the judiciary and the legal community as to people that do not want to use that facility and want other alternatives found in existing facilities, or at least a guarantee that not all of the services will be transferred. The judiciary talks about a website, but the website is one-sided. They're not listening to the many issues of debate that have been brought up.

"So Mr. President and colleagues, I think that the old adage about throwing good money after bad is personified in this bill and this issue. And I don't think that we should go ahead with this until we get some very clear answers in writing as to what the limits of the state financial liability are and what our options are with Campbell Estate or other people, and what the judiciary intends to do in terms of the criticism that has been leveled at it by the legal community. Thank you."

Senators Tsutsui, Chun Oakland, Nishihara, Hooser and Kim requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kanno rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I'd like to rise in support of the measure.

"Mr. President, I just wanted to address that one of the facts that was not mentioned by the previous speaker is that in the creation of the secondary urban center, the New City of Kapolei, which was a commitment from both state and city government, that the Campbell Estate provided a number of parcels free to the state and that a portion that the building is designed to sit on is one of these parcels. So, although we are considering an appropriation to purchase the remaining four acres, the rest of the site has been donated by Campbell Estate.

"The history of the 'Second City' is that it really is the creation of a job center and part of the strategy there is to have traffic going the other way. For those of us who fight the morning traffic every day into town, I think we all recognize that the worst traffic on the island is coming into town from the West End into Honolulu. The West End is already burdened with many of the services that serve the whole island – a landfill, power plants. Many of the negative projects in our community are literally dumped on the West Side of the island. The creation of the new city really created a time for services, positive projects to come out to that side of the island and the judiciary complex is one of those projects.

"So, whereas the residents of my part of the island would very much appreciate the other parts of the island taking ownership of things like the next landfill, the next power plant, I don't see any of those offers forthcoming.

"We would like to encourage the members to keep this project moving forward to support the appropriation. Thank you."

Senator Ihara requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3368 was adopted and H.B. No. 2500, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE JUDICIARY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3370 (H.B. No. 2347, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3370 be adopted and H.B. No. 2347, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hogue rose in support with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise and I guess I'm going to vote 'yes' on this with reservations based on a letter that I received in my office this morning. We just found out about this yesterday and I think you should be aware of it. This is a letter from the Hawaii School Bus Association and it really calls into question the money management of the DOE. It is a letter addressed to the assistant superintendent of the support services division and I'll make copies available for you if you'd like it.

"It says 'contractors are not being paid within the 30-day period allowed by state law. Payment has been held for as long as six months. Common excuses are that the program has run out of funds, the DOE cannot give what they do not have, there was an error on your billing statement, the DOE transportation office lost your invoice, you can bill interest after the 30-day period,' just to name a few. 'The contractor's financial position is compromised due to late payments' and it goes on and says 'the DOE has pushed us to the brink. DOE must have funds available for pick up by contractors by Wednesday, April 5, 2006. Payment for services provided through February 15, 2006 must be cleared. We will be unable to provide services on Thursday, April 6th if payment is not made.' And it is signed by several bus companies including Gomes School Bus Service, Akita Enterprises, Kailua Local Taxi and Windward Bus, Yamaguchi Bus Service, Ground Transportation Inc., Roberts Hawaii School Bus, Dodoit's Bus Service, Spencer's Bus Service Inc. I called the DOE to try to get their statement on this particular thing. I was told that the assistant superintendent is on vacation and no one else could answer the questions, so I called the leading signatory on this, Leatrice Gomes, who said indeed they have been paid since they sent this letter and Leatrice Gomes told me she called it a very sad situation that they had to send a threatening letter in order to be paid by the DOE.

"Now, this really calls into question the DOE's money management. I have since found out from a board of education member, he's the one who actually sent me this letter, he says that the DOE is one of only two agencies in the state that provides no aging reports. Every single week aging reports are put forward by other agencies to let them know what they have outstanding, and it would seem to reason that you would want to know what you have outstanding whether it's within 30 days, 60 days, 90 days, six months, etc. The DOE doesn't have to do this and so they run into problems like this all the time.

"I call this to your attention because we have several bills that are going to be coming forward a little bit later. One of them is asking for a chief financial officer for the DOE and I would say that indeed it appears that we need one if we're having these kinds of problems. There is also a bill going forward that talks about financial autonomy for the DOE and I would think that this particular letter would call that into question. So, I'll be happy to pass this letter along to the Chair of Education and hopefully we can all look into this and hope the DOE does a much better job with their money management in the future. Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"My colleague was so persuasive that I couldn't go with a W/R. It would have to be a 'no' for a couple reasons. First of all, this is listed here as an emergency appropriation. There's no emergency. This is the DOE again mismanaging funds and not doing its job and not knowing what its priorities are. We're talking about $5.8 million and the fact that they were given that notice that they had to have the checks. It's my understanding the check was hand carried over to pay them on the 5th of April. This is not how you run a business. It's not how you run a school district.

"And again, it's not because of lack of money. They have the money. It's what their priorities are or their lack of priorities. They're sure down here quick enough to ask us for higher salaries for their district superintendents and others and to add other officers, other personnel. They're really good about that but they're not good about doing the things that they're supposed to do, so I'm voting 'no.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3370 was adopted and H.B. Senator Trimble rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations.

"Colleagues, this is not what the title claims – a conformity act. It is really an unconformity act. The two most important provisions in the federal code that we have not adopted that we should adopt because it would make necessary all sorts of other tax credits is expanding the standard deduction and the personal exemption. It's the same levels used by the IRS. These are the two most important things that we could do to bring it into conformity. Thank you."

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

MATTER DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 2006

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3406 (H.B. No. 2400):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3406 be adopted and H.B. No. 2400, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose to speak with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, again I rise with reservations.

"My reservations are simple – I'm not sure which particular agency will hold title to the property and the second reservation is that I think that everyone in Hawaii should be guaranteed the right to enjoy this wonderful piece of property. Thank you."

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Just for the record, Mr. President, the agency that will hold the title to this property is the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. They are also providing a permanent easement for public access to the whole valley, with the exception of those culturally significant areas that will be monitored. Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3406 was adopted and H.B. No. 2400, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR ACQUISITION OF WAIMEA VALLEY, OAHU," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

H.B. No. 1448, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 1448, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, a couple of problems, if you read the bill language closely, it talks about losses and then it includes the term insurance and it includes the term rental. The committee report is silent in terms of exactly what these two terms mean. The bill itself does not define them. The problem is when we write bills about tax credits, we need to have congruency between the way the people, the citizens of our community read the bill, what we as Legislators interpret or mean by the bill, and what tax accountants are going to advise their clients to do.

“When we talk about rental, are we talking about rental of equipment to clean after the flood damage? Are we talking about lost rental income of a basement that no longer can provide income? Are we talking about the owner having to stay at another place until his place is cleaned out? When you deal with tax credits and an audit section in the Department of Taxation that chooses to interpret the law as conservatively as possible, we must be crystal clear about what we mean.

“The second reservation or objection I have is that this is for economic loss. It should be, if we’re going to come forward and say a tax credit is a reasonable way to approach economic loss, then we should apply it across the board anytime either in the past or in the future an event occurs, say perhaps when the Governor declares a state of emergency, but it should be consistent and it should apply across the board.

“The third problem with this use of tax credits is that there is no way for the Department of Taxation to determine whether the person is actually rebuilding the property or actually claiming money and actually increasing the value, doing an improvement when he rebuilds.

“So, for these reasons, until we have clarity as to what the bill actually will do, I will continue to oppose it. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1448, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INCOME TAX CREDIT,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 3 (Hee, Menor, Whalen).

H.B. No. 173, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Sakamoto moved that H.B. No. 173, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“First of all, Mr. President, as testimony has indicated, both the Hawaii State Constitution and our Hawaii Revised Statutes are very clear on the requirements for this position. What they have done is to ensure that we have a large and expanded pool of nominees. What this bill would do is reduce the pool of qualified candidates for this position.

“Secondly, the bill I think is very myopic and promotes a ‘National Guard only’ mentality. And thirdly, I think that what we should be able to do is have the flexibility to choose the best leader that we can from wherever that source is as long as that person, he or she, meets the constitutional and statutory requirements.

“So, what we have here is a measure that in fact reduces that pool, reduces the flexibility, reduces the opportunity to have the very best in our leadership. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“Forty-four other states and perhaps 45 states by this time or soon have the same provision in terms of their leader being a Guard member. One of the testifiers in part of his testimony said ‘the National Guard is the only military organization with a dual mission – one, supporting the state; and the other, supporting the nation. These facts are well known, but I fear that many do not truly appreciate how such an organization must balance the loyalty and commitment to two sometimes competing masters – the State of Hawaii on one hand and the Nation on the other hand.’

“Another testifier wrote ‘it is difficult for a non-guardsman to understand the unique organization and the mission of the National Guard because at first glance one assumes that the guard is a military organization and that anyone with military experience can be the Adjutant General or his Deputy. Nothing could be further from the truth because first and foremost, the Guard is a state organization patterned after the army and air force organization, etc., etc.’

“I can go on, Mr. President, but in essence, the former adjutant general’s of the Guard, many retired officers in the Guard have sent testimony in support of the measure. I believe, especially with homeland security disasters, etc., it’s very important for the Adjutant General to be familiar with what our Hawaii Army and Air National Guard is doing and will do in the future and it makes a big difference for the protection of our State, Mr. President. So I urge my colleagues to vote in favor.”

Senator Ihara requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 173, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE NATIONAL GUARD,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, there’s an awful lot of law to be introducing for what one might presume to be a fairly simple crop. My point being that if we are going to have labeling requirements, these labeling requirements should be consistent for every product that we do, not specific to one or another or another. So, let’s have consistency in the law regarding labeling for honey, for macadamia nuts, and everything else. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 2796, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HONEY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

H.B. No. 2331:

Senator Menor moved that H.B. No. 2331, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, we're talking about professionals – people that are licensed that have some level of knowledge that the state requires before they practice on other people. Every individual becomes obsolete very rapidly and the best way to maintain proficiency is through practice. By carte blanche allowing people to go to inactive status and then bring it back is not a guarantee that they have maintained their professional knowledge during the period of time that their license was inactive. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 2331, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AN INACTIVE STATUS FOR PROFESSIONAL AND VOCATIONAL LICENSES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Hooser).

H.B. No. 970, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 970, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 970.

"Colleagues, Mr. President, I want to first thank the members of the Ways and Means Committee and especially the Chairman for supporting H.B. No. 970, which provides emergency relief to victims of the Kaloko Dam tragedy. Also, this bill has been amended to allow those funds to also be spent on an independent investigation.

"On the morning of March 14th, the 115-year-old Kaloko Dam collapsed resulting in massive flooding that caused extensive property damage and the tragic loss of life. Seven people are gone, including a small baby. Since then, we have learned that the dam, though required by law, had never been inspected by the Department of Land and Natural Resources. We've also learned that under state law owners of private reservoirs are responsible for the repair and maintenance.

"We have heard allegations of stream diversion tactics, land alteration, and illegal water retention practices. These circumstances generate both confusion and frustration over what entity may be held liable for this breach. There have been numerous media and citizen reports making claims and accusations about both the actions and inactions of the state, the county and private landowners, and how that may have contributed, caused, or exacerbated the conditions leading to the Kaloko Dam tragedy.

"The people of our state, especially the residents of Kauai, of Kilauea, and Kauai's North Shore deserve and expect a complete and thorough independent investigation into the facts and circumstances that have led to this tragic event. Let us not forget that seven lives have been lost.

"Because the State of Hawaii may be held responsible for this breach in part or in whole, the possibility of the state investigating itself presents a clear conflict of interest. The possibility of a conflict of interest is further evidenced by this emergency appropriation which sets aside funds to help pay for potential future litigation against the state.

"Civil and possible criminal liability needs to be determined. Seven people have died. We have massive property damage and we have a community that is demanding answers. I have in my hand here testimony and signatures from over 300 Kauai residents – residents of the area, residents from throughout the island – whose lives have been forever altered by this tragedy. I promised them that I would enter these comments and this testimony into the public record here on this Senate Floor and that I would have personally delivered to every Senator's office copies of the same.

"Martha Harkey of Kauai writes, 'Those of us who live downstream of this and other reservoirs are committed to finding out exactly why this breach occurred and making sure this will never happen again.' Bruce Fehring in response to questions from the media talking about whether this was an act of God or not is quoted as saying, 'What occurred was not an act of nature. It was a failure of man.'

"The people of Kauai and the people of our state deserve answers, and though I have the highest personal regard for the state attorney general, given the scope of this tragedy, the history of the area, and the conflicts of interest, both real and perceived, it is essential that this investigation be conducted and have the full faith and confidence of the people of our state. Given the scope – again, seven lives have been lost, four are still not recovered, buried under the rubble and mud, or perhaps washed out to sea; tremendous property damage, millions if not tens of millions of dollars, and the insurance companies are denying payment. Lives have been disrupted and changed forever.

"Given the history of this area, which I know personally because I live there, because I've served on the county council there, the track record of all three parties – the state, the county, and the private landowner – is well known over the years. The state and county have often looked the other way as the property owner with impunity – with impunity – has conducted illegal grading, stream diversions, the construction of reservoirs without permits, and the list is long.

"The recent controversy of Pila`a conducted by the same landowner resulted in tons of mud washed upon a reef and over a house. It took years for that to go to court and it took public outrage before government – state, county, and the federal government – finally came forward to act.

“Sitting on the county council, the prior mayor actually told me one time, ‘why does he need a permit? He doesn’t need a permit; he owns all the land.’ The landowner has this tremendous amount of money, a tremendous amount of personal power. I witnessed this myself when I inquired as a member of the county council as to whether the landowner had gotten a permit for berms that had been constructed. Within hours of my inquiry into public works I had a call directly from the landowner – directly from the landowner to me as a sitting council member – asking me what in the heck I was doing, didn’t I know who I was fooling with, and that I’d better be careful. This is what the landowner told me as a council member as I merely inquired whether he had gotten permits for some berms that had been built.

“The conflicts are both real and perceived. The attorney general is a former partner of the landowner’s law firm. The attorney general is responsible for investigating the actions in this matter. The attorney general is also responsible for defending the state from claims that arise from this very same investigation. And again, how can he through acts or inactions that he’s going to be investigating, how can he possibly do a good job of both. I state that the attorney general is in an untenable position and needs to be relieved of this. During a recent public hearing of Ways and Means, I mentioned to the attorney general that I felt that for the credibility of this investigation it was critical that the investigation be thorough and complete, but it was equally critical that this investigation have the full faith and confidence of the people of our state, of the people of Kauai, of the people of the North Shore. The response of the attorney general was, and I quote, ‘by far the most important thing that dwarfs whether certain people on Kauai have confidence in this is that the job is done right, whether or not people subjectively have confidence in it or not, a limited group of people who is in my view far down on the chart in terms of relatives.’ I beg to disagree. I think having faith and confidence in this investigation is paramount – paramount. And I would suggest that Bruce Fehring, the father, and the grandfather and the property owner who lost seven family and friends, I would say that his opinion and his thoughts are relevant.

“I would say that the 25 landowners in Wailapa who also suffered tremendous damage, their opinions, their thoughts, their faith and confidence are relevant. I would say property owners and people on Kauai’s North Shore and throughout our island, their opinions are relevant. The Garden Island Newspaper who came out in support of an independent investigation, their opinion is relevant. The Kauai County Council who support and independent investigation, their opinion and their thoughts are also very relevant. The Mayor of Kauai, who signed a petition for the same, this State Senator who represents District 7, the entire Kauai delegation, two members, two Committees in the House of Representatives who recently passed a resolution supporting the same, yes, I would say that these people’s opinions are relevant. For these reasons and for many others, I ask the Governor of the State of Hawaii and the attorney general to do the right thing – to step aside and support and allow an independent investigation.

“I thank all of my colleagues for supporting the bill that’s before us. Mr. President, in honor of the seven lives that were lost, I request a Roll Call vote. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 970, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY RELIEF FOR NATURAL DISASTERS,” having been read throughout, and Roll Call vote having been requested, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This is one of several bills we’re going to be discussing this afternoon. I really have a problem with this bill. Here is, as the sponsors say, an attempt to create ingenuity and to protect innovation. And if you read the bill and read the bill carefully, it is the state government and the Department of Education and the HSTA and other unions that are involved. And as we’ve seen earlier, the Department of Education can’t even pay their bill for the school busses, can’t manage their money but their going to somehow help create ingenuity and creativity.

“First of all, inventors and creative people don’t get any of their support or help or mentoring from government. They do it on their own. Actually, government usually is the stumbling block for what they’re trying to do.

“In reading through this bill, to me it’s a thinly veiled bill for setting up a state for-profit labor union corporation. The membership, the board of directors, everything comes from the labor unions that are part of this. They have a number of organizations which they have mentioned in here, many of which I’ve never heard of before. It doesn’t mean that they don’t exist or that they haven’t done anything, but it probably does mean that they have nothing to do with business or ingenuity.

“So, if the authors and the supporters of this bill want to be honest and talk about this being another labor union bill where we can siphon public funds, that’s one thing, but to call this an ingenuity creation bill is totally false and I urge a ‘no’ vote. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3433 was adopted and H.B. No. 3261, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INGENUITY CORPORATION CHARTER,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

“Colleagues, the issue here is a $200 clothing allowance for policemen. Why are we doing this in an election year? What about the firemen? What about every other professional organization? Let’s not keep dividing our society into little groups and then doling out our largesse a little bit at a time. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3434 was adopted and H.B. No. 2715, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO POLICE OFFICERS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, this is a good practice to once in a while look at our sister state relationships. I support it wholly, but I also believe that an important component of that evaluation should be our business community. And because they are notably absent from the list of people that will form the committee that does this evaluation, I must vote against this measure.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3436 was adopted and H.B. No. 1890, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SISTER STATE AND PROVINCE RELATIONSHIPS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“As I’ve said before in committee, again, this is an anti-consumer bill. It’s a pro-tax bill. What it does is it expands the reach of the so-called bottle recycling beverage container tax to larger containers which were previously exempted. We saw that people have the good sense. They started buying larger containers. Why? Because they didn’t want to be taxed and overtaxed.

“We note that the state is making a killing on this bill. It has little to do with recycling and has everything to do with finances. And now what we’re going to do, as I said, is to increase the number and kinds of containers. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3437 was adopted and H.B. No. 1948, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, colleagues, this is about what started out to be a $50,000 appropriation. Quite frankly, it takes us more to write a bill, to hear in committee testimony on a bill, to pass a bill than the amount of money that was in it. Quite frankly, if we wanted to devote money to this purpose, it could be put in the budget. We don’t need a separate bill.

“When the Senate version of this bill came before this Body, I got up a spoke because that version had to do with publishing a veteran’s newsletter. This iteration is not for the publishing of the newsletter, but to allow the newsletter to continue to be published. In either event, wherever the purpose, it is a misuse of the budgeting process to separate out a little bit to create an interest group in an election year and say see what we did for you in the State Legislature.

“This is truly akin to bribing people with their own money. Thank you. I will continue to oppose measures like this.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3443 was adopted and H.B. No. 1879, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VETERANS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, colleagues, in the testimony relating to this bill . . .”

The President interjected:

“Are you in support or opposition?”

Senator Trimble responded:

"I'm sorry. I'm speaking in opposition to this measure.

"This has to do with creating another special fund into which receipts from the federal government will be deposited relating to what schools did in terms of the Felix consent decree. The issue is do we need a special fund? So, when the person came from the Department of Education to testify in favor of this he said, well, we need the special fund because we want the people in the field to know that the money that is received is really their money and going to be spent for that purpose. But it is not going to result in and it is not required for that money to be spent.

"So, we indeed are creating a special fund that is not needed and does not meet the criteria of the legislative auditor for a special fund. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"I know that a lot of my colleagues read bills and they read bill titles only and they wonder why would anybody be in opposition to a children's health bill and particularly one to take care of children that are uninsured? This Hawaii children's health care program would be established as a public/private partnership between the Department of Human Services and a mutual benefits society, but it's questionable whether to prefer a mutual benefit society generally or one of our health care providers, HMSA specifically, to run this program.

"This program could be run by an HMO, could be run by a for-profit health insurer, and the program should be subject to a fair and impartial public procurement process, but under this bill it is not. To provide a unique franchise to one medical carrier will tend to put them in the driver's seat making profits off the program itself.

"The measure requires that children must have been uninsured continually for at least six months in order to qualify for this program. It doesn't ask the question or require anything as to why the children have been uninsured, whether or not they or their parents have the financial ability to insure them, so it leaves a lot of questions in that particular instance. But more importantly, it doesn't detail the cost of the program to the state and to the taxpayers or to members of the mutual benefit society, because if they take it over and subsidize it in any way, it is fair to anticipate and expect that their member dues will increase, as has been the situation in the past when this Legislature has passed mandates.

"There are also so many provisions right now that will take care of children who are uninsured, through the Medicaid process and the federal process, and yet this seems to carve out a special area for those people that really don't want to pay anything. They have to pay a portion of Medicaid. But if they don't want to pay anything and the child is uninsured for six months, then the taxpayers get to pay for it entirely. We use a formula of 250 percent of household income, 251 percent of the federal poverty level. The new program is not a Medicaid program, and as such would not bring in any federal monies to the State of Hawaii to offset the costs of the program.

"So, I think there are many questions that are unanswered. I don't think it's going to serve uninsured children. I don't think it's going to solve the problem that the supporters want it to and it can actually evolve into a tremendously costly program and one that is unfair to people that are paying and are able to pay for at least a portion of medical care for their children as is their responsibility. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Mr. President, this is a wonderful example of a public/private partnership in support of providing health insurance for our keiki. This bill provides gap coverage for those who can't afford insurance but don't qualify for Medicaid. With the enactment of this bill and the stellar provisions that the Department of Human Services has made to our SCHIP (State Children's Health Insurance) program we will have 100 percent of children in our state covered for health care. We would be the first state in the nation to do so and I think this measure needs to continue to move forward because it gives us the opportunity to make certain that there will be, from a health standpoint, truly no child left behind, and that's as it should be.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, again I rise on this VEBA trust bill. It is a bad bill. It excludes retirees and others. It again seeks to circumvent any financial control that the state has on health care and retirement payments, but particularly health care.

"First we started out with HSTA seeking a VEBA trust, going back to a VEBA trust. Now we have it open for all unions and no responsibility for them. We also have an ongoing claim by the attorney general trying to get back funds from these other unions who took the porting of state funds years ago then were able to cut people off their list of medical coverage so that they could selectively cherry pick and get lower rates, thus saving money from what they got from the state. But they never returned the money and to this day has refused to, to this day have refused to cooperate with the legislative auditor, and to reward them for their bad behavior would be criminal on our part. Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 2950.

"Mr. President, this is identical to the Senate version that I rose to speak in opposition to and it is really for those reasons that I rise again. The concerns that I raised in the last opposition speech has not been addressed, and I wonder what we are saying by failing to address those concerns. We know that this bill is in the same form that we saw earlier. We also know that it is in a very similar form that the HSTA bill came before us last year. After negotiations between the HSTA and the attorney general for the EUTF, they reached an agreement with many stringent controls. This bill doesn't have any of that.

"This bill is also another three-year project. We already have one going and it's called the HSTA's project and we're going to give everyone else the ability to do yet another three-year project without any of the constraints.

“What the HSTA gave up in their VEBA is the ability of the attorney general and any of its members to come forward and to contest what is being done. They have a right very similar to what an ERISA beneficiary does, actually, probably more so because the attorney general has the right to go in and audit – an important aspect of it when you look at what happened with the state health fund and the fact that they’re still auditing at great expense to us.

“Again, what we’re doing here is we’re ignoring the wishes of the retirees – those retirees who came before us after watching what the EUTF could do and said we do not want to be in these VEBA trusts. This VEBA trust doesn’t give them a choice if they’re in the plan now, if they’re an active employee now. It gives everyone a one-time out into a VEBA but not a chance back in.

“Since the last hearing that we had on this measure, Mr. President, the chair of the EUTF came to see me. He was one of those who I consider to be a disbeliever when we formed the EUTF, and he told me it’s working; it’s really working. He says the costs are under control and very shortly we’re not going to need additional funds to run the EUTF.

“So what are we doing when we pass this measure again in the same form without even addressing these issues – the inequity to HSTA, the concerns of the retirees? What are we saying? We’re saying what? We don’t care? These concerns are deminimis? Of course they’re not. We made HSTA go through it the last time.

“Mr. President, the Senate bill went over. To pass the House bill in this form again, the same thing without even addressing these issues, without giving credence to the fact that the EUTF is working, without paying respect to those retirees who are now coming out of the woodwork and saying please protect us, don’t put us into the VEBA plans because we know what’s going to happen to us – we’re not going to have the voice; we’re not going to have the benefits. But worse than that, Mr. President, we have a structure that works. It was passed based on the recommendations of Marion Higa. She set forth what we should do and we did it. And it does work. We’re saving money and it’s going to be self-sufficient very shortly.

“What gives me the greatest sense that we’ve done something right is to see those who stood in opposition now be the executive director of the EUTF who supports it and to have those who now chair it, also a union representative, say it does work and with a funny smile on his face saying yes, it does work.

“So what are we doing? We don’t even address these concerns. We’re not even looking at it. And we know that when we create additional VEBAs, we’re going to be back where we started from before the creation of EUTF, which means that if Marion Higa’s projections are correct, we will be paying a billion dollars in health fund costs by the year 2013, and you know what that means.

“My main reason in opposition to all of these VEBA trusts after we created the EUTF was very simple – it’s the retirees that we’re not going to be able to keep our word to because they are going to have their benefits cut. They are going to have to pay like everybody else does. Maybe that’s what some people feel. I believe that to the extent that we can keep our word, we keep our word. We don’t make those retirees pay. Many of them are earning only $500 a month in retirement. The amount they save by not having to pay for their premiums is a substantial savings for them. It can mean many things – food, the ability to pay more in terms of added benefits to their quality of life. All of these things will be at risk because it has historically been at risk and it has been challenged – challenged every time in the private sector.

“Look at the private sector. Look at those who were able to keep their word to their retirees. They are not able to do so, because remember, once you are a retiree, you are not a member under Chapter 89 and this bill doesn’t even reference that. You have no representation rights. You have no duty that you can go to your union and say you owe me a fiduciary duty – you don’t have any of that. And if we pass a bill like this, we’re basically thumbing our noses at everyone.

“So Mr. President, I ask that you and my colleagues vote in opposition to this measure and send a very clear message as to what are we doing. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3466 was adopted and H.B. No. 2950, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VOLUNTARY EMPLOYEES’ BENEFICIARY ASSOCIATION TRUSTS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, what this bill does is create one position. I don’t think we need legislation to create one position at a time. It deals with an issue that over the past 37 years has been responsible for 89 deaths. If we were to create a coordinator that investigated or that dealt with every conceivable thing that over a 37-year period dealt with 89 deaths, we’ll be creating a large number of new state positions. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Tsutsui moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3470 be adopted and H.B. No. 2187, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure because the bill as written excludes the vendor from being in the private sector that would provide ambulance service for the Island of Oahu. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Just for the information of some of our colleagues, it is the hope, and this bill acts on that hope, that we will be able to return to the aero medical transport services previously provided by MAST. If that is possible and in order for us to be in line to return to government MAST services, and the military has provided us with aero medical airlift on the Island of Oahu for many, many years at no cost to the state, I might add, we need to make sure that we contract with a government provider on an interim basis. That's why the bill is written as it is. The military won't replace a private company providing the service.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3470 was adopted and H.B. No. 2187, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 2 (Hooser, Taniguchi).

Senator Hogue rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'm going to rise to vote with reservations on this one.

"I think that we have a title problem now. It is relating to the rental motor vehicle surcharge tax and originally this was going to reduce the tax from $3.00 to $2.00. That language was taken out. So currently, all you've got there is that there's a paperwork reduction which would mean that in fact the bill as now written has nothing to do with a vehicle surcharge tax. If it ended up being a tax decrease, I could vote for it, but as it is right now, I don't think it's going to pass muster so it's got to be corrected somewhere along the process. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3475 was adopted and H.B. No. 2214, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RENTAL MOTOR VEHICLE SURCHARGE TAX," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"While this bill has come a long way and has had many changes, the fact of the matter is that I've heard all of the testimony, I've read the testimony, I've read the complaints from people that say they can't get access to language. Nowhere does anybody talk about the responsibility for speaking the language of this country. We're seeing this debate everyday now on the news about immigration and about language. We see that anybody can access benefits at taxpayer's cost in our country without really having any responsibility whatsoever and no responsibility for themselves.

"We also heard some tear-jerking testimony about people that committed suicide because they thought it was embarrassing to have a member of their own family translate for them. If we go to any other country, Mr. President, if we go to any other circumstance, first of all they have immigration laws, they have language laws, they have other laws that we as outside non-citizens have to apply to. This country is becoming the number one patsy in the world and the taxpayers are paying for everything.

"Now, I obviously don't want to deny anybody that needs specific services the right to those services, but all of the testimony I've heard was that it was difficult, it was inconvenient, it was uncomfortable, it was this, it was that. This is a far cry from immigrants that came to our country, helped build our country, but took a stance that they were part of this country. They learned the language. They learned the mores. They tried and worked very hard for citizenship.

"What we're doing right now is trying to give people a pass because all they do is whine and snivel and I won't be part of that. I vote 'no.' Thank you."

Senator Kim requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Again, we in the Legislature particularly have used the vehicle of salary commission to mask the intention of raising our own salaries, giving us more benefits. Now we want to put it in the constitution and make sure that everybody in public office, regardless of branch of government, is automatically going to get the benefits and salary increases and the public will have little or no opportunity either to find out about it or certainly to vote no against it. I think it's a bad policy. We should be ashamed."

Senator Ihara rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 1917.

"Mr. President, I'm concerned about putting the salary increases for the leaders of all branches of state government in the hands of one salary commission. Though intended to increase fairness and consistency, I believe that this super salary commission would increase the possibility of mischief and inappropriate negotiation amongst leaders of the three branches.

"For example, if one branch does not deserve a large salary increase, they would probably, nonetheless, get that increase because the salaries of the other two branches would also be included in a recommendation and the Legislature would have to turn down the recommendation in its entirety. I'm also concerned because it was just last July that the Governor, Lt. Governor, the cabinet, and judges started their recent salary increase, and Legislators, we got a salary increase, though small, after the last election in 2004.

"Further, the timetable set in this constitutional amendment would increase salaries of the Governor, Lt. Governor, department heads and judges four years earlier than the current schedule and three years earlier for Legislators.

"For these reasons, Mr. President, I must oppose the bill in its current form. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3485 was adopted and H.B. No. 1917, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SALARY COMMISSION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, have you forgotten Chuck Berry? Have you forgotten the Man Act of 1910? It is against the law to traffic in humans or minors. We do not need more law. If anything is called for, it is better enforcement. We cannot continually expand our law and think that we're accomplishing our goal.

"So let's be honest with ourselves. Let's seek better enforcement, but let's not mindlessly expand our law. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3486 was adopted and H.B. No. 2051, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROTECTION FOR VICTIMS OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to this measure.

"All lands are not the same. I have no disagreement with the percentage. In fact, in some lands, the percentage of revenue given should be perhaps 100 percent. My issue has to do with harbor lands. Ninety-five percent of what we as a society consume comes through our harbors. So when 20 percent of the revenue that harbors collects on ceded lands, which is most or much of the land in the harbor, what it truly represents is a tax on all the people of Hawaii. I think it is inappropriate to apply a tax to the use of harbors for one exclusive group. Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3504 be adopted and H.B. No. 1800, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, I was probably the only one in the Senate that voted against the original bill that established the 5 percent withholding for sale of property that involved out-of-state residents. The reason why I voted against the original bill is pertinent. It is because there was a supposed loophole but there were no concrete examples of people that took advantage of it.

"Now we seek to raise that 5 percent. But colleagues, even though the capital gains tax exceeds 5 percent, capital gains is supplied to the gain. The tax is not paid on the total value or percentage of the total value of the sale. So quite frankly, I'm not aware of very many investments where the recipient, the out-of-state resident would get such a huge capital gain that it would not be covered by our existing taxes if we maintain the requirement to require deposit of 5 percent. Consider the issues and the math clearly before you vote.

"Thank you."

Senators Espero and Inouye requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3504 was adopted and H.B. No. 1800, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALE OF REAL PROPERTY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3505 (H.B. No. 2239, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3505 be adopted and H.B. No. 2239, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Menor rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote in support of this bill which would authorize HCDCH, our state housing agency, to undertake negotiations with the owners of Kukui Gardens, initiate condemnation proceedings if negotiations fall through, and appropriate monies for the purchase of Kukui Gardens. I strongly urge my colleagues to support this measure. If we are serious about addressing our affordable housing crisis then passing this measure to the Governor before the end of Session must be a matter of the highest priority.

"There are many reasons to support this legislation, including the results of the analysis conducted by the Joint Legislative Affordable Housing and Homeless Task Force. In its report the task force concluded that a key element of any plan to address our affordable housing crisis requires the preservation of our existing affordable housing rental stock, which includes for purchase and, in particular, rental units as well. The task force also concluded that a top priority of the state has to be assisting those who can least afford to purchase housing in the present market. These individuals and families, the kind who now live in Kukui Gardens, are in the greatest need of access to affordable rental units. This measure can help the state meet both of these critical objectives.

"The location of Kukui Gardens is also ideal for solving other problems such as providing badly needed affordable workforce housing in our urban core in close proximity to our island's primary labor market. Keeping affordable rentals in Honolulu also makes sense from a planning perspective in that it reduces urban sprawl and the need for additional residential housing in outlying suburban communities such as the community of Mililani that we both represent whose growth has already negatively affected the quality of life of residents and contributed to many problems such as traffic congestion and overcrowded schools.

"Of great concern is the distinct possibility that the conversion of Kukui Gardens into expensive condominiums could leave many residents homeless and further exacerbate another growing social problem. But even if we are in agreement on the rationale that I have just offered, there are other factors we should keep in mind as we consider this bill.

"For instance, I've been told that the owners of Kukui Gardens have been contemplating the sale of Kukui Gardens at a price tag of between $109 and $130 million to a private entity. At that price range, there is no way that a private buyer could keep all or even most of the units in the affordable price range and still make a good return on the investment. After paying such a price, a private entity, in all likelihood, would have to convert a portion if not all of the units into for-sale condominiums to make the venture sufficiently profitable.

"Consequently, Mr. President, I see no alternative other than the state stepping in if there is to be any hope of keeping all of the units affordable. A state purchase would also enable a public/private partnership with a nonprofit organization under which the state could enter into a lease arrangement with a nonprofit entity to operate and maintain Kukui Gardens as an affordable rental complex.

"In addition, it should also be emphasized that there are currently 857 affordable rental units at Kukui Gardens and to start from scratch and to build a comparable number of rental units in another location would be cost prohibitive and far in excess of what it would cost to purchase Kukui Gardens.

"In any case, Mr. President, if we want to maintain this project for affordable units in perpetuity, it's going to require the state to step in and underwrite the purchase, and here, timing is critical. If we are going to structure this action in a manner most favorable to the state, the state must act now before the owners sell to a private entity. Otherwise, if a sale to a private investor occurs before the state undertakes condemnation proceedings, the determination of just compensation could be adversely affective. The condemnation price would no doubt be much higher if it were set after the project is sold. In this scenario, in which the starting point in the germination of just compensation is the high sales price, the result would be the state paying a substantially higher condemnation price than if negotiations were undertaken with the owners of Kukui Gardens now.

"Finally, I've spoken with one of the principal owners of Kukui Gardens who expressed to me an openness and willingness to negotiate with the state. Given all that we know about the need to keep this project affordable and the importance of consummating a deal before this property is sold at a high price, now is the time to strike while the iron is hot. I ask my colleagues to vote in favor of this important affordable housing measure. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in very strong opposition to this bill.

"It's interesting that we have members of our group here that the first thing they say is there's no other thing that I can see other than to have the state step in, and they always seem to propose and support legislation where the state steps in. And everywhere where they have allowed the state to step in, the consumers get stepped on or step in it because it has not resolved the problem, and neither will this proposal.

"First of all, let's be clear about this. This is a federally financed project with a lot of restrictions to it. The restrictions continue for another five years. It's not like we're under the gun that we have to act today or tomorrow. Five years – that's what's in the requirements. And if the buildings are sold, then the new owners in fact must also acquire those restrictions for a minimum of five years. In fact, there are negotiations going on, as the good Senator knows quite well, and what happens with those negotiations, we don't know. No one knows. They could be extremely positive. They could help us in many ways. But to say that the only thing that we can do is to have the heavy hand of state government get involved in yet another area is wrong. It's absolutely wrong.

"Of those 857 units there in Kukui Gardens, I would say that probably being very conservative, as you know I am, Mr. President, maybe 856 are rundown and need repair, renovation or reconstruction. When you have the state get involved, when you forcibly do something, when you forcibly make compulsory certain rates, you make sure that you do not get repairs done, you do not get any new construction, you do not get any benefits for individuals living there.

"Yes, we have an affordable housing problem. Yes, we have a homeless problem. We've been talking about it for 20 years. All we've done is exasperated it. One of the reasons that people are homeless or are near homeless is because of the things that go on right in this big square building. We raise their taxes. We raise their fees. We make sure that it is unhealthy for them to continue living financially in an environment where we continue to raise all of the costs, including the cost of their gasoline, by the way, which I'm sure we'll address later as being the only state method to take care of this.

"The point here is that we have negotiations. We've got the time. We really should be talking about renovating, rehabilitating, repairing or reconstructing these units so that we give decent housing to individuals. And one man's idea of affordable is completely different from another's. We do know, however, that the cost of housing, the cost of rentals are going to be influenced by the cost of taxes, the cost of impact fees, the cost of development, the cost of everything that we require of anybody building or developing.

"The good Senator from Mililani didn't talk anything about relaxing restrictions on zoning, on fast tracking housing, on alternate means of housing, such as trailers and manufacturing housing – these things which we can do and should do to increase the supply of housing, because after all, that really is the solution. If we want a solution that is going to affect many more people and give them choices, then we must give them choices in the housing that we have.

"But of all the things that the speaker said, probably the most disturbing is that he is a very strong and consistent and unwavering advocate of the heavy hand of government and he used the term that the state by force of eminent domain or other force could take over the project. Here we are, trying to address that very situation where we take private property or privately developed property to give it to someone else who is favored. We're fighting that problem on the various neighbor islands, on this island right now. People are scared to death that first of all they're going to be taxed out of their property, or secondarily, the government which they used to depend on and we used to rely on for safety is going to take their property because it finds a higher or better or more economical use.

"So Mr. President, there are many bad reasons for this bill. We can pander to people and let them think that we're doing something in their name, but there's not even a cost figure here. We don't know how much we're going to force our taxpayers to pay for this. Right now it's one dollar. But it could be millions or tens of millions or more than that. And to go in without a plan and just say let's have the government do it, let's have the government run it, let's have the government condemn it is no plan whatsoever and really does not speak to the integrity of those who have build housing and stand ready to help in the affordable field in the homeless field and their only obstacles thus far have been the obstacles that we place in their way here in government.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3505 was adopted and H.B. No. 2239, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAND ACQUISITION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hogue).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3511 (H.B. No. 3077, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3511 be adopted and H.B. No. 3077, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure. Colleagues, this is the third time I’ve been given the opportunity to speak thusly.

“If we look at the committee report, if we look at the fourth paragraph concluding sentence, ‘Furthermore, Rosette Steel Hawaii products and technologies can also be exported to the neighboring islands and countries in the Pacific Rim.’ That’s impressive. I was impressed. I look forward to the first hearing that we had on the Senate version of the bill in Economic Development. I look forward to it because if done rightly, it really would have the potential for export.

“And so, when the principal of the firm came up, I asked him where the picture was, or he told me where the picture was that he was showing us. It was at Pier 1. Wow, I was impressed because Pier 1 is a foreign trade zone. It is authorized by the foreign trade zone board for this kind of activity. So, I asked the principal, I said, ‘Wow, can I see the picture a little bit better.’ And when he showed it to me, I said, ‘Well, this isn’t Pier 1 because there are vertical beams in the warehouse and there’s no such building like that at Pier 1.’ He said, ‘Oh, I’m sorry, it’s not really at Pier 1. It’s where I bought the plan from.’ And that kind of intrigued me a little bit and so I said, ‘Well, where are you planning to get your steel from?’ knowing that the two companies in Hawaii that import steel or have imported steel were Dole Pineapple and Maui Pineapple, both of which manufacture in a foreign trade zone. I wanted to see how much the guy really knew about antidumping and countervailing duty, because if he was serious he would have a dual operation – one making for domestic clients and using foreign steel for making for foreign clients. He didn’t know what the terms meant.

“I was concerned. I was concerned for a variety of reasons, one of the reasons is if he doesn’t know very much about steel or how steel is competitively priced in Hawaii, then why is he asking for authorization for bonds? Is he asking for authorization of bonds because he really intends to get the money or is he going through the process because having the Legislature approve his request gives his firm credibility and gives him the capacity to go out and raise private venture capital. I’m concerned about that. I’m concerned about it because we did not do our own due diligence in determining the capacity of this person to perform in an activity that we presume but are not certain are in the public interest. If this should be some kind of shell game, then I think that if we give approval then we run the risk of potentially being liable.

“So I ask you seriously to consider giving a ‘no’ vote to this bill until we understand more about it. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to the bill.

“Mr. President, the more information you find about the principal of this organization, the more troubling it is. After going through research information in just the last 24 hours, there are stories that appeared in the Pacific Business News of promises made and yet uncompleted, the Honolulu Advertiser, the Honolulu Star Bulletin. But there are things that were completed and that should be known to members.

“I don’t know where this bill came from. I don’t know who is supporting this. Normally, we have passed in the past special purpose revenue bonds because they were for a charitable or eleemosynary reason and there was very little debate, very little discussion. But we did look at some of the more technical bills like Chill Water and things of that nature to make sure who the principals were, what their capabilities were. Because as the good Senator from Waikiki and Downtown just mentioned, there has always been the issue and the discussion whether or not the state is liable should something go wrong.

“Up to this point, the questions and the issue of liability had to do with if the project failed would there be a financial liability here. Generally we believe that the answer to that is no, that there is no financial liability. But how about if the state puts its seal of approval on a project with an individual with a very interesting background that doesn’t have the experience and the ability to complete the project? And if we know about this beforehand, before voting and before authorizing, does that then change our level of liability? We can leave it for the lawyers but I would suggest that at best it makes a very strong case.

“What we do know about the principal – and as I say, I don’t know where the bill came from and who is the big supporter or supporters – but what we do know is that this principal has used several different names, several aliases. We do know that between November 1977 and December 8th of 2005, this individual was arrested seven times – mostly for DUIs and misdemeanors, criminal contempt – was convicted on all seven arrests. We also know that this individual was arrested in the Country of Ghana. Apparently, they didn’t like his business savvy or the contract or the promises that he made there. As was said, there was in open testimony a promise that this facility exists in a location where in fact it does not exist.

“So I would be very happy to have any members of the Senate, and particularly those who have supported this legislation, to correct me if I am in error or if the public records are in error. I’d be very happy to share this but I would suggest very strongly that having raised these issues about this individual and about the individual’s background and lack of experience and lack of completion, that we raise a real danger and a real red flag for our Legislature should we proceed.

“Again, I’ll be very happy to have anyone stand up and correct my statements or the record. Thank you, Mr. President.”

At 2:38 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 2:42 o’clock p.m.

By unanimous consent, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3511 and H.B. No. 3077, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS TO ASSIST ROSETTE STEEL HAWAII,” were recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3513 (H.B. No. 1923, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3513 be adopted and H.B. No. 1923, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, again I’m forced to vote ‘no’ on this bill only because it creates or allows the provision for the HTA to continue to hire outside attorneys outside of the state, outside of the attorney general. Well they have that permission now but they want complete authority to do it permanently. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3513 was adopted and H.B. No. 1923, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hooser).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3515 (H.B. No. 2678, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3515 be adopted and H.B. No. 2678, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, the term incurable is something you discover after the fact. You can't look forward and with any degree of real certainty know what you're talking about.

"This issue has to do with changing what the hoops that the employee retirement system and potential retirees have to go through if indeed there is somebody that has an incurable condition that is getting worse over time. Continually to revisit the employee retirement system to deal with one little issue at a time that does not have wide application is a misuse of this legislative process and I will continue to stand up and speak against measures such as this.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3515 was adopted and H.B. No. 2678, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hooser).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3516 (H.B. No. 1918, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3516 be adopted and H.B. No. 1918, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Ihara rose with reservations on the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I have reservations on H.B. No. 1918.

"This bill would implement a constitutional amendment, which I oppose as currently written. However, should the voters adopt this amendment, this bill would be needed. Besides my concerns raised on the constitutional amendment bill, my specific concern on this bill is that while the commission will recommend salary increases for leaders of all three branches, this bill would give the nominees of one branch, appointees of one branch a majority of the commission. Right now, the bill says that the Legislature appoints four members, the Governor two, and the judiciary one for a seven member commission. I believe no one branch of government should have a majority of appointees on a salary commission that affects all three branches. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3516 was adopted and H.B. No. 1918, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMISSION ON SALARIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3518 (H.B. No. 3118, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3518 be adopted and H.B. No. 3118, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this bill.

"Well, this is the granddaddy of them all. This is a bill that came from the House originally and according to the sponsor of the bill, quote, 'these new ideas will change the way business defines success, creating a public benefit that is far greater than government could ever achieve by itself,' unquote. The purpose here is to create, actually create responsible corporations that are created in the eye of government and that they will do what the government wants them to do.

"It's interesting that the testimony in support came from the Democratic Party of Maui, the Democratic Party of Oahu, and some organization name Moveon.org. I'm not familiar with them. I don't know if it's a transportation organization or what. Their whole concept here is that corporations need to be more responsible. They need to do more what certain people in government tell them that they should do. And if they do those things, those certain people in government will see that they are rewarded by paying less corporate income taxes. They really attack the profit motive because that's a bad thing and they say that, quote, 'it is ignoble servitude to merely pursue profit over conscience, morality, and the common good,' unquote.

"Now Mr. President, we both know there are some bad corporations just like unfortunately there are some bad Legislators. That's the way it is, the luck of the draw, but a corporation does have a social responsibility, and as the eminent Nobel Prize-winning economist Milton Friedman said years ago – that primary responsibility is to stay in business and make a profit because if they do, they provide a valuable service or good, they create jobs for individuals, they create choices for communities, they create income. If, however, they are of the Enron variety, then they should be prosecuted for violation of any law. But to believe that a government, particularly a state government, can create a responsible corporation, a responsible business corporation, from looking back at some of the trends within our state government, I think is really fooling ourselves and fooling the public.

"We can laugh at bills like this, as some have done, but I think really it gives us an insight into the minds of those people that don't trust business and they certainly don't trust profit because we are usually working in a profitless environment here. We're spending other people's money. We're spending their incomes. We're spending their lives for them. We don't care whether they really profit out of education or anything else. We don't hold anybody responsible, but yet we're willing to create the responsible business corporation act. And as the sponsor said, we could be the first in the nation to do this. Ah, yes, we could be – just like the first in the nation for the gas cap, first in the nation for the gross income general excise tax, first in the nation for a single statewide school district. None of these examples by the way, and prepaid healthcare act, none of these examples have been emulated or followed by any other state in the nation and none will be because they're half-baked.

“The sponsors say that by having this newly created government corporation that other businesses will flock to Hawaii, and those people that have morality and a social conscience will invest in those kinds of businesses. Well, guess what? Nobody is going to flock to us when we have a hostile business environment and a high tax burden. And those people that are socially conscience that want to invest in certain companies that do certain things and not invest in certain companies that don’t do those things, guess what? They’re free to do those right now, and many people do, and more power to them.

“But the idea that we can construct and create a responsible business corporation from the hands of many government officials who have never ever made a private payroll in their lives is ludicrous. So I think we should bury this legislation. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3518 was adopted and H.B. No. 3118, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CORPORATIONS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Kim).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3519 (H.B. No. 439, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3519 be adopted and H.B. No. 439, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“The ombudsman currently does not have access to your tax returns and the question should be why should the office of the ombudsman have access to your tax returns? We’re already so concerned about privacy and identity theft, as we should be. To distribute private financial information even more, increases that risk of more identity theft and more invasion of privacy. But more importantly, what’s the purpose? Why does the office of ombudsman need personal and business tax returns?

“The office of ombudsman, according to the HRS is to intervene and help one taxpayer navigate the problems and the zigs and the zags between governmental agencies when he or she finds a roadblock and does not get help. I don’t see the reason for this. I don’t see the need for it but I see a great deal of misuse and a great deal of danger. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3519 was adopted and H.B. No. 439, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF THE OMBUDSMAN,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Kim).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3520 (H.B. No. 487, H.D. 1, S.D. 3):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3520 be adopted and H.B. No. 487, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure. Thank you, colleagues, for the opportunity to talk about foreign trade zones twice in one afternoon.

“In the Hawaii Revised Statutes, the sections regarding the foreign trade zone is Chapter 212. Most of Chapter 212 was passed during the 1963 Legislative Session. However, in 1967 the section regarding the exemption from state taxes was included. It was included at that year so that perspective users of the foreign trade zone would have certainty over what was a taxable event or a nontaxable event from the viewpoint of the Department of Taxation.

“Many years later, the Hawaii Fueling Facility Corporation became a foreign trade zone because they were purchasing . . . I’m sorry, they weren’t purchasing, they were storing fuel for use by the 20 or so airlines that came to Honolulu International Airport, and most of the fuel was coming from two foreign trade subzones – Chevron and Hawaiian Independent Refinery. At that time and till today, at the airport there was a dual fueling system. One set of pipes carried bonded fuel or non-duty paid fuel for qualifying international flights. The second fuel system supplied domestic fuel.

“The reason that Hawaii Fueling Facility Corporation became a foreign trade zone was to avoid penalties by the US Customs Service if they inadvertently loaded foreign fuel on an airline that was flying a domestic flight. That was the sole reason. They did not become part of the foreign trade zone to exempt themselves or their users from state taxes. Those two points need to be clearly understood. In fact, Hawaii Fueling Facility when they applied for a foreign trade zone said in writing that they were applying for that foreign trade zone for the customs benefits and they were not seeking it to avoid the application of any state taxes.

“The US Customs Service and the federal government treats international flights differently than flights from here to the mainland, differently than flights from here to the neighbor islands. The bill is wrong when it says that it is seeking comparability to that of the flights to the US mainland. What they are seeking to do is to have special treatment in the transportation of people and goods interisland – treatment that is not similarly afforded to Matson or Young Brothers Barge. It is for this non-level playing field that makes me rise and speak against the bill.

“Those that know me know that I support the repealing of tax pyramiding. I support the elimination of business to business taxes, but let’s do it across the board, equally, fairly to everyone at the same time, not allowing the elimination at the Hawaii Tourism Authority earlier today and then allowing it again for only domestic flights interisland and not on ocean cargo. Thank you.”

Senator Inouye rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I speak in support of H.B. No. 487, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3520.

“Again, I disagree with my colleague to my right. What we are saying is let our interisland carriers have parity. Sales of fuel sold from our FTZ zone for airlines for interstate commerce are already exempt from the state’s GET and use taxes. So this measure simply extends this exemption for airlines flying passengers interisland, therefore keeping them competitive.

“I ask my colleagues to please support this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in rebuttal and said:

"Mr. President, I stand in brief rebuttal.

"To my honored colleague to my left, they are not being taxed not because the fuel is coming from a foreign trade zone. They are not being taxed because the fuel is consumed outside the State of Hawaii over international waters. That is the defining characteristic and that is why we should treat interisland flights and interisland ocean cargo the same. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3520 was adopted and H.B. No. 487, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 2 (Kim, Nishihara).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3522 (H.B. No. 1033, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3522 be adopted and H.B. No. 1033, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Certainly I think we should do everything we can to help farmers, but this is not the way to do it. This bill would give a tax credit to those farmers that have to buy their water from the counties at a different price than they would have paid for water had the farmer had access to a state irrigation system. So, they don't have access and they're paying more, presumably, for a county system.

"All of us who watch television see commercials from the mainland – Kohl's, Olive Garden, Dominos Pizza. That's particularly nasty because at the bottom after they get you all excited about having the $3.00 pizzas, in .0004 type it says not available in Alaska or Hawaii. So, I guess my question should be, if this theory is good for farmers, then it should be good for everyone because if I have to go to Macy's or Ross and pay more than I would for Kohl's because we don't have a Kohl's here, or because I buy my pizza at a pizza place and it's not applicable because it's on the mainland, or there's something that's not here, do I in fact deserve a tax credit? And the answer clearly is no.

"If we want to solve the problem for the farmers, then we should look at expansion of the state irrigation system or we should look at something else that equalizes the cost. But to give a tax credit because it's not available doesn't seem to make any economic or fiscal sense. Thank you."

Senator Inouye rose and said:

"Mr. President, I will be abstaining from voting on this measure, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3522, H.B. No. 1033, S.D. 2. I feel I am in conflict as I will benefit from this irrigation income tax credit. My 10-acre farm in its entirety is in AG activity and this business is on my financial disclosure form. Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3522 was adopted and H.B. No. 1033, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INCOME TAX," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Abstained, 1 (Inouye). Excused, 2 (Kim, Nishihara).

At 3:00 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:00 o'clock p.m.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3526 (H.B. No. 1862, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, could I offer brief remarks in opposition?"

"Colleagues, the reason why I'm opposed to this is that it provides for a new funding mechanism that are outside the calculation of the bond limits for the State of Hawaii and some people feel that this might lead to a deterioration of the state's bond rating and that would wind up costing us all a lot more money. Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3528 was adopted and H.B. No. 2182, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, if we pass this it will be a giant step backward. We can ignore for the moment that we had three such international agencies before in our short state history. We enacted them because we thought they were going to do some good. We had them for awhile then we did away with them. The first one was called the Hawaii International Services Agency. The other two I’ve forgotten. The current mayor used to be head of the equivalent office when it was attached to the Governor’s Office.

“The point is that in today’s society because of globalization, every section in DBEDT is doing business internationally – every agency. Hawaii Tourism Authority is doing business internationally. To create such an agency would be to ignore history and to step backwards in time. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3530 was adopted and H.B. No. 1889, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This bill ostensibly is to increase or expand or redefine autonomy for the University of Hawaii, which we passed several years ago. But it doesn’t do that. What it really does is penalize the university and now give autonomy to the Department of Education, which is out of control.

“The Department of Education had a very severe financial audit by Price Waterhouse last year. They have so many problems that need to be addressed. The answer is not to give them more autonomy. The answer is to give them more scrutiny and not to give them anymore money. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3535 was adopted and H.B. No. 1866, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose with reservations on the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I stand to express reservations.

“Colleagues, this measure when you think about it, I want you to think about it in two respects. It has to do with emergency shelters that are capable of withstanding a 500-year hurricane event. Because we’re an island surrounded by water, it is equally appropriate that in the consideration of the safety and ability of the shelter to withstand the forces of nature, we also include consideration for a 500-year tsunami event.

“The second thing that I’d like to get across is the safest place for our residents should be where they are currently living. With an appropriate land use policy we would not be putting residents in harm’s way so that they wouldn’t need to be evacuated for an emergency shelter. So, I think we need to think in terms of both considering tsunamis and making sure through appropriate land use policy that the least number of people would have to be evacuated. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3536 was adopted and H.B. No. 2183, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY SHELTERS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kim).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3538 (H.B. No. 2176, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3538 be adopted and H.B. No. 2176, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I am rising in opposition to this measure because it contains two tax credits. One of them deals with low income home buyers. My suggestion is that if we really want to make it easier for people that are in the lower income group and not do it this little section and that little section at a time, we would approach it holistically by raising the standard deduction and the personal exemption to the same level used by the federal government. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3538 was adopted and H.B. No. 2176, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 1 (Kim).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3539 (H.B. No. 3115, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3539 be adopted and H.B. No. 3115, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, here we are at the end of the Session and gee, it’s only 3:10.

“Well, what can we say about this bad, rotten bill? I guess what we can say is it’s a fake, fake, fake! It doesn’t help the consumers. It doesn’t help the public. And guess what – people actually believe that this bill suspends the rotten gas cap, but it does not. We know that. We know that to be a fact.

“What it says in the purpose clause in the committee report is the purpose is to provide Hawaii’s gasoline consumers with fair market related gasoline prices in a local oligopolistic petroleum industry. It doesn’t say anything about reducing prices because that was never the intent of the gas cap. The gas cap was to manipulate prices and that’s what we’ve done. Everybody was rushing to get their gas yesterday because prices went up 14 cents a gallon again. We’re over $3.00 and it will continue to go up.

“No matter how many times the supporters of this failed legislation try to call our attention through letters to the editor that it really is working – it really is, it really is – they can’t fool the public. The public knows they’ve been taken to the cleaners. The public knows that our prices are artificially high because of this only state in the nation legislation, and tinkering with it now, which is all this bill does, is not going to fix that.

“What we needed to do was what the House had the guts to do and that is to say ‘hey, we made a mistake, suspend this bill.’ But no, we don’t do that over in the Senate. Instead we’re going to plaster stuff all over it. We’re going to have new calculations. We’re going to add Singapore, maybe that means that some of us in the Senate, well probably not the Minority, but some of us will get to take trips to Singapore to see how the gasoline petroleum industry works there.

“What we do know is it’s not going to solve our problem. What we do know is it is an abomination and it is a slap in the face of the industry and of private enterprise and no matter what we hear from congressional wannabes about how great this particular bill is, they can’t fool the public and the public knows this is a bad anti-consumer, high cost, bill. We should bury it now. We should listen to our counterparts across the hall and suspend or repeal this bad legislation.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Menor rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in strong support of this measure.

“Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to support this measure because it really is a fair reasonable and balanced pro-consumer measure that addresses the concerns of many of my fellow colleagues about our existing gas pricing law.

“The previous speaker, as is also true with other critics of this measure, continue to spread misinformation and they’ve done so out of their zeal to continue to defend and champion the oil companies. They’ve done a good job in misleading the public into believing that our gas pricing regulation has enabled the oil companies to set prices higher than they would have been if we did not have gas pricing regulations in effect. The critics keep spreading this misinformation notwithstanding the fact that past pricing data clearly demonstrate that gas prices in Hawaii would be going up even without pricing regulation in effect because Hawaii is a part of a national market where prices have been increasing and prior to the implementation of our gas pricing law, Hawaii prices always, always tracked mainland price increases.

“Mr. President, this campaign of misinformation provides another important reason why we need to pass this bill because the amendments that are contained in this bill will put the critics of our gas pricing law, including the previous speaker, along with the oil companies, gasoline wholesalers and their hired as well as their elected spokespersons to the test. These critics have blamed again the price ceiling for high gasoline prices and they have repeatedly stated that prices would be lower and more competitive if we did not have gas pricing regulation in place. My response is, okay, let’s see if the oil companies and wholesalers lower prices after we suspend the gas pricing ceiling and allow them greater freedom. On the other hand, if the oil companies and wholesalers set gas prices consistently above the price ceiling after it has been suspended, this pricing practice would support the contention of those who support our existing law that the oil industry will always strive to set prices at the highest levels in order to maximize profits and therefore that pricing regulation is needed to keep them in check for the protection of consumers.

“Mr. President, another important reason for this bill is that it will strengthen and improve the transparency provisions of the original House and administration’s bills. This will create a true and effective system of transparency that clearly establishes once and for all what the actual wholesale prices are and will allow consumers to compare them with what prices would have been with the price ceiling in place.

“The amendments will also ensure that public and elected officials will have all of the data they will need to effectively monitor the pricing schemes and anti-competitive practices of the oil industry. This represents a significant improvement over the House and the administration’s proposals that fall far short of true transparency. Under their proposals, all the information and data reported by the industry to the PUC is considered confidential trade secrets. Anyone at the PUC that actually allowed the public, the Legislature, the media, or any other party to see any of the information or data reported by the companies would face a loss of job and criminal prosecution.

“I believe that a major goal of transparency is to raise the curtain of secrecy around the industry pricing practices to create a deterrent to price fixing and other anti-competitive practices and this measure accomplishes this objective.

“Another key provision will allow the Governor greater discretion in suspending the fair price indicator if the administration finds that the triggering of the indicator will cause a negative impact on the economy, public order, or the health, welfare, or safety of the people of Hawaii, and not only in those instances where the Governor finds, under existing law, that the price ceiling would result in major adverse impacts. In this regard, Mr. President, the administration will have all the latitude that they will need to be able to take action if they feel that the law is detrimental to the public and will no longer play politics where on the one hand they criticize our law and on the other hand fail to take concrete and specific action to address their particular concerns.

“And finally, in regards to the previous speaker’s criticism that this is not a true suspension of the gas pricing regulation, I’d like to point out that this criticism indicates that the previous speaker has not read the bill carefully. Unlike our current law, which establishes a maximum pricing ceiling beyond which the oil companies would not be able to raise prices, this law will allow the oil companies to set prices as high or as low as they want. Pricing regulation would only be reinstated only if prices exceeded the fair price indicator for two consecutive weeks after which the oil companies would be required to lower their prices. Mr. President, what’s wrong with that? Are the critics from across the aisle saying that the oil companies need to be given even greater freedom to price gauge consumers indefinitely? If they are, then I think that they need to take the time to reflect upon their responsibilities to the general public instead of to the oil companies.

“And finally, as I state earlier, the implementation of the provisions of this bill will put the oil companies to the test. Since the critics have contended gas prices will be lower without a gas cap, then they should have nothing to worry about that gas prices will rise above the fair price indicator.

“Mr. President, I believe again that this is a fair, balanced, and reasonable measure that’s designed to address the concerns of many of my colleagues, especially those in the House, and accordingly, I would respectfully request this Body to vote in favor of this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Taniguchi rose with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like to just note my reservations based on concerns raised by the owner of the service station I go to that were raised after the bill had passed out of my Committee. However, I’m confident that the Chair of CPH will attempt to address these concerns in Conference and that’s why I’m just noting my reservations.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

“I heard a lot of interesting spin on this issue and from what I hear, the critics of this bill are the consumers of the State of Hawaii. What’s really fortunate about this legislation is we have a long history of previous legislation that speaks to the issue and to the author of the previous legislation. Four years ago we got a retail price cap. I remember hearing on the Floor the same rhetoric about being pro-consumer and the critics and the big bad oil companies and this was going to save the consumers money. Well, lies were sent out at election time about the gas cap and about the vote and about the people involved in it politically, and lies were sent out about people that weren’t even involved, by the way. But guess what, the record will show that the previous speaker from Mililani had to reverse himself because he was wrong. The legislation was wrong and it was rescinded.

“Two years ago, we passed what we’re dealing with now and the previous speaker from Mililani rose and gave us the same spin he gave us four years ago about how wonderful the gas cap would be and would fight the big bad oil companies who are exploiting the market and the consumers would all say hooray. Well, the critics remain the same. The critics are not just the Minority Party, they’re the consumers of the State of Hawaii. If you want to talk about price fixing, the price fixing is going on by government. That’s who’s fixing the price, and the consumers that I talk to, my constituents and constituents around this state, have spoken loud and clear about it that this legislation stinks. And now what we’re getting is a new spin. We’re going to get a quote, unquote, ‘repeal that’s really not a repeal’ unless certain thresholds are met and those thresholds have to do with the prices beyond our control in other markets. Once again, price fixing.

“But I would offer to my colleagues this suggestion, that you ignore what I say and you ignore what the proponent of this bill says and claims, and look at the record – look at the record of previous legislation, look at the record of who the critics are of this legislation, and more importantly, look at what the people in the marketplace that are suffering under this legislation have to say about it. If you vote on those considerations, you will surely vote ‘no.’ Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3539 was adopted and H.B. No. 3115, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PETROLEUM INDUSTRY,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Kim).

THIRD READING

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Hanabusa).

H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 3:

Senator Fukunaga moved that H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“This bill was amended to include the so-called streamlining tax provisions. I spoke against this last year and I spoke against it earlier this year. This is a backdoor approach at taxing on the internet. Actually, the bill has been argued that it is just a way of catching those taxpayers who have not paid their use tax. I would refer the following to our members, the US Supreme Court case Quill vs. North Dakota. That case has ruled that requiring remote sellers to collect a sales tax is an undue burden on state commerce, and unless that is overturned, the state cannot require sellers to collect its sales tax unless they are physically located in the state.

“The real target of this legislation is to get at those businesses that are doing business on the internet. It’s an additional tax burden. It would not result in additional tax collections because of the vaunted 19 states in the compact last year. Many of them have read the same Supreme Court decision that I have. Many of them have also looked at the practicality of requiring another state to collect their taxes and remit them particularly from the interstate as we’ve seen a great deal of interest, and I would suggest that most people in this room today are buying off the internet.

“So, it’s a sneaky way and an untrue way of adding yet another tax. Thank you.”

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 3.

“In response to the prior speaker, the states across the country that are participating in this voluntary streamlined sales and use tax effort seek to demonstrate that they are able to put together an agreement which would provide voluntary compliance on the part of out-of-state sellers (who are willing to remit the use tax that is currently due and owing upon out-of-state sales, whether they are purchased through catalogs, whether they’re purchased over the internet, or whether they’re purchased by telephone). This bill is simply a way of keeping the issue alive so that we can further discuss it, as we discuss the Tax Department’s upgrades to its ITIMS System.

“I urge my colleagues to vote in support of this measure.”

Senator Slom rose and said:

“Mr. President, Roll Call vote, please.”

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” having been read throughout, and Roll Call vote having been requested, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom). Excused, 1 (Hanabusa).

H.B. No. 1935, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

ASSOCIATIONS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Hanabusa).

ADVISE AND CONSENT

MATTER DEFERRED FROM TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 2006

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3238 (Gov. Msg. No. 313):

Senator Inouye rose in support of the nominee as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in strong support of Gov. Msg. No. 313, the nomination of Mr. Aaron S. Fujioka to the position of state procurement administrator.

“The Committee on Transportation and Government Operations voted to advise and consent to his nomination on March 30th. Mr. President and colleagues, I racked my brains all night trying to think of something funny to say about Mr. Fujioka, but he’s so serious, I couldn’t think of anything so I’ll just stick to the serious this time.

“Aaron has over 20 years of experience in public procurement, contracts management, and planning and program development. Since 2001, he has been serving as the administrator and chief procurement officer of the state procurement office of DAGS with a seven-month break in service to serve as special advisor to the Department of Community Services for Honolulu. Prior to working with DAGS, Mr. Fujioka worked in the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations. He received his Master’s and Bachelor’s degrees from the University of Hawaii at Manoa.

“Mr. Fujioka received over 20 letters of recommendation from associates and colleagues, including Mr. Russ Saito, comptroller of DAGS, who wrote of Mr. Fujioka’s integrity. He described Mr. Fujioka as professional, forthright, and fair. Mr. Anthony Ching, or Tony Ching as we know him, the executive officer of the Land Use Commission, wrote that Mr. Fujioka displayed an encyclopedia-like knowledge of procurement regulations and programs.

“I am fully confident that Aaron Fujioka has the qualifications, experience, and character for this position and I urge my colleagues to support his nomination. Thank you, Mr. President and colleagues.”

FINAL READING

S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2:

Senator Kanno moved that S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Hee then moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 13, 2006, in agreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Kanno rose in opposition to the motion and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the motion.

"Mr. President, this bill started out as a measure to help employers by lowering the wage base for the unemployment insurance. The bill came in at a large price tag that would deplete the unemployment insurance fund and what we have before us is a measure that is really a balanced measure. It provides employers $55 million in savings.

"At the same time, there are provisions in the measure that also takes into account the hard work of our employees and has provisions in there that help employees as well. For example, I'd like to speak about the kind of impact this would have on employers. There were four sample companies provided to us by the Department of Labor. One company they term as a medium-sized employer with approximately 150 employees, under the current law their annual price for unemployment insurance is $153,000 and under this bill they would recognize 70 percent in savings. There would be a tax reduction of $107,000. For a large employer, this example company has about 1,500 employees, the savings was 12 percent. For another medium employer with about 100 employees, the savings was 25 percent. And what they termed a small business with approximately 15 employees, the savings was 43 percent in their cost. In that company, the cost for the year was $3,000 and their savings represents $1,500. In total, the savings to employers is approximately $55 million.

"The bill addresses a number of provisions to help employees. The House made two amendments on the bill which I think made the bill better. One is that it lowers the wage base from $10,000 to $7,000, which was the original request from the administration, which we are now agreeing to. In the second item, it deleted the provision that would increase benefits to 90 percent in the year 2012.

"Mr. President, I think this is an excellent opportunity for us to help employers by realizing $55 million in savings, at the same time addressing a number of employee benefits, one of which is the length of time that somebody can receive unemployment benefits is being raised from 26 weeks to 30 weeks. I think as we've seen with certain situations happening with Del Monte employees and employees at the Nani Loa Hotel in Hilo, this provision may benefit some of these workers. However, if you consider that the average time that somebody is on unemployment, currently it's approximately 14 weeks, that provision may not actually come into play in many situations because of the strong employment market out there right now.

"Another provision recognizes that employee's work a number of part-time jobs, and if somebody may have been let go from one of their part-time jobs it addresses their benefits and helps them in that situation. It also adjusts the benefit level from 70 to 80 percent for all working people.

"There has been some concern about the provision on willful and wanton. Basically, the bill clarifies in the law certain people who would be disqualified from receiving unemployment benefits – those who create the most egregious acts that can be clarified as willful or wanton – so those individuals would be automatically disqualified. And for the other employees what's implemented is a case-by-case basis where an individual situation is reviewed and it's determined whether somebody receives unemployment insurance.

"Now, why that provision is in the bill is because there was a Supreme Court ruling in 2005 that came down to a three-to-two vote. Two of the Justices said exactly what we're saying in this bill, that there should be a clearer set aside for willful or wanton misconduct and there should be a process to review everyone on a case-by-case basis. Prior to 2005 this is the way that the law was implemented in our state. Basically, by putting it in the law here, we're going back to what has been in place up through the Supreme Court ruling in 2005.

"Members, I think the bill crafts a fair balance between something that helps employers with $55 million in savings. All of these businesses represent savings to employers and at the same time looking at changes in the law to help employees at the same time. There is a delicate balance between management and workers and we feel that we've found a good balance between those two. Historically, back in 1992 before I was here, the Legislature did a similar measure where they implemented savings for employers and at the same time they implemented permanent benefit changes that helped employees. That took us to where the benefit levels are today and, really, benefit levels have not been changed since in the past 14 years.

"Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to vote 'no' on this motion. I think that we have a strong bill at this point and I'd like to request a Roll Call vote. Thank you."

Senator Hee rose in support of the motion and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the motion to reconsider. Before doing so, I want to thank the previous speaker for his hard work in crafting a bill which he has characterized as an excellent opportunity and trying to walk a very delicate balance.

"I want to note that all of what the previous speaker has said, in fact, is not at risk with the vote, that in fact there is a substantial majority of the Majority who have asked for more time to examine and reexamine the delicate balance the previous speaker has referred to. Personally, I agree that the savings is substantial to employers, although one of my colleagues has indicated that the savings is for one year only.

"There has been some concern in the Caucus with regard to willful and wanton, which one of my colleagues has characterized as forever and ever. In light of that, it is prudent, in my opinion, to not rush to judgment when there is still time, that in fact by agreeing to the motion to reconsider it gives all members of the Majority and the Minority time to examine and reexamine this bill yet another time and still preserve the remarks of the previous speaker because this motion does not seek anything more than an opportunity to continue the dialogue.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose in support of the motion and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the motion. I would be derelict if I didn't make a couple of comments about this bill and things for you to think about for your consideration.

"The previous speaker did mention a couple things that I think need to be underlined – one is that these benefits are for one year only, one calendar year, for the employers, whereas the increased number of weeks from 26 to 30, the increased dollar amount of benefits, the willful and wanton definition, whatever that might be, would be permanent in the law and would seek to do what was not done in the Supreme Court. Employers in fact want, seek, and need a reduction in unemployment compensation tax payments because Hawaii is one of the highest UI taxed states in the nation. The $7,000 figure happens to be the federal figure and many states use that figure, some states are below it, some states are above it. No state to my knowledge, however, uses the formula that Hawaii uses, which is the average wage which increases every year and which is now above $34,000.

"The other thing to consider is I know there will be savings to the employer for one year only which will then be offset and mitigated by increased costs. I'm not sure where that $55 million figure actually came from and I would like to see the breakdown and the analysis of it. There was no analysis of what the additional cost would be for 2007 and beyond.

"We also note something else that wasn't discussed and that is the size of the unemployment compensation reserve fund. It's over $457 million at present, more than adequate to take care of any emergencies that we've ever had or that we can contemplate, but again, Hawaii continues to enjoy the lowest unemployment rate in the nation for I think it's now seven straight months, and I think that's important.

"The thing, though, that also concerns me is that when I hear some of my colleagues talking about the need for fair and balanced unemployment compensation tax, many of my colleagues understand unemployment compensation as a tax not a contribution as it says in the text. I've never made a contribution to unemployment compensation taxes in my life, just like I've never made a contribution to social security. It is a tax. It is required. If I don't pay it I can suffer severe penalty. But what I have to always remind many of my colleagues and people on the outside, including the Congressman from the first congressional district right now, is that no employee ever pays a cent into unemployment compensation tax. It is a tax levied solely on employers. The only beneficiaries are employees. They do not pay. They do not contribute. They do not share. Only employers pay the tax.

"So if we're talking about fair and balanced, then the fairness and the balance and the equity should be with the employers who pay the tax. But we're all just talking about, well we can't do anything for the employers unless we do something for the employees. First of all, we do a lot for the employees, they have jobs. Secondly, we have the most liberal unemployment compensation benefits schedule in the nation. Thirdly, we have seen that we have had recent additions to the law that makes it even easier for employees to be taken care of, particularly when we added another tax on top of the unemployment tax called the employment and training tax. Every employer, again, pays that tax solely – not one employee pays one cent into unemployment compensation.

“So, if we’re talking about fairness and we’re talking about balance, the right thing to do is to make permanent a reduction, whether it’s to $7,000 or $10,000, whatever the figure should be, to make it permanent so that people can understand and balance that with their financial needs and costs, and secondly, to allow the generous unemployment compensation benefits that we have right now.

“The addition of the language willful and wanton will create additional problems. They will be good for lawyers because they’ll be able to fight it out and everybody will disagree as to what constitutes a willful and wanton act. We don’t know, however, that that raises the bar. It raises the benchmark from misconduct, which is generally and easily descenderable particularly with employer groups that have employee handbooks where they specify what that conduct would be. But willful and wanton, that’s a whole new breed.

“So I urge my colleagues to support this amendment and I do listen to the words of the previous speaker. It does give us time to talk about it more because businesses are seeking balance and a reduction in these taxes and maybe there’s a way that we can do both certainly without harming employees because that is not the intent nor would that be the result of reducing the taxes on employers.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

At 12:39 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:40 o’clock p.m.

Senator Kanno rose in rebuttal and said:

“Mr. President, if I could just rebut one of the previous speakers.

“The timeframe of the savings for employers under this bill is from January through December of the year 2007, and I think the original request from the administration was two years of savings. I wanted to clarify why it was reduced to one year. There is some concern about the balance of the fund and there was a period in the not-too-distant past in 1995 where the fund balance was of serious concern. My point being that if the members saw fit to, they could return in the 2007 Session and continue the savings for a second year depending on how the fund balances at that point. But that explains why we’re providing it for one year at this time to exercise some caution and concern. Following Hurricane Katrina I think we could see what kind of immediate impact the fund could be counted on for providing benefits that we want to be prepared for.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Twenty-Third Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2006, was called to order at 10:04 o'clock a.m. by the Honorable Calvin Say, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Speaker Say then stated:

"This is indeed a momentous occasion – a first of its kind – called to honor members of the Hawaii National Guard, the United States Military Reserves, and members of the Regular Armed Forces of the United States, with ties to Hawaii, who fought and died bravely in a combat zone designated by Presidential Order.

"On behalf of the Senate President and all of the members of the Hawaii State Legislature, I convey our deepest condolences to our very special guests – the family, friends and colleagues of loved ones who have lost their lives overseas in the Middle East. Our prayers are with you, and we are honored by your presence today."

At this time, the members of the Twenty-Third Legislature and special guests rose for the Posting of the Colors by the Joint Service Color Guard and the Hawaii Air National Guard, Royal Guard.

The members of the Legislature and guests remained standing for the singing of the National Anthem and "Hawaii Pono'i" by Ms. Traci Toguchi.

The Divine Blessing was then invoked by Mr. Ray Ganotise.

At this time, the Speaker thanked the Joint Service Color Guard, Royal Guard, Ms. Traci Toguchi, and Mr. Ray Ganotise for their participation in today's ceremony.

The Speaker then addressed the members of the Legislature and guests as follows:

"Today is a day where we have put aside our political and philosophical differences, to come together as one Body, to honor these brave men and women. Our Nation – the whole world – has been wounded deeply by the destruction caused by the enemies of peace, freedom and human rights. As Americans, we are a strong people – united in our resolve, respectful of our differences, taking strength from our diversity and richness of cultures.

"As Americans, we will not allow our resolve to waiver in the wake of the loss of our loved ones. Although their premature demise is very painful, and at times almost incomprehensible, take comfort in knowing that our Hawaii warriors were well-trained, and battle ready. They understood the risks, and yet they proudly wore their battle fatigues, carried our Nation's flag, and courageously departed and set their course into a hell called war.

"While I did not personally know any of the warriors being honored today – as a father of two young men – if I were seated in this Chamber among you, instead of standing here at this podium, I know my sadness would be tempered by pride. I would be proud to the core of my soul that my loved one sacrificed his life or her life to allow the rest of us surviving to live in a democracy, unfettered by fear.

"In the end, what matters most is that each fallen warrior made a difference. They gave us the greatest gift of all – freedom . . . freedom to enjoy everyday pleasures – watching the sunset, listening to the familiar ebb and flow of the ocean, smelling the plumeria blossoms in full bloom . . . and knowing that tomorrow will be yet another beautiful day in paradise.

"Before proceeding any further, I would like to acknowledge the presence of certain individuals on the Chamber Floor."

At this time, the Speaker welcomed and introduced the following distinguished guests to the members of the Twenty-Third Legislature:

The Honorable Linda Lingle, Governor of Hawaii;

The Honorable James R. Aiona, Jr., Lieutenant Governor of Hawaii;

The Honorable Daniel K. Akaka, United States Senate;

The Honorable Ed Case, United States House of Representatives;

Admiral Gary Roughhead, U.S. Pacific Fleet, and Mrs. Ellen Roughhead;

Lieutenant General Daniel P. Leaf, U.S. Pacific Command;

Lieutenant General John M. Brown, U.S. Army Pacific, and Mrs. Elaine Brown;

Lieutenant General John Goodman, U.S. Marine Corps, Pacific Forces, and Mrs. Gayle Goodman; and

Major General Robert G.F. Lee, Hawaii State Department of Defense.

The Speaker noted:

“Madame Clerk, please note for the record the receipt of correspondence from Hawaii’s Senior Senator, the Honorable Daniel K. Inouye, noting: ‘Uncommon courage, devotion to duty, love of our country, and the ultimate sacrifice of the 120 Hawaii Medal of Honor recipients.’”

At this time, the Speaker presented to the members of the Twenty-Third Legislature and special guests the Honorable Linda Lingle, Governor of the State of Hawaii.

The Governor addressed the Joint Session and guests as follows:

“Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, members of the Legislature, General Lee, families of our heroes, veterans, members of the Armed Services:

“It’s for a very sad but noble purpose that we’re gathered here today. I want to thank all those in the Legislature who took the time to plan to carry out this event. It’s an appropriate event for Hawaii because it doesn’t just recognize those who were born and raised in Hawaii, or those who grew up here, or those who went to school here, but everyone who was touched and who touched Hawaii. Those who were stationed here from all parts of the country, all are included today in our ohana, and it’s important to pause today to remember all of them.

“I didn’t know any of the heroes personally, but I’ve come to know many of the families by attending various funerals and services throughout this war on terror. I remember sitting with a mother of a young soldier, a soldier who had been so close to her church that she left her life insurance policy to the church, young woman who wanted to be a nun. She had come here from the Philippines as a youngster and had gone to high school here. I remember sitting with the wives of the Marines and the one Navy man who was shot down in Afghanistan. I sat with them and with their infant children in their small modest military housing and watched them deal with their lives, with their children who would never know their fathers, and I hoped that the children would one day appreciate the sacrifice that their father had made and that their mother made for our country.

“I especially remember sitting with the family of one of our National Guardsman from Hawaii and sitting in their modest home and listening to them talk about their beloved son, not only the parents, but his brother and his grandparents who had raised him from a small boy. He was the apple of their eye.

“It’s not an easy thing to sacrifice the way you have for our country. So we pause today to spend a few minutes to let you know how appreciative we are, although we can never, never take away the pain that you feel. In our small way, we want you to know that we will always remember your loved one as a member of the ohana here in Hawaii.

“I remember a day, General Goodman, when we were out in Kaneohe. And I’m not certain you remember our conversation, but it stuck with me since that day and I carry it with me today as an embodiment of what we were talking about. It was another funeral, another memorial service and there were four marine families there that day from all parts of America who had come to Kaneohe to participate in a memorial service. And although I didn’t know any of the Marines – they didn’t go to school here, they didn’t grow up here – but I wanted their parents to know how much the people of Hawaii appreciated their sacrifice on our behalf so that we could gather in freedom the way we are today.

“One of the speakers that day was so eloquent. I don’t remember if he was a colonel or what his rank was exactly, but his remarks touched me so deeply that I went up to General Goodman afterwards and I commented to him about how touching and poignant the remarks were. General Goodman said to me that day, ‘after Vietnam,’ of which he is a veteran of, he said, ‘In Vietnam, we went over as a bunch of individuals; we came home as a bunch of individuals.’ And we all know, those of us of a certain age, know how they were greeted when they came home and most of us were ashamed by it today. But General Goodman said to me that day that ‘after Vietnam,’ he said, ‘we promised ourselves that we would never again let that happen in America – that we would go together; we would come home together; and we would honor everyone who sacrificed for our country, for our freedom, for our way of life.’

“Today is an embodiment of that idea that they weren’t a bunch of individuals – they were great Americans who were part of our ohana here in Hawaii. We honor them. We thank the families for their sacrifice, knowing there’s nothing we can do that’s going to take away the pain and the emptiness that you feel, but we still want to make this attempt to let you know how deeply we appreciate what your son, your daughter, your husband, your auntie, your uncle, we want you to know we appreciate what they did for us as Americans so that our way of life could continue.”

The Speaker thanked the Governor for her remarks then called upon Major General Robert Lee to address the members of the Legislature and guests.

General Lee addressed the Joint Session and guests as follows:

“Good morning and aloha.

“We are a nation blessed with the finest military in all of human history. We have been blessed by great minds with great strength and determination that enables the United States of America to be the world’s leader and liberator of oppressed people. To become the world’s finest military, we have trained our forces better and harder than any other nation, and our forces are better equipped than any other nation.

“We are faced with difficult and challenging training, long separations from our families and loved ones, and we are challenged with great responsibilities and commitment. But in our profession of arms, there is nothing more difficult than losing one of our own. However, that degree of difficulty cannot be compared to the anguish suffered by family members who lose a loved one on the field of battle, this time in Afghanistan and Iraq.

"We can only imagine the pain of losing a son or daughter, husband or wife, father or mother while they served our nation in harm's way. This pain can be only lessened over time . . . if at all. We cannot truly feel their pain, nor can we, in any way, make up for that loss.

"As President Ronald Regan so eloquently stated, 'our young friends, who in our hearts you'll always be young, full of the love that is youth, love of life, love of joy, love of country.' You fought for your country for its safety and for the freedom of others with strength and courage. We honor you today.

"The State Medal of Honor is Hawaii's way in which we can remember that ultimate sacrifice to show our appreciation to the families and to assure them that they will always be part of this state's ohana. A circle of kalo or taro leaves is part of the Hawaii Medal of Honor. The word 'ohana' is derived from kalo and the circle is emblematic of the embrace of the people of Hawaii. Whether a fallen soldier, sailor, or marine grew up in Hawaii or were members of units based in Hawaii, he is still remembered and will always be a part of our ohana. The star in the coat of arms of the medal represents the 50th State star on the American flag and also represents today the person who is being honored. The star also evokes a symbol of America's past. During World Wars I and II, families that had a member of the armed forces would display a blue star on a banner or flag. If a service member from that family was killed in action, a gold star was often displayed in a window facing the street to let the neighborhood know that the life of a hero who had grown up there had been taken.

"Today, this medal is a token of gratitude from the State of Hawaii proclaiming to all that this is a family of a fallen hero. There is no greater sacrifice a family can make than the loss of their soldier, sailor, airman or marine while in service to our nation and there is no greater honor which we, the people of Hawaii, can bestow upon that family to symbolize their sacrifice.

"There is an attachment device at the middle of the red and yellow ribbon and it is a rendering of the ancient puela or flag. This ancient flag was raised at sea above the Hawaiian sailing canoes, and all who saw the puela from afar knew that a person of the highest rank or honor was coming. Today, this service ribbon and its attachment will remind us that these families are of the highest rank and honor.

"To paraphrase President Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg – when brave soldiers, sailors, airmen, and marines die, it is their deeds, not our words that are remembered. It is their sacrifice that offers everlasting testimony to a love for others and their love for us.

"To the families of our fallen heroes, I humbly ask that you accept this Hawaii Medal of Honor on behalf of the people of Hawaii who today and forever shall be your devoted ohana.

"May God bless all of you and may God continue to bless the United States of America."

The Speaker then stated:

"Thank you, General Lee, for your leadership.

"Madame Clerk, please begin the announcement of the Hawaii Medal of Honor recipients."

At this time, the House Clerk proceeded to read the names of the following individuals who were represented by family members, friends and colleagues to receive their medals and certificates:

“We honor and thank those countless individuals who not only lost their loved ones, but who also surrendered special dreams and hopes for the future.

“A grateful state and nation best honors and remembers the sacrifices of these soldiers by living our lives in deepest appreciation of our freedom. That is what they defended. That is what they fought and died for.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 19, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 3008

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 3008, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Work Projects.'

This bill is objectionable because it would require the State to cite a contractor for each individual construction project for which work is performed, no matter how minor the infraction and whether the violation was committed knowingly or not. If violations were discovered in one investigation involving multiple construction projects, the contractor would receive multiple citations.

Upon the receipt of a third violation, a contractor would be precluded from performing any new public work construction for a three-year period. Considering the complexity of the law and the difficulties it poses for a contractor to successfully navigate, this result is too harsh. This rigid violation structure fails to take into account the severity of the violations found and the willfulness of the contractor in committing the violation.

The mandatory, progressive penalty structure in current law allows firms to correct errors as soon as they are identified and ensures that the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations is able to work with affected contractors to provide fair wages pursuant to the wage schedules, benefit formula and applicable overtime rules in place.

The changing of the manner of issuing violations from one based on investigations to one based on projects will likely result in potential litigation. Further, the number of firms bidding on and accepting State and county projects is likely to diminish if the rigid penalty structure imposed by this bill is enacted.

Diminishing the number of firms that can bid on State and county projects, and passing measures that further discourage qualified firms from bidding, will inevitably result in higher costs for public works projects. This will adversely impact the State's ability to fund and execute construction and repair of schools, highways, parks, harbors, and the entire spectrum of public facilities operated by the State of Hawaii. It will also negatively impact the ability of the counties to repair and rebuild our sewer systems, upgrade wastewater treatment plants, expand police and fire facilities and similar local government structures.

To avoid the adverse effects on government contracting and critical public works projects that would likely occur, the finding of a violation should continue to be based on the investigation conducted rather than on individual projects as contemplated by this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 3008 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,"

was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 523, letter dated April 13, 2006, in accordance with Section 9, Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, amending her March 17, 2006, request for immediate consideration and passage of H.B. No. 970 to incorporate additional emergency funding totaling $3,169,257 in general funds, $29,300,000 in state highway special funds, and $17,450,000 in general obligation bond funds, and a reduction of $2,700,000 in federal funds for the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Land and Natural Resources, and the Department of Transportation, was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 524, letter dated April 18, 2006, requesting to amend S.B. No. 2339, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, to add emergency funding in the amount of $2,356,497 in general funds to pay for Hawaii National Guard helicopter medical transport services, was placed on file.

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kanno).

S.B. No. 2166, S.D. 2, H.D. 3:

Senator Chun Oakland moved that S.B. No. 2166, S.D. 2, H.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in very strong opposition to this bill.

"This bill started out as bill that was going to help take care of minors, help them with their medical needs and so forth, but again what we've seen during this Session, Mr. President, is this becomes an expansion of the abortion tourism movement. The whole purpose of the amendments to this bill in the present condition right now is to add abortion and take away the requirement for a physician, a medical doctor and allowing instead a licensed health provider or care practitioner.

"You know, we had a lot of discussion a couple years ago on the bill about age of consent. This Legislature passed the bill unanimously. The Governor at that time then vetoed the bill, and for the first time, a Democrat Governor's veto was overturned by this Legislature because the community and this Legislature felt so strongly about age of consent and particularly moving it from 14 to 16.

"In this bill we are now moving backwards and we're saying that while we have an age of consent, as long as it comes to abortion, we can waive that age of consent. Further than that, we can waive parental notice. Further than that, we can make sure that the healthcare providers are put on notice that they can tap into the financial resources and insurance of the parents without the parents even knowing it. Further than that, we're saying that just in case any damage is done to the minor child that the parent never had an opportunity to discuss or to know about, too bad, how sad, that will be the parent and the child's responsibility for the rest of their lives.

"We just had a very heartwarming prayer to start off this Session and we talked about the keiki o ka aina. What is this bill saying, what is this Legislature saying to pass such a measure? We're not protecting the keiki and we're not protecting the keiki's keiki. Who in fact are we protecting? It seems to me the only people we're protecting are those that have a direct and financial interest in the abortion process, particularly groups like Planned Parenthood, who should be renamed Planned Abortionhood because that's their number one priority and agenda.

"If we were truly concerned about taking care of the problems that an underage child has in obtaining medical services, we could do that. But it is very clear, once again, that the sole focus and emphasis on this piece of legislation is to make abortion easier for more people and to cut out the parent's knowledge and responsibility.

"I find this totally despicable! Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to support the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to support this measure.

"It's unfortunate that the previous speaker is so focused on only one issue that he fails to recognize the real intent behind this bill. This bill is not to offer Planned Parenthood anymore business. It's not to focus on his limited agenda. Rather, it is to allow a minor who is not in the custody of an adult, is not under their supervision, is actually on their own to have access to appropriate and needed medical services.

"This language represented in the H.D. 3 that we are considering this morning is consensus language of people that deal with runaway youth, that deal with street youth. It's an attempt to try to address a very vulnerable segment in our population that without this will not have access to healthcare.

"It's a good bill. I urge my colleagues to vote in favor."

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I wish to rebut the previous speaker and put the truth on the table so that you can make an informed decision.

"This bill does not allegedly protect the rights of children that do not have parental supervision or care. This affects all minors, including, as I might mention, the good Senator from Hawaii Kai said we prayed for our children. This preempts our ability, our rights as parents to have a horrendous procedure done on our child without our knowledge.

"This bill is a travesty – a travesty! This isn't about women's choice. This is about children. These aren't women. It is absolutely ludicrous.

"This bill also codifies deceit. And if you look in Section 5, Subsection b, it says that the minor does not want the Medicare plan to disclose information regarding the claim to the spouse, parent, custodian or guardian, but they want the insurance company to pay for it. It goes on to say the plan may require that a request for confidential communication be made in writing and contain a statement that disclosure of all or part of the claim to which the request pertains could endanger the minor. In other words, the minor can solicit the care provider, who doesn't necessarily have to be a doctor, to aid them in deceiving parents through the healthcare insurer. What a wonderful message we're sending to the young people of Hawaii.

"I resent the fact that this is supposed to be addressing the needy kids in our society. Any child anywhere can utilize this. It is deceptive to say otherwise. This legislation affects all minors.

"The other point that needs to be made in asking you to please consider what you're doing here is that the bill is so ludicrous, if it was in fact designed to assist children who have no means of their own – the abused and the homeless – it goes on to say that the financial burden of procedures like this will be assumed by the minor. Give me a break.

"This is a sad, sad day when our state is so far off the Richter scale on the liberal left on this issue that we're allowing our children to deceive their parents or those responsible for them to get an abortion. I would suggest that we get a jolt of reality and do what is right and vote this bill down. This is bad public policy. The public has spoken out loud and clear about parental consent and this does just the opposite. Please, colleagues, defer this, save it, talk about it more, but don't pass it today.

"How can we as people that are supposed to be helping our citizens stand and listen to a prayer like we heard this morning and then pass this? I'm voting 'no,' Mr. President, and I urge that on this particular legislation we vote on the issue, not along party lines. This legislation deserves all of our consideration void of partisanship.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I speak in support of S.B. No. 2166, S.D. 2, H.D. 3.

"This particular measure had been discussed in the Senate. There were concerns as we moved it over to the House that it was not narrow enough for some of the service providers in terms of some of the procedures that were in our Senate draft. H.D. 3 reflects a consensus of all the organizations working with this. It includes the Waikiki Health Center, Hale Kipa,

Inc., Kaiser Permanente, Queen's Medical Center, Planned Parenthood, Hawaii Medical Association, Kapiolani Medical Center for Women, Hawaii Primary Care Association, Hawaii Youth Service Network, and representatives of the Micronesian community.

"The language that is before us is limiting. It allows medical care for only those youth who are mature enough as determined by the provider to provide informed consent. Treatment must be in the minor's best interest and the minor is also not under the care, control, or support of any responsible adult.

"Other features of the bill addresses the needs of the most vulnerable and needy youth – homeless, runaway, and unsupervised. It provides for only primary and preventive healthcare in an outpatient setting. The bill does not allow for the provision of secondary or specialty care, for example, elective cosmetic surgery. Treating at-risk minors immediately prevents chronic conditions from becoming acute. For example, untreated urinary tract infections result in kidney damage.

"Many states have adopted similar legislation based on the mature minor doctrine. Waikiki Health Center had provided primary healthcare to at-risk minors via Act 162 without any issue since 1989. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the measure as followed:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the measure.

"It's unfortunate that there are many good provisions, as the previous speaker had talked about, and there are many youth who will be helped by many good care providers. The sad thing, from my perspective, is perhaps the words it shall not include surgery or any treatment to induce abortion, words like that were stricken from what's in our statutes.

"I think many good things could have happened but as in other bills, sometimes there's a poison pill that gets put into the good pot of stew. Unfortunately, before abortion was widely available, as people know, there were procedures done by unqualified people in random places. This bill, along with the previous bill that we passed related to abortion, in my mind can slant the stainless steel table in the wrong direction to allow less healthful care to young women who really need good care. It previously allowed a physician to be in charge of such procedures. Now it's licensed healthcare provider, which means including nurses. I'm not sure who else that includes, if it's nurses' assistants and whatever.

"I think we've gone too far, at least in some parts of this bill, Mr. President, so I ask my colleagues to vote in opposition. Thank you."

Senator Whalen rose to oppose the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I also rise in opposition.

"I won't repeat the same points that the Senator from Moanalua just mentioned, but I do find it odd that on one hand we're talking about unsupervised kids and then in the last part where it talks about pain it talks about how the minor and or the provider doesn't disclose the information to the parent or guardian. Further down in the same section it talks about the minor can arrange for information to be given to them somewhere elsewhere, I suppose, like not my house, I'm at my girlfriend's house so send it over there. And although my dad's going to pay for this, don't let him know what's going on, you know, whatever the problem is.

"I understand the original purpose of amending this bill was to take care of the homeless, but once again in our effort to try to take care of a problem, we take out the shotgun and just start shooting. This law was intentionally done to enable minors to have abortions and sexually treatable or STDs, sexually transmitted diseases, to get those taken care of. What our good intention was is that we put that into this bill and it just opens up Pandora's box about what can be done because I don't think any one of us would want to have any child, especially our own, be able to go and get medical treatment for something that we're unaware of. We want to know. I think most parents like that. There are a few exceptions.

"But on the one hand this Legislature moves from a 14-year-old can't watch someone like their younger brother in the car, to helmets for minors on mopeds, to you're not smart enough to know when you should or should not be riding in the back of a truck, and we're saying now that as long as you can make the doctor believe that you're unsupervised, you can get whatever treatment you want. I'm not talking about breast implants or tattoos, but whatever kind of treatment that's there.

"The other part that I find extremely illogical, if they're out on the street unsupervised, a 14-year-old, how in the world are they going to assume this financial obligation to pay for this and at the same time in the very next section we say that they can make a claim on the parent or guardian's insurance policy. It just doesn't fit and I don't think we should be moving in this direction to solve the problem that this was initially intended to address."

Senator Slom rose and said:

"Mr. President, Roll Call vote, please."

Senator Menor requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 2166, S.D. 2, and S.B. Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"The current law says that after two years and after giving notice then any unclaimed bail money will be determined as abandoned. What this bill does is take out any requirement for notice and says that basically after two years, period, that's it. The money will be presumed abandoned and will go to the general fund. I think that there should be an effort . . . we're always talking about due process; we're always talking about notification and we're talking about other people's money. The judiciary knows that this money belongs to someone. We don't need Herculean efforts but we do need an effort to try to find the person or the family of the person who this unclaimed money belongs to. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Kokubun's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.C.R. No. 243, CONDEMNING THE GENOCIDE IN WESTERN SUDAN AND URGING CONGRESS WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE PRESIDENT TO ENGAGE THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY TO TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE OF DARFUR.

"Since the conflict in Darfur began in 2003, millions have been displaced, and close to 180,000 non-Arabs have been systematically killed off.

"For three years, civil war and genocide has been taking place in Sudan, and yet no direct action has been taken by the international community to put a stop to the devastation caused by the Sudanese militia. The United Nations adopted Resolution 1564 in 2004, threatening sanctions against Sudan if violence continued in Darfur. Yet, two years later, the genocide continues.

"Countless pleas from the G8 summit, the U.N. and the United Kingdom (U.K.) have expressed grave concern over the humanitarian, human rights, and political crisis in Darfur. The United States House of Representatives declared the violent acts as genocide on June 24, 2004 in House Concurrent Resolution 467, and the United States Senate introduced the companion resolution, Senate Concurrent Resolution 124, on July 13, 2004. The President of the United States, on September 9, 2004, in a press release, also declared the violence in Darfur as genocide, and the President's Press Secretary, Scott McClellan, stated in a press release issued on March 16, 2006 that:

'The situation in Sudan, and particularly in the Darfur region, remains a top priority for this administration.'

Yet, despite these declarations, President George W. Bush has remained passive in his actions to stop the genocide. Although he has released $300 million for aid, he has refused to take substantial action to end the slaughter. Furthermore, the Bush Administration has also declined to seek a seat on the new U.N. Human Rights Council.

"As we sit here today, mass, systematic, killings of hundreds of people a day is still occurring in the region of Darfur, Sudan. For these reasons, I urge President George W. Bush to action.

"In closing, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the Representative from Puna, Representative Helene H. Hale, Chair of the House Committee on International Affairs, for introducing this important legislation. Her dedication and commitment to human rights reflects the spirit of aloha that she has brought to this Legislature during her years as a State Representative. As the 2nd most senior State Representative in the Nation, Representative Hale's wisdom and experience has assisted her in becoming a shining example of a life-long dedication to protecting the rights of the world's citizens. As such, she has brought to our attention the urgency to end the mass killing, torture and rape that is being inflicted on our brothers and sisters in Darfur. House Concurrent Resolution 243 is an example of this great leader's pursuit of peace and justice.

"For these reasons, I urge my esteemed colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. Gov. Msg. No. 511, JOHN DELONG to the Board of Directors of the Natural Energy Laboratory of Hawaii Authority, term to expire June 30, 2007.

Senator Hee rose at this time and said:

“Mr. President and colleagues, yesterday we had a confirmation on . . .”

The Chair interjected:

“Point of personal privilege?”

Senator Hee replied:

“I was actually going to make an announcement, but why don’t I stand on a point of personal privilege.

“Yesterday we had a confirmation hearing on Mr. James Haynes, reappointed regent from the Island of Maui. The hearing went a little longer than I anticipated. He was well supported, and the presence of the Governor indicated her strong support although she declined to comment on the nominee. Many members of the regents were present as well as some of our friends like Rick Humphreys and others.

“The hearing went longer than I thought. I don’t think there’s a question about Mr. Haynes’ honesty. I think that is irrefutable. He is honest to a fault. In fact, there were times when he said during the hearing, ‘this will probably get me in trouble, but this is how I feel.’

“It was a very interesting discussion. He feels, for example, very passionately that the Legislature should butt out of the business of the regents. I use the words butt out because those words were used. But he also believes that the Governor should butt out of the business of the board of regents. For me, that is an indication of his candid comments and his honesty.

“Nonetheless, we assume that all of the Governor’s appointments are people of integrity and the highest of honesty. That to me is insufficient. Therefore, in consultation with the members who were present and in consultation with most of the members on the Committee on Higher Education, and in consultation with some of his closest supporters this morning, the Committee on Higher Education will hear the confirmation of James C. Haynes on Tuesday, beginning at 9:30 as well as several other governor’s messages, including the nomination of Dr. Hapai for the East Hawaii.

“If any of the members wish to weigh in, I welcome you to join us. If not, we have a tape of yesterday’s proceedings and you’re more than welcome to have a copy of the tape.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I was hoping that our procedures concerning advice and consent could be vent in such a manner that it is most of all fair to the people that are offering their services to the public, in this case, free of cost and to the great benefit.

“I think the record should reflect that under the tenure of the current regents, the University of Hawaii has made great strides forward and is really regarded as an entity that we can be very proud of. The hiring of David McClain was especially lauded by those professionals in that area.

“I will also mention that because of micro-management and interference by the legislative branch of government, the University of Hawaii, and this is duly recorded in e-mails, is under scrutiny for accreditation. I will also point out that the Constitution of the State of Hawaii specifically spells out that the university should be autonomous.

“I will also point out that it’s very difficult for any human being – anytime, anywhere – to undergo the scrutiny that appeared to have happened yesterday at the Higher Ed Committee when a very well-orchestrated inquisition was conducted. I would be willing to tell you, and I would be willing to bet, none of us could say where we were on Saturday night, June 3rd of 1958 or some other minutia question concerning issues that we have dealt with in the distant past. More oftentimes, those questions are asked by someone who has researched it out or has received information from the university Education Committee. In other words, the question is a set up.

“My point being that by everyone’s standards that are fair and nonpolitical, Jimmy Haynes, keiki o ka aina, is a wonderful man who has contributed much to Hawaii. I will be the first to admit that yesterday he did not do well under the castigation and the inquisition of the Higher Ed Committee. Nevertheless, I hope that he will be given a fair hearing and fair consideration by this Body, in spite of the political agendas of those conducting the hearing.

Senator Hee rose again and said:

“Mr. President, I just want to note for the record that I’m not sure if the previous speaker was at the hearing that we attended. The Senator from Waikiki certainly was. But for the record, I, or any other Committee member, did not ask where the nominee was on June 3rd, 1958. I want that to be evidently clear.

“Also, I think the last question that I had asked the nominee was, is there anything that may have been unfair in your view? And he didn’t say that the hearing was unfair. In fact, he said, ‘well, I wish I had somebody passing me papers like you have behind you,’ to which I responded, ‘it’s hard to keep up with a regent who’s been one for three years.’

“One thing is evidently clear, as a part Hawaiian, of which Mr. Haynes is, and he made it a point, I shared with him that being also a part Hawaiian, we have a common ancestor, Haloa, although I didn’t use the word Haloa. I said we have a common ancestor.

“Secondly, I had shared with Mr. Haynes that I greatly admired his view on Kaho`olawe as someone who’s passionate about the island and in fact was interested to learn that his brother was one of the original nine that went to Kaho`olawe with Walter Ritte and others. I thought that our conversation was a real good one and I thought the hearing was actually very good.

“I will be meeting with some of the regents this afternoon to continue the dialogue and see where we might have missed, areas that may not have been explored properly. It seems to me we all agree that someone who’s up for reconfirmation, reasonably the Senate should expect that a working knowledge of the university is fair. And in the interest of fairness, the second hearing will be held.

"I would note for the record that in the case of the student regent, Michael Dahilig, and in the case of other regents – Al Landon, Ron Migita – where they are first-time nominees, it's very difficult to have a significant discussion on the workings of the university. That's not true with someone who's been on for three years. That's not true for someone who loves the university as Mr. Haynes, a graduate of the university, does.

"So, we look forward to a continued dialogue of the university as he sees it and his anticipation and expectations as a regent who has served in the past and as a regent who intends to serve in the future.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 546 to 565) were read by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 546, informing the Senate that on April 25, 2006, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 2581 as Act 28, entitled: "RELATING TO THE BACKLOG IN UNSERVED ARREST WARRANTS."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 2581 SD1

On April 25, 2006, Senate Bill No. 2581, entitled 'Relating to the Backlog in Unserved Arrest Warrants' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

This bill seeks to reduce the backlog of unserved arrest warrants by (1) authorizing county police officers and public safety officers with police powers to serve arrest warrants, and (2) requiring the Attorney General to adopt rules pursuant to chapter 91, Hawaii Revised Statutes, through which retired police officers or public safety officers may be authorized to serve arrest warrants.

It should be pointed out that county police officers and public safety officers already have the authority to serve arrest warrants. Hiring retired law enforcement personnel is also currently possible and these rehires could serve arrest warrants if the department that hired them has such authority.

While this bill assigns to the Attorney General responsibility for adopting administrative rules to provide for authorizing retired county police officers and retired State public safety officers to serve certain arrest warrants, it fails to specify which State entity is responsible for administering such a program.

Further, this bill does not appropriate funds to compensate retired officers and to supervise the service of the arrest warrants.

This bill, alone, will not accomplish the goal of reducing the backlog in unserved arrest warrants. It will be incumbent upon the next session of the Legislature to remedy the aforementioned shortcomings of this measure with legislation placing the program under the jurisdiction of an agency, such as the Judiciary, and providing funding commensurate to ensure its purpose is served.

Therefore, I allowed Senate Bill No. 2581 SD1 to become law as Act 28 effective April 25, 2006 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE"

Gov. Msg. No. 553, dated April 26, 2006, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 2208 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 26, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2208

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2208, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Counties.'

The stated purpose of this bill is to extend the statute of limitations for actions against the counties for damage or injury from six month to two years.

This bill is objectionable because it is inconsistent with the intended purpose of section 46-72, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which was to create a claims procedure as a prerequisite to the filing of a lawsuit, not to establish a limitations period for filing a lawsuit. Notification of a claim within six months of the occurrence of the incident giving rise to the claim is to allow for a prompt investigation while facts and circumstances are still fresh, witnesses are still available, and conditions remain substantially the same. An early review of claims would minimize unnecessary litigation, because a determination can be made whether the claim is frivolous or should be settled before a lawsuit is filed. If the claim is denied, the claimant still has the option to file a lawsuit within the two-year statute of limitations set forth in section 657-7, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

The claims procedure provided by section 46-72 will become a nullity if the time to submit a written notice of a claim were identical to the time to file a lawsuit.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2208 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii"

Gov. Msg. No. 555, informing the Senate that on April 26, 2006, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 2602 as Act 36, entitled: "RELATING TO ADULT PROBATION RECORDS."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 2602 SD1

On April 26, 2006, Senate Bill No. 2602, entitled 'Relating to Adult Probation Records' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

This bill adds persons and entities to the list of those who are allowed access to adult probation records to include court officers and designated social workers. The bill also allows the court to give contact information of current and former defendants to attorneys or collection agencies contracted to collect court penalties, fees, and judgments.

The statutory changes under Senate Bill No. 2602 have generally met the original intent of the bill to improve services to offenders, victims, and the community through selective release of information under collaborative relationships. The bill sought the release of information to selected individuals who facilitated the collection of delinquent monetary penalties and restitution. It also sought release of information to service providers to ensure offenders receive the proper substance abuse treatment.

The standard practice in substance abuse treatment is that the risk assessment and need for treatment services are obtained by a provider before placement decisions are made. Senate Bill No. 2602, however, states that the defendant's risk assessment and need for treatment services 'shall be given only upon the acceptance or admittance of the defendant into a treatment program.' Providing such information after the client is admitted is contrary to standard clinical practice, since a client should be admitted only if there is an assessed need for treatment.

Treatment providers, which are private nonprofit entities, objected to the above provision since it may result in admissions of clients who require specialized services that may be beyond a provider's program capacity or are inappropriate for the offender.

The Judiciary has indicated that despite these possible problems, they are willing to monitor the effects of the law and make suggested statutory changes to the 2007 Legislature.

Therefore, I allowed Senate Bill No. 2602 SD1 to become law as Act 36 effective April 26, 2006 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE"

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 3051.

"Colleagues, society develops standards to facilitate communication and understanding among its citizenry. We have a common language that we use. We have common unit of measure, a yardstick. We have a common currency. And when it comes to fiscal matters up until this point, the counties and the state have a common fiscal year. No evidence to me, overwhelming evidence, has been presented to convince me that the public interest would be served by having two or more fiscal years by the state and its entities. So I am casting a 'no' vote.

"I also would like to comment that usually in the corporate world when people try and change the fiscal year it's because they want to hide some statistics that would be apparent in a 12-year period and because people normally don't pay as close attention to a partial year. So, before you vote yes, please be convinced that there is an overwhelming public interest that will be served by having more than one fiscal year among our counties and perhaps counties and states.

S.B. No. 2917 (H.D. 3):

The President discharged the managers who were appointed on the part of the Senate at the conference to be held for the consideration of amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 2917.

Senator Menor moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 13, 2006, in disagreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 2917, seconded by Senator Baker and carried.

Senator Menor moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 2917, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Menor noted:

"Mr. President, the amendments made by the House include the following: one amendment classifies supporting and supplementary information that currently accompanies rate filings as confidential and proprietary and not open to public inspection; a second amendment reduces the time of the commissioner's office to review rate filings by decreasing the review period from 90 to 30 days prior to the rate becoming effective; the third excludes prepaid dental and vision plans which are offered as part of managed care plans from the rate filing requirement; another amendment imposes an additional requirement by the commissioner to set interim rates for managed care plans with rates that have then been disapproved by the plan they're contesting and disapproval over the rate filing through the administrative hearing process; and finally, the other amendment allows the managed care plan to deny requests for information by the commissioner's office by declaring that the information requested is confidential and proprietary.

"Your Senate Conferees had concerns about these particular provisions. I would have preferred these amendments not be made, but in trying to address the concerns of the House and the strong insistence on the part of the House Committee Chair that these amendments were needed in order for the bill to move out of conference, I am recommending that we pass these amendments because I think it's very important for us to continue health insurance rate regulation in Hawaii.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No.

2917, and S.B. No. 2917, H.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT HEALTH INSURANCE RATE REGULATION," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Tuesday, May 2, 2006.

Senator Baker moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.C.R. No. 77, S.D. 2, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Baker noted:

"Mr. President, the House split the two studies that were contained in the SCR into two distinct studies over two different time frames and it accomplishes the objective that the Senate had wanted to. We're fine with those amendments."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.C.R. No. 77, S.D. 2, and S.C.R. CHARLES A. STED, term to expire June 30, 2010 (Gov. Msg. No. 502), seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Kim rose in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 502 and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 502, the confirmation of Charles A. Sted to the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Administration.

“Mr. President, the Housing and Community Development Corporation of Hawaii’s handling of the Kalihi Valley Homes, Hauiki Homes, and the nonexistent asset management study by the HCDCH has been pathetic. The oversight of the HCDCH clearly rests with the board. Mr. Sted is the chair of the HCDCH board and I have communicated with him, I’ve attended an HCDCH board meeting, I’ve met with Mr. Sted and the HCDCH executive director and still my attempts to get them to address some of these issues have been unsatisfactory.

“Specifically, during Mr. Sted’s tenure as the chair of the HCDCH board, the contractor walked off the Kalihi Valley Housing project in April of 2004 for nonpayment of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Director Aveiro kept promising payment in 30 days but never did. The contractor refused to return until they were paid and this went on for over six months. This delay meant that precious units remained vacant and tenants remained dislocated or homeless.

“With no resolution in sight, the CPH Committee scheduled a hearing on February 12, 2005. This prompted Director Aveiro to call an emergency meeting with the contractors the day before the hearing and again promised payment. Nevertheless, the contractor showed up at the hearing and shared with us the myriad of problems they were having with the HCDCH. As of today, almost two years since the walkout date, HCDCH still owes the contractor over a million dollars.

“I suspected then that the board had no clue as to what was going on regarding the Kalihi Valley Housing, so I sent a letter to Mr. Sted last September, 2005, stating, and I quote, ‘Finally, since the tone of your letter affirms that the board has been briefed and is clearly aware of the problems and delays of the Kalihi Valley Phase II Renovation Project and the outstanding change orders, please explain why, after the plethora of meetings, promises by the HCDCH, and concerns raised by the Senate, there still is an outstanding payment due to the prime contractor. Since you claim the board is aware of the problems, what steps, if any, is the board taking to rectify and ensure that these problems do not occur again,’ unquote.

“Phase II has been completed, members, but the contractor is still owed monies. Board minutes reveal that the board never addressed the problems at KVH and did not take steps to rectify it.

“At his confirmation hearing, Mr. Sted confirmed my suspicions that either he didn’t know about this or didn’t care about the problems at Kalihi Valley Homes since he didn’t have a clue that the HCDCH still owed the contractor over a million dollars.

“Another example, during his tenure, the Legislature adopted H.C.R. No. 214, requesting the Housing and Community Development Corporation of Hawaii to explore home ownership options and study the feasibility of implementing a housing demonstration project at Hauiki Homes and other state owned and operated housing projects. Colleagues, this is their pitiful report to the Legislature in 2005. It is a 1¼-page report. And would you believe that this report for this House concurrent resolution was never reviewed or approved by the board? I don’t know if the board was even aware of this HCR. By Mr. Sted’s admission, he didn’t know that the board had the responsibility of reviewing this report to the Legislature. It was totally left up to the staff.

“The report states, and I quote, ‘On November 30, 2004, the HCDCH formally requested an extension of time to consider Kokua Legal Services’ letter of intent for KVH. The agency is undertaking an assessment management study which is anticipated to be concluded in the spring of 2005. Decisions regarding the sale of the HCDCH properties like Hauiki Homes will be made within the context of the study results.’ Despite this report to the Legislature and the CPH hearings, the board on June 16, 2005, with no asset management study results, disapproved the request to implement a housing demonstration project at Hauiki Homes. This decision was completely contrary to their conclusion statement of their report, and I quote, ‘The HCDCH generally supports home ownership. It strengthens families and communities. The HCDCH will continue to work with Kokua Legal Services to obtain the requested information and will make its decision in the context of the findings of its asset management study.’ This was totally disingenuous. They did not work with the Kokua Legal Services to get the information and they did not decide in the context of the asset management study since there is still no completed study as of today.

“So did they ever complete the asset management study? Of course not. Was money expended for their study? Yes, but don’t ask Linda Smith because she told us that no money was spent.

“In my letter dated May 12, 2005, to Mr. Sted, I stated, quote, ‘Contracts with the Navy for an asset management study for $65,000 was entered into on January 25, 2005.’ A memo dated December 27, 2004, from Jeanie Hamilton states that HCDCH anticipates the task order will be executed in January 2005 and the work will be completed before April 2005. This was shared with the Senate CPH Committee on February 3, 2005, yet at the April 12th Senate CPH follow-up meeting, the director told the Committee that the asset management study was not yet complete with no definitive completion date. In further review of all of the 2005 board minutes, there appears to be no follow-up or monitoring by the board on this very important asset management study that kept Kokua Legal Services in limbo. It took Mr. Sted and the board until August – three months – to finally respond to my May 12th letter. Imagine, they put my letter on the board agenda but they never put the H.C.R. No. 214 on the agenda.

“On the issue of the asset management study he replies, and I quote, ‘I agree that the board has not taken adequate steps to follow-up and monitor the asset management study. Accordingly, I will appoint an asset management subcommittee at the August 2005 regular meeting to devote the needed attention to this important subject,’ and I repeat, ‘devote the needed attention to this important subject.’ Interestingly enough, on October 31, 2005, Director Aveiro in her response to me states, ‘The draft asset management report was submitted to the HCDCH in May 2005.’ I attended the June meeting and there was no mention of this draft report or the acceptance of this report. She goes on to say that ‘the final report was completed in July 2005. The board’s asset management subcommittee made up of Mr. Sted and Ms. Smith is currently reviewing the report and will make policy recommendations to the full board,’ unquote. Remember, in Mr. Sted’s August 3rd letter to me he never even mentioned the final report was submitted to the board.

“So, let’s fast forward to last week Monday night at the confirmation hearing. When asked about the status of this report, Mr. Sted said he was unable to tell the Committee when the asset management study would be complete. It’s over a year late, members, and if Mr. Sted, who’s a member of this three-member subcommittee and the board chair, is clueless about this study, then this board has some serious leadership and management problems. Will somebody tell them that we have a housing shortage and that they need to be more diligent about their responsibilities! And yes, I realize that it’s a volunteer job, but if he doesn’t have the time or the passion, then he shouldn’t serve.

“I’m sorry, but as far as I’m concerned, Mr. Sted’s record on the HCDCH does not speak well to his confirmation and my examples are just a few of the horror stories – I’m sure there are more. For these reasons, I cannot in good conscience support Mr. Sted to the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Board. Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 502 and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against the nominee as well.

“Very quickly, Mr. President and colleagues, I have two very good friends who are contractors – one was the drywall contractor at Kalihi Valley Housing and the other was the plumbing subcontractor who also did the solar panels. The one complaint heard repeatedly over and over was, as subcontractors and small business people, they weren’t getting paid on time.

“So, for those reasons, I will vote against Mr. Sted as well.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 502 and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition as well.

“Every week I go up there to pick someone up at the Kam IV Housing and it’s just pathetic how long this project has dragged. Perhaps Mr. Sted isn’t the one on the job, perhaps there are project managers, perhaps it’s Ms. Aveiro, perhaps it’s other people, but the chairman of the board has an ability to improve things and apparently things have not improved, at least from my perspective, to the degree they should, Mr. President, so I encourage my colleagues to vote ‘no.’”

Senator English rose in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 502 and said:

“Mr. President, I received a communication from the Hawaii Board of Realtors and my objections are contained in that letter, so I’m voting ‘no’ as well.”

Senators Ihara and Baker requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

At 12:10 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:11 o’clock p.m.

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of order and said:

“Point of order, Mr. President.

“For purposes of accuracy and recordkeeping, could the clerk please tell us the vote on Gov. Msg. No. 502.”

The motion to advise and consent to the nominations of CHARLES G. KING, BETTY LOU LARSON and DAVID LAWRENCE was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

The motion to advise and consent to the nomination of CHARLES A. STED was put by the Chair and failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 11. Noes, 14 (Chun Oakland, English, Espero, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Hee, Hooser, Ige, Kim, Kokubun, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Tsutsui).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3825 (Gov. Msg. No. 405):

By unanimous consent, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3825 and Gov. Msg. No. 405 were recommitted to the Committee on Labor.

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 163-06 (H.B. No. 1900, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 163-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 1900, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Taniguchi rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"I have rather lengthy comments, so I think at this point I will have them inserted into the Journal in support."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Taniguchi's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, this measure is the supplemental budget bill and amends Act 178 of last year, the Executive Appropriations Act.

"Before speaking to the merits of this bill, I would like to thank all the people who made this Session a success for the Committee on Ways and Means.

"First, I would like to thank my staff – I think all of them did an incredible job this year, given the circumstances. I want them to know that I appreciate all the sacrifices that they made for this Committee to be successful.

"Second, I'd like to thank the WAM Committee members for all of their hard work and constructive input this year. While it was a struggle at times, I believe that each member of the Senate contributed to this final product, including yourself, Mr. President.

"I also want to thank House Finance Chair Dwight Takamine, for the tremendous support, cooperation and friendship he has afforded me over the years, especially these last six years as we headed our respective money Committees.

"Last, but not least, I want to thank my family for all their sacrifices so that I could continue to serve as WAM Chair these past six years, most especially for being the strength behind all of the tough decisions that I've had to make in my 26 years in office.

"Mr. President, though we had a healthy carryover balance and increases in revenues this year, it was a challenge ensuring that those revenues were allocated wisely with thought given to future expenditures. I'm glad we had the opportunity to face the challenge that we did. We were forced to reevaluate many priorities and ask ourselves what our state government should look like and how it should operate. We took an approach, which increased expenditures, with the bulk of that increase going to our public schools, infrastructure, and to those in need.

"This budget represents a philosophy that government must provide for those who cannot provide for them selves – our children and those less fortunate.

"If you examine this budget as I have, you will see that general fund expenditures increased by over $230 million. The majority of those expenditures will be going to the Department of Education, Human Services, Health, and the University of Hawaii. I believe that this Body is addressing public schools and those most in need in the most prudent and appropriate manner possible.

"This budget, as a component of our overall financial plan, is sound and it is fair as it provides the resources for those areas that should be of priority to our constituents. I believe this Body has done an outstanding job to conform our state government expenditures to our ability to afford it.

"While some may disagree, I believe that this Legislature should be proud of the fiscal decisions it has made as well as all others related to our financial plan. We have made the difficult choices in deciding how best to spend our increased revenues, but they are ones that I feel will best serve the interest of our people.

"I urge all of my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure as well.

"I don't have comments to insert but I would like to articulate some of the things at least in regard to education that our good Ways and Means Chair, as well as all of the members have agreed to and hopefully pass, Mr. President.

"As we know, schools are important to us as well as the public. Mr. President, the Senator from Manoa and the Committee and this Body has put many good things into this bill and I'll just articulate on a few for education.

"Starting with the weighted student formula, some of us have had the opportunity to talk to our schools and librarians. There were counselors and other people who are in jeopardy of losing their positions who are concerned that Act 51 has caused their school to do something in terms of prioritizing their needs. In this budget that will pass, hopefully, $20 million was put to the weighted student formula. In that measure, Mr. President, later on I'll be able to pass out a list that will show that the schools that were negatively affected by the previous committee on weights distribution of the available funds found many schools in the red or lacking at least the status quo of where they're at.

"My goal, Mr. President, or our goal should not be to have people who are in jeopardy just feel a sigh of relief and be retained because it's the principal and the school community council that will use the available funds, including this additional money to the schools to help them. High schools will receive 126,000 more dollars, middle schools 84,000 more dollars, elementary schools 63,000 more dollars, and the combination schools some vary in degree. Each school, based on what's in this budget, will be in the black and no school will be in the red, at least in the first year as the weighted student formula moves forward.

"Again, this isn't just for people to breathe a sigh of relief. But as we know, Mr. President, the schools in one study have been short $278 million, so this is a step in the right direction.

"The budget also includes $2 million specifically for science textbooks, $5.4 million for technology as well as human resource systems, and includes many other things, in particular, in coordination with the budget, some items are in the budget, some items are funded in bills. Perhaps I can address those later. I do want to say that the fix the schools bill which will be coming up later did put in $160 million to renovate 95 schools that are 25 years and older. Some have already been renovated but this will bring many, many of our schools up to par and includes $75 million in addition to that for repair and maintenance.

"As we know, the backlog was $525 million as of September, and certainly with this addition, over $100 million more should be reducing the back log. We hope as the money is released, and in particular some of these are general funds, it doesn't need to wait for the bond float, etc.

"Mr. President, I'd really like to thank all of those who helped make this come to this point, again especially the money Chair and the House side as well. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hemmings rose in support and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the budget.

"Mr. President, I would like to add my accolades and gratitude and praise to the Senate Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. It is always difficult. There's so many different interests that come to this Legislature looking for support. Setting priorities and oftentimes telling some of them that they're not going to get what they want or at least all that they want is a difficult task indeed.

"I'd like to also add this caveat, from the perspective of the Minority Party, that I believe this budget was crafted in many ways without partisan consideration but rather based on the merit of the individual issues. For that, I'm grateful to the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

"I'd like to respond to the good Chairman of the Higher Education Committee and I'd like to ask this question of us, colleagues, and I'd like to ask this question, quite frankly, of the people of Hawaii – when do we hit the point that we start demanding results for the investment we're making in education? It is so easy to stand up here on the Floor and say we're doing it for the keiki, we're doing it for the children, which is so very true, but are we really? Where is the money going and what are the results? And what are the people of Hawaii who work so hard that send their children to public schools getting in return? That question can partly be answered by the facts concerning the funding of public education.

"In 10 short years since the close of fiscal 1997, the budget has gone from $870 million a year to operate the public education system, to the close of '07, with what we're adding to the budget now, it will be $2.4 billion – a dramatic increase. Well, that might be justified if we said, well maybe we have three times as many children in the system. Not so. The number of children enrolled in the public education system has remained static.

"Where is the money going? The employee count has gone possibly from 17,000 to 19,000 – not a dramatic increase, certainly not $1.6 billion worth of increase. Where is the money going? And what do we have to show for it? I would say hoorah for all of us. If we put this money in, we could say by every measure of the national education standards, Hawaii shines and it's something we can be proud of. But unfortunately, that's not true.

"It's not true to the extent that many of us here in this room, many in the executive branch of government, many in the judicial branch of government, and many in the ranks and files of teachers have chosen to send their kids to private schools and are paying twice for education of their children – once through high taxes and once again through private school tuitions.

"Yes, we support public education, but we support it to the extent that we want to see the money put in the classrooms, with the teachers, and hold their principals responsible for what's happening in their schools.

"I heard something about that wonderful campaign slogan that was used two years ago called 'reinventing education.' We've reinvented education and it worked well at election time, but what are the results? The budget has gone from $1.9 billion to about $2.4 billion. It's costing us another five or six hundred million dollars more. We have reinvented education so well that the weighted student formula that was supposed to be a godsend along with the school councils that are reminiscent of SCBM, which never worked, we have to pay 20 million more dollars so we don't hurt the schools that we're supposed to be helping. What are we going to do next year or the year after?

"So, in all sincerity, colleagues, when do we start to say money is not the problem, management is. When, on behalf of our constituents, and more importantly, on behalf of the teachers and the students, when do we say we want results? We want to change the system so that the money does translate to good services.

"I might add that the system is being held hostage again for repair and maintenance of schools – 1998, $182 million; $153 million in 1999; $51 million in 2000; $71 million in 2001; $56 million in 2002; $127 million in 2003; $74 million in 2004; 2005 – $243 million CIP; 2006, $215 million; 2007, $228 million – recently, cash right out of our pockets, not bond money, cash.

"May I ask this question, with that huge amount of money, how come the schools aren't fixed? With $2 billion, how come there's not enough money to buy books? Serious questions. Seriously, one of these days we're going to have to stop listening to the mantra of the bureaucracy in the DOE and the BOE of 'give us more money and we'll do a better job' – because we have, and they haven't.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 1900.

"After the previous speech in favor of the budget I just thought I'd come up and mention three brief points. Number one – it's only part of the budget. There are at least 60 other money bills, one of which seeks to give $50,000 to print a newsletter, another $100,000 to create one position in the Department of Health. I think it's appropriate when we have a budget bill to have a total budget bill.

“Number two – we haven’t . . . taking revenue and using revenue, general fund revenue for school construction is an admission that we really don’t have a surplus. What we had was under-funding previously and deferred maintenance projects. The problem I have is the most serious under-funding, the most serious liability that the state has is the under-funding of the employee retirement system and the health benefits that have been assured to our workers. We should have addressed or at least started to address that.

“Number three – we have a warm body policy. When times are tough, we keep the state payroll going. That’s what led to not doing the maintenance projects that we’re worrying about now. We need to address the number of civil service positions that work in government, and the only time when we have the will to reduce the size of state government is when we’re at a full economy and the economy is growing. That is now. That’s the only time that it is palatable to make it happen. We should be doing it now. We haven’t done it.

“So, for those three reasons, I will vote against the budget. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

“Mr. President, a brief response to some of the comments from our Senator from Kailua.

“First, the public schools need to educate every child – special education children, children that come to our shores from Micronesia, Marshall Islands – many of them coming with no education or at least no formal education. The public schools need to educate the rejects or the dropouts from private schools. Mr. President, the public schools don’t get to choose who to educate. It does cost more money to educate children that have difficulties whether it’s from where they come from, whether it’s their language, whether it’s a disability, whether it’s another problem, or be it a discipline problem.

“Many people talk about the parent gap. Part of the solution I would suggest to the speaker from Kailua and others, the reform effort did empower the school principal and the school community council to use the funds available and I would ask all of my colleagues, I would ask all of the businesses, all of the nonprofits to volunteer at your schools, be a tutor, be a mentor, volunteer for work days and let’s help our schools become the schools that we can all be proud of.

“Secondly, on the litany of numbers, I believe the speaker should look at the DOE’s response to where the money went. They made it clear there are many other issues and we’ll not articulate those here today. But in terms of the schools, just as in your house or your business, for the department, every year $70 million-plus come on the list for new repair and maintenance projects. In the lean years of the state, we weren’t adequately funding that. The backlog was $800 million, then $640 million, then $525 million in repair in maintenance, and that is not including the capital improvement projects, which are on another list of hundreds-of-millions-of-dollars for new schools or new school facilities.

“We have a big job. I’m not an apologist for the department. We’ve passed accountability measures on this Floor. We have measures today that will help. We need to be supporters as opposed to detractors of our public schools. If we support our schools, we can have a system that we can all be proud of.”

Senator Tsutsui rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Mr. President, first and most importantly, I’d like to begin by commending the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee for his wisdom and his dedication on crafting what I believe is a fine supplemental budget. I spent, as his Vice Chairman, many weekends, many long nights going line by line, page by page, position by position, appropriation by appropriation looking at ways to craft a fair and responsible budget. After spending many long hours with an individual, it’s easy to get an opinion of this individual, and frankly, Mr. President, the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee is one smart cookie.

“I would also like to thank the House Finance Committee, the Chairman, also the Vice Chairman, my new best buddy in the House, for their long hours in working with us in concert to create this measure. I would also be remiss if I didn’t thank the Ways and Means and House Finance staff analysts for their long hours sitting there with us and working through all the fine details of the state budget.

“Finally, Mr. President, I think it’s important for us to also thank the members and the many individuals who’ve contributed to the budget during the budgetary process.

“Real briefly, Mr. President, I would just like to mention that again I think this supplemental budget has done a wonderful job. We made education its top priority and the centerpiece of the supplemental budget. It remained dedicated to providing for the needs of our residents by increasing general fund appropriations of $39.9 million to the Department of Human Services. It provided $26.3 million to programs at the University of Hawaii, $19.5 million to the Department of Health as well as $15.7 million to the Department of Public Safety. This is a balanced budget. I believe it’s a responsible budget and a budget that addresses the health, wellbeing and safety of our residents, and for this reason, Mr. President, and many others, I urge my colleagues to support H.B. No. 1900. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the budget.

“The vote that we’re taking now is not a vote on the hard work of individual Legislators and their staff. It’s not a vote on smart cookies. It’s not even a vote on Act 51, what it promised and what it has or has not delivered. What we’re talking about here is a document that in total funds we’re talking about $9.6 billion. And as the late US Senator from Illinois once said, ‘A billion here, a billion there, pretty soon it adds up to real money.’

“Those of us that talk about curtailing and controlling the impact of government and the ever-upward spiral of taxation, and cost, and personnel, and agencies have to do more than just talk about it. Because if we tacitly approve the budget year after year after year, which is of course the politically correct thing to do, then we’re saying yeah, when we talk about how expensive it is to run the government and how many more people become dependent on government largess, which is taken from the regular taxpayers, then we really haven’t done anything to slow this progress or done anything so that people really will believe what we’re saying.

“At the same time, when we started this Legislative Session with an estimated $600 million surplus and whether you want to argue whether we have a surplus or under-funding or whatever, $600 million, which continued to creep up because the economy is strong, we talked about tax relief. We talked about priorities. And the Governor, I know, initially came out and asked for between 300 and $350 million or roughly half of the surplus to be returned to the public, and then that figure was dropped to $120 million, and then the final figure is closer to $50 million. It will not return money. It will do what we've been trying to do for several years and which is the right thing to do and that is to expand the standard deduction and also to expand the tax brackets. But that doesn't really meet the constitutional requirement of returning money and in fact we had a bill introduced by the Finance Chairman that would solve the problem by putting it to a vote whether or not the Legislature should make all decisions regarding the money.

"We lose sight in this building as to where that surplus came from. We lose sight as to whose money we're dealing with. It sure is a lot easier to spend other people's money. I'm not questioning some of the decisions that were made in terms of priorities, but I'm saying that if it's your own money or your own families' money, you would probably make different decisions and you probably would not spend as much. Approaching $10 billion for the size of this state and the size of this economy is too much. We're adding expenditures, and we're adding personnel, and we're adding building costs for healthcare and for retirement that our children are going to have to bear.

"We wonder why so many people continue to struggle in an economy which admittedly is improving and is fairly strong. They struggle because we find that fewer and fewer people are paying more and more of the tax burden. And on the other end we have more people now that are voting for a living rather than working for a living. And as we take people off the tax roles or as we reduce their tax burden, as we give them special tax credits or rebates, the difference if we're going to continue to increase the budget and increase spending has got to come from somewhere and it's going to come from the people – not the wealthy, the wealthy take care of themselves. It's going to be basically the middle class, those people that have the 2½ jobs right now, those people that are struggling, those people that when they get their electric bill, and their water bill, and their sewer bill, and their motor vehicle registration, and their real property taxes find that those expenditures go up geometrically while as their salary increases, if going up at all, go up arithmetically.

"We are creating more and more of a struggle and we're doing so through this budget. And so while there are many laudable things in within the budget – and as the good Senator from Waikiki pointed out we have many, many, many more spending bills that add more billions to our total outlay – we should be aware that we are increasing the burden for the people that live in this state. And so if we say that it really matters that we don't increase government, we don't increase the dependency of people on that government, if we don't increase the number of people working for government and don't increase their benefits, then you have to use the tools that you have to stop it. And the only way or the only tools that you've got right now are to say no. As much as I'd like to support many of the things in the budget, I cannot do it and be true to these other principles.

"And so, Mr. President, I'll be voting 'no.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 163-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 1900, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble).

At 12:36 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:40 o'clock p.m.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 196-06 (S.B. No. 2461, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 196-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2461, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Baker then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 12) to S.B. No. 2461, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 2461, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, is amended by adding a new part to read as follows:

"PART VII

SECTION 13. There is appropriated out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii the sum of $1,500,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2006-2007, as grants pursuant to chapter 42F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to:

- | | |
|----------------------------------|-----------|
| (1) Molokai General Hospital | $500,000 |
| (2) Kahuku Hospital | $500,000 |
| (3) Hana Community Health Center | $500,000 |

The sum appropriated shall be expended by the department of health for the purposes of this section.

SECTION 14. There is appropriated out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii $500,000, or so much as may be necessary for fiscal year 2006-2007, as a grant pursuant to chapter 42F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, for emergency room subsidy at the Waianae District Comprehensive Health and Hospital Board, Inc., doing business as Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center.

The sum appropriated shall be expended by the department of health for the purposes of this section."

SECTION 2. Senate Bill No. 2461, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, is amended by renumbering section 13 as section 15, and designating it as "PART VIII".

Senator Baker moved that Floor Amendment No. 12 be adopted, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Baker rose in support of the amendment and said:

"Mr. President and colleagues, the amendment before you will add $2 million for some very important health centers – $500,000 for Molokai General Hospital; $500,000 to Kahuku Hospital; $500,000 to Hana Community Health Center and $500,000 to subsidize the ER at Waianae Coast Comprehensive Center. If the amendment is adopted, added to the amount of money that is in the supplemental budget we just adopted, these four facilities will each receive $1 million in subsidies to help them cover their indigent care. That means these facilities can stay open. Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi rose in support of the amendment and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the amendment.

"Mr. President, after getting accolades for the budget and a swelled head, I must eat humble pie and humbly apologize to you and the members of the Senate for this error. I guess I also need to apologize to the recipients of the funds for any anxiety that was caused by this oversight. We did agree to fund it at the appropriate level but didn't cover it in the budget, so we need this amendment.

"I ask my colleagues to support the amendment. Thank you."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 12 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 196-06 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 2461, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GRANTS," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Thursday, May 4, 2006.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 211-06 (S.B. No. 218, S.D. 4, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 211-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 218, S.D. 4, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 13) to S.B. No. 218, S.D. 4, H.D. 1, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. S.B. No. 218, C.D. 1, is amended by designating sections 1 and 2 as part I.

SECTION 2. S.B. No. 218, C.D. 1, is amended by amending the last paragraph of section 1 to read as follows:

- (2) Working with the city and county of Honolulu; or
- (3) Purchase of service.

The sum appropriated shall be expended by the department of health for the purpose of this part."

SECTION 5. S.B. No. 218, C.D. 1, is amended by renumbering section 3 as section 4, and designating the newly designated section 4 as part III.

Senator Baker moved that Floor Amendment No. 13 be adopted, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Baker rose to support the amendment as follows:

"Mr. President and colleagues, floor amendment no. 13 would add a second part to S.B. No. 218 in order to fund the medical air transport services for the Island of Oahu in the sum of $1 million for the fiscal year 2006-2007. This is to provide for replacement transport once MAST leaves. The initial setup is in an emergency appropriation that is on the fiscal consent calendar but the remaining amount needs to be funded in this measure.

"The other part of the bill is an emergency medical services stipend and the two can go hand in hand. I urge my colleagues to vote 'yes.'"

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 13 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 211-06 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried.

Senator Menor moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 236-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 3115, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Tsutsui then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 14) to H.B. No. 3115, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 3115, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 (RELATING TO PETROLEUM INDUSTRY), is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The legislature finds that the oil industry has in the past, and if unchecked, will likely in the future, use oligopolistic powers to set artificially high prices in Hawaii for motor fuel and other petroleum products. Disadvantaged by the secrecy in the industry, elected officials and the public are denied accurate assessments of the true causes of higher prices. True and effective transparency would be an effective tool to prevent the use of price maintenance schemes or other illegal behavior that artificially raises consumer prices.

While true transparency should provide benefits for Hawaii consumers, the legislature further finds that the combination of the state's geographical isolation and the market control exercised by the oil companies necessitate additional measures to safeguard the public. While the effectiveness of increased transparency is tested, the current maximum wholesale price of gasoline should be suspended but the governor should have the ability to reinstate it in the event transparency does not provide the relief needed and the oil industry maintains excessively high prices. The governor should have the authority to reinstate the maximum wholesale price upon publication of a finding that its reinstatement is beneficial to the economic well-being, health, or safety of the people of the State.

The legislature further finds that the establishment and allocation of adequate resources for a vigorous state watchdog system to monitor and oversee the petroleum industry and gasoline market is a prerequisite to ensure an efficient market. The public disclosure, collection, aggregation, and analyses of current data relating to Hawaii petroleum fuel prices, volumes, costs, and profits, and the subsequent reporting of this information to planning and enforcement agencies, such as the departments of the attorney general, business, economic development, and tourism, and taxation, for review and assessment, is critical in ensuring compliance with the letter and spirit of the laws and regulations designed to promote fair and competitive gasoline prices for Hawaii's consumers.

The purposes of this Act are to:

- (1) Require true transparency by the oil industry to increase competition and provide the public and elected officials with the necessary monitoring capability to discourage the industry from using price maintenance schemes or other anti-competitive practices that artificially raise consumer prices;
- (2) Suspend the maximum gasoline wholesale price while leaving the governor the ability to reinstate it if oil companies maintain excessively high prices that are detrimental to the economic well-being, health, or safety of the people of the state;
- (3) Require the public utilities commission to develop and maintain the petroleum industry monitoring, analysis, and reporting program, including an automated petroleum industry information reporting system;
- (4) Redelineate the types of information that the petroleum industry must submit to the public utilities commission;
- (5) Appropriate funds to be expended by the public utilities commission to establish and maintain the petroleum industry monitoring, analysis, and reporting program; and
- (6) Prohibit unfair trade practices by the petroleum industry.

PART I

SECTION 2. Chapter 486J, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by adding two new sections to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

“§486J-A Informational cost reports. (a) Each refiner shall file with the commission, on a quarterly basis, in compliance with reporting dates established by the commission, on forms prescribed, prepared, and furnished by the commission, a certified statement of operating and overhead costs for the refiner's Hawaii operations that shall include but not be limited to the following:

- (1) Crude oil costs and sources;
- (2) Other feedstock costs and sources;
- (3) Refinery operating expenses;
- (4) Marketing operating expenses by petroleum product;
- (5) Distribution expenses by petroleum product;
- (6) Corporate overhead expenses; and
- (7) The percentage of the total number of wholesale gallons of unleaded regular and premium unleaded gasoline sold during the reporting period at wholesale prices per gallon that exceed two hundred per cent of the total costs and expenses reported in this subsection on a per gallon basis.

(b) In addition to the reporting required under subsection (a), each distributor shall file with the commission all Securities and Exchange Commission Forms 10-K, 10-Q, annual reports, quarterly reports, and earnings supplements published by the distributor.

(c) Each distributor, except a distributor who is so defined solely by criteria in paragraph (4) of that definition in section 486J-1, who sells liquid fuel only at retail and is not a refiner, shall file with the commission, on a quarterly basis in compliance with reporting dates established by the commission, on forms prescribed, prepared, and furnished by the commission, a certified statement of operating and overhead costs that shall include the following:

- (1) Gasoline purchases, exchanges, and sources;
- (2) Diesel purchases, exchanges, and sources;
- (3) Marketing expenses; and
- (4) Distribution expenses.

§486J-B Petroleum industry monitoring, analysis, and reporting program. The commission shall establish the petroleum industry monitoring, analysis, and reporting program that includes development and maintenance of an automated petroleum industry information reporting system that meets the requirements of government, industry, and the public while promoting sound policy making and consumer information and protection. The purpose of the petroleum industry monitoring, analysis, and reporting program is to conduct and facilitate the efficient analysis and reporting of all information and data provided by the petroleum industry pursuant to this chapter. The commission shall develop the petroleum industry monitoring, analysis, and reporting program in a manner that will result in greater market transparency and provide useful information to the general public and those agencies that are authorized or mandated to conduct oversight of the petroleum industry and ensure compliance with all relevant laws.”

SECTION 3. Section 486J-1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended as follows:

1. By adding eight new definitions to be appropriately inserted and to read:

““Classes of retail trade” means the separate subdivisions, or “classes,” of outlets or methods of retail sales of liquid fuels, typically but not always limited to gasoline and diesel for motor vehicles, and includes any:

- (1) Company-operated station that is a retail service station owned and operated by a refiner or wholesale distributor and where retail prices are set by that refiner or wholesale distributor;
- (2) Lessee dealer-operated station that is a retail service station owned by a refiner or wholesale distributor and operated by a qualified gasoline dealer other than a refiner or wholesale distributor under a franchise; or
- (3) Owner-operated station that is a retail service station not owned by a refiner or wholesale distributor and operated by a qualified gasoline dealer.

“Commission” means the public utilities commission.

“Corporate overhead expenses” means the expenses or costs allocated by the refiners that reflect their Hawaii business units’ share of corporate staff costs, such as legal, finance, accounting, information technology, and similar costs.

“Dealer tank wagon price” means the wholesale price at which liquid fuel is sold to any retail outlet by any distributor priced on a delivered basis to a retail outlet.

“Liquid fuel” means fuels in liquid form, commercially usable for energy needs, power generation, and fuels that may be manufactured, produced, or imported into the State or that may be exported therefrom, including petroleum and petroleum products and all fuel alcohols.

“Nonrefiner wholesale price” means the wholesale price at which liquid fuel is sold by any distributor, not a refiner, to any other distributor, not a refiner, for resale at any subsequent wholesale or retail transaction.

“Refiner wholesale price” means the wholesale price at which liquid fuel is sold by a refiner to any distributor, not a refiner, for resale at any subsequent wholesale or retail transaction.

“Wholesale liquid fuel prices” means the prices at which liquid fuel is sold at wholesale for resale at wholesale or retail, typically but not limited to gasoline and diesel for motor vehicles, and include “dealer tank wagon price,” “nonrefiner wholesale price,” and “refiner wholesale price.”

2. By amending the definitions of “distributor,” “fuel,” “person,” and “refiner” to read:

““Distributor” means ~~and includes~~:

- (1) Every person who refines, manufactures, produces, or compounds fuel in the ~~[State,] state,~~ and sells it at wholesale or at retail~~[-]~~ or who ~~utilizes~~ uses it directly in the manufacture of products or for the generation of power;

“Fuel” means ~~and includes~~ fuels, whether liquid, solid, or gaseous, commercially usable for energy needs, power generation, and fuels manufacture, that may be manufactured, grown, produced, or imported into the ~~[State] state~~ or that may be exported ~~[therefrom,] from the state,~~ including petroleum and petroleum products and gases, coal, coal tar, vegetable ferments, and all fuel alcohols.

“Person”~~[-]~~ means any person, firm, association, organization, partnership, business trust, corporation, or company. “Person” also includes any city, county, public district or agency, the State, or any department or agency ~~[thereof,] of the State,~~ and the United States or any department or agency of the United States to the extent authorized by federal law.

“Refiner” means any person who owns, operates, or controls the operations of one or more refineries~~[-]~~ in Hawaii.”

3. By deleting the definition of “petroleum commissioner.”

~~[““Petroleum commissioner” or “commissioner” means the administrator of the energy, resources, and technology division of the department of business, economic development, and tourism.”]~~

SECTION 4. Section 486J-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 21. This Act shall take effect on July 1, 2006; provided that Part III shall take effect upon its approval.

Senator Tsutsui moved that Floor Amendment No. 14 be adopted, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Tsutsui rose to support the amendment and noted:

“Mr. President, the reason for this amendment is two parts. One, it would add a $500,000 appropriation to establish monitoring and an analysis and reporting program. It would also add two fulltime positions to the PUC to carry out these responsibilities. Secondly, and probably more importantly, it would delete parts of the C.D. 1 that deal with the fair market value, which I believe has been arbitrarily set. Therefore, Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to support this amendment.”

Senator Menor rose in opposition to the amendment and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against this particular floor amendment.

“I respectfully ask my colleagues to vote down this floor amendment for several reasons. First of all, I ask my colleagues to vote against this floor amendment from the standpoint of maintaining the integrity of our Conference process. In coming up with the conference draft that is before you, late on Friday evening House and Senate Conferees basically reached an agreement with respect to the conference draft that is on this Floor and we shook hands across the table with respect to that particular measure. However, Mr. President, I believe that this amendment should be voted down not only on procedural grounds, but also based on important policy considerations that impact consumers.

“Mr. President, before we began Conference Committee meetings on this measure, I made a commitment to my Senate colleagues that I would be flexible and keep an open mind. I also wanted to work hard to craft a fair and balanced measure that addressed the concerns of my colleagues in the House and Senate about our existing law while including safeguards that would affect the interest of consumers.

“Mr. President and my fellow colleagues, I believe that I have lived up to that commitment. The record will show that we went more than the extra mile to break the impasse and to reach a compromise with the House that is more than fair and reasonable. As you know, Mr. President and my fellow colleagues, I would have preferred continuing the gas pricing regulation by passing out legislation that would have strengthened and improved our gas pricing law by lowering the gas price ceiling by as much as 16 cents per gallon or more. Nevertheless, in recognition of the concerns of many of my legislative colleagues regarding the existing law, I agreed to make numerous concessions.

“To recap, when the House asked for transparency, the Senate Conferees provided far more transparency than the House called for in its own bill. When the House asked for a suspension, Senate Conferees went along and agreed to a complete and indefinite suspension of gas pricing regulation. And when the House objected to the provision that would have automatically triggered the reinstatement of pricing regulation under certain conditions, Senate Conferees again accommodated the House by putting for the mechanism that eliminates the on-again/off-again switch but would still provide a measure of protection for consumers that would only be used in a situation in which the public can plainly see the misbehavior by the oil companies and can convince the Governor that protection must be provided.

“House Conferees also expressed their concern that the pricing formula that is contained in the conference draft that the Governor in her discretion could reinstate it. They expressed concerns that it may have been set artificially low. So as a further accommodation to the House, I agreed to include a provision that would allow the Governor to raise the price ceiling if she found it was necessary to avoid any sort of economic hardship to the oil companies and jobbers in Hawaii.

“Finally, the conference draft that we passed out also addressed the concern of the House that we shouldn’t have further regulation until we are able to compile additional data that can be used in a thorough analysis of the behavior of the oil companies in the Hawaii market.

“We made another accommodation. With respect to the Governor’s authority to reinstate the provisions of our pricing regulation, that provision was based on a floor amendment to a bill which the Senate Republicans introduced and strongly supported during the 2005 Session. The amendment would give the Governor the power to implement our gas price law, precisely the authority this bill provides. As a further accommodation to my colleagues in the Majority, I also put in a provision that is very close to an amendment that was proposed by the Senator from Kalihi to a House bill relating to gasoline in the Ways and Means Committee that was proposed last Session.

“I would also note that the Sunday Advertiser also quoted our State Minority Leader as saying that the conference draft that the Conferees passed out represented a victory for consumers, and I’d like to thank him for those comments.

“Furthermore, Mr. President, concerns have been expressed about a gas pricing ceiling and the fact that it may have been artificially set too low. Before I get into that, a clear indication that I have moved significantly from my previous position in support of strong pricing regulation to a position that addresses the concerns of House and Senate members with respect to our existing law can be found in editorials that were published in our major daily newspapers today. I would bring to the attention of my fellow colleagues an editorial that was published in this morning’s Honolulu Advertiser entitled ‘gas price oversight calls for our vigilance.’ Let me quote several excerpts from that editorial. The first paragraph indicates, quote, ‘The gas cap is dead – for as long as the public believes it isn’t needed. That is the real upshot from the compromise struck by state lawmakers,’ unquote. The editorial goes on to say, quote, ‘The “hammer” – the public’s means of keeping things fair – is a weak one, unless consumers can become a real force through the choices they make,’ unquote.

“I would also direct my colleagues attention to an editorial that was published in this morning’s Honolulu Star Bulletin entitled ‘Gas cap demise will require use of other methods.’ So I think that these editorials clearly indicate again that we really bent over backward to try to address the concerns of my Legislative colleagues and that we moved significantly off our original position in favor of maintaining strong and effective pricing regulation in Hawaii's gasoline market.

"Now, I recognize that there are concerns that are being expressed that the gas price ceiling that would remain on the statutes as standby regulation is being set too low, and if implemented will drive the oil companies and wholesalers out of business, again, if it were to ever reinstated. This is simply not true. First of all, it should be emphasized that this bill is imposing a complete and indefinite suspension of our pricing formula. When this bill passes, oil companies and wholesalers will be free to set prices as high or as low as they want. Secondly, if the price regulation is ever reinstated, it will enable the oil companies to earn a reasonable profit under our pricing formula while ensuring that consumers can be able to realize fairer and more reasonable prices.

"In support of this contention, I'd like to read excerpts from a letter that I received from Tim Hamilton, the nationally recognized industry analyst with whom my Committee has consulted, which indicates that our pricing formula, if reinstated, would allow the oil companies to earn more than a reasonable profit. He says in the letter, quote, 'It is important to note that even if the cap is reinstated by the Governor in the future, the formula developed provides for a profit margin for the refining and marketing system in Hawaii that far exceeds the intricate profit margins typically found on the mainland. If one business evaluates the California Energy Commission data, that data would clearly show that the pricing formula as contained in the conference draft far exceeds the industry margins from the mainland. The allegation that the pricing formula will cause pump prices in Hawaii to fall so low that the new low prices for consumers will create a hardship for one sector or more sectors of the industry is simply in direct conflict with the language adopted by the Senate. Consumers will save money, but the margins allowed the industry remain generous,' unquote.

"I would also like to emphasize again that in order to address the House concerns that our pricing formula may set prices too low, we added another provision that allows the Governor to increase the price ceiling for wholesalers if the administration is considering reinstatement of pricing regulation. This is yet, I reiterate, another concession to the House. Moreover, under this measure, the PUC retains the authority that it has under existing law to make necessary adjustments to the price ceiling.

"Now, a concern has also been expressed about the use of the Singapore spot market in the calculation of the pricing formula. It should be emphasized again that the PUC consultant did recommend the use of the Singapore spot market in the calculation of the baseline price. Moreover, the inclusion of Singapore is an attempt to respond to the critics who have castigated us and criticized our existing law because they say it is based on mainland markets that do not obtain their crude oil from the same sources in Asia from which Hawaii gets its crude oil. So in response to that criticism, this is why it makes sense to include Singapore. Adding Singapore is logical since it is the most likely source of gasoline for companies importing gasoline from outside of Hawaii. Moreover the oil used to produce the gasoline refined in Hawaii comes from the same markets as the oil used by refiners in Singapore.

"Moreover, our pricing formula would change the basis of the PUC calculations such that each week the PUC will determine the baseline average using the three lowest market averages out of four available spot markets. In other words, the fourth highest market would be thrown out of the average. If the Governor ever decides to reinstate pricing regulation, this will reduce the volatility, lower prices, and enable consumers to avoid higher prices when there is an aberration in a single market. For example, having Singapore in the index would have significantly moderated the price increases that occurred because of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita, which severely damaged the refinery infrastructure on the Gulf Coast, one of the three regions in our current index. Our calculation is that if Singapore had been instituted, gas prices could have been lowered by as much as 20 to 30 cents per gallon during the time when prices were spiking throughout the entire country as a result of Hurricanes Rita and Katrina.

"Finally, what I hope my fellow colleagues will understand is that reference to Singapore in the calculation of the wholesale prices that are charged by the oil companies is nothing new. For example, certain wholesalers, such as Aloha Petroleum, are already being charged import parity prices by refiners that are based on Singapore. What we're saying is that we want these significantly lower impact for parity wholesale prices that are available to certain large jobbers such as Aloha Petroleum to also be available to other wholesalers, jobbers, and dealers who are getting shortchanged and are being overcharged by the oil companies as far as wholesale prices are concerned in the gasoline market. Again, that's why I think it really makes sense to go with Singapore.

"But you know, Mr. President, the bottom line is this – consumers want and deserve lower gas prices. Supporters of this floor amendment are saying that the pricing formula that is contained in the conference draft would lower gas prices too much, and that the oil companies should be allowed to charge consumers more. I strongly beg to differ with that. Consumers have been paying excessive gasoline prices for too long now. The oil companies have been charging Hawaii consumers gasoline prices that are excessive for too long now. We need to change that situation. We need to go to bat for the consumers, and I believe that the proposal that is contained in the conference draft that this floor amendment would eliminate would accomplish that objective.

"I'd also like to note that passage of this floor amendment would kill and deprive consumers of an important and improved price cap formula that would lower prices by as much as 16 cents per gallon or more if the Governor decides to reinstate our pricing formula. This may please the oil companies, but supporters of this floor amendment need to go back to their constituents during this election year and explain to them why killing this kind of an amendment that could result in significant savings to consumers and prevent vulture companies from charging more, why that is an acceptable result.

"Another flaw in the proposed floor amendment is that it would significantly weaken the transparency provisions that are contained in the conference draft. The floor amendment would allow the oil companies to notify the public about changes in wholesale prices on a monthly basis as opposed to on a weekly basis. What this means is that under the floor amendment, the public may only see a posting of average wholesale prices on a monthly basis by the oil companies and not see the full impact of significant price spikes that may occur on a weekly basis.

"So, this is another reason why I think we need to take a step back because we tried to address the concerns of the House. We passed out strong transparency provisions and this floor amendment would weaken it.

"Mr. President, in closing I just wanted to ask my colleagues to consider one additional factor which is that if we should reject this floor amendment, that it would send a strong signal to the House that we should move out the conference draft that your Conferees passed out on Friday. It's my understanding that the House is awaiting this Floor vote of the Senate and I'm confident that if we reject this floor amendment that the House will do the same with respect to a companion floor amendment that they are now considering and that accordingly we'll be able to move out the conference draft which House and Senate Conferees had agreed to in good faith on Friday – we shook hands about this over the table on Friday – and by doing so we would be passing out a fair and balanced proposal that also adequately takes into account the interest of the consumers.

"I'd like to thank all of the members of the Senate who stood with me in the effort to put a law on the books that addressed the concerns that have been raised while continuing to provide the consumers of Hawaii a measure of protection and a way to monitor the behavior of the oil companies to determine if they have fallen back into the past behavior of charging excessive prices for an essential resource. I ask my fellow colleagues to continue supporting the conference draft that would give the people of our state the information and the protection they deserve. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the amendment as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the amendment.

"The amendment that lies before us here, Mr. President, replaces the conference draft 1 with conference draft 2, and I'd like to thank the Chair of the Consumer Protection Committee for working long and hard. I acknowledge that. It's not an easy issue to deal with. The public is divided – is the gas cap, as currently devised, working? Others have said perhaps it could be re-devised to work better. Critics say it's re-devising what would only be more harm than good.

"I'm not going to speak to the process or procedural considerations, but we're here to do good policy, Mr. President, and acknowledge some of the points made by the previous speaker that relate to how we do our work here in the Legislature. Can we build confidence in our consumers out there that what ends up passing out of this Body will be a good bill? There are basically only a few provisions in here that improve, in this proposed amendment, improve the long and hard work for a conference draft. There's no question the $500,000 to help the PUC and the positions do a better job, to do a good job to continue the monitoring, to continue to bring transparency, that seems like it would help the measure immensely. The conference draft on the Floor prior to any amendment does not include that provision. So that certainly is an improvement.

"There've been concerns whether it's Singapore squeezing somebody by so many cents or so many dollars, this, that, the other thing. Those are the things that deteriorate the confidence level of people in the industry as well as people in the public. This amendment simplifies the measure. I believe by simplifying the measure to say let's continue the current system, have the PUC continue to monitor . . . and the PUC could, in their wisdom, look at other measures that's already allowed. The PUC can do Singapore. They can do other combinations and consumer groups can do that as well.

"Mr. President, basically, let's build confidence and if it proves we stay with the existing system in terms of what the structure is a few months from now, a few years from now, we'll see if the gas cap as was in place was working or the PUC will say it can work better provided that. But at this point, Mr. President, let's go with this simpler version and I ask my colleagues to support this floor amendment that suspends the cap, allows the PUC to do their job and lets consumers see what works and what doesn't. Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the amendment and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the floor amendment.

"Mr. President, I would like to say that the Chair of Consumer Protection and Housing, the good Senator from Mililani, did come a far ways from when he originally began as the person who wanted to keep the gas cap intact. I voted WR on his original bill on the promise that he would look at it, and that he has.

"However, what we have before us in the floor amendment concentrates on one specific issue, and that is the issue of the addition of the weekly average price of the spot daily price of the conventional regular unleaded gasoline for Singapore. That is really what is of issue. That is the issue of the condition of Singapore into this index.

"I have reviewed the letter by Mr. Hamilton, who has been identified as the person who CPH has been working with. He says, 'The Singapore cost comparison is most appropriate because Hawaii refiners, like Singapore, use Asian oil to produce gasoline.' Now what does that tell us? It tells us the price that we're looking at is the price of gasoline in Asia. And that is why we received, or I believe this is something that not all of us received but I just got a copy of it, it is from the PUC, an entity called ICF International, which is the PUC's consultant. The PUC's consultant writes in response to a statement made by the Chair of CPH and they admit that ICF did recommend the use of Singapore gasoline prices as one of the two baseline price benchmarks. The other was the Caribbean price.

"However, they go on to say, 'ICF emphatically recommended that those price bases should be used with a more accurate assessment of the average cost of freight to move the product from the Caribbean and Singapore to markets to Hawaii. We proposed a formula based on actual freight quotes from the Caribbean and Singapore to the West Coast adjusted to a Hawaii location. These costs are required to be included to reflect the real import parity cost into Hawaii. Senator Menor's inclusion of the Singapore price does not also include a commensurate location adjustment,' and this is the PUC's entity saying that. They said we need to reflect the cost to deliver competitive products to Hawaii.

"Let us understand what we're doing, what we're telling the consumers. That's what we're all interested in. No one here wants not – not – to get lower gas prices to their constituents. Believe me, we all want to do that. But we also want to be very accurate and fair and transparent in what we're telling our constituents that's happening here, and what is at issue with this floor amendment is Singapore. That is what this floor amendment is looking at. What the consumers need to know when we provide this benchmark is that the information we're giving them is comparable and accurate. By the ICF, which is the PUC's entity, they're saying we're not doing that.

"Let's also understand a little bit about how the gasoline prices are arrived at. The crude oil that Hawaii uses, it is my understanding, is a higher quality because our gasoline is really like the byproduct. What we primarily refine here is jet fuel and secondary diesel, and then gasoline. For those who are also aware of PRI, what was formerly PRI, the Gas Company, does what they call the syn gas – that's the synthetic gas that is used like propane in our homes – that's also a byproduct. But our primary product is jet fuel. That's always been understood. That means we also buy a higher quality of crude in order to do that.

“Singapore’s prices are a reflection of gasoline, of course, they’re buying from Indonesia, like we do. Apparently we buy a lot of oil from Indonesia, not Singapore. Singapore also buys from the Asia market. And remember, that’s exactly what Mr. Hamilton said. Hawaii refiners, like Singapore, use Asian oil to produce gasoline, but we buy a higher quality.

“It is my understanding that for the cost of gasoline, 55 percent is the cost of crude oil, 22 percent is refining, 4 percent is distribution and marketing and 19 percent is taxes. So when we look at this, what are we telling people when we use Singapore independent of any other kind of adjustment? We’re telling them Singapore, which has of course the ability to mass produce, doesn’t have the environmental laws we have in Hawaii, and therefore their cost of gasoline production is going to be low. And we’re just using the cost of unleaded in Singapore. Now, is that giving the people here a fair assessment about what’s going on? It’s not.

“So all I’m saying is the reason why floor amendment 14, I believe, is necessary is because if we are doing our job of giving the information to our constituents that they should have, let’s be honest about it. The PUC’s consultant ends by saying, ‘ICF strongly agrees with Representative Morita and Representative Souki that any formula should be left off the books until more pricing information can be gathered and studied.’ We don’t have enough information about Singapore. We have all these questions. We don’t have enough information about all the other pricing information that they’ve used. And if what we are doing here is suspending the gas cap – which is what I believe this underlying bill is doing, we’re suspending the gas cap – then let’s not get it confused by saying that we somehow are going to create a lower gas price, because remember, the only person who can create that lower gas price under this bill is going to be the Governor. The Governor is going to have to lift it.

“So what information do we all want the Governor to have, us to have, and more importantly than all of us, our constituents and the consumers to have? We want them to have accurate information – information that we can literally go to the bank on. Because if we don’t have that, we are going to have the same confusion we’ve had on the present gas cap. We’re going to say, ‘ah, it’s Katrina; ah, we don’t buy our oil from there; we don’t do this.’ If that’s the case, why wasn’t it in the beginning? But if that’s the situation, let’s not make the same mistakes again. Let’s learn from our mistake. Let’s give the consumers the accurate information they need, give us the accurate information we need, and do not simply go on something that isn’t well thought out that even whether we like the PUC or not, we have to give some credibility to their experts who are saying this is not the thing for us to do. We are not to put in Singapore when they don’t have enough information for that adjustment. It is not the same market. It is gas manufactured or refined in an area without EPA laws, without the same constraints we have, without the costs that we are associated with and let us just be fair.

“We have to be fair in our assessment or we and the consumers, the consumers, are not going to get a clear picture and we’re going to have another, another situation of people being thoroughly confused about this gas cap. And remember, the underlying bill, no matter what happens, the C.D. 2 suspends it. So when we talk about lowering prices, you’re talking about the Governor having the right information to basically yank it. And that’s what we’re talking about.

“Let’s not hurt everyone in this process. Let’s be prudent. Let’s be careful, and that is what this floor amendment seeks to do. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Menor rose in rebuttal as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d just like offer a few brief points of rebuttal and also points for clarification with respect to the previous speaker’s remarks.

“First of all, I’d like emphasize again that with respect to the inclusion of Singapore for the purposes of calculating the price cap or pricing formula, the PUC’s own consultant made clear that they support the inclusion of Singapore. That’s clear. That’s stated in the PUC consultant’s letter and, in addition, that’s stated in the PUC consultant’s report.

“In addition, I’d like to emphasize that the consultant’s concerns about the price formula not including additional location adjustments that could increase the price cap if Singapore were included in the baseline, that concern was taken into account when we included not only Singapore in the pricing formula but also two out of three other markets – the Gulf Coast, New York and the West Coast spot markets. Three of them would have to be averaged on a weekly basis to come up with the baseline for the pricing formula. So, by doing that, what will happen is that the pricing formula, I emphasize – the pricing formula – is not just going to be based on the Singapore price for conventional gasoline. It’s going to be a higher amount or higher price given the fact that if you average in the price of conventional gasoline being sold by refiners in mainland markets, which tend to be higher than the Singapore prices, that’s automatically going to allow the oil companies and wholesalers in Hawaii to charge prices that are higher than the Singapore spot. So, for that reason, we didn’t include an initial location just for the fact that it’s referenced by the PUC because it consulted in its letter, along with any other adjustments that would increase the price ceiling and will allow the oil companies to charge significant amounts above the Singapore price because we already have accomplished that under our pricing formula.

“I’d also like to emphasize that this pricing formula is no longer mandatory and no longer binding. So once this bill gets passed into law, the oil companies can set prices as high or as low as they want. The issue here is if the Governor should decide to reinstate pricing regulation in the future, at what level should the price regulation or price ceiling be? Before I get into that issue, let me first of all state that as far as getting the price regulation reinstated, I am sure that the Governor will exercise considerable restraint, prudence and caution before she reinstates any pricing regulation because of the concerns that she has expressed about our gas price cap law. So that should add a lot more comfort to those who have questioned our pricing formula that a law can be implemented that could somehow hurt the oil companies and consumers financially.

“However, I’d like to point out that prior to reinstatement of the law; we have given the Governor the broad discretion to increase the price ceiling if she believed that it was necessary. She can also consult with the Public Utilities Commission which could then take a look at the pricing formula, and under our proposal the PUC would retain their existing power to make adjustments upward in the price ceiling if they felt it was necessary to prevent economic hardship. And in that regard, I know that our existing law is already working well in that regard.

“Last September, as you know, Mr. President, House and Senate Leadership received a letter from the Public Utilities Commission indicating that a jobber on Kauai, Central Petroleum, shortly after the implementation of the gas pricing regulation in September, said that they would go out of business and no longer be able to supply gasoline to the Kauai market if the PUC did not make adjustments upward or increase the price ceiling on what they call zone price adjustments for the Kauai jobbers on that island. In other words, the Kauai jobbers were saying we need to be able to charge higher wholesale prices or be able to charge more under the price ceiling if we're going to continue to be able to supply gasoline to Kauai. We received the letter in early September. One day later the PUC responds and accommodates the jobber's request and revises and increases the price ceiling or price cap upwards for Kauai. We've prevented a certain supply disruption that the Kauai jobber had expressed concerns about.

"So, it shows that our existing law is working, and to make it even better, we're giving the Governor the power to increase prices further. I disagree with that, but if that would give a further comfort level to my colleagues who feel that the pricing formula doesn't allow oil companies to charge enough, well the Governor can make that decision to increase the price ceiling as appropriate to avoid any economic dislocations.

"I would also like to point out that the letter that was submitted by the PUC consultant, while it expresses concerns in regards to the extent to which the Senate Conferees relied on the PUC's recommendations, does not disagree, but does not rebut Mr. Hamilton's analysis, which is that under our pricing formula, if the Governor should decide to reinstate pricing regulation, that the oil companies and wholesalers would be able to enjoy profit margins that would be more than fair and reasonable and that would still be in excess of the profit margin that they're earning in more competitive markets on the mainland. So again, our pricing formula is definitely fair.

"And finally, in regards to the letter from the PUC consultant, I would like to point out that it does acknowledge what supporters of pricing regulation have been saying, which is that under our pricing formula, if reinstated, that that formula would significantly reduce gas prices by as much as 16 cents per gallon or more.

"So the issue is this, do we support a measure that gives the Governor the power to reinstate the gas price cap or to reinstate a gas pricing formula that would reduce gasoline prices for Hawaii's consumers by as much as 16 cents per gallon or more. This floor amendment, if passed, would effectively prevent consumers from realizing those cost savings, and for those reasons, I strongly urge my colleagues to vote in favor of the conference draft by rejecting this particular floor amendment. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the amendment as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this amendment.

"Mr. President, the good Senator from Waianae, in her usual articulate, lawyeress manner, spoke well about her position on this issue. She requested that we be honest, have some transparency . . . amen, amen. Let's be honest. I'll be honest. I got a call from a lobbyist from an oil company this morning who said that she's working real hard on this and wanted me to vote in favor of it. And to what ends, to what ends? Is this about what's good for the oil companies? Or is this about what's good for the consumers of the State of Hawaii? Or is this about petty politics here at the State Capitol? Let's have some transparency. Let's answer those questions.

"It's no secret where this Caucus stands on the price cap, and we've worked with both interest groups of the Majority Party on this. The Senator from Mililani is exactly right. He did compromise a lot. I imagine it was a tough pill for him to swallow. Many of us on this Floor had the courage to be transparent and honest about it and stood for what we thought was good legislation on behalf of the consumers of this State of Hawaii. But let's be honest – that's not what this is about.

"This amendment really is going to make no difference in the bigger picture. What this amendment is all about is petty, petty politics. I would suggest the Majority Party members vote with a little bit of honor and dignity on this issue and enforce what was agreed upon in Conference Committee rather than playing these games with the consumers.

"I urge my colleagues to please put aside the partisanship, put aside the bickering, vote this amendment down. It doesn't have a thing to do with the price of oil and is all to do with politics. I urge you to vote this amendment down. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Taniguchi rose in support with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this bill with reservations.

"I must support this amendment because it includes the agreed upon funding for the monitoring, analysis and reporting program that was left out in the final draft of this bill. I'm caught in a dilemma because as Conference Co-Chair I feel that the other amendments were not part of the agreement. Thank you."

At 1:29 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:35 o'clock p.m.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, thanks for the short recess and all the speeches, but I'm going to vote 'no.'

"Here's the reason why I'm going to vote 'no' – because my constituents want a repeal of the gas cap. I've heard a lot of confusing rhetoric go down on this Floor and that's all that has come forward is just total confusion. The people of this state over and over again have said they want a repeal of the gas cap and not more confusion.

"So, for that reason, because I believe in my constituents, I'm going to vote 'no' on this amendment, and when this bill comes forward and if it doesn't say we're going to repeal the gas cap, I will vote 'no' again on Thursday. Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Menor rose and said:

"Mr. President, I just wanted to offer some brief remarks."

The President interjected:

"Senator Menor, you have spoken twice on this issue."

Senator Espero rose to speak in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to rise in opposition to this amendment.

"First, I'd like to comment on a couple newspaper articles I cut out this weekend – Exxon's $8.4 billion quarterly profit fuels anger; Chevron profits hit $4 billion for the quarter. These profits are being paid by the citizens of the US and the citizens of Hawaii. This is the reason why this issue came before us many, many years ago starting with the former Governor Ben Cayetano when he took the oil companies to task and after that he decided to look at legislation. We are continuing that process of how we can deal with the high price of gasoline within our state.

“Once we repeal or suspend the gas price regulations, expect the prices to continue to go up and don’t be surprised, colleagues, if in the very near future you are seeing $4.00 a gallon. That’s very reasonable and some of my colleagues on the neighbor island are already saying that we are seeing those costs, those figures.

“So, what will we do in the interim? What Hawaii has started, in my opinion, has turned into a national discussion, a national debate from Honolulu to Washington, D.C. President Bush and our Congress are now trying to determine how to deal with this issue that all our citizens are concerned about. We are at the forefront. We have pioneered solutions, ideas. We do not know what the ultimate solution will be. However, we must continue to move forward with what we have done because next Session we will be debating this same topic on how to deal with the high price of gasoline. And this is a quality of life issue for our state and for our children and future generations.

“Mr. President, whether we keep Singapore in or out, prices will continue to rise. But I believe we should keep Singapore in because if the intent is to lower the price of gasoline, then why not add a fourth market which many people may think may be low and drive down the price of gasoline. Isn’t that our intention – to drive down the price of gasoline? So, instead of using the three markets, which we are currently doing, we will have four markets. We will throw out the top – the fourth or the number one, the highest – and base it on the lower three. That seems logical. That seems like a way to drive down the price of gas.

“And with the transparency that we’re talking about in the measure, we will be able to determine where the money is going – follow the money, as we have all heard. Are the retailers making the money? Are the jobbers? Are the big oil companies? Where are the profits going?

“Then of course you have the discussion of free enterprise, free market, should government be involved in setting prices? Yes, we do. We do look at electric rates, for example, for the State of Hawaii for our residents. We look at insurance that an employer pays. So why not look at gasoline prices especially in light of the articles that talk about the billion-dollar profits of our gasoline companies.

“So colleagues, let’s do what I believe is the logical thing to do. Let’s not pass this amendment, because by passing this amendment, I believe we would be helping the oil companies more and hurting the people of Hawaii with this amendment. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hooser rose in support of the amendment and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this amendment.

“First of all, I’d like to start by thanking the Chair of the CPH Committee for all the hard work. I know that he’s been really committed and dedicated to this issue for many years. I appreciate the movement that he has made to accommodate many of the desires and wishes of the majority on the Floor here. I thank him for that. However, in my opinion it does not go far enough, which is why I’m supporting this amendment.

“I think I, like many, have much in common with the people who spoke before me. Like many others, I feel the consumers deserve lower gas prices, and I believe oil companies are reaping excessive profits, but I am not convinced and I don’t believe the public is convinced that the gas price regulation, as it has been implemented, is working. I think it’s very clear that there is no consensus; there is confusion; there’s a lack of faith and confidence, hence, this is why we’re here today.

“I believe if our intent is to kill the gas cap, and by suspending it, which is included in this bill, we effectively kill it for today, pending future events. If we are going to kill it and suspend it, I suggest that we should do it right; we should make it as clean as possible and limit the confusion.

“I believe the fair market evaluation formula, which incorporates Singapore, and the other measures is not the way to keep it clean. I think it keeps it murky. We don’t really know what that formula will involve. There’s speculation that it will be too low, possibly it could be too high. In either case, additional unintended consequences may come forward.

“I believe the process has been rushed, not properly thought through or tested over time, and as the previous speakers indicated, I think it would be prudent, prudent to remove these provisions, take the time that’s necessary to study the issue, and address it in a future Legislative Session.

“For these reasons and others, I’m encouraging my colleagues to vote in support of the amendment. Thank you.”

Senator Whalen rose to oppose the amendment as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

“Just one note for the good Senator from Kauai who thinks we haven’t talked this through enough or haven’t studied enough, before he was elected to this august Body, we were discussing this. In fact the first original bill was passed before it got to the Senate.

“It is interesting to know we heard the plea and the cry for honest and we need honestly here, we need accurate information. In that election after this bill was passed, there was a mailer that was mailed out to every House race that had a Republican appointed for the Democrat. In that mail out it said that your Republican opponent voted to support big oil and then it says the Republican Party has received millions of dollars; they don’t support you, the Hawaii resident. That was mailed out to everyone whether they were in office or not, it didn’t matter, or if they voted for the gas cap or against it, it didn’t matter.

“And a lot of those tight races were lost by the Republicans and that’s not the issue in and of itself, but here we have a Body . . .”

Senator Tsutsui interjected:

“Mr. President, could the speaker please keep his comments to the amendment before us. I don’t believe any of that is in the floor amendment.”

Senator Whalen replied:

“I’m responding to the discussions we’ve had. I’m responding . . .”

The Chair interjected: “Senator Whalen.”

“So in our effort to be honest and have accurate information, the original bill or the C.D. 1, rather, is much more accurate or requires much more accurate information from the oil companies and we’re asking to shine a light down into a dark hole that we do not think about. So we need that transparency, that information to see if the gas cap, if it were active, if it would be working or not. This is a situation where the gas cap, if you step back and look at it unemotionally, you'll see that it has been working if you take into account the different events that have been going on. And the gas cap, I always felt, was too high from the very beginning.

"So, if the gas cap is suspended and we have a Governor, if she is reelected, who hates the gas cap, she probably never will impose it unless the people of this state demand it. We're not going to impose it. It's been suspended. It has no affect on the price. The oil companies can set a price wherever they're at. Why are we passing this bill to water down the formula back to the way it was and keep the cap up high? It makes no sense.

"So in our effort to be honest, who is pushing for this bill to be passed? I had no, not one, constituent contact me about this, about this amendment, or anything else. In fact I had more people contacting me about keeping the cap because they don't trust the oil companies. So when you look at who's pushing for this to be passed, it's big oil, gas distributors. There's no cap. What do they care? Because they know it's effective. It's fighting the way they've gouged us for years.

"And so, to tie it in for the good Senator from Maui who thought I was talking in the opposite direction, you can't have it both ways. You can't vote against the gas cap and be for big oil and then vote to get rid of the gas cap and not be for big oil. And that's the consistency, the accurate information and the honesty that we need. To vote for this amendment is a vote for big oil – flat out, simple, that's the way it is. Thank you very much."

At 1:47 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:49 o'clock p.m.

At this time Senator Tsutsui withdrew Floor Amendment No. 14 and his motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 14, and Senator Sakamoto withdrew his second.

The President then announced:

"Floor Amendment No. 14 is withdrawn."

At 1:51 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:52 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 236-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 3115, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PETROLEUM INDUSTRY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 25-06 (S.B. No. 2006, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kokubun moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 25-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2006, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Hee requested a waiver of the filing requirement for floor amendments pursuant to Senate Rule 54(2), and the President granted the waiver.

Senator Hee then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 15) to S.B. No. 2006, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 2006, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, is amended by amending section 1 to read as follows:

"SECTION 1. In recent years, the number of edible opihi found in Hawaii has declined. The popularity of opihi as a delicacy has led to overharvesting on the island of Oahu and has made opihi difficult to find on the neighbor islands.

The blackfoot opihi (Cellana exarata), also known as 'makaiauli,' once the most common limpet in Hawaiian waters, is found in the upper wash of waves. The yellowfoot opihi (Cellana sandwicensis), also known as 'alinalina,' is the preferred species for eating. It is found in the wash of waves, roughly between the habitats of the blackfoot opihi and koele, the third type of edible opihi in Hawaii. Koele is also known as the 'kneecap' opihi (Cellana talcosa). There is also a fourth type of opihi (Cellana melanostoma) observed in Kaua'i that probably also could be found in Niihau.

Although opihi can be collected year-round, opihi shells must be at least one and a quarter inches wide, or the meat must be at least a half-inch wide, to be legally harvested in Hawaii.

The purpose of this Act is to prohibit the sale of all Hawaiian species of edible opihi, subject to an exemption for certain opihi shells used to make jewelry [and for residents of any populated island that is privately owned and has a population of five hundred or less]."

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 2006, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, is amended by amending section 2 to read as follows:

"SECTION 2. Section 188-42.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"~~[(§)188-42.5]~~ Hihiwai, hapawai, opihi, and opae kala'ole selling prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person at any time to sell or offer for sale any hihiwai, hapawai, opih, ~~[and] or opae kala'ole~~ taken from any of the waters within the jurisdiction of the State. ~~[- provided that it shall not be unlawful for a resident of any populated island that is privately owned and has a population of five hundred or less to sell or offer for sale any amount of opihi.]~~ It shall be presumed that the taking of more than one-half gallon per person per day of opihi, as measured with its shell on, from any of the waters within the jurisdiction of the State, is for the purpose of selling or offering to sell opihi.

As used in this section, 'opih' means all known Hawaiian opihi species, including Cellana exarata (blackfoot), Cellana sandwicensis (yellowfoot), Cellana talcosa (koele), and Cellana melanostoma.

The prohibition to sell or offer for sale any opihi as provided by this section shall not apply to opihi shells at least one and one-fourth inches in diameter, sold or offered for sale as a curio or jewelry, or as part of a curio or jewelry; provided that the taking of the opihi for these purposes is in compliance with this section."

Senator Hee moved that Floor Amendment No. 15 be adopted, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee noted:

"Mr. President and colleagues, there appears to be some difference with the Department of Land and Natural Resources. They have indicated some reservations about the way the present bill is worded. So I'm offering an amendment to clarify language and to address the concerns that have been raised by the Department of Land and Natural Resources.”

Senator English rose in opposition to the amendment and said:

“Mr. President, first of all, I rise in opposition.

“I’m making it very clear that what we’re doing here is removing the exemption from Ni`ihau for the people of Ni`ihau to harvest opihi. This is the opihi bill that we’re talking about.

“I want to point out that the department sent an e-mail to the Senator from Kaneohe a few days ago expressing these concerns. They’ve had the whole Session to do this, but they chose at the last moment to bring these forward.

“Nonetheless, we have to be very cognizant that the small population of Ni`ihau relies on the fact that they harvest opihi. In the old days they used to trade this opihi for poi on Northern Kauai because the island is too dry to raise taro. They don’t have the water resources. Today, they take opihi and they sell it because the taro growers need money. They sell that opihi for their poi and take the poi back to the island. While this affects a very small percentage of our population, this is their sustenance.

“The department is objecting because they’re saying that well, there are no holders of commercial marine licenses on Ni`ihau. I suppose that’s true. They haven’t translated their licensing requirements into Hawaiian yet, so the people there have a very hard time understanding their requirements. I suppose that the department will be translating their forms and requirements into Hawaiian so that all of our citizens can understand they need.

“Nonetheless, I’m against this particular motion because I think we have to protect the interest of the people of Ni`ihau. For those who have committed to supporting it, I can release you from that commitment to support this. I’m doing this really as a way to let the people there know that we will not let this issue pass, that we will revisit it next year to make sure that there is an exemption for them.

“Nonetheless, I also feel that the constitutional guarantee of customary and traditional practices will trump this bill if it is ever challenged. That is to say that this ancient practice of trading opihi for poi and now selling opihi for taro and poi for them to eat, notwithstanding this law, is guaranteed by the Constitution so that the people of Ni`ihau can continue to gather their sustenance. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 15 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Hee moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 25-06 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

Senator Fukunaga requested her remarks be inserted into the Journal, and the Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the entire package of Identity Theft bills and ask that these remarks be inserted in the Journal for S.B. No. 2158, C.D. 1; S.B. No. 2159, C.D. 1; S.B. No. 2290, C.D. 1; S.B. No. 2292, C.D. 1; S.B. No. 2293, C.D. 1; H.B. No. 1871, C.D. 1; H.B. No. 2535, S.D. 2, and H.B. No. 3244, C.D. 1:

"These measures were introduced as a result of the work of the Hawaii Anti-Phishing Task Force, established by Act 65, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, to develop state policy on how best to prevent further occurrences of phishing and other forms of electronic commerce-based crimes in the State. The Task Force examined state agencies charged with the responsibility of developing policies, procedures and operations to prevent, monitor, and enforce electronic commerce-based criminal activities and sanctions; reviewed other jurisdictions' activities, policies, and laws related to the prevention of electronic commerce-based crimes; and reviewed a range of options available to deter electronic commerce-based crimes from occurring in the State.

"Through this process the Task Force broadened the scope of its research – and recommendations – to address the rapidly escalating problem of identity theft. For example, just last month we learned that more than 40,000 Hawaii residents who enrolled in certain health and group life insurance plans in 1999 are at risk for identity theft following the theft of some insurance company records. 22,000 private sector employees and 21,500 members of the Hawaii Government Employees Association and the United Public Workers union must now begin the process of it checking their financial records. And for those who find cases of identity theft, the process of clearing their records and restoring their credit may take years.

"The purpose of the bills before you today is to provide substantial protections from identity theft for the residents of Hawaii through a variety of ways:

"S.B. No. 2158, C.D. 1, authorizes government agencies, effective July 1, 2007, to continue to collect, create, or maintain records or documents containing an individual's social security number in the course of carrying out the agency's legitimate government functions, but agencies may not display the social security numbers in any public record or document that is available for public inspection.

“S.B. No. 2159, C.D. 1, makes it a class C felony to intentionally or knowingly possess confidential information of another without authorization; and adds identity theft as an enumerated offense within the repeat offender statute. It provides our country law enforcement.

“S.B. No. 2290, C.D. 1, requires government and businesses that possess personal information of Hawaii residents and experience a security breach to notify people affected by the breach.

“S.B. No. 2292, C.D. 1, requires businesses and government agencies that dispose of documents and other records containing personal information of Hawaii residents to destroy the records to protect against unauthorized access to or use of the information.

“S.B. No. 2293, C.D. 1, prohibits businesses and government agencies, subject to limited exceptions, from disclosing an individual’s social security number to the general public, printing the number on an identification card or in mailings to customers, or requiring the transmission of the number to third parties.

“In addition, S.B. No. 2290, S.B. No. 2292, and S.B. No. 2293 establish similar penalty provisions to allow the Attorney General or the Office of Consumer Protection to bring a cause of action against any business that violates any provision of this measure, and to seek a penalty of not more than $2,500 for each violation; allow a private cause of action for the sum equal to the actual damages sustained by the injured party; allow the court to award reasonable attorneys’ fees to the prevailing party, and clarify that both penalty actions cannot be brought against a government agency. They also set similar reporting standards for government agencies to submit a written report to the Legislature unless the report will impede a criminal investigation.

“H.B. No. 1871, C.D. 1; allows consumers who are victims of identity theft to place a security freeze on their credit reports, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing any information to unauthorized parties without the consumer’s express authorization and will provide consumers more control over who has access to their credit report. Penalties are comparable to those of S.B. No. 2290, S.B. No. 2292, and S.B. No. 2293: to allow up to $2,500 in penalties for each violation of the new chapter and authorize the Attorney General or the Office of Consumer Protection to bring actions; allow injured parties to bring actions against violators for actual damages caused by the violation; allow reasonable attorneys’ fees for prevailing parties in actions for damages; and provides that the penalties are cumulative to the remedies or penalties available under all other State laws.

“H.B. No. 2535, S.D. 2, amends current Hawaii law for offense of use of a computer in the commission of a separate crime to include use of a computer to obtain control over the property of the victim or to facilitate commission of the offense of theft in the first or second degrees.

“H.B. No. 3244, C.D. 1, makes changes to the task force working on identity theft issues by changing the name to the Identity Theft Task Force, adding additional members, expanding its responsibilities, and extending its life until December 31, 2007. The bill appropriates $50,000 to the Auditor to staff the work of the task force, and $50,000 to the Attorney General to compile a uniform identity theft complaint tracking system.

“Many people have worked on bringing these bills to today’s vote, particularly the members of the Task Force. It has truly been a public-private sector collaboration. While we have much work left to do, these bills provide both a strong foundation in the State’s fight against identity theft; and valuable resources that Hawaii residents can use to protect themselves from financial harm if their financial or personal information is compromised.”

"S.B. No. 2293, C.D. 1, prohibits businesses and government agencies, subject to limited exceptions, from disclosing an individual's social security number to the general public, printing the number on an identification card or in mailings to customers, or requiring the transmission of the number to third parties.

"In addition, S.B. No. 2290, S.B. No. 2292, and S.B. No. 2293 establish similar penalty provisions to allow the Attorney General or the Office of Consumer Protection to bring a cause of action against any business that violates any provision of this measure, and to seek a penalty of not more than $2,500 for each violation; allow a private cause of action for the sum equal to the actual damages sustained by the injured party; allow the court to award reasonable attorneys' fees to the prevailing party, and clarify that both penalty actions cannot be brought against a government agency. They also set similar reporting standards for government agencies to submit a written report to the Legislature unless the report will impede a criminal investigation.

"H.B. No. 1871, C.D. 1; allows consumers who are victims of identity theft to place a security freeze on their credit reports, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing any information to unauthorized parties without the consumer's express authorization and will provide consumers more control over who has access to their credit report. Penalties are comparable to those of S.B. No. 2290, S.B. No. 2292, and S.B. No. 2293: to allow up to $2,500 in penalties for each violation of the new chapter and authorize the Attorney General or the Office of Consumer Protection to bring actions; allow injured parties to bring actions against violators for actual damages caused by the violation; allow reasonable attorneys' fees for prevailing parties in actions for damages; and provides that the penalties are cumulative to the remedies or penalties available under all other State laws.

"H.B. No. 2535, S.D. 2, amends current Hawaii law for offense of use of a computer in the commission of a separate crime to include use of a computer to obtain control over the property of the victim or to facilitate commission of the offense of theft in the first or second degrees.

"H.B. No. 3244, C.D. 1, makes changes to the task force working on identity theft issues by changing the name to the Identity Theft Task Force, adding additional members, expanding its responsibilities, and extending its life until December 31, 2007. The bill appropriates $50,000 to the Auditor to staff the work of the task force, and $50,000 to the Attorney General to compile a uniform identity theft complaint tracking system.

“Many people have worked on bringing these bills to today’s vote, particularly the members of the Task Force. It has truly been a public-private sector collaboration. While we have much work left to do, these bills provide both a strong foundation in the State’s fight against identity theft; and valuable resources that Hawaii residents can use to protect themselves from financial harm if their financial or personal information is compromised.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 110-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2158, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO IDENTITY THEFT,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 111-06 (S.B. No. 2159, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 111-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2159, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Fukunaga requested her remarks be inserted into the Journal, and the Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the entire package of Identity Theft bills and ask that these remarks be inserted in the Journal for S.B. No. 2158, C.D. 1; S.B. No. 2159, C.D. 1; S.B. No. 2290, C.D. 1; S.B. No. 2292, C.D. 1; S.B. No. 2293, C.D. 1; H.B. No. 1871, C.D. 1; H.B. No. 2535, S.D. 2, and H.B. No. 3244, C.D. 1:

“These measures were introduced as a result of the work of the Hawaii Anti-Phishing Task Force, established by Act 65, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, to develop state policy on how best to prevent further occurrences of phishing and other forms of electronic commerce-based crimes in the State. The Task Force examined state agencies charged with the responsibility of developing policies, procedures and operations to prevent, monitor, and enforce electronic commerce-based criminal activities and sanctions; reviewed other jurisdictions’ activities, policies, and laws related to the prevention of electronic commerce-based crimes; and reviewed a range of options available to deter electronic commerce-based crimes from occurring in the State.

“Through this process the Task Force broadened the scope of its research – and recommendations – to address the rapidly escalating problem of identity theft. For example, just last month we learned that more than 40,000 Hawaii residents who enrolled in certain health and group life insurance plans in 1999 are at risk for identity theft following the theft of some insurance company records. 22,000 private sector employees and 21,500 members of the Hawaii Government Employees Association and the United Public Workers union must now begin the process of it checking their financial records. And for those who find cases of identity theft, the process of clearing their records and restoring their credit may take years.

“The purpose of the bills before you today is to provide substantial protections from identity theft for the residents of Hawaii through a variety of ways:

“S.B. No. 2158, C.D. 1, authorizes government agencies, effective July 1, 2007, to continue to collect, create, or maintain records or documents containing an individual’s social security number in the course of carrying out the agency’s legitimate government functions, but agencies may not display the social security numbers in any public record or document that is available for public inspection.

“S.B. No. 2159, C.D. 1, makes it a class C felony to intentionally or knowingly possess confidential information of another without authorization; and adds identity theft as an enumerated offense within the repeat offender statute. It provides our country law enforcement.

“S.B. No. 2290, C.D. 1, requires government and businesses that possess personal information of Hawaii residents and experience a security breach to notify people affected by the breach.

“S.B. No. 2292, C.D. 1, requires businesses and government agencies that dispose of documents and other records containing personal information of Hawaii residents to destroy the records to protect against unauthorized access to or use of the information.

“S.B. No. 2293, C.D. 1, prohibits businesses and government agencies, subject to limited exceptions, from disclosing an individual’s social security number to the general public, printing the number on an identification card or in mailings to customers, or requiring the transmission of the number to third parties.

FINAL READING

S.B. No. 2913, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

Senator English moved that S.B. No. 2913, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This bill could properly be called a union expansion jobs bill. What it does is require that 50 percent or more of the jobs on these projects be given to only licensed electrical and plumbing contractors. What it's going to do is increase the cost of the project. It doesn't make the project any better, any safer, and it's definitely going to harm consumers. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 2913, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 2913, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTRACTORS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Menor).

S.B. No. 3066, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

Senator Espero moved that S.B. No. 3066, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"It's very interesting. This bill will allow a 50 percent increase in the interest rates charged by Hawaii banks and financial institutions. The arguments that were advanced earlier about this bill is by the architect of the gasoline cap, as a matter of fact, was that if we don't do this, the banks will suffer; they will be noncompetitive; they may close down; they may leave the State because they won't be able to charge the going rate.

"What this bill does is increase that going rate of 50 percent to 24 percent and it allows the local banks to compete with others because what federal law says is that you must use the interest rate in your particular jurisdiction. I would be all for this bill if it removed the caps altogether, but it doesn't. It does so selectively and again it's going to cost consumers of Hawaii more money. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 3066, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 3066, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTEREST AND USURY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 6 (Chun Oakland, Hemmings, Hogue, Hooser, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Menor).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 12-06 (S.B. No. 427, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Inouye moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 12-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 427, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Whalen rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

"We had a bill very similar to this a number of years ago when then Governor Cayetano vetoed it echoing many of the concerns that we had, but they're very practical reasons. With a lot of carpooling and things that go on, especially on the neighbor islands where we don't have public transportation, we're going to be sending our kids to school with their lunch box, their school books, and a backpack and now they've got to strap on their booster seat because someone else might be taking them home that day or for smaller schools when they go out on field trips and things like that. No one would argue that there's not a safer situation, but at some point, just like the fact that we don't outlaw grease in our hamburgers because it's just impractical, this is just extremely impractical for a large family or families that carpool together, different families carrying other the kids around, to have to keep shifting around these booster seats all the time. We're strapping them in, strapping them out, moving the seats in and out of cars and kids taking them to school.

"We should vote 'no' because of our consideration for the moms and dads and the families that are working together and how difficult it will make life for them. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"The second reason you should consider voting 'no' is that it's unworkable. It looks at age and size. Quite frankly, age shouldn't matter. What does make sense is size. Unfortunately, when you look at the height requirement, I think it was 4-9. The reason, I guess, you limit it to those that are eight years old or less is because maybe your grandmother or aunty might be extremely upset if she had to be driven around in a booster seat. (Laughter.)

"So, you know, let's think about what we're trying to do. It's not about age. Safety, in this case in automobile accidents, is about size, but we're not doing it. We're discriminating on the basis of age and that is not a good basis for law. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 12-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 427, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHILD PASSENGER SAFETY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 6 (Hemmings, Hogue, Kim, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Menor).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 29-06 (S.B. No. 2298, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 29-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2298, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Espero.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Wow, this is quite a bill. It penalizes any electrician or plumber who advertises who does not have a license. The penalty is $1,000 or 40 percent of the total contract price, whichever is greater, for each day that any such ad would run. That seems pretty sobering.

"In addition, however, it adds aiding or abetting as a violation of the chapter, and what that does is to penalize someone for being associated, however tenuously, with someone who is unlicensed and who violates it. This violates the legal principle that actual wrongdoers should be punished and not innocent bystanders. No provision in here is exculpatory for associated people such as realtors or property managers who may unknowingly or unwittingly hire someone that is unlicensed. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 29-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2298, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHAPTER 448E, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Menor).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 49-06 (S.B. No. 2260, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 49-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2260, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Hemmings rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this legislation.

"Mr. President, in doing so I want to briefly tell our colleagues that this is a huge victory for the law-abiding people of Hawaii, and I want to heap particular praise upon the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, the good Senator from Waianae, for her leadership on this effort.

"As we all know, when this bill left the Senate it was a strong measure that was going to put three-time repeat felon convicted perpetrators behind bars for a mandatory sentencing. It got to the House and it was pretty much neutered or castrated. It would allow defendants or their attorneys to impose a mitigated sentence upon request to the judges, and of course we have judges that say, oh my gosh, yes, you are a poor criminal that had a bad upbringing or whatever the excuse may be and there would be no mandatory sentence.

"Under the leadership of the good Senator from Waianae, the Conference Committee amended the bill and put back into it the mandatory aspects of it. So, I think there should be praise where praise is due and I wish to congratulate her on her leadership on this issue. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 2260, C.D. 1.

"Mr. President, I'd like to thank, of course, the good Senator from Maunawili for his nice comments. However, I've always felt that this bill was misnamed by people who called it the three strikes bill. It really is special sentencing for habitual violent felons.

"When this bill originally came to us, it was 33 pages long. It not only contained the enhanced sentence of the 30 years mandatory, it also contained a whole bunch of other provisions regarding increasing sentences as well as when repeat offenders would be counted twice and so forth. The Senate position was that we decided the most critical part of this and what the people of this State wanted us to address was the issue of the habitual violent felons.

"As this measure moved out from the Senate into the House and into Conference, what changes were made were that we began to look seriously at the various categories that were listed, and there were, by the way, only eight. They have to be three separate offenses – three separate. Unlike California and other places, these are specific major violent felonies which have to be done three separate times before this mandatory minimum would kick in. Out of Conference there were further changes made – for example, carrying of a firearm, which was originally part of it, was dropped, as well as the promotion of sex abuse was also dropped, and what we have are the remaining categories.

“The one category that was added back in, with a caveat that it could not in and of itself on three separate occasions count for the mandatory minimum, was burglary in the first degree. Mr. President, I know that my colleagues have received a lot of e-mails and criticisms about the concept of burglary, and I think it’s time that we understand why burglary in the first degree was included. For most people, when they are faced with crime, the crime that they have to deal with is burglary. And especially for the elderly, when they are hit by a burglar in their home, it is the closest that they feel to an actual physical invasion of their space. I happened to be talking to someone about this one day, and she, a very liberal Democrat, said that ‘til today, when she thinks about being burglarized 15 years ago, she breaks into a cold sweat. She explained to me that it was akin to being raped. She said it was like the closest she could imagine because her personal private space had been invaded.

“We could not, the Conferees, Mr. President, could not accept three separate burglary in the first degree counts to add up to the mandatory minimum. So what we said was, all three could not be – you could have two or you could have one, but all three could not be burglary to get this mandatory minimum sentence.

“There are issues also in this bill. This bill sunsets in the year 2011, and in the meantime we are going to get data. It’s mandatory for the judiciary to give us data on the number of defendants sentenced under this Act and the number of people who were not only sentenced but where they fell in terms of the various categories. In addition to that, public safety is mandated to do the sentencing simulation model which they haven’t done since the year 2000. These are all to address the concerns about what’s the cost. You hear a lot about cost, but no one knows because no one has kept this data. But with this, we will know.

“It is estimated by the Attorney General’s Office that we may have, at best, 200 people who may fall into this category right now. But the 200 people, think about it, have committed violent offenses – violent offenses in the nature of murder, manslaughter, assault, kidnapping, sexual assault in the first degree, continuous sexual assault of a minor under the age of 14, robbery, and, of course, burglary just to name a few.

“This is what this bill is about, Mr. President – it’s about putting away those habitual violent felons. And we are making the statement that if they fit into these categories, they are exactly that – they are habitual violent felons.

“Mr. President, I ask that you and my colleagues support this measure because it sends a very clear message as to the fact that Hawaii is taking a position on these offenses and both the paroling authority and the courts are now required to ensure that there is a minimum jail term for these offenders. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“I thank the Judiciary Chair for considering issues like burglary and perhaps sentencing models and needing more data and sunseting the measure, but I don’t believe it’s right even if perhaps they consider ‘three burglaries not being appropriate.’ I think that’s an improvement, but sadly, drugs are a problem. Our neighbors, our relatives, some of them will get caught in drugs, perhaps get caught in mandatory minimum sentencing, perhaps 30 years, but I believe many people can redeem themselves and 30 years in the slammer doesn’t really allow people to go and get their life back together. I’m not talking about people who are really on the other end of this spectrum, but I don’t believe this gives people a chance, those who can recover, to get rehabilitated and be a productive person in our society.”

Senator Hooser rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“I don’t have a real fancy speech laid out, but I do have some remarks I’d like to speak about. If it truly was for just habitual violent felons, I might feel a little bit different, but I’m not sure about that. Quite frankly, it’s the burglary part that bothers me.

“My mother’s and father’s house was burglarized a couple of months ago in Georgia, and like the Chair of the Judiciary Committee mentioned, they felt extremely violated. They felt very badly and they’re in their mid-seventies. But I believe if you would ask my mother today whether she felt that skinny, drug-addicted young man deserved to go to prison for 30 years for that act, I think she would say no, and I’m going to ask her after this as soon as I can to confirm that.

“I’m concerned about crime just like everybody else is. We obviously have a criminal problem, but doing more of the same I don’t believe is going to solve the problem. On principle and policy, I just cannot support this. I think people are different, all crimes are different, all situations are different, and we need a certain amount of discretion from the judges. What we’re doing now is clearly not working, and doing more of it, I don’t believe will work either.

“We have over 6,200 people in our state behind bars – 39 percent Native Hawaiian, mostly poor. We pay $40,000 per inmate per year – $40,000. We pay $10,000 or so, plus or minus, to educate our children. We pay $40,000 for our inmates. I don’t hear anybody on this Floor complaining that they want results from that $40,000 – how come we don’t get results; we keep spending all this money. We beat up on the schools; we beat up on our kids; no one’s demanding accountability from the prison system. Forty-thousand dollars, we want to spend more of that money – 40,000.

“In mandatory sentencing, 30 years means almost automatic appeals, long court cases, far more expensive trials. We need new approaches to the problem of crime, and mandatory sentencing in the form of three strikes laws is simply representative, in my opinion, of the same old strategies.

“Three strikes is simply a repackaging of past and present attempts to deter crime. States that have had habitual offender laws and recidivist statutes for years. We already have laws on the books that impose stiff penalties up to and including life sentences.

“Yes, punishing a repeat offender more severely than a first-time offender is hard not to support, but mandatory three strike laws, in my opinion and from the research I’ve been able to locate, do not deter crime. Most repeat offenders do not consider the penalties they face before they commit the crime.

This legislation has the potential to backfire and clearly lead to an increase in violence against police as those offenders consider that third strike and consider 30 years mandatory sentencing. They're more likely to resist arrest, kill witnesses, and unfortunately, it may very well lead to more, not less, loss of life. This will also result in an increase on the judicial system and an increase in the cost of imprisonment – $40,000 again, per inmate.

"I understand the sponsors of the bill believe its implementation will protect our society from the most dangerous of felons, but I am concerned that the legislation encompasses a broad range of criminal conduct, perhaps too broad. Even though it doesn't take three burglaries, the bottom line is one burglary can send one person to jail for 30 years. That's really what it amounts to. If it's the third strike, one burglary can send someone to prison for 30 years, whether that's breaking into an empty house or otherwise.

"Punishment should fit the crime. The 8th Amendment to the Bill of Rights set forth the principle of proportionality – the idea that excessive bail should not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted. Mandatory sentencing, the three strikes bill, in my opinion, is excessive.

"This legislation is too closely based on the mistaken belief that focusing on an offender after the crime has been committed will lead to a reduction in the crime rate. I have yet to see the evidence showing this linkage.

"Today, again, we have 6,213 men and women behind bars, over 1,800 of Hawaii's inmates are serving time out-of-state. In my opinion, this will not deter crime. It will cost the state more money. Only when we act to seriously address the conditions that lead so many of our young people to crime and violence, will we then get a reduction in crime.

"Instead of spending $40,000 per inmate to incarcerate, when we start investing in our communities and after-school programs and drug prevention and treatment programs and work seriously to improve the social economic security of our citizens, only then will we be able to realize a safer and more secure society. There aren't enough prison cells in the state to lock everybody up.

"I believe this legislation lacks fiscal prudence and certainly lacks justice and will do little to better public safety. For all these reasons, I will be voting in opposition to this bill. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Espero rose in support and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to rise in support of this measure.

"Mr. President, people in Hawaii are tired of habitual criminals. Plain and simple – we're tired of people who are getting light sentences or getting off for parole, or whatever the case may be, probation.

"This measure will also eliminate those situations where too often you hear 20 arrests, 10 convictions; 30 arrests, 15 convictions; and yet after a few years these people are out in the community. If this measure will put some of these habitual violent criminals behind bars, this is what the people of Hawaii want. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kanno rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the measure.

"I think there are a number of concerns about the bill and one I'd like to raise is the ability of our prison system to manage the current population that they're responsible for. I was recently trying to get the figures about the difficulty in implementing the programs that should be in place in the prisons and the response was that on any given week, programming, which could mean anything from classes to treatment, in prison is cancelled on average something in the order of five of those days because of the situation with the guards. In a given month, with visit days being on Saturdays and Sundays, on an average month there may be 10 possible weekend visit days. The estimate was that an inmate could expect visitors on maybe three of those days with 70 percent of visit days cancelled because of the situation in our prisons.

"I think it's a shared responsibility between the Legislature and the administration in regards to adequately providing programs and prison space for the inmates that are already there not to be compounded by what's being added in this measure. Thank you, Mr. President."

FINAL READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 2006

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 56-06 (H.B. No. 1861, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 56-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 1861, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hogue rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President and colleagues, I rise to urge a 'no' vote from all of you.

"This is a measure that will repeal the requirement that the superintendent of education provide to the board of education an annual report of the principal transactions within the DOE. We heard about a bunch of numbers talked about previously, and you'll remember over the years, sometimes we've had problems deciphering exactly what the numbers are and having an annual report stresses accountability for those specific numbers.

"Now, I've had concerns about this bill as it moved forward in the process and I know that the Chair of Education also had concerns about it and asked for some clarification. Well, that all lead up to this – there was a letter that came down from the policy office and I'll read it for you, it says 'The Governor's Policy Office has met with the Department of Education for clarification on the principal transactions report required. According to the Department of Education, it has been providing these reports to the Board of Education at every regular board meeting over the last 10 years. However, it had not provided such reports to the Legislature or the Governor. During our meeting with the Department of Education, they made an assurance that in the future, principal transaction reports would be given to the Governor at the same frequency that they are provided to the Board of Education. Given the assurance by the Department of Education to provide principal transaction reports to the Governor, we are in approval with the repeal of this particular measure as noted above,' and then listen to this comment, 'with the reservation that the Department of Education fulfill its assurance to file the report.' And therein lies the rub – it's not going to be in statutes. It won't be there. We will not have them statutorily accountable.

"Annual reports do a number of things. Early in my life, I was a CPA and I recognized how important annual reports are because they summarize all of the numbers that come forward. If you give monthly reports all the time, things change and an annual report is a strong number. You have to be accountable for that particular number. So, it summarizes, it amends, it finalizes and – this is probably the most important thing that an annual report does – it gives a proper measuring stick to prior years. Now all we're going to do is have a bunch of monthly reports, which aren't going to mean something because we don't have this statutorily viable annual report that we can measure on every single year.

"So for those reasons, I recommend that you vote 'no' on this particular measure and make the Department of Education accountable on an annual basis. How many times do we get reports that just get filed? An annual report has meaning. So, please vote 'no' on this particular measure. Thank you so much."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 56-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 1861, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

The Senate reconvened at 3:32 o'clock p.m.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 59-06 (H.B. No. 386, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 59-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 386, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 386. Interesting bill, and it deserves no less attention than what we gave to the gas cap a couple of hours ago. (Laughter.)

"If you look at the history of this bill, it's very simple. Very few things generate as much heartache or heartburn as the thought of serving on jury duty. We all accept that it's a responsibility. If you look at this, it deals with the number of exemptions, who's excluded. If you look at the original House draft, they took out also all the exclusions and left only two in. And then when it was heard in the House, they amended it and they added a few more exclusions in. When it got to the Senate, they added a few more exclusions in. When they got to Conference Committee, they added a few more exclusions in.

"If you look at the current list of exclusions, you'll be hard pressed to say that it is better than the original law that we currently have in statute. In fact it is worse, and let me tell you why. On April 11th I stood up and I opposed the measure because elected officials were no longer excluded, and I said, colleagues, the reason why we're excluded is not because we're special people, the reason why we are – and yes, I accept that we have a responsibility to represent our constituents – the reason why we are excluded is because our constituents have a right that their elected representative will not be fettered or otherwise occupied with other duties. They have the right to this representation.

"You know, it's amazing. The Conference Committee appears to have heard me and in the conference draft they said that elected officials will not have to serve on jury duty whenever the Legislature is in Session, as if the only elected people we have in the State of Hawaii is in the Legislature. I would posit to you, I would suggest to you that the people do not want Governor Lingle serving on a jury duty when she is supposed to be acting as Governor of the State. I would suggest to you that the people do not want Peter Carlisle serving on a jury when he's supposed to be putting lawbreakers in jail.

"Now, I realize that your vote on this issue will not make the headlines in the Advertiser tomorrow, but please consider at least referring it back to Committee, because why should we be passing law that we know is defective. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 2343.

“A crime is a crime, is a crime, is a crime. I’m certainly not soft on crime, and I would at least like the Senator from Kauai to remember the words that he uttered earlier today before he votes on this issue. I believe the Senator from Kauai suggested that people do not consider the consequences necessarily of their action before they commit a crime. And certainly, the things that happened in New Orleans were shocking, but we are not New Orleans.

“When we have a natural disaster, our community has always pulled together, and the best way to ensure that that is the way our citizens continue to behave is to treat our citizens like the responsible people they are. If you’re afraid that rioting and looting will break out, then I suggest that the reasonable alternative is to have a concealed carry bill. The reasonable alternative is to empower the shooting of rioters, but let’s not differentiate and say, under these set of circumstances, it’s so much worse because the people you’re trying to influence don’t even listen to us.

“So, if you can’t vote ‘no,’ at least go WR on this issue. (Laughter.) Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 64-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 2343, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PENAL CODE,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 3242.

“This bill makes it a crime for minors to consume alcohol. Do I think that minors should consume alcohol? Probably not.

Should we criminalize it? I don’t think that we should be criminalizing the behavior of the majority of a particular class of people. They’re old enough to get an abortion. They’re old enough to die in Afghanistan in service of their country, but they’re not old enough to have a glass of red wine with their family at Thanksgiving until they’re 21.

“We can pass law, but what we need to do is to teach our young people responsibility, and we don’t teach them to behave responsibly by suddenly saying don’t do this, don’t do this until that magic day of being 21 arrives. When you do this, the type of behavior you’re going to get is increased binge drinking. They will not have learned to be responsible as they grow up.

“So again, I will be voting ‘no’ and please vote your conscience. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“We continue to expand the list of controlled substances while we fought and lost the so-called war on ice. The latest edition is eszopiclone, which goes by the commercial name of Lunesta, which I think we all see about a hundred times a night on television, which is a sleep agent and that’s the purpose of it. I think we diminish our seriousness of drug addiction and drug eradication when we keep making this list larger and larger and we keep people from being able to get over-the-counter medications that they need. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“I would just note for the record that this is an administration bill. It is a bill that conforms our statute on controlled substances to federal law. The section regarding pseudoephedrine goes into effect after the federal law goes into effect on September 30. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"I'm not really in opposition of a law that would permit distribution of wine by mail or other means. If you read the bill carefully, the language is very convoluted. In fact, it is so bad that I think it goes to the extent of being in violation of the interstate commerce clause of the US Constitution.

"The intention is good; the language is terrible. I'll be voting against it because of the language. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 89-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 1968, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTOXICATING LIQUOR," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

No. 2929, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE LAND USE COMMISSION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 109-06 (S.B. No. 2922, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 109-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2922, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Ihara rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 2922.

"Mr. President, this bill contains several good administrative and housekeeping provisions, and I support all of these sections of the bill. However, this bill does one thing that is so radical that I must oppose the entire bill at this time.

"If we pass S.B. No. 2922, it would repeal the current law that limits corporations from making more than $1,000 in campaign contributions in any election period. Federal law provides for a complete ban on corporate donations to congressional candidates, but Hawaii law allows corporations to allocate no more than $1,000 among candidates and political action committees. Without the $1,000 corporate contribution limit, a single corporation could instead donate over $1,000 to dozens of candidates all within the per candidate contribution limits of $2,000; $4,000; and $6,000 that's currently on the books.

"S.B. No. 2922 would provide a 10,000 percent increase in the aggregate corporate contribution amount – this is from $1,000 to well over $100,000 in the aggregate. I believe this change in the law is too drastic and I cannot support it. Instead of decreasing the influence of money in the legislative process, this bill will greatly enhance corporate influence in election campaigns and the legislative process.

"I want to address a technical twist on this issue. It was the Legislature's adoption of H.B. No. 1714, C.D. 1, last Session, which became Act 203, that resulted in the $1,000 aggregate cap on corporate donations. Many would say that this was done in error, and perhaps so. And perhaps the Campaign Spending Commission's opinion on this matter was incorrect as well, but those who have long sought to reduce corporate and lobbyist influence at the Legislature were very pleased with Act 203 – error or no error, incorrect interpretation or not.

"The fact still remains that from the start of this year 2006, corporations have not been able to spend over $1,000 in campaign donations among the many good Legislators up for election this year and in the future. If this bill passes, it would not only take effect immediately, but it would reach back to January 1 and have all corporate contributions not count toward any aggregate limit. It's as if no corporate limit had ever existed.

"I believe the voting public has a cynical view of the Legislature. Many often wonder in whose interest we sometimes act. A majority of Legislators usually hold campaign fundraisers during the Legislative Session in the very same period that decisions are made on bills. Imagine watching a debate with judges who are expected to be fair and objective, but these judges ask the debate teams for money for their campaign war chest during the competition while the competition is being held. When this happens, no one should be surprised that the audience and the participants would lose faith and confidence in the ability of the judges to be fair.

"The state gifts law prohibits Legislators from soliciting and accepting gifts if it can be reasonably inferred that the gift was meant to influence official actions of the Legislator. But ironically, gifts to Legislator's campaign funds are legal in Hawaii. When Legislators solicit campaign donations from lobbyists while Legislators are deciding the life and death of these lobbyists' bills, the viewing public has cause to become disdainful.

"I've said enough. Let's just vote this bill down. Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 2922, C.D. 1.

"Mr. President, the original version of S.B. No. 2922 was my bill, and the reason that bill was drafted was to make two changes to the law – changes that, one, we believe was inadvertent, and the second turned out to be just misinterpreted by the Campaign Spending Commission.

"Let me deal with the simpler one. Section 10 of the C.D. 1 adds back in the prosecutor for matching funds. They were somehow inadvertently taken out, and I believe it was because last Session we were dealing with the possibility of using them as the test group for the, quote, 'clean elections bill.' That's why they were taken out, and due to an oversight we forgot to put them back in. That was one provision.

"The second provision was to clarify the issue of corporate donations. Mr. President, when we had this go through the Senate Judiciary Committee, it became very clear that everyone that was there, I believe, including the attorney general, said that it was not the intent of the Legislature to take out or to ban corporate contributions. One of the concerns that the attorney general expressed last year and again reiterated this year is the fact that we do not ban unions, and if we don't ban unions and we ban corporations, that may lead to some kind of constitutional issue.

"Notwithstanding all of that, the problem is that when we did this bill last year, it was not intended to ban corporations and we expected that corporations would be able to give as much as any individual would. What has happened in the meantime is that we have a new director of the Campaign Spending who wasn't here last year as the bill went through and they have developed sort of a circuitous argument, and it's kind of a strange argument but bear with me because you can see where the problem arises. The Campaign Spending Commission says, and in different parts of the law we say if a corporation gives more than $1,000, whether to one person or a whole bunch of people, in any election cycle, they must then create a political action non-candidate committee. That's step one. Then in another provision of the law we say that no one can give more than $1,000 to a non-candidate committee vs. candidate's committee. So, reading these two sections together, the Campaign Spending Commission then concluded that no corporation can give more than $1,000 in an election cycle to anybody – $1,000 is it.

"That wasn't the intent of our bill last year. If that was the intent, there would be no argument, but that was not the intent. So, when I introduced S.B. No. 2922, it was to clarify that. If this Legislature or the Legislature decided to change that, then that's fine, but that was not what was intended in last year's bill. That is the provision that has raised the most concern.

"I understand that there are people who want to see a ban on corporate contributions who also want to see a ban on labor union contributions. I can honestly say I've introduced bills to that effect over the years, but it has not been the sense of this Legislature to ban labor unions or corporations. And to now say that this bill somehow is misleading the public, is absolutely wrong. This bill clarifies a mistake that we inadvertently made last year and that's really the only provision at issue. No one doubts the fact that we made a mistake on the prosecutor. We made a mistake in how we worded it.

"What you find in terms of the language in S.B. No. 2922 as to the corporations is language that we drafted with the attorney general's assistance. The so-called retroactive aspect of it, which makes this provision retro to January 1, 2006, is a request from the Campaign Spending Commission. They said if we are going to do this and clarify our position, or as we say clarify our position, then they wanted us to go back so that there would be no gap. So corporations that may or may not have given money during this period of time would not be caught in a 'catch 22' by saying wait a minute, we thought we could give, but we gave, and therefore we're in violation of the law. So, the Campaign Spending Commission specifically requested that we make that section retroactive and that's what this is.

"Mr. President, this is a housekeeping measure and I ask that everyone support it.

"We also do have in the United States Supreme Court a Vermont case, which is supposed to clarify campaign spending and that was one of the reasons why we decided this Session to wait and see what the United States Supreme Court says and we can move on from there. But never was it intended, in my recollection as the Chair of Judiciary over these years, that corporate giving was somehow going to be stopped or limited to $1,000 by what we did last year. Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 109-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2922, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 6 (Hemmings, Hogue, Hooser, Ihara, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Tsutsui).

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"I certainly think that we need more protection and more diligence in the destruction of personal records by both business and government, but I'm a little concerned of the way that this bill is drafted. It is vague in definitions. It's vague in punishment, and I seem to see a problem with businesses, particularly small businesses, that could be harshly penalized for the vacancy and what kinds of records and in what way the records must be completely destroyed. It also creates an additional and new cause of action for people against businesses. Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 2292.

"In responding to the prior speaker's comments, I would point out that, during the Conference discussions on these measures, the penalties were modified substantially. The penalties that would be in place for violation of the chapter would not exceed a threshold amount of $2,500 per violation.

"These amendments were agreed to by many of the small business representatives who participated in the discussions. For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to vote in support of this measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 114-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2292, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DESTRUCTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION RECORDS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Tsutsui requested his remarks in support of the measure be inserted into the Journal, and the Chair having so ordered, Senator Tsutsui's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support.

"Congresswoman Mink became the first Asian-American woman to be elected to the Hawaii Territorial House, the first woman of color elected to the Congress, the first Asian-American elected to the U.S. House of Representatives and the first Asian-American woman to practice law in Hawaii.

"And as a father of two young girls, It is my hope that by honoring her legacy – we will continue in her drive to open the many doors that to this day remain either closed or obstructed to women and girls.

"Colleagues, Mink is celebrated as one of America's most important civil rights leaders, especially for co-authoring Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, which led to expanded opportunities for women and girls in athletics and academics and to this day, preserves the rights of all genders.

In her honor, the Congress renamed the landmark legislation as the Patsy T. Mink Equal Opportunity in Education Act.

"For her contributions towards equal rights in the country, the Congress commissioned a likeness of her image to be forever placed in the halls of the U.S. Capitol building.

"Members, it is important to note that the U.S. Department of Education in a report titled, Title IX: 25 Years of Progress, wrote 'Even today as we acknowledge the many advances women have made in academics, employment and athletics, we still need to recognize some dismaying facts in our efforts to achieve equity. While sex discrimination is no longer routinely accepted in education and has been prohibited since Title IX became law, the incidences of sexual harassment and assault that are continually reported show that freedom from threats to learning still has not been achieved.'

"The report went on to state, 'Although women earn half of all college degrees, they are less likely than men to earn bachelor's degrees in computer science, engineering, physical sciences, or mathematics. At still higher levels of education, they account for only 17 percent of doctoral degrees in math and physical science, 14 percent of doctoral degrees in computer science and 7 percent of doctoral degrees in engineering. This gap takes on more significance still in the labor market where salaries are among the highest in mathematics/computer science and engineering – fields in which women are underrepresented. Without more equity in these fields at all levels, women will remain at the low end of positions and the pay scale in the information age.

"At the high school level, there are still about 24,000 more boys' varsity teams than girls' teams; in college, women receive only one-third of all athletic scholarships; and, overall operating expenditures for women's college sports programs grew only 89 percent, compared to 139 percent for men, representing only 23 percent of the total operating expenses.

"Even though women make up half of the labor market, not only are they underrepresented in jobs in scientific fields, but they are often paid less than men and despite women's large gains toward equal educational attainment and their accompanying gains in labor force participation, their earnings are only 80 percent of the earnings of their male counterparts with the same education – respectively, for graduates of four-year colleges.'

"A pioneer. A trailblazer. She was a very special daughter of Hawaii and with the state honoring her memory and service; we will continue to remind a nation of the importance of equality, peace and social justice. Further reminding Americans that regardless of gender, all Americans are entitled to equal access to quality education, to compete in athletics, and to work a job or profession for which they are qualified.

"I urge your support. Thank you."

Senator Baker requested her remarks in support be inserted into the Journal, and the Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 3259, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1.

"This bill seeks to improve the State's ability to address the dental health crisis it faces with regard to QUEST-eligible adults and children, the developmentally disabled, and the uninsured. The bill provides funding to assess the status of the continuum of dental care for these populations. The assessment will provide the data necessary to address inequities in the system.

"Currently, Hawaii does not have a comprehensive assessment of its existing oral health resources that includes oral health community resources and gaps and barriers to access of oral health services. Without a dental school in Hawaii, a focus on public health dentistry and best practice models for special populations are lacking. The continuum of oral health care has service delivery gaps and barriers to access.

"27,000 Hawaii residents have no dental insurance. This includes immigrants, homeless people, and individuals above 100 percent poverty who will not enjoy the expansion of Med-QUEST eligibility. Even those who have Med-QUEST dental benefits find it difficult to find a dentist to serve them. Only 30 percent of Hawaii's qualified dentists accept Medicaid patients which ranks Hawaii 49th in participation of dentists in Medicaid. This gap is magnified when factoring the lack of dental services to the DD population. Lack of access to preventive dental care and prompt treatment of oral health issues is a healthcare cost driver. Poor dental health contributes to poor nutrition, infections in other parts of the body and the development of many other life-threatening conditions such as heart disease and stroke. A delay in dental care can lead to more costly treatments and poor health outcomes.

“At the heart of increasing access to dental health care is the need to build more physical capacity at community health centers or other community-based sites, train dental professionals to appropriately treat people with disabilities, coordinate hospital-based care, and develop a long-term workforce plan.

“The assessment called for in this bill will provide us with strategies to more efficiently use existing resources, leverage and pursue additional resources and provide a road map for system improvements. This measure is a reasoned step toward resolving the oral health challenges we face.

“I urge my colleagues to vote yes and take the first step towards a dental health solution for our state that is long overdue. Mahalo.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 167-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 3259, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR DENTAL HEALTH,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 3235, C.D. 1, Relating to the State of Hawaii Endowment Fund.

“The purpose of this measure is to support the Honolulu Symphony by appropriating $4,000,000 for the State of Hawaii Endowment Fund, provided that the funds are matched on a dollar-for-dollar basis with private funds.

“This endowment fund was established in 1986 with an initial state appropriation of $2,000,000. Through fundraising efforts over many years, the fund currently has a $6,000,000 endowment managed by the Honolulu Symphony Foundation, and overseen by an eight-member board of directors. We should applaud their hard work in bringing the fund to this level in the absence of further state support. I believe this new $4,000,000 appropriation is both long overdue and vital to the continued success of our very fine Honolulu Symphony.

“We should particularly commend the members of the Symphony who testified in strong support throughout this session and who attended every conference meeting on this bill. Their colorful shirts were a visual reminder of the role their music plays in all our lives. Thank you all for your perseverance.”

Senator Baker requested her remarks in support be inserted into the Journal, and the Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 3270, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1.

“This bill seeks to ensure that the system of community health centers remains financially viable and stable to provide cost-effective care for a growing number of Hawaii residents who are uninsured. This measure codifies current federal requirement that federally qualified health centers and rural health clinics be reimbursed in accordance with a prospective payment system outlined in the Social Security Act. The safety net function of Health Centers results in many of our centers serving a patient population that is 80–90 percent Medicaid or uninsured. Cost shifting to insured populations is not possible. Year to year ambiguities in Medicaid and uninsured reimbursement make it extremely difficult to plan and deliver safety net services effectively. The Prospective Payment System (PPS) provides health centers the assurance of a reasonable and relatively stable system of reimbursement. The system also provides incentives for centers to be efficient and productive as revenues can only increase if productivity rises proportionately.

“Additionally, this bill appropriates $2,000,000 to the Department of Health to reimburse the FQHC’s for the provision of direct medical care to the uninsured. Although there is some funding to reimburse the FQHC’s in the budget, the CEO of Waianae Coast Comprehensive noted in his recent communication to Conferees that the uninsured payment currently provided by the Department of Health does not cover an adequate range of primary care services or address inflation factors. This bill appropriates $2,000,000 to assist in this area in light of the rising cost of healthcare and the number of uninsured that need services. The appropriation in this measure is necessary to ensure the viability of this important segment of our healthcare safety net. I would note that their original request was for an additional $7,000,000.

“This is an important bill to our community health centers. I ask my colleagues to support this measure. Mahalo.”

Senator Baker requested her remarks be inserted into the Journal, and the Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 2153, C.D. 1.

“The purpose of this bill is to provide outpatient, urgent, and extended medical care services to residents of West Maui, who do not have access to these services after normal physician or clinic hours. Because urgent medical care services are not available 24/7, residents of West Maui must drive over twenty-five miles one way to central Maui for treatment. Providing urgent care in West Maui could reduce the costs of health care by reducing costly visits to the Emergency Room at Maui Memorial Medical Center while providing needed medical services to residents in a more timely manner.

“Mr. President, West Maui is my district and I’m very familiar with the gaps in medical services provided in my home town. This measure appropriates $300,000 for fiscal year 2006-2007 to the Department of Health to contract with a private or a non-profit health care provider. The funds contained in H.B. No. 2153 will help ensure that Lahaina residents and visitors who don’t require emergency care will have access to needed medical attention after the clinics close.

"I ask my colleges to join me to vote in favor of H.B. No. 2153. Mahalo."

Senator Baker requested her remarks be inserted into the Journal, and the Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 2630, C.D. 1.

"The purpose of this appropriations bill is to provide for the continued operation of developmental disabilities domiciliary homes and apartment complexes for persons with developmental disabilities.

"In 2005, the Hawaii State Legislature enacted Act 168, authorizing the Department of Health to enter into contracts for additional payments for residential services to the providers of DD domiciliary homes and operators of DD apartment complexes. This legislation was necessary in order to keep homes operating for this vulnerable population. It was noted then that a significant reason for the reduction of DD care facilities was related to the low reimbursement rates provided by the State. Those reimbursement rates did not reflect the current cost of maintaining the operation of the homes.

"It is important that our housing stock for the DD population is not lost to them. This bill continues the financial support begun in Act 168 and allows the developmentally disabled to retain viable residential options. I urge all of my colleges to support this measure.

"Thank you Mr. President."

"These measures were introduced as a result of the work of the Hawaii Anti-Phishing Task Force, established by Act 65, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, to develop state policy on how best to prevent further occurrences of phishing and other forms of electronic commerce-based crimes in the State. The Task Force examined state agencies charged with the responsibility of developing policies, procedures and operations to prevent, monitor, and enforce electronic commerce-based criminal activities and sanctions; reviewed other jurisdictions' activities, policies, and laws related to the prevention of electronic commerce-based crimes; and reviewed a range of options available to deter electronic commerce-based crimes from occurring in the State.

"Through this process the Task Force broadened the scope of its research – and recommendations – to address the rapidly escalating problem of identity theft. For example, just last month we learned that more than 40,000 Hawaii residents who enrolled in certain health and group life insurance plans in 1999 are at risk for identity theft following the theft of some insurance company records. 22,000 private sector employees and 21,500 members of the Hawaii Government Employees Association and the United Public Workers union must now begin the process of it checking their financial records. And for those who find cases of identity theft, the process of clearing their records and restoring their credit may take years.

"The purpose of the bills before you today is to provide substantial protections from identity theft for the residents of Hawaii through a variety of ways:

"S.B. No. 2158, C.D. 1, authorizes government agencies, effective July 1, 2007, to continue to collect, create, or maintain records or documents containing an individual's social security number in the course of carrying out the agency's legitimate government functions, but agencies may not display the social security numbers in any public record or document that is available for public inspection.

"S.B. No. 2159, C.D. 1, makes it a class C felony to intentionally or knowingly possess confidential information of another without authorization; and adds identity theft as an enumerated offense within the repeat offender statute. It provides our country law enforcement.

"S.B. No. 2290, C.D. 1, requires government and businesses that possess personal information of Hawaii residents and experience a security breach to notify people affected by the breach.

"S.B. No. 2292, C.D. 1, requires businesses and government agencies that dispose of documents and other records containing personal information of Hawaii residents to destroy the records to protect against unauthorized access to or use of the information.

"S.B. No. 2293, C.D. 1, prohibits businesses and government agencies, subject to limited exceptions, from disclosing an individual's social security number to the general public, printing the number on an identification card or in mailings to customers, or requiring the transmission of the number to third parties.

"In addition, S.B. No. 2290, S.B. No. 2292, and S.B. No. 2293 establish similar penalty provisions to allow the Attorney General or the Office of Consumer Protection to bring a cause of action against any business that violates any provision of this measure, and to seek a penalty of not more than $2,500 for each violation; allow a private cause of action for the sum equal to the actual damages sustained by the injured party; allow the court to award reasonable attorneys' fees to the prevailing party, and clarify that both penalty actions cannot be brought against a government agency. They also set similar reporting standards for government agencies to submit a written report to the Legislature unless the report will impede a criminal investigation.

"H.B. No. 1871, C.D. 1; allows consumers who are victims of identity theft to place a security freeze on their credit reports, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing any information to unauthorized parties without the consumer's express authorization and will provide consumers more control over who has access to their credit report. Penalties are comparable to those of S.B. No. 2290, S.B. No. 2292, and S.B. No. 2293: to allow up to $2,500 in penalties for each violation of the new chapter and authorize the Attorney General or the Office of Consumer Protection to bring actions; allow injured parties to bring actions against violators for actual damages caused by the violation; allow reasonable attorneys' fees for prevailing parties in actions for damages; and provides that the penalties are cumulative to the remedies or penalties available under all other State laws.

"H.B. No. 2535, S.D. 2, amends current Hawaii law for offense of use of a computer in the commission of a separate crime to include use of a computer to obtain control over the property of the victim or to facilitate commission of the offense of theft in the first or second degrees.

"H.B. No. 3244, C.D. 1, makes changes to the task force working on identity theft issues by changing the name to the Identity Theft Task Force, adding additional members, expanding its responsibilities, and extending its life until December 31, 2007. The bill appropriates $50,000 to the Auditor to staff the work of the task force, and $50,000 to the Attorney General to compile a uniform identity theft complaint tracking system.

"Many people have worked on bringing these bills to today's vote, particularly the members of the Task Force. It has truly been a public-private sector collaboration. While we have much work left to do, these bills provide both a strong foundation in the State's fight against identity theft; and valuable resources that Hawaii residents can use to protect themselves from financial harm if their financial or personal information is compromised."

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 2-06 (S.B. No. 995, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 2-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 995, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“We’ve discussed this before. The folks coming in that were appointed as judges knew what the retirement age was. We do have legitimate reasons for certain retirement ages, and this happens to be one of them.

“Members of the Judiciary testified against this measure saying that basically it would be a barrier to entry for younger aspiring justices. But more importantly, one must question why this bill at this time? There’s no rational reason for this bill other than maybe to protect one or two existing justices. If the bill were made prospective, if we said starting in 2007 or with new justices after 2006, that would make sense, but it’s highly suspect and highly undesirable. Thank you.”

Senators Kim and Baker requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 2-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 995, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE VI, SECTION 3, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION TO REMOVE THE MANDATORY RETIREMENT AGE FOR STATE JUSTICES AND JUDGES,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 6 (Hemmings, Hogue, Ihara, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 15-06 (S.B. No. 2237, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Inouye moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 15-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2237, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“This measure has to do with which fund will a payment of insurance for building damage be deposited in. And it sounds reasonable that if a school was destroyed by fire or partially destroyed by fire, that rightfully when the insurance claim came in that was honored it would go into the Department of Education. But right now it is currently put into a fund or risk management fund.

“The issue is will it do anything by changing where the money is deposited? And the answer is ‘no,’ it won’t make any difference because the money hasn’t been appropriated. When we appropriate it, we say where the money is coming from. So, just passing this bill does affect the appropriation part.

“Second, when there is damage at the structure, we need to make a decision. The Executive Branch needs to make a decision – do we want to rebuild or do we want to build something new? If it goes directly to the department the tendency of a bureaucracy is, if I don’t rebuild immediately, I’m going to lose the money. I don’t think we want to encourage that behavior. We want decisions by the state to be rationally made of the best use of that money, and in some cases, rebuilding is not the best use of that money. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 15-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2237, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE RISK MANAGEMENT,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 17-06 (S.B. No. 1223, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Menor moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 17-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 1223, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I again rise in opposition.

“Colleagues, this would increase the penalty for issuing a rubber ducky – a bounced check – from $20 to $30. In this age of increased technology, in this age when banks no longer return checks, I don’t see how the costs are going up. If anything, we should be lowering the cost of having a returned check. Thank you.”

Senator Espero requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 17-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 1223, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 20-06 (S.B. No. 3180, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 20-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 3180, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator English rose and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like to insert comments into the Journal.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator English’s remarks read as follows:

“This measure would require counties to adopt ordinances to allow the construction of buildings designed using practices, styles, customs, and materials from indigenous Hawaiian architecture. Mr. President, there are three key rights to be affirmed by this measure:

1. Section 7 of article XII of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii says that ‘The State reaffirms and shall protect all rights, customarily and traditionally exercised for subsistence, cultural and religious purposes . . . by native Hawaiians.’
2. Section 7-1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, further reserves the right of the people to take house-timber from lands upon which they reside.
3. Chapter 36 of the Maui County Code allows the use of indigenous Hawaiian architecture in the design and construction of structures in the county of Maui.

“The purpose of this Act is to allow the use of the techniques, styles, and customs of indigenous Hawaiian architecture to be employed in present-day construction in Hawai`i. I urge my colleagues to support this measure.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 20-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 3180, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE COUNTIES,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 24-06 (S.B. No. 2004, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kokubun moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 24-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2004, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“I do so based on testimony before the Committee that came forward on this particular measure trying to protect a certain area in Kaneohe Bay, and based on supportive testimony, this measure moved forward, which was considered somewhat of a compromise. I suggest that we should oppose it based on the entire needs of Kaneohe Bay, and rather than DLNR setting forward rules for Kaneohe Bay, why not the people who actually use Kaneohe Bay setting those rules? There is a body that does exactly that and in fact it is called the Kaneohe Bay Regional Council. Shouldn’t they be deciding what the usage of Kaneohe Bay should be? It just makes absolute sense. Then everyone can get heard, not just one little segment here who wants to preserve a particular area.

“So, did the Kaneohe Bay Regional Council, did they weigh in on this measure? Yes, they have since there was testimony at the Committee. I’ve been in receipt of a resolution by the Kaneohe Bay Regional Council relating to S.B. No. 2004, S.D. 1, H.D. 1. It says, ‘Whereas the Kaneohe Bay Regional Council is made up of representatives of the community, commercial interest and governmental agencies who were selected for their expertise and interest in matters, issues, relating to Kaneohe Bay; Whereas the regularly scheduled and convened meeting of the council, members consider the merit of this particular measure and the members of the council would like the members of the Legislature to know that they agree with the intent of these measures but they are concerned that the passage of those measures may result in the creation of administrative rules that would adversely affect the public’s ability to enjoy and recreate at or around the natural resource within Kaneohe Bay know as Ahu o Laka.’

“There is even a debate right now about how large of an area this is. Is it several hundred square feet? Is it many acres? Is it huge? Is it small? The bill even talks about the water surrounding it and DLNR would manage the rules, not the people who are affected by it – the Kaneohe Bay Regional Council.

“So, the Kaneohe Bay Regional Council, by unanimous vote, desires to express its opposition for the passage of this bill. These are the people who work and live and who have interest in this particular measure. And so, based on those people, I urge you to follow suit and also oppose this bill. Thank you so much.”

At 4:18 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:24 o’clock p.m.

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I stand in support of S.B. No. 2004.

"Mr. President, I appreciate the comments by the previous speaker with respect to the Kaneohe Bay Regional Advisory Committee. I think that they do play a valuable role. However, I'd just like to point out for our colleagues that with respect to the enforcement provisions in Kaneohe Bay, the Department of Land and Natural Resources, through its division of conservation and resource enforcement, is actually the body that can provide the enforcement of any rules that are adopted with respect to Ahu o Laka.

"I'd also like to make it clear that in the rule-making process, Mr. President, the administrative rule-making process, they will go through an extensive public hearing. The final draft of the rules will have to be adopted by the land board. There will be numerous opportunities for any concerned citizen to participate in the rule-making process, but I think that, at this point, to halt the bill based on only those contentions that one advisory committee group would like to have more input, I think they will have lots more opportunity for that and I think that's the appropriate time. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 24-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2004, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 33-06 (S.B. No. 2162, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 33-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2162, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to S.B. No. 2162.

"This bill provides that foster children whose parents can afford it, the parents will be forced to buy automobile insurance so that the child now living with them can drive. And the issue I'd like to call to mind is the desire of kids, particularly my gender, to drive is so strong that if we pass this measure, we might find happening in Hawaii something similar to what occurred many years ago in Bermuda. Bermuda passed a law saying that there would only be one automobile per household, per house. What they found out was the kids were leaving their parents as soon as they possibly could so that they could get the car so they could drive.

"I suggest that when you consider this bill, you consider that not only are automobile insurance rates dependent upon the vehicle driven, but also the behavior of kids when they're faced with a situation that their parents say, 'no, you're not going to drive,' they say, 'well daddy-o, I've figured out a loophole and one of the loopholes is to become a foster kid.'

"So, before you vote, think about it. Cast your conscience. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 33-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2162, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO

FOSTER CHILDREN," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

On motion by Senator Menor, seconded by Senator Hanabusa and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 37-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2248, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLICITATION OF FUNDS FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Nishihara).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 41-06 (S.B. No. 2909, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Ige, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 41-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2909, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PERMIT APPROVALS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Nishihara).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 42-06 (S.B. No. 3262, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 42-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 3262, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kanno.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"I know the politically correct thing and easy thing to do would be to vote for this bill or let this bill go through, but I can't do that because it's not politically correct.

"The discussion of secondhand smoke is one issue and the debate goes on as to what the actual consequences are with secondhand smoke. And there are many studies that show that it is very detrimental, carcinogen causing, and so forth. There are also studies that show that in fact there has not been a direct nexus made.

"Be that as it may, what this bill is really about is a further ban on a legal activity, that's smoking. We've already seen that smokers and retail establishments have compromised and compromised and compromised in terms of making space available. We also know that there are a significant number of people who choose to smoke knowing and accepting health risks and other risks, but it's their choice. What we are doing in this bill and the bill later on is to seek them out and punish them specifically. We're not looking at health as much as we're looking at a way of getting at these smokers, and the reason for that is they have become easy prey. It has become socially unacceptable to smoke unless you are in a grade B movie and then it's very desirable to do so, and unless it's to tax because then that's a very profitable thing to do. We have already basically said to these people that have made their choice and want to exercise their right, that in fact they have no rights.

“There was an issue that came up during discussion of this bill when somebody said wait a minute, we hear that some of the proponents want to ban the use of cigarettes or smoking in your private automobile and your private residence, and some of the individual supportive Legislators said that’s not true, this year. The handwriting is clearly on the wall that those people that are seeking this smoking ban really will not rest until there is a total ban and until we criminalize, criminalize people that are mostly older people, people that have very little opportunities for their own recreation in life and quite frankly enjoy what they are doing. We are making of them the pariah, even though we’re still taking about a legal activity.

“So we can argue about health concerns, but until we discuss all of the other health concerns such as vog and toxic materials and so forth, singling out people that are engaging in a legal activity is neither fair nor right nor compassionate. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I have some extensive remarks that I’d like inserted into the Journal, but I’d like to have the opportunity, as I rise in support of this measure, to discuss some of the points the previous speaker made.

“First of all, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention consider secondhand smoke so dangerous that they’ve advised people with heart conditions to avoid exposure for even 30 minutes due to increased risk of heart attack. What happens? Well, within five minutes of exposure to secondhand smoke, blood platelets become stickier. Within 15 minutes, blood vessels are scarred. When blood vessel walls are scarred, additional plaque is attached to the walls, narrowing the vessels. Within 30 minutes of exposure, the risk for a heart attack doubles.

“The scientific evidence reinforces the conclusions that secondhand smoke causes heart disease, cancer, sudden infant death syndrome, and other diseases. Recent studies provide new findings linking secondhand smoke exposure to preterm and low birth weight babies, asthma and breast cancer.

“Tobacco use remains the number one preventable cause of death in both the nation and Hawaii. So it’s not just a matter of trampling on smoker’s rights, it’s making sure that the overwhelming majority of the population is not exposed to a preventable cause of death. Over 1/3 of the state’s 630,000 workers are exposed to secondhand smoke every day of their work life. An estimated 53,000 nonsmokers die each year in the United States as a result of secondhand smoke exposure, including 35,000 from coronary heart disease associated with secondhand smoke.

“Mr. President, we had two wonderful citizens of Maui just recently diagnosed with a very aggressive form of lung cancer. They never smoked a day in their lives, but they were in situations where they were forced to inhale other people’s smoke. So it’s really not that we don’t like smokers; we’re going after smokers, but their habits and their preference is not just an annoyance, it can be a death sentence for people that inhale it over long periods of time.

“California has done some wonderful studies since they became the first state to declare secondhand smoke a toxic air pollutant. The decision by the California Air Resources Board puts secondhand smoke in the same category as diesel exhaust, arsenic and benzene and blamed it for over 4,000 deaths each year in California from lung cancer and heart disease alone. A study done at the University of California at San Francisco reported secondhand smoke was found to be three times more toxic to tissue culture cells than mainstream smoke itself. So, in many ways, secondhand smoke is more harmful to the rest of us than the smoker if you could contain that smoker and not let his smoke escape.

“Mr. President, we are joining 10 other states – Washington State passed a statewide ban in December of last year; New Jersey early this year. A number of other countries around the world are recognizing the health costs and health risks of secondhand smoke. So we’re joining Australia, Ireland, Scotland, Great Brittan, Italy, and even places in Japan. We think of Japan as having a nation full of smokers, but even the Japanese have recognized the costs involved in healthcare, loss of worker productivity, and others.

“The studies that have been analyzed by organizations such as the American Cancer Society, the American Lung Association, the American Heart Association indicate that secondhand smoke ordinances in other states really have not hurt business as some have alleged and in fact have contributed to an increase in business. Indeed, the data indicates that the public would strongly favor smoke-free workplaces and smoke-free public places that are enclosed, and that’s what this bill does. With the growing national trend to become smoke-free, Hawaii is definitely in line with the rest of the country and even the world.

“I’d like to say mahalo to the Coalition for a Tobacco-Free Hawaii, the county coalitions, the volunteers for the American Cancer Society, the American Lung Association of Hawaii, the American Heart Association for all of the time and energy that they have put in to come up with a measure that has gained wide public support from businesses, from labor, from health professionals, from just people who want to be able to breathe clean, fresh air. They’ve helped to change the culture in our state and they have actually helped us craft a measure that has such broad support that I think the citizens in this state, when they have this measure go into effect on the date of the Great American Smoke Out on November 16, 2006, will use that as an opportunity to kick the habit and avail themselves the other opportunities in our state to help them remain smoke free.

“Mr. President and colleagues, this is an excellent bill. I thank all of the ones who have worked very hard on this measure and I urge everyone to vote in support.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s additional remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 3262 which will protect the public health and welfare by prohibiting smoking in places open to the public and places of employment, thereby ensuring a consistent level of basic protections statewide from exposure to secondhand smoke.

“The Department of Health reported to your Health Committee that the current statute is obsolete and needs to reflect the most current public health science and public policy relating to secondhand smoke. The medical evidence amassed to date confirms and expands the science on the health hazards of secondhand smoke in both adults and children.

“The Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) considers secondhand smoke so dangerous they have advised people with heart conditions to avoid exposure for even 30 minutes due to increased risk of heart attack. Within 5 minutes of exposure to secondhand smoke blood platelets become stickier. Within 15 minutes of exposure, scarring of the blood vessel walls occurs causing plaque. Within 30 minutes of exposure, the risk for heart attack doubles.

"The evidence reinforces conclusions that secondhand smoke causes heart disease, cancer, SIDS and other diseases, and provides new findings linking secondhand smoke exposure to pre-term delivery, asthma, and breast cancer. Tobacco use remains the number one preventable cause of death in both the nation and Hawai'i. Over one-third of the State's 630,000 workers are exposed daily to secondhand smoke. An estimated 53,000 non-smokers die each year in the United States as a result of secondhand smoke exposure, including 35,000 from coronary heart disease associated with secondhand smoke exposure.

"In October of 2005, the Coalition for a Tobacco Free Hawai'i conducted a poll of registered voters and found that 85 percent support a statewide law that would prohibit smoking in most enclosed public places, including workplaces, public buildings, offices, bars, nightclubs, and restaurants across the state. 95 percent of Hawai'i's people believe workers should be protected from exposure to secondhand smoke and that restaurants and bars would be healthier for customers and employees if they were smoke free.

"California became the first state to declare secondhand smoke a toxic air pollutant. The decision by the California Air Resources Board puts secondhand smoke in the same category as diesel exhaust, arsenic and benzene and blamed it for 4,000 deaths each year in California from lung cancer and heart disease alone. A study done at the University of California at San Francisco reported, secondhand smoke was found to be three times more toxic to tissue culture cells than mainstream smoke.

"In Helena, Montana the city council passed comprehensive smoking restrictions on all indoor workplaces. Upon the law's implementation, the lone hospital in the city that treats heart attack patients recorded an immediate 40 percent decline in heart attack admissions. When the state government preempted the city law and allowed smoking to begin again 6 months from the date of the city law's implementation, heart attack admission rates at the hospital climbed 40 percent back to their original levels. Another study completed in Pueblo, Colorado found a 29 percent decrease in heart attack admissions after secondhand smoking legislation was enacted.

"Hawaii needs a comprehensive state law that sets a high floor on smoking restrictions. Recognizing these dangers, 11 states (including WA 12/05 and NJ early 1/06) have passed comprehensive legislation addressing secondhand smoke in all workplaces and public places. At least 9 other states are currently considering similar legislation and 8 foreign countries have enacted comprehensive smoking legislation: including Japan, Australia, Ireland, Scotland, and many others.

"Some businesses have feared that going smoke-free would harm their livelihoods. Studies analyzed by organizations such as the Hawaii affiliates of the American Cancer Society and the American Lung Association indicate that secondhand smoke ordinances in other states have not hurt business and in fact have increased business. Indeed, the data indicates that the public would strongly favor smoke-free workplaces and enclosed public places.

"There is a growing trend in the country today as states across the nation enact smoke-free laws. It is good for business, it is good for our people, and it is good for public health. I strongly urge a 'yes' vote on S.B. No. 3262."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 42-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 3262, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 3192.

"Colleagues, what this bill does is create a panel that reviews our city and sister-state relations. I think having a panel to do this is appropriate. My problem is the makeup of the committee. I think the committee needs to include representatives from the Chamber of Commerce. Thank you."

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 51-06 (H.B. No. 1917, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 51-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 1917, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“As I’ve said previously, the idea of setting up a salary commission to hide the fact that we’re going to get salary increases and benefit increases I think is something that cheats the public and taxpayers who pay for all of our salaries and all of our benefits and everything else. Putting it in the constitution makes it easier for those increases to continue without any input whatsoever from the public and no input from the Legislature unless they choose to vote against it.

“It is a sure way of increasing salaries. It is a sure way of increasing the cost to government and it’s a sure way of masking transparency.”

Senator Baker requested her vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Ihara, Slom, Trimble).

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 3121.

“This bill has to do with determining or asking the state to determine which public shelters will have pets. My problem is that one person’s pet is another person’s protein. They eat horses in Europe. It may or may not be appropriate to have one person’s pet at a shelter where there are small children and infants.

“I will be casting a ‘nay’ vote on this bill for that reason.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 3121, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL DEFENSE,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

“The bill in Conference Committee came out better than it had been before in limiting the Office of the Ombudsman to only the tax information of the person making the complaint. However, again the issue arises when we are so concerned about identity theft and we’re so concerned about privacy and so concerned about records, particularly tax records, why does the ombudsman need these records at all? If the complainant wants to provide information, the complainant can do so, but to put this in a statute to require it and allow the ombudsman to do it may also lead to expansion and to excesses. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 78-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 439, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF THE OMBUDSMAN,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Tsutsui moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 98-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 2412, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Slom.

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this bill, but again with the question that I seem to ask every year and that is, every time we conform the Hawaii tax code with the internal revenue code we always seem to leave out the things that benefit individual taxpayers the most. To it a person and a personal exemption is worth about half as much in the State of Hawaii as it is with the federal income tax, and I wish, I just hope that we can become a whole person again and get our same personal exemption as we do with the feds. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 98-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 2412, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONFORMITY OF THE HAWAII INCOME TAX LAW TO THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, there are times when one feels like a broken record and this is exactly one of those times. This bill I've spoken against whether it's the Senate version, the House version, and now the CD version, and it's the one that establishes VEBA for everyone else.

"Mr. President, there are times when I just don't understand what we are doing. We have looked at the VEBA issue. We created the EUTF in the past and the EUTF is working. Anyone in Finance will tell you or Ways and Means will tell you that EUTF is working. It's working so much that the retirees are coming before us and asking that they not – NOT – be taken out of the EUTF and put into the individual VEBA plans. It's because they know that that's the protection that's afforded to them. They are not given representation in terms of collective bargaining because Chapter 89 has not been amended to say that a labor organization has the continuing obligation to ensure that they no longer have to pay for those premiums like they do now. They're not part of it, and yet we have this bill.

"HSTA did a good job last year. They came in and they negotiated. They had conditions set forth and they had a three-year pilot – a three-year pilot where they were going to do and show us why it works. It's my understanding that HSTA is moving ahead and they're trying to do different things like become self-insured, a unique idea that we of course believed the EUTF should be as well. But they have a select group. They have a group of people who everyone wants because of their characteristics. The EUTF has everyone else.

"Mr. President, when we look at this and we look at giving another series . . . and we don't even know who wants this VEBA. No one has come to see me to say we want VEBA. No one has said that. We are just passing this bill because someone feels that we should just let them do it if they want to do it. This is too serious a matter. It has fiscal implications. It has implications for those retirees that we should not just simply say, well, if you want to do it, be our guest. What happens to the whole structure of risk sharing? What happens to the legislation that we did to do major reform so we could keep those costs in place so that those retirees don't have to pay premiums? Those are the promises we made. We should be able to at least think very carefully before we go back on our word – and that's what we're doing.

"The fact that those retirees have come to us and said don't let us go out of the EUTF should be statement enough, because they know. They look at their colleagues in the private sector. They know what's going to happen, because I tell you what, in the national Labor Relations Act, you do not have an obligation to bargain for them anymore once they retire. Neither do you have an obligation to technically ensure that they are represented under VEBA. That is why they don't want to be there.

"We are looking at the future. We're looking at the fact that Marion Higa said in her report that you've got to do something about the health fund or you are going to bankrupt this state or everyone's going to pay huge premiums. We did something very good when we created the EUTF.

"I understand that my colleagues wanted to see and give the HSTA an opportunity to go out on their own. So they did. And I also understand that many felt that the only fair way to do it was to ensure that they took their retirees. That was a fair statement, because to keep the retirees in the state and only keep them in the state is not fair. That's exactly what we had before we created the EUTF.

"Mr. President, we have this bill again. It's in the final version. We're all to vote on it, and I ask you and my colleagues to vote 'no.' At least we should know who wants this – who wants it other than HSTA. HSTA has it. HSTA negotiated it. HSTA is there and the attorney general has worked with them and said okay, but we are going to be to come in and sue you and do everything. But who wants it now?

"We shouldn't pass bills for phantom people. They should come before us and they should make their intentions known. They should answer questions about how many numbers and what they intend to do with their retirees. We don't have that.

"Mr. President, for that reason, I know I sound like a broken record on this for the third time, but we just can't continue to pass this bill because somebody thinks it may or may not be a good idea. We have to be responsible. We've got to think about those retirees. The retirees are the ones who have worked for this state with the promise of benefits. And yes we know, the newspapers run huge columns about the benefits, but that's one of the reasons why we've been able to attract these employees. Let's keep our word to them. Don't do something to jeopardize their future benefits, especially when we don't know who it is. We don't know who it is. We don't know yet how much HGEA or UPW owes the state in terms of the old health fund. We don't know that. We've got to find all that out before we start going and doing things and then somehow all that information is hidden and we never get it.

"Mr. President, for that reason, I ask that you and my colleagues vote 'no' on this measure. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to this bill. Again, a broken record too.

"Let me support the previous speaker and let me emphasize, first of all, I think we do know who's supporting this measure because they're the very same people that the attorney general is seeking funds from now. They're the very same people that the legislative auditor was unable to get any information or any cooperation from years ago. HSTA gave cooperation. They didn't give all the information that the legislative auditor wanted, but they gave enough and they promised to cooperate, and they have. The other labor organizations have not.

"To hand them this blank check would be irresponsible of this Legislature. We know better. We should not do it. As the good speaker just said, we're just starting a three-year pilot program for HSTA and the whole idea is to see how that works. In the meantime, we do know that the EUTF is working, that they have met all of their goals; they have met all of their deadlines; they have listened to people, made changes, and they are protecting retirees. And guess what, retirees don't only come to Majority Legislators, they come to Minority Legislators and ask for protection and for fairness as well.

"By extending these VEBA trusts to organizations that have not met prior commitments is not going to protect the retirees and it certainly is not going to protect the fiscal health of this state. And that is one thing that I think that we should be very cognizant of.

"The best thing that Mr. Cayetano did in his last administration, his last years, was the civil service and collective bargaining reform. And it was very interesting how people supported him when he was Governor and then when we had a change of Governor, completely changed their position except for the last speaker.

"It is a position that is a correct one whether it comes from a Democratic Governor or a Republican Governor, and it is a bipartisan issue. But again, I would urge you, if you are thinking about the individuals involved, think if any retiree has come to you and begged you to allow VEBA trust for the very organizations that have thrown them by the wayside in the past and increased our costs.

"We should overwhelmingly defeat this bill, watch with interest what happens with the pilot program and then we have plenty of time to make changes in the future. There is no rush, or at least there should not be, to do so. And you should question those that tell you that in fact you must act now. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and failed to carry, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 100-06 failed to be adopted and H.B. No. 2950, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VOLUNTARY EMPLOYEES' BENEFICIARY ASSOCIATION TRUSTS," having been read throughout, failed to pass Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 11. Noes, 13 (English, Espero, Hanabusa, Hee, Hemmings, Hogue, Kim, Kokubun, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

At 4:55 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:56 o'clock p.m.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 101-06 (S.B. No. 2948, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 101-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2948, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 2948.

"Not all land is alike. Not all ceded land is alike. I would assert that perhaps in some cases 60 percent, 100 percent may be appropriate, but I would argue that in the case of land that is in our harbors where the burden of paying for harbors is borne by all consumers in Hawaii that when 20 percent of that harbor land is taken away, that that represents a tax on everyone in Hawaii. For that reason, I will be opposing this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 101-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2948, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PUBLIC LAND TRUST," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 102-06 (S.B. No. 3119, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 102-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 3119, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"I'm not rising in opposition because of Micah Kane. I think he's done a fantastic job with the Hawaii Homes Commission. I wish him the best, but we do not make law to accommodate the best that we have. We make law to protect ourselves in case we have something less than the best that is managing our money and our resources.

"For that reason, I oppose this measure. Thank you."

Senator Hee rose in support of measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"I don't even have a clue what the previous speaker was talking about. I tried to listen carefully on the previous bill that had to do with the Office of Hawaiian Affairs and this bill has to do with Hawaiian Home Lands.

“This bill was supported by the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands. It was supported by the administration. It was supported by the Budget and Finance Department. It gives the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands the opportunity to invest their funds like the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. There’s no question that the fiscal record would demonstrate that the Office of Hawaiian Affairs has done remarkably well. While the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands has been stuck with the state treasury at 4 percent, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs’ managed monies had an investment return of 16 percent. It gives the opportunity of the Hawaiian Home Lands Commission to do the same as fiduciaries.

“It probably, at the end of the day, will relieve the general fund because of their ability to raise more funds being professionally managed as fiduciaries would require of firms such as Goldman Sachs and others. For that reason, I ask my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 102-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 3119, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAIIAN HOME LANDS,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 2 (Taniguchi, Whalen).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118-06 (S.B. No. 3077, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kokubun moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 3077, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“The problem I have with this bill is that after it creates the legacy land conservation commission to assist DLNR it says that there shall be consultation with the Senate President and the Speaker of the House. First of all, it’s vague as to what consultation is and what it means and what method it might take. Secondly, if we in the Legislature are still responsible at all for what happens with the disposition of lands and the definition thereof, then I think there should be a mechanism so that in fact it comes before the full Legislature. And because it’s vague and because it doesn’t discuss that, I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 3077, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONSERVATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 131-06 (S.B. No. 2957, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator English moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 131-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2957, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Ihara requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator English rose and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like to insert comments into the record.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator English’s remarks read as follows:

“This measure is an important step toward energy self-sufficiency in the state of Hawaii. Hawai’i depends on petroleum for about ninety per cent of its energy needs – more than any other state in the nation. We are therefore vulnerable to oil embargoes, supply disruptions, and other factors beyond the control of the State. Hawai’i has among the most abundant renewable energy resources in the world, in the form of solar, geothermal, wind, biomass, and ocean energy assets. This measure would promote their wider use across-the-board, and move us toward a secure energy future.

“Its principal components are:

- increasing renewable energy tax credits;
- establishing a pay as you save program for solar water heating systems;
- establishing a bio-diesel preference in the state procurement law;
- establishing a Hawaii renewable hydrogen program and hydrogen investment capital special fund; and
- establishing state support for an alternate fuels standard.

“Mr. President, this is an important step forward for our state, and I urge my colleagues to support this measure.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 131-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2957, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Slom). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132-06 (S.B. No. 3181, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator English moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 3181, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“As we’ve talked about before, the bottle tax changed the preference of consumers so much so that they in greater numbers went to larger sized containers but the Legislature now to entrap and ensnare them is going to increase the container size that is subject to the tax to 68 ounces. Now, I don’t have any qualms about the fact that the manufacturers will start coming out with 68.2 ounce containers to get around this and then next year we'll be back to go up to 70 ounces.

"My point, though, is this – this again is not a recycling bill. The state is sitting on more than $24 million now in taxes that were not rebated, so it's a good money-making message for the state. And despite all of the glowing estimates that come out from the Department of Health, there is still almost as much of the containers in the landfill as before. The only difference is, when people go and they buy their beverages, whether it be water or juice or soda, they find that they're paying a heftier price for this and this will increase the tax burden to consumers even more. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 3181, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 138-06 (S.B. No. 2570, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 138-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2570, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this tax credit.

"Colleagues, when I originally talked about opposing media tax credits I said that for tax credits to be effective you have to come back every once and awhile and raise them. That is exactly what we're doing today, and if we raise it again, the industry gets use to it and in a few years we'll be coming back and there will be folks among us that will be asking you to increase it above 15 percent on Oahu and above 20 percent on the neighbor islands.

"We will never get to the point where we have a self-sustaining industry by giving them tax credits and increasing those tax credits. For that reason, I oppose this measure. Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose in support and said:

"Mr. President, I have remarks in support of this measure that I'd like to request be inserted in the Journal. In response to the prior speaker, I would like to point out that this tax credit is for a 10-year period. With respect to the previous speaker's comments on reviewing the extent of the credit, its performance can be reviewed at that time. For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to vote 'yes.'"

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 2570, C.D. 1, Relating to Digital Media.

"The purpose of this measure is to amend the motion picture and film production income tax credit under section 235-17, Hawaii Revised Statutes, by increasing the motion picture and film production refundable tax credit from a very modest 4 percent to 15 percent on Oahu and 20 percent on the neighbor islands; and revising the definitions and the eligibility criteria and parameters for qualifying for the tax credit.

"This bill has been a VERY long time in coming and I could thank literally hundreds of people who have finally made this bill a reality. Briefly, it would not be possible without the strong support of the industry – the film and digital media companies, the unions, the hundreds of professionals working in all aspects of the industry – state and county government – particularly the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism and the county film bureaus – and my colleagues in the House. Thank you all for not giving up in the face of many years of disappointment.

"Since 1992, the film industry has generated approximately $160,000,000 in tax revenues for the State – a significant economic contribution. But every year, Hawaii has faced greater and greater competition for those dollars as other state and local governments sought to attract movie productions through a variety of very competitive incentives. Those jurisdictions have experienced dramatic increases in in-state spending and significant growth in workforce and infrastructure development – to Hawaii's detriment. Now we can once again compete with more than a beautiful location and amazingly talented people.

"We can offer real dollar incentives – industry projections show potential revenue increases of $9.9 million by FY07. Conferees heard in our last conference meeting on this bill of several specific projects that have been waiting to see what action the Legislature took on tax credits before making decisions on filming in Hawaii. I am confident that as a result of this action, we will be celebrating more 'Lost' kinds of successes in our future."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"What this does is require on the sale of a property, if the person selling the property is a foreigner, that there be retained 8½ percent of that sales price. And the argument given was, well our capital gains tax is above the 5 percent level we currently have. The problem is that capital gain is based on gain, not on the total value of the sale.

"The second thing is that proponents of this bill said it's going to discourage flipping, the practice of holding something for a short period of time and selling it, as if the only one involved in this activity is somehow foreigners and not people in the State of Hawaii. If the issue is flipping, then we should deal with that issue, but we shouldn't constantly look at our problems and try and blame those that are someplace else.

"I urge you to vote 'no' on this measure. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, again I rise in opposition to the bill.

"Again, I'm forced to vote against the bill because of the one provision in there that we insist on keep putting in there and that's to allow the tourism authority to hire their own outside attorneys when we have demonstrated they don't need to do so and we have plenty of attorneys on staff in the Attorney General's Office. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"We've seen a lot of publicity about this issue in the news media of late. On one hand we're talking about providing housing for the homeless. On the other hand here we're trying to get the state involved in the Kukui Gardens development where the rents are frozen for another five years, but for some people that's not good enough. They want to be subsidized in perpetuity. We don't have any cost estimates of what this would mean. We also have the specter of the state either going into yet another failed housing project – failed from the standpoint of the state operating it I should say – or for the state using eminent domain to condemn the property. In other words, there's not one alternative here that's a good one other than the fact that we know now that we have at least five years, even with the new owner of the development, for the rents to remain static where they are.

"I think people in the private sector would certainly like to have five years of guaranteed rents right now. And as I say, as we're shuffling homeless people from place to place we have one specific example here where we're trying to get the state involved where really they should not be involved. Thank you."

Senator Menor rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, I believe the House and Senate Conferees took a significant step to protect Hawaii's affordable housing stock in passing this bill out. The bill we agreed on directs the appropriate state housing agency to enter into negotiations with the owners of the Kukui Gardens housing project to ensure that the project remains an affordable rental project for many years. The legislation also gives the agency the authority to enter into condemnation proceedings if negotiations with the owners of Kukui Gardens fail.

"In addition, the legislation keeps alive the possibility of a public/private partnership under which the state could enter into a joint venture with a private entity to purchase the project or the state could purchase the project outright and lease it to a private or nonprofit entity to operate and maintain it.

"I personally met with the managing partners of Carmel Partners, the real estate investment company that will buy the Kukui Gardens property, and while I sincerely appreciated their openness in maintaining the project as affordable housing, I believe this affordable housing project represents and incredibly scarce resource and we must have more than general assurances to guarantee it remains within our affordable housing stock for the foreseeable future.

"I'd like to point out that the Joint Legislative Affordable Housing and Homeless Task Force, which I co-chaired, determined that the state cannot address the affordable housing issue without ensuring that the existing affordable housing stock will remain available and affordable. It really makes no sense for the state to talk about building additional affordable units while allowing current affordable units to be taken away. We would never achieve a net gain in affordable housing if that were the case.

"Moreover, housing industry officials, developers, and other stakeholders with whom the task force met emphasize that the state needs to play a more proactive role in providing more public financing for affordable housing in Hawaii. This measure would be consistent, Mr. President, with that objective.

"It is important to move this bill to the Governor now because it will give our state housing agency a better negotiating position and more leverage to strike the best possible deal with the owners of Kukui Gardens. We also need to pass this measure because it gives our state housing agency and the administration specific policy direction. While they have offered general support for the concept for maintaining affordability, they have offered no specifics and have not proposed any concrete solutions to insure we do not allow any of our affordable housing stock to slip away.

"This bill will accomplish all of these things and for these reasons, I respectfully ask my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this measure.

"I grew up in a period of time when 80 percent of the affordable housing in Boston was owned by charitable organizations and it was slum housing. The reason why the federal government came up with programs like the one that built Kukui Gardens was that affordable housing needed to be new, not slum housing.

"What we should be doing is increasing the supply of affordable housing. Passing this measure will not increase the supply of affordable housing but may put the state in the position of having to spend more and more money on property that is old, that is deteriorating, that its expense is high. Our money would be better spent on increasing the supply of affordable housing with new projects.

"So consider these, my colleagues, we do not want to go back to what was there in the 50's when 80 percent of the slum housing in Boston was owned by charitable organizations and there was very little affordable housing that was new and clean. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 156-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 2239, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAND ACQUISITION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

"While there are many good things and needed programs in this measure, continuing to pour money into the black hole of Kapolei and watching the expenses go up and no controls, no accountability renders this bill a financial disaster. I urge a 'no' vote."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"This measure would create within DBEDT a section or a division that was, quote, 'international.' The truth of the matter is the time for this legislation passed 40 years ago. In this state there was the Hawaii International Services Agency doing exactly this thing. They were disbanded. A decade later there was a similar office in the Office of the Governor. That was disbanded. Ten years after that there was another office back in DBED doing the same thing. That was disbanded.

"The truth of the matter is every division in DBEDT is doing it internationally. To try and suggest that having a separate international office in DBEDT would be a step forward is sadly mistaken. Every division is doing business internationally. Creating this added bureaucracy is only creating additional bureaucracy. There is actually a step backwards. I urge a 'no' vote. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“I’m speaking about this measure not because I’m against veterans; I’m speaking against this measure because this matter, this question of $50,000 for an existing agency, for an existing function, properly deserves to be in the budget.

“Remember when I was talking about the state budget several hours ago, I said scattered through the ordinary calendar. We’re doing things one slot at a time. This is a $50,000 . . . I think the veterans deserve more than $50,000. This bill says they’re only worth $50,000.

“Why are we having a separate piece of legislation that could very well cost more than $50,000 to distribute $50,000? It makes no sense. It is bad lawmaking. We should kill this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“You know, in the Committee the other day one would have thought that everybody in the state won the lottery. Everybody had a smile on their face, there were cheers, there was clapping, there was applause, and what was it all for? Because we raised the tax yet again on cigarette consumers. We raised it substantially, but the proponents really were not happy because they would have liked to raise it even faster and even more. And of course they will be back again next year to do that.

“This bill, as I continue to repeat time after time, really has nothing to do about health, because if we were really concerned about the plight of the smokers and their health, we would ban cigarettes. We wouldn’t allow them to use these awful things and we would put an end to it, but instead, no, we want them to pay more and more and more. Because what this has become, as always, is a question of money, not of health.

“We know that the cigarette tax, a cigarette tax anywhere, is among the most regressive of any excise taxes, that it afflicts the poor the most because poor people seem to smoke more than wealthier people, and yet we continue to tax and take great glee at this. I don’t think we should because the same people that are taxing the cigarette smokers will be coming after fat kids and fast meals and my Pepsi Cola next, because after all, Pepsi has benzene in it. So they don’t want me to stop drinking it, they’ll just want to double and triple and quadruple the tax. That’s the hypocrisy of this, Mr. President, it’s all about the money, not about the health.

“Now we’ve got more and more groups lining up to take some of this money and to use it for purposes other than originally intended in the tobacco settlement and so forth. And everybody is happy that we’re taxing these folks. What we’re really doing, though, is sending a message that again we are selecting a certain group of people. We are targeting them to take as much money as we can from them. If they die, too bad, we’ll tax them right up until the last breath they take. We’ll expand that tax. We want to be number one in the country; I think we’re only number two right now.

“We want to continue to take it more and more, but as I say, the philosophy is not just restricted to cigarettes, it is the idea that if there’s something that we don’t like or that we can make socially unacceptable, then we will go after it and we will tax it to its limit. As sure as I’m standing here straight and tall and happy as a lark at 5:25, I’m telling you that they’re going to be coming after your other legal activities that some people don’t like.

“So, I know that there is great excitement and great glee in taxing people further, but I will stand against increased taxes and I vote ‘no’ against this bill.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Mr. President and colleagues, this is the second part of our incentive to quit smoking package that is before the Legislature this year.

"This measure will, yes, increase the tax on cigarettes and the revenue generated will go to some very important health related causes – funding the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii, providing for additional funding for emergency medical services, making sure that we have access to trauma care, and helping our community health centers.

"We discussed in a previous bill the health causes for smoking. We've discussed the link between smoking itself, secondhand smoke, and cancer. Cancer is certainly one of the diseases, but if you look at all of the literature, the detriments to our health from smoking are immense and it seems more and more diseases are linked to tobacco use each year. So it's important that we provide incentives for people to quit and also provide help for people to quit.

"For those of you who may not be aware, although if you've listened to the radio or TV recently you will know that a very effective program that's been launched in Hawaii is the tobacco quit line. It's a way of helping people to stop smoking and to stay strong in the face of a very addictive substance, nicotine.

"Because of the relationship between cancer and smoking, we felt it was most fitting that some of the increased revenues coming from the increase in the cigarette tax go for our cancer center. Cancer is a disease of aging. Hawaii's population is aging three times faster than the rest of the country and so we're going to have an even greater need for comprehensive cancer treatment, programs, research, clinical trials than we currently have. In fact we're anticipating a doubling in the number of new cancer cases each year in the State of Hawaii in less than 25 years. We need to be prepared to meet the needs of a growing number of cancer patients in Hawaii and they shouldn't have to go away for their treatment. We ought to have a comprehensive set of treatment options here. Available cancer treatments ought to be cutting edge. They ought to be available to everyone in the state whether they reside on Oahu or on the neighbor islands.

"To the good Senator from Hawaii Kai's point about why are we raising the taxes, what good does it do, I would just like to point to a number of studies that consistently show that raising cigarette cost in the form of taxes is one of the most effective ways to reduce smoking. That really is an objective of the Health Committee, the Conference Committee, and I believe the proponents of this measure is to try to help people quit so that their health can be improved because research has demonstrated that smoking harms nearly every organ of the body damaging overall health even if no specific disease develops.

"A study by researchers at the University of Illinois at Chicago and the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research that was released April 24, 2001, showed that cigarette tax increases are especially effective at preventing kids from becoming regular addicted smokers. The study found that a 10 percent increase in the price of cigarettes would decrease the number of children who start to smoke between 3 and 10 percent depending upon their stage of smoking. Price was found to have the greatest impact on preventing kids from becoming daily, and relatively heavy, daily smokers.

"The Centers for Disease Control when they list their best practice guidelines, one of the elements is to increase the cost of a pack of cigarettes because that is such a formidable deterrent in keeping young people from smoking and providing that additional incentive for adults to quit as well.

"By providing a dedicated funding source for our cancer research center, we will allow it to remain competitive and secure an additional National Cancer Institute designated to become a comprehensive cancer center. At this center we would offer cutting edge cancer treatment here in Hawaii without the need to travel to the mainland for treatment. We'd be able to offer coordinated and comprehensive care that's currently lacking here at home. Currently, many cancer patients leave the islands for access to enroll in clinical trials with novel treatment regimes that are only available at large academic cancer centers on the mainland, but our new cancer center will be able to provide access to such trials and minimize the need for patients to leave the islands at a time when family support and care is most critical.

"The cancer center is just one of the beneficiaries of the increased revenue from the cigarette tax. By the sixth year, the trauma care special fund will be receiving approximately $15 million per year; the emergency medical services special fund, $12.5 million; community health clinics, $12.5 million. The health issues that these special funds represent can be mitigated with more resources and ultimately freeing the general fund.

"The previous speaker noted that somehow he thought that using the tobacco taxes for these purposes was somehow going against the master settlement agreement. I would just note that currently the tobacco tax goes into the general fund and can be spent for anything. The master settlement agreement can be spent for anything as well and some states have spent their money on lowering property taxes, making sure that they had a debt reduction, a whole host of other things aside from trying to prevent smoking. While Hawaii hasn't put the designated amount into smoking cessation and prevention that CDC recommends, we've put in a significant portion from the master settlement agreement and clearly those efforts and the efforts in this measure will go a long way, I think, to deter smoking.

"Because there were some other issues clouded by one of the big tobacco lobbyists in our state, we asked the attorney general to opine on the notion that somehow passing this legislation would impede or somehow harm the master settlement agreement and the dollars that we receive from it. So Mr. President, I'd like to have that memo from deputy attorney general Earl R. Hoke, Jr. who has been the one on the AG's staff to handle all of the master settlement agreements, I'd like to have that attached to the Journal for future reference. I also have prepared a chart that talks about how the monies will be distributed. I passed this out at Caucus and gave copies to our good friend across the way, the Minority Leader, so that it would be clear for everyone to see just exactly where the dollars were going.

"Mr. President and colleagues, this I think is a very important measure for us. It goes hand in hand with the secondhand smoke ban. It goes hand in hand with trying to address some of the very critical health needs in our state, and it will provide real incentives for people to never take up the habit and also for them to quit. In places like Montana, Washington State and others that have passed significant increases recently, the efforts not only in terms of admissions to emergency rooms with heart attacks, but also with the number of people using the quit line and actually giving up smoking has been very beneficial.

"And yes, Mr. President, I would love it if we were to find that we didn't generate the revenue that we anticipate because people had quit smoking. Thank you very much."

The Chair having so ordered, the memo from the deputy attorney general is identified as ATTACHMENT "A" to the Journal of this day.

Senator Hogue rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, in response to the last speaker, I voted in favor of the secondhand smoke bill but I'm going to vote 'no' on this one, and the reason why, colleagues, is because I voted against every single tax increase in the time that I've been here in the State Senate and I really strongly believe that taxation should be fair and across the board and not used as a punishment of certain vices.

"I remember a few years ago we had a proposed increase in the tax for liquor. I believe that measure went down. I could be wrong on that, but I remember there were a number of people on this particular Floor that stood up against that. This is just like that. I don't like smoking. I can't stand smoking, but I hate the fact that we are taxed so much and we should not be using our tax system this way in which we punish a segment of our society.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to this measure.

"The argument against this measure that has not yet been given today is that when you make a tax too high, some people will see opportunity to make money, make money illegally. And yes, you might notice that the tax revenue will go down. And perhaps some of it will be due to less smoking, but we will be creating economic opportunity to those that are most entrepreneurial in our society that is going to go out and get bootleg cigarettes, black market cigarettes, and we should not be raising the tax so high that we create a system that by its very nature tries to corrupt our law enforcement officials. We saw it happen across the United States during prohibition. The same thing will happen if you raise the tax on any commodity too much.

"The second thing is most people out there don't want the State Legislature to be their mommy, and that's what we're doing. We're saying that through social engineering we're going to raise your tax to modify your behavior. You're not going to change their behavior and you're going to get more and more upset with those that seek to do so, and we as the Legislature lose credibility. Vote 'no.'"

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this legislation.

"We've heard some wonderful reasons from the Chairman of the Health Committee and the empirical evidence on why to vote in favor of this bill. I would say it is empirical. It is experience and experience is the oracle of truth, and the fact is that increased taxes have deterred young people from taking up smoking. The facts are that this is one of the major killers in the United States of America. The facts are that there is nothing, absolutely nothing, redeeming about cigarette smoking. Yes, I can eat a fatty hamburger; one is not going to hurt me. If I eat too many, maybe it will. But smoking one cigarette is bad no matter what the circumstance is. So all of the comparisons and all of the rationales given out on this just fall short. Smoking is bad.

"We heard about punishing smokers. Actually we're rewarding smokers. We're rewarding them with trying to provide them the assistance they may need to deter them from smoking that extra cigarette that may be the difference between life and death.

"I'd like to share with you a personal experience. It happened to me a little over 20 years ago. I was a young guy with some old friends. We rode the waves together and this one chap was 68 years old. I went and saw him at his house the day before he died. He had lung cancer. He was 68 chronologically, but in many ways he was 28 or 38 and he wanted to live his life. He didn't want to die. He was crying, as I was. He said 'I've spent my whole life trying to stop smoking and it's finally killing me.' He's dead. I took his ashes out about a week later to a surf called Kalehuawehi and he's there now.

"This is about saving lives. This isn't about taxes. This is about helping people cure their disease, this terrible addiction they have. The money is something and I'm very proud to have voted against every tax increase since I've been here in the Senate, but I'm very proud today to stand up and be voting in favor of this tax increase because it will make a heck of a difference in people's lives. And maybe, just maybe if my friend had had the assistance he needed when he was young boy not to smoke, he'd be here today as a very old man watching these proceedings.

"I urge my colleagues to support this legislation. Its time has come. Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 179-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2961, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hooser rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 965.

"We in America have a history marred by the excessive and often illegal and unwarranted use of electronic surveillance. From the McCarthy era, to the civil rights movement and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., to Vietnam, to post-9/11 America, our citizens it seems have just cause for concern.

"Colleagues, this is a slippery slope and it is my belief that we must do more in Hawaii, not less, than the federal government to protect our personal liberty, our privacy, and our democracy. For these reasons, I'll be voting in opposition to this bill.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Ihara requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 819.

"I oppose this measure because I'm opposed to state agencies being enabled to keep in their own special fund the fines and penalties that they levy on others. Part of my opposition historically to other measures like the van cam is that it changes the focus of the organization. It changes the focus to one of fining and trying to maximize those fines so that their program has a steady source of income. And to the extent that this detracts from their other responsibilities, I think it is poor public policy. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 186-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 819, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HISTORIC PRESERVATION SPECIAL FUND," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I again, for the seventh time, rise in opposition to this measure. Maybe I can get it right this time.

"Colleagues, this is not about money laundering. This is about consumer choice and an attempt by some of the larger players, some of the players that are not now competitive, to eliminate their competition. Currently, if you want to transmit money home, you can go to Bank of Hawaii. You can pay for . . . the last time I checked at Bank of Hawaii it cost me $65.00 to send a wire transfer. You can go to Western Union. I can't remember what they charge. Unfortunately, I didn't have the time or the energy to invest in looking around for alternatives that are cheaper, but when this bill came up and it came up again, Western Union and one time I think it was Philippine National Bank came down and testified that they needed to protect people. No, what they wanted was the people transmitting the money successfully, the people that wanted to get their money home, to not have that inexpensive alternative. And quite frankly, I didn't see anybody at the public hearings – any of the people that were actually sending money back home – wanting to be saved.

"You would expect that if this were indeed a consumer protection bill, that there would be injured parties coming forward saying please protect us. But the only people that came forward were industry people that wanted to eliminate their cheaper competition. Why did they come back this year? Why does it appear that this year it will succeed? Because those people hired a lobbyist and are actually using a paid lobbyist to lobby us so we'll pass it. I think it would be a wrong signal, a bad signal, if in four years we reject the bill three times to pass it on the fourth year simply because the only difference they made was to have a paid lobbyist.

"I urge your 'no' vote. You're not protecting people; you're just forcing them to use a more expensive alternative. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 189-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2143, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MONEY TRANSMITTERS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"It's really interesting because as the testimony indicated, this bill would require the Department of Labor to establish standardized forms for medical service providers and so forth. The Department of Labor is already doing that and passage of this bill will not make them do anything that they've not already done, are doing, plan to do, and it won't reduce the cost to employers or employees, and it won't speed up the process. What would do that is improvements to their computer system. They requested funding to do that and the funding was denied.

"So, this bill is superfluous. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 193-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 3090, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STANDARDIZED FORMS FOR WORKERS'

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in strong opposition to this bill.

“As we’ve seen through the hearings, what this bill will do is create additional causes of action, more litigation for people that do not want to take the existing methods and agencies for language accessibility. I guess this brings the point home of what we see on the mainland where now we have people changing the National Anthem to their own language. This is a nation that should be united by language. We have an international language for businesses for communication and yet we continue to try and make exceptions, and more than make exceptions, we create causes of litigation.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 201-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 2778, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LANGUAGE ACCESS,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Here we have another budget item we’re creating. We have a bill to create one position, spend $100,000. I think it should have been in the budget if it was so required. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I have remarks in support of this measure I’d like inserted into the Journal, please.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 2109.

“The purpose of this bill is to establish a full- time position to coordinate and develop prevention and intervention strategies for Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD).

“The creation of a coordinator position was the primary recommendation from the FASD Task Force establishes by H.C.R. No. 141 in the 2004 Legislative Session. A state coordinator would organize all FASD activities and ensure that a comprehensive state strategic plan to address FASD is developed and implemented. It would provide a consistent point of reference for health care and child welfare professionals and families in search of additional information.

“Children affected by FASD have life-long learning, behavioral and health problems caused by organic brain damage. This condition is fully preventable by eliminating alcohol use during pregnancy. Individuals with FASD usually require a range of specialized medical, social, educational, and legal services.

“As Healthy Mothers, Healthy Babies coalition pointed out in testimony to your Health Committee, there is no ‘safe amount’ of alcohol during pregnancy, although binge drinking is especially harmful to the fetus. FASD occurs in about 10 per 1000 live births, which is greater than either Downs Syndrome or autism. Unlike other developmental disabilities, FASD is 100 percent preventable. It is estimated that 175-185 infants are born each year in Hawaii affected by FASD, due to their mother drinking alcohol in pregnancy. An infant born with FASD has lifetime health and special education needs estimated to cost between $735,000 to $3.7 M per person. The estimated annual cost of services and care for persons affected by FASD in Hawaii is estimated at $10.4 M. The modest expenditure in this measure to provide for the coordination of services, information and planning across agency lines is a very cost effective approach lessening the impact of FASD in our state.

“This bill fosters the birth of healthy babies in our state. I urge all my colleagues to vote in support of H.B. No. 2109, C.D. 1. Mahalo.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 209-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 2109, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I stand in opposition to S.B. No. 3009.

“I think it is wrong to confer by fiat civil service status on employees where the only requirement is that they meet minimum standards. It truly is going in the wrong direction to say that the threshold minimum qualifications really is the only thing needed for civil service in our civil service system. We should as a system be encouraging the hiring of the best and the brightest, and in some cases just minimum qualifications should not be enough. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 213-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 3009, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL SERVICE EXEMPT EMPLOYEES,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Nishihara rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President and colleagues, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 3101, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1.

“As a former educator and public school administrator who has taught and served in economically depressed areas in the DOE school system, I have had ample examples of students and their parents who have struggled with educational deprivation, which in large measure translates in later life to economic deprivation because of their lack of early educational support. I have seen firsthand the effects of students raised in homes that have struggled with parents whose educational opportunities and deficits have transferred their burdens onto their children. The benefits of early intervention and support to parents who have not had the opportunities to provide high quality education to their young children is a burden they really do not wish or want for their children.

“As a teacher in the public school system, I’ve heard comments from teachers and others that these parents do not care about their children’s education. I have always disagreed and stated that they do care but lack the skills and access to effect positive outcomes for their keiki.

“I believe that this bill will do much to provide these missed opportunities to those communities where these parents reside. This can serve as a beacon of hope for breaking the cycle of poverty and poor academic progress. Because of these reasons, I ask that my colleagues support this bill. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“Just to be more specific than my previous colleague who gave a bigger vision, I’d first like to thank the Human Services Chair for working hard last year and this year to continue to have a comprehensive system and our Ways and Means money people for putting some funds in.

“One of the things this does is build on the Junior K effort that was started last year to make that more meaningful and professional development work within the department. Another thing this bill does is expand the Families For Real, part of the vision our colleague from Waipahu talked about. It also expands Head Start in schools in our communities. Many children and families will benefit.

“Finally, the discussion about how early childhood should develop in our state, this bill continues the hard work of Representative Berg on the other side and our Senator from the Human Services Committee has done. This is a good bill that will really help our state. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 214-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 3101, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Hee).

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 219-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 3273, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This bill attempts to fool the public into thinking that we still have a zero tolerance policy at our schools. In fact we’ve discussed this before. We don’t have a zero tolerance policy. Zero tolerance meant that if there were drugs discovered on campus by students, they would be dismissed from school. Now what we’re seeing is they may not be dismissed, there’s not a zero tolerance policy. What they will get instead is an assessment, a substance abuse assessment. Then we have separate bills to pay for additional substance abuse assessors.

“So, we’re spending more money, creating more positions, but we’re not enforcing the promise that we made to parents and to students alike, particularly those students not drug addicted, and that is that we will stick by a zero tolerance policy. Either we have it or we don’t. This bill says we’re going to make it permanent except that we can then put them to social service assessments.

“We need a zero tolerance policy and we need to stick by it. This bill does not do that.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Mr. President, the measure before us today is the product of many hours of conversation between the Senate and the House, the Department of Education, the Department of Health, and representatives of the private nonprofit community that offers treatment services in our schools. A taskforce was mandated by the Legislature in a measure passed last year. Its purpose was to review the zero tolerance policy – to hear from educators, to hear from people who work with the young people to see how we could make sure that there were consequences to having drugs, alcohol, other forbidden substances at schools but at the same time acknowledging that some of these individuals might actually have a substance abuse problem that needed to be treated. We also wanted to make sure that in every instance there were consequences but they also continued to have access to educational services.

“Mr. President, I think this is a very fair bill. It addresses the concerns that we heard from principals about wanting to have consequences to actions and the consequences to actions are in this bill. It also addressed the concerns of others who said we need to make sure that young people who may have a substance abuse problem get the appropriate assessment, treatment and follow-up, and that if they make a mistake in their life, that it’s not going to follow them forever and prevent them from being able to go on to college or to work or to a vocational trade.

“Mr. President, this is a very good bill. I enjoyed working with the Department of Education, the Department of Health representatives, and Representative Blake Oshiro, who was the designated House representative. I think we’ve come up with a bill that has been endorsed by all of the stakeholders in this measure and I ask my colleagues to vote in favor of it.”

Senator Nishihara requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 221-06 (S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 221-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“We’ve talked about this bill or a bill like it for a couple of years now. The idea was to give unemployment compensation relief to employers who are among the highest taxed in the nation. I’ve pointed out time after time after time that no employee pays one penny of unemployment compensation tax. It is levied on employers only and still we continue to see people in this Legislature refer to and write committee reports saying we need to balance anything we give to employers with employees. We don’t need to balance it unless we want to balance the costs and balance the tax. It is a tax against employers only.

“The only thing that they did in the conference draft was to extend for one more year, a total of two years, a reduction in unemployment compensation taxes. But in exchange for that, employers will pay permanently increased costs of unemployment compensation in terms of benefits, in terms of the number of weeks that are covered and so forth, and we still have the murky problem of willful and wanton conduct, making it much more difficult for an employer to dismiss an employee.

“Employers desperately wanted relief. They are not getting it from this Legislature. This is a fake reform bill, and if you add up the cost, the cost to employers will be far greater than the two years of reduction that they get in this bill.”

Senators Kim, Ihara, Ige and Nishihara requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 221-06 was adopted and S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT SECURITY,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 225-06 (H.B. No. 3142, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 225-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 3142, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, again I’m forced to oppose the bill because it creates another special fund. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I have some remarks in support of this measure I’d like inserted into the Journal, please.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 3142, Relating to Trauma Care, which establishes a trauma care special fund to be administered by the Department of Health. A portion of the revenue generated by an increase in the tax on cigarettes will be deposited into the special fund to ensure the availability of trauma care services in the State.

“Trauma centers throughout the United States are facing growing financial difficulties. Many of these problems are inherently related to the cost of having resources on-call every minute of the day to treat severely injured patients. Other factors have also contributed to the financial problems of trauma centers, including uncompensated care from uninsured/underinsured patients, rising medical malpractice insurance costs, inadequate reimbursement rates for hospitals and physicians from Medicaid and managed care organizations, and increasing costs for physicians to be on-call 24/7.

“According to the Trauma system study conducted by the American College of Surgeons in October 2005, injury in the State of Hawaii accounts for 50.7 percent of deaths for persons age 1 – 44, roughly one third more than that of cancer and heart disease combined. The rates of unintentional injury on the neighbor islands were more than double those for Honolulu County across most age categories based on a report of fatal injuries in the state from 1996 – 2000. This provides a strong argument for the development of an integrated system of trauma medical and transport services to meet the needs of residents and visitors alike.

“Dan Jessop, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of The Queen’s Medical Center (Queen’s) testified in support of H.B. No. 3142 noting that more than 1,500 trauma patients receive care at Queen’s annually and more than half of the trauma patients treated are under-insured or uninsured. Queen’s projected loss for trauma for this fiscal year is approximately $6 million. But this is not just a Queen’s issue. Every emergency department in our state provides some level of trauma service. If we are to comprehensively address the issues outlined in the College of Surgeons report, we need to advance the state’s only trauma center at Queens to a level one center and stand up level three centers on the Big Island and Maui. The Legislature this session adopted a resolution calling upon the Department of Health to begin development of such a comprehensive, integrated system. DOH has already begun that task.

“Because of the growing financial problems of trauma centers, many states have passed legislation to establish dedicated funding sources for trauma centers or to provide temporary funding until long-term solutions are addressed. The Legislative Reference Bureau (LRB) recently issued a report entitled, ‘On-Call Crisis in Trauma Care: Government Responses,’ which included the finding that trauma centers across the nation have for many years been facing a crisis securing physician specialists for emergency call. The LRB concluded that ‘the rationale for public support of uncompensated trauma services is the same as for critical police and fire services; a trauma system is a necessary public service that ought to be publicly supported.’

“To that end, many other state legislatures have seen fit to support their trauma systems and have developed dedicated sources of funding to ensure continued trauma care. H.B. No. 3142 would be a step toward ensuring the availability of trauma care to the residents of Hawaii.

“I stand in support of this bill and ask for a yes vote from my colleagues. Mahalo.”

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications (Misc. Com. Nos. 5 and 6), were read by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Misc. Com. No. 5, from the Honorable Robert Bunda, President of the Senate, and the Honorable Calvin K.Y. Say, Speaker of the House of Representatives, dated April 29, 2006, transmitting Legislative Communication No. 1 which extends the Conference Committee deadlines from 12:00 midnight, April 28, 2006, to 12:30 a.m., April 29, 2006.

Misc. Com. No. 6, from the Honorable Robert Bunda, President of the Senate, and the Honorable Calvin K.Y. Say, Speaker of the House of Representatives, dated April 29, 2006, transmitting Legislative Communication No. 2 which further extends the Conference Committee deadlines from 12:30 a.m., April 29, 2006, to 1:00 a.m., April 29, 2006.

At 6:30 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 6:31 o'clock p.m.

Senator Menor rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, the Legislature can take pride in numerous accomplishments this Session. However, I am deeply disappointed in the fact that this Body had to recommit a very important pro-consumer measure, S.B. No. 2917, H.D. 3, which would have continued health insurance rate regulation in Hawaii.

"As many of you know, I have been a champion of the health insurance rate regulation act as one of its coauthors during the 2002 Session. The insurance commissioner came out in strong support of health insurance rate regulation this Session because it has generated significant cost savings for consumers and businesses in Hawaii since its implementation. It has also provided needed oversight over our largest health insurance carrier which has dominated the health insurance market.

"The reason why S.B. No. 2917, H.D. 3, had to be recommitted is because it contains a defective date that was inserted by the House. I am deeply disappointed that both the Speaker of the House and the House Consumer Protection Chair, who led House Conferees, have refused repeated requests since Friday by me and Senate Leadership to reconvene a Conference Committee so we can pass out a non-defective clean bill that can be passed to the Governor for her signature.

"It is unfortunate that the House Speaker and the House Consumer Protection Chair, who have shown a partiality to HMSA on other health insurance issues in the past, have stubbornly resisted our efforts to keep health insurance rate regulation alive. The refusal of the House to cooperate with the Senate I believe represents a major blow to consumers. By recommitting the bill back into Conference Committee, we are giving House Conferees one final opportunity to reconvene a Conference meeting before we sine die on Thursday so we can pass out a conference draft for final action by both houses.

"I sincerely hope that House Leaders will reconsider their position before the end of Session so we can keep health insurance rate regulation alive for consumers. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, I think it's very important, in view of the previous speaker's personal privilege, to bring up an issue that I believe this Legislature, if we had in place an ethics committee in the Senate as we once talked about, we could deal with the very serious issue of embedded lobbyists – people that work for corporations with very large vested interests in what this Legislature does, being on loan to particular Committee Chairs and literally, as we understand, assisting in not only passage, but writing and helping manage legislation that has direct impact on their companies and resources. These embedded lobbyists are influencing legislation. They're not under the lobbyist's laws and therefore I think it's an enormous conflict of interest for the Chairmen that are utilizing these embedded lobbyists.

"What I'm hoping for, under this plea and under personal privilege, is that this Legislature will be aware of the problem and deal with it accordingly so that we may get rid of this undue influence on our process or what I consider to be the undue influence of certain special interests, especially in the Conference Committee process. I subscribe to what the previous speaker said as results go, but more importantly, why did it happen? Possibly a good reason is because of the embedded lobbyists and the special interest they represent.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

ADJOURNMENT

At 6:36 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Hee, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Thursday, May 4, 2006.

Respectfully submitted,

Clerk of the Senate

Re: Philip Morris U.S.A.'s Opposition to SB 2961, S.D. 1, H.D.1, C.D. 1, Relating to Health

Dear Conferees:

We understand that Philip Morris USA is asserting that an increase in the tobacco tax would result in a breach of the Master Settlement Agreement (MSA) and that the designated use of the tobacco tax revenues generated by the increase in tobacco taxes would violate the terms of the MSA. Based on the taxing powers of the State, as articulated in Article VII, Section 1, of the Hawaii State Constitution, and the terms of the MSA, we conclude that passage of SB 2961 would not constitute a breach of the MSA.

Article VII, Section 1, of the Hawaii State Constitution clearly states that, "The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended, or contracted away." The view of Philip Morris that the MSA prohibits the Legislature from increasing tobacco taxes implicates this provision. A plain reading of Article VII, Section 1, makes clear that the power of taxation may not be, "surrendered, suspended, or contracted away." For these reasons, a court would conclude that the MSA did not divest Hawaii of its sovereign authority to increase tobacco taxes.

No provision of the MSA expressly bars the Legislature from increasing tobacco taxes. The definition of "claim", as articulated in the MSA, does not expressly include the increase in tobacco taxes by a settling state. The MSA plainly includes an express awareness by the parties that the settling states, as sovereign entities, may choose to increase tobacco taxes and places no restriction on these sovereign entities. A reading of the MSA reveals that the MSA specifically does not prohibit a Participating Manufacturer from, "opposing, or causing to be opposed, any excise tax or income tax provision or user fee or other payments relating to Tobacco Products or Tobacco Product Manufacturers." (MSA Sec. III(m)(1)(C)). Clearly, the manufacturers were protecting their right to oppose potential increases in tobacco taxes. The parties therefore had no intent to prohibit the settling states, as sovereign entities, from increasing tobacco taxes.

It appears that Philip Morris is relying on a Minnesota case as authority for its position that an increase in the tobacco tax and the use of tax revenues generated by the proposed increase in the tobacco tax are constrained by the terms of the MSA. Because of Philip Morris's reliance on the Minnesota¹ trial court case, we will summarize it here.

In 2005, the Governor of Minnesota signed into law a measure that established a "Tobacco Health Impact Fee" ("Fee"), which imposed a per pack "Fee" of 75 cents on cigarette distributors. The funds generated by the "Fee" were to be used solely to reimburse the State "for state health costs related to or caused by tobacco use" (citation omitted). Liability for the "Fee" was in addition to the tax that was to be paid. Further, the Minnesota statute required the state Human Services Department to certify to the Finance Department each year, "the state share, by fund, of tobacco use attributable costs for the previous fiscal year in Minnesota health care programs, including medical assistance, general assistance medical care, and MinnesotaCare, or other applicable expenditures" (citation omitted). The Finance Department must then transfer, "to the general fund an amount sufficient to offset the general-fund cost of the certified expenditures . . . or the balance of the fund, whichever is less" (citation omitted). It is clear that the revenues from the "Fee" are dedicated solely to reimburse the state for costs incurred because of tobacco use in Minnesota. The fact that the Minnesota statute imposed a "Fee" to recover tobacco-related costs, rather than a "tax" appears to be a critical factor in the trial court's decision. The trial court explained, "[w]hile the Legislature is free to raise revenue by means of a tax, and all parties agree that there would be no basis to override such a tax, the purpose of this legislation was to seek governmental reimbursement for the costs associated with tobacco which distinguishes the [Health Impact Fee] from a tax and makes it a fee" (citation omitted). The Minnesota case is on appeal with the Minnesota Supreme Court.

Here it is clear that S.B. 2961, is intended to increase an established tax. Section 245-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, provides that, "Every wholesaler or dealer, in addition to any other taxes provided by law, shall pay for the privilege of conducting business and other activities in the State." The excise tax is levied on each cigarette sold, used, or possessed by a wholesaler or dealer. S.B. 2961, does not call for an additional fee to be assessed in addition to the tax, as was the case in Minnesota. At this time we understand that the tobacco tax revenues generated by this measure have been designated to be used for a wide range of health and medical purposes (Hawaii cancer research fund, emergency medical services, trauma care, and community health centers statewide) rather than being narrowly earmarked for the purpose of reimbursing the government for tobacco-related costs, as was true in Minnesota.

For the reasons discussed above, we conclude that passage of S.B. 2961, which allocates the increase in the tobacco tax to a wide range of health and medical purposes, would not violate the MSA. If there are any questions, please contact me at 586-1199.

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 2, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 173

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 173, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to the National Guard.’

This bill would require that persons appointed in the future to be the Adjutant General possess at least five years of service as an active commissioned officer in the Hawaii National Guard.

This bill is objectionable because it severely restricts a Governor from selecting and appointing the best military leader from all branches of the military services to serve in this significant position. The importance of the position of Adjutant General is critical to the safety and protection of the public. Limiting the ability of the Governor to select the best and brightest for this cabinet level position is short-sighted and gravely misguided.

The best candidate for Adjutant General may very well be a candidate who is not a member of the National Guard. This is especially true as the United States Department of Defense moves to increase cooperation between branches of the military and require close coordination in response to national defense and natural disasters. This bill would reject the logic that any candidate outside of the Guard could do an outstanding job as commanding general of the Hawaii National Guard.

The Adjutant General not only serves as the executive head of the Department of Defense and commanding general of the Hawaii National Guard, but also fulfills two other crucial roles not directly related to experience in the National Guard.

First, the Adjutant General serves as Director of State Civil Defense, with responsibilities covering homeland security, emergency preparedness, crisis management, and disaster cleanup. The Adjutant General is required to coordinate not only those activities involving the National Guard, but all civil defense or emergency management activities with private, county, state, and federal agencies and military branches. Second, the Adjutant General works with the Office of Veterans Services to assist and support our veterans of all of the armed services in the State of Hawaii. A requirement that the Adjutant General have served no less than five years in the Hawaii National Guard is not a clear and convincing criteria for being able to handle a broad scope of duties the Adjutant General role requires.

The qualifications and appointment as codified in Section 121-7, Hawaii Revised Statutes, have stood the test of time and should not be changed. Other than limiting the appointing power of the Governor, this bill serves no legitimate purpose in protecting the people of Hawaii. The State of Hawaii must not limit itself when it comes to ensuring the security and safety of our people, supporting our veterans, and working collaboratively with all branches of the military.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 173 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,”

Gov. Msg. No. 603, dated May 2, 2005, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 1155 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 2, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1155

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1155, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Naturopathy.’

The purpose of this bill is to require the Board of Examiners in Naturopathy to adopt a formulary and qualifications for administering natural medicines by injection and to grant to qualified naturopaths the authority to administer natural medicines by injection.

This bill is objectionable because it does not provide adequate protection for the health and safety of the public. While the practice of naturopathic medicine has a long history and the administration of ‘natural medicines’ by injection is part of that history, this bill does not sufficiently define ‘natural medicine.’ Although naturopaths would not have access to substances controlled under chapter 329 (Uniform Controlled Substance Act), Hawaii Revised Statutes, or prescription drugs under the purview of chapter 328 (Food, Drugs, and Cosmetics), Hawaii Revised Statutes, there are many substances on the market that are not controlled by law or regulated by the United States Food and Drug Administration and that are touted as ‘natural.’ The injection of some of these substances may cause serious harm or death to recipients of such injections.

Additionally, this bill provides that a temporary advisory committee on the administration of natural medicines by injection be formed to recommend to the Board of Examiners in Naturopathy a formulary of natural medicines that naturopaths may administer by injection and the qualifications necessary for administering natural medicines by injection. This committee would be composed of two persons licensed as naturopathic physicians under chapter 455 (Naturopathy), Hawaii Revised Statutes, and appointed by the Board of Examiners in Naturopathy; one person licensed in medicine under chapter 453 (Medicine and Surgery), Hawaii Revised Statutes, and appointed by the Board of Medical Examiners; and one person licensed as a pharmacist under chapter 461 (Pharmacists and Pharmacy), Hawaii Revised Statutes, and appointed by the Board of Pharmacy. The temporary committee’s recommendations would be acted upon by the Board of Examiners in Naturopathy, composed of three naturopathic physicians and two public members. Thus, the determination of what constitutes a ‘natural medicine,’ as well as the qualifications necessary to inject those substances into patients, would be primarily the decision of naturopaths themselves.

It would be preferable that any formulary of injectable 'natural medicines' and the qualifications to administer by injection be overseen by medical doctors, as is the case with nurses.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1155 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,"

Gov. Msg. No. 604, dated May 2, 2005, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 2454 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 2, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2454

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2454, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Legislative Vacancies.'

The purpose of this bill is to require the Governor, in filling vacancies in the State Legislature and the United States Senate, to select a replacement from a list of three prospective appointees nominated by the political party of the prior incumbent.

The goal of the present law is to fill vacancies in the State Legislature and the United States Senate in a timely manner when such vacancies occur. These vacancies in elective office are appropriately filled by the Governor, who is elected by the public at large, and as such is accountable to them. The process for filling vacancies in the United States Senate and the Hawaii State Legislature has been in place since 1970 and has not been shown to have compromised the integrity of the election process.

This bill places the ability for determining who may be appointed by the Governor with the political party leadership of the vacating office holder. This is in spite of the fact that these individuals are not elected by the public and, as such, are not accountable to them.

Additionally, the bill, without any stated rationale, narrows the field of qualified candidates that the political party can consider to those who have been registered members of that party for at least six months prior to the appointment. Such a provision fails to recognize that this may unreasonably restrict the pool of potential candidates as the majority of people who personally and philosophically associate themselves with a political party and vote along party lines may not meet this requirement.

The Governor's ability and responsibility to select the most qualified person to fill a vacancy should not be so narrowly restricted.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2454 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,"

Gov. Msg. No. 605, advising the Senate of the withdrawal of the nomination of LINDA L. SMITH to the Hawaii Public Housing Administration (PHA), under Gov. Msg. No. 515, dated April 19, 2006, was placed on file.

In compliance with Gov. Msg. No. 605, the nomination listed under Gov. Msg. No. 515 was returned.

Gov. Msg. No. 606, informing the Senate that on May 2, 2006, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution, which reads as follows:

House Bill No. 1233 as Act 76, entitled: "RELATING TO CIVIL RIGHTS."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1233 HD1 SD1

On May 2, 2006, House Bill 1233, entitled 'Relating to Civil Rights' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The bill would prohibit discrimination based on sexual orientation in public accommodations. The measure would also prohibit discrimination in public accommodations based on gender identity or expression.

'Sexual orientation' has been defined to mean having a preference for heterosexuality, homosexuality, or bisexuality, having a history of any one or more of these preferences, or being identified with any one or more of these preferences. Hawaii law currently prohibits discrimination based on sexual orientation in the areas of housing (HRS 515-3) and employment (HRS 378-2).

Further, it should be noted that HRS Chapter 368 contains the following language in the purpose and intent: 'The legislature finds and declares that the practice of discrimination because of race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, national origin, ancestry, or disability in employment, housing, public accommodations, or access to services receiving State financial assistance is against public policy.' (underlines added) Thus, it would appear that the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission already has a basis in law to enforce prohibitions against discrimination in public accommodations based on sexual orientation and this portion of HB 1233 restates what is already a protected class.

This bill further defines 'gender identity or expression' to include a person's actual or perceived gender, gender identity, gender-related self-image, gender-related appearance or gender-related expression, regardless of whether that gender identity, gender-related self-image, gender-related appearance, or gender-related expression is different from that traditionally associated with the person's sex at birth.

This part of the bill is problematic. The definitions are broad, subjective, and contain no limiting terms or interpretational guidelines. The Hawaii Civil Rights Commission currently interprets 'sex discrimination' to include the abuses related to the treatment of individuals who have a gender identity or expression that is different from their birth sex. This interpretation of prohibited sex discrimination is in line with recent court cases in our federal judiciary and sister states. However, the definition in this bill is broader than the current interpretation of sex discrimination. Undefined and overly broad language can lead to disputes and create the potential for escalating reasonable actions by the owners and operators of public accommodations into legal proceedings. Such broad and subjective definitions should not be allowed to become a proxy for socially unacceptable behavior in public places.

It is also unclear how the definitions of gender identity or expression found in section 2 of this bill impact section 489-4 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. Section 489-4 allows a public accommodation to provide separate facilities for male and female patrons for the protection of personal rights of privacy. People have a legitimate right to privacy and it appears the broad language of this measure could interfere with these legitimate rights. This lack of clarity may result in unintended and unwanted confusions and litigation in public accommodations law that should be addressed promptly by the Legislature.

Because this bill restates an existing protection for the class 'sexual orientation' and clarifies those protections extend to public accommodations in Section 489-2 and Section 489-3 of HRS, there is merit in these provisions of the measure.

For the foregoing reasons I allowed House Bill 1233 HD1 SD1 to become law as Act 76 effective May 2, 2006 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE,"

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3826 (Gov. Msg. No. 428):

By unanimous consent, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3826 was received and placed on file.

At 12:07 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:11 o'clock p.m.

Senator Hemmings moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of FRANK DE LUZ III to the Board of Land and Natural Resources, term to expire June 30, 2010, seconded by Senator Hogue.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I do want to rise and speak and urge my colleagues to consider the circumstances and the opposition to Mr. De Luz that was expressed in the Committee that resulted in him not getting an affirmative vote in Committee. We brought this to the Floor to make sure that this man has his day in court and is fairly dealt with by this Senate.

"I have here an e-mail from a well-orchestrated effort to scuttle his nomination and it says please vote no for Mr. De Luz. One of the accusations is Mr. De Luz illegally cut trees on his property, which is an action that suggests that he's unfit to sit on a conservation board, the Board of Land and Natural Resources. The facts of the matter are that he was in the process of transferring the ownership of that land to another person who cut the trees. When he found out about it, he did not go through with the transaction, and since that time, the trees have grown back. So it's a falsehood that he cut the trees himself. It really is unfair to charge him with that when he in fact did not cut the trees.

"There's another issue that I think all of us should be aware of when we talk about Mr. De Luz. I believe that the environmental community should be represented both on the Board of Land and Natural Resources and on the Land Use Commission. I would suggest to you that Mr. De Luz is in fact an environmentalist, as I am. I'm an environmentalist, and I'd like to ask all of you, what is an environmentalist? An environmentalist is not necessarily someone who goes to college and gets a degree in environmentalism. It's someone who supports conservation and preservation of our natural environment. Many of the great people that are recognized as environmentalists don't have backgrounds in environmentalism. The founder and CEO of Earthtrust has a degree in geophysics. The Sierra Club gentleman that's down here lobbying all the time has a degree in engineering or has an engineering background. The Sierra Club Chapter on Kauai has a retired teacher heading up the effort there. On Oahu the Oahu spokesman for the Sierra Club is a lawyer. On Maui, the Sierra Club representative is a real estate company, someone I think the environmentalists might say is the enemy of the environment.

"I'm a surfer. I voted in favor of the bottle bill, much to the consternation of some of the people on my side of the aisle. I voted to stop beach land from being acquired by eminent domain and condemnation. I was in the Save Our Surf committee to stop Sandy Beach from being developed and I'm presently working with the administration to put the Northwest Islands into stewardship and make it the world's largest natural area reserve.

"Mr. De Luz could be described as an environmentalist. He's a rancher. Ranchers make their living off stewardship of land. Ranchers have to make sure that the water is there, the grass is there. They have to manage their land intelligently so it continues to be bountiful. For these people who are on the witch hunt against Mr. De Luz to say that he's not an environmentalist and should not be on the Board of Land and Natural Resources is just an outright misrepresentation of fact.

"I would urge my colleagues not to jump on this convenient 'politically correct' bandwagon and vote in favor of Mr. De Luz. He's a good man, a local boy who spent his life on the Big Island and has been wrongfully attacked.

"The attacks on him were so petty, Mr. President and colleagues, that someone was challenging the fact that a lawyer helped him write his testimony for the Committee when he came in for advise and consent in front of Water, Land, and Agriculture. The reason I say it was petty is because Mr. De Luz is blind and he needed help writing his presentation, and quite frankly also wanted help to make sure that he had his T's crossed and his I's dotted correctly. So Mr. De Luz has been wrongfully attacked and wrongfully ascribed as being anti-environment when in fact he is a well-qualified local boy whose history goes back four generations on the Big Island. He is a keiki o ka aina. He is an environmentalist, and he deserves to be on this board and not be subject to this environmentally correct lynching.

"I would urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this nomination."

Senator Kokubun rose to speak against the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 428.

"Mr. President, this is not an easy thing for me to do. I have known Frank De Luz for a number of years, in fact I had the opportunity to serve with Mr. De Luz on the Hawaii County Council. However, I would just like to bring to my colleague's attention the fact that the Board of Land and Natural Resources to me is one of the most important boards or commissions in the State of Hawaii. It deals with our natural resources. We need to be sure that people who serve on this board know resource management, that they know what their responsibilities are with respect to state lands, and that they can do so in a manner that would avoid any sort of perception of conflict, if you will, in terms of how these decisions are being made.

"The good Senator from Waimanalo makes a good point that Frank De Luz is a self-made man. I do not deny that at all. He has worked hard his whole life and I credit him for that. And in our discussion at the confirmation hearing before your Committee on Water, Land, and Agriculture, I want to assure my colleagues that this was not a lynching; this was not an opportunity to castigate Mr. De Luz. Now, I'm not necessarily representing all who have submitted testimony in opposition to Mr. De Luz, but I think your Committee had a very objective approach in asking Mr. De Luz some of the critical questions that needed to be answered.

"Let me just start by saying first, with respect to the violation where he cut trees down in a special management area, even though the land was in escrow, the fact of the matter is that Mr. De Luz was the owner of the land. He also acknowledged the fact that this was a wrongful act and paid the fine. So in my mind, he was a partner to what was going on and he was a willful player in what occurred on his land. To his credit, though, he did admit that it was wrong and he paid the fine. But I think for us, especially for a board member, we cannot always look retrospectively. We need to be prospective in how decisions are going to be made that affect the resources of our state.

"The other point that for me was the turning point in my decision was his response to what constitutes conflict of interest. In his mind, Mr. De Luz feels that by turning his businesses over to his holdings over to his daughters, that that would eliminate any sort of conflict of interest. In particular, there is a revocable permit that Mr. De Luz has with the state for pasture land and he would be making decisions with respect to the disposition of that revocable permit. In his response to how he would address that issue, he again indicated that he would turn the revocable permit over to his daughter and hence that would eliminate any sort of conflict on his part in terms of decision making.

“Mr. President, I feel that we have to demand the best from our members, particularly for the Board of Land and Natural Resources and, as will be upcoming later, for the Land Use Commission. I know that those are just two boards and commissions under the purview of the Water, Land, and Agriculture Committee but I really think that those are such critical commissions because they make far reaching decisions about our valuable resources and the use of our lands in Hawaii.

“So for that reason, Mr. President, I cannot support Mr. De Luz for this position. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 5. Noes, 19 (Baker, Bunda, Chun Oakland, English, Espero, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Hee, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Inouye, Kanno, Kim, Kokubun, Menor, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Tsutsui). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3827 (Gov. Msg. No. 473):

By unanimous consent, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 3827 was received and placed on file.

At 12:23 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:24 o'clock p.m.

Senator Espero moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of ALMA A. CABERTO to the Land Use Commission, term to expire June 30, 2010, seconded by Senator Hogue.

At 12:25 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:27 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 4. Noes, 21 (Baker, Bunda, Chun Oakland, English, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Hee, Hemmings, Hogue, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Inouye, Kanno, Kim, Kokubun, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Tsutsui, Whalen).

FINAL READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM TUESDAY, MAY 2, 2006

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 187-06 (S.B. No. 2133, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 187-06 be adopted and S.B. No. 2133, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Ihara rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

“I am opposed to this bill because this is one of the two gut and replace bills that clearly did not get three readings. This one did not have three readings in the Senate. The other bill is H.B. No. 237. Because of the Taomae v Lingle court case, I believe that there is a legal cloud over this bill, actually both bills, and a lawsuit may be needed to remove this cloud.

“On the contents of this bill, I am in favor of Part I and I have reservations on Part II. Mr. President and colleagues, I plan to request and propose a rule change next Session on a germaneness rule that most other legislatures already have in their rules. A germaneness rule would limit amendments to bills to what is germane to the original contents of the bill. I believe such a rule will resolve the gut and replace problem and end the legal cloud in the future. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“Mr. President, will the previous speaker yield to a question?”

The President then posed the question, and Senator Ihara having answered in the affirmative, Senator Hemmings inquired as follows:

“Good Senator, how would that affect the customary practice of introducing vehicle bills?”

Senator Ihara responded:

“For short form bills, the process is that it comes down to the Floor. A short form bill is passed on First Reading; the substantive contents are inserted into a short form bill, which then goes back to the Floor for a reading and referral back to be recommitted to the Committee that submitted the substantive contents and then a hearing is held. So in effect, four readings are held – three readings on the substantive contents of such a bill is held.”

Senator Hemmings then said:

“Thank you, Senator. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Ige then rose and said:

“Mr. President, I would just like to note my support with reservations.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This bill was one of those bills that gave a great deal of humor to political writers and to analysts shaking their heads. This bill if it had been amended to say let's have responsible government, and let's have responsible labor unions, and let's have responsible special interest, it would be fine, but instead it singles out corporations and it's going to have a team, now it's down to a task force. It will design what a model corporation should be – probably by most people who have never met a private payroll in their lives and don't know what it means to be subject to both the whims of consumers and customers and also to stockholders and investors.

"This bill is a sham. It would not improve business or corporations but would single them out. And if you read through the bill, the motives of the sponsors of this original legislation are very clear – they don't like business, they don't like corporations, but they have no other problem with anyone else in the community.

"So it's a bad bill and I urge a 'no' vote."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 244-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 3118, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CORPORATIONS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"First of all, it creates a special fund. Secondly, it is a bill that talks about streamlining taxes but in fact really is not streamlining taxes at all. What the bill really wants to do is to enforce taxation of internet or out-of-state sales. We've talked about this bill before in the context of the fact that there are growing numbers of interstate sales and interstate activity. This bill was sold to us last year as being just a way of recapturing taxes that are due to the State of Hawaii because of non-collection of use taxes.

"There are so many problems with this bill, however, one of them goes back to the 1992 US Supreme Court decision referred to as the Quill decision, which prohibits states from taxing other states and entering into compacts with other states. That is reserved to the federal government unless the federal government passes legislation that allows the states to do that.

"One of the points that the proponents have made about this bill is that it's truly voluntary. In fact, as of October of last year, 19 states entered into a voluntary compact. That's a two-edged sword. It is voluntary right now but there can be no enforcement of collection or an attempt to collect for out-of-state site sales unless and until the federal government passes legislation which mandates and makes it compulsory that states do this. And as a matter of fact, the sponsors of this bill, the US Senators from the State of North Dakota, have said from the very beginning that this is what they want to do because they want to allow states to do this.

"So, if you are in favor of raising our taxes more, if you are in favor of taxing the internet, if you are in favor of taxing out-of-state sales and creating a tremendous burden for businesses and for consumers, then support this bill. If you want to have equity and you want to have our state tax department collect what is due, then support legislation, which we have already entered into, which would allow the state to do that. And by the way, the state, under Mr. Kawafuchi, has been very successful in collecting hundreds of millions of dollars that heretofore had not been collected. But make sure you understand that this bill has do to with new forms of taxation and increasing sales and excise taxes because that will be the ultimate result of this so-called streamlining. It is not streamlining. It is more fleecing of the taxpayers. Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure was follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, C.D. 1.

"Mr. President, this bill is not a bill to raise taxes. It is simply a bill to collect those taxes that are currently due and owing; and which the State of Hawaii cannot currently collect.

"What this bill actually does is authorize several initiatives that will substantially modernize the way Hawaii state taxes are assessed, collected, and administered. Part I of the measure establishes an integrated tax services and management special fund to receive revenues from tax revenue generating initiatives resulting from the state's new tax information management system and appropriations from the Legislature. The special fund will be used to pay for upgrades to the state's tax computer system called the integrated tax information management system or ITIMS. It will help the Department of Taxation administer its responsibilities to implement the county surcharge on state tax, and it will help the Department of Taxation administer its responsibilities to implement the streamlined sales and use tax.

"Part II of the measure adopts amendments to Hawaii's tax laws to implement the streamlined sales and use tax agreement once the state is certified by the governing board of the streamline sales tax project. Adoption of the streamlined amendments do not mean, that on January 1st, our tax system will suddenly change overnight. It means that the State of Hawaii then has specific compliance laws for the national streamlined sales tax Governing Board to review, and to use in determining whether or not our amended general excise tax and use tax statutes meet all of the requirements of the national streamlining effort.

"This process generally takes some time because, in the review process, a state may determine that it may have to modify its statutes still further to address a compliance issue or that it wants to structure its implementation timetable over a longer period of time. Each state is different and the key is to structure the compliance effort to take advantage of technology advances or other procedural enhancements that can further simplify tax revenue collecting operations.

"It is precisely because the Department of Taxation now has the opportunity to build a comprehensive system that H.B. No. 2419, C.D. 1, represents an integrated software planning tool. With its ITIMS software upgrades, the Department of Taxation can address not only improvements in its ability to collect state taxes more efficiently, but it can also plan for and incorporate long-term needs such as the implementation of Hawaii's mass transit county surcharge and streamline sales tax collections in its overall system design.

"For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to vote in support of this measure. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal and stated:

"Mr. President, just a brief rebuttal.

"Again, with all due respect to the previous speaker, there was nothing said about the compulsory nature of this legislation, which is the aim and the objective and the only way that it will take place, and we are adding additional taxing authority. We are not talking about streamlining the State Department of Taxation or allowing them further ways of getting tax compliance. We're not even talking about the use tax here. What we're talking about is a national compact which would establish, as the previous speaker glossed over very quickly, a board – a board that will set tax rates for the 50 states; a board that will not be politically accountable or visible to anyone; a board that represents bad government, bad taxation policies, and bad economics.

“I’m very passionate about this because I think that very few people understand what’s going on here. But I’m telling you unequivocally – this is a tax increase; it is across the board; it is getting around the Quill US Supreme Court decision; it is getting around the congressional ban on internet taxation, and that is what the objective and the purpose is, otherwise it would not be compulsory. Thank you.”

Senators Kim, Tsutsui and English requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 247-06 was adopted and H.B. No. 2419, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Hooser).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 248-06 (H.B. No. 957, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 248-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 957, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator Taniguchi rose in support and said:

“Mr. President, I have comments in support of this measure that I’d like to have inserted into the Journal.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Taniguchi’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

“The conference draft before us today provides meaningful income tax relief in three ways.

“First, this legislation expands the state’s individual income tax brackets by 20 percent providing long-term relief for all taxpayers, especially our low and middle income wage earners. The rate adjustment reflected in this measure is expected to return approximately $39 million to our residents.

“The second component of this measure increases the state’s standard deduction amounts to 40 percent of the federal standard deductions. This provision alone will benefit approximately 312,000 taxpayers who do not claim itemized deductions and eliminate approximately 10,500 taxpayers from income tax liability altogether. It is estimated that 53 percent of our taxpayers who claim a standard deduction amount will benefit from this proposal at a cost of approximately $11 million.

“And finally, Mr. President, this measure provides a one-time income tax credit to assist flood victims who suffered damage caused by the Manoa flood in late October of 2004 and more recently the devastating statewide floods that occurred earlier this year. Claims are anticipated to total $9.5 million.

“Again, Mr. President, this measure provides very ‘real’ and meaningful tax relief for our citizens. I urge my colleagues to support passage of H.B. No. 957, C.D. 1. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I’m rising to speak, coincidentally enough, in favor of this bill.

“It’s rather difficult. We have a rather large tax surplus because of the booming economy. I might enter into the record also the economic fact that a large part of the success of our economy is because of national tax cuts which have spawned economic growth across this country and here in Hawaii. Our economy has indeed been booming to the sum of over $600 million and on the way to $700 million worth of surplus for the coming fiscal year.

“This Legislature, in its wisdom, has spent most of the money – a lot of it well spent. Some of it, as we talked about in the budget debate the other day, is questionable, most especially the education bureaucratic abyss that consumes more and more money every year while producing the same poor results. Somewhere along the line I heard that it was a definition of insanity.

“This bill is going to allow for approximately $50 million in tax relief for the hardworking people of Hawaii, and I do mean the hardworking people of Hawaii. The statistics are that the lowest 20 percentile of the wage earners of the State of Hawaii pay the highest proportion of their wages in taxes – unconscionable. I know there are many people in the Legislature that as politicians are quick to tell everybody how they really are working for the little guy, the working people of Hawaii, and how they really do watch out for the less fortunate in our society. How ironic that the policies of those Legislators that vote in favor of the spending and taxing, as the Senator from Hawaii Kai so accurately pointed out, tax the poorest amongst us the heaviest. We are a state that taxes people for being sick. We are a state that taxes people for being hungry, the very food they put on their table. We are one of the few states that has the working poor paying taxes.

“We could have been wise in our decision making and how we spent our money. In some areas we spent it and spent it well and in other areas maybe ask for accountability before we hand, for instance the Department of Education, another $250 to $300 million. We could have passed on to the working men and women of Hawaii a substantial tax relief. This is one of those difficult times for voting on legislation. A lot of times they say getting 50 percent of what you want in politics is a good deal – the half-a-loaf syndrome. Well, this isn’t even half a loaf.

“Therefore, it’s hard for me to vote in favor of this, but at this point I guess something’s better than nothing. But how unfortunate it is that we have missed the opportunity to do what the Governor of the State of Hawaii has advocated and what many wise people have requested, and that is to give our working people, especially the working poor, the genuine tax relief that they deserve rather than this token tax relief.

“I urge my colleagues to consider this, one cryptic editorial writer in a paper even likened this to an election year tax relief so some that espouse to be the great protectors of the little guy and the less fortunate in our society can go back to the voters this year and say hey, we gave you tax relief, when we’re really giving the poor crumbs.

“I will vote in favor of this because as I said some things are better than nothing, but how unfortunate it is that we missed the opportunity to give some real relief to the people who need it the most. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Slom rose in support with reservations and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure with reservations.

“Like the previous speaker, I have a very difficult time voting for something that we’re always told this is the first step or this is the beginning or be patient, this is just a little bit. At the start of this Legislative Session the number one priority, the number one issue, the focus was on tax relief, and why not? We were talking then of a $500 million surplus, then it went to $600 million, and now it’s approaching $700 million. Where does the surplus come from? It comes from overtaxing our residents, our citizens, our taxpayers.

“We wonder day by day. We’ve spent so much time in this Session on the poor, on homelessness, on people that are in need. Why do you think they’re in need? Why do you think we’ve created more homeless? Because we tax so much, because we’re the second highest tax burdened state in the nation. There is a genuine and very clear nexus between the two and yet we continue to spend without regard for tax relief. It wasn’t until the last night possible that we really took this bill seriously.

“Mr. President, you talked about this at the beginning and that was laudable and you supported efforts. You’ve supported efforts for a couple years. We should have passed these measures a couple of years ago. I am disappointed, frankly, that the Governor started out asking for $300 million in tax relief and then backed down to $120 million and then what do we wind up with – with $50 million. That’s outrageous. The people should be here with pitchforks and torches. They should be complaining, but they’re too numb because they’re facing a 12½ percent general excise tax increase January 1st which this Legislature allowed to happen and passed. They’re facing water hikes, electric hikes, sewer hikes, real property hikes. Yesterday the postal system announced that the 39 cents stamp which has been in effect for at least three months now will go to 42 cents because of the increases.

“We keep taxing and taxing and spending and we don’t give anything back to the public. We were bound by the constitution to return money to the public. We haven’t done that, not even $1.00, not $100, not those plate lunches that the House Speaker talked about but $800 in plate lunches is a lot for a lot of families.

“We take their money before they get it and then we say it’s our money and we talk about revenue losses. It’s not revenue losses – it’s money that we’ve taken from our citizens and we put them at risk. The ones that are capable are moving away. The ones that are not are down at pier one or they’re at one of the other parks or recreational facilities. And we wonder why those numbers keep growing. We wonder why people are struggling even at two and two-and-a-half jobs.

“Our job is really to take care of the health and welfare of the people and you can’t take care of the health and welfare when you deny them the right to choose how to spend their own money. For those people that said early on, ‘I don’t want a tax refund, I don’t want a credit, I want it all to go to education’ – gees, they’re only getting $2 billion, let’s give them more. Let’s not hold them accountable; let’s just give them more money. If people want to do that, that should be their right. If they want to squander it on 10 plate lunches, that should be their right. Or if they just want to simply be able to pay their ever escalating bills, that should be their right too, but instead we take that away from them.

“The standard deduction we didn’t even do what the Governor indicated was a minimum level of increase and improvement. Yes, spreading out the tax rates on the rate schedule, the brackets, that is a help. That will be beneficial, but we treat this as our money and it’s not our money. It’s the people’s money and we have done a lousy job of taking care of it.

“And oh yes, one more thing, Mr. President, these tax reductions become effective in two years – two years. The tax increases and the spending increases, which we have passed this year become effective immediately. So we will pay and pay and pay and then we’ll come back here next year or the year after and wonder why more and more people are unable to take care of themselves in Hawaii our paradise.

“We’ve got to get our priorities straight and I certainly wish the people would not put up with this. They talk to us sheepishly and quietly and many of them have given up. They don’t have faith and confidence in us. They don’t have faith and confidence in government. They just feel it’s a fait accompli, that everything will be taken, that all they can do is scratch out a living as best they can or go to an underground economy.

“We can and should and must do better than that, but we’re not doing it with this bill. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Espero rose in support as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“There’s a lot of rhetoric being said today, Mr. President. There is a lot. But this measure, as our previous speaker said, it does increase the standard deduction. It benefits the residents of Hawaii. It does expand the tax brackets. That benefits the people of Hawaii. And of course it does provide some flood relief. That benefits the people of Hawaii on Oahu and the neighbor islands which were recently hit with a disaster.

“The question was posed, where did the $600 million surplus go? And that’s a very good question because I have residents asking where did you spend that money? So let’s tell the people – 51 percent of the funds, over $300 million, went to our Department of Education for whole school classroom renovations, for repair and maintenance, for operating our public schools which educate the children of Hawaii. So, did they benefit from the extra taxes that came in that we looked at appropriating? Yes they did. So the people of Hawaii did benefit. Thirteen percent went to health and human services programs to the tune of $76 million; the University of Hawaii, which educates our students, our children, and even many adults – $55 million or 9 percent of the budget; housing and homeless, one of the most difficult issues which we are dealing with today and in the future – $50 million, 8 percent; tax cuts – $50 million, 8 percent; an energy package worth $30 million because we know the importance of dealing with this energy situation that has been highly charged with the gas cap, the high price of oil, how are we going to make Hawaii more self-sustaining in terms of energy in our future needs; we looked at that very closely; a disaster package – $20 million; an agriculture package worth $15 million or 3 percent. So this is where the money went. It didn’t go into any of our pockets.

“Our job, we represent 1.2 million people in the State of Hawaii. They elected us, and the Democratic Majority did put together a package which some of our colleagues on the Republican side, although they may not agree with it, but I think by them supporting it whether with reservations does show yes, we didn't do what they wanted, we didn't do what the Governor wanted, but we believe we did what the people wanted. I polled many people in my district and the majority of them said invest the money in education. And we are investing over $300 million of this surplus in education.

"This benefits the people, Mr. President, and I urge all my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

At 12:57 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:59 o'clock p.m.

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in rebuttal to the previous speaker.

"I appreciate his point of view but the facts speak otherwise. The people of Hawaii have been misled by the education status quo. We went over the figures when we discussed the budget, but 10 short years ago the operating budget for the Department of Education was approximately $880 million. At the end of fiscal year '07 it will be $2.4 billion. Enrollment has not gone up. If the mantra, which it has been, is 'give us more money and we do a better job,' and we got a better job, I would say to the previous speaker hooray, hooray. We invested 15 billion additional dollars in public education in the last 10 years and we've got results to show for it, but by every standard the results are poor. We continue to lag the nation and continue in every measure to be one of the worst states in the nation for educating our children.

"I heard the Chairman of the Education Committee say well that's because the public schools take the rejects. How sad. No child is a reject. Private schools do a good job. We should empower them. Chartered schools do a good job and public schools should be doing a good job with the money they get.

"Mr. President, we were led to believe at the beginning of this Session that we would have to spend a lot of money on repair and maintenance at the schools. When we got the actual numbers the day before the Opening Day, there were over $570 million in the pipeline, 200 unaccounted for in repair and maintenance. Let me give you the figures on the last three years in education repair and maintenance: 2005, $243 million; 2006, $215 million; this budget, which is eating up a lot of the surplus that could have been given in tax relief to the poor, $228 million. Are the schools fixed? No. We spend more and they get worse.

"Where is the accountability? When do we say this DOE status quo power block, this unholy alliance has delivered us one of the most expensive and least performing public education systems, one of the most bureaucratically top-heavy systems in the nation, and we can't give tax relief because we continue to throw good money after bad. This isn't rhetoric. This is the truth.

"I am going to stand up for improving schools, putting money in the classrooms where the teachers are. A young teacher starting in the public education system gets a little over $30,000 a year. What was high on the priority of the DOE's list this year? Give a $5,000 raise to the bureaucrats pushing paper around because they're only making $110,000 a year. I got a letter from Hahaione Elementary School reinventing education, which was a good campaign slogan a couple of years ago, that it was cutting funding for their librarian because they didn't have enough money to make payroll. And we're supposed to be okaying in the education budget increases for the bureaucrats while they're laying off librarians for the children.

"He mentioned the Majority Party Democrats. Please do – please do stand up this year and tell the people of Hawaii what you did for education, because what you did was throw more money at it with no substantive change in governance or accountability as was proposed by our good Governor several years ago. He gave them a campaign slogan. And what are we doing this year regarding reinventing education because it's such a dilemma for the schools? We're throwing $20 million at it so they don't have to implement it without anyone asking the question, what happens next year when the same question comes up?

"So when the rhetorical question is asked, where do we want to cut spending? We want to hold the DOE accountable and put the money in the classrooms so we don't have to throw good money after bad and the money we do save can be given back to the poor parents who are struggling to make ends meet and sending their kids to public schools and not getting education their good children deserve and not giving the support to the teachers in the classroom they deserve because the money is being consumed by a status quo bureaucracy that's only interested in sustaining itself.

"Mr. President, the numbers speak louder than the rhetoric in this Senate and the numbers are overwhelming. The taxpayers have been extremely generous with education and not gotten what they paid for, and that's why this paltry tax relief, I would suggest if things go the same way, may even be rescinded before they even get it over the next two years. You want to talk about rhetoric? I want to ask the rhetorical question, why isn't the tax relief being given now, immediately? We have the money now. The good Senator from Hawaii Kai is exactly right. Can someone on the other side of the aisle tell me why our good working people have to wait two years for tax relief? I'll sit down and wait for the answer, Mr. President. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure with some comments in response to our previous speaker.

"The previous speaker mentioned Hahaione Elementary School, which was going to lose $16,804, is going to end up gaining $46,496. An answer in part to the rhetorical question, Hahaione School is being helped by money that's going to the department to this school as opposed to going somewhere else. I'm not going to be an apologist for the department. One reason why the schools have a $525 million backlog is because in the tough times there wasn't tax revenue to do what we needed to do. People say fix the schools. In the past, DAGS and DOE had some challenges working with each other. The reform we passed places this burden with the department.

"I agree with the previous speaker that things can be improved, and let's work together to do that. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Ihara rose and said:

"Mr. President, can you please note my support of this bill with reservations."

By unanimous consent, action on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 237-06 and S.B. No. 2956, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, was deferred to the end of the calendar.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATION

Misc. Com. No. 7, from the Board of Trustees of the Hawaii Employer-Union Health Benefits Trust Fund, dated May 1, 2006, transmitting its Annual Report, prepared by Garner Consulting, was read by the Clerk and was placed on file.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions (S.R. Nos. 164 to 169) were read by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

Senate Resolution

No. 164 "SENATE RESOLUTION AMENDING THE RULES OF THE SENATE OF THE TWENTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL TIME TO CONSIDER GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATIONS."

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Kokubun, Taniguchi, Kim, Sakamoto, Hee, Tsutsui.

Senator Hanabusa moved that Senate Rule 85(1) be suspended, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Hanabusa noted:

"Mr. President, in order for the Senate to consider a new Rule, we must have one day's notice and what I'm requesting here is a suspension of Rule 85(1) so that we may take up S.R. No. 164."

At 1:54 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:55 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.R. No. 164, be adopted, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Hanabusa rose and said:

"Mr. President, you and my colleagues are in receipt of a letter that I sent to the Governor raising a concern about the fact that the gubernatorial nominees are coming down on the 51st Day. In my letter I asked the Governor for her input. The Governor wrote on May 2nd stating that she had really no objection if we require that she provide nominees by the 41st Day.

"Mr. President, this resolution amends our Senate Rule 37, subpart 2, to require that we receive any governor's nominees to the Senate by the 41st Day. This then entails and will allow for the community to know and for people to participate in the process, because as it is now, we're in Conference by the 51st Day and we're scrambling for committee rooms, to get notices out and we're barely making it on time. I believe that the public is best served if we have a move in our Rules to the 41st Day.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and S.R. No. 164, entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION AMENDING THE RULES OF THE SENATE OF THE TWENTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL TIME TO CONSIDER GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATIONS," was adopted.

FINAL READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 208-06 (H.B. No. 3056, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kokubun moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 208-06 be adopted and H.B. No. 3056, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Slom.

Senator Ige rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

"Kawai Nui Marsh is a 746-acre wetland located between the Koolau Mountains and Kailua Bay. It is the largest freshwater marsh in the Hawaiian Islands. Between the marsh and the bay lies a large portion of the community of Kailua where hundreds of families have made their homes for more than 40 years. On most days, Kawai Nui is a quiet serene sanctuary for many endangered species and plants, but on January 1st, 1988, it became a nightmare. A winter storm drenched the Windward side and rainwater overwhelmed the marsh. Hundreds of homes in Kailua were destroyed when floodwaters reaching five to six feet deep inundated private residences, businesses and personal property. The devastation and destruction was tragic and it was clear that the job to maintain and manage the marsh was bigger than the City and County of Honolulu, who owned the marsh. Everyone would have to step outside of their comfort zone to develop and implement a comprehensive plan to repair, maintain and restore the marsh and minimize the risk to the surrounding communities.

"After much discussion and negotiations and encouragement from elected officials, the City and County of Honolulu and the State of Hawaii reached a mutual agreement on how to best manage the marsh. The Legislature endorsed this agreement in Act 314 of 1990. That mutual agreement between the city and the state designated that the city would commit to complete all of the flood control projects that the US Army Corps of Engineers had identified to mitigate the flood exposure of the marsh. They would also transfer the marsh and the levy system to the state in fee title. The state agreed to develop the marsh and establish it as a wildlife sanctuary in recognition of its important contributions to the environment as a natural resource.

"In 1998, once again the Legislature endorsed a mutual agreement between the city and the state to adjust that agreement. The city and DLNR officials agreed to provide a buffer area to maintain the levy. In addition, the city agreed to retaining the Kaelepulu Drainage Channel and the state accepted ownership of Oneawa Channel. Once again this was a mutual agreement between the city and the state.

"Through agreement and shared ownership and stewardship, the city and state have addressed many of the safety needs and concerns of the residents living closest to Kawai Nui Marsh. Today, the city has completed all of the flood control projects that it committed to back in 1990 and has forwarded documents to the state to transfer ownership of the marsh to the state as agreed to back in 1990 and reaffirmed in 1998.

"I oppose H.B. No. 3056, C.D. 1, for a number of reasons. Foremost amongst them is that this is not a mutual agreement. C.D. 1 represents the state's plan for managing the marsh. The city and county has voiced their objections to that agreement. Mr. President, I would like to have inserted into the Journal a memo from the city and county stating their opposition to C.D. 1. (The chair so ordered.) But what are the problems with C.D. 1, members? First and foremost, it is a unilateral agreement of the state. It represents no discussion or conversation with the City and County of Honolulu. Next, it changes the boundaries of the agreement. It changes what was agreed to be transferred in a way that clearly the state had embraced in 1990 and then reaffirmed in 1998. And probably the worst part of this measure, the thing that I oppose the most, is that it puts in jeopardy the people of Kailua.

"Conference draft one states, 'Nothing in this Act requires the state to maintain any flood control program relating to Kawai Nui Marsh.' Members, flood control activities within the marsh is the single most important activity that we can do to ensure the safety of the citizens of Kailua. Clearly the levy is the absolute last resort protection for that community to prevent them from being inundated once again like they were on New Year's Day in 1988.

"Mr. President, in our business our word and our commitment is oftentimes our most valuable assets. Sixteen years ago we all – the city, the state, the Legislature – made a commitment to the citizens of Kailua to a comprehensive collaborative plan to repair, maintain, and restore Kawai Nui Marsh. Eight years ago, we all once again reaffirmed our commitment – the city, the state, and the Legislature – to protecting the people of Kailua. This measure before us trashes that commitment. I, for one, will not break my commitment and turn my back on the people of Kailua and I will be voting 'no' on this measure and I urge all of you to do the same.

"Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, the memo from the City and County of Honolulu is identified as ATTACHMENT "A" to the Journal of this day.

The motion was put by the Chair and failed to carry, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 208-06 failed to be adopted and H.B. Senator Baker rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Colleagues, on your desks is a resolution of thanks from the American Cancer Society for being the first Body in the Nation to adopt a resolution, which we did early in this Session, supporting the 2015 initiative to ensure that we will, as a state, work towards a reduction in cancer's morbidity and mortality.

"On a personal note, I'd just like to thank all of my colleagues for the outstanding Session that we concluded in the area of health. The two smoking measures that we passed are clearly landmark legislation in terms of helping to reduce the affects of second-hand smoke and to be a deterrent for people who have not started to smoke as well as an incentive for people who are trying to quit.

"We passed a number of other very important measures in the area of health and human services and I just want to thank all of my colleagues here for their support and assistance throughout this Session. Thank you, Mr. President.”

At this time, President Bunda delivered his closing remarks as follows:

“As we near the end of the Session, I’m reminded of a line from my Opening Day speech – I said that we were capable of resolving even the most persistent of problems if we set aside politics and simply strive to do the right thing for the right reasons. Colleagues, on most issues this Session, we did just that and I would like to thank all of you for your role in making this Session one of the most productive in memory.

“On one hand the budget surplus made it easier for us to meet the basic requirements of a solid financial plan, and on the other, it made the process that much harder. As we all know, expectations grow proportionately with the size of the pie and this year the pie was substantial and everyone – everyone – wanted a piece of that pie. Our job, therefore, was to prioritize the needs of the state as a whole.

“Education, of course was our top priority. We allocated funds for overdue repair and maintenance and ensured that the academic needs of our students are adequately provided for. We continue to do work on one of the state’s most persistent and nagging issues – these are affordable housing, setting aside monies for the homeless, as well as for the rental housing trust fund. While the energy focus was on the gas cap, we also tackled the more critical and long-term challenge of reducing our dependence on oil.

“Perhaps one of the most important accomplishments of this Session was tax reform. For the first time in 20 years we adjusted tax brackets and raised the standard deduction that will provide $50 million of tax relief to our working poor and middleclass. It is my hope that we can continue to lower the cost of living by further adjustments to our tax structure. We need more tax breaks for the men and women in the middle who fund the bulk of government services. We have taken an important step toward meaningful tax reform this Session. Although it is a move in the right direction, it is certainly not the end of the line for tax reform.

“I want to express my gratitude to all of you who worked hard to ensure that we stayed on course. I would like to also thank our colleagues in the House for their cooperative efforts in achieving our goals, especially the Speaker of the House to whom I owe a debt of gratitude. I want to acknowledge, too, the contributions of our loyal opposition in the Senate under the Minority Leadership. The Minority members were an integral part of a bipartisan effort to achieve what was in the best interest of the public.

“I’m sure we did not accomplish all that we hoped to do, but we set the bar high and had high expectations for this Session. I believe we can be proud of our list of accomplishments. When all is said and done, I believe it can be said that we in fact did the right things for the right reasons.

“Again, thanks to all and I look forward to working with all of you next Legislative Session. Aloha and mahalo.”

Senator Kanno rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“Mr. President and colleagues, I would like to express my appreciation to my colleagues here in the Senate. I have decided with the counsel of my family – that I will not run for reelection this fall. I will be leaving the Senate at the end of my term after serving for 14 years.

“After much deliberation with my wife, the decision I made was about putting my family first. The kids are growing up too quickly and with the passing of my father, Toshio Kanno, and my wife’s mother, Clodagh Ah Tou, I came to realize how short life really is. My children lost two of their grandparents within a 2-year period. Just a note about my dad – he was my role model. He worked his whole life as an electrician. He was a proud union member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers – Local 1186 and I learned from him the value of labor unions and their role in advocating for the rights of all working men and women. We all are the beneficiaries.

“I want to acknowledge and thank the voters that elected me to office. Together with a capable staff, we worked hard to do our best representing our district. Mahalo to the residents that I currently represent in Kapolei, Makakilo, Honokai Hale/Nanakai Gardens, Ko Olina, Kalaeloa, Village Park, Royal Kunia and Waikele. And a mahalo to the residents that I represented for 10 years before reapportionment in Ewa, Ewa Beach, West Loch and Lower Waipahu. Mahalo to those who went above and beyond to help me; a special thank you to Maeda Timson, Jane Ross, Martha Makaiwi, Dee White, Mike Dias, Aunty Arline, Eaton, Roy Wickramaratna and Goro Arakawa.

“While in the Senate, I have chaired and co-chaired a number of committees, including Agriculture, Consumer Protection, Judiciary and Labor. Much of my time here has been spent advocating for working people, like my father and Grandma Clodagh. In our island’s unique history, Hawaii’s sugar and pineapple plantations were followed by a tradition of protections guaranteed in our law for Hawaii’s working people. When our economy was struggling, the business community was urging the Legislature to reduce the cost of doing business. Their concerns were accommodated but we also realized that we could not sacrifice the protections in our laws for working people. Now that the economy is strong, the business community is back again still urging the Legislature to reduce the cost of doing business. We try to help businesses at the same time keeping in mind our obligation to ensure that workers are not sacrificed and hurt by our actions. To this end, on Tuesday, Senate Bill 2190 was passed by the Senate and the House that provides over $100 million in savings in unemployment insurance for Hawaii’s businesses.

“There are a number of people that I need to acknowledge and thank. I have been blessed with an amazing office manager, Jan Lehner. She’s been by my side for eight years with a dedication and commitment that is unrivaled. In the most stressful of situations, Jan is able to put on a smile. When an angry constituent is on the phone, and Jan has to tell them some bad news, you know what, they tell her ‘thank you!’ and they mean it. When faced with unbearable stress, Jan likes to say, ‘make like a duck, and have it go right off your back.’ She knows the workings of the Legislature just as much as anyone here. I can’t thank her enough for all that she has done for me and our community throughout these years. I have had outstanding staff, through the years, including Sharon Alvarado, and the staff this year: Trina Ishii, Isaac Goya and Haruki Fukumitsu. In the gallery, and I’d like to ask them to stand, are members of our staff. We have Jan Lehner, Trina Ishii and Isaac Goya. (Jan, Trina and Isaac rose to be recognized.) Seated with them is my wife, Lorrie, and my oldest daughter Keolanui. If they could please rise. (Mrs. Kanno and Keolanui rose to be recognized.)

“My family has been with me through it all. There is nothing that I can say to adequately recognize how important my wife, Lorrie, is to me. When the going gets tough, it's great knowing that she's behind me 110 percent. In addition to being an incredible wife and mother, she works everyday in the Waipahu community with families living at the breaking point. She keeps me real and in touch with the needs of families who are economically challenged as well as those working single parent families who are struggling to make ends meet. My children, Keolanui, Kaulana and Kala'i, have helped me to remember what's important. They will be the first to tell you, 'ohana is most important. My mother, Kay Kanno, is an amazing woman. She was there when I first ran for office and has been working hard to help me for 14 years. You all know how important family is; they remind you where you came from and why you ran for office in the first place.

"To you, my colleagues and supporters, I say thank you. You allowed me to reach for my potential and enjoy the work that was rewarding, challenging and fulfilling. Mahalo and a hui hou."

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Colleagues, Mr. President, it has indeed been an interesting and we believe a productive Session. On this side of the aisle it's oftentimes difficult to see victory because of the makeup of this Legislative Body. It's difficult sometimes to claim victory when all we see is partisan votes and initiatives that we believe in with our hearts go down not because of the merit of the issue but because of the label of the political party proposing them. I'm here today to declare victory not only for our perspective but for your perspective, but most importantly from the perspective of the people of Hawaii.

"Looking back over this Session, yes we have done some things that we have not done before. In the area of energy, after years and years and years we've recognized that for too long we've given free reign to a monopoly public utility that has our electrical rates 150 percent above the national average – 8 cents a kilowatt hour on the average on the mainland, 20 cents here. This Legislature in a bipartisan manner with the leadership of the Governor all agreed on an energy package. Unfortunately, we did not get what we all wanted. Part of it could be attributed to the embedded lobbyist high-paid executives working in Legislator's offices that water down the legislation. But I will tell you that the PUC, who much of the authority has been delegated to, is not in control of the special interest anymore. With the Governor's appointees, they will do what's right for the energy consumers of Hawaii.

"This state, more than any other state, is capable of being energy independent. This Legislature in its wisdom with bipartisan support invested money in hydrogen development. Someday within our lifetime we will be driving hydrogen fueled cars produced by renewable energy in the State of Hawaii. We can lead the world in this effort freeing us from the geopolitical ties to Mideast oil and freeing us from the pollution of fossil fuel burning energy.

"We can claim victory on crime, and I want to look right across the aisle to the Chair of the Judiciary Committee and thank her personally for doing what's right and not what is politically expedient. Under your leadership, Chairman, of the Judiciary Committee, we did pass a meaningful three-strikes and you're in jail law that is going to take violent criminals off the street. And in spite of the debates, it's going to save lives and it's going to save money and it's eventually going to reduce the number of people in prisons because criminals will not take the risk of doing the crime. Thank you, Madame Chairman.

"Thank you also for our wiretap law. We all can declare victory that now our laws are going to be in compliance with federal standards so that we can use evidence and put criminals in jail that the federal government has so assiduously pursued. Criminals that are profiteering at selling drugs are no longer going to get a free card to get out of jail because our wire tap laws did not conform with federal laws.

"We, in a bipartisan effort, once again with the help of the Governor can claim victory on housing initiatives. They're going to make it easier to build affordable housing in a very, very difficult market.

"We can declare victory on health initiatives. I want to add my thank you to the Chairman of the Health Committee for relentless efforts to stop the most insidious self-induced disease there is – cancer caused by smoking. We appreciate the victories for the people of this state. Even those who smoke, like a gentleman who called me with a wheezing voice saying he doesn't want to smoke but he will nevertheless continue.

"The gas cap, a victory for the consumers and a victory for what we know is free enterprise where the consumer is a regulator of the economy, not politicians.

"Yes, there are indeed some things we have to really look at. Tax relief was not what it should have been. I will say that if we did nothing else for public education this Session, the public has become aware that we have been very generous with public education, and someday we're going to ask for accountability for the money we've thrown at it.

"We did not provide malpractice insurance. There are going to be people that are going to be in emergency situations that are going to be going to emergency rooms and the doctor is not going to be there. And trust me, the lawyers who have made millions at this crisis aren't going to be there either.

"The business environment – it's a very interesting perspective and maybe that's the difference we have in political labels. There is a problem there and we have to come back next year and address some of the situations. Workers' comp insurance rates continue to plague businesses. The unemployment insurance bill we passed this year was not reform. Over the long haul, businesses are going to pay more.

"I just want to introduce into the record, Mr. President and colleagues, that the blue collar laborers are not being served well either by what we're doing. They're suffering in a bad economy. Their companies do not have enough money for pay raises. They do not have enough money for the fringe benefits and the other benefits, and if we all work together in a nonpartisan manner to start addressing some of the problems, I think we can serve everybody's interest, business and labor together.

"In closing, Mr. President and colleagues, I want to also thank you and your leadership and your team. This forum functioned well this year. It functioned as a democracy. There were no longer motions from the Floor to close debate because one interest group or another did not want to hear open and free debate on the issues. What's really wonderful is there were several times this year when decisions were made on this Floor and not in caucus rooms based on the merit of the issue and the temper of the debate. That is healthy, wonderful democracy and for that we can be very proud.

"So as we all leave this Session with different perspectives on it, I would like to leave the Majority Party colleagues a note of thank you for allowing us to participate in the process. From our perspective, there's lots to be done but we're on the way. I'm hoping that we, the Minority, can learn to work with you constructively where we can and get the respect for not doing so where it is warranted.

"Thank you, Mr. President, and thank you, colleagues."

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I just wanted to tell my colleagues I want to say thank you and mahalo for putting up with me. I'm proud to be part of this Senate and to have the debates that we had and of the fact that we brought a lot of issues to the public and we didn't have any straw men or straw women. We had the best arguments possible on the issues. We could agree to disagree and yet come back the next day and still be friends and still discuss other issues. We had some very strange bedfellows from time to time, very strange votes, and that's the nature of the process.

"Mr. President, I want to thank you. I want to thank you for your remarks today and also for your leadership. Senator Kanno, I want to thank you for your 14 years of leadership, and as the person who sat next to you more than anyone else, I want to tell you I'm ready to assume the Chairmanship of the Labor Committee. (Laughter.) Yes, we'll go in a different direction, Senator Kanno, but you'll be free to testify.

"And finally, it wouldn't be the end of the Session unless I add to the accolades that were given to the Judiciary Chairwoman who also is the Majority Leader and who also today is celebrating a very special occasion. Many of us can remember a long, long, long, long, long time ago in a place far, far away near a landfill (laughter) a little girl was born. She didn't wear little dresses and pink and all. She was born in swaddling black and grew up in black. (Laughter.) I believe she was born in the year of the dog and that's why she became the pit-bull that we all know and love. (More laughter.) She's a lawyer, but I respect her. She's a liberal and I respect her. She's a labor attorney and I still respect her. And she's a wonderful radio personality with a wonderful partner and I sure do respect her. We wouldn't have the same kinds of debate and argument and the same kinds of legislation that ultimately help the people without Colleen Hanabusa. So it's my wish that we all wish her a very happy birthday and wish her best wishes for the future, and to the rest of my colleagues, the very same wish. Aloha and thank you."

Senator Hogue rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I also rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I had not planned to speak here but I'm making a big step in my life and I want to say thank you to all of you for your kindnesses and friendships over my two terms here in the State Senate. I'm going to remember quite a few things that have happened here over the past six years, certainly the great speech making of Senator Sam Slom, the quirky speech making of Senator Gordon Trimble, the sweetness of Suzie Chun Oakland, the thoughtfulness of Les Ihara, the great friendship with Norman Sakamoto, the tough toughness of Donna Mercado Kim, and the very, very kind words that I always got from you, Mr. President, Bobby Bunda. If I didn't mention you by name, you're probably running for Congress against me and I don't want to end up in your literature. (Laughter.)

"I will tell you all that I appreciate very much the opportunity to work with you. You're all great people and I know that you're very well intended even though we don't agree with each other from time to time. So, keep that smile on your face and please just one more time – put your hands together for yourselves because you've all done a great job. Thank you very, very much. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto requested his 2006 Legislative Accomplishments for the Committee on Education and Military Affairs be inserted into the Journal. The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's insert is identified as ATTACHMENT "B" to the Journal of this day.

At 3:31 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:43 o'clock p.m.

The Honorable Calvin K.Y. Say

Dear President Bunda and Speaker Say:

I am writing to convey the City's strong objections to H.B. 3056 C.D. 1, Relating to Kawai Nui Marsh. By this bill, the State completely retreats from its obligations and commitment to comprehensively manage the entire Marsh, including the levee and Oneawa Canal, in perpetuity. Without foresight or fairness, this bill allows the State to use and control the wetlands, but requires the City to maintain the flood control improvements that are a part of, and serve, the Marsh. This bill imposes an unfair burden upon the City and subjects the Marsh to fragmented ownership and conflicting interests, all for no better reason than that the State simply changed its mind.

Sixteen years ago, the Legislature envisioned and decreed that the entire Marsh, including the flood control improvements, would be comprehensively managed and preserved by the State. Eight years ago, the State reaffirmed its commitment to accept and maintain the flood control improvements. Now, with the transfer finally ready to be consummated, the State refuses to execute the conveyance and seeks to have the Legislature redo the deal. In a complete reversal of existing law, H.B. 3056 C.D.1 would divide the Marsh so that the State may have immediate use of the wetlands for its present purposes, while forcing the City to permanently bear all responsibility for the related flood control improvements.

The Honorable Robert Bunda

There is no justification for the State to break its earlier promise. There has been no change in circumstances. As the City has attempted to explain, the State's claims about resources and legal responsibility are not supported. And the State's purported concerns about establishing a precedent are misplaced: a far stronger precedent is set by breaking a long-standing promise than by honoring it. Standing Committee Report 380-98, which reflects the legislative history of the current law, states, "your Committee has amended this bill to reflect a subsequent verbal agreement between the DLNR and the City to further define the boundary . . . in order to provide the State with a buffer zone to maintain the toe and slope of the levee. In return for the City retaining the Kaelepulu Drainage Channel, the DLNR will accept ownership of the Oneawa Canal." (Emphasis added). The legislative history also reflects that DLNR testified in support of this clarification.

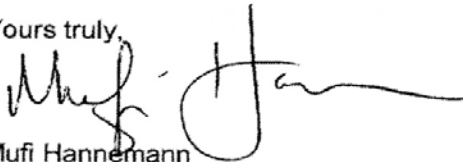

The City has done everything it promised to do, and everything that the law requires, for the conveyance to take place as mandated. The City has accepted responsibility for Kaelepulu Channel. It has completed the improvements to the levee with the Army Corps of Engineers. It subdivided the Marsh to reflect the agreed upon boundaries and to exclude areas that the State did not want to accept. And it has prepared the required conveyance documents at considerable time and expense. The City has also ensured that both the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers are prepared to work with the State as the local sponsor of their respective projects. The State has never asked the City to do anything more to effectuate the conveyance.

Also, in a Memorandum of Agreement between the City Department of Environmental Services and the State Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) dated January 15, 2002, the City agreed to provide the DLNR use of about one-half acre of City owned land for its Kawai Nui Marsh Maintenance Yard which will allow the State to more actively participate in the management of flood control facilities and the natural resources of Kawai Nui Marsh. Again, we see no justification for the State to break its earlier promise.

We are at a loss to understand how the State's commitment, which this Legislature gave the force and effect of law for the benefit and assurance of the public, can be so easily and capriciously rescinded. We urge you and your members to vote against H.B. 3056 C.D. 1.

With warm regards and aloha,

Yours truly,

Mufi Hannemann
Mayor

Gov. Msg. No. 767, informing the Senate that on June 23, 2006, she signed into law Senate Bill No. 2774 as Act 237, entitled: "RELATING TO HOUSING."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

I have signed this bill in recognition of the immediate need to address the concerns of families residing at Kunia Camp in Central Oahu.

However, I believe the bill is not well thought out and presents long-term problems, which I plan to address administratively and through legislative proposals.

First, the bill constitutes 'spot zoning' within a State agricultural district. This approach has the potential to whittle away at the State's most productive and readily irrigated agricultural lands. Further, it runs counter to the principles embodied in the Important Agricultural Lands provisions within the State Constitution and enacted into law by the Legislature in 2005.

Second, there are no safeguards provided within this bill as to the type and use of future housing within 'plantation community subdivisions.' For example, the bill does not state that the workers must dwell in these structures after the plantation is closed down. The bill also does not prohibit the dwelling from being demolished, rebuilt, or sold or rented to others.

Third, there is nothing in the language of SB 2774 to inhibit a person from constructing a large, up-scale home on the site of a former plantation dwelling. Further, if a company involved in both agriculture and land development elected to build luxury homes for its senior executives on agricultural land and declare these 'plantation community subdivisions' the bill does not impede this type of construction.

Additionally, the bill does not define the boundaries of a 'plantation community subdivision,' thus allowing additional homes to be built at some time in the future, further encroaching on agricultural properties.

Mayor Hannemann's Administration considered these problems so serious his planning director recommended I veto this bill.

I hope the Legislature will work with my Administration during the balance of the year to address the land-use concerns raised by the enactment of SB 2774.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 439

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 439, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to the Office of the Ombudsman.’

House Bill No. 439 provides the Ombudsman with access to taxpayers’ confidential tax returns and return information, ostensibly to allow the Ombudsman to investigate complaints from taxpayers concerning the processing of their tax returns.

The statutory guarantee that taxpayers’ returns will remain confidential promotes full compliance with Hawaii’s tax laws and encourages taxpayers to voluntarily report their income from all sources. This bill unnecessarily erodes the strong statutory assurance of confidentiality that attaches to each taxpayer’s tax returns.

The Department of Taxation is authorized to disclose, and routinely discloses, confidential tax returns upon the express written authorization of the taxpayer affected. Where it is necessary for the Ombudsman to investigate a complaint regarding the processing of a tax return, the Ombudsman should reasonably be able to obtain the written authorization of the complaining party.

Furthermore, the Department of Taxation Taxpayer Advocate is responsible for helping resolve tax disputes. Thus, it is possible to resolve a majority of concerns without violating the confidential arrangements for protecting taxpayer data that already exists within the Executive Branch.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 439 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii”

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1800

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1800, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Sale of Real Property.’

This measure increases the income tax withheld on the sale of real property in Hawaii by a nonresident seller from five percent to eight and a quarter percent of the amount realized from the sale.

This bill unnecessarily increases the income tax withholding on the sale of real property by nonresident sellers to ensure proper payment of taxes owed to the State are paid. The Department of Taxation reported that the current withholding of five percent is already excessive and large refunds are being issued because the five percent withholding is almost always larger than the tax on the gains on the sale of the property. Further, this bill fails to recognize that many land transactions involve 1031 exchanges wherein the seller is not liable for taxes if they purchase a property of the same or higher value within 18 months.

Moreover, this bill does not increase tax revenue or affect the proper assessment of tax because the capital gains tax remains unchanged at seven and a quarter percent. Instead, this bill will increase the burden on the Department of Taxation to process more claims and issue more refunds to taxpayers.

It should be noted that when the withholding tax rate was previously increased, the Legislature had to reverse their decision within a short period of time. In 1990, Act 213 required a buyer to withhold nine percent of the amount realized on the sale of Hawaii real property from a nonresident seller. Due to the overwhelming dissatisfaction expressed by the public, the Legislature in the very next session reduced the withholding amount to the current five percent by Act 279, Session Laws of Hawaii 1991. In effect, Act 213 of 1990 was operative for only seven months (i.e., January 1, 1991, through July 31, 1991).

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1800 without my approval.

Respectfully,

Gov. Msg. No. 830, dated July 11, 2006, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 2199 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2199

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2199, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to International Trade Agreement.’

The purpose of this bill is to provide that procurement provisions in international trade agreements shall not be valid as applied to the State unless the Legislature votes to approve those procurement provisions. Certain existing international trade agreements that contain procurement provisions requested the individual states to consent to be bound to the agreements. In the past, governors of Hawaii had given the State's consent. This bill henceforth requires legislative action to give that consent.

This bill is objectionable for the following reasons. First, the federal government's requests to the states to consent to be bound to international trade agreements frequently come with short notices and specific deadlines. House Bill No. 2199 does not address how the State will timely respond to these deadlines when the Legislature is not in session.

Second, the timing of this bill raises the question why the Legislature did not object to the ability of prior governors to bind the State to such international trade agreements but does not support this authority for the existing Governor.

Third, the procurement provisions of these international trade agreements are usually reciprocal. If the Legislature cannot or does not act in time to commit the State to these reciprocal agreements, there may be serious consequences for the conduct of business in Hawaii. The Department of Accounting and General Services believes, and I agree, that the Legislature's involvement in the review of these international trade agreements could result in foreign companies not conducting business in Hawaii and Hawaii companies being prevented from conducting business in other countries.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2199 without my approval.

Respectfully,

Gov. Msg. No. 831, dated July 11, 2006, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 2299 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2299

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2299, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Chapter 803.’

The purpose of this bill is to specify the exact procedure and the exact words to be stated by police before entering homes to arrest persons suspected of having committed crimes.

On June 15, 2006, the United States Supreme Court decided Hudson v. Michigan, a case that has re-written the entire federal jurisprudence of ‘knock and announce’ and has determined that there is no constitutional requirement to suppress evidence based on a ‘knock and announce’ violation. I believe that any bill that addresses ‘knock and announce’ ought to reflect this decision, and thus it would be prudent to wait until the 2007 regular session of the Legislature to revisit this matter.

The original purpose of this bill was to restore the standards required by the United States Constitution, rather than the higher standard imposed by section 803-11, Hawaii Revised Statutes, that dictates police procedure when entering a house to arrest a person suspected of a crime. This bill was proposed in response to a case decided by the Hawaii Supreme Court. In State v. Maldonado, 108 Haw. 436, 121 P.3d 901 (2005), the Court held that section 803-11, Hawaii Revised Statutes, requires strict compliance and that, if a law enforcement officer does not strictly comply with the exact language of section 803-11 when executing a warrant of arrest, all evidence gained during the execution of the warrant must be suppressed. (As noted above, such suppression is now no longer required by the United States Constitution).

It is well-settled law that both the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution and section 7 of article I of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii require only that a search must be reasonable. The United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, in United States v. Combs, 379 F.3d 564 (9th Cir. 2004), citing the United States Supreme Court decision in Wilson v. Arkansas, 514 U.S. 927, 934 (1995), stated that ‘The common-law principle that law enforcement officers should “knock and announce” their presence and authority before entering a dwelling is part of the reasonableness inquiry under the United States Constitution’s Fourth Amendment guarantee against unreasonable searches and seizure’ and that ‘[t]he Fourth Amendment’s flexible requirement of reasonableness should not be read to mandate a rigid rule of announcement that ignores countervailing law enforcement interests.’ The Combs decision further stated, ‘Since Wilson, the Court has reiterated that the knock and announce principle is a part of the reasonableness inquiry rather than a prerequisite for constitutional entry.’ Thus, in a case where the police shout ‘Police – search warrant,’ the police have substantially complied with the constitutional ‘knock and announce’ requirement.

However, in Hawaii, because of the wording of section 803-11, it is insufficient to shout ‘police – search warrant.’ The Hawaii Supreme Court has held that, even though it would be reasonable to infer that police officers standing at a door shouting ‘police – search warrant’ are demanding entry to a house, the entry is invalidated by section 803-11 unless the police explicitly demand entry. State v. Harada, 98 Haw. 18, 41 P.3d 174 (2002).

In the Maldonado case, a law enforcement officer received a tip that one of Hawaii’s most wanted criminals, Robert Maldonado, was at a given location and that this wanted criminal might be in possession of firearms and drugs. This officer, along with others, donned body armor and went to the location, bearing a valid warrant for the arrest of this ‘most wanted’ fugitive. One can scarcely imagine a more dangerous assignment for a law enforcement officer. The search of the house resulted in the discovery of contraband and the arrest of Jobert Maldonado, the fugitive’s brother. Jobert Maldonado was arrested and convicted, but the conviction was reversed because the officers, while conducting a potentially dangerous operation, did not ‘strictly comply’ with section 803-11.

The law enforcement officers in this case had knocked and then shouted ‘Sheriffs Office – Police’ while simultaneously opening an unlocked screen door. Although the screen door was closed, the wooden door was open when the officers arrived and was not broken by the law enforcement officers.

The officers received oral permission to enter the house and entered the house, where they observed what appeared to be evidence of a 'clandestine lab' used for the production of methamphetamine. However, the officers did not announce that they were the bearers of an arrest warrant and did not wait a reasonable time after demanding entry before opening the unlocked screen door. While it is true that the officers had not strictly complied with section 803-11, permission to enter was given and not refused, so most citizens, as well as the United States Congress and the United States Supreme Court, would have deemed the entry lawful.

Under the United States Constitution and under the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the arrest of this 'most wanted' fugitive would not have been subject to strict compliance, but rather a more appropriate standard of reasonableness. But because of section 803-11, the 'strict compliance' standard applies, even under very dangerous circumstances, so the conviction was reversed.

The intent of the Legislature was not to change the rule that exigent circumstances can excuse the use of the 'knock and announce' procedure. However, the phrase 'absent exigent circumstances' was placed in a portion of the bill where it will not have the intended effect and will likely create some serious interpretational problems and unintended consequences. This phrase was placed in the bill very late in the drafting process at the request of the Department of the Attorney General, but unfortunately the phrase was not inserted in the proper place.

In addition, as drafted, House Bill No. 2299 will not resolve the problem demonstrated by the Maldonado case. The first part of the bill specifically requires a knock on the door and specific words to be used. This is not flexible enough, given the varied and unpredictable situations law enforcement officers encounter, and could lead to other unjust outcomes like the one reached in the Maldonado case.

The bill also rewrites the statute and redefines reasonable time. There is a potential problem with this amendment. First, the amendment is apparently based upon 18 U.S.C. § 3109 (the Federal Knock and Announce Rule) and the federal case law interpreting that section. That section reads, with regard to search warrant execution:

The officer may break open any outer or inner door or any window of a house, or any part of the house, or anything therein, to execute a search warrant, if, after notice of his authority and purpose, he is refused admittance or when necessary to liberate himself or a person aiding him in the execution of the warrant.

18 U.S.C. § 3109.

As noted in the Senate Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs Committee report, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in United States v. Chavez-Miranda, 306 F.3d 973 (9th Cir. 2002), spelled out what should be taken into account when deciding a reasonable length of time, and that has been essentially incorporated into this bill. However, by incorporating only part of the federal law, this amendment fails to restore the more reasonable standards created by the United States Constitution and conversely will serve only to further complicate state arrest procedures by mandating strict compliance with additional statutory standards.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2299 without my approval.

Respectfully,

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2265

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2265, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Corrections.'

This bill would transfer the supervisory and counseling functions of paroled individuals along with positions and employees from the field service branch of the Hawaii Paroling Authority to the Department of Public Safety.

This bill is objectionable because it creates a conflict of interest on the part of the Department of Public Safety in rendering services to be relied upon by the Hawaii Paroling Authority. The Hawaii Paroling Authority utilizes the reports and recommendations of its independent supervisory and counseling staff in its field service branch in rendering its decisions on whether to re-incarcerate parole violators. To the extent that the Department of Public Safety's interest is in the operation and management of jails and prisons and accommodating those committed to incarceration, its recommendations to the Hawaii Paroling Authority against re-incarceration could be called into question creating an undue conflict between the two governmental bodies.

This bill erodes the independence and objectivity the Hawaii Paroling Authority must exercise when making decisions about recommitting convicted felons and also protecting the safety of the community.

The bill fails to note that the populations the Department of Public Safety supervises in its Intake Services Center are different from the populations the Hawaii Paroling Authority is responsible for supervising. It should be noted that the proposed transfer is opposed by those respected in the law enforcement community, including the Honolulu Prosecuting Attorney, Attorney General, members of the Judiciary, and the senior management of the Department of Public Safety.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2265 without my approval.

Respectfully,

Gov. Msg. No. 833, dated July 11, 2006, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 2558 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2558

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2558, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Vocational Rehabilitation.’

The purported intent of this bill is to authorize the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations to refer injured employees who may not have suffered permanent disabilities as a result of their work injuries for vocational rehabilitation when the injured employees are unable to return to their regular jobs after their injuries may have stabilized and when employers have made no offer of ‘permanent’ suitable work that is comparable in earnings to that of the employees’ former jobs.

My Administration believes that returning injured employees to work is medically and economically beneficial to the employees, is economically beneficial to the employers, and is beneficial to the workers’ compensation system. Thus, my Administration has supported efforts to encourage employers to provide alternative work and efforts to vocationally rehabilitate injured employees.

This bill, however, is objectionable because the requirement that employers offer ‘permanent’ suitable work could be interpreted to imply that employers must offer guaranteed lifelong employment and that employers cannot later terminate the employee for economic reasons or employee misconduct. To the extent that employers will not be able to offer such permanent work, more employees would seek vocational rehabilitation services, thus increasing the cost of the system.

It should be pointed out that vocational rehabilitation services are intended for those injured employees who have become permanently disabled from performing their usual and customary work and the employer has no other work available to accommodate the person’s permanent limitations. Allowing all injured employees, even those with minor injuries, the ability to be considered for vocational rehabilitation services could significantly increase the number of injured workers flowing into the vocational rehabilitation system. It would increase temporary disability costs, increase workers compensation premiums, and preclude availability of the system for those who most need it – the permanently disabled.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2558 without my approval.

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

HONOLULU

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 2076

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2076, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Leasehold Conversion.’

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 2076 is to allow, for a limited time, a fee owner to exclude from taxable income one hundred percent of the gain realized from: (1) the sale of the leased fee interest in a residential house lot or multi-family residential leasehold unit to the lessee of the house lot or unit; or (2) the sale of the leased fee interest in a multi-family residential leasehold property to the association of apartment owners or the residential cooperative corporation of the multi-family residential leasehold property. The total exclusion may not exceed an aggregate cap of $800,000 for ‘all taxpayers in the State in any tax year.’

Although the provision of an incentive for fee owners to sell the fee interest in their residential real property is an idea that has merit, this bill is objectionable because it provides an inadequate incentive for a significant number of owners to sell their leased fee interest. Moreover, the cost and time necessary to implement the bill for two years far outweigh the benefits. This bill will provide an incentive for only a few fee owners to sell their leased fee interest since the maximum tax savings available under the cap would be $58,000 per year. On the other hand, to implement the bill, the Department of Taxation will be faced with the administrative burdens of establishing guidelines, training personnel, gearing up for a public information campaign, creating and printing the exemption form, and reviewing an unknown number of claims.

The aggregate cap frustrates the laudable purpose to promote widespread leasehold conversion. The aggregate cap of $800,000 is very low and will easily be exceeded by the sale of just one or two single-family homes, or maybe three or four condominium units. This bill provides no criteria or guidelines for the Department of Taxation to determine which of the fee owners would qualify for the exclusion from income of up to $800,000 ‘in the aggregate for all taxpayers in the State in any tax year.’ Consequently, the Department of Taxation will also be faced with tax appeals and litigation regarding this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2076 without my approval.

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 3118

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 3118, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Corporations.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish a task force to determine how to authorize the establishment of corporations structured to incorporate and protect the interests of employees and the public, and provide incentives for the creation of 'responsible' companies that not only consider the public interest, but integrate the public interest into the structure and duties of the corporation.

This bill is objectionable because it assumes that shareholder and community interests are at odds. This presupposes that corporations are so driven by their bottom lines that they do not care about their employees, their customers, the environment, public health and safety, or their communities. The bill's preamble is especially objectionable because it contends that corporations are incentivized and, thus, move deliberately to cause harm to those community interests. This assumes that corporations ignore their greatest asset (i.e., their employees) and their target audience (i.e., their customers). Nothing could be further from reality.

In the real world, a business must be responsive to its employees and its customers, or without them, the business will fail. Corporations are comprised of our neighbors; they are active at community events; and they are some of the most generous givers to charities in our community. To suggest that corporations would choose profit over the communities they operate in draws a false distinction and does a disservice to all of the hard working private-sector people who contribute to the betterment of our community.

Second, this bill is objectionable because it is inconsistent with other states' laws and, therefore, moves us in the wrong direction. It is flatly inconsistent with the recent progress that the State has made in becoming more business-friendly, and would move us back, once again, into the business-unfriendly column. My Administration has worked hard to make it easier for new businesses to come to Hawaii and increase competition in the marketplace. One way that we do this is to adopt model business laws and uniform legislation that have been adopted in other states across the nation. Adopting model laws means that businesses are familiar with the regulatory scheme and do not have to invest large amounts of capital to comply with regulatory laws that are unique to one location. As this bill is not based upon uniform legislation, it will not have the effect of enhancing Hawaii's business-friendly reputation. Instead, this bill will likely have the opposite effect, perpetuating the impression that Hawaii is anti-business.

Third, this bill is objectionable because it takes a myopic view of corporate governance. Rather than exploring other approaches to improving corporate governance and then determining which approach is appropriate for Hawaii, this bill refers to the Senate Draft as the basis for discussion and thereby rushes into an approach that will likely perpetuate Hawaii's anti-business reputation. If the intent were to improve corporate governance, it would have been more appropriate to charge the task force with examining a variety of approaches and then recommending the most appropriate approach for Hawaii, rather than requiring that the task force begin by considering how to disempower corporate shareholders.

Finally, I am concerned with the bill's potential impact on tax revenues. Both the House and the original Senate version of this bill reflected what I believe to be the obvious fact that shifting control of corporations from shareholder investors to those representing community interests will not happen without financial incentives. As a result, those versions included tax breaks for those investing in 'responsible' corporations. The Senate Committee on Ways and Means wisely removed the tax break provisions from the bill, but the task force will surely have to consider whether tax breaks are necessary to make this new corporate form feasible. Giving tax breaks to encourage the creation of alternative corporate forms is bad public policy. If those corporations cannot succeed in the marketplace, their good intentions notwithstanding, I am not willing to force taxpayers to subsidize an experiment of this sort.

It is unusual for me to object to the creation of a task force, as a task force usually reflects an honest attempt to thoroughly consider an issue and, as a result, incorporates concepts of intellectual exploration, openness, and transparency that I frequently champion. In this case, though, I believe that the deck is stacked in favor of a demonstrably flawed concept. If the task force was not directed to start from the Conference Draft version of the bill, and if the Conference Draft itself did not reflect such hostility toward local business, it would be less problematic. Hostility toward business, though, is the essence of the proposal, and for that reason I cannot support it.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 3118 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2150, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Boating.'

The purpose of this bill is to prohibit the State from transferring small boat harbors to any county unless provided by statute.

This bill is objectionable because the proposed statute prohibiting the transfer of the small boat harbors to the counties is more restrictive than the already existing statute (section 200-2.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes). The statute already authorizes the Board of Land and Natural Resources to lease fast lands within an existing state boating facility for private development, management, and operation without legislative approval.

Senate Bill No. 2150 provides that a similar transfer to a county would be prohibited. To the extent that the Legislature has already authorized the board to lease fast lands to private parties, the prohibition of leases to the counties, which are public bodies that are directly responsible to their citizens, is contrary to public policy because it places the counties at a disadvantage when compared with private parties if the counties desire to seek authority to operate a State-owned small boat harbor.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2150 without my approval.

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.
2190

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2190, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Employment Security.’

The purposes of this bill are to provide temporary tax relief to employers by lowering the maximum taxable wage base for calendar years 2007 and 2008, to increase unemployment benefits for eligible individuals, to increase the amount an individual may earn while collecting his full unemployment benefit amount, and to exclude the payment of benefits to individuals who are terminated for willful or wanton misconduct.

This bill is objectionable because the increases in benefits to unemployment insurance claimants provided by this bill will have an adverse impact on the unemployment insurance trust fund and are projected to increase unemployment compensation benefits by approximately 18 percent per year.

This bill amends section 383-22, HRS, to increase the maximum weekly benefit amount an eligible individual may collect from seventy percent of the average weekly wage to eighty percent of the average weekly wage for benefits years beginning January 1, 2007. This permanent increase in the benefit amount will affect the balance of the unemployment trust fund.

In addition to the higher benefits amount, this bill also amends section 383-24, HRS, to increase the number of weeks that an eligible individual may obtain unemployment benefits from twenty-six weeks to thirty weeks. This section is effective for claims filed on or after January 1, 2006.

This bill also amends section 383-23, HRS, to increase the amount of wages an employee may earn from $50 to $150 while collecting the full unemployment benefit amount.

As a consequence, the amount of taxes employers will pay in the future will permanently increase.

The bill’s proponents failed to provide convincing data that these changes are merited given the current unemployment climate in Hawaii. Our State has benefitted [sic] from the lowest national unemployment rates. There is no demonstrable basis that indicates employees who are temporarily out of work need extended unemployment insurance benefits nor higher payments. The job climate is such that those out of work should be encouraged to seek new employment in a timely fashion. This bill would tend to discourage timely re-entry into the workforce.

This bill will increase the cost of doing business in Hawaii, perpetuating Hawaii’s reputation as anti-business, which my administration has worked hard to reform. Had this bill provided for temporary tax relief for employers only, the cost of doing business would have been reduced and the trust fund would have remained healthy.

Finally, this bill amends section 383-30(2), Hawaii Revised Statutes, to disqualify individuals terminated from employment for willful or wanton misconduct connected with work, and defines ‘willful or wanton misconduct.’ Currently, section 383-30(2), HRS, disqualifies individuals who are discharged for misconduct connected with work.

As defined by this bill, ‘mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, poor performance, isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion shall not constitute willful or wanton misconduct.’ Given this language, a single act, no matter how egregious, would not constitute misconduct.

My administration believes it would be bad public policy to allow employees to collect unemployment insurance benefits who are terminated for acts that endanger the safety of others in the workplace as well as misconduct and failure to follow proper company rules.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2190 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2997, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Procurement.'

This bill would provide exemptions from the Hawaii Public Procurement Code for the High Technology Development Corporation, the Hawaii Strategic Development Corporation, and the Natural Energy Laboratory of Hawaii Authority. This bill also exempts from the Procurement Code contracts for services by a legislative agency for the purpose of preparing a study or report for submission to the Legislature.

This bill is objectionable because the Procurement Code promotes transparency, fair treatment, competition, and public confidence in the government's procurement of goods, services, and construction. It is intended to protect against waste, fraud, and abuse. Absent compelling reasons, any governmental agency with the authority to expend public funds should be in compliance with the Procurement Code.

The ostensible reason for exempting the above-mentioned agencies from the Procurement Code is that they are involved in cutting-edge technology in a time-sensitive, market-driven, volatile investment environment, thus requiring the agencies to have the flexibility to make procurements in an expeditious manner. The reason for exempting contracts for legislative reports is that the procurement process impinges on the agencies' ability to timely comply with their reporting requirements to the Legislature.

The Procurement Code, however, already allows various source selection methods. In addition to invitations for bids and requests for proposals, the Procurement Code allows an informal process for small purchases, sole source selections, emergency purchases, and exemptions from the Procurement Code by law, by rules, or by written determinations of the Chief Procurement Officer. Given the existing flexibility, there is no basis for exempting these agencies from the Procurement Code. Moreover, the purposes of the Procurement Code – the promotion of transparency, fairness, competition, and public-confidence and the protection against waste, fraud, and abuse – should not be sacrificed absent compelling reasons or for the convenience of the agencies.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2997 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1867

Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1867, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Workers' Compensation.'

This bill would extend medical services when a dispute exists between the injured employee and the employer or employer's insurer, until the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations (Director) issues a decision on whether medical care should continue. It allows the employer or employer's insurer to recover from the injured employee's personal health-care provider or other appropriate occupational or non-occupational insurer all sums paid for the disputed medical services after a designated date.

This bill is objectionable because it requires that an employer or employer's insurer continue to pay for medical treatments where the employer or employer's insurer considers the treatments proposed by the plan to be inappropriate, excessive, or for a non-compensable condition. In most cases these determinations are made after an independent medical examiner concludes the individual is ready to return to work.

This bill does not limit the type of medical service covered; thus, it could conceivably apply to all medical procedures, up to and including surgery. Further, it allows the medical treatments to continue solely on the decision of the medical provider who may not be a licensed physician.

Responsibility for paying for these extra treatments would rest with either the provider or the insurer if the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations subsequently decided they were not needed. This could result in a situation where the insurer has to pay for medical services that were determined unwarranted and unnecessary, likely resulting in higher workers' compensation premiums since this adds to the workers' compensation risk exposure of all businesses in Hawaii. Alternatively, if providers are left with the bill, they may decide not to offer the treatment, which defeats the purpose of this measure.

The Department of Labor and Industrial Relations issued rules in May 2005 that improved the hearings process and mandated the use of evidence-based clinically tested, medical treatment guidelines and allowed for an alternative dispute resolution process in lieu of a Department of Labor and Industrial Relations hearing. These rules could have decreased the number of denials. Ironically, these are the rules the Legislature suspended last year when they denied the Director of the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations rulemaking authority in this area.

Finally, this bill fundamentally changes the balance between employer and employee regarding the method by which medical care can be terminated. It essentially overrides the workers' compensation medical fee schedule and negates the 'reasonable and necessary' language in current Hawaii workers' compensation law, thereby placing in jeopardy the fiscal integrity of the State's workers' compensation system.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1867 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2878

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2878, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Special Purpose Revenue Bonds to Assist Tradewinds Forest Products, LLC.’

The purpose of this bill is to authorize the issuance of up to $25,000,000 in special purpose revenue bonds to assist Tradewinds Forest Products, LLC (‘Tradewinds’), a Delaware limited liability company, in the establishment of a veneer mill and associated cogeneration plant (the ‘project’).

This bill is objectionable because there are serious questions as to whether issuance of the contemplated special purpose revenue bonds would serve a public purpose and whether financing of the project is an appropriate use of such bonds. First, based on an initial review, it is doubtful that special purpose revenue bonds could be issued for this project since most of the $30,000,000 project does not appear to qualify for special purpose revenue bond financing on a federal tax-exempt basis. Absent a detailed legal analysis of the engineering schematics and components of the project by bond counsel, federal tax-exempt financing for the project likely would be limited to $10,000,000 under section 144 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Generally, special purpose revenue bonds are marketable only if they can be issued on a federal tax-exempt basis. Absent sufficient special purpose revenue bond financing, it is unclear whether the project would produce the local products and jobs anticipated in the bill. Tradewinds has had an agreement for the past five years with the State to build a timber processing plant and to harvest eucalyptus [sic] and maple planted in the Waikea Forest Reserve. However, due to difficulties in securing financing, the project has been delayed and has not produced the local products and jobs initially anticipated.

Unfortunately, it appears the proposed project has not been adequately explained to the community such that residents of the area have raised questions and concerns about the potential impacts. Additionally, questions have been raised as to the appropriateness of using publicly issued financing for a project that proposes to use the public’s resources for private gain. Until these concerns are fully and fairly addressed, the State should not be asked to issue bonds for this proposal.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2878 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2004, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Historic Preservation.’

The purpose of this bill is to designate a sandbar in Kaneohe Bay as the ‘Ahu o Laka State Monument’ and to regulate the use of the sandbar pursuant to rules to be adopted by the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

This bill is objectionable because it provides unnecessary regulation of an active recreational and historical site in Kaneohe Bay. The bill was introduced in response to an incident that occurred in 2005. There exist sufficient laws to govern activities on the sandbar without converting it to State monument status. The Division of Conservation and Resources Enforcement and the United States Coast Guard have the authority to monitor activities that address safety, security, and sanitation concerns.

Secondly, the ability to define the actual State monument area may be difficult, if not impossible, given the shifting sands and movements during tides. Creating a specific perimeter for the State monument might lead to administrative and legal challenges as to where the monument rules do and do not apply.

The cultural and historic nature of the area continue to be researched by the Department of Land and Natural Resources and others. However, long-standing members of the community, locally elected officials, and community leaders stated that there has not been any discussion prior to this bill to suggest that the sandbar should be treated as a State monument. There is community concern that a monument designation may act to the detriment of the area, encouraging visitor guidebooks, websites, and tourist literature to highlight an area that has traditionally been used by residents and those familiar with the Windward Oahu topography.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2004 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2006, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Prohibiting Sales of Opihi.'

The purpose of this bill is to prohibit the sale of all Hawaii species of edible opihi, subject to an exemption for certain opihi shells used to make jewelry.

Currently opihi can be collected year round throughout the Hawaiian Islands. The shells must be at least one and one-fourth inches wide or the meat, without the shell, must be at least one-half inch wide to be legally harvested. Under current Hawaii Administrative Rules, there is no limitation on the amount of opihi that may be legally harvested. However, this bill will create a presumption that the taking of more than one-half gallon per person per day of opihi, as measured with its shell on, from the waters within the jurisdiction of the State, is for the purpose of selling or offering to sell the opihi. The Department of Land and Natural Resources has taken the position that it will be difficult, if not impossible, to enforce this bill, because its officers will not be able to determine if the opihi someone possessed was legally harvested within the personal limits established in this bill.

Residents of Niihau requested an exemption to a statewide prohibition, indicating that the sale of opihi makes up a portion of their local economy, but their request was rejected by the Legislature. Furthermore, those familiar with the industry believe that this bill will create a black market for opihi that will likely promote illegal harvesting and hurt legal collectors and, thus, will disproportionately impact those who gather nature's products as has been traditionally practiced for centuries in our islands.

I intend to call upon the Department of Land and Natural Resources to conduct a scientific, fact-based study of opihi to determine whether harvesting limits should be imposed. If the Department of Land and Natural Resources' study determines that harvesting limits are needed to protect the species, then my Administration will take the necessary steps to address this matter.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2006 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 2133

Honorable Members

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2133, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Health.'

The purposes of this bill are to establish a Hawaii health commission within the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs that would develop a comprehensive health plan for people in Hawaii and to restrict the use in Hawaii of vaccines that contain mercury.

This bill is objectionable because it restricts the use of FDA-approved vaccines for no scientifically sound reason. This restriction will put the health and well-being of Hawaii residents at risk, particularly in the event of an influenza pandemic.

Thimerosal, an organic mercury compound, has been used as a preservative in some vaccines for many years. The FDA requires that vials of vaccines that provide multiple doses, such as many flu vaccines, contain preservatives to prevent contamination as individual doses are withdrawn from the vial. When thimerosal is processed by the body, it breaks down into ethyl mercury, one form of mercury. Others are pure mercury, such as that formerly used in thermometers, and methyl mercury, which is produced by microorganisms in water and soil and can accumulate in fish. Exposure to high levels of methyl mercury is toxic.

In 1999, the FDA determined that on a regular vaccination schedule some infants might be exposed to accumulated doses of ethyl mercury that would exceed some guidelines for methyl mercury. These forms of mercury are different and are processed differently by the body. Ethyl mercury breaks down much more rapidly and is eliminated more quickly than methyl mercury. But as a precaution, the United States Department of Health and Human Services, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and vaccine manufacturers decided that thimerosal should be reduced or eliminated in vaccines. As a result, the vaccines routinely recommended for childhood immunization no longer contain thimerosal. However, some immunizations for adolescents and adults still do. Further, much of the flu vaccine supply does as well.

Two years after that precautionary decision, the Immunization Safety Review Committee of the Institute of Medicine in the National Academies of Science reported that there was not enough evidence to say that vaccines with thimerosal either do or do not cause various disorders in children such as autism, hyperactivity, and delayed speech. By 2004 enough additional studies had been done for the committee to conclude that there is no causal relationship between thimerosal-containing vaccines and autism.

This bill ignores the body of current scientific evidence on thimerosal-containing vaccines. It also ignores the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Hawaii Academy of Family Practice, the Hawaii Medical Association, the Hawaii Chapter of the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and numerous physicians who are on record opposing this legislation. Its enactment could cause some parents to doubt the general safety of vaccines and to decline vaccinations for their children, a step backward in our efforts to encourage families to participate in vaccination and to reduce or eliminate preventable illness and deaths from communicable diseases.

Any action that potentially lowers the immunization rate is of concern to me, particularly since Hawaii is a natural gateway for a flu pandemic. Reducing our population's health protection is a risk I am not willing to take.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2133 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 2244

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2244, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Expungements.'

This bill permits the expungement of convictions for violations upon written application to the Attorney General. This bill will require the deletion of digitized arrest records rather than the return of hard copy materials, if applicable. This bill would also require the return of fingerprints and photographs, or the deletion of digitized images to a person entitled to an expungement, except when the person is a fugitive from justice.

This bill is objectionable because it will allow for the expungement of convictions of violations, including simple trespass, disorderly conduct, and loitering for prostitution. If the expungement of violations is permitted, charges such as these would be unavailable to criminal justice agencies, such as the state and county prosecuting agencies, as they are not 'law enforcement agencies' that are authorized to have access to these records if acting in the scope of their duties. This information would also be unavailable to employers or agencies authorized by the Legislature to conduct suitability determinations on prospective employees who have direct contact with Hawaii's designated vulnerable population, namely children, the elderly, and the developmentally challenged.

This bill will also lead to court challenges as there are no guidelines or standards that can be used to determine when the Department of the Attorney General should deny or process an application to expunge the record of a conviction for a violation. As a result, any denial of an application will be open to a challenge that the decision was arbitrarily made. Therefore, the Department will be unable to deny any application for expungement of a conviction for a violation, even in cases where an individual continues to be convicted of violations such as simple trespass, disorderly conduct, and loitering for prostitution. An individual could be convicted for committing a violation every single day and still be entitled to file for an expungement of the conviction for the violation and have it granted each time.

If this bill becomes law, the Department of the Attorney General anticipates that there would be an additional 3,000 - 100,000 offenders that would become eligible for an expungement. The Hawaii Criminal Justice Data Center would require additional positions to process these requests. The police departments and Sheriff's Office would also require additional personnel to expunge the requested charges from their files. However, this bill does not provide any additional funding or resources to the affected agencies to handle the additional workload.

This bill will also mandate the return of all fingerprint cards and photographs of a person entitled to an expungement order unless the applicant is a fugitive from justice. This will erode the accountability and integrity of our fingerprint records in the State Automated Fingerprint Identification System. This is especially true in the case of an arrest with two or more charges. If one of the charges is expunged, the fingerprints and photographs would have to be returned to the eligible applicant. Law enforcement agencies would then have no fingerprints or photographs associated with the charges remaining from that arrest. This could lead to a problem in the future, as law enforcement agencies would be unable to correctly identify the convicted individual.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2244 without my approval.

Respectfully,

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 2727

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2727, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Neurotrauma.'

The purpose of this bill is to require the Neurotrauma Special Fund, established by section 321H-4, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to be used to pay for services to assist individuals with neurotraumatic injuries, in addition to its existing purposes of education, access assistance, and creation of a neurotrauma registry. The bill also requires the Department of Human Services to apply by December 31, 2007, to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services for a medicaid home and community-based waiver for traumatic brain injuries ('TBI').

This bill is objectionable because, first, the limited amount of moneys currently in the fund (approximately $1,000,000), combined with expected deposits into the fund, are not sufficient to provide the direct services listed in this bill to the estimated number of persons who might need services per year in Hawaii. Each year there are approximately 1,500 individuals hospitalized in Hawaii with TBI. A survivor of TBI typically faces five to ten years of intensive treatment, with estimated lifetime costs exceeding $4,000,000 per survivor. A mandate to provide similar services to clients of the Developmental Disabilities Division costs the State $38,000 per client per year. Applying those figures, the estimated annual cost to the State to provide these direct services to all individuals with TBI would exceed $57,000,000.

Second, the Departments of Human Services and of Health do not have the detailed data necessary to determine the identification and needs of target populations; which services to include in the waiver that will provide cognitive therapy, personal assistance, respite care, and day health programs as mandated by the bill; the number of people to be served; the availability of service providers in the community; or differentiation among varying levels of TBI. More time is needed to collect and analyze this data, because without it, the departments cannot meaningfully develop and select the services to be included in a TBI waiver application.

Third, while the amendments do not direct the State how to apportion the moneys in the Neurotrauma Special Fund among the purposes specified in the bill, they do add a mandate that moneys in the fund 'shall be used for the purpose of funding and contracting for services . . . that assist individuals with neurotraumatic injuries, including but not limited to cognitive therapy, personal assistance, respite care, and day health programs.' Because this mandate is estimated to cost much more than the total amount of money available in the Neurotrauma Special Fund, this bill may subject the State to adverse legal action and liability for failure to provide direct services to individuals with TBI.

Fourth, the moneys in the Neurotrauma Special Fund are designated to assist individuals with a spectrum of neurotraumatic injuries, not just traumatic brain injuries. However, this measure intends to use most of the funds only for services to the Medicaid-eligible traumatic brain injury waiver clients. The potential adverse impact of denying services to other neurotrauma patients is inappropriate and unfortunate.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2727 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 846, dated July 11, 2006, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 3035 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.
3035

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 3035, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Continued Temporary Total Disability Benefits to Injured Employees.'

This bill prevents the termination of temporary total disability (TTD) benefits although an injured worker is deemed ready to return to work. Currently, pursuant to section 386-31(b), Hawaii Revised Statutes, an employer/insurance carrier (employer) may terminate TTD benefits if a claimant is able to return to work. The existing law provides that an employer must notify the claimant and the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations of its intent to terminate TTD benefits at least two weeks prior to the date when the last payment is to be made. Section 386-31(b) also requires the notice to inform the claimant that the claimant may make a written request to the Director for a hearing if the claimant disagrees with the employer's decision to terminate TTD benefits.

Upon receipt of the request for hearing, the Director is required to conduct a hearing as expeditiously as possible and render a decision. The current law protects claimants from unwarranted premature termination of TTD benefits by allowing the Director to award a penalty of twenty percent of the unpaid compensation against the employer, payable to the claimant.

This bill is objectionable because it does not recognize that the twenty percent penalty already deters employers from terminating TTD benefits unless there is a valid and good faith basis to do so.

This bill is not clear whether an employer would be entitled to a credit if the employer continues to pay a claimant TTD benefits pursuant to this bill, but a decision of the Director determines that TTD benefits should have been terminated. If a court or other tribunal determines that an employer is not entitled to a credit against permanent disability benefits, the claimant would receive a windfall because the claimant would be allowed to retain the overpaid TTD benefits, which would ultimately raise the costs of workers' compensation. Moreover, even if it is determined that an employer would be entitled to a credit, if the work injury does not result in a permanent disability award, it may be difficult for an employer to collect the overpaid benefits, if any, again resulting in higher workers' compensation costs.

This bill is also objectionable because it provides a process for a claimant, but not an employer, to request a hearing. Pursuant to this bill, an employer cannot terminate TTD benefits unless the claimant has returned to work or the Director orders the termination of benefits. The bill, however, does not provide a specific process for the employer to request a hearing.

This bill also states that the Director must conduct a hearing as expeditiously as possible and render a prompt decision if a claimant requests a hearing, but this requirement does not apply if an employer requests a hearing. Thus, on its face, the bill treats requests from a claimant differently than requests from an employer.

Furthermore, this bill is objectionable because it allows a claimant to choose not to return to work, without penalty, thereby delaying a decision even if the attending physician indicates the claimant is able to return to work. The employer would then be required to continue paying TTD benefits until the Director unilaterally schedules a hearing and issues a decision terminating the benefits. As a result, this bill creates a disincentive for a claimant to return to work because the claimant will suffer no penalty should the claimant refuse to return to work in spite of a doctor's indication that the claimant is able to do so.

Finally, it should be pointed out this bill would take disability determinations out of the hands of the health care profession. This runs counter to good medical and administrative practices and is not in the best interests of the employees themselves and the well-being of the workers compensation system.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 3035 without my approval.

Respectfully,

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2006

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 3181

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 3181, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Solid Waste.'

The purpose of this bill is to make several changes in Hawaii's deposit beverage container program. Among those changes are including in the program containers with a capacity of up to sixty-eight fluid ounces, allowing consumers to choose to have the refund value of their deposit beverage containers computed by container count for loads of up to 200 containers, and permitting redemption centers to refuse payment for deposit beverage containers that appear to have been previously processed or baled.

This bill is objectionable because the inclusion of sixty-eight-fluid-ounce bottles will make it difficult to recycle these containers; will have little impact on beach or roadside litter; will be difficult, if not impossible, to implement by the bill's effective date; and will have a disproportionate impact on families.

Redeeming the refund value of larger containers will be inconvenient because reverse vending machines do not accommodate containers of this size and they are bulky to haul to recycling centers. These larger containers do not make up a significant portion of beach and roadside litter. The original scope of the beverage container redemption program was single-size servings based on limited data indicting these size containers are a portion, albeit small, of the litter and solid waste stream. This is not true for larger containers up to sixty-eight fluid ounces in size.

This bill would include the larger containers in the deposit beverage container program as soon as the bill becomes effective. There is no phase-in period, as there was when the original program began, and the industry will not be able to comply with the bill's requirements since the regulation is law at the moment I sign the bill.

Containers this large move off the grocery store shelves more slowly; those currently in stock may take three to five months to sell. New labels take six months to prepare. The combination of a slow-moving product with the required six-month lead time to change labels presents difficult hurdles to implementing this measure that need to be rethought by the Legislature.

It should be noted that containers greater than 1.5 liters are purchased more often by families and those seeking to buy in bulk to conserve funds. Including larger size containers within the fee and deposit requirements of the beverage container program subjects these buyers to the higher costs imposed by this program.

Finally, most of the other changes to the deposit beverage container program included in Senate Bill No. 3181 can be addressed by the Department of Health through the rulemaking process and the Department has signaled its intent to make these changes via administrative rules.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 3181 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 3116

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 3116, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Children's Health Care Program.'

The purposes of this bill are to establish the 'Hawaii Children's Health Care Program' (HCHCP), a temporary three-year pilot program that will provide free health insurance for qualified uninsured children, and to appropriate $600,000 for fiscal year 2006-2007 to the Department of Human Services for the HCHCP.

This bill is objectionable because it will fail to achieve its intended purpose of providing health insurance to 'uninsured children' who are 'ineligible for any state or federal health care coverage.'

First, the limited number of spots available in the free HCHCP may go to children who were insured, but whose parents opted to keep uninsured for six months in order to qualify for the free HCHCP insurance. The bill provides that 'individuals between two hundred fifty and three hundred per cent of the federal poverty level who would otherwise be qualified for QUEST-net coverage may choose to receive coverage through QUEST-net and pay a prorated premium rate or to receive coverage through the [HCHCP] at no charge.' Allowing children who qualify for coverage under an existing program to be eligible for the free HCHCP insurance would clearly defeat the intent of this bill to provide healthcare coverage to uninsured children.

Second, the measure states, 'All children currently enrolled in a mutual benefit society's children's plan shall be eligible for enrollment into the Hawaii children's health care program.' This means that approximately $300,000 of the $600,000 appropriation contained in House Bill 3116 will be used to cover children who are currently enrolled in HMSA's children's health plan, whose parents currently pay the fifty dollar co-pay for coverage. Consequently, a child who was already insured may take the spot of a child who was truly uninsured. Again, allowing children who qualify for coverage under an existing program to be eligible for the free HCHCP insurance clearly defeats the intent of this bill to provide healthcare coverage to uninsured children.

Third, requiring that children be uninsured continually for at least six months in order to qualify for the program may result in the unintended consequence of parents disenrolling their children from private health insurance to go without health insurance for the six months required to access the program.

Fourth, with the recent approval of the Department of Human Services' Section 1115 waiver, any child with a household income up to three hundred per cent of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) will now have easier access to the full benefit packages offered in Medicaid health insurance, QUEST, and QUEST-Net programs. It is important to note that these programs are able to utilize federal funds as well as State funds, providing an enhanced package of benefits at a lower cost. By contrast, this measure appropriates $600,000 in State funds, without any federal contribution, for a limited health benefit package that can only serve a portion of the children that are served through the State's existing programs.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 3116 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2692

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2692, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Works.'

The purpose of this bill is to make projects financed by special purpose revenue bonds and housing projects financed through Section 201(H) subject to Chapter 104, Hawaii Revised Statutes, Hawaii's Wages and Hours of Employees on Public Works Law.

This bill is objectionable because it is likely to increase the actual costs of constructing projects using special purpose revenue bonds. Special purpose revenue bonds are used to build hospitals, schools, early childhood education centers, county pollution control projects and related works deemed to be in the best interests of the general public. Often it is non-profit organizations that seek special purpose revenue bonds to finance a new structure. This funding tool is used to lower interest costs of the financing for such projects. No taxpayer funds are used and taxpayers are not responsible for a default on the bonds.

While these projects may meet the narrow definition of public works projects, they do not meet the test of having a governmental organization responsible for the monitoring required to meet Chapter 104 applicability.

Subjecting these projects to Chapter 104 runs counter to the intent and spirit of using special purpose revenue bonds to help reduce expenses incurred by strictly private and non-profit entities and may actually act as a deterrent to using this financing mechanism and decrease the number of projects on behalf of the general community.

Additionally, this bill would place enforcement and monitoring functions on the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations without the commensurate resources to carry out these duties.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2692 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 3261

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 3261, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Ingenuity Corporation Charter.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish the Hawaii Ingenuity Corporation to create a business entity that owns and licenses intellectual and other property.

This bill is objectionable for a number of reasons. First, there are concerns regarding the creation of a private, for-profit organization within Hawaii Revised Statutes that would have no attachment or oversight from a government department. This arrangement may result in a challenge under the equal protection clause of the Constitution since this entity would not be required to comply with the incorporation laws that other corporations are required to follow before being authorized to do business in the State.

Second, there is a lack of clarity relating to the State's responsibility, if any, in the event the Corporation is sued or for any other legal matters the Corporation may face. This ambiguity also creates confusion as to whether this Corporation is covered by Chapters 91 and 92 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes covering public rulemaking and sunshine laws.

Third, there would be difficulties in making any changes to the Corporation's charter because amendments to the charter of the Corporation would require the passage of a legislative act and rescission of the charter would require a two-thirds vote of both houses of the Legislature.

Fourth, it is inappropriate and outside the scope of law to give a for-profit corporation the ability to declare that exercising the power to collectively bargain on behalf of inventors and labor organizations is an exception to all state antitrust and federal anti-competitive practice rules and statutes.

Fifth, and most importantly, the bill may actually hurt the very entity it is intended to help—the inventor. Inventors would have no direct representation on the Corporate Board. The bill further limits the inventor's return on investment and only allows the inventor to sue the corporation after going through an elaborate and unnecessary grievance process structured to the benefit of the corporation and not the inventor. The legislation fails to increase an inventor's ability to compete in a global marketplace or protect his patents beyond what is already available through federal statutes. Hawaii inventors expressed specific reservations about Mainland entities pushing this bill and attempting to organize Hawaii inventors.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 3261 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.
2166

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 2166, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Minors.’

The purposes of this bill are to (1) allow minors without guardians to consent to the provision of primary or preventive medical care and services if a licensed healthcare practitioner makes certain determinations; (2) provide immunity from civil and criminal liability to a practitioner who provides primary care to a minor without a guardian in certain circumstances; (3) allow a minor to request that a managed care or health insurance plan billed for the minor's care not disclose information to certain individuals; and (4) deletes current statutory language that would have required parental consent for a minor (14 to 17 years of age) to terminate a pregnancy.

Although it is certainly important for minors without guardians, including homeless, runaway, and immigrant minors, to be able to consent to medical services, this bill is objectionable because it goes beyond that goal. In addition to allowing minors without guardians to consent to primary and preventive medical care and services, the bill would expressly allow some minors as young as fourteen years of age to consent to complex medical procedures including surgery. These types of medical procedures are serious and have long-term consequences for the health and well-being of the child. Yet, this bill would allow young people to make their decisions who may not have the maturity or judgment to understand the full consequences of this decision.

First, the purpose section of this measure indicates the target population is homeless, runaway, and immigrant minors who find themselves unable to obtain medical services. While this is referenced in the preamble to this bill, the actual statutory language contains no phraseology specifying this target population. The law, as drafted, applies to any minor over age 14. Further, the stipulation that it ‘not be practicable’ to obtain legal consent from an adult, is overly broad.

Second, Senate Bill No. 2166 provides immunity to licensed or certified health practitioners who provide care and treatment to minors. However, the bill expands the type of person who can perform medical treatments on a minor beyond the current statutory limit of licensed practicing physicians. Further, while it is likely the medical practitioner could be held liable for improper medical care, the practitioner could not be held liable for any errors in determining that the minor had no adult supervision and understood the nature and consequence of the medical procedure performed.

The bill also contains a confidentiality provision that may prevent parents from being informed about the medical care and treatment that their children receive. There is merit in the concern that parent rights as well as obligations are being undermined when the State sanctions in laws the ability of a child to avoid, for whatever valid reason may exist, the involvement of a parent or responsible adult.

Further, this measure requires a health insurer to not disclose payment information to the adult who owns an insurance policy covering the minor, if the minor asks that the information be withheld. Homeless, runaway, and immigrant minors are usually not covered by a parent's insurance policy, leaving the intent of this provision questionable while requiring insurance firms to participate in this concealment.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 2166 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 266

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 266, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Labor.’

The stated purpose of House Bill No. 266 is to establish clear distinctions between mandatory, excluded, and permissive subjects of collective bargaining. However, the bill would not achieve the stated purpose and would blur the delineations that have historically existed in statute.

This bill is objectionable because it constitutes an unacceptable infringement upon management rights currently protected under section 89-9(d), Hawaii Revised Statutes. It attempts to overturn the case of United Public Workers, AFSCME, Local 646, AFL-CIO v. Hannemann, 106 Hawaii 359 (2005), the Supreme Court of Hawaii case that held the City and County of Honolulu’s transfer of refuse workers from the Pearl City baseyard to the Honolulu baseyard was not subject to collective bargaining. The Hannemann case reaffirmed management rights as set forth in section 89-9(d). Historically, section 89-9, Hawaii Revised Statutes, has been recognized as the provision that sets into law protections that do not allow management to bargain away the right to direct its workforce and oversee governmental operations. This ensures that Public Employers are able to manage their operations efficiently and effectively to serve the public.

This bill erodes management rights by permitting negotiations over criteria governing promotions, transfers, assignments, demotions, layoffs, suspensions, terminations, discharges, and other disciplinary actions. Allowing negotiations on the criteria management uses to act on matters such as layoffs, transfers, and assignments involves labor in the fundamental decision-making process of management. Whereas negotiating procedures may impact the means used to reach an outcome, negotiating the criteria could impact the nature of the outcome itself, thus interfering with the primary rights and obligations of public employers.

In permitting negotiations over assignments, this bill would adversely impact the delivery of services to the public, particularly in emergency situations. The bill provides for collective bargaining over a supplemental agreement or a memorandum of understanding and such mutual agreements cover individual employees and specific situations. Therefore, this bill would adversely impact the employer’s ability to make assignments of specific employees and groups of employees.

The other Public Employer jurisdictions have advised me that this bill would critically impede their ability to manage their workforce and protect the health and safety of the public. State and county governments would face serious difficulties in carrying out civil defense, public safety, health, welfare, and other public service functions. For example, if this bill became law, it could result in restrictions on the deployment of lifeguards, emergency medical services personnel, and other health and safety staff who are expected to respond to and adjust their work locations and hours as emergencies and unanticipated events may dictate. Such restrictions could result in a lowering of services to the public and possibly delay response time in cases where immediate action by government is required.

Furthermore, this bill added a provision to section 89-9(d) stating that section 89-9(d) shall not be used to invalidate provisions of collective bargaining agreements in effect on and after June 30, 2007. However, this provision is confusing and contradictory because it does not address issues covered in the collective bargaining agreements addressed in this bill, but attempts to cover issues which may or may not arise in the future.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 266 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2641

Honorable Members
Twenty-Third Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2641, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Work Projects.’

The purported intent of this bill is to mandate that a private construction project will be considered a public works project subject to chapter 104, Hawaii Revised Statutes, Hawaii’s Wages and Hours of Employees on Public Works law, if the State or a political subdivision leases or is assigned more than fifty percent of the project. Copies of the lease agreement must be filed with the Department of Accounting and General Services and the construction project owner must submit weekly certified payrolls to the leasing governmental agency or the governmental agency using the leased or assigned space.

This bill also requires, prior to the start of construction, that the construction project owner sign an agreement with the leasing governmental entity agreeing to pay the prevailing wage to the laborers and mechanics working on this project and to otherwise comply with the requirements of chapter 104.

This bill is objectionable because it is an unwarranted expansion of the types of projects that could be subject to public works projects rules and statutes. Currently, section 12-22-1 of the Hawaii Administrative Rules defines a public work to encompass a private construction project when the State or a political subdivision leases the entire building or structure and where: (1) the lease was entered into prior to construction of the structure or building; and (2) the construction work was performed according to plans, specifications, or criteria of the leasing governmental entity.

Expanding public works coverage to mixed public-private structures may inject confusion and needlessly increase the associated building costs of the project. Smaller owners in particular may not want to develop commercial space for lease to the government because of the additional burden of complying with unfamiliar labor laws. It is anticipated that this bill will limit or reduce the number of office buildings that will be available for lease to government agencies. Finally, this bill could impede the development of mixed use housing projects, wherein some of the units were for market sale or rental and others were leased to a public housing corporation for elderly, Section 8, or transitional housing.

Additionally, because this bill directs that certified payroll data shall be submitted to the government leasing agency, rather than the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, this data will go to entities that have no authority to audit or enforce these payrolls, thereby inhibiting the enforcement of wage laws this bill attempts to impose on private projects.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2641 without my approval.

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2691, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Prevailing Wages.’

The purpose of this bill is to allow a joint labor-management committee established under the federal Labor Management Cooperation Act of 1978 to file a lawsuit against an employer who fails to pay the prevailing wage required by chapter 104, Hawaii Revised Statutes, Hawaii’s Wages and Hours of Employees on Public Works law, to its laborers and mechanics working on a governmental construction project.

This bill is objectionable because the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations currently conducts both complaint-generated and random routine investigations of public works projects for compliance with chapter 104. The Department’s improved educational and outreach programs have focused in a positive manner in ensuring employers understand their obligations under the law. There is no demonstrated need to allow for the enforcement of chapter 104 by labor-management committees that may have personal interests in singling out certain contractors. Lawsuits against these contractors may also deter other contractors from bidding on public works projects, limiting the competition for these types of projects.

Moreover, this bill may require the Department to devote more resources to litigation, since the Department may have to intervene as an interested party to ensure that chapter 104 is being interpreted correctly. This will divert attention from what should be the primary focus, which is consistent, vigilant enforcement by the responsible government agency of the existing statute.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 2691 without my approval.

Gov. Msg. No. 855, informing the Senate that on July 11, 2006, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 3270 as Act 297, entitled: “RELATING TO PUBLIC HEALTH.”

“Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill 3270 SD2 HD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 3270, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Health’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

Senate Bill No. 3270 guarantees a payment methodology to federally qualified health centers and rural health clinics in accordance with the Social Security Act and appropriates $2,000,000 for the Department of Health to provide resources to nonprofit, community-based health care providers for direct medical care for the uninsured.

The Department of Human Services’ Med-QUEST Division has been working with the federally qualified health centers (FQHCs), rural health clinics, and the Hawaii Primary Care Association in good faith to review the current rules regarding the Prospective Payment System (PPS) methodology, which gives the highest cost reimbursement payments to these particular Medicaid providers. This bill is similar to a bill that was vetoed last year that would have required continued payment under PPS cost reimbursement.

The Administration has concerns that if the federal law which requires the PPS reimbursement methodology is changed or eliminated, or if there is a change or reduction in the federal matching funds Hawaii receives for PPS, codifying the payment into State statute will obligate the State to future funding commitments.

This bill also provides a one-time payment to FQHCs and rural health clinics of $2 million. However, the bill fails to identify what will happen to FQHCs and clinics after the fiscal year is over.

FQHCs are an important component to Hawaii's health care safety net of service providers, especially in our rural communities. The majority of patients served at FQHCs are patients covered by federal or State health insurance programs or who may not have current health insurance.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill SB3270 to become law as Act 297 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Sincerely,

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 2719 SD2 HD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 2719, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

Senate Bill 2719 makes various changes to the charter school law. My Administration supports charter schools and for the past two years we have introduced comprehensive legislation that would improve the environment for charter schools in Hawaii and empower charter schools with the tools they need for success. While well intentioned, Senate Bill 2719 falls short of implementing significant changes for charter schools.

This measure creates a charter school review panel to review charter applications and make recommendations to the State Board of Education but gives no significant authority to the panel. The Board would continue to serve as the charter authorizer with the ability to issue and revoke charters. In contrast, I believe a strong charter school law would allow for multiple chartering authorities, including the University of Hawaii Board of Regents, other public entities, and non-profit agencies. Allowing multiple charter authorizers permits a broader range of paths to obtaining a charter and brings outside resources, expertise, and attention to help shepherd and oversee the charter school movement in the State. Along with oversight and management responsibilities, the panel should be recognized as a Local Education Agency and be allowed to receive federal funds on behalf of charter schools. Unfortunately, Senate Bill 2719 does not give the panel this status.

Second, this bill caps the number of conversion charter schools at 25 and provides restrictive criteria for the establishment of new start-up charter schools. I support a more flexible system that encourages new and conversion start up charter schools. As an alternative to completely removing any caps on charter schools, I proposed targeted expansion for the charter school community by allowing new charter start-ups for schools with an environmental curriculum. Neither of these proposals were considered or included by the Legislature in SB 2719.

Senate Bill No. 2719 states that the Executive Director of the Charter School Administrative Office (CSAO) operates under the direction of the Board of Education (BOE), and in consultation with the charter schools. This continues the confusion and current challenge for the CSAO in determining whom they are accountable to—the BOE, or the charter schools. Further, it places the CSAO Executive Director in a conflicted position since this bill directs the Executive Director to work under the direction of the BOE, provide '...independent analysis and recommendation on charter school issues,' and represent charter schools and the charter school system in communications with the BOE, Governor, and Legislature.

This bill clarifies that the local school board shall be responsible for the financial and academic viability of the charter school, implementation of the charter, and the independent authority to determine the organization and management of the school, the curriculum, virtual education, and compliance with applicable federal and State laws. However, I have repeatedly proposed that local school boards be allowed to negotiate master collective bargaining agreements. The Task Force on Charter School Governance Final Report (December 21, 2005) documents that a majority of task force members voted to remove charters from collective bargaining. This measure ignores these recommendations.

As a matter of policy, I believe in giving charter schools the choice to bargain collectively under Chapter 377 (Hawaii Labor Relations Act), Hawaii Revised Statutes. I am concerned that local school boards are not included in the definitions established in our collective bargaining laws, 89-6(d), HRS, as an 'employer.' New century charter schools employees will be bound to collective bargaining agreements which they did not negotiate and which were not negotiated with the charter school's interests in mind.

For two years, I have proposed including facilities maintenance costs in the per-pupil funding amount and basing the entire per pupil funding on the most recently enacted Department of Education budget, not the Consolidated Annual Financial Report (CAFR). Data from the CAFR is two years old. Neither of these changes is included in Senate Bill 2719. While this measure allows the Legislature to appropriate additional funds for facility costs, by not including the dollars in a per pupil formula, Hawaii cannot access federal monies that would provide an $8 to $1 match in facilities funding.

This measure requires charter schools to be eligible for all federal financial support to the same extent as all other public schools. The Attorney General has pointed out that State law cannot unilaterally make charter schools eligible for federal funding. As stated earlier, a charter Local Education Agency needs to be designated to make this provision viable.

I have proposed for the last two years that extra-curricular activities such as debate, clubs, theatre, and dance should be included as activities that charter school students are entitled to participate in. Senate Bill 2719 only allows charter school students to participate in sports within their school complex.

This bill alone will not accomplish the goal of improving the charter school system in Hawaii. It will be incumbent upon the Legislature to remedy the aforementioned shortcomings of this measure with legislation that further empowers, expands, and supports the charter school system.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 2719 to become law as Act 298 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

House Bill No. 1918 as Act 299, entitled: “RELATING TO COMMISSION ON SALARIES.”

“Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1918 HD1 SD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 1918, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Commission on Salaries’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill establishes a seven-member Salary Commission to review the salaries of appointed managerial positions within the Executive, Judicial, and Legislative branches of government, but excludes positions within the Department of Education and University of Hawaii. Establishment of the commission is predicated upon ratification of an amendment changing Article III, Section 9 and Article XVIII, Section 3 of the State Constitution governing the salaries of the Legislature.

This bill poses a number of concerns that could adversely impact the separation of powers within the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches of government.

First, the composition of the proposed seven-member Salary Commission will be such that there will be a majority of members selected by the Legislature. Such a composition may favor one branch of government over another.

Second, a exists as to whether it is appropriate and proper to have the salaries of the Chief Justices of the Supreme Court and sitting judges set by a Commission that contains members of the other two branches of government. This raises questions as to whether this Commission violates the basic tenets of the separation between the branches of government as recognized by our founding fathers.

Third, the timetable for the Commission is unrealistic and will be difficult to meet. The Commission cannot be established until after the November elections are held. Yet, the Commissioners must be selected, convene, establish criteria, conduct proceedings, make recommendations, and report to the 2007 Legislature that convenes the following January. Since the bill lacks guidance and fails to establish criteria for the commissioners to follow, this will make it even more challenging for the Commission to meet this deadline.

Fourth, House Bill No. 1918 exempts the Department of Education and the University of Hawaii from the purview of the Salary Commission but fails to provide any rationale as to why these two executive branch agencies should not be subjected to the same process of determining the appropriate salaries of its senior management. In fact, one could argue that these bodies need the transparency and accountability a public Salary Commission might offer.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1918 to be come [sic] law as Act 299 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Gov. Msg. No. 858, informing the Senate that on July 11, 2006, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 3009 as Act 300, entitled: “RELATING TO CIVIL SERVICE EXEMPT EMPLOYEES.”

“Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 3009 SD2 HD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 3009 SD2 HD2 CD1, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Civil Service Exempt Employees,’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill allows statutorily exempt positions within the Executive Branch to be converted to civil service. This bill also directs the Department of Human Resources Development and the Hawaii Government Employees Association to work collaboratively to establish a process for converting positions in various departments and appropriates $110,064 for two positions in the Department.

The Legislature recognized that many positions within the State require people with specialized skills and expertise not found within the ranks of civil service personnel. As such, the Legislature specifically identified positions in law that should be exempt because of the nature of the programs they are managing. To now require a wholesale conversion of those positions to civil service ignores the original rationale of the Legislature when the positions were created and significantly reduces the ability of the Executive Branch to effectively manage and operate these programs.

Further, this bill may involve the conversion to civil service of positions attached to programs that are themselves temporary in nature. It is important to the integrity of the civil service program that positions within this system be used for programs that are ongoing in nature and reflect the permanency of a civil service appointment. Otherwise, there is the possibility that civil service personnel will have to be terminated once the temporary program they are working on is completed.

Finally, it should be noted there is no empirical evidence that the exempt employees currently in various statutorily exempt positions are not carrying out their jobs satisfactorily. In fact, the opposite seems to be the case. Departments with the ability to hire exempt personnel have been able to demonstrate a responsiveness and flexibility that has resulted in a satisfied client base and taxpayers who believe that government services are being handled well.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 3009 to become law as Act 300 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Gov. Msg. No. 859, informing the Senate that on July 11, 2006, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 3059 as Act 301, entitled: "RELATING TO EDUCATION."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 3059 SD2 HD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 3059, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The original purpose of Senate Bill 3059 was to mandate the establishment of a model curriculum for use by teachers statewide to meet the Hawaii Content and Performance Standards. Unfortunately, in its final form Senate Bill No. 3059 does not require the Department of Education to develop and implement a standards-based curriculum statewide. Rather, this measure appropriates a total of $2,008,000 for software implementation to align school course material with Hawaii Content and Performance Standards and federal education standards, for the adaptation of a curriculum in one pilot school complex, and for the contractual services of programmers, data analysts, and clerical support to generate reports for the Department of Education's study on the curriculum implementation process.

This bill raises a number of concerns.

First, this bill does not require the Department of Education to develop and provide a statewide curriculum. Instead, a school or a school complex is left to take the initiative to choose to adopt a curriculum. One of the main purposes of having a curriculum is to ensure all students receive adequate instruction, regardless of exogenous forces such as the school district's funding or a teacher's natural abilities. With a curriculum as a guide, teachers and students can have a reasonable sense of what to expect and how to prepare for each school year, creating continuity within the statewide system. Senate Bill No. 3059 affords single schools and school complexes the choice to implement or not implement a curriculum. Therefore, the goal of a statewide curriculum that is aligned with the Hawaii Content and Performance Standards to increase student achievement will not be reached.

Second, this measure appropriates $900,000 for the development and implementation of a curriculum in one 'pilot' school complex, according to the DOE. Therefore, the burden of curriculum development and implementation in all the other complexes is placed upon teachers, principals, school community council members, and complex area staff.

Third, while assessments of 'progress' and 'performance' are mandated in the bill, nothing exists to assure teachers can address the shortcomings these assessments demonstrate. The introduction paragraph of the bill states, 'Although the State has established statewide standards and benchmarks, learner outcomes, (and) assessments, the legislature finds that Hawaii's public school system does not have an articulated and aligned standards-based curriculum to meet its goals.' Despite recognizing this deficiency in the public education system, the Legislature, by passing Senate Bill No. 3059, is accepting the status quo.

Fourth, the Department must also report to the Legislature on the implementation of curricula in schools and complexes and indicators of student achievement to help evaluate the implementation of the curricula (not the curricula itself). Further, the bill says the reports must have a plan for the complex-by-complex development and implementation of a standards-based curriculum, as well as a time-line to implement specific portions of the curriculum for possible statewide application. The plan for the complex-by-complex implementation is problematic because it is not mandatory for schools to adopt a curriculum. This method of planning does not ensure that the different curricula developed by the different school complexes will be of equal caliber.

It is unfortunate that the final draft of Senate Bill No. 3059 is so significantly different from the original proposal that the major supporter of the bill, the Hawaii Automobile Dealers Association, revoked their support of the bill and requested its veto.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 3059 to become law as Act 301 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

House Bill No. 2258 as Act 302, entitled: "RELATING TO HUMAN SERVICES."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 2258 HD1 SD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 2258, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Human Services' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

House Bill No. 2258 requires legislative appropriation for the expenditure of Temporary Assistance to Needy Families program (TANF) funds received by the State before the Department of Human Services can expend the funds. The measure also appropriates monies for the Department of Human Services' Chore Services Program and the Department of Education's Even Start Program.

This measure is objectionable because it restricts the Executive Branch's flexibility in managing human services programs funded under the temporary assistance to needy families program and appropriates TANF funds in a manner that is illegal under federal law.

Although State departments can only expend funds appropriated by the Legislature, for many years the Legislature has felt comfortable appropriating TANF money as a lump sum. However, the Legislature now intends to interject itself into the Executive Branch decisions regarding the use of these funds. This will restrict the Executive Branch's flexibility in setting priorities for human services programs and could adversely impact the neediest citizens of Hawaii these funds are meant to help.

House Bill No. 2258 also appropriates $1,191,058 in general funds in fiscal year 2006-2007 for the Department of Human Services' Chore Services Program and $600,000 in temporary assistance to needy families funds in fiscal year 2006-2007 for the Department of Education's Hawaii Even Start Family Literacy Program. Even Start is an educational program funded by the United States Department of Education. As such, it cannot be funded by temporary assistance to needy families funds as these funds are prohibited by federal requirements from funding education programs.

However, it is important that the Department of Human Services receive the approximately $1.2 million dollars in supplemental funding for the Chore Services Program to maintain services to its existing clients.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 2258 to become law as Act 302 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

House Bill No. 2098 as Act 303, entitled: "RELATING TO DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 2098 HD1 SD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 2098, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Developmental Disabilities' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The purpose of this bill is to establish a pilot project to expand the residential options of developmentally disabled or mentally retarded individuals to allow them to live in a setting of the person's choice if it is determined that 'the person can be sustained with supports, the supports are attached to the person, and adequate consideration and recognition is given to the person's safety and well-being.' This bill will be repealed on June 30, 2008.

This bill is problematic because the language is unclear and may create problems in implementation.

First, this bill does not state how the person's choice of residential setting is to be made and how the Department of Health (DOH) is to support the choice. Under the current system employed by the Developmental Disabilities Division (DDD) of the DOH, DDD assists clients to locate licensed or certified homes. This bill will create uncertainty over the DOH's role in selection of these residential alternatives even though State money would be spent supporting the individual.

Second, the bill does not specify how to determine whether 'adequate consideration and recognition' has been given to the person's safety and well-being. This bill does not mention licensing or certification requirements, an omission that could lead to an interpretation that this amendment to section 333F-2(c) allows placement in unlicensed or uncertified homes. Allowing placement in unlicensed or uncertified homes poses a risk for the safety and well-being of persons with developmental disabilities or mental retardation because it is only through licensing or certification requirements that safety standards such as criminal history background checks of the home operator and periodic monitoring or unannounced home visits are maintained. Any program that purports to assist the developmentally disabled under the care of the State must include a degree of accountability within the system.

This bill will likely create problems in implementation due to the fact that many parts are vague enough to be subject to more than one interpretation. My Administration will work within the confines of this law to provide the best protection possible for State clients. However, it will be necessary to amend the law in the next legislative session to clarify the problems with this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 2098 to become law as Act 303 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

House Bill No. 1891 as Act 304, entitled: "RELATING TO EDUCATION."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1891 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 1891, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill doubles the amount of General Excise Tax (GET) revenues to be deposited into the State Educational Facilities Improvement (SEFI) special fund from $45 million to $90 million.

House Bill No. 1891 HD2 SD2 CD1 is problematic because the automatic, mandatory diversion of GET revenues limits the State's ability to fund priorities, thereby negatively impacting the State's general fund financial plan. In essence, this measure guarantees the diversion of up to $90 million dollars of general revenues into the SEFI if no general obligation bonds are authorized. A financially sound approach to manage the State's funds would include providing funding for public school capital improvement requirements on the basis of need, funding ability, and the consideration of statewide priorities. House Bill No. 1891 does not take these criteria into consideration.

The State Educational Facilities Improvement special fund was created to set aside State funds for school construction and repairs. Currently, the SEFI is funded from general obligation bond sales. Consequently, in essence, projects funded by the SEFI are funded by general obligation bonds. Thus, the SEFI may no longer be needed.

One of the priorities of my Administration is to foster a proper learning environment that I believe is critical to the education of Hawaii's students. For fiscal year 2005-2006, I released $200 million to assist the Department of Education with repair and maintenance and other capital improvement program projects for Hawaii schools. In addition, on June 26, 2006, I signed Act 246, the Fix Hawaii Schools Act, which appropriates $235 million to repair schools statewide. There is also $170 million in capital improvement project funds in the supplemental budget for 2007 (Act 160) and $5 million for solar panels in schools in Act 96, Session Laws of Hawaii 2006. These amounts total $610 million devoted to school construction.

My support for public school facilities is clear. However, the Department of Education should fund its capital improvement program needs directly with general obligation bond fund sales as do other State departments.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1891 to become law as Act 304 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

“Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill 3142 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 3142, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Trauma Care’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill establishes the Trauma System Special Fund to support the development of a statewide trauma system. The measure sets forth categories for reimbursement and requirements for the use of monies from the Trauma System Special Fund. This measure includes potential sources of funding, but does not appropriate funds or specify a source of funding for deposit into the special fund.

It is troubling that this Special Fund would be exempt from the State Procurement Code (Chapter 103d, HRS) and the Purchase of Health and Human Services law (Chapter 103F, HRS). These exemptions, in effect, mean that procurement and purchase actions will not be subject to the transparency, accountability, and audit requirements that taxpayer-financed expenditures deserve. Further, the Special Fund would not pay its fair share of administrative costs as other funds must do.

Additionally, the Trauma System Special Fund does not meet the requirements of Section 37-52.3, HRS, which mandates the Legislature shall ensure that a special fund: ‘(1) Serves the purpose for which it was originally established; 2) Reflects a clear nexus between the benefits sought and charges made upon the users or beneficiaries of the program; (3) Provides an appropriate means of financing for the program or activity; and (4) Demonstrates the capacity to be financially self-sustaining.’ While it is important that the State of Hawai’i maintain trauma care services, there is no clear nexus between tobacco taxes and trauma care use. Further, depending on costs to develop a ‘comprehensive state trauma system,’ the ability for the fund to be self-sustaining is questionable.

“Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: HB1923 HD1 SD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 1923, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Tourism Authority’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill extends the sunset provision of Act 58 SLH 2004 relating to the Hawaii Tourism Authority (HTA) which allows HTA to appoint or retain attorneys independent of the Attorney General, exempts the Authority from audit and accounting provisions under the Department of Accounting and General Services, and allows the board of directors of the Authority to appoint a sports coordinator exempt from civil service, and pension and retirement laws until June 30, 2010.

This bill is objectionable because it allows the Hawaii Tourism Authority to operate outside the safeguards of State law, continues to micromanage the personnel decisions of the Authority, and creates potential legal difficulties for the State. The exemption from the accounting and auditing provisions of Chapter 40 allows the HTA to spend moneys without regard to transparency, controls, and accountability for funds managed by the State Comptroller.

Additionally, the authorization to hire attorneys independent of the Attorney General potentially creates legal difficulties for the State. As I stated in 2004, retention of special counsel by the HTA can result in inconsistent legal advice when adequate counsel already exists in the Attorney General’s office.

Second, the bill continues in statute a provision that contradicts section 26-39 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes that provides for the establishment of positions deemed necessary to carry out the functions of agencies and departments. This bill instructs the Hawaii Tourism Authority to continue an exempt sports coordinator position without regard to personnel laws.

In 2004, the Legislature passed House Bill 2608, which I returned to the Legislature, indicating I believed the bill should not become law. The concerns I raised at that time are still applicable to this bill.

Therefore, for the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1923 to become law as Act 306 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 3066, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Interest and Usury' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill permits certain credit card service fees from being included in the calculation of the maximum interest rate credit card issuers can charge for firms that issue such cards and are domiciled in the State of Hawaii.

While I understand the concern of local credit card firms who want to remain competitive, I remain concerned that Hawaii's current law already permits an 18% per annum annual interest charge on credit card balances. This interest rate is significantly higher than interest charged on most other financial transactions such as non-secured loans, collateralized loans, and borrowings from a bank or lending institution. This interest rate is also considerably higher than inflation and other cost drivers, both locally and nationally.

I recognize that firms who issue credit cards need to make an adequate return on their money. However, it has not been demonstrated that they are not making such a return based on the current method of calculating the 18% interest rate.

House Bill No. 3016 as Act 308, entitled: "RELATING TO UNSERVED ARREST WARRANTS."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 3016 HD1 SD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 3016, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Unserved Arrest Warrants' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The backlog of arrest warrants is a problem that has gained attention from various sectors of the community and engendered a number of proposed solutions. The stated intent of this bill is to require due diligence in serving all traffic warrants issued against a defendant and to require the Hawaii Paroling Authority to report to the appropriate court and arresting authorities whether a parolee has any outstanding traffic warrants. However, the substance of the bill is questionable.

First, the bill adds a section to chapter 353, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to require the Hawaii Paroling Authority to inform the appropriate courts and arresting authorities of all outstanding traffic warrants issued against those whose parole has been suspended or revoked. The purpose of this is to allow such warrants to be 'served on the parolee in a timely manner.' This merely codifies existing practice of the Hawaii Paroling Authority. Thus, adding this section to the law will not result in any improvement of current procedures.

Second, the bill adds a section to chapter 604, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to require that 'in any criminal proceeding, due diligence shall be used in serving any outstanding traffic warrants on the defendant.' It is arguable whether this addition to the statutes is substantive inasmuch as the Hawaii Rules of Penal Procedure Rule 9(c)(3)(i) already requires that a 'warrant shall be executed without unnecessary delay by the arrest of the defendant.'

Finally, this bill instructs the Judicial Council to set up a committee to 'conduct a comprehensive review of the backlog of arrest warrants waiting to be served upon persons incarcerated in the State's correctional facilities and the entire backlog of unserved arrest warrants and recommend to the Legislature action necessary so that these warrants will be served without further delay.' While a comprehensive review of the warrant backlog is warranted, the bill's review is duplicative of Senate Concurrent Resolution 91 SD1 which convenes a task force to 'conduct a comprehensive review of the entire backlog of unserved arrest warrants and recommend to the Legislature action necessary to permanently alleviate the backlog.' Both the bill and the resolution establish review panels largely comprised of representatives from the same agencies and both require reports to be submitted to the Legislature twenty days prior to the convening of the regular session of 2007.

I support a comprehensive review of the backlogged warrants problem and subsequent meaningful action to eliminate the backlog. However, this bill is duplicative of actions already underway to address this issue.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 3016 to become law as Act 308 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 2274 as Act 309, entitled: "RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 2274 SD1 HD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill 2274, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Employees' Retirement System' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill would allow the directors of the offices of council services within the counties of Maui and Honolulu to participate as Class A members within the State Employees' Retirement System if they were employed prior to July 1, 2006.

The intent of this bill is to place the directors of the councils of these two counties on a par with the county clerks of Hawaii and Kauai who perform similar functions. While this objective is understandable, we must point out that Class A membership in the Employees' Retirement System has traditionally been reserved for high-level officials such as judges and elected leaders. Additionally, Class A membership is extended to those with jobs that subject them to possible bodily harm, such as narcotics investigators and public safety officers. The rationale is that these positions have a level of tenuousness and difficulty not found in other public positions.

My Administration remains concerned about the precedent this bill establishes in allowing legislatively favored personnel to become Class A contributory plan retirement system members while other senior personnel in the executive agencies are not allowed to receive this higher retirement benefit.

Further, it should be noted that the directors of the council have the option to join the hybrid retirement plan which allows them to accrue higher retirement benefits if they are willing to pay a portion of their earnings into the plan. [sic]

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 2274 to be come [sic] law as Act 309 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 3180 SD1 HD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 3180, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Counties' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill provides that each county shall adopt ordinances that allow the exercise of indigenous Hawaiian architectural practices, styles, techniques, and materials historically employed by Native Hawaiians. The bill recognizes that the applicability of this ordinance may not be appropriate in historical districts and explicitly exempts these districts.

However, the bill presents concerns outside of those associated with historical district structures. Most notably, this bill represents a legislative intrusion into the responsibilities of the counties and mandates that counties must adopt ordinances as prescribed in the bill. This type of legislation goes against the spirit and intent of home rule and provides legislative direction in an arena that has long been recognized as within the scope of county authority—namely building code requirements.

Further, this bill leaves unanswered questions as to how the use of indigenous building approaches will be addressed within the safety and structural requirements building codes must address. Additionally, the issue of how these structures will conform to energy conservation standards and disaster preparedness requirements is left unanswered.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 3180 to be come [sic] law as Act 310 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

House Bill No. 3105 as Act 311, entitled: "RELATING TO PSYCHOTROPIC MEDICATION."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 3105 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 3105, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Psychotropic Medication' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill is intended to provide equal access to psychotropic medication for Medicaid patients, regardless of whether the patient is covered by a fee-for-service plan or a QUEST managed-care plan.

While this portion of the bill is laudable, the measure goes too far in allowing a physician to prescribe a psychotropic medication without the required consultation with a psychiatrist. The field of psychotropic medicine is specialized and requires knowledge of the interaction of various drugs with each other as well, as with other medications a patient may be taking.

The current statute allowed for the consultation to take place by telephone, electronically, or via a face-to-face discussion and did not appear to place an undue burden on the attending physician. Further, the law now allows for the concurrent psychiatrist's opinion to be documented in the recipient's medical records, thereby allowing future medical service providers to understand the rationale used in issuing the prescription. Failure to document these decisions could cause harm to the patient in later years and does not appear to be medically prudent.

Finally, the bill eliminates the requirement that only those agents approved by the United State Food and Drug Administration for the treatment of mental and emotional disorders may be prescribed. This deletion in the governing statute raises concerns as to what medications can be prescribed and what safety considerations will be applicable to these medications.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 3105 to become law as Act 311 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 2193 as Act 312, entitled: "RELATING TO PLANNED COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 2193 SD1 HD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 2193, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Planned Community Associations' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill addresses issues of access to board meetings and association documents of planned community associations.

While the bill contains some provisions that would give homeowners in planned communities greater access to information about the management of their association, the bill also contains some provisions that might work to exclude homeowner participation in the affairs of their community.

Most notably, the bill deletes from current law the requirement that board meeting minutes include the recorded votes of board members. Deleting this provision could be construed to remove the accountability for actions of the board members. It may also make it more difficult to identify potential conflicts of interest when a board member should have abstained from voting.

Second, the bill allows for the examination of board meeting minutes but deletes language that allows for the review of the association's meeting minutes. Since association business is conducted at both types of meetings, it is unclear why the legislation allows homeowners to review one set of documents but not the other set of documents.

Third, the bill allows the Planned Community Association Board to set up committees and subcommittees at various times and places and requires that the members of the committees and subcommittees be identified by name. This seems reasonable. However, the bill also allows the Board to eliminate committees and subcommittees without regard to the fact that some committees are established as a result of requirements placed on the development by the counties as a condition of approval.

Finally, some members of planned communities have expressed concern that this bill could be interpreted to allow homeowner input on matters on a board agenda, but would preclude homeowners from commenting on important matters not on a board agenda. They believe this could lead to some boards deliberately not putting sensitive topics up for discussion.

The bill contains provisions indicating planned community meetings should be open, ensures that minutes are available to the members, and requires detailed financial information to be made available for inspection.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 2193 to be come [sic] law as Act 312 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Gov. Msg. No. 871, informing the Senate that on July 11, 2006, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution, which reads as follows:

House Bill No. 386 as Act 313, entitled: "RELATING TO COURTS."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 386 HD1 SD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 386, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Courts' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The purpose of this bill is to repeal jury service exemptions for an attorney at law, a head of an executive department, an elected official (except while the Legislature is in session), a minister or priest, a dentist, and an active duty member of the armed forces or militia. This bill continues the exemptions for a judge, an active practicing physician, an active member of a police or fire department, and a person who has served as a juror within one year preceding the time of filling out the juror qualification form. The bill adds jury service exemptions for active members of an emergency medical services agency, persons who live more than seventy miles from the court for which jury service is required, and persons who are eighty years of age or older.

Although the addition of the exemption category of active members of an emergency medical services agency is positive, other portions of this bill will cause difficulties for the Judicial Branch of government. The bill amends the exemption for elected officials such that the exemption is available only while the Legislature is in session. This amendment does not consider that elected officials at the federal or county levels are not necessarily affected in their duties by the timing of the State legislative sessions. Thus, the narrowing of the exemption may negatively impact federal or county elected officials if they are summoned to jury duty during times when their political bodies are in session, but the Legislature is not.

The bill amends the current exemption for active duty members of the armed forces or militia such that the exemption is available only when those individuals are deployed out of the State. The amendment does not consider the case of reservists who have been assigned to their annual two weeks of active duty. The active duty member and his or her unit could be adversely affected if the member is unable to receive training with the member's entire unit.

The addition of the category of persons living more than seventy miles from the court for which jury service is required will have a negative impact in the Third Judicial Circuit (the Island of Hawaii), as well as the Second Judicial Circuit, which includes Maui, Molokai, and Lanai, wherein jurors frequently reside more than seventy miles from the courthouse.

The deletion of the category of attorney at law could cause a 'ripple effect' on the court system by necessitating the rescheduling of motions, hearings, trials, and other court appearances if an attorney is summoned for jury duty. Negative effects on attorneys, especially sole practitioner attorneys, and their clients are anticipated.

Finally, this bill adds a person over eighty years of age to the list of people who are excused from jury duty. As pointed out by the Judiciary, chronological age should not be used as a factor in determining if a person has the physical and mental capacity to serve as a juror.

Persons who fall within a particular exemption eligible category may claim an exemption from service as a juror, but it is not guaranteed that the court will grant the exemption. Any individual can seek to be excused from jury duty, even if the individual is not within an exemption.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 386 to become law as Act 313 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Senate Bill No. 2575 as Act 314, entitled: "MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR A BASELINE ENVIRONMENTAL STUDY OF THE WAIANAEO COAST OCEAN AREA."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 2575 SD2 HD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 2575, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Making an Appropriation for a Baseline Environmental Study of the Waianae Coast Ocean Area,' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

An increase in the diversity of activities in the Waianae Coast ocean area has raised concerns over the effects such activity can have on resources, public safety, user relations, and traditional livelihoods. The purpose of this bill is to provide funding for a baseline environmental study of the Waianae Coast ocean area, which will be used to draft proposed rules for an Ocean Recreation Management Area (ORMA) designation for the Waianae Coast, as mandated by Act 6, Special Session Laws of Hawaii 2005.

I am supportive of establishing an Ocean Recreation Management Area for the Waianae Coast with pertinent administrative rules to protect resources and regulate permitted commercial activities. However, this bill leaves some issues insufficiently resolved.

First, this law could potentially set a precedent that the Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) must conduct a baseline environmental study before adopting rules to create and regulate an ORMA. The DLNR has demonstrated that it is capable of adequately making such rules and has, in this particular instance, met extensively with interested parties to resolve conflicts concerning the proposed ORMA rules in a manner that complies with the federal Marine Mammal Protection Act.

Second, this bill does not provide the public with reasonable means to express their comments and concerns. Although the baseline study proposed in this bill is not an environmental impact statement (EIS), it is modeled in much the same way. An important component of an EIS is a required public review and comment period. A comment period is not required in this study.

Furthermore, estimates from multiple parties place the cost of this study anywhere from $250,000 to $1,000,000, while this measure only appropriates $120,000. A shortage of funds could force the DLNR to divert staff resources and expertise from existing projects in order to complete the study.

It is imperative that a Waianae ORMA be established and that all parties work with due diligence to properly manage this area.

Therefore, I allowed Senate Bill No. 2575 to become law as Act 314 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Sincerely,

Senate Bill No. 2708 as Act 315, entitled: "RELATING TO SCHOOL FACILITIES."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 2708 SD2 HD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 2708, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to School Facilities' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill extends through July 30, 2007 an impact fee Working Group that will assess the impacts of new housing developments on the Department of Education and examine the current method of imposing and collecting impact fees. The Working Group was supposed to issue a report to the 2006 Legislature but will now report to the 2007 Legislature.

Impact fees are a method by which State and county departments assess developers a monetary fee, or land donation, to minimize the effects the development will have on the various public services, such as transportation, roads, public schools, and sewage/water systems.

While I continue to recognize the importance of this issue and the need to have a consistent, statewide process in place, this bill raises a number of concerns similar to Act 246 of 2005. First, the measure only addresses impact fees imposed by, or collected for, the benefit of the Department of Education. There are other State and County functions that are affected by a new development, such as roadways and sanitation systems. This measure only takes into account the effect of a development on the public school system. My Administration supports developing an impact fee assessment process that addresses the full array of potential impacts on public services.

Second, this measure continues a Working Group that does not allow input and membership from other State or county departments that may be directly affected by the outcomes of the Working Group, such as the Department of Transportation, the Hawaii Public Housing Authority, the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation, the Department of Health, the county housing and planning/permitting departments, and the Office of the Governor.

There remains an issue of the appropriateness of placing this Working Group in the Office of the Auditor. The Legislative Auditor has not had experience in dealing with developer impact fees and fair-share contributions. Apparently she has had to contract out this work. Furthermore, the Auditor did not explain how the initial $150,000 was spent by the Working Group and why an additional $25,000 is necessary for this effort.

The minimum criteria for the needs assessment are outlined in the measure. However, there are vital elements missing from this needs assessment evaluation. A needs assessment should provide a clear, rationale nexus between the development and the impact fee assessed; a fair share proportion to be assessed on the developer, not a disproportionate assessment; predictability in the amount of the fee or land requested; a dedication of the funds/land assessed to be used directly in the community where the development is located; and an agreement that if the funds are not used within a reasonable amount of time, the monies should be refunded to the developer. None of these items are included in the needs assessment described in the original bill not addressed in this measure.

I support the exploration of a comprehensive statewide evaluation to examine impact fees in a transparent, fair, and equitable manner. This work is being carried out by my Administration and does not require statutory authority. Regrettably, this bill is not comprehensive enough in either the membership of the Working Group or the tasks assigned to produce a meaningful product.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 2708 to become law as Act 315 effective July 11, 2006 [sic] without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 2961 as Act 316, entitled: "RELATING TO HEALTH."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 2961 SD1 HD1 CD1

On July 11, 2006, Senate Bill No. 2961, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Health' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill raises the tax on cigarettes and uses the monies derived from the tax increase to fund programs that promote health. This measure creates the Hawaii Cancer Research Special Fund and the Community Health Center Special Fund and exempts these funds, as well as the Emergency Medical Services Special Fund, from transfers for central service and administrative expenses.

This bill reflects an effort to deter smoking by incrementally increasing the Hawaii cigarette tax from the current rate of $1.40 per pack to $2.60 per pack over a period of five years. Unfortunately, Senate Bill No. 2961 contains several drafting errors.

In the sections which distribute the cigarette tax increase into the various special funds, Senate Bill No. 2961 omits some key language. This bill only appropriates between 0.25 cents and 2.0 cents into each of the designated special funds between September 30, 2006 and September 30, 2011. Other sections of the measure convey the intent of the Legislature was to deposit the amounts on a per cigarette basis but the bill was not drafted to state this clearly and unambiguously.

Second, the bill deleted language authorizing the Director of Finance to assess and collect central administrative fees on all special funds. According to conversations we have had with the Legislative Reference Bureau, they recognize this flaw in the bill and will correct it in their annual statute correction legislation next session.

Third, the newly established special funds do not meet the requirements of Section 37-52.3, HRS, which mandates that a special fund reflect 'a clear nexus between the benefits sought and charges made upon the users or beneficiaries of the program, as opposed to serve primarily as a means to provide the program or users with an automatic means of support that is removed from the normal budget.' There is no clear nexus between tobacco taxes and trauma care use and, thus, this portion of the bill does not meet the requisite statutory test.

I anticipate the Legislature will return next session prepared to introduce and pass a housekeeping measure to correct the mistakes evident in this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 2961 to become law as Act 316 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

House Bill No. 2555 as Act 317, entitled: "RELATING TO THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 2555 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 2555, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Community Development Authority' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill prohibits the sale or transfer of fee simple interest in State-owned land in the Kaka'ako community development district. The bill also prohibits approval of plans or proposals for any residential development makai of Ala Moana Boulevard between Kewalo basin and the foreign trade zone. These restrictions are broad in their impact on the planning process for the Kaka'ako area.

First, the prohibition on the sale or transfer of State-owned land causes difficulty for the Hawaii Community Development Authority (HCDA) to achieve its directives as originally set forth by the Legislature. Land exchanges, realignments, and sale of remnant parcels further the goals of the various District plans. HCDA will be prevented from executing buybacks of reserved housing units and reselling to qualified buyers. These transactions are used to prevent excessive profits in the sale and purchase of affordable housing units. Additionally, land exchanges would be prohibited under this bill.

This restriction in this bill applies to the entire Kaka'ako community development district, not just the Makai area, and may interfere with planning in other sectors of the District. It is not good policy to restrict sale or transfer of lands with such a broad stroke.

Second, the ban on residential development in the Makai area is restrictive and could be considered a taking of private property rights. This restriction applies to all landowners in the Makai area, not just the HCDA. Kamehameha Schools had planned to propose a development of workforce housing including up to 200 residential lofts in a life sciences research complex on its land in the Makai area. It is unclear what legal recourse Kamehameha Schools may want to pursue given the imposition of the restriction on their private property.

Further, the prohibitions of this bill are inconsistent with several provisions in HCDA's enabling legislation (Chapter 206E, Hawaii Revised Statutes) that mandate a mixed-use of industrial, commercial, residential and public uses within the entire Kaka'ako District.

At its meeting on June 7, 2006, the HCDA Board terminated an outstanding request for proposal (RFP), effectively stopping all development in the Kaka'ako Makai area. It also agreed not to transfer, in fee, any State lands in the Makai area. In an effort to address the concern that the public did not have sufficient opportunity for input in the planning process, the HCDA Board also established a Makai Area Advisory Planning Committee consisting of members of the public. Its purpose is to provide input for a new waterfront development plan.

With the formation of the Advisory Committee and in light of the Board's termination of the RFP, I believe the prohibition of residential use in the Makai Area is premature. The Advisory Planning Committee should be given the flexibility to make a recommendation that might include residential development. It is unfortunate this bill will have a chilling or limiting effect on a process specifically designed for more public participation.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 2555 to become law as Act 317 without my signature.

Sincerely,

House Bill No. 2595 as Act 318, entitled: "RELATING TO FAMILY VISITS."

"Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 2595 HD1 SD2 CD1

On July 11, 2006, House Bill No. 2595, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Family Visits,' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The purpose of House Bill No. 2595 is to ensure family members can visit inmates at a correctional facility during official visiting hours.

This bill raises concerns because it is vague as to whether the Department of Public Safety may cancel visits by family members when emergency situations would so merit. The bill was passed as a result of isolated incidents of family visits being cancelled due to staffing shortages.

Recognizing the need to be more accommodating of special visits by family members, the Department of Public Safety has implemented changes to its visitation policies. The Department's policy now addresses the concerns giving rise to this bill. At the same time, it also reserves in the Department the needed flexibility to cancel visitations when security concerns merit.

I believe these visitation policy rules, coupled with the provisions of this bill, address the concerns family members of incarcerated persons may have had.

For the foregoing reasons, I have allowed House Bill No. 2595 to become law as Act 318 effective July 11, 2006 without my signature.

Rule 40. Order of Business: Special

The Senate, by previous motion, may direct that any matter named shall be made a special order of business and that such special order shall take precedence of all business after the fourth order, or that it shall take any other position lower down on the calendar.

Rule 41. Order of Business: Committee Reports and Gubernatorial Messages

Reports from Conference or Joint Committees, and from Leadership Committee on Legislative Management, shall be in order at all times after the second order of business, and, upon motion, messages from the Governor or from the House of Representatives may be received at any time. Without unanimous consent, however, such messages or reports shall not be in order for discussion when received, but shall be placed on the calendar as unfinished business.

Rule 42. Order of Business: Order of the Day

After the first seven orders of business set forth in Rule 38, it shall be in order, pending consideration thereof, to move that the Senate proceed to dispose of the unfinished business or to the Order of the Day. If such motion be decided in the affirmative, such consideration shall immediately be taken up.

Rule 43. Order of Business: Unfinished Business

The unfinished business in which the Senate was engaged at the time of the last adjournment shall have the preference in the Order of the Day. Until the former is disposed of, no motion for any other business shall be received without special leave of the Senate.

Rule 44. Order of Business: Questions on Priority

All questions relating to the priority of business to be acted upon shall be decided without debate.

PART V. BILLSRule 45. Bills: Introduction

Any bill may be introduced on the report of the committee or by any member, except appropriation bills subject to the next paragraph, and except short form bills which may only be introduced by the majority leaders or the minority leader after appropriate consultation with committee chairs and other members of the Senate.

The Executive Budget, Judiciary Budget, Legislative Budget, General Appropriations Bill, Supplemental Appropriations Bill, Office of Hawaiian Affairs Budget, and bills for criminal injuries compensation, for claims against the State and for funding of collective bargaining agreements may be introduced only by the President. Each member may introduce only one bill appropriating money for capital improvements projects in the member's district. The majority leaders and the minority leader shall develop a policy governing introduction by individual members of bills intended to appropriate money or to authorize the issuance of state bonds.

Bills, which shall carry over from a regular session in an odd-numbered year to the next regular session, shall retain the numbers assigned to them. The Clerk shall keep a record of the status of all bills in possession of the Senate at the end of the odd-numbered year session and shall publish the record of the status of all such bills prior to the convening of the next regular session.

Every bill introduced or reported out of any committee, which amends an existing section or subsection of the Hawaii Revised Statutes or Session Laws of Hawaii, shall set forth the section or subsection in full, and the matter to be deleted shall be enclosed in brackets and stricken and any new matter added to the section or subsection shall be underscored. However, a Supplemental Appropriations Bill need not conform to this rule, nor an amending bill where the intent and effect of the amending bill can be clearly identified and understood without repeating the entire section or subsection, in which case only the paragraphs, subparagraphs, clauses or items to be amended need be set forth as the President may allow. The President may allow additional exceptions to this rule.

Rule 46. Bills: Referral to Committee

(1) Upon introduction, all bills shall be numbered by the Clerk in numerical sequence, shall bear an identification as a Senate Bill, and shall pass first reading.

(2) The majority staff office shall make recommendations to the majority leadership on the referral of each such bill to appropriate Leadership or Standing Committees.

(3) Each such bill shall be referred by members of the majority leadership appointed by the President, to one or more appropriate Leadership or Standing Committees for consideration.

(4) Any referral may be reconsidered by the President upon written request of any chair who is aggrieved by the referral made within forty-eight hours of the referral. The President shall decide the request for reconsideration within a reasonable time, which decision shall be final. No request for reconsideration shall be considered if the timing of the request would have the effect of killing a bill or resolution.

(5) Each Leadership and Standing Committee shall consider the bills and other matters referred to it as expeditiously as may be possible.

Rule 47. Bills: Required Readings

No bill shall pass the Senate unless it shall have passed three readings in the Senate on separate days. The President shall give notice in each instance whether it be the first, second or third reading.

Rule 48. Bills: First Reading

(1) The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If opposition be made to it, the question shall be: "Shall this bill be rejected?" which question may be debated. But no one shall speak more than once upon such question, except the introducer of the bill, who may close the debate.

(2) If the question to reject be negative, the bill shall go to its second reading without question.

Rule 49. Bills: Second Reading

A bill upon its second reading may be read by its title only. It then shall be subject to a motion to commit. If it is not referred to a Leadership Committee, Standing Committee, or Special Committee, but is ordered to be considered in Committee of the Whole, a day for such consideration shall be determined by the chair of such committee. When the bill is reported from committee it shall take its place in the order of business for future consideration.

Rule 50. Bills: Third Reading

(1) No bill shall pass third or final reading in the Senate unless printed copies of the bill in the form to be passed have been made available to the members of the Senate for at least 48 hours. Form to be passed means the form in which a bill is to be (a) passed on third reading in the Senate, (b) concurred to by the Senate after amendments have been made by the House, or (c) passed by the Senate after a Conference Committee has agreed upon it.

(2) A bill on its third or final reading may be read by its title only, and the President then shall ask the Senate: "Shall this bill pass its third reading?" or "Shall this bill pass its final reading?" as the case may be. Upon the final passage of any bill, the Ayes and Noes shall be called. Such passage shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of the Senate and the Ayes and Noes shall be entered on the Journal.

(3) All bills, except on first reading, shall be printed by title on the Order of the Day before consideration by the members unless waived by the President.

Rule 51. Bills: Property of Senate

All bills introduced in the Senate shall be deemed the property of the Senate and under its control unless they shall become law, subject however to the right of the House of Representatives to amend or to refuse to agree with the bills.

Any bill pending at the final adjournment of a regular session in an odd-numbered year shall carry over with the same status to the next regular session; provided that if such bill shall have passed third reading in the Senate in an odd-numbered session, it shall pass at least one reading in the Senate in the next regular session upon its return to the Senate from the House.

Rule 52. Bills: Recall from Committee

Twenty days after a bill has been referred to a committee, the same may be recalled from such committee by the affirmative vote of one-third of the members of the Senate.

Rule 53. Matters Tabled

When a bill or resolution or other matter has been laid upon the table, it shall not thereafter be taken from the table and be considered or restored to a place upon the calendar of the Senate without the consent of a majority.

Rule 54. Bills: Amendments

(1) All amendments proposed to any bill shall be in writing, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, and shall be sent to the Clerk's desk to be filed with the bill.

(2) No floor amendment to a bill shall be voted upon unless a copy of the amendment, together with a copy of the complete bill in a form that incorporates the floor amendment, shall have been presented to the Clerk no later than 2 hours prior to the scheduled convening time of the session on the day of the session at which the amendment is to be offered. The Clerk shall prepare and distribute copies of the floor amendment to each member of the Senate present.

(3) A floor amendment shall be deemed pending only after its proponent has been recognized by the President and its adoption has been properly moved and seconded.

(4) A floor amendment that relates to a different subject, is intended to accomplish a different purpose, incorporates any other bill pending before the Senate, or would alter the nature of the bill as reported, is not germane and shall not be considered by the Senate.

(5) An amendment to a floor amendment that is not germane to both the floor amendment and the bill as reported shall not be considered by the Senate.

Rule 55. Bills: Certification

When a bill is passed it shall be certified by the Clerk who shall note the day of its passage in the journal along with a record of the ayes and noes.

Rule 56. Bills: Received from House of Representatives

Whenever a House bill which has passed Third Reading in the House of Representatives shall be certified to the Senate for its action, such bill shall be read three times before final passage, in accordance with the provision of the rules for the passage of bills introduced in the Senate.

Rule 57. Bills: Transmittal to House of Representatives

When a bill originating in the Senate shall have passed its third reading, or when a bill originating in the House which has been received from the House shall have been amended, or when a carry-over bill from an odd-numbered year originating in the House passes its third reading in the Senate in an even-numbered year session, such bill or such amended bill shall immediately be certified by the President and Clerk and sent to the House of Representatives for its consideration.

Rule 58. Bills: Correction of Errors

When a bill has passed both the Senate and the House of Representatives and an error in it is discovered prior to its having received the approval of the Governor, the bill may be returned by Concurrent Resolution to the house last considering the bill for proper correction.

Rule 59. Bills: Order of Consideration

(1) The Clerk shall send bills that have passed first reading to be printed immediately. When they have been printed and circulated to the members of the Senate, the Majority Leadership, appointed by the President, shall refer them to the various committees. When the committees have considered them and reported on them, the committees shall return them to the Clerk, and the Clerk shall place them in the Second Reading File. The Senate shall consider them in the order in which they appear in the Second Reading File.

(2) The Clerk shall arrange bills that have passed second reading in the order of their passage on second reading, regardless of the date of their reference to committee or the date of the committee report on them. The Clerk shall place them on the Third Reading File in the order in which they passed second reading and the Senate shall consider them on third reading in that same order. However, if the third reading of a bill is set for some particular date, that bill shall be removed from the Third Reading File.

Rule 60. Bills: Special Order of Consideration

All bills and other matters set for consideration on particular dates, shall be arranged in the order of the several votes making such assignments. A list shall be made of such special orders, and when the time for consideration arrives, such bills and other matters shall be considered in the order of assignment. If an adjournment shall be had before all of such special orders are disposed of, the remainder shall go over and come under the head of unfinished business on the following day, unless otherwise ordered.

PART VI. RESOLUTIONS; MOTIONSRule 61. Resolutions and Motions: Form

All resolutions shall be typewritten, dated and signed by the introducer, otherwise they shall not be considered. The Senate shall not introduce any congratulatory, commemorative or memorial resolution but shall express the sentiment contained in such resolutions by means of a suitable certificate. Motions and amendments may be verbal but shall be reduced to writing if requested by the President, and shall be read from the desk if so ordered.

Rule 62. Motions: Disposition

After a motion is stated or read by the President, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Senate, and shall be disposed of by vote of the Senate; however, it may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before an amendment has been adopted or before the decision on the motion if not amended.

Rule 63. Motions Applicable to Pending Matters

Whenever any bill or resolution or other matter shall be under discussion, the only motions relative thereto shall be:

- (1) To lay upon the table,
- (2) To postpone to a certain time,
- (3) To postpone indefinitely,
- (4) To commit or recommit, and
- (5) To amend, which motions shall have precedence in the order named.

The first two motions shall be decided without debate and shall be put as soon as made.

When any of the motions shall be decided in the negative, they shall not be revived the same day relative to the main question under discussion. If all are negative as aforesaid, the only remaining question shall be as to the adoption of the bill, resolution or other main question.

Rule 64. Matters Postponed Indefinitely

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the question shall not be acted upon again during the session in which it was introduced.

Rule 65. Motion for Previous Question

The object of the motion for the previous question is to cut off debate. It shall always be in order. It shall require a three-fifths vote to carry it.

Whenever the motion shall be carried, the author of the resolution or introducer of the bill under discussion shall be permitted to close the debate, after which the main question, subject to Rule 63, shall be put. The author or introducer may delegate to another such right to close.

Rule 66. Motion for Reconsideration

(1) When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall not be in order for any member who voted on the side that did not prevail to move for a reconsideration thereof; but any member who voted on the prevailing side may move to reconsider it on the same or the succeeding day of session, or, with the consent of the Senate, on any subsequent day and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(2) When a motion for reconsideration has been decided by vote, that vote shall not be reconsidered.

(3) When a bill or resolution or other matter upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate, and shall have been transmitted to the House of Representatives, a motion to reconsider shall be deemed to include a request to the House to return the same. If not complied with by the House, then the vote on the motion to reconsider shall be set aside. If such motion shall pass, the Clerk shall promptly communicate to the House the request for return of the matter to be reconsidered.

PART VII. PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONSRule 67. Petitions, Memorials, and Miscellaneous Communications

(1) Any person may petition the Senate. Petitions and other memorials, except as provided in Rule 61, shall be in writing, signed by the petitioners.

(2) All petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the Senate or to the President and members shall be presented to the Senate by the Clerk.

(3) A brief statement of the contents of such petitions, memorials or other papers shall be made orally by the Clerk.

(4) Every such petition, memorial or other paper shall be ordered filed or referred to a committee, as of course, by the President, unless such action is objected to by a member at the time such petition, memorial or other paper is presented.

(5) No such petition, memorial or other paper shall be debated on the day it is presented, except with the consent of the Senate.

PART VIII. ORDER; DEBATE; VOTINGRule 68. Questions of Order

(1) A question of order may be raised at any stage of the proceedings, except during the calling of the roll when the Ayes and Noes are called for. Unless submitted to the Senate, such questions shall be decided without debate by the presiding officer, subject to an appeal to the Senate. Laying such appeal on the table shall be held as sustaining the ruling of the presiding officer.

(2) Any question of order may be submitted to the Senate for its decision.

Rule 69. Debate: General Limitation

No member shall speak more than twice, unless such member be the mover of the matter pending, in which case such member shall not be permitted to speak in reply until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

Rule 70. Voting: Methods

There shall be five methods of ascertaining the decision of the Senate upon any matter.

(1) First, by voice; Second, by raising of hands; Third, by rising; Fourth, by call of the roll of the members and a record of the Clerk of the vote of each; and Fifth, by unanimous consent.

(2) Whenever the Senate is ready to vote on any question, the President shall rise, and after stating the question, shall request all those in favor of the affirmative of the question to vote "Aye." The President then shall call upon all voting in the negative of the question to vote "No." The President then shall announce the result to the Senate.

(3) If any member shall doubt the result, as announced, the President again shall state the question and call upon the members to vote either by rising in their places, and they shall remain standing until counted, or by raising their hands and the result again shall be announced.

(4) The President shall, when one-fifth of the members present so request, and may, when one member so requests, allow a roll-call vote. Clerk shall call the roll of the members of the Senate. Each member, when called, shall vote in a clear loud voice, "Aye," if voting in the affirmative, or "No," if voting in the negative. The Clerk shall record each vote and such record shall become a part of the Journal of the Senate. The President shall announce the results as above set forth.

(5) With the unanimous consent of the Senate, the President may direct the Clerk to record an "Aye" vote for each member of the Senate. If there is no objection, the Clerk shall so record the vote. If there is objection, the President shall ask for the names of the members voting "No" and order the Clerk to record no votes for them.

Rule 71. Voting: Rights of Members

(1) No member, on any account, shall refrain from voting unless excused by the President. A member voting "with reservations" shall be counted as a favorable vote. A member may vote "Kanalua" the first time the member's name is called by the Clerk on any vote, but if the member votes "Kanalua" on the next call of the member's name, the member's vote shall be recorded as "Aye."

(2) The President may excuse a member who has a monetary interest in the question, or whose right to a seat in the Senate will be affected by the question, or whose official conduct is involved in the question. If a member thinks there may be a personal interest in the question, the member shall rise and disclose the interest to the President. The President then shall rule whether the member has a conflict of interest. If so, the member shall be excused from voting.

(3) Whenever the Ayes and Noes are called, no one, without unanimous consent, shall be permitted to explain a vote.

(4) After the announcement by the President of the result, no one shall be allowed to vote or to change a vote.

PART IX. DECORUM; DISCLOSURES; PEER REVIEW; PUNISHMENTRule 72. Misconduct; Procedure; Peer Review

No member of the Senate shall be subject to a charge for misconduct, disorderly behavior, or neglect of duty unless the person making the charge shall have first given notice of the charge to the President and to the member being charged.

Upon receipt of the charge, the President shall attempt to resolve the matter in an administrative proceeding. If the matter cannot be resolved administratively, the President may appoint a Special Committee to be chaired by the Vice-President or such other member as the President may designate to investigate, hear and report upon the conduct of the member charged for misconduct, disorderly behavior or neglect of duty. Any member so charged shall be informed in writing of the specific charge or charges made against the member and have opportunity to present evidence and be heard in the member's own defense before the Special Committee. Following its investigation and hearing, the Special Committee shall file its report with the President setting forth its findings and recommendations.

If the committee recommends dismissal of the charge or charges, the President may dismiss the charges without further hearing, or the President may present the report of the committee to the Senate for its consideration. The Senate, by a majority vote, may dismiss the charge or charges against the member without a hearing.

If there is no dismissal of the charge or charges, or if the committee recommends censure, suspension or expulsion, the President shall present the report of the committee to the Senate for its consideration and decision. The member who is charged, shall be informed in writing of the presentation of the charge or charges of the committee report to the Senate and be given an opportunity to be heard in the member's own defense. The Senate, by a majority vote, may dismiss the charge or charges without a hearing, or with notice and an opportunity to be heard in the member's own defense, censure a member or, upon a two-thirds vote of all the members of the Senate, suspend or expel a member.

At any stage of the charge against a member, the member shall have a right to be represented by a person or persons of the member's own choosing.

Rule 73. Decorum: Transgression of Rules

If any member transgresses the rules of the Senate, the President, or any member, may call such member to order, and, when so called to order, the member immediately shall sit down. The President then shall decide the question of order without debate, subject to an appeal to the Senate.

The President may call for the sense of the Senate on any question of order.

Rule 74. Decorum: Address

Rule 75. Decorum: Person Called to Order While Speaking

Rule 77. Decorum: Conduct in Session

When the President is putting any question or addressing the Senate, no one shall walk out of the room or across the floor. When a member is speaking, no one shall entertain a private discourse, nor shall anyone pass between the member speaking and the Chair.

No one shall cause any annoyance or disturbance on the Senate floor by use of sound-emitting electronic devices such as cell phones or pagers.

Rule 78. Decorum: Disorderly Conduct in Session

If, during any session of the Senate, any member should behave in a disorderly manner the President shall order the member to be seated and preserve the peace. If such member then shall persist in disorderly conduct, the President shall order the Sergeant-at-Arms to remove the member from the Senate and the member shall not be permitted to take a seat during the remainder of that day's session, except upon satisfactory pledge given to the Senate for future good behavior.

For the punishment of any person not a member, the provisions of Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution shall govern.

Rule 79. Decorum: Recording of Debate Called to Order

If any Senator is called to order for words spoken in debate, upon the member's demand or on that of any other Senator, the words objected to shall be taken down in writing and noted by the Clerk, and, if required, shall be read for the information of the Senate.

Rule 80. Decorum: Smoking

No member or other officer shall smoke within the Senate Chamber during any of the meetings of the Senate.

Rule 81. Decorum: Solicitation Prohibited

An officer or employee of the Senate shall not solicit subscriptions, for any purpose, from any other officer or employee thereof, nor from any Senator. Nor shall any person be permitted to solicit or receive subscriptions or contributions for any purpose on the floor or in the lobby of the Senate or in any Senate office.

Rule 82. Disclosures

Each member shall file with the Ethics Commission of the State of Hawaii, a disclosure of the member's private financial interests, as prescribed by law. Each member shall file with the Ethics Commission any change in such financial interests.

If a legislative matter which affects a member's interests arises before the member has made a disclosure to the Ethics Commission, the member shall disclose orally such interest to the Senate before voting. The member then shall immediately make the written disclosure required by law and the Rules of the Senate.

Any member who has filed a disclosure as required by this Rule need not make a further oral disclosure on the Senate floor of any interest so filed.

Rule 83. Violating Confidence

If any matter covered in Rule 35 or 36 shall be disclosed by any Senator, the Senator shall be liable to censure, or, by a two-thirds vote, to suspension or expulsion from the Senate. If an officer or other person authorized to hear such matter shall disclose the matter, such officer shall be dismissed and such other person shall be liable to punishment for contempt comparable to the punishment provided for by Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution and in the manner as therein prescribed.

PART X. QUESTIONS TO STATE OFFICERSRule 84. Questions to State Officers

Any member of the Senate may ask any question of any state officer relating to the officer's respective department by reducing such questions to writing, over the member's signature, reading the same before the Senate, and furnishing the officer with a copy of such written question. Any officer questioned shall reply to such question upon the following day, unless the Senate shall grant a definite extension of time for replying.

PART XI. AMENDMENT, SUSPENSION AND INTERPRETATION OF RULESRule 85. Amendments; Suspension; Violations

(1) No rule of the Senate shall be amended or rescinded nor shall any new rule be adopted, without one day's notice of such change. Any such action shall require a majority vote of the members of the Senate.

(3) Any violation of these Rules shall be referred to the President for appropriate action.

Rule 86. Parliamentary Procedure
