TO THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY & HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS

SENATE BILL NO. 211 S.D. 2 H.D. 1

March 21, 2023

2:00 P.M.

Conference Room 325 & Videoconference

RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

Chair Tarnas, Vice-Chair Takayama and Members of the Committee,

S.B. 211 S.D. 2 H.D. 1 proposes to add a new section which provides that service or compensation awarded to an employee by a final court decision, arbitration award, or court-approved settlement shall be considered "service" under Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) § 88-21 or "compensation" under HRS § 88-21.5.

The ERS Board of Trustees would support S.B. 211 S.D. 2 H.D. 1 with further proposed amendments, which are attached. Absent the proposed amendments, the ERS and its Board of Trustees would have to oppose.

1. ERS's concerns about S.B. 211; Proposed amendments

The ERS had opposed the original S.B. 211 because of concerns about the bill, including: (1) negative impacts on the ERS's tax-qualified status, due to violation of the "definitely determinable" requirement, the exclusive benefit rule and other IRS requirements; (2) pension spiking; (3) administrative burden; and (4) unwarranted increases in the ERS's Unfunded Actuarial Accrued Liability (UAAL).

In the alternative, the ERS had requested proposed amendments to S.B. 211, which contain safeguards intended to protect the ERS's tax qualified status and prevent

of the State of Hawaii

negative impacts on the ERS's unfunded liability. See ERS's testimony submitted to Senate Committee on Labor and Technology, attached.

At a hearing on February 10, 2023, the Senate Committee on Labor and Technology recommended that S.B. 211 be passed with amendments, and the committee adopted the ERS's proposed amendments. See S.S.C.R. 342 and S.B. 211 S.D. 1.

On recommendation of its outside tax counsel, the ERS submitted proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 1, for compliance with the IRC and protection of the ERS's tax qualified status. At a hearing on March 1, 2023, the Senate Committees on Ways and Means and Judiciary recommended that S.B. 211 S.D. 1 be passed with amendments. However, the committees did not adopt the ERS's proposed amendments. See S.S.C.R. 1084 and S.B. 211 S.D. 2.

The ERS submitted proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2, for compliance with the IRC and protection of the ERS's tax qualified status. At a hearing on March 14, 2023, the House Committee on Labor and Government Operations (LGO) recommended that S.B. 211 S.D. 2 be passed with amendments. However, the committee did not adopt the ERS's proposed amendments. See H.S.C.R. 1313 and S.B. 211 S.D. 2 H.D. 1.

2. ERS's ongoing concerns about the ERS's tax qualified status.

a. ERS's tax qualified status.

The ERS is a tax-qualified governmental plan under the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"). To maintain its qualified governmental plan status, the ERS plan must be administered according to its "plan provisions" or "plan documents" set forth at HRS Chapter 88 (including HRS § 88-22.5), as well as IRC § 401(a). § 88-22.5 provides that "the [ERS] shall be administered in accordance with the requirements of section 401(a)... of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended." ERS membership, service credit, compensation, retirement eligibility, and other ERS benefits are governed by, and therefore may only be provided pursuant to, HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules.

As long as the ERS continues to meet the qualification requirements, the members of the ERS will receive favorable federal income tax treatment of their ERS benefits, and the ERS will receive favorable tax treatment on its investment earnings. Should the ERS be administered in a manner that is inconsistent with HRS Chapter 88 and IRC § 401(a), the ERS's status as a qualified governmental plan would be placed at risk.

The ERS risks disqualification if it fails to follow its plan provisions, including HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules. See 26 C.F.R. § 1.401-1(b)(3) (stating "The law is concerned not only with the form of a plan but also with its effects in operation");

Rev. Proc. 2021-30 at 19-20, 2021-31 I.R.B. 172 (July 16, 2021), § 5.01(2) (defining “Qualification Failure” to mean “any failure that adversely affects the qualification of a plan”) and § 5.01(2)(b) (defining “Operational Failure” to mean “a Qualification Failure ... that arises solely from the failure to follow plan provisions.” See also DNA Pro Ventures, Inc. Emp. Stock Ownership Plan v. Comm’r of Internal Revenue, 856 F.3d 557, 559 (8th Cir. 2017) (“A plan may be disqualified for operational failures, which occur if a plan fails to operate in accordance with § 401(a) statutory requirements or fails to follow the terms of the plan document”). See, e.g., Forsyth Emergency Servs., P.A. v. Comm’r of Internal Revenue, 68 T.C. 881, 891 (1977) (plan that operated in variance with its terms was disqualified by the IRS).

Public pension plans such as the ERS risk disqualification for noncompliance with their governing statutes and/or IRS requirements. See, e.g., Zilberberg v. Bd. of Trustees, Teachers’ Pension & Annuity Fund, 468 N.J. Super. 504, 510–11, 260 A.3d 45, 49 (App. Div. 2021) (“Repayment of interest to [the pension fund] is crucial to maintain the pension plan’s tax-qualified status. ... [T]he pension system and its members could face challenges to their status”); Robertson v. Pennsylvania Pub. Sch. Employees’ Ret. Sys., 162 A.3d 569, 574 (Pa. Commw. Ct. 2017) (the retirement system, “as a tax-qualified plan under 26 U.S.C. § 401(a), must ensure that a distribution is not only consistent with the terms of the Retirement Code, but also complies with the Internal Revenue Code.”)

The Legislature has recognized the importance of “[protecting] the status of the Employees’ Retirement System (ERS) as a tax-qualified retirement plan” and that disqualification of the plan would negatively impact ERS members and the State of Hawaii:

Hawaii’s ERS is currently a tax-qualified retirement plan under the IRC. Loss of this status would be detrimental to both the ERS and its members, resulting in the pre-tax treatment on member contributions to be eliminated and requiring ERS members to pay federal income taxes annually on the value or increase in value of a member’s account without receiving a distribution. This could amount to thousands of dollars in taxes for members.

b. Violation of definitely determinable requirement.

The ERS’s tax concerns about S.B. 211 included violation of the IRS’s “definitely determinable” requirement.

IRC § 401(a)(25) provides that “[a] defined benefit plan shall not be treated as providing definitely determinable benefits unless, ... the amount of any benefit is to be determined ... in a way which precludes employer discretion.” (emphasis added)

“A pension plan within the meaning of section 401(a) is a plan established and maintained by an employer primarily to provide systematically for the payment of

definitely determinable benefits to his employees over a period of years, usually for life, after retirement. Retirement benefits generally are measured by, and based on, such factors as years of service and compensation received by the employees.” See Treas. Reg. § 1.401-1(b)(1)(i). (emphasis added).

“[I]f, in the case of a defined benefit pension plan, the benefits on behalf of each participant are determined in accordance with a stipulated formula that is not subject to the discretion of the employer,” the definitely determinable benefit requirements of § 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the regulations are satisfied. Rev. Rul. 74-385, 1974-2 C.B. 130 (1974) (emphasis added). On the other hand, if the terms of the plan specifically allow the employer to vary the employee’s compensation used in the benefit formula, the plan would violate the definitely determinable rule. See id.

The ERS must comply with the IRC’s “definitely determinable benefit” rule. In Fratinaro v. ERS, 129 Hawai’i 107, 114-15, 295 P.3d 977, 984–85 (App. 2013). The definition of compensation in HRS § 88-21.5 was intended to “satisfy the Code’s requirement that a member’s benefit be ‘definitely determinable.’” In 2004, the Legislature made several amendments to HRS Chapter 88 to conform to the requirements of IRC § 401(a). See S.S.C.R. 2692, S.S.C.R. 2143, and C.C.R. 122-04 in 2004 Senate Journal.

The ERS’s testimony on S.B. 211 provided examples of how S.B. 211, as written, would allow an employer to vary an employee’s compensation used in the benefit formula, which would cause the ERS plan to violate the definitely determinable rule.

c. Violation of exclusive benefit rule.

The ERS’s tax concerns about S.B. 211 also included violation of the IRS’s exclusive benefit rule. The “exclusive benefit rule” is set forth at IRC § 401(a)(2) and HRS § 88-22.5(a)(1). IRC § 401(a)(2) provides that a tax qualified plan must make it “impossible, ... for any part of the corpus or income to be ... used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries.” IRC § 401(a)(2) and HRS § 88-22.5(a) require the ERS to make it impossible for ERS monies to benefit counties and other State agency employers.

The ERS should not be bound by the employer’s and employee’s characterization of back pay as compensation. To the extent that a settlement does not include compensation as defined in HRS § 88-21.5, the ERS should not have to assume a portion of the employer’s liability for its alleged wrongful conduct (discrimination, suspension, termination of claimant, etc.). The exclusive benefit rule bars any mandate by S.B. 211 that the ERS’s corpus and income be used for the benefit of the employer by assuming a portion of the employer’s liability for its alleged wrongful conduct. To the extent that S.B. 211 requires the ERS to confer service, credited service and other retirement benefits in a manner that is not authorized by HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules, this would place the ERS’s tax qualified status at risk with potentially severe negative consequences for the ERS and ERS members and beneficiaries.

d. Impermissible Cash or Deferred Election.

A governmental defined benefit plan generally will not satisfy the requirements of IRC § 401(a) if it includes a cash or deferred arrangement. See Treas. Reg. § 1.401(k)-1(a)(1). A cash or deferred arrangement is any direct or indirect election by an employee to have the employer either provide an amount to the employee in cash that is not currently available or contribute an amount to a trust or provide an accrual or other benefit under a plan deferring the receipt of compensation. See Treas. Reg. § 1.401(k)-1(a)(3)(i).

A settlement between an employee and an employer could provide an employee with discretion as to how a monetary award should be structured. For example, a settlement could be structured to provide the employee with ERS compensation and service as proposed under S.B. 211. Also, a settlement could be structured to provide the employee with a lump sum award that is considered damages and would not result in service or compensation under ERS statutes.

As indicated in the ERS's testimony on S.B. 211, the ERS consulted with its tax counsel regarding the potential impact of S.B. 211 on the ERS's tax qualified status and they indicated in writing that they shared our concerns.

3. ERS's ongoing concerns about unwarranted increases in the ERS's UAAL.

The ERS's testimony on S.B. 211 expressed concern that compliance with awards and settlements as provided in S.B. 211 may result in the ERS's loss of actuarial value should there be untimely/retroactive employer and employee contributions, or employee accrual of benefits. Compliance with such awards and settlement may result in unanticipated and unjustified increases to the ERS's unfunded liability.

The ERS's testimony on S.B. 211 provided examples from the ERS's actuary that illustrated the potential increase in actuarial loss to the ERS.

4. Proposed amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2 H.D. 1.

On recommendation of tax counsel, the ERS submitted proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 1, for compliance with the IRC and protection of the ERS's tax qualified status, including compliance with the IRS's definitely determinable requirement. The Senate Committees on Ways and Means and Judiciary did not adopt the ERS's proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 1. The House committee on LGO did not adopt the ERS's proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2.

The ERS now requests that the House Committee on Judiciary & Hawaiian Affairs adopt the attached proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2. These proposed further amendments include the following:

(1) Section 3 - definition of "Final resolution of claims."

An effective date should be added in the new definition of "Final resolution of claims." After (6), the words "that became final on or after [the effective date of this Act]" should be inserted. These words should be aligned with the left margin, so that they apply to(1) through (6):

(6) A settlement or [Other] other final resolution of an appeal or challenge from which no appeal may be filed or from which no appeal has been filed within the time allowed, that became final on or after [the effective date of this Act].

This effective date was recommended by tax counsel. According to tax counsel, the bill should only apply to final adjudications of a court of competent jurisdiction that are final on or after the effective date of the Act. Without this provision, the ERS's tax qualified status would be placed at risk. If this amendment is not added to the bill, the ERS would be required to oppose S.B. 211 S.D. 2 H.D.1.

(2) Section 2, Section (2)

The proposed amendment to Section 2, Section (2) is intended to protect the ERS's tax qualified status in view of the ERS's deletion of a provision that LGO and the City had concerns about. See discussion in Section 5(2) of this testimony below regarding the deletion of Section 2, Section 1(B)(iii) in the proposed amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2.

(3) Section 2 - sections (3), (5), and (6)

The proposed amendments to Section 2, Sections (3), (5), and (6) regarding employee contributions, employer contributions, and amounts received by employees, respectively, reflect the recommendations of tax counsel, as well as concerns about the ERS's UAAL and administrative burden.

(4) Section 2 - Sections 1(A) and (B)

The proposed amendments to Section 2, Sections 1(A) and (B) reflect the recommendations of tax counsel.

(5) Section 2 – Section (7).

The proposed new Section (7) reflects the recommendations of tax counsel.

5. LGO's and City's concerns

(1) LGO wanted to give the City more time to review the proposed amendments.

Response: The City and ERS have developed and agreed on a joint version of proposed amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2 H.D. 1, which is attached to this testimony.

(2) LGO asked whether the bill would apply to settlements without court adjudication, Response: The original bill applies to decisions in administrative proceedings and arbitrations, in addition to court decisions and court-approved settlements. See definition of "Final adjudication of a court of competent jurisdiction" in Section 3, parts (1), (5), and (6) in SB211, SB211 SD1, and SB211 SD2.

Now the ERS's and City's joint version of proposed amendments expressly includes non-court approved settlements. See Section 3, definition of " final resolution of claims," parts (3) and (6).

(3) LGO was concerned about the following provision, which referred to "sole discretion":

Additionally, the system shall have sole discretion to determine whether the terms of a final adjudication of a court of competent jurisdiction meet the requirements herein and are considered service or compensation as provided in this Chapter.

(Second sentence in Section 2, Section 7 in proposed amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2).

Response: The ERS has deleted this provision.

(4) LGO asked whether a member will have an opportunity to resubmit in order to conform to ERS requirements.

Response: The bill does not preclude the opportunity to resubmit if there are corrections, revisions, or new documents to be reviewed. It is not necessary to amend the bill to state this, since it is part of the administrative review process. No other ERS statute has such a provision.

(5) LGO and the City were concerned about the following provision:

(iii) The final resolution of claims allocates and designates the amount, purpose and nature of back pay or retroactive pay differentials to each monthly period in which it would have been earned;

(Section 2, Section 1(B)(iii) in proposed amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2)

Response. Upon further consideration, the ERS has deleted this provision. This provision was intended to protect the ERS's tax qualified status, but the ERS has instead made revisions to Section 2(2), which the ERS believes would meet the ERS's tax concerns.

The ERS will continue to work with the City to develop and clarify the language in the bill as needed.

The ERS would support S.B. 211 S.D. 2 H.D. 1 with these proposed further amendments.

(iii) Any amounts provided to the employee for damages, attorney's fees, interest or penalties, payments for failure to hire or payments made as part of an agreement for the employee to resign or otherwise terminate employment shall not be considered compensation for purposes of the system;

(2) The requirements of section 88-103.7 and this chapter shall be satisfied with respect to any retroactive reinstatement, retroactive [recession] rescission of suspension, retroactive pay differential, or back pay [awarded] pursuant to [the final adjudication of a court of competent jurisdiction] a final resolution of claims and paid by the State and county[;], including but not limited to an allocation of the amount, purpose, and nature of a retroactive payments to each monthly period in which it would have been earned had the employee not been suspended or terminated, or had the employee received the compensation available to comparable employees, subject to the retroactive payments provided pursuant to a final resolution of claims and paid by the State or county as set forth in subsections (1)(A) and (1)(B).

(3) The [employee] employer [shall make] has made a lump sum payment to the system in the amount of the actuarial present value, as determined by the system, of contributions that the employee would have contributed, as provided in this chapter, for the service and compensation to be certified pursuant to this section, [and] which shall include compound interest thereon at the assumed rate of return; provided further that class C service shall be credited at no cost; provided further that any portion of the

(4) As a condition of the employer's obligation under subsection (3), the employee has paid to the employer the contributions the employee would have contributed, as provided in this chapter, for the service and compensation to be certified pursuant to this section.

~~[(4)]~~ (5) The employer ~~[shall make]~~ has made a lump sum payment to the system in the amount of the actuarial present value, as determined by the system, of contributions that the employer would have contributed, ~~[pursuant to sections 88-123 through 88-126 had the employee's employment not been suspended or terminated,]~~ as provided in this chapter, for the service and compensation to be certified pursuant to this section, ~~[along with]~~ which shall include compound interest thereon at the assumed rate of return; provided further that any portion of the lump sum payment in excess of the actuarial present value, as determined by the system, of contributions that the employer would have contributed, as provided in this chapter, for the service and compensation certified pursuant to this section, shall be returned to the employer;~~[and]~~

(A) Has been paid their accumulated contributions or hypothetical account balance after the involuntary termination date and as a result of the involuntary termination, has made a lump sum payment to the system in the amount of the actuarial present value, as determined by the system, of the accumulated contributions or hypothetical account that were paid to the employee; or

(B) Has received an allowance on service retirement, ordinary disability retirement or service-connected disability retirement after the involuntary termination date and as a result of the involuntary termination, has made a lump sum payment to the system in the amount of the actuarial present value, as determined by the system, of any allowance on service retirement, ordinary disability retirement or service-connected disability retirement received by the employee;

- (7) Notwithstanding anything herein, if the system determines that a contribution exceeds the limits of any Internal Revenue Code requirements that apply to the system, the system will not accept the contributions and shall return the contributions.

SECTION 3. Section 88-21, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended as follows:

1. By adding a new definition to be appropriately inserted and to read:

~~["Final adjudication of a court of competent jurisdiction"]~~ ["Final resolution of claims"] means:

- (1) The final decision of a court, an administrative proceeding, or an arbitration proceeding from which no appeal may be filed or which no appeal has been filed within the time allowed;
- (2) A stipulated judgment;
- (3) A settlement of claims, including but not limited to a settlement of a labor grievance, that is in writing, signed, and dated by the parties to the settlement, and a court-approved settlement;
- (4) A settlement adopted by court order or referenced in an order of dismissal;
- (5) A third-party arbitrator decision from which no appeal may be filed or from which no appeal has been filed within the time allowed; or
- (6) A settlement or [Other] other final resolution of an appeal or challenge from which no appeal may be filed or from which no appeal has been filed within the time allowed,
- that became final on or after [the effective date of this Act]."

2. By amending the definition of "service" to read:

"Service": service as an employee paid by the State or county, and also:

- (1) Service during the period of a leave of absence or exchange if the individual is paid by the State or county during the period of the leave of absence or exchange;
- (2) Service during the period of an unpaid leave of absence or exchange if the individual is engaged in the performance of a governmental function or if the unpaid leave of absence is an approved leave of absence for professional improvement; provided that, for the period of the leave of absence or exchange without pay, the individual makes the same contribution to the system as the individual would have made if the individual had not been on the leave of absence; and

(3) Service pursuant to section 88-
Cafeteria managers and cafeteria workers shall be considered as paid by the State, regardless of the source of funds from which they are paid.”

SECTION 4. Section 88-21.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

“§88-21.5 Compensation. (a) For a member who became a member before July 1, 2012[, unless]:

(1) Unless a different meaning is plainly required by context, “compensation” as used in this part, means:

- (B) Overtime, differentials, and supplementary payments;
- (C) Bonuses and lump sum salary supplements;
- (D) Elective salary reduction contributions under sections 125, 403(b), and 457(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended; and
- (E) Retroactive [~~pay differentials or back pay of those~~] payments of those purposes and nature authorized in [subparagraphs (A) through (D),] subsections (a)(1)(A), (a)(1)(B), (a)(1)(C) and (a)(1)(D), and certified as compensation pursuant to section 88- ;

(2) Bonuses and lump sum salary supplements shall be deemed earned when payable; provided that bonuses or lump sum salary supplements in excess of one-twelfth of compensation for the twelve months prior to the month in which the bonus or lump sum salary supplement is payable, exclusive overtime, bonuses, and lump sum salary supplements, shall be deemed earned:

SENATE BILL NO. 211 S.D. 2

March 14, 2023

9:30 A.M.

Conference Room 309 & Videoconference

RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

Chair Matayoshi, Vice-Chair Garrett and Members of the Committee,

S.B. 211 S.D. 2 proposes to add a new section which provides that service or compensation awarded to an employee by a final court decision, arbitration award, or court-approved settlement shall be considered "service" under Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) § 88-21 or "compensation" under HRS § 88-21.5.

While the ERS Board of Trustees has not had the opportunity to review the bill, the ERS staff believes that the Board would support S.B. 211 S.D. 2 with further proposed amendments, which are attached.

1. ERS's concerns about S.B. 211; Proposed amendments

The ERS had opposed the original S.B. 211 because of concerns about the bill, including: (1) negative impacts on the ERS's tax-qualified status, due to violation of the "definitely determinable" requirement and other IRS requirements; (2) pension spiking; (3) administrative burden; and (4) unwarranted increases in the ERS's Unfunded Actuarial Accrued Liability (UAAL).

In the alternative, the ERS had requested proposed amendments to S.B. 211, which contain safeguards intended to protect the ERS's tax qualified status and prevent

of the State of Hawaii

negative impacts on the ERS's unfunded liability. See ERS's testimony submitted to Senate Committee on Labor and Technology, attached.

At a hearing on February 10, 2023, the Senate Committee on Labor and Technology recommended that S.B. 211 be passed with amendments, and the committee adopted the ERS's proposed amendments. See S.S.C.R. 342 and S.B. 211 S.D.1.

On recommendation of tax counsel, the ERS submitted proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 1, for compliance with the IRC and protection of the ERS's tax qualified status. At a hearing on March 1, 2023, the Senate Committees on Ways and Means and Judiciary recommended that S.B. 211 S.D. 1 be passed with amendments. However, the committees did not adopt the ERS's proposed amendments. See S.S.C.R. 1084 and S.B. 211 S.D. 2.

2. ERS's ongoing concerns about the ERS's tax qualified status.

a. ERS's tax qualified status.

The ERS is a qualified governmental plan under the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"). To maintain its qualified governmental plan status, the ERS plan must be administered according to its "plan provisions" or "plan documents" set forth at HRS Chapter 88 (including HRS § 88-22.5), as well as IRC § 401(a). § 88-22.5 provides that "the [ERS] shall be administered in accordance with the requirements of section 401(a)... of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended." ERS membership, service credit, compensation, retirement eligibility, and other ERS benefits are governed by, and therefore may only be provided pursuant to, HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules.

As long as the ERS continues to meet the qualification requirements, the members of the ERS will receive favorable federal income tax treatment of their ERS benefits, and the ERS will receive favorable tax treatment on its investment earnings. Should the ERS be administered in a manner that is inconsistent with HRS Chapter 88 and IRC § 401(a), the ERS's status as a qualified governmental plan could be at risk.

The ERS risks disqualification if it fails to follow its plan provisions, including HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules. See 26 C.F.R. sec. 1.401-1(b)(3) (stating "The law is concerned not only with the form of a plan but also with its effects in operation"). See also DNA Pro Ventures, Inc. Emp. Stock Ownership Plan v. Comm'r of Internal Revenue, 856 F.3d 557, 559 (8th Cir. 2017) ("A plan may be disqualified for operational failures, which occur if a plan fails to operate in accordance with § 401(a) statutory requirements or fails to follow the terms of the plan document"). See, e.g., Forsyth Emergency Servs., P.A. v. Comm'r of Internal Revenue, 68 T.C. 881, 891 (1977) (plan that operated in variance with its terms was disqualified by the IRS).

The Legislature has recognized the importance of “[protecting] the status of the Employees’ Retirement System (ERS) as a tax-qualified retirement plan” and that disqualification of the plan would negatively impact ERS members and the State of Hawaii:

Hawaii’s ERS is currently a tax-qualified retirement plan under the IRC. Loss of this status would be detrimental to both the ERS and its members, resulting in the pre-tax treatment on member contributions to be eliminated and requiring ERS members to pay federal income taxes annually on the value or increase in value of a member’s account without receiving a distribution. This could amount to thousands of dollars in taxes for members.

b. Violation of definitely determinable requirement.

The ERS’s tax concerns about S.B. 211 included violation of the IRS’s “definitely determinable” requirement.

IRC § 401(a)(25) provides that “[a] defined benefit plan shall not be treated as providing definitely determinable benefits unless, ... the amount of any benefit is to be determined ... in a way which precludes employer discretion.” (emphasis added)

“A pension plan within the meaning of section 401(a) is a plan established and maintained by an employer primarily to provide systematically for the payment of definitely determinable benefits to his employees over a period of years, usually for life, after retirement. Retirement benefits generally are measured by, and based on, such factors as years of service and compensation received by the employees.” See Treas. Reg. section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i). (emphasis added).

“[I]f, in the case of a defined benefit pension plan, the benefits on behalf of each participant are determined in accordance with a stipulated formula that is not subject to the discretion of the employer,” the definitely determinable benefit requirements of § 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the regulations are satisfied. Rev. Rul. 74-385, 1974-2 C.B. 130 (1974) (emphasis added). On the other hand, if the terms of the plan specifically allow the employer to vary the employee’s compensation used in the benefit formula, the plan would violate the definitely determinable rule. See id.

The ERS must comply with the IRC’s “definitely determinable benefit” rule. In Fratinaro v. ERS, 129 Hawai‘i 107, 114-15, 295 P.3d 977, 984–85 (App. 2013). The definition of compensation in HRS § 88-21.5 was intended to “satisfy the Code’s requirement that a member’s benefit be ‘definitely determinable.’” In 2004, the Legislature made several amendments to HRS Chapter 88 to conform to the requirements of IRC § 401(a). See S.S.C.R. 2692, S.S.C.R. 2143, and C.C.R. 122-04 in 2004 Senate Journal.

The ERS's testimony on S.B. 211 provided examples of how S.B. 211, as written, would allow an employer to vary an employee's compensation used in the benefit formula, which would cause the ERS plan to violate the definitely determinable rule.

c. Violation of exclusive benefit rule.

The ERS's tax concerns about S.B. 211 also included violation of the IRS's exclusive benefit rule. The "exclusive benefit rule" is set forth at IRC § 401(a)(2) and HRS section 88-22.5(a)(1). IRC § 401(a)(2) provides that a tax qualified plan must make it "impossible, ... for any part of the corpus or income to be ... used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries." IRC § 401(a)(2) and HRS § 88-22.5(a) require the ERS to make it impossible for ERS monies to benefit counties and other State agency employers.

The ERS should not be bound by the employer's and employee's characterization of back pay as compensation. To the extent that a settlement does not include compensation as defined in HRS § 88-21.5, the ERS should not have to assume a portion of the employer's liability for its alleged wrongful conduct (discrimination, suspension, termination of claimant, etc.). The exclusive benefit rule bars any mandate by S.B. 211 that the ERS's corpus and income be used for the benefit of the employer by assuming a portion of the employer's liability for its alleged wrongful conduct. To the extent that S.B. 211 requires the ERS to confer service, credited service and other retirement benefits in a manner that is not authorized by HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules, this would place the ERS's tax qualified status at risk with potentially severe negative consequences for the ERS and ERS members and beneficiaries.

d. Impermissible Cash or Deferred Election.

A governmental defined benefit plan generally will not satisfy the requirements of IRC § 401(a) if it includes a cash or deferred arrangement. See Treas. Reg. § 1.401(k)-1(a)(1). A cash or deferred arrangement is any direct or indirect election by an employee to have the employer either provide an amount to the employee in cash that is not currently available or contribute an amount to a trust or provide an accrual or other benefit under a plan deferring the receipt of compensation. See Treas. Reg. § 1.401(k)-1(a)(3)(i).

A settlement between an employee and an employer could provide an employee with discretion as to how a monetary award should be structured. For example, a settlement could be structured to provide the employee with ERS compensation and service as proposed under S.B. 211. Also, a settlement could be structured to provide the employee with a lump sum award that is considered damages and would not result in service or compensation under ERS statutes.

As indicated in the ERS's testimony on S.B. 211, the ERS consulted with its tax counsel regarding the potential impact of S.B. 211 on the ERS's tax qualified status and they indicated in writing that they shared our concerns.

3. ERS's ongoing concerns about unwarranted increases in the ERS's UAAL.

The ERS's testimony on S.B. 211 expressed concern that compliance with awards and settlements as provided in S.B. 211 may result in the ERS's loss of actuarial value should there be untimely/retroactive employer and employee contributions, or employee accrual of benefits. Compliance with such awards and settlement may result in unanticipated and unjustified increases to the ERS's unfunded liability.

The ERS's testimony on S.B. 211 provided examples from the ERS's actuary that illustrated the potential increase in actuarial loss to the ERS.

4. Proposed amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2.

The ERS has heard further from its tax counsel. On recommendation of tax counsel, the ERS submitted proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 1, for compliance with the IRC and protection of the ERS's tax qualified status. The Senate Committees on Ways and Means and Judiciary did not adopt the ERS's proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 1.

The ERS now requests that the House Committee on Labor and Government Operations adopt the ERS's proposed further amendments to S.B. 211 S.D. 2. These proposed further amendments include the following:

- (1) Section 3 - definition of "Final adjudication of a court of competent jurisdiction"

After "(6), the words "that became final on or after [the effective date of this Act]" should be inserted in the new definition of ""Final adjudication of a court of competent jurisdiction." These words should be aligned with the left margin, so that they apply to (1) through (6):

- (6) Other final resolution of an appeal or challenge from which no appeal may be filed or from which no appeal has been filed within the time allowed,
that became final on or after [the effective date of this Act].

This proposed amendment was recommended by tax counsel. According to tax counsel, the bill should only apply to final adjudications of a court of competent jurisdiction that are final on or after the effective date of the Act. Without this provision, the ERS's tax qualified status would be placed at risk. If this amendment is not added to the bill, ERS would oppose S.B. 211 S.D. 2.

(2) Section 2 - sections (3), (4), and (5)

The proposed amendments to Section 2, Sections (3), (4), and (5) regarding employee contributions, employer contributions, and amounts received by employees, respectively, reflect the recommendations of tax counsel, as well as concerns about the ERS's UAAL and administrative burden.

(3) Section 2 - Sections 1(A) and (B)

The proposed amendments to Section 2, 1(A) and (B) reflect the recommendations of tax counsel.

(4) Section 2 - Sections (6) and (7).

The proposed amendments to Section (6) reflect the recommendations of tax counsel and concerns about the ERS's administrative burden. The proposed amendments to Section (7) reflect the recommendations of tax counsel.

The ERS has been communicating with City, and will continue to work with the City, to develop and clarify the language in the bill.

The ERS would support S.B. 211 S.D. 2 with these proposed further amendments.

SENATE BILL NO. 211

February 10, 2023

Conference Room 224 & Videoconference

RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

Chair Moriwaki, Vice Chair Lee and Members of the Committee,

S.B. 211 proposes to add a new section which provides that service or compensation awarded to an employee by a final court decision, arbitration award, or court-approved settlement shall be considered "service" under Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) section 88-21 or "compensation" under HRS section 88-21.5.

While the ERS Board of Trustees has not had the opportunity to review the bill, the ERS staff believes that the Board would strongly oppose the measure.

1. Negative Impact on ERS's Tax Qualified Status

a. ERS's Tax Qualified Status

The ERS is a qualified governmental plan under the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"). To maintain its qualified governmental plan status, the ERS plan must be administered according to its "plan provisions" or "plan documents" set forth at HRS Chapter 88 (including HRS section 88-22.5), as well as IRC section 401(a). Section 88-22.5 provides that "the [ERS] shall be administered in accordance with the requirements of section 401(a)... of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended." ERS membership, service credit, compensation, retirement eligibility, and other ERS benefits

are governed by, and therefore may only be provided pursuant to, HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules.

As long as the ERS continues to meet the qualification requirements, the members of the ERS will receive favorable federal income tax treatment of their ERS benefits, and the ERS will receive favorable tax treatment on its investment earnings. Should the ERS be administered in a manner that is inconsistent with HRS Chapter 88 and IRC § 401(a), the ERS's status as a qualified governmental plan would be placed at risk.

The ERS risks disqualification if it fails to follow its plan provisions, including HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules. See 26 C.F.R. sec. 1.401-1(b)(3) (stating "The law is concerned not only with the form of a plan but also with its effects in operation"). See also DNA Pro Ventures, Inc. Emp. Stock Ownership Plan v. Comm'r of Internal Revenue, 856 F.3d 557, 559 (8th Cir. 2017) ("A plan may be disqualified for operational failures, which occur if a plan fails to operate in accordance with § 401(a) statutory requirements or fails to follow the terms of the plan document"). See, e.g., Forsyth Emergency Servs., P.A. v. Comm'r of Internal Revenue, 68 T.C. 881, 891 (1977) (plan that operated in variance with its terms was disqualified by the IRS).

The Legislature has recognized the importance of "[protecting] the status of the Employees' Retirement System (ERS) as a tax-qualified retirement plan" and that disqualification of the plan would negatively impact ERS members and the State of Hawaii:

Hawaii's ERS is currently a tax-qualified retirement plan under the IRC. Loss of this status would be detrimental to both the ERS and its members, resulting in the pre-tax treatment on member contributions to be eliminated and requiring ERS members to pay federal income taxes annually on the value or increase in value of a member's account without receiving a distribution. This could amount to thousands of dollars in taxes for members.

b. Violation of Definitely Determinable Requirement

IRC § 401(a)(25) provides that "[a] defined benefit plan shall not be treated as providing definitely determinable benefits unless, ... the amount of any benefit is to be determined ... in a way which precludes employer discretion." (emphasis added)

"A pension plan within the meaning of section 401(a) is a plan established and maintained by an employer primarily to provide systematically for the payment of definitely determinable benefits to his employees over a period of years, usually for life, after retirement. Retirement benefits generally are measured by, and based on, such factors as years of service and compensation received by the employees." See Treas. Reg. section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i). (emphasis added).

“[I]f, in the case of a defined benefit pension plan, the benefits on behalf of each participant are determined in accordance with a stipulated formula that is not subject to the discretion of the employer,” the definitely determinable benefit requirements of section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the regulations are satisfied. Rev. Rul. 74-385, 1974-2 C.B. 130 (1974) (emphasis added). On the other hand, if the terms of the plan specifically allow the employer to vary the employee’s compensation used in the benefit formula, the plan would violate the definitely determinable rule. See id.

In Fratinardo v. ERS, 129 Hawai’i 107, 114-15, 295 P.3d 977, 984–85 (App. 2013), the court acknowledged that the ERS must comply with the I.R.C.’s “definitely determinable benefit” rule. The court stated that the definition of compensation in HRS section 88-21.5 was intended to “satisfy the Code’s requirement that a member’s benefit be ‘definitely determinable.’” The court noted that “[i]n 2004, the Legislature made several amendments to HRS Chapter 88 to conform to the requirements of section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (Code). Stand. Comm. Rep. No. 692, in 2004 Senate Journal, at 1358-59.” See Act 182, 2004 Haw. Sess. Laws. See also C.C.R. 122-04, S.S.C.R. 2143, and S.S.C.R. 2692 in 2004 Senate Journal.

S.B. 211 applies to court-approved settlements, as well as judgments and arbitration awards. Even if a settlement is court-approved, it is up to the employer to decide whether to enter into a settlement and whether to agree to specific settlement terms. It appears that S.B. 211 may give employers discretion to vary the employee’s service credit or compensation used in the benefit formula by arbitrarily designating the dates, nature, and amounts of payments. An employer doing so would violate the definitely determinable requirement, especially in the absence of personnel and payroll records required by the employer reporting requirements of HRS section 88-103.7, which enable the ERS’s calculation of monthly service and monthly compensation in remuneration therefor.

Example 1 (compensation): Proposed section (1)(B)(i) provides that if the employee challenges compensation and is subsequently awarded a retroactive pay differential, then “the pay differential that is awarded shall constitute compensation.”

For Tier 1 employees, compensation includes “differentials” without restriction. See HRS section 88-21.5(a)(2). For Tier 2 employees, compensation only includes shortage differentials and twelve-month differentials for Department of Education employees. See HRS section 88-1.5(b)(1)(B), (b)(1)(D), and (b)(2).

If an employer agrees to a settlement for a Tier 2 member that purports to include a differential that is prohibited for Tier 2, this would be a prohibited exercise of discretion by the employer. S.B. 211 would allow the employer to vary the employee’s compensation used in the benefit formula, in violation of the definitely determinable requirement.

Example 2 (compensation): Proposed section (1)(B)(ii) provides that if the employee challenges compensation and is subsequently awarded back pay, then “the amount of back pay that constitutes compensation shall include normal salary adjustments and shall be based on the number of workdays between the date the employee's absence began until the employee's date of reinstatement and shall not exceed what the employee would have received had the employee not been suspended or terminated."

(c) Under the employer reporting requirements of HRS section 88-103.7(a), employers must "[a]llocate payments, including bonuses, salary adjustments, payments for compensatory time, and workers' compensation, to monthly or other periods as requested by the system."

If an employer agrees to a settlement that purports to include salary adjustments or pay raises, this may be a prohibited exercise of discretion by the employer, to the extent there is no (1) information about class, position upon which membership is based, pay type, payment dates (which month); (2) personnel and payroll records, and/or (3) indicia of compensation available to other similarly situated employees, available by pay schedule, or comparable to the employee's own history of compensation. S.B. 211 would allow the employer to vary the employee's compensation used in the benefit formula, in violation of the definitely determinable requirement.

(2) Overtime, bonuses, and lump sum salary supplements are included in Tier 1 compensation but are not included in Tier 2 compensation. See HRS section 88-21.5(a)(2), (a)(3) and 88-21.5(b)(2).

If an employer agrees to a settlement for a Tier 2 employee that purports to include overtime, bonuses, and lump sum salary supplements, these items are not authorized Tier 2 compensation. This would be a prohibited exercise of discretion by the employer. S.B. 211 would allow the employer to vary the employee's compensation used in the benefit formula, in violation of the definitely determinable requirement.

If an employer agrees to a settlement for a Tier 1 employee that purports to include overtime, bonuses, and lump sum salary supplements, this would require speculation as to (1) whether the employee would have worked overtime, when, and how much; (2) whether the employee would have received bonuses, when, for what purpose, and how much; or (3) whether the employee would have received supplemental payments, when, for what purpose, and how much. This would be a prohibited exercise of discretion by the employer. S.B. 211 would allow the employer to vary the employee's compensation used in the benefit formula, in violation of the definitely determinable requirement.

Example 3 (compensation): If settlement provides a retroactive lump sum for back pay, the employer could arbitrarily designate the timing and amounts of pay (including overtime for Tier 1), so that more of the back pay falls within the employee's last three/five years. This would appear to be in contemplation of retirement and would artificially inflate the average final compensation and the retirement allowance. This would be a prohibited exercise of discretion by the employer. S.B. 211 would allow the employer to vary the employee's compensation used in the benefit formula, in violation of the definitely determinable requirement. As discussed below, S.B. 211 may also encourage pension spiking.

Example 4 (service; credited service): Proposed section (a)(1)(A) provides that service awarded to an employee shall be considered service under HRS section 88-21. Section (a)(1)(A)(a)(i) provides that if the employee appeals an involuntary termination or unpaid suspension and is subsequently awarded back pay and is retroactively reinstated to employment or has the suspension rescinded, then service credit shall be for the period of retroactive employment for which back pay is awarded and the amount of service credited to the employee shall not exceed the period of absence that the employee would have worked but for their suspension or termination.

Service is distinct from credited service. Credited service reflects length of service and is measured in terms of months and years of service. Credited service is used in determining eligibility for service retirement (vesting). See, e.g., HRS section 88-73(a). Credited service is also part of the formula for calculating the retirement allowance (average final compensation and the number of years of credited service). See HRS section 88-74(b).

If an employer agrees to a settlement agreement that states that the employee will be reinstated and awarded back pay for 18 months, this does not automatically entitle the employee to 18 months of credited service. In the calculation of credited service pursuant to HAR section 6-21-4, the employee would not be entitled to credited service for any fractional month of employment where the employee worked less than 15 days during the month (or 14 days for February). Absent personnel and payroll records showing whether the employee actually worked at least 15/14 days in a particular month, it would be arbitrary and speculative to assume that all of the 18 months qualify for credited service. This would be a prohibited exercise of discretion by the employer. S.B. 211 would allow the employer to vary the employee's years of credited used in the benefit formula, in violation of the definitely determinable requirement.

c. Violation of Exclusive Benefit Rule

The "exclusive benefit rule" is set forth at IRC section 401(a)(2) and HRS section 88-22.5(a)(1). IRC section 401(a)(2) provides that a tax qualified plan must make it "impossible, ... for any part of the corpus or income to be ... used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries." HRS section 88-22.5(a) provides that "[t]he system shall be administered in accordance with the requirements of section 401(a)... (2) ... of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended." HRS section 88-22.5(a)(1), in turn and consistent with the IRC section 401(a)(2) "exclusive benefit rule," also clearly provides that "no part of the corpus or income of the system shall be used for or diverted to purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of members and their beneficiaries." IRC section 401(a)(2) and HRS section 88-22.5(a) therefore require the ERS to make it impossible for ERS monies to benefit counties and other State agency employers.

The ERS should not be bound by the employer's and employee's characterization of back pay as compensation. To the extent that a settlement does not include compensation as defined in HRS section 88-21.5, the ERS should not have to assume a portion of the employer's liability for its alleged wrongful conduct (discrimination, suspension, termination of claimant, etc.). It appears that the exclusive benefit rule bars any mandate by S.B. 211 that the ERS's corpus and income be used for the benefit of the employer by assuming a portion of the employer's liability for its alleged wrongful conduct.

Thus, S.B. 211 may require the ERS to confer service, credited service and other retirement benefits in a manner that is not authorized by HRS Chapter 88 and ERS administrative rules. This would place the ERS's tax qualified status at risk with potentially severe negative consequences for the ERS and ERS members and beneficiaries.

The ERS has consulted with its tax counsel regarding the potential impact of S.B. 211 on the ERS's tax qualified status and they have indicated in writing that they share our concerns.

d. Impermissible Cash or Deferred Election.

A governmental defined benefit plan generally will not satisfy the requirements of Internal Revenue Code section 401(a) if it includes a cash or deferred arrangement. See Treas. Reg. section 1.401(k)-1(a)(1). A cash or deferred arrangement is any direct or indirect election by an employee to have the employer either provide an amount to the employee in cash that is not currently available or contribute an amount to a trust or provide an accrual or other benefit under a plan deferring the receipt of compensation. See Treas. Reg. section 1.401(k)-1(a)(3)(i).

A settlement between an employee and an employer could provide an employee with discretion as to how a monetary award should be structured. For example, a settlement could be structured to provide the employee with ERS compensation and service as proposed under S.B. 211. Also, a settlement could be structured to provide the employee with a lump sum award that is considered damages and would not result in service or compensation under ERS statutes.

2. Pension Spiking

HRS section 88-100 was enacted to address pension spiking, which the statute calls "significant non-base pay increases." See C.C.R. No. 115-12 (2012). Section 88-100 was intended to place a certain level of responsibility and accountability on employers whose employees' compensation is spiked in the immediate years prior to retirement. See S.S.C.R. No. 3008 (2012).

S.B. 211 may facilitate settlements made in contemplation of retirement and retirement benefits. It may encourage pension spiking because it would allow an employer and employee to arbitrarily allocate the timing (year/month) and amounts from a lump sum so that more of the back pay falls within the employee's last three/five years.

S.B. 211 does not preclude the imposition of the remedies provided in HRS section 88-100.

3. Administrative Burden

S.B. 211 would impose an administrative burden on the ERS. To the extent that a judgment or settlement does not comply with the reporting requirements of HRS section 88-103.7, the ERS is hindered in calculating monthly service credits and compensation, average final compensation, and retirement allowance. The ERS needs the required information (class, position, pay type, which month, etc.).

4. Actuarial Concerns (Increases in the ERS's Unfunded Liability)

Compliance with awards and settlements as provided in S.B. 211 may result in the ERS's loss of actuarial value should there be untimely/retroactive employer and employee contributions, or employee accrual of benefits. Compliance with such awards and settlement may result in unanticipated and unjustified increases to the ERS's unfunded liability, should there be ex post facto adjustments of purported service, purported compensation, or other factors influencing ERS benefit eligibility and calculations, made in anticipation of the employee's retirement and/or receipt of ERS retirement benefits under the terms of an award or settlement, so as to have the ERS bear the cost of resolving disputes between employees and employers.

The ERS asked its actuary, Gabriel, Roeder, Smith & Company ("GRS"), about the potential impact of the bill on the ERS. GRS indicated that the regular contributions required under the bill may be reasonable for a mid-career employee, but not for one who is near retirement.

For example, a police or fire employee was terminated after approximately 10 years of service but 5 years later was reinstated and awarded back pay and service.

Example 1: The employee is not close to retirement. GRS indicated that the regular contributions required under the bill may be reasonable for a mid-career employee, but not for one who is near retirement.

Example 2: The employee is in his early 50s and has 23 years and 3 months of service, and eligible for retirement with 25 years of service. If the employee is near retirement, GRS estimates the cost to the ERS if the 5 years of service were restored to be approximately $90,000, which is roughly 50% of this employee's compensation of $170,262.36.

Example 3: If an employee has his service reinstated retroactively to a period that occurred 12-17 years ago, GRS estimates that the expected actuarial loss to the ERS would be approximately $213,000. Even though interest would be charged on the employer contributions from the date they should have been made to the date they are actually received by the ERS (12 to 17 years later), this does not cover the cost to the ERS because the member will go from not being eligible to retire to for another 21 months to being eligible to retire immediately.

In these examples, GRS used the current contribution rates to the ERS. In the third example, if the employer contribution rates from 2005-2010 were used, this would increase the actuarial loss to the ERS even more, since those rates were significantly lower than the current 41% of pay employer rates for police and fire employees.

Accordingly, employer and employee contributions should be based on the actuarial value of such contributions, rather than as proposed in sections (2) and (3) of Section 2 of S.B.211. Settlement may be years after the time to which the back pay is designated, with a corresponding negative impact on the ERS's unfunded liability.

The ERS respectfully requests that S.B. 211 be deferred. In the alternative, the ERS requests that the Committee consider the attached proposed amendments to S.B. 211, which contain safeguards intended to protect the ERS's tax qualified status and prevent negative impacts on the ERS's unfunded liability.

Thank you for this opportunity to provide testimony.

and Members of the Committee on Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs
House of Representatives, Room 325

Dear Chair Tarnas, Vice Chair Takayama, and Members of the Committees:

SUBJECT: Senate Bill No. 211 SD 2 HD1
Relating to the Employees' Retirement System

Senate Bill No. 211, SD 2, HD 1 (SB 211) ensures that employment, work, and pay eligible for the purpose of calculating Employees' Retirement System (ERS) retirement benefits includes retroactive reinstatement, retroactive rescission of suspension, and retroactive payments that are restored to an employee as part of an administrative, arbitral, or judicial proceeding.

The City and County of Honolulu (City) is in strong support of this measure, which is part of the Mayor's legislative package.

Since the introduction of SB 211, the City and County of Honolulu, Department of Human Resources has been working collaboratively with the ERS on the language of the bill and making amendments that the parties believe will satisfy the purpose and intent of the bill while protecting the ERS' tax qualified status. We are very appreciative of the ERS' understanding of the issue and willingness to work with the City on the complicated language of this bill. The parties have been exchanging feedback as recently as this morning.

We are pleased to inform you that the City and the ERS have reached an agreement on the language of SB211. The agreed upon version of the bill is attached to this testimony and it includes settlements, which was one of our primary concerns.

As background, when employees and/or their unions avail themselves of their right to challenge employee suspensions, terminations, and/or compensation through the judicial, administrative (including grievance), or arbitral process, the issues are frequently resolved with either awards or settlements. These awards and settlements may require the provision of "make whole" relief involving the rescission of a suspension or termination and/or payment of back pay. In such cases, the City remits its employer contribution and the employee contribution (deducted from the back pay) to the ERS. The City does so with the understanding that the ERS would include the employee's retroactive service as creditable service and the back pay as compensation for the purpose of determining the employee's pension eligibility and benefits. We note that a number of other jurisdictions require, to differing degrees, their respective employees' retirement system to base their pension calculation on retroactive service credits and/or back pay that are provided through such settlements and awards.

On December 17, 2021, the ERS issued a memorandum advising the State and County employers that "ERS benefit eligibility determinations and calculations may not be made, and ERS benefits may not otherwise be provided, pursuant to awards and settlement agreements that resolve claims between employees and employers..." According to the ERS, because its laws and rules did not address the crediting of such service, doing so could have been contrary to the Internal Revenue Code and jeopardized the ERS' tax-exempt status. These concerns prompted the ERS' advisory to the employers.

The ERS memorandum was a departure from the ERS' long-standing past practice of crediting awards and settlements for service credits and benefits determination purposes. The proposed bill codifies and authorizes this practice with modifications to better ensure compliance with the tax laws and the health of the system. The modifications remove uncertainty as to how service time and back pay from settlements and awards will be counted and credited when specific requirements are met.

As indicated above, since the introduction of SB 211, the City and the ERS have been continuously working on the language of the bill. The attached bill represents the results of that work.

Based on the foregoing, we ask for your support in adopting the attached proposed version of SB211 and in advancing this measure.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony in strong support of this measure.

Sincerely,

Nola N. Miyasaki

Testimony by the Hawaii Fire Fighters' Association, Hawaii Government Employees Association, AFSCME Local 152, AFL-CIO, Hawaii State Teachers Association, State of Hawaii Organization of Police Officers, University of Hawaii Professional Assembly, and United Public Workers

March 21, 2023

S.B. 211, S.D.2, H.D. 1 — RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

The Hawaii Fire Fighters' Association, Hawaii Government Employees Association, AFSCME Local 152, AFL-CIO, Hawaii State Teachers Association, State of Hawaii Organization of Police Officers, University of Hawaii Professional Assembly, and United Public Workers strongly support the purpose and intent of S.B. 211, S.D. 2, H.D. 1 with amendments that will ensure that compensation eligible for the purpose of calculating retirement benefits and service time includes pay and service that are restored to an employee through a final and binding arbitration decision issued pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement's grievance procedure, and legally binding settlement agreements with the employers.

Contrary to long standing policy, practice and procedure, the State of Hawaii Employees' Retirement System ("ERS") recently took an about-face on its decades long position and is refusing to appropriately credit members who were wrongfully terminated and reinstated through a final and binding arbitration decision achieved through the grievance procedure with service credits. The ERS's refusal to properly credit a reinstated member, who should never have been suspended or terminated in the first place, is reckless and appalling, especially when the members and employers upon reinstatement paid in their full contributions to the ERS, which the ERS accepted, maintained in its possession for years, and assumingly used to invest and perpetuate the retirement fund.

The ERS's new position also contravenes and runs afoul of the law and its obligation as an arm of the State, which is a party and signatory to our collective bargaining agreements.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in strong support of S.B. 211, S.D. 2, H.D. 1.

Re: SB 211 SD2 HD1 – Relating to the Employee’s Retirement System

Dear Chair Tarnas, Vice-Chair Takayama, and Honorable Committee members:

I serve as the President of the State of Hawaii Organization of Police Officers (“SHOPO”) and write to you on behalf of our Union in strong support of SB 211 SD2 HD1 with our suggestion that the original language of the bill should be reinserted. As originally intended, this bill was promulgated to ensure that compensation eligible for the purpose of calculating retirement benefits and service time includes pay and service that are restored to an employee as part of an administrative, arbitral, or judicial proceeding.

As you may know, the Employer and Union negotiated a collective bargaining agreement (“CBA”) wherein an arbitrator is empowered and authorized to issue a final and binding decision as to whether the Employer has violated, misinterpreted, or misapplied any of the sections of the agreements between the Union and the Employer. In addition, Hawaii law provides that “an arbitrator may order such remedies as the arbitrator considers just and appropriate under the circumstances of the arbitration proceeding.” See HRS § 658A-21. Where deemed appropriate, arbitration awards in this context will often include provisions stating that the wrongfully terminated member is entitled to be made whole by restoring to them any and all benefits denied to them since their termination, including but not limited to lost pay, retirement credits and benefits, time in grade, and any and all promotions and privileges due to them. This is the employee’s primary avenue of recourse as negotiated by the parties which avoids lawsuits and unnecessary litigation and resolves these types of matters through private arbitration. As you may also know, the collective bargaining rights between a union and the employer arise under Article 13 of the Hawaii Constitution.

Re: SB 211 SD2 HD1 – Relating to the Employee’s Retirement System

Until recently, the long-established policy, practice and procedure of the Employees’ Retirement System of the State of Hawaii (“ERS”) recognized and complied with final and binding arbitration decisions by calculating and crediting service credits for employees/members who have been reinstated after being wrongfully terminated. This has been the status quo for over 30 years. However, the ERS abruptly and without warning overturned decades of its own established policy, practice and procedure, and has now refuses to appropriately credit members with service credits who were wrongfully terminated and subsequently reinstated through the grievance procedure agreed to by the Employers. This refusal to properly credit a reinstated member, who should have never been terminated in the first place, is alarming, especially when the members and employers upon reinstatement have paid their full contributions into the ERS, which the ERS accepted, held in its possession for years, and presumably used such funds to invest and perpetuate the retirement fund. Moreover, this position contravenes and runs afoul of the law and the ERS’ obligations as an arm of the State, which is a party and signatory to our and many other public employee CBAs. See HRS § 26-8 (stating that the ERS as constituted by chapter 88 is placed within the Department of Budget and Finance (“DBF”), State of Hawaii, for administrative purposes). By refusing to abide by and comply with arbitration decisions and orders that mandate retirement and service credits be restored to make a wrongfully terminated member whole, the State is in essence depriving a member of being made whole and penalizing the member for having been wrongfully terminated due to no fault of their own. Respectfully, this position is without valid grounds, inequitable, and violates the applicable CBA’s and lawful arbitration decisions (and court orders where confirmed). Unfortunately, despite our best efforts to convince the ERS’s Executive Director, he refuses to reconsider his position on service credits or to reinstate the ERS’ decades long application of its prior rule. Instead, he has dug in his heels leaving a wrongfully terminated member at risk of suffering the financial retirement consequences of their Employer’s initial erroneous termination decision.

As one example, over a decade ago a court confirmed an arbitration award that ruled a police officer who had been targeted by an arrestee who made false accusations was wrongfully terminated. The arbitrator ordered that the officer be made whole by restoring any and all benefits that he lost after being wrongfully terminated, including retirement benefits and credits. The police officer was accordingly reinstated and the ERS promptly collected the County’s retirement contribution for the officer and the officer’s retirement contribution which were used by the ERS for its investments over the last 10 years. After 25 years of service as a police officer and after the ERS accepted and used the County’s and the officer’s retirement contributions for investment purposes, the officer attempted to retire in 2020. In response, the ERS flipped 180 and claimed the officer had no credit and zero contributory service for the time he was wrongfully terminated and thus, did not meet eligibility requirements to retire because he did not have 25 years of service. The ERS has provided no valid basis for this highly inequitable position. Moreover, we suspect that the ERS’ board of trustees may not even be aware of the position being asserted by its Executive Director. What makes the ERS’ position egregious and highly disturbing is that after the ERS took this inequitable position in 2020, it only attempted to return the officer’s contributions a week ago, on or about March 13, 2023, or more than three (3) years after telling the officer they would not credit all of his service years. To add insult to injury, the ERS called it an “erroneous contribution” although it had no problem accepting the contribution and applying it toward its investments over the last 10 years. In other words, the ERS is essentially saying thank you for letting us have your money which deprived you of the use of your money for over 10 years, but now we are going to give it back to you and deny you service credits. This mismanagement of the ERS must stop.

The House Committee on Labor & Government Operations has respectfully requested that your Committee deliberate on this measure, to consider language to: (1) Include settlement agreements made in good faith without any kind of final adjudication by a court of competent jurisdiction; and (2) Allow second or third good faith opportunities, if correct information is not included in the court order or settlement agreement, to conform to the requirements of the ERS. SHOPO fully supports the insertion of language that would achieve these ends and also urges this Committee to make such amendments. SHOPO also acknowledges and appreciates the House Committee on Labor & Government Operations’ statement that while it considered ERS’ additional amendments, it was concerned City and County of Honolulu’s Department of Human Resources and other state and county departments had not had the chance to adequately review and opine on these proposed amendments and further that “At the time this committee report was filed, the [ERS] also did not provide sufficient justification for its claims that these amendments were necessary under Internal Revenue Service rules and regulations.” See HSCR 1313.

Indeed, contrary to the ERS’ testimony that SB 211 may give employers “discretion” to vary an employee’s service credit, SB 211 does not give employers discretion to vary an employee’s service credit. This is a red herring and an attempt by the ERS’ Executive Director to misdirect and smokescreen the real issue. Restoring an employee’s service credit pursuant to a court-confirmed final and binding arbitration decision where an employee was wrongfully discharged in the first place and was subsequently reinstated is not discretionary. It is adherence to a binding judgment of the court system and the grievance procedure that the unions and State of Hawaii agreed to which derives its authority from the Hawaii Constitution. The ERS presents a doomsday scenario of hyperbole to create an unfounded fear that allowing employees to have their service credits restored after being wrongfully terminated will somehow jeopardize the tax treatment of the entire system. It is a scare tactic plain and simple. The ERS has had this long-standing practice and policy of restoring service credits to wrongfully terminated employees in place for years, yet, the ERS has not pointed to a single instance of any tax threat being made by the IRS to the ERS. The ERS presents not one actual example, regulation, or case where a public employer retirement system lost its tax status because it followed a court order to restore service credits to a wrongfully terminated public employee. The ERS fails to provide specific examples of how rectifying an error, i.e., making changes to comply with a court judgment ordering that the employee be put back into the position that he/she would have been in had the employer done the right thing from the beginning, resulted in negative tax ramifications for the entire system. I am sure if one existed the ERS would have already pointed it out to your committee. This also makes no sense when the Counties and the ERS have been following the long-established practice of reinstating service credits for over 20 years whenever an employee wrongfully discharged has been subsequently reinstated. This was confirmed by the testimony of the Director (Nola Miyasaki)(dated 2/10/23) of the City and County of Honolulu’s Department of Human Resources in “strong support” of SB 211 (“The ERS memo presented a significant departure from what the City understood as the ERS’ long-standing past practice of crediting awards and settlements for service credits and benefits determination purposes. As noticed above, the ERS’ practice is consistent with their counterparts in other states.”).

Moreover, we fully expect the ERS to continue to press this legislature as it has already done to further narrow the application of this bill so that it applies only to final court/arbitration decision that are final on or after the effective date of the Act effectively cutting out any and all members it has denied service credit to in the last year or so when it changed its policy and position abruptly. In other words, the ERS is perfectly fine advocating for a result that makes this bill inapplicable to the unfortunate and inequitable situation currently faced by the police officer mentioned above who has been waiting to retire for three years and others in the same situation. The ERS boldly requested this further amendment stating that it is a recommendation of its tax counsel without providing any explanation as to why that is necessary or the basis of such counsel. We urge this Committee to reject these and any other proposed further amendments of the ERS, as WAM and LGO has already done previously.

The ERS also insisted it should be able to “certify” whether the court/arbitration decisions meet the requirements of the Act. With all due respect, perhaps it should be the Employer and not the ERS that makes the requested verifications given it is likely in possession of most, if not all, of the relevant information needed to make said verification.

As originally drafted, this bill sought not only to clarify the long standing interpretation and application of the current statutes, but also assured fundamental fairness for employees who are deemed innocent of the allegations raised against them and/or when charges against an employee are ruled to be unfounded, without support, or excessive, and the decision-maker makes the employee “whole” pursuant to the authority the employer and union bestowed on the decision-maker pursuant to the CBA and due process the State of Hawaii negotiated with the unions.

The changes to HRS chapter 88 as indicated in SB 211 are urgently needed as they will make clear to the ERS’ Executive Director that pay and service that are restored to an employee as part of an administrative, arbitral, or judicial proceeding qualifies as compensation eligible for the purpose of calculating retirement benefits and service time.

We thank you for allowing us to be heard on this very important issue and we hope your committee will unanimously support SB 211 SD2 HD1.
