THE
TWENTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE
STATE OF HAWAII
REGULAR SESSION OF 2006
JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

FIRST DAY

Wednesday, January 18, 2006

In accordance with the provisions of Section 10 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the Senate of the Twenty-Third Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2006, was called to order at 10:07 o'clock a.m., by the Honorable Robert Bunda, President of the Senate.

At this time, the members of the Senate and guests rose to sing the National Anthem and "Hawaii Pono'i" led by Mr. Blaine Kamalani Kia.

The Divine Blessing was then invoked by the Reverend James Koyama, Lihue Christian Church.

The President then directed the Senate Clerk to call the Roll. The Clerk called the Roll showing all Senators present.

At 10:16 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:19 o'clock a.m.

The President then addressed the members of the Senate and guests as follows:

"Governor Lingle, Lt. Governor and Mrs. Aiona, Chief Justice Moon, Mayor Hannemann and Mrs. Hannemann, Mayor Kim, Mayor Arakawa, Congressman Abercrombie, Congressman and Mrs. Case, former Governor and Mrs. Ariyoshi, Mrs. Waihee and John Waihee IV, Superintendent Hamamoto, President McClain, Major General Mixon, Major General Rice, Colonel Killian, Colonel Shaffer, Dr. Nielson, esteemed colleagues, honored guests, ladies and gentlemen:

"Aloha and welcome to the 2006 Regular Session of the Hawaii State Legislature. I'd like to take just a moment to personally welcome back Governor Linda Lingle, who recently made a goodwill trip to my cultural homeland, the Philippines. She led a distinguished delegation that renewed and reinforced the ties between the people of Hawaii and the Philippines. Mabuhay, Governor Lingle.

"While in the Northern Province of Ilocos-Sur, the Governor unveiled a statue dedicated to the memory of the Sakadas, the first group of plantation workers to leave the Philippines for Hawaii in 1906. Thousands more would follow, including my grandparents who arrived in Hawaii in 1921.

"Today, I would like to acknowledge their son, my Uncle, Manuel Bunda. He was recently honored as a 'sakada' as part of the centennial anniversary celebration of Filipino immigration to Hawaii.

"Like other ethnic groups who came here looking for a better life, Filipino immigrants, like Manuel Bunda, brought with them not only their culture, but a certain attitude toward work and opportunity, a strong belief in their own capabilities and an underlying trust in their fellow man.

"But what strikes me most is something else that all of Hawaii's immigrants, past and present, share. And that is an even stronger sense of obligation to their children and to the future. All of their actions, motivations, and aspirations were in some way connected to their children.

"Today, as the grandchildren and great grandchildren of those immigrants, we have much that can divide us. But we should never let those differences blind us to what we inherited from them, and what still holds us together – and that is our common desire to shape a better future for our children.

"There is a passage from former Governor Ariyoshi's book, With Obligation to All, that is never far from my mind. In it, he writes about power and public office in terms of a 'stewardship.'

"I quote, 'What we have today does not belong to us without qualification. It is ours to care for, enjoy, and make better before passing it on. We are stewards of elective office. We are stewards of our jobs, institutions, and communities, just as we are stewards of the land and stewards of all our resources,' unquote.

"These are wise words to live by and sound advice to guide us during this coming Session. As we all know, we are just temporary occupants of these seats. The nameplates on our office doors slide out just as easily as they slid in.

"Just as our counterparts did in Governor Ariyoshi's time, we must resist the temptation of power and deal with issues on their own merit.

"What I am talking about, my friends, is politics, pure and simple.

"Now I'm a realist and I understand the role of legitimate jousting between political parties, as well as within factions of the parties, themselves. But there comes a time, when all the posturing and positioning become counterproductive and even detrimental, and there comes a time when paying lip service to conciliation and cooperation is not enough. To achieve our goals, we must put aside our differences and truly work together.

"I believe the voters of this state are smart enough to know the difference between a good idea and a bad one; between shortsighted solutions and far-sighted vision.

"At the end of the day, I don't think they really care where a good idea comes from. It's tough enough to find sound and realistic long-term solutions. We should not restrict our choices because some of them don't come with the right political label.

"A good idea is a good idea. Let's honestly look for them, and, if they are sound, let's take them to heart.

"More than any other area, education deserves that kind of an honest look. When Superintendent Pat Hamamoto took over the reins of the Department of Education, she promised to move forward on improving our schools, if we gave her the tools to do the job. Have we given her the tools she needs to do her job? Have we given our teachers the support they need to do their job?

"Our teachers face enormous challenges, such as a maze of unfunded federal and court-ordered mandates, children from immigrant families struggling to catch up to their peers, and school facilities in disrepair. With each new challenge, schools must justify the money requested, and even then, are usually forced to make do with less. They are stretched thin and understandably frustrated.

"Right now, we have the resources to make a significant difference in our schools. There is no reason why we cannot provide stable financial support to enable the DOE to systematically eliminate its repair and maintenance backlog. We stand ready to do this.

"Inside the classroom, we can make a difference by reducing the actual class size and providing enrichment programs for all students. Every student, at every level of ability, deserves the attention they need to thrive in our educational system.

"If we are concerned about the future, we need to redouble our efforts to provide students with strong math and science backgrounds. Unfortunately, less than half of eighth grade students in the United States today have math teachers who majored in the subject or studied math for teacher certification. We all recognize the need to prepare our students for a future where technology is integrated into all aspects of modern life – where competition is not only fierce but global, with students in countries like China and India outperforming our own. I say we best prepare them by providing them with well-qualified math and science teachers.

"If we are concerned about the future, we also need to take a good hard look at economic development. Today, we have a golden opportunity in the area of biotechnology and other businesses related to life sciences that offer tremendous potential for Hawaii. There is no better investment in our future than support for the ongoing research and development at the John A. Burns School of Medicine and the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii. The future is at our doorstep. Let's invite it in.

"If we are concerned about the future, we need a comprehensive and long-range approach to dealing with our energy requirements. We need to support research and development for alternative fuels, such as ethanol, hydrogen and solar energy. Hawaii is already recognized as a premier demonstration site for the development of a hydrogen-based economy. We must continue to pursue this long-term goal of developing sustainable energy resources, as well as the protection of a sustainable environment.

"Sustainability also means support for our farmers, even as agriculture transitions from the plantation era to a more diversified and streamlined industry.

"If we are concerned about the future, we also need to take a pragmatic, as well as an honest look, at housing. It remains one of our greatest challenges. Because, while home ownership has always been the dream of most families, we know here in Hawaii, demand will always outpace supply, forcing home ownership beyond the reach of many.

"But there are other ways of providing housing for those who need assistance the most. One of them is by addressing the rental housing market. In addition, we know there is a direct correlation between the number of homeless individuals and the availability of rental housing.

"We need to increase the supply of rental housing and provide incentives to landlords to keep existing units in the rental market. We need to make more state lands available for rental housing in our urban core. We certainly don't need to sell off public lands without very careful review, whether they are in Kakaako or anywhere else.

"If we are concerned about the future, we also need to reduce the tax burden of our citizens, a burden that has become more and more untenable. I advocated tax reform last session. The current budget surplus makes an even stronger case for tax reform.

"In the past, we've resisted implementing any changes to our tax structure because of a lack of revenues to support them. What we need is not just a one-time rebate, but significant and permanent tax reform.

"We now have the rarest of opportunities to do it without sacrificing resources for education or other priority areas. We need a serious review of the cumulative tax burden that we have placed on our citizens, income taxes and property taxes being at the top of a long list of tax liabilities. As Ben Franklin once said, 'in this world, nothing is certain but death and taxes.' I would like to note for the record that death only comes once. We can't do much to change that but we can do something about taxes.

"To properly attend to the people's business, I said earlier that we needed to rise above petty politics. We also need to truly listen to what people are saying – and to be receptive and responsive to those messages.

"The recent public outcry over the move to subdivide Waimea Valley on the North Shore is a clear case in point. The community cried out against such a move, but more importantly, it mobilized an effort to save the valley. To do so, they enlisted the support of all levels of government along with the private sector to form a partnership that worked. It is an example of what can happen when people make the connection between what we do here and what is important to them.

"Actions and decisions made by us here are directly linked to the quality of life for people today and to what we leave as a legacy for our children tomorrow.

"To those citizens who are willing to take a stand on behalf of generations to come, I congratulate you. You are an inspiration and true stewards of the future.

"As we begin the 2006 Legislative Session, I pray for a compassionate and productive Session. My wish for all of us is the wisdom and fortitude to render sound policy decisions that will benefit the people. I believe we are capable of resolving even the most persistent of problems, if we set aside politics and power struggles and simply strive to do the right thing for the right reasons.

"Colleagues, we've got work to do. Let's get to it.

"Mahalo and Aloha."

Senator Hemmings, Minority Leader of the Senate, then responded as follows:

“I just love these Opening Days. How blessed we are to be in this State with the beautiful rainbow of people in our audience and all the flowers and goodwill that comes to this Legislature on this particular day. In more ways than one, I feel like Seabiscuit – ready to run a race. There’s a lot of innuendo in that statement.

“People of Hawaii; Governor Lingle; Lt. Governor Aiona; head of the Judicial Branch of government, Chief Justice Moon; and distinguished leaders and guests:

“Senate President Bunda, it’s nice to see you at the podium again.

“A recent letter written by a woman to a major Honolulu newspaper sparks an idea in this speech. Her theme was the importance of not giving a tax cut to the ‘rich,’ but rather keeping the money in the government.

“Some suffer from what has long been one of our greatest political diseases – that is to divide us. The sad ploy is to use ‘the them against us formula’ to thwart the ‘other side’ politically. If we fall for the ploy of dividing us, we succumb to the extremes: left/right, rich/poor, haole/local, conservative/liberal.

“What we should hold in common is to make Hawaii a better place for everyone. After all these years, let’s make an affordable economy, better public education, energy independence, affordable housing, and a tax cut a reality, not just political slogans in an election year. Here is where the opening day speech becomes so difficult for those of us who are advocating honest change.

“It’s difficult to tear down the edifices of the status quo. We hope that the people of Hawaii will see the wisdom joining us, the Senate Minority, in an effort to make Hawaii a better place for everyone. I really believe most of our citizens are not interested in political labels.

“Hurricane Katrina, much like the OPEC embargo of 1974, painfully reminds us how vulnerable Hawaii is to geopolitical, economic and even a natural disaster’s impact on energy. The politics of the status quo in the last 30 years, believe it or not, have actually led this state on a path of greater dependency on fossil fuel. Months ago Senate Republicans offered our ‘energy independence’ package. It’s not our package. It should be the legislative package. It is the Senate Minority’s desire to legislate incentives for conservation. We know energy efficient vehicles will truly cut consumers gas prices at the pump.

“Besides conservation, we also wish to stimulate the market for renewable resources and advanced technologies as energy sources. It’s long overdue. Maui Bio-diesel is a reality. It is helping to prove that we do not have to be dependent on foreign oil. Renewable energy can also make hydrogen fuel cells economically viable.

“We will introduce legislation to create energy enterprise zones. We will introduce legislation to cut the red tape and costs for renewable energy sources such as solar, wind, geothermal and biomass. Hawaii can lead the nation in energy independence, rather than sadly leading the nation with the highest energy prices. By the way, the nation’s only gas cap has not, I repeat, HAS NOT, resulted in benefits to you, the people of Hawaii. The gas cap has resulted in our prices being adjusted at great cost on a weekly basis to remain the highest in the nation. We say repeal the gas cap.

“A growing number of citizens of Hawaii are voicing their frustration with high taxes. That is why Senate Republicans once again are calling for a progressive tax reduction. The surplus at the end of the current budget biennium is projected to be approximately $600 million. We hope, and we appreciate your words, Senate President, that enlightened Majority Party members will join us in sharing that money in the form of a tax cut.

“The excise tax on food is extremely regressive; it hurts the poor the most. Taxing the poor and the hungry is unacceptable and must be stopped. We have introduced, as we do every year, legislation to eliminate the excise tax on food.

“Eliminating this cruel excise tax on food is immediate and helps everyone, but most especially the poor. Its time has come. It’s important to note that such an enduring tax cut would not consume the entire projected surplus, thus leaving enough money for school repairs, which we support.

“I will share with you some information I just received yesterday that’s not in this speech. Georgina Kawamura, the head of the Budget Department for the State of Hawaii, has revealed that there are approximately $570 million on the state books right now for repair and maintenance of schools. That’s a lot of money. It’s there. Let’s get the job done and let’s also cut taxes. The people of Hawaii deserve a tax cut.

“We suffer sometimes from monopolies, both public and private. Once again we wish to change that formula of government monopolies. Public/private partnerships do indeed provide public benefit at less cost to the people paying the bills. The Governor’s Economic Momentum Commission recently included a recommendation that illustrates that point. Isn’t it incredible that Hawaii, an island state, ranks among the last of all 50 states for recreational mooring space in our harbors? For years the state government has maintained a monopolistic stranglehold on our harbors.

“The Economic Momentum Commission, which was bipartisan and not politically motivated, recommends a simple solution – pass necessary legislation that would allow submerged lands to be leased to the private sector for development of marinas. Wouldn’t it be great if one or more private sector companies could partner with the State of Hawaii in developing Keehi Lagoon into the biggest and the best marina in the Pacific? Most harbors including Kahului, Kawaihae and even Nawiliwili, could also include thriving marinas to benefit the fishermen and recreational boaters of our state.

“Public/private partnerships could even be utilized in conservation. Private charitable trusts, such as the Nature Conservancy and the Audubon Society, have proven to be cost effective stewards of conservation. The Nature Conservancy succeeded in saving Pelekunu Valley on Molokai. It was the synergy created by a public/private partnership that will save Waimea Valley on Oahu. These same partnerships could be the formula for conservation of legacy lands. The formula of huge tax and spending increases will do little to really save legacy lands.

“Public/private partnerships, I might add could be utilized to create affordable housing. The State of Hawaii is the biggest landowner in Hawaii. Wouldn’t it be nice if it could partner with a private sector company to build affordable housing on state land and passing on the land savings onto the marketplace? This is a headline: the solution is here on the Floor of the House and Senate – public/private partnerships work.

“The Lingle administration has demonstrated success in many areas of public/private partnerships. The administration has attained significant success in new welfare to work initiatives where private companies are helping to train welfare recipients in meaningful income producing jobs. The SEE Hawaii Work program is a win for everyone, including welfare dependents who now have the pride of having a job, the businesses that employ them, and the taxpayers who formerly were paying people money to sit at home and do nothing. Isn't it sad that last year this Legislature restricted the Department of Human Services flexibility to use federal money for programs like SEE Hawaii Work. Public/private partnerships are innovative initiatives that deviate from business as usual. Let's make them happen.

“We are entering a year of renewed opportunity, which also happens to be an election year. We can use these months to genuinely debate the issues, rather than turn a deaf ear to those who do not have the same party label. We can travel on the same old path of business as usual or we can work together to find new solutions for old problems. I know . . . I know we can reduce taxes. We can become more energy independent. We can utilize public/private partnerships. I know we can work together. The future starts right now.

At 10:47 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair. At this time, the members of the Senate and their guests were entertained by the Larawan Youth Ensemble; Olomana; and Cecilio and Kapono.

The Senate reconvened at 11:37 o'clock a.m.

At this time, Senator Baker, on behalf of the Senate, extended happy birthday wishes to Senator Hooser.

Senator Kim rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege to invoke Senate Rule 84.

"Mr. President, on January 11th I sent a memorandum stating the following to the Senate Clerk: 'This memorandum is a follow-up to my previous letters dated June 20th and July 1st, 2005, requesting a year-to-date itemized statement of the appropriations and expenditures for the current 2005 and 2006 Senate budget and,' I emphasize the word 'and,' 'the final version of the Senate zero-based budget for 2005 and 2006.' A copy of the proposed Senate zero-based budget for 2005 and 2006 was submitted with my request so that there would be no question as to what I was requesting.

“As of this date, I have not received what I asked for from the Senate Clerk. Therefore, under Senate Rule 84, I request again in writing, which I have here and will deliver to the Senate Clerk, and orally that the Senate Clerk answer the questions as asked for in my most recent memo dated January 11, 2006, that was sent to his office.

“I also ask that the itemized statement include a column that answers the question as to what is the actual cash balance on hand in the Senate account as of December 31, 2005, and January 12, 2006. Actual cash balance is defined as the sum of monies that is in the bank at the close of the business day on the above-specified dates. And if he has any difficulty with the definition of actual cash balance, I urge for him to contact me and I’ll be happy to clarify what exactly is being requested.

“To further clarify, I ask that the budget information include a breakdown of all staff positions by persons and their respective salaries; all personal contracts by person, the amounts; and the staff travel by person and the costs associated with such travel for the year ending 2005.

“The Senate zero-based budget 2005 and 2006 was and is still requested. A copy of the proposed zero-based budget 2005 and 2006 dated 11/24/04, 9:29 a.m., version three was submitted with my previous request so that there would be no question as to what I was requesting. I once again ask for this information.

“Mr. President and colleagues, this information that I’m requesting is needed to allow me to fulfill my obligation as Vice President of the Senate as stated in Rule 4 of our Senate Rules. As you are well aware, the general statement of appropriation expenditures that is usually distributed to Senators does not provide the necessary information to fulfill Senate Rule 4, which states: ‘The Vice President and the President shall prepare and administer,’ shall prepare and administer, ‘a budget for the Senate.’

“Rule 84 requires that the Senate Clerk, as an officer of the State Senate, must reply to my written and oral requests. And as stated in my reply to you, Mr. President, dated July 15, 2005, when the Clerk provides me with this information, I will review the material and will gladly discuss any concerns with you that I may have.

“Finally, members, I believe and I advocate that any member of this Body is entitled to all information regarding the Senate budget, especially when it is specifically requested. No member should have to ask repeatedly or wait seven months for the information that our Clerk is responsible for.

“Thank you.”

The President then said:

“We are in receipt of your memo and we also have had letters from the Office of Information Practices and we are in receipt of that. We will respond to them by the due date, which is the 25th and we will do that. My understanding, however, is that OIP will be closing their books because all of the suggested reports have been forwarded to you.”

Senator Kim rose and said:

“Mr. President, a follow-up on that.

“I have spoken with OIP and they asked me if it was fulfilled. I informed them this morning that in fact I have not received everything that was asked for. According to Rule 84, the Clerk needs to respond by tomorrow.

“Thank you.”

The President responded:

“We are in receipt of the letter from OIP and it did say that they were going to close the records. So, we will share that letter with you.”

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President and members, in the Honolulu Star Bulletin dated January 18th on the front page was an article entitled: ‘UH rated among lowest in per dollar efficiency.’ The National Center for Higher Education Management Systems ranks the University of Hawaii as among the five lowest performing higher education systems per dollar spent. One of the co-authors is Dennis Jones who is a consultant to the University of Hawaii. According to the study, the four-year UH campuses produced the least bachelor degrees relative to their student populations, with low numbers of degrees awarded within six years of high school graduation and per undergraduate.

“When the level of funding is considered, Hawaii ranks second to the last, ahead of Alaska, in productivity. While Hawaii attracts a fair amount of per capita research and development funds, it also spends much more per faculty member to bring in that money. The University of Hawaii at Manoa’s overall rating for public research institutions is second to the last, ahead of only Vermont.

“Mr. President, in report No. 05-15 dated December 2005, the auditor said, ‘the Manoa campus’s budget impedes the efficient and effective use of resources. For FY 05-06, the Board of Regents’ approved budget for the Manoa campus included approximately $200 million in general funds of which only $13 million required justification. Thus, Manoa campus’s budget process results in a budget that is largely unfounded and is not based on results.

“The Manoa campus lacks a formal mechanism for monitoring program use of funds, resulting in little assurance that the campus has an adequate understanding of its overall fiscal condition. The Manoa campus also lacks formal policies and procedures to ensure proper use of general and tuition funds.

“Mr. President, in a memorandum of agreement signed by the vice chancellor of administration for finance and operations on September, 2004 and the director of intercollegiate athletics on the same date, the MOA said the terms set forth in this MOA shall replace all previous MOA for the purpose of allocation and repayment of $1 million in tuition and fees, special funds allocated in FY 03 to the athletic department. The repayment of a loan by the athletic department is as follows:

$200,000 due September 30, 04;
$400,000 due June 30, 05; and
$400,000 due June 30, 06.

To date, zero – ZERO – has been repaid. This is an example of the fiscal mess at Manoa, and the Committee on Higher Education will begin the task of ferreting out the reason set forth by the auditor. We will invite Dennis Jones, the consultant to the University of Hawaii for the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems, at a future hearing and we'll try to ferret out and get their reasons for the situation of fiscal irresponsibility conducted by the University of Hawaii system, the University of Hawaii, Manoa, specifically.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, share the previous speaker's concerns about malfeasance, mismanagement, and the terrible straits that the University of Hawaii system seems to be in. I would like to remind everyone, especially our colleagues in this room, the reason for it – that because the previous Governor and his minions in the Legislature were not happy with some of the things that the university did in previous elections. The facts are that the university budget was dramatically reduced, and as I understand it, the funding has not even caught up to the level as it was in the 90s.

"I want to also remind all of us that with bipartisan support the Board of Regents fired the former president of the University of Hawaii for excessive mismanagement of state funds. The good Senator from Moanalua even did a white paper pointing out that just in hiring his cronies, the former president spent millions, millions of extra dollars.

"I would like to point out that the University of Hawaii, under the leadership of David McClain and the current Board of Regents, is on the way to solving the problems that they have inherited from the previous administration and from the previous president.

"Mr. President, I'm very proud to stand up and point out the abuses of the prior administration and the prior president of the University of Hawaii, and I'm very proud to say David McClain and the Board of Regents in two short years or less have done much to clean up the mess that the previous speaker spoke about.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

ADJOURNMENT

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, the issue of fixing our schools has been in the news and some people across the aisle and across the way in the House have made comments that over half a billion dollars is sitting in the Department of Education for use. As you know, colleagues, I do my homework and repair and maintenance is something that we all agree needs to be done.

"Mr. President, may I have a short recess to pass something out and then we can just go over it?"

At 11:54 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:56 o'clock a.m.

"Mr. President, again, it's been that some people feel that a half a billion dollars has been appropriated and sitting there for the Department of Education to fix the schools with. The paper reported our Governor as saying 'We just need to use it, period. The department has enough money that no school restroom in the state should be broken.'

"Mr. President, I've reviewed the last three years of what we, the Legislature, and the Governor has signed into law and with the table I passed out for the fiscal year 2003-2004, for repair and maintenance we've appropriated $35 million for R & M and $73 million for CIP. The Governor did release the $35 million for repair and maintenance. She released $62 million of the $73 million for capital improvement projects, leaving $11 million not yet released. For 2004-2005, repair and maintenance $100 million – all of that was released, thankfully. On CIP, capital improvements of $134 million, just $67 million, half of that, was released. The other half remains to be released. For the year 2005 – I apologize, I have a typo – 2005-2006, $75 million for repair and maintenance, of that, only $40 million has been released thus far, leaving $35 million yet to be released not released by the Governor. And for capital improvement projects of $140 million appropriated, $40 million was released leaving $100 million yet to be released.

"So yes, you total up repair and maintenance and capital improvements, $344 million has been released but that leaves $35 million for repair and maintenance not released and $178 million in capital improvements not released, totaling up to $213 million sitting somewhere, perhaps not on the Governor's desk – somewhere perhaps in budget and finance, somewhere perhaps in somebody's trash can – but certainly the Department of Education wants all of these projects released.

"Our Governor has sometimes said they don't send it to her, and maybe there's a mixed message. At the HSTA forum on Saturday, the Governor said she signs everything that comes to her desk but maybe her instructions or someone else's instructions are stopping things from getting to that point. So we hope that she will release that money so that this amount of bathrooms and closets and portables and libraries can be fixed. And this, for people's information, is not part of the $525 million in repair and maintenance the department had on their list in September of this year. They have said that the $35 million on the repair and maintenance has already been pegged for other jobs. So in addition to this, there's still a $525 million in repair and maintenance that needs to be done. Mr. President, I feel in three years we can accomplish that.

"For clarification, this isn't talking about cash or bonding. This is talking about categories of jobs, repair and maintenance and capital improvement, which are bigger jobs.

"Let's all urge Ms. Governor to release the money so we can get the schools repaired and let's all work together to continue to appropriate money and get the money released so we can get our schools where we all want them to be.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hogue rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I also rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I agree with many of the remarks that the Chair of Education made. When we sent out a survey in my district, my constituents said that the number one issue is that they should have the schools repaired. The number two, by the way, was that we should have the tax cut that you talked about, Mr. President.

"I call upon the Chair of the Education Committee and I hope that we can have some sort of a hearing so that we can find out exactly what the numbers are because we hear stories about some repair and maintenance items that have been on the books for many, many years. We hear stories about some repairs that have been made and yet the items still remain on the books, and that's obviously a concern. We hear stories that the Governor is not releasing the money and then the Governor's office will tell us privately it's because much of the paperwork or justification has not come through to her office to have that happen.

"So, this is a very important issue, and because this is a very important issue, let's have a hearing about it and let's find out what the numbers are, and let's just get the job done – no politics, just get it done! Thanks."

Senator Sakamoto rose in response and said:

"Mr. President, in response to our Senator from the Windward side, this afternoon there is a joint briefing with the Department of Education, joint with us and the House, on the DOE budget. And certainly this would be a topic that would be part of that discussion, so we welcome you as well as our colleagues to ask the appropriate questions and I agree with you – let's get the job done."

At 12:03 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Hee, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, the Senate adjourned until 9:30 o'clock a.m., Monday, January 23, 2006.

Senator Paul Whalen and Representative Cynthia Thielen presented Governor Lingle with ilima leis.

The Speaker then presented to the members of the Twenty-Third Legislature and guests the Honorable Linda Lingle, Governor of the State of Hawaii.

The Governor addressed the Joint Session as follows:

“Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Lt. Governor and Mrs. Aiona, members of the Legislature, Chief Justice Moon, Chair Apoliona, cabinet members, Congressman and Mrs. Case, Mayor Arakawa and Mrs. Arakawa, Mayor Baptiste, Mayor Kim, members of the counselor corps, distinguished guests, and to all the people of Hawaii: Aloha and good morning.

“It is a great privilege to come once again before you to talk about our state’s future. It is a hallmark of American democracy that governors across our nation are given the opportunity to speak freely about the challenges their states face as well as their hopes and dreams for the future.

“This, and other freedoms we too often take for granted, are being fought for today in distant lands across the globe. Thousands of miles away, countries that suffered under tyranny for decades are now budding democracies because of America’s leadership and sacrifice. In the recent elections in Iraq, people walked as far as eight miles just to exercise their right to vote. Thanks to the efforts of America’s armed forces, democracy is gaining a foothold in Iraq and Afghanistan, and we in America are safer.

“While in Iraq, our own Hawaii National Guard 29th Brigade Combat Team conducted thousands of patrols, destroyed dozens of weapons stockpiles and detained hundreds of insurgents. Perhaps equally important, these American soldiers provided thousands of Iraqi citizens with clothing, food, purified water, school supplies and medical care. And they provided Iraqi citizens with a sense of hope and security that resulted in a 90 percent turnout for voting in the sector patrolled by the 29th Brigade.

“Allow me to take a moment to recognize some of our heroes who are with us this morning. Seated in the gallery and just recently returned home from Iraq is the Commander of the 29th Brigade, Brig. General Joe Chavez, along with Sgt. Major Robert Inouye, members of their brigade, and their families. Please stand and be recognized. (General Chavez, Major Inouye and their families rose to be recognized.)

“These soldiers represent the more than 3,000 men and women of our Hawaii National Guard and Army Reserve who answered the call of duty and served with honor in Iraq, Kuwait, and Afghanistan. On behalf of all the citizens of Hawaii – welcome home, and thank you for your sacrifice and for ensuring a safer world for future generations.

“Today, it is once again my great privilege to report on the state of our state. This year’s address is made more meaningful by the presence of our soldiers.

“2005 will go down in history as one of our best years ever. The economic indicators are strong, investment is robust, and people are optimistic about the future. Our work force grew by 3 percent this year – one of the fastest growth rates in the nation. Our unemployment rate decreased to below 3 percent – the lowest in the nation. Total personal income grew by 8 percent – the biggest increase since 1990, and the third largest increase in the nation. Our gross state product – the most comprehensive measure of the economy – increased by 4.7 percent in 2004. That is the biggest increase since 1991, and the fourth biggest increase in the nation. Visitor arrivals in 2005 are estimated to have reached 7.4 million, the first time in history that we had more than 7 million visitors in a year. And employment in the construction industry is nearing record levels.

“As strong as those numbers are, they alone don’t capture the full story of our success during the past year. We achieved longstanding goals – from opening a new medical school in Kaka’ako, to establishing a refuge to protect our precious marine resources in the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands. We strengthened our ties to Asia. Our delegation to China and Korea returned with significant agreements covering education and economic development. The businesses that went on the trip already expect to generate more than $100 million in new business. We regained our fiscal equilibrium because we were willing to make the tough choices, and exercise restraint in our spending.

“When I came into office in 2002, the State was spending $215 million more than it was collecting. Today, rather than red ink, we are projecting a $574 million positive balance. This is a turnaround of over three-quarters of a billion dollars in just three years.

“Now is the perfect time to share the results of this success with the people who made it possible – taxpayers who are struggling with the high cost of living, including skyrocketing housing prices and property taxes. It is also the right time to address many unmet needs . . . from dilapidated school buildings . . . to a lack of access to healthcare . . . to deteriorating public housing and a growing homeless population . . . to overburdened transportation systems. And it is obviously the best time in many years to save for the future while making smart investments in those areas that will secure a brighter tomorrow.

“I want to talk first about the least glamorous of my proposals – setting aside more money to meet unexpected challenges in the coming years. I am suggesting that we double the size of the state’s Rainy Day Fund from $55 million to $110 million. Combined with the $188 million in the Hurricane Relief Fund, this is a good start in creating a cushion for those times when the unexpected occurs. Putting aside more money for a rainy day is the responsible, prudent and smart thing to do. And it is exactly what responsible individuals do when they have an increase in their income, because they know that the unexpected can and will happen.

“At the same time we are putting something aside for future unexpected events, people need help – right now – in coping with the high cost of living. I want to use about half of the state’s $574 million surplus for tax relief for those who need it most. I was disappointed last year when my proposal to raise the standard deduction was not adopted because it meant that those struggling to make ends meet would fall further behind. The bottom line is that we are collecting income taxes from people who simply can’t afford to pay them.

“Given our current fiscal condition and projected future revenue, we can raise the standard deduction further than I suggested last year, to 75 percent of the federal level. Moreover, raising the standard deduction helps hundreds of thousands more people than the Earned Income Tax Credit. It is simple for the State to implement, and easy for taxpayers to understand.

“I realize there are other points of view on how to get money back into the hands of our citizens, including President Buda’s call for adjusting the income tax brackets. I like his approach as well, and that is why I am calling on the Legislature to adopt both ideas. Combining an increased standard deduction with a widening of the income tax brackets would reduce the tax burden by $86 million and benefit over 80 percent of the taxpayers and their dependents. It would mean that a family of four earning $50,000 or less a year would save an estimated $568 a year.

“This proposal alone, however, is not enough to make a real difference for families coping with higher housing costs, higher property taxes, higher car registration taxes, higher electricity rates, higher water and sewer bills, higher medical bills, and higher food prices. In light of higher prices for so many necessities of life, I am proposing two additional tax relief measures this year in recognition of the reality that people are facing across our state, especially the hundreds of thousands who are living paycheck to paycheck.

“First, I am suggesting that we grant a $100 per person tax credit to those households earning $50,000 or less a year in order to offset the taxes people pay on food, medical services and non-prescription drugs. I think it is unconscionable that we tax people for eating and getting sick. This tax credit would equal $400 for a family of four and would benefit 707,000 taxpayers and their dependents.

“Finally, I am proposing a one-time tax refund of $150 per exemption for all but the highest income residents. A couple with two children would receive a check for $600 early next year. This one-time tax refund would benefit 857,000 taxpayers and their dependents. The advantage of including a one-time refund in the tax relief package is that it gets money to people now when they need it, but it preserves our future options since we are not committed to pay it in the coming years.

“If the Legislature enacts this $285 million tax relief package, a family of four earning $50,000 or less would receive $1,568. Let me repeat how much a family would save – $1,568. This is enough to pay a year’s tuition at a community college with money left over for books, enough for a family to pay its electric bills for a year, or enough to pay off a mounting credit card debt that many are carrying.

“I don’t view this Session as a fight between tax relief or more money for education . . . or between education and saving for a rainy day . . . or between saving for a rainy day and securing our economic future through investments in new energy resources. I view it as a chance to literally have it all. Perhaps not in the exact form and amounts that each of us wants, but surely we can manage to compromise now that the treasury is full.

“We must resist framing the discussion in terms of ‘either/or,’ but rather we should frame it in terms of ‘how.’

“Education must be one of our highest priorities, and is deserving of more support. It is our hope for a better tomorrow, both for us as individuals and as a state. Over time, it can wash away the barriers of disadvantage. Almost all of us have been in a DOE or UH building that was run down – peeling paint, lack of electrical power, broken fixtures or worse. And new housing developments have created over-crowded conditions at some schools.

“I am proposing a dramatic increase of $132.5 million for K-12 public education, including $90 million in additional funds for school construction and repairs and maintenance. This money is on top of the $570 million already appropriated, but not yet spent by the Department of Education . . . for a total of $660 million.

“These are big numbers, although they are not as large as some have suggested. Before we give the DOE a blank check, we must be certain we are getting our money’s worth for the more than $2 billion we are already spending each year on K-12 operations, and the $570 million already approved to construct, repair and maintain our schools.

“Besides the need for a robust repair and maintenance program and new school construction, the DOE is facing a severe teacher shortage. I am proposing four laws to immediately address the shortage:

1. Allow retired DOE teachers to be hired for difficult to fill classroom positions for 24 months without any loss of retirement benefits.

2. Start a Master Teacher Program that would pay a $10,000 a year bonus to any of the 111 National Board Certified Teachers who agree to teach in an underperforming school for three years. These master teachers must mentor the other teachers and would be allowed to return to their original schools.
3. Create an Emergency Certified Teacher Program that would allow anyone holding a bachelor's degree or higher to teach in the subject in which they have degrees as long as they complete the substitute teacher training program or similar course.
4. Use $500,000 to reestablish the Hawaii Educator Loan Program, and reduce the amount of time you must teach from 10 to 6 years in order to qualify for loan forgiveness for tuition at any certified teaching program.

"I have also included money in the Supplemental Budget for 100 more students to enter the College of Education at Manoa and West Oahu and 150 more students from the community colleges who would transfer in to the College of Education.

"The charter schools are an important adjunct to the traditional DOE schools. This important option for parents, teachers and students has never received fair and equal funding and we should change that this Session. Also, we should give the charter schools their own school district so they are able to receive funds directly from the federal government. This will be a net gain for our state school system. I am also requesting that you remove the cap on the number of charter schools so that we can establish seven new charter schools around the state that would use environmental education as their foundation.

"I view environmental threats as one of the most serious problems for us to address. It is increasingly important that future generations have an understanding of these issues and the choices we will face in the years ahead.

"I have included money in my Supplemental Budget to establish these seven charter schools throughout the major islands, including two on the Big Island. I hope you will give this proposal your most serious consideration.

"While public schools garner most of the education headlines, both good and bad, our University system is equally important and deserving of additional support. Last month I proposed that the UH receive an additional $45.6 million in operating funds and $252 million more for facilities, including $175 million in private funding to make the dream of a UH West Oahu campus a reality. The increased funding includes the money needed to repair crumbling buildings throughout the UH system, to increase campus security, expand workforce education in nursing, teaching and the construction trades, to fund the College of Pharmacy at UH-Hilo, and to support the Hawaiian Studies program.

"A good education is still the surest way to a higher-paying job, but even with rising wages, the price of rental housing and home purchase is out of reach today for too many people. The supply of rental housing has tightened and Hawaii ranks 48th in home ownership. And as anyone knows who has visited Ala Moana Beach Park, the breakwater at Kahului Harbor on Maui and other areas across the state, the number of homeless among us is growing. It is simply not pono for our families to be living in cars, people to be sleeping in the doorways of businesses downtown or on picnic tables in our public parks.

"There is no one silver bullet to solve the problems of homelessness and affordable housing, but there are many good ideas that can and should be enacted. We should begin by learning from our successes. I am proud to report that the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands has awarded more residential leases and provided more families with opportunities for home ownership in the last two years than in the entire decade of the 1990's.

"This fact is impressive, but let me share with you the human side of this success. This is a letter written to Hawaiian Homes Commission Chairman Micah Kane after the recent awarding of homestead lots in the Lai`opua subdivision on the Big Island:

'Dear Mr. Kane, I'm writing to thank you and the DHHL administration for all your love and support yesterday at the selection meeting in Kailua Kona. I cannot express the emotion that I felt from the very beginning of the meeting. The pule from Kaulana Park was truly spirit filled. I did not know what to expect at this meeting. When I saw my husband's name, Wendell Kualaaau on the big screen and heard his name called, I couldn't help but to feel an emotion of finally. Then I watched him hold his composure and his emotions through the whole process. Each and every one of you practically held everyone's hand through the entire procedure. Your administration was so organized and displayed such a sincere congratulations to each of the awardees. I don't know what it feels like to win the lottery, but I imagine that this was pretty close. We all need hope in life to carry on and to have a future to look forward to. DHHL gave that to so many Hawaiians yesterday. Once again, thank you for an experience that will live in my heart forever.

Aloha,
Teresa A. Kualaaau.'

"It is important to note that every home built by DHHL means there is one less family competing for an affordable home in the open market. DHHL's success has been so dramatic that the Building Industry Association recently named Hawaiian Homes Commission Chairman Micah Kane as its Housing Advocate of the Year. The Department achieved this success through many innovative programs, such as leveraging federal rural development funds, pre-selection credit reviews, and ongoing counseling to assure successful home ownership. Such approaches can serve as a model for other affordable housing programs.

"But we need more housing for our non-Hawaiian residents as well, so I am making good on my commitment to ask the Legislature to redirect Legacy Lands tax money from the general fund into our housing funds. After all, there is no greater legacy that we can leave our children than a home they can call their own.

"Coupled with this infusion of additional State funding, I am proposing that the Legislature authorize the use of special purpose revenue bonds to encourage the construction of additional workforce housing across the state. Special purpose revenue bonds have proven to be a successful tool for funding private schools, hospitals and economic development projects. It is time to apply this tool to meeting our housing needs.

"To address the problem of homelessness, I am proposing that we spend $10 million to renovate and repair existing homeless shelters, which have long suffered from neglect . . . and another $10 million in grants for supportive housing. The importance of this funding cannot be over emphasized. Experience has shown that the homeless need more than just a roof over their head. They need services as well – substance abuse counseling, mental health treatment, and job training – that will give them the tools they need to stay off the streets. Supportive housing provides all of that in one package.

"I have submitted to you again this year a complete package of housing proposals, including: increased rental subsidies, a program to pay the first month's rent and security deposit, the lack of which keeps many people homeless; streamlined land use processing, and a redefinition of affordable housing in order to qualify more families.

"Lastly, we need to keep our eye on the ball and severely restrict the raiding of any of our housing funds as has been done to the tune of more than $200 million over the last 10 years. I am proposing a new law to require that any future diversion of funds meant to finance housing projects would need a two-thirds vote of the Legislature.

"While tax relief, education and housing may be the state's most obvious needs, access to medical care and social services has also suffered during the lean years and now requires more funding. Now is the time to move forward to extend MEDICAID coverage to more low-income children and adults. I am proposing programs to extend coverage to an additional 29,000 people over the next six years, with the majority of the cost borne by the federal government. It is also time to restore dental coverage for needy adults . . . specifically preventive care for adults in the MEDICAID program. This is both the humane thing to do and the smart thing to do since a lack of preventive dental care will lead to the need for more painful and costly oral surgery for which the State would be obligated to pay.

"I spoke earlier this morning about the environmental threat we could face if we fail to teach our children the concept of good stewardship of our lands, oceans and other natural resources. And while teaching stewardship will help protect our resources over the long term, we need to invest now in various environmental programs and projects. That's why we've asked you to approve a record $92 million budget for the Department of Land and Natural Resources that is unprecedented in scope and scale.

"The disrepair of our state parks deserves immediate attention. Residents and visitors alike expect and deserve better than broken or filthy restrooms. I have asked you for an additional $10 million to repair our park facilities as well as additional funding to clean them more regularly and to provide nighttime security patrols. And I am again calling on the Legislature to invest in the repair and reconstruction of our small boat harbors.

"Besides this additional spending, I am proposing strict new penalties for those who illegally trespass into our forests and who steal timber, including our precious koa. Additionally, I am asking that revenues derived from forest reserves be used to expand and enhance forest stewardship. I am also proposing that we continue the successful partnerships with private landowners in order to encourage more habitat conservation plans on private lands. This law is set to expire next year.

"Respect for nature and respect for our native Hawaiian culture go hand in hand. To lose this would be to lose the very essence of our islands. A vibrant host culture enriches and benefits all of us. I pledge my continued support for those programs and efforts that preserve and perpetuate the Hawaiian culture.

"Of all the tasks that government undertakes, none is more fundamental than ensuring the safety of our citizens. The natural disasters of the past year made it clear that civil defense preparedness is a necessity, not a nicety. Last month, I announced a comprehensive emergency preparedness package.

There are many components to that package, but the bottom line is this:

First, we must harden our public and private buildings, to better resist natural disasters when they do hit.

Second, we must be better prepared to respond before and after a disaster strikes by modernizing our warning systems, stockpiling supplies, doubling the funds available to respond in the first hours after an emergency, and entering into an agreement with other states so we can call on them for aid when disaster strikes. We are the only state in the nation that has not yet signed that agreement and I am asking the Legislature to authorize us to do so now.

Third, we must create additional shelter spaces including special areas for those needing medical care, and a place where people can bring their pets. We learned from Hurricane Katrina that the unwillingness to leave pets behind can lead to human death and injury.

Finally, we must adopt severe penalties for those caught looting during or after a disaster and make it a serious crime to attack a civil defense worker.

"In addition to natural disasters, there are other, more subtle threats to our security that we must address.

"Our dependence on imported oil leaves us vulnerable to price swings and shortages of supply. Earlier this month, I proposed a sweeping set of proposals designed to move us from our decades-long overdependence on imported oil toward energy self-sufficiency based on renewable resources. If we are going to achieve self-sufficiency, we will need to push hard on many fronts. State government needs to lead the way by building more efficient buildings and using less oil itself. Weaning ourselves from oil won't be cost-free, but we must do so if we want our economy to survive the next time the price of a barrel of oil increases by 50 percent.

"I am proposing a bold new initiative to make Hawaii the center of America's development of hydrogen as an alternate fuel source. Already, internationally recognized leaders in this field have expressed interest in using Hawaii as the place where hydrogen can move from the research phase into production.

"Additionally, we need to provide expanded tax incentives for people or businesses who install energy efficient appliances – solar hot water heating, photovoltaics or wind energy systems. We also need to encourage the development of biofuels as a substitute for oil – fuels through farming. Just as we want to mandate 20 percent alternative fuels for electricity production by 2020, we also want to adopt a standard of 20 percent use of biofuels in gasoline by 2020.

"The price of gasoline is just one of the challenges that we face when we drive each day. Another is gridlock on our highways. This is why I am seeking an additional $137 million for highway construction for projects such as: the North-South Road and Kapolei Parkway on Oahu; the expansion of Kuhio Highway on Kauai; the realignment of Honoapi'ilani Highway on Maui; and the design of an afternoon contra-flow zipper lane on the H-1 Freeway.

"Along with improved traffic flow, we have an obligation to make sure that pedestrians are safe when crossing the street. Just last week another senior citizen was killed by a driver while crossing the street in a marked crosswalk. This 86-year-old kupuna, who was so full of life, was on her way to buy supplies for centerpieces for her church choir. The news story said that Betty Tanaka Santiago's great grandchild asked, 'But why can't I see her anymore?' My heart breaks for Mrs. Santiago's family and I am very angry about this senseless loss of life. I am proposing tough new measures to place traffic violators in jail and revoke their driving privileges for failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

"We must not abandon our search for solutions to this and other very difficult problems that continue to plague our State, most notably drug abuse. I am calling again on Legislators to recognize that tougher penalties for repeat drug offenders and the manufacture of ice are essential if we ever hope to make a dent in this community crisis.

"But we also need to increase prevention efforts. As an example, I am proposing $10.2 million in federal funds to expand the About Face and Healthy Lifestyles programs for at-risk youth and needy adults. This new spending will allow us to double the size of these programs. Director Ted Daligdig and students from the About Face program are with us today. Please stand and be recognized. (Mr. Daligdig and the students rose to be recognized.)

"I have shared a wide range of ideas with you today that I believe all fit into the following basic framework – ensuring that our economic prosperity continues, ensuring that we all share the benefits of that prosperity, and ensuring that we protect those things that make Hawaii so special.

"Of all the things that make us special, one of the foremost is our diversity as a people. Remember the euphoria we all felt last year when the Little League team from Ewa Beach won the world championship? Where else would you find a team that close-knit with kids named Memea, Alviado, Ranit, Javier, Guevara, Fe'au, Baniaga, Rosete, Enos, Aglipay, Kam and Tirpak? Just like that team, as a state we draw strength from our diversity. And we truly believe that it is right and proper to help those in need.

"These two characteristics of diversity and a desire to help others blended together for our troops as they not only fought wars in far-off lands, but helped people who were different than them. The soldiers from Hawaii always treated the Iraqi and Afghan people with respect. As one of our returning National Guardsmen shared his experiences with me at a welcome home ceremony at Kalaehoa, tears came to his eyes as he spoke of having to leave the Iraqi children behind.

"Our ability to show aloha for others – including people from vastly different backgrounds – is one of our greatest sources of strength.

"I'm also reminded of our diversity as we begin the yearlong centennial celebration to mark the journey taken by the first 15 sakadas who arrived on the Big Island from the Philippines in 1906. Like so many before them and so many since, they were driven by a dream – a dream of a better life, of hope and of opportunity. From those humble roots, today the Filipino community makes up almost 25 percent of our population. Its members are among the leaders in all walks of life, from business to politics to the professions.

"Earlier this month, I had the privilege of retracing the journey of the sakadas as part of an official delegation that traveled to the Philippines to celebrate this landmark event. That journey reminded me of the obligation that those of us in public service have to keep Hawaii a place where diversity is respected, and where the dreams of our people, regardless of their origins, can be fulfilled.

"This is the final State of the State Address I will have the privilege of making during this term of office. I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Legislature for working with me to move our state forward. While we haven't always seen eye-to-eye, the debate has benefited the public and often made the results better. I'd also like to thank the 50,000 state employees, my colleagues in public service, who work hard to make life better for the citizens of this state.

"There is one state employee in particular whom I would like to recognize today. He is Francis Lum, our state's protocol officer. Mr. Lum has worked directly with five different governors, beginning with Governor Burns. He is retiring after 58 years of service – 40 as the state's protocol officer. Please join me in acknowledging the dedication and commitment of this exemplary public servant. (Mr. Lum rose to be recognized.)

"Mr. Lum is a true public servant. It never mattered if he was working in a Democrat administration or in a Republican administration, whether he was dealing with the House, the Senate, the executive branch, he was exemplary and I will miss you terribly Mr. Lum.

"My final thanks go to the people of Hawaii for giving me the chance to serve. Whether here at home, or traveling on the mainland or in foreign countries, wherever I go, whoever I talk with, I am always so full of pride because I represent the best people in the best place in the world.

"In closing, I can say with gratitude and humility that the state of our State is better today than it was three years ago. It is better today than it was last year. And if we have the political will to work together to make the correct choices during this Legislative Session, the state of our State next year will be even better and stronger and more promising.

"Let's commit to work together to ensure that our economic prosperity continues, that we all share in the benefits of that prosperity, and that we protect those things that make Hawaii special. We have the opportunity. We have the means. Now together, let's seize this moment.

"Mahalo, and God bless you all."

Senate President Robert Bunda then rose and stated:

"Thank you, Governor.

"We certainly do have a lot of work to do this Session. Your proposals will be the subject of much discussion in the coming weeks, and it is our hope that we can find some common ground for the good of the people of Hawaii.

"At this time, this Joint Session of the Legislature is now adjourned."

At 11:00 o'clock a.m., President Bunda declared the Joint Session adjourned.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATION

Misc. Com. No. 1, from the County of Kauai, Department of Water, dated November 28, 2005, transmitting the "Proposed C.I.P. Projects, Request for State Aid, 2006 Legislative Session," and Resolution No. 3, 2006-2007, was read by the Clerk and was placed on file.

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, I rise in response to an article that the Hawaii Reporter put out, written by Laura Brown. It was posted on January 20, 2006. In part, what it says is, 'Some contractors – including the company owned by the brother of the Senate Education Chair – got paid for projects they did not complete.' In the article it also states that the 'Hawaii Reporter contacted S&M Sakamoto and its office and confirmed that the company completed the $20,000 work order on the bleachers at Mililani High School last summer. However, Mililani High School administrators confirmed that the work was done, not by Sakamoto's company, but instead by military volunteers.'

"Mr. President, I don't know what the rationale for this is. I don't know if it's my responding to the Governor and the Minority Leaders of the Party in trying to clear up the repair and maintenance dollars. I don't know if it's my responding to misstatements or statements or puffery on this Floor with some of my colleagues here, Mr. President.

"With this incorrect portrayal of my brother, his company, this places sort of a dim view of this publication or this author's view of government, of small business. This isn't right. Do they feel that government is fraught with cheating, stealing, deception? Maybe the people they're associated with think that's the common practice. But it's a sad day when jumping to this kind of conclusion can make innocent people at the school, in the business world, some contractors, including my brother's company, put in a wrong light.

"So let me set part of the record straight. We can go on and on. I have documentation that can backup what I'm saying. But in part, S&M Sakamoto was awarded the Mililani High School wooden bleachers repair project on May 10, 2004, and the work was completed on August 1, 2004. The bleachers were located at the football stadium, tennis courts, and baseball field. I've been given payroll affidavits from S&M Sakamoto and their painting subcontractor that were submitted to DAGS to certify who worked on the project and what they were paid.

"The custodian at Mililani High School reported in July of 2005, eleven months after S&M Sakamoto completed the project, that parents and volunteers did paint the stadium bleachers a similar brown color to what was used. Some power washing of the concrete base was done, but no repairs to the bleachers themselves. The volunteer work apparently was done only to the stadium bleachers.

"S&M Sakamoto denies it got paid for any of the work they did not perform and asks that the news report be retracted and that an apology be issued to S&M Sakamoto for accusing them of fraud in performing this work. There are documents to show that it was a bid. Four contractors bid and they were the lowest bidder. I got an e-mail from my brother. He had talked to the current principal at the school. Dr. Brummel said that Laura Brown was wrong in her facts, if indeed you can call them facts, but was wrong. There was volunteer work done to the bleachers but it was done last year and totally nothing to do with the work that the company had done.

"Mr. President, we need to rise above the dim corridors that these tabloids or pseudo-whatever puts out, Mr. President. They need to report the facts, not just jump to conclusions seeing one event and another event and immediately saying there's something wrong. There is something wrong when people take a dim view of government, a dim view of small business, a dim view of people who are trying to do their best – that's what is wrong.

"So Mr. President, we need to set the record straight and I ask that the people involved do set the record straight with the appropriate apologies, retractions, or corrections.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

On motion by Senator Hee, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, the report of the majority of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1949, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS TO PROVIDE FOR THE EXPENSES OF THE LEGISLATURE, THE AUDITOR, THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU, AND THE OMBUDSMAN," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, February 2, 2006.

ORDER OF THE DAY

RE-REFERRAL OF SENATE BILLS

The Chair re-referred the following Senate bills that were introduced:

Senate Bill	Referred to:
No. 2222	Committee on Media, Arts, Science and Technology, then to the Committee on Ways and Means
No. 2269	Jointly to the Committee on Media, Arts, Science and Technology and the Committee on Business and Economic Development, then to the Committee on Ways and Means

Misc. Com. No. 2, from the Hawai'i Educational Policy Center, dated December 28, 2005, transmitting the Temporary Early Childhood Education Task Force Report, pursuant to Act 151, SLH 2005, was read by the Clerk and was placed on file.

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, it's no secret here in the Senate that in accordance with Rule 4, which clearly says the Vice President and President shall prepare and administer a budget for the Senate, there seems to be some consternation on the budget which was duly discussed this morning in the Ways and Means Committee, but unfortunately, answers were not forthcoming.

"I sent a letter to you dated January 30th asking for an explanation via the budget of what I surmise to be discrimination. You might even say there's unconstitutional discrimination, via the fact that we do represent a portion of our electorate in the State of Hawaii, regarding the differences between the perks and benefits paid by the taxpayers accorded to Majority Party members and Minority Party members. We did receive some answers. And according to a letter I've received from you today, the information I requested was passed on to the Senate Vice President. But the specific answers we requested in my letter to you have not been forthcoming, nor have they been answered.

"I might add that several years ago we requested the Senate budget worksheets be made available so the public could understand what's being done, and that turned out to be very much of a success for everybody, including this Senate for being astute enough after years of having the budget made under the shadow of secrecy of the Legislature, I would suggest that now is the time to do the same for our operating budget, Mr. President.

"We believe that there is a tremendous discrimination between what Majority Party office holders in their research office make compare to their counterparts in our office. We believe that there is a misappropriation of money by allowing Majority Party members to have two office staff members in the interim when our office only has one. And we're also very concerned that the budget that we're going to pass 48 hours from now is going to up the allowances for each legislative office by 50 percent, which is clearly a substantial increase but yet there's no accounting for that money. We would like to see how that money is spent by the individual offices.

"I would remind all of us it's not our money. There are a lot of people working awfully hard. In fact, statistically, the State of Hawaii has more people working two jobs to make ends meet than most states. We have one of the highest rates of dual wagger households in the nation.

"Mr. President, before we vote on the budget, I would like to see the Majority Party make information available to us so that we can make informed decisions on how to vote on this budget. But right now, we seem to be voting for a lot of things that are working against us as far as fairness and equity goes in the budget process.

"I might add that we were duly elected by the people of Hawaii. We represent 20 percent of this Legislative Body, but when I added up the votes, we represented 40 percent of the constituents of this State. I think they deserve every bit a fair consideration, as far as the budget process goes, that the Majority Party's constituents do.

"We would like to also get some specific answers to these specific questions. I did receive some generic information but it had nothing to do with the information I requested. I'd like to ask once again that whoever is, under Rule 4, handling this issue, be forthcoming with some information, Mr. President.

"Thank you."

The Chair responded:

"Senator Hemmings, if you have time this afternoon, I'd like to sit down with you and your staff to go over some of the documents."

Senator Fukunaga, Chair of the Committee on Media, Arts, Science and Technology, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for the following Senate Bills:

- S.B. No. 2384;
- S.B. No. 2570;
- S.B. No. 2651;
- S.B. No. 2716;
- S.B. No. 2740;
- S.B. No. 2741;
- S.B. No. 2742;
- S.B. No. 2813;
- S.B. No. 3111; and
- S.B. No. 3222.

Senator Fukunaga noted:

"Mr. President, for the member's information, these bills are essentially performing and digital media measures which we would like to advance early on the agenda and take as much time for comment and testimony as possible. Thank you."

The Chair then granted the waiver.

Senator Trimble rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"The comments concern, I guess, form as well as substance. When we have a bill and we hear it before Committee, usually there is somebody there that we as Senators can ask questions of to get information from. And so, when the bill came before us in Ways and Means, the Legislative Auditor was there to answer questions about her portion of the budget, the Ombudsman was there, so was the Legislative Reference Bureau. But when it came to our own expenses or our own budget, there was nobody there sitting at the table in front of us that we could ask questions of and get straight answers on an immediate basis.

"Many of my constituents, and I'm sure some of yours, consider much of what we do, at best, are irrelevant and at worst either negative or partisan. And I think that if the process were more open and transparent at least in terms of our budget and our expenses when it goes before Ways and Means, much of the fears of the general public might be allayed.

"So I ask, in the future, if it is possible to have somebody at the table that is a testifier, then they can speak in terms of how the budget was prepared and what was included, it would facilitate the matters at the Committee level where it should be originally discussed.

"Thank you."

ADJOURNMENT

At 11:56 o'clock a.m., on motion by Senator Hee, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Wednesday, February 1, 2006.

Respectfully submitted,

Clerk of the Senate

ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 1949, S.D. 1:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 1949, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this proposed appended operating budget for the State Legislature and its attached agencies.

"Mr. President, before I speak, I have to say that often in the past I have stood up and extolled the virtues of this Legislative Body and its attached agencies for its efficiencies – economies at scale, and spending the taxpayers' money efficiently. At that time, what I did not know was the way the money was being spent. And in a curious way, Mr. President, I still don't know exactly how the money is being spent, but I do want to thank the Senate Vice President for delivering to me some of the details of this proposed budget. I have to say we have not received nor secured any of the budget worksheets, only what appears to be expenditure figures from previous budgets. This whole process has, in my estimation, made a mockery of equal access for all.

"This proposed budget lacks transparency and, quite honestly, disfranchises many constituents, our constituents in the State of Hawaii. During the interim, for instance, the Majority Party Legislators have allowances for two fulltime permanent staff members, the Minority Party continues on with just one. This is a recent occurrence. You may rationalize that the Majority Party includes Committee Chairmen. Well, not all of them are Committee Chairmen, yet they still have two staff members. And I might remind everybody that Committees do not meet in the interim so there is no justification for the added workload that an extra personnel would call for.

"In addition, there are few committee hearings at all during the interim, so there is just no justification for two staff members in the Majority Offices. But even more importantly, why was the Minority Party discriminated against?"

"Approximately $350,000 is being cut from the proposed budget by the S.D. 1. This was done in the Ways and Means Committee. Was that money going to be used for better access for our constituents? We don't know the exact details because we don't know the details of where the money was going to be spent.

"I'm concerned that the Senate, by passing this amended budget, will be saying in effect that the constituents in Manoa or Kalihi are more important than my constituents in Waimanalo.

"This budget was revised in Ways and Means. This was after some of the details were publicly revealed by the Senate Vice President under Senate Rule 4. We believe that the taxpayers who pay for all this deserve to see the details and there should not be a cloak of secrecy on how this entire branch of government operates and who gets paid what, when, where, and why. We once again want to thank the Senate Vice President for her public inquires regarding this budget. Without them, we would have never been able to reveal the partisanship and prejudicial nature of this legislative budget.

"The Majority Party continues down the dangerous and, I might add, possibly unconstitutional practice of intentionally, systematically, disfranchising many citizens of this State. We're standing up and speaking for them.

"This operating budget, because it does not fund in equal and fair manner both parties makes a mockery out of the democratic process. For that reason, I'll be voting 'no' on this proposed budget. And since this budget poses so many problems, it may be worthy of asking the Governor for a veto so it can be sent back and remedies can be made to the secrecy and also the partisanship of this budget.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"Mr. President, first I'd like to thank yourself and the Senate Vice President for your hard work and for the sharing of the information that my colleague across the way, the Minority Leader, can now speak to, because in fact that was the intent and the creation of the transparency so that the criticisms can actually flow. And in fact, this is what facilitated or should have facilitated the discussions in Ways and Means as the matter moved forward.

"Mr. President, I take great issue with statements about the fact that this is an unconstitutional practice. I also have concerns about a call to the Governor to veto the legislative budget in this process as well because these are really uncalled for measures.

"As the Minority Leader pointed out, Mr. President, this Senate has poised to adopt a budget that is about 7 to 8 percent less than what the House is about to adopt. And it is because the Senate has decided, after looking at all of these figures, that we can operate with that reduction and we do not want to take anymore money than is necessary.

“We’ve heard statements about the fact that the Senate has or the Majority members of the Senate has two positions while the Minority members do not. That is not correct, Mr. President, for the period of time that the Minority member has been taking about that. He should get his facts straight. And to say that we do not do anything in the interim, Mr. President, that is an absolute incorrect statement. Many of us work very hard in the interim, and depending on the Committee obligations as well as the community obligations, some work harder than others. What comes to mind, of course, is the good Senator from the Kalihi area and Nuuanu as well as our good Education Chair, Human Services Chair –they’ve worked very hard during the interim. Mr. President, Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs had a statewide hearing, as did other members of this Body. We take very seriously the work that we do.

“Mr. President, this is a measure which has been debated among the members of this Body and it is a measure that requires and should be voted upon and I ask you and my colleagues to do so. We have more than justified the reasons why we were going to the increase, albeit about 8 percent less than the House, and we have shown the Majority members have carried the weight of Committee Chairmanships and Vice Chairmanships. Every member of the Majority Party has both of these responsibilities – one or the other. Some of us carry both Leadership positions as well as Chairmanships. As a matter of fact, I believe most members of the Majority Leadership here carry both burdens, or at least a Vice Chairmanship as well as the Leadership position.

“Mr. President, the staffing and everything is well justified and I believe that our colleagues from across the way should join us in approving this budget. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 1949.

“I would enjoy being able to confirm and discuss the facts. Unfortunately, they have not been presented to us. I rose on a point of privilege two days ago and I asked that the worksheets be presented to us. I asked that the State Senate in Ways and Means apply the same standard that they hold the administration to when they have a Ways and Means hearing as they do to their own budget. This I know is a fact. I do not know what numbers to which you refer. And it would be appropriate for the Governor to veto this measure because we are not applying the same standard and the same criteria when we look at administrative bills for money as we do for our own.

“And quite frankly, the public is beginning to question what is the price of friendship? What is the cost of loyalty? Wouldn’t it be easier to provide at the public hearings, so that there could be open and free discussion, somebody to testify and present the information on the part of the Majority Party on behalf of the Senate just like the Legislative Auditor was there to answer questions. But we don’t do this. And because we are treating appropriation measures differently, I think it is appropriate for all of us to vote ‘no’ against this measure.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I stand in support of this measure.

“I will not speak to the merits of the previous speaker – I think our process can certainly improve – but I wanted to speak to the merits of what is contained in the budget.

“My understanding is that most of the increase is in the area of personnel and that is to add positions to various offices. It is also to increase the per diem for, I believe, the neighbor islanders as well as to increase the Senate account that we have to be able to do a lot of our legislative functions from $5,000 per year to $7,500 a year.

“Just from my own experience as a Chair and I know Vice Chairs as well, we are responsible for responding and to work with the entire State of Hawaii. So, for example, for in the Committee on Human Services we continuously get inquiries from all over this State, not only in my particular district. 365 days are committed to this work, 16 to 20 hours. I don’t know if people really understand that.

“The interim work that we do is essential to making sure that, as we go into the next Session, the community is organized, that we have well thought out legislation that can make a difference in Hawaii. I think it’s long over due in terms of the per diem, and maybe our neighbor island colleagues can speak more to that in terms of what they’ve had to take out of their own pocket in order to do the business of Hawaii.

“Also, the Senate account, the $5,000, doesn’t even cover one Senate mailing, and I think we have an obligation to communicate with our constituents about what has happened in the Legislature. Every year we walk the district in order to deliver the newsletter or to take surveys because we do not have that kind of resource, and I’m very thankful that we have a lot of volunteers to do that. The $7,500 at least will cover one mailing. I think we should be communicating a lot more often with our constituents.

“So, thank you very much and I appreciate the opportunity.”

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in rebuttal.

“I want to greatly thank the Majority Party members that have stood up in a feeble attempt to defend this budget and give me further cause to rebut their logic and misrepresentations.

“Some have lauded that this budget is 7 to 8 percent less than the House budget. That’s because you cut wireless communication allocations out of the budget. The possibility of having this Legislature brought into the 21st Century when it comes to communication, this was so egregious that a couple of Majority Party members in Ways and Means when it was done stood up and said ‘I’m not voting against wireless communication,’ but yet that was the money that was allegedly being cut.

“Quite frankly, I’m insulted by the representation by the Majority Party that they are the only people who work in the interim and therefore deserve twice as many staff members. I will also remind everybody in this Body concerning Committee Chairmen that there are very few, if any, official Committee hearings during the interim, and if there are, that Minority Party members go to those too and have to do work.

“I also remind the good Senator from Waianae who brought this issue up, that there are only 13 Committee Chairmen as I think the number was last time I counted, yet every one of the Majority Party members or close to it have two staff members. The good Senator from Waianae implied that I don’t have my facts straight. Well I do, Senator, here they are. They were given to me by the Senate Vice President sitting right next to her.

“These are the facts, and they do show the price salary ranges, not specifics, of what the Democrat Majority gets as opposed to the Republican Minority. But you want to talk about equal pay for equal work – something that seems to be politically correct oftentimes in this Chamber. I’d like to ask why Majority Party staff members make considerably more than our hardworking Minority staff members. Why is the Director of the Majority Research Office, according to this document, making $70,000 a year and yet the Republican Research Office Director makes less than $45,000. It makes a mockery out of equal pay for equal work, but more importantly it makes a mockery out of fairness, and I resent the implication that I don’t have my facts straight.

“I’m not a lawyer, but I’ve read the State Constitution. The Majority Party member across the way implied there is nothing constitutionally wrong with this budget. Well, it so happens that the Constitution has a segment in it called Rights of Citizens, Article I, Section 8 – ‘No citizen shall be disenfranchised or deprived of any of the rights or privileges secured to other citizens.’ My constituents are being deprived of fairness and rights on strictly partisan basis. You have disenfranchised them. You have taken away their ability to have me represent them with the full power and resources that you have generously allocated to yourselves. This is partisan.

“I did not ask the Governor, and I want to correct the misrepresentation, to veto this budget. I asked her to consider it.

“Regarding Legislative allotments and what is allowed in the office – maybe in order to be as transparent and detailed and accountable as the Majority Party often stands up and so self righteously demands from the executive branch of government, maybe we should demand that transparency for ourselves too.

“Let’s take a look at office allowances. We’re not objecting to allowances. We know that our salary does not include all of the protocol costs and other thing that are necessary – the leis and the other costs that we pay for in our offices – and there may be justification to have a 50 percent increase in that. We’re not objecting to that, at least I’m not. But maybe the public needs to know how that money is being spent.

“So there seems to be a lot of duplicity, a lot of doubletalk, but more importantly, a lot of petty partisanship.

“Mr. President and colleagues, in more enlightened jurisdictions there are better ways to do this. And that is simply to allot money based on the person’s office, not their political label. It seems to work pretty well on the City Council. It seems to work pretty well in the Congress of the United States.

“It’s about time we bring this Legislature into the 21st Century. This is not the old days when one party ran a political monopoly at the expense of fair play and honesty and openness.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to the bill, the budget.

“I don’t recall in the ten years that I’ve been here that I’ve ever voted against the Legislative budget, although I have raised concerns year after year. And this year in Ways and Means there were enough concerns raised and enough questions asked and enough information not provided that I asked for the bill to be deferred the other day. And it was voted down handily – 11 to 3 I think was the vote – not even to defer, not even to wait until we got our facts, not even until legitimate questions were answered. And that disturbs me, Mr. President.

“What also disturbs me is every year the budget comes in and each section has a general fund appropriation, but nowhere in the budget itself is a total amount shown. Those of us that like to add up numbers and do so regularly, found, for example, that this budget now is over $30 million in general fund and audit revolving fund expenditures – $30 million to run a 60-day, part-time State Legislature. That’s a lot of money, and we’ve watched it over the years continue to increase. So we can talk about a percentage reduction here or we’ve cut out $340,000 or $355,000 there, but the fact of the matter is that 30 million bucks is real money. And increases in personnel foretells increased costs continuously year, after year, after year.

“I, too, thank the good Vice President for getting this information, but it’s my recollection she’s been trying to get this information for more than a year now. Why should that be? And the statement by both the good Senator from downtown and also the Minority Leader about the scrutiny that we give to the Executive Branch and to departments, I absolutely support. If you’re going to talk about transparency, if your talk about programs, whether you’re talking about trips to China or anything else, there should be a justification and the public should know whether it’s public money or it is public agencies using private money. Those are legitimate issues and I think that they should be explored, asked, and answered. And I think we’ve tried to do that in every area except this legislative area.

“The other thing that amuses and frustrates a lot of people is the fact that today represents the 10th day of the 60-day Legislative Session – 1/6 of this Session is over. And after all the lofty speeches about homelessness and healthcare and identity theft and surplus and schools and rehabilitation, what is it that we always do first? We always take care of ourselves. We always pass first the legislative budget to take care of ourselves – to raise our allowances, to increase personnel, to increase salaries. I don’t want to get into the spitting match about who deserves more or why there is or isn’t equal pay. I’m looking at it from the taxpayer’s standpoint that this is a lot of money, particularly when people are struggling so – when we are creating homelessness, when we have the lowest unemployment rate in the nation and we cheer about that but businesses can’t find anybody to work for them, and if we find somebody, they can’t go to work because they don’t have a home or they don’t have a roof over their heads. These are the issues that we should have been grappling with from day one. We should have already passed two, three, five, a half dozen bills! But no, we sit here. This is the longest Session we’ve had since the beginning. We were getting used to those four and five minute Sessions. This is the longest Session and the only debate we’ve had, and what are we debating? To give us more money, to give us more options.

“I just think that we should be more careful and we should realize where this money is coming from. It is not government money. It is not our money just to divide up. It is the taxpayers' money. It's all those people that we say we care about – the single mom and the elderly and the really young people trying to get a start. The things that we do, every penny that we spend in here is their money. It's not our money, and I think we give short shrift to that.

“So, Mr. President, reluctantly I'm going to vote against this to call attention to the fact that we've got to be more careful with the people's money and we've got to have our priorities set and our priorities should not always be us, us, us, us, us.

“And finally, Mr. Chair, my good colleague from the landfill area of golden Waianae, I don't dispute the work that's done during the interim sessions, but I do agree with the Minority Leader that Minority members of the Legislature are fully involved, whether there are informational briefings or hearings or anything else. But I detected in her voice a little bit of concern because the Majority seems to be overworked, or at least they think they are. So I will repeat my call and volunteer all five of your Minority here – all stalwart, young, hardworking, energetic people – to take some of this burden off your shoulders and give us Committee Chairmanships! We could take five out of the thirteen. We could really help you. You'd have more time to have your visions and your dreams. Give us the Chairmanships as was done on a bipartisan basis more than a decade ago when we had Mary George and Stan Koki operating Committees and operating them well. We will serve you well. We will serve the people well. So let us help you. We stand here . . . that's what we wait for day after day – for the phone to ring and say, 'hey, send in the first team.' (Laughter.)

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose and said:

“Mr. President, I wanted to ask a question of the previous speaker.”

The President posed the question and Senator Slom replied:

“Why I'd be honored.”

Senator Chun Oakland inquired:

“Could you explain to the public and to us how our staff would be paid if we do not pass the budget now?”

Senator Slom replied:

“The question is, how would the staff be paid if we don't pass the budget now? The staff will be paid and there's no reason that we could not pass this budget. What I said was, we pontificated here on opening day about how important these other issues are, so if we made them a priority we could have passed two, four, six, eight, ten bills immediately in the first couple of days. That's all I'm saying in terms of priority.

“No one is saying that staff should not be paid. No one is saying that anyone else is not entitled to the kinds of things they get. I'm just saying, what's the priority? Are we really first? Do we need to be first each time? That's my answer.”

Senator Chun Oakland further inquired:

“Mr. President, another question. So, your understanding is, if we do not pass this particular budget, our staff would not be paid, unlike the departments that do have a budget already to pay their staff. I just wanted you to inform correctly, the process here.”

Senator Slom replied:

“Well, I think we all understand the process, and again what I'm talking about is not mutually exclusive. There is noting that says that we cannot pass additional bills at the same time or in advance of the legislative budget. Nobody is trying to take away anything from our employees. I have employees too. I want them paid. I see new employees that come and they wait two months before their first pay and that has nothing to do with whether or not the budget was passed. That has to do with the way in which we pay our employees.”

Senator Chun Oakland then stated:

“Incorrect. Your point was that why do we pass the budget early on. My understanding with other bills, especially if they require money, we cannot pass those bills until the state budget is passed in the month of April.

“And with regards to a comment made by the previous Senator. I'm not too sure if he was referring to the workload. For myself I have invited every Legislator to participate in sharing the workload and unfortunately there has not been response.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom responded:

“Excuse me, Mr. President, an answer to that again – maybe the good Senator from Nuuanu had a hard time hearing since she's seven feet away, but what I'd said was Committee Chairmanships, Committee Chairmanships. Since the issue was paying Committee Chairmen, Chairwomen, Chairs more money and having them do more responsibility, what I said was 'share the Chairmanships,' we'd be very happy to do that.”

President Bunda stated:

“Senator Chun Oakland, one more question if you have one.”

Senator Chun Oakland then said:

“A comment, Mr. President. Not with regards to these chairmanships, the workload issue is what I believe he was talking about as well. And we always encourage all members of this Body to actively be involved not only during the Session but during the interim, and unfortunately some members have not participated.”

Senator Slom then rose and said:

“Mr. President, a final point about that.

“I'd be very happy if the good Senator would supply us a list of those people that she feels are not pulling their weight, not doing their things. And I would also want to know if the good Senator is talking about just her Committee alone and her areas of interest or if we're talking about the broad span of issues that we are called upon to discuss and be involved in on a daily basis.”

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this budget.

“Mr. President, first let me just say that all of the material, all of the information that I have requested have been given to everybody. There is nothing that I have not shared. So there are no worksheets. There is nothing that we are withholding.

“There has been more transparency in this budget or in the information than there has ever been in the past. And if you talk about duplicity, then it interests me why my good colleagues across the way or the Minority Leader hasn’t stood up and asked for this information. I believe he voted in favor of an increase in budget last year, not asking any questions. Interesting enough, certainly there were some monies put in for the Minority as well. That’s probably why they supported the budget at that time.

“So, if you talk about duplicity, the bottom line is we’re cutting the budget. We’re trying to be responsible in making sure that the budget is lean enough, and yet they’re standing up and saying, why are we cutting it? Maybe we should continue and ask for all of the money that was included without really knowing what is being spent. So, I have to question the nature of which this conversation or this debate on this Floor is going regarding the budget. I believe that the Minority, our good Minority Leader, has been given all the information that we’ve received. Yes, we have not reached the level that I’m happy with as far as full transparency, but we have gotten more transparency than we’ve ever had in the past, and I think it’s a step in the right direction and we’ll certainly be working towards that, Mr. President.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hooser also rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Mr. President and colleagues, I’d like to urge you all to vote ‘yes’ on this. I think this is a good budget. I want to complement the Senate Vice President and the Ways and Means Chair and the staff of the members of the Ways and Means Committee.

“I find it kind of ironic that this is the most transparent that we’ve been, I think, in my experience working with this budget. We’ve actually taken the budget and looked at it closely and cut a significant portion from it to be as economical and as efficient as we can, and yet as a result there seems to be more antagonism and more outrage and ‘no’ votes from the members of the Minority when in fact I think we’ve been more transparent than we’ve ever been. Certainly we can always make greater steps in that direction.

“I’d like to take issue with a couple of the comments made by earlier speakers, specifically the implication that our staffs that we have, our hardworking people in our offices, are not working and not doing the work of the people and the work of the Senate. I feel that my people in my office are insulted.”

Senator Whalen interjected:

“Point of order, Mr. President. There was nothing even close to that. The speaker obviously misunderstood something and I don’t want to sit through a fifteen minute explanation about how their staff works just as hard as ours because there was no comment ever implied that any of the Majority staff members did not do their work and work hard.”

President Bunda then said:

“Mr. President, I think the comments made were that we’re part-time Legislators and we have two fulltime staff members year around and yet apparently there’s not work to do. To me that equates to the same as an insult both to myself, Majority members who do work hard, and to my staff.

“As I look around the room at the room of Majority members, very few take this job as a part-time position. During the interim, I know myself and many of you served on not just the Ways and Means meetings and site visits, there was the affordable housing taskforce, there was the sustainability taskforce, there was Judiciary work, plus there’s the work of dealing with our constituents on a regular basis. This is not a 60-day job. Many of us, and I’m not going to speak for the Minority Party, many of us take this job seriously and we work at it very hard and on a fulltime basis.

“Some of the other comments made earlier were about the wireless system. Quite honestly, that’s a ludicrous, straw-man type of saying. This is not about a wireless system, Mr. President. This is about passing a good budget. We all want to improve our technology and we’re all committed to doing that.

“This is a good budget and I must point out in support of an earlier comment from my colleague, that we have to pass this bill to pay our staff. It’s a good bill. It’s more transparent than it’s ever been and we’ve worked hard to make it as efficient and as economical as possible.

“I urge my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1949, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS TO PROVIDE FOR THE EXPENSES OF THE LEGISLATURE, THE AUDITOR, THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU, AND THE OMBUDSMAN,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Fukunaga, Chair of the Committee on Media, Arts, Science and Technology, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for S.B. Nos. 2818 and 2960.

Senator Fukunaga noted:

“Mr. President, the reason for the waiver is that we just received the re-referral notice in today’s OD.”

The Chair then granted the waiver.

Senator Taniguchi rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“Mr. President, I normally don’t like to do these things, but I think with regard to, I guess, the calendar this morning was H.B. No. 1949, the legislative expense bill. I guess I caught note of the article in Saturday’s paper in which the Minority Leader mentioned that, well, to quote, ‘Those state Capitol workers that did not get paid and the rest of the public need to know that this happened solely because the Democrats, specifically Senator Donna Mercado Kim, delayed the Legislature’s budget process to play petty politics.’

“Mr. President, I guess it bothered me because at our Ways and Means hearing on Thursday, February 2nd, there was a motion to defer action on the bill and that was made by a member of the Minority Party and it was voted on. The only people who supported that motion were the Minority members on the Ways and Means Committee.

“So I just wanted to let the public know that there was an error in the article. Maybe the Minority Leader had forgotten about this, but, anyway, I just wanted to note that for the record because the quote is incorrect.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I have a pretty good memory, Mr. President, and regarding the previous speaker’s position on this issue, I think the record will clearly reflect that it is a fact that the amendment of H.B. No. 1949, causing it to go to the House and wait 48 hours, is indeed the very specific reason why the bill did not go to the Governor’s Office.

“The previous speaker is exactly right; we did want to defer it because we have many unanswered questions ‘til this day about the prejudicial treatment and also the politicization of the budget. I do want to set the record straight, too, that Republicans did vote against the amendment. And what was the amendment, by the way? I think some Majority Party members expressed concern about it because it was in order to say that an attempt was made to save money. The money was being taken out of wireless technology for this building, which in fact over the long haul probably could have enabled us to be a lot more effective in our jobs. As you know, Mr. President and colleagues, several years ago we received portable computers, but unfortunately because we do not have wireless technology they are not being used to their fullest ability. I think some more enlightened members of the Majority Party recognize that.

“To make a long story short, Mr. President, the other thing that we would love to see in the budget is what you’re demanding from the executive branch of Government now after years and years and years of making budgets without access to transparency and information. We want to know, Mr. President, why Majority Party staff members that are doing equal work get paid considerably more than Minority members. Both caucuses, for instance, receive money for communications staff, but you have twice as many as we do and they get paid considerably more.

“So, Mr. President, I’m very proud, and let the record reflect, that what we tried to do in the Ways and Means Committee was bring some honesty and illuminate the facts on this issue rather than just rubberstamp it and send it through as it is normally done.

“I would like to, in this period of cooperation, offer a solution concerning, and I’ll offer it again, concerning the prejudicial management of this budget that favors one group of Legislators against another and therefore discriminates against our constituents, and that has to do with the City Council and what Congress does – budget by office regardless of political labels.

“I think there are common sense solutions, and in a roundabout way, Mr. President and colleagues. I think this discussion has been healthy. It’s allowing us to put our differences on the table for discussion and let the public decide who’s responsible for what.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Kim rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

“Mr. President, again, the Minority Leader tries to get around the actual statement that was made this morning that he made in the newspaper in the Advertiser on Saturday, and frankly, exactly what is factual true about what was quoted in the paper. He stands there and talks about the amendment that was made in Committee. In fact, he supported the amendment that was made in Committee – the amendment that would have supported or the amendment that brings about a savings to the taxpayers of $340,000. After supporting the amendment, it was the Minority that asked for a deferral. And it was the Minority that supported the deferral, which would have caused the delay. And it was the Majority that voted against the delay.

“Typically, when the Minority Leader contradicts himself, he reverts to using his favorite term – ‘petty politics.’ And since there was no delay, or if the amendment caused a delay, one that he supported, and was voted for by the Majority and Minority, his statement is inaccurate, hypocritical, and duplicitous, which is one of his favorite words. This, my colleagues, is a clear example of the Minority playing ‘petty politics.’

“Finally, let us not forget that it was the Minority Leader right on this Floor that told us he asked the Governor to consider vetoing the legislative budget. So let’s see if I got this right:

He blames us for a delay, when in fact the only delay was the Governor not in town to sign the measure;

He blames us when ironically the only delay was voted for by the Minority Leader in Committee;

He blames us when he voted against the budget on Thursday – of course a ‘no’ vote would have definitely delayed Capitol workers from getting paid; and

It even gets more bizarre because the Minority Leader tells us in this Body that he asked the Governor to consider a veto. This would have definitely delayed everybody from getting paid. Our good Senator from Nuuanu and the Senator from East Honolulu debated this very issue.

“And again, finally, it was the Governor or Lieutenant Governor who was not around to sign the bill, ultimately causing a real delay.

“Now, this kind of posturing and doubletalk, hypocrisy on the part of the Minority Leader does not surprise me. What I object to is his false statements that we delayed the budget due to ‘petty politics’ when all the time he was the one who wanted the delay, voted for the deferral, and voted against the budget. Every single one of his actions have ultimately or would have ultimately resulted in the Capitol workers not getting paid on time. And this, my friends, they should know about. The public should know about it and the Capitol workers should know about it. And anybody else who made a statement of that nature – shame on you!

“Now, I knew typically that the Minority Leader would have stood up and talked about fairness and talked about the rhetoric without answering his questions because he doesn’t have the decency or is man enough to once again say he spoke without thinking. Frankly, I think his Party should be embarrassed by a leader of his nature.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal as follows:

“Mr. President, in rebuttal.

“There’s much to be said, Mr. President, but I think William Shakespeare ironically said it in a speech or rather in a play with a plot, I might add, that is incredibly similar to the machinations of this Senate. It’s from Hamlet, and in closing I’d like to say, ‘The lady doth protest too much, methinks.’”

ORDER OF THE DAY

S.B. No. 2092, S.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 2092, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

“Members, this is a relatively innocuous bill requiring associations to give prior written notice of costs for providing information, but the bulk of the testimony at the hearing was in opposition. The bill is moving forward with a 2050 defective date and it would seem to me that in light of the testimony, that there really is no need for it to go forward.

“So, if the parties want to talk, they can talk somewhere else. We don’t have to force them, so I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

Senator Espero rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d like to rise in support of this measure.

“We passed similar bills to these in reference to condominiums last year. This bill relates to homeowner’s associations for single-family homes. Those individuals that did testify against this measure are the managing agents or the associations themselves. However, this bill will benefit literally thousands of homeowners and give them notice so they know that they will not get stuck with a $150 legal fee, for example, that they did not know was coming to them.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2092, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLANNED COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Ihara).

S.B. No. 2193, S.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 2193, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I also rise in opposition.

“This is also a relatively manini measure that is moving forward. Just bringing up some testimony here from the Mililani Town Association testifying that this bill arose due to an isolated incident at one planned community association and is not a statewide problem requiring what they characterize as unnecessary attempts to micromanage these community associations, so I’ll be voting ‘no.’

“Thank you.”

Senator Espero rose to support the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“This is a very simple basic concept that is a managing agent is holding records for your association which you pay for which have to do with the operations and the history of your association, shouldn’t those records be available to the homeowners who are paying for their storage? Shouldn’t they be available to the homeowners for the duration that they are in the possession of the association? I believe that answer is yes. It’s not difficult for the associations to access these records. They are easily available and this measure would allow homeowners to have possession.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2193, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLANNED COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

RE-REFERRAL OF A SENATE BILL

The Chair re-referred the following Senate bill that was introduced:

Senate Bill Referred to:

No. 2190 Jointly to the Committee on Labor and the Committee on Ways and Means

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“It’s reported on the Web today and will be reported tomorrow, members, that the UH regents have suspended the presidential search and they will engage in a negotiation with President McClain to be considered as the next president. Members, by doing so, the taskforce on the Board of Regents would make this recommendation to the full board for action.

“Let me say at the outset, this is, in my view, inexplicable and is not in the best interest of the residents of Hawaii and in particular the students of the University of Hawaii campus, the ten-campus system.

“It’s unfathomable to me why the taskforce, regardless of the explanation on the Web would choose to suspend the opportunity for this great state to curtail its search for a president. Among the reasons outlined by the taskforce making the recommendation is, quote, ‘Your chances of finding another system president who would rate, quote, “outstanding,” end quote, are less than 50 percent.’ Quote, ‘Someone who has been doing the job extremely well for almost two years should not have to participate in a cattle call to keep the job. The Board of Regents should just appoint him,’ end quote. Quote, ‘If I were in your shoes, I would not proceed with a search until I knew the door was absolutely nailed shut for David McClain,’ end quote. And finally, quote, ‘No matter who tells you what, you have to do what is best for your university system and follow your instincts,’ end quote.

“Each of those reasons to stop the search is a reason to continue the search. If in fact the chances of finding another system president who would rate outstanding are less than 50 percent, let us go forward and find those other 50 percenters. If someone who has been doing the job extremely well for almost two years should not participate in the cattle call to keep that job, since when should the Board of Regents and this state capitulate without doing the people’s work and find in fact if he is the best person?

“No matter who tells you what to do, you have to do what is best for the university system and follow your instincts. I’m not sure what instincts one needs to follow to move forward with a transparent system, to move forward with a process that is open, to move forward with a system that seeks out the best and the brightest in this state, in this nation, and in this world.

“The brief remarks in today’s Advertiser on the Web says that ‘Board Chair Kitty Lagareta reported this morning that the search firm had recommended they suspend a nationwide search and offer interim President McClain the job. The regents expect to meet in March to pursue the issue.’ McClain announced in late November that he would not be a candidate for the presidency. In fact, he said on November 29th, ‘A full term as our university’s president involves at least a seven-year commitment. That’s the time normally required to fully shape a new course in this large and complex organization serving 80,000 students with a budget today of $1.1 billion. My predecessor’s contract was for seven years, extendable to ten. The three presidents before him each served between seven and ten years. In my view,’ said McClain, ‘this university needs a president who can commit to serving for that length of time. If I were chosen to be the UH president,’ he continued, ‘it’s likely that I’d serve only until 2009 and then the university would have to search again for a president. As a consequence, I do not intend to actively pursue the UH presidency.’

“Members, it’s clear to me that McClain and the University Board of Regents have a cozy relationship as it is clear to me that surely there are others who would be interested in a job that pays $350,000, that has a full-time maid, that has a full-time yard person, that in fact lives in a mansion called ‘College Hill.’ It is clear to me that David McClain, as he said on November 29th, if he wishes to be president, he should be willing to participate in a cattle call. And if he’s not willing to participate in the cattle call, he ought to do right by the students of the University of Hawaii and decline the capitulation by the Board of Regents to suspend a search to get the best and the brightest. Anything less, under a Democrat governor, would be criticized as the ‘old boy network’ going about their business behind closed doors to ensure one of their own to be the next president.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I, too, rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I wasn’t planning to say anything today, but I think that the remarks made by my distinguished colleague from Kahlualoa needs some balance – fair and balanced.

“First of all, I did not see the Web story so I’m not familiar with that. However, I did hear that in fact an offer may be made to Mr. McClain.

"I think it's a little sad that the remarks that were just made were basically made of a personal nature rather than pointing out specific issues. If we have issues of disagreement, that's one thing and we bring those issues forward, but I think we should keep a number of things in mind.

"And by the way, Mr. President, I'm standing here because I'm a graduate of the University of Hawaii, Manoa. That's my alma mater. So I take a particular interest in what's happening, and I take issue with the statement that it's a cozy relationship and it's part of the 'old boy network.' We all knew what the 'old boy network' was.

"I think it's interesting that here is a gentleman who took over the university at a time of crisis, and where did that crisis come from? This crisis came because after a national search, after everybody fell over and fawned over the candidate, we found out not only was he not capable of fairly and adequately administering the university, we found out that he didn't tell the truth. We found out that he came before this Body and made grandiose promises of financial assistance on projects which he never followed through with. We found out in fact that he looted the University of Hawaii and the people of this State and that the gentleman is lucky that he's not in jail right now, instead he's got a high paying position in Massachusetts. I understand in Massachusetts they look favorably upon people who have been felons or near felons.

"In any event, McClain took over. He didn't seek the job. He wasn't campaigning for the job, and over the last two years we've had stability restored to the university. We've moved to additional issues and we can agree or disagree on some of those issues. To say that it's a closed, 'old boy,' cozy network, however, belies the facts. And the facts are – interim President McClain actually allowed student and faculty protestors to take over his office for a number of days; he bent over backwards in making sure that all of the discussions were free and open, including his own chancellor who happened to recommend another position in the UARC issue.

"So, to say that this man really was basically plotting or scheming with the Governor or the Board of Regents I think does a great deal of injustice to the man. And yes, those quotes were accurate that the good Senator from Kahaluu read back in November because he was being honest and saying he wasn't looking for that long-term commitment. He wanted to spend time with his family. He made that very clear. But it was also very clear that there was a lot of support within the community to have temporary President McClain made permanent President McClain.

"And while I certainly agree that a search is a valuable thing to do, when you have somebody not only on the job but doing the job and doing it well, someone who has been fair and evenhanded, someone who has brought back respect to the University of Hawaii, someone who has removed the clouds left by the last nationally secured president of this university, then I think unless we have serious and grievous concerns about specific issues, that we should welcome the attempt to get him to do this. And it's not a done deal, from what I understand, not what I read from the Advertiser on the Web. But as the Senator said, there will be a subject brought up in the March meeting of the Board of Regents. We believe there will be an offer made, and I personally hope that that offer will be accepted. Because we've found out in the past – we found out from the superintendent of education who was also highly recruited. Of course we learned he got the job primarily because he was the only one that wore an aloha shirt instead of a suit, which I think is a tremendous, you know, vote of confidence for experience and background.

"We certainly should watch the university. We certainly should watch where the money goes. We certainly should question budgets and figures and issues that are taken, but not the personal attack on an individual who is very quiet, very behind the scenes, again, unlike his predecessor, who has done and is doing the job.

"So, from that standpoint, I think we should be pleased that at least he may be willing to accept that. We certainly will want to look at all of the requirements or all of the offers that are made, including the salary. Of course, I remind the good Senator from across the way that the football coach earns more than the President of the University of Hawaii. That's another issue that we might talk about. But I'm just suggesting that if we want to debate this issue, then let's in fact debate the issues and not slander the man.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hee rose in rebuttal and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in rebuttal. Let me be clear. My criticism is not to McClain. My criticism is to the process. My criticism is to the Board of Regents, the taskforce. The criticism for McClain will wait until the day that the regents, if we happen to be in Session, hire the man.

"But like the previous speaker, I have three degrees from UH Manoa. But unlike the previous speaker who evidently embraces the phrase 'do as I say, not as I do,' the criticism wasn't at McClain. It was at the process. It was at the Board of Regents. The reference to the cozy relationship was made in the context that if this were under a different regime, these are the comments that would be leveled.

"I don't know if there's any plotting or scheming going on. That will come to light on another day. But the criticism should be brought to bear right where it belongs – and that's at the feet of the Board of Regents, not the nominee or the individual who is being courted absent of a search. Why would you not do a search? McClain himself said it's in the best interest of the university to do a nationwide search. It's in the best interest of the students to have everyone considered. Why would you not do a search?

"So any capitulation to those words, it's not aimed at the individual who's being courted but at the courtiers, the Board of Regents.

"Thank you."

ORDER OF THE DAY

S.B. No. 2896, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Inouye, seconded by Senator Espero and carried, S.B. No. 2896, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Nishihara).

S.B. No. 3183, S.D. 1:

Senator English moved that S.B. No. 3183, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator Whalen rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"It sounds good and sounds great, however, the testimony from the expert brought in from the Rocky Mountain Alliance offered on his own without much questioning, actually, what is the effect of this going to be when we enact this? And he said, well, the emissions from Hawaii, our air is so clean already from the trade winds, etc., that it would make no difference on our environment. What about the worldwide global warming, etc.? Again, Hawaii is so small that it will make absolutely no difference in the effect of global warming. When asked, well, why should we do this? The response was, well, we should do this to join our voices with other states such as California who has horrible pollution and smog. We should join our voices with theirs' to show that we support this cause.

"However, the cost to have this extra system on the car he estimated to be about four or five, six, seven hundred dollars in that range to have these things on. I don't think we should burden our citizens with an increase cost of living to join our voices with states that need something like this.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator English rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“Mr. President, the good Senator from the Big Island I think misinterpreted what Kyle Datta said from the Rocky Mountain Institute. First of all, what this measure does is that it sets out the California process for clean air. And if any of you watched 60 Minutes this past Saturday, they had a segment called, ‘Global Warning’ and it talked about the collective greenhouse gasses and that about 25 percent of the North Pole has melted. And they are predicting that within this century, we’ll have three feet of sea level rise based on the current amount of CO2 that’s being put into the atmosphere.

“This particular measure adopts what many states have adopted and also adopts what the federal government has adopted and it goes into effect in ’09. The idea behind it is that every little bit of greenhouse gas emissions that go out contribute to global warming. The fact that we have trade winds that blow this over Hawai‘i is almost irrelevant because it adds to the entire global system. We are no longer isolated by artificial lines, political lines, the State of California versus the State of Nevada versus the State of Idaho, but it’s the amount of emissions that we put out. And because we contribute to global warming, it is a prudent step for us to do this to make sure that we cut back on our CO2 emissions.

“Now, the prices that were quoted by the previous speaker reflect what it would cost today. However, because the national standards will go into effect and the California standards are already in effect, these prices should drop as the car manufacturers build this on all of their cars.

“So, it is good for the environment, good for Hawai‘i, and good for the planet. I ask our members to support this. Thank you.”

Senator Whalen rose and stated:

“Mr. President, I’ll be brief.

“I take resentment that my previous speech was portrayed as misunderstanding what the testifier said because if the previous speaker took the time to look over the tape, because I believe Olelo was recording it, what I said was except for the price, I couldn’t remember exactly how much the cost was. What I said came out of his mouth and it’s almost a verbatim quote. So, for the previous speaker to present his argument as I misunderstood what the speaker said, perhaps he should listen to the speaker who is speaking and actually not twist it around so it works out in his mind what he thinks it should say, but actually listen to the speaker and what was said. And the speaker did say Hawaii is so small it will have no effect on global warming and it will have no effect on Hawaii’s air and the reason why we should do this is to join our voices. And if that’s the way this Body, the majority of you feel with the increased burden on the taxpayers, residents of Hawaii, then vote your conscience. For myself, I’d rather do what’s best for the people and not worry about making political grandstanding statements at the cost to the people of Hawaii.

“Thank you.”

Senator Kim rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, despite what many might think, I don't enjoy rising to speak about the lack of disclosure of information. But colleagues, the latest memo from the Senate Clerk requesting approval to install wireless access points at the Capitol is troubling. While I have no objection to the installing of wireless capability to various areas of the Capitol, I questioned why this information was not given to us or discussed during the legislative budget caucus on January 30th and/or at the WAM budget hearing on January 31st.

"I understand that discussions with Hawaiian Telcom on this particular project began in late December and that Hawaiian Telcom told me it was given the go ahead to begin the planning on January 25, 2006. So, again I ask, Why was this not discussed with the Caucus on January 30th?"

"I clearly recall general references – I'm sure many of you remember – were made about the wireless access of the entire Capitol at an estimate of approximately $370,000. Of course we had no definite dates or budget allotment for such project. The Caucus even asked that we be provided with the computer system's plan at that time, but no mention was made of this particular wireless project that was already in progress.

“Before you characterize this as an oversight or another misunderstanding, there was no misunderstanding in my February 3rd memo to the Clerk asking for, and I quote, ‘any information regarding the Capitol wireless program’ – again, any information regarding the Capitol wireless upgrade – to which no response has been given as of this day.

“Incidentally, the reason I go through the trouble of putting things in writing instead of a phone call is because I have been given, as I’m told, inaccurate information on the phone and I want to assure that there’s no misunderstanding of what I’m asking for and what I’m told and that all Senators, including the Minority, get the information.

“So, how could the fact that Hawaiian Telcom was in the process of designing this wireless system not be shared with us? Why was the $370,000 wireless project used in Caucus to justify the $1.1 million increase in the proposed Senate budget when all along, unbeknownst to us, but now clear in the Clerk’s memo that we have a balance of a little over $400,000 to pay for the installation? Is this a case of purposely withholding information or just a case that the right hand does not know what the left hand is doing because we have no overall plan? In any case, this is not acceptable.

“As Legislators, we do not appreciate or tolerate this from state agencies. We certainly should not tolerate it from our support staff. Again, I emphasize I’m not objecting to this wireless project per se, I object to the withholding of information, especially when it is asked for. I object to us not having a computer system and wireless plan as requested. And I object to statements that if there’s money left over then we might get it.

“The Senate had a $1.3 million carryover on December 31, 2005. We increased this year’s budget another 11 percent. Why are we still using Windows 97? We’re asked to approve a $73,000 expenditure with no systematic plan and cost estimate for the upgrade of the technology of the Capitol.

“These questions must be answered and I request that we go into Caucus immediately upon adjournment today to allow the Clerk to give us some answers. And since this affects all of us, and if there’s no objection from the Majority, then I suggest the Minority be allowed to sit in if they are so interested.

“Thank you.”

ORDER OF THE DAY

MATTER DEFERRED FROM TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 2006

S.B. No. 3000, S.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 3000, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Menor then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 1) to S.B. No. 3000, S.D. 1:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 3000, S.D. 1, is amended by amending Section 201G-118, Hawaii Revised Statutes, as amended by Section 4 of the bill, to read as follows:

“SECTION 4. Section 201G-118, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

“§201G-118 Housing development; exemption from statutes, ordinances, charter provisions, rules. (a) The administration may develop, on behalf of the State or with an eligible developer, or may assist under a government assistance program in the development of, housing projects which shall be exempt from all statutes, ordinances, charter provisions, and rules of any governmental agency relating to planning, zoning, construction standards for subdivisions, development and improvement of land, and the construction of units thereon; provided that:

- (1) The project primarily or exclusively includes housing units affordable to households with incomes at or below one hundred forty per cent of the median family income;
- (2) The administration finds the project is consistent with the purpose and intent of this chapter, and meets minimum requirements of health and safety;
- (3) The development of the proposed project does not contravene any safety standards, tariffs, or rates and fees approved by the public utilities commission for public utilities or the various boards of water supply authorized under chapter 54;
- (4) The legislative body of the county in which the project is to be situated shall have approved the project with or without modifications.
 - (A) The legislative body shall approve, approve with modifications, or disapprove the project by resolution within forty-five days after the administration has submitted the preliminary plans and specifications for the project to the legislative body. If on the forty-sixth day a project is not disapproved, it shall be deemed approved by the legislative body;
 - (B) No action shall be prosecuted or maintained against any county, its officials, or employees on account of actions taken by them in reviewing, approving, modifying, or disapproving the plans and specifications; and
 - (C) The final plans and specifications for the project shall be deemed approved by the legislative body if the final plans and specifications do not substantially deviate from the preliminary plans and specifications. The final plans and specifications for the project shall constitute the zoning, building, construction, and subdivision standards for that project. For purposes of sections 501-85 and 502-17, the executive director of the administration, or the responsible county official may certify maps and plans of lands connected with the project as having complied with applicable laws and ordinances relating to consolidation and subdivision of lands, and the maps and plans shall be accepted for registration or recordation by the land court and registrar;
- (5) The land use commission shall approve, approve with modifications, or disapprove a boundary change within forty-five days after the administration has submitted a petition to the commission as provided in section 205-4. If on the forty-sixth day the petition is not disapproved, it shall be deemed approved by the commission.

(b) For the purposes of this section, “government assistance program” means a housing program qualified by the administration and administered or operated by the administration or the United States or any of their political subdivisions, agencies, or instrumentalities, corporate or otherwise.””

Senator Menor moved that Floor Amendment No. 1 be adopted, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Menor rose in support of the amendment and said:

“Mr. President, I am requesting of my colleagues that they support this particular floor amendment.

“The bill that this floor amendment would modify relates to Section 201G-118, which governs affordable housing developments sponsored and initiated by the Housing Community Development Corporation of Hawaii. Under existing law, an affordable housing development that is sponsored by HCDCH cannot be implemented until the legislative body of a particular county has had an opportunity to review and to approve the proposed affordable housing project within the required timeframes or periods as spelled out under this particular statutory provision. What this amendment would accomplish is to clarify that with the enactment of S.B. No. 3000, S.D. 1, that that process would not be modified and would remain in effect and intact.

“So, based on those comments, I respectfully ask my colleagues to support the floor amendment that we are now considering today.

“Thank you.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 1 was put by the Chair and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 3000, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, March 2, 2006.

At 12:12 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:13 o'clock p.m.

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“Mr. President, in Washington it’s called the flip-flop and I guess in Hawaii it’s called uehe, ami and slide. I would just note for the record that in today’s editorial in the Advertiser, depending where you’re from, they either did a flip-flop or they did the uehe, ami and slide.

“On November 30th, ’05, the Advertiser said, among other things, ‘The task facing the Board of Regents is enormous. It must launch a national, indeed international, search for a leader who brings both the visionary talent of a Dobelle and the managerial talent of a McClain. This isn’t easy. History teaches us that the regents typically go for one personality type over another – visionary or manager. The University of Hawaii has grown too much and offers far too much potential to play this half-step game any longer. As a system, the University of Hawaii is the jewel that demands world-class leadership.’

“On that same day, one of its editorial writers said, ‘the true measure of a man came when regents were so pleased with his work that they considered skipping the customary nationwide search for Dobelle’s permanent replacement and offering McClain the job. McClain was among those advising regents it would be a mistake. And he was exactly right. That’s just the kind of corner cutting that for decades has kept UH from becoming the first-class university we all wish it to be. Choosing a president must be an open and thorough process that explores all options for making UH a powerful force to elevate the lives of our young people and to help drive Hawaii’s culture and economy.’

“Mr. President and colleagues, my addendum will be posted to the extent that they publish it in letters to the editor. Thank you very much.”

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, members, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“This past Tuesday, the Board of Regents for the University of Hawaii voted by voice vote to suspend the search for the next University of Hawaii president and instead moved to negotiate and hire Dr. David McClain. I asked then at the Board of Regents and I’ll ask it again, what is the rush? McClain has not imposed any deadline to leave the University of Hawaii. In fact, he has said that he would return to teaching and perhaps write a book at the College of Business Administration when a new president is hired.

“The regents said, the chair of the Board of Regents said that ‘Dr. McClain is the best person for the job and that a search would not guarantee anyone better.’ How do they know that? Where is that mystical crystal ball that has advised them that in fact a search would not guarantee anyone better?”

“Members, let us look at institutions we aspire to be like – Ivy League universities like Harvard where the former secretary of the treasury is now president; Yale, where after a search, Ed Cadman was hired by the University of Hawaii to build the medical school, an institution that all of us look to with pride. Brown, Dartmouth, Columbia, Cornell, Princeton, and the University of Pennsylvania, all but one conducted national presidential searches.

“Of the ten schools in the Pac-10, 90 percent conducted a search, including schools like the University of California at Berkeley, Stanford, UCLA, and USC. Eight of the ten presidents hired came from outside schools. Of the other two, one from the inside was hired after a search. There are 11 schools in the Big Ten. Of those schools, 91 percent conducted a search, including Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Northwestern, Ohio State, Penn State, and Purdue. And only after conducting a search were seven of eleven presidents hired from the outside. According to the Chronicle of Higher Education from January 2005 to July 15, 2005, 105 of 123 university presidents were hired from outside the system – that’s 85 percent.

“Members, the ASUH president, who represents over 60,000 students on 10 campuses throughout the state advocated that a search be conducted to invite the best to apply. Faculty members have called me and e-mailed me advocating for a search. If the student body president and faculty members – the two most important stakeholders in education at the University of Hawaii system – have questioned this process, why the hasty rush to hire Dr. McClain?”

“Harvard University Professor of Higher Education, Dr. Richard Chait, said, ‘All universities want the best person in the nation to be its leader, not the best person in the institution.’ He notes that the search process is a cost-efficient way for an institution to import prestige, especially if it can attract a new president from a more prestigious institution.

“On November 29th, the Advertiser reported that McClain said, ‘The regents considered appointing me without a search. I advised them that the preference of the university I know, and particularly my colleagues on the faculty, that any permanent president should be chosen via a search.’

“On November 30th, Dave Shapiro wrote, ‘The true measure of the man came when the regents were so pleased that they considered skipping the customary nationwide search and offering McClain the job. McClain was among those advising regents it would be a mistake, and he was exactly right. That’s just the kind of corner-cutting that for decades has kept the University of Hawaii from becoming a first-class university we all wish it to be. Choosing a president must be an open and thorough process that explores all options for making the University of Hawaii a powerful force to elevate the lives of our young people and help drive Hawaii’s culture and economy.’

“The editorial board of the Advertiser said, ‘The task facing the Board of Regents is enormous. It must launch a national, indeed international, search. As a system, the University of Hawaii is a jewel that demands world-class leadership.’

“If perceived stability is what we’re after, if stability is what Dr. McClain represents since August 2004, if stability is more important than conducting a search, then in Dr. McClain we’ve got our man. But then again, he isn’t going anywhere, so conducting a search doesn’t destabilize the system. So why the rush?”

“The students, the faculty, and the staff of the University of Hawaii system, and indeed the people of this State deserve and are entitled to the best person we can afford. Is Dr. McClain the best? We’ll never know and we’ll always wonder unless we make the effort now to seek out and search for the best. The people of Hawaii deserve nothing less.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose on a point of personal privilege also and said:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I want to thank the Chair of the Higher Education Committee for speaking out. I appreciate having a dialogue in public. Usually that’s restricted to the Minority Party when we disagree among ourselves, but let me try and address some of the issues that were raised.

“In the Legislature we like to do studies and we like to appoint committees when we want to postpone making a decision. And when the University of Hawaii was going through the turmoil relating to the firing of its past president, I think the best thing that could have been done under those circumstances was to say we are going to appoint a committee; we’re going to do a search.

“The next issue that merits some discussion has to do with snowplows. We don’t have any snowplows, and that’s fortunate because the State of Hawaii and the University of Hawaii is unique in many different ways. To postpone making a decision and to not decide and to call on a search committee will probably result in a bad choice.

“I stood up on the Floor two years ago and in that speech I called for President Dobelle to resign and one paragraph in the speech said that ‘Common sense is experience based. Our incoming residents arrive on our shores without the knowledge that has become engrained and instinctive to every islander. Without this collective memory, these newcomers pose a significant danger to the rest of society when they assume positions of power and pursue agendas that lack public scrutiny and review.’ The speech was about the decision to build a medical school in or adjacent to a tsunami zone.

“My concern here is that when we do a nationwide search and we bring somebody new to Hawaii, they lack the common sense of knowing how to approach problems and how to deal with people in Hawaii. If we are truly going to select a leader, then it must be one of us. It must be somebody that understands our issues, understands what divides us and knows how to bring us together.

“So, Mr. President, I am very happy that the Board of Regents decided to end the uncertainty and decided to discontinue a search when in fact they found in the temporary President David McClain the type of individual who not only has administrative talent but the vision to take our university where it deserves to go. That was the right decision.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose in rebuttal as follows:

“Mr. President, I would like to rebut a few comments made by the previous speaker. By the way, he did advise me that he was going to take advantage of the notoriety by speaking after I spoke, not just before Session, but yesterday on the Queen Mary II. So obviously, it’s been a plot by my friend from Waikiki (laughter), whom, by the way, I have a great friendship for.

“Let me respond this way. I don’t know about snowplows. I’ve never been in snow. But I think I know something about common sense. If the Medical Center built under the leadership of former Yale Professor Ed Cadman in a tsunami zone is defined as bad common sense by my colleague from Waikiki, then let us also be accurate that the administration of the University of Hawaii, which is headed by Interim UH President David McClain, supports the Medical Center in Kakaako and is also lobbying for the Cancer Research Center adjacent to the Medical Center in Kakaako. So I’m not sure if common sense fits my colleague in support of terminating a search.

“But if we took the attitude that we know all there is to know, that we see all there is to have seen, then I would suggest that that thinking would lead us to conclude that when Ellison Onizuka died, that that was enough research and exploration for America, because other people might die. And in fact, other people have died. When Eddie Aikau died trying to save Hokulea, common sense, as defined by my good friend, would have suggested that’s enough. But in fact common sense said we better not go when the ocean is rough. Let us wait until nature tells us this is a good day to go.

“I’m not sure about common sense suggesting that we’ve got our man. I am sure that if we don’t try, we’ll never know – we’ll never know. And if at the end of the day he in fact is our man, then let us be proud to say we tried and he’s the best person for the job, notwithstanding his support for the Cancer Research Center in Kakaako in the tsunami zone that my friend who grew up with snowplows doesn’t advocate for.

Senator Trimble rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"First of all I'd like to thank you for your op-ed piece in the Advertiser today. I thought it was right on target. I just wanted to note in passing that I spent the last four months in China and even in the worker's paradise of China, their standard deduction in real terms and in dollars is higher than that of the State of Hawaii. So, thank you.

"Let's get back to yesterday's conversation. I don't intend to bring up snowplows again, but if it does come up, we can talk about it. What I'm asking the Chairman of the Higher Education Committee is to consider a different model. I think a different model is appropriate for Hawaii.

"I mentioned that common sense is experience based and that when strangers arrive on our shores and they lack this common sense, they are a hazard to the greater community. But if we look historically at the difference between continents and islands, it may be dangerous to themselves as well, whether it's Magellan at Mactan in the Philippines with Lapulapu; or it's Captain Cook; or how about Paul LaMahieu, who came to our shores after a nationwide search; or Virginia Lowell. So, conducting a search does not produce necessarily a desired result. What I would like the Chairman of the Higher Education Committee to consider is that sometimes it is important to make a decision.

"One of the things that I appreciate about the Senator from the Big Island, the one that normally is to my left, is that she knows when it's appropriate to make a decision because she's had the experience of being a mayor. And sometimes the dialogue should cease and it's time to make a decision. Why should we make the decision now? Well, you know, we have had a temporary president, and as long as the president is temporary, there are a whole lot of other appointments at the University of Hawaii, Manoa, and throughout the system that are also temporary. And so, sooner or later it's time to get off the pot and move forward, and I think that time is now.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in response to the previous speaker.

“I would note that but for try, the Land Use Commission might have approved a new dump in Nanakuli, but my colleague to my left showed up and she tried and she succeeded. I would note that when George Helm and Kimo Mitchell disappeared trying to get to Kaho’olawe, they died and they failed, but all others who believed in George and Kimo took up the charge and Kaho’olawe is no longer bombed today.

“So, while conducting a search does not guarantee that the necessary result will be produced, I do know that without trying, we will never know.

“I would suggest that all of us on the Floor ran for office because we tried based on the belief that we could produce a good result for those we choose to serve. That is what conducting a search does – it gives the opportunity for people to try to make a system better.

“Interestingly enough, at 9:45 this morning I had the opportunity to discuss this issue with Michael Fisch, the publisher of the Honolulu Advertiser. And during our discussion, we talked about the lead editorial in today’s paper, which calls for transparency and accountability. We used that lead editorial as a segue to talk about the situation with the hiring of a new president. We both found it mystifying that three months ago he, himself, advocated for a search, and three months ago the editorial writers of the Advertiser advocated for not only a national but an international search, and that on February 22nd the Advertiser flip-flopped and said stability was more important and that McClain was the man. But then in our discussion this morning we agreed that he agreed that his plan is to stay on, president or not, as a faculty member on the board of the School of Business Administration. So, Fisch and I agreed that search or not, stability would always be present because he had no intentions of leaving and he gave no deadline to find a new president.

“So, we find it mystifying that three days ago at the Board of Regents meeting, by unanimous voice vote, the Board of Regents decided to enter into negotiations and in three days from tomorrow the Board of Regents will hire a new president without trying, trying, trying to see if this would not be a great opportunity to import prestige to our school – our only school – by bringing in someone who may be interested from a prestigious institution. Because the relevant question to me is – What is it that the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii know that the Board of Regents of Harvard, of Yale, of Brown, of Smith, of Dartmouth, of Columbia, of Cornell, of the University of Pennsylvania, of UC Berkeley, of Stanford, of UCLA, of USC, of Illinois, of Indiana, of Michigan, of Northwestern, of Ohio State, of Penn State, of Purdue, of 105 of 123 universities that between January 2005 and July 15, 2005, according to the Chronicle of Higher Education knows? What do the University of Hawaii Regents know that these regents don’t know? That’s the relevant question.

“It’s not about the interim president. It’s about the process. It’s about accountability. It’s about transparency. It’s really about the students, the faculty, and the people of this great State that we call home.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Trimble rose in rebuttal and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in brief rebuttal.

“I find it interesting that we talk about transparency. I want to take a moment to talk about transparency. The last time I saw Richard Port was in Rome and I was going to the Forum because I wanted to visit the Senate, and he reminded me that the Senate had always been considered a rather scurrilous lot. And the reason why I bring that up is that a year ago when we were having a confirmation hearing for Dylan Nonaka, there were many faxed letters or actually statements that were identical and they all said the same thing and they were all faxed from the same fax number. And I found that curious. And I asked the Chairman of Higher Education how that could be. Whose fax number was it? We still do not know.

“It is one thing to ask for transparency. It is quite another to stand up and argue, and argue eloquently, but it doesn’t change the facts.

“As long as we’re talking about the facts, let’s go back a week or so when I rose and I said why are we passing a law to change the number of regents? And the answer of the Chair was – number one, it’s the national standard; and number two, if you want accountability, then we should only have one person. Let me take the first issue – the national standard, a very glib easy comment, but if you look at the statistics across the United States for the board of regents, there is no national standard. The Chair did not use ‘best practices’ and there may not be ‘best practices,’ but let’s start and look at numbers of regents: seven, there are three states – Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma; eight regents, there are four states – Idaho, Michigan, Nebraska, North Dakota; nine regents, there are again four states – Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Texas; ten, there are five states – Arizona, Arkansas, Missouri, South Dakota, and Washington; eleven regents, there are six . . . and by the way, this is the mode – in statistics there are three measures that usually are called upon when you are considering statistics – they are the mean, the mode, and the median. And in fact, when you look at that, there is no standard for the number of regents, neither the mode, nor the median, or the mean. And so, if we’re going to be talking about facts – and I could go through the whole list, but I think I’ve made my point – then let’s talk about facts.

“The Chair of Higher Education talked about if you want accountability, you know, then maybe there should be one person, an interesting model, because when the Board of Regents becomes large, then it divides itself into subgroups and there is one lead. And when you do that, you no longer have a democracy, you have a body that is very similar to this where you have one person, the Chair, he rules. That is not a democracy; it’s an autocracy.

“And if you want to bring the final argument into consideration, one of the things that might discourage people from Harvard or Yale coming to our island state is the practice of Chairs of Committees trying to badger, browbeat, and micromanage the departments they supervise.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hee rose again and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in apology. Evidently, what I thought was humor was taken more serious than I could have imagined.

“When I introduced a bill to propose enlarging the number of regents from 12 to 15, it was done with the advice of the previous Higher Ed Chair and another colleague who evidently is not present. They both indicated that the standards have risen from 12 to 15. I realize that it gives the present Governor three more selections, but that really is inconsequential to the bill insofar as raising the prominence of the University of Hawaii to a national standard.

“When the previous speaker, interestingly enough, spoke against the bill, I thought I would inject humor and say, well, if he wants to reduce it let’s take it down to one. I owe you an apology. Evidently my humor was not received as it should be.

“I don’t know about the fax machine on Dylan Nonaka or the relevance it has to do with the process on the issue today, but I owe no apologies with that because I have no idea what he’s talking about.

“Lastly, Mr. President, I would like to wish all the women happy Girl’s Day. Thank you.”

ORDER OF THE DAY

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2582 (S.B. No. 2006, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2582 be adopted and S.B. No. 2006, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator English then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 2) to S.B. No. 2006, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 2006, S.D. 2, section 1, is amended to read as follows:

“SECTION 1. In recent years, the number of edible `opihī found in Hawai`i has declined. The popularity of `opihī as a delicacy has led to overharvesting on the island of O`ahu and has made `opihī difficult to find on the neighbor islands.

The blackfoot `opihī (cellana exarata), also known as “makaiauli,” once the most common limpet in Hawaiian waters, is found in the upper wash of waves. The yellowfoot `opihī (cellana sandwicensis), also known as “alinalina,” is the preferred species for eating. It is found in the wash of waves, roughly between the habitats of the blackfoot `opihī and ko`ele, the third type of edible `opihī in Hawai`i. Ko`ele is also known as the “kneecap” `opihī (cellana talcosa). There is also a fourth type of `opihī (cellana meanostoma) observed in Kaua`i that probably also could be found in Ni`ihau.

Although `opihī can be collected year round, `opihī shells must be at least one and a quarter inches wide, or the meat a half inch wide, to legally harvest them in Hawai`i.

`Opihī is an integral part of certain traditional trade systems where it is used as currency and an important source of revenue, such as on the island of Ni`ihau.

The purpose of this Act is to prohibit the sale of all Hawaiian species of edible `opihī except by a resident of any populated island that is privately owned and has a population of five hundred or less.”

SECTION 2. Senate Bill No. 2006, S.D. 2, section 2, is amended to read as follows:

“SECTION 2. Section 188-42.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

“~~[[§188-42.5]]~~ Hihiwai, hapawai, `opihī, and opae kala`ole selling prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person at any time to sell or offer for sale any hihiwai, hapawai, `opihī, and opae kala`ole taken from any of the waters within the jurisdiction of the State[-]; provided that it shall not be unlawful for a resident of any populated island that is privately owned and has a population of five hundred or less to sell or offer for sale any amount of `opihī. It shall be presumed that the taking of more than one quart of `opihī, as measured with its shell on, from any of the other waters within the jurisdiction of the State, is for commercial sale purposes.

As used in this section, “`opihī” means all known Hawaiian `opihī species, including cellana exarata (blackfoot), cellana sandwicensis (yellowfoot), cellana talcosa (ko`ele), and cellana melanostoma.”

Senator English moved that Floor Amendment No. 2 be adopted, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator English noted:

“Mr. President, members, this bill allows for the Island of Ni`ihau to continue the traditional practice of picking, trading and selling opihī. In the past, the island used to take opihī from there because they cannot raise taro, take it to Northern Kauai, trade the opihī for taro and bring the taro back to the island for food. This practice continues today and the people there were very concerned that they would not have a way to trade for food. So, this allows the people of Ni`ihau to continue their traditional practice.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 2 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator English then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2582 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 2006, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT PROHIBITING SALES OF OPIHI,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, March 9, 2006.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2696 (S.B. No. 3161, S.D. 2):

Senator Menor moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2696 be adopted and S.B. No. 3161, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator English then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 3) to S.B. No. 3161, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 3161 S.D.2, section 3, is amended as follows:

~~“[SECTION 3. There is appropriated out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii the sum of $200,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2006-2007, for Rocky Mountain Institute to conduct a statewide multi-fuel biofuels production assessment of potential feedstocks, technologies, and economics of the various renewable fuels pathways and the potential for ethanol, biodiesel, and renewable hydrogen production to contribute to Hawaii’s near-, mid-, and long-term energy needs. The sum appropriated shall be expended by the department of business, economic development, and tourism for the purposes of this part.]”~~

SECTION 2. Senate Bill No. 3161 S.D.2, section 4, is amended as follows:

~~“[SECTION 7. (a) There is appropriated out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii the sum of $750,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for fiscal year 2006-2007 to carry out the purposes of this part, of which $250,000 shall be allocated to three permanent full-time equivalent (3.0 FTE) professional positions namely, a hydrogen program manager, hydrogen program specialist, and hydrogen project specialist. The sum appropriated shall be expended by the department of business, economic development, and tourism.~~

~~(b) There is appropriated out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii the sum of $10,000,000 for fiscal year 2006-2007 to be paid into the hydrogen investment capital special fund to carry out the purposes of section 6. The sum appropriated shall be expended by department of business, economic development, and tourism.]”~~

SECTION 4. Senate Bill No. 3161 S.D.2, section 8, is amended as follows:

~~“SECTION 8. There is appropriated out of the hydrogen investment capital special fund the sum of $10,000,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for fiscal year 2006-2007 to be used for the purposes of the hydrogen investment capital special fund.~~

~~The sum appropriated shall be expended by the department of business, economic development, and tourism for the purposes of this Act.”~~

SECTION 5. Senate Bill No. 3161 S.D.2, section 10, is amended as follows:

~~“SECTION 6. This Act shall take effect upon its approval.”~~

Senator English noted:

“Mr. President, this is the biofuels preference bill and when we harmonized bills across, we took all of the language from different bills and put them in other vehicles. We inadvertently left the money in this bill and it did not go to the money committees for review. So, what we’re doing is removing all of the monies and keeping the policy in the bill.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 3 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator English then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2696 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 3161, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RENEWABLE ENERGY,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, March 9, 2006.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2741 (S.B. No. 218, S.D. 3):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2741 be adopted and S.B. No. 218, S.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 4) to S.B. No. 218, S.D. 3:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 218 S.D. 3, section 1 is amended as follows:

“SECTION 1. The legislature finds that there is currently a shortage of at least fifty mobile intensive care technicians or paramedics in Hawaii. The Emergency Medical Services Strategic Planning for the Future conference in 2003, estimated that two hundred fifty mobile intensive care technicians will be needed within the next five years to fully staff the system. This estimate includes current shortages, attrition, and anticipated system growth (e.g., the federal firefighting agency had six mobile intensive care technicians and anticipated needing twenty-nine before the end of 2007).

The lack of local training has made the shortage even more critical, especially on the neighbor islands. Emergency medical technicians leave the industry because they are unable to advance without financial assistance. Others take correspondence classes in nursing or other related health care fields. For example, Maui currently [there are] has at least ten [students] emergency medical technicians who wish to enter the next mobile intensive care technician training program being offered [on Maui, which will possibly be scheduled in early 2007]. In order to complete this program and be certified, these students must attend and successfully complete both the didactic and practical training clinics. The didactic training is proposed to be held in Maui in 2007. However, the mandatory practical training is only offered on Oahu. Traveling to Oahu is an enormous expense for these students who must take time off from work and from their families to attend the training. Without financial assistance of some type, it is unlikely that many of them will be able to attend.

The prime recruiting grounds for the federal firefighting agency is the city and county of Honolulu mobile intensive care technician workforce, which is already critically short-staffed. All providers look increasingly to paramedics who have trained on the mainland to staff Hawaii’s ambulances. These mainland recruits are rarely employed beyond two years in the Hawaii system before returning to the mainland.

It is widely recognized that the moneys distributed for mobile intensive care technician workforce development are not equitable. Unless the State can provide financial stipends to non-civil service employees who train in an accredited program, the crisis will quickly get worse.

The purpose of this Act is to appropriate funds to the department of health to establish a training stipend program for emergency medical technicians who do not have access to a training stipend program and who want to advance in their chosen profession by enrolling in a state-qualified mobile intensive care technician training program.”

SECTION 2. Senate Bill. No. 218 S.D. 3, section 2, is amended as follows:

“SECTION 2. There is appropriated out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii the sum of $, or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2006-2007, to establish the emergency medical technician training stipend program to remedy the shortage of mobile intensive care technicians/paramedics in Hawaii and to assist, through a state-qualified mobile intensive care technician program, ten students per year who are public or private paramedics and currently do not have access to a training stipend program[; provided that no funds shall be expended for trainee stipends unless the county matches the funds expended on a trainee who is a resident of that respective county on a dollar-for-dollar basis].”

Senator Baker moved that Floor Amendment No. 4 be adopted, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Baker noted:

“Mr. President, this amendment deletes the requirement that the training stipend program be borne, in part, by the counties. This is a statewide program, as the emergency medical services program is a statewide program, and with the concurrence of the Committee on Ways and Means, we removed that provision.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 4 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Baker then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2741 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 218, S.D. 4, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, March 9, 2006.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2866 (S.B. No. 640, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2866 be adopted and S.B. No. 640, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Taniguchi then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 5) to S.B. No. 640, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 640, S.D. 2 is amended by amending Section 1 of the bill to read as follows:

~~“SECTION 1. [The legislature finds that the enactment of the Reinventing Education Act in the 2004 regular session and other education reform measures represent a positive first step towards improving test scores, teacher retention, and the overall quality of education. While there are many issues to be addressed, the legislature believes that providing the department of education with greater autonomy will lead to an improved system of accountability and quality of service. Establishing the department of education as a political subdivision will free the department from impediments that sometimes lead to delays in much needed improvements to the public educational system. The constitutional amendments contained in S.B. No. will grant the department of education the autonomy it requires to effectively oversee the educational needs of the State’s students and teachers. With that measure, the board of education will be empowered to head the department of education as a political subdivision in a manner similar to other political subdivisions of the State. It is the intent of the legislature to provide the members of the board of education with proper compensation for their efforts in running the department of education. Accordingly, the] The purpose of this Act is to provide salaries for board of education members and require them to serve on a full-time basis.”~~

SECTION 2. Senate Bill No. 640, S.D. 2, is amended by amending Section 6 of the bill to read as follows:

~~“SECTION 6. This Act, upon its approval, shall take effect on July 1, 2095[, and upon the ratification of a constitutional amendment that makes the department of education a political subdivision headed by the board of education.].”~~

Senator Taniguchi moved that Floor Amendment No. 5 be adopted, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Taniguchi noted:

“Mr. President, the floor amendment deletes language referencing a Senate bill that would have proposed a constitutional amendment to provide the Department of Education with greater autonomy. No bill passed out proposing the constitutional amendment, therefore the language is not necessary.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 5 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Taniguchi then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2866 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 640, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, March 9, 2006.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2833 (S.B. No. 3037, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2833 be adopted and S.B. No. 3037, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Taniguchi then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 6) to S.B. No. 3037, S.D. 1:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 3037, S.D. 1, is amended by amending Section 1 (b) of the bill to read as follows:

“(b) The amount of the nonrefundable tax credit shall be equal to ten per cent of the losses incurred by the taxpayer for repairs, insurance, rental, or other expenses or costs related to damage caused to the taxpayer’s real or personal property by the heavy rain and flood in late October of 2004 in Manoa, Oahu[;] that are not reimbursable by insurance proceeds or disaster relief payments from government agencies or non-profit organizations; provided that the nonrefundable tax credit shall be ten per cent of the total loss [or] not to exceed $10,000 per taxpayer [~~whichever is greater~~]; and provided further that no refund or payment on account of the tax credit allowed by this section shall be made for amounts less than $1.”

Senator Taniguchi moved that Floor Amendment No. 6 be adopted, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Taniguchi noted:

“Mr. President, the floor amendment clarifies that the tax credit (1) is limited to losses that are reimbursable by insurance proceeds or disaster relief payments from government agencies or nonprofit organizations. This will cure the potential double-dipping. Secondly, it shall be 10 percent of the total loss not to exceed $10,000 per taxpayer.

“I believe in decision-making we had wanted to make a cap of $10,000. The language wasn’t clear and this clarifies that.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 6 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Taniguchi then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2833 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 3037, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RELIEF OF MANOA FLOOD VICTIMS,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, March 9, 2006.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2713 (S.B. No. 2959, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2713 be adopted and S.B. No. 2959, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Chun Oakland then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 7) to S.B. No. 2959, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 2959, S.D.2, is amended as follows:

By deleting the title, “PART I” on page 1, line 1.

SECTION 2. Senate Bill No. 2959, S.D.2, is amended by deleting Sections 5 through 16.

SECTION 3. Senate Bill No. 2959, S.D.2, section 17, is amended to read as follows:

“SECTION [47] 5. In codifying the new [parts] part added to chapter 305, Hawaii Revised Statutes, by [sections] section 2 [~~and~~–6] of this Act, the revisor of statutes shall substitute appropriate section numbers for letters used in designating the new sections in this Act.”

SECTION 4. Senate Bill No. 2959, S.D.2, is amended as follows:

1. By renumbering "SECTION 18" to read "SECTION 6."

2. By renumbering "SECTION 19" to read "SECTION 7."

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Floor Amendment No. 7 be adopted, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Chun Oakland noted:

"Mr. President, the floor amendment reflects accurately the decision that was made between the Higher Education, Labor, and IGA Committees. What it retains is the rapid response development and training program sections of the bill. Thank you."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 7 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Chun Oakland then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2713 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Hee and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 2959, S.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LABOR," was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, March 9, 2006.

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of S.B. No. 2158, S.D. 2, Relating to Identity Theft, and ask that these remarks also be inserted in the Journal for S.B. No. 2159, S.D. 2; S.B. No. 2289, S.D. 2; S.B. No. 2290, S.D. 2; S.B. No. 2292, S.D. 2; and S.B. No. 2293, S.D. 2:

"These measures are part of a package of identity theft bills that have evolved from the work of the Hawaii Anti-Phishing Task Force, established by Act 65, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, to develop state policy on how best to prevent further occurrences of phishing and other forms of electronic commerce-based crimes in the State. The Task Force examined state agencies charged with the responsibility of developing policies, procedures and operations to prevent, monitor, and enforce electronic commerce-based criminal activities and sanctions; reviewed other jurisdictions' activities, policies, and laws related to the prevention of electronic commerce-based crimes; and reviewed a range of options available to deter electronic commerce-based crimes from occurring in the State.

"Through this process the Task Force broadened the scope of its research – and recommendations – to address the rapidly escalating problem of identity theft. Today, National Public Radio began a series on privacy with an interview with a man who discovered his roommate had stolen his social security number, credit card information, and names of family members. It is a story too often heard, and it rarely has a happy ending.

"The purpose of the bills heard in the Senate over the past few weeks – and the House has addressed similar issues – is to provide greater protection from identity theft for the residents of Hawaii through a variety of ways:

S.B. No. 2158, S.D. 2 requires that the first five digits of an individual's social security number contained in family court records or judgments affecting title to land be redacted before the records or judgments are released for public inspection. Although this measure is still a work in progress, I believe that the commitment between the executive branch, private sector, legislature and other interested parties to find an appropriate balance between protecting personal information and minimizing the impact upon individual departments will ultimately produce a solid bill.

S.B. No. 2159, S.D. 2 increases penalties for identity theft and makes it a crime to intentionally or knowingly possess the confidential personal information of another.

S.B. No. 2289, S.D. 2 allows consumers who are victims of identity theft to place a security freeze on their credit reports, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing any information to unauthorized parties without the consumer's express authorization and will provide consumers more control over who has access to their credit report.

S.B. No. 2290, S.D. 2 requires businesses and government agencies that experience a security breach to notify affected citizens of the breach.

S.B. No. 2292, S.D. 2 requires businesses and government agencies that maintain or possess personal information of Hawaii residents protect against unauthorized access to or use of the information after its disposal by destroying the personal information.

S.B. No. 2293, S.D. 2 requires businesses and government agencies – subject to limited exceptions – from disclosing an individual's social security number (SSN) to the general public; printing the SSN on an identification card or in mailings to customers; and requiring the transmission of a SSN to third parties without the individual's written consent unless the third party needs the information for a legitimate purpose.

"S.B. No. 2290, S.B. No. 2292, and S.B. No. 2293 originally imposed requirements only on businesses, but early in the hearing process, the Legislature and most testifiers recognized that the obligations imposed by these measures should also be extended to government agencies in Hawaii, and amended the bills accordingly. Government accountability will require further guidance to implement, however, and the Task Force would need to focus on additional issues raised by S.B. No. 2158 and S.B. No. 2293 during the coming year, with further recommendations to the 2007 Legislature.

"Although S.B. No. 2157, S.D. 1, is not a part of the package of bills being voted on today, it remains an important part of the identity theft package. It provided funding for a review of the best means of safeguarding personal information collected by government agencies, and further anti-ID theft initiatives to be undertaken by the Attorney General's High Tech Crime Unit. The House companion measure, H.B. No. 3244, H.D. 1, has already arrived in the Senate, and will become our vehicle for funding to implement the Identity Theft Task Force's recommendations.

"Collectively, these measures, provide both a strong foundation in the State's fight against identity theft, and valuable resources that Hawaii residents can use to protect themselves from financial harm if their financial or personal information is compromised."

Senator Fukunaga requested her remarks be inserted into the Journal, and the Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga’s remarks read as follows:

“These measures are part of a package of identity theft bills that have evolved from the work of the Hawaii Anti-Phishing Task Force, established by Act 65, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, to develop state policy on how best to prevent further occurrences of phishing and other forms of electronic commerce-based crimes in the State. The Task Force examined state agencies charged with the responsibility of developing policies, procedures and operations to prevent, monitor, and enforce electronic commerce-based criminal activities and sanctions; reviewed other jurisdictions’ activities, policies, and laws related to the prevention of electronic commerce-based crimes; and reviewed a range of options available to deter electronic commerce-based crimes from occurring in the State.

“Through this process the Task Force broadened the scope of its research – and recommendations – to address the rapidly escalating problem of identity theft. Today, National Public Radio began a series on privacy with an interview with a man who discovered his roommate had stolen his social security number, credit card information, and names of family members. It is a story too often heard, and it rarely has a happy ending.

“The purpose of the bills heard in the Senate over the past few weeks – and the House has addressed similar issues – is to provide greater protection from identity theft for the residents of Hawaii through a variety of ways:

S.B. No. 2158, S.D. 2 requires that the first five digits of an individual’s social security number contained in family court records or judgments affecting title to land be redacted before the records or judgments are released for public inspection. Although this measure is still a work in progress, I believe that the commitment between the executive branch, private sector, legislature and other interested parties to find an appropriate balance between protecting personal information and minimizing the impact upon individual departments will ultimately produce a solid bill.

S.B. No. 2159, S.D. 2 increases penalties for identity theft and makes it a crime to intentionally or knowingly possess the confidential personal information of another.

S.B. No. 2289, S.D. 2 allows consumers who are victims of identity theft to place a security freeze on their credit reports, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing any information to unauthorized parties without the consumer’s express authorization and will provide consumers more control over who has access to their credit report.

S.B. No. 2290, S.D. 2 requires businesses and government agencies that experience a security breach to notify affected citizens of the breach.

S.B. No. 2292, S.D. 2 requires businesses and government agencies that maintain or possess personal information of Hawaii residents protect against unauthorized access to or use of the information after its disposal by destroying the personal information.

S.B. No. 2293, S.D. 2 requires businesses and government agencies – subject to limited exceptions – from disclosing an individual’s social security number (SSN) to the general public; printing the SSN on an identification card or in mailings to customers; and requiring the transmission of a SSN to third parties without the individual’s written consent unless the third party needs the information for a legitimate purpose.

“S.B. No. 2290, S.B. No. 2292, and S.B. No. 2293 originally imposed requirements only on businesses, but early in the hearing process, the Legislature and most testifiers recognized that the obligations imposed by these measures should also be extended to government agencies in Hawaii, and amended the bills accordingly. Government accountability will require further guidance to implement, however, and the Task Force would need to focus on additional issues raised by S.B. No. 2158 and S.B. No. 2293 during the coming year, with further recommendations to the 2007 Legislature.

“Although S.B. No. 2157, S.D. 1, is not a part of the package of bills being voted on today, it remains an important part of the identity theft package. It provided funding for a review of the best means of safeguarding personal information collected by government agencies, and further anti-ID theft initiatives to be undertaken by the Attorney General’s High Tech Crime Unit. The House companion measure, H.B. No. 3244, H.D. 1, has already arrived in the Senate, and will become our vehicle for funding to implement the Identity Theft Task Force’s recommendations.

“Collectively, these measures, provide both a strong foundation in the State’s fight against identity theft, and valuable resources that Hawaii residents can use to protect themselves from financial harm if their financial or personal information is compromised.”

"Although S.B. No. 2157, S.D. 1, is not a part of the package of bills being voted on today, it remains an important part of the identity theft package. It provided funding for a review of the best means of safeguarding personal information collected by government agencies, and further anti-ID theft initiatives to be undertaken by the Attorney General's High Tech Crime Unit. The House companion measure, H.B. No. 3244, H.D. 1, has already arrived in the Senate, and will become our vehicle for funding to implement the Identity Theft Task Force's recommendations.

"Collectively, these measures, provide both a strong foundation in the State's fight against identity theft, and valuable resources that Hawaii residents can use to protect themselves from financial harm if their financial or personal information is compromised."

Senator Tsutsui rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to insert comments into the Journal on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2712 in support."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Tsutsui's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support.

"Congresswoman Mink became the first Asian-American woman to be elected to the Hawaii Territorial House, the first woman of color elected to the Congress, the first Asian-American elected to the U.S. House of Representatives and the first Asian-American woman to practice law in Hawaii.

"And as a father of two young girls, It is my hope that by honoring her legacy – we will continue in her drive to open the many doors that to this day remain either closed or obstructed to women and girls.

"Colleagues, Mink is celebrated as one of America's most important civil rights leaders, especially for co-authoring Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, which led to expanded opportunities for women and girls in athletics and academics and to this day, preserves the rights of all genders. In her honor, the Congress renamed the landmark legislation as the Patsy T. Mink Equal Opportunity in Education Act.

"For her contributions towards equal rights in the country, the Congress commissioned a likeness of her image to be forever placed in the halls of the U.S. Capitol building.

"Members, it is important to note that the U.S. Department of Education in a report titled, Title IX: 25 Years of Progress, wrote 'Even today as we acknowledge the many advances women have made in academics, employment and athletics, we still need to recognize some dismaying facts in our efforts to achieve equity. While sex discrimination is no longer routinely accepted in education and has been prohibited since Title IX became law, the incidences of sexual harassment and assault that are continually reported show that freedom from threats to learning still has not been achieved.'

"The report went on to state, 'Although women earn half of all college degrees, they are less likely than men to earn bachelor's degrees in computer science, engineering, physical sciences, or mathematics. At still higher levels of education, they account for only 17 percent of doctoral degrees in math and physical science, 14 percent of doctoral degrees in computer science and 7 percent of doctoral degrees in engineering. This gap takes on more significance still in the labor market where salaries are among the highest in mathematics/computer science and engineering – fields in which women are underrepresented. Without more equity in these fields at all levels, women will remain at the low end of positions and the pay scale in the information age.

"At the high school level, there are still about 24,000 more boys' varsity teams than girls' teams; in college, women receive only one-third of all athletic scholarships; and, overall operating expenditures for women's college sports programs grew only 89 percent, compared to 139 percent for men, representing only 23 percent of the total operating expenses.

"Even though women make up half of the labor market, not only are they underrepresented in jobs in scientific fields, but they are often paid less than men and despite women's large gains toward equal educational attainment and their accompanying gains in labor force participation, their earnings are only 80 percent of the earnings of their male counterparts with the same education – respectively, for graduates of four-year colleges.'

"A pioneer. A trailblazer. She was a very special daughter of Hawaii and with the state honoring her memory and service; we will continue to remind a nation of the importance of equality, peace and social justice. Further reminding Americans that regardless of gender, all Americans are entitled to equal access to quality education, to compete in athletics, and to work a job or profession for which they are qualified.

"I urge your support. Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2762 be adopted and S.B. No. 3146, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hooser rose and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like to submit remarks in support of Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2762, which is S.B. No. 3146. These are remarks in support and making suggestions for improvements.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Hooser’s remarks read as follows:

“Intra-island aeromedical services for rural Oahu are necessary for the health and safety of our residents and visitors. It is also a state-wide matter of public safety. For the past 31 years, the United States Army’s 68th Medical Company’s Medical Assistance to Safety and Traffic (MAST) helicopters have provided a no cost aeromedical service to rural Oahu.

“I am in strong support of S.B. No. 3146 which appropriates funds for the Department of Health to contract with a government agency, U.S. military branch, or private entity to provide intra-island roto-wing aeromedical services for rural Oahu. In addition, this legislation provides matching funds for the County of Hawaii for dedicated EMS personnel to staff the aeromedical helicopter unit on the island of Hawaii. While I continue to emphasize my support for this legislation and improved access to emergency services, I am concerned that the island of Kauai will also be negatively impacted by the loss of the MAST aeromedical service.

“As we all know, access to emergency services and quality health care for residents of neighbor islands and rural Oahu is a pressing concern that must be addressed this legislative session. There is a wide disparity in the delivery of and access to emergency medical services between rural and urban areas. This disparity is attributable to factors such as the availability of professional service providers, geographic barriers, and resource constraints. Such factors pose challenges for the provision of adequate care and treatment to patients from the time to first response through emergency treatment. EMS response time in rural areas is often twice that of urban areas a statistic that attests to the increased mortality rate for people residing in rural areas.

“As the time lapsed between the initial call for aid until the treatment of the patient in the hospital may be critical to survival for our neighbor island residents. For all these reasons, I encourage you, my colleagues to vote in support of this Bill and of providing improved access and often life-saving access to high-quality emergency health services for the people of our islands. For these reasons, I strongly encourage the admission of services for Kauai into the service coverage of this Bill.

“I thank you for attending to the health of those who, like myself, make their home on a neighbor island.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2762 was adopted and S.B. No. 3146, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

THIRD READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 2006

S.B. No. 2148, S.D. 1:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 2148, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2543 regarding S.B. No. 2148, S.D. 1.

“It’s been a longstanding policy of many of us on the right side of the aisle to support the concept of an elected attorney general. We find it rather ironic, now that the partisan label of the Governor has changed, that the Majority Party is now joining in the call for doing so. But that seems to be the example rather than the exception in these last several years.

“There’s another issue that we want to address and rather paradoxically in addressing this particular bill and the subsequent six additional constitutional amendments that are going to be offered today, that once again the Minority Party is calling for a constitutional convention to address what many consider our obsolete and dysfunctional state constitution. To validate this call, we do note that there are six additional constitutional amendments being offered today. In the course of the last two Sessions of this biennium, there have been 106 amendments offered by this Legislature – 45 in the Senate and 61 in the House. So indeed it seems the majority of Legislators feel that the constitution needs dramatic amending. Rather than piecemeal doing it, maybe a constitutional convention’s time has come.

“Also, we want to make note that the structure of the constitution has allowed in the last several years for extraordinary judicial activism where law is being made by Supreme Court Justices and we in fact have to convene the Legislature and amend their judicial activism by specific laws because of the liberally construed constitution.

“The third issue is the constitution itself and its structure. Though probably well-meaning in 1978, if you look at the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, it is, like the Hawaii Revised Statutes or city ordinances with very specific issues such as public health and welfare, care of handicap persons, public assistance, economic security, housing . . .”

Senator Hanabusa interjected:

“Mr. President, point of order. I’d like to ask that the speaker across the aisle keep his comments to S.B. No. 2148, which is about a constitutional amendment for the election of the attorney general.

“I’m very familiar with this bill, being the introducer, and I don’t remember talking about health and everything else in that. So please ask the speaker to keep his comments to the bill at hand. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hemmings then stated:

“Thank you, Mr. President, and thank you, good Senator from Waianae. The necessity of talking about this is the very fact that this bill is here before us to be addressed. I’m speaking for the bill, and, in doing so, in favor of preempting necessity for constantly tinkering and fine-tuning the constitution through continued plaguing this process with constitutional amendments and the ballot processes that implement amendments.

“Therefore, I’ll conclude my remarks by reminding this Legislature that we have the opportunity to do the responsible thing for the taxpayers and people of this state by convening a constitutional convention and preempting this unnecessary redundancy and waste of energy and time and money with constitutional amendments every two years. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure. I offer three reasons.

“One, I’d like to see the Office of the Attorney General as our state equivalent of the Department of Justice. My concern is that if it’s an elected office, it will serve less as an office that seeks to protect the rights of the people and because of the fervor and heat of the election process we will tend to get issues and candidates that are more concerned with law enforcement issues.

“The second reason was already enumerated by the previous speaker. I think changes like this are so substantial that they shouldn’t be rushed through in a 60-day session that is considering perhaps three to four thousand other issues. It merits attention at a constitutional convention.

"The third reason I offer is, why are we doing it now? This seems like a concerted effort by sore losers to slowly dismantle the authority and the streamlined efficiency that our current state government affords. Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 2148.

"Mr. President, I'd like the record to be clarified on this. First of all, the concept of an elected attorney general does not lie with the people across the aisle. I have introduced this same constitutional amendment since 1999, the first year that I have been in office. I believe, Mr. President, if we check the record on this specific constitutional amendment, you'll find that the Senate has in the past supported the amendment; it has gone over to the House and stalled there. Mr. President, it may happen again. To make a generalized statement that it is not something the members of the Majority Party have actually supported in the past and that we have no history about it and this is something that comes all of a sudden because we have a Republican Governor, is absolutely false, Mr. President.

"Mr. President, I ask you and my colleagues to support this constitutional amendment. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose to support the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

"Since I think I've been introducing these bills, also, since 1997, it is a bipartisan effort. Usually, whenever we have any kind of bill that's going to change something, we look to the other states and usually the supporters always say, well, in 27 other states they do this, in 39 other states they do that. Well, the fact of the matter is that 40 other states do in fact elect their attorney general. We elect our city prosecutor, who is our chief law enforcement officer.

"Election really is more of a transparent process. People worry about the political aspects of it, but I would rather err on the side of having the people have choices. I think there will be good choices put forward if we have an elected attorney general. I thank the good Senator from across the way in Waianae. When she was not busy in the landfill, she was able to come up with good positive legislation like this, clearing her head and so forth.

"I know we're going to pass this today, and I hope for once the House gets onboard and listens to the needs of the people. So, I strongly support the measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2148, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

S.B. No. 2931, S.D. 1:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 2931, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I offer brief remarks in opposition to this measure.

"I think folding large portions of the Department of Public Safety into the attorney general's office again changes the focus of the office away from being a department of justice serving the needs of all the people, into a law enforcement agency. I think it is the wrong direction to move in. Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, please note my reservations on this bill. I believe that it is not necessary to have this bill become effective only upon passage of a constitutional amendment for an elected attorney general. I think the transfer of security functions, at least some of them, under this bill should be allowed with the current appointed attorney general as well."

Senator Hooser rose in support with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with some reservations but in support of the bill.

"My reservations primarily revolve around the additional transferring of even greater power to this elected position. The attorney general already has significant authority and power and I have some concerns about the additional transfers of authority. Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose and said:

"Mr. President, please note my reservations on this bill as well."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2931, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAW ENFORCEMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

S.B. No. 2946, S.D. 1:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 2946, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"We have a whole series of bills that are coming up that are dedicated to taking care of and expanding the rights of prisoners. I'm going to be voting 'no' on all of these bills today.

"Over the years, I've tried to be fair and balanced. I've tried to support measures that would give additional training and abuse assessment and so forth for prisoners. But at this point, Mr. President, I am so concerned that we do not speak for, nor are we concerned about victims of crimes. Everything seems to be for the prisoners and their comfort and their food and their exercise and their video equipment and everything else. So, I'm going to be casting a 'no' vote on this and all of the bills to follow. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2946, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CORRECTIONS POPULATION MANAGEMENT COMMISSION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

S.B. No. 2679, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator English, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried, S.B. No. 2679, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAZARDOUS WASTE,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Whalen).

S.B. No. 627, S.D. 1:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 627, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like to ask the Chair of the Judiciary to clarify the intention of this measure that it doesn’t intend to prohibit a person from taking action when it’s an industry or a group of companies or a group that’s affected. I hope she can clarify that, because otherwise, many people in this community have relationships with many different companies or many different people and this bill could be interpreted broadly to preclude many actions that honest people should be allowed to take.”

The Chair then inquired:

“Are you in support or opposed?”

Senator Sakamoto responded:

“I’m in support, but I’m asking for the clarification from the Chair of the Judiciary Committee.”

Senator Hanabusa responded:

“Mr. President, the concern that the previous speaker has, I believe, addressed within the bill. What the bill says is that, for example, if you sit on a board and that board requires you to be part of the industry, you are not to vote on a matter if it directly affects something of your personal interest.

“I believe that the language is consistent within the bill, that it must affect your personal interest. Mr. President, even when looking at the whole concept of ethics, we are always dealing with it – we including those of us in this Body – which is the fact that you will always, if you broadly construe everything, you will have a conflict of some sort or other, but that’s not the intent of this bill.

“I believe this bill was drafted specifically to address situations when someone is making a decision on a contract, for example, and one is an employee of the state, that directly affects your son, your sibling, or someone very close to you. That’s the intent of this measure. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 627, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ETHICS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

S.B. No. 1061:

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Hee and carried, S.B. No. 1061, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

S.B. No. 2260, S.D. 1:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 2260, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the bill.

“This is the so-called three violent strikes bill. We tried in the past to get a three strikes bill passed. We could not do that. Hopefully today we’re going to pass this bill and this bill will become law this year.

“The only problem with the bill that I see is that we’re giving criminals at least two previous whacks at people. We are not talking about violent attacks and we’re saying the first violent attack, like that first dog bite, is okay. The second violent attack is okay. But by the time we get to the third violent attack, by golly, that’s enough. And if trends in this Legislature continue, next year we’ll have somebody saying that again that’s too harsh and it makes people mean and all of that stuff.

“But I’m supporting this bill because we need to do something. We need to send a message that in fact we are going to get tough on violations of the law. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in support with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations, certainly not in support of criminals – in support of the victims.

“I think the bill talks about something like burglary in the first degree, if you have three separate offenses, then mandatorily things trigger. I would hope as we work on our inmates and our people who need help, that rehabilitation is part of the process. Sometimes people fall, but I would hope we leave the judgment to the judges, especially for allowing people to redeem themselves.”

Senator Hooser requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2260, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SENTENCING,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2560 (S.B. No. 2503, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2560 be adopted and S.B. No. 2503, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Again, Mr. President, we're going to have a series of bills relating to tobacco and tobacco products. Most of them have to do with gauging the victims of tobacco dependence, and there's no question that people are dependent on tobacco products. There's no question also, however, that there is a choice involved here and that people freely choose to smoke tobacco, which at last count has not been made illegal.

"To those who support all of this legislation, if they are really concerned about the public, if they're really concerned about the people that smoke, if they're really concerned about the children, then they would ban this substance as we have banned other substances. But of course we don't do this, and that makes the people that support these kinds of measures hypocritical.

"First of all, as far as flavored cigarettes, I don't know if they're only geared for children or not. I know that we have flavored beverages and flavored other products for adults and I presume that the marketing people at tobacco companies are doing that as well for adults.

"But again, my main point is that if we're really concerned about this as a health issue, we wouldn't try to get more money out of the dependees on tobacco products and that's what we seem to do. We try to punish a legal entity. If you don't want it legal, make it illegal, but as long as it's legal, don't punish the producers. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"This measure would ban the sale, distribution, and offering for sale of cigarettes that impart a characterizing flavor prior to or during consumption. In hearings before the Health Committee on February 8th, the attorney general testified in support of this measure saying that the attorney general welcomes this additional tool to discourage the use of tobacco.

"Since 1998, legal settlements between the states and the tobacco companies prohibited tobacco companies from taking any action directly or indirectly to target youth in the advertising, promotion, or marketing of tobacco products. The cigarette companies have increased their marketing expenditures by 125 percent to a record $15.1 billion a year or $41.5 million a day, according to the Federal Trade Commission. Much of this is targeting directly at our young people.

"One of the tobacco industry's most outrageous new tactics is the introduction of candy-flavored cigarettes. RJ Reynolds, the same company that once marketed cigarettes to kids with cartoon characters Joe Camel, has launched a series of flavored cigarettes including a pineapple and coconut flavored cigarette called 'Kauai Colada' and a citrus flavored cigarette called 'Twist of Lime'. In November of 2004 they introduced Camel winter blends in flavors including 'Winter Warm Toffee' and 'Winter Mocha Mint.' There's even a cigarette that's bourbon flavored.

"Brown and Williamson, another big tobacco company, has introduced flavored versions of its cool cigarettes with names like 'Caribbean Chill,' 'Midnight Berry,' 'Mocha Taboo,' and 'Mintrigue.' Mr. President, these are not targeted to adults. These are targeted to kids, and the Department of Health in their testimony in support of this measure says, 'The earlier that an individual begins smoking, the more likely he or she will become addicted to tobacco products and will continue to smoke throughout their lifetime. As a result, flavored cigarettes result in increased tobacco use, increased addiction, increased incidents of smoke-related illnesses, increased healthcare costs, and more smoke-related deaths. The Department of Health views the sale and distribution of flavored cigarettes as a serious public health issue and they have been shown to increase tobacco use among children.'

"Turning to the testimony from the American Cancer Society, 'The American Cancer Society notes that research has demonstrated that smoking harms nearly every organ of the body, damaging overall health even if no specific disease develops. The monetary cost is also immense. In a 2004 Surgeon General's report, it was estimated that smoking costs more than $157 billion in medical care and lost productivity. In Hawaii, tobacco use is responsible for over 1,100 deaths per year and it costs the state over $525 million in healthcare and other associated costs. It is a dangerous substance and its distribution should be controlled as strongly as possible,' according to the American Cancer Society.

"Mr. President, colleagues, I happen to agree with the ACS and urge all of you to join me in voting 'yes' on S.B. No. 2503. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the measure.

"Colleagues, is banning this product going to convince our youth that they should not try it? I suggest that if we make it illegal, we shall be increasing the interest in this product and perhaps its use.

"Several years ago, or I guess decades ago, if a movie producer wanted to increase the attendance at his film, he sought to have it banned in Boston as somehow unacceptable for public consumption. And what did it do? People from Boston drove all over Western Massachusetts so that they could see the movie.

"I suggest that by banning flavored cigarettes, we will be creating a demand for it among our youth. We will be encouraging illegal activity by our youth, and we will be encouraging a black market for the product. I think that none of these are desirable. I think we should limit our activity to informing children of the risks and dangers of smoking and then let them make their own choice. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2560 was adopted and S.B. No. 2503, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FLAVORED TOBACCO PRODUCTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

S.B. No. 2576, S.D. 1:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 2576, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Hogue rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to note my reservations.

"Colleagues, I'm against cruelty to animals. I think all of us are, but I think that this bill needs to be tightened up. In Section 2, subsection a (iii), it says aggravated cruelty to pet animals, which becomes a class C felony, if a person 'carries or causes to be carried on public property or in or upon any vehicle or other conveyance any pet animal in a cruel or inhumane manner,' but then it doesn't actually define what that means. Essentially, it would mean that if a very responsible person was taking their pet, say, to the pet doctor and had them in the front seat and didn't have a seatbelt or a helmet on the pet, that they would be guilty of a class C felony.

"So, I think that we can tighten up the language here and do a little bit better job. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2576, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CRUELTY TO ANIMALS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Menor).

S.B. No. 2603, S.D. 1:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 2603, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in reluctant opposition to this bill.

"Colleagues, it might be useful if we all spent a few days in district court watching what kind of cases appear before judges and what choices they have. I suggest that we are making our society . . . we are creating more law than a certain segment of our society can reasonably accommodate. I think we need a new model. I think we need to figure out ways of making it easier for people to comply with the law, and in some cases that might mean that no-fault insurance is purchased at the pump when you buy your gasoline. We need a different model.

"We can't just continually increase the severity of the crime and the number of crimes and figure that somehow the people out there are listening, because if you go to district court, you'll see the people in front of the judge are people generally speaking of my gender that aren't listening to what we say and do here. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2603, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE INSURANCE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 2 (Hee, Menor).

S.B. No. 2922, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried, S.B. No. 2922, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 2 (Hee, Menor).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2567 (S.B. No. 3262, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2567 be adopted and S.B. No. 3262, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Baker rose and said:

"Mr. President, I have some comments I'd like inserted into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 3262, S.D. 1, which will guarantee comprehensive protections against exposure to secondhand smoke at state, county and private sector workplaces.

"New science has shown that secondhand smoke is more than just an annoyance; it is a serious health hazard. Secondhand smoke has been proven to cause cancer. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) considers it so dangerous they have advised people with heart conditions to avoid exposure to secondhand smoke for even 30 minutes due to the increased risk of heart attack. With this bill in place, Hawaii will provide the adequate protections for the public and our workers that the current hodgepodge of county and state laws do not. The Department of Health concurred that the state statute is obsolete and needs to reflect the most current public health science and public health policy relating to secondhand smoke.

"Coalition for a Tobacco Free Hawaii, a statewide association of over 140 members including health, business and civic organizations and individuals, has been the driving force behind this legislation. In their testimony to your Health Committee, the Coalition cited the findings of a 2005 California EPA report that noted secondhand smoke: is linked to breast and cervical cancer, increases low birth-weight and pre-term deliveries, exacerbates asthma in both children and adults and causes asthma in children. Secondhand smoke is as deadly and laden with health risks as is smoking.

"Some businesses have feared that going smoke-free would harm their businesses. However, independent economic studies have shown that smoke-free laws are either beneficial to business or have a neutral effect. In New York City and the State of California, smoking bans saw increased business tax receipts in restaurants and bars, additional jobs were created and there was less absenteeism and employee turnover. In Hawaii, secondhand smoke is an economic burden and has a high price tag. Over $300 million is spent in health care costs related to secondhand smoke and smoking. Over $200 million a year is lost in worker productivity.

"Your Committees heard testimony from Hawaii businesses and labor unions in support of this measure. In addition a poll conducted in October 2005 of Hawaii registered voters found that 85 percent support a statewide law that would prohibit smoking in most enclosed public places, including all workplaces, public buildings, office, bars, nightclubs and restaurants across the state. 93 percent of Hawaii's people believe workers should be protected from exposure to secondhand smoke and that restaurants and bars would be healthier for customers and employees if they were smoke free. Additionally, 31 percent said they would eat out more often if such establishments were smoke free.

"Mr. President, it's time for Hawaii to clear the smoke. I urge a 'yes' vote on S.B. No. 3262, S.D. 1. Mahalo."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2567 was adopted and S.B. No. 3262, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 3 (Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 2 (Hee, Menor).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2573 (S.B. No. 2909, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2573 be adopted and S.B. No. 2909, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“The law that we passed a couple of years ago that required faster approval of permits I think has been working quite well. We still have, however, a slow down in permits, particularly in the City and County of Honolulu. To pass this bill would slow them down even further and would not do anything to protect the public safety or to move along the construction process. Thank you.”

Senator Espero rose with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, please note my reservations on this.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Baker rose and said:

“Mr. President, note my reservations as well, please.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this bill.

“Mr. President, this bill came about as a request from the counties, the Big Island specifically. There’ve been many, many instances of the automatic approval requirement causing projects where the community and in fact the decision-making body did want to approve it but because of a lack of a quorum and other issues, they were forced to take hasty action. The land use process is a long and complicated one and purely putting an automatic timeline on something to deal with many complicated issues is not good public policy in my opinion.

“I encourage my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you.”

Senator Whalen rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill. Mainly, I want to respond to the last statement I heard.

“The timeline starts ticking once the applicant has provided the body with the information it needs. So, with these issues that are long and complicated, the clock isn’t ticking at that point until the applicant has provided the body with all the information that is required, whether it’s environmental impact statements or public hearings, etc., everything that needs to be done. All it is is an excuse for a body to dillydally and not make up its mind. Meanwhile, businesses, etc., are losing thousands, sometimes tens of thousands of dollars a day, while the government is just raking them over the coals.

“I was here when we put this bill in and it has done its purpose in terms of helping the bureaucrats to realize that there are people out there who work, and time is money and you just can’t stall them and put them off. This bill puts us right back where we were, and for that reason, I oppose it.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2573 was adopted and S.B. No. 2909, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PERMIT APPROVALS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2575 (S.B. No. 2421, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2575 be adopted and S.B. No. 2421, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure at this particular moment in time.

“If I understand what this bill does, it potentially rolls the clock back 150 years. I don’t know if I support rolling the time clock back 150 years or not because what I’d like to know is what is this going to do? How many acres are involved? How many parcels of property are involved? What is the cost that is ultimately going to mean trying to go back and redo things over a 150-year history?

“Until I have better information, I can’t vote for this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in support and said:

“Mr. President, I stand in support of the measure.

“Mr. President, we are not rolling the clock back 150 years. Essentially, kuleana lands have been historically with us for many, many years, and the sad part of our history is that many of these kuleana lands have been taken by adverse possession and many of those native tenants have been displaced from their lands by the use of adverse possession.

“What this law does is going forward bars the use of adverse possession to take kuleana lands. Mr. President, I urge all my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Whalen rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support, but I just want to clarify something for the record.

“The previous speaker gave the impression that adverse possession can be used to toss somebody off the land. The very nature of the law of adverse possession is that whoever is going to get this land is actually living there and shows signs that they own it. If the true owner of the land is living on the land, there’s no way you can use adverse possession to toss them off. So that argument fails on its face for that part.

“But on a whole, although I’m voting for this bill, I think this Session in particular removed in some ways too far in one way with the pendulum swing in terms of trying to rectify past wrongs perhaps to say for the Native Hawaiian community. I’ll wait for us to get to those bills before I talk about that.”

Senator English rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“Mr. President, members, just to be clear, the act that we’re doing today, this act that we’re moving forward, is predicated on an act that happened in 1850. It’s called the ‘Kuleana Land

Act,' which the Legislature of the Kingdom of Hawaii promulgated to allow for the common people to own land. Less than 30,000 people got land, probably maybe an acre-and-a-half to two acres, and these lands were within larger districts. The Mahele happened in 1848, and that divided the lands between the government, the King and the crown, and the 248 highest chiefs of the land. The commoners got land through the Kuleana Act of 1850.

"Up until the present, most of these lands have disappeared in adverse possession because in the plantation era and up until recently, these lands were essentially leased by large companies or lost so they could not find them on the maps. The descendants didn't realize that the family had land in the far districts. But in essence, they were small pieces and this simply bars the use of someone living or using the property as then claiming that land as their own.

"So, I think that it actually does help the original intent of the Kuleana Act of 1850. I urge everyone to continue to support this. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2575 was adopted and S.B. No. 2421, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADVERSE POSSESSION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

S.B. No. 2687:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 2687, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"Two years ago the Legislature passed a bill to help take back the parks and make the parks usable by all citizens and residents. We all know that we have a homeless problem. We know that most of the parks in fact have illegal campers and illegal trespassers. What this bill then would do is take away that law which we passed two years ago.

"I think we are trying to address the issue of homelessness. It is a separate. It should be dealt with separately. But the use of the parks, the maintenance of the parks, the cost of upkeep to the parks should be of concern to everyone in the community. I know it is to those people that testified against this bill, including the Kulio'o Neighborhood Board No. 2. They have been very frustrated because they've had meetings upon meetings. They've met with the police. They've met with social agencies. They've tried to reach an accommodation and yet the parks are not public. The parks are not for everyone. The parks have become havens for a certain group of people.

"And so, as I say, we should be addressing the homeless problem as we are in a number of other bills, but we should make sure that we maintain the parks for all users in the community and throughout the state. Thank you."

Senator Espero rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'll be voting with reservations on this matter. Thank you."

Senators Inouye, Bunda and Nishihara requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2687, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CRIMINAL TRESPASS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

S.B. No. 2424:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 2424, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, if I read this bill correctly, we're passing or seeking to create this law because we want to change the phrase 'master plan' to 'strategic plan.' I don't see the necessity of having a bill to do just the change in wording of 'master plan' to 'strategic plan.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2424, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2585 (S.B. No. 2412, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2585 be adopted and S.B. No. 2412, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Kanno rose and said:

"Mr. President, please note my reservations. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2585 was adopted and S.B. No. 2412, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE AND COUNTY TORT LIABILITY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2586 (S.B. No. 2423, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Hee and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2586 was adopted and S.B. No. 2423, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2588 (S.B. No. 3273, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Hee and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2588 was adopted and S.B. No. 3273, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SUBSTANCE ABUSE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

S.B. No. 2381, S.D. 1:

Senator Taniguchi moved that S.B. No. 2381, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose and said:

“Mr. President, as previously noted in Ways and Means . . .”

President Bunda interjected:

“Senator Trimble, are you supporting the bill or opposing it?”

Senator Trimble responded:

“Neither one, Mr. President. (Laughter.) I’m seeking to recuse myself because of certain issues I have before the audit division of the Department of Taxation.”

Senator Whalen then rose and said:

“Mr. President, I move we submit our ‘yes’ and ‘no’ votes and vote on the rest of the calendar right now.” (Laughter.)

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2381, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX ADMINISTRATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2595 (S.B. No. 3191, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2595 be adopted and S.B. No. 3191, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“This can work both ways. I went to Dan Dinell and said it would be cheaper if you bought space on the inside, condemned space on the inside from Victoria Ward and then in turn sold or gave that to the small landowners that were facing Queen Street on the Makai side. Therefore, when we widen Queen Street, the size of those smaller lots would not have to be reduced to the point where the lots are no longer useful for the business they’re trying to conduct.

“So, if we pass this law, we will not be able to implement it in such a way where we could actually use the law to help small businesses. So I think we should maintain the flexibility that we have, and therefore I urge you to vote against this bill. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in strong support of the bill.

“While it is true that you might be able to use this two ways, the only way that we’ve seen it being used in the last dozen years is in an illegal way – the taking of private property by the government to give to another private owner. Some of us find fault with eminent domain and the way it was used in the previous decades for public purposes. But to take it for private purposes really is not a safe or sane argument and people across the country are very concerned about it, particularly since the Kelo v New London decision.

“You know that I’m a very strong small business advocate, but I don’t advocate taking land away from big businesses to give to small businesses. It’s not an issue of big versus small. It is an issue of government versus private and it’s an issue of takings in the first place. And whether you use economic justifications or social justifications or something else, private property is supposed to be revered and sacred in the United States of America and we’ve gone far afield from that.

“If we don’t tax people out of their property, now we’re trying to take their property because we say, ‘just because they live there, just because they operate a small business, that’s good enough. We, as the government, can get more money and can find a better use for it.’ We’ve got to start protecting private property and those who live in it and who have worked so hard to maintain it. So, I support this bill very strongly. Thank you.”

At 11:31 o’clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:32 o’clock a.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2595 was adopted and S.B. No. 3191, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMINENT DOMAIN,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2603 (S.B. No. 2938, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2603 be adopted and S.B. No. 2938, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose on the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I think we’re using too broad a brush. I can see halfway houses . . .”

Senator Baker interjected:

“Mr. President, does the speaker speak for or against the measure?”

Senator Trimble responded:

“I rise in opposition to this measure.

“The brush that we are trying to apply is too broad. There are some houses or facilities that would not involve released convicts or prisoners but merely a group of people seeking to live together, perhaps in a dry environment. I don’t think we should include them in the same group as the others, unless perhaps we go to the degree of asking everyone who drinks in the neighborhood, or might have a drinking problem, to post a little sign on his door. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2603 was adopted and S.B. No. 2938, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMUNITY NOTIFICATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2605 (S.B. No. 2161, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2605 be adopted and S.B. No. 2161, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Hogue rose with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise with some reservations about this particular measure.

“They go on and on in this bill about the right of following the child’s wishes. They talk about the foster care providers have to be adequately informed of the child’s circumstances, on and on and on. It’s talks about adequately informed about the child’s cultural background and to the extent possible, the information about their hobbies and likes and dislikes. It seems like the child is the person in charge instead of the parent. I think that we all come from homes in which when we were children, the parent was in charge.

“So, I think that we just need to take a look at this about coming forward with some reasonable rules that will protect children and at the same time encourage people who want to voluntarily step forward and become foster parents. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Whalen rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

“I feel it goes much further than just concern or reservations. The prior speaker mentioned a few, and I won’t go on and belabor it, but this bill gives more rights than I think a traditional family. For instance, in there they talked about a minor who already has a child has the right to make the parental decisions for their kid. They obviously have a problem with making wise decisions themselves to begin with – lack of discretion and getting pregnant in the first place – and we’re giving them this right. I realize it does allow a court to step in and say, well, it’s not in your best interest or it’s not in your child’s best interest, but how many more visits to family court do they have to go to?

“And speaking of that, I think the bill does have a race problem, unequal protection. If you’re Hawaiian then you need to go to a Hawaiian family. But if you’re Chinese or Japanese, then you can go with wherever the department decides to send you and it gives a preference to Hawaiian children. It doesn’t talk about those raised in a culture or anything else particularly, it says, if you’re of Hawaiian decent.

“I have a good friend of mine, a Black man with a Filipino wife, who have raised a number of foster kids and most of them have some Native Hawaiian blood in them. They do a tremendous job of raising these kids and helping them get on their feet and move on in life. This bill, what? He’s not good enough? He’s not a good enough foster parent? He can’t do it anymore?

“It just goes way beyond reservations. It needs to be overhauled completely.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I stand in support of this measure.

“I appreciate both previous speakers’ concerns. This is a product of the Hawaii Foster Youth Coalition, Legal Aide Society. The folks that testified in support of this, including the Foster Parents Association, were supportive.

“If you do have suggestions, I think, as we go through the process, that would be very much welcomed. I do appreciate it and I hope everyone does support this measure. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2605 was adopted and S.B. No. 2161, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FOSTER CHILDREN,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2607 (S.B. No. 3016, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2607 be adopted and S.B. No. 3016, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“What this bill seeks to do is to penalize employers who do not pay prevailing wages, and of course existing law does provide for those penalties. The Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, which testified against this bill says that in fact they have initiated fines and penalties against such employers, though they be few in number.

“What this bill really does is seek to increase the power and clout of labor unions here by going far beyond existing law and far beyond any problems that exist by giving the unions injunctive relief, which means that they can freeze an action or they can do something to affect the business while any litigation or while any investigation is going on. We have the federal law that covers issues where federal entities are involved. And as I mentioned, the state law is quite adequate.

“We’ve done the job and we don’t need these additional powers, one-sided powers, for labor unions. Thank you.”

Ayes, 19. Noes, 6 (Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2608 (S.B. No. 3021, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2608 be adopted and S.B. No. 3021, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise also in opposition to this bill

“This bill has to do with alleged violations of sick leave policies. Just a reminder that sick leave, in fact, is not a mandated benefit, nor should it be, although most employers, large and small, do either grant sick leave of flexible leave policies.

“What this bill does, though, it says that any policies by both employers or labor unions that would seek to punish employees because of their use or abuse of sick leave policies are punishable, but then in the bill, basically the punishment is only reserved for employers. There has been no problem that has been testified to and what this probably would do if this bill passes and becomes law is to make many companies rethink their sick leave policies if they’re not under collective bargaining right now.

“So, it is a bill that has a solution for no problem that exists. Thank you.”

Senator Kanno rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“I wanted to read from a testimony submitted at the hearing. This was from an individual. He talked about working for a retail company and he states, ‘It had a policy of progressively disciplining employees for using their sick days, even with a doctor’s note. This process started as soon as employee takes his or her first sick day. The company provided us with only five days of leave.’ He talks about the policies being shortsighted and resulted in employees coming in who were sick because they would be disciplined for taking their first day of sick leave. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, please note my support with reservations.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2608 was adopted and S.B. No. 3021, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the measure.

“The committee report noted that the real problem is automobile theft, so why don’t we address the real problem instead of trying to legislate common sense?”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2611 was adopted and S.B. No. 2079, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHILDREN,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2612 be adopted and S.B. No. 2166, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Whalen rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

“Mr. President, again I think we go too far here. I realize that we’re very much on the liberal side when it comes to these type of rights. But in this bill we’re including other medical procedures besides reproductive stuff and venereal diseases to what a 14-year-old can consent to.

“I realize in some small instances maybe that’s best, but to put a blanket policy like this in there without even a hint of the doctor should go in and check out to see if the parent should or shouldn’t know about it, again, I think we’re going too far in our efforts here. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to the bill.

“In addition to the good words of my colleague from Kona, it should be noted that while this bill talks about minors who are living on their own without parental support or guidance – and the key term here is minors – any of us who are parents know that even if that situation existed, we are still responsible for our minor children whether they accept our love or guidance or support or whatever. And we also know that if anything goes wrong during any of these surgeries or any of these procedures, where are they going to turn to for liability and for assistance? It’s going to be with the parents.

“So if the parents don’t even know about it, if they have no discussion, if they have no input to this, it makes it truly one-sided and you’re not doing these children any favors. Thank you.”

Senator Whalen rose again and said:

“Mr. President, just one last rebuttal point to the good speaker here on my right – not really a rebuttal but something to think about.

“The bill before, we said if you’re 14 years old you’re not adult enough to be able to watch your 8-year-old sibling in a car with you. Now we’re saying that at 14, you’re old enough to make life-threatening decisions or life-endangering medical procedures or life-altering medical procedures. It doesn’t make sense. We keep flipping and flopping one way or another on our policy and we need to get consistent.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2612 was adopted and S.B. No. 2166, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MINORS;” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“This measure would require – not allow, but mandate – that teachers report suspected cases of child abuse. We already expect a lot of our teachers and I don’t think we should be changing law just because of whatever system we come up with. There will be mistakes that happen. The system that we have in place where one central authority of the school is in charge of reporting child abuse should work well in almost all instances and certainly better than mandating that teachers be the one to place the call. Okay?”

“So, please think about it before you vote. We don’t need to keep changing the law every time something unfortunate happens. Thank you.”

Senators Ige and Nishihara requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2613 was adopted and S.B. No. 2327, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHILD ABUSE OR NEGLECT REPORTING;” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hooser rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

“I’m somewhat reluctant in my opposition because I think the intent of the proponents of the bill is a positive one but I have serious reservations about the direction that this takes – the use of our agricultural lands. Being from an agricultural community from the neighbor islands, I’m a strong supporter of agriculture and our farmers. I’m afraid that by allowing or expanding or encouraging tourism on agricultural lands, we’re heading in the wrong direction.

“There is a process right now through the use of a special use permit that people can and do go through to allow visitor operations on their lands. Again, I’m concerned that there’s a slippery slope and that we’re actually going in the opposite direction. I would prefer to see us be more diligent in requiring that agricultural lands be used for agricultural purposes and that the consequences, the long-term consequences of this direction will in effect drive the price of agricultural lands up as more and more landowners, more and more farmers, even, find tourism more lucrative than farming.

“I would propose a thought that if we insisted that agricultural lands could only be used for farms, could only be used for farming, then the price of those lands would be much lower than they are today. By continuing down that track that we’re on, it’s a self-fulfilling prophecy that people can’t farm here. I think if you talk to the farmers on Kauai, talk to the farmers on the neighbor islands and the rural parts of this island, the serious farmers will tell you that they can farm but it’s a struggle.

“I think by encouraging tourism on agricultural lands, we’re heading down the wrong path, and so I will be voting ‘no’ on this measure.

“I’d like to comment also on one more thing – on the ability of the counties to enforce the rules. The Hawaii Farm Bureau and others have said they have serious concerns about the counties’ ability to enforce the rules. My experience in the past with the counties leads me to believe also that I do not want to trust this in the hands of the counties.

“So, for those reasons, I’m voting in opposition. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Mr. President, I had the privilege for four years to serve as the county’s economic development coordinator and had an opportunity to work with farmers throughout our county. A number of them, yes indeed, are struggling, and this is one of the reasons that some of them have wanted to be able to sell their products to visitors who come to visit their farm.

“The other has to do with the fact that too many of our young people and even some adults think that food comes from Safeway or from Foodland or some other retail outlet. They have no concept of what it takes to produce a quart of milk, a bag of onions, some coleslaw, or even goat cheese.

“Mr. President, on Maui the farmers have gotten together to develop an agricultural tourism map to identify places and farms that are open to visitors so that they can be enriched in their visit to our island as well as to understand what it takes to create products that we so often take for granted. I think this is an important aspect not only for the farmer’s bottom line but for us to show that we are more than just beautiful sand beaches and wonderful water, but that we have a rich heritage and agriculture is definitely part of that. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against this measure.

“Mr. President, colleagues, there’s a growing dependency on tourism that’s amounting to a very unhealthy economy and risk on the part of all the people of Hawaii. Quite frankly, I’m quite pleased that the good Senator from Kauai is announcing his opposition to it because I share his sentiments exactly. We are gradually moving towards an economy where even residential property, through the illegal use of bed and breakfasts and transient accommodations, is turning our neighborhoods into tourist destinations.

“This, in fact, would do just what the previous speaker said it would do – it would take a large portion of agricultural land in the future and turn it into a tourist destination.

“In speaking against this bill, I’d like to ask once again – Is there a carrying capacity for tourism in the Hawaiian Islands? I would say definitely yes that there is a finite number of tourists that we reasonably can accommodate in Hawaii before we reap diminishing returns to those of us who live here. This bill is a step in the wrong direction.

“I’d like to thank the good Senator from Kauai for pointing out these things so articulately and I join him in voting ‘no’ against this legislation.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2973, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL TOURISM,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This bill eliminates the requirement that the Superintendent of Education provide annual reports to the Board of Education detailing transactions that the Department of Education has taken. Those of us that served on the bipartisan Felix Investigating Committee know how difficult it was and we talked to people from the DOE. The accounting people didn't talk to the budget people. The budget people didn't know what was going on with accounting. That was when we were required to have written reports.

"Now, if you take this responsibility away, not only does not the Board of Education get the report from the superintendent, but the traditional practice has been that these reports have gone also to the Governor and to the Legislature. Here we are spending most of our time in education and education financial related matters and we would not have the benefit of these reports.

"I think this is a very bad precedent and very bad bill. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

"Mr. President, I guess the intention isn't for reports not to come to the Legislature and the Governor, and we'll follow up to assure that we get sufficient information."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2721, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"I note that we're now very concerned about medically accurate sex information to be given to the schools. I wish we were only half or one-tenth as concerned about information about reading, writing, mathematics, social studies, geography, history, and some of the other topics which our students do so poorly in. They seem to do very well in sexual matters. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2139, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator English moved that S.B. No. 2972, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"The need for this legislation occurs because we're stuck in a 1950's mentality and trying to impose a 1950's solution in the 21st century. All sorts of problems result from the beverage container law and tweaking it won't solve it. The best thing we can do is move toward a separation from the curb recycling program, which the city doesn't want to get into, really, because there are no longer any beverage containers to make the separation at curbside work.

"So, we keep coming and tweaking laws that we passed before that don't work, instead of repealing them and move toward a better solution. Thank you."

Senators Ige and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2972, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPOSIT BEVERAGE CONTAINER PROGRAM," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator English moved that S.B. No. 2749, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this measure.

"Mr. President, I do that with a full acknowledgement that I think the attention that was paid to this bill and the next bill, S.B. No. 2750, also dealing with essentially the same issue, were really conducted in a manner that attempted to bring a balance to the discussion. However, I need to express my opposition to these measures primarily because, as you will recall, last Session we passed S.C.R. No. 208 which asks the Farm Bureau and the Department of Agriculture to conduct meetings to determine coexistence amongst all of the various types of agricultural practices.

"Mr. President, they have submitted a report to us at the beginning of this Session. Essentially, what the report said was that they have scheduled a number of meetings including through July of this year. So I think there are earnest attempts being made to try to establish a level playing field, a solid base of information by which we can make decisions on potential affects and impacts that these genetically modified organisms would have here in Hawaii.

"I think that before we process any legislation and consider any legislation, we need to have that firm baseline of information. And for that reason, I'm asking my colleagues to consider the fact that we are still in the information gathering phase. We will have that information to us hopefully by this summer and preceding the next Legislative Session. Once we have that in place, I think we can make sounder decisions. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Inouye rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise against S.B. No. 2749, S.D. 1, as well as the following measure and I'd like to offer the following comments.

"Hawaii is no longer the isolated island chain that once was. Today, ships and airplanes arriving from around the world, unfortunately, bring new diseases and pests. It is not a question of if but when new diseases and pests will arrive.

“The Alomae-Bobone viral complex is found in the Solomon Islands today. It has wiped out 96 percent of the native taro varieties there. Imagine if that virus reaches Hawaii – what would it do to our native taro varieties? In Samoa, when the pathogen, Phytophthora colocasiae, finally reached their shores, it caused a 95 percent decrease in yields of their beloved, but susceptible taro varieties. In Hawaii, the leaf blight caused by Phytophthora colocasiae reached our islands during the 1910’s and caused losses of many traditional taro varieties. At one time, there were 343 named taro varieties in Hawaii and perhaps they were lost due to introduced diseases and pests.

“Genetic engineering for increased disease resistance is just one tool to improve sustainability of crop production. A five-year restriction prevents research that can help to maintain taro production in Hawaii as well as preserve the Hawaiian taro germplasm. Hawaii is at an all-time low in taro production – the lowest level since production data has been collected starting in 1946. Diseases such as pocket rot or Phytophthora leaf blight are two major causes of the decline in taro production.

“S.B. No. 2749, S.D. 1, emphasizes the potential negative effects of genetic engineering of crops. It institutionalized language that affects the public’s perceptions of the health and safety of existing commercialized genetically engineered crops, such as papaya.

“A moratorium would make taro, including the Hawaiian taro, and coffee extremely vulnerable to unpredictable invasions of plant pathogens and other pests. In the event that a catastrophic pest or disease attacks taro or coffee in Hawaii, a moratorium would be disastrous.

“I urge my colleagues to seriously consider caution in these measures. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 2749.

“It’s true, there was much opposing testimony also. The opposing testimony came from the industry and it would be expected that that’s where it would come from – the people who are vested and married to the science.

“This is taro farmers saying we don’t want the danger of growing GMO taro. We don’t want the danger of having our crops contaminated inadvertently by genetically modified taro that’s being grown in open-field testing. There’s no question that this does happen in some areas and other crops. There’s not cross contamination from one crop to another, but if you’re growing GMO corn, for example, and you have non-GMO corn or non-GMO papaya, there will be cross contamination. There is a very real risk to this. The taro farmers and many members of the Hawaiian community and others said we don’t want this; we don’t want this risk.

“The health department testified that they didn’t know that there was any risk. It said undeterminable in terms of health benefits. We did have I think it was the Maui public health director on his own behalf testifying in support of this bill.

“There’s a real market risk, a very real market risk, to niche markets like taro and like coffee, which is the next bill. There are many countries in Europe who do not allow the sale of GMO products or require labeling. There are many countries in Asia and Japan that do the same thing. There’s a very real risk to the farmers if their crops are contaminated inadvertently by the GMO crops.

“There are several companies here – Whole Foods, which is opening in Ward Center in 2008 – that are contacting papaya growers on Kauai. They’re saying we want non-GMO papayas. They’re the same folks who will want non-GMO taro and non-GMO coffee. Trader Joe’s is another well-known organization that will only sell non-GMO products.

“This is a pro-farmer bill and it does not stop research. The bill specifically allows the research that’s currently going on at the University of Hawaii to continue. But again, this is a pro-farmer bill and does not stop the research, and for those reasons and others, I encourage my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the bill.

“Mr. President, there probably is a place for genetic engineering in Hawaii. Bunchy top is a problem that I frankly wish there could be an engineered solution. I don’t think taro is a crop that should be genetically modified for many reasons, not the least of which is its spiritualness to the native people. Taro is from Hāloa. We are from Hāloa, and that belief has not changed through generations.

“Hawaii has experienced a 20 percent loss in production. With the big rains that Hawaii has experienced, there’ll probably be a greater loss this year.

“One of the previous speakers is absolutely correct – pocket rot is a problem called loli loli. Guava seed is a problem. Leaf blight is a problem. And with the loss of taro and the consumption of taro as a food for youngsters who have allergies, it makes good arguments to genetically engineer a solution.

“The problem is we need to genetically engineer ourselves and get away from this idea that taro is for profit, because the farmers . . . one of the other speakers is absolutely correct that not a single taro farmer supports genetic engineering and they are the ones that experience the economic loss, not a single taro farmer. In fact, Ramon dela Pena, a noted expert in taro propagation and a member of the Board of Regents at the University of Hawaii, is opposed to genetically engineering taro. The Bun Long taro that is being genetically engineered has a flower. That is reason enough that engineering a solution can spread to the native taro.

“The taro farmers, interestingly enough, it appears, based on their testimony, do not see soil as a medium. They do not see soil as a segue to profit but see soil as the soul of taro. I am convinced, having had some skepticism before the hearing, that we should leave the taro alone, that we should reengineer our brains and give soil its soul as the native people did by composting the soil, by letting it rest. Taro is being fed by fertilizer and nothing more.

“This is a pro-native position. It’s a pro-taro position, and I could not have been more moved by Chris Kobayashi from Hanalei or John Aana from Makaweli, two people who grow and mill taro for a living, to say leave the taro alone. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator English rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“Mr. President, members, this measure and the one after this is really a compromise between a number of the parties and that is why we decided to move it forward.

“First and foremost is that it isn’t a strict prohibition against any GMO testing. In fact, it says that GMO testing for one variety of taro will be allowed in secured facilities. Likewise with the next bill, we allow for it in secured facilities. But Mr. President, the compelling issue here and the compelling point here is that there’s a spiritual connection to taro and the Hawaiians have a very strong belief to it. I will agree with the previous two speakers that all of the taro growers that came in from Kauai said that they do not want the taro modified. But there was one other kupuna that came in and sat before us and she said, ‘I grew up eating poi and I eat poi every day, and I want to make sure that my poi is pure. I want to make sure that the taro that my poi is made from is pure.’ It’s the first time we’re hearing from the consumer that they want purity in their food.

“So, members, I ask that you pass this measure because it is a compromise – it allows for the scientific research to continue in very limited circumstances in secure facilities for the non-Hawaiian variety of taro, and it allows for the protection of the sacred taros that the Hawaiian people hold dear. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Espero rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, based on the testimony from Senators on the Big Island, I will be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

Senators Kim, Nishihara and Fukunaga requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and S.B. No. 2749, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS,” having been read throughout, failed to pass Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 11. Noes, 13 (Baker, Espero, Hanabusa, Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Inouye, Kokubun, Menor, Slom, Taniguchi, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Ihara).

S.B. No. 2750, S.D. 1:

Senator English moved that S.B. No. 2750, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Kokubun rose and said:

“Mr. President, I just would like to reiterate my comments to the previous bill with respect to this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Hooser rose and said:

“Likewise, Mr. President. Much of my previous comments I would like to just reiterate.

“But on this one also, there’s a little bit of a difference. The Hawaii Coffee Growers Association, which is composed of coffee growers all over the state, agreed and supported the amended and compromised version that’s before us now. Again, this version does not limit research as long as it does not include open field testing. Thank you.”

Senator Inouye rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I’ll be voting against the measure. I have remarks to be submitted into the Journal. Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Inouye’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise against S.B. No. 2750, S.D. 1, genetically modified organisms and offer the following comments:

“Hawaii is no longer the isolated island chain that once was. Today, ships and airplanes arriving from around the world, unfortunately, bring new diseases and pests. It is not a question of if but when new diseases and pests will arrive.

“I urge my colleagues to seriously consider caution in these measures. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator English rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support and I ask that my previous comments be inserted as though this was the bill. Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator English's comments read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

"Mr. President, members, this measure is really a compromise between a number of the parties and that is why we decided to move it forward.

"First and foremost is that it isn't a strict prohibition against any GMO testing. In fact, it says that GMO testing for one variety of taro will be allowed in secured facilities. S.B. No. 3218, S.D. 1:

Senator Chun Oakland moved that S.B. No. 3218, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Ihara.

Senator Whalen rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

"I find it deeply troubling that we are setting up, again, different classifications based on race. I don't think it holds true to our community, to Hawaii as a whole, and even our history as a nation. I'm referring to Hawaii as a country as always being accepting and open.

"Here we simply say if you're part or Native Hawaiian, we're going to give exclusive jurisdiction of this child to this agency or commission. It could be Chinese, Japanese; it doesn't matter. Your parents lived here for generations. You could live just as a Native Hawaiian and follow all the traditions and everything else, but you don't get to go there. You're not under that jurisdiction. You have to go somewhere else, but if you're Native Hawaiian, you can. As a matter of fact, you have exclusive jurisdiction.

"Removing them from the family court system, I don't know why. I've worked in the family courts. There are different programs. I have seen kids that are brought up, especially out in the very rural parts of my island, that they have put them in programs that focus more on the Native Hawaiian culture and value system and whatnot. But it still goes through the family court system, so there's accountability and tracking and whatever else.

"But here to say simply if you're of a certain race, you get to go here, and if you're not, you're in this other system, I just see it fraught with legal problems if someone decides to take it that way."

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I stand in support of this measure.

"I just wanted to clarify that this pilot program that is proposed over the next year is something that the Na Kupuna Tribunal had proposed to the Legislature. It is a tribunal that has existed for many decades, and what they offer is a different way of helping children in child welfare.

"When I spoke with Maile Hallum, who is one of the kupuna that is advocating for this, I asked the question if children other than Native Hawaiian children could participate in this process, and she said, certainly. So, it is not limited to Hawaiian children. Thank you."

Senator Whalen rose again and said:

"Mr. President, I just want to clarify something.

"I'm not saying that . . . it says exclusive jurisdiction. So if you have a Native Hawaiian child who doesn't want to go to this thing, under this pilot program they'd still have to go to it because they have exclusive. And for those of you who might not know what that means, if you have exclusive jurisdiction, that means no one else has any authority over it except for you. And so, that is what's bothering me about this bill and the comments didn't address that whatsoever."

Senator Chun Oakland rose again to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm standing in support again.

"My understanding is that this would not be something that would be forced. It is voluntary. So if there is, in fact, anything in there that specifies that, that is not the intent of the proponents of this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 3218, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLACEMENT OF HARMED CHILDREN," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

S.B. No. 2095, S.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 2095, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this measure.

"The insurance commissioner testified that this bill is premature. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2095, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LIFE INSURANCE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble).

S.B. No. 2635, S.D. 1:

Senator Kokubun moved that S.B. No. 2635, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Espero rose in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"S.B. No. 2635 was amended by adding language from S.B. No. 3091, a bill which did not reach Third Reading. S.B. No. 3091 was a joint referral to BED/WLA and as the lead, I amended S.B. No. 3091 due to objections and comments from the Department of Land and Natural Resources, the City and County of Honolulu, the Department of Planning and Permitting, Land Use Research Foundation, and Alston, Hunt, Floyd and Ing Law Firm. Yes, there were many testimonies in support of S.B. No. 3091, but I felt the objections were reasonable and valid.

"Unfortunately, S.B. No. 3091, S.D. 1, did not make it to Third Reading. However, some language from the measure was inserted into the current bill we are debating, S.B. No. 2635, S.D. 1, thus my opposition to the bill. For me, S.B. No. 2635, S.D. 1, is very vague and broad and lacks specific details to make the bill workable.

"The City and County of Honolulu, Department of Planning and Permitting, wrote, quote, 'The DPP opposed a section to S.B. No. 3091 because it is unnecessary. It requires assurances that public access to the shoreline of inland recreational areas via right of way be required prior to issuance or renewal of unspecified permits or prior to approval of subdivision or a zoning initiative. Our subdivision and special management area ordinances already require such access. Chapter 22, Article 6, of the Revised Ordinances of Honolulu require that in cases where adequate public access is not already provided, that public access be provided to the land below the shoreline or to the mountains where there are existing facilities for recreational purposes for subdivisions involving six or more lots and multi-family developments. Chapter 25, ROH, special management area states that development within the special management area requires a special management permit,' end of quote.

"The Department of Land and Natural Resources wrote, quote, 'The bill as now drafted is very broad and may have unintended consequences on small landowners or small parcels of public land. The bill currently requires that an agency involved in the permitting process insure that public access is available before issuing a permit for any development project. Development needs to be defined. Does that include building of a single-family home or putting a structure on any conservation district land? Is there a lower size limit that this should not apply to? Does it apply to any land no matter how small? Finally, what is the relationship to a regional access issue? Does it require the agency to insure public access if the parcel under permitting consideration is just one small piece of 10 or 20 that would also be needed for access to a remote piece of recreational land even though the other required pieces may block that access and may not come up for permitting consideration ever? Finally, once a public easement or right of way is established, who will have the responsibility to maintain it,' end of quote.

"Alston, Hunt Law Firm stated, 'The bill states that agencies shall ensure that a public right of way is available for public use. However, the bill did not explain the scope, purpose, or effect of this review. It seems to prescribe a useless act of uncertain cost and benefit. There is not a standard by which a "public right of way" should be reviewed or granted and the bill does not address the effect, if any, if there is a right of way on the land or there is no right of way on the land at issue. Furthermore, the bill is problematic in that it is not prospective, nor does it consider the landowner's interest and intent whether to grant a public right of way across his or her property.'

"Mr. President, I support public access. It is an extremely important matter which deserves discussion. However, I cannot support this measure as currently drafted. Thank you."

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 2635.

"Mr. President, from where I sit, this is mom and apple pie. The area that I live in, the area that I represent, the area that I spend my time in is a rural community and public access is something that is very, very, very important and something that is lost forever, in many cases, on a regular basis. People often will go to the beach and all of a sudden they can't go there anymore because the access is blocked. They want to go hiking, all of a sudden someone has built a huge mansion blocking the path.

"Over and over again, we're losing our public access. We're losing our trails. We're losing the public's right to access public resources. If you're a developer, or developer's attorney, or you work for a developer, or you make money from development, then perhaps you wouldn't support this bill.

"This bill is mom and apple pie, and Mr. President and colleagues, this bill does nothing more than give the counties a tool in which to enforce existing law. Existing law says public access has to be provided. This bill merely says that prior to granting or renewing a permit, or approving a development project, subdivision project, or zoning initiative that may affect public access to the sea, the shoreline, or any coastal or inland public recreational area, an agency shall ensure that a public right of way is available for the general public to use to access a public beach or park, trail, or public recreational area.

"I think the public deserves nothing less than this, Mr. President, and I encourage my colleagues to support this bill by voting 'yes.'"

Senator Hogue rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, please note that I love my mom and I love apple pie and so I will support this bill. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2635, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC ACCESS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Espero, Inouye, Menor, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

S.B. No. 2004, S.D. 1:

Senator Kokubun moved that S.B. No. 2004, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This bill that refers to Ahu o Laka or the Kaneohe sandbar has been such a popular place for so many years, and I note that the committee report makes mention of newspaper and media accounts, which would seem to describe a place of anarchy and violence and all of that. Those of us that have been to the sandbar on occasion have found it to be just exactly the opposite – a place where families, particularly local families and military families can go and gather.

“I must admit, I know I’ve only lived here now for 50 years or more, but I have never heard – never heard – until a couple months ago, this area referred to as a sacred spot and a culturally sensitive spot. Now, you could say I’m out of touch or maybe I didn’t hear anything, but this same news media that has been reporting all of the alleged violence and all of the rowdiness and everything else never reported that either. So, maybe I can be enlightened on how all of a sudden we found this to be a sacred spot and why we want to take steps right now to take yet another family activity away from the overburdened, overtaxed residents of Hawaii.

“I urge a ‘no’ vote on this bill. Thank you.”

Senator Kokubun rose to support the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“While I can appreciate the fact that I also grew up on this island and did not have the historic knowledge about the significance of this particular site, it was through this hearing process that much of this information came to light. I would in particular point to the testimony from Kawaikapuokalani Hewett, Kumu Hewett, who provided us with a genealogical line back 47 generations to this particular Chief for whom this is a sacred site. There were also numerous testimonies from the DLNR, from the historic preservation division, and members of the public confirming that in fact this is a site of great significance to the Native Hawaiian culture.

“Mr. President, not only that, which I think is enough, in my mind, to justify naming this as a monument, but the fact that the DOCARE (Division of Conservation and Resources Enforcement) officers came forward and talked about the types of gatherings that were occurring, not all the time, but that they did occur where thousands of people would be gathered for these so-called concerts with no sanitation facilities, lots of alcohol being consumed and the fact that fights were breaking out, with again, no sanitation facilities. Mr. President, this was just really shocking to me that this could be happening at an area which many consider to be very, very significant.

“The other part of the measure that I think is very important to keep in mind is that this does not bar anyone from going to that site. In fact, the amended version of this bill only looks at those large gatherings. It was never intended to deny anyone the right to access that area.

“But I think given all the testimony from various kupuna who were there at the hearing, it was one of the most enlightening hearings that I’ve been to. I would comment to all my colleagues here that I think this is a bill that’s worthy for passage and for further discussion. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hee rose in support and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“I point out that the compiled surveys of G.E.G. Jackson, dated 1882, reduction of Jackson’s Koolau Bay, Oahu, by F.W. Thurm traced from regular map 1848, A.S. Chaney, January 1916, marks Ahu o Laka in Kaneohe Bay next to Moku o Loe and Mokolii and Kapapa Island. I guess this is one of those areas that we seem to have caught up with, but Hawaiians knew from Laka, the man, to Hikawaolena, the wife, to Luanuu, the man, and 47 generations later to Kawaikapuokalani Koko`omaiolaonalaninuiamamao Hewett, as a result of abuse of this place . . .

“It was a blast. By word of mouth, 700 to 1,000 people gathered at Kaneohe sandbar this past Labor Day weekend for some fun in the sun. It was a bring your own booze event with people bringing coolers packed with grinds and drinks. Some even brought picnic tables and barbecue grills, even pets. There were 40 people who got into a fight and this event was absent of adequate security and sanitation facilities.

“It’s another abuse that requires genetic engineering of our brains, so I urge those to support the measure. Thank you.”

Senator English rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support.

“Members, I ask that you support this measure because there’s a lot underlying it. The first thing is that there’s a recognition that there are sacred places in Hawaii and just because one didn’t know that it was sacred or one had no idea, it does not diminish the fact that it is sacred. In fact, the Hawaiian point of view of land is that it’s all sacred.

“The piece of land that you live on, if you go back far enough, will have a name, and you can probably find that name. You may have to go back to what’s called the native registry or the foreign testimony, but every little piece of land had a name and the name tells us the story.

“In this particular case, Ahu o Laka, there’s another name associated with it, which is Ahua a Laka. It’s a little bit different and it might mean the whole island, it might mean something different, but there are two names associated with this place. For those who speak the language and understand the significance, when you hear the name you know that it is a significant place.

“The hearing was remarkable, as was noted earlier, in that Kumu Frank Hewett was able to come in and give the genealogy of Laka, whose name this place is named for, all the way down to the present generations. Hawaiian’s still have that connection to various pieces of land in the state.

“So, I ask that we support this measure, move it forward, and I really appreciate the underlying discussion on this. It brings us back to the realization that from the Hawaiian standpoint, all land is sacred. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2004, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Hogue, Slom). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

S.B. No. 2501, S.D. 1:

Senator Kokubun moved that S.B. No. 2501, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this legislation to protect fishing grounds at Haena on the Island of Kauai.

“Mr. President, in speaking in favor of it, I do want to bring to the Floor the recognition that we do have user conflicts statewide. Last year we addressed the issue of commercial charter boats going down the Waianae Coast and interfering with the lifestyle, the fishing, and the recreation of the residents of that particular area. I’d like to say once again that it’s time this Legislature stand up to recognize the necessity for this bill – that the entire State of Hawaii does have to ascribe to the ancient Hawaiian practice of the ahupua`a system. The Hawaiians quite wisely recognize the farthest reaches of the sea as part of their contiguous environment in which they lived and played, and hence they regulated it accordingly.

“We do a very good job, or we try to do a good job recognizing land use and zoning it accordingly. The time has come for us to start looking at the ocean and recognizing those resources, especially the near shore resources, as this bill does. We need ocean zoning. We need to examine carrying capacities at different ocean areas. We need to regulate user conflicts, especially between commercial and conservation and local recreational uses.

“For all of these reasons and many more besides voting in favor of this bill, I’d urge this Legislature to look ahead to the future and start mandating that we regulate and zone our ocean resources to the benefit of future generations. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support with just brief remarks.

“I want to thank the Minority Leader for his remarks. That’s two in one day. We’re starting a new trend here, so thank you.

“I just want to say it’s not just about regulating. This is about community. Those of you that take the time to look into this bill will see that it’s a community based process and it focuses on the people that live in that district and live in that area and takes into consideration the needs of the community. That’s what makes this different from, I think, most other attempts at regulating activities in our state.

“So, with that, I encourage my colleagues to vote in support.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2501, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FISHING,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

S.B. No. 2298, S.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 2298, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“While I have supported legislation against unlicensed contractors in the past, this bill is going much too far. It’s very draconian in nature for unlicensed plumbers and electricians. The fines alone are $1,000 a day for every day. I noticed that they add people that are aiding and abetting and this could open up a lot of people to prosecution who are unknowing of what has happened or what’s transpired. The bottom line on all of this is there really is not a problem unless somebody gets work that is not properly done, and unfortunately, we’ve seen work that’s improperly done by licensed plumbers and licensed electricians.

“So, the fact that the fines are so stiff, I think the aiding or abetting is very vague but very broad, and the fact that they even want to turn off the phone service for these individuals I think goes far beyond the legislation that we’ve all supported in the past for unlicensed contractors. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2298, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHAPTER 448E, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 2 (Hee, Ihara).

S.B. No. 2774, S.D. 2:

On motion by Senator Menor, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried, S.B. No. 2774, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Hee, Ihara).

S.B. No. 2917:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 2917, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Menor rose to speak in support and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in strong support of this particular measure.

“As one of the authors of health insurance rate regulation, I believe that the reasons that justify the adoption of legislation in this area in the first place remain valid and provide us with more than sufficient reason to allow the law to remain in effect.

“As the insurance commissioner has agreed, rate oversight insures that excessive profits are not earned in a market that lacks competition and is essentially dominated by two health insurance carriers. Rate regulation also prevents the dominant health insurance plans from engaging in predatory pricing practices by temporarily setting premiums too low to drive out competition and gain market share. Furthermore, rate oversight provides for a process to which the insurance commissioner can fulfill a watchdog rule for the public, reviewing detailed financial information and properly evaluating rates taxed for which consumers do not have the time or resources to conduct for themselves.

“Finally, as supporters of the original law predicted, rate regulation has generated millions of dollars of savings for businesses thanks to cases in which the insurance commissioner has reduced or modified rate filings. Health insurance rate regulation has clearly provided definite benefits to consumers and businesses and deserves to be made permanent.

“I also urge the members of the House Leadership team, who in the past have been too willing to bottle up pro-consumer legislation that HMSA opposes, to give this measure a full and fair hearing and to enact it into law. I respectfully urge my colleagues to vote in favor of S.B. No. 2917. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure. I was going to let it go, but I was so moved by the previous speaker.

“If we look at the history of regulating business, the period of time when it is most effective, if it is effective at all, is at the beginning. After we regulate an industry for so many years, the industry adapts to this regulation and winds up influencing, motivating or otherwise regulating the regulators.

“So, while I will admit there were consumer benefits, that was the past and it is no reason to let this law continue indefinitely. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“As someone who is a ratepayer as a small business owner, someone who has negotiated health insurance rates for three decades now, I have to tell you quite honestly I do not see any benefits that we’ve had over the last couple years in this rate regulation. Rates have continued to increase. They’ve increased again more heavily for those in small businesses than others. To me the real problem here is lack of incentives for people entering the market.

“While the good Senator from Mililani, the godfather of gas cap regulation as well as healthcare regulation, would have us believe that this is working well and we have taken care of the big bad monster – let’s all say the name, HMSA – the fact of the matter is that we do things in our state to provide disincentives for people that want to enter the market.

“Now, we’ve had one new insurer who’s entered the market since this legislation was passed, and that’s Summerlin Health and Life Insurance. They would have entered the market a lot sooner, they would have made their rates a lot lower, they would have helped more consumers if we had done what we debated several years ago, and that was the exemption of the 4 percent general excise tax on healthcare providers. But we didn’t, and so they’re still paying the 4 percent. They are a for-profit company. They’re paying 4 percent – HMSA and Kaiser are not.

“If we really wanted more competition, if we really wanted more companies to enter this market, that’s what we would do – we would not send a message to the investment community, the healthcare community, and everyone else that, hey, come to Hawaii; we will regulate your business.

“We are the laughing stock of the nation on the gas caps no matter what the good Senator says. It is failing. I noticed that he was making a congressional speech here to his House Democratic colleagues. I guess they haven’t gotten the message because they want to repeal that.

“This also is not good legislation. It is not consumer oriented, does not help businesses, has not stopped rate increases, has not increased competition! So all in all, it is zero, zero, zero, zero. What we have to do in this state is have a hospitable business and investment climate, not a hostile one where certain individuals in this State Legislature continue to provide us with control measures. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“I’d just like to call the previous speaker’s attention to the committee report that accompanied this bill. Testimony in support of this measure was submitted by the State Insurance Commissioner, the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, some labor organizations, some business organizations, Summerlin Life and Health Insurance, and some citizens. But the important part is that since the filings began, the insurance commissioner has made reductions to six different rate filings, saving Hawaii consumers at least $18 million.

“The important thing about health insurance and the cost of healthcare is that unfortunately it’s going to continue to rise, but if you look at what’s happened in Hawaii’s market since rate regulation began, we’ve actually tracked lower than many places on the mainland. Part of it is our population size, part of it is managed care, but part of it has to do with rate regulation. Given the fact that this administration supported it as well as a number of other individuals who wouldn’t necessarily come to the table on this matter, and we have seen savings to consumers, I think this is a pro-consumer bill and I urge my colleagues to support it. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Two things, colleagues – first one, there's another measure going before us today that provides that if you are in foster care your biological parents can be required to pay for automobile insurance if so opined by the state. So, if we allow, in a normal family setting, a child to be removed from the insurance rolls, then we might find one of the unintended consequences similar to what has occurred in Bermuda where people leave their home at the earliest possible age simply so that they can drive a vehicle.

"The second reason that I suggest we look at it carefully is that we would like to have as many people as possible that are insured. It is within some degree of likelihood that the person that is removed from the role of insurance in the family will take that vehicle out and drive it anyway.

"So, two reasons why you should vote 'no' on this measure. Thank you."

"Mr. President, I'm voting 'no' on this bill.

"All the people that testified, testified against this bill except really the bill's sponsors, and that is the IBEW, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. What this bill does is to increase their membership and their dues by requiring the majority of craftsmen on any project be members of the IBEW and be licensed.

"I'm voting 'no.' Thank you."

S.B. No. 3066, S.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 3066, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Hooser rose in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Mr. President, I believe we had a similar bill last year that died somewhere along the way, and this bill is a bill for an act relating to interest and usury, S.B. No. 3066, which purports to level the playing field for local lending institutions who generate credit cards and give them the same opportunity as credit card companies in Delaware and other places on the mainland to charge, in my opinion, outrageous and often obscene rates of interest. I would see this as a bill that is bad for consumers and good for credit card companies and banks.

"The committee report says it finds that current Hawaii law places Hawaii-based credit card insurers at a pricing disadvantage. I would suggest rewording that to say that the current Hawaii law places consumers at a pricing advantage because it does not allow local credit card companies to charge the kind of rates that are charged elsewhere. If this bill passes, then that protection will be removed.

"It also removes a provision in the present law that requires the annual percentage rate to be stated and instead says they don't have to do the annual percentage rate. They simply have to do the simple percentage rate and list the fees along with it. I believe that consumer protection requires or should require when at all possible and as often as possible that the annual percentage rate be listed so consumers know the true impacts of the credit that they are undertaking.

"I believe credit card companies make lots and lots of money and it's not our responsibility to ensure that they make even more money. With nearly 1.4 billion credit cards in circulation, US credit card use is larger than the rest of the world combined.

"This bill will lead to increased bank profits and increased personal debt. Seventy percent of American families last year said they're carrying so much debt that it makes their family lives unhappy. I do not believe credit cards are an inherently healthy financial instrument and I'm unable to support this bill, which I believe is not in the best interest of Hawaii consumers. Thank you."

Senator Menor rose in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, I'm very sensitive and mindful of the concerns that were raised by the Senator from Kauai, however, I'd like to point out that I think that unlike last year when the Senate decided to recommit this bill, I think that there are persuasive arguments that can be raised in favor of keeping this bill alive for further consideration this Session. I would note that last Session the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs took no position on this issue. However, when the CPH Committee heard this bill, DCCA testified in support.

"In their testimony, I think they provide some very persuasive reasons why we should keep this measure alive, and with the indulgence of my colleagues on the Floor, I wanted to read relevant excerpts or portions of their testimony for your consideration. This testimony was submitted by Nick Griffin, commissioner of financial institutions, and in his testimony he says, 'The bill's proponent's concern that local credit card issuers who export their credit card related jobs to other jurisdictions appears to be historically and factually based. For example, in 1980, New York City Bank credit card business was squeezed between New York State usury law limits which were significantly lower than the double digit cost of prevailing funding rates. City Bank's credit card line of business, which employed 3,000 people in New York, was losing millions.

"Earlier US Supreme Court decisions allowed credit card issuers to export the rates and charges allowed in their home state to other states without needing any consent from those other states. City Bank could charge whatever level of rates and fees they felt appropriate in order to cover their costs and provide a margin of profit provided they found a new receptive home state. City Bank therefore moved its entire credit card business and its 3,000 jobs from New York to South Dakota, which it recently eliminated its usury laws in a bid to attract credit card issuers and used these changes to implement higher interest and fees on its credit cards, moving that line to profitability. Other states such as Delaware also quickly passed similar usury repeal legislation and created another niche – home state for credit card issuance and operations businesses which have attracted thousands of jobs.

"The current Hawaii statutes governing the level of credit card interest and fees placed Hawaii-based card issuers at a pricing disadvantage relative to other issuers in locations such as South Dakota and Delaware. S.B. No. 3066 appears to address that card issuer pricing disadvantage by providing Hawaii card issuers with the ability to charge interest and fees comparable to the more favorably located credit card issuers."

"I find this testimony to be persuasive, and accordingly I ask my colleagues to vote in favor of this bill. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure. I was going to let this go except for the remarks of the previous speaker.

"We live in a world that is becoming increasingly global. And to raise the argument that somehow if we don't do away with our usury laws, jobs will be lost, is wrong. The truth of the matter is that backroom operations have already left Hawaii.

Backroom operations no longer occur in most of the United States because they've moved to the Philippines, to India, and to China.

"And so, to bring up this argument really does insult our intelligence. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 3066, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTEREST AND USURY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (English, Hooser, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Ihara).

S.B. No. 2911, S.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 2911, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Holy cowbells! How long, how much are we going to burden Hawaii's taxpayers with the gas cap? I know it's one man's dream, one man's fantasy, one man's delusion, but hey, come on, this act is so flawed already. And now we have this bill, which is going to make it so difficult and so complicated, nobody could figure out what the price would be except that we all know the price will continue to go up under the gas caps. The DBEDT study showed that since last year, people have paid on average $65 per person more because of the gas caps. We're going to see more gas cap price increases.

"This bill, this bill is a Rube Goldberg bill. We're talking about new zones. We're talking about adding Singapore. We're talking about commanding the PUC, in the case of holidays, to take the previous four-day week when there was no holiday and average that into the next week. We've got all kinds of facts and figures in here except the number one fact and figure – the gas cap is a FAILURE! The gas cap is anti-consumer!

"I find it amazing, first of all, that I kept seated during the last bill, but secondly, that the Chair was arguing for higher interest rates, higher credit card costs, higher fees, as a stabilizing factor, but we've got to go after those miserable gas companies and petroleum companies. Gee, I hope they would never think of moving any of their facilities or any of their people out of state because of meddling by the Legislature, because of interference by people that have never worked in that industry, by people that sit here and tell other people how to run their business, and in the process, hurt the very consumers they say they're going to help. No one wants this gas cap because it doesn't work! No one has followed this gas cap anywhere in the country because it doesn't work! Our consumers have not saved money! No one has been better off.

"So now, we have our Chairman saying he won't even hear those bills coming over from the House. Well, I guess that will guarantee he won't be going to Washington so we can stay here and debate this for another couple of years. But this bill is bad. It doesn't solve the problem. If anything, it makes it worse.

"Businesses and investment advisors and people that want to look at Hawaii as a serious business climate do not want to see legislation like this, do not want to see us interfering with businesses that are lawfully conducting their business. We've tried ten years in the courts to try to pin the tail on Chevron without success. So we can't do it in the courts, we try to do it in the Legislature.

"In this case, as I say, the only victims are the consumers. This is the most anti-consumer of legislation we can have. I urge you not to continue supporting this. Wait until the bills come over from the House and demand that we have transparency and public hearings and eliminate this gas cap. Stop the madness."

Senator Menor rose in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in obvious support of this particular measure.

"Alright, we've heard the rhetoric. My colleague from across the aisle who opposes this bill is once again engaging in the kind of rhetoric that the oil companies and the administration continue to parrot instead of contributing to a thoughtful and productive discussion of the issues. The underlying assumption of the previous speaker's argument against this particular bill is that we have a free market, which goes totally contrary to the findings of study after study about the petroleum industry which has repeatedly shown that no free market exists for gasoline in Hawaii, only an uncompetitive oligopoly.

"Now, these champions of the oil companies are the same individuals who made dire predictions before the implementation of our pricing law that our law would lead to serious gas shortages, severe supply disruptions, refinery and gas station closures, and would never result in price decreases. These predictions, of course, have failed to materialize. They would have us believe, as the previous speaker has tried to argue, that our gas pricing law is a total failure and that consumers would be better off without gas pricing regulation. However, a careful, thoughtful, and deliberative analysis of pricing data, Mr. President, would indicate otherwise.

"Although gas prices in Hawaii remain high, the fact is that our gas pricing regulation, while not perfect, has benefited consumers by improving our market in two key areas. First, it's clear gas prices would be higher than they are now if we did not have gas pricing regulation. And second, at long last, Hawaii's market is behaving or reacting more like competitive markets on the mainland, which means that prices in Hawaii don't only go up and stay high like they used to, but they also come down when mainland prices fall, something that rarely occurred before pricing regulation took effect. And when prices come down, Mr. President, consumers save money.

"Now, to illustrate the first point, I'd like to refer to this chart. This is a chart that contains AAA figures showing the typical pattern Hawaii gasoline prices followed in previous years in contrast to mainland markets. As you can see, Mr. President, along with my fellow colleagues, Hawaii prices remained high with little fluctuation – that's the top line that you see – even during those periods when market forces were pushing prices on the mainland down.

"Since the implementation of our gas pricing law, Hawaii prices now tracked mainland price decreases. In making these points, I'm relying on the data and analysis of Mr. Tim Hamilton, an independent nationally recognized petroleum industry analyst. According to Mr. Hamilton, looking at the data, the average pump price for conventional regular unleaded gasoline in the US fell approximate 81 cents per gallon by February 24, 2006, or 26 percent from the Katrina high mark last October. In the same time period, regular unleaded gasoline in Honolulu fell by 92 cents, about the same 26 percent reduction we saw on the mainland.

"Moreover, according to Mr. Hamilton, the effectiveness of our gas pricing law can be seen and clearly shown by comparing the price of unregulated diesel fuel in Hawaii with the price of diesel fuel on the mainland. And when you look at the data, it is quite compelling and persuasive. The price of diesel on the mainland fell nearly 69 cents per gallon or 21 percent, but in Hawaii, the unregulated diesel fuel only fell 18 cents or 5 percent while the gasoline prices regulated by the price regulation fell by the same percentage as gasoline on the mainland, or about 26 percent.

"Now, if gasoline prices in Hawaii had not been regulated by our gas pricing law, as some of my colleagues from across the aisle would want it to be, and behaved in the same fashion as an unregulated diesel fuel in Hawaii, which fell a mere 5 percent, motorists in Honolulu would have paid $3.40 per gallon or 73 cents more for regular unleaded gasoline on February 24 instead of the $2.67 reported by AAA. I believe that this sort of analysis is valid and appropriate, given the fact that again when you look at the historical pricing data, the problem that we've had with Hawaii's market is that Hawaii prices have always increased or remained at their highest levels whenever mainland prices increased or spiked but rarely ever decreased when mainland prices fell. And this is what our gas pricing regulation is impacting. Now, this explains why the Honolulu Star Bulletin in its editorial entitled 'Unrestricted diesel prices show gas cap works,' this explains why they came out with that editorial. And while I don't always agree with my friends or the representatives of the media, I think that with respect to this particular issue, that they are right on the mark.

"It should also be noted that the Majority Leader of the House, which is now apparently reversing course and seeking to repeal our gas pricing law, released his own study on January 11th of this year which stated that driver's have saved $33 million thanks to our gas pricing regulation. Furthermore, in an August 29, 2005 Star Bulletin article, the Chair of the House Energy Committee, which has jurisdiction over this issue, was quoted as saying that a system of transparency is insufficient without the hammer of pricing regulation that requires oil companies to lower prices.

"Mr. President, I wholeheartedly agree with the earlier sentiments of the House Majority Leader and the House Energy Chair, and in this regard, I believe the House members will be well advised to review their Majority Leader's study as well as the House Energy Committee Chair's previous comments before taking final action on this issue.

"So, my fellow colleagues, I believe that the pricing data strongly supports the contention that our gas pricing law has been working as intended, keeping Hawaii's gas prices from going even higher than they would be without the law.

"Now, let me just address one criticism that has been made, and I'm sure you're going to be hearing that criticism from other speakers from across the aisle if they decide to speak on this issue, and that one criticism is that our gas pricing law is allowing the oil companies to charge higher prices than they would without the law. Mr. President, not only is this refuted by pricing data, but it really defies common sense and logic. If those critics allege the oil companies are better off now with our gas pricing law, then how can you explain the relentless vehement opposition to the law since we all know that their sole purpose is to maximize profits. The reason why they have been fighting tooth and nail to kill this law is because they know and recognize that the law forces them to set prices at lower levels than they would without any price regulation.

"And so, Mr. President, I believe that there is considerable evidence that the gas price law is saving money for Hawaii consumers. But the fact that our law is working, does not mean that it cannot be improved and strengthened. Therefore, I am recommending that amendments be made, and these amendments are incorporated in the measure before you, that amendments be made to our gas pricing law to lower the gas price ceiling further so that Hawaii's consumers can realize even greater price savings in the future. And I'd like to note again that these amendments were developed in consultation not only with consumer advocates, but also with Mr. Tim Hamilton.

"I'd also like to emphasize again that most of the proposed changes should have been made by the PUC, considering that the commission's own consultant, ICF Consulting, recommended these kinds of changes be made to set the price ceiling at an appropriate level.

"Now, I won't go into the specific amendments, in the interest of time, because they're, I believe, adequately discussed in the committee report and delineated in the bill itself. But let me just wrap up this portion of my presentation by saying that when you take all of the amendments together, there is no question that savings will be realized. For example, when applied through 2005 and 2006 actual prices, Mr. Hamilton estimates that these provisions taken together should reduce the maximum wholesale price ceiling by an average of an additional 15.6 cents per gallon or approximately 16 cents per gallon. Had the PUC adopted these kinds of changes last year, they would have dampened the price spike following Katrina by reducing the maximum wholesale price at times by up to as much as 30 cents per gallon.

"When the savings that will result from the amendments that are contained in this bill are multiplied by the 2005 statewide gasoline consumption of 438 million gallons, S.B. No. 2911, S.D. 1, holds the potential to return an additional $68.3 million annually to the pockets of motorists. Since the savings would stay and turn over in the local economy instead of leaving the state as higher oil company profits, the potential impact on the state economy can be estimated at $205 million annually by conservatively applying an economic multiplier of 300 percent.

"So, I urge my colleagues to pass this measure and to at least keep it alive for further discussion and consideration. Mr. President, I'm also cognizant of the fact that the House is considering its own bill and will probably be moving their measure over to the Senate for further consideration in the coming weeks, and I just want to indicate to my colleagues that I will keep an open mind to the House measure, especially since it includes some provisions that we may want to incorporate into the Senate version, such as the transparency provisions that are contained in the House measure. I also know and I appreciate the fact that several of my Senate colleagues have other proposals to offer by which we might be able to further strengthen our gas pricing law and I'd like to assure my colleagues that those proposals will be considered by myself and given a hearing in the future.

"So, for all these reasons, I believe that the amendments that I've discussed will improve and strengthen our gas pricing law and would therefore recommend that we pass this measure. I want to thank my colleagues for giving me the opportunity to continue my work on this important measure. Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this particular measure.

"At the hearing that we had on this measure, there a number of analysts who came forward with their figures and it is interesting how intelligent people can come up with different ways to look at a particular issue because there were analysts who were there who strongly suggested that this gas cap has not worked and there were those, as the fine Senator from Mililani mentioned, that say that it has worked. I noticed that there hasn't been a lot of mention about the DBEDT study that was just recently released, but we all saw it on the front page of the newspaper about the amount of monies that each consumer that consumes gasoline in our state has paid out. When you consider how much money is spent on gas products over the year, that's a considerably high percentage of an increase that have come out of our pocketbooks.

"Another thing that has not been brought up on the Floor is how we are going to tweak this. I remember when we had this discussion a couple of years ago there was discussion about how we had to listen to mainland markets and then that gas cap regulation would work. And it was obvious by the events of this past year that it didn't work. There was a fire at the Tesoro refinery. There was Hurricane Katrina. And in each case, gas prices spiked upwards.

"Now we are told that we have to listen to or include Singapore. All we have to do is look at the events of the past year and we recognize what has happened in that part of the world. There was a terrible tsunami. What happens if there's an upheaval, maybe a political upheaval, in that part of the world?

"We cannot predict the future. We couldn't predict the future the last time so we are asked to tweak this again to see if it will work. Well, it didn't work last time and we will continue in further sessions here to be asked to tweak it again. We'll tweak it again and again and again, and we will still not get the results that the previous speaker wanted because the market speaks for itself and the market has spoken very loudly that this doesn't work. The constituents are ultimately the arbiters of all the different information that has come forward and they have spoken very loudly.

"I know that in the research that we sent out, the survey to my constituents which was sent out at the beginning of this Legislative Session, we asked them, do you believe that the gas cap has saved you money? Over three to one, they said 'no.' Do you believe that the gas cap should be repealed? Three to one they said 'no.'

"So, I'm listening to the consumers. I'm listening to my constituents. I hope you will listen as well and I hope you will vote 'no' and we just have to repeal the gas cap. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal and said:

"Mr. President, just a brief rebuttal on a few of the remarks that were made by my good colleague from Mililani.

"First of all, I'm not now, nor never have been, nor never will be an apologist for either the oil companies or anyone else. I think my independence of testimony in voting has displayed that.

"I noticed, though, that the good Senator talked about the harsh criticism from the administration and the relentless vehement opposition and tooth and nail attacks. Gee, if it were only true. If that were only true, we would have repealed the gas cap before. The administration has gone on record from the very beginning saying that they oppose it, but the administration has done nothing to either repeal, suspend, or do anything else about it. And as far as criticism from oil companies and from other interests, sure they've written letters to the editor or they've spoken up, but many people, believe it or not, are afraid of the power of certain Legislators here, the ability for them to manipulate their business. So, I didn't see any tooth and nail fight, but I'd be glad to see it.

"As to the point about the dire predictions that were made, I was thinking back and I think the good Senator is correct. There were dire predictions made . . . with the original bill, because the original bill was going to attack the retailers on every island. And those retailers came here and told the Chairman and told many others that if in fact that bill passed like that they would be out of business and they would have tremendous unemployment. So it wasn't me making the dire predictions, it was them and that was the original bill on retailers.

"So, the shift in emphasis was to the wholesalers. And then the shift was from the index, as the Minority Floor Leader pointed out. And we've done all these changes but the result is still the same, and it is true that good people of good will can disagree and have different conclusions but we go back to the original study, the original study and the group that was hired, the consultants that were chosen by the former Governor and by the legislative supporters of this legislation – and I'm talking, of course, of the Stillwater Study. When it came out, because it didn't have the outcome that the supporters wanted, they dismissed it and attacked it. It's kind of like attacking that newspaper – that unknown, unnamed newspaper, sometimes we like it if it agrees with us and most times we don't because it doesn't. You can't be one way or the other. I'm just very ecumenical about it – both papers do very little to enlighten people here at any time. So, the major mass media, the so-called mainstream media, has done a great disservice by not covering these issues.

"Then there's the question again about which study do you believe and which expert do you believe. Remember the old saying, Mr. President, you can't fool kids? Well guess what? You can't fool consumers either. And they may not have read the studies, they may not have even heard the wisdom that comes from this body, but they know one thing – they've been hosed. They've paid more for gasoline. They don't like it. They want it out. And with their lack of analytical skills or anything else, they're the ones that reach in their own pockets, put their own money in increasing amounts into the price of gasoline.

"Now, the good Senator started talking about diesel and I was confused. I thought we were still talking about gasoline, but I didn't see a bill to regulate diesel. Maybe that'll come later or maybe that'll be amended, but the two are wholly separate. And so to bring in the diesel argument I think it doesn't fit here.

"And when the discussion started, it was about how we don't have a free market. Well, I agree. I agree with the good Senator from Mililani. We do have an oligopoly. And even during the court cases and all of the rhetoric of the supporters of regulation when they were chastising Chevron because of the tremendous profits that they were allegedly making, anybody knows that if those kinds of profits were real that we would have people knocking at our door to go into that business. But they don't for two reasons – the numbers were never real, number one; and number two, it is so costly in terms of investment, in terms of infrastructure, in terms of equipment, plant, maintenance, everything. That's why we have the two refineries and no more. That's why we don't have anybody rushing in, and certainly gas cap price regulation hasn't encouraged more competition.

"So, I'm a little confused. Is the supporter of this regulatory, collectivist, socialist legislation saying he really wants a free market? In which case we should get rid of this kind of legislation, but I don't think so. He just threw that in as a canard. We don't have a free market, and by God, we don't really want one. I think we do and I think that's the direction we should be taking whether we're talking about healthcare or we're talking about gasoline or anything else, because we know the blessings of competition. We see that all the time. We see it in computers; we see it in cell phones; we see it everywhere that the government is not regulating the prices or the way that the companies do business. If they break a law, prosecute them to the full extent, but if they don't, leave them alone and get out of the way.

"And finally, Mr. President, I remember the Minority Leader, just a couple years ago, raised the issue if we're going to regulate gasoline, why don't we regulate Wheaties? Well, I happen to eat Wheaties, Mr. President, with raisins, if you want to know. A box of Wheaties at Safeway currently, when it's not on sale, is $5.45 for a box of Wheaties. On the mainland that box of Wheaties is $2.29. Where is the Wheaties regulations?

"And how about housing? My God, we're all watching our houses go up! You know what I'm afraid of is those houses on the Windward side that suffered all that traumatic damage last week, they're going to raise the assessment because now they have indoor pools and they have easier access to sewage. So why not regulate house? Why no regulate homelessness? Why not regulate everything? The simple answer is because these legislative regulations don't work! They never have; they never will! And the people that pursue them are doing the public and the taxpayers a disservice.

"There are options and there are alternatives to lowering the price of gasoline, not the least of which is cutting the highest gasoline taxes in the nation in this state. But we don't do that. We don't do anything that has incentives because there is an agenda here and the agenda is get Chevron, get HMSA, get the big guys. I'm a small businessman. I'm supportive of small businesses. But if you go after the big guys and you want to go and do something to interfere with their market potential, then you're affecting every small guy and gal because they – here's a secret – they want to become bigger. They want to become more successful. And regulation, government price regulation doesn't work.

"We don't talk about regulating the labor unions. We have all these bills, dozens and dozens and dozens of bills to give them more rights, give them more power, give them more salaries, give them more personnel. But business . . . we go after business. And then we wonder why we can't diversify our economy here and why we can't attract that investment capital. Regulation doesn't work and I don't care whether you're talking about diesel or you're talking about gasoline or you're talking about Wheaties.

"And finally, the good Senator from Mililani talked about, well, at least what this did – what these price caps and gas caps did – was to make sure that our prices went down when the prices went down on the mainland. I want to see that graph. I want to see that graph accurately reflect when there were price discounts on the mainland, whether our prices stayed down or, like next week, they're going to go up another 12 cents. The truth of the matter is they've gone down; they've gone up; they've gone down; they've gone up. But if you look at where they were before we had the price caps, we're above that amount, and people have paid all of that money.

“And a final comment is, one of the other arguments was we’re going to narrow the difference in cost between mainland average gasoline prices and Hawaii prices. Not only did we not narrow that gap, we have extended it so the gap now is greater than it was before the gas caps. How much more evidence did we need? How much more time in this will we have?”

“I’m very happy to hear the good Senator say he has an open mind. I don’t know whether he’s going to need genetically modified brain work from the good Senator from Kahaluu and I don’t know whether open mind means he is going to hear the bills when they come over. I certainly hope he does. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Menor responded as follows:

“Mr. President, I just wanted to offer a few brief comments in response to several of the statements made by the previous speakers, as well as to offer points of clarification.

“The Senate Minority Floor Leader has raised an argument that basically perpetuates a misconception that somehow our gas pricing regulation caused the significant price spikes that occurred subsequent to Hurricanes Katrina and Rita. That’s the same sort of misconception that is included in DBEDT’s analysis, which makes it a very flawed analysis. DBEDT also downplayed and ignored significant economic events and also assumed that Hawaii is unaffected by national and global petroleum markets. In its analysis, DBEDT asserts that had Hawaii prices not been capped, they would not have spiked after Hurricane Katrina. Their reasoning is that prices did not spike significantly after small hurricanes in the past, such as Hurricane Ivan.

“The agency and my colleagues from across the aisle would have us believe that the most destructive hurricane in the history of the Gulf did not make any difference in the price of gasoline. DBEDT’s absurd conclusion is that prices in Hawaii would have remained flat while those on the mainland skyrocketed if the cap had not gone into effect.

“As the industry analyst with whom we consulted, Mr. Hamilton, correctly points out, this aspect of the study and assertions that have been made in that regard really represent a fatal flaw and completely ignore the observations of every industry analyst regarding the impact of Hurricane Katrina on national and international gasoline markets. In fact, Bruce Smith, the president of Tesoro, told KITV after Hurricane Katrina, ‘Prices would have gone up with or without Hawaii’s gas cap law,’ and that’s a direct quote from the president of Tesoro.

“The critics of our gas pricing regulation also frequently make reference to Stillwater in support of their position. But if you look at the Stillwater Report carefully, there are important aspects of the report which in fact supports the need for pricing regulation in the gasoline market. Let me read some excerpts or quotes from the Stillwater Report. The report begins with the conclusion that the, quote, ‘high profitability of Hawaii’s gasoline market, relative to other markets, is indicative of the use of market power in an oligopoly.’ That’s a direct quote. In addition, Stillwater admits that higher prices on Maui is a result of monopoly power. In other words, we’ve got a broken and uncompetitive market. We’ve got a situation where we’ve got a market that is tightly controlled by two oil companies which makes it difficult for new entrants to enter into this market. Given the kind of unique and difficult market situation that Hawaii is faced with, it has become imperative for us to move with the sort of strong pricing regulation that we passed several years ago and which we are seeking to improve during this Legislative Session.

“And finally, Mr. President, I believe it was the Senate Minority Leader who commented that we appear to have a disagreement among experts and consultants. But I would point out that if there’s any consultant for whose opinion we should give significant weight, I believe that that consultant would be the PUC’s own consultant, ICF Consulting, which was retained by the PUC for the purposes of evaluating our pricing regulation to recommend changes that could benefit consumers and ultimately to help the PUC adopt the position that would be in the best interest of the consumers and not the oil companies.

“In its report, ICF Consulting, which did a non speculative analysis based on actual data covering approximately the same period of time in its report to the PUC, which was from 1999 to 2004, found that had a cap been in place using ICF’s recommendations, that price cap would have reduced prices by 10 to 13 cents per gallon.

“So, Mr. President, I believe that the evidence is very persuasive and compelling that we need to have effective and strong pricing regulations to promote and protect the interest of consumers in Hawaii, and accordingly, I would ask my colleagues to vote in favor of this particular measure. Thank you.”

Senator Tsutsui rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure, I think.

“The good Senator from Mililani made a comment saying that the gas prices would be higher today if we didn’t have a gas cap. I’m still waiting for the data to prove that. The good Senator from Mililani also showed us a nice chart showing the differential in the Hawaii retail prices versus the national retail prices in 2003. I had asked for a comparison looking at after September 1st when the gas cap was put into place. I’m still waiting for that chart.

“I would like to add, however, Mr. President, that I think the gas cap amendments that are being proposed today would actually help the gas cap. However, I still think that we should explore any and all options that are still out on the table, including the proposal that will be sent over from the House to provide greater transparency.

“Mr. President, part of my reason for continuing to support this measure is that I was given a personal commitment from the Chair of the Consumer Protection and Housing Committee that he would actually hear the measure that is being sent over from the House.

“In addition, Mr. President, myself and several members of the Majority Party have been working on possible amendments to the gas cap, those of which have been sent over to the Chair of Consumer Protection and Housing, and it is my understanding that he would hear these amendments as well in Committee after crossover.

“So, for those reasons, Mr. President, I will continue to support this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I wish to speak against this legislation.

“Mr. Chairman, Mr. President and colleagues, I wish to share some thoughts and maybe we’ll influence some votes here today. First of all, regarding consultants, I do agree with the good Senator from Mililani that you usually get what you pay for. It's like lawyers hiring expert witnesses. You oftentimes get the consultant to come to the conclusion that you're paying them for.

"The question we all should ask ourselves is, what is this legislation originally intended to do and who is it helping? It is written right in the preamble of the original legislation that it was never intended to lower prices and it hasn't. So who is it supposed to helping? The consultant I'm concerned with is the consultant that we call the consumer, my constituents, who have overwhelmingly opposed this law as they have throughout the State of Hawaii. As predicted, none of the other states have followed suit with this legislation.

"This legislation does track mainland prices and what it does, the result is that every week, on a weekly basis, Hawaii remains the number one priced gasoline state in the nation. It's tracking real well. It's keeping Hawaii as the highest and most expensive.

"When we originally addressed this legislation, we talked about the real reasons why prices are so high. And I do appreciate the good Senator from Hawaii Kai pointing out the price of Wheaties, but we never really talked about, nor have we examined as a Legislative Body, reducing the cost of everything in Hawaii by reducing employment costs like out-of-control workers' comp rates, regulatory costs that regulations put on the marketplace and drive up costs, tax cost – Hawaii's taxes and gas remain amongst the highest, not the least of which includes the 4 percent excise tax.

"I do want to enter into the record that our staff produced some numbers that cannot be refuted and that is the electrical costs in the State of Hawaii – the cost of electricity, which is a PUC regulated business – are 152 percent above the national average. Gasoline is currently 26 percent above the national average.

"This legislation, S.B. No. 2911, is getting out of the frying pan and into the fire because one of the things it does do is index the cost to include the Singapore market, which is a foreign market. I do recall that Singapore was a member of the oil cartel that cut off oil supplies in '74 resulting in long gas lines in Hawaii. Indexing our oil prices to the Indonesian market is a very, very unwise thing to do.

"The last thing is regarding free markets. We'll never have overall competition in the Hawaiian market regarding large oil refineries because the market is too small. But one thing we do know about the free market is that it's not free at all. An oligopoly is much more competitive than a government controlled market. So if you really want to go towards a free market, we should get rid of this legislation.

"The last thing I do want to offer the good people of Hawaii and the Senate and especially the more enlightened Majority Party Senators is the best thing to do to compete against big oil is to make it obsolete, and we're the best state in the nation to use renewable energies to turn our economy into a hydrogen propulsion economy. I will tell you that there are some good Senators, not the least of which is the Chairman of the Energy Committee that has started to look in that direction, and for the first time, I think this Legislature in 30 years is willing to work towards liberating ourselves from fossil fuel dependency. If you want to compete against oil, make it obsolete.

"So I would ask my colleagues to vote this legislation down. I hope the good Senator does keep an open mind and hear the legislation to rescind it. I'll remind the Majority Party colleagues that this is still a democracy. The Chairman of a Committee is not the totalitarian ruler of all things in that Committee, and at any time the Committee can work with the Chairman. If the Chairman opposes something, the majority of the Committee members can overrule that opposition. So, we don't have to rely simply on a Committee Chairman for when and how legislation is going to be heard. That's what more enlightened democracies would do – we'd go with the will of the majority, not the dictates of one Committee Chairman.

"So, I'd urge my colleagues to vote 'no' against this and send the signal out that we're going to repeal the gas cap as the ultimate consultants on this issue have spoken so loudly about, and those consultants are our neighbors, our friends, and those people that helped elect us to office. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kim rose with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak with reservations.

"Mr. President, when the gas cap first came out, I'm on record as voting in favor of it. However, last Session, I supported an amendment that came from the House which would have given the Governor the power to turn the gas cap on or off in the event that circumstances warranted it. My reasoning was that we would be out of Session when the gas cap was scheduled to go into effect and in case something happened, there would be a mechanism to suspend the gas cap. Little did I know or we all know then that Katrina would hit, it would ravish Louisiana, and our gas prices in the Gulf region would soar as it did.

"Had the amendment passed, the Governor would have been able to suspend the implementation during that time. The reason the amendment did not make it into the bill, as we know, the Chair of the CPH Committee would not give prior concurrence. But he agreed that he'd be the first to support the amendment if the PUC formula has problems. He made that commitment to us in Caucus. Well, it seems we've had nothing but problems with the PUC, and if we didn't, we wouldn't be having to make all these amendments in this bill today.

"We keep hearing about how the gas cap is benefiting the consumers. Well, like the good Senator from Kaneohe, I also send out a survey to my constituents at the beginning of each Session. The results of my survey show: to the question I read, Do you feel that the gas cap law is working? Only 22.8 percent of them said 'yes,' whereas 77.2 percent said 'no.' And to the question, Should the gas cap be repealed? The results were about the same – 24 percent said 'no' we shouldn't repeal it and 76 percent said 'yes' we should repeal it. Now keep in mind that these results are preliminary because they're still trickling in very slowly. In fact, I got three more between yesterday and today, and again this one says 'no' it's not working, and 'yes' we should repeal. This one says, 'no, it's not working; yes, it should be repealed; it is clearly not working,' written in black ink. And the third one says, 'no, it's not working; and yes, the gas cap should be repealed. Better than riding a seesaw, develop inexpensive options, alternative fuel sources, biodegradable, etc., etc., etc.'

"Mr. President, no matter how hard we try to spin this, the wholesale price supposedly is lower because of the gas cap, but the consumers – my constituents – do not believe it's working. Why? If it's supposed to benefit them, why aren't they believing that it's working? And even with these new amendments, which may make the gas cap better, there's no guarantee that these new savings are going to be passed on to the consumers.

"In fact, it's interesting that when the PUC announces that there's going to be a decrease in the price, if you drive around town, it's nowhere near what they say it's going to be decreased by. If they say it's going to drop by 16 cents . . . first of all, the first three days it never goes down because they say, 'oh, I still have gas in my tanks that I paid the higher price for.' And when it finally gets to the middle of the week it never goes down by 16 cents. It might go down by 5 cents or 6 cents. But, as soon as they say the price is going up by 10 cents or 5 cents, trust me, the first thing Monday morning, those prices are up no matter how much gas is in the ground that they paid the lesser price for. And it's interesting that it goes up to the maximum amount that the PUC says.

"These are concerns that I raised in the Caucus. These are concerns that need to be answered, and if in fact this gas cap benefits the consumers, then by all means, let's make sure that the consumers believe that it's benefiting them. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

"Mr. President, point of clarification – was the previous speaker speaking for or against the legislation?" (Laughter.)

The Chair responded: "With reservations."

Senators Hooser, English, Ige, Nishihara and Hanabusa requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2911, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GASOLINE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1:

Senator Kanno moved that S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"For a number of years now, there has been an issue of employers in Hawaii, businesses in Hawaii paying too much in terms of unemployment compensation taxes. I know it says unemployment compensation insurance, but it's a tax. With insurance, I have the ability to choose whether I want to buy it or not. I don't have the ability as an employer whether or not I want to pay unemployment compensation taxes.

"The Governor had introduced legislation last year which would have gone a long way to helping businesses in Hawaii, particularly small businesses. That legislation would have lowered the amount that employers pay on the base pay unemployment comp. The federal amount is $7,000. The Hawaii amount goes up every year based on the average pay and currently is $34,000 per year.

"This year the Governor introduced that bill again and the Labor Committee did make an attempt to help businesses and to lower unemployment comp. But the difference was that the amount was lowered not to $7,000 permanently, but to $10,000 for two years. In addition to that, there was another provision that would have raised or that would raise the benefits that unemployment compensation beneficiaries get.

"Well, even that was not that bad a tradeoff until an S.D. 1 of this bill suddenly appeared at Ways and Means. I say suddenly because there was no hearing on the S.D. 1 and the businesses and the individuals that testified in favor and in support of the original bill never had an opportunity to comment on or testify on the changes that were made, including the increased benefits and one more item. And the other item is that there is language in this version that says that you cannot halt payments for an employee who is denied employment because of willful or wanton conduct. And in Ways and Means, we asked the author of this amendment what that definition actually meant and he told us all that he didn't know because he's not an attorney.

"Willful or wanton means a lot of things to a lot of different people, but you sure better specify what it is if you're putting it in a legislative bill and into a statute. And the fact that we did not hear put it in this bill causes an alarm for a great many possible lawsuits, a great many more cost and problems for employers. And so, thus, the simple thing of reducing the base amount that an employer pays on, has not been realized, and as I've mentioned, it's only for a temporary period here, not permanent.

"This and the fact that the unemployment compensation reserve fund has continued to zoom upward approaching $500 million, half-a-billion dollars – in part because we have a good economy, in part because we now for seven months have had the lowest unemployment rate in the nation, which is laudable, which is a good thing and something we can be proud of – we don't need close to $500 million in a reserve fund. We don't need to continue to tax employers at one of the highest rates in the country and at one of the highest levels, the $34,000.

"So, reluctantly, Mr. President, I'm voting against this bill because this bill will not bring the relief that businesses sought and it will bring a great number of unintended consequences. Thank you."

Senators Kim and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 2190, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT SECURITY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 4 (Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 2 (Hee, Ige).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2690 (S.B. No. 2082):

On motion by Senator Menor, seconded by Senator Baker and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2690 was adopted and S.B. No. 2082, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH INSURANCE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom). Excused, 3 (Hee, Hooser, Ige).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2697 (S.B. No. 3185, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Menor, seconded by Senator Baker and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2697 was adopted and S.B. No. 3185, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (Slom). Excused, 2 (Hee, Hooser).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2698 (S.B. No. 2057, S.D. 2):

Senator Menor moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2698 be adopted and S.B. No. 2057, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, a timeshare is a form of visitor accommodation. It is not a land use, and so I don’t believe that passing law concerning zoning is appropriate. Thank you.”

Senator Tsutsui rose to speak in support and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Mr. President, this measure just allows the counties to establish a timeshare zoning district. I think it’s a good bill unless you’re a timeshare company. It’s a home rule issue and not a mandate and therefore the counties would have to enact legislation to actually have this timeshare zoning district. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hemmings rose in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this legislation.

“Mr. President, this does address the issue of carrying capacity for the islands regarding the tourist industry. There are some that think that we’ve exceeded that capacity already. What’s happening in the industry is hotel rooms are now being converted to timeshare rooms and that of course is going to create a lot of additional burden on the infrastructure regarding the tourist industry and it allows many of the people doing it to escape certain regulations and even taxes regarding the tourist industry.

“So, this is good legislation to allow the counties to have the home rule capability of regulating this industry regarding where they want these properties to be. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2698 was adopted and S.B. No. 2057, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TIME SHARE ZONING,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2699 (S.B. No. 3179, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Menor, seconded by Senator Baker and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2699 was adopted and S.B. No. 3179, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FERTILIZER,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2701 (S.B. No. 3261, S.D. 1):

Senator Menor moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2701 be adopted and S.B. No. 3261, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senators Taniguchi, Inouye, Espero, Ige, Hooser, Kim and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I have some remarks in support of this measure I’d like inserted into the Journal.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 3261, S.D. 1:

“This bill establishes a process for dental specialists to receive a license to practice their specialty in Hawaii. That process is called licensure by credentials which uses a performance record in place of an examination - a process that 47 other states use. Only Hawaii, Delaware and Florida do not allow licensure by credentials.

“Act 121 adopted last Session opened a small window last summer for dental specialists to obtain a Hawaii license with the anticipation that the Legislature would revisit the issue this year.

“While Hawaii may have a favorable statistical ratio for the number of general dentists to our population, such is not the case for specialists, especially on the neighbor islands.

“The standards for licensure established in this bill are virtually identical to the provisions adopted last session in Act 121 but more importantly these standards are the standards recommended by the American Dental Association. They include acceptance of residency training and practice to satisfy the years of experience. Every other state in this country except Hawaii counts the two-year residency practice toward fulfilling the experience requirement. Additionally, a doctor serving residency is considered practicing medicine for licensure in other purposes. MD’s and dentists should be treated equally with regard to how residency practice is viewed.

“The American Dental Association (ADA) urges constituent dental societies and state dental boards to implement specialty licensure by credentials and/or specialty licensure as a top priority. Specifically, the ADA urges states to consider the following provisions:

- Specialists should not be required to pass an additional general dentistry examination when applying for a license to practice the specialty.
- Specialists who have passed a specialty licensure examination in another state should be granted licensure by credentials without further examination.
- States should be urged to enact provisions by which a dental specialist, licensed in another jurisdiction, may be issued a license, by credentials, to allow the specialist to practice the specific specialty.
- Specialists who hold Diplomat status from an ADA-recognized dental specialty certifying board or who have completed an advanced specialty education program accredited by the Commission on Dental Accreditation and meet all other state requirements for licensure should not be required to take any additional examinations.

“The opposition to this bill is not about consumer protection. It is about economic protection. Our dental specialist force is aging and limited. We need an objective process to allow dental specialists to relocate to Hawaii to practice. That is what this bill does and it is in accordance with standards set out by the American Dental Association and adopted in all but three states.

"I have heard from a number of Kamaaina who want to return to Hawaii to take care of aging parents but cannot do so without the ability to practice their profession here.

"I respectfully urge all my colleagues to vote in favor of this bill. Mahalo."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2701 was adopted and S.B. No. 3261, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DENTAL SPECIALISTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Hanabusa, Trimble, Tsutsui). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2702 (S.B. No. 3277, S.D. 2):

Senator Menor moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2702 be adopted and S.B. No. 3277, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Every year we seek to increase the number of types of occupations subject to certification. I've reviewed the type of work activities required of nurse aides and since we don't certify mothers, I don't see why we should certify and create this class. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Mr. President, there was an anomaly in the law that allowed one category or nurse aides to be certified but not another. If you worked in a Medicaid or Medicare facility that got federal funds then you were required to be certified, but others that work in what had been known as state designated facilities weren't.

"This bill was a collaborative effort by the Department of Health, the Department of Human Services, the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs and was supported by facilities as well as nurse aide organizations. This is really an attempt for their protection as well as consumer protection and I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2702 was adopted and S.B. No. 3277, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NURSE AIDES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2704 (S.B. No. 2036, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2704 be adopted and S.B. No. 2036, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, if Dr. Bossert were still going to be employed by HTDC, I would be tempted to vote for this measure. The problem is that we create law not based upon the best that works for us, but its potential for misuse if somebody less than the best works for us. For that reason, I'm going to vote against this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2704 was adopted and S.B. No. 2036, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR AN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS AND TECHNOLOGY INCUBATOR," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2705 (S.B. No. 2222, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2705 be adopted and S.B. No. 2222, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"I think the objectives are worthy. We debated this bill last year. Since that period of time, a lot of people nationally that were onboard or were supportive have dropped their support, and the reason is the statements I made last year I will repeat this year – this a backdoor effort to tax the internet. We can talk about collecting other fees and so forth, which the state tax department has shown us they're doing a good job and they want to do that, but this really is aimed at internet buying. And since more and more of our citizens are using that as a way to save money and to also get better choices, it is an untapped revenue source for government, and as such, it's not streamlining anything; it's revenue enhancement. Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose in support and said:

"Mr. President, I have remarks in support of this measure that I'd like to request be inserted in the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 2222, S.D. 2, Relating to Streamlined Sales and Use Tax.

"The purpose of this measure is to amend the State's tax laws to allow Hawaii to participate in the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement and consequently collect taxes from electronic commerce transactions. To supplement the Senate Ways and Means Committee's discussion of this bill, I offer the following added background information.

"Department of Taxation and the Tax Foundation of Hawaii expressed concern over a number of issues regarding the implementation of the SST in their testimonies before the Senate Media, Arts, Science and Technology Committee:

- (1) Added complexity to the State's existing tax system due to Hawaii's use of a general excise tax rather than a sales tax; the State's general excise tax system would have to be significantly modified to accommodate the SST Agreement;

- (2) Providing amnesty to out-of-state sellers that may or may not have a nexus with the State – doing so would mean that the State would give up its right to pursue these sellers for general excise tax liability on their operations in the State;
- (3) The State must compensate remote sellers who participate in the SST Agreement, but local sellers are not compensated for collecting and paying the tax;
- (4) The State is limiting its ability to adopt legislation that departs from the SST Agreement and its governing board;
- (5) The City and County of Honolulu would have to conform its general excise tax surcharge if the SST Agreement is implemented;
- (6) Under the SST Agreement, the definition of ‘gross proceeds of sale’ would need to be changed to ‘sales price’ – doing so may result in a loss of revenue;
- (7) ITIMS (the Department of Taxation’s computer system) is geared to general excise tax and would need major renovations for sales tax or different sourcing rules and modifying ITIMS to accommodate the implementation of the SST Agreement would complicate future development and maintenance; and
- (8) Implementing the SST Agreement would jeopardize or increase risk to other ongoing initiatives like imaging, electronic filing, tax law changes, and upgrades.

“The Media, Arts, Science and Technology Committee took these concerns to heart, and sought to address them; Senate Draft 2 retains these methods of addressing Department of Taxation issues:

- (1) With regard to the issue of added complexity, the legal incidence of the general excise tax is on the seller, but one-third of sales tax jurisdictions also impose the legal incidence of their tax on the seller, so the claim is factually incorrect. The creation of three new tax chapters, as proposed under this measure, actually makes tax compliance simpler for taxpayers because the different tax rates will be in different chapters, as opposed to being buried in a single chapter with all of the different rates (4%, .5%, .15%).
- (2) With regard to amnesty, the reality is that many remote sellers cannot be found. Amnesty dispenses with the need for extensive auditing and the allocation of human resources in exchange for prospective compliance. There are now 325 sellers who participate in the SST Agreement, which will provide a rich base for enhanced collections. In addition, amnesty could also be extended to local sellers to level the playing field.
- (3) With regard to remote seller compensation, the concern reflects a misunderstanding of the SST Agreement’s Certified Service Provider model: the State of Hawaii is required to compensate the Certified Service Provider, not the taxpayers. In recent commentary, states were advised to get used to paying for this service, as it will likely be mandated when federal legislation is enacted.
- (4) With regard to the State limiting its ability to adopt legislation that departs from the SST Agreement and its governing board, Hawaii needs the least number of changes to its tax laws for SST Tax Agreement conformity. This is due to the existence of very few, different tax rates. The State of Hawaii:

- (A) Has a large tax base without the food or medical exemptions;
- (B) Already conforms to destination sourcing; and
- (C) Already centralizes tax administration.

Most general excise tax legislation deals with exemptions and pyramiding relief, which would not be impacted by the SST Agreement, provided definitions are consistent.

- (5) With regard to the issue that the City and County of Honolulu will need to conform to state law, conformity is beneficial. The biggest complaint of businesses in other states concerns having to contend with thousands of different taxing jurisdictions that lack uniform rates, exemptions, sourcing, and tax bases rather than the limited number of differences between Hawaii’s state and county tax rates.
- (6) With regard to changing the definition of ‘gross proceeds of sale’ to ‘sales price,’ the definition of ‘sales price’ under the SST Agreement is at least as encompassing as the State’s existing definition of ‘gross proceeds of sale’.
- (7) With regard to the Department of Taxation’s Integrated Tax Information Management System (ITIMS) needing major renovations for sales tax or different sourcing rules and that modifying ITIMS will complicate future development and maintenance, the new tax regime – like the old – will rely on the self-assessment system, with taxpayers reporting sales, income, sourcing, and exemptions. The computer fields would remain the same; taxpayers would still report the numbers in those fields. In addition, the computer system would not be affected by amendments to sourcing rules, definitions, and other policy determinations. The ability to access previously-uncollectible tax revenues outweighs the issue of ITIMS modification concerns; and I believe that the Senate’s actions on S.B. No. 2382, S.D. 2 – to include implementation of the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement with pending ITIMS’ upgrades – minimizes any problems involving computer system modifications.
- (8) With regard to the issue that implementing the SST Agreement jeopardizes or increases the risk to other ongoing initiatives like imaging, electronic filing, tax law changes, and upgrades, the committee believes that tax law changes and new forms take place every year, primarily for net income tax, not the general excise tax. This fact means that fewer changes should result from sales tax than income tax, when compared to the 2005 income tax law changes made by Congress.

“S.B. No. 2222, S.D. 2 has been further strengthened with amendments to ensure conformity with the requirements of the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement and the Insurance Code. The State must recognize that shopping patterns are changing, and changing rapidly, especially in geographically remote areas like Hawaii. The State cannot ignore this, and the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement will enable the Department of Taxation and local sellers to keep up with the advances in technology.

"I therefore urge my colleagues to support this measure to improve fairness and give Hawaii retailers a level playing field with out-of-state sellers."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2705 was adopted and S.B. No. 2222, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STREAMLINED SALES AND USE TAX," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2706 (S.B. No. 2382, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2706 be adopted and S.B. No. 2382, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"The reason I'm speaking against this measure is that I believe that when we listen to testimony, the testimony we are given should be full, complete, and accurate. And when it is not full and complete and accurate, then perhaps we should not do what we are asked to do.

"In Ways and Means, the assertion was made that hundreds of millions of dollars was collected merely because DoTAX had a new computer program. And I asked how much of this improved collection is due to the fact that we have an improving economy and how much is due to the computer program? I was not given an answer and for that reason, I'll be voting against this measure."

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I have remarks in support of this measure that I'd like to request be inserted in the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of S.B. No. 2382, S.D. 2, RELATING TO TAXATION.

"The purpose of this measure is to:

- (1) Provide revenue generating initiatives that will be benefits-funded, meaning the vendor will only be paid when measurable increases in revenues resulting from the initiatives are collected by the State;
- (2) Create an integrated tax information management system (ITIMS) special fund to hold the proceeds from the initiatives, to be used in part to enhance the Department of Taxation's computer system, ITIMS; and
- (3) Fund related operational and administrative functions.

"Act 273, Session Laws of Hawaii 1999, authorized the Department of Taxation to enter into a performance-based contract to acquire the Integrated Tax Information System (ITIMS). A performance-based contract is one in which the State is liable to pay the vendor only if the promised performance is achieved. In this case, the performance consists of the State collecting more tax revenue than it would have collected if the vendor's services were not used. If the expected benefits are not in fact produced, the vendor does not get paid.

"As a result of Act 273, the Department saw an substantial increase in performance, and successfully proved its ability to increase revenues for the state general fund. The initial ITIMS initiatives increased revenues by more than $252,000,000 during the five-year project – or a 475% return on investment.

"This year, Department of Taxation has proposed a benefits-funded approach for the contract structure. As was the case in the five-year ITIMS project, benefits-funding establishes mandatory performance targets that the vendor must achieve in order to be paid. Under the benefits-funding method, the vendor is responsible for the up-front costs of the upgrades, and 90% of the initial distribution will go to the ITIMS special fund – to be used to pay the vendor until vendor costs have been fully paid – and the remaining 10% will be transferred to the general fund. The ITIMS special fund will provide a self-sufficient model to fund ITIMS revenue-generating initiatives, its related tax processing, and its capacity improvements, while providing the general fund with an estimated revenue boost of $65.2 million over five years.

"In conjunction with its benefits-funded approach, the ITIMS project provides a timely mechanism to address two pending modifications to the State's tax system: Hawaii's implementation of the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement, and the City and County of Honolulu 0.5 percent surcharge to fund mass transit. However, Department of Taxation must appropriately calculate the total costs associated with the complete project, along with the increased level of tax revenues attributable to compliance with SSUTA and collections of the county surcharge.

"The bill will also appropriate funding to the Department of Taxation to initiate the benefits-funded contracts in order to realize these benefits. For all of the foregoing reasons, I urge my colleagues to join in supporting S.B. No. 2382, S.D. 2."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2706 was adopted and S.B. No. 2382, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2707 (S.B. No. 2570, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2707 be adopted and S.B. No. 2570, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I have remarks I'd like inserted into the Journal. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Taniguchi's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"The intent of this bill is to encourage the growth of the movie industry in Hawaii by increasing the income tax credit for motion pictures and films and expanding the credit to include digital media productions.

"In 2004, Mr. President, the film industry in Hawaii had production expenditures totaling approximately $164 million. In 2005, production expenditures dropped to an estimated $100 million. According to the State Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism this drop is due primarily to 'fierce competition with other jurisdictions' including New Mexico, North Carolina, the Caribbean, and Australia, to name a few.

"As a result, our local workers have suffered a reduction in employment opportunities as jobs become fewer and farther between. Without the state's support, Mr. President, the industry will continue to have an uncertain and perhaps bleak future.

"This measure will foster sustained production activity and replenish and create highly paid jobs, training opportunities, and business opportunities for our local workforce, students and young professionals, and production support companies. This bill will help us compete more effectively against other jurisdictions offering similar tax incentives. I urge my colleagues to support passage of this measure. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Four years ago when I rose and spoke against tax credits on a variety of different measures I said in order for tax credits to be effective they constantly have to be raised, and that is what we see happening with this bill today. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2707 was adopted and S.B. No. 2570, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DIGITAL MEDIA," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

No. 2813, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE OF HAWAII ENDOWMENT FUND," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2711 (S.B. No. 2818, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2711 be adopted and S.B. No. 2818, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Reason number one, I believe that his bill properly should have gone before the Higher Education Committee. It did not.

"Reason number two, several years ago we were led to believe that $150 million would be forthcoming from the private sector to fund either this building or a building like it.

"Number three, they are proposing to put this building in or adjacent to a tsunami zone. I think it is wisest to first get an assessment of the risk that would be included when we redraw the maps before we proceed with building structures, very expensive structures, in an area that would be affected. We need to know what impact the environment may have on the activity when an environmental assessment is done.

"And finally, I think it is not in our best interest to put this type of laboratory work this close to our engine of growth, our visitor center, which is Waikiki. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2711 was adopted and S.B. No. 2818, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS AND MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR A REGIONAL BIO-CONTAINMENT LABORATORY FACILITY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2714 be adopted and S.B. No. 3118, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I'll be voting 'no' because it creates a special fund. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2714 was adopted and S.B. No. 3118, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2718 (S.B. No. 2074, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2718 be adopted and S.B. No. 2074, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak in support with reservations and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"We've talked about this kind of bill for a number of years. Right now the subject of this bill has to do with the funding mechanism, but I think we better be a little bit clearer on why we want a 3-1-1 system and how it's expected to work.

"The original proposal several years ago from the police department was that 9-1-1 is overburdened. The get more than 1 million calls per year. That part is true. But one of the reasons that it's true is because it's the police department that tells everybody to call 9-1-1 no matter what it's for. So, they get questions about what the oven temperature should be on turkeys and so forth. People that have gone out of their way to try to have non emergency phone numbers for the police department don't get them. 9-1-1 in true emergencies have been swamped and there have been delays.

"There was a First Hawaiian Bank public community relations effort a decade or so ago that tried to train people not to use 9-1-1 unless it was an emergency and the police had turned around and said, no, no, no, we want everybody to call 9-1-1. And now they're complaining there's too much work. They can't handle it. They can't keep up with it.

"So, now they want us to have a separate system, 3-1-1. I guess my point is twofold. Number one, we don't know what the true costs are going to be. We don't know what the actual funding mechanism is going to be. And thirdly and most importantly, the people that call 9-1-1, are we going to wean them off that and they're automatically going to call 3-1-1? I have my doubts about that. I have real concerns.

"I think we need to do more work on this. We already have 2-1-1, which is if you have a question about an agency or self help or whatever. We used to have 4-1-1 for information but it costs so much now, people are relegated to actually looking up the telephone number or calling a friend. So I don't know. We've got 3-1-1, 4-1-1, 2-1-1, 9-1-1. Maybe we should be working on 7-1-1 and 8-1-1 in the meantime. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2718 was adopted and S.B. No. 2074, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR DEVELOPMENT OF A NON-EMERGENCY REPORTING SYSTEM, KNOWN AS 3-1-1," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2720 (S.B. No. 3051, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2720 be adopted and S.B. No. 3051, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Very simply, colleagues, I don't really care if the counties want to change their fiscal year or not. I just think that they should do it collectively. I think that there is some benefit for having consistency of data and if the four counties want to get together and together say, okay we want a different fiscal year; these are the reasons, but this bill is in response to one county and I would prefer to keep it all the same until they can all agree what their fiscal year should be. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2720 was adopted and S.B. No. 3051, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COUNTY FISCAL ADMINISTRATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 3 (Espero, Hee, Hemmings).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2724 (S.B. No. 2240, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2724 be adopted and S.B. No. 2240, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of information.

"This is an annual bill, of course. We have claims that we have to pay for the state, but the bill always changes from first draft, second draft every time we see it and I just wanted to get the total amount that we're looking at right now so members will have an idea what they're actually voting for.

"My understanding is that the original bill had nine claims totaling $653,000. Then there were four new claims added for $2,097,000. And the current amended version is $2,750,865.08. I just want to get a confirmation on what the current figure is."

President Bunda inquired:

"You want to ask that of the Chair of the Ways and Means Committee?"

Senator Slom answered: "Please, yes. Thank you."

At 3:23 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:27 o'clock p.m.

Senator Taniguchi responded as follows:

"Mr. President, the amount that was requested in general funds was 10 billion, 848 million . . . no, no, I'm sorry. Wrong one. (Laughter.)

"It's $2.6 million, roughly, for the general fund and for DOT, roughly $140,000. That's currently. The AG's office is continuing to try to settle these cases before the end of Session and they'll provide us with additional settlements, I believe. And so, that number will go up, but if we don't pay it in this Session, we have to pay interest over the interim and that's what we want to avoid."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2724 was adopted and S.B. "Mr. President, I rise opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, the reason why I oppose this measure is that I want to make sure that there is the potential for upward mobility and younger blood in our court system. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2728 was adopted and S.B. No. 2797, S.D. 1, entitled:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Actually, I do favor more prisons so that we won't have to send people out of state. It's just that in Ways and Means I asked the question, where? Where's the prison going to be built? And I didn't hear an answer. And therefore I think that appropriating money to build a prison where we don't know where we're going to put it is premature. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2732 was adopted and S.B. No. 2945, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR A WOMEN'S CORRECTIONAL CENTER AND FACILITY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2736 be adopted and S.B. No. 3040, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"I realize that it's a constitutional amendment, a proposal, and that the people will have to vote on it eventually if it's passed, but it's part of a disturbing trend. The trend is we tax and overtax our citizens. We wonder why we increase homelessness and we have people moving away. And then we tell them that there is a possibility of at least some reimbursement because that's what the state constitution requires when we have two periods of excess revenues, which is the case right now.

"At the beginning of this Session, everybody was talking about the surplus and we were over $500 million, now we're close to $600 million and yet we have spending proposals that total more than a billion dollars, and lost in the shuffle, left in the crowd was any return of any money for the public where the money came from. I think, too often we forget this. It's not our money. It came only by taxing and overtaxing our residents, families, individuals and so forth.

"And so, what this bill proposes to do is to get rid of, basically, the constitutional amendment, the constitutional provision that would return money. And basically it says that we in the Legislature, we in government know how to spend your money better than you do. First we'll overtax you and then we'll overspend and we'll decide where the money goes because you're not smart enough to do it.

"I think this is a very bad bill. It's a very bad trend. And yes, the public will have to vote on it, but you know, we've got more and more people now that are voting for a living than working for a living because they lobby the Legislature, they come down, they get special legislation, and everybody wants somebody else's money. And that's what it comes down to.

"I think we'd all be a lot better off if we had our own money returned to us, whether it was from this excess or it was from special funds or from any specific situation that we've developed where we've definitely overtaxed and overcharged our residents. Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, this bill proposes to amend the state constitution to provide an alternative to the constitutional mandate of refunding excess revenue to state taxpayers when certain fiscal criteria is met. This measure, if adopted by voters, would allow the Legislature to either refund the excess revenue to taxpayers or deposit the amount that would have been refunded into the emergency and budget reserve fund.

“As you know, Mr. President, in the past when the constitutional requirement was triggered and only a token amount was refunded to satisfy the mandate, there were many who said that the Legislature should keep the one dollar and use it for good purposes because the cost of returning that dollar was very high in proportion to the dollar itself.

“This measure would provide the Legislature with flexibility to address this situation by depositing these minimal amounts into the rainy day fund. Of course, Mr. President, if our financial plan can accommodate a more substantial refund to state taxpayers, then the option to do so under our state constitution still remains.

“I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“I’d like to complement the Committee Chair of Ways and Means, but I disagree – one, that we have a surplus; it’s an accounting issue. The facts are that our employee retirement system is significantly under-funded, our schools haven’t been repaired, and we haven’t raised the standard deduction or personal exemption in over a decade-and-a-half.

“We don’t have a surplus, and when we talk about it, by golly, by the end of the year because we still have binding arbitration, it isn’t there. So, perhaps if we don’t talk about it, and we put it to uses like raising the standard deduction and personal exemptions, and into the employee retirement system, then it won’t be there for negotiated binding arbitration decisions. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2736 was adopted and S.B. No. 3040, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO EXCESS REVENUES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2737 (S.B. No. 3119, S.D. 2):

Senator Tsutsui moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2737 be adopted and S.B. No. 3119, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“I think Micah Kane has done an absolutely superb job, but I think the focus of what Hawaiian Home Lands does should be taking care of the people on the waiting list and not on how to manage investments. There was another institution a few years ago whose focus shied away from Kamehameha Schools and was primarily focused on building the size of the trust. It got itself into problems.

“This is not a reflection on Micah Kane. It is a reflection on where the focus should be and what kind of laws we should have, not when we have the very best as the director, but when there is something less than the very best. Thank you.”

Senator English rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“This allows Hawaiian Home Lands to take some of its funds and invest it and hopefully use that to put in the infrastructure that’s needed. But I support it with the caveat that it can also go the other way – that by them investing the funds, they could also lose a lot of money in the markets – as long as we’re very cognizant of the fact that, yes, they could gain but they could also lose.

“At this point, I hope that the commission uses this authority wisely, but we also do have to know that they could lose the nest egg as well. I do support it, however. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2737 was adopted and S.B. No. 3119, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAIIAN HOME LANDS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 3 (Baker, Hee, Taniguchi).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2739 (S.B. No. 2974, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2739 be adopted and S.B. No. 2974, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

“I think that we have seen a tremendous improvement in the Hawaii Tourism Authority over the last several years, most of which is due to the diligence of the Chair of the Tourism Committee. A lot of the problems that existed a couple of years ago have been taken care of.

“However, in this bill, one major issue remains and that is authorizing the HTA to go outside and hire additional attorneys, specialized attorneys, for contracts and services and so forth. The fact of the matter is, they have, under the current law, only to ask the attorney general, if there is something that the attorney general’s deputies cannot handle, they can ask for and get an outside attorney. They’ve had that power. They still have that power without this law.

“This bill also provides them with the ability to appoint a sports coordinator. It’s my understanding that they’ve already appointed a sports coordinator who’s on the job. It also increases the amount that they have for administration from the special fund and that may be worrisome in terms of the overall cost of administration. Although, as I say, the main thing is that they have done a much better job, the management and also the board of directors or the board of the HTA,

“I don’t think we need these additional costs and we certainly don’t need the ability to go out and ask for or order special attorneys, particularly when during testimony it was discussed that the deputies that are onboard right now are capable of handling these specialized contracts, services contracts and so forth, and secondly, we have seen that there has been an improvement not only in communications but also in the speed and rapidity in which the attorney general’s office responds to HTA, again, probably due to the diligence of the Tourism Chairman.

“I will be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2739 was adopted and S.B. No. 2974, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 4 (Baker, English, Fukunaga, Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2740 (S.B. No. 3114, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2740 be adopted and S.B. No. 3114, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This is yet another raid on the beverage container deposit tax fund. The community day activities are very welcomed activities. They have been going on for quite some time in all of the counties. And the interesting thing and the good thing about the community day is that they are volunteer activities. They bring organizations or individuals together and they do that.

“Now what we’re doing is going to tap that beverage container fund for this purpose. We have another bill that will tap it for another purpose. And in fact, the term grants-in-aid were used during testimony before the Committee on this bill. It was never my understanding and I don’t think it was my colleagues’ understanding that we would bloat this tax fund, again, by overcharging our consumers and then we would give out the money from the beverage container tax as grants-in-aid to specific community activities.

“The fund right now and the special fund stands at $23 million and that’s what everybody is looking at – the amount of money and trying to find ways to spend it. This is not the way to do it. Thank you.”

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Mr. President, you can look at the additional dumping of vehicles, rubbish, and other unsightly forms of litter around our state and you can correlate it back directly to when we stopped having a litter office in the Department of Health and when we stopped funding Keep America Beautiful Community Work Day activities. This program is so important and it needs to go hand in hand with other visitor efforts to focus on our beautiful and pristine areas in our state. But if we don’t put forth some effort and put some resources into helping those beleaguered volunteers, we’re not going to be the most beautiful place in the world to visit or to live.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2740 was adopted and S.B. No. 3114, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE COMMUNITY WORK DAY PROGRAM,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2759 (S.B. No. 2764, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2759 be adopted and S.B. No. 2764, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I stand in opposition to the bill.

“While I support the trauma care and all of the objectives, again this bill and this law would create another special fund. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2759 was adopted and S.B. No. 2764, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRAUMA CARE,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Hee).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2761 (S.B. No. 2961, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2761 be adopted and S.B. No. 2961, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this bill.

“This is the annual bill to raise the taxes on cigarettes and cigarette users. I will refer you to my comments earlier in the day about the hypocrisy of if we’re really concerned about people that are smoking and their addiction, then we would ban smoking; it would help the people. Instead, what we want to do is make them tax cash cows and continue to tax them.

“Now, I don’t smoke and so I probably would be able to get along with this but I’ve been reading disturbing articles in the media in the last couple of weeks. They say the next area they’re going after is soda. Now, I’ve been known to drink a Pepsi can or two or three or four a day, and I can see exactly what’s going to happen here – a legal product, a soda, some people don’t like it because they say it’s bad for your health; they don’t like it because of the energy it gives some of us, and so their answer is, and this has been reported widely, even in the papers that the Chair from Mililani reads on occasion, they want to tax soda and they want to tax it really good. And the people that are using it, because we don’t like the people that are using sodas just like the SUVs or just like other things that we don’t like.

“And that is why (1) I stand against tax increases unless you can show me why that tax increase is necessary; (2) I stand against the tax increase on a legal product; and (3) they’re coming after my soda, Mr. President, and I want to protect my Pepsi. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose and said:

“Mr. President, may I request remarks to be inserted into the Journal on this bill in support.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 2961, which will increase the tax on cigarettes and provide a deterrent to keep young people from starting to smoke and an incentive for current smokers to quit. About 17 percent of adults in Hawaii are smokers.

"According to the American Lung Association and others, smoking is the number one preventable cause of morbidity and mortality in Hawaii and the nation. In Hawaii, tobacco use is responsible for over 1100 deaths per year and costs over $525 million per year in direct hospital, medical and related costs. Thousands of other residents suffer from tobacco-related illnesses including heart disease, cancer and respiratory difficulties such as asthma.

"Studies have consistently shown that raising cigarette costs, in the form of taxes, is one of the most effective ways to reduce smoking. The Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids has reported that every 10 percent increase in the price of cigarettes will reduce youth smoking by about seven percent and overall cigarette consumption by three to five percent. Additionally, the tax increase contemplated by this measure is supported by Hawaii residents. According to a 2004 survey by Ward Research, a $1.00 increase in the cigarette tax is supported by 68 percent of Hawaii residents with 57 percent strongly in favor and 11 percent somewhat favor the increase.

"The moneys generated from the increase in the surcharge on cigarettes will help fund important health programs. Fifty percent of revenues will be used by the Department of Health and the Hawaii Tobacco Prevention and Control Trust Fund for tobacco cessation and tobacco use prevention as well as other healthy Hawaii initiatives. The remaining 50 percent will provide a dedicated funding stream for the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii, which is one of only 61 National Cancer Institute designed centers in the country. These funds will enable the Center to expand research initiatives, establish treatment services not currently available here for certain cancer patients and make cutting edge treatments and medical trials available to Hawaii residents. With dedicated, increased funding and expanded services to become a comprehensive center, the CRCH will be in a more competitive position to retain their National Cancer Institute designation. Since cancer is largely a disease of aging, supporting this state of the art treatment, care and research center will greatly benefit Hawaii residents. By 2030 the number of cancer patients is expected to grow from 5,500 cases a year to over 11,000 a year. With the passage of S.B. No. 2961, Hawaii will be better prepared to take care of the growing number of cancer patients.

"Mr. President and colleagues, S.B. No. 2961 is an important bill because it provides an enhanced deterrent to tobacco use and it generates revenue to fund important health initiatives like the expansion of the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii into a comprehensive research and treatment facility. I urge all my colleagues to join me in supporting this health measure."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"It creates a special fund. Normally, I let the Senator from Hawaii Kai talk about it, but on the questioning, it was remarkable what the Department of Education said. For they said as much that we really don't need a special fund except that the people in the field are more highly motivated if they think that the money that is coming from the federal government is their own and is deposited in a special fund. I think this is the most absurd justification that could be given for the creation of yet another special fund.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2784 was adopted and S.B. No. 2861, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“All I seek is credible testimony. Whenever I hear from the chiropractors association they say the cost is going to go down because they’re cheaper than doctors. My response to them is, in a situation like this, there’s both a substitution and an income effect – when something becomes free, more people are going to take advantage of it. The costs are not going down. If we believed every time somebody testified that if we just add another service that the cost to healthcare insurance, for example, would go down, then they’d be much lower today than they actually are and the Senator from Hawaii Kai wouldn’t be getting up so often to rail about them. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2787 was adopted and S.B. No. 3205, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HUMAN SERVICES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this because it actually does not do any good. How long will it take for a fire truck to drive here from California? How long will it take for a bus full of displaced flood victims to drive from Hawaii to the State of Washington? Why is it that the bill that enabled the other 49 states to join the Emergency Management Assistance Compact passed five years ago, but we didn’t joint at that time? It’s probably because they have snowplows. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2798 was adopted and S.B. No. 2569, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT ASSISTANCE COMPACT,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the measure.

“The reason I rise in opposition to the measure is because it talks about preparedness for hurricanes and that the civil defense should take into consideration the largest hurricane that might occur within a 500-year period. I think that that is appropriate, but we should also take into consideration the disaster event that would occur in a 500-year period in history if it were a tsunami. I think we should give equal consideration to hurricanes and tsunamis and we should do it in the law. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2805 was adopted and S.B. No. 2955, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY SHELTERS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, we spent a great deal of time piddling with the procurement code, first we make or try and make everybody comply and then one by one they complain. Actually, the procurement code really does work if you want to make it work, and most of the time people have problems because they really don’t know how to make it work. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2806 was adopted and S.B. No. 2997, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

“See, when consumers are faced with problems, they always react rationally. When we tax them up to the gills on cans and bottles unfairly and at a burdensome level, they turn to the one area that was exempted – 2 liter bottles, and they started buying that. And every store will tell you that their sales of 2 liter bottles have gone up. Now what we’re trying to do is close that gap and punish these people as well.

“The idea here is for money. It’s not for recycling or not for improvement in the environment. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2811 was adopted and S.B. No. 3181, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“During testimony it was reported that this is not a problem in Hawaii but we should enact the law anyway because it might become a problem. I think that this philosophy for legislation is poor, that we cannot possibly legislate against everything that might be a problem.”

Senator English rose to support the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support.

“MTBE is an additive that’s put into gas in different markets. It’s a known carcinogen and it’s also known to contaminate groundwater. It’s not used in Hawaii and the reason that this is moving is to prevent its use here because we already have enough issues with contaminated groundwater. It is a known substance that contaminates groundwater, and yes, it is not used here.

“This measure simply says that we will not allow its use here. Thank you very much.”

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Sister state relationships are business as well as cultural. I think it’s appropriate that somebody from the business community, say the Chamber of Commerce, also be on this commission. I have no problem with having a commission look at sister state relationships. I’m just concerned about the makeup of the commission. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to the bill.

“My opposition, however, is with the whole process. We’ve had establishing sister relationships with the state for several decades now. We have sister relationships with the City and County of Honolulu. I think that the people of Hawaii fail to see benefits from most of these relationships and I think what we really need here is an inventory and looking back at some of these relationships and why they were made and what the progress or what the actual impact has been. I don’t know, maybe we should look into having some brother relationships too. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2815 was adopted and S.B. No. 3192, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SISTER STATE AND PROVINCE RELATIONSHIPS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“My opposition is limited in scope. It has to do with the fact that DLNR does not have expertise in this issue. I think it’s important before we pass this law that we hear from the coast guard, and I also think that it’s appropriate that the person from DLNR that seeks to take command of a vessel or have it removed from a reef do so only with consultation with the coast guard. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2819 was adopted and S.B. No. 2360, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GROUNDED VESSELS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“I agree there is a problem in Kakaako. I support many measures that seek to address the problem. I just don’t think this particular measure is the right measure at this time. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this bill.

“The Committee Chair and a number of other Legislators worked very diligently during the summer trying to bring some hope and some benefits to some of the small business merchants in the area, notably the Queen Street merchants. I think this is the work that finally came out and I congratulate them for their efforts.

“When we talked to the HCDA and the new executive director – I think he means well – at least he was accessible and he met with us and all that, but when he was giving the goals and the objectives of the Honolulu Community Development Authority, he kept forgetting to mention small businesses. And I think that’s part of the problem – that everybody seems to forget small businesses and that’s what this area of Kakaako was all about. This is what gave us the backbone and the jobs and the creation and all of that.

“And so, I personally don’t like the idea of having to have legislation to name and set out this district, but it seems that’s the only way because the administration has not been very supportive of this area as well. So, I strongly support what we’re doing here. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2828 was adopted and S.B. No. 2550, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure and the dozen or so others that seek to tweak the ERS.

“The problem, colleagues, is that we try and be fair. We try to be reasonable and our standards vary from year to year depending upon the number of people involved and the condition of the economy. We don’t need to get involved in trying to be fair and equitable to minutia. All we need to do is change from a defined benefit program to a defined contribution program and then we can get on with the really important measures of this Chamber. Thank you.”

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, I have reservations on this bill.”

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2842 was adopted and S.B. No. 54, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES’ RETIREMENT SYSTEM,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this bill.

“The bill is supposed to go after violators of Chapter 104, prevailing wages and so forth. As testified by the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, they have that power now. They do that now if there are any violations. This is just additional bureaucracy and additional rights and benefits for the unions that are seeking to harass employers. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2848 was adopted and S.B. No. 2209, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC WORKS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“It always scares me whenever any bill, whether it’s about education or economic development or anything else, talks about an authority. Here we’re talking about a construction authority, construction task force and authority.

“The testimony was that the industry seems to be taking pretty good care of itself. They seem to know what’s happening and they have good communication, and to create yet another part of bureaucracy is unnecessary and costly. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2853 was adopted and S.B. No. 2546, S.D. 1, entitled:

"A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, here I am again at our annual meal break bill to vote against it. We have a bill that's introduced every year. There's no problem but there would be a problem if the bill were enacted into law because we've heard testimony from individuals and businesses that their particular practices do not allow for a mandated specified time for a break. It's not that they don't give the meal breaks, because they do. If they didn't give breaks, they would be in violation of existing labor law.

"What this does is not take cognizance of what happens in various industries, what the practices are, what both labor and management have to say about their processes. So, again it's a symbolic bill. It's fun that it's introduced every year, but we don't need it and it does have unintended consequences. Thank you."

Senator Kim requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2854 was adopted and S.B. No. 2616, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEAL BREAKS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I stand to vote against this bill.

"Again, what this seeks to do is draw more people out of the EUTF and to extend VEBA type organizations to all labor organizations. While the HSTA made this a major point of their lobbying for the last several years and won the day last year, of all the unions they were the most responsive to the legislative auditor several years ago in providing information though they did not provide all of the financial information. Several of the other unions that would benefit from this bill provided no information or false information.

"So this would not be a good move to expand this until we see what happens with the law that we passed last year. Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Mr. President, like the previous speaker said, this whole idea of how we handle our healthcare costs, in terms of the actual healthcare benefits the state provides its employees, was the subject of a 1999 audit by the legislative auditor which resulted in the creation of the EUTF. Since then, there've been efforts to actually undo what the EUTF has done and we all know, especially those who sit in Ways and Means and the Finance Committees, the effect of that bill and the cost savings that we have seen as a result.

"But more importantly than that, Mr. President, we have to all remember why we created the EUTF. We created the EUTF because what we had was one of the worst things any employer wants, which is a discriminatory practice among its employees. We not only had unions that were able to cherry pick among its members so certain members were given benefits, but if you had a large family, you were basically told to go to the state because if you stay with us, you're going to pay thousands of dollars more in your healthcare benefits.

"So, because of the porting situation, we had a situation where people with large families, retirees, those who retired before the age of 65, were all put into the state health fund. And what that benefited, of course as we all know, was the percentage determined what was ported to the respective unions. We all had to stop and think, is this where we're going to go? Are we going to go bankrupt the state on this? But more importantly than that, what about the retirees? That's always been my compelling argument as to why we needed the EUTF.

"Mr. President, as we know, what was happening and what happens in the private sector, where I know the most about, you had retirees who were promised that they would be able to have health benefits into the future. And what would happen? Because retirees are not a mandatory subject of bargaining, Mr. President, if anybody lost benefits, it was retirees. First they would say, well, you just have to do a co-pay. Then it was, well, you know, we're going to cover part of your premium. Then it was, you go and cover yourself in Medicare. Then it was, maybe we'll give you $50.00. And in some unions, Mr. President, some very large unions, they can't offer any coverage at all.

"What the state has been able to do, Mr. President, is keep its word to its retirees by creating the EUTF. This is by risk sharing among everyone. That was the reason why, though a bill didn't make it through, Mr. President, the retirees came before the Labor Committee and said do not, do not put us into the respective VEBA plans. Let us stay in the EUTF because they know that's their best protection. They have no standing in this bill. Their rates are going to be negotiated by a union that does not represent them anymore.

"Yes, for those who are retired they get a one-time in or out. They get to opt in, but they don't get to opt-out. And for those who are working now, you do not have the option to opt into the EUTF. You are going to stay in your respective union plans. And if you remember why, that was because those were the promises that they made and said, 'of course we'll take our retirees because that's the way it's going to work.'

"So why is it that the retirees themselves who are usually very quiet, who support their unions, talk to us on the side, why have they come forward and say do not put us into any of these respective plans? The reason was because they know what's going to happen. And the question comes back to what do we do? Do we keep our word?

"This S.B. No. 2640 is also an attempt to do a pilot. Mr. President, what we should do is let the HSTA's pilot work its way through and to show us whether it works or not, instead of implementing another pilot. Because if you would look at S.B. No. 2640, it does not have the same language as the HSTA bill. Remember, the HSTA bill was negotiated and worked on by the attorney general in charge of the EUTF. It had different kinds of cautionary language. And in fact, my concern was that bill gave the attorney general and the members a lot more power in terms of challenging the benefits than the ERISA plans do. I happen to know about ERISA plans. It would be very interesting to see how it works its way through.

“And as the good Senator from Hawaii Kai pointed out, the newspapers have referenced the latest action by the attorney general for $46 million against two of the union plans; because we did not have the information and are going through an audit at great cost to the state. Forensic accountants or CPAs, whatever you want to call them, were hired out-of-state to come in and review all of these records. They had to reconstruct it. And that’s where the $46 million came from. We also know that HSTA had $16 million, which they are banking on as the basis for their VEBA.

“Bottom line is, let the HSTA’s plan show us whether it works before you do this. Or at the very minimum, if you’re going to do this, then do it so it’s the same with the HSTA. Why does the HSTA that did cooperate a lot better than everyone else did when the legislative auditor did the audit, why are they now held to a more stringent standard than the unions that didn’t cooperate and cost us all this money to go do this audit?

“So Mr. President and members, I know it is not popular to say to unions that, no, you cannot have what you want all the time, but this bill, at the very least, is premature. And at the very least it’s discriminatory between a union that has already agreed to go through the process. We pass one bill for that union and we pass another bill for the other unions? That’s not what we’re about.

“EUTF was a creation to level the playing field for everyone so a UPW worker with five kids could have the same rights and benefits as another union member with one kid. And remember, that’s what we didn’t have in the individual health funds. We did not have that. If you had the perfect size family, you were given the benefit. But if you even deviated from that, you couldn’t do it. Now, EUTF gives everyone the opportunity to have their child covered while they go to college. The benefits are across the board what everyone else offered. Yes, it may cost some members more money. Because they no longer have the benefit of the cherry picking.

“We are here to treat employees the same whether you’re the governor of the State of Hawaii or you’re somebody out there cleaning our fish ponds. It’s the same. That’s what makes employers good employers. That is what we’re talking about here.

“So Mr. President, members, I ask that you vote S.B. No. 2640, S.D. 1, down because it’s discriminatory. It doesn’t do what we want to do as employers and as a state body, and think about the retirees – they know. That’s why they’re coming to us and asking us not to put them into those plans because they know what’s going to happen. They know they’re going to be left out there. They don’t have representation with the respective unions. They’re not even covered under Chapter 89 anymore. Where in this bill does it say that the union even has an obligation to think about their best interest? It doesn’t say it.

“So, for these reasons, members, do the right thing and vote down this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I also rise in opposition.

“I think that the good Senator from Waianae made some very, very good points. I have supported the legislation the past couple of years, which has helped the teachers, and I think a lot of people here have backed up that legislation. One of the reasons we did that is because of figures that were given to us in regards to the impact of a VEBA for the teachers and also because they willingly negotiated and listened to what the state had to say.

“So, I think that the Senator from Waianae has made some excellent points and that we should not go forward with this legislation until we see whether in fact the legislation we put forward for the teachers does in fact work. We want to support the teachers and help our kids and education, but we don’t want to go too far and end up costing the taxpayers what could amount to millions of dollars if we are wrong and this legislation goes forward.

“So, I urge you to continue to support what we have supported the last couple of years with the teachers but to vote ‘no’ against this legislation. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

"Colleagues, I, by all means, support our veterans, but the bill as originally drafted would cost more than what it would do. I'm sure that it costs us more than $50,000 to create a new law, but this bill originally would have set aside $50,000 to print a newsletter for veterans.

"I am bothered by the fact that, one, there was never a demonstrated need for a newsletter; second, that we are not seeking to use a website as a method of communicating with our veterans; and third, there was never demonstrated that a person who would need the services that were provided would actually look at the newsletter. Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this particular measure here.

"I see that it has a name now – Fix Hawaii Schools Act – and certainly the schools should be fixed. I'm in support of us spending money for repair and maintenance. We absolutely have to do that. We talked about our surveys that went out earlier. I was glad to see that the fine folks of Kalihi are just as smart as the folks from Kaneohe and Kailua. I'm sure that you've also gotten similar results in your surveys where they said that the number one priority was to fix the schools. Let's get the schools fixed. Let's get them up to snuff.

"My concern continues to be, and I ask the Chair of the Education Committee if we could have a special hearing or informational briefing just on the process of repair and maintenance. I know a number of us have asked questions at our Committees on specific bills, but we are all perplexed as to why it takes so long to get our schools fixed. I know that there are a variety of reasons and people continue to go to their schools and say, why is it that this has been on the backlog list for so many years, and why do we have cracks in the ceiling, and why do we have buildings that haven't been painted? And maybe the problem is with the Department of Education and maybe it's with DAGS and maybe it's with the construction industry that is just absolutely overburdened at this particular point, but we've got to facilitate this particular process. Maybe we just need to get a working group together and find out ways that we can help in this process as well.

"So, I'm glad that we're putting money forward. I hope we continue to put money forward and to find ways to improve this system so that in fact we can fix the schools. We have to fix them now and we have to fix them forever, and we have to get to the bottom of this backlog once and for all. Thank you very much."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"I don't know of anyone inside or outside this Legislature that does not support fully the repair and maintenance of our public schools but we've been talking about it for 10, 12, 14 years or longer. As the good Senator from Kaneohe said, it is a continuing problem. Nobody likes to do repair and maintenance and yet that's what you have to do on any structure.

"Earlier this year we already had a debate as to how much money had been spent, how much money is in the fund, how much money has been released, and my problem with this bill, again, is that it creates a construction special fund. I don't think creating another special fund is going to get the schools repaired faster and I do think that it certainly is going to make it harder to track where the money is and what the actual amounts are.

"And so, as long as we keep doing this and creating all these special funds, we're going to make it more and more difficult not only for the average citizen, but also for people in elected office, appointed office, in the government itself to try to track the money and where the money actually is going, how much is actually being released, how much is being spent. So, I'm sorry that again we have to use this subterfuge of a special fund because that's what it is. That's what the auditor said years ago. That's what the Tax Foundation has said. It is not an honest way of doing accounting and trying to find the total amounts if that's what we're looking for. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to support the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

"Certainly we all agree, as articulated here, we need to fix our schools. Let me respond to the Senator from Kaneohe on the comments about the process. I think what we've done in recent past is the DAGS process collapsed that into the Department of Education process so that we don't have the finger pointing or the excuses back and forth. So, we've worked together to do part of that. Going forward we can ask the department again to help us be clear on understanding the current process, work with budget and finance so we can better understand their process because a few months ago there was confusion over how much money is available, how much money is in the backlog, etc. I believe we've made strides to get on the same page.

"In regard to the special fund, the Senator from Hawaii Kai points in that direction, this particular special fund would help construction of new schools in a different manner. When we do things in a different manner, I think it's trying to set aside money so it doesn't get intermingled and misused or not used. So this fund aims to do another mechanism to construct the schools like a certificate of participation and if money were put in that type of fund and used appropriately, that would be a mechanism to construct a school or some schools in a quicker manner."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2890 was adopted and S.B. No. 2956, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Every year we have powerful Committee Chairs who try to come up with who can come up with the most money given out in the form of tax credits. Yes, it does rain in places other than Manoa and I do oppose a $250 tax credit for teachers. Among other things, this bill does not give a tax credit to all teachers and I'm just kind of curious why we're discriminating against private school teachers as if they are less deserving. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2898 was adopted and S.B. No. 3194, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2901 be adopted and S.B. No. 3275, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"We talked about this bill in Ways and Means and it seems here that the determining factor is whether a student has insurance or not so that the insurance can be tapped to pay for assessments – assessments of drug use and abuse. And my question at the time was, what happened to our zero tolerance policy? I thought zero tolerance meant zero tolerance. If somebody violated that, used drugs on campus or an abusive substance, they were removed.

“Now, I was told by a member of the Ways and Means Committee, the Chairman of the Education Committee that in fact we no longer have a zero tolerance policy in the public schools which was news to me. I want to confirm that right now and that the idea is we’re going to give these students another chance, more assessments, charge their insurance or charge the taxpayers for money.

“So, if I’m wrong, I’d like to be corrected, but if there is no zero tolerance policy, I want to ask why. I think the community still thinks that there is. We talk about it a lot. I think it does a lot of harm to good students, to good parents, all these programs that we have that we subsidize – anti-drug, anti-substance abuse – and then we’re saying we’re going to give you one more chance. Let’s have one more chance after zero tolerance.

“So, that’s what I want to know – What is it? Do we have zero tolerance or don’t we? Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“I don’t want to get into the semantics of whether we have a zero tolerance because I’m not the board of education or I don’t want to speak for them. There may indeed still be a board of education policy or department policy that says zero tolerance policy, but I know in the practicalness of it, students get messed up in substance abuse and to have them sitting on the street or rummaging through your garage or doing something else doesn’t make sense.

“This measure hopes to help those students who get identified. But you can’t just help them by saying we’re going to do X, Y, or Z. They would need an assessment. So this measure would help them get treated properly and if the assessment and the treatment in general in a layman’s sense gets approved, then they would be allowed back in school. So they’re not automatically back in school but this would allow a mechanism for them to get rehabilitated and treated.”

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“What we are witnessing is a bureaucracy that is trying to say no. And the way the bureaucracy says no is they say, well, we don’t have money to do this. We’ve got a Department of Education with over a billion dollar budget that can’t find money in the budget to pay for that small group of people that need an ‘assessment’ to return to school. And so the way they say it is, well, we simply don’t have money in our budget to do this . . . BS.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2901 was adopted and S.B. No. 3275, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR SUBSTANCE ABUSE ASSESSMENTS FOR UNINSURED STUDENTS,” having been read throughout,

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2902 be adopted and S.B. No. 2067, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hogue rose and said:

“Mr. President, I rise, actually, to ask a question, if I could, because I need a clarification from the Chair of Ways and Means. Is this money coming from the hurricane fund? In other words, is money being raided from the hurricane fund, the principal or the interest? I know that we’ve had this discussion previously and I have in some cases money coming out of the interest, but my constituents have said that they do not want the hurricane fund to be raided. So, can you help me out here. Is this money coming directly from the hurricane fund? Does it represent principal? Thank you.”

Senator Taniguchi responded:

“Mr. President, I will respond. We did amend it to take the money from the hurricane reserve trust fund.”

Senator Hogue further inquired:

“And so that means, yes, it comes from the hurricane fund? Correct. Okay. Okay, so I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

Senator Taniguchi requested the following remarks be inserted into the Journal. The Chair having so ordered, Senator Taniguchi’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 2067, S.D. 1.

“Mr. President, nearly 15 years ago, Hawaii was devastated by Hurricane Iniki. The question I ask is not if another hurricane will strike, but when. As Hurricane Katrina showed the nation and the world, hurricanes do not discriminate – their path of destruction hits everyone in its path.

“However, Mr. President, the residents of Hawaii can prepare for the next hurricane by strengthening their residential structures through installation of hurricane clips, window protection, and other mitigation devices, including the construction of a safe room.

“One of the most damaging effects due to a hurricane is wind damage, especially in situations where homes lose their rooftops. Not only are the contents of the home ruined, but the flying debris impacts nearby structures.

“The loss mitigation program was established several years ago, and last year was the first year the program has received funding. People in all coastal states are realizing that mitigation is the best means to deal with the onslaught of a hurricane. This program will help prevent injuries and fatalities and reduce property losses. Many will benefit from this program.

“I urge my colleagues to support this bill. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, every year I get to rise and speak and we take the vote and it’s 24 or 23 to 1, and yet next year I get the opportunity to rise yet another time.

“The only thing different this year is that it’s no longer being proposed as a money laundering bill collection, but merely a money transmitter bill. And the second difference is this year they’ve got a paid lobbyist going from office to office to tell us how much consumers need protection.

“The truth of the matter is that people that send their money home know how to get it home and word gets around very quickly if there’s a problem. We don’t hear testimony for consumers that say yes, we want to pay more to send our money home, and that’s exactly what’s going to happen if we pass this bill. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2904 was adopted and S.B. No. 2143, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MONEY TRANSMITTERS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2914 be adopted and S.B. No. 2958, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose to speak with reservations on the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to express reservations. I’ll be voting ‘yes, with reservations.’

“Going home should be free. An interesting book written about 15 years ago is titled Miles from Nowhere. People seem to wind up at the end of the road. They run out of money and they have no means to go home.

“I think if we are seriously going to approach the housing problem, we need a long term shift, a GMO, so to speak, and going home or leaving Hawaii should be free. You shouldn’t necessarily have to be destitute for us to have a public policy of helping those that need to go home get home. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2914 was adopted and S.B. No. 2958, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hogue rose in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, this measure purports to change the very essence of the board of education from a part time position, which members receive a stipend, to a fulltime board of education in which we set up a salary commission and these board of education members are salaried. No one disputes the fact that board of education folks work very, very hard and they are in charge of some very important matters – and that is our children in the public schools.

“However, the board of education should be, should be, people who volunteer to step forward. They should be parents. They should be people in the community, people who have jobs, people who are just regular folks. That’s what the board of education should be made up of. It shouldn’t be fulltime members of the board of education and in some cases lobbying for their case one way or another and it just changes the very essence of the board of education.

“So I would encourage all of you to consider voting ‘no’ on this particular measure as it moves forward in the process. Thank you very much, Mr. President.”

Senator Ige rose and said:

“Mr. President, if you could just note my reservations.”

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 640, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 6 (Hemmings, Hogue, Kim, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 2 (Ihara, Nishihara).

S.B. No. 3037, S.D. 2:

Senator Taniguchi moved that S.B. No. 3037, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, is this a gift or is this intended as an entitled money? If it is intended as a gift, what we do really doesn’t matter and what the Department of Taxation does later on really doesn’t matter because we all recognize that it was a gift and not an entitlement.

“If on the other hand we think the people in Manoa are entitled to this tax credit, then we should be mindful as we write legislation to do the best job that we can do to make sure that two things happen: (1) that there is congruence; and (2) that you enable the residents of Manoa to have the ability of informed compliance. I’ll take the second one first – informed compliance means that citizens intentionally try to understand what the law is, and having understood the law, intentionally comply with it because it’s just as good as any other alternative.

“If current practices are followed, the Department of Taxation will not produce its guidelines for what qualifies and what does not qualify until after people have already filed for this income tax credit. When that happens, you are denying the people that are entitled to this the right of informed compliance.

“Let me give you some examples, and the ones that I’m most familiar with were the home improvement or construction tax credit, which involve things like materials and labor. Is the tile on the floor a material that is also included as well as the labor? If the contractor puts in a light fixture, is the bulb inside the light fixture also included as well as the labor? When you look at what this tax credit does, it is not clearly defined as to what you list when you submit your claim for an income tax credit.

“The problem is you need to have congruence. You need to have the lawmaker’s idea of what should be included to be the same as the residents that are claiming because I believe that the residents want to claim what is right. There also has to be congruence between the lawmakers, the residents, and the people that advise them – the CPAs, their tax accountants. And finally, there needs to be congruence not only among these three groups, but the audit section of the Department of Taxation.

“So, if you pass this law, if you insist that you pass this law, then I think it is appropriate that you ensure that there is congruence between what you have in mind and the way that the Department of Taxation will audit this claim. And I assure you that they will three years down the road. And their practice, by the way, is to wait until they can assess not only, you know, ask for more taxes, but they wait so that you can no longer amend your taxes. They wait until they can also assess an interest on this. If you don’t want this to be happy, then I think you should make sure there’s congruence between what you mean and the way the audit section of the Department of Taxation is going to interpret it two to three years from now.

“But I stood to oppose this measure because it is bad legislation. It is like, well, the Chairman of Ways and Means is so important, and he happens to be running for reelection this year, that no matter how outrageous the tax credit he proposes, as if it doesn’t rain anyplace other than Manoa, he is so powerful and because we have a system where democracy really doesn’t work in this Body because the Committee Chair rules. And we no longer have a democracy but we have what, an 11-headed autocracy?”

Senator Tsutsui interjected:

“Mr. President, point of order. Can the speaker please keep his comments to the bill in front of us.”

The Chair then stated:

“Senator Trimble, please keep your comments germane to the subject and not be personal about it.”

Senator Trimble continued:

“Thank you. Personal in what regard, Mr. President? Because I really think it reflects poorly on the Senate President who’s in charge of this organization and making sure that the will of the people carries forth.”

The President interjected:

“Senator, please talk about the issue.”

Senator Trimble responded:

“The issue is offering a tax credit to only residents in Manoa as if it rains no place else. And if this is not abuse of the public trust, then I don’t know what is and I ask for a Roll Call vote.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Taniguchi responded:

“Mr. President, I’d just like to respond.

“I guess we had this bill last year and a lot of people voted for that, so I don’t understand the Senator from Waikiki’s comments at this point.

“I think part of it, given the fact that there have been other incidences just recently, I may regret that we titled the bill in a very narrow form but we initially wanted to do that because we didn’t know of any other places, and so maybe that was an error on my part to not take that into consideration. It doesn’t just rain in Manoa. We realize that. I think part of the situation was that a lot of the people who were flooded out who received significant damage, especially those on Pamoia Road, had been flooded in 1994 and some of the issues had not been resolved with regard to mitigation of that flooding. So all these people felt that nothing had happened in 1994 and again they were flooded in 2004, and so that’s the kind of relief we’re trying to address here. I went to visit some of the residents a couple of weeks ago and I think there’s still a lot of anger about the fact that because the university got flooded this time, there was a lot of response, and certainly there should be because the university is a state agency. But I think again, these people that got flooded a couple of years back and nothing happened, they did not receive anything and they got flooded the second time, and I think that’s part of the reason why it was felt that we should try to proceed with this measure.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in favor of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this legislation.

“Mr. President, it doesn’t only rain in Manoa. It rains in many places. We don’t only have hurricanes on Kauai. We don’t only have earthquakes on the Big Island. But when an area of this state especially gets inundated with a very specific problem, I think it’s our legislative responsibility to respond to the need for help. In this particular instance, Manoa is not in a flood plane. This is an unprecedented disaster and I think the right thing for us to do is to respond appropriately.

“I’m quite proud that the good Senator from Manoa stood strong for the people he represents. If something happened in my district, I would hope that this Legislature would support my constituency similarly.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hee rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this legislation.

“I just want to pick up from the previous speaker that it does rain on the North Shore and I’m taking a cue off of the previous speaker that I hope that legislation will reflect the concerns from Kahaluu to Kahuku. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 3037, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RELIEF OF MANOA FLOOD VICTIMS,” having been read throughout, and Roll Call vote having been requested, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 2 (Ihara, Kim).

S.B. No. 2959, S.D. 3:

On motion by Senator Chun Oakland, seconded by Senator Hee and carried, S.B. No. 2959, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LABOR,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 3 (Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 2 (Ihara, Kim).

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“This may be the time that I do have a chance to speak on this train that left the station so quickly, Mr. President. I’d like to add to the Journal some remarks regarding the resolution we just passed concerning social security. Those remarks are as follows: I believe this is a foolhardy proposal in that it is dictating a certain path or course of action on an issue that needs to be addressed at the federal level. It does ignore some of the facts concerning the great problems with social security, and most especially, it ignores the fact that many young people today are going to, as we have done, spend their lifetime paying into this system and if they die before the age of being able to enjoy the benefits of social security, as limited as the benefits are, they will have worked long and hard to pay into a system that will have given them absolutely nothing.

“This is a positive alternative, and that can be found in the nation of Australia where they have ‘superannuation.’ This is where their social security system is a mandated program, like the United States of America, which is paid into during the working life of the individual but that person, through the auspices of government, can control the secured investments. The equity does grow in great proportion and when that person retires, they can take a one-time payout of literally hundreds-of-thousands-of-dollars or they have the asset to pass on to their heirs.

“So, the blind belief that our system is just fine the way it is, is foolhardy because it is headed towards, as ponzi schemes usually are, towards a very disastrous collapse. We can do something to fix it or we can ignore it, and this resolution basically is saying to do nothing. Therefore, I appreciate the opportunity to express these concerns now. Thank you, Mr. President.”

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTION

MATTER DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 2006

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2919 (S.C.R. No. 7, S.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2919 and S.C.R. No. 7, S.D. 1, be adopted, seconded by Senator Hogue.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the resolution.

“Here we have several problems, Mr. President. I believe certainly we should be helping community associations and community functions and certainly libraries, and the Makiki Library is to be congratulated. It started out as a volunteer effort. People in the community of which I used to live were very active and they’ve raised funds, they’ve expanded the facilities there and I think it’s a great institution.

“We have a problem, though, and the problem is this – we talk a great deal in this Body about home rule; we also talk about responsibility, and the responsibility is that this facility rests with the City and County of Honolulu. It’s on City and County of Honolulu land. It’s being managed by the City and County of Honolulu. The City and County of Honolulu has put money into the facility. They want to expand the facility and have a new building. Two years ago this Legislative Body appropriated money which the Governor has not released, and in her message of not releasing the funds, again she pointed to the fact that this is a City and County of Honolulu facility. I think we should honor that, particularly at this day and time when many of us are being visited, as I am today, by librarians who are very concerned because their positions are being cut at the state level in state public institutions and they seek additional funding or they seek change in priorities from the Department of Education.

“So, while I certainly support and laud the efforts of those people that have brought this facility to life, I think that if we’re talking about our priorities, our priorities should go to state functions and to those that are public functions rather than private functions.

“Thank you.”

Senator Kim rose to support the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support.

“I rise, Mr. President, because this debate will continue on and on. While I served on the city council the only reason the city council took on the Makiki Library is because the state would never take on the services. Libraries are a state service.

It’s a state function. And year after year, the constituents and the people of Makiki would come and beg the city council for monies because the state wouldn’t put money into the library. So, the city did not want to do it. It’s really not a city function, but we did it to support the community.

“So, it’s about time the state stood up and took advantage of the fact that the city for all these years helped fund the library that should have been funded with state funds, Mr. President. Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support and stated:

“Mr. President, I also stand in support of this resolution.

“For over 20 years I’ve been familiar with this issue having worked at the city council as a staff member and the community has worked so hard to provide this treasure of a service. It’s a very holistic array of all kinds of community services co-located, including the library.

“I think we need to support this kind of effort. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. No. 7, S.D. 1, entitled: “SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO RELEASE $4,500,000 TO RENOVATE AND BUILD A COMMUNITY CENTER AT THE MAKIKI COMMUNITY LIBRARY,” was adopted with Senators Slom and Trimble voting “No.”

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2920 (Gov. Msg. No. 231):

Senator Kanno moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 2920 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried.

Senator Kanno then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of MARIE LADERTA as the Director of the Department of Human Resources Development, term to expire December 4, 2006, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Kanno rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the nominee.

"Mr. President, your Labor Committee held a public hearing on the nominee and Marie Laderta is a graduate of High School on Oahu, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Marquette University in Milwaukee and a Juris Doctor from the John Marshall School of Law in Chicago. She began her career as a bilingual teacher at Lunalilo Elementary School and was also employed at Philippine Airlines and Northwest Airlines. After graduating from law school, she practiced intellectual property law in Chicago until returning to Hawaii to serve as an associate with the law firms of Turk and Agena and Leavitt, Yamane, and Soldner. She began her career in public service in 1998 as a Deputy Attorney General in the Tort Litigation Division where she quickly advanced to a supervisory role and was subsequently honored as the Department of the Attorney General's Manager of the Year for 2002. She also served as the Deputy Director of the Department of Taxation until her interim appointment as the Director of the Department of Human Resources Development in August of last year.

"At the hearing, the nominee represented a willingness to maintain an open mind regarding all issues presented, demonstrated a commitment to civil service reform including reducing the number of civil service exempt positions, as appropriate, and showed a commitment to addressing current and future labor shortages and vacant hard-to-fill positions through proper preparation. The committee room was packed and the nominee received unanimous testimony in support of her nomination from both the public and private sectors, and management and labor alike.

"Mr. President, I strongly urge my colleagues to vote in support of Marie Laderta as Director of the Department of Human Resources Development. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the nominee and stated:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in support of Gov. Msg. No. 231.

"At that Labor hearing, we were all impressed by a number of things by the nominee – her breadth of experience, the fact that she has broad knowledge in so many different departments of government, the fact that so many people came forward – people that have worked with her and for her – and proclaimed how she was a wonderful manager, how she's a hands-on person and got involved in everything that she did.

"We did have a couple of questions, however. When we were talking about her ethnicity, we found out that she was one-fourth this and one-fourth that and about six-fourths other things, so we're still not sure how many fourths she's got of ethnicity.

"I guess the thing that really impressed us the most was she allowed her family to come there but gave them strict instructions that they were not to say a word (laughter), and believe it or not, they obeyed her. She is a terrific example of the very best in those that are committed to public service, to helping all the people, and we are very proud to support her and ask all of our colleagues to give their support as well.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Hee, Hooser, Ihara).

At this time, Senator Kanno introduced Ms. Laderta and her family to the members of the Senate.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

ADOPTION OF A RESOLUTION

S.R. No. 162:

By unanimous consent, action on S.R. No. 162, entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION AMENDING THE RULES OF THE SENATE OF THE TWENTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO REQUIRE THE USE OF THE LINE ITEM BUDGET FORMAT FOR THE SENATE BUDGET," was deferred until Friday, March 17, 2006.

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President and colleagues, just a few days ago on Tuesday, March 14th, on Kauai, a damn built around 1890 collapsed without warning, releasing about 400 gallons of water into an adjacent valley. That water proceeded to destroy thousands of trees, many homes, and tragically has washed many members of our Kauai ohana out to sea. Two fatalities have been confirmed and five other residents are still missing . . . and the rain keeps falling.

"In expressing our condolences for these victims and these families and the many people who have suffered and continue to suffer, I ask you, Mr. President, to request the members to adjourn this meeting on a rising motion and a moment of silence in honor of those victims and families, please."

The Chair so ordered.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY

Friday, March 17, 2006

The Senate of the Twenty-Third Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2006, convened at 11:42 o'clock a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Ms. Keli'ihoyalani Wilson, Office of Senator Clayton Hee, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present with the exception of Senators Hee, Kanno, Kokubun and Taniguchi who were excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Thirty-Second Day.

At this time, Senator Sakamoto introduced and welcomed Admiral Gary Roughead, who assumed duties as Commander, U.S. Pacific Fleet, on July 8, 2005. Accompanying Admiral Roughead was Lieutenant Commander Brett Coffey.

At this time, President Bunda invited Admiral Roughead to the podium to address the members of the Senate.

Admiral Roughead addressed the Senate as follows:

"Thank you very much for this honor of being able to be before you today. Senator Sakamoto, thank you for your support.

"Senator Bunda and distinguished Senators, it truly is an honor for me to be here. I send regrets on behalf of my wife who had to be back on the mainland. She very much wanted to be here but some family matters took her back east. I really am a fortunate man and if she was here today, you'd really realize why I am so fortunate. She is the best thing that I have going for me.

"But I would also say that I'm fortunate because I'm beginning what is my sixth year in this great state in a senior military position. And as I truly believe and as I tell young sailors and young officers that are coming along, there is no better place to serve in our Navy, in our military than in the State of Hawaii, and I mean that sincerely because there is no atmosphere, there is no greater support that our military receives anywhere other than in your great state.

"For our Navy, it has been important for so many years – the State of Hawaii and the support that you give us – over 100 years. It is clear that it is strategically important to us in the Navy with over 30 ships, 70 shore commands, 15,000 sailors, and 20,000 dependents that are with those sailors, it clearly is a strategic part of our Navy. But it's also important because we are a maritime nation and a maritime world. It is clear that that dimension in the Pacific has been recognized. Most recently as we've completed our four-year defense review, there has been a reaffirmation of the importance of the Pacific to the point where there will be a realignment of forces from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and Hawaii will be key to that renewed presence and that renewed emphasis in this important part of the world.

"It's also important for me to thank the state and the people of Hawaii for the support that you give us and that you give those 15,000 sailors and the 20,000 families. Whether it is in the communities in which we live or the schools that our children attend, that support is apparent, it is strong, and it is greatly appreciated.

"It is also important to recognize and to show my appreciation on the part of the many organizations that support us, whether it is this Body, the Legislature, the state leadership and the strong delegation that does so much for our military not only in Hawaii but throughout the world. It truly is a unique relationship that we have.

"We also, in the Navy, realize that there is much that we do for the community: the interaction that we have with businesses large or small are important to us; the importance that we place on activities that are here in Hawaii, particularly the naval shipyard that is so important to the fleet and so important to the state and so important to the ability of our military to operate and project power into the Pacific; the civil-military organizations that we interact with and how they support us and we support them; the initiatives that are at play in the state, for example the public/private housing venture that we have entered into in the Navy, the best that exists in the Navy today is right here in Hawaii.

"That is only made possible because of the support, because of the interest and the strong support of this Body and the citizens of Hawaii. On behalf of them, on behalf of the sailors and the families that live and work here and serve here, I thank you for what you do for us, what you do for them, and I pledge to you that I look forward to working closely with you and the citizens of the state to continue to make the Navy and our country secure, strong, and prosperous in the years ahead.

"Thank you very much."

At 11:53 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:58 o'clock a.m.
