Re: S.B. 2415, S.D. 1, Relating to the Conveyance Tax

The Department of Taxation (Department) offers the following comments on S.B. 2415, S.D. 1, for the Committee's consideration.

S.B. 2415, S.D. 1, increases the conveyance tax rates for condominiums and single family residences with values of at least $2,000,000 and for which the purchaser is ineligible for a county homeowner's exemption. S.B. 2415, S.D. 1, is effective July 1, 2018. The adjusted rates are as follows:

Value of Property	Proposed Rate	Current Rate
$2,000,000 less than $4,000,000	$1.00 per $100	$.60 per $100
$4,000,000 less than $6,000,000	$2.00 per $100	$.85 per $100
$6,000,000 less than $10,000,000	$3.00 per $100	$1.10 per $100
$10,000,000 or greater	$4.00 per $100	$1.25 per $100

The Department is able to administer the changes proposed by this bill. The Department requests the effective date of the tax rate changes made by Section 1 of the bill be changed to January 1, 2019 to allow the Department time to update the relevant forms and instructions.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide comments.

RELATING TO THE CONVEYANCE TAX.

The HHFDC offers the following comments to S.B. 2415, S.D. 1. HHFDC has concerns with the proposed increase in the conveyance tax rates on non-owner-occupied condominium units at or above $2 million in value, because of the possible, unintended application to affordable multi-family residential condominium units.

CATHOLIC CHARITIES HAWAII

TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT OF SB 2415 SD1: Relating to the Conveyance Tax

TO: Representative Tom Brower, Chair, Representative Nadine K. Nakamura, Vice Chair, and Members, Committee on Housing
FROM: Terrence L. Walsh, Jr., President and Chief Executive Officer
Hearing: Tuesday, 3/20/18; 10:00 AM; CR 423

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony in support of SB 2415, SD1, which increases the conveyance tax rates on residential investment properties valued over $2 million. I am Terry Walsh, with Catholic Charities Hawai'i. We are also a member of Partners in Care.

Catholic Charities Hawai'i (CCH) is a tax exempt, non-profit agency that has been providing social services in Hawai'i for over 60 years. Our mission is to provide services and advocacy for the most vulnerable in Hawai'i. To end homelessness we must create significantly more affordable housing on an ongoing basis. This is a top priority for 2018.

Raising the conveyance tax rates on high end properties that are not owner occupied is estimated to raise revenues of about $29,800,000 for FY 19, and $32,500,000 for FY 2020 on. The increased revenue to the state as well as to other recipients of these tax proceeds will support critical state priorities. Hawai'i is an international market for housing with ever increasing housing costs. This measure provides a strategy to support the affordable housing needs in our state, as prices for high end properties increase.

The Rental Housing Revolving Fund receives 50% of the proceeds from the conveyance tax. These funds are utilized to provide crucial gap financing to build affordable rental projects. We do not want to see these affordable projects negatively impacted by this bill. We share the concern expressed by the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation in its testimony to Ways and Means on this bill: We respectfully ask that affordable housing be exempted from the conveyance tax.

We urge that this be a narrowly targeted exemption to avoid permitting developments that may provide only a small fraction of affordable housing in a project, to receive this valuable exemption to support market or even luxury housing. Any exemption should be appropriately determined by a state agency familiar with affordable housing development, and narrowly tailored to ensure tax incentives received by developers meet the affordability levels needed to house the people of Hawai'i.

Thank you for your consideration of new ways to address the housing needs of our state. We urge you to pass this bill, with the above suggested amendment.

Please contact our Legislative Liaison, Betty Lou Larson, at 373-0356 or bettylou.larson@catholiccharitieshawaii.org, if you have any questions.

Comments, Concerns and Opposition to SB 2415, S.D. 1, Relating to the Conveyance Tax (Raises the conveyance tax rates for residential investment properties with a value of at least $2,000,000.)

Tuesday, March 20, 2018, at 10:00 a.m., in Conference Room 423

The Land Use Research Foundation of Hawaii (LURF) is a private, non-profit research and trade association whose members include major Hawaii landowners, developers and a utility company. One of LURF's missions is to advocate for reasonable, rational and equitable land use planning, legislation and regulations that encourage well-planned economic growth and development, while safeguarding Hawaii's significant natural and cultural resources and public health and safety.

LURF appreciates the opportunity to provide comments, concerns and opposition to this bill.

SB 2415, S.D. 1. Since this measure does not contain a purpose clause, it is not clear why the proposed conveyance tax rate increase is being used as a method to generate revenue for the State's general fund, or whether such an increase is even warranted. This bill nevertheless proposes to increase the conveyance tax rates for residential investment properties with a value of at least $2,000,000.

LURF's Position. The proposed increase of the conveyance tax rate for the sale of certain properties is inappropriate, improper, and illegal, given the following:

1. The Hawaii Conveyance Tax was never intended as a revenue-generating tax.

Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS"), Chapter 247 (Conveyance Tax), was purposefully enacted in 1966 to provide the State Department of Taxation ("DoTax") with informational data for the determination of market value of properties transferred, and to assist the DoTax in establishing real property assessed values. In short, the sole intent of the conveyance tax was originally to cover the administrative costs of collecting and assessing said informational data, which necessarily entails the recording of real estate transactions, as performed by the Bureau of Conveyances.

Since the enactment of HRS Chapter 247, however, the State Legislature has proposed, and has successfully implemented changes to the law 1) to allow application of conveyance tax revenue to a number of non-conveyance type uses (land conservation fund; rental housing trust fund; and natural area reserve fund) to the point where there is no longer any clear nexus between the benefits sought by the original Act and the charges now proposed to be levied upon property-holding entities transferring ownership; and 2) also to increase the tax rates to the point where said revenues now appear to far exceed the initially stated purpose of the Act.

Without any facts or information evidencing a need for additional conveyance tax revenue for conveyance tax-related costs, the proposed use of such revenues to increase the general fund for undisclosed purposes must be considered expansions and deviations which go beyond the scope of the original intent of the conveyance tax law, and are concerning since the proposed bill, particularly if unlawfully targeting certain types of transactions or property owners, could be characterized as imposing an improper penalty, hidden tax, or surcharge, which may be subject to legal challenge.

- 2. If the intent of SB 2415, S.D. 1 is to use the Conveyance Tax to subsidize or increase subsidies to special funds which do not have a clear nexus between the benefits sought and charges made upon the users or beneficiaries of the program, the bill must be considered illegal and in violation of Sections 37-52.3 and 37-52.4, Hawaii Revised Statutes (“HRS”).

Special funds are subject to Sections 37-52.3 and 37-52.4 HRS. Criteria for the establishment and continuance of special and revolving funds was enacted by the 2002 Legislature through Act 178, SLH 2002, Sections 37-52.3 and 37-52.4, HRS. To be approved for continuance, a special fund must:

- a. serve the purpose for which it was originally established;
- b. reflect a clear nexus between the benefits sought and charges made upon the users or beneficiaries of the program, as opposed to serving primarily as a means to provide the program or users with an automatic means of support that is removed from the normal budget and appropriation process;
- c. provide an appropriate means of financing for the program or activity; and
- d. demonstrate the capacity to be financially self-sustaining.

The first and second criteria are nearly identical to those in Act 240, SLH 1990, codified in Section 23-11, HRS, requiring the Auditor to review all legislative bills in each session to establish new special or revolving funds. It appears that the intent of SB 2415, S.D. 1 is to find an additional source of funding for affordable housing by increasing conveyance tax revenues for the transfer of “luxury” properties. However, the State Auditor has in the past concluded that such an arrangement where there is no clear link with the funding source (individuals and companies involved in specific, particular types of real estate transactions) should be repealed.

- 3. Other legal alternatives are available to increase general funding or incentivize support for special funds.

In lieu of improperly imposing increases of conveyance taxes to increase the State’s general fund, or to subsidize or increase revenue for certain unrelated special funds with no clear link to the conveyance tax purposes or beneficiaries, proponents of this bill are urged to look to other possible legitimate means to do so, including funding support through other “related” or “linked” state and county charges, fees or taxes.

Given the “clear nexus” requirement for special and revolving funds, and also given that general funding and alternative methods to secure revenues for these funds exist, expansions and deviations of HRS Chapter 247 which go beyond the scope of the original intent of the conveyance tax law are concerning since this proposed bill, particularly if it unlawfully targets transactions involving the sale of interests by a particular group of individuals or entities which own real property in the State, could be characterized as imposing an improper penalty, hidden tax, or surcharge, which may be subject to legal challenge.

Understanding the importance of the conveyance tax issues raised by SB 2415, S.D. 1, LURF respectfully requests that this bill be deferred, or held by this Committee to allow stakeholders, including, but not limited to government agencies, the public, private landowners, legal experts and other interested parties to work together to come to a consensus regarding the bill’s purpose, as well as alternatives to increasing the State’s general fund.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide comments and concerns relating to this proposed measure.

Honorable Chair Brower and committee members:

I am Kris Coffield, representing IMUAlliance, a nonpartisan political advocacy organization that currently boasts over 400 members. On behalf of our members, we offer this testimony in support of Senate Bill 2415, SD 1, relating to the conveyance tax.

Hawai'i residents face the highest housing costs in the nation, at more than twice the national average. Researchers who authored the National Low Income Housing Coalition's Out of Reach 2017 report found that a full-time worker would need to earn $35.20/hour to afford a two-bedroom apartment at fair market value in our state, with Honolulu experiencing a 67 percent increase in fair market rent between 2005 and 2015. Average rent for a two-bedroom unit surpassed $2,000 in recent years, with minimum wage workers needing to log 116 hours per week to afford a modest one-bedroom apartment at fair market value and 139 hours per week to afford a two-bedroom—a number that is equivalent to working 20 hours a day with no days off year-round. In the past three years alone, Honolulu rent has increased by more than 25 percent. While 43 percent of Hawai'i residents are renters (a number that does not include individuals and families renting outside of the regulated rental market), they earn an average wage of $15.64/hour, scarcely enough to meet their basic needs. One out of every four households in Hawai'i report that they are “doubling up” or are three paychecks or less away from being homeless, per the Hawai'i Appleseed Center for Law and Economic Justice. Additionally, 54 percent of households are cost-burdened, meaning that they pay more than 30 percent of their income for housing costs, a number that rises to 83 percent of extremely low-income households. Homelessness is directly tied to our state's exorbitant cost of living and penchant for catering to people who use the islands as their own private Monopoly board. We beseech you to seek innovative ways of making Hawai'i more affordable for our economically disadvantaged neighbors.

Our state’s cost of housing has skyrocketed over the last decade, leaving many families searching for affordable alternatives, in shelters, or on the streets. For context, the median price of condominiums on O’ahu increased 6 percent in the summer of 2017 to a record $425,000, while the median price for single-family homes increased by 3 percent to $795,000, according to the Honolulu Board of Realtors, a number that they expect to increase by at least another 5 percent in 2018. Average fair market rent for two-bedroom apartments in outlying communities in the City and County of Honolulu now exceeds $2,000, with the cost of a four-bedroom home in urban Honolulu now exceeding $1.1 million. At least 43 percent of residences in Hawai’i are owner unoccupied, according to the National Low-Income Housing Coalition, meaning that nearly 50 percent—and by some estimates over half—of Hawai’i’s homes are likely investment properties.

The time for deliberation is over. It’s time to act. Experts at the Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism now estimate that Hawai’i needs 66,000 new housing units by the year 2025 to keep up with demand, more than 80 percent of which is needed to meet the demand of people who qualify for affordable housing. Yet, for every 100 extremely low-income renters on O’ahu, there exist only 40 affordable rentals, according to the Urban Institute, of which only 11 are “naturally affordable,” meaning they are affordable without federal subsidies. Though our state is committed to a goal of building 22,500 affordable rental housing units in the next 10 years, figures from the Hawai’i Housing Finance and Development Corporation show that in 2015 and 2016, we added only approximately 1,000 affordable rental units to our state’s inventory, with further plans finalized for a mere 3,240 more affordable rentals by 2022. Analysts believe that boosting the overall housing supply will lower home prices—and, in turn, rent—for all residents, an ancillary benefit that cannot be overstated in our undersaturated, luxury-driven, “investor first” housing market.

Conveyance taxes are levied on transfers of real property. Currently, HRS §247-7 caps the amount of conveyance tax collections paid into the rental housing revolving fund at the lesser of 50 percent or $38 million. Per the Hawai’i Housing Finance and Development Corporation, the revolving fund exists “for the development, pre-development, construction, acquisition, preservation, and substantial rehabilitation of rental housing units.” To increase available funding for affordable housing, we support increasing conveyance taxes on residential investment properties valued in excess of $2,000,000. That said, we urge the committee to consider amending this measure to increase conveyance taxes for all residential investment properties valued at $1,000,000 and above, noting that the wealth gap in our state is widening and an exponentially greater number of residents are unable to afford rent, much less the benefits of buying and selling a home. According to a study released in May of 2016 by DBEDT, there are “clear distinctions” between the average price of homes bought by local residents, mainlanders, and foreigners. Analyzing purchases made between 2008 and 2015, DBEDT found: “The average sale price was highest among foreign buyers. The average sale price of the total of 5,775 homes sold to foreign buyers from 2008 to 2015 was $786,186, 28.3 percent higher than the average sale price to the mainlanders ($612,770) and 64.7 percent higher than the average sale price to local buyers ($477,460).” Thus, increasing conveyance tax prices directly impacts the real estate speculators driving up Hawai’i’s housing costs and, in turn, rental prices, i.e. those most responsible for pricing local residents out of paradise.

We need housing now. Mahalo for the opportunity to testify in support of this bill.

Sincerely,
Kris Coffield

Dear Representative Brower, Representative Nakamura and Members of the House Committee on Housing:

Testimony in Opposition to SB2415 SD1

The Kohala Coast Resort Association (KCRA) opposes SB2415 SD1 proposing increases to the conveyance tax on the sale of residential investment properties over $2 million.

The Kohala Coast Resort Association supports the development of affordable rental housing. However, we recognize that the state already receives the largest share of the transient accommodations taxes, which are placed in the general fund. The TAT allocation in the state's general fund has gone from $7.79 million in 2009 (3.7% of total collections) to $292.4 million in 2017 (57.5% of total collections). Therefore, it is already within the Legislature's authority to use those funds to incentivize the development of affordable rental housing. And though not under the purview of the Legislature directly, we would like members of the committee to recognize that residential investment properties and resort zoned properties, many of which would be impacted by the proposed conveyance tax increase, saw a disproportionate increase in their property taxes in Hawaii County last year. Government authorities at both the county and state levels cannot continue to place the largest tax burden time and time again on the same citizens.

KCRA is a collection of master-planned resorts and hotels situated north of the airport which represents more than 3,500 hotel accommodations and an equal number of resort residential units. This is approximately 35 percent of the accommodations available on the Island of Hawai'i. KCRA member properties annually pay more than $20 million in TAT and $20 million in GET.

We encourage your opposition to this measure.

Sincerely,

COMMENTS

Chair, Brower, Vice Chair, Nakamura and members of the Committee on Housing. Please accept our testimony today in support of SB2756, SD1, which pertains to the Conveyance Tax.

Although neither Hawaii Habitat for Humanity nor any of its affiliates have offered testimony on this measure prior to today, we feel it is necessary to do so now. In our previous testimony regarding conveyance tax measures we supported raising the tax rate in conjunction with removing the existing tax cap of $38 million. However, SB2415, SD1, does not do this. Thus, we concur with the Land Use Research Foundation of Hawaii that this measure lacks a “clear nexus requirement” and should be deferred.

If the committee elects to move this measure forward as an SD2, we would request that the “exemption requirement” proposed by HHFDC in their testimony of February 28, 2018, be added to this measure.

Mahalo, for the opportunity to offer these comment to the committee here today.

$10,000,000	1.25	4.00

There is no tax rate change proposed for all other conveyances.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2018.

STAFF COMMENTS: The conveyance tax was enacted by the 1966 legislature after the repeal of the federal law requiring stamps for transfers of real property. It was enacted for the sole purpose of providing the department of taxation (which at the time also administered the real property tax) with additional data for the determination of market value of properties transferred. This information was also to assist the department in establishing real property assessed values and at that time the department stated that the conveyance tax was not intended to be a revenue raising device.

Prior to 1993, the conveyance tax was imposed at the rate of 5 cents per $100 of actual and full consideration paid for a transfer of property. At the time all revenues from the tax went to the general fund. The legislature by Act 195, SLH 1993, increased the conveyance tax to 10 cents per $100 and earmarked 25% of the tax to the rental housing trust fund and another 25% to the natural area reserve fund. Because of legislation in 2005 and in 2009, the conveyance tax rates were substantially increased and bifurcated between nonowner-occupied residential properties and all other properties. Tax brackets were based on the amount of the value transferred. Until 2005, 50% of the receipts went into the general fund and the other half was split with the affordable rental housing program and the natural area reserve program. Beginning in 2005, another 10% was taken for the land conservation fund. In 2009, legislators reduced the amount of conveyance tax revenues earmarked to the rental housing trust fund from 30% to 25% until June 30, 2012 to generate additional revenues for the state general fund. Act 164, SLH 2014, increased the earmark to 50% as of July 1, 2014, and Act 84, SLH 2015, imposed the $38 million cap on the earmark.

This bill raises the conveyance tax to feed the rental housing revolving fund, land conservation fund, and the general fund.

Lawmakers need to ask which taxpayers are going to be impacted by these hikes. Although the intent may be to soak the rich fat cats, the increases will affect developments of multi-unit property, including affordable housing being developed.

RE: Senate Bill 2415, SD1, Relating to the Conveyance Tax

HEARING: Tuesday, March 20, 2018, at 10:00 a.m.

Aloha Chair Brower, Vice Chair Nakamura and Members of the Committee,

I am Ken Hiraki, Government Affairs Director, here to testify on behalf of the Hawai'i Association of REALTORS® ("HAR"), the voice of real estate in Hawai'i, and its 9,500 members. HAR strongly opposes Senate Bill 2415, SD1, which raises the conveyance tax rates for residential investment properties with a value of at least $2,000,000.

In 2005, the Conveyance Tax was increased on a tiered scale on 1) the sale of realty for all transfers or conveyance of realty or any interest (i.e. commercial, timeshare, agricultural, industrial, etc. and condominium or single-family residences for which the purchaser is eligible for a county homeowner's exemption); and 2) the sale of a condominium or single-family residence for which the purchaser is ineligible for a county homeowner's exemption.

In 2009, the Legislature once again increased the Conveyance Tax on 1) the sale of realty from 30 cents per $100 (.30%) for properties over $1,000,000 to a maximum of $1.00 (1%) per $100 for properties over $10,000,000 -- an increase of over 333%, and 2) the sale of a property ineligible for a county homeowner exemption from 30 cents per $100 to $1.25 per $100 (1.25%) -- an increase of over 416.66%.

This measure proposes to increase the Conveyance Tax for the sale of a condo or single-family residence for which the purchaser is ineligible for a county homeowner's exemption. The conveyance tax is increased at the following rates:

Property Value:	Current Rate: (Per $100)	Proposed Rate: (Per $100)	Current - In Dollars (In Dollars - rounded)	Proposed Increase: (In Dollars - rounded)	Rate Increase:
$2 mil - $3.99 mil	60 cents	$1.00 per $100	$24,000 ($3.99 mil property)	$40,000	66.66%
$4 mil - $5.99 mil	85 cents	$2.00 per $100	$60,000 ($5.99 mil property)	$120,000	100%
$6 mil - $9.99 mil	$1.10	$3.00 per $100	$110,000 ($9.99 mil property)	$300,000	172.72%
$10 mil +	$1.25	$4.00 per $100	$125,000 ($10 mil property)	$400,000	200%

 | 808-733-7060

Honolulu, HI 96817

The Conveyance Tax applies to the conveyance of multi-family rentals, land for residential subdivisions, mixed-income and multi-use properties, commercial properties, resort properties, and agricultural lands, as well as condominium and single-family homes. It applies whether or not a property is sold at a gain or a loss.

The tax applies to the entire purchase price, and does not take into account the amount of indebtedness that may be on the property being sold, or whether the seller may be selling at less than what the seller originally acquired the property for. Thus, in certain circumstances the seller may not have the cash to be able to pay the Conveyance Tax, or the amount of tax may be so high relative to the net proceeds that the seller is receiving as to become confiscatory.

Furthermore, according to the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism, nearly 66,000 housing units are needed to meet long-term demand over the next ten years, including affordable rentals. We should work on efforts to reduce the cost of housing. An increase in the conveyance tax for residential investment property, would more than likely also burden the individuals renting these units.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify on this measure.
