PUBLIC PURPOSE STATEMENT OF HALE MAHAOLU PERSONAL CARE SUBSIDY PROGRAM

(FOR GRANTS PURSUANT TO SECTION 42F-102

HAWAII REVISED STATUTES)

The public purpose of Hale Mahaolu Personal Care Subsidy Program is to prevent premature or inappropriate institutionalization of frail elderly and disabled/chronically ill adults 18 years and older; to prevent or remedy abuse or neglect; to promote their self-sufficiency, dignity; and to help them achieve, restore or maintain quality of independent life style and self-direction. The Program realizes its goals through provisioning in-home personal care when assisting clients with their activities of daily living and assisting in coordinating other needed services to achieve their independence.

During the COVID-19 pandemic and its variants, it is clear these clients are among those at highest risk for infection and negative outcomes of the virus. With the restrictions and risk on venturing outside the home, personal care services, meal preparation, shopping for food and picking up medicine pose an even more critical need for this vulnerable group of adults.

The objective of our request for a $225,000 grant is to provide a minimum of 14,000 units (unit=hour) of personal care service to a minimum 12 unduplicated clients; to subsidize the hourly cost of personal care services for these clients services. Through our registry of personal care attendants, we will also provide referrals of personal care attendants to approximately 100 Maui County residents who are in need of affordable personal care services.

Most of the clients we serve under this Program do not qualify for Medicaid Waiver services as they are not nursing home level clients. Many of our clients are in the "gap group" who do not qualify for Medicaid or Kupuna Care, but would have unmet needs were it not for our Program. These elderly and disabled clients require personal care services to help them remain safely at home. For disabled adults, the need may be even greater, since there are fewer programs available to them than to the elderly. Services not covered by insurance may be too costly for many disabled adults on fixed/limited income.

Caring for these clients in their own home will also help to prevent/reduce caregiver burn out, and reduce costs of long-term care for families, communities, and government.

Personal care services are provided to adult residents on the Islands of Maui, Molokai and Lanai.

Background and Summary

A. Background

Hale Mahaolu has served Maui's community since 1967 by providing affordable, safe, sanitary, independent rental units to seniors, disabled/chronically ill adults, and low income families. To further serve Hale Mahaolu residents and the community, Hale Mahaolu provides social service programs that include a Personal Care Program, a Homeownership/Housing Program and a Meals Program.

Hale Mahaolu Personal Care Subsidy Program has been serving the community since 1985, providing in-home personal care services to frail elderly, disabled and chronically ill adults (18 years of age and older), including cognitive and/or emotional problems which impair the individual's ability to perform activities of daily living (ADLs) and/or instrumental activities of daily living (IADLs).

This program assists individuals living on the islands of Maui, Molokai and Lanai, in locating a suitable and affordable personal care attendant (PCA) through the program's registry of PCAs, and reimbursing (subsidizing) part or the entire fee charged by the PCA to the individual client who meets the income guideline. Maui County residents looking for affordable in-home personal care services may also receive referrals through our registry. There is no referral fee to clients. For disabled adults, the need may be even greater, since there are fewer programs available to them than for the elderly. Services not covered by insurance may be too costly for many disabled adults on fixed/limited income.

B. Goals and Objectives

The goals of Hale Mahaolu Personal Care Program are to prevent premature or inappropriate institutionalization of frail elderly and disabled/chronically ill adults 18 years and older; to prevent or remedy abuse or neglect; to promote their self-sufficiency, dignity; and to help them achieve, restore or maintain quality of independent lifestyle and self-direction. The program achieves this through direct subsidy payments to clients to help offset the high cost of in-home personal care services like bathing, dressing, feeding and transferring assistance.

The objective of our request for a $225,000 grant is to provide a minimum of 14,000 units (unit=hour) of personal care service for to up to 12 unduplicated clients; to subsidize the hourly cost of personal care services for these clients; and to minimize our waitlist for services. Through our registry of personal care attendants, we will also provide referrals of personal care attendants to Maui County residents who need affordable personal care services.

C. Public purpose and need to be served

During the COVID-19 pandemic, its variants and even the Maui Wildfires, it is clear these clients are among those at highest risk for infection and negative outcomes. With the restrictions and risk on venturing outside the home, personal care services, meal preparation, shopping for food and picking up medicine pose an even more critical need for this vulnerable group of adults.

Most of the clients we serve under this Program do not qualify for Medicaid Waiver services as they are not nursing home level clients. Many of our clients are in the “gap group” who do not qualify for Medicaid or County Kupuna Care, but would have unmet needs were it not for our Program. These elderly and disabled clients require personal care services to help them remain safely at home. For disabled adults, the need may be even greater, since there are fewer programs available to them than to the elderly. Services not covered by insurance may be too costly for many disabled adults on fixed/limited income.

Caring for these clients in their own home will also help to prevent/reduce caregiver burn out, and reduce costs of long-term care for families, communities, and government.

D. Target population to be served

Hale Mahaolu Personal Care (Subsidy) Program provides in-home personal care services to frail elderly and disabled adults (18 years of age and older) or who may have a chronic or acute condition(s), including cognitive and/or emotional problems, which impair the individual's ability to perform activities of daily living (ADLs) and/or instrumental activities of daily living (IADLs).

E. Geographic Coverage

Personal care services are provided to adult residents on the Islands of Maui, Molokai and Lanai.

Be assessed as disabled/chronically ill and recommended for admission by a physician, osteopath, a chiropractic doctor, or a discharge plan from an acute care, rehabilitation, nursing facility, or home health agency. In the case of applicants aged 60 and over, the assessment may come from the Department of Health's Public Health Nursing Case Management Coordination Program (CMCP).
- b. Be at least 18 years of age.
- c. Be within the income brackets specified on the Program's sliding fee scale.
- d. Be capable to contract with, supervise and dismiss the PCA, or be under the guardianship or supervision of a person capable of performing those duties on behalf of the applicant.
- e. Not be receiving duplicate services from another personal care agency or funding source.
- f. Go through the intake process which begins upon inquiry from a potential client or a referral from a physician, CMCP or other health care agency or provider. Each applicant must meet all admission criteria. Applicants who do not qualify are eligible for referrals to PCAs, but may not receive subsidy or reimbursement through this Program. All requests for service shall be logged along with referrals provided and, if applicable, reasons why services were not provided. This Program also refers applicants to other agencies whose services may meet the clients' needs.
- g. Participate in a home visit conducted by the Program Director within 48 hours of receiving a request for services. The Program Director assesses the client's needs and assists the client with completing an application form, reviewing the Statement of Understanding which acknowledges the independent contractor status of the PCA, the responsibilities of client to contract with the PCA and to submit reimbursement requests to the Program which must be signed by the client, guardian or designated power of attorney before services can be provided. Hale Mahaolu confidentiality, grievance, and discharge policies are also reviewed with the client and/or their representative.

Program staff verifies the applicant's income before determining clients' reimbursement rate according to the sliding fee scale (see Tab 8).

The Program refers to each client, PCAs whose skills (including languages spoken and special needs) are commensurate with the needs of the individual client. The client selects which PCA, if any, to contract with. Clients are responsible for paying their PCA and for submitting reimbursement requests to the Program. The Program subsidizes clients' PCA fees for up to 4 hours per day, 7 days per week. PCAs are available 24 hours a day and are scheduled based on clients' preference and need. In case of PCA illness, family emergency, etc., the Program staff shall make every effort to locate a suitable replacement.

- h. When funds for subsidies are not available, clients are waitlisted in the order in which they are received. When funds become available, the primary selection of clients on the waitlist to be served is on a first-come, first-serve basis. During the interim period, clients who are waitlisted for subsidies may receive PCA referrals to help meet their needs.
 - i. A client is discharged from the Program when:
 - 1. The client no longer desires the Program's personal care services.
 - 2. The case manager or client's physician determines that personal care services are no longer necessary.
 - 3. The client or PCA is found to have misused or defrauded the Program.
 - 4. The health/safety of Hale Mahaolu staff and/or personal care attendant is threatened/at risk during the course of services being rendered.
 - 5. The client expires or is placed with a care home or long-term care facility.
 - 6. Funding is not available.
2. Clients are provided with the Program's grievance policy upon admission to the Program. Hale Mahaolu abides by the following procedure should a grievance occur:
- a. Complaints filed will be addressed immediately and documented in the client's file.
 - b. Program staff will work with client to resolve complaint to the client's satisfaction.

- c. The client may address the grievance in writing with Hale Mahaolu Executive Director if dissatisfied with the handling of a complaint by Program staff.
 - d. The client may seek redress through the Hale Mahaolu Board of Directors and/or the appropriate government or judicial agencies should a grievance still remain unresolved after discussion with the Executive Director.
 - e. The Executive Office on Aging (EOA) shall prevail in disputes between Hale Mahaolu and the EOA staff with regard to the performance of service activities within contracted specifications. Hale Mahaolu will work with EOA staff to comply with contracted specifications and remedy any recommended corrective action.
3. Subsidies available to clients are income based. A sliding fee scale (see Tab 8) established by Hale Mahaolu allows for reimbursement per unit, based on clients' income.
 4. Establishing a care plan for each client ensures individualized service. Clients are encouraged to discuss any special needs or situations with Program staff. Every effort will be made to accommodate each individual's needs and/or wishes.

Services are provided in accordance with the client's care plan which is developed based on information gathered from the client, family members, case manager, physician, and other coordinated services. The care plan is approved by the client and/or the person responsible for the client's care and physician and acknowledged by case manager and personal care attendant. The care plan shall specify the types of duties to be performed and the number of hours required to perform those duties. Recommended services and/or hours of service may not be altered without the mutual consent of the client and the case manager. In the absence of a case manager, the Program shall assume responsibility for establishing a care plan in accordance with the client's needs and wishes and an initial face-to-face contact.

5. Program staff conducts home visits to each client at least semi-annually to monitor the delivery of personal care as well as any changes in the client's behavior and functioning which may necessitate a reassessment and/or revision of the client's care plan. Ongoing communication between clients and Program staff is encouraged upon admission and throughout the client's participation in the Program. Through regular home visits and telephone contact, clients are afforded the opportunity to express concerns or comments about the Program. Their concerns are addressed promptly and interventions documented in the client's file.
6. The Program carefully matches each client with a personal care attendant whose skills and compatibility are commensurate with the needs and interests of the client. The client has the right to accept or refuse an attendant. Services provided by the attendant are monitored and evaluated by the Program Director and/or Program

Supervisor (RN) during home visits with the clients to assure attendants skills and compatibility are commensurate with the client's needs. Concerns or suggestions are addressed promptly to ensure quality care and client well-being and satisfaction. Observations and changes are noted in client and attendant files.

7. Independent contractors who are listed on this Program's PCA registry perform the personal care tasks under the supervision and monitoring of the Program Supervisor (RN). For placement on the registry, PCAs must complete an information form listing past experience, references, and other pertinent information, and must sign a Statement of Understanding acknowledging the responsibilities of the PCA as described in this section. PCAs must provide evidence of a current professional license or certification, related work experience that is verified and deemed satisfactory, or training in areas that relate to the performance of personal care tasks listed in the client's care plan. PCAs must also have current tuberculin clearance and cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training. As independent contractors, PCAs are responsible for filing and paying taxes, obtaining a general excise tax license, and observing any other legal or ethical standards.

The Program Supervisor (RN) assesses the skills competency of attendants providing personal care services and provides training as needed to meet client needs. Training may also be provided to family/caregivers to meet client needs in absence of an attendant. Assessment and skills competency are noted in attendant's file.

8. In the event that a scheduled attendant is unable to make an assignment, Hale Mahaolu will contact the client to inform them of the situation, and attempt to find a suitable replacement. Hale Mahaolu will inform the client of the outcome of a search for replacement coverage as soon as possible.
9. Personal care service hours and activities may be adjusted based on client need and/or funding availability. When adjustments are necessary, Program staff will discuss changes with the client and case manager and seek approval prior to change. Additional service hours or activities may be implemented immediately with approval and availability of funds. In the event that service hours are to be reduced due to funding availability, the client shall receive a minimum of two weeks (14 days) notice prior to change.
10. During the application process and follow-up home visits, clients are asked about any other services they are receiving to avoid duplication of services. The Program's participation in interdisciplinary team meetings and case management services also help to ensure non-duplication of services.
11. In case of abuse to a client, the Program shall provide a verbal report to the client's case manager within twenty-four (24) hours, regardless of cause of abuse/injury. The report shall include detailed accounts of all consequences and actions taken, all medication errors, and untoward reaction to drug or treatment. This shall be followed by the submission of a written report to Adult Protective Services within 72 hours of the incident.

12. The Program maintains records on statistics such as number of personal care hours provided, number of clients served, length of client participation, documented home visits and telephone conversations with clients, caregivers, personal care attendants, incident reports, and complete client information such as date of birth, social security number, etc. These statistics are accurate measures of outcomes. These outcomes will be compiled and reported to EOA in the quarterly report.
13. Hale Mahaolu maintains a log of requests for services and subsidies. When funding allows and a potential client meets the Program criteria, a home visit is conducted by the Program Director and Program Supervisor (RN) within 48 hours of receiving a request for services.

When funds for subsidies are not available, clients are waitlisted in the order in which they are received. When funds become available, the primary selection of clients on the waitlist to be served is on a first-come, first-serve basis. During the interim period, clients who are waitlisted for subsidies may receive PCA referrals to help meet their personal care needs.

The Program also assists clients who do not meet eligibility criteria for subsidies, to find suitable PCAs through the Program's registry.

14. The Program actively participates in the Department of Health's Public Health Nursing Case Management Coordination Program (CMCP) as a member of CMCP's Inter-Disciplinary Team (IDT). Twenty-eight community organizations, health care providers, and government agencies, including representatives from the Maui County Office on Aging and Department of Human Services, belong to CMCP. At the IDT's monthly meetings, referrals, follow-up, and concerns regarding elderly clients are discussed. This Program receives numerous referrals through the IDT.

Because of the relationships developed with health care providers such as Maui Memorial Medical Center, Kaiser Permanente, Hospice Maui, Island Hospice, and Hale Makua, the Program also receives numerous referrals for clients aged 18 to 59, outside the scope of CMCP.

The Program utilizes case management services in order to ensure non-duplication and efficient delivery of services. If the client is not eligible for case management services by an established agency, the Program assumes responsibility for establishing a care plan in accordance with the client's wishes and an initial face-to-face contact. The Program works closely with CMCP and other agencies to ensure delivery of all needed services to the client.

15. Program staff is accessible in the office from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Holidays, and accessible through an answering machine. Program staff is on-call after hours and weekends through call forwarding to cellular phone to handle emergencies that may arise.

The Program maintains records on statistics such as number of personal care hours provided, number of clients served, length of client participation, documented home visits and telephone conversations with clients, caregivers, personal care attendants, incident reports and complete client information such as date of birth, social security number, etc. These statistics are accurate measures of outcomes. These outcomes will be compiled and reported quarterly to EOA.
2. Establishing a care plan for each client ensures individualized service. Clients are encouraged to discuss any special needs or situations with Program staff. Every effort will be made to accommodate each individual's needs and/or wishes, within reason.
3. Direct and frequent communication between clients and Program staff is encouraged upon admission and throughout the client's participation. Client concerns are addressed promptly and documented in the client's file.
4. Program staff conducts home visits to each client at least semi-annually to monitor the delivery of personal care as well as any changes in the client's behavior and functioning which may necessitate a reassessment and/or revision of the client's care plan.

Experience and Capability

1. Necessary Skills and Experience

Hale Mahaolu Personal Care Subsidy Program has been serving Maui County disabled adults since 1985. The goals of Hale Mahaolu Personal Care Program are to prevent premature or inappropriate institutionalization of disabled adults 18 years and older, to prevent or remedy abuse or neglect, to promote their self-sufficiency, dignity, and to help them achieve, restore, or maintain the quality of their independent life style and self-direction. These goals can be realized through the provision of in-home personal care when assisting clients with their activities of daily living, and assisting in coordinating other needed services to achieve their independence. Caring for these clients in their own home will also help to prevent/reduce caregiver burn out, reduce costs of long-term care for families, communities, and government.

Hale Mahaolu Personal Care staff (Program Director, Program Supervisor (RN), Program Manager) screen for qualified and compatible personal care attendants through the Program's registry of trained personal care attendants. In addition, the program staff have a combined experience of 45 years in working with the elderly. Experience includes assessment of care needs and creating care plans. The program's attendants may engage in stand-by assistance, supervision or cues, companionship, assist clients in activities of daily living such as bathing, grooming, hygiene, toileting, feeding, range of motion, and other services necessary to assure and maintain and/or improve the client's quality of life, while maintaining the client's dignity and privacy, when caring for them in the comfort and privacy of their own home.

Hale Mahaolu carefully matches each client with an attendant, however, the client has the right to accept or refuse the attendant. Hale Mahaolu believes in promoting the client's independence, dignity, and maintaining as much control of their situation as possible by respecting and supporting their right to choose.

Hale Mahaolu is currently providing personal care services through County funds appropriated by the DHHC Grant for FY2023 in the amount of $150,000.

2. Facilities

Services are provided at each client's home, therefore the only facility required to operate this Program is an office for Program staff. The Program office is located within Hale Mahaolu Elima Senior Housing site. It is accessible to clients with physical disabilities. Hale Mahaolu provides the office space on an in-kind basis (market value $16,500) and the necessary equipment (computer, fax, phone, etc.) to administer the Program.
