RE: HB 719 HD1 RELATING TO EDUCATION

Chair Luke, Vice Chair Nishimoto, Vice Chair Johanson, and Members of the Committee on Finance

My name is Donald Young. I am currently Dean of the College of Education at the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa. I have formerly served as Director of the Hawai'i Educational Policy Center (HEPC). Today I am providing personal testimony not, in my official capacity as Dean, or representing the University of Hawai'i.

I strongly support funding for HEPC. As a former director, as well as a long-term director of the College of Education's Curriculum Research & Development Group, I found that the existence of an objective, data-driven voice in the development of educational laws and policies to be very helpful.

It is often difficult to impossible for those working within our largest educational institutions to step back and spend time looking at their programs with objectivity and knowledge of what may be occurring throughout the country. HEPC offers us this perspective and opportunity.

HEPC has been a respected partner with the Hawai'i Department of Education, the University of Hawai'i, and the larger educational community in providing needed research, policy analysis, and reports on high priority topics.

Currently, the new Director and his new Senior Advisory Group have been working to enhance and expand the capacity of the Center to serve decision makers. HEPC needs your support and resources to carry out its mission.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony.

RE: HB 719 HD 1RELATING TO EDUCATION

POSITION: HEPC supports this bill to build HEPC's capacity to serve Hawaii's decision makers.

COMMENTS:

The appropriation contained will help HEPC respond to the research and policy priorities of our DOE, BOE, UH, general education issues, and priorities of the Legislature. One option would be to include this funding for UH/HEPC in the Budget document, perhaps as a proviso. HEPC is open to earmarking some of the efforts of HEPC to conduct research or provide a report on specific issues of interest to the Legislature.

Purpose and Mission

The purpose of the Hawaii Educational Policy Center (HEPC) is to provide objective, data-based information in the form of policy briefs, reports, articles, and forums bearing on public and private education policy and practices at all levels. The target audiences for HEPC publications and events are educators, policymakers, and other education stakeholders in the State of Hawaii.

HEPC conducts, sponsors, commissions, and/or coordinates analytical studies that inform policy discussions. Examples of issues that are addressed include:

- Performance-based assessments
- Teacher Resignations
- State financial support for public education
- Declining enrollments at the University of Hawai'i
- Implementing health education standards
- Readiness of children to succeed in school
- Feasibility of establishing a K-16 student data system

- Middle-level education in Hawai'i
- Characteristics of upper division dropouts at UH Manoa

The HEPC provides the infrastructure to support data-based decision-making and uses data sources such as the U.S. Census, National Center for Educational Statistics, Public Welfare, and the Hawai'i State Department of Education.

HEPC recognizes that the Hawaii Department of Education and the University of Hawaii are among the largest public institutions in our State. Understanding the issues and policy challenges of the DOE and UH are of importance to decision makers, researchers, and stakeholders throughout the community.

HEPC is requesting capacity funding of $150,000 per year, which will allow HEPC to ramp up its ability to retain expert research and staff to assist policy makers in Hawaii. Currently, HEPC is benefitting from some capacity support through the UH College of Education. However, this is not sustainable in the long run, and is not enough to add staff.

HEPC has produced reports requested by the Legislature in the past and looks forward to exploring opportunities to be of service in the near future.

Members of the HEPC Senior Advisory Group are the following:

HEPC Senior Advisory Group

Kathleen Berg, Director, Curriculum Research & Development Group

Terance Bigalke, Director, East West Center Education Program, East West Center

Susan Chandler, Director, College of Social Sciences Public Policy Center, University of Hawaii at Manoa
