Please support this bill. Intervention programs are a way for support. When a child decides to take his or her own life, it is based on emotions and temporary environment. Programs not only serve as educational, but it is the support that let's them know that they are not alone. There are so many things that are too important and carry much burden when you are in your youth. School bullying, relationship break-ups, being humiliated for whatever reason or coming from a lower economic social status and kids taunt in such a vicious manner. Social pressures, circumstances that we all once knew and contemplated one time or another "I would rather kill myself than..." Think of it now as an adult with a capacity to know more and think rationally with more logic. Our youth will respond. Positive mentors play a key role in preventing such displays of senseless waste. Please support House Bill 691.
