Comments: Individuals with disabilities should have their rights written and given to them, as well as have an educated advocate. Usually physicians will perform treatments without getting an informed consent, where the consumer is told of various options. Most do not even know they do have options. Having a certified peer assisting them should be an option for treatment, which is a national practice that has proven results and assisted in the person's recovery. Please support HB1910!

Testimony in Strong Support of HB-1910

Dear Chair and Vice Chair:

Hawaii Community Pharmacists Association, (HCPA) writes to voice their strong support for House Bill 1910 which serves to protect the rights of disabled person's access to needed treatments and treatment modalities. The right to obtain treatment that a licensed physician recommends even if the treatment is off label, not approved or not legal for use or consumption by the general population can not be over stated. Hawaii's disabled population has the right to quality care and treatments available across the United States and this population should not be subjected to restricted access or other artificial, unnatural shortages or limited availability of supplies or medications created by agreements of exclusivity or contracts within the state. The geographic isolation of Hawaii places our disabled residents at a greater risk of access disruption in excess to similar residents on the mainland. For this reason HCPA supports the intent of HB-1910 to eliminate unnecessary artificial disruptions in care.

Sincerely,

Kevin Glick, R.Ph.

Chair, HCPA
