Comments: I support this effort. So many homeless have histories of neglect and abuse as children.. It may be best for their home state and families to be held accountable for their care. I also wonder if Hawaii might consider a program like the DREAM CENTER. It comes out of Los Angeles and is taking off in other states. It is christian based and run by volunteers. It takes in everyone needy and has programs to address specific needs. (people live there). it could be a solution to all Hawaii homeless and drug and alcohol and other recovery programs and also a place where recently released prisoners can live and work to prepare for living outside the center. Many pastors and even legislators and fellow citizens of Hawaii are interested in having a Dream Center here. (i have had conversations with them about it) Mahalo!
