I. Background and Summary

- 1. A brief description of the applicant's background: Located on the Island of O`ahu in the State of Hawai`i, Gregory House Programs (GHP) is a highly-regarded housing and social service agency for people living with HIV/AIDS (PLWH) in Honolulu County. Incorporated in 1988 and recognized by the IRS as a 501(c)(3) (Tax ID 99-0265111), GHP has fulfilled its mission "to provide affordable housing assistance and support services to PLWH in Hawai`i" for nearly thirty years. It does so through the provision of high quality, culturally responsive, and consumer driven programs. Services provided by GHP are designed to provide low barrier housing access for the most socio-economically disenfranchised and highest risk members of the HIV/AIDS community - those often not welcomed by the traditional social service systems.

Nearly 400 individuals receive housing and related support services through GHP each year – some of the poorest and most needy members of our community. However, it's never sufficient to simply provide shelter for homeless, chronically homeless, or at risk for homelessness PLWH. According to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, "housing should be used as a structural intervention to improve health outcomes for PLWH."¹ Consistent with this and the agency vision that "PLWH in Hawai`i have safe and stable housing with access to supportive services they need to lead satisfying lives with dignity," Throughout the last three decades GHP has expanded from an 11-person transitional shelter to the nine-program full-service provider it is today. Specific programs and services included in GHP's organizational structure include:

- A. Gregory House: A transitional shelter operating since 1988 offering adults who are, or are at risk for homelessness a safe, clean, and healthy environment as they begin to prepare themselves for long term or permanent housing. More than 500 PLWH have called Gregory House home for up to two years.
- B. Temporary Shelter & Emergency Assistance: For up to two weeks, GHP provides emergency shelter for homeless PLWH through its Temporary Shelter Program. Participants are accommodated at the YMCA or an economy type hotel for up to two weeks while more stable arrangements are arranged. The Emergency Assistance Program provides PLWH emergency financial assistance for rent, security deposits, or to assist with keeping tenant utilities on. Both programs have been operating since 1989. Combined, the programs have served over 500 PLWH.
- C. Rent Subsidy Program: For 27 years, GHP have provided temporary rent subsidies for participants to establishing a foundation for independent living. Since beginning in 1989 nearly 1,000 people in the State of Hawaii – including neighbor islands – have benefited from this program.

- D. Housing for People with AIDS: The GHP's HOPWA program has been providing tenant based rental assistance for nearly 60 households each month since 1996.
- E. Community Housing Services: Since 2002, GHP has aided with rental applications, housing searches, inspections, and applications for subsidies like Section 8.
- F. Shelter Plus Care: Shelter plus care provides permanent supportive housing and coordinated case management for forty-four households of formerly homeless individuals and families. It has been operating since 1994.
- G. Community Residential Program: The Community Residential Program opened in 2005. The CRP emphasizes access to unsheltered homeless PLWH who also suffer from mental illness and/or substance abuse. The CRP provides bridge and transitional housing for individuals with active mental illness and/or current substance misuse.
- H. Save the Food Basket: Assumed by GHP in 2012 to prevent its closure, this program is designed to supplement the nutrition and diet needs of PLWH with low to very low income without which would not otherwise have access to food.
- I. Coordinated Statewide Homeless Initiative: In 2016, GHP has provided individuals and families financial assistance toward security deposits, rent and utilities to prevent homelessness or help people out of homelessness. The state funds were distributed by Aloha United Way to assist people on the brink of homelessness, including, but not limited to PLWH.

2. The goals and objectives related to the request: The purpose of GHP's proposed FY 2019 Grant in Aid application is to provide up to 40 (80-100 individuals) households with temporary rental assistance, housing navigation and medical case management. Mentioned above, the Rent Subsidy program has been providing temporary rent subsidies to former homeless and at-risk for homelessness individuals and families throughout the State of Hawai'i, along with coordinated case management services since 1989. This rental subsidy program ends and prevents homelessness through rent assistance and intensive social support services. GHP currently has a wait list of 99 PLWH to need assistance with rent to prevent homelessness.
3. The public purpose and need to be served: The purpose of GHP's proposed project is to ensure readily accessible supportive housing for up to 40 households (up to 80 individuals) who are medically fragile and multi-diagnosed with mental illness and/or substance abuse through its Temporary Rental Assistance Program throughout the State of Hawai'i.

It isn't difficult to find evidence that successful HIV treatment and improved health outcomes are a direct correlation to stable housing. In fact, "studies indicate being homeless or marginally-housed is common among PLWH and associated with poorer levels of antiretroviral therapy access and sub-optimal treatment outcomes²." However, the median income in Honolulu County is $86,600. This is more than eleven times the average annual income ($7,560) of GHP program participants who are the areas poorest and most needy members – often not welcome by the traditional housing solutions. The average GHP program

² Milloy, M., Marshall, B. D., Montaner, J., & Wood, E. (2012). Housing Status and the Health of People Living with HIV/AIDS. Current HIV/AIDS Reports, 9(4), 364-374. doi:10.1007/s11904-012-0137-5

participant earns more than four times less than the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's FY 2017 income limits for "very low income"³. According to the City & County of Honolulu Five-Year Consolidated Plan & Action Plan 41% of Honolulu's households experience a housing cost burden (expending more than 30% of income on housing). In comparison, 94% of GHP program participants experience housing cost burdens. The Hawaii Fair Market Rent (FMR) for an average two-bedroom apartment is $1,830 and without exceeding 30% of income on housing expenses the "state housing wage" would need to be adjusted to $38.12 per hour for the Honolulu Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA). This would be the equivalent of 3.6 full time jobs at Hawai'i's minimum wage of $10.10/hr (2.7 FTE to afford a 1 bedroom).⁴

With statistics like these, there is no wonder that Hawai'i has the second highest homelessness rate in the nation (554/100,000), nearly 24% higher than New York, and 60% higher than California.⁵ Obtaining and maintaining housing is a challenge for everyone, however, this is particularly true for those with disabling HIV/AIDS, complex treatment regimens, mental illness and/or substance abuse indicators. It is well known that stable housing is a key indicator for positive health outcomes, especially for PLWH as "studies indicate being homeless or marginally-housed is common among PLWH and associated with poorer levels of HAART (highly active anti-retroviral therapy) access and sub-optimal treatment outcomes"⁶. However, it isn't as simple as providing someone with shelter and per the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development "housing should be used as a structural intervention to improve health outcomes for PLWH"⁷...

Securing and maintaining housing in Hawai'i's socio-economic climate is difficult for most consumers, but imagine the challenge for those who are chronically homeless and are medically fragile. As would be expected, homeless consumers have increased hospitalization rates and typically require longer inpatient stays. For these, homelessness diminishes the effectiveness of their inpatient treatment once discharged and returned to homelessness.⁸ Ultimately this creates a cycle that worsens health outcomes and housing status; and places unnecessary financial burden on healthcare systems (through longer than needed stays or recurring admissions). Locally, it cost Straub Hospital between $30,000 and $50,000 in 2016 to house homeless discharged with post-discharge recovery needs.⁹ Since 2013 Queens Hospital has averaged $81 million a year on health care for the homeless.⁵

- 4. Describe the target population to be served: The target population to be served by the FY 2019 Grant in Aid are homeless and at risk for homelessness PLWH. There is limited data on PLWH in Hawai'i, however, as of December 31st, 2015, Hawai'i had a cumulative total of 4,676 HIV infection cases. The prevailing risk factor (71%) is male-to-male sexual contact followed by 15% injection drug use or a combination of injection drug use and male-to-male sex. In 2015 the HIV infection rate was 7.3/100,000 (12.4/100,000 for men only; 1.6/100,000 for female only) which is an increase of 2.6/100,000 since 2014. Seventy-three percent (73%) of all HIV infections were diagnosed in Honolulu County¹⁰ and 88% of those were adults aged 18-54 years of age.

At the time of this writing GHP has 342 active clients of which 68% are of racial and ethnic minority (46% Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander; 11% Asian, and 11% African American or Native American) and 32% are of Caucasian descent – this is representative of GHP’s historical demographical experience. Additionally, in August 2017, GHP implemented a consumer survey. A total of 73 responses (approximately 22% of current active clients) were received over a week’s period. Nearly all survey participants received some level of assistance: 58.93% received housing subsidies; 44.26% SSDI; 41.51% general financial assistance; 29.82% SSI; and only 4.08% received long term disability. Nearly half of respondents (44%) reported difficulties in managing to pay their monthly bills (the average annual income for GHP consumers is $7,560¹¹).

5. Describe the geographic coverage: Services are available throughout the State of Hawai‘i.

II. Service Summary and Outcomes
