Governor's Potential Veto List

On June 24, 2019, Governor Ige released a list of 20 bills, as required by the State Constitution that he might potentially veto. Those bills included SB 1292 which would require vacation rental platforms, such as Airbnb, to collect taxes from vacation rental owners. I voted in favor of this bill with reservations because the bill was estimated to bring in $46 million for the state and its passage was tied to many Agriculture and Environmental bills that needed funding. Another bill on the list is my commercial hemp program bill, SB 1353, which the Governor called premature and unenforceable. I admit that the bill isn't perfect, but I'd like it to become law so that our state doesn't fall further behind on the economic benefits our farmers will see with hemp. If the Governor does veto these and any of the other 18 bills on his list, then the Legislature would need to come into a Special Session on July 9th to override those bills if they so choose. It takes 17 votes in the Senate and 34 votes in the House to override a veto.

"Listen Story"

My next Listen Story community meeting will be on Saturday, August 24, 2019, from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. at the Ewa Mahiko District Park Meeting Room.

On June 18, Sen. Gabbard was interviewed for a documentary on clean oceans by Sea Inspirations, partnering with Ocean Voyages Institute. OVI collected over 40 tons of ghost nets, plastic, and garbage in 24 days, just to the east of Hawai'i. They're distributing tracking devices about the size of a bowling ball to mariners who sail the oceans and asking them to attach them to garbage patches as they encounter them. OVI checks the satellite to find out where the garbage is and they pick it up and dispose of it. They brought the 40 tons to Honolulu, where it was transported to H-power, a waste-to-energy facility that converts garbage into electricity.

Ball Corporation Tour

I toured the Ball Corporation aluminum packaging facility in Campbell Industrial Park with Senator Fevella on June 5th. Ball Corporation, founded in 1880, is the world's largest aluminum beverage and aluminum aerosol can maker. They employ 18,300 people in 90 manufacturing locations with operations in North and Central America, South America, Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and Africa. In Kapolei, 40 people work at the manufacturing plant. Reducing single-use plastics is a huge priority of mine as the Agriculture and Environment Committee Chair. As the #1 beverage container in the world, aluminum cans are a viable alternative to single-use plastic beverage containers. Metals are infinitely recyclable and within 60 days aluminum can be recycled and be back on the store shelves. Ball made 220 million aluminum cans last year. During the tour, I learned that we have a state law that prohibits bottled water from being sold in a can unless the water has its own exclusive line. This means you can't put soft drinks and water through the same line, which makes bottling water in cans cost-prohibitive. This law seems a bit outdated given the need to move away from plastics, so I'll be looking at legislation in 2020 to repeal that section of law so that water can be sold in aluminum cans here locally.

Kunia Loa Ridge Farm Lands Tour

I had the opportunity to get a tour of Kunia Loa Ridge Farm Lands with Senator Gil Riviere on June 20th. Kunia Loa is a non-profit organization, formed in 2013, and has 854 acres of agricultural land, subdivided into 99 Lots on 99 year renewable leases. The lots range from 5 to 35 acres. Kunia Loa is located at the northern edge of my Senate district, accessible from Kunia Road through a gated entry, neighboring Fat Law Farms, Syngenta, Monsanto, US Army, and across from Hawai'i Country Club. There has been a lot of controversy and media coverage about Kunia Loa in the past several years related to illegal structures and City permitting violations. The situation at Kunia Loa is that no dwellings are permitted and that there are no public utilities, such as water, sewer, and electricity. They use non-potable water supplied by the Kunia Water Association for agriculture. There are many different fruits, herbs, and flowers grown at Kunia Loa, including avocados, mangoes, jackfruit, breadfruit, and mamaki. While there are still violations being cleared up at Kunia Loa, I was impressed by the dedication of the Board of Directors, including their President Alan Sitt, to make things right and to move agriculture forward in our state.

Day in Hawai'i. The companion bill, House Bill 349, was introduced by House Speaker Scott Saiki and has the same noble purpose. HB 349 passed the Legislature and was signed into law by Governor Ige on June 25, 2019. International Day of Yoga was declared unanimously by the United Nations General Assembly in 2014. The Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi in his UN address suggested the date of June 21st as it is the longest day of the year in the northern hemisphere, shortest in the southern hemisphere, and shares a special significance in many parts of the world. The first International Day of Yoga was observed around the world on June 21st, 2015. In India 35,985 people, including Narendra Modi and dignitaries from 84 nations, performed 21 yoga asanas for 35 minutes in New Delhi. They established two Guinness World Records for the largest yoga class and for the largest number of participating nationalities. In San Francisco, 5,000 participants gathered in Marina Green park to practice yoga. The day was observed by millions across the world. The practice of yoga is beneficial to the people of Hawai'i, including children, as it lowers stress, reduces health problems and health insurance costs, as well as promotes healthy living among adults and the elderly population.

On June 21, Sen. Gabbard attended an International Yoga Day celebration at Still & Moving Yoga Studio in Honolulu where he presented an Honorary Certificate from the State Legislature to Dr. Raj Kumar, President of the Gandhi International Institute for Peace.

International Yoga Day Celebration

I presented an Honorary Certificate from the State Senate to the Gandhi International Institute of Peace to recognize their work in organizing the inaugural Hawai'i Celebration of International Yoga Day at the Still & Moving Center yoga studio in Honolulu on June 21st. I was the author of SB 267 in 2019, which designates June 21 of each year as International Yoga
