Response: Pursuant to Section 42F-102, Hawaii Revised Statutes, this grant shall be used for a public purpose.

II. Background and Summary

This section shall clearly and concisely summarize and highlight the contents of the request in such a way as to provide the State Legislature with a broad understanding of the request. Please include the following:

1. A brief description of the applicant's background;

The Hawaii Family Law Clinic, dba ALA KUOLA, hereinafter Ala Kuola, is a Honolulu based non-profit organization that provides an evidence-based violence prevention program to male high school athletes and a companion program to female athletes. Ala Kuola also provides services to the public for victims of domestic abuse with the completion and filing of temporary restraining orders (TRO's) in the Family Court on Oahu. Ala Kuola has provided this assistance to several thousand individuals and families since opening its doors in 2007.

Throughout the years, domestic violence together with incidents of sexual assault and its consequent problems have become more prevalent throughout the State of Hawaii. This has led Ala Kuola to undertake a positive proactive role by providing an evidenced based youth gender intervention program based on an existing nationally recognized evidenced based program known nationally as Coaching Boys Into Men (CBIM). Ala Kuola, has been engaged with many public high schools throughout the state of Hawaii for approximately the past seven years and continues to recruit participants to extend the reach of implementation of CBIM statewide to athletic coaches and community participants. After receiving formal training by a trainer certified to conduct training with the use of the CBIM curriculum, coaches will be prepared to deliver powerful messages to youth including, but not limited to respecting women and girls. It will allow coaches and community participants to deliver the CBIM curriculum yet allows them the flexibility to use cultural references that will bring meaning and applicability to Hawai'i's youth, i.e. kuleana, pono, malama, etc. while still in line with the core curriculum.

Along with its implementation of Coaching Boys Into Men to many high schools statewide, Ala Kuola is looking to provide a companion program to female athletes called Athletes As Leaders.

From 2016 to 2019, Ala Kuola has worked in partnership with the Sexual Violence Prevention Program, Department of Health, Maternal Child Health Branch who has provided valuable guidance. Ala Kuola continues to work in partnership with the Data Governance Office of the State of Hawaii Department of Education.

2. The goals and objectives related to the request;

Goal:

Coaching Boys Into Men: Provide formal training, re-training and support to 30+ athletic coaches to deliver evidence based curriculum to prevent dating violence and sexual abuse

Athletes As Leaders: Provide training and support to 7 athletic coaches to deliver a curriculum based on research and best practices in sexual assault prevention for female athletes.

Objective:

Coaching Boys Into Men: To have athletic coaches statewide trained to implement the CBIM curriculum to approximately 1,400+ male athletes.

Athletes As Leaders: To have athletic coaches statewide trained to implement the Athletes As leaders curriculum to approximately 70+ females athletes.

3. The public purpose and need to be served;

The public purpose of Coaching Boys Into Men and Athletes as Leaders is to reduce and prevent relationship abuse, sexual assault and to promote respectful behaviors.

Dating violence is a type of intimate partner violence and can occur between two people in a close relationship. Dating violence can be physical, emotional, psychological, or sexual. It is a prevalent issue that has serious long-term and short-term effects. Many teens do not report it because they are afraid to tell friends or family. It is reported by the Center for Disease Control, that among adult victims of rape, physical violence, and stalking by an intimate partner, 22% of women and 15% of men first experience some form of partner violence between 11 and 17 years of age. Further, approximately 9% of high school students report being hit, slapped, or physically hurt on purpose by a boyfriend or girlfriend.

Those who experienced dating violence can suffer negative effects on health throughout their lifetime. Youth victims are more likely to experience symptoms of depression and anxiety, engage in unhealthy behaviors, like using tobacco, drugs, alcohol, or exhibit antisocial behaviors and think about suicide. (Foshee VA McNaughton Reyes et al., Journal for Adolescent Health 2013) Youths who are victims of dating violence in high school are at higher risk for victimization during college. (Smith PH, White JW, Holland. LS, American Journal of Public H

According to the Center for Disease Control, CDC's Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance System (YRBSS), Results of the 2019 Hawai'i State and Counties High School Youth Risk Behavior Survey (YRBS) and Cross-Year Comparisons, the following was reported:

- Forced to have Sexual Intercourse:
Females- 2,853
Males – 2,863
- Experienced sexual violence by anyone. Including kissing, touching, or physically forced to have sexual intercourse when they did not want to, one or more times during the 12 months before the survey:
Females – 2,779
Males – 2,779
- Were electronically bullied. Counting being bullied through texting, Instagram, Facebook, or other social media, during the 12 months before the survey.
Females – 2,843
Males – 2,813
- Experienced sexual dating violence. Being forced to do sexual things (counting such things as kissing, touching or being physically forced to have sexual intercourse) when they did not want to, by someone they were dating or going out with one or more times.

Females – 1,479

Males – 1,309

- Were bullied on school property during the 12 months before the survey.
Females – 2,847
Males- 2,825
- Experienced physical dating violence. Being physically hurt on purpose (counting such things as being hit, slammed into something or injured with an object or weapon by someone they were dating or going out with, one or more times during the 12 months before the survey.
- Did not go to school because they felt unsafe at school or on their way to school. on at least one day during the 30 days before the survey.
Females – 2,855
Males - 2,874

Coaching Boys Into Men

According to the study conducted by the University of California Davis, (Miller et.al, 2012), young men exposed to the Coaching Boys Into Men Program (CBIM) were significantly more likely to report actually taking action to stop harmful and disrespectful behaviors amongst their peers. The CBIM model has the ability to facilitate positive change in our present day and future environment. By teaching the young men of today through the implementation of this program, we nurture healthy attitudes towards girls and women in their future relationships as adults. Approximately one in three adolescent girls in the U.S. is a victim of physical, verbal, or emotional abuse from a dating partner (Davis, 2008). Interpersonal violence, also known as relationship violence and intimate partner violence, is a public health threat that must be taken seriously. A youth behavior surveillance done by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Center for Disease Control and Prevention (2012) found that 9% of female high school students in Hawaii that were surveyed, had experience dating violence and that victims of interpersonal violence are more at-risk to developing many negative outcomes, such as substance abuse, risky sexual behavior and attempted suicide. By engaging with CBIM as an intervention to reduce interpersonal violence, we may reduce the incidence of the maladaptive behaviors that relate to its experience. The study by Miller et. al., (2012, noted that previous violence-prevention efforts have not utilized coaches as partners. CBIM is an innovative program in that it utilizes a coach's relationship with their male athletes and taps into their ability to serve as positive role models. A study by Dobosz and Beaty (1999), found that high school athletes demonstrated significantly greater leadership ability than did non-athletes, which implies that athletes may serve as models for their peers. Simply put, the benefits of the CBIM program can extend beyond high school athletes to the general population of Hawai'i high school students as a whole. Using this program with the target population of male high school athletes is also important because prior research has shown that male college athletes who had participated in aggressive high school sports (e.g. football, basketball, wrestling) reported using more physical and psychological aggression and sexual coercion in their dating relationships than did those who did not participate in aggressive sports (Forbes, Adams-Curtis, Palkaka & White (2006)

4. Describe the target population to be served; and
5. Describe the geographic coverage.

The target population to serve will be adolescent young male and female athletes (high school) and youth. CBIM and Athletes As Leaders will be made available in all communities statewide.

III. Service Summary and Outcomes

The Service Summary shall include a detailed discussion of the applicant's approach to the request. The applicant shall clearly and concisely specify the results, outcomes, and measures of effectiveness from this request. The applicant shall:

1. Describe the scope of work, tasks and responsibilities;

In implementing CBIM, Ala Kuola will act as guide, leader and trainer in providing coaches and community participants with the tools and training they will require in administering the program to their athletes. All trainings are conducted by the Program Administrator formally trained with the use of the CBIM curriculum. Training of coaches are done on a one to one basis or in a group setting when this opportunity arises. Participants are trained with the use of all training materials known as the Coaches Kits. Trainings may consist of interactive role-play in the use of the curriculum as well as identifying abuse behaviors. Ala Kuola, will recruit and work with school coaches and community athletic programs throughout the State to facilitate training with athletic coaches to help them gain a firm understanding and to efficiently and effectively use the CBIM Coaching Kits. These kits include a series of training cards that offer strategies for opening the conversation about dating violence, as well as techniques for helping their athletes develop appropriate and healthy attitudes toward women and girls. Once trained with the use of the curriculum, coaches can set aside 10-15 minutes per week to lead their athletes through the training card series and open dialogue on each subject matter. The training card series covers the following; (1) Personal Responsibility; (2) Use of insulting language; (3) Disrespectful behavior towards women and girls; (4) Digital disrespectful i.e inappropriate use of social media; (5) Understanding consent; (6) Bragging about sexual reputation; (7) Responsibility of Physical Strength; (8) When aggression crosses the line; (9) There's no use of relationship abuse; (10) Modeling respectful behaviors towards women and girls. Each training component is designed to encourage youths to discuss and practice respect and non-violence for themselves, women, girls and others.

Although the presentation to their athletes is intended to be brief, it's the consistency of the message and repeated weekly lessons that will make the greatest impact. The "Training Cards", series provides talking points to be addressed, and coaches are also encouraged to create, along the way using life or personal examples, strategies in delivering the messages to their athletes. Coaches are also encouraged to draw upon analogies of current events and past events as it relates to their discussions concerning partner abuse and disrespectful behaviors that many youths hear about through local or national media. Ala Kuola, will not only provide training with the use of the curriculum and all materials but will also continually provide technical support to all engaged with the program.

Using the CBIM model with young men and youth will educate them in how to treat women and girls with respect, and thus fostering their ability to build health relationships as adults.

Athletes As Leaders

Athletes As Leaders is a companion program to Coaching Boys Into Men. It is a program for high school athletes on girl sports teams. The program aims to empower female-identified youth to take an active role in promoting healthy relationships and ending sexual violence. It is based on research and best practices in the field of sexual assault prevention. Athletes are encouraged to become leaders in changing peer norms and school climate to a culture of safety and respect. The program is designed to be used in conjunction with other programs with intentional efforts towards men and boys (R. Miliman, Athletes As Leaders).

Similar to Coaching Boys Into Men, Ala Kuola will aid high schools coaches with training with the use of the curriculum. Training may consist of interactive role play and use of program created video. The curriculum is designed to create participants' dialog and self-expression. Ala Kuola will assist with the training and technical support when needed. Coaches will be requested to set aside 20 minutes per week for the delivery of the program.

Program Session included:

- Introduction and Group Agreements

- Challenging Gender Stereotypes
- Privilege and Oppression
- Self- Image and Standards of Beauty
- Rumor Spreading
- Relationships
- Consent
- Messages About Manhood
- Girl Positivity
- Celebrating our Successes

Surveys are used both prior to the delivery of the program and post to determine learning outcomes. Ala Kuola will seek a Data Sharing Agreement with the Department of Education Data Sharing Office for accessibility to data collected.

2. Provide a projected annual timeline for accomplishing the results or outcomes of the service;

July 1, 2022- June 30, 2023

Task	J	A	S	O	N	D	J	F	M	A	M	J
Recruit coaches and community participants for CBIM participants	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X
Conduct training coaches and participants with use of CBIM program curriculum and distribution of materials	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X

3. Describe its quality assurance and evaluation plans for the request. Specify how the applicant plans to monitor, evaluate, and improve their results; and

As an evaluation tool with the implementation of CBIM program, all participant athletes and coaches alike will be asked to complete surveys pre and post delivery of the CBIM curriculum. These surveys will be used to evaluate the delivery of the curriculum and measure pre and post learning outcomes. The surveys do not seek any identifiable information of the student athlete. Since any survey administered to a Hawai'i Department of Education (HIDOE) student is the property of the HIDOE, Ala Kuola entered into a Data Sharing Agreement (DSA) with the HIDOE Data Governance Office that will allow access to data gathered from the surveys. The data collected will be synthesized and analyzed by the Program Administrator and staff and collaboration with the Department of Health Maternal and Child Health Branch, Sexual Violence Prevention.

4. List the measure(s) of effectiveness that will be reported to the State agency through which grant funds are appropriated (the expending agency). The measure(s) will provide a standard and objective way for the State to assess the program's achievement or accomplishment. Please note that if the level of appropriation differs from the amount included in this application that the measure(s) of effectiveness will need to be updated and transmitted to the expending agency.
 - Between fifteen to twenty coaches and community participants will be trained to implement CBIM
 - Approximately 1,600 male youths will receive the CBIM curriculum
 - Pre and Post data will show learning out comes
 - Between five to eight coaches will be trained to implement Athletes As Leaders
