Report Title:

University of Hawaii; Procurement

Description:

Exempts the University of Hawaii from Hawaii Public Procurement Code requirements.

JUSTIFICATION SHEET

DEPARTMENT: University of Hawaii

TITLE: A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII.

PURPOSE: To exempt the University of Hawaii (University) from the requirements and provisions of chapter 103D, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS).

MEANS: Amend section 304A-105(b), HRS.

JUSTIFICATION: This bill would reinstate the authority of the University to develop procurement policies and procedures that are not subject to chapter 103D, HRS (Hawaii Public Procurement Code), which authority had been previously conferred upon the University by Act 115, Session Laws of Hawaii 1998 (Act 115). Act 115 amended various statutes pertaining to the University for the purpose of granting increased authority to the University over the management of the University's real and personal property.

Act 115 largely resulted from the recommendations of an economic revitalization task force convened by the then Governor, President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House. The task force concluded that the University should be provided greater autonomy over its affairs, including the delegation of increased decision-making authority and responsibility.

The state procurement code exemption that was thereafter granted to the University was consistent with the findings and recommendations of the task force.

Act 216, Session Laws of Hawaii 2004, effective as of January 1, 2005 (Act 216), repealed various statutory exemptions to the State procurement code, including the University's exemption. (See HRS section 304-4, as recodified in 2006 to HRS section 304A-105).

The proposed bill would restore to the University this statutory exemption from the state procurement code that had been eliminated by Act 216. Under the proposed bill, the University would again be afforded the managerial flexibility to develop procurement policies and procedures that are not subject to the state procurement code in order to meet the specific needs and operational requirements of the University.
