SERVICE

Public Schools of Hawaii Foundation

2005 to Current
President – 2009 to 2014

The Public Schools of Hawaii Foundation (PSHF) promotes innovative ideas in the classroom by providing Public School Teachers with Good Idea Grants for materials and supplies used to Engage, Excite and Educate students. Since 1990, PSHF has given more than $4 million in grants.

Accomplishments as President of the Public Schools of Hawaii Foundation

Started the sponsorship of Design Thinking 3-day workshops whereby Public School Teachers and Students are subsidized. The workshops facilitate a more student centered approach to learning and were also attended by private enterprises and schools. 2015 will be the fourth year of PSHF's sponsorship.

Re-focused the Good Idea Grants to promote STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) in concert with HSTA and DOE.

Created a prototype public-private model funded 100% by PSHF ($300,000+) to showcase a model where educational non-profit organizations could partner their programs with state funded facilities. A science lab was built at Roosevelt High School with a grant extended to a Biology Teacher at Roosevelt High School to attend an innovative science symposium on the mainland. Grants were also extended to the feeder schools to fund STEM teacher training locally.
