
HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY TO REINVEST FUNDS
USED FOR INCARCERATION TO STRUCTURED COMMUNITY PLACEMENT
PROGRAMS FOR ELIGIBLE NON-VIOLENT FEMALE OFFENDERS.

1 WHEREAS, the problems associated with incarcerated persons
2 reentering society as well as the high rate of recidivism,
3 programs that effectively assist the transition of formerly
4 incarcerated persons into the community are critically needed;
5 and
6

7 WHEREAS, once released from incarceration, the former 8 inmate faces many difficulties such as finding housing, 9 obtaining employment, and other obstacles resulting from 10 prejudices against formerly incarcerated persons; and 11

12 WHEREAS, the costs of incarceration can be dramatically
13 reduced through the implementation of programs and services
14 designed to assist the transition into society for formerly 15 incarcerated persons; and 16

17 WHEREAS, the federal Bureau of Prisons formerly facilitated 18 persons reentering the community through their system of 19 Residential Reentry Centers for persons who are not yet ready to 20 fully reintegrate into society; and 21

22 WHEREAS, the federal Bureau of Prisons has found that 23 community placement programs are effective for non-violent 24 incarcerated persons who are reentering society from 25 incarceration, have demonstrated their fitness for community
26 placement, and have identified housing and employment; and 27

28 WHEREAS, research indicates that a multitude of differing 29 issues are associated with female incarceration, often involving 30 unresolved sexual or physical trauma and substance abuse; and 31

H.C.R. NO. 22

1 WHEREAS, in a majority of cases in the State, female
2 offenders commit crimes that are non-violent in nature and do
3 not pose a threat to the community; and 4

5 WHEREAS, the recent data from the Justice Reinvestment
6 Initiative show that incarceration is not an effective method 7 for rehabilitating substance abuse addictions; and 8

9 WHEREAS, community substance abuse treatment programs are 10 more effective than in-prison treatments, especially for non-11 violent female offenders to break the cycle of substance abuse,
12 crime, and incarceration; and 13

14 WHEREAS, many females return to incarceration if their drug 15 or alcohol dependencies are not treated and their recovery is 16 not supported during their transition; and 17

18 WHEREAS, the risk of females becoming repeat offenders due 19 to substance abuse presents economic and social costs to the 20 public and the State's social service system; and 21

22 WHEREAS, the majority of incarcerated female offenders are 23 mothers of minor children, causing issues that stem from 24 fragmented families and often become intergenerational problems;
25 and
26

27 WHEREAS, structured community placement helps females
28 adjust to greater independence as they transition and reunite
29 with their children, resulting in a more integrated and seamless
30 resocialization and reentry process; and 31

32 WHEREAS, community placement that is monitored by a
33 structured program with available social services like T.J.
34 Mahoney's Ka Hale Hoala Hou No Na Wahine program, is an 35 effective way to monitor female offenders in the community while 36 transitioning them back into society; and 37

38 WHEREAS, the cost of incarceration is $137 per day for each
39 inmate, compared to a structured community placement program
40 that costs $50 per day; and 41

42 WHEREAS, eligible females who comply with the rules of the 43 monitored community placement program and have access to

H.C.R. NO. 22

1 appropriate gender-responsive services are gradually offered
2 more independence; and
3

4 WHEREAS, the savings realized by transferring funds used
5 for incarceration ($50,005 per year) to a structured community
6 placement program ($18,250 per year) allows the placement
7 program to be revenue neutral at a savings of $31,775 per year
8 for every ten eligible non-violent female offenders; now,
9 therefore,
10

18 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that certified copies of this 19 Concurrent Resolution be transmitted to the Governor, the
