
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO THE HAWAII RULES OF EVIDENCE.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The doctor-patient relationship is central to
2 the practice of medicine and is essential to the delivery of
3 high-quality health care in the diagnosis and treatment of 4 disease. This relationship is important to both parties. The
5 amount and quality of information about the patient's disease
6 will be better if the relationship is better in terms of mutual
7 respect, knowledge, trust, and shared values and perspectives
8 about disease and life.

9 A healthy doctor-patient relationship facilitates the 10 transfer of information in both directions, enhancing accuracy
11 of diagnosis and increasing the patient's knowledge about the 12 disease. Patients must have confidence in the competence of 13 their physicians and must feel that they can confide in their
14 physicians. Physicians must be able to reassure and comfort
15 their patients while remaining honest. A healthy relationship 16 ensures that doctors and patients can fulfill their roles and 17 meet the expectations of each other.

Medical apology laws are designed to encourage communication between patients and health care providers.

The purpose of this Act is to establish a new rule of evidence on the admissibility of medical apologies.

SECTION 2. Section 626-1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by adding a new rule to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

"Rule Evidence of admissions of unanticipated medical outcomes. Evidence of statements, affirmations, gestures, or conduct expressing apology, fault, sympathy, commiseration, condolence, compassion, or a general sense of benevolence that are made by a health care provider or an employee of a health care provider concerning the consequences of an unanticipated outcome of medical care that results in discomfort, pain, suffering, injury, or death is not admissible to prove liability for any claim growing out of the event."

SECTION 3. This Act does not affect rights and duties that matured, penalties that were incurred, and proceedings that were begun before its effective date.

SECTION 4. New statutory material is underscored.

1 SECTION 5. This Act shall take effect upon its approval.
