Comments: Lunch wagons are a nuisance and they do not pay property improvement taxes. They are dirty and are not meant to be a sit down restaurant! Tables should be prohibited. Water should not be coming from a water hose, which is the unhealthiest instrument. They should be required to have separate commercial pick up.

Comments: Lunch wagons in many areas are not moving and going back to their commissary kitchen every day as required by Dept. of Health rules. They are in fact buildings and should be treated as such, especially in Special Management Areas. Basic health and safety standards are currently not being met when lunch wagons do not follow DOH rules and by not requiring them to follow the same regulations as buildings must. I urge you to vote for SB 1182. Mahalo, Antya

Comments: Many of the lunch wagons on the North Shore are stationary, and therefore should be treated as a building instead of a lunch wagon. If they are permanent they should have to follow the same guidelines that brick and mortar establishments do. They are not complying with lunch wagon health codes by not returning to commissaries, not disposing wastewater properly, there are no bathrooms, and do not comply with special district areas.

Comments: I think that lunch wagons should have to follow the same rules and guidelines as restaurants have to. If you are a stationary food truck, you should be a building. There also is nobody overseeing where these food trucks are cooking, storing, or handling their food.
