SCR 141 – Declaring The First Week of October as Hawaii Fishing and Seafood Week

We strongly support SCR 141 for recognizing Hawaii Fishing and Seafood Week during the first week in October.

The Hawaii Fishing and Seafood Festival has been a FREE annual October event since 2006 at Pier 38 – Honolulu Fishing Village. Hawaii's keiki and ohana – young and old -- share in the interaction with numerous state and federal government agencies, fishing supply and food vendors, fish display, fishing demonstrations and presentations, fishing and U.S. Coast Guard vessel tours, interactive games for the keiki, free bus transportation from Honolulu Community College...for a full day of learning, fun, ono foods, and entertainment.

The popularity of the event by the attendance of our residents and tourists has been gratifying over the years with attendance reaching over 20,000. The Pacific Island Fisheries Group (PIFG), a nonprofit organization hosts this event with dedicated and committed volunteers from all walks of life. Other sponsors are involved and provide financial support for this huge undertaking to keep the event free to the public.

Hawaii's residents have access to fresh wild caught fish that our recreational fishers, Hawaii's commercial fishing fleet, government agencies, nonprofit organizations and citizens work to collaborate on preserving fishing and protecting the fishery resources. Seafood safety is vital for a healthy nutritious diet for our citizens and visitors alike. Living in the middle of the Pacific Ocean is well worth the health benefits we gain and enjoy!

Mahalo for this opportunity to support these resolutions.

Chair Fukunaga, Chair Dela Cruz and members of the Committees. SCR 141 highlights the importance of Hawaii's ocean, fish resources and fishing industry to our economic and quality of life. The Hawaii Aquaculture and Aquaponics Association (HAAA), the trade association representing both land and ocean aquatic farming, strongly endorses this resolution.

While currently contributing a small portion of domestically harvested fish for consumers, aquaculture production is growing and together with the fishing industry represents two sustainable sources of supply for our local tourist and resident markets.

HAAA has participated in the Hawaii Fishing and Seafood Festival, and it is an outstanding event that is focused on local seafood awareness and education. Having the State Legislature declare the first week in October, Hawaii Fishing and Seafood Week, to acknowledge the many contributions of locally produced seafood to society underscores the State goal of sustainable food self sufficiency and security.

Thank you for the opportunity to support this measure.

SCR 141 testimony

Regarding SCR 141

I am in full support of the resolution to declare Oct. 1-7, 2012, as "Hawaii Fishing and Seafood Week."

It brings needed public attention to a part of our daily diet that some have taken for granted. And fishing has been a long-established part of our local cultural heritage.

With Hawaii being the most geographically isolated spot on the planet, food security is a serious concern. In addition to terrestrial farming, the ability to develop, maintain and manage our near-shore and open-ocean fisheries will be a major aspect of our food supply in the near future.

There is no better way to teach our keiki -- our future generations -- about one of Hawaii's most cherished traditions than through a series of events dedicated to fishing.

Mahalo for your consideration.

Aloha,
Dean Sensui, executive producer

Ladies and gentlemen of the Legislature, I would like to express my support of resolution SCR141 and urge you to pass this bill. I grew up in Hawaii and learning how to fish as a toddler and still have the same love for fishing over 30 year later. Fishing and more importantly, our ocean resource is a integral part of Hawaii and this bill will help provide the necessary education and awareness to present and future generations of residents and visitors. Thank you for your time and consideration.

As a fisher I strongly support the Seafood Festival held at Pier 38, that acknowledges all aspects of Hawai'i's fishing industry, from the ocean catch to the consumer table.

As a Recreational Fisheries Surveyor I strongly support the Seafood Festival at Pier 38 as a way to provide outreach to the public regarding fisheries resource management. Also, the festival provides an opportunity to answer any questions or concerns the public may have.
