Comments: I am in support of this resolution. I am an educator at a public school. We are often engaged in conservation projects centered around our oceans, climate change and protecting our environment. I notice my young students, those between the ages of 9-12 are VERY interested in conservation, climate change and taking care of our spaces. These are the ages to build awareness and empower them to take action! We need to protect our resources that drive our economy and support our livelihoods here in Hawaii. Please support this resolution!

EEPttestimony

Aloha Representatives~

I support HCR59 wholeheartedly. Giving the Board of Education a mandate to initiate and pragmatically address the very real issues of climate change in curriculum is vital. It is important to educate our youth about the realities of climate change, as well as awaken and harness their resourcefulness in seeking solutions to ensure a thriving future for generations to come.

Without clear guidelines, teachers and staff are left to fill in a large gap that would be better addressed in a more comprehensive manner.

Please vote to pass HCR59.

Sincerely and with much Gratitude,
Ilana M.E. Maxwell

Comments: Climate change is one of the greatest challenges facing us. It is encouraging that children today are looking to their future and taking action to try to make it better. They and their children are the ones who will face the results of today's choices. I hope that we are able to develop an effective way to communicate climate change concerns to our children so they may have a better understanding of how the world around them is changing.
