
HOUSE RESOLUTION

URGING THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF STATE, THE DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY, AND THE UNITED STATES ATTORNEY GENERAL TO EASE VISA RESTRICTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA.

1 WHEREAS, China and the people of China have been a part of 2 the economy and culture of Hawaii since the first Chinese sugar
3 plantation laborers arrived in the islands in 1852; and 4

5 WHEREAS, the first 175 laborers were from Hong Kong bound
6 for Maui--most of them from depression-torn Guangdong and Fujian
7 in southern China; and 8

9 WHEREAS, from 1852 to 1876, nearly 4,000 Chinese laborers
10 migrated to Hawaii and by 1882, these huaqiao or migrants, made 11 up almost 49 percent of plantation labor, outnumbering
12 Caucasians in the islands; and 13

14 WHEREAS, the progeny of these humble but determined Chinese
15 immigrants rose quickly through the ranks of Hawaii's 16 educational, political, and business communities, and have left 17 lasting impacts on Hawaii and even the world, the most famous of 18 whom, Dr. Sun Yat-sen, is referred to as "The Forerunner of the 19 Revolution"; and 20

21 WHEREAS, Dr. Sun Yat-sen's education at Iolani School and 22 Oahu College inspired him to develop the vision of an educated,
23 strong, and democratic modern-day China that he would dedicate 24 the rest of his life to building, and would later prompt him to 25 say that Hawaii was where he "came to know what modern, 26 civilized governments are like and what they mean"; and 27

28 WHEREAS, Dr. Sun Yat-sen established the first Chinese
29 revolutionary party, called Xing Zhong Hui or Revive China 30 Society, and returned to Hawaii five more times, and during 31 those trips, many Hawaii families contributed financially to his 32 cause; and

1 WHEREAS, the Counties of Hawaii Sister-Cities Summit held
2 in Honolulu from September 13, 2011, to September 15, 2011, 3 highlighted the inextricable and historic ties between China and 4 Hawaii with a particular emphasis on strengthening our 5 relationships with Honolulu's sister cities of Zhongshan, 6 Haikou, Qinhuangdao, and Chengdu; and 7

8 WHEREAS, the summit demonstrated that China will continue
9 to embrace our open-door policy and fortified our understanding 10 of each other's needs in the areas of cultural exchange, 11 economic development, trade, tourism, and education; and 12

13 WHEREAS, recently, members of Hawaii's business and 14 government communities welcomed 271 passengers at Honolulu
15 International Airport aboard China Eastern Airlines' inaugural
16 direct flight from Shanghai, heralding a new era for Honolulu's 17 economic growth and forging closer ties between the United 18 States and China; and 19

20 WHEREAS, the People's Republic of China, with its 21 population of 1,300,000,000, represents a very large and 22 lucrative pool of visitors, because the average Chinese tourist 23 to Hawaii is expected to spend about $368 per day, compared to 24 $275 daily for the average Japanese tourist and just $178 per 25 day, on average, for all tourists to Hawaii; and 26

27 WHEREAS, tourism dollars have been identified by the United 28 States Department of Commerce as an export, and President Barack 29 Obama's National Export Initiative of May 2010 seeks to double 30 United States exports by 2015; and 31

32 WHEREAS, China has transformed itself from an impoverished
33 country to the world's second-largest economy, and as it grows, 34 continues to have an impact on Hawaii and the globe; and 35

36 WHEREAS, China is now a major trade partner with the United 37 States and a force for stability and peace in Asia, and has 38 become a world leader in the automobile market and the world's 39 largest producer of energy; and 40

41 WHEREAS, in spite of the reciprocity between China and 42 Hawaii, the visa application and approval process for Chinese 43 business and tourist travelers is an arduous and often lengthy

1 process that deters many potential visitors to Hawaii and the 2 United States; and

3
4 WHEREAS, a Chinese citizen who wishes to visit the United 5 States must appear in person before a United States consular 6 official to obtain the visa, but there are only five United 7 States consulates in the entire People's Republic of China; and

8
9 WHEREAS, due to the small number of consulates and staff to 10 handle the in-person interviews necessary for entry visas, the 11 average wait times for those interviews in China far exceed wait 12 times in other countries; and

13
14 WHEREAS, one solution to ease this problem is for a country
15 to be admitted to the United States State Department's Visa
16 Waiver Program, which allows nationals from foreign countries to 17 enter the United States for tourism- or business-related 18 purposes for as long as 90 days without obtaining a visa; and

19
20 WHEREAS, both the citizens of Japan and South Korea qualify 21 for visa waivers; and

22
23 WHEREAS, when South Korea became one of the 36 countries in 24 the United States State Department's Visa Waiver Program in 25 November 2008, it boosted tourism to Hawaii from that country; 26 and

27
28 WHEREAS, in order for a country to qualify to participate
29 in the Visa Waiver Program, the country must satisfy certain 30 conditions, with the United States government retaining the 31 ultimate discretion to admit the country to the program; and

32
33 WHEREAS, one condition for entry into the waiver program is 34 the rate of refusal of a country's visa applicants, which must 35 be three percent or lower; and

36
37 WHEREAS, the refusal rate for Chinese visa applicants was 38 13.3 percent as of 2010; and

39
40 WHEREAS, the Travel and Tourism Advisory Board, a newly 41 created industry group appointed by the United States Secretary
42 of Commerce, recommended measures that can be taken to increase 43 travel to the United States from China, which include:

- 1 (1) Raising the permissible visa-refusal rate from three 2 to ten percent;
3
- 4 (2) Establishing a maximum wait time of five days for 5 in-person visa interviews;
6
- 7 (3) Adding four to six visa-processing locations and 8 several hundred consular officers to process visas;
9 and 10
- 11 (4) Allowing non-immigrant visas to be valid for ten years
12 for Chinese visitors, which is permitted in other 13 countries; now, therefore,
14

15 BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the 16 Twenty-seventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular 17 Session of 2013, that it urges the United States Department of 18 State, the Department of Homeland Security, and the United 19 States Attorney General to include the People's Republic of 20 China in the Visa Waiver Program and support the recommendations
21 of the Travel and Tourism Advisory Board to ease visa 22 restrictions and the visa application and approval process for 23 business and tourist travelers from the People's Republic of 24 China; and 25

26 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that certified copies of this 27 Resolution be transmitted to the United States Secretary of
