

Kurt Osaki

Born and raised on the island of Kaua'i, Kurt Osaki learned the values of commitment and hard work at an early age. After graduating from the University of Hawai'i with a BFA in Graphic Design, Kurt furthered his education at the Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, California, which is ranked one of the top ten art schools in the nation. In 1995, he established Osaki Design Inc., now Osaki Creative Group, located in both Berkeley, California, and Honolulu, Hawai'i.

Specializing in many services including sports branding, packaging, communication, and environmental design, Osaki Creative Group provides a range of services to a diverse set of clients. From designing logos and uniforms of professional sports teams to crafting packaging of gourmet chocolates, exceptional creativity and innovation are embodied in every project.

With clients including the National Football League (NFL), National Hockey League (NHL), nationally renowned universities, and corporations throughout the United States and Japan, Kurt brings decades of valuable experience to the table. He has helped companies and organizations delve deeper into how they think about their brand, not only through the image they present but through the vision and value they create. His vision and one-of-a-kind ideas offer new perspectives on how to convey a unique and inspirational story through design.

As a community leader, Kurt has extensive experience in engaging with different cultures and communities including cities, state and county governments, as well as non-profit organizations. His 100% motto exemplifies his dedication to providing clients with outstanding results time and time again.
