Adjutant General. Major General Logan has extensive military and leadership experience, including more than thirty-six years of military service. Commissioned by the Hawaii Army National Guard Officer Candidate School, he spent twenty years as a Honolulu Police Department detective before working as the Counterdrug Coordinator at the Hawaii Army National Guard, United States Army Commander of the Regional Police Advisory Command Central in Afghanistan, Chief of Staff of the Hawaii Army National Guard, Chief of the Joint Staff of the Hawaii National Guard, and Director of Operations/G3 for the Hawaii Army National Guard, among other leadership roles and responsibilities. Major General Logan has served as the Adjutant General since 2015.

Major General Logan received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Justice Administration and Management from Hawaii Pacific University and a Master's degree in Strategic Studies from the United States Army War College. He has received numerous awards and decorations, including the Legion of Merit, United States Army Bronze Star, United States Army Meritorious Service Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Afghanistan Campaign Medal, Global War on Terrorism Expeditionary Medal, and Humanitarian Service Medal. Major General Logan has served as the President and Vice President of the Hawaii National Guard Association and has been active in the National Guard Association of the United States, Military Officers Association of America, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Association of the United States Army, and Contingency Planners of the Pacific.

As affirmed by the record of votes of the members of your Committee on Public Safety, Intergovernmental, and Military Affairs that is attached to this report, your Committee, after full consideration of the background, experience, and qualifications of the nominee, has found the nominee to be qualified for the position to which nominated and recommends that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination.
