February 20, 2013

H.B. NO. 235    RELATING TO COLLECTION OF RESTITUTION FOR CRIME VICTIMS.

Chairs McKelvey and Rhoads and Members of the Committees:

H. B. 235 seeks to amend HRS Section 706-646 – Victim Restitution. The proposed amendment would add “any duly incorporated humane society or duly incorporated society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, contracted with the State or county to enforce animal-related statutes or ordinances, that impounds, holds, or receives custody of a pet animal pursuant to but not limited to sections 711-1109.1, 711-1109.2 and 711-1110.5”.

We believe this is not an appropriate addition to the category of “victims” of a crime, currently listed in 706-646 which provides for an award of restitution to:

- direct victims of a crime, including business, trust or government,
- a surviving relative of a deceased victim, or
- a governmental entity that has reimbursed the victim for losses arising as the result of the crime or paid for medical care provided to the victim as a result of the crime.

In other words, restitution can be ordered for the actual dollar loss of a victim, their medical bills, their funeral expenses, etc. However, if a private entity, such as an insurance company, pays for repairs to a home from a burglary break-in, the insurance company is not able to seek restitution because the insurance company is not a victim. Only the victim can seek to be made whole for the reasonable and verifiable losses suffered by the victim.

The goal in the area of restitution is to repay the victim for actual loss but not to have the criminal court act as a collection agency for what would otherwise be the subject of civil proceedings, such as “pain and suffering” of the victim or the expenses of all other entities that might have a role to play in covering various costs. Those entities continue to be able to seek monetary damages in civil court.

This bill proposes to go outside the stated title of the statute to include an entity that is not a victim in a legal sense. Certainly, we applaud the agencies that care for distressed animals that have been taken from owners who either couldn’t care for them, or worse, chose not to. But caring for the animal(s) does not make that entity a victim of the crime.

The contractual relationship that such an entity might have with the State or county doesn't change them into a victim. Other entities might have similar contractual relationships, such as foster service agencies that take in children whose abuse has resulted in criminal charges against a parent.

If the Legislature opens this particular door, to include a private agency that helps to deal with the aftermath of a defendant's conduct, no matter how significant that help may be, as a "victim" of the crime, it will only be a short time before every other entity that can claim the same tangential relationship to someone's criminal conduct will be seeking the same accommodation.

The criminal courts are not the proper venue to seek reimbursement for such expenses. These courts do not have the resources within the probation office, the individual trial courts, the counsel paid by taxpayers, etc, to handle what are essentially civil matters. If the Legislature wants to assist deserving private entities with the recovery of this money, it should create a streamlined process on the civil side to do so.

We oppose H.B. No. 235 for these reasons. Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this bill.

RE: H.B. 235; RELATING TO COLLECTION OF RESTITUTION FOR CRIME VICTIMS.

Chair Rhoads, Chair McKelvey, Vice-Chair Har, Vice-Chair Kawakami, members of the House Committee on Judiciary, and members of the House Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, the Department of the Prosecuting Attorney of the City and County of Honolulu submits the following testimony, in strong support of House Bill 235.

The purpose of H.B. 235 is to clarify the definition of "victim" in section 706-646, Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS"), to include any duly incorporated humane society or society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, contracted with the State or county to enforce animal-related statutes or ordinances, that impounds, holds, or receives custody of a pet animal pursuant to HRS §711-1109.1, §711-1109.2, and §711-1110.5.

In a recent decision by the Circuit Court of the First Circuit (State of Hawaii v. David Lee Becker, Cr. No. 12-1-1202), the court denied restitution to the Hawaiian Humane Society ("HHS")--for expenses incurred in caring for 153 dogs previously subjected to animal cruelty in the second degree--on the basis that HHS was neither a governmental agency, nor the "direct victim" of the crime committed. Although HHS was legally obligated to assume care for these animals, and became the legal owner of all 153 dogs upon forfeiture proceedings, the court held that HHS was not the "actual owner" of the dogs, and thus not entitled to restitution under HRS §706-646.

The court, in reaching its decision, opined that "the plain language of the restitution statute [HRS §706-646] is clear it does not give me the authority to order restitution to the [Hawaiian]

Humane Society in this circumstance." Thus, H.B. 235 provides clear language to allow HHS, and other duly incorporated humane societies contracted with the counties, to receive restitution for expenses incurred when caring for an animal as a result of animal forfeiture or impoundment.

For the foregoing reasons, the Department of the Prosecuting Attorney, City and County of Honolulu, strongly supports H.B. 235. Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this matter.

Comments: Dear Honorable Chairs Rhoads and McKelvey and CPC/JUD Committee Members, Please support HB235 to allow duly incorporated humane groups to be added to the definition of "victim" and thus be considered to receive restitution in animal cruelty cases. Humane societies and animal care organizations can spend tens if not hundreds of thousands of dollars in caring for the animal victims in cruelty cases, most of which is for sheltering and providing veterinary care. Humane groups rescuing and rehabilitating these animals should be compensated for such expenses and those convicted of animal cruelty should be financially responsible for the harm they cause to the animals and the larger impact on the community. Thank you for your consideration of this testimony. Inga Gibson Hawaii State Director The Humane Society of the United States

RE: Support HB235;
Relating to Collection of Restitution for Crime Victims

The Hawaiian Humane Society supports the passage of House Bill 235 as it appropriately expands the definition of "victim" to include duly incorporated humane societies involved in the impoundment, holding or custodial receipt of a pet animal for the prevention of animal cruelty.

Where a defendant is convicted of animal cruelty and the victim animal was seized by the police and given over to a humane society for the rehabilitation and care, it is reasonable that the defendant be responsible for the medical care and rehabilitation of that animal. Restitution is meant to return the victim back to the original state prior to the criminal violation. For example, where a defendant punches and breaks a victim's nose, that defendant is legally responsible for the medical expenses to repair that broken nose. As such, where a defendant imposes physical abuse on an animal, resulting in injuries, that defendant should be responsible for the cost to put that animal back to good health (its original state prior to the abuse).

In the Waimanalo puppy mill case, the court awarded the Hawaiian Humane Society forfeiture of the animals that had been abused thus making the Hawaiian Humane Society the legal owners. However, at David Becker's sentencing, the court denied The People's request to order Defendant to pay restitution to the Hawaiian Humane Society, reasoning that "the plain language of the restitution statute is clear it does not give me the authority to order restitution to the [Hawaiian] Humane Society in this circumstance." The court further distinguished the Hawaiian Humane Society as the "legal" owners but not the "actual" owners. This court's decision was not only unreasonable but also antithetical to the meaning and function of restitution.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in support of HB 235 as it relates to restitution for crime victims. On behalf of the Hawaiian Humane Society, I ask for your support in passing this measure.

Comments: This is absolutely necessary to protect animal control from the devastating expenses resulting from having to care for abused animals. Not making these offenders pay means they are really getting away with this sadistic crime. An extreme example is the recent puppy mill case where the Hawaiian Humane Society was not allowed reimbursement. This in itself is a crime. PASS THESE AMENDMENTS! Ginger Towle - President - WHHS

To the members of the House,

The Hawaiian Humane Society and other animal welfare organizations in Oahu take care of animal issues and cases that no one else wants to deal with. I was extremely disappointed in the judgment against the Hawaiian Humane Society in the recent case versus David Becker and the Waimanalo puppy mill case. They provided monetary resources, time, care, and attention that no one else was willing to provide—all for free. If it were not for volunteers, more than 36 of the puppies that survived would not be living. It cannot be asked of veterinary professionals to constantly work for free and an animal welfare organization to run solely on the kindness of others because that is not how reality is.

Not only do animals hurt, but organizations that do good for animal welfare hurt. They are unable to reach as many animals as they would like to due to drained resources. Nothing is free these days, and an organization like HHS that does so much good for Oahu cannot survive to carry out its mission and give proper care and attention to abandoned animals.

It is my sincere hope that the definition of “victim” or “victims” will be broadened to include humane societies and other animal welfare organizations that may be involved in animal cruelty cases.

Thanks for your attention,

Jessica Seid

Comments: I support this bill because I believe that the animal welfare groups that work so hard to protect animals from cruelty need to be given restitution for their work as they are also victims in cruelty cases. For example, in the recent Waimanalo Puppy Mill case, the judge refused to order Becker to pay restitution to the Hawaiian Humane Society who is the charity group that cared for the rescued 250 animals and paid hundreds of thousands of dollars for their care with out any reimbursement. I support this bill because it would make these organizations qualified for restitution in cruelty cases.

Comments: Dear Chairs, Vice Chairs, and Committee members, I ask for your support in passing this bill, which is so important as a matter of principle and reality in restoring justice. It is imperative for the courts to hold the guilty accountable for their actions. Duly incorporated humane societies should not be a financial crutch for these criminal violations. Thank you for the opportunity to testify in support of HB235. Sincerely, Keoni Vaughn

Comments: I support the Victim Restitution Bill. I am very disappointed that the Humane Society did not receive justice for the Waimanalo Puppy Mill Case. The February 2011 seizure greatly impacted the organization. Many volunteers and staff put in hundreds of hours to care for the animals that would have otherwise been living a nightmare. The Humane Society has to care for hundreds of animals on a daily basis so to take responsibility for over 153 more dogs put the HHS in the position of one of the many victims of the abuse inflicted by the Lukes and David Becker. If the Humane Society steps forward for another puppy mill rescue or hoarding situation, it's crucial that the law requires HHS to be paid restitution for the care involved.

Comments: This bill will provide more fairness to those who intervene to protect animals. The cost of such a rescue should be borne by those who put the animals at risk, not by an organization whose efforts save the animals. This measure will allow rescue organizations to use their funding more effectively.

Comments: The Waimanalo puppy mill case is still one of the most disgusting cases. People must be accountable for their crimes. Helpless and voiceless animals were mistreated! Look into the eyes of a dog (or cat)...you will see that they understand, they love, they learn, they are better than most people! Jail time AND stiffer penalties are needed to care for our beloved animals!
