Re: S.B. No. 2322 S.D. 1, Relating to Capital Infrastructure Tax Credit

The Department of Taxation (Department) provides the following comments regarding S.B. 2322 S.D.1 for your consideration. The Department strongly opposes this measure to the extent that it would relax the rules under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) section 704.

S.B. 2322 S.D. 1 establishes a capital infrastructure tax credit for tenants who are displaced by the Kapalama container terminal project. It allows allocations of the capital infrastructure tax credit to a partner under a partnership agreement even if the allocation has no substantial economic effect, provides for a recapture of an unspecified percentage of the capital infrastructure tax credit if the qualified infrastructure tenant does not meet certain conditions at the close of any taxable year, and reestablishes the technology infrastructure renovation tax credit. The measure would be effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2013 and expires for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2019.

The Department strongly opposes this measure to the extent that it relaxes the requirement under section 235-2.45, HRS, which adopts IRC § 704, that all partnership allocations have substantial economic effect. Relaxation of this requirement for purposes of allocations of the high technology business investment tax credit under section 235-110.9, HRS, resulted in substantial abuse by taxpayers at an enormous cost to the Department in resources used, including substantial audit resources, to address the abuse.

The purpose of IRC § 704 is to insure that tax consequences follow the economics of a transaction. IRC § 704 is premised on the concept that a partner will insure that his partnership interests follow his economic investment in that partnership, and as such, any tax consequences should also follow the economic interests. For example, if a partner has made an investment equal to ten (10) percent of the total capital of the partnership, one would expect that partner to have a share of ten (10) percent of the profits and losses of the partnership. It would also follow that such a partner would receive a share of ten (10) percent of any tax credits generated by the partnership.

Whether a partnership has made a special allocation, and if so, whether it's effective for tax purposes, is ordinarily determined under the substantial economic effect test. An allocation has economic effect if it is consistent with the underlying economic arrangement of the members. Any special allocation which creates a benefit or burden for a partner must assign all ultimate economic responsibility for the allocation to the partner receiving the benefit or burden. Generally, an allocation is substantial if there is a reasonable possibility that the allocation will affect substantially the dollar amounts to be received by the partners from the partnership independent of the tax consequences. An allocation is not substantial if at the time the allocation becomes part of the partnership agreement, (1) the after-tax economic consequences of at least one partner may be enhanced compared to such consequences if the allocation were not contained in the partnership agreement and (2) there is a strong likelihood that the after-tax consequences of no partner will be substantially diminished compared to such consequences if the allocation were not contained in the partnership agreements.

When the IRC § 704 substantial economic effect rules were relaxed for purposes of the high technology business investment tax credit, it allowed a taxpayer to invest $100 in a partnership and yet receive tax credits far in excess of that amount. Relaxation of IRC § 704 resulted in a number of credit generating entities being developed with no regards to whether the underlying venture had any business merit. The Department believes that the same situation may arise under this capital infrastructure tax credit, leading to substantial abuse.

A court determines whether a transaction has substantial economic effect for purposes of IRC § 704(b) by considering whether "the allocation may actually affect the dollar amount of the partners' shares of the total partnership income or loss independently of tax consequences." Treas. Reg. 1.704-1(b)(2). A court examining a transaction also looks to "whether the transaction had any practical economic effects other than the creation of income tax losses," Sochin v. Commissioner, 843 F.2d 351, 354 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 488 U.S. 824, 109 S.Ct. 72, 102 L.Ed.2d 49 (1988).

Under House Draft 1, the credit is established at fifty percent of the "capital infrastructure costs" up to an unstated maximum but does not define what would constitute a "capital infrastructure cost". For example, would the costs associated with a new line of business be allowable? Is it limited to costs related to an existing line of business? Would it include costs only for fixed items or would such things as trucks also qualify? The Department suggests that this term be specifically defined so that it is clear for the taxpayers and the Department which costs will qualify for the credit. In addition, the Department requests that the Committee clarify whether or not the basis of any property which is also subject to the allowance for depreciation under IRC § 167 and § 168 must be reduced by the amount of any credit taken.

If this measure becomes law, it would allow, for example, an investor that may have only $10 invested in a partnership would be able to claim 100% of the tax credits generated by such partnership. Prospective partners will be motivated not by whether or not they perceive the business in which they are investing in as having merit, but solely by the amount of tax credits and other benefits that they can expect to receive from such investments.

S.D. 1 defines "capital infrastructure costs" as the same as "capital expenditures" as defined in IRC § 263 and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Generally speaking, IRC Section 263(a) generally requires the capitalization of amounts paid to acquire, produce, or improve tangible property. In contrast, IRC § 162 allows a deduction for all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying on any trade or business, including the costs of certain supplies, repairs, and maintenance. In issuing the regulations, the IRS noted that "the final regulations provide a general framework for distinguishing capital expenditures from supplies, repairs, maintenance, and other deductible business expenses. It is not clear, however, whether the intent is to include such items as moveable drydocks, trailers, or boats in the category of allowable expenditures subject to the credit, and the Department requests clarification of whether such property may be part of the base on which the credit is calculated, or whether it is intended to be limited to real property and fixtures made a part thereof.

In addition, the Department requests that the Committee clarify whether the basis of any property, which is also subject to the allowance for depreciation under IRC sections 167 and 168, must be reduced by the amount of any credit taken. As written, allowing a taxpayer to take both the tax credit envisioned by this measure and a depreciation deduction will provide taxpayers with a double tax benefit for the same expenses.

Finally, the Department notes that the recapture provision in the measure is unclear. It seems that recapture is required if any of the recapture provisions apply, but it is not clear how those provisions apply. For example, recapture is required if the "tenant no longer qualifies for the tax credit", but the events that would cause such disqualification is far from clear. For example, one of the conditions to be a "qualified infrastructure tenant" is that such tenant must own "capital or property or maintain an office, operations, or facilities at the former Kapalama military reservation site". However, as the credit spans over a period of five years, one would expect that at some point in time, such a tenant would not have "capital or property or maintain an office, operations, or facilities at the former Kapalama military reservation site". Should such failure then justify a recapture of the credit?

Thank you for the opportunity to provide comments.

RELATING TO THE CAPITAL INFRASTRUCTURE TAX CREDIT

Senate Committee on Ways and Means

The Department of Transportation (DOT) provides the following comments on this bill to create a capital infrastructure tax credit for tenants who are displaced by the Kapalama container terminal project. The development costs for the new container terminal is currently estimated at $450 million and will be financed entirely by the proceeds of harbors system revenue bonds with debt service costs paid by the Harbors Division.

The bill's stated purpose is to help tenants displaced by the container terminal project in raising capital to make improvements on state-owned property upon relocation. A qualified infrastructure tenant is one whose principal business is ship repair, maritime and waterfront dependent.

There is only one tenant who will meet this criteria. This tenant presently occupies state property under a month to month permit which can be cancelled upon thirty (30) days written notice by either party. The tenant has had several years of advance notice of the department's redevelopment plans. We defer to the committee's decision making authority as to whether this bill, in providing benefits to a single entity is in the public's best interests.

TAX FOUNDATION OF HAWAII

SUBJECT: INCOME, Capital infrastructure tax credit; reenact technology infrastructure renovation tax credit

BILL NUMBER: SB 2322, SD-1

INTRODUCED BY: Senate Committee on Economic Development, Governmental Operations and Housing

BRIEF SUMMARY: Adds a new section to HRS chapter 235 to allow a qualified infrastructure tenant displaced by the Kapalama terminal modernization project to claim a capital infrastructure tax credit that shall be deductible from the taxpayer's net income tax liability for the taxable year in which the investment was made. Defines "qualified infrastructure tenant" as a business that: (1) currently owns capital or property or maintains an office, operations, or facilities at the former Kapalama military reservation site; (2) has principal business as ship repair, maritime, and waterfront dependent, and is included under the state's plan to relocate such business to piers twenty-four through twenty-eight within Honolulu harbor; and (3) will be displaced and relocated by the state pursuant to the Kapalama container terminal project.

The credit shall be ___% of the capital infrastructure costs incurred by the taxpayer during the taxable year up to a maximum of $_____ in capital infrastructure costs in any taxable year. The credit allowed under this section shall be claimed against the net income tax liability for the taxable year. Credits in excess of a taxpayer's income tax liability may be used as a credit against the taxpayer's net income tax liability in subsequent years until exhausted. Delineates recapture provisions to recapture ___% of the tax credit claimed if the tenant does not meet certain conditions.

The credit shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2019.

Amends HRS section 235-2.45(d) to provide that Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code (with respect to a partner's distributive share) shall be operative for purposes of this chapter; except that section 704(b)(2) shall not apply to allocations of the capital infrastructure tax credit.

Amends HRS section 235-110.51 to reestablish the technology infrastructure renovation tax credit from January 1, 2014 to December 31, 2019.

EFFECTIVE DATE: 7/1/50; applicable to tax years beginning after December 31, 2013

STAFF COMMENTS: It appears that this measure proposes to provide financial assistance in the form of an income tax credit to tenants displaced by the Kapalama container terminal modernization project. Tax credits generally are designed to reduce the tax burdens of certain groups by refunding a portion of taxes paid on purchases of essential items and services. While the capital infrastructure tax credit proposed by this measure will provide financial assistance to displaced tenants, it amounts to nothing more than a subsidy of state funds as there is no obvious undue burden of taxes. It should be remembered that giving tax breaks to one select group of taxpayers comes at the expense of all other taxpayers who do not qualify for the credit.

Regarding the re-enactment of HRS section 235-110.51, the legislature by Act 221, SLH 2001, enacted a credit of 4% of the “high-technology” renovation costs incurred during the taxable year for a commercial building for costs incurred after December 31, 2000 but before January 1, 2006. Act 215, SLH 2004, extended the credit until December 31, 2010. This measure proposes to reestablish the technology infrastructure renovation tax credit that expired on December 31, 2010.

It is questionable whether sneaking this provision back into the statute books is permissible in this bill. This bill is titled, “Relating to the Capital Infrastructure Tax Credit” and revival of the technology infrastructure renovation tax credit seems to come out of left field.

Substantively, over the last decade, Hawaii has adopted various tax incentives to encourage the development of high-technology businesses in the state. The acts provided investment and research credits as well as income exclusions providing tax relief to high-tech businesses and individuals associated with high-tech businesses. While the focus on high-technology in the last few years is commendable, it fails to recognize that investments are made with the prospect that the venture will yield a profit. If the prospects for making a profit are absent, no amount of tax credits will attract investment from outside Hawaii’s capital short environment.

Comments: We are in FULL SUPPORT of SB2322. Pacific Shipyards International (PSI) has operated a commercial ship repair facility in Honolulu Harbor since 1920 and our tax revenues and 200+ high-paying jobs are important to Hawaii's economy, maritime community, and port security. Hawaii's marine industry needs and desires PSI's drydock facility in Honolulu Harbor, the state's only drydocks capable of servicing inter-island cargo fleets. PSI provides essential drydocking capability for Hawaii at large capital and operating costs. We have already spent millions in the last 3 years to maintain and upgrade our two floating drydocks and on relocation planning and consultants. PSI is being forced by the State to move out of Pier 41 and relocate to Piers 24/25. We are going from an existing shipyard with 45,000 sq. ft of building space to Piers 24/25 which are essentially "bare land" or empty piers that require full infrastructure build-out. PSI will be financially unsustainable when forced to move without some support. There are no replacement companies and Hawaii-based vessels will be forced to go to the mainland for drydocking, significantly increasing costs to Hawaii taxpayers. We agree that the Kapalama Container Terminal project is critical to modernizing its commercial harbors and that completion of KCT will assure that harbor infrastructure is adequate to support sustained economic growth. But we agree that supporting those tenants displaced by the Kapalama Container Terminal project supports the growth of commerce in the State and supports maritime jobs.

Chamber of Commerce HAWAII

Testimony to the Senate Committee on Ways and Means
Tuesday, February 25, 2014 at 9:00 A.M.
Conference Room 211, State Capitol

RE: SENATE BILL 2322, SD1 RELATING TO THE CAPITAL INFRASTRUCTURE TAX CREDIT

Chair Ige, Vice Chair Kidani, and Members of the Committee:

The Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii ("The Chamber") supports SB 2322, SD1 Relating to the Capital Infrastructure Tax Credit.

The Chamber is the largest business organization in Hawaii, representing over 1,000 businesses. Approximately 80% of our members are small businesses with less than 20 employees. As the "Voice of Business" in Hawaii, the organization works on behalf of members and the entire business community to improve the state's economic climate and to foster positive action on issues of common concern.

The Chamber fully supports the bill's intent to provide aid to all tenants affected by the Kapalama container terminal project. These companies will have to invest tens of millions of dollars to move their companies and infrastructure. The aid offered in this bill does not only support tenants affected by the project, but also positively impacts maritime commerce in Hawaii.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify.
