Aloha, and Happy New Year!

As we begin 2012, I hope that you and your families are in good health and eager for opportunities that may come your way in the months ahead.

By the Asian lunar calendar, this is the Year of the Dragon. Traditionally, those born under this sign are hard working, unafraid of challenges, and ready to make decisions, with the input of others. As the Legislative session begins, we lawmakers could all benefit from these characteristic behaviors.

While the state is still facing some serious challenges, there appears to be some optimism that our economy is beginning at least a slow recovery. As stewards of the state budget, we are very much aware of the implications of every decision made at the Capitol. I can assure you that I take my responsibility as your Senator very seriously, that my decisions are made after listening to all sides of the issues, and that your participation in the process is very important to the success of my work.

I'll be at your Neighborhood Board and other community meetings, and always look forward to joining you in the many special events that celebrate our successes and strengthen our shared traditions. I welcome your calls and emails with comments and suggestions; my staff and I are ready to help with Dragon-like determination.

Me ke Aloha Pumehana,

Our community's loss : Irene Rosetta Elston—1914-2011

We all share a sense of loss with the sad news that Irene Elston – a former member of the Waipahu Neighborhood Board – passed away in late December at the age of 97. Irene and her husband, Bill, moved to Hawaii many years ago and managed property in Waipahu. From the early days of their time here, it was obvious that they were committed to assuring that their island home was a warm and welcoming place to live.

To say that Irene was a member of the Waipahu Neighborhood Board is to vastly understate her involvement in the community. In fact, the Neighborhood Commission Office records show that she was an elected Board member for 26 consecutive years, beginning in 1985. During that time, she also established and led the Waipahu Neighborhood Improvement Association and was active with the Waipahu Community Association. It is widely understood that Irene was instrumental in prodding the city to clean up and restore Pupuole Park to the benefit of the surrounding neighborhoods.

We are grateful for Irene Elston's dedicated hard work on behalf of Waipahu, and extend our condolences to her surviving son and grandchildren on the mainland.

In the 17th Senatorial District . . . The months between legislative sessions provide numerous opportunities to be away from my Capitol office and out in our communities. Here are some of the events I participated in since my last report:

Congratulations to Grand Champion Tevita Apina!

Waipahu celebrates the victory of 16-year-old Tevita Apina, Grand Champion in KZOO Radio's 31st Annual Karaoke Contest in late October. Tevita - who is of Tongan-Italian-Hispanic heritage - is Waipahu born-and-raised, and has studied the Japanese language since he was two years old. A self-taught super star, Tevita learned to dance and sing from watching KIKU TV and shows like "Okinawa Today." He performs using the stage name Hikariyama Torao. In the KZOO competition, he earned the most points from among 59 finalists in five divisions - and KZOO will be sending him off to Japan to perform in the Nippon Amateur Kaiosai Grand Prix competition in late May.

The Legislative Session Begins . . .

The 2012 Legislative session began this month, and will continue for 60 working days through the first week of May. But even between our formal working sessions, our work continued. The Ways and Means Committee, on which I serve as Vice Chair, has been reviewing executive budgets and programs – many jointly with the House of Representatives Finance Committee – since mid-November. Committee members have also been conducting site visits across the state to review construction work funded in prior sessions. My schedule included late-December stops at Mililani Mauka, Kipapa, Mililani Ike and Kanoelani Elementary Schools where a number of improvement projects are underway to create positive learning environments for our youngsters.

A two-year state budget was approved last year, and the 2012 session will provide an opportunity to review progress, and, as necessary, revise the budget with added funds or possible reductions in spending. Governor Abercrombie outlined his proposed supplemental spending plan in mid-December, but revisions are likely as the State Council on Revenues has warned that the slowly improving economy may not provide enough funds to cover all of our needs.

Mililani Welcomes Pakistani Exchange Student

I was pleased to host Ms. Sadaf Akhtar for a day at the Capitol earlier this month, and to introduce her to some of the Hawaii legislative process. Sadaf is spending the year at Mililani High School under the sponsorship of the American Council on International Education Youth Exchange and Study program.

While in Hawaii, Sadaf is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Schiller and family of Mililani. We are so grateful to this caring family for opening their doors to her and for sharing in this international exchange opportunity.
