RELATING TO FOOD

Chairpersons Taniguchi and Ruderman, and Members of the Committees:

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on House Bill 870 that authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds for a food innovation center to be operated by Kapiolani Community College (KCC) for the purpose of utilizing processing-grade, locally grown farm products to manufacture prepared meals in a large-scale kitchen. The Department supports this measure but defers to KCC.

The Department supports initiatives that help farmers increase revenues or add value to Hawaii-grown products. The Department supports this bill which could provide an additional revenue stream for farmers and lead to the development of products from locally grown farm products at a facility in-state at the Kapiolani Community College Food Innovation Center.

Thank you for the opportunity to present testimony.

ON
SENATE BILL NO. 377

February 10, 2015
1:30 P.M.

RELATING TO FOOD

Senate Bill No. 377 authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds and appropriates funds for a food innovation center to be operated by Kapiolani Community College for the purpose of utilizing processing-grade, locally grown farm products to manufacture prepared meals in a large scale kitchen.

The Department has technical comments on this bill. Federal tax law requires, among other things, that tax-exempt general obligation bond proceeds be used to finance projects/programs that serve governmental public purposes. It appears that private entities may derive benefit from this legislation through subsequent partnerships involving "private products development". Should any private entity benefit from the use of this facility, tax-exempt general obligation bonds cannot be used for this purpose. The State would need to issue taxable general obligation bonds at a higher cost to fund the food innovation center.

In addition, to the extent that funding for these programs are not in the proposed Executive Budget, should this bill proceed or pass the Legislature, an amount for the corresponding annual debt service will need to be included in the Legislature's version of the budget.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide our testimony on this bill.

SB 377 – RELATING TO FOOD

Chairs Taniguchi and Ruderman, Vice Chairs Inouye and Riviere, and Members of the Committees:

We stand in support of SB 377, “Relating to Food.” SB 377 authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds and appropriates funds for a food innovation center to be operated by Kapi‘olani Community College (KapCC) for the purpose of utilizing processing-grade, locally grown farm products to manufacture prepared meals in a large-scale kitchen. This measure will allow for the production of healthy bulk and retail food products using locally grown food.

The plan for a Food Innovation Center has five major objectives:

- 1. To increase food security by creating new revenue streams for Hawai'i farmers with a model food manufacturing facility for locally grown farm products. Hawaii lacks a food manufacturing industry that can utilize blemishes, seconds, or processing grade, farm products to produce value added food items. Currently, 10% to 30% of such products are plowed back into the fields. A Hawai'i based food manufacturing industry will be a major source of additional income for the farmers. Institutions that utilize bulk food products, such as schools, prisons, state hospitals have their menus planned months and years ahead, thus allowing the farmers to grow according to demand.
- 2. To create a model job-training center for new job opportunities in the farm-to-table supply chain. KapCC currently has a $1 million grant from the US Department of Labor to install a small-scale pilot test kitchen at Honolulu Community College. Lessons learned in the pilot will allow us to develop a high-capacity production kitchen at the Food Innovation Center featuring state-of-the-art food production and analysis equipment. The Food Innovation Center will stimulate job growth in farms, food hubs, and increase demands for food packaging, processing, and manufacturing job opportunities. The Food Innovation Center's model is to serve as a low-cost production site for new businesses during their crucial first three years. After that point, they are to utilize commercial food manufacturers to operate and hopefully expand.

3. To attract additional research and development grants, and private investment for projects that add value to Hawai'i's agricultural products. The $1 million is an investment for the design and planning, and installing of infrastructure for a 20,000 square foot processing plant. This includes appropriate electrical wiring, plumbing, storage facility that will meet USDA and FDA HACCP guidelines. In our plan, this initial investment will attract additional investments in two phases. First, a startup and operational facility for the first five years of production that will be funded through a combination of federal and local foundation grants, and revenue from the multiple lines of products. Second, outfitting the rest of the facility will come from additional private food manufacturing contracts and federal grants.
4. To make accessible affordable, healthy, nutritious food products to vulnerable populations. Hawai'i's school children, senior citizens, hospital patients, and individuals who have special dietary requirements will be the primary beneficiary of the value added food products. The cook-chill technology used will maximize the inclusion of healthy ingredients such as locally grown vegetables and fruits, in healthy school lunch hot food items and meals for seniors and hospitals. The food items will be packaged for easy re-thermalizing (reheating) by the food service or individual customers, with little to no loss of nutritional value, and improving the efficiency of institutional food services. School lunch operators will have more time to focus on labor-intensive menu items such as salads that require using fresh fruits and vegetables.
5. To increase the sustainability of Hawai'i. The reduction in the importing of food will reduce the amount of fuel being consumed to transport the food to the islands. The project also intends to recycle 100% of the food trim and waste into high-grade compost using an enclosed forced-air composter similar to the method currently utilized by the Culinary Arts program at the College.

We understand that the Governor calls for restraint and we do not support supplanting the University's current priorities with this measure. Nonetheless, we believe this investment will generate new investment and revenue in many sectors, with ongoing health benefits for hundreds of thousands people that represent Hawai'i's most vulnerable populations.

HEARING BEFORE THE

SENATE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE

TESTIMONY ON SB 377
RELATING TO FOOD

Room 224
1:30 PM

Aloha Chair Taniguchi, Chair Ruderman, Vice Chair Inouye, Vice Chair Riviere and Members of the Committees:

I am Christopher Manfredi, President of the Hawaii Farm Bureau Federation (HFB). Organized since 1948, the HFBF is comprised of 1,932 farm family members statewide, and serves as Hawaii's voice of agriculture to protect, advocate and advance the social, economic and educational interests of our diverse agricultural community.

HFB supports SB 377, which authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds and appropriates funds for a food innovation center to be operated by Kapiolani Community College for the purpose of utilizing processing-grade, locally grown farm products to manufacture prepared meals in a large-scale kitchen.

As expenses rise, increases in farm revenues (and profits) are critical to the continued viability of farms and ranches. One way is to turn waste to value added products. Currently off-grade and excess production due to market conditions is wasted. Converting them into value-added products will not only increase farm revenue but also provide new business opportunities, increase employment opportunities and address Hawaii's goals of increased self-sufficiency and sustainability.

Facilities such as the proposed KCC food innovation center can assist in the replacement of imported fresh produce with local varieties as well as canned and frozen food products. Similar facilities are needed on neighbor islands reducing the necessity of transportation of fresh bulk produce coupled with requisite shipping costs and the burning of fossil fuels. These facilities represent the manifestation of local food security for our island state, and will keep dollars and jobs in our local economy.

Thank you for your support of this measure.

SB377 RELATING TO FOOD.

Chairs Taniguchi and Ruderman, Vice Chairs Inouye and Riviere, and Members of the Committees on Higher Education and the Arts and Agriculture.

The High Technology Development Corporation (HTDC) supports the intent of SB377 relating to appropriating funds for a food innovation center to be operated by Kapiolani Community College (KCC).

HTDC supports local food manufacturers through our federally funded INNOVATE Hawaii program. Last year, HTDC and the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations supported KCC in a federal grant application aiming to establish the KCC food innovation center as a new product development resource for food manufacturing startup businesses and small volume manufacturers seeking affordable access to shared commercial grade equipment and industry specific business training. Although the application was not selected, a food innovation center accessible by industry and connected with the right programs would serve as a catalyst for food manufacturing businesses.

Thank you for the opportunity to offer these comments.

Testimony Re: SB 377 - RELATING TO FOOD

“Written Testimony Only”

Aloha Honorable Chairs Taniguchi and Ruderman, Vice Chairs Inouye and Riviere, and Members of the Committees:

The YMCA Pioneering Healthier Communities (PHC)-Honolulu brings together local, diverse leaders to discuss and support strategies, policies and programs that we can accomplish together to build healthier communities in our island home. Collectively we focus on creating policy changes and supporting community initiatives relating to health and wellness. PHC members present a unified voice in strong support of SB 377 to appropriate funds for the design and construction of a Food Innovation Center that will produce healthy bulk and retail food products using locally grown farm products.

The plan developed by the Kapiolani Community College is a win-win proposition for supplying more affordable and healthy food products made from locally farmed ingredients, to institutions that serve the most vulnerable populations, primarily children in schools, senior citizens, and patients who require special diets. A major strategy in combating the increasing obesity rate in Hawaii is to introduce more healthy, farm fresh ingredients into people’s eating pattern. For children in schools, this means creating a direct supply chain from local farms to school lunches.

The Food Innovation Center as a model for food manufacturing will also create stimulus for job opportunities for farmers, food hubs, and increasing demand for local farm products. These are important factors for building a sustainable food system in Hawaii. Farmers will gain additional revenue from selling seconds or processing grade products that they are not able to market, and are often left in the fields. Instead of purchasing imported foods, the increased spending on Hawaii products will generate additional tax revenue for Hawaii.

We believe that the Kapiolani Community College, with its well-recognized Culinary Arts Department, and partnering with the University of Hawaii’s College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources, is well qualified to develop and operate such an innovation center.

Thank you for this opportunity to provide this testimony.

Dear Chairs Taniguchi and Ruderman and Vice Chairs Inouye and Riviere, and Members:
RE: SB 377 Relating to Food

Aloha! My name is Randy Francisco, President/CEO, Kauai Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber represents 450+ members, 600+ representatives and over 6,000+ employees on Kauai. The Chamber is writing in Support of SB 377.

The importance of this legislation is to provide funding in support of the establishment of a food innovation center operated by Kapiolani Community College who has a long and established record of providing trained and successful graduates to enter the culinary field. The key words here are food innovation center. Our economy needs innovation in order to be able to effectively compete at not only the local level but, also in the global economy. Scientifically-based and research-based knowledge developed and discovered at the food innovation center will not only help the students but, ultimately, farmers, small business owners and others in the larger food and agriculture sector. This center will primarily serve as a testing and laboratory facility and laboratory that will lead to the creation of recipes, value-added products and knowledge for present and future generations. The next generation of food industry professionals who will collaborate with farmers, businesses and others will need to have the convenience of accessing academic and research gained at K.C.C. in order to keep their businesses/sector viable. K.C.C. as history has demonstrated provides professionals who will work and teach students in a up-to-date facility that will be essential to helping support business' ability to provide healthy, safe and sustainable food and practices that will ultimately benefit the farmer to the consumer ---- farm to table.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit this testimony in support of this much needed legislation to support farmers and small businesses on Kauai and throughout Hawaii nei.

Should I be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at 245-7363.

Personal Testimony in Favor of SB 377

Chairs Taniguchi and Ruderman, Vice Chairs Inouye and Riviere, and members of the committees

My name is Douglas L. Vincent and I am a Professor and Animal Scientist in the College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources in the Department of Human Nutrition, Food and Animal Sciences. I am also a former Department Chair. I am pleased to provide personal testimony on SB 377. This testimony does not represent the position of the University of Hawaii nor the College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources.

As a faculty member in the Department of Human Nutrition, Food and Animal Sciences, the food scientists and other faculty in my Department have worked closely with the food science, nutrition and culinary programs at Kapiolani Community College (KCC). I believe that this is a truly innovative program that will support Hawaii's farmers, the Hawaii Food Industry, and reduce the waste stream. Wastage of food has a significant cost to our community. The use of seconds or blemished fruits and vegetables in making value added food products creates economic opportunity to improve food security in Hawaii while reducing importation of food into the state and all the while also supporting local farmers. KCC, and other institutions in the state, can provide the expertise and experience for this proposed Food Innovation Center. It is truly an excellent idea and the faculty and leadership at KCC along with other colleagues are fully capable of creating an outstanding center. Thank you for the opportunity to present testimony in support of SB 377.
