Your Committee finds that the nominees meet the Federal requirements for Council membership.

SARAH AHINA

Your Committee received testimony in support of the nomination of Sarah Ahina from the State Council on Developmental Disabilities and one individual.

Ms. Ahina is the Chair of the Self-Advocacy Advisory Council that is working with the State Council on Developmental Disabilities to form a statewide self-advocacy network. As Chair, she presides over the Self-Advocacy Advisory Council as a stakeholder group and provides feedback to the Department of Health's Developmental Disabilities Division regarding the Developmental Disabilities Waiver program. Ms. Ahina is also a member of the Council's Employment and Education Committee, which is working to increase supports for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities. The Committee's work is dedicated to obtaining and sustaining the chosen life goals of students with developmental disabilities and to prepare students at all educational levels for the transition from high school to adult life, including employment, self-employment, and post-secondary education and training.

Ms. Ahina indicated in her personal testimony that she hopes to recruit more self-advocates on the neighbor islands in order to establish a statewide self-advocacy network. She has served on the State Council on Developmental Disabilities for the past three years and wishes to continue to help others access services and supports and secure employment so they can achieve independence and be contributing members to the community.

BEN DALAUIDAO

Your Committee received testimony in support of the nomination of Ben Dalauidao from the State Council on Developmental Disabilities, Insight Center for Community Economic Development, and three individuals.

Mr. Dalauidao is an active member of the Council's Employment and Education Committee that is working to increase employment options and promote individualized school transitions to employment, self-employment, and post-secondary options for individuals with developmental disabilities. Mr. Dalauidao indicated in his personal statement that he learned a lot during his first term on the Council and would like to continue the valuable work he is doing. As a resident of East Hawaii and a self-advocate, he represents individuals with developmental disabilities from East Hawaii and is a very motivated member of the East Hawaii Developmental Disabilities Committee. His representation will provide the perspective the Council needs to assess and enhance the services provided in neighbor island communities. Mr. Dalauidao will provide valuable insight on how to support individuals with developmental disabilities to become leaders in the community and to establish a statewide self-advocacy network.

SOL RAY DUNCAN

Your Committee received testimony in support of the nomination of Sol Ray Duncan from the State Council on Developmental Disabilities, The Arc in Hawaii, and one individual.

Mr. Duncan is currently a member of the Pearl City Neighborhood Board, the President of Arc Advocates, and an active member of the Self-Advocacy Advisory Council. He is also an avid athlete and has participated in the Special Olympics in track, softball, soccer, and basketball.

Testimony received by your Committee indicates that Mr. Duncan's independent living and his active involvement in the community would assist the Council in achieving its State Plan Goal through leading by example as a person who is self-determined and living life to the fullest, and Mr. Duncan believes that these strengths qualify him to serve on the State Council on Developmental Disabilities. His hope is that the Council will address and solve transportation issues, such as ensuring timely pick-ups by The Handi-Van Service, and employment issues, such as individuals with developmental disabilities maintaining employment without jeopardizing their Supplemental Security Income benefits.

Your Committee finds Mr. Duncan's commitment and dedication inspiring. His experience will assist him in being the voice of individuals who cannot speak for themselves and to advocate for the rights of the developmentally disabled population.

Ms. Gibo's multiple levels of experience with the Developmental Disabilities Waiver Program, Hawaii Waiver Providers Association's Board of Directors, housing, employment, and education will assist the State Council on Developmental Disabilities in achieving its 2012-2016 State Plan goals for community supports, employment, and education.

Also, as a self-advocate, she would represent other self-advocates for services that she currently receives such as personal assistance services that allow her to live independently. Her presence on the State Council on Developmental Disabilities will ensure individuals with developmental disabilities have a voice, an advocate, and a positive role model in the community.

Dr. Nishimoto indicated in her personal statement that the Council serves not only to ensure that the human rights of people with developmental disabilities are protected and honored, but also to personally motivate her as a social work professor at Hawaii Pacific University as she helps students honor diversity and encourage respect for people with developmental disabilities.

Your Committee finds Dr. Nishimoto to have a wealth of knowledge and experience as a practitioner, administrator, advocate, and parent of children with special health care needs. She will greatly assist the State Council on Developmental Disabilities to build capacity in the social work profession to work with individuals with developmental disabilities and their families.

Ms. Octavio indicated in her personal statement that Council members are there to help fight for what is right and fair for Hawaii's special needs community. As a member of the Council, she hopes to continue to remind the Department of Health's case managers to treat individuals with developmental disabilities as human beings and to allow and support them in leading their own lives.

Your Committee finds that as a resident of the Island of Kauai, Ms. Octavio will provide the Council with a valuable perspective on the access to and variety of services available to individuals with disabilities on the neighbor islands.

She has been active with the Council's annual "Day at the Capitol" event. She also serves as a mentor for other parents to convey their interests and concerns to the legislators.

Ms. Rice indicated in her personal statement that as a parent of two adult sons with disabilities, she has been blessed to have a circle of support from the disability community. Her service to and membership on the Council is her way of paying forward the support she has received. During her term on the Council, Ms.

Rice hopes the Council will become more involved with family support and advocacy. As part of a family that required supports and services, she believes families need help and the Council is in a position to find a more proactive way of supporting these families.
