Application for Grants

I. Background and Summary

This section shall clearly and concisely summarize and highlight the contents of the request in such a way as to provide the State Legislature with a broad understanding of the request. Please include the following:

1. A brief description of the applicant's background;

The Filipino Community Center, Inc. ("Center") building project was initiated by the Filipino Chamber of Commerce in 1991, incorporated in 1992, and received its 501(c)(3) tax-exempt status in 1994. The mission statement of the Center is: to develop, own and operate a community center that (1) provides social, economic and education services and (2) to promote and perpetuate Filipino culture and customs in the State of Hawaii. The Center has a Board of Directors that is responsible for overall policy and direction of the Center. The Center has a Board of Governors which serves advisory group to the Board of Directors. The Executive Director is responsible for the operational, financial, and management of the Center and reports on a monthly basis to the Board of Directors on all aspects of the Center. The Center has a Programs Director and a Custodian of the Center.

2. The goals and objectives related to the request;

The overall goal of this request is to continue and expand the Center's community programming, specifically, the Smart Seniors Program. The Program focuses on the elderly population which provides three components. The 1st covers the health and wellness education and maintenance and provides the physical activity. The 2nd covers the technological skills development and provides the academic activity such as learning about computers, health, medical, and elderly matters. The 3rd covers the life skills enhancement teaching hobbies.

This initiative directly addresses the Center's mission of "nurturing and preserving the customs and culture of the Filipino community of Hawaii, as well as developing and providing educational, social, cultural, and economic services for the community." Throughout this initiative, the Center's staff will collaborate with community partners to plan, develop, and implement specific activities and projects within each component. Current partners include the UH Department of Ethnic Studies, UH office of Multicultural Student Services, Leeward Community College of Continuing Education Department, the Filipino-American Historical Society of Hawaii, the United Filipino Council of Hawaii, Banda Kawayan, and many more.

3. The public purpose and need to be served;

The primary purpose of the program is to provide services, information, skill building opportunities and, significantly, an interactive forum in which elderly persons from the community can increase their quality of life in a safe and supportive atmosphere. The premise guiding this initiative is that our elderly population requires up-to-date information and opportunities to maintain their health and wellness status and that they can continue to make important contributions to society and their communities by developing their individual technical and artistic capabilities. The Center will build upon its existing activities, facilities, and resources to function as a gathering place in which elderly can congregate, improve their health and wellness status, learn new skills and interact with each other. The overall goal for this initiative is community empowerment. Focusing on one facet of the community and assisting them to acquire technical and personal skills to improve the quality of life for themselves and their community. Their self-perception and the value to the community will be enhanced when they are positioned and able to meet the challenges of today's complex world. The need for knowledgeable leaders with technical expertise, organizational skills and access to resources remains critical for the Waipahu community. As social safety nets for non-citizens remain tenuous, naturalization for elderly immigrants continues to be a persistent challenge. This elderly population should be viewed as an untapped resource, rather than as a deficient one, for the larger community. They need to be engaged as individuals and as groups in the community. This initiative will provide the skill building opportunities for each individual to find their own engagement, and the Center will further function as a gathering place for elderly to meet and continue to grow as members of the community.

It has been long recognized that a well-educated population is a key ingredient for economic development and prosperity for the future. Education is even more essential in the "new economy," which is driven by global competition, high-technology industries and access to information. There are three elderly housing complexes in Waipahu and many residential care homes operating in the community. A larger percentage of the elderly population are immigrants, many of whom are non-U.S. citizens and, consequently, are often unable to access programs and services that are available only to U.S. citizens because of the ongoing changes in the U.S. immigration and welfare laws. As social safety nets for non-citizens remain tenuous, naturalization for elderly immigrants continues to be a persistent challenge. This elderly population should be viewed as an untapped resource, rather than as a deficient one, for the larger community. They need to be engaged as individuals and as groups in the community. This initiative will provide skill building opportunities for each individual to find their own engagement, and the Center will further function as a gathering place for elderly to meet and continue to grow as members of the community.

The Center was designed to provide a variety of services to help revitalize the economy of Waipahu. The Center continues to serve as a dynamic learning and service center providing services not only to Filipinos but to the entire multiethnic Waipahu community and statewide. The Center continues to fulfil its public purpose by providing direct services and facilities that support economic self-sufficiency, neighborhood revitalization, cultural heritage programming and preservation, education and health opportunities, and community development to low-income and immigrant communities.

There is a lack of group day services for senior citizens in the Waipahu area. Through this Smart Seniors Program, the Center has the space, coordination, instruction and materials to conduct a variety of cultural, educational, computer and movement activities for neighborhood citizens. Participants come as groups (e.g. from nursing care homes) or as individuals. Participating seniors sign up for activities that run each weekday throughout the morning hours. Activities include practical crafts, gardening, sewing, computer literacy, music, hula, line and ballroom dancing, Filipino dance, and tai chi.

Although the economy is rebuilding, many of those in Waipahu's community seek programs that support resiliency, e.g. good health, financial management and micro-entrepreneurship, and others. With expanding use of technology in daily life, there is an increased need for building or strengthening computer literacy and overall literacy.

4. Describe the target population to be served; and

The primary target populations to be served are (a) the residents of Waipahu, (b) the communities from other parts of Oahu, particularly leeward and central Oahu, and (c) the general public statewide interest in Filipino culture and history. With the demise of the plantations in the latter part of the twentieth century, the economic development of Waipahu has not kept pace with the majority of Honolulu.

The Center undertook the Smart Seniors Program in previous years. Continued feedback and inquiries into the return of the program by our patrons and our caregiver community are constant. The effectiveness of the past program amongst Waipahu's elderly population indicated that the seniors and the elderly want to be connected through self-improvement and learning opportunities, cultural and artistic experiences, and health and wellness activities. Continual changes in technology mandate the necessity to pass such changes to our senior and elderly population who do not have direct access to learn of the changes as well as the resulting benefit. 16% of Waipahu's population are elderly which consists of those individuals 65 and over. This percentage represents over 6,000 residents of the over 38,000 total residents. Several elderly housing complexes exist in Waipahu as well as the many residential care homes that operate in Waipahu.

The elderly population should continue to be viewed as a contribution force in society and are in need of the services that the program will directly provide. The Center will focus its program to ensure that these individuals who have previously contributed during their younger ages to recognize that they are not forgotten but rather incorporated within the community. Such incorporation will directly result in learned skills and knowledge to directly impact the community. With ever changing technology being utilized in day-to-day activities for those who comprehend such technology, this information must be shared with the seniors and elderly population. It must be shared with those individuals who may not have the direct resources and ability to obtain such information directly on their own. The program will facilitate this transference of information. Often we, as a society, take for granted the skills and comprehension of vast pool of resources and information easily available to us in today's world. Unfortunately, for our seniors and elderly, they were not able to easily transition to this technological change. By instructing each of the participants on the accessibility of the information and the direct sharing of this information on each of the program's objectives, the participants will obtain a plethora of skills and knowledge thus resulting in a Smart Senior.

5. Describe the geographic coverage.

Waipahu has a sizeable number of new as well as older immigrant residents and a high percentage of its population speaks a language other than English. As noted in the U.S. Census Bureau from 2009-2013, approximately 20% of adults over 25 have not received a high school diploma compared to only 10% of adults throughout Oahu. According to the U.S. Census in 2010, Waipahu's elderly population (those 65 and over) makes up 16%, or 6,038, of the 38,216 residents.

It has been long recognized that a well-educated population is a key ingredient for economic development and prosperity for the future. Education is even more essential in the "new economy," which is driven by global competition, high-technology industries and access to information. There are three elderly housing complexes in Waipahu and many residential care homes operating in the community. A large percentage of the elderly population are immigrants, many of whom are non-U.S. citizens and, consequently, are often unable to access programs and services that are available only to U.S. citizens because of the ongoing changes in the U.S. immigration and welfare laws.

Located in central Oahu, the Center is best apt to meet the community's specific need as it represents a significant percentage of the elderly population as compared to the entire Island of Oahu. The Center is able to utilize existing facilities and equipment to facilitate and improve the quality of life for our elderly population that have already contributed to Hawaii's growth during their more formidable years. Now aged and retired, the Center with the assistance of the community and government partners, can assist and "reimburse" this population for their past contributions to the State.

The Center was designed to provide a venue for the entire community which includes senior citizen and elderly services; children and youth services, family and counseling services, community-based micro-enterprise training and business incubation, immigration services and cultural events. The increased and continued engagement and involvement by this growing segment of the community is a priority. In Waipahu, many elderly are immigrants with low educational attainment and/or with low technological skills and resources. It is anticipated that an estimated 600 elderly individuals will derive direct benefit from this Smart Seniors Program as well as the community benefit.

II. Service Summary and Outcomes

The Service Summary shall include a detailed discussion of the applicant's approach to the request. The applicant shall clearly and concisely specify the results, outcomes, and measures of effectiveness from this request. The applicant shall:

Financial management instructional courses will directly result in the participant's ability to prepare their own taxes and obtain a more direct understanding of their finances including the ability to utilize the convenience of online banking transactions.

2. Provide a projected annual timeline for accomplishing the results or outcomes of the service;

The project would be implemented immediately with a projected start date of July 1, 2015. Five objectives would be used to guide the project. 3. Describe its quality assurance and evaluation plans for the request. Specify how the applicant plans to monitor, evaluate, and improve their results; and

In addition to monitoring the expenditure of funds consistent with grant guidelines, the Center is committed to evaluating its programs and activities. Evaluations are performed on an on-going basis by the coordinators and directors of the specific activity and submitted to the Executive Director for approval and review. Participant evaluations are provided on a monthly basis and submitted to the Director of Programs for approval and review. Both formative and summative evaluations are conducted internally as well as with externally paid consultants. Most evaluations include participant satisfaction surveys, participant recommendations for improvements, instructor surveys on participant responsiveness within activities, and external observer surveys. Evaluations shall be examined and implemented on an ongoing basis for subsequent class instruction.

The Center plans to continue to monitor the successful results of the program and to continue to seek funding from the City as the return on investment is self-evident with the newly enriched lives and continued involvement of our elderly population. As the Center continues to reach out to the community and the effects of the program become more prevalent, the Center hopes to bring other individuals, companies, and sponsors to the program beyond the grant period.

The effectiveness of the program conducted in 2009 by the Center proved very effective. The Smart Senior program had attracted Waipahu's elderly population which demonstrated the elderly's desire to be connected through self-improvement and learning opportunities, cultural and artistic experiences, and health and wellness activities. Informal asset-mapping of available community programs, feedback from senior citizens and the elderly in the community, and the review of general trends and specific statistics were combined to validate the need for this program. The Center continues to receive constant inquiries and clamor for the program's reinstatement from the elderly and caregiver population who have participated in the program previously or have heard from prior program attendees at various community gatherings.

4. List the measure(s) of effectiveness that will be reported to the State agency through which grant funds are appropriated (the expending agency). The measure(s) will provide a standard and objective way for the State to assess the program's achievement or accomplishment. Please note that if the level of appropriation differs from the amount included in this application that the measure(s) of effectiveness will need to be updated and transmitted to the expending agency.

Summary reports of all evaluations received from the participants, coordinators, and directors of the specific activity will be reported on a monthly basis to the State. Such reports will be indicative of participant responsiveness to the participant's enrolled activity. Participant evaluations will consider the following categories: (1) instructor knowledge, (2) instruction level, (3) venue and location suitability, (4) level of interaction with instructor, (5) level of interaction with other participants, (6) activity goals accomplished, and (7) length of activity. Detailed reports of participant enrollment, attendance, and completion of each activity will be included in the monthly reports. Financial expenditures will be compiled and reported each month.

Initial and continued monitoring of the participants will include participant evaluations that would measure degree of satisfaction and skills learned which can be monitored based on their actual dance and musical performances that each participant would be required to do. The participants' creation of crafts will be measured based on the salability of their items sold at the Center's various events. Each participant's craft making ability will be monitored and evaluated through interview and written evaluations to gauge the participant's increase in confidence and well-being. Computer literacy programs will be measured by the actual use by participants to perform online banking transactions as well as immediate usage of email. Participants will be instructed upon and actually perform the downloading of essential tax preparation software during courses. Random testing of the participants during the technology portion will determine the retention of the participant's knowledge. The Health and Wellness objective will incorporate the initial health screening and evaluation and will be monitored throughout the course of instruction to measure changes and outcomes. The physical activity portion will be measured and tracked for each participant. During the nutrition portion of the program, taste tests by the instructors as well as the classroom will measure the success of each participant.

Campaniano received his BA and MBA degrees from the University of Hawaii and his law degree from the University of San Francisco.

The Center's stakeholders have a network of professionals to assist in the educational and teaching aspects of the program. Several Board members and volunteers are associated with the University of Hawaii and its community colleges. The Center's facilities is well suited to carry on the objectives of the program by utilizing its various spaces including our Technology Center, office rooms, Courtyard, and ballroom.

The Center's vast network of organizational groups such as the Creations in Catering, United Filipino Community Council, Oahu Filipino Community Council, Nursing and Advocates Mentors, Inc., Honolulu Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Filipino Chamber of Commerce, and the Caregivers Association, are only a handful of the organizations devoted to the success of the Center.

The Center utilizes modest revenues from the rental of office space to tenants and rentals from the ballroom and conference rooms. After covering operating expenses and debt service, the Center can then provide the programs with the remaining funds the Center generates. Through the years, the Center has received funds through federal and State grants, private foundations, and corporate and individual donations to fund the Center's programs and activities.

Current programs of the Center include Filipino for Kids Summer Program, Banda Kawayan (Philippine musical instrument ensemble and live group), NCLEX Review (nursing examination review preparation), US Citizenship Classes, and Computer Enrichment Workshops.

Past results of a sample of the programs the Center reflect the following: NCLEX attendees in 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014: 113 total registrants. US Citizenship Classes attendees in 2012, 2013 and 2014: 86 total registrants. Computer Enrichment Workshops attendees from 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014: 160 total registrants. Filipino for Kids Summer Program 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014: 79 total registrants. Banda Kawayan in 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014: 127 total registrants.

Smart Seniors Program 2008 and 2009 each resulted in over 500 participants each year. In each of these years, participants would register for additional classes resulting in repeat participants.

Based upon past performance on a variety of community service programs as well as the performance from the Smart Seniors Program in 2008 and 2009 when the Center received funding, the Center has demonstrated the administrative, organizational, and accountability to continue the Smart Seniors Program. The ongoing requests for the return of the Smart Seniors Program to the Center verifies the need of the return of the program as well as the desire of the seniors and elderly to have the services that the program provides.

The volunteers and patrons of the Center are widely skilled and continue to offer and volunteer their expertise in various areas of the program on a day-to-day and for various activities throughout the year.

It a building built on Filipino pride and Bayanihan spirit and retains enough spirit of aloha to everyone who wants to work, rent, learn, and enjoy the daily activities without regard to ethnicity. Located on the 2nd floor above the tenant spaces, guests can rent space for functions, meetings, and to celebrate special events. The Ballroom, Courtyard, Technology Center, Music Room, and conference rooms are available every day of the year. These private areas feature customizable services for the various groups and events. Our onsite catering service assists the Center in tailoring the needs of our guests. The 6,000 square foot Ballroom provides a capacity of 380. The 3,500 square foot Courtyard provides a capacity of 100. The Technology Center, Music Room, and conference rooms can accommodate between 30-60 people each.

This programming initiative draws on the present programming and physical resources of the Center to develop and expand the Center's community outreach and programming for elderly persons. Health and wellness classes will provide the latest information on medical and therapeutic issues as well as the awareness towards the emergent changes in life-styles and physical challenges brought about by decreased mobility and physical/mental conditioning. Technology skills enhancement utilizes the Center's Technology Center to introduce the participants to use of computers and the Internet. Computer training to the elderly as a means to explore and develop their own personal interests are a key component. Life skills workshops and activities will promote optimal life course adjustments that do not directly involve physical/medical changes such as visual, plastic, and musical arts instruction and cultural awareness/preservation as well as financial/estate planning and tax preparation.

In August 2014, the Center obtained the on-site services of an Event Planner and Caterer known as Creations in Catering. Their ability to provide and instruction the program's participants on nutrition will be onsite based on their culinary expertise.

1. $250,000 capital improvement grant; Act 134, SLH 2013, as amended by Act 122, SLH 2014, Office of Community Services (OCS) in the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, State of Hawaii
2. $550,000 capital improvement grant; Act 134, SLH 2013, as amended by Act 122, SLH 2014, Department of Accounting and General Services (DAGS), State of Hawaii
3. $5,000 grant; Mayor's Office of Culture and the Arts (MOCA), City and County of Honolulu, State of Hawaii

E. Future Sustainability Plan

The applicant shall provide a plan for sustaining after fiscal year 2015-16 the activity funded by the grant if the grant of this application is:

- (1) Received by the applicant for fiscal year 2015-16, but

The Center plans to utilize the grant for fiscal year 2015-16 as the costs for restarting this successful program. The Smart Seniors Program was last funded in 2009. Due to the economic turmoil that the entire country went through with the financial meltdown, the Center was also affected with the government funding of the Smart Seniors Program. The Center intends to market and advertise the successfulness of the initiatives provided thereby leading into the private foundations, private individuals, and corporations to fund the program. This is highly dependent on the Center emphasizing the benefits that are being delivered to the program's participants and the effect on those benefactors.

The Center is undergoing several initiatives to provide direct funding from the Center's own operations. Currently, revenue from the Center is derived from tenant revenue, ballroom revenues, and other facility revenue. After covering operational expenses and debt service, the Center has modest income to cover program activities of this magnitude. The Center executed an agreement in August 2014 to utilize the services of a third-party event manager and caterer by an agreement with Epic Catering LLC dba Creations in Catering (“CIC”). This endeavor maximizes the potential of the facility with the use of an exclusive caterer dedicated to marketing the Center’s facility and the full service catering ability. In addition, the Center is undergoing a five-year debt service plan to retire the $3.0 million long term note payable. Since 2013, the Center has focused on further enhancements to our annual Bayanihan fundraising gala which have been implemented thereby increasing the net revenues received each year from the Center’s primary fundraiser. In addition, the Center has implemented a strategic plan to have each of the smaller, yet effective, programs held at the Center such as the Pasko sa FilCom, FilCom Sundays, and Kinabukasan Financial Literacy Series. Part of the strategic plan is to have each program self-sustaining and self-funded without the direct use of any of the Center’s operational income.

- (2) Not received by the applicant thereafter.

Without funding of this grant, the Center will have limited and very meager means of attaining the spectrum, reach, and comprehensiveness of the planned program. The Smart Seniors Program would drastically be reduced to annual informative sessions to the participants or provided on a very limited basis to a set limit of participants.

F. Certificate of Good Standing (If the Applicant is an Organization)

If the applicant is an organization, the applicant shall submit one (1) copy of a certificate of good standing from the Director of Commerce and Consumer Affairs that is dated no earlier than December 1, 2014.

See attached. (See page 31)
