Re: H.B. No. 1702 H.D. 2 Relating to the Capital Infrastructure Tax Credit

The Department of Taxation (Department) strongly opposes section 4 of the H.B. 1702 H.D. 2, which would relax the conformity provisions with respect to Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 704. The Department also has concerns regarding its ability to administer and enforce the capital infrastructure tax credit as written.

H.B. No. 1702 H.D. 2, establishes a capital infrastructure tax credit for tenants who are displaced by the Kapalama container terminal project. It allows banks and other financial corporations, which are taxed under Chapter 241, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), to claim the capital infrastructure tax credit and allows allocations of the capital infrastructure tax credit to a partner under a partnership agreement, even if the allocation has no substantial economic effect. The measure would be effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2013, and expires for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2019. The measure currently has a defective effective date of July 1, 2030.

The Department strongly opposes this measure to the extent that it relaxes the requirement under section 235-2.45, HRS, which adopts IRC section 704, that all partnership allocations have substantial economic effect. Previously, relaxation of this requirement for purposes of allocations of the high technology business investment tax credit was adopted under Act 221, Session Laws of Hawaii 2001, and resulted in substantial abuse by taxpayers at an enormous cost to the State's taxpayers.

Because of the complexity of the credit and the tendency of eligible taxpayers to inflate their credit claim, the Department's past experience has shown that considerable resources and personnel are needed to validate a tax credit claim. Validation of the tax credit claim requires extensive review of voluminous and technical information. Disputes over the credit are not easily resolved and will often times involve lengthy appeals and litigation. The Department does not have sufficient personnel and expertise required to insure that claims for the credit are valid, thereby making administration and enforcement of this credit very difficult. The Department cannot support diversion of its limited resources to validate tax credits for which it has no expertise.

The purpose of IRC section 704 is to insure that tax consequences follow the economics of a transaction. IRC section 704 is premised on the concept that a partner will insure that his partnership interests follow his economic investment in that partnership, and as such, any tax consequences should also follow the economic interests. For example, if a partner has made an investment equal to ten percent of the total capital of the partnership, one would generally expect that partner to have a share of ten percent of the profits and losses of the partnership. It would also follow that such a partner would receive a share of ten percent of any tax credits generated by the partnership.

Whether a partnership has made a special allocation, and if so, whether it's effective for tax purposes, is ordinarily determined under the substantial economic effect test. An allocation has economic effect if it is consistent with the underlying economic arrangement of the members. Any special allocation which creates a benefit or burden for a partner must assign all ultimate economic responsibility for the allocation to the partner receiving the benefit or burden.

Generally, an allocation is substantial if there is a reasonable possibility that the allocation will affect substantially the dollar amounts to be received by the partners from the partnership independent of the tax consequences. An allocation is not substantial if at the time the allocation becomes part of the partnership agreement: (1) the after-tax economic consequences of at least one partner may be enhanced compared to such consequences if the allocation were not contained in the partnership agreement; and (2) there is a strong likelihood that the after-tax consequences of no partner will be substantially diminished, compared to such consequences if the allocation were not contained in the partnership agreements.

A court determines whether a transaction has substantial economic effect for purposes of IRC section 704(b) by considering whether "the allocation may actually affect the dollar amount of the partners' shares of the total partnership income or loss independently of tax consequences." Treas. Reg. section 1.704-1(b)(2). A court examining a transaction also looks to "whether the transaction had any practical economic effects other than the creation of income tax losses," Sochin v. Commissioner, 843 F.2d 351, 354 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 488 U.S. 824, 109 S.Ct. 72, 102 L.Ed.2d 49 (1988).

When the IRC section 704 substantial economic effect rules were relaxed for purposes of the high technology business investment tax credit, it allowed a taxpayer to invest $100 in a partnership and yet receive tax credits far in excess of that amount. Relaxation of IRC section 704 resulted in a number of credit generating entities being developed with no regards to whether the underlying venture had any business merit. The Department believes that the same situation may arise under this capital infrastructure tax credit, leading to substantial abuse.

If this measure becomes law, it would allow, for example, a bank that may have only $10 invested in a partnership, to claim 100% of the tax credits generated by such partnership. Prospective partners will be motivated not by whether or not they perceive the business in which they are investing in as having merit, but solely by the amount of tax credits and other benefits that they can expect to receive from such investments.

It should also be noted that several courts have agreed with the Internal Revenue Service in litigation involving partnership allocations of state tax credits where the allocations are not based on the partner's interest in the partnership, holding that such transactions should be reclassified as a sale of the tax credits by the partnership. This is because: (1) a partner would not have invested money in the partnership but for the transfer of the tax credits to the partner; and (2) the transfer of tax credits is not dependent on the entrepreneurial risks of partnership operations. See e.g. Virginia Historic Tax Credit Fund 2001 LP v. Commissioner, 639 F.3d 129 (4th Cir. 2011); Historic Boardwalk Hall, LLC, 694 F.3d 425 (3d Cir. 2012). There can be no assurance that the desired outcome will be achieved in this case using allocations which are not consistent with the partner's interest in the partnership.

Under H.D. 2, the credit is established at an unstated percentage of the "capital infrastructure costs" up to an unstated maximum, but fails to define what would constitute a "capital infrastructure cost". For example, would the costs associated with a new line of business be allowable? Is it limited to costs related to an existing line of business? Would it include costs only for fixed items or would such things as trucks or barges also qualify? The Department suggests that this term be specifically defined so that it is clear for the taxpayers and the Department which costs will qualify for the credit. In addition, the Department requests that the Committee clarify that the basis of any property which is also subject to the allowance for depreciation under IRC sections 167 and 168 must be reduced by the amount of any credit taken, as is the standard practice. To avoid disputes with taxpayers at a later date, the Department believes that this should be clearly set forth in the measure.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide comments.

SUBJECT: INCOME, Capital infrastructure tax credit

BILL NUMBER: HB 1702, HD-2

INTRODUCED BY: House Committee on Finance

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY: Allows a qualified infrastructure tenant displaced by the Kapalama terminal modernization project to claim a capital infrastructure tax credit of ___% of the capital infrastructure costs incurred by the taxpayer during the taxable year up to a maximum of $ _____ in capital infrastructure costs. The proposed tax credit will provide financial assistance to displaced tenants and result in a subsidy of state funds as there is no obvious undue burden of taxes.

Differences with SB 2322, SD-2: HB 1702, HD-2 makes the credit available to banks and other financial institutions. SB 2322, SD-2 contains tax credit recapture provisions.

BRIEF SUMMARY: Adds a new section to HRS chapter 235 to allow a qualified infrastructure tenant displaced by the Kapalama terminal modernization project to claim a capital infrastructure tax credit that shall be deductible from the taxpayer's net income tax liability for the taxable year in which the investment was made. Defines "qualified infrastructure tenant" as a business that: (1) currently owns capital or property or maintains an office, operations, or facilities at the former Kapalama military reservation site; (2) has principal business as ship repair, maritime, and waterfront dependent, and is included under the state's plan to relocate such business to piers twenty-four through twenty-eight within Honolulu harbor; and (3) will be displaced and relocated by the state pursuant to the Kapalama container terminal project.

The credit shall be ___% of the capital infrastructure costs incurred by the taxpayer during the taxable year up to a maximum of $ _____ in capital infrastructure costs in any taxable year. The credit allowed under this section shall be claimed against the net income tax liability for the taxable year. Credits in excess of a taxpayer's income tax liability may be used as a credit against the taxpayer's net income tax liability in subsequent years until exhausted.

The credit shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2019.

Adds a new section to HRS chapter 241 to provide that the capital infrastructure tax credit shall be operative for this chapter for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2013.

Amends HRS section 235-2.45(d) to provide that Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code (with respect to a partner's distributive share) shall be operative for purposes of this chapter; except that section 704(b)(2) shall not apply to allocations of the capital infrastructure tax credit.

Repeals this act on December 31, 2019 and HRS section 235-2.45 shall be reenacted in the form in which it read on the day before the effective date of this act.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2030; applicable to tax years beginning after December 31, 2013

STAFF COMMENTS: This measure proposes to provide financial assistance in the form of an income tax credit to tenants displaced by the Kapalama container terminal modernization project. These tenants had been holding revocable permits issued by the department of transportation. To carry out the modernization project, the department revoked the permits and is in the process of evicting the tenants. The department did offer an alternative location along the harbor, again on a revocable permit basis, but this new area reportedly has no infrastructure so the tenants will be forced to build it if they want to continue doing business at the harbor.

Tax credits generally are designed to reduce the tax burdens of certain groups by refunding a portion of taxes paid on purchases of essential items and services. The capital infrastructure tax credit proposed by this measure will provide financial assistance to displaced tenants, and it is, of course, arguable that financial assistance is justifiable given the circumstances. The fact remains, however, that this credit amounts to nothing more than a subsidy of state funds as there is no obvious undue burden of taxes. And as with any subsidy, this one needs to be paid for. Either government needs to shrink, or the cost of government must be borne by all other taxpayers who do not qualify for the subsidy.

RE: HOUSE BILL 1702, HD2 RELATING TO THE CAPITAL INFRASTRUCTURE TAX CREDIT

Chair Dela Cruz, Vice Chair Slom, and Members of the Committee:

The Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii ("The Chamber") supports HB 1702, HD1 Relating to the Capital Infrastructure Tax Credit.

The Chamber is the largest business organization in Hawaii, representing over 1,000 businesses. Approximately 80% of our members are small businesses with less than 20 employees. As the "Voice of Business" in Hawaii, the organization works on behalf of members and the entire business community to improve the state's economic climate and to foster positive action on issues of common concern.

The Chamber fully supports the bill's intent to provide aid to all tenants affected by the Kapalama container terminal project. These companies will have to invest tens of millions of dollars to move their companies and infrastructure. The aid offered in this bill does not only support tenants affected by the project, but also positively impacts maritime commerce in Hawaii.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify.

Comments: We are in FULL SUPPORT of HB1702 HD2. Pacific Shipyards International (PSI) has operated a commercial ship repair facility in Honolulu Harbor since 1920 and our tax revenues and 200+ high-paying jobs are important to Hawaii's economy, maritime community, and port security. Hawaii's marine industry needs and desires PSI's drydock facility in Honolulu Harbor, the state's only drydocks capable of servicing inter-island cargo fleets. PSI provides essential drydocking capability for Hawaii at large capital and operating costs. We have already spent millions in the last 3 years to maintain and upgrade our two floating drydocks and on relocation planning and consultants. PSI is being forced by the State to move out of Pier 41 and relocate to Piers 24/25. We are going from an existing shipyard with 45,000 sq. ft of building space to Piers 24/25 which are essentially "bare land" or empty piers that require full infrastructure build-out. PSI will be financially unsustainable when forced to move without some support. There are no replacement companies and Hawaii-based vessels will be forced to go to the mainland for drydocking, significantly increasing costs to Hawaii taxpayers. We agree that the Kapalama Container Terminal project is critical to modernizing its commercial harbors and that completion of KCT will assure that harbor infrastructure is adequate to support sustained economic growth. But we agree that supporting those tenants displaced by the Kapalama Container Terminal project supports the growth of commerce in the State and supports maritime jobs.
