
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO MEDIATION AFFECTING JUDICIAL FORECLOSURE.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that Act 48, Session Laws
2 of Hawaii 2011, among other things established a mortgage 3 foreclosure dispute resolution program to require mortgagees, at 4 the mortgagor's election and prior to conducting a public sale
5 of the subject residential property, to participate in dispute 6 resolution to negotiate an agreement to avoid foreclosure or 7 mitigate damages in cases where foreclosure is unavoidable.
8 Application of the dispute resolution program is limited to 9 nonjudicial foreclosures conducted by power of sale.

10 Following the commencement of the dispute resolution
11 program, many mortgagees bypassed the program by instead 12 pursuing foreclosures in court. Consequently, the rate of 13 judicial foreclosures rose dramatically while the dispute
14 resolution program remained dormant. The principal reason
15 mortgagees cited for their refusal to use the nonjudicial
16 foreclosure process and, as a result, the dispute resolution 17 program, was the risk of incurring significant penalties under 18 section 667-60, Hawaii Revised Statutes, relating to unfair or

1 deceptive acts or practices, for any violation of the mortgage
2 foreclosure law. Mortgagees expressed concern about potentially 3 incurring penalties for minor violations of the mortgage
4 foreclosure law, such as missed deadlines or using the wrong
5 font sizes on printed materials. Hence, mortgagees largely 6 opted to pursue foreclosures under the supervision of a court.

7 In response to the mortgagees' concerns and to ensure the 8 availability of both the nonjudicial foreclosure process and the 9 dispute resolution program, Act 182, Session Laws of Hawaii
10 2012, among other things specified the categories of conduct 11 that expressly constitute an unfair or deceptive act or 12 practice, in an effort to narrow the application of this 13 provision in the foreclosures law. However, the legislature
14 finds that more action should be taken to make the dispute 15 resolution program available to all homeowners facing the 16 prospect of losing their homes to foreclosure, including 17 judicial foreclosures.

18 The purpose of this Act is to assist homeowners at risk of 19 foreclosure and expand the availability of mandatory mortgage 20 foreclosure dispute resolution by requiring mortgagees, at the 21 mortgagor's election, to participate in mediation to avoid 22 foreclosure or to mitigate damages from foreclosure prior to

1 filing a judicial foreclosure action for property that has been 2 the mortgagor's primary residence for a specified period. This 3 Act also applies to judicial foreclosure actions filed prior to 4 the effective date of this Act and pending an initial court
5 hearing. It is the intent of the legislature that nothing in 6 this Act be construed as affecting the dispute resolution
7 provisions for nonjudicial foreclosures, as provided in part V
8 of chapter 667, Hawaii Revised Statutes, as those provisions
9 existed on the day prior to the effective date of this Act.

10 SECTION 2. Section 667-1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 11 amended by amending the definitions of "owner-occupant" and 12 "serve" to read as follows:

13 "Owner-occupant" means a person, at the time that a notice
14 of default and intention to foreclose is served on the mortgagor
15 under the power of sale[+], or at the time a notice of dispute 16 resolution availability is served on the mortgagor pursuant to 17 section 667-75(b), as applicable:

18 (1) Who owns an interest in the residential property, and 19 the interest is encumbered by the mortgage being 20 foreclosed; and

21 (2) For whom the residential property is and has been the 22 person's primary residence for a continuous period of

1 not less than two hundred days immediately preceding
2 the date on which the notice is served.

3 "Serve", when referring to providing notice of intention to 4 foreclose or notice of default and intention to foreclose
5 pursuant to a nonjudicial foreclosure, or when referring to 6 providing notice of dispute resolution availability under 7 section 667-75(b), means to have service of the notice [~~of~~ 8 ~~default and intention to foreclose~~] made in accordance with the 9 service of process or the service of summons under the Hawaii
10 rules of civil procedure and under sections 634-35 and 634-36,
11 excluding however, any return or affidavit of service
12 obligations required therein."

13 SECTION 3. Section 667-60, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 14 amended by amending subsection (a) to read as follows:
