TESTIFIER(S): David M. Louie, Attorney General, or Caron Inagaki, Deputy Attorney General

Chairs Espero and Dela Cruz and Members of the Committees:

The Department of the Attorney General supports this bill.

This bill provides the State and the counties with immunity from liability for injury or damage to persons or property arising out of hazardous recreational activities.

Because of the dangers inherent in the hazardous activities set forth in this bill, injuries and accidents are inevitable and the State and counties will continually be open to lawsuits. Unlimited liability against the State or counties may lead to prohibitions on what type of activities people can engage in, or the State or counties may be forced to permanently close off and prevent access to the public to these recreational areas because there is no way for the State or counties to eliminate all risk of injury. Moreover, members of the public will likely continue to access the area regardless of whether the area is closed off.

This bill limits the State's unfettered liability for injuries and accidents that it cannot control or prevent and relies on those engaging in these activities to exercise personal responsibility and to assume the risk of what they know to be an inherently dangerous activity.

This bill does not absolve the State or counties of any and all liability regardless of actions by the State or the counties or its employees. The State and counties could still be liable for injury or damage for its own negligent, reckless, or grossly negligent acts.

We request this bill be passed.

In consideration of
SENATE BILL 1285
RELATING TO TORT LIABILITY

Senate Bill 1285 proposes to add new sections to Chapter 46, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), and Chapter 662, HRS, to grant limited county liability and limited state liability, and amend the definition of "Recreational purpose" within Section 520-2 HRS, which grants liability protection for owners of private land. The Department of Land and Natural Resources (Department) supports this measure.

The measure specifies that no state or county employee shall be liable to any person who participates in a hazardous recreational activity, including any person who assists the participant, or any spectator who knew or reasonably should have known that the activity created a substantial risk of injury to the spectator; for any injury or damage to persons or property arising out of the hazardous recreational activity. Injuries or damages include: an act of the participant, negligence of the participant, equipment failure despite reasonable care and maintenance, airborne projectiles which are an inherent risk of the activity undertaken, adverse weather conditions, the inability of the participant, a pre-existing health condition, or training undertaken by the participant.

The measure does not seek to limit liability that would otherwise exist for the county or state for failure to guard or warn of a known dangerous condition; where permission to participate was granted for a fee specific to the hazardous activity; for negligent failure of the county or state to properly construct or maintain structures or equipment used in the activity; or recklessness or gross negligence.

Among the activities specified are surfing, spelunking, all-terrain driving, rock climbing, and zip line riding.

There has been an increasing trend in public recreation throughout the United States and Hawaii to pursue what may be determined to be hazardous recreational activities, many of which require special skills, equipment and specific geologic features with unique qualities. In addition, in the case of rock climbing, the advent of indoor climbing gyms and mobile climbing walls, where the recreationalists can practice on engineered walls in a secure environment with ancillary safety equipment, has led to an increased desire to then test skills in an exterior, unmanaged environment subject to variation and additional exposure to environmental hazards. Due to the Internet, the proliferation of information on these activities and the method by which the public gains information on climbing opportunities located in remote unmanaged areas to practice these skills is rapidly increasing.

The Department recognizes that not all of the sports listed in this measure apply to Hawaii-based recreation (such as cross country skiing or white water rafting) and understands that this is legislation that has been approved in California.

The Department notes that there is a typographical error on pages 6, 11 and 12 in the use and spelling of the word “racketeering” in place of “rocketeering” which involves the amateur recreational use of rockets.

As the Department has jurisdiction of approximately 1.3 million acres of land as well as ocean areas, and cannot be knowledgeable of all possible statewide locations under use, regulating or managing all hazardous recreational activity is untenable. However, as many of these activities have been occurring for decades in various locations and with a growing degree of participation, rather than attempt to regulate or prohibit and subsequently enforce against the activity, providing government with liability relief is a prudent measure.

The Department recommends passage of Senate Bill 1285.

Dear Chair Espero, Chair Dela Cruz, and Committee Members:

Subject: Senate Bill 1285, Relating to Tort Liability

The City and County of Honolulu strongly supports S.B. 1285 which provides limited tort immunity to the State and counties for any injury or damage sustained by any person while conducting hazardous recreational activities on government lands.

The City and County of Honolulu supports the need for legislation to limit State and county tort liability for certain hazardous recreational activities occurring on government property. We are supportive of legislation which would permit governmental entities to accommodate the needs of the public who desire to participate in hazardous recreational activities, however, we believe governmental entities should not be liable to any person who participates in a hazardous recreational activity, or for any damage or injury to persons or property arising out of the hazardous recreational activity.

Persons participating in hazardous recreational activities, such as, but without limitation, skydiving, hang gliding, mountain bicycling, and rock climbing, are subject to substantial risk of injury to themselves as well as to spectators. There are certain inherent risks associated with hazardous recreational activities.

The Honorable Will Espero, Chair, and Members of the Committee on Public Safety,
Intergovernmental and Military Affairs
The Honorable Donovan M. Dela Cruz, Chair, and Members of the Committee on Economic Development,

Due to the inherent risks involved in the hazardous recreational activity, the burden for any injury or damage should not be imposed upon the taxpayers, but should be assumed by persons who knowingly participate in the hazardous recreational activity.

The City and County of Honolulu is experiencing a rising number of requests for recreational facilities to accommodate hazardous recreational activities, including off-roading, rock climbing, parkour, and archery activities, on county property. Further, recreational facilities are not available to allow participation in the hazardous recreational activity, the public is availing itself of county lands to conduct these activities. Therefore, the City and County of Honolulu requests that the State and the counties be granted immunity for injuries or death arising out of hazardous recreational activities given the inherent risks involved in hazardous recreational activities, which should be assumed by the participant.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide our comments on this bill.

Very truly yours,

SENATE BILL 1285, "RELATING TO TORT LIABILITY"
POSITION: SUPPORT

To: The Honorable Donovan M. Dela Cruz, Chair and Members of the Committee on Economic Development, Government Operations &
Housing

The Honorable Will Espero, Chair and Members of the Committee on Public Safety, Intergovernmental and Military Affairs

The Department of Parks and Recreation supports the proposed Senate Bill 1285, "Relating to Tort Liability", which proposes to grant immunity to state and county agencies and employees from liability for injury or damage to persons or property arising out of hazardous recreational activities. This bill also specifies the recreational activities giving rise to injury or damage from which private landowners are granted only limited liability under current law.

City parks are designed and purposed to provide a safe environment for public recreation activities. These activities, which include picnics, exercise and various sports, generally have a minimum risk to public safety. As such, the City should not be held liable for any injuries or damages resulting from those who choose to engage in any hazardous recreational activities.

TESTIMONY OF ROBERT TOYOFUKU ON BEHALF OF THE HAWAII ASSOCIATION FOR JUSTICE (HAJ) IN OPPOSITION TO S.B. NO. 1285

DATE: Thursday, February 14, 2013

TIME: 2:45 pm

To: Chairmen Will Espero and Donovan Dela Cruz; and Members of the Senate
Committees on Public Safety, Intergovernmental & Military Affairs; and Economic Development, Government Operations & Housing:

My name is Bob Toyofuku and I am presenting this testimony on behalf of the Hawaii Association for Justice (HAJ) in OPPOSITION to S.B. No. 1285, relating to Tort Liability.

The purpose of this measure is to grant immunity to the state and counties in connection with recreational activities deemed "hazardous" under the bill. HAJ opposes this measure because it will be in conflict with numerous existing statutory provisions regarding government responsibility in connection with various recreational activities, is overly broad and establishes poor public policy.

Rock climbers in particular have sought sweeping immunity for government because certain government lands have been placed off-limits to them. First, there is good reason for government to exercise caution in permitting rock climbing in Hawaii. Recent incidents involving extremely serious injuries, such as brain damage, apparently have caused the State to restrict rock climbing activities on state lands. The basic problem appears to be related to the geologic nature of Hawaii's rock formations that are more brittle and therefore less safe for rock climbing activities than can be found in many parts of the mainland. This makes rock climbing more hazardous in Hawaii because it increases the likelihood and severity of injuries.

Second, Rock climbers propose that the simple answer is to give government immunity so rock climbers alone will be responsible for the injuries they sustain. It is not that simple. First, rock climbers will never be solely responsible for the risks they create and government will never be relieved of the consequences of their risk taking. When there is a serious injury, government rescue personnel will have to be activated to respond and rescue these people. Because the nature of rock climbing involves hazardous locations, rescue personnel will be placed at extra risk. They will be in steep rocky areas where rescuers risk falling; the rock climbing technique of driving safety pins into the rock causes brittle rocks to become unstable and loose creating a hazard that rocks may break loose under rescuers or fall on them during rescue missions; they will be off trails making extrication hazardous and perhaps requiring helicopter assistance.

Are rock climbers going to be responsible for the injuries or death to those who must come to their rescue when accidents happen? Are they going to pay for the costs of rescue which can easily run into the tens of thousands of dollars, especially if helicopter transport is required? Of course not, there is currently no obligation for those who engage in ultrahazardous activities to pay for the cost of their rescue. And even if there was, are any of them capable of paying? Not likely.

Third, rock climbers who are seriously injured are not going to be responsible for the cost of their care and support. Although they say that they alone are assuming the risks of their daredevil endeavors the reality is that everyone else will pay for their injuries. Major leg or arm fractures requiring surgery, hospitalization and rehabilitation can easily cost $100,000 or more. Brain damage or spinal injuries resulting in paralysis can exceed $20 million for medical, rehab and lifetime care. Do these rock climbers have sufficient funds or are they likely to turn to government assistance? Immunity doesn't remove government's responsibility for the financial consequences in these situations; it just shifts the monetary burden from one agency to others.

What is the social cost to society? Apparently, one of the incidents that caused the State to restrict rock climbing involved brain damage to a young girl when brittle rock broke loose and fell on her head. Injuries, like these, have a severe long term impact on the community as a whole, not just the individual. It is bad public policy for the State to encourage these activities on public lands given the financial, societal, and individual consequences.

Rock climbers apparently have a national organization that is able to assist with insurance programs that may relieve government of at least part of the financial burden that will result from injuries. That alternative should be explored.

The financial and public policy considerations here are far more serious and complex than the proponents of this measure disclose. There is no simple answer. The financial implications to government revenues for rescue, Medicaid and welfare costs related to serious injuries is staggering, and the impact of catastrophic injuries like brain damage and paralysis to the individual and community makes hasty legislation like this imprudent. If the Legislature deems rock climbing on public property a sufficiently important activity there should be a comprehensive study of the activity so the full impact of the legislation and consideration of all relevant factors can result in sensible and focused laws consistent with the overall scheme of Hawaii's current statutes relating to recreational activities on government lands and beaches.

There are currently laws related to many of the recreational activities addressed in this measure. This measure conflicts with many of them.

For these reasons, HAJ opposes this measure and asks that this bill be held.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this measure. Please feel free to contact me should there be any questions.

RE: Access Fund Testimony in Support of SB 1285

Dear PDL/EGH Committee Members,

I, R.D. Pascoe, Policy Director for the Access Fund, am writing in support of Senate Bill 1285. The Access Fund is the only national advocacy organization whose mission keeps climbing areas open and conserves the climbing environment. A 501(c)3 non-profit supporting and representing over 2.3 million climbers nationwide in all forms of climbing—rock climbing, ice climbing, mountaineering, and bouldering—Access Fund is the largest US climbing organization with over 11,000 members and affiliates. We currently hold memorandums of understanding with the Bureau of Land Management, National Park Service, and Forest Service to help define rules for how climbing will be managed on federal land.¹ The Access Fund works with public land managers and local climbers across the country to develop and implement management strategies to alleviate concerns over liability and resource conservation. Many of our members regularly climb in Hawaii. For more information about the Access Fund, visit www.accessfund.org.

TESTIMONY

Last year rock climbing was banned on all lands managed by the Hawaii Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) after a young girl was injured while participating in a rock climbing class at a cliff known as Mokuleia. In fact, all access to Mokuleia was restricted after the accident out of fear of liability. Despite numerous attempts by the local climbing community and the Access Fund to provide alternatives to banning climbing completely, including offering assistance with grant funding, climbing management and securing additional liability insurance, DLNR refuses to lift the climbing ban until legislation providing some level of immunity is enacted.

Liability associated with allowing potentially hazardous recreational activities, such as rock climbing, kayaking, mountain biking, etc. can be a concern for public land managers across the country. Major federal agencies such as the Bureau of Land Management, United States Forest Service, and the National Park Service typically allow potentially hazardous recreational activities and have the resources to defend suites brought by recreationalists hurt while recreating on public lands. However, some states, cities, and small municipalities lack the resource to feel comfortable allowing rock climbing (or other recreational activities that involve some level of inherent risk) without a strong recreational use statute or similar legislation. Several states specifically include rock climbing in their recreational use statute which typically provides protection for public and private land owners for injuries considered inherent to the recreational activity. Almost every state has a recreational use statute and these statutes are typically written as a nonexclusive list. Colorado, Tennessee, Alabama, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, New Hampshire, and Wisconsin specifically list rock climbing in their recreational use statute.

Senate Bill 1285 is modeled after portions of California Tort Claims Act (Gov. Code, §§ 810 - 996.6) and provides the State and Counties with limited immunity only against suits arising out of the inherent risks associated with participating in potentially hazardous recreation. SB 1285 adds detailed language to SECTION 1, Chapter 46 (County Organization and Administration) and SECTION 2, Chapter 662 (State Tort Liability Act) of Hawaii Revised Statutes. SB 1285 also adds specific hazardous recreational activities to the definition of "recreation purpose" in SECTION 3, Section 520-2 (Landowner Liability) of Hawaii Revised Statutes.

One clerical point is necessary, SB 1285's list of hazardous recreational activities includes the term "racketeering." This is apparently a typo or clerical error and the term in the California Tort Claims Act that was likely copied improperly was "rocketeering." "Rocketeering" in the California Tort Claims Act refers to the recreational activity of launching model rockets. SB 1285 should be amended to change the term "racketeering" to "rocketeering," or simply eliminated if "rocketeering" is not an activity taking place on Hawaii public lands.

Notwithstanding the misused term, SB 1285 provides the State and Counties with limited immunity against suits based on the inherent risks associated with a hazardous recreational activity, but does not limit liability for the State or Counties for: 1) failure to warn of known dangerous conditions not reasonably assumed by the participant of the hazardous recreational activity; 2) if a fee is charged for specifically participating in the hazardous recreational activity; 3) injury or damage suffered caused by the negligent failure of the state agency or employee of the State to properly construct or maintain in good repair any structure, recreational equipment or machinery, or substantial work or improvement utilized in the hazardous recreational activity out of which the injury or damage arose; 4) injury or damage suffered in any case where the state agency or employee of the State recklessly or with gross negligence promoted the participation in or observance of a hazardous recreational activity; and, 5) an act of gross negligence by a state agency or employee of the State that is the proximate cause of the injury or damage.

Ultimately, SB 1285 does not change the State or Counties current duties, it simply clarifies the types of injuries that are not reasonable for the State or Counties to protect against while providing a means for reducing the cost of defense, which can be substantial.

Please feel free to utilize the Access Fund as a resource as SB 1285 moves forward.

Best Regards,

R.D. Pascoe

This bill is important to allow access to those of us who participate in climbing, bouldering, canyoneering, etc. These are outstanding pioneer markets for eco-tourism and a great low impact way to add value to our natural resources. There are climbers and outdoor enthusiasts all over the world who would support our natural resources if they were allowed to enjoy them.

Additionally, there is a strong history of climbing in Hawaiian culture. The phrase "Kau i uka o Nihoa" or "climbing the cliffs of Nihoa" has long been a term for overcoming adversity. Climbing the cliffs of Nihoa was also one of the trials faced by practitioners of Lua, the Hawaiian fighting art. Climbing on Lanai, climbing author John Long found an altar placed on the top of a spire which was so hard he couldn't climb it, yet Hawaiians had free soloed it carrying enough rock to build the altar!

Climbing has a rich history in Hawaii and we, the climbing community would like to continue that tradition.

My name is Duc Ong. I am a high school math teacher at Kaiser High School. As a resident tax-payer and employee of the state, I would like to make the following statement.

As advocates for all forms of outdoor recreation, Oahu's 500+ climbers are writing to put full support behind legislation recently brought to you by the DLNR that would waive State liability for recreational activities on State land, including rock climbing, mountaineering, bouldering, and rappelling. Such legislation is needed because despite virtually no injuries in the 22 years residents and visitors have climbed at Mokuleia and other areas on Oahu, a single injury in June of 2012 has motivated the DLNR to essentially ban all climbing, impose harsh financial and criminal penalties, and confiscate community-owned safety equipment that had been donated and in-place at our climbing areas for community use.

I hope very much to see this bill pass in the next session so that I can resume climbing, which to us is as important as surfing is to surfers. I wish to extend our full support to help get this legislation passed. Over 1,000 people have already signed a petition requesting that the DLNR reopen the area and I believe I can generate even greater support in favor of these bills. I am fully in support of a specific limit on liability for rock climbing in Hawaii, something that would be consistent with how 45 other States approach this recreational activity.

While I await the passage of this legislation, I would also encourage you to request that the DLNR immediately reopen Mokuleia and other popular climbing sites located in the mountains above and accessed through Kaena State Park. The Access Fund, a national rock climbing advocacy group, has offered to enter into a management agreement for these climbing sites with the DLNR that would provide some liability insurance coverage for the DLNR while I work out the legislative issues. The goal of this offer is to allow the areas to be re-opened immediately while the climbing community and the DLNR work out a viable and long-term plan. So far, the DLNR has been unwilling to even discuss this possibility with us, but I would hope you could convince them to do so.

Furthermore, instead of banning climbing outright, I seek your support in convincing the DLNR to remove the monetary and criminal penalties for climbing. I feel that the warning signs at the bottom of the trail informing hikers and climbers of the dangers of possible rock fall are sufficient to absolve the State from liability similar to DLNR's use of Chapter 82 in placing warning signage in other State locales. It makes no sense that the State would criminalize outdoor adventurers because they enjoy the natural environment. It is our understanding that current rules regarding the provision to recreational users with fair warning are sufficient.

While climbing is not entirely risk-free, climbing is at least as safe as other State-approved outdoor activities such as surfing, kiteboarding, or paragliding. Indeed, our climbing areas have been voluntarily maintained and I have self-imposed safety measures not seen in any other climbing area in the world. Certainly, minor accidents do happen, yet when compared to the accidental death and injury rate occurring in the oceans almost daily, there is no significant threat from rock climbing in Hawaii. Hawaii does have the second highest drowning rate in the nation and yet the beaches remain open to water activities. It is unclear why a different approach would be taken with a far less dangerous activity in the mountains. Imagine the uproar of the surfing community if the State closed Sunset Beach and Pipeline - Oahu's climbers feel no less passionately about access to Mokuleia and our other Northshore climbing sites. The unilateral closure of all of our Oahu climbing sites has been devastating to our climbing community.

I understand I live in a litigious world where everyone is afraid of lawsuits. However, I also live in a world where people seek to explore, push their physical limits, and live outside the boundaries of personal safety. The State's solution should not be to close public lands to public access because of a fear of liability or injury. The laws and policies in Hawaii should be framed in such a way that assumed risk is clearly emphasized and the State's job ought to be to ensure the basic maintenance of our public trails and park systems.

Since the early 1990s, Oahu's climbing community has carefully stewarded our few climbing sites, emplaced world-renown safety measures at these sites, coordinated with the local fire department and external experts on review of our safety measures, and coordinated with DLNR regarding our activities while seeking approval. Climbers in Hawaii and around the world are an avid and dedicated community – it is as much a lifestyle as it is a sport. To be in the mountains and to climb is more than a physical exercise - it is a spiritual awakening to the flow of mind and body. To be deprived of access does direct and personal harm to those of us who depend upon climbing to free our minds and bodies amid the wonder that is our natural world.

I urge you to pass the legislation, direct DLNR to open climbing again with the insurance policy offered by the Access Fund, and also to invite climbers to play a role in developing management plans for recreational use.

Sincerely,

Duc Ong

Comments: Note: this is a resubmission of an earlier testimony attempt . I strongly support SB 1285 in its effort to limit the state's liability from accidents related to outdoor recreation. As an avid rock climber and practicing physician, I am familiar both with climbing's health benefits and potential for injury. While there certainly is risk associated with the sport, willing participants mitigate it through the use of helmets and other safety devices as well as standardized procedures followed before, during and after a climb. In recognition of these facts, almost every other state has laws which limit liability incurred as a result of climbing accidents. The two main climbing areas on Oahu have excellent safety records due to participants' diligence and maintenance of the crags by the local climbing community. Indeed, Mokuleia and Makapuu are arguably better maintained than comparable crags I've climbed in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming. Rather than limit access to these areas, Hawaii residents should be able to enjoy climbing with liability protection comparable to that employed elsewhere. While risk cannot be eliminated altogether, bills such as SB1285 outline a reasonable balance between freedom to enjoy the outdoors and personal responsibility for one's actions in a dynamic, potentially dangerous environment.

I am writing as a long-term climber and avid hiker who had climbed from one to four times a month at Mokuleia for the last two years, until its closure. The state's actions directly impact my life and well being in Hawaii. Up until last summer, climbing had been a central component of my life here on Oahu, being my primary source of weekend enjoyment and exercise. The climbing community on Oahu has deeply enriched my experience here, as do all the hikes into the mountains that are possible. As a result, I am deeply affected by the closures and write to express how important it is that the area remain open for climbing and that any future rules protect access to the climbing and hiking trails on the Islands. In fact, I believe this should be an opportunity for the state to more fully support its trail systems, which are a part of the eco-tourism that many come to Hawaii to experience and that are enjoyed by those of us who live here.

As a climber, I understand that rock climbing is overall a safe sport, and that like all outdoor activities, there are inherent risks involved as well. A respect for nature, and understanding and use of proper gear and protection equipment help to mitigate those risks. Please take the time to look nationally, or internationally at the rates of injuries, you will see that there are few if any lawsuits by climbers regarding injuries suffered while climbing. Furthermore, the state of Hawaii sent a geologist to examine the Mokuleia rock climbing area in the year 2000 and subsequently gave its approval that the area was safe for public use.

I believe that closing the area was an overreaction and a mistake.

Given how important climbing as a sport and lifestyle is to me, I am deeply disappointed with the way the state has chosen to react to this incident. I request that the following be done.

First, open all climbing at Ka'ena Point back up to climbers as soon as possible. The state has been provided with adequate documentation from local climbers (and the Access Fund) regarding the management of climbing sites across the nation. By following these models, a long-term, sustainable solution is easily obtainable.

Second, pass legislation that will provide liability protection for the county and state, and allow access to public lands for those seeking recreational use (climbing, hiking, etc.). HB 550 has a hearing scheduled for Friday, February 1, and two other bills, HB625 and HB586 will serve to provide comprehensive liability. There are several senate bills (Senate Bills 1007, 1008, 1167, 1168, 1285, and 1286) that need to be heard as well. I urge you to do whatever is necessary to insure that these bills are not only heard in the Senate, but kept alive, and made into law.

Climbers around the world are an avid and dedicated community – it is as much a lifestyle as it is a sport. To be in the mountains and to climb is more than a physical exercise, it is the opportunity to engage in a community and lifestyle that is larger than one person. To be deprived of access does me direct and personal harm. The members of this community are strongly motivated to secure access to and provide stewardship for the lands we use.

As a community, our hearts ache for the little girl who was injured at Mokuleia. Closing access to us all is not the appropriate response. Please rescind the closure and engage the climbing community in a planning process that can enhance yet another type of activity that will draw people to the Islands instead of imposing more restrictive measures that make life all the less enjoyable. Please do not keep this invaluable natural resource from being safely enjoyed by the climbers of Oahu for generations to come.

Comments: SUPPORT SB1285 I'm writing in support of SB1285. This bill is an important step to ensuring public access to public lands for recreational use and for protecting the State from unnecessary and unjust litigation. As an avid outdoor enthusiast, rock climber, and concerned citizen I'm appalled our State government has not yet acted on such measures to protect our access to the great outdoors and protect us as taxpayers from unethical litigation. We are the people and we deserve access to our public lands without fear of prosecution or litigation. The State is not responsible for protecting its people from every known danger. Restricting access to trails and mountains in an attempt to protect us from all potential and natural threats is asinine. Moreover, the State is incapable of doing so. This bill is an important step to protecting our access to public lands for recreational use and protecting us as citizens from unrighteous litigation. Mahalo, ~ Kevin Nesnow

I am an active resident of the state of Hawaii and I understand that the outdoor activities, such as rock climbing and slacklining, I engage in carry with them certain risks. Because of this, I take proper precautions before, say, hanging from a rope on a possibly unstable rock face. I know that I am responsible for my own safety, as well as any undesired consequences of these actions and therefore do not hold the state accountable for me. I also recognize, though, the desire to immunize the state from the expenses of accidents on public lands. The willing engagement of any person in activities that may pose a safety risk is cannot be the responsibility of the state. What can be expected is the continued posting of warning signs, aired safety messages, and the support of emergency services like the fire department. Outside of ensuring our residents and visitors are informed, the state should bear no burden liability.

I, Dr. Tamara Wong, STRONGLY SUPPORT SB1285 because this bill provides comprehensive liability coverage for rock climbing in Hawai'i. Limiting liability is key to protecting tax dollars from lawsuits. In Hawai'i, we are provided with unique and priceless resources for interacting with nature and enhancing our quality of life. I feel that SB1285 makes significant steps towards protecting access to these resources.

I believe that certain Hawaii state recreational laws are outdated; to my knowledge, 45 states allow rock climbing on state-owned land. The majority of experienced climbers take responsible measures to limit risk and protect themselves to international standards. As a group, we strive to be respectful of environmental and cultural resources.

Mahalo for your kokua and consideration.

I am writing in support of SB1285. The state has felt compelled to close many locations that locals and tourists alike have enjoyed for years due to concerns for public safety and liability. I feel that this vastly limits the people's right to enjoy the natural beauty and treasures of our islands. I understand that safety is of utmost concern and feel that adequate signage clearly warning the public of the specific dangers of an area should be considered sufficient to promote safety and reduce the state's liability. If an individual then chooses to pursue an activity in that particular area that could result in bodily harm, then the state should not be held liable for the consequences of that individual's own choices. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Comments: To whom it may concern: I am happy to see that the State of Hawaii has decided to reconsider its decision to close its lovely climbing areas. Measures like SB1285 have successfully passed in a number of states with no detrimental effects to landowning private citizens and states. Please consider passing liability reform, reopening Hawaii's climbing areas by eliminating landowner liability. Climbing, because it appears dangerous to lay citizens, has historically been regulated in unreasonable ways across the country. However, climbing rarely results in serious injury/death. Further, it has almost no negative environmental impact and climbers, in general, are mindful to conserve the surrounding natural habitat. Climbing, as a sport, is wonderful for families, as it offers a challenge unique to each climber. Reopening climbing areas through legislative reform promises to make this sport available to Hawaiian citizens and tourists alike. I am a climbing physician from Kentucky. I schedule my vacations to include climbing excursions. I'm far more likely to visit your beautiful state should these climbing areas be reopened and expanded. Thank you for your time.

Comments: Climbing is an inherently dangerous sport, all of those taking part in this sport outdoors should be knowledgeable about safety and aware of the risks inherent to this sport - accepting the danger that comes along with it. This aspect of climbing is similar to many other popular outdoors activities not limited to surfing and other water sports popular in the region. We become responsible for our own safety when taking part in these activities and by doing so we enable ourselves to interact with the environment and enjoy nature in ways that few others can. A big reason many people, myself included, want to visit Hawaii is to celebrate our love of the outdoors. Hawaii has so much more to offer than big waves and beautiful beaches. I've always intended on visiting Hawaii with my boyfriend, a former resident of the state, and a big part of our plan was based on visiting many of his former favorite climbing spots.

Comments: Literally the only reason I have considered going to Hawaii is for the climbing. I'm not a beach guy, but great weather and climbing mean that my girlfriend and I have been actively saving for a trip. That money will be going elsewhere if climbing is banned. The state shouldn't be liable for climbers -- as a community, by and large, this is understood. We're stewards of the areas we climb in and of the reputations and well being of those who support us. Please keep (or, re-make) climbing legal in Hawaii. It's important.

RE: SB 1285

Dear Committee on Water and Land,

As an avid hiker and rock climber, I support the passage of SB 1285. This legislation will help reduce the states liability pertaining to injuries sustained on state land. The passage of the legislation will help assure that trails and hikes do not get shut down because of liability concerns.

As a hiker and climber, I understand that we assume risk for our welfare when engaging in hazardous recreational activity. Hiking and climbing is a way of life for many living here on Oahu. We have unfortunately seen many trails and areas closed unnecessarily because of liability concerns, and it is in best interest of everyone to pass SB 1285.

I urge you to pass this legislation to make the state safer from overly litigious residents and visitors who should understand that they assume risk for their personal safety when leaving the confines of their homes.

Comments: I support this bill. I would like to see legislation passed that would define and limit the State's liability for injuries and accidents that occur from hiking, climbing and other similar activities. Having this legislation in place would protect the State from lawsuits and would remove the need to close down trails as an only means of protection. I used to live on Oahu, and as a hiker and rock climber, I knew the risks and responsibilities I had any time I entered the mountains. I have now moved off-island and must admit that as much as I would love to visit Hawaii again, I hesitate to spend my vacation dollars here if I cannot even enjoy the beautiful mountains as I used to. The hiking and climbing community has grown enormously over the past few years, and will only continue to grow. It is only common sense to have this legislation in place to limit the State's liabilities, instead of closing everything down. Please pass this legislation.

Dear Senators:

I am writing to ask you to support SB1285, in particular, as it relates to limiting State liability related to rock climbing. Last year, Governor Abercrombie's administration closed the world-class Mokuleia rock climbing area near my home on the North Shore of Oahu due to liability concerns and it is my understanding that climbing would be permitted at Mokuleia if this bill is passed into law. My husband is a big wave towsurfer who has lived on the North Shore for over 30 years. Reopening of the Mokuleia climbing area is very important to me because it was, until its closure, my primary social, recreational and physical activity. Please advocate for passage of this bill into law to protect this most important component of our health and way of life.

It is my understanding that the only resistance to this liability protection stems from lawyers (such as those represented by the Hawaii Association for Justice (HAJ)) who hope to at some future date accumulate billable hours filing a suit against the State on behalf of a client who would, in my opinion, be filing a frivolous law suit for an injury they sustained rock climbing. I implore you to rule in favor of the many, whose lives are significantly and adversely affected by the Governor's closure of the Mokuleia climbing area, and in favor the State, which should be protected from liability (as other states are) by a reasonable law such as this one.

Subject: SB1285

Dear Committee Members,

As an avid rock climber and outdoor adventurer, I am writing this letter in STRONG SUPPORT of the passage of SB1285, which limits liability for state and country employees for rock climbing, mountaineering, bouldering, and rappelling on state lands.

Such legislation is needed because despite virtually no injuries in the 22 years residents and visitors have climbed at Mokuleia and other areas on Oahu, a single injury in June of 2012 has led the DLNR to ban all climbing on the North Shore, impose harsh financial and criminal penalties, and confiscate community- owned safety equipment that had been donated and in-place at our climbing areas for community use. As a climber, I understand that we assume risk for our welfare when engaging in hazardous recreational activity. Across the nation, rock climbers rarely if ever sue for injuries sustained by rock climbing or mountaineering. However, given that not all people who try rock climbing are avid climbers, I also recognize the state's need to explicitly limit liability. Thus, I am in full support of this legislation and the DLNR's efforts to avoid unnecessary regulation of unencumbered state lands.

While climbing is not risk-free, climbing is at least as safe as other State-approved outdoor activities such as surfing, kiteboarding, or paragliding. Indeed, our climbing areas have been voluntarily maintained and we have self-imposed safety measures not seen in any other climbing area in the world. Certainly, accidents do happen, yet when compared to the accidental death and injury rate occurring in the oceans almost daily, there is no significant threat from rock climbing in Hawaii. Hawaii has the second highest drowning rate in the nation and yet the beaches remain open to water activities. It is unclear why a different approach would be taken with a far less dangerous activity in the mountains. Imagine the uproar of the surfing community if the State closed Sunset Beach and Pipeline - Oahu's climbers feel no less passionately about access to Mokuleia and our other Northshore climbing sites. The unilateral closure of all of our Oahu climbing sites has been devastating to our climbing community.

Since the early 1990s, Oahu's climbing community has carefully stewarded our few climbing sites, emplaced world-renown safety measures at these sites, coordinated with the local fire department and external experts on review of our safety measures, and coordinated with DLNR regarding our activities while seeking approval. Climbers in Hawaii and around the world are an avid and dedicated community - it is as much a lifestyle as it is a sport. To be in the mountains and to climb is more than a physical exercise - it is a spiritual awakening to the flow of mind and body. To be deprived of access does direct and personal harm to those of us who depend upon climbing to free our minds and bodies amid the wonder that is our natural world.

I urge you to pass this legislation, along with the other bills introduced to achieve these goals and make the state safer from overly litigious residents and visitors who should understand that they assume risk for their personal safety when leaving the confines of their homes.

Sincerely,

Sayar Kuchenski

Regarding: Hearing for SB 1285 on Hazardous Recreation at 2:45 PM on 2/14/13 in room 224

From: Michael Bishop, individual citizen, testifying in SUPPORT of SB 1285

Co-Chairs Espero and Dela Cruz, thank you for this opportunity to testify in strong SUPPORT of Senate Bill 1285 regarding hazardous recreation liability. As an avid waterman and outdoor recreationist, I believe that we urgently need to update and clarify our state laws relating to recreation liability. The current legal climate, which has been engendered and preserved by Consumer Lawyers Hawaii, allows too much uncertainty to persist in our laws; the state is open to too many lawsuits for conduct that people need to accept personal responsibility for. Many of these lawsuits are frivolous, but the costs of defense against these suits can still be a substantial waste of taxpayer funds. In addition, the threat of these lawsuits has led to the total shutdown of all rock climbing activities on state lands.

Last summer, a girl was injured while on a guided trip to a climbing area in Mokuleia. The very next day, DLNR unilaterally closed the area (which was accessed through Ka'ena Point State Park) with no discussion, no community input, and no consideration of other options. Subsequently, the DLNR closed all climbing areas on state-managed land, and the Department of Hawaiian Homelands closed down a climbing area on their land. Since then, members of the climbing community, including myself, have worked tirelessly to find a solution which will allow the climbing community to regain access to these areas. However, all of our efforts have been stymied by the specter of landowner liability litigation.

This bill will simply clarify that participants in hazardous recreation are accepting that there is inherent risk involved in these activities. It is not an attempt at blanket immunity for the State, as there are exceptions for failure to warn, gross negligence, or situations where a fee is charged for land use. SB 1285 will simply make it much harder for consumer lawyers to bring frivolous suits against the state. Fears of such lawsuits have resulted in the closure of all of the developed rock climbing areas on the island of Oahu, as well as numerous hiking trails throughout the islands. Passing this bill will assuage the fears of the DLNR and return access to a number of highly treasured natural resources to the people of Hawaii.

We live in a culture which permits, tolerates, and often even glorifies a wide range of recreational activities, many of which are inherently dangerous. We treasure our big wave surfers, yet we allow them to accept the risks associated with their actions. We would never dream of telling them that a given day is too big to paddle out; or a particular reef is too shallow, too sharp, or too dangerous to surf. Instead, we have established the appropriate legal statutes (such as acts 82, 170, and 190) to protect the state, and the taxpayers, from any claims resulting from such recreation.

Hiking mountain trails and rock climbing, in its various forms, have both continued to become incredibly popular here in Hawaii. We should treasure these hikers and climbers as incredible athletes as well. Instead, out of fear of litigation, our state DLNR has systematically closed down public hiking and climbing areas. Oversight of all the possible locations for these activities isn't even remotely possible – the only feasible option is to allow climbers to take responsibility for their own inherently risky actions, just as big wave surfers do. This bill will provide the climbing community with the same reasonable opportunities for recreation that surfers currently have.

I am asking you to protect me; not by protecting my right to sue, but by protecting my right to use public lands. Please pass Senate Bill 1285, as it is the most straightforward way to allow the DLNR to return access to deeply treasured natural resources to the public and prevent future area closures. Times have changed since the recreational use statutes in Hawaii were created, and they desperately need to be bolstered to keep up with the types of outdoor activities which are rapidly proliferating in Hawaii. Please take this step towards allowing recreational users to enjoy the mountains of Hawaii as well as the oceans. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Michael Bishop

RE: SB1285

Dear Committee Members,

As an avid rock climber and outdoor adventurer, I am writing this letter in support of the passage of SB1285, which limits liability of hazardous recreational activity to the state of Hawaii.

People have different interests, and for those people that chose to stay at home this bill will do little but protect some of the money they have given to taxes. Others are very adventurous and will go out of their way to find their adrenaline fix. If one activity becomes unavailable, it's very likely they will pick up a new hobby that is just as dangerous. Whether they decide to design a human slingshot, hang from the trees, spelunk into caves, scurry over rocks, or glide through the air, that is their choice and they should assume all risk. This bill allows for these activities to continue without liability risk to the state and it's taxpayers.

Furthermore, there are many activities that are set up by individuals where the state has no control. It is impossible to oversee all activities, and it is not fair for the state to be held accountable for a person's actions or equipment failure. Also, social media is great for communication, however it also sparks ideas and pushes boundaries of risk. Many people choose to try activities based on videos they've seen and blogs written. Although many outstanding feats have been accomplished, injuries do occur, conditions change and once again, the state should not be liable.

I believe that it is important for outdoor enthusiasts to understand the risks nature present and not hold the state accountable for activities they choose to engage in. A trail that is maintained regularly may still fail. Rocks and dirt move as does the ocean. The state should not be responsible for paying out settlements to people that choose to venture outdoors. Our state just paid a 15.4 million dollar settlement to the families of two hikers that have died on a Kauai trail. Unfortunately this is not an isolated incident. The money that the state pays out eventually filters back to the taxpayers. I believe the lawyers group in opposition of amending chapter HB520 at the last session on January 28th, has a fair bit of interest in keeping it written as is due to monetary incentives. In a post published on Bostwick&Peterson, LLP it reads, "oftentimes warning and closures happen too late – after someone has been seriously injured or dies while hiking an unsafe trail. If you or a loved one has been injured – or if you have lost a loved one in a hiking accident - it is important to seek the advice of an experienced Hawaii personal injury attorney right away."

Such legislation is desperately needed. Despite virtually no injuries in the 22 years residents and visitors have climbed at Mokuleia and other areas on Oahu, a single injury in June of 2012 has led the DLNR to ban all climbing on the North Shore, impose harsh financial and criminal penalties, and confiscate community-owned safety equipment that had been donated and in-place at our climbing areas for community use. Michael Richardson, resident of Honolulu

As a registered voter, small business employer, and legal resident of Honolulu since 1995, I am urging strong support for SB1285. My perspective is that of an active recreational enthusiast passionate about hiking, mountain biking, and rock climbing in Hawaii's beautiful mountains. I am in support of SB1285 because it is my hope that sensible legislation like this bill will address concerns of DLNR over fear of liability that could occur as a result of someone getting injured while rock climbing or through some similarly hazardous recreational activity such as hiking, biking, or hunting on State lands. In 2012, DLNR closed all rock climbing areas on Oahu out of fear of liability. Besides my desire to be able to rock climb again on Oahu and share my love of this sport with friends and my two young sons, I am alarmed about the possibility of DLNR closing additional public trails or other recreation sites because our liability laws are not in alignment with modern times, are less progressive than most other States, and in fact have not been updated since 1969.

Concerning this Bill:

The right to engage in recreational pursuits needs protection. As I see it, the purpose of SB1285 partially addresses a great need to amend State of Hawaii laws and regulations concerning liability for those that engage in recreational activities on State and other public lands.

Before we begin, I would like to request that everyone to ask the following questions of themselves:

1. How many of you have in the past or do presently appreciate the opportunity to engage in activities including hiking, climbing, biking, paragliding, running, and hunting on public lands?
2. How would you feel if your recreational activity was singled out and identified as too dangerous and risky to allow because of fear of liability? How would you feel if you could no longer share your passion about your favorite sport with friends and family? Which sports will closed down next?

Concerning failed attempts on the part of certain Hawaii legislators to revise State laws affecting State liability on State and public lands each of the ten years between 2002 through and 2012:

1. Why is it that only trial attorneys representing the interests of the Hawaii Association of Justice (www.clh.org) (formerly the Consumer Lawyers Hawaii), oppose these measures?
2. Do trial attorneys in Hawaii oppose attempts to revise our State liability laws because they better understand the dangers of hazardous recreational activities than anyone else?

3. Do trial attorneys in Hawaii oppose attempts to revise our State liability laws because they are more concerned about public safety than anyone else?

4. Visitors and residents continue to be injured and killed while engaging in a variety of hazardous sports. Besides advocating that liability laws need to remain the same, what else is the Hawaii Association for Justice doing to protect residents and visitors from injuries and deaths?

Regarding the immunity granted to the State of Hawaii by Act 190 (in effect since 1996) for liability from ocean and beach related injuries and deaths:

1. Why did Hawaii enact Act 190, protecting itself from ocean and beach liability?

2. Is it because ocean activities and open beaches (as opposed to closed beaches) are so essential to Hawaii's tourism and tourism image?

3. Is it because the importance of unrestricted beach access and opportunity to enjoy ocean activities outweigh and are greater than the interests of Hawaii's trial attorneys?

4. Is it because ocean and beach activities are so closely tied to notions of past Hawaiian and present day Hawaii culture?

5. Does anyone believe that the opportunity to engage in and enjoy activities such as hiking, biking, paragliding, and ecosystem tourism in general are unimportant to Hawaii's tourism and the well-being of its residents?

6. Are activities such as hiking, biking, paragliding, and eco-tourism in general becoming in fact, increasingly important to Hawaii's tourism and tourism image?

7. Why, again, do we not have legislation similar to Act 190 to protect the State against liability for those that assume responsibility for engaging in non-ocean-related hazardous sports?

Pertaining specifically to SB1285, Hawaii has essentially no hazardous recreational use statute (except for Chapter 520 which only applies to private landowners and has remained unchanged since 1969). In comparison, approximately 16 States have fairly comprehensive recreational use statutes protecting their taxpayers from the excessive liability surrounding lawsuits involving hazardous recreational activities.

1. Is there something extra complicated or special about the situation in Hawaii that precludes us from passing similar legislation which would protect Hawaii's taxpayers and keep public areas open to the public?

2. Are the taxpayers and recreational enthusiasts of Hawaii being held hostage by the special interests of Hawaii's trial attorneys?

Consider the March 20, 2012, $15.4 million State settlement with the families of two women who tragically fell to their deaths in 2006 from the trail leading to Opaekaa Falls.

According to the 44 page findings on the case, the attorneys for the women's families provided compelling evidence that prior to the accident DLNR was apparently aware of the dangers at the site and could possibly have done more to warn the public of the dangers involved in visiting the falls. Conversely, we should ask ourselves to consider the following questions:

1. Can we think of better ways to have spent $15.4 million in the State of Hawaii? Could $15.4 million have benefitted for example, watershed protection, education, or simple maintenance and upkeep of park facilities and restrooms?
2. Is it possible for DLNR or other public agencies to protect from and warn the public of every possible danger that can be encountered on non-beach and ocean public lands?
3. Consider the vast number of hiking and related sports injuries, deaths, and rescues that occur with alarming frequency in Hawaii's mountains every month of every year. Are the existing laws preventing these incidents from occurring?
4. Even if it were financially and logistically feasible for DLNR to accomplish, would we want to see warning signs along the entire length of every trail, on every scenic overlook, and within every valley?
5. Where do we draw the line for assumption of risk to engage in hazardous recreational activities? For example, consider that hiking blogs as of February 2013 indicate that people are still hiking down to Opaekaa Falls. Is DLNR to monitor this site 24/7 to keep people from entering the area?
6. Lastly, to counter some of the arguments of Consumer Lawyers Hawaii in their opposition for sensible liability legislation:

-Many voluntary trails and recreational sites are not remote; indeed many voluntary trails are located within the boundaries of State parks and with Honolulu's urban core and they are constantly changing.

-In evaluating whether to ride an elevator or cross a highway bridge in one's car, one would need to be a structural and or mechanical engineer to properly assess their safety. Furthermore, we (the people) must rely on the safety of our everyday infrastructure and we often have no choice in the matter whether to use or not use this infrastructure. In deciding to hike down to a waterfall, it is a personal choice and not a requirement, and it does not require an engineering degree to gauge the safety of such an endeavor. Why would we require that DLNR be responsible for making that decision for us? What is the incentive for DLNR to keep any park or any public land open if they are also responsible for telling everyone what is safe and what is not?

In summary

I urge Hawaii's legislators to take action in 2013 and bring this hostage crisis to an end. There is no better time than now to say no to Hawaii's trial attorneys, and amend our State liability laws to protect Hawaii's taxpayers and the visitors and residents of Hawaii who require open trails and public places to engage in recreational pursuits. Hawaii's residents and visitors want to freely recreate, not freely sue the State of Hawaii.

I am an active, registered voter and I will carefully note and share information with my vast network of friends regarding those legislators that do and do not support SB1285 and related bills.

RE: SB1285, RELATING TO TORT LIABILITY

TESTIMONY OF SUPPORT

Dear Committee Chairs and Committee Members,

I, Robert M. Anderson, STRONGLY SUPPORT SB1285, which seeks to grant immunity to state and county agencies and employees from liability for injury or damage to persons or property arising out of hazardous recreational activities. The bill also specifies the recreational activities giving rise to injury or damage from which private landowners are granted only limited liability under current law. I humbly request its passing during this session of the Hawaii State Legislature.

I have been participating in outdoor activities in our great state of Hawaii for the entire 13 years I have lived here. I hike in our forests, swim in our oceans, and play in our parks on a regular basis, enjoying the wonderful environment and natural beauty of our islands. One of my favorite ways to spend an afternoon is rock climbing at the Mokuleia Crag in Kaena Point State Park. However, this joy and personal liberty has recently been taken away from me and many other outdoor enthusiasts with the closure of this area by the State Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR). It is also important to note that this closure not only affects rock climbers, but any and all user groups. So whether one would like to go hiking, rock climbing, paragliding, or pay homage to their ancient Hawaiian relatives anywhere mauka of Farrington Highway past the end of Dillingham Airfield, the iron fist of the DLNR states a resounding "NO!"

As I have always seen and understood it, the mission of the DLNR is to facilitate the safe and effective usage, as well as the good stewardship, of our treasured environmental resources. Their objective should NOT be to close areas, restrict access, and enforce hefty fines for violations of their unreasonable regulations. I understand that fear of liability is at the root of many of their recent actions, but many of these concerns could be alleviated if there were better liability protection legislation in place. Without comprehensive consideration and passage of liability legislation, the State and its agencies keep the doors open to the public for frivolous, lengthy, and often costly lawsuits. It is because the state legislature has failed to enact adequate protections for the DLNR and other state entities that the DLNR has been driven to such extreme closures and restrictions. I have rock climbed in dozens of other places from Colorado, Utah, and New Mexico, to New Hampshire and Oregon. I've ice climbed in Alaska and even Switzerland. All of these places have found a way to limit liability so that the people of that area can enjoy the natural environment around them. Why has Hawaii not? We have here in the islands an extensive list of liability protection for the State when it comes to waterborne activities, but not for those involving land. We never hear of the families of drowned surfers or divers suing the State for damages, but we annually pay millions of dollars from state coffers to lawsuits from injured hikers and park users. Just recently, we paid $15.4 million dollars for hiking deaths that occurred on Kauai. How much could we have done with $15.4 million to improve our parks, rather than to let it float through the cracks of faulty legislation, never to be seen again? And again, all these closures and wasted money happen simply because the legislature fails to act. This is an issue every single taxpayer and voter in Hawaii has a right to be furious about.

For many, the Mokuleia closure has also had extensive consequences greater than depravation of outdoor adventure. I have for nearly a decade worked with Climb Aloha, Hawaii's only rock climbing guiding service and retail shop. However, with climbing no longer permitted at the Pacific region's premier location, and gear no longer bought to do so, our business has drastically declined. I can now no longer support myself with my chosen career path, and have applied for public assistance from the State. I am only one of several employees affected in this manner. Furthermore, the business we lose is not just from local residents, but many tourists and visitors as well. I have spoken with several families and individuals who have chosen not to vacation in Hawaii solely because of restricted rock climbing access. The less people who patronize our business by buying gear and money we make, the smaller tax payment Climb Aloha will be making to the State at the end of the year. All of this compounds and translates to tens, if not hundreds, of thousands of dollars a year in lost income for the State of Hawaii. Lastly, if Climb Aloha is unable to safely teach people how to climb in an outdoor setting, who will fill our shoes? Sanctions or not, surely people WILL still rock climb in the state of Hawaii, and without a community self-policing our own safety, more accidents (and consequently lawsuits) will inevitably happen.

It is the hope of myself and the rest of the Hawaii climbing community that the passage of SB1285 will help lead to the reopening of the Mokuleia Crag for climbing access, and the rest of Kaena State Park to all recreational users. While SB1285 is not a magical “silver bullet” needed to solve all liability and climbing access concerns, we strongly believe it is a solid step in the right direction. By limiting liability for the State of Hawaii and closing some of the open doors for frivolous lawsuits from the public, state agencies should be able to relax and lessen some of their restrictions. This is could only be described as a win-win situation for both the State and outdoor enthusiasts. All this will lead to not only better land management practices, but more people being able to safely enjoy all the beautiful natural resources our state has to offer.

For these reasons, I STRONGLY SUPPORT SB1285, and urge its passing during this session of the Hawaii State Legislature. Thank you immensely for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Robert M Anderson

RE: SB 1285

In SUPPORT of its passage

I urge the passage of SB 1285 as an essential update to Hawaii Revised Code that will bring its hazardous recreational statutes into alignment with other states and protect the state against lawsuits resulting from contemporary recreational uses of state land.

This bill offers a way out of the deadlock created by opposition from the Consumer Lawyers of Hawaii over revisions to Section 520 that would limit liability for the state. For the last decade, the state has been unable to protect itself against lawsuits generated from the recreational use of public lands, resulting in the now infamous settlement for over $15 million last year for the death of a hiker on Kauai. It is clear that revisions are needed and yet since as early as 2003, DLNR efforts to pass limited liability for the state into Section 520 have been killed in the Judiciary Committee.

In part, Hawaii is behind the times in passing such legislation because it has been held hostage by the Consumer Lawyers of Hawaii, who have spoken out against this year in opposition to any changes to the status quo and have opposed every bill we have sought to champion as recreational advocates. The Consumer Lawyers of Hawaii have fallen prey to mission creep in that they have determined the state should be held liable for hazardous recreational use in the same way that companies who knowingly sell faulty products or businesses that negligently create unsafe conditions are held liable. However, it is essential to note that an individual who assumes the risk for hazardous activities on state land is not in the same category as someone who buys a faulty product or slips and falls in a grocery store.

The advantage of SB 1285 is that it uses the California hazardous recreational use statute to establish a clear understanding of liability and risk when engaged in outdoor activities. It pre-empts the concerns expressed by the Consumer Lawyers of Hawaii regarding inclusion of the state into Section 520 by clearly spelling out the standards of liability that will apply. These standards are reasonable and fair. SB 1285 acknowledges the types of recreational activities taking place on public lands and builds appropriate protection for those who engage in them while protecting the state from those who may be injured.

This bill is very clear about the balance between individual risk and state responsibility. It is clear that the state remains responsible for maintaining its parks and trails but that it cannot be held responsible for acts of nature – like falling rocks, or be held responsible if an individual places him or herself in danger, despite a reasonable effort to warn them of possible hazards.

More importantly, this bill strikes a balance between the desire of tourists and locals alike to enjoy the mountains and waters of Hawaii without creating the nanny state that the Consumer Lawyers of Hawaii believe we should have. If the Consumer Lawyers of Hawaii get their way, the state will be forced to begin closing all outdoor activities to the public for fear of on-going lawsuits. We should note that the majority of experienced outdoor enthusiasts understand the risks and do not sue, but that the threat of a lawsuit has sufficiently chilled the state so that it has banned climbing. Because of the inherent danger in swimming, kiteboarding, hiking, climbing, parasailing, in the world of the Consumer Lawyers of Hawaii, the state should be liable for every stupid thing tourists do that leads to their injuries or death. By contrast, most of those engaged in recreational use of state lands believe that if a person falls off the trail, it is not the state's fault and the state should not be forced into costly litigation.

Under this legislation, the state remains liable for negligence. However, this statute allows the state to manage its lands without the fear of constant litigation. The status quo burden of absolutely no protection from every misstep a tourist clearly out of their element has taken is not a tenable system and means that we all are punished through the closure of our treasured hikes and climbs for the actions of a few.

I have climbed for over 20 years in almost every state in the country and around the world. As one of hundreds of climbers on the Islands, I understand that I assume risk for my personal well-being and that of my climbing partners when I go climbing. If a rock hits me on the head, it is not the state's fault. If I fall off the trail, it is not the state's fault. However, this statute does not give the state blanket immunity, but instead would require the state to continue its maintenance and support of trails and its lands. The opposition, however, would like you to believe that the state should remain liable for every fallen rock, every misplaced step, and every big wave that overpowers an inexperienced surfer.

I am supporting this bill for all those who enjoy a little risk in their lives and the feeling of connecting to nature that occurs when we can go into the mountains or the ocean. I represent the voice of those who love the mountains, understand the risks, and willingly take to the trails to be in the wild. To be honest, the most dangerous part of every climbing trip is the drive to the trail.

Attached are two petitions that climbers generated when our access to the climbing areas was first closed. The numbers of signatures combined is over 1,500. This was the spontaneous support of people living in Hawaii and climbers around the country to our cause. However, I can guarantee we can generate far more support for this legislation if it is given a chance -- what is at stake here is access to state lands for all recreational activities.

We are under no illusion that the state will stop at closing climbing without sufficient protection from liability --hiking trails are already in jeopardy (two of my favorite hikes, Sacred Falls and Haiku Stairs are excellent examples) and who is to say that pig hunting would not be far behind? After all, they don't even stay on maintained trails and Climb Aloha climbers have gone out numerous times to rescue dogs off sheer ledges, putting their own lives at risk.

The slippery slope to restricting access to all outdoor areas has begun because the state fears liability for lawsuits, a direct consequence of what many of us believe are inappropriate lawsuits for what should have been assumed risks.

We can avoid this fate by passing this legislation.

I urge you to support this in committee but also to help this legislation through the entire process.

Sincerely,

Debora Halbert

Subject: Re-Open Access to Climbing at Mokuleia

Letter: Greetings,

I just signed the following petition addressed to: Hawaii Department of Land and Natural Resources.

Open Access to Climbing on Oahu

In June of 2012 the DLNR closed the most significant climbing area on Oahu in reaction to an accident. Given that Mokuleia is virtually the only climbing area of quality on the Island, is relied upon by local and visiting climbers alike, is maintained voluntarily and has had few accidents in its 20 year existence, the reaction of the DLNR is excessive and should be rescinded. We are asking that the DLNR restore access to Mokuleia to climbers. Climbers in turn seek to be involved in the rule making procedures that will ensure long term access to public lands for hiking and climbing well into the future.

Sincerely,

Signatures

Subject: Re-Open Access for Climbers to Climb on State Lands

Letter: Greetings,

Re-Open Access for Climbers to Climb on State Lands

As advocates for all forms of outdoor recreation, Oahu's 500+ climbers are writing to put full support behind legislation recently brought to you by the DLNR that would waive State liability for recreational activities on State land, including rock climbing, mountaineering, bouldering, and rappelling. Such legislation is needed because despite virtually no injuries in the 22 years residents and visitors have climbed at Mokuleia and other areas on Oahu, a single injury in June of 2012 has motivated the DLNR to essentially ban all climbing, impose harsh financial and criminal penalties, and confiscate community-owned safety equipment that had been donated and in-place at our climbing areas for community use.

We hope very much to see such legislation introduced in the next session so that we can resume climbing, which to us is as important as surfing is to surfers. We wish to extend our full support to help get this legislation passed. Over 1,000 people have already signed a petition requesting that the DLNR reopen the area and we believe we can generate even greater support in favor of these bills.

While we have not seen the text of the draft legislation, we have been apprised of its general themes. As we understand it, there are two measures. The first is a general change to the recreational use statute that would provide the state with a waiver for liability from injuries on State land. It was introduced as HB 2464 in the previous session, but did not make it out of the judiciary committee. The same is true for the Senate companion bill. The second is regarding Section 662 and is intended to specifically waive liability for rock climbing and associated sports. We are fully in support of a specific limit on liability for rock climbing in Hawaii, something that would be consistent with how 45 other States approach this recreational activity.

While we await the passage of this legislation, we would also encourage you to request that the DLNR immediately reopen Mokuleia and other popular climbing sites located in the mountains above and accessed through Kaena State Park. The Access Fund, a national rock climbing advocacy group, has offered to enter into a management agreement for these climbing sites with the DLNR that would provide some liability insurance coverage for the DLNR while we work out the legislative issues. The goal of this offer is to allow the areas to be re-opened immediately while the climbing community and the DLNR work out a viable and long-term plan. So far, the DLNR has been unwilling to even discuss this possibility with us, but we would hope you could convince them to do so.

Furthermore, instead of banning climbing outright, we seek your support in convincing the DLNR to remove the monetary and criminal penalties for climbing. We feel that the warning signs at the bottom of the trail informing hikers and climbers of the dangers of possible rock fall are sufficient to absolve the State from liability similar to DLNR's use of Chapter 82 in placing warning signage in other State locales. It makes no sense that the State would criminalize outdoor adventurers because they enjoy the natural environment. It is our understanding that current rules regarding the provision to recreational users with fair warning are sufficient.

While climbing is not entirely risk-free, climbing is at least as safe as other State-approved outdoor activities such as surfing, kiteboarding, or paragliding. Indeed, our climbing areas have been voluntarily maintained and we have self-imposed safety measures not seen in any other climbing area in the world. Certainly, minor accidents do happen, yet when compared to the accidental death and injury rate occurring in the oceans almost daily, there is no significant threat from rock climbing in Hawaii. Hawaii does have the second highest drowning rate in the nation and yet the beaches remain open to water activities. It is unclear why a different approach would be taken with a far less dangerous activity in the mountains. Imagine the uproar of the surfing community if the State closed Sunset Beach and Pipeline - Oahu's climbers feel no less passionately about access to Mokuleia and our other Northshore climbing sites. The unilateral closure of all of our Oahu climbing sites has been devastating to our climbing community.

We understand we live in a litigious world where everyone is afraid of lawsuits. However, we also live in a world where people seek to explore, push their physical limits, and live outside the boundaries of personal safety. The State's solution should not be to close public lands to public access because of a fear of liability or injury. The laws and policies in Hawaii should be framed in such a way that assumed risk is clearly emphasized and the State's job ought to be to ensure the basic maintenance of our public trails and park systems.

Since the early 1990s, Oahu's climbing community has carefully stewarded our few climbing sites, emplaced world-renown safety measures at these sites, coordinated with the local fire department and external experts on review of our safety measures, and coordinated with DLNR regarding our activities while seeking approval. Climbers in Hawaii and around the world are an avid and dedicated community – it is as much a lifestyle as it is a sport. To be in the mountains and to climb is more than a physical exercise - it is a spiritual awakening to the flow of mind and body. To be deprived of access does direct and personal harm to those of us who depend upon climbing to free our minds and bodies amid the wonder that is our natural world.

We urge you to introduce the legislation, direct DLNR to open climbing again with the insurance policy offered by the Access Fund, and also to invite climbers to play a role in developing management plans for recreational use.

We would like very much to meet with you to discuss these issues in more detail.

Sincerely,

The Oahu Climbing Community
