A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO THE HAWAII HIGHER EDUCATION COMMISSION.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that as Hawaii's
2 technology sector grows, and as technology becomes embedded in
3 many of our more traditional industries, there is a growing need
4 for a workforce that has basic science, technology, engineering
5 and mathematical skills, as well as graduates with specialized
6 science and engineering degrees. Some states are addressing
7 their science, technology, engineering, and math education, as
8 well as other strategic post-secondary education needs through a
9 strong commission on higher education. Examples include New 10 Jersey, California, Arizona, and Maryland, among others. In 11 these states, the commission helps coordinate an integrated 12 system of higher education that includes both public and private 13 institutions.

14 Common goals of these commissions include: increasing the 15 rate of students pursuing post-secondary education; improving
16 access to education, training, and lifelong learning; engaging 17 the business community in setting goals and objectives; and

S.B. NO. 2994

1 changing public perceptions and aspirations regarding higher
2 education.

3 In Hawaii, the state post-secondary education commission,
4 established by section 304A-3151, Hawaii Revised Statutes, has a
5 limited scope. Its legislative mandate is primarily to serve as
6 a vehicle for receiving federal funds and there is a brief
7 section authorizing the commission to develop procedures for 8 receiving and responding to complaints. Most of the seats are 9 assigned to representatives of the University of Hawaii,
10 including all of the board of regents, and the commission is 11 placed administratively in the University of Hawaii, with the 12 university president designated as the administrative officer of 13 the commission.

14 The legislature further finds that a state post-secondary
15 education commission with broader representation and a more
16 comprehensive mandate would better serve the State's needs
17 relative to meeting the challenges of a global economy. A
18 commission with representatives from all public and private 19 institutions of higher education, government, business, and the 20 general public could develop a vision and a strategy to move
21 Hawaii toward excellence in the twenty-first century.

S.B. NO. 2994

1 The purpose of this Act is to amend chapter 304A, Hawaii
2 Revised Statutes, to broaden the representation on the state
3 post-secondary education commission and expand its mission.

4 SECTION 2. Chapter 304A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is
5 amended by amending the title of subpart C of part VII to read
6 as follows:

7 "C. [STATE POST-SECONDARY] HAWAII HIGHER EDUCATION
8 COMMISSION"

9 SECTION 3. Section 304A-3151, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 10 amended to read as follows:

15 for the receipt of federal funds when federal legislation
16 dealing with higher education or post-secondary education
17 requires, as a condition of state receipt of such funds, the 18 designation of a state agency that is broadly representative of 19 the general public and of post-secondary education in the State
20 and when agencies other than the commission created by this
21 subpart may not qualify. The commission also may receive funds
22 from other sources to carry out its mandate. The commission

Report Title:

Hawaii higher education commission; University of Hawaii; post-secondary education

Description:

Rename the state post-secondary education commission to the Hawaii higher education commission, broaden the membership, and expand the powers and authority.

JUSTIFICATION SHEET

DEPARTMENT: Business, Economic Development, and Tourism

TITLE: A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HIGHER EDUCATION COMMISSION.

PURPOSE: To improve the quality of higher education in Hawaii through the renaming of the state post-secondary education commission to the Hawaii higher education commission, broadening the membership, and expanding the powers and authority of the commission to provide an integrated approach to higher education in the State that will more aggressively help the State meet the needs of a 21st century economy.

MEANS: Amend the title of subpart C of part VII of chapter 304A and sections 304A-3151, 304A-3152, and 304A-3154, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

JUSTIFICATION: As Hawaii's technology sector grows, and as technology becomes embedded in many of our more traditional industries, there is a growing need for a workforce that has basic science, technology, engineering and mathematical (STEM) skills, as well as graduates with specialized STEM degrees. The concept of a pipeline to produce a STEM-literate population was at the core of the Innovation in Education proposals submitted to the 2007 Legislature. The science and technology academies are designed to spark interest and build competence. To complete the commitment to produce a qualified workforce for emerging technology jobs, more STEM college graduates will be needed.

Several states are addressing their STEM education, as well as other strategic post secondary education needs, through a strong Commission on Higher Education. In Hawaii, the State Post-Secondary Education Commission, established by section 304A-

3151, has a very limited scope. Its legislative mandate is primarily to serve as a vehicle for receiving federal funds and, there is a brief section authorizing the Commission to develop procedures for receiving and responding to complaints. The Commission is placed administratively in the University of Hawaii and the UH president is the administrative officer of the Commission.

Impact on the public: The ultimate goal of improving the State's ability to provide a quality STEM education is to raise the skill level of Hawaii's workforce, thereby increasing our ability to compete in a global economy, producing higher incomes and a better standard of living for Hawaii's residents.

Impact on the department and other agencies: There will be no direct impact on the department. The University of Hawaii will be impacted by having their responsibilities broadened regarding the new higher education commission and receiving additional resources to improve their ability respond to the mandate.

GENERAL FUND: None.

OTHER FUNDS: None.

PPBS PROGRAM DESIGNATION: BED-120

OTHER AFFECTED AGENCIES: University of Hawaii, Department of Education, Department of Labor and Industrial Relations
