

HB807
RELATING TO OFFENSES AGAINST PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
House Committee on Judiciary

February 5, 2019

2:05 p.m.

Room 325

The Office of Hawaiian Affairs (OHA) Committee on Beneficiary Advocacy and Empowerment will recommend that the OHA Board of Trustees COMMENT on HB807, which may facilitate the enforcement of county land use laws protecting residential housing units from conversion to transient vacation rental uses.

As home prices, rental prices, and homelessness continue to increase, and as the State anticipates additional population growth and an associated demand for more housing over the next decade,¹ land-use laws that protect housing affordability and availability are more critical now than ever before. As the legislature recognizes, Hawai'i is in the midst of an affordable housing crisis: recent research indicates a need for 65,000 more housing units by 2025, with half of this demand for units at or below 60% of the Area Median Income (AMI);² only 11 percent of this demand is for housing units at or above 140% AMI, or for units that do not meet the State's current definition of "affordable housing."³ With 48% of households in the State already unable to afford basic household necessities including housing, food, transportation, health care, and child care,⁴ the lack of affordable housing and rising housing costs require bold and aggressive policies and enforcement mechanisms, that can meaningfully protect housing opportunities for local residents.

Native Hawaiians are particularly disadvantaged by land uses that contribute to our residential housing challenges, particularly those uses that increase rental housing costs and exacerbate shortages in our rental housing supply. Native Hawaiians are less likely to own a home and, therefore, disproportionately rely on the rental housing market.⁵

Native Hawaiian households are also much more likely to be “doubled up,” with multi-generational or unrelated individuals living together in single households.⁶ Furthermore, Native Hawaiian households are more than three times more likely have a “hidden homeless” family member than all state households.⁷ Accordingly, increases in rental housing costs and shortages in affordable residential rental opportunities may have a particularly high impact on the housing and financial security of the Native Hawaiian community.

Unfortunately, the unaddressed proliferation of illegal vacation rentals may exacerbate the rise in rental housing costs beyond what Hawai‘i residents and Native Hawaiians are able to afford, and has directly removed much-needed housing units from the residential rental market. The 2016 Hawai‘i Housing Planning Study estimates that there are 28,397 non-commercial vacation rentals, located in nearly all communities in Hawai‘i;⁸ much if not a majority of these rentals are likely illegal. Not surprisingly, the proliferation of such units, which generate nearly 3.5 times more income than the average long-term residential rental,⁹ has correlated with substantially increased housing costs throughout the islands: over the past several years, Honolulu in particular saw the highest rates of increase in average monthly rent and average daily rent; during this time, the number of vacation rentals increased by 34% per year.¹⁰ In addition to raising the costs of available residential rental units, the proliferation of illegal vacation rentals also represents a direct loss of housing units from the long-term residential rental market.¹¹

Clearly, allowing the continued illegal use of housing units for vacation rentals will only exacerbate our housing crisis. Without more meaningful enforcement mechanisms, there is nothing to mitigate the negative impacts of illegal vacation rentals on housing opportunities for Native Hawaiians and other local residents. In contrast, each and every illegal vacation rental unit that is returned to long-term residential use is one more unit that can help meet our existing housing demand.¹²

¹¹ The Hawai‘i Tourism Authority’s 2016 study found that vacation rentals increased by 34% per year between 2005 and 2015. Further investigation found that between 2011 and 2014, units held for seasonal use and not available for long term rent increased by 12%. See id. at 3.

¹² See generally SMS, supra note 1.

This measure may help to facilitate the enforcement of county land use laws that would otherwise protect our residential housing supply from illegal transient vacation rental uses. Specifically, the proposed new category of “unsworn falsification to authorities” may address the known and growing practice of illegal transient vacation rental operators to advise their customers to lie to county inspectors, regarding the occurrence of transient vacation rental activity on their properties. Such a practice can easily frustrate land use enforcement efforts and further inhibit the protection of our islands’ housing supply.

To more properly place liability on those who directly benefit from illegal transient vacation rental activity and the intentional frustration of county land use enforcement efforts, OHA respectfully suggests that the Committee consider further prohibiting the incitement of unsworn falsification to authorities as described in this measure’s proposed new subsection (b) of the amended HRS § 710-1063.

Mahalo nui loa for the opportunity to testify on this measure.

RE: HB 807, RELATING TO OFFENSES AGAINST PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Chair Lee, Vice Chair San Buenaventura, and members of the committee:

The Chamber is in support of HB 807 which amends Chapter 710-1063 HRS by adding “Knowingly making a false statement to a county inspector a crime within the offense of unsworn falsification to authorities.” Pursuant to this section, unsworn falsification to authorities is a misdemeanor.

The Chamber is Hawaii’s leading statewide business advocacy organization, representing about 2,000+ businesses. Approximately 80% of our members are small businesses with less than 20 employees. As the “Voice of Business” in Hawaii, the organization works on behalf of members and the entire business community to improve the state’s economic climate and to foster positive action on issues of common concern.

We understand that this bill is in response to the “Monster Homes” problem that has recently been identified as a problem in the City and County of Honolulu. The proliferation of “Monster Homes” is a direct result of the lack of available housing at all price points on Oahu. “Monster Homes” which are differentiated from “Multi-Generational Homes” are essentially “Apartment Building” being built and operated in a residential zoned community.

The City is presently in the process of developing amendments to the Land Use Ordinance (LUO) to address these unauthorized uses in residential zoned communities. Under the present LUO, no more than five (5) unrelated people are allowed to live in a single-family residence. When inspectors visit these “Monster Homes,” many of which have more than 10 bedrooms and about the same number of bathrooms, the responses from the existing tenants are that they are all related.

We understand and support the proposed bill is intended to provide inspectors with more authority to penalize tenants who are making false statements.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify.

The Honorable Chris Lee, Chair
The Honorable Joy A. San Buenaventura, Vice Chair and Members
House Committee on Judiciary

Dear Chair Lee, Vice Chair San Buenaventura, and Members:

HI Good Neighbor is a group of concerned citizens from around the island who are strongly opposed to the proliferation of large detached dwellings, also called “monster homes,” throughout Oahu’s residential neighborhoods.

We write to strongly support HB807, relating to offenses against public administration.

We have been deeply concerned with the proliferation of monster homes and have been extremely troubled by how many of these homes have been built without regard to the building code, zoning code, construction safety, licensure, and tax laws.

One of the most troubling aspects of this issue, however, is the potential for the builders and operators of these structures to make false or misleading statements to county building or tax inspectors to avoid scrutiny or penalties. HB807 would help to address this problem by making it a misdemeanor to make false or misleading statements to a county inspector in the course of the inspector’s investigation.

We have seen numerous instances of “monster home” builders doing work without permits, making interior renovations not properly shown on building plans, and renting out rooms in violation of occupancy standards. By providing an additional tool in HB807, we believe that county building and tax inspectors will be able to more effectively do their important work and crack down on these violators.

We would like to note that this measure would also help to tackle the issue of illegal vacation rentals, which often occurs within these “monster homes.”

We thank you for the opportunity to provide our opinion on this important measure and ask for your favorable action on HB807.

Mahalo nui loa,

Comments:

This testimony is being sent in SUPPORT of HB807.

It is currently almost impossible for inspectors pursuing a complaint about illegal transient vacation rentals to issue a citation for a violation because of the lies the property owners and their tenants tell them about being friends or family members.

This emboldens those who conduct the illegal activity and encourages more property owners to follow suit with their own vacation rentals.

Illegal vacation rentals have overwhelmed and surrounded many owner-occupants and long-term tenants in the Apartment Precinct of Waikiki, and in neighborhoods throughout Oahu and other islands.

Making it a crime, even as a misdemeanor, to lie to county inspectors and government officials will help to discourage this illegal activity, and will also be a way to fine those who continue it.

Thank you for considering passing House Bill 807.

Dear Chair Lee, Vice Chair San Buenaventura, and Members:

I support HB807. I am deeply concerned with the proliferation of "monster homes" and am troubled by how many of these structures have been built without regard to the building code, zoning code, construction safety, licensure, and tax laws.

There are no consequences for owners and builders of these structures who make false or misleading statements to county building or tax inspectors. HB807 would help to address this problem by making it a misdemeanor for lying to a county inspector in the course of the inspector's investigation.

This additional enforcement tool would assist the various counties in addressing the issues created by the owners and builders of monster homes. Many monster homes are suspected or have been cited as illegal vacation rentals due to the high number of bedrooms they contain, and HB807 will be helpful in addressing this issue as well.

This additional enforcement tool would assist the various counties in addressing the issues created by the owners and builders of monster homes. Many monster homes are suspected or have been cited as illegal vacation rentals due to the high number of bedrooms they contain, and HB807 will be helpful in addressing this issue as well.

HB-807 SUPPORT - JUD 2/5/2019 2:05PM

Testimony for JUD on 2/5/2019 2:05PM

Dear Chair Lee, Vice Chair San Buenaventura, and Members:

I support HB807. I am deeply concerned with the proliferation of "monster homes" and am troubled by how many of these structures have been built without regard to the building code, zoning code, construction safety, licensure, and tax laws.

There are no consequences for owners and builders of these structures who make false or misleading statements to county building or tax inspectors. HB807 would help to address this problem by making it a misdemeanor for lying to a county inspector in the course of the inspector's investigation.

This additional enforcement tool would assist the various counties in addressing the issues created by the owners and builders of monster homes. Many monster homes are suspected or have been cited as illegal vacation rentals due to the high number of bedrooms they contain, and HB807 will be helpful in addressing this issue as well.

There are no consequences for owners and builders of these structures who make false or misleading statements to county building or tax inspectors. HB807 would help to address this problem by making it a misdemeanor for lying to a county inspector in the course of the inspector's investigation.

This additional enforcement tool would assist the various counties in addressing the issues created by the owners and builders of monster homes. Many monster homes are suspected or have been cited as illegal vacation rentals due to the high number of bedrooms they contain, and HB807 will be helpful in addressing this issue as well.

HB-807 SUPPORT - JUD 2/5/2019 2:05PM

Testimony for JUD on 2/5/2019 2:05PM

Dear Chair Lee, Vice Chair San Buenaventura, and Members:

I support HB807. I am deeply concerned with the proliferation of "monster homes" and am troubled by how many of these structures have been built without regard to the building code, zoning code, construction safety, licensure, and tax laws.

There are no consequences for owners and builders of these structures who make false or misleading statements to county building or tax inspectors. HB807 would help to address this problem by making it a misdemeanor for lying to a county inspector in the course of the inspector's investigation.

This additional enforcement tool would assist the various counties in addressing the issues created by the owners and builders of monster homes. Dear Chair Lee, Vice Chair San Buenaventura, and Members:

I support HB807. I am deeply concerned with the proliferation of "monster homes" and am troubled by how many of these structures have been built without regard to the building code, zoning code, construction safety, licensure, and tax laws.

There are no consequences for owners and builders of these structures who make false or misleading statements to county building or tax inspectors. HB807 would help to address this problem by making it a misdemeanor for lying to a county inspector in the course of the inspector's investigation.

This additional enforcement tool would assist the various counties in addressing the issues created by the owners and builders of monster homes. Many monster homes are suspected or have been cited as illegal vacation rentals due to the high number of bedrooms they contain, and HB807 will be helpful in addressing this issue as well.

Mahalo,
Gregg Hutchings

HB-807 SUPPORT - JUD 2/5/2019 2:05PM

Testimony for JUD on 2/5/2019 2:05PM

Dear Chair Lee, Vice Chair San Buenaventura, and Members:

I support HB807. I am deeply concerned with the proliferation of "monster homes" and am troubled by how many of these structures have been built without regard to the building code, zoning code, construction safety, licensure, and tax laws.

There are no consequences for owners and builders of these structures who make false or misleading statements to county building or tax inspectors. HB807 would help to address this problem by making it a misdemeanor for lying to a county inspector in the course of the inspector's investigation.

This additional enforcement tool would assist the various counties in addressing the issues created by the owners and builders of monster homes. Many monster homes are suspected or have been cited as illegal vacation rentals due to the high number of bedrooms they contain, and HB807 will be helpful in addressing this issue as well.
