SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS TO COLLECT DATA RELATING TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF AN INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY WORKFORCE IN HAWAII, EVALUATE THE COLLECTED DATA, AND DEVELOP A STRATEGY TO PROVIDE BETTER INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY TRAINING.

1 WHEREAS, information technology has become a significant 2 component of Hawaii's economy that propels the prosperity of the 3 State as an economic driver that covers a wide range of 4 industries; and

5
6 WHEREAS, according to the "Hawai'i IT Workforce Needs
7 Report" published in November 2021 by SMS Research and Marketing
8 Services, Inc., the information technology industry contributed
9 $2,037,000,000 or 2.2 percent to Hawaii's total nominal gross 10 domestic product (GDP) in 2018; and

11
12 WHEREAS, despite not contributing as much nominal GDP as 13 the real estate, accommodations, and retail industries, the 14 information technology industry had the highest annual real GDP
15 growth rate among all sectors between 2001 and 2018 at 4.9 16 percent; and

17
18 WHEREAS, in 2020, the information technology sector in 19 Hawaii encompassed 12,740 jobs; 3,834 hires; and 894 average 20 annual job openings; and

21
22 WHEREAS, the average hourly wage for Hawaii's technology
23 industry is $39.92, which is more than double the $15.53
24 survival level hourly wage for individuals in the State as 25 reported in the 2020 ALICE Report for Hawaii; and

26
27 WHEREAS, the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics data
28 shows that the projected increase in computer and technology
29 occupations between 2020 to 2030 is thirteen percent nationally; 30 however, the projected employment increase in the computer and

1 mathematics occupation group in Hawaii between 2018 and 2028 is 2 limited to seven percent; and

3
4 WHEREAS, the demand for employees in the information
5 technology field in Hawaii exceeds the number of available
6 individuals seeking jobs in the industry; and

7
8 WHEREAS, ensuring that the State's workforce has an 9 adequate and efficient education in information technology is 10 essential for the continued growth of Hawaii's economy; and

11
12 WHEREAS, to develop a thriving information technology
13 workforce, the State must improve various aspects of its 14 workforce development programs; and

15
16 WHEREAS, one of the fundamental components of building a
17 robust qualified workforce is the collection of relevant data 18 that will enable better evaluation of available programs and 19 contribute to better planning for the future; now, therefore,

20
21 BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Thirty-second
