

1 Development awarded almost $6,000,000 in grants-in-aid for 2 Hawaii's homeless. These funds were distributed to several 3 agencies and programs, including homeless shelters and drug 4 treatment facilities. At that time, a plan was proposed to 5 create a "tent city" on Oahu's leeward coast. However, that 6 plan was abandoned due to protests from residents who were 7 concerned that the plan would increase crime rates in the area.

8 Today, the Hawaii public housing authority administers more
9 than six thousand federal and state low-income public housing
10 units and provides thousands of rental assistance vouchers.
11 Over sixty non-profit shelters and programs provide services to 12 over fourteen thousand unique homeless individuals each year.
13 In addition, hundreds of families at risk of becoming homeless
14 receive financial assistance or housing-related support services
15 to keep them housed.

16 Despite these and decades of many other government efforts, 17 expenditures of millions of tax dollars, and countless hours of 18 work by government and private sector employees, homelessness in 19 Hawaii continues to rise. In 2011, approximately six thousand 20 two hundred individuals were homeless on any particular day. In 21 2015, this number increased to seven thousand six hundred

1 individuals. During the 2013-2014 fiscal year, 14,282 homeless
2 individuals received services through shelter and outreach
3 programs compared to 11,070 individuals during the 2006-2007
4 fiscal year. Due to these increases, Hawaii now has more
5 homeless individuals, per capita, than any other state.

6 The legislature finds that homelessness is a complex issue
7 that requires continuous resources and coordinated efforts at 8 all levels. Homeless people face many different issues,
9 including mental illness, substance abuse, loss of employment
10 and income, and a lack of affordable housing. Appropriate 11 funding for programs tailored to address these issues is 12 essential.

13 The purpose of this Act is to provide better assistance to 14 the homeless population by applying a comprehensive approach to 15 resolving homelessness.
