Re: Testimony in SUPPORT of HB 2093 – Relating to the Issuance of Special Purpose Revenue Bonds for Goodwill Industries of Hawaii, Inc.

Thank you for the opportunity to be here today, I am Laura Smith, President/CEO of Goodwill Industries of Hawaii, Inc. We are a 501(c)3 non-profit organization that serves over 12,000 people statewide who have barriers to employment. Our organization provides employment and training services to a wide variety of people including those who are low income, have a disability, are on public assistance such as TANF, food stamps, are ex-offenders, are youth at risk, or part of the COFA community.

While we have offer a wide range of services, many of the people we serve benefit from our programs by being provided with employment to help them gain work experience and build their work histories. We accomplish this by providing them with a job at Goodwill in such areas as production and processing, retail sales, assembly, and manufacturing as some of our offerings. Often times these jobs provide people with a first paycheck and path to success so that they can move into other employment options outside of Goodwill.

Goodwill Hawaii is seeking approval of a Special Purpose Revenue Bond, which would provide resources for capital improvements at our Beretania Street property. In 2014, after 15 years of tenancy, Goodwill was able to purchase this location. Most of the processing and production space at this location is in renovation to enclose the area from the outdoors, as well as to update it to create efficiencies for our processing operations and provide a better environment to our employees, and clients. While we are in the process of raising funds through a capital campaign, a SPRB would assist our efforts by allowing us to combine funds raised with bond financing to complete our renovations in a more expedient manner.

Goodwill engages in business activities that are considered as manufacturing, or processing which are allowable activities under HRS Chapter 39A. These include:

Production and processing of used textiles and household goods: Collecting over 13 million pounds of used goods annually from the general public, all donations must go through our processing system before being readied for sale. Goods must be sorted into various categories, with each item graded to determine its level of quality. Minor repairs are made, and each item individually priced and merchandised for sale. This extensive processing operation employs almost 150 people statewide, and 60 at our Beretania location alone. As a result, of this process we divert millions of pounds from recyclable merchandise from the landfill.

Manufacturing and Assembly work: Goodwill Hawaii also has a contracts division which provides a variety of services to the community. Some of these services include manufacturing work, such as assembling, packing, and delivery of products for a local business customers like the assembly modem kits for a large local internet services provider, or the sewing of disposable muslin painter's hoods for use by Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard, and other customers.

All of this work is meant to provide people with entry level employment as a first step in their career path. SPRB financing will help us to modernize our processing and manufacturing, and help us to continue to broaden the services we provide.

SPRBS, have been a financing tools used by many other Goodwill's in the US, as a means to leverage funds for capital improvements, as well as other financing purposes. Our board of directors is in full support of the organization entering into such a financing arrangement, and with our strong financial performance, we feel we have the capacity to be approved for such financing during the underwriting process. Goodwill has retained local counsel experienced in bond issues to work with us throughout the process, and has engaged assistance from Goodwill Industries International.

Thank you for this opportunity to speak with you about our need for a Special Purpose Revenue Bond.
