

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

Senator Laura Thielen

DISTRICT 25: KAILUA - WAIMANALO - HAWAI'I KAI

Aloha Hawaii Kai!

We have passed the halfway point of the legislative session, where Senate Bills have crossed to the House and House Bills are now in the Senate.

Here's a brief update of some of the bills that are moving along.

Please feel free to contact me about any legislation that is important to you or for any questions regarding how to navigate the website.

EDUCATION ROADSHOW

Representative Cynthia Thielen and I co-hosted mock Legislative hearings at Kailua Intermediate School and LeJardin Academy.

The students were given two actual bills introduced this session. They prepared and delivered testimony in support or in opposition for each bill.

I am always intrigued and impressed by the arguments offered by these intelligent and thoughtful teenagers. This engaging activity helps students understand the legislative process and some of the issues surrounding the bills.

RECOGNIZING OCEAN SAFETY SERVICES

As a co-convenor of the Outdoor Heritage Caucus, I advocate for laws and programs that provide for safe outdoor recreational activities.

This year, the Outdoor Heritage Caucus celebrated the importance of our Ocean Safety Officers.

Hawaii's lifeguards are internationally renowned for their competence in the ocean. Many people owe their lives to these individuals. We are grateful for all their hard work to keep us, our ohana and our visitors safe.

THE BUDGET

The Council on Revenues prepares revenue forecasts for the legislature and the governor every quarter. These estimates are used to prepare the state budget.

The Council on Revenues downgraded the forecast in January and March, a total of $500 million, requiring the legislature to cut the Governor's proposed budget by $500 million.

We will be voting on the final budget May 2, 2017.

The "Art at the Capitol" event will be held on April 7th, First Friday, at 5-7pm. Please join us for this free event to view the collection of work from local artists that adorn the offices at the Capitol. This event is sponsored by the Hawaii State Foundation on Culture and the Arts.

This caucus brings all the female legislators together on women's issues no matter what district or party they are from. Joining forces brings more attention to gender equality and family issues and tends to move bills along. There are currently 14 caucus bills still moving, including:
